

PANAMA, CANADA, ILLINOIS, LA, BAY AREA

Where Is Patty Hearst?

Published claims have placed her in such diverse possible hideouts as Guatemala, Panama, Canada, Illinois, Los Angeles and the San Francisco Bay area. Miss Hearst, 20, was dragged screaming from her Berkeley apartment on Feb. 4. Two months later in tape recordings she denounced her newspaper publisher father, jilted her fiancé, a self-proclaimed revolutionary and said her name was now "Tania." She is wanted on charges of kidnapping, assault and robbery along with captors-turned-comrades William and Emily Harris, thought to be the last members of the SLA. If captured and convicted, she could be imprisoned for life.

"We do not know whether or not she is out of the country," FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley said at one point. "We do not know where she is."

"Reports of eyewitness sightings" of Miss Hearst and the Harris continued. "We've got new leads in this case and we still get new leads coming in almost every day," FBI Special Agent Charles Bates said on Tuesday.

But Bates, who has been directing investigation of the case from San Francisco, added, "I don't have anything specific as far as developments are concerned."

Bates, who has admitted that he loses sleep worrying about the case, said, "I think our chances of catching any federal fugitive are good. We catch thousands of them every year."

MORE HELP FOR FUND

More help continued today for the high school Bible Fund, pushing it past $3,700. One of those giving it a boost was Dr. E. Gage Lloyce, a member of the minister's group when it founded the fund nearly three decades ago. Another of the gifts memorialized Dr. O. D. O'Brien, also one of the founders.

NONSMOKERS REWARDED WITH $50 BILLS

'I Quit Smoking Club'

SPRING GROVE, Ill. (AP) — Jim Miller found out a year ago that 280 of his 700 employees smoked. So he started an "I Quit Smoking Club" and has rewarded with $50 bills the 10 who managed to stay off cigarettes for a year.

HARD TO KICK

The 10 who stuck it out were members of a group of 36 employees who took the pledge. They all work at Intermatic Inc., a timer manufacturing firm of which Miller is president.

"I thought 36 taking the pledge was sensational, a fine percentage to make the move for such a hard habit to kick," said Miller, who stopped smoking 20 years ago at the age of 25. "And I thought it was great that 10 lasted it out to win the $50 awards."

He said the 36 names were printed each week in the office newsletter. Those who dropped out had lines drawn through their names; those who didn't got $50 Tuesday.

"The list was the first thing all the workers looked at when they got the newsletter," said Miller. "The ages of the 10 who stuck it out ranged from 22 to 63 and included two women. When the year ended, they came into my office and signed a certificate that they had not smoked. Another two nearly made it, but admitted that during the year they had smoked two or three times."

WIN LOSE

"I told the 10 winners that according to the American Cancer Society if they continue not to smoke, they will add nine years to their lives and that would amount to $40,000 to $50,000 in pension and Social Security money — and that they also saved about $250 in the cost of cigarettes during the year."

Turkey Rejects Proposal

The United Nations Security Council today scheduled a meeting for Thursday morning to take up the plight of 200,000 war refugees driven from their homes on Cyprus by the Turkish invasion army.

Council President Jacob A. Malik of the Soviet Union summoned the council members to meet after receiving a request from Cyprus Ambassador Zenon Rossides.

The meeting will give Malik a chance to urge his government's proposal for a conference of 18 nations on the Cyprus crisis.

Secretary General Kurt Waldheim, hospitalized in New York with gastroenteritis, was not expected to attend the meeting and deliver his report personally on his three-day Cyprus peace mission.

Turkey, which occupies the northern third of the island, has rejected the Soviet proposal for an 18-nation conference on the future of Cyprus.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford said today he subscribes to the view that Richard M. Nixon has suffered enough over Watergate, but added that it would be "unwise and untimely for me to make any commitment" as to what he would do if the former President should face criminal prosecution.

NOT DISAPPOINTED

Bush Doesn't Want Nixon Prosecuted

KENNEBUNKPORT, Maine (AP) — Republican National Chairman George Bush says he doesn't want to see former President Nixon prosecuted and that he's not disappointed at not being nominated vice president.

He also says he thinks President Ford should be the GOP presidential nominee in 1976.

"I don't believe there is any mileage in pouncing away at the last pound of (Richard Nixon's) flesh," Bush told newsmen on Tuesday at his vacation home in this Maine coastal community.

RESPECTS ROCKY

"I don't condone his actions, but in terms of hounding a person after this ignominy and this tremendously difficult experience, I would like to see prosecution averted."

Bush said he believed his view was shared by the "vast majority of Americans."

Bush said he harbored no ill feelings at not winning Ford's nomination as vice president, a nomination that went to former New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

"I have respect for Nelson Rockefeller... I think President Ford picked an excellent man and I have no hard feelings at all," Bush said.

CLOSE DECISION

The former Texas congressman and U.S. ambassador to the United Nations said Ford called him just before naming Rockefeller to the No. 2 post.

"He told me it was a very close decision," Bush said. "I thought the phone call was tremendously considerate of him. He could have done it afterwards or not at all."

Bush said with Ford as President things look better for this fall's elections.

"I had been concerned for the 1974 elections. But now I feel relieved," he said.

POET WINS GOP GUBERNATORIAL NOMINATION IN ALASKA

Oklahomans Defeat Gov. Hall, Horse Betting

overwhelmingly to move their state capital from Juneau to a more central location.

BAD BET

In Oklahoma, where primary votes were also cast on Tuesday, House Speaker Carl Albert nailed down his 15th consecutive term in Congress, and Gov. David Hall's try for renomination ended in failure.

Oklahomans also apparently rejected a controversial proposal to legalize parimutuel betting on horse races by county option.

Hammond, 52, a commercial fisherman, bush pilot, big game guide and former state legislator from the southwest Alaska village of Naknek, often read his own poetry to his colleagues while serving in the state Senate from 1967 to 1972.

With 348 of 441 precincts reporting, Hammond had 23,520 votes or about 48 per cent. Only a plurality is required for victory. Hickel had 16,326 votes; former Gov. Keith Miller had 6,366; and two minor candidates trailed far behind.

'COOLS' ESKIMO

Egan, seeking his fourth term, captured 93 per cent of the vote against a token opponent, former Alaska Federation of Natives President Don Wright of Anchorage.

The voters approved moving the capital from Juneau, reachable only by air or water, to a more central location presumably near — but not in — Anchorage or Fairbanks. A report released during the bitter campaign estimated the move will cost about $110 million, or roughly $330 for every Alaskan resident.

In Oklahoma, Albert won easily over two Democratic rivals in the 3rd Congressional District in seeking renomination to the House, and he has no Republican opposition in the November general election.

Hall, whose campaign suffered from a scandal involving kickbacks on state contracts, ran a poor third behind state Sen. David Boren and Rep. Clem McSpadden, who gave up his 2nd Congressional District seat to try for the governorship.

With 2,484 of 3,040 precincts counted, Boren had 184,821 votes, or 37 per cent, to 184,713, also 37 per cent, for McSpadden. Hall trailed with 130,325, or 26 per cent.

If the margin holds, Boren, a former Rhodes scholar, and McSpadden will face off for the Democratic nomination in a Sept. 17 runoff, which is necessary under state law unless one primary candidate receives 50 per cent or more of the total vote.

