SHOWBOUND MOTORISTS — Activity slowed to a virtual standstill in eastern South Dakota Saturday as a blizzard raged in that part of the state. Dozens of motorists were stranded on Sioux Falls streets.

Midwest Hit By Blizzard

A blizzard with winds gusting up to 90 miles per hour battered the upper Midwest and northern Central Plains states Saturday, leaving at least nine persons dead, several injured and hundreds stranded.

Savage arctic winds gusting up to 80 and 90 miles per hour raged through Minnesota, the Dakotas, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Wisconsin and Michigan Friday night and Saturday, causing 10- and 12-foot high snow drifts that collapsed power lines and made many roads impassable.

At least 16 inches of snow fell in Alexandria, Minn., since Friday morning, and many areas reported more than a foot.

Six blizzard-related deaths were reported in Nebraska. Five of the deaths were in Omaha and were attributed to heart attacks from such things as shoveling snow. The sixth occurred when a motorist ran off an ice-slicked bridge near Norfolk.

A Michigan woman was killed and her husband was injured early Saturday when a tree was toppled by high winds and fell on their auto north of Detroit. A woman was found dead near her abandoned automobile outside of Jamestown, N.D., and another victim was found on a sidewalk in downtown Moorhead, Minn.

TORNADOES

Meanwhile, the South was cleaning up after a number of tornadoes slashed through several states Friday, killing 12 persons.

Four persons died in McComb, Miss., and 115 were injured as a result of one twister. Eight others died in Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana.

In the Midwest, governors in Minnesota and South Dakota ordered the National Guard to help stranded motorists. Gov. Richard Kneip called out the Guard from a motel in Sioux Falls, where he was stranded because of the snow storm.

STRONG WINDS

Blizzard warnings remained in effect in portions of Minnesota, North Dakota and in Northern Michigan, where as much as eight inches of new snow was predicted. High wind warnings continued for most of the Great Lakes area and blizzard warnings were issued earlier for the entire northern tier of states from the Dakotas to New York.

In Minnesota, subzero temperatures were reported over the northern Plains, and Sioux Center in northwest Iowa reported 90 m.p.h. winds as the storm slowly moved northward into Canada.

Snowstorm Sweeps Into El Paso Area

The weathermen told Texans to get set for the worst weather of the season by today—a combination of one cold front on top of another, bringing zero temperatures to the north, much colder weather everywhere and snow which already made driving hazardous by Saturday morning in Far West Texas. Snow of up to eight inches fell at one point in Far West Texas in what weathermen called a surprise storm for that region.

The Weather Service said the cold will be accompanied by high winds which will bring the chill factor—a measure of discomfort—to 25 to 40 degrees below zero in the Panhandle and South Plains.

WARNING

Farmers and ranchers in the South Plains and Panhandle were warned to protect livestock and exposed equipment against the threat of bitter cold and strong, gusty northerly winds.

The new Arctic air will "amplify the already cold air currently dominating Northwest Texas" said the Weather Service.

Temperatures were expected to drop to near zero in the Upper Panhandle where it was 15 degrees Saturday morning. Mercury in the teens was predicted for the South Plains.

A possibility of snow added to the misery in store for Far Northwest Texas. At one point the forecasters said as much as four inches of snow might fall in the Upper Panhandle but later forecasts appeared to modify that.

SURPRISE

A heavy fall of snow coming from what weathermen called a "surprise winter snowstorm" struck Far West Texas Saturday morning, bringing up to eight inches in some places and depths sufficiently large to be hazardous at other points.

Light snow mixed with rain was reported as far east as San Angelo during the day.

The main snow warnings, however, were for Hudspeth, Culberson, Jeff Davis and the northern portions of Presidio and Brewster counties.

Yet the worst of the snow in the Far West appeared over by noon Saturday and some of it was beginning to melt.

Heaviest fall was between Sierra Blanca and Kent with 7 to 8 inches of snow and fog. Van Horn reported two inches and Pine Springs had one to two inches.

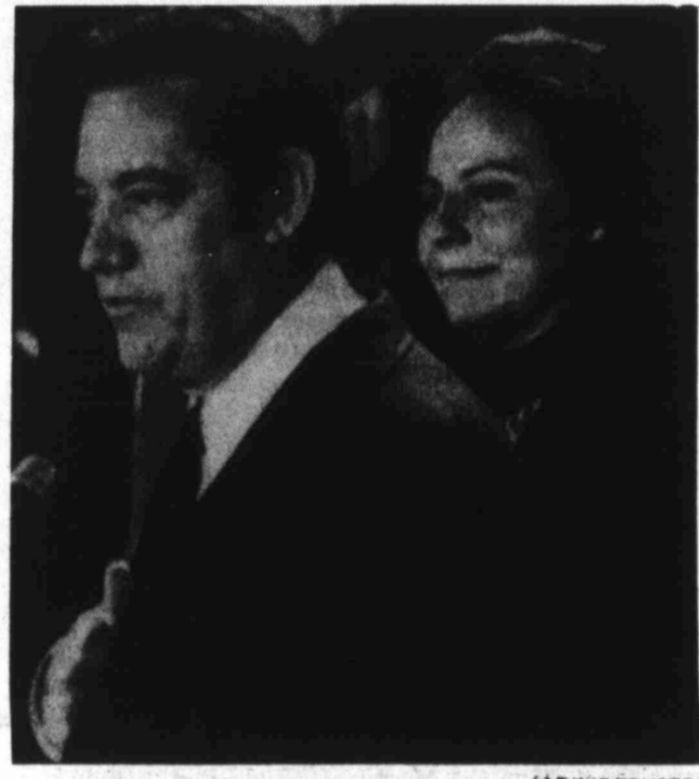

The Weather Service predicted cold continuing over all but extreme South Texas. Skies will be clear to partly cloudy over much of the state Sunday.

Temperatures Saturday morning fell as low as 15 degrees at Dalhart and rose only into the 40s at the warmest points.

Sharecropper's Son Seeks Presidential Nomination

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Former Sen. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma became Saturday the third Democrat to announce a formal bid for the 1976 presidential nomination.

Harris, 44, called for $20 to $28 billion in tax cuts for many Americans, but said taxes should be increased "for the Nelson Rockefeller and J. Paul Getty's."

"We're interested in changing this country and returning it to popular control."

Harris said his belief in the people's ability to govern themselves "would stop the kind of secretive, foreign policy" he saw in the United States. "If the people were in on foreign policy there no longer could be the tilt toward supporting dictatorships."

GET TO WORK

He said the economy also needs a massive public service job program, enforcement of anti-trust laws and selective controls on monopolies and big business such as food, steel, gas and autos.

Harris, the son of a sharecropper, stood behind a hand-lettered banner — "Let's Get to Work for America" — in a Concord meeting hall.

His wife, LaDonna, a Comanche who is active in women and native American affairs, smiled over his shoulder. About 100 supporters clapped frequently.

Harris called for an attack on big business, the rich and on "privilege."

"Privilege is the issue. It prevents full employment and fair taxes. It drives up prices and corrupts Democracy," Harris said. "The basic question in 1976 is whether our government will look after the interests of the average family or continue to protect the super rich and the giant corporations..."

PEOPLE'S CAMPAIGN

Harris promised to run "a people's campaign."

He had made a quick bid for the presidency in 1972 but dropped out when his campaign ran out of money after six weeks.

He said this time he is traveling without staff in borrowed cars often combining his campaigning with lectures to cover expenses, staying at the homes of supporters, holding coffees in private homes and keeping his campaign low-key and low-cost. He has raised about $3,000 he said.

Meanwhile, Rep. Morris K. Udall of Arizona was campaigning several miles away.

The first 1976 presidential primary will be in New Hampshire on March 2, 1976.

WANT TO KEEP COSTS SECRET 68 Oil Firms Refuse To Sign Pacts With Pentagon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sixty-eight oil firms, including most of the industry's giants, have refused to sign contracts with the Pentagon unless relieved of the legal requirement to disclose their costs, Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said Saturday.

The Federal Energy Administration issued a directive Thursday ordering all oil suppliers to enter into written contracts with the Department of Defense and to obey the laws requiring disclosure of costs and compliance with uniform accounting standards, Proxmire disclosed.

FUEL FUSS

Proxmire, in a telegram to Atty. Gen. William Saxbe, asked the Justice Department to "take whatever legal steps are necessary to require the oil industry to deliver needed fuel supplies to the Department of Defense."

He said the Pentagon over the next six months is seeking to buy about $1 billion worth of fuel for military activities.

Fuel purchase contracts must be negotiated with the oil companies under the fuel allocation system set up by the FEA.

The Pentagon must also follow the mandate of two laws: the Truth in Negotiations Act and the Uniform Accounting Standards Act which contain the cost disclosure and accounting provisions.

He said that among the firms refusing to comply with these laws are Amoco, Exxon, Shell, Gulf, Mobil, Phillips and Texaco.

"Their idea of dealing fairly with the government is to offer their products at prices which they fix but to withhold the information needed to determine whether the prices are reasonable," Proxmire said.

BAD INFO

A spokesman for Gulf Oil Co., U.S.A., said in Houston that Gulf feels it should have an exemption from supplying such figures since their prices are regulated by the FEA.

He said the law allows such exemption for regulated industries, and Gulf has applied for such an exemption. The accounting procedures set by the Defense Department for suppliers apply to standard manufacturing businesses, the spokesman said.

"We would have to set up a completely different accounting procedure to supply figures," the spokesman said.

"However, if necessary, we will do our best to meet any government requirements," he added.

A spokesman for Exxon U.S.A. said: "The allegations made by Sen. Proxmire are misleading and apparently are based on misinformation."

TO RUN AGAIN — Former Sen. Eugene McCarthy said Saturday that he will run for President as an independent in 1976. The former senator from Minnesota made the announcement at a news conference in Columbus, Ohio.

Skylab Debris Re-Entry

CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — About 83,500 pounds of rocket debris plunged back into the earth's atmosphere over the Atlantic Ocean on Saturday. Almost all of it burned up during re-entry, space officials reported.

The debris from the second stage of a Saturn rocket that took the Skylab space station into space in 1973 re-entered the earth's atmosphere just before 3 a.m. EST, officials said.

Radar tracking showed one large piece survived the upper portion of re-entry over the Atlantic about 1,000 miles west of Gibraltar.

B-R-R-R-R

High today expected to be near 30 with low tonight at 20 degrees and continued cold on Monday. Winds gusty today from the north-northwest at 15-25 miles per hour. Fair and cold through Monday.

'NUTS TO BUTZ' Cattle Kill Results Hazy

COMO, Tex. (AP) — Texas' first call slaughter to protest the economic troubles of dairymen was history Saturday with the effect it will have on incomes questionable.

The first proposal to slaughter calves and bury them to dramatize the squeeze between the cost of cattle feed and the prices cowmen and dairymen receive came in Texas last year.

But cattlemen at that time cancelled plans after talks with state and federal officials. However, cowmen in some states did hold such slaughters.

HIGH, LOW

Sixty animals were killed here Friday as a protest but the killings did not arouse the national furor that the first abortive proposal did.

John Folmar, a spokesman for the loosely organized Hopkins County group, said feed prices are too high and milk prices are too low to allow dairymen to break even on their investments.

Others have said that it is impossible to make money by raising bull dairy calves to acceptable marketing weights under present feed prices. All of the animals killed here were Holstein calves of almost no value.

'DO NOTHING POLICY'

"The dairymen, many of them with 'Nuts to Butz' bumper stickers on their cars, complained of what they called Washington's "do nothing policy." Earl Butz is agriculture secretary.

Cattlemen at the kill here pointed out that they can sell a 1,000-pound steer for $240 which in turn is sold to consumers for $582.90. They claim the difference is taken by middlemen.

The dairymen had bulldozed a mass grave for burial of the calves but at the last minute agreed to give away the carcasses.

The animals were shot with a revolver and quickly carried away by bystanders.

Oil Strikes Stalemated

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP) — Oil workers negotiations at four plants in this oil and petrochemical center in Southeast Texas appeared stalemated for the weekend, with nearly 8,000 workers remaining on strike.

The strikes are without sanction of the national labor organization, the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Union (OCAU), but the parent group plans no action against the local.

OCAU contracts expired nationally early Tuesday morning and employees at two refineries here, Gulf and Texaco, struck at once. Workers at a Texaco asphalt plant and at an American Petrofina refinery walked out later.

Gulf and the national OCAU have reached agreement on a package calling for pay increases of 26.8 per cent over two years and other benefits.

However, much of the negotiating is over local issues which have not been settled here. Also, the workers must ratify the national agreement.

PROGRAM TO DRIVE UP GAS PRICES

Ford's Package Includes Big Cut In Income Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford will unveil his top priority program to fight the recession and energy shortages in a State of the Union message Wednesday, a White House spokesman said Saturday.

The package will include a $15 billion cut in income taxes and a program to drive up gasoline prices to discourage consumption, administration sources have said.

"The decisions are all made," Press Secretary Ron Nessen told reporters. President Ford will deliver the address at a joint session of Congress at 1 p.m. EST Wednesday, he said.

SAGGING ECONOMY

Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., the prospective chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee that initiates all tax legislation, already has pledged speedy action on Ford's forthcoming recommendations for cutting taxes to spur the sagging economy.

The President previewed his program for the two top Republican leaders of Congress on Saturday and won their basic agreement on the broad-scale package. Ullman, after meeting Friday night with Ford, also said Ford's plan "encompasses much of what I support," although he predicted Congress will want to make some revisions.

BLUEPRINT

Senate GOP leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and House Republican chief John Rhodes of Arizona spent more than an hour with Ford Saturday morning, going over details of the President's blueprint that Ullman reported was "wider in scope than I had anticipated."

Referring to serious economic and energy problems facing the nation, Scott told reporters Ford "has really grasped this nettle" in his effort to put the country's economic system on a sounder footing.

Congressional Democrats plan to unveil their own economic program Monday, and there had been speculation Ford might try to beat them to the punch. But Nessen said the President "has made no decision on any presentation" apart from his State of the Union message, which will be broadcast live.

The chief executive and his aides were spending much of the weekend working on the address and on back-up papers explaining the actions he will propose.

Clearly, the Ford blueprint will place heavy emphasis on countering the deepening recession but Rhodes reported the President agrees with him that "the underlying problem still is inflation."

Big Spring Week

with Joe Pickle

Has March started in January? We had a pair of robust sandstorms toward the end of the week, but Bill Fryrear, who makes a forecast of dusts each year, thinks this will quieten down when farmers have a chance to put up their land. His forecast for 1975 is 25 sand or duststorms, considerably below average, which reflects the bountiful moisture of last autumn. This same unprecedented late-year pattern caused his 1974 forecast of 70 duststorms to miss considerably — only 41 recorded. But here we are at mid-January and have used up about 10 per cent of our year's forecast.

Although he was injured critically Dec. 9, 1974, James Gillespie Jr., 55, vice president of Gamco, became the first traffic casualty of 1975 when he died of massive head injuries last week. This is a tragic loss, especially a man of his calibre and character.

Another tragedy claimed the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Preston Garner, parents of Mrs. Ed Lawson of Stanton, who died of carbon monoxide in the home they were moving into north of Stanton.

Pope Says Oil Tensions Might Erupt Into War

By The Associated Press

Pope Paul said Saturday that tension between major oil producing and consuming nations might erupt into Middle East war.

A Hungarian journal said Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev postponed his Middle East trip because of differences over peace solutions and said there was "imminent danger" of renewed conflict in the area.

In the Middle East itself, Jordan reported receiving $51.8 million from Saudi Arabia as the Saudi share of

$55 Million Police Dossiers Suit Filed

HOUSTON (AP) — The American Civil Liberties Union has filed a $55 million suit in federal court here following reports earlier this week that police intelligence officers compiled dossiers on non-criminal citizens.

Defendants in the class action suit are former Mayor Louie Welch, former police chief Herman Short, J. L. Singleton, former head of the intelligence division, Mayor Fred Hofheinz, Police Chief Carrol Lynn and Capt. B. G. "Pappy" Bond, present chief of intelligence.

The suit asks for $5 million in actual damages and $50 million in punitive damages to be paid to all persons or organizations which may have been the objects of illegal surveillance.

The suit also asks for a temporary restraining order preventing the city from destroying the intelligence dossiers which Hofheinz says have been maintained on 1,000 Houstonians.

Existence of the files came to light Monday at the mayor's weekly press conference. Hofheinz said the dossiers had been compiled before he and Lynn took office a year ago.

The suit alleges information collected in the dossiers ranged from their political and social associations to matters concerning their sexual habits.

Lynn said he had not read the suit but said the dossiers definitely would not be destroyed. "They are under close lock and key and guard," Lynn said.

U.S. Dist. Judge John V. Singleton set a hearing in the case for next Friday.

Singleton denied that the police intelligence division spied on citizens while he headed the division before 1972.

"I agree with Mrs. (Gertrude) Barnestone (also a plaintiff) that these records should not be destroyed at this time and they should not be made public. I feel like someone or some group should determine what disposition is made of them."

Lakes Attract 44.2 Million

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A record 44.2 million persons visited the 22 lakes under control of the Tulsa District office of the Army Engineers, it was reported Friday.

Col. John Driskill, district engineer, said the increase amounted to a gain of 13.3 per cent over five years ago. The gain also was 2.3 million over last year's attendance.

Lake Texoma on the Red River between Oklahoma and Texas continued as the best crowd-gatherer.

To Seek Dismissal

U.S. District Judge Leo Brewster will hear arguments in Abilene at 11 a.m. Friday over a motion to dismiss a tax suit.

County Attorney W. H. (Bill) Eysen Jr. said Howard County, the City of Big Spring and Big Spring Independent School District are asking the case to be dismissed until first tried through the state court system.

Flato Realty Investments, a trust headquartered in Corpus Christi, filed the suit over the tax value of the Permian Building.

Friday this week, attorneys Eysen, G. Ben Bancroft for the school district and City Attorney Jim Gregg appeared in federal court concerning this and other preliminary motions.

Spina Bifida Victim Is MOD Poster Child

Jonathan Whitehead, born with spina bifida, has been named Poster Child for the 1975 March of Dimes drive against birth defects in Big Spring.

In the next several weeks, announces a campaign director Carol Reeves, Jonathan will join with volunteers who urge support for the annual appeal against our major child health problem.

Jonathan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Whitehead of Lomax. He will undergo his fifth corrective surgery this month in Lubbock.

The CapRock chapter of the March of Dimes selected Jonathan to represent all children in this locality born with birth defects.

"His courage is overcoming handicaps renews our efforts to press for improved medical services including maternal and infant health care," comments Vaughn Martin, chairman of the CapRock chapter of the March of Dimes.

"Some quarter of a million children face lifelong handicaps because of congenital disease, he notes. "Without the research and medical service programs that offer us a change in these figures, improving the quality of life at birth will be at a standstill."

In Texas alone, of more than 200,000 babies born each year, 15,000 suffer birth defects, according to MOD figures.

The March of Dimes urgently needs volunteers to walk their neighborhoods in the Mother's March Jan. 20 to 27, according to campaign director Carol Reeves.

Major push of the drive will be Monday, Jan. 27.

Though many of the 500 to 600 volunteers needed have been committed to walk in the march, there are areas still uncovered, according to Mrs. Reeves, especially in the Lakeview and Bauer school districts.

Volunteers are not limited to mothers. Many high school students will be helping.

Persons interested in volunteering should call Mrs. Reeves at 267-6414, or 263-7087 after 4 p.m.

Bentsen Pushes For Tax Cut

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., called Friday for a $13 billion federal income tax cut to help middle and low-income persons.

Bentsen, a potential presidential hopeful for 1976, said at a news conference his proposal would mean a tax credit of about $250 per taxpayer.

He predicted a slowing of inflation in 1975 and said, "The major problem is going to be recession, trying to get this economy back on the track again."

Mediation Is Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of 17 unions bargaining with the nation's railroads called in government mediators Friday to help resolve their contract dispute.

