

'BUDGET UNACCEPTABLE'
Jack Watkins eyes books

HE'LL BE THERE Dissident Tax-Payer

By TOMMY HART

Jack Watkins is a man who is firmly convinced that the spending of public funds has reached epidemic proportions and the theory behind it is contagious — that one agency is prone to follow the example set by another.

That's the reason the former Big Spring city commissioner will be in his accustomed place at Tuesday's meeting of the city council here, armed with his neat set of accounting books and perhaps a pocket computer. Tuesday is the day the proposed 1974-75 city budget is supposed to get its second and final reading. At the same time, the tax rate will be set.

Watkins gets lots of encouragement in the stance he takes relative to the spending of public funds. He says he welcomes the back-patting but laments a lot of those offer only lip service and a few kudos come from the type who say, in effect, "let's you and him fight... I'll hold your coat."

Pressure from the taxpayers is the only thing that's going to slow the spending of public money, Watkins reasons. And that pressure is best applied when trustees meet in public session, he adds.

After getting a look at the proposed budget, Watkins remarked: "This budget is unacceptable to at least some of us. The general fund has grown by $700,000 in three years' time. The overall increase is about two million dollars in that time, or about 70 per cent. Has the inflation rate been that much?"

"The city says the increase in the budget this year will be about 4.4 per cent. I figure it more like 18 per cent. I find it hard to understand how the total revenue will increase more than $300,000, yet our fund balance will decrease from $575,000 to $203,000."

"If our money is being depleted that way, we're going to face a sharp rise in the tax rate as early as next year, either by a rate or a percentage increase or through a revaluation program. And when the tax raise comes, it will be the little tax payers, not the big ones, who will make up most of the difference."

"The Water and Sewer Fund is going to slump from $212,230 to $69,281. I find it hard to justify such shrinkage."

"The General Fund is going down from $132,587 to $20,750 under the proposed budget. I've already found several errors in the proposed budget... things I will bring up at the next meeting."

"The population of the area has increased very little the last three years, but the number of people employed by the city has increased considerably. The total as reported to me by a responsible source stands at 268. That would be an increase of 40 when compared with a 1971 employe number of 228. Where is the justification?"

Watkins has often been accused of using scattergun tactics and making irresponsible claims in hammering away at public trusts. But Big Spring's most dedicated scold on matters civic says he is willing to live with that label.

"I'm a concerned citizen," he says, "and I think everyone should be. After all, it's OUR money. Once we okay a budget, we've got to live with it."

Supplies Of Water Increase

Runoff continued Saturday morning into Lake E. V. Spence, which is certain to catch more than 25,000 acre-feet of water from the week's sustained rains. Lake J. B. Thomas, some 50 miles up stream, however had to settle for less than 1,500 acre-feet increase.

Saturday morning Lake Spence was at elevation 1858.86 and rising steadily. The catch at that time was 24,630 acre-feet, and another foot appeared in prospect, which would mean around 30,000 acre-feet increase in all. The vertical rise was 4.82 feet.

The Colorado River was running eight feet at the Silver Bridge, having peaked at 14 feet Friday. Saturday morning it was showering on the Silver and Yellow Wolf Creek watersheds which feed into the river. Other tributaries in the area were running but at modest levels.

The river just above Colorado City at the diversion works was flowing over the channel dam 1 1/2 feet deep (which approximates three feet deep in the channel). Quality of water entering Lake Spence continued good at only 80 ppm chlorides.

Lake Thomas was at elevation 2221.50, an increase of .60 of a foot for the week.

Overnight rainfall reports reaching the Colorado River Municipal Water District, were 1.0 inch at Lake Spence, .10 of an inch at Lake Thomas, .30 at the Walsh & Watts unit in east Howard, and .10 of an inch at Moss Creek. Odessa reported 1.50 inches.

Death Gun Is Said Found

TEMPLE, Tex. (AP) — The shotgun apparently used to kill Highway Patrolman Hollie Tull following the Sept. 14 robbery of the Walburg State Bank, and the money taken from the bank, have been found near here.

Police Chief Leonard Hancock said FBI agents and Texas Rangers found the gun and money Friday near where Selwyn Gholson, one of two men sought in the case, was captured shortly after Tull was killed.

Hancock said he thought the other wanted man, Larry Joe Ross, is "in the area and he's probably being assisted in order to remain hidden here."

Enrollment Is Local Record

The largest enrollment in the history of Howard College totaled 1,329 on the final day of registration Friday, according to L. L. Lewis, registrar.

This includes students on campus, in San Angelo and in Lamesa. The total includes 1,204 on the campus, 55 in Lamesa and 70 in San Angelo.

Killer Storm One Of Worst

T E G U C I GALPA, Honduras (AP) — Rescue workers parachuted into the ravaged town of Choloma on Saturday and reported that 2,760 bodies have been found there, bringing the confirmed death toll from Hurricane

Fifi to nearly 4,000 nationwide, the government said. The Honduras National Emergency Committee said earlier that it believes between 7,000 and 8,000 persons died in the storm which raked the Honduran coast with 110-mile-an-hour winds on Thursday. Access to the hardest-hit areas has been difficult as most of the low-lying coastal region remains under water. As more and more bodies were being discovered, rescue teams resorted to burning the corpses to avoid outbreaks of typhoid, a committee spokesman said. Rescuers reported that when they reached the town of Cruz Laguna, which had a population of 1,500, every house had been washed away by floods and not a single person could be found.

The emergency committee said another 1,000 bodies were found in the coastal town of Ceiba, which had been cut off for three days. Lt. Ignacio Acosta of the committee said at least 75 per cent of the houses and 90 per cent of the roads in the hard-hit northwest region were under flood waters.

Acosta said banana plantations were "100 per cent destroyed" in the states of Atlatlida, Yoro, Colon and Cortes, where the U.S. companies United Brands and Standard Fruit have major holdings.

U.S. Ambassador Phillip V. Sanchez flew over the stricken area for six hours Saturday and reported all large agricultural valleys under water and "crops 90 to 100 per cent ruined. He said he saw bodies floating in flood waters and survivors clinging to trees and homes surrounded by water."

"Someone saw a vaporizing gas and then there was an explosion," Southern Pacific spokesman Paul Carr said that the explosion did not affect several cars loaded with military missiles and placed in another part of the yard.

"We have now determined that the cars, carrying the missiles were not involved in the explosion," Carr said explaining that it was first feared that one of the missiles had exploded. "The missiles did not have warheads and there is no reason to be concerned about them," Carr said.

A survey showed that at least 96 persons injured in the explosion received emergency room care at six hospitals. Eight were admitted, including one railroad company employe said to be in "extremely grave" condition with burns on 100 per cent of his body.

Carr said there was a derailed car loaded with liquefied gas, but it had been isolated and was being kept cool by firemen. The man in grave condition was identified as James A. McKnight, 56, a Southern Pacific engineer for 34 years.

An elderly Big Spring man was apparently killed instantly when struck by a train in the T&P yard here around 9:50 a.m., Saturday. Services for James Samuel Walker, 79, victim in the accident, will be conducted at 2 p.m., Monday in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel. Burial will take place in Mount Olive Cemetery.

The engineer, Felix Jarrett, said he noticed an elderly male standing near the depot when he took the train down track one, headed for the roundhouse. He told Jimmy Wallace, investigating police officer, that "I was going about two miles an hour because I was going to let the brakeman off."

The engineer put up the engine, and was walking back to turn in his time sheets when he saw two men hurrying toward the track.

The man had been completely cut in half. His left hand had been cut off when he apparently fell under the train. Nobody was sure how it happened. His car was parked on 1st street near the Main Street intersection. He was living in Big Spring with a daughter.

Born March 31, 1895, in Merkel, he moved to Howard County when he was nine years old. He farmed near Knott, retiring in 1963. His wife died May 31, 1968. He was a member of 14th and Main Church of Christ.

Survivors include one son, Jack Walker, and a daughter, Mrs. J. H. Duke, both of Big Spring; two sisters Mrs. Nixon McGinnis, Clovis, New Mexico, and Mrs. H. E. Laws, Jacksonville; two grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Solons' Junket Is Off

WASHINGTON (AP) — A planned round-the-world congressional trip to Tokyo next month with stops at Hawaii, Hong Kong, Bangkok, Tehran and London has been abruptly cut to a one-week trip to Japan.

It's the trip to the Inter-parliamentary Union — praised as akin to working with the United Nations and denounced as "the granddaddy of the junkets."

At least six senators and one House member were signed up before Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., chairman of the U.S. delegation, dropped out Thursday and changed the itinerary. In the past it has been one of the most popular congressional trips. But Sparkman said many assigned delegate-congressmen can't go this time because the Tokyo session Oct. 2-12 comes when Congress will be pressing to adjourn for re-election campaigning.

"Sparkman had laid a leisurely two-and-a-half-week, round-the-world trip," he said, "but that's out now."

Governor Plans October Visit

Gov. Dolph Briscoe will include Big Spring on his list of visits during October. He and Mrs. Briscoe will be honored with an open house coffee at the First Federal Savings and Loan Association Community Room, said Jack Little, who is handling arrangements. Other details will be announced later.

100 ARE INJURED Explosion Rocks Railroad Yards

HOUSTON (AP) — Saturday explosion rocked almost 100 persons to hospitals and damaged buildings up to a mile away. Fire officials said the flames were under control by 8 p.m.

Southern Pacific officials said the blast occurred while two cars loaded with butadiene, a gas used in the manufacture of synthetic rubber, were being coupled.

"Someone saw a vaporizing gas and then there was an explosion," Southern Pacific spokesman Tony Aleman said.

Fire Department spokesman Paul Carr said that the explosion did not affect several cars loaded with military missiles and placed in another part of the yard.

"We have now determined that the cars, carrying the missiles were not involved in the explosion," Carr said explaining that it was first feared that one of the missiles had exploded. "The missiles did not have warheads and there is no reason to be concerned about them," Carr said.

Reviewing the

Big Spring Week

with Joe Pickle

There may have been a September that produced seven consecutive days of rainfall, but off hand we can't recall it. Most of Howard County received four to five inches, although some areas did substantially better than that. A little late-maturing feed will be helped, cotton "heavier" slightly, and pastures boosted with winter weeds (although not much grass will make before frost). The biggest boon, and one that can't be overestimated, is that it put our area in a position to recover from a devastating drought. Considering the vast areas of fallow ground, also the prohibitively high livestock feed prices, one development which could result is an unusually large amount of cover crop (small grain) planting. This would be a cinch to carry well into the winter grazing season.

Another beneficiary of the unprecedented rainy spell was Lake E. V. Spence — and thus Big Spring. It appeared Saturday that the net gain there may be some 30,000 acre feet of water (boosting Spence's content by about a third). More importantly, the water is low in chlorides, something Spence was not. Consequently, we'll be getting substantially better water here. Snake-bit Lake Thomas picked up only about 1,500 acre feet.

The Howard County Fair, however, had its attendance cut sharply by the incessant moisture, although the first three nights didn't do too badly. A break in weather brought out around 1,500 Friday evening, and Saturday's traffic wasn't too bad even though slow rain and drizzle returned.

Woman Run Off Road, Allegedly Assaulted

A 16-year-old Big Spring youth was jailed here on charges of rape and aggravated assault with a motor vehicle, after he ran a 23-year-old woman's car off the road ten miles north of town and allegedly assaulted her. This occurred shortly after 2:30 a.m.

The young woman was traveling from San Antonio to her home in Lubbock and stopped in Big Spring for gas.

Later, when she was traveling on Highway 87, the car driven by the 16-year-old passed her going at a high rate of speed and then slowed down, she told law officers.

She passed him and then the car he was driving allegedly passed her a second time and rammed her vehicle, knocking it off the road. She told the sheriff's officers that she got the car going and the passing car then struck her a second time.

The youth then jumped out of his car, broke the window glass out of her car, reached in and unlocked it and dragged her out according to the report. While the assault was in progress, two truck drivers stopped. The youth fled on foot, according to Sheriff A. N. Standard.

The woman was hospitalized, treated and has since been released. Sheriff A. N. Standard, Sgt. Robert Fuente and Deputy Sam Smelser searched the area until 4:30 a.m.

Sgt. Fuente then arrested the youth a few miles north of town on foot. Law officers and the district attorney's office were considering signing him over as an adult, but no decision was yet made Saturday.

TRAIN FIRE — Houston firemen poured water on freight cars Saturday after an explosion ripped through a train yard in north east Houston. The explosion injured several people, with some 100 serious enough to be taken to hospitals.

Crisis Is Foreseen

MEMPHIS (AP) — The nation will face a water crisis as early as 1980 unless water resources are protected now, a Texas congressman said Friday.

"This nation faces a water crisis which will dwarf the energy crisis we have just been through unless we begin now to plan our future water needs," said Rep. Ray Roberts, D-Tex.

Roberts, chairman of the water resources subcommittee of the House Public Works Committee and principal author of the Water Resources Development Act of 1973, made the predictions to 350 persons at the National Waterways Conference. The three-day conference ended Friday.

Current water supply and population studies indicate that even with low population and economic growth, water deficiencies can be expected in "8 of 22 water regions in the U.S. by 1980" if sufficient water storage facilities are not developed, he said.

"It is clear that something must be done and done while we still have the luxury of time in which to do it," Roberts said. Roberts urged attention to planning "so we are not caught short with a water in the same way we have been caught short by the energy crisis."

He said his subcommittee has been providing assistance to state governments so that the federal government and states can coordinate their water resources programs and avoid duplication.

Roberts' subcommittee has asked for a study of rules and standards used in evaluating water resources projects and their costs, Roberts said.

Other speakers said the importance of inland waterways is growing because of the increased use of coal for generating electricity.

George V. Patterson, president of American Electric Power Company, a holding company that controls seven Eastern utilities, said coal, transportation and electric power generation form three legs of a milking stool and "if you remove any one of them, there will be severe economic disruption."

Patterson said two-thirds of the 6.0 million tons of coal shipped by barge annually are used for power generation.

RACIAL ISSUE

Alabama TV License Nixed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Alabama educational television system accused of failing to broadcast shows for black audiences, will not have its license renewed, the Federal Communications Commission has tentatively ruled.

FIRST TIME

If the FCC affirms its tentative decision not to renew the license, it would be the first time an educational television franchise has had its license lifted. The tentative action will be reviewed by the commission after a written report is drafted, a commission spokesman said Friday.

It also would be the first time the FCC has declined to renew a television license after citizen complaints about a station's performance, an FCC spokesman said.

The challenge to the Alabama Educational Television Commission's renewal application was first filed in 1970 by Steven Suits, director of the Alabama chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union; Linda Edwards, a student, and the Rev. Eugene Farrell, a Roman Catholic priest.

The commission, a state agency funded by both federal and state funds, was accused of ignoring the state's black audience in selecting programs for broadcasting and of bias in hiring.

EXAMINATION

During the 1967-1970 license term that was the subject of the FCC's examination, blacks constituted 30 per cent of Alabama's population, according to the challengers.

The commission did not disclose a reason for its 4-2 vote against renewal but was expected to do so when it issues its written decision several months from now. Voting against renewal were Commissioners Benjamin L. Hooks, James H. Quello, Glen O. Robinson and Abbott M. Washburn. Voting for renewal were Commissioners Robert E. Lee and Charlotte T. Reid.

Commission Chairman

Richard E. Wiley did not participate because he was involved in the case earlier as the commission's general counsel.

Our Chance To Say So

Under the capable leadership of Johnnie Lou Avery and Janelle Davis, the switch has been thrown to activate our bicentennial plans.

As the co-chairmen put it, this is not just the country's 200th birthday — "it's everybody's birthday party."

And that's precisely the spirit in which we should approach this. In recent years we have been preoccupied entirely too much with "they." We need to get together on "we." The starting point is "me."

Every organization, club, society, association, union, church, troop, pack, or institution within Howard County ought to resolve now to have an active role in the bicentennial observance, and more specifically, pick out some project to accomplish during the bicentennial year. No goal can be too menial to be meaningful; no target is so big but what it can be done if all of us put our minds to it.

Despite our tendency to occasional selfishness, materialism, and cynicism, we still have after nearly 200 years a great nation. A democratic dream that remains essentially vigorous after that period of time is bound to be viable. Even with its imperfections, there's nothing quite like the ideal of responsible freedom that is the soul of the United States of America.

