Turkish Artillery Assault Might Wreck 'Cease-Fire'

By The Associated Press
New fighting broke out on Cyprus Saturday, with Turkish forces apparently intent on entrenching themselves well below the northern third of the island.
The battle threatened to wreck the infant cease-fire just as war-scarred Cyprus cautiously tiptoed back to normal and began the task of rebuilding.
The Turkish command in Ankara did not say what area of Cyprus it held, but newsmen were allowed to look at a map showing Turkish troops occupying almost half of Cyprus.

DIVIDED
The map showed Turks in control north of a line from the southeastern tip of the island to Lefka on the northern coast. The frontier line was drawn to indicate Turkish control of the area seven miles south of Nicosia, although control of the capital itself remained divided between Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

KO TANKS
The Turks have already claimed control of the third of Cyprus north of the 65-mile line running west from Lefka to the main port of Famagusta in the east, and plan to turn it into an autonomous Turkish state.
The latest fighting flared around the village of Pyroi, 10 miles south of Nicosia.

Turkish guns in the area knocked out three tanks of the Greek Cypriot National Guard, and the guardsmen fled their positions on the main Nicosia-Larnaca highway.

Larnaca is 23 miles southeast of Nicosia.

Associated Press correspondent Peter Arnett, reporting from the Pyroi area, said the latest battle lasted six hours.

He said Turkish artillery opened up on Pyroi from the disused airfield of Tymbou, three miles away.

BUGGING OUT
A small U.N. peacekeeping force watched the battle and one of the U.N. sergeants said, "All the soldiers are bugging out."

The U.N. troops said there were about 200 Turkish soldiers on the hills overlooking Pyroi.

"We expect the troops and tanks to be blocking this road permanently by morning," a spokesman said.

Arnett said the Turks appeared to be aiming to advance across the Larnaca road to reach the large Turkish Cypriot town of Louroujina, four miles to the southwest.

Arnett said the Turkish attack repeated the tactics used by the Turkish invasion force after the previous cease-fire, July 30.

HEAVY BARRAGE
At that time the Turks advanced slowly behind a heavy barrage of mortar and artillery fire to expand their bridgehead.

They eventually swallowed up the Greek Cypriot towns of Karavas and Lapithos on the north coast.

Apart from the Pyroi battle there were two other breaches of the cease-fire, which went into effect at 6 p.m. Friday. Both were in the Nicosia area.

The first was scattered shooting during the night along the so-called Green Line, which splits the capital into Greek and Turkish sectors.

The second was a Turkish mortar attack on the western approaches of the Greek part of the city.

Despite the new fighting, embattled Cyprus relaxed slightly as the cease-fire appeared to be observed over most of the island.

Many of the thousands of Greek Cypriots who fled from the capital over the previous days, fearing it would be overrun by the Turks, began to filter timidly back to their homes.

Their main task was to restore the island's broken economy, which one official said was "in an absolute shambles."

The government radio called on civil servants, workers and shopkeepers to return immediately to their jobs.

TO TAKE YEARS
It warned civil servants if they failed to do so by the end of the day they would be dismissed without further notice.

President Glafcos Clerides, as his first decision after the cease-fire took effect, decreed that all Cypriots must work seven days a week.

Oldest D.A.

Retires At 93

POTEAU, Okla. (AP) — D.G. Hart is bowing to the public interest and bowing out of office.

Hart, 93, is retiring at district attorney. "I'm not sure I'll have the health to serve four more years. I didn't want to ask the people to elect me if I didn't think I could serve out my term," said Hart.

Four years ago, friends urged Hart to come out of retirement to run against the incumbent district attorney.

Hart conducted a personal door-to-door campaign, driving more than 5,000 miles in the summer heat. He carried both counties in the district, Latimer and LeFlore.

Exhausted, he entered the hospital 11 days before the election and celebrated his victory there.

Hart hired young assistants in both counties to do the trial work. He is in the office all day, every day, to be available to citizens.

"I'm said to be the oldest D.A. in the nation, and I reckon I am. I'm also said to be the oldest officeholder in Oklahoma, but I don't know if that's the truth or not," he said.

"I've practiced law for 60 years and I've done 87 years of work. You see, I was reared on a farm and went to work when I was six years old."

Reviewing the ... Big Spring Week ... with Joe Pickle

Seldom, if ever, have we had such a run of traffic fatalities, particularly inside the city limits, as has befallen Big Spring residents within the past fortnight. There have been five such deaths, three of them within the past week. Elmo Wasson, member of a pioneer family and prominent business man for nearly half a century, was killed instantly. Then Friday night Mrs. Sadie Lenderman was killed when hit by a transport. Earlier, Virgil B. Clemons was killed when a pickup overturned south of Garden City.

The annual appeal for support of the high school Bible Class Fund has begun, but for some reason the tempo was less than usual for the first week. Which adds up to a sound for help. Our folks always have, for a quarter of a century; surely they will now.

The past week might aptly be called budget week, for three public agencies approved budgets aggregating over $11 million. The largest was the Big Spring Schools with an outlay of $7,905,059. This was followed by the $1,810,770 for Howard Finding stolen goods before a burglary is reported is a rarity, but it happened in Big Spring early Saturday morning.

Patrolman Howard Kloss stopped Terry Dale Smith, 23, and Dickie Joe Tindol, 22, in the vicinity of Texas Electric Co. around 5 a.m.

The suspects were found to be in possession of a large amount of drugs. A check of the bottles with local pharmacists brought about information the drugs apparently came from Leonard's Pharmacy.

An officer was dispatched to the pharmacy and discovered entry had been gained through a broken window in the rear of the facility.

Municipal Judge John R. Coffee set bond at $5,000 each on charges of burglary.

District Attorney Bob Moore and his investigator, Guy Talbot, were obtaining statements Saturday in connection with the burglary.

'WHITE ONLY' OR 'NO MINORITIES' Congressional Hiring Practices Disclosed

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The offices of at least 19 congressmen and a senator practice discriminatory hiring in their Washington offices, documents showed Saturday.

JOB HUNTERS
Disclosure of the materials was made in a copyright story in Sunday editions of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Legislators acquire office help and assistants through the Office of Placement and Office Management, an administrative clearing house where secretaries and other office help make initial contact for prospective jobs.

Those considered qualified are sent to congressional offices for further interviews.

But many job hunters are short circuited from the beginning because of individual employment preferences expressed on a "job order" form filed with the clearing house by legislators.

NO CATHOLICS

At least 19 U.S. representatives and a senator have filled out such job order forms with notations such as "no minorities" or "no Catholics" or, as in the case of U.S. Rep. James A. Haley, D-Fla., "only a white girl. Pref. Floridians." White was underlined.

Informed of the hiring policies, a senior Justice Department official termed it "the most incredible, grossest example of overt discrimination" he had seen.

NOT TRUE
Congressmen and aides who were contacted Saturday night about the Star-Telegram story responded angrily, calling it "a vicious lie," "stupid," "without foundation" and "simply not true."

Rep. Edward P. Boland, D-Mass., said he currently employs a black stenographer in his Springfield office. Rep. Otis Pike, D-N.Y., said he employs "blacks, whites, Catholics, Protestants, Jews."

"We just ask for people to do the work," Boland said. "The people that are sent over can be black or green or yellow — I don't care."

One of the 19 congressmen, Rep. Vernon W. Thomson, R-Wis., said he had never had any dealings with the Office of Placement and Office Management.

court. Special Prosecutor Richard A. Sprague said consideration was given for the help the two witnesses gave.

"This case would never have satisfied the ends of justice if we prosecuted the people at the bottom — the thugs — and not the people at the top," he said.

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP) — Silous Huddleston and Annette Gilly, the father and daughter who linked the United Mine Workers union leadership to the killing of Joseph A. Yablonski and his family, were freed Saturday, with orders that their identities be changed to protect them from retribution.

Mrs. Gilly and her ailing, retired miner father will be transferred to federal authorities for their secret release at some later date.

ESCAPE DEATH

Mrs. Gilly, 33, and Huddleston, 64, have been in custody since February, 1970. In May 1972 both pleaded guilty to a general charge of murder in return for their testimony and promises that they would escape the then-lawful death sentence.

At Saturday's proceedings, Washington County President Judge Charles G. Sweet set the degree of guilt at second-degree murder and sentenced the pair to 4½ years in prison, exactly the amount of time each has already spent in custody. In addition, each was sentenced to two years on state conspiracy

Right-Wing Extremists Take Aim At Rockefeller

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford declared Saturday that Nelson Rockefeller remains in the running for vice president and criticized what a White House official called an attempt by right-wing extremists to discredit the former New York governor.

"President Ford has advised me that former Gov. Rockefeller has been and remains under consideration for the vice presidential nomination," White House Press Secretary Jerald F. TerHorst said after emerging from an Oval Office meeting.

SPECULATION
TerHorst's statement came after a series of developments and White House disclosures that led to speculation Rockefeller had little chance of getting the nomination.

Meanwhile, however, two Republican sources on Capitol Hill said they learned that neither Rockefeller nor Republican national chairman George Bush was likely to be selected by Ford.

Here was the sequence of events:

Columnist Jack Anderson reported last week that seven cartons of material once belonging to Watergate conspirator E. Howard Hunt had been copied before being destroyed. He reported that the documents contained allegations that Rockefeller had hired thugs to disrupt the 1972 Democratic National Convention and tilt the nomination toward Sen. George McGovern.

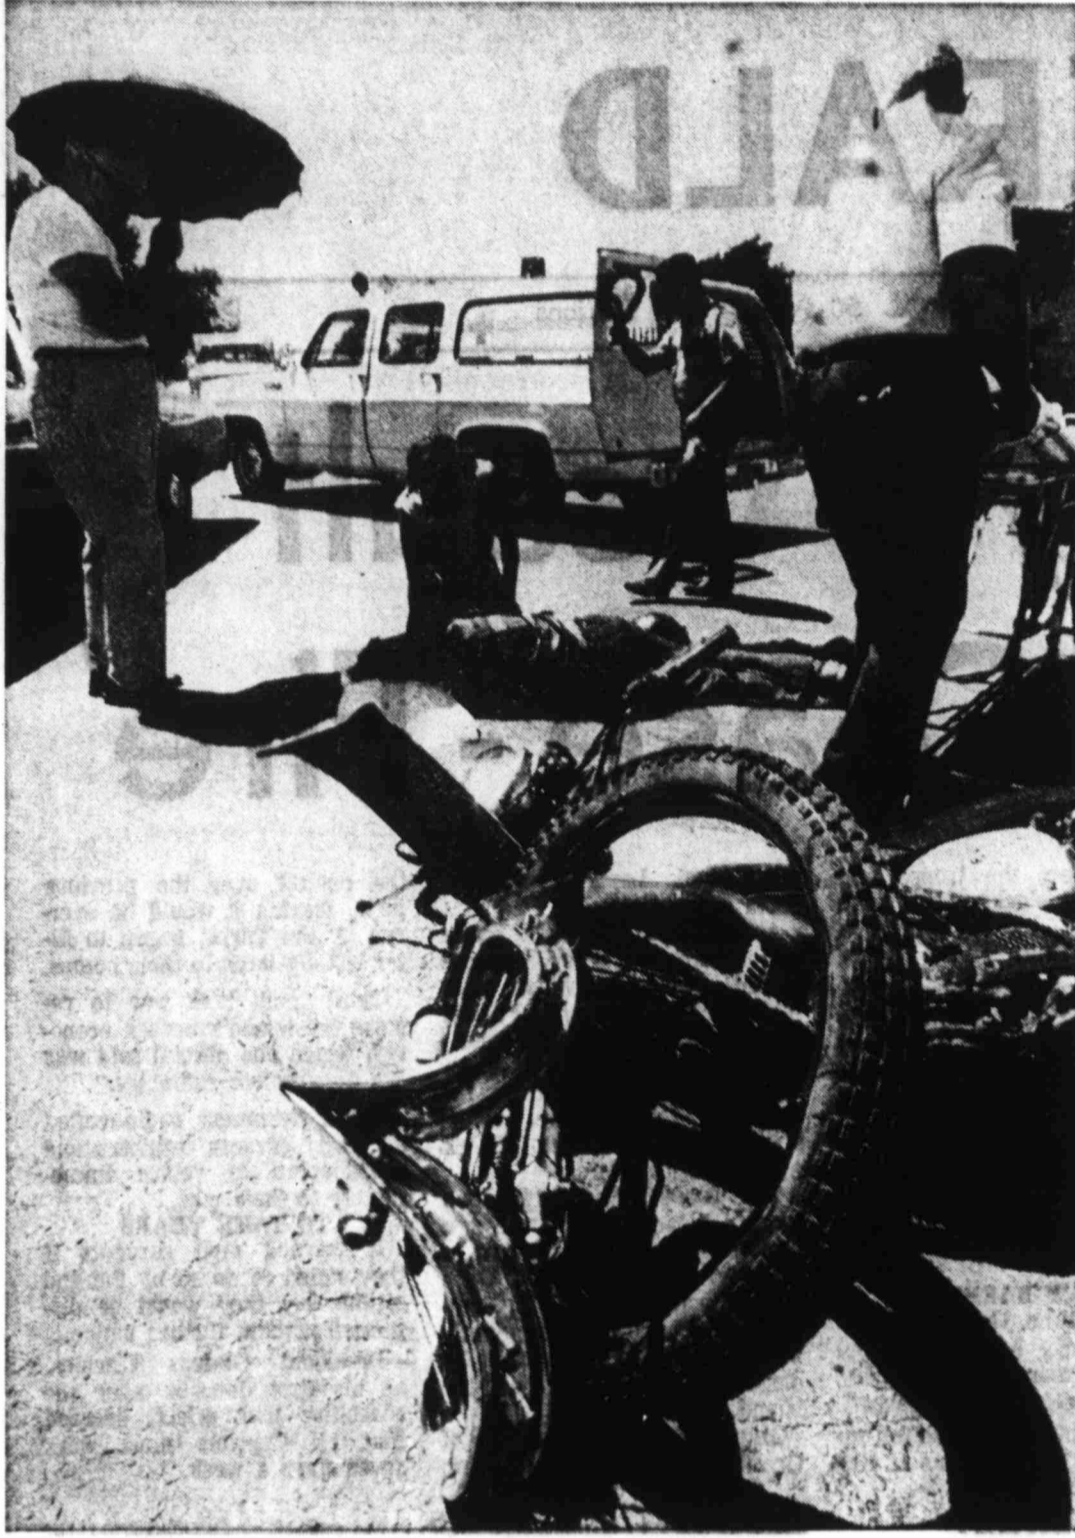

'LONG' MYSTERY
TerHorst began receiving press inquiries about the Anderson column.

PROSTITUTION DECOY — A 21-year-old Dallas man was convicted Friday in Dallas' first test case involving the use of a policeman as a prostitution decoy. The chief witness for the city, Deborah Ann Gardener, the decoy policeman, is shown in the witness stand with Judge William Bennisson, presiding. Police undercover agents at first attempted to block access of photographers to make photos through the glass in the door, but Dallas Morning News Photographer Larry Provart was able to take this photo after Judge Bennisson ordered the corridor cleared of the agents.

EX-BIG SPRINGER SAYS 'Patty' Hearst Sweet Little Girl

By MARJ CARPENTER

Mrs. Ruth Reagan, former Big Spring resident and aunt of Mrs. Eddie Ann Hearst, the national Associated Press wires last month with a story about her faith in Patricia Hearst.

The story from Berkeley, Calif., in part, "No matter what happens or how long it may last, 'Grandma' Ruth Reagan is unshakable in her belief in the young girl kidnaped from the house next door five months ago."

SAME FEELING — "Patricia Hearst was the sweetest, nicest little girl you ever want to meet, and nothing has changed my mind about her," said Mrs. Reagan.

Mrs. Reagan lives with her husband, Ed, 77, at 2607 Benvenue St., a few feet from the apartment building at 2603 where two black men and a white woman dragged away the daughter of newspaper executive Randolph Hearst last February.

Since 1960, the Reagans have been renting rooms to medical students at the nearby Berkeley U. campus. All the boys call Mrs. Reagan "grandma" and correspond with her for years after they leave.

Mrs. Reagan, a native of Big Spring, has three children and eight grandchildren of her own.

The kindly, 75-year-old woman fought back tears as she denounced published and rumored suggestions that the 20-year-old University of California student had contrived her own kidnaping.

Reagan's words and belief that the tapes delivered to television do not reflect "the real Patty."

GIRL BEWITCHED — She witnessed the kidnaping through her living room window. She later said the violent exploits sounded to her like "a girl bewitched and not of her own free will — somebody carrying around an alien consciousness."

Mrs. Reagan hopes for the girl's return and said nobody has a right to say things about her that have not been proven.

The Reagans are the only ones left on Benvenue Street of those whose names played a part in the early hours of one of U.S. history's most bizarre kidnapings.

Steven Weed, Patty's boyfriend, long ago moved. Donald Yamagishi, whose friend, Steve Suenaga, was bashed on the head by the kidnapers, gave up his apartment. Sandy Golden, a witness who was shot at as he watched, also is gone from the Reagan house.

