Trial Attracts Demonstrators

WASHINGTON (AP) — Onecmthly officials of the Nixon administration went on trial today on charges they tried to block the investigation of the June 1972 Watergate break-in.

At 9:29 a.m. by the courtroom clock, U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica entered the courtroom to preside in the case of "The United States versus John Mitchell, et al."

DEMONSTRATORS
Most of the seats in the courtroom were taken by a panel of 170 prospective jurors. Sirica told them he would begin by asking general questions to weed out any obviously unqualified and then question the remainder in private.

The selection process, that could last one week or more, will result in 12 jurors and six alternates being chosen for the trial. Sirica has said he hopes to complete the trial before Christmas.

A small number of demonstrators gathered outside the federal courthouse and one of them spat on former White House aide John D. Ehrlichman, one of the five defendants.

Ehrlichman was struck on the right shoulder but appeared unmoved by the incident. His lawyer, Andrew C. Hall, shoved the demonstrator away.

GREETINGS
The other defendants are former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, ex-White House staff chief H.R. Haldeman; former Assistant Atty. Gen. Robert C. Mar-dian; and Kenneth W. Parkinson, one-time lawyer for Nixon's re-election committee.

Sirica said the jury will be sequestered in a motel near the courthouse and that the members will be allowed to read newspapers, watch television and listen to radio but that all news accounts of the trial will be kept from them.

He then began a series of questions designed to eliminate per-sonal bias or prejudice on the jury or who have obvious biases for or against the defendants.

The defense and prosecution have subpoenaed former President Nixon as a witness.

Neither Nixon nor his lawyer, Herbert J. Miller, has made any public response to the subpoenas. Monday, however, Dr. John C. Lungren, the ailing former President's physician, said he believes it would be "at least a month, maybe three months," before Nixon could travel from California to Washington.

Nixon entered Memorial Hospital Center of Long Beach, Calif., a week ago suffering from a recurrence of the phlebitis that troubled him during his last year in office. After he entered the hospital, doctors closed that a blood clot had moved from Nixon's left leg to his right lung.

While still president, Nixon was named an unindicted co-conspirator in the case. President Ford subsequently granted him a pardon for any federal offenses committed while Nixon was in office.

EHRLICHMAN ARRIVES FOR TRIAL — John D. Ehrlichman, 49, and his wife, Jeanne, arrive at U.S. District Court in Washington today for the start of the Watergate cover-up trial. Ehrlichman, former Presidential Domestic Counselor, is charged he tried to block the investigation of the June 1972 Watergate break-in.

HAS NEVER KNOWN A MOTHER'S KISS Boy Lives In A Bubble

GERM-FREE — David is a three-year-old with a disease known as severe combined immune deficiency. His body has no immune defenses against disease and even bacteria that most people can easily throw off could kill the youngster. David has been breathing filtered air and eating sterile food since birth. At left the alert youngster sits on his tricycle and right enjoys a dish of ice cream. David lives in a germ free plastic bubble at the Texas Medical Center at Houston.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — David is a three-year-old who's never had a mother's kiss or the touch of a human hand. He lives in a bubble and there's no medical certainty he'll ever live elsewhere.

David suffers from a disease known as severe combined immune deficiency. His body has no immune defenses against disease and even bacteria that most people can easily throw off could kill the youngster.

He is delivered by germfree Caesarean section on Sept. 21, 1971, and was placed immediately into a plastic-walled bubble. He's lived behind plastic and glass ever since.

And now, for the first time, he's beginning to think about wanting out.

"It's only in the last month or six weeks that he's begun to think about getting out," said Dr. David A. Freedman, a professor of psychiatry at the Baylor College of Medicine. "I think that the next step is for him trying to remove himself from that room. The whole question is how long can you keep someone in a goldfish bowl."

PREPARING FOR TRIAL — Assistant Watergate Prosecutor Jill Volner strides to the door of U.S. District Court in Washington Monday, the day before five defendants are to stand trial for their alleged roles in the Watergate cover-up. U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica held a closed hearing at the court to clear up remaining legal issues before starting the trial.

TERRORISTS Demanding $1 Million In Ransom

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Terrorists are holding firm to their demand for $1 million in ransom for a U.S. woman diplomat and six other hostages, a churchman said today.

At an improvised news conference after a 15-minute talk with the terrorists, who are holed up in the Venezuelan consulate, Santo Domingo Bishop Hugh Polanco Brito said, "I want you to know one thing—they have not lessened their original demands."

The bishop's statement conflicted with an earlier report that the terrorists may have abandoned their $1 million ransom demand.

Mop And Broom Sale Continues

Downtown Lions were prepared to resume their annual "mop and broom" sale this afternoon after a good start Monday. Besides the mops and brooms, they also carry a long list of items such as sponges, washing and dusting cloths, dust pans, brushes, scouring pads, etc. Proceeds from the sale of the items, which are made by blind workers, are used in the club's sight conservation and blind work.

Residents also are asked to donate old eye glasses to the Lions.

At request of David's parents, hospital officials have kept secret the boy's last name and the parents' names.

So far, David's development — physically, intellectually and emotionally — has gone well.

The boy is brighter than most children his age. His language skills are advanced and "he already knows his letters," said Dr. Freedman.

He is also agile and strong. He jumps and climbs and plays ball inside his nine-by-seven-by-six bubble with more skills than most three-year-olds.

David knows his mother and father, even though they've been only faces on the other side of a plastic wall, and responds to them with affection.

"David doesn't know there's other ways of expressing affection," said Dr. Murdina Desmond, a professor of pediatrics at the Texas Children's Hospital. "It's been startling to me how much human feeling has gotten through that plastic."

"There hasn't been any skin-to-skin contact, but there's been lots of cuddling with the gloves," she said. He gets lots of attention. Doctors, nurses and even hospital office personnel make their daily visit with David. He goes home in a portable bubble, and stays with his family every six weeks or so. He lives there in a grouping of bubbles and vicariously takes part in family life.

is no longer enough, and Dr. Raphael Wilson, the other team leader, say the boy has only eight types of germs in his body, all apparently acquired from food. None are dangerous.

What the doctors hope to do is to awaken David's natural immunity. Next week, they plan to try injections of a thymus extract that has been used in research. Several other techniques have also been attempted. But Dr. Montgomery says, candidly, "We don't know anything at this time that holds promise of a permanent cure."

There's a possibility that David could some day leave the bubble in a special suit similar to the space suit astronauts wore on the moon. Space scientists are experimenting, but haven't completed the development.

Another time, he told his mother: "When I get out of this bubble, I'll go with you to the kitchen."

What the future holds is uncertain. "We definitely know what it holds if we don't do anything," said Dr. John F. Montgomery, co-leader of the team caring for David. "We know what the future would be outside the bubble."

ONE IN 10,000 — David's condition occurs about once in every 10,000 births. For most, death comes in eight or nine months, usually from a massive, uncontrollable infection. The bubble has protected David from that. Dr. Montgomery says that we will not have to do anything," said Dr. Wilson, noting that two German infants, held in isolation for two years, spontaneously developed immunity.

Generally, the doctors say, David is a happy child. He's a handsome youngster, with dark brown hair and eyes and a dark complexion.

He bounces around his small plastic home with abandon, playing with a ball, climbing inside a large, plastic frog and spending hours watching television.

"He loves Sesame Street," says Dr. Montgomery. "He'll even stay up to watch the news."

MUSIC IS piped into his chamber and, says Dr. Desmond, "his favorite record is the Beatles." He insists upon his days following a set pattern. At the hospital he awakens at 7 a.m., is washed with a cloth and then picks out his breakfast from a sterile cupboard. Sometimes, say the doctors, his selections are strange — such as carrots and pudding for breakfast.

The food is infant food in jars. He cannot have anything that cannot be sterilized and this eliminates bread, fresh fruit and red meat. The food is always served at room temperature.

REP. MILLS: 'I DON'T KNOW ANYTHING ABOUT IT'

Election Of 1972 Called Udder Fraud

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wilbur D. Mills says he has not been called to testify before a Watergate grand jury which has questioned three of his current and former aides about milk fund money used in his brief 1972 presidential campaign.

Monday he was aware the aides appeared in recent weeks before the grand jury, but added, "I don't know anything about it. I just know they've been up there, that's all." Earlier this year Mills declined two requests by the now-disbanded Senate Watergate committee to appear for questioning. The Watergate prosecutors have taken testimony from Mills' administrative assistant, Oscar Eugene Goss, and two former campaign workers, Charles Ward and Betty Clement Bullock of Little Rock.

Goss said he was questioned about links between the Mills campaign and Associated Milk Producers, Inc., the big dairy cooperative that recently pleaded guilty to donating $5,000 illegally to Mills. He said he was asked about the cash gift, which allegedly passed through his hands, and the use of corporate money by the co-op to pay salaries and expenses of Mills campaign workers. Use of corporate money in federal election campaigns is prohibited.

