Local Officials Present Opinions On Child Abuse

A panel of three local officials, all who deal with child abuse and neglect, presented their views on child abuse at the opening of the Howard County Campaign Against Child Abuse Thursday afternoon.

Dr. Mark Nardone, a pediatrician at the Malone and Hogan Hospital, presented the medical aspects of child abuse. Charles A. Condray, head of the adolescent treatment program at the Big Spring State Hospital presented the psychological aspects of child abuse and County Attorney Bill Eyssen presented the legal aspects of child abuse.

It was pointed out that persons who see or suspect a case of child abuse must report it to the proper authorities. Failure to do so is a misdemeanor violation punishable by a fine up to $500 or jail sentences up to six months, or both. Child abuse can be reported by calling the State Department of Welfare's toll free "hotline" at 1-800-292-5400 or by calling the local state welfare office at 267-8098 or by calling law enforcement authorities.

Reports can be anonymous, but it is preferred that the reporter give his name and address for documenting the case later on.

The "hotline" can also be used by parents who need help in dealing with their children, to prevent them from becoming abused or neglected.

LOCAL CASE

Nardone pointed out that the doctor is usually the first to know when a child has been abused, and that doctor-patient confidence cannot be honored in such cases. He said that the doctor must report all cases of child abuse he comes across.

He said that within the last 18 months, he treated a child who suffered physical impairment simply because his parents extended no emotion toward him. He was eight years old, but had only grown to the size of the four year old. When he was turned over to a foster home, he resumed his growth without medication.

Condray said that children suffer psychologically from cases of neglect and abuse and sometimes they seek attention by turning to crime, drugs, alcohol, and sex. He added that a parent who loses his temper and strikes a child should make it clear to the child that it was a mistake, so that the child would not feel mistreated.

Eyssen noted that there are several ways in which the law can deal with child abusers, either by taking the children away permanently, temporarily, or by jailing the abusers. He said that the best weapon that the courts have is the new Family Code adopted in 1973. That is the code which set up the fine and sentence for anyone who knows of a case of child abuse and fails to report it to the State Welfare office or a law enforcement officer.

It was concluded that what is needed is a team effort of the county, city, State Welfare office and other agencies to prevent cases of child abuse and neglect.

Reporter Ruling Delayed

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A federal judge has said he will not rule immediately on subpoenas which would require a St. Louis newspaper to reveal confidential sources because the subpoenas "raise serious constitution issues involving freedom of the press."

The subpoenas, directed at St. Louis Globe-Democrat publisher G. Duncan Bauman and reporter Harry B. Wilson, would force the newspaper to reveal sources it used in preparing articles alleging that the government gave special treatment to the politically powerful owners of the Mansion House complex in downtown St. Louis.

Two hotels have brought the suit against the Mansion House operators claiming fraud and violation of federal and city laws in a deal in which the federally-subsidized complex was allowed to convert one apartment tower into a Holiday Inn.

The subpoenas were issued by Mansion House attorneys who said they were preparing a countersuit in the case.

Attorneys for the Globe Democrat and Wilson argued that forcing a reporter to reveal his confidential news sources would interfere with the reporter's First Amendment right to gather the news and the public's right to know.

Looking For Good Buy? Might Try 'Baby Beef'

Consumers looking for a good buy in beef might try purchasing calves at livestock auctions and arranging for slaughter and federal inspection, Bruce Griffith, county extension agent, suggested.

Young calves weighing between 500 and 750 pounds and from 8 months to 15 months old are selling for low prices now, Griffith said.

"It's good quality (beef)," Griffith said. "It's just different" from that many consumers are accustomed to eating.

"BABY BEEF"

"Baby beef," as it is sometimes called, is leaner, does not show as much "marbling" of fat in the lean and has a different color fat.

"There has been a good bit of slaughter of lighter calves and calves with any bloom on them at all," Griffith said of Howard County.

Many slaughter houses are "way behind schedule," the county extension agent said.

"Normally, calves won't fatten on dry grass like that now standing in pastures," Griffith said, "and many calves are being fattened on their mother's milk and wheat in Howard County."

Statewide, the slaughter of grass-fed cattle, calves and yearlings increased sharply during the past year due to high feed costs and low prices for feeder animals.

