Officials Claim Little Danger Of Depression

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration officials, while admitting that the nation is entering a recession, say there is little danger of a depression.

"We are not now in a recession, but new figures will probably indicate we are moving into a recession," Ron Nessen, President Ford's press secretary, said Tuesday.

He said economic statistics for November will show a continued erosion of the nation's economy, which has been declining since the first of the year.

But there is little danger of the recession growing into a depression, according to Edgar Fiedler, an assistant secretary of the Treasury for economic affairs.

NO BASIS

"I would never rule out the absolute possibility of a more severe decline, but in my own mind, the possibility is very small," Fiedler said.

He said he is hopeful the recession can reach its bottom by mid-1975 with an economic upturn after that. But he acknowledged, "I have no basis for forecasting it."

Another administration economist, Sidney L. Jones, said the nation's unemployment rate could rise to 7 per cent without programs to help, such as Ford's proposed expanded public service employment program.

TAX TANGLE

Congress is expected to enact an expanded program. Nessen indicated that the worsening economic outlook may cause President Ford to change some parts of his economic program, including the 5 per cent income surtax on upper-middle and upper incomes.

"He's not wedded to the 5 per cent (surtax) but he is wedded to the principle that there must be some way to raise the money" to pay for such things as help for the unemployed, Nessen said. Fiedler argued there should be no major retreat from the fight against inflation. He said that "inflation is causing most of the weakness in the economy."

UNEMPLOYMENT

In concluding that a recession was imminent, the White House undoubtedly took the following economic statistics into account:

—Unemployment has risen in the past year from 4.6 per cent to 6 per cent in October.

—Industrial production was down 1 per cent from a year earlier in September and is expected to drop even further in months ahead.

—The country's real economic growth, as measured by the Gross National Product, has declined for three consecutive quarters, the first time this has happened since the recession of 1960 and 1961.

—The value of retail sales was down in October for the second straight month, and the decline in volume of retail sales has been the most severe since World War II.

—A coal strike is under way, and is likely to last a minimum of three weeks.

—There have been widespread job layoffs in the auto industry, which is a backbone industry of the nation's economy.

Rocky Made Error In Book Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tradition of sharing with Nelson A. Rockefeller said today he made a mistake in not halting publication of a book critical of former Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg, but defended his cash gifts to friends and associates as acts of generosity "in the tradition of sharing with others." Goldberg was his 1970 opponent for New York governor.

Rockefeller said the central question raised by his nomination was whether his family background would somehow limit him so he would not be able to serve the general good of all Americans.

"I think the answer is no," he said, supplying his own answer. "I would not behave improperly. And I would not be limited or blinded. I think I could rise to the responsibility of the office."

Rockefeller said he had learned through his failure in three tries to achieve the Republican nomination for president the limitations of wealth in achieving political success.

FREE GIFT

"Political authority, the only enduring kind of political power, is not for sale in the American political system," he said. "... Great political authority in America comes only from the free gift of the people when they vote for you."

Rockefeller's recital of the events surrounding publication of the book about Goldberg added new detail that placed him in a more central role than he had previously acknowledged.

But any discrepancies are due to a faulty memory rather than any attempt to cover up the facts, he said.

CONTRAST

Rockefeller's admission of error in the handling of the Goldberg book was in sharp contrast to his strong defense of his gifts and loans of more than $2 million to close aides and public officials.

"I do not believe the day has yet come ... where the decencies of human relationships disqualify one for public office," he said.

Radio and television carried the hearings in the Senate Caucus Room.

Some Rockefeller critics have suggested that at least some of the gifts and loans may have violated New York state law.

DIRECTOR DE SICA DIES — Vittorio de Sica, the leading Italian film actor and director, has died in Paris, it was announced today. He was 73.

Thugs Hitting Area Schools

No clues have turned in the burglary of the Sands school, which took place the evening of Tuesday, Nov. 5, according to Guy Kinnison, Dawson County Sheriff. An estimated $800 in cash and $1,900 in checks were taken from a small strong box atop a filing cabinet in the school tax office.

The checks were later discarded in the vicinity of Gay Hill in Howard County and recovered.

Thugs employed a similar type of operation at Klondike school last night but failed to get into a small safe in the principal's office and left empty-handed.

Similar burglaries have occurred at small rural schools in the Abilene area, leading some peace officers to believe that the same gang of thieves is executing the burglaries.

The World At-A-Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Energy Administration has sent President Ford a long menu of policy choices for reducing U.S. dependence on foreign oil, but the featured listings are conservation measures like extra gasoline taxes and restrictions on downtown parking. The report had been ordered by former President Richard M. Nixon, who said it should be a blueprint for the United States to achieve independence from imported oil by 1980. However, the study later was downgraded to an "option paper" and it concludes that complete oil dependence by 1980 is neither possible nor desirable.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly has spurned the South African government's appeals for time to change its racial policies and voted to bar the white-minority regime from further participation in its proceedings. The vote Tuesday night was 91-22, with 19 abstentions. It did not cancel South Africa's membership in the United Nations but denied it the right to speak or vote in the assembly and its committees. The United States and several West European countries contended the assembly's action was illegal. It was the first time the assembly had ever silenced a member country.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former New York police detective Anthony Ulasevic, next on the witness stand in the Watergate cover-up trial, is expected to describe his role in funneling alleged hush money to the original Watergate defendants. Ulasevic has said previously that he acted as conduit between Herbert W. Kalmbach, who raised the cash, and the defendants and their attorneys. Kalmbach began to cry Tuesday when he testified about his role in the money arrangements, and court was recessed to allow him to regain his composure.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A lame duck effort is brewing for congressmen to vote themselves a pay raise of up to $15,900 and to boost salaries for other top federal officials. Staff proposals disclosed by Rep. H.R. Gross, R-Iowa, would boost congressmen's present $42,500-a-year pay to between $55,400 and $58,400 by 1977. Gross called the effort "an almost incredible, unconscionable move at this moment."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Industry and labor bargainers worked today on a new contract proposal by coal operators that both sides said brightens the outlook for settling the nationwide coal strike.

As the strike that threatened thousands of layoffs in other industries entered its second day, the coal talks resumed here at 11:30 a.m. EST. Both coal and union officials indicated a settlement is near.

NOME, Alaska (AP) — Communities along the storm-battered northwest Alaska coast braced for a second powerful storm today as flood waters began to recede. No casualties were reported after Bering Sea waves whipped inland by strong winds flooded sections of Nome and surrounding villages Tuesday in what Gov. William A. Egan called a "full scale disaster." Nome and some other communities along the coast were without adequate food, drinking water and power as the second storm approached.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's inflation watchdog agency is directing its first major effort at supermarkets which raise the price of goods already on display. But a prominent consumer organization, Consumers Union, is boycotting the effort because it says the practice costs shoppers less than a dime a week. The Council on Wage and Price Stability opens hearings on the practice today.

Dad Pleads Innocent To Poisoning

HOUSTON (AP) — Ronald C. O'Bryan slowly shook his head, then firmly replied "not guilty" to charges he gave poison Halloween candy that killed his son, before District Court Judge Frank C. Price set Jan. 6 as the date for O'Bryan's trial.

Judge Price also set a Dec. 16 date for pre-trial hearings in the case following O'Bryan's arraignment Tuesday.

The portly, 30-year-old optician stood almost without expression as prosecutor Mike Minton read indictments charging him with poisoning his son, Timothy, 8, and attempting to poison his daughter, Elizabeth Lane O'Bryan, 5, to collect some $61,000 in insurance on their lives.

O'Bryan is also charged with attempting to kill three other children by placing potassium cyanide in Halloween candy—in an attempt to cover up the death of his son.

Judge Price also appointed a Dallas lawyer, Richard Harrison, to represent O'Bryan after the defendant said he was broke and could not afford counsel. Harrison had been representing O'Bryan since his arrest last week.

In an earlier hearing Tuesday before District Court Judge Stanley Kirk, Harrison had sought to have O'Bryan's $100,000 bond reduced so he could go free pending a trial.

O'Bryan is a former Big Spring resident.

Judge Kirk ruled that no bond was possible in the death of Timothy because there was "probable cause to believe the offenses charged and alleged in such indictments have been committed by petitioner (O'Bryan)." He added that, "the petitioner should not be discharged from custody because of the nature and circumstances of the offense and the punishment that could be assessed in the case."

O'Bryan was charged with capital murder in his son's death under the same statute that punishes murder for hire. If convicted, he could be given the death penalty.

Judge Kirk set bonds of $25,000 each in the other four attempted murder indictments.

At the hearing, two persons testified that O'Bryan had taken out $61,000 in life insurance on the lives of his two children, with $40,000 of it purchased just days before Timothy's death.

Thomas O'Bryan of Galena Park, Tex., testified that his brother, Ronald, was a poor manager who also had trouble keeping a job. He said that Ronald was in poor financial condition at the time of Timothy's death.

Ronald O'Bryan asked Judge Price to appoint an attorney for him, saying he was indigent. "We sold our home a few months ago and paid off a bunch of bills," he said.

A GREETING AT THE UNITED NATIONS — Yasser Arafat, chairman of the Palestine Liberation Organization, is greeted early today on United Nations grounds by Col. H. A. Trimble, left. At right is Sadat Hassan of the PLO. Arafat had minutes earlier been flown to grounds by helicopter from the airport after his arrival. Col. Trimble is chief of UN Security and Safety Section.

Tightest Security Net In New York's History

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Surrounded by bodyguards, Yasser Arafat landed by helicopter in the United Nations' garden today to take to the General Assembly his case for a Palestinian state.

He was immediately whisked inside U.N. headquarters, and Saadat Hassan, the permanent representative of the Palestine Liberation Organization in New York, said Arafat was taking a nap.

He declined to say where the bearded, 44-year-old PLO leader was. The only apartment in the building is Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim's, but Hassan indicated he was not there.

Arafat and his party arrived from Kennedy Airport after a flight from Algiers. Their two choppers touched down in the U.N. garden just before 7 a.m.

Hassan said the party included Arafat, four advisers and 10-12 Palestinian security men, swelling the PLO contingent to about 30-32 persons.

Security for Arafat's arrival was unprecedented in New York, where feeling against the PLO runs high among the city's two million Jewish residents.

There were several police and Coast Guard launches in the East River immediately behind the 39-story glass, steel and stone building.

BOMB-SNIFFERS

The 16-acre U.N. complex was closed to the public. Outsiders could enter only with special passes from a temporary outpost across the street.

