

Ford Claims No Pardon 'Deal'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford says Richard M. Nixon's acceptance of a pardon could be construed as an admission of guilt, but Ford's unyielding defense of the clemency has failed to still criticism of his decision.

Ford also said Monday night there were no secret reasons for the pardon and no secret deals with Nixon.

And he disclosed he is moving to allay concern among Watergate prosecutors about safeguarding Nixon tapes as potential evidence.

declared, "I am absolutely convinced... I made the right decision in an effort, an honest, conscientious effort, to end the (Watergate) divisions and the turmoil in the United States."

Ford maintained that the former president had been "shamed and disgraced" by his resignation.

CIA ACTION

The President also said he had no inside information on Nixon's health at the time of the pardon, and although he was aware of published reports Nixon was ailing, "I was more anxious to heal the nation."

A number of congressional Democrats said they were not satisfied by Ford's defense of the pardon.

"Tonight, I thought there might be some light," said Rep. Jerome Waldie, D-Calif., a member of the House Judiciary Committee that recommended Nixon's impeachment, "but there was none."

Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., of the Judiciary Committee said it would have been better had Ford "pursued the judicial process to show that all are treated equally under the law."

But Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., said "pretty straightforward and will make an impression on a lot of people who didn't agree with the pardon."

Reviewing his decision to pardon the former President, Ford went further than ever before in suggesting Nixon was guilty of impeachable offenses if not criminal misconduct. He said the unanimous Judiciary Committee vote for impeachment was "very persuasive evidence" and at another point declared, in response to a question, "the acceptance of a pardon, I think can be construed by many, if not all, as an admission of guilt."

NO INSIDE INFO

If the pardon question dominated the 30-minute news conference, the topic of CIA intervention in the affairs of other countries seemed certain to stir international controversy.

Asked about CIA action against the since-overthrown Marxist government of Chile, Ford said the United States did act "to help and assist the preservation of opposition newspapers and electronic media and to preserve opposition political parties." He went on:

"I think this is in the best interests of the people of Chile, and certainly in our best interests."

In any case, he said he was "informed — reliably that Communist nations spend vastly more money than we do for the same kind of purposes." And he said, "our government had no involvement whatsoever" in the coup that toppled the Chilean regime.

On other topics, Ford said:

"The United States is not going to have a depression. The overall economy of the United States is strong."

The World At-A-Glance

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — American Indian Movement leaders Dennis Banks and Russell Means have won dismissals in the major test case of the 71-day Wounded Knee occupation, although the federal government may appeal the decision. In a slashing attack on "government misconduct," U.S. District Judge Fred Nichol dismissed the charges against Banks, 42, St. Paul, and Means, 35, Porcupine, S.D., on Monday, ending the eight-month trial. Nichol acted after the Justice Department refused to allow deliberations to continue after one juror suffered a stroke which left her partially paralyzed. Federal court procedure requires the approval of both sides before a jury may continue deliberations with one or more jurors missing.

CENTRALIA, Ill. (AP) — Next time you're about to compare something inexpensive with chicken feed, bite your tongue. Poultry growers say a 100-pound sack of feed now costs $9.50, about double the price two years ago. They also say they have to pay about $2.25 for a pullet which will eat about $9 worth of feed during the 15 months of the chicken's most productive egg-laying period. The chicken will lay about 20 dozen eggs, which will bring the farmer a return of about $10.40, based on prices in Southern Illinois this month. That's for a total investment of $11.25, and the growers point out that that still doesn't figure in pay for the help or repair to the coops.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United Nations General Assembly opens its 29th annual session this afternoon with the admission of three new nations — Bangladesh, Grenada and Guinea-Bissau — increasing the world organization to 138 nations. A record total of 111 items are on the agenda for the three-month session. Many of them are the result of the Arab-Israeli conflict, the energy crisis, the arms race, worldwide inflation and the widening gap between rich and poor nations. President Ford speaks to the assembly on Wednesday, making the first major foreign policy address of his administration.

TORONTO (AP) — American deserters and draft dodgers in Canada say few of their number will accept President Ford's terms of clemency and return to the United States. Military exiles in Sweden also were cool to the offer. "There is a lot of pressure from families, and some have some personal reasons for wanting to return, so it's possible that some will," said Gerry Condon, managing editor of AMEX-Canada, a magazine published by the exiles in Canada. "But it's a bitter pill to swallow... I expect very few people will go back."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles E. Goodell, who tried as a senator to hasten the end of the Vietnam war, has been summoned from political exile to help Vietnam-era outcasts return to American society. Goodell will be chairman of the clemency review board created under President Ford's conditional amnesty program. As an appointed senator from New York, Goodell was a leading Republican critic of war policy during the first two years of Richard M. Nixon's administration.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The department of Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr. from the White House will take him out of the line of political fire at home and place him in a sensitive military-diplomatic post in Europe.

Bush Rules Out GOP 'Disaster'

HOUSTON (AP) — Former Republican party chief George Bush told the GOP state convention today that he does not expect a Republican disaster in the November general elections.

"I think we will do better in the fall elections than has been widely predicted for us," Bush, recently-named envoy to China, said in the keynote speech at the one-day GOP convention opened.

Bush, a former Houston congressman, said that inflation will be the No. 1 issue in November.

"But there is plenty of blame to go around and I think the most will be on the Democratic-controlled Congress," Bush said.

Almost 4,800 delegates opened the convention today with the announced purpose of building a platform for their state candidates to run on in November.

Preconvention activities saw the Republicans battered by controversy over amnesty for Vietnam War resisters and an aborted challenge to state chairman Jack Warren of Tyler.

Delegates from 31 senatorial districts will caucus to elect representatives to write a party platform for the November statewide elections.

U.S. Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., the party's highest elected official in Texas and Jim Granberry of Lubbock, the GOP nominee for governor, worked Saturday to Monday to keep proposed resolutions confined to state issues.

Delegates — mostly from Houston — with 22-per cent has the largest number here — protested. Most said they wanted to pass resolution critical of the election of Nelson Rockefeller as vice president and of amnesty for those who refused to serve in Vietnam.

Monday night, after Ford had announced a conditional amnesty plan, state leaders threw in the towel on that issue.

Murder Warrant Issued

PLANO, Tex. (AP) — A warrant has been issued for the husband of a 34-year-old bakery worker whose highly decomposed body was found along with those of her two teenage stepchildren in their home.

Donald Allison, 30, is being sought by Collin County officials for questioning about the apparent homicides. Collin County Justice of the Peace Jack Cope issued a warrant for Allison's arrest.

Allison's wife, Juanita, and the teenagers, two of the family's four stepchildren, were last seen alive Sunday, Sept. 8.

Good Crowds Show Up For Fair's Opening

Bouyed by a good turnout opening night, the Howard County Fair today swings into high gear with the major special event the Shrine Circus at 8 p.m.

During the early evening, the annual auction sale for the placers in the county 4-H and FFA barrow show will be held in the South unit of the East buildings.

Three big events are coming up Wednesday. One is the Argi-Business barbecue, with already around 500 tickets given out to farmers and ranchers who will be guests of scores of business and professional men.

The other big events are the Optimists Motorcycle Rodeo in the Rodeo Bowl, and the National Sand Washer Pitching Championships, scheduled for the South Building of the East Wing.

There were no firm figures for the initial night, but something more than 1,500 visitors trooped through the new exhibit building given by the Dora Roberts Foundation as well as the existing Fair barns to witness a wide variety of exhibits. The midway of the 20th Century Shows, with its collection of all kinds of rides and booths, drew good traffic.

Officials were anticipating stepped up attendance today, weather permitting. As things turned out, weather was fine Monday, but earlier it had rained and was threatening to near show time.

The fair, said Col. Robert A. Owens, himself a product of the West Texas-New Mexico area, represents a demonstration of hard work and skill which have gone into making of the nation.

