Big Spring Week

with Joe Pickle

Bank deposits showed a tremendous jump over the corresponding date of a year ago in response to an Oct. 15 statement. They were $91,513,909, or up $17 million for a 23.02 per cent gain, and 3.4 per cent over the previous peak on the April call. Total resources, for the first time exceeded $100 million, setting a record of $101,432,178. Lest this be written off as merely an influx of new money (from last year's cotton or higher oil prices), it should be noted that loans of $39,891,002 were up 13.29 per cent.

The United Way had a good week, pushing near the three-quarter mark. Latest reports put the total raised to $87,000 plus, but that final one-fourth is the hard one to get. Workers have to hustle and you'll have to give generously for us to hit the target of $121,000 by the end of the month projected closing date.

The Texas Highway Department knows how to handle a hot potato, and Roger Welsh, district highway engineer, explained the reasoning for the department including 23 possible routes for a southward extension of IS 27 from Lubbock in its report to Washington. The bill simply authorized a feasibility study — with no guidelines — and that's what was prepared. If Congress concludes the project is feasible (and it ought to be with 23 different ways), then it may back it to the Texas department for some more precise recommendations.

Neighbors Rally To Hermit's Aid

LIVERMORE, Calif. (AP) — Townspeople, touched by the plight of their burly but gentle hermit in his struggle with the guardians of society, are rallying to his aid with cash, clothing and compassion.

Alameda County officials burned down Mike Pompileo's cardboard-patched wood shack last week, declaring the place a rat-infested health hazard. They also evicted Pompileo's dogs, cats and duck, charged the hermit with trespassing on another person's land and delivered him to Napa State Hospital.

"We're trying to get Mike back here," said Pamela Galbraith, in charge of the emergency program to help Pompileo. "Mike is perfectly harmless. He's lived here almost his whole life and people kind of love him. So what if he's eccentric? He's a very proud man; it's sad to break a man's pride."

In Oakland on Friday, the 6-foot, 250-pound Pompileo told Alameda County Superior Court Judge Harold Hove that all he wants in life is to return to Livermore to tend his pets, chat with folks and wander about as the spirit moves him.

The judge ordered 55-year-old Pompileo to submit to psychiatric examination next week and freed him to the custody of a son in San Jose.

Mrs. Galbraith said she's already collected $200 and hired a lawyer to defend against the trespass charge. Local teenagers are holding a fund-raising dance for him Saturday night.

United Way Figures Adjusted Downward

Adjusted totals show $83,735.82 has been collected toward a goal of $121,777 in the 1974-75 Howard County United Way campaign.

The drive is scheduled to end Nov. 1.

Although the campaign is only two-thirds of the way toward its objective, chairman W. S. (Dub) Pearson said the total amount on collections and pledges would look better after all reports are in. He still was optimistic that the UW team would meet its deadline.

CFC collections have amounted to $33,000. Of that amount, however, only $24,470.83 is committed to the United Way.

4 Nabbed In Theft Of Gold

By JOHN EDWARDS

Investigation into the Oct. 5 burglary of a San Angelo jewelry work shop where $10,000 worth of yellow gold, diamonds and semi-precious stones were stolen led law enforcement officers to the Big Spring Pizza Hut Friday afternoon where two Midland men were arrested and part of the valuables recovered, spokesmen said.

Some of the items stolen from a shop owned by Robert Lerch had been recovered earlier. More than four pounds of gold had been stolen police said.

Two men, one of San Angelo and the other from Midland, had been arrested in San Angelo spokesmen said.

The two men taken into custody here were in the San Angelo jail in lieu of posting bonds set by Peace Justice Walter Grice.

Texas Department of Public Safety intelligence officers, Midland authorities and a Big Spring police detective participated in the Friday arrests, Big Spring police reported.

Big Spring police did not supply the age of the men arrested here, amount of bonds set and other details in reports available to the press.

And the local detectives assigned could not be reached.

Rocky Gave Millions To Charity

WASHINGTON (AP) —

Vice President-designate Nelson A. Rockefeller, who must pay $903,718 more in federal taxes, said Saturday he gave $24,718,245 in gifts to charitable, educational and other tax-exempt organizations from 1957 through June 30 of this year.

Rockefeller made the disclosure in a letter to Sen. Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., chairman of the Committee on Rules and Administration, and released by the Rockefeller office here.

The disclosure of his charitable gifts came a day after he announced he will have to pay an additional $903,718 in federal income and gift taxes, a figure likely to soar past $1 million with interest.

The news entered a growing controversy over the former New York governor's vice presidential nomination.

But as President Ford made a campaign swing through South Carolina Saturday, his press secretary, Ron Nessen, issued a White House statement, saying Ford "still has complete faith in Vice President-designate Nelson Rockefeller."

In New York, before the announcement of his charitable contributions, Rockefeller said he is not guilty of any wrongdoing and added: "I wrote the piece that made the headlines. This was a reference to the income and gift tax."

"There's nothing wrong, there's nothing illegal, there's nothing immoral, and there is no conflict of interest in anything I've done or that's come out," Rockefeller said.

In his letter to Sen. Cannon, Rockefeller noted that public hearings on his confirmation would not be held until mid-November and thanked him for permission to make the contribution list public now.

Youth Charged In Rape Case

A 16-year-old male was arrested at 4 p.m. Friday as a suspect in the rape of a 59-year-old woman and burglary of her home here Oct. 13, according to police.

At the time of the offense, the youth was "on furlough" from the Big Spring State Hospital, police said. He has been returned there.

Items stolen have been recovered, the spokesmen said. They include money, a credit card, a watch and some jewelry — altogether worth $166.95, police said.

WHERE PRESIDENTS WILL MEET — This is the U.S.-Mexico border at Nogales, Ariz., looking from the Mexican side toward the U.S. where presidents Gerald Ford of the U.S. and Luis Echeverria of Mexico will meet Monday for a series of talks at several spots in Mexico and the United States.

Jaworski: Pardon Hurt Prosecution

HOUSTON (AP) — Leon

Jaworski, the Watergate special prosecutor, said the pardoning of President Nixon will make prosecution of other Watergate defendants more difficult.

In a copyrighted interview with the Houston Chronicle which appeared in the paper's Sunday editions, Jaworski said, "The fact is that there are people who don't draw a distinction between the Nixon pardon and the charging of others."

For this reason, he said, it is harder to select an impartial jury and to gain a conviction.

Jaworski, who has resigned effective Friday and will come back to Houston and resume his law practice here, refused to say in the Washington interview if he had planned to prosecute Nixon before the former president was pardoned by President Ford.

"I am not going to answer that question. I am not doing to add to the unrest," Jaworski said.

He did defend Ford's action in pardoning Nixon, saying it would have taken a year to bring Nixon to trial.

"It is doubtful that a fair jury" could have been selected, Jaworski said, since the former president "had already been found guilty by his friends and former colleagues" on the House Judiciary Committee of obstruction of justice.

The trial, he said, "could have been a tremendous, riotous circus with people on both sides of the issue trying to disrupt it."

In defending Ford's decision, Jaworski said, "We all believe in equal justice under the law, and our system is the greatest in the world in this respect. It is a fine attainment to seek, but things just don't work out that way."

"Many individuals have been given special treatment because of the existence of special circumstances," he said. "Each case must be treated on an individual basis."

And in talking about Watergate defendants now on trial, Jaworski added, "There is no reason that men guilty of conduct for which they should be tried should be freed just because someone else got off."

Jaworski has been criticized for charging former Atty. Gen. Richard Kleindienst with a misdemeanor rather than a felony.

"The critics don't understand that I am close to not charging Kleindienst at all," Jaworski said. "He came forth voluntarily, and the policy of special consideration for such voluntariness always existed in the special prosecutor's office."

Victims Of 'Fraud' Will Get Refunds

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A federal judge has ordered a Florida firm to repay $4.5 million to more than 300 people, including some former Vietnam prisoners, saying they were victims of "a horrible, vicious fraud."

U.S. District Judge Charles Fulton said Friday the bond investors fell prey to a "diabolical scheme" by R. J. Allen and Associates to sell securities through "misleading and false statements."

He ordered three officers and a salesman for the firm to repay the money. Fulton also ordered the firm's assets held in trust and a receiver appointed to disburse to the bond buyers whatever money could be recovered.

The Securities and Exchange Commission had sought the action in a civil suit against the four defendants—company officers Robert J. Allen, Howard W. Alexander and Charles J. Diaz, and former salesman Thomas A. Preston.

The government said interest from the bonds and in many cases the bonds themselves were never received by investors. The revenue was supposed to have been supplied from a hydroponic peat moss plant at Tuskegee, Ala., which was being constructed by a subsidiary of Allen and Associates.

SIZE OF INVENTORIES A WORRY, TOO

Many Companies Tighten Up Credit, Delay Expansion

NEW YORK (AP) — The high cost of money is causing many companies to tighten up on credit, postpone expansion and worry about a buildup of inventories, a nationwide Associated Press survey shows.

The biggest byproduct of the cautious, uncertain mood among the nation's businessmen is efficiency. Many firms say they're watching costs more closely than ever.

"We've become super-careful about what we buy and when we buy it," says Robert Harrison, president of John Wanamaker, a Philadelphia-based department store chain.

"There just isn't any room for sloth," says Bernard Gordon, manager of Seattle's Jafco Catalog Shopping Service.

Many bankers, meanwhile, report that consumers also are changing financial habits because of money's expense. Sophistication about money is increasing, they say.

The consumer today reads business news, watches the market, checks interest rates and puts his money where he can make the most," says Ed Penick, head of Arkansas' biggest bank, Worthen Bank & Trust Co.

Retailers and manufacturers say they're feeling the pressure of tight — and therefore expensive — money in various ways. "We were four days late in paying an invoice recently," says Stanley Waldheim, president of a large Milwaukee furniture store. "And we had three long distance calls from the controller of that company, wanting to know where our check was. Everybody's uptight. The pressure is on. "Sixty days ago we could get all the money we wanted, but had to pay the price. Now we can pay the price, but the money's not available. The banks are loaned out." Says Waldheim, "We used to cater to customers who bought on time," he notes.

THEY GET A KICK OUT OF IT Kangaroo On Loose Has Cops Hopping

CHICAGO (AP) — There's a kangaroo on the loose and it's got the Chicago Police Department hopping.

At least six persons have reported seeing the 4½-foot, 100-pound native of Australia leaping through residential neighborhoods of the Northwest Side in the last two days. And no one knows where it came from.

Two husky Chicago policemen, Michael Byrne and Lenny Ciangi, met up with the marsupial in an alley at 4 a.m. Friday.

Byrne and Ciangi were on their way to assist another policeman who had been ordered to investigate a citizen's complaint of a kangaroo in an alley.

"We turned into Cornelia Street and there was the kangaroo in the alley," Byrne recalled. They watched it hop into a back yard and radioed this message: "You won't believe this, but we got the kangaroo cornered in a yard. Send us some assistance — it looks like we're gonna have a fight."

Byrne was right.

He gave this account of the battle: "He ran on us, but he fought when we cornered him. Any animal will. Any man will. I almost had the cuffs on him but I got scared and my partner got scared when he started to growl. Then he started to scream and get vicious."

"We were afraid he would bite us. We were afraid we would have to have rabies shots. Later we found out they didn't bite."

"My partner got kicked pretty bad in the legs. He (the kangaroo) smacks pretty good, but we got in a few good punches to the head and he must have felt it. Too bad we didn't have our nightsticks there. Then we really could have hammered him."

As squad cars began to arrive, the animal hopped a fence and took off down the street.

"I'd say he was going 20 miles per hour," Byrne said.

Actually, the animal is a she, not a he. Experts decided that after all witnesses agreed it had a pouch.

Swiss May Oust Aliens

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — The Swiss began voting Saturday in a two-day referendum on whether to oust 540,000 foreigners on grounds they are changing the character of this sober, orderly nation.

Results are to be announced Sunday evening.

All major political parties have urged that the proposal be voted down, and polls predicted it will lose by a comfortable margin. But there is a large undecided vote, and government officials are privately less sure of rejection than the pollsters.

The movement against foreign workers has been boosted by unchecked inflation, growing fears of world economic recession and a tendency to blame foreigners for high prices and rents and even pollution of the country.

At stake is the fate of people — two-thirds of them Italians and Spaniards — encouraged by business to come and work here and now suddenly facing an uncertain future.

In a bitter campaign many Swiss have openly shown deep compassion, but just as many have expressed their hatred of foreigners.

Fear of what expulsion might do to the country's new wealth and its reputation abroad gained ground toward the end of the campaign.

Traditional haven of foreign tourists and money, and host to some United Nations offices and hundreds of international organizations, Switzerland has the highest density of foreigners in the world.

There are more than one million non-Swiss among the 6.3 million inhabitants. The referendum is on a proposal to limit Switzerland's foreign population to 500,000 by Jan. 1, 1978. It was launched two years ago by a small right-wing group which organized the "National Campaign Against Overforeignization of People and Homeland."

"We were afraid he would bite us. We were afraid we would have to have rabies shots. Later we found out they don't bite."

"That's how we made money. Now it's completely reversed. We're seeking the customer who can pay cash."

At the same time some bankers report consumers are seeking more credit. "People are getting more in hock than they used to," says Newman Wait Jr., president of the Adirondack Trust Co., Saratoga Springs, N.Y.

Paradoxically, though inflation is making dollars less valuable every day, businessmen are crying over money's cost and scarcity. High interest rates are forcing some to postpone expansion.

Gabe Rutherford, an Arkansas steel fabricator, says, "I'd like to (expand) but I'm fearful that if I borrow at 10 per cent (interest) might go down to 9 per cent. I'd hate that. That's one of the main reasons we're not building now."

Nor do many manufacturers foresee easy money soon. While short-term interest rates may decline over the next three months, they expect long-term rates to remain high and perhaps even rise.

Inventories, representing goods paid for but not yet sold, are also getting close attention because of high carrying costs. Some businessmen, like Rutherford, are fearful that inventories are going to rise, helping accelerate the business downturn.

Swiss have openly shown deep compassion, but just as many have expressed their hatred of foreigners.

Fear of what expulsion might do to the country's new wealth and its reputation abroad gained ground toward the end of the campaign.

Traditional haven of foreign tourists and money, and host to some United Nations offices and hundreds of international organizations, Switzerland has the highest density of foreigners in the world.

There are more than one million non-Swiss among the 6.3 million inhabitants. The referendum is on a proposal to limit Switzerland's foreign population to 500,000 by Jan. 1, 1978. It was launched two years ago by a small right-wing group which organized the "National Campaign Against Overforeignization of People and Homeland."

Of 13 Fatalities In Traffic, Eight Occur In City Limits

The Texas Department of Public Safety and Big Spring Police report a total of 13 killed in traffic accidents in Howard County this year. State Trooper Jack White counted three fatal rural wrecks, 34 personal injury accidents and 51 injured. RURAL DEATHS Last to be killed in a rural Howard County traffic accident were Lawrence Vernon Miller, 25, Martinez, Calif., and his mother-in-law, Mrs. L. V. Johnson, Martinez, according to the Texas Department of Public Safety. Mrs. Terry Lynn Miller, 22, and her baby were injured. The car, driven by Miller, plunged over the railing of an IS-20 bridge three miles west of Big Spring at 10:10 a.m. Two brothers-in-law, Larry Ray Robinson, 26, and Albert Lee Grant, 29, died when their motorcycles collided head-on three miles east of Big Spring on the south service road of IS-20 on May 24. That was at 9:57 p.m. Both had Route 1 addresses. Wade Morgan, 11, Sand Springs, was riding a bicycle involved in a wreck with a pickup at 5:59 p.m. May 1. The fatal accident happened on the north service road of IS-20 three miles east of Big Spring.

DEATHS IN CITY The eight fatalities in the city are at an all-time high. The first one this year was Charles (Tony) Barsamian, who had an accident at 6th and N. Benton. He was the victim of an apparent heart attack causing his car to crash. This accident was April 23.

On June 15 a car-motorcycle accident occurred in the early morning hours on a Friday at 12th and N. Beal. Benjamin Munoz was killed instantly and David Villarojo died a few days later.

On Aug. 9, Mrs. Bennie Daugtery was killed when her car was hit as she switched lanes on W 3rd. The next day, Elmo Lee Wasson was killed in an accident at the intersection of Dallas and Pennsylvania.

Also on Aug. 16, there was a car-pedestrian accident at FM 700 and Virginia. The pedestrian, Mrs. Sadie Lindeman, was killed instantly. Another pedestrian fatality followed when Terry Tyrone Peterson, 4, was killed as he attempted to cross the highway at 7th and N. Lamesa. This was on Sept. 6.

William Lee Pounds, 19, died as results of injuries received in a two-vehicle accident on the South Service Road off IS 20 near the bowling alley. This was on Oct. 5.

Except for the first accident, all fatalities were either on a Friday night or Saturday.

Mishaps Occur Often On Private Property

City accident records compiled by Mrs. Susan Thomas, traffic engineer, show that a number of local wrecks in the city are on personal property or parking lots.

Highest incidence for this type wreck during the first portion of 1974 has been Highland Shopping Center. A total of 11 accidents was reported in this section the first six months. Last year there were a total of 21 all year.

Sitting in second place is Seven-Eleven 46, which is located at 902 Willa near Webb. This year there have been nine accidents at that location, while last year there were only four during the entire year.

There are three locations that show seven each this year for the first six months to place them in the top five.

TOP FIVE These include the high school parking lot, Coronado Plaza, and the road in the City Park and Coronado Plaza. The number of wrecks on the high school parking lot are down.

There were only 13 all last year in the Coronado Plaza, and only five all year last year on a City Park road.

Private property locations which show a downward trend the first six months compared with last year include SW 18th at Gregg, where there is one this year; the Burger Chef with only one this year, Furr's Grocery with six; Hall-Bennett with four; Pizza Inn, two; Ponderosa Apts., one; Sands Motel, one; Seven-Eleven 1, four; Seven-Eleven 39, one; Super Save 1, four; Wackers, one; Wagon Wheel 3, two; Webb AFB, one and Wilcox Trailers, one.

Private property locations showing an increase for the first six months, other than those already mentioned include Barcelona Apartments, two; Denny's, four; Newsoms, 3; Oasis Lounge, two; Safeway 1, six; Southland Apartments, two; Super Save 2, three; Trinity Baptist, two; and West Inn Lounge, two.

STILL MORE WRECKS Other private property wrecks this year that are about the same as last year at the same time with one each include SE 1st at Goliad; SE 4th at Johnson; Alberts Texaco; Al's Bar-B-Q; American Restaurant; Baskin Robbins; Bernettes; Broughton Implement; Chapparral

Mrs. Avery Is On State Panel

Mrs. Johnnie Lou Avery, director of financial aids at Howard College, has been elected to the executive board of the Texas Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators.

The board is made up of 10 members along with the association's officers. Mrs. Avery's term will expire in two years. Earlier, she was notified she had been chosen by the Office of Education to serve on the regional review panel which evaluates each institutional application submitted to the HEW Office of Education.

Ray Gets New Chance In Memphis Court

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — One day after he stood in court and admitted to firing the rifle that killed Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., James Earl Ray renounced his plea of guilty and started a legal bombardment proclaiming his innocence. Now, more than 5 1/2 years into his 99-year sentence, he will have a new day in court. U.S. District Judge Robert M. McRae Jr. will open a hearing Tuesday on whether Ray is entitled to withdraw his guilty plea and stand trial for murdering the civil rights leader on April 4, 1968. The U.S. 6th Circuit Court of Appeals ruled in January that Ray was entitled to the hearing. The issues will be whether Ray, 46, had effective counsel when he pleaded guilty and whether his admission was freely given.

Robert I. Livingston of Memphis, who has helped represent Ray for five years, said "Our contention is that there was a definite conspiracy and that Ray was set up as a fall guy and was not a part of the conspiracy."

James H. Lesar, 34, of Washington, D.C., who has worked in defense of Ray for four years, says he will try to show Ray was denied evidence on his guilt or innocence. Two major figures in the case, famed criminal lawyer Percy Foreman of Houston, Tex., and Alabama author William Bradford Huie, probably won't appear, attorneys say. They already have given sworn statements. Foreman represented Ray when Ray pleaded guilty.

