Firm Evidence Deep Recession Is Nearing An End

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government economic experts say there now is firm evidence that the nation's deep recession is nearing an end, but they are not yet sure how strong the economic recovery will be.

SWINNEY NAMED MAYOR Water Issue May Have Influenced Balloting

COAHOMA — Citizens of Coahoma finally got their chance to voice their opinions about the recent water controversy and make them "stick" as they turned out in record numbers to elect a new mayor and two aldermen in Tuesday's city election here.

Joe Swinney, mayor of Coahoma about four years ago, was elected with 89 votes over incumbent Jack Cauble who polled 73 votes.

4 Are Named At Cee City

COLORADO CITY — Four people were elected without opposition to seats on the Colorado City council here Tuesday.

Incumbents Mays And Tompkins Re-Named

In a light vote, Big Spring citizens re-elected two incumbents to the City Council with Mrs. Polly Mays going in to place 3 unopposed and Charles Tompkins defeating C. V. (Burr) Crocker for post 4.

The District won the suit and a judgment against the city is pending an appeal.

Shortly thereafter, Coahoma increased its water rates from $5.40 per 4,000 gallons to $9.40 per 4,000 gallons to raise enough money to pay the pending judgement.

The citizens of Sand Springs got together again and asked the Water District to try to buy or take over the water lines serving Sand Springs and sell the water directly to the people.

Last week, the City of Coahoma filed for an injunction to prevent the water district from doing that.

BOTH POCKETS
Swinney recently pointed out that all the suits are costing the tax payers "out of both pockets."

I hope that we can get together and settle these differences out of court," Swinney said.

Swinney, along with Dorn and Richter, will take office at the next council meeting, slated for April 10, at 7 p.m. in City Hall.

Mrs. Mays received a total of 872 and Tompkins winning 504 to 368.

There was one write-in at Place 4 for Gerald DiGrappa.

For place 3, Jack Watkins, former councilman, posted 43 write-in votes. Other write-ins included H. H. Rutherford, David Gomez and Robert Pemmer, two each; and one each to Bill

Harris, O. F. Priest, Eddie Acri, Mrs. V. A. Mann, Bill Edwards, Joe Jaure, Jimmy Moorhead, Royce Anderson Mary Thomas, R. B. G. Cowper, Ron Swatt, Charlie Shanks and Linda Bowlin.

In the contested race, Crocker carried two boxes, defeating Tompkins 34-20 at Airport and 68-19 at the Northside Fire Station.

Tompkins carried Central Fire Station, 131-92, led at 11th and Birdwell, 129-57, and carried 18th and Main 205-117.

Mrs. Mays posted 41 votes at the Northside, 30 at Airport, 158 at 11th and Birdwell, 182 at Central and 292 at 18th and Main.

ASSOCIATES VOICE SHOCK, DISMAY, ANGER, DISBELIEF AT WORD 'BOSS' PARR IS DEAD Struggle For Political Control In Duval County

SAN DIEGO, Tex. (AP) — Word that political boss George B. Parr was dead spread through Duval County Tuesday as if it were blown by the gusting South Texas wind, leaving behind a shock wave of dismay, anger, and disbelief.

"The body of the aging 'Duke of Duval', 74, was found in an isolated area of his ranch about 14 miles southeast of Benavides. Justice of the Peace Luis Elizondo of Benavides ruled that Parr died of a self-inflicted gunshot wound in the right temple with a .45 caliber automatic pistol.

At the time of his death, Parr appeared to be surrounded by problems but had been able, until at least the last few days, to appear jovial and carefree. Less than a week earlier, for the first time ever, Parr allowed reporters to interview him at length. The following day, only five days before his death, Parr was in the courthouse verbally jousting and joking with almost everyone in sight. But in recent days, persons who had been close to him said his mood appeared to change.

Women with reddened eyes and tear-streaked faces were leaving the courthouse offices. Most declined comment, but one said, "I feel bad. That's all."

In addition to the prison terms, the Parrs also faced a struggle with a powerful faction for control of politically volatile Duval County. The power struggle was between the Parrs and the Carrillo family, a powerful family apparently backed by South Texas millionaire rancher-banker Clinton Manges of Freer.

CANCELS RALLY
The Carrillo-Parr struggle was approaching its climax at the time of Parr's death. The climax was expected Saturday in the Benavides-Freer school board election. Candidates backed by the Carrillo-Manges faction laced Parr-backed candidates. Chapa opposed Mrs. Hilda Parr, in one of the contests.

A few minutes later the ousted county judge predicted that his political faction of the Duval County Democratic Party will retain control. "It doesn't make any difference whether George is missing or I am missing. The Old Party will continue on," he said.

May Try Again

Texans may get a chance to vote on a new constitution if the Texas Legislature follows through on activities slated for this week.

Legislators adopted resolutions changing parliamentary ground rules for debate when senators and representatives consider the basic constitution almost adopted during the 1974 Constitutional Convention. The Constitutional Convention, composed of legislators, failed by three votes to ratify the revised constitution and send it to the voters for their approval or rejection.

Now the legislature is going to try again. Hopefully they will be more successful this time around. Resolutions in both the Senate and the House will allow article by article debate on the basic proposed new constitution. Any amendments will have to have a two-thirds vote for approval before being sent to the voters for a final say.

The basic documents up for consideration are the eight articles almost approved by the convention. It does not include separate submissions such as the controversial right-to-work provision in the 1974 provision. Right-to-work was one of the primary reasons the 1974 version failed.

Hopefully legislators can present Texans with a viable document as a proposed new constitution. Constitutional revision has been authorized by Texas voters. It is needed and the legislature can see that voters get their wishes. But the debate promises to be long and hard and could possibly be one of the most important actions in the 64th Legislature takes this year.

Corrections Advisable

Federal authorities are claiming that the oil industry may have jacked up prices illegally to the tune of $861 million, according to an Associated Press dispatch.

It would be easy to dismiss this as another wild claim, except that so far authorities have recovered $612 million for consumers in refunds, price rollbacks, cancelling announced increases in some categories, says the story. A lot of the difficulty appears to have been classing "old oil" (at $5.25) as new oil (which brings twice that figure); in some instances markups by manufacturers on LPG contracts; unwarranted price jumps on gas to utilities.

So far no criminal complaints have been lodged because agreements have been reached in most cases. The oil industry, as well as the government, should be interested in correcting mistakes promptly. Consumers are wary of paying higher fuel prices because of huge percentage gains in oil industry profits, which frequently are deceptive because when a dangerously low 3 per cent margin jumps to 10 per cent (which still may not be adequate), that's 333 per cent. Percentages don't tell where you started from. Nevertheless, if there are those who took or take advantage of a bad situation, they should be made to correct the error promptly. It will be better for all.

Dome's Birthday

Around The Rim

Joe Pickle

Today the "eighth" wonder of the world, the Astrodome, celebrates its 10th anniversary. In the first decade, it had drawn upwards of 75 million spectators to events from motor races to revival crusades, and has added a billion dollars to the Houston economy.

NATURALLY, the birthday will be the "biggest," including ten 25 ft X 14 in. flickering candles atop the huge Astrodome roof. These were lit Monday, day of the Astros opening baseball game of the current season, but the actual anniversary date is today.

It all started out with an idea for a "mall," or enclosed shopping center in the mind of Roy Hofheinz, a Beaumont youth who was practicing law at 19, serving in the legislature at age 22, beginning the first of two terms as Harris county judge at 24, and mayor of Houston at 40. Toward the end of his political career, he began dabbling in business and in eight years amassed a fortune in various enterprises, including ownership of Ringling Bros., Barnum-Bailey Circus.

On a trip to Rome, he learned that the historic Coliseum had a velarium that could be pulled over it in times of bad weather, which gave him the idea for an enclosed shopping center. This was shelved, but when Houston leaders George Kirksey, Craig Culligan Jr. and R.E. Smith began talking of a National Baseball League franchise, Hofheinz was convinced the answer was a domed enclosure which would overcome Houston's heat and humidity.

