Insurgents Push Closer

By the Associated Press

The Cambodian government reportedly still held Phnom Penh today despite claims by the Khmer Rouge radio that Communist-led insurgents were "penetrating deep" into the city and occupied the airport.

In South Vietnam, fighting continued on three sides of Saigon and the Viet Cong blew up a bomb dump at the big Bien Hoa air base 15 miles north of the capital.

Cambodian troops in Phnom Penh told newsmen the insurgents were at the northern outskirts of the city but had not entered. The city was quiet and the government radio continued to broadcast.

MORTAR FIRE
Field reports said that the town of Takmau six miles south of the capital was abandoned to the rebels after it came under heavy recoilless and mortar fire. At least 100 government soldiers were reported killed or wounded, and six 105mm howitzers were left behind.

Newsmen in Phnom Penh said the Khmer Rouge still held a marketplace astride the road to the airport. Reports Monday night said the government had airlifted reinforcements to the airfield to join about 1,000 troops trying to hold a line along the railroad parallel to the highway.

Sydney Schanberg of the New York Times, one of the six Americans known to have remained in Phnom Penh, said he drove through the Pochentong market and saw the rebels, but they made no effort to stop him.

REFUGEES
Schanberg said the government defense lines were within three miles of downtown Phnom Penh at some points. But field reports indicated a lull in fighting on the city's fronts, punctuated by rocket fire.

Six rebel rockets reportedly fell on a textile mill inside the western sector of the capital, raising a cloud of black smoke visible from afar. Refugees continued to stream into the capital from the northwest, and they reported heavy rocket fire there.

Khmer Rouge broadcasts monitored in the Thai capital said the Communist-led Cambodian insurgents took the town of Prek Phneou, on Phnom Penh's northern outskirts and were advancing on a bridge less than four miles from the center of the city.

One broadcast from the insurgent station, which reportedly is located at Kratie, 110 miles northeast of Phnom Penh, said the city "is on the point of collapse, and we nearly have liberated the entire city."

Another Khmer Rouge broadcast said the Cambodian air force pilot who bombed the military headquarters in Phnom Penh Monday landed in Khmer Rouge territory and was welcomed by the insurgents.

AIRMEN WOUNDED
The government radio in Phnom Penh said Lt. Gen. Sak Suthsakhon, the head of the military junta that took over the government last weekend, had relinquished the defense ministry to Interior Minister Hou Hong so that the general could devote his full time to his job of president of the junta.

The government radio appeared to be functioning normally and closed its newscast with Buddhist prayers for the Cambodian new year in mid-April.

VANISHED LAST SUMMER

Skeletons Of Four Found In Oregon

MEDFORD, Ore. (AP) — The fate of a Southern Oregon family of four which vanished without a trace last summer has been learned with the discovery of skeletal remains, but mystery still surrounds the deaths.

The remains found over the weekend by prospectors were identified through dental records Monday as those of Richard Cowden, 27; his wife, Belinda, 22; son David, 5; and daughter Melissa, 5 months.

State police said two of the skulls had bullet holes in them, but declined to say which two.

Police say there is no indication of who killed the family, or why, but Oregon State Police Lt. Mark Kezar speculated that the slayer was a local person familiar with the mountainous area.

NO TRACE
The remains were found about 6 1/2 miles northwest of a campsite near the town of Copper, from which the family vanished Sept. 1, 1974. Hundreds of searchers combed the area for miles around after the Cowdens were reported missing, including the general area where the remains were found, but they discovered no trace of the family.

Kezar said two Forest Grove prospectors, Allan West and Marvin Proctor, found Cowden's remains on a steep hillside Saturday. The remains of his wife and children were found stuffed into a small cave, or grotto, about 200 yards away.

Police said a vehicle apparently was used to bring the Cowdens or their bodies to the area.

CAMPING
Cowden, a log truck driver from White City, had planned to haul gravel for his driveway on that Labor Day weekend last year, but arrangements to borrow a truck fell through. So he took his family camping in the Carberry Creek area 35 miles south-west of Medford, just north of the California state line.

On Sunday morning, Sept. 1, Cowden and David went to the store in Copper to get a quart of milk. That was the last time any of the family was seen alive.

They were to have gone to Copper for dinner at the home of Mrs. Cowden's mother, Ruth Grayson, that night. When they didn't appear, Mrs. Grayson went to the campsite.

Everything was as it should have been. Food was on the table and fishing poles leaned against a tree.

Mrs. Cowden's purse was there. Down by the creek was Cowden's watch and his billfold, containing $23. So was his wife's half-full pack of cigarettes.

The World At-A-Glance

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — "They brought along butter cookies and bananas and everything," said National Airlines stewardess Sharon Allbritten, whose passengers chose cheaper ticket prices over free food and drink. Miss Allbritten accompanied passengers from New York to Miami Monday as the "no frills" airlines fare plan, with fare reductions of 35 per cent, made its debut. The lower fares, aimed at getting new customers, have been instituted by Delta, National, Eastern, Continental and American.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A combination of events is forcing the U.S. government virtually to write off hopes of evacuating up to 200,000 South Vietnamese. U.S. officials say there is a genuine need to remove a significant number of South Vietnamese who may be in jeopardy in any Communist takeover because of their American connections. But the American officials point out that logistics and practical realities "make it a tough, if not impossible, problem."

LAKE GENEVA, Wis. (AP) — As a clown, his name is Happy, and 16-year-old Rob Wandschneider is still smiling despite his battle against the rare nerve disease which killed baseball's Lou Gehrig in 1941. And now Rob, a victim of amyotrophic lateral sclerosis, is getting ready for a dream trip to the Clowns of America national convention in Denver this week. Rob has been a member of Cousin Otto's Clown Alley No. 22 for the past two years, appearing in parades and celebrations, entertaining at hospitals and nursing homes. His fellow clowns, his classmates at Lake Geneva's Badger High School and members of the community joined to collect about $1,000 for the Denver trip he starts Wednesday.

Interpreter On Hand To Explain Program

"Eso es lo que queremos." City officials waited while this phrase was explained to them at the Town Hall meeting held at the Northside Fire Station Monday night in connection with an application for Community Development funds under the HUD program to be made by the City of Big Spring.

The phrase means simply, "This is what we want," and it was often expressed as a crowd in a jam-packed fire hall spoke in two languages to city officials.

Nabar Martinez, a manpower representative at City Hall, acted as translator for Mayor Wade Choate and City Manager Harry Nagel throughout the evening.

Mayor Pro-Tem Polly Mays and councilman Harold Hall also expressed interest in the group by attending the meeting Monday. Paul Frizzel, administrative assistant in charge of preparing the application, and Bill Brown, director of utilities, were on hand, with Betsy Howell acting as secretary.

CITIZENS SPEAK
One at a time, some 19 citizens came forth to the microphone and requested information and suggested possible projects.

A great deal of interest was expressed in a Northside Day Care Center and a need for additional playgrounds for their children. They also asked questions about paving, sewer, water, and cleaning of lots.

