CONVICTS MURDERED TWO WOMEN HOSTAGES

Carrasco, Accomplice Slew Selves

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Slain prison hostage Julia Standley was eulogized in funeral services today as one of two hostages who made the "ultimate sacrifice."

About 300 persons attended the mid-morning services at the First Presbyterian Church. The Rev. L. Carroll Pickett pleaded with the throng that no effort be made to afix blame for the shootout of Saturday night at the state prison in which Mrs. Standley was killed.

UNFAIR CRITICISM
The Rev. Mr. Pickett said,

"This family is here to tell you today that unfair criticism has no place in this city, in this state, in this nation."

The other slain hostage, Elizabeth Beseda, was to be buried late in the afternoon.

An autopsy report issued earlier today concluded Fred Gomez Carrasco and one of his accomplices probably committed suicide during their bloody attempt at escape, according to Justice of the Peace J.W. Beeler.

Beeler said the autopsies on Carrasco and Rudolfo Dominguez confirmed a preliminary ruling that each man had received wounds fired "at very close if not point blank range" at the height of the 11-day confrontation in which two women hostages were killed.

EVIDENCE
"There is no evidence to show anyone else killed them. The wounds were made from a very close range. But we will never know if they killed themselves or killed each other. You'll have to draw your own conclusions," Beeler said. "There is the probability they killed themselves but I can't say for a certainty they placed those guns to their heads. I don't believe anyone can ever say exactly what happened."

INSIDE BRAIN
He said each man had a hole in the head and their bodies bore 10 other wounds. He said the bullets which killed them had been fired "at very close range. Fred Carrasco had one bullet wound in his head. Dominguez had one bullet in the side of his temple and the bullet fragmented inside his brain." Beeler had said earlier the two men killed the two women, hostages handcuffed to them just before they dispatched themselves.

WILD SHOOTING
The wild shooting with prison guards came Saturday night in a doomed escape attempt in which Texas Ranger Capt. G. W. Burks said "all hell broke loose."

thick lawbooks. The academic armor, designed to get Carrasco from a prison library to an armored getaway car, collapsed as officers fired at it and tried to topple it with powerful water hoses.

PICKED TARGET
Inside, Carrasco and Dominguez apparently picked their own targets.
Justice of the Peace J.W. Beeler issued a preliminary ruling declaring Carrasco and Dominguez had committed suicide after shooting their hostages, Mrs. Elizabeth Beseda, 47, handcuffed to Carrasco, and Mrs. Julia Standley, handcuffed to Dominguez.

A final ruling on cause of death is still pending from the Harris County (Houston) medical examiner.
In the midst of the violence Lt. Willard Stewart of the Texas Department of Corrections (TDC) rushed out into the courtyard of the prison and cut the ropes which bound eight other hostages forced by the convicts to surround the wooden shield.
(See HOSTAGE, Pg. 2, Col. 4)

TAKING OUT PERSONAL EFFECTS — Kathy Ann Pollard, daughter of Huntsville Prison hostage Novella Pollard who escaped safely Saturday night, leaves the "Walls" of the prison Sunday carrying her mother's personal effects. Ms. Pollard, often times spokeswoman for Fred Carrasco during the prison library takeover, had no comment for newsmen Sunday.

Tentative Telephone Agreement

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Bell Telephone System and its unions have reached tentative agreement on a $3-billion, three-year contract, averting a nationwide telephone strike scheduled for today.

But negotiators for a separate group of International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers-IBEW members employed by the Western Electric Co., a Bell subsidiary, rejected the tentative agreement and IBEW members struck at least 10 Western Electric plants.

REJECTED
The tentative agreement covers the 500,000-member Communications Workers of America, IBEW members employed directly by Bell and a group of 35 smaller independent unions.

An IBEW spokesman said 80,000 IBEW members work for Western Electric and another 65,000 work directly for Bell. Negotiators for IBEW members at Western Electric rejected the tentative settlement while negotiators for IBEW members working for Bell accepted it.

A Western Electric spokesman said IBEW members had set up pickets at 10 of the 15 Western Electric plants employing IBEW members.

He said pickets had been set up at plants in Chicago; Montgomery, Ill.; Lisle, Ill.; Omaha, Neb.; Columbus, Ohio; Shreveport, La.; Oklahoma City; Indianapolis; Kearny, N.J.; and Allentown, Pa.

He said there were no IBEW pickets at Western Electric plants in Vancouver, Wash.; Reading, Pa.; Denver; San Ramon, Calif.; and Little Rock, Ark.

ON STRIKE
Eight other Western Electric plants whose workers are represented by the Communications Workers also were unaffected, the company spokesman said.

Western Electric spokesmen estimated that 56,000 to 57,000 IBEW workers were on strike.

The tentative agreement, which requires rank-and-file approval, would boost wages and benefits 35.8 per cent over the next three years.

A Bell spokesman said tormented craftsman, who presently receive basic weekly pay of $240.50, would get an immediate increase of $25.50; there would be further increases of $9 in 1975 and 1976, plus cost of living adjustments.

Based on an assumed 7 per cent rise in the cost of living in 1975, the adjustment would amount to $15; a 6 per cent rise in 1976 would mean a $13 pay hike.

FOR OPERATORS
For operators, present pay is $154; immediate increase, $16.50; 1975 increase, $5.50, plus an adjustment of $11; 1976 increase, $8, plus an adjustment of $9.50.

Contract For Hangars Given To Local Firm

Trimming some items from the project, County Commissioners Court this morning awarded Chaparral Contractors, Big Spring, the contract for 10 hangars.

This construction will cost $57,871 plus one per cent more for a performance bond. Revenue sharing money will be used to pay the firm.

Paul Shaffer, a partner in the construction firm and Republican nominee for county commissioner, presented the successful bid.

The court authorized deletion of gravel surrounding concrete pads for the planes, paint on the galvanized metal and partitions for two offices.

MAKES OFFER
Before these deletions, the low bid was $63,689. Wadleigh Construction Inc. offered to build the 10-unit building for $79,537.

