

Suspect In Night Club Massacre Gunned Down

EXPRESS CRASH FATAL - Tangled wreckage of London-Glasgow express lies off its track near Watford, England, today after a derailment Thursday evening. One person was killed and 11 were injured. Investigators said the train may have hit an unidentified obstruction.

MONTREAL (AP) - Richard Blass, a 28-year-old escaped convict who was a suspect in the Montreal night club massacre and known as the "Cat" or "Weasel" because of numerous escapes from violent death, died in a hail of police bullets early today, authorities said. Police said Blass was hit trying to reach an arsenal of weapons, including two sawed-off shotguns, revolvers, pistols and gas masks, that he had stored in the bedroom of a Swiss-style chalet in Val David, a ski area in the Laurentians 60 miles north of Montreal.

surrounded the four-room chalet about 4:30 a.m. and called on Blass to surrender, authorities said. Blass replied with a few gunshots before police opened fire and cut him down with automatic weapons, they added. Authorities said a man and two women in the chalet with Blass were taken into custody. The three were not immediately identified and the charges they faced were not known. Blass was ambushed at least four times by underworld gunmen, the last time six years ago when assailants lurking in a garage opened fire on him and a friend. Blass was hit by four bullets but managed to pull through.

HOODS HANGOUT - Blass and Roger Roussel escaped from a Montreal penitentiary last October and were suspected of killing two men in the Gargantua Club, an underworld hangout in Montreal's east end a week later. Roussel was recaptured about six weeks ago, and the hunt for Blass was intensified after 13 persons were killed in the Gargantua Club on Monday night. Police suspected the motive for the killings was to get rid of witnesses to the October slayings, but later police said this possibility had been ruled out.

The 13 bodies were found in a 6-by-8-foot beer closet by firemen fighting a fire in the apparently deserted bar. The closet had been padlocked and the door barricaded with a juke box. The killers then apparently set fire to the place. The manager of the bar, a former Montreal policeman named Rejean Fortin, was shot through the heart. Police believed he was the killers' target. Another man was wounded in the stomach, perhaps accidentally, and he and the other 11 victims died of suffocation. Police believed they were herded into the closet to die because they had witnessed the killing of Fortin.

Did Not Order Make-Up Exam Be Given His Son

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - Chancellor Charles LeMaistre of the University of Texas System did not order a make-up final examination be given to his son, says a special regents committee. The committee interviewed the former microbiology instructor, Dr. Martha Jean Cuentzel, who said LeMaistre did not ask but "simply told me that he wanted me to set up a time for his son for the examination."

everyone will let it go away. The test had been given to the class five days before LeMaistre sent word that his son, Bill, was ill and could not take it. LeMaistre later said he did not realize the test had already been given and that a grade of "F" had been sent to the registrar's office.

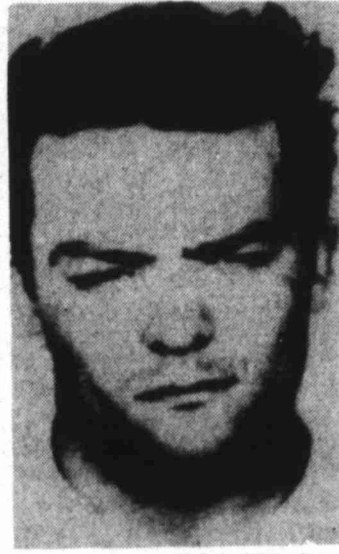

BACK TO 'F' - The son took a make-up exam, made a "C" on it, and that grade was substituted for the "F" as his course grade. But after the furor, the son asked that the grade be changed back to "F" and this was done.

LET IT GO AWAY - Regents Chairman Allan Shivers, who served on the committee with Lady Bird Johnson and Ed Clark, Thursday reaffirmed his previous statement that it was all a misunderstanding. "We have closed this," he said. "I hope that Shivers said the charge by Dr. L. Joe Berry, chairman of the microbiology department, that the son had not attended class after the first of three regular examinations was not true and that Dr. Guentzel had not made that charge. The son did miss the second and third exams, as well as the final exam.

Dr. Guentzel told the committee, Shivers said, that the incident only contributed to her resignation. Her father and her 17-month-old baby have serious medical problems, he said. From all accounts, Shivers said, Dr. Guentzel is a fine teacher, and the committee urged her to return to the school.

KILLED IN SHOOTOUT - Richard Blass, the 28-year-old escaped convict who was a suspect in Tuesday's night club fire in Montreal killing 13, who shot and killed in a gun battle with police early today. Blass was hiding out in a cottage at Val David, 60 miles north of Montreal.

Peace Pilgrim Plans To Continue Walking

Never using her real name, never telling her birthplace, claiming to be ageless without religious or political affiliation, Peace Pilgrim walks across the United States in her blue slacks, blue tennis shoes and blue tunic bearing simply the words "Peace Pilgrim."

She started walking in 1953 when "I was silver-haired then and everybody thought me ready for retirement." She claims that she walks "as a prayer and I shall remain a wanderer until mankind has learned the way of peace, walking until I am given shelter and fasting until I am given food."

She walks without a penny in her pocket and without a coat or any baggage. In Big Spring, she is a guest in a local home through tonight. She will speak at Howard College and to the Challengers Sunday School class at 9:45 a.m. at the First United Methodist Church Sunday.

PEACE PILGRIM

UNDER A BRIDGE - "Usually somebody gives me a bed for the night, but I have slept in bus stations and one time I slept in a packing box under a bridge in a snow storm."

Peace has been out in all kinds of weather, including snow storms, dust storms and rain and hail. "My body adapts to changes in temperature unless extremely cold or hot," she added. She walks with an unusually quick stride, and usually averages 25 miles a day and "have walked as many as 50."

She maintained that "I think we are within ten years of an outer peace. Major nations are on speaking terms. And even immature people that want to gain through a war are thinking peace. You don't even have to be a good person to be for peace."

INEVERY STATE - "I have walked in all 48 states and every province in Canada. This summer, a businessman is going to take me in a jet to Alaska and Hawaii and I'll then be able to say I've been in all 50 states."

When asked if she thought we would get back in the Vietnam conflict, she said stoutly, "Congress and the American people will not stand for it."

She maintains that "where this piece of dust was born is not important and I have long since discarded my real name as there's no use having two names." She said she was not raised in any denomination and was among the half of the United States population who has no denomination, but I am deeply religious and have preached as many as seven sermons a Sunday. She has no close family ties.

Her message is, in essence, "My friends, the world situation is grave. Humanity, with fearful faltering steps, walks a knife-edge between complete chaos and a golden age, while strong forces push toward chaos. Unless we, the people of the world, awake from our lethargy and push firmly and quickly away from chaos, all that we cherish will be destroyed in the holocaust which will descend."

She adds, "This is the way of peace. Overcome evil with good, and falsehood with truth, and hatred with love."

The World At-A-Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Federal Energy Administration says President Ford's proposals would increase the average family's energy bill 18 per cent, with the price hike showing up most in natural gas. The FEA said Ford's proposed energy policy - a combination of fees and taxes on energy with reductions of income tax - would increase consumer prices in general by about 2 or 2.5 per cent.

WASHINGTON (AP) - House Democrats are hurrying to block President Ford's energy program in the face of his renewed appeals for public backing and continued hard stand against gas rationing. The Democrats are seeking to delay Ford's boost of oil tariffs, and they plan to attach a delaying measure to the bill that raises the legal ceiling on the federal debt. The House Ways and Means Committee was opening consideration today of the debt ceiling measure, which Ford wants. "The odds are probably more than even that the committee would combine the debt ceiling with the import duty bill," Chairman Al Ullman, D-Ore., said Thursday.