The group was interested in the possibility of upgrading their homes. Nagel told them that at the present time, it is illegal for the city to loan money to individuals under the project. However, there is a bill in the legislature that may change the program to where money can be loaned to bring homes up to code standards. They were told there were no plans for an apartment complex under this program, either now or in the future.

WATER, SEWER
The group was also told that the first year, the projects that HUD are most likely to approve are water and sewer lines and demolition of unsound structures. They city's request for paving in the original pre-application was deleted by HUD.

The group was told that Big Spring was one of 48 cities selected from over 200 cities to apply, because they had so many needs. Those who were without sewage or running water were asked to come forth and give their names and addresses. Some seven went up to register their names. They were asked to spread the word to neighbors and given a phone number at City Hall to call if they had additional suggestions.

At times, a particular issue would bring a babble of conversation in the audience, as they discussed the possibilities among themselves, before sending another spokesman to the microphone.

General consensus of those voicing their problems at the microphone was that "We do care about our neighborhood. We want to take advantage of any opportunity that would help to make it better."

They were told by city officials that if Big Spring's application is accepted the first year, they may be able to apply for an additional four more years for other projects, since it is funded for five years.

ELEVENTH HOUR RUSH — Mrs. Rick (Celia) Terry, legal secretary in attorney Wayne Basden's office, symbolizes the prominent number of income tax payers who waited until the final few days to complete Internal Revenue Service forms for income received in 1974. Celia made the deadline, which arrives at midnight tonight. Those who didn't must pay a penalty or get an OK from the IRS.

Texans Stand In Line To Hear ERA Witnesses

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A House committee has tossed a controversial proposal to rescind Texas' ratification of the federal Equal Rights Amendment to a subcommittee after a nine-hour hearing involving testimony from over 60 witnesses.

Constitutional Revision Committee Chairman Ray Hutchison, R-Dallas, appointed a five-person subcommittee Monday to study a resolution sponsored by Rep. Bill Hilliard, D-Fort Worth.

Witnesses for and against the ERA appeared before the committee in the House chamber, where the 600 seats in the gallery were emptied and refilled eight times as spectators stood in line for hours to hear the testimony.

Hilliard said he was proud to sponsor the rescission proposal because the ERA is "unnecessary, undesired and uncertain."

The resolution seeks to overturn Texas' 1972 ratification of the ERA. Thirty-four states have ratified the ERA and two — Tennessee and Nebraska — have rescinded their ratification.

Thirty-eight states must approve the ERA by 1979 in order for it to become part of the U.S. Constitution.

Larry Bates, a Tennessee state representative, said his state rushed in 1972 to be one of the first to ratify the ERA and failed to make much of an in-depth study of the amendment.

Bates, who voted for the amendment in 1972, said a state can rescind a previous ratification. "What the legislature giveth, it can also taketh away," he said.

Hermine Tobolowsky, a Dallas lawyer, said, however, she does not think a state can rescind its ratification of a constitutional amendment.

"The constitution has the mechanics to ratify but not to rescind," Mrs. Tobolowsky said.

But the issue of the legality of rescission was not what caused opponents of the ERA to do their pink outfits and ERA supporters to put on red, white and blue sashes and travel to the Capitol. They came to hear about how the ERA allegedly would change their lives if it became part of the constitution.

Applause broke out numerous times in spite of Hutchison's prohibition against demonstrations as spectators heard the witnesses testify about uni-sex bathrooms, women being drafted and homosexual marriages.

Sidney Buchanan, a University of Houston law professor, said the ERA would not give any government the right to abolish sexually segregated bathrooms because such facilities are protected by a constitutional right of privacy.

The Board also heard a report from Industrial Foundation Chief Executive Ron Mercer concerning the beginning of air service for Big Spring by Trans Regional Airlines.

Mercer said that the Transportation Committee met with officials of the airline last week and will meet with them again today at 3 p.m. in the Chamber office to help work out problems of beginning air service here.

Trans-Regional's Air Carrier certificate was approved about two weeks ago, but the airline has yet to get into scheduled operation.

PROTECT ARTIFACTS
Mercer also said that the Economic Development Council has discussed the recommendation to the city and county government that ordinances be made protecting the artifacts on public and private land in the county.

He also reported that a team of State Department of Parks and Wildlife archaeologists and cave experts will be visiting the Big Spring State Park to evaluate artifacts there.

Col. Robert Owens, Wing Commander, Webb Air Force Base, presented the Century Club report and said that Senator Lloyd Bentsen had received a letter from Senator John Stennis, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, stating that he is in favor of the construction of the bachelor officer's quarters and the fuel maintenance dock at the base during fiscal year 1976.

Chamber Manager Terry Hanson presented reports of the Organizational Affairs, Public Affairs and Community Development Councils in the absence of the council chairman.

He reported: The Community Development Council committees are active, with the Beautification Committee working on bicentennial projects, and Sports and Recreation Committee looking for a sporting event for the city to host, and the Tourism Committee considering the printing of a monthly activity calendar to be distributed to the public.

— The Public Affairs Council, in addition to passing the resolution opposing the formation of the State Utilities Commission, reorganized their Drug Council and will try to obtain the Art Linkletter films for public showing.

— The Organizational Affairs Council is working primarily on the Membership Drive slated for May 5-9. The drive was reorganized this year and will include five or six teams competing with each other for the number of new members signed. The winning team will be recognized at a dinner for the teams on May 9. That night, a dance is slated for the Chamber of Commerce general membership at the Country Club.

CROSS-EXAMINATION NEXT $10,000 In Cover-Up Cash Charges Denied

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Treasury Secretary John B. Connally today completed giving direct testimony in his own defense against bribery charges and prepared to answer cross-examination by prosecutors.

Connally's lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, concluded direct questioning with a flourish. "I have four final questions," Williams said. The government charges that Connally took $5,000 from Jake Jacobsen on May 14, 1971. "Is that true or false?" Williams asked. "That is false, Mr. Williams, that is absolutely false," Connally replied firmly.

The government also charges that Connally took a second $5,000 from Jacobsen on Sept. 24, 1971.

"True or false?" Williams asked again. "That is absolutely false," said Connally.

Did Connally give Jacobsen $10,000 in cover-up cash in a cigar box on Oct. 29, 1973, as Jacobsen alleges? Williams asked.

"That's false, I did no such thing," Connally said. On Nov. 25, 1973, did Connally give Jacobsen another $10,000 in cover-up cash as Jacobsen says? Williams asked.

"That is absolutely false, I did no such thing," Connally repeated.

Connally amplified on the denials he sketched out in the first 2 1/2 hours of his direct testimony on Monday. He said he does not even recall meeting Jacobsen on the day Jacobsen says Connally got the second $5,000 payoff.

If they did meet, Connally said, it was in the presence of a number of Treasury Department staff members and not alone, as Jacobsen swore.

Connally said the reason he asked Jacobsen to charter an airplane to fly from Austin, Tex., to Houston on Oct. 29, 1973, was not to hand him a cigar box full of cash but to enlist his aid in finding out why one of his law client's bank charter applications was being delayed.