In awarding the contract, the court opted to build 10 rather than eight.

After arguments with J. W. McClendon, president of Big Spring Aircraft Inc., about the fairness of taxing on aircrafts protected by hangars, the court took the action. Commissioner Simon Terrazas wanted it understood all renters of hangar space be required to pay county taxes on planes here. McClendon agreed to continue supplying lists of aircrafts here to the tax appraising company.

Flyers will pay the airport operating firm $35 per month for the new hangars, the same fee authorized for old hangars. But the county will get $20 of this amount compared to $7.50 for monthly rental of each old hangar.

Two Howard County Fair officials, Johnnie Walker and Bruce Griffith, proposed the court contract for construction of 1,600 to 1,700 feet of five or six-foot high cyclone fence at the fair grounds.

But Terrazas insisted the rodeo association give the county parking lot a lease for around 80 years before the county build the fence on association land.

"If we don't get one, I'm completely against the proposal," Terrazas said.

In another matter, the court read a letter from Western Surety Co., Sioux Falls, S.D., refusing to pay for a loss of child support money in the district clerk's office.

Mrs. Evelyn Hale, a former deputy district clerk, has been indicted for embezzling the money, and District Clerk M. Fern Cox filed a county court case to recover the money.

CLAIM DENIED
"Since we have previously been advised by Mrs. Hale, through her attorney that she denies any responsibility for the loss, we must continue to respectfully deny the claim, the bonding firm replied.

"In early 1972, an action commenced in Howard County (See CONTRACT, Pg. 2, Col. 1)

Amoco Employees Strike In Support Of 36-Hour Week

TEXAS CITY, Tex. (AP) — Union employees at the Amoco Oil Co. refinery here walked off the job early today in support of demands for a 36-hour work week.

A company spokesman said picket lines were established immediately after the walkout and Amoco supervisory personnel took over operation of the refinery.

Billy Jones, president of Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union Local 4-449, had notified the company Saturday that the strike would take place. He said wages were not at issue.

Bob Butler Named To City Position

Robert (Bob) Butler, who has served in various capacities since joining the City of Big Spring in 1972, today was named assistant city manager. The appointment was effective immediately.

He succeeds Roy Anderson, who retired from this position.

Butler will have responsibility in all areas of operation except public safety and finance. These will be handled by City Manager Harry Nagel, in addition to his general administrative direction of all departments. The position of director of public works is not filled and Butler will devote much time to this area.

Butler, 42, became associated with the city when he retired from the Air Force after 20 years of service. He began March 20, 1972, was made director of personnel Feb. 1, 1971, director of services June 1974.

The new assistant city manager also has been active in community affairs, having been on the Pledge Committee for three years, active with the Chamber of Commerce, the United Way and the YMCA Indian Guide.

GOP Leader Calls On Nixon To Resign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert P. Griffin, the assistant Senate Republican leader, today called on President Nixon to resign.

"We've arrived at a point where both the nation and his own interests will best be served by resignation," Griffin said.

Griffin became the first member of the Senate's Republican leadership to urge Nixon publicly to resign, although other Republican officials have done so previously.

He said he believes the President will follow the course he suggests and offer his resignation. Before entering a committee meeting in the capitol, Griffin read from a hand-written statement and declined to answer all questions.

Griffin, standing outside a meeting of the Senate Rules Committee which is considering possible changes in the procedure by which a Senate impeachment trial is held, read this statement: "I think we've arrived at a point where the nation's interests and his own interests would be best served by resigning. It's not just his enemies who feel that way. Many of his friends — and I consider myself one of them — believe now that this would be the most appropriate course. Needless to say, this would be an awesome and very difficult decision for him to reach. But I believe that he will see it that way, too."

The Michigan Republican said he has received no response from his recent letter to the President which suggested the possibility of his resignation but did not flatly call for it.

Borden Traps Most Rainfall

Spotted but heavy showers sent several draws and creek beds in southern Borden County running today, but the Colorado River had not risen substantially.

Reports ranged from one to two inches over much of the south half of Borden County. Elsewhere the rain was light.

Gail had two inches but three miles south it was 1.25 then picked up to 2 inches and held that for several through the Rich Anderson ranch, then dropped to one inch at the Colorado River crossing, where the river was running eight inches deep. Several of the tributaries were running four and five feet deep into the river.

On the Good ranch only half an inch had fallen and Ackerly reported a light shower. On the Howard-Borden line, the Wilson ranch had from .3 to an inch.

Halfway between Gail and Snyder, one gauge showed 2.15 inches, but Bull Creek was not running at the US 180 crossing, although there were unconfirmed reports it was running elsewhere.

Lake J. B. Thomas reported .67 of an inch this morning, and at Snyder the total was 1.25 inches.

The World At-A-Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Indian defense officials reportedly are dissatisfied with some of the major weapons received from Russia and are turning elsewhere to buy new submarines and aircraft. U.S. intelligence sources report the Indians are unhappy with the performance of F class diesel-powered attack submarines and some jet fighters supplied by the Soviet Union, as well as spare parts and other logistic support provided by the Russians.

WASHINGTON (AP) — For 24 senators, any impeachment trial of President Nixon would have to take precedence over campaigning for reelection. Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kansas, says that if he has to spend October at a trial, his Democratic opponent in November's election should be there also. Democratic leaders have talked of inviting senators elected in November to watch the proceedings in case the trial runs into the new Congress.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Rules Committee is hearing specific proposals for overhauling its impeachment trial rules against what some see as an uncertain backdrop of Senate support for President Nixon. The committee is going into closed session to hear from nine senators today in the first of two such sessions take testimony before drafting recommendations to be used if the House impeaches Nixon.

CAMP DAVID, Md. (AP) — President Nixon has rejected, at least for now, suggestions that he take his case against impeachment to the people with a major nationally televised address, aides report. Speculation that Nixon was preparing such an address was spurred Sunday when he summoned his top two speech writers and his impeachment lawyer to his mountaintop retreat.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Appropriation bills for defense, veterans, space and housing programs are coming before the House and Senate, both of which are trying to clear up essential business before taking up impeachment matters.