NO RECOLLECTION
Goss said he testified he had no independent recollection of having handled the $5,000. If he had received the gift, he might well have failed to ask whether it came from corporate funds because he knew that the milk producers had a legal political trust for making donations to candidates, he said he testified.

He also said he was questioned about Mrs. Bullock and two other campaign workers, Joe P. Johnson and Terry Shea, who allegedly were paid corporate salaries by the dairymen while working on the Mills campaign.

Official Used Dirty Tricks To Win Race?

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A former state representative from Dallas says Roy Orr not only used a dirty trick to win a county commissioner's election, he got Dallas authorities to ignore the case.

FEARED MAN
Dick Reed testified Monday before the House Subcommittee on Campaign Finance Reporting and Disclosure laws. He gave the committee copies of a handbill that was distributed in some all-white areas of Dallas less than 48 hours before balloting began in his race against Orr.

The handbill carries pictures of Reed and Albert Lipscomb, whom Reed described as "a black man with an Afro haircut... extremely feared in the so-called red neck areas of Dallas."

Voters were urged by the handbill to support Reed and Lipscomb for two commissioners' posts and listed their platform as "Open housing, welfare increase, equal education, county reforms, busing, and tax stabilization."

Reed said it took nearly 24 hours to discover who was putting out the handbill, Dinwiddie Distribution Services. The owner of the firm told Reed the handbill had been authorized by someone identifying himself as Dick Reed. The owner stopped the distribution, only half complete, when Reed told him he had been duped.

INKY PRINTS
The Department of Public Safety later identified inky fingerprints on the handbill as belonging to Aston George Wilson of the Precision Printing Co., Reed said. Wilson was a former associate of Joe Bagby, Orr's public relations man, he said.

Orr, whose card during the race said a vote for him was a vote against busing, received 51.9 per cent of the vote, Reed said. Reed received 42 per cent, and two minor candidates received the rest.

Analysis of the election returns, Reed said, showed the vote in the all-white neighborhoods that got the handbill was 15 per cent higher for Orr and against him than the vote in the all-white neighborhoods that did not get the handbill.

Reed said he tried without success for the next year and a half to get local, state and federal authorities to prosecute this violation of the state election laws.

Both the state and federal people told him they were without jurisdiction, he said, and Dallas Dist. Atty. Henry Wade turned the case over to one of his assistants, Richard Mays, "who was promised a district judgeship if there was no indictment in the Orr case."

Mays interviewed him, Reed said, but all he was interested in was learning Reed's social and political views and nothing on the evidence about the handbill.

"Richard Mays was indeed appointed a district judge," Reed said.

Decline In Food Prices, Airline Costs To Zip Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — A decline in prices paid farmers for cattle and hogs holds out a possibility of lower retail prices this fall — but higher prices for meat later on.

Elsewhere on the economic scene, airline costs may be headed upward and a 10-cent-gallon gasoline tax remains under study by the government.

The Agriculture Department reported Monday that its farm price index declined two per cent from Aug. 15 to Sept. 15, the first drop since spring.

WARNING
But the report contained a warning of possible future problems. It attributed much of the decline to lower farm prices for cattle and hogs, because farmers have been sending more to market. This could mean lower meat prices at retail later this fall — if the middlemen pass the reductions along.

But said the Agriculture Department, at least part of the extra animals are breeding stock, which means there will be fewer pigs and cattle next year and therefore less meat later on. That's what happened earlier during similar cutbacks by poultry farmers. Eggs and poultry went up 13 per cent the following month.

FARE HIKES
In related developments, it was announced the executive committee of President Ford's new Economic Policy Board is meeting daily to consider proposals put forth during a month of economic summit meetings completed last weekend.

The Civil Aeronautics Board reported Monday that four of the nation's airlines have asked to increase domestic fares by 4 to 7 per cent Nov. 1 because of increased fuel costs.

Other airlines reportedly are considering similar moves. The CAB must approve fare hikes, but it has said it will go along with those that can be justified by the rising cost of fuel. That cost is now two-thirds more than it was a year ago.

Continental Airlines asked for a 7 per cent increase, while 4 per cent increases were requested by American, Eastern and Trans World Airlines.

A 4 per cent increase in air fares would mean that a one-way ticket between Los Angeles and New York would rise from $187 to nearly $195. The same ticket cost $168 before the fuel shortage.

Air fares already have increased 11 per cent since last Dec. 1. President Ford reportedly takes a dim view of the proposal that the new federal economic policy include a 10-to-20-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax.

But Press Secretary Rbn Nessen said Ford is keeping an open mind on this and other suggestions.

The tax is one of several proposals under study and a White House spokesman said Ford is expected to spend much of his time this week discussing a broad range of suggestions.

We don't intend to leave the next generation with a generation gap.

In the years ahead, these youngsters will need enough electricity for their homes, jobs, schools and hospitals — and to take care of the environment.

At the same time, the availability of the basic fuels used to run our generating plants — natural gas and oil — will continue to decline.

That's why at Texas Electric we're starting to use other fuels, to decrease our dependence on natural gas and oil.

We're already adding lignite coal plants to our system. And we're planning a nuclear plant near Glen Rose for the 1980's.

One advantage of using lignite and nuclear fuels is that neither is being used extensively for any purpose other than the generation of electricity.

But plants that use these fuels cost a lot more than gas/oil plants.

While this means electricity will have to cost more in the future, the cost won't be as much with lignite and nuclear fuels as it would be with natural gas and oil, even if adequate new supplies were available.

We're continuing the orderly development of our power system, because we don't intend to leave the next generation with a generation gap.

There are a limited number of themes in contract bridge. However, they recur in an astonishing number of disguises. Today's hand is from the World Pairs Olympiad, played in Las Palmas, Canary Islands, last May, and features a defensive maneuver that has been written up on many occasions.

Romania's real-life Dracula was Prince Vlad III, born in 1431. A sadistic, blood-thirsty tyrant—German chroniclers say he skinned people and boiled their heads in kettles—the prince gave himself the nickname Dracula, meaning son of the devil.

But Vlad was better known to his subjects as Tepes, or in English, impaler. His favorite sport was sticking people on stakes.

One papal nuncio estimated that he impaled 100,000 persons during his reign over the principality of Wallachia. Today it's part of Romanian territory bordering on Bulgaria.

BRAVE OF HEART
The brave of heart who visit Snagov take a 25-mile drive north of Bucharest. The lush, green, rolling countryside is beautiful and inviting. That is, until you see the island.

Thick with trees, its banks are hidden by tall, drooping water reeds which look as though they've been sapped of their strength.

The grave, said to be Dracula's, was discovered by Romania's eminent archaeologist, Dinu Rosetti, in 1931 after he followed up a folk lore story known only to neighboring villagers across the lake.

TROUBLED SPIRIT
The prince, so the tale goes, was buried under a stone slab just inside the monastery's doorway. Worshippers entering it presumably relieved his "troubled spirit" by walking over him.

There, under a pile of brickwork, lay a skeleton complete with skull. Inside the grave was the tattered remains of a very rich costume, also a belt buckle and signet ring. It bore the emblem of Dracula.

Mystery, however, now shrouds the findings in the grave. Shortly after the Bucharest Historical Museum took possession of the ring, clothes and buckle, they inexplicably disappeared. To this day nobody can explain how they were lost.

Despite strong local belief the monastery is Dracula's resting place, one of Romania's leading historians, Constantin Giurescu, maintains Dracula was beheaded by the Turks sometime around 1478. The head was nailed to the gates of Istanbul for everybody to see the infamous impaler, says Giurescu.

Dracula believers say it was common practice in those days for rich families to pay for the delivery of their dismembered kinfolk, and that explains the skull in the monastery grave.

Next year, the Romanian authorities plan a systematic excavation of Snagov to try to confirm the evidence.

Scottish Rite Plans New Child's Hospital

DALLAS — Plans for a new six-level hospital complex have been unveiled by Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children in Dallas. The new structure, expected to cost more than $20 million, is scheduled for completion by 1977. It will be situated at 2201 Welborn Street, adjacent to the present hospital that it will replace.

Former Gov. Allan Shivers, Chairman of the Board of Scottish Rite Hospital, who had said "We are extremely pleased that work will begin soon on this beautiful and highly functional new hospital. At 260,000 gross square feet, it will be more than three times the size of the old hospital, which the Scottish Rite Masons erected in 1921. Among its many advantages, it will better accommodate our ever-increasing outpatient services."

SIX LEVELS
The hospital will be comprised of six levels, two below grade and four above. The basement level will contain all supply and logistics support departments. The garden level, one level below grade, will be the primary patient entrance and will house clinics, diagnostic support and dining facilities. The glass-enclosed atrium will serve as a point of orientation and the major lobby-setting area, as well as provide a transparent link between the two building masses.