The 280,000-member Brotherhood of Railway and Airline Clerks formally requested the services of the National Mediation Board, setting in motion lengthy mediation procedures required by federal law before a strike can be called.

A mediation board spokesman said similar requests were expected from the other unions involved in the talks, which affect some 560,000 railroad workers.

The move by BRAC indicated that the joint bargaining talks had run into difficulties which threaten to delay a settlement. Neither industry nor union officials were available for comment.

Contracts became open for revision Jan. 1, but under the National Railway Labor Act, the unions are prohibited from striking until all mediation and fact-finding procedures are exhausted — a process which could take anywhere from two to several months.

However, one of the unions, the Sheet Metal Workers, still is negotiating left-over issues from the 1973 negotiations and technically is free to strike.

Jewish Leader Meets Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A Jewish leader who conferred with Pope Paul VI says he hopes the meeting "will lead to greater appreciation of the essential place that people and land have in the Jewish faith."

The observation came from Gerhart Riegner, secretary general of the World Jewish Conference, after the meeting with the pontiff Friday.

Riegner and nine other rabbis and experts met with seven Catholic prelates in Rome this week in the annual conference of the international liaison committee between the Roman Catholic Church and world Judaism.

SOUTHWEST BOOKS Indian Heritage, Indian Pride

INDIAN WOMEN OF THE WESTERN MORNING. Their Life in Early America. By John and Donna Terrell. Dial Press, New York. 214 pages. $8.95.

An inspection of Indian women's role in early days. The facts show she was equal to the men in Indian society.

There simply was a division of work, with the women the anchor persons while their men were hunting or at war. They probably had a higher status than women in the Anglo community. Also, the men did help in many camp duties despite early-day writing.

Many early writers were misled by a simple circumstance: The wife followed her husband. That, say the authors, was because the protective husband could take the first arrow.—The AP (REF).

INDIAN HERITAGE, INDIAN PRIDE. Stories that Touched My Life. By Jimalee Burton. University of Oklahoma Press, Norman. 176 pages. 8 1/2 x 11. $12.50.

The author tells in an autobiography what it is like to be an Indian. She is mildly militant about maintaining the status quo of the Indians at least culturally. The author is a Cherokee in our mind the most brilliant of the Indians after the intelligensia of the May civilization was destroyed. Example: W. W. Keeler, principal chief of the Cherokee Nation, is former president and board chairman of Phillips Petroleum.

Included are 30 brilliant color paintings by the author. Some are strictly Indian. She is great when she goes surrealistic, as in the painting facing page 92.—The AP (REF).

A BOY NAMED PACO. By Ernesto Patino, translation by Herlinda P. Olivias. Naylor, San Antonio, Tex. 43 pages. $4.95.

A charming little story for boys about Paco, a youngster who was crazy about bullfighting and became an expert at playing the bull in games. The first part is in English and the second in Spanish.—The AP (REF)

64TH LEGISLATURE MEETS AT HIGH NOON TUESDAY

Money In Bank, Headaches Ahead

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas legislators meet Tuesday for the state's 64th regular lawmaking session with a record amount of money in the bank, and plenty of headaches ahead on how to spend it.

How to keep the $1 billion-plus surplus from disappearing as fast as it materialized, without causing any new taxes, is the overall task of the 181 senators and representatives.

The first gavel falls at noon Tuesday and the 140-day regular session must end by midnight Jan. 2.

OPENING CEREMONIES
As soon as the opening ceremonies are out of the way, the House, which has only 30 new members out of the 150, will go through the formality of electing a new speaker. Rep. Bill Clayton, D-Springlake, has claimed the vast majority of pledges for months, with no serious opposition showing now.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby will begin his second term as presiding officer of the Senate, where only three of the 31 members are new. Sen. Glenn Kothmann, D-San Antonio, is in line, on a seniority of service basis, to be elected president pro tempore, the Senate's assistant presiding officer.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe and Hobby will be inaugurated

Jan. 21 in simple noon ceremonies on the front steps of the pink granite Capitol to begin four-year terms, the first for statewide officials under a state constitution change.

The usual elaborate inaugural parade down Congress Avenue and the colorful inaugural balls were cancelled at Briscoe's and Hobby's request because of the inflation and recession.

'VICTORY DINNER'
However, the Democratic legislators, 162 out of the 181, will join with state party leaders Monday night, Jan. 20, in a $25-a-plate "Victory Dinner," to put everyone in an inaugural mood.

Briscoe is expected to deliver his first formal address to the legislators at a joint session on Jan. 22.

Both houses will operate under conservative presiding officers but the 64th Legislature is expected to generally follow the sometime liberal-Sometime Conservative pattern of the 1973 regular session, because of so many returnees.

The Republican minority lost two House seats in the general election but the black minority gained one, from eight to nine, all in the House, and the members of Mexican-American descent increased from nine to 15, 13 in the House and two in the Senate.

Women gained one legislative seat in the elections, growing from six to seven in the House and retaining one woman senator.

Everyone agrees that the No. 1 problem of this legislature, and maybe of several later sessions, is to revise the state's method of financing public education to provide more equal opportunities for children in rich and poor districts alike. Coupled with this task is the obvious need for property tax reform, a long neglected lawmaking duty.

At least four different major theories of solving the public school financing issue will be considered, including pet plans offered by the governor, the State Board of Education and the Texas State Teachers Association.

SCHOOL WOES
First debate over the school question likely will come in the opening days when Briscoe asks $394 million in emergency appropriations to give financially-strapped school districts some immediate relief, to give state employees a quick pay raise to offset soaring inflation costs and to correct inequities in the teachers retirement system.

The big arguments over future public school financing, which will involve new methods at both the state and local levels of tax assessing and collecting, will come later. If a solution is not reached by June 2, then it would be up to the governor to decide if one or more special 30-day sessions are needed.

In recent months, the prospects of a state regulatory agency for electric, natural gas and telephone utility companies has challenged the school financing question as the session's most controversial issue. Some legislators say a $29 million civil suit filed against Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. alleging irregularities in rate making and political slush funds has shifted odds in favor of a state utilities commission. Texas is the only state in the nation without some sort of utility regulation body.

OLD ISSUE
An old issue to be reviewed and debated by the new legislature will be constitutional revision. A total of 149 members of the legislature also served as delegates in the abortive 1974 Constitutional Convention that failed by three votes. Former Speaker Price Daniel Jr., who was president of the convention, has already proposed that another convention meet April 5, 1976 and try again to write a new constitution, this time with 72 delegates elected by Texas voters. Others want the legislature to take another run at some of the leftover convention proposals particularly for judiciary reform.

Legislators also will spend considerable time discussing presidential politics as they try to change ground rules for the 1976 elections. Interest shown by Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., in a presidential primary in Texas has fanned interest in the several proposals presented. Legislators also must establish a permanent method of financing primary elections that does not call for filing fees alone, and in purging present voter registration lists that include many dead and "addressee unknown" voters.

'They're Going To Have To Burn Me Out'

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — "They're going to have to burn me out," says Mae Dell Smith. She lives in fear that her home may be next to go up in flames in Collier City, a subdivision west of this South Florida city.

In the past two years, Mrs. Smith's neighborhood has become pockmarked with the burned remains of houses. Fires that officials believe were deliberately set have destroyed 68 of the 105 prefabricated homes.

Most of the families who haven't been burned out are making plans to leave. But others, like Mrs. Smith, say they have too much invested and can't go.

The 30 remaining families, scattered throughout the four-block area, keep watch, particularly at night. They sleep close to outside doors so they can get away fast if they have to.

Broward County sheriff's officers say they recently arrested five arson suspects, members of a group of teenagers called the "Knotty Head Gang." But the arrests have not slowed the fires.

"It's senseless and ridiculous," said Sgt. Tom Bateman of the Crime Patrol Department. "We have no motive. Those we've arrested are charged with arson in the juvenile courts, but we have not really been able to say why this situation exists in Collier City."

Bateman said the predominantly black neighborhood has been plagued with other crimes since its completion in 1972.

"It's really not something you can explain," he said.

TRUTH IN ADVERTISING Dangerous TV Sets Recalled

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 300,000 color television sets that appear to operate normally could emit five to 25 times the maximum allowable radiation, the Food and Drug Administration says.

In the largest television recall in history, the FDA has ordered the manufacturer, Matsushita Electric Corp. of America, to correct the sets. They are marketed under the Panasonic, J.C. Penney, Penncrest and Bradford brands.

The agency has known of the potentially dangerous sets for 1½ months but issued no public warning. Officials told of the recall Friday night in answer to a query.

RADIATION
"The excessive radiation can occur and the consumer wouldn't know it. You could have a beautiful picture and still have high radiation," Dr. Robert Elder, chief of FDA's radiological health program, said.

Elder said that pending correction of the sets viewers would be safe if they sit at least six feet away from the sets. Radiation levels could be much greater closer to the sets, he said.

Matsushita, whose parent company is based in Japan, has contended the sets pose no potential danger, but FDA turned down its application for exemption from the order. The agency required the company to submit by Monday a plan to correct the sets, officials said.

About 235,000 of the sets bear the Panasonic brand; 52,000 either J.C. Penney or Penncrest — both of which are sold by the J.C. Penney department stores; and 15,000 the Bradford brand, which is sold by W.T. Grant's stores.

The model numbers for the Panasonic sets, all preceded by the letters "CT" are: 701, 702, 398, 252, 253, 254, 256, 256A, 701A, 398A, 911, 912, 911E (VTR), 911V (VTR), 314, 324, 201, 704, 910, 924, 944, 2514, 2524 and 2534.

'FREE' REPAIR
The Penney sets have the model numbers 2888, 2868, 2875, 2876, 2877, 2878, 2915, 2874, 2901, 2875A, 2877A, 2876A and 2878A.

The Grant models are numbered 79343, 79350 and 79301. Elder said, "Consumers who have one of the affected sets will receive a certified letter telling them where to take their receiver. It will say the repair will be done at no cost to them."

More Books Borrowed At Library In 1974

By SUSIE RITZ
Of The County Library

The Howard County Library shows a 4 per cent increase in circulation statistics for 1974. Total circulation for this past year was 78,964, as compared to 76,048 for 1973.

The increase of 2,916 reflects circulation increases in all areas. The largest improvement was noted in Interlibrary loans which was up 49 per cent with a yearly total of 6,566.

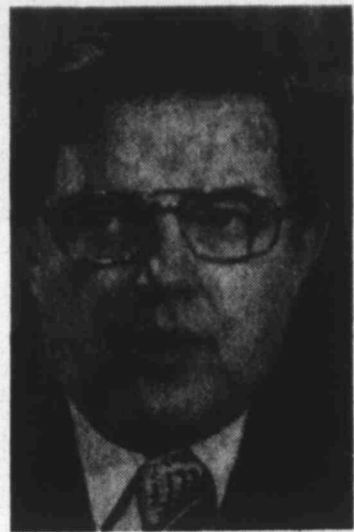

The Interlibrary loan service is offered in cooperation with the Texas State Library Association. Through this service, a library patron may borrow books not owned by the Howard County Library. This system is especially helpful to college students or the instructors who are trying to do reference work.

Simple file a request for a specific work or a certain subject with the Howard County Library. The request will be sent into the Interlibrary Loan System. Through teletype and other communication networks, your request may be met within a day.

Other areas of marked circulation improvement included the circulating art collection which increased by 133, and the paperback exchange which increased by 2,170.

The library needs several 1974 magazine issues, which were lost or stolen. Among those for which replacement issues are sought are High Fidelity, Flying, Science, Seventeen and Better Homes and Gardens.

Probation Of Youths Revoked

District Judge Ralph W. Caton Friday revoked probation being served by two 14-year-old boys connected with a long list of thefts.

The two youths will be committed to the Texas Youth Council this week.

In one case for revocation, District Attorney Robert H. (Bob) Moore III presented evidence in the burglary of the Desert Lounge, 300 N. Benton St. The other was accused of helping burglarize the Kent gasoline station on North Lamesa Drive. Both burglaries happened Dec. 29.

Also, the county juvenile and probation officer and police juvenile department cleared a number of other offenses with statements from the youths, a spokesman said.

Both participated in the robbery of Bolinger Grocery & Market, 300 NW 3rd St. on Oct. 13. One participated in the robbery of the Seven Eleven Store on old west U.S. 80 on Nov. 22.

One admitted to theft of a rifle taken from a car parked by the Ritz Theatre Oct. 10.

Both participated in theft of a .3006 rifle from a car in the Ritz parking lot Oct. 15; theft of a rifle from a car parked on fair grounds the night of the Howard County Fair; theft of a .270 rifle and 20 gauge shotgun from a pickup by the Ritz Nov. 4; and theft of tape recordings and assorted items from several vehicles parked for the Midland-Big Spring game Nov. 25.

Most of the stolen goods have not been recovered.

DEPRESSION ART "FOUND" Public Offered 1937 U.S. Gov't Art Prints

A series of rare coincidences has led to the historic discovery of several thousand sets of full color antique art prints that were "lost since 1937." They are now being offered to the American public.

Eleanor Roosevelt Back in 1937, immediately following the depression years, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and a select group of a dozen nationally prominent people formed a voluntary national committee for art appreciation to create an art program that would give the public a well-needed moral lift. It was the committee's decision to select the world's most famous paintings from the 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th and 20th centuries - the best paintings of Matisse, Van Gogh, Gainsborough, Picasso, Gauguin, Titian, etc., and to reproduce them in full color as perfectly as humanly possible and make them available to the public at a price within the reach of nearly everyone.

Abandoned in 1937 For some unknown reason, after a quantity of these beautiful reproductions were made, the entire project was abandoned and this collection of perfect reproductions was stored in a Brooklyn warehouse, where they remained undisturbed since 1937.

The lost collection was "rediscovered" and leading lithographers and art critics agree that the subject matter and quality of detail and color reproduction is incredibly accurate. Over $500,000.00 had been spent to make finely engraved glass printing plates. These authentic original 1937 prints are literally collectors' items and have been appraised by the American Appraisers Assoc. at $7.00 each print. Once they have been sold, there will be no more available. A truly excellent art "investment" that makes a fabulous gift.

Available to Public Now, after 38 years these full color 11"x14" (ave. size) prints are finally available to the public at $19.95 for a collection of 18 prints. Send cash, check or money order to: U.S. Surplus, Dept. #C85, P. O. Box 605, Tarzana, Calif. 91356. Fully GUARANTEED. Certificate of authenticity given with each set. MasterCard and BankAmericard OK (give card number).

City Of Big Spring Hit With $403,646 Suit

Mrs. Gay Lynne Pounds of Clovis, N.M., formerly of Big Spring filed suit in federal court seeking $403,000-plus from the City of Big Spring in connection with an auto accident which resulted in her husband's death. The lawsuit accuses Robert Allen Baker, a Big Spring city employee, of negligence in the Oct. 5 accident which took the life of her 19-year-old husband, William Lee Pounds, two days later. The suit claims Baker, driving a city pickup, failed to yield the right of way and collided head-on with the vehicle driven by Pounds. According to the suit, Pounds was driving west of the south frontage road of Interstate 20 about 2,500 feet west of the intersection of IS 20 and FM 700. Baker reportedly was headed east on IS 20 and exited on to the south frontage road. The suit charges that the city employee was negligent in failing to yield the right of way, failing to keep a proper lookout and driving on the wrong side of the road. Pounds was treated at Cowper Clinic and Hospital for a fracture and severe brain damage, the lawsuit states and died Oct. 7. His widow is seeking $100,000 for the pain suffered by her husband and $3,646.35 for medical and funeral expenses.

The lawsuit states that Pounds was employed by Mobil Oil Co., making $10,000 a year. His widow is seeking $300,000 for pecuniary loss as the result of her husband's death, making a total of $403,646.35. Baker was injured in the accident and was also hospitalized for several weeks. He is animal warden for the city.

Seven Bids, Salary Adjustment On Agenda

Awarding a bid for the construction of the sewer lines of the Owens Street overpass will be one of seven bids considered by the city council in their meeting at 9 a.m. Tuesday.

Other bids to be considered are a 6,000 gallon underground storage tank at the city garage, some fire hose, a turf aerator, a rotary mower, a fogging machine and an oil lease of 171.81 acres on the Powell Ranch.

In other action, the council will discuss the Texas Utilities Association, the Detox unit, the minutes of the tourism and convention committee, parks and recreation board and traffic commission, and hear an emergency reading of a resolution authorizing the incurrence of costs in the Planning and Preparation of Block Grant Funds.

The council will also hear the first reading of an ordinance amending the fence ordinance to allow front yard fences if they do not block the view, and hear a request for permission for Bell Telephone Company to implement an emergency telephone system.

There are two claims for damages, including one on an abandoned building allegedly torn down without permission with R. H.

Weaver representing the owner and a claim from Walker Auto parts. There will be an emergency reading of a resolution authorizing the mayor to execute right-of-way easement to Texas Electric, discussion of a salary adjustment for the city manager and the discussion of appointing a temporary city secretary.

Family Burned Out, Aid Asked

Friends and other interested people are asked to consider the plight of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Ringener who were burned out of all their possessions a week ago this morning.

Fire, starting in a remodeled area where the children normally would have been staying, destroyed their mobile home and all contents. Anyone who can help with household goods, clothing, funds, etc., are asked to contact Mrs. E. L. Belcher, 3302 Auburn. The Ringeners, who lived in the Oasis Acres addition northeast of town, have three children - 10 months, 4 and 6 years.

Safest Year On Texas Streets In Long Time

AUSTIN (AP) - Preliminary figures show 1974 to be the safest year on Texas streets and highways in more than a decade, the Department of Public Safety says.

And according to traffic deaths per 100 million miles, the national guide to traffic safety effectiveness, 1974 was the safest year on record.

Less miles driven at slower speeds seem to be the reason, according to DPS Director Col. Wilson Speir. "In normal times, we might have expected increases in both accidents and deaths during 1974," he said. "It appears that vehicle miles driven declined from 80.6 billion in 1973 to 78 billion in 1974. This reduction in driving, coupled with the reduced speed limit, especially on rural highways, seems to have made most of the difference."

Final figures on 1974 will not be available until late March but Speir predicted the 1974 traffic death count would reach 3,042 when all reports are in. This is a saving of 650 lives from the record 3,692 toll in 1973. The next comparable death toll was 1964 when 3,006 persons were killed in Texas traffic.

RURAL COUNT Speir said that rural traffic deaths decreased about 19.2 per cent from 1973, while those in cities were down about 15.1 per cent.

Speir said the death rate per 100 million vehicle miles is expected to be 3.9, compared to 4.6 in 1973 and 14.6 in 1937.

The number of accidents in which deaths occurred decreased six per cent, from 464,226 to 432,100. Speir also credited the traffic safety improvements to better vehicles and highways, beefed-up enforcement, and increased public awareness inspired by government and private authorities.

The DPS chief pointed out that state highway troopers

Gordon Speaker The Retired Teachers Association will have its regular monthly meeting Jan. 21 at the Tea Room with J. P. Gordon as the speaker. Gordon, retired from the Internal Revenue Service, will speak on income taxes.

issued 678,664 speeding citations in 1974, an increase of 121 per cent from 306,668 in 1973. Speir cautioned that an increasing disregard for the 55 mile speed limit, as evidence by recent arrest figures, may cause deaths to rise once more in 1975.

Loan Wolf Gets Expansion Loan

Sgt. Lloyd Bentson (D-Tex.) has announced the Rural Electrification Administration has authorized a $356,000 loan at 10 per cent interest to the Love Wolf Electrical Cooperative of Colorado City.

The Co-op serves Mitchell, Borden, Fisher, Howard, Nolan and Scurry counties. The loan will be used to finance equipment to 249 new customers, 32 miles of new distribution lines and other improvements within the system.

President of the company is Martin Murphy, Hermleigh; the manager is Kenneth E. Rogers, Colorado City.

A message to America's car buyers...

Inflation-weakened America needs common-sense conservation, not empty austerity. Conservation is insulating the attic and saving fuel; austerity is shivering in your living room.