Ray's new attorneys claim that his first lawyer, Arthur Hanes Sr. of Birmingham, Ala., agreed to represent him in exchange for 40 percent of all royalty rights to Huie's book, "He Slew the Dreamer." When Ray fired Hanes four months before the trial, he hired Foreman and agreed to assign him 60 percent of the expected book royalties to cover legal fees, Ray's attorneys say. They contend that Foreman pressured Ray to plead guilty in order to avoid a public trial and preserve the economic value of the book. Foreman and Huie have denied they sought to profit from Ray's case.

Ray, who escaped in 1967 from the Missouri state prison while serving an armed robbery sentence, was arrested at London's Heathrow Airport on June 9, 1968, 69 days after King was slain as he stood on the second-floor balcony of the Lorraine Motel. King was in Memphis in support of a sanitation workers' strike. Livingston said that while there was a conspiracy, Ray did not know about it before the shooting, and Ray "did not fire the shot."

See Higher Car Rates

DALLAS (AP) — Higher automobile insurance rates for Texans are a certainty next year, according to State Insurance Commissioner Don Odom.

Odom told the Dallas Association of Insurance Agents Friday that there will have to be some rate increases. He said he was unsure how big the increase would be.

The State Insurance Board will rule on new rates before Dec. 1. Industry spokesmen asked for increases that would have added more than $100 million annually to premiums paid by Texans, but the State Insurance Board reduced the amount to 16.8 per cent. Even with the increase, Odom said automobile insurance would still be a bargain. In Denton, however, Ramsey Muniz, Raza Unida's candidate for governor, said the proposed auto insurance rate hikes should not be approved.

State Hospital Budgets Not Cut, Says Dr. Gaver

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — Dr. Kenneth Gaver, Texas' new mental health commissioner, says he is not recommending a budget cut for the state Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation (MHMR).

Gaver commented after the State Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation approved a $693.5 million two-year budget request to be presented to the 1975 legislature.

The budget is $222.3 million less, however, than the one written in June before Gaver took over as commissioner. Since becoming commissioner, Gaver established priorities to pare the budget, MHMR said.

Gaver said the commission actually approved a priority budget system. Priority one, the $693.5 million request, is the minimum. Priority two, if funds are available, calls for a two-year expenditure of $780.1 million. Priority three is for $910.5 million.

The MHMR board approved the budget Friday, saying much was needed to upgrade Texas' treatment of the retarded and mentally ill. MHMR said the minimum $693.5 million budget, if approved by the legislature, would upgrade all state mental hospitals and five of the 12 schools for the retarded enough so they could be accredited by the Joint Commission on accreditation of Hospitals-Mental Retardation Facilities by 1977.

The budget also would expand community services, eliminate the waiting list for schools for the retarded, improve conditions at the institutions and relocate 1,892 state school residents in facilities closer to their homes.

Gaver said the budget, which includes $68.2 million for construction, would add 857 new employees in state hospitals and 6,001 state school employees.

State schools and hospitals have been criticized since last summer for alleged poor treatment programs, misplaced priorities and poor facilities.

Texas Economy Is In Good Shape

By The Associated Press
Except for low cattle prices, the Texas economy appears to be in good shape, according to a survey of bank deposits in the third quarter of this year.

The amount of money in banks is considered a prime indicator of economic strength.

The cattle situation was related by a spokesman for the Borger First National Bank who said total loans for the bank increased only $44,000 in the past year.

The amount of loans was down, the spokesman said, because cattle feeders are not buying calves to feed for slaughtering due to the cost-price squeeze. However, deposits and assets at the Borger bank were up $5 million.

Several cities set records for deposits in the third quarter including Lubbock, Big Spring, Orange, Tyler, Del Rio, Kerrville, Houston, Abilene, Victoria, San Antonio, Lamar County (Paris), Rockwall County and Corsicana.

Most bankers attributed some of the increase to inflation.

In Dallas, bankers noted a 13.6 per cent increase in deposits for the third quarter compared with the same period last year, although deposits were down slightly from the second quarter of this year.

Dallas bankers said the third quarter increase would have been greater if depositors had not put their money in certain high yield securities, including government notes.

Houston maintained its supremacy in deposits among Texas cities with $9.9 billion in the third quarter, up $200 million from the second quarter. Dallas reported $9.5 billion in third quarter deposits.

The cattle situation appeared to have only a minor effect. Charles Orren, vice president of the Abilene Bank of Commerce said, "We are about as healthy as any bank in the country."

At Stinnet near Borger, banker Joe Barnett attributed an increase in deposits to higher grain prices "although oil prices have had an effect."

At Del Rio, as elsewhere, bankers said the rise in deposits is due to good business and a growing economy. They noted, however, that people are becoming more conservative with their money.

Some typical reports, with the 1974 third quarter figures given first compared with the same period last year.

Local Men Buy Char-Swiss Bull

The first national Char-Swiss cattle sale was held last Saturday at the Four States Fairgrounds in Texarkana. Matt Caperton, Big Spring, Ralph Mahoney, his son-in-law, and Jimmy Miller of Stanton purchased one of the bulls at this sale paying $2,200 for one named Harry Baltimore.

This registered crossbreed was developed by C. W. (Dub) Adams of the Water Valley Ranch near San Angelo. This is one of the first breed of cattle officially developed in West Texas.

The animals are three-quarters Charolais and one-quarter Brown Swiss. Each breed compliments the other, so breeders claim, making them outstanding cattle.

They are larger, smoother, better milkers and faster gainers than the purebred Charolais. Breeders say the cattle are a white to golden white in color, and their owners say they are gentle and easy to handle.

Char-Swiss are bred up by crossing registered and selected Charolais with Brown Swiss, producing half-bloods. These are then back-crossed with purebred Charolais to produce the three-quarter and one-quarter blood.

A National Char-Swiss Association has been organized and herds have been established in about 25 states. To become a member, breeders must have their stock appraised and approved.

In recent gain test conducted by the Cook County Junior College in Gainesville, Char-Swiss were put on test with Herefords, Angus, Short-horn, Charolais, Santa Gertrudis, Simmental Cross and Chianina Cross. In that particular test, they outgained them all.

"Taurus" is the herd bull at Water Valley and weighs approximately 3,640 pounds at the age of three.

Group Sponsors Metals Course

The Permian Basin Section of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers is announcing the sponsorship of a short course in welding metallurgy. This course will begin Nov. 7, and will meet from 7-9 p.m. each Thursday for six consecutive weeks, with the exception of Thanksgiving day. The course will be held at the University of the Permian Basin.

This course is geared to provide the basic fundamentals in welding metallurgy to welding supervisors or inspectors, as well as engineers. The course will be taught by R.A. Johnston, chief Metallurgist with El Paso Products Company in Odessa.

GS Planning

The senior planning board of Girl Scouts has set up a monthly schedule of meetings with the next one Nov. 10 at the Roscoe Scout Hut. The Rev. Charles Reese, Sweetwater will be the speaker. Four workshops will be held during the year, it was decided at the meeting last weekend in Sweetwater.

ANOTHER WAY OF PUTTING IT Irish Booze Makers Keep Words Alive

GALWAY, Eire (AP) — To make the poteen right, instructs Ireland's only self-confessed little ole booze maker, "you'll want a roaring turf fire, a moonless October night and the wind anywhere but out of the north."

Poteen, pronounced "pochyeen," is illegal, 98 proof, homemade whisky, the vin du pays of the west of Ireland and the north, south and east of it, too, when the constabulary is preoccupied with matters other than suspicious smoke curling up out of the bogs.

"October is yer best month," assured Martin Thornton with a knowing nod of his tweed cloth cap.

"There doesn't be too many tourists or fishermen about on the mountain, or people in the bogs hunting grouse or cutting the turf, so they'd be fierce enough to fail the barley and yeast with a bad frost. And you don't want to get too close to Christmas, the way the police do be on the lookout for you and sniffing out every smoke."

EX-CHAMP

Thornton, a big, shambling man with the flattened features of a fighter, was heavyweight champion of Ireland during the war years, losing the Empire title bout to Bruce Woodcock, who "inherited me dream of fighting Tami Mauriello in the Garden in New York."

Not much of a boxer, but "I had a good dig with either hand," he clenched his fists and explained his skills.

Now nearing 60, he is equally famous hereabouts for a fabled bit of testimony before the Magistrate of Oughterard and Clifden during which a police sergeant in quest of illicit spirits quoted him as saying: "You can search anywhere but upstairs."

The big man twisted the cap about his hands in the shy, awkward, guilty manner of Victor McLaglen, doing the wake scene in "The Informer."

"I'm well known to be making the poteen, 'tis no secret," he admitted modestly. "They've had me up a few times for it. I had a factory in Tuam that was raided by the Garda. They busted up 5,000 pounds worth of equipment. Two ring burners. Two stills. Four drums. But the charges were dropped when they weren't able to prove it was mine or another fellow's. You know how them things are."

The resemblance to Victor McLaglen was more than coincidental.

Director John Ford, who was born in Thornton's little village of Spiddie, hired him to do the fight scenes for the aging McLaglen against John Wayne in his classic comedy "The Quiet Man," which was filmed at nearby Ashford Castle.

When the movie was completed Thornton provided the poteen for the big cast party that, as he recalls, wound up with "Duke Wayne doing some bobbing and weaving and Barry Fitzgerald having more than a brave drop."

"They was all well Killarneyed going back into the castle, I can tell you that much."

Just as the Eskimos are said to have 19 words for snow, the Irish have at least two dozen words for intoxication, of which Killarneyed, fluthered, stotious, pallatic, maggoty, blithered, cut, half-tore, paralytic and stoven are among the more picturesque.

Since the 4th Century, when the Celts first discovered the happy chemistry of barley, molasses and yeast, poteen has been a steady contributor to this linguistic glory.

"It's a lot cheaper than what you buy in the shop and gets far better results," Thornton defended the elixir he peddles to favored customers at "30 bob a bottle" — about $3.60 compared with $8 for a quart of Scotch. "A few bottles will finish a party nicely."

RAIDED WORKS

In the "grand old days" before the Garda Siochana, the Irish police, raided his moonshine works, Thornton was bubbling profits of more than $15,000 a year through the traditional five-bend copper tubing that is known in the trade as "the worm."

Thornton's main interest now is "a bit of cattle dealing," but he still puts in "a month on the mountain at a secret place," firing up the oil drums that neat the barley. And he never has lost interest in boxing.

Joe Frazier dropped by on his tour of Ireland, and he closely follows the training camp doings of champion George Foreman and Muhammad Ali for their fight in Zaire.

Pasture, Livestock Conditions Are Good

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Scattered frost in the Panhandle last week caused some crop damage, Dr. John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service says.

Cooler weather slowed cotton and sorghum development over much of the Plains, Hutchison said.

Cotton harvesting is about complete in the Central Texas Blacklands, where the crop has been poor because of the summer-drought and insects, he said. More than half the crop remains in the field in North Central Texas.

Early planted wheat is providing some grazing in the Panhandle, where the demand for stocker cattle is increasing, Hutchison said.

The pecan crop will be only fair in most sections although good yields are expected in parts of Far West and West Central Texas, he said.

Sugar beet harvesting is underway in the Panhandle, with good yields and sugar content reported.

Livestock in most counties have good grazing and are in generally good condition, he said.

District Agricultural agents gave these reports:

Panhandle: The first bale of cotton has been ginned in Donley County but open weather is needed for the crop. Corn and sorghum harvesting are active, wheat is providing some grazing for livestock.

South plains: Rains have brought delays in sorghum, corn and soybean harvesting. Early wheat fields are making good growth. About 25 per cent of the wheat acreage still remains to be planted. Pasture, range and livestock conditions are good.

Rolling Plains: Some cotton is being harvested. Wheat planting has been active where field conditions permit. Ranges are providing good grazing.

North Central: About 40 per cent of the cotton crop is out. Soybeans are making good growth. The pecan harvest has started. Early plantings of wheat and oats are making good growth. Livestock have good grazing.

Northeast: Harvesting of corn, cotton and sweet potatoes is active. Some fall gardens are still being planted. Pecans are beginning to hull. Livestock have plenty of forage.

Far West: Some cotton is being harvested but open weather is needed. Small grain stands are good. Marketings of lambs and calves is light because of poor prices.

West Central: Cotton yields are expected to be low. Sorghum harvesting is making good progress. The pecan harvest has started with good yields expected. Some pecans are being harvested. Small grains are making good progress.

Central: Much of the Blacklands cotton crop was destroyed without harvesting because of poor yield prospects. The peanut harvest is active with about 25 per cent of the crop out. East: Small grain planting remains active. Insects and diseases are affecting fall vegetable gardens. Pecans are beginning to hull with a short crop expected. Pastures are providing good grazing.

Southeast and Upper Gulf Coast: Only scattered fields of cotton and corn remain to be harvested. Soybean harvesting is active. About 20 per cent of the second rice cutting is complete. Some 20 per cent of the fall peanut crop remains in the field. Pecan harvesting is active.

South Central: From 20 to 30 per cent of the cotton, corn and peanut crops remain to be harvested in some counties. Pecans are beginning to fall. A generally poor crop is expected. Range and livestock conditions are good.

Southwest: Harvesting of cotton and corn is complete. Pecans are beginning to hull. A good crop is expected. Cabbage, carrots and cucumbers are making good growth. Hay making is active. Yields are good.

South: Planting of flax, wheat and oats is active. Some citrus is being harvested. Grass seed is being harvested in Goliad and Webb counties. Pastures are offering good grazing.

CONSTRUCTION UNDER WAY — Sewer lines are being run on both sides of the extension of 11th Place from FM 700 to Abram. The extension includes the area of the new hospital site.

Staubach Public Turning Deaf Sincerity Ear To Ford Pitch? Praised

HOUSTON (AP) — A sociologist doubts that President Ford's requests for voluntary energy conservation will receive great response.

"I don't care how many buttons he passes out, because as long as people don't believe in the concept of an energy crisis they are not going to respond," said Dr. David Gottlieb.

The acting dean of the University of Houston's College of Social Sciences made his observation while reporting results of a Texas public opinion survey on the credibility of the energy crisis.

Gottlieb said Texas may be the largest oil producing state but that results of the research survey financed by the National Science Foundation indicate most Texans are terribly unaware and unsophisticated about energy.

"You will be surprised to know that very few people know that a relationship between oil wells and gasoline," he said.

"Very few people are able to accept the idea that over there in the Arab countries those people running around on camels really have the ability to turn the screws and we can't get gasoline at the stations. That's incomprehensible to people."

Gottlieb said the survey indicates most people are suspicious and apprehensive but do not buy the idea the nation is confronted with a serious and long term energy shortage.

"Most people do not believe there are some serious changes that are going to have to be made in terms of investing in new energy developments or cutting down in utilization of energy sources," he said.

By The Associated Press
STAUBACH, FIRST DOWN, LIFETIME TO GO.
By Roger Staubach with Sam Blair and Bob St. John. Word Books, Waco, Tex. 304 pages. $8.95.

It is refreshing to find this new book so different from those by players and ex-players who debunk the game of football and emphasize its seamier side.

Truth is, Cowboys' quarterback Roger Staubach never could write a book which depends on shock value, barring some complete personality change. It just isn't his nature.

Staubach comes through in the book as a personality almost too good to be true. However, that is the image he projects at all time and no one has questioned his sincerity.

There is a minor effort to modify that picture with some accounts of fourth-rate helleisms when he was very young. It is such a patently deliberate effort that it strikes a discordant note.

TWO THEMES

Two themes dominate the rest. One is Staubach's religion and the other is his competitiveness.

Read the last chapter first to see what religion means to the quarterback. If you don't want to go that far, page 291 tells it all.

He details two kinds of competition: The first was his goal to be named the No. 1 quarterback over Craig Morton—or any other Cowboy quarterback. The second was to win on the field. There was another, too, perhaps: his competition against his own injuries.

The competition between Morton and Staubach was torrid. Morton felt that he had earned the No. 1 spot before Staubach reached the scene. Staubach was determined to have it, and was crushed each time he was set down.

It is one of the tragedies that one of the two such outstanding quarterbacks must take second place. At times, each has asked to be traded or was prepared to make the request. Both are in their 30s and feel opportunities slipping.

It is a fortunate situation, really, for the Cowboys to have two such quarterbacks. Prospects are that Morton, however, will carry out his plan to switch to the World Football League.

The organization of the book is extremely good. It is written in the first person—Staubach speaking. But Sam Blair and Bob St. John, both veteran Dallas Morning News sports writers, editors and columnists who presumably did the writing with Staubach, added their own mark.

They have included brief boldface paragraphs here and there explaining certain events and quoting other persons which Staubach, considering his nature, never would have done.

Staubach honestly finished his commitments to the Navy after graduation from Annapolis. Four years of no competition should finish any quarterback.

But Staubach, even on Navy carriers, found some way to throw and throw and throw. He wanted back in top-flight competition.

"It was like a disease," he says.—The AP (REF).

Success Noted In CFC Drive

Turn-ins for the Combined Federal Campaign to date show that Webb and other federal offices in Big Spring have gone over their goal with 111.1 per cent, according to Col. Robert A. Owens, commander of the 78th Flying Training Wing at Webb, who is serving as CFC area chairman. Total gifts amounted to $33,444.34, with $28,271.76 of that coming from Webb people.

The Big Spring United Way campaign will receive 72.73 per cent of the CFC final figure. A number of donations are still being turned in and a wrap-up total will be reported within the next few days. The CFC officially ended last Tuesday.

As the CFC drew to a close, two off-base offices made notable contributions. Seventeen employees in the Social Security and County Soil Conservation offices gave $550. This was the highest per capita figure of the drive, with individual contributions averaging more than $32. Don Minyard was the key man who gave those employees the opportunity to contribute their fair share plus some.

Sewing Room Program Added

A sewing room program has been added in both buildings at Big Spring Nursing Home, according to Joan Lopez, activities director. Jack Y. Smith and Paul Meek of Cosden saw to it that one machine was obtained, and Malcolm Patterson of Patterson Agency furnished the other.

Stepin Fetchit Loses His Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lincoln Theodore Perry, the black actor known as Stepin Fetchit, has lost a bid for Supreme Court review of his claim that the Columbia Broadcasting System libeled him and invaded his privacy. The court let stand Tuesday a decision of the U.S. Circuit Court in Chicago that Perry was a public figure and therefore could not collect damages unless CBS maliciously defamed him. Perry, 72, sued because of a 1968 television special on black history in which he was described as having "parodied" the tradition of the lazy, stupid, crapping, "chickenstealing idiot."

Perry denied this saying he had "elevated the Negro" in the 33 films he made before leaving the movie business in 1938 during a contract dispute. He said the television special destroyed his show business career and caused him to lose a role in the TV series, "Sanford and Son."

Heavy Agenda Faces Council

Among the items on the city agenda for consideration Tuesday at 9 a.m. is a policy for getting on the agenda. This follows a mix-up at the last meeting when the mayor pro-tem placed an item on the agenda while the mayor was out of town.

Mayor Wade Choate appointed two councilmen, Harold Hall and Charles Tompkins, to come up with a suggested policy to avoid confusion.

AGENDA POLICY
The policy referred to the council by the two men reads, "The elected mayor will be responsible for what items appear on the city council agenda, and in what order they will appear. In cases where three or more councilmen request an item be placed on the city council agenda, the elected mayor is required to place such items on the agenda."

The council will also hear four claims for damages, hear the second and final reading of an ordinance amending the zoning ordinance, and the first reading of an ordinance amending Section 28-140 of the code of ordinances concerning unattended vehicles.

The amendment strengthens the former phrase about vehicles left unattended on public property over 48 hours to include vehicles left unattended on any street, alley or other public property for over 48 hours.

ANNEXATION
There will also be the first reading of an ordinance amending Section 6-56 (a) of the code of ordinances concerning notice to repair, vacate or demolish dangerous buildings. It spells out the order of condemning a building, and the authority of fire inspector and building inspector.

The annexing of 47 acres near Highland South will have a final reading. There is also a first reading of an ordinance amending sections of the code concerning changes in the purchasing of lots and opening and closing of graves at Mt. Olive Cemetery.