"It affords us an opportunity to compete or to show off our skills," he said, reflecting an enterprising, patriotic spirit typical of the Southwest.

J. Arnold Marshall, president-elect and general superintendent, presided over the opening ceremonies, shifted inside because of weather, and preceded by a concert by the Big Spring High School Band. The Webb Color

Washer Pitchers Bid For Crown

From po' boys to bankers, provided either can rake up the $5 entry fee (or 25 washers, depending upon the needs of the National Sand Washer Pitchin' Association) will have a chance Wednesday to demonstrate some plain and fancy washer pitching.

Billed as the First National Championship Sand Washer Pitching Tournament, the event will be held in the arena of the South unit of the East buildings at the Howard County Fair, starting at 7 p.m. Wednesday.

Pitching washers long has been a favorite pastime of country folk, loafers, knife swappers, mule traders, wild-story tellers, whittlers, and tobacco chewers.

M. A. Snell, self-appointed chairman, said that the event was being held indoors as a concession to the ecological welfare of the arena, namely not starting a man-made sandstorm.

Another concession — women can compete.

One of the feature matches will pit Arnold Marshall, Fair general superintendent, against Col. Robert Owens, Webb AFB wing commander. Marshall chickened out when he learned harassment and insults can be hurled from the spectators, but Snell got the tournament board to pay Marshall's entry fee just for the privilege of getting to insult him.

Prizes include $50, $25 and $10 to the champion, or up to $500 a year for date, depending on the rate of inflation.

Snell said there were rumors of "ringers" coming from Sand Springs, also Big Sandy, Sand Point, Alaska, and Sandy Spring, Ga. and Picher, Okla.

Washers must be pitched underhanded, and no sidarm English is allowed. Tobacco chewers are discouraged, but if they have to take a chew, they must aim the amber away from holes. Yelling is permitted when a ringer is hit, and naturally only points (5) are given for holes. First player with 25 points wins. Regulation distance is eight paces between holes, depending on stride of the officials. Registrations are due by mid-afternoon Wednesday, but Snell might fudge and take a few more to pitching time.

Pity the poor expert! On occasion only he will go down in a contract that is a virtual certainty. Consider this hand, where East produced a brilliant falsecard to lure declarer to his destruction.

North had slam in mind the moment his partner opened the bidding. He jumped to 5NT, gave preference to 6♦, and then, over his partner's no trump sign-off, he cue bid the ace of clubs. Since all of South's points were in top controls, he accepted his partner's slam invitation by cue bidding his second round club control. North's bid of five no trump was the Grand Slam Force, asking partner to go on to seven with two of the three top trump honors (spades in this case). South could not oblige.

West led the jack of clubs. Dummy's queen won and declarer was delighted with his prospects. Only a 4-1 trump break could place his contract in jeopardy, and to guard against this possibility, declarer cashed dummy's king of spades. Had West followed with the nine or an honor, declarer intended running the ten of trumps through East.

However, he had to reconsider his strategy when East casually dropped the queen of spades under the king! If he continued with a trump to the ace and East showed out, declarer would have to lose two trump tricks. To prevent West from scoring two trump tricks with his presumed J 9 3 of trumps, declarer crossed to his hand with the jack of diamonds and led a low trump towards the ten.

If West indeed held all the remaining trumps, this would have limited him to one trump trick, and would have earned declarer accolades for his thoughtfulness. Unfortunately, West won the jack of trumps and recovered sufficiently from his surprise to lead a second club. East's ruff completed a well deserved one-trick set.

District Judge Ralph W. Caton granted Grady Rhone, charged with carrying a prohibited weapon on licensed premises and murder, first continuances Monday, about one year after the incident.

Rhone is charged with the shooting of Danny Wilcox in Lou's Cafe, 1012 W. 3rd St., on Sept. 12, 1972.

His attorney, George Thomas, claimed poor health prevented him representing the defendant in a contested trial "until probably after December 1st, 1974."

We Have Violets

Big Spring is either the Afghan capitol of the world or the African violet capitol of the world.

If you don't believe it, drop out to the Howard County Fair.

The exhibits are numerous and the crowd was large on opening night, in spite of dripping skies.

Both the senior citizens and the Home Demonstration Clubs have lots of exhibits of handmade goods.

Distinctly tops in number and perhaps in quality is the largest selection of afghans made by local and area residents.

Every color in the rainbow and every combination is used in the colorful display. There is even one that resembles the American flag.

Over in the garden club exhibit, pot plants of every kind and many cut flowers are on display, but by far the most numerous are rows and rows and rows of almost every variety of African violet.

People poured by these exhibits and out back to where young 4-H clubbers were grooming their barrows for the judging today and on over into the carnival grounds.

Today's fair, includes two performances of the Shrine circus, with one matinee and one evening performance.

Cycle Rodeo Is Wednesday
Admission to the motorcycle rodeo at the Howard County Fair Wednesday is 50 cents, unless you ride a motorcycle as part of the grand entry. Then, entrance is free.

Hi-Noon Optimists are sponsoring the rodeo, which features wheelies, jumping for distance, girls' pole bending, team tag and goat sacking competition.

But proceeds will go to the Howard County Fair for the rodeo set for 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Persons interested in competing should contact a motorcycle shop. Show director is Bill Tune.

Honors Presented To 11 At Webb

Webb AFB recognized 11 men this week for outstanding accomplishments recently. Four received medals and others certificates.

Capt. Richard B. Risk, Jr., chief of the Information Division, received the Joint Service Commendation Medal. He distinguished himself by meritorious service as Chief, Plans and Projects Branch, Public Affairs Division, Headquarters, Alaskan Command from June 22, 1971 through June 24, 1974. His efforts during ALCOM's 25th Anniversary observance earned the command two public relations awards.

Chaplain (Capt) Theodore R. Chumley, Jr., received the Meritorious Service Medal for outstanding service while chaplain with the 628th Combat Support Group in Thailand from Aug. 4, 1973, to Aug. 3, 1974. He contributed to the morale and spiritual quality of the community life through his skills and strong personal empathy for people.

Capt. Millard D. Stafford, Jr., received the Meritorious Service Medal for outstanding service as a security police inspector of the Inspector General with Headquarters USAF in Europe from Jan. 1, 1972, to Aug. 6, 1974. His initiative resulted in significant improvements in the defense posture of NATO Strike Forces and in security of the USAF resources.

Ted Mulls Personal Factors

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy says his decision whether to run for President in 1976 depends largely on personal considerations.

Kennedy disclosed in weekend interviews that he has studied the political situation and concluded: "I think I've got a good chance to win the nomination and a reasonable chance to win the election."

He did not talk about the personal factors that will go into his decision. But they presumably would include the concern that members of his family have expressed for his safety should he embark on a presidential campaign.

The Massachusetts senator had been thinking of a target date of sometime in 1975 to announce his decision.

Texas is full of surprises. Like coal.

In certain areas of Texas there are sizeable deposits of a soft coal called lignite.

Several years ago Texas Electric, along with two other companies, began acquiring rights to some of this lignite because we saw that new supplies of natural gas and oil, our basic fuels, could become increasingly expensive and difficult to obtain.

Today, Texas Electric is using this lignite to generate electricity in our Big Brown plant near Fairfield. Two more lignite plants are under construction.

Using this lignite will help reduce our dependence on natural gas and oil. And one other advantage of using lignite for the generation of electricity is that it isn't being used extensively any other way.

But plants that use lignite cost a lot more than gas/oil plants.

While this means electricity will have to cost more in the future, the cost won't be as much with lignite as it would be with natural gas and oil, even if we could get adequate new supplies.

At Texas Electric, we're continuing the orderly development of our power system so that you'll continue having the electricity you need.

