DRAFT EVADERS TO SPEND UP TO 24 MONTHS IN LOW-PAYING JOBS

Ford's Clemency Plan For Deserters

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford proclaimed a clemency program today for thousands of Vietnam war deserters and draft resisters in furtherance of our national commitment to justice and mercy.

HEALTH, SAFETY
A key feature of the program would require deserters and draft evaders to spend up to 24 months in low-paying jobs judged to promote the "national health, safety or interest." There would be no minimum time period for alternate service jobs and reductions from the 24 months service period would be dependent on military service records and "other mitigating factors." All those wanting to accept the amnesty opportunity would have to turn themselves in before Jan. 31. Draft evaders would report to the United States attorney where an offense was committed and deserters would report to appropriate military commanders.

SETS UP BOARD
Ford also set up a nine-member Presidential Clemency Board to handle the cases of those already convicted of draft evasion or absence from military service. "The board has been instructed to give priority consideration to individuals currently confined," the White House press office said in a fact sheet. "The President also has asked that their confinement be suspended as soon as possible, pending the board's review."

Ford briefed Republican and Democratic leaders of Congress before making details of the clemency program public.

NOT AMNESTY
"It is not amnesty,"

House Republican Leader John Rhodes said after the briefing. "It sets forth a mechanism under which these young men can rehabilitate themselves."

Senate Republican Whip Robert Griffin of Michigan said most participants in the briefing were pleased with the make-up of the clemency board.

However, both Rhodes and Griffin acknowledged that some congressional leaders at the meeting voiced opposition to Ford's action. The President also provided for a new type of military discharge, a clemency discharge, that would go to military personnel who satisfactorily participated in the clemency plan. In a proclamation and accompanying executive order establishing the program, Ford did not specify the precise kinds of alternate service that would be required.

BAN ON JOBS
But the White House press office said there would be a ban on jobs for which there are more numerous qualified applicants than jobs available.

The press office also said pay would compare reasonably with that of men or women entering military service. Young Americans who fled to other countries to avoid military service would be granted a 15-day grace period after re-entering the country before they would have to report to appropriate authorities.

All participants in the program would have to acknowledge allegiance to the United States. Those who shun the program or do not satisfactorily complete their part of the clemency offer would be subject to prosecution. EXPLAINING Ford, in explaining his move, said in the proclamation: "In furtherance of our national commitment to justice and mercy these young Americans should have the chance to contribute a share to the rebuilding of peace among ourselves and with all nations. They should be allowed the opportunity to earn return to their country, their communities and their families, upon their agreement to a period of alternate service in the national interest, together with an acknowledgement of their allegiance to the Constitution and its Ford described desertion in wartime as a "major, serious offense" and draft evasion as "a serious offense."

"Reconciliation among our people does not require that these acts be condoned," he added. "Yet, reconciliation calls for an act of mercy to bind the nation's wounds and to heal the scars of divisiveness."

Release Women Hostages

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP) — Japanese terrorists released two women hostages from the French Embassy early today, but continued to hold nine male hostages, including French Ambassador Jacques Senard.

We are progressing, but I believe that we are not yet completely in the last hours," French Foreign Minister Jean Sauvagnargues said in Paris.

Dutch Premier Joop den Uyl said in a television interview "there are so many uncertain factors in this that I can't tell you concretely."

"I have a feeling that in the next 24 hours a series of very difficult decisions will have to be taken by us."

He said "a matter of special concern" was that the three terrorists and the hostages were getting tired and edgy.

The terrorists seized the embassy late Friday afternoon to gain the release of a Japanese Red Army colleague jailed in France. France flew him to Amsterdam airport that evening.

A police spokesman said the release of the two 22-year-old women was the result of negotiations between the three terrorists and the Dutch Justice Ministry. He described the move as a significant step he refused to confirm or deny reports from diplomatic sources that a deal for the remaining hostages was imminent.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today that Alexander M. Haig Jr. will be recalled to active Army duty and named supreme commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Forrest "Phog" Allen, who produced many outstanding players during 39 years as basketball coach at the University of Kansas, died today at his home in Lawrence. He was 88.

Rain Doesn't Dampen Fair's Preparations

Against the unusual backdrop of rain, the Howard County Fair was pulling itself together today for the 6 p.m. opening.

If the weather still threatens, opening ceremonies will be in the livestock arena barn on the south end of the east buildings. If not, it will be held directly in front of the new exhibit building given by the Dora Roberts Foundation.

The big event Tuesday will be the Shrine Circus, which benefits the Shriners' mission of mercy in crippled children's and burn hospitals. It will be in the rodeo arena, adjacent to the fair grounds.

Everywhere things were a beehive of activity.

In the south part of the grounds, the carnival was putting up a big collection of rides and booths.

Inside the new building, the commercial exhibits — about 60 of them — were taking shape, and many were ready to go. A score of women connected with the annual fall flower show were assembling their displays in the south part of the new building.

The center building of the county barns was teeming with activity as housewives, antique exhibitors, artists, gem collectors, the Prospectors Club, and others put together a wide variety of displays.

FFA and 4-H members were scrubbing their barrows in preparation for judging this evening for the annual barrow show. Winners will be sold Tuesday evening.

Arnold Marshall, president-elect and general superintendent, will preside at the 6 p.m. opening ceremonies, which will be preceded by a 30-minute concert by the Big Spring High School Band. Dr. Kenneth Patrick of the First Baptist Church will word the invocation, preceding the pledge of allegiance. Marshall will introduce James (Buddy) Barr, president; Johnnie Walker, immediate past president; and other fair and county officials. Col. Robert Owens, wing commander at Webb AFB, will make a few remarks, then join with Marshall and Barr as Susie Garrett, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Garrett, board member, cuts the ribbon to open the fair officially.

ALL DOLLED UP — Phyllis Martin, Sherry Mullin, demonstration agent; Geraldine Pose, adult clothing chairman, and Jo Hughes, assistant adult clothing chairman, display a garment for a raggedy ann doll, one of the hundred of exhibits being put in place today at the Howard County Fair.

The World At-A-Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford's revamping of the White House staff is expected to pick up speed and produce a series of resignations after the imminent departure of staff chief Alexander Haig Jr. In an interview with The Associated Press, Haig said Kenneth Cole plans to resign as director of the domestic council, a position he took over last year from Watergate casualty John Ehrlichman. Another White House official said it also was likely Ford will replace Jerry Jones as staff secretary, a key post in the White House management under resigned President Richard Nixon's setup.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Edward Miller is about to leave as chairman of the National Labor Relations Board, having failed to get a reorganization of the board he once called a "Rube Goldberg" agency. Miller, whose term expires Dec. 16, said in an interview that he has informed the White House that he will not accept a second term if offered.

BREESE, Ill. (AP) — Charles Walter has to carry 10 keys to his home, which has 20 baths, a tunnel, a kitchen that can feed 100 persons and 107 rooms, one of them a delivery room. His home is a former hospital that he spotted while looking for a place to house his large family and his ceramics business. Breese had built a new hospital and was going to demolish the old one, built in 1884, until Walter, 34, bought it for $60,000. His wife, Loretta, said that for the price they couldn't have gotten a much smaller house, let alone a 20-room house for that," she asked. "We use every room in the building, one way or another." Walter, 34, added, "His ceramics business takes up the first floor and basement, each of his seven children has his own room and his mother-in-law lives in the delivery room."

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Hissing steam locomotives and crowds of scurrying passengers and redcaps are gone from the Mount Royal station. But the railroad station does not stand empty, a silent memory of America's past. The elegant, old Romanesque depot is used as an art school and is typical of many old American rail depots being converted to other uses. The growing trend could be accelerated if the House accepts a Senate-passed measure to provide $100 million in financial and technical help for restoring rail terminals. In addition to the art school here, bought and refurbished for $850,000, converted terminals in use or planned include a Chattanooga, Tenn., restaurant; a Lincoln, Neb., bank; and a cultural center in Duluth, Minn. Washington's imposing Union Station is being renovated as a visitor's center for those visiting the nation's capital.

Boston Schools Hassle

BOSTON (AP) — Eighty-seven black children walked quietly off school buses into South Boston High School today, but anti-busing demonstrators in the white, Irish neighborhoods around the school skirmished with police.

Officials in the mayor's office reported 13 arrests.

Police on horseback broke up two marches of crowds made up of mostly mothers and children. In one, demonstrators marched East Broadway, a main thoroughfare in South Boston, before being turned back four blocks from the high school.

Throughout the morning, officers cordoned off the area around the school and broke up groups as they congregated. Some of the marchers carried signs and an effigy of a black person.

Manhunt Fails To Bag Bank Robber, 'Killer'

TEMPLE, Tex. (AP) — Law enforcement officers have called off an intensive search for one of two men who robbed a bank and then shot to death a state trooper.

More than 200 men searched Sunday on foot, on horseback, in cars and helicopters. Roadblocks were lifted Sunday night and officers said they would maintain some type of surveillance.

LEFT DYING
Police arrested one man shortly after two men robbed the Walburg State Bank Saturday of about $2,000 and shot to death highway patrolman Hollie Tull, 48, during their escape.

Tull had stopped a car containing two men in Temple when he was shot and left dying by the road.

A car was found abandoned near the Temple city dump a short time later. The search had concentrated in this area.

Three persons were shot during the bank robbery at Walburg, a small community midway between Austin and Temple. Miriam Kalmbach, 42, of Georgetown was in serious condition Sunday at an Austin hospital.

FORT SILL SOLDIERS
Two others were less seriously wounded. The Bell County Sheriff Department said they had Selwynn Gholson, 20, of Brentwood, N.Y. in jail and had issued a warrant for Larry Joe Ross, 20, of Granger, Tex. Gholson and Ross were identified as soldiers stationed at Ft. Sill, Okla.

