Tornadoes Kill Five, Hurt Dozens

By the Associated Press

Thunderstorms packing wind, rain and hail roamed the nation's midsection again today after hatching tornadoes that left five dead and dozens injured in Missouri and Tennessee.

Tornado watches remained in effect early today for sections of Oklahoma, Arkansas, Missouri and Southern Illinois. Ten twisters were sighted or had dipped down since Thursday evening, four in northeastern Arkansas.

Hardest hit by the violent spring storms was the southwest Missouri community of Neosho. Two tornadoes churned through the town Thursday night, killing four persons and injuring dozens more.

The twisters also destroyed several houses, about 30 mobile homes, and either partially or totally destroyed two apartment complexes with more than 100 units.

North Viets To Permit Evacuation Of Yanks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senior Republican on the House International Relations Committee said today there is a "tacit understanding" the North Vietnamese will not attack Saigon until at least Monday to permit evacuation of nonessential Americans.

Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Mich., told reporters he had learned of the "tacit understanding" from Ford administration officials.

Broomfield said the arrangement was made through negotiations involving unspecified third countries.

He said it was not certain what would happen after Monday, but declared that the United States "should seize the opportunity to get nonessential Americans and their dependents out of Saigon."

PEACE

President Ford has said publicly there is no direct contact between the United States and the North Vietnamese. At the same time, he said the United States was working through undisclosed other countries for a cease-fire and a political settlement.

In South Vietnam, a high ranking official of the Saigon government said President Tran Van Huong has initiated talks with North Vietnam on a negotiated peace settlement.

Huong was said to be trying to send a minister of Cabinet rank to Hanoi to get the views of the Communist side.

The Saigon government official said the United States had approved the minister's flight on a U.S. Air Force plane.

Sen. Dick Clark, D-Iowa, said he was not satisfied with new figures showing that the number of Americans in Saigon had declined by 324 in the past 24 hours, while 5,587 South Vietnamese were being evacuated.

NO NEW FIGURES

Clark said the State Department reported 1,357 Americans remaining in Vietnam, but that no new figures were supplied on dependents, who numbered 562 in a report 24 hours earlier.

Asserting that administration sources acknowledge 500 Americans are enough to provide essential services for the United States in Saigon, Clark said: "I do not understand why the number of Americans cannot be brought down."

"I am not ready to subscribe to the hostage theory yet," he said.

The senator expressed hope that the Senate would not act today under emergency procedures to pass a compromise $327 million evacuation-humanitarian aid bill giving the President authority to use U.S. troops to evacuate Americans and some endangered South Vietnamese.

Clark said he preferred to retain leverage to get the number of Americans remaining in South Vietnam down to a total that will make hostilities much less likely.

RACE

U.S. officials have been said to be trying to increase the evacuation of Americans and South Vietnamese to about 10,000 a day in a race against time.

A total of 1,100 Americans has been said by the military to be small enough to permit a quick one-day helicopter evacuation in an emergency.

The use of U.S. troops in evacuating Americans and some Vietnamese is authorized in legislation undergoing refinements in Congress.

A House-Senate conference committee was expected to complete work today on a bill empowering the President to use troops, if necessary, and authorizing $327 million for humanitarian aid and evacuation.

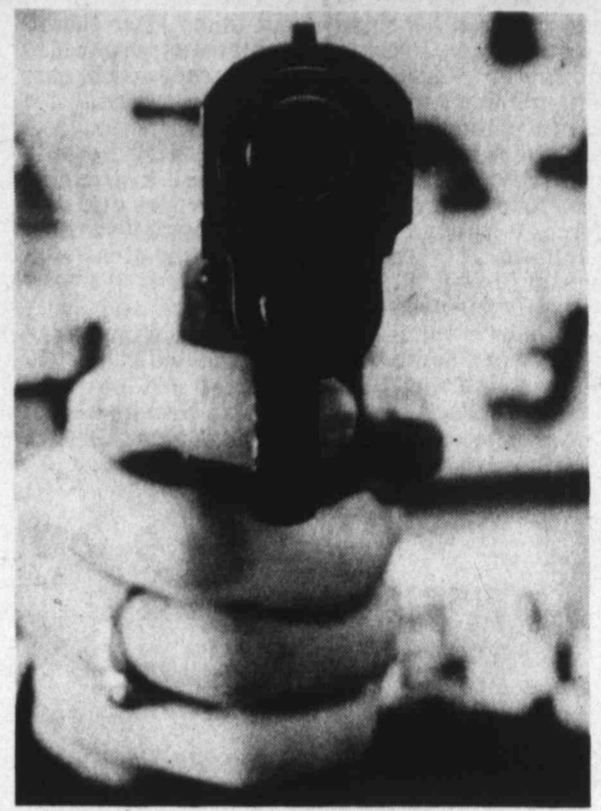

That compromise legislation was tentatively agreed to Thursday by the conferees after differing bills were passed by the House and Senate. The final version being worked out today and on Monday to the House, which was not in session today.

RESCUE

In approving the use of troops to rescue Americans, the compromise bill also permits the troops to help evacuate Vietnamese if the troops' numbers and deployment would not have to be changed to help them.

With an estimated 14 divisions of North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops near Saigon, a Pentagon spokesman said Thursday the Communist-led forces might begin attacking the city "any minute."

COMING SUNDAY

GUNS FOR GOOD AND THE BAD

GUN LAWS — In the wrong hands, guns kill innocent people. Sunday, federal, state and local laws concerning the sale, ownership, and possession of guns will be examined to see if they really can keep guns from illegal ownership.

THE SHADOW KNOWS....!

GROWING THEIR OWN — The city is growing its own trees and shrubs for park improvements in a nursery on city property in the southwest portion of the city. Many park improvements have been completed and more projected.

TORNADO APPROACHES — This was the tornado that approached Miami, Okla., Thursday from the west. Damage was estimated in the area at $125,000. There were no fatalities.

Two Hostages, Terrorist Perish In Embassy Siege

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Terrorists who held a dozen persons hostage in the West German Embassy for 12 hours Thursday dynamited the building in a futile attempt to escape after the Bonn government refused their demand for the release of 26 anarchists. Two hostages and a terrorist died in the siege, the terrorist an apparent suicide.

Defending his government's decision to stand firm, West German Chancellor Helmut Schmidt told the Bonn parliament today that West Germany plans to press a worldwide manhunt for wanted political extremists.

"The horrible epidemic of international terrorism requires international cooperation," the chancellor said after thanking Swedish authorities for helping save the lives of most of the hostages.

Schmidt announced for the first time that West German state and federal authorities had introduced new anti-terrorist techniques that, together with the help of foreign police, have led to the arrest of 10 other "violent criminals." He gave no names or details.

In addition to the fatalities Thursday, two policemen and a hostage were hospitalized in serious condition. Several others received minor injuries, including West German Ambassador Dietrich Stoeker, who was slightly burned.

The other five terrorists known to have been in the building were captured, police said. They included a woman. Earlier reports said there were seven in the gang, but the police revised the figure.

The explosions which the gang set off on the top floor of the embassy just before midnight Thursday burned out the four-story building.

The West German government's refusal to meet the terrorists' demands was a complete about-face in policy after nearly three years of surrender to Arab guerrillas and more recently to West German anarchists. Chancellor Helmut Schmidt was to explain the change to the Bonn parliament today.

The gang invaded the embassy shortly before noon Thursday and shot and killed Baron Andreas von Mirbach, the military attache. Identifying themselves as the Holger Meins Commando, they threatened to kill the ambassador and the others in the embassy at the time unless 26 members of the Baader-Meinhof gang of anarchists were freed from West German jails, given $520,000 and flown to another country.

The terrorists also warned they had placed nearly 35 pounds of TNT about the building and would set it off if the police attacked them.

The West German government set up a crisis staff in Bonn, and Schmidt was in frequent telephone communication with Swedish Premier Olof Palme. Swedish Justice Minister Lennart Geijer entered the embassy to act as go-between.