The first level at grade will house the visitor's entrance and administrative activities, as well as surgical and diagnostic facilities, a 200-seat auditorium. Level's two through four will house administrative, physical and occupational and research functions.

The hospital's sole source of income always had been voluntary contributions and earnings on endowment. It takes no government support. In 1973, staff handled 19,747 visits took 18,248 x-rays, made or repaired 3,767 braces and fitted 3,441 pairs of shoes. The hospital was founded in 1921.

Long Way To Go

Soviet Russia continues to confirm the image of a power uncertain of itself. A case in point was a recent "unofficial" art exhibit of a field on the outskirts of Moscow.

Lynn Olson, Associated Press staffer, was among those who turned out to view the show, which was neither sanctioned or banned. But uniformed and burly plain clothes men arrived about the same time, snatching paintings and ordering the crowd to disperse. When the crowd didn't break up immediately, bulldozers moved in charging intermittently. Christopher Wren of the New York Times had his camera smashed in his face, and was slugged while he held his face in pain. Miss Olson rushed to this aid and got slugged for her trouble. Several other correspondents were mishandled.

Add this to the recent banishment of writers who even dare to question the regime, and you have a fresh proof that the Communists are still so insecure in their own creative minds of its people has a long, long way to go.

Community Colleges

Preliminary figures from the Coordinating Board for the Texas College and University System indicate a 5 1/2 per cent increase in fall semester enrollment. A breakdown on the unofficial tabulations indicate some 275,000 in public senior colleges, up 15,000 or 4.3 per cent.

But, reported the CB, public community colleges remain the fastest growing segment with a total enrollment of 201,400, up 14,700 or 8 per cent. We venture that in the future the community colleges, such as Howard College, will continue to set the pace. For one reason, the economics of higher education are influencing more and more students (and parents) to take advantage of higher education at home during the first two years (when basic curricula are much the same regardless of where you are). For another, more and more young people (and adults, too) will be taking aim on vocational and technical careers, which are most economically and effectively provided in the community college.

Something To Write

Around The Rim

Jo Bright

If you are a parent, and have children away from home, you probably have something in common with most mothers and fathers. You don't get enough letters from your offspring.

ALTHOUGH THEY are quick to pick up a telephone, nearly all of them give as an excuse for not writing that there is nothing to write about.

What a monstrous and palpable falsehood! And what a slander against the powers that be, who are so tirelessly exerting themselves to furnish us entertainment fit for gods!

NOTHING TO write about! Why, there's so much that all the paper in the world wouldn't begin to hold half of it. Take, for instance, even the basic, simple, ordinary things like the weather. Always with us, never the same; it's as full of whims, vagaries, delights and surprises as the most capricious woman.

And our families — our mates, children, relatives and in-laws, along with our loved friends and new acquaintances — what a fascinating wealth of comment, criticism, confidence and conjecture they offer.

THEN, THERE'S even that intensely personal and absorbing question of health, our aches and pains, our symptoms and diseases, our diets and operations, our doctors and medicines. You can be sure those are subjects that will continue to hold interest as long as there are people on earth.

As for the world of nature, who can be so phlegmatic as-not to be moved by its constantly shifting panoramas of beauty? To describe adequately what we see around us would exhaust the dictionary. One life is not enough to tell everything about all the wonders and beauties that we behold — if we really look.

SOMETHING TO write about! Oh, so much that's absorbing and interesting. All one needs to do is look about, up into the sky, under one's feet, or down into one's own mind, self, soul, or whatever it is that gathers everything it sees, hears, feels and thinks to itself — to weave into memories, thoughts and dreams.

My Answer

Billy Graham

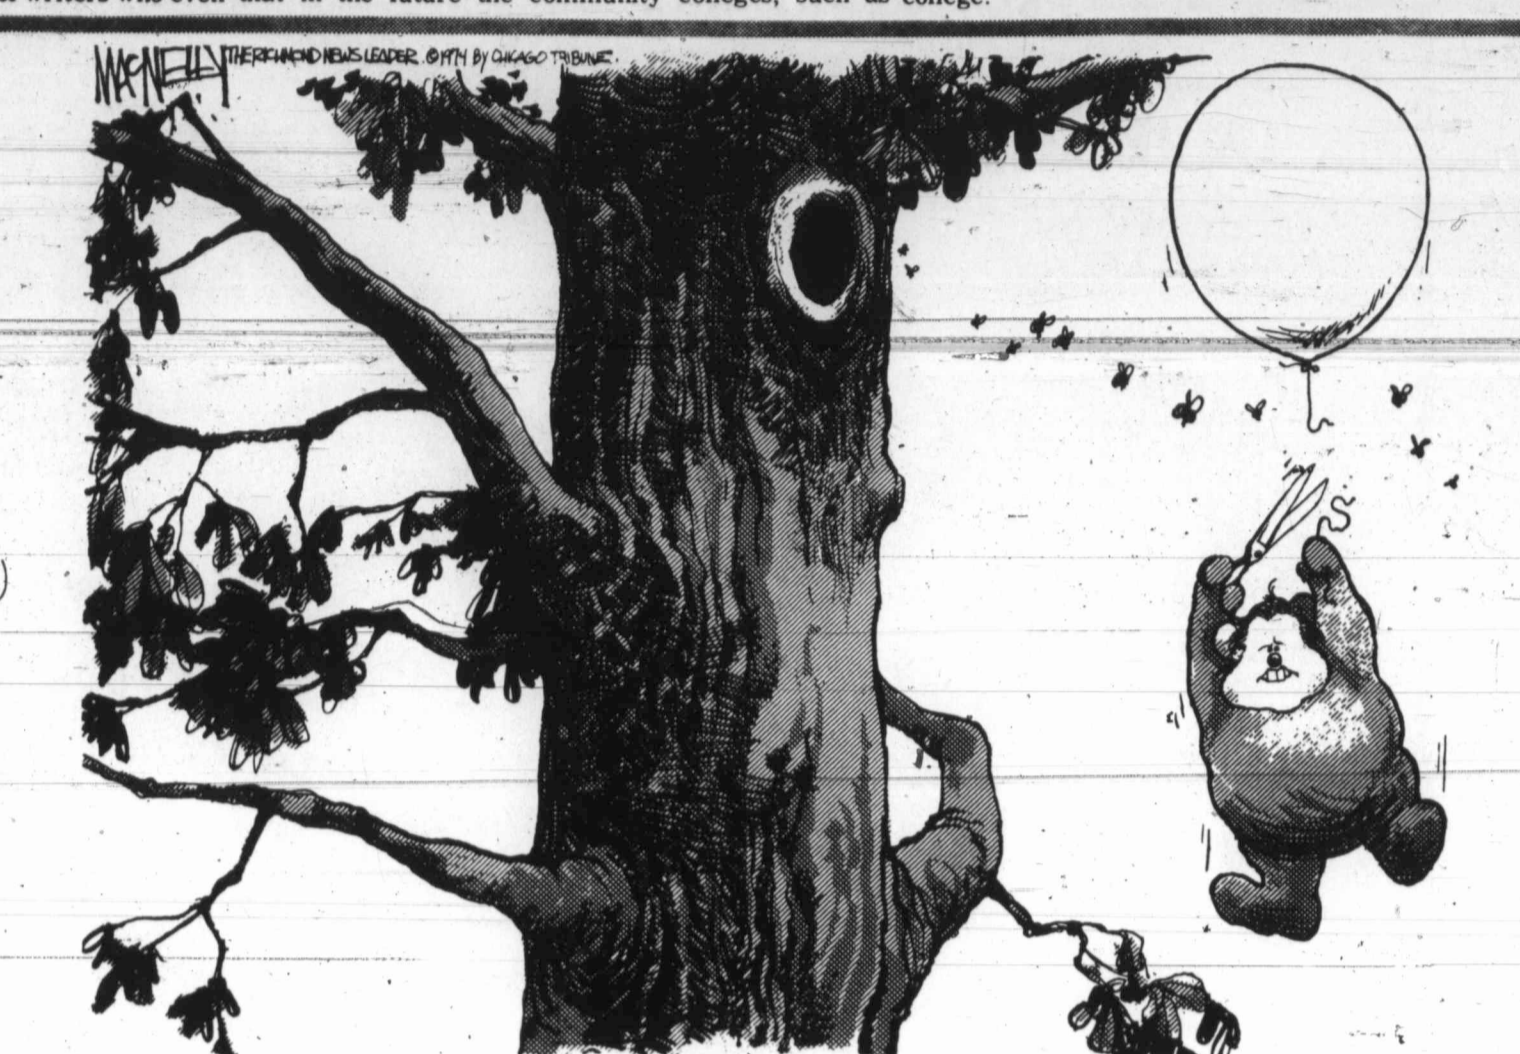

Recently in our newspaper there was a photograph of Siamese twins joined at the head. They are 25 years old. While they once traveled with a circus, now both are Gospel singers. Their mother refused to have them separated, saying she believed, "Whatever God has joined together, let no man put asunder." Is this the right interpretation? R.J.P.

