Death Penalty Upheld By 3-2 Vote In Texas

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals today upheld the death penalty law passed by the 1973 legislature after the state's old capital punishment act had been struck down by the U.S. Supreme Court.

The court made its decision in an appeal by Jerry Lane Jurek, who was assessed the death penalty by a Guero jury in the slaying of a policeman's 10-year-old daughter.

Lawyers for Jurek had contended that the new death penalty law, which was strictly limited to certain aggravated forms of murder, still left juries too much freedom in deciding whether to send a defendant to the electric chair.

But the court found that the new death penalty law adheres to both the U.S. Constitution and to the latest U.S. Supreme Court's decision on the death penalty.

The decision was rendered on a 3-2 vote, with Judges Truman Roberts and Wendell Odum both saying they would favor striking down the death penalty law.

The U.S. Supreme Court is now considering appeals from other states in which similar death penalty statutes are under attack. Jurek's case was the first to reach Texas' court of last resort.

MURDER FOR HIRE
The Texas' law allows imposition of the death

'RELIEVED' OF POST
Alexander N. Sheplein, 56, former head of the Soviet secret police and the youngest member of the ruling Politburo, has been "relieved" of his post at his own request, the Moscow radio said today. A trip he made to Britain last month was troubled by demonstrations.

penalty for murder committed in the course of a kidnapping, burglary, robbery, forcible rape or for arson, murder for hire, murder during an escape from jail or prison or the killing of a peace officer or fireman. Death is mandatory if the jury finds the slaying was deliberate, without provocation and that the killer probably would commit future violent acts if allowed to live.

The court said that under the U.S. Supreme Court's decision striking down the previous death penalty law, several tests were laid down for determining the validity of a capital punishment law.

"Do they provide effective guidance to the jury? Do they adequately limit a discretion of the jury? Do they guard against the arbitrary and standardless imposition of the death penalty?"

"We hold that they do," the appeals court said of the Texas law.

PUNISHMENT
The court said the 1973 law assures that death will be imposed only for the most serious crimes and for "the same type of offenses which occur under the same type of circumstances." The law also limits the jury's discretion in such capital murder cases to either death or life imprisonment, with no milder penalties permitted. In addition, the court said, the mandatory findings on deliberateness of the murder and future danger to society "channel the jury's consideration on punishment and effectively insure against the arbitrary and wanton imposition of the death penalty."

Addressing the contention that the law allowed a jury too much leeway, the court said "some discretion is inherent and desirable in any system of justice, from arrest to final judgment... to eliminate all discretion on the part of the jury would be to risk elimination of that valuable element which permits individualization based on consideration of all extenuating circumstances and would eliminate the element of mercy, one of the fundamental conditions of our system of criminal jurisprudence," said the court's majority opinion.

Foes Drive For Airport

By the Associated Press

Communist-led insurgents began shelling the center of Phnom Penh today and launched a massive drive to take the airport, field reports said. The besieged government fought back with ground and air forces.

In South Vietnam, field reports said government troops were forced into their first retreat in the crucial battle for Xuan Loc but continued to hold the ruins of the isolated provincial capital 40 miles east of Saigon.

Other field reports in South Vietnam said radio contact was lost with the provincial capital of Phan Rang, one of two remaining government coastal enclaves. This generally signals the fall of a town. North Vietnamese forces also captured the strategic crossroads of Dau Giay on Highway 1 about 30 miles east of Saigon.

A high-ranking Cambodian officer said four regiments of the Communist-led insurgents were assembled for the attack on the airfield four miles west of Phnom Penh. Cambodian air force T28 fighter-bombers and gunship helicopters were reported strafing the rebels.

The Khmer Rouge insurgents moved their 105mm artillery to the southern outskirts of Phnom Penh and began shelling the central part of the city. Ten people were reported killed and 30 wounded by the howitzer shells.

The territory held by the Cambodian government was steadily shrinking. Clouds of black smoke hung over the city, and the International Red Cross declared the leading hotel a security zone for noncombatants and the sick and wounded.

Hard fighting was reported at the southern edge of Chba Ampeu, across the U.N. Bridge to the western outskirts of Phnom Penh. Government forces closed the bridge to keep out infiltrators.

Government positions in various parts of the northern, southern and southern-west sectors were reported holding despite heavy attacks.

Radio reports in Bangkok, Thailand, said the Khmer Rouge have taken over the east bank of the Mekong River across from Phnom Penh, a bridge across the Bassac River on the southern edge of the city and were within a mile of the northern edge.

Another battle was reported at Ben Tranh, in the Mekong Delta 35 miles south of Saigon. The government said two of its A37 jets were shot down and three men were lost, while casualties in the ground fighting were 26 Viet Cong and two government soldiers killed and 18 government men wounded.

Officials in Washington said the number of Americans in South Vietnam would be cut to about 1,000 in the next two weeks so those remaining could be evacuated quickly. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger told a congressional committee that the U.S. Embassy in Saigon has been ordered to reduce the number of Americans to the essential minimum, and Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger said 3,850 are still in the country.

A GRIM TASK — A South Vietnamese trooper and a comrade rest briefly from the grim task of carrying the body of another soldier killed hours before. The dead soldier was a casualty of fighting near Hung Loc, a town on Route 1 east of Saigon.

Massage Parlors Spread Can Not Be Controlled?

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The spread of massage parlors in the unincorporated areas of many Texas counties is uncontrollable, a Dallas county commissioner says.

Jim Tyson, speaking before the House Jurisprudence Committee Tuesday night, said the presence of the parlors in many communities is causing area residents to move to other locations.

"We need the help of this session of the legislature now in fighting these establishments," Tyson said.

The committee was considering a series of bills by Reps. Calvin Rucker, D-Cedar Hill, and Gene Green, D-Houston, designed to control the spread of massage establishments.

One bill would forbid a person from massaging a member of the opposite sex. Both representatives had measures that would allow county commissioners to regulate massage parlors in the unincorporated areas of the county.

Greene said massage parlors exist as a way to get around the laws against prostitution.

Don Hamon, an Irving policeman, said the majority of the massage parlors were nothing more than houses of prostitution many of which were supplied with women by elements of organized crime.

"The only way we have to fight these places is through the use of undercover police officers, but that is not very effective because the officers quickly lose their cover," Hamon said.

Don Thomas, owner of an Irving massage parlor, said he has not had a citation since he began operations in 1973.

"But I'm not saying some things have never happened because they have," Thomas said.

Thomas, who said his employees wore hot pants and halter tops, was asked by Rep. John Bryant, D-Dallas, why such outfits were necessary.

"Because it's warm in there," Thomas said. "Sometime I have to wear a bathing suit because a warm temperature is necessary for a good massage."

Another parlor owner, James Davis, said if the committee were trying to fight prostitution it should be done by making a violation of the prostitution law a felony rather than a misdemeanor as it now is.

Davis said some men visit his establishment for reasons other than the presence of scantily dressed women.

"We have lots of businessmen and others who come in just because they love the massage," Davis said.

All the bills were sent to subcommittee.

First Of Her Sex To Win Mayor's Race In City

By the Associated Press

San Antonio voters chose Lila Cockrell as the first woman mayor of a major Texas city in a runoff election Tuesday, an insurance man captured the mayor's seat in El Paso and Dallas voters selected an independent in a runoff for a city council seat.

Although Mayor-elect Cockrell said her candidacy was not inspired by women's liberation, she added, "I'm quite sure a number of women are quite thrilled a woman has been elected mayor of a major American city."

"Naturally as a woman, I am quite thrilled. It does mean another new area has been opened up for the service of a woman."

Mrs. Cockrell, a veteran of San Antonio politics and a candidate backed by the Good Government League, defeated beer distributor John Montrey in a runoff for place number nine, the mayor's office. The vote was 55,439 to 47,287.

City Gets $28,651

The City of Big Spring received a check for $28,651.37 for city sales tax for the month preceding April 4 in the mail today.

The state comptroller, Bob Bullock, has started issuing monthly checks instead of quarterly checks. There will be no way to compare with the previous year until three monthly checks have arrived to compare with a previous quarterly payment.

In the very small towns, this made some payments less than $500 and the comptroller said that under the new monthly system, payments of less than $500 will not be made, but the sum added to the next month. The monthly payment for Midland was $143,738 and for Odessa, $211,703.

Man Sexually Mutilated

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — Wichita County sheriff's deputies continued their efforts today to identify a man whose badly-beaten sexually-mutilated body was found between here and Burkburnett Tuesday.

The body was found stuffed beneath a wooden bridge about noon Tuesday by oilfield workers.

An autopsy indicated the man had been stabbed several times and his head crushed from repeated blows about the right ear, and his body sexually mutilated.

The man was described as 5-foot-10 1/2 inches, weighing about 150 pounds with medium length brown hair and receding hairline. Authorities said the man had several tattoos on his arms, legs and back.

Sailboating weather. Partly cloudy with westerly wind 15-25 miles per hour and gusty this afternoon. Decreasing to 10-20 m.p.h. tonight. High today and Thursday in the 80s. Low tonight, low 50s.

Meistersingers To Start Trip

The Meistersingers will leave Wednesday April 23, on their annual spring tour, according to Jack Bowers, director.

They sing at 12:30 noon that day at the music building at Texas Tech. They will attend the play, "The Odd Couple," at the Hayloft Dinner Theater that night and spend the night in Lubbock.

