

Sniper Kills Trio On Desert Road

INDIO, Calif. (AP) — A rifle-wielding sniper turned a lonely desert highway into a predawn trail of terror Saturday, overtaking holiday travelers, killing three persons and injuring six. Six hours and 105 miles later, a car matching the description of witnesses was pulled over about 25 miles west of Blythe, a Riverside County city on the California-Arizona border, and the driver was arrested without a struggle.

Los Angeles County Undersheriff Robert Presley said.

SHOELESS

Presley identified the man as Richard Harold Hicks, 34, of Tucson, Ariz. The unshaven, shoeless Hicks was silent as he was led to the county jail and booked for investigation of murder and assault with intent to commit murder.

The shootings occurred along Interstate 10, the main highway between Los Angeles and Phoenix. Officers said they were at a loss to determine a motive. They said Hicks would undergo a psychiatric examination.

Riverside County Sheriff's Capt. Cois Byrd said a .22-caliber sawed-off rifle and some expended cartridges were found in Hicks' car.

BLOOD

Officers said the sniper apparently chose his victims — many of them on Labor Day weekend outings at random, pulled alongside them on Interstate 10 and fired from his moving car. Ten separate shooting incidents were reported, they said.

"I heard a 'pap' like a .22 going off," said Leonard Ochoa, 25, of Bell Gardens, Calif., in relating one of the more terrifying incidents in the string of snipings. Ochoa said he looked at his father-in-law, Billy Tegarden, who was driving next to him. "I saw this blood pouring out of his head and he fell forward on the steering wheel. He just got covered with blood."

Tegarden and two other men were fatally shot in the head while driving along the desolate stretch of highway.

WELCOME BACK — Ronald J. Anderson, 31, greets his wife, Marion, on his return to Canada. Anderson, arrested by U.S. Customs officials at the border last Saturday, was returned after Canada protested that he was arrested on Canadian territory. Anderson is an accused U.S. Army deserter.

Violent Deaths Mount

By The Associated Press

The Texas violent death toll rose Saturday in the long Labor Day weekend count.

At a late hour, the death count had reached 11, with nine persons dying in traffic accidents.

The department of Public Safety forecast a toll of 34 in traffic alone during the holiday which ends at midnight Monday. The death count began at 6 p.m. Friday.

Latest reported deaths included: Michael A. Demario and Robert James White, both Ft. Hood soldiers, suffered fatal injuries at 1:05 a.m. Saturday on Interstate 35 within Temple's city limits.

Thomas Eugene Williams, 68, of Newcastle was killed in a two-car, head-on collision at 11 a.m. Saturday a mile east of Crosbyton. Martha Jane Tahamont, 21, of Sheppard Air Force Base at Wichita Falls, was killed in a car-truck collision at 11:10 p.m. Friday, 1.5 miles north of Alford in Wise County.

Five Big Unfinished Jobs Await Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five big unfinished jobs await Congress' return from a long Labor Day recess, but there is little chance all will be completed when the 93rd Congress expires at the year's end.

THE TAX LAWS

The five are: —Confirmation of Nelson A. Rockefeller as vice president, which is expected. —Revision of the tax laws to give a break to inflation-pressed lower-income taxpayers and spur lagging investment. House leaders insist their chamber will act; the outlook in the Senate is dimmer.

Shootout In Texas

WAXAHACHIE, Tex. (AP) — A man despondent over recent deaths in his family began firing from his home Saturday, wounding three persons before being shot himself by police.

Among those hit were a police officer and a four-year-old child. Johnny Williams, 63, was taken into custody, suffering superficial facial and chest wounds and a wound in the right toe.

He was lodged in the Ellis County jail after medical treatment. Police officer Larry Bright, one of the first to respond to a trouble call, was shot through the right lung as he approached the house. He was in fair condition after surgery.

Also wounded were a neighbor, Melvin Douthit, and his four-year-old grandson, Michael Tomeline, 4, of Mesquite. They were transferred to a Dallas hospital but were not seriously hurt.

They were shot while standing on their porch about 30 yards across from Williams' house. Williams' wife said her husband had been despondent because his mother and other relatives had passed away recently.

Elis County sheriff's units also responded to the shooting call. Mrs. Williams told reporters the gunfire lasted about 25 minutes. Officers managed to apprehend Williams after he was shot in the toe.

Thief Hits Coahoma For $800

Law officials were seeking a thief last seen one mile west of Coahoma on the railroad tracks just before dark Saturday.

Earlier, the man had been seen jumping a fence outside a trailer house next door to the West Arco Station.

Steve McCarty, who was operating the station while his father is having surgery in Galveston, related that he was in the process of closing the station and had taken a money bag with the receipts to a mobile home and returned to the station to lock up.

Reported missing was between $800 and $900 and a wristwatch. Two acquaintances of McCarty saw the youth go over the fence and stopped him to ask who he was.

The suspect was reported to have given them a possible fictitious name and when asked if he knew Steve said, "Yes."

They went to the station and reported the incident to McCarty who rushed next door and discovered that the money was missing. Sheriff's deputies searched in the area until it was too dark to locate anyone and returned to take statements from the victim.

compromise between a far-reaching measure passed by the Senate and a more restricted House bill is expected. —Revival of presidential authority to conclude international trade agreements, under conditions that would further improve economic relations and general detente with the Soviet Union. The chances have improved with reports that efforts to work out a compromise on the sticky issue of Soviet emigration policies, in particular toward Jewish people, are going forward.

How close the lawmakers come to clearing their desks depends considerably on whether they are willing to come back after the November election for a clean-up session. Some sources say it is inevitable. Others hope to avoid a "lame-duck" meeting, in which defeated and retiring members would participate.

CLEAR DAYS

National weather forecast for this area predicts diminishing of cloudiness and clear days. High today and Monday in mid 90s, low tonight, near 70. Winds from the south at 10-20 miles per hour.

The World At-A-Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford asked Congress to defer for 90 days an October pay increase for 3.5 million federal employees. He also said he will push ahead with a plan to cut 40,000 jobs from the government payroll. In a message to Congress, Ford said the two moves taken together would lop about $1 billion from the federal budget for the current fiscal year that started July 1. Stressing the need for tougher action against inflation, the President said: "The federal government is taking an essential first step in holding down the federal budget and showing the way of 'restraint by all Americans.'"

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army reported that Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, Army chief of staff, has lost some ground in his fight to overcome the effects of serious blood clots. It issued a statement saying that Army doctors "are concerned over an apparent slowdown" in Abrams' recovery. Abrams, whose cancerous left lung was removed in surgery nearly three months ago, was readmitted to Walter Reed Medical Center two weeks ago.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford played 18 holes of golf at Burning Tree Country Club to begin the Labor Day weekend holiday. His trio of golfing partners included Dr. Robert Barter, a George Washington University Hospital surgeon; Bill Whyte, a vice president of U.S. Steel who is helping in the administration's transition effort, and a man identified as Jack Mills. Ford later traveled by helicopter to the presidential retreat at Camp David, Md.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Members of the Associated Milk Producers Inc. approved by a nearly unanimous vote Saturday a plan to recover funds illegally made to political campaigns. The organization was fined $35,000 on Aug. 1 after pleading guilty to conspiracy to violate the federal Corrupt Practices Act and five other charges linked with illegal campaign contributions. Part of the AMPI board of directors' recovery plan is a suit filed to recover $100,000 allegedly held by the Committee to Re-elect the President. The resolution, approved by delegates at the cooperative's weekend meeting here, also would direct recovery suits against some former employees of AMPI who were allegedly coconspirators in the transfer of funds.

DETROIT (AP) — Numbed by what it calls the most turbulent year in automotive history, General Motors has pledged its largest capital outlay ever as proof of its confidence in the future. GM Chairman Richard C. Gerstenberg forecast motor vehicle sales would be about 13 million during the upcoming 1975 model year and said his confidence is confirmed by "our record capital development" for new model cars. Altogether the corporation is expected to spend $1.4 billion in 1974 for capital improvements, $100 million more than Gerstenberg forecast GM would spend during 1974. The record was $1.32 billion spent in 1965.

Train Tragedy Kills At Least 150 Persons

ZAGREB, Yugoslavia (AP) — An express train carrying homeward-bound vacationers sped through a red light at the Zagreb station and flipped over, killing an estimated 150 persons and injuring 150 more, officials said Saturday. Nearly 24 hours after the train crashed Friday night, rescue workers were still digging through the tangle of overturned railroad cars, scattered luggage and dismembered bodies. The acrid smell of smoke, burnt rubber and death hung heavy in Zagreb station.

The morgue at Zagreb, Yugoslavia's second largest city with a metropolitan area population of more than half a million, was unable to cope with all the dead. Ambulances carried scores of bodies to morgues in other cities.

EARTHQUAKE

The train's engineer and his assistant were arrested on suspicion that neglect had caused the accident, the worst rail disaster in Yugoslavia's history, officials said. An investigating commission said the train had been traveling at more than 55 miles an hour when it jumped off the rails, instead of the maximum permitted speed of 31 m.p.h.

Witnesses said the locomotive snapped loose and roared into the station. "The crash felt like an earthquake," one of the survivors recalled. "There was a child in my compartment crying. I grabbed his hand and pulled him out alive with me."

Another passenger said three of the six persons in his compartment were killed when the crash overturned the car. They were in. He said he managed to climb out, his clothes soaked with blood.

I'M ALIVE

"I'm alive, I'm alive — that's all I know," he said.

Most of the more than 600 persons aboard the Belgrade-to-Dortmund train were vacationing Yugoslav workers returning to their jobs in West Germany, railroad sources said.

Bodies and luggage littered the tracks, cranes lifted chunks of debris and rescue workers frantically cut through the tangled steel with torches in their search for more victims.

The Yugoslav government proclaimed a day of mourning.

Medical experts sped to Zagreb from other Yugoslav cities to help local doctors identify the bodies.

Texas Ranger Draws Duty In Big Spring

The first Texas Ranger ever assigned here formally began his duties today.

He is George Frazier, a former Texas Highway Patrolman, who has moved here from Odessa. His starting salary will be $968 a month.

Frazier's promotion was announced by Col. Wilson E. Spier, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

A native of Gorman, Frazier attended public schools in Odessa and graduated from Odessa High School in 1957. He is 35 years of age. Frazier has been employed by the Texas Department of Public Safety for seven years as a patrolman. He started his assignment in Andrews. Prior to that, he was a police officer with the City of Odessa for six years and the City of Midland for one.

Frazier and his wife, Faye, have four children. They are Rusty, 14; Johnny, 12; Scotty, 7; and Debbie, 6. Ranger assignments in Big Spring have been handled out of the Midland office in the past.

AWAITING MARCH ORDERS — Texas National Guardsmen from the area wait for the "march order" which sent them to the field on eight-inch, self-propelled howitzers. Members of the 3rd Battalion, 133rd Field Artillery, returned Saturday from Fort Sill, Okla., after

Reviewing the . . . Big Spring Week

with Joe Pickle

"Never have I seen it try harder and do less," one of our acquaintances observed about the weather during the past 10 days. Thunderstorms made up almost every day, but little or nothing came of it, although areas south and east of here had flash floods. Lakes got almost nothing — Lake Thomas about held its own for the week; Lake E. V. Spence gained a couple of inches. Showers have been so spotted that ranchers had some tanks filled, yet others bone dry on the same places.

The season was reflected somewhat in ginning of the first bale. Aubrey Weaver produced it from 60 acres of cotton just north of town, than gathered enough for another bale. Some 35 or 40 years ago he produced a first bale also. There was more than just being first in his gathering. He wanted to get off the open bales to let the other cotton get maximum use of moisture. Friday Clyde Eager bought the season's first milo at $5.50, but it only made about 500 pounds to the acre on the Hillger farm.

The bi-centennial commission is beginning to take shape with two excellent co-chairmen heading the effort. They are Johnny Lou Avery and Janelle Davis, who named George Zachariah, Margaret Lloyd, Mary Joy Cowper, Charles Bell and others to key posts. A steering committee meeting will be set for Sept. 17.

Gin Cotton, Harvest South Plains Sorghum

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)— Rains over the High Plains and part of Central Texas last week finally broke the drought in those areas, Dr. John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says.

Harvesting of corn, cotton and sorghum is nearing completion in South Texas, Hutchison said. Corn harvesting is also complete in North Central Texas, where only a few fields of sorghum remain to be harvested, he said.

GRAZING

The first bale of cotton has been ginned in the South Plains and early sorghum is being harvested, Hutchison said. Planting of wheat and oats is increasing over the northern half of the state, especially for providing livestock grazing, he said.

The recent rains have given a boost to livestock conditions, Hutchison said, but grazing conditions are still mostly below normal and stock water remains short in much of the western half of the state.

District agricultural agents gave these reports:

South Plains: Some sorghum is being harvested. The first bale of cotton has been ginned, but the actual cotton harvesting season is some time off.

Harvesting of vegetables is about complete. The rains should help poor range conditions.

PECAN SCAB

Rolling Plains: The dry weather is continuing to put pressure on crops and ranges. Some pecans are shedding due to the drought and pecan scab disease. A little hay is being baled but growth has been limited severely by the drought. Stock water remains short in some counties.

Far West: El Paso County has received good rains but the rest of the area is still dry. Hail damaged some crops in the El Paso area. Fall gardening activities are increasing. Range conditions are improving where rains have fallen.

West Central: Sorghum harvesting is active with fair yields. Cotton is generally making good growth. The peanut crop looks good but needs more rain. Apples are being harvested in Gillespie County.

RAIN NEEDED

Southwest: Corn is being harvested. Yields are above average. The early peanut crop also is being harvested. Carrots are being planted. Squash, peas and tomatoes are making good progress. Rain is needed for pastures. Fall shearing of sheep and goats is under way.

South: Harvest operations are moving toward completion. Cotton and sorghum yields have been good. Corn yields are fair to good. Land preparation and planting of fall vegetables is active.

There Goes The Old Ball Game

CITY OF COMMERCE, Calif. (AP)— Tennis anyone? If you need balls, a thief has 32,256 of them. Now sheriff's deputies are trying to find out who he is and where he's got them.

A spokesman said the man entered the Wilson Sporting Goods Warehouse in this Los Angeles suburb Wednesday. He brandished a .32-caliber revolver, tied up four employees and two customers.

With the help of a companion, deputies said, the man then climbed aboard a warehouse forklift and spent one hour loading 448 cases of tennis balls into a rented truck. Then he sped away. Nothing else was taken, a spokesman said.

Disguised Cops Seek To Become 'Victims'

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)— They didn't look like cops. Not the drunk who stumbled from bar to bar, nor the hippie, nor the old man with a bandaged foot who hobbled about on a crutch.

STALKED
But all are Albuquerque policemen who stalked the downtown area recently in hopes of being robbed. Police officials credit the special detail with capturing 14 strong-arm robbery suspects in the two weeks it was on the street. "We had officers made up to appear as old drunk men, Indians and long-haired individuals in an effort to cut down on a projected rise in strong-arm robberies in the downtown area," said a member of the detail.

ASSAULTED
"Many of the persons that were caught still don't realize they robbed a cop," said Lt. John Nelson. He said many of the robbers refused to believe their victim was a policeman even after being shown identification.

Each of the undercover policemen carried a radio and a pistol. Generally, they remained in sight of backup officers although on one occasion a decoy officer was assaulted and robbed before assisting officers were even in position.

"We hadn't even had a chance to set it up and we were hit," one of the officers said. One of the two robbers got away. "We are not showing money; we are not dangling it in front of anyone and we are not trying to entice anyone," Nelson said. "Our men are disguised to fit the profile of the typical victim of an armed robbery in that area."

HARD TIME

Nelson said the disguised police officers make much better court witnesses than real victims. "We have had a hard time getting strong-arm robbery victims to give us accurate descriptions," he said. "If they rob policemen we have fewer problems with prosecution."

Tax Rate Will Remain Same

LAMESA— Dawson County commissioners have adopted a 1975 budget calling for expenditures of $1,536,824.

The budget allows for a $234,042.78 balance at the end of the fiscal year. The county tax rate will continue at $1.20 per $100 valuation.