Geijer said the gang rejected an offer of safe conduct out of the country in exchange for the hostages. Some 500 heavily armed police ringed the building and occupied the ground floor while the terrorists and their hostages were on the upper floors. A 10:30 p.m. deadline set by the terrorists passed, and about half an hour later they released three women who were among the hostages. Then just before midnight the gang set off the TNT on the top floor and tried to slip out in the confusion, but the police spotted them and rounded them up without firing a shot.

The body of the dead hostage was found in the ruins of the building today. Police withheld announcement of identification until next of kin were notified.

Meins, for whom the terrorists named their squad, was a leading member of the Baader-Meinhof gang who died after a hunger strike in a West German jail last year. The gang was led by Ulrike Meinhof, a 40-year-old journalist, and Andreas Baader, a 30-year-old student radical.

Today's Bright Spot

The average high temperature for Big Spring is 76.8 degrees, while the average low is 49.4 degrees.

George Wallace Confirms He Plans To Run In 1976

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace confirmed today that he plans to run for president in 1976. He declined to say when the formal announcement will be made, although other sources said it probably will be early in June.

"As of now I intend to run," Wallace told The Associated Press.

His national campaign director, Charles Snider, said the governor has told friends he will seek the Democratic nomination. Wallace was a candidate in 1972 before he was wounded in an assassination attempt at Laurel, Md., and left paralyzed in both legs.

At a news conference Thursday, the 55-year-old governor refused to confirm that he would definitely run again.

When he was asked today if he hadn't already made his decision, he replied "you can say that. As of now I intend to run."

Less Revenue Sharing Money Due Big Spring

Big Spring will receive $323,511 in general federal revenue sharing funds for the 1976 fiscal year starting July 1, according to word received by Tom Ferguson, city finance officer.

During the current fiscal year, Big Spring received $336,408 in revenue sharing. City officials said that the allotment here was less because city taxes had not been raised. Officials added they were proud of the fact that it was not necessary to raise taxes during an inflationary year.

The funds are determined by an area's population, per capita income and tax effort. The money may be used by local authorities as they see fit within broad guidelines.

Houston received almost a million dollars more than it did last year. However, this was due to tax increases within the state's largest city.

Texas has so far been allocated $1.2 billion, fifth largest among states. The state leaders are New York $2.9 billion, California $2.8 billion, Pennsylvania $1.4 billion and Illinois $1.3 billion.

The World At-A-Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate conference will resolve differing versions of a bill aimed at insuring that hundreds of thousands of jobless workers don't lose their homes along with their salaries. The Senate Thursday added the provision to provide loans to unemployed homeowners of up to $300 a month for as long as three years.

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Communist-led troops now able to mount a massive attack on Saigon and shut the city's airport, U.S. officials are trying to increase the evacuation of Americans and South Vietnamese to about 10,000 a day in a race against time. Officials said the number of Americans in Vietnam would be reduced to 1,100 by today, down from some 5,000 on April 1.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration is granting the nation's corporate giants permission to produce billions of throw-away plastic pop and beer bottles that it concedes will foul the landscape, consume precious energy and possibly boost consumer prices. In a highly unusual move, however, the agency is openly inviting a lawsuit by the public seeking to block the approval and clarify a vital gray area in the law.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Consumer Product Safety Commission says he is willing to have the commission consider banning the interstate shipment of high-tar cigarettes. However, Chairman Richard O. Simpson added, "I would prefer that the Congress act" on a pending amendment to the Federal Hazardous Substances Act which would remove the commission's jurisdiction over cigarettes.

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The Northwest timber industry, suffering its worst economic blow ever, is showing a slow sign of improvement after a 1½-year slide. Crow's Publications of Portland, which publishes timber industry newsletters and price lists, said half-inch plywood sheathing has risen 11.9 per cent to $134 per 1,000 square feet from last week's record low of $118. And the cost of random length 2-by-4s was up 14.8 per cent, to $135 per 1,000 board-feet from last week's $115.

CHICAGO (AP) — Married people in the United States are happier than singles despite reports to the contrary, according to a University of Michigan psychologist. "We find that married Americans are far happier and more satisfied with their lives than singles are, in spite of national mumbblings and grumbings about the tired institution of matrimony," writes Dr. Angus Campbell in the May issue of Psychology Today. He and two colleagues, Phillip Converse and William Rodgers, recently surveyed 2,164 adults across the country, asking what they think about the quality of their lives and how their opinions have changed over the years.

CAIRO (AP) — The Arab chiefs of state will hold another summit conference in Somalia at the end of June to try to agree on a unified policy for peace negotiations with Israel in Geneva, the secretary-general of the Arab League, Mahmud Riad, said today. He said the Arab foreign ministers, who are meeting here, decided that the summit would be held June 28 to July 1 in Mogadishu with a three-day foreign ministers' meeting to precede it.

Social Security Hike Spelled Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration said today about 35 million Social Security and Supplemental Security income recipients will be due an 8 per cent benefit increase in July, costing $5.7 billion in 1976.

Casper W. Weinberger, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, coupled the announcement with a renewed plea to Congress to limit the increase to the 5 per cent requested by President Ford.

"Under the current law, I would be obliged to promulgate an 8 per cent benefit increase by May 15 rather than the 5 per cent increase," Weinberger said in a statement. "I strongly urge the Congress to enact the President's proposal for a five per cent increase before then."

The scheduled 8 per cent increase is the first automatic cost-of-living hike in the Social Security program, on the basis of comparing the average rise in the Consumer Price Index between the second quarter of 1974 and the first quarter of 1975.

It is somewhat lower than the 8.7 per cent earlier projected, because prices rose at a slower rate the first three months of this year. An 8.7 per cent benefit increase would have cost $6.2 billion.

The 8 per cent increase would boost average Social Security monthly benefits beginning in July to $200 from $184 for retired males, to $193 from $178 for widows and to $341 from $314 for a retired couple.

Basic Supplemental Security income benefits would be increased to $157.70 from $146 for individuals and to $236.60 from $219 for couples.

Social Security recipients would become eligible for the increased benefits in June but the actual payments would not start until July. Supplemental Security recipients would be eligible and receive the increase in July.

Ex-Gov. Hall Will Appeal Pen Sentence

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Former Oklahoma Gov. David Hall was sentenced today to three years in prison as a result of convictions on four counts in his bribery-extortion trial.

Hall received three years on each count, but the terms will run concurrently.

Dallas financier W.W. "Doc" Taylor, who was a codefendant in the trial, was sentenced to 18 months in prison on each of three counts, also to run concurrently.

U.S. District Judge Fred Daugherty allowed both men to remain free on $10,000 recognizance bonds pending appeal. Taylor and Hall both said they would appeal.

Special Meeting Called To Discuss Crime Here

Concern about the rising rate of crimes against local businessmen has prompted a special meeting of the business members of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce at 9 a.m., Tuesday in the Chamber conference room.

According to Chamber Manager Terry Hanson, shoplifting, burglaries, thefts, and bad check cases are skyrocketing, causing several businesses to suffer losses.

Group will discuss ideas that may help cut down the crime rate.

CLOUDY

Increasing cloudiness. High today near 90. Low tonight, low 60s. High Saturday, upper 80s. Southerly wind 8-15 miles per hour this afternoon and tonight.

A Shift In Objective

Is there linkage, as Secretary of State Henry Kissinger is fond of saying, between the death of Chiang Kai-shek and the apparently imminent collapse of the South Vietnamese government? There should not be.

Those who remember the North Korean attack on South Korea June 20, 1950, recall that President Truman changed his mind about China after the attack. Up until then, President Truman was prepared to permit Taiwan (Formosa and the Pescadores) to pass to the Communist mainland government, letting the Chinese revolution take its course. But after the North Korean attack, Truman ordered the U.S. Seventh Fleet to protect Taiwan against Chinese aggression. This was followed by assignment of advisers and then U.S. forces to Taiwan, the signing of a mutual security pact, and almost a generation of close relations with Chiang and Taiwan.

