

Rioting Mobs Force Airlift Suspension

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Da Nang's military commander ordered his men today to shoot to kill anyone causing disturbances in the threatened northern city as rioting mobs forced the suspension of the American airlift of refugees. The U.S. consulate in Da Nang also closed.

Some shots were fired in the isolated city, but there was no information on any casualties.

TANK ATTACK

The Saigon command said its forces repulsed a North Vietnamese tank attack on Da Nang's southern defense perimeter, about 25 miles south of the city. Elsewhere, the Communists succeeded in capturing Lam Dong Province, in the lower central highlands 90 miles northeast of Saigon, overran a former U.S. base camp on the central coastal plain and threatened another district capital there.

Lam Dong is the 12th of South Vietnam's 44 provinces lost to the Communists since the start of the year. These plus areas in a number of other provinces give the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong control of more than half of South Vietnam's territory of 66,263 square miles, including all the northern provinces except the city of Da Nang and all the central part of the country except the coastal strip.

REBEL SHELLING

In Cambodia, the U.S. airlift to the besieged capital of Phnom Penh was suspended temporarily after the heaviest rebel shelling attack at the airport in two weeks killed two persons and wounded five, officials said. None of the American planes was hit.

On the Cambodian political front, several hundred students staged the sharpest antigovernment demonstration in months, equating American aid with the continuing war and demanding a change of government in Phnom Penh. The rally came shortly after the government shut all schools in Phnom Penh on security grounds.

The U.S. Embassy in Saigon was reported not receiving any reports from Da Nang because the consulate was closed. Sources said the consul general, Al Francis, was safe and in the Da Nang area with a handful of other consular officials.

The informants said more than 300 Americans, including about 85 officials assigned to the consulate, had been evacuated during the past two days in anticipation either of a North Vietnamese attack or a complete breakdown of law and order in Da Nang.

HELP NEEDED

Despite the suspension of the airlift from Da Nang, sources said the CIA airline, Air America, flew three planes into an airstrip on the coast about four miles east of the main Da Nang airport, and lifted out about 300 Vietnamese and Americans. They said Air Vietnam also flew refugees from Da Nang to Saigon, but it was not known how many people it carried out. An American seafleet involving three U.S. vessels able to carry 26,000 persons was set to begin soon.

Cuevas Trial Recessed

HOUSTON (AP) — The judge in the Ignacio Cuevas prison shootout murder trial refused today to issue an instructed verdict of acquittal and declined to let the defense lawyers see the grand jury testimony.

District Court Judge Miron A. Love then recessed the trial until Monday.

The defense's motion for acquittal was almost routine, contending the state had not proven its case.

Earlier, the defense said it may call "several star state witnesses" the state failed to place on the witness stand before resting its case.

Will Gray, chief defense counsel, indicated such witnesses would include W.J. Estelle Jr., director of the Texas Department of Corrections, and Ruben Montemayor, San Antonio lawyer recently nominated to the TDC board. Montemayor is a former lawyer for Fred Gomez Carrasco, the leader of the three-man escape attempt that left four persons dead. Montemayor was in Huntsville during much of the 11-day prison library siege that ended with a shootout last Aug. 3.

Dist. Atty. Jerry Sandel of Huntsville rested his case Thursday afternoon after nine days of testimony and after two expert witnesses linked the fatal wounds of three of the four persons killed with gunshots fired from inside an escape shield built of blackboards and lawbooks.

ARRAIGNED — Susan Edith Saxe, arrested Thursday night as one of the FBI's most wanted fugitives, is hustled by FBI agents into the U. S. Federal Court building in Philadelphia today for arraignment. Miss Saxe had been sought on charges of interstate flight to avoid prosecution in the slaying of a Boston policeman during holdup of a Boston bank Sept. 23, 1970.

The World At-A-Glance

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Securities and Exchange Commission has filed a multimillion dollar suit against billionaire recluse Howard Hughes, Las Vegas odds maker Jimmy "The Greek" Snyder and seven others. They are accused of violating securities laws in Hughes' purchase of the airline Air West. The federal court suit seeks the return of $45 million to $48 million in alleged illicit profits made in the acquisition of the airline.

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A severe earthquake rocked a 400-mile wide area of the central Rocky Mountains Thursday night, but only minor damage and no serious injuries were reported. The tremor registered 6.3 on the Richter Scale and was the strongest earthquake in the United States since the 6.5 quake which took 64 lives in 1971 in the San Fernando Valley of California, according to the National Earthquake Information Center.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government inspection teams flunked 68 of the first 105 Medicare hospitals spot-checked for health and safety deficiencies last year, the Social Security Administration says. There is no reason to believe the ratio is any better in the rest of the 6,700 hospitals caring for millions of elderly patients in the $10-billion-a-year federal program, an official said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The broadest help in the new tax bill goes to lower-income persons. But the biggest individual dollar winners, with nearly $4,000 in tax savings, would be a few upper-middle class taxpayers who qualify for two narrowly drawn benefits. The taxcut sweepstakes champion would be a family in which both parents work, earning a combined income between $27,600 and $35,000, that spends $4,800 in child care expenses and buys a new $40,000 home this year.

DJIBOUTI, Afars & Issas Territory (AP) — Jean Guery, the French ambassador to Somalia who was kidnapped last Sunday by African rebels, was freed in South Yemen today in exchange for $100,000 in gold and two terrorists released from French jails, informed sources said. The 57-year-old envoy flew to Djibouti in a French military plane. Diplomats said Guery was in good condition and spoke with his wife, Françoise, by telephone.

CAUTIOUS KID — Six year old Shane Robertson apparently doesn't think it's a good idea to get any closer to that rattler, even though his father, Jaycee vice president Robby Robertson (left) and Jaycee president Eddie Cole have the reptile under control. About 2,500 pounds of rattlesnakes are expected to be taken by hunters during the three-day Jaycee Rattlesnake Round-up today, Saturday and Sunday.

Cold Weather Helpful To Round-Up Hunters

Despite cold weather, around 2,500 pounds of West Texas rattlesnakes are expected to be turned in by snake hunters at the three-day Jaycees Rattlesnake Round-up which began this morning at the National Guard Armory.