The Scripture statement to which you refer is perhaps Mark 10:9. It appears also in Matthew 19:6. By no stretch of the imagination could their mother apply that to the plight of twins whose bodies are joined. Mark wrote it in obvious connection with the preceding dialogue Jesus had with the Pharisees which involved divorce and marriage.

Marriage was presented as an ordinance of God, instituted before anything had marred His perfect creation. Accordingly these words would have nothing to do with two children congenitally united.

The mother, of course, has a right to her opinion. Although if medical science considered surgical separation a possibility, she ought not to deprive these children of separate personhood.

Scripture often is misquoted, but the likelihood of this is minimized, if as in Acts 17, people "searched the Scriptures day by day, to check up on . . . statements to see if they were really so."

Broaden The Lists

William F. Buckley, Jr.

It is everywhere said that with the withdrawal of Senator Edward Kennedy from the Presidential race, the Watergate drama has come to a complete close, crushing with the same juggernaut that impaled Richard Nixon, the Democrats' principle contender for the Presidency, Edward Kennedy. The explanation is by now showworn. You cannot, we are told, remove the Republican Nixon for his failure, among other things, to come clean about his misbehavior — and then elect the Democrat Kennedy notwithstanding his failure, among other things, to come clean about his misbehavior.

RICHARD NIXON'S public declaration to the effect that he deeply regrets his mistaken judgments greatly annoyed people who wanted him to appear in sackcloth and ashes, regretting the day that he was born. In fact, politicians use euphemisms, wherever possible. When Edward Kennedy renounced the race for the Presidency, he talked not about Chappaquiddick, but about his obligations to his family. I don't doubt that he feels quite sincerely his obligations to his family. But then I don't doubt, either, that Richard Nixon feels quite sincerely his regret at his mistaken judgments. After all, when you attempt to obstruct justice and fail to do so, among other things, you have been mistaken in your judgment.

I wish that we would take the opportunity at this point to reflect less on the need of an American President to have been born without sin, pre partu, in partu, and post partum, as the theologians say, — as to be born with outstanding qualifications to serve as President of the United States. The question arises: How come Richard Nixon was considered the top Republican in the country, and how come Edward Kennedy was considered the top Democrat in the country?

IT IS EASIER to answer the second question than the first. Senator Kennedy is the surviving brother of a publicly illustrious breed, and the martyr's blood one longs to avenge, runs only in his veins. That in itself would substantially account for his popularity, and you then add, of course, his good looks and his youth. I hear it said, incidentally, that he has developed into a fine public speaker. But his popularity was secure before that happened.

IN THE CASE of Richard Nixon, he got to where he got by a combination of extraordinary luck (the need of Dwight Eisenhower to capture the California delegation in 1952), and dogged an intelligent perseverance: ten million town hall appearances for local candidates over a period of 20 years. But Mr. Nixon never distinguished himself as a man of extraordinary gifts, or capacity. If his dealings with the Watergate prosecutors, and with Internal Revenue, and with Bebe Rebozo, were as chaste as those of Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, would he therefore have loomed as a man more august than he is seen now to be? Isn't it clear that his shortcomings, those that greatly matter, were of an extra-venal character?

HERE IS THE trouble with the Presidency. People are laughed at for merely mentioning as a possible President someone who is not heavily steeped in a ritual which tends rather to vulgarize than to ennoble. It is safe nowadays to say, for instance, that you think Senator Jackson should be President. But it is ludicrous to say that you think Frank Stanton should be President. Why? This has nothing to do with any question of sharing or not sharing Jackson's or Stanton's views on public policy. But a wall lifts up, as impenetrable as Berlin's, between the two categories of men. Stanton's executive experience is far greater than Jackson's. His general attraction to left domestic policies is about the same. His views on all matters are very well known, inasmuch as he has given almost as many speeches as Jackson. His position on foreign policy is not very different. He is neither much more or much less effective than Jackson as a public speaker.

SURELY THIS IS a direction we should consciously turn to: increasing the list of Americans who should be considered for the Presidency. The mere mention of someone as a possible President has the effect of getting his name thought about. But it should be more than that. Committees should examine men from different professions. They should be written about, listened to.

Housing Puzzle

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The biggest components in the selling price of a new, single-family house are generally considered to be the cost of construction materials, 32 per cent, land, 25 per cent, and labor, about 15 per cent.

Since the price of all three has risen sharply in the past few years, so has the sales price of the average new house—from $30,500 in 1972, to $35,500 last year, according to the Conference Board.

Over a 10-year period to 1973, states the board, a business and economic research organization, the price of comparable new homes rose 84 per cent it cites Federal Home Loan Bank Board figures to indicate that the price tags on existing homes doubled in the same period.

But now the catch. With mortgage money tight and with many families unable to come up with the substantial down payments required, the housing market has shriveled almost to nothingness in many areas.

This means the proud homeowner who brags about his hedge against inflation — "I can get double what I paid for my house!" — may be living in an illusory world. If there isn't a market, how can there be a selling price?

True, when the market comes alive again, he might obtain double his money. But if he were to sell today, he might find that big price tag cannot be converted into dollar bills.

Even before the economic summitry of the past month, the subject of credit allocation was being discussed in banking and housing circles, among others. Advocates of allocation claimed that some deserving sections of the economy, such as housing, were being starved for funds because they couldn't pay the price. Allocation of credit by price alone was unfair, they said.

The arguments against allocation by other criteria, such as social good or greater productivity, were immediately attacked by economists and financial men. Controls on credit, they claimed, would only make matters worse.

What they really were saying, however, was that controls by government would be bad but that controls by private industry, that is, the bankers, would be permissible. The fact is, that banks must control their distribution of credit.

ACCURATELY Named Bay, Jamaica (AP) — Runaway Bay on Jamaica's north coast is said to have been named for the runaway slaves in the 17th and 18th centuries who fled to Cuba in canoes. Once they arrived, the Spanish would immediately baptize them so they couldn't be returned to the "British heretics" without imperiling their immortal souls.

Seborrhic Dermatitis

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can you give me information on seborrhic dermatitis? I have it on my face and scalp and my face is very red when I shave. I would like to know what to avoid, and the cause if possible. — P.K.

Seborrhic dermatitis — a common disorder, but not too often recognized by that name by most folks — is a low-grade, chronic inflammation of the skin.

The exact cause is not known but it tends to bother those with oily skins. In fact, that is where it gets its name, because skin oils come from the sebaceous glands.

cleanliness to remove excess oil and skin scales is the basis of the treatment. Beyond that, to control itching and extensive skin involvement, various lotions can be prescribed by a dermatologist (skin specialist) but I recommend you get a dermatologist's advice, since the severity of the case has a good deal to do with choosing the right lotion or ointment.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have an acne problem. My nose, chin and cheeks are covered with small blackheads and my forehead is broken out badly. I have tried almost everything. What do you recommend? — D.P.

Well, you don't tell me what you've tried (except "almost everything") so I don't know how to tell you to change your program, whatever it is.

However, if you'll read my booklet, "Controlling Acne, Blackheads and Pimples," I'd pretty much guarantee that you'll find some methods that you haven't yet tried. It's not an easy condition to subdue, but with proper treatment there aren't many cases that don't

OTA Aid For Cities

WASHINGTON — Newark has been a pothole in the poverty pocket of New Jersey for some time. I went up to talk to the chamber of commerce the other night, and all the speakers had some great ideas as to how they could get Newark out of its doldrums.

AFTER THE dinner was over I retired to my hotel room when there was a knock on the door. A man who refused to give his name said he had to talk to me. I let him in.

"Listen, all that talk you heard at dinner tonight about improving Newark — forget it."

"Oh?" I said.

"IT WON'T work. We need federal money and we're not going to get it. The mayor keeps going to Washington and all he gets is empty promises. No one down there gives a damn about the cities."

"That's true," I agreed.

He said, "Our problem is we keep going to HEW, HUD and the Department of Transportation — and all we get is the runaround. There is only one agency in Washington that has money to burn and it doesn't have to answer to anybody."

"You mean the CIA?"

"RIGHT. WHAT we want to do is have them destabilize Newark," he said.

"You have to be kidding."

"I'm not. The CIA spent $8 million to destabilize Allende in Chile. If we could get them to spend that kind of money in Newark we'd be in great shape."

"But why would the CIA want to destabilize Newark?" I asked. "It's not a threat to the United States."

"HAVE YOU walked around it lately?" he asked me.

"Looks as though everything," I told him. "You have to do something that would endanger the security of the Western Hemisphere. Allende was Marxist and we couldn't stand something like that so near to North America."

"Okay, we'll put out the word that our mayor is a Marxist, and then they can send us the aid."

