INFLATION REMAINS NATION'S WORST ENEMY

Arms Race Capped, Ford Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new U.S.-Soviet strategic arms agreement allows both countries to continue costly nuclear weapons buildups over the next decade, President Ford has acknowledged.

In a news conference Monday night, Ford said the accord, worked out last week in Siberia with Soviet Communist Party Leader Leonid I. Brezhnev, allows each country 2,400 long-range missiles and bombers.

FLEXIBILITY

Of that quota, both nations can place multiple warheads — MIRVs — on 1,320 missiles.

Although the President said this agreement "put a cap on the arms race," he described a situation in which both countries have great flexibility in increasing the number of MIRV missiles as well as the lifting power of each missile — "throw-weight" in military-diplomatic jargon.

For instance, the Soviet Union has about 2,200 long-range missiles, none of which is believed to carry multiple warheads. Moscow can and is expected to install MIRV warheads on up to the 1,320-missile limit.

The United States already has 822 of its 1,710 offensive missile force carrying multiple warheads. Ford made it clear Monday night the United States will push its MIRV program to the limit.

CEILING

"We do have an obligation to stay up to that ceiling," he said of the figures worked out at the Vladivostok summit. "The budget that I will recommend will keep our strategic forces either up to or aimed at that objective."

Ford's claims for the agreement, which will run from 1975 to 1985 once technical details are worked out, came under immediate challenge from Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash.

In a telephone interview, Jackson said that "the total number is way out of order when you count the thousands of nuclear warheads that will be produced."

The Russians will be able to build "a new missile system when they don't have any now," he said, referring to the current lack of Soviet MIRVs. In addition, the Washington Democrat said the cost of meeting the ceilings will be extraordinary.

Ford opened the news conference by segregating topics into two categories. He dealt first with the strategic arms question and then turning to domestic matters, primarily the economy.

He repeated his assertion that inflation remains the nation's worst enemy, although acknowledging that a recession "is a serious threat that already has hurt many citizens and alarms many more."

Still, Ford challenged a growing belief among congressional Democrats that the recession should be fought by recharging the economy, possibly by increased spending.

"Our greatest danger today is to fall victim to the more exaggerated alarms that are being generated about the underlying health and strength of our economy," Ford said.

BLAZING BATTLE

Army Kills 'Robin Hood'

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The Mexican Government successfully ended its biggest manhunt in modern history with the death of Lucio Cabanas, the country's top guerrilla outlaw, in a blazing gunbattle with the Mexican Army.

LUCIO CABANAS

SWEET VICTORY

Cabanas' death Monday morning in the rugged mountains north of Acapulco where he had lived for eight years was a sweet victory for the government, which had committed 20,000 soldiers to wear him out.

A teacher-turned-guerrilla, Cabanas was a legend in his own time but remained an enigma in life and death. Some remember him as a cruel bandit who killed, robbed and kidnaped for money. Others thought of him as a modern-day Robin Hood robbing the rich to help the poor.

Observers said Cabanas might have gone on for years if he hadn't kidnaped Sen. Ruben Figueroa last May when the millionaire transportation magnate tried to negotiate a truce.

Cabanas had become Latin America's best known guerrilla leader since Ernesto "Che" Guevara, and Figueroa's kidnaping was the so-called straw that broke the camel's back. The government mobilized 20,000 of its best soldiers to find Cabanas in Mexico's biggest peacetime military operation.

HIT PAY DIRT

Last Sept. 8, the soldiers struck pay dirt. They killed 17 of his followers and liberated Figueroa. A government spokesman said the army had struck a mortal blow against Cabanas' band and predicted Cabanas himself would fall before the year ended.

The grim prediction became reality at 9 a.m. Monday on the 'El Otatal' ranch, 13 miles northeast of Tecpan, which is 75 miles north of the Pacific resort of Acapulco.

A Defense Department statement said 10 members of the guerrilla band died alongside Cabanas. Another 17 guerrillas were killed in an earlier shootout with the army Saturday. The statement said two soldiers were killed and five wounded in the two encounters.

Cabanas, either 36 or 37, was a sixth grade teacher who fled to the hills when a local controversy over school uniforms ended in bloodshed in May 1967. He had taught in the little village of Atoyac, just a few miles from where he died.

Cabanas became a follower of another rebel teacher, Genaro Vazquez Rojas, and was little known until after Vazquez' death in an automobile accident in 1972.

The thin, swarthy former teacher with dark hair and dark eyes picked up the flag of his fallen comrade, declared war against the government and published a manifesto saying he was seeking "a socialist government" for Mexico.

Cabanas liked to claim his revolution was a continuation of the 1910 peasant uprising led by Emiliano Zapata, the famed Mexican guerrilla who was betrayed and killed by the army.

Murder Rate Sad Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — The record-setting U.S. murder rate is not likely to decline until the 1980s when post-World War II babies have matured, a new government report said today.

The National Center for Health Statistics, an arm of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, based that prediction on homicide statistical trends dating back to the 19th century and on the statistical fact that persons between 15 and 29 years old are more likely to be assailants or victims than any other age group.

Statistical expert A. Joan Klebba said an estimated 20,518 persons were murdered last year in the United States, a rate of 9.8 deaths per 100,000 population. The previous record was 9.7 murders per 100,000 in 1933 during the depths of the Great Depression.

The Klebba study disclosed that 40 per cent of the 1972 murder victims and 60 per cent of those arrested for homicide were aged 15 to 29 years, representing in part the "population bulge" of persons born between World War II and the Korean War.

"If the age group 15-29 continues to account for such a high percentage of the victims and those arrested, a downturn in the homicide rate cannot be expected until the 1980s, when the largest birth cohorts of the 1940s and 1950s will have reached 30 years of age or more," it said.

A cohort is a group of individuals having a statistical factor in common in a demographic study, such as year of birth.

The report said that the U.S. murder rate rose from 1900 to a 1933 peak, declined through the 1940s and 1950s, then began an upward trend in 1960 when the rate was 4.7 homicides per 100,000 population.

The study found that homicide rates were four times higher for men than for women, and 11 times higher for blacks than for whites.

Firearms and explosives but mostly firearms were the weapons in 69 per cent of the 1972 murders. The report said 1971 was the first time that guns and bombs were used more often in murders than in suicides.

The World At-A-Glance

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — More executions of Ethiopia's former feudal leaders are expected in reprisal for terrorist bomb attacks in Addis Ababa. The ruling military council blamed supporters of deposed Emperor Haile Selassie for explosions at noon Monday in the city hall and in a downtown hotel. The official casualty count was 13 injured, but witnesses said at least six persons were killed and dozens were injured.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A would-be robber who wanted to go home for Christmas released five hostages unharmed and surrendered after police agreed to fly his mother here from Dallas, Tex. John L. Gilliam, 26, was booked Monday for investigation of robbery, kidnap and burglary. Raymond J. Tompkins, 25, an alleged accomplice, was arrested earlier after unsuccessfully posing as a released hostage. Gilliam and Tompkins are charged in connection with a bungled robbery at a market near San Francisco's Golden Gate Park in which a total of seven hostages were taken. All were released unharmed.

Pioneer 11 Encounters Jupiter

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (AP) — Pioneer 11 changed names today and headed for Saturn, after a perilous but successful confrontation with Jupiter's deadly radiation.

The unmanned 570-pound spacecraft dipped to within 26,600 miles of the surface of boiling, gaseous Jupiter at 9:22 p.m. PST Monday, coming three times closer than Pioneer 10 a year ago and climaxing a 21-month, 620-million-mile voyage.

At 10:24 p.m., scientists received a signal that the spacecraft had survived its close approach to Jupiter and was on its way to make man's first probe of mysterious, ringed Saturn in September 1979.

"I officially rechristen this spacecraft 'Pioneer-Saturn,'" James C. Fletcher, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said at a midnight news conference. He then undraped a huge color drawing of the spacecraft hovering near Saturn.

The "other shoe," which has been held in abeyance for nearly two years, finally dropped today when a Civil Aeronautics Board administrative judge approved Texas International Airline's petition to suspend service to Howard County airport.

Local city, county and Chamber officials this morning decided to pass up an appeal and instead to begin seeking another carrier.

Actually, the proposal had been contested only for little more than a year, but it was nearly two years ago that TIA first gave notice of its intent to halt flights here.

18 SHOPPING DAYS TILL CHRISTMAS

Demos Strip Mills' Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democrats who will dominate the new House have voted major power changes in their party, electing a liberal activist to head their caucus and cutting the authority of Rep. Wilbur D. Mills.

The process which began Monday, the first day of an organization caucus, is scheduled to continue today and throughout the week. The caucus is expected to vote today to increase the membership of the Ways and Means panel from 25 to 37, which could make possible a shift of its majority from conservative to liberal.

BLOW TO MILLS

The caucus voted Monday 146 to 122 to strip the Democratic contingent of Ways and Means of its power to assign party members to other committees.

Assignments now will be made by the Democratic Steering Committee. That panel is composed half of the House leaders and their appointees and half chosen regionally by the caucus membership.