Robby Robertson, Jaycee vice president and Round-up chairman, said that quite a few hunters are out today rounding up the rattlers. The cold weather actually makes hunting the snakes safer, as they are unable to move as fast in cold weather.

Billed as the world's most unusual sporting event, the snakes are collected and purchased by the Jaycees, who "milk" the snakes, removing the venom. The venom is used in medical research by a doctor at Colorado State University. Dr. Carlos Bonilla uses the proteins and extracts from the venom in heart research to simulate heart attacks. The snakes themselves will be sold to a snake farm in Laraspur, Colorado.

A live poisonous snake handling demonstration presented by Delbert Hutchings, Big Spring, will highlight the activities for Saturday and Sunday and skinning and snake "milking" demonstrations will continue throughout the hunt.

Admission to the round-up is $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children from six to twelve years old.

Cash prizes and trophies will be awarded to the top three weights turned in by registered hunters by Sunday at 5 p.m. and cash awards and trophies will go to the hunter who brings in the shortest and the longest snakes and the snake with the most rattlers.

The snakes are purchased at 20 cents a pound on Friday, 15 cents a pound on Saturday and 10 cents a pound on Sunday.

One hunter has already come up with a good entry for the shortest snake trophy, as his catch measures only 15 inches. Some of the larger snakes stretch up to four and five feet in length.

Fire Kills 24 Babies

RIJEKA, Yugoslavia (AP) — A flash fire killed 24 babies and critically injured four others in the maternity wing of a Rijeka hospital early today, officials said. Most of the victims were only 2-to-3 days old, a hospital source said.

Many mothers on the same floor as the babies became hysterical because they couldn't reach them in time, a source said. He said some oxygen probably leaked from a tank attached to the incubators and fed the flames.

Rijeka is about 35 miles southeast of Trieste. An official announcement blamed the blaze in an infants' room on faulty electrical installations. A spokesman for Dr. Zdravko Kucic Hospital said 23 of the infants perished when the fire burned up oxygen or choked it off to incubators containing newborn babies.

Weeping parents and relatives besieged the hospital seeking information but were held back by officials who were ordered to give out no information except for the brief official announcement. The statement said the babies' identification was still being established. Flags were lowered to half staff in this Adriatic port and industrial city and the City Council proclaimed a day of mourning.

An announcement read by Rijeka District Court Judge

Vladimir Pavic said the blaze broke out between 2:00 and 3:00 a.m., killing 23 of the 26 babies in the room. He said five injured babies were taken to a children's hospital in Rijeka and one of them died later in the morning. He did not specify the exact cause of death.

Blowing Snow Pops Panhandle

By The Associated Press

Snow whitened much of the Texas Panhandle and bristling thunderstorms threatened tornadoes or flash floods for most of North Central and Northeast Texas today.

Other parts of the state stayed comparatively warm with a little light rain and fog dampening coastal areas. The twister spun down to wreck a mobile home halfway between Gainesville and Valley View in North Texas shortly before 1 a.m. Its injured occupants Manuel Nerra and his wife Jeanne were taken to a Gainesville hospital. State police said a second trailer house, unoccupied, was overturned and other damage was minor.

TRAVEL ALERT
Around one inch of snow covered the countryside from near Childress and Amarillo northward through the Panhandle and westward into New Mexico by early morning. It started falling about midnight.

The snowfall made streets, bridges and overpasses slick and hazardous, prompting a special travel advisory to motorists. In addition, wind gusting to 35 miles per hour at Amarillo lowered visibility in blowing snow.

Official forecasters placed 31 counties in North Central and Northeast Texas under a tornado watch lasting until 10 a.m. today. It was posted after the tornado hit near Gainesville and sharp hail storms pounded that area and the Sherman-Denison locality, where there was some damage to rooftops.

The tornado watch lay roughly north of a line from Nocona to Fort Worth, southeast toward Waco and back northeast to the Louisiana line north to Shreveport.

HEAVY RAINS

Briefly heavy rains accompanied the thunderstorms. Because the ground already was saturated at many points, forecasters said as much as 3 inches more moisture posed a threat of flash flooding in an area generally north of a line from Abilene across the Louisiana border to Shreveport. This alert covered the rest of today.

FREEZE

Freeze tonight to be borne on northeasterly winds 6-16 miles per hour. Northerly winds 20-30 m.p.h. this afternoon. Cloudy. High today and Saturday in the 40s. Low tonight, near 30.

Blossoming Fruit Trees May Suffer From Cold

If the temperature drops to 30 degrees and stays there a couple of hours, many fruit trees in the blossoming stage will probably lose their fruit, according to Bill Fryrear, superintendent of the Agriculture Experiment Station here.

Fryrear said that wind and humidity are factors, but generally a 30 degree temperature for around two hours will kill the fruit on apple, peach, cherry, and plum trees now blooming.

"Some people have success in saving their fruit by stringing Christmas tree lights on the trees and keeping the lights on all night," he said. "However, if the wind is blowing, that's not very effective," he added.

A cover on the trees, or a cover in addition to the tree lights may keep the blooms on the trees.

On a commercial scale, mist machines are used to create a thin layer of ice on the trees to protect them from colder weather, but he said that kind of protection is risky, because too much ice will break off tree limbs.

Young Shoplifters Do Respond To Counseling

DEAR ABBY: A little of the light has gone out of my life. My heart is heavy and I can't seem to turn my thoughts to anything else for very long.

I've just discovered that my lovely, 14-year-old daughter is a shoplifter, and has been for some time. Abby, it's as though I have two daughters. One I know, and the other is a stranger to me.

I have always tried to keep the lines of communication open. My husband and I have always tried to teach our children to be honest and law-abiding. I can't understand what went wrong. What would cause a girl who never wanted for anything, and was raised in a good Christian home to go into a store and steal? She is going for counseling today as she refuses to talk to me about it. I pray she can be helped. I want her to grow into a beautiful young woman — inside as well as out.

Have you any words of comfort for me?

DESPAIRING MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Don't despair. Your daughter won't talk to you about it because she is too ashamed. She knows how deeply she has disappointed you. Young shoplifters do not necessarily have "criminal tendencies." They sometimes steal for the "thrill" of getting away with something, or to impress their peers with their "courage." Professional counselors are trained to help children understand their anti-social behavior, and many young shoplifters have matured into respectable, law-abiding citizens.