Meanwhile, funeral services for Tull, 48, were set for 2 p.m. today in the Meadow Oaks Baptist Church in Temple, where he was a deacon. Burial will be in the family cemetery in Satin. Tull was past president of the Central Texas Peace Officers Association and at the time of his death was studying for examinations to become a Texas Ranger.

Hughes Strike

HOUSTON (AP) — Pickets were up today around the Hughes Tool Co. plant, world's largest producers of oil field drilling equipment, after some 4,000 steelworkers walked off their jobs Sunday in rejection of a new contract.

The spokesman said the union's negotiating committee had agreed Saturday afternoon on a wage and pension package proposed by the company but members of United Steelworkers of America Local 1742 turned down the pact and left their jobs at midnight Saturday.

COMMUNISTS BOMB GOVERNMENT OFFICE

'Playboy' Blows Up Airliner, Kills 71

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Police said Communists bombed a government office today wounding five persons, one day after a man described as a wealthy playboy army captain blew up a South Vietnamese jetliner in the air killing all 71 persons aboard.

The office bombing was the first act of terrorism in Saigon attributed to Communists since the January 1973 cease-fire, police said. Police said a man and three women on motorbikes hurled the explosives into a downtown building and the blast wounded two South Vietnamese military officers and three others.

Police described the four as "Communist terrorists" without elaborating. They escaped, witnesses said. The Sunday hijack-ing was the first to result in a large number of deaths and it was the first hijacked plane to be blown up in the air.

The officials said the hijacker, 31-year-old Le Duc Tan, bypassed security checks Sunday when he boarded the Air Vietnam Boeing 727 at Da Nang for a flight to Saigon.

Police in Da Nang were reported questioning Tan's wife, who owns a beauty parlor there, and an air force security sergeant who they said helped Tan evade the security check.

Officials said when the airliner was about halfway from Da Nang to Saigon, Tan ordered the pilot to turn back and fly to the North Vietnamese capital. Instead, the pilot prepared to land at Phan Rang, 160 miles northeast of Saigon, and Tan set off two grenades he had brought aboard the plane, the officials said.

Eyewitnesses said the plane made one pass over the airfield, circled back and banked sharply as it approached the runway. They said there was an explosion and the plane crashed nose first not far from a minefield. The plane burst into flames when it hit the ground and the fire spread to the minefield, setting off a claymore antipersonnel mine.

The eight crew members and 59 of the 63 passengers were Vietnamese, according to the passenger list. The others were two South Koreans, a Filipino and a Frenchman. By nightfall rescue teams searching in the rain through the charred wreckage had recovered 68 bodies, many of them badly mangled, officials said. They also recovered a special tape recorder aboard the plane to record conversations during an emergency.

It was the third attempt in two years — all unsuccessful — to hijack a South Vietnamese aircraft to North Vietnam. Air Vietnam reportedly has ordered its pilots to refuse to fly to North Vietnam even under duress. Observers say the airline's security precautions have been lax and haphazard, but one official said security measures were being tightened at all airports.

Tan's motive was not known yet. Authorities said he had a bachelor of arts degree in political science, joined the army in 1962 after service in the militia as a commando, married in 1964 and had three children.

Demos Head For Strong Showing In November

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats are starting to inject President Ford's pardon of Richard M. Nixon into the midterm campaign at the same time a survey shows them headed for a strong showing in November.

Underlining Republican fears that Ford's action may revive Watergate-related issues at the GOP's expense, Democratic gubernatorial candidate Hugh L. Carey in New York and Senate hopeful Jonathan Marshall in Arizona have questioned the pardon.

WRONG TIME

And in California, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., launched a weekend of campaigning for Democratic candidates by blasting Ford. "It was the wrong time, the wrong place and the wrong person to receive a pre-indictment, preconviction pardon," he said.

Their moves came as an Associated Press survey showed that Republicans appear headed for substantial losses this November. Despite some revived morale since Ford assumed the presidency, the GOP could lose two to six Senate seats and governorships, and possibly up to 40 House seats.

IN ARIZONA

Carey, opening his campaign against Republican Gov. Malcolm Wilson, said he would make an issue of Wilson's refusal to comment on the pardon and other Watergate-related issues. "The governor of New York has a national voice, and he must speak to national issues and issues of conscience," Carey, a congressman from Brooklyn, declared.

In Arizona, meanwhile, Marshall, a Scottsdale publisher, opened his uphill drive against Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater by blasting the senator's support of the Nixon pardon.

"Why have these outspoken proponents of law and order gone along with this mockery of the law?" he asked.

The best Republicans can hope for, according to the survey by AP bureaus in all 50 states, is to hold losses to about 25 governorships and 15 House seats while breaking even in the Senate.

Democrats control the Senate 58 to 42, the House 248 to 187 and the governorships 32 to 18. Though most Senate and governor's seats being contested this year are held by Democrats — 20 of 35 Senate seats, 23 of 35 governorships — few Democratic incumbents are rated in serious difficulty.

UPHILL BATTLE

Carey, who won an uphill primary battle last week, seems likely to give a stern test to Wilson, who became governor when Nelson A. Rockefeller resigned last December. Democrats consider their chances better than in any year since Rockefeller was first elected in 1958.

In California, where Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan is retiring, the Democrats also are mounting a strong bid. Polls show their candidate, Secretary of State Edmund G. (Jerry) Brown Jr., son of Reagan's predecessor, leading Republican Houston I. Flournoy.

Democratic triumphs in California and New York could give the Democrats control of the nation's six largest states going into the 1976 presidential election.

Democratic Govs. John J. Gilligan of Ohio, Milton J. Shapp of Pennsylvania and Dolph Briscoe of Texas are considered leading in re-election bids, while Democratic Gov. Daniel Walker of Illinois is midway through his four-year term.

Democrats also hope to capture Republican-held governorships in Connecticut, Massachusetts, Arizona and Oregon. The only incumbent Republican governor running is Francis W. Sargent of Massachusetts.

The best GOP hopes to gain governorships held by Democrats appear to be in Maine, New Mexico and Oklahoma. None has an incumbent running.

The Republican problem in the Senate races is shown by the survey's finding that 13

Democrats are considered virtually certain winners, including non-incumbents John H. Glenn Jr. in Ohio and Dale Bumpers in Arkansas. With 38 holdovers, that would give the Democrats the Senate majority of 51.

Five other Democrats are considered ahead, Sens. George McGovern of South Dakota, Birch E. Bayh of Indiana, Mike Gravel of Alaska, Thomas F. Eagleton of Missouri, and Robert Morgan, seeking the North Carolina seat of retiring Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr.

The Democrats also expect to win the Florida seat held by Republican Edward J. Gurney, who withdrew following his indictment on federal bribery, perjury and conspiracy charges. Rep. Bill Gunter and Secretary of State Richard Stone meet in an Oct. 1 Democratic primary runoff.

Four Republican incumbents face difficult races: Sens. Marlow W. Cook of Kentucky, opposed by Gov. Wendell H. Ford; Peter H. Dominick of Colorado, opposed by 1972 McGovern manager Gary W. Hart; Robert Dole of Kansas, running against Rep. William Young of North Dakota, opposed by former Gov. William Guy.

Republicans' chances of holding the seat of retiring Sen. Wallace F. Bennett are improving in Utah, where Mayor Jake Garn of Salt Lake City opposes Democratic Rep. Wayne Owens. The GOP also hopes to pick up the seats of retiring Democratic Sens. Alan Bible of Nevada and Harold E. Hughes of Iowa.

Republican Sen. Charles McC. Mathias

Jr. of Maryland is expected to be re-elected. Six other Republicans are considered ahead, Sens. Jacob K. Javits of New York, Richard S. Schweiker of Pennsylvania, Henry L. Bellmon of Oklahoma and Bob Packwood of Oregon, and Reps. Richard W. Mallory and Louis C. Wyman, seeking the seats of retiring Republican Sens. George D. Aiken of Vermont and Norris Cotton of New Hampshire.

In House races, Democrats hope to gain in California, Connecticut, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Maryland, Minnesota, Montana, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Texas, Virginia and Wisconsin.

Many of their targets are seats in which Republicans have retired.

Plans To Block Repudiation Of Rocky At GOP Convention?

HOUSTON (AP) — A temporary platform committee is slated to work today on what some angry delegates to the state Republican convention here say is a move to head off the repudiation of Nelson Rockefeller as vice president.

The temporary committee, which held hearings Saturday and Sunday, must present a report to a permanent committee Tuesday on the stance the state party should assume for the next two years.

U.S. Sen. John Tower, the titular head of the GOP in Texas, met twice with the temporary platform committee Sunday.

BEHIND CLOSED DOORS

A committee member confirmed that at the first of the meetings, held behind closed doors, Tower urged them not to write resolutions on Rockefeller and also on rejection of President Ford's proposal to grant amnesty to persons who fled the country rather than fight in South Vietnam.

Two delegates from Harris County (Houston), the state's largest delegation, said that group plans to try and bring the two resolutions to the floor for a vote.

Tower denied that any anti-Rockefeller groundswell was evident.

TAKES SEVEN

Mrs. Nancy Palm, the Harris County party chairman, said when Rockefeller was appointed as vice presidential designate platform. Grover is allied with the more conservative wing of the GOP here.

The Senator said the party's current candidate for governor in November, Jim Granberry, a Lubbock dentist, should have that same influence.

Granberry told the platform committee Saturday he wants to stick to state issues.

Tower said later he anticipates no anti-Rockefeller moves on the convention floor. He also said he is taking a participatory role only because he was asked to by state leaders.

that Ford had made a poor choice. No delegate would talk about the resolution unless it was promised his name would not be used.

"If the two resolutions come up on the floor this convention would vote not to endorse Rockefeller, that's what they're scared of," said one high-ranking Houston delegate. "It underscores the importance of it that they sent John Tower down here (to talk to the committee), he said.

"It takes just seven votes to bring up a Rockefeller resolution, Harris County has six votes and we're casting around to come up with a seventh.

Tower said in the 1972 election the then candidate for governor, Hank Grover, was the predominant influence over the writing of the convention floor. He also said he is taking a participatory role only because he was asked to by state leaders.

