

The World At-A-Glance

CHICAGO (AP) — A group of Indians living in peace in a remote and rugged area of Mexico could set an example for a world beset by increasing crime rates, a Los Angeles psychiatrist says. The 50,000 Tarahumara Indians exist in an environment almost wholly without suicide or homicide, said Dr. L. Jolyon West, a professor of psychiatry at the University of California at Los Angeles, said in a recent interview the key to the nonviolent existence is the way the Tarahumaras rear their children. The Indians are "loving, affectionate, close to their children" and never punish them physically, neglect them or make them feel guilty, he said.

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. has become the second auto maker to offer new car buyers significant discounts in the hope that company rebates of up to $500 will lure shoppers into showrooms. General Motors remains the only Big Three firm not sending checks to customers for buying one of its cars. But industry observers say growing pressure from dealers may force GM to do the same to remain competitive in a depressed market. GM officials had no immediate comment on Ford's move. Ford said Thursday it will mail rebates of between $200 and $500 to purchasers of its 1975 small car lines starting immediately. The offer last until Feb. 28.

WASHINGTON (AP) — While President Ford and congressional leaders are supporting a large tax reduction, an advisory panel is on the brink of recommending higher Social Security payroll taxes. The expected proposal would be designed to keep the Social Security systems solvent. But Rep. James A. Burke, D-Mass., chairman of the Social Security subcommittee of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, called it "an outrageous recommendation."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former CIA Director Richard M. Helms has told a Senate committee that during the 1960s the CIA analyzed information on American radical groups in response to "the express concern of the President" that there was a foreign influence behind domestic disturbances. The president involved was Lyndon B. Johnson.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A two-year minority recruitment push has added 19 black agents to the FBI, but blacks still account for little more than one per cent of the total force of 8,500 agents. By comparison, blacks and other racial minorities account for 20 per cent of the total federal government work force, and 13 per cent of all professional and technical jobs in the Justice Department, according to government statistics.

EX-SUPREME BROKE — Florence Ballard Chapman, once the toast of three continents as one of the original singing Supremes, shown in her home Thursday says most of her neighbors don't know who she is and she is now broke. Chapman once lived in a substantial house; but the house was taken from her by foreclosure and she lives with her mother and sister. Chapman and her husband are separated and she receives aid to dependent children for her three daughters.

Shake-Up In Ford Cabinet Shaping

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is being urged by some White House advisers to replace William E. Simon as treasury secretary as part of a slowly developing major Cabinet shake-up, well-informed sources say.

The President has made no overt move to oust Simon but is willing to discuss with his advisers the possibility of a change in the key post, according to one source.

'QUESTION MARK' — This moves Simon into the "question-mark" category, said one official familiar with the President's thinking as well as the views of Ford advisers who have advocated a more rapid reduction in the ranks of Nixon holdovers.

Simon earlier supported a balanced federal budget and other anti-inflation policies which Ford now has discarded to fight the recession.

This official also said Labor Secretary Peter J. Brennan and Commerce Secretary Frederick B. Dent probably will be leaving the Cabinet within three months.

Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz and Caspar W. Weinberger, Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, were ranked by several sources as likely to be leaving by mid-year.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger and Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton were described by one White House official as secure in their jobs.

PRIVATE LIFE — In recent weeks, the White House has announced the departures of three Nixon Cabinet holdovers. Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe is becoming ambassador to India, Transportation Secretary Claude S. Brinegar is returning to private life, and House Secretary James T. Lynn is becoming director of the Office of Management and Budget — a Cabinet-level post.

Simon scoffed Thursday at reports he was being eased out. "If I'm on my way out I've not been told that yet, nor have I submitted my resignation," he told a news conference.

But Simon signaled some philosophical estrangement from Ford's approach to the nation's economic problems. Ford's program anticipates a $45-billion federal budget deficit in the next fiscal year, and Simon said ink such a plunge into red ink may be necessary, "it horrifies me."

LOST DEBATE — The former Wall Street

executive is known to advocate reductions in federal spending to avoid deficit financing. But he lost out in the debate that preceded announcement of Ford's economic program.

While formulation of that program was under way, sources said Ford spurned suggestions that he consider replacing Simon, whose abrasive style is reported to have grated on some White House advisers.

Ford has nominated Edward Levi, University of Chicago president, to succeed Saxbe as attorney general, and has picked Philadelphia lawyer William T. Coleman to replace Brinegar and thus become the second black Cabinet member in the nation's history. No successor has been named for Lynn as housing and urban development chief.

Armored Car Crash Scatters Coins In Texas

ITALY, Tex. (AP) — An armored car and a tractor-trailer truck collided on Interstate 35 near here today, killing one man, injuring two others and scattering coins along a 200-yard stretch of the roadway.

An Ellis County sheriff's department spokesman said all the dead and injured were riding in the armored vehicle. The car belonged to Purolator Security Service of Dallas.

The dead man was identified as Roy Reynolds of Dallas who had worked for the company for 23 years.

The sheriff's spokesman said the truck crashed into the rear of the armored vehicle on a fog-shrouded part of the highway.

The impact split open the rear compartment of the armored car, spilling sacks of coins onto one of the men, killing him.

Investigators spent several hours picking up coins but were hampered because many were embedded into a layer of pavement poured only Thursday.

The injured were Eugene Halter and Floyd Pappas, both of Dallas.

TWO RETAIN CHAIRMANSHIPS — House Banking Committee Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., right, and House Administration Committee Chairman Wayne L. Bays, D-Ohio chat with newsmen in Washington Thursday after House Democrats voted to retain them in their respective posts. House Armed Services Committee Chairman F. Edward Hebert, D-La., left, holds a news conference in Washington Thursday after the Democrats voted to remove him from his chairmanship.

ABOUT $10,000 EACH Award Antiwar Protesters $12 Million In Damages

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal court jury has awarded a total of $12 million in damages to 1,200 antiwar demonstrators arrested during a 1971 demonstration on the steps of the U.S. Capitol.

A lawyer for the American Civil Liberties Union said the civil suit verdict Thursday, ordering the government to pay about $10,000 to each of the protesters arrested, marked a major legal victory.

"MAYDAY" — Warren K. Kaplan, who tried the case for the ACLU, said it was the first jury verdict awarding damages in any of several lawsuits brought in the wake of arrests involving about 12,000 persons during the weeklong "Mayday" effort against the Vietnam war.

The outcome in U.S. District Court showed that the jury had found the mass arrests at the Capitol "a tragic blight on the administration of justice in this city and in this nation," Kaplan said.

Virtually all of the Mayday week arrests were later ruled illegal and only a few protesters were prosecuted and convicted.

Government attorneys said they had no comment on Thursday's verdict. It is expected that the government will appeal the award.

FALSE ARREST — The six-member jury ordered the District of Columbia government and chiefs of the metropolitan and Capitol police forces to pay the damages for violation of the arrested persons' constitutional rights, false arrest, false imprisonment and malicious prosecution.

The suit grew out of a May 5, 1971, demonstration at the Capitol, two days after thousands of other protesters against the Vietnam war were arrested while trying to "shut down" Washington by blocking traffic and other tactics.

Lawyers in the case and other legal observers said the verdict is believed to be the largest ever awarded in a civil suit in which no large corporations were involved.

40 YEARS AFTER WPA Americans Scrambling For Fed Funded Jobs

By The Associated Press

Forty years after a Depression-era program called the WPA, Americans are again scrambling for thousands of federally funded public jobs under a government plan to help those hardest hit by recession.

There are several differences between President Franklin D. Roosevelt's Works Progress Administration and the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act of the Nixon and Ford administrations.

300,000 JOBS — The WPA spent $11 billion between 1935 and 1943 to provide jobs for 8.5 million Americans, with the emphasis on construction and the arts. Local governments had to put up at least 25 per cent of the money.

The CETA program thus far provides about $1.8 billion, allocated in two parts, over a period of about a year and a half and is designed to fund some 300,000 jobs. All the money comes from the federal government, although localities are encouraged to try to transfer 50 per cent of the people they hire to local payrolls. The major emphasis is on service jobs — positions for clerks, sanitation department employees, teachers' aides and other professional and semi-skilled workers.

OUT OF WORK — There were more than 14 million Americans out of work at the height of the Depression in 1933. There were more than 6.5 million Americans unemployed in December 1974.

sampling on Thursday showed most cities and states are just beginning to implement the federal jobs program.

Interviewing and hiring, through local manpower offices, public employment agencies or Civil Service Commissions is under way in areas from Oregon to New York State.

Allan Ayoub, assistant director of Utah's manpower planning office, said the state is getting about $7 million under two separate parts of the CETA program. The money is being channeled into eight multicounty planning districts in the state, which has an unemployment rate of about 6 per cent.

Oregon, which has an unemployment rate of about 7.3 per cent, has received $2.9 million of the $9.4 million it has been allotted, state officials said.

The money is expected to provide 1,500 jobs, most in maintenance or clerical work.

State officials in Michigan, which has an 11.2 per cent unemployment rate, said they expect most of the money to be spent on jobs for teachers' aides, school custodians, human resources staffers and repairmen.

Rule 'Alphabet Bomber' Sane

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Muharem Kurbegovic, the accused "Alphabet Bomber," is sane and can stand trial, a jury has ruled.

The Superior Court jury deliberated nearly nine hours before returning the verdict Thursday.

The 31-year-old Yugoslavian immigrant is accused of planting the bomb that killed three persons and wounded 35 others last Aug. 6 at Los Angeles International Airport.

Kurbegovic showed no emotion when the verdict was read. He has remained mute since his arrest Aug. 20, although there has been testimony that he can speak.

His attorney immediately asked Judge William B. Keene to reverse the verdict and send Kurbegovic to a mental hospital. Arguments on that motion will be heard Monday.

Through phone calls and tape-recorded threats widely publicized after the airport tragedy, the bomber said he was the leader of a group that would spell out its name, "Aliens of America," in blood. "A" was for airport, he said.

Prigmore Autopsy Delayed

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — An inquest into the death of Richard T. Prigmore, 40, Midland lawyer charged with interstate transportation of stolen property, has been postponed to 10 a.m. next Thursday.

Authorities said Prigmore was run over by a Santa Fe freight train near Shallowater Jan. 7. Prigmore's car was found near the tracks, with the hood up and the air filter missing.

The inquest originally was scheduled for today but Justice of the Peace Wayne LeCroy said he postponed the inquest "to give attorneys for the family more time to produce witnesses."

LeCroy said the lawyers indicated they could produce testimony which "might have a bearing on any ruling" he might make.

County Pay Raises To Cost $52,533

Increasing salaries of county employees by 7½ per cent will cost a projected $52,533.

The total 1975 county payroll with the 7½ per cent increase will total an estimated $752,984 this year, Mrs. Virginia Black, county auditor, said.

County Commissioners Court budgeted a 5½ per cent increase when the 1975 budget was adopted in August, but, with two new members on the court, the court Monday voted to up salaries 7½ per cent instead. The previous com-

Skitch Draws Prison Term, $10,000 Fine

NEW YORK (AP) — Conductor Skitch Henderson received a six month prison sentence today for filing false income tax statements.

He also was fined $10,000 in Manhattan Federal Court.

Henderson, 56, remained free pending appeal of his conviction, involving donation of music to the University of Wisconsin.

Judge Edward Weinfeld declared that Henderson's trial last December produced clear evidence that the former conductor for NBC's "Tonight Show" knowingly made false statements about the date of the donation and in claiming it was worth $350,000, "when he knew that the gift was almost worthless."