Marcos' Regime Under Catholic Church Siege

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — President Ferdinand E. Marcos' two-year-old martial law regime is under heavy siege by the Roman Catholic Church, Muslim insurgents and citizens demanding more civil rights.

Archbishop Jaime L. Sin of Manila, in one of the firmest acts of criticism of the government so far, has scheduled a prayer vigil Sunday to seek more justice for political prisoners.

Although the Archbishop insists the vigil in the Manila Cathedral is not aimed at Marcos, it is expected to provide the first public show of opposition to the president-imposed martial law in September 1972.

'BOLD STEPS' The vigil will take place one day before Archbishop Sin and other officials of the Catholic Bishops Conference of the Philippines are scheduled to deliver a letter to Marcos that Church sources say asks the president to take "bold steps" to gradually lift martial law. In the heavily Muslim south, insurgents have intensified their warfare against economic targets. They appear to be able to strike at will and have created a long list of bloody ambushes throughout Mindanao, the country's second largest island.

Fearing another Vietnam here, Marcos continues to insist he will not permit the armed forces to impose a military solution on the two-year insurgency. Islamic foreign ministers gave the movement impetus last June by demanding a conference in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, that the Philippines seek negotiations with the Moro National Liberation Front, a major rebel movement. Nearly 20,000 troops are tied up in the fighting in the south.

But at the same time, the armed forces say they will continue arming civilians to protect them in the south, where half the eight million population of Mindanao is Christian. Moslems are estimated at about two million with the remainder pagan tribal people.

More than 80 per cent of the Philippines' 40 million population is Roman Catholic.

Lawyers have pressed for decisions by the Supreme Court on cases pending since martial law was imposed on petitions for writs of habeas corpus by detainees. Court sources said such decisions may be delivered within two weeks and touch on the legality of the constitution Marcos proclaimed under martial law in January 1973.

Burdell For President Drive Lags

Paris, Tex. (AP) — J. W. Burdell of Sherman brought his campaign for the presidency here this past week still upset that people aren't taking him seriously.

The scene of his campaigning was Barrett's Night Club where he stood in a corner, glass in hand, for most of the evening.

No one really knew of his presence or mission until the musicians introduced him to the crowd and sang "J.W.'s Campaign Song."

He heads his own Unity party. His vice presidential running mate is Dorice Wright, a black.

"The blacks have been held back so long that when one finally gets some recognition, they'll support him," said Burdell. "And a vote for the vice president is a vote for the 'President.'"

Burdell, 40, so far has escaped any campaign contributions investigations by the numerous Watergate committees. As of a week ago, his war chest had accumulated $35.

The candidate says he's always wanted to be president but was happy with the way most of them were handling things. Then, says Burdell, he got tired of "big, high officials taking money under the table."

And as inflation spiraled, so did his frustration. "Prices started going up and everybody started striking and wanting more money. And then they started freezing this and freezing that. They just got things in such an uproar that people didn't know which way to go."

Burdell says his wife of 19 years doesn't resent his taking a leave from his job as a welder to run.

"That's your baby. You rock it," she said me," Burdell said.

Former Citrus Exec Sentenced

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — The former officer manager for a Lower Rio Grande Valley citrus association was sentenced to seven years in prison Friday on a federal charge of interstate transportation of stolen securities.

Charles W. Stenholm, Stamford, has announced that he will seek the post of state Democratic committeeman for the 30th Senatorial District. He is seeking the position which L. C. "My support in this race is broadbased, gauged by those who have encouraged me to run," he said. "I have supported Gov. Dolph Briscoe over the past several years and have been active in working for Democrats in many other races. I support Sen. Lloyd Bentsen for president in 1976. $8 Million Groce Suit In Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — The widow of popular singer Jim Groce has filed an $8 million suit in federal court here seeking damages against the companies that operated the airplane in which Groce was killed. Ingrid Groce was joined by heirs of four other persons killed in the Sept. 20, 1973, plane crash.

The suit filed Friday with U.S. District Court Judge Sarah T. Hughes names Bromley Corp. of Dallas, doing business as Roberts Airways, and Mustang Aviation as defendants. The other heirs represent Maurice Muehleisen, Dennis Rast, Georg Stevens III, and Kenneth Cortes, also killed when the Beechcraft E185 crashed into a tree on take off from the Nachitoches, La. municipal airport.

The suit claims that Robert Newton Elliott, was "incompetent as a pilot, displayed bad judgment in flying techniques, and his physical abilities were impaired. The defendants should have been aware of these circumstances, the suit says. Mrs. Groce is asking for $5 million for herself and their son Adrian. The singer-composer of "Bad, Bad Leroy Brown", "Time in a Bottle" and other hits had just achieved national prominence at the time of the plane crash.

Trouble, Trouble

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The early morning hours were pretty frustrating to a 35-year-old man. Officers L. B. Barksdale and K. R. Clark spotted the man in the early hours standing on a bridge over the Trinity River. They pulled up and asked him what he was doing. He said he was going to jump. He'd jumped once before, he confided, but all he got for his effort was broken ribs. Pretty frustrating.

But, said the man, he might be willing to negotiate his plans for a wee sip of liquor. Something like a whole bottle.

A policeman headed for some place or other as if he were going for the liquor, although policemen are not supposed to know any liquor stores open at the illegal hour of 3 or 4 a.m.

New Barn Readied

Additional details for the 1974 Howard County Fair, Sept. 16-21, were handled by the executive board meeting Thursday afternoon in the county extension offices. Provision was made for certain exhibits materials, lighting and advertising. Construction of the new 100x120-ft. Fair building, given the Fair Association by the Dora Roberts Foundation, is progressing rapidly, James (Buddy) Barr, president, said. It is due to be completed well in advance of the Fair opening. Johnnie Walker said that materials for a cyclone fence, enclosing area around and adjacent to the county's buildings, are on the ground. The 20th Century Shows of Dallas will operate the carnival concession this year. During the Fair, the Shrine Circus will be held in the rodeo bowl.

Rose To Speak At Water Meet

Gen. James M. Rose, the man in Texas government who has carried the brunt of the load for Gov. Briscoe through the energy crisis and is now directing the course the governor will follow in efforts to solve the state's water problems, will meet with the directors of Water, Inc., in Lubbock Wednesday. The meeting is slated at 1:30 p.m. in the fifth floor meeting room of the First National-Pioneer building. Gov. Limits Quiz About Rape Victim's Prior Sex Life

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Harassing questions about a rape victim's prior sex life will no longer be permitted in California trials under a new state law. Calling the measure a landmark change in the state's 100-year-old rape statutes, Gov. Ronald Reagan signed the legislation Friday. It strictly limits courtroom interrogation of victims. Supporters said the bill would reduce the embarrassment and intimidation that keeps many rape victims from reporting the crimes. "The jury tears her apart if she's had a boyfriend or has had sex in the past. We contend that's not relevant to whether she's been raped," said Geraldine Greenwood, a lobbyist for the National Organization for Women.

"The man's sexual history is not considered relevant to the trial, so the woman's shouldn't be."

Under the law effective Jan. 1, testimony about an alleged rape victim's prior sexual conduct cannot be introduced in a trial until a special hearing is held.

Guilty Of Extortion In Kidnaping Editor

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — William A. H. Williams, convicted of extortion in the kidnaping of Atlanta Constitution editor Reg Murphy, has been given a 40-year prison sentence. U.S. District Judge

William O'Kelley handed down the sentence Friday after Williams read the court a statement tearfully saying he would not seek mercy. Murphy, 40, was released unharmed after being held nearly 50 hours last February. Cox Enterprises, Inc., owners of the Constitution, paid $700,000 ransom, which was recovered when Williams was arrested at his home in nearby Lilburn, Ga., hours after Murphy's release.

Tyrus Atkinson Jr., Williams' attorney, contended during the seven-day trial that his client was innocent by reason of insanity. Judge O'Kelley recommended but did not order psychiatric treatment for Williams in prison.

Williams' wife, Betty, was sentenced by federal Judge Newell Edenfield to three years probation after she changed her plea from innocent to guilty on the charge of failure to report a crime.

Mom Tearfully Pleads For Return Of Her Son

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "He's all I've got," the trembling 22-year-old woman tearfully told a news conference, called to plead for the return of her 5-year-old son, missing for seven days. Joann O'Connor, who was 23 today, struggled here to tell whoever wanted you all to come here is to tell whoever has Ronnie how much we want him back," the Los Angeles County sheriff's office in a petite, pale, exhausted woman began.

"We definitely do feel in our hearts that he's alive and okay and that he's safe. I just want to tell whoever he's with now that he's very important to me, that he's"

She paused to choke back tears, then: "that he's all I've got. And that I love him so very much."

Her son, Ronald, was last seen at 3 p.m. last Saturday.

Part Owner Of Yankees Fined For Gift Coverup

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — George M. Steinbrenner III, majority owner of baseball's New York Yankees, has been fined $15,000 for illegally contributing to former President Richard M. Nixon's re-election campaign and trying to cover it up.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Sunday, Sept. 1, 1974 7-A

District Judge Leroy J. Contie Jr.

Steinbrenner, 43, said there would be no appeal of the judgement. He could have been sentenced to up to six years in prison.

He pleaded guilty Aug. 23 to conspiring to violate federal election laws and devising a false and misleading explanation for a $25,000 contribution by the company to the Committee to Reelect the President.

Steinbrenner is also majority owner of the Chicago Bulls basketball team and has interests in horse racing tracks. As a felon, he could be required to sell his shares of the Yankees and Bulls.

Baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn said in a statement that Williams had requested a meeting and that there would be no action on Steinbrenner before that meeting.

CENTRAL TEXAS — 20 Homeowners in this area will be given the opportunity to have the new United States Steel finish on their homes. It will be of special interest to homeowners who are fed up with costly repainting, for new United States Steel is ideally suited for the Texas climate as it will not mildew, peel, crack, fade or chalk, for the life of the building.

UNITED STATES STEEL finish has been developed after years of extensive research and testing.

UNITED STATES STEEL carries a written 30-year guarantee (labor and materials)—can be applied over any type of home: wood frame, stucco, asbestos or brick. This new U.S. Steel and Vinyl finish has excellent insulating properties which will make the home warmer in cold, damp weather.

U.S. STEEL VYNASOL paneling has been advertised nationally in LOOK and LIFE Magazines. Homeowners who act now will receive special decorative work at no additional cost. Please call collect 915-949-3110 and ask for Mr. Ron Fox. An appointment will be made to see your house with no obligation. Please act at once. Out of town calls welcome.

Helped Smuggle Pistols Into Huntsville Prison?

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Authorities Saturday arrested a man they say helped smuggle the pistols used by a dozen persons hostage for 11 days in an attempted breakout from the Texas prison here.

Admits Guilt In $127,000 Extortion Plot

DALLAS (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge Robert Hill sentenced William Wade Fulfer for two years in prison Friday for conspiring to extort $127,000 from Braniff International President C.E. Acker last March 24.

Fulfer, who pleaded guilty to a charge that he wrote a letter threatening to destroy control tower at Dallas-Fort Worth Airport, could have been sentenced up to 14 years and fined $11,000.

Judge Hill specified that Fulfer be sent to a federal penitentiary where he can receive treatment for what his lawyer called "a long drinking history."

"I find it simply incredible that you have a record of 11 driving while intoxicated offenses and have served only 120 days in jail," the judge told Fulfer.

Fulfer had testified at the May trial of Gerry Lynn Orrick that he had been drinking when he wrote the extortion letter to Braniff and when he offered Orrick $1,000 to pick up a potato sack at a Goodwill box.

Orrick, who was arrested by FBI agents when he picked up the sack, was acquitted at that trial.

'The Game' Horrible

NEW YORK (AP) — Thirteen-year-old Nelson Cresbe is yet another New York boy to play "the game" — and lose. He was crushed between a Queens apartment house elevator and the shaft while trying to ride on the roof of the elevator. After he had climbed out on top through a hatch, a friend pushed the down button. Cresbe's clothing apparently was caught somehow and the accident resulted. Police say a number of youths have died in Queens under similar circumstances in recent years.

Bill Foil Will Lead Revival At Air Base

Webb AFB will have Protestant revival services Sept. 8-11 at the Base Chapel. Services will begin at 7 p.m. according to Chaplain Lt. Col. Jimmie D. Baggett, installation chaplain.

The Revival will actually kick off Sept. 7 with the men's prayer breakfast at 8 a.m. in the chapel annex, and the youth will have a special program at 7 p.m. The Evangelist will be Rev. Bill Foil of Canyon, Texas. Foil has worked with young people over a period of years. He has been a very popular speaker and conference leader.

He is highly sought as a banquet speaker for youth and athletes. He has conducted many youth revivals, and recently conducted a Preaching Mission at Cannon AFB, N.M. He is a member of the Canyon

POSSIBLE ROLE

Police in San Antonio Saturday arrested Benito Gonzalez Alonzo, 39, a former inmate of the prison, then flew him to Huntsville. He was charged Friday in Huntsville with capital murder.

Prison officials say Alonzo has served a prison sentence for theft. A prison official, who asked that he not be named, said they have evidence that Alonzo delivered the three pistols to another inmate, Lawrence J. Hall.

Hall had been questioned about a possible role in the escape. Shortly after his questioning, he escaped from the prison but was captured Monday in San Antonio at his home.

Hall was a trustee who worked outside the prison unit during the day. He has not been charged in the Carrasco escape attempt.

The prison official said Alonzo obtained the guns from George Cisneros, 30, of San Antonio, who obtained them from three other men who have been charged with buying the guns for Carrasco.

STILL AT LARGE

Cisneros has been charged with capital murder in the case and is still at large. Also charged with capital murder are two San Antonio brothers, Don Michael Colsten and William Henley Colsten and Jimmy Dan Brown. The Colsten's and Brown are in jail in Huntsville.

Carrasco's wife, Rosa, has been charged with aiding and abetting his escape. She is at large. Hostages Elizabeth Yvonne Beseda and Julia Standley, workers in the prison library where the hostages were held 11 days, were shot to death in the escape attempt Aug. 3.

Carrasco and a confederate, Rodolfo Dominguez, also died in the gunfire while the third inmate involved in the escape attempt, Ignacio Cuevas, was not injured. He also is charged with capital murder, which carries the death penalty.

Ribbon-Cutting Rite Scheduled

MIDLAND — The ribbon-cutting ceremony marking the formal opening of the new federal building and post office complex here has been set for Friday, Sept. 6, at 3 p.m. Congressman George Mahon will be the featured speaker.

Start Term

Howard College begins a new term — its 29th — with a new president, Dr. Charles Hays, this week.

Dormitories open at 2 p.m. Monday, and freshman orientation is set for Tuesday morning in the college auditorium. That afternoon sophomores register at the college library, followed by evening students from 6-8:30 o'clock. Freshmen and all others register Wednesday morning, afternoon and evening. Classes begin Thursday.

Pre-registration for classes at the Lamesa and the San Angelo centers was held last week. In-service workshops for faculty members got underway Thursday under the direction of Ben Johnson, assistant to the president.

Morton Ailing

Lester Morton, former president of the First National Band here, is in the Ector County Memorial Hospital where he underwent lung surgery Monday. His condition was regarded as satisfactory but serious.

LAST RIDE — E. C. Casey steps down from the locomotive for the last time of his career Thursday as he retired after 45 years of driving the trains. He arrived in Big Spring at 11:17 a. m. from El Paso, his last trip. He began working for the Texas and Pacific Railroad in 1926 in the water service.

Big Spring Guard Unit Back Home

The 3rd Battalion of the 133rd Field Artillery of the Texas National Guard returned home from two weeks of training at Fort Sill, Okla., Saturday.

Headquartered in El Paso, the 3rd Battalion is commanded by Lt. Col. Johnnie P. Hooper of Big Spring and includes batteries in El Paso, Odessa, Midland and Lamesa with a detachment in Big Spring. At Fort Sill, members of the battalion trained with the M110 eight-inch, self-propelled howitzer, which will replace the 155 mm, towed howitzer the battalion formerly utilized.

Annual summer training this year was conducted separately from other units of the Texas National Guard's 49th Armored Division, and the battalion attracted numerous general and field grade officers.

Maj. Gen. Thomas A. Bishop, Adjutant General of the Texas National Guard, watched the 3rd battalion conduct fire missions.