Maritime Unions List $886,000 For Votes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The maritime unions still have $886,000 for political donations, after pouring one-third of a million dollars into campaigns of congressmen who supported them on a hotly disputed shipping bill.

Latest campaign finance reports show the unions have given $333,300 to 141 congressmen who supported the bill. The measure would require that eventually 30 percent of all U.S. oil imports be shipped in American-flag ships, manned by union crews.

RICHEST

The unions still have some of the richest political trusts in the nation, the reports show.

Federal law sets no limit on political donations by union groups, so long as the funds come from voluntary contributions of members. Direct donations from a union treasury to political campaigns are illegal.

Most of the money, $595,000, is held by three trusts run by the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association. Other rich trusts are run by the Seafarers International Union and the Masters, Mates and Pilots, and other maritime unions.

The reports show the union money given to incumbents since Jan. 1 has gone almost exclusively to those who voted for the bill or supported it in some way. Maritime donations went to only three congressmen and one senator who voted against the bill.

CONFLICT

The senator, Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., gave $8,500 back to the marine engineers union two days before the Senate vote on Sept. 5. A spokesman declined comment when asked if Javits had feared the money would create a conflict of interest.

The largest donation by the unions went to Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., who denied that the $20,000 received by him created any conflict. Long is chairman of the Merchant Marine subcommittee, and as floor manager of the bill he guided it to passage.

The second-largest donation went to Long's counterpart in the House, Rep. Frank M. Clark, D-Pa., chairman of the Merchant Marine subcommittee which cleared the bill before the House approved it last May. Clark got $17,500.

The third-largest sum went to House Democratic Leader Thomas P. O'Neil, D-Mass. He received $16,000.

Legal Figures Rap Slayings

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Irish Republican Army terrorists assassinated two Northern Ireland judges in their homes today and a business executive was reported killed by a bomb at his factory.

The two judges shot to death in Belfast were Roger "Rory" Conaghan and Martin McBirney, both Roman Catholics accused by the Irish Republican Army of collaborating with the British. The Provisional IRA wing claimed it ordered the killings.

BOOBY TRAP
Politicians and legal figures condemned the slayings, and courts all over the province were adjourned to honor the two slain judges.

In Pomeroy, County Tyrone, west of here, informed sources said a booby trap bomb went off when businessman Michael McCourt entered his office and he was killed.

The three deaths raised to 1,063 the official death toll in five years of violence in the province.

Bodies Of Plano Fem, Chinese Pug Two Teens Discovered

DALLAS (AP) — Suburban Plano police were investigating today the grim discovery of the badly decomposed nude bodies of a Plano woman and two teen-agers.

The three were found in their residence Sunday night, the apparent victims of a triple homicide, investigators said.

Plano Police Chief A.H. Kimzey said today cause of death had not yet been established and he refused to identify the victims pending notification of relatives.

He said the victims were a woman, 34, a boy, 14, and a girl, 15. The woman's estranged husband could not be located, he said, adding that the children were the husband's by a previous marriage.

Investigators said they found no signs of a struggle and that a search of the residence produced no weapons.

The victims were found Sunday night by the dead woman's mother, who said she had gone to the home to pick up some clothing. The mother said she last saw her daughter and the two children a week ago.

Medical examiners were attempting to determine cause of death.

Honeymoon Trial Delay

Marshall, president-elect of the fair, agreed to speak to city officials about spreading caliche on part of Robin Road which will be used by fair participants.

Howard County road crews would be used to spread caliche on roadway belonging to the rodeo association, the court indicated.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Criminal Dist. Judge Rudolph Becker has granted a delay in the trial of a Texas man charged with murdering a honeymoon bride here last January.

Because of the rain, Barnaby said: "It's going to have to have caliche on it right away."

Barnaby said the rodeo association ought to deed the road to the city. "Well, they'll never do it," County Judge A. G. Mitchell replied.

Barnaby suggested improvement of school routes be made the first priority.

Routes followed by mail trucks and getting heaviest traffic count in precincts were other matters given consideration in designating roads for paving, members of the court said.

County roads prepared for paving will get first attention, Barnaby said.

Places due paving soon include part of the old San Angelo highway, two streets in the Silver Heels Addition; by the Coahoma cemetery; two miles near the new gain and the Bankin Road, where Martin County has offered to provide some caliche.

Ray Longshore petitioned the court to close part of the L. I. Stewart Road connecting Longshore Road and the Garden City highway.

"All it's good for is these punks to run up and down and shoot cattle and shoot rabbits," Mitchell commented.

Commissioner Bill Crocker said anyone opposed to the closing should ask to be included in the meeting next Monday.

Court Threshes Road Priorities

Neel Barnaby, county road engineer, asked County Commissioners Court "where we're going to start and where we're going to stop" helping with the Howard County Fair.

The court authorized Barnaby, who is a retired USN Commander, to use his judgment in deciding how much help the rodeo department provided.

Marshall, president-elect of the fair, agreed to speak to city officials about spreading caliche on part of Robin Road which will be used by fair participants.

Howard County road crews would be used to spread caliche on roadway belonging to the rodeo association, the court indicated.

First Woman National Chief Elected By GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican National Committee today unanimously elected Mrs. Mary Louise Smith, a veteran party organizer chosen 12 days ago by President Ford, as the party's first woman national chairman.

The 59-year-old Mrs. Smith, who as party co-chairman for the past six months ran a series of GOP grassroots workshops, succeeds George Bush, named to head the U.S. liaison office in the People's Republic of China.

The election of Mrs. Smith was the major item of business at the committee meeting, which also included a luncheon with addresses by President Ford and Vice President-designate Nelson A. Rockefeller.

There was no public opposition to Mrs. Smith, though some RNC members were reported privately annoyed that, once again, their new chairman had been selected by a President without their playing any role besides ratification.

Mrs. Smith, who has been Republican national committeewoman from Iowa since 1964, was formally nominated by state GOP Chairman John McDonald.

McDonald called her "a skilled diplomat" and a "tough bargainer" and declared that "her knowledge of organization has earned her a reputation as a keen tactician."

Bush, in a farewell speech, predicted the Republicans "will do better in the fall elections than many people think — particularly in the Senate."

But he said "I am not satisfied at where we stand in strength of numbers of registered voters or in strength of national committee."

He defended his national chairmanship, in which he made many speeches defending former President Richard M. Nixon.

Bush contended that "all of us wanted to be fair" in defending Nixon's accomplishments while protecting the GOP "from the ugly excesses and the illegalities that became known by one word — Watergate."

Party Treasurer O. C. Carmichael Jr. of Indiana presented a report showing the national committee had a balance of $1.7 million as of Aug. 31, having raised more than $5.5 million this year, 83 per cent of it from small donors.

But he said "I am not satisfied at where we stand in strength of numbers of registered voters or in strength of national committee."

Rain Blesses County Area

Rain, measuring a maximum of 2.4 inches at Luther in north-central Howard County, covered the area today.

Big Spring had little better than half an inch, but north of town the fall was heavier. At the Wilkerson Ranch west of Big Spring Bill McIlvain reported 1.4 inches, an inch of it early this morning.

Ackerly had 1.5 inches, and at Lake Thomas the Colorado River Municipal Water District reported 2 inches with intermittent showers.

Reports varied in Big Spring but most were from .50 to .60 of an inch. Sand Springs, east of Big Spring, had .46.

At Elbow, southwest of town, Bill Cregar reported .6 of an inch, half of it Sunday and half this morning. South of town the amount dwindled rapidly.

Wild Beast That Will Not Be Quickly Tamed

DALLAS (AP) — Government economists said today runaway inflation is a wild beast that will not be quickly tamed but that a controlled federal budget may be an important key to better times ahead.

Dr. Gary L. Seavers of the President's Council of Economic Advisors told a conference on inflation, "We're not trying to promise better days right away," in the administration's fight against rising costs.

"The economy has a lot of difficulties, probably the most since World War II," Seavers said. "Inflation itself may be the cause of a possible recession and slowdown in economic activity."

By far the majority of budget items would require legislation for change in spending levels, Zarb said. The only flexibility, he said, is in "discretionary items," that are unrelated to constant human resource programs such as retirement and Medicare benefits.

But he said the budget must be cut and noted that "our goal is to drive spending down to $300 billion or below."

MAN DROPS GRENADE Two Persons Perish In Drugstore Blast

PARIS (AP) — The only evidence there of the explosion was a muffled thud and some dust falling from the ceiling.

An employee calmed the audience, and the film — an erotic hit called "Emanuelle" — continued.

Witnesses said the man dropped the grenade from a second-floor balcony on Sunday afternoon and escaped in the confusion after the explosion. He appeared to be about 25, witnesses said.

A fire brigade spokesman said the grenade rolled under a tobacco counter, and this may have reduced the force of the blast.

But persons on the sidewalk outside the store were knocked off their feet.

Women and children ran screaming, blinded by the blood and the dust," said one witness. "One man had his chest ripped open."

The store on the Boulevard St. Germain is a honeycomb of lunch counters, boutiques and specialty stands.

Lone Bandit Sacks Store — "M'am, this is a hold-up, get me all the money," is what 7-11 store attendant Mrs. Joyce Lambert heard at about 7:50 p.m. Sunday night as she worked in the store room.

A man brandishing a black, long-barreled revolver spoke the words and motioned for Mrs. Lambert to go to the cash register and get him the money.

He was about 5'6", weighing about 140 and was wearing a tan shirt, blue jeans and was wearing a tan ski mask over his face.

He took about $35 or $40 in cash from the register and made Mrs. Lambert lie on the floor until he was gone.

She did not see which way he left, or if he left on foot on a car.

Three Big Spring men, Henry Morales Madrid, 19, Jose Angel Puga, 18, and Ernest Gonzales, 20, were released on bond Saturday, after being arrested in the early morning hours Saturday in connection with two burglaries which occurred Friday night.