Defense lawyer Louis Bender argued that Henderson's trouble began in 1969 when he hired a new accountant, and that Henderson "had no knowledge" of a new tax reform that outlawed the kind of deduction he claimed.

Advises Against Creating More Colleges In Texas

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas College Coordinating Board today advised the 1975 legislature against creating any new state colleges or universities or upgrading any existing schools to four-year status.

"It appears that on a statewide basis existing institutions have the capability to deliver services and programs to meet expected increases in enrollment and program demand," the board said.

Enrollments will peak at the beginning of the 1980s and then gradually decline, the board predicted.

The report, accompanied by a 114-page background document, was issued in response to a Senate resolution adopted in 1973.

HIGHER COSTS — Senators then declared a moratorium on creation of new senior colleges and upper-level institutions, except for those already recommended by the board. It directed the board to study and report on the state's needs for post-secondary education through 1980.

One finding of the board could dim the legislature's euphoria over the $1 billion treasury surplus the state is expected to have by the beginning of the next two-year budget period Sept. 1.

It estimated that appropriations required for higher education should jump from $91.2 million in 1973 to between $1.4 billion and $1.7 billion by 1980.

"Highest priority for funding higher education over the next five years should be given to adequate funding levels for newly established senior and upper-level colleges and universities, medical and dental schools, so that they can reach their enrollment and program potential," the board said.

Other key recommendations: —Establishment by local residents of new junior colleges in areas that now lack them.

—A moratorium on the creation of new state-funded vocational training centers, law, medical and dental schools.

—Improvements in faculty salaries to make them competitive with those paid in other states and to keep the state's college teachers ahead of inflation. The board said the average salary of state college teachers has climbed by $2,105 since 1971, but real income decreased by $758 due to inflation.

Control by a single statewide agency — presumably the board — over building construction, acquisition and repair at all state senior colleges. The University of Texas, Texas A&M and a number of other schools are now free of the board's direction in this area.

—More uniform building-use fees among similar institutions. The board noted a range of $36 to $162 in such fees in 1973-74.

—Maintaining the student's share of his education costs "at the lowest level consistent with good state policy."

Ducats Can Be Bought

Tickets are still available for the Chamber of Commerce annual membership banquet, to be held Monday, Jan. 20, 1975 at 6:30 p.m. in the High School Cafeteria.

The program will be Campus Revue 75, "Getting It Together". Tickets are $8 for the banquet and CR-75 or $4 for the banquet only.

Tickets may be picked up at the Chamber of Commerce office at 215 West Third Street.

Opening Of Barracks Bids Slated Feb. 20

Bids for the two airmen's barracks to be built at Webb AFB will be received starting Jan. 23 while the bids will be opened Feb. 20.

Congress originally appropriated $2.5 million for the project but has since responded with a supplementary appropriation estimated at $1.2 million.

The pre-manent-type buildings will house a total of 504 men.

A total of 420 working days will be allowed for construction of the barracks. Completion date is scheduled sometime in June, 1976, provided the bids come in under the money appropriated for the structures.

The new dining hall under construction at Webb likely will be completed in July of this year and present plans call for dedication rites Aug. 3, at which time the famed "hunderbirds" will give an exhibition here.

If it is, why not list it for sale "where the action is" — at Home Real Estate. They're proud of their successful sales record through the years, and offer this as proof of your best bet for a quick and profitable home sale.

"Even though our business continues to be good," commented Realtor Jeff Brown, "this is not necessarily a good time for the homeowner to try to sell his own home." Many buyers and sellers are floundering in today's tight money market, not knowing what to do next. "This is where the experienced Realtor pays many ways to finance a home sale, and its our professional obligation to show the buyer and seller how to do this properly."

There are many other ways the qualified staff at Home Real Estate Company can help you sell your home. They assist in the proper pricing of your home for sale by a professional appraisal, at no cost to you; when you list your home for sale with their agency.

Their firm is also a franchised member of two nationwide buyer referral services, offering you a continuing list of both out of town and local home buyers. Trinity Vaults Offer Protection

A steady increase of requests for the concrete burial vaults, constructed by Trinity Memorial Park has been noticed lately as more and more people realize the superior protection given by the vaults.

Trinity Memorial Park has been making the vaults for 14 years. They are available through the various area funeral homes, including those in Big Spring, Stanton, Lamesa and Snyder.

Rigid standards insure the quality of the concrete and the workmanship of each vault.

The vaults are constructed of dense concrete that can withstand pressure of more than 4,000 pounds per square inch. Tests have shown that this concrete increases in strength as years go by.

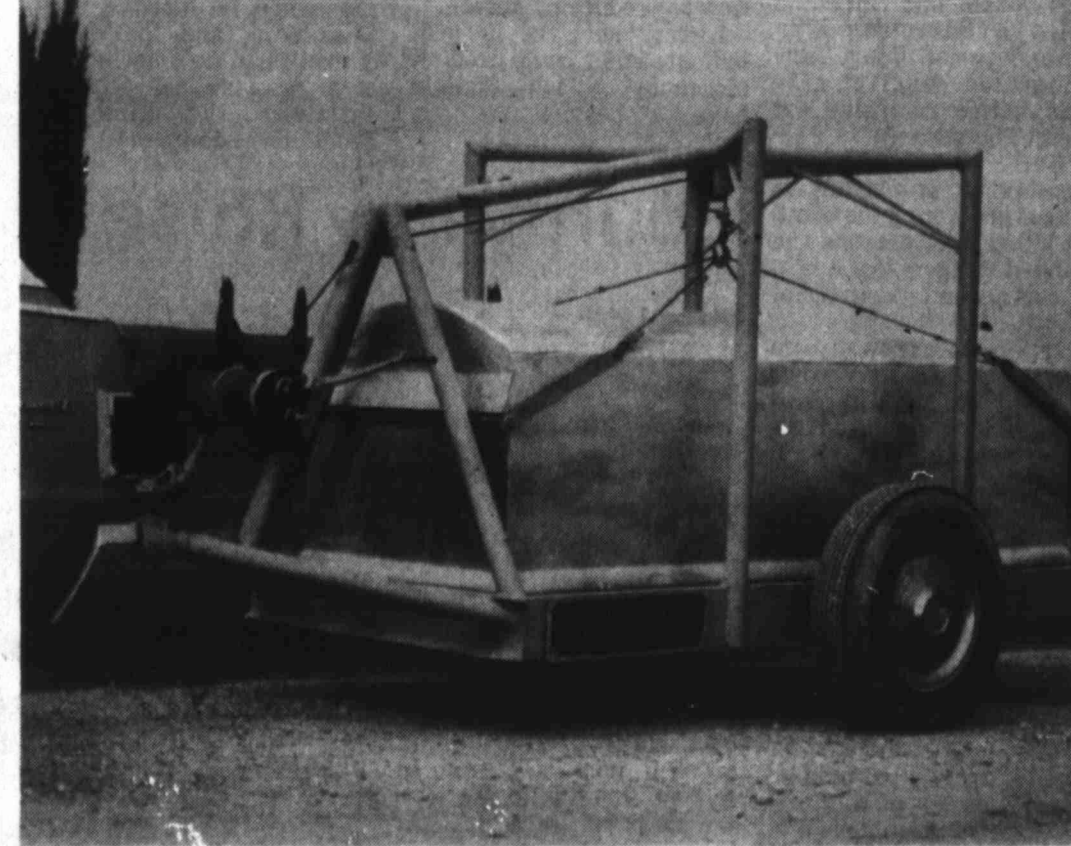

The strength and durability of the vaults are provided by steel reinforced concrete. A water-proofing agent mixed with the concrete before it is formed adds impermeability.

A special feature of vaults constructed by Trinity Memorial Park is the "Air Seal." Any dampness from other possible sources can escape, so the interior will be kept in a dry condition.

A concrete vault prevents sunken graves, and rust and corrosion are not possible. Trinity Memorial Park believes that a more lasting vault cannot be built at any price.

Unless specific arrangements are made with the funeral director, the necessity of a concrete vault for permanent protection is disregarded and the outside container will be a wooden box. A vault replaces the wooden box, with an indestructible material, thus protecting the casket.

The vault's economical manufacture makes it available to the public at a very reasonable price.

Provides Fresh Fuel For Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sharp drop in the broadest government measure of the nation's economic health has provided fresh fuel for the debate over how big a tax cut Americans should get.

The report Thursday on the Gross National Product, which measures total output of goods and services, constituted strong evidence that the recession may be the most severe economic dislocation for the United States since the Great Depression.

Administration officials, who support a $16 billion tax cut, say the evidence doesn't yet confirm the recession is that deep.

But the figures underscored the analysis of economist Walter W. Heller, who said even before the new figures came out that this recession is the worst since the depression. Heller, a University of Minnesota professor who has advised Democratic presidents, proposed a tax cut of $20 billion to $25 billion.

In other economic developments Thursday: President Ford said he will ask Congress for a five-year, nine-month extension of the federal revenue-sharing program.

Ford Motor Co. announced it is offering buyers of its new small models rebates of up to $500 as a measure to increase sales.

Chrysler Corp. said it will keep three car assembly plants and a truck facility closed next week, extending layoffs for 13,750 workers.

Crop production last year sagged 8 per cent from 1973 levels, according to the Agriculture Department. Weather was blamed for the dip.

The Gross National Product, or GNP, figures from the Commerce Department show output slipped at an annual rate of 9.1 per cent over the last three months of 1974 while inflation surged at a 13.7 per cent annual rate.

Motivations For Layoffs Questioned By Howell

Indicating inability to understand motivation for layoffs at Cosden Oil & Chemical Company's refinery and petrochemical complex here, Kenneth Howell, business manager for local 826, International Union of Operating Engineers (AFL-CIO), appealed today for area employers to consider job opening for those laid off.

He also asked that businessmen of the community work with the furloughed employees to minimize financial difficulties.

A formal statement released by Howell on behalf of Local 826, said:

"Effective Thursday, Cosden Oil & Chemical Company began a series of three layoffs of employees which will result in 121 employees being without employment for an indefinite period.

"According to Company Officials this layoff is a result of declining sales in plastics and petrochemicals produced at the Refinery. "The Cosden Refinery operated during 1974 at maximum capacity which resulted in the most profitable year earnings ever recorded by the Company.

"Local 826 representatives, along with the Cosden Workmen's Committee, have explored every possible avenue with Management to avert this lay-off or at least reduce the number of employees being laid off.

"Management would only agree to lay off one employee less than originally proposed and this concession was a result of the death of another employee. Only two leave of absences were granted and now company officials refuse to grant any additional leaves to help reduce the total number of employees being forced into unemployment.

"A similar situation with declining sales developed in early 1970 without any permanent employees being laid off. Cosden profits in 1969 and 1970 were in no way comparable with the profits made in 1974.

"Cosden management has indicated throughout the meeting with Local 826 that past profits would not have any bearing on the number of employees being kept on the payroll.

"Even though admitting 1974 profits were at an all time high company officials were unwilling to share any of the economic loss to the community as a result of these employees being laid off.

"Local 826 requests that businessmen in our community work with these young reputable laid off employees in any financial difficulties they and their families may face.

"Area employers are requested to contact Local 826 representatives if they have any job openings.

"American Petrofina, Inc. parent company of Cosden Oil & Chemical, reported on Oct. 17, 1974 that its net income was up from $20,222,000 to $64,265,000 for the first three quarters of 1974. Gross revenue was up 162 per cent for the same period over the previous year. Cosden Oil & Chemical Company operations is a major contributor to these record sales and profits. "In past years Cosden employees have taken vacations at undesirable times to prevent temporary layoffs at management's request.