In a similar way, when new cars replace old, the nation's primary means of transportation gains efficiency. Our new 1975 cars conserve gasoline, even as they emit less pollution, provide more safety features, and cost less to operate and maintain than earlier models.

The purchasing of new cars is the common-sense conservation we need. It keeps the wheel of progress rolling. It means growth and investment. This means more jobs for our people, more revenue for our government, more value for our customers, and more dividends for our stockholders.

No growth makes no sense; not for America, not for anyone.

Right now is the time to buy a new car.

Speakers will include Dr. James Supak, area agronomist, speaking on cotton and grain sorghum varieties; Jim Valentine, soil chemist, speaking on fertilization; Leon New, speaking on irrigation; Dr. Bob Berry, area plant pathologist speaking on cotton and grain sorghum disease; Dr. Bob McIntyre, entomologist, speaking on insects and Marvin Sartin, economist-management, speaking on the crop outlook.

Plans For Heart Fund Crusade In County Made

This meeting was planned by the Crops sub-committee of the Howard County Program Building committee. Larry Shaw is chairman. It is sponsored by the committee and the Howard County Extension office.

Plans for the annual Heart Fund Crusade in Howard County during the month of February, were set by the executive campaign committee when they met Friday at the Holiday Inn with Larry Key, coordinator of the campaign, presiding.

Plans were slated to begin the Special Gifts portion of the campaign on Feb. 4 with Clyde Angel acting as chairman. This will be followed by the business drive, scheduled to begin Feb. 18 with Jerry Foust as chairman. Tom Locke and Dr. Emmett McKenzie will coordinate the Heart Sunday door-to-door drive on Feb. 23. Terry Hansen is serving as campaign chairman.

Still the No. 1 killer in America, funds raised by the Heart Fund crusade go toward the battle toward fighting against heart disease.

Dr. David Logan is president of the local unit of the heart association. Mrs. May Rodman at the VA Hospital is in charge of memorials.

Land Transfer Decision Made

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The State Board of Education upheld Saturday the right of the Cass County school board to refuse transfers of land out of a district to a closer school.

The decision by the 24-member body overturned a decision by State Commissioner of Education M. L. Brockette to shift 492 acres of property from the Linden-Kildare school district to the Atlanta district in Cass County.

The two-hour hearing of the three appeals came as the board met in its first meeting of the year to elect new officers and to draw for two, four and six-year terms.

SECRET

Joe Kelly Butler, Houston, was elected chairman without opposition. In secret balloting, William Fetter, LaMarque, defeated Mrs. Jane Wells, Austin, for vice chairman and Paul Mathews, Greenville, was selected secretary over Mrs. Ronald Smith, Fort Worth.

The Cass County school board, in late 1973, denied a petition of Thomas J. McKinney and 12 other residents of the Linden-Kildare district to transfer seven tracts of property totaling 462 acres to the Atlanta district. The petitioners said their children already attended Atlanta schools and their community interests were in Atlanta, which was closer to the properties.

The county school board said the transfer would cost the district about $690 annually in tax revenue and might spark other requests for transfers.

State Education Commissioner Brockette decided in favor of the transfer, overruling the board, and McKinney appealed to the state board.

"The Atlanta district is just across the road from my house," McKinney said Saturday to the state board. "The school bus runs in front of my house."

"If you affirm this, you will have at least three other appeals up here like this, in my opinion," said Cass County School Supt. Edward W. Westbrook. "This attacks the very authority of school boards and their right to run their own schools."

The board supported Brockette's decision in another appeal heard Saturday. Last June 29 the Sonora school board voted not to re-employ Mr. and Mrs. Billy C. Gosney as teachers for another year after the couple purchased a department store as an investment. Brockette refused to grant the Gosneys a hearing on appeal on the grounds that the Sonora school system had no teacher tenure system and had the right to employ teachers on a year to year basis.

MEMBERS

Members of the state board drawing two-year terms were Mrs. Charisse Bolton, Kirbyville; Paul Mathews, Greenville; Don Cook, Mesquite; Glen Smith, Waco; Ruben E. Hinojosa, Mercedes; Jimmy Elrod, San Antonio; E. M. Huggins Jr., Pughshear and Carlisle Cravens, Fort Worth.

Those drawing four-year terms were E. R. Gregg Jr., Jacksonville; Dr. Stanley B. McCaleb, Richardson; Mrs. Ronald Smith, Fort Worth; Joe Kelly Butler, Houston; Dr. William N. Kemp, Houston; Mrs. Jane Wells, Austin; James Binion, Abilene; Jesse Herrera, San Antonio.

Wild, Woolly Chase Ends With Two Behind Bars

A wild and woolly chase developed in the east end of Big Spring Friday around 7 p.m. after two men jumped out of the highway patrol car of Patrolman Jimmy Parks and fled to escape arrest.

One of the men grabbed Parks around the neck from behind when he stopped at a stop sign on the south service road at FM 700. Doyle Edwin McBride II of Littlefield grabbed Parks, and a fight between the two men developed. Phillip Doyle Jennings, Leveland and McBride, both fled on foot. Sheriff's deputies, city police, and other highway patrolmen all rushed to the scene and began to seek the two men.

Jennings was located first north of the viaduct hiding under a car, according to Parks. McBride was located in the area near Caldwell Electric.

Originally, the two men lost control of their car and slid into an embankment while headed east on the South Service Road.

Patrolman Parks stopped to see about it and they began to run.

Parks arrested the two men and was taking them in to file a "simple intoxication charge, but now the charges on both men will include fleeing a police officer and in McBride's case will include assaulting a police officer."

The two men were in the county jail here Saturday. Justice of the Peace Gus Ochotoren set a $500 bond on Jennings and two bonds of $2,500 and $500 on McBride, according to the sheriff's office here.

Eavesdrop Damages

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government has been ordered for the first time to pay damages growing out of illegal surveillance.

U.S. District Judge Charles R. Richey ruled Friday that the Justice Department must pay $903,232 to Fred B. Black Jr., a former Washington lobbyist and one-time business associate of Robert G. "Bobby" Baker, former secretary of the Senate.

The damages were awarded because the FBI placed an illegal microphone in a wall of Black's suite at a Washington hotel Feb. 7, 1963. It was in operation for 2½ months.

Black, now 60, was convicted of income tax evasion in May 1964. During his appeal of that conviction, the U.S. solicitor general informed the Supreme Court of the illegal bugging.

The FBI reports of it were "captioned anti-racketeering since these dealt with possible affiliation with organized crime activity in the United States," the solicitor general said.

There was no suggestion that "any wrongdoing on the part of (Black) was uncovered by the monitoring," the solicitor general said.

Black's tax returns showed he made at least $542,779 a year before reports of the eavesdropping were filed with the Justice Department's Organized Crime and Racketeering Section.

Richey said that after that, Black's income dropped to $4,500 in 1965 and $2,500 in 1966.

Richey rejected a claim of executive privilege by the Justice Department, which had refused to turn over documents relating to the surveillance.

Black, described as unemployed, said he has outstanding tax bills amounting to about $900,000.

THE WEEK

Cosden Oil & Chemical and IUOE 826 began talks last week on a contract which expires March 31. It may be that an industry pattern will emerge prior to that as a guide for an agreement.

Also, Cosden gave notice of furlough of 40 workers, principally in the petrochemicals division, at the middle of this month due to excessive inventories of materials. It will take a revival of automotive and other industrial products to wipe out this big backlog and ease the situation.

El Paso Air Transport (which will operate under the logotype of ELPAT) announced last week it had arranged for two 10-passenger planes to carry people and cargo from here to the Dallas-Fort Worth metropolis if the Texas Aeronautics Commission approves regular schedules. ELPAT is operating daily now on a "charter" basis with early morning departure, and evening return.

The city has two new department heads. Thomas Ferguson, who has been with an accounting firm here, is the finance director. Jerry Foreysythe, who has been in city operations and more recently taking work at A&M, is the parks and recreations director.

The Colorado River Municipal Water District raised its base rate (monthly fixed charge) by about 6 1/2 per cent last week. If Big Spring shows the same rate of gain in consumption, the cost per thousand could remain almost the same; if not, the actual cost could go up slightly.

Howard College (by the way you may want to look over its special section in today's issue) is trying something new. It is offering a one-year course in jewelry manufacture to start Jan. 22. It's designed to produce skills and tools for one-man or small industrial output.

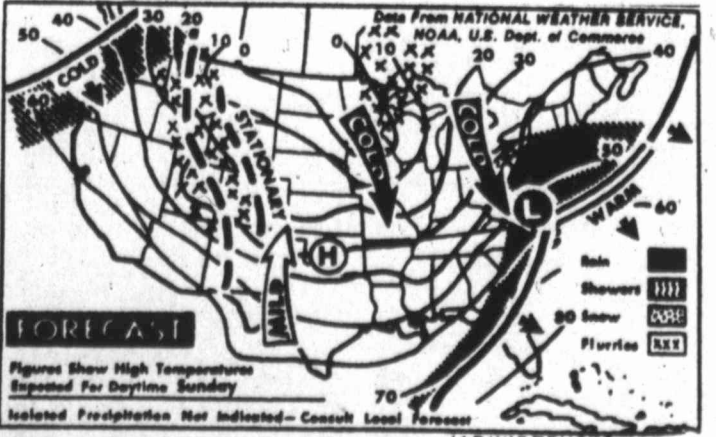

The Howard College Hawks were hot as a duelling pistol until Panola College blew cold air (104-84) in the finals of the ABCub tournament here. This classy tourney didn't get the support at the gate it deserves.

A closed conference between members of the commissioners court and the county welfare officer was rumored last week. It's unclear if anything other than personnel was talked; if so, it should have been open so as not to violate the open meetings act.

The new city-county landfill project is just about to be activated. The county has virtually all the access road, etc. ready and the city will keep the place open 24 hours a day.

Industrial Foundation officials expressed a small degree of disappointment over initial response to an advertising campaign in a 150-mile radius for job openings here. However, most advertising campaigns don't produce instant results.

WEATHER FORECAST — Rain is due today from northern Florida along the Eastern Seaboard into New England, with more rain expected over the Pacific Northwest. Snow flurries are predicted over the Rockies and western Lakes area. It will be cold in the central part of the nation and warm elsewhere.

Record High Is Reported

A first day tally shows that the enrollment at the Webb Air Force Base Center of Sul Ross State University reached an all-time high of 202 students. Registration will continue mornings next week from 9 o'clock until noon in Building 603, Webb AFB.

While a number of course offerings have sufficient students to assure that the classes will be taught, several courses require additional students to assure that they, too, will be offered. These, with the number needed to insure the class, are:

- ED 3304 (Human Growth & Development) Tuesday, need five students; ED 3310-6310 (Kindergarten Techniques & Materials) — Tuesday, need five students (for both graduate and undergraduate credit); ED 4304 (Mental Hygiene) Monday, need five students; ED 4311 (Arithmetic in the Grades) Wednesday, need two students.
- ED 5301 (school Finance) Monday, need two students; ED 5303 (Remedial Instruction) Thursday, need six students; ED 5310 (Educational Statistics) Thursday, need six students; ED 5311 (Methods of Teaching the Spanish-Speaking Child) need four students; ED 5318 (Personnel Problems) Thursday, need five students.
- Ed 5323 (Individual Diagnostic Processes) Tuesday, need six students; ED 6308 (Advanced Studies in child Growth and Development) Tuesday, need four students; P.A. 3302 (Criminal Law II) Wednesday, need four students; P.A. 4304 (Narcotics Investigation) Thursday, need five students.

Class sessions will begin Wednesday evening Jan. 15. Additional information can be obtained by calling the Base Education Office mornings, Mrs. Virginia Smith, Sul Ross State University co-ordinator, 267-2511, ext. 2464 or 2404.

HOLD THAT LINE — New Orleans has always been a main stop on the professional sex circuit, he said, with a reputation that draws pros from Louisiana, Florida, Nevada, New York and a dozen other states.

Police admit they won't be able to stop the traffic. They're not in a prevent defense or struggling to hold that line. Their main worry is trying to stop related muggings.

"There's a real danger that a tourist with a pocketful of money will be rolled trying to get something he shouldn't have been looking for," Kent said.

Despite warnings and risks, these pros are expected to continue their own style of broken field running long after the Minnesota Vikings and Pittsburgh Steelers pack their bags Sunday and head north.

AMBASSADOR — Bernadette Oloro became the first female ambassador to the Vatican when she was appointed Uganda's official envoy to the Holy See by Pope Paul Friday. She will continue as Uganda's ambassador in West Germany.

SUPER BOWL Streetwalkers Watch Passes

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — New Orleans police vice squad scouts figure that before the Super Bowl ends nearly 50 prostitutes will have been penalized for illegal procedure and, perhaps, unnecessary roughness.

"This is the biggest redlight season of the year," said Sgt. David Kent, who heads the squad. "It starts with the Sugar Bowl, crests with the Super Bowl, then coasts through Mardi Gras."

HOOKER'S MECCA

Much of the action centers in the famed French Quarter, heart of the city's florentine night life.

That's where the bars, jazz halls, strip joints and hotels are and where a wad of greenbacks can buy much more than a peek at a stripper.

Sgt. Kent said the narrow, dimly lit streets with French and Spanish names and a hot Latin reputation rank as a hooker's mecca.

"A lot of people come down here looking for a girl and if they're serious they'll usually find one," Kent said. "The carnival atmosphere may have something to do with it."

AMBASSADOR — Bernadette Oloro became the first female ambassador to the Vatican when she was appointed Uganda's official envoy to the Holy See by Pope Paul Friday. She will continue as Uganda's ambassador in West Germany.

BIG SPRING HERALD

SECTION B; BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, JANUARY 12, 1975 SECTION B

THEY BOTH WANT THE TROPHY — Minnesota Vikings' quarterback Fran Tarkenton, left, and Pittsburgh Steelers' quarterback Terry Bradshaw pose with the Vince Lombardi Super Bowl trophy. Picture was made in color Monday by the New Orleans Times-Picayune and was made available Saturday. The Vikings will face the Steelers in Super Bowl IX today.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Despite the loss of one of their defense line regulars, the aggressive young Pittsburgh Steelers continued to rank as favorites over the more experienced Minnesota Vikings in the ninth Super Bowl football game.

With defensive tackle Mean Joe Greene heading their stingy defense, the Steelers were rated from 3-4½ points better than the Vikings, who hope quarterback Fran Tarkenton can lead them to the pro football championship in their third try.

The Steelers had opened as three-point favorites according to Las Vegas oddsmakers and then lost defensive end Dwight White because of a viral infection.

White was hospitalized for four days, released on Thursday but then re-admitted 24 hours later. He was released again Saturday morning but still was listed as doubtful for the game. Steve Furness is expected to replace him.

But Pittsburgh picked up a point or so late in the week when Vikings Coach Bud Grant casually mentioned that Tarkenton was suffering from a sore arm. It hardly seemed a serious injury to either the coach or quarterback, but the trivial always is magnified during Super Bowl week.

The kickoff is set for 3 p.m. EST. The national weather service forecast clear to partly cloudy skies with a gametime temperature of about 50 degrees.

The teams battled an annoying series of aches and pains during their week here. The most serious, of course, was White's viral infection, then there was Viking offensive tackle Charles Goodrum's pulled calf muscle, a twisted ankle suffered by Minnesota center Mick Fingelhoff and a 24-hour virus that cost Viking linebacker Wally Hilgenberg a day of practice. All except White were expected to start the game.

The least serious injury was Tarkenton's tender arm, as which Vikings Coach Bud

Grant called a good omen. "Whenever his arm's sore," said Grant, "Tarkenton seems to have a great day."

Containing Tarkenton will be the job of Greene, the NFL's defensive Player of the Year, and the rest of the Steelers defense, which led the American Conference, allowing only 219.6 yards per game.

Pittsburgh champions of the AFC with a 10-3-1 record and playoff victories over Buffalo and Oakland, led the league with 52 quarterback sacks. Besides Greene, the Steeler defense includes two other All-Pro selections, end L.C. Greenwood and linebacker Jack Ham, as well as the defensive rookie of the year, linebacker Jack Lambert.

 Minnesota, winner of the NFC crown with a 10-4 log and playoff triumphs over St. Louis and Los Angeles, owns an impressive defense of 155.0 avg. The Vikings allowed just 21 touchdowns during the regular season, fewest in the conference, and permitted just 195 points.

More or Lesh
 By CLARK LESH
 John Wilkins, Mojo's head football coach, received a vote of thanks for a 1974 job well done as he was awarded a new three-year contract.
 This was decided at a closed-door Ector County board session, Thursday. Wilkins' contract was due to run out Jan. 31. The board seeks a one-year extension on the lease of W. T. Barrett Stadium from Odessa College.
 Further plans call for another bond issue to build a new football stadium before Aug. 1, 1976.

Super Bowl Wager

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Minnesota Gov. Wendell Anderson accepted a wager Friday on the outcome of the Super Bowl football game with Gov. Milton J. Shapp of Pennsylvania.

Shapp offered to bet one bushel of Pennsylvania mushrooms that the Pittsburgh Steelers will defeat the Minnesota Vikings Sunday.

Anderson's return telegram said he would put up 10 pounds of Red River Valley sugar, and advised Shapp to send the mushrooms to the Minnesota Steers home in Minneapolis.

Jerry Moore, Nebraska University assistant coach, will be the featured guest at the Fellowship of Christian Athletes meeting Wednesday night at 7:30 in the Big Spring High cafeteria.

Moore, in his second year with the Cornhuskers, directs quarterbacks and wide receivers. All members of the adult chapters of huddle and cuddle are urged to attend. The local chapter in its second year of existence, boasts 75 members.

Moore's playing career includes four years at Bayham High School, three years as a receiver at Baylor and one year as a receiver with the Dallas Cowboys.

The meeting is open to the public.
 In the latest National Junior College Athletic Association basketball poll, Western Texas stands No. 7. The Snyder-based two-year college shows a 12-0 and shares the Western Conference leadership with Howard College, both putting forth 3-0 records.

PHOENIX OPEN

Miller Widens Lead To Seven

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Johnny Miller expanded his bulging lead to seven strokes Saturday with a three-under-par 68 in the third round of the $150,000 Phoenix Open Golf Tournament.

Miller, the 1974 Player of the Year and author of an incredible 61 in Friday's second round, put together a 54-hole total of 196, the best three-round total on the pro tour in at least three years.
 His 17-under-par total on the 6,726-yard Phoenix Country Club course all but clinched the title and the $30,000 first prize, and made Sunday's final round little more than a chase for second place.

 Miller's seven-stroke lead was the biggest three-round advantage in any event on the American tour since 1973.

"I think this was my bad round of the tournament," Miller said. "It was not a very well played round at all. I kind of wanted to get this round behind me. Now I want to go out and shoot a good round tomorrow and break the tournament record. I want to hold on to that seven-stroke lead and just watch the holes run out on everybody else," Miller said.

Only Mike Hill could keep Miller in sight. Hill, usually a very poor performer early in the year, had a 69 and was a distant second at 203, 10-underpar.

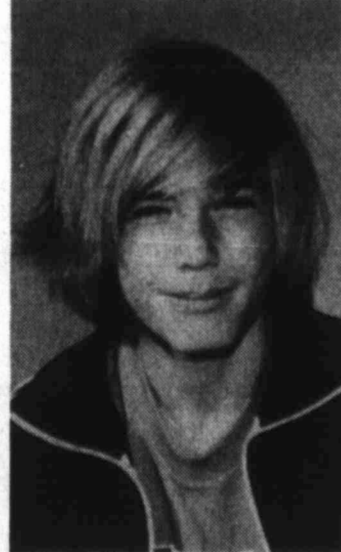

Hill appeared to have the only chance of catching Miller—and it would take a super effort for him to do it. If Miller can match par-71 in Sunday's final round, it would take a 64-by Hill to tie him.

It was another three strokes behind Hill to Roy Pace who was alone in third with a 69-206, 10 shots behind the leader. Everyone else was 11 strokes or more behind.

