Unemployment Rate Highest In 13 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate leaped to 6.5 per cent in November, its highest level in 13 years, the government reported today.

The Labor Department said the number of unemployed Americans rose by 482,000 last month to a total of 5,975,000.

At the same time, total employment in the nation dropped by nearly 800,000 last month to 85.7 million, virtually wiping out the entire increase in the number of jobs over the past year.

LAYOFFS

Massive layoffs in the automobile industry and job losses in electrical equipment and textile industries and retail trade accounted for most of the job losses last month, the department said.

The unemployment rate has not exceeded 6 per cent since October 1961, when it hit 6.1 per cent.

The sharp rise in unemployment, a reflection of the nation's deepening recession, is expected to spur changes in Ford administration economic policies. It also is likely to speed congressional passage of new legislation to aid the unemployed.

SERVICE JOBS

On Oct. 8, the Ford administration proposed a National Employment Assistance Act which would have automatically triggered the release of public service jobs whenever the unemployment rate exceeds 6 per cent. But, Congress has not acted on that legislation as yet. The administration plan also would make local labor markets eligible for grants whenever their unemployment rate exceeded 6.5 per cent.

A measure approved Thursday by the House Ways and Means Committee would provide an additional $1 billion in emergency jobless benefits over the next year.

The November unemployment figures were based on data gathered before the middle of the month. Thousands more workers have been laid off since then, in part due to slumping auto sales and the nationwide coal strike. This will push the jobless rate for December still higher.

INITIAL CLAIMS

This trend was indicated Thursday in the Labor Department's weekly report on unemployment insurance benefits. The report said the number of initial claims for jobless benefits increased by 81,600 during the week ending Nov. 23 and that 42 states reported higher volumes.

A year ago, 1,430,000 workers were receiving unemployment insurance benefits.

The November increase in the jobless rate represented the third monthly spurt in a row.

Fast Look At World

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford in four months in office already has had more vetoes overridden by Congress than many of his predecessors. In three instances, his vetoes got only a single supporting vote in the Senate. His free use of the veto power, particularly when he obviously had no chance of being sustained by Congress, is upsetting to some Republicans in the House and Senate.

House GOP Leader John J. Rhodes, for instance, has called for more consultation with Congress and more selective use of the veto by Ford.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The man most likely to be running the House's tax-writing committee next year hints the income tax may need to be supplemented with a national sales tax.

Possible new taxes and final action on national health insurance were among ideas Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., outlined Thursday as he predicted, "We're going to get a tax reform bill next year, and it will be a good one." Ullman is expected to take over the chairmanship of the Ways and Means Committee from the hospitalized Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ford administration has set a meeting of top energy advisers for Dec. 14 at Camp David, Md., amid indications it may be getting ready to impose tough limits on gasoline consumption.

Interior Secretary Rogers C.B. Morton expressed fears Thursday that voluntary measures to cut fuel consumption may not be enough and the government may have to take strong measures. He said mandatory conservation steps that might be considered included gasoline rationing, a stiff new tax on gasoline and a quota limiting oil imports.

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Democrats drafted a seven-point economic program for their miniconvention to counterattack the White House today after burying the party's troublesome quota system. The economic package was approved by the rules committee in principle Thursday and sent to a drafting group. It will be presented to the convention's opening session tonight. Earlier, the committee finished action on a draft charter which is to be adopted by the convention Saturday.

Annual Appeal Begins For Yule Cheer Fund

It's that time of the year again when people of good will and big hearts are asked to share with those less fortunate.

Thus, today begins the annual Christmas Cheer Fund appeal. Proceeds from this are used in connection with efforts, coordinated by the Salvation Army, to see that no families are overlooked at Christmas. Last year some 350 family units were served, all with orders of food, and those with children with basic toys.

Faith In Heritage Saved Most POWs

By MARJ CARPENTER

"There was no escape in North Vietnam. If a prisoner did escape, men, women and children would walk through the surrounding fields holding hands like a human chain and walk across the area hunting the escapee."

Brig. Gen. Robinson Risner, commander of the 832nd Air Division at Cannon AFB in New Mexico, recalled Thursday that in the period of over seven years that he was a prisoner of war, only four men escaped; all four were recaptured and one was tortured to death.

"This would make you think hard about trying to escape. We had to survive on faith in our heritage. By that I mean, what was engrained within us — the way we were brought up, our home life, school life, our church. Most of us became closer to God during that period but there were a few agnostics who made it."

The general was famous when he went to Vietnam, long before becoming a prisoner of war. He had been featured on the front cover of Time magazine in May 1965. In September 1965, he went down for the second time in North Vietnam and was captured.

"Even though I had been rescued the first time I went down, I knew as I was going down the second time that I had had it. I was several miles inland and I could see people running toward the plane as I went down. It was a lonely feeling."

MOMENT OF FEAR

"I had complete faith the entire time I was a prisoner that I would get home. I knew my country would get us out. The only time, I thought I might die was at the moment I was captured. A frightened one-eyed guy got to me first and grabbed my gun. I knew it had a hair trigger. And he was scared and shaking and I thought — 'My God, he's going to kill me with my own gun.'"

The general joined the Air Force in 1943 when he got out of Tulsa High School and during World War II flew the P-38 and P-39 in Panama. After the end of the war, he was a member of the Oklahoma Air National Guard flying the F-51 until he was recalled to active duty in 1951.

During a tour in Korea, he flew more than 100 combat missions in the F-86 and became the 20th jet ace with eight enemy kills to his credit. This Salve Jet was his favorite plane of all of the many he has flown.

In 1956, he was selected to fly the Charles A. Lindbergh Commemorative Flight from New York to Paris. "They invited Lindbergh to go along and I was hoping that he would, but he refused. The trans-Atlantic speed record that I set on that flight was 6 hours and 38 minutes. This was a good deal shorter than the 37 hours it took Lindbergh but that time has since been cut down to two hours and 56 minutes."

FLIES F-111

A command pilot, Gen. Risner has also flown the F-4 Phantom II and the RF-4B Shooting Star. He flew into Big Spring Thursday in an F-111, which is a tactical strike aircraft with the primary mission of near all-weather, day-night, operations in the conduct of conventional and nuclear warfare.

The general expressed great pride in his wife and five sons. "My oldest boy waited two years to marry so that I could be his best man. He never doubted that I would come back." This son is 26 and the ones at home are 19, 18, 16 and 13.

"I was shocked at their long hair when I came home, but I learned to accept that. But I have not accepted the changes that came in lessening of standards of

Dear Abby

Peoria And Texas May Differ On Salutations

DEAR ABBY: The idea of eliminating all salutation in business letters in order to do away with the sexist "Dear Sir," has provoked me to write.

I propose, "Dear Y'all." It's friendly, all-inclusive, personal, impersonal, masculine, feminine and in between. A less formal "Hi, Y'all" might also be considered.

FRIENDLY IN DALLAS DEAR FRIENDLY: Y'all's entitled to Y'all's opinion. But I doubt that it will play in Peoria.

DEAR ABBY: Our son, Cliff, is 22. He's seeing a woman who is 32. She is twice divorced, has one child with her last mate and two (ages 10 and 12) with her first.

She's a cocktail waitress in a private club. I've never met her so all I have to go on is her track record and the fact that she's ten years older than Cliff.

This woman appears to be chasing our son. She met him when she and a girl friend went to the night club where he was performing. She has called here several times trying to locate him. My husband and I are terribly upset to think that he may have an interest in her.

How can we discourage Cliff from seeing her? How can we let our son know that if this woman were thinking of his best interests, she would leave him alone?

