Nixon 'Improves' After Operation

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon was "doing well" after long surgery today to keep blood clots in his left leg from moving to the heart or lungs where they could cause death.

The former president's personal physician described the operation as a success.

'STABLE'
Dr. Eldon Hickman, a vascular specialist who performed the operation with two other surgeons, said Nixon's condition was "stable" and no more surgery was anticipated to combat the blood clots caused by Nixon's chronic phlebitis.

At a news conference, doctors did not answer questions on when Nixon might be well enough to travel to Washington, D.C., to testify at the Watergate cover-up trial of five former political associates.

He has been subpoenaed by both the defense and prosecution.

The former president was in his room on the top floor of Memorial Hospital Medical Center of Long Beach for recovery.

Nixon's personal physician had said the operation was required because the clots in Nixon's leg posed a threat to his life.

"With the threat the clot could become a pulmonary embolus, we placed a mild clip ... partially occluding but not completely occluding the vein," Hickman said. He said the clip was permanent.

RECOVERING
He said the operation was uneventful and that the former president was "recovering in the normal manner."

The doctor said he had the usual postoperative effects of being sleepy and was confined to bed.

The operation began at 10:30 a.m. Nixon's family was present at the hospital, but officials said his wife, Pat, was expected at the hospital later in the day.

Hickman said Nixon will probably be hospitalized for "another week," then the recovery would take four to six weeks at home.

He said he did not anticipate any further surgery.

NO EXTRA DOSE
Dr. John C. Lungren, Nixon's personal physician, said he had consulted with Nixon's wife, Pat, and daughters Julie and Tricia by telephone Monday night.

Lungren was an observer at the surgery.

Both Hickman and Lungren noted that Nixon will be prohibited from eating a regular diet initially and will be fed intravenously today.

Lungren, who had warned that bleeding might be a problem during surgery because of anticoagulation therapy, said there was no excessive bleeding during the operation.

Nixon was given no extra doses of Vitamin K to prevent excessive bleeding during the surgery. Doctors said he would continue to receive heparin, as he had before the operation, to prevent further clotting.

Nuclear Regulatory Agency; Dixy Lee Ray, to become assistant secretary of state for international environmental matters; Gibson; Robert Seamans, to head the new Energy Research and Development Agency; Interior Secretary Rogers Morton; and Ford.

Estimate Bad News For GOP?

DALLAS (AP) — Robert Johnson, veteran director of the Texas Election Bureau, estimated today that about 2.75 million voters will cast ballots in the general election next Tuesday.

If that vote total is reached, it could be bad news for Republican candidates, who have said they believe a small vote will benefit their party.

The GOP thinking is that the underdog Republicans will turn out heavily. If Democratic voters become overconfident and fail to ballot, the Republicans will have a better chance.

Republican leaders have guessed 1.5 million to 1.7 million votes. Atty. Gen. John Hill estimates 2.5 million.

Registered are 5.4 million, but from 10 to 20 per cent of this number may have moved out of the state or died.

Johnson said his estimate is based on previous turnouts with a discount of two to three per cent because of a lack of issues.

The vote for governor in 1972 was 3.4 million. However, this was a presidential election year when voting always is heavy.

The vote in 1970, a more comparable year because it was not a presidential year, was 2.3 million.

The Texas Election Bureau is the unofficial vote gathering organization, formed originally by newspapers and now joined by radio and television stations.

The World At-A-Glance

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — The Arab summit conference has recognized Yasir Arafat's Palestine Liberation Organization as the leadership of a future independent Palestinian state to be established after the West Bank of the Jordan River is liberated from Israel. But it is leaving Egypt, Syria and Jordan a free hand in peace negotiations with Israel.

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger says the United States government has abandoned its Cold War opposition to governments that take neither side in America's rivalry with the Soviet Union. "The United States accepts nonalignment," Kissinger said Monday in a major address to the Indian Council of Foreign Affairs. "In fact, America sees a world of free, independent, sovereign states as being decidedly in its own national interest." A U.S. official said this was the first high-level U.S. government declaration endorsing nonalignment.

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — North Vietnamese forces overran two more government positions in the central highlands along a key road network, forcing the 200 defenders to flee, field reports said today. The North Vietnamese fired 400 rounds of artillery into the posts north of Kontum between highways connecting the highlands and the populous coastal lowlands. There was no immediate report on casualties. In Pleiku, 25 miles south of Kontum, 200 Montagnard tribesmen led by two Roman Catholic priests demonstrated and charged that the military chief of

NEW YORK (AP) — The federal government could help insure relatively stable food prices for American consumers by directing that food be stockpiled, the Committee for Economic Development says. Reserves of key commodities also would serve as a buffer against world hunger and depressed prices for U.S. farmers, the committee said.

NEW YORK (AP) — Wall Street today marks its gloomiest anniversary, 45 years after the stock market began its dullest fall in history on Oct. 28-29, 1929. But even with numerous current troubles, including inflation, tight money and a slumping economy, traders can take heart that the bear market of 1974 and the great crash of 1929 are as different as night and day, many analysts agree. For one thing, speculators in the '20s had free rein, untouched by any sort of governmental regulation. The Federal Reserve and the Securities and Exchange Commission now act to keep speculators in bounds and protect traders from outright market fraud.

CHICAGO (AP) — The "Why, Daddy?" and "Why, Mommy?" questions that often stump parents should be encouraged, says a University of Chicago psychiatrist. Such questions, asked seemingly endlessly by some children, reflect the kind of inquiring mind essential for a creative person, says Dr. Lawrence Z. Freedman.

Ford Hails Economic Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford declared today that his present economic programs are sound and should deal with both inflation and recession — but added "I will be open to suggestions" if they don't cure the current economic slump.

Ford, holding his first impromptu news conference in the White House press center, was asked — on a day when the federal government's measure of leading economic indicators showed the sharpest one-month plunge in 23 years — if he still insisted the country was not in a recession.

"Whether it's a recession or not a recession," Ford said, "we have problems."

He indicated he did not want to argue the semantics of the matter. The President's first questioner pointed to the plunge in leading indicators and asked if this and other economic data might prompt Ford to change the emphasis of his economic policies to fighting recession rather than focusing largely on inflation.

Ford responded that his economic blueprint unveiled earlier this month was "finely tuned" and was designed to deal with both those problems.

But he added that if new economic data came to light that would indicate a steeper economic setback than anticipated, "I will be open to suggestions."

The chief executive, on other matters, said: "If voluntary efforts do not cut oil imports by one million barrels a day, we will 'of course' move toward mandatory measures, including a possible iron-clad limit on imports."

—John C. Sawhill was removed by Ford as federal energy administrator.

Ford said "I admire" Sawhill and he will get another administration job. The President made clear that Sawhill's resignation was desired by Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton, whom the President named three weeks ago to coordinate the federal government's energy policies. Sawhill has been outspoken in urging strong conservation measures.

Secretary of Agriculture Earl Buttz, in Ford's view, "has done a good job" and the President has no plans to replace him and has "no specific plans to ask for any Cabinet resignations."

Local Firm Wins Building Pact

J. W. Little Construction Company of Big Spring was awarded a contract today to build a new headquarters building for the Colorado River Municipal Water District. He submitted the low bid of $279,600 for the 8,300-square foot structure. Little's bid was slightly under that of R. B. Snead Construction, Inc., of Odessa, which proposed a figure of $283,600. The highest of five bids was $299,500. Little specified 280 calendar days for the job.

The district has acquired and prepared a site at the northwest corner of the FM 700 and Goliad intersection. Little indicated he will commence work as soon as the contract documents are executed. The building will have precast walls and will front on the Goliad side although most of the exposure will be on FM 700.

Other costs of furnishings, flooring, paving, land, etc., may run the total cost to around $400,000.

In another action, directors of the CRMWD appropriated not to exceed $12,000 as a share of the cost of gauging stations on the Colorado River. This is a cooperative enterprise with the Texas Water Development board and the USGS.

The personnel committee, headed by H. S. Sampson, Odessa, indicated it may have a final report on the pension plan by early December.

FATHER VISITS TWINS — Separated Siamese twins, Alta and Clara Rodriguez, right, received a visit from their parents, Salvador and Farida Rodriguez. It was the first time the father had seen the twins since they were separated at Children's Hospital in Philadelphia.

Says Surcharge Call Siamese Twins 'Dead' Issue Operation 'A Miracle'

HOUSTON (AP) — A five per cent surcharge proposed by President Ford on individual incomes about $7,500 will not be approved by Congress, U.S. Rep. Barbara Jordan, D-Tex., predicts.

"We don't consider an individual income of $7,500 or a family income of $15,000 as middle or upper income," she told a meeting of the Houston Chapter of the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants Monday night.

10 Tons Of Pot Puzzle Texan

MATAMORAS, Mexico (AP) — A Mission man arrested in Mexico on charges of attempting to smuggle 10 tons of marijuana said Monday he was attempting to pick up some passengers for a charter flight when he was arrested.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Carla Rodriguez squirmed in the lap of her father, and to Salvadore Rodriguez "it was a deeply emotional moment."

"It's a miracle," said Rodriguez as his wife held Alta, Carla's sister. The 15-month-old Siamese twins from the Dominican Republic were separated in a recent operation, and Rodriguez saw them last weekend for the first time since the surgery.

"I really wasn't prepared for it," Rodriguez said Monday through an interpreter as he held little Carla.

"I knew what to expect, of course, but not until I saw the babies, each in her own crib, did it really hit me. I got down on my knees and said, 'Thank You, Lord.'" His wife, Farida, 32, nodded. "We thank God. We thank the doctors and all the other people who have done all these wonderful things," Mrs. Rodriguez said.

Rodriguez, 38, had never been more than a few miles from his native village of La Auyamma, where he operates a small grocery, until he came to Philadelphia.

Until six weeks ago, the Carla and Altargracia were joined at the lower trunk and pelvis.

They were separated in a rare, 6½-hour operation at Children's Hospital here. They will be going home after Carla has a pelvic operation to give her free movement of the hips.

Mrs. Rodriguez returned home two weeks after the operation to look after the couple's other five children, ranging in age from 6 to 15. She and her husband returned to Philadelphia last Saturday.

Two Lakes Now Have 200,000 Acre Feet

Lake E. V. Spence gained 2 of a foot overnight and Tuesday morning was at 1865.00.

This boosted the lake's content to 161,400 acre feet of water.

Lake J. B. Thomas gained only slightly in reaching elevation 2224.81, which gave it 38,675 acre feet.

Moss Creek Lake, southeast of Big Spring, picked up 2½ feet of water within the past week, and was within about six inches of the service spillway. The inflow of water lowers chlorides in the intermediate lake storage by 100 parts.

Lake Colorado City had reached 2068.10 this morning, within three feet of spillway. It contained 28,550 acre feet, which represents a

Largest Cash Theft Charge Charged In Slaying Of 'Political Widow'

CHICAGO (AP) — A second man has been arrested in connection with the nation's largest cash theft, from a vault of the Armored Express Corp. of Chicago, FBI officials say.

