

Smaller Turnout May Help GOPs

By The Associated Press
A few more hours of last minute campaigning and the 1974 General Election will be over, except for the voting.

Most polls open at 7 a.m. Tuesday and all must close at 7 p.m., although those standing in line will still get to mark a ballot after hours.

The size of the voter turnout remained the big question, with Democrats hoping to benefit from anything over the 1.58 million that voted in the May primaries and Republicans expecting to benefit from anything under that.

The Texas Election Bureau predicted 2.75 million, based largely on the state's fast growing population. Secretary of State Mark White predicted 2.16 million or about 40 per cent of the estimated eligible voter strength. Other estimates, mainly by Republicans, dropped as low as 1.5 and 1.7 million.

Reports on absentee voting generally show decreases from absentee voting in 1970, the last non-presidential election year.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe, Democrat, who has not campaigned the last two weeks because of the critical illness of his mother, will vote Tuesday morning at the Uvalde Junior High School box, and await returns at his Uvalde home.

Jim Granberry, Republican candidate for governor, completed his 18 months of campaigning today with a series of news conferences. He votes Tuesday morning, right after the polls open, at a Lubbock junior high school and will be at his Lubbock County headquarters for returns.

Ramsey Muniz, Raza Unida candidate for governor, will await returns at his Corpus Christi headquarters or his home.

Sam McDonnell, American Party candidate for governor, planned a final day news conference in Austin, then returned to Dallas to vote.

Sherry Smith, Socialist Workers candidate for governor, is sponsoring an election night party in Houston. $1 admission with refreshments.

Layoffs Ordered

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. has ordered indefinite layoffs for 775 workers and temporary furloughs for about 12,000 others in an effort to boost sagging profits.

As of Monday, Ford said 7,000 of its 179,000 workers will be on indefinite layoffs.

General Motors and Chrysler recently ordered similar layoffs.

Ford Vice President Donald Bastian said Friday that small car assembly plants at Dearborn, Mich.; Metuchen, N.J.; and San Jose, Calif., will suspend production for a week beginning Monday because of slack sales.

The temporary layoffs will affect 4,950 workers at Dearborn; 3,450 at Metuchen and 3,250 at San Jose. In addition, the Rawsonville, Mich., parts plant will lay off 250 hourly employees and the Utica, Mich., trim plant will lay off another 225 for the week.

Ford said 775 hourly workers at seven plants would be laid off indefinitely starting Monday.

Americans Can Find Bargains In Italy

MILAN, Italy (AP) — American travelers trying to get the most for their constantly shrinking dollars will find Italy is full of bargains, despite an inflation rate that is the worst in Western Europe.

The inflation rate in Italy is almost 25 per cent compared to about 7 per cent in West Germany and about 12 per cent in the United States.

The rising cost of living has caused repeated protests — demonstrators in Milan broke into two supermarkets recently to call attention to the high cost of food.

An American, however, will find prices far below those at home or in other large European cities.

A taxi ride of about 20 blocks costs $1.50, including tip, in Milan, about half the fare for a comparable distance in New York City.

Mass transit — subway, bus and trolley — is efficient and inexpensive, especially for the foreigner. The subway, opened less than 10 years ago, runs from 5:30 a.m. to 1:30 a.m.; trolley and bus schedules vary according to the route — check the signs posted at the stops.

A room for two at a first-class hotel in Milan costs about $35 plus tax; luxury hotels can cost $50 or more. Avoid sending out laundry if you can — a week's assortment of shirts and underwear can cost $30.

Italy is still one of the few countries where wine — sold by the carafe, at least — is cheaper than water. A large carafe of table wine in a modest restaurant will cost about $1; two cups of coffee cost about $1.20. Wine by the bottle starts at about $3.

If you do want water, order a bottle of mineral water the local water tastes fine, but it's difficult to convince a waiter you really want a glass of plain tap water.

Dinner in an expensive restaurant runs about $30 for two, including wine and tip. You can eat well, however, for as little as $10 for two.

There are a few problems for the tourist, however. Cigarettes are expensive — almost 80 cents a pack — so bring them from home.

Small coins are difficult to obtain. The smallest bill is 500 lire — the equivalent of about 75 cents. There is a shortage of coins and shopkeepers are reluctant to part with 100 or 50 lire coins — the equivalent of about 15 and 7 cents, respectively.