CONCERNED MOTHER DEAR MOTHER: Your son is over 21, and there is nothing you can do. Any suggestions from you concerning this woman would be viewed by your son as meddling. Further, any attempts on your part to "rescue" your son from her would only drive them closer together. The word from here is cool it, Mother.

Party Honors Future Bride

Miss Ann Crawford, who will be married to Robert Turner Dec. 28, was honored at a gift shower Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Pete Banks, 401 Central, Coahoma. There were 15 hostesses for the complimentary affair.

Attired in a floor-length, long-sleeved dress of gray and rust print, Miss Crawford was presented a corsage of yellow roses. A similar corsage was presented to her mother, Mrs. Mary Crawford.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a patchwork cloth and centered with an arrangement of dried flowers. Appointments were of crystal and silver.

Mills' Escapades Trigger Changes, Says Burleson

Rep. Wilbur Mills, once one of the most powerful men in Congress, likely will not stand for re-election in January as chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, in the opinion of Rep. Omar Burleson. Mills has entered Bethesda Naval Hospital.

Mills' recent escapades have weakened the committee, in Burleson's view, and the House caucus action in the wake of it actually will weaken the committee. The caucus voted to increase membership from 25 to 27 members.

"It's difficult enough to write a tax bill with 25 members," he said. Heretofore the committee has been conservatively inclined, but the caucus action means "it is doubtful if it will be that way in the future," this district's congressman observed. The enlargement action also carried a "rezoning" of membership, meaning there will be a substantial increase of urban representation.

Pressures for changes have been building up for years, and Mills' excursions with Fanny Foxe, the strip dancer, supplied the trigger. Another development was the caucus vote to name subcommittee chairman, which will affect Rep. George Mahon's ability to name his sub-chairman.

He called Rep. Mills' reversal of personality "a great mystery." "Looking back, I can note a change in personality and in his method of operation since the end of the 1972 campaign."

Recover Stolen Christmas Trees

TRUCKEE, Calif. (AP) — Authorities have recovered more than 2,000 Christmas trees stolen while awaiting shipment to U.S. servicemen overseas.

U.S. Forest Service employees spotted the trees being sold Wednesday at a roadside lot on Interstate 80 near here, police said. One person was taken into custody. His identity was withheld.

Bell Will Have To Pay Houston $1.9 Million

HOUSTON (AP) — Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. owes the city of Houston $1.9 million in additional taxes and the utility will have to pay, city tax officials say.

G. B. Webb, city tax assessor, said the company used one set of figures on capital investment to get a rate increase and another set of figures to calculate its taxes.

WEREN'T HAPPY — The discovery of the discrepancy this week resulted in a valuation increase of more than $218 million and a total of $1.9 million in added taxes.

"They were showing one valuation for rate setting and a different valuation for ad valorem taxes," Webb said. The final figures were agreed upon after a conference with Bell officials, he said.

"They weren't very happy about it, but they accepted it," he said. The revaluation came after statements by former Bell executive James Ashley of San Antonio that Bell regularly used two sets of books to gain favorable rate increases.

Webb attributed the tax valuation difference to bureaucracy. "They have two different groups of people handling these things," he said. "They have a tax department and a rate department. They simply came up with different figures."

NEW FIGURES — He said several other companies are having the same taxation problem in Houston because the city is taking a harder look at tax valuation. Part of Bell's difference in Houston was caused by geography since some of the metropolitan telephone system is outside the city limits, Webb explained.

"But even after these allowances were made, there was a wide discrepancy," Webb said. Discovery of the discrepancy means that Bell will have to pay $948,222 more in city taxes and $979,792 more in school taxes, he said.

Most of the difference, according to Webb, came in the so-called personal property tax. Under this tax, Bell is supposed to count telephone poles, trucks, tools and all telephone equipment.

Figures submitted for tax valuation were "not questioned in the past, but this year they were questioned and the discrepancy was found," Webb said.

With the new figures, Bell's total taxes will include $4.156 million for the city and $4.158 million for the school district.

League Backs Gun Control Proposal

HOUSTON (AP) — The National League of Cities says such urban policies as housing, transportation, welfare, and public safety must retard and reverse the process of urban waste.

A long-range urban policy program adopted by the league Thursday calls for broad federal support of objectives to eliminate "throw-away" cities and urban sprawls.

An accompanying "State of the Cities" report said that without such a policy program local governments cannot guarantee the preservation of the quality of urban life.

WASTE — "Past policies and programs have not prevented deterioration of cities, they have, in fact, encouraged it," the report said. "At the same time that waste and blight has been allowed, the costs of inefficient sprawl have been encouraged and subsidized."

Mayor Tom Bradley of Los Angeles, the 1974 president, said the policy program includes a full range of conservation matters that will require "vigorous, affirmative, and aggressive" action by the federal government.

"Among our major priorities for the coming year will be reenactment of federal revenue sharing and the passing of the public employment program," Bradley said.

MORE CONTROL — "We believe these two measures will give additional relief for the cities of the nation."

Mayor Carlos Romero Barcelo, the 1975 president from San Juan, P.R., said the league is demanding a stronger voice in national urban affairs.

"We want more voice, more participation, more control, and a larger voice by mayors throughout America," Romero said.

The "State of the Cities" report said the nation no longer can afford to continue on a path of unrestrained energy and resource consumption.

"High priority must be assigned major mandatory conservation measures at the federal level without further delay," the report said.

HANDGUNS — Bradley said this does not mean endorsement of increased gasoline taxes but he added it is clear "the low priority which has been given conservation is not going to do the job."

For the first time in its 50-year history, the league endorsed a gun control proposal, calling for nationwide registration of all handguns.

"This means that if there is legislation in Congress some legislation regarding public safety, gun control, and gun legislation, we'll be there actively lobbying for registration," Romero said.

Other new officers elected were Mayor Hans Tanzler, Jacksonville, Fla., first vice president, and Ms. Phyllis Lamphere, member of the Seattle Wash., city council, second vice president.

Ms. Lamphere is the first woman ever to be elected an officer of the league. Under normal procedure, she will become president of the group at the 1976 convention.

Borden Venture Is Completed

James P. Dunigan No. 4 M. A. Parks has been completed as an extender in the Upper Strawn field of the Fluvanna-Southwest field of northeast Borden County. Located 1,980 from the south and west lines of section 583-97, H&TC, the venture pumped 45 barrels of 40-gravity oil and 17 barrels of water from perforations at 7,910-913, treated with 500 gallons of acid.

Briscoe In Hospital With Kidney Ailment

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe entered Nix Memorial Hospital here Thursday evening for treatment of what an aide described as an acute kidney inflammation.

He was attended by Dr. Sterling Fly of Uvalde, the governor's personal physician.

After the funeral service earlier in the day for the governor's mother, Mrs. Dolph Briscoe Sr., he and his wife were flying from Houston to the Democratic party conference in Kansas City when his illness developed.

Their aircraft was diverted to San Antonio and Briscoe went to the hospital for tests and treatment. Mrs. Briscoe was with him.

After entering the hospital, Briscoe spoke to state Democratic Chairman Calvin Guest in Kansas City by telephone. The governor instructed Guest to vote his proxy at the conference.

Briscoe recommended to Guest, and thus to the Texas delegation, that Sate Agriculture Commissioner John White be elected chairman of the delegation in the governor's place.

"Commissioner White is a member of the executive committee of the charter commission," Briscoe noted.

"He is a man with extensive knowledge of the charter and long experienced in Democratic party affairs. He is widely respected by all elements of the party."

Rule Changes Uncertain

Proposed new rules for the Texas House of Representatives may run into considerable trouble.

The proposals were made by the Citizens Conference on State Legislatures and now are being reviewed by a House committee.