At Least Nine Persons Hurt

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Part of the federal Drug Enforcement Agency building in downtown Miami collapsed today, injuring at least nine office workers and trapping an unknown number.

"As far as we know no one is dead," a police spokesman said.

Police said the rear section of the three-story, warehouse-type building apparently collapsed when cars parked on the roof became too heavy for the structure and crashed into offices below.

Jackson Memorial Hospital officials said they had admitted nine patients injured in the wreckage.

"As far as we can tell no one is critically hurt," a hospital spokesman said.

"Everything is very calm," one witness said. "There has been no screaming and shouting. Rescue workers are just struggling to find any people who are trapped and get them out as soon as possible."

One partially collapsed wall appeared in danger of tumbling into the street.

At least half a dozen cars could be seen among the rubble.

BUILDING COLLAPSE — Firemen look through the wreckage of part of the Federal Drug Enforcement Agency building for victims after the garage section collapsed at Miami, Fla., today. Several people were believed trapped in the rubble.

Gambling, Prostitution, Narcotics Blamed On 'Mob'

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The head of the state attorney general's organized crime division says he believes a crime syndicate is behind much of the illegal gambling, narcotics and prostitution in Texas.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Tim James said he is convinced that not all organized crime in Texas is home grown and controlled.

BIG M
"Mafia with a big M is hard to finger. It's difficult to document and prove such an association. It is my opinion that a syndicate-related operative is the kingpin behind a lot of questionable activities currently flourishing in Texas. Illegal gambling, narcotics, racketeering and prostitution have got 'mob' written all over them," James said.

PUBLICITY BLITZ
The council began an information and publicity blitz, with a packet of news releases and 30-second radio spots distributed statewide for use starting Monday.

James said he believes one of the syndicate's biggest businesses is narcotics, and "San Antonio and Houston are the two principal narcotics problem areas in Texas. There are millions and millions of dollars being made in narcotics in Houston and San Antonio, and the big boys are there."

He also cited a Bexar County (San Antonio) grand jury report linking pornography to organized crime. The report said 90 per cent of the pornography in the United States appeared to be controlled by three groups operating with the "blessing and cooperating of the national crime syndicate."

SELLING SMUT
The grand jury proceedings included testimony that "one of these groups operates two of the most vicious rackets in our society," said Houston Dist. Atty. Carol Vance.

$100 MILLION PROJECT
Lt. Wayne Posey, head of the Metro Squad in Dallas County, said Texas bookies make at least $100 million in profit during a typical football season by pocketing 10 cents on each dollar that is bet.

The Texas Department of Public Safety has estimated that about 1,000 persons are known to be operating in organized bookmaking activities.

Dallas Dist. Atty. Henry Wade, a member of the Organized Crime Prevention Council, said "bookmaking is probably our most serious connection with organized crime in Dallas—and it, Texas for that matter."

Posey said most people think a bookmaker is a nice guy who provides a service. "This nice guy gets his line from say Louisville, Las Vegas or New Orleans and that line doesn't come free. They do either one of two things—they'll pay $10,000 a season to get a football line or agree to place all layoffs with these guys until the line's drawn. The payoff money usually goes back up the same ladder that the line came down; therefore, you have an organization and it is a criminal conspiracy," Posey said.

DIRTY WORK
"Once the bookie has done this he has entered into business with the syndicate because the line is developed with people who have intelligence resources throughout the nation, probably more extensive than any law enforcement intelligence resource."

Col. Wilson Speir, director of the DPS, said Texas needs a law authorizing wiretapping under limited circumstances as a weapon against organized crime. He recommended a law modeled after federal procedure, under which the U.S. Justice Department and a federal judge both must approve an agent's request for a wiretap.

CAMILLA HALL

SLA Member Hall Buried

ST. PETER, Minn. (AP) — The remains of slain Symbionese Liberation Army (SLA) member Camilla Hall were buried in this small southern Minnesota town Sunday night.

Miss Hall was killed in Los Angeles May 17 during a shootout between SLA members and police. About 150 family friends watched Miss Hall's father place her ashes beside the graves of two brothers and a sister.

Her father, the Rev. George Hall, dug a hole with a shovel and personally buried the ashes.

He was silent at the burial service at Resurrection Cemetery, speaking instead at a reception afterward.

He said he received a report 10 days ago from Los Angeles police on the May 17 shootout, and contended that new evidence indicates that the SLA members were trying to surrender, and that a letter found on Camilla indicated perhaps "she had that as her mission when she broke out in the open and was felled."

Electrocution Of Three Men

By The Associated Press

Four state prison shootings and the electrocution of three men in a radio antenna accident helped to swell the weekend violent death toll in Texas.

Altogether an Associated Press tally showed 18 fatalities across the state, including seven in traffic on streets and highways, between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday.

Gunfire Saturday night in the main prison at Huntsville ended an attempt by three hostage-holding convicts to escape. Bullets killed two armed convicts—Fred Gomez Carrasco and Rodolfo Dominguez—and two of their 12 hostages—Elizabeth Beseda, 46, and Judy Standley, 43, both employees in the prison education system.

Three men died Sunday near Buffalo as a citizens band radio antenna fell across a power line while they were taking it down. They were Carl Bell 25; Dennis Reed, 24, and Bubba Roach, 18, all of the Buffalo area. The accident happened at Bell's home two miles east of town.

WACO GUN PLAY
These were among other victims.

Marcus Ledbetter, 50, was killed Sunday night in a Waco lounge during an argument. Rolene Robinson, 36, was wounded in the back and leg. Two persons were arrested.

Elgie Roosevelt Bennet, 40 was found dead from a bullet wound in the head Sunday at a Dallas self-service car wash stand. Police said his pockets had been emptied.