On Thursday, they go to Portales where they sing at Eastern New Mexico State at 1 p.m. They go to Amarillo to spend the night Thursday and Friday. At 8:30 a.m., they sing at Amarillo High School at an assembly. The boy's choir sings that afternoon at 4:45 p.m. at the Greater Southwest Music Festival and the girls' choir sings Saturday at 10:45 a.m. The Meistersingers perform at 1:15 p.m. They return to Big Spring late Saturday.

Today's Bright Spot

Building permits for March totaled $548,400, as compared to $38,795 for March, 1974.

Experts Tour Caves, Find Nothing New

Texas Department of Parks and Wildlife cave experts went through the caves at the Big Spring State Park Tuesday, but found nothing that hasn't already been discovered.

The three spelunkers, two men and a woman, spent several hours beneath the earth, exploring crevices, as local park superintendent Dennis Wynne; former park superintendent, Burl Cramer, Industrial Foundation Chief Executive Ron Mercer, a McKinney man, Frank Garcia and others looked on.

According to the explorers, the caves are probably simply crevices that have been widened a bit by water seepage, but there are probably no large caverns that could be developed and used as a tourist attraction.

They also reported that if a community group wanted to try to develop the caves, permission would have to be obtained from the Parks Department.

Garcia, who worked in the CCC Camp from 1933 to 1935 at the park, pinpointed the site of a larger cave that existed at that time. The large cave is now buried under several feet of rock and earth, if it has not been caved in.

The cave experts felt that the expense that would be involved in excavating the site would not be justified as a tourist attraction.

Water-Sewer Bond Issue OKed By Lamesa Voters

LAMESA — Lamesa voters voted overwhelmingly in support of a combined $600,000 water and sewer bond issue when they went to the polls Tuesday.

The water improvements proposition, which was for $555,000 total, included a vote of 242 for and 71 against. In the proposition of $55,000 for sewer improvements, the vote was 239 for and 68 against.

The World At-A-Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz has decided to remain on the job at the request of President Ford, possibly through the 1976 presidential election, according to sources in Congress and the administration. According to the sources, Ford asked Butz earlier this month to remain in the Cabinet indefinitely. For more than a year there have been rumors that Butz soon would leave the post.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The bribery trial of John B. Connally is headed toward closing arguments following the former treasury secretary's admission that some of his testimony conflicts with earlier statements he made. Connally was the final witness in his own defense, denying that he took two alleged $5,000 payoffs from a milk producer's co-op for helping persuade the Nixon administration to raise milk prices in 1971.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The South Vietnamese military command is rapidly reorganizing some 22,000 troops salvaged from the recent disastrous retreats into a new Marine division and 25 Army battalions to help defend the country's shrunken territory. Pentagon sources said the reforming of about 9,000 Marines and 13,000 soldiers evacuated from areas overrun by the North Vietnamese has moved faster than expected.

WASHINGTON (AP) — With most Americans in the process of leaving South Vietnam, Congress is considering a $200-million fund to assist in the withdrawal and to provide humanitarian aid. The $200-million figure was agreed upon tentatively by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Final decision was deferred amid an indication that the panel wanted a final assurance that Americans were indeed leaving Vietnam.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Russian navy is engaged in worldwide maneuvers that may develop into the biggest in peacetime history, Pentagon sources report. Some 200 Soviet ships have been deployed so far. All elements of the Soviet navy, including surface warships, submarines and the Russian naval air arm, are said to be involved. Russian merchant ships also are taking part.

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The coalition of leftists, neutralists and rightists that governs Laos seems to be taking in calm stride what is going on in the rest of Indochina. "Laos will stand firmly and strictly in a neutrality policy regardless of whatever changes or circumstances," the neutralist premier, Prince Souvanna Phouma, said recently as the Communists tightened the noose around Phnom Penh in Cambodia and took over much of South Vietnam.

DETROIT (AP) — Car sales in early April failed to signal the spring upturn which auto executives hoped would put the industry back on its feet. And Chrysler Corp. revealed it had an operating loss of $170 million in the last quarter of 1974, more than double the net losses it reported earlier. Reports from the four major auto companies Tuesday showed domestic car sales during April 1-10 fell 29 per cent from a year ago to their lowest level for the period in 14 years.

PARIS (AP) — The proposal for a conference to regulate the international oil trade collapsed today as the meeting to prepare for the parley broke up in deadlock. After nine days of exhausting negotiations, the 10 delegations representing oil exporters, industrialized nations and developing nations that import oil went home without setting a date for new talks.

BULLET BITES APPLE — A .30 calibre rifle bullet, traveling 2,800 feet per second, creates a splash as it tears through an apple in this high-speed stroboscopic photograph by Dr. Harold E. Edgerton of MIT. The instant was caught on film by an exposure of one three-millionth of a second. Moments later the apple disintegrated.

Question To Be Answered

Commenting on efforts to amend the Lower Colorado River Authority act to increase its bonding authority from $400 to $600 million, a Sierra Club attorney charged this was a step toward implementing the Texas Water Development Plan.

Commenting on this, the Corpus Christi Caller Times observed that "one little item seems to have been overlooked by planners as well as opponents of the plan. It can be posed in this question: Who is going to give Texas the authority to take Mississippi River water as it flows through Mississippi or Louisiana?"

Lon C. Hill of Corpus Christi, who bore wounds from many a water battle, once summed up his experience in these words: "If you get into a water fight, your best friend is likely to cut your throat." He said this in the context of a struggle to authorize the interbasin transfer of water in Texas, from the Sabine-Neches watersheds to South Texas. After investigating the situation he gave this verdict: "Those folks (in East Texas) aren't going to give us a bucketful of water."

A similar verdict is likely if Mississippi or Louisiana are asked to share the Mississippi River water with us. If the water were taken out of the river below New Orleans, it could be assumed that this was "waste" water that would flow into the Gulf of Mexico. But water rights questions are never uncomplicated. If the right were obtained by Texas to a certain number of acre feet of water a year from the Mississippi it could affect the water rights of every upstream user.

"The Texas Water Plan seemed to be a good plan when it was proposed. But second-thoughts expose problems and difficulties that might defy resolution. Texans who are thinking about additional supplies of water for the future may as well forget about taking it from the Mississippi River."

The point is worth raising. We always have said that the legal problems involved in any plan of water import are far more formidable than the engineering and financial ones. But this is not to say that it is impossible — rather it is extremely difficult. How are we going to find out if the issue is not put and pressed? Ultimately, this is a legal question which must be settled, to wit, can we acquire water and from whom? Backing off won't answer it.

Worth A Study To See

Howard County Commissioners Court is considering an experiment for one-course stabilization or protection of road base.

It is possible that this may be adequate for certain roads with certain types of traffic. It's worth pursuing, but on an experimental rather than an accepted basis. If this proves out, then certainly it will represent an economy, or a means of stretching permanent road dollars further. If, on the other hand, maintenance problems become a major consideration, it would be false economy. It's worth a try, and worth good records to yield a valid study. Either way, the court will have something substantial to go on.

And Fired The Shot

Around The Rim

Joe Pickle

The bicentennial of the American War for Independence really had its beginning 200 years ago come Saturday morning. Officially, we pin the beginning of the Bicentennial to July 4, which commemorates the affirmative vote for the Declaration of Independence by the Colonies from the Britain, but it started early on that April morning.

WITHIN A century from the time that first colonists were rooted on North American shores by Englishmen, irritants had grown into provocations, and frictions into country turned over the job of enforcing the infamous Stamp Act to the Royal Navy, an increasing number of colonists bowed their neck. As Englishmen, they said, they had been given no voice, as was their right, in Parliament when the taxes were imposed. Worse still, they were jerked up and summarily disciplined by the Navy for real or fancied evasion of the taxes.

STILL, THERE was pride of ancestry and loyalty to the Crown, holding a mounting tide of separatism in check, that is until an act was imposed requiring that the Colonials quarter and supply the British troops which had been sent to maintain order. Patriot groups began to spring up, and more than that, villages and counties started forming their own militia. Pamphleteers and the emerging press stoked the fires. Voices of conciliation were drowned in the din, so much so, that on Oct. 11, 1774 the first "Provincial Congress" convened in Concord, Mass. and declared that the colonies were "entitled to life, liberty and means of sustenance by the grace of Heaven and without the King's leave."

FARMERS AND others began to lay in stores of powder, lead, flour, meat and other provisions. One of these was cached at the village of Concord.

When Gen. Thomas Gage took command of the Boston garrison on March 20, 1775 he sent his scouts to appraise the situation. They came back with news of the supplies concentrated at Concord, so he decided to strike and wipe out these stores. The Colonials had their spy system, too, and on the night before the scheduled march to Concord, 20 miles away, they flashed word to William Dawes and Paul Revere to alert the native militiamen that Gage was on his way.

BY THE time that the British forces reached Lexington, six miles from Concord, they found 70 men assembled under Capt. John Parker. As the British force marched resolutely on to where Parker's men stood, he called to them: "Stand your ground! Don't fire unless fired upon! But if they mean to have a war, let it be here!"

THEY WERE met with a volley. Eight colonials were killed and 10 injured, and the balance fell back stubbornly, slowing the resolute British march to Concord, where they began to apply the torch. Col. Barrett assembled with his 400 Minutemen and militiamen atop a nearby hill, ordered them to march, duplicating Parker's order: "Don't fire until fired upon." This time, however, when the British cut down the vanguard of Colonials, they were met with a fusillade as the Colonials streamed over the bridge and drove the soldiers back. All the way back to Boston they poured fire from behind fences, buildings, trees, rocks into the bewildered and fleeing British, who would have been destroyed had Gage not sent a column in relief.