Mike-Mayer's FG Counts

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Steve Mike-Mayer of Maryland kicked a 22-yard field goal with 25 seconds remaining Saturday, giving the South all-stars a 17-17 deadlocked with the North in the nationally televised Senior Bowl football game.

Mike-Mayer's kick came at the end of a harried drive in which the South moved from its 34 to the North five on the passing of Maryland's Bob Avellini, who had a third down pass slip off the fingertip of a receiver in the end zone.

The late field goal also tainted a brilliant second-half performance by All-American Steve Bartkowski of California who completed eight straight passes in a pair of scoring drives that enabled the North to erase a 14-3 lead.

The South, a three-point underdog, had taken a 14-3 lead in the third quarter before Bartowski engineered consecutive scoring drives of 81 and 72 yards.

The California slinger completed four passes covering 70 yards in the first drive, including a pair of 26-yarders to Pat McNally of Harvard.

Bartowski, voted the game's most valuable player, then completed four passes for 60 yards in the fourth quarter drive, once again making McNally his key target with passes covering 13 and 27 yards.

The North got its other score on a 29-yard field goal by Tom Goedjen of Iowa State in the first quarter. It was set up by a pair of passes by Bartowski covering 31 yards.

The South drove 77 yards for a first quarter touchdown following a pass interception by Ricky Davis of Alabama.

Maryland's Bob Avellini completed three passes for 48 yards in the drive, including a 25-yard touchdown pass to Brad Davis of Louisiana State.

5-4A OUTLOOK

Bulldogs Bite Hobbles Steers

By CLARK LESHNER
Though it was chilly outside, Midland High found warmth inside the Steer gym here Friday night as the Bulldogs' array of senior talent and expert marksmanship socked Big Spring, 80-60.

The 5-4A district game was viewed before the largest crowd to assemble here this year with the activities building almost filled to capacity.

Big Spring, who had owned a share of first place in 5-4A by virtue of Tuesday's win over Abilene High, now stands 1-1 on the district side of the ledger. The Steers are 5-15 for the year.

Midland High rated second choice behind pre-season favorite, Lee, flashes across a 2-0 district slip and 14-5 overall.

The Bulldogs pounced on an 8-0 first quarter lead before the Steers could get unbound. Big Spring with Elroy Green, James Zapp and James Ray leading the way, rebounding to trail only 18-16 at the first quarter mark.

But from the second quarter on, Midland couldn't be reckoned with as the Bulldogs found the net with the utmost ease. The visitors led at the end of the second and third quarters, 42-39 and 63-45 respectively.

Big Spring hit a lull in the third frame period as the Steers could only locate a field goal within the playing time of 2:57.

Midland's high ept Big Spring in check under the boards and the Steers offense was somewhat stymied due to frequent traveling calls.

Big Spring's 6-3 Mark Moore, who was a thorn in Abilene's side with his backboard ability, appeared somewhat dazed against the larger Midland five. Green, the Steers 5-6 guard, though kept Midland alert as he swiped the ball on repeated occasions.

Even with Midland rest, assured of the victory, the Bulldogs' head coach James Cagle, who had pulled his starting five from the line up early in the third, had them make their reappearance at 1:36 of last period.

Zapp led Steer scorers with 15 points followed close by Ray and Robert Aldridge, who tallied 14 and 12 respectively. Michael Cobb paced the Bulldog attack, dumping in 20 points.

The Big Spring JV's gave the fans their money's worth as they lost an exciting one-point decision to Midland, 55-54. Midland also won the sophomore contest, 55-48.

Big Spring, at home for its first two 5-4A tests, now trends to Permian, there, Tuesday.

Hunters Scopes Way Off Center

AUSTIN — Hunters participating in public hunts on Texas Parks and Wildlife Department game management areas had varied success, according to department officials.

They had the hardest time killing deer on the Pat Mays Wildlife Management Area in East Texas. Of the 408 hunters taking part in the hunt this year, only seven got deer, a hunter success ratio of only around .02 per cent.

Hunters on the Chaparral Wildlife Management Area near Artesia, on the other hand, managed to harvest 88 deer, thereby giving the 166 hunters taking part in the hunt a 53 per cent success ratio. One of the 63 bucks killed on the Chaparral area weighed 155 pounds field-dressed.

Parks and Wildlife Department biologists say this is large for a Texas white-tailed deer. However, this year's buck weighed 24 pounds less than the largest buck ever taken from the Chaparral Area.

Hunters on the Panhandle's Gene Howe Wildlife Management Area didn't do as well as the Chaparral hunters. They managed only a 32 per cent success, killing eight bucks for the 25 hunters.

The 52 hunters who showed up to hunt on the Sierra Diablo Wildlife Management Area in West Texas killed 13 buck and 12 doe mule deer for a 48 per cent success ratio. One of the bucks weighed 147 pounds field-dressed while the others averaged approximately 80 pounds.

On the Black Gap area in the Big Bend country, 144 hunters killed 58 mule deer plus a bonus of 22 javelina. This amounted to a little better than a 40 per cent success ratio. The largest deer field-dressed at 169 pounds.

Maryland Contains Opponent

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Fifth-ranked Maryland scored 18 points while holding Wake Forest scoreless for more than eight minutes of the second half and scored an 89-73 Atlantic Coast Conference basketball victory Saturday, despite a 32-point performance by Skip Brown of the 19th-ranked losers.

The game was enlivened by a fight with three minutes remaining. Officials ejected Cal Stamp of Wake Forest and Owen Brown of Maryland.

The Terps, now 11-1, had trouble with the Wake Forest zone and fell behind 47-42 three minutes into the second half.

But, with John Lucas penetrating the zone and the Terps passing off along the baseline when their fast break didn't work, Maryland ran off its hot string to go ahead 60-47 before Mike Parrish scored with 8:57 remaining.

ALL ALONE — Big Spring's David Beasley the ball all to himself as he hauls down a rebound against Midland High here Friday night in a 5-4A contest. Steer's watching with interest include Mark Moore and James Zapp. The Bulldogs scored a convincing 80-60 win over the Steers.

Big Spring Business Leaders Express Optimism For New Year

Wade Choate

Mayor and Manager of Webb AFB Federal Credit Union

1974 has been a good year for most of the citizens of Big Spring, and the prosperity they enjoyed during 1974 should continue into 1975.

Big Spring currently has an unemployment rate of 5 per cent, with 300-400 jobs available in the city at the close of 1974. In addition to these opportunities, the labor force at the end of November 1974 was 13,800, up 450 over the same month in 1973.

This increased labor demand has resulted from Big Spring's healthy economy, stable growth, and community leaders who have attracted new businesses to the area and caused others to expand.

At the same time, deposits in banks, savings and loans, and credit unions have shown substantial gains over the same period in 1973.

The city has continued to experience a steady growth since the 1970 census. Building permits, street paving projects, water and gas meters, and sewer extensions have paralleled the stable development of Big Spring.

Local and federal funds have also been earmarked for the construction of a baseball complex, recreational equipment, and a hike-and-bike trail in the Community Center.

When you stop to think of the advantages and opportunities, Big Spring is a good place to call "home."

Wade Choate

Ken W. Perry

Senior Vice President
Cosden Oil & Chemical Company

There are numerous positive factors here to shape a good, prosperous 1975 in Big Spring, despite the year's beginning with some negative elements in the national outlook.

Unlike other parts of the country, we have not experienced drastic cutbacks in manufacturing. Growth has been demonstrated by existing industry and the building trade. Webb Air Force Base has experienced growth in its facilities through additional capital expenditures during the past year.

Our financial institutions have made strong showings in deposits and assets. The new multi-million-dollar hospital is due to open in the spring, followed soon by a new clinic facility. Plans are under way currently for other related facilities at the hospital complex. Retail sales stepped up, and the population is growing.

Under our expanded industrial effort, several prospects are being investigated for possible location here, indicating long-term potential for this area. Even though 1974 was disappointing in agriculture, the proper conditions might well develop to produce beautiful crops this year.

We are fortunate to have many assets in Big Spring. Certainly not the least of these is our people — those who make their home here now and the new residents to come. We look for progress in 1975.

Ken W. Perry

Jimmy Taylor

President
The First National Bank

In contrast to some parts of the nation, the economic outlook for Big Spring and Howard County in 1975 is very good. A low unemployment rate, increased activity in the oil industry, increased construction, and strong consumer spending are factors that should contribute to the stability of our economy. Moisture conditions are ideal for crop and livestock production in 1975, but the prospects of good yields will be offset by the depressed prices of agriculture products.

On a nation-wide basis the factors contributing to the present recession will probably be evident through the first half of the year. Hopefully, we will see this breaking up and inflation slowing down by the third quarter.

Jimmy Taylor

Adolph Swartz

Owner
Swartz

In an economic world that is being stifled by both inflation and recession it is my belief that locally and throughout West Texas, we have a sound and strong economy that cannot be tied to our national economic interrelationship.

Many factors substantiate these contentions: our bank deposits are the largest in our history, our unemployment figures of less than 1 per cent, our very strong retail sales, our local and very potent oil and energy economic situation, and not to be overlooked, the tremendous contribution of Webb to our local economic health.

Adolph Swartz

Bill Pollard

Owner
Pollard Chevrolet Co.

West Texans are historically a very optimistic and aggressive people. This has been borne out in spades during the past year and projects to continue to do so in 1975.

According to releases from several sources, our joblessness is practically non-existent. This reality is not necessarily good. Most good economists say, and history bears them out, that from 3 per cent to 4 per cent unemployed is normal and even desired. This percentage usually is made up of people seeking part time or seasonal employment or people really not seeking work. Subtract this from National unemployed, and we really nationally have 3.1 per cent working! Subtract this from Big Springs approximate unemployment and we need either 2.1 per cent or 4.1 per cent increase in our available work force, depending on how mathematics is applied!

Agricultural and livestock production have a good chance of a substantial rebound in 1975 because of our current underground moisture. However, prices for these commodities certainly are not currently commensurate with production costs.

With this strong economic and employment base, 1975 should prove to be a quite good year for Big Spring and West Texas.

Bill Pollard

John Currie

President
The State National Bank

About the next thing to money in the bank is moisture in the ground, thus on the basis of good deep seasoning 1975 shapes up with more agricultural promise than last year. Since there is no let up in the fuel pinch, oil activity will continue on a higher level and higher prices will mean much more for mineral and royalty owners. Several of our local industries will expand as they can acquire additional labor. In general, there appear few signs of recession on the area business front. This could be another steady, progressive year for us.

John Currie

Ralph Wyatt

Manager
Hemphill Wells Co.

The people of Big Spring and its trade territory have been good to Hemphill Wells.

We hear so much and read so much about gloom and recession, but we, here in the southwest and especially Big Spring, are very fortunate to have so much diversification. Even though our cotton crop was short in 1974, we have other influences to make our economy good.

We look to 1975 with optimism.

Ralph Wyatt

Ralph McLaughlin

President
Saunders Company, Inc.

Big Spring Chamber of Commerce

It is difficult to understand how the National Problems that arose during 1974 could have had such a slight effect on the economy of Big Spring. We are very fortunate to live in Big Spring. Perhaps the sheer magnitude of the National problems will have some slowing effect on our local economy in 1975. However, there are many bright spots.

First, the new Medical complex that will be completed during 1975. This will provide many new jobs and services for our community.

The Chamber of Commerce recently was advised of some 400 job openings in the area. A situation serious enough to warrant an advertising campaign in surrounding towns for people to move to Big Spring — the theme being "There's a JOB FOR YOU IN BIG SPRING."

And of course, our greatest asset is the people. Big Spring is a great place to live.

Ralph McLaughlin

Ralph Brooks

Co-Owner
Blum's Jewelers

Despite some setbacks due to drought and market conditions, industry and business in Big Spring have continued to thrive. This signifies that our local economy has the strength to withstand adverse conditions and it is a good omen for the coming year. Other positive factors are: better than average rainfall, a strong petroleum market, approval of new construction at Webb AFB, good prospects for receiving substantial federal aid for community improvement and increased local activity in connection with bicentennial celebration preparations.

A positive attitude and outlook will allow us to take advantage of business opportunities which arise to overcome obstacles in the coming year.

Ralph Brooks

Clyde McMahon

President
Clyde McMahon Concrete Co.

With everything we read and hear about the national economy being down, I feel we are most fortunate to live in Big Spring. Our economy is excellent — bank deposits are at an all time high even though our cotton crop was off for this year. Retail trade has also been excellent at most retailers and unemployment is very low.

We are most fortunate to have industries like Cosden, Sid Richardson, Cabot Carbon, Gamco, Berkeley Homes, Walls Industries, Big Spring Dress, Fiberglass and several fine private hospitals and clinics. Also, the VA Hospital and Big Spring State Hospital and last but very important is Webb Air Force Base. The new multi-million dollar Malone & Hogan Hospital and Clinic has most certainly had an impact on our local economy.

With all these fine industries and the oil, ranching and farming industries and the finest people in the world, I am most confident we will have an excellent 1975 regardless of the national economy.

Clyde McMahon

Bill E. Read

President
Coahoma State Bank

Our area enjoys a diversified economy which we feel will keep our community stable. Our unemployment figure is low. We feel 1974 was an exceptionally good year in Howard County compared with reports of other areas.

Stability plus growth and service will be the aim of the Coahoma State Bank in 1975 and I feel that each one of us as individuals could well use this as our standard.

Wise planning plus faith in the American System is essential in our present economic situation. What is America except a group of free people working for a common goal? The sooner we realize that we are the government and act accordingly, the sooner America will be back on a firm footing.

We have an optimistic attitude for 1975.

Bill E. Read

P. W. Malone, M.D.

Malone and Hogan Clinic

I have lived in this community since July 1926, which was the beginning of the great depression. In those days of depression and drought Big Spring fared better than almost any other city in the country. Certainly we had some hard times then and also in later years but the will of our people never faltered and with our many natural resources we came through in a firm steady sound growth to become an outstanding city. From past experience I view 1975 and years to follow with extreme optimism. We are at the cross-roads of West Texas. We are a medical center second to none. As a wholesale and merchandising center we are tops. Our manufacturing, oil, and refining enterprises are the envy of many of our neighbors.

I see no reason to fear the future. If we all press forward and do with all our might what we find to do I believe Big Spring will come through the present period of national difficulties triumphantly and with few scars. A famous automobile maker once had a slogan "Ask The Man Who Drives One." Ask the man who has been with Big Spring many years and you will find an optimistic soul who has confidence in her future.

Year Big Spring Business Leaders Express Optimism For New Year

Col. Robert A. Owens
Commander, 78th Flying Training Wing
Webb Air Force Base

The last quarter of the twentieth century promises to begin with a year of sharp contrasts — inflation with recession, untitled jobs with reduction in force, and finally shortages with large inventories. We will face the challenge of accomplishing our mission with fewer resources. Nevertheless, we at Webb are looking forward to a year of growth and progress along with the rest of Big Spring and Howard County.

The next 12 months will be an active period that will see the completion of many projects and the formulation of programs for further activity. Our new dining hall and cold storage facility will be finished in June. Construction will begin on the new bachelor airman's dormitories in March. New bachelor officers' quarters are under design. Base personnel are also anxiously awaiting the completion of the new hospital in the city, since much of our dependent care and all of our obstetrical services are performed off-base.

We look forward to the first full year of work with the newly formed Century Club of Big Spring, an organization that has already proven its value in strengthening the spirit of cooperation between the people of Webb and Big Spring.

All in all, 1975 will be an interesting and challenging year as Webb continues to meet its objective of training the best jet pilots in the world.

Robert A. Owens

R. G. McNeil
Store Manager
Montgomery Ward

The prospects for 1975 appear to be bright in Howard County in West Texas. 1974 was another record business year, contrary to the national recession and slumps. We are most fortunate in Howard County and Big Spring to be looking forward in 1975 to a new multi-million dollar hospital, oil production at an all time high, one of the lowest unemployment rates in the nation and prospects for good agriculture, due to moisture. Montgomery Ward sees business in 1975, being good and in Big Spring particularly. Optimism is the key to success in 1975, added to the many economic pluses we have in Howard County.

R. G. McNeil

Charles Hays
President
Howard College at Big Spring

1975, as any other year will be for Howard College what we, the residents make it. Obviously the national and local economic picture is not as attractive as it could be, but as demonstrated by our local economy during 1974, we can mold 1975 and all the years thereafter into an era of pride generated by enthusiastic aggressiveness. We at Howard College eagerly await our role in the growth and progress of "Historical Big Spring" Howard County, and West Texas in general. We believe our community College, our city and our county have more to offer than most. With our potential and our renewed enthusiasm on all our parts, not only can 1975 be a productive year, it can be the base for a brighter future.

Charles Hays

Paul D. Meek
President
Cosden Oil and Chemical Company

Although the U.S. economy is likely in for a significant downturn, I feel that in West Texas and particularly in Big Spring we will be only slightly affected.

Most of the economic barometers of this area point decisively upward. Bank deposits are at high levels, as are savings and loan assets. Building permits and retail sales have surged forward, and the unemployment rate is far below the national average.

Much of Big Spring's economy is petroleum-based. Although the petroleum industry faces many problems, the increase in crude oil price to over $10 a barrel has vigorously stimulated exploration. Hopefully Congress will not enact legislation which would take away this and other incentives. Currently the petrochemicals-plastics business is experiencing some serious inventory adjustments and downward trend in sales, which is tied to the general nationwide economy. However, this is expected to be only a temporary setback, and anyone connected with this industry cannot help but be optimistic about the long-term prospects. Cosden has a substantial investment program which should allow it to become an even more important supplier of these products.

With their most prosperous year in 1974, Cosden and American Petrofina are in excellent financial condition. Our capital budgets for 1975 will exceed $100 million. Most of this investment is marked for outside this area; however, the Big Spring economy will benefit inasmuch as administration and direction will be done locally.

Paul D. Meek

D. Al Stephens
Manager
Gibson Discount Center

Gibson's Discount Store views the new year in Big Spring with a lot of optimism. It's very evident that the nationwide economy is in a slump with unemployment at an all-time high and continued inflationary prices.

"But, Big Spring, look around you. We're in comparatively good shape. If this is the bottom and the national economy is going to improve, we're going to be in even better shape because here in Big Spring, we didn't reach that bottom."

"Our unemployment was only .09 per cent. Big Spring still has money to spend — partly from increased drilling in the oilfield and other sources. We can also hope that maybe this will be another bumper crop year for our farmers."

"I was happy to report to our main office that Big Spring customers have tested our well advertised problems with sales as we begin the year. The national buyer's market is probably going to be loaded down with merchandise which will drop prices on some items and we'll be able to pass this savings along to our customers."

"I think 1975 is going to be a good year in Big Spring. Let's hang on to that hope."

Tom R. Locke
Manager
Texas Electric Service Co.

Nationally, the year 1974 certainly cannot be looked at as a good year. Unrest and mistrust of those in leadership positions characterized many of the problems. The economic downturn the major industries of our Nation are facing certainly paints a gloomy picture. It is, however, very significant that Big Spring is at an economic peak in contrast to these national problems. 1975, locally, should be a continuation of these very positive economic factors. The opening of the major medical facilities at Malone & Hogan, the steady growth promised for the petroleum industry and a continuation of our governmental payrolls at the present levels should guarantee our prosperity. Oddly enough, Big Spring will have problems in direct contrast to National issues of concern. Our local industries need workers; in fact, unemployment figures in Howard County are among the lowest in the Nation. The local construction picture is excellent with new commercial projects, multi-unit projects and single family dwellings under construction. Even with these additional living units, a demand for additional housing is continuing to grow. As can be stated at almost any point in time, the prospects for the future are good if the current problems are approached as opportunities.