Lots will now be $200 without monument privileges, $230 with monuments and $50 for infant lots, if the amendment is passed. Charge for opening and closing of each adult grave space will be $100 and $40 for infant graves.

The council is also expected to appoint a two-man committee to study the tax appraisal contract. The school board took this step on Monday.

FAVORS COUNCIL
An amended item on the agenda is a resolution for the council to take to the Texas Municipal League. A group at the state meeting next weekend is expected to propose a state utility board, but representatives here prefer a state council.

The council would keep uniform information on all utility companies but the decision for a rate increase would remain in the hands of local city councils instead of coming from a state board.

Hughs Bucking U.S. Action

HOUSTON (AP) — Hughes Tool Co. says it has consummated a deal to buy another oil field company despite a pending antitrust suit by the Justice Department.

Raymond M. Holliday, chairman of the board of Hughes Tool announced Wednesday that the acquisition of Byron Jackson Inc., from Borg-Warner Corp. was retroactive to July 1.

Byron Jackson is a domestic oil well cementing and well stimulation company but about 35 per cent of its 1973 income of $42 million came from the sale of oil field tools, a Hughes spokesman said.

The Justice Department filed suit in Los Angeles federal court seeking to block the acquisition but a judge there declined to issue a temporary injunction. Hughes Tool has been ordered to keep Byron Jackson's oil field tool operations separate from other Hughes operations pending a further court order.

Holliday said James F. Bere, president of Borg-Warner, and John B. Merritt, president of Byron Jackson, had been added to the Hughes board. A minor portion of the sale of the assets of Byron Jackson in Canada remains subject to approval by the Canadian government, a Hughes spokesman said.

Hughes Tool issued 500,000 shares of a new convertible preferred stock for Byron Jackson. The preferred, which carries a cumulative dividend of $6.25 per share, is convertible to 2.5 shares of Hughes Tool common. The common stock closed Wednesday at 55 1/2 a share.

Officers Re-Elected By BS Exploration Company

All officers and directors of Big Spring Exploration Company were re-elected at the annual stockholders meeting at company headquarters, 611 Gregg, here Thursday.

Chairman of the board is P. W. Malone, Big Spring and president is John Roden, Casper, Wyo. Others are Ted O. Groebel, vice president, Jack Margolis and J. M. Woodall, all of Big Spring, directors.

Although revenue was curtailed by sale of three drilling rigs by the wholly-owned subsidiary, Roden Drilling Co., the company's net revenue (counting items through sale of assets) was $68,574 as compared with $34,309 the previous year.

During the year working capital increased from a minus $22,606 to a plus $71,041, a $93,647 change in position in this respect.

Revenues this year totaled $147,615 as against $1,667,593 the previous year, but then with no drilling rig operational expenses, the gross profit was $80,908 against $198,435 in 1973. Net income was pegged at .082 for 1974 against .041 the previous year.

During the past year, Roden Drilling bought one smaller drilling rig which is handling contract drilling at the present time (and recently the company has acquired interest in another). Proceeds from sale of the heavier rigs (for $525,000) was used to liquidate debts.

Guilty Plea In Oilfield Theft Case

Jim Bob Weatherford, 41, Bckenridge, pleaded guilty in 118th District Court Fr Jay to theft of oil field equipment in Howard and Glasscock Counties.

District Judge Ralph W. Caton sentenced Weatherford to two concurrent 10 year prison terms.

The Glasscock County cas had been transferred to district court here.

Weatherford admitted participating in theft of 500 feet of three and one-half inch oil field tubing from a location four miles east of Coahoma Aug. 1, 1970. Named as companions in the theft were his brother, Jerry G. Weatherford, and Don Reeves.

Ex-Addict Striving For Self-Respect

By TROY BRYANT
Tony is 37 years old. He considers himself very lucky to have reached that age, because ever since he was 13, except for about 11 years he has been strung out on morphine, heroine, and opium.

During those years he saw all his boyhood friends die, had his first wife and four children leave him and watched his two year old daughter die of pneumonia, and has lied, cheated, and stolen to get a fix.

But now, he has been "clean" for around two years is married again and has a three month old daughter. "I only want to get my self respect back now, and to live to get old," he said.

San Antonio and when they stopped and hid under a bridge, I became curious and followed," he related. When he got down there, one of the friends held him while the other one gave him a shot of morphine. That shot and other shots every two hours during the trip was sufficient to start him on the road to addiction.

"At first it felt good, like you were happy all the time and didn't have a care in the world, but after about two weeks, I started feeling sick in between shots and I had to take more and more to keep me going. My friends gave me the stuff to start out with, but they started charging me for it later. My grandparents worked all their lives and had a little money, but they were not too educated and did not know at first what was going on."

His hindsight reveals that the drugs made him unfeeling toward his loved ones and he didn't care about his family, school, or anything except his next fix. He used his grandparents' money at first.

"After two years on morphine, my friends introduced me to some stronger stuff, heroine," he recalled.

It was only about a year later that Tony got into trouble with the law as he was caught with some marijuana the first and only time he smoked any.

COLD TURKEY
He was sent to a reform school and kicked the habit "cold turkey." It took him about a week of the sickness, nausea, vomiting, and pain to complete the cure, but he remained clean while he was in reform school until his 17th birthday.

He went back to Lubbock after leaving the school and got a job on a construction crew. It wasn't long before he came in contact with his friends again and started shooting heroine again.

Tony was strong willed about it this time, and kicked the habit on his own a short time later. He kept his job, got married and stayed off drugs for 10 years. During that time he had five children and his life was straight again.

An accident started him on a life of drugs again as he fell into a swimming pool while cleaning it at the age of 27 and suffered a painful leg injury. He was admitted to a hospital, but did not tell them of his experiences with drugs. The hospital prescriptions of morphine as a pain-killer "hooked" him again.

He started on heroine again and sold his wife's furniture and clothes and started forging checks to finance his habit. Shots that cost only $2 a fix when he first started had climbed to the cost of about $750 for heroine that would keep him going for about a week and a half.

TOO WEAK TO WORK
"When you're strung out on drugs, you are only strong enough to work about two or three days out of the week, you can't sleep at night and your blood is diluted from injecting so much water and heroine."

He lost his job, his wife divorced him, but his addiction continued and he was hooked, stronger than ever now. A couple of years later, he got hooked on opium at the age of 30 and spent the next few years alternating from opium to morphine to heroine.

Finally, it got to be too much for him and he suffered a breakdown and was admitted to Big Spring State Hospital as a patient. It took him about six months to get straightened out enough to go to a halfway house in Austin where he met his present wife.

It was only a month ago that he came back to Big Spring to work at the Hospital.

He now lives in a clean neighborhood here, but says he does not know if Big Spring has a major drug problem. Besides living here only a month, he has no desire to look in places that may have drugs, because he is only interested in the future for his family and himself.

(Photo By Danny Valdes)

PONDERS HIS PAST — Looking back is sometimes a painful experience for Tony, a reformed drug addict who now works at the Big Spring State Hospital. The 37 year old became addicted to narcotics when he was 13 years old and the next 22 years of his life were filled with tragedy and heartbreak.

"Tony" is not the real name of this man who wishes to remain anonymous.

"I never had any trouble finding heroine," he recalled, "and everyone in my old neighborhood got hooked on it. He sorrowfully reflected, 'I am the only one of them left alive.'"

FRIENDS OVERDOSED
Five of his friends overdosed and died and six more were killed in various incidents of crime, trying to finance their habit. A couple of his acquaintances are serving long prison terms for selling the drugs.

"I never got into selling heroine, because I could only afford enough for myself. Everything I bought, I used, and I didn't have any to sell," he remembered.

Laredo and El Paso were the best places to get the drugs and he noted that the pushers would make you do many degrading things to get the drugs, even if you had the money.

STARTED AT 13
"It all started when I was about 13 years old," he said. I went with a couple of friends who were driving to

One Man Responsible For Signs Of Faith

MIDDLESBORO, Ky. (AP) — Along the highways and back roads are thousands of crosses and signs proclaiming "Get Right With God" and "Jesus Saves."

It's the lifetime work of one man — a retired coal miner from Eastern Kentucky, whose signs stand in all 50 states and 82 foreign nations and provinces.

"People tell me they think it's a company that does it or somebody hired to put up them signs," said H. Harrison Mays, an elfin man who's been spreading Lord's word for more than 50 years.

As a young man Mays was severely injured in a rock fall in the mine. Doctors said he would die but Mays believes the Lord saved him, so "I figured I would devote the rest of my life to warning others to follow his word."

Mays erects most of his signs along interstate highways because "it's where the masses travel."

A TRESPASSER
He knows the laws limiting advertising on highways, but doesn't always abide by the rules and regulations. "It's all trespassing," he acknowledged, "but you can't get anywhere if you ask — it doesn't do any good."

Mays tries to put the signs on right-of-ways, but has occasionally strayed onto private property. He has had a few run-ins with angry property owners, but said he has managed to talk his way out of the scrapes.

People are leery of the religious signs because "religion has a different feel to it," he said. "People don't like the idea for a dozen reasons."

A major stumbling block for most people is the fact that Mays doesn't belong to a church or a religious denomination. A larger obstacle is that he doesn't pay to erect his signs.

"One guy told me to take my sign down — that he could get $300 for a sign like that on his property," Mays said.

The design and size of the signs has changed over the years.

In 1917 Mays began painting messages on the rocks in the mountains near his home. Later he began making small wooden signs, then started producing crosses made of concrete poured into wooden molds that he built himself.

Each cross weighs about 1,400 pounds.

Mays has since turned to the construction of aluminum signs on wooden frames, which are durable but much lighter. He said a truck can carry about 75 of the new lightweight signs, compared to only about four to six of the concrete crosses.

ABOUT 100
Mays manufactures about 100 signs a year in a workshop at the rear of his house, which is built in the shape of a cross.

The door of his cluttered office, where he keeps files on all the signs he has erected, is marked "Hub Nub's Theological Seminary."

When the signs are ready Mays hires a truck and driver and they begin a cross-country trek to place the signs.

Mays also paints messages on oil cloth and mails them to missionary groups around the world. Most he prints in English, but he has obliged requests for signs in Japanese and Spanish.

Mays' wife, Lillie, is responsible for another side of the operation — messages in whiskey bottles dropped into the sea. The half-pints contain cards printed in 16 languages, including Chinese, advising the finder to "Prepare to Meet God."

The bottles are mailed to friends and postmasters who put them in rivers or the ocean.

Three Martin Youths Have Stock Champs

Three Martin County 4H youths were among those showing champion and reserve champion steers at the junior livestock show at the State Fair.

Rickey Hightower showed the champion hereford steer with Pam Holcomb showing the reserve champion polled hereford steer and Clyde Mullins showing the reserve champion crossbred or other breed steer.

Other top places from the area include in Medium weight Angus steers, Paige Echols, Dawson County 4H showed an animal that was fourth; Chris Foster, Martin County 4H, sixth and Judith Yates, Martin County 4H.

In light weight Angus steers, Kent Airhart, Dawson County 4H showed the fourth place animal. In heavy weight Hereford steers, the sixth place went to a steer shown by Jana Love, Dawson County 4H.

Under medium weight Hereford steers, the Griffith boys from Big Spring, showed second and sixth with Bret's animal winning second and Bart's sixth.

In lightweight Hereford steers, Kevin Newman,

Martin County 4H had the winner. Becky Harrell of Scurry County showed the tenth place steer.

Pam Holcomb, Martin County 4H showed the top heavyweight polled hereford steer with Shara Gay Airhart of Dawson County placing second.

Under shorthorn heavy weight steers, Angie Airhart of Dawson County 4H placed second with her animal. In Crossbred division, Sharylyn Holcomb, Martin County 4H showed the steer that placed third and Jerry Carrie, Howard County 4H had the seventh place animal.

Under medium weight Crossbred, Clyde Mullins, Martin County 4H placed second; Marty Brooks, Howard County 4H third; Adam Merket, Mitchell County 4H, fourth; Elonna Airhart, Martin County 4H, fifth and Joy Mullins, Martin County, eighth.

Under lightweight Crossbred steers, Randy Airhart, Dawson County 4H was third; Reagan Brooks, Howard County 4H, fourth; Kelly Green, Howard County 4H, sixth and Clay Holcomb, Martin County 4H, ninth.

Prohl Sets Rotary Visit

Dr. Emil Prohl, Tahoka, Rotary district governor, will make his official visit to the Big Spring Rotary Club Monday, Oct. 28.

Rotarians and wives are invited to a birthday dinner in honor of Dr. Prohl at La Posada 7:30 p.m. that Monday, to be followed by a club assembly. The next morning Mrs. Taylor will host a coffee at her home for Mrs. Prohl, then at noon Rotarians and wives will hear Dr. Prohl speak at the regular weekly luncheon at the Settles.

Prohl will discuss the program of the coming year for the 46 Rotary clubs in this 573rd District, which covers most of Northwest Texas. Theme for this year is "Renew the Spirit of Rotary."

Dr. Prohl, a retired physician-surgeon, is a native of Port Arthur, and is a 1935 graduate of Baylor University College of Medicine. He built and operated Tahoka Clinic and Hospital, and practiced his profession in this South Plains town from 1937 until retiring in 1972. He is a member of area, state, and national professional societies.

Dr. Prohl has been an active Rotarian for 37 years, has held most offices, including president, in his home club. He has attended 20 Rotary district conferences and 16 Rotary International Conventions.

In other civic work, he has been active in Boy Scout and other youth activities, served on his home school board, in Chamber of Commerce work, and other community affairs. He has long been active in his church, serving as chairman of its board. He is a Mason, a Shriner, and has long been active in Eastern Star and Rainbow for Girls.

Module Show Set

A cotton module equipment demonstration, featuring demonstrations in the newest forms of harvesting, storing, moving and ginning cotton by the module system, will take place Thursday, Nov. 7 at 1:30 p.m., at the Cotton King Gin, according to Dawson County Extension Agent Lee Roy Colgan.

The demonstration will include a module building demonstration, a module gin feeder demonstration, a module truck transport demonstration and a module builder operator instruction. All demonstrations will continue at the same time.

The program is sponsored by the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce, Cotton Inc., Plains Cotton Growers Inc., Dawson and Gaines County Extension offices, the Cotton King Gin, and the Mesa Gin.

The Cotton King gin is located five miles west of Lamesa on Highway 180.

City Manager Is Charged

DALLAS (AP) — Brownwood City Manager Harry Miller Jr. has denied a charge of public lewdness filed against him here.

Miller, 46 said Wednesday night illness was the only reason he was in the public restroom of a downtown bus station where he was arrested at 3 a.m.

Democrats Could Rout GOPs In Most Races

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats appear headed for a landslide domination of the nation's governorships in next month's elections and a firm footing in the grassroots for the 1976 presidential year.

An Associated Press survey in the 35 states electing governors this fall indicates Democrats will gain a net increase of three to seven governorships.

The survey shows Democrats leading in 29 states with election just over two weeks away. Added to the nine Democratic incumbents not up for election this year, this would mean 38 Democratic governors — one short of the record number they held in 1936.

Republicans are considered ahead in six states, which would give them at least 12 governors. Just four years ago they held 32.

Even more significant: Democrats are heavily favored to capture the two top prizes — California, in GOP hands since 1966, and New York, Republican since 1958.

Next year there are likely to be Democratic governors in each of the six most populous states — including Pennsylvania, Texas and Ohio, which they are favored to retain, and Illinois, which has no gubernatorial election this year.

The seventh largest state, Michigan, has a Republican governor who has the incumbent's edge. But the race is rated close to a tossup. Democrats already control the No. 8 state, New Jersey, which does not elect a governor this year, and No. 9, Florida, where incumbent Reubin Askew is a heavy favorite for a new term.

In the next largest state, Massachusetts Gov. Francis W. Sargent is trailing in the polls.

While the Republicans have controlled Congress only twice since the Great Depression, the governorships have changed hands in some reflection of the mood of the country.

There has also been a trend of a party moving to power in the states prior to successful bids for the White House.

In 1958 the Democrats won seven governorships to run their control to 35 and give the party strong roots for John F. Kennedy's presidential victory in 1960.

Similarly, the Republicans made gains in 1966 and took a 26-24 edge in 1967 as they moved toward Richard Nixon's 1968 election as President.

The Democrats have been coming back since 1970 when they took a 29-21 state house edge. They have been adding to it steadily since then.

The glamour races this year are in California and New York, because they are big states and because they have been Republican strongholds for so long.

Ronald Reagan, governor of California for eight years, is retiring next year.

Edmund G. Brown Jr., 36-year-old California secretary of state and son of the last Democratic governor, is the Democratic nominee and has a lead in the polls of about 15 per cent over Houston Flournoy, now the GOP state controller.

Nelson Rockefeller, governor of New York for so long it looked like a Republican preserve, resigned last year. Now his lieutenant governor of 15 years, Malcolm Wilson, is running for election in his own right. He's trailing far behind Rep. Hugh Carey, who won the Democratic nomination in a hot primary over the favorite of the party establishment.

The Republicans see their best chance for turnovers in Alaska, South Carolina and possibly Maine.

Three-term Democratic Gov. William A. Egan is shown a dangerous distance behind Republican Jay Hammond in the polls in Alaska, the only state that appears likely to take a big Republican swing in 1974.

The Democrats seemed to have South Carolina sewed up until the courts disqualified Democratic nominee Charles Ravenel on a residency rule. Now, with many Ravenel boosters apparently still fuming, Republican James Edwards is seven points ahead of the Democratic replacement, Rep. W. J. Bryan Dorn.

The Democrats narrowly won Maine four years ago and the toss-up race may lean slightly toward former Atty. Gen. James Erwin, the Republican, over Democrat George Mitchell, who was formerly a top adviser to Sen. Edmund S. Muskie.

By MARJ CARPENTER
The annual St. Lawrence Festival will be held this year on November 3. The St. Lawrence Catholic Church which holds the annual event has been at that location since right after World War II when a group of farmers settled in the area. As best the congregation can tell, according to its records, this year is probably the 20th anniversary of the festival itself.

Time Alone Defeated Franklin Roosevelt

(FDR'S LAST YEAR. By Jim Bishop. Morrow. 669 Pages. $12.50.)

Time, says Jim Bishop, "Devours men and events. Its movement is steady, inexorable, merciless. It defeated the man who is the central figure of this book and at the moment he was whisked away. Franklin D. Roosevelt thought he had triumphed over the calendar and the clock."

Bishop, author of "The Day Christ Died" and "The Day Lincoln Was Shot," turns his attention to the final year in the life of President Roosevelt — April 1944 to April 1945 — and draws, among others, the conclusion above. The journalistic approach provides the information that Lucy Mercer Rutherford, long-time friend and confidante of the President, was present when he was stricken by cerebral hemorrhage in Warm Springs, Ga., and that Mrs. Rutherford had been in dinner at the White House on several occasions when Eleanor Roosevelt was away. Bishop says Mrs. Roosevelt confronted her daughter with this information on the day of FDR's funeral, questioning why family and staff had concealed it from her.

But the most interesting stories by far in Bishop's day-by-day account are about the President's health. Beginning with the March 1944 checkup at Bethesda Naval Hospital, doctors were aware of Roosevelt's hardening of the arteries, of fluid in his lungs and of his hypertensive heart disease. Dr. Howard Bruenn thought the President might expire at any time, but with rest and medication, might live on for months or perhaps a year or two.

Yet he apparently never discussed this with the President, his wife or advisers. There is some indication the President knew about the state of his health — he gave away belongings to staff members for several months before his death. He never admitted, however, that he felt his illness was terminal.

Woven into Bishop's account of the fourth-term campaign, of trips to Yalta and Alaska and communication with Stalin and Churchill are indications of the President's continuing decline.

History buffs and others will find this fascinating reading.

Bill Is Signed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has signed a bill that injects up to $7.75 billion of government funds into the mortgage market to help the nation's ailing housing industry. Some $3 billion of the total will be available immediately for the mortgage market and the rest may be spent later if the industry fails to perk up from the lethargy that has afflicted it in recent years.

The bill, signed Friday at a White House ceremony, initially will permit about 100,000 new buyers of homes to save money through cheaper loans.

