LUFTHANSA 747 JUMBO JET LIKE THIS CRASHED NEAR NAIROBI, KENYA
More than 50 persons aboard West German plane killed

Death Toll Hits 55 In Jet Crash

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — A German jumbo jetliner crashed and burned today on take off from Nairobi airport and Lufthansa officials said 55 persons were dead and six missing. It was the first fatal plunge of a Boeing 747.

The West German airline's Nairobi manager, Helmuth Wolff, said 96 of the 157 persons aboard survived the crash. Fifty of these, he said, were virtually unhurt.

At least two Americans were among the survivors, Lufthansa's Frankfurt office reported. They were identified as Susan Mary Seaholm of San Pedro, Calif., and Thomas Scott, whose home town was not immediately known.

Wolff said there were 139 passengers aboard, most of them Germans, and 18 crew members. He said previous death figures announced by Kenya's communications minister, Omolo Okero, were incorrect.

Lufthansa said they had no immediate indication of the cause of the crash, but added that the jumbo jet's flight recorder had been recovered.

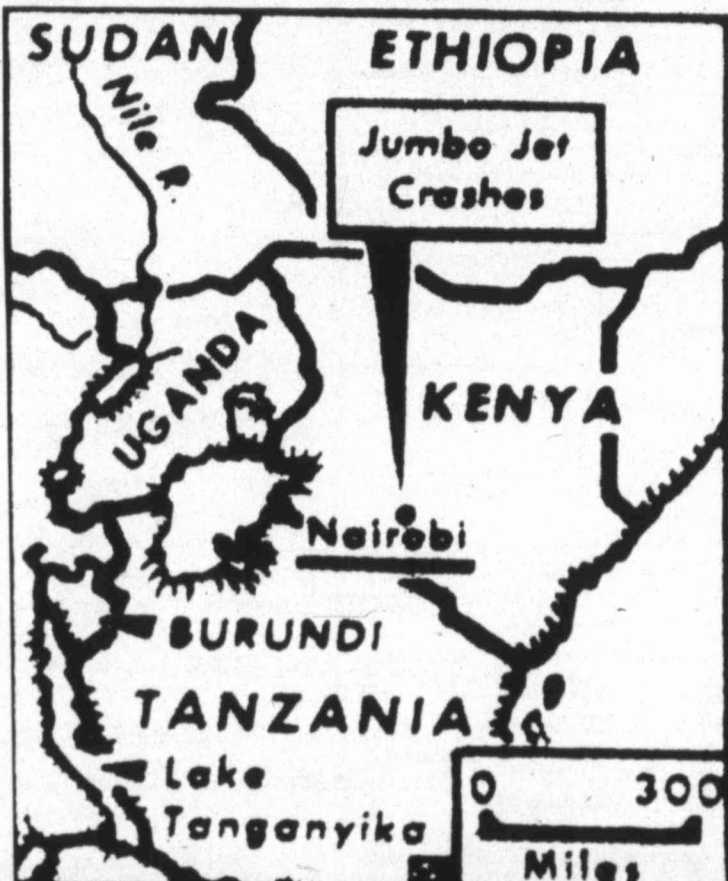

drop," Hackbadth said. "It then just fell to the ground. I really don't know what happened next. The next thing I knew I was lying in the grass in the field."

The West German Foreign Ministry said its embassy in Nairobi reported that 30 of the survivors were unhurt. Lufthansa's Cologne headquarters said it had received word that 44 survived and hoped more survivors would be reported.

A Lufthansa official in Johannesburg said there were 90 survivors, 70 of them uninjured.

There have been a number of minor incidents involving the 747, but today's disaster was the first major crash of the giant plane, which went into service in January 1970.

Witnesses and survivors pieced together this account of unusual conditions that apparently played a large part in the crash:

SITE OF CRASH — Map locates Nairobi, Kenya, where a Lufthansa Airlines Boeing 747 jumbo jet crashed as it took off Wednesday.

Witnesses said the plane apparently lost power shortly after take off on the final leg of a Frankfurt to Johannesburg, South Africa, flight and its tail section struck an embankment, breaking the plane into a dozen pieces.

A policeman said the Lufthansa pilot emerged from the cockpit saying: "It has happened." He said a stewardess in shock kept tearing her hair, and screaming. Official sources said five members of the crew survived, including the pilot and copilot.

Associated Press reporter Alfred Araujo said the smell of burned flesh hung heavy over the crumpled fuselage. He said money, letters, handbags, dolls and human limbs were scattered on the muddy plain, spewed from the wreckage.

R. S. Virdee, a Lufthansa employee who saw the crash, said, "The plane reached an altitude of not more than 200 feet when it appeared to lose altitude. It started sinking and fell to the ground."

"It hit a large embankment and went plowing through the field. The tail section came apart and burst into flames. The rest of the plane was totally disintegrated."

A survivor, 36-year-old Horst Hackbadth of Cape Town, South Africa, said he was sitting in the middle section.

"The plane started to

Building Total Up

Building permits in the city of Big Spring have already risen above $640,000 for the first portion of November, which is as high as some year's totals were here in past years.

Apparently recession in construction have not reached Big Spring. The list thus far this month includes the $279,600 building permit for the new Colorado River Water Municipal District offices and a $250,000 residence for D. L. Dorland. The Dorland residence will be constructed on eight lots in a full block of the Coronado Hills addition at 711 Belvedere R.

The list also includes $50,000 permit for phase one of improvements at Security State Bank, $50,000 for new units at the Sandra Gale apartments; $10,000 for improvements at Gil's Fried Chicken; and a $42,500 residence at No. 7 Glenwick Cove for Richard Risk, being constructed by Worthy Construction.

Mitchell Refused To Be The Patsy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Watergate cover-up trial jury today heard another chapter in a continuing saga: How John Mitchell refused to take the blame for Watergate despite presidential pressure that he do so.

The jurors were transported back in time again through reels of tape, to April 14, 1973 when John D. Ehrlichman reported how Mitchell received the Richard Nixon suggestion that he accept the Watergate heat.

"He lobbed mudballs at every opportunity," Ehrlichman is heard telling Nixon after his unsuccessful effort.

"He is an innocent man in his heart and in his mind and he does not intend to move off that position," Ehrlichman reported.

"He said if I'm indicted it is going to be very hard ... but I can't let people get away with this kind of thing ... I am just going to have to defend myself every way I can."

April 14, 1973, was a Saturday — the beginning of a weekend in which Nixon was totally occupied with the Watergate scandal that then was hitting the pressure point with then-White House Counsel John W. Dean III and 1972 Nixon campaign aide Jeb Stuart Magruder spilling the story to prosecutors.

In addition to the Ehrlichman report in his mid-day meeting with Mitchell, the jury was also to hear an 11 p.m. telephone conversation between the president and H. R. Haldeman and a subsequent phone call between the president and Ehrlichman.

This is the eighth week of the trial of Ehrlichman, Mitchell, Haldeman and reelection committee aides Robert C. Mardian and Kenneth W. Parkinson on cover-up conspiracy charges.

Arrest Follows Vicious Attack On Nine-Year-Old

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A 9-year-old boy was stabbed 19 times in the back and sexually assaulted, officers reported, and a husky 16-year-old was arrested Tuesday at Highlands High School.

Homicide Lt. Dave Keene said arrest of the youth followed a tip from children and neighbors in the Highland Hills area where the incident occurred.

The teen-ager was turned over to juvenile authorities.

He was sought in connection with the attack Monday of Matthew Stephens who was listed in satisfactory condition at Wilford Hall USAF Hospital.

Hospital officials reported the boy was almost paralyzed in the right arm and right leg.

Young Stephens was attacked while playing in a wooded area with a companion, police reported.

He was grabbed by a teenager who disrobed him, sexually assaulted him and then stabbed him, police said. Roger Galan, 12, the boy's companion, ran for help when the older boy grabbed Stephens, according to police.

Demolition Derby Held With New Automobiles

DALLAS (AP) — Police are still looking for intruders who cut their way into a new car storage area and proceeded to hold a "private" demolition derby with thirty-seven 1975 Fords.

The price tag was estimated at $100,000.

The scene of the vandalism was Maher Bros., Inc.'s, new car storage in the Oak Cliff section of Dallas.

Police said during the weekend as many as five persons cut the fence and broke into a storage area where the keys to the new cars were kept. Then the automobiles were driven into each other. Five buildings were also damaged.

Witnesses to the event were two guard dogs who apparently turned cowardly at the sight of the massive demolition display.

Police said the dogs were found hiding when employees arrived for work Monday.

Imprisonment For Users Of Marijuana Opposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Removal of jail penalties for marijuana smokers is favored by the present and former chief White House spokesmen on drug abuse.

Dr. Robert L. DuPont, director of the Special Action Office for Drug Abuse Prevention, indicated Tuesday that he opposes imprisonment but favors a "policy of discouragement" of marijuana use.

The jurors spent Tuesday listening to earlier April 14, 1973, conversations among Nixon, Haldeman and Ehrlichman.

Chrysler Laying Off 64,200 In December

DETROIT (AP) — The Chrysler Corp. has announced thousands of additional layoffs, raising to 64,200 the number of its employees scheduled to be off their jobs in December.

Chrysler said Tuesday it was laying off 35,500 workers temporarily and 8,400 indefinitely, closing all but one of its six U.S. car plants and making "extreme cutbacks" at 42 manufacturing plants from the day before Thanksgiving until Jan. 6.

The firm said the action is aimed at cutting its inventory of unsold cars.

The firm is the nation's seventh largest with a total blue-collar work force of 105,000. With 22,000 workers currently on indefinite layoff, the total effect of the layoffs will be to put 64,200 out of work in December, or about 61 per cent of the Chrysler work force.

Some 95,000 auto workers are on layoffs this week, including 37,000 indefinitely at General Motors, 10,425 at Ford, and 16,000 at Chrysler.

The total Big Three work force is 650,000, down from 750,000 just 13 months ago, and there are persistent reports that further layoffs are imminent. "It looks like the roof is about to cave in," said one union official.

Facing the prospect of at least 110,000 Big Three employees out of work in the pre-Christmas period, union officers reacted quickly and angrily to the Chrysler announcement.

United Auto Workers Vice President Doug Fraser accused Chrysler of "sloppy management" or "manipulation" and said the layoffs were the most serious ever at Chrysler "in terms of one fell swoop."