Among other visitors were Maj. Gen. James Moreland, Commander of the 49th Armored Division; Brig. Gen. Otto Scherz, Assistant Division Commander; Col. W. D. Hill, Commander of 49th Armored Division Artillery; Col. Dingle of State Headquarters; Col. A. B. Black, Assistant Inspector General for the Texas National Guard; Lt. Col. Paul Biediger, Fire Support Coordinator of 49th Armored Division Artillery; and Lt. Col. Clarence Lucas.

Brig. Gen. Scherz said, "I was really pleased to see some of my old friends in the Big Spring unit again. I was closely tied up with them 15 or 16 years ago."

Speaking of all the batteries in the 3rd battalion, Col. Hill commented: "The attitude and enthusiasm of these troops was outstanding."

Lt. Col. Hooper agreed: "I was well pleased with the program of the battalion. This is our best summer encampment in several years."

"Training was outstanding, and morale was very high. We felt like being able to come to Fort Sill for this training was an invaluable experience."

Classroom instruction provided mostly by the staff of the Fort Sill Field Artillery School started training. The U.S. Army's 2nd battalion of the 18th Field Artillery loaned equipment and men for the field training which followed.

Courageous Ceola Cinch To Wheel And Deal Now

By MARJ CARPENTER
"It's too good to be true and I hope nobody comes to take it away."

That's what Mrs. Ceola Burkhardt, 600 Elgin, said this week about receiving an anonymous gift of an electric wheelchair with "all the trimmings."

Back in May, the Big Spring Herald ran a feature about Ceola and her long battle with the aftermath of polio, which she had when she was six years old.

She was struggling with an old electric wheelchair that she purchased in 1957 and which was wearing out. It was getting to the point where she could not get parts and she was using it as sparingly as possible in order to make it last.

HOPING FOR BEST

Ceola was saving pennies and dimes toward a new one and hoping for the best. Her ability to get around alone had become limited to the area from her home to the nearby College Shopping Center.

A local teacher brought the new one to her home this month, but told her, "This is from anonymous friends."

"I think it may have been Santa Claus," Ceola smiled. "For a few days, I worried about who had sent it, but I am enjoying it so much that I decided just to be grateful."

The new vehicle allows her a 25-mile radius on a charge-up of the battery.

This means she can negotiate over a wider part of the town. She can now get over to her church which is St. Paul's Lutheran on Scurry.

They were planning to construct a ramp for her where she can wheel right

NEW WHEELS FOR CEOLA — Mrs. Ceola Burkhardt, 600 Elgin, was surprised by an anonymous gift of a new electric wheelchair replacing one that she had for many years which was "worn out."

into the church. WONDERFUL TIME "When I was discouraged when I was a child, my father instilled in me the idea to never give up."

"Certainly this gift came at a wonderful time. I was really beginning to worry about that old wheelchair. I didn't want to become completely dependent. I would like to be able to go about on my own."

Ceola has fortitude, drive and spirit — and this week in Big Spring, that spirit soared on new wheels.

Rail Engineer Ends Career With T & P

"Old Casey" was a railroad man, and just like his namesake, he took his last train ride. But unlike Casey Jones who, according to legend died in a train crash, E. C. Casey of Big Spring retired after driving trains for more than 40 years.

Casey enjoyed his work for the entire 45 years he served the Texas and Pacific Railroad, he recalled Thursday after arriving at the Big Spring T&P Depot from El Paso after driving the train for the last time.

He drove the first leg of the El Paso to Chicago run before turning the train over to another crew to take it farther down the line.

Waiting to meet him when he stepped off the train for the last time were several close friends and family members.

Casey, 70, began working for Texas and Pacific in 1926 in the water service with the old steam locomotives and he retired here on August 29, 1974 as Chief Engineer.

"I've been in several wrecks in those years and turned over a few cars, but I never was injured on the job," he recalled. "I was never off from work because of illness, either," he said, noting that the only time he required hospitalization was during a vacation.

From his initial duties in the water service, he transferred to the round-house shop in 1927 and shortly thereafter, became a fireman on a train.

He served in that capacity until 1931 when he was dismissed due to the depression. He worked for three years in the oil fields and was recalled to service.

Since that time, he has been engineering trains out of the Big Spring Depot.

He served as chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers for nine years and has been Chief Engineer for the past eight years.

Now that he has retired, he plans to spend some time at his cabin on the lake, fishing and hunting and he also plans to visit his children and grandchildren.

Casey has two children, Mickey Casey of Austin and Mrs. LaKue Loveless, Big Spring. He has eight grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Last Sunday, First Methodist had a unique guest speaker, the Rev. Arthur Hoyle of England, an exchange pastor here many, many years ago, he was exchanging again in the States and came "home" to visit).

THE WEEK

The Bible Fund appeal heads into its final week with about one-fourth of the goal yet to be realized. Many may have delayed giving, but now is the time.

Howard College kicks off its 29th session this week, and there is a prospect of a good enrollment. Dorms open Monday afternoon, and registration starts Tuesday afternoon, classes on Thursday. Dr. Charles Hays, new president, is due today.

This also will be a big week for United Way, which launches its push for a $121,777 goal on Friday. Dub Pearson has called for divisional workers, team captains and others to be on hand for a Friday breakfast, and Janet Snodgrass has convoked the women for a kick-off tea the same morning.

John C. Neff, president of Hospital Corporation of America, which is building the new Malone & Hogan Hospital, came here for his first visit since the days when he dropped practice bombs at a target almost where the new facility is rising just below Scenic Mountain. He seemed genuinely pleased, especially with a Western style hat given to him at a luncheon affair.

A spin-off of this luncheon was his recognition of Mrs. Tom (Deidra) Whatley, as the Division VII winner of the employe of the year award. It was learned that she also has been named the national winner, quite an honor for her and her hospital, the first year it was in the system.

For a score of years Big Spring had only one fire chief. But when he retired a few years ago, A. D. Meador took his place. Now he has retired after 27 years in the department, being succeeded by A. L. Harrison.

Arch Carson died last week, having achieved his life's ambition to be a doctor like his father. He was 41 years old and district supervisor here for the Texas DPW when he was accepted for medical school and began the gruelling course which led to earning his medical spurs. Another of the really old timers, Mrs. R. V. Guthrie, died Friday at age 95.

The Permian Basin Planning Commission has given its blessing of a $73,500 grant to Howard County for acquiring adequate fire fighting equipment for the county airport. This calls for rolling equipment, plus a shelter for it.

A sub-committee for the public affairs council of the Chamber of Commerce last week determined upon a survey to further back its feeling that there is a pronounced need for a family counselling center here. If the survey validates previous findings, the council will be asked to bless and back the project.

The City of Big Spring now has a new official seal. Designed by Mike Paul, it incorporates a historical flavor, having a likeness of (Capt.) Randolph B. Marcy who "discovered" the spring Oct. 3, 1849, and Signal Mount.

Big Spring Jaycees have petitioned the national organization for a $1,000 grant. They want to apply it to the detoxification Center here.

From the notebook: Usually our calls begin "Listen you so-and-so, but imagine our surprise to get rosebuds from Opal Tanner and Bobby Zellars for having cut a tape on local history figure odds on this one: The Texas Highway Department had two bids for exactly $164,431.61 (and settled by flipping a coin) Col. HOW TO HOLD BALL — James Coffey, 6-3, 215 pound senior tackle letterman on the Big Spring football team shows Steve Thompson, left, sixth grade, a member of "Pee Wee" Cowboy how to hold the ball tight. The Steers conducted a clinic for the "Pee Wee" League in connection with "Meet the Steers" night Thursday.

3-Round Charity Tuesday

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — Heavyweight champion George Foreman and former champion Muhammad Ali and Joe Frazier will spar for charity Tuesday night at the Salt Lake City.

Each man is scheduled to box a three-round exhibition with sparring partners, with Joe Louis, another former heavyweight champion, expected to referee one of the exhibitions. Comedian Bob Hope is to serve as master of ceremonies. Foreman and Ali are scheduled to leave Sept. 8 for the African nation of Zaire, site of their championship fight Sept. 24.

Court Action Eyed

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Oilers will have to hold their National Football League training camp in the county courthouse next Thursday.

Defensive lineman John Matuszak, who jumped from the Oilers last Wednesday to the Houston Texans, has subpoenaed Oiler owner Bud Adams, the entire Oiler football team and the coaching staff to a hearing then.

The hearing is on a suit brought by the Oilers to stop Matuszak from playing for the Texans. The hearing will determine if a further trial is necessary and if Matuszak could play for the Texans pending such a trial.

Representatives of the sheriff's office served the subpoenas at the Oilers' hotel. "We will honor the subpoena," Adams said. "It's certainly going to be an inconvenience to break up the continuity of our training camp. But we will be here Thursday morning."

Phils Catch Astros 10-6

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Jay Johnstone and Willie Montanez each drove in three runs Saturday night to lead the Philadelphia Phillies to a 10-6 rout of the Houston Astros.

Johnstone connected for a home run, his sixth of the season, with two on in the second inning. He was joined by Montanez for a home run, his sixth of the season, with two on in the second inning. Gillman had no comment.

The team was called into a meeting room of the hotel by club attorneys and were then served the subpoenas. "We wanted our players to understand what all this is about," said Oiler assistant general manager Dan Downs. "We wanted to take care of this as quickly as possible so they could get back to thinking about football."

OU Tapped To Unseat ND As College Grid Champ

The Oklahoma Sooners, who finished third last season, have been tapped to unseat Notre Dame as college football's national champion.

In nationwide balloting by the 58 members of The Associated Press panel of sports writers and broadcasters, Oklahoma received 23 first-place votes and 976 of a possible 1,160 points.

Trailing the Sooners in the preseason voting were Ohio State, Notre Dame and Alabama. The rest of the Top Ten consisted of Southern California, Michigan, Nebraska, Penn State, Louisiana State and Texas.

"I think it's great to be No. 1, but it puts a lot of pressure on us," said Oklahoma's Barry Switzer, who compiled a 10-0-1 mark last season in his debut as a head coach. "When Playboj picks you No. 1 you don't feel the pressure, but when the writers and broadcasters pick you No. 1 the pressure is really on."

The Sooners are winding up a two-year probation levied by the National Collegiate Athletic Association for recruiting violations and cannot go to a bowl game this season.

Ohio State, which finished second in last year's final AP poll after a convincing 42-21 Rose Bowl rout of Southern Cal, received 14 first-place votes and 907 points.

Notre Dame won the 1973 national championship by eking out a 24-23 victory over Alabama in the Sugar Bowl, but the Fighting Irish were rated third in the preseason poll with 13 first-place votes and 864 points.

Alabama was fourth, just as it was in the final 1973 AP poll, with six first-place votes and 859 points. Southern Cal, the 1972 champion, received one first-place ballot and 752 points. The other first-place vote went to Michigan, which had 586 points.

Southern Cal was No. 1 in last year's preseason poll, while Notre Dame, the eventual champion, was eighth. Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas were 11th.

This year's preseason Second Ten consisted of Houston, UCLA, Pitt, Maryland, Arizona State, Tennessee, Arizona, North Carolina State, Arkansas and Texas A&M.

The final 1973 poll: Notre Dame, Ohio State, Oklahoma, Alabama, Penn State, Michigan, Nebraska, Southern California, Arizona State, Texas Tech, Louisiana State, Texas, Missouri, Kansas and Tennessee, with Maryland and Tulane tied for 20th.

International Soccer Talked

DALLAS (AP) — The United States will have a crop of youngsters, most of them fresh from college. The players include Kyle Rote, 23, one of the leading scorers for the Tornado for the past two years, and Freddie Garcia, 22, a rookie winger.

Other possible starters are Bobby Rigby, 23, of the Philadelphia Atoms and leading NASL goalie in 1973; Doug McMillan, third leading scorer this year and a forward with the Los Angeles Aztecs; Dennis Vaniger, midfielder, and Bob Matteson, midfielder, of the St. Louis Stars, and Dave D'Errico, fullback, who was the most valuable college player last year and now plays for the Seattle Sounders.

In charge of the team is Dettmar Cramer. The first game will be in Monterey, Mexico, next Thursday and the second will be at Dallas, Texas Stadium on Sunday, Sept. 8.

"We think it is a great step forward," said Joe Echelle, manager of the Dallas Tornado of the North American Soccer League.

Snead Holds Edge In Tournament Players

ATLANTA (AP) — C. Snead, having his best golfing year ever although a non-winner in more than two years, clinched his 67 Saturday with an eagle on the final hole for a 202 total and a three-stroke edge over Jack Nicklaus after three rounds of the inaugural $250,000 Tournament Players Championship.

Nicklaus, who has only won once this year, carded a 68 for a 205 over the hilly, par-72, 6,883-yard Atlanta Country Club course in the fight which was turned into a two-man battle for the $50,000 top prize.

Snead, 32, and an 11-year tour veteran, again tied the nine-hole course record when he shot the final nine holes in 30 strokes.

He had four birdies and the explosive eagle, which traveled 30 feet from a trap right into the hole and was seen by a national television audience.

Nicklaus, the fourth leading money winner this year, but victorious in only the Hawaiian Open, also shot an eagle in his round. It came on the par-five, 542-yard eighth hole when he dropped in a 65-yarder.

He stayed close to Snead with birdies on three of his final five holes, including the 18th. At 207 were Homero Blancas and second-day leader Lou Graham, who blasted consecutive 67s the first two days, struggled to a 73 Saturday.

Dave Hill was alone at 208 after a 72 in this event which the players are attempting to make into a major tourney along with the Masters, U.S. Open, British Open and the PGA.

A group at 209 included Eddie Pearce, with a 69, Hubert Green, 72, David Graham, 71, Charles Coody, 71, and Brian Allin, 71.

At 210 were Gene Littler, needing $4,000 to become golf's eighth millionaire, and PGA champion Lee Trevino. Trevino had 71.

Representatives of the sheriff's office served the subpoenas at the Oilers' hotel. "We will honor the subpoena," Adams said. "It's certainly going to be an inconvenience to break up the continuity of our training camp. But we will be here Thursday morning."

The team was called into a meeting room of the hotel by club attorneys and were then served the subpoenas. "We wanted our players to understand what all this is about," said Oiler assistant general manager Dan Downs. "We wanted to take care of this as quickly as possible so they could get back to thinking about football."

Starting defensive tackle Steve Morton suffered an ankle injury during the scrimmage while No. 1 defensive end Marc Cones dislocated a shoulder Friday.

David Bostick, a starter at fullback last year as a freshman, led all ball carriers with 90 yards on 8 carries, and McCullough 41 on 4 carries.

Quarterback John Blackburn completed 4 of 7 passes for 92 yards including a 34 yard TD to split end Kenny Harrison. Morris scored on a 20 yard run, and Chuck Benefield hit tight end Bill McNutt on a three-yard scoring toss.

ACC's Longley Leads Cowboys By Chiefs

DALLAS (AP) — The clutch passing of Charles Young of North Carolina State, and yet another rookie, Dennis Morgan of Western Illinois, played the hero's roles as Dallas extended its preseason mark to 3-2.

Longley was pressed into service in the second half with Dallas behind 13-10. Morgan returned a kickoff 77 yards to set up a 17-yard touchdown run by Young to make it 16-13.

Jan Stenerud kicked his third field goal to tie the score 16 all. Kansas city's Jim Marsalis was flagged for interfering with Bob Hayes on a long bomb quarter by Longley. The 49-yard penalty put Dallas in position for Calvin Jiel's one-yard touchdown run.

The ice-cool Longley then completed passes of 20 and 22 yards, on Dallas' next possession. Marv Bateman then kicked a game-clenching 29-yard field goal.

SMU's Smith Pleased With Squad's Offense

DALLAS (AP) — Southern Methodist football Coach Dave Smith put his team through its first full scrimmage Saturday afternoon in the Cotton Bowl and said he was pleased with the offense but was not impressed with the Mustang defense.

"Wayne Morris has really gained a lot of quickness," Smith said. "He made chicken salad out of one play where I thought he was going to be thrown for a loss and he ended up making about 15 yards out of it. I don't think he showed moves like that all last year. You sure couldn't tell he had knee surgery."

