

SEIZE BOMB MAKINGS, RADICAL WRITINGS

Search For 'Tania' Hearst Brings Four Arrests

MENLO PARK, Calif. (AP) — An armed raiding party in search of Patricia Hearst arrested four persons and seized bomb makings and radical writings but did not find the fugitive newspaper heiress, authorities said Saturday.

San Mateo County Sheriff John R. McDonald, a member of the party that raided an apartment here Friday night, said, "We feel we had a pretty good lead and we have every reason to believe she is still there."

He said he meant Miss Hearst might have taken refuge at some other spot in the San Francisco Bay area.

"She doesn't move around that much and when she gets into an area, she usually stays," McDonald said.

He refused to say what kind of lead prompted authorities to make the raid.

McDonald said he believed Miss Hearst might have fled to the Santa Cruz mountains, about 40 miles to the south, and said the FBI had alerted Santa Cruz County authorities to the possibility.

A spokesman for the Santa Cruz sheriffs office said there had been no word from the FBI.

Earlier Charles Bates, FBI agent in charge of the Hearst case, said the tip that led to the raid may have been "one of those hundreds of sightings we've had." He refused to comment on any of the material seized.

FBI agent Frank Perrone said he had no comment on McDonald's statements other than that authorities had no proof that Miss Hearst had been in the area recently. He said agents had not contacted Santa Cruz authorities.

A fire which police called apparent arson broke out in the apartment Saturday morning. Police Chief Vic Cizanekas said "preliminary investigation indicates this fire was deliberately set." He said materials had been piled on a rug and doused with a flammable liquid.

Menlo Park Fire Battalion Chief Winn Baker said "in two more minutes the whole apartment would have gone."

Baker said police had locked the apartment doors last night before leaving and they showed no signs of having been pried open.

A California prison escapee and an ex-convict, both armed, were arrested in the raid and a young man and woman were booked for investigation of harboring a fugitive.

CHIANG KAI-SHEK

Attack Claims Chiang

TAIPEI (AP) — President Chiang Kai-shek of Nationalist China, the last of the original Big Four Allied leaders of World War II, died of a heart attack Saturday night.

In his last will released two hours after his death, the 87-year-old general called for his followers to recapture the mainland from the Communists — a goal he could not achieve in his lifetime.

Doctors said Chiang suffered a heart attack at 10:20 p.m. and died at 11:50 p.m. Chiang, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Winston Churchill and Josef Stalin were the Big Four leaders of the Allies in the war against the Axis powers of Germany, Italy and Japan.

Officials said Chiang's American-educated wife and his 65-year-old son, Premier Chiang Ching-kuo, were at the president's bedside.

Although the constitution provides for Vice President C. K. Yen to become president, it was believed he would continue to serve mainly as a figurehead. The real power of government was expected to remain with Chiang's son.

Fighting Flares In Mekong Delta

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Fighting was reported Saturday in the populous Mekong Delta south of Saigon for the first time since Communist-led forces began the month-long offensive in which they have conquered three-fourths of South Vietnam.

There were no firm accounts of moves by Communist-led forces positioned in other areas within striking distance of the tense capital.

Americans, Japanese and some other foreigners were departing in growing numbers. A task force of U.S. Navy ships was being assembled in the western Pacific for the possible evacuation of Americans and some Vietnamese.

AIRLIFT BABIES

About 900 Vietnamese children left on four aircraft in the continuing airlift of orphans to new homes in the United States. Another 63 from Cambodia and Vietnam were flown to Canada.

President Ford discussed Vietnam in Palm Springs, Calif., with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and Gen. Frederick Weyand, the Army chief of state who just completed a fact-finding mission for Ford in Indochina.

Kissinger said Ford would outline to Congress on Thursday his "preliminary ideas" on what, if anything, the United States can do to save the situation.

The heaviest clash was reported at Kien Giang, about 120 miles southwest of Saigon. Military spokesmen said 77 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were killed. They put government losses at five men killed and eight wounded.

PICKED UP

Official sources said the immediate military threat to Saigon was being assessed by the hour. Earlier Washington intelligence reports said North Vietnam was pushing more than 1,000 fresh troops a day into South Vietnam.

Relief sources said nearly 40,000 refugees had arrived by U.S. Navy and merchant ships at Phu Quoc island in the Gulf of Siam. The sources said the refugees had been picked up off coastal areas lost to the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese.

On the Saigon political scene, radical and moderate groups in opposition to President Nguyen Van Thieu were critical of his decision to name a new premier to form a new government. They said it would not mean an end to the calls for Thieu himself to step down.

Rumors of all sorts filled Saigon concerning the government, but solid information was scanty.

CRITICAL OF U.S.

There was no sign that Thieu himself was prepared to heed the demands that he quit office. In his television speech Friday night, when he announced he had named Nguyen Ba Can to replace Tran Thien Khiem as premier, Thieu called for meeting force. He also was sharply critical of the U.S. role at this time, mainly citing aid cutbacks.

Six pro-government South Vietnamese legislators announced they had sent a "cable written in blood" to President Ford threatening to commit suicide if he does not "bomb and land troops on Hanoi." In a mimeographed sheet distributed to reporters, they said Ford and the American people "have inflicted on us a death verdict."

Officials at the U.S.

Embassy here were reported concerned over an increasing anti-American trend in the wake of the military losses. It was being expressed by government officials and in newspaper editorials, although not in any overt way so far in the streets or other sectors of Saigon.

ANNUAL YOUTH AWARDS DATE

The annual Youth Achievement Awards, presented each year by Zales Jewelry and the Big Spring Herald, will be presented this year on May 6.

Entry blanks for the contest is on page 1-D of today's Herald. Any senior high school student in the county is eligible to be nominated by any person desiring to submit a nomination.

The awards will go to the outstanding senior from Big Spring, Coahoma, Forsan and Sands High Schools.

Speaker for the banquet this year will be Dr. Grover Murray, president of Texas Tech.

Deadline for entries to be mailed or brought in to the Big Spring Herald is April 15.

SCHOOL FUNDS BILL 'Dirty Politics' Behind Delays?

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — "Old-fashioned dirty politics" might have been involved in the handling of information about Gov. Dolph Briscoe's school finance bill, Rep. Dan Kubiak says.

But alleged political activity is not the only problem facing school finance bills. The biggest problem of all is lack of money.

Sen. A.R. Schwartz, D-Galveston, told a Senate committee hearing last week that the money does not exist to fund a school finance bill he is sponsoring along with Sen. A.M. Aikin, D-Paris.

Kubiak, a Rockdale Democrat, raised the issue of dirty politics in a letter last week to Rep. Tom Massey, D-San Angelo, chairman of the House Education Committee.

reporting a bill. The deadline, however, will be extended this week.

"Perhaps the governor, or the governor's education staff, simply did not want the subcommittee to view computer data on all the bills before a subcommittee proposal is reported," Kubiak said.

Rep. Herman Adams, D-Silsbee, chairman of the subcommittee, has indicated his biggest worry right now is how much money will be available after the House Appropriations Committee finishes its work on the 1976-77 budget.

The appropriations committee was scheduled to work through most of the weekend but needs still more time to finish work on the budget.

"I'm waiting for an indication of the size of the appropriations bill and to see what the Senate Education Committee will do," Adams said.

Little Sets Pace In School Race

In the letter, Kubiak asked if computer printouts on the cost to each school district of the other four school finance bills would be made available to the subcommittee studying the measures. Last Monday the subcommittee received computerized district-by-district data on the Briscoe bill.

Kubiak said he had learned that computer printouts on the other bills would not be available until April 11—four days after a committee deadline of April 7 for

In a light vote turnout, Jim Bill Little, incumbent and Don (Lefty) Reynolds were elected to the Big Spring Independent School board.

A third candidate was Mrs. Billie Carr. Little led the ticket with a total of 370 votes, followed by Reynolds with 362. Mrs. Carr received 86 votes.

The other incumbent was Dan Wilkins, who did not seek re-election.

Eddie Vela, in an apparent quiet write-in campaign, polled 60 votes.

No Sneeze Lately, 'Kerchoo' Gets Glenn

The sound of a sneeze cost Big Spring's spelling whiz, Glenn Margolis, the regional spelling championship this year in Lubbock Saturday.

Glenn placed third in the contest, going out on the 24th round on the word "kerchoo."

The girl who won, Diane Bryan, Lubbock eighth grader, was third last year when Glenn was first. She also went to Washington finals previously in 1973, when Glenn was second in the region.

The three-year rivals are one year apart in age, with Glenn having one more year eligibility after this year. This is Diane's final year.

The Lubbock Avalanche Journal advances the regional winner to Washington D.C. for national competition.

Big Spring has had three entrants at a national level, two of whom have been Margolis' children. Maridene went in 1971. Don Hickson won the city's first regional winner in 1965.

Big Spring Week

with Joe Pickle

City elections yielded extremely light turnouts in most instances last week, Coahoma being an exception. Voting on Tuesday for some reason rather than Saturday as with other aldermanic cities, Coahomans named former mayor Joe Swinney as new mayor, edging Mayor Jack Cauble, and Smith Cochran in a three-cornered race, and picking Melvin Dornance E. A. Richarter to replace incumbents Clifton Hanson and Tommy Aberegg. In Big Spring incumbents Polly Mays and Charles Tompkins were returned with less than 10 per cent of eligible voters participating.

Cosden Oil and Chemical Company and Local 826 of IUOE extended contract talks about a week, and parties called upon the offices of federal negotiators in an effort to seek acceptable common ground.

Records confirmed what we knew about March — colder and windier. Mean temperature was 2 degrees off normal, which reflects that the mean minimum was 32 degrees. That 2-mph boost in average wind velocity of 6.6 took into account one below with 57 mph gusts. The "Easter snap" wiped out the bulk of the fruit, but surprisingly some escaped. Now most of the mesquite are budding, buttercups and white primrose abound, along with a sprinkling of wild verbena and tansy aster (Tahoka daisies), and paper daisies. Domestically, larkspur, puppies, and Iris are blooming.

Local Building Permits Spiral To $965,636

Building permits for the month of March soared to $548,400 in comparison to only $38,795 for the same month last year.

The permits thus far in 1975 are $965,636. Big item for March was a $250,000 permit by Security State Bank for remodeling.

New residence permits included BJC Construction with $32,000 each at 4006 and 4052 Vicky, Western Building and Development, $40,000 at 2804 Coronado, Heinze and Little, $35,000 at 3608 Coronado and $33,000 at 601 Colgate. Worthy Construction with $42,600 at No. 3 Scott and $49,700 at No. 6 Glenwick Cove.

Grand total for new residences was $264,300. Other permits were for remodeling, additions, fence, storage shed and a sign.

PROSPECTS OF WEBB AFB CONSTRUCTION BRIGHT

Prospects for approval of construction requests for Webb AFB were improved Saturday with word that Sen. John Stennis, chairman of the Armed Services Committee, will back the Department of Defense proposals.

In a letter to Sen. Lloyd Bentsen of Texas, who had spoken in behalf of the Webb projects, Sen. Stennis replied that both the bachelor officer

By MARJ CARPENTER

"Big Spring must be the Uncivilized Capital of the United States."

"Delbert Hutchings, when I see you, I'm going to kill you."

These are the type of letters, both signed and unsigned, that have been arriving at the local Chamber of Commerce, at the City Hall and at the home of Delbert Hutchings, snake handler for the annual Jaycee Rattlesnake Roundup, after the National Wildlife magazine selected Big Spring as the area to attack with an article in its April issue called "Rounding Up the Rattlers."

Jerry Gentry, a photographer assigned by National Wildlife to come to the roundup last year along with representatives from the National Audubon Society. They spoke with a soft voice as they attended the roundup last year and voiced their criticisms.

The Audubon representative came back in the summer and met with officers of the Jaycees and made several suggestions about improving their Roundup. The Jaycees tried to abide by the agreement. These suggestions were barely listed at the end of the article.

COULD NOT WAIT

But National Wildlife did not wait for this year's roundup to see if things would change. They chose the issue that would be printed about the time the roundup was scheduled, blasting Big Spring, the Jaycees, and Hutchings; and defending en masse all rattlesnakes.

The article shows a picture of a Big Spring lad eating rattlesnake, which upset a woman in Minnesota. "A lot of Big Spring citizens probably wouldn't eat rattlesnake meat if you paid them," one Jaycee official answered. "But I really can't think of it as any more cruel than eating beef, pork, poultry, fish, froglegs, duck, or any other things."

Eddie Cole, Jaycee president, stated, "I really do not know why they singled us out. Their introduction mentions briefly that annual rattlesnake roundups are held in nearly two dozen West Texas towns. But from there on, they just hop on Big Spring."

"We tried to treat those people nice when they came out. We listened with courtesy to their suggestions, even though it's obvious that back-easterners and people from other states feel differently about rattlesnakes than West Texans, who have to live with them."

"We tried to follow their suggestions. After they accused the handler of using sedated rattlers, which wasn't true; we now let the audience select the snake they want him to handle. We have bent over backward to get along with those people, rattlesnake roundups are not what we call us names."

FULL OF LIES

Hutchings, the snake handler said, "Somebody brought me a copy of that article out to this year's roundup. I couldn't believe it. The pictures were good, but the article is full of lies."

"It accuses me first of all of throwing a live cigarette but in a pile of snakes. I've flipped ashes on the floor, but I've never done that. It accuses me of stomping through the snakes when I actually slide my foot under them to get them away from the entrance when I enter the pit."

IT'S DANGEROUS

"I did stomp the rattler that struck me last year. I thought it was a natural reaction. They go on and on about the Sunday morning show and we didn't have a Sunday morning show. They said I looked drowsy and I was. That was true."

"They claim we didn't send any venom to Dr. Carlos Bonilla, biologist at Colorado State. We sent 11 ounces this year. I don't know about last year. I don't know whether the Jaycees sold it or donated it and don't care."

They made fun of me (See Snake, Page 4-A, Col. 6)

SPOTLIGHTED IN MAGAZINE Brickbats Aimed At City, Jaycees Over Snake Kill

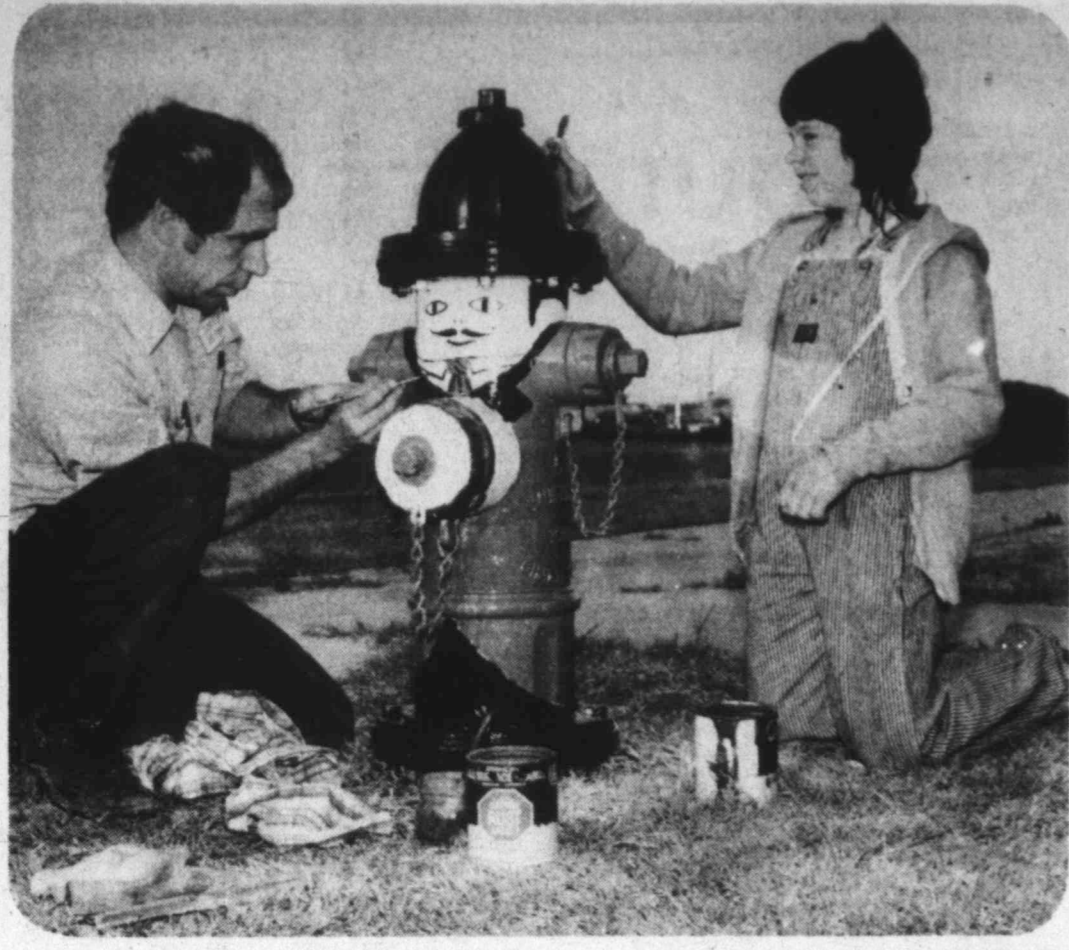

CONTROVERSY RAGES — National Wildlife magazine set off anew a controversy about the Big Spring Rattlesnake Roundup, selected out of two dozen in West Texas to hop on. Delbert Hutchings, snake handler, shown here last year with a Big Spring girl and a rattlesnake, was the subject of most of the five page article.

Area Election Results

Forsan's City Board Named

FORSAN — Three candidates on the ballot, two of them incumbents, sailed in as aldermen in Forsan city voting Saturday.

Jimmy C. Shoultz, running for the place vacated by John B. Anderson, last of the original alderman to serve continuously and who did not run, polled 30 votes. Susan Gaston had 29, and Bobby S. Wash, also an incumbent, had 27. Bob Calley picked up five write-in votes and Bob Cowley one. Hold-over aldermen are Lee D. Whetsel and G. L. Monroney. Jack Lamb, mayor, is the only remaining member of the original board who has had 14 years of uninterrupted service.

Ackerly Names Three Aldermen

ACKERLY — Bill Hambrick, incumbent city councilman, led the ticket in the city election Saturday with 34 votes.

Hambrick, along with Gayle Batson with 30 votes and Eddie Herm with 23 were named councilmen. Jerry Staggs polled 22 votes; Marlin Gibson, incumbent, had 21 and Covie Williams, 20 in an extremely close race.

Henderson, Capps Score

LAMESA — Bob Capps, incumbent, and Bob Henderson, Lamesa farmer, won a hotly contested school board race, with 918 votes cast.

Capps was the only incumbent running and polled 443 votes. Henderson collected 382 with Richard Gentry running a close third with 380. Mrs. Fred Barrington had 270, Tony Luna, 170, Avery Doss, 92 and Carl Spears, 17.

In the city council race Nelson Hogg ran uncontested for Place 3 and

Newman, Mims Win

STANTON — Tommy Newman, vice president of the Stanton Independent School District board of trustees, was returned to office in Saturday voting. He polled 119 votes to 46 for Mrs. Bonnie Allred for Place 1. Billy Mims, board president, polled 133 votes in his unopposed race.

For county school board, Jack Kuhlman, Precinct 2, got 86 votes, and E. D. Holcombe had 87 for trustee at large.

New Members On Sands Board

ACKERLY — Two new members were named to the Sands Consolidated Independent School District board Saturday.

Wayne Webb led the ticket with 105, and Richard Parker captured the other seat with 90 votes.

Incumbents At C-City Win

COLORADO CITY — Incumbents were reelected trustees of the Colorado Independent School District in Saturday voting. T. L. Reese, president of the board, received 127 votes, and S. L. Morris, vice president, led with 140. Billy Moore made a strong but unsuccessful bid with 92

New Faces In Glasscock

GARDEN CITY — One incumbent went back into office and one newcomer to the board filled the other post on the school board following Saturday's elections.

W. E. Bednar of the St. Lawrence community led the ticket with 97 votes, followed by Leon Halfmann, incumbent with 79.

Hubert Frerick, the other incumbent, ran third with 47. Three write-ins included Fritz Hendricks, three, Ace Hoelscher, two and Delbert Halfmann, one.

Speakers Taken

Cal Lowry, Route 2 Box 24A, told the sheriff's office two speakers were stolen from his residence.

Posey, Nichols, Evans Leaders

FORSAN — Leonard E. Posey with 46 votes, Oliver (Bud) Nichols with 44, and Tom Evans, incumbent, with 42 filled the three positions open on the Forsan School board in an election Saturday.

Jimmy Shoultz with two, Bob Calley with two and Alfred Stanley with one were write-ins.

William Banks Jr. and Tom Yeates did not seek reelection.

Tate Paces Grady Vote

GRADY — Newell Tate with 60 votes; H. D. Howard with 47 and Myrl Mitchell with 44 were returned to the Grady school board in an election Saturday. Jerry Welch polled 29 votes.

In their county school board election, E. D. Holcombe had 67 for the at large post; Lynn Hinson, 40 for precinct 3 and Jack Coolman, 29 for precinct 2.

Bagnell Wins

Al Bagnell was elected county school board member in Precinct 1 with 38 votes in an unofficial count, with a host of write-ins receiving one and two votes.

In precinct two, it appeared Saturday night that probably the winner is Weldon McAdams with 50. J. D. Gilmore in Forsan had 20 votes and the figures from Coahoma were not available at press time.

Sand Springs Men Get Water District Posts

Heavy votes in their home box Saturday boosted two Sand Springs men to places on the board of the Howrah County Water Control and Improvements District No. 1.

Carl Gray led the ticket with 294 votes, and Marshall Day was a breath away with 293.

Two Coahoma men got strong support in their home box, too, but that precinct turned to 30 less votes. Pete Banks got 264 votes and Bobby Roman 239.

J. B. Hall, in between the two communities, got 84 votes.

M. A. Lilly, incumbent, did not see reelection.

The vote in the Coahoma, Sand Springs and absentee box showed:

Coah.	Sppg	Abst.	Total
15	269	10	294
174	80	10	264
170	60	9	239

Myers Tops Coahoma Race

COAHOMA — One Coahoma incumbent and one Sand Springs candidate won the two posts on the Coahoma School Board.

Don Myers of Sand Springs led with 377 followed by Wendell Shives, incumbent with 348. Others included David Barr, incumbent, 290; Harold Aberegg, 264; Veta Spears, 150 and Mrs. Susan Kerr, 78.

To Get Wings

A new twist will highlight the Security Assistance Training Program (satsp) graduation at Webb AFB April 11. Instructors will receive wings as well as the students.

Pilot wings of the Vietnamese Air Force will be presented to those instructor pilots who have been most closely associated with training men from there.

Making the presentation will be Lt. Col. Pham Van Pham, senior liaison officer of the Vietnamese Liaison Office at Lackland AFB, Tex.