Buckminster Fuller, the geodesic expert, convinced him that any area could be spanned if there were enough money. Armed with a model of the dream dome, the men went to Chicago in October 1960 and landed the franchise for the Houston 45 Colts in a single day. They sold the voters who first approved $27.6 million in county bonds, broke ground May 18, 1963 and actually began building the following year. Completion was April 9, 1965.

NO MATTER WHAT you've heard about the Astrodome, you are ill-prepared for your first impression. Everything about it is superlative. As immense as it seems, everything doubles when you look down on the field excavated 25 feet below ground level.

The muscles for the huge dome ate

9,000 tons of high-strength carbon steel frame perched on a 3,000-ton steel tension ring, which rests on 72 steel columns that can support 16 million pounds. The dome can withstand winds of 130 mph (gusts to 165) and, if pushed beyond that, will swell into an oval instead of collapsing. The clear span of 642 feet eclipses the previous 400-ft. record. It has a 710-ft. outside and a 650-ft. inside diameter, is 208 feet high from the playing surface to the top of the dome. The structure encloses 41 million cubic feet of uninterrupted space.

EACH OF THE cushioned rubber foamed seats, gaily colored, have 1,079 perforations, which, with fiberboard and perforated plastic, give the dome good acoustics. A weather station on top of the dome tells the 3,000-ton air conditioning system what to do. Filters take particles, odor and smoke out of 2,500,000 cubic feet per minute (the smoke filter is controlled by ultraviolet sensors). The structure seats 45,000 for baseball, 52,000 for football, 6,000 for conventions, 66,000 for boxing, thanks to rotatable grandstands.

The 8-percent grade on ramps is the shallowest on such a structure in the world. The packed dome can be emptied in eight minutes; the 30,000-car parking space can be emptied in a quarter of an hour.

THE HOUSTON Sports Association, which leases the dome for three-quarters of a million dollars a year, installed a $2 million scoreboard that flashes designs and messages from 40 million openings backed by 50,000 verda type bulbs. The flag, suspended from the roof, is at 50 X 30, the largest in the country.

DOWNTOWN MERCHANTS first balked at the idea, changed when suddenly the first year every hotel and motel was booked to capacity. In 1968 Astroworld (Houston's answer to Six Flags) opened its 10-acre of marvels. Then came AstroHall, a vast exhibits complex with its own 6,000-seat Astro-Arena, plus four luxury hotels which make up what is now known as Astrodome. Clustering around the once barren prairies are multiplied millions of dollars in major buildings and businesses. At $38 million final cost, the Astrodome is probably the biggest community bargain in the history of the country.

The Lebanese

Robert E. Ford

They mostly were peddlers in Texas, carrying their goods on their backs.

The second and succeeding generations became highly distinguished in business, industry and the professions.

As did the descendants of Elias, a Syrian who was a nursemaid to the famous 33 camels the government imported in 1856 as a transportation experiment for the western deserts. Elias eventually settled in Sonora, Mexico. His son, Plutarco Elias Calles, became president of Mexico in 1928.

THE LARGEST Lebanese family in Texas is the Jamails of Houston. Among other accomplishments, Abe Jamail became Houston's most decorated World War II hero. The family is so large that 30 served in that conflict.

Another distinguished family is the Kazens of Laredo. One member is U.S. Rep. Abraham (Chick) Kazen Jr.

On the subject of politics, would you believe a Lebanese named Mike McKool? He is from Dallas and was in the Texas Senate 1969-1973.

McKool set a record for Texas filibusters with 42 hours and 33 minutes, proving that Lebanese can talk and possess stamina.

The Farah family of El Paso is one of the world's largest manufacturers of slacks and other clothing. One of its toughest competitors was founded by the Haggard family of Dallas, also Lebanese.

A DALLAS MAN of Syrian ancestry may be the most versatile of all that background. He is Najeeb E. Halaby, a test pilot and the first to fly a jet plane across the continent.

He served in the Defense Department, became director of the Federal Aviation Administration and quit to become president and chief executive officer of Pan American World Airways. He opened his own venture company and international law company. He is trustee of universities around the world.

The names of noted Texans of Syrian-Lebanese ancestry seems endless. Like Dr. Michael DeBakey, the world-famous heart expert; Michel T. Halbouty, the oilman; footballer Chris Gilbert; operatic star Helen Donath.

Been asking around to find out who, what and when was Little Egypt? You sure can get some strange answers about her—the most famous belly dancer in American history. No one really seems to know.

My Answer

Billy Graham

Whenever we put any restrictions on our 16 year old son, he goes into a rage. He curses and tells us he doesn't care for us, and wishes we were dead. Are we wrong in wanting to know where he goes, and expecting him to be home at a certain time? We have raised him in the church and a Christian home.

Mom

When they used propeller aircraft more extensively, there was frequently the danger of a runaway prop. It happened when the usual controls and limits broke down. It's a good analogy of your boy. If you want to see your "runaway"

ONE SALOON character said yes, he knew. Little Egypt's a bar on Harry Hines Boulevard in Dallas.

Others remember her as the star of a world's fair. Where and when? The answers range from St. Louis in the 1890s to the 1939-40 world's fair in New York. Most persons always recall her as the main attraction.

Belly dancing was considered very sexy in those days. They would have been "X" rated then. Now females from little kids to overweight matrons are taking lessons.

One distinguished Texan who is supposed to know everything about everything said he doesn't recall anything specific about Little Egypt.

But he admits that Paris Peggy gave him a personally conducted tour of the Streets of Paris at the 1936 Centennial in Dallas. His name is withheld to protect the guilty.

WHAT SET OFF this deep scientific research is the publication of a new discussion of another of the 26 ethnic groups found in Texas.

It is called "The Syrian and Lebanese Texans" and is published by San Antonio's Institute of Texan Cultures, a branch of the University of Texas.

The only belly dancing troupe we know about in Texas is formed by Lebanese high school and college women and performs at the annual folk festival held by the institute in San Antonio.

The only reference in standard encyclopedias to belly dancing or anything near it notes that Egyptian dances were pretty formal and dull more than a thousand years before the birth of Christ.

SO THEY IMPORTED dancers from the East to get a little more action and grace into their entertainment. Would they have come from Lebanon and Syria?

The reason the institute combined the Syrians and Lebanese into one booklet is because the first immigration came from Syria which then included Lebanon. The latter country became independent after World War II.

Both countries have relatively high literacy. Syria largely is Moslem, while 51 per cent of the Lebanese are Christians—somewhat unusual for that part of the country.

Most of those who emigrated to Texas were Christians until after World War II.

THE LEBANESE and Syrians always were great traders in their homeland and the first ones continued that profession in the United States.

Every available craft is being utilized in the evacuation and at least one refugee was spotted heading straight to sleep in a handbasket.

Recycled Paper Woes

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Because nature's resources are limited, most people recognize the need to recycle waste products into something useful instead of simply burying or burning or otherwise destroying them.

But recognition of the necessity doesn't lead automatically to the accomplishment, as dealers in recycled paper products are learning today. Some are in a desperate way, their warehouses filled, their order books blank.

Despite the recognition of the need, the industry has closed 18 huge paper-making machines since late last year. Some of these machines were mills in themselves. Altogether, nine or 10 recycling plants have closed.

While the problem has become worse in recent months, it isn't a short-term phenomenon. Since 1968, between 60 and 70 machines have fallen idle.

Recycled paper is more than shirt boards and corrugated boxes. It's newsprint, packaging of items from soaps to hardware, bathroom and facial tissues, gypsum wallboard facings, furniture backings — even fine writing papers.

Thirty years ago, when the world ecology was barely recognized, about 35 per cent of all paper consumed by Americans was recycled. Today, only 22 per cent comes from that source, although tonnage is higher.

The most recent part of the downturn is an understandable consequence of recession. Bales of waste paper, the raw material of recycling plants, piled up as demand fell. Prices plummeted.

Recycling, says J. Rodney Edwards of the American Paper Institute, has serious weaknesses, not the least of which is the undependability of its suppliers, many of whom are volunteers.