Why You Should Vote For Jerry Worthy

As a candidate on the Republican Ticket, I am not under any national ties, nor am I obligated to anyone except the voters of Howard County, Neither, necessarily, is anyone running under the Democratic column locally

- Don't be mis-led into believing you should vote for someone just because he is on a party ticket. You do not always get the best person for the job this way.
- Party affiliation is mostly a guideline for State and National candidates, who you may never see or meet.
- Vote for a responsive candidate that CAN do the most for Howard County.
- Vote for the candidate that has worked positively and unselfishly for Howard County.
- Consider the Candidate, his family and their past performance. Show your loyalty and appreciation to them and to your home county.
- Don't be confused by old worn out statements by politicians, who have had their chance, and blew it.

You may vote for anyone on the ballot from one column to the next, so long as you do not vote for the same office twice.
Vote for the candidate that is honestly, positively and truly concerned about you and all of Howard County, and has a track record to prove it.

Farabee's Early Support Of McGovern Is Documented At Precinct 22 Convention

Woman Nominee's Charge Heats Up State Senate Race

But Farabee, The Candidate, Avoids The Record

What He Says: "He also denied actively supporting and working for McGovern."

What The Record Shows: Farabee's early support of McGovern is documented by his own handwriting which identifies him as a committed delegate at his precinct convention. Farabee was thus lined up for the take-over of the Democratic Party when McGovern still had only a 2% rating in the opinion polls.

WHAT ELSE DOES THE RECORD SHOW?
WHAT HE SAYS: "Farabee acknowledged he served as President and Vice President of the National Students Association (NSA) in the early 1950s..."
WHAT THE RECORD SHOWS: "Throughout its existence, NSA has been one of the principal vehicles for left-wing agitation and propaganda among the nation's youth. It has been a vulnerable and often willing target for infiltration by the far left..." (NSA Report)
WHAT HE SAYS: "I strongly support right to work and I believe in a concept of open shop."
WHAT THE RECORD SHOWS: The NSA constitution begins, "We, the members of the National Union of Students of the United States..." Farabee was president of this national union.
He uses clever language to avoid direct reference to the agency shop. "A concept of the open shop" is the agency shop, which requires workers to pay union dues regardless of whether they belong to a union or not.
"Agency shop" is a watered-down version of "union shop." Both are opposed to the right-to-work principle.

PBS Program Is Given Green Light For 1975

NEW YORK (AP) — The Public Broadcasting Service's new national program cooperative, begun this year, has gotten the green light for the 1975-76 season. But a big hurdle remains.

And PBS chief Hartford Gunn says that is to persuade the Corporation for Public Broadcasting and the Ford Foundation to increase, not decrease, the financial support they gave the system for 1974-75.

The cooperative, created amid dwindling foundation support for public TV, aims at stimulating great local financial help for public TV as well as giving stations more direct say in choosing national programs.

Under the system, the stations are asked to pay a fair-share percentage of some national programming they once got free from PBS, helping to "buy" shows offered in a PBS program catalogue.

To get it started this season, CPB, which administers federal funds earmarked for public broadcasting, put up $4.5 million. The Ford Foundation put up $5 million and stations raised $4 million, Gunn said. The $13.5 million total paid for 40 per cent of the cost of this season's national public TV programs, he added.

PBS' executive committee, in renewing the program cooperative for another season, said it should be financed at a level of from $19 million to $23 million. Gunn is aiming for a $21 million level.

"Our hope is that the stations would put up $7 million and CPB and the Ford Foundation $7 million each," he said. "It's a reasonable figure and the program choices the stations could make would be considerably greater than they were under this year's funding."

He said that by this he meant that financially pressed stations this year tended to buy low-cost series lasting weeks rather than expensive programs — such as documentaries — of only one or several segments.

What sort of financial commitment has CPB and the Ford Foundation made to the cooperative for next season?

"Well, the corporation has said it could put up $3.7 million," Gunn said.

He said the Ford Foundation, which is gradually phasing out its long-time support of public broadcasting, "has not said what it'd put up, but it did indicate earlier it'd match what CPB puts up."