Under the legislation, the Government National Mortgage Association will have Treasury backing to purchase mortgages at 9 percent and resell them at the higher market rate, now 10 percent, and absorb the loss. The money is available for both new and existing housing, but not for those mortgages already insured by the government through the Veterans Administration and the Federal Housing Administration.

Ford said the housing bill, the first part of his new economic program to be enacted by Congress, would not cure all the ills of homebuilders but "will provide a shot in the arm for the housing industry."

CRMWD Ups Its Income, Wet Fall May Modify

Revenues of the Colorado River Municipal Water District are running $140,000 ahead of the first-three quarters of last year, but a wet September and October may reduce the margin.

The September report showed $4,103,488 receipts for the nine months, but September receipts are actually on August billings, thus the unprecedented wet spell in September won't be felt until October report.

Sales to the cities for the nine-months amounted to $2,560,317, to the oil field and industrial users $1,487,078, recreation and miscellaneous accounted for $56,072.

Operating expenditures through September were $1,305,448, leaving $2,798,040 for transfer to debt service and other indebted funds.

Billings for the three-quarter period showed Odessa with 3,931,386,000 gallons, Big Spring 2,545,806,000, Midland 2,739,094,000, Snyder 749,872,000, Stanton 84,991,000, San Angelo 935,888,000 and Robert Lee 13,729,000. The remainder of the 16,480,075,000 gallons went to oil field and industrial users.

Three fourths of the supply has come from the two lakes

— 6,728,594,000 from Lake Spence, 5,264,996,000 from Lake Thomas. The Ward County well field accounted for 2,180,764,000. City wells, used for peaking, yielded about a billion gallons, and brine wells and the diverted non-potable river low flow accounted for about a billion and a quarter gallons.

Sul Ross Set

For Homecoming

Sul Ross University exes are being alerted to the homecoming activities starting in Alpine Thursday 7 p.m. when the first performance the intercollegiate rodeo will launch activities.

Friday the second rodeo round will be held, plus a bonfire at 7 p.m., and dance at 9 p.m. Saturday the students meeting will be at 10:30 a.m., and the parade at 12 noon, followed by the game with Abilene Christian College at 2 p.m. The final rodeo round is Saturday evening along with the homecoming dance at 9 p.m. An open house is slated after the football game at the new Range Animal Science Building east of the campus, said Bobby Bearden.

Service Begins

AUSTIN — The State Bar of Texas' new statewide lawyer referral service apparently is helping fill a public need, the Bar reported today.

In the first two months, 380 callers whose problems were determined to involve a legal matter, had immediate appointments made for them with lawyers in their own areas. The fee is only $10 for up to one-half hour of legal consultation.

Held on the first Sunday in November each year, it is attended by people from around six counties for miles around.

Members of the Altar Society and the men's fellowship group are already working on the event.

The big drawing card is always the barbecue dinner and supper and the homemade German sausage. This year, meals will be served from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and again from 5:30 p.m. Plates will be sold to go only at the hours of the meals. Price of tickets for plates is $3 and $1.50 for children. Sausage will also be sold by the pound.

The women have prepared fancy work and homemade foods will be prepared also to be sold in the afternoon. This year they also prepared terrariums and dried arrangements for centerpieces which will be sold. Their big prizes are a handmade quilt, a crocheted table cloth and a $25 money hat.

The men's top prize will be a gun. There will also be an auction starting at 2 p.m. It includes cotton and prizes donated by area merchants.

During the afternoon, bingo and other games will be held and sandwiches and cold drinks are sold. After supper, the hall will be cleared for a dance with the Melody Masters providing the music. Tickets for the dance are $1.50 each at the door.

Everyone is invited to attend the annual all-day festival, according to church officials. St. Lawrence is located 14 miles west of Garden City.

Pecos Cotton Receipts Light

Cotton sample receipts from the Pecos Territory have been light this year, due to rainy weather. Shirley A. Sewell, in charge of the Agriculture Marketing Service classing office in Pecos has received 900 samples up thru Oct. 18 this season. This time last year 539 samples had been received.

The predominant grades this season have been grades 41 and 51, with one-third of the classings each. Grade 42 made up 21 percent. Staple lengths ranged from 32 to 35 with staple 34 at 86 percent. Mike readings of 3.5 to 4.9 made up 92 percent of the classings. Samples tested for fiber strength averaged 77,000 pounds per square inch on the Pressley zero gage.

Farmers received an advance of $130 per ton for cottonseed in Pecos and Reeves Counties. No spot cotton trading was reported.

Furniture Men Plan Meeting

The Retail Furniture Association of the Southwest is staging a district meeting at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday in Collin's Delicatessen, 2420 W. Illinois in Midland.

At that meeting, E. H. # The Week

Some of the news of the week was from the area lakes. On the strength of soaking and sometimes hard rains here Sunday and Monday, Lake E.V. Spence picked up 2.34 feet in reaching elevation 1862.64, a gain of 13,800 acre feet. The lake now has 146,300 acre feet. Lake J.B. Thomas rose 1.29 feet to elevation 2223.87, a gain of 3,350 acre feet for 36,220 in storage. Lake Spence is 30 per cent of capacity. Lake Thomas 18 per cent. Lake Colorado City, at last reports, was up 2.65 to elevation 2060.20, gain of 3,000 acre feet.

The rain, which averaged about three inches over Howard County, was guiding the lily as far as agricultural prospects were concerned. Too late for much benefit this year, the downpour nevertheless maintained the excellent sub-soil reserve so critical for next year's outlook. Another benefit was that several places picked up sorely needed stock water.

Neil Fryar may get the nomination for being one of the busiest men in the area next year. He was elected president of the Howard County Farm Bureau over the weekend, then subsequently president of the Howard County Fair Association. Two years ago, however, Johnnie Walker held precisely the two same positions.

The Chamber of Commerce board heard more reports on the proposal for a family counseling service and the Howard College board began another look at the idea of a community (coliseum type) building. When it comes for sustained talk about the two, the building has the edge for longevity—but not by much.

If you are fond of bike peddling, the county chapter of the Heart Association is having Cyclethon '74 come Saturday. Get you as many sponsors (who will pay so much for every mile you ride) and call your entry into the YMCA or the Chamber of Commerce.

Coahoma got back on the winning track Friday. Forsan continued to be the area's sparkler, and Sands played a surprisingly good game before getting nosed out. The Steers were embarrassed with a zero yards rushing and only half a dozen first downs in losing to Permian. They could purge that embarrassment considerably by getting fired up and ambushing Midland Lee here Friday.

IN FREEDOM PLEAS Criminals Pointing To Court Leniency

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Federal prosecutors say the leniency accorded Richard M. Nixon and Spiro T. Agnew has given accused criminals a new argument in their pleas for freedom.

U.S. attorneys from across the country said that defense lawyers are raising the Nixon and Agnew cases more and more often as they urge juries to acquit their clients and petition judges for light sentences.

Some prosecutors suspect that juries on occasion have refused to convict a defendant because of the handling of the Nixon and Agnew cases. But most say there is no sure way to determine what factors influence a jury's verdict.

The prosecutors said they see few signs that judges have changed their sentencing habits because of the Washington scandals.

The prosecutors assessed the impact of the scandals on their own cases in interviews during a four-day conference with Justice Department officials. Several asked not to be named.

The U.S. attorneys say they have arguments to counter a defense lawyer's plea for leniency based on President Ford's pardon of former President Nixon for any crimes he committed in office.

In Utah, said prosecutor C. Nelson Day of Salt Lake City, defense lawyers "many times refer to public figures or well-known political figures" during trials.

"Our counter-attack is that we're trying this case and the jury must make its decision on the facts in this case alone," Day continued.

"We get it regularly and in a steady dose," said a Southern state prosecutor.

"They are using it. It's a problem. We were beat over the head with the Agnew case," said Ralph B. Guy Jr., the federal prosecutor in Detroit and vice chairman of the department's advisory committee of U.S. attorneys.

U.S. Atty. Robert E. J. Curran of Philadelphia said: "I think there is a residual effect. Most of it is an undercurrent — it's there but you don't talk about it. There's no question the government has suffered."

Starvation Is Threat To All Parts Of Globe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mass starvation will occur throughout the world if food production is not intensified and population patterns are not changed, says a House subcommittee.

"Unless present trends in population growth and food production are significantly altered, a food crisis that will have the potential to affect everyone from every walk of life will hit with more impact than the energy crisis of 1973-74," the House Agriculture subcommittee on department operations said in a report released Saturday.

"In all probability, the world can expect more, rather than less, disasters associated with malnutrition," it said. "The world food crisis will not disappear spontaneously or soon and maybe never."

The subcommittee said that shortages of land, water, fertilizer and energy could aggravate the food crisis, and warned that the United States could find itself in the midst of the problem.

"Americans cannot afford to sit idly by thinking that this problem does not affect us," the report said.

Observing that the United States, with 5 to 6 per cent of the world's population, consumes 40 per cent of the world's resources, the report said: "The demand for food, like the demand for oil, metals, minerals, and other resources, is obviously going to skyrocket, and that rocket is going to be fueled by fires of inflation and joblessness."

"A poor harvest in any major producing country — the United States, the Soviet Union, India or China — is sure to send economic shock waves, not only through the food sector of the world economy, but as it fuels the fires of inflation through its other sectors as well," the report said.

The report is titled "Malthus and America," referring to the 19th century British economist, Thomas Robert Malthus, who devised a theory designed to show that the world's food supply would be insufficient at some point to feed the growing population.

Major Campaign Gifts Reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor unions have contributed more than $2.8 million to House and Senate candidates this year and have an additional $4.7 million to spend with the elections only three weeks off, a private research group reported Saturday.

The group called the total of labor money an all-time record.

Twenty-three Senate candidates received more than $10,000 with seven getting more than $50,000, according to the study by the Citizens' Research Foundation of Princeton, N.J.

Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, the top recipient, received $168,700 from labor unions in his losing bid against former astronaut John Glenn in the Ohio Democratic primary. Glenn received $75,400 from labor.

"With $4.8 million already spent, and another $4.7 million in cash on hand, the expenditures by labor this year should be an all-time record," the citizens' foundation said.

The $4.8 million includes the $2.8 million in direct political contributions plus an estimated $2 million for administrative expenses, staff salaries, office rentals and printing costs, according to foundation spokesman Kent Cooper.

The labor organizations accounted for 80 per cent of the total contributions listed in the report.

The goal of gaining 40 or more seats is derived from an AFL-CIO list of 83 key races, at the heart of which are 47 districts — nearly half of them concentrated in the eight Midwestern states — in which labor is backing a direct challenge against Republican office holders.

In 1970, the report said, 54 labor organizations reported over-all political expenditures of $5.2 million during the entire election year.

DEATHS

R.E. Burden

Word has been received here of the sudden death at 10:30 p.m. Friday in a Calvert hospital of Roy E. Burden, 55, a longtime yardman for the railroad in Calvert.

Mr. Burden had worked Friday and appeared to be in good health prior to his death.

Mr. Burden was the father of Danny Burden, formerly of Big Spring and newly of Bryan. Mrs. Danny Burden is the former Jerre Todd of Big Spring.

Other survivors include two sons and two daughters. Rites are pending in Calvert but the funeral likely will be Monday.

spring; nine grandchildren; and 14 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m., Monday in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel, with Bishop Joseph C. Mower officiating. Burial will be in Mount Olive Cemetery.

M.R. Brown

Maurice R. Brown, 74, died at 3:10 p.m., Friday in a local hospital.

Services will be at 2 p.m., Monday in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel, with Bishop Joseph C. Mower officiating. Burial will be in Mount Olive Cemetery.

Mr. Brown was born May 22, 1900, in Anderson County, Tex. He was a retired cement finisher. He married Clara Fisher in Carlsbad, N.M., March 21, 1931. He had been a resident of Big Spring since 1921.

He was a member of the Church of Jesus Christ Latter Day Saints. He was a veteran of World War I.

Survivors include his wife, Clara of the home; a daughter, Mrs. Robert S. (Laura) Beck, Anchorage, Alaska; two grandsons; two brothers, Howard Brown, Mesquite, and Joe D. Brown, Waxahachie; a sister, Mrs. Elmer G. Youmans, San Ysidro, Calif.; several nieces and nephews.

Man Is Knifed

Charles Lewis, 50, who lives at the rear of 806 Johnson St., told police a woman whose mother he knows stabbed him in the stomach with a knife.

Lewis, police said, did not want the assault prosecuted.

Woman Thrown Against Wall

Mrs. Patricia Wasson, 1319 1/2 Elm Drive, told police a black male picked her up and threw her against the wall of her mobile home Friday.

She was taken to the Webb Air Force Base hospital where she was treated for head injuries.

She said, police related, that two black men walked in through an unlocked rear door. One threw her against the wall. And both left.

Weatherford Is Given 2 Terms

Jim Bob Weatherford, 41, Breckenridge, who was given two concurrent 10-year sentences here Friday was released to deputy sheriffs from Wichita Falls Saturday afternoon.

District Attorney Robert H. Moore III negotiated the two sentences for theft of oil field equipment in Howard and Glasscock Counties.

Weatherford has been indicted in Wichita Falls for felony theft and being a habitual criminal.

Weatherford Is Given 2 Terms

The report said that of the $2.8 million already contributed by labor this year, about 20 per cent was given to challenging candidates and the remaining 80 per cent to incumbents. Democrats received most of the money.

Sen. Richard Schweiker of Pennsylvania was the biggest Republican recipient with $37,630.

The AFL-CIO lists 47 challengers on its priority list, but the report noted that only 12 received more than $12,000.

Organized labor has set as its goal a gain of more than 40 seats in the House. That would put Democrats in the range of two-thirds control, making for a "veto-proof"

The Week

Some of the news of the week was from the area lakes. On the strength of soaking and sometimes hard rains here Sunday and Monday, Lake E.V. Spence picked up 2.34 feet in reaching elevation 1862.64, a gain of 13,800 acre feet. The lake now has 146,300 acre feet. Lake J.B. Thomas rose 1.29 feet to elevation 2223.87, a gain of 3,350 acre feet for 36,220 in storage. Lake Spence is 30 per cent of capacity; Lake Thomas 18 per cent. Lake Colorado City, at last reports, was up 2.65 to elevation 2060.20, gain of 3,000 acre feet.

The rain, which averaged about three inches over Howard County, was guiding the lily as far as agricultural prospects were concerned. Too late for much benefit this year, the downpour nevertheless maintained the excellent sub-soil reserve so critical for next year's outlook. Another benefit was that several places picked up sorely needed stock water.

Neil Fryar may get the nomination for being one of the busiest men in the area next year. He was elected president of the Howard County Farm Bureau over the weekend, then subsequently president of the Howard County Fair Association. Two years ago, however, Johnnie Walker held precisely the two same positions.

The Chamber of Commerce board heard more reports on the proposal for a family counselling service, and the Howard College board began another look at the idea of a community (coliseum type) building. When it comes for sustained talk about the two, the building has the edge for longevity — but not by much.

If you are fond of bike peddling, the county chapter of the Heart Association is having Cicylethon '74 come Saturday. Get you as many sponsors (who will pay so much for every mile you ride) and call your entry into the YMCA or the Chamber of Commerce.

Coahoma got back on the winning track Friday. Forsan continued to be the area's sparkler, and Sands played a surprisingly good game before getting nosed out. The Steers were embarrassed with a zero yards rushing and only half a dozen first downs — losing to Permian. They could purge that embarrassment considerably by getting fired up and ambushing Midland Lee here Friday.

CANNISTERS FOR CHARITY — Coach Bob Burris of Big Spring High School, chairman of the 1974 Howard County Multiple Sclerosis drive, rallied his troops Saturday for street and block-by-block collections. Athletes and cheerleaders will help in the collection, which will extend through Monday. Pictured from the

IN FREEDOM PLEAS Criminals Pointing To Court Leniency

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Federal prosecutors say the leniency accorded Richard M. Nixon and Spiro T. Agnew has given accused criminals a new argument in their pleas for freedom.

U.S. attorneys from across the country said that defense lawyers are raising the Nixon and Agnew cases more and more often as they urge juries to acquit their clients and petition judges for light sentences.

Some prosecutors suspect that juries on occasion have refused to convict a defendant because of the handling of the Nixon and Agnew Organized labor also contributed heavily to the campaigns of Sen. Mike Gravel, D-Alaska, who received $89,474; Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., $62,872; and Democratic Rep. William Roy, who received $56,938 in his campaign against incumbent Republican Sen. Bob Dole of Kansas. Dole got only $300 from labor, according to the report.

In House races, 40 candidates received more than $10,000, with the most going to four Democrats who earlier this year won in special elections in Republican-held districts.

They were J. Bob Traxler of Michigan, $49,135; Thomas Luken of Ohio, $42,408; Richard VanderVeen of Michigan, $26,266; and John Burton of Calif., $24,050.

Raiders Breeze Past Wildcats

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—A frisky, relentless Texas Tech defense torpedoed Arizona's explosive attack and the Red Raiders sank the 9th-ranked Wildcats 17-8 Saturday night in a lively non-conference football clash.

Curtis Jordan and Randy Olsen stole a couple of Arizona passes in the shadow of the Tech goal and the Raiders seized a pair of fumbles to diffuse the previously unbeaten Wildcats' scoring punch.

Reserve quarterback Don Roberts rifled a six-yard touchdown pass to fleet flanker Lawrence Williams and Brian Hall booted a 21-yard field goal as the 17th-ranked Raiders mounted a comfortable 10-0 halftime cushion.

The Southwest Conference Club sacked up their fourth straight triumph over Arizona of the Western Athletic Conference on John Garner's four-yard slash in the final period.

The Wildcats lone touchdown came in the closing minutes on a five-yard pass from Bruce Hill to "T" Bell to culminate the 77-yard drive.

Jordan, Olsen, Thomas Howard, Ecomet Burley, Tommy Cones, and Harold Buell contributed key defensive blows as the Raiders, now 4-1-1, shut out the Wildcats for the first time in 28 games.

Arizona, averaging 435 yards and 30 points per game, mustered two major threats in the third period but Jordan's interception at the goal and Olsen's theft at the nine wiped them out.

A crowd of 40,231 watched the Raiders sever the Arizona winning streak after five triumphs.

Dallas rookie Dennis Morgan tied the NFL record for the longest punt return vs. St. Louis last Sunday as films viewed by both confirmed that he ran 98 yards, one more than he was credited with at game time.

Morgan matched the record set by Gil Le Fevre for Cincinnati in 1933 and tied Charlie West, Big Spring product for Minnesota in 1968. West is now the property of Detroit Lions.

The deadline for trading in the NFL is 4 p.m. Tuesday, the day following the sixth game of the regular season. Only intraconference trading is permitted until that date.

Interconference trading ended Sept. 10. After Tuesday, a player may be transferred to another club only if the controlling club first obtains waivers on the player.

NFL ROUNDUP Johnson May QB Broncos

The Los Angeles Rams' offensive machine, which rolled in high gear over opponents last season but is off to sputtering start this year, will have a new driver Sunday.

Rams' Coach Chuck Knox has named James Harris, a journeyman, five-year pro to replace veteran John Hadl at quarterback when the team hosts San Francisco.

Elsewhere Sunday, New England is at Buffalo, Cincinnati at Oakland, Detroit at Minnesota, St. Louis at Houston, Philadelphia at Dallas, Cleveland at Pittsburgh, Kansas City at Miami, the NY Giants at Washington, San Diego at Denver, New Orleans at Atlanta and Baltimore at the New York Jets.

Mustangs Win Out

DALLAS (AP)—Sophomore quarterback Ricky Wesson, who appeared to be the goat with two fourth quarter fumbles, passed 13 yards to Freeman Johns for a touchdown with 17 seconds left to give Southern Methodist a spiningling 19-14 Southwest Conference victory over Rice Saturday night.

SMU led 13-3 late in the fourth quarter, mainly on the strength of 50-and four-yard runs by Wesson, but Rice second-string quarterback Tommy Kramer led an Owl rally, set up by Wesson's two fumbles, to a 14-13 lead with 35 seconds left. The lead points came on a 44-yard field goal by Owl kicker Alan Pringle.

But freshman Arthur Whittington returned the following kick off 70 yards to the Rice 13 and on the first play Wesson hit Johns with the game winner.

