DALLAS (AP) — Justice Department said it will honor its agreement with Jacobsen not to prosecute him in Texas in exchange for his testimony in the Connally case. That decision came in the form of a notice of intention not to prosecute filed here with U.S. District Court Judge Robert Hill who had rejected last Friday a government motion to dismiss the charges against Jacobsen, originally named in a seven-count federal indictment in Texas related to the misapplication of $850,000 belonging to a San Angelo savings and loan firm, had made a plea-bargain with federal prosecutors. He agreed to plead guilty to a bribery case in Washington and testify against Connally and, in return, the Justice Department agreed to dismiss the charges in Texas. Jacobsen had no comment when reached at his Austin home.

dictment. The state may prosecute if there are any corresponding state charges," he added.

McCown also pointed out that federal prosecutors would not turn any evidence over to the State of Texas to be used against Jacobsen.

In Austin, First Asst. Atty. Gen. Larry York said the Attorney General's office would not comment due to the possible effect of the Justice Department's decision "on later juries or judges who might hear the case."

SEA ODYSSEY — Patty Banquist, 32, of Vancouver, B.C., shows a souvenir of her odyssey aboard the luxury liner Cunard Ambassador. The key to her cabin and the sleeping gown she's wearing were the only possessions Miss Banquist, a blackjack dealer, was able to claim before she and 256 other crew members were ordered off the burning liner Thursday off Key West, Fla. She and the others were brought to Fort Lauderdale, Fla., early today after being picked up at sea by a passing tanker.

FLASH FLOOD WARNINGS

Most Intense Rain Storm Of 1974

By The Associated Press

What the Weather Service called "the most intense and widespread rain storm of 1974" bore down on Corpus Christi this morning after dumping as much as 14 inches of water on some places just northwest of that coastal city.

The Weather Service issued a flash flood warning for a vast region of the state northeast of a Laredo-Austin line.

River for which the crossroads town is named surging out of its banks.

"Widespread flooding is expected along the river from Little River to Cameron the next two days," the Weather Service said as far as the junction with the Brazos.

The rains were set off by a strong cool front colliding with the moisture-laden air left by Hurricane Carmen. At the 7 a.m. readings today, nearly half the major reporting stations were recording moisture ranging from drizzle to severe thunderstorms.

officers were attempting to "rescue" a motorist from a tree near Woodsboro on U.S. 77. His car was swept away by high water.

Deputy Sheriff Chris Ybanez said rescuers with boats and high-wheeled vehicles helped an undetermined number of families to flee high water in low parts of George West.

Water blocked U.S. 59, U.S. 281 and Texas 9 in the George West region.

The rain reports of 14 inches or more came from George West and Refugio.

MILK MONEY

Connally is indicated on a bribery charge for allegedly accepting contributions two $5,000 contributions from Associated Milk Producers Inc., a Texas-based cooperative reportedly for his efforts in boosting milk subsidies. Jacobsen was a lobbyist for AM-PI at the time.

U.S. Atty. Frank McCown said that the federal government's decision "in no way binds the state of Texas." It was McCown who informed Judge Hill of the government's intention not to prosecute.

"But my understanding is that the state cannot prosecute Jacobsen on this in-

Fair Promising To Be Larger

The 1974 Howard County Fair was pulling all the strings together today in anticipation of opening of the 1974 show Monday 6 p.m.

Sporting a new exhibits building, thanks to the Dora Roberts Foundation, and a new fence the county erected for its buildings and surrounding grounds, the Fair looms substantially larger than last year.

For one thing, there had been 57 exhibit spaces engaged to Friday morning, almost twice the number of last year. The new exhibit building also will free considerable space in the center county building for various displays.

Decorators were moving in Friday afternoon to put up bunting and overhead streamers, and Saturday booths will be erected. The carnival moves in Sunday.

Some materials will be moved Sunday afternoon and all-day Monday in anticipation of the formal opening, there will be band music preceding this, said Arnold Marshall, general superintendent, and Col. Robert Owens, wing commander at Webb AFB, will say a few words before Susie Garrett, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Garrett, and Buddy Barr, Fair president, snip the ribbon to open the show.

Individuals who want to display examples of accomplishments in clothing, food, also show antiques, etc., may enter these Monday morning. There will also be a division for paintings.

Special events will include the annual barrow show and sale, flower show, art show, rabbit show, Shrine circus (on Tuesday), motorcycle rodeo, pet show, horse show, Agri-Business Appreciation Barbecue, National Sand Washer Pitching finals.

Local Station In New Hands

Sale of KBYG Radio, Big Spring, has been announced subject to approval of the Federal Communications Commission (FCC).

An application to assign the license of KBYG from Howard County Broadcasting Inc. to Tentex Broadcasting Inc. was filed with the FCC.

The new owners would include KTF's Radio Inc. and Hugh D. Frizzell, Texarkana, and associates.

Selling interests in the radio station are Radio Beaumont Inc., Radio Bryan Inc., Radio Laredo Inc., and others. Baum will continue as station manager.

Mathis Quits Stanton Post

STANTON — Jimmy Mathis, Stanton city manager for the past year, resigned his post here Tuesday effective Oct. 1 to accept a similar position in Rockwall.

Mathis had recently been elected president of the Martin County Industrial Foundation. He is moving to a city of 6,000 which is experiencing rapid growth due to the completion of Lake Ray Hubbard nearby.

ANGRY WHITES HURL STONES Police Ordered To Escort School Buses In Boston

BOSTON (AP) — Motorcyclist police formed escorts for buses carrying black and white pupils to their new schools on second day of court-ordered busing in Boston, but in some cases they escorted near empty buses.

Police lined both sides of the bus routes for about two miles as the buses brought black children through the blue collar Irish section in South Boston to a white high school there. The first 12 buses carried 24 students.

CITY BAN

Helmeted police standing about five yards apart encircled South Boston High School. A police spokesman said 300 to 400 officers had been assigned to the area. No crowds gathered, honoring a city ban on a s'semblies imposed after angry crowds of whites stoned several buses in the area Thursday, injuring eight black children. But four persons — three of them a mother and her two children — were arrested today on disorderly conduct charges.

Fifty black pupils of an assigned 474 were bused to South Boston High today, compared with 56 on Thursday, a mayor's office spokesman said. The school scene of demonstrations and some rock throwing on Thursday, previously had been 99 per cent white.

At Roxbury High School, 12 white pupils of about 500 assigned there attended today, compared with 20 on Thursday, according to Headmaster Charles Ray. The school previously was 100 per cent black.

Elsewhere in the city, the opening of school appeared normal, although some parents said they would continue to keep their children home in a threatened two-week boycott.

Eight black children were hurt when buses were stoned on Thursday, when about a third of the city's pupils stayed home.

RAIN

Wet winter weather forecast for tonight. As the temperature drops to the mid 50s, a 30 per cent chance of rain exists. Easterly to southeasterly wind 10-20 miles per hour tonight. Chance of rain Saturday, 20 per cent, with the thermometer reaching the mid 70s.

END OF THE DAY — A youth is taken away by Boston policemen outside of South Boston High School Thursday as school was about to be let out. Many people turned out to protest the new school integration order in Boston.

The World At-A-Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two of President Ford's top economics advisers say consumers won't get any significant relief from the nation's soaring inflation rate this year. The predictions came from departing presidential economic counsel Kenneth Rush and Chairman Alan Greenspan of the Council of Economic Advisers.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Howard Hughes corporation helped finance an undercover investigation by federal drug agents at one of the billionaire's Las Vegas hotels, the Drug Enforcement Administration acknowledges. The Hughes-owned Summa Corp. supplied $20,000 in February 1973 to support two agents as they gambled at the Frontier Hotel in an effort to infiltrate a suspected drug ring. DEA officials said in response to questions Thursday.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House subcommittee has been urged to withhold $450,000 of former President Richard M. Nixon's requested $850,000 transition money until he makes a full disclosure on the Watergate scandals. Three of the panel's members had objected to part or all of the $450,000 because Nixon controls Watergate tapes and papers.