He called for the resignations of Chrysler Chairman Lynn Townsend and President John Riccardo, blaming them for Chrysler's buildup of 380,000 unsold new cars — enough to supply dealers for four months.

"When they make mistakes, they don't pay for them, the workers pay for them," Fraser said, pointing out that the firm produced 62,000 more cars than it sold in September and October.

Three Detroit assembly plants will be down along with two others, leaving just the St. Louis, Mo., facility in operation.

Although the firm will not close its 42 supply plants, production cutbacks there were described as "extreme" with many layoffs.

Chrysler said production will resume at a slower pace at the six U.S. car plants in January. Chrysler sales during October were off almost 17 per cent, and early November deliveries plunged 34 per cent to a 13-year low.

Industrywide, new model sales in October were down 27 per cent from the year before and early November sales fell 38 per cent.

DESERTERS Jobs Are Scarce

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford's amnesty program faces problems finding enough public service jobs at its halfway point for Vietnam-era deserters and draft evaders to fulfill their part of the bargain.

Government officials also say that response to the amnesty offer from evaders and deserters continues to run behind expectations but they say the holiday spirit may inspire many holdouts to sign up before the plan expires Jan. 31.

A person who joins the amnesty program agrees to spend two years or less working in public service jobs, such as hospital orderlies.

However, these jobs are available for those awaiting job assignments in only about two-thirds of the states. Selective Service officials say. Part of this problem is attributed to foot-dragging by some state draft officials, who are being urged by Draft Director Byron V. Pepitone and his top aides to search vigorously for jobs.

There are enough extra jobs in some states so that where the shortage is real "we'll have to transfer some people across state lines, although we'd prefer not to," said Deputy Draft Director John D. Dewhurst. "And some will get jobs they don't like."

At the extremes, New York City has no jobs listed for 79 awaiting jobs but Massachusetts has 295 jobs for 16 awaiting assignment.

There are a total of 1,331 jobs available for 1,352 enrolled at last count.

A man is given a chance to get a job on his own before draft officials try to find one for him.

One problem is the continuing slowness of the signups.

LBB Budget Proposals Acceptable

The Legislative Budget Board has lopped off $3 million from a Mental Health-Mental Retardation department request for the Big Spring State Hospital in 1975, but Dr. Preston E. Harrison, superintendent, said "We can live with it."

The paring of the proposed budget from the MH-MR request of $10,675,511 to a recommended $7,593,654 was mostly in enriched program.

"These were things that were desirable but not imperative at this time," said Dr. Harrison. "The Budget Board apparently has given us what we really need to operate a good hospital here and provide for our community services."

Both the in-patient and community services can be strengthened beyond their present levels if the legislature passes the LBB recommendations," Dr. Harrison noted.

The LBB recommendation of $7,593,654 represents a 38 per cent increase for the hospital here over the current $5,495,313. The recommendation for the 1976 fiscal year was $8,049,600 against a MH-MR request for $10,906,811.

Earthquake Recorded

HONOLULU (AP) — A major earthquake has been recorded in the vicinity of the New Hebrides Islands in the South Pacific.

There were no immediate reports of casualties or damage.

The Honolulu Observatory of the International Tsunami Information Center said the tremor registered 7.2 on the Richter Scale and occurred at 3:15 p.m. Tuesday, local time.

The location of the earthquake is such that a Pacific-wide tsunami, or tidal wave, will not be generated, the spokesman said.

The observatory placed the epicenter of the tremor in the ocean to the west of Espiritu Santo Island in the New Hebrides chain.

At the National Earthquake Information Service in Golden, Colo., geophysicist D. W. Gordon said the epicenter was within 25 miles of the town of Luganville.

"If it was very close to a populated area it would cause extensive damage," Gordon said.

The U.S. Geological Survey in Washington said the area, about 1,000 miles northeast of Brisbane, Australia, is highly seismic.

The Richter scale is a measure of ground motion as recorded on seismographs. Every increase of one number means a ten-fold increase in magnitude. Thus a reading of 7.5 reflects an earthquake 10 times stronger than one of 6.5.

The San Francisco earthquake of 1906 measured 8.3.

Two Are Held For Bank Job

BAIRD, Tex. (AP) — Two men were held in lieu of $25,000 bonds today in robbery of the Citizens State Bank at Cross Plains.

Danny Lee Wise, 20, of Brownwood and Danny Wayne Howe, 19, of Grand Pass, Ore., were charged with bank robbery before Justice of the Peace Garvin Jones.

Cross Plains is about 30 miles southeast of Baird in West Central Texas.

A Brownwood used car dealer, James Norman, told authorities two men took a car from his lot Monday. Authorities said that was the car used in the holdup later in the day.

Officers recovered a gun and the money.

DENTIST SUGGESTS Stop Brushing, Start Blotting

EAU CLAIRE, Wis. (AP) — If you want to save your teeth, stop brushing and start "blotting," says a dentist who teaches the unusual method of dental hygiene.

Dr. Joseph E. Phillips, 53, who has been using the process for 35 years, said he and his wife raised six children without one ever having a cavity.

Phillips agrees that the most important factor in dental health is to keep the mouth free of impurities, but contends that conventional brushing with toothpaste and the use of dental floss could do more harm than good.

He said brushing forces impurities such as plaque into the gums and often leads to gum disease. Blotting tends to prevent gum disease and eliminate bad breath, he said.

Phillips, who received periodontal training at Marquette University, said ordinary brushing simply rearranges impurities.

He said his technique involves using a small, child-size toothbrush where the teeth and gums meet. Instead of brushing, Phillips said the side of the brush should be gently moved against the teeth with blotting motions, drawing the impurities into the bristles. He said the process should be repeated on both sides of the teeth two or three times a day.

"If an artist gets too much paint on his canvas, he cannot remove it by swishing his brush all around," Phillips said. "Rather, he daubs his brush into the excess paint and withdraws it."

Dr. Saul Arbit of Milwaukee, chairman of the State Dentistry Examining Board, said Phillips' technique is essentially correct.

"But I personally disapprove of the way he seems to be making it sound as if he's the only one doing it," Arbit said.

Arbit, who said his opinion does not necessarily reflect the consensus of the board, said a similar technique was described in 1848 by G.V. Black, considered the father of modern dentistry.

Phillips said conventional brushing with a dentifrice has only a cosmetic effect. If such brushing is done, blotting should take place after brushing, he said.

BLIND MUSICIAN WANTS ACTING ROLES — Jose Feliciano, the Puerto Rico-born guitarist-singer-composer, sits on the back steps of his camper studying a Braille script for his role on a television "Kung Fu" segment. He plays a blind person, as he did on "MacMillan and Wife," but contends he could portray sighted persons also. He uses the camper as his dressing room on professional engagements, since he is familiar with interior layout.

Feliciano Wants Career In Movies

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Can a blind man be an actor? Jose Feliciano thinks so, and he already has two performances on his record.

The Puerto Rico-born guitarist-singer-composer first played a role in the television series "MacMillan and Wife," portraying a man whose knowledge of tobacco helps solve a crime.

Now he is appearing in a "Kung Fu" segment as a Western drifter.

In both roles Feliciano portrays a blind man, but he sees no reason to limit himself to such roles.

"I think it's no more of a challenge for a blind actor to play a sighted person than it is for a sighted person to portray a character who is blind," he remarked.

"I'm sure that any actor who plays a blind role must spend a lot of time studying what it is like not to see.

"Well, I could do the same in reverse. I don't think sight is necessary for an actor."

Feliciano has been beating the odds for all of his 29 years. He was born blind in the Puerto Rican village of Larez, here his father was a farmer. The family emigrated to New York City, settling in a three-room apartment in Spanish Harlem. In time there were 12 sons. Three died in childhood.

Girl Assaulted By 16-Year Old

A 16-year-old black girl has been referred to the county juvenile probation officer in connection with an assault of a juvenile white girl near the school. The assault was made with a fingernail file.

In other action over the weekend, the city juvenile department apprehended a 15-year-old white male for disturbance, and picked up two runaways. One was a 13-year-old boy from Lubbock and the other was a 16-year-old boy who was in the bus station purchasing a ticket.

Piece Of Paradise Is Going Up In Price

WASHINGTON (AP) — The snow doesn't cost any more, but the heated pool, ski lift passes and the hot buttered rum are all more expensive.

Skiers with visions of a vacation in the Alps or the Rockies this winter had better check their pocketbooks first. Like everything else, a piece of winter paradise is going up in price.

A New Yorker will find an airline package tour to the old mining town of Aspen, Colo., including round-trip air fare to Denver, inexpensive lodging in Aspen and ski tickets, will cost about $310, up 13 per cent from last year. Transportation between Denver and Aspen costs extra. So does eating.

Should he prefer instead a week in Austria's Kitzbuhel, a package tour that includes air fare, lodging breakfast, and ski pass costs $535, up 30 per cent.

But the skiers aren't the only ones fighting the economic battle. The lodge and restaurant owners are having their problems, too.

"Our costs for breakfast are up about 12 per cent," said Lieselott Nopper, owner of a cozy, 12-bedroom chalet in Gstaad, Switzerland. "For many years we have been able to put some money aside. Now that is over."

Don Ballenger, general manager of the Valhalla and Christiania lodges near the center of Vail, Colo., said his own labor costs have increased 20 to 25 per cent. The cost of chemicals for his heated pool has almost doubled.

"It also used to cost $100 a month to heat the pool. Now it costs $125," he said. "We're dropping the temperature from 82 degrees to 78."

Another lodge owner said toilet paper has increased from $12 a case to $30, a 150-per cent increase.

Despite their own money problems, lodge owners said they're trying to keep their prices down to lure prospective skiers.

"The name of the game is fill it up, not how much can you get for a room," said Peter Cramer, owner of the Wedel Inn at Vail, where a couple can rent a room for $24 a night, the same as last year.

But at Sun Valley, a deluxe room is up 7 per cent this season. At Snowbird, a suite that sleeps up to four people costs $75 a night, about 5 per cent more than last year. A bedroom for two is $21.

A skier taking one airline's package trip to St. Anton this February will find the cheapest lodging price at $105 per week, up 6 per cent. In Kitzbuhel, a double hotel room with bath that cost $115 per person last February will go up 8 per cent to $124 by this February.

The price of food and drink have gone up worldwide and ski resorts are no exception. Several restaurant owners who cater to skiers in the Rockies estimated their prices will be up 5 to 30 per cent.

