WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice Department lawyers believe they have eliminated schemes by gasoline dealers for violating federal price regulations. The department brought 98 civil suits accusing gas station operators of overcharging their customers either directly or through such tactics as requiring them to buy tires or other equipment as a condition for purchasing gasoline. About 40 cases still are pending, but the department has won all the others, the attorneys said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats are preparing an economic package which includes a tax cut as an antidote to one of the nation's deepest postwar economic recessions. A 10-member task force appointed by Speaker Carl Albert last month to develop recession remedies has tentatively decided on a sizeable tax cut for low- and middle-income taxpayers, credit allocation, interest rate reductions and more public services jobs for the unemployed.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has decided to adopt an energy policy based on deliberately increasing gasoline prices to discourage demand but rejected direct fuel restrictions or rationing, an informed administration source says. This source also said that Ford has won the voluntary agreement of auto makers to improve gasoline mileage, but that he would not propose federal standards or a horsepower tax.

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — "Indians have always known hard times. Others talk about 7.1 percent unemployment. Indians, for the most part, have known no unemployment," says Wendell Chino, Chino, tribal chairman of the Mescalero Apaches, made the comments Tuesday in opening the third annual National Tribal Chairmen's Association convention. The Mescalero Apache chairman urged that the conference be used as a vehicle to push for a new national policy that would allow Indians to control their own destiny. "As American Indians, we have been grossly wronged, hurt and abused. But we cannot linger on the past. For too long other people have been telling us what is good for us. Let us make America believe that the American Indian is the final arbiter of his own future."

The Ford Administration finds itself in a ballooning squabble with Latin America over provisions Congress put into the new trade law. The disputed section allows manufactured products from developing countries to enter the United States duty free, but Congress excluded all members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries and also authorized President Ford to suspend tariff preferences to countries that form other trade-restricting cartels or that nationalize American holdings without compensation. Venezuela and Ecuador, the two Latin American members of the OPEC, say they will boycott the meeting Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger is planning with Latin American foreign ministers in Buenos Aires in March to launch a "new dialogue" between the United States and the southern nations of the hemisphere. Peru, which hopes to start exporting oil within two years, pledged its full support, and Colombia, trying to form an OPEC of coffee countries, said the Latin Americans should consider a general boycott of Kissinger's meeting.

LONDON (AP) — Police at an airport north of London overpowered the hijacker of a British airliner Tuesday night, freed the five members of the plane crew and recovered 100,000 pounds ($230,000) in ransom. The only casualty was a steward who was bitten by a police dog. The police did not announce the identity of the hijacker but said he had "Arabic features" and was about 27. Using a toy gun that looked like the real thing, he took over the British Airways BAC111 on a flight from Manchester to London. He said he wanted to go to Paris but the French government refused to let the plane land in France.

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — North Vietnam's current offensive is a six-month dry season campaign to force the Saigon government to carry out the political provisions of the two-year-old Paris peace agreement in a way favorable to the Communists, Western diplomats think. "North Vietnam doesn't believe a general offensive is necessary," said one Western diplomat.

Workers Strike Couple Port Arthur Refineries

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP) — Workers struck today at two Port Arthur refineries and an asphalt plant at nearby Port Neches despite a refusal by their international union to sanction the walkout.

Local units of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers (OCAW) began the strike against Gulf and Texaco refineries at midnight when OCAW contracts with oil companies expired across the nation.

PICKET LINES
Other picket lines went up at 4 p.m. at the Texaco asphalt plant at Port Neches after negotiations broke down at 2 a.m.

The plants are in Southeast Texas' "Golden Triangle" which is studded with refineries, petrochemical plants and tanker terminals. Latest figures show 4,500

Texaco refinery workers here and 2,700 at the Gulf refinery. About 230 struck at the Port Neches asphalt plant.

Spokesmen said OCAW picket lines would be honored by the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and the International Association of Machinists.

Officials of Texaco had obtained a federal court order

Tuesday for an orderly shutdown by OCAW operating personnel.

Major refining companies had supervisors and executive personnel standing by Tuesday night to take over operations of highly automated refineries in event of a strike by a total of about 23,000 OCAW members on the Texas coast.

SETS PATTERN
In common with other management spokesmen, Bill Lafield said Shell Oil Co. was prepared to keep its Houston Ship Channel plant operating indefinitely with supervisory personnel.

Shell and other major refiners in this area along the Upper Texas Coast—also including Beaumont, Houston and Texas City—have a combined daily capacity of about two million barrels, or one-seventh of the nation's total. The others are Atlantic Richfield, Mobil and American Oil.

While many chemical plants and smaller Texas refineries also could be affected, attention centered on the majors because in the past any agreement with one of them sets an industry pattern.

The dispute has no effect on a 400,000 barrels-a-day Baytown refinery, also in this vicinity, which Exxon Co. USA operates.

OIL NEGOTIATIONS Going To Wait For More Cash

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The president of the national oil workers union urged locals to resume contract negotiations today after refusing to authorize a strike. Wildcat walkouts hit two Texas refineries, however.

"We've got some progress in the wings. Some companies have indicated there is some more money there and we're going to wait," said A. F. Grospron, president of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union.

NO WHIP
Grospron said Tuesday night he was not calling a strike and that local bargaining units at 430 locations in the nation should resume negotiations today. Contracts at the locals expired at Tuesday midnight local times.

Paul Harding, a spokesman for the union, said the strikes against Gulf and Texaco refineries at Port Arthur, Tex., are unauthorized and in violation of the union's constitution.

"But, of course, we can't stand over them with a whip and make them work," Harding added.

Grospron is the only person authorized by the union to call a strike. By not calling a strike, he extended contract negotiations.

Grospron said workers at the refineries across the country would remain on the job today while the bargaining policy committee continued monitoring company offers at union headquarters here.

Woman Prisoner Hanged

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — Vera Torres, 24, of Sweetwater, a prisoner at the city jail, was found hanged early today, her jeans tied around her neck and anchored to her cell bunk, police said.

Officers said the woman was arrested around 12:30 a.m. along with another woman and three male companions for investigation of marijuana possession and assault on a policeman.

She was found dead about three hours later.

Police Chief Warren Dodson said an autopsy will be conducted.

Someone Firing At Webb Planes

Apparently somebody doesn't like airplanes at Webb Air Force Base runways.

For three straight days, an unknown person has shot through the wings of airplanes parked in the area behind hangar T75.

Around 2 p.m. Tuesday, shots were fired through the wings of a T38 parked on the wash rack.

City police have joined Webb security officers in investigating the incident, with ballistics reported to be obtained in Austin on the nature of the expended slugs.

HAPPY ENDING

HOUSTON (AP) — A bandit walked into a drive-in grocery in the city's northwest section brandishing a knife and fled with $63.

Virginia Johnson, 19, the clerk, called police but she called again 30 minutes later with a happy ending—the bandit had returned the money.

"He came in, tears in his eyes," the clerk said. "He threw $63 on the counter and said, 'I just can't do it.'"

To Honor Cease-Fire

GRESHAM, Wis. (AP) — Indians occupying a religious estate have agreed to honor a cease-fire and listen to offers of negotiation, a mediator reports after attending a pipe-smoking ceremony.

Artley Skenandore said prospects of continuing talks were brighter after National Guardsmen surrounding the estate allowed Indian sympathizers to take food to the demonstrators.

Members of the Menominee Warrior Society have traded gunfire with law enforcement personnel several times since occupying the unused Roman Catholic novitiate New Year's Day. There have been no injuries.

Skenandore's three-hour visit to the estate's 64-room mansion Tuesday was one of the first since talks involving mediators, authorities and the estate's owners broke down during the weekend.

MILD

Cloudy, mild and windy Thursday. High today and Wednesday in the 60s. Low tonight, near 40. Southwesterly wind 8-18 miles per hour this afternoon and tonight.

Local 826 Begins Contract Talks

Management of the International Union of Operating Engineers, local 826, Big Spring, will have its eyes on the success of the Oil Workers Union, which may have a nation-wide strike soon.

The Oil Workers contract expired at midnight last night, but the president of the union did not order a strike as expected.

Kenneth Howell, manager of UOE, Local 826, said that negotiations have begun on renewing the Operating Engineers contract which expires March 31.

He said that trends in other union contracts would determine what provisions they would seek in their negotiations.

Negotiations began on the Operating Engineers contract with Cosden Officials Dec. 31.

Midland Lawyer Dies Under Wheel Of Train

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — A Midland lawyer released under $20,000 bond from an Odessa jail died Tuesday night of massive injuries suffered when he apparently was run over by a train near Shallowater, a small community northwest of Lubbock.

Justice of the Peace Wayne LeCroy was expected to rule on the death of Richard T. Prigmore, 40, after an autopsy today.

ONLY CLUE

Prigmore's hand and foot were severed by the train and he suffered massive head lacerations, according to a spokesman at St. Mary's Hospital, where he first underwent treatment.

State patrolmen said the train hit him about 4:30 p.m. at a point where Farm road 1294 crosses railroad tracks near Shallowater.

The victim carried no written identification and it was five hours later before he was named by a close friend, officers said.

The only clue to his identity was his 1970 model car parked about nine feet from the tracks, patrolmen said. Its license plate check gave officers a possible identification.

$50,000 PAINTING

A spokesman for Santa Fe railroad in Amarillo said the 80-car train was traveling about 35 miles per hour toward Clovis, N.M.

Prigmore was arrested and charged Monday with interstate transportation of stolen property and assault on a federal officer.

He was arraigned before a U.S. magistrate and was released under two $10,000 surety bonds. He was accused of attempting to sell a $50,000 painting taken from the Midland home of Bennie Sue Thomas in April.

Thomas Westfall, acting special agent in charge of the El Paso FBI office, said Prigmore had been under surveillance for a month in connection with the burglary. He was arrested in Odessa by FBI agents and Midland police outside a post office. A scuffle during the arrest led to the assault charges, officers said.

ANOTHER FOUR YEARS — Navajo Tribal Chairman Peter MacDonald, at the inaugural of his second term Tuesday, pledged to help the Navajo Nation gain the respect of the U.S. government and states bordering the Navajo Reservation.