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Black guerrillas of Frelimo who have been fighting the Portuguese army for 10 years in Mozambique are being brought into Lourenco Marques, the territory's capital, to help their former enemies prevent renewed violence. The Portuguese government said today. A communique said the situation in Lourenco Marques "continues to normalize, although there remains a risk of sporadic incidents."

DETROIT (AP) — Congress is expected to lift soon the requirement that all new cars carry seat belt-interlock systems. But it will come too late for about a million buyers of 1975-model cars. Auto companies are already into new car production and will have an estimated one million units with interlocks in dealer showrooms by late this month when Congress is expected to drop the safety devices. The interlocks, first required for 1974 models, force front seat occupants to fasten their harness-belts before the car will start.

BUDGET MUST BE CUT

Farm Groups Told They Must Suffer

CHICAGO (AP) — umers see imp-Rep. W. R. Poage summed up what was on the minds of many attending a White House-sponsored farm and food conference to seek answers on inflation: things are going to get rougher before they get better.

"The farmer and the laborer, as well as the manufacturer, must be willing to accept some rough going if we are going to stop inflation, and if we don't stop it, we will surely all go down together," the Texas Democrat, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, said Thursday night.

The conference, which drew some 60 delegates, ends today after summary reports on causes and proposed cures for the troubled economy. They will be considered by a White House summit meeting on inflation Sept. 27-28.

Poage said Americans suffer from a philosophy he said originated with labor unions calling for equal pay regardless of productivity.

Other speakers, including Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz, said the federal government will have to cut spending before farmers and con-

Jerry Rees, an official of the National Association of Wheat Growers, said he hoped "they don't try to cure all the problems of inflation" by cracking down on agriculture and forcing down farm prices.

Sen. Walter Huddleston, D-Ky., said export controls on farm products are not the way to make more food available.

"We are concerned and frankly scared of any export program that would jeopardize long-term sales" of farm products and thus contribute to reduced income for producers, Huddleston said.

William J. Kuhfuss, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, said in a paper submitted today that federal deficit spending is "the root cause of inflation" and that the administration should move decisively to assure Americans something will be done about it.

But Tony T. Dechant, president of the National Farmers Union, advocated stepped-up government programs to provide jobs, reduce taxes for lower-income people.

Trio Picks Bad Time For Heist

Three burglars, who might now be reflecting on their luck and poor timing, were resting in the city jail this morning after having been arrested shortly after 1 a.m. today. Coincidentally, this is Friday 13.

Jose Angel Puga, Ernest Gonzales and Henry Madrid were in jail charged with burglary in lieu of $3,500 bonds set by Judge John Coffee.

The three were charged with attempting to steal a television set at the Rip Griffin Truck Stop Motel and with allegedly stealing $12 worth of ice cream at the H&A Grocery.

Using Right Word

One of the nation's leading newspapers recently carried a letter to the editor in which the writer noted that there are items in the federal budget which can be eliminated or reduced with best effect. "One of these is federal highway spending, which not only has a strongly inflationary influence but can be reduced with less direct effects on employment than other spending cuts," said the writer.

We cannot agree with this premise, nor with a further conclusion that this would be an energy conservation measure. Most new roads we know about shorten distance or move traffic at far more efficient speeds so far as fuel is concerned.

But the crowning blow was in the suggestion that Congress impound the highway funds for at least the next two years and use their interest receipts to subsidize the operation of local bus transportation.

Ah ha! The right word is used, "to subsidize" mass transit.

And when revenues raised from highway use are diverted to mass transit, that is exactly what is happening—the rest of the cities and the thousands of towns and villages across the land are being asked to subsidize a problem peculiar to a megalopolis spread. In sense, those of us in the less populous areas are being asked to contribute to a transportation system that benefits us not and to a degree helps perpetuate the metropolitan fester and retard the movement of population into more wholesome parts of the country.

Testing The Waters

Sen. Lloyd M. Bentsen says that he won't accept the vice presidential nomination of the Democratic party in 1976. He would, however, accept the presidential nomination if it were offered to him.

The Texas senator has been testing the political winds throughout the nation this year and reports that his reception has been encouraging. But whether Sen. Bentsen can transform his good image in Congress and Texas to the national level will determine to a great extent if he stands a chance in getting the nomination.

Sen. Bentsen has done a credible job during his first four years in the Senate. He not only has earned the respect of his fellow senators, but has developed a wide range of support from labor, industry and the public. He has been an advocate of fiscal responsibility in regards to federal spending, yet he continues to encourage expanded research and federal budget reform. With continued national exposure, Bentsen could gain the support needed for a presidential nomination. But if he does fail to get that he would make an attractive candidate in the second spot.

TRUCK DRIVING, especially long haul truck driving, takes a special kind of person. They not only have to shoulder all the monotony of hours at a time on the road, but they have to put up with thousands of "amateur" automobile drivers on the roads.

Most of the time, these drivers have less accidents in one year of driving as much as 300,000 miles than the average 12,000 miles a year driver.

But every now and then, this serious business has a lighter side. One day a trucker was rolling down the highway at a speed approaching 75 m.p.h., when he was stopped by a DPS radar unit.

The officer was annoyed at the driver because he was the third or fourth trucker he caught speeding that day.

"What would you do if you were to top a hill going that speed, and find that a train was running across the road just ahead?" the officer inquired.

The trucker thought a second and replied, "Well, I would reach back in the sleeper and wake up Jake, the co-driver."

Puzzled, the officer asked why he would do that.

"Because, Jake ain't never seen a real bad wreck before," the driver said.

SEPTEMBER IS one of my favorite months of the year. This month is when football really get started, it's when all the new shows come on TV and it's when all the new cars are introduced.

Also in September, believe it or not, several little known, but important historical events took place. It was in September in 1871 that the 8th consecutive homely king took the Spanish throne, proving the reign in Spain falls mainly to the plain.

In September in 310 B.C. Euclid discovered the zero, and realizes that it's all for naught.

It was September in ancient China that Confucius said, "Man who falls in blast furnace is certain to feel overwrought."

In 1882, a book publisher turns down "Pinocchio" claiming there's too many strings attached.

And finally, in 1520, Magellan tried to sail around South America, and found himself in desperate straits.

FOLKS IN COAHOMA and Sand Springs know they have a winner in the Coahoma Bulldogs when they can fumble seven times and still win 20-6.

Being a resident of the area myself, I can see that once the first game jitters are over, the Bulldogs are going to be a formidable team to reckon with.

Basketball season in Coahoma is going to come a little late this year.

Switch In Plans

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — By succumbing to emotion and not even waiting for the completion of a secret study on the effects of pardoning Richard M. Nixon, President Ford, in the view of some, has raised serious questions of his performance in time of crisis.

AT THE MOMENT SUNDAY morning when Mr. Ford bloodied his young presidency by issuing the pardon, selected lawyers on and off the government payroll were quietly preparing a study he had requested on legal and political ramifications of a Nixon pardon.

Preliminary reports of that study submitted to White House counsel Philip Buchen suggested it was much too soon for any possible pardon. That view was shared by Buchen himself as well as other aides President Ford brought into the White House. "I don't know one Ford man, either on his staff or in his kitchen cabinet, who wanted an immediate pardon," a Ford insider told us.

GEN. ALEXANDER HAIG, the chief of staff inherited from Nixon, was viewed by these Ford insiders as advocating a quick pardon. But not even the mighty Haig is believed influential enough to have swayed the President from the resolve expressed at his Aug. 28 press conference to await action by special prosecutor Leon Jaworski before considering a pardon for Nixon.

What changed the President's mind? The answer is put identically by several Ford advisers: "Somebody got to Ford. Specifically, that 'somebody' told the President that Nixon was in precarious condition emotionally and physically and could not survive under threats of prosecution.

THIS CERTAINLY WAS not the message brought back from San Clemente by Benton Becker, the young Washington lawyer sent there by Mr. Ford to negotiate with Nixon. Becker encountered a composed Nixon, wholly in command of himself, and so reported to the White House.

Accordingly, the "somebody" was a person in far more intimate contact with the real Nixon at San Clemente. In the opinion of one informed Ford adviser, it was Julie Nixon Eisenhower, the former President's engagingly bright daughter who has always been a favorite of Mr. Ford's.