A spokesman for the Texas Children's Hospital said the physical condition of three-year old Tran Thi Het, who arrived Sunday from Honolulu, would have to be built up before tests could start. "She has a congenital heart defect, as yet not fully determined," the spokesman said. "She may be too fragile to undergo tests right now." The child was forced to stop off at a Honolulu hospital because her condition worsened on the flight from Saigon to Houston.

Tech Students Launch Month-Long Training

By TROY BRYANT
The first group of medical students from the Texas Tech University School of Medicine began their month-long training in the Big Spring Veteran's Administration Hospital, a first for the hospital, the school and for the students. Betty Johansen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Johansen, Big Spring; James McNally, Lubbock; and William A. Coe, San Angelo, are undergoing training in the hospital under the direction of Dr. Jack Margolis, Chief of Medical Services, and Assistant Professor of Medicine at Texas Tech School of Medicine. The students will be able to see patients, examine and workup patients, under the supervision of staff doctors. The three students are four year students and will graduate from the school in June, the first class to take all four years at the Texas Tech facility. After their month of training, another trio of students will be sent here and so on each month until the entire senior class of 40 have undergone training here. The students have had some training in private hospitals, but do not have the extensive training that is available at the government hospital here. The students live, eat and sleep at the hospital and are on call at all times. Betty Johansen is a graduate of Big Spring High School and Austin College and has attended Howard County College. She intends to specialize in family practice or pediatrics when she completes her training. Mr. McNally, a graduate of Dartmouth College in Hanover, N.H. and plans to specialize in surgery, neurology, or emergency medicine when he completes his training. Mr. Coe, is a graduate of Angelo State University and plans to study internal medicine, emergency medicine and radiology. The students will undergo practical training in the X-ray, dental, cardiology, dermatology, eye, ear, nose, throat, and several other areas of internal medicine.

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe promised Texas Democrats today there would be no "railroading" of the State Democratic Convention, although he apparently holds the upper hand. "This year, we shall again conduct a fair and an open convention," Briscoe told the crowded Austin Municipal Auditorium as keynote speaker. Briscoe's supporters claim 60 to 65 per cent of the 5,447 convention delegates. The first test vote was set on one of the 18 challenges to county delegations, most of which were rejected Monday by the State Democratic Executive Committee.

TEST OF POWER
Mrs. Billie Carr, liberal Democrat leader, said the roll call test of power likely would be on the challenge made by Jefferson County (Beaumont) women, who want to replace 29 male delegates with 29 women. "The truth is that the Democratic party of Texas is not divided," Briscoe said in his prepared speech. "We are an open party, committed to a free discussion of the issues. And no matter how far apart we may be on individual issues, six years of a Republican national administration, culminated by the most serious economic crisis this country has faced since the great Hoover depression, demands that we unite in conscience and dedicate ourselves to electing every Democratic candidate on the ballot, from the courthouse to Congress."

UNITY
Briscoe said we have "more to unite us than we have to divide us. For serving people through government, not a chessboard for manipulating people for political gain." Bentsen said. All the delegates arriving at the cavernous, dome-shaped auditorium were not in the best of moods. Many had been up late Monday night for the 61 senatorial district caucuses and others had found diversions of their own, including the $25-a-person cocktail buffet affair thrown as a fund raiser by the State Democratic Executive Committee in a downtown Austin hotel. Some delegates traveled to the convention hall today from

PASSIONS
Bentsen said political conventions always arouse political passions and disagreements "but surely we have seen what vicious partisanship can do to the soul of a political party. I don't want to spoil anyone's fun, but I do suggest that all of us keep our mind on the real game and remember that a political party exists for only one purpose—and that is to provide a framework as far away as Salado, 60 miles north of Austin, to New Braunfels and even San Antonio, 80 miles south of Austin. Party officials said that was as close as they could find housing facilities for the delegates. The convention schedule called for welcoming formalities, final arguments over the roll of delegates, which sparked 18 delegation contests, and then the keynote speech by the governor. After that came the tedious task of recessing the main convention while 31 senatorial district caucuses were held on the floor of the auditorium and made their recommendations.

Shopping Center Fire Is Started By Youth

A 15-year-old youth admitted to city juvenile authorities here today that he had set a fire Monday at the east end of the Highland Shopping Center, according to Lt. Jim McCain. A woman sitting in her car in the parking lot, said she watched the youth start the blaze, which was quickly spreading to the roof of the center. The boy was reported calmly walking inside among the crowd on the mall. The woman got out of her car and went inside and confronted the youth with the question, "Why did you set that fire?" At this point, the 15-year-old bolted and ran. The witness furnished the police with a complete description. The youth has been questioned earlier in connection with several grass fires and at least one other fire in the city.

The crash occurred about 12 miles northeast of the Lovelace ranch, which is 15 miles south of Corona.

The Hard Realities

The euphoria surrounding the initial mini-summit on the nation's economy has somewhat subsided in the wake of reaction to President Ford's pardon of former President Nixon, and to the political realities of life.

As the parley turned out, a number of those speaking talked about programs geared to maintaining a favorable political stance. This included suggested programs to make jobs for unemployed on the one hand, and possible tax cuts for middle wage earners on the other hand. There were even suggestions of price controls for monopoly industry.

None of this sounds too much like the President's call for "will power and individual sacrifice."

Industry contends that its rising prices are due in a measure to labor's rising demands; yet labor contends that its real income has sagged by five per cent during the past year on a trend that would mean a seven per cent reduction in buying power this year. Labor contends new demands are being forced by rising prices; business says the reverse is true.

Tight money proposals (higher interest to reduce borrowing) are met in some quarters with demands also for wage and price controls.

Despite the optimism of bringing all facets of the economy together for frank and free exchange of ideas, there remains the hard reality of each group willing for others to make the sacrifice. And caught in the middle of all of this is Mr. Ford, and to an equal degree, the nation's economy which is spluttering between acceleration and deceleration. The change in command may have had its honeymoon period, but not the economy.

Make Haste Slowly

The forecast recently by the legislative budget board is that the state's revenues at the end of the fiscal year (Aug. 31, 1975) will exceed expenditures by $1.5 billion.

This brings on a clamor for reduction of the state sales tax. Gov. Briscoe had suggested the tax on utility bills be removed (estimated at $80 million a year).

From two unlikely quarters from labor, and from Jim Granberry, Gov. Briscoe's opponent for governor — have come suggestions for lapping off a penny (estimated at $279 million).

Haste on this should be made slowly, but some $600 million of the estimated surplus is in dedicated funds, leaving only $900 million to apply elsewhere. There is good reason to believe that education will require all of this or more.

And finally, the surplus figures come from the Legislative Budget Board, not from the state comptroller, who has yet to confirm this rosy figure.

Facing Death

Around The Rim

Jo Bright

Sooner or later, we all live through someone else's dying.

THOUGH WE MAY not think so (or even wish it at the time) we survive the devastation, desperation and futile anger of losing someone we love.

We can't turn away; time is too precious. We can't look away; we want something more to remember. So we weep, in the darkest part of the night, in lonely hospital halls.

People seldom speak openly of death.

ILENE CARRINGTON OF the Texas A&M University System is one who does.

"People keep their feelings about death and dying to themselves because of fear, uncertainty and a feeling of helplessness," she said, pointing out that even when a family member or close friend is critically ill, there is often an attempt to keep the news from the patient.

"Most critically ill patients know they are dying by the change in attitude and actions of those around them. The family avoids discussion of death in an attempt to protect the individual. The patient may not have an opportunity to express feelings or to grieve for what he is losing. At a time when he has a tremendous need to be loved and wanted, he may be excluded by his loved ones in their own grief and desire to spare him from knowing he's dying."

BUT FAMILIES need to learn to listen to the patient. The person needs to know he is still important and loved as he is. No matter how we try, we can never completely understand how the dying person really feels or what he's experiencing. But a study of patient reactions does provide some insight as to how the dying feel, and can help prepare families for this event.