A Ft. Hood soldier identified only as Roberto Martinez was killed Sunday in a car pedestrian accident south of Killeen in Central Texas. Officers said Martinez was walking along Farm Road 440 before dawn when he was struck by a car.

Retired Army Maj. Travis Bundrick, 47, of Bethany, La., was killed early Sunday in a traffic accident between Longview and Marshall in East Texas.

TRAPPED
Myrtle Lakes, a 19-year-old invalid, died Sunday afternoon in Dallas when trapped in the bedroom of her home by fire.

Ruby Mathew Cummings, 53, of Jacinto City, was killed Saturday in a car-truck crash in northeast Harris County. Police said she was alone in a car that collided with a pickup driven by Anthony Jubin, 58, of Crosby. Kubin and his wife Lillian, 55 were injured seriously.

Q.1—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠KJ932 ♥AJ87 ♦Q105 ♣6
The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
Pass Pass Pass 1♦
Pass ?
What do you bid now?

A.—Three hearts. East's heart bid has a distinctly fishy smell. Since your hand is unbalanced, you should not be disposed towards the no trump game. A major suit contract would be preferable, and your bid will clear the air for partner. If he is all that well protected in the minor suits, he is fit to proceed to three no trump.

Q.2—As South, vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠Q10963 ♥Q76 ♦A8732
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1♦ Dble. 1♥ 2♠
Pass 2NT Pass ?
What do you bid now?

A.—You have a strong hand opposite partner's double. Including distribution, it is worth 13 points in support of one of partner's suits. You are an odds-on favorite for game, and we recommend that you show your second suit by bidding five diamonds. It is true that you might go down when you could have collected a penalty from five clubs doubled, but it is worth the risk to close out the rubber.

Q.3—As South, vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠A ♥82 ♦J743 ♣KQJ1042
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
Pass 1♠ 2♠ 2♦
2NT Pass ?
What do you bid now?

A.—Three clubs. The virtually certain spade lead will remove your only side entry, and if partner does not have the ace of clubs, your hand could be worthless to him in a no trump contract. The rebid of your minor suit will warn him to proceed with caution unless he has help for your suit.

Q.4—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠Q82 ♥873 ♦K765 ♣K43
The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
Pass Pass 1♥ 1♠
What action do you take?

A.—We are inclined to bid four spades. It does not appear that we have sufficient defensive values to defeat four hearts, and at favorable vulnerability the sacrifice should not be expensive. On a good day, four spades might even make.

Q.2—As South, vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠KJ5 ♥AJ10 ♦Q1098 ♣J42
The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
Pass Pass Pass 1♦
Pass ?
What do you bid now?

A.—Two no trump. Though your club stopper is tentative at best, your hand is no trump oriented and this is the bid that best describes your holding. By a passed hand, a jump to two no trump shows 11-12 points. It is not forcing, but suggests that partner go to game if he has better than a bare minimum opening.

Q.6—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠J72 ♥K8 ♦K65 ♣A7652
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
Pass 1♠ Pass 2♠
Pass 3♠ Pass ?
What do you bid now?

A.—Four spades. You have a promising hand, but no more vigorous action is indicated. Your response at the two-level has already described these values.

Q.7—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠AQ10985 ♥AK82 ♦Q5 ♣3
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1♦ Pass 1♠ Pass 2♠
3NT Pass ?
What do you bid now?

A.—Four spades. What started off as a possible slam hand has deteriorated as the auction progressed, and game is all you should have in mind. It is only a question as to whether four spades is safer than three no trump. The singleton club and strong spade suit sways us to the former.

Q.8—Neither vulnerable, with a 70 part score, as South you hold:
♠AQ7 ♥8742 ♦A98 ♣J96
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1NT Pass Pass 2♠
Pass Pass ?
What action do you take?

A.—Double. The sacrificial lamb has come to the slaughter. West's decision to compete should be regarded as an act of generosity, and it would be churlish not to accept it. The size of the penalty will depend in part on partner's club holding, but it should be substantial in any event.

Hiroshima Anniversary

TOKYO (AP) — More than 40,000 persons are expected to participate Tuesday in an observance of the 29th anniversary of the dropping of the atomic bomb on Hiroshima, the world's first atomic attack.

Extraordinary Increases
The multiple price increases will have effect by the start of the '74 model year. Increases in the past year have been limited to one per model year.

However, the recent rises in the cost of materials have forced the auto makers to raise prices by as much as 10 per cent.

FUNGUS FLIGHT

DALLAS (AP) — Federal agencies in the old federal building in downtown Dallas have been ordered to leave the structure because its air-conditioning system has fungus-like contaminants that may be causing minor lung disorders.

About 2,000 employees were given six months to leave and move to other offices around the city.

The evacuation order does not affect an adjoining new federal building and U.S. courthouse.

L. N. Stewart, regional administrator of the General Services Administration, said "the best medical advice available clearly indicates this is not an emergency, but we want to ensure that every precaution is taken to protect the health of federal employees."

Dr. Jordan Fink said the exact nature of the contaminants is not known and studies are continuing. He added that the disease from the air conditioning is not serious and not contagious.

Federal officials have not said what will happen to the old building on Commerce Street following the evacuation.

"Hi-Bye" Coffee Held By Officers' Wives

The Officers' Wives Club held its monthly "Hi and Bye" coffee Thursday at Webb Air Force Base, with Mrs. Carvel Owens, wife of Col. Robert Owens, wing commander, among the newcomers introduced.

The club extended a welcome to Class 75-08 and five other permanent party members, Mrs. Hilde Wops, Mrs. Dara Lewenburg, Mrs. Carol Dirl, Mrs. Margaret Tarleton and Mrs. Helen Chaudenret.

Introduced by Mrs. Alex Bridewell, OWC president, were Mrs. Owens, Mrs.