EVALUATING — Beverly Steffen, occupational therapist at the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, helps Mark Barkley, 3½, adjust the sighting on a kaleidoscope as part of a visual evaluation during a school screening program conducted with the help of the Big Spring Jaycees Friday. Posture, speech, hearing, vision and dental condition of the enrollees were checked. Looking on from behind the barrel is John Barkley, age 6.

THE WEEK

(Continued from Page 1) College, and also by Howard County with $1,500,000. Still to come is the City of Big Spring.

While on the topic of schools, Supt. E. H. McKenzie Jr. addressing the first assembly of the faculty, laid out his general objectives — effective teaching, firmness and fairness, and good communications between schools and patrons.

Were we to live to be 100, one thing is beyond our comprehension — what profit or pleasure any creep can get from vandalism. Yet, last week several thousand dollars of damage were inflicted without rhyme or reason.

The City of Coahoma (which sells water to residents of Midway, Sand Springs and Coahoma) and the Howard County Water Control District No. 1 are continuing their verbal skirmishing on the periphery of legal action. Crux of the dispute is that Coahoma thinks tax money should be used for all debt service, whereas the District feels it can be applied only to 1962 bonds. This will result in an earlier payout, according to the District; it will cause rates to be raised now, says Coahoma.

Howard County Commissioners Court members and Bob McKenzie, representing Conoco but probably speaking for most oil operators, had their own contest of words. McKenzie contended that with a two-year balance in the Airport bond fund, the county did not need this levy and should give the taxpayers a 7-cents per $100 break. Commissioners said the funds were needed elsewhere, and one added it was none of his affair anyhow. McKenzie noted that as one of the largest taxpayers, it indeed was his and any taxpayer's affair.

From the notebook: Cong. Omar Burleson says that money for proposed Webb AFB improvements was about $1 million short and the project missed the House deficiency appropriations. However, Sen. John Tower is seeking to have it included in the Senate bill if the new economy pinch doesn't shoot it out of the saddle.

Dr. Fowler Yett, a cousin of Mrs. Jack Smith and nephew of Mrs. Hattie Rutledge, writes from Mobile, Ala. where he is a professor, asking if anyone knows of descendants of his grandfather, James Rowland Fowler, who came to Texas, probably around the mid 1800s. He had a jingle to recall his name: "If you're feeling foul, just remember I'm Fowler Yett!" ... Big Spring State Hospital's requests to the state legislative budget board for the biennium is about $11,500 per annum, compared to $5,495,000 this year.

Rain over the weekend and during the forepart of the week might be best described as a morale booster, although a few spots did receive enough to help. If this is followed by other timely showers, a few thousand bales may be added to the cotton yield, which may well under 10,000 bales anyhow. The greatest benefit was stock-water for many ranchers.

When the Bureau of Reclamation moves in here next spring for its weather research project, the emphasis will shift in a different direction than the Colorado River Municipal Water District's project in seeding cumulus clouds during the past four years. The bureau will work primarily with warm or low clouds for the simple reason there are so many more opportunities with them, bureau representatives said at an explanatory meeting here.

Old Settlers did it up right for their 50th annual Howard-Glasscock Old Settlers Reunion here Friday. For this Dwight and Gertrude McCann, together with J. R. Petty, and their co-workers deserve much thanks; also all who gave donations. You're really getting to be an old timer when you can remember when the first one was held.

It's time to work on your football fever. Season tickets now are on sale, and before you know it time for the first game of the season will be at hand. Back the Steers with your presence.

Ron McNeil, chairman of booth sales, alerted prospective commercial or institutional exhibitors last week to book space promptly. Prospects are that these will be set up in the new building providing by the Dora Robert Foundation.

Black Panther Leader Booked For Assault

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Black Panther Party leader Huey P. Newton was booked Saturday for investigation of two counts of assault with a deadly weapon in connection with the pistol-whipping of his tailor and the shooting of a teen-ager, police said.

Lt. Bill Clark said the assault on the tailor, Preston Collins, occurred Friday night in Newton's penthouse apartment while Collins was fitting suits for Newton and his bodyguard, Robert Heard.

"During the conversation Newton took offense to something Collins said, a very petty type thing, and he went into a rage and attacked him with a handgun," Clark said.

He said Collins, 52, of Oakland, was hospitalized in serious but stable condition.

Clark said Newton also was booked for investigation of the Aug. 6 shooting of a 17-year-old black girl. He said the Black Panther Party co-founder approached the girl on the street, spoke with her briefly, and then, according to witnesses, shot her in the head.

Clark said the girl, whose name he refused to release, is still hospitalized in very serious condition.

Newton, 32, surrendered early Saturday. His bail was set at $42,000.

Heard, 25, was arrested on the street shortly after the attack on Collins. He was booked for investigation of assault with a deadly weapon and his bail was set at $15,000.

Clark said Newton also faces an assault with a deadly weapon charge in connection with a July 31 melee with a police officer in an Oakland bar. Newton was free on $5,000 bail in connection with that incident when the other two assaults occurred.

WEATHER FORECAST — Showers are forecast today over portions of the Midwest and Southeast, according to the National Weather Service. Temperatures will remain warm around the country.

WAR AFTERMATH 'Everything Is In An Absolute Shambles'

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — "Everything is in an absolute shambles," said Stelios Garanis, chairman of the Cyprus Employers Federation.

He was describing the state of the island's economy and the effect on the life of this island that was a tourist paradise with a high standard of living only five weeks ago.

"We haven't even got a rough estimate of the total damage yet, but it must be in the hundreds of millions of dollars," said Minister of Finance Caundreas Patsalides.

IMMENSE TASK

"We are faced with an immense task of reconstruction that is likely to take years to accomplish," he added. "But the first of all we have the most urgent basically humanitarian problem of taking care of tens of thousands of refugees, more than a fifth of the total population. We have tried to feed them, house them, provide jobs for them, restore their dignity."

Officials could provide no estimate of the number of casualties suffered since the Turkish army invaded the island July 20.

WHO KNOWS?

"Hundreds, thousands who knows?" said a health ministry official. "We haven't had time to count them. The fighting only ended yesterday. Hundreds of people are missing and we don't know what is going on in the area occupied by the Turks."

The intersection of FM 700 and Virginia is completely dark with no crosswalk at that location. Mrs. Lenderman was struck about five feet in from the edge of the road and apparently died of massive head injuries. She also suffered extensive cuts and other injuries.

The report of the investigating officer said that she was walking north from Virginia Street across FM 700 when struck by a unit going east on FM 700.

Funeral services are scheduled at 10 a.m. Monday at Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel with Bob Kiser, minister of Anderson Street Church of Christ officiating. Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

Born July 20, 1897 in Hope, Arkansas, Mrs. Lenderman moved to Sweetwater in 1901 with her parents. She married Arthur Bell Nov. 1, 1912 in Sweetwater. He died in 1926.

EVERYBODY WORKED—EVEN KIDS 'The Good Ol' Days'

By MARJ CARPENTER

"The first Howard-Glasscock Old Settlers Reunion was held on my granddad's place 50 years ago," Maurine McKinney Mendenhall said at the reunion in Comanche Trail Park Friday.

"He was James McKinney and he homesteaded out around Center point near 1900. He first hauled water from Christian Canyon before they got a water well. Mother named the Centerpoint school because it was in the center of the small settlements around.

"Hugh McKinney used to ride a donkey to the R-Bar school before there was a Centerpoint school. Mother was with the Henderson family. Uncle Joe Henderson came to this country in a covered wagon and they had one baby born in the wagon on the way.

FROM TENNESSEE
"Mother's family came from Tennessee and then Grand Prairie. After she was here, she was helping roof the house when she saw smoke coming out of the chimney in the distance and they discovered the McKinneys — their first neighbors.

"There was a school on the Henderson property for a while too. They called that one, the Clabber Holler School."

She went on to tell about how her dad helped build the railroad dumps at Toyah, Barstow and Monahans, and told how her older sisters served as cooks at the railroad camps and the mother stayed home to throw feed out of the loft to the cattle.

EVERYBODY WORKED
"Times were hard and everybody worked — even the kids," another old timer chimed in as the old timers visited at the reunion.

Cecil Long, born here in 1900 and who runs the Lomax gin recalled that "Grandmother Long helped deliver babies and kept a record book of the babies she brought into the world." His sister, Mrs. Griffith agreed.

They mentioned that Dr. George True couldn't get all over West Texas fast enough in a horse and buggy to deliver all the babies and treat minor ailments.

"But he tried," Mrs. Mamie Lee Dadds, granddaughter of Dr. True stated.

"My dad used to go along to open gates so that he could get down the road faster. When word would come of an emergency, dad would grab grandpa's bag and get the buggy out.

"One time he went to Lamesa where a man had been thrown from a horse that stepped in a prairie dog hole. The man had compound fractures of the leg and was suffering from exposure because he had crawled, dragging his leg for miles. Granddad stayed three days and nights battling to save his life," Mrs. Dadds recalled.

DROVE OVER GATE
She laughed when she told about the time her granddad drove his first car. "When he got to a gate, he hollered 'whoa' and pulled upon the steering wheel and drove right over the top of the gate."

Then she laughingly recalled when her dad had sold Cecil Thixton's dad his first car. "Dad used to tell that he called the next day having a fit because the car wouldn't start.

when Dad got out to Thixton's, he asked for the car key and the late Mr. Thixton said, "What do you need a key for, the door ain't locked?" Then dad laughed and told him, "No wonder you couldn't start it."

Mrs. Clyde Thomas laughed and said, "Clyde's dad taught him to drive by saying 'Come straight down Greeg Street and when you want to stop drive into the curb.'"

Clyde Thomas, the late father of Dr. Clyde Thomas and Dr. George Thomas was a school principal here for many years.

LIVED IN DUGOUT
A. L. Sipes, who came in 1902 and lived in a dugout recalled that his dad worked for the railroad. "I never did work for the railroad but drove a truck 12 or 14 years," he said. "I still run the lunchroom at 5th and Benton near Boydston."

Sipes recalls "when we burned cow chips for heat and drank spring water. Supplies were brought in on wagons pulled by mules or oxen and a 30 gallon barrel of flour cost $2. A side of meat was 75 cents."

Huff said her dad, D.W. Rankin Sr., also lived in a dugout. She said "calves used to sell for $2 each."

Mr. and Mrs. John Allred were the oldest married couple present, having been married 62 years. They are also two of the real oldtimers of the area.

Tom Castle, who moved here when he was four years old in 1908, recalled "we used to run coyotes for sport when I was a boy. I never did move very far. We settled near Moore Community and then over toward Knot — just kind of went from one hill to another."

Melvin Choate, who came to the area when he was 12 or 13 years old said "we farmed out near Elbow and I remember we worked like the devil."

One oldtimer recalled that there weren't many fences between Big Spring and Lamesa — on all the Slaughter holdings.

Mrs. Martha Clemon, 86, sat in a wheelchair and watched the proceedings. She came to Howard County in 1942 and her husband farmed close to Ackerly.

Mrs. Bessie E. Smith said her husband, the late Hubert Smith came in 1923 and worked at many of the gins — "knew all the farmers."

SURVIVOR OF DRIVE
John Masters, 83, is the last survivor of an eight man cattle drive to Seminole. "We didn't make but two or three miles a day," he said. "We were driving cattle for W.P. Edwards and Clayton Stewart."

Mrs. R.L. Powell recalled that her dad was George Cauble, early rancher who came in the 1800s from Waco.

Mrs. A.C. (Eudonia) Bass and Mrs. Mary Brown were daughters of M.H. O'Daniel, early rancher who came to Borden county in 1901 and Howard County in 1902.

Edward Simpson also arrived near the turn of the century and attended the same school as Mrs. Bass back in 1902. Another schoolmate of the group was Mrs. R.W. McNew. She arrived in 1903 and her father ranched north of town. "We still run cattle on the same place under the same brand we brought from Jones County." Then she added, "I've ridden horseback all of my life."

The U.G. Powells came back around 1900. His dad was a blacksmith. His wife's father, W.J. Carroll was an early storekeeper.

JOINED THE ARMY
Thomas E. Steele, Midland and formerly of Big Spring, joined the army in Big Spring in 1917 and recalled that James T. Brook was captain of the 117th Supply Train. Eight survivors from the group include John Miller, Tom Hilton, and Herbert Hayes of Big Spring, and four other West Texans.

Steele came to Big Spring in 1912 and drove Doc Cauble from Waco, driving in a Stoddard Dayton car. "We made it in four and a half days. I later drove G.L. Brown, president of West Texas National Bank on a vacation trip and later went to work for the family," he recalled.

Mrs. M.O. Liles, who was the oldest woman present was not a Howard County oldtimer, moving here in 1946. But she could recall days in the Indian territory and early days around Lamesa.

"Funny thing," Mrs. E.L. Arnold Sr. of Sand Springs laughed, "out here those of us who arrived during the Depression years aren't really considered oldtimers amidst these that came sixty and seventy and eighty years ago. But we soon will be. We've been around over 40 years."

600 Persons Show Up For Old Settlers Event

Some 600 persons attended the 50th anniversary of old settlers all day Friday at the pavilion in Comanche Trail Park.

Bill Burrell, KHEM radio opened the Howard-Glasscock County Reunion with a welcome by Dwight McCann, president. History of the counties was presented by Joe Pickle, editor of the Big Spring Herald.

In addition to a prize to Mrs. Stella Lyles, 91 and Leonard Johnson, 88, oldest lady and man, the native coming the longest distance was Mrs. Mary Margaret Wilson, Orman of Wichita, Kansas, and Mary Pearl Mittel Monaco, San Antonio.

Prizes for best dressed old timers went to Mrs. Della McNew, Sam Frazier, Leroy Walker when the teenage award.

Sight High Island Funnel

By The Associated Press
If you wonder what the weather is like in Mexico, just stick your head out your own door. That's where Texas' heat and dryness are coming from.

Winds from the south and southwest out of our southern neighbor affected almost all of Texas Saturday, the Weather Service said. Only in the far eastern part was the Gulf of Mexico feeding moisture into the state.

The moisture caused weather turbulence resulting in a funnel cloud occurring near High Island in early afternoon. High Island is halfway between Sabine Pass and Galveston.

The funnel was in a thunderstorm, one of several which built up on the upper coast and into the Gulf of Mexico.

The moderate temperatures of the night began disappearing by sunup and the thermometer mercury headed for the 90s and the 100s.

Early Saturday morning, El Paso was almost chilly at 65 degrees. Lubbock residents enjoyed a cool 67 and Amarillo was only a little higher at 69.

Four major reporting stations held the dubious honor of having Friday's highest temperature of 101 degrees. They were Childress, Dallas-Fort Worth, Wichita Falls and Waco.

The golden anniversary cup went to Don Raspberry and Mr. and Mrs. John Allred were honored as the settlers married the longest.

Antique car awards included first place, 1929 Chrysler, Don Frazier; second, 1931 Model A Coupe, James Bank; third, 1929 Model A, Bernard Zanister.

Horseshoe throwing winner was Danny Thomas followed by George Heckler and Jack McNew. Carlton Clark won the washer pitching with Fern Alcantar and Ruth McNew, second and third.

Tom Castle, Big Spring, won the old fiddlers contest with Hoyte Roberts, Westbrook, second and W. C. Carpenter, Colorado City, third.

Mrs. J.C. Gilbert had the largest number of children with 12 followed by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McNew with 11.

The Indian Lore dancers performing included Richard Candrell, Robert Downing and David Kimble with Mrs. Austin Ferguson on the drums.

Austin Ferguson is advisor. Jerald Burgess was elected vice president to replace J. R. Petty, who resigned. Other officers are Dwight McCann, president and Gertrude McCann, secretary-treasurer.

McCann expressed appreciation to everyone who helped make the reunion a success.

Others making donations were: Gibson's Discount Store, John Alred, J. G. Skalksky, Jack Skalksky, Jack McKinney, Mary Brown, J. W. Birance, O.R. Dunlap, A.M. Whetsel, Eula Clifton, Mrs. Lora Flanagan, E. Dennis, C. A. Walker, Mrs. C. B. Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Lendeman, Mrs. A. C. Boss, Mrs. Della McNew, and Cue and Triangle Billiard Supply.

$11.3 Billion Housing Bill Sent To Ford

WASHINGTON (AP) — A compromise $11.3 billion housing bill was passed by the House on Thursday and sent to President Ford.

The measure is believed acceptable to the new administration although it contains some ideas which had been opposed by former President Richard M. Nixon, as well as things he proposed.

The vote was 377-21. Included is a proposal by Nixon for combining programs into block grants giving local authorities more discretion in the use of federal funds. The bill combines seven specific categorical programs into an $8.6 billion community development block grant.

The grants would be allocated on the basis of population and prevalence of poverty. Cities would be assured for three years of at least the level of grants they had received earlier.

In a section which Nixon had opposed, the bill would make available about $250 million over the next two years for each of two subsidy programs. These would provide subsidies for home ownership by low-income families and for low-rent apartments.

