WASHINGTON (AP) — A union-sponsored "Rally For Jobs Now" was forced to an abrupt halt Saturday when hundreds of participants moved onto the field of Robert F. Kennedy Stadium and drowned out the voices of platform speakers.

About 45,000 persons had converged on the nation's capital for the rally in an effort to get the government to help lower the nation's unemployment rate of 8.7 per cent.

But halfway through the program, hundreds jammed the stadium aisles and crowded the field chanting, "We want jobs."

PESTICIDE CHALLENGE Webb Officers Face Eviction

A challenge to the use of pesticide in treatment of on-base housing at Webb Village has led to eviction notices to two Webb physicians and to what they felt are pressure tactics against them.

Capt. Thomas D. Ramage, 56 Chanute, flight surgeon, and Capt. William Blake, 70 Ent, head of pediatrics, both confirmed that they have been ordered to move because what superiors considered "behavior contrary to accepted standards and adverse to military discipline" when they refused to consent to the use of Aldrin in treating the interior base of their quarters.

Col. Robert Meisenheimer, Webb AFB commander, said there have been "no implied threats of court martial or anything. But when people do not comply with established Air Force policy, they are remiss in their obligations and should not be allowed to use the facilities."

A base spokesman said it appeared to be a matter of opinion, to which the officers were entitled, but which the Air Force felt the weight of evidence showed clearly no hazard to warrant deviation from regulated maintenance schedules.

Capt. Ramage told the Herald that while the use of Aldrin (Dieldrin) is considered medically to be carcinogenic, in the immediate issue, he is concerned that Air Force medicine be available and equally applied to all.

From the time that he raised a question about Aldrin being used as a pesticide in the treatment of base quarters against termite, he claimed he had been subjected to pressures and then offered deals.

"I'm not knocking the Air Force," he said. "We've got the finest Air Force in the world. I've met some of the finest people I know while in service. But I am questioning a system which 'selects out' certain groups for one kind of treatment and those in different circumstance or position for another."

When treatment of base quarters was begun by boring holes in the floor and forcing Aldrin in under pressure, Capt. Ramage said he believed this would be unsafe, and so advised superiors. He had a report, he added, which came from National Cancer Institute which said that "we can reasonably expect that in a population of human beings exposed to Aldrin and Dieldrin, cancer of some kind will occur in individuals, and that these individuals would not have been afflicted in the absence of these compounds."

The report also said that while further production of Aldrin was banned, stocks could be used under certain conditions, including "continued use of these pesticides in deep ground insertion for termite control..." NCI indicated that there was no safe level of exposure in human contact. Dr. Ramage said that in the middle of March he conferred with Dr. John Cooper of the NCI concerning the matter.

A survey team was sent from Kelly AFB, and Capt. Ramage said he understood that significant levels of Aldrin were found in the blood of three of seven dogs sampled, "but they said that was due to pet food. I've never been given a copy of the report."

Base spokesmen said that the report showed no significant level in any of the air samples taken in base housing, and that in the case of the dogs, only one had a somewhat higher level and that in this case it was a puppy eating a dog food which tested highest in level of Dieldrin (presumably from the grain which went into the food).

Before any of the termite control work was undertaken, the ATC surgeon general checked with EPA and other sources about any possible hazard to human health. Part of this report showed findings in a study that in industrial surroundings "exposing workers does not allow any conclusions to be drawn concerning the existence of an excess risk of developing cancer."

Also quoted from a World Health Organization (agency for carcinogenic risk), was a report that "using the maximum concentration of Aldrin measure on any day following the day of treatment, the maximum accumulation revealed that the household accumulation was on the order of one-thirteenth thousands exposure of the acceptable levels..." In the main no detectable Aldrin or Dieldrin was present in treated quarters.

During off-duty time on some weekends, he has been serving with a hospital in Kermit, Dr. Ramage disclosed, saying that now he and another doctor had been called on the carpet and threatened with action. "Hell, they knew all along this was going on. It happens all the time — doctors fly out of San Antonio to other cities in this area."

Base officials said Air Force regulations impose certain maximum limits of time in practice on off-duty hours.

Dr. Blake said that after he gave notice that he would not sign the consent form for treatment of his quarters, there were numerous calls on him or to his home trying to alter the decision.

Zodiac Killings Total 30

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (AP) — A sick killer with a deadly hatred of women and an inclination to witchcraft may have butchered 30 or more young females in five Western states and will kill again unless he is caught, says the sheriff of Sonoma County.

"We need the help of the public" in finding the maniac, Sheriff Don Striepeke told a news conference Friday.

"Someone, somewhere knows the man we are looking for," the sheriff said, expounding a "lone killer" theory variously disputed or supported by officers in other jurisdictions.

Striepeke, who announced a $10,000 reward for the capture of the killer, said he and the state Justice Department believe it a "certainty" that the same man killed at least 14 women in California between December 1969 and December 1973.

He also said the Zodiac killer could be the mass killer.

The Zodiac killer has taunted authorities with messages claiming 37 victims who will be his slaves in an afterlife. San Francisco police have accounted for six Zodiac victims, the last one a male.

Striepeke said the killer is a white man who hated his domineering mother "with a passion," strangled, poisoned or tortured animals as a child, and as an adult transferred his hostility to young women, whom he destroys and disposes of "like garbage."

Six of the girls were killed in the Santa Rosa area. A symbol related to old English witchcraft was found near some of the victims.

THEY'RE BOTH GUESSING — The suitor in the northeastern Oklahoma city of Bartlesville didn't want his name used but he didn't mind putting his intentions in full view of Maxine and anyone else commuting over a busy highway bridge.

Big Push Awaited In South

TRANG BANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Vietnamese soldiers lounged in the shade at this frontline village Saturday and wondered whether there will be peace shortly or a final North Vietnamese push on Saigon.

Trang Bang, 25 miles west of Saigon, has been under heavy shelling for the past three days. The market is scarred with shrapnel holes and blackened by small fires. But it was quiet Saturday. Most villagers had left.

"I don't think there will be a coalition or a surrender," said a private named Ngon. "Soon the Viet Cong will attack."

But the men continued to go through the motions of soldiering. They took care of their gear, cut banana leaves for shade, cleaned their teapots, talked and smoked.

The thousands of North Vietnamese troops that are poised in an arc to the west, north and east of Saigon appeared to be holding off attacking while politicians debated the future of the government.