"Cosden management would not even consider keeping any of the 121 employees on the payroll for an additional 30 days to perform much needed maintenance and general clean-up work although several out of town contractors are continuing to work in the refinery."

Texas Oil Strikes Idle Nearly 10,000

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — Picketing at two more refineries has raised to nearly 10,000 the number of workers now striking at petroleum plants in the Golden Triangle industrial area of Southeast Texas.

Workers went on strike Thursday at the Mobil Oil Corp. refinery in Beaumont and at the Union 76 refinery in nearby Nederland. Three unions are involved in the disputes, which center on local issues.

The new walkouts brought to six the number of plants being picketed in this area. Other strikes involving approximately 7,700 workers have virtually idled Gulf Oil, American Petrofina and Texaco refineries at Port Arthur and a Texaco asphalt plant at Port Neches.

About 800 stopped work Thursday night when talks broke down between the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW) and officials of the Union 76 refinery at Nederland.

Members of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers OCAW union local and the machinists union honored the 50 to 60 IBEW pickets outside the plant.

Bob Atmore, federal mediator at the Union 76 plant, said negotiations with the IBEW and machinists continued late Thursday.

OCAW members at Union 76 served notice they would strike at noon today unless a settlement was reached on local contract issues. However, OCAW members were honoring the electrical workers' pickets.

More than 1,500 OCAW members struck the Mobil Oil Corp. refinery at Beaumont at 4 p.m. Thursday after last-minute negotiations failed to resolve local issues.

The oil workers' international union headquarters in Denver, Colo., meanwhile Thursday reached a nationwide settlement with Amoco and Texaco. Agreement was reached earlier with Gulf.

The Texas workers, however, are striking over local issues.

More TIA Talk Dates Up In Air

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — No date has been set for resuming negotiations between Texas International Airlines and representatives of the striking Air Line Employees Association. The walkout has shut down the airline since Dec. 5.

The latest round of talks between the carrier and its striking ground workers broke off Thursday night in Washington, D.C., a spokesman at company headquarters here said.

In Washington, a union spokesman said talks ended after the company rejected a contract proposal offered by the National Mediation and Conciliation Service.

The strike began Dec. 1 and all of the Texas International's operations in nine states and Mexico have been halted since Dec. 5, when pilots honored picket lines set up by the ground workers.

Jim O'Donnell, spokesman for the airline here, said no date was set for further negotiations, which began Jan. 6 after a three-week period in which no talks were held. The proposal rejected Thursday called for a 33-month contract with wage increases totaling 21.2 per cent over that period, said Michael Harmituck, a union negotiator in Washington.

It also called for 9 per cent of the work force to be part-time personnel. The company wanted 15 per cent to be part-time and had proposed an 11.3 per cent wage increase over 33 months, Harmituck said. However, O'Donnell said some progress had been made during the latest talks and the company and the union appeared to be closer together on a number of key issues.

He said he union's "insistence" on cutting the work day from 8 to 7½ hours "was a prime reason for the failure of this round of talks."

How many trump tricks do you think West can take at a contract of two spades? One, perhaps two? Holland's leading bridge journalist, Herman Filarski, reports that when this hand was played at a recent tournament, West succeeded in scoring all three of his trumps!

After North's takeout double, South elected to bid spades first, keeping his heart suit in reserve in case his opponents competed further in the minor suits. Like many best-laid plans, this one went astray when North raised to two spades, were making a part-score so the 4-4 heart fit was missed. West led the king of diamonds and, when East signalled encouragement with the nine, continued with the seven to his partner's ace. East shifted to a low heart, and the ten was allowed to win. West continued with the king of hearts to dummy's ace.

Entries to declarer's hand were at a premium, so he decided to force an entry with the queen of spades. To accomplish this, South led the jack of spades from dummy. West won the king and returned a diamond. Since ruffing with dummy's low trump would again leave declarer without an entry to his hand, South elected to ruff with dummy's ace.

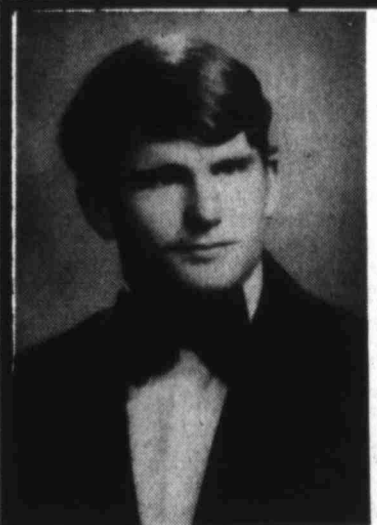

Now he led the four of spades from the table and boldly finessed his nine. West's ten won his side's second trump trick, and when he played a fourth round of diamonds, East ruffed with the eight of trumps and declarer finally got to his hand by overruffing with the queen. Unfortunately, this promoted West's seven for the defenders' third trump trick, all won by West!

The success of the club finesse came as a small consolation to declarer. He had lost three trump tricks, two diamonds and a heart for down one, when most of the other North-South pairs were making a part-score contract in hearts.

Talk is cheap.

Especially between 11 p.m. and 8 a.m., seven days a week. That's when our one-minute rate is in effect on Long Distance calls you dial direct the One-Plus way. If you talk one minute, you pay for one minute. Not the usual three. Coast-to-coast, the first minute costs just 35¢. And each additional minute is only 20¢. Phone someone who lives closer and rates can be even less.

Rates above do not include tax. One-Plus rates do not apply on calls made from coin telephones.

One Way To Move It

It is no longer a hidden fact in the cattle business — we simply have an over-supply of beef cattle in the United States. And many experts say that until this number is greatly reduced, cattlemen will not acquire the market price of their livestock they were accustomed to back in mid-1973.

Dr. O. D. Butler, head of Texas A&M University's Animal Science Department, said the U.S. will produce 188 million head of cattle in 1975. This is the proposed need to meet the 1980 demand. Slaughter of beef has not increased much over the years. The yearly increase is only three per cent. It would have to be nearly 40 per cent this year to catch up on the current supply.

What is the answer to lower the numbers? Many think the proposed changes in beef grade standards will have a great bearing. By requiring slightly leaner beef in the top grades, feeders will not have to dump out so much expensive grain. This fact alone will speed up the time a feeder calf spends from the pasture to the slaughter house. This would change the marbling-maturity relationships for beef from young cattle under about 30 months of age.

A redesigned and more restrictive good grade will follow. There will be more uniform eating quality in each of the higher grades: prime, choice and good. Butler thinks it will be two years before all is back to normal in the cow business.

But there is one thing which can help speed a change, and that is for everyone handling or processing beef to hold margins to a reasonable minimum. This will make beef a good buy at the marketplace, and the housewife will respond.

The 'Worst' Dressed

Mr. Blackwell, the fashion designer, has never pulled his punches when he announces his annual list of the world's worst dressed women.

In announcing his listings for 1974, Mr. Blackwell named actress Elizabeth Taylor as the "worst of the worst" for the 15-year history of his list. He said: "There's just too many yards of flesh and too few inches of fabric," in explaining his choice.

Included on the list were Helen Reddy, Fanne Fox, stripper friend of Rep. Wilbur Mills; Princess Elizabeth of Yugoslavia, fiancée of actor Richard Burton, Rep. Bella Abzug of New York, Cher Bono, Singer Charo, Raquel Welch, Karen Valentine, the Pointer Sisters and Sonia Rykiel, the first fashion designer ever to make the worst list.

Cher Bono was described as dressing "like a Hawaiian bar mitzvah," and Rep. Abzug as being dressed for the 1940s.

In naming Helen Reddy to the list, Blackwell cushioned the blow for her fans by noting that "when I think someone looks rotten, it doesn't mean they don't have a good soul or that they aren't great entertainers."

In other words, they just dress lousy.

Slanting Story

Around The Rim

Troy Bryant

THE SUPER BOWL is over for another year, and as usual, the Curt Gowdy and crew emphasized the fact that the AFC teams have dominated the Championship game. That seems to be their favorite fill-in between commercials activity along with portraying the AFC team as the team with the most character.

What they fail to mention is that two old NFL teams, which transferred to the AFC to balance out the number of teams, have won the Super Bowl, making the old NFL teams lead the old AFL teams 5-4 in Super Bowl wins.

Green Bay won it twice, Dallas, Baltimore, and Pittsburgh once each while the old AFL teams that have won are Miami twice, Kansas City and New York Jets.

One of the broadcasters even said that Pittsburgh was the only team, besides the Packers, that have won the Super Bowl in their first try. That's not true, because the New York Jets won it over the Baltimore Colts in their first and only appearance in the Super Bowl.

Is Joe Namath lucky, or does he know something? He picked the Steelers by 10 points, they won 16-6. In previous years, he picked Baltimore over Dallas by 3, Baltimore won 17-14, and he picked the Jets by a couple of touchdowns over Baltimore, which came to pass.

THE DRAFT OF COLLEGE players by NFL teams is approaching, with the Cowboys in great shape for a top selection. They traded Craig Morton for the New York Giants' first round pick, and they tied with Baltimore for the worst record in the NFL. A coin flip will decide if Dallas or Baltimore gets the first selection.

Dallas will draft again in its regular position, so it will get two first round picks for the second year in a row.

No one knows for sure who the number one pick will be, because there are several standouts who could be called upon first. NFL teams always say they will draft the best available athlete when their time comes, and then fill their shallow positions through some other means.

That means that the Cowboys could draft Anthony Davis or another top running back, even though they are ear deep in running backs. What they really need are defensive backs, and Tex Schramm said in a recent radio show that they will take care of that situation.

Don't be surprised if Dallas or some other NFL team drafts Oklahoma's Rod Shoate and plays him in the defensive backfield instead of his college linebacker spot. His 216 pounds is really light for an NFL linebacker, and his speed could go a long way in shoring up the defense against the pass. If he could put on about 20 pounds and maintain his speed, he could make a starting linebacker on anybody's team.

Louis Kelcher, SMU; Doug English, Texas; Oscar Roan, SUM; and Doug Hardeman, Texas A&I are all sure to go in the first couple of rounds from this area.

WHAT DO YOU DO when you are behind 65-2 in a high school basketball game? That's what happened in Michigan recently when Portland High School led Saranac High School by that count at halftime. Portland went on to win 124-24, using their third stringers from the first quarter on.

Not Any Longer

CUERNAVACA, MEXICO — To relax in this gentle summertime climate, as equable as any to be found anywhere, is a rare privilege. When headlines in the Mexico News tell of blizzards and ice storms in the North, we are more aware of that privilege while sunning beside the swimming pool.

FOR NEARLY three decades the American abroad has been a privileged character. Whether as traveler, business or government executive, or expatriate, the benefits of the vast power that came into being in the United States after 1940 endowed a special caste.

From the perspective of this retreat and with the start of the new year, a hard look at our privileged position is in order.

LET IT BE said first of all that 1974 saw, if not its end, then the beginning of the end. The reasons are many. The decline of the dollar in the world's money markets is foremost. The cheapened dollar may be an advantage to multinational corporations selling their products abroad. But to the U.S. citizen having enjoyed the privileges of the postwar era, it has quite another look.

THERE IS another reason related to the pinch felt everywhere with the deepening recession. The privileged American living abroad and deriving his income from back home is being subjected to the conditions that apply to the ordinary citizen of the country in which he resides.

This means higher taxes that might even be levied on his income from the United States. That threat voiced by Laborites in Britain has sent a shock wave through the U.S. community in London. The salary of a servant here is still around $80 a month with room and keep. But even that happy condition is qualified by a new requirement that if discharged an employe must be paid at least three months salary.