Twins Win On TV

BLOOMINGTON (AP) — Home runs by Tony Oliva and Steve Braun powered the Minnesota Twins to a 6-2 victory over the Boston Red Sox Saturday in a nationally televised game.

Dave Goltz, 7-7, scattered six hits over the first eight innings, but needed relief help from Tom Burgmeier in the ninth as the Twins handed the American League East leaders their fifth loss in the last seven games.

Eric Soderholm's seventh hit in his last eight times at bat, a two-out single in the first inning, drove in Minnesota's first run and Oliva's 369-foot homer made it 2-0 in the third.

Minnesota knocked out Boston starter Dick Drago, 6-8, in the sixth. Soderholm led off with a walk and Braun followed with his home run, a 389-foot line drive into the right field bleachers. Drago retired the next two batters, but after Glenn Borgmann singled, Drago was lifted for Diego Segui, who got Steve Brye to ground out on his first pitch.

The Twins added a run in the seventh on Oliva's RBI single and another in the eighth on Brye's run-scoring double.

Boston's first run came in the fourth when the Red Sox reached Goltz for three consecutive singles. But after Carl Yastrzemski's RBI, Goltz avoided further trouble by getting Rico Petrocelli to hit into a double play and striking out Jim Rice.

Yastrzemski homered to lead off the ninth for Boston's other run. After Rico Petrocelli singled, Burgmeier replaced Goltz and finished up.

Amarillo Club

Members Shot

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A fistfight early Friday in a nightclub resulted in the death of one man and wounding of two members of the Texas League Amarillo Giants baseball club.

Dead was John Louis Guerra, 26, of San Antonio, a former all-district high school baseball player who had remained active in local amateur sports. He was an accountant for the municipally-owned utility here.

Authorities said Guerra's brother, Richard Guerra, 23, of San Antonio and David Heaverlo, 24, of Moses Lake, Wash., were wounded.

Richard Guerra, outfielder and third baseman with the Amarillo team, was hospitalized with a left shoulder wound. Heaverlo, the Giants' right-handed pitcher, was released after treatment for a gunshot wound in the left hand. Police said the men and several other Amarillo players were at the Comic Strip Club when John Guerra and another man became involved in a fistfight.

Officers said a man, 22, surrendered to homicide detectives Friday at police headquarters.

Paul Aguirre, 28, manager of the night spot, told police that the younger Guerra and Heaverlo tried to break up the fight. The second man ran out the front door.

'Skins Recall D. Thomas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Redskins have recalled running back Duane Thomas from waivers but his future role with the National Football League team remained uncertain Saturday.

"We still haven't decided what we're going to do," Coach George Allen said. "We said we're going to make a decision in three or four days and that still stands."

Thomas was placed on waivers earlier in the week after an altercation with an assistant coach.

He asked for forgiveness, and the Redskins withdrew the waivers before the deadline on Friday.

If they had not done so, Thomas then would have become a free agent.

CURRY WAIVED

Oilers Look To Win-At-All

HUNTSVILLE, Tex.

(AP) — Bill Curry, president of the National Football League Players Association, says the Houston Oilers now have a win-at-all-costs program even if careers are destroyed.

The Oilers announced Friday that the veteran center had been waived. The announcement said the action was by "mutual consent."

Curry, who was one of the leaders in the strike of veteran players this summer, said he had to go on waivers or retire and he didn't want to retire.

Curry seriously injured a knee in early season last year and had taken a wait-and-see attitude concerning his future following corrective surgery.

Sid Gillman, Oilers head coach and general manager, indicated Curry's injury was the main reason for the action but he also pointed out the team has three other centers.

Gillman indicated there's not a place for me and nobody wants to stay somewhere when he feels he doesn't belong," Curry said. "I had to go on waivers or retire and I don't want to retire. I'm not retiring voluntarily."

Curry went to his Atlanta home after he left Gillman a note saying he would prefer to be waived rather than announce retirement.

He said by telephone from his home that he was concerned with the Oilers' training camp under what he called the Gillman regime.

"The big problem I see and regret very much—because I have some very close friends on the team—is that it's a situation where winning outweighs any human aspects," he said.

"There is no concern for people whatsoever. It's win-at-all-costs even if people are humiliated and careers are destroyed. I've gotten my Utopian ideas because I've been very fortunate to have been in organizations where they won yet were people-oriented."

The action caused Ed Garvey, executive director of the NFLPA, to take a verbal blast at Gillman, who cut seven other veterans shortly after they arrived in camp for a 14-day "cooling off" period earlier this month.

"As long as Sid Gillman is in Houston I wouldn't believe anything that came out of that organization," Garvey said in Washington. He added he felt there was "no place in football for Sid Gillman. He is the symbol of what we are fighting against."

Gillman said he met with Curry Thursday night and told the veteran center a decision concerning his playing career had to be made.

"It was going to be weeks before Bill could be of any help at all to us," Gillman said. "We had three other centers and I told him I just couldn't wait. I wanted to win now."

Most player representatives of other NFL teams who were contacted preferred to withhold comment until they became more familiar with the circumstances.

However, MacArthur Lane, alternate player representative for the Green Bay Packers, called it "poor timing."

"It seems like if you are on the other side, you have to go," Lane said. "What are they trying to tell you?"

Gillman cut seven veterans shortly after they arrived in camp for the "cooling off" period Aug. 14. None of the seven started last year but the abruptness of Gillman's action caused several other veterans to express resentment.

MIDLAND

Plans are being finalized for a mixed doubles tennis tournament here to benefit tennis players 18 and under. The Mixed doubles Tennis Tournament will be held Friday, Sept. 20 through Sunday Sept. 22.

It will be staged under guidelines set by the National Tennis Foundation and the Texas Tennis Association, according to Yvonne Garton, chairman of the tournament.

"The purpose of the tournament, basically, is to raise funds to provide additional tennis instruction for boys and girls," Mrs. Garton said. "Originally we had planned to help assist in coaching girls for the Texas Junior Girls Development Program, but the National Tennis Foundation has expanded the program to include both boys and girls."

The three day mixed doubles competition is sponsored by The Midland National Bank, and silver mint julep trophies will be donated by Kruger Jewelry Company.

Participation will be limited to 128 couples, who will pay a $15 per team entry fee. The entry fees and income from concessions will comprise the income for the tournament. Entries are expected from a wide area of West Texas.

Preliminary matches will be held Friday, Sept. 20 at the Racquet Club, Midland High, Lee High, and Midland Country Club. Flight play will continue on Saturday, with final rounds Sunday at the Racquet Club.

Entries for the tournament close Sept. 16. There will be four winners, four runners-up and four consolation winners, and each team is guaranteed three matches during the tournament. Trophies will be presented to the winners, runners-up, and consolation winners Sunday afternoon.

In the event of rain, the tournament will be cancelled and the entry fees will be retained as donations for the youth development program.

LUBBOCK, Tex.

(AP) — "We're getting down to the ones who want to play," said Texas Tech Coach Jim Carlen as two-day workouts ended for the Red Raider Saturday with a two-and-a-half hour scrimmage.

"Out execution is good," Carlen said, "so it's just a matter of finding out who wants to play."

Tech opens at home against Iowa State Sept. 14.

Fumbles and the play of the second offensive line disturbed Carlen in Saturday's scrimmage. "Our second set of linemen was bad," he said.

The bright spot of the scrimmage was the play of the Red Raider defense, especially the secondary.

The running of last year's Southwest Conference "Freshman of the Year" Larry Isaac and incoming freshman Billy Taylor from San Antonio (Jay) was exceptional. Isaac gained 45 yards on seven carries and Taylor 29 on five jaunts.

Junior Rufus Myers had 26 yards on six carries, including a 14-yard touchdown run.

Paterno Believes Lions Not As Strong This Year

NEW YORK (AP)

Last fall, Penn State capped a 12-0 season, the school's best ever, with a 16-9 triumph over Louisiana State in the Orange Bowl.

What are the Nittany Lions going to do for an encore? "We are not going to be anywhere close to being as good as we were last year," says Coach Joe Paterno, whose 1973 club finished fifth in The Associated Press college football rankings.

The Ivy League is looking for another wild race as Dartmouth bids for a sixth consecutive crown. The Big Green is among the favorites again, along with Yale, Penn and Brown.

Harvard and Cornell are the dark horses while Princeton and Columbia are expected to bring up the rear.

"If you think last year was competitive, just wait until this fall," says Harvard's Joe Restic, whose team finished in a three-way tie with Penn and Yale, one game behind Dartmouth.

Defending champion Connecticut and Massachusetts are favored in the Yankee Conference.

Cappelletti's replacement as Penn State's tailback probably will be Walt Addie, a 200-pound senior who gained 324 yards last season—1,268 fewer than Cappelletti.

He'll team up with fullback Tom Donchez to provide what should be capable ground game.

The only other offensive starters returning are quarterback Tom Shuman, tight end Dan Natale, guard John Nessel and center Jack Bairounos.

The defense returns halfback Jim Bradley, linebacker Chris Devlin, tackle Mike Hartenstein and ends Dave Graf and Greg Murphy, plus some experienced reserves.

Pitt rejoiced last year in its first winning season—6-5-1—in a decade, but the Panthers are expecting much more this time, even though the schedule features the likes of Notre Dame, Southern Cal and Penn State.

Coach Johnny Majors, who was named Coach of the Year by the Football Writers' Association of America, has his top runner back—Tony Dorsett, who romped for 1,586 yards and became the first freshman in 29 years to make The AP's All-American team.

Returning with Dorsett are 14 other regulars, including starters at all the skill positions and the offensive line and the receiving corps could use some bolstering, but 255-pound middle guard Gary Burley heads eight returning defensive veterans.

The key man at West Virginia is junior quarterback Ben Williams, who must get the ball to the Mountaineers' superb wide receivers, Danny Buggs and Marshall Mills. If he does, a total of 17 returning starters should make the hills of West Virginia a happy place.

Army has a new coach and all Homer Smith must do is bring the Cadets back from an 0-10 record, their worst ever.

The task of directing Smith's wishbone offense will fall to either converted running back Greg McGlasker or converted defensive back Scott Gillogly, neither of whom has much experience at the job.

Navy won the Commander-In-Chief's Trophy last season by routing Army and Air Force. The Middies' strength will be the defense since the offense must be rebuilt.

Dove Season Scheduled To Start Today At Noon

LUBBOCK — The Texas hunting season goes off with a bang now today as the 1974 dove season gets underway. The hunting requirements for Texas wingshooters are set annually by both the state and federal regulating agencies. Since doves are classes as a migratory bird, regulations are stricter than for the quail or pheasant that Lone Star hunters bag.

The mourning dove is found from Alaska, South Canada throughout the U.S.; most of Mexico to Panama. The doves also migrate south from the panhandle in certain areas when ice, snow or cold winds are prolonged.

The habitat of the dove in Texas covers all of the farmlands, ranches, towns, mesquite, woodlands, open country and desert. Nests are usually a flimsy platform of twigs in trees, shrub, cactus, or on the ground. An average nest will have two white eggs.

Nearly all nesting is finished and the youngsters are flying by the beginning of hunting season in September. Many hunters consider the mourning dove a difficult target and the ten birds in the game bag may require as many as thirty expended shotshells to collect that limit.

Doves can be found everywhere by hunters but these birds seem to flock to sunflower patches, grain fields or water holes in the afternoon.

Since shooting hours are from 12 noon to sunset, many hunters wait until 4 o'clock to get set in their favorite easy

TCU OUTLOOK Coach Likes Back Ability

FORT WORTH (AP) — Mike Luttrell made a deep impression on Texas Christian's new bossman Jim Shofner when the former San Francisco 49er assistant coach's arrived to take the reins.

Asked if being a marked man bothered him, Luttrell said, "It's going to be hard for any team to mark me this year in our multiple offense. Why, we have some 40-odd plays."

Luttrell said he was excited about TCU's prospects under Shofner. "It usually takes the other coaches at least a year to adjust to a new coach in the conference," Luttrell said.

Luttrell should know about coaches. Shofner is the third coach he has played for at TCU. Jim Pittman died. Billy Tohill was fired.

"Coach Shofner is a fine man... a class person," said Luttrell. "He's the kind of guy who is noticed when he walks into a room. He has a professional attitude about him. That's the way Coach Pittman was."

Luttrell is concerned the Horned Frogs won't have their entire offense clicking by the Sept. 14 against the University of Texas at Arlington.

"He's a lot like Jim Taylor (former Green Bay star). He blocks like him. There's no reason why Mike shouldn't make All-America."

The senior, 6-foot-1, 202-pound fullback was All-Southwest Conference last year despite a series of hobbling injuries.

When teams play TCU, they play gang-up-on-Luttrell.

Luttrell's who wears a mustache, most interesting off-season job in the Tarrant County jail during the summer.

"I never had a little trouble but got a little back talk a few times," Luttrell said.

"It may be two or three games into the season before we have it down," Luttrell said.

Luttrell has been courted by a number of professional teams but he said "All that can wait until after the season."

Forsan Looks Better

FORSAN — The Forsan Buffs held their last scrimmage Friday evening before kicking off the season against Stanton B team here Saturday 8 p.m.

With Ralph Miranda throwing and handing off well at quarterback, the Buffs beat New Home 14-0 under game conditions except for no kickoff or punt returns.

Donnie Croft, playing fullback from the wing formation, caught three passes, scored a TD and ran well. Wesley Thixton, halfback, and Landon Soles, at half and fullback, ran quiet well. Soles scored the other TD. Miranda, only a soph, was sharp, and in addition to engineering drives, also passed for extra points.

On defense, Gary Tidwell repeatedly came up fast to cut off the outside play. John Medlin, from his halfback post, picked off two opposition passes. Brad Stevens, Allen Hollingsworth, and Tim Yates, went both ways, looking fine.

In all, Coach Jack Woodley rated the Buffs as much improved over their scrimmage a week ago.

The junior high lads, in controlled scrimmage, nipped Sterling City juniors by two touchdowns.

Southern 500 Won By Baker

DARLINGTON, S.C. (AP) — Buddy Baker, built like an ox, wept unabashedly when he won the Southern 500 stock car race in 1970.

WHO IS GOING TO MAKE UP THE DIFFERENCE Is Airport Paying Its Way?

GRAPEVINE, Tex. — The first budgetary year for the world's biggest airport is drawing to a close with airport officials saying their patient is alive and well though suffering from parking lot anemia costing $5 million.

FEE MONEY
To offset failure of parking revenue to reach expectations, airlines serving the Dallas-Fort Worth Airport likely will be paying larger landing fees.

"We will have to dink them for more landing fee money for the next year or two before it levels off," said Ernie Dean, executive director of the $700 million airport.

The mammoth airport opened its runways last January amid a series of misuses, backfires and confusion traceable mainly to unproven techniques and formulas. The 17,000-acre airport had no shakedown cruise before it plunged into operation.

Even a gala ball held to kick off its opening found partygoers threading their limousines through unfinished streets, past barricades and into an unforgettable parking nightmare.

But airport spokesmen say they have ironed out many of the kinks and the operation is settling into a smoother affair for travelers.

The budgetary year ends Sept. 30. Airport planners had predicted the airport would earn $23,970,000 by late August.

But the huge aerodrome actually produced $22,216,000 of which $3 million was parking lot fees. The budget anticipated $8,851,000 in parking revenues by the end of September.

"It was a miscalculation or whatever you want to call it," Dean said. "There are other factors, too."

Dean said planners expected by late August to take in $7.4 million in landing fees. The total was $9.2 and climbing.

"Our biggest percentage boost has come in general aviation landing and ramp fees. We expected only about $27,000 through the end of September but we've had about $200,000 so far," he said.

MISTAKE
Dean said airlines using the airport likely will complain about increased landing fees—now set close to 65 cents per 1,000 pounds—but "you see them making money and you don't see them cutting back flights or leaving the airport."

Braniff International, which also has operated intrastate commuter service from Love Field, recently announced it has moved all its operations to DFW Airport.

STILL IN
That will leave Southwest Airlines and Texas International still operating commercial flights at Love Field, the old Dallas airport. Continued use of Love has sparked a number of lawsuits and counter-suits.

Dean said fees have been collected, on 11,533,770,000 pounds landed at DFW Airport and "it's increasing."