We may differ on how our America can be better, but we must agree in our pride to be a part of the USA. So, in the succeeding months, when you or your group are asked to enter into the spirit of planning and preparation, be eager to respond. Here is a passage of Scripture which says, "Let the redeemed of the Lord say so." Here is our chance to say so for our part of America.

Your Weapon — Your Vote

There was a time when you had to pay a poll tax in order to have the right to vote. Then the tax on right of franchise was removed, but you still had (in Texas) to get your certificate prior to Jan. 31 in the year in which you were to vote.

But now you can qualify by registering anytime 30 days prior to the date of the election in which you participate. And voting will renew your certificate automatically.

Well, the Oct. 5 deadline for the general election is only a fortnight away. Gov. Briscoe has designated the past week Voter Registration week, but there are still hundreds and hundreds in Howard County who have yet to obtain a certificate. A soldier might as well go into battle without a gun as a citizen try to function without being able to vote. Make sure this week that you are registered to vote.

My Answer

Billy Graham

I have always like the new versions and paraphrases of the Scriptures because the language is more modern. But I was disturbed when I found out that one of them in Luke 11 left out "They will be done on earth as it is in heaven." To me, the prayer without this important phrase just isn't complete. Doesn't the Bible warn us that nothing should be "taken from the Word of God?" J.H.W.

Several versions make the same omission in Luke 11, although all seem to show it in Matthew 6. Of course, the submission of Jesus to His Father's will was evident all during His ministry. It was His yielding to God's will which led to the path to the cross where He purchased our redemption.

I read the new paraphrases and translations, but I use the King James version in the pulpit and in my Scriptural quotations. If you think of the paraphrases in modern English as commentaries on the Scriptures (and many of them do throw new light on the Bible) instead of infallible translations, you will not go wrong. To translate the Bible from the original manuscripts is the gargantuan task, requiring years of work, and the skills of many trained linguists and translators. Therefore, in my opinion the tried and tested translations are preferred. But this, of course, doesn't rule out the value of the better and recognized paraphrased editions. Send your criticism to the publisher of that particular version. I'm sure they would welcome it.

Galbraith's Pills

William F. Buckley, Jr.

Prof. John Kenneth Galbraith has prescribed, in the pages of the New York Times, for inflation. He does this in a question-and-answer format: he supplies the questions, and then the answers to them. Needless to say, he gets no lip from his interrogator. The Socratic manner, Max Beerbohm observed, is not a game at which two people can play.

BUT HE SAYS some useful things, and of course that much is overdue. For instance, that the causes of inflation are various, that there is no single cure for it, and that the government should reduce its expenditures. One of the difficulties with Galbraith is that one moment he is, talking economics, and the very next he is talking social policy and it takes a highly trained eye to spot the elision. We are talking about the need to reduce government expenditures, and suddenly Admiral Galbraith is talking about how unnecessary our carrier fleet is. He just can't help it. ("All of this (the India Pakistan war)," he wrote in his diary while serving as ambassador to India, "caused me to miss most of a luncheon for a visiting admiral, but I got in on the end of it and made a touching speech on sea power.") There is the compulsion to decide how people should spend their earnings, which is the principal reason why Mr. Galbraith is a socialist.

ACCORDINGLY, although Mr. Galbraith recommends reduced government expenditures, he mostly wants to increase taxation. Taxation of the rich. Now Mr. Galbraith has a curious idea of what it is to be "rich." A couple of years ago he informed his audience that Sen. Goldwater had been the candidate of "the rich people" — which means there are 36 million rich people in America. He then went on to predict that only rich people would vote for Nixon. Since Nixon got 60 per cent of the vote, that makes 60 per cent of the American people; which, unfortunately, isn't the case.

Mr. Galbraith suggests a surtax of 10 per cent on salaries over $15,000. And a surtax of 20 per cent on salaries over $20,000. That means that you would run into 70 per cent taxation, at the single man's rate, at somewhere around $32,000 taxable income. Mr. Galbraith's point is that the "rich" can cope with inflation, and they should be made to bear more of the brunt of it.

WHAT HE DOES NOT notice is that the "rich" do bear their share even as things now stand. Because as inflation works its way, it automatically moves people up a progressive ladder. If Congress stipulated a tax of, say, 20 per cent on someone earning $15,000, and there is an inflation of 30 per cent, that man must earn $20,000 to reach the purchasing power of the old figure. But if he should reach $20,000, he will be taxed at a higher rate. We need indexation of the income tax schedule (proposed, as it happens, by Sen. James L. Buckley); but Mr. Galbraith has not got around to that.

NOR DOES Mr. Galbraith note that there is a third way to diminish spending pressure. A dollar detached from a consumer can be spent by the government; or used to reduce the debt. Borrowing from the public to reduce the debt has the virtue of withdrawing money from circulation voluntarily; and giving the public that buys the government's bonds an investment that can be liquidated in the future.

In Mr. Galbraith's enchanting diary, written in India, he reveals a great deal, including his own skills at maneuvering around ascetic threats. "David Bell came in at midnight," he wrote. "He was travelling tourist class as befits a former budget director. Happily, I have no compulsion to save money in this way, which is a great comfort."

IF ONLY HE did not have a compulsion to save money by spending other people's. Which reminds me, I must some time introduce Mr. Galbraith to one of these rich people making $15,000 while attempting to raise and educate a family and finance a house.

Pan-Am Subsidy Gets Sidetracked

NEW YORK (AP) — Financially troubled Pan American World Airways lost its bid for a temporary $10.2-million-a-month subsidy this past week, but the government was still considering other aid. Secretary of Transportation Claude S. Brinegar said President Ford had concluded that "it is not fair to the nation's taxpayers to ask them to support our U.S. international flag air carriers with direct subsidy payments."

Pan Am has lost money every year since 1969, hit by the expense of jumbo jets, the excess capacity those planes brought to the airline industry, heavy competition and rising fuel costs. It lost $18 million in 1973, improving on a $28.89 million loss the year before, but was $24.38 million in the red by the end of this year's first quarter.

The airline, in its request for government aid, had argued that help was needed to avoid endangering credit arrangements with its banks.

Brinegar said the administration was backing other steps to help Pan Am, including urging the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) to grant fare hikes, combat illegal

THIS WEEK'S BUSINESS

- Appeal for $10.2 million monthly subsidy shelved temporarily
- President Ford says this wouldn't be fair to taxpayers
- CAB to hear appeal for $198 million permanent annual subsidy
- Higher interest rates costs saving associations deposits
- Savers withdraw $1.24 billion in August slightly over '73

ticket discounts, encouraging comparative action by U.S. and foreign airlines to reduce excess carrying capacity.

The CAB is still planning hearings on Pan Am's request for a permanent subsidy of $194 million a year. The agency, however, has already turned down requests from Trans World Airlines for unspecified temporary and permanent subsidies.

SAVINGS STEP The nation's savings and loan associations suffered another big loss of savings money last month but remain in good financial condition, a federal official said this past week.

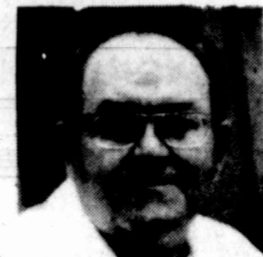

"We do not have any major savings and loan association in any kind of problem," said Chairman Thomas R. Bomar of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board. Bomar said federally insured associations' August loss of $1.24 billion in savings was substantial but not surprising. The figure compared with a decline of $581 million in July and $1.19 billion in August 1973.

Savings associations have been hurt by higher interest rates, which have encouraged some customers to withdraw funds in an effort to find higher returns elsewhere.

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Former President Richard M. Nixon, who reportedly said last week he didn't expect to come out alive if he were hospitalized, will enter a hospital here Monday for treatment of his phlebitis. Officials said Friday that Nixon would be hospitalized for at least three days during which doctors will use anticoagulant drugs to treat two blood clots resulting from the phlebitis.

Doctors say the blood clots in Nixon's left leg could be fatal if one broke free and lodged in his heart or lungs.

Triumphal Germs

Around The Rim

Walt Finley

If I were to make predictions, I'd suggest that one Walt Finley is coming down with whatever this year's version of the Hong Kong flu is (Hong Kong Revisited?)

FRANKLY, I hope I'm wrong, for if I'm right I'm guilty of practicing medicine without a license. Besides, friends who have had it say it's the worst strain yet.

I've felt for some time now that the germs are fighting back. After all, if the insects can develop immunity to our high-powered insecticides, why can't the germs counteract our best medicinal efforts with their own form of germ warfare?

And if they can do that, aren't they superior? And if they're superior, aren't they likely to take over when we succeed in obliterating ourselves?

So be careful in fighting germs. One may become your daughter-in-law some day.

I have just re-read what I just wrote and I have concluded a body'd have to be sick to write something like that. Maybe we'll get a few days of vacation from each other.

IF YOU went to the Big Spring Snyder game Friday night, stick close to your television set Saturday and eyeball it today and Monday, you can see parts or all of 15 football games — plus College Football '74 — a roundup.

WHICH DENOMINATION will be first to rule OFFICIALLY the pants suit is fittin' for church?

Likeable Lisa Beard, who celebrated her 11th birthday Tuesday, suggests:

"Every time you turn green with envy you are ripe for trouble."

ONE OF the great truths of old age, this Paste-Pot man has discovered, is that most of the people you know disagree with you on a great many important things, and you finally understand it doesn't matter.

In fact, you regret that in your younger days you selected your friends, in a large part at least, because they agreed with you, thereby losing the opportunity to broaden your outlook at an early age.

ANOTHER IS that the truest things in the world are rather dull. That's why the untrue ge' such reactions.

Finally, one learns that truth is all-important, and we get hung up on this when we detour to seek information to support our view — instead of truth.

I told you I didn't feel well.

Facing Trial

Marquis Childs

(Gus Tyler is sunbathing for vacationing Marquis Childs — Ed)

NEW YORK — First Lt. Matthew R. Carroll is facing a court martial because he won't cut his hair the way the Army prescribes.

THIS GRADUATE of a military college and the son of an Army colonel says he is ready to go to jail, if necessary, at which time he will write a book — presumably on his long-haired experience.

The Army can rest its case on one of two grounds: biological or psychological. The biological grounds would argue the debilitating effect of long hair on a man's fighting strength.

But this line of reasoning would run counter to much historic evidence. Samson lost his prowess only after Delilah cut his hair. Washington and his men grew lengthy locks. Buffalo Bill draped his broad and brawny shoulders in hisrute elegance.

THE PSYCHOLOGICAL grounds would be the Army's insistence on the need for uniformity as a disciplinary device. Were that the basis then I would submit that the brass has learned very little about the way the run-of-the-mill GI feels about meaningless little regulations concerning matters of dress and decorum in the service.

I recall my Air Corps buddy, Jed Hoopes, for instance — a GI genius in defying the rules while seeming not to do so.

The first time we were given fatigue hats in basic training, each man tried to do something to the chapeau to make it un-uniform.

Some turned the brim in front affi some in back; some put a lift on the left side and some on the right, Aussie fashion. Some put it up on front and back like Napoleon; and some pinned up both sides, like elephant ears standing at attention.

JED BROKE all records by setting the brim tri-corner and topping it with a purple feather, a la Princess Eugenie. This last must have provoked the base regulation that all brims had to be worn down all around all the time.

So we then began to play around with the crown. One peaked it, another put a crease down the middle and used paper clips to keep it that way; another wore it porkpie. Jed got a needle and thread and ran pleats around the crown.

That called for another regulation not to tamper with the top. So the boys began to put graffiti on their domes: everything from "Call me cutie" to "blow it out your barracks bag."

ANOTHER REGULATION: no writing on hats. That didn't stop Jed. He showed up one morning with a hat covered totally with buttons: "Wilkie for President," "Buy Bonds," "Keep Cool with Coolidge," "Eat Apples." He even had that 1929 button out of Cleveland designed to chase the economic blues away: "I'm sold on America. I won't talk Depression."

So, of course, a new order was issued banning everything: no monkeying with brims or crown, no writing and no decorations.

But that didn't stop Jed, either. The next morning he showed up for inspection still looking unlike anyone else. He had his fatigue hat on inside out.

SO, WHY NOT let 1st Lt. Carroll continue with his career as a good soldier even if he does wear his hair in the style of Daniel Boone, Sam Houston or Tarzan?

'Tell The Truth'

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — There is some question as to whether State Department and CIA officials told the truth when they testified in front of congressional committees concerning U.S. involvement in the overthrow of the Allende regime in Chile. There is even some talk of perjury charges being brought against high U.S. government officials.

THIS COULD play havoc with congressional hearings, particularly where our foreign policy is concerned. If they can't lie, many State Department and CIA types say they may refuse to appear on Capitol Hill.

"This is what could happen. Secretary Sangroid, do you swear to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth? help you God?"

"I didn't understand the question."

"WE ARE going to ask certain questions regarding our foreign policy and we want to know if you intend to respond with honest answers."

"Hmmm, can I consult with counsel?"

"Do you swear to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth so help you God?"

"Is that a multiple-choice question?"

"Just answer yes or no, Mr. Secretary."

"Counsel advises me that since national security is involved, I can't tell you whether I will tell the truth without consulting with Dr. Kissinger."

"There will be a 5-minute recess while you call Dr. Kissinger."

FIVE MINUTES LATER.

"All right, Secretary Sangroid, I will pose the question again. Do you swear to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth so help you God?"

"Dr. Kissinger says I can't swear to that unless you go into executive session."

"We are in executive session, Mr. Secretary."

"Then could you clarify something for me? If you ask me a question, do you expect me to give a truthful answer to it, even if it compromises the Administration and the State Department and the CIA and gets somebody into trouble for making a stupid mistake?"

A Devotion For Today . . .

"The Lord waits to be gracious to you; therefore he exalts himself to show mercy to you. For the Lord is a God of justice; blessed are all those who wait for him." Isaiah 30:18.

PRAYER: Lord of unceasing love and care, we commit our days to Thee . . . through struggle and doubt, joy and thanksgiving. Help us to remain faithful, trusting always in Thy timely answer to our prayers.

SAYS MAYOR PRO-TEM County Can Legally Help In Financing

Using what he said is the county judge's first name, Mayor Pro Tem Eddie Acri released a prepared statement Friday afternoon arguing that the county could legally help finance the police juvenile division.

County Judge A. G. Mitchell and County Attorney W. H. (Bill) Eysen Jr. contended previously that such a financial arrangement would be unlawful.

The argument arose when some city officials advocated reducing or eliminating the city's share of costs of the juvenile probation office. Contributing to the office occupied by Ed Cherry are the Big Spring school system, city and county.

Acri's reply to the statements of county officials follows: "I suggest that Judge Armadillo G. Mitchell read article 4413 (32-C) as passed and amended by the legislature and became effective August 27, 1973, allows any local government to contract or agree with one or more local governments to perform governmental functions or services."

"Local government is defined to mean county, home rule city and other political subdivisions." Other governmental functions and services means all or part of any services included within the following general areas: Police protection and detention services, fire protection, streets, roads and drainage, public health and welfare, parks, recreation, library services, etc."

"It would seem to me that there is no statutory prohibition of the county entering into contract with the city to provide juvenile police services, the city and county is now operating a land fill together. If Judge Mitchell, has taken it upon himself to speak for the county Commission and Juvenile Board, then I guess it would be better to wait until January 1975 when we will have a new county Judge in the county court house."

Mitchell Friday said he did not care to comment.

Dedication Scheduled

AUSTIN — Texas' newest and longest bridge, the Queen Isabella Causeway, which arches over the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway and the Laguna Madre connecting the main land in Port Isabel to South Padre Island's towering dunes and white sandy beaches will be formally dedicated Sunday, Sept. 29.

Named after the 14th century Spanish queen who launched her country onto the path of an empire, the $16 million facility — which includes costs of the approaches and right of way — is the largest single highway construction project in Valley history.

Crossing the channel at a 90-degree angle, the bridge is 12,510 feet long. At the channel the bridge surface is 15 feet above sea level. It then slopes to a uniform elevation of 25 feet above sea level for over a mile to the island and gradually drops to 10 feet at its destination.

Remains Of Texas Hero Are Returned To State

from raiding cattle ranches owned by residents of San Antonio and surrounding areas. He complained to Sam Houston.

ON LOSING SIDE

He was elected to the Senate of the Republic of Texas in 1837 and served until 1840.

Seguin fought on the losing side when he joined the federalist forces fighting the centralists. He was installed as mayor of San Antonio in 1841. In 1842 a Mexican force invaded San Antonio and left shortly thereafter.