JEB, KALMBACH 'FREE' Sirica Orders Dean Released From Prison

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. District Judge John W. Sirica today ordered John W. Dean III, Jeb Stuart Magruder and Herbert W. Kalmbach released from prison.

All three men had been serving sentences as a result of guilty pleas in Watergate-related crimes. Dean, formerly White House counsel to President Richard M. Nixon, had been serving a one-to-four-year term after pleading guilty to a single count of conspiracy to obstruct justice.

Magruder, the former deputy director of the Committee for the Re-Election of the President, was serving a term of at least 10 months.

Kalmbach, a major Nixon fund-raiser and his former personal attorney, had pleaded guilty to violating campaign laws and one count of selling an ambassadorship in return for a political contribution. He was serving a sentence of six to 18 months.

Sirica had sentenced all three men.

His two-paragraph order releasing them did not give the reasons for ending the prison sentences.

The three men all had testified at the recent Watergate cover-up trial, which resulted in the conviction of John N. Mitchell, H. R. Haldeman, John D. Ehrlichman and Robert C. Mardian.

All three had applied for a reduction of sentence on varying grounds.

SUITCASE EXPLODES

Bomb Blast In House Kills Three Persons

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Three persons were killed and three others injured critically when a bomb exploded inside a Cleveland home, police said today.

The Tuesday night blast ripped apart a frame house in a middle class neighborhood on the city's south side shortly before midnight. Authorities at St. Alexis Hospital identified the dead as Maryanne Sigley, 21, her 2-year-old son, Michael, and Burdell Offitt, 26.

Listed in critical condition at Metropolitan General Hospital were 9-month old Steven Sigley; Deborah Slepko, 16, and her husband, John, 21.

According to police, Offitt told authorities shortly before he died that he had found a suitcase on the front porch of the house and had taken it inside where it exploded seconds later.

The blast knocked the front and side walls of the house off their foundations and shattered windows in adjoining houses.

Capt. Gerald Holman of the Cleveland Fire Department's rescue squad said all the dead and injured apparently were in the same room on the first floor of the house at the time of the explosion.

"When we got there Mrs. Slepko was lying outside and her husband was walking around in a daze," Holman said.

"The baby was crawling around. The others were under the rubble inside."

Authorities said Offitt was visiting. They said he lived with his mother elsewhere in Cleveland.

Police said they had not established a motive for the bombing.

Making New Inquiries Into Matters At UTPB

AUSTIN (AP) — University of Texas System Chancellor Charles LeMaistre said today he was assigning two staff members to make further inquiries into matters at UT-Permian Basin.

John Fasolino, system director of employ relations, will go to the Odessa campus Monday to investigate "several questions which have been raised concerning the participation of University employees in Faculty and Staff Enterprise, Inc., an external organization at UT-Permian Basin." LeMaistre said in a statement.

He said Mike Grady,

assistant to the system comptroller, had been assigned "to investigate several matters including the development fund and golf scholarship contributions. Mr. Grady also has the authority to expand his inquiries beyond those two external matters should it be necessary."

Dr. B. H. Amstead resigned last month as president of the school during an investigation into whether he had misrepresented to the legislature that no state funds would be used in construction of a three-hole golf course and duck pond at the campus.

CYCLIST AND CELLO — Kevin Kosty is a member of the Birmingham, Ala., Symphony Orchestra and he can't go to practice sessions without his cello. Four or five times a week he straps his cello to his motorcycle and rides off to the world of music.

Critical Time Ahead

Various interpretations are put on the cancellation of plans of Leonid Brezhnev to visit Egypt and the Middle East. There is one fairly unanimous view, however, namely that the development will give Secretary of State Henry Kissinger more time to attempt to negotiate another pull-back between Israel and Egypt. Some feel that whatever price President Anwar Sadat attached to an arms deal with Russia was too high for Brezhnev to accept, hence it would have been a diplomatic blunder for the Russian premier to have gone to Cairo under the circumstances. A minority view is that Brezhnev agreed to send sophisticated planes and tanks to Egypt in substantial volume, but to maintain a low profile in the conviction that Kissinger will fall flat on his face in attempts to talk Egypt and Israel in taking another step toward rapprochement. There probably is some truth in both views, but signs point to the thesis that Kissinger still has the favored seat. Brezhnev did not give PLO Leader Yasser Arafat near all he wanted in a recent visit to Moscow, and in turn, Arafat has purged more extreme leftists from his organization. What this portends is a crucial time ahead for Secretary Kissinger in an attempt to effect another step toward disengagement in the Mid-East, namely between Israel and Egypt. If he somehow can do this, then it is not wholly impossible that Syria, which is heavily supplied by Russia, may find some area of agreement with Israel along its borders and the Golan Heights. A critical time lies just ahead, and war and peace hang in the balance.

Surprise! Surprise! Surprise!

A freeway bandit in Cleveland has been terrorizing women motorists. Using a flashing red light like a police car, he would force lone females to pull off the road, assault them and rob them and then threaten to kill them if they went to the police. The robber-rapist tried it once too often, however. His last would-be victim had long flowing locks all right, but also happened to be sporting a moustache. The culprit sped off, but not before the motorist got a good look at his car and license plate, which enabled a police to make an arrest. Think about that next time you ridicule long hair on men.

Toot! Toot!

Around The Rim

Joe Pickle

Over the years we have come to expect something different in design of automobiles or their components, yet the humble horn has not been altered basically in the past half century.

WHEN THE HORSELESS carriage began to put its nose into the market prior to the turn of the century, the warning apparatus was a horn (some resembling a small bugle) with a rubber bulb on the end. Squeeze the bulb and you had a toot. The bulb generally rose vertically over the horn part, but later the sophisticates had a more shapely horizontal bulb with a slender, better tone in front. Next came a mechanical device, a horn which was activated by pushing down a ratched plunger. This caused gears inside to set up vibrations against a diaphragm. The resulting sound was, assuming a strong hand on the plunger, a sharp "oooh! a-oooh!"

IN THE 1920's, however, the horn moved off the door on the drivers side. Buttons were placed handily so that an electric impulse vibrated the diaphragm, yielding a raucous sound not unlike the honk of a goose. So "give him a honk" became part of our language. A few of the more mundane continued to say "horn him over."

Except that the button progressively moved to the center of the steering wheel, and then to rims just inside the steering wheel, nothing much has changed about the horn.

FROM THE BEGINNING, it was possible to pretty much tell a make of car by its horn, and to a good degree the class (or size) of the car. That's still somewhat true. The compact and smaller cars have a single horn which sounds a vociferous "F," while the larger cars generally are equipped with a pair of horns sounding an "F" and an "A." A luxury line like the Chrysler Imperial has three horns effusing the harmonics of "F," "A" and "D."

Of course, there are individualists who have their own horn systems installed. Some of these emit rich, harmonic chords, and others tend to sonorously run the scales, so that instead of the customary "ah-oooh," we hear something more like the NBC call signal.

HORNS ARE practically indestructible, as any car owner will attest when somehow the contact button becomes shorted. Manufacturers test horns to make certain they will blow continuously for five minutes, but really most horns are just getting warmed at that point. Now that the power required to activate has been reduced from 10 to 4-6 amperes, the time that a stuck horn will blow before bleeding a battery has been doubled or trebled. As for the conventional foot, horns are tested to yield 50,000, although 350,000 is not an unusual performance for extended testing. So you can be almost certain that your horn will outlast your car.

THERE ARE refinements coming along. One is a device which flashes the headlights when the horns sounds. Another is a system which will increase the decibels output to around 98 at high speeds or in noisy traffic, then soften the tones at slow speeds or in a quieter environment.

Still another is a radio attachment by which you never hear your horn sound, but it is picked up in the car ahead. This will require a lot of thought, however, for whose nose will you know to punch when discourteously and annoyingly honked at?

My Answer

Billy Graham

On a recent TV program you were quoted as saying, "The greatest sin of all is too much pride." I was not taught that pride is sinful. Please elaborate, P.H.

The wisdom writings in Proverbs label pride pretty clearly. Chapter 8, verse 13 says, "The fear of the Lord is to hate . . . pride." And in chapter 16, it says "Pride goeth before destruction." The Lord in Mark chapter 7 links pride with such things as blasphemy and murder. But maybe the greatest case against pride is that it was the cause for Satan's downfall. That seems to be the point of Ezekiel chapter 28. If pride can be charged with triggering the whole development of evil in the world, it is to be abhorred as our meet enemy.

Pride is an insidious thing — that is, it masquerades as something proper and good, when it is inherently destructive. Pride adapts itself to every major area of life — intellectual, material, social and spiritual. The last is the worst. I believe there is no sin God hates more than pride, and America is filled with it. God demands that we bow in humility at the cross of Christ and recognize our need for His forgiveness and help.

'LET'S JUST SAY I'M RECYCLING PETRODOLLARS.'

The Frome Mystery

Robert E. Ford

The new, luxury automobile cost the owner the fantastic sum of 50 cents. And it is probable the vehicle caused Texas' most baffling double murder.

REMEMBRANCE of the Frome murder case was aroused again with a just-published book written by an old friend, William J. Hooten, retired editor of the El Paso Times. The book is "Fifty-two Years a Newsman," published by Texas Western Press of the University of Texas at El Paso.

Hooten has seen just about everything. He began as an Associated Press telegrapher. In those days, each newspaper had its own AP man to listen to the Morse key and type out the stories on old-fashioned typewriters.

Hooten's professional descendants today write their stories on an electronic device connected directly to a computer and transmit the stories to thousands of newspapers simultaneously, often at more than 1,000 words a minute.

WHEN TECHNOLOGY scrapped the Morse key, Hooten became a reporter, then editor of a newspaper in one of the best news cities in America. His book is a walk back through time.

Mrs. Weston G. (Hazel) Frome, 46, and her attractive, dark-haired daughter, Nancy, 23, died on a lonely desert stretch near Van Horn, Tex. They had been tortured and shot.

The two often traveled together and usually stripped off all jewelry to avoid tempting robbers, but not on this trip.

They started from Berkeley, Calif., where they were socialites, to visit a daughter and sister in Paradise Island, N.C.

Their car developed trouble at El Paso and the Fromes visited some of the hot spots in Juarez across the border in Mexico.