On the Republican side, state Sen. Jim Inhofe advanced to the November general election by whipping former state Sen. Deniz Garrison.

Sen. Henry L. Bellmon easily turned aside a challenge by Warner Hornbeck for the Republican nomination to the Senate. Former Rep. Ed Edmondson led a six-man race for the Democratic nomination.

BEER BUST

CHIVENOR, England (AP) — Airmen at the local Royal Air Force base are on a party-night binge to drink up the beer on the base before it closes next month.

"The beer is already ours," said an officer. "If we don't drink it all up, it will be sold into a central fund and someone else will profit from it."

"I'm a gin-and-tonic man normally, but I'm doing my bit for my fellow men."

The men refused to say how much remained to be drunk. A sergeant said several of the base's best drinkers have been transferred, but he foresees no real problem.

"We're working hard," he said.

Beal's Creek Is On Rise

Beal's Creek appeared on a mild rise today in western Mitchell County. The creek empties into the Colorado River above Lake E. V. Spence.

It was running 6.7 feet deep at the SH 163 (Colorado City-Sterling City) bridge, probably on the strength of heavy showers there Tuesday afternoon.

SOVIET COSMONAUTS — Lieutenant-Colonel Genady Sarafanov, left, commander of the Soyuz 15, and Colonel Lev Demin, flight engineer, are returning to earth less than 40 hours after they were hurled into space. The two Soviet cosmonauts are concluding the flight without docking the orbiting unmanned Salyut 13 laboratory, according to reports today from Tass, the official Soviet news agency.

The World At-A-Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration strategists, U.S. Park Service officials, the Secret Service and the Fine Arts Commission are looking at the air-conditioned dog kennels as the best spot for a new pool for President Ford. If the pool is built at the current kennel site, in a thick clump of trees on the South Lawn, it would be only steps from the President's Oval Office.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The percentage of teenage girls who smoke cigarettes is catching up to that of boys, according to new government figures. The survey reports that 15.8 per cent of boys, ages 12 through 18, said that they smoked cigarettes regularly. The figure for girls is 15.3 per cent. The 1968 figures were 14.7 per cent for boys, 8.4 per cent for girls.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ford administration is reassessing the long-standing American policy of support for the hemispheric embargo of Cuba, according to diplomatic informants. The policy reappraisal comes in the face of mounting hemispheric pressure for an end to the diplomatic and economic sanctions imposed against Cuba ten years ago by the Organization of American States.

CHICAGO (AP) — Despite President Ford's hopes for jawbone wage and price increases, the United Transportation Union says it will seek wage hikes totaling 35 per cent in fall negotiations. Al H. Chesser, president of the 250,000-member rail union, said on Tuesday that the group wants a 20 per cent hike in 1975 and 15 per cent more in 1976.

CHICAGO (AP) — Police leaders say a major battle in the war on crime may be the fight to overcome public apathy toward solving crimes. They gave their views on Tuesday after Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe warned a meeting of police leaders from 25 major metropolitan areas that "there is every possibility that crime will inundate us. The nation would then be faced with the prospect of falling apart or devising a national police force in one final effort to restore domestic order... It would be a dreadful mistake to slide inch-by-inch toward that chasm..."

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — After a decade of controversy, the $1.6 billion Bay Area Rapid Transit system has won state approval to open its final link, five years late. The system is the nation's most advanced mass transit operation. Bay Area Rapid Transit engineers overcame the final hurdle to full-scale operations on Tuesday by convincing the California Public Utilities Board that an electronic system could safely dispatch 80 miles per hour computerized trains through the 3.6-mile underwater link between San Francisco and Oakland. The transbay tube, 132 feet beneath the bay, will open officially on Sept. 16.

Hospital To Be Best Equipped Facility

The chief executive officer of Hospital Corporation of America told trustees and community leaders Tuesday that the new Malone & Hogan Hospital will be the "finest money can buy."

"You can go anywhere," John C. Neff, told a luncheon gathering at Big Spring Country Club, "and you won't find a finer or better equipped facility." Afterwards, board members and wives were given a tour of the new facility, nestled below Scenic Mountain, to give added substance to his words.

The new multi-million dollar complex is coming together rapidly and is scheduled for activation next spring, possibly a few months ahead of schedule. Patient rooms are taking shape, as are service centers such as operating rooms, delivery rooms, cardiac center, kitchen, and cafeteria, laboratories, radiology, physical therapy and numerous other spaces for the 130-bed unit.

Neff lauded Carl Grubb, project director for Joe M. Rogers Construction Company, the builders, for an outstanding job.

The hospital here, he said, is another example of the HCA philosophy that it can deliver superior medical care at a reasonable cost that will provide a reasonable return on investment.

"Like anyone else in private enterprise," he said, "we can't deliver a shoddy product and be around long. We will stay abreast of changes in the medical community. We will be here through thick and thin, good times and bad, and we intend to earn the reputation of being the Cadillac in health care field."

"You can't do this from Nashville, Tenn. (the corporate headquarters); you have to do it locally with competent, dedicated people."

K.H. McGibbon, president of the board of trustees, presented Neff with a Western hat as a memento of his visit to Big Spring. Norman Knox, administrators, president, and guests included Mayor Wade Choate, Ralph McLaughlin, Chamber of Commerce president and Col. James Owens, wing commander at Webb AFB. At the head table were Drs. P. W. Malone and

J. E. Hogan, founders of a clinic, also of what is now Medical Center Memorial Hospital, and for whom the new hospital will be named. With Neff on his visit here was Ed Rhyne, vice president medical services.

Whittington On Probation

Billy Don Whittington, 18, pleaded guilty Monday to vandalism in 118th District Court and received a five year probation sentence.

Whittington, arrested in connection with a rash of broken windshields and windows, was charged with criminal mischief, a felony.

Monte Woods Jr., 17, arrested along with Whittington, and facing the same charges, waived grand jury indictment and requested that the court appoint an attorney.

In other District Court action, Darrell Lloyd Thomas had his probation revoked and was sentenced to serve three years in the Texas Department of Correction. He was convicted for DWI, subsequent offense.

Dillard Curtis Johnson received a six year probation term for car theft.

Given Permit

The Texas Water Quality Control Board has granted the City of Snyder to divert daily a quarter of a million gallons of effluent to irrigate the golf course at Western Texas College. The city currently has about 2,000,000 gallons daily outflow from its disposal plant.

Local System Not Affected

The accelerated state fund payments to local school districts will have little or no effect on the Big Spring Independent School District.

Don Crockett, assistant superintendent for business, said that the district has an operating balance and therefore was not in the same position as some districts which had to borrow funds for early autumn operations.

THEFTS

- W. P. Wright, 2505 Rebecca reported theft of battery taken from motor of car.
- Evelyn Milliford, 1606 Main reported theft of clock and three sets of sheets. Value: $120.
- Evelyn Ridley, 2201 Warren, theft of a mailbox which was later found.
- Ector Franco, Big Spring Motel, theft from car of radio and tape deck.

Two OED Instructors On Scene At College

Two new instructors in the Occupational Education Department at Howard College reported for duties here this week.

Hal Ward is a new mid-management instructor and Charles Frost will teach electronics. Dr. Larry Key heads the occupational education program.

Ward is added to the mid-management program which trains students in retailing, wholesaling and industrial work under a practical program which follows in the footsteps of high school programs in distributive education.