Options for Saigon are few, and even the lowliest soldiers know it. They listened anxiously to the radio early Saturday as President Tran Van Huong spoke to the National Assembly. The assembly left it up to Huong to decide whether to resign in favor of a peace candidate to negotiate an end to the war.

Solon's Kin Wounds Two

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Carlos B. Gonzalez, 66, brother of U.S. Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, D-Tex., shot two policemen who tried to return him to a state hospital and then surrendered to police at the request of his brother here Saturday afternoon, police said.

Sgt. Bill Weibacher of the homicide department, said Gonzalez, 66, had escaped from the mental hospital earlier in the day and had rushed to his mother's home after hearing the 91-year-old woman was seriously ill.

The shooting occurred as two officers went to the house and tried to talk Gonzalez into returning to the hospital.

Weibacher identified the two wounded officers as Roy Aguilar Jr., 23, and R. C. Smith, 48. Weibacher said the two officers were in stable condition at the Bexar County Hospital. Aguilar was shot through the eye and Smith had a chest wound.

Weibacher said Gonzalez, who suffered a dislocated arm and abrasions on the head when he scuffled with officers as they tried to handcuff him after he surrendered, was taken to the Robert F. Green and placed under police custody.

Would Rebuild Rails With Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal railroad planning agency recommended Saturday that new taxes be imposed on gasoline and other fuels to help rebuild the nation's deteriorating railroads system.

The Rail Services Planning Office of the Interstate Commerce Commission proposed that Congress impose a new 2 cents per gallon tax on gasoline and diesel fuel and a 0.14 cent per kilowatt hour tax on all electrical energy used for transportation.

Such taxes, the planning office estimated, would enable the government to collect as much as $12 billion over five years.

It proposed that much of this money go to railroads or to state and regional transportation agencies which would oversee the rebuilding of the railroads. The remaining money, it said, could be used to upgrade other forms of transportation, develop more fuel-efficient trucks or improve the waterway system.

The recommendations were contained in a report by the planning office on the reorganization of seven financially ailing railroads in the Northeast and Midwest.

The planning office was set up after Congress passed legislation in 1973 to consolidate the ailing railroads into a profitmaking rail system run by a quasi-government body called ConRail. The planning office was charged with collecting public comment on reorganization proposals and with making recommendations to the U.S. Railway Association, the federal agency that is devising the ConRail system. The planning office said it suggested a broad plan to rebuild all railroads instead of concentrating on just the northeastern railroads because it found the problems confronting the northeast railroads also were facing railroads nationwide.

For example, it found that the nation's major railroads currently had a long term debt of $8.8 billion. It predicted this total could rise to $12.9 billion by 1984 — a total that could mean annual interest charges alone of more than $1 billion.

The planning office concluded that since the interest charges alone — if its projections were correct — would exceed the industry profits for any of the past five years, there was little hope that the railroads would be able to finance rehabilitation work and pay off the interest charges without outside help.

The office recommended that the funds collected by the new taxes be distributed under various matching formulas. If the grant went directly to the railroads, the federal money would be matched by the railroads on a 50-50 basis.

If the grant went to a transportation authority, the money would be matched by the state or regional authority on a 70 per cent federal-30 per cent state formula. And if the grant went to Amtrak, the quasi-government corporation that runs passenger trains, the federal share would be 100 per cent.

In the junior high students' division, Ronnie Wheeler came up with a first place.

Reviewing the Big Spring Week with Joe Pickle

There was enough violence and tragedy last week to last us the remainder of the year. Four people, enroute on a flight to Big Spring, were dashed to death in Abilene; Reuben Self and Roy Glen Klahr were killed in traffic mishaps. One man was murdered and another badly cut in a fight. Still another died of gunshot wounds under mysterious circumstances.

Jack M. Lee, Kaiser, Mo., and Dale J. Smith and his wife, Ruth Louise, and Wendell Johnson of Osage Beach, all enroute here to visit their friends and former neighbors at Osage, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Neismith, were killed when their Bonanza apparently tore apart during an attempt to pull out of power dive. The tail section and a wing snapped off and the plane fell into a yard at 1225 Elmwood in Abilene.

Ruben Self, 58, owner of American Motor Motel, died when his car and a tractor trailer were in collision as he pulled into the south service road of IS 20 last Sunday. Then Wednesday evening Roy G. Klahr, 56, was killed when his diesel laden transport veered to the shoulder, then back on to IS 20 and overturned two miles east of here.

Today's Bright Spot
Population topped 30,000 in 1974, marking a 2.26 per cent increase over 1972, with a 30,168 estimated total.

Time was when the old Lyric Theatre was considered the 'showplace' in Big Spring. It was located just east of Main Street on Third Street, a two-way traffic artery in those days. Poncho's News Stand was on one side of the amusement palace. The Lyric Barber Shop on the other. And Paul Kelly boasted enough staterooms in Hollywood's complex star system to send people flooding to the movies with his very name. J. V. (Yuel) Rebb owned the local theaters in those days. His son, Ike, is still active in the business today. The north portion of the Anthony store, currently, occupies the structure. The Herald will retreat farther into the past in future editions, dealing particularly with the role Big Spring and its citizens have taken in assuming a responsible role in the American heritage, as the community's plans for the Bicentennial celebration take shape.

Truc Is Honorary Texan

Major, Dinh Q. Truc, who has been the Vietnamese liaison officer at Webb the past eight months, was honored with several tokens of friendship and good will at a farewell party given by Webb people last week.

Major Truc was made an honorary Texan with a certificate signed by Governor Dolph Briscoe and attested by Mark White, the secretary of state. So that he will look the part, the Big Spring Century Club gave him a ten-gallon hat.

The 78th Flying Training Wing gave Major Truc a "white scarf" award, and he received plaques from the 3389th Flying Training Squadron and the 78th Student Squadron.

Col. Robert A. Owens, wing commander, expressed his appreciation for the "truly outstanding" job Major Truc did in handling the demanding duties as liaison officer in a letter to the Vietnamese Air Force Commander, Lt. Gen. Tran Van Minh. "Major Truc contributed innumerable hours of his time to insure that the students understood their lessons," Colonel Owens said. "He translated the course material into Vietnamese so that the students could quickly comprehend it. He then insured that the students would be able to carry out and give instructions in English by teaching procedures and lessons in English."

Colonel Owens also noted Major Truc's role in the local community as an ambassador for his country by speaking for many civic groups, schools and churches. "This, in turn, greatly assisted in assuring that the student pilots were invited to visit and meet with a broad segment of the people of Big Spring," he said.