A section aimed at boosting the housing industry would raise from $33,000 to $45,000 the ceiling on FHA-insured mortgages on single-family homes.

Also included is authorization of $1 billion for programs of housing production, rehabilitation and leasing estimated to benefit about 400,000 persons.

Another $800 million was allocated to the developers of housing for the elderly and handicapped.

NEW TRIAL BID FAILS Guilty Plea To Sale Of Marijuana Stands

The man who pleaded guilty to sale of marijuana and wanted a new trial questioned several parts of the statement of guilt he signed, the defendant's former attorney told 118th District Court Friday afternoon.

Joseph A. (Jody) Wirges III, 21, "told me it wasn't in a soap box. It was in a paper bag," John Burgess, who formerly represented Wirges, said.

Also, Wirges was not sure about the date of the alleged felony offense and did not know the name of the man he was accused of selling to.

NO DOUBTS
District Judge Ralph W. Caton overruled the motion for a new trial. Wirges stared down steadily as the hearing approached its conclusion.

Of the forms Wirges signed in his plea of guilty, Burgess said: "I never did doubt that he understood it."

"I personally went over each form and asked him if he had any questions," Burgess recalled. Wirges only questioned parts of the statement of facts prepared for his signature, Burgess said.

Wirges was given 10 years of probation. And Burgess said: "Under Texas law, a probated sentence is not a final conviction."

The defendant was concerned about the affect his guilty plea would have on his being able to stay in the Air Force, Burgess said.

Burgess remembered talking to Wirges about another Air Force man who was not discharged for a lesser offense. But Burgess said the other man also had a better record in the Air Force.

'APPREHENSIVE'
"I think you're going to have tough sledding at Webb (Air Force Base)," Burgess said he warned Wirges.

"Apprehensive" is how Burgess described Wirges' appearance on the day of the arrest and conviction.

Burgess told about conveying "my impression it (the alleged sale) occurred at 10 p.m." The defense attorney said he did not notice the time on the statement was 10 a.m.

Witnesses for Wirges in the hearing indicated Wirges was supposed to be on duty at 10 a.m. June 6.

The defendant's supervisor, Jesus Meza, testified Wirges was at work at several times during the day.

"I can't, in good faith, say he was there from 7:30 to 11:30, because I have no way of knowing it," Meza said.

While Wirges sometimes was sent across base on errands and could have left the base, Meza said Wirges "never lied," to his knowledge, about where he went when dispatched to places on base.

Fair Booths Being Booked

Ron McNeil, both chairman, issued another reminder Saturday that prospective commercial and institutional exhibitors need to act promptly in order to be assured of space for the annual Fair Sept. 15-21.

The new Fair building, given by the Dora Roberts Foundation, is due to be completed and used to house the exhibits. Thus, accommodations will be far better than last year when a tent had to be utilized. He said there also remained outdoor exhibit space. This year, commercial exhibitors may sell (except for food or drink) if they desire. Those interested should call or see him at Montgomery Ward.

Mean time, the directors will convene Wednesday 2 p.m. to put the finishing touches on plans for the Fair, which was successfully revived last year. The meeting will be held at the Chamber of Commerce conference room, said Buddy Barr, president.

Four Texans Die In Plane Crash

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Ark. (AP) — An Amarillo, Tex., physician, his wife and two daughters were identified Saturday as the victims of a single-engine airplane crash in rugged terrain south of here Friday.

Dead are Dr. Milton Stevens, 37; his wife, Mary, and their two children, Charlotte Lee, 12, and Sharon Louise, 8, according to Coroner Cecil Melton of Stone County.

Officials of the Federal Aviation Agency arrived at the scene Saturday to investigate the cause of the crash.

State police said Friday night the plane was believed to have been en route from Muscle Shoals, Ala., to Amarillo.

"The plane was torn all to pieces and the bodies were, too," said Sheriff Flynn Norman of Stone County. "We couldn't find a flight plan."

Norman said searchers found a blank check from an Amarillo bank at the crash location. The sheriff said eyewitnesses saw the plane "tumbling to the ground and debris was coming down after it." The crash occurred about 2:10 p.m. when a thunderstorm was in the area, Norman said.

Rescue workers spent more than two hours trying to remove the bodies from the rugged terrain. "It's up on a flat on top of a ridge in a real thickly-wooded area," Norman said.

Lord Mayor Dies

STUTT GART, Germany (AP) — Stuttgart's Lord Mayor Arnulf Klett, 69, died Wednesday of a heart attack while vacationing in the Black Forest.

Klett, a liberal-leaning independent, was named to the lord mayor post in 1945 by French troops occupying the bombed-out city. During the last 29 years — the longest reign of any West German mayor — he helped rebuild Stuttgart into the industrial and cultural hub of southwest Germany. His current term was to last until 1978.

In photographing 'Freaky' beneath the glass, the photographer used the dime to provide a comparison of sizes. The frog is about two inches long. Freaky's owner, biologist David Liebman, found the odd looking creature at Stumpy Lake in Virginia Beach. Freaky has four regular legs and nine smaller legs.

EPA Findings Are Questioned

DALLAS (AP) — The Texas Air Control Board has challenged three federal air quality maintenance areas at public hearings Friday.

The state agency protested the Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) designation of maintenance areas in Houston, Galveston and El Paso, and called for additional study of potential pollution problems in the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

Texas Air Control Board executive director Charles Barden challenged in a letter to the EPA federal evidence that sulphur dioxide levels in the Houston-Galveston area are likely to exceed federal standards.

Barden also questioned sulphur dioxide projections for El Paso and data on photochemical-Oxidants in the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

Not Attempting To Pile Up Surplus

Members of the Howard County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 (Coahoma - Midway - Sand Springs) are not attempting to pile up a surplus at the expense of consumers. On the contrary, said a statement Saturday the district is asking (in a suit filed in 118th District Court) that the City of Coahoma pay the exact cost of water, operating expense and 1955 bond debt service.

Coahoma reverted back to a 1955 contract figure, as amended in 1956, at the end of November, which caused the district to bring suit to collect Coahoma's unpaid balance.

ESTIMATE DISPUTED
In an answer to the suit, the City of Coahoma last week contended that the district, by reason of higher rates than originally imposed, had accumulated a sizeable surplus. To continue paying this rate would mean having to increase individual water rates, said the answer, and Mayor Jack Cauble of Coahoma, estimated this might be as much as $4 more on the base monthly charge. Harold Aberger, who furnished a statement to the Herald on behalf of the District, said this estimate was grossly exaggerated, that $1.25 per meter would do it.

Highlights of a statement reciting the District's position recall how the District was created in 1955 to furnish water for Midway, Sand Springs, Coahoma, with Coahoma becoming the distributing agency to individual customers. It was agreed that the monthly payment would be cost of water plus debt service, ($792) and operations ($208) a total of $1,000. Payments were made out of revenues generated from sale of water.

BOND PREPAYMENT
In 1962, more bonds were voted because the six-inch line couldn't meet the demand.

Meanwhile, water costs rose and this was passed on to Coahoma. According to the statement, the surplus occurred not from raising rates on the water, but because the new water supply touched off such a wave of development that the yield of District taxes considerably exceeded estimates. It was the District's feeling that the tax was levied for the 1962 bond retirement, hence $100,000 was applied to reduce outstanding indebtedness from $190,000 to $90,000. As a result the District stands to pay out the system in 1955 instead of 1993.

But when Coahoma stopped paying the accepted rate in November and instead reverted to the 1955 contract base, this left the District with inadequate revenue to meet its obligations to the City of Big Spring for treated water, plus debt service and expense. Hence the $17,052 damage suit, which if upheld, would entitle the District to recover plus five percent, according to the original contract.

DISTRICT INITIATIVE
The impression that the District had refused to meet and talk about the problem is erroneous, said the statement. It cited, on four specific occasions this year (Jan 14, Jan. 28, April 14, and June 5) with either the boards or members of the boards and attorneys met, but always the result was the same: nothing done. "All of the meetings held so far have been at the instance or request of the District, and at no time has the City of Coahoma ever requested a meeting for any purpose whatsoever," according to the statement. Under the contract, all that is necessary for such a meeting is a request from Coahoma. Also, meetings (at least once a month) of the District board are open, the statement said.

A suggestion of cutting off service was rejected by the District on the grounds this would be a hardship and unfair to customers who are current in their obligations to Coahoma. However, it was inferred, should the District not have revenue to pay its obligation, it might well be cut off from its supply and unable to furnish water to Coahoma.

"The District board members are not seeking to change an agreement that has worked for 19 years, especially since the areas involved have prospered from the agreement, namely, that the City of Coahoma pay the exact cost of water, the 1955 bond debt service, and operating expense."

Conviction Of Rachal Is Upheld

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans has upheld the fraud and conspiracy convictions of two former Mooney Aircraft executives now serving prison terms.

Hal Francis Rachal of Midland, founder and president of the firm, and Edward R. Hunnicutt of Kerrville, Mooney's secretary and treasurer, were convicted here in May 1971. The appeals court ruled Friday.

Each was found guilty by a federal court jury on 13 counts each of fraud and conspiring to sell Mooney Corp. and Mooney Aircraft Inc. common stock. U.S. District Court Judge D.W. Suttle sentenced Rachal on terms and fined him $10,000. Hunnicutt was sentenced to 13 months and fined $5,000.

'Alphabet Bomber' Clues Searched For By Police

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A man claiming to be the "alphabet bomber" telephoned the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner on Saturday and said he was postponing Sunday's planned bombing in Los Angeles.

"We have postponed our activities pending whatever will happen next. Sunday is off. Nothing will happen," police said the man told the Herald-Examiner.

The newspaper declined to say whether the caller gave a reason for his decision. The FBI said it received word from the newspaper that another call had been received and a spokesman said the call was being checked out.

SECRET CODE
Herald-Examiner City Editor Tom Caton said the caller identified himself by a secret code name and was apparently the same man who has called in the past claiming responsibility for the Aug. 6 bombing which killed three persons at Los Angeles International Airport.

A telephone call from the "alphabet bomber" late Friday night enabled police to get to a second bomb before it exploded.

The man, who speaks with a heavy accent and demands better treatment of aliens in America, had threatened to explode a third bomb Sunday in a crowded area unless two former Los Angeles police officers were charged in the 1970 shooting deaths of two Mexican nationals.

Police said they would "probably go the way we are," with an additional 1,000 officers on duty Sunday in heavily populated areas, just in case the call to the newspaper was not from the real bomber. Police said they still had little to go on as to where a third bomb might be planted.

The only clue: the crowded area has something to do with the letter "I." The first bomb was tagged "A" for airport and blew up at a terminal at Los Angeles International Airport.

ALIENS OF AMERICA
The second found in time Friday night was dubbed "L" for locker — a locker at the bus station. The first had been in an airport locker.

The man indicated the first letters of his bombing targets spell out the name of his group, "Aliens of America."

Police Comdr. Peter Hagan said, "We are taking every possible emergency precautionary measure."

The department increased its 600-man Sunday force by another 1,000 members. Police would not say how and where the officers were being deployed.

Officers said they were examining a long list of "I" site possibilities.

Religious Hitchhiker Head Toward Oklahoma

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Brockway 26. Residence are They flag down rides with a sign that says "Hitchhiking for Christ."

They left Huntsville, Ala., recently for Los Angeles with only $5 in each of their pockets. They say their mission is to demonstrate their trust in Jesus Christ — their belief that Christ will provide what one needs.

Seven persons who say they are making the trip under the auspices of the "Children of Light Society," a religious educational group, passed through Little Rock Saturday on their way to Los Angeles.

Although they left Alabama with only $5 each, they do not turn down donations.

A newsman who met the group in downtown Little Rock Saturday said the members told him they had met an apparently poor man driving an "old broken down car."

The man, on his way to work, reportedly said he had no money for them; so, he gave them his lunch.

Members of the group are Nancy Kellogg, 52, Sylvia Berry, 36, Trevor Mordica, 40, Carol Ring, 32, Barbara Mahfack, 28, Joy Chesser, 38, and Robert

Fuel Woes Snag Wallace's Plane

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Gov. George Wallace of Alabama was delayed more than an hour in leaving Albuquerque Saturday because of an airplane engine fuel problem attributed to the mile-high altitude.

The governor and his wife, in Albuquerque for the National Legislative Conference and a Young Democrats meeting, were aboard a twin-engine business jet at the airport when liquid was seen spraying around the right engine.

The pilot shut down the engines and the Wallaces left the aircraft, going to a nearby hotel while the governor's staff began arranging for another plane.

The governor's news secretary, Billy Joe Camp, said a factory representative for the plane was contacted in Oklahoma City and advised the fuel flow probably hadn't been adjusted for the higher altitude.

The adjustment was made, and the Wallaces left in the same plane for Virginia where the governor is to attend a testimonial dinner Sunday in Lynchburg.

Seven Killed As Cars Smash

MINERAL WELLS, Tex. (AP) — Two cars smashed together at the intersection of a farm road and a U.S. highway Friday night, taking seven lives and leaving an eighth person critically injured.

Five of the dead were children and two others were in their early and mid-20s.

State police identified the victims as Mary Ellen Perez, 25; her husband, Ricardo Perez, 20; and her children by a previous marriage—Carlos Sandoval 9; Mary Alice Sandoval, 8; Angel Sandoval, 7; and Jose Gary Sandoval, 6—and the Rev. John H. Burleson, 57, of Houston.

The Perez-Sandoval family resided in Olustee, Okla.

The Rev. Mr. Burleson formerly was pastor of Mineral Wells' Parker Street Baptist Church. He was minister of Houston's Lake Forest Baptist Church at his death.

The only survivor was Cindy Alaniz, 3, of Mathis, Tex., a friend of the Perez family. Her condition was critical.

State troopers said the minister's car was coming out of a farm road onto U.S. 281 when the collision occurred about 25 miles south of Mineral Wells. There is a stop sign at the intersection, troopers said.

The minister was alone in his car.

Several of the victims were thrown from the vehicles.

BY CHARLES H. GOREN © 1974, The Chicago Tribune

Dear Mr. Goren: Is an insufficient bid made in rotation considered an illegal call? What happens if the next hand passes before attention has been drawn to the offense?—Mary Jane Kelley, Jackson, Mich.

(This question has been awarded the weekly prize.)

A.—An insufficient bid is an illegal call. If either opponent draws attention to it before any other action is taken, the offender may make the lowest possible sufficient bid in the same denomination without penalty, or substitute a pass or any other legal bid. He may not substitute a double or redouble. In the event that he does not make the lowest possible sufficient bid in the same strain, various penalties apply during the auction and in the play should the offender's side become the defenders.

Q.—Recently, I held the following hand: ♠K Q J 10 x x ♥Q ♦J x x ♣J x x. My partner opened the bidding with one no trump and I responded three spades. My partner took this for a jump shift and proceeded to six spades, which went down two tricks. Was her action correct? Mrs. Rollo West, Berryville, Ark.

A.—A jump in a suit in response to partner's one no trump opening is forcing, but does not show the same strength as a jump shift over a suit opening bid. The bid shows a good suit of at least five cards, and generally suggests a choice of contract—usually game at no trump or in responder's suit, depending on opener's hand. However, it can be the first move in a slam-going auction, in which case responder will bid again.

Opener should not presume that responder is interested in more than game. With a maximum no trump opening and a good fit for responder's suit, opener may cue-bid his outside strength to show interest in slam, but he must abide by responder's decision, if his partner elects to sign off in game. This does not mean that I consider three spades to be the correct bid with your hand. You are interested neither in slam nor in a no trump contract—your hand is not strong enough for the former nor balanced enough for the latter. You should simply have jumped to four spades, which is where the hand should be played.

Q.—Could I have made four hearts on the following hand? ♠A Q 10 9 6 ♥5 ♦8 6 4 3 ♣J 10 8

♠J 8 7 4 ♠K 5 2 ♥J 10 6 3 ♥A K 10 ♣Q 9 6 5 ♣3

♠A K Q 9 8 4 ♠A K 7 2

East had opened the bidding with one club, and West led his singleton three of clubs. I played dummy's jack and East refused to cover. Eventually, I ended up losing one heart, two diamonds and a club, for I had to draw trumps to prevent West from ruffing at least two clubs.—C. Barnes, W. Orange, N.J.

A.—You play in a tough game. East's failure to cover the first club was a very fine defensive maneuver. Had he played the queen, you would have had no difficulty making your contract.

Nevertheless, the contract can be made. You were a mite careless with your play from dummy to the first trick. Consider the difference if you were to play the eight of clubs instead of an honor! Now East cannot afford to let dummy win the trick, since the jack-ten will be there for a second finesse. Therefore, he must cover with the nine, forcing the king. After cashing three high trumps, you concede a trump trick to West. When you get in again, you cross to dummy's ace of spades and lead the club of clubs, and you will take four club tricks no matter what the defenders do.

CAR SALES ROARING

HOUSTON (AP) — July car sales in Harris County neared their year-earlier level after slumping during the gasoline shortage.

Some observers said Friday part of the increase could be attributed to consumer preference for the higher priced 1975 models that also will have catalytic converters that require use of unleaded gasoline.