Ward taught distributive education in Brady and previously assisted with the program in Killeen while still in the Army. He is a graduate of San Angelo High School and in 1971 received his B.S. degree from Angelo State University.

He and his wife, Penny, have one daughter, Katie. Frost comes from Texas A&M where he was working on his degree in Vocational Industrial Education after having taught electronics in Corsicana and Odessa High Schools.

Originally he is from San Antonio where he graduated from high school at Harlandale.

He replaces Dick Hooper, who retired. Frost emphasizes the practical side of electronics, a growing field.

The course prepares students for work as electronics technicians or to prepare for a second class

Pair Of Terms Are Probated

In 118th District Court action Tuesday, two men were given probated sentences after pleading guilty.

Billy Don Whittington pleaded guilty to two cases of criminal mischief, one in connection with the breakage of windows at Moss Elementary school, also one in connection with the placing of soap in the Ted Ferrell swimming pool, ruining the filtering system. He was given a pair of five-year probation sentences.

Ernesto Velasco pleaded guilty to carrying a pistol on licensed premises, the Tap Room Lounge, and was given a five-year probation sentence.

Nurse Diedra Whatley Is 'Employe Of Year'

Diedra Whatley, R.M., previously honored as employe of the year at Medical Center Memorial Hospital, was cited Tuesday as the nominee of Division VII for national honors.

John C. Neff, president of Hospital Corporation of America, made the presentation at a luncheon gathering, recalling that the First Humanitarian award is named for Dr. Thomas Frist Sr., one of the founders of HCA.

"This goes to the employe who most exemplifies and demonstrates Dr. Frist's standards of warmth and compassion for his fellow man," he said.

Her fellow employes had nominated her locally and she was chosen to receive the first award since the hospital became affiliated with HCA last Sept. 1. She was cited for going far beyond the call of duty with acts of compassion and service.

Mrs. Watley, the wife of Tom Whatley, thanked her colleagues, whom she said had an equal devotion, no matter what their jobs, and her family for its support and encouragement. She will be a candidate for national honors HCA, which now has 63 hospitals with 9,000 beds in 15 states and foreign countries.

Four prisoners were transferred from Howard County jail to the Texas Department of Corrections in Huntsville this morning, all on revocation of probations.

Jesus Juando Marquez was transferred to Huntsville to serve a five year term for a child molesting; Kevin Dewayne Michael was transferred to serve a 5-6 year term for burglary of a habitation; Carliss (Buck) O'Neal was transferred to serve a three year term for impersonating a police officer and for DWI; and Darrell Lloyd Thomas was transferred to Huntsville for DWI, subsequent offense.

Flash Floods In Texas

By The Associated Press

Flash floods covered lower areas with water and huge crests boiled down numerous rivers and creeks in Texas today, hitting hardest at central sections of the state where cloudbursts dumped as much as 9½ inches of rain.

The worst deluges hit areas across the middle of the state from the Red River to the Rio Grande. Reporting the 9½-inch downpour at Harper and around 6 inches in the vicinity of Fredericksburg, both in Gillespie County, the National Weather Service warned against widespread flooding down the Pedernales River from Harper to Lake Travis.

Fredericksburg, both in Gillespie County, the National Weather Service warned against widespread flooding down the Pedernales River from Harper to Lake Travis.

Up to 7 inches of rain filled streets and low places at Killeen and about 6 inches created similar conditions at Lampasas, official observers said.

Capping nearly a week of widespread rains across the state, the latest round of heavy showers and thunderstorms kept forecasters busy throughout the night issuing special warnings against flooding, primarily in low areas.

The weather service said because the countryside already was soggy, continuing rainfall probably would force extension of flash flood watches for many counties.

Streams carrying crests which threatened to inundate lowlands, in addition to the Pedernales, included the Lampasas, the Upper Frio, the Upper Guadalupe and the Upper Nueces rivers.

At least three small tornadoes spun down from black thunderstorms late Tuesday. One hit a little west of Knox City in West Texas, damaging the roof of a mobile home. The others were sighted 5 miles southwest of Slaton and near Amherst on the South Plains and there was no report of damage.

Skies generally were cloudy this morning north and west of a line linking Tyler, Waco, Austin and Del Rio. It was clear to only partly cloudy elsewhere.

Temperatures in early morning slipped down to 60 degrees at Dalhart in the Texas Panhandle and 61 at El Paso in far West Texas while it was still 83 at Galveston on the coast and 86 at the Midland-Odessa airport in West Texas.

Still more showers and thunderstorms were predicted across most of the state, particularly this evening in North Central and Northeast Texas and near the coast.

Burglary Ring Six Admitting Killings

HOUSTON (AP) — Six

members of a burglary ring, two of them apparently remorseless, were held without bond today after police said they admitted a series of murders and burglaries in the Houston area this summer.

"Living don't come easy," Bernardino Sierra, 25, said at an impromptu news conference Tuesday night after he and five of his compatriots, who call themselves "The Brady Bunch," were charged with capital murder in the deaths of five persons.

NO REMORSE — Also charged were Richard Vargas, 23; Joe Luis, 24; Angel Fuentes, 21; and Ernest Moya and Emily Varags Saenz, both 20. All are Houston residents.

George Karam, who headed a coordinated investigation, said the charges could clear 25 to 30 burglaries and robberies and possibly other slayings.

Two of the four prisoners who talked with newsmen expressed no remorse.

"It doesn't bother me," Vargas said.

Sierra said the basic motive in all the murders was money, but one of the victims was stabbed, robbed and run over with a car "for messing around with my woman," Sierra said. "I felt all right after I did it."

Karam said the gang operated "on spur of the moment decisions to rob and kill people... I can't think of a more deserving bunch for the death penalty."

DEATH PENALTY — Don Lambright, another assistant district attorney, said the death penalty would be sought. "We're going to bring them to trial as quickly as possible and we'll be seeking the death penalty," he said.

"There's a strong possibility of more charges forthcoming," Lambright said. "One of them said right before a television camera that he committed a murder he was not even charged with."

Homicide Detective

Jim Pierce said the coordinated investigation started in early August after some members of the Brady Bunch (members said they named themselves that because their first killing took place on Brady Street) were captured following a weekend robbery spree.

The six gang members are charged in the deaths of Jose Cruz Davila, 25, robbed and stabbed repeatedly outside his home June 6; an unidentified man in his 20s, robbed, stabbed and run over with a car May 28; Asnok Patel, 34, shot in the head and neck during a drive-in robbery July 22; Joseph Pinch, 60, slain during a food store robbery June 22, and Odilan Rodriguez, 21, found shot to death neighboring Fort Bend County in late June.

MURDER IN JAIL — Vargas said at the news conference police were covering up a murder in the county jail. Vargas said he killed a prisoner July 2 and stole his ring. The county medical examiner, Dr. Joseph Joachimczyk, ruled the man had suffered a heart attack.

Vargas said one of the jailers told the prisoners to wrap the ring in paper and put it in a tray placed behind his back and no questions would be asked. Vargas said he returned the ring in that manner.

Sheriff's detectives said the case still was under investigation.

They declined further comment.

Sierra said he decided to confess about the entire case because "my mother was going to be charged with burglary, but the stereotypes in the house were mine, I stole them. They were trying to rap her with it."