His "poise and stability" during the past month were commended by the wing commander. "He has been a staunch leader providing an example of loyalty, dedication and pride in which the students could take heart," he said.

Firearms Control Act Does Have Teeth In It

By TROY BRYANT

If Lee Harvey Oswald were alive today, he couldn't legally buy a gun. That's one of the main objects of the Gun Control Act of 1968, to keep guns out of the hands of certain felons, mental incompetents, and drug users.

However, some feel that the federal statutes governing the sale of firearms are not strictly enforceable or are not strict enough.

Others feel that the laws are sufficient and they are all the control needed.

SALES LICENSED
The federal statutes prohibits the commercial sale of firearms by anyone other than a licensed dealer and also prohibits the sale of guns and ammunition to certain people.

The sale of guns is prohibited to:
—Persons who are less than 21 for handguns and handgun ammunition or persons less than 18 for other firearms and ammunition.

—Persons under indictment or information or have been convicted of any crime punishable by imprisonment for a term exceeding one year.

—Persons who are fugitives from justice.

—Unlawful users of marijuana, or a depressant, stimulant, or narcotic drug.

—Persons who are fugitives from justice.

—Unlawful users of marijuana, or a depressant, stimulant, or narcotic drug.

—Persons who have been adjudicated mentally defective or have ever been committed to a mental institution.

—Persons who have been discharged from the Armed Forces under dishonorable conditions.

—Illegal aliens.

—Persons who have denounced their citizenship of the United States.

—Persons who are not residents of Texas or a state contiguous to the State of Texas.

DEALER DECIDES
Although the Federal gun laws are enforced by the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms of the Department of Treasury, they leave the gun dealer the responsibility of determining that the buyer can legally own a gun from the answers on the form.

Bill Steagald, president of the Big Spring Gun Club and sports department manager at a local discount store, said that the present controls work.

"If a person comes in here

SAYS LAWS WORK — Bill Steagald, president of the Big Spring Gun Club and sports department manager for a local discount store, says he is satisfied with present gun laws and that they do a good job of keeping guns out of the hands of the wrong people.

and shows us his identification and answers the questions on the form satisfactorily, we will sell him a gun as long as we don't know that something on the form is a lie," he said. "It is up to the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms to determine if he's lying about something. It's not our responsibility."

He said that at regular intervals, an agent from the bureau comes by and looks at all the completed forms of gun transactions. The agent selects a few of the applications and checks them out, probably the ones he feels are suspicious.

PERJURY PENALTY
If a form is found to contain a falsehood, the agent traces down the buyer, confiscates the gun and can charge the person with perjury, a felony offense.

The length of time it takes for the federal agent to check the gun transaction forms and the random or arbitrary method of checking the information on the forms is a severe weakness in the federal gun control laws, according to some.

Technically, a person with a prison record or a person who had been declared mentally incompetent, or even a person like Lee Harvey Oswald, who had denounced his U.S. citizenship, could walk into a store where he was not known, use his driver's license to get a gun, and then have a few weeks to commit his crime.

The failure of the laws to control sales of firearms by private citizens is another cause for criticism by some.

The age limits concerning gun transactions imposed by the federal law does not apply to transactions not involving a licensed dealer, and neither does the buyer have to fill out one of the forms.

MINORS CAN BUY
State laws concerning contributing to the delinquency of a minor makes the sale of guns to minors 16 and under a misdemeanor in most cases, but children who are 17 are not affected by that law and can be sold handguns or rifles.

After the gun is sold, state laws come into play. State statutes say that it is a class A misdemeanor to carry a handgun, illegal knife or club on or about his person unless:

—He is in actual discharge of his official duties as peace officer, a member of the armed forces or a guard employed by a penal institution.

—He is on his own premises or premises under his control.

—He is traveling. The definition for traveling is usually that he is enroute at least from one county seat to another.

—He is engaged in lawful hunting or fishing or other lawful sporting activity.

The laws also state that it is an offense to go on the premises of a school with a gun without written permission or to go on the premises of a polling place on election day.

It is a felony offense to carry a handgun or other illegal weapon on the premises licensed for the sale or service of alcoholic beverages.

NO LOCAL CONTROLS
Some cities in Texas have additional laws making it illegal for anyone to sell guns to minors and giving the mayor certain powers to halt the sale of guns during a civil emergency.

Other than making it illegal to discharge a firearm within the city limits, Big Spring has no gun laws.

Some people feel that state and local regulation of hand guns should be tightened. A bill introduced in the Texas Legislature, proposes that persons possessing a handgun without a license issued by the Texas Department of Public Safety could be imprisoned for up to two years and fined up to $10,000.

The bill would also ban the ownership of cheaper handguns known as "Saturday night specials."

Exemptions under the bill include law enforcement officers, gun collectors and retail and wholesale gun dealers.

The bill is not expected to get out of committee due to objections from several lawmakers and citizens.

LENIENT LAWS
Texas probably has the most lenient of gun laws among the states. In California and Illinois, the gun buyer has to wait five days while the information on his application is checked out before he can take the gun from the store.

In one town in Connecticut, it is against a city ordinance for any person or business to display for sale or to sell a handgun.

Tighter gun controls will never stop all killing and maiming, nor will it stop the use of guns to kill and maim.

But a law that is more effective in keeping guns from criminals, insane persons, and others who are unfit to own or carry guns but still guarantee the honest citizen the right to keep and bear arms, is not too much to ask.

Parker New 4-H Leader

Adult leaders of 4-H Clubs in Howard County elected new officers and 4-H club members chose their junior rodeo board of directors when they met for their annual spring picnic at the Fair Barns Friday night.

Bruce Parker of Coahoma was named new adult leader president, replacing Ovis James who had served for two terms.

Other new officers include Rodney Brooks, vice president and Jeannette Nichols, secretary-treasurer.

The junior rodeo directors include Ronnie, Tommy and Robbie Wegner, Marty Brooks, Kent Robinson, Tim Martin, Paul Dean Ray, Jackie Buchanan, Guy James and Richard Jenkins. Mrs. Joe Mack Gaskin, who is district secretary for the adult leader's group, reported on a meeting held in Brownwood in the new 4-H Center.

A group from the Coahoma 4-H Club presented a patriotic song and dance number to the tune of "The Grand Old Flag."

Playing the Statue of Liberty was Kristi Franklin, playing the United States Flag was Sharon Tindol and playing the part of the Declaration of Independence was Lori Phinney.