Since the SATP Class 75-07 has among its members the last pilots scheduled for training from Vietnam, Col. Robert G. Liotta, who was wing commander when the program began at Webb, will return as guest speaker for the graduation. Liotta recently became chief of Foreign Military Affairs for Air Training Command.

Other countries represented by graduates are Nicaragua and Iran.

Response Good In Campaign

The Disabled Veterans Chapter 47 is pushing a fund-raising project to support disabled veterans in local nursing homes and hospitals. So far the response has been good.

"We give thanks for the many donations and other help," said Bob Bowen commander, "and we appreciate the help of the news media."

The project is the only means the DAV chapter has of raising money to provide extra aid for disabled vets, he said.

Information can be had from Bowen, or from M.H. Spivey, adjutant; or Jessie Hardey Phares Jr., senior vice commander.

They hope to complete the project this month.

Pair Will Get

Region Awards

Two Upper Colorado Soil and Water Conservation district winners will be recognized May 7 as corresponding regional winners at a meeting at Texas Tech.

Ray Herring, who not only completed his Great Plains Conservation program ahead of schedule but started new conservation projects, will be cited as the outstanding resident conservationist. He directs an 870-acre farm and livestock operation near Fluvanna.

Billy Bob McMullan will receive the region conservation teachers award.

ASU Will Host

Burn Institute

Angelo State University will host the Southwest Regional Burn Institute during a two-day program planned for April 25-26. Objective of the institute is the initial care and resuscitation, psychological problems, physiological and occupational therapy, rehabilitation and referral of burn patients. Those who successfully complete the program, credit in the form of 9 CEIPTS or Continuing Education Units will be awarded, also toward Category II for the Physician's Recognition Award of the American Medical Association.

J-Scholarship

Deadline Near

Prospective journalism majors who plan to enter Angelo State University this fall have until April 21 to apply for a $300 Millard Cope Memorial Journalism Scholarship.

The scholarships are awarded each year to a freshman journalism major entering the University. Students receiving the awards as freshmen are eligible to apply for renewals each year providing they maintain a good academic record. The scholarships are financed from the proceeds from a $25,000 trust fund established by the late Houston Hardey and his wife as a memorial to the late Millard Cope, San Angelo publisher.

'POKETA-POKETA' PROVES PLEASING TO PEOPLE

Thar's Gold In Them Thar Model A's

By TROY BRYANT
James Banks, Sand Springs, walked up to the two-toned Ford Model A sedan delivery and stroked the navy and powder blue paint. He said, "This car is probably the rarest of all Model A's. It was used to deliver items like bread, newspapers, and for other light delivery chores." Its value? $6,500.

"This car has been completely rebuilt from the ground up and every part is either rebuilt or new. It runs like it did when it rolled off Henry Ford's assembly line in 1929," Banks crawled inside, sat on the 1929 Model "bucket seats" and turned a knob under the dash. "You have to turn the gas on here under the dash—it's just as important as turning the key on in modern cars."

He stepped on the starter button and the engine started immediately, emitting the familiar, 'poketa-poketa' sound.

PEOPLE WELCOME
Banks' cars make up a museum. He invited people to come in and look around and even has signs and a Model T on the roof to advertise his business. His building is unique. He and his sons used materials from the old Texas and Pacific roundhouse, built in 1908 and razed several years ago, and other old buildings in Big Spring including the old Boydston home, a hangar at the bombardier school, the Crawford Hotel, and the old First National Bank building.

In addition to hunting down and restoring old cars, he is a part-time instructor for a mechanics course at Howard College.

HOBBY GROWS
Banks says that restoring the hobby of collecting vintage and antique automobiles is growing by leaps and bounds. In the last ten years, he estimates that it has been the country's fastest growing hobby.

"People come in and say they want a 1936 Ford, because that's what they drove when they were young, or maybe people a little older will want a Model A or an old 1931 Chevrolet," he said.

"But the reason that these cars are so popular, is that they are good investments.

You can buy an old one for $1,000 and sink $2,000 in it and when you get through, you'll have something that is really worth what you put into it and more."

Banks and his son, Jake, put in a lot of time hunting for old cars and car parts, and he has gone as far as to Connecticut for parts.

DRY AIR
"Mostly I find cars around Texas and New Mexico. The Big Bend area is a great place to look for cars because the air is so dry, the rust hasn't rusted most of them out," Banks has cars that he found in Arizona and in Nebraska.

Mostly his cars come from auction and swap meets which are just like flea markets, only there are thousands of old cars and parts for sale.

He plans to attend one of the meets in Fort Worth next month and sell his 1926 Ford Model T touring car. Banks said that it's worth about $4,000.

FORDS APLENTY
Most of his cars are Fords for a simple reason. "Henry Ford was hard-headed and he made 15 million Model T's from 1909 to 1927, before he would make a change," Banks said. Then he turned around and made about five million Model A's from 1928 through 1932 so there are a lot of those Fords still around. While Ford was selling cars in the millions, Chevrolet and Plymouth and Dodge were selling cars in the thousands while some of the others, like the Stutz and the Hupmobiles were sold by the hundreds." There are more Fords surviving today because there were more Fords.

HARDEST JOB
Perhaps Banks' most difficult restoration project was a 1927 Packard seven-passenger sedan, which he sold last year at an auction. The car was completely apart when he started on the car. "I had to pull a number of tricks to get the engine running because parts were not available." He made the parts for which he could not find replacements. A doctor in Big Spring bought the car and later moved to Louisiana.

He is presently working on Stockton. The shiny red and black truck was mostly a 1936 Plymouth pickup that belongs to a man in Fort complete when he started, but some parts were a little hard to find. "Fortunately, some of the Dodge pickup parts of that year fit. There are several of the Dodges around, but Plymouth made very few pickups," he said.

"My next project will be a 1939 Ford convertible," he said. "First, I'll take the engine and transmission out and strip it down to the bare body. Then I'll rework the brakes, transmission, engine and body panels and put it back together. The upholstery and top will be the last steps before painting."

RARE CADILLAC
He pointed to a long, black car sitting near the center of the large building. "The rarest car I have is this 1938 Cadillac La Salle convertible-sedan parade car. Only about 300 of them were built and this is one of the few remaining. It was this kind of car that Roosevelt used in parades back before and during World War II."

The car is very long and the paint is pitted and the top and seats have rotted away.

"Just as it sits, unrestored, that car is worth about $6,000. It's been designated a classic and I plan to restore it this summer."

He has about 75 cars such as this in all states of repair and disrepair, from a 1913 Hupmobile to a 1962 Packard and a 1967 Studebaker.

"It works out about half and half," Banks said. "About half of these cars will be sold just as they are and the other half will be bought after they are restored or the new owners will ask me to restore them."

When asked what advice he has for anyone who wants to acquire an old car already restored or to restore themselves, Banks said, "If a person has the money, about four or five thousand dollars, his best to buy one already restored. But, if you're operating on a limited budget, it's best to just buy one and invest in it a little at a time, until its fully restored."

WAITING LIST
Among the cars he has which need to be restored are two 1913 Hupmobiles, a 1918 Studebaker touring car, a 1939 Mercury (the first year Mercurys were made), a 1936 Chevrolet, and a 1952 Packard (which belonged to the last Packard dealer in Big Spring, H.M. Rowe). The Packard also had a small part in the movie, "The Midnight Cowboy."

Other cars include a 1929 Marquette, and a rare 1930 Chevrolet touring car which is actually a four-door convertible. The Chevrolet is only one of two or three left in the country, that Banks knows about.

A 1928 International one-ton truck, a wooden bodied 1926 Model T Ford, a 1928 Austin, the first compact car, and a 1928 La France fire truck (once used by the Fort Worth fire department) rounds out the most notable autos in his collection.

The cars cost from about $300 to $2,000 each, unrestored.

"I really don't know how I got started," he added. "I've been a mechanic around the county most my life, the past 25 or 30 years, and I just decided that I wanted an old car. So, in 1965, I bought a Model T Ford and restored it and I've been buying and restoring ever since."

ANOTHER 'A' — Banks poses beside his 1929 Ford Model A sedan delivery, the rarest of the Model A's. The car was rebuilt from the ground up and runs like new.

RESTORED RARITY — James Banks puts the finishing touches on a 1936 Plymouth pickup, one of the few pickups that the company made. He restored this red and black beauty for a Fort Stockton client.

THE WEEK

Big Spring has the honor this weekend of being host to the state meeting of Gold Star Mothers. In the words of Lincoln, none has "laid so costly a sacrifice upon the altar of freedom."

You'll find in today's issue a small story to the effect that Sen. John Stennis, chairman of the Senate Armed Services committee, has pledged his support of the Department of Defense recommendations for improvements at Webb AFB (new BOQs and fuel facilities). This is not Congressional approval, but it improves chances.

Within a fortnight Big Spring will entertain what is tantamount to another state parley. The Region 6 American Business Club Training Conference will be held here April 17-18.

Miss Howard College for 1975 is Miss Edna Guevara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Guevara. She was selected in the annual competition last week and will compete in a regional event which sends the winner to the Miss Texas contest.

A violent incident sent James Lee Gilbert to a hospital here in critical condition with a bullet wound in his head.

The Cancer chapter, which renamed Dr. James Cave as president last week, is gearing for the city-wide door-to-door crusade April 15. The following week, the Downtown Lions state their annual light bulb sale April 21-23.

BSHS dramatists fared well in district IUL competition. Kathy Spinaus being named the best actress. Jamie Petty and Jean Gathlow were in the all-star cast, and Joe Millaway, a light technician who filled in with only three days practice, got honorable mention.

From the notebook: John Gordzus, meteorologist for the CRMWD's weather modification project, produces a paper which answers our query about how much energy is in clouds: Those clustered along 1 per cent of the equatorial area "raise and convert energy at a rate nearly one million times that of all the human power consumption in the world". Rep. Mike Ezzell's newsletter is entitled "Open Mike."

AFTER 65 YEARS Man Who Stopped Here For Meal Is Leaving

By MARI CARPENTER
A.W. (Dutch) Rippis, 91, got off the train Jan. 1, 1910, to eat lunch in Big Spring and stayed 65 years. He plans to leave by April 10 to live in a nursing home in Irving, near his son, James.

He has lived in the Settles Hotel since his wife died. "I went off to Fort Worth and tried to live a year but I came back home," Rippis recalled.

He would be glad to tell old railroad tales to all who would listen as he sat in what he calls "the loafers' chair in the Settles lobby."

He was engineer on the last coal burning train to come into Big Spring in March 1920. "There's not many of us old coal burners left," he sighed, "Just me and Homer Johnson.

Rippis, who was raised around Castroville and San Antonio, began to seek another area after the droughts of 1901, '02, and '03. "When it got so dry that the mesquite didn't even come out," he stated, "I left."

He quit farming and went to work for the old San Antonio and Gulf Shore Railroad and then the INGN of San Antonio. He kept working north and back south in the winter. He worked for the Rock Island Railroad from 1903-9. "That railroad was completely out of debt in those days and now its about to go into receivership," he mourned.

He added, "The answer for the railroads may be to nationalize like railroads have in other countries of the world."

HUNTING WORK
When Rippis stepped off the train in 1910, he planned to eat lunch at the railroad cafe and head for El Paso for work. He had just finished working for the crew who built the Coleman cutoff for Santa Fe.

W.R. King, who was trying to lay off as a fireman, began talking to Rippis and got quite excited. "Oh boy," he said, "I've found a replacement where I can quit." He went running to the master mechanic to tell him that he had found his replacement.

Rippis talked to several people that day and ended up

Woman Beaten Slaps Snake Kill

Marie Montgomery, 43, told police Saturday night at a local truck stop she had been beaten severely by two men and dumped out of a car on the side of the road five miles west of Big Spring on IS 20.

She told officers the suspects were carrying a rifle, revolver and club and were "very dangerous." She described their car as a blue or grey convertible with a raggedy top and the hood held shut with a chain.

The woman also told local police that the two men had been cashing stolen governments checks in Baton Rouge, San Antonio, Austin and Abilene and were headed for El Paso.

An all points bulletin was issued on the subjects Saturday night.

She was treated at a local hospital for cuts and bruises.

because I told children that handling the snakes was dangerous and said I did feats of mock bravery. I didn't see any of them picking up snakes.

"They accused me of taking anti-venom prior to the show. Actually I take antibiotics and a tetanus shot to avoid secondary infection which may follow a snake bite.

"They had ridiculous little accusations, poking fun at me for bowing and I never bow. They emphasized that I kicked the snakes around, when actually I try to move the big ones off the little ones because the Audubon Society doesn't want the little ones to smother. You can't please them."

"The snakes were sold to a snake farm, not sent to the next roundup as they outlined. I suppose, being fair, that people standing around may have told that guy most anything. A lot of people weren't any more pleased with him than he was with us."

Jaycees said the accusation that no food and water was placed in the den was correct. "Somehow, it's hard to think about feeding and watering rattlesnakes."

One local woman called Hutchings and told him "I'm on your side. Skin those rattlesnakes or whatever you want to do."

PROFANE OBJECTIONS
His letters have mostly been rather ugly and one unsigned letter threatened his life. The Chamber of Commerce received one note unsigned from Colorado that was filled with profane language.

A local woman called one Jaycee and said, "My child had four operations after a rattlesnake bite. Are those people crazy?"

Some critics assert that the wholesale killing of rattlesnakes may be ecologically unsound, since rodents constitute most of the reptiles diet.

But the rattlesnakes are not an endangered species. There still seem to be lots of rattlesnakes around West Texas. And there also appears to be a minority of West Texans who mourn their passing.

There are two local residents who wrote and brought the national representation out here in the first place, who feel very strongly about protecting the

Record Income Is Reported

NEW YORK, N.Y. — Siboney Corporation reported record high revenues of $14,016,000 in 1974, up 25 per cent over revenues of $11,229,000 in 1973. Pre-tax income amounted to $1,634,000, as compared with $1,807,000 in 1973, reported James H. Shiels, president.

After provision of $434,000 for federal income taxes, net income in 1974 amounted to $1,173,000. The company was not subject to federal income tax in 1973 because of its operating loss carry forward, and net income for the year was $1,797,000. Gamco Industries in Big Spring is a Siboney subsidiary.

NEVER DROPPED IN

Rippis married a Fort Worth school teacher. "She taught me a lot and I read her entire set of Encyclopedia Britannica. I love to read and love good music. So did she," Rippis recalls.

"You talk about your school drop-outs. I never did drop in," Rippis added. "My mother taught me to read and write and count to 100, and I've learned the rest of it the hard way," he added.

"My grandmother was french and my grandfather from Alsace-Lorraine. When he got over here, he fought with Gen. Zachary Taylor on the Mexican border.

Rippis' other grandfather was a mule and horsetrader in San Antonio. "After the English learned the importance of horses in the Boer War, they came over to the United States and down to Texas to buy horses.

"They would pay $5 for a horse less than four years old and $3 for a horse that was between 4 and 7 years old and they paid in gold. Grandfather would have my cousin and me jump up on those broncs sidesaddle and

Water Valley, Forsan Advance

FORSAN — Forsan and Water Valley advance to the area one-act play contest at Howard College next Friday after winning the top spots at District 10-B one-act play contest in Forsan Saturday. Sterling City placed third.

Best actor was Kary Richardson, Forsan and best actress, Nan Kirkpatrick, Water Valley.

Nab Suspected Stealer Of Cars

VICTORIA, Tex. (AP) — A 41-year-old man who the Department of Public Safety says is wanted by 15 Texas cities and counties was being held in the Victoria County jail today on a charge of felony auto theft.

Samuel C. Houston was charged before Justice of the Peace Alfred Baas here Thursday. His bond was fixed at $10,000.

DPS officers said the cities where Houston is wanted include Waco, Houston, Corpus Christi, San Marcos, Midland, Rockdale, Edna, Caldwell, Waxahachie, Hearne, Mexia and Beeville plus DeWitt County. They said some of the cities have more than one warrant against him.

Houston was released on parole from state prison at Huntsville last year and most of the warrants against him are believed to be connected with crimes committed in the past year.

He was arrested Wednesday near the Victoria-DeWitt County line.

JUST BARE FACTS, MAM

"Two naked women in the back yard of last house on 'bleep' Street," the police radio boomed out Saturday afternoon.

"On my way to the scene. Ten-four" said a happy sounding policeman. The call came back "Women have on bathing suits. Sorry about that."

Industrial Climate Here Is Vigorous

Industrial Week finds Big Spring and Howard County with a vigorous climate for manufacturing and processing.

Reports from various plants operating here indicate an employment total of nearly 2,000 in these types of enterprise with a combined payroll of about $20 million.

Bulk of this comes from about 10 industries which process petroleum products, manufacture plastics, carbon black, school supplies, including chalkboards, fiber glass pipe, wearing apparel, mobile homes, printing.

Besides these there are numerous other activities requiring substantial work forces and payrolls, such as bottlers, concrete products, paint, fertilizer, paving materials, ice, and optical products.

MANY OTHERS

But the list doesn't stop there. Other manufacturers turn out tortillas, processed meat, mattresses, candles, feed, signs, awnings, draperies, tanks, fences, dentures, pasteries, jewelry, mirrors and frames, etc.

One of the oldest and still by far the biggest of the industrial operators here is Cosden Oil & Chemical Company which turns out upwards of two dozen products, including many types of fuels from high test gasoline to burning oils; numerous petro-chemicals including principal items of benzene, styrene, toluene, xylene, but with other spin-offs; plastics (Cosden is one of the nation's leading producers of polystyrene); by-products such as sulphur extracted during processing, patented adhesives and additives; asphalt.

BIGGEST WORK FORCE
Cosden has a work force of nearly 900 with an annual payroll of about $11 million.

Garment manufacturers here (Big Spring Dress and Wall Industries) employ together about 200 with around a million dollar payroll. Products are distributed nationwide.

Berkley Homes has over 160 workers who last year turned out over 725 mobile home units.

Two carbon black companies have between them more than 150 workers with a payroll of about $1.8 million.

EDUCATIONAL AIDS
Gamco, including its division which manufactures chalkboard and others which produce instructional aids, has 115 employees.

The printing trade has 75 employees earning some $600,000.

Skelly Oil has upwards of 60 workers producing some 91 million gallons of liquified petroleum gas.

W.R. Grace & Co. produce anhydrous ammonia fertilizer, Cosden operating its plant.

Fiber Glass Systems, with more than 90 employees earning over $650,000 a year, is turning out an increasing volume of fiber glass pipe, principally for oilfields.

SERVICE "INDUSTRIES"
There are several "industries" which perhaps fit into the service category. For instance, transports and truckers together with the Missouri Pacific (T&P) employ almost 500 individuals with a $4 million annual payroll.

The health "industry" in Big Spring involves 855 people with a payroll in excess of $13 million.

The defense "industry," which happens to be Webb AFB, has 3,000 persons and a $35.8 million payroll.

We are proud of our Industry

It contributes to the wide diversification and stability of our economy.

This strong economic foundation is one of the many reasons why we are proud to be a part of this area.

Reservations Should Be Made For Musical

As most experienced parents know and most inexperienced ones soon discover, saying "no" to your children is a sure formula for them to do exactly what you've forbidden. This dilemma confronts two fathers in Howard College's upcoming spring musical, "The Fantasticks."

Consequently, the girl's father and the boy's father pretend to be feuding and build a wall between their homes, refusing to allow Luisa and Matt to see one another. Secretly, the fathers actually hope that the couple will defy them and meet on the sly. True to form, the young romantics do just that.

To fortify the union, they hire the gallant, mysterious El Gallo to kidnap Luisa, offering Matt the opportunity to rescue and save her. He enlists the aid of two aged, worse-for-the-wear actors to help in the kidnaping. However, the moonlight of the first act gives way to the bright reality of daylight in Act II, and the boy gets battered.

In the cast, Ken Sprinkle portrays El Gallo; the fathers are Kelly Draper and Captain Richard Risk. Charles Grizzard and Cathy Mays portray Matt and Luisa; Mark Sheedy and Jimmy Wiley play the old actors and Kathy Bull is the Mute, an on-stage props director.

The musical, written by Tom Jones with music by Harvey L. Schmidt, features such favorites as "Try to Remember." Other numbers include "Soon It's Gonna Rain," "Never Say 'no,'" "Plant a Radish," and "Much More."

The production at the college cafeteria will be a dinner theatre with an entree of roast beef or ham. At 7 p.m., with the show following, admission is $5 for dinner and show.

Because seating is limited, reservations are recommended. You may call Howard College at 7-6311, extension 40 for reservations. Join the players either Friday, April 25, or Saturday, April 26, for dinner and an evening of song and dance.

Sports Complex Bill Advanced To Texas Senate

The bill which would permit the City of Big Spring to build a sports complex on land north of town, owned by the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, is halfway home. The Texas House approved the legislation Friday. It now goes to the Texas Senate.

Snyder Rep. Mike Ezell guided House Bill 816 through the House. The legislation conveys 70 acres to the city to build five baseball or softball diamonds. It would be used by local residents and patients at the Big Spring State Hospital.

Anticipated cost of the project is $158,000. Big Spring City Manager Harry Nagel told a House committee in Austin last month. The funds would come from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department and the U.S. Bureau of Outdoor Recreation.

Of the final amount invested, $29,000 would be spent by the city, according to Nagel.

Officials of the MH-MR agency raised no objection to the bill.

Cotton Growers Set Meet Date

The 1975 Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. Annual Meeting will begin 2:00 p.m. April 17 at Lubbock's South Park Inn. Over 500 PCG members and guests are expected to be on hand for the 25-county cotton producer organization's 18th annual gathering.

Emphasis at the meeting will be on cotton markets. Also, 1975-76 PCG directors, elected over the past several weeks at meetings in individual counties, will be confirmed by the membership and the new directors will convene at 6:00 p.m. following the membership program to elect 1975-76 officers.

Lloyd Cline, Lamesa, is now secretary-treasurer.

Dates Are Set For Olympics

Dates for the annual Explorer Olympics of the Buffalo Trail Council have been set for May 16-17. Webb AFB again will be host for this event, which draws young men and women from the council area for a series of skill and athletic contests, as well as social affairs. The Explorer program, which is career or avocation-oriented, is for those 14 years of age and over.

Electricity: It helps make products and jobs better.

No matter where you look in industry today, electric energy is there.

Powerful energy that stamps and molds, pushes and pulls, heats and cools. Or sensitive energy that sews and scrolls; calculates and controls.

Whether you build cars, or airplanes, or mobile homes, or make clothes, or process petroleum and petro-chemical products — whatever your job, electricity helps you do it better, faster, easier.

And it's clear that industrial uses of electricity will continue to increase in the years ahead.

But the fuels we've traditionally used to generate electricity — natural gas and oil — are becoming increasingly expensive and difficult to get.

That's why we're adding lignite coal-fired plants to our system, and building a nuclear plant for the 1980's.