Kramer, after Wesson's first fumble in the fourth quarter had taken Rice on a 46-yard scoring drive climaxed by an eight-yard touchdown pass from Kramer to Kenneth Roy.

SOONERS SHELL CU NCS Bitten By Upset Bug

Ohio State tailback Archie Griffin of Ohio State scampered for 146 yards and a pair of touchdowns Saturday to become the greatest rusher in Big Ten football history Saturday, leading the top-ranked Buckeyes to a 49-9 rout of Indiana.

And, for the first time this season, things went pretty much as planned for The Associated Press' Top Ten teams, which had run into a rash of surprise defeats earlier this year. This time, only 10th-ranked North Carolina State was bitten by the upset bug, falling 33-14 to intra-state rival North Carolina.

Elsewhere in the Top Ten, second-ranked Oklahoma shelled Colorado 49-14. No. 3 Michigan edged Wisconsin 24-20, fourth-rated Alabama whipped Tennessee 28-6. No.

the school's history.

Oklahoma uncorked four long, rapid-fire scoring drives in the first half and Joe Washington carried 18 times for 200 yards and four touchdowns in the Sooners' stampee of Colorado. It was the conference opener for the defending Big Eight football champions. Oklahoma is 5-0 over-all and stretched the nation's longest winning and unbeaten streaks to 14 and 23 games, respectively.

Texas Stays In Running

AUSTIN, Tex (AP)—Texas freshman fullback Earl Campbell stiff-armed its way 68 yards for a touchdown and blocked an Arkansas punt which tackle Doug English joyously converted into another score Saturday and the Longhorns stayed alive in the Southwest Conference race with a 38-7 rout of the Razorbacks.

The 6-1, 225-pound Campbell, the top schoolboy running back in the state in 1973, made his two big plays in the second quarter and Texas never looked back in the nationally televised game.

Campbell bolted over right tackle on his long-distance jog and stiff-armed Arkansas nose guard Wayman Hawkins off stride. With a Memorial Stadium crowd of 66,700 on their feet, Campbell outraced Arkansas defensive back Rollen Smith to the flag.

Campbell's run came after defensive end Lionell Johnson had recovered a fumble by Arkansas quarterback Scott Bull.

Late in the first half, Arkansas tried to run out the clock deep in its end of the field, but Texas called time out twice. Campbell roared through untouched to block Tommy Cheyne's punt. The ball bounced to the Arkansas one where the 250-pound English, the senior team captain—who had never scored, fielded the ball and thundered across with 26 seconds left in the half.

Sixteenth-ranked Texas, which has won six consecutive SWC titles, is now 1-1 in conference play and 4-2 overall. Arkansas is 1-2 and 3-3.

Campbell rushed only eight times but gained 109 yards through the porous Arkansas defense.

Marty Akins, halfback Gralyn Wyatt and third-string fullback David Bartek scored meaningless touchdowns as the Horns poured it on in the second half after compiling a 17-0 halftime lead.

Villanova Outmanned

(AP)—Houston sophomore quarterback Bubba McGallion, starting his first college game, Fosbury-flopped one yard for a touchdown and passed 47 yards to freshman Don Bass for another score to lead the Cougars to a 35-0 victory over outmanned Villanova Saturday night.

The Cougars, fattening their record to 4-2 after a slow start, established their supremacy quickly over the Wildcats with two first quarter touchdowns.

Fullback John Housman scored the first of two touchdowns when he climaxed a 6:59 minute drive with a one-yard touchdown plunge that started the rout.

Aggies Wear Down Rebuilding Frogs

COLLEGE STATION, Tex (AP)—Eighth-ranked Texas A&M's triple mule team of running backs wore down a Texas Christian defense and Aggie quarterback David Walker had his best career passing performance for a 17-0 Texas A&M Southwest Conference football victory here Saturday.

Aggie interceptions of TCU punts by Lee Cook set up two scores and stopped TCU's most serious scoring threats when the sputtering, rebuilding Horned Frogs still had a chance.

After a third interception, this time by reserve A&M linebacker Ken Stratton, the lefthanded Walker, a sophomore, threw a screen to right halfback Ronnie Hubby. Hubby huddled behind his blockers and angled from the right side of the field to the left and into the end zone 60 yards away.

That made it 17-0 midway in the third quarter.

The 70th meeting between the two schools, before 36,701 fans, provided Texas A&M its fifth victory in six starts and left the Aggies undefeated in the Southwest Conference with a 2-0 record, setting up a battle of conference unbeaten when A&M meets surprising Baylor next Saturday.

TCU dropped to 1-5 and remained in the conference cellar.

The Aggie running backs Hubby, Bubba Bean and Bucky Sams provided the first game score with a 12-play 75-yard drive all on the ground. Sams, a junior fullback, scored the touchdown with an 11-yard burst off left guard on fourth down.

Dunbar Downs Lamesa

LAMESA — Lubbock Dunbar humbled Lamesa, 9-0, in District 3-AAA play here Friday night.

The Panthers led at half-time, 3-0, and tacked on their lone touchdown in the fourth. Lamesa's high-octane offense could manage only 30 yards rushing and 31 yards passing.

Robert White kicked a 24-yard field goal in the second to put Dunbar out front.

Dunbar opened its touchdown drive just after the fourth period opened. The march covered 68 yards.

Michael Henderson accounted for the tally on a four-yard jaunt, the break coming on a fourth-down play.

Fine defensive play by Tommy Williams, a senior tackle, helped stay the Lamesa offense.

Lamesa had two chances late in the game, but couldn't move with any degree of success against Dunbar's vaunted defense.

Gra-Y Scores

The Rockets, Sharks and Shortorns collected victories in Gra-Y flag games played Saturday at Blankenship Field.

The Rockets remained undefeated as they blanked the Stars, 34-0, the Sharks downed Longhorns, 14-6 and the Shortorns edged the Bears, 18-14.

Jon Yarbrough scored both touchdowns for the Sharks as they picked up their first win. Adam Rodriguez picked up the Longhorns' lone TD marker.

Jerald Wrightail raced 95 yards in the security game for the Rockets initial TD. Byron Gossett gained two interceptions and returned one of them for six points. Reginald Dawson, Robert Rubio, and Lupe Ontiveros also helped out with Rocket scoring.

Mike Eggleston, Bingo Martin, and Robert Eggleston chalked up TDs for the Shortorns. The Bears' TD effort was accomplished by Scott Eggleston and Junior Olague.

Loop Wins B Test

LOOP — Rod Hand piled up 197 yards in 14 carries to lead Loop to a District 1-B eight-man football game over Borden County here Friday, 34-16.

The score, however, is not indicative of the closeness of the game. Loop amassed 301 yards, but Borden County had 242 combined. The big play was the difference: with Loop twice popping Hand up the middle for long scoring runs.

Stacking to the outside to head Danny Kelly, Loop's offensive threat on the sweep, Borden was left vulnerable on the inside belly series. Kelly, who has 14 TDs to his credit, was held to one TD and a pair of conversions.

Loop went to work quickly on a short drive with Hand hitting the last four and Kelly converting. Borden struck back quickly when Teddy Cooley spearing Monte Smith with a 52-yard TD pass. Garland Williams ran over the extra points as the second quarter opened. Loop then went ahead to stay with Kelly edging in from two yards for a 14-8 half-time lead.

Loop put it away in the third when Hand broke up the middle for 32 yards and then again for 55 yards in the third. Neither conversion try was good.

Borden fought back and Monte Smith, on a quarterback keeper, sweep in for seven yards and a score, with Williams adding the extra points.

Spence Level Is Increased

Several larger blue catfish were caught at Lake E.V. Spence during the past week, but the biggest news was an increase of 2.6-ft. rise in the lake level.

Within the past month, Lake Spence has experienced rises totalling nearly 9 1/2 feet.

Black bass catches continued to be reported at almost every location, along with some white bass and a few striped bass. As always, channel catfish strings abounded.

Some of the reports: Y.J.'s Marina — Robert George, Odessa, Gene Brown, C.O. Shipmen of Pecos, a 7-lb. black bass, five channel cat to 5-lb.; James Isbell, Odessa, 2 1/2 black bass, 8-lb. blue cat; Perry Smith, Robert Lee, 9-lb. striper, 9-lb. blue cat; and 8 channel cat to 8 1/2 lb. (the 9-lb blue cat was the second largest of this species caught at Lake Spence this year); John Melton, Robert Lee, three blue cats to 7 1/2-lb.

Dink's Bait — M.J. and Rick Walker, four blacks to 2-lb.; Mark Price, Midland, 2 channel cat to 1 1/2-lb., eight blacks to 2 1/2-lb.; Bill Shiels, Midland, 20 blacks to 3-lb.; Tom Logan, Robert Lee, 7 channel cat to 6 1/2-lb.

Count's Grocery and Bait — Ben Friebe, Big Spring, 35 channel cat to 3-lb.; L.C. Hawkins, Andrews, 4-lb. striped bass, also three channel cat to 1 1/2-lb.; Floyd and Jessie Harmon, five channel cat to 2-lb.

Wild Fish A Rama — Doug Kemper, Keith Weid and Larry Kemper, Lamesa, 8-lb. striped bass, two blacks to 6-lb.

 Henry's Cafe — Jack Marrs, Littlefield, 23 white bass to 2 1/2-lb.; Jack Corrine, Odessa, 12 blacks and white bass to 2-lb.; Dwayne Herman, Seminole, five white bass to 1 1/2-lb.; Mr. and Mrs. McDaniels, Amherst, 30 white bass to 1 1/2-lb.; S.O. Henry, Robert Lee, two blacks to 4-lb.; Jerry Crowell, Sonora, four blacks to 2-lb.; Edna Henry, Robert Lee, 2 blacks to 2-lb.

Mahaffey's Goal Not High Enough

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — John Mahaffey, a short Texan who stands tall on the pro golf tour, has won $118,715 this year but says, "To tell you the truth, I don't think I set my goals high enough."

He talks easily as he walks down the fairway on pro-am day at the San Antonio-Texas Open, which was being played this past week at Woodlake Country Club.

It's time to recap the year for the young student of semi-retired tour hero Jimmy Demaret and Jack Burke Jr. It's the last individual tournament.

"For one thing, I wanted to prove to not only myself but everyone else that for me to win $100,000 one year, I didn't want it to be a fluke," says the 150-pound Kerrville, Tex., native, whose 1973 winnings were $112,536.

He did that. Veteran Lee Trevino says Mahaffey is the best young player on the tour "swing for swing, shot for shot."

This year, Mahaffey's goals were "basically to win $100,000 and I wanted to win two tournaments."

The latter part of that goal eluded him but he warned the other golfers here, "I have still this tournament left and I'm not counting out myself because I'm probably hitting the ball better than I ever have in my life."

He leans into a tee ball with his 5-foot-9 frame. It ducks over a knoll and finishes 60 yards from the green on a short par 4.

Mahaffey, 26, who calls home an apartment nearby the tricky Champions course in Houston, hasn't won this year but finished second twice, at Los Angeles, Jacksonville and the Tournament of Champions.

"I've gained through this. You know you learn a lot coming in second and if you can overcome it and really use that knowledge, I think the tournaments will come," says Mahaffey.

"Johnny Miller went through the same type of thing and he hasn't come out so bad," says Mahaffey, whose only tour win to date was the 1973 Sahara.

San Angelo Wins Easily

SAN ANGELO — Picking up their second 5-A victory of the season, San Angelo had no trouble in containing Odessa High, 35-0 here Friday night.

The Bobcats put together seven points in each the first, third and fourth quarters and 14 second quarter points.

San Angelo shows for the season 5-1 and in 5-4A, 2-1. Odessa falls to 2-4 overall and 0-3 in district activity.

Cowboys Face NFL Playoff Survival

DALLAS (AP) — The third week of October is awfully early to be fighting for National Football League playoff survival but that's the chore facing the once-invincible Dallas Cowboys Sunday in a National Conference Eastern Division tilt with improved Philadelphia.

Dallas is 13-3 and Philadelphia is 4-1 which seems like a typographical transition more than the current state of affairs in the NFC East.

"Philadelphia is better than the last time we played them and they've got great momentum—thanks to us," says beleaguered Cowboy Coach Tom Landry.

Philadelphia on a Monday night game was where all the Cowboy woes began. Dallas had beaten Atlanta 24-0 in the opener and was striding briskly when Tom Depsey's last second field goal put the Cowboys on ice.

Dallas hasn't recovered from the hangover the next week and fell 14-6 to the New York Giants. Then came last-minute losses via the field goal route to Minnesota and St. Louis.

Meanwhile, the Eagles gained momentum behind a scrappy defense and Quarterback Roman Gabriel collected his first two touchdown passes of the season last week in a 35-7 rout of the New York Giants. There's one encouraging note for Dallas going into Sunday's game at Texas Stadium. The Eagles haven't won in Dallas since 1965.

Landry figures the 1965 record will get a wild card berth or the division title which leaves the Cowboy little room to maneuver.

Dallas still has the top rated offense in the NFC while the Eagles are 13th in total defense.

But as Cowboy assistant Coach Ernie Allen points out: "The Eagles don't give you many points on the board. They believe they can win and they play with a lot of emotion."

Garden City Tripped Up

WELCH — Dawson, piling up 37 points in the opening period, went on to throttle Garden City, 56-14, here Friday night.

On the first play from scrimmage, Dawson's Keith Morris broke loose on a 65-yard scoring jaunt and Dawson never trailed after that.

Garner Carmona tacked on the extra points for Dawson.

Jesse Martinez, Ray Morris and Jim Hataway scored other touchdowns for Dawson in the first 17:00.

The Dawson team continued to pour it on in the second, Steve Gary moving in from two yards away.

TURQUOISE AND SILVER

Made into beautiful
INDIAN JEWELRY, THE ART WORK OF THE AMERICAN INDIANS.
Would you like to become a part of this fantastic business, full or part time?
Make $500 per week or MORE! HAVE YOUR IN-VESTMENT INCREASE IN VALUE 30 per cent OR MORE PER YEAR. Travel, work the hours and way you want to.

BEST BUSINESSES IN THE UNITED STATES TODAY!
Both working conditions and making money. It shows every indication of getting much better. If you are tired of the 8 to 5 humdrums, the headaches of a normal business, have time on your hands, tired of working for someone else or just need something to do, then don't miss this opportunity! It knocks only occasionally.

THE MOST $$ I HAVE EVER MADE IN 4 1/2 days of work and play, this business $8,941. The least $500. You can do this or better.
TURQUOISE A PRECIOUS
GEM IS BECOMING VERY SCARCE. Very hard to acquire in any volume. I can supply only a few select people, with this opportunity, no chain operators. I am only interested in sincere, honest people who can and will perform. THIS IS STRICTLY A CASH AND CARRY BUSINESS. Age, sex and education has very little to do with it. You must be a sales person, have good transportation, necessary investment. Minimum
$5,000. Max. $20,000.

SECURED BY IN-VENTORY & AND BE WILLING AND ABLE TO WORK ENOUGH TO MAKE YOURSELF $1250 or more per month. If interested

Neighbors Lose Cash And Wares

Police investigated two side-by-side burglaries Saturday.

Midwest Welding Supply, 704 W. 3rd St., reported $90 taken from a money box and $25 in damage done either Friday afternoon or night.

From the Starlite Club, 703 W. 3rd St., $5 worth of beef jerky, five cigarette lighters, $5 in chips, $6 worth of gum and 14 cases of beer were stolen, police said.

Damage was placed at $40. The juke box was broken into but no money taken.

Patrolman Howard Kloss reported arrest of a suspect with some possible stolen goods after midnight Friday.

Kloss said they discovered Goliad Junior High School had been burglarized.

Reported stolen were six packages of wieners, 84 hamburger patties, one corn dog and 10 fried pies. Damage to a screen was listed as $10.

Hoyleen Nix, 17, Gail Route, reported a personal letter stolen from a vehicle parked by Big Spring High School. An attempt was made to steal a tape deck, police said.

At Big John's Pit Bar-B-Que, a multi-band radio worth $80 and $20 in change was taken, police were told Friday morning.

Also, police learned $80 in cash was stolen from the bedroom of Randy Allen Sten, 22, 1700 W. 1st St. James Richart, 2410 W. 16th St., claimed a tape deck and three tapes stolen from his car, which was parked on Birdwell Lane.

Mexican Export Wares On Display At Fair

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) - While heads of state may be talking elsewhere about Mexican sales to the United States and trade balance, Mexican merchandizers will be here this week doing something about it.

Beginning Tuesday, Mexico will hold its largest trade fair of export wares in its history, according to fair organizers.

The opening will follow Monday's Arizona border get-together between President Ford and Mexican President Luis Echeverria at which Echeverria wants an increase in sales to the United States to offset an unfavorable trade balance.

Although the fair is not connected with the presidential meetings, the goal of the hundreds of Mexican exhibitors will be millions of dollars in sales.

Sample goods are in a convoy of 12 trucks.

"In 1972, we had only 36 exhibitors, in 1973, 250," says Jorge Canavati, a spokesman for the Mexican Institute for Foreign Trade.

At ceremonies Tuesday morning, the 1974 fair will be opened. Fair guests will include United States Ambassador to Mexico Joseph John Jova and Mexico's Ambassador to the United States Jose Juan de Ollouqui, Mexican industry and commerce minister Jose Campillo Sainz and governors of the Mexican states of Jalisco, Guerrero, Puebla, Baja and Nuevo Leon.

Co-sponsors with the Mexican trade institute are the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce and the city.

A Monday cocktail party, which caused a city government flat last year because of cost overruns, will precede the fair opening.

WACO - About 15,000 people are expected to converge on the Baylor University campus Oct. 24-26 for Baylor's 56th homecoming festivities.

Russians Can Buy Grain

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Soviet Union will be allowed to buy 2.2 million tons of U.S. grain but will make no additional purchases during the current crop year, Treasury Secretary William E. Simon announced Saturday.

The Soviets will be allowed to acquire one million tons of corn and 1.2 million tons of wheat, Simon said.

President Ford on Oct. 5 halted a planned shipment of a total 3.2 million tons of U.S. grain, including 2.3 million tons of corn and 900,000 tons of wheat.

The President acted in the face of smaller U.S. harvests primarily brought on by adverse Midwest weather conditions in the form of spring floods, summer droughts and autumn freeze.

Following the shipment halt, Simon went to Moscow on Oct. 12 to discuss the grain situation with Soviet leaders.

Longview Crushes John Tyler

Sports Shorts

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — A $600,000 damage suit has been filed in Superior Court against Sports Illustrated magazine, charging invasion of privacy.

Beauty shop operator Dorothy Bryant charged in the suit filed Friday that she has suffered ridicule and mockery because of a story in the magazine's April 15 issue. She said the story portrayed her as running a $400-a-week business in her front yard during the week of the Masters Golf Tournament.

By The Associated Press
Longview slaughtered top-ranked Tyler John Tyler 29-7 Friday night as the East Texas meatgrinder continued for another week. Tyler was riding the crest of a defending Class 4A state schoolboy football championship and a No. 1 ranking in The Associated Press poll this season, but the pressure of Dist. 14 competition proved too much. Longview is rated eighth in the current poll and two other Dist. 14 performers also are in the Top Ten. Seventh-rated Lufkin plays Tyler Lee tonight and No. 9

Texarkana, whose only loss was to Tyler John Tyler, defeated Marshall 16-0. All other members of the 4A elite managed to escape defeat, although 10th-ranked Harlingen was tied 7-7 by San Benito. No. 2 Wichita Falls Rider rolled over Eules Trinity 49-14, No. 3 Odessa Permian blanked Big Spring 23-0, fourth-rated Fort Worth Arlington Heights humbled Fort Worth Northside 61-0 Thursday night, No. 5 Plano tripped Denison 28-7.

The top-rated 2A team, Hampshire-Fannett, survived a test with ninth-ranked Hull-Daisetta by winning 21-3 in the top game in that class. Lockney upset No. 2 Floydada 13-7 and 10th-ranked Alvarado lost 19-8 to Granbury, but in other games No. 3 Newton crushed San Augustine 56-0, fourth-ranked Comanche blasted Cisco 34-7, fifth-rated Freer bounced Zapata 47-0, No. 6 White Oak toppled West Rusk 31-7, No. 7 Hooks outscored Hughes Springs 19-15 and No. 8 Kenedy humbled Nixon 15-8.