DEAR ABBY: Our grandson had to marry his highschool sweetheart. They had a beautiful, hurry-up church wedding. We gave them a $25 check for a wedding present. Six months later they had a baby boy. Everything went along fine for about a year. Then they got a divorce.

A year later, our grandson married a divorced woman who had two small children. That was also a large church wedding. Everything was pale pink. We gave them a $25 check for a wedding gift. That lasted only seven months.

After being single for two years, this same grandson is going to get married again, this time to a young widow who has a small child. We are hoping for the best.

My question is, do we have to give them a wedding present, too? We are living on Social Security, and it is not easy.

GRANDPARENTS

DEAR GRANDPARENTS: Gift giving (even to grandchildren) is never compulsory. Give them your best wishes now, and wait a while to see if it takes. If it lasts a year, give them an anniversary present.

DEAR ABBY: Eight years ago, I fell in love with a married man. We worked for the same company. I was single at the time, but I didn't believe in wrecking marriages (especially where children were involved), so I didn't let the affair get out of hand.

Two years later, I married a wonderful man. I'll admit, I married him for security, but I soon learned to love him in my fashion. I was a faithful wife for six years. After our second child was born, I went back to my old job. The married man was still there, and the old flame was rekindled. We both tried to fight it, but we couldn't. After a while, we picked up our affair where we had left it.

Abby, I have never been happier. He feels the same way. The strange part of it is that I really love my husband, and he loves his wife, but we still love each other.

Tell me, Abby, is it possible to be in love with two people at the same time?

Fight Inflation, Save Energy

Fighting inflation and saving energy: (1) resist impulse buying. Although the price may seem small at the time — 79c here, 99c there — these costs add up and can total hundreds of dollars a year. (2) Save money on cheese and cold cuts. Buy them in "chunks" and do the slicing at home.

(3) Once a week plan a menu with a neighbor and trade leftovers. (4) Save energy while dishwashing. A dishwasher developed by engineers includes an "Energy Saver" button. A push of the button keeps a 1,100 watt air heater off during the drying cycle — saving about 50 per cent of the electricity normally used.

Commission Will Seek U.S. Funds

Members of County Commissioners Court this morning voted unanimously to authorize a letter application for federal funds for two specially-equipped ambulances and related hospital communication gear.

The court figured the ambulances and equipment being sought through the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission by the city and county would cost the county $16,250 if the county paid half of the local share.

Monday is the deadline for notifying the planning commission of the county's intention to seek the grant.

Alert Ambulance, the service now contracted and partially financed by the city and county, could lease the two ambulances.

Commissioner Simon (Cy) Terrazas doubted the privately-operated service would allow the county to reduce its financial aid in return for the ambulances.

"If the picture changes in the future, we have the opportunity to back out" and not obligate county money to help match federal funds, Commissioner William B. Crooker Jr. said.

Terrazas, however, argued he considered the county now committed to purchase of the equipment if the federal grant is approved.

Absentee Votes Now Total 48

County Clerk Margaret Ray counted 48 who had voted absentee in the Big Spring school district board election this morning. Yet to be returned by mail were two ballots.

In the Howard County school board election, five had voted. There were no ballots, which the county clerk's office had mailed to citizens but which had not been cast.

The last time voters may vote absentee in person is 5 p.m. Tuesday. Absentee ballots will be accepted in the mail until 1 p.m. April 5, the day of the election.

Survey Sought By Commission

The city traffic commission decided to concern itself more with public education than traffic control when it met for its monthly meeting Thursday.

Police Capt. Sherrill Farmer, assisted by Mrs. Byrd, was in charge of the meeting arrangements here.

Mayor Wade Choate welcomed the group and presented a key to the city to Ted Atwood of Lubbock, outgoing president of the organization.

Maurice Cole of Midland was given a surprise plaque Thursday afternoon. He was instrumental in starting the organization in West Texas.

The report was concluded with "officer discussed possible action with female subjects. All settled for now."

DUSTY LANDING — Barely visible, two of the Navy's aerial demonstration team, the Blue Angels, seem to materialize on the Webb AFB runway, as their Douglas A-4 Skyhawks cut through the swirling sand and dust. The aerial demonstration team landed for refueling during the dust storm that hit here Monday. The Blue Angels had planned to fly over the base in a six-aircraft formation before landing, but the dust storm forced them to cancel the flyover.

Local Dispatcher Named To Office

Mrs. Jo Byrd, police dispatcher in Big Spring, was named the new secretary-treasurer of the West Texas Communications Association when they met here from a 50-county area Thursday.

New president of the group is Mrs. Eydie Butler, Sweetwater police department. Gary Page, Brownwood Police Department, first vice president; Mrs. Juanita Schafer, Colorado City police department, second vice president; and Mrs. Gloria Erwin, Colorado City, assistant secretary-treasurer.

Talks given to the 72 representatives of some 37 departments included information of possible disasters and the importance of police communications at this time.

They also heard talks on handling of military disasters, problems of special security and the use of the state crime information service and problems relating to violations of FCC regulations on citizens band radio.

Speakers included Cal Killingsworth and Ben Montague, Department of Public Safety in Austin; James Lanney, national weather service, Midland; Richard Buckland, DPS Midland; Dwayne Collins, DPS, Lubbock; Ted Atwood, police department Lubbock and Col. Ron Lueneburg and Captain Dick Risk, Webb AFB.

Among the group attending the meeting here were two women who have infiltrated the law enforcement ranks of West Texas beyond the traditional woman's dispatcher role.

KNOWLEDGE WORK
Mrs. Glenda McCullough, who is a patrolman or patrol person in Brownfield, got interested in law enforcement because her husband was a patrolman. He is now a patrol sergeant, but Mrs. McCullough stated, "But he's only my boss when I'm on his shift."

Grimes Named To Head Credit Union Board

Directors of Webb AFB Federal Credit Union this week declared the dividend for shares on deposit at the end of the first quarter of 1975, appointed officers for the upcoming year, installed a newly elected board member and nominated a supervisory committee.

The newly formed board voted to pay the annual 6 percent dividend, with a one-half percent annual bonus dividend. This marks the third time in the history of the credit union that the board has elected to pay the one-half percent annual bonus dividend at the close of a quarter period. This comes in the face of decreasing prime rates and investment certificates at other financial institutions.