"I've been promised my mother would be cut loose."

(AP WIREPHOTO)
LINDBERGH'S SON — Jon Lindbergh, one of three sons of famed aviator Charles A. Lindbergh, arrived too late for his father's funeral and burial Monday, but attended the memorial service held Tuesday.

Way He Wanted It All To End

HANA, Hawaii (AP) — The memorial service for aviation pioneer Charles Augustus Lindbergh was simple and without fanfare, the way "the Lone Eagle" wanted it all to end.

Friends and family gathered at the tiny Kipahulu Hawaiian Church on Tuesday to honor Lindbergh one more time. He had been buried in a lava-stone grave next to the 19th century church Monday after his death from cancer. He was 72.

During his last eight days of life, Lindbergh planned for his death, including the memorial service, said Dr. Milton M. Howell, the aviator's personal physician.

Fewer than two dozen persons attended the candlelit service, including his widow, Anne Morrow Lindbergh, and two of their sons, Jon and Land.

Another son and two daughters were unable to attend. The Rev. John Tincher, a Protestant minister from Hana, conducted the half-hour ceremony.

Even though no mention of Lindbergh's name was made during the service, what was said and read all honored the man who was most famous for his 1927 solo flight across the Atlantic Ocean.

"... They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint," read one scripture recited during the service.

The Rev. Mr. Tincher and the family selected some of the Bible scriptures, "and the general even," had designated some," said the minister.

"He was an amazing man who had everything planned out to every detail," he added.

Continuing the theme of simplicity, Mrs. Lindbergh was dressed in a purple Hawaiian print dress with a string of pearls around her neck. The Lindbergh sons wore casual shirts and trousers.

After the ceremony, Mrs. Lindbergh thanked each person who attended. Sitting through the service without showing emotion, she wiped back a few tears as she left the chapel for their home.

Asked later what plans the widow had, Jon Lindbergh said he knew of none "at this time."

Ex-Addict To Speak At Church 3 Nights

Ross Rosensweig, a Jew converted to Christianity, comes to town this week with an interesting story to tell.

The Gulf Coast Bible College student delivered himself from the use of drugs and will speak about his experiences in a street gang and his involvement in anti-war movements in talks he will give at the Highland Church of God, located on the corner of East Sixth and Settles Streets, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights of this week.

While here, the Baltimore, Md., native will be the house guest of the Rev. Michael Grebe. The Rev. Mr. Grebe was instrumental in helping him win the battle to conquer drug addiction.

The church program will begin at 7:30 o'clock nightly. Rosensweig is a Vietnam war veteran.

How To Combat LP Gas Fires Will Be Taught

Members of the fire departments of 13 area communities will practice skills they hopefully will never have to use in fighting liquefied petroleum gas fires at a demonstration Thursday, Sept. 12, at Highland Shopping.

Center parking lot at 7:00 p.m.

Communities who have been invited to participate, according to Chief A. D. Meador, are Forsan, Coahoma, Stanton, Garden City, Sterling City, Lamesa, Snyder, Colorado City, Silver Hills, Jonesboro, Ackerly, Knott and Sand Springs.

Members of the media are invited to witness the demonstration which is being held for the firemen by Ranger-Pan American Insurance Companies of Houston, and sponsored by the LP-Gas dealers in this area and Texas A&M Fire School.

This training session will be an actual exercise in dealing with a liquefied petroleum gas fire. The LP-Gas industry is relatively new; suppliers and dealers have already had special training in handling the fuel and the safety record has been sufficiently good that few firemen have had occasion to gain experience in combating this kind of fire.

Ranger's fire safety instructors will provide a 500-gallon LP-Gas tank and a multi-pronged "Christmas tree", each of which will be ignited and then extinguished by the participating firemen, who will

New Procedures To Be Observed For Center

Rules and procedures for the operation of the Figure Seven Tennis Center were approved this week by the parks and recreation department and the city council.
The center is open for play Monday through Saturday from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. and open on Sunday from 1-6 p.m. The center will be closed at 6 p.m. Dec. 24 and all day Dec. 25. It will also close during inclement weather or at the request of the city manager.
Memberships may be obtained on an annual basis: family, $50; adult, $30; student, $18. Non-members will be charged 35 cents per hour before 6 p.m. and 50 cents per hour after 6 p.m. All guests of members must pay the hourly fees.
Courts may be reserved by anyone as much as 24 hours in advance. A court will be reserved for no more than 1 1/2 hours at a time. There is a 15 minute default on court reservations. After this time, the court will be assigned to waiting players.
To obtain a court, all players must sign in at the pro shop with a court to be assigned. All players must play on the assigned court. Non-members must pay court fees in advance and playing time will be recorded on a time clock.
All players must wear approved tennis shoes on the courts. Men must wear shirts. No one will be allowed to play in swim wear.
The pro shall have complete control of play at all times. Conduct damaging to the Tennis Center or that infringes on the rights of other players will result in removal from the Tennis Center for the remainder of the day. U. S. Lawn Tennis Association rules will govern all play and conduct.
Local schools may use the courts at the Tennis Center without charge on Tuesdays. No more than two courts will be used for tennis lessons at one time with tennis lessons available from the tennis pro and scheduled in advance.
No foods or drinks will be allowed on the courts at any time. Tournament play shall have priority over all other play at the center. All tournaments must be scheduled in advance with the tennis pro with him having complete control.
The City of Big Spring will allow without charge the use of the center for two tournaments per year for the pro, two for the high school, two for the college and two for the Big Spring Tennis Association.
The city is not responsible for injury to any player or for damage to equipment and reserves the right to eject any player from the Tennis Center for violation of rules.

Lectures Are Set At Tech

LUBBOCK — Living rooms will become classrooms Sept. 29, as the "Lubbock Avalanche-Journal" and Texas Tech University offer a college course through the newspaper.
The course, "In Search of the American Dream," will offer participants the opportunity to earn three hours of college credits, almost totally within their own homes.
The "lectures" for the course will appear in the "Lubbock Avalanche-Journal" Sundays for 20 consecutive weeks. By studying and saving the printed lectures and sending for a Reader and study guide, participants can complete the bulk of the course work independently.
Persons desiring to take the course may make arrangements through the Division of Continuing Education, Texas Tech University Box 4110, Lubbock, Tex. 79409.

Mayor Named On Committee

Mayor Wade Choate has been appointed to the Texas Municipal League (TML) legislative committee on personnel by Mayor Wes Wise, Dallas, president.
One of the primary purposes of the Texas Municipal League is to be sure that Texas cities are represented during the regular session of the Texas Legislature set to convene in early 1975.
The newly formed legislative Committee on Personnel is scheduled to meet in Austin on September 13, 1974, to prepare plans for the coming year.

Budget Is Less Than Last Year

MIDLAND — Midland County commissioners have approved a 1975 budget which represents a slight decrease from last year.
The new budget calls for expenditures of $3,347,907. Last year's budget was for $3,437,666.14.
The Midland tax rate remains at 85 cents per $100 valuation, based on the valuation assessment of 32 per cent of actual value.

Waived Here Indictment Is

James Schaffer, charged with the May 4 murder of his wife, Sandra, waived indictment Monday in 118th District Court, removing his case from the Grand Jury Docket.
His case was to have been presented before the jury to determine if there is enough evidence in the case to bring to trial.
The Grand Jury will consider evidence in 18 other cases beginning tomorrow.
Cases range from investigation into malicious mischief to aggravated kidnaping of a minor child.