Six flag bearers included Stacey Swann, Paula Kay Allen, Carmen Holman, Kim Thompson, Robin Etheridge and Louise Shive.

A crowd of around 150 persons attended the event. Bruce Griffith, county agent and Ronnie Wood, assistant agent, presided at the two business meetings. Charlie Arbuckle gave the invocation prior to the meeting.

POA Will Meet Here Monday
Big Spring Property Owners Association will meet in regular session Monday 6:30 p.m. at the Holiday Inn. Members are cautioned to note that the place of meeting has been changed for the meeting.

SCS District Looks Back On Multiple Successes

By JOHN EDWARDS

WASHINGTON, D.C. — In an atmosphere of national emergency resulting from violent dust storms in the south and midwest, President Roosevelt today signed Public Law No. 46, directing Secretary of the Agriculture Henry A. Wallace to establish an agency to be known as the Soil Conservation Service....

With these words, the federal government announced the creation of the SCS on April 27, 1935.

EARLY CONSERVATION BOARD — On May 5, 1942, about one year after the creation of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District, board members posed for this photo. They are (left to right) Earl Heald, M. L. (Red) Koonce, E. T. O'Daniel, Gordon Stone and Lee Warren. Heald, Koonce and Stone were from Martin County. O'Daniel and Warren came from Howard County.

Representatives of the Howard Soil and Water Conservation District can look back on a number of achievements as the SCS marks its fortieth anniversary today.

LOCAL START

The Martin-Howard District was founded in 1942. Included in the district was all of Martin County and all of Howard County, except for a small portion in the South which drained into the North Concho River. Also within the boundaries was the northwest corner of Glasscock County and the northeast corner of Midland County.

The original board of directors consisted of chairman Joe Poindexter, Stanton; secretary Gordon Stone, Stanton; R. N. Adams, Ackerly; M. L. Koonce, Lenorah; and E. T. O'Daniel, Coahoma.

In 1971, the district was divided, and the Howard Soil and Water Conservation District named for the Howard County portion. Later, the remaining section of Howard County was incorporated into the local district.

BUFFALO ROAM

The district covers an area unknown to European settlers until the 1870s when buffalo hunting and bone trade flourished here. Vast herds of buffalo and antelope roamed the area.

District Attorney Robert H. (Bob) Moore III said. The defendant saw his probation revoked for forging a stolen check. A companion in the stolen jewelry possession case was Daniel Gene Brown, who was sentenced to 10 years in prison.

Ezzell Named To Position

AUSTIN — The House health and welfare committee has named Rep. Mike Ezzell to chair a subcommittee on child care facilities. Before consolidating or eliminating any proposals, the group will study the eight bills currently pending in full committee.

Jehovah's Witnesses of the local Spanish congregation will cancel their meetings of May 1-4 to celebrate their semi-annual assembly to be held at the Display Building in the Fair Grounds in Abilene, Texas May 3-4.

Delegates from Lubbock, Big Spring and other surrounding cities will attend.

Francisco Vasquez, presiding minister of the local congregation said that "In view of the moral breakdown that the world is experiencing today and the lack of faith in God, the purpose of the assembly is to help its delegates to continue preaching the good news of the kingdom vigorously and to give them knowledge of the snares and pitfalls that cause one to break faith in God, as is manifested by the theme of the assembly, "Keep Your Senses, Be Watchful," based on 1 Peter 5:8. "The elders in the congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses," continued Mr. Vasquez, "realize that shepherding involves protecting the flock and keeping it well fed spiritually not for material gain but out of love. The assembly program is designed for Bible instruction and will enable Witnesses and others present to apply Christian principles more fully to their everyday lives."

800 delegates are expected to be present when the talk "Stand Still and See the Salvation of Jehovah," will be given Sunday May 4, at 2 P.M. by Mr. W.F. Malenfant.

McDONALDS OWN 20 CLOCKS Family Is Entranced By Fine Furniture

By MARJ CARPENTER
The home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie McDonald has some of the most unusual and beautiful furniture in all of Big Spring.

The family, including their children, Susan and Bryan, spent four and one half years in Germany when he was serving with the Air Force. They constantly shopped during those years in old homes, curio shops and second hand furniture stores seeking out antique German furniture.

As a side venture, they became carried away with clocks and ended up with 20 in their home. "Each clock seemed to have a personality all its own and we just had to turn one down," Mrs. McDonald laughed.

"I only keep two of them running or the tick tocking

RONNIE, BRYAN AND NELL McDONALD and sugar twist clock and the chime lullabies, and cuckooing would get to be a little bit much," she added.

They have two floor length clocks, several wall clocks and table clocks, as well as two cuckoo clocks.

GERMAN ORIGINALS
In their den, they have a round wooden table that looks quite small, but quickly is extended to seat twelve. It matches a beautiful china closet, desk and bookcase.

All of their living room and sitting room furniture are refinished German originals. They also have ten tea carts. Now, each one of these is entirely different. Some are topped with hand carved wooden trays and some with a mirrored tray. All are glassed in and hold the many unusual curios, the family brought from Europe.

The curios include items such as a crystal spoon holder from Holland and clown figurines from Italy, unusual nut crackers, and many other items.

They have several unusual German beer steins, including one antique that has a small cannon that will go off when you tilt the lid. Mrs. McDonald laughed, "That's to blow your brains out." The kitchen has German wall beer plaques and in the living room on the mantel is a replica of Columbus' ship.

FROM SPAIN
Another item from Spain is a beautiful Spanish doll. The reason Mrs. McDonald insisted on getting so many tea carts was that the items may then be displayed under glass without getting dusty.

She has examples of Dresden china, Meissen china, beautiful wine glasses, and a metal flower that each petal is removed as an individual ash tray.

They also have a pirate's large chest which the son insists had blood in the bottom. "It may have been wine," Mrs. McDonald stated, "but it was interesting looking."

Their daughter, Susan, is now Mrs. Danny Boone of Oklahoma and she and her husband are being sent to Germany. That's where they met in the first place, so "it seems like going home to them."

LARGEST CUCKOO
The McDonalds were in Wiesbaden, which is the home of the world's largest cuckoo clock. "It was three stories tall and had a cuckoo come out, then dancing figures and all kinds of commotion. Tourists stand around and wait for it to cuckoo," Mrs. McDonald added.

McDonald is originally from Frankfort, Ky., and his wife is from El Campo, Texas. He retired after his 20 years in the service at Webb and went to work for the city at the water filter plant.