THEY LEFT HOTEL Cortez at 11:30 a.m. on March 27, 1938, and at about 3 p.m. met their fate in the sand just off the highway a hundred miles southeast.

Both women had been largely disrobed but not raped. Nancy's right hand was burned repeatedly with cigarettes or cigars. She had been struck viciously on the head with a blunt instrument, and flesh had been gouged from her right arm.

A small-caliber, German-made weapon was used to shoot each victim in the left temple.

An alert truck driver, Jim Milam, led officers to the scene as soon as he heard about the missing women and automobile.

THE FROMES' new Packard passed him four days earlier with a smaller car containing a man and woman behind it.

That same day, he noted both cars pulling from the desert onto the highway. A woman was driving the Frome car.

The only clues were left by Nancy, something of an athlete-expert swimmer, horsewoman and dancer. In her death throes, she clutched a folder of matches and a man's handkerchief with the initial "F." She had scratched someone—there was skin and blood under her fingernails.

IN THE FOLLOWING year, 200 to 300 useless tips a month poured in from across the nation and all had to be checked. More than 200 pistols were inspected by ballistics experts. Officers questioned more than 2,500 persons in the next 20 years.

Why these vicious murders? Could it have been robbers? Unlikely. The couple did take a diamond ring and $90 from Mrs. Frome and a bracelet from Nancy, but other jewelry was not touched.

The Packard was found days later near Balmorhea, about 60 miles east of Van Horn. The vehicle had been wiped clean of fingerprints. Revenge was considered but pursuit of that line got officers nowhere.

COL. HOMER GARRISON, the late great director of the Department of Public Safety, said 15 years ago, "They were tortured. There's no doubt about that. Somebody wanted information."

One theory seems more logical than others after the distance of 37 years. This is that the killers were hunting narcotics.

This is because of a clue we haven't given you yet. This evidence involves the Fromes' spare tire. It had been slashed as if someone were looking for something inside.

Pros In The Dark

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP)—Alan Greenspan isn't likely to make the same error as his predecessor in the job of chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers. He is not going to be overly optimistic.

Herbert Stein, chairman under President Richard M. Nixon, dug himself into a deeper hole each month by contrasting the terrible economic news with what he claimed was an imminent improvement. He lost credibility.

Greenspan told the Joint Economic Committee that the outlook wasn't pleasant, wasn't reassuring and wasn't certain. Unemployment might reach 8 percent, he said, and he suggested the second-half recovery wouldn't be sudden.

What Greenspan learned in watching the Washington scene from his desk at Townsend-Greenspan, a consulting firm, was that economic conditions today are all but unpredictable.

This might seem so elemental as to be obvious, but the fact is that hundreds of economists are following up their abysmal forecasts of a year ago by again attempting to look a full year into the future.

Last year they missed on prices, interest rates, unemployment and a dozen other forecast areas. Their counterparts on Wall Street forecast a Dow Jones industrial average anywhere from 400 to 1,000.

This year the consensus seems to be for a gradual recovery by summer, with interest rates falling a bit and the rate of inflation — but note, not prices — falling sharply.

Last year the economists complained that they were forced to evaluate too many factors beyond their comprehension: the impact of an oil embargo, drought and other meteorological phenomena, political maneuvers.

But this year, as Greenspan noted, there are factors involved about which economists are equally in the dark, the most important being the likelihood of substantial governmental moves against recession.

All forecasts made today are, therefore, accompanied by a substantial amount of ignorance and a considerable lack of information. And last year's results proved that either is sufficient to make a forecast almost useless.

Many economists concede that even when the facts are known, a forecast of beyond three months can plunge the forecaster into a dark void.

Has A 'Jitter Leg'

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I'm bothered with restless legs. No pain at all. I fall asleep and could sleep through the night but this condition wakes me up every night from two to seven times with an uneasy crawling sensation on my knees and in steps.

I'm 76 years old and real active — Mrs. R.B. Restless or "jitter leg" is a troublesome and amazing symptom that accounts for millions of sleepless hours every night of the year. I dare say, it may be accompanied by sensations of burning, tightness in the limbs, aching and any number of other symptoms, none of them pleasant.

The cause is not definitely known, although some have found it prevalent in persons with anxiety or other emotional problems such as depression. In others, anemia has been found the cause and relief is given by iron supplements. With no known cause established, a wide variety of treatments has been tried which have helped some but held no relief for others. Short of a physical examination, I can only suggest a few of these.

Some sufferers have found relief in taking a walk before retiring. One physician friend found this to be his answer. Another found relief by elevating the covers slightly with a rolled up blanket at the foot of the bed.

Medicinal treatments have ranged from antihistamines, to quinine (5 grains before retiring), tranquilizers, and barbiturate sedatives.

Another patient gave up coffee with good results. I hope you have mentioned this to your doctor. So many older patients when giving histories neglect to mention things that are causing their real problems. Be sure you don't forget the next time you visit the doctor.

Meanwhile, you can try the rolled up blanket idea first, or any of the others mentioned. Good luck. Dear Dr. Thosteson: My wife and I have been in disagreement over the issue of whether body hair grows more rapidly after it has been shaved. She is reluctant to shave parts of her body because she feels this is true — D.O.

Why this falsehood persists confounds me. Hair grows at different rates in different parts of the body. But shaving does not accelerate normal hair growth anywhere.

I wonder why the makers of women's shaving equipment never have made this clear by now.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have red spots on my body about the size of freckles. They are raised and seem to be filled with blood.

I'm getting more and more all over my body. What can I do to prevent any more from coming in? I am 59.

I scraped a tiny one with my fingernail and you can't even tell where it was. — Mrs. R.U.Z.

Skin defects are best diagnosed by inspection than by description, but I will hazard a guess that yours could be hemangiomas. These are accumulations of tiny vessels (capillaries) under the skin which usually appear as one gets older.

There is not much to be done about them, but I would advise against further scraping. They could bleed and become infected. If they are a cosmetic nuisance on your face and neck, a dermatologist might prescribe a cautery.

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple — write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of his booklet, "How to Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have red spots on my body about the size of freckles. They are raised and seem to be filled with blood.

I'm getting more and more all over my body. What can I do to prevent any more from coming in? I am 59.

Moscow's Arms Deal

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev in Moscow last weekend secretly concluded a new agreement to send Egypt sophisticated arms, a fact that should moderate exaggerated optimism here greeting the postponement of Brezhnev's state visit to Cairo this month.

PRECISE DETAILS of the new Cairo-Moscow arms deal are not yet known, but specialists here say it definitely includes such high-value weapons as MIG-23 aircraft and late model T-62 tanks.

Ever since President Anwar Sadat ordered Soviet advisers out of Egypt in 1971, Moscow has been parsimonious about sending high-grade military arms to Egypt. That virtual embargo tightened after Sadat decided to put all his eggs in the American basket following the October 1973 war.

NOW, HOWEVER, the still unannounced new arms deal argues strongly that, despite postponements of Brezhnev's Cairo summit, Sadat succeeded in reopening his arms-supply lines to Moscow as a hedge against Secretary of State Henry Kissinger's uphill effort at further Israeli withdrawal from the Sinai.

Worry that Kissinger's effort might conceivably succeed may be why Brezhnev postponed his Cairo visit. With the Soviets successfully excluded from Kissinger's personal diplomacy, Brezhnev could have looked foolish arriving in Cairo with Kissinger moving toward another triumph.

BUT BY OPENING up the new supply line, Brezhnev strengthened his position to claim at least equal access with the U.S. in Cairo if, as many experts now fear, Kissinger can't bring off a new Israeli pullback in the Sinai.

A footnote: While agreeing that Brezhnev is suffering from a respiratory ailment, top officials here don't believe illness was a major factor in postponing the Cairo visit.

SECRETARY OF STATE Henry Kissinger, with strong White House backing, is trying to enlist ex-Nixon aide Richard Cook in one of the nastiest, most difficult jobs in town: Assistant Secretary of State for Congressional Affairs.

With his status in Congress eroding as a bumper crop of Democratic liberals arrives in the House, Kissinger has been warned he faces political disaster on Capitol Hill. Kissinger, on good terms with congressional leaders, desperately needs help with rank-and-file Democrats in the new Congress.

BOTH WHITE HOUSE aides and worried senior officials in the State Department believe that Cook's highly successful tour as a White House lobbyist in Richard M. Nixon's first term makes him an ideal prospect. But Cook is loath to leave his present high-paying job as Lockheed's Washington vice president.

Earlier efforts sparked by former Defense Secretary Melvin Laird to persuade Kissinger to move his executive assistant, Lawrence Eagleburger, into the congressional job have foundered. "If Eagleburger left Kissinger's office," one official told us, "the department would disintegrate."

The effort to enlist Cook, a nuts-and-bolts congressional expert, marks a change and is tacit acknowledgement that the new Congress spells trouble for Kissinger. The department's present lobbyist, former Gov. Linwood Holton of Virginia, who resigned two weeks ago, is a political celebrity with no previous experience.

'The Hyena Story'

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Is the hyena a victim of bad public relations? Author-scientist Jane Goodall thinks so, and she will plead her case on a television special.

The show is "The Hyena Story," and it will appear on ABC-TV this spring. Miss Goodall was here for a lecture at the California Institute of Technology and she paused over coffee to explain her interest in the hyena: "When my son was very young, it was necessary for me to leave my studies with the chimpanzees because they have been known to prey on small children. So we moved from Gombe to the Serengeti Plain and that's where I was attracted to hyenas.

"They are much more individualistic than the antelope, for instance. Antelopes need only to smell, hear and run fast. Carnivores have a much more complex brain, since hunters need other faculties to stalk their prey as well as avoid being preyed upon.

"Hyenas have this reputation for being cowardly, skulking creatures who steal other animals' kills. Indeed they do scavenge, but they are also excellent hunters. They will attack animals as large as zebras and even harass a mother rhino to get at her baby. That doesn't seem fair, since the rhino is such an unwieldy creature.