July sales of cars and trucks totaled 14,482, compared with 13,293 in June, and 14,629 in July of last year.

MELANCHOLY STORY

Turks Prove Force Works

By The Associated Press

The obvious lesson to be drawn from the Cyprus crisis is that military might still prevails in an era that was supposed to usher in a new world of international law and order.

The message of this crisis, to a world that would seem badly in need of something different, clearly is: Force Works.

The premier of Turkey, Bulent Ecevit, could hardly have put the case more bluntly: What Turkey could not achieve at the negotiation table in Geneva was "in fact achieved by Turkish army in 24 hours."

FACT OF LIFE

The implications are melancholy. The meaning behind it all seems to be that so long as a global political contest remains a fact of life — as it is in spite of detente and a surface appearance of relaxation — the only time little wars are stopped is when the risks begin to outweigh the profits.

Only the superpowers would have the authority, acting in concert, to put an end to perilous explosions such as the Cyprus fighting, and each superpower approached it with notable caution and an eye to what impact its actions might have on prospects in the political war.

GREECE IS WEAK

Militarily, Greece is weak and politically she is rocky, having just emerged from a crisis of her own. She could not hope, as her premier conceded, to be a match for an immensely stronger Turkish army. So there could be no thought of Greek invasion of Cyprus or of war with Turkey.

On the other hand, the Turkish government found it could make itself far more popular than it could have hoped to be some time ago by using military superiority boldly on Cyprus to confound the Greeks who have been hostile back fence neighbors for centuries.

Once again — as in Palestine of 1948 and many another area — a United Nations call to stop fighting was ignored until the superior party could nail down significant gains.

BIG CHUNK

The Turks, having bitten off a big chunk of Cyprus, then proceeded to announce a willingness to accept a cease-fire. They were by then ready to go with the accomplished fact.

Nowhere is it written in the annals of the United Nations that it has expelled a member for ignoring or defying its orders, nor is that likely to happen. The rule has been that the peace is to be restored at the point where either the winning party has made significant gains or all parties are satisfied that the risks of further fighting outweigh the prospective profits.

WHAT HAPPENS?

These performances seem to many of its friends to degrade the United Nations by turning it into little more than backdrop for cease-fire or peace arrangements when such a procedure suits the convenience of the warring parties or their respective allies and protectors.

What happens now?

Maybe partition, since Turkey now controls a large piece of Cyprus and it doesn't look likely she'll be dislodged. At best, there might be confederation with iron-clad Turkish autonomy, however distasteful to the Greeks.

And what happens to NATO? Greece has confessed to the world her weakness and vulnerability. Outside of the NATO military organization, she would be painfully exposed. Inside it, she would be the terribly uncomfortable partner of the very neighbor who had just so publicly and clearly humiliated her. It's a tough dilemma.

COLD WAR

The aura of cold war is persistent in the eastern Mediterranean. Neither Greece nor Turkey is likely to forget why they became NATO members. They are unlikely to forget the events that produced the Truman Doctrine of 1947, when Greece was almost gobbled up by a Soviet-supported Communist offensive and when Turkey, too, was feeling severe pressures.

When conditions seemed ripe, the Kremlin gambled, seeking big gains at small risk. It lost because the Truman Doctrine infused massive military and economic aid into the two countries whose future means so much to the future of the whole Middle East.

The whole story can suggest to Greece that however painful her situation may be as a NATO member now, it could be a good deal more so outside it. That could lead Athens to have some sober second thoughts about leaving NATO's military structure.

$2 Million Fina Suit

ADABEL, Okla. (AP) — A damage suit seeking nearly $2 million has been filed against American Petrofina Corp. and its distributor for the sale of allegedly defective gasoline.

No date has been set for hearing the case, which was filed Thursday in McCurtain County District Court.

Automobile owners began complaining last month that their car engines were clogging after they purchased the gasoline at a Broken Bow, Okla., service station. Several owners had to have major repair work done on their cars.

The class action suit seeks a total of $335 for repair of one car; $500 in loss of use; $750,000 in punitive damages and a minimum of $500,555 in attorney fees, court costs and interest.

The Fina refinery where the allegedly bad gasoline was produced is located at Mount Pleasant, Tex. It sells gasoline to Fina stations and other oil companies.

Plaintiffs in the suit are Richard Orr, Vivian Lane and Orin Clay. All alleged they purchased defective gasoline at the Broken Bow service station.

BABY BULLION — "Baby bullion" gold bars, shown above, will go on sale to the American public December 31 of this year when the new gold legalization act, allowing outright sale of the mineral, goes into effect. The bars' weight will range from one ounce to 40 ounces and are measured in troy ounces, the equivalent of 1.907 avoirdupois ounces, the weight used in American weights and measurements. The bars are stamped with a "finesness" number in the upper left corner and a registration number in the upper right corner. Samuel Weiss & Co. of New York is currently taking orders for the bars which are being produced for them by Engelhard Minerals & Chemicals Corp. of Plainville, Mass.

The Big Spring State Hospital Federal Credit Union, Big Spring, earned a Thrift Honor Award for its success in stimulating savings, according to Paul A. Trylko, Regional Director of the National Credit Union Administration.

The Federal credit union attained a monthly rate of growth of 4.0 percent in share accounts $20,000 and under. This growth rate was above the average for Federal credit unions of similar size, according to Mr. Trylko.

On June 30, 1974, the credit union had 585 members who had saved a total of $316,189. The credit union primarily serves employees of Big Spring State Hospital who work in Big Spring, Texas. The Federal credit union was chartered in May 1961.

Mr. George R. Colvin, Jr., is president of the credit union and Mrs. Norma F. Morrow is treasurer.

The National Credit Union Administration conducts its Thrift Honor Award Program to provide an incentive for officials of Federal credit unions to encourage members with small accounts to save regularly as part of their family financial management plans. Herman Nickerson, Jr., heads up the Administration which is responsible for chartering, supervising, and insuring Federal credit unions. State credit unions may be insured under the Federal Program. There are approximately 13,000 Federally chartered credit unions.

'SKINNY DIPPING'

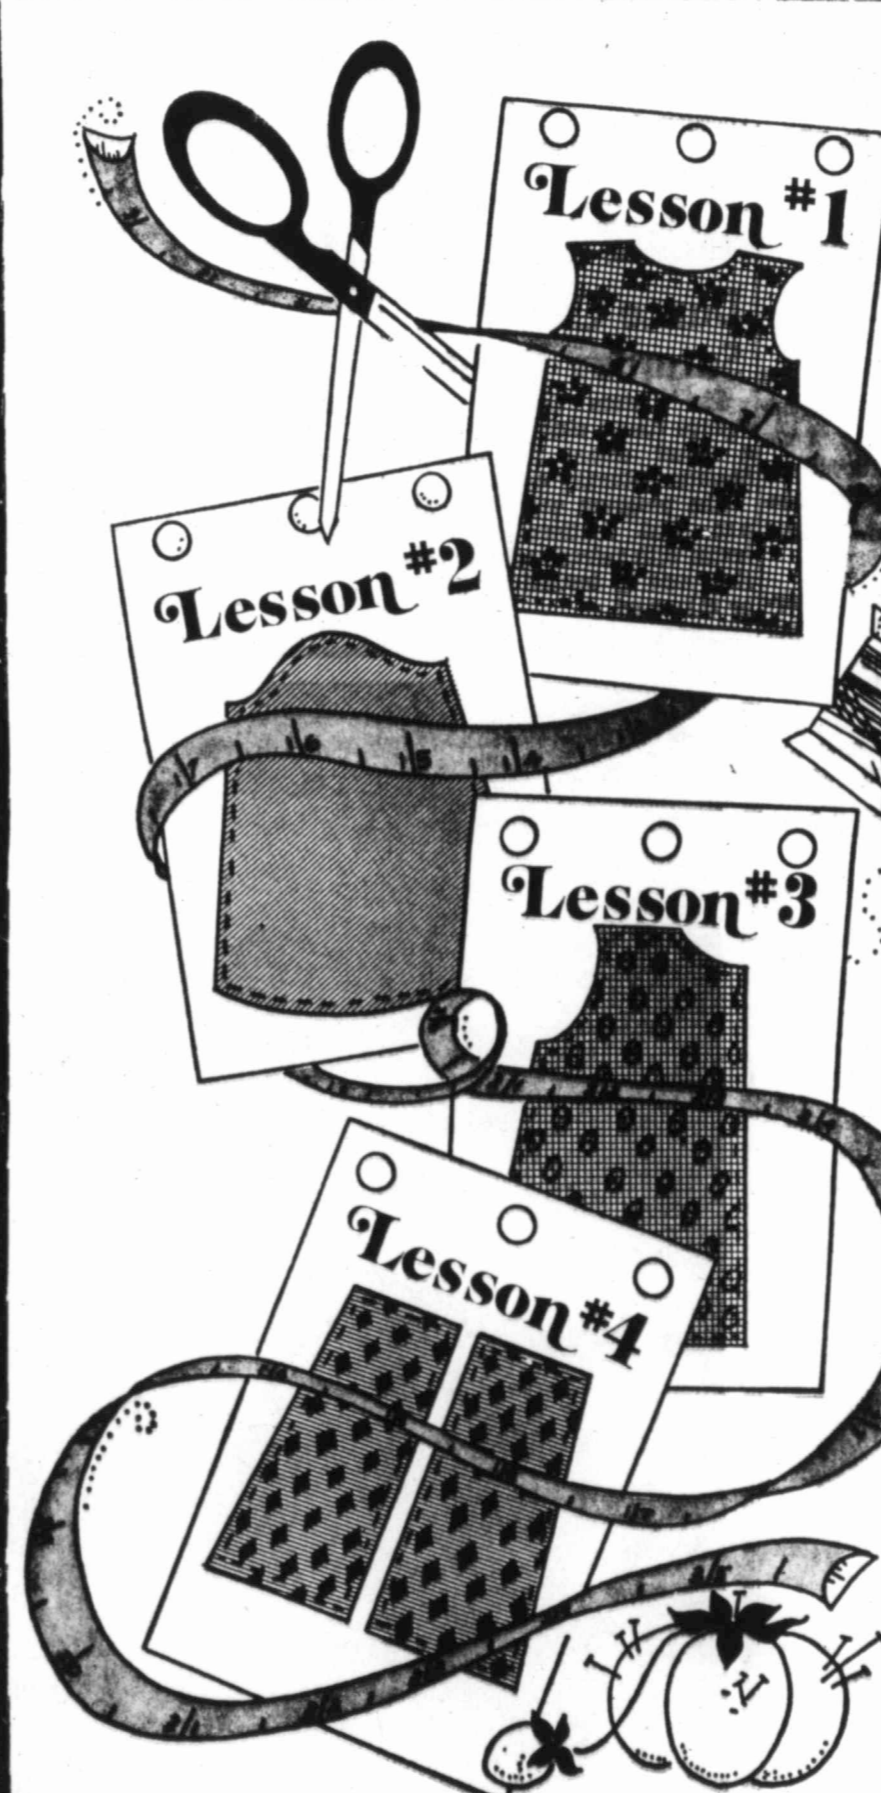

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (AP) — Lee William Bailey of Marion, Iowa, has learned that "skinny dipping" doesn't pay.

Bailey told authorities he struck up a conversation with a young woman in a local bar and she suggested they go skinny dipping — a nude swim.

He said they drove in his car to the Cedar River and removed their clothes. Before they entered the water, the woman told Bailey she was going back to the car to get her cigarettes. Instead she drove away, taking the clothes with her, Bailey said.

Authorities are still searching for the car and the woman.

Many Big Springers Hooked On Stamp Kits

The Big Spring Post Office holds a special place in the hearts of philatelists here, according to postmaster Frank Hardesty, as not only can new stamp issues be purchased, but stamp collecting books and kits are also available at the post office.

The post office gets a new issue of stamps every two or three weeks, and all a philatelist has to do to get a "block" of the new issue is to purchase them at face value. Very often the blocks appreciate until they are worth more than their face value.

A block consists of from four to 12 stamps found in one corner of a pane of stamps. These stamps are kept intact with the margin which has the serial number of that particular sheet of stamps.

MINT SET
Stamp collecting kits are also available for both the beginner and the experienced stamp collector.

Available are such kits as a collection of Wildlife stamps from across the world, a space collection, sports, European art, Canada and United States collections.

Also offered is a Mint Set of stamps including an album and all United States issued in 1972 or 1973. In December, a Mint Set will be available for all stamps issued in 1974.

Stamps are issued commemorating hundreds of events, persons, places, and themes. Some of the more popular stamps of recent issue is the environment stamp, featuring colorful art and a popular theme.

Presidents are another popular theme for stamps with Harry S. Truman and Lyndon B. Johnson the most recent new stamp issues.

RURAL AMERICA
Hardesty noted that former president Nixon would probably get on a stamp, though not until he is deceased.

He notes that there are quite a few stamp collectors in Big Spring, and with the increasing imagination and color shown by stamps, he expects their numbers to increase considerably.

Next week, the post office expects to get in their newest stamp, the Rural America series stamp depicting a Kansas wheatfield.

Unless the philatelist is on the ball, he may miss a stamp issue. Hardesty said that his clerks hardly ever have more than three different kinds of 10 cent stamps on hand at any one time. They just about sell out of a stamp when it comes time for a new issue.

First day covers are another popular item for stamp collectors which is a stamped envelope canceled on the first day of issue for the stamp at the place that the stamp is issued initially.

SOUTHWEST BOOKS
Homesteading In Big Bend

BIG BEND, A Homesteader's Story. By J.O. Langford with Fred Gipson. University of Texas Press, Austin. 159 pages. $7.50.

It has been 12 years since this book first saw print, and now it has been reissued.

There seems no question that the volume bears the mark of the late Fred Gipson, one of Texas' greatest writers. The skill with which it is put together marks it.

The late J.O. Langford, his wife and first child came West for Langford's health. They stopped at Midland, Tex., and then found that some land with a health spring was open for homesteading in the Big Bend very near the Mexican border.

This book covers only that period of Langford's life and is more about the country and its residents than about Langford himself.

He and his family survived by charging a small fee for use of the hot spring, and finally he got a job as a schoolteacher at $700 a year.

The story is filled with crises, natural in this wild country. And there were many human troubles of Langford's neighbors.

Then warfare in Mexico and withdrawal of U.S. troops because of the first World War forced the Langfords to move.

They came back 14 years later, but it wasn't the same.—The AP (REF).

THE QUACK DOCTOR. By Phil R. Russell and Judy Alter. Branch-Smith, Fort Worth, Tex. 188 pages. $8.95.

The title of this book is going to drive many osteopathic physicians and surgeons up the wall. The non-professional reader at first may consider it a self-debasing joke.

But at the end you find that Dr. Phil Russell, D.O., is proud of the label the M.D. profession once sought to put on all of them.

The reason, he says, is that osteopaths, officially accepted and recognized now by many doctors of medicine and hospitals, have become too sophisticated and conservative.

Dr. Russell has the credentials to tell osteopaths anything and make them like it. He was just another D.O. in Cleburne where his mother, also an osteopath, practiced when he began.

Then he became the chief spokesman of that branch of the healing profession in Texas and the nation, practicing in Fort Worth. He served on the State Board of Health and for 12 years was on the State Board of Medical Examiners. The various osteopathic associations elected him to their highest offices.

Woven into the story is how he fought for recognition for his profession and how it built hospitals.

The differences between M.D. and D.O. are complex and were

Okay Two State Bank Charters

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The State Banking Board has approved two new state bank charters and turned down six others, State Banking Commissioner Robert E. Stewart said here.

The two interim charters approved were New Cullen Center Bank & Trust Co., Houston, and the Brookfield State Bank, Houston.

The organizers may now collect capital funds and furnish such evidence to the department to proceed with the organization.

The applications denied, all because the board found a lack of public necessity for the bank plus indications of an unprofitable operation, included:

Houston General Bank, Houston; Brazos Community Bank, Stafford; First State Bank of Stafford, Stafford; Texas City State Bank, Texas City; Capital Bank & Trust Co., Dallas; and South Capital Bank, Houston.

2-Out Clout Puts Braves In Win Spot

ATLANTA (AP) — Dusty Baker's bases-loaded, two-out single in the 12th inning gave the Atlanta Braves a 7-6 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies Saturday night.

The Braves had loaded the bases on hits by Paul Casanova and Marty Perez and a walk to Darrell Evans. After pinch hitter Ivan Murrell popped up for the second out, Baker delivered the winning hit.

The Phillies tied the score in the ninth inning on a two-run pinch home run by Tony Taylor. Mike Anderson, another pinch hitter, had singled to open the inning and scored on Taylor's shot.

The Braves had come from behind with a four-run seventh inning rally capped by Frank Tepedino's sacrifice fly.

Trailing 4-2, the Braves erupted off Phil's starter Jim Lonborg and reliever Gene Garber, 1-1. With one out, Perez, Evans and Hank Aaron stroked consecutive singles for one run and Baker followed with a double to tie the score.

The Phils broke out on top 3-0 in the opening inning, keyed by Mike Schmidt's 23rd home run of the year, a two-run shot off Atlanta starter Buzz Capra.