THIS IS trivial alongside the fundamental change in attitude occurring in recent years. It was expressed in Adlai Stevenson's "Revolution of rising expectations" in the developing world. The haves and the have-nots can no longer be kept in separate compartments.

The pukka sahib of the British in India is a species as extinct as the dodo.

The changed condition calls for far reaching adjustment facing up to new realities. The temptation is to say that if they won't have us on the terms of the past then the hell with it. This is most alluring in the United Nations where in the General Assembly the Communist and Third World powers trampled over the sensitivities of the United States. It glitters in the Middle East where the U.S. fiat has little support. In the event of a new Middle East war American backing of Israel against the Arabs would have shattering consequences. Our isolation would be all but complete.

THE RADICAL adjustment in the face of new realities calls for discipline at home. With roughly five per cent of the world's population, we cannot go on using about one-third of all natural resources. Discipline must begin with oil and it must be applied by the President of the United States. Failure can only mean the spread of chaos everywhere. The rising expectations of the great mass are fed in a variety of ways. One is by the example of the affluent whose big cars honk their way through crowded streets. Another is the enticement of television representing a privileged life while the commercials hold out the lure of things beyond the reach of most viewers.

Now He's Award Crazy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "There's a performer in me, underneath it all," admits composer Marvin Hamlisch, whose alter egos have been in dispute ever since he won three Academy awards.

Until April 2, 1974, Marvin Hamlisch was only a name on the movie credits. Then whammo.

THE BRASH YOUNG man with glasses and well combed hair mounted the Music Center stage three times to claim Oscars for composing the score and title song of "The Way We Were" and adapting Scott Joplin's music for the score of "The Sting."

He was an Instant Celebrity. Mike Douglas asked him to cohost a week of shows. He appeared with Johnny Carson, Dinah Shore, "Hollywood Squares."

People asked for his autograph. ("I was so thrilled, I streaked for them," he jests.) He was here to appear on the Mac Davis Show and to record the theme for the new "Hot L Baltimore" series.

"THE OSCARS provided 48 hours of glee — ecstatic, orgasmic glee," he recalled. "But that was it. The I had to decide what I wanted to do with my life, and that wasn't easy.

"The Oscars put a lot of weight on me.

"I could have taken the easy way out and gone on scoring movies. But now I'm award crazy. I want a Tony, an Emmy and a Grammy, and I won't be satisfied until I get them."

He might even do it. "Hamlisch also bought the rights to the John Osborne play, "The Entertainer," which starred Laurence Olivier on stage and film. Hamlisch is producing it as an NBC television special starring Jack Lemmon.

He is also planning concerts for next summer, including a July 2 date in Cleveland with a 55-piece orchestra. So far he has declined night club appearances.

"I COULDN'T possibly do two shows a night six nights a week," he said. "With me, every show has to be different, and I need to rest in between."

"I believe the concert hall is the place for me as a performer. But I wouldn't want to play music only. I'm also funny. I think I can get something going with an audience, to make more enjoyment for them. No reason a concert has to be formal."

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor: I, Dan Newsom, wish to let the Tejas Cow Belles know that I nurse them cows; I took feed, water, and gave them shots — and they still died on me.

(When) the last cow got down, I prayed to God; that cow is still alive. Who gave you, oh high Tejas Cow Belles, the right to pass judgment on me? I have been farming and ranching since 1949. That was the year I was born.

"Now, really . . . this has to be the silliest duel in history."

Sharp Reversal

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The necessity of a new economic program is being punctuated almost daily by the reports out of corporate headquarters, union halls and government offices.

Few of the reports are good. The only one in recent days that had that appearance, the report that personal income rose in December, was an illusion. It rose because so many were receiving Social Security, welfare and veteran benefits.

The corporate picture has deteriorated suddenly. Throughout most of the year profits had remained high, almost embarrassingly so. But now the bad news about fourth quarter and December declines are being filed.

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please settle a family row. My wife likes food a bit undersalted. That is her taste and there is nothing wrong with it, so I add some more (sometimes) when I get my food on my plate. So does our 13-year-old boy.

But when the boy reaches for the salt shaker, she grabs it away from him and will not let him salt his food to his taste. Her argument is that he is going to damage his health, and kidneys in particular.

I am unable to convince her that table salt is harmless unless one has a heart or kidney problem, and that these anyway are not caused by salt.

But it is useless to argue. She won't listen, so in the end I have to hand the salt shaker over to the boy. The next meal it's the same fighting all over again.

Is table salt detrimental to our health or any part of internal structure, specifically kidneys?

Believe me, doctor, your answer will bring peace to our house at mealtime. If I win a point my wife will have to reconcile herself to that. And if she wins, I will.

—J.D.

I'm not sure I can settle the row, but I'll try to moderate it.

The premier growth company, International Business Machines Corp., reported its first quarterly drop in profits in five years. It was unexpected, at least by some security analysts.

That drop, to $446.5 million from $468.7 million in the comparable period a year ago, still left IBM with higher earnings for the year — $1.84 billion versus $1.58 billion in 1973 — but that only points up the suddenness.

American Telephone & Telegraph Co., the largest corporation of all, turned in a somewhat comparable performance. For the entire year its earnings exceeded those of 1973, but in December they dropped abruptly.

Hundreds of corporations which had enjoyed good fortune during most of 1974 soon will be reporting similar stories of a sharp deterioration of earnings as the year faded out.

These corporate reports already have been forecast by government statistics. Industrial output fell in December by 2.8 per cent, the largest drop in 15 years. Producers of basic materials were operating at only 80 per cent of capacity in December, the Federal Reserve Board related.

Even that last minute spurt in Christmas shopping that seemingly pushed retail sales higher than a year earlier was an illusion. In comparable dollars — inflation eliminated — sales were lower.

Restricts Son's Sale

It is a matter of taste and habit. But as far as the table quibbling is concerned, you are not quite wrong and your wife may have a point.

We consume about twice as much sodium (salt) as we need. You like things a bit saltier, a matter of taste. Your son, age 13, also likes a bit more salt.

But youngsters enjoy shaking most kinds of shakers. Watch them snow down those french fries at the quick food eateries. There is no immediate harm from this.

But one of our chief contemporary health concerns is high blood pressure. There are many causes of this, and whether salt is one of them is debatable. However, once hypertension (high blood pressure) develops, salt becomes a no-no.

For salt users, restriction becomes a real problem, so mother is probably right in trying to discourage the salt "habit" early.

The same logic can be used with regard to the kidneys. Salt does not cause kidney disease. One of their functions is to eliminate it under normal circumstances. But if kidney disease occurs for other reasons, then salt becomes a restricted item.

So why not have peaceful mealtimes? Point out to your

WASHINGTON — Although the CIA is supposed to be secret, everybody in Washington knows at least one person who works for it. My CIA connection is Rumpelmeier, who has been in and out of the cold for 25 years.

"Nobody understands us," Rumpelmeier told me the other day as we changed taxis for the third time to make sure no one was following us.

"WHY DO you say that?" I asked. "Well, take all the hoopla about the CIA that is going on now. They are accusing us of every crime under the sun."

"Are the charges true or not?" "I can't say," he replied.

"Let me get this straight, Rumpelmeier. Accusations have been made against 'the company' which could or could not be true, and, although you say no one understands you, you can't respond to them."

"That's correct. If we answered the allegations we might compromise the illegal actions we had to take in order to do the job we're supposed to do."

"WELL, HOW can we understand you if we don't know what you're doing?"

"Why can't you take us on faith?" he wanted to know.

"I'd like to, Rumpelmeier. Everyone would like to. But if we're not careful you people could turn out to be another KGB. You certainly wouldn't want a KGB in this country would you?"

"I'm not allowed to answer that," Rumpelmeier said.

"THE PROBLEM as I see it," I said, "is that the American people want a strong intelligence agency, but not one that could turn against us."

"You think that way because you don't know us," Rumpelmeier said. "If you knew what we were doing you wouldn't say that."

"Well, what are you doing?" I asked.

"I can't tell you," Rumpelmeier said. "Let's get another taxi."

WE SETTLED in our fourth cab. "Nobody appreciates anything we do," he said sadly. "We're the only ones in this town who can't talk about our work. Do you think it's fun to go to a party and hear everyone bragging about his profession? The guy next door to me is a lawyer. I can't even go to a cocktail party and say, 'I had lunch with a Polish defector today.' It gets to you after a while."

"Of course it does," I said sympathetically. "But don't forget, you chose to work for the company. Surely you knew what you were getting into when you joined up."

"Everybody needs appreciation," he said as tears came into his eyes. "We all like to hear people say, 'Well done.'"

"But how can I tell you 'Well done' when I have no idea what you did? Now if you said you were involved in the Chile operation, I could at least pat you on the back."

"I didn't say I was involved in the Chile operation," he said quickly. "I don't want credit for it. Just say 'well done!'"

"Well done!"

"What for?" he asked nervously.

My Answer

Billy Graham

I am a 43 year old woman trying to become a better Christian. I know God forgives our sins, but when I was 12 or 13, I used the Lord's name in vain in a moment of anger. Although I asked for forgiveness, I have a haunting fear that I'll always be charged with violating that commandment.

To be sure, the third commandment is quite specific. "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain; for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain." (Exodus 20:7)

But now, to feel that you can't claim God's pardon for your particular sin is to deny another part of Scripture — like Romans 6:14 which asserts "You are not under law but under grace." Read what Paul says in chapter 7 of Romans also, where he suddenly exclaims about the remedy for lawbreaking. "Thanks be to God through Jesus Christ our Lord."

By your persistence in remembering an old sin, you limit God's power and you frustrate the Holy Spirit's effort to give you peace of mind and heart. Turn over to the Lord not only that original blasphemy, but the control of your mind now. You'll discover He can help you forget the past, and live guilt free in the present.

A Devotion For Today . . .

"I am that living bread which has come down from heaven; if anyone eats this bread he shall live forever." (John 6:51 NEB)

PRAYER: "We taste Thee, O Thou Living Bread, And long to feast upon Thee still." Amen.

Voters Are Urged To Accept Responsibility

Mrs. Zarah Bednar, Howard County tax assessor and collector, was guest speaker for Center Point Home Demonstration Club meeting Tuesday at Kentwood Center.

Mrs. Bob Wren and Mrs. Alden Ryan were hostesses and Mrs. Glen Howell was introduced as a new member.

Using the topic, "Tomorrow Is Now," Mrs. Bednar spoke on responsibility of citizens as voters. She reported a potential voting strength of 16,000 in Howard County which frequently has more than 2,000 voters at the polls. She said there was to be revision in voter and car registration.

The speaker pointed out what she considered "dangers" in parts of the Equal Rights Amendment. She urged the women to inform themselves on this amendment and write their state representatives to let them know their feelings.

Mrs. D. W. Griffith and Mrs. Gen Davidson will be club representatives to the Howard County Bicentennial Commission.

In other business, Mrs. J. R. Petty, THDA nominee, said she will attend the District 2 spring conference in March. The club donated $5 to the Kentwood Center, and will provide six workers and pies for the 4-H Stock Show. Mrs. Kenneth Orr reported from the HD Council.

Mrs. Dana Feaster, Texas Electric Service Company

Mrs. Gene Adams was hostess for the meeting Tuesday of Xi Mu Exemplar Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi.

Mrs. Lamar Green presided in the absence of the president, and plans were completed for a valentine party to be held Feb. 15 in the home of Mrs. Cliff Hale, 1304 E. 18th.