WASHINGTON (AP) - Key defense analysts now believe the Russians, contrary to previous indications, must conduct more tests before they can deploy their first combat-ready multiple-warhead missiles, Pentagon sources report. These analysts think that a huge new Soviet intercontinental ballistic was deployed earlier this with a single warhead, not with multiple nuclear warheads which can be aimed at widely separated targets (MIRVs).

WASHINGTON (AP) - Leading spokesmen for black and female Democrats charge that the party's 1976 reform rules have been gutted by the commission assigned to supervise them. They plan to ask the party's national committee to overturn the action, taken Thursday at a long, often emotional meeting of the Compliance Review Commission. On a 14 to 9 vote, the panel limited the application of the reform rules, specifically those calling for greater efforts to involve women and minorities, to the 1976 convention delegate-selection process and the election of state party officers, state Democratic committees and the Democratic National Committee.

NEW YORK (AP) - The inflation eating away at the family budget has started to nibble more slowly; a gallon of gasoline costs less than it did in August; housing prices aren't going up so quickly; beef prices are actually coming down. Government and industry statistics as well as Associated Press surveys show that prices generally are still higher than they were a year ago and are expected to rise even further. But the rate of increase is declining.

DETROIT (AP) - The nation's depressed auto industry reported a significant rise in car sales during mid-January as it used cash rebates on selected new models to lure customers. But employment in the industry remained down. Deliveries in the period from Jan. 11-20 increased 41 per cent from the exceptionally low levels of early January. They trailed year-earlier levels by 15 per cent and were the lowest for a mid-January since 1961.

CLAYTON SPEAKS TO C-C GROUP - COLORADO CITY - Four awards will be presented tonight at the Colorado City annual chamber banquet at 7 p.m. in the new civic center. Speaker at the event will be Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake, speaker of the Texas house.

He will be introduced by the former publisher, Joe Bell, who will act as master of ceremonies at the event. Awards will go to the outstanding agriculture family with Eddie Mitchell presenting the award; outstanding chamber member, presented by B. B. Hardee; outstanding woman presented by B&P and the Jaycees Distinguished Service award presented by last year's recipient, Larry Ivy.

Past winners of the outstanding chamber member award include Mrs. Bob Reily, Gus Chesney, Don Benson, James Kelley, Joe Bell, Bobby Lemons, Colorado City Playhouse, J. Ralph Lee and Charles Root.

Charged With Killing Mormon Missionaries - AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - A capital murder indictment has been returned against Robert Kleasen in each of the deaths of two Mormon missionaries. The 42-year-old, slope-shoulder outdoorsman was indicted Thursday in the slayings of Gary Darley, 20, of Simi Valley, Calif., and Mark Fischer, 19, of Milwaukee, Wis.

Kleasen was arrested Nov. 5 on a federal firearms charge and remains under federal jurisdiction. A hearing will be held Jan. 29 in U.S. district court here to determine Kleasen's competency to stand trial. Doctors at the federal hospital at Springfield, Mo., have said he is not competent to stand trial.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) - The House Ways and Means Committee voted today to block President Ford's oil import tariff hike for 90 days, to boost the federal debt limit to a record $531 billion through mid-year and to link the two proposals in what may be a virtually veto proof bill.

FIREARMS CHARGE

Kleasen was arrested Nov. 5 on a federal firearms charge and remains under federal jurisdiction. A hearing will be held Jan. 29 in U.S. district court here to determine Kleasen's competency to stand trial. Doctors at the federal hospital at Springfield, Mo., have said he is not competent to stand trial.

At one nursing home, said the report to the Public Health subcommittee, "It was a prank for revenge for one shift (of workers) of dollars should be spent by the state to keep them out, a Senate subcommittee recommends. The five-member subcommittee unanimously adopted a staff report Thursday recommending numerous changes to halt "atrocities" in some of Texas' 966 nursing homes and make life better for the patients, most of them over 65.

HARSH TREATMENT - The report supported a proposal by the Legislative Budget Board to appropriate an additional $22 million in state money for programs designed to help the aged, blind and disabled in their own homes, instead of paying for their care in nursing homes. It also urged the State Welfare Department to hire retired nurses part time to visit the elderly and disabled in their homes, and to develop home care for disabled young adults.

WARMER - Forecasters expect clear to partly cloudy skies today, tonight and Saturday, with warmer temperatures due today and Saturday and cooler tonight. Winds will be south to southwest at 10-20 mph today, changing to northwest tonight. The high today will be in the mid 50s, the low tonight near 30 and the high Saturday near 60.

LIKELY MATCH

Leslie Smith of the Department of Public Safety

No trial will be held on either the federal charge or the murder charges until such time as he is held to be competent.

After a conviction or acquittal on the federal charge, Kleasen then would be brought under state jurisdiction through a bench warrant, and he could be tried on the murder charges. Justice of the Peace Jim McMurtry ruled Wednesday that the two missionaries were dead. State testimony indicated they had been sawed into small pieces by a meat saw in the taxidermy shop west of Austin. Kleasen lived in a trailer behind the shop. He swept the shop three times a week to pay for his rent.

laboratory said hair samples found on the band saw were identical to the samples of Fischer's family. Samples of Darley's hair are a "likely match" with other hair found on the saw, he said. The saw had been used on at least two different kinds of animals after it allegedly was used on the missionaries, Smith said. Texas Ranger Wallace Spillar told the JP some of Kleasen's writings indicate the remains of the two young men may have been put in either a dumpster at the taxidermy shop or in burlap bags and then thrown into a fishing hole. The missionaries were last seen alive a few hours before they were to have eaten their usual Monday evening meal at Kleasen's trailer, Oct. 28.

WANTS $22 MILLION FOR NEEDED CHANGES 'Atrocities' In Some Of Texas' 966 Nursing Homes

At one nursing home, said the report to the Public Health subcommittee, "It was a prank for revenge for one shift (of workers) of dollars should be spent by the state to keep them out, a Senate subcommittee recommends. The five-member subcommittee unanimously adopted a staff report Thursday recommending numerous changes to halt "atrocities" in some of Texas' 966 nursing homes and make life better for the patients, most of them over 65.

It added that patients often are sedated to keep them, demanding attention, and from one report showed 40 per cent of Medicare funds for drugs in nursing go for tranquilizers and sedatives.

"Nursing homes have, in fact, proven to be economically lucrative businesses for enterprising owners, usually at the expense of better patient care," the report said. It recommended including at least one "consumer representative" on the eight-member board to license nursing home administrators and to require each home to maintain a uniform cost accounting system. The State Department of Welfare should audit the homes "in order that rates may be adjusted to reflect true cost plus reasonable profit," the report said. Other recommendations adopted by the subcommittee included: ABUSE - A state-approved training course for nurses aides. - Raising minimum standards for all nursing and custodial care homes to include such requirements as health certificates for all food handlers; a list of all charges, including extra costs; and policies prohibiting mistreatment, neglect or abuse of patients.

Where Protection Is Needed

The campaign for creation of a federal consumer advocacy agency, which almost succeeded during the past session of Congress, has been renewed in the new Congress. Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., last week introduced a bill almost identical to the one killed by a filibuster in the last Congress.

There seems to be little doubt that a consumer bill will pass both houses of Congress this year.

Purpose of the measure, according to its sponsors, is to establish an independent, nonregulatory Agency for Consumer Advocacy to speak for the interests of the consumer in court and before regulatory agencies. The proposed agency would have a three-year budget of $60 million.