Will there be a change in 1975?

Jim Bill Little, incumbent Big Spring school board member, filed this week for re-election to his post on the board.

Little, who was appointed in 1971 to fill an unexpired term was re-elected to a term on the board in 1972. A lifetime resident of Big Spring, he and his wife, Nancy have three children including a daughter, Pam who attends Texas A&M where her father graduated; another daughter, Linda, who is a high school senior and Bill.

Little has been active in the First Presbyterian Church and has served as both an elder and a deacon and presently is a deacon. He also is a new director of the Chamber of Commerce.

TIA, ALEA Negotiating

WASHINGTON (AP) —Negotiations between Texas International Airlines and the striking Air Line Employees Association (ALEA) were expected to continue here today in an attempt to end the 81-day old strike.

A spokesman for the National Mediation Board said the two sides still were not meeting together, but were relaying their comments through the mediators.

Texas International has been paralyzed since Dec. 1 by a strike called by ALEA, which represents about 1,100 employees ranging from secretaries to ticket agents, after the airline announced it was cancelling its contract. Texas International was able to maintain partial service for several days after the strike began but has been shut down since Dec. 5, the date mechanics and pilots began honoring picket lines set up by the union.

Searcy Selected Athlete Of Year

Martin V. Searcy was recently selected as "Athlete of the Year" for 1974 by the 78th Flying Training Wing athletic council for his varied interest and quality participation in Webb's athletic program.

As player-coach of the Webb gridders, he was the mainstay of the rugged Duster defense as middle linebacker. He also centered on offense as well as handling the punting and place kicking duties.

The 27-year-old Searcy demonstrated his prowess in softball as pitcher and lead-off batter in the Webb slowpitch team. He compiled the second highest hitting average on the team as well as the highest average during the Midland July 4 Tournament.

In minor sports, he teamed to win both the handball and paddleball doubles championships. Searcy capped the runner-up spots in the singles. He also placed in horseshoes singles and took third in doubles.

Happy days are here again.

93 miles per hour? We obviously don't recommend it, but it is reassuring to know that as you get onto a hectic expressway, a new Volkswagen Rabbit Hatchback has the power for incredible acceleration. From 0 to 50 in only 8.2 seconds. Quicker than a Monza 2+2. 38 miles per gallon? That's what the Rabbit averaged on the highway in the 1975 model Federal Environmental Protection Agency fuel economy tests. The Rabbit in the city averaged a nifty 24. Not bad for a sub-compact with the head and leg room of some mid-size cars. $2,999? That's what you pay for the car backed by the most complete and advanced car coverage plan in the business: The Volkswagen Owner's Security Blanket with Computer Analysis. Happy days are here again? We think you'll think so after you've driven a Rabbit.

Who Cares About Children?

By JO BRIGHT

In the spring of 1974, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, at its convention in San Antonio, voted to adopt a resolution that PTAs become better aware of the facilities and alternatives for the abused and neglected child.

In October, Mrs. Vonda Townsend, local PTA City Council president, issued a statement regarding new developments in Texas in relation to these actions.

"The State Department of Public Welfare has secured funds to double the child welfare staff in Texas for the purpose of reaching more children who are neglected and abused," she said. "There is particular concern with the child abuse problems in Texas, and a full-scale program is being planned to help stem the growing tide of child abuse cases in the state, as well as create more community awareness of the problems of child abuse and neglect. Some workers for Howard County have been allocated in case the county might decide to work out an agreement with the state to carry out a Child Welfare Program here."

The speaker went on to report that a Social Service staff was already in Howard County to give services to adults, and there was also an Aid to Families with Dependent Children family service worker, with plans to add a Protective Service Worker.

There was no established Child Welfare Program or Foster Care Program. The PTA said a statistical tabulation indicated that there is a need for protective services to children in Howard County that is not being met.

The State Department of Public Welfare, concerned with protecting children, has officially opened the Texas Campaign Against Child Abuse and, in conjunction with this campaign, Mayor Wade Choate proclaimed "Child Abuse Prevention Day" in Big Spring.

COMMISSIONER HERE

When Raymond W. Vowell, commissioner, State Department of Public Welfare, came from Austin Thursday to discuss the campaign, the attendance indicated that Big Springers are concerned with protecting their own, especially their children. Those who heard Vowell's appeal for the creation of a local Child Welfare Board included representatives of city and county government, schools, churches, service clubs, hospitals, law enforcement agencies and the military.