Snyder Deals Lakeview 160 Setback

SAN ANGELO — Snyder handed over San Angelo Lakeview its first defeat in District 3-AAA play here Friday night, winning 16-0.

The two teams went to their dressing rooms at half-time in a scoreless deadlock, but the Tigers pushed a touchdown across in the third period and added a touchdown and a field goal in Round Four.

The Tigers won despite the fact that they were playing without their all-state candidate, Welton Cobb.

The win left the Tigers with a 3-0 record. Lakeview is now 2-1.

Booster Club Meeting Set

The Forsan Booster Club will hold a reorganizational meeting at 7 p.m. Monday, Oct. 21 in the Forsan High Cafeteria.

A video tape of the Forsan-Loraine football game will be shown. The club will also be reorganized with new officers elected. Anyone interested in any school-centered activity, athletics or otherwise, are urged to attend by club officials.

'Birds Late Score Turn Back Sands

JAYTON — A touchdown scored with 6:59 remaining in the game enabled the Jayton Jaybirds to defeat the Sands Mustangs, 22-18, here Friday night. The win was the fifth of the season for the Jaybirds.

The winning tally came when QB Bobby Kelley passed to Alex Garcia for 27 yards. Earlier in the game, Kelley had hit Garcia with a 32-yard scoring play.

The loss was Sands' fifth in six games. In district, Sands is 0-3 while Jayton is 3-0.

Sands struck first in the game when Ronnie Kenemer went over from the one.

The Mustangs tallied again in the second on a 45-yard run by Andy Anderson.

Jayton then went to work. Mark Fincher rambled over from the six, after which Kelley and Garcia hooked up for their first scoring tally.

Sands managed its third touchdown of the evening early in the fourth quarter when Frosty Floyd broke loose on a 45-yard run.

Greenwood Nips Westbrook Teams

Greenwood boys and girls turned back the Westbrook teams in a brace of basketball games in Greenwood Friday evening.

Greenwood girls won 91-36, with Capri Kimbrow with 36 and Teresa Smith with 26 high point scorers. For Westbrook Pandora Moore had 22 and Julia King 5.

Danny Pruitt, with 33 and Glenn Cox with 20 led Greenwood to an 84-65 victory in the boys game. B. Mallock had 25 and Steve Rollins 13 for Westbrook.

Old Tradition: 'People Helping People'

By JO BRIGHT

The 'new' auxiliary to Big Spring State Hospital will be a blending of faithful volunteers, who have given their services through the years, and new volunteers who are finding satisfaction and pleasure in providing 'extras' that make life more enjoyable for residents of the hospital.

The auxiliary, which will work through the volunteers Council and the Volunteer Services office, will provide a multiplicity of services — from committee work to actual patient care. Each volunteer can choose his or her activity in assisting in any way with hospital needs.

The areas of volunteer service are almost limitless. The person who gives something of himself to brighten another's life shares that individual's burden but gains a personal — joyous — satisfaction.

In January, a stepped-up program of volunteer services will be available, in addition to the regular services schedule, and will include such activities as psycho-drama and re-motivation therapy. Volunteer training sessions for such activities will be under the direction of Phil Christensen, psychologist, who will serve as consultant to the auxiliary.

Mrs. Pete Rhymes will serve as temporary chairman for the auxiliary, with an advisory board composed of Mrs. H. W. Smith, Mrs. Wallace Hunter, Mrs. Claude Van Vleet, Mrs. David Elrod and Mrs. Rhymes.

The auxiliary will be continuing a long tradition of community involvement at the hospital. Last year alone, volunteers contributed 39,346 hours of service, 37,187 of them on a regular schedule basis. Over the years, one volunteer has acquired over 9,000 hours, another has 8,000 and scores of others have logged time in impressive figures. Last year, the volunteer program won first place in state scrapbook competition.

Big Spring State Hospital first opened its doors in 1939, and its superintendent for almost 20 years has been Dr. Preston E. Harrison. Perhaps the first organized group of volunteers at the hospital was that which formed in 1957 with the late Robert W. Whipkey as temporary chairman. Its first elected officers were Jack Y. Smith, chairman; J. D. Elliott, co-chairman; and Mrs. Neil Norred, secretary-treasurer. At that time, the working volunteers represented over 40 organizations. The first "capping" ceremony was introduced by Joe Pickle and, by 1959, the volunteers, in their blue and white pinafores, were a familiar part of the overall program.

In time, changing theories did away with the uniforms, but not the volunteers. Although modern medicine and new techniques are getting residents back into normal surroundings more quickly, an important ingredient of treatment is love. It's called "People Helping People."

PLANNING the year's agenda for the Big Spring State Hospital Volunteer Council are, from left, the Rev. Jim Collier, minister for St. Paul's Presbyterian Church; Mrs. John Day, group therapy volunteer; and Jim Baum, outgoing council chairman.

YEAR 'ROUND volunteer services performed by individuals and organizations for residents of Big Spring State Hospital include such things as sewing services, bingo games and special parties. Reviewing "The Link," the activity bulletin, are, from left, Mrs. Walker Reed, Mrs. Eldon Marsh and Wayne Rock.

THE NEW PROGRAM of volunteer services to begin Jan. 1 at Big Spring State Hospital will be coordinated by several members of the hospital staff. Shown, from left,

Can You Save Money On Appliance Repairs?

By SHERRY MULLIN (HD Agent)

Labor-saving appliances are wonderful mechanical servants, but occasionally something goes wrong. We're not recommending that you dig out your wrench, find the monkey wrench, and turn serviceman; far from it. But many service calls could be avoided if a few simple steps were taken. If the easy tests listed here fail to find the source of the difficulty, call your serviceman.

Refrigerator will not operate: Make sure refrigerator cord is plugged into wall outlet. Test wall outlet with another appliance or lamp. Fuse may need replacing. Make sure refrigerator temperature controls are turned on. Motor seems to run too much: The condenser may need cleaning. If it is covered with dust or lint, the unit will run longer and will not operate at peak efficiency. On a very hot summer day or if refrigerator is located in a very hot room, the compressor may have to run longer to provide the correct amount of cooling. If it is opened and closed frequently or if you load the refrigerator with a large amount of warm food, the compressor will run longer.

There is some water in the defrost disposal water pan: This is perfectly normal. In hot, humid weather the pan may even be half full. Heat from the motor and condenser will evaporate it.

Light fails to operate: Remove light shield and replace bulb with same size and wattage lamp.

If your washer does not fill in wash cycle: See if the hot and cold water faucets are turned on. Set timer control knob in FILL portion of wash cycle and push the control knob in. See if the house fuse is blown. See if electric cord is plugged in correctly. See that water inlet hose filter is clean. To check for deposits of foreign material at screen which is placed at hose connection. Remove foreign matter present by flushing under running stream of water. Replace hose connection over water faucet tightly. Turn on water faucet and check for leaks.

If your washer does not spin: See if house fuse is blown. See if electric cord is plugged in correctly. See if lid is closed.

When drying takes too long: Have you overloaded the dryer beyond its dry weight capacity? Make certain dial is set correctly for type of load being dried. Clean the lint trap regularly. Should clothes feel hard? You may not be using enough detergent to wash clothes thoroughly clean. Use a water conditioner if water supply is over 10 grains hard. A fabric softener in the final rinse will wonder. If clothing is wrinkled: You're probably over-drying or letting clothes sit in the dryer after it has shut off. Experiment to find the best drying times for various types of laundry loads.

COLD OVEN
Oven fails to come on: Check automatic clock control to make certain it is set for "manual" operation. If range is electric, be sure oven elements are pushed firmly into receptacles. If you have a gas range, check to see if pilot is lighted. Relight according to instructions.

Poor baking, results: Follow preheating instructions. Check instruction book for proper placement of utensils in oven and best type to use. Oversized utensils or cooky sheets restrict proper circulation of heat. Make sure the range is level.

Thermostatic top burner or unit gives poor results: Pans must be flat on the bottom and in close contact with thermal element. Check with the homeservice department of your utility company for advice on types of pan to use.

Burner on gas range fails to ignite: Make sure pilot is lighted. If burner is clogged, wash in hot, soapy water, clean ports with thin wire or hairpin. Rinse well, shake dry, place upside down in warm oven to dry before replacing burner.

If your dishwasher fails to start: Make sure that door or lid latch is closed, and control is in ON position. If water drops cling to inside of tub and lid at end of dry cycle: Plastisol, the material used on the inside of your dishwasher to cushion your dishes, has an affinity for water until it "cures". At the end of the cycle, while your dishwasher is new, you will see drops of moisture clinging to the plastisol. Continue using the dishwasher normally. The condition will disappear gradually.

If dishwasher should stop: If your dishwasher stops during the cycle, or fails to start, it may be due to an overload on the dishwasher motor or an overload on the circuit to the dishwasher. Your Filter-Stream system dishwasher is equipped with an automatic overload protector. It will reset itself automatically within two (2) minutes. If your dishwasher still fails to start, check the fuse in the circuit supplying the dishwasher. After checking the fuse, if the motor still fails to start, or stops, again, call your servicemen to correct the trouble.

DATE SET—Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Andrews, Andrews Lane, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sharon Lee, to Lt. Edward Charles Mehlfaff, Webb Air Force Base. He is the son of Mrs. Wilfred Mehlfaff, North Bend, Ore., and the late Mr. Mehlfaff. The wedding will be Dec. 21 at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church.

Dear Abby

Sheep Not To Lead Shepherd Astray

DEAR ABBY: It is with a great deal of hesitation that I write to you, because I am the one to whom people usually come with their problems.

I am a young minister in a fairly large congregation. My problem is the following: a married woman (older than I) is making every effort to entice me into a personal relationship. She's tried several approaches. (She and her husband, she says, have not had a "real" marriage in the physical sense for years. She "needs" me for reasons of health, physical and emotional. I need not get emotionally involved with her. No one could be hurt if we were very, very discreet.)

She is an attractive woman, intelligent and persuasive, but I would rather not have that kind of relationship with her. Furthermore, it would cost me my job if anyone found out. She has been a loyal worker for my church and no one thinks it strange that we see so much of each other. Is there a way to discourage her once and for all without hurting her or insulting her?

TROUBLED MINISTER
DEAR TROUBLED: Ask her what she thinks would happen to YOUR emotional health were you to commit adultery while committed to preach the Biblical injunction against it. And tell her that if she can't separate her sexual needs from spiritual ones, she needs a doctor of psychiatry—not a doctor of divinity.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for seven months and my husband is constantly pressuring me to start a family right now! I told him I wasn't ready yet

He says I am ready whether I know it or not, but, Abby, I don't really want the responsibility that goes with motherhood yet. I want to enjoy the freedom and fun of being childless for at least two years.

He is 26 and I am 23. I hate to use birth control behind his back, but if he doesn't quit pressuring me, I may have to.

How long do you think a couple should wait before having children? Do you think he wants to tie me down with a family to make our marriage more secure?

PRESSURED
DEAR PRESS: Your letter indicates that you are NOT ready for a child. "Tying you down with a family" before you're ready will not "secure" your marriage. It's more apt to weaken it. How long a couple should wait before having a family is a personal matter which should be decided by the couple—together. Tell your husband to cool it.

150 Participate In Orientation

Participants numbered 150 when volunteers, representatives of local organizations and Big Spring State Hospital staff members attended a Volunteer Council orientation and luncheon Thursday on the hospital campus.

The orientation began at 9 a.m., featuring staff members, Miss Nancy Easley, director, RSVP program; Mrs. Dottie Mullins, social worker; Dr. Lee Butler, chaplain; Phil Christensen, psychologist; and Mrs. Claude Van Vleet, director of nursing services.

Following the luncheon, Jim Baum, council chairman, conducted a brief business session, during which the Rev. Jim Collier, minister of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, was elected new council chairman, with a slate of officers including Don DeLeuw, vice chairman; Mrs. Jewel Richter, Colorado City, secretary; and Miss Agnes Currie, treasurer.

Continuing a theme of honoring volunteers, the program featured an announcement of the new auxiliary to the hospital, which will be blending of current and new volunteers to the hospital. The advisory board will consist of Mrs. Van Vleet, Mrs. Wallace Hunter, Mrs. H. W. Smith, Mrs. David Elrod and Mrs. Pete Rhymes, temporary chairman. Christensen will serve as consultant.

W.A. Mann, director of the Hospital Improvement Program, and Mrs. Van Vleet discussed the importance of volunteer services to the hospital residents and thanked the volunteers for their "caring and sharing and giving of themselves." Rev. Collier and Mrs. Margaret Baum, volunteer coordinator, concluded the program with selections arranged for two pianos.

After the luncheon, Dr. Preston E. Harrison, superintendent, presented a demonstration on hypnosis.

Fruit Flavored

When your jam and jelly jars are almost empty, pour cold milk into them, cover the jars tightly, and shake. Your children will think this fruit-flavored, fruit-tinted milk is an extra treat.

Business Women's Week Is Proclaimed By Mayor

TO WED—Mr. and Mrs. Don Williams, 2804 Parkway, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Kay, to Don Sauls, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Sauls, 3701 W. Highway 80. The ceremony will take place Dec. 28 in the First Christian Church.

WILL WED—Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Blackshear, Rt. 1, Big Spring, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Debra Elaine, to Richard Dee Lloyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lloyd Jr., 1601 Wood. The wedding will be Dec. 27 at College Baptist Church.

National Business Women's Week, held annually over the nation, has been proclaimed locally by Mayor Wade Choate and will be celebrated today through Oct. 27.

Sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club, the designated week honors all working women and encourages their progress in business, government, the professions and civic endeavors.

Mrs. Berk Affleck is president of the local club, and Mrs. Willard Sullivan is serving as chairman for the special observance. Co-chairman is Mrs. J. Robert Smith, assisted by all B&PW members. The club, organized in 1939, now has a membership nearing 50.

The club will have a dinner meeting Tuesday at Coker's Restaurant and a tea from 3 to 5 p.m., Oct. 27 at the Texas Electric Reddy Room. In addition to local women, members of B&PW clubs in Midland, Andrews, Seminole and Colorado City have been invited to attend.

Founded in 1919, the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., is a non-profit, non-partisan, non-sectarian, self-governing and member-supported organization. A Foundation for research and expansion of educational opportunities for working women was established by the Federation in 1956.

More than 170,000 women are members of the National Federation which is composed of 3,800 clubs in 53 state federations. These members are affiliated with a quarter of a million working women in over 50 countries through membership in the International Federation of Business and Professional Women. Membership in BPW is open to all women who are actively engaged in business or the professions; who subscribe to Federation objectives; and who meet the eligibility requirements of a local club. Also, to women enrolled in college or a university or any other accredited educational institution above the high school level.

According to BPW goals, women who actively participate in BPW activities have opportunities for leadership experience, career development, constructive activity, personal improvement, women's awareness, community consciousness, legislative involvement, international understanding, continuing education, widening interests, policy making, business contacts and stimulating fellowship.

GOALS
In the interest of all working women, BPW projects its efforts to goals that are multi-faceted, and are all aimed toward helping women by:

- Enlightening women on topical subjects.
- Intensifying international understanding and cooperation.
- Endorsing qualified women for policy-making positions and public offices.
- Guaranteeing equal rights and eliminating all far-reaching discriminations against women.

- Extending more educational opportunities.
- Strengthening peace and security.

- Participating in solving energy and environmental problems.
- Involving members in legislative objectives.
- Paying tribute to women's achievements. Raising women's awareness of the status of women. Elevating the dignity of women as career persons and homemakers. Enriching the working woman in all areas encompassed by BPW objectives.

ACHIEVEMENTS
The national federation takes pride in the achievements accomplished since its organization in 1919:

- The BPW Foundation, its library and research center, to conduct and support research regarding employed women and to administer scholarship and training programs.
- Formation of the international federation with five other countries.
- Constant leadership for the passage of the Equal Rights Amendment in Congress.
- Ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment at the state level.
- Creation of National Business Women's Week.
- Initiation of Woman of the Year Award for clubs and state federations.
- Individual Development Plan to develop speaking ability and leadership potential. Young Career Woman Program. Talent Bank for womanpower search.

Nike Clubs for high school girls and Samothrace Clubs for college women. Sponsorship of the Congress of Community Career Women. Sponsorship of the State Commissions on the Status of Women. Establishment of numerous scholarships, fellowships and support of training centers on an international scope.

ENGLISH ARTISTS IN POTPOURRI OF SONGS AND SCENES
... A high spirited sampler of Gilbert and Sullivan

Audiences Love Music Of "Gilbert And Sullivan"

"The World of Gilbert and Sullivan," the first presentation of the 1974-75 Big Spring Community Concert Association series, is scheduled Monday evening at Municipal Auditorium.

Mrs. Paul Kionka of the association board has announced that, due to so many people being out of town during the brief membership drive, season tickets will be on sale Monday night only in the lobby box office.

Gilbert and Sullivan buffs, indeed, all devotees of the musical theatre, will welcome this very special group of Savoyards direct from London, presenting a charming anthology of the incomparable Gilbert and Sullivan tunes and patter. Steeped in the grand tradition of the Savoy Opera, these six repertory artists give their delighted audiences "The Mikado," "Pirate King," "Patience," "Little Buttercup," "Ralph Rackstraw" and "Young Strephon" — all in one evening.

"The World of Gilbert and Sullivan," the American touring company of England's celebrated "Gilbert and Sullivan For All, Ltd.," was formed to give U.S. audiences an opportunity to hear Gilbert and Sullivan as it should be heard — brought to life with the flair and style unique to the English Savoyards, but without the expensive and cumbersome staging that limits appearances to only larger cities.

The idea behind "The World of Gilbert and Sullivan" is to present songs and scenes from the Savoy Operas, informally in modern dress without props and scenery and with piano accompaniment. There have also been many times when they have joined with major symphony orchestras for an evening of this joyful, lively, beloved music. They have worked with the orchestras of Denver, Spokane, Minneapolis, San Antonio and twice at the famed Hollywood Bowl.

company was in the Leas Cliff Hall, Folkestone, Great Britain in 1963. Since then they have given performances in the leading concert halls and theatres in the British Isles, and throughout the United States and Canada. The company has also been featured on television several times both in England and the United States.

"Gilbert and Sullivan For All, Ltd.," has also been invited by a number of communities to present full-scale staged versions of the Gilbert and Sullivan operas, with local citizenry employed in the lesser roles and as a chorus. Their most ambitious undertaking took place in June-July of 1969 with a full-scale production of "The Yeoman of the Guard" in the outdoor setting of the majestic Newark Castle, a spectacular ruin built in the 12th century and impregnable until destroyed by Cromwell.

IMPRESSIVE
The English parent company, "Gilbert and Sullivan For All, Ltd.," has an impressive and distinguished history, which presents more than adequate evidence of why "The World of Gilbert and Sullivan" is what it is today. The first concert of the English

ACCLAIMED
Critics throughout Europe and America have acclaimed "The World of Gilbert and Sullivan" as the "entertainment" not to be missed. You will find the tunes and memorable melodies of Gilbert and Sullivan in the "hit parade."

'Gala Evening' To Aid Center

"Gala Evening"—one of the social high spots of the year—has been announced for Thursday, Nov. 7.

The black-tie affair, to be held at the Dora Roberts Community Center (formerly Cosden Club), will benefit the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center.

Although some invitations have been sent, the event is open to all, and those who are interested are asked to call the rehab center (263-1062) prior to Nov. 3. Tickets are $25 each.

Bernie Howell and his Triolins will be featured during the cocktail hour and entertainment period, also at the buffet.

Ten couples and two other individuals will host the colorful event which will also spotlight a presentation of exotic furs and diamonds from John Tauben of Dallas.

During the evening, a ladies Brown Shadow 27-inch mink shirt-jac will be given away.

The gala was envisioned as a means of raising funds for the rehabilitation center, for, without it, a deficit of $17,000 will occur in the anticipated receipts for the center. Jack Davis, director, pointed out that this would be a producing somewhat less minimum deficit, since the budget estimates this much.

Since the center has taken on a contract with Medical Arts in Lamesa, it will need to provide transportation for therapists and equipment in order to fulfill this contract, another area in which receipts from the Gala can help.