Dean said part of the parking revenue problem has come through petty frauds, billing mistakes and money siphoned by Love Field.

"You wouldn't believe some of the tricks and schemes people have come up with to beat us out of parking fees," Dean said. "We've plugged a lot of these leaks and we're working on the others. Mostly, though, it's been a matter of fewer people parking out here than we counted on."

There has been public apprehension that failure of the airport would mean extra taxes in Dallas and Fort Worth to pay off the bonds which financed the airport.

HONOR
But the public is well insulated against such a development by a deep moat of laws, rules and alternatives. Legal experts scoff at suggestions the public could be left holding a $700 million airport bill.

Dean says a faltering airport could be propped up through a number of remedies based on better management and related techniques.

If these should fail, the airlines, all of which signed agreements to make up any losses, would be forced to honor their contracts to the point of going out of business, says Ray Hutchison, a lawyer who prepared the bond sales.

"The chances of eight or nine major airlines going out of business—liquidating everything to pay off the airport bonds—are very remote," he said.

TAX BITE

But even should that unprecedented calamity occur and the airport still could not meet its operating costs, taxpayers would get only a five-cent per $100 valuation tax bite. Laws and other safeguards prohibit any more public tax money from being used to pay off the airport's revenue bonds.

"It's an incredibly complex thing but in short there's no way taxpayers will get hurt on this thing," he said. "The airlines are pretty well locked in to keep the airport going one way or the other."

Lee Holt of the Dallas city attorney's office says there is no way Dallas and Fort Worth, cobuilders of the airport, will default on the bonds.

There is no legal obligation on the two cities to honor their joint debt. But in a realistic sense there is no way they could avoid paying off the bonds, the legal experts say.

FIND WAYS

"You can imagine what would happen if we got into a default situation involving $700 million then tried to go up to New York and borrow money for some capital improvements. They'd laugh us out of town," Holt said. "No, we'd find ways to pay off the bonds if it came to that."

Though financing of the airport is not as perilous to them as many taxpayers at first feared, Hutchison says it is not likely another airport will be built in America under the same financing arrangements.

"It's a tremendous burden and responsibility on the airlines. I don't think they could get into another obligation like this. It would be just too much," Hutchison said.

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — A federal appeals court had ruled that a large commercial farming operation in South Texas violated a state law by firing a worker due to his union activities. It ordered the worker reinstated.

The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals upheld U.S. District Court Reynaldo Garza ruling that La Casita Farms, Inc. violated Texas' right to work law.

Garza had ordered La Casita to pay back wages to Juventino Balderas, a member of the United Farm Workers.

But Judge Garza rejected Balderas' contention that his dismissal violated federal civil rights laws.

The appeals court agreed with all of Judge Garza's findings.

Texas Residential Building Declines

AUSTIN (AP) — With rising interest rates and tight money, Texas building industry "can only hope to survive this inflationary period," a University of Texas business researcher said Saturday.

Constance Coolege of the Bureau of Business Research said today construction in Texas declined again in July by 3 per cent from June, but the dollar value of buildings authorized for the first seven months of 1974 showed a 6 per cent increase over the same period in 1973. During that same seven-month period, however, residential building declined by 25 per cent, including a decline of 1,240 units from June to July of this year.

Seventeen of the state's 24 official metropolitan areas showed declines in one-family dwellings, led by San Antonio which fell off by 36 per cent in the first seven months of 1974. Fifteen metropolitan areas showed declines in apartment buildings, led by Austin, which was off the 1973 pace by 65 per cent.

Total dwelling units authorized for all metropolitan areas during the first seven months of 1974 had declines in the major residential categories: one-family, minus 23 per cent; duplexes, minus 17 per cent; and apartment units, minus 28 per cent.

Overall building totals showed an increase because of such nonresidential gains as commercial garages, up 347 per cent over the January-July period of 1973; works and utilities, up 133 per cent; and educational buildings, up 108 per cent.

"Home builders and home buyers are taking the brunt of the government's policy to fight inflation through high interest rates," the bureau's report said. "It is hoped that the new administration will soon consider actions to lighten the enormous burden now being borne by the building industry."

Building permits issued in Texas cities in July, in dollars per capita, included: Austin $622.37; El Paso $360.21; Houston $317.32; Dallas $281.25; Fort Worth $252.58; and San Antonio $196.05.

Cee-City Fem Shot

COLORADO CITY — Mrs. Dianne Davis, 21, Colorado City, remains in critical condition in the intensive care unit in the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock Saturday following surgery for injuries received in a gunshot wound in the chest early Friday morning.

Mrs. Davis told police that she heard a knock on the door of her mobile home just off West Point Avenue near the Burrus Grocery. She said she opened the door but doesn't remember anything else.

A .22 caliber pistol with one spent shell was found in the bedroom of the trailer.

Police said Saturday that Mrs. Davis had not been physically able to talk to officers again and "at this time we have no leads."

Holiday For Most

The traditional official end of summer holiday in Texas is Labor Day on the first Monday in September.

In Big Spring and most of the area, all schools, city offices, county, state and federal offices, post office, bank, and most businesses will be closed.

Local members of labor unions interested in attending labor rallies go to Odessa for annual festivities there.

For most West Texas families, the holiday has become a chance for one last fishing trip, picnic or family gathering.

No 'SEX' On Plates

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — You won't find "SEX" on a New York State license plate.

It's among 245 three-letter combinations listed as taboo by the state Motor Vehicles Department since January 1973 when three-letter, three-number plates became standard issue.

"It is based loosely on a list provided by the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators," a department spokesman said.

"There's a long list — I mean it's bigger than this. They see a lot of weird things. Then we say, 'That's not weird,' and we take it off," the spokesman said.

Released After Stay In Jail

HOUSTON (AP) — A psychiatrist has been released after spending four days in the Harris County jail on contempt of court charges.

Dr. Gary Jefferson Byrd was released Friday after being jailed Monday when he refused to answer a question about the psychiatric status of a 16-year-old girl. He refused because he said he was not getting paid for expert testimony.

At a hearing Friday before Juvenile Court Judge Wallace H. Miller the girl was released to the custody of her mother and the case was settled without Byrd's testimony. Thomas Stults, Byrd's attorney, asked Miller for a stay in Byrd's case since the doctor had many patients to see. Miller gave him until Sept. 13 to file the necessary papers to appeal the contempt order on constitutional grounds. Byrd said Stults plans to appeal the case either to state district court or the Texas Supreme Court.

Capturing Mad Dogs

It is a relief that the orgy of terror spawned by three escaped Colorado convicts is ended. It took an awful toll: two innocent victims slain in vengeance killings, five wounded and two women raped.

In the capture late Monday night near Stephenville, one of the criminals was shot dead and the other two captured alive. No officers, fortunately, lost their lives. How tragic it was that it all began with what the Colorado state prison warden admits was an escape made possible by negligence on the part of penitentiary personnel.

Once the pattern of violence and intent became apparent Saturday, local, state and federal peace officers of the West Central Texas area were promptly and efficiently marshaled in a manhunt.

After they were mobilized and organized under the direction of a command post at Stephenville, there was no more murder or bloodshed and the fugitive trio was isolated in a brush-infested ranch area from which they could not escape.

Although there was some tragic breakdown in protective services, law enforcement officers merit praise for the systematic tracking down and capture of the mad dog trio.

The Slower Speeds

Except for truck drivers (and those who drove 80 when the limit was 70), drivers favor continuation of the nationwide 55-mile-an-hour speed limit as advocated by John C. Sawhill, head of the Federal Energy Administration. Sawhill said the speed limit could save more than five million gallons of oil products.

But most drivers on the nation's freeways will have to concede that being in favor of speed limits does not necessarily mean observing them. An unusually large percentage of drivers habitually drive 60 or more miles an hour. Some have reduced their speed to 60 after the limit was reduced to 55 from 70.

Habitual violation of the speed limit is common.

Reports from a number of states indicate that the number of speeding summonses has increased markedly this year over last year. But those stopped for speeding represent only a fraction of the actual speeders. Law enforcement officers concede.

Is widespread violation then an excuse for abolishing the uniform 55-mile-an-hour limit? Of course not. Both the number and the severity of accidents have been reduced. Better enforcement of the limit is indicated.

Most drivers seem to think that they are the best judges of how fast they should drive. Convincing them otherwise may not be possible. But the message can be brought home by taxing their pocketbooks with speeding summonses. This has a special way of getting one's attention.

Sage Of Scurry Street, A. J. Vaughn dropped by Saturday to unload a multi-syllabic pun on me.

Aubrey said:

If you don't find that particularly funny, it is a well-written headline—tells the story and counts satisfactorily. If it helps any, a "hit" is an addict.

THERE'S AN interesting — and incomplete — point in evangelist Oral Roberts' book, "The Call," supplied to me by that traveling man, Kenneth Hart. On page 27, Roberts wrote:

"I left home in Ada (that's home town) and went to Atoka, and found lodging in a judge's home where I was allowed to have access to his law book. I began to study these with all the hunger of a young animal searching for food, and to dream of becoming a lawyer and being governor of Oklahoma."

He doesn't say whether he still cherishes the latter half of that dream, although it's doubtful that he'd actively seek a demotion.

My Answer

Billy Graham

I have recently experienced the death of my husband. While in a sense I expected it, because his was a terminal case, yet it was a shock. Mr. Graham, I have no patience with people who say, "Well, he's really still alive," as if I should have no sorrow at the loss of his physical body.

L.V.

Not enough people know of a little volume entitled "A Grief Observed" by C. S. Lewis. He wrote it under a pseudonym just before he died. While he writes with humility and faith, yet he strives to be very honest and very realistic. Your question reminds me of this quote from that book.

"It is hard to have patience with people who say, 'There is no death' or 'Death doesn't matter.' There is death. And whatever it is, matters. And whatever happens has consequences, and it and they are irrevocable and irreversible. You might as well say that birth doesn't matter. I look up at the night sky. Is anything more certain than in all those vast times and spaces, if I were allowed to search them, I should nowhere find her face, her voice, her touch? She died."

Those in grief are entitled to face the reality of their bereavement. What the Gospel of Christ does, however, is to give the bright hope of reunion, and assure the blessedness of the departed in a world where death will never intrude. (Read 1 Thessalonians 4.)

Airlines In Trouble

The Week's Business

Pan-Am continues skein of six years losses totalling $145 million

—Year's loss through July amounts to $32.4; July margin scant

—Country's largest carrier asking $10 million monthly subsidy

—Troubles date back to ordering of Boeing 747 super carrier

—Difficulties cause shakeup in company's top management

NEW YORK (AP) — Pan American World Airways isn't the only airline having trouble coping with soaring fuel prices, tight money and declining international travel.

But it holds special prominence as the biggest American international air carrier. It has also been losing money since 1969 and all signs this past week pointed to another bad year.

Pan Am said as of the end of July, it had lost $32.4 million. In July alone it made only $446,000 on its 90,000 miles of air routes, a decline of 95 per cent from the previous July.

In that year, said Pan Am, fuel prices had rocketed 153 per cent and general operating expenses were up 15 per cent.

All in all, it was another indication the airline was headed for its worst year since 1971, when it lost $45 million.

FUNDTAKES BEATING

The day the July figures were announced, a New York mutual fund sold 1.5 million shares of Pan Am at $1.75 a share. The fund had paid some $37 million for the stock when it acquired it from 1968 through 1970. It sold for a total of $2.63 million. During all this, Pan Am was still awaiting word from the government on its request for a temporary subsidy of $10.2 million a month for mail carrying.

Without government aid, the airline contends, it could face a cash shortage which in turn would endanger credit arrangements with banks.

The airline's chief executive said at week's end he was confident the government would grant the subsidy, but predicted it would be "several weeks" before a government decision is made.

Pan Am's troubles are generally traced back to 1966, when it announced it was ordering 25 Boeing 747s at a total cost of $525 million. That year the airline industry was rocked by last year's fuel shortages.

The airline's troubles led to the 1972 ouster of Chairman N. J. Halaby. Halaby's successor, William T. Seawell, appeared to be making progress until the industry was rocked by last year's fuel shortages.

HMD Tests

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: We recently lost our newborn baby from hyaline membrane disease. I believe this has to do with the lungs.

I haven't read much about this that I could understand. This baby was my fourth. All have been by cesarian section. I would like to know what my chances are of the next child, since we would like another.

The doctors also found gallstones. They don't seem to bother me. Should I have them taken out?—Mrs. B.W.

Hyaline membrane disease (HMD) is also known as respiratory distress syndrome (RDS), and it kills from 15,000 to 25,000 infants a year.

I showed your letter to a colleague, a neonatologist — one who specializes in problems of the newborn.

The current theory on RDS is that it stems from a deficiency of surfactant, a chemical in the lungs. This is a material normally high in lecithin, a chemical essential to the proper absorption of oxygen at the surface of the lung.

The problem occurs more frequently in premature infants, babies of diabetic mothers and those delivered by C-section.

As a matter of fact, HMD can be predicted through chemical tests for the lecithin in the amniotic fluid, the fluid in which the fetus is immersed prior to birth. If, as the fetus nears term, such tests indicate insufficient surfactant, it is possible to accelerate the production of it by injections of corticosteroids (cortisone-like substance).

You will want to discuss this with your pediatrician before becoming pregnant again, since all doctors are not always in agreement as to just how to proceed in such cases.

As far as the gallstones are concerned, I'll give you the same answer I give in this column to others who ask. It is better to have them in a jar than inside of you. You may feel fine now, but you never know when they will cause problems, and when they do, the problem of removal can become complicated. Okay?

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am a 13-year-old healthy girl. Ever since I started my period, my mom said things like jumping off roofs, pole vaulting, etc., are bad for my insides. Please tell me if that is true, because I want to go out for track and pole vault.—B.M.

Mother is mistaken about that—most likely just repeating what she was told when she was your age. The jarring is not going to do any internal damage—whether you are having your period or not.

The American Medical Association fairly recently made quite a study of sports that girls are getting into. The answer, boiled down, is that girls can participate in any sports that boys can with one big exception: they should not compete against boys in such contact sports as hockey, football, basketball and the like. The difference in size and weight increases the risk of physical injury.

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple—write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of his booklet, "How to Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Rauh Rides Again

William F. Buckley, Jr.

Joseph L. Rauh Jr., concerning whose activities I was for several years perhaps the world's leading expert, has challenged James Jackson Kilpatrick, whose advice on almost all matters is best taken unquestioningly — on a matter of great public interest.

WHAT HAPPENED is that Kilpatrick spotted Joseph Rauh engaged in one of the cutest maneuvers of the legal season, whose purpose is to intimidate anyone who seeks to help victims of abusive labor union power. Kilpatrick had great good fun at the expense of Rauh's reputation for standing up for the rights of privacy by exposing this maneuver, which is harmonious with Rauh's idea of privacy by exposing this maneuver, which is harmonious with Rauh's idea of privacy back in the fifties, when he was bribing a con man to slip him alleged records of the private thoughts and doings of Sen. Joseph McCarthy. Rauh got badly burned on that one, and went whole weeks without delivering a piety on privacy or the dastardly uses of informants.

BUT HE HAS long since fully recovered, and is now attempting to undo the invaluable work of the Right to Work Legal Defense and Education Foundation, which has championed such exalted causes as my own, protesting against compulsory membership in the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists as a precondition to giving my views on public affairs over radio and television. The Right-to-Work Defense Foundation was patterned exactly after the NAACP Defense Fund which was, and is, tax deductible; and quite properly so as a public-interest enterprise.

THE APPROACH of the wily Rauh has been to persuade a judge to swallow the following line of reasoning: 1) The Landrum Griffin Bill of 1959, which sought to curb some of the most copious abuses of labor unions, guarantees certain rights to individual members of labor unions. However, obviously intending a gesture to the union leaders, the Act stipulates that no "interested employers" may finance a suit against the union.

2) HE HAS contended that the National Right-to-Work Foundation is really a front for these employers. That every time the head of Woolworth's gives a hundred dollars to the National Right to Work Defense Fund (address: 1990 M Street, Washington N.W.) he is secretly passing along the money to John Jones so he can harass his union.