A LOVELIER YOU How To Tie The Isadora Scarf

By MARY SUE MILLER
The way yards of scarf wrapped Isadora, long-long mufflers wrap seasonal fashions. Designers, the lot of them, entwine the neckline of suits, dresses, jackets, sweaters and coats with various versions of the muffler, but always long. In addition, there are hat and scarf sets — go-togethers for true. A muffler may match a garment's color, blend or contrast. Wooly fabrics are the choicest; silky flat prints and fluid jersey look good with dresses made of silken fabrics. But no matter how handsome, you must be deft at tying a long scarf. You can smother it, and it can smother you. In general, soft draping a the throat prevents the choked effect worked on so many short necks and plump faces. A twist or loop that flips the ends to the side, front and back, seems to slim and lengthen the needy figure. Designers made use of many delightful ties: Rolled loosely across the throat with ends slipped under the coat collar on either side to float at the back; knotted low on the chest of a dress; crumpled around the throat, ends crossed in back and drawn forward over each shoulder; ends looped on one shoulder to fall backward and forward. However you arrange your muffler, be sure it has zing and dash. Pow! The day may arrive when you need it for warmth. Let me help you with the problem of a too-fleshy arm, chest or upper back by sending you my leaflet, TRIMMERS AND SLIMMERS. It contains a set of coordinated spot reducing exercises — easy to do, quick to get results. Just write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin.

History and a member of the Lt. William Brewer Chapter, DAR, Midland, spoke on the Constitution of the United States. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Cobean and Mrs. Riley to the 17 members present and to Mr. Denham, Midland. Dr. Emmet McKenzie will be guest speaker when the Howard County Retired Teachers' Association meets at 11:45 a.m., Tuesday for a luncheon in the Downtown Tea Room. Miss Shirley Is Party Honoree

Miss Mary Anne Shirley, bride-elect of Randy Law, was honored at a wedding shower Tuesday in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room. There were 13 hostesses. The couple will be married Sept. 21 in the chapel at Reese Air Force Base, Lubbock. Receiving guests with the honoree was her mother, Mrs. Tom Shirley, and her grandmother, Mrs. Thomas Shirley. The three were presented corsages of multi-colored carnations. Her sister, Miss Karen Shirley, presided at the registry. The refreshment table was covered with a white embroidered cloth and centered with an arrangement of mixed flowers. A similar arrangement was placed on the registry.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:
For those who freeze vegetables, I thought you might like to try my method of blanching them, using of course, nylon net. I always keep eight or more, 30" squares of nylon net ready. They can be rinsed afterward, stored, and used over and over. Place no more than a quart of prepared vegetables in each square. Gather up the corners, and as much side material as needed to keep vegetables from spilling out. Fasten with a plastic twist-em, as close to the top of your net as possible. This allows the vegetables to "float around" inside the bag in the boiling water. Drop one "net" bag of vegetables at a time into your pot of boiling water for required blanching time. Then simply lift the bag out, shake it, drop it into a pan of cold water for a minute or two — then into a pan of ice water. (This saves on the amount of ice used.) Then pick the bag of vegetables out of the ice water, give them a good shake, open it and package your product. No colanders, no fishing for elusive vegetables. From beginning to finish, it's "in the bag." As you package your blanched product, shake out the square and refill it with more food to be blanched. This saves time, temper, burns and scalds, and gives us time to say a prayer of thanks for Heloise who keeps us reminded about the uses of nylon net. Lucy Sheehan

Thank you, luv. It's friends like you who help all of us to know these many wonderful uses for our gorgeous net. And what a blessing this helpful dilly is going to be to many of us, since we are growing more vegetables these days. Thanks for sharing it with us, angel. love, Heloise

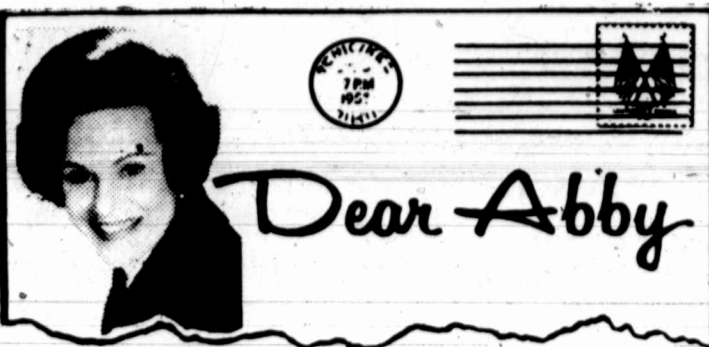

Dear Heloise:
When spreading a good deal of paste, or just a little, use a knife and spread it like butter. You don't get it on your hands and it goes on smoothly. Any surplus can be taken off and put back in the jar. Rosa E. Greene

Dear Heloise:
How many people know that if you put a paper towel in a large strainer, it works perfectly to strain deep-fry oil through or meat frying. If oil is hot, it will go through faster. Spouse Dislikes Off-Color Jokes

DEAR ABBY: Is there something wrong with my sense of humor, or is my husband sick? He's a tease, a clown and an all around kiddier. The problem is that most of his kidding is downright cruel. He has said things to the children and me that have hurt us deeply, and when we become upset, he laughs and says, "I was only kidding. Can't you take a joke?" He's done this with others, but — heaven forgive me — sometimes I wish someone would punch him. Why does a person have to hurt and insult others and then try to pass it off as a joke? Don't tell me I'll get used to it. We've been married for 16 years, and I still hate it as much as I did 16 years ago. I honestly believe he's sick. And if he is, can he be cured?

TEASED ENOUGH DEAR ABBY: When aggression and hostility are built into a person's personality, he is indeed "sick." And he can be cured only when he is made to realize what he is doing, and the reason for it. That's hardly a job for a wife and children. It should be done by a very close friend, a therapist, or an empathetic clergyman. DEAR ABBY: I have been in business long enough to know that in dealing with customers, patience and courtesy is always the best policy. But what do you do when a customer calls you on the phone and cusses you out without giving you a chance to explain? To make matters worse, he refuses to give you his name but keeps cussing you out in four-letter words. BAMBOOZLED IN BEND, OREGON DEAR ABBY: Say, "Sir," if you can't give me your father's name, please give me your mother's. I'll bet he hangs up in a hurry. DEAR ABBY: Thank you for letting your readers know that although many unmarried mothers are keeping their babies, the Salvation Army's Booth Memorial Hospitals are still open and serving a good purpose. My son was born at such a hospital. I was five months along when I entered Booth. Soon I realized that my impression of unwed mothers' homes was totally wrong. It's not a place where "bad girls" go to have their babies. I met many really nice girls who had gotten messed up one way or the other. Many would-be fathers had just walked out, and these girls had no other place to turn. I received group counseling, individual counseling, room and board and the knowledge that I wasn't the only girl about to have a baby all alone. I recall all the get-togethers we girls had and how we talked about our fears. That was the best therapy in the world, just being able to talk without shame to someone in the same boat. I decided to keep my child, although I had no job and no husband in sight. For me, the decision was a good one. For others it would not have been. It was rough. The looks, the criticism, the tears. My story has a happy ending. Seven years later, I married a wonderful man who adopted my son. I know this is too long for your column, but please, Abby, keep reminding girls that homes for unwed mothers offer more than bed and board. It's their counseling that saves so many lives. Every unwed mother needs counseling, no matter how much she feels she doesn't. BEEN THERE, DEAR ABBY: Orchids to you for a fine letter. Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. Enclosed stamped, self-addressed envelope, please. Last Of The POW's

The nation's longest war is coming to an end for at least one more American. The Communist Pathet Lao gave categorical assurance that it would free Emmet J. Kay of Hawaii. Kay, 47, a civilian pilot for a small charter airline based in Indochina, is America's last known prisoner of war.

Captured May 7, 1973, when his plane landed in Communist-controlled territory in Laos with Laotian troops aboard, Kay has been held ever since in the Pathet Lao capital of Sam Neua.

There are about 1,300 Americans still officially listed as "missing in action" in Indochina and the chance that another one of them will turn up alive is real. The State Department confirms that there are constant rumors of Americans being seen in parts of Southeast Asia. It says that there is a possibility that some Americans are being held by some of the local warlords who run their own areas pretty much as they please.

It is quite possible that Emmet Kay will not be the last POW. While it is probable there is no way to establish the fate of those who were lost or decimated in combat, we need to press to pin down every possible case to hasten the discovery of any who may have survived.

Mercy Or Justice?

Federal Judge A. Andrew Hauk says a man who was caught smuggling two tons of marijuana into the country deserves to get off with a sentence of six months in jail because he is ill, a widower and the father of seven children. He was not a major drug dealer, says the judge, but agreed to haul a small fortune in marijuana across the border because he needed the money offered to him to do it.

The world is full of people with financial problems, but we are going to get nowhere in controlling the illicit drug traffic if the courts deem it excusable for people to solve their personal economic problems by hiring themselves out as "mules" in smuggling operations. Whether mule or mule-driver, anyone in the business of smuggling contraband drugs into our country by the truckload deserves more than six months in jail.

My Answer

Billy Graham

For the past few months, and it may be related to some of the events our nation is going through, I have had a great fear I've never had before. At times I think I am dying, and at times I wish I were dead. I hear you speak of peace and happiness, and I wish I could know them. But I have this lurking fear that something dreadful is about to happen. Please help me. M.M.

The events of the past year and a half have been enough to upset anyone. These have certainly been grave days for the nation. But, as our new president announced with hope, better days are ahead, and if millions of Americans will repent of their sins this could well be.

The truth of the matter is that without God, fear is only natural. The Bible speaks of the last days of civilization when "men's hearts shall fail them for fear." Fear was unknown until man sinned. It was then that Adam hid himself from God and was afraid.