FBI agent John W. Housley said Monday night that Peter J. Gushi, 47, of Oak Lawn, Ill., was charged with bank larceny, bank burglary and the illegal use of explosive devices in connection with the haul of an estimated $4.3 million on Oct. 20.

DALLAS (AP) — A Dallas man remained in custody in Dallas County jail under $50,000 bond in the deaths of a former congressman's wife and another man. Lee Patton, 65, was formally charged Monday before Justice of the Peace Tom Naylor and bond set at $25,000 on each count in the Sunday slayings of Lucille Lynn Alger, 52, and Kenneth Ray Steele.

Mrs. Alger, who was divorced from former Dallas Congressman Bruce Alger in 1961, was shot three times in the face and neck with a .25 caliber automatic pistol and Steele was hit in the shoulder and forehead.

Police said Glenn Miller, a resident in the Steele home, Steele's daughter Theresa, 19, Mrs. Alger and Steele were watching television when Patton, described as a

Stolen Goods

A man arrested for auto theft had in his possession property stolen from an automobile parked on the stadium parking lot Friday night, according to Sgt. Melvin Durratt, a city police identifications officer.

The theft from the auto had not been reported so police do not know to whom the property belongs. It includes eight-track tapes, 13 rifle cartridges, a fishing rod and a pair of pliers.

If some citizen can identify this stolen property, they may claim it at the police station.

Afternoon Flight Shifted By TIA

The Washington, D.C. law firm representing local interests will file papers notifying the Civil Aeronautics Board that Texas International Airlines has changed afternoon scheduling without notifying the Chamber of Commerce.

Ron Mercer, chamber manager, also said the chamber spent $500 advertising TXIA schedules during August. "And the boardings, they were beginning to pick up a little bit."

Effective Oct. 1, TXIA replaced a flight leaving Dallas at 6:10 p.m. with one departing for Big Spring at 12:40 p.m. daily, Gary Burk, TXIA city manager, said today.

Now, businessmen must "lay over" in order to do any work in the Dallas-Fort Worth area, Mercer said.

Property Damage

Rash Of Twisters Kills One Texan

By The Associated Press

Tornadoes too numerous for accurate count killed one person, injured half a dozen others and inflicted extensive damage late Monday near the southeast corner of Texas.

The rash of twisters hit hardest from the Houston area into the heavily industrialized "Golden Triangle" embracing Beaumont, Port Arthur and Orange, snaking down from black thunderstorms which threatened that section far into the night.

One tornado struck at the head end of the Baytown tunnel between Baytown and La Porte, route of the only major thoroughfare from that vicinity into Houston, just to the west. This was the one which killed Theo Hines, 60, of Houston and left six injured, some seriously.

At least five homes in Baytown suffered damage, state police reported and the writhing winds wrecked guard shacks at opposite ends of the tunnel. A tank truck owned by the Texas Highway Department was rolled over 400 yards south of the tunnel.

Still other funnel clouds slashed into two neighborhoods on the north side of Beaumont and one of the twisters slashed into Lumberton, a bit farther north, to wreck three mobile homes. Debris from one such home was whirled five miles across the countryside.

WON'T FORGET Ronnie Benoit saw the black storm whirling across Galveston Bay toward his house in Baytown. He said, "It's a sight you won't forget. I was about to eat supper. We just picked up and went to a bathroom."

With his wife and two small sons, Benoit huddled in a bath tub for "some 20 seconds" while the tornado ripped away their roof.

Although authorities often tell people in the path of a tornado a bathroom is one of the safer rooms in a threatened house, Benoit said that "I really don't know why" he herded his family there. "It was just the first thing I thought of," he said.

Although that twister dealt similar blows to other houses close by, only one person in the Benoit's neighborhood received a minor injury.

LIST INJURED State police and Harris County (Houston) sheriff's officers listed those injured at the Baytown Tunnel as Robert R. Thompson, 45, of San Jacinto; Russell D. Carter, 54, of Pasadena; Debra Allen, 23, of Baytown; Gary Bogle, 23, of Baytown; Claude Greenwood, 49, of Pasadena, and Jack Hamilton, 30, of Houston.

Officers said 12 cars were hurled against one another and against a wall at the entrance to the tunnel, which was blocked for more than 2 1/2 hours. The tornado struck there at 4:40 p.m. amid the rush hour for homeward bound motorists.

The automobile in front of a truck driven by Ernie Wehba, 32, of Pasadena was thrown toward one side.

"Then my truck hit the side of the tunnel, turned over on its roof and wound up on the left side," Wehba related. "All I could see was everything turning and spinning." David White, 18, of Texas City told of spotting the menacing cloud as it approached across Galveston Bay.

"It rolled over a truck and it injured the two men inside slightly," White said. "It was a thick funnel cloud. It stayed on the ground about 15 minutes.

The man killed at the tunnel was found in a car pulled out the south end there, Deputy Sheriff T. C. Jones said. That vehicle was tossed onto a levee above the tunnel's entrance.

FREIGHT TRAIN Baytown police officer Michael Jordan was working the rush hour traffic at a point nearby.

"I first saw it (the tornado) coming over the trees," Jones recalled. "It was a twisting wind with debris all around. Just as I've always heard ... it sounded like a freight train."

At one point, authorities were notified seven twisters were sighted in the vicinity of Beaumont. They said it could not be determined whether any was counted more than once. As late as 6:30 p.m., three funnel clouds were spotted at the Interstate 10 crossing over the Neches River in Beaumont.

Vicious thunderstorms from which the tornadoes lashed down were set off as a weak cool front moved through the plains near the Upper Texas Coast. Three-inch rains were common over East Texas and the measurement went as high as 4.38 inches at Washington, northwest of Houston.

STILL CLOUDY By this morning the forward edge of the cool front stretched from Toledo Bend Lake in East Texas to the Winter Garden area in South Central Texas. The heavier thunderstorms moved into Louisiana as the front weakened.

While it was still cloudy there were occasional showers along the Sabine River and there were a few clouds over the trans-Pecos section, skies were clear elsewhere across the state. Sunny and mild weather was forecast in all areas.

Heavy fog in early morning troubled motorists in parts of Central and East Texas.

Temperatures near dawn ranged from the 40s in the Texas Panhandle up to the low 70s near the coast. Monday afternoon's top marks went as high as 90 degrees at McAllen in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and the coolest spot was Daltart in the Panhandle with a maximum of 65.

Hot Issues Lacking As Baptists Gather

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) - Thousands of Texas Baptists settled harmoniously into this Panhandle city today to launch the 89th meeting of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

For one of the few times in recent years, the 2 million member convention, the largest state organization of Southern Baptists, assembled without an overriding issue of controversy.

Abortion, women's rights, pornography and a handful of lesser issues may trigger debate among the 3,000 messengers, or delegates, but the accent is on evangelism and missions.

$11 Million Trial Date

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - The Lower Colorado River Authority's $11 million suit against Coastal States Gas Co. has been set for trial Dec. 2 in Brenham.

Retired civil appeals judge Robert Hughes, at a pretrial hearing Monday, brushed aside pleas by Coastal States lawyers to delay the trial until next year.

LCRA alleges Coastal States failed to live up to its contract to supply gas for generation of electricity for LCRA's customers, some 30 towns in Central Texas. The utility has had buy more expensive fuel to generate the power it said.

The trial was moved to Brenham because of extensive news coverage in Austin.

Another pretrial hearing was set for Nov. 27 in Brenham.

Daughter Of Publisher, Her Husband Slain

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) - The bound and gagged bodies of the daughter of a Huntsville newspaper publisher and her husband have been found in a clearing near the community of Big Cove.

Mrs. Johnson was the daughter of Leroy Simms, editor and publisher of The Huntsville Times. Simms is a former managing editor of The Birmingham News and was an Associated Press correspondent in Alabama for more than 25 years.

missing Sunday night by their son, Bobby Grubbs, after he found their home ransacked. Their car was found in downtown Huntsville.

The Christian Life Commission, the social justice arm of the convention, said it plans to speak on the issue of county jail reform and the problems of the Texas Youth Council.

Officials dismissed as unlikely a dispute over a book on "Pornography: the Sexual Mirage," written by a Fort Worth seminary professor and distributed to 4,200 Texas pastors to aid them in their anti-smut battles.

Some pastors contended the book was too graphic in dealing with its subject but the overwhelming majority of ministers praised the work by author John Drakeford of Fort Worth and researcher Jack Hamm of Dallas.

Among the personalities addressing the convention are the Rev. Jaroy Weber of Lubbock, president of the Southern Baptist Convention; Dr. James H. Landis, executive secretary of the state Bapt

Child Hostage Freed, 'Hopeful' Development

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP) - Four armed convicts holding 16 persons hostage in the Scheveningen penitentiary gave no indication of surrender today despite an appeal to give up by another prisoner they hoped would join them.

One of the convicts, Palestinian hijacker Adnan Ahmad Nuri, made the first threat against the lives of the hostages Monday. But later he and his accomplices - an Algerian and two Dutchmen - released the last of the four children who were in the chapel when the convicts took it over during a Mass Saturday night.

PRIEST HELD The other three children and a man and a woman were freed Sunday. The wife of one of the two Dutch convicts was allowed to visit the chapel and reported that the 14 men and two women still held captive seemed at ease. But one of the hostages reported by walkie-talkie radio that the two women were under severe strain.

The convict's wife, Guusje de Nie, was the first person to enter the chapel since the siege began. She said the four men wanted time to review the situation.

A Justice Ministry spokesman said he considered the release of the fourth child a hopeful development.

Nuri, who is 23, made the threat to kill the hostages to force prison officials to let him talk with another Palestinian, Sami Houssin Tamimah, who was convicted with him of hijacking a British airliner last March and burning it.

Battle To Keep Depletion Item

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) - Independent oil operators are prepared to do some bargaining of their own with Congress if major oil companies fail to support their fight to retain oil's domestic depletion allowance.

The Independent Petroleum Association of America was expected to give final approval today to a resolution blaming the majors for causing a split within the industry on the subject but expressing hope the international oil companies will join the fight.

EVIDENCE The executive committee of the 4,000-member trade group gave unanimous approval to the resolution Monday.

"If the international companies are for depletion, we'll now see some evidence," said John Miller, association president from Allegan, Mich. "The majors can't remain invisible."

Miller had charged that major companies have remained silent in recent months while independents have battled vigorously to prevent Congress from phasing out domestic depletion.

He said the international companies have indicated they were willing to make a "sacrificial lamb" out of the 22 per cent depletion allowance in order to escape from other punitive tax measures before Congress.

SILENCE Miller said silence on the part of the majors continued until last week when he confronted a group of major company executives in Washington.

He said it was not until after the Washington meeting that the American Petroleum Institute, oil's largest trade group, reaffirmed its support of domestic depletion through a news release.