New York police canceled all days off and redistributed its manpower to concentrate on the midtown Manhattan area, where 16 PLO members were staying in the Waldorf Towers section of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Police used bomb-sniffing German shepherds to comb through the garage, elevators and five floors where 15 suites were reserved for the PLO delegation, but found nothing. The suites range in price from $150-$450 a day.

Outside, some 1,000 police kept demonstrators away from the hotel. Police sharpshooters were perched in nearby skyscrapers and a police helicopter shuttled from the hotel to the U.N. headquarters, keeping an eye out for demonstrations.

The PLO delegation went to U.N. headquarters in three limousines. They were accompanied by two Secret Service cars with agents armed with submachine guns and shotguns.

"HARRASSMENT"

During a news conference at U.N. headquarters, PLO spokesman Shafiq el-Hout said the PLO was at the United Nations for its first

"major diplomatic undertaking for the Palestinians' legitimate rights."

He said he wanted to meet reporters "so that our constructive, sustained and purposive dialogue will not be sidetracked by marginal noise and hysterical harassment from any quarter."

He evidently was referring to Russell Kelner, a member of the militant Jewish Defense League, who was arrested Tuesday after threatening to assassinate Arafat, and was ordered held in lieu of $100,000 bail for a hearing Nov. 22.

Find Pot In Wrecked Plane, Jail Two Men

COLUMBUS, Tex. (AP) — Two San Marcos men were charged today with possession of 500 pounds of marijuana after their airplane crashed in a pasture near here.

Held under $75,000 bond each were Stephen Bodine Christian and David Phillip Ischy, both in their early 20s.

Justice of the Peace Richard Smith said the pair was returning from Mexico with the marijuana when their single-engine Piper ran out of fuel and crashed Tuesday night.

The pair, both injured, wandered away from the wreckage, one of them hitching a ride to Weimar, according to Smith.

"We learned their names by checking the airplane registration. 'We found one of them in a motel at Weimar and the bloodhounds found the other one hiding in the weeds not far from the crash,'" Smith said.

"There was blood all over the airplane and all over them. One had a hole in his head and the other one had an eye cut pretty bad," Smith said.

Smith said the motel manager, suspicious of the man's head injury, called police.

School Supplies Donated By Students To Honduras

Students at Goliad Junior High and Marcy Elementary are doing what they can to see that students in flood-ravaged Honduras get enough supplies to carry on their school work.

After an appeal for donations for Honduran students had been initiated by two University of Texas of the Permian Basin professors, Joseph Bastien and Dr. Sally Wright, pupils in the two local schools responded with an estimated 1,000 pounds of notebooks, pens, pencils and other school supplies, which will be shipped first to Odessa and then to Honduras for distribution.

An estimated 97 schools in Honduras had classes disrupted by a recent storm and many of those were destroyed.

The Goliad Student Council took the lead in appealing directly to students for donations.

WELCOMES DINNER ENTERTAINER — President Ford welcomes singer Vicki Carr to the stage in the East Room of the White House Tuesday night following a State Dinner for Austrian Chancellor Bruno Kreisky. After one of her numbers she pinned on a "WIN" button.

Club Dinner At La Posada

The Texas Star Arabian Violet Club, meeting Thursday at La Posada for dinner, heard Mrs. Bert Wilkinson, Mrs. C. B. Sullivan and Mrs. A. C. Moore give tips on growing show plants.

The gardeners said it is necessary to use sterilized soil, and one should watch for soluble salts in the soil. Proper seeding and watering is essential and, from six to nine weeks before show time, crowns and bud stalks should be removed.

Mrs. Harry Montgomery presided, and Mrs. C. Y. Clinkscales reported on her trip to the zone meeting in Seminole.

The club's Christmas party, dinner and gift exchange will be held Dec. 5 in the Flame Room.

Delegates To Grand Lodge

Mrs. G. C. Barnett was elected delegate to the Grand Lodge convention in August during a Friday meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to the United Transportation Union. Mrs. Huey Rogers, president, will serve as alternate.

Mrs. J. H. Eastham was hostess for the meeting, using a Thanksgiving motif on the refreshment table. The cloth was gold, and fruit was used in the centerpiece.

It was announced that a turkey dinner will be held at 12 noon, Dec. 13. Mrs. A. J. Cain will cook the turkey and dressing, and other dishes will be prepared by the members.

Beauceant Members Host Dinner

The Social Order of the Beauceant held its annual Thanksgiving dinner Monday evening at the Masonic Lodge, 221 1/2 Main, with 65 persons in attendance.

After dinner, the Rev. Herbert Shipp, pastor of Prairie View Baptist Church, presented a program of slides of the Holy Land. "Bless This House" was sung by Mrs. W. C. Fryar, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. L. R. Mundt.

Mrs. Fryar presided for the business meeting as plans were completed for a Thanksgiving project at Big Spring Nursing Inn. The next meeting will be Nov. 25, when officers will don their robes for a practice initiation.

Coahoma Club

The Coahoma Bridge Club met Monday at 7 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Jody Sorey, with high score going to Mrs. Billy Jack Darden. Mrs. Marion Hayes was low, and Mrs. Norman Roberts won Bingo. The next meeting will be Monday evening in the Roberts home.

Party Honors Miss Jones

Miss Glenda Jones, bride-elect of Frank Long, was honored at a rice bag party Saturday morning in the home of Mrs. Larry Adkins, 2600 Crestline.

Attending with the honoree were her mother, Mrs. Wanda Jones, and her fiancé's mother, Mrs. Elbert Long.

The 12 guests attending brought recipes for the bride-to-be and, during the morning, assembled the bags for the wedding.

Refreshments were served from a table accented with a white crocheted cloth and centered with a miniature bassinet filled with pink and blue flowers.

"Christmas Barn" To Open Dec. 7-8

Plans are progressing for the Christmas Barn, an arts and crafts show and sale sponsored by Howard County 4-H Clubs. The event is slated Dec. 7-8 in the new Howard County Fair Barn.

All area artisans and craftsmen are invited to participate. Booth rental will be $5 for a 10 by 10-foot space plus 10 per cent of gross sales.

The fair and sale will be open to the public from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Dec. 7 and from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. Dec. 8. Booths will be sold on a first come first served basis.

Single Parents Will Convene In Midland

Parents Without Partners Inc. will have its 1974 Pecos Regional Council meeting in Midland Nov. 22-23, with approximately 12 persons from Big Spring in attendance. The local delegates will be Mrs. Estaleen Rice, Mrs. Dorothy Cross and Troy Durham. Room reservations can be made at the Rodeway Inn, Midland.

WWI Fliers Praised In Vet Day Speech

The part aviation played in World War I was described by Maj. John Grathwol when he was guest speaker Monday for the World War I Veterans and Auxiliary and the American Association of Retired Persons.

"These fliers showed great courage and spirit," said the speaker. "They flew with a very minimum of training, and parachutes were unknown at that time." He briefly traced the history of aviation, from the time of Kitty Hawk, noting that "heroes" of aviation included Eddie Rickenbacker, Quentin Roosevelt, Billy Mitchell and the group making up the French Escadrille, including many young Americans who fought even before the United States became actively involved in the war.

Baby Shower Held Friday

Mrs. Steve Parks was honored at a baby shower Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Billy Jack Darden, Coahoma. There were 10 hostesses.

The honoree, who was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. W. C. Clanton, was presented a corsage made of baby sox.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a white crocheted cloth and centered with a miniature bassinet filled with pink and blue flowers.

Bridge Club Lists Winners

Mrs. G. E. Thomas was hostess for the Hi Lo Bridge Club Monday evening at her home, 602 S. Main, Coahoma. High scorer was Mrs. Judy Taylor, and Mrs. Thomas was low. Mrs. T.A. Bartlett will be hostess for the next meeting in the home of Mrs. P. F. Sheedy, 501 N. Main.

An invitation has been extended to all PWP chapters and to all single parents in the region which includes Midland, Odessa, Amarillo, Abilene, Lubbock, San Angelo, El Paso and Big Spring.

At 7:30 p.m., Nov. 22, a "Get-Acquainted Party" will be held at the Moose Lodge, 2423 W. Indiana, Midland.

Ms. Ethel Pittman, Baton Rouge, La., Zone K administrator, will conduct a workshop on "New Chapter Programming," and Ms. Joyce Hopper, El Paso, associate administrator, will conduct a ways and means workshop. Mrs. Norma Walker, Abilene, regional president, will attend.

"Mr. Rippitoe," a humorist, will be featured at the Saturday luncheon at the Moose Lodge. There will be a banquet and dance that evening. For further details, call 683-4241 or write P. O. Box 4184, Midland, Texas.

The meeting was held at the Kentwood Older Adult Center, where Mrs. Dorothy Hull had decorated the refreshment table in an Armistice Day theme with red poppies and patriotic accents.

Mrs. L. R. Mundt, pianist, accompanied the group singing as World War I songs were led by Marshall Brown and Joe Peay.

Marion B. Irland, commander of WWI Barracks 1474, presided, and 46 persons attended.

Birth Of Son Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Joe West, Albuquerque, N.M., announce the birth of a son, Jason Dean, at 4:50 p.m., Nov. 11 in Medical Center, Odessa, weighing 6 pounds, 15 ounces. The mother is the former Debbie Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Davis, Odessa. The infant's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard West, 2703 Clanton. Mrs. Ola Mae Griffin, Big Spring, is the infant's great-grandmother.

Booths may be reserved by contacting the Howard County Extension Office, Box 790, Big Spring, Texas, 79720. The phone number is 915-267-6671. Further information may be obtained by calling the above number or by calling Mrs. Don Hale, 267-5064, or Mrs. Bruce Griffith, 263-0965.

The 4-H clubs hope the arts and crafts fair will provide an opportunity for area artists and craftsmen to show and sell their products and for Christmas shoppers to purchase original and unusual gifts.

Bride-Elect Introduced At Coffee

Mrs. Jack Irons honored Miss Marsha McMillan with an introductory coffee Saturday in the Irons home on Compress Lane.

Miss McMillan and Mike Irons are to be married Dec. 28 in the First Baptist Church at Brownwood.

Fall flower arrangements were used throughout the home and on the serving table. Assisting in serving refreshments were Mrs. Terry McDaniel, Mrs. Richard Knocke, Mrs. Tommy McCann, Mrs. Jack Cathy Jr., Mrs. Rick Chambers, Mrs. Al Lain, Mrs. J. T. Morgan and Mrs. Tom Guin who alternated at the coffee service.