The paper industry maintains it has exhibited a social conscience and that it has made great efforts to "clean up our mess," but they are not totally free of blame or responsibility.

The fact is that in today's capital-strapped economy, the expenditure for a recycling plant is about one-half that of a virgin pulp facility. That in itself is one incentive for promoting recycling.

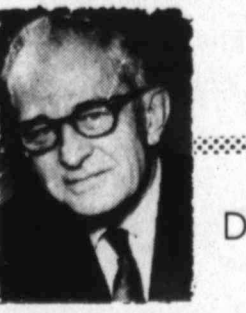

But, explains an institute spokesman, the industry's major customers — packers, manufacturers, builders — generally are not specifying the recycled product.

There is another reason for the dilemma of recycling: The paper makers themselves prefer to deal with virgin fibers.

In the post-World War II years the biggest capital expenditures were put into forest-land mills. Major production facilities were built at the source of supply, for obvious economic reasons.

Colds Still A Mystery

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: How long do head cold germs live? Would the germ live three hours, six hours, a day? How about a child picking up the handkerchief of a person who has a cold? Could he get the cold?

Mrs. H.K. Questions about the common cold always intrigue me, and when I get reader mail on the subject I scurry back to the new literature and to my research expert friends.

And do you know what? I find that not much more is known about it than was known last year or many years before. But the common cold has been and continues to be the subject of much investigation. And certain facts are known.

There are much more than 80 viruses which can be involved so that should tip you off that no answer to your question is going to be simple. There is no doubt that there are "cold seasons" just as there are "flu seasons," and these tend to be in the winter, although summer colds are not uncommon.

Studies have been conducted to try to answer your specific questions about the transmissibility of colds. Volunteers have been subjected to the infectious material — the sputum and nasal secretion of victims. Strangely, the majority of the volunteers did not develop any symptoms of a cold.

Yet we know that colds are spread by droplet infection and can follow the sneezing or coughing route from one person to another.

What about temperatures? Coldness has been shown not to be a factor, while humidity has been. It is common to have a prolonged stretch of bitter cold weather and have a noticeable absence of cold incidence. In fact, there is evidence that temperatures below that of the body very quickly render a cold virus inactive.

So where do colds come from? Healthy persons, free of cold symptoms, have been shown to harbor cold viruses in their nasal membranes, and a sneeze or kiss from such a person can transmit the virus to another person.

Now to your handkerchief question. I don't think we can measure the virus life in terms of hours, for it is doubtful whether a cold virus can exist outside the body environment that long. Minutes, perhaps seconds, seems more reasonable.

So very immediate contact seems required. This is why children seem to collect and distribute cold viruses so readily. They are uninhibited in conduct, and this usually brings them into constant and close contact with cold virus carriers. At home, in the evening, a bedtime kiss can easily transfer the germ to parents.

Burton's Report

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — Rep. Phillip Burton of California, powerful chairman of the House Democratic caucus, personally warned Vice President Nelson Rockefeller last week that he "had the votes" to roll over presidential vetoes of anti-recession spending bills now moving through the overwhelmingly Democratic Congress.

THE SETTING for the unpublicized Rockefeller-Burton conversation was Rockefeller's rambling mansion on Foxhall Road here. With Rockefeller butlers padding quietly to serve a three-course candlelit dinner, street-tough Phil Burton made an impassioned plea for White House "cooperation" with Congress.

Without it, he said darkly, President Ford would be devastated by Democrats in Capitol Hill and the country seriously damaged by ferocious partisan politics. Though Burton was unusually restrained, his warning was clear: go along with what we want — or else. What's more, it comes when key Ford advisers are losing patience and are about to urge a veto war of confrontation.

THREE OTHER HOUSE Democrats and four House Republicans, plus Rockefeller's top aides on the Domestic Council, did more listening than talking at the Vice President's stag party March 19.

Rockefeller's building his first intimate political dinner party around Burton shows where the power is on Capitol Hill. Burton picked the other three Democrats (Abner Mikva of Illinois, Thomas Foley of Washington and Don Fraser of Minnesota). Burton also suggested that Rockefeller invite Republican Rep. Al Quie of Minnesota and ask Quie to suggest the other Republicans: John Anderson of Illinois, Robert Michel of Illinois and Barber Conable of New York.

AFTER SMALL TALK, Rockefeller pledged that under his command the Domestic Council would work with "and not confront" the Democratic majority — a view subject to dispute at the White House. Then Burton started in.

There was far too much talk in the White House, Burton said, blaming the Democrats for runaway deficit spending when Mr. Ford's own budget showed a $51.9 billion deficit. The new Congress, he said, will never swallow whole the President's program but is determined to assert its highly independent spirit.

MOREOVER, said Burton, the administration had better understand that votes taken in his caucus accurately reflect real opinion and are not manipulated for political effect.

There were no fireworks and argumentation was gently muted. Indeed, the other Congressmen present said it was worthwhile and informative.

DEMOCRATIC national chairman Robert Strauss is giving serious consideration to New York City for the 1976 Democratic national convention, a stunning move with important political implications.

Strauss's liberal rivals in the party, who want Los Angeles, think Strauss is pushing Chicago as a favor to his ally, Mayor Richard J. Daley. On the contrary, Daley doesn't particularly want the Democrats back in Chicago, and neither does Strauss.

'Feeling Good' Portrait Of Family Love, Respect

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Wonder of wonders, tonight's first edition of the revamped "Feeling Good" public TV show gives healthy signs this $6.5 million health care series may survive its very shaky start.

The show primarily is a straightforward study of how one family answered the modern-day question of whether aged relatives unable to cope for themselves should be cared for at home or put in a nursing home.

It's an excellent program and far superior to the hour-long efforts seen on "Feeling Good" when it premiered last November, preceded by a heavy publicity campaign.

COY SKITS
At that time, the series seemed doomed. It looked like a badly conceived, poorly written variety show starring various ailments of the Week. Its health tips usually came in dull, coy skits.

Viewers shunned it and it went off the air Jan. 29, after 11 shows, so that its producer, the Children's Television Workshop, could tinker with the format and attempt a comeback in the spring.

Part of the tinkering involved cutting the program to a half hour, sharply reducing the word information through-skits approach, and hiring Dick Cavett at $4,000 a show to host 13 new "Feeling Good" episodes.

album. One photo they gave the program shows him cradling one of his grandsons in his arms; the next shot shows the grandson, now in his late 20s, cradling a now feeble and thin Frank Tugend in his arms.

It brilliantly illustrates Cavett's observation that those "who gave us strength when we were young can suddenly need it from us when they are old."

The Tugend family had chosen to care for the head of the clan at home, to not put him in a nursing home, even though he was growing senile and his physical condition became so poor he couldn't control his bowels.

The deterioration of Tugend, a proud, strong

Hedger Invented

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — Hedging, a sharp cutting back of branches, will put new life in old, large declined walnut trees, it has been proven in extensive studies in orchards near here.

The major drawback to this method has been the prohibitive costs of hand labor where workers will go in and make in excess of 150 individual cuts on wood an inch or less in diameter. Now a $100,000 hedger-topper has been invented, that can trim trees to a height of 46 feet.

Goal At Webb: Find Less Expensive Way To Do Job

Due to the decline in value of the defense dollar and decrease in manpower, Webb AFB managers are faced with the task of getting their jobs done with fewer resources.

The Resources Conservation (RECON) Program is the tool used for encouraging improved management actions. It also serves as a tool for documenting the improvements.

All personnel, both military and civilian, are charged with the basic responsibility of using public funds efficiently. "Therefore," said Col. Harry A. Spannaus, deputy commander for Logistics, "It behooves us to identify our resources and begin to conserve." The commander went on to say that our resources are money, material, facilities and manpower. "Conservation of these may be made through either reduction, better use or increased care," he said.