No-No Is Now 'Never Again'
A woman was reported to local police for sitting on the curb, whistling and hollering at people going by.

Police talked to the woman and she said, "I'll never do it again."

The report did not clarify whether she would not whistle, sit on the curb or holler, or refrain from all three.

TAX CHEATS CONVICTED
WASHINGTON (AP) — Happy April 15. By the Justice Department's count, 1,253 persons were convicted of violating income tax laws in the 1974 fiscal year.

UNTIL LAST YEAR Drug Pushers 'Untouchable'

HOUSTON (AP) — Police Chief Carroll Lynn said the biggest drug pushers in Houston were "untouchable" until last year because they were listed as informants to high ranking police officers.

The Houston Post quoted Lynn as saying Monday this information was turned up during an investigation of the Houston Police Department's narcotics division.

Lynn initiated the probe early last year after nine narcotics officers were indicted on federal charges.

He said he has not been able to determine how much, if any, money was paid by the pushers for their protection but he said he determined beyond doubt that they were untouchable.

He did not identify the drug dealers, whom he said numbered about 10, nor the high ranking officers for whom they were alleged informants.

The police chief said the 10 no longer were "untouchable" and three already had been charged.

"When you have the situation of super felony informants informing on misdemeanor crimes, then the whole ball game is upside down," Lynn said.

The Dallas Times Herald reported Sunday that the state's three biggest bookmakers have been on the payroll of the Texas Department of Public Safety as informants for the past six years. The DPS denied the allegation.

Lynn said his concern about narcotics division corruption led to an internal investigation which uncovered evidence of widespread wiretapping.

The Associated Press learned earlier this year that illegal wiretapping was done almost routinely by the Houston narcotics, vice and criminal intelligence divisions.

The wiretapping, according to sources, became so extensive that Houston policemen operated out of trucks painted to resemble Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. or electric company vehicles to allay suspicions.

Again, The Same Answer

Hopefully, an opinion issued by Atty. Gen. John Hill will shoot down legislative efforts to divert county tax money to private use. It's an old problem, given a new twist.

Hill has ruled that county commissioners courts may not order county employees to build private roads with county equipment. The attorney general notes it is well-settled that some public purpose must be served before tax money can be spent.

This has been a frequent abuse, particularly in rural counties. Commissioners can hold office for years by doing favors for constituents; most of the time these favors consist of work on driveways, spreading caliche around, helping build drainage ditches on private property, and other improvements to private holdings using public employees, equipment and money.

What has brought forth Hill's opinion is an attempt to legalize the public work on private property some commissioners court have allowed. A bill in the House would authorize commissioners to direct the use of county employees and equipment "to construct or maintain private roads or to do earthmoving work" upon request "by a person owning an interest in the private road or property."

Rep. E. L. Short, Tahoka, chairman of the House Intergovernmental Affairs Committee considering the bill, asked Hill's opinion of its constitutionality. That opinion has now been given. It's reason enough to bury the bill; it's difficult to understand why the idea of diverting public money and equipment to private use was brought up in the first place.

Where The Rub Comes In

The final form of recommendations from an advisory panel to the Big Spring school board will not be known until it is presented April 21. At this point, however, it appears the thrust will be toward recommending operations with a middle school in mind. In addition, the projected closing of at least one school and possibly a second likely will be a part of the recommendation.

There will be some problems with the first part; but it is the second that will generate the most lively reaction. Partisans of affected schools may be expected to protest; if it were some other schools, those partisans would be the ones to protest. That's the human side of it, for each of us prefers the convenience of a school close at hand or within traditional lines.

In the final analysis, the board will have to examine the recommendations in the light of operating a system. The hard fact is, despite the presence of scores of kindergarten pupils who were not a part of the system a short while ago, that our enrollment has dropped by 1,500 scholastics within the past decade. Instead of being short of buildings, we are long. But which ones? Aye, there's the rub.

Looking To 101

Around The Rim

Jo Bright

The tea was held in Baton Rouge, La. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Crawford, and I wish I could have been there.

"Miss Alice" was celebrating her 100th birthday, and she expressed a feeling that seems to be common among the Carroll women: "I don't mind getting old, but I'm sorry to have such old children!"

AUNT ALICE IS the oldest of 13 children (and my mother the next to youngest) born to Thomas Jefferson Carroll and the former Mary Ann Eaves at Merryville, La. back in the days when all Southern gentlemen were charming, and all their ladies were belles.

Four of the children died in infancy or early childhood, but this void was partly filled by the five nieces and nephews which the Carrolls adopted when the children were orphaned. It was a big, busy and happy home.

As Aunt Alice remembers him, my Grandfather Carroll was a loving husband and father, but a strict disciplinarian. The children had regular duties, and he taught all of them, including the girls, to chop cotton at an early age. The oldest of the girls helped in the kitchen, another made school lunches for the brood, and Alice said she was the "milkmaid."

Grandfather Carroll wanted his children to receive an education, and there was no school at Merryville. He took it upon himself to establish one, and during the years it was being built, he housed teachers in his home to tutor their brood. By this time, he decided the town needed a bank, so he established that, too.

Alice and Thomas Hyatt were married in 1893 when she was 18 years old, and Alice taught school the first year they were married. Tom served on the first Beauregard Parish school board and held that post again when they moved to Oakdale in 1906.

THE ELDEST OF THEIR six children, Joyce and Nathan met tragic death by drowning when they were six and eight years old. Their surviving children are W. Rupert Hyatt, Washington, D.C.; Mrs. Grace Rogers, Shreveport, La.; Mrs. Tommy Carroll, Lynchburg, Va.; and Mrs. Forrest Crawford, Baton Rouge. The Hyatt and Carroll families are educationally oriented, and all Aunt Alice's children are college graduates. (Her brother, my Uncle Hawkins Carroll, earned his degree at the turn of the century and at 95, is one of the oldest living LSU graduates.)

Aunt Alice is bright and witty. She wears a hearing aid (the better to hear party conversation) and sometimes uses a walker. I say "sometimes," for when it is too slow for her, she petulantly picks it up and carries it instead of letting it carry her.

Yet, she is not the only remarkable woman among those of Carroll lineage. She lives with her daughter, Mary Belle Crawford who is quite a lady herself. Mary Belle is not only a wife, homemaker and mother, she earned her college degree with honors — and she has been blind since she was five years old.

Too Innocent

William F. Buckley, Jr.

President Ford is so good-natured, it probably doesn't occur to him that invidious thoughts get thought by quite average people when ever so lightly provoked. That, really, is the philosophy of such "reforms" as total disclosure, conflict of interest laws, and such-like things. We are often encouraged to conclude that anything done by a politician is done for purely demagogic purpose, anything by a businessman, purely to nourish his greed. Freud endowed us with scientific vocabulary metaphorically useful for tracing all of men's actions to impulses apparently extrinsic to the actions themselves.