Signup To Be Today

Registration will be today for the San Angelo Center of Howard College with an offering of numerous courses related to real estate, electronics and police work. The signup time at Goodfellow AFB education office will be 2-4 p.m. and 6-8 p.m. Howard College offers the vocational courses in that area, and Angelo State University supplies the academics as they are required.
Tuesday, L. L. Lewis, director of admissions, was in Lamesa registering students through the Lamesa Center.

singleton trump. Declarer called for dummy's king—and lost his chance to make the contract. A low heart to the ten held, but West won the continuation and shifted to a club to East's ace, and a second club forced declarer to ruff.
South cashed the queen of spades, and had both defenders followed that would have ended matters. But West showed out and declarer could not make use of dummy's long hearts, for East ruffed the fourth heart. Declarer's only tricks were five trumps, two hearts and the ace of diamonds—down two.
Declarer should have taken time out before playing to the first trick. Only a 4-1 trump split places the contract in jeopardy, but it can be overcome if East is the defender with the long trumps.
Declarer must win the first trick in his hand and knock out the ace of hearts. Now, South can ruff the second club and enter dummy with the king of trumps.
When East turns up with four trumps, declarer simply runs dummy's long hearts. East can ruff whenever he wishes, but South can overruff and reenter dummy with the trump ace, drawing East's last trump in the process, to cash the rest of the hearts. Declarer's ten tricks consist of four trumps and an overruff, four hearts and the ace of diamonds.

Opening lead: Nine of ♠
Hasty play at trick one proved to be declarer's downfall when a bad trump break resulted in dummy's long suit being shut out for want of an entry.
Despite the fact that he held quite a good hand, its one-suited nature swayed North to make a simple overall at his first turn. However, when South entered the auction freely in the other major, showing at least a five-card suit, North expressed the trick-taking ability of his hand with a jump raise, and South went on to game.
With no attractive opening lead, West settled on his

Becoming Patient With Elderly Parents

DEAR ABBY: I identified with that woman who wrote in saying we should try to be more patient with our elderly parents. I am trying to be patient with a mother who is at times quite exasperating. However, not all elderly people are the same. Some of Mother's contemporaries are charming and quite remarkable.

I do believe that as we grow older, we should try to keep active and interested, so that we will be interesting to others.

For many years we had my wife's grandmother living with us, and now my mother-in-law, who is nearly 80, is making her home with us.

With my vast experience in dealing with the elderly I've been meaning to make a list of things to do and not do so that I will one day be a charming senior citizen, but with my luck, my memory will probably fail, and I won't be able to find the list.

DEAR ABBY: My husband's business partner, who is a fine young man of 29, recently married a 20-year-old girl. She was very promiscuous before they met, but he probably knows nothing about it as he is a newcomer to this town. Being pretty, she "swept him off his feet" and they married after a whirlwind romance.

She is pregnant, and it wouldn't surprise me one bit if her husband wasn't even the baby's father. I heard that shortly after their marriage she was seen with another man.

We must see them socially, which is very painful to us because we know about her background. My husband and I are torn between telling his best friend and business partner the truth and keeping quiet. Please tell us how to cope with the situation.

DEAR ABBY: A poor homely type girl became impregnated by a married man who had no intentions of leaving his wife and marrying her. The poor girl says it's too late for an abortion, but the father of the unborn suggested that she have the baby and let him and his wife adopt it as they were childless and desperately wanted a child.

This would have been a perfect solution to everybody's problem. But you say "no," and even have the gall to suggest that the child be handed over to an adoption agency!

How can you be so narrow-minded? Any child born under such circumstances would rather be in a home with its biological father than in a "nice" home with adopted strangers.

Are you so arrogant that you think you can play "God" with people's lives with your often biased advice? It seems to me that you need a little advice yourself.

J.C.F. DEAR MR. F.: What assurance have you that after this unwed mother hands over the child to the man with whom she's in love (a "detail" you ignored) she will simply disappear forever?

I have received many letters from people who have been a party to such a deal, much to their regret.

LADY AND THE BULL — There will be equality for women in Spain — at least in the bull ring. The Spanish government's announcement that women will have the same rights in the bull ring as men is a victory for Angela Hernandez, 24, a matador and women's rights leader who led a campaign which led to the repeal of the law against women in the ring.

Gift Shower Fetes Mrs. R. Kinsey

Mrs. Ricky Kinsey, the former Debra Cockrell, was honored with a miscellaneous bridal shower Saturday afternoon in the Texas Electric Reddy Room where she was presented a corsage of yellow and white daisies.

Similar corsages were presented to her mother, Mrs. Jerry (Spot) Cockrell; her maternal grandmother, Mrs. J. W. Garrison; and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Paul Kinsey.

Daisies were used in a centerpiece for the table from which cake, coffee and punch were served.

Hostesses for the affair were Mrs. Charles Buzbee, Mrs. Edith Christian, Mrs. Gerald Davison, Mrs. David Hicks, Mrs. Jimmy Hayworth, Mrs. Dudley Jenkins, Miss Shirley Lee, Mrs. Willis LeVier, Mrs. Jerry Phillips, Mrs. Jay Sanders, Mrs. Rick Terry, Mrs. C. T. Tyler and Mrs. Troy White.

Eagles Auxiliary Initiates Three

Three candidates were initiated into membership, and plans were made for future activities when the Eagles auxiliary met Monday in the lodge hall at the Settles Hotel.

Mrs. Jack Cottengame presided as Mrs. Jennie Crawford, Mrs. Betty Johnson and Mrs. Gene Priest were received into the auxiliary. The ritual team performed the initiation.

Mrs. Mae Steele, drill team captain, announced a practice session at the hall at 8 p.m. Wednesday. A dance is scheduled Aug. 30 at 8 p.m. at the hall with Easy Ezell's Band furnishing the music.

A resolution for a Virginia Turner Month has been presented to the grand office. Mrs. Turner is a former Eagle Past Grand Madame President. Upon acceptance by the grand office, all candidates initiated will be in her honor.

Mrs. Nell Tippie was added to the visiting committee; Mrs. Steel was appointed chairman for the Max Baer Heart Fund and Mrs. David Thomas will serve as co-chairman for the Damon Runyan Cancer Fund. Mrs. Richard Sayers won the door prize.

Bride-Elect Is Honored

Friends hosted a "pounding" for Miss Stephanie Maloney, bride-elect of Paul Ireland of Sweetwater, in the dining room of Mountain View Lodge, Friday. Miss Maloney is director of nurses for the lodge.

The honoree was presented a corsage of miniature kitchen ornaments and gifts which were displayed in a daisy-bedecked grocery basket.

The serving table, was centered with yellow and white daisies and gypsophila. Appointments were silver and crystal.

Hostesses were Mrs. Edward Seay, Mrs. Curtis Witte and Mrs. Jack Wright. Miss Maloney and Ireland will be married Sept. 21 in Hereford.

Coahoma Club Plays Bridge

Mrs. Tommy Wyrick won high score at games held by the Coahoma Bridge Club Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Marion Hayes. Three tables were in play. Mrs. Charles Parrish was low, and Mrs. Bobby Dodson took bingo. The next meeting will be Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Glen Mitchell.