Seguin said in his memoirs that at this time his political enemies began a smear campaign against him and attempted to kill him, forcing him to flee to Nuevo Laredo.

SEGUIN, Tex. (AP) — A Texas Revolution hero forced to flee to Mexico because he said he had been made to feel "a foreigner in my native land," has returned to a final resting place of honor in the town named after him.

The remains of Juan Nepomuceno Seguin, a colonel in the Texas Army, friend of Stephen F. Austin and Sam Houston, and the man who first learned of the fall of the Alamo and buried its defenders, were brought back to Texas from Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, Friday.

He will be reburied in Seguin and a memorial built to him as part of the South Texas city's commemoration of the U.S. Bicentennial.

Seguin, mayor of San Antonio, member of Congress, and co-founder of the Bexar County Democrats, was a controversial personality who at times was accused of sympathizing with the Mexican government following Texas' War of Independence. In his memoirs he said his political enemies forced him to flee to Mexico where he was offered a choice of imprisonment as a Texas rebel or service in the Mexican Army. He chose Army service.

Seguin was born in San Antonio in 1806. His father, Erasmo, attended the congress in Mexico City that drafted the 1824 constitution. Don Erasmo sent a copy to his son and asked him to pass it to his friends for their information.

On April 22, 1825, Seguin mailed a copy to Austin so he could inform his colonists.

In 1834 Seguin joined the Anglo colonists as the feeling of independence grew throughout Texas. He met Austin and Houston on the Salado Creek and was appointed a captain of cavalry and attached to the commands of James Bowie and James Fannin. He participated in the battle at Concepcion, the Grass Fight and the siege and storming of Bexar. He and his father drew freely from their ranch to supply the Texans with food, arms and ammunition, according to Seguin's memoirs.

He was promoted to colonel in May 1836 and told to assume command of San Antonio. According to his memoirs, Seguin's conflicts with the Texans began in December 1836 when he tried to stop Army officers from raiding cattle ranches owned by residents of San Antonio and surrounding areas. He complained to Sam Houston.

He was elected to the Senate of the Republic of Texas in 1837 and served until 1840.

Seguin fought on the losing side when he joined the federalist forces fighting the centralists. He was installed as mayor of San Antonio in 1841. In 1842 a Mexican force invaded San Antonio and left shortly thereafter.

MAJOR MUSICAL GIFTS — Member of the First Baptist Church will use proceeds from two major gifts for a new master computer organ, and for a concert grand piano. Gifts came from Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Dorland, and from Dr. and Mrs. P. W. Malone. Shown giving and receiving the gifts are Mrs. Dorland, second from right, and Dr. Malone, second from left; the Dorland daughters, Patricia Cherry and Kim Dorland; Dr. Kenneth Patrick, pastor, left, and Clem Jones, chairman of the deacons.

Two Master Musical Instruments Ordered

The First Baptist Church had voted to apply two major gifts, formally accepted last Sunday, to the purchase of two master musical instruments.

One will be an Allen Digital Computer organ system (1500), said by its makers to be the only one of its kind when it is delivered five months hence. It is being made possible through the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Dorland. It will memorialize Frankie Cherry Wagoner, daughter of Mrs. Dorland, according to Dr. Kenneth Patrick, pastor of the church.

The other will be a concert grand Steinway piano, which will honor Dr. and Mrs. P. W. Malone.

Gifts to the church were made by Mrs. Dorland and by Dr. Malone and received by Dr. Patrick, and Clem Jones, chairman of the deacons.

The computer organ, designed and built by the Allen Organ Company of Allentown, Pa., will be engineered expressly to the sanctuary. It will have a three-manual drawknob console. Actually it will be three organs in one.

The first will be a choir organ with grills to direct tones from either flank diagonally across the choir. The second will be an auditorium organ above the other and directed toward the congregation. The third is an antiphonal organ in the rear balcony.

The choir and auditorium organs each will be powered by eleven 100-watt amplifiers, and each will have 12 high-compliance speaker cabinets. The antiphonal organ will have a pair of six high-compliance speakers.

The auditorium and antiphonal organs will each have a pair of added enamaded speaker cabinets for trumpet affects for fanfare, wedding marches, etc. The auditorium and choir organs each will have a pair of vibrato speakers for resonance and richness. The instrument will have the capacity for multiplied millions of tone combinations.

The new piano will be one of the finest instruments

Many Ulster Children Hooked On Violence?

BELFAST (AP) — "If you hate the British Army clap your hands."

Words of a children's street song in the Catholic Falls Road quarter of this war-torn city are a litany of hate sung by kids who see British soldiers much the same as French kids or Dutch kids once viewed the Nazi conquerors in Europe. Like Jimmy Brophy, street warrior and aspiring terrorist, "My brother's a provvie," he boasts. "He's killed two soldiers. He hasn't been home in a long time. But I'm joining the provvies soon."

Jimmy is 12, a cheeky kid who's already mastered the art of street warfare. ECHOES OF MOBBS — He laughs a lot. But there's a brittle edge to it, echoes of the mobs rampaging, the bombs exploding, the gun battles raging and the instinctive, gut-wrenching panic that grabs innocent and guilty alike when the Army swoops in on a search. A "provvie" is a guerrilla with the Irish Republican Army's "provisional" wing, the mainly Catholic movement that wants to drag Ulster into the neighboring Irish Republic. The bloodshed of Ireland's heritage goes on. Kids just a couple of years older than Jimmy are part of it.

When they were his age they stoned troops. Now they fire high-powered rifles or Soviet-made RPG-7 rockets at them.

The youngsters in the Protestant and Catholic ghettos have been reared in violence since British troops intervened five years ago. More than one thousand men, women and children have died, thousands more have been wounded and maimed. The bomb destruction is frightening. Some of those youngsters bear the scars of battle, like the cocky little Catholic kid who proudly opened his shirt to display a big black bruise on his chest — a wound inflicted by a rock-hard six-inch rubber bullet from an Army riot gun.

Others have suffered mental breakdowns, like the little girl who screams when she hears a door slam because she thinks it's a bomb exploding. Or the 5-year-old Protestant boy whose family has moved four times in two years trying to dodge the violence. He displays classic symptoms of acute neurosis.

MANY SCARRED — Many youngsters seem unscathed. But some officials estimated that a sizable number of Ulster's 400,000 children have been psychologically scarred, some so deeply they may never be cured.

Dr. Morris Fraser, an engaging Scot who has lived in Northern Ireland for the last 20 years, works as a child psychiatrist in a Belfast hospital. He recounted the case of 10-year-old Marie. She comes from the no-man's land between Belfast's Catholic Falls Road and the Protestant Shankill, and suffers epileptic fits apparently brought on by the violence that swirls around her home day after day.

Sean is a tow-headed 11-year-old who has witnessed violence at point-blank range. He has been hospitalized with bronchial asthma, a sometime ailment that suddenly intensified after he was caught in a fire-fight between troops and IRA gunmen.

Bernard is 12. After school he hits the streets waiting for the fun to start. "That's when we show the Army something," he said. "Petrol bombs, nail bombs and all. We learn how to make them from the big fellows." He discusses in gory detail how petrol bombs burn the clear plastic riot shields carried by soldiers. Laced the bombs with washing-up detergent and the fiery substance sticks better, he explained. Psychiatrists believe that Bernard, like hundreds of other kids, has become deeply hooked on violence.

FOR NOTHING — Ask him about reports that the IRA pays youngsters to turn out to riot and he snorts derisively and says: "Listen, if they were paying us, the whole street would turn out, but they'd be wasting their money. We do it for nothing."

"Perhaps we'll never be able to repair the harm that's been done," said a middle-aged schoolteacher from Belfast's Ballymurphy quarter, a Catholic housing tract that's seen its share of the troubles.

The Protestant sees himself as British. To him, the Catholics are nationalists who want to force him into the mainly Catholic Republic, an alien culture and "rule from Rome."

The Catholic sees himself as Irish and the Protestants as oppressors, descendants of Scottish settlers implanted in this corner of Ireland 300 years ago.

The enmity blooms before kids leave primary school. Some educators say many schools reinforce the sectarian barriers with one-sided views of history and politics.

Education is segregated in Northern Ireland. Catholics go to state-aided church schools; Protestants to state-run schools controlled by the Orange Order, a powerful Masonic-like society dedicated to maintaining the supremacy of Protestants have held in Ulster for centuries.

BETTER CITIES — Texas Tech University architecture students working on an international competition for better urban neighborhood living include, left to right, John Gary Jr. of Big Spring and Bruce Fehr of Houston with their instructor Prof. John White. The students hope their design will win a place at Habitat '76, a United Nations conference-exposition on human settlements to be held in Vancouver, British Columbia, in 1976. Dennis Irvine of Houston also is a member of the student team working on the project. He was not present when the photo was taken.

Number Of Hogs Down By Four Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Looking ahead, the report said farmers in 14 states indicate they will have 2.3 million sows farrowed in the September-November quarter, down 10 per cent from last fall. And they intend to have 2.0 million piglets born in the winter quarter, down 19 per cent from last December-February. The report supported earlier estimates by USDA that farmers are continuing to hold down production and that it may be late where the inventory next year before a substantial increase is seen. Drought this summer and a reduced corn crop also are factors in the decrease. And for about two weeks there has been widespread uncertainty among farmers as to what may happen for slaughter prices. Those used to a record high little more than a year ago, but those have since gyrated widely. Meat prices have climbed steadily.

Man Facing Life Terms

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Johnny Henderson Jr., 21, who testified he planned to shoot himself, faces two life prison terms for turning the gun in instead of two sheriff's deputies at the Bexar County jail.

A jury assessed the punishment Thursday after Henderson pleaded guilty to two counts of deadly assault on a peace officer.

Henderson was before District Court Judge James Barlow June 21 when I wanted to shoot myself over here (in the courtroom) but something told me, "Don't!" said Henderson at the punishment phase of his assault trial.

"I went to the jail and stared at the walls for awhile. All of a sudden, I got up and shot both the guards. I wanted to kill myself," said Henderson, who shot deputies Randall Nichols and Joseph Zapata.

The deputies, wounded after Henderson's bond on a rape charge was increased at the June 21 hearing, have since returned to duty. Henderson has yet to be tried on the rape charge.

Man Simply Didn't Want To Fight Undeclared War

Airport Traffic Jams To Remain A Problem

By The Associated Press
Airline passengers can zip from New York to Chicago in two hours and coast to coast in five.

But, as any seasoned traveler knows, getting to and from and through most major airports can be an annoying, choking sensation. Approach roads are jammed. Taxi rides frequently are long and expensive. Parking lots are full. Ticket lines can be lengthy. Long walks to a departure gate or between terminals are common. It sometimes seems an eternity before baggage arrives. The swift and reliable jet airliners, especially the wide-bodies jumbo jets, are attracting millions of new passengers each year. That adds to the airport saturation problem many cities are trying to solve with new, modern airports or expanded facilities.

Scheduled U.S. airlines carried 202 million passengers in 1973. The Air Transport Association forecasts more than 300 million passengers in 1980 and more than 700 million by the year 2000.

Automated "people movers," resembling miniature transit systems, now carry passengers around a few of the new airports, but the people movers haven't always worked properly. In the drive to modernize and expand airport capacity, computers have been installed in some places to handle baggage, but with mixed results.

OTHERS HAVE TRIED
Five cities — Dallas-Fort Worth, Houston, Kansas City, Tampa and Washington — have built new, modern airports in recent years, incorporating the latest technology. Other cities have tried, but have been blocked by environmentalists, by cutbacks in airline landing fees by noise problems, and by financing troubles. Some cities have settled on the interim step of enlarging existing facilities, postponing the construction of new airports until the 1980s or 1990s.

The newest, largest and spiffiest U.S. airport is the ultramodern facility that opened last January halfway between the rival Texas cities of Dallas and Fort Worth. Larger than the island of Manhattan, the 17,000-acre, $800 million complex features the latest in computer-controlled people movers and baggage handlers.

Designed to accommodate eight million or more passengers in its first year, it eventually can be expanded to take care of 50 million annually.

Two airlines at Dallas-Fort Worth operate an automatic baggage system called "Ducotel," a 4,000-foot complex of rails and cars resembling a miniature roller coaster. The computers that drive the system frequently guided bags to wrong bins or off the edge of the beltway or sent carrier cars crashing into suitcases with devastating results.

Another sticking point is the distance to the airport, 15 miles from Dallas or Fort Worth, a $14 cab ride.

NO PEOPLE MOVERS
Distance from downtown, 19 miles, is a sore point, too, at the new Kansas City International, which opened two years ago as the world's first airport featuring a "drive to your gate" processing system. Passengers and their baggage arriving at any of three circular terminals are never more than 200 feet from their aircraft. The world's shortest walk: to fly, proclaim airport brochures. A fleet of minibuses efficiently whisks people between terminals and parking lots.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Sun., Sept. 22, 1974 9-A

"We have no people movers or other automation here like Dallas-Fort Worth," said Howard Willoughby, Kansas City International's deputy director.

"When we designed the airport we looked at various systems. The costs were horrendous, nothing really worked and nothing impressed us. So we designed the 'drive to your gate' concept to avoid such things as people movers."

Tampa's new $100-million international airport employs four computer-driven people-mover shuttles to take passengers from the central terminal to four satellite boarding areas. Maximum walking distance from ground transportation to a boarding gate is 700 feet.

Since the airport opened three years ago, the shuttles have ferried 40 million people, with only two persons injured in a freak accident caused by human error.

The modern terminal has six floors. The first level is for baggage, second for ticketing, third for shops, restaurants, hotel and shuttles, and the top three for parking 1,800 cars. The airport is handling about 5.2 million people a year and has a capacity for 20 million.

"As far as we're concerned, the airport has exceeded our expectations," reports Paul MacAlester of the Hillsborough County Aviation Authority.

The oldest of the new airports, Dulles International, opened in 1963, hopefully to relieve congestion at Washington National Airport. But its location 27 miles from the nation's capital earned it a reputation as a lonely Taj Mahal in the Virginia countryside.

Both airports are run by the Federal Aviation Administration and thus are subject to the whims of Congress.

JOINS AGENCY — Kerry O'Brien has joined Captain Travel Inc. as office manager and travel consultant, according to an announcement by W. C. (Bill) Ragsdale, manager. A native of Reno, Nevada, O'Brien has experience in the travel agency business and has worked as an air traffic controller at Wake Island. The agency is located at 110 W. 3rd.

NUMBER 1,300 — Mrs. Gailene Griffin is the 1,300th student to register for fall classes at Howard College at Big Spring. This sets a new record for the college. Here, she studies with her nine-month-old daughter.

13 Lucky Number

Thirteen is Mrs. Gailene Griffin's lucky number. Mrs. Griffin, who lives at 112 Gunter, is the 1,300th student to register during the fall semester at Howard College at Big Spring.

Enrollment is now in excess of 1,300. This includes extension classes in Lamesa and San Angelo. The 1973 record of 1,299 had been the most students recorded. The largest number to be on the HC campus itself was 1,194 in 1970.

Mrs. Griffin is attending HC for the first time. She recently moved to Big Spring from Guatemala where her husband was stationed for three years. Her husband is currently attending classes at Randolph Air Force Base in San Antonio, but is stationed at Webb AFB.

She selected the new R.N. program as her major because "it's a good program to get into. I like working with people and this seemed the best way to do it."

While in Guatemala, she and her husband worked with several charities, orphanages, and distributed food from CARE to the families. "I'd like the people to know that their money they send in really does go to good use," she said.

An addition of a nine-month-old daughter accompanied the Griffins on their return to the States. She was adopted while in Guatemala, and was an orphan. The Griffins also have two sons.

Mrs. Griffin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K.W. Clark, 1817 E. Park Ave., Enid, Okla.

Lakes Bigger

Two San Angelo lakes will be blessed by copious run-offs from hard rains of the past week.

Friday evening the North Concho crested at 22 feet at Carlsbad and had put 11,000 acre-feet in the lake on a 22 1/2-foot rise. At least another 5,000 acre feet are expected, leaving the lake about one-third of capacity.

Twin Buttes reservoirs had picked up considerable inflow and Friday night 92,000 acre feet, a figure that was to grow to 110,000 on the strength of a mile-wide middle Concho at Mertzon.