While these plants will help us deliver an adequate supply of electricity in the years ahead, they are much more expensive to build than gas/oil plants.

This means electricity will have to cost more. But it won't increase as much using lignite and nuclear fuels as it would if we tried to depend on natural gas and oil alone.

At Texas Electric, we're continuing the orderly development of our power system so that you'll continue having the electricity you need.

'Free Loans' Available; Just Write 'Hot Checks'

DALLAS (AP) — Increasing numbers of Texans are coping with the recession by getting a form of free loan.

"Free loans" are available almost everywhere: the neighborhood grocery, the gas station, the pharmacy, the department store.

All you have to do is write a hot check.

RACE TO BANK
Then the race is on to beat the merchant to your bank.

Of course the "interest" on this kind of illegal "loan" can be pretty steep—a fine, a jail term, a criminal record, embarrassment.

"We're being swamped with them," says Dallas County Dist. Henry Wade, pointing to figures showing hot check complaints more than doubled from January 1974 to January this year.

Bob Bond, vice president of Houston's Merchant's Information Exchange, Inc., said hot checks in the Bayou City jumped more than 50 per cent from January last year to January this year.

Bond said Houston area merchants are scrambling to stop their losses. Complaints on hot checks totaling more than $2 million were filed in Houston last year.

GETTING TOUGHER
"Most businessmen are requiring their employees to use the same guidelines in cashing checks from old, well-known customers as from strangers. That means checking driver's licenses, credit cards and other information," he said.

Wade said one Dallas area grocer reported bad checks cost him $65,000 last year. He said many area merchants are getting tougher on check privileges such as maintaining lists of hot check artists, telephone computer verification of check writers and requiring more identification.

"A man who owns two suburban dress shops told me that the same woman he has been accepting checks from for 15 years are not starting to dump hot checks on him. They won't return his calls," Wade said. "He's getting tougher on check writers now."

Bexar County Dist. Atty. Ted Butler's office at San Antonio noted a "sizable" increase in 1974 in hot checks.

"Quite a few" are new hot check writers, a spokesman for Butler said.

AREN'T MAKING
"That's what we're finding," said Ross Rommell, head of the Harris County (Houston) hot check division of the district attorney's office. "More people are trying to race the merchant to the bank to cover their hot checks. A lot of them aren't making it."

"We've always had the professional to deal with," said Bond. "But now, with the economy what it is, there are more people trying to get free loans by writing a hot check they hope to cover before it reaches their bank. It's gotten so bad that most merchants — are now requiring full identification from old customers they recognize on sight."

Rommell said his office processed in conjunction with justice of the peace courts more than $2 million in hot check complaints last year.

"It's rising," he added. Wade said it is nearly impossible to determine how many hot checks are written and then made good without a complaint reaching his office.

"The only ones we know about are the ones where the merchant hasn't been able to get the writer to make restitution. We get only the processed in conjunction with justice of the peace courts more than $2 million in hot check complaints last year.

Wade said it is nearly impossible to determine how many hot checks are written and then made good without a complaint reaching his office.

"The only ones we know about are the ones where the merchant hasn't been able to get the writer to make restitution. We get only the tough ones, the hard-to-find people, or those who refuse to make good on the bad check," Wade said.

UNDER $200
The biggest increases in hot checks are in the misdemeanor category, under $200.

Bond and Rommell say there is a significant increase in new hot check writers in the Houston area, most of them persons caught in a financial jam, out of work, or both, who are short of cash and hope to make their bad checks good before the checks reach the bank.

"Many people are just living from one payday to the next. They don't want to face reality: That being that it's harder to maintain the same standard of living these days on the same amount of income," Bond said.

Wade said, "It's a disease with some people. They want things whether they can afford them or not so they float a hot check. Then they write another one to cover the first one. It's a ball of wax that just keeps getting bigger until they're in up to their necks."

Wade says his office is "perhaps too lenient" on first offenders. "The merchant usually gives them 10 days to make good, then we give them 10 days to come in and make the check good."

Wade said his office allows bad check writers to make restitution in some cases. "In others, we get a fine or probation. Then there are some that we won't take restitution. We want them in prison."

In many cases, bad check writers cannot be prosecuted. These involve post-dated checks, checks held by the payee more than 30 days, checks received in the mail or left in a receptacle, checks over a year old, cases where the check writer is not known, and other situations.

If the writer is prosecuted he can face these penalties: hot checks under $5 can bring a $200 fine; hot checks of $5 to $19.99 carry a $1,000 fine and 180 days in jail; hot checks of $20 to $199.99 can bring a $2,000 fine and a year in jail.

Bad checks of more than $200 enter the felony category with penalties ranging up to 20 years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Energy Costs Can Be Cut

BUSHLAND — Irrigation energy costs in the Southern High Plains can be reduced significantly through increased use of irrigation tailwater and playa lake water.

Arland D. Schneider, U. S. Department of Agriculture agricultural engineer, and Leon New, Texas A&M extension service irrigation specialist, at the USDA Southwestern Great Plains Research Center here, have studied the relative costs of pumping from irrigation wells and pumping from tailwater pits and playa lakes. Results of the study show that pumping tailwater is the least expensive in terms of energy costs, followed closely by energy costs for playa pumps. Tailwater pumping showed energy costs ran to a maximum of $1.53 per acre foot and playa pumping costs ran to a maximum of $2.35 per acre foot. By comparison, the researchers report energy costs for pumping from irrigation wells ranged from a low of $2.11 per acre foot at 75 per cent pump efficiency and 100 feet to a high of $14.05 per acre foot at 45 per cent pump efficiency and 400 feet of TDH.

Foundation Active In Industry Search

Much of the industrial development work for this immediate area is channeled through the Big Spring Industrial Foundation.

Heading this group is Rene Brown, a Cosden vice president who leads a local board, and with Roger Brown to be the new Industrial Team chief. The team, which may undergo a change in structure when Brown assumes his new duties, has been organized with various members and groups out of the total of 17, specializing in various fields such as sites, governmental relations and utilities.

During the past year, the Foundation named Ron Mercer, who had been Chamber of Commerce manager, to be the chief

RECRUITING ACTIVITY
Much of his work centers on the location and servicing of industrial prospects. Mailings (averaging one per day) go out to potential plant developers. Until the national economics slowed down, the Foundation had several bright prospects on the line, including one which is still considered quite promising. The others, not ruling out consideration, said they were temporarily delaying plans.

In the meantime, a new set of materials has been assembled, plus a slide-sound presentation to convey the "flavor" of the community as well as the essential economic data; also an updated fact book.

SITE DEVELOPMENT
The Foundation now has at its disposal the completed study of two Texas Tech University specialists on industrial site and industrial park potentialities for Big Spring and vicinity.

The Foundation also has served as a vehicle for providing housing for some industries. In a couple of instances it has acquired or built plant facilities, then leased them to industries. Total assets considerably exceed half a million, with about $400,000 in long-term obligations secured by leases.

Last year one of the prime activities of the Foundation was to seek additional workers for existing local industries.

DALLAS — Billed as the "worlds largest and richest barrel race," the eighth annual Barrel Racing Futurity, sponsored by the Texas Barrel Racing Association, will be held in the Dallas-Fort Worth area, Oct. 5-6. The location of this year's futurity will be announced later.

The futurity, open to horses of all breeds, four years of age or younger and never having competed in a barrel race previously, will undoubtedly carry the largest purse ever paid in a barrel race.

Nominations are now open with initial payment of $15 due May 1. The total fee of $100 must have been satisfied by Sept. 15. Last year's futurity had 104 horses running for $13,600 in purses. Information or entry blanks can be had from Jean Gailbreath, futurity chairman, 100 Hermitage place, Arlington, Tx. 76015.

Farabee Backs Resolution

AUSTIN — State Sen. Ray Farabee was among the supporters of a resolution which urges Congress to instruct the Federal Power Commission to restore priority of natural gas for irrigation purposes.

The FPC on Dec. 19, 1974 issued an opinion changing priority of natural gas for irrigation purposes from No. 2 commercial to No. 3 industrial priority. According to agricultural spokesmen, this makes natural gas unavailable for irrigation equipment.

"It is unfortunate when a governmental agency makes a ruling, with apparently no testimony or evidence to support the farmer's point of view," said Sen. Farabee. "I hope FDC will re-evaluate its ruling, keeping in mind the important role that West Texas agriculture plays not only in the economy of Texas but of the Southwestern part of the United States."

Webb's Youth Center building was closed Saturday to be given a face lift and more space. Construction of a 750 sq.ft. addition along with a complete remodeling will begin next week.

Cost of the $40,352 job will be paid from nonappropriated funds, provided from Air Training Command morale and welfare activities. Contractor is Collins Construction Co. of San Angelo.

Although the building itself will be out of commission for youth activities this summer, the program will continue with outdoor events and trips. On the docket are swimming teams, soccer, picnics, camping club and trips to local places of interest as well as to other bases.

A roving playground director will supervise games and events in Webb Village, according to Dick Napoletano, youth director. A brochure listing summer activities will be published about May 1.

Included in the remodeling will be new interior, exterior and landscaping. Walls, floors, ceiling and lights will be replaced. Also all equipment will be either renewed or replaced.

On the outside, the new addition will be brick while the existing building will have brick on the lower half and baked enamel siding above that. Construction is expected to take about five months, so the center will probably re-open about Sept. 1.

Way To Fight Booze Woes

A gift of $5,801 was received recently for the Youth Center from the Combined Federal Campaign donations of last fall. It will be used to increase the scope of the youth activities program.

Making the check presentation was Dub Pearson, chairman of the Big Spring United Way, while Col. Robert A. Meisenheimer, base commander, Maj. John M. Grathwol, Webb CFC coordinator; Cal Lowry, recreation director; and Jerry White, chief of special Services Division, accepted the check for Webb.

Nagel, Acri Austin Bound

Big Spring city manager Harry Nagel and city councilman Eddie Acri will be in Austin Monday, where they will meet with the State Affairs Committee of the Texas Legislature, which will listen to arguments against the establishment of a state utilities commission.

Rep. Huarte will chair the session. Rep. Mike Ezzell of Snyder is a member of the legislative committee.

Lee Captures Debate Honors

Two debate teams from Midland Lee won all the honors in the 5-AAAA district UIL meet in Midland Saturday after a two day meet. Twenty-one teams competed.

First place went to Billy Williams and Jim Kruez with Berry Spears and Tanya Jones, winning second. Third went to Mario Ortiz and Stephen Howard of San Angelo and fourth to David Beam and Norton Teustch of Permian in Odessa.

Competing for Big Spring were Mary John Cherry, Donny Knight, Julie Davidson, Steve Cannon, Mariella Wise and Colleen Grathwol.

How to select the right nursing home.

We Americans are not just living longer, we're living more useful, productive lives.

But an increasing number of the chronically ill, the old, the convalescent, need some place other than the hospital and their home where they can receive personal health care, round-the-clock attention and the opportunity to continue to live their lives with meaning.

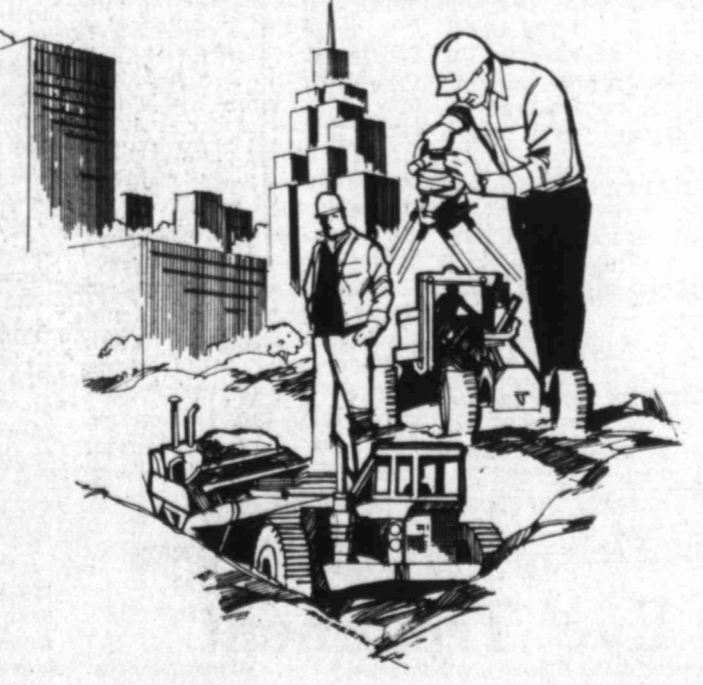

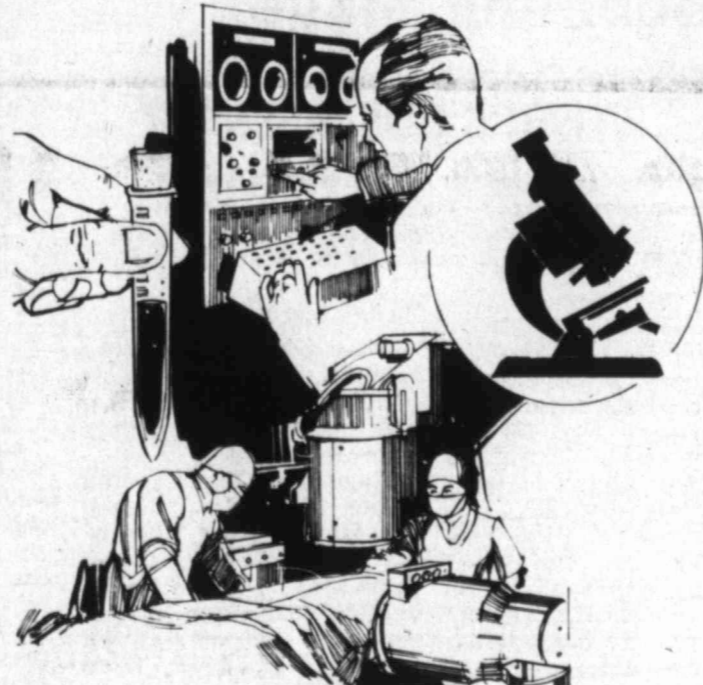

As your community extended health care facility we want to help you make the right decision. Here are some guidelines: see your family physician to determine the kind of care needed; feel free to visit our facility; ask us for our costs in writing and financial advice about Medicaid; examine all of our facilities; check our food quality; verify our safety features; and finally, observe how our residents spend their time.

There's a lot more to selecting the right nursing home. We want to help. If you have any questions, please call or visit us.

College Cost Effectiveness

Harry Provence, chairman of the Coordinating board, Texas College and University system, had some observations worth much wider circulation than the Association of Texas Colleges and Universities which he addressed Friday in Austin.

The thrust of his address was cost effectiveness in higher education as one way out of what threatens to be a system collapsing under its own financial weight.

From 1965-75, appropriations from all funds for all agencies of Texas higher education increased 363 per cent, or from $169 million to $781 million. During that period there were created 15 new fully state supported institutions, two upper level extension programs, seven new community colleges, and three campus extensions, also four new medical schools. Estimates of higher education by 1980 range from $1.4 to $1.7 billion.

He also noted that junior college district bonded debt rose from $22.3 million to $215.5 million through 1974, but that was "peanuts compared to the bonded indebtedness run up by senior colleges and universities from $126 million in 1961 to $1.2 billion in 1974. While local districts bear the brunt of bonded debt, use of revenue and bonds other than general obligation issues means that students will pay for about one-third of this in charges. The state picks up the big end of the senior college load, but again revenue bonds lay a weighty load in student charges.

Despite CB efforts, there has been a lot of competitiveness in physical expansions, and as Harvey Weil, a former CB member observed, everyone is in favor of coordination, but there is "a difference in reaction among different educators when their moment of truth arrives, that is, when something they are really pushing for their institution is turned down by the board."

Provence calls attention to bills that strengthen authority of the Coordinating Board to halt the proliferation of building without relation to pressing need and demand, perhaps to set enrollment limits, to try and see that dollars for higher education accomplish more than an "empire building, commercial profit, alumni vanity and loose management." One objective is to get back to the original premise that ultimately it is "faculties that teach."

Embracing the thesis that nothing is more costly than ignorance, Provence makes the sobering statement that the burgeoning cost of higher education is fast pulling it apace of the cost of ignorance.

Crushing the taxpayer, he fears, could usher in a new dark age. Certainly, he has pinpointed a problem that must be faced honestly, intelligently, courageously — now.

No Need For This One

A bill by Rep. L. DeWitt Hale, stated it would remove the 10 per cent gross receipts tax from liquor-by-the-drink sales, and instead place such sales under regular state and local sales taxes.

Hale says his legislation is designed to eliminate paperwork demands on owners of places selling mixed drinks and on the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission. That it might do, but it would also deprive the city treasuries of considerable income.

One of the ploys for setting up liquor-by-the-drink was that it would be a revenue producer. If so, let's see. The Hale bill should be left to die unmourned.

Will And Way

William F. Buckley, Jr.

THERE ISN'T ANYTHING we can do, at this point to reverse the situation in South Vietnam. What we could do is stop talking about the causes of the South Vietnamese defeat in all those nice formulations whose common denominator is that it wasn't our fault. In preference to taking any such pledge, the columnists for the New York Times would prefer bombing Hanoi.

It won't help in the case of South Vietnam, but the following points should be made, for future reference:

1. THE SO-CALLED "will to resist" is a hugely exaggerated factor in assessing a nation's disposition to resist aggression. I assume, for instance, that the metropolitan population of New York City deeply desires to resist the city's murderers, rapists, robbers, and muggers, but every year the statistics show with great plainness that the underworld is in more or less effective charge. By this I mean that every year the odds improve for those who desire to murder, rob, rape, or mug.

2. THE PRINCIPAL QUESTION to ask isn't whether a population has the will to resist its marauders, but whether it has the means and the organization. There is no more eloquent testimony than the lengths the refugees have gone to avoid co-existence with the enemy from the north on the point of what the South Vietnamese population desires. It desires to keep the enemy away. We all took it for granted that the people who inhabited the Lowlands, and the Republic of France, had the "will" to resist the armies of Adolph Hitler.

But they contained Hitler less successfully, over a shorter period of time, than South Vietnam contained North Vietnam. And if, say in the summer of 1941, the United States had decided to end all aid to England and the Soviet Union, there is every reason to suppose that Hitler would have occupied London and Moscow. Thieu never had the means to carry the offensive into North Vietnam. We do not know how it would have gone if he had had those means. It may well be that the South Vietnamese people, being a pacific breed, would have fought poorly that far away from home. This is a commendable, not disdainful, national trait.

3. THE BEST ORGANIZATION of a military machine is done by the leader who is without human scruple. The history books are ever so fond of talking about the "corruption" that surrounded Chiang Kai-shek. There is no doubt that it did, as there is no doubt that he conviled at certain means of eliminating corruption.

The courts of New York City could exhibit their will to reduce the criminal element in New York quite readily. All it requires is that you shoot everybody you catch stealing. It is quite literally that simple. Thieu's toleration of corruption has earned him the contempt of many American peacocks of civic righteousness. One wonders whether they would have admired him more if he dealt with corruption the way they deal with it in North Vietnam, or China? A country that loses a war against an enemy that fights like Genghis Khan deserves something closer to sympathy, than contempt.

4. THE COMBINATION of ruthlessness and audacity is powerful. Cortes brought with him to Mexico 508 soldiers, 100 seamen, 16 horses, 10 bronze guns, four falconets, and 13 shotguns, and conquered an empire of brave, but easygoing people. The North Vietnamese, day by day, developed an arms edge over the South Vietnamese and calmly constructed great super-highways down which to parade the unlimited supply of tanks showered on them by Moscow and Peking even as Congress slowly closed the faucet.

For every observable sin committed by Thieu, the leaders of the Third Republic in France committed a dozen. But it takes a special sort of callousness to say that a failure to develop the characteristics appropriate to resisting Genghis Khan merit life under Hitler, which is the kind of life towards which the South Vietnamese are now headed.

5. WE ARE ENTITLED to conclude that the North Vietnamese did indeed fight as bravely and as tenaciously as Hitler's soldiers.

Met's Next Season

NEW YORK (AP) — The Metropolitan Opera will present four new productions during the 1975-76 season.

They are Mozart's "The Marriage of Figaro," Puccini's "Il Trittico," Verdi's "Aida" and Bellini's "I Puritani."

The cast of "The Marriage of Figaro" will include Justino Diaz as Figaro, Evelyn Lear as the Countess, Judith Blegen as Susanna and Frederica von Stade as Cherubino.

The premiere of "Il Trittico" on Dec. 19 will complete the Met's new production of the three Puccini one-act operas begun with "Gianni Schicchi" during the 1974 June Festival. Both "Il Tabarro" and "Suor Angelica" sets are gifts of the William Penn Foundation. The production of "Gianni Schicchi" was a gift of the Corbett Foundation of Cincinnati.

"Aida" will be new on Feb. 3. Leontyne Price will sing the title role with Marilyn Horne as Amneris, James McCracken as Radames and Cornell MacNeil as Amonasro.

"I Puritani," which hasn't been heard at the Met since 1917-18, will star Joan Sutherland, Luciano Pavarotti, Sherrill Milnes and James Morris.

The 1975-76 season will run for 27 weeks and will open on Oct. 13 with "The Siege of Corinth," starring Beverly Sills, Shirley Verrett, Harry Trayard and Justino Diaz.

My Answer

Billy Graham

Two young women in our community became involved in a theological dispute that escalated into a fist fight. It became so brutal that the loser was taken to the hospital unconscious. Both women claim to have been "saved" at your crusade. Which brings up two questions. What is being "saved", and do you have any rules to which a "saved" person subscribes?

Well, those two may have been "my" converts, but certainly not the Lord's. At least their behavior would hardly be a clue to genuine conversion. I've heard of defending the faith, but these launched a personal offensive. A fighting Christian is a contradiction in terms. I understand salvation to be that experience of the new life of faith in which the Holy Spirit convicts the person of sin, and helps them confess Jesus Christ as a personal Savior. John 3:16 says that being saved is responding to God's love and thus receiving eternal life.

In the Crusades I usually ask converts to do four things: to read the Bible, to pray, to get active in a Bible believing church, and to witness to their faith. The Bible has its own "rules", and I expect converts to find these out themselves through personal study.

If there is ever a question about

REMEMBERING...

By BILL D. BROOKS

CAMPFIRES

When we were children, camping was more fun to plan than to do. Once we located a good spot in the woods and decided to camp there when the weather warmed up. We planned the trip for several days, eagerly discussing what food, supplies, and equipment to take. We made lists and collected what was needed.