LIFE GOES ON — AND OUT — IN CAMBODIAN CONFLICT — A woman with youngsters glances at body of civilian casualty on the highway as she and other Cambodian villagers flee their homes as war once again returns to the vicinity of Phnom Penh. They sought safety in the direction of the Cambodian capital. The Phnom Penh command claimed Tuesday that government troops killed more than 800 Khmer Rouge soldiers on three different fronts around the capital. Government casualties were not reported.

Four Courses To Be Offered

The University of Texas of the Permian Basin (UTPB) will offer four courses in the BBA area at junior level starting Jan. 13.

UTPB representatives will be at Webb Air Force Base at the Education Center, building 603, Jan. 9 to evaluate and enroll prospective candidates for the courses. The offerings are Management 360 — Management Concepts and Organization Theory; Management 310 — Manpower Management and Human Relations; Decision Science 310 — Introduction to Statistics; and Marketing 310 — Marketing Management.

The UTPB's sustaining program would lead to a BBA degree in one of three areas of concentration including accounting, finance, and marketing. For more information or enrollment contact the UTPB representative between 1:30 and 7:30 p.m. on Jan. 9 in the Education Center.

The college requests that students bring official transcripts to the registration session.

Trainee Joins Local Office

Christine Higgins, 18, has been placed in the county extension office through the federal Manpower training program.

The county extension office will train her for office work, and the federal government will pay her salary.

Ex-Snyder Man Is Indicted

ABILENE — A former Snyder resident, James R. Sewell, 39, is one of three indicted by a federal grand jury here Tuesday.

Two counts of filing false income tax returns were returned against Sewell. He is accused of claiming two false deductions on his 1970 income tax return, one for $455.40 and the other for $557.32. The whereabouts of Sewell are unknown.

Salary Boost Is Given Official

SAN ANGELO — A salary increase of $8,320 has been approved for San Angelo city manager Dick Howard by city commissioners. The boost will push his annual pay to $25,000.

Ten per cent pay raises have also been approved for other city employees. Supervisors and foremen will get more, some as much as 15 per cent.

The raises will be included in the next paychecks, which will be issued Jan. 15.

Unemployment Benefits Are Possible For Some

Special Unemployment Assistance makes unemployment benefits possible for persons such as domestics, agricultural workers, employees of city and county governments, and various other workers currently ineligible for unemployment compensation under the new measure signed into law Dec. 31 by President Gerald Ford.

In Texas, claimants who qualify under the new law, can receive a maximum of $63 per week for as long as 26 weeks. Payments will be made at local Texas Employment Commission offices entirely of Federal funds and paid in accordance with the general provisions of the Texas Unemployment Compensation Act.

Another situation where the new program will be paid when the worker is not eligible for regular unemployment compensation is if the worker had insufficient earnings in covered employment to be eligible for unemployment compensation under State or Federal law.

A Special Unemployment Assistance claim may be filed at the Texas Employment Commission, 406 Runnels, Big Spring.

Annual March Of Dimes Campaign Is Nearing

Volunteers will be marching against birth defects the week of Jan. 29-27 during the annual March of Dimes drive, according to campaign director Carol Reeves. Monday, Jan. 27 has been set as the pivotal day of the drive.

Many volunteers are still needed to walk in the Mothers' March, especially in the Bauer and Lakeview school districts, she told members at the MOD board meeting last night.

"We are asking people in Big Spring to offer their time and energy toward our goal, that of providing year-round support for research and medical service programs committed to prevention of birth defects, said Mrs. Reeves.

Walkers are not limited to mothers, she emphasized. Goldiggers and Key Club members from the high school will be helping, and the high school Student Council has been asked to consider covering the local apartment complexes.

March of Dimes officials, she explained, are not only concerned with extending medical treatment to those already afflicted, but in sparing those yet unborn from physical and mental handicaps. Much progress already has been made through early detection of high-risk pregnancy and immediate use of modern, life-saving intensive care nurseries.

Working with Mrs. Reeves are 80 zone leaders. Mrs. Reeves, who is directing the Mothers' March for the second year, praised the enthusiasm of these leaders. She noted that 73 of the 80 zone leaders attended a kick-off meeting Saturday at Marcy Elementary School.

She estimates that it will take 500 to 600 walkers to cover Big Spring. A sizable percentage of this number has already been committed to walk, but Mrs. Reeves stressed that the campaign still needs many walkers willing to cover a block or more in their neighborhoods. Anyone interested in volunteering should call Mrs. Reeves at 267-6414 or 263-7087 after 4 p.m.

Mrs. Reeves commended the retired persons living in Mountain View Lodge and Big Spring Nursing Inns for stuffing all the packets which will be given to walkers.

Board member Ronnie Smith reported that collection canisters will be delivered this week to Big Spring businesses for use all during the campaign month of January.

"We are aiming for $10,000 in the Mothers' March this year, and with the same help from an informed public that we have had in the past, the March of Dimes will launch another successful volunteer drive," said Mrs. Reeves.

American Beef Reorganization

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—American Beef Packers, which employs workers in Texas and three other states, filed for reorganization Tuesday under the federal bankruptcy act.

A spokesman said "certain unprofitable operations" would be closed. He said no decision had been made on which operations would be shut down or when.

American Beef Packers is one of the nation's largest meat packing companies.

The firm and a wholly owned subsidiary, Beefland International of Council Bluffs, Iowa, filed a petition for reorganization and arrangement for payment of debts under Chapter 11 of the bankruptcy act.

The spokesman said Chapter 11 does not involve a straight bankruptcy action, allowing a company to work out a plan of payment of debts while it continues to operate.

American Beef employs about 4,000 persons in Texas, Nebraska, Iowa and Colorado.

In addition to the Council Bluffs plant, the firm has operations in Dumas, Tex.; Harlan and Oakland, Iowa; Omaha, Nebraska City and Minatare in Nebraska, and Fort Morgan, Colo.

Frank West, board chairman and president, said the decision to file under Chapter 11 was made when it became apparent that further financial negotiations were impossible.

The spokesman said negotiations between American Beef and General Electric Corp., a secured creditor, for an extension and expansion of existing financing arrangements ended Monday.

American Beef Packers said it had consolidated tax losses of more than $1.6 million in a six-month period ended last Nov. 30.

Holiday Breaks Ends In Schools

The long Christmas break ended in the Big Spring school system this morning when students reported for classes. The development may have brought smiles to some parents' faces.

It'll be a long wait until the next holiday rolls around for the pupils. The spring break occurs March 28 and extends until April 7.

Viet Planes Attacking Reds In Retaliation

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP)—Waves of South Vietnamese planes attacked the Viet Cong headquarters at Loc Ninh and nearby Communist areas in retaliation for the loss of the capital of Phuoc Long province. The Saigon command announced today.

F5 fighter-bombers raided troop concentrations, anti-aircraft positions, ammunition dumps and supply centers in the Communist zones below the Cambodian border north of Saigon Tuesday night and today, and pilots reported ammunition explosions that sent smoke 3,000 feet into the air, a command spokesman said.

A Viet Cong spokesman charged the bombers inflicted heavy civilian casualties and property damage in Loc Ninh, which is 75 miles north of Saigon and 30 miles west of Phuoc Binh City, the provincial capital lost Tuesday.

Southwest of Loc Ninh in Tay Ninh province, which is also threatened by the North Vietnamese offensive that began a month ago, the only action reported was a 14-round artillery barrage into the Trang Lon base camp. The North Vietnamese overran another base overlooking the provincial capital on Tuesday, but no followup attack was reported today.

The North Vietnamese also kept up their siege of Hoai Binh, a district town 75 miles northeast of Saigon. The government said an attack was driven back with five Viet Cong and one South Vietnamese soldier killed.

Horse Is Gone

George Frasier told the sheriff's office a small brown three-year-old mare was missing from a location in Sand Springs.

It was not known whether Garity would accept the proposed plan.

Classes Resume At Boston High

BOSTON (AP)—Classes resumed at the South Boston High school complex without incident today as hundreds of police stood by to ensure the safety of children.

An estimated 300 to 400 white pupils and between 50 and 75 black children entered the schools for classes under the protection of about 400 state, metropolitan and local police officers.

Pupils passed through a metal detector before entering the schools. Only pupils and newsmen were allowed in the vicinity of the school by police, who stood watch at or along approach routes to the educational complex.

RACIAL VIOLENCE All four schools in the complex had been closed since an outbreak of racial violence Dec. 11.

The extra police were called out by the state's Public Safety Department in an effort to ensure the safety of children bused to class.

Most of the 400 state, metropolitan and local officers were assigned to South Boston High or routes leading to the school. South Boston High and three companion buildings were closed Dec. 11 after a white student was stabbed, allegedly by a black. The incident led to an angry confrontation between white parents and police.

The schools have been plagued by sporadic outbreaks of violence since they opened for the fall term under a partial desegregation order that requires the busing of about 18,000 of the city's 87,000 students.

South Boston High is in a white neighborhood. The complex includes two annexes and Roxbury High School, which is in a black area.

Authorities said 100 state troopers would be on duty inside South Boston High, accompanied by local police support units.

Auto Industry's First Major Price Discounts

DETROIT (AP)—Auto industry analysts believe other U.S. car makers may have to follow Chrysler Corporation's lead in granting major price rebates of up to $400 on specific models to boost sales.

But spokesmen for General Motors and Ford

Motor Co. said that their firms had no immediate plans to discount their models.

Chrysler, saddled with 320,000 unsold 1975 models, is launching the auto industry's first big price discounts since domestic car sales began plummeting more than a year ago.

REBATES Chrysler will offer the rebates to buyers of new cars and light trucks beginning Monday in an unprecedented five-week campaign which it hopes will stimulate sales.

The industry has been under heavy pressure from dealers to roll back prices since record increases averaging $450 a car went into effect last September. Sales are off more than 25 per cent since the increases went into effect.

One New York analyst said Tuesday that Chrysler's price discounts indicate the company's "recognition that cars were overpriced."

"It's now inevitable that others will follow the move," said Harry Laubscher of Blyth Eastman Dillon & Co. He predicted the discounts will result in increased sales.

Another New York analyst, Arvid Jouppi, added, "Obviously the campaign will boost sales. There has been considerable price resistance."

Jouppi said Ford and American Motors might adopt similar consumer incentives because they too have very high supplies of unsold cars. But he said GM probably would not because of a smaller inventory.