ONE OF THE COLORFUL GEYSERS IN YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK

Yellowstone Park Out Of Hibernation Now

America's largest national park used to go to sleep in winter — under a deep blanket of soft snow. Visitors from around the world who came to see Yellowstone's famed geysers, canyons, lakes, streams and wildlife left at summer's end and the park went into virtual slumber. In recent years, however, with the opening of winter accommodations in the park, visitors have come to discover the dazzling white face of Yellowstone. The crisp, clear air of winter magnifies the magic of steaming geysers; the abundant wildlife migrates to the lower plateaus, drawn to the warmth of thermal areas. The evergreen forests are frosted with snow and frozen steam from crystal clear hot streams that slice through the whitened landscape.

Old Faithful Snow Lodge and cabins nestle in the midst of this winter wonderland, a center of warmth and hospitality.

Located near world famous Old Faithful Geyser, Snow Lodge serves as a hub of activities for Yellowstone Park's glittering white world.

Ski tours and Snowcoach excursions, exhilarating snowshoe hikes, and exciting snowmobile trips all emanate from Snow Lodge. Ski-touring rental equipment, instruction and guides are all available. Exciting expeditions by big ten-passenger enclosed and heated Snowcoaches skim through the white and green beauty of Yellowstone country to geyser basins and the Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone. The snow-crowned canyon with its ice-shrouded waterfalls is a winter spectacular.

The beautiful new National Park Service Old Faithful Visitor Center is a popular way station. Old Faithful Geyser's winter displays are even more magnificent than her summer shows.

The wildlife show is spectacular also. Buffalo, elk, moose, deer and antelope graze near the trails. Geese and ducks rest on streams warmed with thermal springs. The rare and beautiful trumpeter swans seem especially at home in the protective white of Yellowstone's wintertime.

The winter days of Yellowstone are a photographer's dream. Crisp air and contrasting colors provide the perfect scenario for color photography. The wildlife, steaming thermal areas, winter outdoor activities, and panoramic views from high vistas delight amateur and professional photographers alike.

The warm Snowcoaches have roof hatches that swing open so

Trend Is Resisted

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas' economic activity is resisting the downward trend of the national economy and business should continue "relatively prosperous," the Bureau of Business Research said Saturday.

Dr. Francis B. May, professor of business statistics at the University of Texas at Austin, said in a special report for the bureau that Texas business activity for September was strong, five per cent above August.

For the first nine months of the year the activity index, which is based on business reports from 20 Texas cities, is 13 per cent above the 1973 period.

"This indicates the basic health of the Texas economy," Dr. May said.

The report said the strength in business activity is statewide with average levels of activity for the first three quarters up in 14 of the 20 cities.

Amarillo, Port Arthur, San Antonio, Texarkana, Tyler and Waco were the six cities showing declines from 1973, with Texarkana showing the largest drop, down nine per cent.

Wichita Falls was a leader among those with increases. It had 23 per cent increase for the first three quarters. Beaumont was up 20 per cent.

Alaska Pipe Line To Cost Much More Than Estimated

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — In 1968 a gallon of regular gasoline cost 48 cents in Anchorage, and oilmen were planning a $900 million pipeline from the rich North Slope oil fields.

Today, regular gasoline costs 62 cents a gallon here, and oilmen have been presented with a new $5.98 billion price tag for the 798-mile steel tube which won't begin carrying oil south for at least 2½ years.

A vice president of Alyeska Pipeline Service Co., a consortium for eight oil firms which is building the trans-Alaska pipeline, blamed worldwide inflation and escalating salaries for the revised cost.

The company said Friday the new total includes $5.56 billion for the project and more than $420 million for "certain contingencies" which were not specified.

None of that includes the cost of building the huge tankers which will receive the 1.2 million barrels of oil to be pumped daily from the North Slope to a marine terminal in Valdez.

However, Alyeska's George Nelson said the projection does include a cushion for graduated inflation.

Under Interstate Commerce Commission regulations, the participating oil companies are entitled to an 8 per cent return on their total investment in the project, which is privately financed.

ONE MORE WORD FROM PAUL SHAFFER

Candidate For County Commissioner Precinct No. 2

My previous political advertisements in this paper served the purpose of outlining my qualifications for the position from an experience standpoint. Please indulge me to explain further some of my beliefs along with the reasons for my candidacy.