W. S. Pearson
President, Publisher
Big Spring Herald

1975 begins with more concern than any new year in recent memory, yet when you isolate the economic conditions that exist in our own area, the prospects reflect a much different view. Employment remains high, WAFB construction projects have been approved and funded, MCA's hospital and Malone-Hogan Clinic will open, new highway construction, apartment projects, and single family units will be built in several years. Petroleum will continue to make an accelerated contribution with expanded rates of exploration. These conditions, combined with an upturn in the national economy by mid-year, make the 1975 outlook even better than the record breaking year just completed in 1974.

W. S. Pearson

Bob Brock
Owner and President
Bob Brock Ford, Inc.

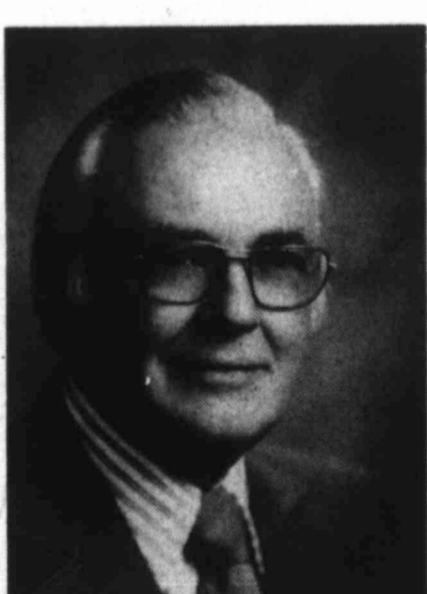

As predicted by economic forecasters, 1974 resulted in an outstanding year for all automobile dealers. Bob Brock Ford had a good year.

We are fortunate in Howard County and the Permian Basin to have so many diversified industries.

Farmers had a banner year in 1973 resulting in an outstanding 1974 — where in some parts of the country, retail sales were sagging in comparison to the same time of the previous year.

Prospects for the coming year are encouraging although the new car sales declined the last quarter of 1974. We can see more and more activity each day of the new year and the indication is new car sales are on the up-swing. 1975 should be a great year.

Bob Brock

J.E. Hogan, M.D.
Malone and Hogan Clinic

A definition of progress is to move forward. If this is applied to the field of medicine in Big Spring for 1975, we can add not only forward movement, but also a real opening up of services and facilities not even imagined at the start of this decade.

The opening of the new hospital in about two months is going to give the opportunity to provide so many new services, many of which were not even dreamed of at its inception. Space, instruments and equipment are provided for special diagnosis and treatment of patients. These will be special and new types of X-ray equipment for all types of studies; Gamma Camera and Scanner for study of many organs, laboratory equipment for all types of studies, pulmonary diagnostic and treatment, laboratory, physiotherapy, cardiac care and intensive care areas with the latest monitoring equipment, obstetrical area with fetal monitoring system, adequate nurseries for the new born, operating rooms with special air conditioning so that operations can be done more safely, all types of instruments for general and special operations and many other services not now available here.

That is what progress is all about. "Taking Care of People," in Big Spring.

J.E. Hogan M.D.

Jerry Snodgrass
Owner
Quality Volkswagen, Inc.

Big Spring, with its many hospitals, Air Force Base, educational facilities, diversified businesses and highly qualified professional people, has come a long way from the one time business district that consisted of 8 saloons, 2 merchandise stores, 1 laundry, 1 drug store, 1 bank, and 1 school building.

Big Spring, today, is unequalled in the strength of its economy and there are no bounds for the continued success of our economic, educational, and industrial growth.

Lack of confidence in Nat'l Gov't. is a disturbing factor now; nevertheless, the signs point to a year of changes in the economy. Wages will be higher, and spending by companies will be strong. Much of it will be in energy fields, and also a ratcheting of production to react to people's buying patterns.

The public mood is crucial, but I believe the people of the Permian Basin have the determination and the pioneer know-how to avoid serious trouble, to gear their buying patterns and living habits to meet national emergencies and shortages — will gain strength by doing so and thus, will continue to prosper.

Jerry Snodgrass

Ron Mercer
Chief Executive Officer
Big Spring Industrial Growth and Development

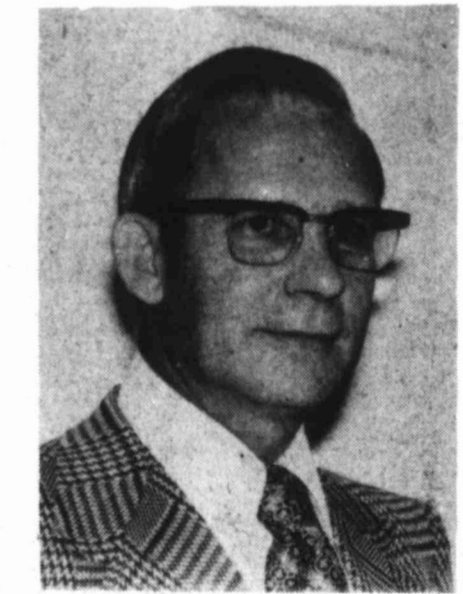

Big Spring has just realized its best year in history, despite the national economic situation and the fact that the 1974 Agricultural Crop was low in total production.

It remains to be seen if 1975 will bring Big Spring a yet bigger year or, if the national trend will be left. We have already seen a few cut backs locally among local industry but hopefully, this will be of short duration and not wide spread.

Big Spring has the assets to move ahead. It's people, needed oil production, new medical facilities, excellent educational opportunities and just plain good living, all lead us to believe another record year is possible. We have had too many new developments in Big Spring recently, too many new ideas and programs to think otherwise.

Perhaps the theme of "CR-72" is what is really needed now if we are to continue that upward trend — "Getting It Together."

Ron Mercer

Ted Hatfield
Manager
Good Housekeeping Furniture

As we enter 1975 we do so with a cautious, uncertain feeling. At a time when our nation is facing high unemployment in some areas and a fairly stable stock market situation, the merchants are not sure what they should do about their inventories. We here in the Southwest are quite fortunate that we have not experienced huge layoffs of employees. In fact, there are a surplus of positions of employment open in the Big Spring area at this time.

1974 closed on a very optimistic note with new construction starts at an all time high.

With most of the scandal in government behind us, our leaders can now get down to the business of running our country. Congress and the President seem to have finally awakened to the fact that we have problems that only they can rectify and I believe they have begun to move toward solving the problems of unemployment, fuel shortage and inflation. We here in Big Spring are fortunate that only inflation affects us as we enter the new year.

Though I will personally be cautious, I am very optimistic about business and the future of Big Spring in 1975.

Ted Hatfield

Big Spring Business Leaders Express Optimism For New Year

Charles Beil
President
First Federal Savings and Loan Assn.

We at First Federal are optimistic about the Howard County economy during 1975.
In contrast to the national economy, our community has more jobs available than people to fill them. Hopefully, 1975, will see new residents occupying these positions. In addition, our petroleum products are experiencing an unprecedented demand. This continuing demand will undoubtedly be a very positive influence upon our economy. Agriculturally oriented business is the only questionable aspect of our economy. However, if weather conditions permit an average cotton crop this overall picture should be bright.
We anticipate the availability of money in the various financial institutions for business and personal lending. This factor should certainly spur the overall economy.
We wish to everyone in this area a happy and prosperous 1975.

Charles Beil

Walter Wheat
Owner
Wheat Furniture and Appliance Co.

Although recession and inflation are the predominant words in the news today, I feel that the business outlook for 1975, in Big Spring, is very encouraging.
Merchants in West Texas and Big Spring are very fortunate to have a good stable economy with low unemployment and steady building.
Even with some products being in such short supply, I feel that Big Spring will continue to push ahead. Because of the optimism and common sense of our residents and their desire to keep Big Spring growing I forecast another good year for Big Spring.

Walter Wheat

Edsel W. McCrea
Plant Manager
Cabot Corporation

Big Spring and Howard County experienced sound progress during the past year. With this as a foundation and good planning for 1975, I should expect Big Spring to weather the economic storm much better than the rest of the nation. There is a definite shortage of skilled labor in this area, but there is also a shortage of living facilities for new families that may want to move into Big Spring. Solving the housing shortage is going to be our Number One problem during 1975 if we expect to reap the benefits of the economic advantage that we have managed to preserve.
At Cabot, we had a very good year during 1974, but because our business follows the national economy more closely than it does local conditions, we expect a period of minimal reconciliation during early 1975 with a gradual improvement as we near 1976.

Edsel W. McCrea

Doug Simpson
Store Manager
T.G. & Y. — College Park

There is no question that there are problems with the economy. But there are also good reasons to believe that even the trouble areas are less troubled than the "News" would indicate, and Big Spring is located in one of the most stable areas of the nation. Our biggest employers are agriculture, oil, and government — probably the three most healthy segments in the economy today.
There are preliminary signs that the tight money situation is beginning to ease. Our unemployment figure is under 3 per cent. T.G. & Y. is predicting another good year for 1975 that could very well surpass 1974 results which were outstanding.
I feel very fortunate to be a resident of West Texas and Big Spring. Our only depression is emotional not economic. Have a good year.

Doug Simpson

Travis W. Hunter
Co-Owner-Manager
Gray Jewelers

We, at Gray Jewelers, Inc., believe Big Spring prospective 1975 business year will thrive prosper & grow just as the city itself has. However, we also feel that the merchants of Big Spring will have to work harder to perpetuate this level of continued prosperity and they will be able to do so by giving their customers, the consumer, better service, accompanied by a personal touch. Our outlook is bright and optimistic because we will strive to perfect our personal services to our customers and offer them the very finest merchandise available. This is our pledge to you, the consumer, for the beckoning year of 1975.

Travis W. Hunter

Bill Hembree
Owner and Manager
J & K Shoe Store

The economic outlook for Big Spring, Texas in 1975 is still good, even though there are tendencies of a slump in other areas of the country and some people with a pessimistic outlook who are compounding the problems. The diversification of our various industries plus moisture in the ground for agricultural crops later in the year should indicate continued growth and prosperity for the aggressive and progressive minded people in West Texas.

Bill Hembree

Samuel P. Schulze
Store Manager
J. C. Penney Co.

1974 was an exciting year for Big Spring. The economy was good and reflected a healthy attitude in the residential and commercial growth of our community and surrounding area. 1975 is a year of challenge. Faced with new and unexplored situations, I personally feel it will be even more exciting and rewarding. Our economy should remain firm. Our commercial and residential picture should reflect an unprecedented degree of stability and solidity. If we will place our faith in God, exercise our American ingenuity and heritage, and maintain our optimistic and logical attitudes in dealing with coming events, I feel sure Big Spring . . . Texas . . . and our nation will grow and prosper.

Samuel P. Schulze

Bruce Wright
Owner
Wright's Prescription Center

Here are my personal feelings about 1975:
Grateful — I am grateful for our many loyal friends and customers who have "stuck with us" another year.
Reassured — now, more than ever, it is reassuring to live in the great Southwestern area of the United States.
Encouraged — encouraged by the many new faces we see in our store and in our community. We need these people.
Anticipation — What could possibly be more exciting than a whole new year?
Thankful — I believe that most of us here in Big Spring will begin and end this year by counting our many blessings.
1975 is here, 1975 is GREAT!

Bruce Wright

Dennis Weaver
Manager
Western Mattress Co.

I believe the people of Big Spring and the surrounding area have REFUSED to allow depression, poor economy, or recession to set in. For the most part, most businesses showed increases in sales in 1974, and I believe the sales will be even stronger yet in 1975.

Dennis Weaver

Harry Sawyer
Manager
Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Telephone growth in Big Spring during 1974 was not as great as we had predicted early in the year. However, the number of telephones in the city did increase, and we are anticipating a continued steady growth during 1975. The number of main stations (telephone numbers) increased slightly more than one per cent last year, but the number of total telephones (including main stations and extensions) went up 3.7 per cent. Specifically, Southwestern Bell showed a main gain of 129 for the year, and a gain in total telephones of about 925. Currently, there are more than 23,200 phones in Big Spring. Equipment wise, Southwestern Bell added facilities for 600 new phone numbers last year, and also completed a large underground cable installation job in the south part of the city. We have virtually completed another underground cable project serving the new hospital, and also the west part of Big Spring. In the spring, we will begin another cable project east along interstate 58 to take care of growth in that area.

Harry Sawyer

Jeff Brown
Owner
Home Real Estate Company

We at Home Real Estate Co., believe that 1975 will be a year of challenge. Our real estate firm set new sales records in 1974, and we believe the new year could be another good one for us. Economists predict that the Southwest will survive the current recession without any serious setbacks, because of the oil boom, industrial expansion, and farming. When this is combined with other things going for Big Spring, such as Webb A.F.B., our medical center, and our petrochemical complex, it's a fact that the local economy is much healthier than the rest of the nation. Our local housing market needs easing monetary policy nationally and renewed thrift deposits locally to continue to meet the demands of this community. It is my hope that this great country of ours can solve our inflationary and energy problems as soon as possible, so that we can be in a festive mood to celebrate our 200th birthday next year.

Jeff L. Brown

D. D. Pittman
Manager
Pioneer Natural Gas Co.

The outlook for our trade area in the coming year continues to look good. The low average figure of our local unemployed should help to maintain the stable economic picture during the year of 1975 that our area has experienced the past year.

There's Something For You

Part of your Herald today is a section concerning Howard College, which will begin its Spring semester Jan. 20. This is made possible through the support of public-spirited businesses and institutions, as well as the college, who believe that dollars invested in higher education will pay a great dividend not only in dollars but in a better community in the years ahead.

This reflects an attitude that Howard College is one of the greatest assets we have. If you want to be mercenary about it, it is possible for a student living at home here to attend HC for nearly one-tenth of what it would cost in a private two or four year college away from home, or one-fourth of the cost of a two or four-year public college away from home. Now this is computed on the basis of a bare-bones $350 per year cost, allowing nothing for spending money, etc., but you can double that outlay and the average family will save from $1,200 to $2,400 a year on the cost of sending a student away from home. Even for those who send dormitory (or apartment) students to HC, the cost will run under the state average by some $500 to $1,500 a year.

It is conservative to say that Howard College means from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000 more money stays home here annually than would be the case if all our college students had to go elsewhere.

But that's not the real story, which simply is that hundreds of young people in this vicinity get started on a college education who would never make it were it not for the convenience and economy of Howard College. This is the real plus — the net gain for the community, state and nation.

There's much more to it. Howard College is doing more than providing that academic footing, as important as it is. It has a tremendously strong program in occupational education equipping people with marketable job skills, or improving skills so that individuals will be more productive in business. In this latter respect, the college works hand in glove with business and industry in offering tailor-made courses.

Because the college is here, adults have an opportunity as well as young people, to take any of the courses, to pick up the pieces of missed opportunity, or, on a more casual basis, to take part in the continuing education program. There's almost nothing wholesome that the college can't or won't teach if there is a handful of demand for it. This makes for the richer, fuller, more satisfying life for our people.

And (by no means finally), the college furnishes a nucleus for all of our community to get together. Education, culture, entertainment — you name it — the college more and more will be the center from which these things develop and flourish.

There's something for you at Howard College. Take advantage of it.

Basic Strength

Economists and national fiscal experts keep shoving back the dates when they think that the recession will take over, and an upturn in economic activity will take over.

Yet, in general things manage to stay on fairly even keel despite the diametrical forces of rising prices and costs against those of lessened demand and employment.

This says something about the ruggedness of our system and our basic economic strength. Without this months ago we might have experienced a runaway plunge; instead, the decline is not precipitous and the descent is reasonably well controlled. That's reassuring.

My Answer

Billy Graham

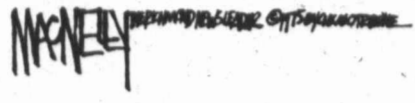

Here's a question I've had on my mind for some time. Please give me an honest answer. The idea of God that people such as yourself preach is so difficult to grasp. How is anyone to believe it?

B.T. I have said many times that God cannot be put into a test tube, nor can He be proved in a laboratory. But it is also true that God can't be disproved either. If you try to account for the wonders of our world without a plan and a Planner behind it all, you have greater problems than the idea God presents. I think it's harder to be an atheist than a believer.

But you ask, how is anyone to believe? The answer is FAITH. Hebrews 11:6 says: "Anyone who comes to Him (Christ) must believe that He exists, and that He rewards those who earnestly seek Him."

Faith is the bridge to God. It's a gift whereby God enables us to believe, and if we exercise it, it brings us to Him.

Faith is not anti-intellectual. It is an act of man that reaches beyond the limits of our senses.

Gunboats — Hah!

William F. Buckley, Jr.

Of all the reactions to Henry Kissinger's stalling of the obvious — that he could not absolutely rule out military action against the Arabs under certain circumstances — my favorite was Moscow's. Tass, the official press agency of the Soviet Union, intoned that "comments abroad on the United States threats show that the times of gunboat diplomacy and intimidation are gone." Tass discovered this some time after Russia's most recent invasion of Czechoslovakia, and some time after laying the keel of the latest Soviet gunboat, which, a careless reading of Jane's Fighting Ships suggests, took place this morning, at 8 a.m., Leningrad time.

HOWEVER, as usual the Soviet Union managed, through its lies and bluster, to say something oblique and not uninteresting. It was widely noticed that the Soviet Union didn't pounce on Kissinger the moment he used the word "military" and connected it to the Middle East. Instead Moscow followed the technique, in which it is highly practiced, of expressing its own displeasure through profuse quotations of other sources. Arab, principally; but also a number of European newspapers and left-groups. The Soviet Union is not willing, at this moment, to enter so directly into the picture as to make a commitment to oppose military action against the Arab states. It repays thought why this should be so. A few observations:

1. THE SITUATION as it currently stands cannot go on. An economic climactic is inevitable. Now, it will take one of two forms. Either there will be a sharp and concerted reaction against the OPEC nations, with the view to fracturing the cartel. Or, the victims of that cartel will slowly lose their strength, through a form of pernicious anemia resulting from months that stretch into years of irresolution. When enough of our blood has seeped out of our body, we will be too weak to muster the resolution that comes from properly maintained constitutions. You do not face down the bully after spending 40 days and nights in the desert fasting.

2. EUROPE IS VERY close to achieving slobbery, and we are not so very far behind. All of Italy, France, and England could not jointly muster the courage to dill a pickle, if an anti-Pickle-Dilling editorial appeared tomorrow in the HANOI TIMES. Statesmanship in Europe today is, pure and simple: temporizing. The cloakroom talk of the diplomats who seek to conceal the seediness of their thought by historical urbanity runs approximately as follows: It is only a matter of months, or perhaps a year or two at the most, when Israel will be gone. Either destroyed, or subdivided in such a way as to cease being a major provocation to the Arabs.

At that point, the Arabs will relapse into their traditional squabbles and irresolution, and oil will creep back to a market level. Meanwhile, the Arab world will join in arming itself sufficiently to face down the Soviet Union in any conventional contest; and the American nuclear umbrella will prevent the Soviet Union from becoming too frisky.

3. THE MATTER with the foregoing is that the death of Israel a) will not be lightly accepted by the moral remnant of mankind; and b) would not solve the important strategic problem. Pro. Tucker of Johns Hopkins University, advocating military intervention in the Persian Gulf, announces calmly that the Soviet Union doesn't have the fleet to keep us from doing it. Others — for instance a recent chief of naval operations — are not so confident on the matter.

And no one will stand up and say that, at the rate at which Soviet power is increasing over western power in the Mediterranean.

THE SOVIET Union doesn't, in a situation headed so clearly its way, desire any resumption of cold war antagonisms. Whence the relative blandness of its comments.

Ford Prepares To Bare Program

NEW YORK (AP) President Ford maintained an official shroud over his new economic policies during the past week, but some broad outlines began to appear through aides and White House sources.

Meanwhile interest rates fell and the stock market rallied amidst evidence of further weakening in the economy and an easing of policy by the Federal Reserve Board.

At week's end, administration officials said Ford was considering mailing government tax rebate checks to Americans as a way of accomplishing an antirecession tax cut amounting to $15 billion.

BUSINESS AID, TOO In addition, press aide Ron Nessen said Ford was "seriously considering" a unanimous proposal by a 16-member labor-management committee to seek an increase in the investment tax credit for businesses to 12 per cent across the board.