Mrs. Bob McMillan and Mrs. Ron McMillan, mother and sister-in-law of the honoree, and Mrs. Dick Irons of San Angelo were out-of-town guests.

An Overdose Of Peaches?

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column that a guy named Walter, age 52, had a heart attack, and he got well enough to play tennis three times a week, but not well enough to make love to his old lady.

I am 56, have had two heart attacks, and I make love to three different dames three nights a week. Tennis I'll leave to Walter. Sign Me.

GREEDY IN GEORGIA DEAR GREEDY: Too many peaches could give you more than a heart attack.

DEAR ABBY: How do you forget a guy? He and I had a great relationship for two months, then his old girl friend started calling him and he started seeing her again, and that's when I lost him.

He said he thought he could care for me, and I know he meant it. I fell in love with him the first night we were alone together.

When the other girl was out of the picture, things were perfect between us, but when she came back, I gradually saw him less and less. Finally I couldn't stand it any longer and told him we had to talk openly and freely. He said he cared for the other girl a lot, but he cared for me, too. He even admitted that he didn't know why he cared for the other girl because she treated him like dirt, and I treated him good. Abby, is this what I get for being nice? I told him I couldn't handle a part-time relationship, and he said he'd think it over. I haven't heard from him since. I am miserable and depressed. Should I call him and ask if there is still hope for us? I am 22 and he is 21. The other girl is 19. Please help me.

It's strange how some people prefer those who treat them like "dirt." (They practically ask for abuse because unconsciously they don't have a very high opinion of themselves, and feel they deserve it.) I know it's not easy to "forget" a guy you think you love, but if you concentrate on other things, instead of dwelling on him, you can do it. Start today!

DEAR ABBY: Regarding baby-sitters who write and complain that they can't stand dirty houses: I was a sitter once myself, for many years, in fact. Some of the houses where I went to sit were very untidy, to say the least. But why complain and act so self-righteous? Some women are poor housekeepers because they were never taught any different. Some are lazy, and others don't feel very well most of the time.

Instead of complaining about the messy house, why not clean it up? Then you can "sit" in a clean house and also have the indescribable inner joy of helping others without being told, or expecting to be paid for it. It will make you feel good all over.

Above all, be charitable, and don't tell others about the woman's poor housekeeping. And read Corinthians 13. We all need love.

MRS. W. R.: KENNEWICK, WASH. DEAR MRS. R.: You are beautiful.

COMING SOON TO JIMMY HOPPER TOYOTA — The Toyota Sport truck pictured here will shortly be on display at Jimmy Hopper's Toyota, 511 Gregg St. Toyota will introduce its 1975 model automobiles at Hopper's Friday and Saturday. The new line features a completely redesigned Corolla series, the sporty pickup seen here and a powerful 2.2 liter four-cylinder engine. The manufacturer said it is putting its five-speed manual transmission with gas-saving overdrive on ten of its 1975 models as standard or optional equipment. Last year the five-speed was available on only four models. A new feature on all Toyota pickups is power front disc brakes.

CC Employees Are Seeking Raises

COLORADO CITY — Citing rising costs of living as the reason for their requests, a delegation of city employees met Monday night with the Colorado City Council seeking pay raises. Floyd Hale, a fire truck driver, said his take-home pay for two weeks is $167. He said he has three children in school and finds it increasingly hard to make ends meet. Top patrolmen on the city police force earn $522 a month which, Police Chief Jesse Browning said, do not compare with the wages made by patrolmen in nearby towns. Other cities are paying $600 to $720 for the same job, Browning stated. City Manager J. A. Sadler, in answer to a question posed by a councilperson, said that city taxes could not be raised to provide for additional money until the new budget is approved in April 1975. Sadler added that a possible solution to the problem would be to raise water rates 50 cents a month. That would raise minimum bills from $8.50 to $9. The matter will be brought up again at the next meeting of the council. Mayor Mike Burt said that this year's budget was going to run $22,000 in the red, even if no more expenditures were authorized. In other action, Mrs. Margaret Oyler was named manager of the civic center. She replaced Dick Wistrand, who resigned.

Applications Are Required For Courses

Adult Scout leaders are reminded that they must submit applications for courses at the Philmont Scout Training Center no later than Nov. 24. Art Hyman, Scout executive, said these courses will be offered next summer:

- June 12-18 — Troop Leader development course
- June 19-25 — Program enrichment; unit service; Scout skills.
- June 26-July 2 — Exploring; relationships training.
- July 10-16 — Catholic conference; scouting for handicapped.
- July 17-23 — Protestant workshop; Lutheran conference.
- July 24-30 — Den mothers; den leader coaches; pack administration; serving cub packs.
- July 31-Aug. 6 — Same as previous, plus service Cub pack units.
- Aug. 7-13 — Cub scout leaders.
- Aug. 14-20 — Webelos program development.

These sessions are held annually at the Philmont Scout Ranch in northern New Mexico near Cimarron and are staffed by outstanding authorities. In many instances, these are activities for all members of the family. Hyman (263-4176) has more information, but he stressed that those wishing to be on the invitation list must apply by Nov. 24.

Railroads Income Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's railroads, aided by record operating revenues, showed a net operating income of $308.3 million in the third quarter of this year — nearly double the operating income recorded in the same period a year ago, the Association of American Railroads said Tuesday. The profits pushed the industry's rate of return for the 12 months ended Sept. 30 to 3.71 per cent compared to 2.97 per cent for the same 12-month period a year earlier.

Keep yourself in money next Christmas
 (for as little as $2 a week)

Join the First Federal Christmas Club. And save a little each week. By putting aside just two dollars a week, you will have more than $100 by December of next year. Four dollars a week will get you $200. And so on. (For your convenience, you can deposit monthly or make an automatic deposit through checkmatic.)

As a bonus, we'll make your last payment.
 If you have been saving four dollars a week, we will put four dollars in your account in December. If you saved ten dollars we'll add ten dollars. Which is a very good reason for saving with us, instead of with someone else.

Start saving now. We know it's hard to think about next year's Christmas now. But this is the time to do it. And the place is First Federal. Keep yourself in money — next Christmas.

Yule Program Set Dec. 6

LUBBOCK — The traditional Carol of Lights program at Texas Tech University, heralding the Christmas-New Year's holiday season, will be presented Dec. 6 in the Science Quadrangle. Dr. Grover E. Murray, president of Texas Tech, will preside over the program. The Texas Tech Choir and the Oakwood Baptist Bell Choir will be among the performing groups; and Dr. Gene Hemmle, former chairman of the Department of Music at Texas Tech, will lead community singing of carols. Other participating groups will be announced later. The program concludes with the throwing of a switch which turns on 28,000 red, yellow and white electric lights on 50,000 feet of wire strung on 10 buildings in the center of the university campus. The entire program, which will begin at 7 p.m., is open to the public. Residents and visitors of the area are invited to tour the campus to see the display.

Wet Weather Reduces Deliveries Of CRMWD

An abnormally wet autumn has reversed the production trend for the Colorado River Municipal Water District. The 1,248,580,600 gallons delivered to customers in October not only was 20.59 per cent less than for October 1973, but it marked the first time this year that deliveries have fallen under the corresponding month of last year. Nevertheless, deliveries for the first 10 months of the year were up nearly two billion gallons, or 13.21 per cent in aggregating 17,950,764,312 gallons. The district can still experience its first 20-billion gallon year if it measures up to November and December production of a year ago. The decline was all reflected in lower municipal demands in October when the district pumped only 751,566,000 to the cities, the least amount since February. This was down 31.20 per cent from the 1,092,402,000 gallons delivered in October 1973. For the 10 months, this year is still 931 million gallons, or 8.46 per cent ahead of municipal deliveries a year ago. The district pumped 497,014,600 gallons to oil and industrial users in October, up 18 million gallons. For the year these deliveries have amounted to 6,005,789,812 gallons, up nearly a billion and a quarter gallons. Municipal deliveries in October were: Odessa 256,365,000 gallons, 27.21 per cent; Big Spring 205,784,000, down 9.24 per cent; Snyder 58,207,000, down 7.14 per cent; Stanton 3,852,000, down 43.19; Midland 225,014,000, down 22.79; San Angelo 2,334,000, down 98.46.

Aging Studies Workshop Set

DENTON — The North Texas State University School of Community Service and Center for Studies in Aging will shortly initiate a series of six workshops to train public housing managers to deal with the increasing number of aged tenants. The first statewide workshops will be held at the Ft. Brown Best Western Motel in Brownsville Wednesday and Thursday. Future workshops are planned in Seymour, Victoria, Temple, Nacagdoches and Plainview. The workshops are sponsored by the Governor's Committee on Aging and the Texas Department of Community Affairs.

A 'Recession Psychology'

A FEW YEARS ago when rising prices began to look like a permanent fact of life, economists warned of the danger of "inflation psychology." Consumers going on buying sprees to buy goods that are sure to cost more tomorrow can cause shortages that drive prices even higher. Wage demands based on the anticipation of inflation cause increases in production costs which in turn push prices up.

That's how predictions of inflation become self-fulfilling prophecies. Now, a University of Michigan research center has detected a new turn in the public mind that is just as dangerous — "recession psychology."

A SURVEY of 1,436 Americans showed that 57 per cent expect "bad times" in the coming year and 54 per cent think "bad times" are going to stretch out for as long as five years. The survey also indicated that this pessimistic outlook is leading people to hold back on spending money, especially for big items like houses and cars. It is not hard to see how such gloom could become infectious enough to dampen economic activity to the point that it is no longer debatable whether we are or are not in a recession. A jolting encounter with reality can be a healthy thing for a country that has been living high off the hog in terms of energy and easy credit, and which has a government that only recently awakened to the necessity of at least trying to live within its means. We have been receiving that jolt as we grow to understand the complexity of our inflation problem, what causes it and the kind of steps that are needed to cure it. We are being forced to adjust our economic decision-making, as individuals and as a nation, to a new set of rules.

There is a big difference between prudence and pessimism. Too much "recession psychology" could take the wind out of our economic sails at a time when it is crucial to steer a careful course between spending too much and too little. But this does not mean warnings should not be given proper weight.

A Lesson In Darts

Britain's fine amiable old game of darts arrived in America on the Mayflower. But it has taken a latter-day flowering of the sport to bring on the first Washington (D.C.) Open Dart Tournament, plus a major Philadelphia meet during the United States bicentennial.

Not to put too fine a point on the matter, U.S. darts men are getting serious and seriouser. And, as they form more and more solidarity groups, they recall their really serious Roman forerunner, Scilurus. He asked each of his many sons to break a bundle of darts — and then showed them how to do it by breaking one dart at a time.