WHOEVER THE SAN CLEMENTE caller, Mr. Ford's stunning reversal is seen by his closest advisers as dictated not by politics but by personal compassion. Mostly private criticism of the President within his own party goes not to motives but to judgment.

The cost of that bad judgment is running perilously high. By breaking past promises, Mr. Ford has wounded his own credibility and put all Republican candidates on the Watergate spot less than two months before the election. His presidency, his relations with Congress and Republican campaign prospects all have been damaged.

REPUBLICANS ARE consequently asking whether this was a single abysmal aberration or a clue to congenital behavior in time of crisis. They desperately hope the former is the case because of the unwholesome parallel in this crisis with President Nixon, who never consulted his party. Only Haig, Buchen and counselor Robert Hartmann were kept fully informed about the pardon. Mr. Ford took no advance soundings of congressional reaction. A longtime Ford intimate, House minority leader John Rhodes (one of the few Republicans giving the pardon his private approval), was informed Sunday noon at the ninth tee at Burning Tree following the public announcement. Nor is there any sign that another wise old Ford crony, Melvin R. Laird, was consulted in advance. The cabinet—including still another Ford crony, Secretary of the Interior Rogers Morton—was ignored.

LEASE EXPLICABLE of all was the failure to confide in press secretary Jerald F. terHorst. It is believed at the White House that his resignation was dictated not only by substantive disagreement with the pardon but chagrin that, by being kept in the dark, he gave incorrect information to newsmen last week.

"Si Presidente Ford? About this amnesty thing..."

Distrust Revived

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — It would be hard to imagine any way by which the whole Watergate horror could have been given new life than by President Gerald Ford's precipitous blanket pardon of former President Richard Nixon.

THE COUNTRY HAD BEEN happy to accept Ford as ushering in a new era of reconciliation when, contrary to previous statements, one given at his first press conference, he jumped before even the first steps in the judicial process had been taken.

His aides say he acted in the belief that by a quick, decisive move he would put the whole thing in the past. After a flurry of controversy it would be seen that his compassionate pardon was the only way to clear the air and relegate the whole matter to history.

If this was his motive, he made a serious miscalculation. As he said nearly a year ago when asked about total absolution, "The public wouldn't stand for it." Nothing has happened in the intervening months to change that opinion. In fact the whole cycle of jail sentences, upcoming trials and the drama of Nixon's self-righteous resignation has strengthened that view.

ONE MAY QUESTION Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski's expressed opinion that the pardon will not influence the outcome of the Sept. 30 trial of the principal Nixon lieutenants. That Jaworski learned of the pardon only when it was publicly announced is a sad commentary on the status of the prosecutor.

This has overtones of the Saturday night massacre which saw the firing of Archibald Cox and the resignation of Attorney General Elliot Richardson.

COMPARISON WITH the fate of former Vice President Spiro Agnew is inevitable. Agnew pleaded no contest in open court to a charge of tax evasion while the judge had before him a memorandum of 38 criminal offenses alleged against the vice president as prepared by the Department of Justice. Agnew lost his pension. He was disbarred. His small sentence produced distrust. Was this equal justice under the law? This will be the reaction to the Nixon pardon.

THE EXTENT to which Nixon aides still in the White House were responsible for the decision is still conjecture. How much the former president himself supplied the motivation is also speculation. Nixon is again the role player, as he has been throughout his career.

Through calculated leaks out of the fastness of San Clemente comes the picture of a lonely exile suffering in silence. Hamlet walking the beach, to be or not to be, that was the role he assumed. It resembles in kind if not in degree the self-martyrdom that has repeatedly been at the core of his role playing.

HOW GREAT THE damage and how long the recovery no one can yet say. The resignation of Ford's press secretary, Gerald terHorst, was a blow.

Confidence must be the basis of the relationship between a president and his press spokesman. If that confidence is nonexistent, then a job that is difficult enough becomes impossible. I have known terHorst over the years as a colleague and friend. He is no ideologue with a tag of liberal or conservative but a first-rate reporter respected by the Washington Press corps. His resignation was the more impressive because it was the voice of his conscience that spoke.

A GROWING CRITICISM of Ford was for his failure to move quickly to eliminate the carryovers from an administration that had come down in disgrace. Until the pardon, this had seemed to me unfair. After all, he did need time to make an orderly transition.

'Chicano' Traced

By ROBERT LOCKE

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — The term "chicano" survived nearly five centuries in obscure corners of the Spanish language before becoming a symbol of pride for young Spanish-Americans, says a college professor.

"The word has been with us since the time of the Conquest of Mexico in the early 1500's," said Dr. Sabine Ulibarri, chairman of the University of New Mexico's department of modern and classical languages.

"IT WAS NEVER used very much because it had a sort of derogatory tinge to it," he said in an interview. Ulibarri said the word, derived from the same Indian tribe that gave Mexico its name, the Mexicas, has been adopted by a generation of Spanish-surnamed Americans seeking a word that reflected their heritage and a new sense of nationalism.

"The Chicanos learned something from the blacks," said Ulibarri, a native of the predominantly Spanish village of Tierra Amarilla in northern New Mexico. "The blacks took the characteristic they were most criticized for having—their color—and turned it into a source of pride."

"THE CHICANOS did the same thing. They took a derogatory word from their own language and said, 'Chicano is beautiful.'"

"In a sense, it's a fitting word. Most older-generation Spanish people in New Mexico refuse to buy that term. They prefer to be Hispanics or Spanish-Americans."

Ulibarri said the term originated with the Mexicas Indians who were found "by the Spanish when they entered the valley of Mexico." At the time the letter 'x' in the Spanish language had an 'sh' sound, so the word was pronounced meshicas.

Over the centuries, he said, "x" was dropped from the language and the "sh" sound disappeared.

ULIBARRI said, "It became very difficult for Spanish-speakers to pronounce the 'sh' sound. They often pronounce shopping as 'chopping.' So Mexicano became Mechicano in pronunciation. "Eventually, the first syllable was dropped and it became Chicano."

Ulibarri said the new spirit of nationalism among many minorities is "causing certain problems in nomenclature."

In the villages of northern New Mexico, many of them peopled by descendants of Spanish colonists who fought their way up the Rio Grande from Mexico in the 16th Century, "the term Spanish-American suits them best. It was a term everybody was happy with for a long time, up until the time of the Johnson administration."

A decade or two ago, Ulibarri said, Latin-American was an acceptable term for Spanish-surnamed persons in this country. Today it has all but disappeared.

Deep Recession?

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — shared by leading economists at a White House meeting Sept. 5, is for a gradual recovery, a return to stability, beginning in 1975. But why, some will ask, is the subject even being discussed?

Argus Research, whose studies are whosoled to many brokers and institution who then pass them to their retail customers, has just released a report entitled, "The 70s Are Not The 30s." "It is our opinion," says Argus, "that the likely course of events in the world economy in the second half of the 1970s will no way resemble what occurred in the first half of the 1930s."

The current problem, it states, is one of inflation produced by excessively expansionary government policies. "The problems that began in 1929, by contrast, were problems of deflation brought only by extremely restrictive monetary and fiscal policies."

Lens Inserted In Eye

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have heard that in Florida after a cataract operation they sew the contact lens right in the eye. If the eye doesn't reject it, it is a blessing.

Of course I realize everyone wouldn't go for this, but I would. If this is true, are there any doctors in Chicago who perform this type of operation?—E.E.

Dear Doctor: My husband was operated on one eye for a cataract four years ago and is wearing a contact lens. Everything is okay. Now the other eye needs to be done and the same ophthalmologist suggested this time that he insert a certain thing into the eye so he will not need glasses or contact lenses. It stays permanently in the eye. I do not know the name of it.

It can be done only while he performs the operation. I would appreciate your opinion or any suggestions.

My husband is 68. — Mrs. I.C.

This "thing" is called an intraocular clip lens.

Removal of a cataract means, of course, that the cloudy lens of the eye is removed. Then glasses or contacts—that is, a lens to substitute for the natural lens that has been removed—is necessary to focus light rays into a clear image on the retina of the eye.