The decision was a blow to Mills, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee. The Arkansas Democrat burst again into the news over the weekend with a public renewal of his friendship with a stripper who plunged into the Washington Tidal Basin in October after a late-night party with Mills and others.

Backers of the change said the move was set and votes lined up before Mills appeared on stage with the stripper at a Boston night club over the weekend.

WINDS OF CHANGE

Rep. Phillip Burton of California was elected caucus chairman Monday, 162 to 111 over B.F. Sisk, also of California. Sisk, who had campaigned for party unity, said he will work with Burton but fears the election might be seen as a sign Congress will be "flying off into the wild blue yonder."

End Hunt For Victims Of Crash

UPPERVILLE, Va. (AP) — Authorities have ended their search for the bodies of 92 persons killed in the crash of a Trans World Airlines jetliner and now are seeking the cause of the crash.

Investigators recovered the plane's flight data recorder and the cockpit voice recorder Monday. They said they hope the instruments will enable them to determine why the Boeing 777 slammed into a fog-draped peak Sunday while approaching Dulles International Airport.

Firefighters and others searched the mountainside Monday to find the bodies of the 85 passengers and seven crew members. O.R. Dube, Loudoun County fire marshal, said, "There might be pieces of bodies left, but no whole bodies."

The National Transportation Safety Board declined to speculate on causes of the crash.

TIA Pull-out Is Upheld, Locals Look Elsewhere

Administrative Law Judge Thomas P. Sheehan of the CAB Tuesday recommended the deletion of the service, according to Herman Schuerer, Washington attorney for Big Spring, Howard County and the Chamber of Commerce.

The decision was based upon results of a hearing held here in August when the airline and a combined group of local interests testified before a CAB examiner.

ALREADY HALTED

The decision allows TIA to halt service here Jan. 2, 1975. (Actually, service was halted Monday by a strike of TIA employees; TIA simply overflew Big Spring and Brownwood although providing service to most other points.)

Schuerer informed the local group that an appeal would stay the order until February if filed by Dec. 23. However, the Chamber's aviation committee, meeting with city and county officials, decided not to contest further, rather to begin a search for another feeder airline service, said Chamber President Ralph McLaughlin.

Even though the fight was unsuccessful, McLaughlin said the Chamber deeply appreciated the cooperation of the county commissioners court and the city council for support and financial help in fighting the petition to stop service.

The judge's ruling, when it becomes effective will permanently revoke TIA's permit to serve Big Spring. The carrier had sought a temporary suspension, which would have enabled it to hold on to the certificate, thus effectively blocking attempts to interest any other carrier.

FOUR DECADES

This will mark the first time since about 1930 that Big Spring has been without scheduled airline service, except for emergencies such as suspension of air mail contracts in the mid-30's.

TIA first served notice Feb. 4, 1973 that it intended to petition for temporary suspension of its permit, and on Aug. 14, 1973, Frank Lorenzo, president of TIA, came here and told local representatives bluntly that no matter what was done to help increase traffic, the carrier intended to pull out.

Formal petition to halt service was not filed until Nov. 26, 1973, and on Dec. 4, city, county and Chamber officials unanimously voted to contest the move. The case got international publicity Dec. 21 when the Associated Press used this case as an example of the threat of airline service to smaller cities. Local interests were unsuccessful in backing TIA off its bid for a temporary suspension but in the end the CAB upheld the pull-out application.

FALL HAS FELL — This little miss is doing her best to help rake up some of the shower of autumn leaves that fell here during the weekend in the wake of temperatures in the low and mid-20s. The rake appeared big enough, but looks like there were more leaves to come.

Briscoe's Mom Dies

UVALDE, Tex. (AP) — The mother of Gov. Dolph Briscoe is dead at 86. Mrs. Dolph Briscoe Sr. died Monday afternoon at Uvalde Memorial Hospital, where she had been in critical condition since Oct. 18.

The governor had been at her bedside most of that time, cancelling the final days of his reelection campaign.

Funeral arrangements were pending, but burial will be in the Briscoe family cemetery in Fort Bend County.

Georgia Briscoe had lived in Uvalde since 1914, when she and her husband of one year, Dolph Briscoe Sr., moved from Fort Bend County to open a car agency and an oil dealership. At his death in 1954, Briscoe was a leader in ranching and financing.

Mrs. Briscoe was a member of the Uvalde Garden Club, El Progresso Club, and Daughters of the American Revolution. She was a member of the Episcopal church.

She was the daughter of William Montgomery Briscoe of Fort Bend County. She was born Oct. 1, 1888.

'MY MELODY OF LOVE' Polish Joke? Far From It

LOS ANGELES (AP) — And then there's the one about the Polish record that has made it into the top ten.

"My Melody of Love," a bouncy song with lyrics half in Polish, half in English, has taken off in a startling climb to the top of the national record charts. It is rocketing '60s singer Bobby Vinton to a remarkable comeback as "the Polish superstar."

And the only joke is on the eight record companies who turned down the song when it was first offered.

"The reaction has been unbelievable," says Vinton. "This is really bringing out Polish pride."

At his East Coast concerts, he has been mobbed by Polish fans.

Vinton, in his early 30s, has quickly become the central figure in a "Polish Power" movement aimed at squelching the negative jokes and remarks about Poles.

A noncontroversial pop singer who gained fame with such ballads as "Roses are Red," "Blue Velvet," and "Every Day of My Life," Vinton has always proclaimed his Polish heritage.

"I always used to do a Polish number in my act, but it was a polka and I did it kind of funny. My mother would always say: 'Why don't you do a Polish song seriously instead of throwing it away?'"

When his mother came to visit from Pittsburgh, Pa., earlier this year, they discussed the subject again.

"She said: 'Why don't you do a nice Polish song?' I said: 'I don't know any Polish songs.' So I decided I would write one."

His mother helped with the Polish lyrics, although Vinton knows the language himself. Born Stashu Bobby Vinton in Camonsburg, Pa., Vinton spent his early years in Polish parochial school.

Vinton, who had not made a record in a year, teamed up with his former record producer, Bob Morgan, and cut a demonstration record.

Then they began peddling the unusual tune. Eight record companies rejected it.

Finally, he took it half-heartedly to ABC records.

Cotton Classing Shows Increase

Cotton harvesting reached peak proportions and 7,065 samples were classed at the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service classing office in Pecos. This brings the season's total to 16,345 compared with 32,680 for this same period last year, according to Shirley Sewell, in charge.

Grade 42 was predominant with 32 per cent of classings followed by grade 52 with 19 per cent. All White grades combined for 35 per cent. Staples ranged from 29 to 37 with staple 34 accounting for 39 per cent, Staple 33 for 22 per cent. The premium mike range of 3.5 to 4.9 accounted for 88 per cent. Farmers in Pecos and Reeves County received $150 per ton for cottonseed.

Aliens Discover Fake Weddings

DENVER (AP) — Illegal aliens have discovered a new method of gaining U.S. citizenship: marry an American for "immigration purposes only," says the deputy regional director of the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Colorado, including 20 cases in the past six weeks. Many cases probably go undetected, he added.

Immigration laws permit alien spouses of Americans to easily obtain entry visas, Dahlin said. Once the aliens are in the country legally, they obtain divorces and become naturalized citizens.

L.H. Dahlin says more than 50 of the convenience marriages have been uncovered this year in

If the convenience marriages are detected, the aliens are deported.

Bridge is a constant cut and thrust between the defenders and declarer to gain the upper hand. See how the tide of battle flowed on this hand.

The auction was straightforward. In support of North's hand, South revealed to 18 points, so he showed his power with a jump raise to three hearts. The bid was not forcing, and South was entitled to pass with a minimum. But at a heart contract South's hand was worth 10 points, so he had a little in reserve when he continued to game.

West led the king of spades, and it appeared that the defenders were in command. If declarer won the ace, the contract would hinge on the club finesse, and as the cards lie South would have been defeated. When East gained the lead with the king of clubs he would return a spade, allowing the defense to collect two spade tricks in addition to a trick in each minor suit. However, declarer found a neat way to improve his chances and seize the initiative. At trick one, he played the seven of spades from dummy!

East carefully followed with the five so as not to encourage a spade continuation, which would have made declarer's task easy. West found the good shift to a low diamond, East won the ace and returned the six of spades. West's nine forcing the ace. After drawing trumps in two rounds, ending in the closed hand, declarer tried the club finesse.

Though East won this trick with the king, the contract was safe. South's hold-up play of the ace of spades at trick one now produced a handsome dividend—East was on lead and he did not have a spade to play. No matter what he returned, declarer would be able to discard his losing spade on the good clubs in dummy.

Had East started with three spades, declarer could not have won the contract. By holding up the ace of spades one round, he gave himself a slight extra chance for the game and came through despite sterling work by the defenders.

Dr. Key Attends Education Parley

Dr. Larry Key will represent Howard College at a meeting on community education in Austin today.