Most taxpayers probably agree that many of the federal regulatory agencies are doing a poor job of protecting the public — the sole reason for their existence. But given past history with bureaucratic pyramiding, there also is a lot of scoffing over the ability of any federal government agency to give more than lip service to overseeing the operations of other agencies, bureaus and commissions.

Again, looking at the record, it is not easy to believe that a consumer advocacy agency as envisioned by the sponsors of the Ribicoff bill will long remain a modest organization with a $20 million per year budget. The Department of Health, Education and Welfare had a modest start but now its divisions, sub-divisions, sections and offices fan out through Washington and across the country like the tentacles of a mammoth octopus.

Perhaps one agency which the nation really needs from the standpoint of the taxpayer is a Department for the Protection of Citizens from Bureaucracy. Experts in government and economics estimate that government controls of and interference in business (so-called fair trade laws, etc.) cost consumers billions of dollars per year in higher prices.

If correcting this is possible through the advocacy agency, it would be a good idea. If not, then it's just another bureaucratic burden for the citizens to bear.

Keep It Simple

President Gerald Ford has outlined his economic proposals to Congress, which in turn has outlined its alternate views. There appears to be agreement that some form of tax rebate or relief is indicated for stimulation of the economy. There is agreement that something needs to be done about meeting the energy crunch.

We hope that whatever comes out of it will meet one criterion — keep it simple. What the country doesn't need is a lot more people added to bureaus to give us back our money or to direct our distribution of energy supplies. If public service jobs are to be part of the package, then they should have a definite time limit on them, thus avoiding the reputation of bureaus for immortality.

Dehydrated Food

Around The Rim

John Edwards

AMONG THE delicacies offered are stone ground flours, Erewhon Sesame Tahini, Bulgher-soybean grits, pure unrefined (?) oils, sea salt, Dr. Bronner P-mint soap, Papaya delite, celestial herb teas (loose) like red zinger and Mo's 24 herb, bee pollen, ginseng tablets and even some ordinary food.

The firm, which has a Houston outlet, also sells "Confidential items."

"Our FAMILY PREPAREDNESS COUNSELOR — can explain the general program to you in the store, or make arrangements to hold a combined meeting in your home with several other couples. A personal, confidential program, tailored to your particular family needs and beliefs can be arranged for. This would require a personal meeting with the husband & wife."

Since you may not get to meet this "Counselor," you might like to ponder the plan of action outlined under "Food Storage 'vs' All Is Well."

"THE DAYS AHEAD — seem to be shaping up into something more than unpleasant. Virtually all categories of life are being greatly effected. We feel that if a person is to remain free and able to care for those under his charge; a self sufficient food supply is a must. If your food is controlled, you are controlled or at the mercy of preventing conditions. Don't drink any fluorinated water, either."

What follows reminds me of the "Dr. Strangelove" Air Force survival kit, minus prophylactics.

"POINTS OF PREPARATION: Point One: Have at least 15 months supply of food for each person you are immediately responsible for. In addition acquire food for trade purposes so as not to be tempted to part with your own food supply. Food will be the number one trade media and a one year supply for this purpose will be wise.

"Point Two: Acquire a good water purification system not requiring outside power sources," which the firm sells.

"Point Three: Place aside approximately $250.00 face value silver coins," which the firm sells.

"Point Four: Rifle for hunting and other purposes.

22 Caliber (1000 rounds) — 12 Gauge (500 rounds) other," all of which the firm sells.

"Point Five: Acquire a small piece of land away from major populated areas," which the firm offers on a "co-op" basis to "people properly prepared."

"Point Six: If sufficient funds are still available place them into additional food and silver for later trade. Be sure all support needs are covered such as grinders, clothing, tools etc.

"Food is the area of greatest concern. (Water will be the first need, but a good purifier will solve that problem). Food is drawing close to the point of a real crisis."

"He who is not prepared will surely find himself wanting in the forcible future; yes; even in this great land of plenty. Our land of plenty now consists of PLENTY STRIKES, PLENTY LAYOFFS, PLENTY SHORTAGES, PLENTY BANKRUPTCIES, PLENTY PAPER DOLLARS and PLENTY PROBLEMS.

"If each American had a years supply of food as we had not many years ago, we could withstand shortages or even a full blown depression much easier than today."

Who says a recession coupled with inflation can't be good for business.

Would They Spend?

Rowland Evans

WASHINGTON — Private polling data now flowing into the White House Oval Office is raising grave questions whether President Ford's proposed massive income tax cut will actually stimulate the dangerously depressed economy — or simply be used to pay off old debts and replenish disappearing savings.

INDEED, SO WORRIED are the President's economic advisers that William Seidman, Mr. Ford's assistant for economic affairs, has made arrangements to go to Swarthmore, Pa., to listen in on telephone interviews conducted every evening around the country by the Albert Sindinger polling organization.

A specialist on consumer spending habits, Sindinger has been turning up alarming evidence that far more American households now plan to use the President's proposed 12 per cent income tax rebates to paying debts on past purchases — and for savings — than for buying new cars or other durables. The main reason: the record low level of consumer confidence in the future of America.

SINDLINGER'S FINDINGS, which are similar to pessimistic forecasts of other economists, mean that income tax cuts may not operate as a self-starter to get the economy moving. If true, that drastically undermines use of tax cuts to revive the economy with a quick fix.

Reports from Sindinger now under study at the White House show that nearly 53 per cent of 1,415 households his telephone interviewees sampled from Jan. 9 to 13 would save, not spend, any income tax windfall. Only 33.6 per cent says they would spend it.

THAT CHILLING yardstick of consumer plans not to buy much in the worsening recession resulted from the last of a series of questions regularly asked by Sindinger. These questions attempt to isolate what consumers plan to do — not what they think everybody else will do about buying consumer durables.

Thus, Sindinger's first questions sets the stage by asking: "Do you think people in general would spend more than save, or save more than spend?" More than two-thirds responded that "people" would spend more. But on the key question whether they themselves would spend or save, the findings were reversed.

THE STUNNING REFUSAL of the House Democratic Caucus last Thursday to oust tough, irascible Rep. Wayne Hays of Ohio as chairman of the House Administration Committee reaffirmed the new preeminence of Rep. Philip Burton of California.

Although a doctrinaire liberal and reformer, Burton — the new chairman of the Democratic Caucus — is a strong ally of anti-reformer Hays in Byzantine internal House politics. The unexpected vote Wednesday by the Democratic Steering Committee to depose Hays in favor of Rep. Frank Thompson of New Jersey was a personal blow to Burton.

ACCORDINGLY, when Hays hit the telephone seeking to reverse the Steering Committee in Thursday's caucus, Burton was at his side. Newly elected liberals were amazed to hear Hays tell them: Phil wants to say a word to you. Some felt the presence of 1976 campaign funds. Hays is chairman of the House Democratic Campaign Committee and Burton campaign chairman for the liberal Democratic Study Group (DSG).

THURSDAY'S 176 to 109 caucus rejection of Thompson was interpreted in the House not only as a mandate for Hays and a victory for Burton but a defeat for majority leader Thomas P. O'Neill of Massachusetts. Through hotly denied by O'Neill, senior Democratic Congressman — including Wayne Hays — felt O'Neill was behind the Hays purge.

Also, the caucus vote displayed abysmal lack of influence by Common Cause and John Gardner.

"I'm afraid, however, it comes with the Oval Office."

Watch Out Deadbeats

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Do you tend to think of all those shiny plastic cards in your wallet as credit cards? If you do, you fail to recognize a distinction the convenience card people would like you to know about.

Pressured by rising prices, many consumers are using all their cards as automatic credit devices, which some of them are. But the convenience card people say theirs aren't, and they're fed up about the situation.