The dying person's first reaction is one of shock and denial. As he realizes the truth, he may express anger, resentment or bitterness, and the anger may be directed at those closest to him. There may be angry outbursts, but families must not withdraw, for their support and presence is desperately needed.

ANOTHER STAGE is a bargaining period. The patient refuses to accept his illness and seeks to postpone his death. Most "bargains" are silently made and kept secret, but listening to the person is important during this time, for often, they are the result of guilt or regrets for past failure or neglect.

There is a time when the dying person may become more depressed and withdrawn, fearing the unknown or grieving for the loss of health, independence and separation from family. He realizes he'll soon suffer greater losses.

He needs to grieve, and know he is cared for by those he loves.

FINALLY, MOST patients accept their impending deaths, if they are able to work through the other stages. There may be an extreme narrowing of interests and friends as the quiet presence of a few becomes sufficient. This is when the family needs the support of friends and one another.

This is when love is all there is — and all there ever was.

Haldeman Fund

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON—A confidential letter seeking to build a half-million dollar legal defense fund for H. R. Haldeman describes the White House chief of staff under Richard Nixon together with "Most of his associates" as "American patriots."

THE LETTER, dated Aug. 8, was signed by Z. Wayne Griffin, a Los Angeles Businessman philanthropist and an intimate friend of Haldeman, Haldeman's family and California Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The date appears significant. It was on Aug. 8 that Nixon resigned from the presidency—ending all prospect that Haldeman and other Watergate defendants might obtain a pardon from the former President.

"THERE IS LITTLE doubt," Griffin wrote a highly selective list of possible contributors, "that history will reveal Bob and most of his associates as dedicated young American patriots victimized by a massive twist of political persecution. History will applaud them. It is our privilege to recognize and help them today—now."

Griffin estimated Haldeman's legal fees would "exceed $350,000—possibly considerably more," Haldeman, he said, is now spending all the time he can "writing a book on his Nixon years." Future income from the sale of the book, he said, "is highly speculative and, in any event, would be far in the future."

TRUSTEE OF THE Haldeman legal defense fund is the Crocker National Bank. Griffin was unavailable for a report on how well the fund may be doing after five weeks.

A postscript: It was only hours prior to the Aug. 8 date of Griffin's letter that John Ehrlichman, Nixon's No. 2 White House aide, telephoned the former President's personal secretary, Rose Mary Woods, seeking her intervention with Nixon for an Ehrlichman pardon. The appeal got nowhere.

SPECIAL PROSECUTOR Leon Jaworski got sandbagged when President Ford told his congressional leaders last Wednesday that Jaworski's Sept. 4 letter to White House counsel Philip Buchen would put the Nixon pardon in a more favorable light—if only the President could release all of it.

Soon after, Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, the Senate Republican leader, was implying to reporters that the real explanation of Mr. Ford's politically damaging pardon of the former President could be found in a "secret" letter from Jaworski. In fact, there never was a "secret" letter—or any other communication from Jaworski—aside from his letter to Buchen and the list of 10 areas of possible Nixon misconduct "under investigation" in the prosecutor's office.

THE PRESIDENT'S words, perhaps erroneously, were interpreted by the Republican leaders as new ammunition to explain the pardon at Jaworski's expense and ease his own political situation. Although Buchen did in fact read only part of Jaworski's letter in his press briefing last Sunday, at the start of the pardon firestorm, Jaworski never stamped a single line of his letter secret.

Watergate prosecutors are furious at this apparent attempt by the White House to put the pardon onus on Jaworski.

ALTHOUGH PRESIDENT FORD does not want a single chief of staff in his White House, he may ask former Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania to fill that role temporarily, when retired Gen. Alexander Haig resigns in the next few days.

Scranton has said repeatedly he will not take a White House job. He has been a key member of President Ford's transition staff, but agreed to assume that post only on a strictly temporary basis.

More On CIA

William F. Buckley, Jr.

The word is out that Ambassador Daniel Patrick Moynihan has expressed in a secret cable the dismay with which he meets the news that the CIA attempted to "interfere" with the election of Allende. Mr. Moynihan is a man of great principle, and he is especially embarrassed because he personally reassured Mrs. Gandhi that the United States was not interfering with Chilean politics. A State Department official, while not conceding that we have done anything improper in Chile, acknowledged that Mr. Moynihan was indignant, but then remarked that "Pat is always indignant." He has a lot to be indignant about.

THE CIA-CHILE controversy is hugely subtle and interesting. Last year Mr. Moynihan persuaded the United States to tear up several billion dollars in notes owned by India to the United States. Now India is a terribly mismanaged country, and the poverty there appalling. There are Indians (I know one, a very prominent Indian) who believe that U.S. aid to the governments of India during the post-war period was arrant interference in Indian politics. We took the position that we were merely performing humanitarian deeds.

I do not doubt that was our motive. And I do not doubt that was our motive in attempting to help the resistors to Allende. Moreover, if we had succeeded, Chile would have been spared the miserable, dirty, despotic tribulations it is enduring at this moment. That doesn't, of course, dispose of the point that State Department officials apparently misled Congressional committees. Put that aside, for the moment, as a democratic dilemma.

IT IS A pity that critics of CIA involvement in Cuba do not put the situation in context. It is made to appear as though we uniquely desired to fashion the will of the Chilean people. In the year before Allende came to power:

- 1) Soviet and East European films were shown regularly in commercial theaters, universities, clubs, and on television — paid for by the Soviets.
- 2) The Soviet Union published a picture magazine edited for Chilean consumption, with a circulation of 10,000. (In U.S. terms, that would be the equivalent of 200,000.)
- 3) The Communist party of Chile, under Soviet domination, produced a bimonthly theoretical journal and a daily newspaper.
- 4) THE SOVIET Union, Cuba, Czechoslovakia and Poland participated in trade fairs including cultural and technical exhibits, including one exhibit of over 500 Marxist books contributed by the U.S.S.R. One exhibit was devoted to "Yankee aggression in Vietnam."
- 5) Communist news agencies included China, Cuba, East Germany, Tass, and Novosti.
- 6) The U.S.S.R. broadcasts 73 hours per week in Latin America. East European countries 84 hours. Communist China 28 hours. And Cuba 163 hours.
- 7) Soviet officials made available program tapes to provincial radio stations. One station carried a weekly program produced by Chilean students at Lumumba University. The Communist party conducted regular programs on a Santiago station and on six provincial stations.

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — When President Ford pardoned Richard Nixon he said in his speech, "I do believe the buck stops here and that I cannot rely on public opinion polls to tell me what is right. I do believe that right makes might, and that if I am wrong 10 angels swearing I was right would make no difference."

GABRIEL CAME on the Cloud 9 drill field, blew his horn, and all the angels lined up in close order formation at attention.

"All right," he barked, "I want 10 volunteers front and center."

No one moved.

"Aw, c'mon guys. This is a very important mission. It's going to bring you down to earth."

STILL NO one stepped forward. Gabriel was becoming angry. "If no one volunteers, I'm going to pick 10 of you willy-nilly from the group."

"What do we have to do?" one of the angels in the back row asked.

"I want 10 angels to go down to Washington, D.C."

"You must be crazy, Gabriel. An angel can get killed there. What's the mission?"

"WE WANT 10 of you to go to the White House and swear that Gerry Ford did the right thing when he pardoned former President Nixon," Gabriel replied.

Ten Angels

"Are you out of your blinkin' mind?" an angel cried.

Gabriel said, "Mr. Ford needs all the support he can get. This pardon thing has him in a box, and if he could get 10 angels to support him it might turn the country around."

AN ANGEL said, "Anyone that gets involved in that can of beans has to be bonkers."

Gabriel protested, "But we have to show mercy. That's our job."