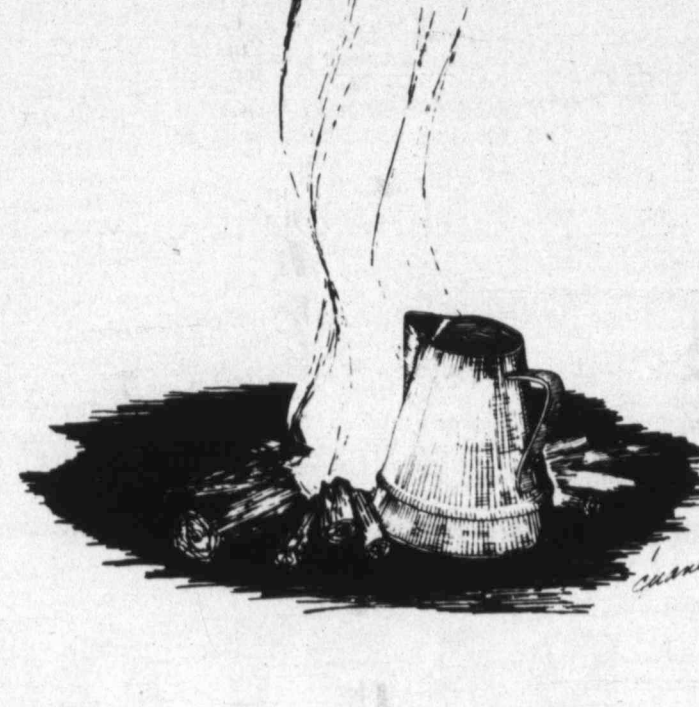

Finally the day arrived. We loaded our backpacks (flour sacks slung over our shoulders) and off we went. By the time we had walked half way to the campsite, we had already figured out that we were taking too many supplies. Upon reaching camp we were all exhausted from toting the heavy loads. We rested and while doing so, ate up half of our provisions (camping brings out the hunger of a youngster). After resting we built our campfire. There seems to be an art to building campfires, one which I never acquired but some people are good at it. I was selected to gather the wood. I could do that pretty well.

With the fire going strong the next thing we did was make the coffee. When making coffee over a campfire, it is not necessary to measure the ingredients. You just pour in some coffee and pour in some water, then set it on the fire to boil. None of our group knew exactly how long it was supposed to boil but eventually we all agreed that it had boiled long enough. We filled our tin cups with the black stuff and set around the fire swatting mosquitoes and flies, bragging about how good that coffee was.

Late that night with all of our food gone and all our stories told, we got ready to bed down. Our bedroll consisted of two blankets, one to sleep on and one to cover with. No pillow, those were for sissies.

Some of the fellows who went with us slept just like they were at home in their beds but I didn't. The ground was hard. The night air got cold and there were strange noises. Even when there were no noises, I lay awake wondering why they weren't any. I can remember lying there, miserable, looking toward the east for the first signs of daylight, hoping it would come soon.

The campfire was the only really good thing about the entire experience. Its warm glow was friendly and encouraging. It gave the feeling of safety and comfort, a close companion when all the others were asleep. By daybreak it was nothing but a few glowing coals but that was alright, it had served its purpose well.

Economy In Bobbling Stage

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation was still searching for the bottom of the current recession this past week, but President Ford reassured Americans the economy would improve later this year.

"We are already seeing some significant changes in the statistics that give us more certainty that the recession will end and that economic recovery will begin in the third quarter of this calendar year," Ford said in a televised news conference.

Foremost among the encouraging news during the week was the government report that March wholesale prices dropped a seasonally adjusted 0.6 per cent, the fourth monthly decline in a row.

And on Wall Street where fortunes have improved lately, an Associated Press report revealed that brokerage houses are doing some cautious rehiring.

Elsewhere the job picture looked much bleaker. A government report issued the day after Ford's news conference showed the nation's unemployment rate in March jumped to 8.7 per cent from 8.2 per cent a month earlier.

The March rate was the highest since 1941, and brought the number of jobless Americans to 8 million.

THE MEN WERE now rolling on the ground trying to get their hands on the brown envelope. They were joined by a collector from Group Health, the gas man, a water inspector and a lawyer who helped fill out Dundee's tax return.

In no time at all the check was in shreds. Mrs. Dundee was in tears. "Congressman, can't you do something?" Dundee said. "It's out of my hands," Lowball said. "We voted you a rebate to spur the economy but we can't tell you how to spend it."

WEEK'S BUSINESS

- March wholesale prices drop fourth month in a row
- But unemployment of 8.7 per cent steepest since '41
- Corporations beat government to banks, drive up rates
- Retailers show mixed results from losses to sharp gains
- Stock market slips a notch, D-J average off 23 points

Conditions on the nation's credit markets, meanwhile, took a sharp turn for the worse as bond prices fell and short-term and long-term interest rates climbed.

In a sense, the new problems on the debt markets represented the first price the nation will pay for the record federal deficit that will result from the $24.8 billion tax cut passed last weekend.

Looking ahead to the massive treasury borrowings necessary to finance the federal budget, corporations overloaded the bond market with new issues.

This put upward pressure on all interest rates, resulting in the abrupt ending last week in the steady, four-month-long downturn in the prime lending rate of major banks.

First National City Bank, often a trendsetter, kept its prime rate unchanged at 7 1/4 per cent while other major banks lagged behind at 7 1/2 per cent and 7 3/4 per cent.

Citibank, in fact, altered its floating rate formula in a way that will delay further prime rate drops.

The nation's biggest retail chains yielded a mixed harvest of sales results. March sales at Sears, Roebuck, the nation's biggest chain fell 2.9 per cent, the sharpest setback for the company in more than 15 years.

But sales were up a strong 26.4 per cent at S.S. Kresge Co., the nation's biggest discount counter. Woolworth's revenues rose 17.6 per cent and J.C. Penney's 7.9 per cent.

Store officials commented that Easter and spring clothing sales helped offset the depressing effects of unemployment and inflation.

Against a backdrop of rising interest rates and gloomy Southeast Asian battle news, the stock market suffered its worst week since last December. The Dow Jones industrial average sank 23 points to close at 747.26.

'Lazy Eye' Treatment

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Our three-year-old granddaughter has a "lazy eye." Is this a crossed eye, or strabismus? Her family doctor, after keeping watch over her for a year and a half, has now decided on surgery. They have tried glasses.

The parents are afraid of surgery. How can we be sure it is necessary? They are anxious to do the right thing. Maybe you can help us understand it all better.

Mrs. F.L. The important thing now is that the parents are doing something about your granddaughter's condition. One of the tragic misunderstandings about crossed eye is that it will right itself without treatment. It will not.

Now, as to your granddaughter's case. You have a minor misunderstanding of the terminology. "Lazy eye" can result from strabismus, or crossed eye. The problem begins when the eye muscles (six in each eye) cannot coordinate their activity. The result is that one eye acts more or less independently of the other.

Careful examination is required to determine just which muscles in which eye are causing the problem. It is to adjust this muscle imbalance that methods such as covering of the "good eye" to make the "lazy eye" work harder are used.

Two to five per cent of all children develop a lazy eye. Fortunately, about 95 per cent of them can be treated successfully. But if treatment is not begun soon enough, vision in the defective eye will deteriorate rapidly. The longer the wait for definite diagnosis, the smaller the chance for successful corrective treatment. By early I mean as soon as possible, at least before the child is four.

The parents seem to be right on schedule in your granddaughter's case. Conservative measures usually correct things. The patch therapy is one of the most common treatments, but the patch must be worn at all times during the day. Even a brief period of not wearing it may cancel out the good done in hours of use.

Corrective lenses often bring results. Was the eye-patch therapy tried in your granddaughter's case?

If conservative measures show no results, then surgery remains as the only alternative. The operation, not a difficult one for an experienced eye surgeon, involves correction of one or more of the faulty muscles.

Before surgery, a careful study is made to determine which of the muscles are too weak, or which too strong. Corrective surgery of this kind is successful in about 90 per cent of the cases.

ONE INJURED — James E. Salley, 37, was critically injured in the car shown above in a collision with a gasoline transport in the background at 2 p.m. Friday at the IS 20 exit to the north service road in front of Cosden. The two vehicles collided almost head on. The truck was traveling east on the north service road. Salley was rushed by Alert Ambulance to Malone-Hogan and then to Methodist Hospital in Lubbock for head injuries.

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — A spring cold front brought planting of crops in Texas to a near standstill last week, although planting continues to creep northward, according to the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

soon. Wheat, corn and potato planting is under way, and onions are already in the ground. Freeze damage to fruit reported.

Rolling Plains: High winds are sapping soil moisture despite good rains the past week. Wheat prospects are excellent, while alfalfa is making good growth. Fruit trees in full bloom before the freeze were badly amaged, along with jointed wheat.

Far West: Rain is needed in this region, now being buffeted by strong winds and dust. Planting is centered around onions, melons, lettuce and cabbage. Pima cotton land is under preparation. Livestock are in good condition.

West Central: A general rain would be welcome to the boost small grains and ranges. Some wheat is starting to joint and will be booting soon. Land is being prepared for cotton, sorghum and peanuts. Some peaches were killed by the cold spell. Livestock are generally in good shape, and bountiful lamb and calf crops are reported.

Adobe Oil Discovery

Adobe Oil No.1-A Mims has been completed as a lower Wolfcamp discovery four miles northeast of Stanton. The venture flowed 186 barrels of 47.7-gravity oil and no water on a test through 16-64th choke. The gas-oil ratio was 1,919. Production was through perforations at 10,054-56, treated with 6,000 gallons of acid. Previously the well had made four million cubic feet of gas per day, which dropped off rapidly to 50,000 CFD, in the Strawn at 10,292-297. Production possibilities were indicated in the Dean and Spraberry, which produce in the area. Location is 1,329 from the north and east lines section 4-36-1n, T&P.

Two Glasscock tests were coring, Amoco No.1 Frank Powell at 8,096 and Amoco No.1-D Powell at 8,010.

In Sterling County, Boykin Bros. of Big Spring staked two Queen tests in the Parochial-Bade field, both to 1,400 feet and both in section 22-22, H&TC. No.10 Bade is 1,917 feet from the south and 2,284 from the west lines, and No.10-B Bade is 430 from the south and 990 from the east.

Other Sterling ventures include C&K No.1-26 Glass, pumping 25 barrels of oil and 2 of water in 23 1/4 hours from

Items Stolen Back In 1973

Items found in a vacant lot here last week turned out to be stolen goods from the Gold Bond Stamp Store.

The unusual portion of the story is that the items were stolen back in 1973. They were in a green plastic bag and were still in remarkably good condition, according to Sgt. Melvin Daratt, city police identifications officer.

A group of garden club members plan to visit the city council meeting Tuesday to ask for stronger teeth in the litter laws.

Recover Loot, Charge Teen With Burglary

Bruce Echols, 19, was arrested by city police at his home at 506 Austin and charged with burglary. Judge Walter Grice set bond at $10,000.

He was arrested in connection with items stolen at Culligan Water Softener Co. this week. The items taken included nine bars of soap, one box of beauty bar, two hair rinses, four household cleaners; three hair conditioner rinses; three protein hair treatments; eight Culligan soaps, five cold water soaps, one floor and wall cleaner and five laundry fresheners.

Also found in his possession were several items which had been stolen recently from Big Spring High School. These included a 16 millimeter projector, a Bell and Howell projector, two speakers, several films, seven tapes and reels, a tape player and Tapematic. Another item in his possession was a Messinger 323 belonging to Glenn Perry. There were also several items belonging to Jim Wiley. These included a stereo, radio, guy wire, voltage tester, fire extinguisher, TV transformer, lead wire, generator, and tools.

Rape Try In Downtown Big Spring Charged

An attempted rape was committed in an office in downtown Big Spring about 5 p.m. Friday.

The victim, a 27-year-old secretary was apparently struck over the head with a small statue after she fought all over the office in the struggle, losing a shoe and several buttons from her clothes, and received several bruises before she was struck down by the assailant. She staggered to the door for help and police officers quickly obtained a description. Witnesses, who

Two city ordinances prohibit litter including all kinds of trash or paper thrown anywhere in the streets, gutters, alleys or public buildings.

A second ordinance prohibits distributing advertising handbills to residences, business, placing them on cars or throwing them in the streets. Both are misdemeanors and include fines with the violation.

In other action Tuesday, the commissioners will canvass the election returns, swear in the newly elected council members, reorganize the council, elect the mayor pro-tem, and set a time and date for a Town Hall meeting in connection with HUD funds.

THEY ALSO ARE TO DISCUSS A REQUESTED ZONING CHANGE MAKING ALL OF Block 10, or College Park Shopping Center light commercial, and to review minutes from the Traffic Commission, Tourism and Development and other commissions.

They also will discuss an application for a grant to operate the Detoxification Center from July 1975 to June 1976.

HELP STOP E.R.A.!

UNLESS YOU ARE FOR

1. Legalized Lesbianism and Homosexuality
2. Women Drafted Like Men
3. Loss of Statist Rights
4. Breakdown of the Home

Q. "DOESN'T TEXAS LAW FORBID THE 'MARRIAGE' OF HOMOSEXUALS?"
A. Yes. But if the 27th. Amendment is ratified, this Texas law will be nullified and superseded. To deny marriage license to any person because of sex will then be unconstitutional (Yale Law Journal, January, 1973). See also testimony of Prof. Paul Freund and Prof. James White (Cong. Rec. March 21, 1972, p. 54372).

Q. "SINCE HOMOSEXUALS ARE LIVING TOGETHER ANYWAY WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE"
A. If such relationships are legalized, will it not then be unconstitutional to deny adoption of children solely on the basis of the sex of the applicants. Do you want to be responsible for helping to so place innocent children. Also, same-sex couples" will then enjoy all tax benefits of legal marriage.

Q. "WE DON'T HAVE THE DRAFT ANY MORE. SO ISN'T THIS JUST ANOTHER SCARE TACTIC?"
A. The draft has not been repealed, merely deactivated. All 18-year-old males still must register. Are we naive enough to think there will never be another military conflict. Rep. F. Edward Hebert, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, predicts a reinstatement of the draft within three years (San Antonio Light, April 6, 1974). Women now have the privilege to enlist, with all educational and retirement benefits. Most people in our nation do not favor drafting women. However, some do. This is very evident by the Senate debate prior to passage of ERA in Washington. Sen. Ervin made two proposals to protect women—No. 1065 would have exempted women from compulsory military training, and No. 1066 would have exempt women from combat. Both proposals were rejected. This refusal to attach these qualifying restrictions to the ERA is proof of the desire and intent of its supporters (Cong. Record, op. cit.)

Q. "DOESN'T CONGRESS NOW HAVE THE POWER TO DRAFT WOMEN"
A. Yes, but Congress has chosen not to use that power, but rather to exempt women.

Q. "THEN WHAT WOULD BE THE DIFFERENCE UNDER ERA?"
A. Under ERA Congress would lose the right to exempt women from the draft. To exempt because of sex would be discrimination and therefore unconstitutional (Cong. Rec., op. cit., p. 54373). Supporters and opponents alike agree that ERA would necessitate drafting man and women on equal basis, including combat duty (Yale Law Journal, p. 969-977).

Q. "DIDN'T TEXAS VOTERS RATIFY THE EQUAL RIGHTS AMENDMENT BY A VOTE OF 4 TO 1?"
A. No. The Federal ERA, 27th. Amendment, is not voted on by the citizens. It is a legislative process decided in State Legislatures. It was passed in Washington March 22, 1972, and sent to the states for ratification. If 38 states ratify, it will become a Constitutional Amendment. The Texas Legislature ratified on March 30, 1972, and it will be their responsibility to revoke this action. Therefore, the only way Texans can help to rescind the ERA is through their State Representatives. So let them know how you feel about it — immediately!

Q. "THEN WHAT DID TEXANS VOTE ON?"
A. Texans voted on a State ERA, and there is a great deal of difference. Though many provisions are parallel, the State ERA is state-enforced and could be revoked by the voters — as long as there is no Federal ERA to supersede it. The Federal ERA would be a Constitutional Amendment, federally enforced, a necessary guideline for federal judges in court decisions. Unwanted or evil effects could be reversed only by another Constitutional Amendment, which would require many years.

Q. "DO YOU WANT TO LOSE YOUR RIGHT NOT TO WORK?"
A. If you are married, you may choose to work outside your home. But you may choose to stay at home, to rear your children, to be supported by your husband. The ERA will abolish this right. It will invalidate all laws which require the husband to support his family and will make the wife equally responsible for support. You can be forced to supply half the family support, or all of it, if you are a better wage earner (pp. 944, 945, Yale Law Journal, which was inserted in the Congressional Record by Senator Birch Bayh, leading proponent of ERA). What about your children? You can be forced to put them in a federal day care center, if one is available. And to see that one is available is a major goal of the leaders in the movement to ratify the ERA. Under the ERA, if a wife fails to support her husband, he can use it as grounds for divorce (Yale Law Journal, p. 951). This can work a special hardship on senior women who have spent their lives rearing their families and are not prepared to enter the job market.

Q. "WILL THE ERA HELP DIVORCED WOMEN?"
A. Divorced women will lose the customary right of child custody, child support, and/or alimony, and can be forced to pay child support and alimony, if her husband wins custody of the children (Yale Law Journal, p. 952).

Q. "WHAT ABOUT OTHER EFFECTS ON FAMILY LIFE?"
A. Wife and children will not be required to wear the name of husband and father. They can choose any name they wish. Can you imagine the resulting confusion?

Women Can Demand By Law Now:

All rights most women want:
E.R.A. IS UNNECESSARY!

Its proponents claim that E.R.A. is necessary to give women full legal rights, but this is simply not true. There is not a single area of legal rights in which women are not already covered by existing federal and-or state laws. Equal pay and equal job and education opportunities—that's what most people think E.R.A. means, but these and all other legal rights are covered by six (6) existing federal laws, two (2) Executive Orders, one (1) Labor Department Order, and the 14th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. These are—

FEDERAL LAWS—
1. The Civil Rights Act, 1964; 2. The Equal Employment Opportunity Act, 1972; 3. The Equal Pay Act, 1963; 4. The Comprehensive Employment and Training Act, 1973; 5. The Education Amendments of 1972; 6. The Depository Institutions Amendment of 1974.

EXECUTIVE ORDERS—
Number 11246 (1967) and Number 11478 (1969).
ORDER NUMBER 4 of the SECRETARY LABOR (1972)

These laws, orders and Amendment have been used many times in the past few years to give women full legal rights in many areas including: education, criminal sanctions, jobs, jury duty, etc., etc.

Mass Murder Brady Student Charge Filed Is 'Red Raider'

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — A Butler County grand jury returned an 11-count indictment Friday against James Ruppert two hours before burial services began for the 11 members of his family he is accused of killing during an Easter Sunday reunion.

The indictment was returned with the stipulation that the death penalty could be sought by the prosecution since more than two persons were killed in the same incident.

Butler County Prosecutor James Holcomb declined comment on whether he would seek the death penalty if the 40-year-old unemployed draftsman was convicted.

Officials said Ruppert would be arraigned next week.

While the grand jury was reporting its findings, 11 hearses were at Sacred Heart Church in nearby Fairfield to begin the trip to the gravesite for the coffins of Ruppert's 65-year-old mother, Charity; his brother, Leonard, 42; sister-in-law, Alma, and his eight nieces and nephews, ages 4 to 17. All were shot to death during an Easter reunion at the home of Ruppert's mother.

CIA KILLED KENNEDY?

Reopening Assassination Investigation Supported

DALLAS (AP) — For Frank Mankiewicz, political mover and shaker, this campaign is much like any other.

Every day a new city, a different hotel, up before dawn for tapings, television talk shows and newspaper interviews. Food and sleep are snatched hurriedly in great gulps, not savored.

But this time, he's not hustling for a Kennedy, as in 1968, or a McGovern, as in 1972—he's hustling for himself, for his new book, "The Final Crisis: U.S. vs. Richard Nixon."

And although he doesn't let on publicly, Mankiewicz must take some ironic satisfaction that his latest foray into writing is courtesy of the downfall of the man who gave George McGovern, whose campaign Mankiewicz managed, the soundest thrashing in the history of American presidential politics.

DON'T WORK
Nixon was the subject of another Mankiewicz book, "Perfectly Clear: Nixon from Whittier to Watergate." But he staunchly maintains his latest book isn't really about Nixon.

"Actually, this book is more about the United States than it is about Nixon," he says. "It proves that the system does work, that when it came to the grand jury, to the evidence, school was out as far as Nixon was concerned."

"The political tricks don't work anymore after it goes to the courts. You can't filibuster a grand jury. You can't cash in political IOUs there."

When his interviewers on a recent local talk show strayed from his book into general politics, Mankiewicz steered them firmly back.

And when they were surprised by his candor about "exploiting my latest book," he was straightforward.

"Look, I think if you've got a book, and you want people to read it, you've got to tell them about it."

WISECRACKED
Later, out of earshot of the hosts, he wisecracked,

"Hell, I didn't get up at 6 a.m. to talk politics. If that's what they want, they can call me at 2, after I've had a good lunch, when I'm relaxed."

Shuttling between appointments, Mankiewicz leans against the headrest and closes his eyes. At 60, his face is rugged, tanned, etched deeply with lines, like scars from misjudged political skirmishes.

It was Mankiewicz who clambered atop the trunk of a car in a Los Angeles parking lot in 1968 to announce that Sen. Robert Kennedy had been killed by an assassin's bullet.

So it is natural that he is curious about the route traced through downtown Dallas by President John F. Kennedy's motorcade. He asks questions about the School Book Depository building from where Lee Harvey Oswald fired the shots that the Warren Commission says killed Kennedy; about the grassy knoll where some say another gunman stood and fired at the President.

SANITY
He says the investigation should be reopened into the President's assassination "for the sake of national sanity. Pretty soon, you're going to have a whole generation believing the CIA killed Kennedy."