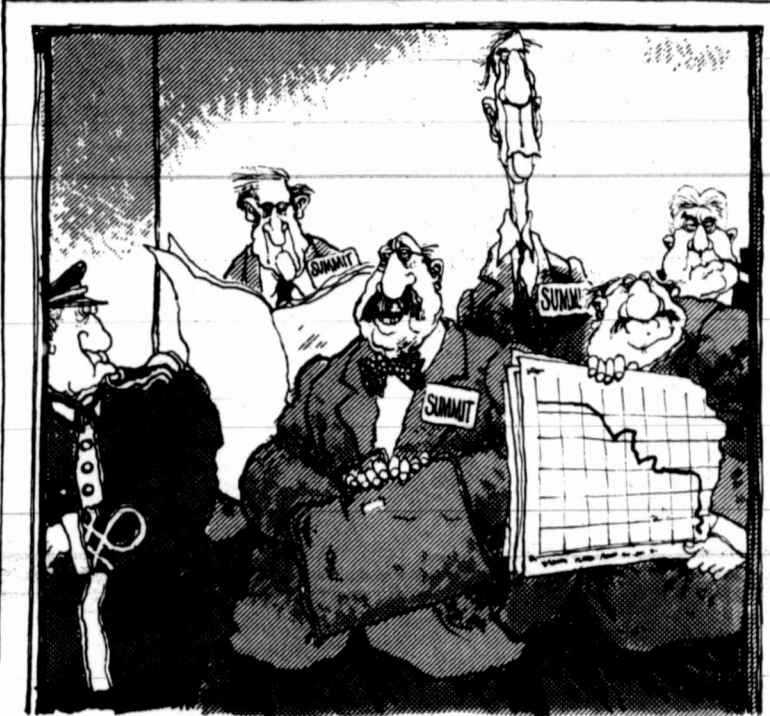

But the Bible offers a cure for fear. It says, "Perfect love casteth out fear." And who is "perfect love?" Jesus Christ! He spent a great deal of his time on earth casting out fear. When His disciples trembled with fear on stormy Galilee, He appeared to them and said, "It is I, be not afraid."

In the absence of fear is the Presence of Christ. Let Him come into your life and give you His peace to counteract those blighting fears.

WELCOME ECONOMISTS TO THE PRESIDENT'S ECONOMIC SUMMIT CONFERENCE

DOWN, PLEASE...

Felt It Coming

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — Hours before resigning the presidency in the face of hard obstruction-of-justice evidence against him, Richard Nixon was convinced that his successor, President Ford, would issue him a full and complete pardon. He never received assurances from Gerald Ford himself that a pardon could be counted on.

INDEED, EVEN though President Ford secretly informed intimates that a presidential pardon for Nixon — eventually — and was an absolute certainty, he did not undertake direct negotiations with Nixon on the pardon question.

The bridge between Nixon and Mr. Ford was Nixon's White House chief of staff, Gen. Alexander Haig, and Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, the senior member of the cabinet and Nixon's closest collaborator outside the rancid White House itself during Nixon's five and a half years in office.

IN ADDITION, one key Republican member of the House who supported impeachment against Nixon was authorized to inform Nixon just before his resignation that powerful House Democrats were totally opposed to his criminal prosecution. That strengthened Nixon's confidence about a pardon.

Against the background, Mr. Ford inexorably succumbed to pressure last week from Nixon intimates and agents and decided, without consulting a single politician, to pardon Nixon months before anyone expected it — except possibly Nixon himself.

IT WAS precisely the prospect of the calamity that Nixon would have held on which propelled Haig, Kissinger and every other major figure in the transition drama five weeks ago to get Nixon out of the White House. If the prospect of a full pardon was held out to Nixon in exaggerated form, that was the reason. All else gave way to the single objective — get Nixon out.

Nixon had been judged mentally aberrant for fully two years by observant officials who had worked with him closely and known him well. Their judgment was ruthless — but, in the circumstances, inevitable. Nixon must be removed from the presidency to safeguard the nation.

WITH NIXON back in San Clemente, convinced his pardon was only a matter of time, and with Mr. Ford having revealed to close aides his hard intention to grant the pardon — presumably months in the future — the stage was set for the course of events that led to last Sunday's shocking decision.

Heightening this presidential concern about Nixon were alarming reports flowing into the Oval Office — reinforced by Haig and Kissinger — that the former President was on the edge of a mental breakdown. At one point, Kissinger expressed a private fear that Nixon's life might be in danger by his own hand.

Adding to the pressure on Mr. Ford was a crescendo of warnings from Casa Pacifica that the allegedly promised pardon must be delivered soon, or Nixon's health might be fatally undermined. So, acting with uncharacteristic and politically damaging stealth, Mr. Ford made his decision to pardon.

In retrospect, some Ford intimates feel that if Mr. Ford had spelled out immediately and publicly after taking office his own intention to issue a complete pardon, and used his full power to lobby a sense-of-congress pardon resolution, he could have had it.

DRIVE SAFELY

NEW YORK (AP) — Driving too fast in rain can put your car out of commission in other ways in addition to the obvious danger of skidding, the Clark Equipment Trailer Division says professional Truck drivers report.

First, the deluge from large puddles of water can soak wiring and other vital parts, causing your car to stall. Second, wet brake linings will cause uneven braking and maybe complete loss of stopping power. Third, mist droplets thrown off by vehicle wheels can become hazardous at 35 mph and positively blinding at 55 mph to following and passing vehicles.

Brokers Booted

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market declined so fast this past month that those who write the market advisory letters for the brokerage firms are shying away from the numbers.

Too many of them, it seems, have had the disheartening experience of forecasting a support level in, say, the 700-point area of the Dow Jones industrial average, only to have that level punctured before their customers received the mail.

In a little over one month the industrial average has fallen nearly 170 points to a 627.19 reading, the lowest in 12 years.

"All of us, of course, are shell-shocked after what has happened in the past two months," writes one analyst.

Nobody dares

forecast a bottoming out. So much has gone awry in the stock market that almost everyone is certain there's more to come. And this isn't just a hunch; the economic statistics support the gloom.

Price increases, for instance, seem to be accelerating, and that means bad news for stocks. Inflation and high interest rates are known to be among the market's major enemies.

Another depressant is declining industrial activity. As the bear market worsens, incalculable damage is being done to the structure of the market place, which probably will make it all the more difficult to recover.

Thousands of brokers have been laid off, and most of them aren't likely to return. Having adjusted to incomes above $50,000 during the glory days of the mid-1960s, few of them could adjust to $12,000 a year and then a lavoff.

Hundreds of brokerage houses have gone out of business. Even some of the biggest that remain face financial difficulties.

Their customers have disappeared into the bond markets, where interest rates are high.

Whereas it cost $15,000 to own a seat on the New York Stock Exchange early in 1969, anyone with the qualifications can pick one up for $65,000 these days.

Even if activity resumed, it isn't likely seat prices will soar.

Cancer Quiz

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have read about cancer, lumps, etc., but I had a different problem. My breast had bleeding at the nipple. I had surgery and the test showed cancer, so my doctor had to remove my right breast.

That was two years ago. I will go for another six-month examination soon, but I would like to know why he told me I had cancer and when I ask him if I would need treatments to help control it he said no.

He tells me just as little as he can, but I ask to be told the truth. I've lived from day to day expecting something to happen. I know cancer can't be cured but why do they wait until you are dying before they give you all those treatments? I want to know. Should I go to a cancer doctor? — J.S.

Bleeding (or other discharge) from a nipple may be an indication of cancer, or may not. The test showed that yours was, and in due time there would have been a lump, as the cancer grew.

I do think you should have been told more. However, because of psychological differences in people, a doctor doesn't always know when a patient wants more information or prefers not to talk or hear about cancer.

Reading between the lines, I would guess this is what happened in your case. It required minor surgery (biopsy) and a test to tell whether you had cancer or whether something else caused the bleeding.

When the test showed cancer, the breast was removed. I would judge that the surgeon had reason to believe that the entire cancer was removed. The cold fact is, though, that nobody can be immediately certain of this. This is why you go back at six-month intervals for examination.

The rule of thumb is that if cancer has not started to grow again after five years, it can reasonably be assumed that the entire cancer was removed, and you no longer have cancer.

In short, you are not correct in saying that "cancer can be cured." It is being cured, in about one case in three, by removing it. The fact that the bleeding led to discovery of yours may be an indication that yours was found earlier than if you had waited for a lump to appear.

If there is a suspicion that all of the cancer has not been removed, then such rigorous treatments as massive radiation and chemotherapy are used. But since I gather your doctors believe that all of yours was removed, there is no reason to resort to such treatment.

Indeed, without some indication of where to apply the treatment, it would be pointless. I doubt that you should keep on "expecting something to happen." Perhaps nothing will.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am a diabetic. The other day I had to have a hearing on my unemployment, and I was so nervous I didn't know half the time what the man was saying. When I got home my sugar tested pretty high. Could that have caused it? I keep it normal by diet. — R.H.C.

Yes, emotional upsets can raise your blood sugar.

To find out what causes high blood pressure and what can be done to treat it, send for a copy of "Controlling Your Blood Pressure (Hypertension)" by Dr. Thosteson. Write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Security--Theirs

Around The Rim

Tommy Hart

Probably the biggest ripoff in modern times is the collusion between the people we elect to office and the millions they hire to look after and perpetuate their jobs.

AT ALL LEVELS, the lawmakers are taking care of their own. Not only are they tapping public funds to provide themselves and those who work for the government a very cozy living, they slip through elaborate pension systems that guarantee themselves and all those feeding at the public breast an income geared to the times, plus seeing to it regularly that the wives and families of the anointed are taken care of into infinity.

AND WHO PAYS for such largesse? Brother, if you think you don't, your education has been sadly neglected.

When Gov. Ronald Reagan, already a wealthy man, steps down soon as governor of California, he becomes eligible for a $32,800 annual state pension — and his pension will increase through cost of living adjustments. Under the retirement plan shaped for men of his station, if his successors get pay raises his pension will reflect them.