The resolution also charged that some international companies have been willing to swap percentage depletion for decoupling of oil prices.

It authorized Miller, however, to do a bit of bargaining himself. If necessary, Miller is to explore the "feasibility and acceptability of providing a choice between domestic depletion and foreign tax credits."

Miller said the resolution closes no doors.

ASK ACTION "All we are saying now is let's see some action on their part," he said.

As originally proposed at a Sunday meeting of the imports policy committee, the resolution would have condemned the major companies for dividing the industry. That committee, however, asked a drafting committee to change the word "condemn" to "criticize."

The final version included neither word.

"It is hoped that other interested international producers will join with the independent segment in maintaining the historical position on domestic percentage depletion," the resolution said.

Teacher Evaluation Procedures Studied

A report on the proposed procedures for evaluation of personnel was recommended by Dr. Emmett McKenzie, school superintendent, when the board met for its informational meeting here Monday night.

The first meeting each month is set for business and the second for informational purposes and necessary business. The board also continued a study of federal programs in the local schools to better acquaint themselves with the system.

The personnel policy puts in writing many policies already in existence and assures each teacher of a conference prior to the issuance of annual contracts. No stigma will be attached to the conference, since each teacher in the system will have one, either to be commended or to receive necessary improvements.

Teachers who work in several schools, such as a music teacher, would have their conferences with the assistant superintendent of instruction.

Noel Reed outlined details of the Title I program which is used at Bauer, Cedar Crest, Lakeview and Runnels. One of the principal concerns of this program is improving reading skills. Reed showed examples of the tests and records showing the ratio of success of the program locally.

Keith Swim again reviewed the migrant program and gave details of the adult education program. Big Spring is a co-op school overseeing adult education in Howard, Glasscock, Martin and Reagan Counties.

In addition to regular adult classes in these areas, they also oversee and extend adult education program at the state hospital. Details of this program, which has met with a great deal of success, were outlined to the board.

Roy Watkins presided and board members present included Dan Wilkins, Jerry Jenkins, Al Valdes and Tom Fetters.

A number of elementary principals and special teachers in federal programs attended and assisted with explanations of the program.

Suit Filed By Workers

A class-action suit against the City of Big Spring was filed in 118th District Court Monday for four employees of the city's public work division.

Suing for overtime claimed since May 1 are Enrique L. Sanchez Jr., M. S. Leos, Tom C. Arista Jr. and Ulis Johnson. The plaintiffs are petitioning the court both individually and on behalf of all employees of the division.

The City of Big Spring has refused to pay overtime work in excess of 40 hours a week since the Fair Labor Standards Act was amended effective May 1, they allege.

James R. Edwards, attorney for the plaintiffs, stated the amount claimed due will be specified later.

In addition to the "unpaid overtime compensation," the plaintiffs want "an additional equal amount as liquidated damages" and $5,000 for attorney's fees.

Stockmen Draft Six Proposals For Ford

MINEOLA, Tex. (AP) — More than 500 members of the East Texas Cattlemen's Association have drafted a policy agreement to be presented to President Ford at a White House meeting Wednesday with cattle industry representatives.

Billy Joe Davis of Winona read to the cattlemen Monday night a drafted letter, termed a policy of agreement, with six proposals to end the financial situation of cattle producers and dairymen.

The six proposals are an immediate embargo on meat imports, an investigation into price ratios between on-the-hoof and retail beef prices, no further grain exports until domestic needs are satisfied, federally funded programs to purchase domestic meats, purchase by all U.S. military installations of only domestic meat, and support of prices for the East Texas dairymen.

Davis told listeners that if the proposals were put into immediate action, raisers and dairymen could expect results in a short time.

He reminded them that the results would be temporary and that it would take Congress to provide permanent relief for the cattle raisers, dairymen and agribusinessmen.

Davis, Horace McQueen of Troup and the Rev. Billy Dodson will be among the representatives meeting with Ford Wednesday.

THEFTS

Taco Tico reported robbery during the night Saturday or early Sunday. Missing was $538.50 in cash. Door knob and light damaged.

John Stalcup, 3507 W. US 80, reported $40 barbecue grill stolen from his pickup, later recovered.

Banquet Ducats Now On Sale

LAMESA — Tickets for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet are now available from members of the Round Up Club or from the chamber office.

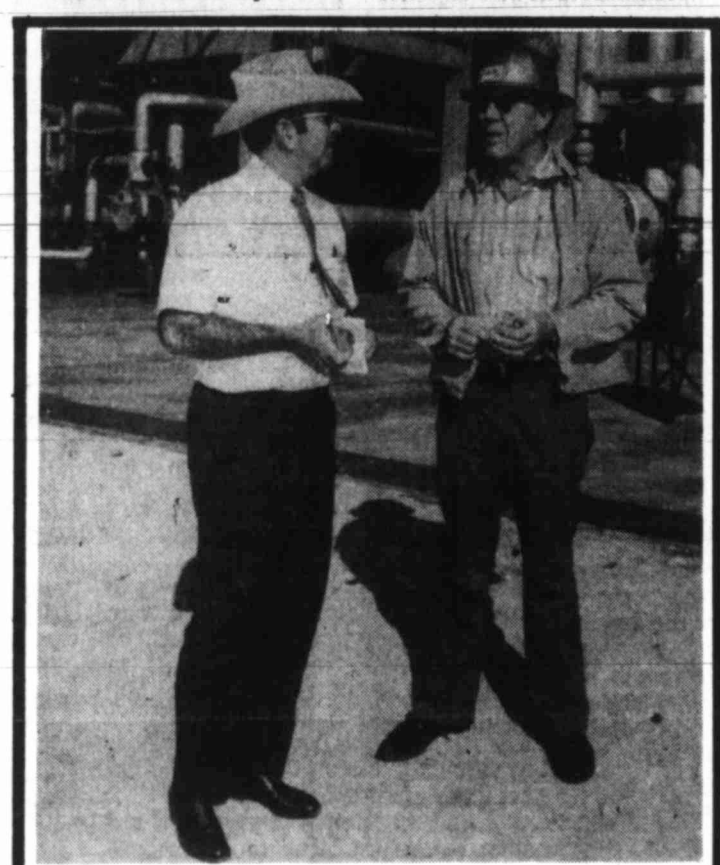

The annual banquet will be held at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 21 at the high school student center, with tickets priced at $6 each.

Mrs. Dorothy Haney, vice president of the chamber, is coordinating the affair. The speaker will be John V. Hazleton, president of Interpersonal Communication Consultants in Oklahoma.

AutoCAP Will Be Discussed

Texas' new Automobile Consumer Action Panel (AutoCAP) will be discussed at the Texas Automobile Dealers Association Fall Workshop meeting at the Inn of the Golden West, Odessa, Tuesday, Nov. 5.

"Any Texas motorist with a grievance involving franchised automobile and truck dealers who are members of TADA will be able to take his or her complaints to AutoCAP," according to Gene Fondren, executive vice president who will present details of the program. Supervisors of the motor vehicle division of the Texas Highway Department will present the latest information in Texas' new 5-year license plate according to Bob Townsley, MVD.

"We need an honest man in Austin — one that knows agriculture and can speak for farmers and ranchers as well as other industry in our district."

"I'm going to vote for the best man whether he is a Democrat or Republican. I'm supporting Rich Anderson."

Firing Dollars At Crime

We are spending a billion dollars a year in federal funds for local aid to fight crime. So the FBI report that crime rose 16 per cent in the first six months of this year is disappointing.

Only a year ago President Nixon was telling us the federal program had done the job. He pointed out that for the first time in 15 years there had been a decline in the national crime rate.

But no sooner had he signed a bill extending the federal Law Enforcement Assistance Administration for three more years than the crime rate started up again.

It appears that the rate now is rising faster than ever. What are the reasons for the upsurge? We don't know, but it is obvious that the federal program of local aid is a long way from achieving its purpose.

The program was a political creation of the presidential campaign year of 1968. The Democrats, who knew they were getting hurt on the "Law and order" issue, responded as predictable — they threw federal dollars at it.

Passage of so-called "safe streets" act in that year pumped billions into police forces across the land. It was more money at first than some of the could spend. But their ingenuity soon rose to the challenge.

Sheriffs and police chiefs established expensive air forces, leased computers and bought armored cars.

Lately more of the federal money has gone into software such as research studies of the criminal justice system.

Congress should review all this spending to see whether it actually is reducing crime in the streets and elsewhere throughout America or shows any promise of doing so.

Perhaps, as Atty. Gen. William Saxbe suggests, money should be diverted from police forces to prosecutors and courts. He said the police are arresting more criminals than the courts can handle. Logjams and delays are the results.

A change of attitude in the courts may also be needed. Prompt punishment can deter crime but only if judges have the will to administer it.

Not From These

One proposal to getting at the shortage of doctors in rural and inter-city America is to require medical students to sign agreements promising to practice in these critical areas of need for at least two years after graduation. This would apply to all, not just those who received federal loans or scholarships.

It is true that the public investment in medical education is considerable, but this is a poor way to get at the problem. It is tantamount to conscription, and besides being unwise, this would be a discriminatory policy.

There are better ways such as making this sort (in the hinterlands) of practice more rewarding, socially and financially. Still another is to make it possible for more and more to obtain medical educations. Already some 3,000 a year are going to foreign countries to study medicine because they are not content to be among the 30,000 who apply every year but can't get in med school. There may be some professional resistance to this, but where such a heavy backlog of demand exists for services, more ought to be done about meeting it.

Exciting Career

Around The Rim

Jo Bright

Tidying up my desk (no easy task) for Sunday's open house, I ran across a little thing I clipped from Editor and Publisher in 1963. It had finally worked its way to the top of the stack. It's called "Count Your Blessings," and the author is Harold Winerip.

IT MUST BE wonderful to be a newspaperman.

He covers all sorts of exciting events — Rotary meetings, supermarket ribbon cuttings, incinerator hearings, lively obituaries.

He gets free tickets to sparkling events, like wrestling matches, home exhibit shows, plumber's festivals, county fairs.

He meets odds of interesting people — aldermen, undertakers, anti litter and pro-dog crusaders, public relations counsels.

HE HAS THE thrill of facing deadlines, a stimulating challenge accompanied by ulcers, high blood pressure and assorted nervous disorder.

He enjoys the tingling experience of seeing his byline in print, and sometimes it's even spelled right.

The pay is excellent. It's very common for a newsman to have a $20,000 annual family income, so long as he has two jobs on the side and his wife and two oldest sons work.

HE HAS THE opportunity to express himself creatively with such sparkling phrases as "The Zoning Board of Appeals will conduct a hearing tonight on a request for a variance from a national pickle company."

He can get plenty of free publicity for his friends, so long as there's space for a paragraph or two with a 14-point head.

HE'S HEP TO ALL the inside information in town, like who's a certain official's mistress, and who's getting the contract to build the new comfort stations and why.