The parallel between Korea and China and South Vietnam and Taiwan is now being drawn. With the fall of Cambodia and South Vietnam, the United States will lose its last advanced listening post and potential bastion in the Pacific outside Japan. Should we not therefore patch up our relations with Taiwan in order to counter increased Chinese hegemony?

This has an appealing ring. Realistically, the aim of our policy in the Pacific should be to normalize relations with mainland China. But there is a feeling of historical inevitability, arising from Chinese nationalism, about ultimate reunion. It will come most likely through a deal struck between the leaders of China and of Taiwan — probably coming as a surprise to the American people.

President Ford's forthcoming visit to China should foster that detente and a normalization of relations.

Hazard That Must Be Faced

The Congress had produced legislation which will permit the evacuation of Americans (plus some Vietnamese) from Saigon. There were some who fought the proposal down to the wire out of fear that such action might lead to a re-involvement of the United States in Indo-China.

But this is a hazard that must be faced as an obligation to our nationals, and as an obligation to as many Vietnamese leaders and others whose continued presence in Vietnam would sign their death warrants.

Not all of these can be removed or relocated, but we should do as much as possible to help them in evacuation.

President Ford has acknowledged that the Vietnamese war, for all practical purposes, is over. It now is in our past he said. This frank admission and appraisal should clear the way to other more pragmatic action to help in other ways, and to pursue readjusted policies.

The Only Cure

Around The Rim

Troy Bryant

WHAT'S THAT ... up in the sky ... it's a bird ... it's a plane ... it's ... it's ... it's Han-D-Man! Able to climb steep ladders to fix an air conditioner ... more powerful than a stuck ice tray ... faster than a falling dead tree limb!

Han-D-Man disguised in his secret identity of a mild-mannered reporter for a newspaper, is a champion of do-it-yourself nits everywhere. He mows, he tinkers, he hammers, he buys tools so he can screw up the plumbing.

It wasn't always this way, in fact, Han-D-Man was the usual househusband, content to sit in his big chair and watch television and let the pros do all the work until one day ... he got the idea that he could replace that tube in the TV set just as good as anybody else. Especially since he spilled water on it himself and watched it crack. Success! The TV worked fine.

Ever since then he hasn't been able to enjoy TV as long as something around the house is on the blink.

Next was the hole in the fender caper. When the CB antenna was removed from his car fender, it left a big hole in the fender that had to be fixed. Rather than pay a bodyman to fix it, Han-D-Man purchased a magazine that had a half page on it and began to work. First he used some body filler (left to him by his brother) and bought some sandpaper and primer paint.

He didn't mix the putty good and the result was a super-hard black blob of putty where the hole was, complete with little specks of gooey putty in it. So he began sanding. For three days in his spare time he sanded and sanded without appreciably diminishing the size of the blob on the fender, but making considerable progress in removing his fingerprints.

FINALLY HE resorted to borrowing a sander from a neighbor and got it over with in about three minutes. Next came the primer. The area involved to start with was about three inches in diameter, but by the time he overshot the spot a few times, the spot that had to be painted now was about the size of a newspaper page. He decided that the final coat would have to wait when the sink in the bathroom started acting up.

First he went down to the local store and bought a couple of wrenches to tackle the faucet that was leaking water down the drain and onto the floor.

Then he went after it. No luck, the old faucet was hopelessly corroded away by time and the elements so he then bought a new faucet.

After he got the faucet hooked up and everything was going fine, he turned on the water. Nothing came out. So he gave up and went to bed.

Then there was the linoleum caper. A friend in need is a friend indeed, right? Well, Han-D-Man ran across a friend who wanted his linoleum installed. So who volunteers — Han-D-Man.

Han-D-Man and a helper finally got the stuff on the floor, but how did those ribs and tears get in there?

Other ill-fated projects include the lawn mower carburetor overhaul (he bought another mower), the car wax job that left little white specks all over it, and the burning of the dead grass in the backyard (then, he bought some new shoes).

We hear the only cure for a Han-D-Man (if you know one) is to put him on a small rocket with a little hunk of kryptonite and send him to some other planet.

Who To Succeed?

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — Pushed to the limit by the tragedy of Vietnam holding center state, Secretary of State Henry Kissinger has nevertheless found time to work on a troubled area that could in the near future reach the crisis state. That is the Middle East where, with negotiations broken down, the search is on for a new way to defuse the Arab-Israeli brink-of-war hostility.

SINCE THE collapse of his shuttle diplomacy, Kissinger has had at least one long session with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin. They talked of many aspects of the U.S.-Soviet detente including the Middle East.

Dobrynin left the impression that Moscow is interested in finding an alternative to what promises to be a long stalemate at Geneva. At that conference, Israel would be isolated confronting the Arab states with the Palestine Liberation Organization somewhere in the picture.

This confirms recent dispatches out of Jerusalem telling of Russian visitors taking soundings on the possibility of future relations with Israel. Still highly tentative, this is considered a signal that Moscow wants to avoid a superpower confrontation. That is the line Kissinger means to explore further with Dobrynin.

Beset by troubles abroad with the blame generously heaped on his head, Kissinger finds himself in the midst of an internal feud. While feud may be too strong a word, inspired news stories have had the President's close advisers determined that Ford shall be his own foreign policy maker, drawing a line between the White House and the State Department. Whatever evidence there may be for this, and certain observers have overheard Ford saying that he and not Kissinger is the President, it can only have further divisive — and destructive consequences.

AS HE HAS said several times before, Kissinger told the American Society of Newspaper Editors he has no intention of resigning. And the President has assured the secretary of state that he wants him to stay on through 1976.

For sheer survival, Kissinger deserves the award of bureaucratic infighter first class. What his enemies never come to grips with is who would take his place if he is forced out and what kind of foreign policy a successor might follow in the remaining 20 months of the Ford Administration. For the policy is the President's policy and it will not be transformed by a new secretary of state.

THE SECRETARY has met several times with members of the Senate and House in the current assessment of Middle East policy following the end of his shuttle diplomacy. Staunch friends of Israel such as Sens. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut and Jacob Javits of New York have been among those with whom he discussed a new approach. This does not exclude a resumption of bilateral mediation between Cairo and Jerusalem, although Kissinger would not himself be the mediator. A deputy, perhaps Joseph Sisco, undersecretary for political affairs, would take over.

RETURNING WITH his hopes in ruin, the secretary told reporters on his plane that Israel had more to lose than Egypt in the failure. This is said to be the explanation for the dark suspicion on the part of Israelis and friends of Israel in this country that Kissinger was the source of the charge.

Money Is Piling Up

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The American consumer continues to give fits to marketing strategists and retailers.

Some of the best known names in merchandising are in trouble, and the list doesn't begin and end with the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. and W.T. Grant Co., which are losing scores of millions of dollars.

A long list of manufacturers and retailers of consumer goods find they can't get the public excited about anything, except possibly about saving whatever they can. People are "buying down." Money is piling up again in savings institutions. Savings Bond sales are high.

The group thought at one time to be the smartest of all marketers, the Detroit auto maker, finds that customers will buy only when they can drive a good bargain for themselves, which often is a losing proposition for the seller.

The cash rebate concept was thought to be another example of Detroit's genius when, earlier this year, the public crowded into automotive showrooms and helped dealers cut their inventory glut.

But, as Detroit has learned, it really doesn't take a great deal of imagination to sell products at a loss or on a margin too skimpy to support a living. And that, it appears, is one thing that rebating amounted to.

Another: Those sales made last February and March quite likely were at the expense of spring sales. That at least is the conclusion being drawn from the worst spring selling rate in about 14 years.

Once upon a time, that time being no more than 10 years ago, there was a pervasive feeling that Detroit made its market — that it decided what it wanted to do and then went out and did it, supported by promotion and hoopla.

Now Detroit recognizes it must contend with a complex, demanding, better educated consumer. A suspicious consumer, you might add; a consumer who expects nothing more than his money's worth and who discounts the hoopla.