Following a slide presentation, "Wednesday's Child," a panel composed of Dr. Mark Nardone, a pediatrician at Malone and Hogan Clinic; Charles M. Condray, head of the adolescent treatment program at Big Spring State Hospital; and Bill Eysen, county attorney, presented views on the medical, psychological and legal aspects of child abuse.

A NATIONAL PROBLEM

What is child abuse and child neglect? According to the State Department of Public Welfare, child abuse is the non-accidental injury of a child by the person responsible for his care.

Child abuse is any act of commission or omission which is injurious to a child's health and welfare. It is a national problem.

Thousands of children in the United States are injured each year by their parent or caretakers. The injuries range from mild to severe, many scar or cripple the child, and some result in death.

Even more children suffer physically and emotionally from neglect, abandonment and desertion by their parents. These children grow up to be fearful, insecure and suspicious, becoming adults who may neglect and abuse their own children.

This problem has become so severe that in the last ten years all 50 states have passed laws to protect children.

Parents who abuse their children are found in all classes of society. They usually do not want to be bad parents, but often are immature, mentally ill or too burdened by their own problems and needs to be able to be good parents.

YOUR HELP NEEDED

The State Department asks for your help in putting an end to child abuse and provides a toll-free "hotline" for reporting such abuse. The number is 1-800-292-5400.

You should report it when you have reason to believe that a child has been physically injured — by malicious beating, striking or other cruel and inhumane treatment or by neglect causing pain or discomfort, or by exploitation or exposure to unwholesome situations.

You do not have to be an eyewitness of abuse or hear a parent's confession. If you believe that neglect or abuse has taken place, you are justified in reporting the situation.

WHAT TO REPORT

If you can, give the names of the parents and the child, their address, the child's age, the nature of the child's injury and his condition. However, if you do not know these facts, any information you can give will be helpful to the person who will investigate the situation.

The Texas Child Abuse law says that reports should be made to the nearest office of the State Department of Public Welfare or to the county attorney. The report may be made in person, by phone, or in writing. State Department of Public Welfare reporting forms are available in your community.

Every action of the Department is taken with the well-being of the child in mind. The first objective is to remove whatever threat exists to the child's health, safety, or well-being. The next goal is restoration of the family unit if possible.

Thus, whatever action has to be taken, even including court-ordered removal from the home, the Department's workers attempt to get at the cause of the distress in the home, help the family correct them, and restore the child to the family.

"MORE CHILDREN in Texas die from abuse from their parents than from any other single cause," said Raymond W. Vowell, commissioner, State Department of Public Welfare, when he spoke Thursday at Dora Roberts Community Center. The luncheon meeting attracted over 200 persons.

DISCUSSING child abuse facts at Thursday's meeting are Jonathan Hale of Austin, assistant to the commissioner; Mrs. Roger Coffman, a long-time PTA worker; and Ms. Sharon Ritchey of the local Social Services office.

"WEDNESDAY'S CHILD," a slide-sound presentation which highlights the problems of child abuse and neglect, was shown here by Jack Storey of Austin, left, visual aids specialist, Media Services Division, State Department of Welfare. Here, he discusses the program with Guy Talbot, special investigator for the district attorney.

AMONG THE more than 200 interested persons who were on hand for "Child Abuse Prevention Day" in Big Spring were the Rev. and Mrs. Jim Collier and Don DeLeeuw. Rev. Collier has served as president of the Westside Community Center board of directors, and DeLeeuw is a past president of the PTA City Council.

Who Is Abused?

Child abuse is divided into three categories: physical abuse, sexual abuse, and emotional abuse.

A. Physical abuse is inflicting physical injury on a child.

B. Sexual abuse is forcing a child to engage in sexual activities.

C. Emotional abuse is regularly, and over an extended period of time, demanding that a child do more than he is capable of doing and criticizing and humiliating him for not living up to the demand; or making such unclear requirements that the child simply cannot understand what he is supposed to do.

Neglect is divided into two categories; physical neglect and emotional neglect.

A. Physical neglect is failure to provide sufficient food, clothing, shelter, medical care, education, guidance, and supervision.