He's free between editions to do anything he wants — work on advance stories, keep his files up to date, change his typewriter ribbon, sharpen his pencils, insert a ballpoint refill or call his wife and ask her what she wants him to pick up at the store."

Portuguese Woes

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — The depth of anxiety over Portugal's sharp move toward the left can be measured by the fact that the U.S. has cut Portugal off from certain highly classified military and nuclear information commonly available to all members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

THAT DECISION, disclosed here for the first time, was not the direct result of the overthrow of the longtime Salazar dictatorship on April 25. Rather, it appears to date from the time several weeks after the coup against Salazar when the director general of the Communist party was brought into the new government.

The Communist party boss, Alvaro Cunhal, was made a minister without portfolio last spring. His position is believed to have been strengthened within the Armed Forces Movement, the politically murky but clearly left-leaning group of young military officers holding power in Lisbon, after President Spínola, the hero of the April 25 coup d'état, was himself forced to quit on Sept. 30.

WHAT MAKES U.S. policymakers particularly uneasy about the turbulent, unpredictable politics of Portugal emerging from decades of right-wing dictatorship is the fact that Cunhal is now preaching a political line of sweet reasonableness. That same line was laid out for President Ford last week by Francisco de Costa Gomes, who was elevated to the presidency after left-wing officers forced Spínola out.

Gomes came to Washington pledging fast adherence to NATO and asking new U.S. economic and military aid. He was also most agreeable with the negotiations now going on to extend the agreement giving the U.S. vital base rights in Portuguese Azores.

THUS, OFFICIALS here note a sharp contrast between the conduct of the new, left-dominated Portuguese government, along with the Portuguese Communist party, and the blatant, anti-U.S. campaign in Chile when the late Marxist, Salvador Allende, took power.

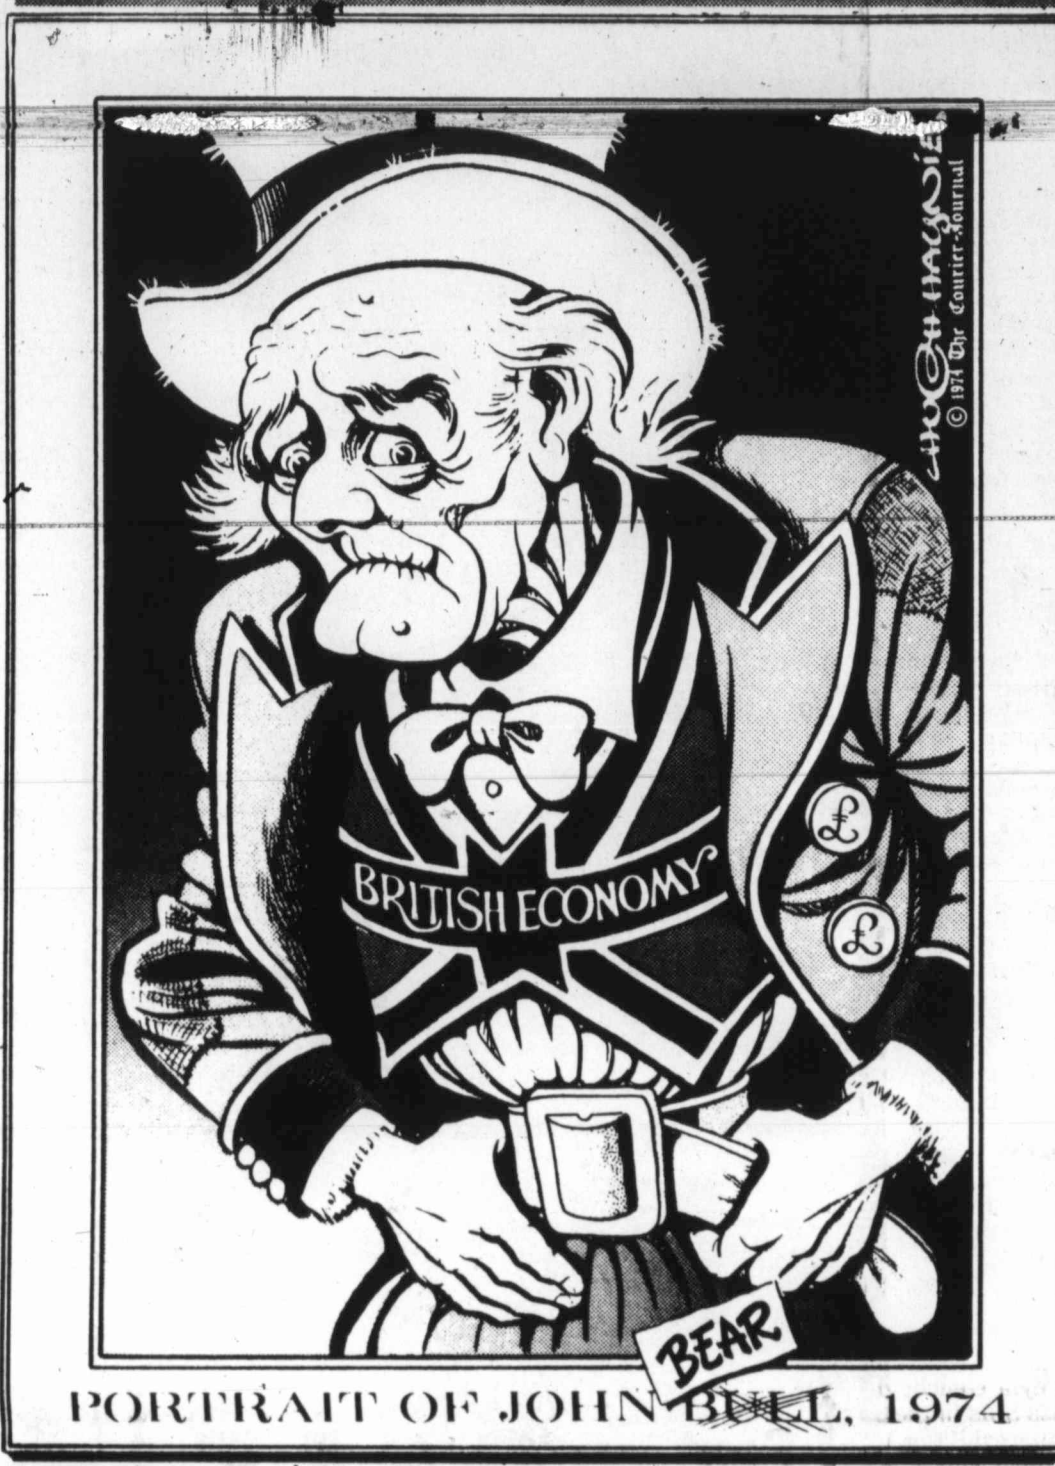

As one key policymaker tells us: "Moscow was deep into the internal politics of Chile, and it is deep in Portugal, but it is playing a far more subtle game in Lisbon than it in Santiago."

The purely military importance of Portugal as a member of NATO is marginal.

But politically, Portugal is perceived as crucial. If the softly reasonable line of Communist party boss Cunhal is simply a cover for time to extend Communist penetration deeper into basic Portuguese institutions (all but one daily newspaper is now under extreme left-wing influence), then Portugal may be headed for a Moscow-supported popular front regime with major Communist participation.

THAT DANGEROUS development, regarded here as distinctly possible if the left-dominated regime consolidates its power, would have repercussions in both Italy and Greece — NATO's Mediterranean keystones for the past 15 years. Indeed, some diplomats here believe that Portugal under a popular-front regime could quickly lead to political instability in next-door Spain.

Accordingly, the Ford administration is proceeding with unusual caution in dealing with the new government of President Gomes.

PORTRAIT OF JOHN BULL, 1974

Still On Sidelines

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Although some stocks are selling at their lowest prices in a decade, some mutual funds have hosen to maintain 20 per cent or more of their assets in cash or its equivalent.

In doing so, these funds are saying conclusively that they do not view the low level of the market as a buying opportunity.

Ironically, their bearishness undoubtedly is contributing to the low level of corporate share prices, thus reinforcing a situation that drove them from the market in the first place.

A study by Wiesenberger Services, which conducts a continuing survey of fund activities, shows the highest percentage of assets in cash or short-term notes on Sept. 30 was turned in by growth-oriented funds.

Close to 24 per cent of the assets of such funds, whose stated objective is maximum capital gains, remained uncommitted to the market on that date, a jump of 6 per cent since the end of March.

Theoretically, the low prices of blue chip companies, scores of which are selling below book value, represent an opportunity for portfolio managers whose primary goal is to buy low and sell high.

In remaining on the sidelines, as many of the funds obviously are, they demonstrate an uneasiness over immediate and long-range market prospects.

Funds with various other goals also increased their cash position since the end of March. On Sept. 30, for example, long-term growth funds reported nearly 20 per cent of their assets in cash, compared with 14 per cent six months earlier.

Even those funds committed to "growth and current income" had 17 per cent of their assets in cash, despite some unusually large dividends being paid by capital-hungry corporations.

'Poor' Days Now

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — "October," my friend Sedgewick told me as we sat on a street curb, "is absolutely the best month for poor people."

"How's that?" I asked him.

"IT'S JUST before election time, and all the politicians need us. Everyone promises that if he is elected he is going to do something for the poor. Of course, they don't but it gives you a real warm feeling to hear everyone talking about you. Do you know I've shaken hands with three congressional candidates, had my picture taken with an incumbent mayor, been interviewed on television with a guy running for governor, and they told me if I sit here today I might wind up in a TV commercial for a senator up for reelection."

"A LOT OF poor people resent politicians coming into the neighborhood just before election time with their campaign managers and husbands of press. But I don't feel that way. I figure we're a very important part of the democratic process. If it weren't for us, politicians would have a tough time getting on TV. Have you ever seen a candidate talking to a rich person on television?"

"I must say, Sedgewick, you have a good attitude. If I were poor, I would be very bitter."

"THE ONLY THING that disturbs me," he said, "is that there are a lot more poor people now, and we're not as much a novelty as we were in previous elections. They also have us broken down in categories. Before if you were poor — you were just poor. Now you're competing with people who are 'economically disadvantaged,' 'culturally deprived,' 'senior citizen' and 'oppressed minorities.' Just yesterday a guy running for police chief came in the neighborhood, and I was about to shake hands with him for a TV station when his press representative pushed me aside and said they wanted the candidate to be filmed shaking hands with a black.

Now I have nothing against blacks, but I don't think they should get priority when it comes to having their picture taken with a guy running for chief of police. That's what you call poverty discrimination."

"AS WE WERE talking, we heard a loudspeaker on a car. 'Here comes the senator,' Sedgewick said as he got up and brushed himself off. 'Well, I've got to go to work.'"

"How do you know he'll stop here?" I asked.

"It's in front of a supermarket. All the candidates are doing super-markets this year."

Sure enough, the car stopped right in front of us, and the candidate got out.

"Aren't you going to shake hands with him?" I whispered.