Dr. Harold Sponberg, professor at Northern Michigan University in Marquette, was to address the luncheon session on "Community Education and the Job Ahead." He is a national consultant in this field. The conference was called by the Texas Education Agency. Community education is a concept which promotes use of school facilities for after-school education and recreational activities, both for adults and children.

Youth Charged

Terry Montgomery, 17, has been moved from the maximum security division of the Big Spring State Hospital and placed in city jail on a charge of rape. His bond has been set at $25,000 by Justice of the Peace Gus Ochotorena.

City Detectives Avery Falkner and Alvis Jeffcoat moved Montgomery from the hospital to the jail after he reached adult age on Nov. 21.

He was originally arrested by the city juvenile division on Oct. 18 charged with the rape of a 59-year-old Big Spring housewife in her home on Oct. 13. His court appointed attorney is Ray Ford.

Ball Park Funds

State funds for the baseball park complex to be constructed south of the Big Spring State Hospital were expected to come up for consideration today in Austin.

James Campbell, director of parks and recreation here, was in Austin to answer questions by the State Parks and Wildlife Department in connection with the proposed project.

Pattern's Different

Traditional economic theory tells us that to treat inflation, a government can take steps to tighten up on money supplies by increasing the cost of credit, make budget reductions and impose taxes—all designed to reduce spending. It can even impose rigid price and wage controls while dampening policies are taking effect.

During a recession, a government can loosen credit to encourage greater economic activity, engage in big public works programs to pump more dollars into the private sector by creating more jobs. It can increase budget deficits and reduce taxes, putting more money into circulation.

But the government has a different problem now. How does it go about treating both inflation and recession at the same time? The traditional treatments offer little help.

Within the past few weeks, the government has reported both an inflation rate increase and a decrease in the index of leading economic indicators. The outlook appears that we will have higher prices, higher unemployment, demands for big wage boosts, a slowdown in consumer spending, decreasing productivity and increased manufacturing capacity. Now how can you go about solving a dilemma like that?

Brake On Christmas Spirit

The tradition of sending fancy holiday greeting cards, a tradition assiduously nurtured by the card makers, is very well established. It would take something rather drastic to impel Americans to give up or curtail the practice.

Just such a something may be in the wind. The price of sending cards to a list of friends, relatives, business associates and whatnot has gotten to be a serious factor in determining the size of the list.

The card companies, beset by higher costs, are putting more high-priced cards on the racks. That old reliable, the 5-cent card, has all but vanished; those ranging from 10 to 25 cents are less common this year. All of which may apply some restraint on Christmas cheer this year.

"Pot" Pourri

Around The Rim

Jo Bright

We had taken some pictures at Howard College in relation to this week's Project Re-Entry seminar and were leaving the Student Union Building when I noticed the rack of colorful brochures. Being addicted to free literature, I took one of each—two of some.

THE SUBJECT matter ranged from machine tool technology to safe, legal abortion services. One folder announced the existence of the Edna Gladney Home for unwed mothers, and another was entitled "New Life for You," an invitational pamphlet from College Baptist Church.

One that was of particular interest to me was "Marihuana Fables and Facts" which can be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., 20402, for five cents; $2.00 per 100. It is the National Clearinghouse for Mental Health Information Publication No. 5021.

HERE ARE some of its highlights. "Marihuana is not a narcotic—except by statute. Narcotics are opium or its derivatives (Like Heroin and morphine) and some synthetic chemicals with opium-like activity.

"Marihuana does not cause physical addiction, since tolerance to its effects, and symptoms on sudden withdrawal, do not occur. It can produce a habituation (psychological dependence). "Persons under the influence of marihuana tend to be passive. Sometimes, a crime is committed by a person while under the influence of marihuana, but the personality of the user is as important as the type of drug in determining whether chemical substances lead to criminal or violent behavior.

"Marihuana has no aphrodisiac property.

"INSTANCES OF acute panic, depression and psychotic states are known, although they are infrequent. Certain kinds of individuals can also become over-involved in marihuana use and center their lives around it. We do not know the effects of long-term use. Neither do we know if occasional use of marihuana is less harmful than occasional use of alcohol. Research on the effects of various amounts of each drug for various periods is now underway.

"We know of nothing in the nature of marihuana that predisposes to heroin abuse. It is estimated that less than 5 per cent of chronic users of marihuana will progress to experiment with heroin.

"MARIHUANA MIGHT bring fantasies of enhanced creativity but they are illusory, as are 'instant insights' reported by marihuana users.

"Driving under the influence of any intoxicant is hazardous." "It is a fable that more severe penalties will solve the marijuana problem, for it is a fact that marihuana use has increased enormously in spite of severely punitive laws."

AT ONE time, I proposed to smoke marihuana and write a story about my reactions, but Judge Ralph Cason said there was no legal way to do it. But in recent months, several older, respected citizens have offered to supply me with the substance.

Hardly seems fair does it, that thousands of young boys are losing their youth behind prison walls for doing what millions of others are doing every day.

Mild Blessing

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — Although the new SALT agreement with Moscow is nothing like the miraculous breakthrough painted by President Ford and press secretary Ron Nessen, it is satisfactory and safe enough to get a private blessing from a sober critic: Secretary of Defense James Schlesinger.

SUMMONED TO THE White House last Monday evening for his first full-scale briefing from Mr. Ford on the Vladivostok pact, Schlesinger did not really know what to expect. Afterward, he told Pentagon colleagues with visible relief that he was "quite pleased."

Schlesinger's restrained pleasure is far more important than Nessen's transparent attempts to induce euphoria and pump up a sagging Ford presidency. What's more, his caution more closely reflects the starkly realistic, noneuphoric underpinning for the new strategic arms limitation (SALT) agreement. Soviet desire to take advantage of Western political weakness mixed with fear of inherent Western technological superiority; U.S. fear that the heavily Democratic Congress will not approve sufficient funds to unleash that technology.

SCHLESINGER'S INITIAL reaction, assuring Pentagon acceptance of the new agreement, is significant considering his backstage disagreements with Secretary of State Henry Kissinger the past 18 months over how to tame runaway Soviet developments of arms. What's more, he was not fully informed on specific details of the progress made by Kissinger in Moscow earlier this year. When an aide to Sen. Henry M. Jackson contacted Schlesinger Sunday night for his reaction to Vladivostok, he replied glumly that he knew nothing about it.

SCHLESINGER HAS always been against piecemeal arms agreements, partly on grounds that the Russians would exploit the exempted areas. Kissinger, worried over spending limits imposed by a neo-isolationist Congress, has pushed hard for almost any agreement with Moscow. His thesis: partial agreements keep the door open. The aspect of the Vladivostok pact adopting the theory of "equal aggregates"—equality in the number of missile launchers and bombers—is viewed by one top Pentagon strategist as "an extraordinary breakthrough." Equally significant was the apparent Soviet agreement, after years of intransigence to exempt NATO airfields in Central Europe.

WHY THE CHANGE in Kremlin intransigence? The real Soviet interest in giving the new President an arms control agreement may be to buy detente insurance. With the West in disarray and the Middle East threatening new dangers for Washington, keeping the Moscow-Washington machinery lubricated is paying high dividends to the Kremlin.

But there is another important reason: Soviet fear that more delay would trigger an explosion of new U.S. weapons technology at a time of unemployment and recession.

THUS, CONGRESSIONAL approval earlier this year of the full $77 million request for development of exotic improvements for Minuteman missiles was carefully noted by the Russians. Likewise, the experimental firing of an intercontinental ballistic missile dropped from a C-5 transport hinted at U.S. development of a dreaded air-mobile ICBM, a potential new system beyond Soviet capability today.

Whatever dictated Moscow's decision to deal so quickly with Mr. Ford, the Russians retain within the new agreement one paramount advantage: lack of restraints on the number of warheads that may be carried by a single missile. Because Soviet missiles are far larger and have far more power than the small U.S. Minuteman, they can each carry far more warheads, or re-entry vehicles (MIRVs). Indeed, Sen. Jackson and other hard-line critics of Kissinger's arms-control policy claim that this single advantage threatens a huge Soviet edge in deliverable warheads by 1985, when the new agreement expires and the Soviet force is "mirrored" up to the new limits.

William F. Buckley, Jr.

There is a lot of talk going on among American conservatives, some of it in public, most of it in private, on the question whether there could be a fusion between traditional conservatives and Wallaceite populists in 1976 and, presumably, thereafter, if the wedding night proved blissful.

SOME ARE very optimistic on the point. They single out, for example, the latest letter from George Wallace, sent out to who knows how many hundred thousand people, asking for money and for expressions of support. That letter lists five concerns of George Wallace, and all of them are among the traditional concerns of American conservatives: law and order, deficit spending, military preparedness, compulsory busing, and judicial tyranny. But merely to be "concerned" over deficit spending, the skeptics point out, is not sufficient to unite the populist and the conservative. Recently, a skeptic gave as an example the single question of fuel conservation. More narrowly, gas. What do you do about the high cost of it?