I DON'T SEE WHY the President shouldn't play golf. In fact, I see many reasons why a President should play golf. Exercise, in my own case, is among the very few things I loathe so much, I force myself to do it. In President Ford's case it is happy that he not only needs exercise, but enjoys it.

But to play golf on the same day that young men and old women were falling out of American airplanes at 1,000 feet because they can no longer climb to the undercarriage and would rather die than live under a regime four American presidents promised they would never have to live under, is, if not intrinsically insouciant, at least apparently so.

SEVENTY MILLION Americans, who get their news from Walter Cronkite or one of the other networks, saw, for several days, first television pictures of acute misery in South Vietnam, then the pictures of Gerald Ford playing golf. The juxtaposition inevitably gives rise to the suspicion that Gerald Ford simply doesn't care. I am sure that this is not so. But the obligation of a chief of state is not only to behave properly, but to avoid behaving in such a way as might give the wrong impression.

Last Christmas, Mr. Ford was everywhere photographed in ski clothes, as the depression and unemployment deepened. After finishing the golf in California, the next we saw of President Ford was eating cake and drinking champagne on Air Force One 30,000 feet up in the air, celebrating a birthday. He is hardly unique. The day after the murder in 1958 of the King of Iraq, the Queen of England attended not a memorial service for her royal counterpart, but the races at Ascot. She had only been queen for a few years. Mr. Ford has only been president for a few months. The queen has life tenure.

WHY DOES THE press have to photograph the President, when he is relaxing, or exercising? Of course, the paparazzi would follow the President into the shower if he permitted them. But why does he do it? It is hardly undemocratic to say to the press: "When I play golf, it is, among other things, in order to get away from the press. When I have a private party for my wife, or for an aide, I do not desire to invite seventy million Americans to attend it."

THE PRESIDENT is fortunately situated in that he has a security staff that can protect his privacy. He is probably the only man in the world who can actually ski alone: they will commandeer an entire mountain for him, which is more even than the Shah of Iran can achieve at St. Moritz, until he gets around to buying his own mountain. Why not use these privileges to buy this privacy: and to reaffirm what the Framers once called a decent respect for the opinions of mankind?

No doubt the audiences of the world, having absorbed the ghastly juxtapositions, will notice also that Hollywood awarded the prize for the best documentary film of 1974 to a paean to the Vietnam. And that when the announcement was made, at the Oscar-award ceremony, the spectators gave the producer an ovation, and he promptly seized the microphone and hailed the forthcoming "liberation" of South Vietnam. Perhaps Mr. Davis's next documentary will feature the heroic activities of Arafat and the Palestine Liberation Front. Will Hollywood then give him another Oscar, and will he then, to the thunder of applause, hail the forthcoming liberation of Palestine?

My Answer

Billy Graham

Perhaps you recall reading recently of the death of Vivien Kellems, the New England business woman who resisted the income tax. I admired her. And I think the Christian viewpoint is that if you consider the tax or anything else wrong — don't do it.

I'm sorry, the apostle Paul would not agree with you! And since God's Spirit used him to shape so much of our theology, the true church never has taught such immunity from responsibilities of citizenship.

There are ways — legitimate and effective ways — of expressing disagreement with governmental policy. But Romans 13 says, "There is no government anywhere that God has not placed in power. So those who refuse to obey the laws of the land are refusing to obey God, and punishment will follow."

Now I admit that when human government steps out of its province into the realm of the spiritual, then the Christian is obliged first to comply with the higher law of God. That's why the proclamation of Nebuchadnezzar was properly unheeded by those godly men (Daniel 3).

But to answer your question specifically — no, there is no such prerogative to disobey government rules that we may not like.

A Devotion For Today . .

"The man and his wife heard the sound of the Lord God walking in the garden at the time of the evening breeze and hid from the Lord God among the trees of the garden."

(Genesis 3:8 NEB)

PRAYER: O God, it is not easy to open myself to You or other people. Take away my fear and help me to reach out in love and trust to the people in my life. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Frillless Flights

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — The "no frills" airline fare is going into effect. National Airlines has just received permission to sell tickets on their planes for 35 per cent less. Other airlines are expected to follow.

ALL THE PASSENGER would get on the plane would be a seat. He would have to bring his own food, his own drink and provide his own Wash N' Dry towel.

It's quite possible that the "no frills" part of the aircraft could not only be the most economical but the most fun as well. I can see the scene.

FIFTY PEOPLE are seated in the back of the plane without so much as a stewardess in sight. Each of them has a picnic basket or a box lunch on his lap.

As soon as the plane gets in the air one of the passengers yells, "Does anybody want to trade a chicken salad with lettuce for a corned beef sandwich on rye?"

A man in the back says, "I'll give you a bacon, lettuce and tomato for the chicken salad and throw in a hard-boiled egg."

HIS WIFE SAYS, "I worked all morning to make the bacon, lettuce and tomato sandwiches. How could you trade them for chicken salad?"

"I'll give you my corned beef sandwich," a man yells, "for the chicken salad plus three brownies, and I can keep my pickle."

"Done," says the man with the chicken salad.

A COUPLE set up a hibachi stove in the aisle and started to barbecue spareribs.

"Hey," says a man sitting across from them. "Are you sure you're allowed to barbecue ribs on the plane?"

The lady who was putting the barbecue sauce on the rib says, "There's nothing in the ticket that says you can't cook your own meals in the 'no frills' section of the plane."

"Well, in that case," replies the man taking a sword out of his briefcase, "I'm going to have some shashlik."

THE ODORS of the cooking start to permeate the cabin. A lady preparing a cheese fondue on the seat next to her asks the lady in front if she can borrow a cup of oil.

The lady gives her the oil in exchange for some sugar which she needs for her pancake batter.

BY THIS TIME the passengers in tourist and first class smell all the food. An angry first-class passenger who has wandered into the "no frills" cabin by mistake comes storming back and says to the stewardess, "How come they're eating shashlik back there and we're eating this glop which you call chicken?"

"It's quite simple. If you have a 'no frills' ticket, you don't get the airline's food."

A BARREL OF beer that one of the passengers had brought on board is opened and paper hats are passed out by a party-favor salesman.

Several of the first-class and tourist passengers try to get back in the "no frills" section but they are stopped at the curtain by the stewardess who tells them sternly, "Go back to your seats, or I won't give you any coffee, tea or milk."

perience — has exceeded them in quietly making his mark on Capitol Hill. As such, he is a Ford administration rarity.

SOON AFTER SUCCEEDING Sawhill last December, Zarb decided on 30-year-old computer expert Zausner as one of his two deputies. But Zausner at FEA has taken stands ruggedly independent of big oil. Thus, the muscular oil lobby immediately plotted a campaign to block his nomination.

The oil lobbyists quickly won allies among Senators offended by Zausner's brash manner. Soon, however, the issue became a symbolic stand for conservative Westerners demanding something from a President they view as indifferent to their wishes. Zarb, insisting he needed Zausner, refused to give up.