The intraocular clip lens is aimed, of course, at providing this new lens right at the time of surgery instead of waiting for the eye to heal first, and then fitting a lens.

I believe the procedure is being done in most major medical centers.

I do not, however, as yet have any information on what complications may be involved, but usually it takes some time with any such new technique to learn what special precautions may be necessary, what pitfalls there may be, what advantages there are.

Being a conservative type, I'm inclined to bide my time on adopting new techniques, if—and this is a big if—there are methods already available that are satisfactory.

Thus in the case of Mrs. I.C.'s husband, the conventional surgery and then a contact lens has worked out well.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have multiple sclerosis and had a neurological examination and the findings were lesions on the stem, spinal cord and cerebellum. Please explain what lesions are.—M.R.T.

A lesion is any sort of injury, abnormality, degeneration or faulty function of any part of the body. A cut, a bruise, a change of any sort that is other than a normal change is a "lesion."

My Answer

Billy Graham

We thought our married daughter (38) was happy. She loves sports, and with her husband coaching, they both play ball. Recently, however, a young girl, in the process of divorce, occupies most of her time. My daughter feels sorry for her I suppose, but time spent counseling with this woman has hurt her family life, and it's hurting us. Can you help?—T.Y.

Sometimes when a spouse wants to relieve stress in a marriage, an outside interest takes on new importance.

From what you say, the relationship with this girl seems innocent enough, but it becomes wrong to the degree that it is a wedge—separating husband and wife and mother and child. It was in Paul's letter to Timothy (1 Timothy 5:8) that he wrote: "If anyone does not provide for his relatives, and especially for his immediate family, he has denied the faith and is worse than an unbeliever." So the Scripture makes it mandatory to work for healthy family relationships.

Somehow, trying to assist that divorcee has polarized your daughter and her husband. Suggest they consult a competent counselor, so that the underlying problem can be ventilated and handled.

The best you can do is to play a positive and supportive role. Pray daily for all involved. Especially help your daughter to see that refusing to talk to her husband can only aggravate conditions—and really hurt the five year old son. God can give you an "overcoming spirit" (1 John 4:4), so this won't hurt your family unduly.

A Devotion For Today . .

"Thy word is a lamp to my feet and a light to my path" Psalm 119:105

PRAYER: Thank You, God, for dreams which sensitize us to new appreciation of the meaning of faith and wake us to renewed commitment and fulfillment of purpose. Amen.

Chenault Faces Death Sentence

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Marcus Wayne Chenault, who applauded and blew kisses to the jury which convicted him, faces the death sentence for the slayings of Mrs. Martin Luther King Sr. and a church deacon.

"My name is Servant Jacob. I was ordered here by my God, my Father and my Master," Chenault told the court after the judge set Nov. 8 for the execution.

WILL APPEAL

A jury which included four blacks deliberated little more than an hour Thursday before convicting Chenault, who is black, of the shooting deaths of Mrs. King, 70, and deacon Edward Boykin, 69, in historic Ebenezer Baptist Church last June.

The jurors deliberated only 40 minutes before returning two death sentences. Chenault was also sentenced to 10 years in prison for the wounding of a woman

MARCUS CHENAULT member of the congregation.

Chenault's attorney, Randy Bacote, said he will appeal. Under Georgia law, a review of a death sentence by the Georgia Supreme Court is automatic.

As the verdict was read, Chenault, a small, boyish-faced man with bulging eyes, continued the conduct which had marked his trial.

He blew kisses at the jury and silently clapped his hands at their verdict. His parents stared at him in disbelief from the front row of the crowded courtroom.

GLAD IT'S OVER

Later, as his lawyer argued for mercy, Chenault trembled, his face contorted, feigning the spasms of death in the electric chair. His mother, Mrs. Marcus Chenault of Dayton, Ohio, burst into tears.

Chenault, a student at Ohio State University, contended he was innocent by reason of insanity. His attorneys claimed he was obsessed with hatred of "black leaders, white people" and felt he was "ordained by God to come down and commit these acts."

Mrs. King, mother of slain civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr., was playing "The Lord's Prayer" on the organ on June 30 when Chenault, witnesses said, leaped on a pew, fired at her twice and then at random among the congregation.

King Sr., contacted at home, declined comment.

"I'm just glad it's over," he said. His wife would have been 71 today.

Say Cost Of Gasoline Could Zip Even Higher

DALLAS (AP) — Even with higher prices, the American consumer receives a better bargain at the gasoline pump than do his counterparts in many other countries, according to the president of the American Petroleum Institute.

Frank N. Icard told the Dallas Salesmanship Club here Thursday that the average American worker has to work only seven minutes to buy one gallon of gasoline while a Frenchman must work 25 minutes.

Icard said that the habits of the American consumer will determine if the present adequate supply of gasoline continues, but he said that "predicting what the American consumer will do is hazardous."

Icard said that the supply situation today is better than it was six months ago, but that the weather and the continued availability of imported oil will affect the supply picture.

Icard noted that consumers are irritated by today's high prices, now approximately 50 per cent higher than years and most of it before last year's oil embargo.

Icard said future supply will also be tied to oil company profits, which he said amount to two to three cents on each gallon of gasoline.

He said the price of gasoline could be pushed even higher if several bills now before Congress are passed.

Icard said a price increase of about 3.7 cents per gallon would be necessary if the oil elimination depletion allowance is abolished.

Icard cited a "highly inflationary" Energy Transportation Security Act saying it would require that 30 per cent of all imported oil be carried in U.S. tankers by mid-1977.

At a news conference before his speech, Icard said the Arab nations' threat to increase prices and cut back oil production "would have a definite impact, but it would not put us back in last year's situation."

Air Protests Over High Feed, Low Milk Prices

SPRING, Tex. (AP) — Dairy farmers headed for the city square today, leaving behind their buckets and milking stools to protest high feed prices and low milk prices.

Texas Agriculture Commissioner John White was scheduled to speak to farmers who say a dollar's worth of cow feed will only produce $1.07 worth of milk.

related interests would attend the rally. A spokesman for the Hopkins County Farm Bureau said invitations were mailed to some 10,000 dairy and beef raisers across the state.

A spokesman for the Texas Farm Bureau said at Waco, however, that the FFB is not involved in the demonstration.

Dairymen want White to increase wholesale milk prices, have all beef and dairy imports stopped, and halt grain exports for 60 to 90 days.

It's a losing proposition, they say, and one which will force many in Hopkins County, the state's leading dairy county, out of business.

"Normally, this would not be a panic situation. Everyone is very, very concerned. People are in a bind," explained Tommy White, a Texas A&M Extension Service dairy specialist.

The farmers want White to do something about their economic situation and they planned a mass demonstration today to dramatize their needs.

With 542 dairies in Hopkins County there seemed good reason to feel a large number of dairymen and dairy-

Oklahoma Will Try To Prove Ranking

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Pity the Baylor Bears. A year ago, Oklahoma ventured to Waco, Tex., in hopes of regaining some of its pride which had been jolted by an NCAA probation. With unheralded sophomore quarterback Steve Davis leading the way, the Sooners thrashed the Southwest Conference club, 42-14. It was the first in a series of zealous performances which carried the Sooners to a 10-0-1 record and the Big Eight championship. This Saturday in Norman, Oklahoma will be trying to prove something else — that it deserves its No. 1 ranking. Again Baylor will be the target of the Sooner fury.

Only second-ranked Notre Dame among the Top 10 is inactive Saturday.

Third-ranked Alabama is at Maryland, No. 14; No. 4 Ohio State is at Minnesota; Iowa is at sixth-ranked Michigan; Oregon is at seventh-ranked Nebraska.

On Saturday night, No. 5 Southern California is at Arkansas, No. 20; 10th-ranked Texas is at Boston College; No. 13 Pitt is at Florida State; Duke is at North Carolina State, No. 16; San Diego State is at Arizona, No. 17; 18th-ranked Missouri is at Mississippi, and 19th-ranked Houston plays at Rice.