The Chrysler campaign, scheduled to end Feb. 16, offers rebates of $200 to $300 on a specific model each week. Another $100 will be rebated on specific trade-in models that include both Chrysler and competitors' cars.

The plan will be backed up by a media blitz that will cost an estimated $5 million.

Under the discount plan, the first of its kind in automotive history, rebates will be given to buyers directly by the company and not by the dealers.

The auto companies have offered discounts in the past, but only in the form of discounts to dealers who are free to negotiate lower-than-sticker prices without cutting into their own profits.

ON THE BLOCK — Thousands of new Chrysler automobiles stand at the facility's plant in Belvidere, Ill., waiting for buyers. Chrysler, saddled with a high supply of unsold models, is launching the auto industry's first major price discounts since sales began plummeting more than a year ago.

Navy Task Force Sails Toward Indian Ocean

WASHINGTON (AP) - A powerful Navy carrier task force sailed toward the Indian Ocean today as rumblings persist over Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's implied warning of possible U.S. military action in a grave oil emergency.

The six-ship task force, led by the 85,000-ton nuclear-powered aircraft carrier Enterprise, was expected to enter the Indian Ocean within a few days after a voyage from the U.S. 7th Fleet base in Subic Bay, the Philippines.

The Pentagon acknowledged the Enterprise's sailing but declined to identify its destination. However, sources said the carrier, the nuclear-propelled guided missile cruiser Long Beach, two destroyers, a supply ship and an oiler were bound for the Indian Ocean.

Defense sources insisted no show of force was intended in the voyage of the Enterprise group through the South China Sea. These sources indicated the task force would come no closer than about 350 miles from the South Vietnamese coast.

Pentagon officials said the impending month-long

Crooked Deck Of Cards Used In Vegas Swindle

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) - A swindle which may have bilked South Texans out of thousands of dollars has been revealed in federal court here.

Real estate developer Solomon Abdo Jr., 36, pleaded guilty Tuesday to a count of interstate travel to aid racketeering enterprises.

Although details of the scheme and the plea bargaining agreement were ordered sealed, by U.S. District Court Judge D.W. Suttle, the plan revealed in court involved taking wealthy businessmen to Las Vegas to gamble.

Once there, the selected clients would be taken to plush hotels for a "private game" of poker where a crooked deck of cards would be used, according to information disclosed in the criminal information charge filed by the U.S. Attorney's office.

Asst. U.S. Atty. John Clark refused to say whether Abdo had been granted immunity for his testimony and if a major grand jury investigation was underway.

The U.S. attorney's office in Las Vegas would neither confirm nor deny an investigation was underway by other "junks" for private poker parties.

One Las Vegas hotel spokesman said the guilty plea in San Antonio was the first they have heard of an investigation.

Specifically, Abdo pleaded guilty arranging to taking George Harold Driscoll, to Las Vegas and swindle him out of $2,200 in a poker game by using a crooked deck.

Contacted late Tuesday, Driscoll said he went to Las Vegas on a junket Aug. 11 and declined to say anything else but that "others" were involved.

Deceptively Simple Palm Springs' Crime Prevention Plan Works

PAL SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) - A year ago the police in this plush desert resort city decided to lock out burglars.

It's working. At a time when inflation is driving everything up, the crime rate here is going down.

Palm Springs is a monied mecca that attracts burglars and hotel thieves.

It's a favorite watering hole for Hollywood celebrities. Such stars as Frank Sinatra and Bob Hope have homes here. It's the playground for the rich and famous.

Dwight D. Eisenhower played golf here when he was President. So did former vice president Spiro T. Agnew.

Financed by a $32,000 federal grant, Palm Springs' crime prevention program is deceptively simple.

Rep. Michael Harrington, D-Mass., a frequent agency critic, said the panel named by Ford "offers little hope for effective reform of the intelligence community."

Harrington said Rockefeller's 267 said on the President's Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board would make it difficult for the vice president to "objectively review CIA operations."

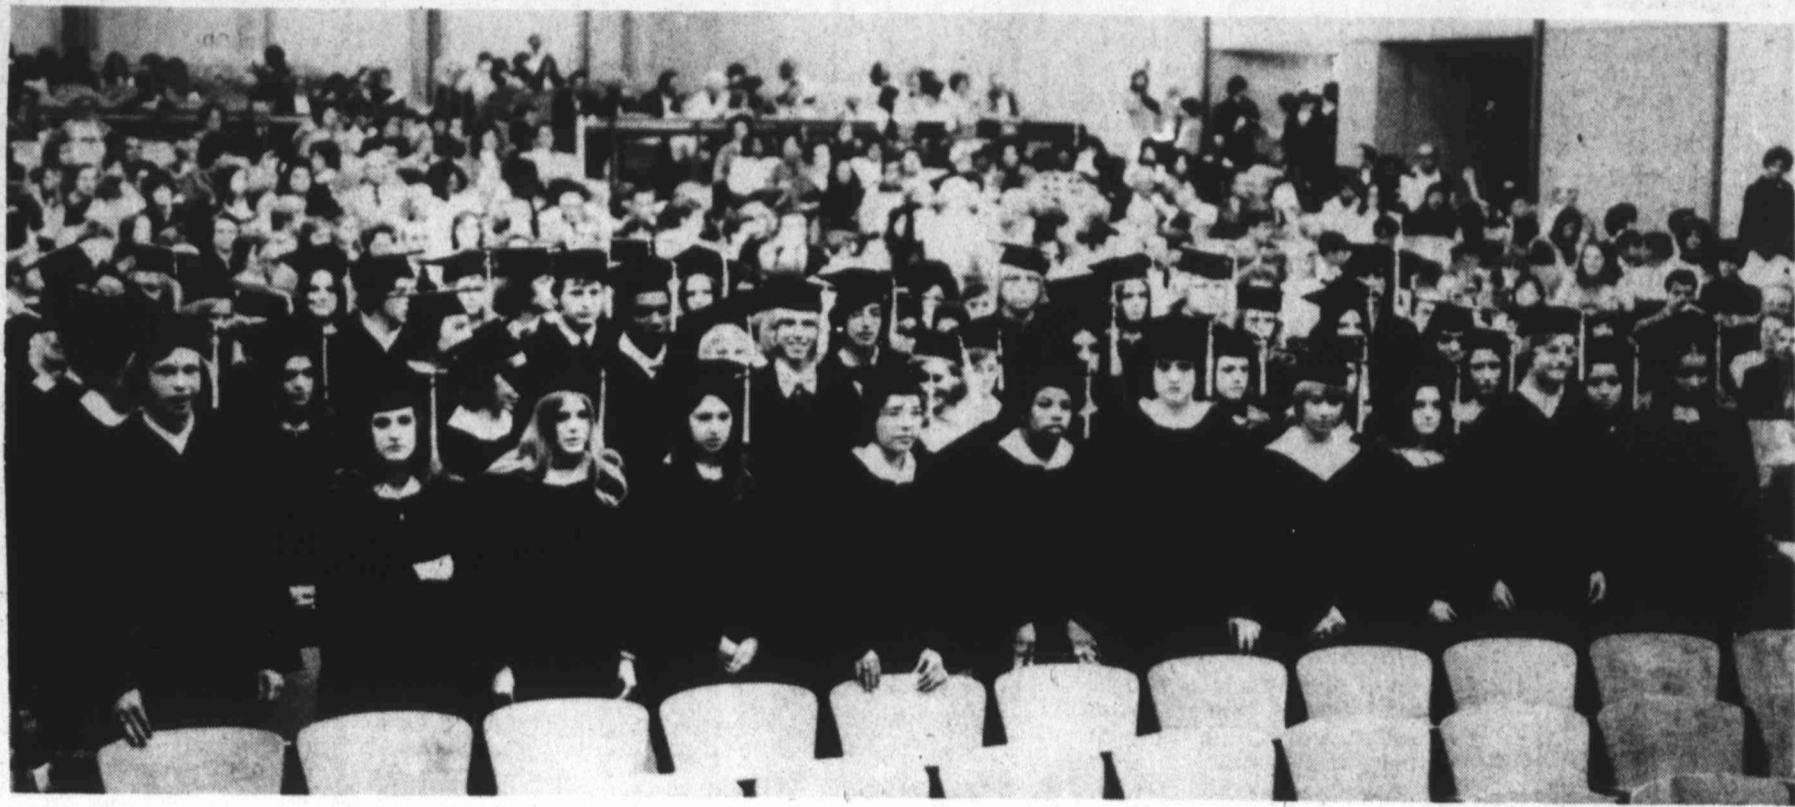

Other congressional critics have questioned whether Rockefeller should not be disqualified because of his close 20-year association with Kissinger, who, as head of the National Security Council, is privy to many CIA activities.

Complete figures for 1974 were not available, but Detective Bob Alvis said by last October commercial burglaries, including hotel thefts, were down 22 per cent and home burglaries were down 6.5 per cent compared to the similar period in 1973.

We recommend a grill for louvered windows."

Alvis said everything in a person's home should be marked with the owner's driver's license number. The police also recommend photographing every room and all paintings and jewelry.

Finally, police gave out stickers for windows that read: "All items of value contained within have been marked for ready identification by law enforcement agencies."

Money Men
Love Winner

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — After Rep. Bill Clayton became the apparent winner of the House speaker's race, money poured into his campaign at the rate of some $9,000 a month, records show.

Clayton has received $64,979 in contributions and spent $35,471, according to his latest report filed with the secretary of state and chief clerk of the House.

The Springlake legislator's victory was virtually assured when Rep. Fred Head, D-Troup, dropped out of the race and swung most of his support to Clayton Sept. 3.

Motorcycle Hit By Engine Here

"My motorcycle is stewn along the railroad track" a local youth told his mother when he went home around 6 p.m. Tuesday.

The youth hastily abandoned the cycle on the track after he rode down an incline just east of Big Spring between 1 and 2 p.m., Tuesday.

The engineer of the train was apparently unaware that he had struck the cycle. The incident was turned over to the state highway patrol for investigation.