At the beginning of each fiscal year, the wing RECON goal is set by Air Training Command headquarters. This goal is then subdivided

Free Booklet Is Offered

Nine out of ten Americans are protected by some form of health insurance. But the subject remains something of a mystery to many people, who thus may be caught unprepared when accidents or sickness arise.

A new booklet, written in simple, everyday language, may help remedy that problem.

It's called, "What You Should Know About Health Insurance," and is available free from the Health Insurance Institute, Dept. FE, 277 Park Avenue, New York, New York 10017.

Price Reductions Told By Ward's

Montgomery Ward has announced price reductions ranging from 10 per cent to 60 per cent on more than 1,700 items in every major line of merchandise in its summer sale catalog.

The 344-page catalog, now in the mail to more than six million families nationally, also features 31 special-value items, designed "Best Buy."

"The fashions section features men's and women's apparel modeled after the official parade and travel wardrobes designed by Halston for the United States Pan-American Games teams," says "Ron McNeil, manager of the Ward's store in Big Spring.

Montgomery Ward has been selected by the United States Olympic Committee as official supplier of the wardrobes for the Pan-Am Games and also for the United States Summer and Winter Olympic Teams in 1976.

"In an era of price-conscious consumers, we are offering savings of hundreds of dollars," says McNeil. "Savings of $120 on a washer-dryer, $170 on a 10-HP tractor, 60 per cent on draperies, 50 per cent on shoes, more than $4 per gallon on paint and $50 on a family tent are typical."

The catalog is featuring special values in garden equipment and home improvement materials. Steel storage buildings are cut from $250 to $110; garden hose cut 20 per cent; a ground tiller cut $60; power mowers down from $10 to $40; aluminum extension ladders cut $30; light fixtures off 20 per cent to 45 per cent; red cedar fencing down 17 per cent.

Home entertainment equipment savings include a multi-band radio 50 per cent off; TV sets cut $60 on a color console to $10 on a black-and-white console; an AM-FM stereo system down $48.

Reductions as high as $40 on a sofa bed and $50 on a jet fan oven are found in the home furnishings and small appliance sections.

The Pan-American team fashions, being sold exclusively by Ward's at popular prices, include double knit blazer suits, A-line dresses, coordinating slacks and jackets, and casual jackets for men and women. The fashions are available in a variety of colors and patterns.

In addition to supplying Pan-Am and Olympic team wardrobes, Ward's has been selected by the 1976 Olympic Organizing Committee as the official and exclusive agency for United States tickets to the Summer Olympics in Canada next year.

Connally Won't Talk About Trial

WASHINGTON (AP) — A jury of seven women and five men was seated today in the bribery trial of former Treasury Secretary John B. Connally.

The 12 jurors and six alternates were chosen from a pool of 44 persons who survived preliminary screening on Tuesday, the first day of the trial.

The 44 spent the night at home under orders to shun news stories about the case and to keep their names secret from inquiring reporters.

Connally, treasury secretary under former President Richard M. Nixon, concentrated intently on a list of possible jurors and consulted with his lawyer.

The jury selected reflected the capital's mostly black population. Nine of its members are black and three are white.

Connally told newsmen Tuesday that he has put himself under a gag rule and won't talk about his trial. He is accused by Watergate prosecutors of taking two $5,000 bribes from Associated Milk Producers Inc. in 1971 in return for his efforts to persuade President Richard M. Nixon to raise milk prices.

Jury Convicts Cuevas Of Murder In Shootout

HOUSTON (AP) — Both state and defense rested Wednesday after entering into evidence only a single document in the punishment phase of the capital murder trial of Ignacio Cuevas, the lone convict-gunner survivor of last summer's Huntsville prison shootout.

Walker County Dist. Atty. Jerry Sandel was permitted to present in evidence only a document which contained Cuevas' photograph, fingerprints, judgment and sentence on a previous murder conviction.

All other testimony and evidence were excluded when District Court Judge Miron Love sustained an objection by defense lawyer Will Gray.

Cuevas was convicted of capital murder Tuesday in the gunshot slaying of Mrs. Julia Standley, a prison librarian who died during the prison shootout.

Sandel, out of the presence of the nine-man, three-woman jury, attempted to present in evidence a fake gun which prison guard George Kibby testified was found in Cuevas' solitary cell earlier this year at Huntsville. Judge Love sustained Gray's objection to admission of the weapon and to Kibby's testimony.

The judge also sustained Gray's objection to the testimony of another state witness who told, out of the jury's hearing, of Cuevas' murder conviction in 1970 in Reeves County.

Reeves County Deputy Sheriff Jerry Ingram said Cuevas fled after killing a man with a pistol. Ingram said Cuevas forced the husband and father of the family to leave to get provisions, threatening to kill the family if the man did not return.

Ingram also testified that Cuevas escaped from the Reeves County jail Feb. 19, 1971, and was not recaptured until June 10, 1971.

Aubrey Lankford New HC Livestock Prexy

Aubrey Lankford was named president of the Howard County Livestock Association in its Monday evening meeting, and plans were made for youth livestock shows during the year.

Other officers named were Gene Perry, vice president; M. A. Snell, secretary-treasurer. Superintendent of the show will be Aubrey Lankford, cattle; Raymond Phillips, lambs; and Larry Shaw and Ralph White, swine.

The swine show will be held Sept. 14-16 as part of the Howard County Fair. Dates for the annual steer and lamb show will be Jan. 14-16, 1976.

The Howard County Livestock Association is a group of adults organized to assist in the planning and staging of livestock shows for young people. Its prime purpose is to encourage the county's youths learning about the livestock industry.

Through encouragement of programs and the shows, the association helps young people learn about livestock, including the financial aspects of the livestock industry, and to earn money of their own. Its program is designed to help agriculture-oriented young people to get practical experience, set and achieve goals, and to be encouraged toward good participating citizenship. All adults interested in these purposes are urged to become part of the association, said the president.

North Howard Well Staked

Monsanto No. 1 Christian has been staked as an 8,800-foot west stepout from the Big Spring Fossilman field in north Howard County.

Located 10 miles northeast of Big Spring, it is to be 660 from the south and 320 feet from the east lines of section 2-32-1n, T&P.

Three Renamed To Positions

STERLING CITY — Three Sterling City councilmen were elected unopposed Tuesday, with 26 total votes being cast.

Re-elected were Neal J. Reed with 25 votes, Don Griffin, 26, and Ross Foster, 25.

Other members of the city council are Mayor Lee Reed, Dan Glass and Foster Sims Price.

RRB Member Is To Visit Here

A representative of the U. S. Railroad Retirement Board will be in Big Spring to answer questions and see interested persons at Room 232 of the Federal Building, Thursday, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Those with appointments will be seen first and those without appointments will be seen as time permits.

Preparations Feverish At T-R Airline Office

Preparations are hectic at the Trans Regional Airline office at the Howard County Airport this week, as the firm prepares to begin scheduled flights from the airport to Midland Air Terminal and to Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport.

The company was granted a Texas Air Carrier's permit by the Texas Aeronautic Commission last Monday, but several other preparations will delay the beginning of scheduled service for about a week or two, according to Trans Regional executive vice president Joe Bailey.

He said that one of their airplanes has to be inspected by the FAA in Tulsa, Oklahoma, then must be brought back here. All three planes will be inspected again by the FAA, along with Howard County Airport facilities.

Tickets must be printed, planes will be painted with a specially designed logo, and interline agreement negotiations are now underway with about ten or eleven other airlines. Even when air service does start, Trans Regional will not be able to book flights to Rome, for example, until these interline agreements go into effect, about April 30.

C-C Groups Slate Meetings

Several council meetings and a film are slated by the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce in the next two weeks, according to Chamber Manager Terry Hanson.

On Monday, April 7, the Public Affairs Council will meet at noon at the Ramada Inn.

On Wednesday, April 9, the Community Development council will meet at noon at Cokers Restaurant.

On Thursday, April 10, the Organizational Affairs Council will meet at noon at the Holiday Inn.

On Monday, April 14, the Chamber Board of Directors will meet at noon at a site to be determined.