Nancy Meisenheimer, wife of Col. Robert Meisenheimer, base commander; Mrs. Betty Jones, wife of Col. Clement Jones, the departing deputy commander of logistics; Mrs. Katie Miller, wife of Col. Horace Miller, deputy commander for operations; Mrs. Mary Hanson, wife of Col. S. Hanson, 83rd FTS commander; Mrs. Carolyn Courington, wife of Lt. Col. George Courington, 82nd FTS commander; Mrs. Carolyn Williams, wife of Col. John Williams, 78th Student Squadron commander; and Sue Coleman, wife of Lt. Col. Donald L. Coleman, director of base medical services.

Farewells were said to Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Ruth Bernhardt, Mrs. Nancy Cole and Mrs. Lynn Wilhelm, as well as wives of Class 75-02, the graduating class.

Mrs. Bridewell presided for a short business session, and door prizes were announced. Mrs. Owens was presented a corsage from the OWC. The next meeting will be the monthly luncheon Sept. 5.

SUPER COOL — Kathy Wylie, 25, a graduate student at the University of Chicago, is working this summer as a U.S. Postal Service letter carrier in Evanston, Ill., north of Chicago. When the weather dictates, she is willing to sacrifice conformity to the postal service uniform for comfort.

Bride-Elect Honored At Shower

Miss Jill Forrest, bride-elect of Bobby Heith, was honored at a paper shower Saturday in the home of Mrs. R. H. Weaver, 434 Westover Drive. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Harold Hall, Mrs. James L. Johnson Jr. and Mrs. T. H. McCann.

Receiving guests with the honoree were her mother, Mrs. Dean Forrest, and her fiancée's mother, Mrs. R. L. Heith. Among the guests were her grandmothers, Mrs. W. H. Forrest, Big Spring, and Mrs. James Jones of Stanton.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a white linen cloth and centered with yellow and white daisies in a basket tied with blue and white checked ribbon. Appointments were brass. Gifts were presented in a "giant size" paper bag decorated with yarn flowers.

The couple will be married Aug. 10 at Wesley United Methodist Church.

Back To School Theme For Club

A little red school house was the centerpiece for the head table Saturday morning at the breakfast meeting of Coahoma Past Matrons Club of Coahoma Chapter 499, Order of Eastern Star. The club met at the Coahoma Methodist Church with Mrs. Ernest Garrett and Mrs. H. E. Heaton as hostesses. Mrs. C. J. Engle, president, presided and Mrs. Norman Read gave the invocation.

The other tables were decorated with old school bells and name tags of pencils. There were 15 members present.

Mrs. Tom Barber gave a report of her recent trip to Hawaii.

The next meeting will be Sept. 7 at the Methodist church at 9 a.m. with Mrs. Charter Hale, Mrs. A. D. Martin and Mrs. John Davis as hostesses.

Coconut Has Soft Spots In Shell

Hard as the coconut looks in its shaggy shell, it has three soft spots near one end. Pierce these with an ice pick and drain off the milk that is inside the shell. Now tap the shell all over with a hammer until the hard shell cracks and falls off. There is the delicious tender meat to use as you like. To check the quality of a coconut, the United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association suggests that you use the slosh test to be sure there is milk inside; see that no mold is present; and that the "eyes" are not wet or pierced.

Gets Excited

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I'd like to know if there is anything in insecticide that could excite a man.

Arthur is 55 — just the age most men start to slow down, but he's still going strong. He gets especially aroused right after he sprays our property for bugs.

I noticed it last year when we moved into this house. We had ants and roaches, and right after Arthur sprayed he started looking for me. He would get so passionate that he didn't care if I did my housework or even cook. Last year was bad enough, but this year it's worse. On weekends he sprays sometimes two and three times a day. It's really getting me down.

We live in Florida. What brand of bug bomb will kill the bugs down here without bringing out my husband's manhood so strong?

He uses Raid, TNT and Rid-a-bug, and they all have the same effect on him. The brands that don't affect him don't have any effect on the bugs either. Please help me.

TIRE D

DEAR TIRE D: My chemical experts know of nothing in any brand of insecticide that will rejuvenate the waning desire of man. If there were, we'd have a lot more dead bugs, livelier husbands and tired wives.

DEAR ABBY: These are the facts: Married 35 years to a charming, talented, beautiful and loving wife. She is generous and kind to animals, but she has one fault which drives me up a wall.

She has an uncontrollable urge to do the driving from the passenger side of the front seat. Her blue eyes are focused sharply on the road even before we pull away from the curb. "Watch that man coming toward us! You're going too fast! You're going too slow! He's trying to pass us! Don't change lanes now! There's a stop sign ahead!"

Abby, I have had 50 years of accident-free driving experience and I am a careful driver.

I have been wanting to take a drive up to Tahoe, down to Carmel, or to some of the other lovely places in this area, but I don't think I could tolerate a copilot.

I've thought of adhesive tape and blinders, but I just couldn't. I love her too much. Any suggestions?

SAN FRANCISCAN
DEAR SAN: Driving from the passenger seat is done impulsively and reflexively.

Melon And Tuna Dish

Kids love tuna, and so do most grownups. A tasty way to encourage the children, especially, to eat fresh melon is to mix a simple tuna salad and spoon it into centers of honeydew circles. It's easy to pare the melon, cut it into circles and remove the seeds; and it does make an attractive serving.

An appealing pastel dessert is made by combining honeydew melon balls with fresh orange sections. Pour fresh lemon and lime juice and sugar over the mixture, chill, and serve in shербet glasses.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Folks:

At one of the most famous hotels in New York where all the celebrities live and stay, I ended up in the kitchen with the cook trying to snitch their famous recipe for spaghetti sauce.

And I got it.

How's about that?

- • • • •
- ¼ cup of olive oil
- ½ cup butter
- 1 cup finely chopped onions
- 1 pound of ground beef
- 4 strips finely chopped bacon
- 4 cloves of garlic, chopped fine
- 3 tbsps. fresh parsley, chopped fine
- 1 tsp. salt
- fresh ground black pepper
- 1 tsp. dry crushed red pepper
- 2 oz. red wine
- 1 cup canned tomatoes (or 1 cup of canned tomato juice)
- 1 cup of tomato puree
- 2 tbsps. of tomato paste
- 1 finely chopped carrot
- 2 stalks of finely chopped celery

Warm olive oil in a sauce pan over low heat. Add butter and simmer until melted. Add onion and saute until golden brown. Add ground beef and bacon; saute until brown, stirring occasionally.