One of the proposals would bar news reporters from the floor of the House. This would mean that representatives could not be questioned about their plans or votes, except through an elaborate telephone system, until the house had finished its business for the day. Conversely, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, who presides over the Senate, says no changes in news reporting are planned there, that there have been few problems over the years.

Another proposal would require House members planning to amend a bill to file a proposed amendment 24 hours in advance if it is longer than 25 words.

Some veteran solons say this would take away the freedom of the House members to develop amendments as debate progresses on a bill.

Also questioned is a proposal that would strengthen the position of the speaker of the House of Representatives. Under reform rules adopted last year, half the members of a committee get those committee assignments by seniority and the other half, plus the chairman, are appointed by the speaker.

Under the proposal, the speaker would appoint three-fourths of the members of each committee and only one-fourth would stay on the committee because of seniority.

Under the proposal, the speaker would appoint three-fourths of the members of each committee and only one-fourth would stay on the committee because of seniority.

Ironically, one of the primary features of the 1973 reform was to reduce the importance of the speaker so that he could not control legislation.

Considerable study should be made before the 1973 before legislation is tossed out.

That Nimble-Fingered Clerk

The General Accounting Office has expressed its doubts that a costly new system for the mechanical sorting of packages and other bulk mail will save $500 million a year as the Postal Service hopes. The net result of the scheme, says the GAO, would be that bulk mail between points relatively close to each other would move even slower because of the need to travel extra distances to go through centralized sorting facilities.

Mail-users and taxpayers seem to be underwriting a massive test of whether machines can do a better job than human beings in handling the mail.

We may never know the answer until the Postal Service gets all its new equipment on the line. The postal reforms so far, however, have only increased our respect for the old nimble-fingered mail clerk who could fire letters into the right pigeon-hole in the blink of an eye.

Venusian Visitor

Around The Rim

Troy Bryant

HAVE YOU EVER wondered what it would be like to talk to a being from another planet? Then consider what an Arizona man claims took place when he allegedly met with a man from Venus in the California desert Nov. 20, 1952.

The man's story appears in a book I picked up about UFO's and flying saucers. In addition to this story, which I find hard to believe, there are several other stories that are believable, although some of the "proof" offered is not really proof.

THE ARIZONA MAN was contacted telepathically, that is, the being put a thought in his head to go to a certain place at a certain time.

The man descended in a small bell-shaped ship from a much larger, cigar shaped ship hovering a few hundred feet in the air. The reason that I find all this important enough to mention, is that the Venusian had some very interesting statements.

The two could not communicate verbally, so they "talked" with sign language, coupled with telepathy.

THE VENUSIAN, when asked where he was from, indicated that he was from the second planet from the sun, Venus.

The Venusian made the Arizona man understand that his coming was friendly, and that they were concerned about radiations coming from the earth's atom bombs and were also concerned about the danger this created for earthlings and for space travelers. He said that the earth would be destroyed if the explosions continued.

The Venusian also said that the majority of flying saucers that the people of earth had been seeing were unnamed "eyes" of the larger craft.

THE ARIZONA MAN asked him if he believed in God. The Venusian answered, "Yes," and said that the people on earth really had very little knowledge of the "Creator of All." Their understanding is much greater than earthlings, and they adhere to the Laws of the Creator instead of the laws of materialism as earth people do, so he said.

Would there be more landings by Venusians in the future? The visitor, who stood about 5 ft. 6 in. and weighed 135 pounds, said that they had visited earth many times and would visit again many times in the future.

HE ALSO CONVEYED the understanding that people were coming to earth from all planets in the solar system and that space travel was easy, and a common practice.

He noted that several aliens had died as a result of crashes on earth and because of the actions of earth men when they were sighted.

He responded to another question and affirmed that some earth people had been taken away in the flying craft.

The Arizona man asked him how many planets were inhabited and the alien indicated that there were large numbers of inhabited planets throughout the universe.

THE ALIEN would not let the man take his picture, although he was allowed to take a picture of the ships, but not to see the inside of it.

The Venusian left just as he came, with the Arizona man later expressing feelings of friendship.

The book said little else of this particular incident, leaving me to wonder if the whole incident was a hoax. The man had witnesses to the landing of the ship, but the man's companions were warned to stay back and not see the Venusian who left the ship?

OR MAYBE THE STORY was true, along with a modern accusation that has been published recently in the news. A Florida college professor claims that the Air Force found a crashed space ship in the California desert in 1949, with the bodies of several aliens on board. He also said that they withheld the information discovered in an autopsy of one of the bodies and froze the rest of the bodies for future study. We'll be a long time knowing.

My Answer

Billy Graham

I am a 39 year old housewife. For several years in my Sunday School class, prayer groups or bridge club, the question will come up, "Is it hard to be a Christian?" My instant answer is "no," but nobody agrees with me. What's your answer? I.J.

I'm only sorry space didn't permit sharing your whole letter. It would show that you're a remarkable person. Anybody who could experience a pregnancy out of wedlock that ended your high school career, a drinking husband who now seems also to be a homosexual, a fire that destroyed your home and then the death of your mother, and still say it's easy to be a Christian, is remarkably remarkable.

But you are also Biblical, because the Scripture teaches in 1 Thessalonians 5 that in everything, we should give thanks. Let me share too, why I think you're having a successful Christian life. It's because you say "love God and Jesus;" you "thank God for everything;" you "pray every day to be filled with His Spirit;" and your "best part of the day is in quiet time of prayer and reading."

I must admit I usually say that it is hard to live the genuine Christian life. But after your marvelous letter,

I am going to say it's easy if people do what you do.

No Hanging Judge

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — From the high bench, Judge John J. Sirica looks down on the courtroom with an imperturbable gaze. It is no secret to him that if he had his way the defendants in the dock and their lawyers would hang him from the nearest tree.

THAT BEING slightly impractical, counsel for the principal defendants sought at the start of the seemingly interminable Watergate cover-up trial to have him thrown out. They charged him with bias and with having a personal prosecutorial interest in the outcome. This, they said, went far beyond the issue of guilt or innocence.

The response of the U.S. Court of Appeals was a unanimous verdict upholding Judge Sirica and praising his conduct of the Watergate cases. One intimation in the lawyers' brief had a ring of truth: If it had not been for Sirica's probing questions in the initial trial of the Watergate burglars, the involvement of the principals — former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and the two White House triggermen, H. R. Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman — might never have been known.

THROUGH HIS years of experience, Sirica is thoroughly familiar with the constraints of the law. But he has never hesitated to raise questions that might result in justice being thwarted when it appeared the lady with the scales was being done in.

As the unedited tapes played in the courtroom show, former President Nixon clung to the belief that the burglars could be bailed out and the whole business put down to a prank by eager beavers in the Committee to Re-elect the President. He proposed that columnist William F. Buckley (who had no idea of such a proposal), be turned loose to build up E. Howard Hunt, the Watergate burglar with CIA connections.

SNIPING AT SIRICA has come not only from defense lawyers in the courtroom but from zealous champions of the now discredited Nixon White House. They have sought to show that he is cruel, vindictive, a hanging judge.

Ironically, these same attackers have in the past been among those calling for "law and order" and denouncing the coddling of unfortunates who fall into the net of the law. Having imposed a gag rule on counsel, the judge has been careful to refrain from any comment off the bench.

IT IS AN exercise in patience to sit day after day knowing that an inadvertent remark or a casual ruling will be seized on as ground for overruling the verdict of the jury. The jury will in the end reach the verdict of guilty or not guilty on the various counts of the indictment. But the role of the judge in this perhaps the most important trial in this century is second only to that of the jury.