And finally, on April 15, the film, "Counterfeiting" will be shown in the Chamber meeting room at 5:30 p.m. The film is about counterfeit money and how to recognize it. The public is invited to see the film.

Prisoner Will Be Returned

Police Det. Avery Falkner went to Yuma, Ariz. today to bring back Fred D. McElwee on a warrant for theft of service.

McElwee was arrested in Yuma on another charge. He is wanted here for leaving the Ramada Inn without paying a $236 bill.

At Convention

Vonda Munoz, Big Spring, is among the Odessa College nursing students who will attend the Texas Nursing Students' Association convention starting Thursday in Houston. Mrs. Irma Day, instructor at OC, will head a group of 25 students.

CRMWD Capital Assets Approach $60 Million

The Colorado River Municipal Water District, nearing its 25th year of operation, has capital assets approaching $60 million. Of a total of $61,150,000 in revenue bonds issued, $40,702,000 are outstanding. To put it another way, the district has paid back nearly $20 1/2 million.

These are some of the figures in the annual audit of the District's books by Hollingsworth, Wilson, Lee & Reynolds, CPAs of Big Spring, who audit the books.

For the first time last year, revenues dropped below estimates due to unusual weather conditions, and expenses were over budget projections due largely to inflated pumping costs.

Revenues of $5,481,308 were $387,842 under projections, most of this drop from municipal customers in the latter portion of the year.

At the same time, expenses were $1,675,638, or $110,569 more than anticipated.

A breakdown on source of supply expenses showed $392,977, pumping $968,904, administration and general $243,651, a total of $1,605,532 operational disbursements. To this was added $70,106 for recreation, offset by more than $51,000 in recreation revenues.

Postal Foulup Slows Appeal

The local unit of the American Cancer Society board of directors was having its troubles this week, but was going full speed ahead into its annual April crusade.

Cards sent out six days previous to a board of directors meeting were mailed as a bundle. The entire packages of cards was delivered to Jerry Sisk, whose card was on top. Only the top stamp was cancelled and the entire packet was mailed for eight cents.

Sisk delivered them back to the secretary, who remailed them Friday, but they still had not arrived Tuesday afternoon after the monthly board meeting.

The board met and had a quorum. The nominating committee went to meet and was locked out of its meeting place. It met in a station wagon and selected a slate of officers.

DEATHS

B. F. Flynn

Services for B.F. Flynn, 65, Hawthorne, Cal., stepfather of Mrs. Bobbie Sue Shockley, Big Spring, are slated for Wednesday at 3 p.m. in Hawthorne.

He died Sunday morning in a Hawthorne hospital following a lengthy illness.

He was married to the former Dorothy Jones, formerly of Big Spring. She preceded him in death in 1962.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Patsy Hicks, Mission Viejo, Cal., a stepson, Jimmy Lloyd Lynn, Cal., and Mrs. Shockley.

Infant Girl

Funeral services for Rachel Rodriguez, one-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Rodriguez will be held at 3:30 p.m. today at St. Thomas Catholic Church.

The Rev. Leo J. F. St. John will officiate and burial will be in Mt. Olive Memorial Park. Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Hardesty New Prexy

Frank Hardesty was named the incoming president of the Big Spring Rotary Club at its regular luncheon Tuesday at the Settles Hotel.

Along with other officers, Hardesty will formally be seated in June.

Other officers selected include Jimmy Anderson, vice-president; Riley Foster, secretary; Kenneth Boothe, treasurer; and Ralph Brooks, Edsel McCrea, Ray Williams and Ray Tatum, new members of the board of directors.

Ralph McLaughlin, a member of the local club, will be inducted as governor, District 573, at a conference in Pampa April 17-18-19.

Jim Baum and Charles Beil had charge of the Tuesday program. James T. Peer, a representative of the Texas Wildlife and Fish Commission, delivered a talk.

No Arrests Are Made In Case

Mrs. Pauline Beck remains in guarded condition at Malone-Hogan Hospital in the intensive care unit after having her throat cut last Thursday night at a local motel.

Police officers have questioned one suspect in the case and have attempted to question Mrs. Beck on several occasions, but thus far have made no arrests.

Police Answer 3 Complaints

Three incidents of hearing shots were reported to local police in the early hours, but they did not locate anybody firing a gun.

The calls came at 1:32 a.m. and 1:39 a.m. from 901 Magnolia and 902 San Antonio. A third report came at 3:05 a.m. from 905 N. Gregg.

New Locations In Glasscock

Two stepout locations have been announced for Glasscock County.

Amoco Production No. 1-E Powell will be 2,029 from the south and 890 from the west line section 28-35-3s, T&P, which puts it 10 miles northwest of Garden City. The location is 1 1/2 miles southwest of the Blalock Lake South (Wolfcamp) field. Target depth is 9,500 feet.

Four miles southwest of Garden City, Amarillo No. 1 Books will be located 1,320 from the north and west lines of section 17-34-4s, T&P, which puts it six miles east-northeast of Spraberry Trend production. The venture is due to go to 8,200 feet.

In Martin County, Conoco No. 35 Gresham-Green, 4 1/2 miles northeast of Stanton, was completed for 125 barrels of 39-6-gravity oil and 73 barrels of water per day. Gas-oil ratio was 657-1. The perforations from 7,792-8,766 were fraced with 85,200 gallons. Location is 1,980 from the south and east lines of section 22-36-1n, T&P.

$500,000 Bond

ODESSA — An unprecedented $500,000 bond has been set for Ralph L. Redline, 56, who has been charged with the Easter murder of his former wife, Norma, 45.

Redline remained in jail. Mrs. Redline was struck in the left side of the head by the bullet.

Falling Fence Kills Child

MIDLAND — Charlotte Friday, one-year-old daughter of Mrs. Bobbie Friday, was killed here Monday when a concrete tile fence fell on her. She would have been two years of age today.

A 15-year-old girl leaped against the fence while lifting the child over the fence and it collapsed. Charlotte suffered a fractured skull.

Deadline Near

Deadline for reservations for the Woodbadge course at Scout Ranch in the Davis Mountains is Thursday, the council office reminded today. Olie Hedrick Jr. and Forrest Muir, Midland, will be in charge of this intensive, outdoors Scout leader training event, May 3-10. This is considered the highlight of a Scouter's training experience.

THEFTS

Kimbell's Feed Store, 1st and Lancaster, reported break-in with one Olivetti calculator valued at $600 reported missing along with a pair of gloves. The front door was also damaged when pried open with a bar.

Dicky Thompson, 1317 Mulberry, reported theft of 100 pennies, three keys, one lock, several apples, one soft drink and a bicycle. Peggy Rubio, 1408 Oriole, reported $170 stolen from her car.

VANDALISM

Hugh Hale reported four shots in his mobile home at 710 W. 4th. There were three shots in the living room and one in the bedroom section of the mobile home.

Rodeo Grounds

Hereford Rodeo May Be Biggest

HEREFORD — The Hustlin' Hereford Hall of Fame Rodeo, scheduled here May 16-18, is expected to be the largest all-girls rodeo ever held according to the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the rodeo.

Proceeds from the rodeo will be used to establish the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame, also in Hereford.

"Texas and Oklahoma long have been the 'hotbed' for girls' rodeos," said W. A. Albright, executive vice president of the chamber of commerce. "We believe Hereford has the ideal location and the kind of money (added purse is $7,000) that will draw all the top cowgirls."

Albright, who expects 250 to 300 girls to enter, said the rodeo had been in preparation for the past six months. In addition to the three rodeo performances, there will be two dances and a parade.

Butch White is rodeo chairman. Jim Shoulders, winner of more RCA world championships than any other professional cowboy, will be the stock contractor. Clem McSpadden will be the announcer.

Swine Meeting Is Thursday

LAMESA — The South Plains Development Swine meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday at Forrest Park Community Center.

Speakers will include Dr. John Sweeten, speaking on the "Use of Swine Manure as Fertilizer"; Dr. Gilbert R. Hollis speaking on "Increasing Efficiency of Swine Production at Today's Prices"; and Dr. William B. Thomas, "Proper Use of Antibiotics in Swine Rations."