Philadelphia scored again in the third on Jay Johnstone's run-scoring single before Atlanta came back for a pair in the bottom half of the inning on run producing hits by Perez and Aaron.

Smith Awarded Plaque For Grid Performance

Howard Payne-bound Doug Smith was awarded a plaque by officials of the Big Spring chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes Saturday afternoon for outstanding performance as an athlete and for the example he set in sportsmanship.

Al Valdes, FCA chairman, presented the plaque to Smith in a brief ceremony at The Herald.

Also in attendance were Dr. Charles Warren and Ray Lawlis.

Smith was declared the outstanding back in the recent Greenbelt Bowl football game at Christless. He was a star in both football and track for Big Spring High School for a period of two years.

Expos Nudge Astros, 3-2

MONTREAL (AP) — Ken Forsch walked Ken Singleton with the bases loaded Saturday night to force in the winning run and give the Montreal Expos a 3-2 victory over the Houston Astros Saturday night.

Ron Woods singled to start the ninth and was sacrificed to second. Willie Davis was intentionally walked and, after Larry Blietner struck out, Mike Jorgensen walked to load the bases. Forsch, 4-5, then walked Singleton.

The Astros jumped to a 2-0 lead in the first inning. Roger Metzger singled and scored on a double to the left-field corner by Bob Watson, who went to third on the throw to the plate and scored when Expos' third baseman Bob Bailey booted Lee May's grounder.

Steve Renko clubbed the first home run in three seasons by an Expos' pitcher to make it 2-1 in the third. He tagged a pitch from Houston starter Larry Dierker over the left field wall.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Roy Gerela's 19-yard field goal after 7:33 of a sudden-death overtime carried the Pittsburgh Steelers to a 33-30 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles in a National Football League exhibition play Saturday night.

The Eagles won the overtime-period toss and had first crack, but after reaching the Pittsburgh 38, they punted instead of attempting a 55-yard field goal.

Allison's Arm Tops Sooners

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — Rodney Allison, a Texas Tech-bound quarterback from Odessa, threw two touchdown passes to Mike Renfrow of Fort Worth and ran for one score himself as the Texas high school all-stars defeated Oklahoma 20-13 in the annual Oil Bowl football game Saturday night.

The clinching TD pass from Allison went 19 yards to Renfrow, a Texas Christian-bound end whose father Ray was a pro player for the Cleveland Browns and a coach with the Dallas Cowboys. The pass, with 3:14 left in the third quarter, gave Texas an 18-7 lead. Allison then threw to Zac Henderson of Burkoumett for two points.

The victory lifted Texas to a 22-6-1 margin in the Oil Bowl series and kept intact its record of never having lost two successive years. Oklahoma won 37-27 in 1973.

Texas had to hold off a furious Oklahoma rally in the fourth quarter led by quarterback Kyle Phillips of Woodward. Phillips hit Mike Sheaffer of Putnam City for 15 yards and a touchdown with 7:32 left in the game. He then hit three key passes to put Oklahoma on the Texas two-yard line in the final minute. A motion penalty, a sack of Phillips to the 16 and an interception by Carl McCormack of Fort Worth on the last play of the game ended the rally.

In the first quarter, after roughing the kicker and interference penalties kept a Texas drive alive, Allison ran 19 yards for a touchdown.

With 17 seconds left in the first half Allison connected with Renfrow for 58 yards and a touchdown.

Oklahoma was held to four first downs and 16 yards rushing in the first half but got on the scoreboard first with 4:25 left in the first period. Quarterback Mike Moschella of Lawton flipped the ball on a reverse to wingback Wes Hankins of Bristow, who hurled a touchdown pass to Ron Jones of Okmulgee on a play that went 65 yards.

Sooner Five Win Faith 7

SHAWNEE, Okla. (AP) — The Oklahoma schoolboy all-stars raced to a 99-89 victory over their Texas counterparts in the Faith 7 Bowl Saturday night behind the scoring and ball-handling of Dean Blevins and Mark Tucker, a pair of cat-cup guards.

Blevins broke a 33-33 tie with a field goal as the Oklahoma team reeled off 14 straight points on its way to a 49-38 halftime lead.

Larry Harris and Charles McMillian, both of Dallas South Oak Cliff, each scored two baskets as the Texans tallied 10 consecutive points to pull within in one point, 59-58, with 4:32 left in the third quarter.

But Oklahoma bounced back behind the scoring of Tucker and Kyle Cudjoe of Oklahoma City Douglas and took a 72-62 lead at the end of the period.

It was down hill the rest of the way for the Oklahomaans, who took a 5-4 lead in the Faith 7 series.

Blevins, a highly regarded football prospect at the University of Oklahoma at quarterback, was named the game's most valuable player. The 6-foot Norman product scored 20 points and was the sparkplug of the Oklahoma attack.

Tucker, a 6-foot-3 guard from Sapulpa, led all scorers with 29 points. Cudjoe had 13 for the Oklahoma team and Wesley Clark of Altus had 10.

Harris and McMillian had 22 and 18 points, respectively, for Texas. George Walker of Houston Yates added 14 and Jerald Sheffield of Houston Spring Woods had 10.

Cowboys Lasso Oilers, 19-13

DALLAS (AP)—Quarterback Roger Staubach ran two yards for a touchdown with 5:19 elapsed in sudden death overtime Saturday night to give the Dallas Cowboys a 19-13 National Football League exhibition victory over the upstart Houston Oilers.

The winning touchdown in overtime was set up when Mark Washington recovered a fumble by Jeff Severson on the Houston 13-yard line.

Staubach rolled out for eight yards to set up the winning touchdown in which he faked into the line and wheeled around left end untouched. The Cowboys dramatically tied the game with 20 seconds left on the clock on a 23-yard touchdown pass on fourth down from quarterback Roger Staubach to rookie tight end Ron Howard of Seattle. Harry Kokulus kicked the extra point to tie the game 13-13.

The touchdown was set up by a bad center snap by Ron Mayo over the head of punter David Beverly. Mark Washington of the Cowboys picked up the wayward snap and returned it three yards to the Oiler 23. Staubach threw three incomplete passes before he nailed Howard deep in the end zone.

Houston went ahead 13-6 with 7:33 left in regulation play on a four-yard touchdown pass from James Foye to Ken Burrough. Finn Seemann missed the extra point to give Dallas life.

After a scoreless first half, Houston grabbed a 7-0 lead on a four-yard touchdown run by Ron Coleman.

The Cowboys struck for a 66-yard pass-and-run touchdown from Staubach to Golden Richards. However, Toni Fritsche's extra point attempt was blocked by Columbus Whittington and the Oilers led 7-6

Brewers Top Angels, 4-2

ANAHEIM (AP) — Jim Colborn checked California on six hits through eight innings while Ken Berry delivered four successive singles and drove home the winning run as the Milwaukee Brewers edged the Angels 4-2 Saturday night.

Colborn improved his record to 8-10 by outdueling Andy Hassler, 2-8, with ninth inning help from Tom Murphy.

Deron Johnson ripped a two-run homer for the Brewers in the sixth and Berry, a former Angel, singled home John Vukovich in the seventh inning to give Milwaukee a 3-0 cushion. In the bottom of the inning, Frank Robinson doubled and Joe Lahoud drilled his 11th homer of the season to get the Angels close.

The runs were the first earned runs allowed by Colborn at Anaheim Stadium in his career—spanning four games and 28 2-3 innings.

Doubles by George Scott and Charlie Moore gave the Brewers their final run in the eighth.

The victory was the sixth for the Brewers in eight meetings with the Angels this season and their fourth in five games at Anaheim Stadium.

Colts Win Out

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Baltimore quarterback Maty Demers passed for one touchdown and ran for another as the Colts rolled up a 37-3 victory over the Cleveland Browns in National Football League exhibition play Saturday night.

Steelers Best

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Roy Gerela's 19-yard field goal after 7:33 of a sudden-death overtime carried the Pittsburgh Steelers to a 33-30 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles in a National Football League exhibition play Saturday night.

The Eagles won the overtime-period toss and had first crack, but after reaching the Pittsburgh 38, they punted instead of attempting a 55-yard field goal.

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — Jack Rose, track coach at Long Beach State, was named executive director of the national Track and Field Hall of Fame Friday.
 The 45-year-old Rose is a 1952 graduate of the University of Michigan. In 1974, he was elected vice president of the United States Track and Field Coaches Association. He is a past president of the National (College Division) Track and Field Association.
 Twenty-six athletes, coaches and contributors—including former Olympic standouts Wilma Rudolph and Jesse Owens—are to be enshrined as charter members of the hall during ceremonies here Aug. 30.
ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Joe Hunter, a 1972 University of Rochester graduate, has been named to the Yellowjackets' football staff as defensive backfield coach.
 Hunter, who was to have coached the junior varsity squad, moved up to the varsity team when Lou Spiotti left for the head coaching job at Rochester Institute of Technology, school officials said.

BOSTON (AP) — Emerson Dickie, an outstanding end at Boston College until his graduation in 1956, has been named offensive line coach for the Northeastern University football team.
 Dickie, a resident of Watertown, is a former assistant coach at Boston College and Harvard. He coached Cathedral High School in Boston in 1972 and St. Patrick's High School in Watertown last year.
NEWTON, Mass. (AP) — The Boston Minutemen have moved into the semifinal playoffs in the North American Soccer League.
 The team, in its first year, gained the berth by edging the Baltimore Comets 1-0 Thursday night at Boston College's Alumni Stadium.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Legislation designed to provide additional money for the Hambletonian harness race was approved Friday by Gov. Daniel Walker.
 The bill calls for proceeds of the third race on each Saturday of harness racing throughout the state to be set aside for the Hambletonian, the annual harness classic held at the DuQuoin Fairgrounds.
 Illinois was threatened with the loss of the Hambletonian last year, when race organizers voted to move the event to Pennsylvania. The group later reconsidered and decided to move back to Illinois for the 1974 race which will be held Aug. 28.

Stockton Widens Margin In Open; Trevino Trails

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Front-running Dave Stockton clipped two more strokes off par with a 69 and expanded his lead to three strokes Saturday in the third round of the $200,000 Sammy Davis Jr.-Greater Hartford Open golf tournament.
 Lee Trevino, who won the PGA National Championship only last weekend, matched Stockton's two-under-par effort in the drizzling rain and vaulted into second place alone.
 "The way he's playing, I'll have to shoot 65 tomorrow to beat him," Trevino said.
 Stockton, who has led or shared the lead all the way, had a 54-hole total of 199, 14-under-par on the 6,598-yard Wethersfield Country Club course and the best three-round total of the year on the pro tour.
 The previous low was 200 by Jerry Heard in the Kemper Open.
 Trevino was at 202.
 Bob Wynn, a non-winning tour regular, trailed Stockton by two shots at the end of 36

Reds Scramble To Within 3 1/2 Games Of West Lead

CINCINNATI (AP) — Pitcher Jack Billingham equalled his entire season's hit output with a pair of singles, drove in a run and became the National League's first 15-game winner Saturday night when the Cincinnati Reds downed the New York Mets 6-2.
 The victory moved the Reds within 3 1/2 games of first place Los Angeles in the National League West.
 Cincinnati took the lead in the fourth after wasting five base runners in the first three innings.
 Cesar Geronimo led off the inning against Harry Parker, 4-11, with a single to center and moved to third on a perfect hit-and-run single by Concepcion. George Foster drove in Geronimo with a sacrifice fly.
 Pete Rose drove in the game-tying run with a single to center and broke the tie as he scored from first on Joe Morgan's double.
 Billingham drove in his first run of the year in the fifth with a single behind second. A second run scored on Ray Sadecki's wild pitch.
 Billingham, 15-8, facing the Mets for the first time this year, had to survive a shaky first two innings.
 The Mets jumped to a quick 2-0 lead with single runs in the first and second innings.
 John Milner's double drove in Harrelson for the first run. A double error by Dave Con-

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Everyone was present or accounted for — including blue-chip Texas prep star Tommy Woods — when the Arkansas Razorback football squad had its first head count Saturday night.

Role Of Rozelle Still Major Stumbling Spot

WASHINGTON (AP) — The role of Commissioner Pete Rozelle in dealing with player grievances remained the major stumbling block Saturday in the negotiations between the National Football League players and owners.
 There was a strong possibility that unless an agreement could be reached this weekend, the talks might be suspended until after Aug. 27 when the 26 player representatives meet in Washington with the union executive committee to discuss future action.
 For more than a month, the question of Rozelle's authority apparently has kept the negotiations in a deadlock.
 Much progress reportedly has been made toward reaching an agreement on the so-called freedom issues, which were the crux of the demands presented to the owners five months ago. The two sides still have not resolved all the freedom demands, such as elimination of the option and reserve clauses, but apparently have reached a tentative agreement on such issues as curfews and mustaches.

 On money matters, Ed Garvey, union executive director, said after a 9 1/2-hour meeting Friday night that there is very little difference between the two sides.
 However, Garvey's counterpart with management, John Thompson, said, "We're over $36 million apart, but I don't know, maybe they have something on their minds. They haven't given it to us yet and they haven't put it on the bargaining table."
 An indication the talks might be broken off came Friday night when Garvey said the members of the union executive committee, all active players, want to report to training camp, like their veteran teammates did last Wednesday.

 "Sometime next week, the executive committee will have to go to camp or they'll get out for not being ready," he said.
 The union's leaders asked its membership to suspend temporarily its strike of 42 days last Sunday and report to camp Wednesday as a sign of good will.
 Garvey said the player representatives would discuss at their Aug. 27 meeting whether to continue the strike by asking the players to leave camp or whether to play without a contract.
 "We would call them all out if the player reps decide to continue the strike," said Garvey. "But we wouldn't need the whole 1,200 members to come out. Two or three teams would be sufficient."

Smith's 2-Run Homer Moves Cardinals, 5-3

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Reggie Smith belted a two-run homer in the ninth inning, powering the St. Louis Cardinals to a 5-3 victory over the San Francisco Giants Saturday night.
 Ted Sizemore led off the ninth with a single off Giants' relief pitcher Randy Moffitt, 46. Smith followed by slamming Moffitt's first pitch into the bleachers in right-center for his 18th home run of the baseball season.
 The Giants got a run in the first on a single by Gary Thomasson but St. Louis tied the game in the fourth when Lou

Rain Blocks Game Plans; Yanks Score

NEW YORK (AP) — Doc Medich limited Chicago to three hits and Lou Piniella cracked a two-run single in the first inning to carry the New York Yankees to a 2-1 victory over the White Sox Saturday in a game halted after 6 1/2 innings because of rain.
 Medich, 14-11, struck out five and walked four.
 Sandy Alomar drew a walk off Bart Johnson, 4-2, to lead off the bottom of the first. Then, with Elliott Maddox at the plate, the game was delayed for 1 hour 14 minutes by a heavy rainstorm.
 When play resumed, Maddox doubled to the left field corner, Alomar stopping at third. After Bobby Murcer struck out, Ron Blomberg walked to load the bases, then Piniella laced his two-run single to center.
 Pat Kelly's leadoff double in the first inning was the only hit for the White Sox over the first five innings.
 Chicago got its run in the sixth when Jorge Orta singled through the middle, Tony Muser dropped a double down the right field line and Carlos May grounded out to Alomar, Orta scoring on the play.
 Heavy rain resumed during the sixth inning and play was stopped for good during the bottom of the seventh after a wait of 40 minutes.

Homer Lifts Padres Past Cubs By 4-3

CHICAGO (AP) — Dave Winfield ripped a two-run homer in the eighth inning Saturday, lifting the San Diego Padres to a 4-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs.
 Winfield's 16th homer came after a walk to Willie McCovey.
 Don Kessinger's seventh-inning single broke a tie and put the Cubs in front. Kessinger's hit followed singles by Oscar Zamora and Steve Swisher.
 The Padres got to Cub starter Bill Bonham for a 2-0 lead in the fourth. Johnny Grubb opened with a single and advanced to third on Winfield's one out single to left. Derrel Thomas walked to fill the bases before Fred Kendall's second single scored both Grubb and Winfield.

Perry Fires 4-Hitter; Tops Texas

CLEVELAND (AP) — Jim Perry fired a four-hitter and Charlie Spikes drove in a pair of runs to lead the Cleveland Indians to a 4-0 victory over the Texas Rangers Saturday. Perry, 13-8, did not allow a runner to get past second base. John Lowenstein reached second in the third inning when Cesar Tovar dropped his fly ball. He moved to third on a fielder's choice and scored on Spikes' single to give the Indians a 1-0 lead. In the fifth, Frank Duffy led off with a single. Lowenstein sacrificed Duffy to second and was safe when Rangers pitcher Steve Hargan, 9-8, bobbled the bunt. Duffy scored on Jack Brohamer's single and Lowenstein, who moved to third on the hit, came home on Rusty Torres' sacrifice fly. The Indians got their final run in the eighth when Torres doubled, took third on a fly ball and scored on a sacrifice fly by Spikes.