A CONSERVATIVE would reason as follows: The high cost of gas must be passed along to the consumer. Simultaneously, the discovery of additional sources of fuel, or of fuel substitutes, should be encouraged. The higher cost of fuel itself would attract investment in oil exploration. If even more intensive exploration seemed desirable, then special tax advantages should be encouraged.

Now the populist does not tend to reason that way. First and foremost, the populist desires a villain. It doesn't help much to offer him a foreign villain, because the populist inclines towards isolationism, and isn't enthusiastic about sending the marines to punish the foreign villain. So you have to come up with somebody more accessible than King Faisal.

WHAT YOU come up with is The Big Oil Companies. You start talking about their huge profits. Then you start talking about the problems of the little guy, who suddenly has to pay 60 cents per gallon for his gasoline, while the rich Park Avenue matrons clip their coupons.

'Help A Poor Broker'

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Would you like to buy your kids a Christmas gift at a discount? A gift that should last well beyond the six-hour destruct time of so many toys? A gift that is educational and even profitable?

"Don't interrupt, there's more," said a salesman, an earnest but gaunt figure. "Listen," he said, and he related how this simple, inexpensive gift might: "Protect against inflation, help pay educational costs or provide a start for a future business, teach the owner about our economic system, probably inspire him to great wealth and..." There was a pause: "Help a poor broker."

While almost every traditional gift is higher in price this year, stocks are depressed, so much so that few people seem to be considering them as gifts. Even the New York Stock Exchange has dropped its holiday promotion.

The Securities Industry Association, which speaks for brokers, feels that this year might be a better time than ever to give shares as gifts, mainly because of the bargain prices.

Nobody can guarantee those prices will rise again, but if the past is a criterion there's a very strong likelihood they will be. And youngsters have a long time that can be used waiting.

Giving gifts of stock to minors once was a complicated undertaking.

Now there are laws in every state that permit gifts to minors of securities—and in some states gifts of insurance and annuity contracts—with a parent retaining custodial responsibilities.

The procedure, while simple—almost any brokerage house can handle the transaction—is a serious matter. The giver never can take back the gift, although the custodian may sell the securities if the proceeds are used for the youngster's benefit.

While prices of many blue chips are low, a prospective buyer must also consider that a commission must be paid. On orders of less than $2,000 that commission is negotiable, which means it might pay to shop around.

Merrill Lynch, the largest brokerage house, offers this illustration of charges on some small orders:

One share at $15 a share: about a $5 minimum.
10 shares at $15 a share: $8.14
100 shares at $15 a share: $34.65

Orders should be placed well ahead of Christmas in order for the transaction to be completed. Ordinarily it takes five business days for the certificates to be readied and sent to the buyer.

Relatively New Test

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Because I have had bowel cancer surgery, my physician suggested that I take the C.E.A. (Carcinoembryonic antigen) blood test. My bill from the hospital where the test was made refers to it as "nuclear medicine."

Please explain in layman's language what the purpose of the test is. I understand it is a new procedure.—I.G.

Yes, it is a relatively new procedure. When cancer is present, at least in certain forms and areas, there are small changes in the blood that now can be detected.

Specifically, this applies chiefly to cancer of the colon, pancreas, lung, bladder and prostate—which includes your operation. The point is that the presence of cancer results in a rise in the level of antigens, or protective particles in the blood.

The test has only limited value in trying to diagnose early cancer—it isn't the type of test that can economically be used in general testing, and it would not point to the particular organ involved. It is an expensive and complicated procedure.

Its value, rather, is to keep track of conditions in cases like yours—after surgery, to determine if there has been any recurrence or spread of the cancer. For such use it is very helpful.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Enclosed is 35 cents and a stamped, addressed, return envelope for which please send me your booklet, "How You Can Control Arthritis."

Last year at age 72 my husband had X-rays and lab tests and was told he now has rheumatoid arthritis which usually affects people up to age 40.—M.M.

Rheumatoid arthritis (as opposed to other varieties of arthritis) is more likely to appear before age 40, but that doesn't mean it can't start at any age. Some small babies get it; some teenagers. And so on up. It can appear in the 60s, 70s or later, although that's not the usual pattern.

What about constipation? Many can be relieved of it, both mentally and physically, by reading Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "The Way to Stop Constipation." For a copy write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

For a better understanding of colitis and other intestinal ailments, their causes and treatment, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald, for a copy of his booklet, "Colitis and Kindred Complaints." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Henry's Coming

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — We're having tremendous excitement in the nation's capital this week. There is a rumor going around that Secretary of State Henry Kissinger may visit Washington, D.C. Officially State Department spokesmen are denying it. One assistant secretary told me, "There would be no reason for Mr. Kissinger to come to the United States at this time." But despite the denials, preparations are going ahead.

A cleaning woman at the State Department told me she had been ordered to take the sheets off the furniture in Kissinger's office, and two of Kissinger's secretaries have been seen at the hairdresser.

PAINTERS HAVE been sprucing up government buildings for several weeks, and Kissinger's security men have been checking out the State Department halls for the last four days.

When I confronted the assistant secretary with all these facts, he finally admitted that there was a possibility that Kissinger might indeed visit Washington. "The reason why we haven't publicized it is that Mr. Kissinger might change his mind at the last minute and fly over the city on his way to Paris."

THE ASSISTANT SECRETARY said that they had been making plans for the Kissinger visit for months. "He, of course, will meet with President Ford while he's here, as they have many things of mutual interest to discuss.

"After their meeting the President will host a luncheon to introduce Mr. Kissinger to other members of his Cabinet. Following the lunch we have arranged a special tour of the State Department for the secretary. We want State Department employees to see Mr. Kissinger in the flesh."

"MR. KISSINGER will then visit his office and have his picture taken seated behind his own desk. After the photos, a cocktail party will be held where Mr. Kissinger will be introduced to foreign ambassadors stationed in Washington.

"Will Mr. Kissinger visit with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee while he's here?" I asked.

"If he's still in the country he will. His people have warned us that he may not be able to stay for more than 24 hours, since this is just a courtesy visit. We do know that President Ford has asked him to stay an extra day."

"WHY DO YOU think Henry Kissinger is visiting Washington, D.C., at this time?"

"Well in the last few months he's been in London, Paris, New Delhi, Damascus, Cairo, Te Aviv, Tokyo, Moscow, Seoul, Peking and Vladivostok, and many people in this country felt he had been ignoring the United States.

"After all, we are a major power, but no one considered us one because Mr. Kissinger had never been here. Since President Ford's personal prestige was at stake, we persuaded the Kissinger people that a visit at this time would be a feather in the President's cap."

My Answer

Billy Graham

I often doubt the existence of God, yet in times of trouble, I call on Him. Why is this? A.F.

Your question reminds me of the little poem written by an unknown author: "There is no God, the wicked saith, And surely, it's a blessing, For what He'd surely do to us It's better only guessing. But almost everyone when disease and sorrow strikes him, Inclines to think there is a God.

Or something very like Him." Wouldn't you agree that your doubts are born at a time when you are self-sufficient, prosperous and happy? The only problem with that is that we see only part of the picture. The truth is we are creatures lost and undone, falling far short of God's standard for holiness. (Isaiah 53:6). If we could see ourselves as

He sees us, we'd be pleading for forgiveness constantly.

Thank God that Christ has come to atone for the past, to equip us for the present, and to prepare us for the future. Man is the most foolhardy when he limits his contacts with the Lord. No wonder the hymn writer put it:

"I need three every hour, most gracious Lord,

No other voice but thine can peace afford,

I need thee every hour, stay thou nearby,

Temptations lose their power when thou art nigh."

I suggest you practice daily dependence on God. Soon you'll find it indispensable.

A Devotion For Today . . .

"Though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool." (Isaiah 1:18) PRAYER: Redeeming Savior, thank You for renewal of a person, even one in poor condition. Thank You for bringing me out of the pit of sin. Thank You that even as we repent, we are forgiven. Amen.

Cuban Women Nix Secondary Role

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Cuban women, apparently influenced by international women's lib movements, passed a resolution Thursday night in a women's conference in Havana rejecting the idea that women take a secondary role in society, the Cuban News Agency Prensa Latina said.

The resolution implicitly condemned the old image of the role of the woman during the eradicated capitalist society in Cuba, in which women were relegated to the home atmosphere, who took the role of a slave and in a sad state without being allowed to act in the economic, political and social fields of the country," Prensa Latina, monitored here, said.

The resolution was passed unanimously during the current second international Cuban Women's Federation Conference in Havana attended by 2,000 delegates from 55 countries, including American communist Angela Davis and Soviet Cosmonaut Valentina Tereskeva.

The resolution, entitled "Role of the Family in Socialism" also said that "all members of the family must contribute in household chores. Prensa Latina reported.

But the resolution emphasized the family as an entity is still "very important" in a socialist society such as Cuba.

The conference was to end Friday after a week of sessions.

In other actions by the conference Thursday, the Chilean delegation headed by supporters of the overthrown Allende regime including the widow of Allende, Hortensia Bussy, sent a cable to Mexican President Luis Echeverria supporting his decision to break with the current Chilean military regime. Mexico broke relations on Tuesday.