The credit currently stands at 7 per cent for most industries and 4 per cent for utilities. Several of the nation's big commercial banks announced quarter-point reductions in their prime lending rates to 10 per cent, the first decline since the end of November.

This Week's Business

- Slight interest decline spurs market into active week
- However, on other fronts, signs of worsening economy show
- President considering tax cut-rebate as a new stimulus
- Labor-management unanimous in hiking investment credits
- Crude oil tax boost seen, Detroit to work on greater mileage

The decline in rates, spurred by clear signs from the Fed, was expected to continue and eventually to lead to lower consumer loan charges as well. Taking cues from the interest trend and upcoming economic plans, the stock market posted a strong week, closing with a surge in very heavy volume.

Nessen said Ford's economic package, on which he has been working since Christmas, will be "on the desks" of Congress within a week of its return to Washington.

"GOOD ... TOUGH" "Ours is a good program," Nessen said. "It is tough. It is fully defensible. It will give us the restoration of confidence that is essential for recovery."

This gave him an idea and he hurried into the kitchen to tell his wife.

"Hon," he began enthusiastically, "have you ever thought about the fact that dogs have snug houses to sleep in on cold winter nights and cats haven't? Well, I've got an idea

"Forget it, Buster," his wife snapped.

TODAY'S GUEST ITEM is from Paul Crume in the Dallas News.

The men of Grace United Methodist Church did the gentlemanly thing on a recent Sunday. They asked the women to conduct the service — to lead the prayers, respond, usher and even furnish the morning sermon.

The ministers and the ushers sat in the congregation.

Everything went well until time for the anthem. It had been picked weeks before and nobody noticed until time came to announce it:

"My Lord, What A Mornin'."

My wonderful aunt, Mildred Ladd, sent this item called "In The Eyes Of One-Year Olds:"

Financing Our Arms

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — There is a certain amount of saber rattling going on in Washington. Henry Kissinger in a Business Week interview did not rule out the use of force against oil-producing nations if they strangled the West. It is one thing to make such threats but another to carry them out.

THE MAJOR PROBLEM for the United States seems to be that, in order to pay for foreign oil, we've been exporting all sorts of military equipment to the very countries that we're saber rattling against.

There must be some wild meetings going on at the Pentagon these days. An Assistant secretary for defense says, "I'm happy to report that we've sold $5 billion worth of F-14 jets to Iran."

AN AIR FORCE general says, "But we were promised the next batch of F-14 jets."

"I'm sorry," the assistant secretary of defense replies, "but we need the money from Iran so we can go into production on our new T-65 tanks which we've sold to Saudi Arabia."

An Army general says, "What are we doing selling T-65 tanks to Saudi Arabia when our own armored units have been stripped bare to supply Israel?"

"Can you pay cash for the tanks?" the assistant secretary asks.

"YOU KNOW I can't," the Army general says.

"Well Saudi Arabia can. And if we're going to have a strong defense posture, we can't afford to just give away our tanks to the U.S. Army."

"Mr. Secretary, is there any word about my nuclear aircraft carrier?" an admiral asks.

"I have good news for you on that. You get the second one we're going to build."

"The second one? Who gets the first one?"

"Kuwait."

"WHY IS KUWAIT getting a nuclear carrier before the U.S. Navy?"

"Because we couldn't afford to build it unless we sold a carrier to them. You see they're financing us on it and it's only fair they get the prototype."

"Damn it," the admiral says. "What happens if the balloon goes up — and Kuwait has a nuclear carrier and we're still waiting for ours?"

"We'll just borrow some submarines from Libya," the assistant secretary says.

"This is ridiculous," the Air Force general says. "Everything we make we sell to our potential enemies."

"Well it isn't my fault," the assistant secretary replies peevishly. "Military equipment costs money, and the only ones who seem to have any are the oil-producing countries."

"Does this mean I'm not going to get any new helicopters?" the commandant of the Marine Corps asks.

"The decision hasn't been made yet. We did promise the Sheik of Abu Dhabi he'd get first crack at buying our helicopters. But he's now expressed an interest in anti-aircraft missiles since we've sold the F-14s to Iran. If he doesn't want the helicopters, general you can have them."

"Thank God he doesn't want antitank guns," the Army general says.

Lad Is Sleepwalker

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am desperate about my 18-months-old boy. He sleeps in a youth bed but wanders about at night anyway.

I worry about his wandering because he is getting old enough to unlock doors. He seems to be awake but is asleep instantly if I pick him up or as soon as I lay him down.

He always centers his wandering around our room. Sometimes I wake up and go through a frantic search only to find him in our closet or under our bed.

Sometimes he wakes with a thirst or is hungry or lonesome and cries, but stays in his bed. — Mrs. K. S.

awakens his first instinct might be to get around and explore.

At his age, it is difficult to distinguish between this kind of nocturnal wandering and genuine sleepwalking.

It is also possible his restlessness is due to anxiety, even fear, and he simply wants to be near those who offer him comfort.

The atmosphere in which a youngster spends his last few minutes before going off to sleep can be important emotionally.

Is he hustled off unceremoniously and left hanging, so to speak, before going off to bed? Are you and your husband prone to arguments within the child's hearing in the evening? Are his last moments before bedtime filled with activity?

These could be subconscious causes of his inability to sleep. You might also be insisting on too lengthy naps.

Often, correction of any of these factors will solve the problem. Meanwhile, you might want to put a little gate across his bedroom doorway, and perhaps a dim night light in his room so that you can sleep yourself without worrying about the wandering. I would mention it to your doctor.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Will you please explain what severe neuralgia pains are? — Miss L. J.

Neuralgia is a pain along the course of one or more nerves. There are various types of neuralgia depending on the area involved. The pain of shingles, for example, is a form of neuralgia; so is tic douloureux. Sciatica due to irritation of the sciatic nerve is another.

There is no significance in the use of the term "severe" except just in what it implies: neuralgia pain that is especially harsh.

"Tips on How to Stop Smoking," by Dr. Thosteson will help you give up the habit. For a copy write to him in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 cents.

Castro Says U.S. Is Cuba's 'Sole Enemy And Threat'

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro says the "threat of aggression" by the United States against his country has diminished. But he adds that the United States is still Cuba's "sole enemy and threat."

"I guess Vietnam taught the Americans quite a lot," Castro told a group of Mexican newsmen visiting Havana. A videotape of parts of the interview was broadcast in Mexico Thursday night, and other parts were reported by local newspapers.

"The United States is no longer in a position to take on warmongering adventures," Castro said. "The world has changed a lot and the United States with it. Only 15 years ago the United States were very powerful, but no more."

But "we will never lower our guard because we must remain strong against our sole enemy and treat, the United States," he added.

Castro also told the newsmen that Cuba could "start selling sugar to the United States tomorrow."

"We are now right in the season of harvesting. We have boats and we have no restrictive law prohibiting us to sell. We are not the ones causing the problems, but we also are not so anxious to sell the sugar. This can be done tomorrow or in 10 years."

Castro was asked if this was a good-will overture to the United States.

"Overture no, because we never closed our doors," Castro said.

The U.S. government stopped buying Cuban sugar at the then-inflated American price in 1960 and banned all trade between the United States and the island nation soon after that. But due to the worldwide sugar shortage, Cuba no longer needs the American market for its chief export.

Castro said a recent Mexican offer to sell oil to Cuba was a "very important blow" to the American blockade and an expression of solidarity among Latin American nations. But he added that the Soviet Union continues to supply Cuba with "the oil we need."

Rep. Ezzell Visits Here

Rep. Mike Ezzell, Snyder, visited here Saturday on the eve of his departure for Austin and the beginning of a new legislative session.

He attended a meeting of state employees in the Lubbock area at the South Plains fair grounds Friday evening. Despite reports from Rep. Dan Kubiak that Rep. Bill Clayton would be opposed in his bid for speaker, Rep. Ezzell said he thought this would amount to nothing.

Grade 42 was the predominant at 41 per cent, with 24 per cent graded 52, also was reduced in grade due to bark or grass content. Micronaire readings were 70 per cent within the 3.5 to 4.9 range. 4th and Birdwell: Louis Lawrence Burchfield, Bx. 3921 Webb, Randy D. Haller, 516 Edwards, 12:18 a.m. Saturday.

For the first time, the Colorado River Municipal Water in 1974 delivered more than 20 billion gallons of water in one year.

The actual total was 20,357,040,622 gallons, up 10.44 per cent from the previous year. Of this total, 13,340,372,500 gallons were in municipal deliveries and 7,016,668,122 in mining and industrial deliveries.

The new record was achieved in the face of a billion gallons less delivered to the cities in the last five months. However, due to severe summer drought, the district had built up a 1.7 billion gallon gain through July. Unprecedented rains from August through December then depressed demand.

Offsetting the latter drop in demand by the cities also was an increase in mining (oil field), and industrial use. This total was up 19.85 per cent over the previous year. Nearly two billion gallons of water delivered to the mining customers was brackish water.

Deliveries to the various cities included:

Odessa 4,725,627,000 gallons, up 5.67 per cent; Big Spring 3,173,363,000, up 12.13 per cent; Snyder 920,613,000, up 11.24 per cent; Stanton 99,071,000, up 10.38 per cent; Midland 3,440,814,000, up 2.83 per cent; San Angelo 958,155,000, down 4.67 per cent; Robert Lee 13,709,500, new customer.

WHITE SOX PROPERTY State's Stoddard Drafted Number 2

RALEIGH (AP) — Tim Stoddard, a member of North Carolina State's 1974 national championship basketball team, was surprised the other day when his fiance called to say he had been drafted by the Chicago White Sox in the second round of baseball's free agent draft.

Stoddard, a 6-foot-7, 225-pound senior from Hammond, Ind., who had starred in both baseball and basketball at N.C. State, said he "certainly didn't expect to be drafted that high because of the basketball aspects."

But he wasn't knocking it. "It would be good to play for the White Sox because it's close to home," said

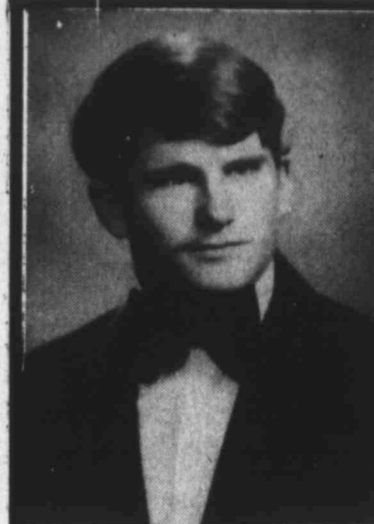

Stoddard, who also starred at football during his high school days in Hammond and was named the "high school athlete of the year in the Chicago area."

Asked whether he's interested in baseball or basketball as a pro, Stoddard said it would depend on "whichever offers me the best opportunity."

"In basketball, if the team that drafts me has all the players they need at my position, it would be senseless for me to sign with them," he said.

Sam Esposito, who coaches the N.C. State baseball team and who played nine years for the White Sox himself, described Stoddard as "a fine prospect" who "has an excellent chance if he goes into baseball or basketball."

At State, Stoddard's baseball career has been hampered somewhat by his basketball playing. He's had to report late for baseball because basketball, with its post-season tournaments,

Dallas Girls Don Gloves, Headgear

DALLAS (AP) — A group of Dallas girls has donned boxing gloves and protective headgear. They box against other girls and boys for their own enjoyment and the cause of equality, their organizer says.

Billed as the Missy Junior Gloves, the girls, ages 6 to 16, work out in the converted Army barracks of the Boys Club in Duncanville, a Dallas suburb.

Doyle Weaver, a piano-organ teacher, was once satisfied with teaching girls the melodies of the keyboard.

But after seeing boys constantly pushed into sports and girls denied the right to play, Weaver plugged his abilities into the sport of boxing.

"As far as we are concerned, if a sport is a good sport, it should be played by everyone. If a girl shouldn't play it, then a boy shouldn't either. The sport should be for all or nobody," Weaver said.

When Weaver, a former amateur boxer and baseball player, started the girls' boxing program in 1968 his aim was to discount certain beliefs about girls in sports. He believed girls could participate, that they wanted to be involved and that their parents would cooperate.

"We saw a need for a program like this before people heard or women's lib or ERA (Equal Rights Amendment)."

While most states have been arguing whether girls could play baseball with boys, we've been participating actively in one of the more physical sports," Weaver said.

"But right now, facilities are a money-backing are our problems," he said. "While community facilities have sat empty, our girls have worked out in the cold, in parks and in their homes. We've been financed for the most part by parents and other persons involved."

A longtime advocate of equal sports opportunities for women, Weaver said he works closely with the National Organization for Women NOW, Women for Change and Women's Equity Action League.

An Article in the American Medical Association Journal said women can be seriously injured in athletics, but Weaver disagrees.

Bryant, Winner Again

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — For the third time in four years, Alabama's Paul "Bear" Bryant is the major college football coach in the South, according to the Columbia Touchdown Club.

Bryant, who directed the Crimson Tide to an 11-0 regular season mark, received three times as many votes as any other coach nominated in a poll of head coaches at 35 schools in 12 southern states.

Bryant was the Columbia Touchdown Club's southern coach of the year in 1971 and 1973. Auburn's Shug Jordan won the honor in 1972.

In the poll conducted by the Columbia organization, 10 coaches were nominated. Bryant received 12 votes, Jordan and Mississippi State's Bob Tyler had four each, and Steve Sloan of Vanderbilt and Bob Thalman of Virginia Military had three each.

Hoosiers Breeze By Iowa

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Top-ranked Indiana, playing most of the game with reserves, breezed past Big Ten Conference basketball rival Iowa 102-49 Saturday, led by Quinn Buckner and Kent Benson with 16 points apiece.

The Hoosiers, who smothered the Hawkeyes defensively with 21 steals, were in control from the start and built its lead to as high as 57 points in the second half.

Indiana raised its conference mark to 3-0 and its over-all record this season to 14-0. The victory also stretched Indiana's winning string over two seasons to 17 games—the longest in the nation—matching the school record set in 1953, when the Hoosiers last won the national championship.

Iowa, which opened the conference campaign with two straight victories before losing to Purdue, fell to 2-2 in the league and 5-7 over-all.

Cadet Class In Progress

AUSTIN — Cadets of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's 31st game warden school reported for training Friday at Texas A&M University.

The 28 game wardens-to-be will receive 4½ months of training in law enforcement techniques, pollution identification, water safety and wildlife management.

According to TP&WD law enforcement training supervisor Lynn Stanley, interest in the department's warden program is running at a high level and all slots for the upcoming school have been filled.

Warden training, like so many other private and governmental programs, has been affected by money problems.

The last cadet class graduated was in December 1973.

Matheny, Marathon Champion

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — Mike Matheny of Richardson won the 4th annual North Texas-US-TEFF Marathon Saturday with a time of 2:32:52.

The 26-mile, 385-yard race began and ended at North Texas State's Fouts Field with the remainder of the race completed on farm roads outside the city limits.

Second was Bob Pinion, who traveled down from Lawton, Okla. to finish in 2:41:29.

Defending champion Don Kennedy of Fort Worth did not run due to an injury. Also not competing was Tom Hess, who won the first two marathons but could not compete because he is currently in the Army. Hess still holds the record set in 1973 of 2:20:44.

The top 6 finishers: Mike Matheny, Richardson, 2:32:52; Bob Pinion, Lawton, Okla., 2:41:29; Kevin Hellman, Irving, 2:47:36; Ralph Taitte, Dallas, 2:49:22; Don Eidem, Dallas, 2:49:55; Charles Davenport, North Texas, 2:50:47.

Saltwater Fish Records Told

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Two new state records have been set for saltwater fish, including the last July 4 catch of a 785-pound tiger shark by Charles Watson of Texas City in a fishing tournament there.

The Parks and Wildlife Department said the old record was held by Ken Higgenbotham, also of Texas City, who caught a 760-pound tiger shark.

Dave Huddleston Sr. of Galveston set the other record, catching an 11-pound, 9-ounce sheepshead in Galveston's west bay. There was no previous record for sheepshead because no one had met the 10-pound minimum requirement.

IT WAS SHAKESPEARE who said, "If music be the food of love, play on!" The Golden Horn stage band will be doing just that for this year's Campus Revue. Some of the band members are Adrain Ayala, Gilbert Chavez, Clif Graham, Pat Daniel, Keith Teel, Steve Hodges and Eddie Smith.

COME ON AND HEAR Alexander's Ragtime Band, the opening number of Big Spring High School's CR '75. Shown in costumes they will wear for that musical moment are Kenny Watkins, Becky Blalack, Jeannie Speegle and Junior Chavez.

Getting It Together

By JO BRIGHT

The phrase, "gettin' it together," indicates one is doing the best he can with what he's got. It's also the title of this year's Campus Revue, and Big Spring High School Band members are doing the best they can with a lot of time, talent and imagination to insure that the 1975 band production tops the seven previous revues.

The show opens a four-night stand Jan. 20, with curtain time at 8 p.m. each night. Tickets are $5 and $3, and reservations may be confirmed by calling 267-7463, or tickets may be purchased from any band member.

Bill Bradley, band director, will again have the assistance of Oklahoman Todd Lane in putting a professional polish on the production. Other key production people are Gene Currie, chorus; Dois Pace, pit band; Steve Waggoner, joke section; and Mrs. Jean Hubbard, art and set design. The show will be choreographed by Lane, with Pepper Eller helping to keep the dancers on their toes.

The stars will be the students — the 140 young people who make up the cast and crew of "Getting' It Together." This is their thing — their year — their parade.

So, light up the lights, strike up the band! The actors await their cue — and fame may be waiting in the wings.

THE FINALE of this year's Campus Revue will focus on the nation's bicentennial celebration, and the chorus includes American beauties such as Debbie Samuels and Lisa Kelly.

THE FAMILIAR melodies of the Broadway show, "Oliver!", will be heard again when "Gettin' It Together" opens Jan. 20 in the Big Spring High School auditorium. Four soloists in that segment of the show are, from left, Janet Ivery, Kim Andrews, Twayne Bledsoe and Karyl Thames.

"HEY, OLD CHUM, come to the cabaret!" says master of ceremonies, Paul Prather, right, as he lures customers to hear his entertainers, Steve Wilson, Cindy Morris, Cathy Cowan and Renee Wash.

Couple Recites Vows In Baptist Service

Miss Karyn Marie Archer became the bride of Larry Don Stephens Friday at 7 p.m. in Midway Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Archer, Rt. 1, Sand Springs. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Don Stephens, 200 Brown.

The Rev. Rufus Wilson, pastor, officiated at an altar centered by a large candle entwined with pink and burgandy roses and streamers. On either side were candelabra.

Miss Nancy Woods, vocalist, was accompanied by Miss Kay Frazier, organist.

The bride's gown of white polyester organza featured a fitted bodice with organza yoke trimmed in ruffled lace. Softly pleated lace edged the band-style collar. The skirt was attached to the bodice with relaxed pleats, and the hemline which formed a chapel train, was trimmed in ruffled lace. Her veil of French illusion was held by a crown of orange blossoms fashioned of Venice lace.

The bridal bouquet was of white roses with red roses in the center.

Mrs. James Archer II, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a burgundy velvet gown with pink sheer sleeves. Her headpiece was a pink velvet Dior bow.

The junior bridesmaid, Becky Dianne Stephens, sister of the bridegroom, was dressed in the same fashion as the honor matron.

James Archer II, brother of the bride, was best man, and junior groomsmen were Mark Jason Stephens, Darrel Stephens and Michael Stephens were ushers.

The couple will be at home in Big Spring after a wedding trip to Kerrville and points in South Texas.

The bride is a graduate of Cahoma High School, and the bridegroom will complete his work at Big Spring High School this month. He is employed by Bost Construction Co.

The couple was honored with a reception in the fellowship hall following the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a burgundy and white cloth with white net overlay, and her bouquet was the centerpiece. Serving were Mrs. Fred Franklin, Mrs. Jerald Wilson and Mrs. D. Ball.