Lt. Col. Jerry S. Grimes will head the board and L.V. Miskel will serve as vice president. C.M. Sgt. Walter H. Purgason will fill the treasurer's post. The secretary of the new board is C.M. Sgt. Robert L. Clark. These four individuals will occupy the same positions they held in 1974.

Other members on the board include Cal Lowry, Lt. Col. Stanley C. Hanson, and S.M. Sgt. Samuel R. Earl. S.M. Sgt. Earl, who has served on the credit committee at Webb Credit Union in the past, was elected to the 1975 board by the general membership in an election by mail in February.

The 1975 supervisory committee will be chaired by Mrs. Dorothy Kenemur, and John C. Wilson Jr., will serve as secretary. These two individuals filled the same positions in 1974. Also on the supervisory committee are Cletus Piper, Robert A. Nunn, and I.L. Willard L. Teel. Lt. Teel was nominated to the committee by the board during their meeting.

WEATHER FORECAST — Rain and showers are forecast today for parts of New Mexico and Texas and for the eastern Gulf to the Great Lakes. Showers are expected for part of the Pacific Northwest and central and northern Plains. Rain is forecast for the Carolinas. Continuing cold weather is expected for the nation.

AIRBORNE SIBLINGS — A South Vietnamese girl cradles her young brother aboard an Air America C-46 carrying refugees from the threatened city of Da Nang Thursday. The flight was among the first in a U.S. sponsored airlift evacuating refugees who have swarmed by the thousands into the city of Da Nang from abandoned areas in the northern provinces.

Constitution Vote Expected

AUSTIN (AP) — Speaker Bill Clayton said today he expects the House to vote on a new Texas Constitution at mid-April if the Senate has finished work on it by then.

The House adopted a rule Thursday to approve chances of passing the constitutional package by requiring a two-thirds vote on amendments such as the emotionally-laden side issues that killed the final document at the 1974 Texas Constitutional Convention.

Senators, however, can amend by a majority vote, although in both chambers each full article of the new constitution must be approved by a two-thirds vote.

"I think we are going to come out with a clean constitutional revision package," Clayton told a news conference.

Asked whether he unreservedly supports the document that has emerged in virtually identical language from committees in the Senate and House, Clayton said: "You bet I'll support it and work for the passage of it."

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, who presides over the Senate, has spoken in favor of leaving constitutional revision to a new convention made up of elected delegates instead of the legislature.

But Clayton said he hears by the "grapevine" that there are 20 solid Senate votes for the new constitution, with three or four probable. Twenty-one votes are needed to pass it in that

Three Hurt In Mishap

COLORADO CITY — Three occupants of a 1973 Plymouth Barracuda were hospitalized here following an accident which occurred on IS 20 approximately 21 miles east of Big Spring shortly after 3 a.m. today.

Texas Highway Patrolman Bill Jennings of Big Spring was called to the scene at 3:45 a.m.

Driver of the vehicle was Jeanne Pate, who was traveling with her son, Jason Pate, 2, and the owner of the car, Gregory W. Allen, 24.

Mrs. Pate suffered a concussion, a fractured left ankle and cuts and abrasions. The child has head injuries not believed to be serious.

Gregory escaped with a broken jaw and numerous cuts and abrasions.

The vehicle was traveling west. Police said Mrs. Pate may have gone to sleep at the wheel. The vehicle drifted into the median, struck an abutment and subsequently was hurled out of the ditch. It exploded, burned and wound up a total loss.

Decision On Tax Slash 'Tough Call,' Says Ford

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford says his decision on whether to sign or veto the $24.8 billion tax cut bill is "a tough call" because he has found "some good and some very bad things" in it.

Initial reaction at the White House indicated unhappiness with the bill because of the size of the tax cut, repeal of the oil depletion allowance and what administration officials say is the possibility of a $100-billion budget deficit for fiscal 1976.

The President called a morning meeting today with his economic and energy advisers to study the tax cut bill. He was asked by a reporter at Good Friday church services whether he intended to sign it. But the President did not respond.

If Ford signs the bill, rebate checks on 1974 taxes would be mailed beginning May 15. Lower tax withholding rates would go into effect May 1.

The Treasury Department sent the President an evaluation of the tax bill provisions Thursday, including four pages "of major objections." White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen reported.

TAX, SPENT
Ford met with his economic advisers Thursday and asked for their analysis of the bill.

"I want you to look not only at the specifics of this bill, but the failure of Congress to hold down spending," Ford told them. The President wanted a tax cut of $16.2 billion, but sent word that he might go as high as $20 billion.

When the final figures came in, he was described as disappointed and "seriously concerned" over provisions of the bill.

James T. Lynn, director of the Office of Management and Budget, told the President at the meeting Thursday that Congress' failure to go along with Ford's requests for spending cuts and for his tax cut would bring the budget deficit for 1976 to about $100 billion.

Nessen emphasized that Ford has not yet made any decision and that it will take at least several days before he makes up his mind. The President has until midnight Tuesday, April 8, to act on the bill, which Congress passed in a last-minute rush late Wednesday before beginning a 10-day Easter recess.

Easter Revival Set At East 4th Baptist

Revival services will begin this Sunday morning, March 30, at the East Fourth St. Baptist Church, located on E. 4th St. between Nolan and Gollad, and continue through Saturday, April 5.

The Evangelist will be Rev. Jack Clinkscales, pastor of the Forsan First Baptist Church. Sunday services will be at the regular times — 11 a.m. and 7 p.m., with weekday services at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Jerry Newman, minister of music and Youth at East Fourth St. Church, will be in charge of the music for the week, which will include special numbers by the combined church and Youth Choirs and the Rainbow Singers (Women's Ensemble).

Also, several soloists and singing groups from other churches in Big Spring have been invited to participate in the music program for the revival.

Rev. Clinkscales was born in London, England, and surrendered to preach at the age of seventeen years, and is now in his forty-second year of preaching. He served as a fighter pilot in England's R.A.F. in World War II and participated in the Battle of Britain and the Normandy Invasion.