Out of bowl consideration for the second straight year because of the NCAA probation, the Oklahoma players have set their sights on the national title, a prize which has eluded their grasp for three years in a row. Although Oklahoma has a couple of question marks on defense, the offense figures to be even more awesome than the 1973 unit which ground out 453 yards per game.

Coahoma JV Wins 58-0

COAHOMA — The Coahoma Junior Varsity exploded for 21 points in the second quarter Thursday night as they took their second win of the season 58-0 over McCamey.

Danny Thomas started off the scoring first quarter with a 21-yard run and the extra point to give Coahoma a 7-0 lead at the end of the first period.

In the second quarter, things started to happen for Coahoma as Ken Kelson scored on an 11-yard run, with Thomas scoring the extra point and Kelson also scored on a 3-yard run, but the extras failed.

Rodney Lee scored on an 18-yard pass play to finish up the half with Coahoma leading 28-0.

In the third quarter, Randy Bennett scored on a two yard play and Edwin Dixon ran over the two extra points and Jesse Griffin scored on a 15 yard pass play from Tim Greenfield, the extra point try failed.

In the fourth quarter, Dusty Douglas scored on a 15 yard run, Rongan Tindol scored the extra points and Randy Bennett scored on a 47 yard run, and Tim Barbee scored the extra points.

The Reagan team just came off a 14-0 win over Colordaco City last week and will try to keep their skin alive next Thursday as they host the Big Spring Freshmen team.

Campbell Wraps To Be Unveiled

The long-awaited debut of schoolboy superstar Earl Campbell for the University of Texas highlights an opening round of intersectional games this weekend in which the Southwest Conference is favored in five of the seven games.

"Earl certainly has kept my interest and will start at fullback," says Texas Coach Darrell Royal, who is taking his team to New England Saturday to play Boston College for the first time.

Despite the rapid recovery of All-American Roosevelt Leaks, Royal is going with Campbell, a talented runner, passer receiver and blocker.

"He's an exceptional freshman," Royal says. "Earl is perhaps the most mature freshman I've been around. He's just an outstanding football player, freshman or not."

The Longhorns are two touchdown favorites over the Eagles, who lost seven players to the professional draft. The game is a sellout with some 35,000 fans expected.

Royal also plans extensive use of two other freshmen, running back Grayly Wyatt and split receiver Kevin Scott. Injured but recovering All-American fullback Roosevelt Leaks could make an appearance.

It marks the first time for the Longhorns, who have

Toros Sneak By Snyder-T

Big Spring ninth grade grid action found Toros downing Snyder-Lamar here 6-0 and the Brahmas lost out to Snyder-Travis 35-12, there Thursday.

Brahama action found Snyder-Travis scoring on the initial game play followed by three more second quarter TD's. Snyder scored six more points in the fourth.

All three Snyder second quarter scores came about as a result of Brahama fumbles from inside the 20.

Brahama scoring took place in the third. Mike Black ran 10 yards and Mike Abreo passed to Greg Moore for eight yards.

Mike Stevens, Brahama nose guard played an excellent game.

Runnels Runs By Snyder-L

Texas Drops Back

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Joe Bob Bizzell, a former all-state halfback at Odessa Permian who won Texas' starting safety job last year as a freshman, has been dismissed from the team for disciplinary reasons.

Texas Coach Darrell Royal did not disclose specific reasons for the dismissal Thursday.

Line men Ken Thurman, a sophomore, and freshman Don Thurman, were also dropped from the squad by Royal.

Bizzell, who weighs only 138 pounds, became Texas' starting safety in the second half of the Oklahoma game last autumn.

Goliad Runs By Snyder-T

SNYDER — Goliad spotted Snyder Travis six points in the third quarter, but came back and scored on the first play following the kickoff following that score and held on for a 16-6 win.

After a scoreless first half, Snyder scored first after returning the second half kickoff to the Goliad 40-yard line. They put together a steady drive to put the ball in the end zone, but failed on their extra point try.

After taking the kickoff on their own 40, Goliad scored quickly on the first play from scrimmage as Mark Burris put the ball in the end zone on a 60 yard run. Michael Gomez scored the two extra points to put them in the lead 8-6.

The remainder of the third quarter was scoreless, but quarterback Jim Robinson hit Billy Ray Johnson on a 15 yard scoring toss to score in the fourth quarter. Robinson scored the two extra points to make the final score 16-6.

According to Coach Rudy Montez, Mark Young, Mark Burris, and Kevin McLaughlin were standouts defensively while Burris, Young, Billy Ray Johnson and Jim Robinson were outstanding offensively.

The win upped Goliad's record to 1-1 after losing last week to Runnels.

Their next game will be next Thursday at 6 p.m. in Coahoma.

Murphy Ahead By One

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Bob Murphy was far from unhappy with the first-round 65 that staked him to the lead in the $300,000 World Open Golf Tournament.

But he wasn't completely satisfied, either.

"This was a round that could have been," the chunky redhead said Thursday after his six-under-par effort on the famed No. 2 course at the Pinehurst Country Club. "It was a good round," Murphy analyzed, "it could have been a great one."

Murphy, who missed four months of the season with a hand injury, held a one-stroke advantage over husky Don Iverson, a curly-haired tour regular who is seeking his first victory.

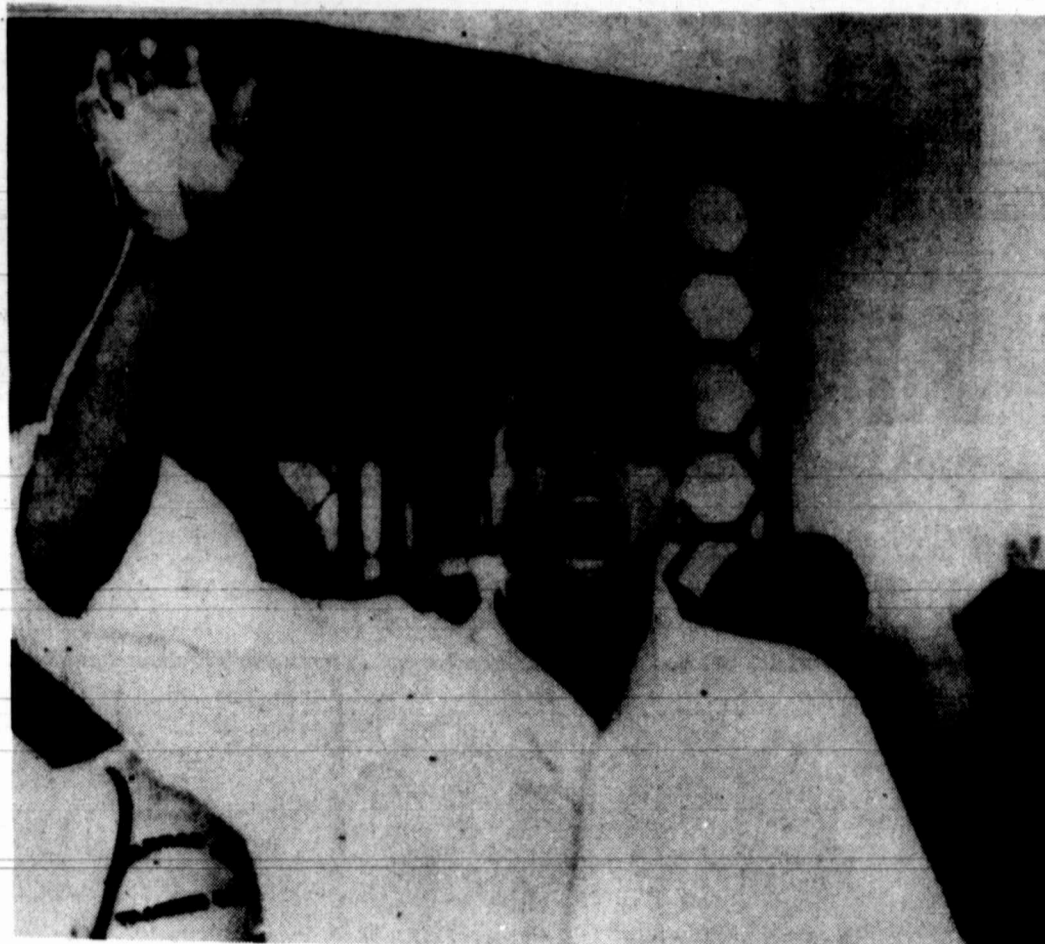

Iverson had a 66, five under par, on the No. 4 course. The international field of 180 will shift courses for today's second round, with the final two rounds to be played on the tougher No. 2 layout.