SOMEONE SAID, "Gabriel, there's a long distance call for you."

"I'll do it," a deep voice said on the phone.

Gabriel went white. "I'm sorry, Lucifer. I don't think you'd be right for this mission. But I appreciate your volunteering."

Use Most Energy

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (AP) — Energy saved by millions of U.S. families represents a drop in the bucket, according to Thomas P. O'Boyle, president of Ecodyne Corp.

O'Boyle said, to business and trade editors attending an Energy Resources Roundtable here, that the solution to the energy crisis is up to industries and utilities. He said these two major consumers of energy must expand existing technology.

John Cunniff

Hungry Monsters?

NEW YORK (AP) — Seldom do the nation's power utilities elicit much sympathy from the public. Aren't they the money-hungry monsters you feel are always raising rates? Aren't they the polluters of air and water?

Experience indicates that the utilities never have been able to deal effectively with those criticisms, one of the reasons being that the public isn't inclined to be patient with big, profitable, comfortable corporations.

Those attributes, however, once endeared the utilities to the financial community. Yes, they were profitable, and they had an assured market, and they paid regular dividends. That made them prime investments.

But now, to their distress, the utilities are losing their financial friends. And, with almost nowhere to turn, they may seek to make friends with the federal government in Washington.

The difficulties have more than one origin. Some critics blame the ecologists who delayed plant construction. Others criticize the regulators. Some point to complacent management. The rise in the cost of oil is part of the problem. So is the rise in borrowing costs.

When all these factors were either nonexistent or considerably smaller, shares of utilities were among the bluest of the blue chips. They were the finest offerings in the financial community. They attracted big investors.

Institutions such as mutual and pension funds liked them.

Why A Myelogram?

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I would like to know how a person is given a myelogram. Are X-rays taken at the time? Who else besides the doctor sees the myelogram? Is a permanent copy kept at the hospital?

Are all the spinal fluids drawn out of a person's body in a myelogram? For how long after it should a person not get up?

I had a whiplash and am being told a myelogram is the only way to determine if I have a ruptured disc. Is there no other way?—E.S.

You've evidently been given some scary ideas about a myelogram. A small amount of spinal fluid is withdrawn—only enough to make room for an equivalent amount of material which is then injected into the spinal canal.

This opaque material makes the spinal canal visible on the X-rays which are taken promptly. This will disclose any encroachment on the spinal cord, whether from a ruptured disc, tumor, or other defect in the spine. Yes, it is the only way to determine such conditions — although of course they may be suspected from other symptoms.

The X-ray films will be read by the physician who is treating you and also be an X-ray specialist. The films then will be kept as a permanent record by the X-ray department.

After the procedure is finished, you will rest for several hours; you will be told when to be up and about.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I would like you to explain angina pectoris. My doctor has me place a nitroglycerine tablet under my tongue for the chest pain. Also I am taking medication for high blood pressure. (It is 180-90.) I am 64 and a longtime reader of your column.—Mrs. J.R.

As a longtime reader you must know how many times I have written about angina, which is a fairly frequent problem. Or maybe you didn't have it then.

But anyway, I've put the discussions together into booklet form which explains what angina is, what to do about, how nitroglycerine helps, and so on. I suggest sending 25 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to me in care of The Big Spring Herald and asking for the booklet, "How to Handle Angina Pectoris."

Arthritis sufferers can be helped. Dr. Thosteson's booklet discusses many types of arthritis and related joint diseases as well as effective treatments and medications. For a copy of "How You Can Control Arthritis," write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents.

My Answer

Everybody says that God loves the poor and asks us to help them. To me it seems that the rich get richer and the poor get poorer. Even though the poor try they never seem to get anywhere. Why doesn't God help them?

The best answer you could have would be to read the 37th and 73rd Psalms. Both of these discuss the problem you mention, and the further inequity caused when the rich are the ungodly.

These and other Biblical writings, however, reassure us that in every case, retribution will overtake the ungodly man at the end of the age, and that present appearances don't determine future destiny. The Bible impresses upon the believer that the condition of the righteous, even when they are poor and suffer, is far preferable to that of the wicked, whatever prosperity they enjoy.

Actually, the poor have great prominence in the Bible. In fact, the very foundation of the Hebrew faith was God's pity on a poor and oppressed people. In the Old Testament regulations, many special provisions were given for the poor. Deuteronomy 15:1, for example, prescribed that every seventh year, there should be a release of all debts. When Jesus announced His own mission on earth, (Luke 4:18), He said it was to preach "good tidings to the poor."

You can be sure that God is not standing idly by, but through His Spirit, is active in our world to trigger every good work man will permit, the main one being the new life of faith in Christ. To equalize wealth as you suggest, would violate the free will of man and might create more problems than it solves.

A Devotion For Today . . .

Constitution Is Program Topic

Members of the Permian Basin Medical Society saw a film on a new constitution for Texas and heard a report from the recent state convention when they met Thursday at the BSSH Staff Development Center.

Mrs. Preston Harrison, Mrs. Robert Tinley and Mrs. A. Chapman Isham were hostesses for the affair.

Mrs. Floyd Mays, program director, showed the film, an interesting and informative study of the steps and procedures taken in drafting the new constitution. After the filming, Mrs. Mays headed a discussion and gave several main issues that led to the defeat of the ratification of the constitution.

The auxiliary will sponsor a scholarship for a student in the Licensed Vocational Nurse program at Howard College.

Mrs. Clyde Thomas who represented the auxiliary at the state meeting in Austin recently, informed the club that the Permian Basin area auxiliaries won, in Group Three, first place in disaster preparedness and mental illness. In the same group second place was won in doctor's day, public affairs and senior citizens.

Guild Hears Perkins Reunion

Mrs. Marj Carpenter was guest speaker for St. Mary's Guild of St. Mary's Episcopal Church at the Monday meeting in the parish hall.

Mrs. Pete Rhymes brought the devotional thoughts.

Announcement was made that election of officers will be held at the business meeting at 7 p.m., Oct. 13. A report was made on the functioning of the Bargain Box.

Mrs. Rhymes introduced the speaker, a member of The Herald staff, who spoke on "Keeping the Affairs of the Spirit in Order." She related through news experiences that life is uncertain. She urged that our central life theme be that "We love the Lord and each other."

The Rev. Steve Birdwell offered the closing prayer.

For the first time in all years, Mr. and Mrs. Noah Perkins, 1602 E. 6th, have all three of their sons home at the same time.

Here for a visit are Mr. and Mrs. Elton Perkins, Baltimore, Md., and Mr. and Mrs. William Perkins, Morrisonville, N.Y. The Dwight Perkinses and their children, Dani, Norma Sue and Jayden, make their home here.

Also visiting with the family is Adolf Reuss, Bad Kissingen, Germany, who is the father of Mrs. Elton Perkins.

Band Boosters

Band Boosters will meet 7:30 p.m. tonight in the Goliad band hall.

Genealogy Group Hears Steagald

"Basic Genealogy" was the program topic for the Thursday meeting of the Genealogical Society of the Big Spring in the conference room at the Howard County Library.

Bill Steagald, president, was the speaker and told the society that it is not necessary to go long distances to trace one's ancestry with the facilities available in Big Spring. Having found ancestors in the Revolutionary period, Steagald worked up to the present in accumulating his genealogy.

With insufficient time to prepare a display for the 1974 Howard County Fair, a committee composed of Mrs.

Dale Smith, Miss Bernice Cason and Mrs. Bill Earley will prepare for the 1975 fair. Announcement was made of the workshop in Midland at 7 p.m. on Sept. 20.

Four new members were installed by Mrs. Bob Wren at the recent meeting of the Center Point HD Club at the Kentwood Center. Mrs. B. N. Burroughs was hostess.