"Would your mayor go along with that?"

"He's so desperate for money for the city, he'll go along with anything."

"That's all well and good, but what can I do for you?"

"GET WORD back to Kissinger that Newark is about to recognize Castro's government and is planning to nationalize the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey. Have him call a meeting of the 40 Committee, and let them recommend that the CIA finance the overthrow of the Newark city government. If someone from here tells Kissinger, he won't believe us. But since you're the last foreign correspondent to have visited us, he might believe you. The CIA is our only hope."

"But if the CIA destabilizes you, they would have to destabilize New York, Chicago, Baltimore and every other city in trouble. They don't want that kind of money?"

"How can you be sure?" the man said. "No one knows how much money the CIA has."

"What makes you think it won't if we don't get the money?"

A Devotion For Today . . .

"Love is patient and kind." (I Corinthians 13:4)

PRAYER: Our Father, grant us the grace to act on the basis of love and kindness. May Your eternal patience with mankind plumb the depths of our impatient lives and change us to act with compassion. In the spirit of Jesus. Amen.

New Leaflet Gives Women Information

A guide to help women become aware of their employment rights established under Federal legislation has been issued by the Women's Bureau of the Department of Labor's Employment Standards Administration. "A Working Woman's Guide to Her Job Rights" highlights laws and Executive orders which affect women when they are seeking a job, while they are on the job, and when they retire. "Far too many women are completely unaware of their rights under the law," said Women's Bureau Director Carmen R. Maymi in citing the need for such a publication discussing many laws under one cover. "While the responsibility for enforcing laws rests with Government, women can be a tremendous help in alerting the enforcers to discriminatory acts of noncompliance if they know their rights," Maymi said. Under a section headed "Getting the Job," the publication covers services provided through the Federal-State Employment Service system, entrance to employment through apprenticeships, and laws which protect against sex and age discrimination. Another section, "On the Job," deals with pay and promotion opportunities, garnishment of wages, maternity leave, and tax deduction for child care and household help. Also covered are safety and health protection, compensation for injuries, unemployment insurance, and union membership. Social security benefits and private pension plans are discussed under "When You Retire." The 38-page publication lists the names and addresses of Federal agencies which can provide further information or assistance, and of state labor offices and human rights commissions. The leaflet does not include regulations which apply specifically to Federal employees, whose job rights stem basically from Civil Service Commission regulations and Executive orders. Single copies of the guide are available free from the Women's Bureau; Employment Standards Administration; U. S. Department of Labor; 1100 Commerce St., Room 13F12; Dallas, Tex. 75202. Copies are for sale at 60 cents each from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402.

Dog And Cat Mating Would Create Dat?

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem I sure hope you can help me with, as everyone I've told this to just laughs at me. I know I read an article in the Orlando Sentinel Star stating that someone actually mated a dog with a cat, and the offspring was called a "DAT." (Half dog and half cat.) I read that it looked like a dog, but had fur instead of hair. I'm sure they even ran a picture of it. Now I could kick myself for not cutting out the article and keeping it as proof. I even went to the newspaper and asked for a copy, but because I couldn't tell them the exact date, they couldn't help me. That paper runs your column so maybe if you ask them they will try to find it. PINKY II DEAR PINKY: If such a piece ever did appear in the Orlando Sentinel, it was either a spoof or a goof. A "DAT"? DAT's and impossibility! DEAR ABBY: Grandma thinks she was "done wrong" by her son and daughter-in-law because they asked her to babysit for them while they took a course in landscaping, when they really took a series of dancing lessons. (They knew Grandma wouldn't babysit if they told her the truth.) Well, tell her she's lucky. My daughter got us to take her child for five months. She told us she was trying to get her life straightened out, and was working overtime to earn money to fix up her house so she and the baby could have a nicer place to live. We knocked ourselves out looking after the boy. It cost us a bundle to fly up to get him, also for babysitters (I work part-time), not to mention loss of income for clients I had to turn away. Now we find out that our daughter had taken up with a man who didn't want the child around. Three weeks after the baby went back with her, she phoned and asked if we wanted to adopt him because she was going to give him up and marry the man she'd been living with. It's one thing to have kids who are liars. Some are bigger liars than others. GRANDMA DEAR GRANDMA: Yours not only flew the coop, she used you to feather her love nest. DEAR ABBY: You had a letter in your column from a handicapped person who resented seeing perfectly able-bodied drivers zip into parking spaces marked

"Reserved for the Handicapped," then walk a few steps to the store or building. The writer complained that he often hobbled on crutches a long way to his destination while some inconsiderate, selfish clod took the parking place reserved for the handicapped. Abby, one need not be crippled to be handicapped. Many disabilities are not visible. A heart patient, or one with severely reduced lung power may be more seriously handicapped than someone on crutches. You should have said, "Before calling people 'inconsiderate, selfish clods' for having grabbed your parking space, consider that many who appear to be able-bodied and healthy may be in far worse physical condition than you are." ASTHMATIC'S WIFE DEAR WIFE: Thank you for pointing out something that never occurred to me. You are far more insightful than I. DEAR ABBY: I am a 26-year-old woman who is in love with a married man. He is 40. (No lectures, please, just advice.) I know he really loves me, but he won't divorce his wife because of their two children who are 10 and 12. He says he can't leave his family until the 10-year-old is 18. Abby, I'll be 34 years old! He keeps telling me how much he loves me, and I know he means it. I never go anywhere because I want to be home in case he calls. One hour with him is better than a whole weekend with somebody else. I don't know what to do, Abby. You give such sensible advice. A LOVELIER YOU New Panty Hose

By MARY SUE MILLER Do you feel that your panty hose sags after you've been sitting? Or maybe it turns over at the waist to form an uncomfortable roll of fabric? There's a reason. In the past all panty hose were constructed in the panty area without regard to the natural shape of the female anatomy. Stretch yarns were expected to provide the necessary fit. Now there are improvements. The panty section is designed with a longer rise in back and a shorter rise in front. Result: no pull, no roll. Contour, instead! What's more, contour features are built into the panty and so will stay in permanently. Even the seams resist strain, as they are curved as you are. The stocking section presents no problem, for it relies on the fit of the original legsize hosiery. Having settled fit for the present, let's turn our attention to hosiery fashion colors and with what to wear them. The shades are super elegant: whispering pine, a blendable green that works with any wardrobe green from loden to hunter; smoky blue, a slate, goes with the heather, shadow blues and with navy; teak-wood mixes with the brown family. Black, deep gray, camel and frost also have an important place as the leg becomes part of the silhouette when skirts lengthen. Sheers, ribs, opaques match the formality of a garment. Colors closely blend or match a garment's shade. For continuity, you know.

Paving Is Pegged At 16 Mi.

County Judge A. G. Mitchell today predicted 16-17 miles of county roads will be paved before winter this year.

Paving eight miles to date this year, and laying caliche for paving another 10 miles has cost the county $65,000, which is $2,000 more than budgeted. The County Commissioners Court planned to pave 21 miles with the $63,000 budgeted, the judge said.

In his weekly report to the court, Neil Barnaby, road engineer, reported a grader working on McGregor Road, two motor graders on the Webb Road, and 10 pieces of equipment being utilized in the Foster Addition. The court had accepted a plat of the Foster Addition, which is located south and west of Coahoma, in July.

On schedule for road crews this week is paving part of the old San Angelo Highway and "two little bits of road" in the Silver Heels Addition, and spreading caliche on Webb Road and the new Co-Op Gin Road.

Also, with the temporary employment of two Air Force men (off duty), the county will be cutting trenches in the city-county landfill.

Graveside services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at Trinity Memorial Park for Keith and Kyle Bohannon, stillborn twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Bohannon, 410 Eastwood, Midland.

The infants were born in a hospital here at 8:07 and 8:15 a.m. today.

The Rev. Monroe Teeters, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Coahoma, will officiate. Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home will be in charge of arrangements.

Survivors include the parents; the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Bohannon, Sand Springs; and the maternal grandparents, Mrs. Ina Stout and Robert Stout, both of Big Spring.

Federal Employees Get 5.52 Per Cent Pay Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford today set a 5.52 per cent pay raise for federal employees, rejecting proposals for a larger increase.

The salary increase for an estimated 3.5 million civilian and military employees goes into effect immediately.

Ford had sought to delay the raises for three months, but the Senate voted 10 days ago to grant the salary increase on Oct. 1 as scheduled.

Even with the Senate action, however, it still was up to the President to set the precise size of the increase. In a White House statement, Ford said he was approving the figure recommended by his director of the Office of Management and Budget and the chairman of the Civil Service Commission.

Federal employees' union representatives had proposed an 8.4 per cent increase. The Advisory Committee on Federal Pay recommended a 7.2 per cent hike.

In today's economy, it is clear that one of the best services we can render to the taxpayer as well as the federal worker is to keep the federal budget within bounds to help alleviate current economic problems," Ford said.

