11 In Family Are Slain; Jobless Son Is Charged

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — What began as an Easter reunion for Charity Ruppert's family ended in tragedy with 11 members of the family dead and another charged with murder.

Police found the 65-year-old Mrs. Ruppert; her 42-year-old son, Leonard; his wife, Alma, and their eight children, ranging in age from 3 to 18, shot to death Sunday night at the grandmother's two-story home.

All but one had been shot in the head, police said. The other was shot in the chest.

While police wheeled the shrouded bodies past horrified neighbors, Mrs. Ruppert's other son, James, 40, a jobless draftsman, was being charged with aggravated murder.

He was scheduled for a preliminary hearing Wednesday, according to Butler County Prosecutor John Holcomb.

Ruppert, being held in the Hamilton City Jail, has refused to talk, according to Holcomb.

John Spear, who lives across the street from Mrs. Ruppert, said his eight-year-old daughter went to deliver an Easter basket to the house Sunday morning. He said Mrs. Ruppert told the child she expected her family for Easter dinner later that day.

The family arrived later in the morning, according to another neighbor, George Wroot.

"They all drove up in this big black van, and piled out of the car and staged an Easter egg hunt on the lawn," he recalled.

Two of the older children were seen at church Sunday morning.

Police said they received a phone call from a man about 9:30 p.m., went to the home and found the family dead. The bodies were found in the living room and kitchen.

There was no sign of a struggle in the house except for an overturned wastepaper basket, officers said.

Dr. Garrett Boone, the Butler County coroner, said it was possible that some of the victims had been shot once, then shot again to make sure they were dead.

"It's unlikely that 11 people would have been shot and killed unless they were held in some way or were in a position where none of them could escape," Boone said.

James Ruppert grew up in Hamilton, Ohio, and was described by one of his neighbors as being brilliant.

"He was kind of a loner though," said the neighbor, who said Ruppert often stayed with his mother.

The same neighbor described Mrs. Ruppert as "the sweetest woman who ever lived."

"She loved kids," he said.

Ford's Problems With GOP Worsen

WASHINGTON (AP) — By signing the tax cut bill, President Ford appears to have deepened his difficulties with Republican conservatives who had urged him to veto the bill in order to limit the federal budget deficit.

At the same time, however, Ford may have helped himself in an overall political sense by combining actions that demonstrated moderation and conciliation with words that were sharply critical of Congress.

If the tax cut succeeds in its basic purpose of stimulating consumer spending, it could help bring about an economic recovery that would strengthen the President's position going into the 1976 election campaign.

NEXT YEAR College Costs Up 12 Per Cent

NEW YORK (AP) — The nationwide average cost of a public college for the on-campus student will be 12 per cent more next academic year than in 1974-75, a recent survey by the College Entrance Examination Board shows.

The survey of 2,400 colleges and post-secondary institutions by the College Scholarship Service of the Board also showed tuition and fees will rise an average four per cent overall with an eight per cent average increase at four-year private schools.

The size of the federal deficit, now estimated by Ford at about $60 billion and by congressional experts at least $10 billion higher, has been one of the chief points of difference between GOP conservatives and Ford.

The average resident student's over-all costs will be $3,594 for the nine-month academic year while the commuting student's total expense budget will be slightly less at $3,186.

While top Democratic leaders who fought for the tax cut hailed Ford's action Saturday night, negative reactions were coming from conservatives, including Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz.

They were critical of the President's original budget with its $52 billion deficit and were cool toward the idea of spurring economic recovery by a reduction in taxes that would increase the deficit.

The 12 per cent increase at public colleges will be the biggest 1975-76 rise and will apply to residents at both two-year and four-year institutions, according to the survey.

For resident students at public colleges, the increase means charges of $2,411 to $2,679 to attend school next year. Included are hikes of five to seven per cent for tuition, and 12 to 13 per cent rises in costs for transportation, room and board, books and personal expenses.

More significantly, perhaps, the No. 2 man in the House Republican leadership, Rep. Robert H. Michel of Illinois, indicated there would be widespread disappointment in the party's right wing.

The survey examined average total expenses for residents, commuters, and self-supporting students at public, private, two-year and four-year schools.

"I think some of the conservatives who voted against a tax relief bill are going to be a bit perturbed after they went out on a limb for this thing and then the President signed it," Michel said.

The unexplained note was found near the body of Bob A. Howard, 29, in a room of his parents' apartment. Police said he apparently tucked his 30-30 lever action rifle under his chin and shot himself after killing two people and wounding a third at about 10:30 a.m.

Faisal's Assassin Faces Trial Soon

RIYADH, Saudi Arabia (AP) — The Saudi Arabian government says King Faisal's accused assassin is sane and will go on trial soon.

The announcement means that Prince Faisal Ibn Mueadh, accused of shooting and killing his uncle last Tuesday, will probably be beheaded if found guilty. According to the Sharia, the Islamic legal code, the penalty for murder is public execution.

Officers said they also found cards among Howard's personal belongings that indicated he had been an outpatient at a (Ouachita Parish county) mental health center for two weeks.

Ford: Half Of Us To Be On Welfare

NEW YORK (AP) — President Ford says "50 per cent of the people will be living off the other 50 per cent" by the year 2000 if the growth in "transfer payments" continues at its present rate.

Movie Makers Delay Big Spring Visit

Producers of a high budget western movie have delayed their tour of the Big Spring area for about two weeks, according to Chamber of Commerce Manager Terry Hanson.

The store price of sugar in Washington, D.C., on March 5 was 52 cents a pound, a decline of 34 per cent from 79 cents on Jan. 3, the department's Foreign Agricultural Service said.

Sniper Was Troubled

WEST MONROE, La. (AP) — Police say letters and notes left behind by a sniper who killed two men and then apparently killed himself Sunday with a high-powered hunting rifle paint a picture of a troubled man.

"There was correspondence in the room which indicated the young man was having some types of problems, was upset and disturbed," Asst. Police Chief Charles Dortch said Sunday.

Coroner James Van Buren said, "One note merely said, and I'm paraphrasing, 'You interfered with me and Joanie so you're responsible for this mess.'"

The unexplained note was found near the body of Bob A. Howard, 29, in a room of his parents' apartment. Police said he apparently tucked his 30-30 lever action rifle under his chin and shot himself after killing two people and wounding a third at about 10:30 a.m.