Sirica has become a national and indeed an international figure. Those who have known him over the years say his fame has made no difference. He is what he has always been: a bold disciple of justice.

IT WAS A STROKE of good fortune that the Watergate cases fell to this experienced trial judge with no flourishes or pretensions. Today he probably knows more about the intricacies of the whole Watergate intrigue than anyone other than a half-dozen researchers in the special prosecutor's office.

The American system of justice, despite the encumbrances, the barnacles acquired over the years, is working. It is impossible to believe that this could ever happen again. The lesson of Watergate has been seared into the American consciousness. In that brightly lit courtroom, the last act of this painful drama is being played out for all the world to see.

Changing Patterns

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The pressures of inflation-recession have produced changes in American buying patterns that have already hurt many industries and which could create the most serious marketing challenges in decades.

One of the most observable, measurable impacts has been on the stock market, where thousands of individual investors seem to have deserted the ranks, for just how long nobody can say.

For the first time since it began compiling a census, the New York Stock Exchange last year reported a decline in the number of shareholders, from 31.7 million to 30.9 million. A further drop might have occurred this year.

The mutual fund industry, which suddenly became a popular investment outlet during the 1960s, may have suffered as much as any medium. Until funds began investing in government securities and the like, redemptions exceeded sales month after month.

In other financial areas the changing habits also have left their pattern. Savings banks and savings associations have lost billions of dollars in deposits because of higher interest available elsewhere.

Will depositors come back? The industry thinks they will. After two straight years of outflows, the mutual savings banks alone expect to add $3 billion to deposits in 1975. This is bound to encourage more mortgage lending, another casualty of the times.

Nobody is being tested by the changes in consumer behavior more than the automotive marketing people. In November only 603,000 units were sold, a decline of 35 per cent from November of 1973.

Perhaps of long-range consequence is the change in the borrowing habits of automobile buyers.

The Federal Reserve reported that in September, for the first time ever, more than 10 per cent of new-car loans by major finance companies had maturities greater than 36 months.

About 10 per cent of loans in that month were of more than three years. In August, the comparable percentage was 9.4, and in September of 1973 only 3.3.

One bank, the American National Bank & Trust Co., of Eau Claire, Wis., has offered 54-month loans on new cars, and industry officials feel such maturities could become more common.

That brings up the question: Will car buyers who once turned in their vehicles every three years be so inclined when they still have 18 months of payments to make? Or will they delay until the note is paid off?

'Treating' Cataracts

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: When I was in the city recently I had my eyes tested after not having had them examined since 1967. This doctor was very abrupt. He told me I didn't need to change glasses as I had cataracts starting in both eyes. He didn't say anything about treatment, but just dismissed me.

I am a widow, 68, and live alone, and dread the thought of going blind, as I love to read.

I am enclosing 25 cents and a self-addressing envelope, as well as 10 cents for a stamp (I don't have one handy), for your booklet on cataracts. I didn't know you could have treatment for cataracts; I thought you just waited until they were ripe and had them operated. — V. N.

You are pretty much correct in your understanding of cataracts. There is almost nothing to do in the way of treatment except to remove them surgically. In a few cases, medications to dilate the pupils can help temporarily. This does not affect the growth of the cataracts, but can be helpful if the dilation exposes more of the lens through which light can pass. This depends on whether the cataracts start in the center of the lens leaving the edges clear for a time, or whether the entire lens is cloudy.

So a few patients may be helped a little that way, and only temporarily. In the final analysis, removal of the lenses (the cataracts) is necessary.

But I would urge you not to be too upset by fears of becoming blind. For one thing, cataracts do not progress at the same rate in all people. In some they progress quite slowly. For another, it is quite common for them to progress differently from one eye to the other, so one eye may continue to give you pretty good service while the cataract is being removed from the other eye, and a lens fitted to it to restore vision.

The idea of having to wait until a cataract becomes "ripe" is not correct, although such references are often heard. Many eye surgeons prefer to wait until a cataract is pretty well developed before removing it, but in actual fact a cataract can be removed at any stage of development. Earlier removal is sometimes done with patients who need particularly good vision for close work — a watchmaker being an example. So I suggest that you wait and see how rapidly your cataracts are developing.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My little daughter's nose bleeds all the time, at bedtime while she sleeps, when she plays. It bleeds two or three times a week. It happened when she was 2 and now she is 5.

I have two other children and their noses never bleed. Sometimes it bleeds and won't stop for 15 or 20 minutes. Is there anything wrong with her nose? — G. E.

Obviously there's something wrong with her nose. Maybe she's a nose picker; possibly there's a chronic ulcer that needs cauterizing, maybe some other flaw. After three years, it's high time to have your doctor examine her nose.

To find out what causes high blood pressure and what can be done to treat it, send for a copy of "Controlling Your Blood Pressure (Hypertension)" by Dr. Thosteson. Write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

What Others Say

There is nothing new about women in politics. But the election of Ella T. Grasso as the governor of Connecticut and Mary Anne Drupak as lieutenant governor of New York gives added significance to the role of female candidates. If it lends encouragement to future distaff aspirants, that will be a gain for representative government.

Rhode Island has reason to be proud in this respect. More than 100 women ran for local office, about breaking even in the win and lose columns.

Jerry And Hubert

WASHINGTON — A tentative alliance on national security affairs between President Ford and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey is responsible and is so credited at the White House — for breaking the long and dangerous deadlock over a new foreign aid bill.

AS A RESULT, the President is expected to see a great deal more in the weeks ahead of the longtime Democratic stalwart and one-time white knight of liberalism. Some White House and Senate Department policymakers view Humphrey as the essential Democratic partner in Mr. Ford's search for genuine bipartisanship at a time of immense foreign danger to the U.S. and gradual deterioration of the West.

What makes that search so important is the new Congress, heavily populated with youthful liberal Democrats who view foreign policy through the eyes of the Vietnam generation with little historical perspective on cold war origins of bipartisan foreign policy.

HIGH OFFICIALS in the Senate and Defense Departments have toiled for months on the Ford-Humphrey link. Their best product so far is the new foreign aid bill, approved without dissent by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee last week.

Deputy Secretary of State Robert Ingersoll and foreign aid director Daniel Parker for weeks have been quietly conferring with Humphrey trying to unlock the dangerous stalemate on foreign aid. The underlying cause of the stalemate was weariness with foreign aid, a direct fallout of the Vietnam war. The mood was intensified by Turkey's invasion of Cyprus, resulting in the congressional stamped to end aid for Turkey.

PRESIDENT FORD invited

A Devotion For Today . . .

"A voice was heard in Rama, wailing and loud laments; it was Rachel weeping for her children." (Matthew 2:18) PRAYER: Lord Jesus, help me to open my life to You so that in darkness and in light I may be sustained by Your presence. Amen.

Korean Vets Due Dividend

The Veterans Administration on Jan. 1 begins paying for the first time dividends to about 600,000 Korean Conflict veterans who carry "RS" and "W" prefixed National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) policies.

Jack Coker, VA regional office director, noted the dividends will be paid on anniversary dates of policies, but pointed out they will be small in comparison to those normally paid on other policies carried by veterans of World War I and II.

Dividends may be in cash or may be used to pay insurance premiums in advance, buy additional paid-up insurance, or to reduce debt on policy loans. Dividends left on credit are used to automatically pay premiums should the policyholder fail to do so.

credit upon himself and the United States Air Force.