New members are Mrs. M. K. Britton, Mrs. Ruby Rutledge, Mrs. Redica Kerboom and Mrs. R. A. Kerwedyk.

Yearbooks were distributed and the membership roster was revised to 31 members.

Announcement was made of the 2 p.m. meeting Sept. 25 at the Texas Electric Reddy Room of all HD Council committees who will amend and adopt rules and recommendations.

On Oct. 8 Dana Feaster, home economist for TESCO, will give a microwave oven demonstration for the club members and their guests.

Mrs. Kerwedyk won the door prize.

Next meeting will be 2 p.m., Sept. 24 with Mrs. C. K. Orr, 2906 Mac Auslin.

Mother Honored

Mrs. Gene Crenshaw was honored on her 80th birthday recently at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Earl Wilson, 2304 Roberts Dr.

The open-house affair was attended by 46 children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Hostesses with Mrs. Wilson were her sisters, Mrs. Tom McAdams, Lewisville, Mrs. Jay Francis, Midland, and Mrs. B. J. Shepard. They were assisted by Mrs. Crenshaw's sister, Mrs. Dee Foster.

The refreshment table was covered with a red cloth and centered with an arrangement of red and white carnations. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

Here for the party were the families of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy McAdams, Haskell; Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Rimes, Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. Steve Brooks, Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. Max Anthony, Roscoe; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Renaugh, Pasadena, Tx.; Mr. and Mrs. Bill MacKenzie, Dallas; and Mr. and Mrs. Don Chapman, Odessa.

Approximately 150 friends and relatives called during the tea hours.

No Announcement Of Wedding Gifts

DEAR ABBY: I was recently married. At the reception, my uncle handed me an envelope. I had no idea it was a check, but I put it in my pocket without looking at it. (There were over 300 people at the reception, and I was busy accepting congratulations.)

Before we started for our honeymoon I opened the envelope and found a handsome check with a four-paged letter of advice on how to stay happily married (this uncle and his wife had been married for 34 years).

On our honeymoon, my wife and I composed what we thought was a very nice letter of thanks, and mailed it to my uncle and aunt.

When we returned home, we found a very angry letter from my uncle ripping me up one side and down the other for not having the "good manners" to have opened the envelope at the reception, announcing his gift and reading his letter. I was shocked!

Abby, had I opened the envelope at the reception, I wouldn't have made such an announcement.

Was I in error? If so, I will apologize.

BEWILDERED NEPHEW
DEAR NEPH: It would have been improper for you to have announced your uncle's gift at the reception and an imposition on your guests. Your "apology" is quite unnecessary; but your publicity-seeking uncle owes you one.

DEAR ABBY: Ours was an office romance. Mert was an accounting and I was a secretary to the president. Maybe opposites do attract, because I'm the vivacious, outgoing, gabby type, and Mert is quiet and more introverted. I had never met a kinder, more thoughtful man.

After three years of marriage, we're having a planned baby in five months. I'm 28 and Mert is 30. Now the problem:

I plan to take a six-month leave from work to have the baby and to return to work when the baby is three months old. Mert is going to quit his job and stay home to keep house and care for our child. He has a fantastic way with children. I don't. Mert loves cooking and housekeeping. I hate it. Mert finds office work dull and

Beta Omicrons Achieve Rating

Beta Omicron Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, has been notified of having reached a three-star rating according to an announcement made at the recent meeting in the home of Mrs. Barbara Bowen.

Plans were made to sponsor a puppet show planned by Beta Sigma Phi City Council in the near future. Vacation gift boxes were auctioned to members as a means of fund raising for the chapter. A successful garage sale was held and the chapter plans to supply a YMCA membership for a child and a basket for a needy family.

WITHOUT THE JUICE Bills Buffalo Oakland 21-20

BUFFALO (AP) — "I know it's hard to say it's good to get hurt but..." O.J. Simpson never finished the sentence. He was busy rubbing his heavily taped right ankle sprained on a 20-yard run.

But his "but" was an awfully big one.

Without Simpson, the National Football League's leading ground gainer and most valuable player last year, the Buffalo Bills were forced to go to the air Monday evening.

Quarterback Joe Ferguson, last in NFL passing a year ago, responded with a pair of touchdowns in the final two minutes that carried the Bills to a 21-20 victory over the Oakland Raiders in his team's season-opener.

Both passes, one for nine yards and the other for 13, went to wide receiver Ahmad Rashad, acquired by the Bills in a trade with St. Louis for quarterback Dennis Shaw.

"So many people think it's all me, even some of the players might have thought that," said Simpson, who rushed for a record 2,003 yards last season.

Simpson was hurt with 56 seconds remaining in the second period. By that time he had gained 78 yards in 12 carries.

The team physician diagnosed the sprain as "slight to moderate," but gave no indication whether Simpson would be ready for the Miami Dolphins here Sunday.

Buffalo shot into a 7-0 lead on Ferguson's four-yard toss to J.D. Hill. Aging George Blanda put Oakland on the scoreboard with a 47-yard field goal at 13:49 in the period.

In the third period, left-handed quarterback Ken Stabler directed the Raiders from their 42 to Buffalo's 16 and Clarence Davis raced around left end for a touchdown. Blanda followed with a 41-yard field goal about seven minutes later. The drama was saved for the last quarter, however.

Oakland's Don Conners halted a Buffalo drive at the Raiders' one, nailing Simpson's replacement Gary Hayman and sending him out with a sprained right ankle.

Marv Hubbard's fumble set the stage for Rashad's first TD with 1:56 left and Buffalo went ahead, 14-13.

Forty-four seconds later, Buffalo got the ball back but Jim Braxton fumbled. Defensive tackle Art Thoms, a 260-pounder, grabbed the ball and raced 29 yards for a touchdown to put the Raiders in front 20-14. Following the kickoff, Buffalo was on its own 28. Ferguson completed three passes, Oakland picked up two of its 10 game penalties and the Bills were on the Raiders' 13.

One more pass to Rashad and John Leybold's conversion and Buffalo forged ahead 21-20.

Oakland then marched into Buffalo territory and with six seconds left, Blanda tried a 50-yard field goal. It sailed wide.

Following Simpson's injury, the Raiders made no change in their game plan, Coach John Madden said.

"We had to play our own game," said Madden. "The Bills are more than O.J. Simpson. As great as O.J. is, they proved they were a team, not just O.J."

Foreman Gets Delay To Nurse Minor Cut

KINSHASHA, Zaire (AP) — A Zaire government spokesman says he will make an official announcement today on the status of the richest fight in professional boxing history. The postponed fight is hanging by a thread as the small gash over George Foreman's right eye wound.

The heavyweight champion of the world suffered a one-inch cut Monday, which has temporarily knocked down what is planned as one of the biggest extravaganzas in sports history. As a result, the interested parties — with their major slices from the bout's $30 million pie at stake — are now uncertain how long the fight will be on the canvas.

Foreman, the undefeated and seemingly invincible defending world heavyweight champion, threw a country, the promoters and the fight world into a frenzy when the one-inch horizontal gash between his right eye and eyebrow developed during a sparring session, forcing postponement of his Sept. 25 title defense against Muhammad Ali. The cut, caused by the jab or elbow of a sparring partner, was clean, looking as if it had been inflicted by a razor. Foreman was treated by doctors, who declined to say if they had taken stitches to seal the wound.

Tshimpumpu Wazire government spokesman, said Monday the fight "is being put off. We don't know how long it will be, but we feel it will be a short time." He said later that postponement would be a "matter of days, not weeks."

In New York Monday, Video Techniques, promoters of the fight, said the delay would be at least a week, and possibly as long as 30 days.

WHIP ASTROS Dodgers Move Closer To Title

By The Associated Press
Andy Messersmith, the Los Angeles Dodgers' big winner, apparently thinks that one day off for Mike Marshall, the team's ace relief pitcher, is too much. And Manager Walt Alton tends to agree.