Dr. Sweeten and Dr. Thomas are from the extension service at College Station and Dr. Hollis from the extension service at Lubbock.

LeeRoy Colgan, county agent, urges all interested persons to attend.

SCHOOL HOLIDAY — "My Dad thinks this is a good way to spend your spring vacation," says Brad Pearson, at work mowing a weed-infested lot. Big Spring schools are out until next Monday, following the Easter holidays. Any resemblance between Brad and the youngest son of Herald Publisher and Mrs. W. S. (Dub) Pearson is more than co-incidental.

Opening lead: Four of ♠.

One of the most exhilarating sights at the bridge table is watching an expert defender duel an accomplished declarer. When this hand was played in a national team championship, Lew Mathe of Los Angeles, one of the world's great players and current president of the American Contract Bridge League, was at the helm with the South cards. Sitting West was William Grieve of New York, who has represented the U.S. in international competition.

Despite West's opening bid, North-South reached their optimum spot of three no trump with little difficulty. Grieve made his normal lead of his fourth best heart, dummy's king won as East followed with the three and a diamond was led to the jack and West's king.

East's play of the three of hearts at trick one marked declarer with both the ace and queen of the suit, so Grieve decided that there was little future in hearts. Since the auction indicated strongly that declarer held the king of clubs, West could count ten tricks for North-South once his remaining diamond stopper was forced out. Obviously, the only hope for the defense was to take three spade tricks quickly. To be able to accomplish this, East had to hold the jack of spades.

That alone wasn't enough. If Grieve attacked the suit by leading the ace and then the queen, Mathe could thwart the attempt by holding up the king of spades, to the third round. In an effort to induce declarer to win his spade trick early, Grieve made the fine play to shifting to the queen of spades!

Note that if declarer plays the king of spades, the defenders will be able to score three spade tricks after West wins the ace of diamonds. But Mathe was aware of what was happening, and followed with a low spade from dummy.

Grieve had yet another surprise up his sleeve. He continued with his low spade, trying to tempt Mathe into ducking in dummy a second time. However, he was marked with the ace of spades for his opening bid, so declarer put up dummy's king. Another diamond forced out West's ace, and the best Grieve could do was to cash the ace of spades and hold Mathe to his contract.

April 25-26 Campout May Lure Thousand

A thousand boys and leaders from all parts of the Buffalo Trail Council are expected for the big campout at the Scout Roundup grounds in Big Spring April 25-26.

Charles Grizzard, Big Spring, general chairman, said that units are expected from the Big Bend and Pecos all the way to Colorado City and Snyder.

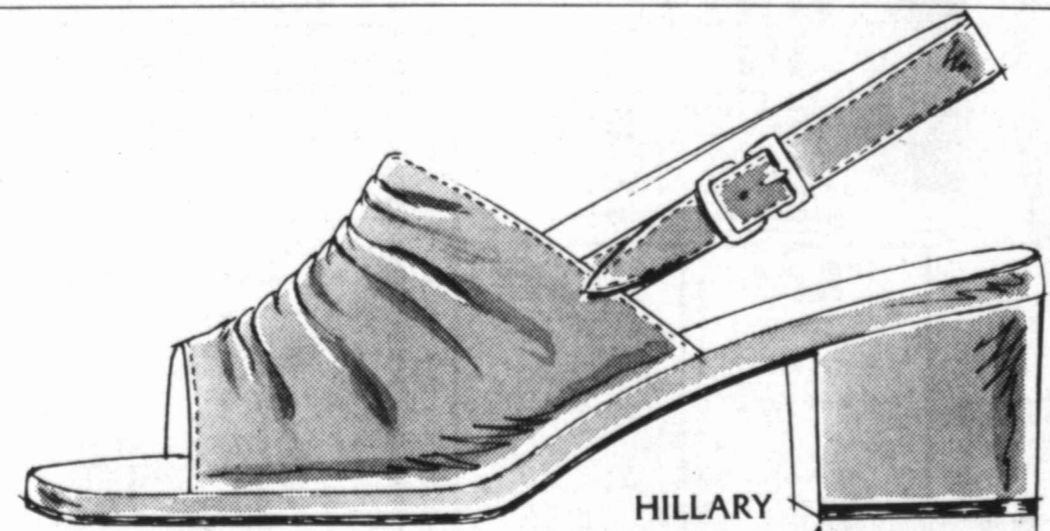

Saturday, April 26, the Scouts and leaders will be joined by Cub Scouts, who will have a field day at the same time. Maj. Mickey Willett will be in charge of this event.

Friday evening each troop will have its own campfire, but all will come together Saturday evening for the big campfire program to which the public is invited. Each Scout unit at the camp will present a skit at the campfire.

Competition in Scout events Saturday will be by patrols, adult leaders will be banned for this in order that the patrols will be completely on their own. Among the events will be knot tying, flag respect, compass and measuring, first aid relay, Scout law relay, tent peg relay, observation ability, pony express, rope throw and silent signals.

Troops will be graded on the results of these contests, along with their ratings on camp inspection, leadership, organization and discipline. The honor troop will have the distinction of lowering the flag Sunday morning when camp breaks following an interdenominational

State Voting Methods Unfair To Minorities?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Barbara Jordan, D-Tex. says her state's voting procedures "are used to discourage voting participation" by minorities.

In testimony recently before a House Judiciary subcommittee, Miss Jordan said the state should be covered by the Voting Rights Act of 1965.

Her testimony was reported by the Houston Chronicle's Washington Bureau.

"The same discriminatory practices which moved Congress to pass the Voting Rights Act in 1965, and renew it in 1970, are practiced in Texas today," she said.

The act originally was designed primarily to combat voting discriminations against blacks in the South. Miss Jordan has introduced legislation to extend its protection to Mexican-Americans in the Southwest.

She cited what she said were examples of discrimination against Mexican-Americans in the state but refused to identify the towns or the individuals involved.

Some of the abuses she alleged included:

—Some Mexican-Americans in Texas have lost their teaching jobs "as the result of filing" for elected office.

—In at least three Texas towns, the white majority boycotted businesses owned by Mexican-Americans supporting minority candidates and the boycotts "effectively ruined" the businesses.

—A state law which allows election officials to open ballot boxes after only 10 voters have cast their ballots means that "votes of minorities who need to vote early in the day because of their job situations are easily correlated."

—The number of stub systems for paper ballots is subject to abuse, she said.

because stub boxes with voters' signatures which correlate to ballot numbers have been delivered with the seals broken, apparently intentionally, which would make it illegal.

The Voting Rights Act currently prohibits states or localities that are covered from changing any voting laws or procedures without advance approval of the U.S. attorney's office.

Her bill would extend the preclearance requirement to any jurisdiction in which less than 50 per cent of eligible voters registered or voted in the 1972 presidential election and where printed election or registration materials are only in English when more than 5 per cent of the eligible voters have "a single mother tongue" other than English.

Under those criteria, Miss Jordan said, the areas that would be newly covered by the act would include all of Texas.

FHA-HERO Week Now In Progress

The Texas Association of Future Homemakers of America will observe FHA-HERO WEEK, April 6-12. The theme of the week is "Reach Out and Touch." In Texas there are 72,000 members in 2,050 chapters who will celebrate the week with activities which show the concern these young people feel for others.

The young men and women who are members of today's Future Homemakers of America chapters are interested in projects which expand their knowledge and skills in all aspects of home and family living and in home economics occupational areas.

Nationwide in membership and effort, Future Homemakers of America is co-sponsored by the U.S. Office of Education through the Division of Vocational and Technical Education and the American Home Economics Association. The national headquarters are located in Washington, D.C., and state headquarters are located at the Texas Education Agency, Austin.

Mrs. Elizabeth F. Smith is the State Director of Homemaking Education and Mrs. Betty Romans is the State Advisor of the Texas Association.