West Texas' largest lake, Amistad, gained 600,000 acre feet on the strength of recently outpourings, making 4.2 million acre feet in storage there when floodgates were opened at Del Rio.

The Week

In the barrow show, Stan Parker's 223-pound entry, won the grand championship and $200 in the sale. Stacy Parker had the reserve champion; Brad Griffith best Duroc and Dirk Perry best other breed. Texas Cowbells had the best non-commercial and Goodyear the best commercial exhibit. Dick Nickols captured the fun event, the first annual National Sand Washer Pitching title. Entries were more plentiful this year except in the agricultural division (which was cut sharply by drought). More and more people are finding that the Fair is for everyone, and everyone can show something.

The Snyder Tigers gave our Big Spring Steers a firm football lesson Friday, shutting off our explosive outside game and then plugging the middle. Resorting to the bomb to catch up, the Steers saw this risky phase of their passing game boomerang. About the only consistently bright spot was Doug Robison's punting. Perhaps we got that "bad" game out of our system before district play.

The year's second quarter indicated better business with the city's sale tax amounting to $152,345, up 22 per cent over the $124,614 for the same period a year ago. Even discounting for inflation, this is a healthy gain.

The United Way campaign is pushing on all fronts, but most results are being reported by the Big Gifts division with about a third of its quota reached; also several units at Webb AFB where the CFC appeal is underway.

Despite a somewhat more favorable schedule and a local advertising campaign, boardings at Texas International are running well behind a year ago, according to TIA. August had 251 as against 371; July had 217 against 296. What the report doesn't say, however, is the difficulty some have encountered with reservations.

With Janelle Davis and Johnnie Lou Avery as co-chairmen, the Bicentennial observance here got off to an official start with formation of a steering committee last week. Virtually all individuals and organizations in the county will be asked to have a part under one of three major divisions — Heritage, Horizons and Festival.

Glenn Cantrell, president, received from Edgar Phillips, vice president, a plaque for 35 years with Cap Rock Electric Cooperative (all of it as president) when the annual meeting was held last weekend. In his own 35 years on the board, Phillips hasn't done so badly himself, missing only 13 out of 420 monthly meetings.

Big Spring schools got $158,345 from the Office of Human Development for the Headstart program, plus $7,396 carry over. Howard College shared in a $26,500 grant to be administered by HC, Midland and Odessa Colleges for promoting programs among the elderly.

Narcisco Joseph Santiago drew two years to life for the fatal shooting of Malcolm T. Core, and 10 years for a related assault count. But his attorneys protested that a birthday cake procured for one of the sequestered jurors and facetiously labeled, "Happy Birthday Jailbird," was prejudicial. Not so, ruled the Court of Criminal Appeals.

From the notebook: Edward D. Jones — Co. (which has an office here with Dan Wilkins in charge) was featured in the Sept. 5 issue of Wall Street Journal, reflecting that the company is making money when most brokerage houses are hurting.

J. W. (Woody) Campbell, who grew up here as the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jim Campbell, was in town last week on vacation from his post as supervisor of freight services for American Airlines at Tulsa, Okla. Two other former residents back for a short visit were Mr. and Mrs. Don Worthan.

Comes a unique note from Robert Rhodus, 130697, who says he is in the pokeny and lonely at Lucasville, Ohio 45648, and wants somebody to write him. Dr. George E. Dyer, who taught in Big Spring schools and Howard College from about 1957-63 and who more recently was professor of government at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock, died recently in Little Rock at age 45.

Crowd Of 4,000 At Fair Friday

When the weather cleared off Friday evening, 4,000 persons attended the Howard County Fair Friday night.

The rain began again early Saturday and the horse show moved inside from the rodeo arena to the old fair barn Saturday.

Top winners in the horse show included the grand champion mare, Skip a Bar Delight shown by Renee Robinette of Lamesa. Champion non register mare, Cinnamon was shown by Tana Yates of Tarzan. Grand champion stallion, Bravo Bar Fly was shown by Dub Coates of Coahoma with Box Wallace of Andrews showing the reserve with Tinker Bells Boy.

The grand champion gelding was Enough's Jack, shown by David Hall of Ackerly with the reserve, Skip's Mark shown by Carolyn Robinette of Lamesa. These winners were all in the adult division.

In the youth division, the grand champion youth gelding, Enough's Jack was shown by David Hall of Ackerly with Skips. Mark winning the reserve. Renee Robinette's Skip a Bar Delight also won the grand champion youth mare with Betsy's Cabin Bar shown by D'Ann Hall of Ackerly winning the reserve.

In the pet show, a Corgi dog was winner of best pet in show. The dog was shown by Billy Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hank Thompson, Star Route.

Seven Arrested Here After Downtown Fight

Two local police officers waded into the middle of a 15-man free-for-all in the 100 block of S. Main, in front of the Tap Room around 9 p.m. Friday and finally resorted to use of a mace gun and dispersing tear gas to break up the affray.

Joe Mollinary and Jorge Quintero were called to the scene where the men were involved in a violent fight on the sidewalk and in the street.

The two officers requested the men to disperse and when they failed to do so began to try to round up the ring leaders.

Mollinary was kicked in the stomach and knocked off his feet and when one of the group unsnapped his holster and tried to seize his police revolver, he resorted to use of the mace gun. Quintero and Mollinary together jailed seven, charging them with public affray.

They included Louis Aguilar, Ismael Juarez, Hector Franco, Cruz Juarez, Jesus Franco, Maltide Rodriguez and Joe Torrez. Fines were $60 each and they were released Saturday.

The fight apparently began over a woman, according to the officers.

Tigers Top Steers 25-6

By CLARK LESHER

SNYDER — Big Spring's win record of 2-0 was snapped here Friday night as the Tigers of Snyder corralled the Steers 25-6.

Snyder had received five inches of moisture in the last six days resulting in the turf being very soft.

Attendance was close to the 5,000 mark with a large Big Spring delegation present.

Snyder broke the game wide open in the fourth stanza with a 9 point plunge after holding onto a slim 6-0 first quarter lead.

Big Spring's six points took place late in the fourth frame.

Snyder's quarterback which bore a name quite appropriate to the occasion, Win Bunch, started his team's scoring procedure at 4:07 of the first. He crossed the goal line on a one-yard line QB sneak maneuver.

Extra point try by Ricky Beard was blocked by Steers' Ricky Darrow.

Both the Steers and Tigers battled to a standstill through the second and third frames. But when the last quarter clock started ticking off, Snyder's offense shifted into high gear.

Within a 5 1/2 minute span, the Tigers fashioned together 19 big points. Snyder's senior halfback Danny Brumley started his team's pursuit with a 20-yard TD at 11:55. Extra point pass play was incomplete.

Bunch who graduates next spring added scoring punch by diving across the end zone at 6:09. He had broken loose seconds earlier for an 80-yard scam, but was hauled down on the two yard line by Steers' Darrow and John Miller.

Steer defense held until the third play, then Bunch made his mark. Beard's extra point boot was wide of the target.

Snyder's TD machine finally was shut off at 5:13. Jim Flynn bolted over from the one, and Beard's kick sailed through the uprights.

This drive was started when Snyder's Dennis Young intercepted a pass and raced 50 yards before he was hauled in. Flynn took over from there.

Big Spring prevented a shutout as the Steers rushed through a quick TD pass play with only 32 seconds left. Quarterback Mark Moore hit Jon Russ for 28 yards. Extra point effort was short.

Russ helped set up the Steer drive as he rambled through the Tiger defense for 25 yards followed by a nine yard jaunt by Danny Ferrell.

Big Spring executed a timely off-side kick which was hauled in by Steers' Ken McMurty. But time was a factor and the visitors failed to benefit.

Snyder's talented Welton Cobb apparently had an off-night as he rushed for only 84 yards. On one occasion, the speedy halfback saw bright daylight but the Steer defense read the play and brought him down.

TACKLED FOR LOSS — Coahoma Senior John Echols (42) nails a Cisco ball carrier for a small gain in Friday night's football action between the two top rated schools in the state in AA. The Bulldog defense came up with several big plays, allowing the potent offense to run up 51 points in the 51-8 win. Other Bulldogs are Randy Gee (23), Paul Martinez (67), Mike Collier (83), and Mike Martinez (62).

ROPE LOBOS 51-8 Bulldogs Break Loose

By TROY BRYANT

COAHOMA — The top ranked Coahoma Bulldogs raced to a 14-0 lead via Putt Choate's four yard scoring run set up by a 57 yard run by quarterback Jody Bennett and a 65 yard punt return by Gary Roberts, and then never looked back as they confirmed their number one ranking by routing second ranked Cisco 51-8 before a sellout crowd here.

Both teams were undefeated going into the nonconference contest, and Coahoma and Cisco were one-two in the Associated Press top ten for Class AA teams.

The Bulldogs' work in practice on containing the "Quail" offense, invented by the Cisco coach, apparently paid off as time and time again, the stout Bulldog defense would stop the Lobos short of the yardage needed for the first down.

Bennett's 57 yard run came on their second play from scrimmage in the second half after Coahoma took a Cisco punt on their own 36 yard line after stopping a Cisco drive.

Choate's touchdown put the first points on the board, and Gary Roberts ran across for two points to give Coahoma an 8-0 lead.

Ricky Patterson took a Cisco punt at his own 35 yard line, faked the return and handed off to Gary Roberts, who raced the 65 yards for the second touchdown of the night behind a wall of Bulldog blockers along the sideline. The fake completely fooled the Cisco would-be tacklers. The try for points failed, and Coahoma took a 14-0 advantage going into the second quarter.

Most of the fireworks came in the second quarter, as Coahoma rang the scoreboard for 30 points in that period, giving them a 44-0 halftime lead.

Bennett passed to Mike Collier with 11:40 to go in the second quarter for 23 yards, for the third touchdown of the night, giving Coahoma a 20-0 lead after the extra point try was not good.

The touchdown was set up on a fumble recovery on Cisco's 20 yard line by Bulldog Robbie Tindol.

Putt Choate scored his second touchdown of the night on Coahoma's next possession was the Bulldogs drove 45 yards after taking a Lobo punt on Cisco's 45 yard line. Choate scored from five yards out, and then ran across for the extra points as Coahoma took a 29-0 lead.

On Coahoma's next possession after taking a Cisco punt on their own 39 yard line, the Bulldogs moved into scoring position again via a 38 yard run by Jody Bennett down to the five yard line.

Choate scored his third TD of the night on a five yard run set up by Bennett's run and Gary Roberts' two extra points put Coahoma ahead 36-0 with six minutes left in the half.

Choate's final touchdown of the night, and Coahoma's last of the first half was set up by a 24 yard run by Choate, capping a 67 yard drive to paydirt. Choate cruised the final five yards for the score and then added two extra points for the

Bobcats Down Cowboys 13-6

SAN ANGELO — Hobbled by a slippery field and sputtering offense, the San Angelo Bobcats managed Friday evening to turn back the Dallas Carter Cowboys 13-6.

The Bobcats roared to a pair of TDs on their first two possessions, in the second half then yielded a blocked punt which Carter's Bo Taylor scooped up to race 30 yards for a score with 4:44 left in the game. Carter tried an unsuccessful on-side kick, but San Angelo fumbled it away on the first play.

Marvin Williams saved it for San Angelo by intercepting a pass on his 21. Both Angelo and Carter stalled out after that.

The Bobcats scorers were stopped at the Carter 1, 14 and 17 in the first half before going in for two scores when they got the ball in the last half. Rudy Izzard hit Kelly

Cougars Nip Killeen 7-2

KILLEEN — Down 2-0 with the clock ticking down to nine minutes, the Cooper Cougars got fired up over a questionable pass interference call and defeated the Killeen Cougars 7-2 here Friday.

On Cooper's first play from scrimmage, after taking over on the one-yard line, Killy Gill was tackled in the end zone by Cecil Lefester for the two points that appeared for three quarters to be a sufficient margin.

Midway in the fourth,

Rebels Gain 13-0 Victory

PLAINVIEW — The alert Midland Lee Rebels capitalized on two fumbles to whip the Plainview Bulldogs 13-0 here Friday night.

Brian Murray lugged it for the final three yards after Plainview had fumbled away the opening kickoff on its own 25.

The Bulldogs padded their lead when Junior Miller recovered a third-quarter fumble in the end zone. Plainview, hampered by the absence of Jerry Thomas, its principal ground gainer, could not mount any serious threats. The Rebs finished pre-district play with a 3-0 record.

Bobcats Down Cowboys 13-6

SAN ANGELO — Hobbled by a slippery field and sputtering offense, the San Angelo Bobcats managed Friday evening to turn back the Dallas Carter Cowboys 13-6.

The Bobcats roared to a pair of TDs on their first two possessions, in the second half then yielded a blocked punt which Carter's Bo Taylor scooped up to race 30 yards for a score with 4:44 left in the game. Carter tried an unsuccessful on-side kick, but San Angelo fumbled it away on the first play.

Marvin Williams saved it for San Angelo by intercepting a pass on his 21. Both Angelo and Carter stalled out after that.

Stanton Bumped

ROTAN — Stanton failed to make its extra point try in the fourth quarter and lost to Rotan, 7-6, here Friday night.

Rotan threw Stanton off-balance midway in the first as James Goodwin rambled for 82 yards. Extra point try was good.

Stanton's defense checked Rotan the remaining three quarters. In the fourth, Stanton sneaked across with 2:28 left. Quarterback Gordon Eiland ran over from the one yard line. The all-important extra point pass effort was shy.

Bill Young, Stanton coach, summed it up, "We were rated No. 9 going into the game, I guess you would consider it an upset."

"I felt we had a better

Stanton Bumped

team and should have won, we weren't mentally ready and took Rotan lightly besides playing on a very wet field."

Stanton penetrated to Rotan's four-yard line on one occasion but couldn't move forward. Two bad snaps over Stanton's punter's head Bobby Richardson totaled 49 yards.

Four times scoring drives were stopped by fumbles.

Stanton's next game and "Homecoming" is against Roscoe, at 8 p.m. Friday. Stanton's record is now 1-2.

Tornadoes Lose 10-0

18 States Require Safety Training

AUSTIN — Got everything packed for that out-of-state hunting trip this fall: guns, scopes, thermal underwear, camping gear, hunter safety certificates?

If you forgot the last item, hunter safety certificates, you might as well forget the whole trip in some of the states which neighbor Texas.

To date 18 states require some kind of hunter safety education before issuing a hunting license: California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Utah and Washington.

In Colorado, those born after Jan. 1, 1949, must complete an eight-hour training course to purchase a first-time hunting license. You also must be at least 14 years of age to purchase a hunting license.

All persons born after Jan. 1, 1958, who wish to hunt in New Mexico must have completed a hunter safety course unless they are immediately accompanied by a parent or guardian. After Jan. 1, 1976, all persons 18 years of age or younger must have this training prior to hunting or shooting a firearm regardless of whether they are accompanied by a parent or guardian or not.

Regardless of hunter safety requirements, such instruction is life insurance.

SIU Joins Conference

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — The Missouri Valley Conference Thursday admitted Southern Illinois University, boosting conference membership to nine members.

Southern Illinois had been under consideration for the 67-year-old conference for months. The Salukis will begin spring sports competition in the Valley next spring.

Football and basketball schedules are being reviewed to allow Southern Illinois to start competition for those titles as quickly as possible.

First, second and third place winners in local competition will receive one of 18 local trophies.

Each registrant will receive a free PP&K Tips Book which includes a complete set of rules, helpful conditioning exercises and important punting, passing and place-kicking tips by leading NFL specialists in these skills.

PP&K involves no body contact, no special equipment is required and youngsters compete only against others in their own age group. Participation does not impair a youngster's amateur standing.

Registrations for the 1974 Punt, Pass, and Kick Program sponsored locally by Bob Brock Ford continue to roll in. The national goal is a record 1,200,000 registrants.

The final day to register is Oct. 4. Competition will take place Oct. 5 at 2 p.m. at Bankership Field.

Over the past 13 years, PP&K has registered more than ten million youngsters, making it the largest youth activity of its kind in America. In each of the last six years, registrations have topped the million mark.

Appointed 8 through 13 years of age, accompanied by a parent or guardian, may register at any participating Ford Dealer. There is no registration fee.

VOLKSWAGEN INTRODUCES THE PERFECT CAR FOR ITS TIME.

The new Volkswagen Dasher does everything you want a car to do, and does it on about 27 miles per gallon. That's why it's the ideal car for today.