Add garlic, parsley, salt, black pepper and red pepper. Cook over low heat for at least 10 minutes. Add wine, cover and steam for a few minutes more.

Then add tomatoes, puree and paste. Bring to boiling point, add carrots and celery. Cover and cook over very low heat for one hour, stirring occasionally. Serves four.

Now, folks, you and I know that spaghetti sauce is no good unless it's thick. Really thick that is.

But the secret to good thick spaghetti sauce is draining your spaghetti real good. Get all the water drippings off.

I put mine in a colander and set it over the same hot pan I cooked it in, gently tossing it with a fork every few seconds. It drains beautifully and the heat from the pan keeps it warm.

This sauce can be varied to suit your taste but try it as is at first. O.K.?

I vary mine by adding cheap broken olives (salad olives) spread across the top, adding chili powder sometimes, and best of all which is real cheap — I slice celery as thinly as possible and mix it in the sauce just before serving!

This sauce can be made by the potfuls, bagged in plastic bags and frozen for later use.

Exotic Avocado Came From Aztecs

To some people, the avocado is an exotic fruit but it is an everyday item in the tropics where an avocado tree is as common in the backyard as an oak or maple is here.

The name "avocado" goes back directly to an Aztec word for the fruit, "ahuacatl." The Spanish conquerors came. They took over the fruit and the word for it but they couldn't pronounce it, and neither can we.

Our word "avocado" is a phonetic attempt to say the Aztec word "ahuacatl" though it seems much softer and suaver, almost like the buttery soft texture of the fruit. Avocados are in good supply at market now. Enjoy them.

When you thaw it, just add these different things to it so that your menu will vary each night.

Most of all, I like to add frozen peas as they make it green and give it body. Quite beautiful.

For those who keep kosher homes, leave the bacon out and substitute your own meat or seasonings. Serve with cold beef borchst and sour cream.

The sauce is also great over rice.

Be sure to rummage in your refrigerator and see if you have anything that can be added for variety such as chicken, ham, turkey, pork chop pieces, beef, lamb, etc. Just slice it either in small chunks or thinly sliced pieces. Those I like best of all.

Do let me hear from you. Just write to me, care of the Big Spring Herald. Pick up that blunt pencil now, and bless you.

Take Off The Limits

Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater fires a salvo at the provision in Social Security which penalizes beneficiaries who earn more than $2,400 a year.

Writing in the Reader's Digest, Goldwater insists the earnings limitation should be repealed.

Under existing law an individual receiving Social Security is denied $1 for every $2 he earns over the $2,400 exempt amount, until his benefits are cut off completely.

The figure at which payments end entirely varies with the amount of benefits.

Only those persons 72 or older escape this penalty.

"This restriction," says Sen. Goldwater with the forcefulness of which he is capable, "is an outrage against millions of citizens who have made years of Social Security contributions from their hard-earned salaries. It is morally wrong, because each citizen should be able to earn an income, without unfair restrictions, to the full limit of his ability and initiative. Social Security should not be a contract to quit work."

Goldwater says those supporting the $2,400 limit cite two reasons:

1. The cost of paying all those people over 65, which they say would be $4 billion yearly. Goldwater disputes this figure — he says it can be done for $2 billion — and he insists it should be done regardless of the cost.

2. Supporters of the penalty say Social Security was set up to insure against loss of earnings. Thus, if a person does not retire at 65 or cannot afford to, he suffers no loss of earnings and therefore is entitled to no benefits. Goldwater calls this argument "preposterous."

Goldwater says Social Security payments are not gratitude from a benevolent government. The over 65 people are entitled to the benefits as a matter of right, not charity, he declares.

Goldwater proposes repealing entirely the $2,400 limit and letting the oldsters earn what they can without penalty.

His position deserves support not only from those of Social Security age or approaching it, but from all the public.

Helping Public TV

The reversal of the Nixon administration's stance on public funds for public TV should help the industry find a surer footing through the rest of the decade.

Not that the dollar amounts and matching-aid formula, which a reluctant White House agreed to after a long-drawn-out hassle, are all that generous. Backers of public-TV aid asked for an eventual $200 million a year in federal funds; the White House compromised at $100 million. The Public-TV people asked for an aid formula based on raising two nonfederal dollars for every federal aid dollar; they have been offered a 2.5-to-1 formula instead.

And, in keeping with its goals of preventing federal dollars from playing a decisive role in establishing a "fourth national TV network," the administration has insisted that no more than half of the full federal funding be spent on central programming and at least half be given to local stations.

But the plus side of getting White House approval on public TV aid is enormous. For the next five years public TV stations will know how much they will have to spend. It will permit long-range planning. The end of year-to-year funding will cushion public TV from political interference.

Tight budgets may keep public TV lean. Commercial networks paid out as much for sports programming rights alone as public TV got from Washington this year. But being lean often stimulates imagination and energy, and this may be good for the public TV outlets.

The Wrong Basis

One thing and another: Someone who should be working on a royalty basis rather than for a set fee is a coin designer.

HIS INITIALS usually appear on billions of coins but if he gets more than $5,000 from the U.S. Mint for his chore, he's lucky.

The assignment usually means much more to him in prestige and a d d e d business opportunities, however. Some of the U.S. coins now being minted honor the country's bicentennial and will be around at least until the year 2013 A.D.

NEWCOMERS to the area shouldn't be faulted if they mispronounce the name of the Texas towns, Refugio and Mexia. A lot of the natives are guilty of the same blunders. Refugio is pronounced as if its fifth letter were an "r." Mexia is correctly called "Mehia" (may-hay-a).

GROWING PAINS are a bother to people in all age brackets, especially to greybeards who take a turn at spading gardens and flower beds.