The Mexican delegation to the conference, Marta Tamayo, president of the Mexican Women's Union, denounced the United States for "conducting ideological penetration and economic domination of Mexico." She cited no examples, according to Prensa Latina. She said there is widespread anti-imperialist feeling in Mexico stemming from the Mexican-American war in the 1840s during which "they the U.S. stole 52 per cent of our territory."

At the end of Thursday's session, two American representatives of the "Women Strike for Peace" movement in America held a news conference expressing support for Chilean leftists fighting the military government.

The American women attending the conference were identified by Prensa Latina as Mary Clarke and Martha Crump. No hometowns were given.

Appointee Started On The Wrong Side

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has chosen a British-born woman for a top job in arranging the U.S. bicentennial—and to the daughters of the American Revolution, that is a call to arms.

The DAR has filed a protest with the Senate Judiciary Committee over the selection of Mrs. Marjorie W. Lynch as deputy administrator of the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration. The DAR thinks it downright unpatriotic, the revolution having been waged against some of Mrs. Lynch's British ancestors.

DAR members are "incredulous that a woman of English birth" should be nominated to the position, said Mrs. Henry Stewart Jones, president general of the organization.

"This is an affront to patriotic, native American women, among whom there are many who certainly could have served with distinction in this capacity," Mrs. Jones wrote the committee.

She said the committee should not let Mrs. Lynch's nomination slip through in routine fashion without a hearing.

A public hearing now has been scheduled for Wednesday, with Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., chairman of a subcommittee on holidays and celebrations, expected to preside.

Mrs. Lynch, who became a naturalized U.S. citizen in 1948, reportedly met her American husband during World War II while she was serving with the Red Cross.

She has been an associate director for domestic and antipoverty operations of ACTION and for 10 years was a member of the House in the Washington state legislature.

Although a Republican, Mrs. Lynch has the support of Washington's Democratic senators, Warren G. Magnuson and Henry M. Jackson, for her appointment to the bicentennial commission.

Golden Anniversary Is Observed By Wolfes

Dr. and Mrs. O. E. Wolfe celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary Saturday at the home with their family and a few close friends.

Their two children, Spencer Wolfe and wife, and Mrs. Robert Freeberg, and her husband, Dr. Freeberg of Las Cruces, N.M., were hosts for the family gathering. The six grandchildren of Dr. and Mrs. Wolfe also were present.

Mrs. Wolfe, the former Miss Ether Jones, and Dr.

Wolfe, who had just established his veterinary medicine practice here, were married at her home in Baird. They have made their home in Big Spring since that time. Mrs. Wolfe, a former teacher, and Dr. Wolfe both have been retired for some time.

Vitamin Tip On Nutrition

Vitamins although they are required in minute amounts, are essential for growth and reproduction; formation of antibodies; coagulation of the blood; resistance to infection; formation of intercellular substances; and integrity of bones, teeth, skin, blood and nervous tissue. They also function as coenzymes for innumerable chemical reactions concerned with the metabolism of food, on which the nutrition of the body depends.

Solicitous Relatives May Really Mean Well

DEAR ABBY: I am a 74-old childless widow. My husband left me a nice home and well off financially. Some close relatives are now pressing me to sell my house, buy a trailer, and move to another state so they can look after me.

Abby, I don't need "looking after." If that day ever comes I plan to use my money to live out my days in a nice nursing home. I can certainly afford it.

These relatives ignore everything I say to them in this regard and keep pressuring me to sell my home and make plans to live near them. I am sure if I were penniless, they wouldn't be so eager to look after me.

My will does not include any of my family. Everything is going to charity.

In case you think I'm getting senile, let me assure you that I am not. How do I get these relatives to leave me alone?

PESTERED DEAR PESTERED: Assure them emphatically that if you ever feel the need of their help, you will let them know. Then mention the fact that you are leaving everything to charity.

DEAR ABBY: Exactly a year ago today we lost our only child — a beautiful 16-year-old boy. He and I were returning home from a fishing trip in a blinding rainstorm. I skidded, lost control of the car and we landed in a ditch. My son's neck was broken and he died before I could get him to a hospital. I walked away with a small cut on my nose.

My wife hasn't been the same since. I know she blames me for the boy's death, but I give you my word, I wasn't going fast, I wasn't careless, and it was one of those freak accidents that couldn't be helped. I've tried to explain this to her a thousand times, but she doesn't seem to hear me.

We're practically strangers, Abby, and I can't snap her out of her depression. I once suggested that she get psychiatric help and she said she wasn't "crazy."

Can you help me? We once had a good marriage.

NOT GUILTY

DEAR NOT: Your suggestion of psychiatric help is the only solution. If you can't persuade her, perhaps someone whose judgment she trusts can. Your family doctor? A clergyman? A dear friend? Others who have suffered similar heartbreaking tragedies have found their way back to normalcy and peace of mind with professional help. I urge you to find a way to lead her to it.

Tex Watson talks about
The West Texas Gas Supply

You hear a great deal about the competition for the natural gas in West Texas these days. It is rightfully a matter of interest and concern to every citizen of this area. It has some serious implications.

Natural gas has been an important factor in building West Texas and will continue to be. Most of the businesses and industries in our area depend, directly or indirectly, on a continuing supply of natural gas. A lot of people's jobs depend on it. So, we must see that they have it.

We will have to pay more for it than in the past... the competition for gas has never been so fierce. But by working together, and without outside interference, we'll have the gas energy we need today and in the future. Gas will still be your best energy buy.

PIONEER NATURAL GAS COMPANY

Mr. Bert Tex Watson, president of Pioneer Natural Gas Company, is a native of West Texas, a former engineer and lawyer by training and in his 20th year with your gas company.

OJ Remains Atop AP Grid Poll

The Oklahoma Sooners have finished the regular 1974 college football season atop The Associated Press rankings.

In their final game Saturday, Oklahoma defeated Oklahoma State 44-13 and earned 49 first-place votes and 1,198 of a possible 1,220 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

It marked the fourth week in a row for Oklahoma in the No. 1 position. The Sooners, on probation and ineligible for postseason competition, completed their campaign with an 11-0 record.

Alabama was runner-up for the fourth consecutive week. The Crimson Tide, also 11-0, shaded Auburn 17-13 last Friday and received 12 first-place votes and 1,112 points. Alabama plays Notre Dame in the Orange Bowl the night of Jan. 1.

Ohio State and Michigan, which finished a week earlier, held onto the 3-4 positions with 982 and 828 points respectively.

But Southern California climbed from sixth to fifth thanks to that incredible 55-24 rout of Notre Dame, which dropped the Irish from fifth to ninth and killed any lingering dreams of a second straight national championship.

The new national champion will be crowned by The AP following the bowl games. The final poll will be released at 6:30 p.m. EST, on Thursday, Jan. 2, 1975, to morning papers of Friday, Jan. 3.

Despite its loss to Alabama, Auburn rose from seventh to sixth. Penn State moved up from 10th to seventh by trouncing Pitt 31-10 and Nebraska, which finished a week earlier, jumped from ninth to eighth.

ARCHIE GRIFFIN... Heisman Trophy winner.

Archie Griffin Gets Heisman

NEW YORK (AP) — Archie Griffin, a speedy and powerful tailback who weaved his way to a national rushing record as the leader of Ohio State's crunching ground attack, was named winner of the 1974 Heisman Trophy today.

In the 1974 season, Griffin, who already is the all-time Ohio State and Big Ten leading rusher, was the key to the Buckeye attack, carrying 236 times for 1,620 yards, an average of 147.3 yards a game as Ohio State posted a 10-1 record. He scored 12 touchdowns. Griffin will appear in his third consecutive Rose Bowl game on New Year's Day against Southern California.

Griffin's leading competition for the Heisman Trophy was another outstanding tailback, senior Anthony Davis of Southern California, who rushed for 1,354 yards and scored four times against Notre Dame last Saturday after most Heisman votes were cast.

Football fans will get their third chance to compare the strengths of the two swift runners in the Rose Bowl.

Others placing high in the voting were quarterbacks Tom Clements of Notre Dame and Dave Humm of Nebraska and Oklahoma halfback Joe Washington. But for Washington to have won would have required overcoming his school's NCAA probation, which denied him the television exposure that all the other candidates received.

"I've never had a player like Arch," said Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes. "He's

Cisco Gets Revenge Over Hawks

CISCO — Cisco Junior College's David Payne sunk a 25 foot shot with only three seconds left in the game to give the Wranglers a 69-67 revenge win over Howard College Monday night.

Payne's shot climaxed a rally which saw Cisco come from a 62-50 deficit to win their first of three encounters with Howard College this season.

Howard held the 12 point lead with 8:53 remaining in the game, but sunk only one field goal and three free throws the remainder of the game.

Cisco tied it up at 67 with less than a minute left in the game and the Wranglers worked for the last shot that insured them the victory.