MADE $2,500 BOND DRIVE DONATION
Allegations Of Midland
'Alley Deal' Denied

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The architect through whom Southwestern Bell is said to have made an illegal contribution to a Midland bond drive says his firm did make a legal contribution and did not involve Bell.

Architect Daniel Boone, of the Abilene firm of Boone and Pope, told The Associated Press his firm made a $2,500 donation to the Midland municipal bond drive.

This was several years ago when the firm did the architectural work for Southwestern Bell on a building in Midland and at a time when Bell wanted an alley near their new building closed, according to a transcript on file in federal court here.

PHONE TALK
The transcript is a telephone conversation between James Ashley, former Bell commercial manager for two-thirds of Texas, and John Whitcomb, currently Bell division manager in Lubbock. In it, Whitcomb and Ashley discussed how Bell used inflated architects fees as a conduit for an illegal contribution to the bond drive.

"We made a $2,500 contribution to an outfit called The Better Midland Association which got money from everyone in Midland," Boone said. Boone acknowledged Bell official Tom Davis of San Antonio discussed a contribution with him.

"Tom Davis brought this up to me, and I gave it some consideration. Hell, we can make this contribution. We did make the contribution.

We watched the city grow. We participated in the growth."

WHEELER-DEALER
When the transcript was first read to him Tuesday, Boone replied, "This conversation was a couple of executives playing wheeler-dealer."

Also mentioned in the transcribed conversation is Midland banker C.J. Kelly. Whitcomb told Ashley that "C.J. is kinda working on our side" to have the alley closed.

Kelly denied Tuesday any deal "of any kind was ever mentioned."

He told the Midland Reporter-Telegram "I was Chamber of Commerce resident, and other civic leaders and I were working hard to get Southwestern Bell Telephone to locate its district headquarters here rather than some other area city."

ROUTINE MATTER
"At one stage, telephone people inquired about the possibility of rerouting the alley beside Southwestern Bell property if additional property in the same block was acquired," Kelly said.

"I told them that our bank had faced the same problem with its building and the Midland City Council should be asked to approve the rerouting, since this is a fairly routine matter. I also stated that I would be happy to assist if such help would bring the headquarters and more families to Midland," he said.

"I may have talked to Bell's former district manager here, Fred Kaster, about such a civic contribution but no deal of any kind was ever mentioned," Kelly said.

Boone also said the firm's fee for the building was the "standard fee for this type of work. It is the standard fee Bell pays any architect for such a building."

"I don't think this (the transcript) was any reflection at all of what happened in Midland," he said.

BIG DEAL
"We get alleys closed all the time," he noted. "It's just not that big a deal." Boone said he had met Kelly but "that's about it. I know how alleys get closed and how these things work. This isn't how it works."

He said an alley is closed in a large city such as Midland when it involves a big company such as Bell if the city fathers feel it would be a benefit to the city.

"Alleys get closed if there is no opposition from the downtown interests," the architect said.

The transcript of the telephone conversation is sealed in federal court here in an antitrust suit brought against Southwestern Bell by the former San Antonio Telephone Co. and several other defunct telephone service companies.

Whitcomb, 59, has announced his retirement from Bell effective March 1. He declined comment on the transcript except to say "at the time of this conversation I was talking to my boss (Ashley) and I knew nothing about any investigation going on. It was just a conversation between me and my boss."

Probation Given

Robert Edwin (Goose) Westbrook, 18, 1611 Avion St., pleaded guilty in 118th District Court Tuesday afternoon to possession of cocaine.

He was given 10 years of probation to serve. In a statement introduced in court, Westbrook said he purchased less than a gram of the narcotic from a man hitchhiking on Fourth Street.

"When we picked him up, he asked if we wanted to buy anything," Westbrook said. At a house on Ninth Street the hitchhiker sold the drug and some marijuana.

Westbrook said he and a juvenile now in custody of the Texas Youth Council for forgery drove around several hours. "Then the cops spotted us in an alley between Nolan and Goliad and 9th and 10th," the statement said.

BIZZARRE CAPERS IN TEXAS
Probe Mutilation
Killings Of Cattle

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Rangers have joined cattlemen in an investigation of a series of mutilation-slayings of cattle in Stephens and Young counties of Texas.

SADISTIC
The sadistic mutilations are said to be similar to the manner in which other cattle have been slain recently in at least five other states. Ranchers say the sexual organs have been cut away from the animals but investigators have been unable to determine how the animals were killed.

The Texas slayings occurred in November and December and involved two bulls and a heifer.

Two students of the occult, who did not want to be identified by name, said Tuesday night the cattle killings were the work of a Satanist.

GOAT ROPER GANG
One, who told a reporter he is a priest in a Fort Worth-based group, said he met persons months ago who informed him they were going to kill some cattle. He added, "It's a goat roper gang that's been messing with the animals. ... They're young people whose parents are in the cattle business. Maybe this is their part of the cattle price protest."

The other individual said, "The whole situation is that the sacrificial death of the animal is supposed to release sexual powers, and when the sexual organs are removed it's an indication there's black witchcraft involved. ... It sounds to me like it was a black witchcraft coven out of Dallas."

Dutch Taylor of Graham, who owned two of the cattle slain in Stephens County, has posted a $500 reward for the killers.

The first of the three animals, a bull, was found in a pasture near Olney in Young County.

"We were moving cattle from that pasture to another when we found him," said J.R. Allison, owner of the bull.

"My son found him and came and told me, so I went back and checked. I'd never seen anything like that before."

A hole had been torn in the carcass and the sexual organs pulled and cut out, Allison said. Part of the organs were taken from the scene, but the others were left aligned in a neat row by the animal's stomach.

Allison said hair, in about a four-inch radius around the wound, slipped from the skin. "It was like it had been burned, or scaled," he said, "but the hair wasn't singed."

Allison said he, a game warden and a deputy sheriff inspected the animal but could not determine how it was killed.

"I guess I should have gotten a blood sample or something when I found him—he's only been dead about eight hours— But I was almost in shock when I realized what they'd done to him," said Allison.

Taylor's cattle were found in the same pasture between Caddo and Ivan, and the mutilation was more extensive.

In addition to the removal of the sexual organs, Taylor said, the ears and lips of both animals were cut away and a portion of the tongue was cut out.

All the organs were removed from the scene. "I found the bull on a Saturday," Taylor said. "He'd been dead since about Thursday night, but you could tell what he been done to him."

He said he and an agent of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association examined the animal but could find no bullet wound.

On Sunday of the following weekend, he found the heifer.

"They'd done the same thing to her," he said. "I don't know how they killed her, but she didn't even fight or kick when she was being cut. And neither (the bull nor the heifer) bled any. There wasn't any blood on the ground at all."

Bicentennial Talk Is Given

Johnnie Lou Avery, a guest, described the purpose of the bicentennial and some of the activities planned here for the occasion when the Howard County Sheriff's Posse met Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Avery invited the posse to take an active part in the celebration.

The club decided to hold a Pony Express from Big Spring to Lamesa in honor of those that carried the mail across the western United States during the 1800s.

Ralph Reinert was elected as a voting delegate to the District 4 and American Association of Sheriff Posse and Riding Clubs (AASP&RC). The club will take part in the San Angelo Parade and Rodeo March 7. Bill Anderson will be the guest star for the rodeo. The club will sponsor a circus March 15.

Playday and horse show dates were set for the coming year. There will be an open playday Feb. 1 at the coliseum in Sweetwater sponsored by District 4.

KIDNAP VICTIM
Child's Tale Leads
Cops To Slain Teacher

HOUSTON (AP) — Authorities found the body of an elderly retired high school teacher Tuesday night after they said a child that had been kidnapped told of seeing a body stuffed into a closet during her captivity.

Juvenile Sgt. Paul Hastings said the body of Bernice Hartsfield, about 80, was discovered in a hall closet at her home after Roberta Dodd, 6, talked with officers.

Hastings said the body of Mrs. Hartsfield was wrapped in a quilt and blanket and tied with an electric cord. He said heavy pieces of pipe lay on the floor of two bedrooms and blood was on the dining room floor.

Police said Roberta was kidnapped last week near her home. She was returned to Houston Tuesday from San Antonio after police arrested a man demanding $1,000 ransom.

Officers charged Gerald Lee Bodde, 27, a former boy friend of Jean Dodd, 27, mother of the child, with aggravated kidnaping, indecency with a child and carrying a pistol. He was held under bonds totaling more than $25,000.

Police quoted the mother as saying that Bodde called her and demanded $1,000 for the safe return of the child.

Police arrested Bodde here Monday night. They said he led officers to a San Antonio apartment house where the child was found safe.

Hastings said the child told them she witnessed a scuffle in the house where Mrs. Hartsfield had rented a room to Bodde, and the child told officers she saw a woman wrapped in a quilt and dragged into a closet.

Juvenile officers checked the license plates on Bodde's car and found they belonged on a car owned by Mrs. Hartsfield, Hastings said.

He and two other officers went to the house and found the body of Mrs. Hartsfield, he said.

The dead woman was a former teacher in Houston high schools. Her late husband, Victor Hartsfield, was an elementary school principal.

Decision On Food Stamps Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A final decision on the Ford administration proposal to charge needy people more for food stamps has been delayed, raising a possibility that some compromise may be in the works.

The plan to charge more for food stamps has encountered stiff criticism in Congress. Lawmakers say growing unemployment and other economic hardships should lead to easier access to food stamps.

NET INCOME

The proposal, announced Dec. 4, would require food-stamp families to pay a flat 30 per cent of their net income regardless of the size of households. The higher costs would put the stamps out of reach for many persons, principally couples and persons living alone.

Currently, food stamp recipients pay an average of about 23 per cent of their net incomes for coupons, depending on household sizes as well as net earnings.

A final decision on the plan to begin March 1 was expected to have been announced last week by the Agriculture Department. But a spokesman said Monday the proposal still was under consideration.

LIBERAL LEVELS

A flood of protest was included in some 2,500 public comments filed with the department in response to the proposal. "Those have to be considered before a final decision is made," the department spokesman said.

Another wave of criticism is expected when Congress reconvenes. Some lawmakers have indicated they would offer bills to change the food stamp law and keep benefits at more liberal levels.

DIRECTION

The higher payment proposal was made under an administrative procedure which Agriculture Department officials say does not require congressional approval under current law.