"Not until the TV guys are set up," said Sedgewick. He winked at me. "Don't forget the 6 o'clock news."

Cutting Off Fat

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I would like your opinion on lipetomy, or surgery to correct a flabby stomach.

I have called a plastic surgeon about it and he assured me that it is quite common and being done all the time.

My reason is that after four pregnancies my stomach is so flabby, protruding and ugly. I've tried exercising but I seem to get too worn out.

I'm still young (28) and am 5-foot-3 and weigh 130.

What does the surgery involve? Is there much loss of blood? My hubby thinks I'm out of my mind, but he has the one who teases and harasses me about my bulge. — Mrs. J. C.

Yes, this type of surgery is being done right along—but I'm not at all sure that it's for you.

It involves removal of an "apron" of fat on the abdomen and is done both by plastic and general surgeons. But it is a serious and demanding operating and there is considerable loss of blood because of the amount contained in the fat that is removed.

But in your case you appear to be only perhaps 15 pounds over normal weight and I am of the opinion that the surgery would be a pretty drastic measure for you. Instead diet off about 15 pounds, and then figure that the "droop" is from flabby muscles rather than excess fat.

If you "seem to get too worn out" by exercising, it might not be a bad idea for you to have your doctor check you over to see whether anemia, or sluggish thyroid or other such common condition may be sapping your energy.

Incidentally you mentioned that you had "called" a plastic surgeon—but a surgeon would have to SEE you before deciding whether your bulge warranted serious surgery.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have one child and have been trying for six years to have another. I have done nothing to prevent becoming pregnant and I have seen three specialists and had a D. and C. and even took fertility pills three times.

The doctors say there are three things wrong: My nerves. Tipped uterus. Infection — which has been cleared up. — Mrs. D.

I'll mention such things as you may have overlooked. First—and very important—you make no mention of your husband having been examined. Is his sperm count normal, or has it become low?

As to the tipped uterus, it did not prevent your earlier pregnancy, so I would not dwell on that.

The infection: have you been tested, since clearing the infection, to make sure the infection has not closed your Fallopian tubes?

Next, have you taken pains to have intercourse at the time you are ovulating? Because proper timing is essential.

Finally, when you have worked out the timing of your ovulation, avoid intercourse for several days before that time.

My Answer

Billy Graham

My girl friend and I plan to be married in two months, but a few days ago, things started happening too fast. Our emotions ran away with us. Now as a Christian, I believe the sexual relationship that night was premature and hence wrong. I've been sick about it since it happened. Do you think the Lord will ever forgive me for this? P. M.

Perhaps you already know that one of the characteristics of Satan's temptation of Christ was to do things prematurely, and thus short-circuit the plan of God. His ideas were right; but he proposed their accomplishment at the wrong time and in the wrong way. Jesus properly refused, and used Scripture to defeat the devil.

Now you are right in feeling regret for that loss of control with your girl friend. You are right also in asking about forgiveness, for God's Spirit has convicted you of this sin (John 16:8).

My glad word, however, is that forgiveness is God's chief business (1 John 1:9). Early in the Old Testament, this quality appears, as with Joseph forgiving his jealous brothers (Genesis 50).

Yes, you can be forgiven. An attitude of repentance and faith will bring it about. We call God's forgiveness "justification" (1 Corinthians 5:10); and we use the word "reconciliation" to describe the acceptance by man of that forgiveness.

Forgiveness restores the fellowship between man and God where sin has caused an estrangement. And God desires that link of fellowship more than we do. So proceed with your wedding plans — and next time, whatever the temptation, call immediately on God for help.

A Devotion For Today . . .

"When they had eaten their fill, he told his disciples, 'Gather up the fragments left over, that nothing may be lost.'" (John 1:12)

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, I thank Thee for food for my body and for Jesus, the bread of life. May the hungry in all the world be fed with both material and spiritual food. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Mrs. Bowen Is Queen of Chapter

Mrs. Barbara Bowen was crowned Valentine Queen of Beta Omicron Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, at the Thursday meeting in the home of Mrs. Paula Howard, 2500 Main. Mrs. Jean Denton, president, crowned the queen and introduced two new pledges, Mrs. Sharon Lindsey and Mrs. Anne Casey. Guests were Mrs. Judy Lowe, Mrs. Hildegard Yops, and Mrs. Nancy Parsons. Announcement was made that winter coats had been purchased for the children in the family adopted by the chapter. The public is invited to the "Holiday Bazaar" that will be held Nov. 2 at Highland Center mall. The ritual of jewels will be held on Nov. 13 in the home of Mrs. Karen Wall, 2719 Cindy.

Privileges Told To Modern Forum

Opportunities and privileges of being a club woman were listed by Mrs. W. D. Singleton Friday for members of the Modern Woman's Forum at the home of Mrs. Hugh Duncan. During the business session Mrs. M. R. Moad, president, reminded each member to vote and asked them to call voters on their block and invite them to the polls. The women will participate in the assembling of Christmas gifts for state hospital residents, and also in the rummage sale sponsored by the BSSH Volunteer Council. Incorporated in the program was a report from the International Clubs by Mrs. W. E. Moren. Mrs. Moren said women's groups in Texas have the opportunity to seal friendships with women in Central and South American and Mexico. Mrs. Harwood Keith reported on the Federation and called on women to revive the optimistic attitude of our forefathers. She said the membership of the General Federation of Women's Clubs comes from all over the world and is not limited to boundaries of this nation. Also members are from all strata of the economy, education, interests, hobbies and talents. The club was told that America can be rediscovered by greater emphasis on spiritual values, organization of prayer groups, by studying religions practiced in the community. It was also suggested that members become acquainted with foreign students and other foreigners in the community. The Nov. 8 meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. H. M. Rowe, 1105 Johnson.

Carnival Set On Wednesday

The gala carnival at the Big Spring Nursing Home will be held Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. and the public is invited to join the residents in the affair. All proceeds realized from the sale of donated articles in the booths will go into a fund to aid the Arts and Crafts program for the residents. Booths will be set up in the South building, next to the First Christian Church, and numerous prizes will be awarded. A side of beef will be given away. Mrs. Jo Ann Lopez is in charge of activities at the inn and of the volunteers. She coordinates the arts and crafts program that also includes the newly acquired sewing room which is being used daily by residents although it is not fully refurbished. She plans to have available a display case where residents may show their work if they desire.

The Texas Bouquet African Club is repairing the green house and plans to plant greenery soon. The Retired Senior Volunteer Program, directed by Mrs. Nancy Easley, is included in the activities. Volunteers from churches, women's clubs and musical groups assist in instructing. Musical entertainment jointly is provided by the western groups under the direction of Howard Dodd, and Tom Castle.

Winners Told Candidates In Duplicate Tea Speakers

The Friday duplicate bridge game at the Big Spring Country Club had 10 1/2 tables in play.

North-South winners were: first, Mrs. Truman Jones, Mrs. Fred Kasch; second, Mrs. R. E. Dobbins, Mrs. Rogers Hefley; third, Mrs. Hayden Griffith, Mrs. Jim Raoul; fourth, tie, Mrs. Joe Hayden, Mrs. D. R. Brasel and Mrs. E. L. Powell, Mrs. R. H. Weaver.

East-West winners were: first, Mrs. Jack Irons, Mrs. Bill Currie; second, Mrs. Elvis McCrary, Mrs. Ray McMahen; third, Mrs. David Proffitt, Mrs. Dan Patterson; fourth, Mrs. Ray Tollett, Mrs. W. J. Harris.

Two candidates for state offices joined guests at a tea Sunday that climaxed the activities for National Business Women's Week. The affair was held in the Reddy Room of Texas Electric Service Co., under the sponsorship of the Business and Professional Women.

Mrs. Mary Kirchhoff, Plainview, candidate for the senate from the 30th district, and Mrs. Mary Joy Cowper, state school board candidate, spoke briefly on behalf of their candidacies.

The affair, which attracted approximately 50 members and guests, was co-ordinated by Mrs. Willard Sullivan and Mrs. Robert Smith. Members of all business women's clubs in the city were included. The serving table was laid with a beige lace cloth and the centerpiece was arranged with bronze chrysanthemums and fall foliage. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

Operatic star Beverly Sills has been forced to withdraw from the Dallas Civic Opera's 1974 opening production of "Lucrezia Borgia," due to illness. Miss Sills departed Dallas Tuesday morning for New York, where she underwent surgery Thursday for a possible malignancy in the pelvic area.

The acclaimed European soprano, Leyla Gencer, will replace Miss Sills in the title role of "Lucrezia Borgia," which will open Nov. 1. Miss Gencer is noted for her portrayal of this role in leading opera houses in Europe. The Rome Opera and Naples opera house both created new productions of the Donizetti work for Miss Gencer, a native of Turkey.

She performs regularly throughout leading operatic houses in Europe, including the famous La Scala of Milan, and last year made her New York debut at Carnegie Hall in a concert version of Verdi's "Attila." Her performances at the Bolshoi Theatre of Moscow in "La Traviata," "Aida" and "Madama Butterfly" met with rave reviews. She previously sang with Dallas Civic Opera some seasons ago in "Madama Butterfly."

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I have had lots of problems but I never had one like this, so here goes my first Dear Abby letter.

I am a 57-year-old working man. I lived with my folks most of my life, but they are both dead now, so I'm living alone. When I was younger I would ask girls for dates, but I got turned down, mostly because I wasn't very good-looking and didn't have much money. Being alone so much caused me to be kind of shy. I never enjoyed being alone. I just got used to it.

Well, I took a chance on the state lottery, and won $100,000. I had never won anything in my life. I still can't believe it, but it is true. Now I've got so many friends (mostly women), I almost have to hide. I would like some female companionship, but don't want to end up married to some gold-digger. I don't have any experience at all when it comes to judging women, Abby, so how can I protect myself?

E. B. IN ATTLEBORO, MASS

DEAR E. B.: Don't go in for anything as permanent as marriage until you know the woman well enough to trust her completely. Then see a lawyer about a prenuptial agreement. (He'll explain it to you.) You took a chance on a lottery and won, and marriage is a bit of a gamble, too, but the better you know the candidate, the smaller the risk.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter and her husband (married only a few months) both go to college and live with me. He is a fine young man and I like him, but he has one serious fault. He will not get up in the morning for his classes.

It breaks my heart to see my daughter calling him, going back to their bedroom, shaking him, pleading with him, and wearing herself out

Waldrop In Serious Condition

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Texas Christian football player Kent Waldrop remained in serious condition Monday afternoon at University Hospital of injuries suffered in Saturday's game against Alabama.

Waldrop, a 20-year-old junior from Alvin, Texas, suffered a broken neck and spinal injury in the second quarter of the game and underwent three hour surgery Saturday night.

A hospital spokesman said he "remains in serious condition. His vital signs remain stable and the extent of the permanent paralysis is not fully determined."

Waldrop was moved to a private room late Monday afternoon.