Phil Gillis, a bartender in Idaho's Sun Valley, said skiers who want to relax with a cup of hot buttered rum after a day on the slopes may find it costing $1.50 this year, up 20 per cent.

Decision Is Overruled

EASTLAND — The Court of Civil Appeals, Eleventh Supreme Judicial District of Texas reversed and rendered a 118th District Court judgment this week in the case of Roy Roy Dairy, Inc. vs F. W. White and B. K. White, individually and as partners, of Howard County.

The case, originally filed in 118th District Court in Howard County by the Roy Roy Dairy in May 1971, alleging a breach of contract by F. W. White and B. K. White in the sale of 1,354 pounds of AMPE milk base in March of 1971.

An April 6, 1973, judgment issued by the 118th District Court following a jury trial found that the defendants owed the plaintiff $4,681 in actual damages and $4,681 in exemplary damages.

The defendants filed several motions to overturn the decision, but the court overruled each motion.

An appeal to overturn the judgment of the exemplary damages only was filed earlier this year in the Court of Civil Appeals and the court ruled that the defendants owe the plaintiff only actual damages arising from the breach of contract.

Schools Gain In Enrollment

Paced by a gain of 15 at the elementary level, Big Spring schools showed a net increase of 20 pupils last week. Boydston school showed eight new pupils, Marcy six, while Park Hill lost six, leaving an elementary total of 3,306. In the secondary level, Goliad Junior High was unchanged, Runnels picked up one and Senior High two, making 3,052. Hospital and homebound enrollment of 158 was up two, making an overall total of 6,516. This is 263 less than a year ago.

Damage Suit

Counsel for the plaintiff rested his case today in 118th District Court in the civil case of Walter Morgan, individually and in behalf of his minor son, Daniel Lee Morgan vs. Floyd Lee McMurray, all of Big Spring. The defense started presenting testimony about noon in the case.

The plaintiff is seeking $75,000 in damages suffered by Daniel in a July 18, 1971 car-motorcycle accident at 21st and Runnels Streets. The petition claims he was injured critically.

Success In 70s Is Speech Topic Here

Carver Mills of Midland will speak to local insurance underwriters at noon Thursday in the Downtown Tea Room on the subject, "Success in the 70s."

Mills, who has been in the insurance business since 1956, is a graduate of Howard Payne with a BS in music education. Some of his insurance honors include Million Dollar Round Table, seven years, and National Quality Award, 12 years.

A member of Texas Leaders' Round Table and a charter member of Southland Life Insurance Company's chairman's council, he was Man of the Year in 1970, highest honor conferred on a Southland agent.

During that same year, he was designated Chartered Life Underwriter, President of the Midland Association of Life Underwriters, Permian Basin Chapter of CLUs, he is also a past president of the Midland Breakfast Optimist Club and active in community affairs.

WHAT GOES UP MUST COME DOWN — Murphy, a 3-year-old St. Bernard owned by Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Notter Jr. of Austintown, Ohio, developed a love for slides as a puppy. Now, at an adult 175 pounds, she finds the climb up a bit harder to negotiate, stopping at the top to enjoy the view and catch her breath. But then it's ready, set, gooooo, whooshing down the board with the wind whistling past her ears and a pop at the bottom.

Bloated Bummer On Air Some Tax Relief Due For Portion Of Us

NEW YORK (AP) — "Feeling Good," a costly new adult health care series, arrives on public TV tonight, preceded by an aggressive publicity campaign rivaling the mightiest network effort. Sorry to say, the hard sell by the series' creator, Children's Television Workshop, cannot disguise the fact that the opening round in this 26-week program is a bloated bummer.

It is so dull, its health advice so sugar-coated in "cute" characters and situations, viewers may either fall asleep or quickly decide the only remedy for a case of terminal coyness is another channel.

The basic idea of the series is admirable—to increase public awareness, particularly among parents, of steps they can take to prevent illness and keep themselves and their loved ones in good health.

But the execution of the idea, at least in tonight's show dealing with prenatal care, nutrition and mental health, is poorly done.

It opens at "Mac's Place," a variety store where resident members of "Feeling Good" gather, largely to set up situations from which the show can slide into scenes concerning the subject at hand.

Sometimes the characters are involved in these point-making scenes, such as when Mac, the proprietor, strains his back at work. After gentle nagging by his friends, he calls his doctor for a checkup.

Turns out the doctor died three years ago and Mac hasn't had a physical in eight years. It almost seems that long before the point is made that everyone should have an annual medical checkup.

Comedian Bill Cosby, the series' star, appears in a prenatal skit, cast as an unborn baby in a womb. He calls on Mom for more calcium and iron to remind all this is what expectant mothers need in their diet. He also should have called for better dialogue.

About the only lively skit in the show is a satirical take-off on chain hamburger shop commercials. A real-life scene in which a one-eyed, emotionally troubled auto mechanic discusses his psychiatric help also is effective. At least it's direct and to the point.

But the only real value I can see in this show lies in its brief announcements as to where viewers can write or call for advice on any of the topics covered in the hour-long program.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Taxwriters in Congress are ready to recommend a new multibillion-dollar bill that would end the controversial oil depletion allowance while giving some tax relief to millions of average Americans.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, announced Tuesday that he wants to get the bill to the House for action Dec. 4 and 5.

After the committee's latest decisions on a slimmed-down package of basic tax changes, Mills pressed the panel's staff to produce its final draft of the bill in time for a formal committee vote later this week.

The legislation would face House tests from those who want to hit the petroleum industry harder and from oil-state forces opposed to any major oil tax revisions. The measure also faces a possible Senate filibuster during the dying days of this postelection session.

The House committee itself remained sharply torn over the oil provisions and finally voted 13-12 for an eventual end to the depletion allowance and for creating a new tax on the petroleum industry's so-called windfall profits.

The bill would cut 1974 taxes, which would be due next April, for many average Americans by boosting the maximum standard deduction to 16 per cent of adjusted gross income or a top of $2,300, and by hiking the minimum standard deduction for low-income people to $1,600 for singles and $1,900 for couples.

The maximum standard deduction currently is 15 per cent of adjusted gross income with a top of $2,000, while there presently is a minimum standard deduction of $1,300 for singles and a matching amount for couples.

The oil depletion allowance has been a chief target of oil industry critics who claim it is especially unnecessary at a time of higher oil prices. The allowance saves petroleum producers between $2 billion and $3 billion a year in federal taxes.

The allowance was first adopted in 1926 and has been retained over the years as an incentive for petroleum exploration. It permits 22 per cent of gross income from petroleum property to be deducted from taxable income up to a top of 50 per cent of taxable net income.

Under the committee's bill, the 22 per cent would be cut to 15 per cent retroactive to the start of this year and then would drop to zero in 1975.

Beginning next year, the legislation would levy a temporary new excise tax on windfall profits of oil companies. Tied to this feature would be a so-called plowback system which would give oilmen seeking more energy sources a way of eventually escaping paying much of the new tax.

Meeting at the Lakeview branch Tuesday, 25 YMCA directors inspected improvements and results of refurbishing the Lakeview building.

But they also got some unwelcome news. Pat Owens, physical education director, who has resigned is taking a similar position Jan. 1 with the Y in Midland. A search for his successor has been launched.

Two Lakeview members were cited as outstanding youth members for the month. They were Donza Montgomery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfonzia Montgomery, and Jerald Wrightsil, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wrightsil.

Another young Y member will carry the colors of the Big Spring YMCA into the national YMCA junior handball championship tournament at Cincinnati, Ohio Dec. 28-30, it was announced. He is Bill Arenbiccia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tito Arenbiccia.

The Y will face a $2,511 obligation if the current city paving program materializes, reported Darl Pittman, head of the building and grounds committee. The

More than 11,700 veterans and servicemen were released from liability for their GI loans last fiscal year, and the Veterans Administration is urging others selling houses bought under the GI Bill to request releases when purchasers assume loans on homes bought with GI loans.

Jack Coker, VA regional Administrator, said the VA issued 9,270 releases in fiscal year 1973, and has given 57,300 over the years. The GI loan program was established shortly after World War II. "There's a good reason for obtaining a release," Coker explained, "since without it, the seller could be held financially liable should the purchaser default on mortgage payments."

One-Time Outlaw Respects The Law

MONTAGUE, Tex. (AP) — Thirty-six years ago, Floyd Hamilton's presence in the Montague County jail was a major news story in North Texas.

Hamilton visited Montague recently and toured the courthouse and jail. His appearance caused only a bare ripple of interest. Only a few old-timers remembered the notorious former ex-con, probably the most famous inmate the local jail ever listed.

Hamilton was rated FBI Public Enemy No. 1 in 1938. He was placed in jail here for theft of a pick-up truck in Bowie and burglary of a Ringgold drug store.

Hamilton came to Montague County to talk to Nocona High School students at a special assembly. Now a night watchman and custodian for an automobile agency in Dallas, Hamilton spends a great deal of time talking to young people about "living straight."

BOOK PLANNED

He had called Montague County Sheriff Howard Middleton to set up the visit. Middleton explained that Hamilton is planning a book about his life, and wanted to make pictures of jail.

While in Montague, Hamilton also wanted to talk with the county attorney who prosecuted him 36 years ago. The attorney is Louis T. Holland, judge of the 8th Judicial District.

Judge Holland and the ex-con relived the episodes of 1938 briefly.

Hamilton was first jailed here along with his partner, Ted Walters, for the theft and burglary. They broke out of jail, and a guard, the sheriff's son, was knifed in the process. Hamilton and Walters took pistols and shotguns from the sheriff's office.

The two men left a trail of robberies and thefts before they were recaptured in Dallas and returned to Montague for trial. This time there was no escape. Hamilton was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary but was transferred to Arkansas for trial on charges of bank robbery. He was sentenced to federal prison.

There followed 22 years in prison in Leavenworth, Kan., and later at Alcatraz. Floyd served 22 of the 117 years to which he was sentenced.

Then he was sent to Huntsville to begin his term in Texas' prisons. However, he was granted parole after 20 months.

Punishment, and not rehabilitation, seemed to be the goal of the prisons he stayed in, said Hamilton. He explains he never saw any example of rehabilitation.

HELPS CONVICTS Hamilton also counsels the ex-convicts and helps them get jobs. His favorite sermon: "Ex-convicts can reform and be happy in society if given a chance."