B. Emotional neglect is failure to provide a child with love and affection. Approximately 4,000 cases of suspected child abuse were reported in 1973 in Texas and 2,509 were confirmed. Of these, 135 were cases of sexual abuse. There were at least 104 child abuse deaths in Texas in 1973.

Alpha Betas Has Surgery Plan Model In Odessa Meeting

Plans for a model meeting of Alpha Beta Omicron, Beta Sigma Phi, were completed Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Emily Phillips.

The meeting will be held March 4 in the home of Mrs. Jeanne Gafford with Mrs. Mary Brooks presenting the program.

A coffee for rushees was held Saturday in the home of Mrs. Karen Frette.

Mrs. Gay Smith presented the program, "Express Yourself," in which she said language is the basis for all human relationship. She said birds and animals make sounds that are meaningful, but they can't express themselves as humans can.

"While it is not known when language first started, one has been dated as far back as 4,000 B.C.," said Mrs. Smith. "Speaking and writing are normal parts of our daily routine, and the ability to do both well is essential for success. Speaking is more important than writing because of social relationships."

'Think Metric' Advises Agent

"The nation is going to have to think metric," said Miss Sherry Mullin, home extension agent, speaking to the Elbow Home Demonstration Club Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. L. M. Duffer, who also gave the devotion.
In bringing the awareness program, Miss Mullin said that many measurements had their origin in the Colonial days and were more or less folk sayings. There is no national system. By 1900, many nations had accepted the metric system but not the United States. It was also noted that measurements of time and money would not be affected with the change to metric. Many nutritionists and chemists have been using the system for some time, and with the new labeling act, metric is used. The agent told the housewives they need to learn the system for their own convenience and said that conversion would not be as difficult as it seems. She had members figure their height, weight, etc., by the system, and told them there would be charts available to guide them.

The agent also baked Brownies for which she converted the measurements to metric. A food leaders meeting will be Feb. 24 in the agent's office in the court house.
Mrs. Jean Bowersox won the door prize, and the hostess gave the devotion. Mrs. Margaret Hicks will host the next meeting.

A LOVELIER YOU Pamper The Hair, Watch It Respond

By MARY SUE MILLER

Complaints about female tresses should be set to music. The lyrics are already classics, because you hear them so often. "Hair breaks if you touch it." "Just combing splits the ends." "Sets come out too often after comb-outs." "Hair goes limp after a perm." "Tinting is unsatisfactory. Red turns pink. Blond turns brassy." "Can't do a thing with it." If hair could only talk we'd get an earful of counter-complaints. We'd hear how most of us abuse our locks. How we do absolutely nothing to make amends. Perhaps we'd change our ways if we appreciated the structure of the hair. Each strand is linked together with protein and is equipped with three layers: the medulla, the inner tube to the scalp; the cortex, containing the color; and the outer cuticle, composed of protective, interlocking scales. Any sort of harsh treatment impairs the cuticle, and that leads to general deterioration. This is not to suggest that you forego today's hair fashions, but that you use the gentlest methods in processing a hairdo. And then finish with a conditioner to offset processing. Broken hair, split ends, faulty perms, sets and coloring — total unmanageability — reflect care-less-ness. Hair responds to loving attention with good looks and good behavior.

'Quotable Women

Here are some quotable quotes from women during the week: "The President's budget cuts back in the areas of human resources, where the greatest demands are being made." Gov. Ella T. Grasso of Connecticut, speaking to newsmen during the National Governor's Conference in Washington. "I could no longer live away from the stage and away from my husband, Martin Friedman, of the Baltimore ballet. We will be going to the United States soon and I hope to begin dancing again." Soviet ballerina Kaleriya Fedicheva, expelled from Leningrad's Kirov Ballet Company after marrying an American, on arrival in Rome to be reunited with her husband. "I'm just glad I was wearing my slacks when I tackled him. I don't know if I'd have done the same if I were wearing a miniskirt." Policewoman Arleen Egan, who tackled a gun-carrying man outside a Floral Park, N.Y., bar, disarmed and arrested him. "I thought if he could ski, I could ski, too." Patti Michaud, 14, a Glens Falls, N.Y., girl who says she was inspired by Teddy Kennedy Jr.'s efforts to continue skiing. Patti lost a leg because of a circulatory ailment. "I hope you will see that I come not as a politician who only knows about politics, but as a person who really does know from experience the massive problems you have every day in your business." Margaret Thatcher, the grocer's daughter who became leader of Britain's Conservative party.