The obvious reply is that a) there is no such presumption; b) that the records of the Right-to-Work Foundation amply demonstrate that individual workers initiate their complaints without any prodding whatever from their employers; and that indeed, c) many of the cases taken by the Foundation cannot be subjected to an employer-employee frame of reference: — what about the employee who works for the federal government?

So, said Rauh to the judge, I'll tell you what. The only way we can find out whether "interested employers" are putting up the money is to force the RTW to publish the names of its contributors!

THAT WAS a shrewd maneuver, because it is superficially appealing. It is in fact an outrageous effort to intimidate donors to the RTW-Foundation. Most vulnerable of these, of course, are labor union members themselves. Many of the 150,000 people who have given money can do so with relative impunity. The labor union member who seeks relief cannot easily defend himself against the charge of consorting with the enemy. "Individual workers who sue union officers run enormous risks, for there are many ways, legal as well as illegal, by which entrenched officials can 'take care of recalcitrant members,'" said Prof. Archibald Cox recently.

How much more easily intimidated are those who in opposing union abuses seek the anonymous shelter of a foundation. It is ironic that only a decade ago, the civil rights busting states in the South were loudly demanding the list of the contributors to the NAACP, for purposes "widely scorned as vindictive. But those courts said: No. This court, seduced by Rauh and his sophistries, has said — as of this writing — yes.

Phony Swinger

Art Buchwald

It's very hard for many college students to live up to the roles they have been given by the mass media. What newspapers, magazines and television networks expect from students is more than most of them can deliver. I discovered this when I was speaking at a Midwestern campus not long ago.

A STUDENT whom I shall call Ronald Hoffman, seemed very troubled and I asked him what the problem was.

"My parents are coming up next week, and I don't know what to do."

"Well, you see, I told them I was living off campus with this coed in an apartment. But the truth is that I'm living in the dormitory."

"That shouldn't really disturb them."

"OH, BUT IT will. They're very proud of me, and they think I should have a mind of my own. When my Dad heard I was living off campus with a coed, he doubled my allowance. I don't know what he's going to say when he finds out I used the money to buy books."

"It'll hurt him," I agreed. "What will your mother say?"

"I DON'T know. She's been crying a lot since I wrote her about living with this coed, and Dad's been arguing with her that her trouble is she doesn't understand youth. Mom's likely to get pretty sore when she discovers she's been crying for nothing."

Ronald shook his head sadly. "The trouble with parents these days is they believe everything they read. Newsweek magazine, in a 'Sex on the Campus' article, made it sound so easy to find a coed to live with. Well, let me tell you, for every girl who's playing house with a male student, there are a million coeds who won't even do the dishes."

"Then all this talk of students living out of wedlock is exaggerated?"

"EXAGGERATED? When I got here, I asked 10 girls if they wanted to live with me. The first one said she didn't come to college to iron shirts for the wrong guy, four told me frankly that it would hurt their chances of finding a husband, four told me to drop dead and one reported me to the campus police. I was lucky to get a room in the dormitory."

"WHY DON'T you tell him the reason you can't introduce the coed you're living with is that she's going to have a baby?"

"Hey," Ronald said, "that's a great idea. It might cause Mom to cry again, but it will make Dad awfully proud."

Ford's Big "If"

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — That President Ford's intention to run for reelection to a full term should have been front-page news is the only mystery. That intention was obvious even before he fell heir to the office with the resignation of Richard Nixon.

FORD IS ABOVE all a realist, and in politics he understands the realities as well as any practitioner of the art of the possible. At least a month before his accession he talked about the realities of his position.

All things being equal, assuming even that Nixon would have gone on to serve his full term, Ford would have been drafted by the Republican convention in 1976 to head the ticket. His role as Vice President and the tender loving care he had given GOP congressional candidates in at least 70 districts made this almost inevitable.

At the same time he knew, as a realist, that if he gave any public indication that his avowed declaration not to run for any office in '76 was subject to qualifications, his every act would be interpreted as self-interest.

OF NECESSITY, therefore, he walked the difficult line between loyalty to the incumbent President and his own independence, anticipating the point at which he would strike out for himself.

That any Republican can nose him out of the nomination goes contrary to a fundamental rule of politics proved out in 1948 when liberal-leftist Democrats tried to deny president Harry Truman renomination. That Gov. Ronald Reagan of California should be going around the country sniffing the conservative wind is a slight absurdity.

A Ford-Rockefeller ticket would have great appeal as an honest, frank-speaking team. The Rockefeller for Vice President was proof of his independence. The wave of relief after the long nightmare of Watergate had come to an end is a potent factor in the new outlook.

Let it be added at once that the glowing prospects for the new team are based on one of the biggest ifs in American political history — IF Ford and Rockefeller can bring some reduction of inflation without triggering greatly increased unemployment and a recession if not a depression. Incantation and voluntary wage and price guidelines will simply not be enough.

THE WORDS COMING from officials of the Nixon administration carried over into the Ford era have a strangely familiar sound. Treasury Secretary William Simon and Budget Manager Roy Ash, rivals though they may be for power, are saying the same thing. Inflation can be controlled only by cutting spending and balancing the budget; spending must be cut even though it means paring down social benefits.

That was the language of Herbert Hoover, the nation in late 1929 headed into the worst depression in history.

A Devotion For Today . .

"Within the hour they were on their way to Jerusalem where the eleven disciples and the other followers of Jesus greeted them with these words, 'The Lord has really risen! He appeared to Peter!'" (Luke 23:33-34)

PRAYER: Our Father, we ask that the spirit of the resurrected Christ live in and through us. Amen.

American Red Cross Honors Volunteers

Special honors went to 13 area residents during an American Red Cross recognition ceremony held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Veterans Administration Hospital. The presentation of service certificates was by Mrs. Betty Moody of Childress, West Texas division chairman of Red Cross volunteers.

Presiding was Mrs. Dene Sheppard, chief, voluntary service, and the invocation was by Chaplain A. C. Hicks. Alfred Moody led the pledge of allegiance, and the welcome was extended by Dr. H. C. Ernsting, chief of staff and chairman of the VA's advisory committee.

Heading the list of volunteers cited for outstanding service was Mrs. Martha Moody, who has accumulated 12,700 hours since she began work at the hospital in 1955.

Others who were honored, and their hours of service, were Mrs. Cloie Mundt, 5,301; L. R. Mundt, 4,484; Mrs. Margaret White, 1,740;

Willard Hendrick, 1,333; Alfred Moody, 867; Mrs. Minnie Skalicky, 830; Mrs. Lorene Armstrong, 409; Mrs. Elizabeth Stitzell, 300; Miss Martha Ann Stitzell, 300; Mrs. Judy Weiland, 260; and Mrs. Delores Norred, 151.

In paying tribute to the volunteers, Mrs. Moody said, "The world is full of willing people — some, willing to work — the rest, willing to let them. It is those who are willing to work that we are recognizing here today. They are the ones who volunteer. They have discovered that happiness is not so much in having as in sharing. They have discovered that, while we make a living by what we get, we make a life by what we give."

71 And Still Yearns For The Real Thing

And lots of luck, lady.

DEAR ABBY: This is my second letter to you. Please answer me. I am beginning to think that maybe you thought I must be joking. I wrote to ask where a 71-year-old woman could go to get silicone implants in her breasts. I hope you won't think I am crazy. I assure you, I am not.

I have a very nice figure, but have worn a padded bra for years and I am yearning to have the real thing. I have the money, and don't see what I have to lose. I am vain. I admit it, but what is wrong with a woman my age wanting to fulfill a lifelong dream?

I don't have a husband to boss me around, so there's no problem there.

Please answer soon, and don't wait until I'm 80 years old. I think 71 is about as old as one should wait for an operation like that. I live in a small town in Georgia, but it would be no trouble to get to Atlanta.

SERIOUS IN GEORGIA DEAR SERIOUS: Talk to your own physician and ask him to recommend a plastic surgeon. Or, write to the Georgia State Medical Society in Atlanta and ask them for a list of board-certified plastic surgeons.

DEAR ABBY: Is this a serious problem? I am married to a man who wants me to tie him up, spank him, humiliate him, and treat him like a "slave" when it comes to love-making.

We have fought, argued, and even separated over this several times because I refuse to go along with his crazy ways. It seems abnormal to me. Or am I just not with it?

Otherwise he is a good husband. He doesn't run around, drink or curse. And he is an elder in the church.

I don't want to talk to a doctor about this because I'm afraid he might have my husband locked up.

Have you ever heard of anything like this before?

END OF ROPE

DEAR END: Yes, I've heard of it. The cardinal rule in love-making is "Anything that goes on in the privacy of one's bedroom is all right as long as it's agreeable to both parties."

Some mates will agree to participate in such bizarre games. But if you don't want to, your wishes should be respected.

R THE BACK TO SCHOOL BLUES

At this time of year this not so mysterious malady seems to sweep the younger generation like an epidemic. The symptoms are classic and readily recognized by parents and teachers alike. A tendency to oversleep in the mornings, inability to concentrate on lessons and a general feeling of despair are a few of the more noticeable ones.

Medical science has not yet found a cure for the "Back to School Blues" and the likelihood is it will always show up at summer's end. We do not stock any products that will help but we do sympathize.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

Church Setting Of Nuptial Rite

The sanctuary of College Baptist Church was the setting Saturday at 8 p.m. for the wedding of Miss Dianna Williams to Robert James Boren of Richardson.

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Williams, Sterling City Rd., are parents of the bride, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Boren, 1800 Morrison.

The Rev. Freddy M. Martin of Berea Baptist Church, performed the ceremony under arched candelabra flanked by spiral flowers.

Wedding music was by Mrs. Vaughn Martin, organist, and Miss Shiretta Ownby, pianist. Vocal solos were by Randy Taylor and the bride.

The bride's formal gown was of sheer white organza over white bridal satin. It was fashioned with trim of white lace with seed pearls and blue satin ribbon which outlined the neck, bodice and three-tiered skirt.

Her floor-length nylon tulle veil was held by a headpiece of re-embroidered lace with clusters of pearls and blue satin bows. White roses and carnations were arranged on a white lace fan carried by the bride.

ATTENDANTS
Mrs. Johnny Rutherford of Austin was matron of honor, and Miss Susan Trim was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Sue Fortenberry and Miss Gay Harris. The attendants' dresses were fashioned similar to the bride's gown of dotted Swiss in pastel colors with short puffed sleeves. They wore matching Dior bows in their hair and carried nosegays of pastel flowers arranged on white lace fans.

TO MARRY — Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Watkins, 1503 Stadium, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Shirley, to Terry Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Davis, 1210 E. Burnett, Louisville, Ky. The wedding is set for Oct. 12 at Birdwell Lane Baptist Church.

Best man was Dick Clark, and groomsmen were John Parvis, St. Louis, Mo., Mike Marchant, Amarillo, and Sid Fowler, Garden City. They also served as ushers.

SCHOOLS
The bride graduated from Big Spring High School and attended Howard College and Texas Tech University. The bridegroom also graduated from BSHS and attended Howard College. He served four years in the U. S. Navy and is presently employed in the research labs of Texas Instruments, Dallas. The couple will reside in Richardson.

Miss Sheila Lewis, Lubbock; Miss Jana Stuard, Abilene; Miss Cindy Wade, Miss Renee Wash and Mrs. Mike Moats served refreshments during the reception in the fellowship hall.

The bride's table was laid with a white lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of blue and white carnations. Appointments were silver and crystal. The bridegroom's table was arranged with a camping theme.

Out-of-town relatives attending the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Rasco, grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rasco and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stuard, all of Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bain, Corpus Christi; Mr. and Mrs. James Thomson, Texarkana; Col. and Mrs. David Eby, Wichita Falls; Mrs. Leona Martin, Olton; and Mr. and Mrs. Rushing Sheffield, San Angelo.

A rehearsal luncheon Saturday was hosted by the parents of the bridegroom at their home where the tables were centered with white baskets holding blue and white carnations.

'Quotable Women'

By The Associated Press.

Here are some quotable quotes from women during the week:

"Making a film was not something that was directly on my mind. It began to develop as a means of saying something about someone I've known for 25 years and who is more intriguing, more convoluted and driven by a greater variety of impulses than anyone I've ever met." Judy Collins, singer of folk and popular songs, talking about a film she produced and codirected about Antonia Bruci, the first woman to conduct the New York Philharmonic.

"Every time we go campaigning, men come up to us to complain about how other men have screwed up things so badly they're ready to try a woman in politics." Roberta Weiner, legislative coordinator of the New York State Women's Political Caucus, speaking on Women's Equality Day.

"I know that many think that because I am a woman, I cannot take over the helm. But I have two arms, and in one hand I have Peron and in the other Eva Peron." President Isabel Peron of Argentina, speaking in her first public rally since she took office in Buenos Aires.

"Like most women, I have weight problems. I've lost 31½ pounds and I want to lose 30 more. They can pad me to make me look like Bessie Smith. They can put it on wherever they need it, to make me look bigger. I just know that the more I lose, the better I feel." Singer Roberta Flack, who will portray the late blues singer Bessie Smith in the coming film "Bessie."

"Because there was no electricity, Lindbergh kept 12 kerosene lamps in his house. He liked the simple things." Mrs. Samuel F. Pryor, speaking of her neighbor in Hana, Maui, Hawaii, aviator Charles A. Lindbergh, who died this week.

Discuss Credit With Banker

Most people have better credit than they think. An average working person who pays electric, telephone, gasoline and other "credit" bills regularly probably has adequate credit for any reasonable loan.

If you do have a credit or financial problem you should discuss it candidly with your banker. Most likely, your financial dilemma isn't as "unique" or as serious as you may think. Usually there's some compromise that can be reached to satisfy both you and the bank.

A Hat Provides Flattery For Face

By Mary Sue Miller
More heads wear hats. More hats!

The feminine set has rediscovered the long-lost truths about millinery. How a hat provides flattery for your face, through your hat, you make a strong personal statement.

This season's crop of millinery goes all out for the individual cause. Shapes cater to the movement in clothes and to facial structures. Felt fedoras, with an all-season flair, reflect popular treatments with a smaller brim, with a soft, lower crown, and understated banding or quill trim.

Another grouping features hats that are easy to put on and wear and pack. Included here are jersey turbans with matching scarves, fold-away felts, berets and knit caps. For moments when you wish to make a splash, designers have created large felt hats pure of line — nothing brash. Veils, jeweled banding, a clutch of feathers — subtly bespeak the hat's purpose. And yours!

Colors have a new sophistication, trending toward the neutral as always happens in eras of more elegant fashion. And this makes for beautiful blends and contrasts with the shades on fashion's palette.

P.S. This, the first shopping day in September, is the day methinks to hat yourself.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Dear Heloise:

If you have a new mattress and box spring set and want to keep it new looking, don't forget to cover the box spring also. Most of us protect our mattresses but leave the box spring uncovered.

I used an old, white fitted sheet and slipped it over the spring, as I didn't have a plastic cover. But the sheet has worked so well, I have just left it, laundering it as necessary. The box spring is three years old now, and still looks like new.

The cover also keeps a lot of dust out of the box spring that sifts down through the mattress.

Christene Dodd

Dear Heloise:

I found a little trick that helps me get those undesirable chores done.

When you have a job you want to get done the next day, but you are reasonably certain that you are going to use every available excuse to keep from doing it, just before you go to bed at night, get all of the equipment out, set it up, all ready to go the next morning. If it's ironing, set up the board, put the iron out, and have all of the clothes at hand.

It seems to make it so much easier. You just wouldn't go to all the trouble of putting it away the next day without finishing it first, would you?

Devoted Reader

Dear Heloise:

Occasionally I have to give my 2-year-old juices, water, etc., for a cold or other illness (following doctor's orders). This can prove to be quite a problem if she doesn't happen to be in the mood.

So I tried putting whatever I wanted her to drink in a festive paper cup leftover from a birthday party. She just loved it, and it really solved my problem.

And since the cups are disposable, they don't transfer her germs to anyone else.

Mrs. Patricia Andrews

Dear Heloise:

When your plastic dish drainer tray (the one used to set under the dishrack) is ready to discard — don't!

Instead, place it on the floor where your family takes off their wet or dirty shoes when coming in out of the weather.

We find it works great at our house.

Mrs. Theresa Pluta

This column is written for you... the housewife and homemaker. If you have a hint or a problem write to Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald. Because of the tremendous volume of mail, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will, however, answer your questions in her column whenever possible.