WITH CONTROVERSY heating, the White House reacted in a way that may explain Mr. Ford's worsening political difficulties. The President neither jettisoned Zausner nor tried to salvage him. While White House chief of staff Donald Rumsfeld declined to lobby the Hill for Zausner, Zarb was given free rein to do what he could. That boiled down to this remarkable presidential position: If you can talk the Senators into going along, Frank, I'll back you up.

Zarb sought help from Interior Secretary Rogers Morton, still in nominal over-all charge of energy policy, and Treasury Secretary William Simon, who keeps a finger in the energy pie. Nothing doing. The Interior and Treasury Departments were not interested.

Swimming alone, Zarb found the current rough. Zausner was given up for dead by just about everybody — except Zarb.

Zarb Makes Czar

Rowland Evans

WASHINGTON — In consecutive breakfast meetings Tuesday morning at the White House and in Capitol Hill, Federal Energy administrator Frank Zarb won a bloodless victory in a battle of wills with hardboiled Western Republican Senators which reinforces his stature as a rising force in a fading administration.

AT 7:20 A.M., Zarb breakfasted in the west wing of the White House with Sen. James McClure of Idaho. A half hour later, they drove up Pennsylvania Avenue to join Sens. Paul Fannin of Arizona, Clifford Hansen of Wyoming and Dewey Bartlett of Oklahoma in the Senate dining room. The upshot: all four quietly dropped their lethal opposition to Eric R. Zausner as a Zarb deputy at the Federal Energy Administration (FEA). For months, President Ford has been sitting on the proposed nomination to see how the wind would blow.

THE RESOLUTION of a seemingly routine dispute is in fact a matter of importance. First, controversy over Zausner had lingered so long that he had come to symbolize fierce discontent with the Ford White House by Western conservatives. Second, Mr. Ford and his aides had characteristically washed their hands of Zausner, leaving his fate with Zarb.

Thus, winning agreement for Zausner is a formidable accomplishment by Zarb which confirms him, far more than his three predecessors, as energy czar in fact as well as headline fancy. Though less publicized and televised than John Love, William Simon or John Sawhill, Zarb — a 40-year-old New York investment banker with little governmental and no political ex-

Syndrome Replaced

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The disaster syndrome, in which a lot of people were convinced that the disintegration of economic society lay ahead, has been replaced in recent weeks by the crisis syndrome.

There is a vast difference. Economic society can live with crises. By some definitions, in fact, that is what economic society is today, just one crisis after another. But crises can be solved, and economic society goes on.

There are signs now that the world is getting over its shocks and is about to look at its problems realistically and even go about trying to solve some of them with some degree of hope.

A Vicious Circle

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: For almost four months now I have suffered from constipation. I have changed my diet several times, and at one point I lived on all-bran and rhubarb without any natural movements.

My doctor seems unconcerned and assures me it is just bad bowel habit. I have taken the bulk-forming tablets for a month without any improvement. Unless I take a laxative, sometimes for two days, I don't have a movement.

I have been sitting at a regular time each evening. No luck. What do you think might be wrong? What am I doing wrong? I am 25 years old and otherwise in perfect health. Please send me your booklet, "The Real Cure for Hemorrhoids," for which I'm enclosing you 25 cents in care of this newspaper. I'm enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

I think you might have a rather complicated problem — or series of problems — one building on the other. I base this on the fact that you ask in your letter for the hemorrhoids booklet, and I assume you want that because you have them. And you can't say you are in "perfect" health if you have hemorrhoids, can you?

The Office for Economic Cooperation, made up of the world's leading trading nations, feels that inflation is tending to be less extreme, down from 15 per cent late in 1974 to 9.5 per cent for the three months ending with February.

Prices don't rise forever, we have learned, after having that notion imprinted on our brains for most of the past decade. For four straight months U.S. wholesale prices have fallen. Farm prices have been sharply lower.

While the latter won't do farmers any good — in fact, it demonstrates that the up-down misfortunes of farming remain built into the system — they do offer some reassurance that there is some give and take in the market place.

It is now more credible to argue that the petrodollar outflow to the Mideast isn't going to destroy Western civilization but that conceivably it could be turned into a gain. Many Western business enterprises already are prospering from going where the money goes.

While the old issues remain part of the scene as the newer issues emerge, the latter don't seem to be branded with the same despair. The world isn't coming to an end economically, although some feel the political aspect of that consideration might lead to a different answer.

in for more serious things, such as disturbance elsewhere in the digestive tract.

Worry, hemorrhoids and constipation can be a vicious circle, and you should break it quickly. I suggest you relax and at least allow nature to take its course once and for all. This would be a good beginning toward solving your problem.

Meanwhile, you might try a glycerin suppository to initiate action.

Note to Miss D.P. — the sex change surgery you refer to is very expensive. I understand it is being attempted with more frequency these days, but it is one you should not plan on undergoing unless you are emotionally stable. In fact, before you are adjudged a candidate, you would have to be examined by a gland specialist, a gynecologist, a urologist, as well as a psychologist or psychiatrist.

What about constipation? Many can be relieved of it, both mentally and physically, by reading Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "The Way to Stop Constipation." Send your request to Dr. Thosteson, P.O. Box 3999, Elgin, Ill. 60120, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Museums Are Toured By Hyperions

Concluding their year's study on "Our Texas Heritage", 19 members of the 1953 Hyperion Club joined in a caravan Thursday for visits to three museums in the area.

At Gail they toured the Borden County Museum and were served refreshments by Mrs. Pauline Clark, Mrs. Bonnie Sneed, Mrs. Sybil Gilmore and Miss Doris Rudd, members of the museum committee.

The group continued their trip to Snyder where they had lunch at Western Texas College and visited the Scurry County Museum on campus. They also viewed the exhibit of western paintings and drawings by the late W.H.D. Koerner.

The club then toured the Diamond M. Museum. The last meeting of the year next month will be a luncheon for which plans will be announced later by Mrs. Jimmy Taylor.

Dr. Koshi Tests Soil For Club

Dr. Paul Koshi conducted a workshop for How to Grow Garden Club members Friday at the home of Mrs. Robert Simica.

The soil testing was under the direction of Dr. Koshi who told the group that soil in the Edwards Plateau is black, that in the east of Big Spring is sand and clay, and south and west is where caliche is found.

It was suggested that those who want their soil tested should contact their county agent.

Announcement was made of the seminar and all-day workshop to be held May 6 at 10 a.m. at the TESCO Reddy Room. Dr. Bill Peavy, Ft. Stockton, will be in charge of the program on budding and grafting, drip irrigation and landscaping.

The public is invited to attend and should notify County Agent Bruce Griffith of intention to be present. The last class will begin at 2:30 p.m.

Dear Abby

Anyone Can Pray In His Heart To His Own Lord

DEAR ABBY: I am writing in response to "Small Town, Mo." who called the Protestant clergy man "thoughtless" for offering a prayer in the name of Jesus Christ when there were people of other faiths present. (And you said, "You make a good point!")