TLWV Complains Of Inequalities

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas League of Women Voters said it has filed a complaint with the U.S. Attorney General's office charging Texas is violating the antidiscrimination provisions of the 1972 federal revenue-sharing law. Ethnic and racial minorities and women are under-represented in Texas state government, the league said, and state employees who are members of those groups are under-utilized and underpaid.

Linda Avena of San Antonio, codirector of the league's revenue-sharing project, said the state's failure to adopt a compulsory plan calling for affirmative action prompted the league to ask the attorney general for an investigation. "We hope that Texas can move to improve its employment practices in a manner which will meet federal requirements and avoid the possibility of the loss of federal funds," Mrs. Avena said.

Credit Contest Will Continue Colonial Costumes Made By Forum

Plans to continue sponsoring essay contests about credit were made by Big Spring Credit Women at a luncheon meeting Thursday in the Settles Hotel. The essay contest is on money management, and students in the high school class of Mrs. Tolbert Grissom have entered it for two years. Entries must be received by the club before the beginning of National Credit Week, the last week in April. Prizes for three places are $25, $15 and $10. Members were urged to attend the March 10 Designation Ceremony which will officially designate Big Spring as a bicentennial city.

Making clothing for the local bicentennial celebration was discussed Thursday when the Big Spring Progressive Woman's Forum met in the home of Mrs. Harry McMillan. Mrs. Donald Priddy showed how to make costumes out of old long dresses and how to make pannias, tri-cornered hats and stock scarfs. She also showed how to arrange the legs on men's pants to allow the men to wear long white socks. The Colonial patterns were furnished by Mrs. Mamie Lee Dodds who was unable to be present for the program. A slate of officers for 1975-76 was named with Mrs. Earl Newell as president; Mrs. John Thomas, vice president; Mrs. Hugo Campbell, secretary; Mrs. Neal Bryant, treasurer. The March 20 meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Newell. Club Taught To Crochet A program on broomstick crochet was given by Mrs. Lavern McGonigill for members of the Busy Bee Hobby Club Thursday at 1005 Eleventh Place. Dear Abby

Laurie, Leroy Need Birds And Bees Info

DEAR ABBY: Is it possible for a 13-year-old boy to father a child? Our neighbor claims that Leroy, our 13-year-old son, got Laurie, their 15-year-old daughter, pregnant.

Leroy has always been big for his age, but he never was a run-around, and he hardly ever looked at a girl. He has never been in any kind of trouble. He's a good student and an altar boy at church.

Leroy said he fooled around with Laurie "some," but he wasn't the only one. Laurie says she is sure Leroy is the one, but she admitted to having given in to three other boys.

Laurie refuses to have an abortion because it's against her religion. She is a very religious girl and always said she wanted to be a nun.

We don't know where to turn, Abby. If it's our son's baby, we want to do the right thing, but if it isn't, we don't see why we should be stuck with the responsibility, expense and so on.

Can you help us?

MISSISSIPPI MESS
DEAR MESS: First, you need some expert legal advice. If you can't afford a lawyer, consult your local Legal Aid Society. Then get some counseling from your clergyman, Family Service and — or Planned Parenthood office. It is obvious that both Leroy and Laurie need to know a lot more about the birds and the bees and PEOPLE than they CAN hurt them.

DEAR ABBY: I got into a terrible fight with a telephone operator. I couldn't get my party, so I dialed the operator and asked her to help me get the number. She was very rude, and said: "Why don't you learn how to speak English?"

I know how to speak English, Abby. I was born in Pine Bluff, Arkansas, and lived there until eight months ago, when I moved to California.

When this operator insulted me I asked her what her name was because I was so angry I wanted to report her to her supervisor. She said she wasn't allowed to give out her name, and before I could say another word, she disconnected me.

How can a person report a discourteous telephone operator if she refuses to give you her name?