Mrs. LaRue Rankin led a discussion on Jacqueline Susann's last book, "Once Is Not Enough."

Mrs. Harry McMillan will host the Feb. 28 meeting at her home, 2708 Crestline.

Mrs. R. X. McNew became noble grand of Big Spring Rebekah Lodge 294 in formal ceremonies held Tuesday evening in the IOOF Hall.

Other elective officers installed were Mrs. D. A. Jones, vice grand; Mrs. T. A. Melton, recording secretary; Mrs. Jewel Fields, financial secretary; Mrs. Lonnie Griffith, treasurer; Mrs. Janel Awtry, lodge deputy; Mrs. Robert Wilson, representative; Mrs. Dwite Gilliland, alternate and junior past noble grand; and Mrs. I. O. Collins, district deputy president.

Appointive officers are Mrs. James Norwood, warden and reporter; Mrs. Lillie Southard, conductor; Mrs. Marvin Holland, chaplain; Mrs. Logan Grider, musician and term mother; Mrs. Lee Burklow, U.S. color bearer; Mrs. Fimmie McCormick, Rebekah color bearer; Mrs. Lola Cockham and Mrs. James Wiggins, outside and inside guardians; Mrs.

Collins and Mrs. Minne Unger, right and left supports to the noble grand; Mrs. Beulah Morrison and Mrs. A. F. Hill, right and left supports to the past noble grand; Mrs. Earl Wilson and Mrs. C. C. Cunningham, right and left supports to the vice grand; and Mrs. Robert Wilson and Mrs. Louis Carruth, right and left supports to the chaplain.

Mrs. Earl Wilson will serve as funeral marcher. Mrs. Alma Crenshaw is lodge mother, and R. X. McNew was named lodge sweetheart. The right and left altar bearers are Mrs. Winnifred Wood and Mrs. Dottie Adcock. Mrs. Crenshaw is the team captain, and Mrs. Norma Newton, song leader.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a beige lace cloth, and candles and napkins were orchid-mixed flowers. The lodge meets every Tuesday evening in the IOOF Hall, Ninth and San Antonio.

When I tried to check in I was told that my reservation had been cancelled. I never cancelled my reservation, and I told them so.

Then they informed me that their computer had informed them that since I was a "no show" on the flight from New York to Nebraska, I was automatically cancelled on the return flight.

I tried to explain to the man behind the counter that I was NOT a "no show" because I was standing right there in front of him and I showed my ticket which indicated that I had indeed flown from New York to Omaha. He said he was sorry, but the computer showed me as a "no show" — and, Abby, if it had not been for another "no show," I wouldn't have been able to board that flight and get back to New York.

What should I have done? A "NO SHOW" THAT SHOWED

DEAR "NO SHOW": I'd have told the man behind the counter that since the computer insisted that I was a "no show," the airline should reimburse me for the ticket from New York to Omaha.

DEAR ABBY: I am still disturbed by your answer to "Appalled Mother," who was upset because so many strangers touched her baby. She was fearful that the child might be contaminated. You said, "Tell the strangers, 'Please don't touch.'"

Abby, don't you know that touching is one of the most important means of communicating among humans? In rational therapy we call it "stroking." One strokes another by giving him a compliment. Or by simply saying, "I like you." Touching is another way of stroking.

The mother who is appalled when people touch her child is conditioning that child to believe that touching and being touched is a no-no. And so another lonely human is made.

Many people in today's society have been conditioned not to touch each other, but when we want to comfort someone, the most natural thing to do is to put our arms around the sad one, or just hold him in our arms.

If we would only DO what we feel like doing at the moment there would be fewer lonely people. And isn't loneliness one of life's greatest tragedies?

I wish you had told "Appalled Mother" that touching is an important step away from loneliness. I read your column in the Beloit, Wisconsin News, and think you are one of the most rational people I don't now. But if we ever meet, you can count on a big hug!

EDWARD VENEMAN
DEAR EDWARD: And I'll probably hug you right back. Your sensible letter has "conditioned" me.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I will be celebrating our golden wedding anniversary in March, and our children and grandchildren are going to give us a big celebration, which we are very pleased about.

Now the question: We positively do not want anyone to go out and buy us a present — or even make a donation in our honor. All we want is for those invited to come and rejoice with us.

How should this be worded on the invitations? We don't want to offend anyone, but we want it understood that we are sincere when we ask them to please forget about presents and donations.

Thank you!
MR. AND MRS. B
DEAR B'S: On the bottom of the invitation, add, "Positively no gifts, please!"

When I tried to check in I was told that my reservation had been cancelled. I never cancelled my reservation, and I told them so.

Then they informed me that their computer had informed them that since I was a "no show" on the flight from New York to Nebraska, I was automatically cancelled on the return flight.

I tried to explain to the man behind the counter that I was NOT a "no show" because I was standing right there in front of him and I showed my ticket which indicated that I had indeed flown from New York to Omaha. He said he was sorry, but the computer showed me as a "no show" — and, Abby, if it had not been for another "no show," I wouldn't have been able to board that flight and get back to New York.

What should I have done? A "NO SHOW" THAT SHOWED

DEAR "NO SHOW": I'd have told the man behind the counter that since the computer insisted that I was a "no show," the airline should reimburse me for the ticket from New York to Omaha.

DEAR ABBY: I am still disturbed by your answer to "Appalled Mother," who was upset because so many strangers touched her baby. She was fearful that the child might be contaminated. You said, "Tell the strangers, 'Please don't touch.'"

Abby, don't you know that touching is one of the most important means of communicating among humans? In rational therapy we call it "stroking." One strokes another by giving him a compliment. Or by simply saying, "I like you." Touching is another way of stroking.

The mother who is appalled when people touch her child is conditioning that child to believe that touching and being touched is a no-no. And so another lonely human is made.

Many people in today's society have been conditioned not to touch each other, but when we want to comfort someone, the most natural thing to do is to put our arms around the sad one, or just hold him in our arms.

If we would only DO what we feel like doing at the moment there would be fewer lonely people. And isn't loneliness one of life's greatest tragedies?

I wish you had told "Appalled Mother" that touching is an important step away from loneliness. I read your column in the Beloit, Wisconsin News, and think you are one of the most rational people I don't now. But if we ever meet, you can count on a big hug!

EDWARD VENEMAN
DEAR EDWARD: And I'll probably hug you right back. Your sensible letter has "conditioned" me.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I will be celebrating our golden wedding anniversary in March, and our children and grandchildren are going to give us a big celebration, which we are very pleased about.

Now the question: We positively do not want anyone to go out and buy us a present — or even make a donation in our honor. All we want is for those invited to come and rejoice with us.

How should this be worded on the invitations? We don't want to offend anyone, but we want it understood that we are sincere when we ask them to please forget about presents and donations.

Thank you!
MR. AND MRS. B
DEAR B'S: On the bottom of the invitation, add, "Positively no gifts, please!"

MARYLAND TACKLE

White Accepts Another Award

HOUSTON (AP) — Opposing offensive lineman marvel at the moves of Maryland's All-American defensive tackle, Randy White, but his most practiced maneuver these days is standing up to accept another award.

Decorated earlier as the Outland Trophy winner and the Athlete of the Year for Delaware, White showed his best form again Thursday night when he stood up as winner of the fifth Vince Lombardi Award as the nation's outstanding lineman.

"I'm going to do everything possible to live up to what this trophy stands for," the 6-2, 250-pounder said after accepting the award.

Asked if the 45-pound granite fleck trophy was heavy, White replied "I can't feel a thing right now. It's as light as a feather."

Other finalists for the award, named in honor of the former Green Bay and Washington coach who died in 1970 of cancer, were Southern Methodist nose guard Louie Kelcher, Ohio State defensive tackle Pete Cusick and Oklahoma linebaker Rod Shoate.

Proceeds from the $100 per plate dinner go to the American Cancer Society for research. An estimated 700 persons attended the dinner.

White, a 6-foot-2 250-pounder who had 147 tackles and 12 quarterback sacks in helping Maryland to five shutout victories and a Liberty Bowl berth, also may be in for more honors in the upcoming National Football League draft.

An almost certain first round selection, White could be the first player picked up in the Jan. 28 draft.

Baltimore will flip a coin with Dallas for the right to select first. The Colts and the New York Giants finished with 2-12 records, worst in the league, but the Giants traded their first-round draft pick to the Cowboys to get quarterback Craig Morton.

"Yes, I'd like to play in Baltimore," White said. "I have a lot of friends there. But I'll go anywhere to play pro football."

Hawks Sock Plainsmen In West Cliff-Hanger

By CLARK LESHNER

A game Howard College had to win, the crowd-pleasing Hawks coming off back-to-back defeats used brute strength to subdue Frank Phillips 98-85 here Thursday night.

The electrifying Western Conference setting was watched before a dismayed half-filled representation in the Hawk gym.

HC further enlightened its conference repeat crown chances as the Hawks now display a 4-1 record compared to a respectable 14-5 seasonal record. The Plainsmen are 1-4 in the WJCAC and 5-8 overall.

The Hawks face a stern test with conference leader, Western Texas, (4-0), in Snyder next Monday. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

The contest came down to the eight second final-half wire before the Hawks firmly put the game on ice.

Howard College, ahead by one, 96-95, stole the ball from Frank Phillips, raced down court with David Giles' jumper finding its target at the buzzer.

Ironically, Giles had pumped one in from the floor just as the buzzer sounded the end of the first half.

Frank Phillips was somewhat faced with a serious handicap in the late stages of the Western shootout. The Plainsmen had seven players suited up and three exited via the foul route, the latter leaving with 1:36 on the clock.

Frank Phillips socked the revamped Hawk lineup in the early stages by building up a commanding 23-10 lead before the Hawks took notice of the situation.

The Plainsmen's press and double-team tactics paid off at that point.

HC's gifted marksman, Marvin Johnson, rebounded in true fashion from the Panola nightmare. He smashed in 24 first half points to lead the Hawks out of the wilderness.

Alan Davis, Jerry Williams and Don Davis, who donned a Hawk suit for the first time this year, had a hand in untopping HC's somewhat plugged-up offense.

Alfred Gladden, pressed into starting service recently, injected new life into the Hawks in the closing stages of the first half. He thrilled the spectators by racing the length of the court for a well-needed Hawk two points.

The lead changed hands so many times in the first half a score card was needed with the Hawks barging ahead at half-time, 50-49, on the strength of Larry Erves' shot and Giles' timely tip-in.

An oddity to the game featured no tip-off beginning second half play. The Plainsmen coach, Audie Apple, was saddled with two technical fouls at the intermission break. Game rules awarded the ball to the Hawks on the succeeding play.

The score was deadlocked three times and changed hands five times in the last half. Howard College had to wait until the 93-92 stage before taking command of the game for good.

Scoring duel between Western Conference's scoring ace, Frank Phillips' Charles Smith and the Hawks' Johnson never came off. Smith was averaging 24.6 points per game coming into this contest. The 6-3 freshman totaled out 21 points, 16 occurring the first half.

The Hawks moved four men across the double digit column. Johnson, in regaining his scoring touch, led off with 35 big ones followed by Erves with 23, Giles, 17 and Gladden, 12.

All but two of Giles' points came about in the second half and helped provide the punch needed to overhaul Frank Phillips.

Frank Phillips' Travis Jefferson shouldered his team's scoring load left vacant by Smith. Jefferson kept the Plainsmen in close contention with HC on his 10 point second half effort.

Charles Smith and Harold Holland paced FPC scorers, shooting through 22 points each.

Erves played the last 10 minutes with four personals and fouled out with 2:03 remaining in the game. When the game was in the record book, Frank Phillips had three men faced with four personals.