Among the hosts are Mr. and Mrs. Wade Choate, Mrs. Doris Chalk Cole, Dr. and Mrs. R.B.G. Cowper, Mr. and Mrs. Will Edwards Jr., Mr. and Mrs. George McAlister, Mr. and Mrs. Larin McMowell III and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Meek, Gene MiKeska, Mr. and Mrs. Kent Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Don Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Turner, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Worthy.

Craft Ideas Shown To Club Group

New craft ideas were demonstrated for the Busy Bee Hobby Club Thursday morning in the home of Mrs. Morris Roberts, 2606 Clanton.

Mrs. Betty Williams showed a new type of gingham dog and calico cat, a poinsettia centerpiece and a "drip and drape" angel for Christmas.

Wedding Ceremony Is Performed Friday

MRS. PAUL EDWARD NEWTON

Miss Pamela Ann Eisler and Paul Edward Newton were married in a 7 p.m. ceremony Friday in the Carl Street Church of Christ with Ralph Beistle, Coahoma Church of Christ minister, officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. G.R. Eisler, 2907 Navajo, and Mr. and Mrs. R. Newton Jr., Austin.

The ceremony was read before an arch of white and pink chrysanthemums, flanked by candelabra and palms.

Wedding music was by an a cappella choir.

The bride's gown was of white satin with long tapered sleeves and sweetheart neckline. The full skirt extended into a cathedral train from the shirred waistline. Her waist-length veil of illusion was held by a headpiece fashioned by lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet arranged with pink and white sweetheart roses centered with an orchid.

Miss Robbie Eisler was her sister's only attendant, and she wore a floor-length pink lace over pink satin dress with matching pink lace cap trimmed with pearls.

BEST MAN
Jon Bagnall was best man, and Rufus Rowland and John Newton were ushers.

Altar tapers were lighted by Debbie Williams and Rusty Williams.

When the couple returns from a wedding trip to Llano, Austin and Highland Lakes area, their home will be at 2509 Seminole.

Both the bride and the bridegroom are Big Spring High School graduates. She is attending Howard College, and he is employed by Piggly Wiggly.

A reception honored the couple at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dub Rowland in Silver Heels.

Miss Christy Newton and Miss Sheryl Newton served refreshments from a table laid with white Chantilly lace and accented with pink bows. The bride's bouquet was the centerpiece, flanked by silver candelabra.

GUESTS
Out-of-town relatives attending were Mr. and Mrs. R.A. Newton Sr., Sweetwater, grandparents of the bridegroom, and Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Rowland, Midland.

Exercise Best Not Overdone

Today's woman finds herself participating in more and more activities. From spas, to exercise classes (one, two, three, four), to tennis lessons. But don't neglect your inner needs while keeping your outer person up to par. And, keep these exercise tips in mind. Always start-off a new activity slowly — don't overdo at first and suffer later. Follow a regular schedule so your body learns to perform well. Remember, real physical fitness requires a balanced diet as well as exercise.

Commander Guest Of DAVA Unit

Mrs. Jack Kay of O'Donnell, Region I commander, Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary, was a guest when the local unit met last week in the V.F.W. Hall. Other guests were Mrs. Lilla Pena, Lamesa; Mrs. Elsie Jonas, Abilene; and Mrs. Homer Haygood, Big Spring. Mrs. Ollie Bransom, unit commander, led the opening ritual.

Mrs. Fred Scott, Veterans

Administration Hospital chairman, reported that refreshments for the coffee hour at the hospital were provided recently by Mrs. John Watkins, Mrs. M. H. Spivey, Mrs. Buck O'Neal Sr., Mrs. Donald McCray and Mrs. Scott.

The group agreed to donate to the Christmas fund which is divided among all VA hospitals in Texas. Unit 47 will help distribute the money at the local hospital.

A salad buffet preceded the meeting, with members' husbands as guests. The next meeting will be Nov. 19, with the men again as guests.

'Quotable Women'

By The Associated Press

Here are some quotable quotes from women.

"My feeling is all women are sisters and if we can help each other to get a problem like this discussed publicly, we will save a lot of lives. I just had my annual physical and I'm in excellent health." Shirley Temple Black, onetime child actress, recently named ambassador to Ghana, discussing her surgery which was similar to that undergone by First Lady Betty Ford.

"I campaigned hard for Richard Nixon, but I don't think that I'm personally responsible for the excesses of Watergate." Mary Louise Smith, Republican national chairman, speaking about her job preparing for the Nov. 5 elections.

"Voter resistance to women is on the wane and is not sufficient to keep women from winning all but the very top election office, president or vice president." Jeane Kirkpatrick, vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee's Commission on Vice Presidential Selection and author of a new book, "Political Woman."

Strong Bank Reports

Deposits in the three banks at Big Spring and one at Coahoma amounted to $91,513,909 on Oct. 15, an all time high for Howard County and up 23.03 per cent from the comparable date a year ago.

Total resources reached $101,432,178, the first time it had ever got as far as the $100 million mark. They were up 22.87 per cent.

By any measuring stick, that's a pretty impressive jump, even when inflationary factors are considered.

It's difficult to analyze the main contributing factors, but surely the impact of last year's all-time record cotton crop (at a record price) is still being felt. The contrast with this year's miserable failure for the cotton crop, as well as most other agricultural products, won't be felt until the final call of this year and possibly not until the first quarter call of 1975. It is possible, also, that there has been more liquidation of cattle herds than in past years owing to the poor pasture conditions and depressed market for producers.

Another factor undoubtedly is the price of crude oil, which has increased between 50-75 per cent, taken on the whole, since last year. Because of this, wells are being squeezed to get every possible drop, maintaining the rate of volume along with that of price.

But business also has been showing gains, and in most lines this exceeds the rate of inflation. Thus, the report must be taken as a good one that reflects a healthy, vigorous economic climate here.

Entitled To Value Received

Like many other business, the U.S. Postal Service blames continuing inflation for most of its current financial problems, but the magnitude of the postal deficit suggests other, more deep-seated troubles are responsible.

Last year, the semi-independent government agency sustained a $385 million operating deficit, and officials see the possibility of another income shortfall of at least $400 million by next June 30.

To try to cut these losses, postal officials promise better control of manpower costs and more efficient mail handling systems.

It is no easy job for Congress to decide how far the government should go in providing subsidies to hold down the cost of mail service, and how much the mail-user should be expected to pay.

After more than three years of operating a system that is supposed to break even, the quasiprivate postal service should know by now whether it will ever be possible to provide efficient mail delivery at reasonable cost to the user, or if public subsidies are inevitable.

Even if Congress reluctantly settle on the latter, American taxpayers are entitled to an efficient postal operation both for the sake of their hard-earned dollars and for respectable service.

'Two B's Or Not...'

Around The Rim

Walt Finley

A young British scholar working on a love sonnet asked his friend, William Shakespeare, how to spell Caribbean.

Shakespeare paused for a moment and thought aloud:

"Two B's or not two B's that is the question."

Overheard: "I don't say I'm getting old, but the textbook I used to study geography now has been re-issued as Ancient History."

COAHOMA KID, alias Frank Gonzales, called me a "wiseacre," and I immediately denied being that big.

"Would you believe 'wiseroad'?" he asked.

Burglars got $8,000 in cash and jewels from the apartment of Oklahoma Rep. John Jarman in Washington — who defeated one of M-e-r-r-y Jo's kin folks in the Democratic primary.

Isn't that taxation without representation?

Careful Carol A. Avery, umpire-word punner, reports:

"The latest peek-a-boo gown is a dress that isn't all there for women who are."

Blossoming Judette Bloom says she has a friend who's a little vague about her age — you know, a case of women's fib."

IT IS IMPOSSIBLE for most of us to roll up our sleeves to fight inflation when we already have lost the shirts off our backs.

I think it was Sitty Landers, proof-reader positive, who said:

Supermarkets are getting so big the shopper goes farther than his money.

Backshop boss Bob Rogers saw a 1950 movie on television in which a boy and his girl were arguing about her father, and the boy said:

"It's guys like him who cause all our troubles today..."

Does that sound familiar to anybody?

THAT TRAVELIN' man Kenneth Hart, while riding to a motel in Las Vegas recently noticed a beautiful government building that had the words "What is past is prologue" carved on it in huge letters.

He asked the cab driver what the phrase meant. The cabbie replied:

"Wait 'till you see taxes next year!"

MY BRIGHT COUSIN, Dr. George Ladd, an Okie in Muskogee, reports he got a call from a fellow who wanted to know "With the high price of antifreeze, can I get the same results with rubbing alcohol or booze?"

"Sure" George replied merrily, "if you want to risk cirrhosis of the radiator."

Who Fell Off?

William F. Buckley, Jr.

What used to be called shenanigans are nowadays called foul play. And Rockefeller being in the spotlight, he is feeling the heat generated by what Spiro Agnew dubbed the post-Watergate morality. What is it, in politics, that is simply tough and ingenious and even cute? What is it that is foul play?

SUDDENLY I SAW, coming in from the mists of yesteryear, one of Rockefeller's old fleet of campaign destroyers. Only this one was slightly older than the Goldberg Book. It dated back to 1968, and here are the circumstances.

During the Miami Beach convention of the Republican Party, the Miami Herald carried a monstrous big ad entitled: "Memorandum to: Delegates to the Republican National Convention-From: Black American-Subject: The Presidential Nomination." The advertisement instructed the delegates to vote for Rockefeller — or else. "We take this opportunity to advise you that candidates with records such as Richard Nixon and Ronald Reagan are not acceptable to black Americans."

THE CHAIRMAN of the list of 76 Negro signers was the late Mr. Louis Lomax, the Los Angeles writer, and among the 76 were the names of very prominent black citizens, for instance Charles Evers, Marian Anderson, Louis Armstrong, Cab Calloway, and Lionel Hampton — some of whom would in due course become Nixon enthusiasts; none of whom was given lightly to implying that other Americans are racists, that being the clear implication of the advertisement concerning Nixon and Reagan.

Now someone asked me, at a public situation in Miami, to comment on the ad. I said it was reprehensible, and that it was, on the face of it, a Rockefeller operation, undoubtedly paid for by Rockefeller headquarters. That afternoon, a journalist reported my observation to Gov. Rockefeller at a press conference. "Is that true," the reporter asked, that the ad was a Rockefeller operation?

"No," said the Governor. "It isn't true." Whereupon he added, genially, "You have to understand that Mr. Buckley fell off a boat a couple of days ago." Everybody laughed, myself included when I saw it on television, but as my laughter died down I beamed at the set, "You'll be sorry, Governor."

A WEEK OR SO later, my office telephoned the Miami Herald. We were put on to a Mr. Bob Gobin, who handled the Citizens of Black America ad. He advised us that at the very last minute before the deadline, a woman named Evelyn Cunnigham had come to the offices of the Herald, cash in hand, with copy of the Black America ad, which the Herald routinely accepted.

But, he said, he was very sorry he had done so.

Why, we asked?

BECAUSE, HE SAID, he had received somewhere between 30 and 50 letters from people whose names had been listed as signers, protesting that they had never given their permission to appear in the ad. Who, for instance? Well, he couldn't remember them all, but he could offhand remember that he heard from Charles Evers, Lionel Hampton, Marian Anderson, and Louis Armstrong, who had emphatically disavowed the ad.

Who was Miss Cunningham, we preserved?

Don't know, Mr. Gobin said. All he got from her by way of address was Hotel Lucerne, Miami Beach, and her permanent address was 4919 16th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C.

I FOUND THAT ADDRESS listed in the Washington phone book as belonging to one Barrington D. Parker who, — what do you know? — turned out to be one of the three delegates from D.C. pledged to Rockefeller. On a hunch, we then called Rockefeller-for-President Headquarters, which was winding up its affairs, and brashly asked to speak to Evelyn Cunningham. The answer came that Miss Cunningham could be reached at — Rockefeller's New York gubernatorial office.

I should add that there is no reason necessarily to infer from all this that Nelson Rockefeller was being specifically untruthful. The chances are very good that he was personally unaware of everything his staff was doing, even as Nixon was not always aware of what CREEP was doing.

Probably it all evolved from an initiative by Jackie Robison, who was a Rockefeller nut — who called Lomax, to give the ad a West-Coast feel so as to keep it from sounding too obviously like a New York Rockefeller operation.

HOW THEY GOT THE names, only Lomax knows and he's dead; presumably somebody just made up a list of prominent Negroes. Then, to attend to the mechanics of the ad, it was arranged for an efficient young lady to deliver the cash. Whose cash? We'll leave the answer to that question to people who have never fallen off a boat.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

The United States does many things better than any other nation, but building and sailing oil tankers is not one of them. To offset its own glaring deficiencies, the politically potent maritime industry has convinced Congress to pass a bill requiring 30 per cent of the nation's oil imports to be carried in American-built ships manned by American seamen.

The bill is the kind of out-and-out boondoggle that gives federal regulation a bad name. It is being promoted as a "national security measure," but neither the Defense Department nor the Maritime Administration wants anything to do with it. In truth, all the bill does is protect a small, inefficient industry at great expense to the taxpayer.

It will cost consumers only a penny a gallon more for gasoline, says its backers, but they neglect to mention that that adds up to $1 billion a year. The bill's opponents say it could increase energy costs as much as $60 billion over the next decade. President Ford should veto the measure as soon as it reaches his desk.

LONG ISLAND NEWSDAY

My Answer

Billy Graham

I have been a Christian a year now and this is my problem. My son is married the second time, and they abuse his 5-year-old boy who looks like his first wife. When they visit, they often beat him and make bruises so I can hardly stand it. I try to discuss it with them, but it causes a great upset. My husband says I should have stayed out of it. Please give some advice.

M.K.

The Bible approves of parental chastisement for the wrongdoing of children. Here's the quote from the wisdom writer (Proverbs 13:24) speaking of a son.

"If you love him, you will be prompt to punish him."

Now let me quickly add that this does not condone mistreatment, certainly not cruelty. Paul said, "Don't keep on scolding and nagging your children, making them angry and resentful. Rather bring them up with the loving discipline the Lord himself approves."

Th parent should never administer discipline in the heat of temper, but rather the ensuing calmness of conviction. Furthermore, the "rod" need not be made of wood or iron, or even the human hand. A look of reproach, or an exclusion from some privilege may be more effective than a slap. Perpetual faultfinding by a parent is greatly destructive. Society is rather hardened than helped by abusive forms of punishment.

Big Airlines Exchanging Routes

By STEPHEN H. MILLER

NEW YORK (AP) — The search for profit in an unsettled economy produced news this past week from the airline and auto industries, and in the heart of Wall Street itself.

Pan American World Airways and Trans World Airlines signed a major agreement to change their routes.

One provision calls for suspension of TWA service to West Germany, another for suspension of Pan Am service to France, Portugal, Spain, and Morocco. TWA would give up its authority for flights between Washington and London, but would acquire Pan Am's authority to fly between Los Angeles and Honolulu instead of just flying between those two points on the way to some further destination.

Both airlines previously have tried to get government approval to merge some of their operations as they struggle to contend with profit problems largely linked to overcapacity on foreign operation and the rising cost of jet fuel.

Their agreement this past week, which officials estimated would produce at least $25 million more in profits a piece during its first year, also remains subject to government approval.

Pan-Am and TWA agree to swap routes, minimize duplication

Sources estimate this may save carriers $25 million a year

Chrysler to embark on cost-cutting program to hedge loss

White collar workers and one assembly plant may bear brunt

NYSE nixes SEC rate proposal, says competition would hurt

Chrysler Corp. the nation's third biggest automaker said this past week it would try to help its profit picture by putting a major cost-cutting program into effect.

Some sources said the program could include widespread white collar layoffs and perhaps the closing of one of the company's six domestic assembly plants.

Chrysler is expected by industry analysts to break even or report a loss when it announces its third-quarter financial results later this month. A year earlier, when it had been hit by a national United Auto Workers strike, the company posted a third-quarter loss of $27.4 million.

The competitive rate proposal is from the Securities and Exchange Commission, which has already prodded Wall Street into adopting such rates on trades worth less than $2,000 or more than $300,000. Rates on other trades are set by fixed schedule.

Some in the industry contend that many brokerage houses would be forced out of business by fully competitive rates. The exchange contends its own existence could be threatened by the rate plan and SEC plans to create a more centralized securities market.

Sees Defeat

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Sen. Lloyd M. Bentsen, D-Tex., says Congress will refuse to approve the 5 per cent surtax sought by the Ford administration on families making more than $15,000 annually.

More About Warts

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have no quarrel with your article on warts and I personally have had some ugly ones shrivel and disappear spontaneously.

However our daughter, 8, had her hands covered with warts, and was self-conscious. Our pediatrician referred us to a specialist in dermatology who marked each with an ordinary pen, then touched each marked area with a Q-tip dipped in liquid nitrogen.

We were told her hands would look terrible for about 10 days — and they did. But as the quick-frozen tissue dried up and fell off, no more warts. We've been assured that in a year there would be no scar tissue or after-effects. (At the moment merely white spots on her otherwise lightly tanned skin.)

We learned that not all are capable of this type of treatment — R.H.

"Thank you sir. Warts are a peculiar type growth, sometimes an annoyance, but not dangerous or harmful except in appearance. If folks are willing to let them come and go naturally, they always disappear in time. If you are in a hurry to get rid of them, let a dermatologist do it, by whatever method he finds effective. The liquid nitrogen is one such method, as you know.

I'll let you in on a secret: not even a specialist can guarantee that warts won't return, but the instant-freezing method you describe is effective when used by doctors who know how to do it.

Since warts do (in their own sweet time) disappear spontaneously, all sorts of hocus-pocus seems to work when applied around the time the warts are getting ready to depart anyway. When this happens, the beholder is (not surprisingly) certain he has discovered "the sure cure for warts."

It didn't exactly astonish me to receive a fresh supply of such testimonials this time. Among them the following:

"A neighbor asked me if I wanted the warts off and I said yes. He held my hand and rubbed his hand over the warts. In about two weeks my warts were all gone — Mrs. B.M."

From a traveler in Europe: "I found some yellow peas and rubbed on the warts and they went away."

From Minnesota: "I cured them with castor oil every night on my hand and my eyebrow. It kills the virus. One day to my surprise when I looked at my hands every wart was gone. — L.K."

"When I was in my teens a neighbor told me to get a milk weed and every day take one leaf and dab the milk on my warts and when I used up all the leaves, throw out the stem and my warts would disappear."

Note to P.N.: Protruding navel in babies is an exception to the general rule concerning hernias. These umbilical hernias very often do heal themselves spontaneously.

"You Can Stop Sinus Trouble!" is the title of Dr. Thosteson's newly revised booklet, explaining what sinus trouble really is and what can be done about it. For a copy write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Defunct Regulation?

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — Giving with one hand and taking away with the other is the end result of the Ford war on inflation. The income tax will be eased for those in the low brackets, but they will pay more for the energy to light and heat their homes.

IN THE confusion of advice in the White House, the Nixon holdovers have been urging state regulatory agencies to move rapidly to grant utility rate increases. The dubious reason is that with greater revenues light and power companies will increase investment in new facilities.

It is far more likely that dividends will jump as the rates go up. And as experience has shown, regardless of demand or a greatly increased supply, these rates never go down.

The burden is imposed on the householder into the indefinite future and economies such as keeping lights on in only one or two rooms will make little difference in his bill.

The same thing applies to the deregulation of natural gas recommended by President Ford in his speech on inflation. The end result will be to increase the cost of gas for home heating to twice or three times the present level. Whether any additional gas will be produced is highly doubtful since producers are reported currently operating full blast.

The General Accounting Office following a 10-month investigation accused the Federal Power Commission of improperly allowing a number of natural gas producers to raise prices to millions of their customers.

Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., called the report "one of the most powerful indictments of a federal regulatory agency within memory. Most of the nation's 40 million gas bills have been seriously and adversely affected by the irregularities revealed by the GAO and shown to be commonplace at the FPC."

The report charged that some officials of the commission had owned securities of the companies they regulated, with 19 officials directed to sell securities as a result of the investigation. The FPC entered a blanket denial of the charges.

In the Nixon years the regulatory agencies were stacked with men out of industry. They were supposed to do a turnabout and start regulating the very industries from which they had come.