The loss dropped Howard College to a 3-8 record while Cisco climbed to a 5-5 mark.

The Hawks will open their Conference play Thursday night in a home game with Odessa College.

Lamesa Tops Steers 71-51

LAMESA — The Big Spring Steers fell behind early in a basketball encounter with Lamesa Monday night, and stayed behind as Lamesa rolled to a 71-51 win.

The Junior Varsity lost their game to Lamesa also, 57-43.

Lamesa took a 13-8 lead after the first quarter and held on to a 33-23 lead at halftime. Lamesa led 52-38 after three quarters.

The Steers will have little time to think about the loss as they will host Crane in another basketball encounter tonight in Steer Gymnasium.

The junior varsity game will begin at 6:15 with the varsity cagers tipping off at 8 p.m.

BASEBALL — The Chicago Cubs picked catcher Tim Hosley from Tucson of the Pacific Coast League as the first of a mere three selections in major league baseball's annual player draft, the fewest ever chosen at the winter meetings.

FOOTBALL — Lawrence, Kan. — Don Fambrough, head football coach at the University of Kansas, resigned after four years at the post.

NEW YORK — Penn State, meeting for a Cotton Bowl on Thursday night, won the Lambert Trophy, signifying Eastern Football supremacy, for the fourth consecutive year.

NFL No-Shows May Top Million Mark

By The Associated Press
Where is everybody? Well, a lot of them are still heading for National Football League games in droves — but a lot of them are staying away, too.

"With two weeks remaining, our 'no-shows' appear certain to top a million," Don Weiss, the NFL's director of information says in reference to the paid-for, empty seats around the league.

No-shows, which became an issue at the start of the 1973 season, when Congress passed legislation requiring the league to televise formerly blacked-out home games if they were sold out 72 hours before kickoff.

Through the first 156 games of 1973, there were 15,860 no-shows, fans who bought tickets — sometimes for as much as $10 — but didn't attend, deciding instead to watch them at home or, in some cases, to watch more exciting, more important games — being televised from other cities.

This year, the no-show figure was up by 110,871 to a 156-game total of 826,731. That averages out to nearly 69,000 per week.

If it were to hold to that figure, the season total would be about 965,000. But with some teams out of the playoffs, decreasing local interest, and some playing in increasingly miserable winter weather, the average seems certain to increase, pushing the season's no-show total past a record million.

The "extended" weekend just completed, with two games on Thanksgiving Day, 10 on Sunday and one on Monday night, illustrates the point perfectly.

The no-shows for the 13 games totaled 187,691, nearly triple the season's weekly average. These figures would seem to give Commissioner Pete Rozelle and the rest of the NFL some potent ammunition in what will certainly be an attempt to end the local-television policy.

Washington, D.C., also is pressing for a franchise. In recent years, two clubs have been moved out of the nation's capital, which may wind up with the Baltimore club which is up for sale. It's possible the team would play a split season at Baltimore and Washington.

Approval of expansion is not expected at these meetings. The nation's economy is regarded as the major concern for not taking that step now.

The lack of players was emphasized Monday night when the major leagues held their draft of minor leaguers. Only three were chosen at a cost of $25,000 each.

The Chicago Cubs chose catcher Tim Hosley from Tucson of the Pacific Coast League, the New York Mets grabbed outfielder Jorge Roque from Puebla of the Mexican League, and Boston chose second baseman Kim Andrew from Rochester of the International League.

Meanwhile there was little action of the trading front. Tommy Harper was the first name player to go — dealt by the Boston Red Sox to the California Angels for infielder Bobby Heise.

WFL Team Walks Out

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — "What they are trying to do is crucify football," Coach Jack Gotta of the Birmingham Americans of the World Football League said Monday after his players walked off the practice field.

The players refused to practice until they received pay for their last five games.

The first World Bowl pits the Americans against the Florida Blazers Thursday night in Birmingham. It was not clear Monday night if the protesting Americans' players would participate without the pay.

Allen Miller, the WFL's Players Association counselor, "I know one thing, if players decide not to play in the World Bowl, it would be the last straw for the league. It would certainly kill attendance."

Miller said, "but if it is a power move by them I think it is stupid, ill-advised and improper."

Bill Putnam, the owner of the Americans, could not be reached for comment. The team owes about $100,000 in city, county and state sales taxes and a local bank is asking for some $750,000 payment on a loan.

and restore all hometown blackouts, either when the Congressional legislation, a three-year experiment, expires after the 1976 season, or before.

Rozelle, already preparing briefs to have the law changed, contends it undermines pro football's basic economic structure and diminishes the fans' interest in games.

The 187,691 no-shows of the past 13 games "was not a record," Weiss said. "On the last week of the 1973 season we had 196,808 no-shows."

But the most empty seats this past weekend were visible in Atlanta on Sunday, where — in freezing temperatures and 25-mile-an-hour winds — the last-place Falcons hosted the play-off-bound Los Angeles Rams.

Garden City, Stanton Split

GARDEN CITY — Stanton and Garden City split a pair of Junior High games here Monday night at Stanton when the boys game 30-19, but Garden City overpowered Stanton in the girls game 45-9.

Stanton's Kindal Blocker scored 12 points enroute to the win while Garden City's Dale Hilliger scored nine points.

In the girls game, Nancy Batla scored 15, Dorothy Schwartz scored 10 and Fatsy Bissard scored 8 points in leading their team to a 45-9 rout of Stanton. Vicki Rick scored six to lead Stanton in scoring.

The Garden City boys are now 0-3 for the year while the girls are 2-1.

Top College Powers Remain Atop Poll

North Carolina State and UCLA, the two kingpins of the college basketball world last year, made successful season debuts last week and retained the top spots in this week's Associated Press college basketball poll.

The Wolfpack, who ended UCLA's string of seven consecutive NCAA titles last year, whipped East Carolina 99-81 Saturday night in its season opener, with All-American David Thompson pouring in 33 points. On the strength of that showing, N.C. State retained the top spot in this week's poll with 876 points and 37 first-place votes from the panel of sports writers and broadcasters around the country.

UCLA, which lost four of last year's five starters to graduation, posted easy victories over Wichita State and DePaul and held onto the second spot in the poll with 796 points, including seven first-place ballots.

Bobby Knight's Indiana squad, which opened its campaign with a 113-60 romp over Tennessee Tech Saturday night, held third place with 796 points and one first-place vote.

Maryland crushed Richmond 105-81 in its opener and was rated No. 4 with 441 points, while South Carolina, which opened its season with an 88-74 triumph over Bucknell Monday night, was ranked fifth with 423 points, including the only other first-place vote.

Louisville was ranked sixth and Kansas seventh. Both opened their seasons Monday night, Louisville nipping Houston 91-87 and Kansas trouncing Augustana, S.D. 85-50. Marquette, North Carolina and Southern California completed the Top Ten.

Alabama headed the Second Ten, followed by Purdue, Notre Dame, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Memphis State, Providence, Arizona, Michigan and Houston.

Minnesota, despite whipping North Dakota State 80-47 in its only game last week, dropped out of the Top 20. The Gophers were ranked 18th last week. Houston was the lone newcomer to the Top 20.

More or Lesh

By CLARK LESHER

The name of Leshler or Lasher, the latter receiving name distinction east of the Mississippi River, received national recognition Sunday courtesy of NBC-TV.

An 11-year-old lad bearing that name was tops in his punt, Pass & Kick division as he performed at half time of the St. Louis vs. Kansas City NFL game. He comes from Charlotte, N.C.

Elsive Terry Metcalf snared a consolation prize in the Cardinal 17-13 setback Sunday to the Chiefs.

The 5-10 Cardinal running back accounted for 192 yards in running, passing, receiving and kick returns to set a team one-season mark.

Metcalf's production boosted his 12-game total in categories to 1,770 yards, thus eclipsing a record of 1,666 by Ollie Matson in 1964 when the Cards were based in Chicago.

Against the Chiefs, Metcalf ran for 35 yards on eight carries, snared nine passes for 85 yards, returned four punts for 24 and totaled 48 yards with two kickoff returns.

When John Shiners, Cincinnati guard, attempted to keeping charging defensive Dolphin linemen and linebackers off the back of Ken Anderson Monday night he's doing more than just protecting his quarterback. He's trying to help a business partner.

Shiners, heir to a chain of 18 suburban newspapers in the Milwaukee area and Anderson, a real estate broker, have teamed up in a sporting goods store in Cincinnati.

Clifford Baker, East Texas Sports Report, Kilgore, announces it's time again to make our nominations for the Texas Junior College "Coach of the Year."

Current check list includes: Harold Wilder, Howard College basketball coach; Dean Evans, San Jacinto College basketball coach; Pasadena; Bragg Stockton, San Jacinto baseball coach; and Billy Andrews, Tyler College football coach.

To refresh memories, Wilder led the Hawks to a 35-6 record last campaign. HC won the Western Conference with a 13-3 total and lost to Hill in the Region V Tournament.