THE LEGION OF MERIT
For the period March 1966 to March 1969, this officer distinguished himself by exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding services to the United States as a Prisoner of War in North Vietnam during the above period. His ceaseless efforts, by a continuous showing of resistance to an enemy who ignored all international agreements on treatment of prisoners of war, in the extremely adverse conditions of the communist prisons of North Vietnam, demonstrated his professional competence, unswerving devotion and loyalty to his country. Despite the harsh treatment through his long years of incarceration, this individual continued to perform his duties in a clearly exceptional manner which reflected great credit upon himself and the United States Air Force.

THE BRONZE STAR

For the period June 1967 to July 1969, this officer distinguished himself by heroic achievement as a Prisoner of War while engaged in operations against an opposing armed force in North Vietnam during the above period. In an atmosphere of enemy harassment and brutal treatment, he continued to establish and maintain communications through unusual and ingenious methods, which resulted in American and Allied prisoners presenting a posture of increased resistance to the enemy's wishes, and, at the same time, improving prisoner morale. By his heroic endeavors and devotion to duty under adverse conditions of his environment, he reflected great credit upon himself and the United States Air Force.

THE AIR FORCE

For the period of Jan. 1972 to 15 Jan. 1973, this officer distinguished himself by meritorious achievement in the performance of duties involving highly classified material while detained as a Prisoner of War in North Vietnam during the above period. He performed these duties while under constant surveillance of the enemy and generated new ideas and improvised techniques which greatly enhanced covert operations. His commendable performance and dedication to duty reflected credit upon himself and the United States Air Force.

In spite of these memories, the general maintains that "I went voluntarily and I would go again. I think it was necessary."

Very proud of the Air Force, he pointed out that "It still has some glamor and we are able to keep our branch of the service full of volunteers and are even able to be selective."

Gentlemen:

I would like to tell you about a player at our club who has become known as Trump Coup Tommy. The way he handles difficult trump situations is simply amazing.

His bidding is poor, his judgment worse, and on most deals he manages to drop a trick or two in the play, both as declarer and on defense. But let there be the slightest aroma of an unusual trump combination, and he is like a man transformed — Belladonna or Garozzo couldn't handle the situation any better.

We first became aware of this strange propensity when he arrived at six diamonds on this hand. Notice that Tommy managed to make both a "reverse" and a cue-bid on a hand that was a minimum opening bid by any standards. The bystanders could barely suppress their mirth, for it was obvious that Trump Coup was going down again. The defenders took their spade trick on opening lead, and all they had to do was sit back and wait for their "certain" trump trick.

However, Tommy seemed perfectly happy with his dummy. At trick two he ruffed the spade continuation, then cashed the ace, king and queen of clubs. He ruffed another spade, took the ace and king of hearts, ruffed a heart in dummy and ruffed dummy's last spade.

Trump Coup Tommy was down to the king-ten of diamonds and ten of hearts. He led the heart and West, who had been reduced to nothing but trumps, ruffed low. Dummy overruffed with the nine while East was obliged to follow suit, so Tommy took the last two trick with the ace-king of diamonds.

Note that it would not have helped West to ruff with the jack of diamonds. Dummy would overruff with the ace and Tommy would have made the last two tricks by finessing East for the queen of diamonds.

Sincerely yours,
Rufus Winner

Butterfly Hunting Lawyer Missing

PUERTO VALLARTA, Mexico (AP)—An American lawyer disappeared a week ago while butterfly hunting near this Pacific coast jet-set beach resort, his wife said today.

An intensive search has turned up the car that James Denis Cowper, 52, of Belen, N.M., was driving when he left to chase butterflies Nov. 29. But no trace has been found of the senior partner in the Albuquerque law firm of Cowper, Bailey and Pope.

NO RANSOM DEMAND
 Mrs. Josephine Cowper said in a telephone interview that she had received no ransom demand or other indication that he might have been kidnaped.

Mrs. Cowper said the Mexican government has given permission for several air rescue teams from the United States to join in the search. A team of mountain climbers from Mexico City is also expected to help.

Cowper's car was found last Sunday in the Valle de Banderas area north of here in a section bordered on one side by heavily wooded land and on the other with farmland.

Mrs. Cowper rented a helicopter to search the area Tuesday and 19 Puerto Vallarta policemen joined federal troops in a dawn-to-dusk search Thursday.

"I just can't understand it," Mrs. Cowper said. "He's a strong man. He has absolutely no problems. He's climbed just about every mountain in the world including all those in the Puerto Vallarta area and he's never been lost."

$1,000 REWARD
 Mrs. Cowper said her husband speaks nine languages "and can communicate with anybody. He's the kind of person everybody loves and who loves everybody."

She said her husband, who is noted for his outstanding collection of butterflies, was wearing blue pants, a blue striped shirt and tennis shoes when last seen. He had a watch, a wedding band and an undetermined number of travelers checks.

Cowper is the father of seven children and has 15 grandchildren. Mrs. Cowper said she has offered a $1,000 reward for information about her husband.

West Texas Twins Win Rare Honors

Ervin Daniel of Big Spring and his brother, Early

Daniel of Lubbock, had the honor of being the first twins ever to qualify for 50-year service pins in the Masonic grand lodge of Texas when they were honored at grand lodge headquarters in Waco Wednesday night.

The 72-year-old twins, who were born in Canton, Tex., were presented with certificates and pins by past grand master Claude Austin of Dallas. Johnny Bean of Fort Worth presided.

Both the Daniels were rural mail carriers before they retired. They entered the Masonic order in Idalou, Tex., in 1924. Erwin retired from postal service Dec. 1, 1965. Early made his last run about two years later.

A. A. Porter, also of Big Spring, also qualified for the 50-year certificate at the same ceremony. Others present for the ritual include the wives of the Daniel brothers, Mrs. A. A. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Porter, also of Big Spring, and Mr. and Mrs. Matt Thomas, Lubbock. Mrs. Thomas is the sister of the two Daniel men. Altha Porter retired from service with the postal department Jan. 1, 1966. He entered the Masonic order with Staked Plains lodge 596 in 1924.

Erwin Daniel put in a total of 36 years with the postal department, 18 of them as a rural mail carrier. He and Mrs. Daniel make their home at 1310 Johnson Street. He spends much of his time pursuing his favorite hobby, golf.

The Porter couples continued on to Austin for visits with relatives after departing Waco.

Are your child's eyes crying for help?

We don't need to tell you how important your child's eyes are. But maybe you don't know just how hard they work.

Your child's eyes will bring her over 80% of all she learns in life. They will control about 80% of all her actions. And they will use up to 25% of all her energy every day.

That's the big order your child's eyes have been given. And sometimes they need a little help. That's why TSO recommends regular professional eye examinations.

If eyewear is needed, depend on TSO to fill the doctor's prescription to the exact specifications for clear, comfortable vision. Choose from a wide variety of well-constructed frame styles that will help your child look her best, too. And the cost is most reasonable.

At TSO, we care how you look at life.

Bill Mead Succumbs In Dallas Hospital

W. L. (Bill) Mead, formerly of Big Spring, died in a Dallas hospital at 12 noon Thursday. He had entered the hospital last Saturday with a heart involvement.

Services were scheduled for 9:15 a.m. today at the Sparkman-Hillcrest Funeral Home, with burial to follow in a Dallas cemetery.

The family has suggested Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center or the Gideon's organization as objects of memorials for those desiring to make them.

Mead sold his last business interest here, the Mead Auto Supply, in 1964. He had acquired that firm in 1949 even as he made plans to retire. He earlier had sold his interest in Mead's Bakery to his brother, E. P. (Doc) Mead.

He and Mrs. Mead moved to Boerne after he removed himself from the bakery business but within 16 months they had moved back to Big Spring. Retirement had proved too unsettling for Bill.