When approached by interested citizens to persuade me to announce for this office, my first reaction, my second, third and fourth were no. That I was too busy and didn't have the time. When I reversed the question to the citizens, they were either too busy to run themselves or didn't think they were as well qualified as me. The thought then came through loud and clear that this is what is really wrong with America, we're all too busy to do our part, to get involved in government at any level. I decided that if I am not, at some point in my life, willing to devote some time to the most important business of local government, then I not only am not a good citizen, I have no right to complain when I don't like the way someone else is doing.

While I was born and raised a Democrat, and I always considered myself a conservative Democrat, I now find it necessary to call myself a Republican, because I've had it with too many McGoverns, McCarthies, etc. I do not believe in pure give-aways, but rather vigorously support welfare and assistance to those who either cannot help themselves or are trying to better themselves and are willing to work for what they get.

Most Republicans at the time, thought President Roosevelt's WPA program was too liberal, but when you stop and think about it, an unemployed person then was allowed to retain his dignity by working for benefits received. It has always amazed me how many good and successful people in contracting are graduates of the Depression Day CCC camps. So you see, don't we all really need to be judged by what we honestly are and believe rather than by a label. We here in Howard County have previously voted for many Republicans on a National level because we believed that those people were above party label and were themselves the best for the jobs.

I have confidence in the people of Howard County that I will be judged as a person and not as an implement of some party. The only ideal that is important to me is Americanism. No, I am not ashamed to be running on the Republican ticket.

I hope and trust that you will overlook the fact that I have not been around to personally solicit your vote. I will not take my time away from my business to campaign, but will rather take that time to serve as Commissioner, if you so choose. If you have taken the time to read this, I thank you. The only way I can be disappointed by the election will be if the voter turnout is not heavy. Please go to the polls!

Aaron Requested Brewer Transfer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Much suspense surrounded the negotiations which led to the weekend trade that sent all-time home run champion Hank Aaron from the Atlanta Braves to the Milwaukee Brewers.

But outfielder Dave May, who made up the other half of the deal along with an unnamed minor league player, says he figured out what was going to happen before the season was over.

"You know baseball players," said May. "They put things together. And when we heard Hank was interested in coming back to Milwaukee, I felt sure I'd be the one to go."

"I expected to be traded right after the season was over," May added. "After all, I wasn't happy with the way I was being played, and one confrontation with Manager Del Crandall late in the year was enough."

May, who slumped to .226 with 10 home runs last season after batting .303 with 25 homers the year before, said he and fellow Brewer outfielder Johnny Briggs had joked about which one of them would be traded for Aaron. He said he was convinced he was right when he learned a Braves scout was following the club on its final road trip.

Aaron, meanwhile, was in Japan for a home run hitting contest with Japanese star Sadaharu Oh when the trade was announced late Saturday.

Aaron said money was not a factor in his going to Milwaukee, despite previous reports that he was unhappy with what Atlanta had offered him.

"Money has nothing to do with my going to the Brewers," said Aaron, who will be returning to the city in which he started his major league career.

"I'm going because I wanted to," Aaron said. "I look forward to working with the entire Brewers' organization. I am happy that the Atlanta Braves saw fit to work so closely with me to meet my request."

Aaron said he would like to be more than a designated hitter next year.

AARON WITH MILWAUKEE FANS — Slugger Hank Aaron, traded to the Milwaukee Brewers by the Atlanta Braves Saturday, autographs baseballs for young fans in Milwaukee County Stadium in May of this year. Aaron and the Braves were back in Milwaukee for an exhibition game. The home run king began his major league career with the Braves in Milwaukee.

Cavaliers Nip Visiting Suns

By the Associated Press

Easy-going Bill Fitch has faced plenty of strange events during his four years as the only coach of the Cleveland Cavaliers, a perennial National Basketball Association loser. Now, he has seen everything.

"It was a peculiar basketball game," said Fitch, known for his sense of humor, after Cleveland edged the visiting Phoenix Suns 104-101 Sunday night. "Both teams played so unusually."

"We played a hell of a game in the third and fourth quarters," said Fitch about the effort by the Cavaliers. "And then, all of a sudden, I looked up and we were losing the free-throw contest."

Cleveland had rolled to a 94-82 lead with less than six minutes left, but Phoenix — outscored 31-23 in the third period — went ahead 101-100 with 1:16 remaining by sinking eight foul shots.