INSULTED IN CALIF.
DEAR INSULTED: Ask the telephone operator for her "number." (Each operator has one.) If she refuses to give it to you and hangs up, call back and ask for the supervisor. You may not be able to identify the operator against whom you have the complaint, but it's worth a try.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is 17. Her father (from whom I am divorced) bought her a car of her own, and ever since she's had that car her grades have gone down, and she has gotten so disrespectful and independent I can't handle her. She drives off to school in the morning and sometimes I don't see her until 10 P.M. When I ask her where she's been, she says, "Oh, just goofing around."

How can I get her back in line? The car is hers so I can't take it away from her.

HER MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: The key to the situation fits the car. As long as your daughter is under legal age, you are responsible for her. Ground her until her grades come up. And YOU set the rules about when she's expected home.

DEAR ABBY: When a woman complained because her husband wanted her affectionate attentions at odd times, you said: "Shoot the ducks when they are flying." Wonderful advice!

My wife is 62 and so am I. She is full of pep and still works fulltime, and she shoots the ducks while they are flying. And if they aren't flying, she hunts them out!

THE HAPPIEST MAN IN THE WORLD

P.S. The only time she gets angry with me is when I tickle the bottom of her feet. She is a little overweight, so there are plenty of other places to tickle her. I hope you don't think we are crazy.

DEAR HAPPY: If you're crazy, what this world needs is more crazy people.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212, for Abby's booklet "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20 cents) envelope.

JUNE BRIDE — Miss Rebecca Ann Schwartz of St. Lawrence and Roger William Halfmann, Abilene, will be married June 7 in the St. Lawrence Catholic Church. The future bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Schwartz, St. Lawrence, and Halfmann is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guintin Halfmann of Rowena.

New HEW Booklet May Aid One-Parent Families

There are thousands of men and women raising their children without the other parent. And, the adjustment is not an easy one for either parent or children to make. In fact, the loss of a mate through death, divorce, or separation usually causes some degree of shock or emotional upheaval. No matter how well prepared a person might be for the loss, when it happens the remaining partner usually goes through a difficult adjustment period.

If you are an only parent or if you are faced with the possibility of becoming one, studies from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) indicate that the time to begin getting help is now.

"One-Parent Families" is a HEW booklet that discusses sources of assistance to help you cope with the difficulties and adjustments in a separation. A copy of "One-Parent Families" may be obtained for 30 cents from Consumer Information, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

The booklet includes advice from experts to:

1. Turn to a relative, if possible. Even if they're far away, a trip might be worthwhile.

2. On the other hand, if you don't want to talk with a relative, how about friends? The chance to talk things out with a trusted friend is a first important step — not only to a readjustment, but to the

Free Orthopedic Clinic Will Be Conducted Here March 1

The Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, in cooperation with the Howard County Easter Seal Society, will conduct its next orthopedic clinic at 9 a.m., March 1. Parents of children may pre-register by calling the center, 267-6387, or register the day of the clinic until 12 noon.

The clinic will be under the supervision of the center's medical advisory committee which is composed of Dr. Pete Rhymes, chairman; Dr. Roscoe B. Cowper, Dr. W. A. Riley, Dr. Neil Sanders, Dr. Louise Worthy and Dr. Robert Sheldon. The medical director of the clinic will be Dr. Rhymes, orthopedic surgeon from Malone and Hogan Clinic.

Dr. Worthy will be the pediatrician for the next clinic. All new patients to the clinic must be seen between 9 and 10 a.m., otherwise, the pediatrician will not be able to see them.

All children up to 21 years of age are eligible to attend. This will include children from the surrounding area as well as from Big Spring and Howard County. It is hoped that children from Lamesa, Colorado City, Snyder, Loraine, Stanton, Sterling City, Garden City and other cities as well, will benefit from this clinic. No charge will be made for services rendered.

Parents of children who wish to have their children seen in this clinic should contact their family physician in order to have them referred. If they do not have a physician, they should contact the center or register the day of the clinic.

The purpose of the clinic is to offer a diagnostic and evaluation service to crippled children through the team approach. The team will consist of an orthopedic surgeon, pediatrician, physical therapist, occupational therapist, speech therapist, public health nurse and brace man. It is felt that through the team approach that a better evaluation of the child's treatment program can be given. The clinic will help to determine what kind of treatment is best for the child. The child might need one or a combination of the following types of treatment: physical therapy, surgery, braces, corrective shoes, drugs or a home exercise program.