Mansfield Has Gore Wound

Toots Mansfield, who was gored while practicing Friday for the weekend steering contest at Post, was able to leave the Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital Tuesday. He was rushed to the hospital after he sustained a severe wound in the groin, but he has made good recovery.

The Big Spring D. Q.s are located at 1506 East 4th, 2600 Gregg and 1009 Lamesa Hwy. Carl Reeves, Sweetwater, will be area supervisor for the restaurants.

President and majority owner of Dairy Queen of West Texas, Inc., and five other D. Q. corporations is I. B. (Barney) Fort Worth.

City taxes are paid at the water office building behind City Hall at 305 Johnson, according to Robert Massengale, city finance director. "This is the first year that taxes have been paid at that building. Tax statements now have been mailed," Massengale added.

Local DQs Are Sold

Dairy Queen of West Texas, Inc., will be the new name of Dairy Queen of Midland, Inc., a change being made to reflect more fully the corporation's expanding activities in West Texas.

Included in the expansion is the acquisition today of the three Dairy Queen restaurants operating in Big Spring.

The name change and the purchase of the Big Spring D. Q.s were announced by James Utley, Midland, executive vice-president of the company, which currently owns 14 Dairy Queens in Alpine, Andrews, Canadian, Dalhart, Fort Stockton, Haskell, Midland, Muleshoe, Pterryton, Stanton and Sweetwater. The total increases to 17 with the sale of the Big Spring restaurants to Dairy Queen of West Texas, Inc., by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Anderson, Kermit.

The Big Spring D. Q.s are located at 1506 East 4th, 2600 Gregg and 1009 Lamesa Hwy. Carl Reeves, Sweetwater, will be area supervisor for the restaurants.

SC Election

An election for Howard County Soil and Water Conservation District trustees will be conducted at 8:30 a.m. Oct. 8 in room 241 of the Post Office building. To be filled in the election is a now vacant board seat representing the southwest corner of Howard County.

Ford To Map Energy Conservation Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Treasury Secretary William E. Simon said today President Ford will outline a program of energy conservation to Congress next week that may include some mandatory energy control.

"Simon said the only leverage oil importing nations have to bring about lower oil prices is to reduce consumption and increase domestic production of energy resources.

But he gave few clues on what the President might specifically propose. "That's being studied now," he said when asked at a news conference if mandatory measures would be included. "That's for the President to decide," he told reporters prior to a formal address to the 126-nation International Monetary Fund's annual meeting.

"We are confronted with the threat of inflationary forces so strong and so persistent that they could jeopardize not only the prosperity but even the stability of our societies," Simon said in his speech.

He said the United States planned to stick to its policies of seeking to restrain demand for goods through balanced fiscal and monetary policies, even though other speakers have said rigid pursuit of anti-demand policies could push the world economy to the brink of recession.

"I recognize this concern," Simon said, "but I do not believe we should let it distort our judgment."

"If we fail to persevere in our anti-inflation policies now, with the result that inflation becomes more severe, then in time countermeasures will be required that would be so drastic as to risk sharp downturns and disruptions in economic activity," he added.

Simon said existing international financial institutions are working reasonably well in recycling surplus funds from oil exporting nations to importing nations. But he said the United States would support a study of possible alternatives.

Simon also said the United States would oppose any increase in quota payments by member nations of the IMF until there is a change in the present requirement that 25 per cent be in gold.

Making Study Of Intersection

A study of the intersection at Fifth and Main in front of the Post Office is being made by Mrs. Susan Thomas, city traffic engineer.

"We are studying the possibility of a left turn lane," Mrs. Thomas said. "The traffic problem at that intersection is planned, will be presented first to the city traffic commission, probably at their October meeting."

Rural Fire

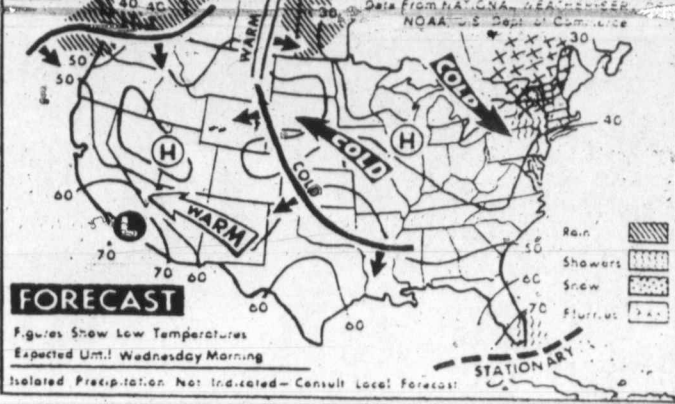

Coahoma and Sand Springs firemen were dispatched to a house fire on Brooks Road in Sand Springs at 10:30 a.m. Monday. Bill Whitton, chief deputy sheriff, said the blaze began in the well house, possibly from an electrical short, burned the shed and spread to a back bedroom.

Candidates Reminded Of Expense Filing Deadline

Mrs. Margaret Ray, chief deputy county clerk, today reminded political committees and opposed candidates in the Nov. 5 general election that their first general election campaign contribution and expense reports must be filed by 5 p.m. Oct. 7.

Her reports, covering all political contributions and expenditures made since either the appointment of the candidate's or committee's campaign manager or the last primary election report, may be filed as early as Sept. 27, with the deadline being Oct. 7.

Candidates running for statewide offices or offices which include parts of two or more counties file their reports with the Secretary of State.

Candidates seeking local offices or state offices where the district is located solely within one county must file with the county clerk in that county.

Under the law, a report postmarked by 5 p.m. on Oct. 7 will be considered properly filed. However, the Postal Service no longer uses a postmark which shows the time a letter was mailed unless the letter is sent by registered mail, special delivery, or certified mail.

Candidates without opponents in the general election are not required to file reports. Political committees contributing to any candidates are still required to file even if the candidate they are supporting is unopposed.

Penalties for failing to file include felony sentences carrying a penalty of a fine of from $100 to $5,000 or one to five years in prison, or both.

Sadler began his work with the city in 1955 and had served in numerous capacities including head of the water and sewer department, street and sanitation departments, before he became city manager Feb. 1, 1968.

Checkups Spot Lead Poisoning

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Nearly 37 per cent of some 91,000 children screened during a federal-state free medical checkup program needed immediate medical attention, says State Welfare Commissioner Raymond Vowell.

Vowell told the Governor's Task Force on Youth Care and Rehabilitation on Monday that the most prevalent problem was with children's eyes—7,262 were referred for treatment.

Dr. William Brumage of the State Health Department said an unusually large number of children, 2,086, were suspected of having lead poisoning, but most suspicions proved unfounded.

He said, however, a "number of cases" were confirmed in the Corpus Christi and Brenham areas.

Colt Head Coach Is Fired

BALTIMORE (AP) — Joe Thomas, a man of decisive action, is seldom caught unprepared. But even he was surprised at being named head coach of the Baltimore Colts.

Thomas, the team's general manager, was suffering through another setback in Philadelphia's Veterans Stadium on Sunday when owner Robert Irsay dropped his bombshell.

Not long before, Irsay had visited Coach Howard Schnellenberger on the sidelines and urged that Marty Domres be yanked in favor of second-year quarterback Bert Jones. The coach not only rejected the idea but reportedly tossed in a few expletives for emphasis.

According to sideline observers, Irsay didn't respond then. Instead, he stormed into the locker room minutes after Philadelphia beat the Colts 30-10 to inform players and Schnellenberger that the coach was fired.

That expletive deleted ball club will go on the field and play itself, the former fifth-string college quarterback at Illinois yelled as he emerged. Thomas, sweating profusely and obviously shaken, had failed to beat his boss to the locker room after being unable to change Irsay's mind about the snap decision in the box seats.

By Monday, however, Thomas was ready to accept yet another challenge and willing to face any criticism that may come his way.

"I'm not worried about blame," he said, when asked what happens if the team continues its current three-game losing streak. "If we get beat, we'll just have to go out and try to improve."

Thomas, whose only head coaching experience was in high school—25 years ago—said he didn't expect any difficult since 95 percent of the work is done by the assistants, anyway.

Astros, Braves Rehire Managers Orioles Closer To Pennant

By The Associated Press

The Atlanta Braves and the Houston Astros both announced the rehiring of their managers Monday and both men immediately began planning for future glories.

"We hope we can strengthen our team in a couple of spots," said Clyde King, given a two-year contract with the Braves. "We feel like we don't need too many new faces to make us a contender."

"If we can make one or two moves to give us that little something extra we need, we'll be okay," said Preston Gomez, after signing a one-year pact with the Astros.

"We have to make some changes and build for the future but the nucleus of a good team is already here," King said.