Noble Grands Meet Monday

Mrs. Mary E. Brown was hostess for the monthly meeting of the Past Noble Grand Club of Big Spring Rebekah Lodge 284 at her home Monday evening. During the business session, members discussed possibilities of purchasing a loud speaker for the lodge hall. A salad supper was served and the Sept. 23 meeting was slated in the home of Mrs. W. A. Majors, 1216 Mulberry.

High Scorers

Mrs. Wallace Reid was hostess to the Hi Lo Bridge Club at her home Monday evening. High score prize went to Mrs. Jimmy Swann, and Mrs. Max Nichol was low scorer. The meeting Monday will be held in the home of Mrs. J. F. Gibson, 38 states needed for 903 Saunders, Coahoma at 7 p.m.

Women Activists Are Gaining Support

In New York and Cincinnati, costumed women posted a "proclamation" for equal rights on the doors of two Roman Catholic cathedrals.

Elsewhere, there was scattered picketing as women activists celebrated "Women's Equality Day" on Monday and the 54th anniversary of female suffrage.

Fewer than 100 persons paused to watch in New York as nine women, dressed to portray female Catholic saints, staged their protest on the steps of St. Patrick's Cathedral.

Their proclamation, like the one in Cincinnati, demanded Catholic church support of the Equal Rights Amendment for Women.

The Cincinnati rally had the support of Mayor Theodore M. Berry, but it fueled sharp exchanges among bystanders outside Roman Catholic St. Peter In Chains Cathedral.

"These women ought to be put off the church grounds," said Jeanette Clooney, a housewife. "Our Blessed Virgin wasn't out fighting for equal rights."

About a dozen women picketed the Manpower Administration office of the Labor Department in Pittsburgh, protesting the federal agency's hiring practices.

"If you read the manpower training booklet put out by the Labor Department, it's very obvious that they're recruiting men," said Betsy Parziale, vice president of the National Organization for Women.

The NOW chapter in Washington held a series of "zap" demonstrations against employers accused of sex discrimination, about 250 employees of The Aerospace Corp., most of them women, attended a speech by Col. Billie M. Bobbitt, director of women in the Air Force.

She said upward mobility for women "is a matter of law" in the military, but she added: "Military women are still not fully accepted and cultural attitudes of both men and women within and outside the military are involved."

The Equal Rights Amendment has been approved by 33 of the 50 states needed for ratification.

Committees Named, Activities Planned

Committees were named and future events finalized Monday evening when the VFW Auxiliary to Post No. 2013 met in the home of Mrs. Homer Petty, 707 N. Gregg.

Mrs. G. C. Broughton Sr., VA Hospital chairman, reported the need of bibs and magazines at the hospital. The auxiliary will buy the lining for the bibs. Mrs. Bob Wren and Mrs. Nannie Garrett reported serving cake and coffee at the hospital Aug. 5. Members who will serve refreshments in September are Mrs. Genevieve Cass, Mrs. Broughton and Mrs. Rip Smith.

Members will give 25 cents each to the VAVS hospital cancer fund. The auxiliary received a plaque for having achieved a perfect report on dues received.

Mrs. C. B. Barnett reported on her visit to the 29th anniversary of the Odessa VFW Auxiliary which she instituted. The local auxiliary will celebrate its 42nd birthday Dec. 13.

Mrs. Alice Sexton of Midland, District 25 president, will attend the October meeting with the local group.

Reports will be made at the end of the term by the following chairmen: Mrs. Robert Garcia, safety and youth activities; Mrs. Petty, publicity, Americanism, Voice of Democracy, Legislative; Mrs. Broughton, VAVS Hospital; Mrs. Wren, cancer aid and research; Mrs. Smith, community activities; Mrs. Barnett, VFW National Home; Mrs. Louise Horton, rehabilitation; Mrs. Melicia Santellan, Buddy Poppy.

Auxiliary Head To Visit Friday

Mrs. Betty Hall of Houston, commander of the Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary, Department of Texas, will make her official visit here Friday.

Mrs. Hall will meet with local auxiliary members at 2 p.m. for a tour of the Veterans Administration Hospital. She will remain in the city overnight, and tentative plans call for her to be a dinner guest of the local group.

'Beginning Day' Tea Held Sunday

Beta Omicron Chapter held a "Beginning Day" tea Sunday in the home of the president, Mrs. Jean Denton, 188-A Hunter Drive. The tea marks the start of activities for the 1974-75 season. Mrs. Phyllis Cox was introduced as a guest.

During a brief business session, members studied proposed projects for the coming months.

Mrs. Denton presented each member with a colorful ceramic pot filled with roses. The chapter will have a garage sale Sept. 7 at 2719 Cindy to raise money for this year's charity projects.

Service Award Tea Scheduled

Red Cross volunteers who work at the Veterans Administration Hospital will receive service certificates during ceremonies slated Friday at 2 p.m. in Room 219 at the hospital.

On hand to present the awards will be Mrs. Betty Moody of Childress, West Texas Division chairman of volunteers, who will be introduced to those attending during an informal reception.

Players Reject Owners' Offer

CHICAGO (AP) — In football terms, the cooling-off period moved into overtime today, the latest proposal by the owners to end the National Football League Players Association strike was tackled hard at the line of scrimmage and there's a time out in the negotiations.

By a 25-1 vote Tuesday night, the NFLPA strongly rejected the owners' newest offer, but the players will remain in their training camps as the 14-day cooling-off period has been indefinitely extended.

"We gambled the 14-day period would work. It didn't," Ed Garvey, executive director of the players union, told a press conference early today. "We wanted a good faith offer but they did not make the effort. This offer is hardly what we consider a good faith offer."

"The negotiations have been recessed," Bill Curry, union president, said. "It's been decided for the players to remain in camp and continue without an agreement."

Neither Garvey nor Curry, who announced the near-unanimous rejection, said which representative from the 26 NFL teams cast the dissenting vote.

"The negotiations have been called off and when the owners come up with a substantial offer, we'll go back," Garvey said. "We intend to remain flexible and we'll play it by ear. No, they didn't break the union. We feel it is stronger than ever."

W.J. Usery Jr., head of the federal mediation team, was saddened that the 14-day cooling-off period, which was his suggestion to the union, did not foster an agreement.

"I have encouraged both sides to play the season," Usery said. "I don't plan to call them back into negotiations in the near future — by that I mean the next few days."

The 14-day cooling-off period, which allowed veterans to enter training camp while negotiations in the prolonged labor dispute rolled on, went into overtime at 12 midnight, EDT Tuesday.

John Thompson, NFL Management Council executive director, said the crux of the 59-day labor dispute, the longest in the history of major professional sports, was still the so-called Rozelle rule in which the NFL commissioner can compensate a club for a player who plays out his option and signs with another team.

NO CONFIRMED REPORT Malone Signed By Utah?

PETERSBURG, Va. (AP) — Whiz kid Moses Malone appeared on the verge today of becoming the first player ever to go directly from high school into professional basketball — if, indeed, he hadn't already done it.

A source close to the 19-year-old Petersburg High School star said Tuesday night Malone already had signed with the Utah Stars of the American Basketball Association, but Malone refused early today either to confirm or deny the report.