COMMEMORATING this heroic stand, which committed the Colonials to war and a Declaration of Independence from the mother country, Ralph Waldo Emerson later wrote of that April 19 in 1775:

"By the rude bridge that arched the flood, Their flag to April's breeze unfurled: Here once the embattled farmers stood, and fired the shot heard around the world."

THE ECHOES are still being heard, and God willing let them rise into an anthem that will stir American hearts anew for another hundred years.

Hip Pickles Music?

Among the music publishing firms that joined the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers in February are Cat and Dog Music, Fool's Gold, Hip Pickles Music, Cashew Music, Screen Door Music, Turnatune Music, Pineapple Music Publishing, Red Rooster Music and Irish Lad Music. No firm can use a title that already is held by an ASCAP member or that may be interpreted as offensive or obscene.

What Happened?

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — The collapse in South Vietnam, so stunning and unexpected in both Washington and Hanoi, can be traced to disastrous interaction between President Nguyen Van Thieu's personality — authoritarian, stubborn but impulsive — with new military conditions.

FOR THE WHITE House to cast all blame on congressional reduction of military air is propagandistic overkill, privately admitted as such by expert administration analysts. Even farther from the truth are American doves, dancing on South Vietnam's grave and proclaiming "insurgent" victory in a "civil war" as proof of their own rectitude.

Undeniably demoralization caused by diminished U.S. support cannot in itself explain crack units of the South Vietnamese army (ARVN) dissolving without firing a shot. Nor can this be rationalized as a Communist political triumph. Actually, fear of Communism helped produce panic that turned Thieu's attempts to cope with reduced military means into tragedy.

UNDERSTANDING of the collapse must begin with this bedrock reality: not even in their most euphoric stage have old Vietnam hands ever felt the ARVN could match the blend of discipline and fanaticism instilled into North Vietnamese troops by a police state.

Against the world's finest infantrymen, Saigon has had two equalizers the past decade. The primary equalizer: the threat of U.S. bombers devastating the North Vietnamese homeland, viewed with apprehension by the politburo in Hanoi so long as Richard M. Nixon was in the White House no matter what Congress prohibited. The secondary equalizer: superior firepower and mobility supplied the ARVN by Washington. Those equalizers became even more vital after Saigon was forced to sign the January 1973 ceasefire that provided no enforcement of Communist compliance.

COMMUNIST CAPTURE three months ago of Phuoc Binh, then only the second provincial capital to fall in the second Indochinese war, exposed disintegration of the two equalizers — a transcendent development duly noted in both Hanoi and Saigon. Hanoiologists here believe the absence of U.S. reaction to Phuoc Binh's fall finally convinced the politburo that American bombers would menace the north no longer.

Emboldened by Phuoc Binh, Hanoi last month struck at Ban Me Thuot. Loss of that remote provincial capital in the Central Highlands, while unimportant strategically, may rival Dien Bien Phu as seminal battles of Indochina because of its impact on the mind of Nguyen Van Thieu.

THE 23RD ARVN DIVISION, a notoriously weak unit inexplicably unprepared for the assault, was cut to shreds. More important than the division's loss was inability to reinforce Ban Me Thuot, thanks to the shortage of C-130 transport planes. That dramatized for Thieu the dissolution of the secondary equalizer, leading him to his fateful decision to abandon the Central Highlands.

No military operation is more difficult and hazardous than a retrograde movement — withdrawal under enemy pressure. Yet this retreat was ordered without any planning by the high command, a move highly unlikely to succeed.

IT WAS HERE that Thieu's stubbornness had tragic consequences. Understandably bitter over reduced U.S. aid, he did not consult Washington. Without warning or planning, Thieu ordered unprepared generals to move south — immediately. Lt. Gen. Ngo Quang Truong, corps commander in the northern provinces and the ARVN's most esteemed officer, objected but had no chance to debate. Refugees moved toward, not away from, the fighting to escape the Communists contradicts the crowing of American doves such as former Sen. J.W. Fulbright and Dr. Daniel Ellsberg about the people's victory in a civil war. It also produced a rout.

Overlooking Opportunity

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the frustrations of many business consultants is that most companies rely almost totally on advancing technology and expanding markets to achieve productivity gains.

In the process, it is said, business usually overlooks the opportunity to obtain more output for the dollar merely by analyzing and changing their work flow and improving work procedures.

"Manpower utilization efficiency in most offices rarely exceeds 60 per cent," says James Skidmore, chief executive of Scientific Management Corp., an international firm specializing in productivity improvement.

Most other productivity specialists agree. Some maintain that efficiency often falls below 40 per cent, a rate that reveals itself to experienced consultants in one sweeping glance at an office into which they have just walked.

Repeated analyses of Skidmore's staff shows that office workers have nothing to do at least 17 per cent of the time, and that they waste another 28 per cent of the day because of inefficiency and lack of motivation.

Based on an analysis of 1,600 projects completed, Skidmore claims "virtually every company can increase its productivity from 15 to 30 per cent with the use of existing industrial engineering techniques."

If this is so, then the words of C. Jackson Grayson Jr. are even more significant than they might otherwise appear.

When Grayson was chairman of the Federal

Price Commission, he argued that if the United States could increase its annual rate of productivity growth just 1 per cent for 10 years, it would create $600 billion of new wealth.

Grayson still maintains that the only real answer to inflation is to increase productivity, which many people erroneously assume to mean running the machines faster and working the employees harder.

While that notion might have once prevailed, it is now considered counterproductive — actually leading to lower output per manhour expended.

In effect, all it means is efficient production, achieved by wise use of capital, informed management, a sensible work flow, proper job identification, good morale, advanced technology and the like.

Feet Fungus Problem

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have athlete's foot and I've had it for a long time. I wondered if it can spread to other parts of the body. I like itchy pimples in the palms of my hands and on the back of my neck.

B.B. It is possible for the fungus causing athlete's foot to spread to parts of the body that offer the appropriate environment.

Athlete's foot is caused by a fungus — a form of plant life, actually, which thrives in damp places such as swimming pools, shower stalls and moist skin. This is where it is usually picked up. The feet provide a convenient place for growth, with the added feature of warmth.

You say you have had the problem a long time, so it is even possible that bacteria have invaded the area and set up a secondary infection. The feet-to-hands-to-neck route seems quite plausible in your case, especially if you have been in the habit of scratching at your feet. Also, your description of the infection in your hands sounds like the early symptoms of athlete's foot — tiny blisters.

If you are dealing with good old-fashioned athlete's foot, there are a few suggestions that might help you. Most of them are just common sense things.

Keep your feet dry always. Avoid rubber-soled shoes and nylon stockings, both of which can promote perspiration. Change your shoes daily to allow plenty of time for one pair to air out completely. Wash your feet daily, dry well, and dust with an anti-fungal powder. You probably should continue this routine even after you have successfully eliminated your immediate problem.

Another thought. A chemist friend of mine thought he had what he called "a terminal case" of athlete's foot until he stopped using a detergent foot bath. It ended his problem. In some cases, overtreatment can be worse than the problem treated. It is easy to set up irritations and secondary infections in athlete's foot, so follow the directions on the foot powder container, and be sure it has an anti-fungal base.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am almost 55 years old and am still having my regular monthly periods. I have been taking birth control pills for about 15 years. Would taking the pill have any effect on when I start menopause? Would it make me start later in life?

My doctor doesn't think so. Mrs. L.M. All we can do at the present time is speculate about this. Some feel it does, others that it doesn't.

If you have been on the pill for 15 years, you will have to qualify as a real pill pioneer, since it was only introduced here in 1960.

We Hold These Truths... A Chronicle of America

March, 1775:

More events point to the hostilities to come. In Philadelphia, Thomas Paine — salaried at 50 pounds a year — is turning out vigorous articles that have swelled the subscription list of the monthly Pennsylvania Magazine from 600 to 1,500 in but three months. At every major port, British merchant ships are being turned away without being allowed to discharge their cargoes. In Providence on March 2, the colonists hold a "tea party." In Massachusetts, Colonel Timothy Pickering, commander of the Salem militia, publishes An Easy Plan of Discipline for a Militia; it is the first American drill manual, and circulates widely throughout the colonies during the war.

EXPLAIN CHALLENGE TO CHURCHES
Bishop Eugene Slater, Rev. Raul Quintanilla

Capital Funds Drive Set By Methodists

Methodists in the Rio Grande conference, comprised of Spanish speaking members, are preparing for their first capital funds campaign.

Bishop O. Eugene Slater and Rev. Raul Quintanilla, San Antonio, were here Tuesday to tell a group of laymen from 10 churches about the vision of $150,000 to supplement pastor salaries and retirement.

"One church in Harlingen was preparing to begin a new sanctuary," recalled Rev. Quintanilla. "When they heard about this effort, they said 'we want all our money to go to this. We'll build the sanctuary later.'"

There are in the conference, over which Bishop Slater presides in addition to the South Texas United Methodist conference, 105 churches covering Texas and reaching into New Mexico. The constituency numbers about 15,000. But never before have the people undertaken a capital funds drive — in fact, they have been the object of support by the General Missions Board.

"This is something we want to do for ourselves," said Rev. Quintanilla. Bishop Slater said he had not heard a negative voice; on the contrary, "some have said we have set the three-year goal too low."

The project in generating real enthusiasm, according to Rev. Quintanilla, who cited one church which said it wouldn't meet 1976, 77 or 78 goals — "we're going to meet them in August of this year."

There's some sense of urgency about this, for not many salaries get far above the minimum $6,000, and most pastors in the conference have larger-than-average families. In fact, one minister has 12 children, but he has two minister sons, and another one is entering school to become a minister.