Lee Trevino, the recent winner of the World Series of Golf, Bert Greene, slumping Frank Beard and Dave Stockton, a three-time winner this season, were two shots out at 67.

Jack Nicklaus had a 68 and was tied with Charles Coody, Lee Elder and Nate Starks.

FALCONS FAVORED Pro Football Swings Into Action Sunday

By The Associated Press

Inaugurating another season of Pro Pigskin Picks on a Friday the 13th does not bode well. At least the teams don't have to play today.

This picker wound up the 1973 campaign with a 134 correct predictions, 48 incorrect, plus 7 ties. The percentage was 736.

Now let's get down to brass tacks and take a crack at Week I of the 1974 campaign:

Miami at New England: Even though the injured Dolphins include running back Mercury Morris and linebacker Nick Buoniconti, Miami shouldn't have too much trouble. The Patriots can look forward to next week when they play the Giants.

Dolphins 27, Patriots 13

Minnesota at Green Bay: The Vikings hope to start another 60 sweep against NFC Central foes in this one. The Pack would like to get back — on the winning track. But it won't happen this Sunday.

Vikings 24, Packers 17

Los Angeles at Denver: The Broncos will be spoiling for an upset and may make it close and exciting. But to Los Angeles Coach Chuck Knox, who really believes in the one-game-at-a-time theory, this opener is as important as a Super Bowl game.

Rams 24, Broncos 18

Dallas at Atlanta: The Cowboys are slight favorites, so the oddsmakers say. But Atlanta is gunning for the playoffs and might as well start now.

Falcons 24, Cowboys 21

Baltimore at Pittsburgh: The Steelers went through the exhibition season undefeated. The oddsmakers like Pittsburgh by at least a pair of touchdowns and this is not the time to argue.

Steelers 35, Colts 17

Cleveland at Cincinnati: The last team to beat the Bengals in Cincinnati was, that's right, Cleveland. Since this is Friday the 13th, it might be appropriate to pick an upset. But it isn't.

Bengals 27, Browns 24

Washington vs. New York Giants at New Haven: Don't die laughing now, but this is a hunch that Bill Arnsparger will pull off a monstrous upset in his first game as head coach.

Giants 24, Redskins 21

New York Jets at Kansas City: It could be the final season for both Joe Namath of the Jets and Kansas City's Len Dawson.

Chiefs 37, Jets 28

Philadelphia at St. Louis: If Coach Mike McCormack is as successful this year in building a defense as he was last year with the offense, the Eagles are going to make a lot of noise this year.

Mustangs' Center Ruled Ineligible

DALLAS (AP)

Southern Methodist, already stung by a two-year NCAA probation for paying players to make tackles, suffered another blow Thursday just two days short of its football opener with North Texas when starting center and cocaptain Mike Smith was declared ineligible.

SMU Athletic Director Dick Davis said "Mike was involved in one of the infractions" listed by the NCAA when the Southwest Conference school was placed on probation which included a bowl and television ban.

Some of the infractions included rewarding players with dinners at restaurants, movie passes, excess payment for tickets and dollars for tackles.

Davis would not list which NCAA rule Smith, a fifth year senior, was declared guilty of violating.

"There are some reasons why I cannot discuss it at this time," Davis said. Davis said Smith of Odessa, Tex., "will be allowed to retain his scholarship and complete his education, but will not be permitted to complete in a sport at the intercollegiate level."

"We are very saddened at the outcome of our appeals for the benefit of Mike and it is the opinion of SMU that the decision of the NCAA is harsh," Davis said. "SMU is required by the NCAA to adhere to the rules and regulations of that organization."

He added "It is unjust that a young man has to incur this kind of wrath" from the NCAA.

Rams Appear NFC Choice

By The Associated Press

Who is going to be the National Football Conference representative in New Orleans on Jan. 12, 1975 for Super Bowl IX?

Los Angeles appears to this Pro Pigskin Picker to have the edge for the trip to the Super Bowl, but then the schedule-maker didn't cooperate with Coach Chuck Knox and the Rams, who just may just have the toughest card of any of the 13 NFC teams.

Remember however, that the playoffs constitute another season and the Rams do not have to win every regular-season game, just enough to get into the post-season, even as a wildcard.

Atlanta will be pressing Los Angeles every step of the way in the NFC West. Minnesota, last season's NFC Super Bowl representative, should have easy sailing in the Central Division. A real scrap is shaping up, however, in the East among the Dallas Cowboys, the Washington Redskins and, yes, the Philadelphia Eagles.

Here is how this seer picks the races, by divisions:

NFC EAST

Dallas Cowboys
Philadelphia Eagles
Washington Redskins
New York Giants
St. Louis Cardinals

Dallas Coach Tom Landry intends to drive himself, his staff and his players just a little bit harder this season in quest of his ninth consecutive trip to the playoffs.

Next year may be too late for Dallas, which has five players jumping to the World Football League: Calvin Hill, Rayfield Wright, Jethro Pugh, D.D. Lewis and Craig Morton.

With quarterback Roger Staubach healthy, and a solid offensive attack featuring Hill, Walt Garrison and receivers Drew Pearson and Bob Hayes, plus a defensive cadre that includes Cornell Green, Bob Lilly and the team's No. 1 draftee, Ed "Too Tall" Jones, the Cowboys are ready for this season.

Winning may get to be contagious in Philadelphia. Remember what happened in the National Hockey League when the Flyers surprised last winter. And look what the Phillies did in baseball most of the season.

"We have an excellent chance to make the playoffs this year," says Eagle Coach Mike McCormack, who adds that his team's defense must improve if his prediction is to hold true.

Quarterback Roman Gabriel and his favorite target, Harold Carmichael, provided the Eagles with an explosive offense last season.

The acquisition of talented linebacker Bill Bergey may be just what the doctor ordered for the Eagle defense. With Bergey and star free safety Bill Bradley in the secondary, things do look brighter.

The Washington Redskins, like the Dallas Cowboys are getting older each year. That means the Redskins are even older than they were when Coach George Allen first started referring to them as the Over-the-Hill Gang.

Just how successful Allen will be with the enigmatic Duane Thomas remains to be seen. Defense should be the key to Washington's successes this year. That and the field generalship of quarterback Billy Kilmer.

Bill Arnsparger has made some drastic changes as he starts his first season as coach of the New York Giants after success as an assistant at Miami.

Robinson Joins Indians

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "It is kind of strange. Kind of funny, that the first time I'll see is Baltimore. I kind of like that," says Frank Robinson.

The only man ever to win Most Valuable Player honors in both leagues, Robinson left the California Angels Thursday and prepared to join Cleveland in Baltimore tonight as the Indians open a series with the Orioles — the team Robinson led to a World Series title only four seasons ago.

The 39-year-old Robinson, a designated hitter with California, was sold by the Angels to the Indians for the $20,000 waiver price.

Robinson joined the Angels before the 1973 season and planned to finish his playing career with California after 10 years at Cincinnati, six with Baltimore and one season with the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The Angels, last in the American League West, started a youth movement, so Robinson, fourth on the all-time home run list with 572, earning $172,000 a year and planning to play only one more season, became available.

"I wouldn't basically say the Angels were short with me, but in another way they were," said Robinson, who had approval over any deal.

"When I came to the Angels I talked with (General Manager) Harry Dalton and told him I wanted to play two or three more years and I didn't want to bounce around any more. He didn't give me any definite answer but I thought we had a type of gentleman's agreement."

"Recently I was told I was not in their plans for next year," added Robinson. "So you know when someone tells you that ..."

"I figured, with Cleveland playing me, that it would be the best at this time to take the deal and get out of here."