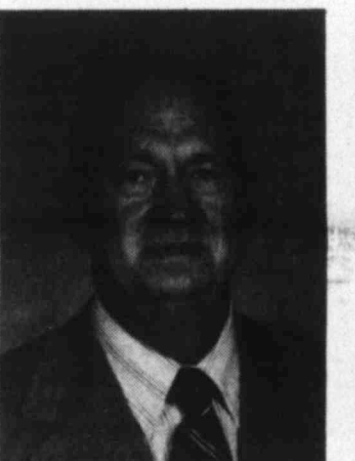

Hamilton blames his earlier life of crime mainly on three things—his life in a broken home, the fact that he quit school in the sixth grade to go to work and help support his mother, four sisters and his younger brother, Raymond, and on "bad associations with Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker."

Hamilton's brother, Raymond, was a member of the Barrow-Parker gang which terrorized the Southwest during the 1930s. Bonnie and Clyde were both teen-age friends of the Hamiltons in West Dallas. Raymond Hamilton, Clyde and Bonnie were all killed.

Now 66 years old and a resident of Grand Prairie, Hamilton believes his prison experiences have made him more sensitive to the needs of others, particularly other ex-convicts.

In his talk at Nocona High School, Hamilton emphasized that crime does not pay. It didn't in the 1930s—and it won't in the 1970s, he declared.

"I'm lucky to be alive to go straight," Hamilton stated.

Smiths Plan To Reside At Kingsland On LBJ

When H. D. (Herb) Smith retires as Forsan school superintendent July 1, he will be ending a school career that has stretched beyond a quarter of a century.

His wife, June G. Smith, who has been serving as librarian and high school English instructor at Forsan, will retire on the same date, and they plan to make their residence at Kingsland on Lake LBJ where they already have a home.

A native of Winfield, Smith earned his AA degree at East Texas Baptist before serving in the Army Air Force from 1942-45 during World War II. He had married his college sweetheart, June Gottshol, in 1942, and upon his separation from service he entered Sul Ross State University where he got his bachelor's degree in 1948 and masters in 1950. Mrs. Smith obtained the same degrees at the same time.

He began his educational career as coach (he had been an outstanding athlete in college) and high school principal at Marathon, took a position as superintendent at Valentine, then Fort Davis and then for 12 years was superintendent of Culberson County (Van Horn) prior to taking the Forsan post seven years ago. At Van Horn there were numerous improvements including nearly half a million dollars in construction, and a 50 per cent gain in enrollment.

During his tenure at Forsan, an extensive building program was launched and completed, including a new gym and dressing room, band hall, paved parking areas and drives, curbs and sidewalks, 10 new brick teacher houses, six additional classrooms at Elbow and a new cafeteria at Elbow. Also, four new tennis courts were installed, the football field sodded (along with a practice field) and new lights installed, new concession stands provided.

There were many other improvements such as new windows and blinds, carpet for both Elbow and Forsan

Mid-East Powderkeg

There is growing concern that a new war may break out in the Middle East. Thus far, signs are lacking that Secretary of State Henry Kissinger purchased little else other than time when he managed to achieve a halt in the outbreak of war of a year ago. The various countries, including the super powers of the United States and Soviet Russia, have made small progress in efforts to arrive at a workable accommodation in the explosive area.

Yet, the ingredients of a political settlement are there. It now has become apparent that the Palestinians have become such a viable part of the problem that ultimately they will have to be included as a national entity of clearly identifiable political group. After all, the multiplied thousands have been displaced in what was their homeland.

If it now is apparent that the Palestinians will have to be recognized, it is even more true that the Israeli must not only be recognized in the eyes of the Arabs, but they must be given assurances that their sovereignty and safety will be guaranteed. Surrounding Arab nations rightly contend for return of territory taken from them when Israel reacted to the 1967 and 1973 attacks against her, but Israel rightly contends that she must have guarantees against these becoming springboards of aggression against her.

Here is where the U.S. and USSR could bring a ray of hope by making these guarantees. Secretary Kissinger has been trying; Russia has been inclined to hold back, to exploit the situation. Yet failure to resolve the problem could bring these two powers into perilous confrontation that could threaten the world.

Some astute observers are predicting that settlements will come — but only after another war, and perhaps two. What a tragic and senseless outlook.

Continuing Costs

7.6 per cent, World War II veterans (who number 13.7 million) 39 per cent.

Of course this is not the determinate factor, but before we get bogged in the quagmire of participating in foreign wars, it might be well to consider some statistical information from the Veterans Administration files.

In fiscal year 1974, some 30 per cent of the VA's $14 billion budget went to Vietnam-era veterans, who number seven million and account for 23 per cent of the veteran population. They are increasing at the compounded rate of over two per cent a year, and the rate of the percentage increase will accelerate.

During the fiscal year, World War I veterans received 13.2 per cent of the budget, Korean veterans

None of this is to begrudge veterans anything less than the best of care and all reasonable benefits. However, when we consider that our cumulative costs and benefits for veteran program is $223 billion and that the younger crop of veterans will be around for a generation or more, it is evident that in addition to the paramount consideration of life, the factor of on-going costs needs to be considered in the decision equation. A clear and present national danger would overrule this, but debatable fending-off excursions around the globe should not.

Appointments Snafu

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — A nasty little civil war has broken out in the White House between Nixon holdovers and President Ford's personal aids over the fiasco of Andrew Gibson's aborted nomination as Federal Energy Administrator.

THE FORD men say failure to spot Gibson's apparent conflict-of-interest before announcing his appointment revealed weakness of the Nixon-style staff system adopted by the new President. Nixon holdovers privately claim Mr. Ford never gave the system a chance. But all implicitly agree the root cause was the President's uncharacteristic and intemperate haste in naming a replacement for John Sawhill at the Federal Energy Administration (FEA).

THE FAULT is clearly not Gibson's. He was interviewed by William Walker and Richard Chaney, two trusted aides of chief of staff Donald Rumsfeld. Gibson has told friends these staffers had in hand the essence of his extraordinary $88,000-a-year, 10-year separation agreement from the Interstate Oil Transport Co. after his 16 months' employment. White House sources claim the full extent of the agreement was not known. But intimate Ford advisors are sure there was more than enough information about Gibson's arrangement.

The shortcomings of Rumsfeld's staff, they say, is that the Gibson appointment was never considered by those old hands around Mr. Ford. NOT SO, say several White House staffers (particularly holdovers). The reason Gibson was not disqualified was because Mr. Ford in his haste short-circuited the staff system, just as he did in the damaging nomination (now withdrawn) of Peter Flanagan as ambassador to Spain. The President, they say, refused to take time for full staff clearance of either Gibson or Flanagan.

Everyone agrees Mr. Ford was frantic to remove Sawhill because of his public disagreements with administration policy. While tolerant of incompetents in his inherited cabinet, Mr. Ford could not abide one more day of Sawhill.

PROSPECTS for a new welfare reform being proposed by President Ford in 1975 were not helped by his secret conference with Gov. Reagan of California in Los Angeles Oct. 30.

Reagan pressed the President not to resurrect the old "Moynihan plan" for welfare — a reference to the 1969 family assistance plan (FAP) promoted by Daniel P. Moynihan, now ambassador to India, as a Nixon aide. Mr. Ford replied that no decision had been taken but that he would keep Reagan's views in mind.

INDEED, WITH Mr. Ford eager to appease the party's Reagan-led right wing, Reagan's views could well prove compelling. Reagan would never accept the welfare reform option given Mr. Ford by the Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) Department. The President has instructed HEW Secretary Casper Weinberger to draft a more conservative scheme, but influential presidential aides would just as soon forget welfare reform for 1975.

With Gov. George Wallace of Alabama scheduled to be in Washington last week, an aide telephoned Democratic national chairman Robert Strauss to arrange a meeting between them at Democratic national headquarters — a "liberal" bastion never before visited by Wallace.

The meeting never took place because Wallace's trip to Washington was cancelled. But the call to Strauss suggested two short-range developments: (1) whatever his long-range intentions, Wallace will now work within the Democratic party rather than go third-party; (2) his warm-and-cold relationship with Strauss is warm again. Wallace watched Strauss on NBC's "Meet the Press" Nov. 3 and was gratified when the chairman flatly said he could support a Democratic ticket with Wallace as president or vice president — a pledge most Democratic politicians refuse to make.

A footnote: Strauss nourished a budding relationship with another powerful Southern Democrat, Rep. Joe Waggoner of Louisiana, by speaking at Waggoner's political rally in Shreveport last week.

Radio's 'Iron Man'

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert Trout, known several decades ago as radio's "Iron Man" because of his ability to broadcast hours without rest, has no desire to retire and rust at age 65.

Trout, whose greatest fame in 37 years at CBS News came both from his wartime London broadcasts and his political convention coverage, recently signed with ABC News as its roving European correspondent.

Most of the roving will be for ABC's radio division, although he says it'll also involve TV workpieces for the "ABC Evening News" and at least one feature a week for "AM America," the new morning show ABC will start against NBC's durable "Today" show next Jan. 6.

Trout's first major domestic CBS assignment came in 1933, when he covered Franklin D. Roosevelt's inauguration; his last, also on radio, was in 1973, at then-President Richard M. Nixon's second inauguration.

The North Carolina-born newsman, who now calls Paris home, went to work for CBS in October 1932, but joined NBC in 1947. In 1952, he rejoined CBS News and stayed until his departure for ABC last month.

He said he'd been working for CBS on a retainer basis the last few years, but that his calls for work — mostly involving feature stories from Europe — were growing infrequent.

"I found myself doing less and less — and of course, that means less money — but the inactivity got to me," he said.

"Months would go by and I'd do one piece. So when ABC said, 'Look, we need you, we've plenty of work for you,' I finally felt I had to make the move.

"It was a helluva trauma, almost like cutting the umbilical cord, and I suffered for months thinking about it. But when I finally broke it a few weeks ago, I found I felt pretty good about it."

He said his radio work for ABC will involve a 3½-minute daily commentary, usually light in tone, about European matters. He'll also do a serious analytical piece, 10 minutes in length, every two weeks.

"With this and the television work, I'll be so damn busy I probably won't know what I'm doing," he said. "But it'll be a great change and a relief."

"Now (ho, ho, ho!) you wouldn't shoot jolly ol' Santa... uh... would you...?"

Bad News Plentiful

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — At the very time American corporations are making their commitments for 1975 the economic news seems to have taken a turn for the worse, reinforcing the need of pessimists, eroding that of optimists.