A real crisis is in the level of retirement which is $50 a year for each year of ministry — after 30 years a minister would receive only $1,500.

The meeting here was one of 12 in Texas and New Mexico and is part of the first round of subdistrict sessions. The second will bring Rev. Quintanilla back here May 10 to discuss needs with local churches, to make plans and begin training. In September he will be back with the tools to do the job; in November congregations will lay the appeal on the hearts of the people.

"I think the secondary effects of this crusade will be greater than the primary goal," Bishop Slater added. "The churches are moving toward self-sufficiency; they are finding out what their opportunities are and that they can do something about them."

Varied Events Being Planned

The Fine Arts department of Howard College at Big Spring, will sponsor "Spring Frolics", a student activities week, beginning Sunday, April 20, and continuing through Saturday, April 26.

Varied events are planned featuring faculty and students of the department. Climax of the week will be a dinner-theatre presentation of the musical, "The Fantasticks" in the SUB cafeteria. Reservations should be called soon for this event.

The schedule for the week includes:
Monday, April 21, 7:00-9:00 p.m. Dora Roberts Student Center — Art show of works by faculty and students. Admission by invitation only.

9:45 a.m. SUB Cafeteria — "Ragtime" music in the SUB cafeteria. Harlen Thornton, pianist and Kenneth Baker, drummer. No admission charge.

Tuesday, April 22, SUB Faculty Lounge — Art show all day. Open to the general public without charge.

Wednesday, April 23, 9:45 a.m., SUB Cafeteria — "The Choraliers" in a program of pop favorites. Kenneth Sprinkle, director.

Thursday, April 24, 8:00 p.m., SUB Cafeteria — Dress rehearsal of "The Fantasticks". Students may attend the dress rehearsal without charge.

Friday, April 25 and Saturday April 26, 7:00 p.m., SUB Cafeteria — Dinner-theatre presentation of "The Fantasticks." Admission, $5.00 per person, (includes meal).

Judgement Is Signed Here

District Judge Ralph W. Caton Monday signed a default judgment for $93,636 plus $750 in attorney's fees.

Consolidate Equipment Sales Inc., Fort Worth, was suing Brothers Oil Field Construction Inc. and obtained a foreclosure of security interests for lease of two tractor-dozers with root plows.

A NIGHT OUT — President and Mrs. Ford leave a Washington hotel Tuesday night where they attended an annual Republican fund raising dinner. In his address following the $1,000-a-plate dinner Ford said, "Republicans can and will come back to win in 1976."

Retirement Systems Issue In Election

(First of two articles)
 Tuesday you will be asked to mark a ballot "For" or "Against" two proposed amendments to the Texas constitution.

The first reads: (For or "Against" two proposed amendment revising and consolidating provisions relating to state and local retirement systems and programs, and providing for a maximum state contribution to state systems of 10 per cent of the aggregate compensation paid to individuals.)

The proposed amendment has two major purposes: 1) to consolidate new constitutional provisions relating to state and local retirement systems in one section of the constitution, and 2) to lift the ceiling on state contributions to state systems from existing maximum of 6 per cent of the aggregate compensation paid to individuals to a maximum of 10 per cent.

It continues in effect present public retirement and benefit programs; it authorizes the legislature to create other systems but "financing of benefits must be based on sound actuarial principles."

It also sets the basis for participation if an employee has contributed to more than one system, or for transfer of service credits between systems. It removes detail restrictions on certain types of investments, but permits the legislature to set up standards by law.

Whereas, neither individuals can contribute more than six per cent of earnings, nor the state more than a matching 6 per cent, the amendment would enable individuals to contribute as much as they feel able, but the state never more than 10 per cent.

The state would be directed to establish separate statewide systems for employees of counties or subdivisions, and for city employees, participation by employees to be entirely voluntary.

Contingent on passage of the amendment, SB 56 would appropriate $21.8 million of general revenue to increase benefits to retired persons, and SB 62 some $98 million to fund increased benefits to retired teachers. Both would be back-dated to February if approved. These are one-time appropriations to fund the increased benefits for the life of the affected annuitants.

Benefits would be increased 18 per cent for those who retired before March 31, 1969; 12 per cent for members who retired on or after March 31, 1969 and before May 31, 1971; and 5 per cent for those who retired May 31, 1971 and before September 1973. These range from $22 to $47 a month, based on years of service, all of which was before retirement benefits were liberalized. Some 45,000 retired teachers and 9,600 retired state employees would be affected; so would auxiliary workers (chiefly school lunchroom workers), who would receive $5 a month for each year of service, but never less than $60.

Plans Taking Shape For Scout Campout

The biggest weekend camping adventure of the Buffalo Trail Council, set for the Scout Roundup grounds in Big Spring April 25-26, is shaping up rapidly.

More than 500 Scouts and leaders from the Colorado and the Pecos Rivers will be joined the second day by 200 or more Cub Scouts.

Charles Grizzard, Big Spring, general chairman, has staked campsites and said all arrangements are complete, including a huge stack of wood for the council fire program. An Explorer law enforcement post from Midland will furnish security for the big campout.

Activities begin late Friday with inspection of the camps and on troop organization, and Saturday brings a full day of Scoutcraft competition, along with field events for the Cubs. Each troop will furnish a skit for the council fire program Saturday evening, to which the public is invited, and the Order of Arrow Indian dance team will perform. Webelos, the older Cubs, will get to spend Saturday night in camp.

Sunday, as camp breaks, the Rev. Lester Utz, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran

Odessa Man Is Wreck Victim

ODESSA — Raymond Gonzalez, about 40, of Odessa, died instantly here about 5:30 p.m. Tuesday when a vehicle in which he was driving was struck by a T&P train. A Big Spring crew manned the train with E.R. Baldock as engineer.

The truck which Gonzalez was driving was badly damaged. Gonzalez was the only one hurt in the mishap.

Justice of Peace Jan Brooks pronounced Gonzalez dead at the scene.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The economic pinch is hitting military retirees, like other people, but the ones who hang up their uniforms many years ago contend they are hurting more because of a 1958 change in the method of figuring their income.

But all military retirees are now facing new factors that can affect the stretch of their retirement dollars, as are those still on active duty.

—The Pentagon is moving to put military commissaries on a self-sustaining basis by Sept. 13, 1976, meaning a big shrinkage of bargain-rate groceries. Backers said active-duty pay is high enough now to wipe out the budget subsidy. Those who object say low-pay retirees and servicemen already spend $1.5 million in food stamps in commissaries

Wildcat Is Announced

Coquina Oil No.1 Snyder Ranch, et al, 15 miles southwest of Westbrook, will be an 8,500-ft. wildcat test 3 1/4 miles northwest of the depleted Albaugh (Pennsylvania and Fusselman) field in southwest Mitchell County. It is three-quarters of a mile southwest of Young No. 1 Snyder, an 8,700-ft. failure drilled in July 1970. Location is 1,980 from the south and 467 from the east lines of section 48-30-1s, T&P.

BTA Oil No. 5-7402 JV-S Mustang, a 12,200-ft. wildcat in between Dean producers in the LaCaff field of northern Martin County, returned 480 feet of free oil and 30 feet of oil and gas-cut mud on a 75-minute drillstem test from 9,825-915. Also in Martin, Miller Exploration No.1 Meador was spotted as an 8,300-ft. exploration 2 1/2 miles south of Patricia and half a mile west of the Miller No.1 Snell, an active wildcat 660 feet from the south and west lines of 15 Borden CSL Abst 261. The No. 1 Snell was last reported 12,100 feet.

C&K No.1-26 Glass, in southwest Sterling County, rated 44.32 barrels of oil and gas-oil ratio of 10,672-1, at 7,904-846 through 18-64th choke. Total depth is 8,377, and location 1,320 feet from the north and west lines of section 26-35-5s, T&P. C&K No.1-33 Foster was at 8,260 feet in shale.

A Borden County wildcat, Samedan No.1 Blanton, drilled below 7,486 in shale and lime.

Absentee Votes Mount To 21

Absentee balloting totaled 21 today in the April 22 state constitutional amendment election, County Clerk Margaret Ray said.

Mailed to voters but not yet returned were two ballots.

Friday at 5 p.m. is the last time absentee votes may be cast in the office. Mailed ballots will be counted if they arrive before 1 p.m. election day.

There are two proposed amendments.

One would revise and consolidate provisions relating to state and local retirement systems.

The other would make $600 per month the salary of legislators. Also, legislators would get $30 per day during sessions and mileage allowances at the same rate provided for state employees.

Webb's Trade Talks Slated

An open house will be held in Webb AFB procurement office from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. April 17.

Purpose of the open house is to promote more small business participation in government purchasing at Webb from within the local trade area. Col. Robert A. Meisenheimer, in a letter to many local businesses, pointed out, "We are interested in helping to keep your tax dollars (our spending) in the local area that supports Webb AFB, its military and civilian population."

Purchasing agents will be available at the open house to explain how to get on the bidder's list, how solicitations are mailed to various firms and how to prepare forms.

Bill Beauchamp, Small Business Administration representative, will be present to explain the various methods in which the SBA agency can assist a small business firm that desires to compete for government contracts.

Captain Phillip Morris, chief of the procurement division, and Mrs. Vivian Griffith, small business specialist, join in inviting local participation.

Local Teachers Urged To Make Austin Trip

Local teachers were urged to plan to go by bus to Austin, Sat., April 26, to a statewide rally of teachers and others in support of the school finance bill which includes a large teacher pay raise.

The rally was originally planned to be held at Memorial Stadium at the University of Texas, but they do not allow political rallies so a new location will be announced.