Sponsors hope that through this clinic children who have so far not been treated might be located and treatment begun. It is essential that children who are eligible for the state crippled children's program be seen by a physician who is a member of the board of physicians approved under the state crippled children's division before they can be placed under this program. Children who attend this clinic will be eligible to apply for the state crippled children's program.

Change Options Being Discussed

WESTBROOK (SC) — The Westbrook School Board is meeting with representatives of the Rose Construction Co., Abilene, and with architects to work out a plan to change options on construction of a new auditorium and renovation of the school and gymnasium.

The board opened bids for the project last week, and the Rose Construction Co. bid was the low bid, but it was about $60,000 more than anticipated at $442,228. Superintendent of Schools L. M. Dawson said that the project was slated to include the construction of a 6,638 square foot auditorium with a seating capacity of 398, the construction of 1,300 square feet of office space on the front of the building, and renovation of the school building including new carpeting, new ceilings, new heating and cooling systems, and additional library space. Westbrook School District voters approved a $400,000 bond issue in July to finance the construction.

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Southern Baptists will hold their national convention here in 1980, Ray Bennisson, president of the Convention and Visitors Bureau of Greater Kansas City, Inc., has announced.

1975 Crop Season Off To Good Start In Texas

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — With generally adequate soil moisture throughout the state, the 1975 crop season should get off to a good start, Dr. John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says.

GOOD PROGRESS — Surplus moisture conditions over parts of Central, North Central, East and Southeast Texas have slowed land preparation work, he said.

Hutchison said livestock grazing is short over much of the state and most stockmen have had to use some supplemental feeding to maintain their herds through the winter. Numerous cattle have been lost because of malnutrition, especially in eastern counties, Hutchison said.

District agricultural agents gave these reports: South Plains: Small grains continue to make good progress. Livestock are beginning to move off wheat fields to allow grain crops to be produced. Farmers are applying fertilizer and herbicides.

Rolling Plains: Small grains are making excellent growth. Greenbugs are causing some damage to small grains. Some early vegetables such as Irish potatoes are being planted.

VEGETABLES — North Central: A few small grain fields are being topdressed with nitrogen fertilizer. Some early spring vegetables are being planted where soil conditions allow. Livestock feeding remains heavy.

Far West: Livestock are in good shape but there is some feeding of range cattle. Sheep and goat shearing is in progress. Land preparation is active.

West Central: Small grains are providing good grazing for livestock. Some ranges are beginning to green up. Some early wheat is in the jointing stage. Lambing and shearing are active. Sheep losses from bitterweed poisoning continue in Sutton County.

ONIONS — Southwest: Small grains are making rapid growth.

BSPOA Slates Monday Session

Members of the Big Spring Property Owners Association will hold a regular business meeting at 6:30 p.m., Monday at Furr's Cafeteria.

Some pastures and ranges are in poor shape because of overstocking. Some winter vegetables are still moving to market. Onions are making good growth. South: Planting of sorghum and corn is increasing. Three to five per cent of the acreage is planted. Planting of watermelons and cucumbers continues. Onions are making good growth. Coyotes have killed numerous calves in Duval County.

Advisory Group Slated To Meet

AUSTIN — A plan to update state accreditation standards for all public school programs for handicapped children will head the agenda of the Special Education Advisory Committee which meets in Austin Tuesday.

Lloyd McKee, superintendent of Colorado City schools, is a member of the 15-member group, an advisory body to the Texas Education Agency, who will meet at the Southwest Education Development Laboratory from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The new accreditation standards, first major updating of the state's special education guidelines since 1968, will go into effect in September, 1976.

"The new standards will govern statewide use of the comprehensive or Plan A program in Texas public schools," Don Partridge, Texas Education Agency director of special education, points out.

Proposed policies and guidelines for the state's deaf-blind education program will also be discussed at the Tuesday session.

City Of Merkel Employs Sadler

COLORADO CITY — J. A. Sadler Jr., former city manager of Colorado City, has been named to a similar position in Merkel.

His official title will be city coordinator. He will assume his new duties Monday. He will maintain authority over all city departments in Merkel, supervising purchasing, reporting directly to the mayor and city council.