One result, says Walter Headley, economists and vice president of the Bank of America, is that industry is cutting expectations even more, not in "meat ax" style perhaps, "but they're rounding down."

The bad news seems plentiful as the autumn leaves.

Wholesale prices rose at an annual rate of nearly 28 per cent in October, and that means consumer price increases for many weeks ahead. The coal miners are on strike. Auto makers are cutting production and laying off workers.

If the coal strike continues it will mean steel production will be cut. If the auto makers can't sell their cars then the glass and rubber industries, among others, will be hurt. All are very basic industries.

Industrial production continues to drop even without these events and expectations. It fell 0.6 per cent in October, the steepest since February. Unemployment is almost certain to reach 7 per cent by early 1975.

The dismal record of the past haunts the present and clouds the future. The third quarter inflation rate has just been revised to 11.8 per cent from 11.5.

Housing continues in a slump. Consumers are said by pollsters to be cutting their spending plans. First National City Bank, which recently joined the consumer pollsters, found only six of 100 people nationwide felt the economy would improve within the next six months.

Albert Sindlinger of Sindlinger & Co., which polls consumers by telephone seven days a week, and has been doing so for well over a decade, found "confidence over the past weekend was like an iceberg melting."

Abroad, the U.S. dollar continues to slump as speculators move into West German marks, partly because that country stated it wouldn't mind if the mark floated higher in relation to some currencies, including the dollar.

The world worries about being able to recycle the dollars accumulating in the Mideast. "People here are drenched by gloom and doom from West Europe about the problem of recycling dollars," said Headley. "In Western Europe they just won't listen to optimism."

The Big Show

Around The Rim

Joe Pickle

Indirectly, I received a copy of a clipping of a story I had written, probably around 1940 about the big show of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention.

CONSIDERING that the WTCC annual meetings now are largely business, with a dinner arranged for presentation of special recognitions, it is interesting to note that the WTCC gathering in those days was an event which drew thousands. Even in 1940 things were mild as compared to the early days in the late 20's and early 1930's. At the peak, every town worthy of its salt sent a band and special talent along to take part in the super-parade and show. Small wonder that cities bid vigorously to host the convention.

THE MARVEL of the event was that even at the end of the 30's the WTCC still managed to put together a show that pulled out all stops. One reason for this was a remarkable personality by the name of Hila (Stormy) Weathers, a former Big Spring (and who then lived in Sweetwater (and who years later returned here as coordinator of volunteer services at Big Spring State Hospital). She worked closely with Floyd Graham, who always brought his 17-piece North Texas State University orchestra plus dancers which was a show within itself.

Stormy dreamed up a theme for the shows, got a listing of the talent various cities were sending and somehow wove the acts into a pattern that delighted audiences. For instances, in the clipping describing the production here (probably one if not the last of its kind), she had organized the first section around an Indian scene with tepees, campfires, tom-toms etc., and the second around a West Texas Ranch scene.

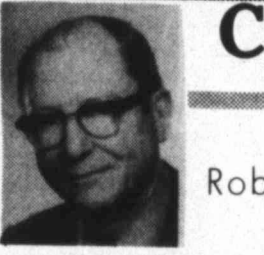

WOULD YOU believe that the show included two dozen separate acts, not including introductions or the presentation of 30 beautiful young women representing as many cities or institutions in West Texas?

Bobby and Tommy Fairry, Odessa, brought the house down with a clarinet and accordion duo; Johnny Regan, Abilene, put on an Australian bullwhip exhibition; Nancy Jane Gates, representing Denton, almost stopped the show with her vocal numbers; a Mineral Wells Company put on a square dance; Midland girls did a Can-Can act; Mary Ruth Diltz, a Big Spring girl then from Lubbock, put on an Indian dance.

THE ODESSA Chuck Wagon Gang brought on its wagon (with rubber tires, yet); George Coots, Mrs. Walter Wilson, Mary Ann Dudley and Dean Miller posed as a pioneer family; Teresa Cochran, representing NSTU, did her Rainbow dance; Hardin-Simmons had a miramba trio; a Pecos trio did "Spirit of '76."

There were also sorts of vocal solos and duos, a rope-twirling act, and numerous others. There also were recognitions for the "typical West Texas family" and alternate family; an audience singing of "God Bless America," and a Big Spring close-harmony trio of Alma Blount, Ruby Bell (Billings), Mrs. Frank Gibson (Mrs. Willard Read sometime sang this part).

BUT THE MOST sparkling section was reserved for presentation of the "Miss West Texas" contest. As I recall, Winifred Patterson (now Mrs. Morris Patterson), representing Texas Tech, won the crown that year, but she had TSCW (TWU) competition from lovelies from McMurry, North Texas State, Baylor, TCU, Daniel Baker College, Sull Ross, John Tarleton College, and numerous area representatives including Nancy Price, Colorado City, Edna Earl Lineberry, Midland, Dorothea Moore, Odessa, Louise Renfro, San Angelo, Audrey Mae Gen, Sweetwater, and Marilyn Parkinson, Lamesa, to name a few. No wonder, the city auditorium was virtually packed.

Cap. D--Depression

Robert E. Ford

A young fellow sat down at the dinner table the other evening and said out of the blue, "What is a depression?"

We were so shocked we hardly could cut our gourmet hamburger—soybean meat loaf.

STARTED to swat him a good one for being so ignorant, but had just read that violence instructs no one.

And did you older one-third of the population know that two-thirds of the people living today never experienced the Depression? They weren't even born.

Some persons are talking about a depression or near-depression being with us now. That is ridiculous.

The Depression was so distinctive that it now is written with a capital "D."

There is no way to describe the Depression in a few paragraphs. But we'll try.

It began Oct. 28-29, 1929, when the stock market shares lost half their value. Before it was all over, stocks once worth hundreds of dollars were valued in pennies.

QUICKLY, BANKS folded and depositors generally got nothing. The lucky ones got as much as 10 per cent of their savings.

Jobs dried up. One-time highpaid executives along with common laborers hunted menial jobs at any pay, often less than 10 cents an hour. Standard pay was 25 cents an hour for the fortunate.

Twenty-five per cent of the work force—mostly men—could find no work at all. Families lost their homes and farms and all other possessions except the clothes on their backs. Businesses closed and the ex-owners joined the others trying to survive by any means.

Shantytowns with shelters of tar paper, scrap lumber and any other discarded material sprang up. They were dubbed Hoovervilles, named for President Herbert Hoover, a man of many talents who found himself out of his depth in this catastrophe.

ELECTION OF Franklin D. Roosevelt brought a man to power who seemed like a shining knight to vast segments of the population. He was re-elected as long as he lived.

Roosevelt laid about him with a heavy club, fighting the ills of America. Sometimes he was wrong, sometimes right. He was the most vilified man of our time. Nixon by comparison never really knew what attacks could be like. Roosevelt laughed at the spears. He knew, absolutely knew, he was right.

PEOPLE WERE terribly frightened.

There was talk of revolution. The Depression, which was worldwide, helped Hitler to power in Germany. Angry mobs gathered around closed banks.

Roosevelt by his brilliant personality gave people hope again. He knew exactly what he thought the nation needed. In 99 days—sometimes called the "Hundred Days"—he submitted revolutionary measures which Congress passed overwhelmingly.

He didn't pull the country out of the Depression immediately. Unemployment didn't drop below 20 per cent until 1936, three years after his inauguration.

My Answer

Billy Graham

I found my son dead on the bathroom floor—from an overdose of heroin. After that, I was in a complete depression for two and a half years. I often prayed that my son Tony would come to me some night, so we could talk. Well, he did. It seemed so real, but when I awoke, he was gone, of course. Please, Mr. Graham, explain this.

L.L. From what you said further in your letter, that you "see him in every boy's face," it's obvious you have not fully accepted his death. It was so tragic for you, that you found it impossible to believe.

Yes, that was a dream, but just the natural production of your preoccupied subconscious mind. Another clue to your emotional mood was the mention of your father's death, and then the postscript to your letter, telling me of the cancer death of your baby sister just five years ago.

The writer to the Hebrews said this of Christ: "That by his death, he might destroy him who holds the power of death... and free those who all their lives were held in slavery by their fear of death." (Chapter 2)

Faith in Christ can liberate you from this sad and destructive concentration on death. You need not forget these family members, but you cannot indulge a morbid focus on the departed either. Leave them alone. Give attention and care to your remaining son and daughter, and fill your mind with vital truth. It has a marvelous power to expel error.

A Devotion For Today . . .

"Lift up now thine eyes, and look from the place where thou art . . . for all the land which thou seest, to thee will I give it." (Genesis 13:14-15)

PRAYER: Lord, when denied enchantment beckons, show me Thy beauty where Thou hast placed me. In the spirit of JESUS, Amen.

WING COMMANDER — Col. Norma E. Brown has been named commander of the 6940th Security Wing at Goodfellow AFB in San Angelo and will report to take command Nov. 30. Col. Brown is the first woman commander at Goodfellow. She is currently serving as commander of the 6970th Air Base Group at Ft. Meade, in Maryland.

Tips Given By Food Consultant

"A Woman Cooks," the program presented for Forsan Study Club Monday evening, began with a recipe exchange by members.

The guest speaker, Mrs. Dana Fiester, a cooking consultant for Texas Electric Service Company, brought a Pineapple-Cheese Ball that she had already prepared. While at the meeting she prepared Pacific Ham Salad and Marble Squares. All three recipes are in a booklet of Holiday Recipes that she handed out to those present.

In giving advice about the use of ovens in saving energy, Mrs. Fiester said there is no pre-heating ovens more than five or six minutes; doing so longer only uses more energy. She suggested that more than one food be cooked at a time in the oven, and recipes should be doubled; part being frozen for use another time.

"Broil, when possible," said the speaker. "Broiling takes less energy than baking; baking takes less energy than surface cooking." She said when surface cooking one should use pans to fit the burners, and lids should fit tight. Flat bottom pans should be used on an electric range.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Nola Story and Mrs. Lee Yarbrough, and the devotion was brought by Mrs. Bill Cregar. Mrs. Ann Fairchild won the door prize. The meeting was held in the Home Economics Room at Forsan School, and the next meeting will be held there Dec. 2. The program will be open to guests.

Matrons Club Has Meeting

Mrs. O. E. Green and Mrs. Marvin Steen were hostesses for a Thursday meeting of the Past Matrons Club, Laura B. Hart Chapter 1019, Order of Eastern Star. The group met at the Palmer House with Mrs. Dick Mitchell presiding and Mrs. E. A. Fiveash presenting the devotion.