Dasher does a powerful 0-30 in only 8 1/2 seconds. It holds its own comfortably. It has front wheel drive and gives you control you've never felt in any conventional car. It has the amazing Skidbreaker. When one side of the car is riding on a slippery surface, Skidbreaker forces Dasher to move in a straight line as you brake. It needs maintenance at only 10,000 mile intervals. And it's covered by the Volkswagen Owners Security Blanket.

Nobody else is even close.

DASHER A new kind of Volkswagen.

Mediterranean Sunshine Browning Travelers From Top To Bottomless

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
(AP Special Correspondent)

CAP D'AGDE, France (AP) — Brigitte Bardot's celebrated birthday suit is now 40 summers old, and the time has come to see how far the Permissive Society has spread since she first doffed her bra on the sands of time.

Can it really be only five years since La Sex Kitten's dishabile made St. Tropez the motherhouse of an unclad cult that now stretches from the pools of Monte Carlo to the shores of Tripoli? Well, Tunisia anyway.

"The Naked and the Med," travel agents call it when trying to flog travel-light vacations.

TOPLESS TALE
Almost by way of an anniversary salute, the ever vigilant police of St. Tropez recently bounded out of the bushes and caught photographer Helmut Newton in the act of photographing a topless model on a motorbike.

Viola. There and then they booked her for not wearing a crash helmet.

A droll story, no? But wait, had she been bottomless, too, the girl would have been liable to a fine of up to $200, and double if not paid in 15 days, plus eight days in jail.

It seems that the nude scene at St. Tropez had become de trop — too much — for the local villagers. Fed up to the eyeballs with total nudity on their pebbly beaches, they have beefed up the beach patrol from 13 to 42 gendarmes and set up a special court to deal with offenses against "public decency."

French public opinion is firmly on their side. A survey taken at the beginning of the summer by the French Institute of Public Opinion showed only 7 per cent of the nation's population favored total nudity on the beach and only 13 per cent tolerated the topless craze. For women, the figures dipped even lower.

And yet at Cap D'Agde, around the next big bend in the Mediterranean coast, the French are busy building the biggest and most naked city in the world, a complex of three nudist holiday centers complete with hotels, restaurants, villas, high-rise apartments, shops and a marina. By 1980, Port Nature and its environs will have room for 30,000 "naturist," as they are called in Europe, and 600 yachts.

LIP COVERED
"I come here to throw off the stifling conformity of life back home," explained Evelyn Jarry, a hairdresser from Montpellier, who obviously had thrown off more than that. She sat sipping a beer at an outdoor cafe in Port Nature, clad only in its horizon of foam on her upper lip.

Barefoot up to her headband, Beatrice Arvet pushed a shopping cart through the aisles of the nudist self-service grocery. "Me? I spend my life cooped up in an office in Paris. On vacation, I want to be free. From everything."

There is this about many members of the Permissive Society: whether topless at toney Antibes or simmering in the altogether on the rocky ledges of Isle du Levant, France's oldest nudist enclave, they almost invariably come from someplace else. Damsels who wouldn't don a miniskirt on a dare in Back Bay, Boston, ride as bareback as their ponies on the sands of St. Juan-Les-Pins.

GERMAN F.K.K.
When it comes to taking their clothes off, West Germans lead the world. A German jet set estimated at more than five million annually jets to the nudist beaches of Europe and North Africa. Some 150,000 Germans belong to Deutscher Verband für Freikörperkultur, better known as F.K.K., the largest nudist organization in the world.

The further north the tourist ventures, the more permissive European society seems to become. In Denmark, where nudist beaches have been set aside since the '30s, the topless craze has come to town. Office girls shed their bras to sunbathe in public parks during their lunch breaks.

COPENHAGEN CORNUCOPIA
Each year wonderful Copenhagen becomes more full of wonders. The mixed sauna, mixed camping and mixed youth hostels have long been a way of life in the homeland of the groupie bungalow and the live sex show. Rival afternoon newspapers sponsor contests for the loveliest bikini-less body, and one afternoon paper and several magazines have begun featuring full frontal nude males, allegedly in response to feminine demands.

Sweden, still further north, actually has a law against "behavior aimed at causing annoyance to the public," but it's been decades since any member of the public claimed annoyance at the sight of an unfettered Viking goddess frolicking in the Midnight Sun.

All over Europe, tourists still hand in their passports at the hotel registration desk, as required by the police, but it's rare anywhere, even in conservative Spain and Portugal, for a couple to be turned away for not having the same last name.

FLOATING FUZZ
"Monokinistes," those preferring only the nether portion of the bathing suit, are subject to a month in jail and fines up to $600 in Italy, where the influence of the Catholic Church is strong, but police have to catch them first. At Ostia and Fregene, near Rome, maritime patrols in rubber dinghies assist local Carabinieri on private beaches. "By the time we get there in our nine-year-old dinghy," complained Tomasso Urgere, a member of the floating fuzz, "the girl has enough time to get completely dressed in hat, gloves and shoes."

Africa has both the climate and the vast white beaches to reap a rich tourist harvest from the permissive scene, but tough laws against outrages to public morals tend to keep visitors and natives alike from going native. Still, Tunisia and Senegal are bidding for nudist hotel complexes, and the Ivory Coast already has a flourishing nudist colony for whites only at Atlantic Beach, near Abijan, where only the black attendants and waiters wear clothes. Topless sunbathing has become commonplace at many of the Club Mediterranean facilities, although Moslem males in the vicinity can be brutally outspoken about the practice.

VICTORIAN SANCTUARY — The Moscow River and the beach of the Big Spring, as illustrated by Judette Bloom, are two places in the world even string bikinis haven't become common. Elsewhere, in Europe if not Texas, laws and public opinion are more open.

Tiny Gambia hosts hundreds of charter flights for nudists from Europe.

MOSCOW VICTORIAN
Rocky Marciano bathing trunks and a bra out of a Victorian ladies magazine still constitute the average bikini along the Moscow River and on the beaches of Yalta, where it is conceded that the "tanga," the string bikini imported this year to Europe from Brazil, will take longest to penetrate.

But "La Ficelle," as the French call the string bikini, already has put in an appearance on the ordinary tourist beaches of Yugoslavia.

MOVIE PORTRAITS

"Ride in a Pink Car," opening Friday at the R-70 Theatre, was filmed entirely on location in rural Rubonia. Rubonia has a population of 1200, 40 per cent black, 20 per cent Puerto Rican, 20 per cent Mexican, 20 per cent white and of course the migrating workers. For five days a week, everybody loves everybody else. But when the weekend comes around, anything is liable to happen and usually does.

R. Polanski Gets Wish

"I always wanted to make a private-eye movie," confesses Roman Polanski, the Polish film director who frightened millions of moviegoers with "Rosemary's Baby," and has completed filming "Chinatown," his first United States-based film since that successful 1968 thriller.

"Chinatown" (R) starts today at the Cinema. Polanski, an enthusiastic talker, describes "Chinatown" as "a classical detective story with a modern shape."

"I'm a movie buff and I love the films of the thirties and forties," he explains. Before filming "Chinatown," which is a detective melodrama set in the thirties, Polanski did some enjoyable homework, haling himself up in a screening room with prints of such classic murder melodramas as "The Maltese Falcon" (directed by John Huston, who plays an important role in "Chinatown") and "The Big Sleep" (two Alan Ladd vehicles, "This Gun for Hire" and "The Glass Key") and a pair of Hitchcock gems, "Strangers on a Train" and "Rear Window."

NFL Sunday Roundup

Finks To Run Bears

Matuszak Still Wants To Play

HOUSTON (AP) — John Matuszak says he still wants to play football when he's free to do so.

The 6-8, 290-pound defensive tackle who was the National Football League's No. 1 draft choice in 1973, jumped a four-year NFL contract Aug. 28 and joined the WFL Houston Texans.

However, the Oilers obtained a court order prohibiting him from playing with any other club and the situation became more confusing this week when the Texans announced they were moving to Shreveport, La.

Matuszak said Thursday all of his contract troubles might be clarified if the Oilers would let him play with another NFL team.

He said he is willing to play with another NFL team and does not believe his WFL contract would stand in the way should he be traded.

He said he would like to go to a team that has a "sensitive progressive man" as a coach.

The second National Football League Sunday, normally "getting even" day for the betting losers from the previous weekend, is viewed in the same terms by the defending champion Miami Dolphins, who must beat the high-flying Buffalo Bills to square their record.

The Dolphins were stung by the New England Patriots 34-24 last Sunday as they began defense of their two successive Super Bowl crowns.

Buffalo rallied in the final minute Monday night to nip the Oakland Raiders 21-20.

The Bills-Dolphins game, an American Football Conference East Division tilt, highlights the second week of NFL play.

The rest of Sunday's schedule has St. Louis playing at Washington, Pittsburgh at Denver, Kansas City at Oakland, New Orleans at Los Angeles, Minnesota at Detroit, New England in New Haven, Conn. against the New York Giants, San Diego at Cincinnati, San Francisco at Atlanta, the New York Jets at Chicago, Houston at Cleveland, and Green Bay at Baltimore.

The Dallas Cowboys travel to Philadelphia to face the Eagles in a nationally televised game Monday night.

Record-holding running back O.J. Simpson sat out the entire second half last Monday night, but the Bills, behind the passing combination of Joe Ferguson to Ahmad Rashad, picked up the slack.

The Dolphins were without their outside threat, Mercury Morris, against the Patriots.

St. Louis, 1-0, kept Philadelphia's potent passing attack off the scoreboard last week, but the Redskins, 1-0, with Larry Brown, Larry Smith and Duane Thomas are known to travel best on land.

Quarterback Joe Gilliam is again in the driver's seat for the Steelers, who blanked Baltimore 30-0 last week. The Broncos, 0-1, dropped a 17-10 squeaker to Los Angeles but hold 3-0 edge over Pittsburgh in previous meetings.

Kansas City, 1-0, and Oakland, 0-1, meet in a classic series. It has its roots back in the old American Football League and stands even at 14-14-2.

The Chiefs, with quarterback Len Dawson apparently healthy again, rallied to beat the Jets last Sunday.

Los Angeles, 1-0, brings its offensive show home against the Saints, 0-1. John Hadl directs the Rams attack, calling on Lawrence McCutcheon and Jim Bertelsen on the ground and Harold Jackson in the air. Archie Manning calls signals for New Orleans.

Minnesota, 1-0, has made pussycats of the Lions the last six years, whipping them 12 straight times. Chuck Forman rushed for three touchdowns in the Vikings' 32-17 victory over Green Bay last Sunday.

New England quarterback Jim Plunkett had lots of time and success against the Dolphins last week as did Sam Cunningham and Mack Herron, who ran up a combined 175 yards. The Giants, 0-1, showed a tough defense last week against Washington.

Cincinnati displayed a dynamic offense against the Browns in last Sunday's 33-7 victory. Speedster Isaac Curtis caught five passes from Kenny Anderson for 117 yards. San Diego, 0-1, rolled up 411 offensive yards despite losing to Houston 21-14.

San Francisco beat the Oilers on a late-game blocked punt that set up Sammy Johnson's nine-yard TD run.

Atlanta, with quarterback Pat Sullivan and Bob Lee both seeing action, generated little offense in 24-0 loss to Dallas last Sunday.

Jets' quarterback Joe Namath completed 14 of 30 passes for 210 yards and two touchdowns, but also suffered four interceptions against Kansas City as New York dropped its season opener. Chicago, 1-0, found a gamebreaking passing combination in quarterback Gary Huff to Charley Wade, who grabbed two passes for 116 yards.

CHICAGO (AP) — President, acclaimed the acquisition of Finks.

"Jim will take over the running of the club," said Mugs Halas in introducing Finks at an elaborate news conference.

Finks left the Vikings in May and since has been a consultant for the NFL's Management Council in negotiations with the striking players union.

"I have the authority to hire or fire anybody in the Bear organization," said Finks, stressing that Papa Bear Halas and Mugs Halas guaranteed him full control of player and coaching personnel.

Both owner George Halas, Sr., a co-founder of the National Football League in 1920, and George "Mugs" Halas, Jr., erstwhile general manager and still club president, will be replaced by Finks.

Hired Thursday to run the whole show was Jim Finks, 10-year general manager of the Minnesota Vikings, named Bear executive vice president, general manager and chief operating officer.

Dallas won its ninth straight season opener as quarterback Roger Staubach directed a balanced attack that netted 205 rushing yards and 206 in the air. Philadelphia quarterback Roman Gabriel hit on 23 of 39 passes for 208 yards against the Cardinals but four incompletions inside the St. Louis 10 in the final 30 seconds sealed a 7-3 loss.

Bill Munson will start at quarterback in place of Greg Landry, who has a hairline fracture of the left shoulder, for Detroit and new head coach in Rick Forzano, who replaced the late Don McCafferty.

Smyer Downs Borden

SMYER — Smyer sprang a mild upset by running roughshod over Borden County, 48-22, here Friday night.

Smyer built up a 40-0 advantage in the first half and never looked back.

Danny Gholdson led the Smyer attack, scoring three touchdowns. Halfback Woody Lyons chipped in with two touchdowns for the winners.

QB Garry Gilbert ran for one Wellman score and passed to Nick Sanders for another. The latter play covered 52 yards.

Los Angeles, 1-0, brings its offensive show home against the Saints, 0-1. John Hadl directs the Rams attack, calling on Lawrence McCutcheon and Jim Bertelsen on the ground and Harold Jackson in the air. Archie Manning calls signals for New Orleans.

Minnesota, 1-0, has made pussycats of the Lions the last six years, whipping them 12 straight times. Chuck Forman rushed for three touchdowns in the Vikings' 32-17 victory over Green Bay last Sunday.

HOMECOMING '74

"BSHS is ----," that's the theme of Homecoming '74 at Big Spring High School. Homecoming is for every student who ever spent a day in the classrooms of the local school . . . that means those that still live here as well as those who are making their homes in other places. The coming together of exes brings a close tie of the present with the past, a good experience for the older exes as well as for the younger ones.

The homecoming activities this year begin on Thursday night Oct. 3, when a community pep rally will be held at 8:30 p.m. at the Courthouse Square. This promises to be a lively evening with Big Spring High Band on hand to give spirit to the occasion and speakers to enthuse the crowd prior to the football game with Abilene High School.

On Friday, Oct. 4, a school pep rally is slated at 3 p.m. and 4:30 p.m. the first floats of the Homecoming parade will start rolling. Beginning at 6 p.m. the Band Boosters will again sponsor the buffet dinner and mixer at the Howard College cafeteria. Pre-game ceremonies at Memorial Stadium will start at 7:30 p.m. when the crowning of the homecoming queen will take place, and winning floats will be paraded.

At 8 p.m. the big game with Abilene High School is slated.

Following the game there will be numerous parties over the city for the various class groups. Exes of the years 1930 through 1939 will gather at the First Federal Community Room, 500 Main. For those who will not attend the ball game, Mrs. Ruth Lusk Mitchell will be hostess beginning at 9 p.m. Other hostesses will be Mrs. Ray McMahan, Mrs. Joe Pickle, Mrs. Eleanor Matheny, Mrs. Willard Hendrick, Mrs. Alden Ryan, Mrs. Don Anderson and Mrs. Jennie Lucille McEvers.

A thirtieth anniversary celebration is being planned for the class of '44 and it has invited classes of '43 and '45 to join in the festivities after the game at the high school cafeteria. Mrs. Pat Holcombe Simmons is chairman for the entertainments planned and asked that those who want to attend the Saturday buffet at La Posada make reservations with her no later than Oct. 1, by calling her after 5:30 p.m. at 263-4607. The time has been set for 12:30 p.m.

Classes from 1950-55 will have an after game party at St. Mary's Episcopal Parish Hall, 1005 Goliad. Hostesses for the affair are Mrs. Louis Stallings, Miss Beverly Jones, Mrs. Bob Simpson, Mrs. Billy Mac Sheppard, Mrs. Frosty Robison, and Mrs. John Birdwell.

The Settles Hotel ballroom will be the gathering place for homecomers of the classes 1956-59 immediately after the game. Class members of '60 and '61 have been invited to join the party if they like. Mrs. Julie Rainwater Shirey is chairman of the affair.

On Saturday members of the '35, '36 and '37 Pep Squad who were under the direction of Mrs. Lillian Shick Dawson, will have a brunch. The party will be held at the Big Spring Country Club Blue Room beginning at 10 a.m. Reservations should be made no later than Oct. 1 by telephoning Mrs. Helen Stewart, 263-7165. All members are invited but invitations were mailed to the out-of-town exes only.