The Hawks averaged 101 points per game and put together 22 wins in a row during the 1973-4 campaign. Wilder was named Region V "Coach of the Year."

Dolphins Back In Super Bowl Swing

MIAMI (AP) — Paul Brown watched Miami's defending National Football League champions thrash his Cincinnati Bengals 24-3 Monday night and sighed, "They're back in the Super Bowl swing."

The Dolphins, who have been in the past three Super Bowls and won the last two, agreed.

"This was our best performance of the year," said Miami Coach Don Shula, whose 9-3 team can assure itself of its fifth straight playoff berth by beating Baltimore Sunday.

Quarterback Bob Griese, who completed 11 of 13 passes for 118 yards and threw four-yard scoring passes to Mercury Morris and Jim Mandich, said the Dolphins have the ability to excel in crucial games.

First Christian Calls Minister

The First Christian Church, which has been meeting as a congregation longer than any other Christian body in Big Spring, has called a new minister.

Upon the recommendation of a special search committee and approval of the official board, the congregation has called the Rev. William H. Smythe as minister. Mr. Smythe, who goes by "Bill", currently is minister of education at Central Christian Church in Enid, Okla.

He and his wife, Sue, will move into their home at 1505 East Eleventh Place and he will be in the pulpit here for the first time on the morning of Sunday, Dec. 15.

Mr. Smythe, a native of Marshall and a graduate of Marshall High School, is a graduate of Texas Christian University, as is Mrs. Smythe, and Brite Divinity School at TCU.

Mrs. Smythe, a native of McKinney, had taught in Longview and currently is teacher of advanced composition and American writers at Enid High School.

As a youth minister, Mr. Smythe served on the staff of Central Christian Church and Riverside Christian Churches in Fort Worth. He had special duties in a major renovation of the plant.

While in seminary, he was a summer intern at First Christian in Lake Charles, La. He is a member of the Association of Christian Church Educators, and past executive officer of its Texas section, also a member of Lions International.

New Senator Received Funds From Bell Execs

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — A newly-elected state senator says he received no contributions from the late T. O. Gravitt but that two other Bell Telephone Co. executives donated a total of $150 to his campaign.

Sen. Kent Hance, a Lubbock Democrat, disclosed the contributions Monday after his name surfaced in a news story from San Antonio concerning Bell political campaign policies.

Hance said his records indicate he received $100 from Sam Holcomb and $50 from M. L. Kopf last October. Holcomb and Kopf, both of Dallas, are vice presidents in Bell's Texas operation.

Hance said he knows neither of the two Bell executives.

Ward K. Wilkinson, vice president and supervisor of Bell's public affairs department, said Monday that executives were "encouraged" to contribute to the campaigns of political candidates but he refused comment when asked if they were coerced to do so.

Southwestern Bell has denied such coercion and other allegations made after Gravitt, formerly head of Bell's Texas operation,

DEATHS

Anita Brenner

MEXICO CITY (AP) — American author Anita Brenner, 70, who wrote several books on Mexico, was killed Sunday in an auto accident, friends said today.

Mrs. Brenner died early Sunday when the car in which she was riding skidded off a highway and plunged into a ravine about 50 miles from Aguascalientes, 30 miles north of Mexico City.

Police said the car was an old vehicle in a "bad state of repair." The car's other three occupants escaped with minor injuries.

Mrs. Brenner was to be buried today in the Aguascalientes cemetery only a few miles from the house where she was born.

killed himself Oct. 17 at his Dallas home.

Gravitt's family and another former Bell executive, James Ashley of San Antonio, have since filed a $29.2 million slander and libel suit against the company.

Bell officials have denied, among other things, that some 140 of its top executives were under orders to contribute earlier this year to Texas politicians favored by the company.

PERSONAL RECORDS
Hance's name was mentioned in personal records of Gravitt indicating that Gravitt wrote checks to five Texas politicians last April.

Included in the papers was a note on the letterhead of Wilkinson a Bell lobbyist, that said:

"Need $100 check to Ken Hance of Lubbock, a Democrat. Beat Dock (sic) Blanchard the Demo. Incumbent in primary, Faces Repub. Bob Garner of Lubbock in Nov. 3 gen. election. Expected to win but, because the Repub. candidate for Gov. is from Lubbock too—it could be tough."

Hance told The Associated Press he had checked his records and found nothing indicating he received money from Gravitt or Wilkinson.

HAZARDS
"I am upset that some guy I never met writes a memo with my name on it," he said. "That doesn't make me too happy. And I think anybody else would feel the same way."

"But that's one of the hazards of this business. Had I received a contribution from Gravitt, for say, $100, I wouldn't have checked it out. . . . I spent about $50,000 on my campaign and $100 or $150 is very insignificant."

He said he received the checks from Holcomb and Kopf after a breakfast meeting with two Bell "legislative representatives" in Lubbock.

Hance said one of the two, Clint Smith, asked him if he were having trouble raising money. Hance told him he was and he said, "We'll try to get you some help."

Hance said, "I'd appreciate it." He added, "and that was it. . . . I don't think there's anything wrong with that."

Said Hance: "A contribution from an individual, whether he works for Bell or some other corporation, is not illegal or unethical. But, if he were forced to contribute by that company it would be illegal on his part. I think if the candidate knew the contribution was forced, it would be unethical or questionably to accept it."

He said, "Under no circumstances would I accept a contribution if I knew someone was being forced to give it."

In San Antonio, Ashley, discharged during what Bell described as an internal investigation, said he contributed money to politicians "as a condition of employment with Bell."

Footballer Shot By Fem

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Chuck McKinney, a defensive tackle at the University of Arkansas, was listed in good condition today at a Fayetteville hospital after being shot in the left thigh.

Police said they were questioning a female student at the university.

The shooting occurred about 12:30 a.m. in the lobby of Wilson Sharp House—the school's athletic dormitory, officer said.

Police said McKinney, 20, was with a girl when a .22-caliber revolver the girl was holding went off. Officers say the bullet ricocheted off the floor and hit McKinney in the thigh.

Firecrackers, Words And A Poke Recalled

A "Black Cat" firecracker popped on Bobby Peercy's car hood, X-rated comments were exchanged, Carol Cannon was alleged to have poked Peercy's face, and Peercy filed suit in 118th District Court.

Testimony began and ended Monday afternoon, and District Judge Ralph W. Caton told the jury to return for the charge and final arguments this morning.

Peercy, whose light brown hair touched his collar, wore wire frame glasses and a brown corduroy coat and no tie. The plaintiff was 18 on the date of the fight, July 3, 1973.

Cannon, 43, has short black hair, appeared in a tie and checked coat and puffed a pipe. He is a supervisor for Cosden Oil & Chemical Co. Inc.

Peercy, who was suing for damages, said he, Gatlin K. Jones and Ann Nicholson were going back to the men's mobile home following a softball game.

As Peercy approached the Cannon home, he said he swerved to avoid a boy at the pavement edge, and a firecracker burst on the hood of his car.

ARGUMENT ENSUES
Peercy, noticing a burned spot, recalled saying "I'm going back there and tell his daddy what he's doing."

"Oh, just forget about it," Peercy said his roommate said.

"No, his daddy needs to know what he's doing," Peercy said he replied. Peercy said he told Mrs. Cannon he'd appreciate them to keep their children from throwing firecrackers or he'd call the police. "She told me the next time I came speeding by she'd call the police on me," Peercy continued.

"Well, this is my car," Peercy said he said. "It cost $6,000. I'm paying for it."

WORDS — A PUNCH
"Everybody's thrown firecrackers," Cannon was quoted as interjecting.

"Next time, I won't swerve," Peercy remembered saying. "I'll run over the little (profane noun)."

At this point, Peercy claimed Cannon grabbed him with one hand and hit him in the face with another.

Cannon, Peercy alleged, suggested Peercy get out of this car. "I'll whip your (noun)," Cannon was said to have said.

His roommate and the girl suggested the three of them leave. They did.

At Medical Arts Hospital, Sanders made four stitches under his eye. Peercy said he stayed home three days from work at a pharmacy, where he worked for $1.70 per hour.

That's Peercy's version.

ANOTHER VIEW
Mrs. Cannon, told the court about being outside their home talking to Lloyd Brooks while the children played with sparklers and firecrackers at about dusk.

"We were already instructing the children that he was coming back, they would have to apologize to them," Mrs. Cannon said.

But Peercy, she recalled told the children;

"The next time one of you (initials representing adjectives and nouns) throw a firecracker at my car I'm going to call the police."

She countered with the threat in connection with "speeding."

"He called the children filthy names," Mrs. Cannon said.

Her husband, Mrs. Cannon said, suggested Peercy get out to show him the damage, not to fight.

"I hit him to shut his mouth," Cannon explained. "Yeah, I was frightened."

Cannon said, mentioning "long hair and all that." He said he didn't know the girl in the car was a girl.

"This is not the first time. . . . Ben Bancroft, attorney for Peercy, said to Cannon, but the defendant's attorney, George Thomas, objected."