A Christmas party was planned, date to be announced, with Mrs. Ollie Puckett and Mrs. Mitchell as hostesses. It will be a covered dish affair and, instead of exchanging gifts, the group will buy gifts for children at Westside Community Center.

"Unload The Bum" Is Best Advice

DEAR ABBY: Here's my story: Career girl, age 44, marries man same age. First marriage for both. Girl owns beautiful home and earns twice as much as man. On wedding night, husband watches old movies on TV until bride falls asleep. After one year, bride still a virgin! Nobody would believe it, but it's true. He has absolutely no interest in me as a woman. But he must have an interest in sex because he never misses an X-rated movie. He can see the same one three times. Figure that one out!

I pay all the bills, including taxes, insurance, groceries and clothes for both of us, trips, too. (We went to Europe in July.) He has a job but I never see a dime of his money. I even cut his hair, and when we go anywhere I drive because he's too "tired."

Today is our first wedding anniversary and he forgot it. I don't know what I ever saw in this man. He is a big nothing. My problem is I can't seem to bring myself to tell him that we don't have a marriage so he should clear out. Can you help me?

GUTLESS IN N.Y. DEAR GUTLESS: If you are waiting for someone to say, "Unload the bum," I'll volunteer. And if he's still around when the snow flies, face it, you're either awfully lonesome or you desperately need to "do" for somebody.

DEAR ABBY: Please print this open letter to a nosy man: Today I got into an elevator in a large building where I work. An old man (in his 50's) was on the elevator when I got on. He smiled at me and asked, "Is that red hair natural?"

I was stunned. All I could think of to say was, "That's none of your business."

He replied, "I'm sorry. I was just trying to be friendly."

Abby, if a man wants to start a conversation with a total stranger, he should comment on the weather, local sports, or something less personal than whether a girl's hair color is natural.

Please tell men who want to be friendly in elevators to use some common sense.

UNFRIENDLY IN PHILLY

DEAR UN: Natural red-heads would have been pleased and answered, yes. Dyeed red-heads would have been annoyed. "Old men" who ask such questions can expect to lose some and win some. And some men "in their 50's" like to gamble.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "THE QUIET ONE" IN K.C.: Don't ever feel that you must apologize for being quiet. Look at it this way: There's no point in talking unless you can improve the silence.

Hi Lo Bridge Club Meets

Mrs. T. A. Bartlett was hostess for the Hi Lo Bridge Club Monday evening in the home of Mrs. P. F. Sheedy. Mrs. J. A. Westmoreland was high scorer, and Mrs. Judy Taylor was low. Mrs. Loyd Wolf will be hostess Nov. 25 at her home, 916 Culp, at 6:30 p.m.

Shower Fetes Glenda Jones

Miss Glenda Jones, bride-elect of Frank Long, was the honoree at a gift shower held Saturday in the home of Mrs. Jim Newsom, 1206 Nolan, from 7 to 9 p.m.

There were 17 hostesses. Corsages of red and white carnations were presented to the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Wanda Jones, and her fiancé's mother, Mrs. Elbert Long.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a white net cloth trimmed with red ribbon. White milk glass appointments were used with a red floral centerpiece.

Miss Jones and Long plan to be married Nov. 29 in Trinity Baptist Church.

Son Born To Local Couple

Sgt. and Mrs. Mack Schneider, 2306 Marcy, announce the birth of a son, Christopher Mack, Nov. 8 at Medical Center Memorial Hospital. The infant weighed 6 pounds. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tucker, Sand Springs, and the paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Schneider of Atkinson, Neb.

Keep yourself in money next Christmas (for as little as $2 a week)

Join the First Federal Christmas Club. And save a little each week. By putting aside just two dollars a week, you will have more than $100 by December of next year. Four dollars a week will get you $200. And so on. (For your convenience, you can deposit monthly or make an automatic deposit through checkmatic.)

As a bonus, we'll make your last payment. If you have been saving four dollars a week, we will put four dollars in your account in December. If you saved ten dollars we'll add ten dollars. Which is a very good reason for saving with us, instead of with someone else.

Start saving now. We know it's hard to think about next year's Christmas now. But this is the time to do it. And the place is First Federal. Keep yourself in money—next Christmas.

Newlyweds Are Residing Here

Miss Evelyn Paul of Big Spring and Fred Baker of Cincinnati, Ohio were married Nov. 8 in the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Boyd, 1600 E. 6th.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. Claude Craven, pastor of Trinity Baptist Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Paul, 2500 W. Hwy. 80, and the bridegroom is the son of Thomas Baker, Cincinnati, and the late Mrs. Baker.

The couple is residing in Big Spring after a wedding trip to El Paso and Mexico. Baker is employed by Gilliland Electric Company, and his bride is an employe of Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital.

Operating Room Procedure Told

Ms. Carmen Phillips, supervisor of the operation and recovery rooms at Medical Center Memorial Hospital, discussed job descriptions of employees in that department when she was guest speaker Monday evening for Cactus Chapter, American Business Women's Association.

Ms. Phillips, who has held her current job for 19 years, studied at Oklahoma University and Muskogee Hospital Foundation, receiving her RN degree, followed by postgraduate work at Oklahoma University.

She said that in a corporation-owned hospital, the administrator is responsible to the hospital board, which is composed of members of the medical staff and business people of the town.

In describing the job classifications, Ms. Phillips said the operating surgeon must be trained in his particular field, but group practice is used extensively to take care of individual needs. Other personnel named were the anesthetist, circulating nurse, scrub nurse, assist nurses, orderly and recovery room nurse.

The supervisor has many duties involving patient care, budget, margin of profit, efficiency of those working under her supervision and the maintaining of good rapport among the workers and communication with doctors and hospital staff. She must keep abreast of new techniques in the medical field and prepare a daily schedule for the day's operations during an 8-hour period, allowing for emergencies.

The vocational speaker was Mrs. Dorothy Blount, owner and operator of a poolside grooming service.

Mrs. Cheryl Walker, president, conducted the business session following the dinner, the invocation was by Ms. Zelda Abbe.

A Fall Harvest Sale is scheduled Nov. 23 in Highland Mall, beginning at 8 a.m. Also, the chapter will assist at the state hospital Christmas party at 7:30 p.m., Dec. 17. The next meeting will be the chapter. Christmas dinner party Dec. 16 at the NCO Club, Webb Air Force Base. Reservations must be made with Sandra Byerly by Dec. 13. The dinner is $3.35, and gifts will be exchanged.

Tragedy Still Marks Gridders

Wichita State — Four Years Later

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Four years after a tragic airplane crash wiped out half of Wichita State University's starting football team the school is still struggling on the gridiron.

Since that day — Oct. 2, 1970 — when 31 persons were killed in the crash of a chartered airliner near Silver Plume, Colo., Wichita State has had two football coaches, two athletic directors and three losing seasons.

The plane that crashed carried 40 persons, including the team's top 22 players. It was one of two charters carrying the team, school officials and boosters to Logan, Utah, for a game against Utah State.

Among the dead were 14 first-string players, head football coach Ben Wilson and Athletic Director Bert Katzenmeyer.

Since then, football has had its ups and downs here, but mostly it's been down. From the 1971 3-8 season through last Saturday's game with Fresno State, the Shockers have compiled a 14-28-1 record.

If the 1970 winless season is included, the over-all record drops to 14-37-1. Six games in that 0-9 season were played after hope for a winning season died on a Rocky Mountain slope.

For a brief moment in the span of four seasons that have passed it appeared that Wichita State might be on the road to full recovery.

In 1972, under Bob Seaman, the young assistant coach who picked up the pieces following the crash, the team had a 6-5 season. But the recovery was short-lived.

The following year the Shockers dropped to 4-7, and Seaman lost his job. Ted Bredehoff, the athletic director who took over from Cecil Coleman, fired the young head coach and his staff. Coleman, now at the University of Illinois, had replaced Katzenmeyer.

This year, the coaching job went to 38-year-old Jim Wright, a former assistant coach at the University of Tennessee. He is finding the road back even tougher than his predecessor.

The Shockers now hold a 1-8-1 record and are assured of finishing in the cellar of the Missouri Valley Conference. They finish the season Saturday when they play strong Memphis State at Memphis.

Wright is optimistic, although he knows he faces a tough task in rebuilding a program that still suffers from the 1970 crash.

"The thing most noticeable," he said, "was the lack of size, speed and facilities. As an end result of losing so many players, our program is low on numbers of players out for football."

"Since I've been here, with the help of (WSU president) Dr. (Clark) Ahlberg, Ted Bredehoff and the great people of Wichita, we have added more meeting rooms, coaches' offices, a dormitory and weight room to improve our facilities."

Marshall Wins Still Elusive

HUNTINGTON, W.Va. (AP) — Four years have passed since that rainy November night when a plane crash at nearby Tri-state Airport wiped out the Marshall University football team and coaching staff.

The memory of that night — which traumatized an entire town — has begun to fade here in Huntington. But it is far from forgotten.

However, the business of living these past four years has worn off the sharp edges of the grief that gripped the city. Most of the students who were here the night of Nov. 14, 1970, have gone and the school has since had two presidents. The last of the handful of players who missed that fatal flight finished their careers last fall.

On the first anniversary of the crash, the city and university staged a huge memorial service at a Marshall football game. Last Thursday's fourth anniversary came and went with only a quiet memorial service and passing mention in the city's newspapers.

Jack Lengyel, who came from the College of Wooster in Ohio to try to rebuild the Thundering Herd football program, says he makes it a point not to dwell on the crash. He said he feels it would only cheapen the lives of those who died if he tried to capitalize on the deaths of the 37 Marshall players and the five coaches.

"In fact," he said, "the biggest fear I had when I came here was that every game would turn into a wake. But it never happened."

Lengyel leaned back and let his memory drift. "I came here on March 17, 1971. It was St. Patrick's Day. We had only one experienced player and a few freshmen. The town was still in mourning."

By the next fall, he had put together a team composed of walk-ons, basketball players and just about anybody who wanted to play. The NCAA allowed Marshall to use freshmen that year.

"We played at Morehead our first game," Lengyel said. "We got beat but we scored against them. And then came the Xavier game the next week here in Huntington."