Perfect Way To Ruin Ideal Marriage Quickly

DEAR ABBY: Paul (not his real name) and I have been married for 22 years, and I must say he has been an ideal husband and father. He is loving, sober, generous, and considerate.

About a year ago, Paul started going out every Wednesday night — with the boys — or so he says. He never mentions any of the "boys" by name, and I know of no one in our circle of friends who goes with him.

My problem is that Paul refuses to say where he goes — and with whom.

We can never make any plans for Wednesday night, because that is Paul's night out.

Abby, this not knowing where he goes is slowly driving me to distraction. My demands that he tell me, or to cease going, have gotten me nowhere.

I am seriously considering hiring a private detective to follow him, but wonder what harm it could do to our marriage if Paul is innocent of any wrong-doing, and learns that I've had him followed.

What is your advice?

DOUBTING DODO
DEAR DOUBTING: Grow up. You don't have to know where your husband is every minute of his life. Isn't an adult man (or woman) entitled to some real personal freedom without being held accountable for his time 24 hours a day? And wouldn't the hiring of a private detective be the ultimate assault on that freedom, and an insult as well?

If you want to ruin your ideal marriage, just continue to "demand" that your otherwise perfect husband give you an hourly accounting of his time. Or have him followed.

DEAR ABBY: The saying, "live and let live" is a tolerant point of view. But, Abby, Live and HELP live is exactly what you do. Your wisdom, wit and humor is a blessed inspiration for 19 years of pleasure. My sincere appreciation!

RAE SWIDLER (AGE 91)
GOLDEN CREST HOME:
L.A., CALIF.

DEAR ABBY: My father is 59, and a retired coal miner on disability. He bought U.S. Savings Bonds years ago through the payroll office, and kept them at home. Our house burned down 25 years ago, and all the bonds were destroyed. Dad never had copies of the bond numbers.

Is there any way he can trace these numbers? Everyone we talked to says we should forget it.

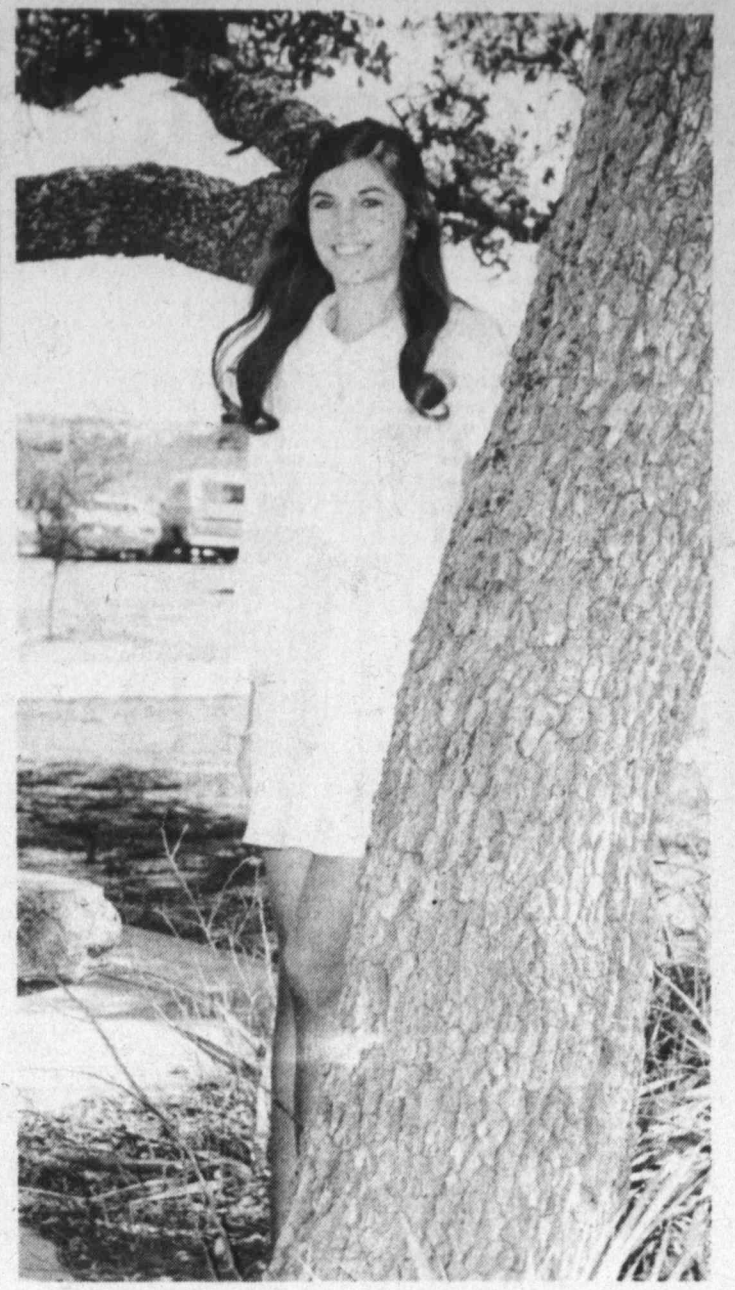

MRS. P.
DEAR MRS. P: Don't forget it. Your father should contact his local bank, or the nearest Federal Reserve Bank, and request Form PD 1048.

He should then contact his former employer to help in filling out this form, as sometimes the payroll offices keep records of the serial numbers and dates. Your father should fill out the form in duplicate, keep one copy for himself and send the other to the Bureau of Public Debt (the address is on the form).

It may take a while, but eventually your father will get his bonds.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20c) envelope.

AT WEATHERFORD — Miss Letreca Stewart, freshman at Weatherford College and a former local resident, is a candidate for the Miss Weatherford College crown which will be presented at a pageant April 5. The winner will represent the college in the Miss Texas Pageant at Fort Worth in July. Miss Stewart is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stewart of Weatherford, formerly of Big Spring.

Scholarship Awarded To R. Martin Forum Women Going To Alpine Convention

The Atlanta College of Art recently announced the selection of Russell Allen Martin as a recipient of "The Freshman Scholarship," which is awarded to entering freshman on the basis of portfolio.

Russell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Martin, Americus, Ga., formerly of Big Spring, and the grandson of Mrs. Floyd Martin Sr., 1503 Vines.

While a student at Americus High School, Russell won several local, state and national awards, and he participated in the Governor's Honors Program in Macon, Ga. From this experience, his work has hung in the Georgia State Capitol and been on tour. He designed a cover for Georgia PAT Magazine and won second place in the nation in a poster-design contest sponsored by Scholastic Magazine.

In September, Russell plans to enter the Atlanta College of Art on the $650 scholarship.

Four members of the Modern Woman's Forum will attend the Western District convention of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs in Alpine Thursday and Friday.

This announcement was made at the Friday meeting held at Texas Electric Reddy Room with Mrs. Harwood Keith as hostess. Planning to attend the convention are Mrs. C. R. Moore, Mrs. W. E. Singleton, Mrs. W. E. Moren and Mrs. Cass Hill.

In a program on continuing education, "Challenge or Dilemma," Mrs. Singleton quoted from F. W. Robertson who said, "Really we must accept the challenge, not the dilemma. Instruction ends only with life."

"Continuing education is a must today if we are to have a society of diverse people living happily together," said the speaker. She noted that the traditional educational process is not satisfactory today and may not have been for many years. For example, in 1759, Benjamin Franklin advocated a curriculum for the Philadelphia Public Academy that would benefit the middle class; the Morrill Act of 1862 was designed to increase the effectiveness of the farming society of that time. There was a need for change in American education then, as now, with the changing times.

"The present computerized society requires preparation for people who will assume many roles, both public and private, both now and in the future for jobs that do not now exist," said Mrs. Singleton. "Knowledge of the present, and training in machines, becomes quickly out of date. Education must be continuing for it to be effective, so the nation should be one of readers and thinkers."

The dilemmas of colleges was related by Mrs. S. R. Nobles who said in recent years there has been a big switch in enrollment from private colleges to public ones. In 1957, half of all college students attended private institutions, now only one-fourth of the students are on private campuses.