Upon his return to Big Spring, he became a partner in the Good Housekeeping furniture store and helped form the firm of Morehead & Mead, which expanded into the moving business and eventually became Morehead Transfer and Storage, owned by G. G. (Gibby) Morehead.

He was instrumental in founding the Gideon International Encampment here. He became a leader and later a deacon in the First Baptist Church. He supported several mission causes and did much personal witnessing.

During much of his adult life, he managed to walk only with the aid of braces and a cane.

Mr. Mead was born in Nashville, Tenn. His family moved to Abilene, Tex., in 1908 where his father went into the grocery business. He was a missionary from Abilene Christian College in establishing what grew to be the South Side Church of Christ in Abilene.

The Mead brothers got into the bakery business in 1920 and it was destined to spread

Col. Mullett

Retired Army Lt. Col. Edwin Mullett Jr., 49, of Jackson, Mich., and formerly of Big Spring, was dead on arrival at Webb Air Force Base Hospital at 9:25 a.m. Thursday after suffering an apparent heart attack while visiting his mother here.

Services are pending at Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home, awaiting arrival of Mrs. Mullett today.

Born Aug. 3, 1925, in Beaumont, he attended Big Spring public schools and graduated from Big Spring High School.

He graduated from the University of Texas at El Paso in 1950 where he received a B.S. degree. Mr. Mullett earned an M.S. degree from Rutgers University in New Brunswick, N.J., in 1959.

He served in the Chemical Corps of the U.S. Army, and married Marie Harrison here. Mr. Mullett was a chemist for Park-Davis Corp. in Jackson, Mich.

Charley B. Lawrence, 74, died at 1:40 a.m. in a Lubbock hospital. Services will be at 3:30 p.m. Saturday in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel.

Officiating will be Dr. Kenneth Patrick, pastor of

They settled in what is now the Luther community, which was named after his father, Luther F. Lawrence.

Mr. Lawrence was a farmer and stock dealer until he retired and moved to Weatherford for a few years. He returned to Big Spring in 1971.

He married Allene Gammon June 1, 1926, in Denton. He was a member of the First Baptist Church.

DPW Cites Hot-Line, Need Far More Foster Parents

Because of concern for the growing problem of child abuse and neglect, the State Department of Public Welfare is beginning a statewide campaign to get abuse reports.

A toll free, statewide, child abuse hot line has been implemented to facilitate anyone who knows of anyone who is abusing or neglecting their children. The toll free number is 1-800-202-5400.

Under Texas Law, it is a misdemeanor not to report a case of child abuse and neglect. The failure to report a case of child abuse and neglect carries a fine of as much as $500.00 and a six month jail sentence. The Law provides immunity from prosecution for those who report child abuse and neglect, unless the report is made with malice.

Because of child abuse and neglect, there must be foster parents to give temporary short-term care in Howard County, Ron Sweatt of the local office said.

Your house need not be elaborate or expensive. It does have to meet certain requirements of cleanliness, have adequate bedrooms, and other minimum requirements. It must pass a local fire and health inspection.

Foster parents may be any age. Good health is, of course, a requirement.

We need families for all races of children, especially Negro and Latin-American homes, as well as Anglo and other homes.

Foster parents must have a stable home life, a good marriage, and be able to give a foster child happy surroundings to live in.

Projector At Library

Arrival of a $610 projector for 16 mm film obtaining a packet of films and the donation of a slide projector has enlarged the Howard County Library's multimedia capabilities.

The Howard County Historical Society donated the slide projector, which is available for 36 hour periods for a $3 maintenance fee.

While Larry Justiss, librarian, is not anxious to lend the new projector, another projector is available for free loans.

Among the films offered for adults and children are "Amazing New Zealand," "Famous Movie Monsters," "The Zax" and "World of Andrew Wyeth," he said.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The nation's soft coal miners began returning to work today just hours after their leaders signed a new contract with the coal industry.

Hundreds of miners reported for work on the midnight to 8 a.m. shift this morning in southern West Virginia.

Most of the United Mine Workers' 120,000 members, however, are not expected to be back on their jobs until Monday.

The union had shut off 70 per cent of the country's coal production since the old contract expired Nov. 12.

UMW President Arnold Miller, in announcing that the new contract had been approved by 56 per cent of those voting, said the agreement would take effect at 12:01 a.m. today.

INSPECTING MINES — Immediately, officials of Consolidation Coal Corp., the nation's second largest producer, were on the phone with local UMW leaders.

Soon afterwards, local union safety committees began inspecting the closed down mines so that production could resume at midnight.

Other companies followed suit.

Most companies kept their mines at a work-ready condition during the walkout. Supervisors were at mine sites daily making sure pumps and fans were separate operating and conducting inspections on roofing support and electrical systems.

In Washington, the Interior Department's mining enforcement and safety administration ordered its coal mine inspectors Thursday "to spot inspect as many mines as possible" on the first shifts of returning miners.

EAGER TO WORK — One union official said the miners were eager to return to work because they wanted to receive at least one paycheck before the Christmas holidays.

There were threats that 4,400 mine construction workers covered under a UMW contract might prevent mines from reopening by posting pickets this morning.

But foremen at Eastern Associated Coal Co.'s two Kopperston mines in Wyoming County and New River Coal Co.'s Siltex mine in Fayette County reported that only working miners showed up at midnight.

The union and the Association of Bituminous Contractors are continuing talks in Washington on a new contract for the construction workers, whose old pact also expired Nov. 12.

American Bible Society Now Seeking Friends To Help With New Project

By MARJ CARPENTER
The American Bible Society is looking for friends who are willing to help beginning readers with the best of all reading materials. "Good News for New Readers" will be a series of Scripture literacy selections at first reading level. These will be pitched in various translations to reach people of various tongues. $6 places 120 of these, and $15 will supply 300 to people who are not only may have their thirst for reading material but for God satiated. Contributions may be mailed to Good News for New Readers, American Bible Society, Box 4811, Grand Central Station, New York, N.Y. 10017.

MRS. WILLIE GRAHAM, director of promotional and missionary education of the Northwest Conference (which includes the Lubbock and Wichita Falls District) went to Stanford last weekend to participate in the first district workshop of the conference year of Area One. Traveling with her were Mrs. Bessie Lankford, local president of the Baker Chapel Missionary Society; Mrs. V. A. Williams, vice president, and Mrs. Viola Merritt, treasurer.

The Baker Chapel missionary society will present a panel discussion in Lubbock Sunday which will be the Area Two first district workshop. The subject is Global Living Today and the devotional theme is "One Who Cares—Shares."

A NEW NINETY-MINUTE music drama, "The Godseeker," by D. Duane Blakley will be premiered by the First Baptist Church of Brownwood, December 14, 15, and 16.

The public is urged to attend the Saturday and Monday performances at 7:30 p.m. Sunday's performance will be at 7 p.m. Children particularly will benefit from the presentation. The production is under the direction of the composer who is also the church's Minister of Music. Two hundred members of the church are involved in the production which features fifteen adults and sixteen children in lead roles. Eight solo dancers, an orchestra of seventeen pieces, and a chorus of one-hundred fifty complete the performing forces.

This unique musical, based on the New Testament accounts of Matthew and Luke, is billed as the "Christian counterpart to the Broadway show, 'Fiddler On The Roof.'" Twenty-four traditional Hebrew melodies are used to tell the story of Jesus as he learns of the strange events surrounding his birth, goes to Jerusalem for his first Passover, finds his identity in his Father's House, and through the cross and open tomb becomes the centerpiece of the human race. A number of folk dance sequences to ingratiating Jewish tunes highlight the production.