The "Young Herd," as the team was called in those days, gave the 15,000 fans at Fairfield Stadium an unforgettable thrill beating Xavier 15-13 on a last-second pass.

"They never even let us kick the extra point," Lengyel said with a misty smile.

Marshall won another game that year, beating Bowling Green 12-10 in a stunning upset.

The next two years were full of optimism and promise. Marshall turned in another 2-8 record in 1972 and then came up with a 4-7 mark last year.

"The boys were all excited this spring," he said. "They were talking about winning and deep down we felt we had a real shot at a winning season."

But by mid-season, a winning season was beyond reach. Going into Saturday's finale at Ohio University, Marshall is burdened by a 1-9 record.

Marshall opened with an upset loss to Morehead — after missing on a last second try for a two point conversion. The Thundering Herd bounced back the next week with a victory over Akron, only to fall into its current eight-game tailspin.

Cowboy Slide Hard To Explain

DALLAS (AP) — Your guess is as good as Coach Tom Landry's when it comes down to figuring out what's wrong with the 1974 model of the Dallas Cowboys, former bully boys of the National Football League.

"It's hard to explain why we can't win the close ones," said Landry Tuesday. "There has been a small division between winning and losing."

He pointed out, "We've lost five games by a field goal or a touchdown. You can't get much closer than that."

Dallas is 5-5 and hanging by its chin straps in a bid for a record eighth consecutive trip to the NFL playoffs. The Cowboy hopes are slim.

"Because of the tie breakers, Washington will have to lose three out of its last four games and we've got to win all four to get the wild card," Landry said.

Dallas is two games behind Washington in the National Conference Eastern Division and three behind the front-running St. Louis Cardinals. The wild card berth in the playoff goes to the runnerup team with the best record.

VOTED MOST VALUABLE — Jeff Burroughs of the Texas Rangers has been voted Most Valuable Player in the American League by baseball writers. Burroughs, 23, has played only two full seasons in the American League and led the league in runs batted in 118. He hit 25 home runs and had a season batting average of .301.

Ranger's Burroughs Tops Rudi For MVP

NEW YORK (AP) — Jeff Burroughs, the Texas Rangers' fence-breaking outfielder, was named the American League's Most Valuable Player today.

Burroughs, a 23-year-old who played only his second year in the big leagues in 1974, won handily over Oakland outfielder Joe Rudi to become the first player from an expansion club to win the coveted award.

The beefy slugger, who batted in a league-leading total of 118 runs, hit 25 homers and fashioned a .301 batting average, was the only player named on all 24 ballots by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

The writers, consisting of two in each of the American League cities, gave Burroughs 10 first-place votes and a total of 248 points. Rudi had 5 1/2 votes for first and 161 1/2 points overall.

Two of Rudi's teammates at Oakland followed in the voting as third baseman Sal Bando had 143 1/2 points for third place and outfielder Reggie Jackson 119 for fourth.

In fifth place was pitcher Ferguson Jenkins of the Texas Rangers with 118 points. "Catfish" Hunter, the A's Cy Young winner this season, was sixth with 107 points, giving the 1-2 teams in the American League West a sweep of the top six positions.

A total of 34 players were nominated by the BBWA. Points were tabulated for 10 places on a basis of 14 for first, then 9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 for the remainder.

IN NBA Rockets Near First Place

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Rockets crept to within one game of first place in the National Basketball Association Central Division Tuesday night by downing the Cleveland Cavaliers, 94-85.

The Rockets turned off the ignition of high-scoring Austin Carr of the Cavs, holding him to just 12 points with two in the second half. Carr went into the game averaging 24.8 points per outing, which made him the fifth highest scorer this year in the NBA.

The win, coupled with the Washington Bullets' loss to New York, helped the Rockets gain a full game on the Bullets.

While Mike Newlin was shooting 24 points for the Rockets, Dave Wohl was sticking like a shadow to Carr.

"Dave did an excellent job," Rocket Coach John Egan said. "He made Carr force a lot of shots."

Wohl said his assignment in the game was to stick with Carr and let the rest of the team worry about the other players.

"I didn't help anybody else out on defense," Wohl said. "I didn't even know where the ball was. I just played him body to body."

The Rockets poured in eight points to none for the Cavs in the final minutes in the first quarter to take the lead to stay. At the three-quarter mark, they pushed ahead to a 17 point margin, 72-55.

The win was the fourth straight for the Rockets and their ninth victory in their last 11 outings.

"We played sluggish," Egan admitted. "But win-

Sooners, Buckeyes Favored In Conference Title Clashes

NEW YORK (AP) — "The lump in my throat is a little bigger this week," says Coach Barry Switzer of Oklahoma.

"We're not loose at all," says Michigan's Bo Schembechler. "This is a big game."

"I don't feel any pressure," says your friendly neighborhood college football forecaster. Let them feel the pressure on the playing fields of Lincoln, Neb., where top-rated Oklahoma meets sixth-ranked Nebraska, and Columbus, Ohio, where No. 3 Michigan faces fourth-ranked Ohio State.

"Our defensive coaches think Nebraska's a better offensive team than they were last year," Switzer reports. "It's going to be the most physical football game we've played. It's the biggest game we've played since we played 'em last year."

That one ended 27-0 in favor of Oklahoma. This one? Try 26-14 ... Oklahoma.

Last week's score was 46 right, 20 wrong and one tie for .697, so maybe we are feeling the pressure, after all. For the season, it's 419-182-16-718.

Meanwhile, Michigan and Ohio State have their annual Big Ten shootout ... with one difference.

"The difference is that last year both teams were unbeaten and untied," Schembechler points out. "This time, if the game ends in a tie, we go to the Rose Bowl since we've already clinched a tie for the Big Ten championship."

If Ohio State wins, the race will end in a tie and the conference athletic directors will vote on the Rose Bowl representative. You remember the fuss when they voted Ohio State in following last year's 10-10 standoff? Wouldn't it be funny if it happened again?

So be it ... Ohio State 24-17. Also at stake is the Pacific-8 Conference spot in the Rose Bowl. It will or won't be determined.

Bear Frosh Named Top Defense Man

Baylor Coach Grant Teaff was reflecting on the sensational play of freshman cornerback Ronald Burns following Saturday's 17-10 Southwest Conference victory over Texas Tech and noted: "Now I know why Oklahoma wanted him so badly."

Burns intercepted a pass which Baylor turned into a touchdown, made 10 tackles, and tackled Tech quarterback Don Roberts on a crucial third-and-one play deep in the game for a yard loss to earn The Associated Press SWC Defensive Player of the Week award.

"Burns is just something else," said Teaff of his blue chip prize from Arlington Sam Houston. "He has just helped us tremendously."

The 6-foot-2, 191-pound Burns came to Baylor after a convincing salesmanship job by Teaff and the friendly atmosphere of the Bear campus in Waco.

"I signed a Big Eight Conference letter of intent with Oklahoma and guess there were at least four other schools I was thinking about instead of Baylor," Burns said. "But those people in Waco are just fine folks ... I guess that's what sold me—the hometown atmosphere."

Burns said he was a little concerned when the Baylor staff moved him to cornerback.

Leslie Davis scored 46 points for Klondike's girls as they topped Garden City 75-38. Jana O'Brien added to the Klondike total with 20 points while Becky Hirt scored 22 and Linda Hatia scored 12 for Garden City.

Klondike won the B Girls game 39-35. The Garden City cagers will again see action Friday night as they travel to Grandfalls for three games.

Klondike Tops Garden City

GARDEN CITY — Klondike's Varsity boys and girls and B team girls all came up with wins in a set of basketball games with the Garden City Bearcats here Tuesday night.

Jimmy Bradford and Greg Eoff led Klondike to a 67-30 win in Varsity Boys action as they scored 15 and 13 points in the win. Bobby Doe and Greg Eoff lead Garden City in scoring with eight and six points scored.

The Garden City cagers will again see action Friday night as they travel to Grandfalls for three games.

Upset Special of the Week ... Southern Methodist 21, Baylor 17. Bears' bubble bursts. By the way, if Baylor wins, Texas would be eliminated from the Southwest Conference chase.

Elsewhere ... Notre Dame 35, Air Force 0. Even if ND's looking ahead to Southern Cal, it won't help the 2-8 Falcons, suffering through their worst season ever.

Maryland 38, Virginia 10; Virginia Coach Sonny Randle says Maryland probably is the finest team to ever play in the Atlantic Coast Conference. He's about to find out first-hand.

Michigan State 21, Iowa 7; Young Spartans conclude a 7-3 season and start looking ahead to next year.

Houston 31, Florida State 14; Seminoles on another losing streak.

Yale 24, Harvard 14; This makes it a perfect 9-0 for the Yalies.

Top Teams In State Playoffs

By The Associated Press Wichita Falls Rider, Cuero, Hamshire-Fannett, Aledo and Big Sandy will carry their No. 1 rankings in the final Associated Press Schoolboy Football Poll into this week's state playoffs.

Big Sandy, the defending Class B state champion and unbeaten in 10 games this season, climaxed a season-long reign atop its classification.

Defending state Class 3A champion Cuero, started the season as No. 5 and worked its way up to the No. 1 position with an 11-0 record, including last week's 27-0 zone playoff victory over previously unbeaten Uvalde.

Wichita Falls Rider retained its Class 4A lead and Hamshire-Fannett kept the 2A title and Aledo hung onto the A lead in a close race with runnerup Rankin.

Previously unbeaten Longview was upended by No. 9 Lufkin last week in a showdown that caused Dist.

Forsan Girls Top McCamey

FORSAN — The Forsan High School Girls Cagers topped their season record to a 3-2 mark here Tuesday night as they downed McCamey 58-48, due to an outstanding defensive effort by the girls.

The Forsan team fought back from a 15-16 first quarter deficit to take a 39-20 half-time lead and a 47-39 lead after three quarters.

Two girls scored over 20 points in the game for Forsan as Letha Strickland scored 24 and Beverly Strickland scored 20. Janet Ellis rounded out the scoring with 14 points. Caroline Ridley was the leading scorer for McCamey with 32 points.

Standouts at the guard positions for Forsan were Ginger Dittmore, Dorothy Banks, Theresa Walls and Debbie Martin.

In the Junior Varsity game, Forsan came out on top 41-36 as Alice Moreno and Lisa Day each had 13 points.

Forsan will travel to Coahoma for three games Friday with the Varsity boys and A and B girls teams seeing action beginning at 5 p.m.