"If people need credit they should use a bank card," said R. Newell Lusby, chairman and president of Diners Club, which, along with American Express and Carte Blanche, offers a convenience, or travel and entertainment, card.

"If they have credit, and need convenience, they should come to us," he continued, attempting to point out the difference between a bank card, which is a credit device, and his card, which he says isn't.

The bill for a convenience card is due in full when rendered, he explained. A bank card permits you to pay your bill over a period of time, charging you interest on the unpaid balance.

When a customer uses a convenience card as a credit card — that is, extends his payments over several months instead of paying in full when the bill is presented — he forces the card company to borrow from a bank.

This, of course, is expensive, and that's why the convenience card people are cracking down on deadbeats. "You don't create any additional financial capacity by using my card," said Lusby. "We're not a new credit facility."

He goes further: "Most people probably shouldn't buy things that are not clearly within their means to pay for."

Just what is the convenience. Mainly the assurance you can transact business without cash almost anywhere and, in addition, have monthly records for accounting and tax purposes.

The convenience cards derive their income from a combination of merchant discounts and membership fees. Bank cards have small merchant discounts but rely heavily on revolving credit charges.

The convenience cards discourage use of their cards as revolving credit vehicles because they don't charge interest. The bank cards encourage credit because they do. Some even offer lines of credit in the thousands of dollars.

For these reasons you might find your bank card people encouraging you to borrow, while Lusby is doing his best to discourage it. It helps banks, it hurts the convenience cards.

Promising New Actor

LOS ANGELES (AP) — To recreate a role originally played by Marlon Brando is an awesome task for an actor.

Yet Robert De Niro pulled it off, augmenting his reputation as the most promising new actor in films.

De Niro is the electric performer who made strong impressions in two of 1973's most acclaimed — and least patronized — films, "Mean Streets" and "Bang the Drum Slowly."

Francis Ford Coppola chose him to portray young Vito Corleone in "The Godfather, Part II," an assignment that should have given De Niro pause on two counts: 1. He would be portraying the younger version of Don Corleone, created unforgettably by Brando in "The Godfather."

2. He would have to play nearly all of the role in Sicilian, a language he didn't know.

"It was an interesting problem and something of a challenge to me as an actor," said De Niro. "I guess I should have been more cautious about it, but I thought it was worth a try."

He was here for talks about future films, taking a holiday breather from the film he is making in Parma, Italy, "1900," directed by Bernardo Bertolucci, who made "Last Tango in Paris."

Another Brando connection, and there are more. De Niro's first acting teachers were Stella Adler and Erwin Piscator, who were also Brando's. There is no physical resemblance to Brando. De Niro is skinny with a narrow, Italian face (though he is also French, Irish, Dutch and English). His floppy black hair is parted in the middle.

His thoughtful approach to a role is Brandoian, as he proved in "Godfather II."

"I didn't want to do an imitation of Brando, yet I wanted to make it believable that the man I played could have developed into the older Don Corleone," De Niro reasoned.

"I met with Dick Smith (who created the Brando makeup) here first, later at his lab in New York. The slicked-down hair seemed natural; that was how they wore it on those days.

"We decided to do a little with the cheeks, suggesting the padding that Brando used. I went to the same dentist, and he fitted me with a dental piece to push the cheeks out a little.

"I also used a suggestion of the hoarseness that Don Corleone had later. These (Mafia) guys seem to get hoarse as they grow older."

Robert De Niro, 31, is a native New Yorker who passed up college in favor of acting school. Some years he spent as much time on unemployment compensation as he did under salary.

He also waited on tables, but he never thought of being anything but an actor.

What 'Milk Leg' Is.

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My doctor said I have a milk leg and it will never get any better. He said there is nothing to be done for it.

Is this true? Do you know anything I can do for it? It swells up and I can hardly stand or walk. Please give me some advice. — V.S.

Milk leg is an old term for thrombophlebitis. I guess the term milk leg came about because it was encountered with some frequency among new mothers. Others say it came into usage because of the characteristic milky tone of the legs of the patients.

But it is thrombophlebitis, a condition that gained prominence not too long ago when former President Nixon came down with it. Thrombophlebitis means inflammation of a vein with clot formation.

I presume your case is long-standing and not of recent occurrence. If recent, blood thinner (anticoagulants), rest and supportive hose or bandages can be used, with some relief possible.

The extensive swelling and pain that comes with activity is caused by a long-standing disturbance of circulation. Blood is not flowing up from the leg to the extent that it should because of the clot formation.

Your doctor is correct. Little can be done at this stage to dissolve the clot. It is too late for anticoagulant therapy. Sometimes, the affected vein can be tied off to prevent extension of the clot.

Elastic or other supportive hose and local heat may help relieve discomfort. The leg should be elevated as much as possible to promote the best circulation possible. I cannot suggest much beyond this without more information than your letter provides.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Will X-rays show a pinched nerve? — Mrs. D.E.

No, but they might show a non-alignment of a vertebra which might be putting pressure on a nerve root emerging at that point. From this a pinched nerve can be inferred.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I would like some information on "lightning streak" in the eye. The eye specialist I went to let on like it wasn't serious, but I would like to know more about it, its cause and seriousness. — H.L.H.

Glaucoma, an increase in eyeball pressure, is the commonest cause of this. I trust your doctor checked your eye fluid pressure.

If not, it should be checked. Disturbance in circulation to the eye can be another cause of your symptom. It may be part of a migraine attack. Both conditions are serious, especially if not given prompt treatment.

My Answer

Billy Graham

I have tried unsuccessfully to get hatred out of my soul. But how can this be done in a lousy world where many an individual would not be averse to selling his own sister into white slavery, if it means an extra buck in his pocket? — J.P.H.

In the Old Testament, hatred of evil and evildoers — as long as it was purged of personal malice — was commended. In the New Testament, however, it is brought by Christ under the law of love (Matthew 5:43, 44). But everywhere in the Bible, hate of the spiteful kind is condemned.

That seems to be the sort you have because I detect some cynicism in your remarks. A Christian has no room for that. Paul talks about the remedy for hate in Titus 3:3: "Once we were foolish and disobedient; we were misled by others, and became slaves to many evil pleasures... we hated others, and they hated us. But when the time came for the... love of God our Savior to appear, then He saved us..."

You'll never get rid of hate if you're depending on the world around you to shape up and deserve your love and kindness. Faith in Jesus makes possible the eviction of hatred by the infilling of love — the same way you get rid of the darkness by turning on the light.

A Devotion For Today . . .

"God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself . . . and hath committed unto us the word of reconciliation." (2 Corinthians 5:19)

PRAYER: O Lord, help us to bring peace to some heart this day. Amen.

TOTAL PATIENT CARE — A barely-clad model pauses to chat with some residents of the Fair Oaks nursing home in Minneapolis, Minn. A spokesman for the home said Wednesday night's lingerie show was part of a program called "Total Patient Care."

Sewalt Is Big Winner

DENVER, Colo. — Ronny Sewalt, veteran cowboy from Chico, Texas, emerged the big winner at the National Western Stock Show Rodeo after compiling $6,362 in two events, the Rodeo Cowboys Association said.

The rodeo, which wound up in the Denver coliseum Sunday afternoon, featured a final go-round of competition for the top contestants after two previous go-rounds. Sewalt's money came from calf roping and steer wrestling.

He took first in the calf roping average for $3,858 after roping and tying three calves in a total of 36.2 seconds. C. R. Jones of Lakeside, Calif., was first in the steer wrestling average with 17.8 seconds on three steers, good for $4,241. Larry Mahan of Dallas, six times world champion all around cowboy, marked 74 points in the final go-round of bareback riding for first, and wound up first in the average payoff with 221 points on three horses for $3,747 altogether. Sammie Groves of Ponca City, Okla., was the saddle bronc riding average winner, with a total of 209 points on three rides, and won $2,176.