From 10 a.m. to 12 noon Saturday, Miss Twila

Lomax will be hostess for coffee and members of the classes of 1919, '20 and '21 as guests. There are 11 members of the '19 class that make their home in Big Spring. They are, in addition to Miss Lomax, Miss Marion McDonald, Mrs. Rufus Davidson, Mrs. M.C. Stulting, Mrs. Ralph Baker, Mrs. C.S. Anderson, Mrs. C.R. Dunagan, Miss Elsie Willis, Mrs. L.D. Jenkins, Mrs. Kathleen Williams and Mrs. Cecil Wasson.

The Hall of Fame Induction Ceremony will begin at 2 p.m. at which time Cong. J.J. Pickle, '34, and Joe Pickle, '28, Big Spring Herald editor, will be honored.

Following the induction, open house for the exes will be hosted by the Big Spring High Student Council. Also class organizational meetings will be held.

Climaxing the weekend activities will be the Homecoming Dance for exes at the Howard County Fair Barn beginning at 8:30. Students will have their dance at the High School Cafeteria.

Wedding Rites In Hereford

Mrs. Stephanie Maloney and Paul Curtiss Ireland were united in marriage Saturday in a ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holt, Hereford, with the Rev. Roger Knapp, First Presbyterian minister at Hereford, officiating.

The bride, who resides at 538 Westover, Apt. 207, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marion, 217 N. Scioto, Circleville, Ohio, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ireland, 1605 Santa Fe Dr., Sweetwater.

The rites took place before a fireplace covered with greenery, highlighted by matching arrangements of yellow and white daisies, gypsophila and tapers.

She was given in marriage by her son, Paul Frank.

Mrs. Elizabeth Holt, Hereford, was the organist, and Gary Parker, Dallas, sang and played the guitar.

The bride's floor-length gown with empire waist was pale blue crepe with a lace bodice trimmed with rose medallions. She wore a crown of gypsophila and pearl earrings which were given by the bridegroom. Her flowers were a fireside basket of white daisies and gypsophila trimmed with blue love knots.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Ed Seay, Big Spring, who wore a floor length crepe gown trimmed in yellow lace. Her flowers were a fireside basket of yellow daisies and gypsophila.

The best man was W.M. Bonesio, Dallas, cousin of the bridegroom.

For the wedding trip to Padre Island and Corpus Christi, the bride wore a floral print pant suit with black accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Ireland will be at home at 538 Westover, Apt. 207.

She is a graduate of Riverside-Whitecross School of Nursing, Columbus, Ohio, and is director of nursing at Mountain View Lodge. The bridegroom is a graduate of Austin College in Sherman and is employed by Surgical Medical Supply of Abilene.

Brighter Pans

Cooking acid foods like tomatoes and apples in an aluminum pan gives the pan a bright inside surface. The outside of the pan can be brightened by using a soap-filled steel wool pad.

Mark Date

Always mark the date of purchase on a new can of spice. This way, there will be no guessing as to the age of spice and it can be discarded when the notation shows that it has become too old.

Musical, Drama, Opera Scheduled

"Lil Abner" that delightful, folksy musical which stormed Broadway, and has been a favorite of music and drama groups ever since, will be staged here Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The cast comes from the choir and drama departments at Big Spring High School, and there hasn't been a foul ball out of their stable of presentations in years. Curtain time is 8 p.m., and if you'll just call the choir department at high school, someone will deliver your tickets ($3) to you. All seats are reserved.

Mark Morgan is Lil Abner; Nancy Conway, Daisy Mae; David Trimm, Murrin Sam; Bobby Bradshaw, General Bull Moose; Barbara Dirks, Mammy Yoakum; Bobby Clark, Pappy Yoakum.

John Gordan is losing no time in getting his drama students at Howard College on the road. They have chosen Murray Schisjaj's pixie satire, "Luv," as the play for Oct. 24-25 in the College auditorium. While there are a few vocal solos, the production which hit Broadway first in 1964, essentially is a delicate but incisive satire on chronic complainers. A second production has been scheduled tentatively for Dec. 6-7, and this may take the form of a dinner theatre.

Big Spring will host the district conference of Texas Federated Music Clubs Oct. 12, and it will be on the campus of Howard College with Mrs. Marguerite Hyden in charge of arrangements. Besides the large number of delegates, around 400 high school and college students will be on the program starting at 2 p.m. The morning session will be given over to business, and to solos, duet, ensembles, etc. Included will be Mary Skalicky and Harlan Thornton of HC.

Heritage Museum's popular exhibit on early Big Spring — "Shine on Big Spring," based on the late Shine Philips' popular book, comes down after Thursday. So if you haven't seen this, please make it to the museum in the next two or three days. The interim exhibit will be starting Oct. 1 when Toy Walther brings an exceptionally varied art and crafts exhibit from her Wind River Gallery at Dallas. Hours (so working people can have a chance to see this fine display) will be 1 p.m. to 8 p.m. through Oct. 5. The next permanent exhibit with themes of this area under various flags during its history, will go up in mid-October. Nine flags, including O.S. ones before and after the Civil War, today's 50-star version, the Confederate stars and bars, Spain, France, and Mexico, plus the old and the present Texas flags, will form the backdrop of the exhibit shaped by Mike Paul and his associates. Memberships for the week include First Federal Savings & Loan (Endowment), Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Tibbs, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Justiss, Mr. and Mrs. Horace E. Tubbs, Dr. and Mrs. H. T. Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Driver, Mrs. Woodrow Robison and Billie Rhodes Smith.

"Ice Capades" will be at the Ector County Coliseum in Odessa again starting Tuesday, Oct. 8 through Oct. 13. This year's Ice Capets take their inspiration from Kilgore College's famous Rangerettes, the precision drill team directed by Gussie Nell Davis, marching on to the "magic screen." Tickets ($3, $4, $5 and half price for youths 12 and under) may be had from P.O. Box 3636, Chuck Wagon Gang, Odessa 79760.

"All the World's a Stage," a documentary film on the life of William Shakespeare, will make its debut at the Globe of the Great Southwest Oct. 18, 19, 25 and 26. The movie was filmed during the past summer in the Globe on the Odessa College campus and includes screen star Clare Luce and Ronald Ibbs of the Dublin players.

Dallas Theatre Center's next production is "Jack Ruby, All-American Boy," the drama hinging on the slayer of Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy. There will be only 10 performances, 8 p.m.; reservations may be had from the center at 3636 Turtle Creek Road, Dallas 75219.

An intriguing exhibition of Western art, literature and memorabilia collected over five decades by noted Texas historian J. Evetts Haley, is now on view at the Museum of the Southwest in Midland. The selected works shown are relative to exploration, military history, Indians, etc. The show goes to Oct. 29, 10 a.m.-5 p.m. daily and 2-5 p.m. Sunday.

Bill Cauble, noted for his oilfield paintings, will be honored with a one-man show and sale at the Rodeway Inn, Midland through today. A native of Shackelford County, he followed his father's footsteps in the oilfields.

Beverly Sills will be featured as Lucrezia Borgia in the opening performance of the Dallas Civic Opera season as it gets underway Nov. 1, 3, 5. Other leads in Donizetti's fiery rendering of the notorious Italian beauty, are Jose Carrereas as Gennaro, Matteo Manguerra as Alfanso, Titiana Troyanos as Orsini. Other season offerings will be "Tosca," Nov. 15, 17, 19; "Mignon," Nov. 27, 29; "Puritan," Dec. 5, 8, 10.

The Malboro Chuchwagon and mobile museum of art will be back at the State Fair of Texas, Oct. 5-20 in Dallas. The kitchen on wheels will be serving authentic Western food, including chili and son-of-a-gun stew, while visitors may also inspect bronzes, paintings, etc.

The Houston Ballet will premiere its 1974-75 season in Jones Hall, Oct. 24 with international stars. The season offerings include 10 ballets, including 10 holiday performances of "The Nutcracker."

Shepperd Strudwick has signed for the title roll in "Wilson" at Alley Theatre, 615 Texas Ave. in Houston (77002). The play will open Alley's 28th season Oct. 17. Strudwick is renowned for roles in such productions as "JB," "Who's Afraid of Virginia Wolf," as Commander Bucher in "Pueblo."

If you like your football,

State Fair this year includes contests between SMU-Oregon State, Prairie View-Grambling, Texas-Oklahoma, and SMU-Virginia Tech. Other entertainment will include "Irene" starring Debbie Reynolds and Patsy Kelly; plus the shows, midway, etc.

Paintings that in one way or another depict the theme of aviation are spotlighted in an exhibit, "Photo-Realism, 1973" at the University of Texas Art Museum in Austin. This unusual Stuart M. Speiser collection remains on view through next Sunday.

Cotham-Novak Plans Told

Miss Clarice Novak of Huntington, Tenn., and Harry Don Cotham, Nashville, Tenn., former Big Spring resident, will be married in Huntington on Nov. 29.

The prospective bridegroom graduated from Big Spring High School while his parents, the Perry B. Cothams, made their home here. Cotham was minister at the 14th and Main Church of Christ. They now live in Grand Prairie.

Following the wedding the couple will make a home at 1123 Maplehurst Lane, Nashville, Tenn.

Cynthia Halfmann Delegates Named Weds Danny Webb For Convention

Miss Cynthia Ann Halfmann became the bride of Danny Hugh Webb in a 7:30 p.m. ceremony, Friday at the College Baptist Church. Vows were exchanged in the presence of Dr. Jimmy Law before an heart shaped arch flanked by apiral candelabra and baskets of white carnations, white mums and gypsophila. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene H. Halfmann, 421 Westover Road, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Webb, Lovington, N.M.

Mrs. Gene Halfmann, sister-in-law of the bride, was the vocalist, and wedding music was played by Karen Fuller, pianist, and Debby Haller, organist. The bride chose a formal-length gown of sheer organza and silk floss lace. The gown was fashioned with a high neckline of pleated sheer ruffle. A yoke that extended to the empire waistline was of silk floss lace. Her Victorian sleeves were enhanced with silk floss lace cuffs and edged with pleated ruffles. Silk floss lace motifs accented the demi-full skirt and chapel-length train. Wide pleated ruffles, topped with satin ribbon and bows, edged the hemline, while seed pearls adorned the lace Juliet cap that held the full-length veil, which was edged with Venice Lace.

She carried a cascade of yellow sweetheart roses, white carnation and English ivy.

Ms. Lisa Brown, Lubbock, matron of honor, wore a floor-length yellow and white dotted Swiss empire gown with a square neckline accented with white lace. The bodice was appointed with yellow. She, as did the bridesmaids, carried a colonial nosegay of yellow carnations, white stephanotis with yellow streamers.

Bridesmaids were Ms. Susan Sherrod, Big Spring. She and Ms. Brown wore yellow garden hats with yellow net and garden bouquets attached.

Johnny Pritchett, Odessa, was the best man, and Gene Halfmann, brother of the bride, was the groomsmen. Gregg Halfmann, another brother, was the usher. Lori McDowell, Colorado City, wearing a dress identical to the two attendants, was the flower girl.

After a wedding trip to Dallas the couple will be at home at 1910 Johnson.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School, and is a ward secretary at Medical Center Memorial Hospital. The bridegroom attended New Mexico Junior College, the Navy Medical Hospital Corps school at San Diego, Calif., lab technician school at Corpus Christi, and field medical technology school at Oceanside, Calif. He is a medical technologist at the Malone - Hogan Clinic.

The table for the reception in the College Baptist activities building was covered with a yellow cloth overlaid with off-white lace, and centered with yellow and white carnations and gypsophila. Mrs. Cecil Pearce, Miss Kathy Gunnels, Miss Marsha Boles, Miss Linda Halfmann, and Miss Jacalyn Minchew served.

A LOVELIER YOU Slim, Trim Ankles For New Lengths

By MARY SUE MILLER

A Lovely asks: What will trim down my legs in a hurry? Especially the ankles? I just bought a mid-calf skirt and a pair of those loose boots that crush around the ankles. My legs look twice the size and I did so want to wear the new skirts. I've been covering up with pants for so long.

The Answer: Let's first analyze the fashions then get to the trimmers. The longer skirts are well able to minimize leg problems, depending on the turn of the hem and the width at that point. The lower legline responds to a hem that falls a fraction (mind you, "fraction") of an inch below the calf and swirls with fullness away from the legs.

As for boots, they must not be so crushy that they are sloppy. Folds around the ankles should be neat; colors on the dark side. Heaven forbid that you should wear beige suede, if you could afford the inflationary impulse.

Now for the Trimmers: Slimming results require time, but more agility and grace of movement come from this workout:

1. Sit on floor, legs straight and together. Place hands lightly on knees. With knees touching, draw toes along floor toward hips as far as possible. (Feet and leg leave floor except for toes.) Return to starting position by reversing action. Repeat 10 times, slowly with accurate movements.

2. Walk across the room. Let heels and toes touch floor almost at the same moment.

Anne Shirley And R.R. Law Marry

Miss Mary Ann Shirley became the bride of Lt. Randall Ray Law Saturday 2:30 p.m. in wedding rites at the chapel of Reese AFB at Lubbock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Shirley, Route 1, Big Spring, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Junior C. Law, Quimby, Ia.

Vows were solemnized by James C. Shirley, Houston, uncle of the bride, while the vocalist was Mrs. James C. Shirley, her aunt, with Mrs. Roy Don Weak as organist.

The bride's gown was Camelot style of English net intricately applied in Venise lace star flowers. The moulded bodice featured a sunburst yoke neckline edged in lace with a high wedding band collarlet of lace flowers. Brief fitted sleeves repeated the lace motif. The slim skirt was sprinkled in dimensional lace flowers, and garlands of flowers formed a triple petal effect into the chapel-length train.

The Camelot capulet was Venise lace with pearls and flowerlets trimmed in white lace. She carried a bouquet of orchids, surrounded by yellow and pink sweetheart roses, gypsophila and carnations.

The maid of honor, Miss Ann Crawford, Big Spring, wore an empire style gown of lime evellet. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Jimmy Giles, Lake Jackson, Miss Sharon Richards, Stamford and Miss Karen Shirley, Big Spring, sister of the bride. They wore empire-style gowns of yellow, blue and orchid evellet.

Dennis Law, Quimby, Ia., brother of the bridegroom, was the best man, while Lt. Ted Kammir, Salamanca, N.Y., Lt. Alan J. Briding, Colorado Springs, Colo., Mike Goodson, Houston, were the groomsmen. Ushers were Steve Fraser, Coahoma, and Danny Goodson, Texas City.

Jill Shirley, Houston, was the flower girl, and Carey Fraser, Big Spring, was the ringbearer. Taper lighters were Tommy Shirley, brother of the bride, and Steve Shirley, a cousin.

Following the ceremonies, the couple left on a wedding trip to Colorado Springs and Denver, Colo., and to Iowa before going to a new home in Little Rock, Ark.

The bride is a 1970 graduate of Coahoma High School, an August, 1974, graduate of Texas Tech University with a home economics BS in food nutrition and administrative dietetics. She was a member of the Tech Student Dietetics Association and American HE Association.

The bridegroom is a 1973 graduate of South Dakota State University with a BS in economics and mechanized agriculture. He also is a USAF pilot graduate at Reese AFB.

The reception was at Reese AFB Officers Open Mess. The refreshment table was covered with a white embroidered cloth and centered with an arrangement of pastel carnations.

Wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. A.G. Goodson, Texas City; Mr. and Mrs. Rex Brow, Cherokee, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ritz, Sioux City, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. Don Shirley, Amarillo; Mrs. Maxine Law, Cushing, Ia.; and Mr. and Mrs. H.L. Shirley, Big Spring.

Beta Kappas 'Pounding' Party Have Meet For Miss Plagens

The first meeting of the year of the Beta Kappa Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma was held recently in the Horace Garrett Center on the Howard College campus.

Ms. Moveida Rhine presided.

Ms. Jane Smith, program chairman, introduced the speaker, Ms. Lila Brewster. Her topic was "The Ideology of the Teacher." Ms. Brewster stated that "Jesus was and is the perfect teacher, and each teacher takes his or her own form, purpose, and law from Jesus: the teacher." Her concluding statement was "... by extending my own horizons, I can become a complete person, and a complete person is a light to those who walk with him."