In effect, President Ford has been endorsing for all Americans the lesson of Scilurus's darts — that there's strength in sticking together. Bull's-eye!

Peek At Weather

Around The Rim

Joe Pickle

Well, you have it — the winter will be cooler through December, and December will be dry. January to April will be "fickle" with abnormally cold and abnormally hot weather alternately. May will be cool; June warm, hitting the 100 mark before the end of the month. Serious drought will set in and some dust storms will be registered. Tropical storms will hit the west Gulf around July 3. The early autumn will be hot, but with thundershowers.

THIS IS THE capsulated forecast of our trusted friend, Old Farmers Almanac (75 cents at your favorite newsstand or from Yankee, Inc. at Dublin, N.H.)

More specifically, Farmers Almanac says we will have rain Nov. 4-5, perhaps some light snow by the 16th, rain around the 27-28th. December promised rain on the 4th, heavier precipitation at the end of the month.

JANUARY WILL be cool with showers; February cloudy and freezing and with dust storms by 24-28. March 10-13 will bring a cold snap, followed by rain, another cold snap (down to the low 20s) about the 12-18th.

April is to have a cold snap 7-10, rain around 18-20 and heavier rain on the 28-30th. May is due for rain 5-11, and a sharp cool (or cold spell, particularly further north) around the 12-18th.

JUNE 9-14 is ticketed for rain, heavy in some areas, and by June 30 temperatures will have hit 100 plus. July will be hot with thundershowers. August 4-10 brings Gulf storms, but the month also will have 105 readings. September will be hot, but with showers before a 29-30th cold front. October 6-12 will bring heavy thundershowers, more rain 13-19.

But that's not all the Almanac says. You find all sorts of interesting information about when the moon will be new, in the first and last quarters and full; the tides (which don't bother me much); dates of eclipses (it's a pretty lean year for our area); most numerous meteor showers (Quadrantid will bless us at the rate of about 100 per hour Jan. 4.)

And in case you're interested the earth will be in perihelion Jan. 3 and 91,406,000 miles from the sun, and in aphelion July 6 at 94,517,000 miles from the sun (bet you thought it would be the other way around).

IF YOU are agriculturally inclined, you may be interested in the gestation periods of animals and their reproductive cycles. You may be more than casually impressed by the fact that 80 to 100 cows can produce a quantity of waste which, when put in a methane generator, will yield enough gas to run the place — the equivalent of 30 gallons of gasoline a day.

If weights and measures stump you, all you have to do is consult the tables. If you're a mathematical genius, you can figure out the time conversion tables and know precisely when the sun will rise and set at whatever latitude and longitude you are.

YOU CAN COME up with little nuggets about building your barn with the long slope facing north and the steep slope south. You may even confound your friends by quoting a glossary of astronomical terms, or rattling off the positions of the planets or the signs of the zodiac, enumerating any of 100 select holidays, or working any of a store of tricky puzzles.

In between, you can read stories such as the "most dazzling fraud of the century" in which a couple of simple miners took financial and business leaders to a cleaning on a diamond scheme; or little philosophical bits paralleling each month's calendars. It's hard to see how any well-regulated family can get along without it.

Israel's Lobby

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — The huge, emotional pro-Israel demonstration in New York's United Nations Plaza recently took place only because of the strong but covert approval of the Israeli government, signalling a significant policy change in Israel reflecting its new scene of isolation.

ACCORDING TO one leader of the influential American Jewish community, sponsors of the rally (which was aimed at the Palestine Liberation Organization) "got their signals plain and clear from Jerusalem." Although the Israeli government could have stopped the demonstration with one word, it encouraged the American Jewish leaders. Moreover, Moshe Dayan and Abba Eban, Israel's two most famous politicians, would never have addressed the rally without permission from Rabin's government.

The reason: Israel now feels greater isolation than at any time since its founding 25 years ago. Worse, it fears President Ford and Secretary of State Henry Kissinger may be moving toward recognizing the existence of the PLO — along with almost every other country in the world. The rally showed the Ford administration Israel's huge reservoir of militant Americans eager to plead Israel's case.

Prime Minister Itzhak Rabin's government feels beleaguered in the wake of the UN invitation to the PLO to present its case for an independent Palestinian state.

IN FEBRUARY 1970, when the militant Jewish Defense League (JDL) and other Pro-Israeli partisans demonstrated in Chicago against the late President George Pompidou of France in protest against his pro-Arab stance, the Israeli government and leading American Jewish organizations were furious. Israel's policy then was to keep a low profile in the U.S. on grounds that noisy pro-Israeli rallies might boomerang.

A footnote: U.S. security agencies are genuinely frightened about keeping peace when PLO leaders arrive in New York next week for the UN debate. Anti-Arab hostility inside New York's large Jewish community is now at a peak.

When Secretary of State Henry Kissinger entered the Kremlin Oct. 24 to begin strategic arms conversations, he was taken aback as Soviet party boss Leonid Brezhnev immediately took him to task for failing to deliver on long-promised trade concessions.

KISSINGER WAS ready to begin serious explorations of the arms question. But Brezhnev opened by complaining at length that the Soviet Union had now agreed to U.S. demands for free emigration of Russian Jews, in return for most-favored-nation trading status. Even so, Congress had not acted and showed no signs of acting. What was wrong?

Actually the Soviet Union had backed down on the emigration question only six days earlier. Brezhnev also was well awared that Congress was in recess until after the American elections. Still, Brezhnev was making clear his irritation with Kissinger's inability to deliver the goods.

"Please, everybody... let's be serious about this..."

Grandma's Cures

Robert E. Ford

There has been a great outcry for some years about the dwindling number of family doctors.

We find this absolutely incredible that there is such a shortage. There are at least 25 family doctors in our neighborhood. Personally, as a victim of their ministrations, we wish there were fewer.

The fact that there is not one single medical degree among the 25 deters them not at all. Suppose you have just come from under a $3,000 surgery by some of the city's best doctors and are stretched out on your bed of pain trying to follow directions and be cured.

IN THEY breeze, happy and domineering, clomping around athletically on their clog heels and digging great divots out of the new carpet.

"I've got just the thing to cure you," they announce brightly, waving a bottle of pills.

"My husband's cousin's wife took one of these four times a day.

"They cured her clear up to the minute she died."

And out they flit to make room for another neighborhood doctor.

There is no disease which ever struck mankind for which they do not have an absolute cure. Their confidence is awesome.

However, the first time one walks through the front door bearing a small saw and a chisel and announces she has taken up brain surgery, we are going out the back door, sick or not.

WE CURRENTLY are or recently have been on four diets all laid out by the doctor: against weight, cholesterol, tendonitis and blood sugar.

All these are controlled by the food you eat or don't eat, mostly don't eat.

Would you believe it—every one of these doctors' husbands have the same problems.

They are very persuasive, and rather soon the Beautiful Lady who takes care of us in our illnesses is believing everything they say about diet.

"Henry's doctor says that stuff will kill you."

"Philbert's doctor says all the world would be healthy if no one ate this."

"Arnold found this made him sick. He nearly died."

THE BEAUTIFUL Lady begins with drawing all those things from our diet and pretty soon we are down to one small piece of rye toast without butter at each meal.

When we get sick, she drops by to see us, but we look too weak to survive her potent chicken soup. So she goes back home and whips up a batch of beef soup. It is worth getting sick for. Grandma knew, absolutely knew, the cure for everything.

A spoon of sugar with a drop of turpentine on it for a sore throat.

Bacon grease rubbed on the chest for a cold.

Soak your foot in coal oil if you stepped on a nail.

Tobacco juice would take the hurt out of a yellow jacket sting.

Iodine would cure any infection.

Massive doses of calomel, castor oil or Black Draught when all else failed.

With cures like that, worse than the disease, there wasn't much illness around our house. There was some suffering in silence. No one wanted grandma's cures except as a last resort.

On top of that, grandma had a health motto for wintertime ills: Keep your feet warm and your head cool. We don't remember her ever having anything worse than a slight case of the sniffles.

Giving Cash Away

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — If the stock market affected only a relatively few very rich individuals the losses of recent years might be easier to swallow. As it is, they're jammed in the throat of economic society.

Harvard University reports the market value of its endowment and other investments dropped $172 million in fiscal 1974.

Total 30 its books showed a total value of $1.19 billion; a year earlier the figure was $1.36 billion.

The rise and fall of endowment values is reflected in figures from the New York Stock Exchange that show a total value of $1.1 billion in 1949, $7.4 billion in 1971, $8.8 billion in 1972 and $7.5 billion in 1973.

That figure has probably, in fact most likely, fallen another billion dollars in 1974 as the bear market continues. More than a few top-flight schools have, as a result, been forced to impose tight budget restraints.

Philanthropists, foundations, insurance companies, banks and workers with an interest in their pension fund all are feeling the impact of lower stock prices, and all must make adjustments.

CNA Financial Corp. revealed it has considered passing on some of its assets to one of its operating units, Continental Casualty Co., partly because of declining values in the latter's portfolio.

Continental Casualty's surplus has been sharply cut because of the declining values and adverse claims experience, according to material circulated to CNA stockholders by Loews Corp., which seeks to buy CNA.

The material suggests that one consequence of the decline would be to force the insurance company to curtail the amount of new business it accepts, a situation in which no company likes to be caught.

What Is Cataplexy?

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband went to a neurologist and was found to have cataplexy. His symptoms are loss of strength in arms and legs when becoming overly excited or overly angry. He does not become unconscious, and immediately goes up after an attack.

The rise and fall of endowment values is reflected in figures from the New York Stock Exchange that show a total value of $1.1 billion in 1949, $7.4 billion in 1971, $8.8 billion in 1972 and $7.5 billion in 1973.

That figure has probably, in fact most likely, fallen another billion dollars in 1974 as the bear market continues. More than a few top-flight schools have, as a result, been forced to impose tight budget restraints.

go back to the neurologist and tell him how the situation is progressing, so he can take appropriate measures.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 18 years old and have high blood pressure. And I'm 65 pounds overweight. My pressure goes as high as 185-110. Do you think it might be dangerous to me? — Mrs. G.B.

I'll say more than "might." It IS dangerous to you, and the longer it goes on, the more damage it will be doing. It is very high for a person your age.

There's no single, simple answer. You must, of course, start getting rid of that extra poundage. But you should be under the care of a physician because there are various causes of high blood pressure, and a doctor can find out what they are. You can't.