The local delegation will leave at 6 a.m. in a school bus, taking sack lunches and planning to return the same day by midnight. A small show of hands at the meeting named those who plan to go, but local officers of the TSTA unit hope to work up more interest by April 26.

The local teachers who go on the trip are paying for the driver and the gasoline on the bus for the trip.

Mrs. Elizabeth Chattell

reminded the some 100 teachers at a meeting here Tuesday afternoon that it was important to vote at the state amendment, election which will be held for all voters all over Texas, Tuesday, April 22.

The constitutional amendment referendum vote includes an issue that raises teacher and state employee retirement where the state can pay 10 per cent instead of six per cent. Teachers here were told, "Your contribution will not go beyond six per cent, but the state's will be raised to ten per cent."

Teachers were urged to support both this amendment and the amendment that "would give legislators a living wage. Being a state legislator is no longer a part-time job."

presided and reminded teachers of the vote for their local TSTA representatives with ballots to be in today and the new officers to be named at the banquet, May 15 at 6:30 p.m.

Mrs. Janice Rosson, incoming president-elect, also spoke briefly at did John Stiles, incoming president.

Lynn Calvert discussed the TSTA referendum vote which is being mailed to all TSTA members in the state in connection with the possibility of unifying with the United Teaching Profession, under the National Education Association.

Texas teachers turned this down last year, wanting to keep control of their group within the state. Those for it argue that if TSTA turns down unification in the April 26-May 15 referendum, the association would end up a house divided.

DEATHS

REV. MITCHELL

Rev. Mitchell

The Rev. Scott F. Mitchell, 66, died Tuesday afternoon at his home in Lubbock of an apparent heart attack.

Born Aug. 21, 1908, the Rev. Mr. Mitchell moved to the Flower Grove community with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Mitchell, where he lived before entering the ministry.

The Rev. Mr. Mitchell was pastor of the Northside Assembly of God Church in Lubbock for 28 years. At the time of his death, he was doing evangelistic work.

Services will be at 2:30 p.m., Thursday at the Northside Assembly of God Church in Lubbock.

Survivors include his wife, Lola, of the home; two brothers, Tom Mitchell, Andrews, and Glenn Mitchell, Dallas; and four sisters, Mrs. Beulah Lillard, Mrs. F. W. Beckmeyer and Mrs. Fred Cave, all of Ackerly, and Mrs. Watson Hammond, Big Spring.

Mrs. Scott

COLORADO CITY — Mrs. Ora Scott, 66, of Sweetwater, died in Root Memorial Hospital here at 10:30 p.m., Monday following a long illness.

Services were held at 10 a.m., today in McCoy's Chapel of Memories in Sweetwater. Burial was to follow in the Sweetwater Cemetery.

Survivors, in addition to her husband, include two sons, David Scott, Colorado City, and Richard Scott, Sweetwater; and a daughter, Mrs. R.E. Swindle, Sweetwater.

Olin Britton

COLORADO CITY — Olin Britton, 86, of Colorado City, a retired farmer, died at 5:30 p.m., Monday in Root Memorial Hospital here.

Services are pending at Wheeler Funeral Home in Portales, N.M.

Survivors include three sons and seven daughters. Three of those survivors reside in Colorado City. They are Curtis Britton and Carl Britton, sons; and Mrs. Clyda Mize, Colorado City.

Carl Fambro

Carl W. Fambro, 56, Lomax, died at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday at a farm near Ira.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Friday at the Nalley Pickle Rosewood Chapel and burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

He was born April 22, 1918 in Hope, Ark., and married Louise Barnett May 20, 1939 in Snyder. He was a farmer and had lived in Lomax since 1946.

Fambro was a World War II veteran and a member of the Bellview Church of Christ in Stanton.

Survivors include his wife, Louise, Lomax; a son, James Fambro, Lubbock; a brother, Hugh Fambro, Happy; three sisters, Mrs. Agnes Wright and Mrs. Jean Bates, both of Tulsa, and Mrs. Hazel Fields, San Luis Obispo, Calif.

Vanguard Arrives

First delegates to the regional training session for American Business Clubs will begin arriving here Thursday. Club members and auxiliary are busy putting on finishing touches for a gala gathering with a Bicentennial flavor.

Wayne Rock, president of the host Big Spring club, said that district governor Ken McCasland, Hobbs, N.M., and district director, Carroll Posey, Amarillo will head groups here Thursday evening, when a hospitality gathering is scheduled.

Thursday wives of members will begin decoration of the Dora Roberts Fair Building for the big "State Fair" party Friday 7:30 p.m. They have made numerous old-fashioned sun bonnets and other items of early-day apparel for each woman registering. The Friday gala, which climaxes a day of business session, golf, bridge and other activities, will be a costume affair. A board meeting at 8 a.m. Friday sets things in motion.

Thirty local ABC club members and wives will board a chartered bus for a 3 p.m. trip to Midland to greet Chuck Blythe, national president-elect, and Bill Pearson, national ABC secretary.

Training sessions dominate the meeting Saturday, climaxes by the formal dinner-dance 7 p.m. at Big Spring Country Club.

Certification Due Airlines

Trans-Regional Airlines should get their pilot certification from the FAA Monday or Tuesday, and should be flying scheduled flights from Big Spring to Midland and Dallas, according to a report given to the Chamber of Commerce Transportation Committee meeting Tuesday.

Joe Bailey, Big Spring, and Lewis Rosenbaum, El Paso, Trans Regional Executives, reported to the committee that they also have had trouble getting an airplane ordered out of Tulsa, Okla.

Trans-Regional's air carrier permit was approved by the Texas Aeronautics Commission late in March, and the Transportation Committee was concerned that Big Spring is still without air service.

After the pilots are certified next week, and other details are ironed out, the scheduled service will begin, according to the airline officials.

Big Spring has been without air service since December 3.

Trio To Attend Capital Meeting

Dr. Preston Harrison, Big Spring State Hospital Superintendent and Dr. Wallace Hunter, hospital clinical director, accompanied by Dr. Charles Mitts, Odessa, left today for Washington, D.C.

They will attend a hearing with the Food and Drug Administration concerning a study regarding clozapine, a new anti-psychotic agent.

There will be three other simultaneous studies on the drug conducted across the county utilizing other approaches.

The team plans to return Friday.

2 Patrolmen Are Leaving

Two police patrolmen quit the department during the past week to accept other positions.

David Stephens, who worked here for 14 months as a patrolman accepted a similar position in Lamesa, leaving last week. He came here from Midland, and had his first law enforcement experience here.

Union Contract Is Ratified

Around 438 members of the International Union of Operating Engineers Local 826 ratified a two year contract with Couden Oil and Chemical Company, Monday night.

Kenneth Howell, manager of the Local 826, said that 94 per cent of the membership present voted to accept the contract.

The union came within minutes of a strike Thursday morning before a tentative agreement was reached, sending the workers back to work.

Howell said that the union is pleased with the new contract and that he is also pleased with the company's willingness to reach a settlement.

PENTAGON TO WHACK BARGAIN-RATE GROCERIES

Pinch Hurts Military Retirees

WASHINGTON (AP) — The economic pinch is hitting military retirees, like other people, but the ones who hang up their uniforms many years ago contend they are hurting more because of a 1958 change in the method of figuring their income.

But all military retirees are now facing new factors that can affect the stretch of their retirement dollars, as are those still on active duty.

—The Pentagon is moving to put military commissaries on a self-sustaining basis by Sept. 13, 1976, meaning a big shrinkage of bargain-rate groceries. Backers said active-duty pay is high enough now to wipe out the budget subsidy. Those who object say low-pay retirees and servicemen already spend $1.5 million in food stamps in commissaries each month to make ends meet.

—The doctor shortage in the military since the draft ended is causing some care in many military hospitals to be withdrawn from retirees. And budget cuts for CHAMPUS, the military civilian medical care program, means both retirees and active-duty people are not reimbursed for some treatment.

—President Ford proposes a 5 per cent ceiling on federal employe raises for 18 months, including military retirees. Opponents object that with no provision for a catch-up, pay again will lag behind private industry.

COST-OF-LIVING
 The older military retirees, and the newest ones, are feeling the financial pinch in regard to retirement pay because the 1958 law shifted the base for increasing pay to the cost-of-living index and abandoned the 100-year-old system of basing raises on increases in active-duty pay.

This change occurred when military pay was relatively low. As the Pentagon sought in later years to boost military active-duty pay to a level competitive with that outside government it jumped up much faster than the cost-of-living increases for retirees year after year.

ALARM
 Recently, active-duty pay increases slowed as the pay approached parity with civilian employment and at the same time inflation stepped up the number of cost-of-living increases in retired pay.

Ever since the system was changed in 1958 there have been loud demands that something be done for the older retirees to bring their pay in line with the younger retirees.

The whole question revolves around the growing alarm over the spiraling costs of the military retirement system, especially with the retiree rolls growing. The cost will reach $6.8 billion in the next fiscal year for 1,107,000 retirees, 57,000 more than this year.

Involved, too, in the discussion is a Pentagon plan pushed in Congress for several years to overhaul drastically the retirement pay system for future military personnel so it will be less expensive.

MORAL OBLIGATION
 Associations representing the military have argued since 1958 that divorcing retirement pay from active duty pay violated a "moral obligation" made to the retirees while they were on active duty.

However, the demand to return to the old system has been softened by a proposed compromise one-shot recomputation. Of several bills being considered, the major one would mean immediate recomputation for disabled retirees and those 60 years or older based on 1972 active duty pay. Others would be recomputed on reaching age 60.