Here is the final Associated Press Schoolboy Football Poll with first place in parentheses, season records and points based on 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1:

Torborg Named

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians have named Jeff Torborg as a member of the coaching staff for the 1975 baseball season.

Pro Cage Standings

The Cavaliers shot a poor 41 per cent from the field and now are 7-7 in play. Carr fired 13 shots but could make only six of them.

Bobby Smith led the Cavs with 16 points, but he had 12 of them in the first half. Jim Chones, the 6-11 center, scored 15 points and laid claim to 12 rebounds.

HOROSCOPE

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1974 GENERAL TENDENCIES: 1974 anything that could affect your health or relations with important persons.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Contact a bigwig who can give you added backing and then get right down to the business of the day.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Prepare carefully for that new project that has you so enthusiastic.

MOON CHILDREN (Nov 22 to Jan 21) You feel confused about duties in a.m. but if you start on the most important, by afternoon you're ahead.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) A partner is acting somewhat strangely, but keep in mind that afternoons you're ahead.

SCORPIO (Oct 23 to Nov 21) Be more thoughtful of kin today and respect their wishes more than you have in the past.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 22 to Dec 21) Try to get closer to regular allies and have better results in the future.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan 20) Don't invest money in a firm, but later get advice from experts about this.

AQUARIUS (Jan 21 to Feb 19) Put personal aims on a more firm basis, then show appreciation to persons who have been helpful to you.

PISCES (Feb 20 to March 20) Plan to be of greater service to others. Discuss your views with those who could profit from them instead of you.

Kidnappers Free Man

NEW YORK (AP) - A businessman kidnaped from his Long Island home at gunpoint a week ago has been released after payment of a $750,000 ransom, the FBI reported early today.

Jack J. Teich, 34, of Kings Point, co-owner of Acme Steel Partition Co., was released near Kennedy International Airport late Tuesday. He was reported in good condition.

An FBI spokesman said that Teich, the father of two, was abducted by two men as he drove into his driveway Nov. 12.

"There is some indication of political motivation," the spokesman said. He gave no other details.

Teich's wife, Janet, 30, reported him missing Nov. 12. Beginning the next day, she subsequently received three telephone calls, one letter and tape recordings, which included Teich's voice, demanding the $750,000 ransom, the FBI said.

The high ransom was paid by the Teich family, the FBI said.

The FBI announced Teich's release at an unusual 2 a.m. news conference which was the first report of the week-old kidnaping. Teich was at FBI headquarters but did not attend the news conference.

Broadside Aimed At Government

HOUSTON (AP) — An independent oilman and a major oil company executive agreed Tuesday that the federal government is the cause of most of the country's energy problems.

While the majors and independents are frequently at odds, in separate statements Tuesday George P. Mitchell, president of the Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association, and Granville Dutton, a Sun Oil Co. executive, both had harsh words about federal energy policies.

letting the price of natural gas go up.

Dutton was here for a speech to an oil group. Mitchell made his remarks in response to a recent statement by Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., and an economic impact report prepared for Moss by the Library of Congress.

Dutton said proposals to eliminate the oil depletion allowance and collect an excess profits tax from oil companies would discourage domestic exploration for new oil.

This, coupled with present price controls on energy, he said, would spell doom to efforts to make this country self-sufficient in energy.

If the federal government frees the oil industry of government controls, he said, gasoline would drop by five cents a gallon within six months to a year.

The Library of Congress report Mitchell blasted says there is little evidence increased prices would boost production of natural gas as advocates of deregulation contend. It also contended if the Federal Power Commission stops setting prices of gas at the wellhead, consumers could pay up to $7.6 million extra for the fuel through 1980.

Mitchell said the $7.6 million estimate was set to frighten consumers. He said only a sixth to an eighth of the price consumers pay for natural gas goes to the well owner.

"The logic of keeping gas underpriced through regulation is insane," Mitchell said. "Rep. Moss and the report obviously failed to appreciate that our generation is being saddled with the deferred costs accumulated during 30 years of government mandated unrealistic prices."

"The effects are obvious—dwindling reserves, lower production levels, shortages, and the unpleasant prospect of suddenly having to pay for the true value of natural gas or do without."

Emblem Is Built

The Coahoma Office Association held its monthly meeting Monday evening. Presiding officer was Alan Roman. Special guests at the meeting were two members of the OEA Advisory Committee, Mrs. Anita Stone and Ralph Beistle, and V.O.C.T. club members and advisor R. D. Tindol.

Guest speaker was Beistle, minister at Coahoma Church of Christ. He gave a speech on human relations and their importance.

Brad Milliken, fund raising committee chairman, gave a report on how much has been earned from the fund raising project. The V.O.E. students have been selling glitter plaques and gift kits.

OEA officers built the OEA Emblem. Each officer placed a portion of the emblem on the shield and told what each piece represented. Officers participating in this ceremony were president Alan Roman; vice president Bobby Fishback; reporter Valrae Best; historian Vickie Cook; secretary Susie Smolko; and parliamentarian Putt Choate.

The emblem is a golden shield, signifying honor, dignity and the importance of office occupations. The strips represent education, citizenship, loyalty, patriotism, dependability and competency. The quill and inkwell represent those early leaders who developed American independence, and signifies leadership, scholarship, character, and courage.

Pain Is Real, Speaker Tells Medical Society

All pain is real, only some is more real than other pain. And oddly, some physicians are more successful in dealing with it than others.

Dr. Joseph Schooler, who holds a double professorship in pharmacology and psychiatry at Baylor Medical school in Houston, told members of the Permain Basin Medical Society Tuesday that placebos — inert drugs — have a place in dealing with pain, but the notion of sugar pills and psychology will handle pain isn't necessarily valid.

He addressed the annual meeting of the society with the Big Spring State Hospital.

Research into the field of pain may have moved from the primitive, he noted, but it still is in the relative early stages, particularly as it relates to measurement. However, some theories are being refuted, such as the idea that pain always has a direct wire from the point of stimulus to the brain. It is true that heavy fibre nerves do have more instant access, but even when they are deactivated, pain is referred. Thus, Dr. Schooler favored the pattern theory in reference to pain, also to the concept that gate valves control the pain transmission, although the central nervous system may exercise influence on the gateways.

But one thing about pain, he said, it is universal, but perhaps no two brains interpret it in the same way.

Frequently, dealing with pain through drugs is therefore not cut and dried. Often suggestion, coupled with drugs, has special effects, but sometimes opposite of what might be imagined. Not infrequently, he added, pain has psychomatic ties. Hence it is, he said, necessary for physicians to deal with the complete person when dealing with pain.

Guests were welcomed by Dr. Robert E. Tinley, and Dr. Robert Sheldon, clinical director, introduced special guests. Dr. Preston Harrison presented Dr. Schooler, and Chaplain Lee Butler worded the invocation. Mrs. Margaret Baum, volunteer coordinator, and Rev. Jim Collier, president-elect of the volunteer council, entertained with a piano duet.

Father Booked For Assault

County Attorney Bill Eysen received a criminal complaint against a local father in connection with assaulting his 13-year-old daughter Tuesday night.

The girl came to the police station and claimed she had been beaten. The county welfare office was called by police, and the complaint was filed today. The girl had not returned to the home on Wednesday morning.

DEATHS

Tom Williams

POST — Services for Tom Williams, 70, of Post will be at 3:30 p.m. today at First Baptist Church here with the Rev. Glenn Reece, pastor officiating.

Burial will be in Terrace Cemetery under direction of Mason Funeral Home.

Williams died at 8:07 p.m. Monday in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

A native of Greenville, he had lived here since 1948. He moved to Lubbock from Amarillo in 1931 and to Close City in 1937. He was a member of First Baptist Church of Post and taught Sunday school for 25 years.

Survivors include his wife, Opal; four daughters, Mrs. Helen Mason of Post, Mrs. Jackie Bowden of Big Spring, Mrs. Tommie Coulter of Victoria and Mrs.

Mary Ann Dowell

Mary Ann Dowell of McKinney; three sisters, Thelma Joe Oakley and Juanita Hick, both of Amarillo; and Gypsy Butcher of Dallas; a brother, Jack Williams of Amarillo; and nine grandchildren.

H. H. Thomas

Hubert H. Thomas, 58, of Anson, brother of a Big Spring resident, died in the Anson General Hospital at 6:42 p.m., Monday following an extended illness.

Services were held at 10 a.m., today in the Anson Street Church of Christ. Burial was to take place in Bethel Cemetery in Funston.

O. H. Thomas of Big Spring is one of four brothers and three sisters who survive. Other survivors include his wife, a son, a daughter, a step-son and five grandchildren.

College Trustees Ratify Tax Pact

Howard College trustees ratified a plan Tuesday for a cooperative tax appraisal service with Howard County, City of Big Spring and Big Spring Independent School District.

The action carried with it a question: Would Coahoma and Forsan school districts be interested in joining? Their tax offices are duplicating what this service will be doing, said Harold Davis, one of the trustees.

As explained in previous releases, the cooperative arrangement, which would replace a contract with Southwestern Appraisal Company, calls for each agency to name a policy-administrative board member and to share in costs proportionate to the number of parcels on the rolls. The county and junior college each would pay 29 per cent, the Big Spring schools 24 and the city 18 per cent. With the county furnishing the office space, overall cost is pegged at $37,200, the same as now paid Southwestern. The city would be the contracting agency.

However, pointed out Davis in his explanation of the proposed pact, there will be a regular staff of four people — the appraiser, two field men and an office clerk.

The board also authorized Dr. Hays to ask for bids and make awards on contracts, subject to subsequent board approval, to avoid long delays. The first case in point is that of bids for replacement of several (original) exterior doors. The board also ratified the price of $10 for season tickets ($5 to students) for basketball games and said this was a matter to be handled hereafter by the administration.

Dr. Charles Hays, college president, gave the board a couple of things to think about — one was the matter of purchasing, rather than leasing cars, since he said a lease plan is not as advantageous to an institution as a private business. He also said the idea of a geodesic dome for a proposed community (coliseum) building had been advanced, but trustees wanted to know what electrical, mechanical and interior costs might be.

Speaking for the Faculty Association, which he heads, Jerry Dudley said the faculty desired close cooperation with the board. "We've been through some good times and bad, but the faculty wants to move ahead so this institution can be what it can be. We want to rally around the flag and make this the best college anywhere... to make this college grow." He noted there is a close relationship with Dr. Hays.