The bridegroom's table, laid with a beige lace cloth, was centered with a large copper horse. Mrs. Gary Gates and Mrs. Jimmy Moore served.

Guests were registered by Miss Kristi Franklin.

Out-of-town relatives attending included Mr. and Mrs. Ido Casoni, Santa Barbara, Calif.; Miss Linda Archer, Duluth, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. John Morrell, Port LaVaca; Rufus Morrell, Almagordo, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Morrell, Synder.

Women Excel In Collecting

Telephone manner is particularly important in convincing someone to pay debts and there women excel, Mrs. Lapidis said.

"The woman is inclined to be hammy and more relaxed."

Mrs. Lapidis got into the collection business by chance, taking over her husband's Elm City Credit Adjustment Bureau when he entered the armed forces in 1943 and staying on when he returned.

Because of the image of the bill collector as an older, cigar-chewing, gruff man, many people are surprised to be confronted by a small, friendly woman asking for their money.

"They expect to see someone with three heads, I think," she said.

FOR YOUR PLEASURE Many Opportunities For Entertainment

Campus Revue '75 is getting to the nitty gritty now with show time only a week away.

Bill Bradley, director of the Big Spring High School Band and impresario of the variety extravaganza, has booked a solid night of rehearsals this week in anticipation of the opening Monday, Jan. 20, for a four-night run. Friday and Saturday (Jan. 24-25) are pointing for sell-out with only singles in the $3 group left and the $5 pairs or better going fast. Opening night will see the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce banquet crowd taking in the show, but more tickets are available. Tuesday, which some think habitually is the best night of any season, has a number of choice seats yet, and the same holds for Thursday. A call to the band hall early in the week will tie down a good seat for you.

Although it has a number of tricky keys for more-difficult-than-usual music, the pit band under Dois Pace (Goliad director) is shaping well. Both the Silver Horns, directed by Steve Waggoner (Rannels) and the Golden Horns, directed by Gene Curry, are ready to go.

Many of the sequences are sparkling, but none more at this stage than "Cabaret" with Paul Prather as the emcee, Jay Huskey, pianist, Karyl Thames, James Finley and Kathy Cowan as soloists. In all, some 160 band students are involved in the colorful production, and in the finale, pointing up the theme of "Getting It Together," there are some 60 massed on stage.

The current exhibit, at the Heritage Museum shaped by Mike Paul and his panel, is attracting considerable interest under a title of "Howard County Under Six Flags." There is still room for a display of some examples of work by the pioneer artist, H. W. Caylor, plus a collection of flags furnished by Craig Fischer, a collection of historical plates, "Old Forts," furnished by Agnes Currie. Among members for the week were Mrs. John (Eva) Northington of Houston, Big Spring pioneer, also Agnes Currie and Edith Gay. Gerri Atwell, curator, is booking tours of school groups now, and teachers are urged to call her for a date. Oh yes, some historical calendars (earliest day Big Spring pictures) are still available.

If you think the 20th century is proceeding at a dizzying pace, consider the ancient Sumer in Mesopotamia from 3,500-2,370. In that area and era were developed the first writing, first cities, first civilization, first organized trade, first government, first wheel, first plow, first daily use of metal, first monumental, architecture and sculpture. An exhibit of Sumerian civilization opens today in the University of Texas Art Museum with some 200 items gathered from all over the world. It remains up to March 16.

It had to come, the price of food being what it is. The latest pitch in fund raising is a six-pack — of garden seeds.

Schedule for tryouts for "Texas," the musical pageant produced during summer months in Palo Duro Canyon near Canyon has been announced. Auditions open in the Branding Iron theatre on the WTSU campus Jan. 18 and continues the following day at the women's gym in Texas Tech in Lubbock. Hours in Canyon are 10-12 noon, 1:30-4 p.m., plus dancers at 5 p.m. in Lubbock and 1-3 p.m. for characters-singers, with dancers at 3 p.m. Two other auditions are set for Oklahoma City March 2, Dallas March 8. Information may be had from Box 268, Canyon 70915 (or 806-655-2182).

Those going to the Houston area may want to take advantage of the Alley Theatre presentation of "Twelfth Night," which has its first preview this evening, opens the regular run Thursday 8 p.m. It was the 22nd of Shakespeare's 37 plays and was premiered on Jan. 6, the 12th night after Christmas, hence the title. Sharon Swink is Viola and Cal Bedford is Sebastian, her twin brother.

Selected works of Arman are being premiered Friday at the Fort Worth Art Museum, 1309 Montgomery, Fort Worth.

Cynthia Karnstadt, Austin, University of Texas graduate student soprano, has won the artist award of the National Association of Teachers of Singing. With the honor went $2,000 in cash. Previously she won the Sar

MRS. J. BRIAN BOULTER

Wedding Ceremony Performed Saturday

Miss Brenda Kay Heard and J. Brian Boulter, both of Lubbock, were married at 10:30 a.m., Saturday in the Broadway Church of Christ Chapel, Lubbock.

Miss Heard is the daughter of Mrs. Vernon P. Heard, 1808 Main, and the late Mr. Heard. Mr. and Mrs. Jay D. Boulter, Borger, are parents of the bridegroom.

Jay Wischkaemper performed the ceremony at an altar where hurricane lamps and urns of greenery on gold columns flanked a green archway. The altar was centered with a stand that held a family Bible.

Music was by the Broadway Church of Christ chorus.

The bride's floor-length gown of candlelight peau de soie featured a fitted bodice with ring neckline trimmed with appliques of pearl-trimmed lace. The hem of the dress and chapel-length train were also bordered with lace. Her waist-length veil of illusion edged with lace, was held by a headband trimmed with lace and pearls.

The bride carried a cascade of white gardenias, ivy, pink carnations and white daisy mums.

A LOVELIER YOU Hatty Wig, Home Facials For '75

By MARY SUE MILLER
Look forward, angel. There's a year of new beauty ideas tumbling your way. Some of them are bound to be just what you've been waiting for.

How about a hat-plus-hair? The hat is soft felt in soft shades. Elura is the hair fabric, styled in a pageboy. The coverup possibilities are marvelous. The hat never blows off the wiggy. But the hatty wig can be detached, of course, for shampooing. Did you ever

Perhaps you have dreamed of home facials, with all necessities assembled at anti-inflation prices. Well, 8" square and 1/4" thick kit hold six sealed packets containing a head band, cleanser, face mask eye pads, toner and moisturizer. With instructions, naturally. You simply open each packet in turn and apply the contents according to directions on the back. The entire process takes 20 minutes, unless you have the time and inclination to linger longer. In any case, you look fresh as can be at the finish... face up!

Watch for developments in other areas: moisturizing lipstick for instance, that smooth on at bedtime to give a deeper lubricating treatment than ever; they can also be worn during the day as a base for color. And there's akar, an all-over blusher for the face from ancient times in Egypt. In other words, products with increased power and, what's more, labeled as to ingredients.

What's your figure problem? To achieve total attractiveness send for my booklet, SECRETS OF A LOVELY FIGURE. It contains easy ways to reduce weight and proportions; to overcome grooming problems, such as freckles and blemishes; to move with grace and poise. For your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller, in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin.

Marion Irland, speaking for the group, said all older adults in the area are invited to attend the next such event Feb. 12. "Fun Day" is held the second Wednesday of each month.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I'm retired and have lots of hobbies. One of them is collecting your hints. So I shall gladly share one of mine with you. This is another little hint for those who work with plants (and I'm one of them).

Most people don't know or remember the names of their plants when asked. So I thought I would put the names of my plants on the pots or containers in which I put them in. I enjoy them better knowing who they are, their botanical names, etc., just like we enjoy knowing people's names.

Friends might not ask you the names of all your plants, but would like to know the ones they might not be familiar with. In this way you won't forget, and the name is right there with the plant for everyone to see.

Velma Ashcraft

Bless your sweet heart! I love to work with plants too.

Your idea is great and hits close to home, as just recently a friend's little boy bought his mother a plant as a gift. By the time he got it home he had already forgotten the name of it. It wasn't one she was familiar with and she's still wondering what kind it is.

Course, most of the time the nurseries put the names on plants and a good thing, too, for who can remember all those names! But — I'll remember yours!

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Being a loner presents a problem when it comes to buying food. A lot is wasted because only a small portion is used.

Some things can't be bought in small portions, celery for instance, but I found a way to keep it for three weeks or more. It was a sad mess after it was left for more than two weeks previously.)

When I brought the celery home from the store, I broke the stems from the stalk and wiped each piece dry with a paper towel (use no water). I then wrapped each piece in a paper towel and put them into a plastic bag. I put the bag into the vegetable crisper of the refrigerator, and had crisp celery for weeks.

Try it for yourself before anyone tells you it doesn't work.

C.G.

I did try it, and it does!

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I'm a mother of two girls — one is 2 and one 3 months. When bathing the baby, I have my hands full, especially with "big" sister around helping.

I found it difficult to pour out the right amount of shampoo with one hand and I was forever spilling it and pouring out too much, which of course, was wasteful.

So I washed out a small medicine bottle that had a dropper-type top. Now when it's baby's shampoo time, I can squeeze out two or three drops and have just enough for that little head. Of course, mark the bottle plainly as a safety precaution.

Elaine

Dear Heloise:

Would you please tell all new brides (as well as older ones), to keep a large manila envelope in a convenient place and insert all guarantees of appliances, addresses of repair centers, instructions for use of "gadgets" on them, etc.

It will surely save a lot of time and inconvenience later if all these easily misplaced items are kept together.

If date of purchase is also noted, you won't have to try to remember how long it has been since you acquired your lawnmower, TV, or household appliance

Kitty Koeber

'Cowbelle' Describes Texas Beef Industry

A history of the beef cattle industry in Texas was given for members of the 1953 Hyperion Club Wednesday when members met in the First Federal Community Room.

Hostesses were Mrs. T. L. Griffin and Mrs. Jimmy Ray Smith. Mrs. Lucille Sterling of the Tejas Chapter, Texas Cowbells, entitled her talk, "Cows and Cowpeople."

She detailed the growth of the cattle industry in Texas, saying the first wild herd started when Alphonso de Leon journeyed from Mexico into what is now South Texas. He left a cow and bull at each river crossing which was the beginning of the wild longhorn herds.

Mrs. Sterling said the longhorns of that day would not "make it" on today's market, as it took from seven to nine years for that type of cattle to mature. In conclusion, she told of the Cowbelle's organization which helps promote the beef industry.

Mrs. Sterling, assisted by Mrs. Griffin, set up a display of beef by-products. Listed were 134 medicines, blood used in sugar refining, rennet for cheese making, insulin from the beef pancreas, and gelatin used in film, cigarette papers, glue and glycerin.

Cookbooks and pamphlets concerning beef cookery and related information were distributed.

A YMCA youth membership will be given by the club, and Mrs. John Taylor was named chairman of the club's bicentennial activity. The refreshment table was laid with a blue denim cloth with red bandana accents. Serving was done on enameled tin plates with deep brown pottery mugs. Beef tea, dips, meatballs and sandwiches were served.

Outstanding Women Are Discussed

"Famous Women of The Christian Faith" was the topic of a program for the 1946 Hyperion Club when it met Wednesday in the home of Mrs. R. G. McNeill. Mrs. W. H. Eysen Jr., was cohostess.

Mrs. O. T. Brewster, guest speaker, told of many women "whose lives have served as a beacon causing others to follow Christ."

A memorial to the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center will be made in memory of Mrs. H. M. Jarratt, a charter member of the club.

New members, Mrs. Adele Moore, Mrs. Gary Turner, Mrs. Tommy McCann and Mrs. Eysen, were introduced.

The Feb. 5 meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Jerry Grimes, 1604 Osage, with Mrs. Jack Cook as cohostess.

Communications Topic At Sorority Meeting

Problems faced in communications and how to prepare for entertaining were subjects of programs for the Alpha Beta Omicron Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, Tuesday.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Linda Harp with Mrs. Jo Ogle presiding.

Plans were made for the Valentine Ball to be held in February.

Mrs. Harp spoke on "It's Only Medium" and quoted Marshall McLuan, communications specialist, as saying "The medium is the message." The speaker suggested ways to overcome the persuasiveness of the medium and listed these as types of propaganda in advertising: celebrity endorsement, true (yet misleading) vague language, boosting self-image, humor indicating something is good for society.

The program was concluded with a test on current commercial slogans.

Mrs. Jeanne Gafford spoke on "On Any Day" and enlarged on planning for parties and other types of entertaining. She listed three important considerations for planning a dinner: prepare ahead, check on diets of guests, try dishes before serving to company.

Also pointed out by the speaker were these suggestions: Try easier, good dishes, avoid too rich desserts, give attention to table setting candles and centerpieces that do not rise above eye level. It was noted that Texans choose the "uncluttered look" in their table settings.

The Jan. 21 meeting will be at 7:30 p.m., at First Federal Community Room with Mrs. Karen Frette giving the program.

Oat Recipe Contest Is Launched Here

The second "Big-Little" recipe contest sponsored by 3-Minute Brand Oats was launched this week. The first entry blank appeared in Thursday's Big Spring Herald, and two more will follow.

The first contest drew thousands of entries from Southern areas, and over 1,100 prizes were awarded throughout those areas.

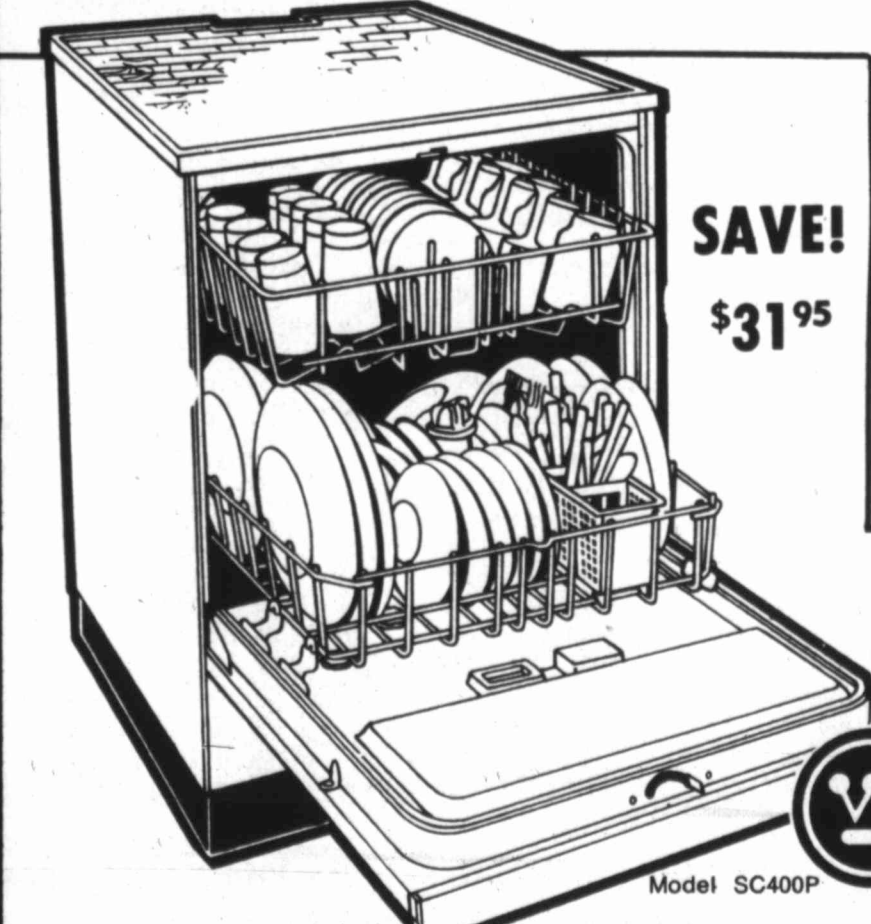

According to a company spokesman, entries covered a range of recipes that went far beyond the use of 3-Minute Brand Oatmeal as just a breakfast food. Ideas including using oats in vegetable and meat dishes, bread, sandwich fillings, pies, cakes — even soups and beverages.

The company published a book which included many of the winning recipes. Interested persons may obtain a copy of the cookbook by sending their name and address (plus 25 cents for postage and handling) to: "Oatmeal" Recipe Book, National Oats Co., 1515 H. Avenue, N.E., Cedar Rapids, Iowa, 52402.

For those who wish to enter the new contest, rules and entry forms will be published in 3-Minute Brand Oat ads appearing in The Herald.

Non-Wood Furniture Needs Special Care

By SHERRY MULLIN
Modern furniture materials need special care. What was good for wood isn't necessarily good for plastic and metal furniture so popular now, according to one authority.

Follow these pointers to help you care for your non-wood furniture.

For acrylics sold under the brand names Plexiglas and Lucite, remove grease and oil stains with kerosene, white gasoline or isopropyl alcohol, followed with soap and water.

A mild cleaner-polish can be made with one part liquid detergent and three parts water.

Paste wax takes care of minor surface scratches.

Solvents such as acetone, benzene, carbon tetrachloride or lacquer thinner damage these acrylic materials. Also, never use a cleaner-wax combination.

Plastics including Micarta, Formica and Melmine need different care. These materials are used for laminated tops and sides of case goods and counters and washing with detergent and water, followed by a polishing with a soft, dry cloth is sufficient.

If the finish is dull, polish it with a low luster cream or silicone base wax.

For badly worn areas or spots, use a single step auto cleaner polish. Pour it on a cloth and rub with the grain in long, even strokes. Do not use a whirling motion. Rub those worn areas or spots until an even gloss appears, then apply a cream polish or silicone base wax.

As with acrylics, never use solvents such as carbon tetrachloride, benzene, acetone or lacquer thinner.

In cleaning stainless steel, ordinary cleaning methods with soap, synthetic detergent and water should be sufficient. For difficult stains, use rubbing alcohol or a high quality metal polish.

Remove scratches with extra fine steel wool—using a light touch—then towel dry parallel to the polish lines. Water softener in a paste will remove water spots. Stubborn spots on chrome can be removed with a paste of whiting and household ammonia.

Always rinse metals and polish with a soft cloth.

Busy Bees' Workshop

Plans for an all-day workshop were made by the Busy Bee Hobby Club Thursday in the home of Mrs. Edith Clark, 2800 Apache.

The Jan. 16 meeting will be held at 1005 Eleventh Place at 9:45 a.m., and each member is to bring a covered dish for the luncheon. The group will complete macrame ovals.

Mrs. Virginia Ham received the door prize.

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. C. Joe Stocks of Fort Worth, formerly of Big Spring, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, June Ann, to Daniel Jay Congrelliere. The wedding is scheduled March 8 at Grace Temple Church, Fort Worth.

PTA Council Sets Meeting

The Parent-Teacher Association City Council, which canceled its regular meeting due to the school holidays, will convene at 10 a.m., Wednesday in Room 219 at the Veterans Administration Hospital. Mrs. Vonda Townsend, president, will preside.

"We never lost faith. All day we heard the rescue planes fly overhead. Our greatest fear was that they wouldn't find us. I almost wanted to call someone on the telephone and say, 'Hey, we're alive.'" Marilyn Foss.

Quotable Women

By The Associated Press

Here are some quotable quotes from women during the week: "This was only a rehearsal. It's a saddening spectacle that the people who swore by truth and nonviolence have created an atmosphere in which neither truth nor nonviolence can survive. I know their target was not Mr. Mishra. I know their real target. I am not afraid of death." Prime Minister Indira Gandhi of India, who said assassination of her former aide was part of a plot in which she was a real target.

"I got permission to put a big box on the gates at Graceland to hold the cards and I just hope people will stop by Elvis' house and put a birthday card in the box some time Wednesday to let him know we're thinking about him and wishing him a happy birthday." Tina Marsh, a Memphis, Tenn., songwriter who organized a birthday celebration for singer Elvis Presley, who turned 40 last week.