In theory, this is a healthy situation for everyone, despite all the bleating that might accompany it. Better companies, better products and a stronger economy are the results of competition, economists tell us.

But until the sellers can convince the public that their products are of the highest quality and that to buy now means a better life for them, the entire economy seems destined to move ahead only slowly.

We Hold These Truths... A Chronicle of America

John Adams:

Drinkers And Pancreatitis

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 25 years old and have been hospitalized recently for an attack of pancreatitis. I have never really heard of this. Please explain some of the problems concerning this. Why does it seem to take your breath away?

It seems when you breathe it's like a knife jabbing at you. Once one gets this, does one have it the rest of one's life? — K.M.

I'll have to begin with a brief anatomy lesson. The pancreas, the gland involved here, is located in the mid-upper abdomen, behind the stomach. It has a duct through which digestive enzymes (juices) pass into the small bowel. The ducts of the bile system (including the gall bladder) and those of the pancreas enter the small bowel very close to each other, in fact.

Pancreatitis is, as the name implies, inflammation of the pancreas. There are several causes, but the chief ones are gall bladder disease and alcoholic excess. Alcohol stimulates stomach secretions, which in turn increase the flow of pancreatic juices. The chief symptoms of pancreatitis are those you probably know well — upper abdominal pain, nausea, vomiting and diarrhea.

Your shortness of breath during your attack was probably related to a spasm of the diaphragm. Fluid can also develop in the lower lungs with pancreatitis, adding to the discomfort you describe.

As you are probably aware, the pancreas has another, most important role in body functioning. Its so-called islet cells manufacture insulin, without which the body cannot metabolize sugar. So diabetes may follow any disruptive attack of pancreatitis, especially if the insulin-producing islet cells are damaged.

Treatment for pancreatitis consists of absolute rest, drainage of the stomach to remove its juices, the limiting of food and drink, and medication to relieve pain.

When an attack has subsided, a study of the gall bladder system is necessary to determine whether that organ was the source of the pancreas infection. If so, removal is necessary to prevent future infection.

There is a condition known as chronic, relapsing pancreatitis, which is precipitated by alcohol or large meals. In such cases, abstinence and more judiciously sized meals is the answer.

You probably should be checked now for possible diabetes. *** If afflicted with problem fingernails or toenails, learn the practical, medically correct form of treatment. Write to Dr. Thosteson, P. O. Box 3999, Elgin, Ill. 60120 for a copy of his booklet, "Solving Your Nail Problems," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

My Answer

Billy Graham

I find it hard to understand that statement in Scripture (Mark 16) that says, "They shall take up deadly serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them." How do you explain this impossible sounding promise to cynics trying to discredit the Bible? — J.D.S.

In the beginnings of the Christian church, it was necessary to attract special attention to the life-giving gospel of Christ. The Lord's words here, however, don't necessarily mean they were to be in perpetuity — as a sort of recurring proof of Christian truth.

These promised signs were given to authenticate the message and the messengers. Just when they were withdrawn, it is impossible to say, but it was whenever their purpose had been fulfilled. Probably very early.

The fact that the assurance of immunity from the effects of drinking poison seems no longer to apply, is in no way a discredit to Christianity. After all, when the band plays the last note of "Hail to the Chief," it doesn't mean that respect for the President has ceased.

The fact is that Christianity was made gradually less dependent on external signs and tokens, and more and more on the spiritual power of the Word. Someone has suggested that Christianity itself is a phenomenon today that is a greater sign than anything the apostles could do.

Pro Shop May Close Mondays

The Parks and Recreation board of the city met this week and approved several recommendations which will go to the City Council at its next meeting in May.

Among the recommendations approved unanimously were those made by a study committee on the Municipal Golf Course.

The board approved turning over the maintenance of the course to the parks and recreation division of the city, in order that more time and care may go toward upkeep of the course. Members also recommended that the pro shop be closed on Mondays.

The third recommendation was that Rule 7 will be under the discretion of the golf pro. This is in regard to numbers playing in groups on given days, depending upon his decision in regard to the total number on the course and other details.

The board also heard a report from Jerry Foresythe, parks superintendent, that the city swimming pool will open May 24. A report was also given on improvements to be made at the tennis center.

Members present at the meeting were Larry Willard, Mrs. Clyde Thomas, Bill Battles, A. C. Mize, Alton Underwood, Harold Rosson, S Sgt. Samuel Earl and Julie Shirey.

JUST A FEW — Part of the items recovered from a $9,000 burglary of the Radio Shack are shown here. Police arrested three men in connection with the burglary and also cleared up four other recent burglaries.

Five Burglaries Are Cleared By Arrest

Three arrests late Thursday saw five burglaries cleared up including a $9,000 burglary at the Radio Shack at 302 11th Place.

Police officers arrested Lance Nathaniel Pless, 18, of 609 Elgin; Michael Edward Hogg, 18, San Jose, Calif. and Randall Keith Robbins, 17, Lovington, N.M. They are charged with burglary with bonds set at $2,500 each by Municipal Judge John R. Coffee. They were in city jail this morning in lieu of bond.

The arrest was made at 609 Elgin where all three were apparently living at the time. Almost all of the Radio Shack items have been recovered including radios, amplifiers, speakers, microphones, antenna bases, CB radios, audio center power meters, socket sets, lights, lead-in wire, stereos, televisions, flashlights, a television camera, conduit ducts, headphones, short-wave radios, wire, holder cases and numerous other items.

Police information indicates that the items were taken away in five or six trips in a car, over a period of some four and one half hours, according to City Det. Leroy Spires, in charge of the investigation.

Entry was apparently gained by climbing up a pipe and removing boards from the air conditioner duct. The stolen merchandise was stashed in the attic at 609 Elgin, inside a tank at the end of a dead end street west of town and in a trailer house in a local trailer park.

Other burglaries apparently cleared with the arrest of the trio include the Three Way Welding Shop. One of the three men is alleged to be involved in the burglaries at Bill Chrane Auto, Chrane Marine Supply, Jimmy Hopper Toyota and West Tex Wrecking Yard, according to Capt. Jack Jones, chief of detectives.

ASSEMBLED FAULTY SHELL Texas Munitions Plant Must Pay $240,000

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A Texas munitions plant must pay $240,000 in damages for death and injury caused when a howitzer round exploded as it was being fired at North Vietnamese in Cambodia, a federal appeals court ruled Thursday.

Hawley K. Challoner of Wisconsin was injured and Daniel E. Nelms of Tennessee was killed in the incident May 22, 1970.

Day & Zimmerman, Inc., assembled the faulty shell under a cost plus contract with the Army.

A U.S. district court in Texas originally found the company liable for damages, but lawyers for the firm appealed, arguing that the incident occurred on Cambodian soil, so Cambodian law should apply.

The court also pointed out that Cambodian law was set up to protect Cambodian citizens, and that, therefore, the country had no interest in the case.

The 5th Circuit, further, said that Texas law applied to any transaction which put a commodity into the stream of commerce.

The court also upheld the district court's ruling that there was sufficient evidence to convince the jury that the round was defective when it left the company's hands.

Indications are that well over 500 Scouts and leaders will arrive at the Scout grounds here this evening for the annual Buffalo Trail Camporee. The number will be swelled Saturday by some 150 to 200 Cubs for their field day.

Charles Grizzard, Camporee chairman, aided by Garrett Patton, and others have staked campsites, put everything in good shape for arrival of some two score troops from the Big Bend to the Colorado River. Inspectors will grade campsites this evening and Saturday morning before a day of competition in Scoutcraft begins.

Cubs will arrive at 11:30 a.m. Saturday to spend the afternoon in some 10 competitive events climaxed by 6 p.m. Cubs and parents are invited to join Scouts and Scouters for the traditional council fire at 8 p.m. Saturday. The public also is invited to view this event, which includes stunts by all units.

First aid and communication facilities have been set up at headquarters, Explorer Post 714 of Midland, with a law enforcement specialty, will patrol the camp area Friday and Saturday under supervision of Ronald Tate, Midland, traffic enforcement officer.