Three other persons died with Lady Hillary and her daughter Belinda in the crash of the single-engine plane. They were Barbara Wylie Lama, a former member of the U.S. Peace Corps from Ypsilanti, Mich.; her Nepalese husband, A. G. Lama, and the pilot, a New Zealander named P. C. Shand.

Major Crime Spurred 17 Per Cent In '74

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's rate of serious crime spurred 17 per cent in 1974, the largest increase in 14 years, according to FBI statistics released today.

Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi said the increase shows "a dismal and tragic failure on the part of our present system of justice."

Plane Crash Kills Two Hillary Clan Members

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — The wife and teen-age daughter of Sir Edmund Hillary, one of the first two men to conquer Mt. Everest, were killed today as they took off from Katmandu airport to join Hillary on a slope of the world's highest mountain.

The attorney general said: "We must understand that an effective criminal justice system has to emphasize deterrents. There are many causes of crime, but among them is the failure of our system to move quickly and effectively to detect and punish offenders."

Wallace No. One

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace is the leading contender for the 1976 Democratic presidential nomination of 13 potential or announced candidates, according to the latest Gallup Poll.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., who has said he won't be a candidate, was not listed in the survey. But he received a heavy write-in vote anyway, a Gallup spokesman said.

In the latest poll, Wallace is the choice of 22 per cent of the Democrats and 28 per cent of the independents surveyed.

Wallace, in Birmingham, said he was "more concerned with the problems of state government in Alabama" than making a decision on whether to run for president next year. But he added his "national campaign organization is making necessary preparations if I decide to run later on."

Trailing Wallace in the poll of Democrats were: Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., 16 per cent; Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., 13 per cent; Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., 10 per cent and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, 9 per cent.

Others receiving votes were Georgia legislator Julian Bond, Sens. John Glenn, Adlai E. Stevenson III, Lloyd M. Bentsen, Rep. Morris K. Udall, former New York Mayor John V. Lindsay, former Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter and former Oklahoma Sen. Fred Harris.

Nine per cent of those queried had no preference.

In the poll of independents, Wallace is trailed by Jackson, 13 per cent; Humphrey, 9 per cent; McGovern and Muskie, each 7 per cent; Glenn and Lindsay, each 5 per cent; Bond and Stevenson, each 4 per cent; Bensten and Udall, each 2 per cent and Carter, one per cent.

Mrs. Hardy, who is recovering from her fourth operation for breast cancer, said her last goal in life is to find a good home for her children. She said her husband deserted the family five years ago and she receives $209 a month in welfare payments. Reds Cut Off Last As Mid-East Moderate

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Communist shelling has forced a halt in the American evacuation of Da Nang by sea, cutting the last escape route for an estimated 1 1/2 million refugees trapped in the fallen city. U.S. military sources said today.

"We are not able to work there because the Communists are not being very cooperative," one source said. "They are firing."

The last jetliner took off Saturday and North Vietnamese forces, who Sunday captured Da Nang, control the surrounding provinces.

The suspension of the seafit came less than 12 hours after the Viet Cong delegation in Saigon called the evacuation a "deceptive trick" and said its forces in Da Nang were "determined to punish all acts of encroachment upon their sovereignty."

American officials estimated that from 30,000 to 50,000 refugees had fled Da Nang by sea since Wednesday while another 2,000 to 4,000 managed to escape by air.

South Vietnamese government officials estimated that the city's normal population of 500,000 had been swollen to about 2 million by the influx from the northern provinces taken over by the Communists.

The U.S. Embassy said Consul General Al Francis, who had been assisting with the seafit, had escaped aboard the last voyage of the Pioneer Commander, one of the ships chartered for the evacuation.

Two freighters packed with refugees were unloading them at Cam Ranh Bay today, and a U.S. Navy freighter, the Andrew Miller, was awaiting orders off Cam Ranh Bay after unloading about 6,000 refugees early.

The freighter Trans-Colorado was due in the Da Nang area today, and the American Challenger was ordered to head for the Vietnamese coast. Two U.S. Navy amphibious ships were due off the Vietnamese coast during the night, and two more were ordered to Vietnamese waters.

U.S. officials said the rescue ships would stand by while the situation was assessed.

White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said President Ford ordered the U.S. ships to "avoid hostilities" and withdraw if fired on.

Associated Press correspondent Peter O'Loughlin left Da Nang Sunday aboard the refugee ship Pioneer Contender and said the 4,000 civilians and soldiers aboard the craft might be the last to escape.

CAIRO (AP) — President Anwar Sadat's decision to reopen the Suez Canal in June and extend the life of the United Nations peacekeeping force in the Sinai Desert three months reinforces his role as a moderate in the Middle East.

It also makes a conciliatory move at a time when the United States is reviewing its policy in the area and puts pressure on Israel to demonstrate its peaceful intentions.

"Sadat was down when Kissinger failed but not out," a diplomatic source said. "He is a master politician with a good sense of timing. Something had to be done to fill the void and he saw a way of turning it to Egypt's advantage."

After the collapse of Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's peace mission in which Sadat had invested considerable personal prestige and the death of his rich and moderate ally King Faisal of Saudi, many believed Sadat would go with the general flow of events toward a resumption of the Geneva peace talks.

His speech Saturday night could serve as a catalyst to revive the Kissinger mission, which one high level Egyptian columnist and some diplomats were saying last week could not be ruled out. However, Syria and the Palestinian Liberation Organization are not likely to give this new initiative a favorable welcome.

Sadat's move could also spur the Soviet Union into action.

The decision to reopen the 103-mile Suez Canal was a bold departure from Egypt's previous policy. Egypt had been insisting on a broad Israeli pullback to enhance the safety of the waterway and the cities being rebuilt on its banks. But Sadat refused to meet Israel's terms for such a pullback.

Sadat is anxious to get the waterway back in operation to help Egypt's stagnant economy and relieve domestic pressures that twice this year have erupted in labor riots. In 1966, its last full year of operation, the canal earned $250 million.

Al Ahran, the semi-official Cairo newspaper, said Sadat's decisions to reopen the canal and extend the U.N. force were designed "to isolate the aggressor (Israel) internationally, to put it in a corner and to foil every weapon it uses to cover its continued neglect of international law and continued recklessness toward peace."

(One high-ranking Egyptian source said Sadat had demonstrated once again that though he could not end the state of war, his intentions were peaceful and it is now Israel's turn to act.)