The McDonalds had all of their furnishings shipped home, with no damage. They consider themselves lucky to have such a beautifully furnished home.

And if life ever gets dull, they could always wind all the clocks.

On the hour, they would have a Brahms lullaby, a chorus of Lily-Marlens, much cuckooing, dancing, and chiming and tick-tocking.

Council Goes Over Budget

The city council held a budget revision meeting Friday afternoon with all council members present.

They went over the budget by departments with the respective departments, discussing items which had been underspent and those overspent the first six months of the year.

Department heads questioned included Police Chief Vance Chisum, Fire Chief A. W. Harrison, Mrs. Ruth Harper, personnel, Jerry Foresythe, parks and recreation, Jimmy Parys, streets department, and Bill Brown, utilities.

How does life look to your child?

Your child may be seeing life exactly the way it is. But she could be getting a completely distorted view and never know the difference. That's because she's never looked at life any other way.

You simply can't take good vision for granted. Regular professional eye examinations are as important as routine physicals. And the time to find out if your child is seeing life as she should is before she starts back to school.

If eyewear is needed, depend on TSO to fill the doctor's prescription to the exact specifications. And you can choose from a wide variety of good-looking frames that are as durable as they are stylish. The cost is reasonable, too.

We know you want your child to see life at its best. So do we. At TSO, we care how you look at life.

BY AREA RANCHER BILL WILSON

Farmer-Rancher Lauded In Washington Visit

Bill Wilson, area rancher, farmer and businessman, has just returned from an April 20-22 trip to Washington, D. C. where he and other men from around the state met with the Texas Congressional delegation, Bryan Kehoe and Norman Ross, assistant director of the Presidential Domestic Council.

Purpose of this visit was to ask Texas congressmen to help in defeating the Federal Land Use bills which are now in committee.

Wilson pointed out to the legislators that the American farmer and rancher is the best land manager, conservationist and environmentalist in the world. Numbering only one per cent of the total population, one American farmer produces food and fiber for 55 people. It is through the efforts of these few people that we are the best-fed, best-clothed nation in the world and at the lowest cost. Americans spend 16 per cent of their income on food as compared to 30 to 40 per cent in Europe and 70 to 90 per cent in much of the world. "Will remote government planning improve that?" Wilson asked.

SYSTEM WORKS
"The Soviet Union is a graphic example of agricultural productivity when the central government controls all of the land. The Soviet Union has 43 per cent more cultivated land than the United States, more than 10 times the number of farm workers, and twice the area planted in grains. Yet the Soviet grain yields are less than 1/2 those of America and overall farm output is 20 per cent less than ours. Since governmental controls and agriculture do not mix, their agricultural labor force is 1-3 of their population as compared to 4 per cent here. This is "proof" that the free enterprise system works in agriculture. The American farmers and ranchers must be encouraged to produce for the market, not for the government.

"No other country in the world can export 75 per cent of its wheat, 57 per cent of its rice, 35 per cent of its corn, and increase cattle numbers 2 1/2 times in 20 years. American Agriculture exports contributed a net positive balance to our trade of almost 10 billion dollars last year. This is fact not theory. Agriculture is now America's greatest asset. How can this nation benefit from remote legislative interference when it has the most efficient food and fiber producing system devised by man?"

SOIL UNITS
Wilson also called attention to the fact that we already have an efficient, working land use program. In 1937 President Roosevelt recommended that each state legislature enact laws permitting landowners and land occupiers to form units to be called Soil and Water Conservation Districts. He added, "Their responsibility is to focus attention on land and water problems on all privately owned land, develop annual and long range programs designed to solve the problems. Now, over 3,000 conservation districts, covering 97 per cent of all privately owned lands have formed in mutual concern to protect, conserve, and improve the world we live in."

W. L. (BILL) WILSON

ON LOCAL LEVEL
The Soil Conservation Service of the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture helps 30,430 units of local, county, and State governments solve land and water use problems. "This is land use on a local level where it belongs," Wilson claimed.

"American agriculture came under harsh criticism at the World Food Conference in Rome. This is at a time when we are already furnishing 85 per cent of the relief programs in the rest of the world. Farmers and ranchers must be left alone to produce food for a hungry world. Should our agricultural producers be left alone and encouraged to produce, or should they be regulated, intimidated and decimated?" Wilson stated.

He continued, "The size and spread of our 50 states results in totally divergent geographical, climatic, producing and operating elements. Every conceivable terrain and temperature exists — mountains, sea, desert, forest, hot, cold, dry, and wet. Permanent guidelines cannot be made responsive to ever-changing conditions.

"Agriculture is unique. No two farms or ranches are alike. Agriculture is local. Land is local. Land-planning for agriculture must also be local."

One Patient Day Average

On an average of one each day, patients are admitted to the Detoxification center here, Ed Mitchell, director, informed Kiwanians here Thursday.

During the first 10 months (the center was opened Feb. 22, 1974) there were 299 admissions with patients ranging from five to 10 days. Of this number, 160 were discharged from the center, 64 left before discharge. Another 28 went voluntarily to Halfway House for further recuperation, and 31 committed themselves to the Big Spring State Hospital for treatment as alcoholics.

This month, said Mitchell, there have been 100 admissions to the center. One effect has been to reduce the number of admissions from Howard County to the BSSH alcoholic unit by 28 per cent, he said.

A slate of proposed officers was presented and will be voted on subsequently. A guest was David Morrison, new comptroller at First Federal Savings and Loan.

2 More Signs May Disappear

The city traffic commission met Friday morning and discussed the possibility of removing two more traffic signals on a trial basis.

The two discussed were those at E. 4th and State and E. 3rd and State. They also discussed replacing the stop sign on the northwest corner of 3rd and Lancaster with a Yield Sign.

All commission decisions are subject to final approval of the city council.

Demand for quality cotton continues to increase. Not only is the use of natural fiber rebounding, but the by-product market is also expanding.

Since average cottonseed meal is at least 41 percent protein, it is becoming increasingly important as a primary feed for cattle, sheep and horses.

Expeller, Hydraulic and Solvent are processes used to produce meal or cake from raw cottonseed. Expeller and Hydraulic processes leave about 5 percent fat content in processed meal while the Solvent process leaves less than 1-1/2 percent.

Research now underway may result in an economically feasible method of limiting Gossypol (a cottonseed toxin) content to low enough levels to make cottonseed meal a primary protein supplement for swine and poultry. Success could significantly increase this by-product demand.