Brief religious services under the Rev. Lester Utz will be the last activity of camp Sunday 9 a.m.

More Subpoenas Nixed By Judge

District Judge Ralph W. Caton Thursday afternoon refused to subpoena all but a few of more than 20 witnesses William Paul Darrow, 29, wanted to appear at a hearing.

Darrow, serving a 10-year sentence for sale of marijuana, is seeking his release from prison through a writ of habeas corpus.

Thursday afternoon, the hearing was recessed until Tuesday. The hearing had been conducted for four consecutive days with the mood alternating between anger and laughter.

Earlier in the week, Darrow broke tension when he blurted: "Alright, G. . . d. . . it I did it." He was referring to the sale of marijuana.

MOTHER LEAVES District Attorney Robert H. (Bob) Moore III Thursday afternoon exploded when Darrow repeated his allegation that some of the marijuana sold Ted Groehl Jr. was missing.

Mrs. Anne Darrow, the defendant's mother, left the courtroom when Moore began shouting.

"There is no evidence part of the marijuana is missing," Moore said.

Groehl, who was working for police, testified he bought eight lids from Darrow, and a lid generally is considered an ounce, Moore explained. There was less than eight ounces submitted to the Texas Department of Public Safety lab in Austin for analysis.

"All it means is that you just ripped him off," Moore told Darrow.

Judge Caton rejected requests to subpoena a number of witnesses including guests at a motel in Austin, because the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals had ruled on the question of "chain of custody" of the marijuana.

Big Spring Police left the marijuana unattended in a locked motel room before handing the marijuana to lab personnel.

Others were in distant Texas cities. Judge Caton agreed to having Charles Kaufmann, attorney for Darrow in the trial and appeal, testify by phone.

One of the witnesses Darrow wanted to testify was his mother, Mrs. Anne Darrow.

Mrs. Darrow said they were told Thursday before the Monday jury trial that a continuance had been granted.

After the trial, one juror told her, Mrs. Darrow said, that she felt sorry for her.

"That's a stiff sentence," Mrs. Darrow recalled saying of the life prison term originally assessed. It was later commuted to 10 years.

"That's the way we felt," the mother quoted the juror replying.

Darrow is contending that he was the victim of "entrapment." Moore indicated this was not the case, according to legal definitions.

Anniversary Event Held

Jim Lemons, Big Spring, governor Lions District 2A-1, had the distinction of honoring the Santa Anna Lions Club on its 50th anniversary Thursday evening.

This is only the third club in the district to achieve this during, and the only one during Lemons' year as governor. One of the charter members, W. Ford Barnes, was present and is still an active member of the club.

Another George M. Johnson, is a member at large but was unable to attend.

The club today was three dozen active members and 25 members at large. Others on the program included Walter Dickens, Early, who explained the Lions eye bank program; Past Dist. Gov. Tom Nipp, Midland, and Ted Gouley, editor of Texas Livestock Journal, the speaker.

'Motorgate' Episode Triggers GM Firings

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors has refused to shed much light on a secret "Motorgate" episode in which many salaried workers at its large Chevrolet office in New York State were dismissed abruptly.

Altogether, about three dozen Chevrolet workers in the Northeast were fired "for violating company policies," including the acceptance of gifts from dealers.

The secret GM probe began 15 months ago after the murder of a Chevrolet Division area service manager. A Boston area Chevrolet dealership service manager has been charged with the murder.

F. James MacDonald, a GM executive vice president, refused to tell reporters Thursday what policies the workers had violated.

Nor would he discuss the warranty fraud allegations in Boston which led to grand jury indictments alleging fraud by Chevrolet dealer R. Gordon Butler in Lowell, Mass., and service manager George Edgerly.

Butler and Edgerly allegedly were involved in cheating GM by charging for warranty work never performed. Edgerly is accused of killing Chevrolet's Francis Smith, who was shot to death the same day he checked warranty violations at the Butler dealership.

Both accused men contend they are innocent of the charges.

MacDonald said GM began investigating its New York office as a result of the killing. But he insisted that firings in Bethpage, N.Y. — and later at Tarrytown, N.Y., Detroit, and in Boston — were not related to warranty fraud.

Obstetrician Allen R. Shade said Pamela Levy, 28, is doing satisfactorily, but is slower than normal in her recovery from the caesarean section surgery used to deliver the babies.

Dr. Shade said her condition improved Thursday night and she no longer has a post-operative problem caused by the operation.

Dr. Irwin Light, staff premature baby specialist, said all of the babies weigh less than five pounds eight ounces. Light said only one of the youngsters, a boy, required a blood transfusion after birth, but he was the first to start bottle feeding on a formula Thursday. The others joined him later in the day.

"They are in better condition than they were Wednesday. They are active and being kept in incubators in the premature nursery," he said.

Fight Erupts; Police Called

A fight erupted at Wagon Wheel 1 around 11 p.m. Thursday with city police dispatched to the scene. Six persons were arrested and charged with assorted misdemeanor charges of public intoxication and disturbance. Surety bonds were set up to $130 and they were released.

Amendment 2 Not Supported

STANTON — Less than 10 per cent of the registered voters in Martin County turned out in Tuesday's constitutional amendments election, and those who did cast their ballots did not follow the state voting trend.

While the two amendments were passed by a 53 per cent margin across the state, Martin County voters narrowly passed Amendment One 100-99 and defeated Amendment Two 114-84.

Services for Marie Weeg, 80, who was found dead at her home Thursday, will be at 10 a.m., Saturday at the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel, with Rev. Bill Smythe, pastor of the First Christian Church, officiating.

Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

She was born May 22, 1894 in Yeakum and married Frank Weeg Sept. 9, 1931 in Big Spring. She had lived in Big Spring since 1930.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Marie Dunivan, Big Spring, and Miss Frances Weeg, Balch Springs; a son, Walter Arnold Weeg, Fort Worth; two brothers, Albert Tuttle, Waco, and Francis B. Tuttle, Houston; nine grandchildren, and 13 great-grandchildren.

Palbearers will include Wayne Burleson, Bob Brock, Bobbie Hogue, Don Fyfe, Joe T. Smith and Luther Cunningham.

William Dorn, 76, a resident of the Pioneer Hotel, died at 9:45 a.m. Thursday in a Lubbock nursing home.

Funeral services will be at 10:30 a.m. Saturday in Colorado City First United Methodist Church. Burial will be in Dorn Cemetery.

A native of the Colorado City area, Dorn moved to Lubbock in 1941. He was a veteran of World War I and a retired employe of the Internal Revenue Service. The Dorn community near Colorado City was named for his parents who founded it.

Survivors include a son, Larry Dorn of Lubbock; a daughter, Mrs. Jan Nietzel of Decatur; a brother, Phelan Dorn of McAllen; two sisters, Mrs. Ruth Ainesworth of McAllen and Mrs. Isla Hooks of Dallas; and five grandchildren.

Pipelines Project To Cost Millions

CUSHING, Okla. (AP)—Two new pipelines, one built and the other scheduled, will bring a half-million barrels of additional oil into this area by the middle of 1976.

The Texoma Pipeline from Beaumont, Tex., to Cushing is due to be finished about Aug. 1 of this year and will carry in an estimated 250,000 barrels of oil per day. Its southern end is at Nederland, Tex.

The Seaway Pipeline, not due to be completed until Aug. 1, 1976, will extend from Freeport, Tex., to Cushing. It will have an initial capacity of 225,000 barrels per day, increasing later.

The Texoma line has been completed and tested from Cushing to Winnsboro, Tex., about half of its 472-mile length.

The line is being built by Sun Pipe Line Co., a subsidiary of Sun Oil Co., at a cost of $122 million. Its initial capacity will be 300,000 barrels per day and, like the other, will be increased later.

Ten companies are taking part in the line and will use the crude for their refineries or to move through their transmission system.