Reagan contributed about four per cent of his total salary toward the pension since he entered the governor's mansion eight years ago. WHEN A WELL known former Supreme Court Justice died recently, he was drawing regular pension checks in five figures both from the federal government and his home state.

Private pension plans all over the nation have proved monumental flops over the years, often because unscrupulous men have been allowed to pilage the funds available therein, but those who work for the public trust don't have to worry. They'll get theirs upon retirement, as long as the flag flies high over the capitol building.

LAWMAKERS in California, in particular, are acutely aware of the voting muscle that can be gained by supporting group pensions. And the lobbyists who are forever working to improve such benefits on behalf of their clients have their ear.

At Sacramento, a bill slipped through unnoticed recently which would give police and firemen a handsome new pension plan financed by a tax on private insurance premiums — and you know who would pick up the bill in the end.

MAJOR PROVISIONS of the bill provided retirement at 55 per cent pay after 20 years of service, no age requirements; 75 per cent pay after 25 years, any age; 100 per cent after 30 years and over age 60.

Welcome to the dues-paying club. Once you're in, you can't get out — no matter how hard you try.

'The New Land'

By JAY SHARBUTT

NEW YORK (AP) — ABC, once highly regarded by violence fans for the gore and gunsmoke of its shows, has joined TV's new craze for warm, virtuous families. I have reference to ABC's "The New Land" series.

The show is about a sturdy Scandinavian clan which, seeing no fjord in its future, settles on the Minnesota prairie in 1858. The clan is well ahead of NBC's "Little House on the Prairie" mob; that crew got on TV first, but didn't move to rural Minnesota until 1878.

Despite the age difference, "The New Land," which premiered last Saturday night, apparently shares not only the land but also the same ox miseries as the family on the NBC show.

Those who saw the "Little House" opening will recall that Charles Ingalls almost lost his yoke of oxen to a hard-hearted merchant. "The New Land" took the yoke one step further.

Lightning struck the barn of settlers Christian and Anna Larsen, set it ablaze and in no time at all the barn and the two oxen within were burnt down.

This was bad news for Christian, who needed the oxen to haul lumber to a freight company with which he had a contract. A proud man, he rejected a charity offer of new oxen from a neighbor, Johanson.

Then he met a Mormon family possessed of more oxen than it needed. He made a deal to give the Mormons a piece of land in exchange for the animals. Then Johanson told a town meeting of Scandinavians the Mormons would have to leave, as they were of the wrong heritage and would ruin the neighborhood. But it all ended happily.

Ja, Ja, diss vass as bad as it sounded and ja, we are withholding de names of cast members to protect de innocent. And dey all are.

ALBRIGHT, W.Va. (AP) — A ride in a rubber raft down West Virginia's Cheat River in the Appalachians is something you will not soon forget.

Thirty stretches of white water are encountered in the 11-mile run, and the elevation drops from 1,230 feet at the starting point to 900 feet at take-out.

Passing between mountains as high as 2,000 feet the rafters, equipped with life jackets and paddles, maneuver their boats around huge boulders that pop up sometimes without warning. Occasionally, a paddler is washed overboard, but he is quickly pulled out by his companions without mishap.

The trip starts with coffee and rolls just as the sun rises. Then the rafts are put into the river and a short time later the first white water is encountered. Around noon, a break is taken for sandwiches and a refreshing cold drink. Then there's the last leg of the trip to the take-out point, where a bus awaits with dry clothes.

It is an exhausting trip and not easy, but nobody has called it dull or lacking in thrills.

Liabie For Leaky Line

Farmer Watson's sheep, grazing in their pasture one morning, spied a thick, molasses-like liquid oozing out of the ground. Finding it appetizing, they all took a long drink.

UNHAPPILY, the liquid was nothing but crude oil, seeping up from a broken pipeline that ran underneath the farm. In short order the sheep sickened and died.

Watson lost no time in seeking damages from the pipeline company. In court, he pointed out that the company had known of the leak for more than a week without bothering to warn him of the danger.

RESULT: THE COURT ordered the company to pay for the dead sheep. The judge said it had failed to exercise the "reasonable care" that the law demands in such circumstances.

This case illustrates the type of claim that can arise from the network of cross-country pipelines now spreading swiftly under our land.

GAS PIPELINES too have their hazards. In another case, a gas pipeline was laid on the surface of some suburban property, close behind a small house. A resident of the house unwittingly backed his car over the line, cracked it open, and suffered a toxic dose of escaping gas.

When the man asked for damages, the company said it had a contractual right to lay pipeline "anywhere on the premises." But a court said this did not mean it could do so without fair regard for the safety of people living there.

OF COURSE, the resident who is aware of a pipeline has to take reasonable precautions too. Another farmer was injured when his plow struck a buried pipeline, throwing him to the ground. But it seems he had known where the pipeline was, and had been hoping that the plow would just slide right by it.

A COURT decided he could not collect damages from the pipeline company.

"He contributed," said the court, "to his own hurt."

What Others Say

Charles G. "Bebe" Rebozo is a wealthy man. By his own accounting, Rebozo has increased his wealth nearly seven-fold during the first five years that his close friend, Richard M. Nixon, was president of the United States.

The Washington Post News Service reports that just before Nixon took office in 1969, Rebozo's net worth was $673,000. In September 1973 his net worth had jumped to $4.5 million. That worth was largely in real estate and holdings in a bank and other companies.

It is interesting to note that while Rebozo was adding substantially to his wealth, his friend, the president, was doing the same. Together with Robert H. Abplanalp, the aerosol valve maker, Rebozo enabled the former president to buy his San Clemente estate on highly favorable terms. Rebozo brought Nixon into some Florida land deals which enriched him considerably. Rebozo also handled political contributions for the former president. A federal grand jury in Washington is investigating allegations of whether some of the campaign funds were converted to Rebozo's and Nixon's personal use.

A Devotion For Today . .

"Behold, how good and pleasant it is when brothers dwell together in unity!"

PRAYER: Lord, when we start to go our own way, protecting ourselves from being hurt, help us to admit we need You and the fellowship of other believers. Amen.

Moyers Hired Hunt For Killer Of Three Women, Small Boy In Texas

NEW YORK (AP) — Newsweek magazine has hired former White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers to write a monthly column. Moyers, who served as press secretary to President Lyndon B. Johnson, will begin appearing in Newsweek starting in the Sept. 23 edition, said Newsweek editor Osborn Elliott. Moyers served as publisher of Newsday, the Long Island daily, from 1967 until 1970. He most recently was host of "Bill Moyers' Journal."

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — Law enforcement officers intensified their search in a three-county East Texas area today for a man believed responsible for the killing of three women and a small boy. The bodies of two women were found Sunday near Tyler, three weeks after a mother and her six-year-old son were found slain southeast of Longview.

REPORTED MISSING The body of Vickie Morris, 20, was found about six hours after she was reported missing late Saturday night. She was found shot to death in a wooded area by Smith County deputies. Her family became worried when Miss Morris failed to return from church about 7:30 p.m. where she had gone to practice the organ. Her clothing was found at the church. About 12 hours later, a police helicopter spotted the car of Dolly Jonas, 32, of Tyler, at Lake Tyler East. The body was found in the car. She had been reported missing about 20 minutes before the grim discovery. The two death scenes are about 20 miles apart. WARRANT ISSUED A spokesman for the Smith County Sheriff's office said a warrant was issued for Edward Elton Corley, 29. Corley is charged in Rusk County for the slaying Aug. 24 of Mrs. Jerry Wright, 28, and her son, near Lake Cherokee. They were found dead in their mobile home by Wright when he returned from a fishing trip. Corley is sought by Gregg County authorities for aggravated robbery in connection with a stolen pickup truck. Three persons told authorities they helped a man fitting Corley's description get his pickup truck out of the mud Sunday near the scene of one slaying.

Aerialist Plans To Join Circus

NEW YORK (AP) — French aerialist Philippe Petit has left for Paris but he says he will return Oct. 10 to join the Ringling Brothers Circus. The 25-year-old high wire artist, who gained nationwide attention when he walked across a wire between the two towers of the World Trade Center, boarded a plane for Paris on Sunday night. Petit said he will do a juggling act atop a high wire without the aid of a balancing pole when he joins the American circus.

Juggling Figured In Class 2A Poll

By The Associated Press. There's going to be the top spot because the No. 3 ranked Linden-Kildare was shocked 8-7 by the Atlanta Rabbits this week. Sanity prevailed at the top in the other divisions, but just barely in some instances. No. 1 rated Tyler John Tyler in Class 4A had all it could handle in a 7-0 victory over Corsicana. Bryan really pulled off a shocker by mauling third-rated Conroe 47-0. In Class 3A, top-ranked Brazosport romped past West Columbia 28-2 and Class A's No. 1 rated club, Falls City, mangled Sabinal 34-0. Big Sandy, the No. 1 Class B club, struggled to a 12-6 victory over Sabine. No. 2 ranked Celina was shaved 7-6 by Allen.

QB Club To Meet Tuesday

The Big Spring Quarterback Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the high school cafeteria. Helen Hughes, tri-captain, announced that a door prize will be awarded to both a man and a woman. To attract more followers, the QB club will have on hand Pete Cook, well-known resident, who officiates college games as well as high school. Mr. Cook officiates in the Lone-Star and Missouri Valley Conferences and was present for Saturday's Sul Ross-Eastern New Mexico game. He will be one of the officials for the New Mexico State-Texas-Arlington contest Sept. 28 at Las Cruces. Bob Burris and his Steer assistants, Tom Adams, Ron Freeman, Bob Glover, Tip Jacobson, Rex Scofield, and Larry Horton will show film of the Hobbs game plus give a complete scouting report on Snyder. Big Spring off to one of its best seasonal performances in years sport a 2-0 record. The Steers meet the Tigers, there, at 8 p.m. Friday. Snyder lost to Lee Friday 19-17.