He earned his B.S. Degree from London's Polytechnic College, and has preached in Crusades in France, Holland, Scotland, England, Canada and the United States. Rev. & Mrs. Clinkscales have five children, all of whom were born in England. The family came to the United States in 1951, and one night during the revival Rev. Clinkscales will relate the story of how God led them to make this move.

Since 1951 Rev. Clinkscales has pastored churches in Maljamar, Carlsbad and Alamogordo, New Mexico; Crown Point, Indiana; Big Spring (Westside Baptist) and Forsan, Texas (First Baptist). He has held revivals in Indiana, Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

The Rev. Eddie Thibodeaux, Pastor of the East Fourth St. Baptist Church, extends a cordial invitation to all of Big Spring and the surrounding area to attend these revival services and hear Rev. Clinkscales bring soul-stirring messages from the Word of God. The church nursery will be available for all services during the week.

Church Events Highlight Week

By MARJ CARPENTER

All churches in the city were planning special music for Easter morning with many solos and choir numbers taking weeks of preparation. There is no Easter Sunrise service this year.

St. Mary's Episcopal will hold baptism at 8 p.m. on Holy Saturday and Holy Eucharist on Easter Sunday at 8 and 10:30 a.m.

They have also set a special concert at 8 p.m. Tuesday by the Midland-Odessa Choral along with their new pipe organ.

First United Methodist had large crowds at their luncheon meetings during Holy Week with the Rev. George Hunter from Perkins Theological Seminary presenting an interesting series on Faith.

In the final message, he challenged the congregation to assuming responsibility in personal evangelism.

Large crowds attended the annual Men's Breakfast meetings at First Presbyterian with different elders in the church alternating as speakers each morning.

The church also held an egg hunt this morning for the younger children in the congregation.

Oakwood Baptist Youth Choir of Lubbock, who just completed a tour in Oklahoma, will be at Berea Baptist Church Friday, April 4 at 8 p.m. to present a musical entitled "Celebrate Life."

This is an outstanding musical with drama portraying the Life of Christ. The public is invited to attend.

The flowering shrubs and bulbs around town remind us of Martin Luther's quotation, "Our Lord has written the promise of Resurrection, not in books alone, but in every leaf in springtime."

'Seven Last Words' Used As Topic Everywhere

NEW YORK (AP) — The world moves, sometimes almost as if by an impersonal momentum of its own, and the results are mixed. Things often go awry. But the wheels turn; the administrations act; the systems operate. Goodness mingles with the cruelties, and the gains are clouded by set-backs and outrages.

"Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

The words are among the seven last sayings of Jesus as he hung on the cross, an ordeal commemorated by the churches Friday with three-hour services from noon to 3 p.m., usually with discourses and meditation on those final, dying utterances.

At the thief's remorse, Jesus told him, "Truly, I say to you, today you will be with me in paradise." This was the second saying.

Jesus, through eyes dimmed with pain, could see among the faces below that of his mother, Mary, and of the one apostle who had not fled, John. "Woman, this is your son," Jesus said to Mary, and then spoke to John. "This is your mother."

In agony, his body wrenched as he cried loudly, "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?" Called the cry of dereliction, that fourth saying registers the bleakest moment, the deepest emptiness and lonely isolation anyone can know, and Jesus underwent it.

"I thirst," Jesus said, the fifth saying. A soldier shoved a vinegar-soaked sponge on a stick to his face. "It is finished," he said, the sixth saying. The work was done, the hurt and horror of the world endured, its heaviness laid on its finest and noblest.

Suddenly, an instant before he died, he shouted his seventh and last utterance from the cross, "Father, into thy hands I commit my spirit!" He had traversed the dark chasm, suffered the alienating night, taken on himself humanity's hardest blows, and at its epitome, in death, knew ringing trust in his Father's waiting hands. It brought a final, confident shout to his lips — a jubilation that has echoed in his followers ever since in awareness of the outcome, the crowning word of the Resurrection.

There was mysterious paradox here, the utterly good who deserved the best, bearing the worst, and in doing so, forgiving those responsible for it.

Triumphant Hour

Scriptures Selected By The American Bible Society

Copyright 1975 Kester Advertising Service, Inc., Strasburg, Virginia

I arose early today for a quiet walk in my garden.
Faraway, church bells in the valley glorified the morning.
Suddenly, it seemed I saw another garden, another woman.
She stood crying by an empty tomb. The beauties of the morn meant nothing to her, for He, who had given meaning to her life, had died on Calvary. Weeping, she turned, "tell me where thou hast laid him . . ."
"Mary." By one single word joy was reborn. "Master!" she said, and knew her Lord lived.
Now, the tumultuous triumph of that hour rang across the centuries and swelled within me! The Lord is risen.
Come join the mighty chorus. Attend your church—learn the joyous promise of God's love.

Vapor Controls Hearing Booked

HOUSTON (AP) — The Texas Air Control Board has scheduled an April 18 hearing here on proposed new state regulations to require vapor controls on degreasing operations and gasoline storage tanks at service stations.

Both types of controls were promulgated by the Environmental Protection Agency as part of its controversial transportation plan to reduce hydrocarbon pollution.

Mobile Home Safety Device

BALLINGER, Tex. (AP) — Anytime a major windstorm comes up, the first damaged are mobile homes, although state law now requires that they be securely tied down.

"Even though they tie it (the home) down, it's still not 100 per cent safe if that banding gets loose," says Levi Russell Jr. of Ballinger who now has invented a device to warn homeowners.

"I stayed awake at night trying to devise an indicator that would warn the mobile home occupant if his banding became unsafe," said Russell.

"I kept thinking of the people who paid for the tie-down job that House Bill 1193 required for safety—and yet without the correct tension they still were not safe.

"And they didn't really know whether they had the correct tension or at what point they ceased to have the correct tension."

Russell at one time arranged for dealers to install tie downs.

Thus he was aware that a mobile home can weigh about 10 tons, causing some settling and resultant loosening of the bands. In some northern climates, freezes swell the ground until the band become too tight and damage the mobile home.

Russell came up with his Mobile Home Strand Tension Indicator and was issued a patent.

The indicator attaches to the tie-down band and activates a buzzer warning light when tension changes beyond safe limits. A half-inch of settling will set off the buzzer.

The buzzing continues until someone shuts it off, and the light continues to warn occupants until the tension is adjusted.