Rare is the wife who doesn't like those long TV commercials. For most, it gives them time to get the TV dinners into the oven.

PERHAPS YOU don't know how April Fool's Day came by its name. In the Roman calendar, April was the second month of the year. When it changed to the fourth month, those who stuck with the old calendar were called April Fools.

Lincoln had a noble thought when he said he believed in "government of the people, by the people and for the people." The only trouble is, we get billed for it in triplicate.

HAVE YOU HEARD that new song, entitled: "I'll take you home again, Kathleen, if you'll fill my tank with gasoline."

If streaking remains popular, the time may come when the only things a family needs when it sends a son off to college are sneakers and some cold medicine.

My daughter complains that it remains very difficult for her to park both ends of the car.

You may think you're scoring big in the etiquette department but you get no brownie points if you hold the door open for the missus while she carries in the groceries.

I never did think I was worth my weight in gold, but someone remarked recently that none of us is worth his weight in pork chops.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

Recently my husband and I celebrated our 47th wedding anniversary. Instead of sentimental congratulations from family and friends, I should have gotten a medal for living with a stubborn mean old man. He's constantly saying mean things and hurting my feelings. He believes in neither God nor doctors. I'd like my last years to be a little more tolerable. Can you help me? L.S.

When Paul suggested Christians should rejoice, he was a prisoner of the state. On another occasion, he sang a song of Christian joy while behind bars. In other words, circumstances don't have to determine happiness.

Naturally, I would like to see your husband shape up — take baths regularly, handle family finances, be a conversationalist, attend church and treat you kindly. While this is possible, it is not probable at this late date.

I suggest you compensate for abuse at home by other interests that challenge and satisfy. Keep treating him in Christian love, however, and pray that he'll want to change. But be ready for status quo.

Above all, don't let self-pity creep in. That would be destructive, and whatever years remain would be ruined. People show they have let God help them to learn life's greatest lesson when they say what Paul did in Philippians 4:12: "I rejoice greatly in the Lord . . . I have learned the secret of being content in any and every situation."

Debt Versus Equity

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Debt rather than equity has become the dominant method of financing the country today, and the consequences are showing themselves throughout society.

Stock prices, for example, are at their lowest in years, partly because the higher interest rates offered for borrowed money is too attractive for investors to turn down. They sell their stocks and buy bonds.

Increasingly, capital-short corporations are forced to turn to banks, and their irritation is showing. When a company raises money in the stock market it comes relatively free of strings. Stockholders in general are docile. Banks are not; they dictate terms.

Many corporations now are seriously concerned that their future is endangered by their inability to attract people to the ownership concept — to buying the company's stock rather than lending it money via bonds.

Not only do they find it difficult to attract customers, but with stock sales forces a fraction of what they were a decade ago, corporate leaders find it difficult to turn around the situation.

The decay of the equity markets seems to feed on itself. If people distrust stocks today, then they must be sold. But with business so poor, most big brokers have little interest in handling any but the active accounts.

The head of Morgan Stanley & Co., Inc., forecast last week that "between 100 and 200 firms will merge or go out of business if . . . short-term interest rates don't decline substantially, if the stock market doesn't improve markedly in price and volume, and if negotiated combinations become effective on May 1, 1973."

The scramble to borrow money is glaringly apparent with small savings accounts. Ordinarily any interest in Treasury financing comes mainly from the big individual and institutional investors. But this week's refinancing is partially denominated in units of $1,000 and at an unheard of 9 per cent.

This means savings and loan associations and savings banks, which cannot pay more than 7.9 per cent a year compounded, simply cannot compete. And that means they cannot provide home mortgages.

The impact of all this is felt in an even more personal way. Billions of dollars are held in private pension plans to fund the retirement of millions of workers. These plans rely on a healthy stock market to remain viable.

Now that the stock market has fallen into such disarray, some pension plans must re-evaluate their estimates of growth. The Dow Jones Industrial Average is back where it was 10 years ago, and many of these plans hold the very stocks that make up the Dow Jones average.

Girls Start Much Faster

OTTAWA, Canada (AP) — Girls fare better than boys in primary grades, claims one Ottawa education expert. At the early stage of schooling, boys are uncomfortable and unmotivated to learn, says Bayne Logan, professor of education at the University of Ottawa. He suggests that more male teachers in these grades are needed to give boys something to identify with.

Boss' Liability Limited

Lois, shopping for sandals, paid no attention to the fact that she and the shoe clerk were alone in the store. But suddenly he seized her in a lustful embrace. Outraged, she struggled out of his grasp and escaped through the front door.

HER COMPLAINT afterward to the owner of the store got the man fired. Ther: Lois followed up with a damage suit against the owner himself.

"After all," she pointed out in court, "he was this fellow's employer. Surely an employer is responsible for the way his employees treat the public."

BUT THE COURT turned down her claim. Reason: the salesman had acted not in the line of duty but for his own private gratification.

Generally speaking, you cannot hold management liable for an employee's misconduct if it was not related to his job. This rule has been applied not only to amorous advances but also to beatings, gunplay, defamation of character — even practical jokes.

THUS, A MOTORIST who was sprayed with gasoline by a mischievous gas station attendant was denied compensation from the station proprietor. The court said:

"The attendant was employed to serve automobiles and not to hose customers."

On the other hand, you may indeed have a claim of the employee, while doing his duty, simply overdid it. For example:

A BARTENDER ejected a noisy patron with so much vigor that he broke the man's arm. Could the victim collect damages for his injury from the company that owned the tavern?

In this situation, the court ruled that he could hold the company legally liable. The difference was that the bartender's regular duties. An employer must bear the responsibility, said the court, for the employee who does his job not wisely but too well.

(A public service feature of the American Bar Association and the State Bar of Texas. Written by Will Bernard.)

A Devotion For Today . .