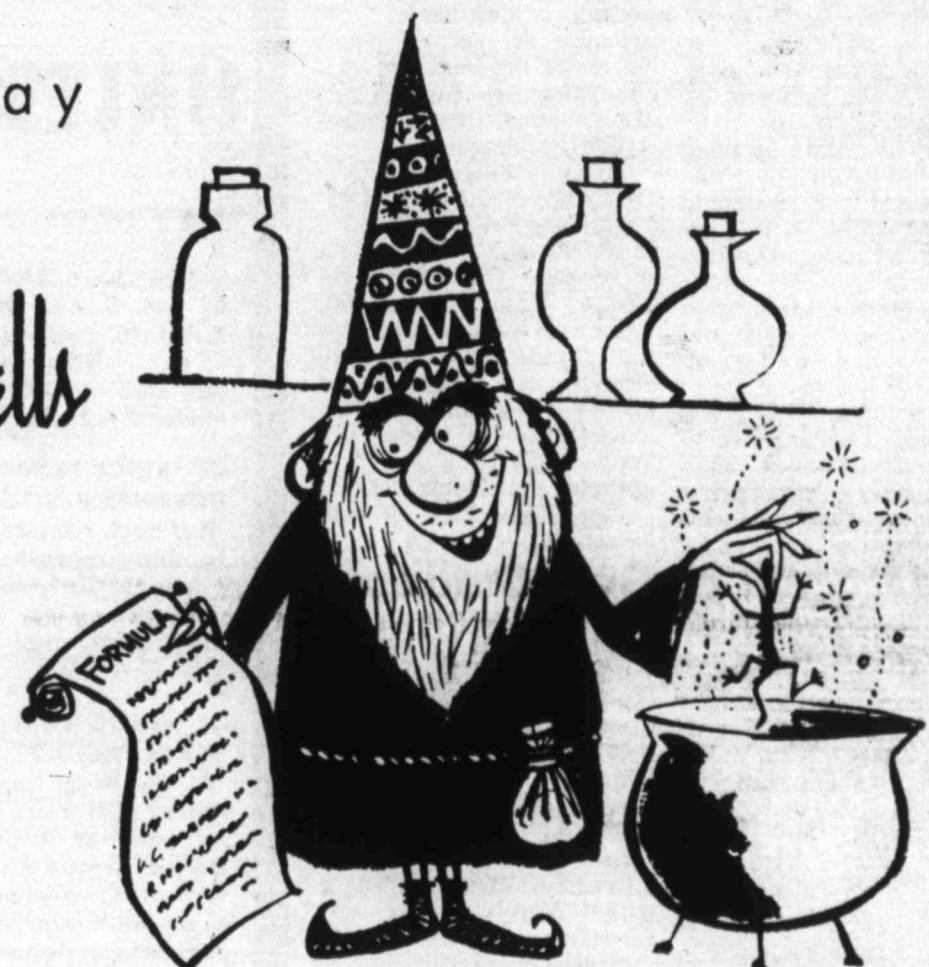

A former Latin American director for the Peace Corps and a Los Angeles lawyer, Mankiewicz goes way back when it comes to characters in the Watergate drama.

While he was editor of the UCLA newspaper, he locked horns with two of his classmates—John Erlichmann and H.R. Haldeman—over whether positions on the newspaper should be appointed or be elected. "We won," he says gleefully. "You know, even at 19, Haldeman used to talk about the Red Menace, and mean it."

BIG SPRING HERALD

SECTION B
BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, APRIL 6, 1975

More or Lesh

By CLARK LESH

Bobby Beall, who bounced the roundball with Thomas Bledsoe and Taylor Williams at Howard College, from 1972-74, was selected the Most Valuable Athlete at Oklahoma Christian College, Edmond.

An All-Stater from Sands High, Beall received a waist high traveling trophy. A plaque was awarded to Beall for his own personal safekeeping.

OCC finished fourth in the Texhoma Conference last season. Beall is majoring in physical education with a history minor.

Big Spring's Ricky McCormick continues to feature the best mile time in the latest West Texas schoolboy track results.

His 4.23.3 clocking posted in Andrews heads a 15-man list.

Big Spring's 440 relay foursome fell from 15th to 19th with a 44.5 recording. James Coffey is No. 20 among area shot-putters, heaving the iron-ball 50 feet even.

The annual Texas Tech All-Sports Banquet honoring all 1974-75 Red Raider athletes is scheduled at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Lubbock Municipal Coliseum.

Steve Sloan, new Red Raider head football coach, will be the featured speaker. The 30-year-old boss is the youngest major college director in the nation, but has already completed seven years of coaching experience.

Quarterback Joe Martin of San Leandro, Calif., has signed a football grant-in-aid with Abilene Christian College.

Clint Longley, former ACC All-America quarterback now with the Dallas Cowboys, visited Martin in California recently and got his signature on an ACC agreement.

A former schoolboy star at Alameda, Calif., High, Martin lettered twice at Laney Junior College in San Leandro. His second season, he completed 187 of 313 passes, (59.7 per cent), for 1,930 yards and 10 touchdowns.

Martin was all-conference, received a Northern California Player of Week award, and was named to the Outstanding Junior College Athletes in America.

Two pre-season road games are now set for the Dallas Cowboys. They will open the summer season at Los Angeles on Saturday night, Aug. 9. The next week, Dallas travels to Kansas City for a Monday night game with the Chiefs, Aug. 18.

Announced previously was the home schedule which includes the Salesmanship Club Charity Game with Minnesota. Saturday night, Aug. 23; Oakland, Saturday night, Sept. 6; and the World Champion Pittsburgh Steelers, Saturday night, Sept. 13.

One more road game will be announced later to complete Dallas' pre-season schedule.

Plans for the third Annual West Texas Fellowship of Christian Athletes retreat are being completed. It is sponsored by the Lubbock Adult Chapter of FCA.

The event, scheduled for April 25 through 27, will be held at the Plans Baptist Campgrounds, south of Floydada.

Over 200 high school and junior high athletes from the West Texas area are expected to be present. Talks will be made by a number of outstanding Christian athletes and coaches from the pro and college ranks.

Texas Tech's Sloan is due to be the opening night speaker. Coaches and athletes who would like to attend are urged to contact Tommy Stone at Lubbock High, (AC) 806-744-9981 or 797-4502.

WHAT'S IT WORTH DEPARTMENT — Wednesday is the national signing dates the day when one NCAA school can sign a prospective athlete and be assured no other NCAA school can get him.

ONLY LEADER

Weiskopf Keeps Ahold Of Lead

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Tom Weiskopf struggled through testing, tricky winds to a 72 but still retained a solid four-stroke lead Saturday in the third round of the $225,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament.

Weiskopf, the only leader in the tournament, but none of the field could make a major challenge in the shifting winds that gusting to more than 30 miles an hour.

Weiskopf had four bogeys in his one-over-par effort, but his 54-hole total of 207 left him six under in the 6,643-yard Sedgefield Country Club course.

And Weiskopf, who hasn't won since his banner season of 1973, remained in firm control.

Ken Still, a bubbly 40-year-old veteran, moved into second with a 69 but remained well back at 211.

Johnny Miller, a three-time winner and the sensation of the tour this year, who admittedly is using this event as a warmup for next week's Masters, came on with a hard-won one-under-par 70 and took a share of third place at 212.

He was tied at that figure with Dave Hill, Jerry McGee and Al Geiberger.

Geiberger's 66 was the best round of the day that remained such as the first two rounds—cold and windy. McGee had a 68, Hill 72.

"I still have an outside chance to win," Miller said. "I'm just gonna try to do a good job and see what happens. I'd be very happy to finish second, third or fourth and go to Augusta in the right frame of mind."

Lee Trevino had a 72 and was one more stroke behind at 213. Arnold Palmer and Gary Player were out of it.

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Top scores after Saturday's third round in the $225,000 Greater Greensboro Open golf tournament on the 6,643-yard, par-71 Sedgefield Country Club course:

Spurred by the most enthusiastic advance ticket sale in its history, the 1975 major league baseball season gets under way this week.

There are four openers scheduled for Monday and Commissioner Bowie Kuhn will be on hand for two of them.

Cincinnati has traditionally had the honor of opening the season first because the Reds are the oldest franchise in baseball. This time the edge is mere hours, with the Reds hosting the Los Angeles Dodgers in Monday's only afternoon game and then three more games scheduled at night.

In the night games, Montreal will be at St. Louis, and Atlanta at Houston in the National League, with Kansas City at California in the American League.

Commissioner Kuhn will be at the Cincinnati game where a capacity crowd of 52,000 will jam Riverfront Stadium to watch Don Gullett duel the Dodgers' Don Sutton.

Then the commissioner will rush to St. Louis for the Cardinals' meeting with Montreal. In that one, Bob Gibson is scheduled to pitch for St. Louis against Dave McNally, who will be making his NL debut with the Expos.

At Houston, where the Astrodome will be celebrating its 10th birthday later this week, Atlanta will pitch Phil Niekro against the Reds.

Then the commissioner will rush to St. Louis for the Cardinals' meeting with Montreal. In that one, Bob Gibson is scheduled to pitch for St. Louis against Dave McNally, who will be making his NL debut with the Expos.

At Houston, where the Astrodome will be celebrating its 10th birthday later this week, Atlanta will pitch Phil Niekro against the Reds.

Then the commissioner will rush to St. Louis for the Cardinals' meeting with Montreal. In that one, Bob Gibson is scheduled to pitch for St. Louis against Dave McNally, who will be making his NL debut with the Expos.

At Houston, where the Astrodome will be celebrating its 10th birthday later this week, Atlanta will pitch Phil Niekro against the Reds.

Then the commissioner will rush to St. Louis for the Cardinals' meeting with Montreal. In that one, Bob Gibson is scheduled to pitch for St. Louis against Dave McNally, who will be making his NL debut with the Expos.

SPORTS SHORTS

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Tickets for the Master's Golf Tournament at the Augusta National Golf Club have been sold out since February, tournament officials said Friday.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Tom Kozlosky, a 24-year-old East Stroudsburg State College linebacker, has been signed by the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League.

Kozlosky, a 6-foot-3, 220-pounder, transferred to East Stroudsburg after spending his freshman season at Virginia Tech.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Florida's basketball team will be back in the Gator Bowl tournament next December.

The Florida Gators, who have won the tourney here seven times, went to the Rainbow Classic in Honolulu last year and lost all three of their games. The lineup for the 1975 Gator Bowl Tournament next Dec. 26-27 was announced Friday. Along with Florida, it includes St. Joseph's of Pennsylvania, Wake Forest and Jacksonville.

Permian Assumes Sole Leadership

A 306 was fired by Permian here Friday in third round of 5-4A play, here Friday at the Big Spring Country Club, assuming sole leadership.

Permian maintains a three stroke advantage with a 924 total for three meets. San Angelo trails Mojo with a 927 score.

The Bobcats had shared the first place with Permian going into Friday's play, but fell to the side, posting a 309.

Midland Lee is third, totaling a 961, followed by Abilene, 982, and San Angelo's No. 2 club, 986.

Randy Waterhouse of San Angelo continues to lead in the medalist department, carding a 222 for three rounds. Second is Permian's Hilton Chancellor with a 227.

Chancellor's teammates Vince Vines and Lee Feemster follow in third and fourth place posting 229 and 230 scores, respectively.

Chancellor was the individual low scorer Friday with a 74, followed by Waterhouses 75.

Big Spring's No. 2 and No. 1 teams finished 13th and 15th respectively. Steer golfers include Bobby Waters, Carl Gresham, Steve Brantley, Duane Thomas, Jeff Newton, Steve Slodges, Steve Corson, Warren Jones, Larry Knight, and Barry Halvorson.

Fourth round play switches to Abilene Wednesday with the final round set for Midland Friday.

No Focal Point To '75 Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — There is no focal point to the Masters this year.

It is impossible at this time to point toward one individual circumstance, or even one set of circumstances, and say with conviction, "This is the one—this is the key to the 1975 Masters."

There is no focal point because there are so many potential focal points.

Is it Lee Elder, who will be making his long-awaited debut as the first black to play in this annual spring rite on the famed—and, until now, all-white—playground that is the Augusta National Golf Club course?

Is it Jack Nicklaus, who suddenly, authoritatively, is reasserting himself as the game's greatest player?

Is it Johnny Miller, the too-good-to-be-true, All-American boy whose exploits—until recently—had overshadowed even the mighty Nicklaus?

Is it the long-awaited Nicklaus-Miller confrontation?

Is it Lee Trevino, now more the grim gauchito than the Merry Mex, making another of his off-again, on-again Masters appearances, now goaded by new ambition?

Is Gary Player, the gallant little South African who seeks to become only the second man in history to make a successful defense of the green jacket?

Is it Arnold Palmer, the proud old champion who has worked so hard and seeks so desperately to recapture even a shadow of the magic that once was his, and his alone?

Is it temperamental Tom Weiskopf, the man of the towering talent who has finished second here on three occasions—but has yet to win? Is he finally ready to control and direct his unquestioned talents?

Or is it someone or something else entirely?

The players themselves begin to unravel the answers to the countless questions in Thursday's first of four rounds over the 7,020-yard, par-72 Augusta National course, the brainchild of the late Bobby Jones and one of the world's most beautiful golf settings.

Little is certain in this tournament, the first of the year's four major tests of golfing greatness.

But certain players in the invited field of 83—only about 78 are expected to

Registration To Continue

AJBC School Set April 13

All adults in the Big Spring area who are interested in working with young people in the American Junior Bowling Congress program are invited to attend a one day certified coach-instructor school to be held at Bowl-A-Roma on April 13.

The school will begin at 9 a.m. and end at 4:30 p.m. There is no cost involved. Jim Beleele, AJBC field representative will conduct the school.

To qualify for certification as a certified coach-instructor, an individual must attend the entire class and pass a written examination given at the close of the day.

The school emphasizes mass teaching techniques with demonstration of proper stance, pushaway, footwork, arm swing, timing, release of the ball and follow-through. Stressed also are the mechanics of ball action, how to deliver a hook ball, speed of the ball, how to correct throwing of the backup ball, strike angles and spare bowling.

The school is part of the AJBC service program and, along with the certified coach clinic, results in the training of more than 5000 adults each year by the AJBC staff.

AJBC serves boys and girls 21 years of age and younger and is jointly sponsored and administered by the Women's International Bowling Congress and American Bowling Congress.

Roosevelt Leaks Inks With Colts

BALTIMORE (AP)—Roosevelt Leaks, an All-American running back before a knee injury limited him to spot duty in his senior year at Texas, signed with the Baltimore Colts Saturday.

Leaks, the second-leading rusher in Longhorn history with 2,923 yards, was picked by the Colts on the fifth round of this year's National Football League draft.

Details of his contract were not released.

As a junior, Leaks gained the attention of pro scouts by running for a Southwest Conference-record 1,415 yards, including 342 in a game against SMU. He was named All-American and finished third in the Heisman Trophy balloting.

But during spring practice prior to his senior year, Leaks suffered a knee injury that required surgery. He carried the ball 96 times last fall for 409 yards.

Leaks, a 5-foot-11, 220-pounder who has been clocked in 4.6 seconds for 40 yards, was passed over in the opening rounds of the NFL draft before Colts General Manager Joe Thomas decided to take a chance.

Doctors now consider Leaks' knee to be sound and Thomas, who considered a running back with speed to break a game open a crucial commodity for the rebuilding Colts.

Irwin and Weiskopf aren't far behind. Palmer and Trevino are questionable. No one knows what to expect from Elder.

KASHMERE HONORED 4A All-State Cage Selection

DALLAS (AP) — Karl Godine and Jarvis Williams, key men in Houston Kashmere's two-year reign in Texas schoolboy basketball, were named to the Texas Sports Writers Association Class 4A All-State basketball team.

Godine, who averaged 28.3 points per game this year as the Rams won their second straight 4A cage title, missed unanimous selection by one vote.

John Schlicher, who led Fort Worth Paschal to second place in the state tournament, was the second leading vote-getter with 35 of a possible 44 points.

Allen Winder, Arlington's 6-foot-10 post, and 6-foot-5 George Walker of Stafford Dulles complete the first team.

Godine had 42 points based on two points for first-team vote and one for second-team. Winder had 27, Williams had 22 and Walker had 15, just one vote ahead of Paschal's Wendell Mays.

Kashmere, which won 78 straight games while piling up two consecutive state 4A titles, had Carl Byrd on the second team and guard Madison Lane on the third team.

State runner-up Paschal was the only other school with more than one player selected to the first three teams.

Six players were named to both the second and third teams because of ties in the voting.

Godine, 6-foot-3, played forward and Williams, 6-foot-6, was post for Kashmere. Schlicher, 6-foot-4, was a guard in Paschal's offense.

Drill Limited To Basic Plays

FORT WORTH (AP) — Quarterback Lee Cook and Jimmy Elzer contributed touchdown passes Saturday as Texas Christian went through a morning scrimmage to end the second week of spring football practice.

Cook connected on a 30-yard scoring pass to Mike Renfro. Elzer threw to junior college transfer Vernon Wells for a 50-yard TD play.

Head coach Jim Shofner emphasized that the scrimmage was limited to very basic plays as the Frogs continue to stress fundamentals.

Junior Champ

Mike Coleman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Coleman of Ackerly, won the Junior Championship for International Clay Pigeon at the Zone Shoot, March 27 through 30, in San Antonio.

The zone comprises four states, Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, and Arkansas. Winners go to Clardon, Ohio, competing in the U.S. International Championships. Further advancement is the Olympic Games set for Montreal in 1976.

Mike has been a member of the Amateur Trapshooting Association since he was nine years old. He was ATA Junior Champ of Texas in 1973.

In 1974, Mike took first in Zone II Handicap; won the Texas State Junior Shoot; copped the Colorado State Class B Doubles Shoot in Loveland; and was co-champion of the Alamogordo Marathon in New Mexico.

Mike is a charter member of the Lamesa Trap Club. He is 16 years old and a sophomore at Sand High in Ackerly.

Besides trapshooting, Mike likes to hunt. He has been on a safari in Africa twice.

Miller Aids West In Win

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Lamont Turner of Forest Park College in St. Louis, Mo., claimed 16 points as he led his West teammates to an 82-60 victory over the East in the first junior college all-star basketball game here Friday.

Western Texas' Bob Miller added 15 points to the West tally as second high scorer for the winners.

Kent Glover of Polk College, Fla., topped the East in scoring with 16 points. Tom Harris of Vincennes, Indiana, grabbed 11 points as the only East player in double figures.

The West jumped to a 19-2 lead at the outset. The East never recovered.

The South humiliated the North, 82-45, in the Texas Women Judo contest just before the men's national match.

Girls Cop 11-B Title

GRADY — Forsan's girls volleyball team copped the District 11-B championship here Thursday afternoon, downing Grady, 15-9, 16-14, and 15-4.

Marka Highley scored 17 points for Forsan, netting 11 straight in the third and final game.

Forsan will play Miles in bi-district at a time and place to be announced.

Recruit Tales Frightening

WASHINGTON (AP) — The stories about recruiting of high school athletes for the nation's college sports programs can be frightening.

Two high school officials in New York were quoted as saying they had no qualms about changing grades on a transcript. From other parts of the country come stories about offers of cars, cash, apartments, women, jobs for Mom and Dad.

Although many of the stories are not true, some are. Recruiting by colleges for the best high school athletes has become a very big and competitive business. Some say it is a race in which humans are bought and sold—a rat race in which winning is the only goal.

College coaches say good recruiting is a necessary evil if they are to develop a winning sports program which, in turn, will result in sell-out crowds, television exposure and postseason competition.

The economic dividends from a winning team, especially in a time of spiraling inflation, puts tremendous pressure on a college coach to make his team number one.

The search for talent brought by that pressure is now on in earnest across the country.

22ND SEASON

Alston Believes In 1-Year Pacts

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (AP) — Walt Alston, dean of major league managers, freely admits he is enthusiastic about his 22nd year with the Los Angeles Dodgers.

And for the 22nd season he's on a one-year contract. He has led the Dodgers to seven National League pennants and four World Series championships, but he's not working on his record.

"I've had a pretty good relationship with the Dodgers over the years," the soft-spoken Alston said. "I believe in my one-year contract. If they don't want me around, I don't want to be here."

Now 63, the gentleman farmer from Ohio is one of the most relaxed managers in baseball. He enjoys romping with his grandchildren and hunting in the off-season. Then, as the baseball season nears, he quietly prepares to go.

"I wouldn't trade jobs with anybody," Alston said the other day when he brought the Dodgers to Winter Haven for an exhibition game.

Alston shrugs off the disappointment of losing the World Series to the Oakland A's last fall. He looks to the future.

"The last couple of years I think I've been more enthused coming to spring training and looking ahead to the regular season," he said. "I like working with young players and that's what we have."

"It gives me great pleasure to see young players improve. It does something to me inside.

There are all kinds of grief, disappointment and aggravation in this game. You have to realize it, and take it. The pleasure you get, though, offsets the other things."

Only four managers have won more pennants than Alston — Hall of Famers Casey Stengel, 10, Joe McCarthy — 9, John McGraw — 9 and Connie Mack — 8.

Despite his record, which also includes six second-place finishes and two thirds, Alston continues to talk of one year at a time.

"I think we've got a pretty good shot at it," he said of the Dodgers' pennant chances this year. "We have many fine young players and we picked up a great deal of valuable experience last year."

Asked the reason for his success in his long tenure with the Dodgers, Alston said:

"I expect 100 per cent from my ballplayers. If I get that, I feel that the club will be okay."

Slow-Pitch Set Sunday

The Women's Slow-Pitch League at Webb AFB blasts off Sunday. Play will be held at Field No. 1 or 2 across from the base exchange.

In the first game at 2 p.m., the Sand Dusters oppose Freedom Flyers, followed at 4 p.m., Youngblood & Co., (formerly Youngblood & Patriots, formerly Aces).

The Pink Panthers will be idle.

Col. Bob Missenhammer, base commander at Webb AFB, will throw out the first ball.

A's Face Challenging Guns Of Texas Rangers

By the Associated Press

Through a series of deals such familiar National League players as Hank Aaron, Bobby Bonds, Lee May, Billy Williams, Willie Davis, Nate Colbert and Ken Singleton are now wearing American League uniforms.

They're expected to make the tough American League even tougher, and the job of picking a champion nearly impossible.

As the winner of three straight World Series the Oakland A's must be given due consideration—even if they did lose Catfish Hunter to the New York Yankees in one of the biggest steals in baseball history.

While their 25-game winner escaped through a loophole in his contract and left the A's one ace pitcher short, they did land Williams, the longtime Chicago Cub slugger.

This gives the A's a real swinger in the middle of the lineup and their potentially best hitting team in history. The figures should add up to another West Division title for the A's, who face only the challenging guns of the Texas Rangers in that group.

The Rangers have one of the best collections of young talent in the majors, including 1974 Most Valuable Player Jeff Burroughs and Rookie of the Year Mike Hargrove. Some of the older talent includes one of the best pitchers around, perennial 20-game winner Ferguson Jenkins, and Davis, one of the best outfielders in the game.

The American League East race might be more exciting—or it might not be, depending on how the Yankees live up to their potential. With the acquisition of Hunter, the American League's best pitcher, and Bonds, one of the best players in baseball, the Yankees would seem to be the team to beat in the East.

The Yankees, who last won the AL pennant in 1964, should gain the Eastern championship in a battle to the wire with the Baltimore Orioles. With the arrival of May and Singleton, the Orioles have an awesome group of hitters and will challenge the favorites for eastern supremacy.

The Milwaukee Brewers and Detroit Tigers won't challenge anyone for anything, but they will have some excitement in their towns with Aaron and Colbert in their respective lineups. Aaron, baseball's all-time home run king, will not only give the Brewers punch on the field but at the box office. Colbert, a longtime fence-breaker in the National League, will be playing in one of the American League's coziest parks in Tiger Stadium.

No one's conceding the East pennant to New York, but with the acquisition of Hunter and Bonds, the Yankees have established themselves as preseason favorites. Those blue chippers will join a team that lost the American League East title last season by two games.