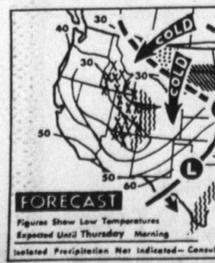

Spokesmen say one reason there are so many military retirees is that the rules force them out after 30 years or less of active duty, around age 52. Many retire earlier, after qualifying for retirement pay with 20 years' service, and start second careers earlier.

Butz To Urge Farm Bill Veto

WASHINGTON (AP) — A farm bill raising 1975 target prices and dairy price supports still faces a possible presidential veto although the version approved by a House-Senate conference committee was the less expensive of two proposals.

Aides to Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz said the measure approved by the conferees remains unacceptable and that Butz would recommend a veto.

Ford's legislative aides passed the word last week that Butz's cost estimates had convinced the President to veto whatever bill emerged from the conference committee. But then Republican conferees met Monday with Ford and found him willing to reserve decision but worried about the costs.

"The only chance we have is to stay pretty close to the House bill," Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., said before the conference committee met.

And that's what happened. The bill approved by the conference committee closely resembles the $210 million bill passed earlier by the House. The other bill considered by the panel was the Senate-passed version that committee staff experts had estimated would cost $950 million.

The bill is scheduled to go before the Senate Thursday or Friday and before the House next week for final approval.

Dispute remained over how much dairy prices would increase for consumers.

Staff experts said increases in dairy price supports of seven cents per 100 pounds would mean an increase of half a cent per gallon in the retail price of milk. Cheese would go up 0.6 cent a pound and butter 0.7 cent a pound, they said.

Administration estimates are double these predictions.

The bill would set 1975 crop target prices at 45 cents a pound for cotton, $2.25 a bushel for corn and $3.10 a bushel for wheat. The government pays farmers for the difference between the target price and the market price which is lower.

Cotton is already near its present target of 38 cents in some places. The bill's supporters say grain farmers, being urged to produce at full capacity, need assurance that the lower prices of the anticipated bumper crops will not bankrupt them.

The bidding:

Opening lead: Jack of ♠

Looking at today's hand, it is easy to see that South's three no trump contract should be defeated. At the table, however, it required alert play on the part of the defenders to make sure that they got their tricks.

South's rebid of three no trump might not delight the purists, but it was a practical bid that offered an excellent chance of success. He had eight tricks in his own hand and partner had responded in his short suit. The alternatives of a jump rebid of two no trump or three clubs would have grossly underestimated South's playing strength, while a jump shift to three of a major on a failure to take the ace would have been as bad a distortion of South's distribution as the jack of hearts, and it did not take genius to realize that North's hand was of little practical value to South. Even if the hearts were evenly divided, declarer could not get to dummy to enjoy a diamond trick after forcing out the ace.

Declarer saw no point to holding up the ace of hearts, since he was vulnerable to a spade shift. He decided to bank everything on being able to steal a diamond trick before the defenders realized that he had a running club suit.

Therefore, declarer won the ace of hearts and immediately shot back the queen of diamonds. A careless West might have followed with the two, and East would almost certainly have held up the ace to shut out dummy's suit. But sitting West was Tom Smith, of Greenwich, Connecticut, one of the country's foremost players. He unhesitatingly dropped the nine of diamonds.

This cleared up the situation for his partner, Steve Altman, a brilliant young New Yorker. West would play the nine of diamonds from any of three holdings— a singleton, a doubleton, or either a singleton or doubleton, there was no point to holding up the ace, since South could not be prevented from establishing the diamond suit. And if West had four diamonds, declarer's queen was singleton and he might give him a trick he might otherwise be able to win. So Altman won the ace and declarer had to be satisfied with the eight tricks he started out with.

GIBSON'S HEADQUARTERS holds 15th anniversary

Gibson's Anniversary Is Observed With Big Sale

Gibson's Discount Store is 15 years old in Big Spring and they are celebrating all week with special values and a special sale centering around the prices when they opened in 1960.

Big Spring was one of the earliest Gibson Discount Stores. They now have over 600 and are hoping for 2,000 by the mid eighties.

Al Stephens, local store manager, expresses appreciation to the Big Spring and area citizens for their patronage and added, "This sale is for you. We really appreciate you and think you are wonderful people."

Herb Gibson, founder of the Gibson's chain cracked recently, "I didn't go into his business — I was forced into it." Gibson, founder of the discount chain bearing his name, recently looked over a 225,000-square-foot expanse where goods were being displayed by national manufacturers at Market Hall. And he recalls the way it started.

That was in a small one-story converted warehouse operation in the south part of Abilene. The year was 1960. The Gibson wholesale drug and sundry business, in operation for 23 years, was battling the squeeze on wholesalers. "I was going down, down, down — like everybody else," recalled Gibson.

His way out was to move the firm's merchandise off the shelves, stack it in the middle of the floor or on display gondolas, and advertise goods for sale at discount prices. When the first store opened in 1968, the first day's sales total was $3,000. In 1965 Gibson opened a new, 93,000-square-foot store in an Abilene suburban shopping center. Its first day's sales: $300,000.

In 10 years the company has spread to 30 states, racking up annual sales of over $1 billion. Expansion is now running at the rate of 6 stores per month on the average. "We operate differently from any other chain in the United States," Mr. Gibson said. "Due to the volume of our orders, we can obtain merchandise in many cases for less than the jobber's cost."

Some individual Gibson orders run from $500,000 to $1 million. Franchises get their merchandise at the same prices as all stores. For a flat monthly fee, they receive help from the chain's management, store layout, building design and other areas.

Texans Should Save Precious Commodities

"Texans have never been known for thrift, but we can stop wasting one of our most precious commodities — energy," said Mrs. Hugh Duncan, speaking Friday to the Modern Woman's Forum.

To set the theme for her program, Mrs. Duncan quoted the Texas Conservation Pledge: "I give my pledge as a Texas American to save and faithfully defend from waste the natural resources of my state — its soil and minerals, its forests, waters and wild life."

The speaker also quoted from a magazine article about ERTS (Earth Resources Technology Satellite), noting that this program is being used by state governments and cities in finding solutions to energy, pollution, population growth, diminishing land, minerals, water resources and urban decay.

"Mankind seems to realize for the first time that its very existence is based on the interaction of the planets, air, land, ocean and their systems for the support of life," said Mrs. Duncan. She read excerpts from an article, "Hydrogen Economy," by Stephen A. Robins who presented hydrogen as the universal fuel of the future. He reasoned this because hydrogen is a "near perfect" fuel and almost unlimited in supply. He noted that it was the major fuel component for rockets in the space program, but the major problem is that "we don't yet have a truly cheap way of unlocking the quantity needed to sustain hydrogen economy from the earth's waters."

Mrs. Duncan said that nuclear power is now being used for generating electricity; one such plant being constructed near Glenrose by the Texas Utility Corporation System. Other plants, such as one near Mt. Pleasant, use lignite coal for generating electricity. Sun rays and wind are also being used as sources of energy.

The second part of the program was given by Mrs. Cass Hill who told ways to beautify Texas.

"First, we must fight litter," she said, advising the women to be anti-litter travelers by carrying litter bags in automobiles and cleaning up their own litter at roadside parks. She named the 10 Texas Trails and urged that travelers take part in keeping them beautiful.

In the business session, a report from the Alpine convention of Western District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, was given by Mrs. C. R. Moad and Mrs. W. E. Singleton. The delegates brought back cook books and "attack whistles" to sell. The small whistles, operated by pushing a button, are designed to summon help if a woman is attacked.

Mrs. S. R. Nobles was asked to deliver cookies, provided by members, to the state hospital.

HONEYMOONERS — Newlyweds Ernie Martin, 72, and the former DiLores Simmons, 54, are looking forward to an almost free honeymoon next month in Denver. Under the experimental vacation program financed by the U.S. government, 20 senior citizens from Minneapolis will exchange apartments, May 13-22, with 20 seniors from Denver.

Jaycee-Ettes Will Enter Competition

The Jaycee-Ettes reviewed numerous activities for the past two months and elected new officers at a meeting held Monday.

The new slate is composed of Mrs. Charlotte Culwell, president; Mrs. Ginny Doubleday, first vice president; Mrs. Kay Roberts, second vice president; Mrs. Diane Clinton, secretary; Mrs. Dean Anderson, treasurer; Mrs. Diane Hillman, newsletter editor; Mrs. Linda Faulkner, parliamentarian; Mrs. Margie McKinney and Mrs. Rolyann Robertson, directors; and Mrs. Debbie Cole, past president and director of state-related activities.

Announcement was made that the Jaycee-Ettes will sponsor a Collier's Art Auction sometime this summer, with Mrs. McKinney serving as chairman for the fund-raising event. The art will range in price from $15 to $2,500.

The Jaycee-Ette state convention will be held in Houston May 17-19, and the local chapter will enter state competition. To raise money for the trip, the local women will operate the high school baseball concessions and, on May 3, will sponsor a Little Casino night for Jaycees and their guests.

African Women Changing Status

The Beta Kappa Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma met Saturday afternoon in the Community Center, Sterling City, with Ms. Movelda Rhine presiding over the business meeting.

Ms. Lea Douthet, Sterling City member and doctoral student in archeology and anthropology at the University of Texas, presented a slide program on customs in Africa. She said, "Just as we are caught up in the fight for the Equal Rights Amendment, the women in Africa are trying to change their status." She further noted, "Women in Africa do all the heavy field work; they balance heavy loads on their heads to provide a freight transportation system." Ms. Douthet's remarks also included the statements that "Men sometimes care for the children, especially their sons. They spend much time sitting around talking with each other. Most persons are able to read and write; but after seventh grade, few persons attend school. Tuition for school past seventh grade is equal to almost a year's wages."