They include Kerr-McGee Oil Corp., Lion Oil Co., Skelly Oil Co., Sun Oil Co. of Pennsylvania, United Refining Co., Western Crude Oil, Inc., Mobil Oil Corp., Rock Island Refining Corp., Texas Eastern Transmission Corp.,

and Vickers Petroleum Co. Construction in recent months has been slowed because part of its route goes through swamp and marshland and wet weather has made work difficult. Five river crossings are involved, three on the Neches River.

Oil to move through the line will be unloaded at a Sun terminal at Nederland. A second dock has been built there to handle vessels up to 130,000 tons.

Capability will be increased by 50 per cent with an additional six 250,000-barrel storage tanks and two of 150,000 barrels each.

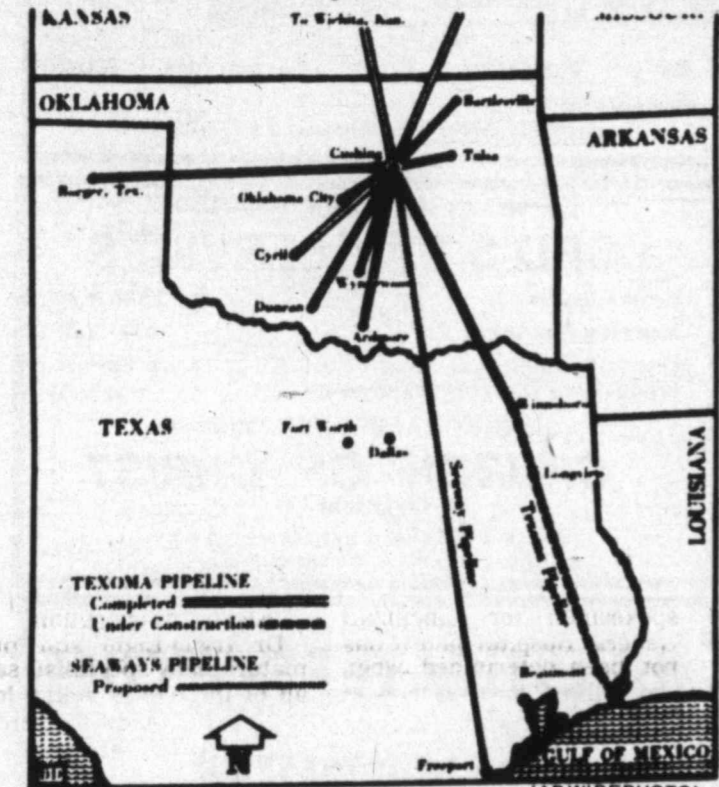

At Cushing, a 16-inch lateral line will tie in to the Kerr-McGee refinery at Wynnewood.

Two tie-ins are planned at Longview, Tex. One will be with Mid-Valley Pipe Line to move crude to Arkansas and the other will be with West Texas Gulf Pipe line to carry approximately 40,000 barrels of West Texas crude daily.

For the other pipeline—the Seaway—pipe is on order and steel mills in Houston have begun to roll the pipe.

"We have all the major items on order," said Dean Taylor, president of Phillips Pipeline Co. "It should be operational by Aug. 1, 1976."

The company has an 80-acre tract near Cushing for the terminal facility and is negotiating for facilities near Freeport. The Freeport facilities will be for storing

NEW PIPELINES — Two new pipelines from the Gulf Coast will bring an additional 500,000 barrels of oil daily into the Cushing, Okla., area by mid-1976.

Nominations Due For Race

Nominations for the "World's Largest and Richest Barrel Race," the eighth annual barrel racing futurity sponsored by the Texas Barrel Racing Association are due May 1, according to Futurity Chairwoman Jean Galbreath of Arlington. Last year the event drew 104 horses and a $13,600 purse.

The Futurity, open to horses of all breeds, four years of age or younger and never having competed in a barrel race previously, will be held in the Dallas-Fort Worth area, October 5-6. The exact location of this year's futurity will be announced at a later date.

An initial payment of $15 is due May 1 and must accompany the nomination. Total cost of entering the Futurity is $100 with additional $15 payments being due the first of June, July, August and September and a $20 entry fee due Sept. 15. (Payment of $90 on or before May 1 will cover all payments on one entry prior to the Futurity.) Nominations will be accepted up to Sept. 15; however, penalties will be added.

Information and entry blanks may be had from Jean Galbreath, 1975 Futurity Chairwoman, 1100 Hermitage Place, Arlington, Texas 76015 or phone 817-275-0479.

House OKs Park Bill

AUSTIN — The House has agreed to the Senate version of a bill that would give the City of Big Spring 70 acres to establish recreational parks.

Several weeks ago the House gave approval to a similar bill when it passed a bill by Rep. Mike Ezzell of Snyder.

The Senate bill, is by Sen. Ray Farabee of Wichita Falls, and was tentatively agreed to in the House on a voice vote.

Despite the confusing process, one final vote in the House will send the bill to the governor, barring any last minute amendments.

Ants Are Pests But Little More

A swarm of small flying black ants invaded the backyard of Mrs. Ida Hughes, 2010 Johnson.

Mrs. Hughes was putting up a valiant fight against the ants, spraying them every time they landed on a post.

Ronnie Wood, assistant county agent, said here this morning, "This is a seasonal thing. They come out in the spring. They won't really harm anything, but are an aggravation."

He suggested that anyone plagued with the ants spray the door and window sills to keep them from flying into the home.

Variety Show Slated

Dancing, comedy, and in the City Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. May 6. Sponsoring the event will be the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints on a national bi-centennial tour. It is backed as a local bi-centennial function. Performances will be free and open to the public.

This variety show is built around the Valhalla Dancers of Ricks College who have delighted audiences throughout Europe and Mexico, as well as the United States and Canada. Their authentic costumes and the graceful execution of the dances have brought cultural delights to their audiences.

Appearing with the Shades of Day, a group of eight students who not only sing in the Madrigal style but also bring modern sounds to the stage.

Individual talent includes Debbie Jeppsen from Ririe, Idaho with her marvelous Coloratura Soprano voice, Kerry Summers from Salt Lake City, Utah, magician, ventriloquist and trumpet player, plus many other talented students.

The show is a family show providing good, clean, fun-filled entertainment.

Premiere Slated Of 'Beginnings'

The story of the rise and fall of man and his reconciliation with God will be depicted in a musical drama so powerful that it is described as a deep emotional experience here Sunday and Monday.

The First Baptist sanctuary has been selected for the West Texas premiere of "Beginnings," a product of the talents of Buryl Red, composer-producer, and Ragan Courtney, author-dramatist. Showings are Sunday 8:15 p.m. and at the same hour Monday. There is no charge, and people throughout the area are urged to attend.

Some 50 voices from the senior high and adult choirs of the church, supported by an extensive percussion effects as well as the piano and organ accompaniment, will furnish the background for a three-stage dramatization. The music is subtitled as the narrated drama which will be accentuated by two following spots and expansive lighting effects.

"Beginnings," explained Joe Whitten, music director, fuses action and music to reflect the beginning of the earth and fall of man; the beginning of restoration with the coming of Christ; and finally, the completed work (of salvation).

Red, a product of Yale and Baylor Universities, is a member of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers. Formerly music editor for a major national publisher, he has composed numerous musical scores. Among his achievements is the orchestration of the musical, "Odyssey."

Courtney, the other part of the composer team, received training at the Louisiana College and LSU, gained experience through the Playhouse School of Theatre in New York City. He co-authored and starred in the Broadway play, "Earl of Ruston."

Both the choral and drama departments of the host church have been at work on the scores of "Beginnings" for several weeks.

Stage director for the production is Barry Clayton, who has directed and staged several dramas for the church.

Midway Sets Meet

Midway Baptist Church will hold their Spring Revival April 27-May 4. The Rev. Wayne Oglesby, Pastor of First Baptist Church, Trent will be the evangelist.

The Rev. Oglesby is a graduate of Coahoma High School and a past member of Midway Baptist Church. He received his degree from Southwestern Theological Seminary in Ft. Worth. Dennis Teeters, of Coahoma, will be the song leader.