Call 'em the "Pride Pushers." That's the title Steer band members want to have for this year. They're dead set on building a spirit to match the football and other teams. Consequently, they have been working literally day and night to be ready with a half-time stunt, featuring the base horn section, at the opening game in Andrews Sept. 6 — which, by the way, is this Friday night. Band members have been marching the first period for the past two weeks, then putting in two hours under the lights each Thursday.

School pupils are getting involved on another front. Scores upon scores from Goliad Junior High visited Heritage Museum Friday to view the "Shine on Big Spring" exhibit. Daryle Hohertz, president, urged other schools to take advantage of this historical exhibit before it comes down, probably in the first half of October. Meanwhile, Mike Paul, chairman, and his committee are mapping plans for the next major show. The museum, incidentally, will have a booth at the Howard County Fair, Sept. 16-21.

The nearest closed circuit telecast of Evel Knievel's "Spectacular Snake River Canyon Jump," will be next Sunday (Sept. 8) at Ector County Coliseum. This is the event which Coy Jo McCann and Buck McMullan of Big Spring have been plugging with their commemorative coin issue.

Six Flags has scheduled Charlie Pride for a two-day spectacular today and Monday. His 6 p.m. concert Monday will tie into the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Telethon.

New hours have been announced for Carlsbad Caverns starting Tuesday, when the visitor center will open at 8 a.m. and trips into the main cavern at 8 a.m. until 3:15 p.m. daily. (To see it all, enter no later than 2 p.m.) Bat flight programs continue through September.

Dallas Museum of Fine Arts will spotlight the paintings of Gerald Murphy during the month, and from Sept. 20 until Oct. 27, the works of Velma and Otis Dozier (with 200 pages from his scrapbooks on display). The Rembrandt painting of his son, "Titus," is on display Tuesday through Oct. 20.

The Texas Folklife Festival, the state's "Biggest Block Party," is set for Sept. 12-15, according to Institute of Texas Cultures at San Antonio (the old HemisFair site). There'll be Dutch from Netherland; Gulf Coast Scandinavian folk dancers; old time country store; many new types of ethnic foods; Negro-Texan with the 55-member Walker Ford Singers; Irish tunes; Jewish gymnasts, crafts, rides, etc.

Alley Theatre in Houston brings back three old classics its final week of the summer film festival. Monday through Wednesday is "The Women," starring Joan Crawford; Thursday and Friday, Rudolph Valentino in his last picture, "Son of the Sheik," and Saturday-Sunday, "Red Dust" with Clark Gable and Jean Harlow.

Put down on your calendar Oct. 9-13 when the 37th annual Rose Festival will be held in Tyler. A historical theme, "American Memorabilia," will be followed with costumes and floral displays dating from the 1492 era to now. The city's rose garden, the nation's largest with 38,000 bushes in 385 varieties, is donning its best dress.

In plugging dates, the West Texas Fair opens Friday with a big 10 a.m. parade in Abilene. Dates for the Panhandle South Plains Fair in Lubbock are Sept. 21-28. A new $250,000 Fair Park Pavilion will be unveiled. Star entertainers include Loretta Lynn, Charlie Pride, Mel Tillis, and the Emmet Kelly Jr. circus.

Llano Estacado Art Association (Box 684 Hobbs, N.M. 88240) has pegged Sept. 29-Oct. 11 for its ninth annual art exhibition. The best in show painting will get $500. There are classes for oils, acrylic, mixed media, water color, sculpture, graphic, ceramics and crafts with first place awards ranging from $130 to $500; third place $40 to $150.

Nov. 23-24 have been fixed as dates for the 1974

auditions in the Hemphill-Wells Sorantin competition for young artists. Cash prizes aggregate $950, and the winner will perform with the San Angelo Symphony March 31, 1975. Competition is in keyboard, orchestral instruments and voice. Write

Miss Meacham Married Friday

MRS. BENNY MANSFIELD (Photo West)

Miss Jayne Meacham became the bride of Benny Mansfield of Coahoma, in a ceremony performed Friday at 7 p.m. in Midway Baptist Church. The Rev. Rufus Wilson officiated.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meacham, Rt. 1, Big Spring. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Mansfield, Coahoma.

The altar was centered with a column arch flanked by spiral candelabra and baskets of white chrysanthemums and carnations with gypsophila.

Mrs. Bill Fryear, organist, accompanied Mrs. George White, vocalist.

The bride's floor-length gown was of white peau de soie overlaid with lace. The bodice featured a high collar and long, lace sleeves, and the princess line skirt was accented with pearls. The finger-tip-length veil was held by a crown of pearls.

The bridal bouquet was fashioned of white carnations, pink Sweetheart roses, blue lily-of-the-valley, pink statice and grape ivy tied with white and silver satin streamers.

ATTENDANTS
Mrs. Bill Myers was her sister's matron of honor and wore a floor-length royal blue knit dress, accented with hot pink, with a matching pink hat. She carried a nosegay of pink carnations. Bridesmaids were Miss Gayla Kerby and Miss Pearley Mansfield, Coahoma, sister of the bridegroom. Their dresses were like that of the matron of honor's but in pink with royal blue accents. Their nosegays were blue carnations.

Steve Stone was best man, and groomsmen were Dan Meacham and Robert Grant, San Antonio, brothers-in-law of the couple. Troy Kerby and Freddy Franklin were ushers.

Shana Drewrey, Coahoma, was the flower girl, and David Wood was the ring bearer.

When Mr. and Mrs. Mansfield return from a trip to Timbeon, N.M., they will make their home on Rt. 1, Big Spring.

The bride is a 1974 graduate of Big Spring High School and is presently employed by the Veterans Administration Hospital. The bridegroom graduated from Coahoma High School and attended Howard College. He is employed by the Little Sooper Market in Coahoma.

RECEPTION
Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the reception hall of the church. The refreshment table was adorned with satin bows, wedding bells and garlands of greenery. The centerpiece was fashioned of the wedding bouquets. Serving were Mrs. David Wood, Mrs. Robert Grant, Mrs. Wayne Drewrey, Miss Kerby and Miss Mansfield.

Out-of-town relatives attending included Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Meacham, Pecos, grandparents of the bride; Mrs. Ruby Smith, Gail, grandmother of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. George White and daughter, Forsan; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grant, San Antonio.

Times Change

"I always liked to sleep, I was never an athletic girl, but I do take a cold wash every morning. I never used cream or cosmetics when not on the stage. Just washed with household soap. As for lipstick, my mother would never have allowed me to use it." Ruzena Brozova, 81, named Queen of Beauty in Paris in 1910, in an interview in Prague.

Bette Davis Hurts Back

NEW YORK (AP) — Film star Bette Davis has suffered a mild back strain while rehearsing the Broadway-bound musical "Miss Muffet."

The play's scheduled performance in Baltimore Sept. 9-21 was canceled, and the first showing is now scheduled for Philadelphia on Sept. 23.

A spokesman said Miss Davis, 66, developed pains in her left leg during rehearsals on Tuesday and the following day was admitted to a hospital. The ailment was diagnosed as a back sprain, requiring physical therapy for at least one week.

Keep Vents Open Money Trouble

When the ceiling of a home is well insulated, attic vents should be left open winter and summer. Winter ventilation lessens the possibility of moisture condensation on the underside of the roof. Summer ventilation keeps the attic cooler.

"It's almost impossible for any marriage to survive when the woman is making so much money — more than the man — and getting all the attention. It's bound to leave the man with a feeling of inferiority, isn't it?" — Maud Adams, the new James Bond girl.

MRS. RANDALL W. PRICE

Wedding Saturday

Wedding vows were said by Mrs. Tanya Tidwell Sartor and 2nd Lt. Randall W. Price of Brownsville, at a 7 p.m. ceremony Saturday in Brownsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Tidwell, 511 Austin, are parents of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony W. Price, Brownsville, are the bridegroom's parents.

The ceremony was held in the First Presbyterian Church with the Rev. E. D. Robertson officiating before an altar flanked with baskets of pink and white gladioli.

Mrs. Lee Langford, organist, accompanied the church choir and the soloist, Mrs. I. D. Hardy.

The bride wore a formal-length gown of candlelight crepe with jeweled neckline, with capped lace sleeves that flowed to the wrist. The front of the gown was overlaid in Chantilly lace to match the sleeves. She wore a matching garden hat and carried a bouquet of white carnations accented with sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Albert La Rochelle, Odessa, served as her sister's matron of honor and wore a floor-length gown of pink crepe styled similar to the bridal gown but with short puffed sleeves. Her garden hat was pink, and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Robert Bryant, Brownsville, was best man, and Johnny Tidwell and Mark Saunders, Big Spring, was ushers.

The couple left on a wedding trip to Padre Island following a reception in the church fellowship hall. They will make their home at 1310 Smithwick No. 1, Jacksonville, Ark.

The bride graduated from Big Spring High School and attended Howard College. She has been employed as a bookkeeper at Fiber Glass Systems, Inc., for the past two years.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Texas A&I and completed his pilot training at Webb AFB in April. He is stationed at Little Rock AFB, Jacksonville, Ark.

Miss Patty Goodman, Big Spring, and Miss Sheila Price, sister of the bridegroom, served refreshments from a table covered with candlelight lace and centered with the bride's bouquet. Appointments were of crystal and silver.

The bride's parents and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Charles Tidwell attended from Big Spring.

FOCUS ON FAMILY LIVING

Plain Baking Soda Miracle Worker

By SHERRY MULLIN
(County HD Agent)

As prices rise, homemakers are looking for ways to cut costs in the supermarket. Food is a necessity, but who needs a special cleaning solution for floors, another formula for sinks and separate mixture for appliances? One general cleaning and deodorizing product works on practically everything. Baking soda can replace scores of high-priced cans, bottles and aerosol sprays.

Consider the tasks baking soda is good for. Using a solution of three tablespoons of baking soda to one quart of water, you can wash the floor, walls, woodwork, range, portable appliances and refrigerator, inside and out. Dry baking soda is an effective odor-remover for drains and garbage disposers and a good scouring powder for bathtubs and countertops. It is pure, safe and natural, too, which, in this day and age, is almost as good as being low cost!

AS CLEANER

Baby's toys, crib and other nursery furniture are all cleaned easily and inexpensively with a solution of one tablespoon soda dissolved in a quart of warm water. If baby spits up, rub the spot with dry baking soda and a damp sponge to prevent stains and odor.

To fight small cooking fires, turn off the range and toss handfuls of baking soda at the base of the flames. When the fire is out you can rinse off the food and continue cooking it. Baking soda is good in an emergency for electrical, grease, oil or gas fires — those on which water should not be used.

Many people make emergency fire extinguishers by filling empty coffee cans with baking soda, snapping on the plastic lids and setting them on shelves within easy reach of the youngsters. Paint the cans red and label them with a big "FIRE." It's a great project for Fire Prevention Week and one that makes everyone aware of the need for safety in the home.

Sometimes add up the purchase prices of all the cleaners you use in the bathroom. Then compare the figure with the cost of a box of baking soda. Soda scours the tub, sink and tile. It polishes chrome without scratching. And, finally, a cup of it in a tub of warm water makes for a relaxing bath once cleaning chores are over.

It has recently been found that baking soda is useful for preventing odor in, of all things, kitty litter pans. Just mix 3 parts litter with 1 part soda. Makes cleaning the

President To Trim Weight

WASHINGTON (AP) — A weight-watching President Ford will meet weekly with his doctor for "15-minute chats" to check on his calorie count.

Ford's physician, William Lukash, gave the President a clean bill of health last week but said he needed to trim 5 1/2 of his 200 1/2 pounds. Lukash met with Ford on Thursday and said the President's contact lenses were ready and arranged for a fitting. The President is seldom seen publicly in glasses, but needs them for long-distance sight.

Minty Tea

Preparing iced tea? You can give it delightful flavor if you have some fresh mint on hand. Add mint sprigs to the loose tea or teabags when you are steeping the tea.

No Substitute

Do not use your electric washer as a substitute clothes hamper for soiled or damp laundry. Mildew can develop with an odor that is impossible to remove.

INDIGESTION

Baking soda neutralizes the acid in acid indigestion. And it's an incredibly inexpensive form of relief. Drink one-half teaspoon of soda dissolved in one-half glass of water to alleviate that ate-too-much feeling. It might be a good idea to carry a little soda in your purse or briefcase just in case.

Baking soda deodorizes refrigerators, but it can only absorb so much. Remember to change the box every month or two, so it doesn't lose its oomph.

Recipe for ending children's boredom on a drizzly fall day: Mix together 2 cups baking soda 1 cup cornstarch in a saucepan. Add 1 1/2 cups cold water. Heat until thickened to moist mashed potato consistency. Spoon onto a plate and let cool under a damp cloth. Call on the youngsters to help form the clay into beads, paper weights, candlesticks, Christmas ornaments and creative knickknacks. Dry the objects overnight and add paint and shellac if desired.

ENGAGED — The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Diann Stewart to Bobby Mayo is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Hayworth, Rt. 2, Box 109-A, Big Spring. Parents of the prospective bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Mayo, 108 Jonesboro Road. The ceremony will be Oct. 5 in Trinity Baptist Church.

Cooking Tips

If you're making a meat loaf, try using onion soup mix instead of onion. Never shake or tap the cup when measuring flour. Spoon the flour into the cup and level it off with a knife or spatula.

Ceremony Performed

Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Dean Reed, who were married Aug. 24 in the parsonage of Trinity Baptist Church, are residing in Midland following a wedding trip to Abilene.

The bride is the former Susan Jeanette Mayo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Mayo, 108 Jonesboro, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Sam H. Reed, Sterling City Rt., Big Spring.

Dr. Claude Craven, church pastor, performed the ceremony before an archway of greenery, and music was by Mrs. Bob Lee, pianist, and Mrs. Sandy Haltmann, vocalist.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the home, with refreshments served by Mrs. Bobby Reid, Mrs. Tom Yates and Mrs. Elbert Long.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. James Branscum, Snyder; Tony Stewart, Hawaii; Lydia Hayworth, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Pat Mayo, Snyder; Mr. and Mrs. Borden Gray, Gail; and Mrs. Ray Johnson, Snyder.

For the ceremony, the bride was attired in a pastel yellow, floor-length gown of textured polyester knit styled with high waistline, Vneckline, long sleeves and a bow accent in the back. Completing her costume was a white garden hat banded in yellow ribbon which formed a bow at the back. She carried a single red rose tied with white ribbons.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Dorothy Gray of Gail, sister of the bride, wore a mint green, sleeveless crepe gown and carried a single red rose tied with white streamers.

The Rev. Bob Lee, pastor of Birdwell Lane Baptist Church, served as best man. Mr. and Mrs. Reed are both Big Spring High School graduates who attended Howard College. He is employed by the Lone Star Producing Company.

Use Frozen Juice

Frozen concentrated orange juice can become the liquor in crocked fruits, naturally sweetened with raisins, or the basis of refreshing summer coolers, or a sharper light, nutritious "syrupe" for summer morning cereals. Make your own preserves or fruit tortes, mousses, fruited breads and American Danishes, when your supermarket's fruit crop is especially peak.

'Now Guys Are More Worried About Their Jobs' 'Blue Collar Blues' Fade

EDITOR'S NOTE — Among causes of an attention-getting strike two years ago at General Motors in Lordstown, Ohio, behaviorists cited the "blue collar blues." They said the malaise resulted from boredom on the assembly line. Lordstown was struck again this July. This time, though the "blues" had faded as the major concern.

By TERRY RYAN
(Associated Press Writer)

LORDSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Beyond the chain link fence and acres of yellow-lined parking lots, the fastest, most automated automobile assembly line in the world stood silent and unmoving.

Dan Dearing and a half dozen other men were picketing the east gate of the plant. But the picketing was casual. Dearing, in fact, sat on the hood of his car, talking quietly in the warm summer night.

DIFFERENCE

"Look," he explained earnestly, "I got a house now, a house and a mortgage and a baby. It makes a difference. I didn't have them two years ago. Besides, being-hotheaded never got us anything either."