In an off-handed remark about the officiating, Fitch said he wanted to check the films in order to "really see what happened."

Keith Erickson's four straight foul shots gave the Suns their temporary lead before Bobby Smith put Cleveland ahead 102-101 on a decisive 15-foot jump shot from the corner with 58 seconds to go.

The Cavaliers, who have won five games and lost four, were led by Austin Carr's 27 points. Phoenix, 3-5, was led by Erickson's 19.

In other NBA games Sunday, Golden State beat Portland 109-100. Buffalo defeated Los Angeles 124-101. Chicago topped Kansas City-Omaha 86-79 and Seattle downed Milwaukee 101-89.

"We play every game like it was the most important game of the year," said Rick Barry, who scored 41 points to lead the Golden State Warriors to victory against the Portland Trail Blazers.

Barry, who had 14 points to help visiting Golden State to a 39-26 first period lead, praised the Warriors' strong defense.

Los Angeles had a string of 12 straight victories against Buffalo. But the visitors from the East quickly turned things around.

The Braves took a 40-16 edge at the end of the opening period with the aid of 12 points by Bob McAdoo, their 6-foot-10 center who led all scorers with 32 points in the blistering game.

Time To Compare Top 20 Is Here

By The Associated Press

The time for college football comparisons is here. Is Ohio State better than Oklahoma? Is Michigan better than Ohio State? Is Alabama better than all of them?

Texas, ranked 12th, is "a lot better" offensively than top-rated Ohio State, Coach Dave Smith of Southern Methodist said Saturday after his club bowed to the Longhorns 35-15. Five weeks earlier, SMU lost to Ohio State 28-9.

Alabama is "better than Florida," Mississippi State's Bob Tyler said after his 17th-ranked team absorbed a 35-0 licking at the hands of the fourth-ranked Crimson Tide. State's only other setback was a 29-13 loss to Florida, also five weeks ago. Saturday, No. 11 Florida ended fifth-ranked Auburn's unbeaten season 25-14.

"I don't see a heckuva lot of difference between their defenses; they're both fine," Colorado's Bill Mallory said in comparing ninth-ranked Nebraska and No. 2-rated Oklahoma. Nebraska throttled Colorado 35-15 Saturday while Oklahoma trampled the Buffs 49-14 two weeks ago.

Throwing comparisons — and another opponent — to the winds, Ohio State did nothing to diminish its No. 1 standing. Archie Griffin set an all-time record by rushing for more than 100 yards for the 18th consecutive regular-season game and the Buckeyes trounced Illinois 49-7, making Woody Hayes one of the few coaches to reach 200 victories.

Meanwhile, Oklahoma whipped Iowa State 28-10 — it was 28-0 until the final two minutes — and No. 3 Michigan struggled past Indiana 21-7.

Southern California, rated sixth, had to come from behind to tie California 15-15 but the rest of The Associated Press Top Ten all prevailed.

Seventh-ranked Notre Dame rallied for a pair of fourth-period touchdowns and shaded Navy 14-6. No. 8 Texas A&M tripped Arkansas 20-10 and 10th-ranked Penn State edged No. 15 Maryland 24-17.

Coach Misses Field Salute

CINCINNATI (AP) — Tony Mason, the rotund coach of the University of Cincinnati, figures he may have missed his moment of glory after Saturday's 22-20 upset of 19th-ranked Temple.

Mason joked Sunday that he had hopes of being carried off the field after the victory.

"I'm so fat I specially recruited a guy to carry me off, but he got so excited he ran onto the field to congratulate the other guys," said Mason, a 245-pounder.

SPORTS SHORTS

DALLAS (AP) — The Southwest Conference faculty representatives voted Sunday to have a postseason basketball tournament in 1976 to determine who goes to the National Collegiate Athletic Association playoffs.

The conference crown will still be determined by the winner of the round robin schedule.

BOSTON (AP) — Boston Bruins' right wing Bobby Schmautz will be out of action for at least a month because of a broken thumb, the National Hockey League team announced Sunday.

Schmautz injured the finger in a fight with Ernie Hicke during Saturday night's game against the Islanders in New York.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Top-ranked World Boxing Association featherweight challenger Alexis Arguello of Nicaragua arrived in Los Angeles and began sparring sessions Sunday for his Nov. 23 title fight against champion Ruben Olivares.