Cleveland has baseball's first black manager in Frank Robinson and also baseball's first manager-designated hitter in Robinson.

Orioles Figured To Be Stronger

MIAMI (AP) — Now that the Baltimore Orioles know where they'll be playing the home portion of the 1975 baseball season, Manager Earl Weaver can go about the job of molding another pennant contender.

After board chairman Jerold C. Hoffberger offered to sell the team last October, there was considerable speculation that the franchise would be shifted out of Baltimore.

But Hoffberger, whose biographical sketch and those of other front-office personnel were left out of this year's club information guide, told the players at the outset of spring training that Baltimore's Memorial Stadium will be home again this year.

Although the Orioles top the major leagues with 586 victories in the past six years while winning five of six American League East Division titles, home attendance has been below one million for each of the past three seasons.

An upsurge at the gate is expected this year for three reasons: public response to the threat of a move, more home run power by the Orioles, and the likelihood of a tight division race.

The New York Yankees, who finished just two games behind Baltimore last season, should be even more formidable with the addition of pitcher Catfish Hunter and outfielder Bobby Bonds.

But the Orioles figure to be stronger, too, as the result of off-season trades.

They've added power with the acquisition of first baseman Lee May and outfielder Ken Singleton, an experienced catcher in Dave Duncan, and pitcher Mike Torrez, who had a 15-8 record last season at Montreal.

Among the players the Orioles had to give up in exchange were pitcher Dave McNally, who holds the club record of 181 victories, and Boog Powell, Baltimore's all-time home-run leader with 303.

May, who has averaged 30 homers and 96 runs batted in for the last seven seasons, joins an infield of three 1974 Gold Glove winners in third baseman Brooks Robinson, shortstop Mark Belanger and second baseman Bobby Grich.

Singleton, a switch-hitter who slumped at Montreal last year after hitting .302 with 23 homers and 103 RBI in 1973, could be an outfield regular.

The other top outfield candidates include Paul Blair, another Gold Glove winner who hit 17 homers last year; Don Baylor, who batted .385 during Baltimore's 28-6 finish of 1974, and Al Bumbry, who slumped to .233, or 104 points below the mark which earned him Rookie of the Year honors in 1973.

The pitching staff probably will be strong again, provided Jim Palmer avoids a recurrence of the arm trouble which dropped his record to 7-12 last season.

The 1973 Cy Young Award winner will be in a rotation with Mike Cuellar, who has won 125 games in six seasons with Baltimore, Torres, and Ross Grimsley, an 18-game winner in his first season with the Orioles.

Your DAILY HOROSCOPE from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

SUNDAY, APRIL 6, 1975 GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day to carefully consider that your goals are and how to work out a sensible plan to achieve them. The day grows better as it advances so try to avoid any drastic actions early. Be logical. ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Morning is not a good time to ask for favors from friends, so wait until the afternoon. Attend the social this evening.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Be sure not to argue with an outsider who could give you trouble today. Steer clear of people you know little about. GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Seek advice from experts on how to improve yourself so that you can get ahead faster. A good time to plan a trip.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Don't give up present commitments so that you can go to new appointments. Be earnest. Make future plans. LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Know what it is that associates expect from you. A civic matter can now improve your situation in life. Avoid the limelight.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) The afternoon is the best time to do a favor for one who has been good to you in the past. Take needed health treatments. LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Attending to the services of your choice and meditating can make this a most happy day for you. Relax at home tonight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Pleading kin is first on the agenda today although outsiders may want to occupy your time. Show your true hospitality. AQUARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Be sure to attend services that will be helpful to you. Later, engage in inflexible drive for happiness.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Elevate your consciousness and you will be inspired with an excellent idea. Be sure to put it to work immediately. PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Think over various ways you can become more successful in your line of endeavor. Show increased devotion to loved one.

MONDAY, APRIL 7, 1975 general tendencies: You made brilliant plans over the weekend which you can now put in action. But do so as quietly and inconspicuously as possible so you do not waste any time in the doing.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Consult with an expert on how best to get some important plan working successfully. Help a good pal who is in trouble. TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Gain support of a good friend for some problem or plan and get good results. Show your social know-how later in the day.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) handle career, public affairs efficiently. Some credit affair should be attended to without further delay. Don't get into a bind! MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You have new ideas that you should put into operation quickly, since they are excellent and can bring you profit!

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Don't neglect obligations any longer. Show more thought for male and let your relationship be more harmonious. VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Listen carefully to what associates say to increase harmony. Know how to improve prestige now enjoyed. Avoid a temptation to over-spend.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Plan how to make your surroundings more attractive and efficient so you can have more leisure in the future. Gain co-workers' approval. SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Fit some pleasure into your busy work curricula today and relieve tension through art, music, or sports in the p.m. improve it!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Those who dwell with you are apt to be touchy now, so use kid gloves when dealing with them. Investigate new appointments that will lead to advancement for you in the future. Don't procrastinate about important shopping!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Know what is owed and what you owe. Make appointments that will lead to advancement for you in the future. Don't procrastinate about important shopping!

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Dress well early and then off to keep business appointments. Pay bills. You can get needed backing from a bigwig. Be conscientious.

NEW HOME BUYERS GET TAX BREAK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Persons buying new homes will get help in obtaining the best price possible as well as a tax break under the tax cut law signed by President Ford.

The law provides a 5 per cent tax credit on the purchase price of new homes, with a maximum credit of $2,000.

To prevent sellers from increasing the price because of the credit, the law requires that the sale be made at the lowest price at which the new house ever was offered for sale.

A homebuyer claiming the tax credit will have to attach to his tax return a certificate from the seller that the home was sold at the lowest price. If the certification is false, the seller may be prosecuted and the homebuyer is entitled to recover an amount equal to three times the difference between the purchase price and the previous lower price that was offered.

The tax credit was designed to spur the home building industry by helping clear out a backlog of an estimated 600,000 unsold, new homes.

The tax credit is different from a tax deduction in that the credit can be subtracted from the taxes that otherwise would be payable. Congress has estimated that the total credits under the bill amount to $600 million.

In addition to new homes, the credit applies to purchase of mobile homes and living units in condominiums or cooperative housing projects. The home must have been under construction prior to March 26 of this year and the purchase made or agreed upon between March 12 and Dec. 31, 1975.

'Bleep' Yankees Don't Understand, Says Tower

NEW BRAUNFELS, Tex. (AP) — Congressmen are dividing along regional lines concerning energy problems "because the damned Yankees don't understand the economics of the oil and gas business," U.S. Sen. John Tower, R-Tex. said Friday.

Tower said energy consuming states want to control the distribution of energy products but don't want negative aspects of production in their states, he said.

And Tower said non-energy states are not looking toward long range solutions.

The senator spoke to a luncheon of the ninth annual Legislative Seminar. He predicted Congress be unable to come to a comprehensive energy policy in the near future because of regional differences.

He said producing states want to keep their petroleum and he called for deregulation.

Tower also criticized bills which would give the president control over interstate sales of natural gas, saying a free market economy will be the best solution.

Tower said too much government regulation of the free market almost always causes problems and he had urged President Ford not to sign the recent tax rebate legislation.

The market will right itself without government intervention, said Tower, who again urged a stand for "the oldtime religion."

He said, however, it is hard to tell unemployed workers or bankrupt businessmen that Americans must practice patience before the economy can come around.

"I think we must be careful about what we do," Tower said, or the "fires of

SS Agent Will Visit In Area

A representative of the Big Spring Social Security Office will visit four area cities over a period of the next three months, offering help to those applying for benefits or who merely want to ask questions about the program.

The agent will be on the third floor of the Scurry County courthouse at Snyder each Tuesday during April, May and June from 10 a.m. until 12 noon and again from 1 until 2 p.m.

At Colorado City, meeting with the representative can be arranged at the Chamber of Commerce office from 10 a.m. until 12 noon and again from 1 to 2 p.m., every Wednesday during those three months.

The agent will be in Lamesa at the Senior Citizens Center every Thursday over the three-month period from 10 a.m. until 12 noon and again from 1 to 2 p.m.

The SS representative will visit Stanton's temporary courthouse April 28, May 19 and June 23 from 2 to 3 p.m., for public conferences.

Drilling Edge Still Wide

The margin of oil well drilling over a year eased a bit but still is wide, the March 31 report of Hughes Tool Company to the International Association of Drilling Contractors shows.

Says Energy Plantations Could Help Shortage

HOUSTON (AP) — A Virginia chemical engineer says thickly planted trees on "energy plantations" could help solve the nation's shortage of natural gas.

Dr. Clinton Kemp said his group has come up with a plan to harness solar energy by growing on land with no present commercial value trees like poplars, alders, willows or cottonwoods.

The trees would be harvested after three or four years' growth, ground up and placed in large tanks for 10 to 15 days, said Kemp, vice president of Inter-Technology Corp. of Warrenton, Va.

With water added, he said, biological action would produce carbon dioxide and methane. Facilities on the energy plantation would separate the two and compress the methane "essentially natural gas" to pipeline transmission pressure, Kemp said.

"This is a perpetually renewable source of natural gas ... without any serious environmental problems," he said. "As long as the sun shines, we can grow trees."

Kemp, in Houston to address a meeting of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, said where rainfall is 20 inches or more a year, "roughly anywhere in the eastern or central time zones" there are between 140 million and 200 million acres suitable for energy plantations.

He said this land is not being used for food production, tree farms, national parks or wilderness.

"This land has enough growing capacity to produce between half and three-fourths of the natural gas we used in this country last year," Kemp said.

The trees would be harvested with large machines when trunk diameters are between one and two and a half inches and the trees 17 to 20 feet tall, he said.

The huge tanks could be built of concrete or steel. Once the "digestion" process is complete the water could be reused and materials not digested would be used as fertilizer for new trees growing from harvested stumps or started from cuttings.

"We can use land that's not suitable for intense farming because it has slopes too big or because it is too hard to plow," Kemp said.

Saluting Texas' Gold Star Mothers

By JO BRIGHT

It's the organization no one wants to belong to. There are no honorary members — and the price of membership is dear. A life must have been sacrificed. Yet there are 700 chapters in the United States, and every member of those chapters would rather not have her name on the rolls.

The American Gold Star Mothers Inc. is composed of about 15,000 women whose sons have lost their lives in military service.

Today, the Department of Texas is ending its state convention in Big Spring with the election of officers and the Retiring of the Colors.

The 22nd annual convention began Friday at the Settles Hotel with a 7:30 p.m. memorial service introduced by Mrs. Kathryn Thomas of Big Spring, state president, and Mrs. Rose Neutze, chaplain. The memorial address was by Lt. Col. Arthur W. Burer of Webb AFB, a former prisoner of war in Vietnam. Afterward, a reception was held in the Crystal Ballroom.

Saturday's events began with a breakfast at the hotel, after which Mrs. Ruedelle Rogers, president of the Big Spring Chapter, officially opened the convention. Mrs. Josephay Fleming, national president, was introduced, and the welcoming address was by Mrs. Thomas. Welcomes were also extended from Mayor Wade Choate, Terry Hanson, Chamber of Commerce manager, and representatives of several local groups.

The business of the convention was introduced by Mrs. Edna Peacock of Big Spring and continued until a mid-afternoon recess. The final business session was directed by state chairmen, Mrs. Rosa McDonald, Mrs. Nona Gieger, Mrs. Edna Stewart, Mrs. Gay Dove, Mrs. Ethel Smith, Mrs. Kitty Fisher and Mrs. Peacock.

The convention banquet was held Saturday evening at Howard College, and activities resumed at 9:30 a.m. today.

CONVENTION LEADERS The twenty-second annual convention of American Gold Star Mothers Inc., Department of Texas, is concluding today in Big Spring, as the final business session is held at the Settles Hotel. Pictured are four local members who have been leaders in the event. From left, they are Mrs. Truett Thomas, state president; Mrs. A.W. Moody, state music chairman; Mrs. Huey Rogers, chapter president; and Mrs. Ted Peacock, corresponding secretary.

Elaine Sparks and Mrs. Peacock, registration; Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. Della Nobles, reception; Mrs. Smith, nominations; Mrs. Eunice Brown, rules; Mrs. Moody, special guests; Mrs. Mildred Lusk and Mrs. Myre Barnes, hostesses; Mrs. Peacock, luncheon; and Mrs. Lucille Jacobs, national officers page.

The American Gold Star Mothers Inc. had its beginning in 1928 when a group of 25 mothers residing in Washington, D.C. met to form the non-political, non-denominational, non-profitable organization. The resulting membership was composed of women who had lost a son or daughter in World War I. Later, the membership was opened to those who had lost a son or daughter in World War II, and still later, to those whose sons or daughters died in Korea or Vietnam.

The object of the organization is to "keep alive and develop the spirit that promoted world service," maintain ties of fellowship, further patriotic works, assist veterans and their dependents, help each other and come to the aid of those who were wounded or incapacitated.

American Gold Star Mothers Inc. is a member of the Advisory Board of the Veterans Administration Voluntary Service, and individual members have given many hours of voluntary service at hospitals.

By presidential decree, the last Sunday in September has been designated as "Gold Star Mother's Day."

The local chapter, organized May 19, 1951, has a current membership of 22, with six fathers as associate members.

NATIONAL president of American Gold Star Mothers Inc. is Mrs. Josephay Fleming who is here to address local members and participate in a Memorial Tribute to Sons and Daughters.

New Dolls Commemorate Bicentennial

By VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures Writer

Wit, warmth, compassion, humor and service were some of the qualities that motivated "Madame" (Bee) Alexander, as she is known, in choosing six First Ladies for her newest doll collection meant for the Bicentennial. Her dolls — some 5,000 different ones in the last half-century — have always carried a cultural message, she said, in explaining her choices of Presidents' wives.

"Now you take Mary Lincoln," the pretty octogenarian was saying the other day. "She was so misunderstood. I believe there were enemies all around her in the White House because she was a southerner . . . and her son, the terrible thing he did, saying his mother was mental. I think she was spending money too fast to suit him and he feared there wouldn't be enough left for him . . ."

"And what Julia Grant had to put up with," she went on. "Because of the President's problem (alcoholism) she had to receive many delegations and take over in trying to weld the nation . . ."

As for Eleanor Roosevelt, "she was a great humanitarian," Martha Washington was "sweet, amiable, neat with dainty, doll-like qualities and, like me, she was not an eager scholar," Madame Alexander added. Dolley Madison had "wit and warmth, taking care of her mother and younger sister." She also was a good hostess for Jefferson and "the secret of her success may have been that she never held a grudge," she remarked.

Abigail Adams had special appeal for the world-famed doll woman, who parlayed three dolls in the first year into one of the most solvent independently owned businesses in the world.

"Abigail made such excellent business investments that the President was able to retire with a very nice income," she says, admiringly.

It has been that way through all the ages of Mme. Alexander's doll making, which begins with her own research and sketches. The dolls are babies, little girls paintings or fictional characters that have come to life for her in a special way. They are meant to be cultural, she says, to help educate children and pique their interest in the arts, dancing, theater, books, which "can be enjoyed by the poorest people."

"When I designed my ballerina, it was really to encourage little girls to dance, to make them more graceful," she says, and while she claims to have no favorites in the doll world, "like any good mother," an affectionate series was Little Women, where she identified with the eldest of four girls, the Meg of the family.

When campus riots were at their height, she introduced a Grandma Jane doll with silvery head and glasses which she hoped "would bring little girls closer to their grandmothers and respect for family life."

"The maternal instinct is born in women and it should be encouraged," was the way she felt.

She was impressed with "Gone with the Wind," and her sympathies were aroused by the starving Scarlett's generosity in "sharing a carrot, the only thing she could find, with her Negro maid." So Scarlett, too, was the basis for a doll.

She is not designing dolls to compete in a boy's play world, though, an idea that some feminists have touted. Her elegantly dressed Blue Boy (Gainsborough) and Red Boy (Goya) are among dolls in her portrait series. And there is Laurie, a boyfriend of Jo in Little Women. That is about as far as the doll thing will go at the moment, Women's Lib or not.

"If a little boy wants to play with a doll, let him. It may show his paternalist instinct. But you shouldn't rush out and buy him a doll for his birthday," in her opinion.

Her dolls are beautiful, well-groomed and handsomely dressed, large and small. They have established fashion trends. Her ballerinas in the '20s wore the forerunners of pantyhose and her dolls have been dressed in luxurious fabrics and Paris-styled clothes that are American-made like her dolls.

Twenty years ago she created a sensation in bringing out the first fashion doll. After "thinking about introducing an anatomy-perfect doll for three years" she brought out Cissy at a toy fair.

"In her black lace chemise or white lace covering over her pink body, the buyers ogled her ecstatically and I had to convince them it wasn't meant for a peep show. I was seriously introducing fashion."

And then manufacturers copied it and turned her "thing of beauty" into a sexpot with big bosoms, she commented.

A vibrant, radiant woman, who looks decades younger than her 80 years, Mme. Alexander has been around dolls all her life — her father had a doll hospital in New York — before she began making dolls 52 years ago. Now she is assisted by her artist daughter, Mildred, her son-in-law and grandson in a family enterprise. Of her recent awards, she is proudest of two, the "Torch of Learning," given by the American Friends of Hebrew University, and one bestowed by the Alfred Einstein College of Medicine, Women's Division.

ONE OF THE most popular dolls made by Mme. Alexander is Elise, slim, lovely, well-groomed and beautifully dressed. Inset is Mme. Alexander, who began making dolls 52 years ago.

Ten Years Of Widowhood?

The average American wife can expect close to ten years of widowhood, and the odds are five-to-one that she will outlive her husband. Yet millions of widows (and widowers) are totally unprepared for this difficult adjustment to life alone.

Knowing the problems one must face and learning how to deal with them can be of immeasurable help during this traumatic period, according to a free guide prepared for persons in the 55-plus age group by the American Association of Retired Persons-National Retired Teachers Association.

The "Widowhood Guide", which discusses preparation, bereavement, and money and household management, points out that all widows and all experts agree on the need for a husband and wife to prepare together for the death of one spouse.

Such preparation includes full knowledge by both husband and wife of the location and amounts of available financial resources, such as bank accounts, stocks, real estate, insurance policies and survivors benefits, as well as the name of legal and financial experts used by the family in the past.

The Guide strongly advises against any drastic changes in life-style during at least the first six months of widowhood, when the widow or widower will experience different "phases of grief." According to the Guide, the survivor first experiences a period of shock and detachment. Then shock passes. The reality of death begins to intrude into the self-protective cocoon. "You begin to feel, and to hurt. It may be the purest pain you have ever known. So give yourself time, a lot of it."

Before making any major changes, the widow or widower should take complete stock of monthly income and expenditures, the Guide suggest. Crucial decisions should be made with the help of a professional.

Also included in the Guide are useful tips (particularly for widowers) on managing a single household, such as procedures for meal preparation, buying and storing of food and homemaking.

The Widowhood Guide is one of a series of free "better retirement" booklets published by AARP-NRTA. With a combined membership of nearly 8,000,000, the Associations are the nation's largest organizations dedicated to helping older citizens achieve retirement lives of purpose, dignity and independence.

For a free copy of "Your Retirement Widowhood Guide," write to: Widowhood Guide, AARP-NRTA, P. O. Box 2400, Long Beach, Calif.

Alcoholism Explained To ABWA

Clyde J. Alsop of the Alcoholic Treatment Center, Big Spring State Hospital, was guest speaker for Scenic Chapter, American Business Women's Association, Tuesday at Howard College.

"Alcoholism is a very serious thing which one does not joke about", said the speaker.

Alsop explained that alcoholism generally starts from a social level. He gave statistics on the number of alcoholics there are and said the disease can not be cured, but it can be curbed if the person gets medical help, relies on his religion and seeks help from such sources as Alcoholics Anonymous.

Symptoms of being a problem drinker were discussed as was the moral and social decline as a drinker progresses in his chronic habit.

Guests of the club were Mrs. Claire Conger, Mrs. Vena Lawson and Ms. Jennifer Humphries, the latter of Oklahoma City, Okla.

Vocational speaker was Ms. Hazel Mixon, supervisor in the controller's office at Webb AFB.

Ms. Diane McCurry was installed as a new member. She is a receptionist.

Delegates Named For Lubbock Convention

Texas Home Demonstration Association, District 2, will hold its spring meeting in Lubbock, Tuesday from 9 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. in Trinity Church, 7002 Canton, Loop 289.

District 2 is comprised of clubs in 18 counties including Howard, Dawson, Mitchell and Scurry. The THDA was originally formed to help farm women learn canning, sewing, etc. Now the clubs have been formed not only in the farm areas but also in towns, cities and urban areas with interests ranging from the smallest of indoor gardens to cooking, canning, freezing, sewing, tailoring, hobbies and civic affairs.

This schedule will be followed:

9:00-9:55 a.m., registration and refreshments.
10:00-11:30 a.m., General assembly with speakers, John Davidson, Chamber of Commerce; Arch Lamb, county commissioner; Ms. Lucille Witten, District 2 director; Ms. Helen Meeks, Lubbock City THDA; and others.

11:30 a.m.-1:00 p.m., Luncheon catered by 4-H of Lubbock County. Proceeds to go as part of their commitment to the 4-H camp at Brownwood. Entertainment furnished by a home demonstration club of Plainview.

1:15-2:30 p.m., Workshops.

Howard County: Cultural Arts and Recreation.

2:30-3:30 p.m., Briscoe County, Safety; Hockley County, Family Life; General Assembly.

Voting delegates from Howard County will be Mrs. J.H. Petty, THDA director; Mrs. Alton Underwood, HD Council president; and Mrs. J.L. Metcalf, president of Airport HD Club. Mrs. Underwood is associated with the City HD Club and Mrs. Petty is a member of the Center Point HD Club.

Mrs. J.F. Skaliyky will be in charge of the Cultural Arts and Recreation Workshop, assisted by Mrs. B.A. Bunn and Mrs. E.A. Williams. Their presentation on hand skills will be related to mental health.

Twenty-four home demonstration club members from Howard County have made reservations to attend the meeting.

Curtains Can Be "Bonded"

A new way of making curtains was explained by Mrs. Lowell Brown, president of the Coahoma Home Demonstration Club, when she presented a program Wednesday at the home of Mrs. D.S. Phillips. The construction method utilized an "iron on" bonded fabric rather than a sewn facing.

Three guests, Ms. Dovie Britton, Mrs. Bradley McQuerry, and Mrs. E.L. Mulkey, attended the meeting.

In a brief business session, Mrs. A.C. Hale presented a report from the last HD Council meeting and was appointed bicentennial chairman for the club.

The club will host the next council meeting, and the next regular club meeting will be a breakfast April 19 in the fellowship hall of the Coahoma Methodist Church. At that time, there will be a speaker for a bicentennial program.