Don Gay, reigning world champion bull rider from Mesquite, scored 84 points in the last round of competition for first, and was first in the average payoff for $3,471 altogether. In women's barrel racing, Becky Carson of Fort Collins, Colo., was first in the final round with a run in 15.8 seconds, and took the average payoff for $1,147.

UW Board To Meet

New trustees and officers will be named at that time. Campaign awards will be presented. In addition, the identity of next year's campaign chairman will be revealed.

Last year's financial report and audit will also be presented along with other pertinent matters.

The board will also be asked to consider a constitution and by-laws amendment which would officially change the name of the organization from United Fund to United Way.

See, Sex Isn't Dead After 60

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Three curvy young models paraded in filmy lingerie before the male residents of the Fair Oaks Convalescent and Nursing Home.

The home's social service worker, Joyce Cristen, called the stag night Wednesday part of "total patient care." She said the home frequently gets flyers saying "sex isn't dead after 60."

Statuesque Paula, one of the models, wore a revealing garment she called an "evening gown." She strutted over to Frank, one of the home residents who had arrived early for a front-row seat. Frank explained that he has eye problems.

"You dance all right," Frank told Paula. Another resident, seated in a wheel chair, looked up from the television magazine he was reading and asked a model, "Don't you get cold?" He shook his head, a what's-the-world-coming-to-shake, and returned to his magazine.

Appropriation To Be Sought

The State Board of Education will seek a $1.25 million emergency appropriation from the 64th Legislature to help financially troubled adult education programs which currently serve some 102,000 Texans. Big Spring High offers Adult Education Classes both at the school and at the state hospital.

A combination of reduced federal funding for adult education and rapidly expanding enrollments throughout the state have forced programs operated by local school districts and community colleges over their appropriations for the current fiscal year.

The Board Saturday (January 11) authorized submission of a request for the emergency appropriation to be administered under adult education legislation passed by the 63rd Legislature.

Federal funds, which have been frozen at approximately $3.2 million per year since 1971, will be reduced 10 per cent for 1975, according to Bob G. Allen, Texas Education Agency director of adult and continuing education.

At the same time, enrollments for the current school year have climbed in state-supported adult education programs by 11 per cent over last year.

Many adult education classes will be forced to close in January and February of 1975 without emergency assistance, Allen added.

Westerners Now No. 7

HUTCHINSON — Western Texas of Snyder fell one notch from six to seventh in the latest National Junior College Athletic Association Basketball poll.

The Westerners showed a 16-1 record. Muscatine Community College of Iowa, replaced the Westerners in the slot they held last week.

San Jacinto College of Pasadena with a 17-0 mark continues as the national leader. Hutchinson follows in second place, also carrying an unblemished record, 14-0.

Westchester Community College of Valhalla, N.Y., ranks third in the nation, having established a 21 game winning streak to date.

Land College and Vincennes round out the Top Five.

Paul Webb of Hiwassee College, (Madisonville, Tenn.), is the nation's top scorer with a 35.0 per game average. He has fired through for 11 games, 175 field goals, 35 free throws for 385 totals.

Allegany has given up 767 points on the strength of a 12-2 record.

Bluechipper Eyes Baylor

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — All-state defensive tackle Terrence Tsatschula of Austin Anderson says he will play for Texas, but bluechip running back David Seaborn claims he's thinking of four schools, possibly a fifth, but not the hometown Longhorns.

Tsatschula, 6 feet 2 and 215 pounds, played offense and defense for Anderson, which had 6-3-1 record in Class 4A.

Seaborn of Austin High School ran for more yards than any back in 4A last year—1,679. He said his choice most likely would be Baylor, Rice, Southern Methodist or Texas Christian, but he is visiting Texas A&M this weekend.

Texas also has recruited another all-state player, center David Patterson of Class 2A Austin Westlake, but Patterson won't be playing any football.

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Johnny Miller got a chuckle on the first tee.

KEY HANDLER — Ron May, who was discharged from the Air Force last week, had a helping hand in the Hawks' 115-113 win over South Plains here Thursday night. The 6-1 guard's one hand jumpers and key plays spearheaded his team's successful Western drive.

115-113 DECISION Hawks Pressed In West Win

By CLARK LESHER

In the most crucial game for Howard College, the Hawks scored a never dull moment down-to-wire 115-113 Western Conference win over spunky South Plains here tonight.

Played before the best home crowd of the 1974-75 season, the Hawk gym was almost filled to capacity.

The Hawks tripped the 100th mark for the eighth time during the current campaign and won number 10 of 11 home games played so far.

HC remained in the thick of the conference race and a shot at a repeat crown performance. "I'm sure glad to win this one," said Harold Wilder, Hawk head coach.

Howard College stretched out its WJCAC record to 5-2 and 15-5 over-all. South Plains, now faced with a desperate situation, stands firmly planted in the league's cellar, 1-6, and 11-9 for the year.

The visiting Texans have now lost four of their seven conference games by the total margin of six points.

South Plains, with its leading scorer on target, Henry Taylor pumping in 35 total points, pushed Howard College down to the final buzzer. The Texans' on the strength of Taylor's floor shot and Paul Langford's two charity tosses closed the gap to within two points.

Howard College lost contact with the ball and the Texans promptly called time with only seven seconds visible. South Plains then moved fast under the basket, but the hurried planning failed to pay off as attempted shots skirted off the top of the net.

HC finally breathed a sigh of relief as the final buzzer was sounded, but hardly heard over the roar of the enthusiastic crowd.

"Definitely a team effort," said Wilder as six Hawks came across with double digit figures.

Howard College's hot-shooting Marvin Johnson, fourth best among Western shooters at a 23.4 per game showing, certainly fattened his average after Thursday's game, hitting 31. The 6-4 freshman forward banged in 21 points in the first half.

Johnny Harris and Alfred Gladden followed next in line to teammate Johnson's total, firing through 16 points each, followed by Larry Erves and Ernest Lawrence, 14 each and Ron May, 12.

The score was tied on five different occasions.

Howard College jumped out to a quick 7-2 count, only to see the Texans' fast break and full court press catch the Hawks.

South Plains gained steam midway in the first half to lead twice by six points, 46-40 and 54-48.

The recent addition of Don Davis sparked the Hawks as his six point total of the night enabled the home five to leave the court at half-time, ahead by six, 72-66.

HC went to work fast on the Texans in the early stages of the last half with Gladden's field goal leading the Hawk charge.

Johnson's continued swivel-hipped two-pointers, May's one-hand jumpers and key plays and Gladden's sharp eye spearheaded the Hawks biggest lead of the night, 101-87 at the 9:26 mark.

But South Plains was not to be counted out as the Texans slowly but surely played the touch and go contest down to the last final second.

Wilder voiced, "Giles played his best defensive game this year against South Plains." The 6-9 freshman post-man repeatedly batted the ball away from the Hawk net.

May, a 6-1 guard, discharged from the Air Force last week, saw his first Hawk active role against Western Texas. His moves and floor agility will no doubt benefit the Hawks.

Harris, in his first home game since twisting his ankle last Wednesday, showed no ill effects of the injury, moving the ball almost instantaneously down court. The 6-1 sophomore guard's ball trickery delighted Hawk admirers as he repeatedly passed off to teammates before reaching South Plains goal.

The Hawks should pack them in for their next encounter, a home one against New Mexico Military, Monday night at 7:30.

In a preliminary game, the HC Hawkettes dropped their seasonal opener to the South Plains girls, 55-48.