More news on the managerial front is expected soon from Cleveland where Ken Aspromonte has already been fired. A replacement is expected soon after the season ends Wednesday and Frank Robinson is considered the most likely to succeed. King took over the Braves from Eddie Mathews during the All-Star break and led the club to a 36-24 record, enabling Atlanta to finish third in the National League West, its best finish since winning the division in 1969.

The 50-year-old King says he doesn't think his club is outclassed by division mates Los Angeles and Cincinnati.

"I certainly don't feel we can't contend with them," he said. "From the All-Star break on, I think we kept up with them pretty good."

The Braves trailed the first-place Dodgers by 14 games when King took over and they trail by 14 going into tonight's action.

Gomez replaced Leo Durocher at the Houston helm a year ago today. His club had pennant aspirations when the season began but never recovered from a 10-game losing streak in May.

The Astros trail Los Angeles in the West by 19 games heading into tonight's play.

In Kansas City, Manager Jack McKeon's contract has been renewed but batting coach Charley Lau was fired Friday.

DETROIT (AP) — Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver is being cautious. He doesn't want to say anything to psychologically aid the New York Yankees.

But the Yankees need more than a slip of the tongue today — they need to win their last two games while Baltimore must lose at least one of its last two for New York to even tie for first place in the American League East.

Monday night the Detroit Tigers sure didn't do anything to aid the Yankees, psychologically or otherwise.

Baltimore battered Detroit for 12 hits and nine runs the first four innings enroute to a 12-6 victory before a chilled, rain-dampened crowd of 6,575 at Tiger Stadium.

In the only other American League game scheduled, the Cleveland Indians edged the Boston Red Sox 2-1.

The Orioles' triumph was their seventh consecutive and their 14th in the last 16 games. They have posted a 26-6 record since Aug. 29 when they were third, eight games behind leader Boston.

An Oriole victory would force New York to win tonight and Wednesday in Milwaukee. That would give the two contenders a 90-72 final record and force a one-game knockout playoff Thursday in New York.

Should Baltimore win one and New York lose one of its next two, the Orioles would win their fifth East crown since the major leagues went to divisional play six years ago.

The only way New York can win the title without a one-game playoff is to win twice against the Brewers while Baltimore loses the final two to Detroit. That would give the Yankees a 90-72 record and the Orioles an 89-73 mark.

"This is a big one for us because all we have to do is win one of two games to tie the Yankees," said Oriole second baseman Bobby Grich, who drove in three runs in three separate trips to the plate.

Baltimore didn't waste time against Tiger starter Mickey Lolich, who became the first 21-game loser for Detroit since Hooks Dauss was 13-21 in 1920.

Lolich, who has lost six successive games since winning his 16th, gave up four of his five second-inning runs.

Johnson is Top Winner

Curtis Johnson, 1517 Elm Street, took the top prize in the Herald Football Contest this week, and was awarded the $12.50 cash prize.

Taking second and third places were Corine Tripleton, 2108 Cecilia, who took the $7.50 second prize and Richard N. Martel, 1608 Oriole who took the $5.00 third prize.

Contest officials noted that many of the entry blanks have been turned in with at least one box unmarked or with the tie breakers score written in. In order to be counted entries must be complete, including a check mark for the winner of each of the games and scores in the blanks for the tie breakers indicated by arrows.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bill Kilmer, limping with a pulled calf muscle, tried unsuccessfully to tell everyone that he was only a small part of the Redskins' victory over the Denver Broncos.

"It was a team effort... the offense, the defense and the special teams," he said. "We didn't make any mistakes and they did. We didn't have any interceptions. We didn't have any fumbles."

Despite his comments, Kilmer threw two touchdown passes to Charlie Taylor, including one early in the first quarter, to lead the Redskins to a 30-3 victory in the National Football League nationally televised interconference game.

The victory put the Redskins in second place in the AFC Eastern Division with Philadelphia, each with records of 21, behind undefeated St. Louis, 3-0.

The record gave Denver a record of 0-2, its last in the AFC Western Division.

In addition to Kilmer's two touchdown passes to Taylor, Mark Moseley kicked field goals of 37, 22, and 18 yards and Duane Thomas scored a touchdown with 11 seconds remaining in the game to give the Redskins more total points than they have scored in two previous contests this season.

Denver's only score came on a 34-yard field goal by Jim Turner in the third period.

Foreman Resumes Bout Preparation

N'SELE, Zaire (AP) — The much-heralded cut has caused severe difficulties for the world heavyweight champion George Foreman said Monday.

"I've been doing my roadwork for the past five days and when (trainer) Dick Sadler says it's okay, we'll be sparring again."

Foreman appeared in good spirits as he resumed gym work after a two-week layoff in preparation for his title defense against Muhammad Ali, now scheduled for Oct. 30 in Kinshasa, Zaire.

The bout, originally planned for Sept. 24, was postponed when Foreman caught an elbow over his right eye in a sparring session with Bill McMurray.

Pirates, Cards Remain Tied

Angels from clinching the title by beating the Dodgers 4-1. Los Angeles now leads a second-place Cincinnati by two games, who were pretty much overlooked in the pre-season analyses, matched three-hitters Monday night to keep the National League East race in a flat-tie.

Kison had a shaky first inning, allowing two singles, a hit batsman and a bases-loaded walk to force in a run, but then settled down.

Kison, 9-8, allowed just one single and a walk the rest of the way — by far his strongest game of the season and his first complete game since 1972.

Pittsburgh and St. Louis each have two games remaining. The Pirates play host to the Cubs while the Cards are at Montreal.

Zisk, batting for shorts top Frank Taveras, clouted his game-winning triple in the seventh to score Manny Sanguillen, who had singled and taken second on a wild pitch.

With homecoming and district time approaching, Big Spring High is hard at work. Both items come into reality Friday, when the Steers host Abilene High. Game time is 8 p.m.

Steer head coach Bob Burris is playing it real cool. He's not saying much this week, but made a brief statement. "We spent a lot of time last week working with the younger players so as to create more of a depth balance. It will take a great team effort to best Abilene."

Big Spring being idle last week devoted more practice time to the throwing game.

Rex Scofield is now home recuperating from an ulcer ailment which occurred at the Snyder game. Scofield was hospitalized close to a week. He plans to be back at his school desk Wednesday or Thursday.

Abilene will come into the Steer classic, 2-1, owning wins over Sweetwater and Temple. The Warbirds have a young secondary, but have given up only 12 completions in 41 pass attempts. Six of those came against Sweetwater.

Abilene has relinquished 501 yards on the ground or 167 per opponent.

In checking out Steer home attendance figures, the 1973 district opener with Permian revealed that 6,193 passed through the gates. It was also the highest figure at Memorial Stadium last season.

Sticking with the census of opinion, a sell-out crowd could be in the offering Friday night. If it is in the forecast, (I sure hope so), it couldn't come at a better time, to salute homecoming.

The lowest 1973 home Steer football figures show 4,000. Cooper was the visiting opponent. This season's home opener against Hobbs drew 4,958.

YMCA Gym, Handball Opened

Pat Owens, YMCA Physical director announces that the Y gym and handball courts will be re-opened for normal use starting Wednesday.

Both areas have been closed the past two weeks for repairs and refinishing.

6-AA Lists Only Two Unbeatens

Winters and Ballinger remained the only two undefeated 6-AA teams this week as district play begins Friday.

Last Friday's nonconference battles saw both Anson and Coahoma knocked from the unbeaten ranks by previously beaten teams.

Anson lost to Clyde 14-0 and Coahoma was upset by McCamey 14-6 last Friday while Winters defeated Eldorado 20-0 and Ballinger remained unbeaten by downing Coleman 28-7.

In other nonconference action involving 6-AA teams, Post defeated Colorado City 27-7, Hamlin topped Ciesco 28-20, and Hakkell defeated Stamford 30-12.

In District 6-AA opens this week, Anson hosts Hamlin, Ballinger and Winters will clash in the battle of the unbeaten and Coahoma will travel to Colorado City.

Coahoma's Putt Choate slipped a notch in the scoring standings as he failed to add any to his total Friday night and presently stands third in district scoring with 46 points.

John Booker, Anson is first with 54 points, and Hamlin's Johnny Jones is second with 50 points.

Ford Says Wife Feels 'Much, Much Better'

WASHINGTON (AP) — First Lady Betty Ford's doctors say they remain optimistic for her "prolonged survival" despite discovery of some cancer cells in lymph gland tissue removed during breast cancer surgery.

FULL FAITH

And the President said he certainly shares that optimism, although he said the pathology report raises some questions. Statistics indicate that finding of cancer cells in lymph nodes in such cases usually diminishes chances for a long-term cure.

Paying a visit to his wife Monday night after the final pathology report was issued, the President said he had "full faith in the doctors — I think they're the experts and we'll follow their advice."

He noted a great improvement in his wife's condition and described her as "much, much better."

"With her strong fine attitude," the President said of his wife, "I think everything will work out all right."