Although the Dodgers were holding a comfortable four-run lead over the Houston Astros after seven innings Monday night, Alton brought in his durable right-hander to preserve Messersmith's 18th victory.

"If Mike doesn't pitch, he gets rusty sitting around — and angry," Messersmith quipped after the Dodgers had finished with a 7-2 victory and maintained their 2½-game lead over the Cincinnati Reds in the National League West pennant race.

He hadn't worked since Saturday. The rampaging Reds kept pace with Los Angeles, battering the happless San Diego Padres 9-2 for their seventh victory in eight games. The Dodgers have 15 games remaining and Cincinnati has 14.

In other National League games, the Montreal Expos and New York Mets split decisions in a twilight-night doubleheader, and the San Francisco Giants defeated the Atlanta Braves 4-2.

Only one American League game was played, the Minnesota Twins trouncing the Kansas City Royals 7-2.

Marshall's two scoreless innings against the Astros Monday night reduced his ERA to 2.28. In his two-inning stint, he allowed only one baserunner — on a walk.

The Dodgers capitalized on some sloppy Houston play, including four errors, one hit batsman, one wild pitch and one passed ball, for most of their runs. Bill Buckner and Lee Lacy each had two hits and scored twice for Los Angeles.

Reds 9, Padres 2
Cincinnati collected 13 hits, including consecutive homers by Dan Driessen and Cesar Geronimo in a four-run third inning, punishing San Diego. Geronimo, Dave Concepcion and Johnny Bench each drove in two Cincinnati runs. Bench's two RBIs gave him 107 for the season and sole possession of the NL lead.

Mets 2-3, Expos 3-2
The Expos tied their club record of eight consecutive victories by winning the opener, overcoming a 2-1 deficit on Ron Woods' two-run single in the seventh inning off Jerry Kosman, 13-10.

In the nightcap, the Mets ended Montreal's winning streak behind the four-hit pitching of Randy Sterling and Tug McGraw.

Forrest "Phog" Allen, who coached basketball at University of Kansas for 39 years died Monday at the age of 88.

Ray Ebling, Big Spring resident, played under Allen three years, 1934-35-36. He made the Associated Press All-American first team in '35 and '36.

I called Mr. Ebling to ask what remembrances he had of the famous coach. He replied, "You caught me off guard. I will say he's the greatest coach that ever lived."

Mr. Ebling said Allen was a great fundamentalist and a great psychologist. Coach Allen, Mr. Ebling remarked, would challenge any player to a free throw contest and beat him. We had to make 45 out of 50 practice free throws, if we didn't, we shot 50 more.

"He didn't joke with us much, strictly business. If any player broke training rules, he was no longer on the team. Coach Allen's son, Milton, in 1935, sat out a year because of an infraction."

The last time Mr. Ebling said he saw Coach Allen was 10 years ago. "I went by his house in Lawrence to visit."

With the Big Spring Steer football team off to one of their best seasons in several years, 2-0, the Quarterback Club under the direction of tri-captain Helen Hughes is planning a car caravan to Snyder.

Mrs. Hughes hopes interest will build up so much this week that the parking lot east of the high school will be full at 6:20 p.m. Friday.

That's the destined time for the group to leave, and the 50-mile trip. "Wear something gold," Mrs. Hughes stressed and she added, "I'm so eager to help boost the Steers."

The QB Club meets at 7:30 p.m. each Tuesday in the high school cafeteria. Over 100 attended last week, up 65 from the previous meeting.

As an added feature to the QB program tonight, Pete Cook, high school and college football official, will discuss new rules and hand signals.

Coach Bob Burris and his assistants will also be present. They will show game film of Hobbs plus a complete scouting report on Snyder.

Snyder comes into the game with a 1-1 record. The Tigers beat Monahans 20-7 in their opener, but lost to Lee 19-12, Friday in a pre-season drill, Snyder easily won over Clovis.

The Tigers list 19 seniors back, 10 on defense, and nine on the offense.

Weldon Cobb, one of the best West Texas prep-players around, will be watched very carefully by the Steers.

The 6-0 220-pound Tiger halfback has been clocked in the 100 yard dash in 9.5 seconds. He runs back kickoffs, punts, and is the best linebacker to come out of Snyder in years.

Burris quickly pointed out, "We got to contain Weldon. Snyder has several outstanding players but Weldon is the game breaker."

Against Monahans, Weldon ran touchdowns of 55 and 70 yards, he ran back a kickoff return for a 80-yard touchdown in the Lee game. It was called back as result of a clipping penalty. Weldon fired a TD pass play to his younger brother, Chester, who plays split-end.

With the close rivalry between the two schools, Burris states Snyder will be up for this one. Snyder dropped Big Spring 25-20 last year but the Steers had a 13-0 half-time lead.

Burris emphasized that in order to tame the Tigers, "We will have to correct our mistakes."

Tech's Duniven SWC Player Of The Week

It's a long way from Mr. McLean High School of 1971 to The Associated Press' Southwest Conference Offensive Player of the Week, but sandy-haired, blue-eyed Tommy Duniven, who has an All-America, Jack Armstrong appearance, seems unsurprised by it all.

Making his first varsity start at quarterback, Duniven calmly led the Texas Tech Red Raiders to a 24-3 thumping of Iowa State to earn the majority of the ballots from writers who vote the weekly award.

"I'm really not surprised that I had that good of an outing because the team really played well around me," said Duniven. "I was nervous Sunday morning. I got a little anxious when I threw that interception in the second quarter but Coach (Jim) Carlen told me 'Don't worry about it! ... and I didn't'."

The 6-foot-2, 200-pound Duniven who led the Tech freshmen to a 5-0 record with victories over Oklahoma, Houston, and Arkansas in 1972, said he got some kidding about the movie the team saw Friday night trying to relax.

"It was called 'Death Wish', I Duniven laughed. "I didn't worry about the meaning."

Duniven completed nine of 12 passes for 76 yards and one touchdown. He spurred the Raiders on touchdown drives of 74, 61, 78 and 73 yards, prompting Carlen to say "That's the best debut of a quarterback I've been around. Tommy played a mature football game. Also, although no one spoke of it Duniven passed a big test with his knee."

AP COLLEGE POLL Irish On Top, Sooners Drop

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian would be happier over the Irish being the No. 1 ranked college football team if it were January.

Notre Dame, the defending national champion, replaced Oklahoma as top team in the weekly Associated Press rankings. The Fighting Irish, second a week ago, received 19 first-place votes and 1,004 points from a nationwide panel of sportswriters and broadcasters.

Ohio State, which got 17 first place votes, was in second with 998 points.

"Of course, we're very much honored to be No. 1," Parseghian said with a laugh. "But it's where you wind up after the season is over that's important. 'I would be a lot happier being No. 1 if this were January.'"

The Irish campaigned the entire 1973 season to be No. 1, and finally made it with a 24-23 victory over Alabama in the Sugar Bowl.

"We had sort of a long fight to be No. 1 last season and it helped our determination, I believe," said Parseghian, whose Irish teams have lost only 15 of 104 games in his 10 years as head coach. "I think the reason we weren't ranked No. 1 before this season began is all the things that have happened to us — the injuries, the construction accidents, the dismissals.

"People thought we would not be as strong as last season after that. But we were fortunate enough to have a little better performance to open the

Broken Leg Sidelines Stanton QB

STANTON — The Stanton Buffaloes lost their starting quarterback, Bill Howard, senior, for the season last Friday night, as he fractured a bone in his leg just above the ankle while he was breaking up a pass on defense against Wink, in the final three seconds of the game.

Howard underwent surgery Monday in Parkland Hospital in Midland when a pin was put in his leg. He broke the bone as he was coming down after jumping up to defend on a pass play, and his toe caught the turf bending his foot backwards.