It was learned, however, that Malone, his mother and three executives of the ABA team were booked on an Eastern Air Lines flight leaving nearby Richmond for New York this morning. And the ABA tentatively scheduled a 2 p.m. EDT news conference in New York at the Americana Hotel, presumably to introduce Malone.

Jim Bukata, the league's new public relations director, said in New York he would not announce the news conference formally until he knew Malone had been signed.

Three executives of the Stars — Jim Collier, president; Arnie Ferrin, general manager; and Bucky Buckwalter, player personnel director — reportedly left Washington about 8:30 p.m. EDT Tuesday en route here.

Malone, who averaged 35.8 points and 25 rebounds per game in leading Petersburg to its second successive state championship this past season, was due to have begun classes today at the University of Maryland, which won the college recruiting war for his services.

The news Malone had signed or was about to sign a contract, which a high ABA source in New York said was in excess of $3 million spread over a 13-year period, brought Maryland Coach Lefty Driesell and his staff hurriedly to this South Central Virginia city Tuesday night.

It was learned Malone met with Driesell during the evening, but he declined comment on the session when he talked briefly with newsmen on his second visit to his small frame house in a low-income section.

"The latest news will come out tomorrow and it's going to be me who makes the decision. You all will hear about it," Malone told newsmen.

Asked whether the news would occur here, Malone said, "No," then quickly amended the statement to "you'll have to find out."

Terms of the contract were hammered out Tuesday in negotiations between officials of the ABA team and Donald Dell, a Washington attorney retained to advise Malone, only the second player ever drafted directly from high school by a pro basketball team.

Wilt Chamberlain was drafted by the National Basketball Association's then Philadelphia Warriors out of Philadelphia's Oerbrook High School in 1955 but didn't go into pro ball until after playing at the University of Kansas.

Many college scouts have rated Malone the best high school player since 1955, when Kareem Abdul-Jabbar — then Lew Alcindor — was the nation's No. 1 prospect called for him to receive $125,000 a year for four years, $25,000 for signing, $25,000 for reporting to Utah's training camp and $60,000 to attend college, plus additional benefits.

Hughes Banks On ABL Spurs

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The San Antonio Spurs of the American Basketball Association say they may field one of the tallest front lines in the sport following the signing of 6-11 center Kim Hughes of the University of Wisconsin.

Hughes joins ABA rookie of the year Swen Nater and reserve center-forward Coby Dietrick at the 6-11 mark on the Spurs' roster.

The 235-pound Wisconsin leader in rebounding and scoring was a fourth-round draft choice. He had been picked in the third round by the rival National Basketball Association Buffalo Braves.

Hughes said he picked San Antonio because of the Spurs' coach and the San Antonio climate.

"San Antonio's weather is a factor since I am tired of having to worry about bad weather and bad health during the season," Hughes said.

Spurs coach Tom Nissalke lives in Wisconsin during the off-season.

Hughes' signing leaves the Spurs with 12 men on their roster, one over the ABA limit.

The Spurs made room for the other draft choice they signed, Collis Temple of Louisiana State, by waiving veteran forward Simmie Hill.

Hughes signed with San Antonio within the past week, but the announcement was delayed until Tuesday.

Terms of his contract were not disclosed by the Spurs.

In an interview with the San Antonio News, Hughes said he had agreed to a three-year contract with a no-cut clause the first year.

Hughes also told the newspaper he turned down another no-cut contract with the Braves to become a Spur.

Bengals Are Not Waiting

CINCINNATI (AP) — Division champions usually stand pat. Not the Cincinnati Bengals. "We're still developing our franchise," insists Coach Paul Brown, wily dean of National Football League coaches.

But the 65-year-old veteran of four decades of football isn't fooling anyone.

There'll be new faces, yes, but Brown is keeping his trump cards. And there are indications that the Bengals, youngest team in the NFL, have drawn to a full house.

Brown remains the perennial pessimist. "Last year's record doesn't mean a thing," says Brown as he enters his 40th season of coaching. "Every football team is at the mercy of the injury bug, so you can't put much bearing on records."

The Bengals overcame an injury-plagued start to win the AFC Central Division with a 10-4 record, finishing with six straight victories including a 27-0 rout of Super Bowl runnerup Minnesota.

"We know what we can do," says captain Royce Berry, one of the unheralded mainstays on the youth-accented club.

"There's nobody better in the NFL than Mike Reid at defensive tackle and Isaac Curtis as a receiver. And outside of O. J. Simpson, we think we've got the best backfield combination."

The bull-and-greyhound combination of AFC rookie-of-the-year Charles "Boobie" Clark and elusive Essex Johnson provided the thrust that propelled the Bengals into the playoffs against Miami.

WFL Storm To Travel Down Coast

The law of averages is on one side and the laws of logic on the other as the Portland Storm sweeps down the coast to play the California Sun in a meeting between the Western Division's last and first place teams.

The Storm and the Sun are as divergent as the weather patterns they were named for.

Portland's season has been a torrential downpour of six losses and one tie, while California has a bright 4-3 record, 1½ games ahead of runner-up Houston.

But form in football is about as dependable as weather predicting, so California Coach Tom Fears is wary of overdue when they haven't won," said Fears. "You never know when they might strike."

Portland Coach Dick Coury thinks the Storm's lightning will strike for the first time tonight.

"It will take our best effort of the season if we're going to beat the Sun," Coury said. "And I think we're ready for that after the Florida game."

Last week, the Storm dropped an 11-7 heart-breaker to the tough Florida Blazers, while California notched its second straight victory.

The California-Portland match-up is one of four World Football League games on tap tonight as the rookie league moves into its eighth week of play.

The rest of the schedule has the New York Stars meeting the Texans in the Houston Astrodome; the Florida Blazers hosting the Memphis Southmen; and the Detroit Wheels invading Philadelphia to play the Bell.

In Thursday night's nationally televised game, undisputed possession of first place in the Central Division is at stake when the Chicago Fire, 6-1, entertain the Birmingham Americans, 7-0.

Simonini Feels Aggies Better

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — If manual labor has anything to do with it, Texas A&M linebacker Ed Simonini should move up from second team Associated Press linebacker to the first team this year.

The 6-foot, 205-pound Simonini spent the summer on the operating end of a jackhammer breaking up concrete slabs. That was between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. After work, he wheeled over to the training room to lift some weights until 5:30 p.m. then ran in 100-degree heat around Kyle Field.

By sundown he was ready for the sack.

"That's why we will have a better team this year," said the junior from Las Vegas, Nev. "We have been working hard all summer."

Simonini said "Our people are working because they believe they have something to work for... something to look forward to."

He feels confident that the Aggies will be in the Cotton Bowl in January.

"That will be much nicer than last New Year's day," Simonini said. "My car ran out of gas at 2 a.m. in a snowstorm in Arizona. I almost froze to death before I found some gas."

Simonini said the mental aspect of football crippled the young Aggies to a certain extent last year.

"We will be better this year," he said. "The mental part of the game is a worry. That's the way games are won and lost."

King Responsible For Heavy Fight

NEW YORK (AP) — Don King quoted Elijah Muhammad, the Messenger of Allah, and the Koran to persuade Muhammad Ali to fight George Foreman for the world heavyweight championship.

"Remember the Koran said the black man will lead the world out of darkness," King said. "Elijah says we are at the turning point of history. Man, you can't run from this. This is destiny."