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR State Representative

"I don't have unlimited finances for big billboards, slick brochures, newspaper supplements and mailings, but I do know money comes hard for most of us and of the problems facing us who can't tap a big supply of it, so I hope you will understand that although I can't flood the media with a big exposure I can promise you that I will give you the very best I have and give you every minute of my time needed to represent you in Austin. This won't be a sideline with me and I hope you will count on me as a long-term investment at Austin in the future of this area, but I need your help and on Nov. 5 your deeply appreciated vote."

Few Blacks Due To Be Elected

WASHINGTON (AP) — Black candidates are seeking office in record numbers this year, but few are expected to win new seats in Congress. The most significant victories are likely to be on the state level.

For the first time ever, blacks may be elected lieutenant governor, in California and Colorado.

But only one black, a heavy underdog, has major party backing for a Senate seat, and any black gains in the House of Representatives are expected to be small.

In Colorado, George L. Brown, after 20 years as a state senator, seeks the No. 2 state office on a Democratic ticket headed by Richard Lamm. Polls give them a slight lead over the Republican team of Gov. John Vanderhoof and acting Lt. Gov. Ted Strickland.

NOT OPENLY
The race issue has not been raised openly in the campaign, but Brown says, "Most Colorado citizens have racism to a lesser degree."

Brown, who is also director of the Metropolitan Denver Urban Coalition, is stressing his experience.

In California, the governor and lieutenant governor do not run as a ticket, but State Sen. Mervyn Dymally, a native of Trinidad, expects help from the expected victory of Democratic gubernatorial candidate Edmund G. "Jerry" Brown Jr. Dymally, who represents a low-income section of Los Angeles in the state legislature, was chairman of the Democratic caucus before he quit to run for California's second-highest state office.

His opponent is conservative Republican John Harmer, recently appointed lieutenant governor by Gov. Ronald Reagan after Ed Reinecke stepped down following a perjury conviction.

Dymally was asked if he thought Harmer was trying to let voters know Dymally is black.

"We appear on TV," Dymally said. "We never try to hide the fact that I am black. We are not troubled by that."

Dymally is generally viewed as a liberal.

Blacks have served as lieutenant governors in South Carolina and Louisiana through appointment during the Reconstruction era. Louisiana's P. B. S. Pinchback was acting governor 43 days in 1872.

No blacks have a major-party designation in a race for governor. Minor-party black nominees are on the ballots in Nebraska and New York. In Georgia, a black man is conducting a write-in campaign for governor.

Three blacks seek U.S. Senate seats.

UPHILL FIGHT
In Connecticut, Republican James H. Brannen 3rd is running an uphill battle against incumbent Democrat

Abraham Ribicoff, who is seeking his third term. The airline pilot and former one-term state legislator is the first black to receive the Senate nod from either major party in that state.

Blacks are running on Communist party tickets for Senate seats in Illinois and New York.

The only current black senator, Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., is not up for re-election this year.

In House elections, the 15 incumbent black representatives — all Democrats — are expected to win re-election, as is nonvoting Delegate Walter Fauntroy of the District of Columbia. The Joint Center for Political Studies says two other blacks — both Democrats — facing white incumbent Republicans have good chances.

They are Matthew J. Perry, a civil rights lawyer from Columbia, S.C., who seeks to unseat Rep. Floyd Spence in that state's 2nd District, and Harold E. Ford, a state representative running against Rep. Dan Kuykendall in Tennessee's 8th District.

In all, 53 blacks are running for House seats as opposed to 44 who ran in 1972. They hope to represent 32 different districts in 18 states and the District of Columbia.

The 15 blacks expected to be re-elected are Reps. Charles Rangel and Shirley Chisholm, both D-N.Y.; Parren Mitchell, D-Md.; Robert Nix, D-Pa.; Louis Stokes, D-Ohio; John Conyers Jr. and Charles C. Diggs, both D-Mich.; Cardiss Collins and Ralph Metcalfe, both D-Ill.; William Clay, D-Mo.; Barbara Jordan, D-Tex.; Andrew Young, D-Ga.; and Ronald Dellums, Augustus Hawkins and Yvonne Braithwaite Burke, all D-Calif.