In other business, Ms. Rena Yandell reported on her experiences at the state Delta Kappa Gamma convention held in McAllen in June. Ms. Rhine read an account of the events occurring at the International Convention in Seattle, Wash. in July. Ms. Joyce Backs reported on her attendance as a delegate at the National Education Association Convention in Chicago during the summer.

The Beta Kappa Chapter will attend the regional meeting of Delta Kappa Gamma to be held in Andrews on October 5 in lieu of a local chapter meeting. The next chapter meeting is scheduled for November 2 in the Methodist Church of Coahoma.

An old-fashioned 'pounding' party was given Saturday evening for Miss Debra Plagens and Ernest Schwartz at the St. Lawrence home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hirt. Hosts with the Hirts were Mr. and Mrs. Gary Jacob of Winters. Gifts were presented to the couple from a Spanish type coffee table that centered the room.

Corsages with a fruit motif were given Miss Plagens, her mother, Mrs. Edward Plagens, and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Joe Schwartz.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a lace cloth. Crystal and silver services were used. The centerpiece was a milk cut-glass basket filled with yellow and white daisies.

The couple will be married Sept. 28 in the St. Lawrence Catholic Church.

QUOTABLE WOMEN

Here are some quotable quotes from women during the week:

"Of course, he's not on top of the world. I think he's doing very well under the circumstances. You know, he's just like anybody else... he doesn't want to go into the hospital — why, he'll probably want to take his dog with him... No, I'm teasing..." Julie Nixon Eisenhower, speaking in New York during a television show taping about the health of her father, former President Richard M. Nixon.

"Secretary of State Henry Kissinger is the man personally responsible for staging the plot that overthrew Chile's legally constitutional government." Hortensia Allende, widow of former Chilean President Salvador Allende, speaking in London while seeking support for restoration of democracy in her country.

"It is time for the Republican party to come to grips with the shape we're in. Republican registration is down. In too many areas the number of Republican office-holders has declined." Mary Louise Smith of Iowa, named chairman of the Republican National Committee this week.

Nationwide survey of independent TV servicemen reports Zenith Color TV needs fewest repairs.

Here are the questions and answers from a 175-city survey of multiple-brand TV service shops.

Which color TV needs the fewest repairs?

Independent TV servicemen were asked this question because they are in a unique position to judge the reliability of different color TV brands.

Every major brand sold in the U.S. was included in this study.

The servicemen named Zenith most often as the brand of color TV which requires the fewest repairs. More than twice as many named Zenith (30%) as mentioned the second-place brand.

QUESTION: "In general, of the brands you are familiar with, which one would you say requires the fewest repairs?"

ANSWERS: Zenith	30%
Brand A	11%
Brand B	9%
Brand C	5%
Brand D	4%
Brand E	3%
Brand F	2%
Brand G	2%
Brand H	2%
Brand I	1%
Other Brands	3%
About Equal	21%
Don't Know	11%

Which color TV is easiest to fix when it does need repairs?

When something goes wrong with a color TV, being able to fix it easily means a lower repair bill.

Zenith is named more often in the survey than any other brand as being the easiest to repair. One-third (34%) of the TV servicemen report Zenith Color TV is the easiest to repair. A significantly smaller percentage (25%) named the second-place brand as the easiest to repair, and a much smaller percentage named other brands.

QUESTION: "In general, of the brands you are familiar with, which one would you say is easiest to repair?"

ANSWERS: Zenith	34%
Brand A	25%
Brand B	11%
Brand D	5%
Brand F	4%
Brand E	4%
Brand C	3%

Other Brands	3%
About Equal	18%

Which color TV would you prefer to own yourself?

Servicemen know color TV from the inside out. So we wanted their opinion on which brand they would buy today for themselves.

More servicemen named Zenith as the color TV they would buy (35%) than named any other brand.

QUESTION: "If you were buying a new color TV set for yourself today, which brand would you buy?"

ANSWERS: Zenith	35%
Brand A	21%
Brand B	12%
Brand D	7%
Brand E	5%
Brand C	4%
Brand F	4%
Brand G	3%
Brand H	1%
Brand I	1%
Other Brands	6%
Don't Know	9%

NOTE: Answers total more than 100% because some servicemen named more than one brand.

How the survey was made.

One of the best-known research firms in America conducted this study of independent TV servicemen's attitudes toward brands of color television. Telephone interviews were conducted with TV servicemen themselves in April, 1972, in 175 cities from coast to coast. To eliminate the factor of loyalty to a single brand, the study included only shops which serviced more than one brand of TV. Survey details are available on request.

Favor Legislation To Aid Rural Med Students

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Three Lubbock area doctors have told a Texas Legislature subcommittee that medical schools should give admission priority to rural students in an effort to encourage the formation of more rural physicians and general practitioners.

The recommendations were made by Dr. H. Eugene Brown, president of the Texas Osteopathic Medical Association and Dr. Joel H. Johnson, chairman of the Texas Medical Health Association, who testified before the joint subcommittee on public health Thursday.

Dr. Brown said the state has enough doctors, but that there are not enough general practitioners and rural doctors.

FOCUS ON FAMILY LIVING

Speed Is Password To Carpet Stains Removal

Spot-cleaning, when accidental spills happen, can add years to the life and beauty of carpet.

Speed is the password to successful stain removal. If stains have been in the carpet several weeks, removal attempts may prove futile. The quicker it's treated, the better chance of getting it out.

A solution of warm water and mild liquid detergent works best in most cases.

However, don't get too much water on the carpet. If it soaks to the backing, dark marks may develop on the surface. Often even a professional carpet cleaner cannot remove this "wicking."

If the stain contains grease, use a household dry cleaning compound available from carpet dealers.

Stains that leave color behind are the hardest to remove — like orange juice, cranberry sauce and red candle wax.

If spot-cleaning methods aren't successful, consult a professional carpet cleaner.

Whatever the spill, prompt attention is important. Putting off stain removal may be putting on a permanent stain.

Take the high cost out of cleaning rugs and upholstered furniture by making your own shampoo.

A quart of cleaning shampoo at the store costs about $2, but you can make the same cleaner for less than 10 cents.

Use a rotary egg beater to whip one-fourth cup of light-duty detergent and a few drops of ammonia with one pint of warm water into a stiff foam.

To prepare the upholstery or rug for cleaning, first thoroughly vacuum any dust and ground-in dirt. Then clean a small area at a time with a soft brush or mechanical shampoo applicator, using only the dry suds.

It's a good idea to try this first on an inconspicuous area of the item to make sure none of the colors bleed.

If the colors don't run, continue rubbing the suds into a little area at a time in overlapping circles. Remove the soiled lather with a spatula from small area before going on to the next. Rinse each time with a clean, slightly damp cloth or sponge.

Mini Is Fini; Fashion Designers Are Saying

LONDON (AP) — The mini is fini. Britain's gift to the world of women's fashions, the miniskirt, is finally gone — after hovering near hip-level heights for the past ten years. The last stitch in this hemline-dropping event was sewn by one of the biggest firms of chain stores in the country, C & A. A spokesman for the company, which four years ago sold thousands of minis each day, said: "There will be no more minis when present stocks have gone. They just don't sell nowadays." The firm was just about the last of the major holdouts. Most of the other big department stores and fashion chains had dropped the mini for longer lengths within the past two years, or more. The mini was introduced in the early 1960s, largely by fashion designer Mary Quant. For the last three years, many designers have given up or down on the mini, although a lot of lean-legged gals kept them up.

Latin School Is Explosive

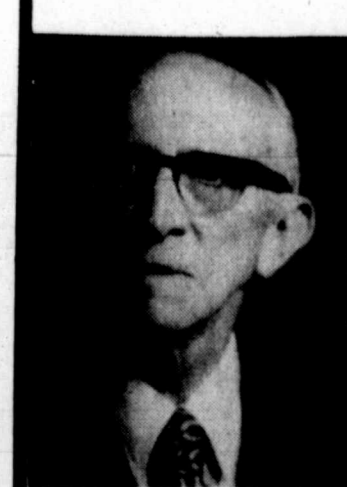

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — The University of Buenos Aires, with 150,000 students, is to Argentina what Berkeley would be to the United States with three million. And it is far more explosive. "The university is in open rebellion against the government," said Education Minister Oscar Ivanissevich, 79-year-old retired surgeon. On nationwide television he threatened to make students study rather than complain. "The students are fed up," retorted Maria G., 19, a sociology freshman who claims para-police squads are killing colleagues. "It seems that the government outlaws anyone who opposes it." University radicals, representing perhaps 70 percent of the student body, have occupied scores of buildings now for a month. They support left-wing policies adopted in the first days of Peronism's return last year. Already angered by Ivanissevich's appointment, students became incensed when a mysterious bomb on Sept. 7 killed the 4-month-old son of the interim rector, Rauli Laguzzi. He is a leftist biochemist professor who was replaced last week by a little-known right-wing Peronist writer, Alberto E. Ottalagano, 48. Ivanissevich named Ottalagano to the post in an effort to calm classrooms. The new rector's first act was to declare a 10-day "recess."

Students here want a continuation of "classless" admissions policies, the right to hire and fire their own professors and even power to decide what will be taught. But national authorities are not willing to go that far. Ivanissevich says that only six of every 100 students are graduating. The University of Buenos Aires has one-third of an estimated 450,000 students in 44 public and private institutions throughout Argentina. No one knows the exact count since Peronists have labeled it "the People's University" and opened doors to virtually everyone who can read and write. Conditions in the other 24 government universities, opposition leaders say, are virtually the same as here: Colleges lack space. There's a shortage of funds. Critics charge that incredible sums of taxpayers' pesos go for politicking while almost all professors need second jobs to live. Classes are often postponed or canceled because of students' strikes or professorial fear.

Town For Sale In West Texas

LANGTRY, Tex. (AP) — This dusty and historical West Texas town—once the home of Roy "Law West of the Pecos" Bean, peace justice and saloon keeper—is up for sale.

Some 250 acres surrounding the old Jersey Lilly Saloon from which Bean dispensed justice and spirits have been put up for sale in one package by the Dodd family of San Antonio and Del Rio.

The San Antonio Light reported the move today.

The asking price is $750,000. But the people handling the sale, Mina Adams Realty of Boerne and Bandera, claim that figure is negotiable.

The patch of land south of U.S. 90 just west of the Pecos River and north of the Mexican border apparently has a population of 35 to 40 persons, depending on the day of the week, and is home for a Texas Highway Department visitor center.

A state pamphlet put out in 1969 said 400 persons a day visit the

Best Presidents Of Times Sickest

BUFFALO N.Y. (AP) — Were the best presidents of the United States the sickest ones?

"Not necessarily," says Dr. Milton Plesur, professor of history at the State University of New York at Buffalo.

But, he points out, of the 11 "great" and "near great" U.S. presidents listed by the 1962 Schlesinger poll, eight had illnesses which affected their performance in office, and six died before their statistical life expectancy.

Dr. Plesur, who bases his conclusions on his research for a recently published book, "The Presidency Reappraised," believes that "although presidents are not 'great' because they are sick, illness tends to elevate the president in the eyes of historians."

Illness has been prevalent among the presidents of this century, he notes, but the "most arresting medical story" is that of Franklin D.

Roosevelt. He was plagued all his life with a sensitive respiratory tract, contracted poise at age 39 and it was rumored that he might have suffered several minor strokes in 1938.

"Despite the fact that the President was suffering from hypertension and fatigue, according to his last physician, he was able to perform his duties," adds Dr. Plesur, who feels that Roosevelt's "optimism in the face of severe economic depression and during the war years might have been due, in part, to his personal experiences in overcoming an illness that would have defeated a lesser man. Roosevelt was obviously ill, and this was known by many even before his return from Yalta."

However, asserts Dr. Plesur, the White House physicians insisted that Roosevelt was not even sick in 1944, and that the fatal stroke in 1945 was unforeseeable. "Roosevelt's case history raised many questions and highlighted the problem of presidential health," he observes. And linked to presidential health is the problem of disclosure, the history professor points out. "When does a physician's responsibility to the community supersede the traditional patient-physician relationship?" he asks.

Would Franklin D. Roosevelt have acted differently at Yalta if he had been completely well?

The Ranch Oak Story

When RANCH OAK was first introduced over thirty years ago, a new concept in furniture manufacturing was born. Here, at last, was care-free furniture, deliberately styled and handcrafted to keep its handsome looks through years of wear and tear. Its Authentic American Design purposely complements Casual, Country, English, Colonial, Contemporary, Transitional, or Mediterranean decors.

You may choose from over 300 versatile pieces, and be sure that selections made today will blend with those made in the past or future. It is truly open stock.

RANCH OAK is economical, too. Because its rugged solid oak construction really lasts, and its adaptable design stays in style, it isn't necessary to refinish every few years.

Take a good look at RANCH OAK. We believe that you can see the pride with which we make it, and feel the pride which you will have owning it.

FOUNDATION—Burlap covers the seat springs right down to the front frame. Burlap is also used to cover sinuous wire back springs.

PADDING—A cotton felt pad cushions the covered decks of all seats. Cotton felt is also used when required in back construction to provide a smooth, firm padding under the outer fabric or under a loose pillow back.

CUSHIONS AND PILLOWS—Constructed of a combination of rubber and polyurethane foam wrapped in fluffy dacron for deep seating comfort.

FABRICS—Specially chosen and woven to complement RANCH OAK. All are washable and made of polypropylene yarns.

WOODS AND CONSTRUCTION—Solid White Oak, kiln-dried to years-lasting hardness, is used...except in simulated planking tops, where carefully selected plywood insures superior quality.

TOPS OF ALL CASE PIECES are attached by screws from beneath to permit expansion and contraction of the solid white oak...or are screwed from the top through holes filled by end grain plugs.