FACES FOURTH AND LONG Smith Without Strong Bench

DALLAS (AP) — Dave Smith enters the 1974 Southern Methodist football season facing fourth and long. He's lost so many quality players who were supposed to contribute to the already thin Mustang squad this fall that Smith jokes, "I hope it doesn't get to where I have to play." Of course, Smith, the Mustang head coach who was stripped of a long term contract and athletic directorship after a dollars-for-tackles program backfired, isn't overwhelmed with a blanket of security. "I don't have the feeling that I'm on trial but our athletic department people understand our need for time," Smith says. "I feel a strong confidence in me and my ability."

Smith again jokes, "With as long a contract as I have... I've got plenty of time." Smith, in short order during August, has lost sophomore fullback Paul Sturdivant to Oklahoma State; lost cornerback Robert Gibson of Corpus Christi, a two-year letterman, who decided not to play his senior year; noseguard Randy Savage, who injured a knee working on the docks; and Alabama transfer linebacker Royce Collins, who separated a shoulder in a church league softball game. Despite the adversity, Smith says, "I'm very optimistic. We have a small squad but a small squad with unity can be a strength. We have confidence. It is real — not worked on." Heading the Mustang offense will be gifted halfback Wayne Morris, who was the leading freshman rusher in the nation. Now a junior, Morris will be trying to overcome a knee injury which hampered him in 1973. David Bostick, a sophomore fullback, was the No. 3 rusher on the team as a freshman last year and at 6-foot-2 and 220-pounds has the tools to be excellent. Oscar Roan is an All-America candidate at tight end, if he shakes an off-season injury and split ends Freeman Johns and Kenny Harrison are all a coach could ask for. Junior offensive tackle Henry Sheppard, who was second team All-Southwest Conference as a sophomore, could be one of the tops in the league. The quarterback position is muddled with sophomores Larry Crawford and Mike Periera vying with Ricky Wesson, Chuck Benefield, and Don Jarra. It will be a wide open fight for the man-under spot in Smith's Wishbone-T offense. Defensively, Smith hopes for a big year from senior defensive tackle Louie Kelcher, who spent most of the 1973 hobbled by injuries. The possibility exists that Kelcher will be moved to noseguard if Savage doesn't recover. However, if freshman Jimmy Green of Waco matures quickly Kelcher could remain at tackle. "Last year we started seven freshmen and there will be an excellent opportunity again for freshmen," Smith said. "Coaches used to say you could count on losing a game for every sophomore you started. Coaches don't say that much anymore." The Mustangs have a non-conference schedule which includes North Texas State, Virginia Tech, Oregon State, and Ohio State — of all people. "The schedule could just wear you down even if we don't get anyone hurt," Smith says. "There's now another school in NCAA Division One with as few people on the squad as we have. We have 98 on scholarship. Most people have between 150-160."

Swimmer Gains National Fame In Performance

TORONTO (AP) — "Someone tried to buy my bathing suit. It's just unbelievable," said Cindy Nicholas, an instant celebrity after her record 15 1/4-hour swim across Lake Ontario. Callers pledging gifts for the 16-year-old Canadian jammed the phones of two Toronto radio stations Saturday. Among the offerings were more than $3,000 in cash, a new car, an Arabian horse, a trip around the world, and two tickets to the Canadian football league championship game. Some callers pledged 150 gallons of ice cream. They had heard news reports that she shouted at one point during her icy swim Friday: "I want spumoni ice cream when this is over." Stepping onto the rocky shore at Toronto, Miss Nicholas said: "I think I'm going to be sick." Then she collapsed. But a doctor who examined her later said: "Her condition was remarkable." She cut three hours off the previous record set in 1957 by Jim Woods of Orlando, Fla. Miss Nicholas was the sixth person to complete the swim from Youngstown, N.Y., to Toronto.

Pirates Bounce Dodgers By 4-3

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Al Oliver's eighth inning single drove home Richie Hebner with the winning run Saturday as the Pittsburgh Pirates stung slumping Los Angeles 4-3. It was the fifth consecutive loss for the Dodgers, leaders of the National League's West Division. Hebner opened the eighth with his double against loser Andy Messersmith and Oliver drilled the single that capped Pittsburgh's comeback. The Pirates had tied the game with two runs in the sixth inning against Messersmith. Messersmith walked Hebner in the sixth and, after getting Oliver on a fly ball, he walked Willie Stargell. Richie Zisk followed with an RBI single and Manny Sanguillen doubled to score Stargell. The Dodgers had opened the scoring in the second when Tom Paciorek singled and rode home on Steve Yeager's double. They added two more in the

Giants Defense Tops Jets 21-13

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Rookie running back Doug Kotar of the New York Giants scored two touchdowns and the Giants' defense intercepted three passes Saturday on the way to a 21-13 National Football League exhibition victory over the New York Jets. Jets' veteran quarterback Al Woodall, who was sacked five times in the first period by the charging Giants' line was replaced in the second half by Joe Jones. Joe Namath recently returned from player's strike, did not accompany the team to New Haven. The Jets only successful drive covered 37 yards in eight plays. Rookie Bob Burns scored on a one-yard dive.

Tigers Hold On To Stop A's 4-3

OAKLAND (AP) — Dick Sharon belted a two-run homer in the second inning and the Detroit Tigers held on to defeat the Oakland A's 4-3 Saturday. The Tigers picked up two runs in the first inning on singles by Ron Leflore, Al Kaline, Ben Oglivie and an error by Oakland starter Glenn Abbott. Detroit knocked Abbott out in the second inning when Tom Verzyer opened with a walk and scored on Sharon's second home run of the baseball season. That gave the Tigers a 4-0 edge but Oakland cut it in half in the fourth when Reggie Jackson led off with a walk and scored on Gene Tenace's 13th homer. In the fifth, Bill North singled, stole second and raced home on Bert Campaneris' single, making it 4-3. John Hiller, ace of the Tigers' bullpen, relieved following Campaneris' hit and shut the A's out the rest of the way.

WANTED 20 HOMES THAT NEED PAINTING

CENTRAL TEXAS — 20 Homeowners in this area will be given the opportunity to have the United States Steel finish on their homes. It will be of special interest to homeowners who are fed up with costly repainting, for new United State Steel is ideally suited for the Texas climate as it will not mildew, peel, crack, fade or chalk, for the life of the building.

UNITED STATES STEEL finish has been developed after years of extensive research and testing. UNITED STATES STEEL carries a written 30-year guarantee (labor and materials)—can be applied over any type of home; wood frame, stucco, asbestos or brick. This new U.S. Steel and Vinyl finish has excellent insulating properties, which will make the home warmer in cold, damp weather.

U.S. STEEL VYNASOL paneling has been advertised nationally in LOOK and LIFE Magazines. Homeowners who act now will receive special decorative work at no additional cost. Please call collect 915-949-3110 and ask for Mr. Ron Fox. An appointment will be made to see your house with no obligation. Please act once. Out of town calls welcome.

OWN YOUR OWN BUSINESS

A Remembered Name

The name of Dora Roberts is familiar in Big Spring, and deservedly so, for the Foundation she established has resulted in untold good.

When the board of trustees for the Foundation recently divided $500,000 — an unexpectedly large yield because of the sudden increase in oil prices — it represented an annual distribution of aid that dates back to 1957. Prior to that, a million dollars had been given to two Methodist colleges as the first gifts to come from the Foundation. In all, some three and three-quarter million dollars has been given away. More than two million of that have gone to local institutions and organizations.

Our splendid rehabilitation center today would not even be a dream had it not been for the tremendous help provided by the Foundation, which in turn stimulated generous and sacrificial gifts from other quarters. The story for the YMCA is somewhat the same and to some degree the Salvation Army post. It was substantial gifts to the college at critical moments which virtually changed the course of Howard College and made it a vigorous, deeply rooted institution.

It was the gift of the Dora Roberts home, that gave the Howard County Library its first great impetus. The list could go on and on.

In the latest division, the Foundation once more is beckoning to the community to follow. Among the bequests was an item of $60,000 to Howard College as a nest egg for a coliseum type facility. Will this faith be matched elsewhere?

Who Is Hardest

One thing about inflation is that it tends to hit the low income segment of society hardest.

Such is the case with the Agriculture Department's figures on the cost of food hikes for different budgets during June. The Agriculture Department compares food costs on three different plans including low-cost, moderate and liberal menus.

The low-cost plan calls for more beans, grain products and potatoes while the moderate and liberal menus allow for larger quantities of higher-cost items such as meat, fish, vegetables and

Mrs. Roberts has been gone now for nearly a quarter of a century, but she is better known than ever for a portion of her wealth goes on doing good. Her vision was such a tremendous example of how to live on and on with good deeds, year after year, generation after generation, that one wonders why others do not emulate it.

fresh fruit. In June, USDA reports, the low-cost food plan for a family of four was $44.10 per week compared with $43.90 in May. The moderate food plan was $55.10 a week compared to $55 in May and the liberal plan likewise was up 10 cents in June to $66.70.

It's a bitter-sweet pill low-income shoppers must face. If they attempt to follow the USDA's cheaper food plan their margin of increase is getting higher than the plans having the steaks.

Charge!

Around The Rim
Walt Finley

Do you know who's responsible for our being a nation heavily in debt with a population heavily in debt?

Roosevelt, of course. No, not Franklin D. dummy — Theodore. He was the one who invented the national slogan: "Charge!"

SOME OF THE THINGS done in the name of God frighten me. I'm sure many of the things I do frighten others, including God. In fact, I'd like to have a peek at my page in the Heavenly Ledger — or should I say "fraction of a page"?

The latest maneuver is by a group called Religion in American Life which has launched an advertising campaign for God's sake.

This is a group composed of members of the advertising industry and 40 different national religious groups, who feel we have lost "the deep abiding faith" essential to personal and national integrity.

THE RECURRING SLOGAN, according to the Associated Press, will be "The community of Mar. . . God's club. Be an active member."

It sounds as if it were written by Babbitt. More than $27 million in broadcasting and advertising space was contributed recently, the AP said, and the chairman said no endeavor could be "any more worthwhile" at this time.

I don't know . . . that $27 million distributed wisely could do wonders. That's the rub of course . . . who knows how to distribute money sensibly?

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

My boss told me the other day that he was an agnostic. What does that really mean, and how is it different from being an atheist?

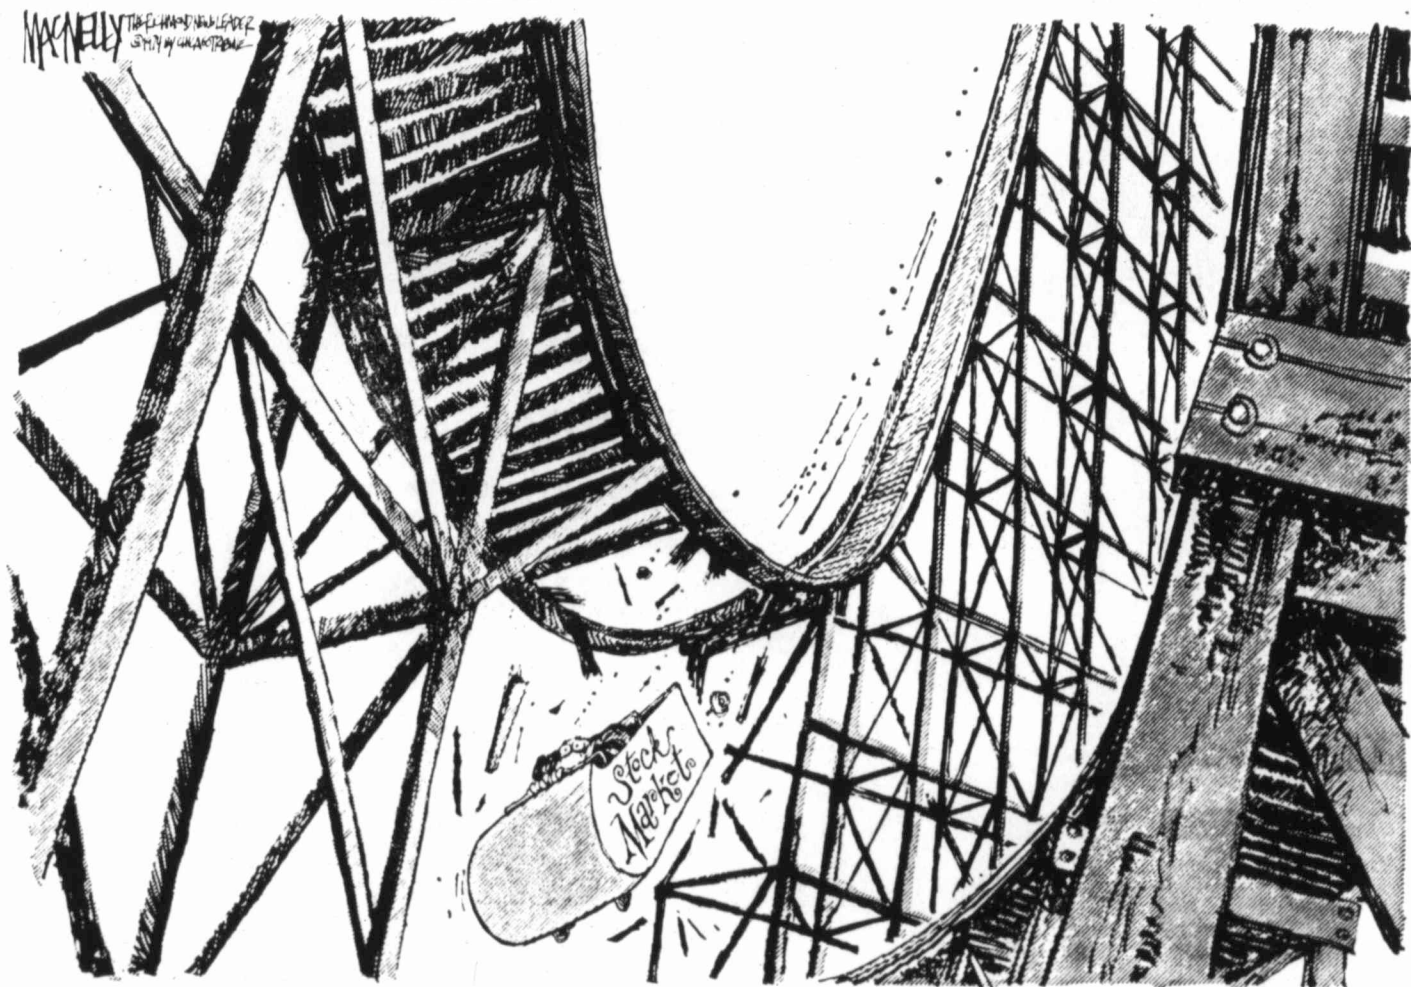

To define an agnostic, let me use a statement of Bertrand Russell. He was a freethinker, who often was branded as "an enemy of religion and morality."

He said: "An agnostic, like a Christian, holds that we can know whether or not there is a God. The Christian holds that we can know there is a God; the atheist that we can know there is not."

On the other hand, "The agnostic suspends judgment saying that there are not sufficient grounds either for affirmation or denial."

The problems with this position is that Jesus said, "He that is not with me is against me." (Matthew 12:30.) The undecided therefore must face the fact that neutrality is impossible. There is the kingdom of light and the kingdom of darkness, and they are in intense energetic antagonism to one another.

The agnostic claims that he is making inquiry into spiritual things in objective honesty. Often, however, pride, indifference and reluctance creep in to upset the mental process. Tell your boss the Bible says reason will not lead to personal salvation. Only being drawn, and enlightened by God's Holy Spirit will. (1 Corinthians 2:14, 15.)

For Posterity

William F. Buckley Jr.

(Mr. Ryskind, is substituting for Mr. Buckley, whose columns will resume with the Tuesday release — Ed.)

Many of those whose names occasionally appear in the papers, credited with some real (or even fancied) contributions to the arts or sciences, have been honored by being asked to contribute their memorabilia to academic archives. And that appeal to human vanity has seldom failed. (Especially when you got a tax allowance for it.)

POLITICOS AND actors are born exhibitionists, at their best before an audience; whereas writers are more apt to be ill at ease in public, preferring to let their work speak for them. Yet, though they would deny it, the latter, at heart are also "hams."

For I doubt there ever was a writer but felt his work would be honored by posterity. Even Rome's modest Horace could boast that in his odes he had built an enduring monument against time; and though Latin is no longer taught in many colleges, that boast, by and large, still holds up. But there are few Horaces.

CONTRARIWISE, I RECALL a Max Beerbohm character whose name, if memory serves, was Eric Soames. This worthy was certain history would give him the fame his contemporaries denied him. He was granted a glimpse into the future and there he found his name — in a footnote, as someone mentioned in passing by Max Beerbohm. And probably most of us will have to settle for that.

Some years ago, the Theatre Department of the University of Wisconsin — finding my name listed as scenarist on a film the staff liked — invited me to send them my memorabilia — and I felt so honored that when the college's lawyer wanted to estimate what sort of tax reduction I might claim, I refused any. And so, once a year of so, I send them some ancient manuscripts, some letters from various celebrities, the year's collections of columns, etc.