The higher food stamp charges were proposed at the direction of President Ford as a budget-cutting action to save $215 million in the final four months of this fiscal year which ends June 30. Another $110 million is expected to be saved by tighter administration of the program.

Oil, Gas Going Up

HOUSTON (AP) — An assistant administrator of the Federal Energy Administration says the nation should be ready to face the economic reality that oil and gas is going to be more expensive and must be willing to pay for it.

However, Duke R. Ligon said "there is guarded optimism" in the administration "that we can lick some of the nation's energy problems."

He told a news conference Tuesday that President Ford and his advisers feel that the American people will "accept hard options" if they know the full story.

Douglas 'Alert And Resting'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, 76, has been removed from the intensive care unit at Walter Reed Army Medical Center, where he has been confined since last Wednesday after suffering a stroke.

Douglas, who was brought to the hospital upon being stricken New Year's Eve during a Bahamas vacation, was described in a hospital statement as spending a brief period Sunday sitting in a chair and as "alert and resting comfortably."

A hospital spokesman declined to speculate on how long the justice's recovery might take.

Medicine Units Pose Potential Shock Hazard

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission said today that nearly 9,000 medicine cabinets sold under the Sears Roebuck or Kent labels pose a potential electrical shock hazard.

The commission said some built-in electrical outlets may have been improperly assembled and could result in a serious shock when an appliance with a three-pronged grounded plug is inserted.

A shock hazard also could exist if the medicine cabinet is not properly installed, the commission said.

The cabinets were manufactured by the Kent division, LCA Corp., Bellevue, Ky., and the outlet was manufactured by H. H. Fluorescent Parts Inc., Cheltenham, Pa., which reported the potential hazard, the commission said.

The cabinets retailed for $50 to $160. The commission urged purchasers to return them for exchange, repair or refund. The problem involves only cabinets sold since September 1974, the commission said.

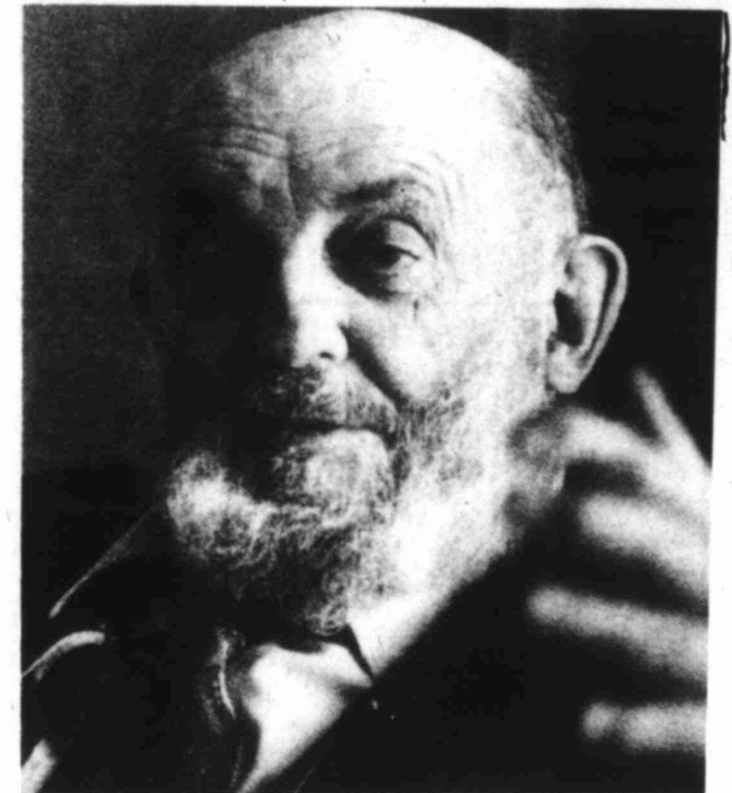

Brennan Mulls Diplomat Offer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor Peter J. Brennan is considering an offer from President Ford to become ambassador to Ireland.

"He was offered the post but he hasn't made a decision whether he wants it or not," a spokesman for the cabinet member said Monday, adding that Brennan "has not been asked to resign."

Sources said, however, that Brennan, 56, a former leader of the New York State and City Building Trades Council, told a meeting of his executive staff that the post had been offered but indicated that he was unlikely to accept.

The diplomatic post would mean a pay cut for Brennan, whose Cabinet job pays $60,000 a year. Ambassadorships pay $36,000.

RECOUNTS HIS PAST — Ansel Adams, San Francisco, maestro of modern photography, recounts his decision in 1929 to give up his music training and make photography his career. "The negative is equivalent to the composer's score," said the 72-year old bespectacled photographer. "The print is the performance, there is an element of interpretation in the print." Adams has been perfecting prints from his career but says he yearns "to get out and do some more photographs."

You Must Compete, Seniors Are Told

"You have to compete to survive because nobody is going to give you your living," Lt. Col. Edmund H. Crandall, commander, 82nd Flying Training Squadron at Webb AFB, told a class of 60 mid-term high school graduates here Tuesday night.

He pointed out that it was always difficult for youth to leave the cocoon of their families. He then mentioned the frustration at the local high school when the computer system went berserk and assigned many students to the wrong place.

He then pointed out, "You all considered that a royal mess-up. Well, we're going to let your generation run that computer very soon. In fact, we're going to let you build us a more effective computer if you want it."

Lt. Col. Crandall then quoted Brig. Gen. Robinson Risner, who spoke recently to Webb graduation class. Gen. Risner emphasized establishing your own identity by establishing a goal for direction and incentive. Other goals included physical fitness, perseverance, integrity and loyalty, the ability to count your blessings and knowing your limitations.

He closed by pointing out that the only person who can deny one a chance at a happy life is oneself.

TIED FOR DISTRICT LEAD

Big Spring Plucks Eagles' Feathers

Big Spring dazed state schoolboy basketball circles Tuesday night on its home court before an enthusiastic crowd as the Steers, winless in their last six tries, slapped down powerful Abilene High, 68-60.

This marked opening round of district 5-4A play. In the pre-season district poll, Abilene was picked to finish third.

Big Spring, unable to climb to the top of the district athletic ladder for years now, enjoys first place surroundings sharing the lead with Cooper, Midland High and Lee.

Who knows, maybe the Steers will stay there. Abilene High, coming into the game, was riding the crest of a six game winning streak. The Eagles are now 12-5 overall with the Steers, 5 and 14.

The Steers fought back after trailing through the first two quarters, 18-15 and 37-28. Reaching down and finding that hidden desire to win, Big Spring took command of the lead heading into home stretch, 49-47.

Big Spring put the game well out of Abilene's reach with one minute left on the fourth quarter clock. Robert Aldridge hit two free throws, James Zapp tossed in a floor line offering, Aldridge again hit a ball shot and Zapp, team captain, tossed in a timely Abilene technical foul.

The Eagles received a blow they found hard to weather when their big man, 6-8 Darrell Baxter, fouled out in the third quarter.

Ron Plumlee, Steer headmaster, found that sudden leadership quality in Mark Moore. The 6-3 junior, who scored only three points in the entire game, made up for it in controlling the backboards.

SUPER TALK

Tarkenton Blasts Oakland's Stabler

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The marshmallow mood of Super Bowl IX, and perhaps a touch of Minnesota's confidence as well, was burned around the edges Tuesday when quarterback Fran Tarkenton lit into a couple of 1974's also-rans.

Tarkenton lambasted Oakland Raiders' quarterback Ken Stabler and tossed in Miami Dolphins wide receiver Paul Warfield for good measure, taking umbrage at the two stars who took some verbal swipes at both the Vikings and Sunday foes, the Pittsburgh Steelers. Tarkenton's blast woke up this slumbering Super Bowl city, whose primary preoccupation in the preceding 24 hours had been the severity—or lack of it—of a viral infection which sent Pittsburgh defensive end Dwight White to a hospital.

Buffaloes Sweep Three-Game Set

FORSAN — Forsan swept the boards in a three-game set with O'Donnell here Tuesday night.

The Forsan boys had three players in double figures. O'Donnell staged a spirited comeback in the final quarter but it wasn't quite enough.

Letha Strickland paced the varsity girls with 22 points while Peri Clark had 22 for O'Donnell.

Noll Tells All

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Don't try to tell Pittsburgh Coach Chuck Noll that past Super Bowl games have tended to be conservative and—perish the thought—even dull. He just won't buy that stuff.

"Beauty is in the eye of the beholder," Noll said today. "I've seen films of past Super Bowls and read accounts of the same games. To me, they were completely different."

A football coach can appreciate technique and execution and that's just what Noll is talking about. "I don't think the Super Bowls have been conservative in nature," he said. "The hitting in the games I've seen has been fantastic."

Bobcats Suffer Setback

ABILENE — Cooper scored a three point decision over the San Angelo Bobcats here Tuesday night, 53-50, in a 5-4A district opener.

Cooper moves up to a 12-6 record, while Central has been satisfied with a 10-6 performance.

Cooper also won out, 92-51. Cooper 53, Central 50.

Turns Down Offer

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Ferguson Jenkins, Texas' 25-game winner, was expected in Gen. Mgr. Danny O'Brien's office to talk contract today after Jenkins turned down a reported offer of an estimated $145,000.

Jenkins made approximately $125,000 last year and was offered a 15 per cent raise.

Texas recently bid $2.5 million in the Calfish Hunter derby before the New York Yankees signed the former Oakland star for $3.7 million.

Greene's Coach Receives Honor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Odus Mitchell, retired North Texas State University football coach, has received an honorary lifetime membership into the American Football Coaches Association.

The 75-year-old Mitchell received his award from Hayden Fry, the current North Texas coach who is chairman of the AFCA honorary membership committee.

Mitchell retired at the conclusion of the 1966 season with a 122-85-9 record. He coached former quarterbacking great Y.A. Tittle at Marshall High School. The 1966 team finished with an 8-2 record and had a sophomore tackle named Joe Greene.

Blast Grady

ACKERLY — Sands blasted Grady twice here Tuesday night, with the boys winning 93-63 and the girls coming out on top, 73-30.