"I feel that a lawyer's job does not stop with getting a client acquitted. If you keep a man out of jail, yet put him back into a crime-producing situation, where neither his needs nor society's are being met, then you've only done half a job. I think this is particularly true in the case of juvenile offenders." Emily Grassenheimer, a Montgomery, Ala., attorney, speaking of her work with a Criminal Justice Committee in her state.

Return From Holiday Visits

FORSAN (SC) — Mrs. Ann Fairchild has returned from Odessa where she spent several days with her son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Fairchild, Mrs. Mary Stone and Theresa.

The A. O. Joneses of Stanton have been guests in the A. J. McCall home.

Back from an extended visit in Richardson is Mrs. H. H. Story. She visited her son-in-law and daughter, the Ike Pfarners.

Tea To Be Hosted By Cowbelles

Plans for a Get Acquainted Tea were made by the Tejas Cowbelles when they met Tuesday at Furr's Cafeteria. The tea will be held in the home of the president, Mrs. Harry Middleton, 2808 Coronado, Jan. 19 from 3 until 5 p.m. Any person interested in the beef industry is welcome to attend.

Beef certificates sold well in all the banks, according to a report. The president was to attend a workshop in Lubbock during the past week.

A family get-together and dinner is being planned for the Feb. 12 meeting at 6:30 p.m. in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room. Each Cowbelle will be notified what dish she should bring. Following the meal, the meeting will be held while the men and children visit.

Four Tummies

Cattle are ruminants (animals with four "stomachs"). Their "digestive factory" permits them to eat and digest foods humans cannot eat, such as grass and forage material. Cattle convert these foods into the protein-rich beef which humans eat for both enjoyment and nutritional value.

TO MARRY — Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Evans of Slado announce the engagement and future marriage of their daughter, Rhonda, to Troy Kerby, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Kerby, Sand Springs. The wedding will be performed March 9 in the Slado Methodist Church, Slado.

Club Focuses On Family Life

Mrs. F. Kent was a guest of the Fairview Home Demonstration Club when members met in the home of Mrs. Bessie Bigony in Fairview.

Mrs. E. A. Williams, speaking on family life, read a Reader's Digest article, "When God Made A Father."

Mrs. F. C. Micallef, 1729 Purdue, will host the meeting Jan. 21.

Miss Prudie Franklin Weds James Dunne

Miss Prudie Adaline Franklin and James Jeremiah Dunne exchanged wedding vows Saturday evening in the sanctuary of the First Christian Church, with the Rev. Bill Smythe, pastor, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Franklin, Box 1362, Gail Rt., and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. James A. Dunne, 1002 Lancaster, and the late Mr. Dunne.

The nuptial setting was enhanced with a sunburst arrangement of mixed flowers flanked by branched candelabra. In a prelude to the service, musical selections were performed by Mrs. Bob Simpson, organist, who accompanied the vocalists, Miss Karyl Thames and Jerry Dunn, brother of the bridegroom.

Carrying a nosegay of yellow and white sweetheart roses and daisies with greenery, the bride was attired in a princess-style wedding gown of candlelight satin with a lace yoke extending to a high, satin band collar trimmed with a lace ruffle. The ruffle was repeated at the wrists of the tapered sleeves, and Venise lace formed the chapel-length train. Her elbow-length veil of matching lace was held by a lace cap.

Mrs. Charles Hyden, matron of honor, wore a pink satin gown styled like that of the bride, and the bridesmaids wore identical dresses except that Miss Denise Teague's gown was blue, and Miss Karyl Thames' attire was orchid. Their hair ribbons matched their gowns, and each carried a small nosegay of multi-colored flowers.

Attendants for the bridegroom were Robert Dean, Dallas, best man; and Steve Lewis, Snyder, and Jerry Dunne, groomsmen. Guests were seated by Larry Harp, Bill Bailey, David Lewis and Charley Hyden.

KERRVILLE
Prior to leaving on a trip to Kerrville and the surrounding area, Mr. and Mrs. Dunne were honored at a reception in the church parlor. The refreshment table, appointed with silver, was covered with a blue cloth and ivory lace overlay. Those serving were Mrs. June Hutchings, Mrs. Barbara Blissard.

Upon returning, the newlyweds will reside at 1806 Hamilton. Dunne, a graduate of Howard College, attended McMurry College, Abilene, for a year and is now employed at Safeway

MRS. JAMES JEREMIAH DUNNE

Courtesy Is Checked On

LONDON (AP) — Telephone girls working for the Legal and General insurance company had their courtesy checked in a "spy" survey by a retired executive. He was paid 150 pounds (350 plus expenses) to ring the company's 93 offices and report on politeness, speed and efficiency from the switchboard operators.

The company was pleased with the survey. It said that very little bad temper was uncovered despite the calls being made at the busiest times. Three girls who ranked highly for their responses are to share a 75 pound ($180) prize.

Music School Makes Move

NEW YORK (AP) — The Third Street Music School Settlement, the city's oldest music school, has moved from Third Street to a larger and more modern building at 235 E. 11th St.

The school has provided music instruction to the children of New York, especially to those of the Lower East Side, since 1894.

"We knew we could easily expand our enrollment from 700 to 1,500 if we had the space," said Harris Danziger, the school's director.

Urban Jobs From Animals

Animal agriculture sounds rural, but most of the jobs it creates are in metropolitan areas, such as packing house workers, retail meat cutters, truck drivers and scores of other jobs in both blue collar and white collar designations. Most of the money agriculture spends for supplies, equipment and machinery goes into the economic stream of urban areas and helps pay the wages of urban workers.

MARCH DATE — Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Luce, Coahoma, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, D'Dee Carol, to Tommy Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Morris, Star Rt., Colorado City. The wedding will be March 15 in the Presbyterian Church, Coahoma.

By-Products Cattle Feed

Cattle feed is one-third forage and by-products material. The by-products are from wheat milling and other agricultural processing operations. If this material was not given to cattle it would create a major problem of disposal. Another advantage of feeding agriculture by-products is the economic value these by-products have to food processors. The money received for the by-products helps reduce the cost consumers have to pay for the primary products such as bread, sugar, peanut butter and processed fruit and vegetables.

Dear Abby

Daughter Has Failed,
Mother Still Suffers

DEAR ABBY: Our beautiful and intelligent 22-year-old daughter is ruining her life, and I am helpless to stop her.

She says she is in love with a married man who plans to divorce his wife and marry her.

Abby, the man is 53 (ten years older than her father!) and he has five children.

I rang up his wife and she said she had no idea that her husband was planning to divorce her. Then I called the man and he told me a different story.

I am so afraid my daughter will get mixed up in an ugly scandal. I can't talk any sense in to her head. I thought I taught her right from wrong, but somewhere I must have failed. My daughter lives in an apartment with two other girls and she feels that just because she supports herself, she can live her own life without any interference from me. What can I do?

HEARTBROKEN MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: A 22-year-old self-supporting woman can't be controlled by her mother or anyone else. If you taught her right from wrong, you haven't failed. SHE has. Some people have to learn life's lessons the hard way.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 30-year-old married woman who has a very good marriage.

I've been reading a lot lately about the art of making love and was happy to learn that having fantasies during lovemaking is considered normal, because I fantasize a lot, and it sure helps.

My problem: My husband and I have always been completely honest with each other and I feel a little guilty about these fantasies because none of them includes him.

Should I tell him about my fantasies? I'm afraid he might ask me who the men in my fantasies are, and if I told him he would be very

Officers Wives Club Hears Meistersingers

Contemporary ballads, including songs written by John Denver and Mac Davis, were performed by the Meistersingers of Big Spring High School when they presented a program at Thursday's luncheon for the Officers Wives Charitable Association, Webb Air Force Base. The new name for the Officers Wives Club was adopted in December.

Under the direction of Jack Bowers, choir director, the group sang "Yesterday Once More," "If I Were A Carpenter," "Rainy Night in Georgia," "Sunshine on My Shoulder" and "Baby, Don't Get Hooked on Me." Annabeth Deats was pianist. Speaking briefly, Bowers invited the group to attend the Pop Concert which the Meistersingers will present in February.

The luncheon was hosted by the wives of the 82nd Flying Training Squadron with Mrs. Edmund Crandall as coordinating chairperson. Other chairpersons were Mrs. Terry Lizzotte, decorations, and Mrs. Jack Hadley, menu. Among those in attendance were Mrs. Robert Owens, wife of the wing commander, and Mrs. Robert Meisenheimer, wife of the base commander.

Mrs. George Garrison, first vice president, was the presiding officer, and the devotion was by Mrs. Crandall.

Numerous announcements of interest to the membership were made by Mrs. Tracey Rhodes, second vice president and Mrs. Jim Reese, corresponding secretary.

Arts and crafts classes will begin Tuesday. These classes will be in oriental and Venezulean cooking, macrame, bridge, cloth flowers, needlepoint, embroidery, crochet and knitting. Interested persons should contact Mrs. Richard Gausmann, 267-8853.

The OWCA is in need of a historian and volunteers should contact Mrs. Kathy Copelin, 267-7309. The Prairie Co-Pilot has openings for reporters, feature writers, photographers and calendar workers. Contact Mrs. G. G. Vander Ven, 263-6482. Also, volunteer workers are needed for the Thrift Shop and base nursery.

Cattle Graze Wasted Land

The total land mass of the United States is about 2.2 billion acres. Only about 350 million, 15 per cent of the total area, are suitable for tillage and crop production.

Another 890 million acres, or 39 per cent of the U.S. total land area, are unsuitable for other than pasture, grass and grazing lands. Without cattle and other ruminants to convert the grass and forage into high quality meat protein, these lands would be wasted as a source of food production.

Palmistry Is Program For HD Club

Palmistry was the subject of a program Friday for members of the City Home Demonstration Club at the home of Mrs. W. J. Priebe.

Mrs. Nancy Lester was the speaker, and interested her audience with the history of palm reading which has been done for 2,000 years, some 400 years before Christ. She used a card chart to show the different lines of a hand and explained that the nails play an important part in palmistry as well as the length of the fingers.

Mrs. Frances Zant brought the devotion, and Mrs. O. F. Mahoney was given the hostess prize.

A discussion was held on a Bicentennial project, and Mrs. Merle Hodnett reported from the HD Council meeting.

The meeting on Jan. 24 will be in the home of Mrs. A. W. Page, 1214 E. 16th.

Baby Cribs In Offices

By ARTHUR L. SRB

Associated Press Writer

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — An occasional whimper is heard these days in the offices of state Sens. Fred Risser and Carl Thompson, but not because either is taking a political beating.

In each case, it is merely an infant girl's way of letting it be known that her diaper needs changing or that she wants to be nursed.

Kirsten Tambo, 3½ months, sleeps most of the day in a crib only five feet from Risser's desk, while Leah Beyer, 5 weeks, spends her time in a crib next to Thompson's desk.

Both infants represent statehouse breakthroughs for working mothers, says Risser, a Madison Democrat who claims he was the first to allow a working mother to bring her baby along to the Capitol.

Risser said Kirsten's mother, Shirley Tambo, worked until the day before her baby was born Sept. 8, and he wanted her back even if it meant bringing the infant along.

"Shirley's a good secretary and I wanted to keep her," Risser said of Ms. Tambo, who prefers the feminist designation.

Louise Beyer, Leah's mother, credits Risser for creating an attitude that allowed her to keep working after her baby was born Nov. 18.

Thompson, a Stoughton Democrat, urged Ms. Beyer, who also prefers that designation, to continue working in his office and care for Leah there.

Being permitted to bring their babies to the Capitol each day allows both mothers to continue breast-feeding their infants.

Ms. Beyer took Leah to a committee meeting recently and a few eyebrows raised when she began nursing the child.

"Leah was hungry so I fed her," Ms. Beyer, 26, said. "I don't think I'm particularly modest, and breast feeding is very important as far as I am concerned."

WITH CALLEY'S HELP Calley Court-Martial Dramatized For Tube

EDITOR'S NOTE — Arthur Everett covered the court-martial of Lt. William Calley for The Associated Press and co-authored a book about it. Now he views the television re-creation of that trial, for which some participants were employed as consultants.

NEW YORK (AP) — With a script based mainly on the trial record, producer-director Stanley Kramer has fashioned a powerful, absorbing television re-creation of the court-martial of Lt. William Calley four years ago for the My Lai massacre. Entitled "Judgment: The Court-Martial of Lt. William Calley," it is being broadcast tonight (Sun., Jan. 12) by ABC-TV. As drama based on real life, it is not to be missed.

Calley, portrayed in the program by actor Tony Musante, was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment for the 1968 incident in which at least 22 unarmed Vietnamese old men, women and children died.

The sentence later was reduced and last November Calley, now 31, was freed after a federal court reversed his conviction. The army is appealing the reversal. Kramer concludes the narrative: "That macabre war and this court-martial may serve to remind the American people that the law of humanity still prevails." At another point, he calls My Lai "one of the most terrible crimes in the military history of this country."

Most of the time, though, Henry Denker's script is allowed to speak for itself, and in that respect, the presentation is nearly flawless. The show is the third in ABC's "Judgment" series in which Kramer re-creates famous trials of American history.

Through trial testimony, the background is developed of the search-and-destroy mission to which Calley's platoon was assigned on March 16, 1968, with other members of Charlie Company. His GIs were psyched up in anticipation of encountering an old and vexing enemy, the crack Viet Cong 48th Battalion. "Did you encounter any Viet Cong?" one witness is asked in an extraordinarily accurate depiction of the courtroom atmosphere at the Ft. Benning, Ga., trial. "As a matter of fact, no sir, only civilians," is the reply. And that was a prime facet of the prosecution's case in the actual court-martial — expecting the 48th Battalion and not encountering it, the platoon under Calley's leadership undertook to wipe out innocent villagers.

In summation, the prosecution called them "people who happened to be in the wrong place at the wrong time."

"Were any of these people armed?" the TV script asks. "No sir," replies one of Calley's GIs from the witness stand.

In fact, the court-martial learned that Calley's platoon took not one round of enemy fire that day. Its only casualty was a GI who shot himself in the foot, by accident or design.

Thus it became difficult for the defense to maintain that the platoon went berserk under the stress of combat. There was no combat in My Lai that day for Calley or his men.

The ABC presentation omits considerable psychiatric testimony during the trial, regarding possible impairment of Calley's judgment (as a result of earlier exposure to the horrors of warfare in Vietnam). However, that's just as well. It would have slowed the pace of the teleplay, and might have proven too technical for the average viewer.

Calley refused to plead temporary insanity and insisted on taking the witness stand. In the latter scene, Musante, playing the beleaguered, seemingly confused young lieutenant, gives a crackerjack portrayal.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Thoughtful television viewers sometimes grouse, "Why can't American TV produce good drama as the British do?" The answer: It can, and does. Not on the commercial networks. The only audible answer to England's remarkable achievements — "The Forsythe Saga," "Upstairs, Downstairs," etc. — is Hollywood Television Theater. It began in 1970 with a memorable production of "The Andersonville Trial," directed by George C. Scott. Forty productions have followed, including Clifford Odet's "Awake and Sing" (Walter Matthau), Arthur Miller's "Incident at Vichy" (Stacy Keach), Lillian Hellman's "Another Part of the Forest" (Dorothy McGuire, Barry Sullivan).

Funded by the Ford Foundation and affiliated stations of the Public Broadcasting Service, Hollywood Television Theater wastes no money on frills. For the 1974-75 season, it will present six plays at a total cost of $1.2 million. That's small potatoes by network standards, yet the plays possess remarkable quality. "I know there is a lot of reverence for the BBC," said executive producer Norman Lloyd. "It's the best there is — but we're good, too."

Critics often agree with his appraisal. The first two plays this season have been outstanding — Judith Anderson in "The Chinese Prime Minister" by Enid Bagnold, Richard Chamberlain in "The Lady's Not for Burning" by Christopher Fry.

False Arrest Bait Dangled

BOSTON (AP) — Shoplifters who claim false arrest are creating problems for merchants, a legislative committee has been told.

"There are a few professionals who are baiting people for false arrest," Joseph Fernandes, board chairman of a chain of 42 supermarkets, told Massachusetts' special legislative Commission on Shoplifting Tuesday.

"What they do is take the stuff and dispose of it and then you pick them up and they're clean and they say, 'I'll settle for $200.' If they do that every day they're making a pretty good living."

Stockholders Due To Meet

Annual meeting of stockholders of the Big Spring Country Club will be held in 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 28, in the clubhouse ballroom. Three new directors will be named at the time. A buffet supper will be served, starting at 7 p.m.

TEXAS CROPS Cotton Harvest Virtually Complete

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — With plenty of soil moisture across most of Texas, except the High Plains, farmers and ranchers are looking for open weather to take the pressure off livestock feeding. Dr. John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service says.

Many farmers and ranchers, trying to keep down their cattle feeding bills this winter, are feeding only the minimum protein supplement, he said. Cattle herds are generally higher throughout the state because producers kept animals last fall during low market prices.

LIGHT SNOW

Grazing conditions are good in some counties, Hutchison said. Wheat and oats are providing some grazing along with other types of winter pasture.

District agriculture agents made these reports:

Panhandle: Light snow helped the moisture situation some but moisture is still short in the north. Some dryland wheat is in critical need of moisture. Most wheat is dormant but is still supplying grazing for livestock. Some cotton still remains to be harvested. The sugar beet harvest is complete.

South Plains: The cotton harvest is virtually complete. The crop was the shortest in 24 years and the quality was down. The wheat crop is providing grazing for livestock. Farmers are busy preparing land.

Rolling Plains: Cotton harvesting is about 75 per cent complete. Yields and quality of the crop are generally low. Wheat looks good although greenbugs are causing some damage. Winter calving is active. Supplemental feeding is underway.

OATS, BARLEY

North Central: A few fields of cotton still remain to be harvested. Cool, wet conditions also have slowed growth of wheat, oats and barley. Livestock are showing some shrinkage. Supplemental feeding is active.

Far West: Range conditions are generally good for sheep but cattle and calves are being fed. All livestock are in good shape. Small grains look good and are providing grazing.

West Central: About 10 per cent of the cotton crop remains to be harvested. Yields and quality have been Central: Most producers low. Cold weather has slowed small grain growth. Greenbug damage is light. Range conditions are good in all but Sterling and Callahan counties. Livestock feeding is heavy. Lambing is active.

Central: Most producers are taking care of livestock. Small grains are providing much grazing. Some fields are being overgrazed as there are too many cows and calves on hand.

East: Cool, wet conditions have limited small grain growth and vegetable production. Some land is being prepared for spring crops. Livestock feeding is increasing. Some calving is underway.

Southeast and Upper Gulf Coast: Open weather is needed to allow the planting of the rest of the flax crop. Wet fields are limiting grazing on wheat and oats. Livestock conditions are fair to good. Supplemental feeding is under way.

South Central: All the flax acreage has been planted.

Public Hearing Set By Board

A waste control order amendment to authorize an increase in the volume of discharge from the City of Midland's wastewater treatment plant, and requests for new permits for a feedlot, dairy operation, and a disposal well will be considered at a Texas Water Quality Board public hearing to be held Wednesday in the Midland City Hall Council Chamber. The hearing is to start at 10.00 a.m. All persons interested are invited to be heard.

The City of Midland is seeking to amend the permit for Plant No. 1 located south of and adjacent to the intersection of IH 20 and FM Road 307 east of the city. This would allow for an average daily flow of domestic sewage effluent not to exceed 6,000,000 gallons. The treated effluent is to be discharged into Midland Draw, and then into Johnson Draw, Beals Creek, and the Colorado River.

Davidson Feed Pens of Pecos, operating a 20,000-head capacity feeding operation about eight miles southwest of Pecos in Reeves County, is making application for the control of process and rainfall runoff water containing wastes. Trans-Pecos Dairy, with 760 head of dairy cattle is requesting a waste disposal permit from six acres.

The American Magnesium Company of Tulsa, Oklahoma is making application for a permit for the subsurface disposal of industrial wastes consisting of brine water by means of an injection well to be drilled to a depth of 6,848 feet on company property approximately nine miles southwest of Snyder in Scurry County.