NOT THAT I EVER confused myself with Horace, but I saw a chance to do better than Soames. My hopes for recognition are based on a play or two, four or five films, half-a-dozen verses and a few of these anthologies. (Nothing sensational, I admit, but a fellow can dream, can't he?)

But for over a year now I've been collecting the letters from John Q. Public on Watergate and its aftermath. There are too many to try to keep all, but I make a representative culling each week to send to the University. And I am certain this will prove far more interesting to the historian of, say, the year 2,000 than any personal memorabilia. So move over, Soames, make way for another footnote.

EN MASSE, THESE NOTES showed how deep was the rift in our nation, as did nothing else. I stress again that these letters were all unsolicited, and showed a gut reaction. Indeed, the pens seemed not dipped in ink, but in the acids of the viscera. And here's what I make of them:

There is no doubt the ex-President's popularity was down woefully, but, by the same token, the 37 per cent (Gallup's figure) who defended him had hardened their line, and, on both sides, emotion had displaced reason.

There were letters from gold star mothers praising Mr. Nixon as our greatest President; and there were stupefying hymns of hate — many likewise from women — that equated him with Hitler.

SENATOR ERVIN was, I thought, demagogic when he said Watergate was a greater blow to us than the Civil War; but the aftermath divided us perhaps even more than that bloody struggle.

Car Makers Have Second Thoughts

NEW YORK (AP) — When gasoline was tight last winter, Americans began shopping for smaller cars and big-car makers in Detroit announced a variety of plans to produce new cars to meet the demand.

But gasoline is easier to find now. And while consumers are apparently looking again at larger cars, Detroit apparently is looking again at those smaller cars.

General Motors Corp. was reported this past week to be reconsidering secret plans for a new line of cars little smaller than existing compacts.

GM, the world's biggest manufacturer, refused to comment on that report or another that it might also be reviewing plans for a new small Chevrolet.

Chrysler Corp., Detroit's third-ranking auto producer, has already said it's holding off on plans for a new domestic subcompact in the 1977 model year.

All this is linked by analysts primarily to an apparent easing of demand for smaller cars. Such cars accounted for 35 per cent of all new car sales in fuel-starved January, up from 41 per cent a year earlier. But by July, the figure was almost back to normal at 46 per cent.

Detroit isn't scrapping all those small car plans, however. GM is still expected to come out in 1975 with a new small model in each of its auto divisions — Chevrolet, Buick, Oldsmobile, Pontiac and even Cadillac. Ford is on schedule for two

The Week's Business

- GM reported reconsidering secret plans for a new line of cars
- Chevrolet has second thoughts on smaller unit, Chrysler may delay
- Peak of 55 per cent of market for compacts seems to subside
- Arabs make heavy withdrawals in Britain, re-invest in U.S.
- Shift in money market may be linked to confidence in Ford

new compacts and American Motors for one.

General Motors found itself the target of one of the earliest inflation warnings to come out of the new administration of President Gerald R. Ford.

Ford said this past week he was "disappointed" that GM planned to hike its 1975 model prices about 10 per cent. He said he hoped the announcement by GM wouldn't "be viewed as a signal by other auto companies or other industries."

The General Motors increase would raise car prices about $500 in the 1975 model year. But its announcement trailed Ford Motor Co.'s statement in July that it would boost prices an average of $418.

Chrysler is also expected to announce sizable hikes.

Bankers in London were saying at week's end that Middle East oil nations had made big withdrawals of their money from Britain to re-invest in it the United States.

The British bankers said the reasons given them included concern about the British economic outlook and a new confidence in the dollar under President Ford. The withdrawals were described as the first significant shift of money from London to New York since oil nations began their 400 per cent price increases last fall.

"Nobody knows exactly how much or why," said one banker, "but it's big money."

He's Resting Too Long

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband has retired and I think my trouble is him. I am not complaining to get pity because he has been a good husband. But when he retired he said, "I am going to rest a few days and then I am going to work on our place." That was in 1968. He still is resting.

I have a shadow wherever I go. I know I should be glad that I still have him but my nerves are so bad; he doesn't think for himself.

His doctor told him to get off his back and keep busy and try to get away from his smoking habit—his lungs are bad and he has had three slight strokes, but came out pretty luckily.

But I am a nervous wreck and would like a little time of my own. My blood pressure is high.—Y.F.

You aren't alone—which may be the wrong wording, because you'd like to be alone some of the time. What I mean is that yours is not an uncommon problem, and I've even known of sympathy cards being sent to the wives of retiring husbands.

Six years is a long "rest" and he's undoubtedly fixed in the habit. It may take some ingenuity on your part to get him off his duff, but it will be worth it both to you and to him—"just sitting" is the road to deterioration, and I wish he realized it. His habit will just grow stronger unless you start refusing to take him shopping with you. Maybe you can sign up for volunteer work a few days a week, in a hospital or in the many groups that use volunteers.

Visit friends. I don't think it would be a sin to have a friend send a note inviting you for "an afternoon with the girls," even if it really meant only you and your friend. Hubby would have to realize that men aren't invited.

Join some women's groups at the church. Join clubs. (Even let yourself get "trapped" into committees.) Get yourself invited for a visit with relatives in some other city—if he has to shift for himself for a few days, he'll discover that he can.

This thought seems to have escaped him. And since he won't "think for himself," give him some choices that he has to settle. Ask him what color he's going to paint the porch and firmly refuse to make the decision yourself. Keep asking him what he has decided. Ask him which ought to come first, cleaning out the garage or the attic. Ask him which kind of shrubs to plant in the yard. Maybe even threaten to take down the screen door and go out in the yard and start putting on new screening. Ask him what the neighbors will say if they see you doing it. Then send (not take) him down to the hardware store for some new screen.

Use all your ingenuity. You've got to get him off dead center, and it will take, I'm afraid, some assiduous doing for at least a little while.

Test Of Detente

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — The proposed debate on detente, postponed by the spectacular events here at home, the advocates with a current proof of its benefits. The outcome of the Greek-Turkish-Cyprus crisis is dark and unpredictable. Without searching for silver linings, one aspect is evidence of the cooling influence of the Nixon-Kissinger policy of relaxation of tension with Moscow.

Before the series of agreements with the Soviet Union and the prospect of further relaxation, it takes little imagination to see what would be part of the present Greek-Turkish showdown.

Day after day the headlines would have reported mobilization of Russian troops on the Turkish border. Or, perhaps, the movement of naval vessels on the Bulgarian border off Cyprus. In short: confrontation which was a way of life in the era of the cold war.

The bloody mess on Cyprus in the past would have been the perfect opportunity for Moscow to square off against the United States and NATO.

If and when the detente debate occurs, confrontation will not be the avowed goal of those in opposition. They talk about the superiority in weapons of the Soviet Union and how American negotiators allowed this to occur.

One of the shabbiest deceptions was the planted story of the "Secret" agreement to permit the Soviets an additional 70 missiles. Quickly proved false, this nevertheless was used by the opposition with Sen. Henry M. (Scoop) Jackson in the lead.

If we are to revert to confrontation with a crisis every other week, an important difference should be noted. In the good old days, as seen by the big weapons lobby, it was possible to boost defense budgets without too much difficulty.

Today, with President Ford's plea for economy, Congress is cutting defense costs. Sen. John L. McClellan, chairman of the appropriations committee, has just put through a $5 billion cut in the defense budget.

This should be a lesson to the apostles of confrontation, who go all out to prove that each request for new and more powerful weapons such as the Trident submarine with a longer-range missile — is essential if we are to stand up to the other superpower.

The weapons lobby has an important new recruit. Admiral Elmo Zumwalt could hardly wait to get out of his suit as Chief of Naval Operations before he, like Oliver Twist, started to cry more, more.

Exceptionally intelligent, outside the cookie-cutter pattern of the joint chiefs, he will beat a powerful drum in the weapons band.

IF ALL OF AMERICA'S land-based missiles were destroyed in a Soviet first strike — one of the dire prophecies of the weapons lobby — submarine-based missiles and the bomber force could still wipe out half the Soviet population and virtually all their cities.

In light of the recent Moscow summit's failure to reach any agreement on offensive weapons, this has a catch. The Soviets are now independently targeted warheads — in an intensive drive to put multiple MIRVs — on their giant missiles and thereby come even with the United States. We, at the same time, are MIRVing as fast as possible. This is enough to chill the easy acceptance of a return to confrontation.

Let's say that in the near future the United States has 15,000 missiles, a conservative guess. A small portion could be employed without upsetting the larger plan. That is the temptation and it is enhanced by Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger's proposed retargeting for a limited nuclear war.

The Greek-Turkish blowup and threat of the collapse of NATO's Eastern flank is the new President's first test on the international front. But if it can mean cooperation with Moscow, rather than confrontation over a grave danger to world peace, it should prove to him the value of detente.

Extra Weight, No Recompense

LONDON (AP) — Harold Lever, Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster in Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Socialist cabinet, is doing the job for nothing.

Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster is a catch-all office whose holder can be used in any sector of government where extra weight is needed. Lever was appointed as economic adviser to Wilson.

But there is a statutory limit of 19 to the number of cabinet ministers, who are paid 13,000 pounds, around $30,000 — a year. And there were already 19.

Wilson was so keen to have Lever in his cabinet, however, that Lever volunteered to do the job with no ministerial salary. All he'll get will be the 4,500 pounds — $10,350 — a year paid to ordinary members of Parliament.

Lever won't starve. He is a wealthy man in his own right and is married to a Lebanese heiress.

A Devotion For Today . .

"Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein." (Mark 10:15)

PRAYER: Father, remove from us the fear of ridicule in our desire to speak and live the truth. Grant us the fearlessness and courage we must have in order to do Your will. We ask it in Jesus name. Amen.

BARN DANCE!

By Jo Bright

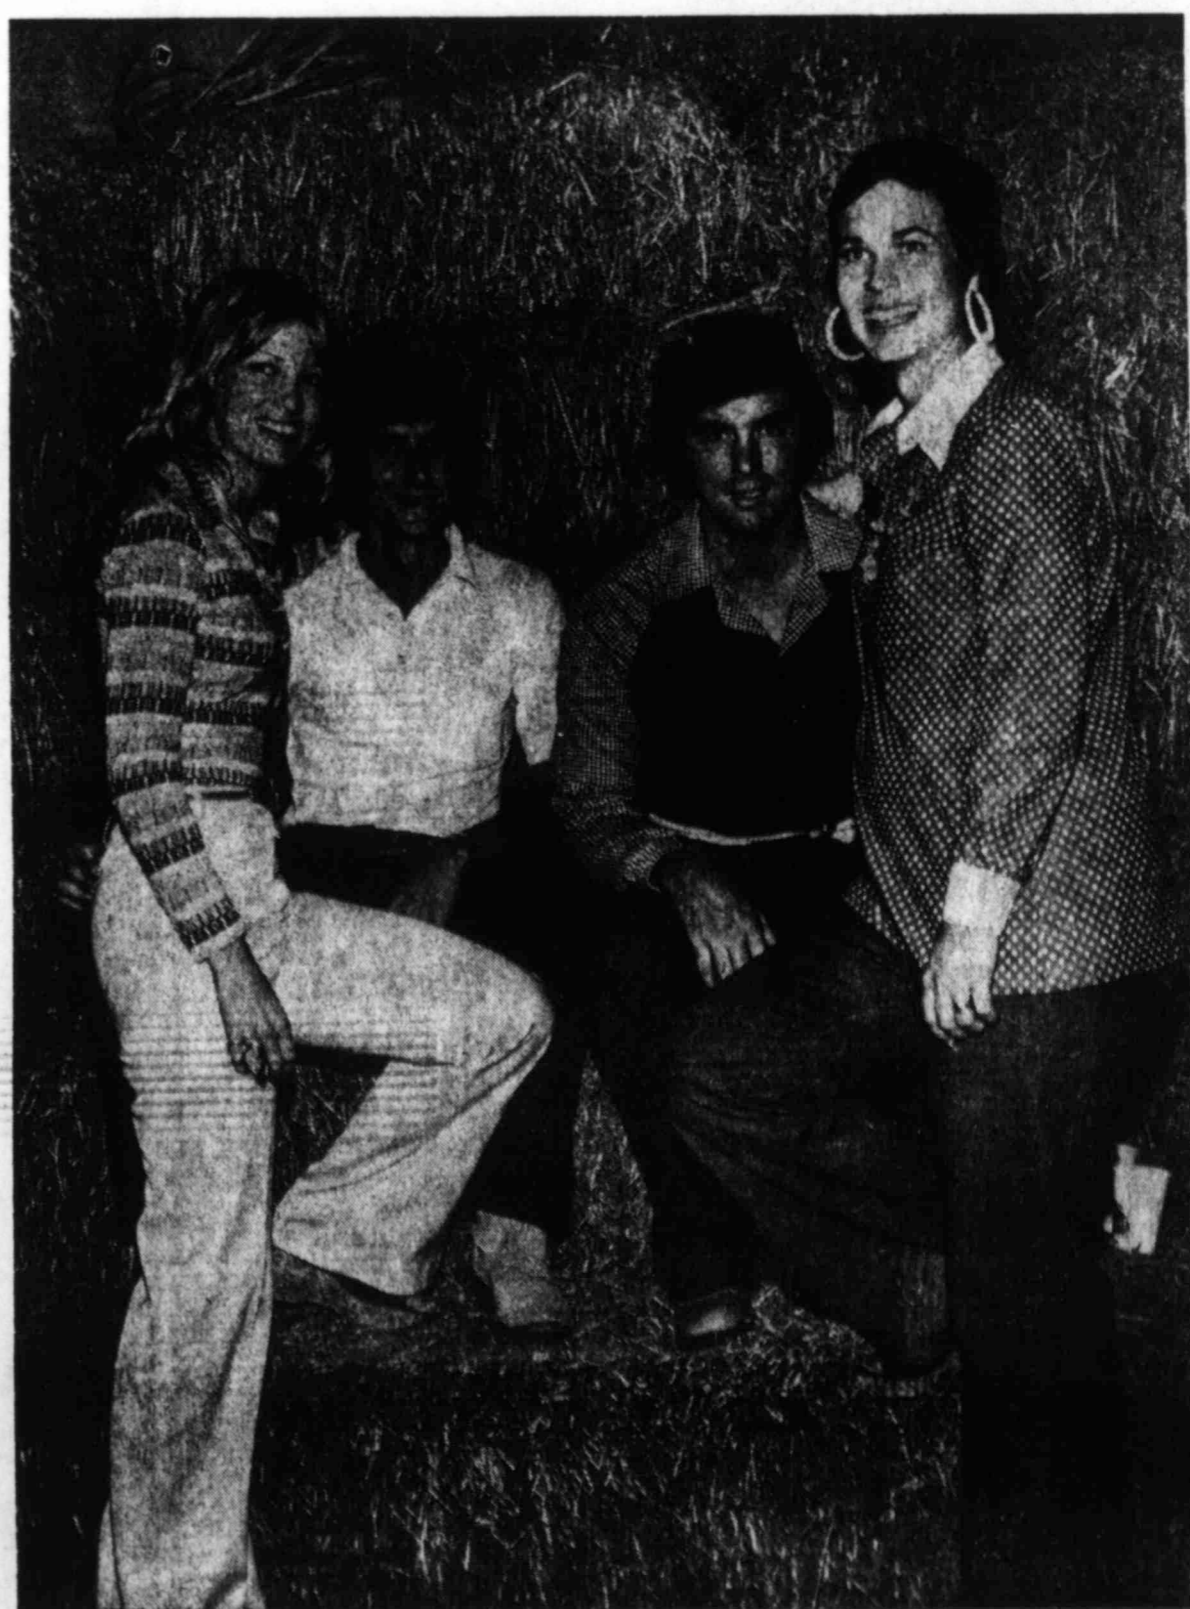

The guests didn't arrive in buckboards — and not a single lady wore a crinoline skirt — but last week's barn dance at the Edwards Ranch held about as much excitement as a pseudo cowboy can stand on Saturday night.

Along with a hint of hay, there was the sassy shine of well-heeled boots as members of the Cotillion and Wednesday Night dance clubs joined their guests for an old-fashioned shindig in the Ballinger Barn.