The plot is based on the premise that as Jesus neared manhood, seeking the direction for his life, he did learn from his parents and others the background of his birth and the prophecies given by the angels. Dramatic license is used sparingly in the working out of this plot as it emphasizes the fact that every person is a "Godseeker" who must find his own personal relationship with God.

A THEOLOGICAL "think tank" dedicated to solutions that work with people instead of theories that make impressive pseudo-scholarly papers... that's the Robert H. Schuller Institute for Successful Church Leadership.

Hosted by the Garden Grove Community Church in California under the direction of its senior minister, Dr. Schuller, the Institute operates on the bedrock of "possibility thinking." It is aimed at what can be done in a dynamic spiritual way to meet problems head-on and help people who are hurting. To date more than 2,400 clergy and lay leaders have attended. The results are reflected in a comment by the Lutheran Standard magazine which reported: "These men were inspired to return to what they did when they first left the seminary... to start dreaming again."

Berea Baptist Church History Dates Back To 1961 Locally

Early in the fall of 1961, a group of people, having had a vision of the need for a church in the southwestern part of the city, began to meet and pray for God's will. In October a census indicated enough people in the area would support it to justify formulation of the plans for starting such a church. At first there was opposition from various sources, many discouragements, and many doors were closed where assistance had been anticipated. Then the Hillcrest Baptist Church, led by Bro. H. L. Bingham, pastor, extended a spiritual arm by allowing the use of their name and baptistry.

The offer of the Wm. R. Banks Jr., family to use their basement at 2109 Carl Street as a meeting place was gratefully accepted. On December 10, 1961, the general officers and nominating committee were elected, and Rev. J. F. Fields was called out of retirement as the first pastor. The first services of the Hillcrest Baptist Mission were held on the first Sunday of 1962, with 49 persons representing ten families present.

Less than two months following the first meeting (on February 21, 1961), the Mission accepted the blueprints of a church building and extended a call to E. O. Hartwell, a pastor-builder working with the Baptist General Convention of Texas, to serve as pastor while he was erecting the building. It was voted to sell $30,000 in A. B. Culbertson Trust Company Bonds to finance construction, and Bro. Fields to be retained as the pastor following the building program.

BACK TO SITE
Three acres of land were immediately made available for a building site, but the building committee continued to seek other locations. In every instance obstacles arose that eventually forced acceptance of the original property. There is no question that the Lord definitely led in the selection of the location that, at the time, seemed so undesirable to the congregation.

Each member of the Mission was requested to submit suggestions for a name for the church and on May 2, 1962, the name "Berea Baptist Church" was selected by unanimous consent. The name refers to the church at Berea mentioned in Acts 17:11 which Paul commended for searching the Scriptures daily. At this meeting it was also voted to seek God's will in every endeavor undertaken, and everything done would be for His glory. In June 1962, the men of the Mission began clearing the mesquite and cactus from the land preparatory to erecting the building. On July 8, 1962, the land was dedicated to the cause of Christ, and ground was broken for the building.

WENT TO WORK
Brother Harwell arrived two days later and as led, the members went to work. Men, women and children saved, nailed, painted, kept the area clear of debris, or any task needed to be done. The people had a mind to work, and the building was completed in good order. The first services were held in it on September 23, 1962.

Brother Hartwell had completed his task, tendered his resignation, and Brother Fields resumed the pastorate. After a two-week revival, on January 27, 1963, the members constituted the Mission into a Southern Baptist Church to be known as Berea Baptist Church. During the first year (while a Mission) there had been 19 baptisms, and membership had grown to the 88 persons on record as charter members of the church.

In March 1963, Brother Fields decided the church and field to be worked had grown so that his physical condition would no longer permit him to serve as pastor, and submitted his resignation to return to retirement. He had very ably and worthily served his Lord in establishing the Mission and leading it during its early days. It was with deep appreciation and heartfelt gratitude for his services that his resignation was accepted by the congregation, who had come to love him very much.

On March 17, 1963, a call was extended to Bro. Darrell Robinson as pastor. At that time the income of the church was not sufficient to pay a full-time pastor, but after seeking the leadership of the Lord, Bro. Robinson accepted the call although it meant personal sacrifice to him through a large reduction in salary. With the assistance of a pastor's supplement provided by the Baptist General Convention of Texas, the Lord provided enough income to pay the meager salary of the pastor. Sacrificial giving by some members, over and above their tithes, met every payment and bills when due.

DOUBLE SIZE
In April 1963, it was voted to double the size of the building. The committees were set up again and another $25,000 worth of bonds were sold. The people took up their tools and went back to building. Practically all of the first two units were completed by the members doing the work themselves. The second unit was placed in God's service on the first Sunday of August 1963. Various families within the church took turns keeping the building clean until the church could afford to pay a janitor.

A committee was appointed in November 1963 to study the possibilities of starting a nursery and kindergarten school in the church. In December a school board was elected, and on January 6, 1964, the school was opened for children.

Although the church had been in almost a continuous building program, growth in members caused the auditorium to be filled to capacity nearly every Sunday. Another building program was voted in March 1964, conversion of the first one to Sunday School and office space, and the purchase of an additional acre of land for parking. Another bond program was voted, this one for $50,000. The first services were held in the new auditorium on July 5, 1964.

Within a period of two years, the church had gone through three bond campaigns, had erected three buildings, purchased, enlarged and remodeled parsonage, had four acres of land, had opened a kindergarten and day school, and was growing rapidly.

During the church year ending August 31, 1964, the church had accepted 77 members by baptism, 2 by statement, and had 349 members. It had given over $2,700 to the cooperative program and mission causes and nearly doubled the previous year's budget. (As we look back today, we realize anew that the day of miracles has not passed. Only God could provide so much in such a short period of time. May we continue to be of one accord and exalt His name together, remaining steadfast in our pledge to glorify God in all we do. "To God be the glory, great things he hath done.")

ANOTHER BUILDING
Due to continuous growth another building program was voted in April 1965. Five thousand square feet of additional Sunday School space were erected, bringing the total building space to 20,000 sq. ft. Bro. Bill O'Dell became pastor of Berea on January 1, 1966, and led the church for five years of spiritual growth averaging over fifty baptisms per year and reaching a high in 1969 of 320 in Sunday School.

Bro. Gary Higgs became pastor of Berea, September 1, 1971, and served the church for 28 months, before entering the Air Force as a Chaplain. During the time of Bro. Higg's ministry a close-knit fellowship was blessed by the Holy Spirit which still abides today.

In April 1974, Bro. Freddie Martin accepted the call as pastor of Berea, challenging the church once again to reach out and grow, to which the people are responding. Today by the grace of God the Light of God's Word still abides in the southwestern part of town as His people stand strong, "Holding forth the Word of God."

Berea since the very first day has reached many military people and has always numbered 25 per cent or more of its congregation as Air Force people, with a continuous turnover. Eternity only will reveal the lives that have been touched and blessed at Berea Baptist Church.

The church plant has four acres of land and four buildings totaling 20,000 sq. ft., valued at $275,000.

Beyond the timber line rises sheer rock, towering above the clouds themselves. Looking at this great giant of nature we marvel at God's creations . . . and are aware of the comparative insignificance of man.

Yet, man is far from insignificant, save in physical size. For God, after all, made man in His image. And He gave man a brain, and a soul, with a sense of right and wrong. He gave him character and responsibility.

It is man who can progress to heights far greater than this mountain. But he needs help to do it—God's help, through the help of the Church.

You weren't meant to stand alone in this world. Remember that . . . and go to Church this Sunday.

Cowboys Bank On Wild-Card

DALLAS (AP) - Both coaches Tom Landry of Dallas and Nick Skorich of Cleveland are nurturing quarterback secrets going into Saturday's nationally televised just with a long-shot wild card at stake in the National Football League playoffs for the Cowboys.