Colorado City (57) — Jack Ellis 8; David Childers 17; Don Smith 4; Wayne McKee 7; Randy Sanders 3; Don Boger 7; Veran Ausbie 3; Tim Taylor 4; Steve Parker 2.

BALLINGER (55) — Fred Snell 11; Mike Rodriguez 7; J. D. Reyes 7; Allen Ritchey 7; Joe McQueen 7; Ricky Clark 1; Gary Proffitt 5; Allen Gillespie 2; Jim Smith 2.

Coahoma Girls Triumph

ANSON — Anson chocked Coahoma, 78-70, in District 6-AA play here Tuesday night, handing the Bulldogs their first defeat in three league contests. Anson is 2-0.

Four Tigers hit in double figures. Russell Kennedy tossed in 24 to pace Coahoma.

In the girls' game, Coahoma prevailed, 59-38. The win was the fourth without a loss in district competition for Coahoma. Anson is 3-1.

Becky Snell scored 29 points for Coahoma while Patty Hulme added 25. Lisa Cox tallied 23 for Anson.

Hardin-Simmons Stuns Horned Frogs, 75-74

It was an important game for the Cincinnati Bearcats, but just another game for the Louisville Cardinals.

As a result, the Bearcats played like tigers and the Cardinals were for the birds.

"I wouldn't call this our worst game but I wouldn't say it's our best," said Denny Crum after his lackster Cardinals got by Cincinnati with just enough effort Tuesday night, 82-74.

Crum pointed out that his third-ranked basketball team was not especially keyed up for the game, which had no bearing on the Missouri Valley Conference race. Cincinnati was looking at Louisville.

Mojo Takes It On Chin

ODESSA — Odessa Permian took it on the chin here Tuesday night in 5-4A district action, dropping a 62-52 decision to Midland High.

Midland sports a 13-5 overall total while Permian stands 18-3 for the season.

WFL Woes Mount

By The Associated Press

The World Football League still has Larry Conka, Paul Warfield and Jim Kiick lined up for 1975. But that is one of the few bright spots the league can point to as it approaches a decision on its very existence with few optimistic signs publicly evident.

The league has set a March 1 deadline to find eight to 10 franchises which are solvent and capable of enduring the kind of losses which sent the WFL into a severe tailspin in its first season. As of a month ago, there were only three such franchises and there is no public indication that even a fourth has been found yet.

Meanwhile, the league's other problems continue to mount. Some of its National Football League signees are seeking to get out of their contracts, and perhaps the biggest name the league had signed, Ken Stabler, was successful in doing just that.

In addition, some existing franchises virtually have ceased to exist, creditors are anxious for payment and many players are anxious to finally receive their back salaries.

League President Chris Hemminger pledged to say nothing about the league's rebuilding effort until those efforts—aimed at finding investors willing to lose considerable money until the league can sign a major television contract—were complete. It is possible that he and other league officials are finding some success in their search, but if so, it has gone unnoticed.

Joe Woolley, now a coach with the Houston Oilers of the National Football League, entered the plea late Friday and was fined $25 and court costs on a misdemeanor charge of altering academic records.

FINAL ROUND TONIGHT

Hawks, Ponies Reach ABC Showdown Point

By CLARK LESHER

Co-favorites Howard College and Panola came through with flying colors as expected here Tuesday night in the ABC Olympic Classic Tournament, setting up an all-important clash between the two tonight in the final round.

The tournament, which started Monday, is being conducted in the Hawk gym.

Howard College zooming past the century mark for the seventh time this season, quickly disposed of New Mexico Junior College, 114-95, and the Panola Ponies galloped by Cisco, 73-68.

Tonight's schedule: Cisco vs. NMJC, 7:30 and Howard College vs. Panola, 9:15.

The Hawks, utilizing overall team effort, had no trouble whatsoever in solving the Thunderbirds' floor strategy. NMJC appeared weakened from the loss inflicted by Panola, Monday.

The Hawks' Johnny Harris was the middle-man on the fast break which almost blew NMJC off the court. HC, taking no chances with the Thunderbirds, kept the pressure on from start to finish.

With Marvin Johnson, David Giles and Larry Erves hitting shots with utmost accuracy, the Hawks had a commanding 30-19 lead.

The Harris to Johnson combination paid off for the second straight night as the Hawks walked off the court at half-time ahead by 21 points, 61-40.

With the Cisco scalp hanging from their belt after Monday night, the Hawks appeared more at ease with the Thunderbirds. NMJC's defense completely fell apart late in the second half as the Hawks built up their biggest lead, 105-73.

Seven Hawks hit in the double digits, with Johnson leading the show with 24 points. HC upped its seasonal total to 13-3, while NMJC stands one notch above the 500 mark, 8-7.

Jesse Cleaver carried the brunt of NMJC's dismal scoring drive, ripping the nets for 24 points. The Thunderbirds' nifty ball handler, Richard Jenkins, seemingly had an off night, though he helped out with 14 points.

Tempers flared with 9:10 left in the game when NMJC's head coach, Dale Caton, and Mike Russell, the Thunderbirds' mainline scoring punch, were ordered to leave the court area by the referee. Russell had accumulated 20 points before being ejected from the game.

Panola, quick afoot, showed good team balance in taking care of Cisco. The Ponies led at the half-way point, 37-31.

The Ponies experienced one uneasy moment late in the second half leading 72-58. Cisco held Panola at bay close to three minutes, narrowing the deficit to six points.

David Swank of Oklahoma University, committee chairman, said there was some sentiment among the delegates that a vote be taken on a resolution to see if the convention as a whole approves the idea.

The one-platoon proposal was made by the University of Oregon in an effort to cut down on the rising costs of collegiate athletics because of inflation.

NCAA To Review Platoon Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association takes up today a proposal to return to one-platoon football—an issue that has generated only lukewarm sentiment and is overwhelmingly opposed by the nation's coaches.

The NCAA continues the business meeting of its 69th convention, which began Monday afternoon with votes taken on only one-fifth of the 151 proposals. Most measures discussed Monday were of a technical nature.

In addition to the return to one-platoon football, the convention delegates also will vote on a resolution indicating whether they want the NCAA committee on women's intercollegiate sports to develop the program in time for this spring's men's championships in track and field and tennis.

The committee also was to study the feasibility of holding national championships in 10 other sports over the next three school years.

Soles brought a devotion concerning New Year resolutions. Mrs. Harold Davis, co-chairwoman of the Bicentennial Commission, was a guest and asked the council to take part in the celebration. Announcement was made of the 4-H Stock Show Jan. 16-18. Each HD club will furnish five pies and workers. A leader's training program will be given Jan. 27 at 2 p.m., in the Texas Electric Reddy Room with Miss Sherry Mullin, extension agent, in charge. DAR Citizenship Award Is Upcoming

Presentation of awards, funds and subscriptions were announced Monday at the meeting of Elisha Cook Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at Kentwood Center. The chapter will present the DAR Good Citizenship Award to the local high school student who is named outstanding student of the year. The annual George Washington tea will be Feb. 3, 7:30 p.m., in the home of Mrs. Curtis Driver. This will be a guest night, and part of the program will be given by the cast of "CR '75." Committee reports, both state and national, are due by Feb. 1, according to Mrs. John Cobean, president. Contribution was made to the Kate Duncan Smith and Tamasee schools which are sponsored by the national DAR. They are mountain schools where children can attend through high school. Funds and clothing are furnished by DAR chapters over the nation. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Denham, Midland, attended the meeting. She is state chairman of American history for the DAR. Mrs. Stanley Rped gave a national defense report and spoke on "The Race for Survival," she said at the present rate, by 1980, one out of every four people in the world will be Chinese. Dear Abby

Overpopulators Are Becoming Unpopular

DEAR ABBY: You were much too easy on "Proud Mother" who was proud of the fact that "God" had given her 13 children. (Why blame God alone? Surely she had a husband.) Proud Mother resented being criticized for the size of her family, saying she didn't ask anyone else to raise or feed them. If she is so proud of 13, perhaps she would be twice as proud with 26. Even if she quit with 13, consider the possibilities (and you will need a calculator) if each of her children multiplies at the same rate. In two generations she will have been responsible for 182 people!!! This number becomes significant when one considers the amount of food and gasoline they will consume in their lifetimes. While the good lady has been busy making maximum use of God's gift of procreation, she's ignored God's additional gifts of reason based on accumulated knowledge. Overpopulation and the exhausting of unrenewable natural resources is everybody's business. CONCERNED IN CALIF. DEAR CONCERNED: You were not the only one who expressed concern over Proud Mother's attitude. Briefly, since the world's resources are limited, we can't continue to provide for a population that daily produces 185,000 new mouths to feed. Obviously, we must either decrease our birthrate or increase our deathrate. The choice is up to us. DEAR ABBY: My mother, who lives in Utah, came to visit my husband and me for two weeks. We live in a small apartment with only a double bed in the bedroom and a sofa in the living room. My husband is 6 ft. 5" and weighs 260, and he couldn't sleep on the sofa. My mother is 72, and has a bad back, so she couldn't sleep on the sofa either. We didn't want to go to the expense of renting a bed, and we didn't know anyone who could lend us one, so I slept on the sofa and my husband and my mother slept in the double bed. (My mother slept in all her clothes plus my husband's raincoat.) We have had nothing but criticism from the relatives since this story got around. Do you see anything wrong with this setup?

and frail. I liked you better the other way. You don't look like yourself. You are TOO thin now. Abby, I burn up like a match when she talks that way. I worked so hard to lose that weight, and for her to put me down just about kills me. I can't ignore her because we work together and I see her every day. What makes a person so mean?

THIN AND LOVING IT DEAR THIN: Your co-worker is either incredibly insensitive, or she's not playing with a full deck. (Maybe she's jealous.) Tune her out.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212, for Abby's booklet "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20 cents) envelope.

NEW YORKER DEAR N.Y.'er: No. What was their beef? DEAR ABBY: I am a 29-year-old woman who feels as though she has been reborn. It took me 13 months, but I lost 94 pounds. It has changed my life, Abby. I still consider myself ugly, but at least I'm not fat any more and I can talk to people without feeling ashamed. Everybody tells me how great I look, except this one person at work. She keeps saying, "You look so sickly