Lady, I am a Christian, and as far as I am concerned, Christianity is the only religion in the world.

If you were invited to give the invocation at a public meeting, would you sit down for a couple of hours and make a study of all the religions that could possibly be represented in your community, and then make up a prayer that could in no way offend anybody?

There is no possible way! Sign me, "R.D. IN PANAMA CITY, FLA." — or "LOVE IN CHRIST"

DEAR LOVE: If I were invited to give the invocation at a public meeting attended by various faiths, I would offer a prayer in the name of "God, Our heavenly Father, the Lord," or "The Supreme Being." That should satisfy everyone.

DEAR ABBY: I don't know where to go with the problem so I'm turning to you. My son, an only child, is 4 years old. He's a normal, healthy boy, but I'm afraid he won't be for long if something isn't done about his eating habits — and soon.

For the last two months he has been living on peanut butter and jelly sandwiches and chocolate chip ice cream. That is all. He refuses to touch milk, orange juice, cereal or vegetables.

I called my pediatrician and he said, "Don't force him to eat anything he doesn't like, and don't worry, he won't starve. And I have to go now because I have a boy in my office who has a nickel up his nose." Then he hung up.

Abby, can a child possibly live on a diet of peanut butter and jelly sandwiches and chocolate chip ice cream? Can you suggest some way to get him to eat something else? Please help me.

Extended Coverage

By Jerry E. Mancill, CLU, CPCU

One way to burglar-proof your home is to get friendly with your neighbors. They'll report suspicious strangers while you're away.

Secure double-hung windows with ten-penny nails set into holes you've drilled in the window frames where they overlap, so that the window can't be opened. Want to open the window for ventilation? Drill a second set of holes a little higher in the top sash.

Special locks are available for casement windows, as replacement for the standard lever action. Make sure the front door is secure and solid. Then get a good lock for it.

To secure the back door, mount metal brackets on the door frames and drop lengths of pipes or 2x4 lumber in the brackets. Works like a big "bar" lock.

Protect your home as best you can, with good locks for doors and windows — and with adequate insurance protection. Discuss it soon with Stripling-Mancill Insurance Agency, 102 Caylor Office Building, 600 Main.

to receive evidence on the conditions, if any, under which the amended permit may be issued, and to determine whether State Certification in accordance with Section 401 of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act Amendments of 1972 may be issued. Preliminary information available to the staff of the Texas Water Quality Board indicates that a waste discharge conforming to the conditions in the proposed permit would not unreasonably impair the quality of waters in the State.

The hearing may continue from time to time and place to place, if necessary, to develop all relevant evidence bearing on the subject of the hearing. Further information concerning any aspect of the discharge, if available, may be obtained by writing the Texas Water Quality Board, P. O. Box 1224, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711.

Winner Of Two Oscars Expires

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Fredric March, the magnetic actor renowned for his film portrayal of a returning World War II GI adjusting to peacetime America in "The Best Years of Our Lives," is dead at 77.

Equipped with physical charm and intelligence, March earned two Oscars during a 40-year career on the stage and screen.

Death came Monday at Mt. Sinai Hospital, where he had been treated on and off for more than a year and was most recently admitted April 5. His agent said he died of cancer.

On the stage in Eugene O'Neill's "Long Day's Journey into Night," March portrayed a man alternately loving and miserly who achieved material success at a tragic price to himself and his family.

But March was more than a big box office success. He also was considered one of the country's finest actors, winning Academy Awards for "The Best Years of Our Lives" and the horror film, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

He shared his personal and professional life with actress Florence Eldridge, whom he married in 1927 and who survives. She costarred with him and they spent hours poring over scripts and discussing acting technique. They lived in semiretirement, in Beverly Hills and on a 40-acre farm in New Milford, Conn.

In his early film days, the tall, dark-haired March was often cast as a debonaire leading man, but took a startlingly different tack in 1932 with "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

The son of a Racine, Wis., manufacturer, March graduated from high school at 16. Though his ambition was to become a banker, he went to war and became one of the youngest lieutenants in the U.S. Army in World War I.

Tri State Oil and Gas has staked another outpost location in western Mitchell County in spotting its No. 2 Maguire. It will be 467 from the south and 1,650 from the east lines of section 5-27, T&P, half a mile southwest of the recent location for No. 1 Maguire in section 4-27, T&P. This puts it three-fourths of a mile southwest of the Sharon Ridge (Clearfork) field, north of Westbrook.

In Howard County, Laurel No. 1 Hodnett set the 8½-inch string at 2,296. Monsanto No. 1 Christian was building roads to location.

Amoco No. 1D E.L. Powell, 15 miles northwest of Garden City, was plugged at 8,300 feet. Location was 1,020 from the north and 760 from the east lines of section 10-35-38, T&P. Amoco No. 1 Houston drilled to 5,125 and Amoco No. 1 Powell was fishing at 8,232.

Samedan No. 1 Blanton in Borden County made hole at 6,170.

C&K No. 1 Foster in Sterling County was boring at 7,770.

JVs End Permian Streak

ODESSA — Clarence Palmer hit a two-run double with one out in the bottom of the seventh inning Monday to power the Big Spring Junior Varsity baseball team to a 4-3 victory over the Permian JVs, ending Permian's undefeated season.

The teams were tied going into the seventh and final inning, but Permian's pitcher, Coskrey, who was credited with the loss, hit a solo home run to give Permian a 3-2 lead going into the bottom of the seventh.

Palmer's blast put the Big Spring team ahead 4-3.

Mike Warren was two out of three at the plate and Arthur Olague and Randle Jones each got base hits in the game.

Jones was credited with the win for Big Spring.

The Big Spring team is now 5-4 and Permian is 7-1 for the year. Big Spring will travel to Midland Lee Wednesday for a 4:30 game and they will play at Permian again Friday at 4:30.

STRETCH FOR LOOSE BALL — Boston Celtics' Paul Silas and Houston Rockets' Ron Riley reach for loose ball in rebound during second period of their National Basketball Association playoff game Monday night at Boston Garden. Coming in on the action is Rockets' Kevin Kunert, center. Boston won the game 123 to 106, and leads best of 7 eastern semi-finals, 1-0.

Celtics Whip Rockets In NBA Playoff Series

BOSTON (AP) — John Havlicek, the Boston Celtics' elder statesman, felt "rejuvenated" and his teammates must have felt the same in making a whipping boy of the upstart Houston Rockets.

The Rockets, fresh from eliminating the New York Knicks in an opening-round upset, hoped they'd catch the Celtics late after an eight-day layoff since the end of the regular season.

The Celtics, led by Havlicek, quickly dispelled any such ideas and after a sluggish start rolled to a 123-106 victory over Houston Monday night in the opening game of their best-of-seven Eastern Division semifinal in the National Basketball Association playoffs.

In Monday's other semifinal opener, the Golden State Warriors pounded the Seattle SuperSonics 123-96.