Skorich, whose Browns are out of playoff consideration whether Mike Phipps or Brian Sipes is his starting quarterback until game time.

Phipps was benched after throwing 10 interceptions in early season games but Sipes hasn't been particularly productive although the Browns blanked San Francisco in the mud 7-0 last week.

Landry has been mum on whether he will spring Clint "The Mad Bomber" Longley on the Browns should Roger Staubach falter.

Staubach was knocked cold in the third quarter against Washington Thanksgiving Day. Longley, a rookie from Abilene Christian, rallied Dallas from a 16-3 deficit and capped the performance with a 50-yard touchdown pass to Drew Pearson with 21 seconds left.

"I can't guarantee I would put him (Longley) in should Roger have a bad day," said Landry. "I just might. I can't say what I would do."

What Dallas must do to stay alive in the NFL playoffs is beat Cleveland and Oakland in its final two games - while Washington falters against Los Angeles and Chicago.

Dallas is 7-5 and struggling but Skorich doesn't buy talk the Cowboys may be going downhill.

A&I, Cameron In Semifinals

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (AP) - Texas A&I University, a football team with two running backs who crashed the 1,000-yard mark in rushing, meets Cameron State University here Saturday in an NAIA semifinal playoff game.

Ranked No. 1 in the NAIA poll and fifth in The Associated Press college division poll, the Javelinas finished regular season play 11-0 and met the Cameron Aggies of Lawton, Okla., with a 9-2 record and a nine-game winning streak. Counting a victory in the final game of 1973, the South Texas Hoggies have a 12-game winning streak on the line.

Kickoff is at 2 p.m. with a capacity crowd expected at 17,500-seat Javelina Stadium.

Senior fullback Don Hurdeman of Killean rushed for 1,355 yards in 11 games while freshman running back Larry Collins from San Antonio Edison gained 1,223 yards.

Directing the Javelina offense will be sophomore quarterback Richard Ritchie of Mineral Wells who completed 69 of 128 passes for 1,129 yards and picked up an additional 419 yards rushing. Nine of Ritchie's passes were scoring tosses and he was intercepted five times in 11 games.

Junior quarterback Vince Hobbs of Tryon, Okla., completed 66 of 152 passes in 11 games and averaged 113 yards per game through the air. The Aggies have a balanced running game as they have four backs who gained more than 300 yards each.

Their leading rusher is freshman tailback Jesse Cohee of Lawton, who averaged 5.5 yards per carry and 49 yards per game.

Backing up the Javelina offense will be "the Border Bandits" defensive unit that gave up an average of 238.6 yards per game.

By CLARK LESHER
Larry Erves popped in 33 points as Howard College opened defense of its '73 Western Athletic title by thumping Odessa College, 119-101 here Thursday night in the Hawk gym.

HC surprisingly enough scored 119 points against the Wranglers in the Odessa Tournament, Nov. 22, but suffered a four point defeat. The Hawks were off and running on the strength of floor shots by David Giles, Erves, Marvin Johnson.

Odessa never appeared in contention as HC had the game under complete control from start to finish. From the 4:27 mark of the first half, HC maintained a 20 point lead or better throughout. At the intermission break, the Hawks were out in front by 22 points, 67-45. HC's biggest point spread over Odessa took place shortly before half time, 65-41.

The referee's whistle was heard loud and clear especially in the first half with 33 fouls committed. Calls were evenly distributed as the Hawks collected 17 fouls and Odessa

16. A final total of 49 fouls were recorded. The Hawks' playmaker Johnny Harris, fresh out of the schoolboy ranks from Wichita Falls Rider and team captain displayed floor agility that consistently crossed up Odessa. Harris' fast moving tactics even caught the referees off guard in that he received a traveling call once. The Hawks late in the second half used a full court press that Odessa couldn't cope with. HC stole the ball repeatedly and scored several quick buckets. Play was so tense that the Odessa cheering section received a technical foul from the referee in the early stages of first half play.

"David Boles did a good job while David Giles had to sit on the bench with four fouls," said Harold Wilder, Hawk head coach. "Harris was superb in setting up plays, Johnson, so steady, so reliable and Erves able to get the ball in to the open area."

LeRoy McClendon, Hawk assistant coach remarked, "Odessa let us play our game. It was a good team effort."

Howard College out for revenge from the earlier Odessa setback maintained pressure all 40 minutes of game time. The Hawks never showed signs of the least bit of letting up. Harris left the contest with 1:01 left in the last half clock and received an applause from the crowd for a job well done. Johnson followed teammate Erves in the scoring department with 28 points. Harris flipped in 21 and Willie Young netted 10. Lester Cezar of Odessa scored 24 points.

Alfred Gladden was the lone Hawk lost via the foul route, leaving the floor at 5:04 of the second half. Giles collected four quick whistle calls the first half and sat out almost nine minutes of action. HC now stands 9-3 for the season and 1-0 in the conference. The Hawks take a well deserved rest until Monday, then resume conference wars with Clarendon, there.

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — The only bad thing about a long winning streak is that it has to end sometime, says Louisiana Tech Coach Maxie Lambright, who knows about such things.

Lambright's Bulldogs have won 23 consecutive games, longest among NCAA schools, and are in the running for a second straight national Division II title. He said Thursday, "We know it has to end sometime, but we're trying to prolong it as long as we can."

The Bulldogs will be in the Pioneer Bowl Saturday for a Division II clash with Central Michigan, with the winner advancing to the Camellia Bowl and the national championship game Dec. 14. The Pioneer Bowl is to be regionally televised at 12:30 p.m. (CST).

The teams last met in 1970 when Dallas took a baseball score 6-2 victory in the rain and mud in Municipal Stadium. The Browns hadn't played in Dallas since winning 38-14 in the 1969 Eastern Conference championship game at the Cotton Bowl.

Dunbar Nips Big Spring

PLAINVIEW — Big Spring corrected at least 30 per cent of previous game mistakes made but lost out 77-66 to Lubbock Dunbar here Thursday morning in first round of the two-day Plainview Tournament.

Big Spring showed signs of progression in the second half as the Steers outshot Dunbar 39 to 29. Dunbar though led 61-42 as the third quarter period came to a close. The Steers trailed 10 points the first period, 21-11 and left the court at the intermission point behind by a 48-27 count.

Three Big Spring players flashed across point totals in the double digits. Jim Ray led off with a 15 point output and Elroy Green and Bobby Winters chipped in 12 and 11 points respectively. Dunbar had four performers in the double digits, David of Dunbar was high point man, netting 22 points.

The Steers showed improvement at the charity line as Dunbar tossed in only three better, 14 to 11. Dunbar's accuracy from the floor netted 33 compared to Big Spring's 26. In fouls committed, both teams had the same figures, 17 each. "We played more as a team against Dunbar," said Ron Plumlee, Steer head coach. "If we can put together a little more effort and win a few to gain momentum, then we will become a respectable ball club."

The Steers have participated in the Plainview Tournament the last five years. Highest level of meet achievement was a 1972 second place reading. Big Spring faces Lubbock High this afternoon at 2:30. The Steers are 1-6 for the season.

Mira Finds Spot

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Raise the muskets and fire a two-gun salute for George Mira and World Football League. They've got it coming. Both know full well how hopes for greatness can tarnish and fade. But, even if it was only a one-night stand, both could hold their heads a bit higher today.

Mira's 11-year search through forgotten teams in three professional leagues for the glory he knew as a collegiate finally brought him some satisfaction here Thursday when he expertly maneuvered the Birmingham Americans to victory in the first World Bowl.