Sadat presumably gave Algerian President Houari Boumediene an advance look at his strategy during a four-hour talk they held Thursday night. Diplomats speculated that Sadat now expected Boumediene to put pressure on Syria and the PLO to define their positions more clearly.

Draws Two Charges

Two persons received minor injuries in a series of 11 wrecks Easter Sunday in Big Spring.

Little Bobby Cunningham of 1501 Kentucky Way escaped with minor cuts and bruises, plus loose teeth after riding his tricycle out from behind a parked car into the path of a vehicle driven by Russell Dale Mitchell, 1505 Stadium.

In a wreck at Second and Gregg, C. J. Edward Rhoads, 1120 Smith, Odessa, was hospitalized at the Veterans Hospital for cuts and abrasions after he collided with a vehicle driven by Charles Richard Kiser.

Minutes earlier Rhoads had collided with a car driven by Marie Lewis McGregor at 907 N. Gregg. He was charged in one of the collisions with failure to control speed and leaving the scene, and in the second mishap with running a red light and driving while intoxicated.

About Same

Mrs. Pauline Beck is still in guarded condition in the intensive care unit of Malone Hogan Hospital after being injured in a stabbing incident Thursday night at a local motel.

Police detectives said that she has been able to speak a little bit but thus far has not regained complete consciousness and been able to answer questions.

Court Considers Routine Agenda

The Howard County Commissioners Court today approved the outside audit report for the fiscal year 1974 as submitted by Thornburn and Green, Certified Public Accountants.

The court commended County Auditor Virginia Black for her work in preparing the County's internal audit and accepted her report for the same period.

The court also reappointed the Big Spring CPA firm of Thornburn and Green as outside auditors for the fiscal year 1975.

The court considered hiring 15 manpower employees and several high school football players and former summer employees for the road department this summer.

Last summer, the county paid $240 per hour for student summer employees, and it was thought the federally-financed Manpower training program paid the minimum wage of $2.00 per hour.

The court wanted to avoid different pay for students doing the same work and was waiting to determine how many temporary workers they would use.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business, the court:

Heard County Engineer Neel Barnaby note problems of sand drifts "in ditches and across the roads."

Learned the county would need to buy or lease two new pieces of equipment if it tests a road stabilization product proposed as having a paving alternative.

Heard Barnaby tell of City Manager Harry Nagel's decision to change road routes in the sanitary land fill to a circular path for safety reasons. The county cut roads for the new route.

Were told to consider purchase of equipment for digging ditches at the city-county landfill.

Heard County Judge Bill Tune tell a representative of the state's child abuse prevention program here the request for county financial aid would be acted on next Monday probably. When the decision will be made will be decided by the whole court, Tune said.

OK IMPROVEMENTS

Authorized J. W. (Bill) McClendon, president of Big Spring Aircraft Inc., to have his airport office carpeted and paneled "at his own expense."

Appointed Commissioner Simon (Cy) Terrazas as an alternate representative of Howard County to the tax appraisal board.

Received notice State Rep. E. L. Short, Tahoka, which would make payment of attorney fees for poor defendants in district court criminal cases a state responsibility. The county now pays for attorneys representing the indigent in felony trials. The bill leaves the amount above minimum payment to discretion of district judges.

And passed a resolution accepting a $30,043 federal grant approved earlier for construction of a fire truck garage and fire truck for Howard County Airport. The county will pay another $8,703 toward the project.

Richard Elliott Is Top Hunter

An estimated 3,000 persons attended the annual Big Spring Rattlesnake Roundup at the National Guard Armory over the weekend.

Rattlesnakes weighing a total of 2,000 pounds were placed on exhibit by the sponsoring organization, the Big Spring Jaycees. The total catch was about 1,200 pounds less than last year but the prize money award was virtually the same.

No injuries resulted in what the Jaycees described as an "educational show." A total of 250 ccs. of valuable snake venom, used in heart research, was milked from the snakes and is being forwarded to the University of Colorado at Boulder.

Richard Elliott won the top trophy and a $35 cash prize for bringing in 523 pounds of snakes. Second place went to the Carr Brothers — Jack, Bryan and Dalton — with a catch totaling 453 pounds. They shared $25 and shared a trophy. Third place was claimed by Preston Dunbar and C. A. Tonn, whose catch weighed 413 pounds. They also earned a trophy.

The Carrs also had the longest snake, bringing in one that measured five feet nine inches. The Jaycees paid off for that prize at the rate of $5 a foot. The tandem of C. E. Lester and Elliott fielded the two shortest serpents, with measuring 13 1/2 inches and were paid off at the rate of $1 an inch.

A diamondback netted by Dunbar and Tonn boasted 15 rattles and earned still another trophy for the two hunters.

All of the snakes were sold to Dick Boss, who operates a snake farm in Colorado.

In all, 15 hunters took part in the competition. The lone non-resident to take part lives in Colorado City.

Hobbie Robertson, the Jaycees' show chairman and Eddie Cole, Jaycee president, expressed appreciation to those who attended, helped and donated time and effort to the event.

Frigid Weather Could Have Cut Death Toll

Texas counted a relatively light death toll from violence during the Easter weekend, possibly because cold, wet weather tended to discourage highway travel during part of the religious holiday period.

The total from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday went to nine, including four traffic fatalities, three shootings, a stabbing and a fire death.

Among the victims were: Paul T. Drouin, 26, of Stafford, Tex., died Sunday night on Houston's Southwest Freeway. Officers reported his car ran off the roadway at high speed and overturned several times.

Kathy Wilkins, 16, of Dallas was killed in a two-car collision Saturday. She was a passenger in a car driven by Kathy Hudson, 22. The case will be referred to the grand jury for review, police said.

The body of an unidentified woman was found in the ruins of a two-story frame apartment house after a two-alarm fire Saturday in Dallas. Investigators said the body lay in bed on the first floor, apparently after falling from the second floor when it gave way.

David Pineda, 28, of Gonzales, died Saturday in a Victoria hospital of injuries suffered as his pickup truck collided with a truck parked along U.S. 59 seven miles west of Edna.

Andrew M. Roundtree Jr., 51, died early Saturday in a Houston hospital after he was discovered lying in his home with three stab wounds in the chest. Police said he was involved earlier in a scuffle at a neighbor's house.

Pierce H. Reese, 61, of Conroe was killed and another man injured Saturday when their cars collided on a farm road one mile west of U.S. 59 in Montgomery County.