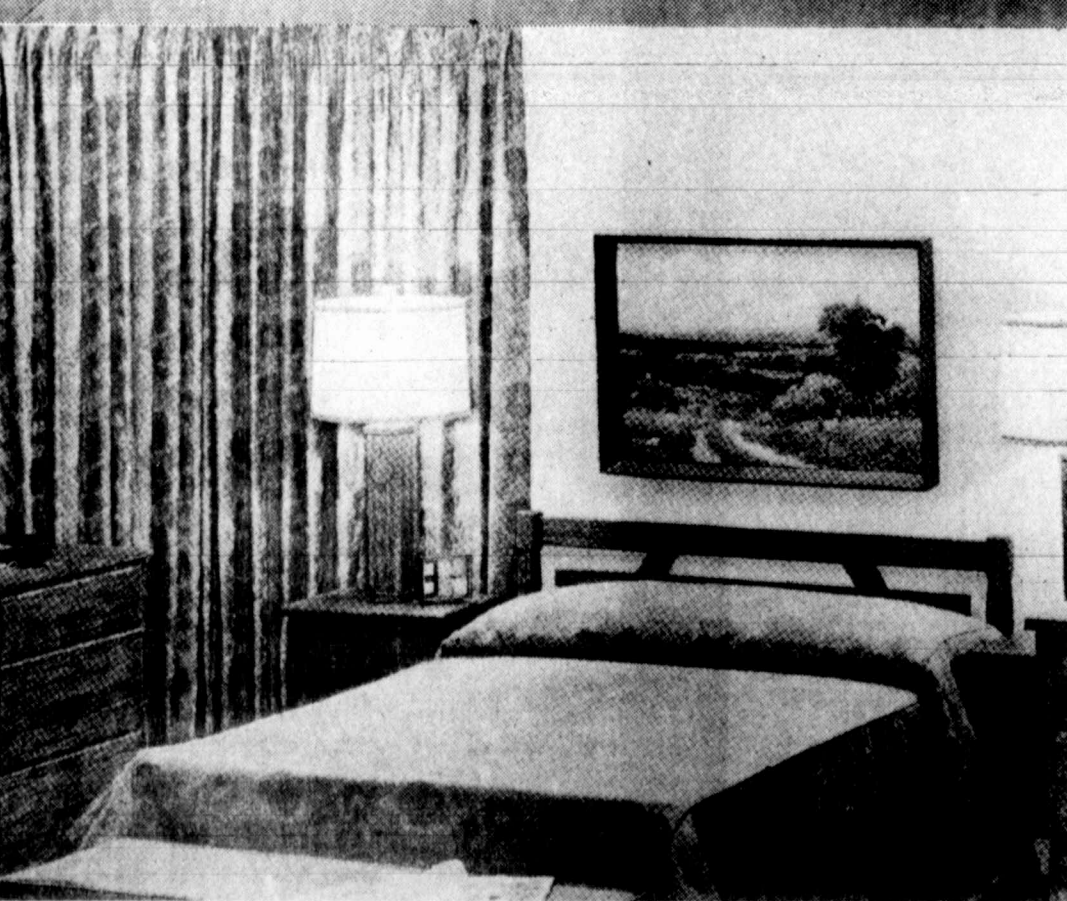

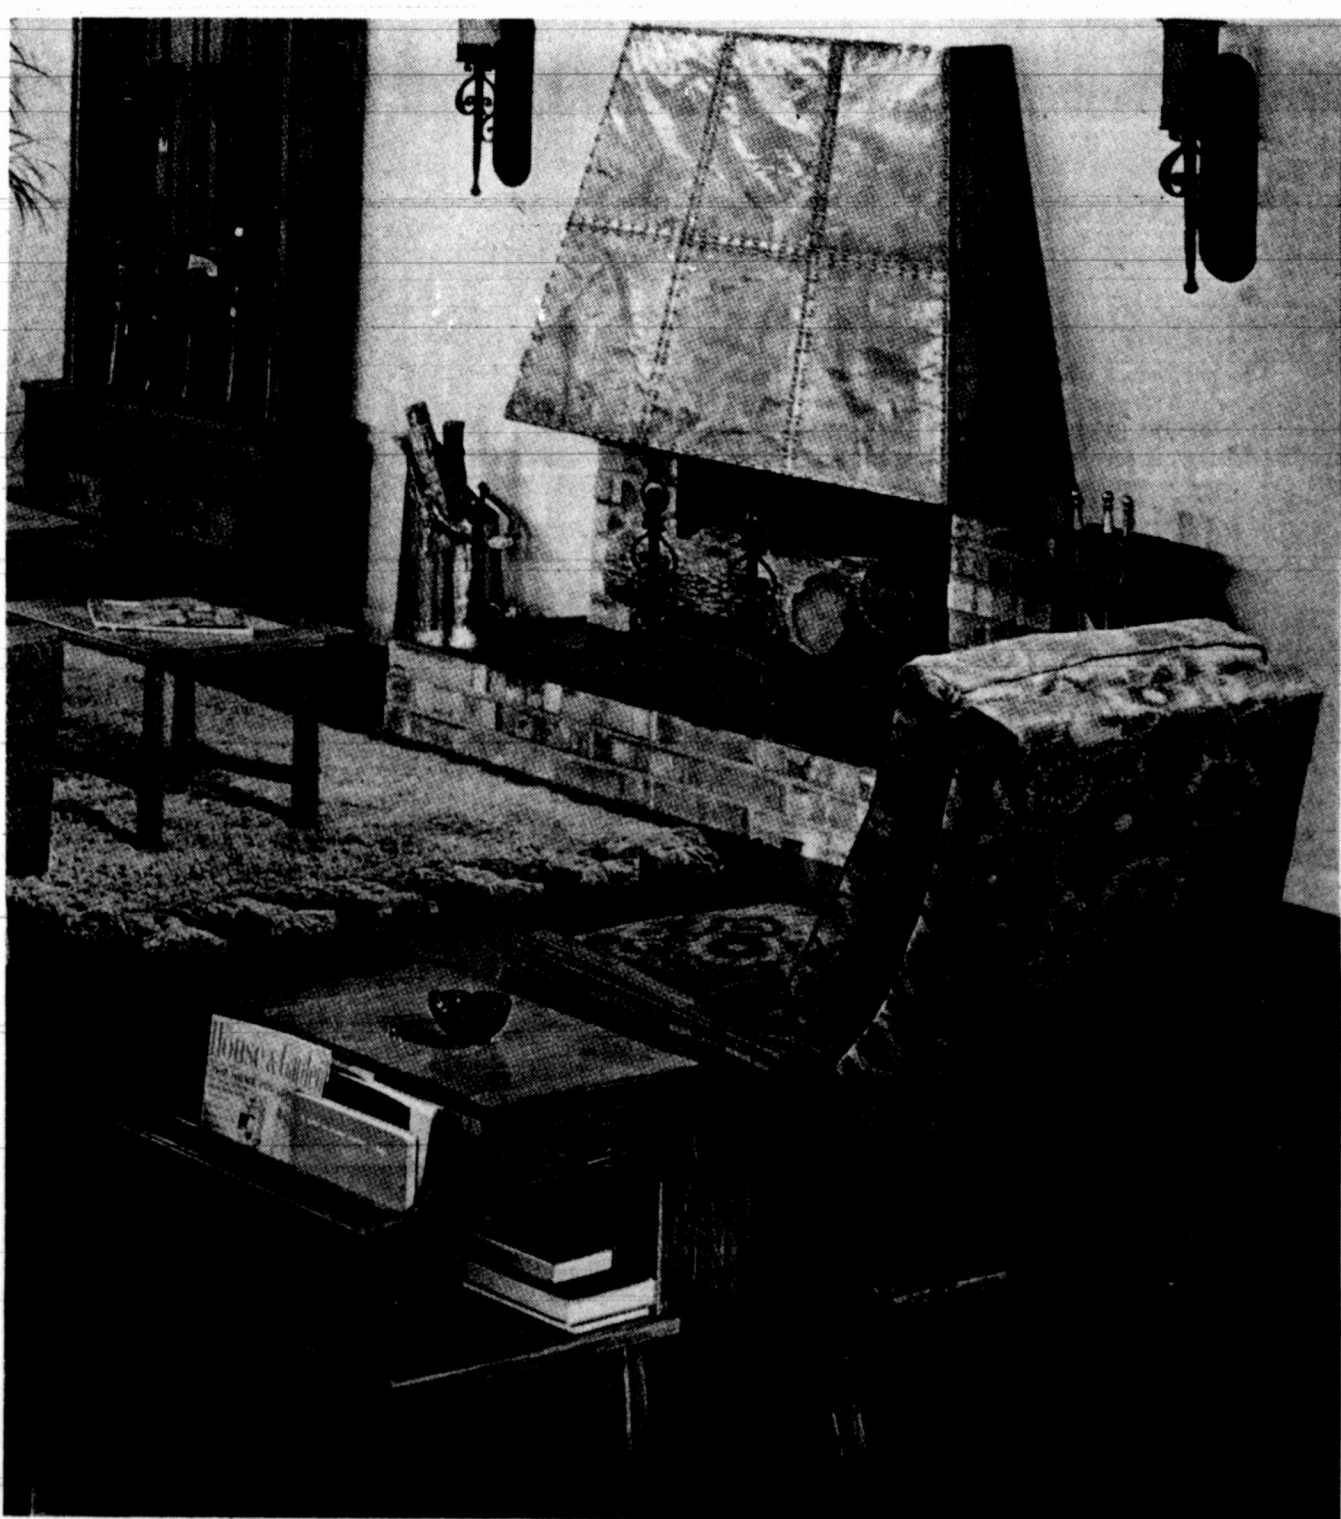

SIDE PANELS AND DOOR FRONTS are designed to allow expansion and contraction without damage to themselves.

EDGE GLUING AND JOINING is permanently bonded with resinous waterproof glue.

JOINTS are double-dowelled with spiral groove pins, or are chucked and bored.

DRAWER INTERIORS are of solid white oak, with bottoms of oak plywood. Dovetailed joints and center slides insure smooth action on all drawers.

Adair Trial Is Delayed

The examining trial scheduled for Richard Keith Adair, 17, Thursday was postponed Thursday afternoon and again Friday morning.

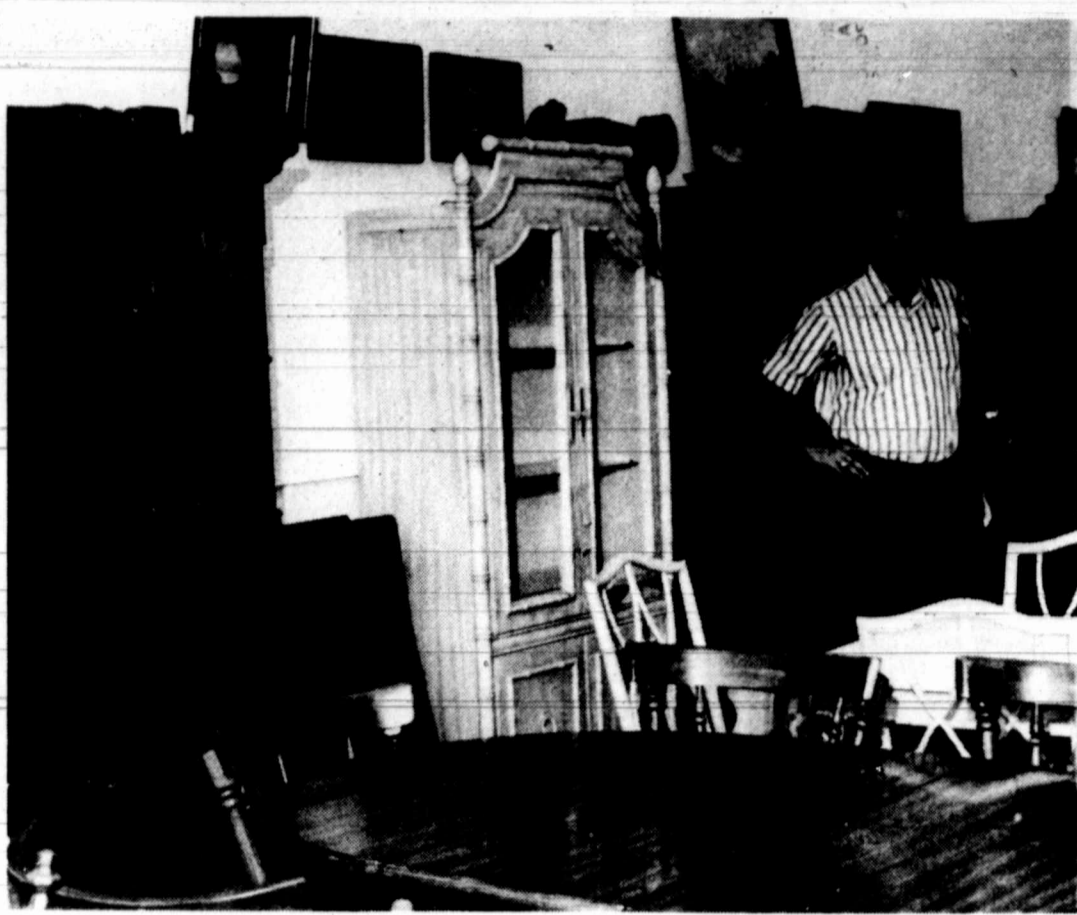

A former undercover narcotic agent, the state's main witness, has left South Texas by car but had failed to reach Big Spring yet, District Attorney Bob Moore said Friday afternoon.

The agent will be held until the examining trial may be held early next week, Moore said.

Adair, Webb Air Force Base, is charged with sale of marijuana to the agent. Peace Justice Gus Ochotorena will hold the examining trial to determine if Adair should be bound over the grand jury.

Crop Prospects Fair To Poor

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Heavy rains over much of the state last week caused delays in farm operations. Dr. John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said.

Of critical importance was the cotton crop in central and south central areas, where rains had already reduced the fiber quality of the crop, Hutchison said.

PEANUTS — Peanut disease problems hit some of that crop because of the continued wet weather, he said. However, the late season moisture will help late planted peanuts as well as second plantings in some areas.

The moisture should boost fall grazing of grain crops, and additional hay cuttings are expected in southern areas, Hutchison said.

Western portions of South Texas as well as much of the Panhandle and Rolling Plains still need moisture, he said.

Livestock conditions continued to improve as more grazing becomes available, he said.

District agricultural agents gave the reports:

South Plains: Soil moisture is generally adequate. Sorghum harvesting is at a standstill. Wheat planting has made good progress. Livestock are in good condition.

Rolling Plains: Moisture remains short. Small grain planting is active. Some early cotton is being harvested with crop prospects fair to poor. Sorghum yields also are poor. The dispaue boll weevil control program is under way in cotton.

Far West: The wet weather is delaying cotton maturation and is causing some boll decay. The pecan crop looks excellent. Alfalfa is producing high yields.

West Central: A few counties still need moisture. Some cotton harvesting has started. The sorghum harvest is about complete. Peanuts harvesting is under way. Pastures and ranges are providing good grazing.

Southwest: Most of the corn and sorghum has been harvested. Wet weather has caused some loss of cotton yields and grades. Carrots, cabbage and cucumbers are making good progress. Pastures and ranges are improving. Sheep and goat shearing is about 75 per cent.

South: Western counties are still dry. Sugarcane irrigation continues. The sugarcane harvest should begin in mid-October. Buffel grass is making a good seed crop in Webb County.

Wallace Stock To Be Sold

One immediate result of the copious rains of the past week is to brighten prospects for the first production sale of the Wallace Hereford Ranch.

The sale is set for Sept. 30 at the Big Spring Livestock Auction Company starting at 12:30 p.m. with an offering of 50 head from the Anxiety Fourth herd of Leland and Gerald Marie Wallace, northeast of Big Spring.

Walter Britten and Dick Britten will auction the 40 bulls, six bred heifers and four open heifers entered in the sale. Wallace has received numerous out-of-state inquiries as well as a large number in this region of the state.

Many of the sale listings were sired or descended from C Bar Diamond A484. His issue have been topping sales in West Texas and New Mexico. He traces back into the Diamond and other lines made famous by Gudge and Simpson — names like Mischie, president, Domino, Brummel, Donna Anna, Gentle Annie and Blanche.

Flood Control Talks Slated

The rain apparently renewed interest in possible flooding because the first reading of a resolution assuring the Federal Insurance Administration of city participation in flood control measures will be discussed by city "dads" at their meeting Tuesday morning.

The resolution assures the FIA which will enact flood control measures and vests the department of public works to administrate flood control measures and maintain public inspection, agreeing to take other official action reasonably necessary to promote flood control.

The council will also have the second and final reading of the ordinance approving the bridges and adopting the tax assessment roll for 1974.

An ordinance setting a time for a public hearing on annexation of property into the city limits will be read. The hearing is to be scheduled for 9 a.m. Oct. 8.

Property to be annexed is a 49,326 acre tract of land in Section 8, Block 32, T-1-S, T&P survey, Howard County.

The council will hear a

The council will also hear the first reading of a resolution directing the Department of Public Works to review all building permits, subdivision proposals, and water supply for all sewage systems to minimize building damage and first reading of an ordinance amending the code of ordinances to provide for the issuance of a building permit for fences prior to the start of construction.

It will hear claims for damages by Albert Dearda and Armando Lopez, hear Joe R. Bauchan speak on the state guard and listen to another discussion of the payment of overtime and dues check-off by Kenneth Howell, union representative.

The council will award a bid on office furniture, hear a request for permission to advertise for bids for a truck cab and chassis and land near the American Legion, as well as additional courts at Figure 7 Tennis Center.

Approval of streets and urban boundaries to be placed under the federal aid urban system will be heard, as well as minutes of the Traffic Commission and Parks and Recreation Board.

Fire Hazards

LONDON (AP) — More than 400 churches in Britain were hit by fire last year and the Ecclesiastical Insurance Office is campaigning to reduce fire hazards in churches and cathedrals.

Pear-Shaped People Are Most Successful

LONDON (AP) — If you have a shape like a pear, don't let it bother you too much. You are more likely to succeed in life than most people.

At least, that is the non-caloric observation set forth in an article in "The Director" magazine, a journal of the British Institute of Directors.

Some of the pear-shaped people who have reached the top, says the article, are Napoleon, Gen. Charles de Gaule, the late president of France, and British Prime Minister Harold Wilson, also Wilson's predecessor as prime minister and now British opposition leader, Edward Heath.

The article was written by John Byrne, managing director of a glass manufacturing firm, who noted that many pear-shaped people showed the qualities of intelligence and leadership.

The successful type, says the article, has the rather narrow shoulders and elongated limbs of the lean type, and the wide hips and somewhat pudgy chest and belly of the fat type.

In exaggerated form, the successful shape "is like a pear or an inverted top," says the magazine. It is also known as the "Burgandy bottle" look.

General de Gaule was a good example of a man so clearly pear-shaped that even a military cloak did not hide it, the article says.

And, it went on, Napoleon was very small and clearly pear-shaped.

Harold Wilson falls into the category also, says Byrne.