As an added thought, I'm sure you will benefit from reading my booklet, "Controlling Your Blood Pressure." Send 25 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to me in care of the Big Spring continuing and becoming Herald. But get after those more frequent, I suggest you first two suggestions immediately.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: In reference to the little girl who had canker sores so long, I had the same problem with my little girl. She was hospitalized, given smallpox vaccinations, and everything the doctors could think of, but no cure. She couldn't eat.

A druggist, an old-timer, handed me a box of milk of magnesia tablets and said, "Try that." It did the job well and she has never had one since. After all the suffering and the money spent, a 39-cent box of tablets did the trick. — Mrs. H.R.H.

Frankly, canker sores are a baffling problem. We know of no certain remedy. We aren't sure that any single cause is involved. If I knew a sure cure, I'd shout it from the housetops. Meantime I'm happy to report a simple remedy that worked.

If afflicted with problem fingernails or toenails, learn the practical, medically correct form of treatment. Write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of his booklet, "Solving Your Nail Problems," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

My Answer

Billy Graham

Will you please answer this question about the second commandment, "Thou shalt not make any graven image." Does it mean that it is a sin to have pictures of Jesus or Mary or the cross?

L.P.

Statement 4 of Exodus 20 provides the commandment in question. But it must be read with statement 5, which says, "Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them."

These verses then, are not to be considered a prohibition against the arts of sculpture or painting — or even to condemn the religious use of them. Rather, it is to disallow the worship of God under material forms.

I know some people have adopted a sort of literalism here — an acutal forbidding of any likeness of Jesus Christ. But this only enslaves and promotes what is certainly alien from the spirit of Christ. A person can worship with the aid of a picture of a statue, but often it misdirects the trust of faith which Jesus said was to be "in spirit and in truth."

If you find yourself in a church where pictures of Christ are tolerated (and few would not), accept it for what it is, some artist's conception of the Son of God designed not for worship but for reflection. Nobody can really produce an adequate likeness of the beauty, the peace, and the love of Christ's face; but attempting to do it is a beautiful thing, not worthy of our condemnation.

A Devotion For Today . .

"Every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit." (John 15:2)

PRAYER: Dear heavenly Father, cleanse Thou me from secret faults; purge me with hyssop, wash me, and I shall be clean. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Two Depart For Prison

Deputy sheriffs left for the Texas Department of Corrections Huntsville facility today with two convicted men, Sheriff A. N. Standard said.

While there, the deputies will be given custody of two men for which District Judge Ralph W. Caton has issued a bench warrant.

George Medoza Torres, charged with forgery, and Jerry Weatherford, 56, charged with theft of oilfield equipment, are being returned to Big Spring for trial.

Torres is serving two concurrent two-year sentences assessed in Harris County for burglary and felony theft. District Attorney Robert H. (Bob) Moore III said. A district court revoked probation Torres was serving.

Being transferred to prison are Michael Curtis Stephens, 19, and Joaquin Cantu, 29, formerly of Coahoma. Convicted of burglary Cantu was serving 10 years of probation revoked because of a Levelland burglary.

Stephens was serving probation of two six-year sentences for burglary when Moore sought revocation due to an Eastland County robbery.

Cash Dividend Will Be Paid

The board of directors of the Security State Bank approved a 15 per cent cash dividend, payable to stockholders of record Dec. 1, 1974, at its Nov. 11 meeting.

The announcement came from J. D. Nelson, bank president.

The dividend represents 93.75 cents per share and will be payable Dec. 15, Nelson stated.

STILL DON'T LIKE BUSING IN CHARLOTTE Bitter Medicine For Whites

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — After nearly a decade of court battles, angry words and political wrangling, school integration has become an accepted fact of life in the city that pioneered massive crosstown busing.

NOT HAPPY
Many whites say they still don't like busing and would like to see a constitutional amendment prohibiting it. But the days of petitions and posters, rallies and telegram campaigns, are over.

Massive busing to achieve racial balance, which has recently started in Northern and Western cities, came to Charlotte in 1970 following nearly five years of legal proceedings.

The court order was bitter medicine for whites in this conservative Southern city.

"I can't say that I personally am completely happy with the situation which now exists in our schools in regard to pupil assignments," said William Poe, chairman of the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Board of Education. "But I am firmly convinced that there is better public understanding of the problems which now exist than ever before."

TIRED OF FIGHTING
"I just think they've tried to live with it," said Sam McNinch, a former Board of Education member and onetime leader of the anti-busing group. "I think they've been knocked in the head so many times they're tired of fighting it."

The shift in public opinion came after the school board exhausted all legal appeals, and after thousands of whites fled the public system for private schools or neighboring counties.

The busing order, issued by U.S. District Court Judge James B. McMillan, was, at the time, the most extensive in the country. Nearly 12,500 pupils were bused under the order.

Busing prompted the same protests from parents and school officials that have occurred recently in Boston. One state legislator challenged the order in the courts, arguing that it violated a state law against forced busing. A federal panel ruled most of the state law unconstitutional.

BOYCOTTS
A group called the Concerned Parents Association held rallies, distributed petitions and threatened boycotts. School officials said the order would disrupt the system and force the system to spend millions of dollars in transportation costs.

Public arguments centered around such issues as neighborhood schools and the safety of the children rather than on segregation.

"It's not that I don't want my children going to an integrated school," said one anti-busing leader at a 1970 rally. "I'm concerned about the distance. I don't think it

Project To Improve Water Is Succeeding

The Colorado River Municipal Water District's latest project to improve quality of water in Lake E. V. Spence apparently is succeeding, although it is difficult to assess accurately the degree.

At a cost of $182,000, the district installed a six-mile pipeline and pumping system to boost the content of two playa lakes, heavily laden with chlorides, back behind a natural dam 10 miles west of Big Spring. Three-Mile and Four-Mile Lakes empty, via One-Mile Lake, into Beal's Creek, a tributary of the Colorado River.

Prior to this lift-back operation inaugurated nearly a year ago, the two upper lakes had water with 35,000 to 44,000 ppm chlorides. During the summer, both were practically drained. Run off from autumn rains trapped in the two lakes has been reduced to 4,400 ppm. Currently, more than two million gallons a day are being pumped back from the two reservoirs, which has had the effect of virtually halting the spill from One-Mile Lake into Beal's Creek.

September and October rains which added 10 feet to the level of Lake E. V. Spence also about doubled the quality of the water. What role the Beal's Creek flow contributed to this is not certain, but O. H. Ivie, general manager of CRMWD is confident that it was considerable. He pointed to repeated heavy flows down the creek during that period. He is hopeful that the pump-back operation eventually will eliminate any spill from One-Mile Lake into Beal's Creek unless it comes from independent flow into that reservoir, in which case it would be relatively good water.

RALLIES
The ruling ended the rallies and the petitions but not the controversy. Since the 1970 order, thousands of affluent whites have enrolled their children in the county's 30 private schools, which now have a total enrollment of some 8,000. School authorities say fear of busing was one of the factors responsible for a decline of some 1,000 in the public system since last year. There are about 77,500 pupils in the system.

Although the drain continues, school officials believe it is tapering off and that whites are adjusting to the situation.

School board elections of the last three years point to a shift. A year after the Supreme Court ruling, two moderates were elected to the board after pledging to cooperate with the busing order. In an election last May, McNinch, one of the board's most vocal anti-busing members, was defeated for reelection.

MASS EXODUS
A citizens group was organized earlier this year to assist the board in drawing up a pupil assignment plan that would meet the standards laid down by the courts.

The board and Judge McMillan had been at odds over an assignment plan since the Supreme Court

Hawks Drop Galveston

GALVESTON — Show and tell time was presented here Tuesday night as Howard College started off the 1974-75 with a 110-80 winning note over Galveston.

The Hawks started off slow as several shots were missed but maintained an eight point half time advantage.

Marvin Giles blocked Galveston's three opening field goal shots. He ended with 10 saves for the night.

Howard College shaking off first game jitters increased the lead margin to 30 points in the first six minutes of second half play.

At 6:25 left on the final clock, Howard College broke the century mark. The Hawks up until that point had concentrated on the press. HC scored only nine remaining points of the game when the press was withdrawn.

Marvin Johnson led HC scorers with 28 points. Willie Young, David Giles and Alfred Gladden hit the Hawk nets for 12 points apiece.

Galveston's Clarence Watson was high point man, sacking 33 points.

Johnson was HC's leading rebounder with 17 followed closely by teammate's Ernest Lawrence's 15 total. Young performing well in HC's fast break tactics accumulated nine assists.

"We had a real good opening game, because we had the opportunity to get the butterflies out," said Harold Wilder, Hawk head coach.

"When it came time to play, we were able to control Galveston."

The Hawks face probably a tougher opponent in College of the Mainland at Texas City tonight. Game time is 7:30 p.m. and will be broadcast by two local Big Spring radio stations.

Howard College winds up the three game tour with Lake Jackson's Brazosport College Thursday night. The Hawks open their seasonal home stand Monday night against Cisco.

Garvey's Switch Pays Off

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A failure as a third baseman, Steve Garvey switched to first base in 1973 and has now been named the National League's Most Valuable Player for 1974.

The former Michigan State athlete beat out Lou Brock of the St. Louis Cardinals for the highest honors in the league.

"I hope to improve at first base," Garvey said on learning of the honor. "I'll not be satisfied with what I did this year."

What he did this year was to win MVP honors at the All-Star game, lead the Dodgers to the National League pennant and be voted the MVP in his league by baseball writers.

"We have one thing left — the World Series," declared Garvey, whose club lost to Oakland four games to one in this year's title event.

Garvey admitted the honor came as no surprise, figuring he and Brock, the new stolen bases king, would probably be the leading two.

"The biggest honor I received this year was a little baby girl," Garvey told a news conference. "But as far as professional baseball is concerned, this Most Valuable Player award has been the highlight of my life."

Garvey was playing in the World Series at Oakland when his wife, Cyndy, gave birth to their first child, a daughter named Krishna Lee.

Westbrook Drops Two

WESTBROOK — Garden City's Becky Hirt pumped in 39 points Tuesday night as she led the fem Bearcats to a 78-53 win over Westbrook's Wildcats.

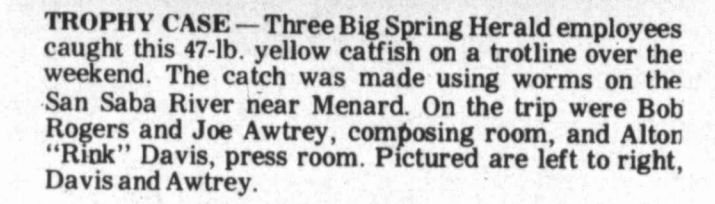

Garden City built up a 20-4 first quarter lead and widened it to a 40-15 half time lead. P. Moore led Westbrook in scoring with 25 points.