"PAY DAMAGE"
Brooks, who thought the incident happened around Halloween, told the court he didn't hear Cannon say anything profane.

He recalled Cannon say "Well, I'll pay for any damage to your car."

Jones, who sports a short black beard and mustache, bolstered testimony his friend Peercy had given.

"Oh hell, it didn't hurt your car," Cannon said Jones said. "Why don't you get on out of here."

"He reached with one hand and swung with the other," Jones said.

Bancroft testified about his fees which might be part of the judgment. And Dr. Sanders told about treating Peercy for a cut under his eye.

Convict Hospital Aides Do Surgery On Inmates

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Joint Committee on Prison Reform begins preparing its final report to the legislature today after hearing that prison inmate hospital aides are allowed to perform surgery.

The committee also was asked for help by the Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles in getting a sizeable increase in its budget for parole officers.

"On one visit to the 'Walls' hospital, we went into the operating room and watched an inmate perform minor surgery on another inmate, after another inmate had given the patient an anesthetic," committee staff director John Albach reported Monday.

SKILL PRAISED
He said a Texas Department of Corrections physician "praised the skill of these inmate surgeons" and said they were allowed to perform surgery as complicated as repairing severed Achilles tendons.

"It is legally and ethically clear that none of these operations should have been performed by inmates," Albach said.

Pardons and paroles board chairman William Skelton agreed in the main with a staff report criticizing the parole system, and asked for help in getting funds to hire more people to work both inside and outside the prisons.

He said the typical Texas parole officer supervises about 85 parolees, compared with a national standard of 35.

VETO POWER
With the present staff, "we don't feel like we can give the service we ought to the public, to the inmate, to the parolee," Skelton said.

He agreed with a committee staff recommendation that all inmates, even those who serve their full sentences, should be placed under some kind of mandatory supervision upon release.

The report recommended

Kiwanis District Governor Dies

Thomas W. Duncan, 52, governor of the Texas-Oklahoma district of Kiwanis International, died suddenly while attending a leadership conference in Hereford Sunday morning.

Marvin Spough, Clyde, lieutenant governor, said that Duncan appeared to have fallen asleep during the devotion, but others near him discovered he was not breathing. He was dead on arrival at the Deaf Smith Hospital.

Duncan, a polio victim three decades ago, had been in a wheel chair for several years. Services will be held today 2 p.m. at Lakeside Baptist Church in Dallas, and burial in Restland Memorial Cemetery under direction of Sparkman-Hillcrest Funeral Home.

Duncan was a long-time member of the White Rock Kiwanis Club.

Dinner-Play Dates Firm

Conflicting engagements will limit the Howard College Hawk Players to one dress rehearsal, but the Neil Simon comedy, "Come Blow Your Horn," will go on as scheduled Friday and Saturday evening.

The dinner theatre affair will take place in the college cafeteria at 7 p. m. each evening, and the $4 ticket covers the meal (two entrees, plus four vegetables, salad bar, rolls, pie and beverages) as well as the play, said John Gordon, director.

Enroll For Bargaining Seminar

Bob Butler, assistant city manager, Jon Snider, administrative assistant and Emma Wiggins of the city's personnel department, will represent the city at a symposium on public employee relations Thursday at Texas Tech. It is designed to assist municipalities in dealing more effectively with the increasing use of collective action by public workers in West Texas.

In the past several years, for example, public employe groups have attempted to negotiate with management in almost every major Texas city, and this trend appears to be accelerating.

Texas labor laws are being changed to allow group action. Until 1973 collective bargaining was unlawful for all Texas public employes, but in that year the legislature passed an act permitting collective negotiations for firefighters and policemen, subject to approval by local referendum. Provisions of the Act has been adopted in seven of the 12 elections held to date. At least 20 more elections are expected within one year.

Also, the legislature has established a Public Employes Study Commission, which has been mandated to make specific recommendations concerning the consolidation of the various aspects of (public) employe relations into one general law.

In October 1974, Texas Attorney General John L. Hill ruled that public employes could meet with employees or their representatives concerning wages, hours and working conditions, if the employes requested. Also, the Texas Municipal League voted to support a "reasonable" public labor law, which would replace civil service.

Building Is Still Brisk
 A total of $646,750 of building permits were listed by the city for the month of November.
 This didn't exactly denote a recession in construction in Big Spring since November 1973 showed only $45,285. The year to date in Big Spring is a whopping $6,243,855 in comparison to $3,029,847 at the same time last year.
 The month's permits include a residence for D. L. Dorland for $250,000; the Colorado River Municipal Water District new headquarters at $279,600. Other large items include a $50,000 addition to the Sandra Gale Apartments, and a $42,500 residence in Glenwich Cove belonging to Richard Risk.
 Other optimistic figures show 53 new sewer taps in comparison to 18 the previous year, and 100 water taps in comparison to 78 for all of 1973. Electrical permits thus far this year total 438 in comparison to 167 last year and plumbing permits are 142 compared to 45.

Bicentennial Music Pack To Be Given To Schools

Samuel P. Schulze, manager of the local J C Penney store today announced a gift of music entitled "A Bicentennial Musical Celebration" which will be presented to area high schools and colleges in late spring 1975.

The "Celebration" program, part of the J.C. Penney Company's contribution to the nation's bicentennial, was awarded a certificate of official recognition from the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration during ceremonies held Monday in Washington, D. C. The "Celebration" is the first program by a business corporation to be made an official part of the nation's bicentennial festivities.

The "Bicentennial Musical Celebration" includes 70 minutes of historic American music spanning our 200 years, and 30 minutes of newly commissioned contemporary works by American composers.

The music will be supplied to any bands, choral groups and orchestras that may ask for it. Use will be entirely unrestricted and free of any performance charges, Schulze said.

Each school in the United States will receive a box of specially arranged sheet music — enough for school music groups — to equip a complete band, chorus and orchestra. Works for rock and stagebands are included as well.

Job Opportunity

Job opportunities in Big Spring and how to advertise them in this general area was the topic of a meeting between Chamber of Commerce officials and an advertising counselor here Monday morning. The campaign is due to be launched after Jan. 1.

Audit Available, Says Coahoma Mayor Cauble

The records of the City of Coahoma are open for inspection during any working hour, and any individual served by the city can have an audit anytime, Mayor Jack Cauble said Tuesday.

Mayor Cauble, replying to a recent $4 a month across-the-board water rate increase, said that the City of Coahoma has an annual audit publicly financed, but offered Hooser the privilege of an audit for any period desired provided he (Hooser) would underwrite its cost.

None was more reluctant to raise water rates than the City of Coahoma, which is the billing agent for Coahoma and Sand Springs, than the city alderman, he said, but it was necessary to make up for an arrears payment which the court ruled the city owed Howard County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1.

Raising taxes within the city would not be an equitable way to get the additional money, he contended, since it would apply to only part of the users.

His letter was as follows: Dear Mr. Hooser:

We acknowledge receipt of your letter which accompanied payment of your most recent water bill. We appreciate your concern about the current rate being charged our customers, and we attempted to outline in our recent letter to our customers the reasons for the substantial increase in rates which we felt had to be made.

In part of your letter, you suggested the possibility that the records of the City of Coahoma would have to be audited. The City's books are of course audited annually, and the last audit covered the period ending March 31, 1974. We therefore assume that you are interested in having the City's records audited for the period from April 1, 1974, to Dec. 1, 1974. We have no objection to this, and in fact invite you to place the sum of $350.00 in escrow with the City Secretary of the City of Coahoma to be used by the City to pay a certified public accountant to audit the City's records from April 1, 1974, to Dec. 1, 1974. This invitation will remain open for a period of 15 days from the date hereof on one condition, that condition being that you also deposit with the City Secretary the sum of $160.00 to have the results of this audit published in the Big Spring Herald. The figures we have requested to be deposited in escrow are based upon estimates of the cost of an audit and the cost of publishing the results in the newspaper.

County Authorizes Fire Truck, Building Plans

C. R. Crim, an engineer, Monday was authorized to make plans, provide specifications for a fire truck and supervise construction of fire truck housing at Howard County Airport.

County Commissioners Court authorized paying Crim $2,500 for this work.

The Federal Aviation Administration has approved a $17,835 grant, which will pay 82 per cent of vehicle cost and 75 per cent of the building price, Crim said.

In other business, the court:

Heard Neel Barnaby, county engineer, report that eight miles of road have been paved in the Knott Community and road crews are ready to start the "second course" when it becomes warm enough.

The court told Barnaby to proceed with construction of a 20½ by 60 foot building for housing two fire trucks on county land by Sheppard Lane in Big Spring. Sheriff A. N. Standard told the court his deputies would work "primarily as back-up units on grass fires." Standard said, "We're not trying to become a volunteer fire department."

Awarded Pollard Chevrolet, low bidder, the contract for an auto for the county engineer. The county will pay $4,250 without trading the old vehicle, which is to be auctioned later.

And listened to Carl Reid complain about water which made the county road at Coahoma Draw impassible. Reid spoke about a series of dams which diverted water. He threatened legal action.