The Hawks readily felt the absence of 6-1 freshman playmaker, Johnny Harris. The swift-moving middle man on the Hawks fast break twisted his right ankle prior to Wednesday's drille.

Harris suited up for Frank Phillips, but his noticable limp prevented him from taking part in the contest.

Giles, 6-9 Hawk postman, who was listed as a questionable performer, did see action. His right hand was heavily taped as a result of a game mishap in Tuesday's Amarillo loss.

The Hawks have won nine of their 10 home games this campaign, the lone scar having been inflicted by Panola in the historic ABC Classic.

'NEW YEAR, NEW TEAM' Terps Score Easy Win Over Wolfpack

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — "It's a new year, new teams, and different people out there," Maryland's Tom Roy said after the fifth-ranked Terps scored a surprisingly easy 103-35 basketball victory over fourth-ranked North Carolina State.

That was the senior center's response Thursday night after being needed that it was about time for a Maryland victory, after six consecutive losses to North Carolina State over the past two seasons.

Both powers have four players back who either started or played extensively last year, when North Carolina State beat Maryland in overtime for the Atlantic Coast Conference title and then edged UCLA in double overtime in the NCAA semi-final playoffs.

But it was a new player for the Terps and a missing star from the Wolfpack lineup which contributed heavily to the turnabout. Plus some questionable strategy by Coach Norm Sloan of North Carolina State. The leading scorers for both teams performed as expected, David Thompson pumping in 33 for State and John Lucas 30 for Maryland. Both are veterans of all six previous confrontations won by the Wolfpack.

But freshman Brad Davis, new to the pressure of ACC competition, contributed 15 points and six assists to 12-1, including 4-0 in league play.

North Carolina State, 10-2 with a 1-1 ACC mark, showed it is not the same team without the dominating presence of 7-foot-4 Tom Burleson, who is now in the National Basketball Association.

"You have to be good when you have David Thompson and Monte Towe," Lucas said, "but Burleson was the intimidator. I never thought about driving with Burleson in there."

With Maryland enjoying a slight height advantage, Sloan started with a zone and stayed with it until early in the second half. He blamed himself, but the Terps did equally well against the man-to-man and finished with a 65 per cent shooting average.

Oregon, the nation's No. 8 team, was the only other ranked club in action Thursday night. The Ducks beat Washington State 69-68 on Ron Lee's 18-foot jump shot with one second left.

The Ducks, 11-1, led by as much as 12 points in the first half, but the Cougars erased that advantage midway in the second half. After the Cougars took their first lead, 54-53, on a Norton Barnhill free throw with 8:23 left in the game, the score saw-sawed until Lee's final shot. Elsewhere in college basketball, New Mexico State beat Bradley 76-74 on a 12-foot shot at the buzzer by Jim Bestic; Steve Walsh's passing and playmaking led St. Louis past Tulsa 71-65; Neil Strom scored 21 points to lead Wichita State past West Texas State 60-55; Gary Tomaszewski and David Bulik scored 28 and 24 points respectively as St. Mary's University stopped Houston 85-74; Jerry Jenkins poured in 32 points to lead Mississippi State over LSU 93-84 and the University of Pacific ripped Ball State 83-69 behind Keith Young's 23 points.

Western Climbs Ladder

Western Texas moved up from seventh to sixth in the latest National Junior College Athletic Association basketball poll released from Hutchinson, Kans.

The Snyder-based five showed a 15-1 record.

San Jacinto College of Pasadena leads the Top 20 pack with a 15-0 record, trailed by Hutchinson, 13-0.

Dennis Davis, Somerset, (Ky.) Community College is the individual national juco scorer with a 33.6 point average per game. Kevin Tucker, Staten Island, (N.Y.) Community College is 21st, reflecting a 27.4 total.

The team offensive leader is Coastal Carolina Community College of Jacksonville, N.C., averaging 118.4 points per contest.

Mercer County Community College, Trenton, N.J. is the stingiest point giver, yielding an average of 52.8 points per game. Champlain College of Burlington, Vermont ranks No. 18 with a 64.5

Johnny's Swing In Top (T) Form

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — It's the same song, second verse, it's Johnny Miller. And he's leading another golf tournament.

This time it's the $200,000 Dean Martin-Tucson Open. Miller, pro golfer's unreachable star of the past few months, had a six-under-par 66 in Thursday's opening round and took a one-stroke lead.

"I think it's natural, the thing you expect, to have a let-down after you've won a tournament," Miller said of his record triumph in Phoenix last week.

"Well, I think I had mine early in the round. I didn't start very good. I was one-over after three holes. I turned it around pretty good. I think I'm over the let-down. If I keep on hitting the ball like I did today, I don't think they can beat me."

One stroke back at 67 were John Mahaffey and a couple of longshot challengers, Don Iverson and Ralph Johnson, neither of whom ever has won.

Lee Trevino, although weakened by the flu and gulping medication, headed the group at 68. Also at that figure were Mike Hill, veterans Miller Barber and Lou Graham, Leonard Thompson and the only black ever to qualify for the Masters, Lee Elder.

Arnold Palmer, making his first start of the season, was three under par after 16 holes and had dead aim on the early leaders before he encountered a newly constructed lake and finished double bogey-bogey for a 72.

Bucks Bounce Back

By The Associated Press
The Milwaukee Bucks slipped to the lowest depth in their history earlier this season when they were without their big man, 7-3 1/2-inch Kareem Abdul-Jabbar. Now, with their towering center back, they have reached their season's peak. The Bucks, losers of 13 of their first 14 games while Abdul-Jabbar was recuperating from a severely lacerated eye and a broken bone in his hand, squared their record at 21-21 Thursday night with a 119-100 victory over the Golden State Warriors at Kareem scored 40 points. The triumph lifted the surging Bucks to within three games of first-place Detroit in the Midwest Division of the National Basketball Association. While Abdul-Jabba was continuing his brilliant comeback from his early-season injuries, Portland's Bill Walton, the most celebrated rookie to enter the league since Kareem started his pro career in 1969, also made a comeback, but not a successful one. Walton, sidelined since Nov. 23 because of injuries, including a bone spur in his right ankle, scored only two points in a reserve role as the Cleveland Cavaliers beat the Trail Blazers 89-81. Elsewhere in the NBA, the Atlanta Hawks upended the Washington Bullets 108-85, and the Seattle SuperSonics outlasted the Houston Rockets 127-125 in overtime. In the only game in the American Basketball Association, the Denver Nuggets downed the Utah Stars 115-104. "It's been a long climb," said Milwaukee Coach Larry Costello after the Bucks had beaten Golden State and climbed to the .500 level. "We started out 1-13, so we're very happy we got to .500 as fast as we have." Rick Barry, the league's leading scorer, paced the Warriors with 26 points, but sank only 12 of 34 shots from the floor. Walton played only 14 minutes for Portland against Cleveland, his only points coming on two free throws. He missed all five of his field goal attempts. "He's got a long way to go," observed Portland Coach Lenny Wilkens. "I obviously was not pleased with what he did out there tonight, knowing what he can do."

Joe Greene On All-Pro

NEW YORK (AP) — Only six players, including Super Bowlers Joe Greene, Alan Page and Ron Yary, were repeat selections among the top 24 offensive and defensive players on the 1974 Pro Football Writers of America All-Pro team announced today. Miami guard Larry Little, Buffalo running back O. J. Simpson and Oakland punter Ray Guy also were repeaters on the team, determined by vote of writers in the various National Football League cities. It was Little's fourth straight year on the squad. Greene, the ferocious defensive tackle who helped lead Pittsburgh over Minnesota 16-6 in Super Bowl IX, was one of three Steelers on the All-Pro team.

LEE OWNS 14 STRAIGHT WINS

Steers Ready For Rebel Charge

By CLARK LESHER
Big Spring will be pulling all stops to halt Midland Lee's 14-game winning streak here tonight at 8 in the Steer gym. A 5-4A District victory is at stake. The high school activities building should be packed to the rafters for this thrill-packed show. Lee assumed sole possession of first place in the district Tuesday. The previous two co-leaders, Cooper fell to the Rebels, 76-64 and Abilene High upset Midland High, 64-51. Lee stands 3-0 in 5-4A and 19-1 overall. Cooper, Midland and Permian all share second place, 2-1 each. District wins for Lee besides Cooper were over Odessa High, 63-46 and San Angelo, 72-57. Lee is averaging 68.8 points per game compared to Big Spring's 52.7 output. The Steers are 1-2 in 5-4A and 5-16 overall. Lee has been going like gangbusters since losing to Hobbs, 101-75 on the New Mexican's home court, then bounced the Eagles by 23 points in Midland. The 14 victories include: Amarillo, Snyder, Plainview twice, El Paso Austin, Irwin of El Paso, Hobbs, Monahans, Killeen, Waco, Pecos, Odessa, San Angelo and Cooper. Coach Paul Stuckler of Lee will stick to his usual versatile five which has shown balanced scoring all year long. They include: 6-5 senior Jeffrey Jackson, 6-5 junior Junior Miller, 6-0 senior Brett Blackwell, 6-2 senior Ron Farish and 6-0 senior Gary Parson. Lee's triple scoring punch is directed by Miller with a 16.7 point per game average followed by Blackwell, 16.0 and Jackson 3.0. Turnovers killed Lee in the first half against Cooper with the Rebels coughing up the ball 12 times and lost five more in the second half. Blackwell, who connected on 11 of 12 free throws during the game, hit an amazing eight-out-of-eight in the final period. Parson had three key steals. Lee hit a blistering 22 of 28 free throws and 27 of 52 shots from the floor for 52 per cent. Playing in the Panther gym, Tuesday night, the Steers failed to get untracked as they lost by a 69-55 count. Bubba Stripling paced Big Spring scorers with 15 points. Apparently Permian didn't realize the value of Brad Van Cleave until they lost them. The team's second leading scorer at a 13.1 point average per game was home battling the flu. Panther cage boss wasn't too happy in the game result with Big Spring. "It's hard to really pin down the reasons why we didn't play better. Just about everybody played well at one point in the game, but we weren't consistent." Big Spring stayed within nine points of Mojo through the first period and early part of the second. Permian with its awesome scoring attack pulled away from the Steers and coasted in for the win. Through three district games, Big Spring's 6-3 1/2 junior James Zapp and 6-1 junior Robert Aldridge are averaging well in the double figures. Zapp leads off with a 15.3 point per game average and Aldridge, second, 12. Ron Plumlee, Steer head master, who has experienced success in breaking Lee's renowned press, split last year's two-game Rebel series. Big Spring won on the road by two and lost by the same margin at home. Plumlee sees no shakeup in the lineup to combat Lee's talent. The Steer regular floor plan revolves around Zapp and Aldridge, 6-1 junior James Ray, 5-6 sophomore Elroy Green and 6-3 Mark Moore. Quick help comes from 6-4 senior David Owens, 6-2 Bobby Winters and 5-9 senior David Beasley. Tonight's schedule besides Lee at Big Spring, finds San Angelo at Midland, Abilene Cooper and Permian and Odessa High at Abilene.

NEW YORK (AP) — The Super Bowl champion Pittsburgh Steelers are one of 11 National Football League teams that have collected extra draft choices for the annual NFL player draft, set for Jan. 28 here. The Steelers have 21 picks in the 17-round draft. The Los Angeles Rams have three first-round choices and have 11 selections over the first five rounds. Dallas, Houston and San Diego have two first-round picks each. The New York Giants and the Baltimore Colts, tied at 2-12 with the worst records of the 1974 season, will flip a coin Sunday to see who gets the No. 1 pick in the draft. The Giants, however, have already dealt their first-round pick to Dallas in exchange for quarterback Craig Morton.