Mission Is Explained

Vincent resident Mrs. J.M. Sterling recently returned from the statewide CowBelles' convention in Austin where she and more than 80 other women with an interest in cattle production were told how they can communicate their side of the beef story to the consumer.

"The Texas CowBelle is in a unique position to explain the beef industry crisis and its impact on all of Texas, for not only is she an integral part of the production end, but, as a consumer is also concerned with receiving high quality at reasonable prices," Agriculture Commissioner John C. White told the group.

The meeting kicked off a statewide effort by the women to begin reaching the consumer through all media concerning the facts behind beef prices, nutrition and availability.

In the coming months, CowBelles plan to seek out opportunities to speak statewide concerning the current cattle industry situation in an effort to help the depressed market.

The CowBelles, affiliated with the American National Cattleman's Association, is a women's organization comprised of cattlemen's wives and others associated with the beef industry.

Weapons Cost

WASHINGTON (AP) — Development costs for 40 major weapons increased by more than $8.5 billion in the last three months of 1974, chiefly as a result of program stretchouts, engineering changes and quantity increases, the Pentagon says.

Unlike previous quarterly reports, inflation was held responsible for only about 10 per cent of the total cost climb in the three months ended Dec. 31.

The October-December jump brought the rise in weapons costs during 1974 to at least $30 billion.

The B1 bomber, already under heavy attack by Congress because of its soaring costs, registered the biggest price jump in the last three months of 1974. In contrast to other projects, about half of the $1.9 billion increase for the B1 bomber was blamed on inflation. Also blamed were procurement schedule changes and some improvements.

As a result, the cost of a single B1 bomber now stands at $84.3 million for 244 planes with a total price of $20.6 billion.

The next biggest cost increase during the October-December period was $1.6 billion for a new class of Navy ships called patrol frigates. The price for 56 of these ships now is listed at $6.8 billion, or $122 million apiece.

The meeting kicked off a statewide effort by the women to begin reaching the consumer through all media concerning the facts behind beef prices, nutrition and availability.

Odessa Trucker in N.M. Wreck

GALLUP, N.M. (AP) — Franklin Yazzie, 38, of Gallup died Wednesday when the pickup truck in which he was riding and a truck-trailer rig collided on U.S. 666 north of Gallup, state police said.

Officers said Yazzie was riding in a pickup driven by Phillip Denetso of Ganado, Ariz., who was injured in the mishap.

The driver of the truck-trailer was identified as Delton Maxwell Sr. of Odessa, Tex.

We have mixed feelings about preemptive overcalls. At times they will derail the opponents' auction and keep them out of their best spot. But on other occasions the action can rebound and drive the opponents to a contract they might not have reached under their own steam. Or, as in this case, the preempt might cause declarer to adopt an unnatural line of play that succeeds.

West's preemptive overcall did prevent his opponents from an investigative auction. North was under considerable pressure when he went to four hearts with only three-card support, but that was all South needed to hear. His hand revalued to 23 points once hearts were supported, so he elected to gamble it out by contracting for a small slam.

Foreclosures Sag Disclosed

HOUSTON (AP) — A sharp increase in applications for home loans and a big decrease in foreclosures and repossessions on existing homes has been reported in the 33-county area served by the Federal Housing Administration district office here.

West led the king of spades, and South was reasonably satisfied when dummy came down. It appeared that the success of the contract hinged on one of two minor-suit finesses. The odds were 3:1 in his favor, but declarer decided that he would buck the odds in view of West's preempt. There was a strong possibility that neither finesse would succeed, so declarer searched for a line that would bring in the contract if East held both the queen of diamonds and king of clubs.

He won the ace of spades, crossed to dummy with the ten of trumps and ruffed a spade. Dummy was reentered with the king of trumps and the last spade was ruffed. The ace of hearts picked up the remaining trump, and the moment of truth was at hand.

East had now been stripped of all his major-suit cards. Declarer continued with a diamond to the king, a diamond to the ace and a third diamond. East won the queen, but because the suit split 3-3, he was endplayed. He was forced to lead a club away from the king. Declarer won the ten of clubs, entered dummy with the ace of clubs, and discarded his last club on the thirteenth diamond.

What if the diamonds had split 4-2 and East had been able to exit with a diamond after winning the third round? Declarer would have been little worse off than had he relied on two finesses. He would have ruffed the diamond and tried the club finesse for his contract.

FIRST: DIG A HOLE — A good recipe for planting a tree starts with a hole, plus a tree. The hole should be large enough to permit easy spread of the root system to be transplanted. Then good rich dirt should be put in around the roots, and the remainder filled with the excavated soil. Some suggest planting the water hose in the bottom of the hole, so water can be turned on slowly, forcing out any air and soaking and compacting soil around the roots. Make sure the soil mark on the shrub or tree is not below ground level.

Researchers Develop New Tomato Variety

A new hardy tomato variety called TAMU Saladette has been developed by researchers at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. The new tomato is designed to end many of the problems tomato producers face, including high temperatures, high humidity, harvesting problems, puffiness and poor yields.

Saladette's shape depends on the temperature. Ideal temperatures yield a round fruit, while the fruit tends to be more plum-shaped as the temperature increases.

Researchers tested Saladette plants under the most adverse conditions available at their experimental station, and found this variety came out on top after years of selective breeding. It will set fruit in temperatures up to 100 degrees, as well as in high humidity.

Producers can easily and profitably harvest the Saladette suitable either as a fresh market or processing variety. The vine height is 12 to 14 inches and the width is 14 to 16 inches. The plants can be placed one foot apart in the row rather than the usual two to three, and there can be two rows to a 60- to 80-inch wide bed. All of this will result in greater yields.

Asparagus Another fine perennial is asparagus. Plant them deep

Perennials For Gardens

By EARL ARONSON
AP Newsfeatures

Most vegetables have to be planted every year. But there are some that will make even the laziest gardener happy because they are perennials. Once you plant them, they require little care and will produce generously for years.

One perennial vegetable is rhubarb. For a family of four, only four plants will suffice.

All you need are space, muscle, and plants and deep rich soil. Remove the top six to eight inches of soil in the area you plan to use. Then spade and thoroughly enrich the next layer underneath, one spade or fork in depth.