Following the program, Ms. Donna Plumlee, accompanied by Ms. Mary Nell Hise, led the group in a song fest. The next Delta Kappa Gamma function will be the Founders' Day Banquet and initiation of new members to be held May 10 at 7 p.m.

Permian Ballet Slates Program

The Permian Civic Ballet Association will introduce two new dance works at the 'Spring Gala 1975' production to be held in Midland April 26 at Lee High School starting at 8:15 p.m. Headlining the new pieces will be the pas de deux from the ballet "Esmeralda". Permian Civic's own artistic director, Bill Martin-Viscount, and Ann Burton of the Atlanta Ballet will co-star in this performance.

"Etudes" will be the second new work to be presented on the 1975 Spring Gala. "Etudes" is the choreographer's tribute to the dancer and may perhaps be considered as a representation of the work that must be accomplished by young dancers throughout the long, difficult preparatory years. Seen in the ballet is the first elementary exercises at the barre by young pupils, then work in the center of the stage, away from the barre, including a pas de deux, pas de quatre and ensemble work. Featured in the pas de deux will be Miss Mary Motter of the Midland troupe and Mark Borshelt, dancer on loan from the Memphis (Tenn) Civic Ballet, along with the Junior and Senior dancers of Permian Civic.

From the Ballet Association's repertoire, the Senior dancers will support Martin-Viscount and Miss Burton in Act 2 of the classic, "Swan Lake," plus the Pas de Trois from Act 1 of the same work. Featured in this will be Midland dancers Mary Motter, Cheryl Jones, with Mr. Borshelt completing the trio.

Tickets will be available at the door for those who did not have an opportunity to purchase them last fall. Adults, $5 and students, $2.50.

Guests Here

Mrs. W.W. Ogle is at home after spending several weeks in Eustis, Fla., with her son and daughter-in-law, Mrs. and Mrs. Woody Nolen. Mrs. Ogle's daughter, Mrs. Elouise LaLonde of El Paso, spent the weekend here and also visited her aunt, Mrs. Bobbie Batten, who is ill at her home, 207 E. 9th.

Insensitive Husband Has Very Sensitive Wife

DEAR ABBY: If you could see my home, car and clothes closet, you would probably think I was the luckiest woman in Boston. Well, I'm not. But I could be the most frustrated. I sometimes want affection so much I could just curl up and die.

My husband is a very successful businessman. I know he loves me, but he's not the demonstrative type. He shows our dog a lot of affection, through Abby, you don't know how frustrating it is for me to sit there and watch my husband with the dog on his lap. He cuddles him and scratches his neck. That pup gets more loving than I do!

I just hate to be the one to always make the first move. Why are men so dumb? When we go to bed at night and he wraps those big, strong arms around me, I'm so happy, I hate to fall asleep. He's so good and dear and sweet and INSENSITIVE... and I'm so frustrated. What should I do? Sign me,

"PLENTY OF NOTHING IN BOSTON"

DEAR PLENTY: Don't sit around waiting for your hormones to dry up. MAKE your husband notice you. You may have to shove the dog off his lap, but you can make it up to him (the dog) come "BE KIND TO ANIMALS WEEK."

And what's wrong with making the first move? It's better than no moves at all. Be aggressively affectionate. Some men LIKE to be pursued. Try it, and if nothing happens, you haven't lost anything.

DEAR ABBY: Do you know of any organization or medical school that might be interested in buying a person's body?

I have always wanted to donate my body to science since I don't relish the thought of being buried. But with times being so bad right now, I'd like to sell my body to a medical school that would pay me in advance. The money would come in very handy now.

By the way, I sure do enjoy your column. I can't get over some of those kooks who write to you.

A MAINE READER
DEAR READER: I know of no organization or medical school that pays for bodies. People leave their bodies as a "gift" to a medical school.

DEAR ABBY: After reading about the mother who was upset because she couldn't get her teenagers to keep their rooms reasonably neat, I had to share this amusing incident with you:

My home is always neat and orderly — with the exception of my teenage daughter's bedroom, which was always a mess. Drawers open, clothes thrown everywhere, her bed unmade, etc. . . . I fussed, threatened, punished, but to no avail. Finally I just gave up and kept her bedroom door closed all the time so I wouldn't have to look at the mess. One day our house was robbed. For some strange reason, all the burglars took were the television sets. I called the police, and they sent two policemen to investigate. They asked me to accompany them while they checked each room in the house to find out if anything else was missing.

When they opened the door of my daughter's bedroom, they gasped, "Good grief — they certainly ransacked THIS room!"

I calmly replied, "No. It always looks like this."

SAN RAFAEL MOTHER.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212, for Abby's booklet "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20 cents) envelope.

Couple's Play Open To All

The Couples' Duplicate Bridge game was held Tuesday evening at Big Spring Country Club with winners being Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Jones, first; and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Weaver, second.

The game is open to everyone, and club membership is not necessary. The fee is $2 per couple, and play begins at 7:30 p.m. each Tuesday.

Tribute Paid To Women Of WWII

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Women paid tribute here Friday to one of the best kept secrets of World War II — women.

Two bronze plaques were permanently installed at the University of Texas History of Aviation Library honoring 38 WASPs (Women's Air Service Pilot) who died in flight service and the more than 1,000 others who ferried military aircraft coast to coast during the war.

Astronaut Neil Armstrong was main speaker at the dedication ceremonies. The bronze relief plaques were designed by Dallas sculptress Jewel Estes, herself a former member of the WASPs.

Rosie the Riveter and other women who tended the home fires during World War II were well known among the American public but perhaps less recognized were the women pilots who freed male pilots for combat by taking on essential aircraft ferrying tasks.

They were the nation's only long-haired military pilots who wiggled their frames into drab flying suits, heavy parachutes and took off into the wild blue yonder in such fighting planes as the B17 Flying Fortress, B24 Liberator, P5a Mustang, P47 Thunderbolt and every other aircraft operated by the Army Air Forces.

To date, WASPs have yet to be included in veteran's benefits or otherwise recognized as military veterans.

They were civil service employes, trained at Randolph Field near San Antonio.

Police Probing Fight Incident

Police are investigating an incident which occurred at the 7-11 at 1600 East 4th Friday night.

A fight began at Wagon Wheel No. 1 and moved to the parking lot at the 7-11 when two men followed the third man to the store.

When the third young man came out of the store, police said, he was threatened by the men who were reported to be carrying a hammer and pipe when the third man headed for his car, the driver of another vehicle knocked him down with a car, officers said. One of the duo is on probation.

Pullers Slate Summer Events

The Texas Tractor Pullers Association schedule for this area includes four pulls so far.

They are Snyder, July 4; Lamesa, July 5; Petersburg, July 7; San Angelo, July 12-13.

Officers of the association (which has Box 24 Lamesa as the headquarters address) are: Ronnie Culp, Lamesa, president; Larry Harmon, first vice president; Jack Hall, second vice president; Charlie Anderson, secretary; Bob Howard, treasurer; Derwood Blagrove, ex-director; Bob Eggemeyer and Bob Howard, alternate directors.

Meeting Place

Meeting place for the Seminars on Aging for tonight and April 22 have been changed to the Veterans' Administration Hospital, Room 216, according to Mrs. Doris Huijbregtse of Howard College who is conducting the seminar.

Program for the two sessions will be on Death and Dying. Ms. Verona Riegel of the VA Hospital, and the Rev. Harlan Birdwell, St. Mary's Episcopal rector, will be panelists for the program tonight. Dr. Wayne Bonner will assist with the later program.

Charge Two Girls With Killing West Texas Man

PECOS, Tex. (AP) — Two Louisiana women were indicted Tuesday by a Reeves County grand jury on charges of capital murder in the shooting death of a West Texas man.

Named in the indictments were Jeanette Franklin, 17, and Shirley Anne Bergernon, 19, both of Moss Bluff, La. Bond was denied.

They were accused of killing Dwayne Grable, 31, of Salt Flat, Tex., whose body was found April 7 in a pasture on a ranch west of here.

Miss Franklin, Miss Bergernon and a third woman were arrested last week in Lake Charles, La. Miss Bergernon waived extradition and sent to Reeves County where she was jailed. Miss Franklin was being held at Lake Charles pending extradition proceedings.

The third woman also was being held in Louisiana. Reeves County officers said no charges were filed against her pending completion of an investigation.

Authorities said Grable was shot once in the head. His car was found abandoned in a roadside park several miles away and deputies later found a gun they said was used to kill Grable.

Painter Keeps At Night Chore

A local man started painting inside a garage on West 16th around 8 p.m. Monday.

When he wasn't home at 2:20 a.m., the members of the family requested the police check the garage. The man was still painting. "I'll be through in a minute," he stated.

Budget Up At C-City

COLORADO CITY — The Colorado City council approved an $804,165 budget for the fiscal year ending April 30, 1976, at its meeting Monday evening. The figure represents an increase of nearly $100,000 from the current year. This year's budget called for expenditures of $709,095.

James Campbell, city manager, said that increases in garbage collection would bring in an additional $20,000 during the year. He proposed that the tax rate remain at the current rate of $1.55 per $100 valuation.

Larry Hamner was named Colorado City mayor, replacing Mike Burt. After five years as mayor and 12 years on the council, Hamner did not seek reelection.

Dr. Elton Berkman was named mayor pro tem, replacing J. Lee Jones Jr.

Dr. Berkman, J.O. Dockrey, Rick Perkin and Jody Neff were sworn in as council members. Berkman and Dockrey are new to the council.