Paris police reported Ola Mitchell Reeves was killed by a shotgun blast in the chest early Saturday. Her husband, James L. Reeves, 32, was arrested later at Hugo, Okla., and returned to Paris, officers said.

A Dallas sales representative was shot to death in a downtown mugging Saturday, police said. George W. Thompson III, 34, was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Where The Women Lead

In 1973, women were the chief beneficiaries of all life insurance policies in the United States. Which is nothing new — they have been ever since the idea of life insurance started as a means of protection of widows and children.

Institute of Life Insurance statistics show that in nearly 7 out of 10 ordinary policies on which death payments were made, the direct beneficiary was a female.

Widows received about $2.3 billion from ordinary policies (whole life or term, which are the most favored forms of life protection and are usually purchased individually through an agent). This amounted to 54 cents out of every dollar in benefits.

Children of policyholders received about $472 million, or 11 percent of death payments; other relatives received about $335 million and widowers received $167 million.

This will no doubt begin to change as more and more women seek fulltime careers. And in fact, the proportion of death payments to widows has shown a slight decline in recent years (although the actual amounts paid to them have doubled over the past decade because of sizeable increases in individual insurance protection).

But as the statistics stand now, women's liberation may not want to disturb the present imbalance of payments.

Knowing Not Always Telling

Reports that the Central Intelligence Agency spent $350 million in an attempt to raise a Soviet submarine intact from the depths of the Pacific Ocean has caused somewhat of a flap in Congress.

Some congressmen are complaining that the expenditure was too much for any possible good information such an operation would provide. Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, long a critic of the CIA, said that "if the CIA can spend $350 million with which to pay Howard Hughes to raise obsolete 18-year-old submarines, then I think the agency needs a cost-benefit ratio. The submarine was raised to the surface last summer by a Hughes vessel built especially for the project.

Well, most Americans don't know just what information was gleaned from the sunken Soviet submarine; but there does need to be greater control over all our intelligence-gathering agencies. Congress should know when and where to draw the line about public exposure.

A free society operates best when its citizens are given a maximum of information about the operations of its government. That free society, however, cannot survive long in this world if every state secret is made public.

It's Catching Around The Rim

This and that: INSANITY, many insist, is hereditary. Who then is to say you don't get it from your kids?

Did you ever know anybody who claimed he was the kind of friend that's hard to find when, in reality, he's harder to lose? He's the kind that's always around — when he needs you. His health beames endangered when you lend him money — it always damages his memory. He's always ready to lend you his umbrella on a sunny day. He only likes you if you dislike the same people he dislikes. You'll always find him on the dock if any of his friends' ships come in.

jurisprudence takes the stance that a man is considered innocent until proven guilty, when most everyone who spends anytime in a courtroom knows that a man is considered guilty until it is proven he has political or financial clout.

It wasn't Confucius who said that the fellow who rocks the boat is never the guy manning the oars.

MY VIEWS rarely harmonize with those of Sen. Barry Goldwater (something that worries the senator, I'm sure), but I applauded him when he was moved to remark not too long ago:

"Down through history the government which turned to the welfare state approach to the handling of mankind's needs and comforts created its own destruction. When this nation has budgeted over $300 billions and hundreds of aid programs, many of which overlap or duplicate each other, we are not running things with an eye to the future when shortages will be experienced in almost every phase of our lives."

AS I SEE it, one problem about living in a mobile home is that there's no place to put anything except where it belongs.

My Answer

Billy Graham

I know I am being framed. People seem to be so mean lately. I am sure I am not the only one this happens to. What chapter in the Bible would be good to read? I believe in God and know He will help.

J.R. I suggest two chapters. First, chapter 37 of the Psalms, and then chapter 5 of the Book of Matthew.

That Old Testament reference is a poem, written to reassure people who are disturbed by evil men around them. It impresses upon the reader that the condition of the righteous, even when they suffer, is far preferable to the wicked, whatever prosperity they enjoy. Twice it says, "Fret not thyself."

Then you may recognize the Matthew reference as the first part of the Sermon on the Mount. It's a positive attitude that Christ commands here in the last five verses: one that in your case says to love and bless those who are trying to "frame you." Of course, that's humbly impossible, but the Lord delights to give us His supernatural attitude when our faith will let Him.

Try to act with all the wisdom you can muster. Add to that the compassion and understanding that is

Most Signs Good

NEW YORK (AP) — In the view of business economists, the economy soon will begin to show signs of reversing its course, and might by year-end be retracing the route it took on the way down.

It is difficult to comprehend the extent to which in recent weeks this attitude seems to have developed, and there is little doubt that two major reasons underlie it.

1. Economists copy from each other. The most difficult and dangerous forecast of all is to say when a major economic turn is going to take place. You may be 95 per cent certain, but still find it too dangerous to forecast.

2. Economists find it much easier to come out with optimistic forecasts when the news already is turning pleasant. The stock market is up, consumer confidence is beginning to rise, the Federal Reserve seems in a cooperative mood, the trade balance is showing black ink, interest rates are falling, price increases are moderating.

The biggest factor, however, is that the economists think that massive government intervention almost certainly will propel marketplace activity ahead, even though there is a great deal of speculation about the possibility of rising prices again in 1976.

The forecaster therefore has encouragement from the news. The environment is more conducive to accepting a bright outlook.

Whatever, a consensus has developed or is developing. The turnaround will occur in the third or fourth quarter.

The chief economist for a well-known international research and consulting firm tells of attempting to sell his services to a Wall Street outfit. The host excused himself to converse in another room.

Through the wall partition the economist soon heard a muted conversation that was ended abruptly when one of the parties exploded: "What, another economist calling for a fourth-quarter turnaround. Tell him no."

The big danger in any forecast, no matter how many join in promoting it, are the assumptions that are made. If the assumptions are wrong — and they often amount to guesses — then the entire forecast is likely to be inaccurate.

Last year many economists assumed that the United States would have a trouble-free growing and harvest season, failing to take into account the dangers of flood, frost, disease, drought and other disasters.

They Still Want It

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — That wise elder statesman of the Democratic party, Averell Harriman, sums up the condition of his party with characteristic realism. We are in great shape, he says, until we start to talk about picking a candidate for 1976.

THEN, OF COURSE, the hard-won unity achieved after the debacle of 1972 falls apart. With five candidates already declared and George Wallace and others still to come, and with Sen. Edward Kennedy content to wait in the wings, the factionalism just below the surface is all too evident.