The Critical Element

Times of testing are not all bad; indeed, if the response is positive and productive, these times are blessings.

Most communities in the nation, ours included in relative degree, are affected by a period of economic adjustment. Traffic volumes don't come quite as easy; employment is tougher; operating margins are thinner. Even where there is stability, there is some uncertainty.

It is not enough to comfort ourselves that we are a lot better off than most places — a bright spot, if you please. We need a positive, dynamic response to gain constructive strength during this period of our national economy.

One good starting point is to capitalize on assets, and to analyze our resources so they can be matched with needs and potentials. Some things which must be considered are investment capital; labor pool with upgraded skills as well as increased availability; raw materials; land; utilities; raw materials; markets; transportation.

In these respects we should rate reasonably well with others in our general area — an area which has great promise of development in the immediate years ahead.

A critical ingredient, then, becomes that of community leadership. How we stack up may have as great or a greater bearing on our future than the material elements. Where we are today is in a large measure due to the effort and vision of a previous generation which produced men and women who gave civic effort top priority. We have many today in a new generation who are cast in this same mold — men and women willing to make personal sacrifices, more in effort and time than in money, out of a sense of responsibility to the community's progress. But this is a challenge not for some, but for all who have key responsibilities in their own businesses and professions. If we can engender an infectious spirit about and commitment to building a bigger, vigorous future, then we will emerge from this period of testing with far more vitality and potential than we imagined.

Scrutinizing Crime Problem

Merchants and professional men have been pooling their ideas through the Chamber of Commerce on what might be done to curb a seemingly rising tide of nuisance crime such as burglaries, shoplifting, hot checks, etc.

We hope they can come up with something, for ultimately their loss is your loss, and ours because it becomes a cost of doing business. So everyone has a stake in reporting leads which may lead to apprehension.

We hope, too, that the effort can go beyond crimes against possessions and reach into areas affecting our social welfare. Always a problem is the matter of drugs, particularly as it threatens young people. This calls for constant cooperation teamwork and constant vigilance.

But Did You Win?

Around The Rim

Walt Finley

In the opinion of one avid sports fan, the field is deteriorating rapidly. If it isn't stopped soon, sports will be a basket case.

PEOPLE WHO know — and I labor daily side by side with the initials of TTH who really knows — tell me professional sports are more of a jungle than a sport.

Actually, I'd class it as entertainment — show business — and I don't say that's bad as long as we know the tail is wagging the dog. The athletes want more and more. The coaches want more and more. The owners want more and more.

THE 1972 baseball strike may be the first of many. That was a major blow to my image of "the national pastime." It may be that it's past time for the national pastime.

College athletics are taking on many of the characteristics of the professionals. The budget of a team in the Top 20 approaches big business.

High school athletics are still relatively clean for the most part, I believe, but they're beginning to show signs — right here in West Texas — that they're taking a turn for the worse.

Take eligibility violations, for example. They're not new or limited to one, two or three schools. And the tendency to get as close to the line of violation without stepping across it — sportsmanship. It's gamesmanship.

I suppose I went bananas on this subject when "the finer things" began to move to the sidelines.

I WAS brought up to believe that among the greatest lines ever written were these, by Grantland Rice:

"When the one Great Scorer comes to write against your name — HE marks — not that you won or lost — but how you played the game."

But this attitude didn't stop at the end of the game. We understood it as a way of life, and the chief tenet of sports, for player, coach and fan, was fair play.

It was — literally — Our Way of Life.

Being human, we failed often, but the aspiration was there

It has become an unwritten law (and that's the worst kind since it can be revised in midstream) that a college coach may break his contract at will, but the college is bound to pay him off if he fires him.

IT IS fostered by anyone — alumni, students, fans, coaches, sports writers, columnists and others who feel "we must win at all costs."

I think if we don't start going back to "how you play the game" soon, we had better change the name of "sports."

Among the more famous words of Henry Kissinger were: "Peace is at hand."

Of course, he has big hands.

My drinking cousin, Bobby Harris, writes:

"Today I heard about a kid, who, at the Mother's Day table, poured sugar on a nutcracker.

"Asked what the idea was, the kid said 'I'm making the nutcracker sweet.'"

"Did I laugh when I heard the story, I roared. It was my boss' kid."

Big Spring J.D. Harris, father of a son coaching at Mansford, Okla., says:

"Texas A&M had a basketball player who made four F's and one D."

Coach Shelby Metcalf told him, "Son, it looks like you are spending too much time on one subject."

OH, THE photo. My mother, my bulldog and my bashful aunt like it. No, it is not a 1910 tintype picture as aired by local "jokers" Jim Baum and Fred Davis.

But, since flashy Danny Valdes has not "developed" my newest contribution to high society, I have granted Harte-Hanks permission to reprint my photograph when then as now I was a dashing newsmen.

IF THE "jokers" remain jealous and will bring their copy of the paper down to the Big Spring Herald Tuesday afternoon, I will cut the photout.

My Answer

Billy Graham

I'm about to lose my mind with my home situation. My husband is very domineering, in fact, he would control my breathing if he could. Home is a prison with him as dictator, but any opposition triggers a violent outburst of temper. If you can condone this, and feel led to answer, it would be appreciated. J.S.

I certainly do feel led to answer. In fact, I want to remind readers that all letters received with a name and address do get answered. We are interested in helping you.

Now as for condoning your husband's actions, that I do not do. He sounds like he's been pampered and indulged in this immature habit. The likelihood of change now is slight, unless he lets the Holy Spirit change the very structure of his personality. Read the third chapter of Colossians in the Bible for the attitudes a Christian can have.

I think it's time you insist on seeing a marriage counselor. Not that this person could just lay down some new rules — but he could start some processes of understanding. Your husband might get insights into the ways his temper has poisoned himself and others.

You said he doesn't work "out." Perhaps then you could secure employment or do volunteer work outside the home. As you minimize contact now, the abusive treatment will be more bearable.

REMEMBERING...

WASH DAY

Mama got up earlier than usual on those mornings. There were many things to get done on the day of the week known as "wash day". First, she chopped the mesquite wood to build a fire under the big black pot to heat the wash water. A week's accumulation of clothes had to be sorted. Big piles of clothes would be all over the living room floor.

Water had to be drawn from the well to fill the pot.