Arkansas Admirers Smiling

By The Associated Press. All those smarties who said the Texas Longhorns were going to get a run for their money this year appear to be right on target—only Arkansas, Texas Tech and Texas A&M may even be stronger than initially suspected. The Horns did just dandy, understand, whipping Boston College 42-19 and displaying more team speed than Coach Darrell Royal has owned in years. But, oh, what the Arkansas Razorbacks did to the fifth-ranked Southern California. To hear USC Coach John McKay talk, it was a worse defeat than the 22-7 scorecard indicated. In fact, what McKay had to say was semi-rated. "They just kicked the hell out of us," McKay said which covers a lot of ground. And the Texas Aggies flexed some offensive firepower and a muscular defense that smothered Clemson 24-0. And Tech? Well, all that buildup about redshirt quarterback Tommy Duniven wasn't just prairie wind coming off the West Texas plains. "I would have slept real good Friday night if I had known then how good he (Duniven) would play tonight," said Tech Coach Jim Carlen.

BLANK FALCONS 24-0

Cowboys Start Off With Win

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — "It was a good way to start, and our defense had a great game," Dallas Coach Tom Landry said after his Cowboys blanked the stumbling Atlanta Falcons 24-0 Sunday in a National Football League opener for both clubs. Landry said in advance he felt it would be "a very close game" but Cowboy quarterback Roger Staubach still recovering from broken ribs, marched Dallas to 17 points over a 12-minute span starting late in the opening quarter and it was virtually over for the Falcons. "They had a chance in the third quarter to get back in the game," Landry observed after the Cowboys fumbled twice deep in their own territory, but the defense rose to the occasion both times. "The defense threw them back both times and that was the ball game," he said. Landry also had praise for his sore-ribbed quarterback, saying, "Roger was very rusty but he played well and didn't get his ribs hurt, and that's a real plus." Staubach suffered cracked ribs against New Orleans in a pre-season contest and had played only a few minutes in the last four weeks. Staubach scrambled nine yards for a touchdown with 4:12 left in the first quarter and then threw a 52-yard bomb to Golden Richards with eight minutes left in the half. In between, Marc Percival kicked a 33-yard field goal. Robert Newhouse scored from one yard out in the closing minutes for Dallas.

Minutes left in the half. In between, Marc Percival kicked a 33-yard field goal. Robert Newhouse scored from one yard out in the closing minutes for Dallas. "We won," said Staubach, "but I thought our offense was a little sloppy. I haven't played in a month but that's no excuse. We did have some breaks and our defense played extremely well. Atlanta is really a class team. We've had some games like that and came back." Echoing those sentiments was Atlanta Coach Norm Van Brocklin, whose club managed but 108 yards on offense while starting quarterback Bob Lee connected on only 4 of 22 passes for 28 yards. The Falcons also coughed up the ball five times, losing it on fumbles three times and twice on pass interceptions. "It wasn't a very good performance," said Van Brocklin.

Coahoma Meeting Planned

The Quarterback Club of Coahoma will convene at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in room 204 of the high school. Norman Roberts, Bulldog head coach will go over the Post film with school followers and then present a preview on what to expect from the next opponent, Cisco, here at 8 p.m. Friday. The Bulldogs who own a 2-0 record are expected from state forecasters to move up to the No. 1 2-A spot. Previous leader Newton 1-1, lost to Hamshire-Fannett 13-8.

Kemper Scores In Trap Shoot

V.W. Kemper took shooting honors in the Western Sportsman Club Trap Shoot Sunday conducted on the range nine miles from Big Spring on the Andrews Highway. David Barr placed second and third-place deadlock between Larry Barrett and Ed Wright was won by Barrett. Charlie Smith of Stanton took fifth. The next match will at 2 p.m. Oct. 20.

Cornhuskers Would Like Chance At Top Position

By The Associated Press. "It was just like 'fullback John Moran crowed after the seventh-ranked Nebraska Cornhuskers flattened Oregon 61-7 Saturday. "I'd like to think we could have a chance to be No. 1 just like Southern Cal did after they beat us in 1972," said Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles after his young Razorbacks shocked Southern Cal 22-7. For those with short memories, Nebraska stomped Oregon 34-7 to start the 1971 campaign and went on to a second consecutive national championship. In the 1972 opener, Southern Cal trimmed Arkansas 31-10 and went on to win national honors. But for the Trojans, No. 5 in the latest Associated Press poll, the first weekend of 1974 was anything but similar to 1972. Oregon boasted eight returning starters from the No. 2 defense in the Pacific 8 Conference last fall, but Nebraska exploded for 333 yards on the ground and 139 more through the air. Dave Humm accounted for all the passing yardage by completing eight of 12. Meanwhile, Nebraska's famed "Black Shirt" defense limited Oregon to 191 yards overall, held the Ducks without a first down until late in the second period and shut them out until the game's final four minutes. "The rest of the Top Ten teams all survived their openers, but for some it was rather hairy. No. 1-ranked Oklahoma needed three touchdowns in the fourth quarter to dispose of Baylor 28-11, third-ranked Alabama stormed to a 14-0 lead and held off No. 14 Maryland 21-16, fourth-ranked Ohio State turned back Minnesota 34-19, No. 6 Michigan defeated Iowa 24-7 without quarterback Dennis Franklin, No. 8 Penn State used a late touchdown to beat Stanford 24-20, No. 9 Louisiana State crushed Colorado 42-14 and 10th-ranked Texas buried Boston College 42-19. Second-ranked Notre Dame opened last Monday night with a 31-1 triumph over Georgia Tech. It was the first time the Trojans' offense had failed to score since 1967. Anthony Davis got their touchdown—and a temporary 7-7 deadlock in the first period—with a 100-yard kickoff return.

Miller Wins In Playoff

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Johnny Miller had just clinched the money-winning title, had reached two plateaus attained only by Jack Nicklaus and was looking for new words to conquer. "I'm basically a lazy person," he said. "I need motivation. I need to keep setting my goals higher." He quickly found the new goal. He's within sight of the all-time, single-season, money-winning record on the pro golf tour. Miller's dramatic sudden death playoff victory over the disappointed Nicklaus, Frank Beard and Bob Murphy, for the World Open title Sunday put the slender blond less than $5,000 away from Nicklaus' all-time record of $320,542 in 1972. Arkansas' defense, led by linebacker Dennis Winston and safety Floyd Hogan, stifled Southern Cal's high-powered offense. Hogan set up 10 points with two interceptions and Winston dogged Davis' footsteps as the flashy tailback was held to 74 yards in 20 carries. Oklahoma needed a 438-yard rushing effort, 156 in 17 carries by Joe Washington, to overcome four lost fumbles and eight penalties against stubborn Baylor. Scoring jaunts of seven and 73 yards by Calvin Culliver gave Alabama its two-touchdown lead over Maryland but the Crimson Tide needed a fake punt and two fourth-period turnovers—a fumbled punt and a deflected interception—to hold off rugged Maryland. Ohio State's Archie Griffin rushed for 133 yards against Minnesota and set a school record of 2,577. Quarterback Cornelius Greene, who ran and passed for 213 yards, sealed the triumph with a 57-yard gallop in the fourth quarter. With Michigan's Franklin out with a virus, untested Mark Elzinga scored one touchdown and passed to Gil Chapman for another.

NFL Openers Push Defense

By The Associated Press. You can grade the National Football League's opening day D for defense. Don't feel too sorry for the Miami Dolphins, 34-24 upset losers to the New England Patriots in their NFL opener Sunday. After all, the defending world champions did score three touchdowns and a field goal, and that's considerable more than some clubs managed on a day of defense-dominated openers. Baltimore was shut out by Pittsburgh 30-0 and Atlanta was blanked by Dallas 24-0. St. Louis managed only one touchdown, but that was enough to whip Philadelphia, which managed only one field goal, 7-3. Four other clubs scored 7 points or less. Cincinnati ripped Cleveland 33-7, Washington tagged the New York Giants 13-0, Chicago topped Detroit 17-9, Los Angeles beat Denver 17-10, Minnesota whipped Green Bay 32-7, Houston d-owned San Diego 21-14, San Francisco shaded New Orleans 17-13 and Kansas City stopped the New York Jets 24-16. The NFL's opening weekend concludes tonight with Buffalo facing Oakland in a nationally televised game. Patriots 34, Dolphins 24. While the defenses ruled other games, Miami's didn't seem ready. Jim Plunkett picked the Dolphins apart for 177 yards and running backs Mack Herron and Sam Cunningham gained 88 and 87 respectively as the Patriots sprung their surprise on the Super Bowl champs. The 34 points were the most allowed by the Dolphins since 1971. New England ran up a 31-10 margin and then held off a late Miami comeback. Larry Csonka scored two TDs for the Dolphins. Cardinals 7, Eagles 3. Jim Hart's four-yard scoring pitch to Donny Anderson produced the game's lone touchdown as St. Louis defeated Philadelphia. Redskins 13, Giants 10. Mike Bass returned an interception for one touchdown and then recovered a fumble to set up another in Washington's victory over the New York Giants. 49ers 17, Saints 13. New Orleans was leading 13-10 with less than two minutes to play but punter Donnie Gibbs fumbled a snap and was swarmed under by five San Francisco defenders, turning the ball over to the 49ers. On the next play, Sammy Johnson went nine yards for the winning touchdown. Steelers 30, Colts 0. Pittsburgh fans were hooting quarterback Joe Gilliam during the first period when the Steelers' new signal caller managed only two completions for 12 yards. But Gilliam erased the boos with two touchdown passes, gaining 257 yards through the air to lead Pittsburgh to its romp over Baltimore.