The five all have qualities, some exceptional qualities, reflecting backgrounds and origins that in their diverse ways are part of America. In normal times it is not hard to imagine one or two of the clutch being a good president. In this context I'm afraid normal would mean the late 1940s or early 1950s or even perhaps the prewar era when at least superficially things here at home seemed normal.

BUT THESE are not normal times. On the contrary, while we are not in a shooting war, the abnormality of the times in almost every department would be hard to exaggerate. And that is why what these men are saying, let alone the fact of a contest going full steam ahead in a year before the earliest primary, must seem so irrelevant. So no one is listening. In a somewhat different fashion the same condition prevails in the Republican party. Nothing could be more irrelevant at the present moment than the proposal of a conservative faction to secede or the intimation from the moderate conservatives that Gerald Ford is too radical and must be supplanted by a true blue whose name is Ronald Reagan.

PRESIDENT FORD is a good man. He is a decent human being with warm, compassionate impulses who faithfully and tirelessly goes through the public motions of the office. This last is true to the extent that he sometimes seems to be wasting precious hours on trivia. He is a good man in the same way Charlie Brown is a good man. He gets up there on that mound and winds up for a pitch with the vim and vigor of the greatest pitcher of all time. But then there is Lucy, a dozen Lucys, a thousand Lucys in every guise to throw him off balance and spoil the play. During his years in the House of Representatives, Ford voted for every single Vietnam appropriation as Lyndon Johnson was escalating the war to put in more than half million American ground troops. The echo of the past is loud and clear in the case he has been trying to make for more military aid for Indochina. But this is bringing a head-on collision with the Congress. What is even worse is the revelation of the poverty of imagination and creativity in the Ford administration. There should have been some solution — perhaps a humanitarian operation to help the tragic victims of the war in Cambodia — other than the constant repetition of clichés about dominoes and America's commitment to a hopeless war.

RUNNING FOR president is a hard, time-consuming, money-absorbing task. I was guilty of an injustice to the two who are today the leading announced candidates, Sens. Henry M. Jackson of the State of Washington and Lloyd Bentsen of Texas, when I said that devoting so much time to crisscrossing the country they would surely be neglecting their senatorial duties.

GIVEN THE STATE of the nation and the world, it can be taken as a sign of confidence in the system that able men want to run for president.

Cities Are Classrooms

BRAIRCLIFF MANOR, N.Y. (AP) — Analyzing the flow of traffic on any given street is an intricate and noisy study, according to a student completing her field research project in the Urban Studies Program at Braircliff College, a private women's college here.

A Vicious Headache

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have been bothered with severe headaches that come on when I sleep. I cannot get back to sleep, even after taking aspirin.

They seem centered around the left eye, the left forehead, the left upper cheekbone, and the left side of my nose feels cold, as if it is just coming out of a novocain shot.

Last month I had an EKG, was tested for urine, sugar, and cholesterol, and had my blood pressure checked. Everything was fine. Then I had another severe headache, and went to a nose, ear, and throat specialist. He said it was histaminic cephalgia. Please explain what this is. The doctor asked me to come back every month for an injection. He said this will teach my body how to handle this build-up of manufactured chemicals. —A.H.

You are phenetically close in your name for the problem. It is histaminic cephalgia, a condition described by Dr. B. T. Horton of the Mayo Clinic in 1956, and since become more popularly known as "cluster headache."

Dr. Horton postulated that a form of headache (cephalgia) was caused by the sudden release of histamine, a body chemical found in all tissue. When this chemical is released suddenly it causes a rather sudden dilation of blood vessels, and this provokes the headache. It is not clear why the sudden release occurs in some people.

You have described the classic cephalic histamine attack — the severe suddenness, the occurrence at night, the one-sidedness of the symptoms, the nasal stuffiness, discharge, and so on. These headaches occur sporadically and affect more than women by a six to one ratio. At one time, there were no less than 22 forms of treatment for it, none of which gave more than temporary relief.

I presume that your doctor is going to begin histamine injections, starting with a tiny dose, then gradually increasing the amount, keeping the level just short of what would provoke an attack. The idea is to desensitize your body against its own sudden release of the substance. This may or may not work, but it is usually worth the try.

The Mayo report on these headaches noted that a particular personality is more subject to these attacks than are others. As in migraine headaches, the individual leans toward perfectionism, is tense, conscientious, meticulous, and strives for perfection with great zeal.

Significantly, psychotherapy has helped some victims. In some instances an ergotamine preparation has helped break an attack.

These headaches seem to strike in the early spring and fall more than at other times, and they are sometimes related to heavy drinking or smoking. They can be confused with sinusitis or tic douloureux.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am seven months pregnant and have had a black tongue for three days now. Could you please tell me what causes this? —Mrs. I.N.

The usual cause of black tongue is the development of fungi between the papillae, those tiny, cone-like protrusions that cover the tongue. It is often a reaction to a chemical, often to iron compounds or to bismuth, a metallic substance used in a variety of medications.

If your doctor has you on an iron supplement during your pregnancy, you might look to this as a possible source of your trouble. You should bring this to his attention.

Broadcasters Uneasy

NEW YORK (AP) — License renewal time often is an uneasy period for a broadcaster, especially if one or more citizen groups has asked the Federal Communications Commission to deny the renewal.

But broadcasters may become even more uneasy if a federal "Agency for Consumer Advocacy" proposed in a Senate bill is allowed to intervene in the license renewal process broadcasters face every three years.

THE MEASURE would let the agency intervene on behalf of consumers during proceedings of various federal regulatory agencies, including the FCC.

Despite claims that it's doubtful the ACA ever would intervene in broadcast license renewal cases, the National Association of Broadcasters is trying to knock out that provision.

Spokesmen for the Senate Government Operations Committee, which this month approved the bill 11-1, emphasize that it narrowly limits ACA intervention to cases of "substantial" consumer interest in a "marketplace transaction" where buying and selling occurs.

DICK WEGMAN, the committee's chief counsel, says it's highly unlikely the proposed agency ever would intervene in a license renewal case because "there's no marketplace transaction involved."

"As a practical matter, ACA wouldn't get into license renewal simply because its proposed budget is too limited," says Jerry Murphy of Congress Watch, a group formed by consumer advocate Ralph Nader, who supports the pending ACA bill.

Murphy says the agency might intervene in major cases involving the national consumer interest, "but it would be absurd to envision the ACA going in on every single license renewal. It's impossible."