The washing usually took place outside. Some folks had a shed or building to wash in and others did their washing on the back porch. We did ours out under a big tree. The water in the pot was heated to boiling, dipped out with a bucket, and poured into the No. 2 wash tub. Clothes were placed in the tub to soak for a few minutes. Sometimes they were put into the pot on the fire to boil if they were real dirty.

A wash board, also called a rub board, was placed in the tub with the clothes. Our board had ridges of metal but some were made entirely of wood. A recessed tray at the top of the board held the soap. Clothes were rubbed alternately with lye soap

(We made our own lye soap just as most folks did but that's another story.) and hot water, up and down over the ridges of the wash board, turned many times and rubbed, rubbed, rubbed. The clothes were wrung (now called rinsed) out in clean water, wrung out by hand, and hung on the line to dry.

It was really not hard work, all things considered, except on those days when it was freezing cold, raining, or coming a sandstorm, which was the rule more than the exception. I don't understand it but somehow Mama did all her washing on those days, as well as cook three meals from scratch and do all her other usual chores. She even found time to read us a bedtime story.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

There have been many letters written about ERA in the paper, and we appreciate the opportunity to speak out.

Very few people seem to be concerned about the devastating effect ERA, if passed, will have on our lives. This could be because most people know so little about it. The backers of ERA have tried to push this through on the theme of women's rights. Nothing could be more misleading! Equal Rights Amendment will not give women any rights that are not already guaranteed by existing amendments; but in reality it will take some precious rights away.

There is nothing in the constitution that prevents the government from drafting women now! Previously, our government chose not to draft women, but ERA will do away with that choice. When the draft is started up again your daughters will go along with your sons! Exclusion from the draft is not a violation of rights. It is merely a gesture of love and respect on the part of the men of our country. It is time to start earning that respect by speaking out for ourselves.

Another result of ERA will be the legal marriages of homosexuals. Equal Rights Amendment will give homosexuals (men or women) the right to marry each other and also to adopt children. We should be shocked and insulted by such an idea, but not so shocked that we sit back and let it go through! Many in our society have accepted homosexuality as a sickness but have failed to realize that it is still a sin. Have we forgotten what the word sin means? Surely not. Homosexuality is not new. The Bible deals with it as a sin, and we would do well to follow that example if we expect America to continue to be free.

When our government was being formed the states were reluctant to hand over any of their duties to the federal government. A settlement was long in coming because the rights of each state were precious to them. Those same rights of each separate state are just as precious today! ERA will be one more right the federal government has gained at the expense of the states. Write or call your representative today. No one else can act for you, and it may soon be too late.

Would we pass a bill that hinted of communism or socialism? Think again, because ERA more than hints of such. The backers of ERA have even boasted of the "equal rights" enjoyed by Russian women! What will ERA do? It will do away with your right to not work if you so choose. The wife can be required to furnish half of the family income or all of it, if she has the better job. That is communistic! The government is big enough, let us not give it the right to interfere in our homes. Of course the children will have federal day-care centers to go to while you work; just like Russia has! After the events that we have just witnessed in politics, do you want to trust the government to raise your children?

Maybe all of this sounds too far out of line for you to believe it can happen? Think back on some of the far out things that did happen and you will realize that it is more than possible. Now let your representatives know how you feel. They cannot read our minds. The backers of ERA are telling their side! Your letter will help to stop this from becoming law.

Oil Profits Gusher Dries Up

NEW YORK (AP) — The gusher of oil profits that appeared last year after the oil embargo has dried up for the moment.

Leading oil companies began reporting their first-quarter profits this past week. Twelve of the 15 major companies which released their first-quarter results had lower profits ranging from 3 to 66 per cent below a year earlier.

Profits for the nation's third largest oil company, Texaco Inc. were down 66 per cent to $178.4 million, which was lower than the $264 million Texaco earned in the first quarter of 1973, before the oil embargo.

Results for the top four companies looked like this: Exxon Corp., down 11.1 per cent, Mobil Oil Corp., down 28 per cent, Texaco, off 66 per cent and Gulf Oil Corp., down 33 per cent.

The U.S. Tax Reduction Act of 1975 which repealed the oil depletion allowance for large companies was a major factor in the lower earnings, the companies said. Lower production and sales of oil products also contributed to the declines, they said.

Exxon, formerly Standard Oil of New Jersey and the nation's largest oil company, said higher taxes cut profits $75 million in the first quarter and will take a $200 million bite out of this year's profits.

WEEK'S BUSINESS

- Tax depletion allowance major factor in profits skid
- Lower production and sales also influence declines
- Three companies show gains, but due to accounting change
- Oil companies show worst earning picture of all firms
- Anaconda Copper dips from $37 million profit to $9 million loss

Texaco said the higher taxes reduced its earnings $13 million in the quarter and will lower 1975 annual earnings by about $170 million. Gulf said 1975 profits will be cut $88 million because of the new tax law.

Three oil companies posting higher profits for the quarter were Standard Oil Co. of California, up 8 per cent, Ashland Oil Inc., up 13 per cent and Continental Oil Co., up 68 per cent, mainly because of an accounting change which cut year-earlier profits.

Overall, the oil companies did worse than the average of most U.S. companies in the first quarter, a bank survey shows.

First National City Bank's quarterly survey of the profits of 950 companies showed an average decline of 12 per cent in the first quarter from a year ago. "First-quarter results confirm that corporate profits are suffering from their steepest drop for any recession since World War II," the bank said.

Other corporations reporting quarterly results were Anaconda Co., the leading copper producer, with a loss of $9.2 million in the first quarter against a $37.1 million gain in 1974 mostly due to lower production and prices.

Consolidated Edison, the nation's largest electric utility and New York City's power source, said its profits rose 85 per cent from last year to $75.1 million, largely due to higher rates granted by the Public Service Commission last year.

Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. reported a $179 million first-quarter loss against a $12.5 million gain. Lower profits were blamed on the company's $200-million program to close 1,250 marginal or losing stores.

WASHINGTON — There will probably be a lot of finger-pointing about the debacle in Vietnam. It's hard to fix the blame on any one person so, to satisfy everyone's political persuasion, here is a small choice to pick from. A larger choice can be found in a book titled "The Experts" by Clyde Edwin Pettit from which I lifted most of these quotes.