Havlicek, appearing in playoffs for the 11th time in winding up his 13th year with the Celtics, scored 30 points, grabbed five rebounds and had nine assists. With 3,211 points in 138 playoff games, he trails only Jerry West, Elgin Baylor and Wilt Chamberlain among the all-time scoring leaders in NBA post-season play.

"We were rejuvenated," the 35-year-old Havlicek said. "Guys like (Don) Nelson, (Paul) Silas and myself welcomed the layoff because of our age. I think others like Dave Cowens also came back fresher even though we practice hard."

The Celtics had trouble getting going in the opening minutes against the Rockets. However, they broke out of a 10-10 tie with the help of three field goals by Havlicek and were in front to stay.

"We were pretty sharp after eight days off," Boston coach Tom Heinsohn said.

"That was may major concern. We played good defense. This was a big game for us, but we've got to win the next one Wednesday night or we lose the home court advantage."

"We can't afford any let-down. That club (Houston) looked bad against New York and came back to eliminate the Knicks. They can lull you to sleep and then croak you. We've got to play good basketball."

"We can play better. We didn't have a good game," Egan said. "It's a whole new game Wednesday. We'll play better as the series progresses."

Warriors 123, SuperSonics 96
The layoff also helped Golden State's Rick Barry, who gunned in 39 points, had 10 assists and five steals to lead the Pacific Division champion Warriors past Seattle.

Bailey Is New Coach Of Cubs

BROWNFIELD, N.M. — Jerry Bailey, head coach for the past four seasons at Tularosa, N.M., has been named head football coach at Brownfield High School, school superintendent W.O. Caraway announced Saturday.

Bailey, a graduate of Brownfield High, was approved by the school board Saturday morning and brings "a real good coaching record with him," according to Caraway.

Before taking the post at Tularosa, Bailey was an assistant coach at both Carlsbad and Artesa.

Bailey replaces Harold Teal, who has left the coaching ranks to enter the insurance business in San Angelo.

Church League Begins Season

The Church Fast Pitch Softball League will kick off their 1975 season with a double header tonight at Comanche Trail Park.

The First assembly will take on the Baptist Temple at 7:15 p.m. in the first game and Trinity Baptist and Evangel Temple will tangle in the 9:15.

The Jaycees will operate a concession stand for each night of play. Church League games are scheduled each Tuesday and Thursday nights at the park.

Thursday night, Crestview Baptist will play the First Church of the Nazarene at 7:15 and at 9:15, Hillcrest Baptist will play First Presbyterian. There are nine teams slated for action in the league this year.

Stanton Boy Wins Singles

LUBBOCK — Stanton High School's Darral Christian eliminated John Gats, Shallowater, 6-4, 4-6, 6-1 over the weekend to win the District 5-A Boy's Singles Championship.

He had earlier scored victories over Plains' Conners, 6-1, 7-6 and Seagraves' Given, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3.

The Stanton doubles team, Larry Butler and David Lowder were beaten by the Seagraves team, 4-6, 4-6.

Shallowater won the team title with 35 points while Stanton was second with 15 points.

WFL Slates Austere, Ten Team Schedule For '75

NEW YORK (AP) — Recovering from a disaster is no simple thing, particularly when the disaster was the nightmare which the World Football League became in its infant season.

Somehow, the WFL believes it has recovered, at least enough to try to reach the dreams which were so thoroughly shattered last fall.

The stories about the WFL are incredible, and mostly true. A script writer couldn't have imagined anything much worse.

Against that backdrop and against first-year losses of $20 million and a record amount of lost credibility, the WFL will present itself Wednesday as a league with a future, as one which will play in 1975.

This time, however, the scheme is not so grandiose. The million-dollar contracts and supersalesmanship banded about last year will be absent. In its place will be a league with a highly conservative — and for sports, revolutionary — financial structure.

The financing scheme, and indeed the fact that there will be a league, is a singular tribute to the reorganizing capabilities of Chris Hemmeyer, a Hawaiian land developer who became somewhat upset last year when his Honolulu-based WFL lost in excess of $3 million.

That earned the Hawaiians the honor of having lost more in one season than any professional sports team before it, and it brought from Hemmeyer a pledge that if there was to be a WFL again, it would be different or it would play without him.

Sources at the WFL meetings which have been in progress since the weekend say the league expects to announce a 10-team league on Wednesday. Helping making that announcement will be such WFL players as Larry Conka, Jim Kick, Paul Warfield and Calvin Hill.

Just which cities are to be in the league was not publicly known today, and in fact the league may not know yet. Hemmeyer said he remained "quite optimistic that our problem areas will be resolved, though much work remains to be done over the next few days."

What that means is that some cities are not yet firm. Philadelphia, Memphis, Honolulu, Shreveport, La., and Anaheim, Calif., are considered sure bets to be in the WFL. Cities considered likely franchise holders are Chicago, Birmingham, Ala., Jacksonville, Fla., Portland, Ore., and Charlotte, N.C.

All will operate under Hemmeyer's financial plan, which requires that each team place in escrowed bank accounts 150 per cent of their anticipated operating expenses for 1975. Additionally, percentages of the team's revenue will be placed in four separate bank accounts, some of them controlled by the league.

It is from these accounts that the league intends to pay player salaries and stadium rents, thus avoiding last year's failures.

Marshall Shines In Dodger Win Over Reds

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "That's when he's at his best," declared Los Angeles Dodger catcher Joe Ferguson after relief pitcher Mike Marshall faced the challenge of Johnny Bench and Tony Perez and eliminated it.

So the Dodgers finally beat the Cincinnati Reds 5-2 in the Los Angeles home baseball opener after bowing in Ohio three straight games.

Elsewhere on a slim major league schedule, the Chicago Cubs downed the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-2, the Philadelphia Phillies edged the New York Mets 4-3, the San Diego Padres shamed the San Francisco Giants 3-1 and the Oakland A's nipped the Kansas City Royals 3-2 in the only American League contest.

The Dodgers-Reds final score was 5-2 and it was the same in the eighth inning when Cincinnati had three men on base, one out and the power-hitting Bench and Perez coming to bat.

Marshall, the Cy Young Award winner as the best National League hurler last season, struck out Bench and, after going 2-2 on Perez, got him to hit into a force play ending the inning.

Cubs 4, Pirates 2
Rick Reuschel, Oscar Zamora and Darold Knowles teamed up on a six-hitter and pitched the Cubs over the previously unbeaten Pirates, who had been the only unbeaten team in the majors. It was the Cubs' fourth straight triumph since their only loss to Pittsburgh on opening day in Chicago.

Jerry Morales staked Reuschel to a 1-0 lead in the second inning when he homered off Bob Moose. The Cubs chased Moose with three runs in a fourth-inning spurt that included four singles plus a double by Steve Swisher.

Phillies 4, Mets 3
Mike Schmidt greeted reliever Jerry Cram with a leadoff home run in the ninth inning, capping a late rally that ruined the major league pitching debut of New York's Randy Tate. Tate breezed into the eighth with a three-hitter and a 3-0 lead. But he walked Larry Bowa with two out, Willie Montañez doubled for one run and Greg Luzinski tied the score with his fourth home run of the young season. Tate left for a pinch hitter in the top of the ninth.