THE NAB, the leading industry group, represents the three TV networks, 541 TV stations and 4,025 radio stations. It says it takes no public position on the bill in general, or the FCC's specific inclusion in it.

San Franciscans In Stamping Rage

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — One of the latest crazes to get started here is the rubber stamp rage.

It is a crazy-cocky decorative art form that has aficionados stamping envelopes, walls, themselves and you name it, while stores are increasing inventories as fast as they can. One executive said:

"People are using them for letterheads, to make collages, even to produce 'life-like photographs' with dots. Customers get absolutely bonkers once they start stamping."

3 Champs Hold Onto GG Crowns

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)— Three defending champions held onto their crowns in the national Golden Gloves boxing tournament last weekend.

Emory Chapman, defending heavyweight titlist from Las Vegas, Nev., knocked out challenger Johnny Tate of Jackson, Tenn., at 1:30 in the first round.

Clinton Jackson of Knoxville gained a decision over Odell Leonard of Charlotte, N.C., in the 147-pound division to keep his title.

And Claudell Atkins of St. Louis beat Mike Huckabee of Charlotte, N.C., to keep his 166-pound class crown.

Tom Sullivan of Las Vegas upset defending 165-pound titleholder Michael Spinks of St. Louis.

Las Vegas and Fort Worth tied for winning teams in the four-day tourney with 23 points each. Texas won a coin toss and earned the right to take home the trophy.

Pair Won By Texas

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP)— Booming bats propelled the Texas Rangers to twin victories over the Baltimore Orioles and the New York Yankees in exhibition baseball games Sunday.

Jeff Burroughs, last season's most valuable player in the American League, set the pace by stroking two homers, a double and a single and driving in six runs as the Rangers routed Baltimore 11-1.

Texas capped the assault with six runs in the sixth inning.

Tom Grieve contributed three hits, including a two-run homer in that big sixth, as the Rangers shelled Orioles southpaw Mike Cuellar for all 11 runs and 17 of their 16 hits in his six innings on the mound.

Saturday's Cooper match with Permian was postponed because of inclement weather. The game will be replayed today.

Cooper and Permian are the only remaining 5-4A unbeaten clubs, being 3-0 each. For the year, Cooper is 11-3 and Permian 7-5.

Big Spring is 2-2 in the district and 6-7 for the year. The Steers' Pat Carroll had the hottest bat in the 5-4A going into the Lee game Thursday, a .727 average.

But the pitcher-outfielder failed to hit in three tries. He's presently ranked No. 5, at .571.

Carroll's teammate, Ken McMurtrey, is tied as the third leading district batter, sporting a .667 average.

Tyler Trips Across 4th

Ronna Tyler was the only known Big Spring rider to place in the West Texas $10,000 Moto-Cross races held Saturday and Sunday at the Midland Optimist Park.

Tyler crossed the finish line fourth in the 100 intermediate class.

Craig Hodnett got trapped in the 125 senior class qualifying round, and was unable to make the final out.

Danny Weir withdrew from the race on advice from his doctor. He had received a cracked left wrist in practice in Houston's Yakama Super Series two weeks ago.

More than 5,000 spectators braved the chilly weather. Fifteen moto events were run off each day.

Mel Searching For Ralph's Phone Number

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)— "I will make a couple of calls to other clubs to see if anyone is interested," Mel Stottlemire said Sunday.

If that's the case, all Stottlemire needs is Ralph Houk's phone number in Lakeland. Houk and the Detroit Tigers are interested.

Saturday, the New York Yankees asked waivers on the sorearmed Stottlemire, the club's long-time pitching ace, for the purpose of giving him his unconditional release.

Stottlemire was the lone remaining Yankee from the team's last American League pennant winner in 1964.

"I'm not surprised, but I'm disappointed," the right-hander said of the Yankees' action.

'Horns Maintain Perfect Record

By The Associated Press. Texas A&M and Texas Christian battle to stay alive today in what is becoming a runaway Southwest Conference baseball race.

The Aggies and Horned Frogs had their three-game weekend series at Fort Worth postponed until today and Tuesday because of rain.

A&M is 6-3 and TCU is 8-4 in the SWC race behind Texas, but the Aggies and Horned Frogs have a combined victory total that is less than the Longhorns' Texas is 15-0.

The Longhorns maintained their perfect league record over the weekend with a three-game sweep of Arkansas, including 5-1 and 3-2 victories Saturday. The key hit in the close nightcap victory was a run-scoring single in the bottom of the ninth inning by Blair Stouffer, whose error had allowed the Razorbacks to tie the game at 2-2 in the top of the inning.

Saturday's rained-out doubleheader between Rice and Baylor was played Sunday, with Baylor winning the opener 7-0 on a one-hitter by Dub Kilgo and Rice taking the nightcap 8-3.

RECORD POSTED Jack Wins Heritage

HILTON HEAD ISLAND, S.C. (AP)— Jack's back! He'd been overshadowed in recent months by the gaudy exploits of Johnny Miller. His long-time role as the game's greatest player had again been challenged.

There were hints that his era had passed its peak, that he was on the downgrade.

But Jack Nicklaus suddenly and authoritatively has reasserted his superiority in the game he's dominated for a decade.

He's won his last two times out and Miller was in the field each time.

And his last victory — in the prestigious Heritage Classic Sunday — came over an elite invitational field that included almost all of the Masters hopefuls. Among them were Gary Player, Arnold Palmer, Lee Trevino, Tom Weiskopf, Bruce Crampton, Hale Irwin and most of the young stars. And Miller.

He stunned them with a fantastic 63 in Friday's round, gave them life with a 74 Saturday and put them all away with a solid 68 Sunday that completed a tournament record total of 271, 13-under-par.

More important, he now goes to Augusta, Ga. and the upcoming Masters at the top of his game, perhaps playing as well as he has in the past 10 years.

"My swing pattern is very good, better than it has been in two or three years," said Nicklaus, who annually makes the Masters his first big goal of the season.

"Obviously, I'm very pleased." In his last three tournaments he's had a 63 — on one of the world's toughest golf courses — a pair of 66s a 67, a couple of 68s, three 69s and an unofficial 64 while playing in a foursome with President Ford.

But there's no danger that his game may have peaked too soon.

"Not going into Augusta," he said. "If anything, it works the other way. If I'd lost, maybe I'd feel that my game had peaked too soon. There's no such thing as playing too good going into Augusta."