Blues early in the National Hockey League season via a trade, has been sent to the Blues' Denver Spurs farm club in the Central Hockey League. The 28-year-old Evans was a top penalty-killer in 1972-73 and was traded last February. Evans had three assists in 22 games since he was reacquired by the Blues from the Scouts.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ten St. Louis Cardinals, including 1974 National League Rookie of the Year Bake McBride and slick-fielding third baseman Ken Peitz, have signed their 1974 baseball contracts. McBride hit .309 during his first full season last year and stole 30 bases while Reitz batted .271. Other Cardinals in the latest group announced as having signed their contracts include left-handed pitcher Claude Osteen, first baseman Ron Fairly and outfielder Larry Herndon.

Oerlemans, along with two fellow crewmen, reached the Caribbean island Thursday aboard a six-ton steel raft after an 81-day voyage across the Atlantic. Oerlemans observed: "It is not good for two men or three to undertake such a voyage. A woman and a man I think that's good, but definitely not two or three men."

City Has Until March 1 To Apply For Funds

The Community Development Act of 1974 designated more than $119,000,000 in Community Development Funds for Texas in 1975. Some $1,068,314,000 has been set aside for the next six years. Big Spring is eligible to compete for more than $12 million in 1975. Larger cities with a population of 50,000 or above have received tentative funding levels, while smaller cities (under 50,000) must compete for their funds.

The city has until March 1 to submit a preapplication, which has not been made available at this date. If HUD area office in Dallas approves this preapplication, the city will be eligible to submit a full application, no later than May 15, 1975. The acceptance of applications and determination of funding levels will be determined by how well the city evaluates its needs and designs plans to fulfill these needs. There are restrictions on how the money can be spent. Three priorities of the act are:

Meet housing needs of families expected to seek housing in the community, particularly low or moderate income families;

Prevent and eliminate slums and blight through renewal, code enforcement, and community improvement programs. Improve and upgrade community services and facilities to meet social needs of residents in areas affected by community development activities.

The citizen's participation is most important, according to city officials and HUD will grade the city on this. When the application process is begun, town hall meetings will be held in order to inform citizens that the city has available money and want to know how the citizens want it spent, explain guidelines, and eligible and ineligible activities.

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Former Gov. David Hall, charged with an attempted bribery scheme that allegedly extended through his last day in office, smilingly predicted he will be vindicated and his enemies "will be exposed."

Hall and two Texas men were indicted by a federal grand jury Thursday on six counts alleging they tried to bribe Secretary of State John Rogers to influence investment of $10 million in state pension funds. Hall was accused of offering to split a $50,000 bribe with Rogers, who heads the board that administers the $93 million retirement fund for state employees. Rogers reported the alleged attempt to officials.

Hall, the only former Oklahoma governor ever charged with a felony, was named on four counts of extortion and illegal use of interstate facilities. Conviction on all four counts would carry a maximum penalty of 35 years in prison and fines totaling $40,000. A 44-year-old Democrat whose term ended Monday, Hall appeared briefly before U.S. Magistrate Charles Jones and was released after being fingerprinted, photographed and posting $2,500 bond. Jones set bond at $25,000, but Hall was freed after making a 10 percent deposit.

Hall has contended for several months that U.S. Atty. William R. Burkett, a former Republican state chairman, has been harassing him by leaking information to news media.

He didn't mention Burkett after his bond hearing, but Hall said he is glad that the case finally will be in the courts.

"For the past 4 1/2 years myself and my family have been subjected to harassment and abuse," Hall declared. "That harassment has included wiretapping, burglary, mail tampering and pilfering, taping of conversations and malicious accusations."

"I'm glad that today we take this out of the newspapers and put it in the courtrooms where it belongs."

"I feel that when the evidence is presented I will be vindicated and those who conspired against me will be exposed."

TWO TEXANS ACCUSED U.S. Dist. Court Judge Fred Draughtery will set an arrangement date for Hall and the other defendants after the jury makes a report on other pending cases today. A trial date will be set later.

Hall was charged with W. Taylor and R. Kevin Mooney, both Texans and officials of Guaranteed Investors Corp., with trying to influence the board to invest in GIC. The two Texas men are accused on three counts each.

Burkett said Rogers reported the alleged bribe attempt to State Atty. Gen. Larry Derryberry, who relayed word to the FBI.

GREAT SKILL

Rogers reportedly recorded several conversations with Hall, Taylor and Mooney, using equipment supplied by federal agents. Burkett refused to comment on that report, but said Rogers deserved "real credit... for the great skill and ingenuity" he demonstrated in assisting with the investigation.

The indictment alleges Hall joined Taylor and Mooney in an attempt to bribe Rogers starting Dec. 3 and continuing through last Monday, Hall's final day as governor.

Rogers testified before the federal grand jury for about 90 minutes Wednesday to outline details of the alleged bribe attempt. The jury also reportedly listened to recordings of Rogers conversations with Hall, Taylor and Mooney.

ALLEGED KICKBACKS

Mooney and Taylor were arrested Tuesday on a complaint by FBI agents alleging they had tried to bribe Rogers.

The grand jury is expected to issue a report later this year on its lengthy investigation of alleged kickbacks on contracts during the Hall administration and an equally long Internal Revenue Service investigation of Hall's tax returns.

Fewer Patients Seen For State Hospital

By TROY BRYANT

Dr. Kenneth Gaver, Commissioner of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, said that the trend in the Texas MH-MR system is that more and more patients are being treated at community outreach centers and fewer and fewer patients are being admitted as regular State Hospital patients. "We can expect that the population of the Big Spring State Hospital will continue to decline because of the decentralizing of the treatment system," he said. Dr. Gaver was in Big Spring as the featured speaker at the Big Spring State Hospital Volunteer Council Banquet Thursday.

"All hospitals will be declining in population, which will make for a higher quality of service to the patients who are still hospitalized." He noted that the outreach centers made treatment possible for the patients not severely ill, without taking them away from their families and their jobs.

He said that if the population at the local State Hospital declines too much, the service area may be expanded.

Dr. Gaver said that the Texas Dept. of Mental Health and Mental Retardation is having to deal with tremendous problems brought on by a recent court decision which ordered that the "criminally insane" patients who were committed to the Rusk State Hospital after being found innocent by reason of insanity at their trials, are to be treated the same as any other patient. As a result, several of the patients who were accused of murder were released or transferred to minimum security hospitals.

"Dr. Robert Sheldon, who used to be here at the Big Spring Hospital, is faced with the problem of deciding which patients should be released or transferred, according to the decision," Dr. Gaver said. The Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation along with the Attorney General's office is seeking to appeal the decision to higher courts.

"Surveys show that more and more young people are being admitted to State Hospitals for treatment," Dr. Gaver said, "Possibly because of changes in the community and family are not preparing some youths to function well in society."

He noted that partially because of the scarcity of drugs, more and more young people are turning away from drugs and are using alcohol. About 60 people attended a reception for Dr. Gaver at the First Federal Community room Thursday morning, and more than 300 attended the banquet.

LAWMAKERS TAKE OFF FOR THREE-DAY WEEKEND

House Approves Rule Changes

Date Changed

The 120 person jury panel called for Monday in 118th District Court should report Thursday at 10 a.m., instead.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas legislators were on their first three-day weekend of the new session today after winding up the week with House approval of rules changes sought by new Speaker Bill Clayton. They return to work Monday. Clayton won a 102-24 vote for the new rules Thursday night after a five-hour debate that saw some two dozen amendments defeated. BUTTON PUSHING His rule changes increase the number of committees from 21 to 28, spread appropriations review among several committees and require approval of a majority of a committee's members — not just a quorum present — to pass a bill to the floor. They also wipe out a requirement of an oral roll call at the start of each day.

DAYS ARE NUMBERED — This entry in the annual Howard County Junior Livestock Show looks thoughtful as FFA youths and 4-H clubbers get their entries in top shape for judging today. Following the awarding of prizes is the junior livestock auction and sale Saturday. Center of activity is the Howard County Fair Barns. Tomorrow's auction gets under way at 10 a.m.

Hays Is In Austin

Dr. Charles Hays, president of Howard College, is in Austin in interest of the junior college appropriations for the biennium.

Recently the Legislative Budget Board pared the HC request for $658,701 for 1976 to $528,258 and the 1977 request from $698,099 to $585,980 for general academic programs.

It reduced the college's request in 1976 for $381,381 for occupation education to $330,604, and the 1977 request from $403,017 to $351,741. Thus the LBB recommendations would be for $858,258 the first year and $937,721 the second.

Dr. Hays said that he was hopeful that the college could come up with somewhere between $150,000 and $200,000 more state appropriations for the current year, the college will be able to operate in the black.

The LBB figures are simply a guide for the legislature, and in the past usually the Legislature approves somewhat more than the LBB recommendations.

First Baptist History Dates Back To 1886

On a Saturday afternoon—November 13, 1886—a handful of Baptists who held membership elsewhere met to organize the First Baptist Church in the village of Big Spring.

They elected the Rev. S. B. Calloway as pastor to devote one-fourth of his time to the new charge, adopted the articles of faith and the church covenant, and gave their congregation the name of the "First Baptist Church of Christ." The next day, using the Methodist Church, first services were held.

Eight persons had been at the organization meeting and five others joined at the first service as charter members. Today, nearly 80 years, 26 pastors and four houses of worship later, the church has grown to 1,948 members (1,344 resident; 604 non-resident) and has Sunday school enrollment of 1,055 and Training Union enrollment of 412. The budget of $200 a year has multiplied to approximately $180,000.

Like so many other institutions, the church had to struggle for existence. The tiny band who planted the seed consisted of Dr. and Mrs. John Anglin, Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Bressie, Mrs. Gideon Mills, Mrs. T. E. Harmon, a Mrs. Drake, Mrs. J. B. Spearman, and Mary E. Willis and Sada Everett, plus a Mrs. Matthews, who came as a candidate for baptism at the very first worship service.

CHURCH BURNS

From the beginning the church had an evangelistic spirit, and by May 8, 1887, the first revival was held with J. A. Moore, Sweetwater, leading. Throughout the next four score years mountain-peak experiences were to come, among them in March 1908, when over 80 were received into the church. But the church lay in ruins from fire before the day was over.

In 1916 an outdoor meeting which lasted three weeks was started, but "it had to be moved indoors because the preacher (Rev. English) couldn't stand the wind."

Dr. G. W. Truett, a giant among Southern Baptist pastors, led a meeting in March 1933, with addition of over 70 members, 38 by baptism. Dr. W. R. White, Dr. C. Roy Angel, Dr. Perry Webb, Dr. I. E. Gates, Dr. J. Howard Williams and Dr. K. Owen White were among other top figures leading in meetings, but none reaped a harvest to equal that from the preaching of an intense Jew, Hyman Appleman, in May 1939. That meeting produced 116 baptisms and 82 adherents by letter.

PREFERRED TO DANCE

From the start, too, the church rode a tight herd on errant members, and early minutes reflect frequent discipline and forgiveness. Not all were effective, however, for one young lady said she preferred dancing to the church and was erased from the rolls.

In 1889 the church sent a messenger, the pastor, for the first time to the Baptist General Convention of Texas. The following year a debate arose over whether to use the organ in worship, but when put to a vote September 15, 1890, the organ won 11-5.