GOP Unit Plans Fund-Raiser

The West Texas Republican Women met in the home of Mrs. Ron McNeil at noon Thursday for a monthly luncheon meeting. Mrs. Garner McAdams presided over a session in which final plans were made for the annual bridge luncheon to be held Thursday. She also distributed membership cards and welcomed two new members. A discussion was led by Mrs. R.G.B. Cowper on the distribution of the news### letter, "The Trumpet."

Mrs. Marj Carpenter spoke to the group on the political implications in 1962 of the Billie Sol Estes scandal and the methods used to tone it down.

Luncheon was served to 18 members and one guest.

Cake Topping

Combine a can of fruit cocktail including syrup with thin slices of lemon and cook down until thick and almost jelled. Serve hot over unfrosted pound or sponge cake.

Freeze Main Dishes For Flavor, Economy

By SHERRY MULLIN
(County HD Agent)

vacant space in your freezer? Put some of it to use by freezing main dishes — prepared, ready to heat, or cooked and ready to serve. Frozen combination main dishes can add variety to your menu, offer quick meals for unexpected company, and provide appetizing, nutritious foods on busy days.

It is more economical to make your own frozen prepared foods than to purchase commercially prepared foods. You can cook enough for several meals when you take the time and then serve the family favorites even on busy days.

When you are preparing a main dish, it takes little more effort and time to make enough for several meals. You can freeze all of the prepared food in meal-sized packages or serve part of the food immediately and freeze the rest.

Use only fresh, high-quality food ingredients because freezing does not improve the quality of food. Select fruits and vegetables at their peak of eating quality. Underripe fruits and vegetables lack flavor and overripe ones are flat and tough or soft and mushy after freezing. Meat and poultry that is tender before freezing will stay tender after freezing if it is properly prepared, packaged, frozen and stored.

Observe strict cleanliness in preparing food for the home freezer. Keep all food to be frozen — and everything that touches it — clean.

Freezer temperatures of 0 degrees or below do not kill the bacteria in food; they simply stop bacteria multiplication. After the frozen food is thawed, bacteria will grow and multiply. Therefore, the number of bacteria in foods must be held at a minimum before foods are frozen.

You may use your own favorite recipes for freezing. Prepare the food in the usual way and cook it until almost done. Frozen meats and vegetables easily become overcooked when reheated if they were completely cooked before freezing. Season lightly when you prepare the recipes, because pepper, cloves and synthetic vanilla tend to become strong and bitter when used in frozen foods. You can always add more seasoning just before serving.

Be sure to wrap food carefully before freezing to prevent exposure to air and loss of moisture during freezing and storage. Exposure to air will cause changes in color and flavor and will permit delicate foods to absorb strong flavor and odors given off by other foods. Suitable packaging is particularly important in frost-free freezers that have a fan blowing air over the food, drawing moisture from the package.

BSSH Volunteers To Meet Tuesday

Volunteers of long-term standing, as well as new recruits, are invited to attend the organizational meeting of the Big Spring State Hospital Auxiliary at 9:30 a.m., Tuesday in the Tollett All-Faith Chapel on the hospital campus.

Following a welcome by Dr. Preston Harrison, superintendent, Mrs. David Elrod, temporary auxiliary chairman, will conduct the business session which will include remarks by the Rev. Jim Collier, Volunteer Council chairman; the election of officers, distribution of the new volunteer handbook, introduction of volunteer staff and unit representatives and the presentation of guidelines for an accelerated program of volunteer services.

Created to function as a committee of the Volunteer Council, the auxiliary seeks to provide an organized group of working volunteers to serve residents' needs, ranging from serving refreshments at unit parties to conducting such special interest groups as music and poetry therapy and horticulture.

Serving on the advisory board to the auxiliary are Mrs. Elrod, Mrs. Wallace Hunter, Mrs. Claude Van Vleet, director of nursing services; and Mrs. Jimmy Don Townsend. Phil Christensen, BSSH psychologist, is auxiliary consultant.

Cowbelles To Hear Speaker

The Texas Cowbelles will meet at 10 a.m., Tuesday at Furr's Cafeteria. Rich Anderson will be the speaker. Mrs. J.M. Sterling will report on the March 23-24 convention in Austin where the Texas Cowbelles were in charge of registration.

The organization will also make plans for a "Beef For Father's Day" project. Anyone interested in the beef industry is invited to attend the meeting.

Party Held at Nursing Home

The second annual "carnival" for residents of Mountain View Nursing Inn was held Saturday under the sponsorship of Cadette Troop 43. The event consisted of "games of skill and luck", a prize walk, music and refreshments.

Under the chairmanship of Suzette Young and Jerri Davey, the girls planned the games and made the prizes. The troop members also had the responsibility of making arrangements with the home and providing refreshments and decorations.

The troop, under the leadership of Mrs. Tom Stephenson and Miss Karla Arnsberg, is working on a spring camping trip and a bridging ceremony for all eligible sixth-grade girls.

Couple United In Marriage

Miss Shirley Lee Sims became the bride of Stanley Sweeden Friday evening in a ceremony performed at the home of her parents, S.M. Sgt. and Mrs. Garvin Sims of Stanton. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Odis Lee Sweeden of Osage, Okla.

The nuptial rites were performed by County Judge Carrol Yater.

Carrying a bouquet of pink roses and white carnations, the bride was attired in a wedding gown of white satin fashioned with chapel-length train. The empire bodice, which was overlaid with lace sprinkled with seed pearls, was styled with scalloped neckline and long, lace sleeves. Her shoulder-length veil was held by a bandeau of lilies of the valley.

Assisting in serving were Miss Susan Sweeden, daughter of the bridegroom; Miss Dianne Sumrall and Miss Eilene Sumrall. Out-of-town relatives attending were the bridegroom's sons, Stanley Sweeden Jr. and Shawn Sweeden, and his parents, all of Osage; Mr. and Mrs. Roger Sims and daughters, Amarillo; and Mrs. J. D. Sumrall, Midland.

Immediately after the ceremony, a reception was held in the home, where refreshments were served from a table covered with a pink overlay on a white cloth. The centerpiece was an arrangement of pink roses.

Assisting in serving were Miss Susan Sweeden, daughter of the bridegroom; Miss Dianne Sumrall and Miss Eilene Sumrall.

Out-of-town relatives attending were the bridegroom's sons, Stanley Sweeden Jr. and Shawn Sweeden, and his parents, all of Osage; Mr. and Mrs. Roger Sims and daughters, Amarillo; and Mrs. J. D. Sumrall, Midland.

Sweeden, who attended schools in Osage, is currently with the U.S. Air Force and stationed at Webb AFB. Mrs. Sweeden graduated from Caprock High School, Amarillo, and attended Howard College. She is employed by Gamco.

Community Reunion Set On April 20

The annual Moore Community reunion has been scheduled for April 20 in the fellowship hall of First United Methodist Church, 400 Scurry, with registration at 1 p.m.

The Rev. Elra Phillips will preside, and a short program will be presented by the Jack and Jill Choir.

The Moore Community was established in 1906, starting out with a one-teacher school and increasing that to five teachers during the 43 years of the school was in existence. Of the 61 teachers who served there, 18 were former pupils.

Many of these teachers, along with former students and old-time residents of the community are expected to attend the gathering. Mrs. Bill McVain, secretary for the reunion, said there will be visitation and reminiscing of "days gone by."

ENGAGED — M.Sgt. and Mrs. W. R. Gleason of Tyndall AFB, Florida, formerly of Big Spring, announce the engagement and future marriage of their daughter, Sandra Louanne, to Randy Lee Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Marshall, Rt. 1, Box 654, Big Spring. The couple will exchange nuptial vows May 10 in First United Methodist Church.

A LOVELIER YOU Spring Reducing: Flatten Rib Cage

By MARY SUE MILLER

Even though your figure is otherwise slim, excess flesh at the rib cage gives a dumpty look to your topside. The slope between the bosom and waist should be gentle. The line breaks and bulges the instant ribs become overpadded.

The routines below are a remedy. When you perform them or any other spot exercise, make an effort to concentrate on the muscles in play. You must direct their movements, or they'll goldbrick.

1. Sit erect and cross-legged on floor. Pull abdomen in, with chest up and shoulders down. Holding this position, inhale deeply through nose and exhale through mouth. Repeat 10 times, working to increase expansion between rib cage divisions. Be careful to keep abdomen and chest motionless; action must center in diaphragm. And be sure the room is freshly ventilated.

2. Lie face down on floor and rest forehead on backs of hands. Simultaneously raise torso, waist up, from floor and touch heels to buttocks. After a good stretch, return slowly to starting position. Repeat 5 times, increasing to 10 times at your own speed.

If you work out on a mat or large terry towel, it will ease your performance.

MIDRIFF SLIMMERS

To solve the riddle of extra inches around your middle, send today for my leaflet, MIDRIFF SLIMMERS. It contains quick, easy reducing exercises for slimming diaphragm, waist and abdomen. Write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin.

Republicans Slate Bridge Luncheon

The annual bridge luncheon sponsored by the West Texas Republican Women will be held at the KC Steak House Thursday starting at 10 a.m.

Tickets for the luncheon and day of bridge are selling for $3.50. Anyone desiring to purchase a ticket should call Mrs. Ron McNeil, 505 Highland. Tickets may also be purchased for only the luncheon.

There will be door prizes and other prizes at the event.

Luncheon will be served at 12 noon. Mrs. Polly Mays, Mrs. Winston Wrinkle, Mrs. Harold Bull, Mrs. Garner McAdams and Mrs. Walter Wheat are assisting with arrangements.

SENTIMENTAL SCENE — Mrs. Lyndon Johnson gives a sentimental greeting to former House Speaker John McCormack, Boston, Mass. as the two met at a reception honoring the late Sam Rayburn at a Rayburn Public Affairs Symposium held last week on the campus of East Texas State University, Commerce. The two were guest speakers at the dedication of the Sam Rayburn Museum at Bonham, Tuesday.

L. W. Kellys Residing Here

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Warren Kelley are residing at 1521 E. 17th following a wedding trip to San Antonio. The couple was married March 27 in the pastor's study at First Baptist Church with Dr. Kenneth G. Patrick officiating.

The bride is the former Miss Linda Kay Woodard, daughter of J. Clyde Woodard, 141 Jonesboro, and the late Mrs. Woodard. Mr. and Mrs. Luther Kelley, 2400 Morrison, are parents of the bridegroom.

For the ceremony, the bride was attired in a pink knit shirtwaist dress with A-line skirt and long, cuffed sleeves. A pink striped satin scarf accented the neckline. She carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds and white carnations.

Mrs. S.F. Turner Jr. attended her sister as matron of honor, wearing a light blue suit and white carnation corsage. S.F. Turner Jr. served as the bridegroom's attendant.

The bride's father was host for a reception in his home, and refreshments were served from a table covered with white linen and centered with a white basket arranged with spring flowers. Out-of-town relatives attending were Mr. and Mrs. Jay Morgan of Sweetwater.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelley are graduates of Big Spring High School and he attended Texas Tech University. He is now employed by Texas Electric Service Company. Mrs. Kelley is personnel manager for Montgomery Ward and Company.

Taylor's Given Money Tree

Mr. and Mrs. Jack (Mattie) Taylor, were presented a house warming gift of a money tree, along with an appropriately inscribed cake, Thursday. The Taylors, who have operated the Permian Snack Bar for a year and a half, now reside at 1908 Runnels, and the gifts were presented to them by regular customers in the coffee shop. The card was signed by 60 persons. Prior to taking over the Permian Snack Bar, Taylor was with Holiday Inn for eight years.

Consciousness-Raising Group Being Formed

Ms. Sue Drake, one of the leaders in forming a consciousness-raising group here, has announced that an organizational meeting for such a group will be held Thursday evening.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Ms. Mary Lou Teer, Sand Springs. There is no street address, however, Ms. Drake said that persons planning to attend may call her for instructions on how to reach the location. Ms. Drake's telephone numbers are 267-5509 before 5 p.m. and 263-4119 in the evenings.

"Reaction to our announcement of the formation of the group has been fantastic," said Ms. Drake. "If there are enough interested persons who cannot make the first meeting, another will be scheduled soon."

Anniversary Observed At Ackerly

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Seely of Rt. 1, Ackerly, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary, April 3, with a family dinner in their home.

The couple has a daughter, Mrs. Danny (Nancy) Howard of Tarzan; a son, James Seely, a junior at Klondike High School; and one grandchild, Michelle Howard, 6 months.

Seely, who was born in Duncan, Okla., moved to Martin County in 1949 and married the former Lillie Fay Foster, daughter of Mrs. Ben Foster and the late Mr. Foster, in 1950 at Lamesa.

The ceremony was performed by Justice of the Peace D. M. Campbell.

Mrs. Seely was born in Velma, Okla., and reared in the Flower Grove community.

The Seelys have resided and farmed in the Flower Grove community since 1950, except for two years during which he served in the U.S. Army.

Texas Press Women Convening In Midland

About 100 media representatives from 30 cities are expected to attend the 83rd annual convention of Texas Press Women, Inc. to be held Friday through Sunday in Midland's Rowday Inn.

The local delegate will be Ms. Merry Jo Bright, women's editor of the Big Spring Herald and former resolutions chairman for TPW, Inc.

NBC News Reporter Judy

Woodruff, based in Atlanta, Ga., and Jim Allison, Jr., president and publisher of the Midland Reporter-Telegram, will headline the luncheon session which opens the meet at noon Friday.

A panel, "Role of the Media in Reporting News," will lead off the contemporary issues workshops scheduled for Friday and Saturday afternoons.

To be featured are Dr.

Robert Rothstein, chairman of the communications department at the University of Texas Permian Basin; Olin Ashley, editor of the Odessa American; and Harry Neuhardt, news director of KMID-TV.

Subsequent workshops scheduled are freelance writing by Dr. Rothstein; radio-TV features by Bob Lewis of Big Spring (alias Tumbleweed Smith); and "Women in News - Prejudice" with Miss Woodruff, who covers a 10-state area including Puerto Rico and the Bahamas.

A women's rights panel will open Saturday's workshop session. Participating are Barbara Culver, Midland County Judge; Dr. Dianne Peters, associate dean of the college of arts and education at UTPB; and Dorothy Struck, director for the office of civil rights, Dallas.

To follow are a public relations workshop by Bob Mills, P.R. director for Pioneer Natural Gas Co., Amarillo; advertising and layout by Dr. S. Bernard Rosenblatt, professor in mass communications, Texas Tech; and an address by Dr. Glen Burress, chairman of board of contributing editors for the Journal of Commerce.

The Woman of Achievement banquet will be held Friday evening. Winners of the communications contest will receive awards at the banquet Saturday.

A cocktail party hosted by the state president, Holly Wood of Seguin, will follow.

At the business session to be held Saturday morning, officers will be elected and action will be taken on a Code of Ethics, resolutions, legislative matters and bylaw amendments.

Odessa's Chuck Wagon Gang, famed for its barbecue, will cater Saturday's luncheon on the grounds of the Museum of the Southwest. Later, members will tour the museum and convene in the planetarium for an address by Judge Culver.

The convention will close Sunday morning after the installation of officers and a memorial service at a breakfast session.

Preceding the convention, which is being hosted by District 2 of Texas Press Women, Inc., board members will meet for a dutch treat dinner Thursday evening, and for a business meeting at 9 a.m. Friday.

Mrs. Mary J. Goodwin and Mrs. Trisha Shelton of Midland are general chairmen, and Mrs. Myrtle Corley of Crane is the District 2 president.

FUTURE BRIDE — Mr. and Mrs. Harrol G. Jones, 1504 Dayton, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Susan Leigh, to Randall Allen Hahn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Granville Hahn of Dallas, formerly of Big Spring. The couple will be married May 25 in the First Community Church of Dallas.

WILL WED — Mr. and Mrs. George W. Gates Jr., Rt. 1 Shallowater, announce the engagement of their daughter, Debra Ann, to Melvin Salley, son of the Rev. and Mrs. S. Homer Salley, 409 Main, Coahoma. The wedding is set for June 20 at First Methodist Church, Shallowater.

Legion Auxiliary Gains Members

The American Legion Auxiliary received new members, elected convention delegates and made plans for future activities at a Thursday meeting in the Post Home.

Mrs. Troy Melton presided as the auxiliary welcomed Mrs. Roscoe Schaefer, Mrs. Gean Wilcox and Mrs. Clifton L. Newton into membership.

Delegates elected to serve at the District 19 convention in Plainview April 19-20 will be Mrs. Melton, Mrs. Don McCray, Mrs. Ollie Branson, Mrs. Nell Tippie, Mrs. Bill Bodine and Mrs. Melvin Whitaker. Alternates are Mrs. Lita Metcalf, Mrs. Ernest Grubaugh, Mrs. Jim Wiley, Mrs. Fern Smith, Mrs. Ferrell Hamill and Mrs. Rocky Vieira.

Plans are underway for a Gold Star Mothers tea in May.

Mrs. Bodine reported on the Liberty Bell project of the national president, Mrs. Maurice Kubby. Two stone columns, one with 'Faith' and the other with 'Freedom' inscribed on them, joined by an arch bearing the American Legion Auxiliary name, will be erected at Valley Forge as part of the bicentennial observance.

Mrs. Kubby is to make her official visit to Texas April 7-9 in Corpus Christi.

Building Pace

Only five countries built ten or more dwelling units per 1000 people during the 1960s, reported the United Nations. They were Japan, Sweden, Russia, Switzerland and West Germany. Nevertheless, Americans were the best housed.

Bridge Tournament In Lubbock April 9-13

Bridge players from all over the United States are expected to compete in the King Cotton Regional Bridge Tournament which will be held Wednesday through Sunday at the Lubbock Municipal Coliseum on Texas Tech campus. Games are scheduled for both experienced and novice players, beginning with a two-session Swiss Qualifying for Knock Out Teams of four at 1:30 p.m., Wednesday. Other two-session red point events are Men's and Women's Pairs, Thursday; Master's Pairs, Friday; Open Pairs, Saturday; all beginning at 1:30 p.m. and continuing into the second session at 7:30 p.m.

Swiss Teams of Fours, also a two-session event, will begin Sunday at 12:30 p.m. and continue at 6:30 p.m. Side games are scheduled at 9:30 a.m., Thursday, Friday and Saturday, during ensuing sessions of the Knock Out Team playoff. Side games will also accompany each major event. A non-masters, for players with under 50 masterpoints, will be held Friday at 1:30 p.m. All side games are black point events. The tournament is sponsored by Llano Estacado Bridge Unit every four years. Nationally known players who are expected to attend are Barry Crane, producer of Mannix, and

Appliance Care

Today's wafflebakers and grills require very little care. Be sure the appliance is disconnected before cleaning. Simply wipe the grids while still warm with a clean pastry brush or cloth to prevent darkening. Then, after the grids have cooled, remove and wash in hot suds. Wipe the base with a damp cloth or sponge to remove spills.

Women Hear Commissioner

County Commissioner Bill Crooker explained the structure of county government and its various departments when he was guest speaker Thursday for Elbow Home Demonstration Club at the home of Mrs. Jack McKinnon. A general discussion and question and answer period followed his talk.

Mrs. R.B. Covington Jr., president, introduced another guest, Mrs. Richard W. Jones of El Reno, Okla.

The club members are continuing work on crafts for the cultural arts display at the district meeting in Lubbock Tuesday.

The next meeting will be April 17 at the home of Mrs. L.Z. Rhodes, Garden City Rt. At that time, Mrs. Ruby Bruns of D&M Garden Center will demonstrate the making of terrariums.

The attendance prize went to Mrs. Leroy Dolan.

Abby Says Homosexuals Should Be Left Alone

DEAR ABBY: I am a minister who also does counseling.

A young man recently came to me for counseling and he showed me a clipping from your column that he had been carrying for over two years. He said it saved him from suicide.

I am enclosing it. Will you please print it again? It might save another life. God love you.

T.B.M.
DEAR T.B.M.: With pleasure:

"Dear Abby: Another advice columnist keeps insisting that homosexuals are 'sick.' She says, 'Thousands of homosexuals have written asking me where they can get straightened out, so they must consider themselves twisted, or they wouldn't be asking for help.'"

"Occasionally I hear from homosexuals who are at peace with themselves, but they are few and far between. I believe the majority of homosexuals would be straight if they were free to choose."

What do you say, Dear Abby?

L.A. TIMES READER
DEAR READER: I say that if a heterosexual had been raised to believe that his preference for the opposite sex was 'sick,' twisted, abominable, sinful and a disgrace to his family, he would ask for help on how to 'straighten himself out,' too.

Homosexuality is a problem because an unenlightened society has made it a problem, but I have received letters by the thousands (and not just 'occasionally') from gay people telling that they wouldn't be straight if they had a choice. All they ask is to be allowed to love in their own way without facing the charge that they are 'sick and twisted.'

I say, love and let love.
DEAR ABBY: Our lovely 18-year-old daughter was accepted at a fine church-affiliated college. She did poorly the first year and was not invited to return. We were very disappointed.

We learned later through some friends that one of the reasons our daughter had done so poorly in college was because she had become involved in a love affair with a professor, 35 years older than she was! He is married and has a family.

We never dreamed that this college would have a man of such low character on the faculty.

My husband is furious. Should we write to the dean and inform him so that other girls can be protected against this lecher? Or shall we speak to his wife about this matter? I doubt if she knows anything about it.

IRATE MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: Don't write to the dean, or speak to the professor's wife unless you check out the facts. Start with your daughter. Consider, too, that if the story is true, even though the professor clearly overstepped his bounds, your daughter is far from blameless.

DEAR ABBY: When we have a dinner party, my husband has the very bad habit of dragging all the male guests into another part of the house — away from the women guests.

I personally feel that this is very rude when we are hosting a dinner party for couples. I also think that most women and men would rather socialize together.

Please let me know your feelings on this matter, and send a solution if you have one.

ANTI HEN PARTIES
DEAR ANTI: Arrange seating for all your guests where you want them after dinner. Then subtly maneuver them there for an after dinner drink, and your problem will be solved.

And what's wrong with telling your husband NOT to drag the men off?

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212, for Abby's booklet 'How to Write Letters for All Occasions.' Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20 cents) envelope.

Quotable Women

Here are some quotable quotes from women during the week.

"I think people miss an awful lot by being able to see everything. I was so much more tolerant before. I didn't judge people so quickly.