He appeared to play just as well as he did in the dull, dreary weather that marked the final round over the treacherous, 6,655-yard Harbour Town Golf Links.

He birdied the 11th after a seven-iron shot to within six or seven feet and Weiskopf bogeyed the 12th, missing the green. That gave Jack a two-stroke margin and it was just a matter of finishing.

"I'm disappointed at not winning," Weiskopf said, "but at least I'm glad I could make a golf tournament out of it."

Wooden's Finale Could Spur UCLA

SAN DIEGO (AP) — For the coach who has just about everything, there is only one more thing that the UCLA Bruins can give John Wooden: another national basketball championship.

And they hope to do that tonight in the drama-filled final of the NCAA playoffs.

The fabulous Bruins, gunning for their 10th national title in 12 years, face Kentucky's Thoroughbreds at the San Diego Sports Arena in a game that truly befits the occasion.

Not only are UCLA and Kentucky ranked 1-2 in the nation, and not only are these among the most tradition-laden basketball schools in America, but an element of Hollywood drama has been added to the scenario.

Wooden, the guiding light at UCLA for 27 years and the most successful college basketball coach who ever lived, has announced his retirement from the game and the team he loves. This motivational factor could be all the formidable Bruins need to put them over the top, although Wooden insists that he didn't make his retirement announcement today in order to "hype the players."

If Wooden didn't mean it that way, the psychological ingredient nevertheless is there. It certainly crossed the mind of Kentucky Coach Joe Hall.

"There's no way we can come up with something with the impact of a resignation," said Hall.

Other intangibles are apparent: pride, tradition and momentum. Both teams have all three.

When the teams take the court for the 6:10 p.m. PDT starting time before an expected sellout crowd of more than 15,000 and a national television audience of millions, they'll carry a composite total of 13 national championships with them. Wooden has won nine for the Bruins, including seven straight at one point, and Kentucky boasts four crowns, all in the fabled era of Adolph Rupp.

And both teams are red hot. UCLA sports a 27-3 record and Kentucky is 26-4.

Who Succeeds John Wooden?

The Los Angeles Times reported that UCLA officials picked the man last January who they want to succeed Wooden.

The Times' source said the name of the man probably will be revealed this week and "will probably surprise a lot of people." The source added, "He's a well known head coach who will be familiar to players on the West Coast."

Whoever succeeds him inherits a tradition including nine national titles, seven of them in a row, and a record string of 88 straight victories.

The evaluation might have become more difficult with the decision of Wooden's chief assistant, Gary Cunningham, to go into athletic or educational administration when the opportunity presents itself.

Names mentioned for the job are Dave Gavitt of Providence, whose teams have averaged 18 victories a year the past seven seasons, and Denny Crum of Louisville.

Crum, a former UCLA player, left as Wooden's chief aide three years ago to take the Louisville job and saw his team fall 75-74 to UCLA in overtime Saturday in the NCAA semifinals.

Wooden was asked if any well-wishers called him Saturday night following his retirement announcement.

"No," replied the coach in his usual quiet manner. "I took the phone off the hook."

His senior players knew of his decision in advance, his underclassmen were generally surprised and fellow coaches heaped praise on Wooden, whose team goes after its 10th national crown, facing muscular Kentucky.

U.S. Image Is Declining; Kremlin Doing Well?

By The Associated Press
 The Kremlin is probably in a happy mood today, as its power and influence in the world grow in direct relation to a decline of the United States image, battered and tattered by world events.

Kremlin policy for five years. A superabundance of Soviet and Communist success — for example, should the Communist move too fast in Portugal — could wreck the fragile detente structure.

Exposed Fruit Blooms Perish

A weekend of freezing nights killed blooms on all fruit trees not covered, a scientist at the U. S. Big Spring Experiment Station said today.

Donald W. (Bill) Fryrear, location leader at the research center, noted temperature fell to 26 degrees Friday night, 21 Saturday night and 22 Sunday night.

Trees which have not completed blooming still may produce fruit, Fryrear said.

U.S. SURPASSED

Soviet military might challenges the United States in the air and on the seas, and on land surpasses the Americans by far in conventional capability and manpower. The Russians also expect to reach at least equality in terms of nuclear potential.

The psychological impact of a series of policy reverses suffered by the United States seems to lift Soviet world political authority to an all-time peak. In consequence, not for 25 years has the international Communist movement had such invigorating shots in the arm.

A Kremlin-eye view of the world would see its superpower rival on the run on a number of key fronts.

For the Americans, the picture is far from reassuring. Asians watch attentively, as American hopes in Indochina, after a quarter century of enormously expensive effort, are buried in rubble by Communist offensives in Vietnam and Cambodia. Laos, as a result of agreements that ended its fighting, is on its way to being brought under dominating Communist influence.

2 Odessans Are Killed

Two Odessans were killed as the result of separate automobile accidents Saturday.

Dead are Cleveland Robert Kirchner, 56 and Mrs. R. C. (Lille Mae) Kelly, 57.

Kirchner was killed about 7:30 p.m. Saturday 5.8 miles south of Midland when the pickup he was driving south on Tower Road went into a roadside ditch, left the roadway and rolled end over end.

Services were pending in a San Angelo funeral home.

Mrs. Kelley was killed when the station wagon she was a passenger in was involved in a collision with another car at E. University and Parkway Boulevard in Odessa.

Services for Mrs. Kelley will be at 4 p.m. Tuesday at Easterling Funeral Home in Odessa.

mediation efforts. HELPED CHANCES Even the assassination of Saudi Arabia's King Faisal opens possibilities for Moscow, particularly if conservative Arab leadership should be weakened or if the event generates nervous uncertainty in the whole area to the detriment of stability.

In Europe, Portugal moves steadily left and Communist party authority grows accordingly in what is the southwest anchor of the North Atlantic Alliance.

Area Hospital Is Faulted

WASHINGTON — Midland's Memorial Hospital and Kermit Memorial Hospital are among the 68 medical facilities nationwide which failed a Social Security Administration spot check for health and safety standards.

In all, 105 hospitals were checked for deficiencies. SSA officials described the inspections as random samplings.

The hospitals singled out were to initiate corrective measures. The inspections took place last June.

A followup check was conducted last month and the two West Texas hospitals were informed that they met federal standards.

Garrison's New Role Is Less Engrossing

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Former Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison has a new role as a hot defense lawyer, which he says pays better but is less engrossing than trying to reshape assassination history.

"It's a lot easier," says the survivor of 12 often hectic years as district attorney and a political power in New Orleans.