Two years ago in March, Local 1112 of the United Auto Workers struck Lordstown's General Motors complex of Chevrolet van and Vega plants. It was a militant, attention-grabbing strike. On the table were local grievances and contract language. But sociologists said the problem was much deeper — a phenomenon they called the "blue collar blues."

Now, this July 12, about 7,800 members of Local 1112 went on strike again. Grievances were back on the table. But the attitudes and atmosphere had changed. Talk about the "blues" — the monotony of assembly line work and the dehumanizing effects of the pace set by machines — had turned into concern about the economy and job security.

LAI D OFF

"Back in '72," said Dan Dearing, 27-year-old relief man in the body shop on an assembly line that makes Vegas, "people were saying 'the hell with the company. Let's change things. Let's walk out and let them steam for a while.'"

"Now guys are more worried about their jobs. The way the economy is you have to be. Besides, a lot of men laid off then were never called back. I think it scared a lot of people."

Like many Lordstown workers now, Dearing says he can live with his job. There are petty harassments to put up with but the pay and benefits are good, and that seems the major consideration to most. Assembly line workers make $5.50 an hour, maybe $12,000 a year with a little overtime.

MONOTONY

"As far as the boredom and monotony thing, I don't think that will ever change," Dearing said. "I don't have that problem, not on my job. The rest of the people, maybe they just resigned themselves to it."

Lordstown is near the eastern end of the Cleveland-Youngstown industrial axis in northeastern Ohio. Its GM complex spreads over 975 acres next to the Ohio Turnpike. Mhe workers are largely second generation industrial workers — sons and daughters of Mahoning Valley steel workers — or first generation off the farm. There are 550 women and about 1,100 minority employees, mostly black — about the same percentages as in 1972.

The trouble at Lordstown began after a high speed Vega assembly line was installed in 1970. It was the assembly line of the future: 100 cars an hour, 40 more than other lines.

It was designed to make work easier. It moved up and down to reduce bending and stretching. Automatic welders and other machines took over some of the more difficult or delicate jobs. But because it was fast, the average worker had a still has — 35 seconds to perform his task as the line moved inexorably forward.

The workers on the line were young, mod and militant, longhaired and little awed by management, the work ethic or its discipline.

In October, 1971, GM removed the Chevrolet Division and Fisher Body management that had run the plant. The General Motors Assembly Division — the G-MADs to the workers — was sent in. The new management ordered reductions in the work force.

SABOTAGE

Too much work per man, said the union. Some cars began coming down the line with internal engine parts stacked on top of the motor block. Other cars came through with slashed electrical cables and cracked instrument panels. Sabotage, said management, repair yard at the Vega plant. Day after day, the line was shut down after one or two hours because the repair yard was full.

When the 1972 strike finally came it was settled in three weeks and few people in the union say they got much out of it.

But the shutdowns for repairs didn't happen this year. Before this year's strike, there were seldom more than 20 cars in the repair yard, said John Grix, GMAD's public relations manager at the plant.

FEAR MOUNTS

It is an unfounded fear, said Grix, but many workers are concerned that repetition of the 1972 tactics would cause GM to pull Vega production out of Lordstown. GM did open a Vega plant in Canada late in 1972 and soon will be producing Vegas at South Gate, Calif.

There have been other changes at Lordstown, too. According to company records, disciplinary lay offs declined from more than 500 in the month before in 1972 strike to about 200 in the month before this year's walkout.

Fender hangers and motor mount men may complain about arbitrary discipline and unfair foremen, but fewer are now willing to risk going out the door for a day, a week or a month without pay.

And the Lordstown work force has turned 30. The average age of the workers themselves talk about wives, children and mortgage payments.

HE'S WILLING

"Right now, a lot of these people are so establishment they are unbelievable," said Grix. "We got a lot of guys out there with long hair and mod clothes. But even that guy, he might be saying, 'I don't buy your lifestyle, but he's willing to work for us.'"

Workers' conditions on the line have not improved since 1972, says Ford. "As a matter of fact, they are maybe a little worse." It is not that people don't feel something has to be done about it, he said, but they are going about it in different ways.

The absentee reate has risen from 8 per cent in 1971 to 10.5 per cent in 1973 to 12.7 per cent in June, 1974.

Sometimes 10 per cent of the work force misses Mondays and Fridays.

Many of those who do punch in every day have their own ways of coping. On the picket line or in bars a few miles away, it is easy to find auto workers who tell of going to work stoned on alcohol or marijuana.

Workers might not be any happier at Lordstown these days, but they are more inclined to file a grievance than organize a protest.

BENEFIT CHECKS

Before the 1972 strike, members of Local 1112 had filed 6,000 grievances over work standards, discipline, health and safety conditions and other matters covered by their contract. There were 16,000 grievances on file when they struck this July.

There were more motorcycles than Vegas in the parking lot when, this August, Local 1112 members came in to pick up their weekly strike benefit checks — $40 maximum for a married worker with two children.

Bob Hunt got $30. He is 24 and single and wore white double knit slacks and dark glasses. He is a relief operator on the Vega line and insists on working exactly according to the contract.

"I've been tossed out of the plant a dozen times just because I stick by the book, 100 per cent by the book," he explained. "I just want people to stick up for what they believe is right."

"Some day, I want to see the union defeat management," said Hunt. "I don't mean stomp them on the ground. All I mean is going in to work and not being a number, a robot, a piece of machinery."

THE LAST OF THE DAREDEVILS — Evel Knievel takes to the air, as he attempts a death defying leap of 19 cars in this exciting scene from the Fanfare Corporation film "Evel Knievel" starring George Hamilton as the motorcycle stuntman and Sue Lyon as his wife. The film opens Wednesday at the Jet Drive-In.

AT THE JET Movie Tells Evel's Story

Evel Knievel, America's King of the Stuntmen, who will attempt to jump the Snake River Canyon astride a jet-propelled motorcycle on September 8, is as fascinating a character in real-life as he is a performer. His story, revolving around the highlights of his spectacular career, is depicted in the feature film, "Evel Knievel," starring George Hamilton as the madcap motorcycle stuntman and Sue Lyon as his wife, Linda. Opening Wednesday at the Jet Drive In Theater, "Evel Knievel" was filmed in Metrocolor under the direction of Marvin Chomsky, and includes in its cast Bert Freed, Rod Cameron, Dub Taylor, Ron Masak and Hal Baylor. Joe Solomon served as executive producer and Hamilton as producer of the Fanfare Corporation production. Hospitals are no strangers to Evel, who painfully earned his billing. During the course of his career, he has missed 11 major jumps, resulting in serious injuries which required nine open reduction operations and left him with one leg permanently crippled and held together with metal pins. Evel, who calls life "a bore," continues to flirt with disabling injury and possible death every time he mounts his motorcycle. Overflowing crowds of young and old turn out across the country to watch him perform, making him one of the most popular and best paid athletes in sports history.

Adventure, action, love, chivalry, excitement, scope and realism are all important elements in Richard Lester's new all-star film of Alexander Dumas' "The Three Musketeers" premiering today at the Ritz Theatre, but most importantly, humor is key to the director's vision of the cloak and sword extravaganza. Neither camp nor burlesque, the wit of the film comes directly from the novel, highlighting the satire and sophisticated comedy of the era.

Toledo is an apt 17th century Paris and the innumerable palaces of Spain were ideally suited for recreating the scope of the epoch.

Entertainment for both adults and children. It is certainly action filled, but also funny, sad, realistic, satiric and romantic. All for one and one for all and every man for himself!

Independents Take Top Share Of Shows

EDITOR'S NOTE — Independent producers are fast becoming the Davids in an industry of Goliaths. Nearly half of this fall's television series will come from the independents. The big reason: major studios like MGM and Columbia are burdened with more overhead.
 By JERRY BUCK
 Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP)—It sounds like a mixture of Horatio Alger and Charlie Chaplin: little guy makes good.
 The independent production company is the cottage industry of television. A mom and pop operation.
 But this fall 25 series—nearly half of those on the air—will be from major studios such as MGM, Columbia and Universal.
 Ratings leader "All in the Family" comes from Norman Lear and Bud Yorkin's Tandem Productions. Its huge success spawned other Tandem shows, "Sanford and Son," "Maude" and "Good Times."
 "The Waltons" and "Apple's Way" comes from Lee Rich's Lerimar Productions.
 The Mary Tyler Moore and Bob Newhart shows are out of MTM Enterprises, run by Miss Moore's husband, Grant Tinker. In the fall MTM will have five shows on the air and the sixth in production.
 Quinn Martin has "Cannon," "Barnaby Jones," and "The Streets of San Francisco" and will have "Manhunter" this fall as "The FBI" leaves the air.
 Almost every TV movie and special comes not from the television networks or major film studios but from independents. "I think the independents have emerged because the networks like what they're getting," says Aaron Spelling of Spelling-Goldberg Productions, makers of "The Rookies."

 "The independents deliver some big, high-rated show," John McMahon, an NBC programming executive, said. "The independents have proven in the movies of the week and in series that they can produce well. I think they're there to stay."
 "An independent producer has no ties to a major studio, such as MGM, or Universal, except perhaps to rent space there. But shows such as "Cannon" and "Barnaby Jones" are made almost entirely on location.
 Tomorrow Entertainment, makers of such television movies as "The Autobiography of Miss Jane Pittman" and "Tell Me Where It Hurts," has never filmed in a studio.
 Many creators who once worked under the aegis of the studios are now associating with independents.
 "We're able to tie up people on an exclusive basis because they know they'll make money," Rich said. "They never see a dime of profit after the studios get through with the bookkeeping."
 Creators who work at studios find themselves charged for a share of every studio expense, from security to music to the copyright department.
 Rich said, "I think what we have found is that we operate with a very tiny overhead. Which means we're able to get more on the screen."

HIRED AS PRISON GUARDS Ex-Cons Go Straight

EDITOR'S NOTE — About 25 Connecticut ex-cons have gone straight — to jobs on state prison and jail staffs. Only two have lost their jobs. Neither instance involved anything like a job break. But a guards' union says hiring ex-cons at prisons threatens security.

By DAN HALL
(Associated Press Writer)
HARTFORD CONN. (AP) — Ruben Jimenez, age 36, back-ground: heroin addict in Spanish Harlem at 14; convicted "27 or 28 times," imprisoned 12 years, occupation: correctional officer.

Jimenez is one of a small, controversial new breed of guards and counselors in Connecticut prisons and jails. A former addict with a 16-year history of heroin use interrupted only by prison terms, he broke the habit after his last arrest. Only a few months later, at the maximum-security prison in Somers, he founded the state prison system's first autonomous drug rehabilitation center.

HELPS ADDICTS
Since 1969, about 25 former inmates have followed similar paths to Correction department jobs in what Commissioner John R. Manson calls a unique step from behind bars directly into positions of authority.

Only two have lost their jobs. Jimenez says one was fired because his job performance worsened consistently. The other suddenly stopped reporting to work. Another two dozen of the 1,000 department employees have conviction records but came from other jobs.

The list of ex-cons on prison and jail staffs includes a deputy warden, correctional officers and counselors to addicts, inmates and parolees. Among them are:

BLACK PANTHER
— Dennis Guay, a computer programmer with a college degree who beat his wife's sister to death with a bowling pin in 1963. His life sentence was commuted to eight years after he set up two educational programs for fellow inmates. Now he's a deputy jail warden.

— Warren Kimbro, a former Black Panther lieutenant charged in 1969, along with National Chairman Bobby G. Seale, with murder in the death of a Panther underling. Kimbro admitted firing the first of several shots into the victim.

Seale denied complicity in the crime and his trial ended in a hung jury. Kimbro went on to create several inmate programs and now runs a halfway house for former addicts.

— Joseph Falso, also a heroin addict with a 12-year prison record. He learned institutional cooking while in the Somers prison, with the help of his prison teacher who was a food supervisor and counselor at a drug-rehabilitation center.

DRUG PROGRAMS
The hiring of ex-cons coincided with the opening of new educational and drug programs in the department, many of them shaped by inmates themselves.

"We had so few dollars we were forced to spread the budget as well as we could for staff, then beat the bushes for inmates," Manson recalled. First the inmates worked as volunteers, then they became paid employees.

The commissioner emphasized that he never set a goal of hiring former inmates. Each one proved his qualifications while in prison.

"He hasn't just served time, but he's been part of the rehabilitation service," he said. "I don't think we've ever hired an ex-con just because he was an ex-con."

One result of the program, however, was that both inmates and employers saw proof that criminals "can make it," he added. Both Manson and the ex-cons working for him agree a background in crime and imprisonment are of little if any benefit to former inmates dealing with other criminals. One exception is the ability of former addicts to help others shake the habit.

Jimenez, a dynamic, dedicated and disarming man, shows how a toughened criminal can make the conversion, Manson said.

MARRIAGE FAILS
Born into a Spanish-speaking ghetto on New York's West Side, where heroin was a household word, the young addict was caught during a burglary at age 16 and imprisoned at Riker's Island for three years.

Jimenez said the term did little for him except to keep him temporarily off heroin.

He later was arrested 32 times, all for nonviolent crimes to obtain more narcotics.

His marriage was a failure, ending in separation six years ago, he said. Following his last conviction, he and other addicts in the sprawling Somers Prison were allowed to set up inmate-run Empathy House inside the walls.

MoPac Orders Equipment

ST. LOUIS — The Missouri Pacific System has announced the largest single freight car and locomotive order in its history, an outlay of more than $100 million to purchase 3,000 freight cars and 80 diesel locomotives in 1975.

In addition, MoPac increased its 1974 equipment acquisition program by $8.6 million to purchase 31 more locomotives. Equipment purchases in 1974 now total $84 million for 2,519 freight cars, 91 locomotives, and 60 cabooses. Delivery of the 1974 equipment orders is nearly complete.

The 80 new locomotives for 1975 include 52 units of 3,000 h.p.; 6 of 2,250 h.p.; 12 of 2,000 h.p., and 10 of 1,500 h.p. MoPac's new freight car purchases for 1975 include 1,500 box cars, all equipped with load cushioning devices as well as roller bearings which have been standard on all new MoPac cars in recent years; also 400 of them have 60"80" 100-ton capacity. Since 1964, MoPac has purchased almost 30,000 freight cars, the equivalent of nearly half its fleet.

Lone Star Gas Hike

DALLAS (AP) — Lone Star Gas Co. says the Texas Railroad Commission has approved a rate increase that will affect about one million residential customers.

The company received approval for a rate of increase of 3.56 cents per 1,000 cubic feet. The company had asked for an 8.1 cent increase per 1,000 cubic feet in May 1973.

A spokesman said the company was not satisfied with the increase but would accept it for the time being. He said during the year the company had lost money as the costs of natural gas increased. The commission authorized the company's transmission division to charge its distribution division the increased rate.

Shot Is Fatal To Dallas Man

DALLAS (AP) — A pistol shot hit Noah Jones, 52, in the neck and killed him Friday night at the food store he managed, police said. Witnesses told officers that Jones and another man, 37, believed to have been one of his relatives, got into an argument.

EARLY'S MULE 'The Good Lord Knows We Make A Good Team'

HARTSVILLE, S. C. (AP) — "The Good Lord knows we make a good team. We do the best we can. I don't understand why the law would want me to give up Red. I need Red. Red needs me." Red is a mule who pulls a wagon owned by Early Wilds, 74, blind in one eye and going blind in the other. Since 1924 Wilds has been "The Wagon Man", driving a mule and a wagon through the streets of Hartsville, where he earns a living plowing home vegetable gardens.

Hartsville officials have notified Wilds that he must get rid of the mule by Sunday to comply with a 1968 city ordinance that prohibits horses, mules, chickens or hogs inside the city limits.

"I need Red to help make a living. The little Social Security check I get is not enough to keep me and my wife Ethel going. I want to earn my way. I've never been on welfare or food stamps and I don't want to start now," Wilds said. "Me and Red are getting too old to change our ways. He is going on 16, kind of old for a hard-working mule."

He added, "I will obey the law. I always have. I wish the city would change its mind, though."

Air Fares Are Due To Rise

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — Passenger fares on the North Atlantic route will go up by an average of 10 per cent Nov. 1 under a package agreement announced today by the International Air Transport Association.

The hikes, still subject to government approval, will be the stiffest so far this year. Three earlier increases by an average total of 18 per cent were blamed on soaring fuel costs.