A's Stretch Gap Over Rangers

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — In what Oakland Manager Alvin Dark said was "the biggest game of the year," the defending world champion A's all but punched the streaking Texas Rangers out of the American League Western Division race Sunday night. A two-run homer by Sal Bando and Rollie Fingers' four and two-thirds innings of three hit relief paced the A's to a 4-1 victory and stretched the gap to five games between them and the surprising Rangers. "That should take the wind out of their sails," said Fingers. "If they had won, it could have been tough with the momentum they've been generating." OAKLAND TEXAS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A pair of rookie pitchers stole the show at Candlestick Park Sunday, giving the sagging San Francisco Giants and the Houston Astros some bright hopes for the future. Mrs. Kirchoff At GOP Parley

Mary Kirchoff, executive committee woman for the 30th District and candidate for the state senate, is due to play a prominent role in the Republican convention in Houston Monday and Tuesday. She also participated in board meeting and committee sessions during pre-convention days.

As a member of the state Republican executive committee, Mrs. Kirchoff met with this group on Monday morning to receive reports of the pre-convention committees and related matters. Additionally, she worked with the state positive action committee which held hearings Monday afternoon.

This evening Mrs. Kirchoff was to attend a reception with a galaxy of national leaders including George Bush, ambassador to China; Mrs. Anne Armstrong, counselor to President Gerald Ford; Sen. John Tower; Congressman Bob Price, and James Granberry, Lubbock, candidate for governor.

Factional Fights Loom As Demo Panel Meets

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A Texas Democratic Convention without factional fights over credentials would be like a circus without a side show. And the convention coming up Tuesday is square with tradition.

The convention's temporary credentials committee spent all day Sunday hearing 17 delegate challenges. It sits down today to talk over which it heard and make its decisions.

Later today, the State Democratic Executive Committee was to receive the committee's report for approval or disapproval. Some fights probably will be taken to the convention floor.

In addition to the usual fights between liberal and conservative elements, backers of the presidential ambitions of Alabama Gov. George Wallace presented several challenges.

The convention will name the Texas delegates to the party's Kansas City, Mo., conference that will meet in December to write a new Democratic charter. Wallace has strongly indicated he wants to influence that endeavor in a conservative direction. In at least one case, which also has gone to court, Wallaceites and liberals from Dallas County's State Senate Dist. No. 8 have made common cause against the conservative Democrat "establishment."

Douglas Larson, lawyer for the Wallace liberal challenge group, asserted that district convention chairman Walter Morgan "made a shambles of rules that govern the Texas Democratic Party."

The man Morgan defeated for the chairmanship, longtime Wallace leader M.E. Bradford, said the chief complaint was Morgan's refusal to take a roll call vote on efforts to give each political faction a pro rata share of the district's delegates to the state convention.

"It was a friendly convention until one side lost and then it became chaos," lamented Dallas County Chairman Manuel DeBusk, head of the challenged delegation.

Liberal leader Billie Carr seemed to be the issue in a Houston challenge mounted by Jack Terry, who was defeated by Mrs. Carr's candidate, Sen. Bob Gamage, for chairman of the 7th Senatorial District Convention. Terry complained that Mrs. Carr's minority on the nominations committee submitted a stacked list of 74 at-large delegates and alternates and not approved by the convention.

Longtime conservative leader George Buch was asked if the decision wasn't really "a Billie Carr versus anti-Billie Carr vote," not a true liberal conservative dispute.

"Yes, that would be a fair assessment," Buch replied. Terry said Mrs. Carr's supporters stacked the delegation. But when asked by Carrin Patman of Ganado how many Carr delegates and alternates were on the list he voted for Terry replied nine out of 74.

"Does the minority report represent 'winners take all' for the Billie Carr people?" asked credentials committee Chairman Robert Smith of Dallas.

"No," said Gamage, as Mrs. Carr's backers shook their heads "no" and Terry's group nodded their heads "yes." Wallaceites asked the committee to give them half of the Nueces County (Corpus Christi) seats or else throw the county completely out of the convention.

They said they were denied the opportunity to display their true strength through a roll call vote. Convention leaders said the pro-Wallace "Grass Roots Democrats" failed to get even the 20 percent necessary to force a roll call.

"The reason the 'Grassroots Democrats' were unable to show their 'true delegate strength' was that their strength was largely fictional," said Leon Loeb of Corpus Christi, parliamentarian of the county convention.

SCURRY BATTLE

Other disputes included: —Scurry (Snyder) County: Enid S. Turner claimed the entire delegation consisted of "Anglo men from the south side—the 'better' side—of Snyder" and left off women, members of minority groups and rural residents. Rep. Renal Rosson of Snyder replied that "everyone who indicated a willingness to go was chosen."

—Jefferson County: Wallace's "Grassroots Democrats" contended they were denied their proportionate share of the delegates and should have gotten seven out of 34 but only got three.

Lecture Series Will Resume

SAN ANTONIO — "When and How to Use a Pacemaker," a one-hour program Thursday, Sept. 26, originating from The University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio, will launch the school's fifth annual series of bi-weekly therapeutics seminars for health professionals.

Doctors and health care workers at Big Spring State Hospital in Big Spring will participate in the discussions every other Thursday at 12:30 p.m. central time through May 1975 by means of a live teleconference hookup with the San Antonio health science center. Local health-care workers are welcome to join others from more than 85 hospitals in Texas and adjoining states in a conference system which is one of the largest of its kind in the country.

The hookup will allow listeners at remote locations to hear speakers, see the slides and participate in question sessions if present at the meetings.

Japan-Kenya Trade Deal

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — An $8-million contract was signed here providing for the export of at least 120,000 tons of Kenyan flour to Japan over the next three years. Japan has become the principal importer of Kenyan flour. The Kenyans have plans to produce more than 200,000 tons of metallurgical and acid grade flour annually.

Q.1—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠75 ♥A3 ♦AK1093 ♣Q642
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1♦ Pass 1♦ Pass

What do you bid now?
A.—One no trump. Even though the hand may play better at a minor suit, it is better to limit the strength of your opening as soon as possible. A two club rebid, which could be made on a much stronger hand, is apt to encourage partner to bid again on inadequate values, with the result that you may get dangerously high.

Q.2—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠Q83 ♥87 ♦KQ107 ♣AQJ2
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1♦ Pass 1♦ Pass

What do you bid now?
A.—Two spades. If you do not raise immediately with three trumps to the queen and a ruffing value, partner is unlikely to expect you to have such fine support for his suit. In addition, a two club rebid normally describes at least 5-4 in the minors, which is an unnecessary misdescription considering the alternative.

Q.3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠75 ♥A3 ♦AK1093 ♣Q642
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1♦ Pass 1NT Pass

What do you bid now?
A.—Two clubs. Since partner would strain to bid a four card major if he held one, and would raise diamonds with adequate support, it is quite likely that, on this auction, he holds four or five clubs. Uncovering the fit might enable us to compete and buy the contract against a possible opposing part score in one of the majors.

Q.4—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠KJ764 ♥A7 ♦84 ♣J953
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1♦ 1♥ 1♣ Pass

What do you bid now?
A.—Pass. It sounds very much as if partner has a six card diamond suit. He would tend to raise spades, with three card support or show a second suit if he had one. Since he didn't make a jump rebid and you are near minimum for your response, there is little point in trying to improve the contract.

Q.5—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠873 ♥K5 ♦J9763 ♣A82
The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
1♦ Pass 1NT Pass
2♦ Pass Pass Dble.

What action do you take?
A.—Bid three diamonds. Do not confuse this auction with a double in the immediate seat, which would be for penalties. Partner wants you to bid—he is trying to prevent the opponents from earning a cheap part score. He did not double at his first turn because his hand either was not strong enough or contained a flaw.

Q.6—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠J87 ♥J862 ♦Q76 ♣843
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1♥ Dble. Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—One spade. The trap is to avoid bidding one no trump, which shows a minimum of 7-8 high card points. Partner has asked you to choose a suit, and since you do not have one, the only alternative is to make the cheapest bid available in a three-card suit. Remember, you are not really bidding a suit of your own—in effect, you are supporting partner.

Q.7—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠K4 ♥Q82 ♠♦10976532
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1NT 2♥ ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Three clubs. This bid is competitive and is not forcing. True, if partner has good values in clubs, three no trump might be the "right" contract, but you should not bid it on your own. Partner still has a bid and with club support and a heart stopper, he might convert to three no trump himself.

Q.8—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠7 ♥QJ964 ♠72 ♦K10852
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
Pass 1♥ 1♦ 2♥ ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Pass. The only justification for a double would be to warn partner not to bid. However, you are unlikely to win friends and impress partner if the opponents proceed to wrap up two hearts doubled, and you certainly do not have enough defensive strength to guarantee that the contract will be defeated. So choose the lesser of evils and pass—after all, opponents have been known to bid in these circumstances.

Plan To Raise Price Of Vending Candy Bars

WASHINGTON (AP) — Manufacturers plan to raise the price of vending machine candy bars to 20 cents because of a strain on the world supply of cocoa and chocolate.

The price increase, on the heels of a jump from 10 to 15 cents with little or no change in candy bar size, reflects the development of a sweet tooth in the rest of the world as active as that in the United States.

World cocoa consumption has been expanding along with increases in population and income, says Rex E. T. Dull of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Foreign Agriculture Service. But unfavorable growing conditions in many major producing countries have brought the 1973 and 1974 world crops below consumption needs, sending cocoa prices to a record high. Dull writes in the current issue of Foreign Agriculture. This 20-cent candy bar is being brought on by record high cocoa bean prices but also by higher costs of other candy bar ingredients such as sugar, nuts and milk, Dull says.

He says manufacturers also are paying more for labor, packaging and transportation. "Normally, in times of high cocoa bean prices, manufacturers have varied bar weights and increased usage of cocoa butter substitutes and extenders, such as coconut and soybean oils, to keep confectionary retail prices stable," Dull says. "But today, these commodities are selling at very high levels." Cocoa bean prices peaked at $1.30 per pound on the New York spot market in early May, more than double the price of a year before. However, the price had adjusted somewhat by the end of August to $1.06.

"Increasing world demand for cocoa in recent years and somewhat disappointing crops in West Africa because of unfavorable weather, have resulted in substantial drawdown in world reserves," Dull says. "Currently, world stocks are estimated to be at very low