All puckered up his nose and smiled: "Okay, Judge, you got me. Now go get George."

George Foreman, the heavyweight champion, was more difficult. He refused to see anyone. He declined even to discuss a possible Ali-Foreman fight.

King flew to California and cooled his heels for three days while boxing promoters sought to penetrate Foreman's resistance. Then he found Foreman's hotel and took up residence in the lobby until the champion came in after a workout.

The black promoter and the fighter strolled the lonely beach in semidarkness, accompanied only by a large Doberman-Pinscher.

The walk and the conversation lasted nearly two hours.

"It was all done with a handshake," King said. "No involved contracts, no lawyers, no men with black satchels getting into the act. It was man against man. Blacks and blacks. Trust. Just trust."

Thus, the seed was sown for the most bizarre sports venture of the age. A former juvenile delinquent out of the Houston ghetto and a bombastic, powerty-spouting descendant of a Kentucky slave will enter the ring of a 100,000-seat soccer stadium in the heart of the old Belgian Congo in Africa at 3 o'clock in the morning Sept. 25 and fight 15 rounds or less for the heavyweight championship of the world.

This Weekend!

The World's Richest Horse Race.

The $1,030,000...

ALL AMERICAN FUTURITY

Join us for the exciting close of our most fabulous season ever! Great racing every day of the Labor Day weekend, featuring Monday's running of the World's Richest Horse Race.

This Labor Day weekend, all eyes turn to Ruidoso Downs... the Quarter Racing Capital of the World. This 5-day spectacle of the highest magnitude begins Thursday with a great 870-yard run for the money... the $5,000-added BRIGAND HANDICAP.

Friday's action is off to a fast start with the $4,000-added ROADRUNNER STAKES for three-year-old Thoroughbreds. Then the excitement builds to a fever pitch in the 440-yard ALL AMERICAN FUTURITY, 3rd Consolation.

By Saturday, you can almost taste the anticipation as the ALL AMERICAN FUTURITY, 2nd Consolation, gets underway. And the electricity carries through to the $60,000 (est) RUIDOSO THOROUGHBRED FUTURITY... a classic in its own right.

A Bad Day For Woman

One local woman had a bad day Tuesday. At 12:30 noon, she called local police that she saw a man exposing himself at NW 4th and Bell when she went to pick up her children at school. The same woman later called police that a burning bottle with a rag and some substance was placed outside her residence at 10:08 p.m.

A. L. Harrison New Fire Chief

Alvie L. Harrison, fire department captain who has worked for 27 years, was named Wednesday morning as the new chief to replace A. D. Meador, who retires Aug. 31. Meador has worked in the department for 36 1/2 years, all of which has been at Central Fire Station, plus his time as chief. Harrison, 57, is one of three captains in the department. Harrison was named captain in 1967 and had been made a lieutenant in 1956. He worked for the city street department from 1943 until he went in the Navy in 1945. He and his wife, Dolly, live at 1804 Young. They have one son, Rayford, who works for the Big Spring Herald.

A. D. MEADOR

OTHER CAPTAINS
There are two other captains in the fire department including Ellison Taylor and J. J. Willingham. The new chief will name the third captain. Meador's years of service with the department span a lot of Big Spring history. He was a volunteer fireman for two years, then joined the city department. "There were seven of us," he recalls "and now there are 47. We used to work 48 hours and then have off 24 and we now do just the opposite. We now work 24 and then have off 48." BIG FIRES
"I recall some big fires. I guess the cotton compress fire that burned for a week was the largest. There were also some big fires at Cosden, and then Wackers burned down." He also recalls Wooten's storehouse, the NCO Club on the base when it was a bombardier school, Douglas Furniture and Franklin's. "I've seen lots of people die in fires. I still remember how the first one shook me up. It was a maid living in a servant's quarters on Runnels Street.

Decides Deaths Of Cons 'Justifiable Homicide'

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A pathologist has concluded that the deaths of rebel state prison inmates Fred Gomez Carrasco and Rodolfo Dominguez were "justifiable homicide". The San Antonio Express said in its Wednesday edition. The Express said it obtained the contents of a written opinion by Dr. G. Sheldon Green, an assistant Harris County medical examiner who provided the information for authorities in Huntsville. In a portion of Green's report entitled a history of the two dead men, he said Carrasco and Dominguez "were shot and killed ... by security forces" when they died at the prison. Carrasco and Dominguez died in gunfire Aug. 3 in the climax of a 10-day prison holdout, the longest recorded in American penal history. Two hostages the pair and one other convict held also were killed. The disclosures by the Express conflict with the ruling of Walker County justice of the peace J.W. Beeler who said Carrasco and Dominguez committed suicide. The case has been complicated further by the allegations of a paroled inmate who said he witnessed the intervention by Texas Rangers and others when the convicts emerged from their library enclave to try to get to an armored car in the prison yard. The parolee, Henry Joseph Lewis, said officers kicked off Carrasco and Dominguez's protective helmets and shot them. The Express quoted Dr. Green's report as saying "It is my opinion that Fred Gomez Carrasco, came to his death as the result of a wound of the head, through and through—justifiable homicide."

Nab Huntsville Con In Attic

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — An escape from the Texas Department of Corrections in Huntsville has ended quietly with Lawrence J. Hall, 42, of San Antonio, returned to prison. Hall's escape was in marked contrast to a breakout attempt earlier this month from state prison by convict gunman Fred Gomez Carrasco and two colleagues. Carrasco, another convict and two hostages died in gunfire. Bexar County jail deputy Richard Ramos said Hall was transferred to the custody of prison officials about 1 p.m. Tuesday for the trip back to Huntsville. "You wouldn't have known he was an escapee if you didn't know him very well," Ramos said. Ramos described Hall as meek looking when prison authorities picked him up at the jail. Hall, a short bespectacled man, is serving a life sentence as a habitual criminal. He escaped last Wednesday in a prison official's car while working outside the prison walls. Police said cooperation

Innocent Pleas By Cotton Pros

DALLAS (AP) — A face possible penalties of from 92 to 137 years in prison. The partners owned the R. E. Huntley Cotton Co. in Vernon and several Oklahoma cotton warehouses. Robert Everett Huntley, Gipson F. Hemphill, and three of their employees pleaded innocent Monday in Dallas federal court to charges brought in an 18-count indictment. A Wichita Falls federal grand jury indicted the five July 16 on accusations of participating in a fraud scheme. The defendants had $8 million in bank drafts at one point which were covered by uncanceled warehouse receipts, forged checks or checks returned due to insufficient funds, the indictment charged. The indictment charges that Huntley secured a $1.3 million loan by pledging 7,095 bales of cotton, represented supposedly by 7,095 cotton warehouse receipts as collateral when only eight bales existed. According to the indictment, part of the scheme involved not canceling warehouse receipts of cotton sales so the receipts could be used later as security for the Vernon Bank loan. The bank closed earlier this year. Named as defendants were Huntley and Hemphill, partners in the cotton business, and their employees Alvin Leon May, Rex Gerald Kooztz, and Jay Robey Smith. The trial will be held in Wichita Falls. Asst. U. S. Atty. Mike Carnes said Hemphill and Huntley each face a possible 167 years in prison and $175,000 fine if found guilty. The other defendants