In most cases they have long-term appointments so that if President Ford were inclined to reshape the regulatory bodies with consumer-oriented members or at least with regulators capable of objective judgment, he would be stymied.

In a remarkable speech, the chairman of one of these agencies spoke a few home truths the other day. Lewis A. Engman of the Federal Trade Commission told the Financial Analysts Federation meeting in Detroit: "Most regulated industries have become federal protectorates, living in a world of cost-plus, safely protected from the ugly specters of competition, efficiency and innovation."

HE URGED that every regulation or regulatory policy contributing to inflation be reexamined. Earlier Engman had announced that the FTC would pursue a vigorous antitrust program as the most effective and important contribution to protect the consumer.

The rush for profits in the domestic oil industry matches the gouging of the Arabs. Of the roughly 16 million barrels a day consumed in this country 6 million is from domestic sources.

Of that total 40 per cent is rated as "new" oil, that is to say from new sources, and is therefore free of price control. It is bringing $11 a barrel, matching the quadrupled price of the Arab producers. As Arab spokesmen have noted, if you want to reduce prices why don't you take action at home?

Anyone who thinks that the bite on electricity, oil and gas will not count at the ballot box is living in a dream world.

A Devotion For Today . .

"You shall love your neighbor as yourself."
(Matthew 19:19)

Prayer: By Thy grace, O God, number me among those most richly blessed, who have learned that all persons are more than friends—that they are my sisters and brothers. In Jesus' name. Amen.

New Plan Serves Exceptional Pupils

"Special education isn't so special now, in that the services for pupils are more integrated with mainstream education than ever before," said L. Gene Adkins, speaking at the October meeting of Kentwood Parent-Teacher Association.

"We operate under guidelines for a Plan A model which is different from any model we have previously had for special education services," continued Adkins. "A major advantage of this new model is that there are services for all eligible pupils. In the past, probably one-half of the handicapped pupils were in regular classrooms with no special assistance."

"The Plan A model is flexible. We may serve pupils in thirteen eligibility categories with instructional arrangements which include self-contained classes, resource class, helping teachers, itinerant teachers, homebound teacher, hospital class, diagnostic classes, vocational adjustment classes and other community classes. A teacher may play several combinations of these roles or classes during a school day. In the past, there were only five types of teaching positions; no combinations."

LARGER STAFF

Adkins explained that support staff positions are available for assistance to all teachers and administrators. These include supervisor, counselor, associate school psychologist and educational diagnostician. Previous models did not provide this support. Also, sufficient funds are now available for special materials, consultant services and for appraisal to determine pupil eligibility.

The basic philosophy of Plan A, as explained by Adkins, is (A) shift in emphasis in the education of the exceptional pupil from a label of the handicapping condition to his specific educational needs. (B) educate the pupil in the most appropriate instructional arrangement with modification and support as needed and (C) a comprehensive program for all eligible pupils from the school district between the ages of three and 21.

ELIGIBILITY

Pupils who are served are students with moderate and severe general learning disabilities, students with major specific learning disabilities, students with behavioral disabilities, students with oral communication disabilities, students with visual and hearing disabilities and students with crippling and health disabilities.

Mrs. David Hodnett presided for the business session, and Mrs. Jerald Crump announced that the school carnival will be held Oct. 26. Food will be served, beginning at 5:30 p.m., and the carnival will be from 6 to 9 p.m.

The devotional was by Mrs. Claudia Stabins, and the room count was won by Mrs. Ray Cantrell's class.

The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m., Nov. 12. At that time, a program will be presented by the primary music classes.

FALL DATE—Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rawls, Rt. 2, Big Spring, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Barbara Kay, to Billy Joe Clayton, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Heckler, 1310 Colby. The wedding will be Nov. 23 at College Park Church of God.

Ceremony Performed In Comanche Park

The amphitheatre in Comanche Trail Park was the setting Oct. 1 for the wedding of Miss Wilma Jean Fisher to Airman 1.C. Berry Mehn. The couple is now residing at 1502-A Sycamore.

The bride is the daughter of Julian Fisher and Mrs. Jeanette Fisher, both of Big Spring, and pare its of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Mehn Jr., St. Louis, Mo.

For the ceremony, which was performed by Justice of the Peace Walter Grice, the bride was attired in a full-length dress styled with full skirt of pink, blue and black windowpane check. The fitted bodice was black, with sheer sleeves to match the skirt, and white collar and cuffs. Her brief, blue veil was held by a headpiece of lace with crystal beading, and her bouquet was of white daisies, roses and pompon mums. She was given in marriage by Steve Nelson.

Attendants were Airman 1. C. Rex Kingary, best man, and Mrs. Tana Kingary, matron of honor. The Kingarys' son, C. R. Kingary was ring bearer. Mrs.

Kingary wore a pink and orchid flowered dress with pink garden hat adorned with orchid ribbon. Carnations and pompon mums formed her corsage.

Attending the private ceremony were the bride's mother, as well as her brother-in-law and sister, Sgt. and Mrs. David Balkus.

Hosting the reception at a local club were Miss Loretta Corbin, Mrs. Diane Leitch and Mrs. Kingary.

Airman Mehn, a hospital corpsman at the Webb Air Force Base Hospital, is attending Howard College, taking elementary nursing and working toward an RN degree. He previously attended Augustinian Academy in St. Louis. Mrs. Mehn, a Big Spring High School student, is also taking a course in cosmetology.

Anniversary Celebration

The silver anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. C.E. Wisener Jr., was celebrated Saturday at First Federal Community Room when the children honored their parents at a reception.

The Wiseners, who reside in San Antonio, where he is a building contractor, are former residents of Big Spring and Coahoma. He attended school in Knott. They married in Denver City, Oct. 15, 1949.

Hosts for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Pete Wisener, Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Mike McCreary, Big Spring, Miss Jonna Wisener and Miss Michelle Wisener, both of San Antonio.

The table was covered with white lace over silver, and silver appointments were used. Fresh flowers were arranged in a silver champagne cooler for the centerpiece.

Assisting the host group were Mr. and Mrs. B.F. McCreary, Mrs. C.H. Arrick, Mrs. Caryle Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thomas, Tahoka; and Cliff Robison, Dallas.

Miss Michelle Wisener registered the guests.

PLANS TOLD—Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Holcomb, Stanton, announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Deana, to Stan Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Smith, Ackerly. The couple will wed Dec. 27 at the North 14th Church of Christ, Lamesa.

Lubbock Hosting Fall Convention

Texas Garden Clubs Inc. will observe its 47th fall convention in Lubbock, Tuesday through Thursday with a "Salute to the South Plains — A Western Frontier." The meeting will be at the Red Raider Inn, 6025 Avenue A.

The Lubbock Council of Garden Clubs with Mrs. Rodney Joy, president, will host the convention with Mrs. Carrol Anderson and Mrs. Benidean Hammock as cochairmen.

Mrs. G. Browning Smith, Harlingen, president of the state organization with more than 28,000 members in the 1022 clubs, said the sessions will provide time for committees to report, plan and conduct workshops; to elect officers for 1975-1977; and for special programs on environment, landscaping, horticulture and flower arranging. A tour of the Ranch Headquarters Museum at Texas Tech will be a special Bicentennial event.

Official meetings of trustees, finance and executive committees and board of directors will be held Tuesday. The first business session begins at 9:30 a.m., Wednesday, and Mrs. Robert H. Dooley of Dallas, secretary for National Council of State Garden Clubs, will speak.

The Wednesday luncheon and program "Salute A Century of Progress," will feature Art Glick, professor of landscape architecture, Texas Tech, speaking on "People, Plants and Environment." Mrs. Thomas Cole, Lubbock, fifth vice president, will introduce him and Mrs. Jay Huckabee, Snyder, second vice president will preside. Mrs. Grady Starnes, Richardson, will moderate workshops which follow for flower shows led by Mrs. J. O. Jordan, Fort Worth; schedules by Mrs. C. F. Robison, El Paso; landscape design by Dr. William Welch Texas A&M University and Mrs. Robert G. McCoy, Goldthwaite; horticulture, Mrs. Ben Denman, Dallas; and Arbor Day, Mrs. Henry Blum Jr., Houston.

The dinner program, "Horizon: Chart for the Future," will honor Mrs. Howard S. Kittel, Fort Worth, national president, and other national officials. Mrs. E. O. Barton, Houston, former state president, will preside with Mrs. Henry B. FOR YOUR PLEASURE

"Luv" Due At College On Thursday, Friday

This shapes up as a week with bountiful entertainment. As you note (elsewhere in this section) the Big Spring Concert Association season begins Monday evening with favorite bits of Gilbert and Sullivan.

This also is one of the student activity affairs for Howard College students. And they, as well as the public, will get a chance to see "Luv," the Murray Schisjal poignant satire on chronic complainers, Thursday and Friday evenings. This is a free public service in the college auditorium. Leads are played by Kelley Draper, Jan Holloway and Lynn Dickinson. Directing is John Gordon of the drama faculty.

Mrs. Mary Skalicky, head of the fine arts department of the college, has been named to the first edition of "World's Who's Who of Musicians." It will contain biographical references and be circulated internationally. Mrs. Skalicky received her B. Mus. from Southern Methodist University and the M. Mus. from the University of Michigan. She also attended Amsterdam Conservatory, the Netherlands Carillon School, Yale University and the University of Texas at Austin. She also is listed in "Personalities in the South."

You may want to circle your calendar for Sunday, Nov. 3—Diamond M. Museum at Snyder is having a showing of Julian Robles paintings from 1 to 5 p.m. Robles is famed for his works depicting the American Indian of today. He has an almost mystical quality. His career dates back 16 years when he began painting the Texas and Wyoming scenes, then shifted to New York, and finally back — as a nationally famed painter — to his native habitat.

The annual autumn "Starving Artist Show" at Stephenville will be held Nov. 22-23 in the Mall Shopping Center, 1491 South Loop, 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. Any interested artist may write The Mall, Box 1155, Stephenville, 76401 (or call 817-968-8080) for information.

Heritage Museum is holding over the works of H. W. Caylor, pioneer artist, until Nov. 1, and, of course, this is free to the public. (Hours today are 1-5 p.m.) Caylor, a native of Indiana, came here in the early 1890's, alternately ranching and painting the west as it existed then. There is a certain Norman Rockwell quality about some of his figures, and his landscapes are striking without being overly colored, a pitfall of many artists trying to capture West Texas. There are nearly 20 Caylor originals, plus twice that number of exceptionally fine reproductions, most of them thanks to Howard Duff, Edmonds, Wash.

The Carlsbad Area Art Association has its second annual exhibition Oct. 27 in the Carlsbad Zoological-Botanical State Park, starting 10 a.m. and with an auction at 3 p.m. Prizes will include two water colors by Ferr Farrell and a necklace by Dorothy Lorentzen. Some 90 works by southwestern artists and craftsmen will be on exhibit.

Secret Pals Revealed At Luncheon

Secret pals were revealed and gifts exchanged during a luncheon held Tuesday for the Airport Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. Frances Key, 1109 E. 6th.

Mrs. J.L. Metcalf, president, welcomed three new members, Mrs. J. C. Thames, Mrs. Roy Spivey and Mrs. Geneva Lee.

The program was given by Mrs. J.F. Skalicky who demonstrated cutting and making fabric flowers. Each member participated by creating a flower.

The next meeting will be Nov. 5 in the home of Mrs. C. L. Mason, 1013 Bluebonnet. At that time, a program will be given on metric measures.

NUPTIALS—Mr. and Mrs. Bob McMillan, Brownwood, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Marsha, to Mikel Stevan Irons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Irons, Compress Lane. The wedding will be Dec. 28 in the First Baptist Church, Brownwood.

Mrs. Tanya Preston's English classes had a spelling bee last week. First place winners were Emmett Woodard, Simona De Leon, Pauline Rodriguez, and Henry Hinojos. Second place winners were Marsha Domino, Pete Aguilar, David Brumley, and Bonnie Birmelin. Report cards will be given Wednesday for every class except elective courses. Elective classes will receive report cards November 7.

Runnels welcomes a new student, David Ray from Cashion, Arizona.

STANTON UIL Workshops Held At Odessa College

By MINDY HAILIP
This has been nine-week test week at SHS, with tests for periods one, three, and five taking place on Wednesday, and two and four on Thursday. Reports will be given out sometime next week. Monday will be a student holiday and a workday for teachers.

Students planning to participate in UIL events this year were given an opportunity to attend a workshop at Odessa College Saturday, October 12. Students and sponsors attending sessions dealing with the events that make up the UIL contests. These sessions gave students a chance to learn more about what each event involves.

One of the major topics of discussion was the changes in entry rules for this year. Instead of being divided into boys and girls sections as many of the events have been in the past, this year's events will take place in a single section.

Each school will send the specified number of students, boys or girls. In this way the most qualified students will be allowed to enter. A change has also been made affecting the number of entries from each district that will go on to region competition.

A meeting was held Tuesday of all students planning to participate in debate this year. Information received at the workshop was discussed and plans were made to meet once a week to work and prepare for upcoming tournaments.

The debate topic for this year is "Resolved: That the United States should significantly change the method of selecting presidential and vice-presidential candidates."

GOLIAD Nominees Chosen

By JENNIFER SMITH
Nominees for Band Sweetheart were chosen last week by band members. They are Cindy Cowan, Susan Bristol, Wendy Hamby, and Debby Thompson. The winner will be posted at a later date.

The Schoolfund Drive drew to a close Friday. The Top three homeroom class winners were Mrs. Cathey Aldred's class, first; Mrs. Irene Wiley's class, second; and Mrs. Lynn Calvert's class, third.

This Friday all teachers are invited to go to the library to see the display of books available for classroom libraries. Visitors may go before or after school, or during the conference period.

The Halloween bulletin board in the library was designed by the second and third period library aides.

The Goliad Mavericks played Snyder-Lamar Thursday. The final score was 12-6 in Lamar's favor. Thursday Goliad Mavericks and Runnels Yearlings will team up to play Andrews teams A and B. There will be a game at 4:00 and another at 5:30, both in Blankenship Field.

School will be dismissed at 2:45 on October 22. This is due to the fact that the teachers will be involved in an in-service meeting.

BIG SPRING HIGH SCHOOL Members Inducted In Thursday Rite

STANTON UIL Workshops Held At Odessa College

By MINDY HAILIP
This has been nine-week test week at SHS, with tests for periods one, three, and five taking place on Wednesday, and two and four on Thursday. Reports will be given out sometime next week. Monday will be a student holiday and a workday for teachers.

Students planning to participate in UIL events this year were given an opportunity to attend a workshop at Odessa College Saturday, October 12. Students and sponsors attending sessions dealing with the events that make up the UIL contests. These sessions gave students a chance to learn more about what each event involves.

One of the major topics of discussion was the changes in entry rules for this year. Instead of being divided into boys and girls sections as many of the events have been in the past, this year's events will take place in a single section.

Each school will send the specified number of students, boys or girls. In this way the most qualified students will be allowed to enter. A change has also been made affecting the number of entries from each district that will go on to region competition.

A meeting was held Tuesday of all students planning to participate in debate this year. Information received at the workshop was discussed and plans were made to meet once a week to work and prepare for upcoming tournaments.

The debate topic for this year is "Resolved: That the United States should significantly change the method of selecting presidential and vice-presidential candidates."

MURDER, WRECKS? NOT YET.

Soviet TV News Free Of Domestic Turmoil

By LYNNE OLSON
Associated Press Writer
MOSCOW AP — The CBS Evening News, the ABC Evening News and the NBC Nightly News constantly battle for ratings and sponsors in the United States. But "Vreemya" doesn't have to worry about either.

It's the only major TV news show in low or country here. Its name means "time" and it starts at a time-9 p.m. - when most American channels are filled with gunsmoke, comedy or Midwestern family dramas. "Vreemya" viewers don't learn about car wrecks, dissident demonstrations or Moscow's most recent murder. What they do learn is the status of the harvest, which factories are meeting what production quotas and the names of the latest official visitors to the Soviet capital.

ACCENT POSITIVE
Television news in Russia isn't burdened by the charge often made against U.S. network news - that it presents a steady diet of doom, uproar and conflict on the home front.

Here, TV newsmen and women take a leaf from an old Johnny Mercer song - they accentuate the positive and limit, if not eliminate, the negative. And they try not to mess with Mr. In-Between.

Even more than the Soviet print media, television here stays away from bad news, unless it happens in another country.

The editorial policy was neatly summed up when a Soviet watching a report on the harvesting of corn in Novosibirsk, was asked by a visitor if the harvest had been successful. "Of course," he replied. "Otherwise, it wouldn't have been shown."

"Vreemya," like its American network counterparts, lasts 30 minutes each night. It is beamed throughout Russia on the country's main TV channel.

For those who miss the prime time news, there also is a pair of 10-minute newscasts which appear at 6 p.m. and shortly before the midnight sign-off each evening.

Like American network news shows, an anchorman here sits behind a desk, reading the day's news while slides illustrating the stories occasionally are flashed behind him on a screen.

Filmed reports also are shown, with reporters often pictured interviewing their subjects or simply standing before a particular scene, giving a summary of the matter at hand.

MORE WOMEN
Unlike the American networks, there are more women on the air in the commercialless brand of Russian TV news.

OIL BY-PRODUCT DISPLAYED — Cherry Ingram, a 17-year-old model, shows why it was news when nylons, a petroleum by-product, were first put on sale on Oct. 25, 1939. She is posing by the Fort Worth Spudder an oil rig last used around the end of World War II. The Rig has been owned by the Robinson family for 70 years.

Fina Income Is Trebled

DALLAS — American Petrofina, Incorporated, has reported that net income for the third quarter of 1974 was $31,944,000 or $3.00 per share. This compared to $9,189,000, or 86 cents per share, during the same period last year. For the nine months ended Sept. 30, net income was $64,265,000, up from $20,222,000 during the first three quarters of 1973. Per-share earnings for the period were $6.03 as compared with $2.36 per share on the lesser average number of shares outstanding during the same period of 1973.

Gross revenues reflected the operation throughout 1974 of the refining, pipeline, and marketing assets acquired in mid-1973 from The Standard Oil Company (Ohio) for some $100,000,000. In the first three quarters, gross revenues amounted to $731,778,000 in 1974, up 162 per cent from $279,712,000 in the previous year.

Other factors contributing to the improvement in earnings in 1974, in addition to the full utilization of the assets added last year, were increases in the volumes and prices of petrochemicals and plastics sold and the price of the crude oil and natural gas produced by the Company.

A semiannual dividend of $1.00 per share is payable on the common stock of the company on Oct. 29, 1974, to shareholders of record on Oct. 15. This compares with 75 cents per share paid in the first half of 1974, and to a total dividend paid in 1973 of $1.15.

Race Bars Approved

LONDON (AP) — The House of Lords, acting as Britain's highest court, ruled today that the country's 4,000 private working men's clubs may keep out persons because of their race.

The far-reaching decision by the five law lords was unanimous, but Lord Kilbrandon said he reached his decision "with regret."

Lord Diplock expressed the lords' reasoning on the ruling: "If everyone were rational and humane — or, for that matter, Christian — no legal sanction would be needed to prevent one man being treated by his fellow men less favorably than another simply upon the ground of his color or ethnic or national origins.

"But in the field of domestic or social intercourse, differentiation in treatment of individuals is unavoidable. No one has room to invite everyone to dinner. The law cannot dictate one's choice of friends."

The ruling applies to private clubs that do not provide goods or services "to the public or a section of the public."

Vegetarians Pick Maine As Site For Conclave

ORONO, Maine (AP) — Vegetarians looking for an "unspoiled area" in the western-hemisphere have selected Maine as the site of their international meeting next summer.

The World Vegetarian Congress, held every two years, is scheduled for Aug. 12-28 at the University of Maine. It is the first meeting in the United States for the international group.

"We needed to find a place large enough to accommodate several thousand people, and the only other places of that size are in New York and Los Angeles," said H. Jay Dishah of Malaga, N. J., president of the North American Vegetarian Society.

"That just wouldn't do for people like us interested in a better way of life," he said.

Between 3,000 and 4,000 vegetarians are expected at the sessions, sponsored by the International Vegetarian Union.