The services will be at 7 p.m. and at 10:30 a.m. Monday through Friday. There will be a nursery provided.

Special campfire services will be held for the youth on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights after the services. Monday night will be for grades 1-4, Tuesday night for grades 5-8, and Wednesday night for high school and college ages.

Church officials invite the public to come and share the revival week.

TEEN CHALLENGE

Teen Challenge Rally Is Set At Fellowship Center

A teen challenge rally will be held at Christ Fellowship Center FM 700 & 11th Place, of Big Spring hosting Reverend Philip Breithaupt, the regional representative, and "The New Creations" of Mid-America Teen Challenge training center of Cape Girardeau, Missouri, on May 1 at 7:30 p.m. where Tommy D. Williams is minister.

"The New Creations," the official choir of the Mid-America Teen Challenge

Center, will share in music and testimony how they found mental and physical cure from drug addiction through Christ, according to Rev. Williams.

These choir members are former law breakers, drug addicts, alcoholics, and other delinquent youth. Their choir director, Reverend Breithaupt, has served as tenor soloist with the revival time choir on the ABC Radio Network and has recorded 3 LP albums. He has addressed civic clubs, high school assemblies, universities, student organizations and churches of many denominations in behalf of this program.

Mid-America Teen Challenge Training Center is directed by the Reverend Herb Meppelink, founder of Detroit Teen Challenge. It serves as the rehabilitation, training and re-entry program for the T. C. induction centers of over 11 midwestern states. The training center is located just west of the Mississippi River on a beautiful farm which provides a wholesome atmosphere where delinquent youth of all walks of life can find a lasting solution to their problems, according to Rev. Williams.

GETTING A NEW START

"I never want to move again!" I told a friend. Even before the moving van arrived, there were days of sorting, discarding and carefully packing the things we treasure. There were farewells and last minute errands.

Then early one morning, the huge truck came lumbering up the street, and the movers began loading beds, tables, chairs, dishes and books. After several hours, the last box was in the van, and our belongings were on their way to a new home.

A new home, new friends, new community—so many things with which to become acquainted.

The church is a fine place to get a new start—to make new friends and strike up a vital relationship with the Maker of us all.

VIETNAMESE IN PARIS DIVIDED
Tide Running For Viet Cong

PARIS (AP) — The Vietnamese delicatessen store on Rue Monge sells fresh bean sprouts grown in France, rice bowls made in Saigon and soy sauce bottled in Hanoi.

"I have always stayed neutral in our conflicts," says Tran Van Ngoc, the owner. "Even when the French fought the Viet Minh a quarter of a century ago I kept my views to myself. I don't intend to change now, not even if the PRG takes over the whole country."

But by referring to the PRG — the Viet Cong's Provisional Revolutionary Government — Ngoc showed that he, like many of the 80,000 Vietnamese in France, is running with the tide. One way of identifying the shrinking group of Saigon supporters is their continued insistence on referring to the PRG as the Viet Cong or simply as "the Communists."

Rue Monge, near the University of Paris, is the heart of what might be called the Vietnamese quarter. It contains social centers run by Buddhist and Roman Catholic groups, and a few Vietnamese bookshops and grocery stores are nearby. Many of the Vietnamese have double French and Vietnamese nationality and have lived in France since colonial times. Others are refugees from North Vietnam or, more recently, from South Vietnam.

"Their one unanimous feeling is relief that the war will soon be over," said Tran He Minh, one of the organizers of the Roman Catholic Committee of Vietnamese in Paris. "Apart from that, everyone's reaction depends on his political opinion. Those who always backed the PRG are triumphant, those who sympathized with Saigon are bitter or dismayed."

Minh said many of the Vietnamese in France have grown roots here and are unlikely to return. Some are only waiting for a cease-fire to pack their bags. Others are sitting on the fence until they see what kind of regime is established in Saigon.

"Among the Catholics, many were encouraged by the fact that all the South Vietnamese bishops stayed at their posts when their dioceses were overrun recently," Minh said. "This is completely different from the situation in 1954 when the bishops fled from North Vietnam rather than stay under Viet Minh rule and thereby sparked a mass exodus of Catholic refugees."

LAST SURVIVOR LEADS WAY — Royal Air Force's last surviving World War II Lancaster bomber makes its first flight over Britain Wednesday and leads the way for an escort of fighters of the RAF's Red Arrows aerobatic team. The veteran aircraft has been undergoing a seven-month overhaul and now will join the Battle of Britain Memorial Flight at RAF Coltishall in Norfolk, England.

Texas' Midsection Hit By Turbulent Weather

By the Associated Press
 Bristling thunderstorms swept across Texas' midsection during the night and kept the northeast corner of the state under a tornado watch for hours.

The turbulent weather broke loose in the evening between Abilene and Mineral Wells and rumbled eastward, turning loose rain at rates up to five inches per hour in some areas.

It grew so threatening by 10 p.m. that the National Weather Service posted a tornado watch for a 120-mile corridor centered on a line from 45 miles west of Paris to 60 miles northeast of Little Rock, Ark.

The alert, in force until 4 a.m., covered 10 counties in Texas — Bowie, Delta, Fannin, Franklin, Hopkins, Hunt, Lamar, Rains, Red River and Titus.

There was no report, however, of damage in Texas and the only severe weather after midnight consisted of a line of thunderstorms between Longview and Gilmer in East Texas.

Patches of light rain also fell in early morning around Hallettsville and Victoria in South Texas.

Clouds covered the eastern two-thirds of the state. Skies were clear in the west behind the remnants of a dry cool front which was breaking up between Wichita Falls and San Angelo.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 45 degrees at Dalhart in the Panhandle up to 75 at Corpus Christi, Houston, Lufkin and McAllen in the south. Thursday's top marks went as high as a summery 97 at Alice in South Texas.

Clear to partly cloudy skies and warmer weather were forecast for all of the state through Saturday.

Juniors Guests Of Coahoma VOE

Junior class members who will be taking Vocational Office Education next year were guests at the meeting of the Coahoma chapter of VOE Monday evening at the Coahoma High Cafeteria.

Highlights of the current year were shown in slides by Mrs. Marie Ethridge, coordinator.

Each of the current officers told their duties, what the Office Education Association Club does in the development of occupational skills, knowledge, and abilities to a high level of proficiency.

After the business meeting and program, refreshments were served by the hostesses, Dietra Choate, Christy Rupard and Susie Smolko. The next regular meeting will be May 19, with Mary Lou Marvin, Spring Winters, Cheryl West and Keith Stone as hostesses and host.

'Sweeps' May Improve Television Programs

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — If your local TV stations next month seem unusually active in publicizing and showing major news exposes and better-than-usual programs, don't assume a new era has arrived to stay. It's possible the perkiness only is due to a four-week ratings "sweep" the nation's two major TV audience-samplers — A.C. Nielsen and Arbitron — run in over 200 markets in May, November and February.

The samples are local and apart from the national audience surveys the Nielsen firm compiles each week from TV meters that register what 1,200 families around the U.S. watch every day and night.

The returns from a "sweep" often determines what stations can charge national advertisers for so-called "spot" ads locally until returns from the next "sweep" are in — if advertisers don't balk, of course.

Critics of the four-week "sweep" contend it's not long enough.

They say it can and does lead to program "hyponing" in which stations go all-out to attract viewers only during the test period. This, they say, makes the sample artificial and unrepresentative.

The only way to completely eliminate the "hyponing" temptation is to have 52 weeks of local audience measurements, says Jay Eliasberg, a research vice president at CBS.

He says the networks aren't tempted to "hypo" because their shows are nationally rated each week. But he also says a weekly rating of local stations is impractical because of cost.

So he's been campaigning for an eight-week "sweep" of local stations three times a year as a reasonable alternative. He says it'd raise costs only minimally, reduce the "hypo" temptation by reducing its effect and produce more realistic local audience measurements.

Those opposing his proposal include the Station Representatives Association, a New York group of 14 independent firms representing local stations around the nation in their dealings with national advertisers.