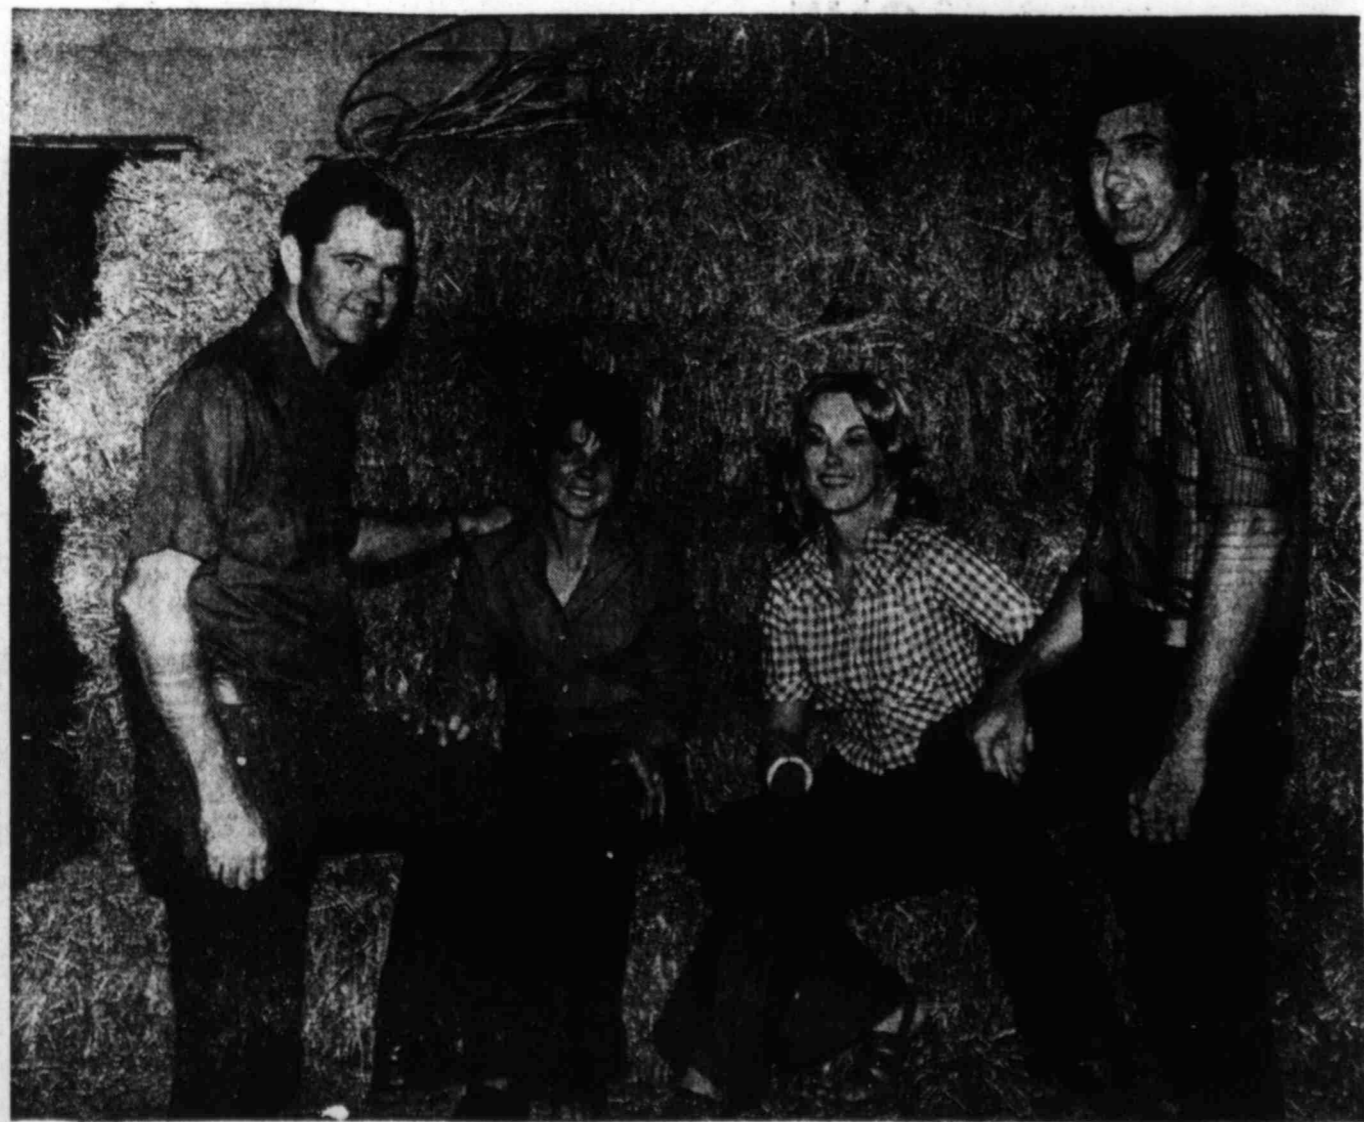

The rompin' and stompin' was done to the music of the Mark Scott Band, and it was the wee hours before the good ole boys decided it was time to round up mama and head for home.

The cochairmen for the host group were Mrs. and Mrs. Connie Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Don Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Iden and Mr. and Mrs. M.A. Snell. Miss Dean Marries Roger Van Grisham

The parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Dean, 2223 Lynn, and Mr. and Mrs. Tolbert Grisham, 504 E. 23rd.

Nuptial music was performed by Mrs. Bill McKee, pianist; Mrs. W.W. Grimes, organist; and Joe Whitten, vocalist.

Carrying a cascade bouquet of camellias, lily of the valley and yellow roses tied with picot streamers, the bride was attired in a formal wedding gown of white silk organza over taffeta adorned with old-fashioned cotton lace. The lace encircled the high neckline and framed the tucked organza yoke. The long sleeves were tucked organza, cuffed with lace, and matching lace was used to trim her tiered, chapel-length veil of illusion.

Miss Diana Brannon of Dallas, maid of honor, was attired in a formal-length gown of yellow organza over taffeta, the skirt accented with embroidered daisies. She carried a crystal globe, centered with a votive candle, and a cascade of yellow and white carnations tied with matching streamers.

The best man was Kent Fish, ushers were Joe Dean, Lubbock, brother of the bride; Bob Bryant, Sudan; Edward Nixon, Colorado City; Barry Grace and Gene Gill.

senior at the University of Texas at Arlington with a major in fine arts. He is a graduate of Texas Tech with a BA degree in psychology and will attend Southwestern Theological Seminary in Fort Worth.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was covered with a white, floor length organza cloth centered with a silver candelabrum holding yellow tapers. Silver and crystal appointments were used. Serving were Mrs. Joe Smoot, Mrs. Clem Jones,

Mrs. Leon Taylor, Mrs. Merrill Creighton, Mrs. Sherman Smith and Mrs. Sidney Clark.

Guests from out of town included Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Compton, Winters, grandparents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Buford Weems and Mrs. Nancy Grisham, all of Abilene, and Mr. and Mrs. W.O. Carley, Blackwell, all grandparents of the bridegroom.

R THE PRESCRIPTION WAS READY AND WAITING

There are prescription medicines that are prepared by us way in advance of receiving a call for them. This is particularly true of some multi-ingredient prescriptions that are written by dermatologists. Because a dermatologist will prescribe the same basic medication prescription quite often, we will compound a sufficient supply to last for a normal period of time.

Frequently, these prescriptions take a long time to make and in this way our customer will not have to wait for it to be made up from scratch. We try to work closely with all physicians to bring you a professional pharmacy service.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

New Twist On Baked Beans

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Food Editor

Hunting for interesting recipes is always fun. We found one for baked beans in "Good Cooking with Herbs and Spices" by Frank Dorn and Eleanor Langdon, published in 1958 by Harvey House, and here is our adaptation of it.

BAKED BEANS
2 lbs. dried navy (pea) beans, picked over and rinsed
3 qts. water
3 lg. green peppers, coarsely chopped
1 lg. onion, finely chopped

1 cup dark corn syrup
1 cup chili sauce
1/2 cup packed dark brown sugar
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. dry mustard
1/2 tsp. pepper
1/2 tsp. ginger
1/2 lb. salt pork, sliced
Into a 7-or 8-qt. sauce pot turn beans and water; cover and soak overnight. Rapidly bring covered and undrained beans to a boil; skim off foam; simmer, covered, for 1 hour or just until tender. Stir in remaining ingredients except salt pork. Turn bean mixture into a roasting pan about 17 by 11 by 2 inches; arrange salt pork on top. Bake uncovered in a pre-heated 300-degree oven 1 1/2 to 2 hours or until beans are thoroughly tender and of desired consistency. After first hour of cooking, stir occasionally; if beans seem dry, stir in a little water. Makes 3 quarts — 8 to 12 servings.

Importance Of Credit Noted By Speaker

Mrs. Bill Draper gave the program, "You and the Credit Bureau," to Big Spring Credit Women Thursday at a luncheon meeting in the Settles Hotel. She was introduced by Mrs. C. W. Mahoney.

"A credit woman should obtain from the customer a complete application and periodically supply information to the credit bureau so that their files can be kept up to date," said Mrs. Draper. "A person in the credit business should know how to ask for the right report and be able to take it over the telephone. When taking information, know when you have enough to tell whether or not to open an account. Without the report from the bureau a credit person is operating in the dark. Anyone in the credit business needs to have some knowledge of the federal, state and local laws affecting the bureau."

"The credit bureau should be the most valuable tool that a person can have and if not, it can become one, and the credit bureau working in harmony can mean probable credit business and make you an efficient, successful and respectful credit granter in the eyes of your employer."

Mrs. J. B. Apple, president, announced that the regional credit meeting will be at Odessa in September. The nominating committee was elected, consisting of Mrs. Loyd Wooten, Mrs. Noel Hull and Mrs. Mahoney.

Guests were Mrs. Bert Bond and Mrs. Ann Vincent. The next meeting will be Sept. 5 at noon in the Settles Hotel.

Coffee Grounds Help A Garden

If you have a garden, don't throw away coffee grounds. They have valuable humus and will benefit plants that like acid soil. Among these are rhododendron, azaleas and laurel. The grounds are an inexpensive substitute for more costly mulches. The color is good, they spread evenly, have a fine texture for even spreading and are heavy enough so they will not blow away.

Here's what you get — approximately — from coffee grounds: 2 per cent nitrogen, 4 per cent phosphoric acid and 5 per cent potassium. The grounds rot quickly. They help plants with an iron deficiency.

Wild Pets

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: An anthropologist wrote to you recently, advocating the rearing of chimpanzees instead of children. He stated that one can always sell a mature, healthy chimp to a zoo when it became hard to handle (and at twice what he paid for it), and facetiously went on to ask, what zoo would take a human? Herein lies a serious misconception.

The zoos DO NOT want these former pets! Lately, since exotic pets have become fashionable, zoos around the country have been swamped with "off-ers" to take chimps, ocelots, cheetahs, birds, fowl, lizards, etc. off the hands of those who had no idea what they were getting into when they purchased the young creatures.

have better sources of supply—their own breeding programs, for example. So the buyer of such a pet must acknowledge the fact that he'll have to keep it for its lifetime. It's either that, or return it to a wild state in which it can no longer survive, try to find a shelter that'll accept it, or the easy way out—have it destroyed.

Abby, please appeal to self-styled animal lovers, or status seekers, to resist buying a wild animal unless they are prepared to learn how to raise it and give it a good life. Otherwise, the animal suffers, the environment, then, too, does. The owner, they shouldn't buy it and then expect the zoo to bail them out after the novelty has worn off. That's not what zoos are for. Instead, suggest they write to the Fund For Animals, 140 W. 57th St., New York, N.Y. 10019, and ask for free information on exotic pets. GEORGE TAYLOR

DEAR GEORGE: Thanks for speaking for our furred and feathered friends who can't speak for themselves.

DEAR ABBY: If you were elected President of the United States, what is the first thing you'd do?
N.Y.FAN

the orchestra. She argued that she had reservations, but to no avail. They were seated in another room, away from the orchestra and dance floor.

DEAR FAN: The same as Clare Boothe Luce. I'd ask for a recount!

who is nearly 80, told my brother that his will leaves me a silver dollar, and everything else is divided between my brother and my father's sisters. I want to know if there is any way I can break that will because of the following facts, which are absolutely true:

I am physically handicapped and have been since birth, but I have always been able to get around enough to do all the cooking and housekeeping. When my mother died, I was only 14. My father forced me to have sex with him. He never wanted me to have any boyfriends, but when I was 50 years old I got a boyfriend who had to sneak me out of the house to marry me, but I wouldn't come back.

his will be broken? And if so, how?
WONDERING IN N.Y.
DEAR WONDERING: Take these facts to a lawyer and let him advise you. You have nothing to lose.

DEAR ABBY: I've never seen this in your column, but I'm sure I'm not the only woman with this problem.
For 23 years I've been married to an extremely handsome professional man. He is very well-built and wears his clothes like a fashion model. When he enters a room, everyone wants to know who he is. He is loaded with self-confidence (who wouldn't be?) and exudes charm, wit and personality.

say: "REALLY?" They do everything but come right out and ask: "What on earth did he see in YOU?"

Although we are the same age. I look older. I'm blind as a bat without my glasses and can't wear contacts. I've fought weight all my life, due to a thyroid condition. Let's just say, a beauty I'm not. But I do have feelings. I've had people insinuate that ours must have been a shotgun wedding. (It wasn't.) Or that I must have had money. (I didn't.) But worst of all are the women who try to butter me up to get next to my husband. Please put this in your column. I'd like to clip it out and hand it to the next woman who tells me what a "terrific" husband I have, and lets me know it's a miracle that I got him.

MRS. JAMES EDWARD QUILLIN JR.

Presbyterian Church Scene Of Ceremony

The First Presbyterian Church, Lubbock, was the scene Friday evening for the wedding of Miss Mary Breckenridge Dirks to James Edward Quillin. The Rev. Robert D. Nicholson, pastor, and the Rev. Gregg Hagg, minister of Grace Chapel, Lubbock, officiated. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Dirks Jr., 1735 Purdue, and Mr. and Mrs. Austin A. Quillin Jr., Heath.

The couple stood before an altar flanked by candelabra, draped with greenery, and centered with a white arrangement of chrysanthemums, gypsophila, stephanotis and palm branches. Music was performed by Miss Patrice Blalock, organist.

The bride was attired in a gown of candlelight crepe; brocade lace forming a capelet and Victorian neckline re-embroidered with pearls. The bishop sleeves were gathered to wide cuffs of lace, and the shirt had edging and appliques of matching lace. A detachable train was topped by a bustle bow, and her tiered veil fell from a Juliet cap. She carried a bouquet of gardenias, gypsophila and stephanotis.

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. Walter W. Taylor, sister of the bride, was matron of honor; Miss Barbara Dirks, Big Spring, sister of the bride, maid of honor; and Miss Elizabeth Lipscombe, Big Spring, bridesmaid. They were attired in floor-length dresses of Swiss sheer open blue print with tiered gathered skirt, empire sleeves and scoop neckline. White eyelet lace intertwined with red ribbon trimmed the sleeves and waistline. They carried fireplace baskets of garden flowers and wore white garden hats trimmed with red ribbon.

Jeffrey Berta was best man, and groomsmen were Tim King and Randy Jordan. Ushers were Henry Dirks, Dallas, brother of the bride, and Randy Merkord. The flower girl, Heidi Berta, was attired in a red dress styled similar to the bridesmaids. Ring bearer was Karl Berta.

Following a wedding trip to Tres Ritos, N.M., the couple will reside at 4206-B 36th St., Lubbock.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School. A senior at Texas Tech University she is a music voice major.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Tascosa High School in Amarillo. He is a senior at Texas Tech and a music education major.

RECEPTION

A reception was held in the Garden Room and Lewis Hall of the church. The bride's table was draped with a satin cloth overlaid with lace and greenery, and the centerpiece was a branched candelabrum, and the bridesmaids flowers. Appointments were of silver. The bridegroom's table was covered with a royal blue cloth accented with a branched candelabrum and greenery. Guests were served by Miss Wilda Taylor, Houston; Mrs. Tim King, Mrs. Jeffrey Berta, Mrs. Mimi

Bruner and Miss Ranette Miller.

Guests from out of town included Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Stohle, Houston; Mr. and Mrs. Lyra Quillen, Bay City; Mrs. Paul Webb, El Campo; Mr. and Mrs. Lindon Robberson, Amarillo; Mr and Mrs. Otto W. Hines, Morse Bluff, Neb.; Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Travnick, Cedar Bluffs, Neb.; Mrs. Donald Drysdale, Dallas; and the couple's parents.

The bridegroom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner at Bush's Steak Barn, Lubbock.

Leprechaun's

There is an Irish saying that advises one never to pick a mushroom that a leprechaun is using for an umbrella. You need not concern yourself with having to face this dilemma, however. The United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association assures us the delicate vegetable is generally available in markets all year round.

The French, who perhaps have always known their way around a kitchen, better than anybody, were the first to record the cultivation of mushrooms. It was during the reign of Louis XIV (1638-1715), when the art of French cuisine was developing and mushrooms were much in demand.

Mushrooms are elegant, a patrician delight for parties or everyday meals. They give a lift to plain foods, adding succulent flavor to gravies, soups, sauces, and many casserole dishes.

Medical Secretarial Training To Begin

The Business Department of Howard College will offer a two-year program for medical secretarial training. Registration for a new class will be Sept. 3 and 4.

The first year of medical secretarial training will consist primarily of the basic secretarial skills with a course in applied anatomy-physiology and one in medical terminology. The second year will be a continuation of the basic secretarial skills with emphasis in the medical field.

Big Spring has long been considered the medical center of this area. The large number of hospitals and doctors in the Big Spring areas creates a great need for specialized secretaries. This need can best be met by a complete two-year training course in medical secretarial technology according to a college spokesman.