"We have over-built in colleges," said Mrs. Nobles. "Small towns want colleges close to home so their children won't be crowded and have to go far." The speaker blamed the numerous small colleges for the financial bind large colleges find themselves in. Nineteen institutions were forced to close during 1972-73, or merge with others. An estimated 51-billion-dollar deficit between income and expenditures is expected by 1980, and added to this is the rising fuel costs in the north and east. Salary increases cannot be met, which will cause the cancellation of many courses. Quality education has been retrenching for approximately five years, so it now appears the quality of education will be hurt.

McMurry College is one of the few colleges that has been fortunate enough to receive sizable gifts and grants to help financially.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jones, Arlington, announce the birth of a son, Brant William, March 8 in Arlington Memorial Hospital, weighing 7 pounds, 5 ounces. The paternal grandmother is Mrs. Jo Jones, 1010 E. 13th, and the maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Royce Griffith, 506 E. 17th. Mr. and Mrs. A. Z. Dean of Griffin Ind. and Mrs. Belva Jones of Dallas are the great-grandparents.

B-C Plans Embraced

The Bi-centennial will be emphasized in the regional convention of American Business Clubs here April 17-20, Wayne Rock, president, said today.

General chairman of arrangements for the convention, a major one for Big Spring, is Morris Robertson. Plans for the gathering are being firm this week. The Big Hat Club, an elite group of Amibucs cited for membership recruiting, held its meeting last week to make plans for the regional gathering, which is tantamount to a state convention.

"Men without some old-time apparel and women without their bonnets may be fined," said Rock. Proceeds go to the humanitarian projects of the Amibucs.

Rehearsals For Play

Rehearsals are underway for "Fantasies," the next production of the Howard College drama department. The cast includes two non-students in a bid to revive a community theatre activity here.

Dates for the perennially popular off-Broadway hit are April 25-26 as a dinner theatre. Tickets are $5 for meal and play, and reservations may be made by calling the college and asking for extension 40.

Cast in the lead of El Gallo, the devil to incarnate, is Kenneth Sprinkle, director of vocal music at the college. The other non-student is Lt. Richard Risk, cast as one of the fathers. Kelly Draper plays the second father. Charles Grizzard is the young man and Cathy Mays the young girl. Kathy Bull plays the mute, and Mark Sheedy and Jimmy Wiley, the two old actors. Mary Mullen is the assistant producer and Mark Sheedy the stage director.

Oil Firms Pay Most In Taxes

All of the top ten Howard County property taxpayers are oil firms with the exception of two utility companies. County Auditor Virginia Black reports in her 1974 annual report. Leading the list are two firms with refineries here, Cosden Oil & Chemical Co. and Skelly Oil Co. The true market value of properties owned by Cosden is shown as $27,357,160. Skelly, which operates a plant in northeast Howard County, paid taxes for $19,513,960 in property. Other leading taxpayers follow: Continental Oil Co., $13,569,360; Atlantic-Richfield Co., $9,699,480; Sun Oil Co., $9,066,080; Texaco, $8,871,240; Chevron Oil Co., $8,211,440; Texas Electric Service Co., $6,842,920; Mobil Oil Co., $6,084,320; and Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., $4,997,100.

Edna Guevara Is Pageant Winner

Edna Guevara, a 5-4, 102-pound freshman, was named Miss Howard College in a contest concluded Tuesday evening in the college auditorium. The vivacious Edna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Guevara of 701 Settles Street. She aspires to a career in the U.S. Air Force. A gymnast and a member of the Spanish Club in college, Miss Guevara hopes to attend Angelo State University after leaving HC. Miss Guevara says her interests or hobbies include swimming and horseback riding. She was sponsored by Montgomery Ward. Last night's program was attended by about 400 persons. Miss Guevara, who becomes eligible for the next level of competition at El Paso, which will determine an area representative for the Miss Texas contest this summer, was rewarded with a tiara, a bouquet of roses and trophies for both the contest itself and the Miss Congeniality competition. First runnerup in the contest was Debbie Lambert, second runnerup Patricia Seitzler, third runnerup Cindy Porter and fourth runnerup Terry Porter. All received appropriately encribed trophies. Judges in the contest were Mr. and Mrs. John Scheibel and five Webb AFB student pilots, Lts. Harold Teelin, Howard Campbell, Brownie Patterson, Fred Batts and Joe Hernandez. Bill Davey served as master of ceremonies, Johnnie Lou Avery the mistress of ceremonies. Anna Smith coordinated the pageant. Entries were judged on swim suit, campus wear, talent and formal presentation. Poise, the manner of walk, the smile and the ability to maintain personal contact with the audience all figured in the final judging. Miss Guevara was crowned by Sally Echols, last year's winner of the honor, and Dr. Charles Hays, school president.

Pied Piper For Pikes Peak Area Is Visitor

The Pied Piper from Pikes Peak Country, Jeff Thomas, came calling on Big Spring and environs Tuesday, reminding those he saw that Colorado is still in the tourist business. Thomas, a native of Michigan, covers several thousand miles a year all over the western part of the United States, selling the virtues of his adopted area as a vacation mecca. He says the tourist business was up nine per cent in the Colorado Springs area last year, despite the increased fuel costs, and another gain is anticipated this year. Doubling as the Executive Director of the Pikes Peak Region Attraction Association, Thomas has become quite involved in the tourism picture in Colorado Springs. He's currently an advisor to the Travel Market Committee of the Colorado Springs Chamber of Commerce. He serves as an advisor to the Board of Directors of the Manitou Springs Chamber of Commerce, and is on the Public Council for Travel Advertising, state of Colorado. "My degree in communications," says the 37-year old Thomas, "has helped with meeting the public. I'm equally eager to meet with civic groups or on a one-on-one basis such as with members of the press." Thomas carried a speech major through Western Michigan University, a major which saw him take 24 hours of broadcast training. He has five years air experience and one year of newspaper writing and layout work. For two and a half years he sold television time for a Colorado Springs station.

81 Absentee Votes Cast

With two ballots yet to be returned by mail, the county clerk's office counted 81 absentee votes in the Big Spring school board election. "I consider it average," County Clerk Margaret Ray said. "We've had more than 100 several times." There were five voting absentee for Howard County School Board trustees representing two commissioner's precincts. Both elections will be held Saturday. Thursday, the county clerk's office starts taking absentee ballots for the April 22 state constitutional amendment election.

Probated Term

Virginia Duran, 25 pleaded guilty Tuesday afternoon in the 18th District Court to car theft. She was given six years of probation for theft of the 1973 car.

Pre-Med Day Is Saturday

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech University's 15th Pre-medical Day program for high school and junior college students who plan premedical majors in college will be conducted 9 a.m. Saturday, in Room 38, Chemistry Building. Discussions on topics of interest to premedical students will be given by representatives from several medical schools. Among the speakers will be Dr. Carlos Pestana of the University of Texas Medical School at San Antonio; Gene Powell of the University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston; Bill Padgett, director of the University of Texas System Medical and Dental Application Center, Austin; Dr. Russell Baskett of the Texas Tech University School of Medicine; Dr. Donald S. Wiggins of the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School, Dallas; and Marvin R. Herring of the Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine at Fort Worth.

Cap Rock Fuel Cost Is Less

STANTON — For the time being, the "pass-through" fuel cost adjustment for Cap Rock Electric Cooperative is much less than for most cities and cooperatives. Cap Rock's monthly statement to its members show a 90-cents per 1,000 KW hours fuel adjustment charge, which compares with $3.27 for Dallas, $3.60 for Concho Valley Electric Coop, $5.54 for West Texas Utilities and up to $13.56 for the City of Austin. "It might appear that with the power cost adjustment your cooperative is getting rich," said the statement. "Wrong. Cap Rock gains not one cent from this; it's like a tax in that it adds expense but does not generate more revenue or increase the margins." Meanwhile, other costs of doing business continue to rise, such as heavy wire up 175 percent in the past two years, crossarms up 171 percent, poles up 93 per cent and transformers up 67 per cent.