In the "B" game, Garden City came out on top 52-26 as Linda Schwartz scored 18 points for the visitors and J. King scored 10 points for Westbrook.

Garden City's boys and girls will play Westbrook again Friday night, with the "B" game beginning at 5 p.m.

COLLEGE ROUNDUP Angry Coach Looks Ahead

NEW YORK (AP) — Woody Hayes, gracious as ever, was the telephone guest at Iowa's weekly Tuesday press luncheon hosted by Coach Bob Comings.

The Ohio State coach was brief ... and to the point. "This is Coach Hayes and I have a statement — we'll be there Saturday."

Click! Thus, Comings got the message — as if he didn't already know it — that Hayes still was fuming over Saturday's controversial 16-13 loss to Michigan State.

"I wish Michigan State hadn't beaten them," Comings said. "The Buckeyes have to do a job on us this week for their game with Michigan to mean anything. We've got to be prepared to meet a very angry football team."

And a very angry coach. Ohio State ... 42-7.

Last week's score was 47 right — including the Upset Special — Georgia over Florida — 18 wrong and one tie for 723. For the season, the scoreboard reads 581-162-15-721.

Upset Special of the Week ... Indiana 21, Michigan State 20. Spartans have nowhere to go but down after that thriller with Ohio State.

Second Upset Special ... Cincinnati 14, Miami of Ohio 10: Nation's second longest unbeaten streak comes to an end at 21 games.

Oklahoma 34, Kansas 7: Sooners want to hold that No. 1 ranking, but they better not be looking ahead to Nebraska.

Notre Dame 27, Pitt 14: Irish remember how Tony Dorsett ran wild against them last year.

Alabama 35, Miami, Fla. 0: Crimson Tide hasn't allowed a touchdown in three games.

Michigan 28, Purdue 7: Bring on Ohio State! Nebraska 41, Kansas State 6: Bring on Oklahoma! Auburn 17, Georgia 14: Bring on Alabama!

Southern California 42, Washington 14: Trojans pick up where Cal left off.

Florida 21, Kentucky 14: If Sonny Collins were available it might have a different ending.

Rangers Split 2

GREENWOOD — The Greenwood Rangers split a pair of games with Lubbock Christ The King Tuesday night as the boys lost 75-65, but the girls took a big win 83-39.

Terressa Smith scored 33 points and Capri Kimbrow scored 29 as the girls romped over CTK for their fifth win against a single loss so far this season.

In the boys contest, Danny Pruitt led the home team with 28 points while Rami Quintana scored 19 points for CTK. Their record was dropped to a 3-2 mark.

Both teams will play again Friday night as they travel to Ira.

Baylor's Caller Honored

By The Associated Press
Baylor quarterback Neal Jeffrey was guest speaker Sunday morning at the Beverly Hills Baptist Church in Waco. The subject: "Not quitting in life."

Jeffrey, a senior from Overland Park, Kan., ought to know. He and the rest of his Bear teammates had every chance in the world to sneak out of Baylor Stadium at halftime last Saturday.

Texas was ahead 24-7 and there were some folks who expected it to get worse.

"Things looked bleak but we really still thought we could win," said Jeffrey.

"We sat around. Everyone was real quiet. Coach (Grant) Teaff walked in and said 'We've won games in the second half before, haven't we? Let's go.'"

Jeffrey threw two touchdown passes and completed 20 of 31 passes for 351 yards to earn The Associated Press Southwest Conference Offensive Player of the Week award.

Jeffrey was so excited about the victory he couldn't sleep.

"I just kept replaying the game over and over," Jeffrey said. "It must have been 4 a.m. or so before I finally got to sleep."

Jeffrey, who has a speech impediment that crops up when he gets excited, said "You know it was almost a miracle that I didn't have any trouble. I had some trouble against Missouri and Oklahoma State earlier this year."

Not only didn't Jeffrey have any trouble calling signals, but he changed plays twice at the line of scrimmage on audibles.

"Everywhere we were there he was," said Texas A&M Coach Emory Bellard. "That's one guy we didn't expect to see make a tackle on a screen pass. He was all over the field."

Kelcher made 16 unassisted tackles, 8 assisted tackles and recovered a fumble to lead SMU to a 18-14 upset of the fifth-ranked Aggies. The performance earned Kelcher The Associated Press National Lineman of the Week award.

"I've never seen a defensive lineman have a greater game in all my years of coaching," said SMU Coach Dave Smith. "Texas A&M runs a reverse screen and Louie stops the ball carrier for a one-yard gain... unbelievable."

Kelcher's A&M game was no fluke. He has played the season with an almost fanatical zeal.

Last year Kelcher was the all-nothing team. He came in overweight at 290 pounds, promptly injured an ankle and never regained the quickness he displayed when he was an All-Southwest Conference defensive tackle as a sophomore.

"I did a lot of talking last year and decided I would just let my actions on the field speak for me this season," Kelcher said.

TOP PLAYER — Southern Methodist University's middle guard, Louie Kelcher, ties up his size 16 EEE shoes as he gets ready for practice Tuesday. Kelcher was named Defensive Player of the Week by The Associated Press for his play against Texas A&M last Saturday. Kelcher used his mammoth shoes to track down A&M ball carrier: 24 times and made 16 unassisted tackles and recovered a fumble on SMU's 14 yard line. Kelcher is a 6-5, 270-pound senior from Beaumont.

Kelcher's Trick Earns Him Honor

DALLAS (AP) — Texas A&M's Cadets worked up a cute little trick play Saturday to try more than anything to get Southern Methodist noseguard Louie Kelcher off their backs.

The halfback handed off to the quarterback who faked a pass in one direction then flicked a little screen pass to the opposite side of the field to the waiting arms of speedster Carl Roaches.

The 6-foot-5, 270-pound Kelcher was there—like he had been all day—and mashed Roaches for but a yard gain.

"Everywhere we were there he was," said Texas A&M Coach Emory Bellard. "That's one guy we didn't expect to see make a tackle on a screen pass. He was all over the field."

Kelcher made 16 unassisted tackles, 8 assisted tackles and recovered a fumble to lead SMU to a 18-14 upset of the fifth-ranked Aggies. The performance earned Kelcher The Associated Press National Lineman of the Week award.

Hayes' Tirade Upsets Big 10

CHICAGO (AP) — Woody Hayes, Ohio State's controversial Big Ten football coaching dean, has become the first victim of the conference's new Sportsmanlike Conduct Code.

Hayes, for his tirade following his top-ranked Buckeyes' 16-13 upset at Michigan State, was publicly reprimanded Tuesday by Conference Commissioner Wayne Duke and warned a one-game suspension will follow any repetition of his "unsportsmanlike conduct."

Hayes berated game officials and Michigan State tactics after Ohio State failed to beat the clock with a last-second touchdown try which caused the East Lansing, Mich., contest to end in confusion and bedlam.

Duke's ruling was based on a new code approved by the conference last summer "to curtail the undesirable trends which have earmarked all of intercollegiate athletics."

Hayes, in his 24th Buckeye season, was furious after Ohio State's Brian Baschnagel scooped up a fumbled snap and darted into the end zone only to have the apparent winning touchdown cancelled because time ran out.

Hayes blasted the officials for not calling a timeout when a big pileup was slow unangling after the preceding play. Not only were Michigan State players stalling in getting back on defense, Hayes charged, but they also grabbed and held Ohio State players to prevent their lining up for the crucial last play.

"The officials were remiss," Hayes said. "You never have any explanation from them. They are not to be found any place." The official result was not announced until a lengthy post-game conference between Duke and the officials.

Duke said Hayes had "expressed publicly" his support of the new code directed against "any person who publicly is unduly critical of any game official, conference personnel, another member institution or its personnel."

Duke said he would have to study the new code further to determine if it applied only to the current season or future seasons as far as the second offense and a one-game suspension is concerned.

Hayes, whose Buckeyes dropped to fourth place in The Associated Press poll, sends his club against Iowa next Saturday at Iowa City.

POSSIBLE MERGER CFL Ideas Changing

By The Associated Press
The World Football League, getting more notoriety for its off-field shenanigans than for its on-field performances, begins the final week of its first year of regular-season play tonight, with most of the games virtually meaningless.

Instead of attention being focused on the playing fields, it is being directed to the myriad troubles off the gridiron, with these results:

—A member of the Canadian Parliament asked the government Tuesday to authorize possible merger talks between the Canadian Football League and the WFL. Otto Jelinek, a conservative, said CFL attendance and the league's standard of play were declining and that a merger with the WFL might be the only way to stop CFL disintegration. He asked Health Minister Marc Lalonde in the Commons if the government would reverse its stand on banning the WFL, which originally intended to operate a Toronto franchise, from Canada.

—John Bassett, chairman of the WFL's executive committee and principal owner of the Memphis Southmen, said the league planned to move its games from midweek to weekends next season. "We'll work out something so that we don't interfere with the colleges, and we won't worry about the future of the franchise possibly would be decided next week. Barton commented after a meeting with Donald Regan, acting WFL commissioner. Bob Hazen, a Portland savings and loan executive, is heading a campaign to keep the franchise in Portland.

—A group of Jacksonville businessmen reportedly were negotiating for the WFL's defunct Jacksonville Sharks. The debt-ridden Sharks ceased operations last month after playing only 12 games of the scheduled 20-game season.

—Officials of the Shreveport Steamer admitted inflated attendance figures for the team were kept quiet because a difficult stock sale was being conducted.

—A Honolulu newspaper reported that the Hawaii, Memphis and Philadelphia teams recently paid $50,000 each to Chicago owner Tom Origer in an effort to keep the Fire in the league for the entire season. Reportedly, the deal was made after Origer threatened to withdraw his team from the league with three games remaining.

—The Charlotte Hornets got back their road uniforms and other equipment, which had been impounded in Shreveport last week after a court order was issued against the team for more than $26,000 in debts incurred before the club moved from New York to Charlotte.

—The Birmingham Americans owe Jefferson County, Ala., some $14,000, the city of Birmingham another $14,000 and the State of Alabama some $90,000, all in sales taxes. A team spokesman said he did not know when the bills would be paid.

Oh yes, the games: tonight, Portland at Hawaii, Shreveport at Birmingham, and Charlotte at Memphis; Thursday, Florida at Southern California.