Mrs. Ford's doctors, Navy Capt. William Fouty, who performed the surgery, and White House physician William Lukash, said the final pathology report, an examination of tissues removed in the operation, showed: "Microscopic involvement of cancer in only 2 out of 30 lymph nodes. There was no involvement in local blood vessels."

MART SLUMP COST ROCKY $20 MILLION

WASHINGTON (AP) — The slumping stock market cost Vice President-designate Nelson A. Rockefeller more than $20 million in just two months this summer, according to comparative figures for the principal trust from which he gets income.

On June 28, its portfolio, the bulk of it in a dozen common stocks, was worth $126.8 million.

On Aug. 23, they were worth just $106.2 million.

And since then, they may have dropped another $5 million.

The comparisons were made available when New York magazine published the June 28 figures, which a reliable source later confirmed, and the former New York governor presented the Aug. 23 figures to the Senate Rules Committee.

Wallaces' Production Sale Brings $29,880

An average of $660 for registered Hereford bulls and a $438 average for heifers offered at the Leland Wallace First Annual Production Sales showed that cattle producers from West Texas and Eastern New Mexico still have confidence in the future of the cattle market. Total sale for 51 head was $29,880.

The sale was held Monday at the Big Spring Auction Co. with 51 lots sold under the gavel of Col. Walter Britten and Dick Britten, auctioneers and Hereford breeders from Bryan.

TOP SELLER

The top seller was Diamond Bar W10, calved April 10, 1973, sired by C Bar Diamond A48 4 with Pretty

Lady 710 as its dam. The young bull was purchased by the Wilson Ranch of Big Spring for $1,750.

A total of 39 Hereford bulls and 12 females of Straight Anxiety 4th breeding and several of the other top Hereford bloodlines were sold by Leland and Mrs. Gerald Marie Wallace, breeders of Herefords for more than 34 years.

Biggest surprise in the sale was the $1,600 brought by Diamond Bar W-11, calved only a year ago on Sept. 23, 1973. He was purchased by Ken Matthews Jr. of Dalhart, F.W. Wittenburg and Jack Burkett of Graham paid $1,400 for Royal XI, calved Aug. 1, 1972.

TOP BUYER

Top buyer of the sale was Wilson Ranch, purchasing four head for $3,800. Second high was Matthews, buying two head for $2,600. Wild Horse of Colorado City was third with two head for $2,300.

Other top-selling bulls included Concho Diamond W $1,000; Diamond Anxiety W 3C, purchased by Mrs. Bob Robinson's Wild Horse Ranch for $1,200 and $1,100; Diamond Anxiety W 44, purchased by Edison Ranch, Lovington, N.M., for $1,000; Diamond Anxiety W39, purchased by Rich Anderson of Borden County for $1,050; Diamond Anxiety W 31, purchased by Reed and Stewart of Sterling City for $1,000; Diamond Anxiety W 37, purchased by Wilson Ranch for $900.

OPTIMISTIC

"Considering that only two lymph nodes were involved and that there is no clinical evidence of cancer spread to other areas," they said they "remain optimistic for a prolonged survival."

After the three-hour surgery Saturday on Mrs. Ford, Fouty, chairman of surgery at the Bethesda Naval Medical Center, was asked if discovery of some malignancy in lymphatic tissue would be an ominous sign.

He said, "This would not be particularly an ominous sign. It would not be particularly a bad sign. People do respond to further therapy. There would be no more surgical procedures done because all of this tissue would be removed."

CONTRAST

And, now that they have the findings in hand, the doctors said that the next step in Mrs. Ford's case will be to make special diagnostic studies to decide whether x-ray, hormonal or chemotherapy should be used "to insure maximum treatment of this cancer."

Statistics show that women who have no cancer cells in their lymph nodes have a 75 per cent chance of surviving five years after breast cancer surgery and a 65 per cent chance of surviving 10 years.

But by contrast, women with cancer cells found in one or more of their lymph nodes have only a 50 per cent chance for five-year survival and a 25 per cent chance of surviving for 10 years.

As far as President Ford was concerned, he saw one major sign of his wife's progress. He told reporters with a smile as he left the hospital Monday night: "She gave me a hard time about a couple of things, so she must be feeling 'better.'"

City Given Suit Threat

City officials and the city manager were sent letters this week from Kenneth Howell, representing Local 826, International Union of Operating Engineers, threatening a class action suit in regard to overtime for city employees.

The letter claimed that, in the union's opinion, "the City of Big Spring is in violation of the National Fair Labor Standards Act" and that the matter should be determined by the court.

The letter said that unless the "violation is corrected immediately, we will request our attorney to file a class action on behalf of all city employees of Big Spring."

City Manager Harry Nagel noted that "this in no way changes the stand that the city is taking in the matter." The city contends it is conforming with the law.

Smugglers Of Sugar

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — How do you picture an international smuggler? Beady eyes? Sharp, chisled features? A wide-brimmed hat pulled low across the forehead? A trenchcoat? A vague foreign accent? Could be.

But Border Patrol agents are becoming concerned with sugar-smugglers, most likely as not to be little old ladies, clean cut young husbands, perky suburban housewives.

Agents caught a San Antonio resident over the weekend. He had 885 pounds of Mexican sugar in his car. The law allows importation of 100 pounds of duty-free sugar.

Sugar is presently selling for about 50 cents a pound while in Mexico prices hover around the 10-cent mark.

Dam Stop

VICTORIA, Tex. (AP) — A federal judge ordered on Monday a temporary halt to construction on the Palmetto Bend dam and reservoir project in Jackson County.

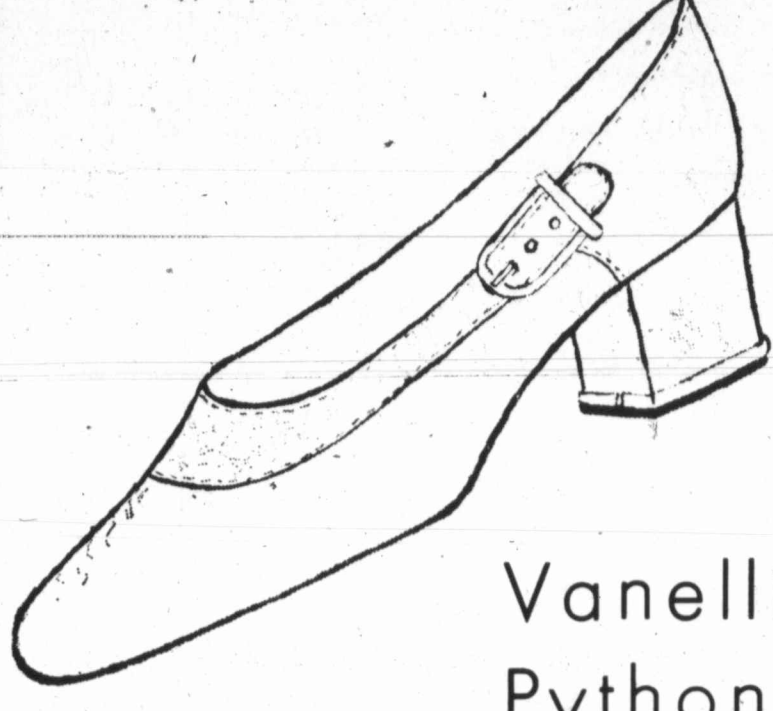

U.S. District Court Judge Owen D. Cox of Corpus Christi signed a temporary restraining order to stop work at the site until a final judgment is made on a request to permanently halt the project.

Other top-selling bulls included Concho Diamond W $1,000; Diamond Anxiety W 3C, purchased by Mrs. Bob Robinson's Wild Horse Ranch for $1,200 and $1,100; Diamond Anxiety W 44, purchased by Edison Ranch, Lovington, N.M., for $1,000; Diamond Anxiety W39, purchased by Rich Anderson of Borden County for $1,050; Diamond Anxiety W 31, purchased by Reed and Stewart of Sterling City for $1,000; Diamond Anxiety W 37, purchased by Wilson Ranch for $900.

Ford Says Wife Feels 'Much, Much Better'

WASHINGTON (AP) — First Lady Betty Ford's doctors say she remains optimistic for her "prolonged survival" despite the discovery of some cancer cells in lymph gland tissue removed during breast cancer surgery.

FULL FAITH
And the President said he certainly shares that optimism, although he said the pathology report raises some questions. Statistics indicate that finding of cancer cells in lymph nodes in such cases usually diminishes chances for a long-term cure.

The Rules Committee is studying the figures as it seeks to compile the mass of material it has received on the former New York governor.

Any further action, however, will have to await a audit of Rockefeller's taxes being prepared by the Internal Revenue Service for the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation. Though chairman Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., expressed hope they would be ready to permit the Rules Committee to proceed on the Rockefeller nomination next week, informed sources said it would take longer, probably until mid-October.