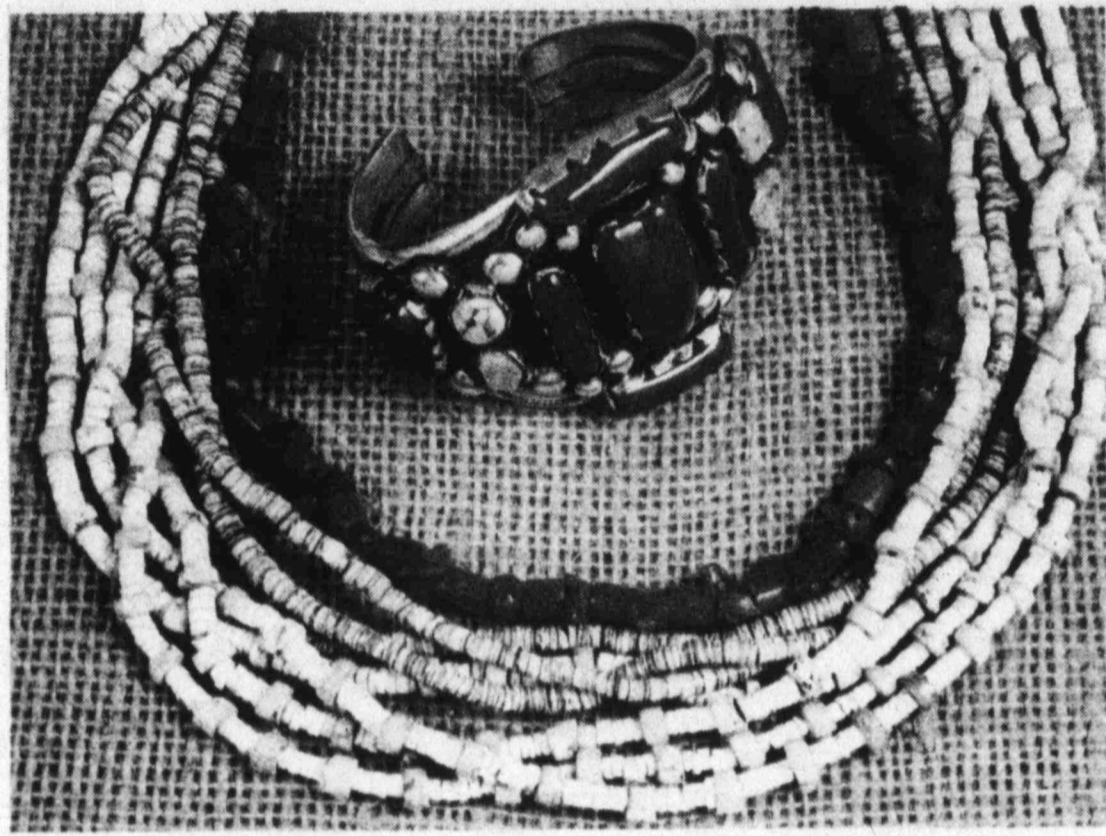

Now, if I look at someone who is fat, I wonder why they are. And when I go to church, I don't get nearly as much out of it as before. There are so many distractions." Pauline Cook Martin, blind for the first 26 years of her life, speaking of the changes since she was fitted with special magnifying contact lenses that enable her to see.

"It depends on manpower and finance. We need the will to do it. If we sit and say we can't do anything about it, then we may have a crisis." Letitia Obeng of Ghana, top water expert in the U. N. Environment Program in Africa, who says there are water sources deep in the Sahara Desert.

"I didn't go out of the house much, or to the theatre for fear somebody would recognize me. Changes are subtle and you can't say how they take place, but somehow I was able to overcome my reluctance to appear in public overweight." Singer Barbara Cook, who is making a comeback despite being overweight.

"After my mother passed, I sold the piano, gave away the record player. I said I wasn't going to sing no more. I knew I had to stay home and take care of Papa. But when they tried to get me to sing at the Newport Jazz Festival in 1973, I told Papa and he said, 'Go on baby and sing. That's good. My baby can really sing.' Bless his heart." Former Count Basie band vocalist Helen Humes, making a comeback as singer-pianist in New York.

"Dying is really very boring." Marjorie Berg, 45, who has terminal cancer and wants to die soon rather than live in constant pain.

BSHS Students Named As DeMolay Officers

Three Big Spring High School students have been installed as the top officers in the Leon P. Moffett chapter of the Order of the DeMolays.

They are Jackie Sawyer, master counselor; Rusty Mitchell, senior counselor; and Ricky Brown, junior counselor. They, along with other officers, will formally be installed at a ceremony at 8 p'clock Tuesday evening at Big Spring Lodge 1340, 2101 Lancaster.

Other officers who will take part in the initiation include Richard Sayers, senior deacon; John Petty, junior deacon; James Finley, senior steward; Paul Dockter, junior steward; James Blair, marshal; Dee Brown, chaplain; Danny Priest, standard bearer; John Finley, orator; Mike Thomas, treasurer; Corby Tatum, scribe; Buddy Collins, sentinel; Robert Smith, almoner; and E.A. Fiveash, chaplain dad.

Installing the new officers will be Wayne Frost, installing officer; Brad Forrester, marshal; Doug Mikeworth, senior deacon; John Mathews, junior counselor; and Paul Frost, chaplain.

BS Student Is Winner

Kathi Sannaus of Big Spring was judged best actress in UIL play competition in District 5-AAAA in Midland Thursday.

Members of the all-star cast chosen at Midland included two Big Spring High School students. They are Jamie Petty and Sean Grathoul.

Gary Robertson, San Angelo Central, was selected as the best actor.

Two Midland high schools captured top honors in one-act play competition to qualify for regional competition at Lubbock Christian College next Friday.

Midland Lee drama students presented a scene from "J.B." while Midland High actors performed a scene from "The Dark of the Moon."

Four Local Students Eligible For Honors

Four Big Spring High School students have been selected as outstanding Teenagers of America for 1975. Selection for the Outstanding Teenager Awards Program automatically qualifies these students for further state, regional and National honors.

The four are Sharon

Teacher To Stay Busy

By CAROL HART

It came as no shock to many present and ex-students that Mrs. Erma Steward had been named as outstanding journalism teacher for 1975 by the Interscholastic League Press Conference. Mrs. Steward, who retires at the end of this school term, has long been one of the favorite faculty members at Big Spring High School.

Mrs. Steward has been teaching journalism for 30 years at BSHS, and also serves as sponsor of the two school publications, the annual El Rodeo, and the Corral school magazine. Many of her former students have gone on to careers somehow related to journalism.

The journalism department at BSHS now boasts a classroom, a lab, and a darkroom with some excellent equipment, but Mrs. Steward can remember the time when photographers worked in a darkroom that had formerly been designated as a closet. Steward herself is a photographer, having done graduate work in photography at Texas Tech.

Mrs. Steward was born in Clyde, and graduated from BSHS in 1938. She gained a BS degree from Hardin-Simmons University in 1942. She is actively involved with many organizations, among them being the Journalism Education Association, the Texas Association of Journalism Directors, Delta Kappa Gamma, National Education Association, TSTA and Classroom teachers.

Steward has many activities planned after she retires in May. She and her husband, L.H. (Frenchy) Steward, delight in square dancing, and they have served in various offices for the state-wide square-dancing organization. She also enjoys fishing, and plans to write a book.

Mrs. Steward's husband also attended the Interscholastic Press Conference in Austin, along with Greg Pearson, Brad Carr, Angela Hodnett, Paige Little, Kathy Perry and Kathy Meek.

C. King Gets Involved

LUBBOCK — Chris King of Amarillo, a former member of the Texas Tech University "Goin' Band from Raiderland" who knows well that organization's scholarship needs, has done something about it.

EX-DRUM MAJOR CHRIS KING

The tall drum major for the group during the 1968-69 and 1969-70 academic years recently contributed $400 to a full scholarship for a bandman for next year.

King and band officials hope his contribution will trigger the full establishment of other scholarships through the efforts of former members of the nationally publicized and televised group to maintain the high level of musicianship sought by Dean M. Killion, director of bands at Texas Tech.

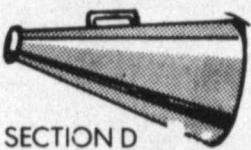

"It is my suggestion that Dean Killion use my contribution to bring to the band the type of student and musician he needs," King said in presenting the check to band officials.

"The kind of band Killion has produced in years past is ample proof," King said, "that his selection of the recipient of this award and others we hope will be made will be in the interest of the band organization and Texas Tech University. I think musicianship on the part of the recipient and his or her ability to fill a need in the band are the criteria for selection."

"I also hope that my contribution will have some influence on other ex-bandmen to get involved in support of the band through scholarships," King said. "And I think it will."

Killion commented that "this is the type of thing that brings added satisfaction and pleasure to working with the spirited band organization we have at Texas Tech. King's generous contribution shows his devotion to the group and to the university and we believe it will lead to the establishment of other scholarships."

Plans For Graduation Are Made For Seniors

By MARTHA DOE
Wednesday, the senior met and viewed slides of Colorado, where they will go on their annual trip next month. They also made plans for graduation. The class song is "Have You Never Been Mellow." The class flower is the rose. Class colors are pastel shades. The class motto is "Live today like there is no tomorrow." The ushers will be Brenda Schwartz, Jacque Frerich, Stuart Wooten, and Kenny Batla, all juniors. Graduation will be May 22 in the new auditorium. The juniors have been working on the junior-senior banquet scheduled for April 26. The theme for the event will be "Cherish."

Saturday, the high school will present a one-act play in UIL competition, to be held in Forsan. The literary meet will be April 10. FHA pictures are scheduled to be taken Monday. Tuesday, the girls' district track and field meet in the Memorial Stadium at Big Spring, which is located on the Howard College campus. It will be for both high school and junior high athletes.

Teams participating other than Garden City include Forsan, Grady, Greenwood, Sterling City and Water Valley. First and second place winners in each event will qualify for Regional, which will be staged in Levelland April 18-19. All students are wishing the teams good luck, and hoping they bring home the championship trophies again this year.

Wednesday, cheerleader tryouts will be held. The retiring cheerleaders are Linda Batla, Martha Doe, Sheryl Newell and Linda Chandler. They have been teaching the yell to the incoming girls.

Those trying out include Jacque Frerich, Linda Chandler, Denise Jansa, Mary Kay Schwartz, Debra Wheat, Dora Vargas, Darla Currie, Gracie Medrano and Lynette Schwartz.

GRADY Practice Is Held

By JANA WOOD
Activity Schedule was held Monday for a One-Act play meeting. Practice was held that night. Tuesday, the cast put on a performance for the student body. The public was invited for a performance later in the evening. Wednesday, the cast traveled to Forsan for rehearsal on the stage where it will be in contest on Saturday. The play, "Antic Spring" will be staged at approximately 5:30.

Also on Monday, the FHA met at 7:30 p.m. to discuss the FHA-FFA banquet. The Grady High Girls Volley ball team played Forsan at Grady on Thursday, at 3:30 p.m. This game was a District 10-B playoff game to determine the district winner.

The UIL Ready Writing, Science, and Journalism Contest was held at Forsan on Friday. Those students attending from Grady were Mark Tate, Lyle Jeter, Maria Salazar, and Jana Wood.

WESTBROOK One-Act Play Contest Held Tuesday In Hobbs

By MARY MARTINEZ
Monday, March 31, Westbrook students returned to school from their Easter holiday. School began at the old time 8:20 a.m. and was dismissed at 3:40 p.m.

The One-Act Play was presented to all the student body Monday morning at 10:30 a.m. in the cafeteria for practice. Also on Monday the play was rehearsed at Hobbs at 6:00 p.m.

Typing and shorthand practice was held after school Monday for 45 minutes.

The UIL contest for the One-Act play was held Tuesday at Hobbs. Those going to Hobbs were: Characters — Kathy Parsons, Julia Sweatt, Susie Hogue; sponsor — Mrs. Chitsey; stage manager — Pandora Moore; and stage hands — Jimmie Anderson and Bobby Matlock. All the furniture was loaded up in the V.A. pickup and taken to Hobbs. The play was put on at 5:00 p.m. The Westbrook One-Act play placed third. Ira won first and Hobbs got 2nd. Julia Sweatt was named on the All-Star cast and was recognized with a gold Drama medal. Kathy Parsons received Honorable Mention.

All the coaches from District 10-B met Tuesday night to plan the district track meet. Heats and lanes were drawn up.

The seniors were given their senior group pictures. The juniors and seniors took the Iowa Test of Educational Development Wednesday and Thursday during periods 1, 2, and 3. Mr. Lightfoot conducted the test.

Y-Affiliated Clubs Meet

Members of the Hi-Y and Tri-Hy-Y clubs are being reminded to attend a meeting scheduled for 8 p.m. Monday evening in the Y.

A discussion of the organizations' annual spring trip will take place. In addition, the election of officers for the 1975-76 school year will be conducted.

AMONG OUTSTANDING TEENAGERS OF AMERICA
K. Meek, D. Robison, S. Jenkins, R. Mullins (L to R)

Jenkins, 503 Highland; Kathy Meek, 2801 Crestline; Ronnie Mullins, 3307 Cornell; and Douglass Carlisle Robison.

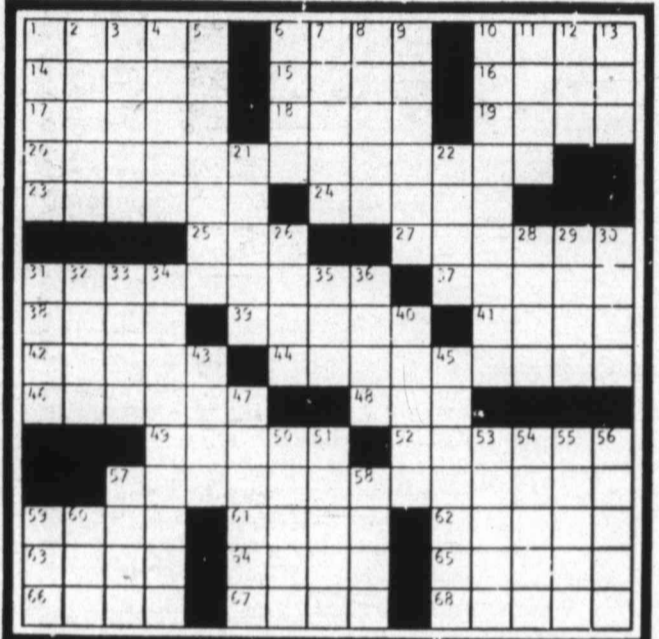

The Outstanding Teenagers, who are nominated by their school principals, are chosen for excellence in academic achievement and community service. These students will now vie for the Outstanding Teenager of the Year Trophies to be presented in May 1975. Similar trophies will be presented to the state winners. The state winners are selected by the Outstanding Teenagers Awards Selection Committee, in cooperation with the Board of Advisors.

The 51 state winners will be eligible for awards totaling $7,000. One boy and one girl will be chosen for national scholarships of $1,000.00 to the college or university of their choice. Also the ten regional winners will be selected from the remaining state winners to receive $500.00 regional scholarships.

Under the guidance of the Board of Advisors, the Outstanding Teenagers of America program was created to encourage young people to take full advantage of the opportunities in our country. The awards are presented each Spring and the biographies of all those honored are recorded in the annual volume, Outstanding Teenagers of America, which is published by Fuller & Dees.

Canadian Services To Films Acknowledged

LOS ANGELES (AP)—At long last, the Hollywood film community has acknowledged the contributions of Canada.

American films since their earliest years have been enriched by Canadian talents — Mary Pickford, Mack Sennett, Norma Shearer among the pioneers. Even Louis B. Mayer came from Minsk via Nova Scotia.

Other film figures from Canada include Walter Pidgeon, Yvonne DeCarlo, Lorne Greene, Norman Lawson, Michael Sarrazin, William Shatner, Raymond Burr, Leslie Nielsen, Genevieve Bujold, Arthur Hiller, Charles Jarratt.

Last week the Los Angeles International Film Exposition, the local version of the Cannes Film Festival, offered an "Homage to the National Film Board of Canada." Twenty-seven films produced by the board were shown to an admiring audience.

The chairman of the National Film Board and Government Film Commissioner, Sydney Newman, came here to accept the honors, and he explained his operation, which seems unique in the film world.

agency founded by an act of Parliament, yet we can make films with utterly no political interference," said Newman, a bristly man of middle years whose family came from Russia and Hungary.

"We're never stigmatized as a state propaganda agency. Our job is to interpret Canada and Canadians to themselves and to the outside world. The warts are not concealed, and as a result we sometimes come under attack."

"But there is never any pressure from the government to avoid controversial films."

The Film Board has produced movies about poverty, labor and French-Canadian relationships that have aroused anger—but no censorship. The Board's films have brought praise as well as controversy. A French-language feature, "Mon Oncle Antoine," won an Oscar nomination.

Two animated films from Canada are in Oscar contention this year.

"Our budget for the past year has been $22 million," said Newman. "In addition, we receive revenues when the films are placed in distribution. Last year they earned $4.5 million.

"Unlike the United States where film departments within the government operate independently, no department in Canada can spend money on film without going through the board. All film procurement has been centralized. So our budget really amounts to $30 to $32 million."

The film Board has another advantage over the United States. Movies by the United States Information Service cannot be shown in this country (an exception was made for the agency's account of the death of John F. Kennedy).

The Canadian Film Board shows its movies in theaters and schools throughout Canada and on primetime television about 18 times a year, both on English- and French-language channels.

Vietnam News Hard To Get

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—ABC's Jim Bennett and Frank Mariano, two of television's old Vietnam hands, are back covering the war again.

But the way they and their network colleagues now get out and get film stories back to Saigon is a far cry from the way they did it in 1969, at the height of U.S. combat involvement in Vietnam.

Then it was comparatively simple for all newsmen to visit Vietnamese cities or go out on combat operations, thanks to the multitude of U.S. Air Force, Army and Marine helicopters and airplanes.

TV crews often shipped film stories back to Saigon the same day they covered the stories. The film usually went by commercial jet to Hong Kong. If considered important enough, it would be beamed by satellite to the United States in time for the network evening news programs.

Such handling was Fat City compared to this month in Vietnam, when about the only way print and TV newsmen could get to places like Tuy Hoa and Da Nang was to charter or share the cost of chartering their own planes, if and when such were available. The planes usually come from Continental Air Services, a Saigon-based American fleet.

Because of the deteriorating military situation, South Vietnamese civilian or military air transport for newsmen is virtually nonexistent.

"The effort to cover stories outside Saigon is being made, but it's real catch-as-catch-can," Bill Corrigan, NBC News operations manager, said last week when network crews were in Da Nang, filming the massive arrival there of refugees from Hue.

"Everyone's scrounging for transport, everyone's pooling or doing their own thing."

Ed Kinney, ABC News' assignment manager, estimates that his network's charter flights in Vietnam cost $7,000 last week, while NBC's Corrigan says he has no idea yet and probably won't for some time.

LOOKING FOR SPRING ON SPRIG — Mrs. Andrew (Libby) Swartz looks for mesquite blooms, which are said to announce the start of spring. She found a few, but last week's weather was anything but spring-like.

Hollywood Goes C-W

Hollywood is finally discovering country music, the unique American art form that supports an industry worth about $300,000,000 annually. The new Burt Reynolds comedy, "W. W. and the Dixie Dance Kings," a 20th Century-Fox release premiering Friday at the Cinema Theatre, is one of the first major movies ever set in the colorful country world.

Simultaneously, Hollywood is discovering Nashville, the undisputed capital of country music. "W. W." is the first feature ever filmed entirely in the Tennessee city, according to its producer, Stanley Canter.

Finally free from the negative stereotype that plagued it for years, country music's recent growth has been phenomenal. There are 57 professional recording studios in Nashville, with the industry spreading to Bakersfield, California, and Austin, Texas.

Nashville studios are responsible for about one half of all music put on tape in this country. The city is the home of 400 artists and 1,000 songwriters. Nationally, almost every major market has seen at least one top pop radio station cross the line into country during the last few months. The number of country stations has grown over 1000 per cent in a decade, while country takes about a 20 per cent share of all record sales.

Book Dissects Moneychangers

THE MONEY-CHANGERS. By Arthur Hailey. Doubleday, 472 Pages, $10.

In his latest "How-to" novel, Arthur Hailey, who has instructed on such subjects as building automobiles and running an airport in his previous books, dissects the world of finance for his readers in "The Moneychangers."

Hailey obviously did his homework and anyone interested in knowing all about credit cards from the type of plastic used to the way interest accrues on accounts not paid on time or how a bank teller keeps track of all that cash in the drawer or how a picked crew of accountants and the like goes about auditing a bank — they come on like gangbusters — will find the information in this compendium of a novel.

Unfortunately, while the many facts in the book are of interest in themselves the story in which they are planted like raisins in a fallen cake isn't much. It's too contrived, too pat.

The president of a large bank is told he only has a few months left to live. He tells his staff and the battle is on to get his job. There are two major contenders, one a good guy, the other a bad guy. The bad guy has the upper hand at first and almost destroys the bank with a disastrous deal he makes with a supranational conglomerate that, unknown to almost all, is being gutted of its assets. The good guy comes through at the end, of course, and fixes things up. Under this there's another plot dealing with counterfeit credit cards, a promising junior bank executive who turns sour and as mean a bunch of hoods as can be found.

"The Moneychangers" does have its moments, but there aren't many of them.

Baby Sale

HOUSTON (AP) — A three-months old boy who a couple allegedly tried to sell for $100 has been placed in a foster home by Harris County child welfare officials.
 A welfare department caseworker said Thursday it had been decided to seek permanent termination of the mother's parental claim to the infant.
 Betty Kay Norris of suburban Pasadena told police a couple tried to sell the baby to her and her husband in a bar Wednesday night. Mrs. Norris said she called police because she was not sure it would be legal.
 Police arrested the child's 17-year old mother and her 29-year old companion for investigation but found no charges could be filed in connection with the alleged proposal to sell the infant.
 Asst. Dist. Atty. Allen Stilley said there is no law in Texas against selling a child.

Heart Patient To Brave Atlantic Alone In Boat

TOULON, France (AP) — A French father of two who has just undergone open heart surgery plans to sail alone across the Atlantic in a 25-foot boat.
 "I have only a few years to live," said Douglas Cellini, 43, in an interview. "The doctors have condemned me. I will not live to be 50. Therefore I want to use the time that's left doing something I think is useful."
 He plans to sail via England and Canada to Houston, Tex.
CRAZY?
 "People say I'm crazy," he said while preparing his yacht Constance for the voyage. "They're calling it a veritable suicide and say I want to die in my own way — that I don't have anything to lose."
 "That's not true. I want to show all heart patients that we're not invalids. People think of us as sort of diminished — and that's the way it used to be. But that's like being

Goals Achieved

Jack Goble, chairman for the Big Spring VA Hospital Savings Bond Campaign, said that many of the hospital's departments have indicated that they will have 100 per cent participation in the bond program this year.
 The goals of this year's campaign are to increase employee participation, encourage present bond buyers to increase their allotments and to make sure every employee knows about the savings bond program.

He said he has foreseen most problems that may arise.
 "Believe me, if I find that the trip is beyond me, I'll turn back," he added.
 "I have promised my wife and my children.
 "But if anything terrible happens, I've left all my affairs in order."