The Indians are trying to overtake Boston, Baltimore and New York in the American League East and Robinson said one of his requirements in approving a deal was that he join a pennant contender that would allow him to play next season "which will be my last."

Robinson, hitting .251 with 20 homers and 63 runs batted in, said, "I'm happy to be joining a club in the thick of a pennant race. I hope I can help them win. I think I can contribute."

Whether it's enough to put them on top, I don't know, but I hope so."

Robinson, considered by many to be a prime candidate to become baseball's first black manager, joins his fifth major league team and there was immediate speculation that he might eventually become the pilot of the Indians.

But Indian General Manager Phil Seghi said that talk about Robinson becoming the Tribe's next manager is "strictly speculation."

Former Fair Official To Open Seguin Store

Gerald Miller, who has directed the field office of the Soil Conservation Service here for the past eight years, has resigned his post to enter business.

Toward the end of the year he will open the Farm, Ranch and Garden Center in Seguin. Mrs. Miller and their three children, Cindy, Lorrie and Rusty, have moved there in order that the children could begin the school year.

Miller, perhaps more than any other individual, was responsible for the resurrection of the Howard County Fair. He served as its general superintendent in the successful revival last year.

While residents here, he and Mrs. Miller have been active in numerous civic affairs. He is a deacon and elder in the First Presbyterian Church and also its Sunday School superintendent. He is a director of the Chamber of Commerce, served several years as its agriculture chairman; has been a member of Masonic Lodge 598, serving as worshipful master; has been involved in various other projects including Miss Softball America.

Aside from the Fair, two other programs in which he furnished leadership were the establishment of permanent cover crops on blowing areas of the Big Spring State Hospital tract, and the City of Big Spring landfill east of town.

This project, the first in which city wastes were used to reclaim agricultural lands, gained national attention. Miller is a native of San Antonio, attended Schreiner, A&M, and graduated from Southwest Texas University; entered the SCS at Mineral Wells in 1961, went to Snyder in 1964 and here in January 1966. Mrs. Miller is the former Loyce Lange, Seguin.

New Structure Is Planned

WESTBROOK — Westbrook Rural School District's school board met this week and opened bids on $400,000 in bonds issued by the district to finance construction of a new auditorium and remodeling of the existing school building.

The best of ten bids, with an interest rate of 6.0425 per cent, was accepted from Russ Securities of San Antonio.

The good credit rating of the district was given as the reason that bids were so good. L. M. Dawson, superintendent, announced that construction has been scheduled for the first of the year.

Building plans call for a new 6,638 square-foot auditorium with 398 seats, stage, lobby and restroom.

M.R. Embry Is Sentenced

Luck Courted By Both 11's Seminars On County Rule Are Complete

The Big Spring Steers are hoping that Friday the 13th is really a lucky day as they host the home opener tonight with the Hobbs Eagles.

Apparently, the Steers were avoiding walking under ladders, planned to throw all spilled salt over their shoulders and were staying away from both black cats and broken mirrors.

It can be assumed that Hobbs is avoiding the same pitfalls. If that be the case, tonight's game could come down to a test of skills, muscle or a capricious bounce of the ball. If the latter factor should decide the outcome of the game, it could be a most appropriate time to determine the winner.

Sample Proves Case Of Worms

COLORADO CITY — Mitchell County's first case of screwworms has been confirmed through a sample sent to the Mission Screwworm Eradication Center.

The sample was taken from a cow on Roy Henderson's ranch at Hyman in the far southwestern part of the county.

Bob Benson, county agent, received notification of the positive identification of screwworms. Cases have been confirmed in other West Texas counties including Nolan, Coke, Sterling, Glasscock and Midland.

New BSP Exemplar Chapter Chartered

The city's newest Beta Sigma Phi exemplar chapter, Xi Psi Epsilon, met Wednesday evening in the home of Mr. Janell Britton, 415 Edwards Blvd. with Mrs. Don Cunningham, president, as the presiding officer.

As gifts to the new chapter, Alpha Beta Omicron gave a BSP tablecloth, and Alpha Kappa contributed $10 to the treasury.

Help was asked for a family, newly arrived here from Mississippi, whose car and trailer was destroyed by fire. Cash, clothing and household items are needed. Those wishing to contribute are asked to contact Mrs. Cunningham 393-5585, or take the items to a white house with green trim at the corner of Owens and 15th.

The program was given by Mrs. Melba Smith who discussed the art of conversation, beginning with a quote from Milton, "With the conversing, I forget all time."

Points brought out by the speaker were that a good conversationalist thinks before he speaks, brings out the best in those with whom he speaks and chooses topics of conversation carefully to interest those to whom he speaks. Also, he knows how and when to listen, because he knows that the listener who really listens with an open mind, participates as fully as the conversationalist. He does not monopolize the conversation or discuss at length his personal problems and, last, he is original in the way he expresses himself.

The next meeting will be a dinner at Coker's at 8 p.m., Sept. 25. At that time, the new Valentine Sweetheart will be elected.

Immaculate Heart Club Aids School Newcomers' Tea Set In October

Mrs. Jean Gallagher, principal of Immaculate Heart of Mary School, asked members of the parents' club to save soup can labels when she spoke briefly at the club's meeting Tuesday evening at the school. By collecting and returning a number of the labels, the school may acquire visual aids to help in teaching.

A tea honoring newcomers to the city is being planned for October by the Newcomers Handicraft Club which met Wednesday morning in the home of Mrs. Ellen Tyler, 59-A Chanute.

Guests welcomed were Mrs. Donna Griffin and Mrs. Alberta Holcomb, the latter of Blanket. The announcement was made of a club luncheon which will be held Oct. 23 at the YMCA, and the next meeting will be Sept. 25 in the home of Mrs. Sandy Howland, 2008 Johnson, where there will be a demonstration of "dip and drape" dolls.

Also, she asked men in the club to meet at the school at 8 a.m., Saturday to lay out a physical education court for the school.

Lt. Col. Joe Crenwelge, president, presided at the meeting, and prayer was led by Mrs. Fred Hyer.

Mrs. Melvin Whitehead was to assist Mrs. Hyer, school nurse, today and Friday, in giving check-ups to the children.

George Wilson reported the purchase of a soft drink machine for the school and plans for a garage sale in October. Final plans for the sale will be made at a 7:30 p.m. meeting Oct. 1 in the school cafeteria.

Col. Crenwelge expressed appreciation to the group for work at the Fall Festival.

Dear Abby

Any Excuse Good If Disinterested

DEAR ABBY: I am 50 and my husband, Walter, is 52. Two years ago he had a heart attack, but he recovered and is now enjoying excellent health.

Walter plays tennis at least three times every week, so he's not exactly an invalid, right?

However, when it comes to lovemaking, I am told not to "bother him" because he doesn't want to take any chances on damaging his heart.

Before his coronary, he wasn't the world's greatest lover, but now he has an excuse. (Or has he?)

Please ask one of your medical consultants and let me know. Don't advise me to ask Walter's doctor because he is also Walter's tennis buddy. Thanks.

MISSING SOMETHING

DEAR MISSING: I consulted Dr. Donald B. Effler, the famous Cleveland Clinic heart surgeon, who is cooler than Denton Cooley and hotter than Michael DeBakey. His response: "If Walter, age 52, is enjoying regular tennis, but will not take care of his homework, three possibilities come to mind: a) Walter's got something going on the outside, b) Walter's wife has lost something that must have looked good to him a number of years ago or c) Walter is one of those rare men who loses interest in sex at 52. In any event, judging from his wife's letter, Walter's past heart attack is most likely a phony excuse."

"Very few coronary patients are advised against sexual activity at home. This simple observation, made long ago, gave rise to the aphorism, 'There's nothing dangerous about sex, it's the chasing after it that can kill you.'"

Fourteen names of rushes were submitted, and final plans were made for a rush party Sept. 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the First Federal Community Room. The party theme will be "Back to School."

Mrs. Frank Clark, service chairman, reminded the women to continue bringing canned goods to be delivered to area families. Mrs. Carlile was appointed chairman of the Valentine Ball committee, and committee members were named. Chapter bylaws and regulations were reviewed and revised.