Sally Echols, one of three Hawkettes returnees, scored 21 points and South Plains' Gail Berry sacked 27.

The HC girls next go against Hardin-Simmons in the preliminary game at 5:30 to Monday's Hawk-NMMI clash.

Miller Works Hard To Go 1-Under Par

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Johnny Miller got a chuckle on the first tee.

"As soon as I hit my drive, the first shot in the golf tournament, some guy in the gallery yells at me, 'Boy, what's wrong? You're still even par.'"

But it was the last laugh he had. There were no more giggles.

The runaway, record-setting winner of the Phoenix and Tucson Opens had to work hard over the toughest holes on the course to salvage a one-under par 71.

And that left Miller in the unaccustomed posture of trailing the leaders. He's five shots back of Hubert Green and Larry Ziegler, tied with 66s after Thursday's first round in the $185,000 Bing Crosby National Pro-Am.

It is the first time this season, the first time in nine rounds, that Miller has failed to lead or share the lead. It's the first time he's shot in the 70s.

But the pollyanna guy with the whiplash swing found the bright spots.

"At least I didn't get in position where I'm blown right out of the tournament," he said. "This was just a bad round. Maybe the rest of the week will be better."

Jack Nicklaus, who proclaimed a massive indifference to Miller's progress, also had a 71 in the brilliant sunshine that bathed Cypress Point, one of three par-72 courses being used for this unique event on the picturesque Monterey Peninsula.

"I didn't know what Miller was doing until I finished my round," said Nicklaus, whose position as the game's premier performer has been challenged by Miller's recent spectacular exploits.

"I'm not concerned with him if he isn't leading the golf tournament.

"If he's shooting 65, then I'm interested."

Miller, Nicklaus and Green, a four-time winner last year, all played Cypress Point, the shortest and probably the easiest of the three courses. Ziegler, who won the Moroccan Open late last fall, was at Spyglass Hill.

NEW KC BOSS Wiggins Thinks About Offense

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Paul Wiggins has always concentrated on defense. Now, though, he finds himself thinking about offense.

Wiggins, defensive coordinator of the San Francisco 49ers, was named head coach of the National Football League's Kansas City Chiefs Thursday. He is only the second coach the Chiefs have ever known, succeeding Hank Stram.

The dapper Stram, known for his attire and the rolled-up program he wielded as he strutted along the sidelines, directed the team from its inception as the Dallas Texans of the American Football League in 1960, until last Dec. 27, when he was fired after a dismal 5-9 season.

Wiggins, 40, said he knows "what people will think when they hear a defensive man has been selected. It'll be, 'Here comes 0-0.' I'm aware of that."

"But we've got this division. We're talking about to score, especially in Oakland and Denver and the big offenses they have. I cannot tell you how we're going to do it but we'll do it."

"I've got — and you can emphasize that in capital letters — to get an offensive coordinator who can do the job."

The announcement of Wiggins' appointment was made at a news conference by Lamar Hunt, owner of the Chiefs, after nearly a month-long search. Wiggins was signed to a three-year contract. Salary terms were not disclosed.

Wiggins said his first priority was to lure Willie Lanier, the Chiefs' All-Pro linebacker, out of retirement. Lanier played for Kansas City last season and said it was his last.

"Any time a job opens up, there has to be rebuilding," Wiggins said. "I do not see the Chiefs being in such dire straits that we would need to slough off a year or two and just play youngsters."

Wiggins said his first priority was to lure Willie Lanier, the Chiefs' All-Pro linebacker

Living Sound Due On Two Nights

Living Sound, a youthful missionary team, will present a sacred concert at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday January 28-29, at Howard College Auditorium sponsored by the Christian Fellowship team.

The switched-on gospel music of this handful of vocalists backed by brass, percussion, woodwinds, and strings has been around the world and back. To date they count 27 countries and 4 continents on their five-year odyssey.

Living Sound with headquarters in Tulsa, Oklahoma has two full-time music groups, one touring the North American continent while the other ministers overseas. It is a non-profit and independent organization.

To date they have released six records which have gained critical acclaim, including a 4-star rating for their "Living Sound: Maranatha" album by Billboard Magazine, voice of the recording industry.

Co-founding and spearheading the growth of Living Sound since it's beginning five years ago on a college campus have been President Rev. Terry Law and executive vice president Larry Dalton.

As team evangelist, Rev. Law, 30, has ministered throughout the world to countless thousands while traveling with the Living Sound music groups. He was recently named as one of the outstanding Young Men of America. He serves this year as a United States delegate to the World Congress on Evangelism held in Lausanne, Switzerland.

Larry Dalton is music director and arranger. In this five years following his college graduation, Dalton has established himself as one of the promising young arrangers in the field of modern sacred music. In addition to his position with Living Sound, he is arranger and director on a nationwide weekly religious program.

Covenant Players Slated

The Covenant Players, an international repertory drama group headquartered in Reseda, California, will be the guests of the First Presbyterian Church at 7 p.m. tonight.

This will be one of twenty-eight touring units in the field this year, whose journeys take them not only throughout the United States and Canada, but to Europe and Asia as well.

Using a variety of material, both humorous and serious, the Covenant Players use drama to challenge and stimulate people into a searching look at the complex society they live in, and the role they play in it.

From its initial start as a local church drama group, it has grown to the point where it travels over a million miles each year. Performances have been given in a large variety of places, from sanctuaries, school auditoriums, shopping centers, gymnasiums, street corners, hospital wards, aboard Navy ships, coffee houses, halftime at sporting events, in dugouts in Thailand, and many, many more.

During the early forties the young people of this church along with many from other churches were led by Mr. and Mrs. C. H. DeVaney. This was a time of great youth activity. In the last few years when there have been smaller youth groups,

Coahoma Presbyterians Celebrate 75th

The Coahoma Presbyterian Church will observe their 75th anniversary with a special service at 7:30 p.m. Saturday the public is invited, according to the Rev. Charlie Murphy.

Helen Hall Shive wrote the church history, especially for this event.

Until the year 1898, the community of Christians around Coahoma, Texas, gathered together in an old one-room school building for church services. This building was then located one and one-half miles northeast of the townsite on the Stella Jackson farm.

On January 27, 1899, Dr. J. H. Ziveley, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Big Spring, helped organize the First Presbyterian Church of Coahoma. The members were Mrs. A. E. Shive, Miss L. A. Shive, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Shive together with their baptized children as follows: Bertha, Percy, Leroy, Iva Mae, and DeWitt; Mrs. Sarah McQuerry with her baptized children: Ruben Pon, Ira Fulton, and Bradley; Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. Guthrie, with their baptized son, Robert Vernon. There were seven communicants with children, a total of sixteen.

The church records were destroyed in a fire around 1912, so the early history of this church is taken from the memory of those who were members at that time.

Vernon Guthrie wrote about the first church buildings:

The original church building was a modest frame structure about thirty by forty feet in size, and stood on the Southeast corner of section twenty-seven which was ranch country. It was about three miles from the present village of Coahoma. It was unpainted and unfenced, had no water or other conveniences. After a few years it was destroyed by a storm, but was soon rebuilt and was in constant use till it was moved to Coahoma about 1906.

For many years the church was without a regular pastor, but was served by pastors of nearby churches and itinerant preachers. Though it was officially a Presbyterian church, it served all denominations in the community. The Sunday School of these people was served continuously by this church, the literature being the non-denominational type. For many years services were held in the afternoon since many of the attendants came in horse-drawn vehicles from miles around.

In the early nineteen hundreds, it was common for the churches to hold what was called "camp meetings." This church was used for this purpose. People would come from miles around and actually camp around the church for a series of meetings, usually a week.