Dr. J. Garber Galbraith, head of neurosurgery for the University of Alabama Medical Center, said, "If anything, Kent is slightly improved. He has more sensation of touch, but no more motor power than before surgery. He has a little flexion in a wrist that is new. He remains in traction, but hopefully will be put in a neck collar in about a week. There has been no evidence of hemorrhage around the spinal cord. In less than eight weeks, he possibly could be moved to a rehabilitation center."

Dr. Galbraith is the physician who attends Alabama Gov. George Wallace, himself a paralysis victim.

Gov. Wallace phoned Waldrop's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Al Waldrop of New York City, Monday morning.

CATCHING UP — World Heavyweight Champion George Foreman, right, and former professional football star and now movie star Jim Brown catch up on the latest reports on Tuesday's championship fight in Kinshasa, Zaire. The men stopped in a park to read the Paris edition of the New York Herald Tribune.

KINSHASA, Zaire (AP) — African music — with its heavy jumpy and jivy beat — poured out from the buses and shops. Native dancers, part of a carnival, sashayed with their bumps and grinds from the back end of trucks parading the boulevards.

Tension began building to an electric pitch in this humid, sultry capital where two black Americans have come to pay homage to their ancestors and battle 15 rounds or less for the ring's richest prize.

Both Foreman, the titleholder, and Ali, a former champion who had the crown taken from him outside the ring because of his failure to enter the military, have made much of their odyssey to the land of their forefathers but don't shrug off other motivations.

EACH GETS $5 MILLION — Each is guaranteed a $5 million purse — richest of all time. It is money in the bank. And neither has to be overly concerned whether the strange conglomeration of producers and backers reaches the aim of $20 million to $30 million gross.

The fighters themselves have been overshadowed somewhat by the fanfare and wild trappings surrounding the event but as time for the opening bell approached — 4 a.m. local time, 10 p.m. EST, Tuesday — Foreman held firm as the favorite despite escalating Ali sentiment.

The latest odds quoted from Las Vegas are 14-5. More conservative London bookies give the champion the edge 11-5. The international press corps, which has had the two boxers under close scrutiny for a week, has swung to Ali by a small majority. Ali has been very impressive in workouts — physically, mentally and vocally. Veteran Ali watchers never seen him fitter or sharper. At 216½ pounds, he looks every inch the skilled meticulous assassin who twice stopped the awesome Sonny Liston in 1964 and 1965.

Foreman's advantage appears to lie in his age — 25, seven years younger than Ali — and his brute strength. He has demolished every opponent he has faced in the past two years, none going more than two rounds, and his victims have included such fighters as Joe Frazier and Ken Norton, who scored victories over Ali.

"Foreman didn't knock them out, he pushed them out," argues Ali. "He is a pusher. He is big and strong. But he is slowfooted, awkward, dumb. He has never met anybody like me."

"I am a dancing master. I am the best in the world. I am preparing to score the biggest, upset in ring history."

There have been unusual heavyweight title bouts before. But the sport never has seen a spectacle to match this one. At midnight tonight, when even all respectable leopards and zebras are asleep, tens of thousands of Zairians will be winding slowly toward the Stadium of the 20th of May to witness the first heavyweight fight ever staged in this part of the world.

They are expected to fill most, if not all, of the 62,889 seats in the massive soccer stadium, paying between $250 for the choice ringside chairs to $10 in the upper reaches.

Southern Cal., Notre Dame, Texas A&M, Nebraska and Penn State round out The AP's Top Ten.

Interviewed by telephone, Hardin said "I really haven't had time to think about being ranked. I'm worried about next week's game with Cincinnati."

Hardin says he looks forward to playing ranked teams in the future. The Owls have a 1975 date with Penn State. And Hardin knows that it's still early in the season. No Temple team has ever been ranked in a season's final poll.

WFL Teams Can Clinch Playoffs

The Florida Blazers and Memphis Southern are within one victory of clinching ties for World Football League divisional titles — but a couple of other teams will have plenty to say Wednesday night whether that big step is taken.

With three games remaining, the Blazers, 12-5, are two games ahead of the Charlotte Hornets in the East and the Southmen, 14-3, hold a two-game Central Division margin over the Birmingham Americans.

And it's the Americans who'll be trying to stay in the Central race by knocking off Florida. Memphis will have its hands full with the revived Hawaiians, 7-10 and still scratching to stay in second place in the West.

In Wednesday night's other games, Western champion Southern California, 12-5, is at Charlotte, 10-7, and Chicago, 7-10, visits Philadelphia, 7-10.

On Thursday night, Shreveport hosts Portland in a battle of Western teams tied at 6-10-1.

Birmingham's got plenty of firepower in George Mira's passing to Dennis Homan and Alfred Jenkins — but the Americans, who won their first 10 games but have dropped five of their last seven, are running up against the WFL's top defense. The Blazers have allowed an average of less than two touchdowns per game.

Florida, which has won five of its last six games, knows how to score, too, behind Tommy Reamon, the league's leading rusher with 1,298 yards.

Memphis ran off 11 straight victories before losing to Portland last Thursday night. Now they face the Hawaiians, who equaled the WFL scoring record with their 60-17 swamping of Chicago a week ago.

The power of the Southmen is on the ground, with J.J. Jennings, John Harvey and Willie Spencer all among the top 10 rushers. The Hawaiians will counter with an aerial attack headed by quarterback Randy Johnson passing to WFL receiving leader Tim Deaney.

Chicago Fire May Withdraw From WFL

NEW YORK (AP) — An emergency meeting of World Football League owners today in Chicago may decide the fate of the Chicago Fire — the latest WFL team to face possible extinction, says league executive committee chairman John Bassett.

Bassett, chairman of the committee which screens new franchise holders, said in Toronto Monday night the 1 p.m. EST, meeting had been called to discuss the possible immediate withdrawal of the Chicago franchise. He termed the Fire management "completely irresponsible" for dropping out at this stage of the season.

There has been speculation that the Fire would pull out of the league with just three games remaining because its home schedule has been completed and there would be no possible source of new income.

Don Andersen, WFL vice president in charge of public relations, confirmed from his Newport Beach, Calif., home Monday night that the meeting was to be held — with the Fire situation to be discussed. But he added, "there has been nothing positive to this point as to the status or future of the Chicago club."

Andersen denied the report that the Fire had informed league headquarters it was halting operations.

Fire owner Tom Origer and Coach Jim Spavital were unavailable for comment Monday night, and Chicago publicist Jim Walker, reached at the team's office, said, "There has been no word from Mr. Origer to the ballclub. Everybody has been waiting for the outcome of the meeting. I guess we'll find out then."

Top Ten Powers Retain Rankings

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A winning attitude has helped the Temple Owls topple its first six foes this year.

In recent years "we found more ways to lose football games than win them," Temple Coach Wayne Hardin said. "But we have now learned how to win and have a winning attitude."

Following last Saturday's 21-17 victory over small-college power Delaware, Temple moved into 19th place in The Associated Press' major college football poll.

Hardin cited the Delaware game as the difference between this season's Owls and the past. Delaware took a 17-14 lead in the third quarter only to see the Owls win 21-17 on a 33-yard scoring pass from senior quarterback Steve Joachim to Jeff Stempel.

"A few years ago we might have folded when Delaware went ahead on us," Hardin said. "But, the kids hung tough and made the big plays when they had to."

The nation's Top Ten teams maintained their positions in the AP poll, with runner-up Oklahoma chipping away slightly at the No. 1-ranked Ohio State's comfortable lead.

Ohio State routed Northwestern 55-7 Saturday and received 45 first-place votes and 1,222 of a possible 1,260 points from a nationwide panel of sports-writers and broadcasters.

Meanwhile, Oklahoma crushed Kansas State 63-0 and earned 14 first-place votes and 1,123 points.

Steelers' Harris, Bradshaw Key Win

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Terry Bradshaw predicted it. He's back, so is Franco Harris and so is the Pittsburgh Steelers' running game.

"And it feels good, real good," Bradshaw said after he made his first quarterback start this year and Harris rushed for a career high of 141 yards in a 24-17 victory over the Atlanta Falcons in Monday night's nationally televised National Football League game.

On opening day, Bradshaw was on the bench behind Joe Gilliam, who led the NFL preseason passers by throwing almost twice as often as Bradshaw had in Pittsburgh's two previous playoff seasons.

"Joe's had the hot hand," Bradshaw said in September, "but the time will come when we have to establish a running threat. My style is ball control and I'll wait until this thing runs its course."

After Gilliam's 5-for-18 passing day in a narrow win last week over Cleveland, Coach Chuck Noll opted for Bradshaw, even though the Steelers were atop the AFC Central Division.

"It was pretty much a return to the bread and butter," Noll said after the Pittsburgh climbed to 5-1-1 and Atlanta fell to 2-5 under beleaguered Coach Norm Van Brocklin.

"We battled them. We fought as hard as we could," said Van Brocklin, target of a "Dump the Dutchman" campaign in Atlanta.

The Steelers pounded out a season high of 235 yards rushing against the Falcons, and stumpy Rocky Bleier added 78 yards to Harris' career high total.

"I get a kick out of making the running game go," said Bradshaw, who completed nine of 20 passes for 130 yards with two interceptions.

It was the first 100-yard game of the season for Harris, who had a career high of 28 carries, and he gained all but 29 of his ground yards in the second half. He also ran 29 yards with a swing pass from Bradshaw to set up the winning touchdown.

Harris, who had rushed for 206 yards previously this season, powered seven yards for what proved to be the winning touchdown in the final quarter.

Pittsburgh jumped to a 14-0 lead in the first quarter. Bleier plunged one yard for the first touchdown, set up by Lynn Swann's 52-yard punt return, and Bradshaw dove in from the one for the second score to cap a 57-yard march.

The Steers counted out the last five in a row, "certainly need some early breaks to come out a winner," signed Bob Burris, Steer director.

Cooper Burris feels ranks with the best in 5-4A both on offense and defense. Since Cooper boasts capable rushing credentials "we will have to throw the ball more."

Burris reports from "Doc" Irvin's trainer evaluation "We're pretty well beaten up from the Lee game." Report shows: Jesse Doss, sore ribs; Joe Mathews, sprained an ankle; and James Coffey, sore knee. Other than that Burris noted, "We had the normal bumps and bruises."

Abilene High and Cooper last August reported no athletic trainers on their payrolls. Abilene recently hired an athletic and injuries consultant but Cooper still has failed to locate a trainer in demand.

"We can't seem to win the big one," chimed Norman Roberts, Bulldog head coach. "The controversial call really didn't beat us. We just were unable to excel at the right time and we had another chance to win it but failed."

From reports regarding the Coahoma-Ballinger game, one official failed to see the play, two officials gave their approval, but the head lineman ruled out the pass completion. The referee made the final decision and nullified the Jody Bennett to Randy Gee end zone pass accomplishment.