DAN ALLEN
Dan Allen Joins Bank

Dan L. Allen has joined the State National Staff as assistant vice president, John Currie, president announced today.

For the past two years he has been a national bank examiner based in Dallas.

This actually is a return home for Allen, who for a time worked with Fiber Glass Systems here.

Reared in Houston where he graduated from Bellaire High School, he took his bachelor's degree in chemistry at Abilene Christian College. He earned his MBA at the University of Texas in Austin in 1970. Following his association with Fiber Glass here, he helped organize a chemical company in Houston prior to joining the national bank examiners staff.

He was married in 1969 to Nancy Thomas, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Thomas, and they have two sons, Danny and Ryan. Their home is at 1511 Runnels, and they are members of 14th and Main Church of Christ.

Cactus Chapter Cites Mrs. H. McDonald

Mrs. Helen McDonald was named Woman of the Year for Cactus Chapter, American Business Women's Association, during a dinner meeting Monday at First United Methodist Church.

MRS. H. McDONALD

Mrs. McDonald, who is owner and operator of McDonald Rentals and Ye Olde and New Shoppe, has been a member of ABWA since 1969, and at various times has held the post of president, vice president and secretary of the Cactus Chapter. Also, she has served as banquet chairman, courtesy chairman and tea chairman; two enrollment teas having been held in her home. She has qualified for the Hand of Friendship award, with a pearl, and has attended district and national conventions of ABWA.

Mrs. McDonald's educational training includes a certificate of merit in office management and machines and as a switchboard operator, and she completed 45 classroom hours in real estate principles and practice at Howard College.

Mrs. McDonald and her husband, Cecil McDonald, are parents of a son, Billy McDonald, Eules, and a daughter, Mrs. H.G. Adams, Big Spring. They have five grandchildren.

First United Methodist Church, where she has been an active worker.

Following the dinner, Dr. M.A. Porter, surgeon on the staff of Malone-Hogan Hospital, Inc., spoke on surgery connected with tumors, using film and slides for illustration. He stressed the need for physical check-ups and examinations.

Ms. June Dudash, an employe of Wall Industries, was the vocational speaker, and explained the manufacturing of garments and how the clothing factory is operated.

Mrs. Esther Trantham, reporting on the regional meeting in Amarillo, said the consensus of the workshops was that "the American way of life is based on credit or charge cards, which make it possible for Americans to reach their goals."

Ms. Virginia B. Bryant, who conducts Woman's World on KHEM, was initiated into the chapter with Mrs. Cheryl Walker, Mrs. Lahoma Clark and Ms. Sandra Byerly conducting the ceremony. Ms. Bryant was given a white carnation by Mrs. Marie Eason.

The next meeting will be at 7 p.m., May 19.

Other memberships held by Mrs. McDonald include the Eastern Star, Daughter of the Nile, Social Order of the Beauceant and The Woman's Forum. Currently serving on the Big Spring Planning and Zoning Board, she has been a co-chairman for the clean-up campaign and helped establish the Style Shop at Big Spring State Hospital. In addition, she worked with the Big Spring Concert Association and assisted with the cancer, MS, arthritis and TB fund drives. She is a member of

Secretaries At VA Honored

Service chiefs at the Veterans Administration Hospital, along with head nurses of each ward, made up the host group Wednesday when secretaries at the hospital were honored with a luncheon at Big Spring Country Club.

About 25 nurses were honored at the affair, which was held in conjunction with National Secretaries Week. Each of the honorees was presented a daisy corsage, and Julian Patterson, chief of Social Work Services, read a salute to secretaries. The invocation was by the Rev. Clayton Hicks.

The luncheon was served buffet-style, and the table featured a bouquet of gladioli and tulips.

Mom's Pill Problem Is A Puzzle To Daughter

DEAR ABBY: I know I have a problem, but I need to know how far my rights go in doing something about it. My father had a vasectomy recently, so naturally I am curious as to why my mother is still taking birth control pills.

I am only 15 and can't handle the fact that my mother is having an affair with another man. Knowing this has completely destroyed my faith in her. I think it's my duty to tell my father. I love him very much and hate to see him used this way.

Should I tell my mother that I know she is taking The Pill even though my father is sterile now? And if she doesn't tell Dad, I will?

IN-BETWEEN DAUGHTER DEAR IN: If your mother is taking birth control pills, it doesn't necessarily mean that she is having an affair. Before jumping to conclusions, why don't you ask her if she's on The Pill, and why?

DEAR ABBY: What is the correct name for a divorced man?

A woman who has been married and divorced is called a "divorcee."

A guy in our office calls himself a "bachelor," but actually, he is a divorced man. A girl feels lied to and cheated when she dates him and finds out later that he has misrepresented himself.

DECEIVED DEAR DECEIVED: The dictionary defines a bachelor as "an unmarried man." Therefore, any man who is

Seminar Slated On 'Food Dollar' Anniversary Of Lodge Is Observed

A program commemorating the 156th anniversary of the founding of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows will be held Tuesday in the lodge hall.

Mrs. Ethel Thackrey, assisted by Mrs. Lois Hood and Mrs. Mary Leek, conducted the program that told the history of the organization.

Thomas Wilde, a native of England, organized the Washington 100F Lodge, No. 1, in Baltimore, Md., April 26, 1819. The purpose was to "visit the sick, relieve distress, bury the dead and educate the orphans."

Mrs. Elmo Martin sang the first IOOF song written by James Montgomery in 1793 in England. Mrs. Brooke Martin accompanied her on the piano.

Mrs. Mable Morrison presented Mrs. Elmo Martin presented Certificates of Perfection to Mrs. Ann Stoddard, Mrs. Laverne Maddox, Mrs. Terry Vigus, Mrs. Leek, Mrs. Thackrey, Mrs. Billie Martin, Mrs. Elizabeth Beck, Mrs. Alma Pye and Mrs. Hood.

Mrs. Martin gave lodge instruction, and Mrs. Pauline Petty was honored for her birthday.

"Rescue Your Food Dollar," a food seminar to help customers combat rising food prices, make better use of the food dollar and provide nutritional family meals, will be held Tuesday, at 1:30 p.m., in the Howard County Fair Barn. Sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the program is open to all interested persons, free of charge.

To Serve At VA Saturday

Activity plans were made by Alpha Kappa Omicron Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Charla Huckabay.

The social committee announced plans for a dining out in Midland May 17 for members and their guests, and a bake sale was scheduled for Saturday, 10 a.m. until 4 p.m., at Highland Mall.

Clothing is being collected for the Family Counseling Service to aid children who have been placed in local foster homes.

Members of the chapter will serve refreshments at the Veterans Administration Hospital Saturday.

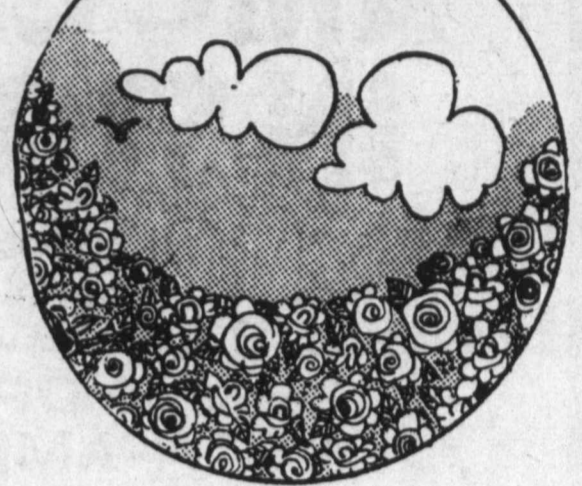

Mrs. Jan Sims presented a program on sculpting and discussed methods in using clay and paper mache. Members took part in sculpting clay figures.

The May 6 meeting will be at the home of Ms. Aneica Stevens, 800 E. 15th.

Attend Little Britches Rodeo Tonight, 8 p.m., Saturday, 10 a.m. and 8 p.m. Rodeo Arena.