Beside the little church, concerned persons of the neighborhood built what was called a brush arbor. This was simply a post and wire frame covered with shiny brush from nearby sand hills. This was scrub oak and produced a fair shade and abundant ventilation. For light, often flame gasoline torches were used.

In 1901 the town of Coahoma was organized. That same year, the Reverend O. C. Jones began to serve as supply pastor for the next six years.

In 1916 the church building was moved into town on horse-drawn wagons. It was placed on the land where the Wendell Shive Gin Company now stands and within the year a new building was built across the street. This building is still in use today, making it the oldest church building in Howard County.

The membership increased and during the next several years the following ministers supplied: H. J. Compton, W. S. Baker, and R. L. Downing.

The women of the church were organized in 1909 and were known as the Ladies Aid Society.

In 1913 and 1914, the church was supplied by Reverend G. G. Gribble, Reverend A. A. Louis, and Reverend F. S. Henderson. From 1915 through 1919, Reverend J. H. Viser and Reverend J. C. Ramsey preached at various times.

The Reverend J. F. Lloyd father of Rev. Gage Lloyd of Big Spring, was supply pastor from 1919 through 1921. The Rev. W. R. Hall filled the pulpit in his absence. He was followed by the Reverend A. F. Cunningham, W. M. Elliott, and F. P. Holyfield.

During the drought years in 1917 through 1919, the Presbyterian Church was the only one in the community to survive these hard times, never missing a Sunday holding Sunday School and other forms of study and worship. This was also a time when the church flourished as a strong leader in youth activities.

accepted a call to this church in 1930. Others who have served as pastor include: Rev. A. T. Dyal, 1934; B. B. Long, 1937; George Pagen, 1939; C. P. Owen, 1942-1945; E. G. Culley, 1946-1947; Robert Hawkins, 1950-1952; L. D. Crossman 1953-1956; C. P. Owen, 1956-1959; Lewis Petmecky, 1956-1961; C. J. McClendon, 1962-1964; Russell Nees, 1964-1967; David Northcutt, 1968-1971; Charles Murphy, 1972 to the present. Many times the church went as long as a year or more without a minister. During these times the congregation worked harder than ever to continue services and all activities. In the recent past, Rev. Al Seddon of the St. Paul Presbyterian Church, and Chaplain Lee Butler of the Big Spring State Hospital have supplied the pulpit.

The following men have served the church faithfully as Elders since the year of their ordination: J. W. Shive, 1898; A. J. Owen, 1905; Dr. A. B. Leach, 1907; Dr. B. B. Lyles, 1924; Leroy Echols, 1924; P. N. Shive, 1931; Frank Loveless, 1931; Ira McQuerry, 1935; Glenn Guthrie, 1940; Bruce Mayfield, 1944; C. H. DeVaney, 1944; Fred Salling, 1956; Thad Hale, 1957; Vernon Guthrie, previously ordained, but installed, 1963; Ray Echols, 1963; Rex Shive, 1965; Bill Tinner 1965; J. W. Shive, 1969; Jack Taylor 1969; Val Best, 1969; Louis Loveless, previously ordained, but installed, 1971; R. L. (Butch) Hodnett, 1975.

There have only been four clerks of the Session, J. W. Shive served from 1899 through 1928, Leroy Echols served from 1928 through 1959, Frank Loveless served from 1959 through 1974, Wendell Shive was elected this year.

These men have served as Deacons: R. V. Guthrie, Sr., S. P. Echols, J. E. Echols, Claude Wolf, P. N. Shive, Elbert Echols, Jake Wolf, Bradley McQuerry, Glenn Guthrie, Lovell Stamps, C. T. DeVaney, C. time out for GOD

Life-Line

Dad... Mother... his girl friend... someone dropped him a line! It brought a smile, a bit of nostalgia, a new incentive to succeed.

Those first weeks away at college mean quite a transition. New surroundings, new friends, new subjects are only a small part of the experience. New freedoms and new responsibilities are the crucial areas of this adjustment.

If he were your boy you would remember this, and keep those letters coming... even if he hasn't much time to answer.

And if he were your boy you would be mighty glad you reared him in a Christian home, and went with him to church, and saw to it he had moral and religious training, and an earnest faith.

For letters can be a life-line with home... but they cannot provide what Home and Church must provide first.

Bill McRee Is Given Silver Beaver Award

William T. McRee, Big Spring, who has put in more than 40 years of Scouting both as a professional and volunteer, was among seven individuals receiving the Silver Beaver award at the 51st annual meeting of the Buffalo Trail Council here Thursday evening.

McRee had been a volunteer worker prior to entering Scouting professionally in 1943. After his retirement here in 1967, he became a scoutmaster and since has continued active as a volunteer.

Dr. Hugh Meredith, Alpine, president of St. Ross University, held ideals of Scouting as one of the things worth living for.

Two women were among those cited for the council's highest award, the Silver Beaver, marking the first time this has happened. (The Silver Fawn, given previously, has been discontinued.) Receiving the award besides McRee were Mrs. C. D. Johnson, Midland, Mrs. Oran McCallister, Wink, Buran Runnels, Snyder, Louis (Pinky) Robertson, Andrews, B. J. Bevehouse and Thomas J. Savage, Midland.

Approximately 250 adults from throughout the 18-county area of the council attended the banquet at the Dora Roberts Student Union Building on the Howard College campus. Ned Truax, Odessa, was master of ceremonies.

A. L. (Ike) McCarroll of Midland was installed for a second term as the President of the Council. J. William Milner of Midland was installed as Treasurer. Council vice president named were Wroe Lynch, and Lucius Buntun of Odessa, Ed Magruder, Forrest Muire, and James Dublin of Midland. New members of the council executive board named were Ed Magruder and James Dublin of Midland, Gene Clark, Virgil Henley, Mrs. Paul Moss, and Mrs. W. B. Stowe of Odessa. Dr. Hugh E. Meredith of Alpine was named as a new member of the council advisory board.

A special award for an outstanding record of goal achievement in 1974 went to the Lone Buffalo District of Snyder, Colorado City, and Loraine, under the leadership of District Chairman George Stewart, Snyder. District Chairman for 1975 was named for the Lone Star District, Sam Hunnicutt, Big Spring; Chaparral District, Ken Peeler, Midland; Comanche Trails District, Dick Chappell, Odessa; Sand Hills District, Audrey Baker, Pecos; and Lone Buffalo District, George Stewart, Snyder.

Besides his long tenure in Scouting and service to youth in general, McRee is a deacon, teacher and Sunday School teacher in his church, member of the Gideons, secretary of the Rotary Club, and worker for the United Way.

During his professional tenure of 13 years here, more than 5,000 boys passed through Scouting, and most of the time the Lone Star district set the pace in the key activities of the council program. He and Mrs.

McRee, who retired within the past year from the Big Spring schools, live at 1905 Morrison and have four daughters.

Polly Mays Will File Again For City Post

"I have enjoyed the two years I have been a member of the Big Spring city council. These have been interesting and productive years for me and for my community. There is still much to be done and I would like the opportunity to serve on the council another term."

Mrs. Floyd Mays, incumbent council member, made the statement when she was the first to file for the city council election which will be held this year April 1.

Mrs. Mays originally stated when she ran the first time, "I think I have good chance to win or I wouldn't run. I have lived here 27 years and have taken an active part in the development of the community. I think good government begins at a local level."

"I think I would add balance to the council and would approach problems impartially. I expect no special favors. I am not trying to be first in anything such as the first woman councilman, but I do want to serve my community."

University of Kansas with a BS degree. She and Dr. Mays have two children.