Margaret Ray Is Top County Vote Getter

Mrs. Margaret Ray, county clerk-elect, received more votes than anyone else in Howard County in the general election, a canvass announced by the county clerk's office Tuesday.

With 6,833 voting, Mrs. Ray drew 5,891 votes, or 86 per cent. She will succeed Mrs. Pauline Petty, who was appointed county clerk in January, 1953, and won over election since.

Mrs. Petty is retiring. Mrs. Ray has been a deputy county clerk about 20 years and has served as chief deputy for 14 years.

Getting the next highest Howard County vote totals were two other unopposed candidates, Mrs. Frances Glenn earned 5,834 for county treasurer, and Omar Burleson drew 5,810 votes for re-election to the U.S. Congress.

Mrs. Peggy Crittenden was indicated the district clerk election on 5,803 ballots. But M. Fern Cox, the incumbent district clerk who lost the Democratic nomination to her by one vote, was written in for election by 74.

C. R. Crim, named Democratic nominee for county surveyor, was checked by 5,680, and District Judge Ralph W. Caton won with 5,596 Howard County votes.

OPTIMIST WINNERS — Doug Robison, Marie Buckner, Bubba Stripling and Forsan and Kathy Brown and Alan Roman from Coahoma received youth appreciation trophies at the Morning Optimist Club here this morning.

Youth Appreciation Awards Passed Out

Eight Big Spring High School and area students were presented Youth Appreciation awards at the regular meeting of the Morning Optimist Club this morning.

The trophies will be officially presented at Friday night's football games as part of Optimist Youth Appreciation Week. Tom Yates made the presentations this morning. Larry Willard is president of the club.

One student from each class at the high school was honored including Doug Robison, senior; Annabeth Deats, junior; Bubba Stripling, sophomore; and Marie Buckner, freshman.

From Coahoma was one senior boy and girl, including Alan Roman and Kathy Brown. From Forsan, the senior boy and girl included Tim Yeats and Dorothy Banks.

Each was cited for their all-around participation. Robison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frosty Robison, has a long list of honors dating back to the seventh grade and during his final two years in high school include vice president and then president of the student council, varsity football, baseball, explorer scout, Eagle scout, student council delegate to state convention, Methodist District youth president, junior favorite, Who's Who, sports editor for El Rodeo, Latin Club, Hi-Y and traffic committee. He also is in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and was president of both his freshman and sophomore classes.

Annabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Deats, also has a long list of honors including ten years of piano auditions, two years in the all-region choir, member of National Honor Society, accompanist for Meister-singers, organist at Wesley Methodist Church, two years in the Goldiggers, winner in the Baptist Hymn festival and Division I winner in piano three years and voice one. She is also in the Library Club and Latin Club and served on the student council as a freshman.

Stripling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hayes F. Stripling, is currently on the student council and in basketball. When a freshman, he played football and basketball, served on the council, was president of his class and was a delegate at the state student council convention.

Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Buckner, is in the girl's choir, a ninth grade cheerleader. Tri-Hi-Y, is a girl scout and won many junior high honors.

COAHOMA WINNERS
From Coahoma, Kathy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brown, was the high ranking junior scholastically, is in Spanish Club, Chess Club, annual staff, newspaper staff, treasurer of the National Honor Society, and was a member of the 1974 district doubles tennis championship team.

Roman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Roman, is editor of the annual district tennis champ as a junior, sophomore class favorite, OEA president, junior class vice president, senior class president, senior class friendliest boy, member of Coahoma 4-H, president of youth council at Coahoma Baptist Church, and attended the Texas Farm Bureau Youth Citizenship seminar in Waco. He is also the senior class friendliest boy.

DEATHS

Inez Tyra
LAMESA — Services for Willie Inez Tyra, 88, of Lamesa, were held at 10 a.m. today in the First Baptist Church Chapel in Lamesa. The Rev. Bill Hardage, pastor, will officiate.

Burial was to follow in Murray Cemetery under direction of Branon Funeral Home of Lamesa after services at 4 p.m. The Rev. Glenn Bridges, a Baptist minister, will officiate.

A native of Young County, Mrs. Tyra was a 51-year resident of Lamesa. She died at 7:20 p.m. Monday at Lamesa Medical Arts Hospital, following an extended illness.

She was a 76-year member of the First Baptist Church of Lamesa and a member of the Rebecca Lodge.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. B. R. McCasland of Tulsa, Mrs. G. T. Reed and Mrs. J. D. McAmis, both of Lamesa; two sons, Jess W. Tyra of Post and Gene Tyra of Lamesa; her sister, Mrs. Ruby Myers of New Castle; her brother, Bert Walsh of Pampa; 13 grandchildren and 21 great-grandchildren.

Grandsons served as pallbearers.

Charlie Pachall
Funeral services are pending at River Welch Funeral Home for Charles R. (Charlie) Pachall, D. V. M., 38, who died early today in a Pasadena hospital after a week's illness. He had lived in the Pasadena area six years.

Born Dec. 8, 1935 in Big Spring, he was a graduate of BSHS and Texas A&M University. He was a member of the Lutheran Church and an Air Force veteran. He was preceded in death by a brother, Gilbert, in 1970.

Survivors include his wife, May of Pasadena, one daughter, Janeth, Pasadena; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walt Pachall of Big Spring, and a brother, Ted Pachall of Big Spring.

Many Write-In Votes Enter In Election

Some Howard County voters weren't content to check squares on ballots at the general election. They wrote in names and not just in the county judge race.

One of the write-in races centered over offices not even listed on the ballot, that of constable.

Lee E. Young was elected constable of justice precinct one in 1970, and his term expires Jan. 1, 1975.

Bill Westbrook got votes for constable positions in two justice precincts, one and two.

In justice precinct two, a now vacant constables position, Westbrook was named three times.

And in justice precinct one, Westbrook attracted four votes. Here, John G. Edwards edged Westbrook with five votes.

Neither men won election to either post, however. State law requires that a write-in candidate for positions not listed on the ballot must grab half of all voting at a general election to win.

County Commissioners Court has authorized a salary of $1 per year, and a bond is required.

A. G. Mitchell, who announced as a write-in candidate, secured more votes than any other write-in, 937. Another incumbent defeated in the May Democratic Primary, M. Fern Cox, was counted on 74 ballots.

Incumbent County Commissioner Bill Bennett, who lost in the Democratic Primary runoff, was named for a variety of positions, like others, indicating that some possibly wrote on the wrong line.

Shirley White, who made an unsuccessful bid for the Democratic nomination for county clerk, was written in. Merle Stroup, unsuccessful challenger to incumbent Commissioner Jack Buchanan received write-ins. And Mary Thomas, who lost in the first Democratic Primary, drew votes.

Prominent persons getting write-ins included Sammy Davis Jr., who was named once for governor; John Connally for U.S. representative; and Emory Bellard, Texas A&M football coach, for governor. A number of local lawyers were named once or twice for district judge.

Write-in candidates listed below received one vote in the box unless otherwise specified:

Box 1 A. G. Mitchell, county judge; 56: Bill Bennett, county surveyor; Ben Deanda, justice of the peace, precinct one, place 2; and Bob West, JP 1-2.

2 — A. G. Mitchell, county judge; 81: Jim Baum, county judge; Hugh Rhyne, county judge; Jim Baum, county surveyor; Marshall, county judge; Fern Cox, district judge; A. G. Mitchell, district judge; Lou Ann Abernathy, county clerk; A. G. Mitchell, JP 1-2; Bill Westbrook, precinct one constable; 2; and John G. Edwards, precinct one constable, 2.

3 — John Connally, U.S. representative; Bill Bell, lieutenant governor; Kent Morgan, attorney general; Walt Finley, state representative; Mary Thomas, state representative; George Thomas, district judge; Harvey C. Hooser, district judge; A. G. Mitchell, county judge; 81: Fern Cox, district clerk; 10: Neal Barnabe, county surveyor; 2: Mike Alexander, county surveyor; Bob West, JP 1-2; S. C. Nabors, JP 1-2; and John Edwards, precinct one constable, 2.

4 — A. G. Mitchell, county judge; 58: George Thomas, district judge; 1; and A. G. Mitchell, county judge; 28.

7 — Wayne Burns, district judge; and A. G. Mitchell, county judge; 26.

8 — A. G. Mitchell, county judge; 57; A. G. Mitchell, county treasurer; A. G. Mitchell, JP 1-2; Fern Cox, district clerk; Eddie Lee Harper, JP 1-2.

9 — A. G. Mitchell, district judge; 2; A. N. Standard, county judge; 3; A. G. Mitchell, county judge; 47; Fern Cox, district clerk; 6; Bill Bennett, precinct 2 commissioner; Ralph White, precinct two commissioner; Bill Read, precinct two commissioner; 2; and Lee Hogg, precinct two JP.

10 — Preston Smith, governor; and A. G. Mitchell, county judge, 11.

11 — A. G. Mitchell, county judge; 40; and Fern Cox, district clerk, 5.

12 — A. G. Mitchell, county judge; 24; and Fern Cox, district clerk, 3.

13 and 14 — R. H. Weaver, district judge; A. G. Mitchell, county judge, 51; and Fern Cox, district clerk, 6.

Costly Rug Is Recovered

A large brown bear rug, valued by its owner at $5,000, was recovered at a local pawn shop by police detectives. It is part of stolen property from Arlington and will be returned there.

An investigation is being conducted locally in connection with the pawning of the stolen property, according to police detectives.

Goat Missing, Woman Says

Somebody got her goat. Mrs. Alvin Gilbert, 903 W. 6th, told police that a female goat, solid white with long horns, disappeared from its pen between 1 and 3 p.m. Tuesday. She valued the animal at $30.

Deposed Editor Leaving UTPB

ODESSA — Joel Asbery, deposed as editor of the University of Texas at the Permian Basin publication, "The Windmill," said he would not accept another position with the school.

Asbery was removed as editor after he printed a letter from a student who was critical of the firing of the University of Texas at Austin president, Dr. Stephen H. Spurr.

Asbery was offered a job writing for the campus library but said he planned to leave the University at the end of the current semester in December.

Deaths

Mary Leshar

Mrs. VERTAY (MARY) Leshar, 63, mother of Sports Editor Clark Leshar, of the Big Spring Herald, died at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday at the San Francis Hospital in Tulsa, Okla., after undergoing heart surgery. She had entered the hospital five days previous to her death.

Services have tentatively been set for 3:15 p.m., Thursday at Arnold Moore Mortuary at Bartlesville, Okla.