Work in two or three inches of old manure or compost and vegetable fertilizer. Then enrich the top soil in the same way. Hoe the enriching material into it thoroughly and return it as the top layer. Water the soil well and let it settle for a week. The rhubarb roots should be planted firmly, four feet apart, then watered well.

Wait until the next season before harvesting the rhubarb to give the plants a chance to become well entrenched.

In rich soil, one foot apart in rows about 30 inches apart. It is best to plant one-year-old roots. Again, do not harvest the first year and cut very sparingly the second year. Asparagus beds should be kept well weeded.

Less well-known is the Jerusalem artichoke, a wild sunflower that produces a potato-like tuber in clusters. The tubers, or even the peel, may be planted in spring or fall. They should be set two inches deep, a foot apart, in staggered rows.

In late September, flowers will appear, and month later tubers may be dug as needed. Leave or return a few pieces to the soil for the next year's planting.

The real artichoke is less hardy, but it will survive pretty well in the North, if mounded or mulched for the winter. Artichokes like rich soil. In the North they should be planted in spring, and in the South you can plant them in the fall. Set them six inches deep.

More Traffic At Airport

HOUSTON (AP) — The City Aviation Department says airline passenger traffic in and out of Houston during 1974 was up more than 9 per cent from 1973.

Fertilizers For Lawns

COLLEGE STATION — With the present world food crisis and fertilizer shortages, should fertilizer use be restricted only to crop production?

"Absolutely not," argues Dr. Richard Doble, turf specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Fertilizer plays an important role in maintaining grasses in lawns, parks and golf courses, and these areas make significant contributions to the environment as well as having aesthetic and recreational values."

"For instance," says Doble, "grasses release oxygen to the environment while filtering many harmful pollutants. Sulfur, a major air pollutant in industrialized areas, is readily absorbed and utilized by grasses. Plants also thrive on carbon dioxide exhaled by humans. Furthermore, turfgrasses significantly reduce temperatures, glare, dust and noise in urban environments."

Another major function of grasses, according to the Texas A&M University System specialist, is that they reduce soil erosion and water runoff.

Rather than restrict the use of fertilizer for turf grasses, Doble urges efficient use of plant food materials. He also suggests the use of slow-release fertilizers that are especially formulated for use on turf.

Use Plastic For Mulch

Many homeowners have begun to experiment with plastic film mulches in both flower and vegetable gardens. They find it not only helps control weeds but also saves on water.

Use of such mulches has been standard practice by commercial vegetable growers for at least 15 years. It has done its weed controlling job well according to R. L. Hancy, Texas Agriculture Experiment Station Writer.

The main drawback with plastic mulches has been the disposal problem at season's end. Plastic now on the market is not readily biodegradable (broken down by nature). Also, the material has jumped in price and is not always available in large quantities.

PROBLEMS Recently, biodegradable plastic-treated paper mulches have been introduced. The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has used these products, along with regular plastic and paper wind shields, to produce large "caged" tomato yield increases in field trials.

The treatment also encouraged earlier fruit growth, an important consideration for commercial growers who want higher early tomato production, according to researchers D. R. Paterson and D. R. Earhart.

Materials used in the Experiment Station work, Paterson says, were black plastic and brown and black polyethylene-coated paper mulches. Cages were 5 feet high by 1.5 feet in diameter and were made from 6 by 6-inch mesh, 10-gauge concrete reinforcing wire. A 1-foot-wide strip of felt roofing paper around the base of each cage protected the tomato plant from wind and hail.