"It was easier to engineer the delunar mobil vehicle that operated remote control for the moon shots four years ago than it is to get West Texas hospitals, sheriffs and other law enforcement agencies to agree upon an emergency medical communications system in West Texas."

Richard Henderson, Nassau engineer currently assigned to setting up a communications system for a possible widespread West Texas emergency medical program, told over 250 city and county officials from 11 counties in the 17 county Permian Basin Regional Planning Council area when they attended a semi-annual meeting at Seminole Thursday.

In a business meeting, preceding the program, Harold Hall, Big Spring city councilman who is one of three persons representing municipalities on the council, was named secretary-treasurer of the

Snow Dots West Texas

By The Associated Press
Snow stopped after laying an eight-inch cover on parts of West Texas and wet weather spread eastward across the state in the form of blinding fog, drizzle or light rain today.

Southern sections of the state warmed a bit but it was still rather cool elsewhere. As much as eight inches of snow blanketed the high country around Fort Davis, which sits nearly a mile up in the West Texas mountains. Three inches accumulated to the south at Alpine, which is somewhat lower.

Prigmore Death Ruling

Woman Commander Heads Security Wing

SAN ANGELO, Tex. AP — The first woman commander of the 6940th Security Wing at Goodfellow Air Force Base here believes you can't have top-notch production without satisfied employees.

Col. Norma E. Brown says that is her operating philosophy.

"Treatment of people is my very strongest... well, I'm not sure what I should call it, but I feel stronger about the treatment of people than anything else in the whole spectrum of what a commander's business is all about."

Since her arrival in San Angelo and her assumption of duties Nov. 29, Col. Brown is in the process of meeting "every soul — military and civilian — on base, to see if they are happy and if there's anything I can do to make them happy."

The women's lib movement has not been a driving force in her career, she says.

"I don't know anything about it much — I'll be honest. The small town that I'm from in Madison, Fla. and the places I've been — that just wasn't in the part of the world where I was."

Col. Brown says she has managed to have her career and adopt two children, Denise, 11, and Tim, 10, with the help of the children's paternal grandmother, a retired nurse from Maryland.

Asked about future plans for Goodfellow, she said, "I can't say at this stage, but as I'm going around the sections, shops, and offices, looking at facilities and whatever, I'm delighted with what I see. And some of the long-range plans that are in the program now I would certainly support and try to bring forward a little quicker. But that's not to say we'll be able to because the defense budget is a very tight one and you just have to wait your turn... If I have any ideas that nobody else has had or if I think we ought to do something differently, then we'll try it, of course — after I discuss it with the people responsible."

"I don't run my outfits — my jobs — with just unilateral decisions being made," said Col. Brown. "I believe in participative management and I ask my staff and the people it effects now they feel about certain things before I jump into doing them."

"That's not to say," she said, "I'll take their advice always. I just don't think we ought to make arbitrary decisions that effect the lives of so many people who may in fact have good and valid reasons why we shouldn't do something that looks to me like a good idea."

"And that in a nutshell is what I think keeps the action, the spending and the changes to a minimum... and always you hope for the best," she said.

Dinner Honors Sorority Group

Six members of Xi Pi Exemplar Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, whose wedding anniversaries fall in January or February, were honored at a Wednesday dinner meeting at Spanish Inn.

Honored were Mrs. Ron Mercer, Mrs. Bill McIntosh, Mrs. Clarence Hays, Mrs. Don Cunningham, Mrs. Roe Fulgham and Mrs. Sid Smith.

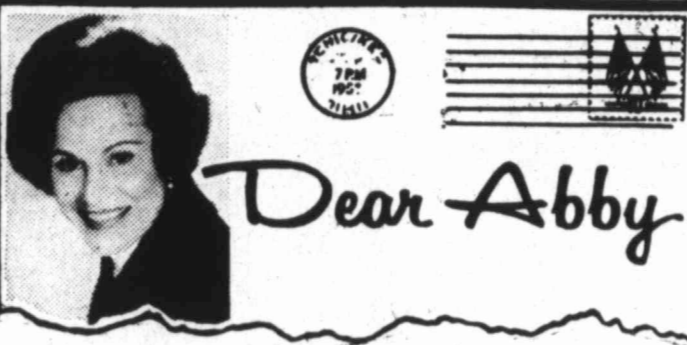

During a short business session, members discussed the Valentine ball and were reminded of the chapter cocktail party that will precede the dance. It will begin at 7 p.m. at the Big Spring Country Club.

Materials have begun arriving for the puppet show that is scheduled March 21 at the city auditorium.

"I don't run my outfits — my jobs — with just unilateral decisions being made," said Col. Brown. "I believe in participative management and I ask my staff and the people it effects now they feel about certain things before I jump into doing them."

Pants On Wives Could Be Divorce Grounds?

DEAR ABBY: I was in the Detroit airport when I read the item in your column about the husband who blew his stack because his wife purchased an overpriced pants suit.

Grannies in pants suits doddered by.

Everything was in pants: males, females, and debatables. A courting penguin would have been hard put to decide where to drop the pebble in the standardized parade of belting bellies and butts.

Stewardesses in britches walked by. (Why don't they hire bona fide boys in the first place?) No woman looks good in pants. Some only look worse than others. And that goes for Marlene in her tuxedo, too.

It has been said the success of a woman's costume is directly proportional to arousal of a man's desire to tear it off her. The pants mania thus confirms the suspicion that American women dress to impress other women — not men.

Pants on wives should be declared valid grounds for uncontested divorce, with reciprocal privilege in the case of mini skirts and hot pants on husbands.

I just had to tell someone.

MEL IN BELLEVILLE

Five years later I had a red-headed baby boy. He was perfectly healthy, too, which was cause to rejoice.

Both my children are standouts because of their red hair, and I suspect that people who "hate" redheads are secretly jealous.

D. M. IN GRETNA, LA.

DEAR MEL: I disagree. Some women look great in pants, but some look better than others. Granted, some women in slacks should not turn their backs, but the same can be said of some men.

I have had news for men who hate pants on women. You are going to be seeing more and more of ladies' pants, and less and less of ladies' legs. Why? Because they're so comfortable, that's why!

DEAR ABBY: That letter about the red hair reminded me of my own situation.

All during my childhood my grandmother used to tell me how much she hated red hair.

After I was married and expecting my first baby, I had two fears. One was that I would have twins. (They run in both families.) The other was that I'd have a red-haired baby. (My father-in-law was red-headed.)

When they told me I had a red-headed baby girl I thought they were kidding me, but when I saw that wrinkled, crying bundle with bright red hair I knew they were serious. I was so thankful that she had ten little fingers and ten little toes and was perfect in every way, I forgot about her hair.

Vary Shapes

Save time and energy when making biscuits. Instead of rolling and cutting, add more liquid and make drop biscuits; finish baking work in minutes. If you insist on making rolled biscuits, roll the dough out into a square or rectangle; use a sharp knife to cut square biscuits. That way you'll save having to gather up and reroll the dough left over after round cutting.

Meat Source Of Vitamins

One of the best natural sources for the important group of vitamins known as the B complex is meat. Pork is the best source of the first one, called thiamine. Liver is the best source of riboflavin and niacin.

Other B vitamins which are essential in the human diet are pyridoxine (B-6), panthothenic acid, folic acid and vitamin B-12. Amounts of these needed have not yet been established, but it has been found that if the diet has sufficient high quality protein, it also supplies these.

Keep It Dry

Keep enriched flour, corn meal, oatmeal, spices, macaroni and other dry foods in a dry place at room temperature. Always use the oldest of these foods first when you buy a new supply. For example, empty the flour container completely before filling again.