Mrs. Leshar was born in Chillicothe, Mo. She and her husband had made their home in the Bartlesville area the past 33 years.

Survivors in addition to the husband and Clark, include another son, Mark Leshar of Texarkana, and three grandchildren.

Ruth Edwards

Services for Ruth Roberts Edwards, 75, who died in a local hospital Monday, will be at 2 p.m. today in the St. Mary's Episcopal Church. Burial will follow in Trinity Memorial Park.

Survivors include a brother, Ralford Roberts, Big Spring, four grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. She was preceded in death by her husband, Will Knox Edwards, and two children, Will K. (Bill) Edwards Jr., and Bobba Edwards Harper. Pallbearers will be R. H. Weaver, Billy MacSheppard, Ralph Smith, Richard Atkins; Wayne Burns, John Marshall, David Walker and Dan Plowman.

Century 21 Shorthand Is Topic Of Workshop

LUBBOCK — Century 21 Shorthand, a new system designed to be easier to learn and to write than other shorthand systems, will be the topic of a workshop at Texas Tech University Nov. 16.

Registration for the workshop will be at 8:30 a.m. and sessions will be from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in LH 202 of the Business Administration Building.

Richard E. Adams, senior editor at South-Western Publishing Co., Cincinnati, Ohio, will conduct the workshop for high school business teachers, college students, secretaries and interested business employees. The workshop is sponsored by the Texas Tech Chapter of the National Collegiate Association for Secretaries.

The Century 21 Shorthand System is a blend of tested and proved learning and communication principles designed to produce maximum shorthand skills in a minimum of time, according to Dr. Irol Balsley, professor of Education of Texas Tech.

"The system has been under development for more than a decade," Balsley said. "Careful research using modern methods and experimental trials in high schools and colleges has been used to refine the system. The new system is easier to learn, easier to write and easier to transcribe than other systems."

Dr. Balsley is one of 12 authors who contributed to the development of the system.

Interested persons are invited to preregister for the workshop by calling Dr. Balsley at 742-7263 no later than Nov. 12. There will be a $1 registration fee for the workshop.

Make Sure Of Heirs

Make certain the right person is beneficiary on your GI insurance policy, is the Veterans Administration reminder to five million veterans covered under its government life insurance program.

Otherwise, you may add to emotional stress of survivors when it is discovered the intended beneficiary was not named on the policy. VA Regional Director Jack Coker explained.

In such cases, VA is obligated by law to pay insurance proceeds to the beneficiary of record. Most of the agency's insureds are World War II veterans who carry National Service Life Insurance.

The problem of insurance benefits going to an unintended recipient arises in most instances because the veteran simply never gets around to changing his beneficiary, Coker said.

In a typical case, the veteran named his mother as beneficiary when he first took out his policy. When he married, he forgot to notify VA that he wished to change his beneficiary. Besides emotional stress, the result often is unwarranted financial hardship, especially for his widow and young children.

Coker urges any veteran who wishes to ascertain or change his beneficiary to contact the VA insurance center to which he pays his premiums — either in Philadelphia or St. Paul.

'THE GUN' TONIGHT Uncommonly Good Drama With An Unlikely Star

NEW YORK (AP) — Set aside 90 minutes tonight for "The Gun," a made-for-TV movie appearing on ABC. It's an uncommonly good drama with an unlikely star — a 38-caliber revolver.

The question the show poses is simple: What happens to one gun after it leaves the manufacturer? But the answers that come in a finely-sketched series of vignettes may leave viewers wondering if any handgun should be allowed in the civilian marketplace at all.

The revolver in tonight's show is seen in a variety of roles — as a deadly instrument of self-protection, of quick profit, of mental illness, of crime, of innocent sport and finally of accidental tragedy.

The gun-watch covers a period of about four years, starting with the revolver's first owner, a wealthy, middle-aged clothing manufacturer who buys the piece for $68.50.

His home has been burglarized, we soon learn, and he wants the artillery for protection of his family.

He knows nothing about guns and is initially hesitant about buying one until an earnest salesman at a gun shop convinces him the revolver is entirely safe when handled properly.

All one really needs to do, the salesman says, is take about an hour's worth of lessons from a qualified firearms instructor.

"There's nothing complicated about it," he says of the gun. "It's just a piece of machinery like your car." The customer's wife subsequently persuades him to get rid of the revolver, which he does by giving it to an elderly guard at his plant — with all the proper transfer forms filled out, of course.

The guard promptly hocks the gun. Whereupon an emotionally disturbed junior executive type forcibly acquires the revolver, paying for it while telling the pawnshop owner at gunpoint he can't wait the five days state law requires for the transfer of handguns.

Turns out the executive, grippingly portrayed by David Huffman, has lost his marbles because he can't cope with the stress of losing his job in a personnel cut-back at the corporation for which he works.

And, in one of the most quietly chilling scenes I've ever seen on TV, he takes the loaded gun to a downtown plaza filled with office workers at lunch, to act out a silent fantasy of revenge.

Fortunately, there's no bloodshed. But even after his capture, the gun still isn't under lock and key. It's illegally acquired by two other men — one for family protection, the other for crime.

And even when police finally seize and put it in a collection of weapons earmarked for destruction, the gun survives, taken home by a truck driver for use in target practice.

Forecasting Light Snow

By The Associated Press

One of the sharpest northers so far this season whistled southward today for a raid into Texas.

Official forecasters said that in addition to dropping temperatures, the blast of chilled Canadian air might bring a little light snow the north part of the Texas Panhandle and neighboring sections of New Mexico and Oklahoma.

HILL'S LEGAL OPINION Could Change Aid Mix To Finance Schools

AUSTIN (AP) — Atty. Gen. John Hill issued a legal opinion Tuesday that could drastically change the mix of state aid and local property taxes used to finance public schools in many districts.

Hill said that in computing each district's local share of basic school costs, called the Foundation School Program, taxable property should be evaluated equally across the state.

If implemented immediately, the opinion could raise the state aid received by some school districts and reduce it in others.

Assessed property valuations of a county amount to 20 per cent of the formula used by the State Board of Education for determining how much state aid the county's districts need to run at least a minimum education program.

The ratio of these valuations varies widely from county to county. Hill quoted State Education Commissioner Marlin Brockette's letter requesting the opinion as saying: "Some school districts contend that the disparity in the assessments by the county tax assessor-collector vary from 3 per cent to 100 per cent of fair market value."

Hill said the education commissioner has the authority to compel the county tax assessor-collector to report what percentages of market value they use in assessing property values for taxation.

He said the education commissioner then should use this information to equalize the property value data

BS Trio Will Be At Meeting

COLORADO CITY — Three speakers from Big Spring will be on the program here Thursday 7 p.m. when the local branch of the Arthritis Foundation holds a public meeting.

They are Dr. Wm. A. Riley, rheumatologist, and medical council chairman for the West Texas chapter of the American Arthritis Foundation, who will discuss symptoms, diagnosis and treatment of arthritic ailments; Dr. Pete Rhymes, orthopedic surgeon, who will talk about surgery to remedy or minimize immobilizing effects of the disease; and Kirby Horton, physical therapist, who will talk about exercise and similar treatments.

Dr. Riley is due to participate Friday in annual West Texas chapter meeting at South Park Inn in Lubbock. Dr. Robert H. Perseillin, chairman of the department of rheumatology, University of Texas Health Science center, in San Antonio, will be the featured speaker.

Age-Old Problem, Says Don Crockett

Don Crockett, local school business manager, upon hearing of the Attorney General's ruling said, "This is an age-old problem that's already been studied in ten sessions of the legislature."

"Ideally, they would like to obtain a common market value, but it's almost an utter impossibility. Even two appraisers would come up with two different answers and you're talking about literally thousands of appraisers in thousands of districts."

"Howard County has a unique situation in that all agencies operate on a so-called market value. Many counties have several groups and several market values within their counties.

"I really don't think anything will change in either direction any time soon."

Barron Kidd Exploration Is Slated

Barron Kidd No. 1-39 Spade Ranch has been filed as an 8,000 exploration in Southern Mitchell County, a replacement for a previously scheduled test.

It will be 1,980 from the northeast and northwest lines of section 39-16, SPRR, three miles northeast of the Elwood (Yates) field. It replaces the previously staked Kidd No. 22-16 Spade Ranch, 1320 from the northeast and northwest lines of section 22-16, SPRR, which was five miles northeast of the field.

In Dawson County, Mitchell Energy No. 1 Waldrop prepared to resume drilling after an unproductive 1 1/4-hour drillstem test from 8,830-70. Recovery was 3,400 feet of formation water and 800 feet of fresh water blanket.

Samedan No.1 Durham, Sterling wildcat, was at 6,705 in shale. Texaco No. 1 McEntire prepared to acidize new perforation from 2,233-252.

James P. Dunigan No. 1-528 Miller will be a three-fourths miles northeast offset to the three-well reopened Hood-Pennsylvanian field in Borden. The 8,500-foot venture will be 1,980 from the north and 467 from the west lines of section 527-97H&TC.

Fees Differ, Council Told

"Getting a locked abandoned car" down off the top of a hill that has no road, out of the mud without tearing the car up is not a normal pulling-in of an abandoned car."

This statement was made at City Council here this morning by Lloyd's Wrecking Service after a complaint had been made by long distance phone with Mayor Pro-Tem Eddie Acry by a finance company in another state about what they called an exorbitant wrecker fee.

Lloyd said the fee had not yet even been set although $100 had been quoted. He brought pictures to show that the car was atop a hill within the city limits with the wrecker having to go over the top of cedar trees to get it out at all.

During the course of the discussion, Lloyd pointed out, "This is not the normal fee." He turned to Acry, "Just like your cleaning shop charges more to clean a wedding dress than a plain dress," and turned to Councilman Harold Hall and said, "Or your lawnmower shop would have charged more to fix a mashed lawnmower than one that just needed a sparkplug."

Fuss Over Dog, Sparks Shooting

FRANKSTON, Tex. (AP) — Carl Davis, 28, was shot to death Monday night during an argument over alleged mistreatment of a dog, sheriff's officers said.

The Dodge Boys proudly announce a new 12-month unlimited mileage warranty.

Here's "the Clincher!"

"For the first 12 months of use, any Chrysler Motors Corporation Dealer will fix, without charge for parts or labor, any part of our 1975 passenger cars we supply (except tires) which proves defective in normal use, regardless of mileage."

Of course, the owner is responsible for maintenance service such as changing filters and wiper blades.