For seven of those years, Garrison labored on what he said was a new version of how President John F. Kennedy was assassinated in a motorcade in Dallas in 1963.

EX-DA JIM GARRISON

When Garrison began his investigation in 1967, it became for a short time a world sensation. Then it ran afoul of criticism that his theory had few facts to support it.

"I wrote my book on the assassination and said what I had to say and showed the role of New Orleans," he said. "Some people don't believe it; there are none so blind as those who will not see."

Political tides washed Garrison out of office last year, ending his effort officially, at least — to prove that a widespread assassination conspiracy was involved.

The ghost of the investigation now looms in the form of a $5 million damage suit filed by Clay L. Shaw, acquitted in 1969 on charges he conspired with Lee Harvey Oswald to murder the president.

Shaw's U.S. District Court suit here contends the investigation violated his constitutional rights. Shaw died of cancer last August and under Louisiana law a damage suit dies with the plaintiff. But, U.S. District Court Judge Frederick Heebe ruled otherwise.

"Shaw surely deserves an opportunity to have his day in court and attempt to clear his name, if only posthumously," Heebe ruled.

Asked if he intended to appeal, Garrison reacted with his customary insouciance.

"I am going to let the other people worry about that," he said. "Far as I am concerned, I'd just as soon go to trial. If I can't go in and win it with my left hand, then I'm not a lawyer."

There was a time that remark would have drawn knowing grins. Garrison rarely appeared in court while district attorney, raising doubts about his courtroom prowess. But the jest expired when he took over his own defense at his 1973 federal court trial on a charge of taking bribes — and won.

Despite the verdict of innocent, the trial was a strong factor in Garrison's political weakness in the election two months later.

After the bribery case he won a succession of court fights.

Although prospering, Garrison doesn't have the $5 million demanded in Shaw's suit but his coddefendants do.

They are some 50 wealthy businessmen who formed Truth and Consequences, Inc., in 1967 to finance Garrison's investigation after he complained that reporters were keeping tabs on him by checking his accounting of public expenditures.

The official report rejected by Garrison said Lee Harvey Oswald, who was from New Orleans, was the sniper who killed President Kennedy and that he had no assistants. Garrison insisted that Oswald was merely part of a conspiracy hatched here before Oswald moved to Dallas. He says he will never believe otherwise.

Carlson Is Instructor

Gary A. Carlson, 29, Big Spring has been named to the faculty of Midland Lutheran College in Fremont, Neb., effective Sept. 1 as instructor in earth science and assistant director of the Luenninghoener Planetarium, it was announced Saturday by Dr. L. Dale Lund, president.

Dr. Gilbert C. Luenninghoener, professor emeritus of earth science at the college will continue as director of the planetarium. A teacher of astronomy and planetarium director at Big Spring for the last six years, Carlson was graduated from Midland Lutheran in 1968 after attending Kearney State College.

He received his master's degree from Sul Ross State University, Alpine, Tx, and did other study at Adams State College, Alamosa, Colorado, Michigan State University, East Lansing, and the University of Texas, Austin.

Carlson is a member of numerous planetarium, science and education organizations serving as president of the Southwestern Association of Planetariums. He sponsors astronomy and science clubs at Big Spring in addition to his teaching and planetarium management.

Active in his Trinity Lutheran church, he has been a church school teacher and council member, church school superintendent and chairman of several council committees. A delegate in the past to the Texas-Louisiana Synod Convention of the Lutheran Church in America, he currently is finishing his second year as lay president and vice president of the council.

A Message From

Charles Tompkins

When I offered my services to the people of Big Spring as a City Councilman, I did so because I thought it was important.

In asking you to honor me with a second term, I am more convinced than ever that it is important enough to justify the time and effort required for making decisions that affect the conduct and progress of our city.

I hope you know me well enough to know that I will try to reach independent judgments, supported by the facts, on matters that come before the Council. I am fortunate enough to operate my own business, and I appreciate the fact that certain business principles must be applied to city government. These include good people, properly recognized, who make up the staff; good management; good administration of our dollars; and good objectives for our city.

My whole interest in this position is to make whatever contribution I can, through a common sense approach, to the solution of our problems, to insure that Big Spring will continue to be a sound, progressive city.

To this end, I will be grateful, as I have been in the past, for your support and your vote Tuesday.

"POKEY POT" SLOW ELECTRIC STONWARE COOKER

WEAR-EVER NO. C38003

The Pokey Pot is truly an everything cooker. It combines yesterday's method of long-time cooking so that flavors blend beautifully with today's faster-paced life style and need for convenience.

The Pokey Pot operates on 75 watts when set on low, 150 watts on high so costs very little to operate. And with the low cooking temperatures the kitchen stays cool, too.

The 3 1/2 quart size makes it versatile enough for both family meals or party fare. And with its appealing brown exterior it goes handsomely right to the buffet table.

Dear Abby

'Baby' May Forget If She Thinks He Forgot

DEAR ABBY: My husband sent a mushy valentine to a girl, and on the bottom of it he wrote: "I love you, Baby!"

He must have put the wrong address on the envelope because it came back with "ADDRESS UNKNOWN" on it.

Naturally I was curious when I saw this big, fancy looking envelope addressed to some name I never heard of in my life, in my husband's handwriting, with his return address on the back, so I opened it, and when I saw what it was, I nearly fainted!

Should I confront him with it, or forget it?

BROOKLYN WIFE: DEAR WIFE: Forget it. If "Baby" thinks he forgot her on Valentine's Day, it might be the beginning of the end. Which would be better for all three of you, since he's married to you.

DEAR ABBY: I have recently started to give private piano lessons to young children, and I am planning my first recital.

Since most of my students' parents have never heard me play, would it be all right for me to play a number or two myself on the program? Or do you think it would be considered showing off on my part?

Maybe an experienced piano teacher has the answer.

PERPLEXED PIANIST: DEAR PERPLEXED: Maybe. And I would welcome their letters. My experience is limited to my own violin recitals. My instructor, Leo Kucinski, a very talented violinist in his own right, did not perform at the recitals of his pupils. But in retrospect, perhaps he should have. He would have inspired his pupils, and entertained their parents.

DEAR ABBY: I have a message for Russell in Houston, who wants to grow up and become President of the United States:

Hurry! The way things are going, I will keep a bed available for you. This is a home for mental patients, and everyone here is off his rocker — including the staff.