Padres 3, Giants 1
Sonny Siebert pitched five innings of no-hit ball, then turned the mound over to Dave Tomlin and Bill Greif. Siebert limited the Giants to a first-inning walk and retired 14 straight batters before Dave Rader singled leading off the sixth.

Von Joshua and Thomas followed with singles to lead the bases with one out but Tomlin came on and got Bobby Murcer to line back to the mound for an inning-ending double play. Bill Greif replaced Tomlin in the seventh and nailed down the victory, giving up only Gary

School Board Revises Tennis Center Policy

By MARJ CARPENTER

Big Spring High School Athletic Director Bob Burris, along with tennis coach Novice Kniffen, and Supt. Emmett McKenzie, set up a strict set of rules to be followed in the delineation of the high school UIL tennis program in relation to the Figure Seven Tennis Center, at the Big Spring School Board Meeting Monday night.

"Big Spring is fortunate to have a fine tennis facility available for use by its residents," Dr. Emmett McKenzie, school superintendent, told the local school board.

"Use of the Figure Seven Tennis Center for University Interscholastic League activities, as well as the circumstance whereby one person serves as both high school tennis coach and professional of the tennis center, creates a somewhat unique situation."

"These factors may tend to provide interest in tennis among Big Spring youth, as well as adults, the situation also poses potential problems regarding the school district's membership and participation in UIL," McKenzie added.

It was for this reason that the rules were set up.

They pointed out that the UIL rules require that all persons assigned to coaching be full-time employees of the school district, in keeping with this principle, the high school tennis coaches shall devote full time and effort toward instruction of high school tennis players during time designated for such play or practice.

The time shall be established by the tennis coaches in consultation with the director of athletics and shall be fully publicized by the tennis coach for knowledge of tennis participants and parents. No non-school responsibilities shall be permitted during such designated hours.

They further outlined that no fees shall be assessed members of the tennis team as a requirement for participating in the tennis program, including the use of tennis courts during high school designated practice and competition hours, tennis lessons, or use of equipment such as ball machines during designated practice hours.

Such items of equipment or uniforms which are customarily purchased by the individual participants are not included in this requirement. They may still be purchased by the individual and there will be no requirement regarding the source from which individual players purchase their tennis equipment.

No athletic equipment or materials shall be purchased from the Figure Seven Tennis Courts with funds derived from the athletic budget as long as the tennis coach and tennis center pro are the same individual. The high school tennis coach shall submit requisitions for purchase of equipment from other sources to the athletic director.

These regulations were set up for clarification, and most of them were suggested by the tennis coach himself. The superintendent and athletic director took his suggestions and formulated the rules to be followed in the program.

The school board gave their stamp of approval to the regulations.

Prep All-American List Said To Only Sell Books

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Elmer Shotwell could be another Jack Armstrong: the All-American sports hero, well-liked, a natural leader, a top student, president of the Letterman's Club.

But like Armstrong, Shotwell is an imaginary character, although you wouldn't know it if you read one publication's pick of this year's All-American high school basketball players. Shotwell's right there, identified by his coach as a great player and great person.

Phil Miller, basketball coach at Wainwright High School here, invented Shotwell earlier this year to prove that anyone — in fact, no one — could be a high school All-American. Miller sent in the legendary Shotwell's statistics to a Cambridge, Mass., firm, "High School All-Americans," that solicits prep players of All-American caliber.

The firm also sends the "All-American" an order form for an $18.95 book it sells, listing the players.

Miller made Shotwell a 6-foot guard who averaged 27 points and 12.8 rebounds a game and led Gladden Corner High School to the pinnacle of Hoosier basketball, personally gaining All-Wea Creek Conference and Class C All-State honors.

Shotwell was also deemed president of the Gladden Corner Letterman's Club, and cited for various other school and civic achievements — all imaginary.

"I got suspicious of this company's offer when they asked me to nominate up to four of my players as high school All-Americans," Miller said. "That sounded kind of weird to me. Nobody has four All-Americans."

"I had an idea it was just one of these deals where they want to sell you a book. My daughter was named on one of these things, the Society of Distinguished American High School Students or something, last year. They just wanted to sell her a book with her name in it."

Sure enough, Miller said he got back a letter from a man who identified himself as editor of "High School All-Americans."

"They said Shotwell had been accepted after a committee had carefully screened his background," Miller said. "They wanted him to buy this book, and they implied it would be sent to all the college recruiters."

"They told him he was one of a select group of less than one per cent of all the nation's athletes to be selected."

Miller said any check would have shown not only Shotwell to be a fake, but also the "Wea Creek Conference" and even "Class C" to be frauds because there are no classes in Indiana prep basketball. Gladden Corner High School existed "about 60 years ago," he said.

"I think the whole thing is funny," Miller said. "But it's too bad, too, because it sort of takes away the meaning from the kids that really deserve recognition. I guess I could have nominated Charley Fastbreak with the same results."

And, most players in the league will be guaranteed a $10,000 salary against one per cent of their team's gross revenue, whichever is greater. This will replace the standard professional player salary. The league will play a 20-game schedule, on weekends, beginning the first weekend in August.

ABA Playoffs Denver Wins Series, Spurs Close Gap

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — "I'm going to savor this," said an ecstatic Denver Coach Larry Brown. "We're fortunate to be in the second round."

Brown was savoring the Monday night's 115-113 Nuggets victory over the Utah Stars in the American Basketball Association's Western Division playoff. It landed Denver in the upcoming series against an opponent still to be decided.

The victory capped the best-of-seven series at 4-2 and ended a frustrating season for the Stars.

Brown, who earlier in the day was named ABA Coach of the Year, says he doesn't want to think about his team's next opponent, either San Antonio or Indiana. "I'm just thankful to win," he said.

San Antonio took another step toward a possible upset Monday night by cutting Indiana's lead to 3-2 after trailing 3-0 in the other West Division series. Their 123-117 triumph over the Pacers gives them a chance at becoming the first ABA team ever to trail 3-0 and come back to win a playoff series.

The defending champion New York Nets, hanging on for dear life, try to avoid elimination tonight in the fifth game of their East Division semifinal with the Spirits of St. Louis. The Kentucky Colonels await the winner of that series.

Spurs 123, Pacers 117
George Gervin gunned in 42 points and James Silas added 39 plus 13 assists in San Antonio's second straight victory over Indiana.

No ABA team has ever been down three games in a playoff series and come back to win the series.

"Shots were just dropping for me and when (Rich) Jones got thrown out of the game, somebody had to take up the slack," Silas said.

Jones was ejected with 7:39 left in the first period when he punched at the Pacers' Nevin Joyce.

Gervin also collected 17 rebounds. Asked if he was surprised at the San Antonio comeback after being down three games, Gervin said, "I have never given up hope."

ABA scoring leader George McGinnis finished with 40 points Monday and Billy Knight added 35 to the losing total.