The church was not a year old when Rev. Calloway gave way to Rev. L. R. Mullican, circuit preacher to figured prominently in several early West Texas churches. Others who have served as pastor include: J. W. Slaton (91-92), W. C. Friley, first president of Hardin Simmons University, (92-94); J. E. Perimeter (94-96); G. W. Smith, a co-founder of H-SU (96-98); Charles T. Alexander (98); J. M. Wollman (99); G. H. M. Wilson (1900-04); S. E. Smith (04-07); G. W. Sherman (08); Wilson Rogers (09); J. W. Bates (09-11); W. T. Sherrard (11-12); A. C. Miller (13-14); W. H. Sims (15-16); W. A. Bowen (16-18) and again in 1920 after time out to serve as chaplain in World War I.

W. C. Garrett (1919), Sam Kendrick (21), P. C. Bass (21), E. N. Strother (22-24), Dow Heard (24-30), R. E. Day (30-37), C. E. Lancaster (37-41), P. D. O'Brien (42-61), Robert F. Polk (1961-69), Dr. Kenneth Patrick (1970-). During the ministry of Rev. Wilson the church went half-time and during the ministry of S. W. Smith the church became self-supporting and dropped state convention support.

CYCLONE HITS

The church has worshiped in various places including two school houses, the First Methodist and First Christian churches and the Opera House while dispossessed for one reason or another. In 1889, the tiny congregation went on record to make an earnest effort to build its first building and by June 23, 1890, records show $1,096 had been raised (and largely expended) for a tiny frame structure which was dedicated that August. The 25 members struggled on, having not much more ease than when they were pressed to raise $12 a month at the outset. It was an ill time for a hard blow, but it fell nevertheless in 1897 in the form of a cyclone that made kindling wood of the tiny church. Undaunted, members donated their services in rebuilding, and in two months the church at Fifth and Gregg had been restored.

Disaster fell again in 1908 when the church went up in flames. This time the church determined to build a new and bigger home at Sixth and Main, investing $22,000 in a brick plant. In January 1920 the last of the debt was paid, thanks largely to efforts of A. L. Wasson, who was a later benefactor of the church and Baptist causes.

A second story including the rest of the history of the First Baptist Church will be included on next Friday's church page in the Herald.

MRS. ALTA KING
... to be honored

WORE OUT THREE CARS Charter Member Lives By Church

By MARJ CARPENTER

Mrs. Jack (Alta) King, 82, will be honored by her church Sunday at special ceremonies at Wesley United Methodist. She is the last charter member of the church "that's around" as she puts it.

Not only is she around, but she's right next door to the church. She and her late husband had lived at 305 Owens from 1918 on for many years.

In recent years, her two daughters, Mrs. Vic McCabe of Silver and Mrs. Clyde Pierce of Colorado City, decided that she should move nearer the church and ended up moving her right next door.

"They said I'd worn out three cars going back and forth to work anyway," she laughed. "Now I can just walk over there for all the services. I did miss Sunday, however, because I was afraid I would fall on the snow."

Mrs. King enjoys her church and "serving the Lord." She is the first to admit that she'd never held any important positions like a church officer or even president of the W.S.C.S. "But I've been secretary of my Sunday School class for 35 years, and used to help order literature for the women. And I've fixed lots of food and coffee," she laughed again.

"In fact, a couple neighbors and I and other friends still have coffee together every afternoon," she added. "And I rarely miss the XYZ Club at our church each first and third Thursday. That's for people over 60 and I've been over 60 for a long time."

Still very active, Mrs. King said, "the only thing that's beginning to bother me in recent years is my hearing. I'm saving to purchase a hearing aid."

She recalled that the church began back in 1931 and met at "South Ward School." Later we had a one room building. "We sat on nail kegs at the first prayer meeting," she laughed.

Mrs. King added, "Dora Roberts gave us the lots and we are real proud of our church today."

She and her husband met in the Moore Community and married Aug. 16, 1914. They moved to Gaines County and then back to Big Spring.

She said, "I'm very content in this part of town. I can walk to church and walk to the store, and my daughters, five grandchildren and ten great-grandchildren, often come to see me."

Mrs. King is proud of her church and the church is proud of Mrs. King, so they intend to honor her on Sunday.

dedication and Bible conference services that week.

When Bro. Sims resigned in February 1968, R. D. (Bob) Lee again became pastor. He had just completed his doctorate at the Baptist Seminary in Fort Worth and had served pastorates in California and Colorado since leaving Birdwell Lane Baptist in 1961. His wife, Pat, is a private music teacher. They have two daughters—Sherri, 16, and Libby 14—and a son, Robby, 8. They live in the church parsonage at 1814 Benton Street.

Two long-play records have been made by the church choir. Some of these are still available at the church and are often played on the local radio stations.

Birdwell Lane History Completed

The history of Birdwell Lane Baptist after 1958 completes the history outlined on the church page last Friday.

Beginning in 1958, the first of several vacation Bible schools was sponsored. Bro. A. C. Locke of Fort Worth was invited to assist and bring the evangelist messages. That same year the young people went to their first church encampment in Ardmore, Oklahoma.

Following the resignation of Bro. Newcomer in 1959, R. D. (Bob) Lee was pastor for two years. He was followed by John F. Martin, interim pastor, A. C. Pettus, then Cal Sims came in July 1963. Early in his ministry the present building—a laminated beam and brick structure—was constructed with most of the work being done by the members. The first meeting in the new building was on February 16, 1964, and the dedication week was culminated on Sunday, April 5, 1963 when Bro. Newcomer again preached the dedicatory message for this church. The cornerstone was also laid during this service.

Among the items in the cornerstone is the Guest Register in which are recorded all members and guests who attended the Charter members who are still active are: Mr. & Mrs. H. H. Wright, their son Roy Tubb, and Mrs. Earl (Alph. Ford) Reid. The doctrine of the church continues to be our Lord's teachings, in dependent of any organization, association or convention for support. The Mount Joy Missionary Baptist Church of Knott is the mother church.

"Youth Alive" is the newest film release of the Billy Graham organization. It will be shown at the First Baptist Church here Sunday evening. It is a 30 minute film that centers around a youth conference held in San Francisco. It conveys the tremendous power that God has in His possession and how we can appropriate and manifest this power in our lives.

Since 1950, World Wide Pictures has produced over 100 films for distribution. Films are presently being shown in 18 different languages in over 80 countries. Films are given free of charge to military bases, mission stations, and missionaries in countries all over the world as well as prisons and other institutions here at home.

Financial support from viewers helps make it possible to continue producing films and to have a world wide evangelistic missionary outreach.

"Youth Alive" Slated Sunday

David Wilkerson's explosive new film, "Return to Sodom," will be shown Sunday, January 19, at two showings, 5:30 and 7:30 p.m., at the First Assembly of God church located at 4th and Lancaster here in Big Spring.

This full color, forty-five minute film is a documentary of the phenomenal outbreak of witchcraft, homosexuality, cult religions, and the decline of moral standards here in the United States.

"Return to Sodom" took a full year to film. The realism is startling. The viewer is taken to Mardi Gras in New Orleans, to Central Park in New York City where the largest gathering of homosexuals in history was held. Witchcraft, Hari Krishna meetings, and communion in a homosexual church are unveiled.

The purpose of this unusual film is to make the prophecy of Christ, "As it was in the days of Lot, so shall it also be in the days of the coming of Christ," come to life.

Ministers and laymen alike have acclaimed this film as one of the most relevant and important films released in religious circles today.

Film Set For Sunday

David Wilkerson's explosive new film, "Return to Sodom," will be shown Sunday, January 19, at two showings, 5:30 and 7:30 p.m., at the First Assembly of God church located at 4th and Lancaster here in Big Spring.

This full color, forty-five minute film is a documentary of the phenomenal outbreak of witchcraft, homosexuality, cult religions, and the decline of moral standards here in the United States.

"Return to Sodom" took a full year to film. The realism is startling. The viewer is taken to Mardi Gras in New Orleans, to Central Park in New York City where the largest gathering of homosexuals in history was held. Witchcraft, Hari Krishna meetings, and communion in a homosexual church are unveiled.

The purpose of this unusual film is to make the prophecy of Christ, "As it was in the days of Lot, so shall it also be in the days of the coming of Christ," come to life.

Ministers and laymen alike have acclaimed this film as one of the most relevant and important films released in religious circles today.

"Youth Alive" Slated Sunday

"Youth Alive" is the newest film release of the Billy Graham organization. It will be shown at the First Baptist Church here Sunday evening. It is a 30 minute film that centers around a youth conference held in San Francisco. It conveys the tremendous power that God has in His possession and how we can appropriate and manifest this power in our lives.

Since 1950, World Wide Pictures has produced over 100 films for distribution. Films are presently being shown in 18 different languages in over 80 countries. Films are given free of charge to military bases, mission stations, and missionaries in countries all over the world as well as prisons and other institutions here at home.

Financial support from viewers helps make it possible to continue producing films and to have a world wide evangelistic missionary outreach.

time out for GOD

TURN OFF THE WORLD

We all feel that way at times. And, tragically, there are some folks who feel that way much of the time.

But while the world in which we live leaves a lot to be desired, it's our world. And life in that world is pretty much what man himself has made of it.

The God who created us and our universe had some excellent plans for life as it should be. They are clearly set forth in the Bible whose writing He inspired. And they have become the spiritual blueprint of constructive living for millions of believers.

As the earth continues its endless turning, search for your goals in faith—not escape... in the Word of God—not the words of cynics.

FORD MAPS TAX CUT TO MAKE UP FOR HIGHER ENERGY COSTS

Everybody 'Poor' Would At Least Get $80

WASHINGTON (AP) — Taxpayers at low and middle-income levels would get a better tax break from President Ford's proposed tax reductions than high-income taxpayers. Ford has urged lower tax rates, beginning with taxes being withheld this year, in order to offset a new round of proposed energy price increases. The lower rates are in addition to the one-shot 12 per cent tax cut proposed for taxes on 1974 income. Families of four with incomes somewhere between $12,500 and $15,000 would break even under Ford's plans, getting a tax cut about equal to the increase in their energy costs, according to government estimates. TAX SAVINGS Energy costs for a family of four are expected to increase about $250 due to higher energy taxes, according to Federal Energy Administrator Frank Zarb. The $250 also represents the approximate tax savings to the typical family of four with an income of between $12,500 and $15,000.

The income group that would benefit the most from the tax reductions is in the $10,000 category, where a family of four would enjoy tax savings of $349, or $99 more than the average new energy costs. The tax for this family would decline from $867 at present to $518. At the $12,500 income level, the tax savings would be $300, and at $40,000, it would be $130, meaning taxpayers in the higher bracket would receive $120 less than the average increase in energy prices. 18 AND OVER Everybody at the low end of the income scale would at least get $80. Zarb said this would more than cover higher energy costs at low energy levels, which he estimated at $44 a family. If a person has insufficient taxable income to pay any taxes, he or she would receive an $80 check from the government to cover higher energy costs, a kind of negative income tax. This payment would go to every adult 18 years and over who earns too little income to pay any taxes and who is not eligible to be included as an exemption on someone else's tax return. A total of $2 billion would be distributed in this fashion program is designed to be permanent and would be effective on Jan. 1 of this year. A major part of the President's tax cut plan for 1975 includes a doubling of the so-called income allowance to $2,600 that would remove an estimated five million more taxpayers from the tax rolls. Under Ford's plan, a family of four with income of $5,600 or below would not pay any income tax. The current tax on $5,600 income is $185. In contrast to the tax rate reductions for 1975 and beyond, which would give proportionally greater benefits to low and middle-income earners, the tax rebate for 1974 would benefit all income levels.