License Plate Is Missing

Albert William Diconoy of Fort Worth, a shoe salesman, told police that the license tag on his car was not part of the sellout sale at a local discount house.

But nevertheless it was missing when he got back to his vehicle Monday morning while parked at the store.

The tag is CPG 156 and belongs on his 1974 brown Chevrolet.

YMCA Needs Participants

Participants are needed in two YMCA classes, according to John Schiebel.

Persons are urged to sign up for a baton twirling class to be held from 6-7 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays for ages six and up and participants are also needed for a Senior Lifesaving Course, meeting from 7-9 p.m. The lifesaving course, for ages 15 and up, includes and principles of life guarding and pool maintenance.

Schiebel said it will be the only lifesaving class this summer.

Steers Muzzle Bulldogs, 6-5

BOX'S BAT COUNTS

MIDLAND — Relief pitching by Charles McKinney and batting by Ray Don Box featured Big Spring's 6-5 squeaker over Midland High here Tuesday afternoon.

The Steers have now knocked down three straight opponents in a row and passed their second straight second round 5-4A test. For the wide spectrum of activity, Big Spring is 9-10, Midland is 0-1 and 11-13.

Big Spring has zipped by the "Dogs" twice this season, scoring an earlier first round at Steer Park win at 7-5. Ironically, the Steers stand in the same shape as they were after two rounds of first half play.

The Steers pounded out 14 hits and six doubles.

Box clouted starter and loser Terrell Littlejohn for single in the bottom of the seventh, driving Kent Newsom home for the winning run.

Dick Battle had lead-off with a double. Newsom singled to left. The ball got away from the Midland fielder allowing Battle to step on home plate. Newsom moved on to second.

McKinney, making his 5-4A debut, relieved starter Mike Harris in the first. He pitched 4 2-3 frames of spectacular ball. McKinney issued only one hit, whiffed five, and gave up only two walks.

In the first, Big Spring flied home two runs. Barry Canning singled. Pat Carroll hit a ground rule double. Lawrence Byrd walked to fill the bases. Battle singled in Canning. Newsom hit a pop fly behind second which was dropped, scoring Carroll.

Midland shelled Harris for four runs in the opening frame. Carl Brosig doubled. Both Littlejohn and Jackie Wells walked. Clelland Pierce reached first on an error. Brosig scored.

Phelps singled through the middle. The ball got away from Canning with the bases being cleared. McKinney was then assigned to Steer hill job by Larry Horton.

Steer head coach. McKinney ended the frame by forcing Carr to pop into an attempted bunt squeeze double play.

Big Spring's single run in the third took place as Battle singled Byrd home. Byrd had landed on base by singling. He moved to second on an error.

With two outs in the fifth, Midland pushed across a lone tally. Littlejohn scored on Wells' double.

In the sixth, Big Spring moved home once on back to back doubles by Canning and Carroll. Carroll took over for McKinney. He gave up one hit, fanned three and issued no base on balls.

Battle was hot at the plate, going four for four. Carroll hit safely in two appearances. Canning swatted the ball three out of four tries.

"We'll take all the one run wins we can," said Horton. The Steers take on defending champs Permian in Big Spring, Saturday, at 2 p.m.

Horton feels Permian is no better than his club. "If we play well we'll win, if we don't we won't."

With the rapid improvement shown, the Steers no doubt will face Permian's hard-throwing Alex Kager, 5-0.

Steer Sidenotes: Several Big Spring students and parents attended the game in Midland.

Battle, who closed the card on his right pitching thumb hand last week, is still unable to twirl full strength. He can fill in relief if needed.

BIG SPRING HERALD

SECTION B BIG SPRING, TEXAS WEDNESDAY, APRIL 16, 1975 SECTION B

2 Tors Named

DALLAS (AP) — Eddie Lee Spencer and Jim Vaszauskas, who paced the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes to a state championship and a perfect 34-0 record, were named to the Texas Sports Writers Association's All-State Class 3A basketball team.

Anthony Sanders of Clarksville, Lewis Roberson of Brownfield and Tommy Williams of Lubbock Dunbar also were selected on the first team.

Spencer fired in 22 points against Cleveland in the state semifinals and 12 in the championship game with South Grand Prairie at Austin. The 6-foot senior averaged 16.5 points per game. His coach, O.W. Follis, called him "the best jumper for his size I have ever had."

Vaszauskas, a 6-4 senior, scored 15.5 points per game and pulled down 12.5 rebounds. He led his team in assists. Follis called Vaszauskas "a fine leader and most dedicated player."

Sanders, who made the all-state second team last year, averaged 27 points and 25 rebounds per game. He is 6-2 and a senior.

Roberson scored 628 points over the season and picked off 353 rebounds. He stands 6-2 and is a senior.

Williams scored over 20 points 14 times during the season from his guard spot. The 6-1 senior averaged 19.1 points per game.

The tallest player picked on the first three all-state teams in Class 3A was 6-5 Vanzant Driver or Taft. Albert Adams, a 6-4, junior, who was a key player in South Grand Prairie gaining the finals, was selected to the third team.

CARR LOSES THE ARGUMENT — Atlanta outfielder Ralph Garr, who argued that he was hit by a pitched ball in fifth inning of Tuesday night's National League game in Atlanta, lost the decision to umpire Henry Crawford who said it was a foul-tip strikeout. Top, he lay on the ground. Lower left, he gestures while arguing with Crawford, and lower right, shows his disbelief at the call. Houston catcher is Milt May. Atlanta defeated the Astros 6-1.

ASTROS ROUTED Record-Low Crowd Sees Braves Win

ATLANTA (AP) — Opening night for the Atlanta Braves was an artistic success on the field. At the gate it was a disaster.

A record-low crowd of 12,774 showed up for the opener on a breezy Tuesday night with the temperature in the 50s as the Braves routed Houston 6-1 to even their National League record at 4-4.

A crowd of 20,128 in 1968 was the previous record low in Atlanta's 10-year history. Darrell Evans and Dusty Baker each drove in three runs to back the seven-hit pitching of knuckleballer Phil Niekro. The Astros' only run came on Jose Cruz' first inning home run.

Evans drilled a two-run homer in the first inning and Baker had a key two-run single in the three-run third inning off loser J. R. Richard.

But the nearly 40,000 empty royal blue seats at Atlanta Stadium were one of the main topics of discussion.

A year ago opening night here featured Hank Aaron aiming — and succeeding — for his historic home run No. 715. It drew a record stadium crowd of 53,775.

A crowd of 20,000 had been expected for the contest which had pregame highlights saluting the Braves' predecessors, the minor league Atlanta Crackers, actress-singer Carol Channing presenting the Braves' No. 1 fan with a season pass, and Gov. George Busbee throwing out the first ball.

Nothing helped.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, APRIL 17, 1975
GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening when planetary pressures could cause a disruption in plans. Nevertheless, carry forward as cheerfully as possible. Progress toward success could be delayed. Use more self-control.
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) The situation at home could be difficult, but use tact and all works out fine. Remove conditions that cause disharmony.
TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Much care in motion must be exercised today if you are to avoid an accident. Make sure to safeguard your personal property.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Stay within your budget today even though you may be pressured into doing otherwise or you could regret it later. Be wise.
MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You may think others are not treating you properly and you may want to withdraw. But this is not the case. Keep cool.
LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Some anxiety could keep you from operating in a constructive way if you permit. Be sure to handle obligations efficiently.
VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Some friends are not in a particularly good mood in the morning but later they give you the support you need. Be patient.
LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Instead of worrying about a career matter, do something constructive about it. Be more firm in your business dealings.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Take care you don't make radical changes today or you will regret it later on. A business expert can give you good advice.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Meet your obligations honorably. Be more trusting of mate and be happier. Make the evening a particularly happy one.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Associates may seem annoyed but it is only because they have problems of their own. Sidestep one who talks too much.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Handle obligations ahead of you and show that you are most efficient at them. Take time to improve your appearance.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Keep busy at work ahead of you since this is not a good day for the recreation you had in mind. Relax at home tonight.

WANTED 20 HOMES THAT NEED PAINTING

CENTRAL TEXAS — 20 Homeowners in this area will be given the opportunity to have the new United States Steel finish on their homes. It will be of special interest to homeowners who are fed up with costly repainting. For new United States Steel is ideally suited for the Texas climate as it fades or chalks for the life of the building.

UNITED STATES STEEL finish has been developed after years of extensive research and testing.

UNITED STATES STEEL carries a written 20-year guarantee (labor and materials) — can be applied over any type of home: wood frame, stucco, concrete or brick. This new U.S. Steel and Vinyl finish has excellent insulating properties that make the home warmer in cold, damp weather.

U.S. STEEL VYNASOL paneling has been advertised nationally in LOOK and LIFE Magazines. Homeowners who act now will receive special decorative work at no additional cost.

Please call collect 915-949-3110 and ask for Mr. Ron Fox. An appointment will be made to see your home with no obligation. Please act at once. Out of town calls welcome.

82 Head Are Sold

Some 82 head of registered Herefords sold for a total of $18,232.50 at the Hereford Heifer Sale held here Monday at the Howard County Fair Barns with Henderson and Stoker as consignors.

This averaged $222.95, according to Jimmy Taylor, president of First National Bank, who kept records at the sale. This is above average for the present market, even though this type of heifer has often brought up to $500 in other years.

The highest selling pen of four heifers was sold by Charlie Creighton for $380 apiece. The highest open heifer was sold by Leland Wallace of Wallace Hereford Ranch for $370 and the highest selling pen of open