Roberts voiced that the film footage on Ballinger would run out just before the "you call it" verdict.

According to UIL rules, an official's ruling is final.

"The loss could cost us the District 6-AA championship," said Roberts. "It was a heart-breaker, we came so close, then..."

Second rain check: Perry Johnson, (Charlie's dad), was unavailable for comment Monday regarding son's exploits. Johnson hit the city course golf trail once again with his brother-in-law. Mrs. Johnson said, "I didn't even get to tell him goodbye."

I found an AP report on the game. Charlie back in stride directed Denver, traffic Sunday, but the Broncos lost out near the end. (1:56), to Cleveland, 23-21.

Brian Sipe, Brown quarterback, making his second appearance of the season, scored the winning TD from the one-yard line.

Charlie helped the Broncos score twice. He threw his first TD pass, a 12-yard to tight end Riley Odums ending a 76-yard first quarter drive. In the second, Charlie hit wide-receiver Jerry Simmons with a 13-yard TD pass to end a 56-yard drive.

Sands Tops New Home Cagers 46-43

ACKERLY — Sands split a double girls' basketball engagement with New Home Monday night as the Sands High School team defeated New Home 64-51, but the Sands Junior High team lost 46-43.

The Sands High Schoolers picked up their first win of the young season over New Home as Ann Nichols, Rene Roman, Elaine Martin and Connie Hughes all scored in double figures. They built up an 8-6 first period lead, increased it to a 29-18 halftime lead and never looked back after that.

Miss Nichols and Miss Roman each scored 16 points while Miss Martin scored 14 and Connie Hughes scored 12. City Johnson scored 24 points for the New Home and Donna Arnes scored 23 points.

In the Junior High contest, Jill Floyd led the Sands team with 37 points as they lost to the New Home team 46-42.

The Sands High School team upped their record to 1-2 while the Junior High team fell to 0-2.

Tonight Sands travels to Wilson for an A & B High School game beginning at 6 p.m.

Hunt Stopped His Lying After 'Rude Awakening'

WASHINGTON (AP) — E. Howard Hunt Jr. says a "rude awakening" brought on by release of the White House tapes persuaded him to stop lying about Watergate.

Hunt testified Monday at the Watergate cover-up trial that he lied more than a dozen times before grand juries in the spring of 1973, even though he could no longer have been prosecuted for his part in the Watergate break-in or subsequent attempts to cover it up.

Hunt, free on appeal from his guilty plea for the burglary, was to return to the witness stand today for the first cross-examination by defense lawyers who represent the five defendants — H. R. Haldeman, John D. Ehrlichman, John N. Mitchell, Robert C. Mardian and Kenneth W. Parkinson.

As the sixth week of the trial opened Monday, the 56-year-old retired CIA agent said he read published transcripts of the presidential tapes last spring shortly after he was released from prison.

The tapes disclosed increasing discussions among former President Richard M. Nixon and aides about Hunt's continuing demands for money. Former White House counsel John W. Dean III told Nixon it was blackmail.

"I felt a sense of rude awakening and I realized that these men were not worthy of my continued or future loyalty," Hunt testified near the end of his first day on the stand.

By March 16, 1973, Hunt by his own testimony had received at least $165,000 for lawyers' fees and other expenses. However, by last spring the money had long since stopped.

Hunt cited another reason for telling the truth about Watergate. He said his four children "were not fully persuaded that the testimony I had given in prior public forums was in all respects factual and candid."

Hunt, a CIA agent for 21 years who now lives in Miami, was a major witness at the Senate Watergate hearings in the spring and summer of 1973.

He is testifying at the trial as a court witness, which allows Watergate prosecutors to ask questions that suggest the answers. Under that arrangement, agreed to by U.S. District

Rewrite Job Shapes At TML

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — City managers from across Texas launched a drive today to completely rewrite all state laws governing relations between public employes and management.

In a workshop session under the general umbrella of the annual conference of the Texas Municipal League (TML), the city managers appointed a committee to draft the new legislation to be substituted for existing civil service statutes.

The action was taken in reaction to the current thrust by police and firemen's associations to gain collective bargaining rights in Texas cities.

Amarillo City Manager

to head the committee which is to inquire into the work of any groups now considering such legislation and to present proposals from the TML city managers to those groups.

Stiff is the author of a resolution before the full convention calling for the abolition of Article 5154 and 1269m of Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes and all other statutes involving public employer-employee relations.

That resolution further calls for legislation that rights of city government.

Stiff told his fellow city managers that it is time for them to get off the defensive.

"We need to come up with a very positive alternative," he said, adding that the resolution would "put us back to scratch, abolish every statute in the books, write a new law."

Weatherford City Manager Mark Reynolds reminded the group that a public employes study commission appointed by the lieutenant governor is preparing a report for the legislature to be submitted in December that would cover relations between management and state employes.

Reynolds said the TML should present its proposed legislation to that commission prior to Nov. 8. He said that the commission has a heavy labor union representation, although the city managers of Dallas and Cleburne are on it.

During the workshop, the managers heard advice from the Grand Prairie city manager on how to win a collective bargaining referendum and from the city managers of Beaumont and Sherman on how to lose one.

Beaumont City Manager Ken Devero summed up the best winning strategy: "Do like Dallas and put it on the ballot with an earnings tax."

On the Watergate burglars were caught inside Democratic National Committee headquarters, Hunt said he traveled first to New York, then to Los Angeles, then to Chicago, where he met with his wife, and told her all about his involvement.

While in Los Angeles, Hunt said he met with Liddy, who "assured me everything was going to be taken care of company style, or CIA style."

Hunt said that phrase meant to him, and he was sure, to Liddy, that families and legal expenses would be taken care of.

Hunt said that included his book, "Undercover Memoirs of a Secret American Agent," written last spring.

Earlier Monday, Hunt testified for the first time that former Atty. Gen. Mitchell approved the intelligence plan that ended up as the original burglary.

Hunt said convicted Watergate burglar G. Gordon Liddy gave him regular reports on attempts to persuade Mitchell to approve the plan.

In early April 1972, Hunt said Liddy told him, "the big boy (Mitchell) has given his okay... and the word is go."

Hunt said Liddy told him of Mitchell's concern about the plan of bugging the Miami Beach hotel room of former Democratic National Committee Chairman Lawrence O'Brien.

By coincidence, when O'Brien left the room at the end of the Democratic National Convention, Mitchell was to take over the same suite for the Republican convention.

Hunt said he was told that while it was all right to bug the suite, Mitchell had said, "be sure to get those bugs out before I go in."

School Prayer Court To Review Death Penalty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here is a summary of today's major Supreme Court actions: Death

DEATH PENALTY

Agreed to review the appeal of a North Carolina man condemned to die for murder. It will be the first death penalty case heard by the court since it ruled in 1972 that capital punishment as then carried out was unconstitutional. The latest appeal, to be heard later this term, could result in a ruling on the validity of capital punishment.

BLACK LUNG

Upheld federal black lung regulations which coal mine operators challenged on grounds they would cost billions of dollars and "invite unlimited subterfuges." The mine operators objected, among other things, to a clause making the benefits available to men who retired before legislation extending the benefits was enacted.

JAMES EARL RAY

Upheld James Earl Ray's effort to obtain evidence about the circumstances of his plea of guilty to the murder of the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. The court let stand a U.S. district court order requiring Ray's former attorney, Percy Foreman of Houston, and others to produce correspondence and other records. Ray contends that Foreman persuaded him to plead guilty to killing King to enhance the sale of books about the slaying.

SCHOOL PRAYER

Let stand a Pennsylvania Supreme Court decision that an invocation and benediction at a public high school commencement program did not violate the ban against prayers in public schools. The Pennsylvania court said the commencement exercise was a "ceremonious event" and did not fall under the ban against prayer in the classroom.

HOUSING

Declined to review the question of whether tenants in subsidized housing projects have a right to be heard before their rents are raised.

Affirmed without explanation a lower-court decision upholding a 1965 New York law denying landlords the right to collect rent if he allows life-threatening conditions to persist for six months after being notified of them. However the law also requires tenants to deposit the amount of the challenged rent with a court clerk. A group of low-income New York apartment dwellers had contended that this provision put them at a disadvantage in eviction proceedings.

Louisiana Tornado Kills One, Hurts 40

CROWLEY, La. (AP) — A tornado smashed into Crowley as it slept early today and dragged a path of destruction, practically leveling 10 blocks of homes, police said. One person was killed and 40 injured.

The dead man was killed as he slept in a house still under construction about 10 miles from Crowley. His name was not made public.

Other tornadoes were reported in the New Orleans suburb of Kenner where 10 homes were destroyed and 40 damaged, at Newlano in central Louisiana, where roofs were torn off several homes and businesses, at Leesville where five or six persons were injured, and near Cameron where power lines were felled.

The twisters dipped out of a band of heavy thundershowers that crossed the state during the night. Officials said a residential section of Crowley was almost destroyed.

Circuit Judge Sam Goodfriend on Monday denied Cynthia Anne Morgan's petition to change her name to resemble that of motorcycle daredevil Evel Knievel.

The woman didn't prove the change "would not in any way invade the good will of others," the judge ruled.

'Lord Will Provide,' Say 'Missionaries' Here

By MARJ CARPENTER

Two little girls in long heavy blue dresses chased their dog up and down in the ditch, laughing while their parents and another couple were parked in a covered wagon near the Lamesa highway close to the Y at Ackery, Monday.

The rosy-cheeked youngsters have no way of knowing that if they become ill, there will be no formal medical care for them. One is four, the other is six. The older one has not had to worry about school. Because there will be no formal education for them either.

Their parents — who identified themselves as the Roland Churches — have chosen to be wandering missionaries "called by Jesus Christ." Mrs. Church wore a long dress and her hair was covered. He was bearded. They stood inside the entrance to the wagon.

Another couple was with them. A woman, with dark complexion, sat outside with a Bible spread open on her knees. Another man in a long brown robe stood outside.

"DOESN'T MATTER"

When asked their names, the couple in the wagon answered, "Mr. and Mrs. Roland Church." The woman with the Bible said, "It doesn't matter who I am," and the man outside the wagon said frostily "David is enough."

They refused to have their picture made and would not permit pictures of the wagon. "That would be idolatry and breaking the Ten Commandments." And they glared suspiciously at the cameraman.

When asked what denomination they represented, they answered mournfully, "We care not about denominations. We are holiness people called by God through Jesus Christ."

The man standing outside added, "I'm a reformed Jew."

When asked what made him make this decision, he entoned, "The Lord." Turning the question to,

"Wherever Jesus sends us," and the other answered at almost the same moment, "Back to Maine."

The Churches indicated they were from Maine and had been in California. They had been joined in Hobbs, N.M. by the other couple, who were "walking down the road." And the man outside added, "The Lord drew us together."

"Where do you think He will lead you tomorrow?" was the next question. "Probably to Big Spring — then toward Maine" was the answer.