"Let us not sleep, as do others; but let us watch and be sober." (1 Thessalonians 5:6)

PRAYER: O Lord, may we be always ready to do for thee, no matter how small or how great the task, or how short or long the road. Help us to be awake. In the worthy name of the Lord Jesus. Amen.

Behind The Scenes

Rowland Evans

WASHINGTON — The House Judiciary Committee's descent last Friday into bitter partisan fighting after two days of stately debate publicly revealed what a small bipartisan bloc of moderates was up against behind closed doors for months of the impeachment inquiry.

ON THEIR GOOD BEHAVIOR for their first nationally televised exposure, noisily partisan committee members reverted to form when the inquiry got down to the specifics of the articles of impeachment: hard-core Republicans trumpeting their bitter-end defense of President Nixon and fire-eating Democrats delivering jeremiads against him — both sides drowning out the moderates.

Thus, as the committee approached its verdict, those moderates — who long ago decided, regretfully in many cases, that Mr. Nixon must be impeached — still had to cut through intense partisanship on both sides to achieve a bipartisan majority that would be supported in the House, the Senate and the nation.

WHAT HAS MADE THEIR task so difficult all year has been the polarized condition of the Judiciary Committee. Its Democrats are to the left of House Democrats generally; its Republicans are well to the right of the House Republican mainstream. The hardcore of Nixon Republicans on the committee have been particularly hostile under the prodding of Rep. Delbert Latta of Ohio, who went on the committee this year for the purpose of defending the President and is expected to leave once the impeachment inquiry is completed. Republicans departing from the party line closed sessions have been subjected to grimaces, groans and sneers from Latta. Such pressure has been so intense that some moderates long ago stopped attending caucuses of Judiciary Committee Republicans.

NOR HAVE THE Democrats been free from partisanship. Since the beginning, chairman Peter Rodino consistently has resisted, but reluctantly gone along with moderate demands for bipartisan procedures. But Democratic fire-eaters have persisted in leaking confidential material to the press and seeking to expand the case against Mr. Nixon to such dubious areas as the bombing of Cambodia and impoundment of funds.

Serious efforts to draft articles of impeachment avoiding extreme partisanship and attracting a large bipartisan majority began secretly and informally two weeks ago among three moderates: Democratic Rep. Walter Flowers of Alabama and Republican Reps. Thomas Railsback of Illinois and William Cohen of Maine.

Four more moderate members — Democrats James Mann of South Carolina and Ray Thornton of Arkansas and Republicans Hamilton Fish, Jr., of New York and M. Caldwell Butler of Virginia — were invited to a meeting in Railsback's office last Tuesday morning. The seven moderates found themselves in substantial agreement on two articles of impeachment, charging Mr. Nixon with obstruction of justice and abuse of power.

THEIR PRIVATE MEETINGS WERE JOINED by conservative Republican Rep. Lawrence Hogan of Maryland after his stunning announcement for impeachment Tuesday afternoon.

ANOTHER BREAK FOR SAFEWAY CUSTOMERS!

WE PLEDGE: ONCE A CAN OR PACKAGE IS PRICE-MARKED... WE WILL NOT RAISE ITS PRICE!

When we are forced to make a price increase, cans and packages which are already price-marked will be sold out at the old price.

When a price is lowered, all sales will be at the new lower price. Cans and packages bearing the former higher price will also be marked with the new price.

When a can or package shows more than one price mark, you pay the lowest price.

NOTE: Items on which the timing of price changes is controlled by law are excepted from this policy.

More Rain To Develop?

By The Associated Press
Steamy air enveloped most of Texas today, and dense fog hampered travel in some sections near the coast in early morning.
Severe thunderstorms broke out before dawn in western areas of the state including Big Spring, Lamesa, Brownfield and Lubbock, and there were scattered showers in North and Central Texas from Gainesville to Temple and in South Texas from near Corpus Christi southward past Brownsville.
Forecasters looked for even more showers to develop later in the day.
Some of the thickest fog cloaked several counties around Victoria, dropping visibility close to zero in places.
Early morning temperatures ranged from 80 degrees at Corpus Christi and 78 at Del Rio down to 63 at Amarillo, Longview and Texarkana and 60 at Dalhart.
Top marks Sunday afternoon went as high as 100 at Alice. The coolest point was Lufkin with a maximum of 68.

CONVICTED — William A. N. Williams leaves Federal Court in Atlanta Sunday after being found guilty of extortion in connection with the kidnaping of Atlanta Constitution editor Reg Murphy. Williams told newsmen as he was leaving, "I didn't get a fair trial."

Williams Found Guilty Of Kidnap Extortion

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — "I paid $700,000 to free him, sat with his wife among spectators in the courtroom. After the verdict he said: 'I think that proves the American jury system works well. It reinforces the earlier evidence that kidnaping and political terrorism and extortion won't work.'"

Also in the courtroom was Williams' petite brunette wife, Betty, who faces charges at a later date of concealing knowledge of a crime in connection with the kidnaping.

U.S. District Court Judge William O'Kelley set Aug. 30 for sentencing. Williams, 34, could get 30 years in prison.

The husky building subcontractor stared glumly through heavy, dark-rimmed glasses as the jury read the verdict Sunday after four hours of deliberation.

Murphy, who was released after the owners of The Constitution, Cox Enterprises Inc.,

July Temperature Normal, But Rainfall Too Skimpy

The wind blew hard, and the sun beat down on an already dry area. The scene was not from a Western movie but was Big Spring in July.

Clouds left 0.22 of an inch of moisture, bringing the year total to 5.48. Normal for the year by July 31 is 10.99, according to the U.S. Big Spring Experiment Station. During July, two inches usually falls here.

Evaporation claimed 12.34 inches of moisture from a pan. The average for July is 10.9 inches.

The July, 1974, average daily high was exactly the same as July's have averaged for 59 years, 95 degrees. Average daily low was 69 degrees, as compared to a normal average of 70 degrees.

Temperature hit the high mark of 104 degrees on July 23 and 25. That was one degree above the record for July 23, when, previously 103 degrees set in 1963 was top.