In addition to the broken bone, he dislocated his ankle and tore ligaments in his ankle.

Coach Bill Youn said that Howard's place in the lineup will be filled by wing back Gordon Eiland, who has had quarterbacking experience off and on throughout his career.

Friday night, Stanton will try out their new offensive combination against Rotan in a road game.

Ali-Foreman Bout Slated At Ector

Although the date is now indefinite due to the eye injury suffered by champion George Foreman, the Foreman-Muhammad Ali title bout can be seen on closed circuit television in the Ector County Coliseum.

Two projectors are being set up as a precautionary measure by promoter Paul Clinite.

Tickets are on sale from noon until 6 p.m., daily, including Sundays. The show starts at 8:15 p.m.

Reserve seats at Odessa will sell for $12. Other tickets are priced at $10 and $8.

Reservations can be made by calling 366-3541.

Bulletin

NEW YORK (AP) — The George Foreman-Muhammad Ali heavyweight championship fight has been postponed until either Oct. 23 or Oct. 30, the fight promoters announced today.

Referee To Talk At QB Meet Tonite

A noted high school and college football referee, Pete Cook, will present a special program at the Big Spring Quarterback Club tonight at 7:30 in the high school cafeteria.

He will discuss new football rules and hand signals used by game officials.

Coach Bob Burris will show the game film of the Hobbs game and will present a complete scouting report on Snyder, the Steers' next opponent.

Everyone is invited to show their support for the Steers this season by attending the Quarterback Club meetings.

WFL Texans In Trouble

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Post says sources close to the World Football League's Houston Texans report the team is on the WFL's financially critical list.

The newspaper quoted the unnamed sources Monday as saying team owner Steve Arnold of San Francisco turned the team's bills over to the league office 19 days ago with the understanding the club would be sold within 30 days.

However, the Post said it had learned that Arnold failed to sign the agreement and will not guarantee the club's sale within the required period, which is to expire Sept. 27.

Arnold, the Post quoted its sources as saying, has no longer can afford to pour his personal finances into the Texans' operation, reported to have a $200,000 debt plus a $1.5 million yearly player payroll.

Arnold's lawyer, could not be reached for comment.

The league will meet the $130,000 in salaries for the month of September, the sources said.

The Texans, losers of three straight games and five of their last seven, have attracted only 20,000 to the Astrodome for their last two home games. The crowd of 9,800 a week ago was the smallest football gathering in the Astrodome's history.

There have been reports that the Texans would move to Shreveport, La.

However, the Post said its sources knew of no concrete plans to move the team.

D&M Garden Center Is Real Garden Spot

D&M Garden Center out on old highway 80 at 3209 has added a Patio Shop. And now is the time to plan your patio — either for a new one, or updating the one you have.

D&M has added a selection of beautiful fish pools and fountains comparable to ones found in big cities. Add a few potted plants and you can have a beautiful design in no time.

There is a size of fountain and plants to fit any size patio you desire and they're all available at D&M.

You can create a mood or atmosphere by changing the potted plants with the changing seasons, or for any style or theme of entertainment that you might wish to host on the patio.

This could change for a party such as an intimate breakfast or an elaborate dinner.

A natural serene setting could be established by using weeping willow, available at D&M along with low growing juniper around your fountain or pool.

D&M has some water falls which resemble rocks on the side of mountains. They can be enhanced by the use of hanging baskets of asparagus fern and other ferns to create an atmosphere reminiscent of a trip to the mountains.

A pool in your garden will multiply gardening possibilities instantly. D&M can special order a pool for your garden.

There is also a wide selection of Sunset Books at D&M on all subjects pertaining to gardening and landscaping.

Be sure to visit D&M at Booth 35 at the Howard County Fair.

DEATHS

Mrs. Gillette

Funeral services will be held at 4 p.m. Wednesday in the River Welch Funeral Home Chapel for Mrs. H. D. (Lorene) Gillette, 52, who died at 4:10 p.m. Monday in a local hospital.

The Rev. Collins Moore, pastor of Hillcrest Baptist Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

Born Aug. 18, 1922 in Miland, Tenn., she married H. D. Gillette on August 7, 1942 in Kentucky. They lived for 23 years in Howard County in Forsan and Big Spring, operating the Bargain House east of Big Spring. She was a member of the Baptist Church.

Survivors include her husband, H. D. Gillette, two daughters, Mrs. Coy (Wanda) Nelson and Mrs. Gerald (Sandra) Gibson, all of Big Spring and one son, Willis (Pete) Gillette, Mt. Pleasant.

Other survivors include one stepson, Wayne Gillette, Zion, Ill., and two stepdaughters, Mrs. Alva Evans, Little Rock, Ark., and Mrs. Penny Timms Golden, Miss.

Four sisters and one brother survive, including Mrs. Lois Dees, Decaturville, Tenn.; Mrs. Ruby Smith, Nashville, Tenn.; Mrs. Lona Woods, Memphis, Tenn.; Mrs. Carrie Lessenberry, Miland, Tenn., and Roy Rimmer, Miami Beach, Fla. There are 14 grandchildren.

R. Oliver

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at River Welch Chapel for Raymond Oliver, who died at his home Sunday after a lengthy illness.

Burial will be in Mt. Olive Cemetery.

The Rev. Berle Perkins, pastor of the Church of God in Christ will officiate. Pallbearers will be Clarence Willis, Arthur Laston, George Adair, Hubert E. Perkins, Raymond Connors and Andy Robinson.

Otis Smith

Otis Smith, 57, died in a local hospital at 5 a.m., today.

Services will be at 2 p.m., Thursday in the Mount Bethel Baptist Church, with the Rev. Johnny Mitchell, pastor, officiating.

Mr. Smith was born Sept. 7, 1917, in Jefferson County, Tex. He was employed by a local floral shop for 22 years and by the local post office for six years.

Burial will take place in Jefferson but the time has not been established. Local arrangements are being handled by Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

He married Cassie Mae Goss April 6, 1940, in Jefferson. She survives him, as do a daughter, Mrs. Era (Patsy) Burke, Upper Hayford, England; his mother, Mrs. Laura Smith, Jefferson; three sisters, Mrs. Emma Dodson, Los Angeles, Mrs. Julia Gray and Mrs. Doris Jackson, Jefferson; two brothers, Caludia Smith, Jefferson, and J. D. Smith, Big Spring; and two grandchildren.

performing bears also have their inning. Featured also will be Princess Elena Omar, whose feats of equilibrium and balance will amaze.

Dromedary camels, the celebrated "ships of the desert," are matched with a miniature white stallion in a most electrifying "liberty routine." One of Europe's most renowned funnymen, Rudy Dockey, and his basketball playing "boxer dogs," is included among the many acts, as is Miss Myoshy-Amoto and her oriental "hair hanging" aerial artistry.

The usual elephantism, the jugglers and the high-wire acrobats will also be very much in evidence.

Survivors include her husband, S. M. Burrus; a daughter, Mrs. Karen Porter of 4306 42nd St. in Lubbock; two brothers, Waldon Lamb of O'Donnell and Albert of Hereford; and two grandchildren.

Rain Falls Over Area

Early reports indicated only light rain and drizzle fell Monday and this morning over the area, according to the Colorado River Municipal Water District. Monday there were reports of two to two and a half inches from central north Howard County northward to Gail, but Tuesday Colorado River and Helm Creek, both of which empty into Lake J. B. Thomas, were running only two feet deep. Lake E. V. Spence had two inches — but it was only on the lake itself.

Ackerly itself had trapped 2.4 for the three-day period. Sand Springs fall was measured at .48 while Coahoma's was even less, .46. Luther, however, was Gang-doused by a 2.6 inch down-pour. Forsan received 1.25 inch, three-quarters of an inch since last midnight.

In the east part of Big Spring, an inch had fallen over a period of three days.