A small tent had been set up outside the wagon. The horses were grazing beside the road. They appeared to have plenty of food — even a dish for the dog with dog food. When asked where they obtained food, the same answer came back, "The Lord provides."

CAN BE MIDWIFE

Mrs. Church said from the wagon, "I can deliver babies," as though that solved all of the problems. And she added, "We have been in Death Valley where it was 128 degrees and we have been where it was 10 below zero. The Lord provides."

When asked where they were going, one answered,

Inflation Political Suicide?

HOUSTON (AP) — The chairman of Anderson Clayton & Co. says failing to get reelected in the general election might convince politicians that inflation is political suicide.

S. M. McAshan Jr. told company shareholders Monday that governmental controls in the name of inflation may go too far and become counterproductive.

"Our real question is whether Congress will take the right steps under our system or cause a drift into the patch poor England is following," he said.

T. J. Barlow, president of the company, predicted that official earnings figures for the first quarter of fiscal 1974-75 will show a marked increase over the period ended Sept. 30, 1973.

He said the short cotton crop in Texas may mean a 25 per cent drop in seed-oil production here but good years were predicted for processing plants in California and Arizona.

Anderson Clayton is a processor and distributor of consumer and industrial foods, vegetable oils, animal and poultry feeds, planting seed, cotton and green coffee.

Swingers Disillusioned

Group Sex, Mate Swapping Fading

By JURATE KAZICKAS
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Clubs that promoted group sex and mate swapping are fading from the swinging scene after a burst of popularity in the late 1960s and early 70s.

FREE LOVE
Sociologists who have been studying the free-love lifestyle estimate that the number of its advocates nationally is on the decline. In 1972, the experts figured there were about a million and a half people experimenting with group sex. Now, there are about 500,000, they say.

Statistics here in Southern California confirm what the sociologists say. A year ago, married couples who wanted to "swing" — meet other married couples for sex — could choose from more than 20 membership-only clubs in Southern California. Now there are only eight clubs.

Club operators say that tight money, a growing sexual conservatism, and disenchantment with its more routine aspects have turned some people off from swinging.

"When the economy is bad, people tighten up and save," said Robert McGinley, who with his wife Geri manages Wide World of Contemporary People, one of the remaining clubs, in Le Miranda.

THRILLS STRESSED
To stay in business and attract new members, Wide World has had to lower its membership dues and add nonsexual social activities such as weekly discussion groups.

The operator of "101," a swing club in Hollywood that closed in 1972, said he has tried three times to start new clubs, without success.

"People just aren't interested in these clubs anymore," he said, requesting anonymity. "I just couldn't recapture the mood of how it used to be."

Specialty magazines extolling the thrills of mate swapping have also dwindled in number though some sex journal editors say that their personal ads of couples looking for "fun and games" have been increasing. Swingers themselves insist that more people are doing it but in private homes instead of the clubs.

NEW EXCITEMENT
But many married couples who used to spend two or three nights a week making love with strangers say they have become disillusioned with the swinging setup. And in their quest for new excitement, husbands and wives say they have rediscovered not only each other but more conventional recreational activities such as bowling and bridge. Tom Palmer, the former executive director of the Sexual Freedom League in California, says he's more involved with midget auto racing than swinging these days.

"All those swing clubs are failing and falling apart," said Dr. Gilbert Bartell, anthropologist and author of "Group Sex."

HOROSCOPE

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 29, 1974

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Much stimulated activity is now present and you have a chance to make new arrangements which can lead to more abundance in the future. Some changes in regular routines may be necessary to gain your objectives.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You have an opportunity now to get your monetary matters improved by intelligent action on your part. Obtain the data you need.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Study your appearance and health and know where and how to make the right improvements. Keep an important appointment.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Be sure to make right decisions now or your regret will exist. Suffer greatly, so that you have gumption.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Instead of being forceful with an associate, use tact and get the results you want. Use orthodox methods in new venture.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) All that work ahead of you can now be handled in the most efficient way. Try to be harmonious with all your contacts.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Make an effort to be more objective where business matters are concerned. It is important to improve your health now.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) The situation at home could get worse if you don't assert yourself and make plain everything is operating smoothly.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Attend to those duties that are vital to your regular income. Come to a new career with business associates. Relax tonight.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 23) Straighten out any credit matters that are pending. Some higher ups want the right answers from you, so come out with them.

Youth Given Carless Day Plan In Prison Term Frisco

District Judge Ralph W. Caton Monday revoked probation he granted Michael Curtis Stephens, 19, in two burglary convictions. Stephens has since been convicted of robbery of a car in Eastland and sentenced to 10 years in prison. Caton made two six-year prison terms run concurrently with the 10 years.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Employers throughout the city start asking San Francisco's 500,000 commuters today to give up their cars one day each week.

The object: Save fuel by breaking the car-commuting habit. Thirteen major corporations already have agreed to urge all their employees — from top executives down to clerks — to use public transit instead of private autos once a week.

Mayor Joseph L. Alioto, who announced the carless-day plan Monday, urged employers to ask their workers to go along with the program he said could cut fuel usage 20 per cent and reduce the dependence on Arab oil.

"The only realistic way to beat the sheiks is to get out of our automobiles," Alioto said.

San Francisco's streets are fed by only three commute arteries — the Golden Gate Bridge, San Francisco Bay Bridge and highway links to the San Francisco Peninsula on the south.

Available mass transit includes the Bay Area Rapid Transit System, buses and trains.

The motto of Alioto's plan is "Once a week to WIN (Whip Inflation Now)." Its prime target is the suburban commuter.

Monday would be carless for employees of banks, stock brokerages and other financial institutions; Tuesday for the corporations; Wednesday for employees in city, state and federal government; Thursday for the city's two major utilities, Pacific Telephone and Pacific Gas and Electric Co.; and Friday for anyone not already covered.

The rotating no-car days would be coordinated with a program of staggered work hours in certain businesses to stretch out the peak commuter periods and avoid overloading public transportation.

The plan was prompted by President Ford's request to major cities to do something to cut auto usage and save fuel.

Sylvia Porter, chairman of the President's Citizen's Action Committee to fight inflation, praised Alioto for the move.

"The people of San Francisco have a unique opportunity to show the way to other cities across the nation," she said in a wire to him.

Hookers' Party

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Comedian Vaughn Meader played the piano. A waitress undid the top of her gown to find relief from the heat of the ballroom. Six belly dancers performed. Others, in costumes ranging from mostly naked to white ties and tails, just did their thing at the first annual Hookers Ball which ended early Monday morning at the Longshoremen's Hall.

It was billed as "the social event of the year for heterosexuals, bisexuals, trisexuals, transsexuals, nonsexuals and other minorities who feel they are discriminated against."

The event which started Sunday night was sponsored by Coyote, an organization of prostitutes which describes itself as "a loose woman's organization."

"Isn't this marvelous," said Margo St. James, Coyote leader. "We just hope this will raise enough money so that we can lay down a financial base for the organization and establish a bail bond fund."

It was not immediately known how much the event raised. About 300 persons attended the party that preceded the ball, and they were supposed to pay $25 each. But those who couldn't pay were admitted free. The same policy held for the ball, where participants were to pay $10.

COLORADO TROPHY — A 500 pound black bear, which stood seven foot, six inches tall, was bagged by a group of Big Spring hunters as they were hunting deer near Trinidad, Colo., over the weekend. Jimmy Anderson shot the bear, but it took plenty of help to get the animal back to camp. Shown are (left to right) Dr. Larry Key, the bear, Jimmy Anderson, and Leonard Saint.

Suicide Ruling Getting Slain Bear Out Posed Problem

DALLAS (AP) — Dr. Vincent DiMaio of the Dallas Medical Examiner's office, ruled suicide Monday in the death of 51-year-old T.O. Gravitt, head of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.'s operations in Texas.

Gravitt was found dead at his North Dallas home of carbon monoxide poisoning Oct. 17. His death came as Southwestern Bell was conducting a sweeping internal audit of records at its offices in Dallas and Fort Worth.

Gravitt had been in charge of the San Antonio office before taking over the state operation in Dallas. Officers said Gravitt's body was found in his closed garage with the engine of his car still running.

Anderson said he thought the bear smelled Dr. Key, but never knew he was there. He shot the bear through the neck.

Anderson said he thought the bear smelled Dr. Key, but never knew he was there. He shot the bear through the neck. Getting the bear back to camp over three miles of rough terrain was one of the biggest problems encountered, but they constructed an indian style travois and hooked it to a motorcycle, driven by Freeman, to get the bear out of the wilderness, crossing three streams and taking three hours.

Anderson has plans to make a rug from the bear's skin. They stayed at a lodge about 30 miles west of Trinidad, owned by a former Big Spring resident, Joe Sait, who was once the commander of the local Salvation Army.

The game warden noted that the bear is "one of the largest ever to come out of this area."

Don't give up hope if you are in a contract that seems impossible. You never know who's waiting around the corner to give you a helping hand.

North is to blame for the poor slam reached by his side. His jump to four spades at his second turn grossly overstated his values—three spades would have been adequate. On the actual sequence, South was "sure" his partner had four-card support and, if he also held five clubs, that would have five clubs with only four cards in the red suits. In that event, either red king would give South good play for the slam.

with normal breaks. Declarer was British internationalist Bill Pencharz, and when dummy came down he saw at once that he was in an impossible contract. There was only one legitimate way to make the contract: either defender held specifically the 10-9-8 clubs. In that case, declarer could lead the jack for a finesse, either lose a club and discard four hearts on the remaining clubs, or establish four club tricks and lose a heart. Either possibility was remote.

However, there was the chance of a defensive error. To give West every chance to go wrong, Pencharz won the opening diamond lead in his hand and immediately led the jack of clubs. West played low, and declarer called for dummy's two. When his jack won the trick, South was half-way home. Three rounds of trumps were drawn, ending in dummy, and a club was ruffed.

Now all declarer needed to make his contract was a 4-3 club break. He entered dummy with the king of diamonds and cashed the king of clubs, discarding a heart from his hand. When both defenders followed, the slam was assured. On the king and seven of clubs, declarer discarded two more hearts, so his only loser was one heart trick. The spoils of war went to the brave, for Pencharz's team won the match by almost the same margin as he gained on this hand.

Smokers To Pay Two Cents More Per Pack?

NEW YORK (AP) — Wholesale price hikes of 70 cents per 1,000 cigarettes announced by two major tobacco firms could have some smokers paying two cents more per pack.

On Monday the Lorillard Division of Loew's Corp. said its increase will be implemented Nov. 4, and the Philip Morris, U.S.A. firm said its price boost will begin Oct. 31.

Last Friday a third major tobacco manufacturer, R.J. Reynolds Industries, Inc., said it would raise its wholesale prices 50 cents per 1,000 cigarettes, or ten cents per carton.

"I'm supporting John R. Anderson in the Nov. election because he's the qualified candidate. He's participated in many civic and other activities and I know he'll make an effective representative."