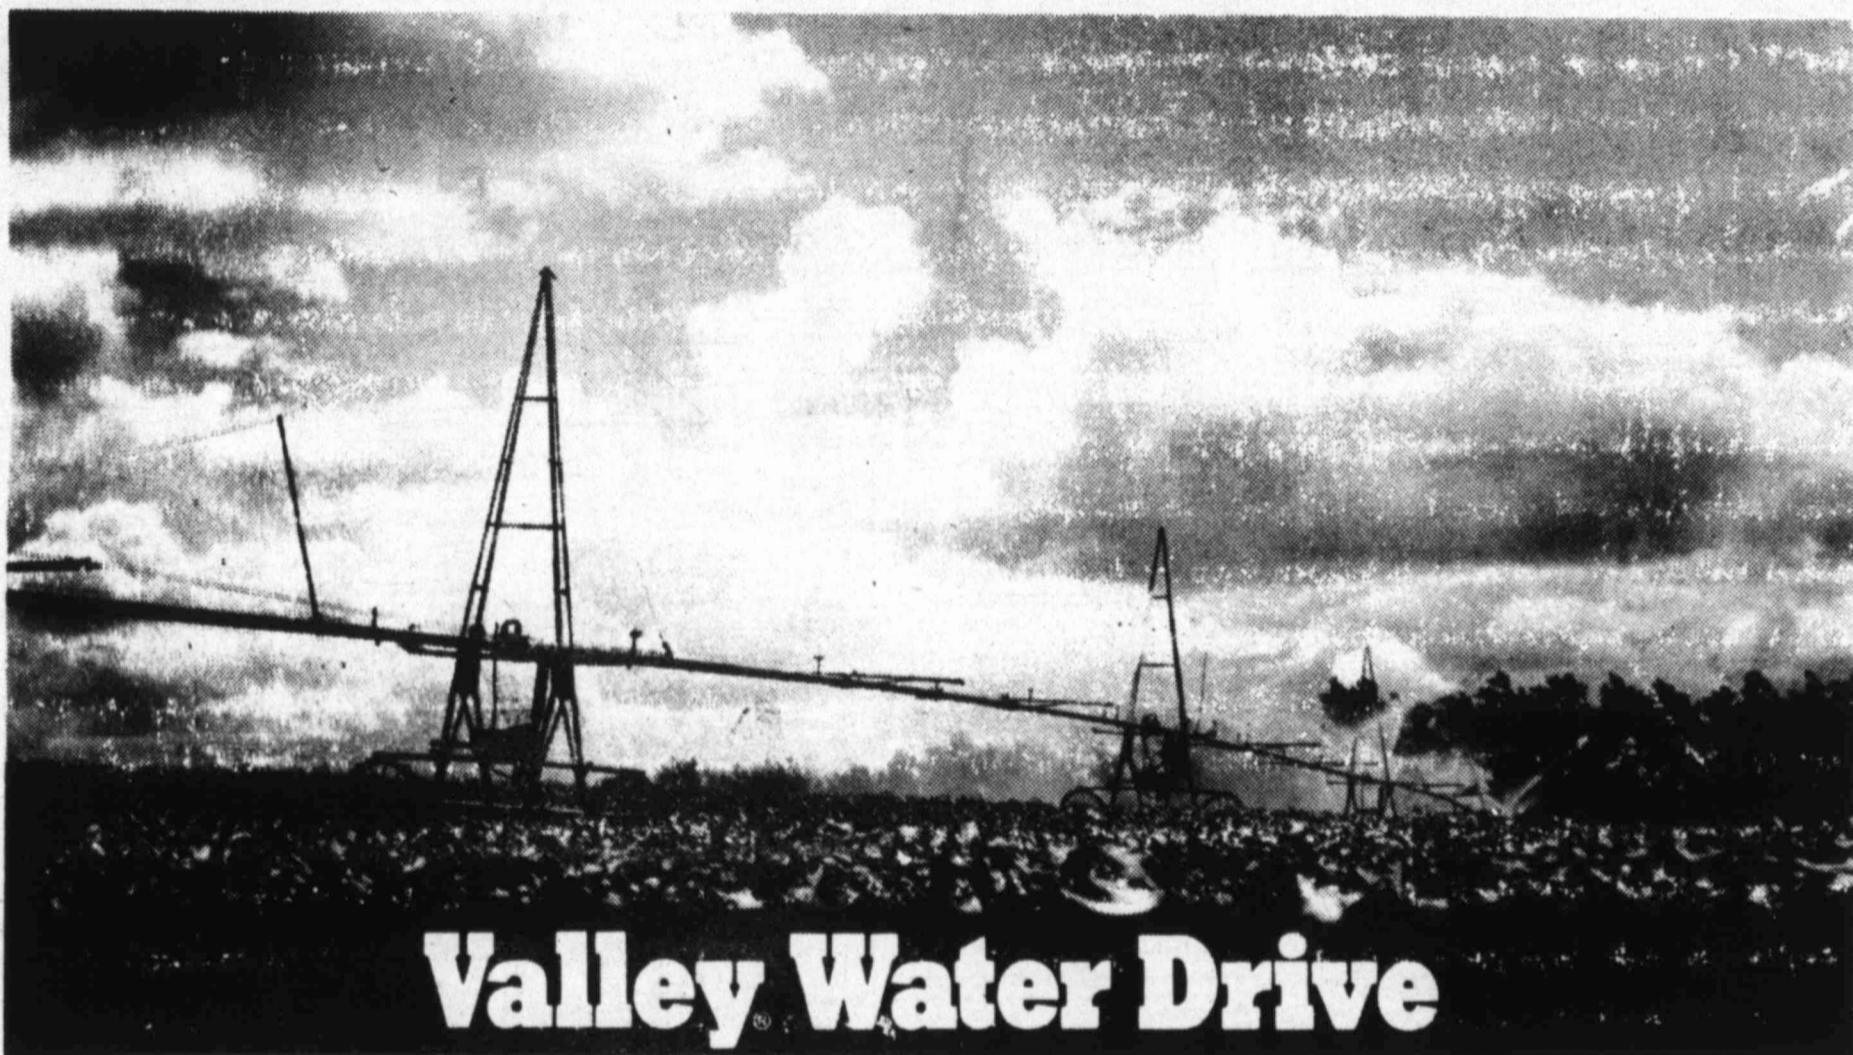

The researchers found that the shield of roofing felt greatly reduced the stand loss of Homestead-24 tomato plants from wind and hail damage. Harvest saw almost twice as much marketable fruit and a 50 per cent jump in total yield.

Although initial cost of such protection is high, wire is reusable and results in increased production that quickly pays for the protection.

(Questions regarding this story should be addressed to Science Writer, Dept. of Agricultural Communications, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843.)

Valley Water Drive ONLY $21,200

F.O.B. Valley, Nebr.

Making money in farming has always been a matter of keeping costs down and yields up. That was never more true than right now. That's why you should take a close look at the low priced Valley Water Drive.

Save up to $9000. At a time when everything is sky-high, you can have a tested, proven system that's up to $9,000 less than the expensive center pivots. That savings can make a big difference in your costs, your payments, interest and principal. With the price of fertilizer, herbicides and seed going up, there's no question why more low cost Valley Water Drives are being sold than ever before. In many cases the price of three Valley Water Drives is no more than two expensive systems.

Leases for less. $28.50 per acre per year. With a ten-year lease a quarter section Water Drive including insurance, installation and freight is $28.50 an acre per year. It takes only a small increase in yield to pay for one! Leasing has many advantages. One big one is that it allows you to have center pivot irrigation without touching your credit line. You have those funds for other important uses.

Record yields for less. In the field, results are just as good. The Valley has a computer-calculated water pattern for precise water distribution. Equally important is its high reliable mechanical hydraulic power.

Save big on maintenance, too. Because it's simple and uncomplicated, the Valley Water Drive averages less than $150 per year for parts. Farmers repair their systems about 95% of the time, using simple tools. There are no expensive parts; no need to hire expensive electricians.

Developing Hepatitis Vaccine

HOUSTON (AP) — A Baylor College of Medicine virology research group is very close to developing a vaccine against hepatitis B virus, the head of the team says.

Dr. Joseph L. Melnick, professor and chairman of Baylor's Virology and Epidemiology Department, said the technical tools to make such a vaccine against the liver disease have been devised by the team in recent months.

"All that remains now is working out the logistics—and we can do this rather quickly with sufficient financial support," said Melnick, who personally has been working to develop a vaccine for the disease which kills upwards of 6,000 persons annually.

He said one of the problems for his group and others around the world has been the inability to grow the hepatitis B virus in the laboratory.

He said his investigators have solved the problem by finding a way to remove a tiny infection-fighting particle from humans who carry the hepatitis B virus.

The small substance, known as the hepatitis B virus antigen, is capable of producing antibodies which can stave off the infectious disease, he said.

Melnick said the Baylor group found a way to purify this viral material so that it no longer is infectious but still can stimulate the antibodies.