Christian Dedication Slated

By MARJ CARPENTER
The Christian Church of Big Spring is dedicating their new building at 21st and Nolan Sunday with special services set at 3 p.m. in addition to the regular morning worship services, according to the Rev. James Royle, pastor.

The Rev. Roy Green of Odessa will be speaker at the special services in the afternoon. He is pastor of Westside Christian Church.

A picnic will be held following the ceremonies in Birdwell Park for the entire congregation and guests.

Contractor for the new building is Larry Kerr of Coahoma. The late Ulysses (Lissie) Hall had worked hard on the project, and succumbed in July.

Chairman of the board of elders and deacons is Herman Carlisle with his board including Haskell Walling, Jack Wilson, Mark Kester, Drew Rogers, T. W. Alderson, Dan Kirkland and Ted Mattingly.

DEDICATION—The new building shown above, inside and out, will be dedicated at 3 p.m. Sunday by the Christian Church of Big Spring.

THE REV. BILL TISDALE, a Dallas Baptist pastor who was a missionary in the Philippines for many years, will be the inspirational speaker at the regional Sunday School Convention in San Angelo, Sept. 19.

The one-day, three-session meeting at Park Heights Baptist Church is aimed at reaching more people for Bible study and church services and strengthening teaching skills.

The convention will emphasize a 600,000 state-wide attendance goal Nov. 17; a plan for a five per cent increase for five consecutive years and initiation of 100 new Sunday Schools in 100 days, March 30-July 7.

The Rev. Mr. Tisdale recently returned from the Philippines to become pastor of Dallas' Casa View Baptist Church.

The San Angelo Conference is one of 18 being held around the state during September, sponsored by the Sunday School Division of the 2-million-member Baptist General Convention of Texas.

"THE CREEPING CITY AND THE COUNTRY CHURCH" is the theme for the 99th annual Town and Country Church Conference Oct. 10-11, at Texas A&M.

Discussion will center on the issues ministers and their congregations face as a result of the increasing numbers of "big city" residents who have moved to small towns and now participate in services conducted in the country church.

Registration will begin at 8 a.m. in the J. Earl Rudder Conference Center on Oct. 10, announces Garland Marshall, community improvement specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and program chairman for the conference.

A banquet Oct. 11 at 7 p.m. will feature the presentation of the Rural Minister of the Year Award by Del Deterling, editor of The Progressive Farmer Magazine.

The non-denominational conference is planned by a committee of inter-denominational ministers and the Town and Church Committee of Texas A&M University. It is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Committee and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and is conducted by the A&M Department of Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology.

Missionary To Speak At Meet

A furloughed missionary to Thailand, the Rev. Bynum Akins, will be the inspirational speaker for the Big Spring Baptist Association annual missions banquet Tuesday 6:45 p.m. at College Baptist.

The banquet also will be a focus for the approaching 50th anniversary of the Cooperative Program of the Baptist General Convention of Texas. Prior to 1924, each Baptist cause — such as colleges, orphanages, missions, hospitals, etc. — was presented in appeals made from church to church.

"If a particular agency had an eloquent speaker who appeared just after a good general rain, it did well in the free-will offering," said Bryan Ross, area missionary. "If the speaker, no matter how dedicated, was unconvincing or there was bad weather on that Sunday, the agency suffered."

Texas Baptists persuaded all agencies (except orphanages, which later came in) to get under one umbrella, putting the Cooperative program in budgets so agencies would have dependable income. How this approach has been blessed is reflected in the adoption of a $20-million budget this year by Texas Baptists.

Out of this colleges, orphanages, missions, homes for unwed mothers, special schools, hospitals, special commissions, and assorted other activities are supported. Texas Baptists, joining with Southern Baptists, support 5,000 home and foreign missionaries.

The Rev. Akins is one of 15 children born of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Akins in McCaulley. He is a graduate of Howard Payne and Southwestern Baptist Seminary, and is a brother to Rev. Farris Akins, pastor at Ballinger. He pastored in Adamsville and Stephenville before entering the foreign mission work. He and his wife, the former Sybil Means, Cuero, and four children will live at Midland this year while he makes himself available to 200 Baptist churches in the region for mission talks.

The Rev. Jack Clinkscapes, Forsan, will preside at the Monday banquet, and others on the program will include Sam Robertson, Mrs. R. C. Thomas and Pete Hull.

First Baptists Slate Revival

Two speakers of contrasting styles will be spotlighted in the autumn revival services of First Baptist Church Sept. 22-29.

Dr. Vance Havner, one of the foremost religious philosophers and author of 26 books, will speak the first four evenings. Dr. O. Byron Richardson, associate for revival evangelism for the board of missions, Texas General Baptist Convention, will be evangelist for the last four days. Joe Whitten, music director at the church, will lead the music for the series of meetings.

Midway Baptists To Hear Fugitt

The Rev. Mickey Fugitt, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Church in Abilene, will be the speaker for revival services at Midway Baptist Church Sept. 22-29.

Services will be at 10 a.m. Monday through Friday, and evening services 7:30 p.m., said the Rev. Rufus Wilson, pastor. David Norvell, College Baptist music minister, will be in charge of music. There will be testimonies in addition to the special music.

When man's aspirations are filled with religious faith and a sense of spiritual mission, he rises to heights of unselfish dedication. But when he keeps his sights lowered to greedy goals, he often becomes entangled in his own materialistic web.

Bring your family to church. That's where we learn with confidence to lift our eyes to the realities that are above the worldly.

As we train a youngster to look to God, we are unlocking the potential of a soul.

Four Men Held Captives Happily Return To Homes

HOUSTON (AP) — Clifford James said it was "just fantastic" seeing his infant son for the first time. Powers W. Cayce said he was "exhausted but happy" as he hugged his wife and two children. James from Walkerton, Ontario, Canada, Cayce, 36, from Plainview, Tex., and two other North Americans held hostage since March 26 by an Ethiopian guerrilla group, arrived in Houston Thursday night aboard a Tenneco, Inc., plane.

The other two released men aboard the plane were James William Rogers of Greenwich, Conn. and Motta Tavela, 52, a United Nations geologist. Cayce, James and Rogers are Tenneco employees.

The four were captured March 26 by the Eritrean Liberation Front (ELF) when their helicopter was forced down during a storm. Don Wederfort, 27, of Calgary, Alberta, Canada, the helicopter pilot, also was captured but he was released June 26 after being held three months.

James was met by his wife and three-month-old son Scott Clifford in New York before flying to Houston with his family. They were reported in good health but are to be examined during the weekend at a Houston hospital. A Tenneco spokesman said the four would hold a news conference later, probably Monday.

EXHAUSTED said the four were exhausted from walking nine days after their release. He said the ELF escorted them to a border town where they were picked up by a Tenneco plane. He said the men had been flying for 19 hours and had only two hours of sleep Wednesday night.

There have been reports that ELF had asked $3.1 million in ransom for the release of the four.

Mrs. Cayce said she heard unofficially about her husband's release Tuesday night.

SHOOTING AT US
 He said the worst part of the ordeal was their capture.

"The first five minutes," he said, "while they were shooting at us."

Tavela said the conditions were "as good as could be expected in those primitive circumstances."

He said the hardest part was the lack of information.

"They told us what they wanted us to hear," he said.

The four talked to newsmen only briefly before being whisked to a downtown hotel to spend the night with INGRAM, Tex. (AP) — A man wanted in the wounding of a deputy sheriff was shot to death Thursday night by peace officers who returned gunfire that shattered their jeep's windshield.

The dead man, not identified positively, had been sought since Tuesday when Kerr County Deputy Dale Brown suffered a gunshot wound after he answered a complaint call at a residence near Ingram.

Texas Ranger Henry Ligon and three other officers were called to a ranch between Ingram and Mountain Home Thursday evening.

The officers said a man crouching behind a tree at the ranch fired three rifle shots into their vehicle's windshield. They returned the fire, hitting the man at least six times.

Authorities said the dead man was believed to be a Mexican national but they had no further identification at once.