FRENCH GEN. Jean Leclerc: "I didn't come back to Indochina to give Indochina back to the Indochinese." (Sept. 31, 1945)

U. S. Gen. Mark Clark: "I am also impressed by the French military plans, by the apparent Vietnamese determination to fight. I could not make any better plans than those already in existence here" (Feb. 24, 1953)

SHERMAN ADAMS, assistant to President Eisenhower: "At a Sunday night meeting in the upstairs study at the White House, Eisenhower had agreed with Dulles and Radford on a plan to send American forces to Indochina under strict conditions." (April 4, 1954)

French Brig. Gen. Christian de Castries: "I'm going to kick Gen. Giap's teeth in, one by one." (April 20, 1954)

SEN. MIKE MANSFIELD (D-Mont.): "Ngo Dinh Diem's government stands for decency and honesty while those conspiring to bring him down represent corruption." (April 30, 1955)

U. S. Gen. Earle K. Wheeler: "It is fashionable in some quarters to say that the problems in Southeast Asia are primarily political and economic. I do not agree. The essence of the problem in Vietnam is military." (November, 1962)

Assistant Secretary of Defense Arthur D. Sylvester: "It's the inherent right of the government to lie to save itself." (Dec. 6, 1962)

ROBERT S. McNAMARA, Secretary of Defense: "The South Vietnamese armed forces have now attained the experience, training and necessary equipment required for victory Victory is in sight." (Feb. 19, 1963)

U. S. Gen. Paul D. Harkins: "By Christmas it will all be over." (April, 1963)

President John F. Kennedy: "I can't do it (withdraw from Vietnam) until 1965 — after I'm re-elected." (Spring, 1963)

SECRETARY OF State Dean Rusk: "Part of the problem (of creating a broad political base in the South) has been that those who have collaborated in the war days and immediate postwar days with Ho Chi Minh were pretty much ruled out of consideration in Vietnam and properly so." (1963)

Secretary of State Dean Rusk: "The Laotians are very interesting people. They don't like to kill each other." (Sept. 15, 1963)

PRESIDENT LYNDON B. Johnson: "We are not about to send boys nine or ten thousand miles away from home to do what Asian boys ought to be doing for themselves." (Oct. 21, 1964)

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.): "Presently the military operations appear to be going better. There have been reports from a military point of view in recent weeks We have also insisted on continuing the bombing as we did in the spring. The President made some very impressive speeches in that direction." (Oct. 24, 1965)

U. S. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor: "The Viet Cong will just peter out." (Oct. 27, 1965)

HENRY CABOT LODGE, U. S. ambassador to Saigon: "By the end of 1967, there might be light at the end of the tunnel and everybody will get the feeling that things are much better" (Dec. 16, 1966)

Vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey: "Vietnam is our greatest adventure, and a wonderful adventure it is!" (Nov. 1, 1967)

U. S. Gen. William C. Westmoreland: "I have never been more encouraged in my four years in Vietnam." (Nov. 15, 1967)

Wrist Causes No Trouble

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please write something on the subject of "carpal tunnel syndrome." I believe this is my problem. Recently, I suffered a Colles fracture and was in a cast for a month.

Since then I have had an abnormal sensation in the tips of the index and middle finger of the affected hand. I mentioned this to the orthopedist, and he said it might clear up or it might become permanent.

This is a very peculiar sensation in my fingers, and inasmuch as typing is the major part of my work, I am hoping you can hold out some hope for me that it might eventually disappear.

If not, do I have any way to obtain relief? Will there be any deterioration to my hand?

Mrs. V.T.L.
"Carpal" refers to the wrist. In each wrist there is a "tunnel," actually a tiny passage formed by the wrist bone and the tendons. The median nerve serving the thumb and two adjacent fingers passes through this space, which is just sufficient to allow the nerve through. Any encroachment on this nerve can produce the carpal tunnel syndrome, which is as you describe it, numbness, tingling and pain in the affected fingers.

For some reason, it is a problem middle-aged women encounter more often than men. But your Colles fracture would have been sufficient to disturb this nerve trunk and cause the symptoms. The syndrome can also result from a swelling around the nerve, a tumor, scar formation from a wrist fracture, or even from such occupational hazards as those involved in operating a pneumatic hammer.

Carpal tunnel has even been linked in some cases to use of the contraceptive pill, as swelling promoted by the pill interferes with the nerve tunnel. Relief comes with discontinuation of the pill.

Otherwise, treatment for the problem consists of injection of hydrocortisone into the tunnel. Thyroid extract has been helpful and, in severe cases, so has surgery to relieve pressure on the nerve.

Although not pertinent to your case, gout can be a cause, and symptoms disappear with appropriate treatment. I have to tell you that there can be a wasting of the muscles of the affected hand if none of the treatments help. It would be tragic for this to happen to you, since your livelihood seems to depend on finger agility.

It is important that you keep the hand immobilized until healing from the fracture occurs completely, and perhaps, in your case, four weeks may not have been sufficient time, although it usually is.

CHILDREN'S CORNER
Black, Brown, White
 Today our society is multi-ethnic in nature; it always has been. But only recently have children's books been written that include black people as main characters. The image of Black people given in books, often does not reflect genuine experiences, or accurately depict the Black life style. Instead, a stereotyped and negative image is portrayed. It is important that all children have access to quality books that present an honest image of Blacks in our society. A child's attitudes toward people are formed early. Exposure to books that show the beauty of all people and races and include other interpretations of values, people and history is desirable. The children's department at the Howard County Library is developing a collection of Black-inclusive books. A list of these books is available. One book is "Black Means" by Barney Grossman. Black and Puerto Rican school children have come up with fresh, positive meanings for black, such as "Black" is as sweet as berries" and "Black is as durable as ebony." "Gabrielle and Selena" by Peter Desbarats is the story of two girls, one white and one black. They are tired of being themselves and decide to trade places at each other's homes. The parents play a joke on them, and they quickly agree to become themselves again. Wendell is six years old and has five older brothers and sisters. Whenever there is anything to be done, everyone is busy. William has ball practice, Alice is getting ready for a date, and Julie has to put her doll to bed. "Send Wendell" by Genevieve Gray is exactly what happens. One day Wendell is sent to the mail box and returns with a letter from Uncle Robert. He is coming for a visit. After that, Wendell has important things to keep him busy. All of these books have one thing in common. They show Blacks as main characters in real situations. In many instances, the books have been written and illustrated by Black artists.

How to select the right nursing home.

We Americans are not just living longer, we're living more useful, productive lives. But an increasing number of the chronically ill, the old, the convalescent, need some place other than the hospital and their home where they can receive personal health care, round-the-clock attention and the opportunity to continue to live their lives with meaning. As your community extended health care facility we want to help you make the right decision. Here are some guidelines: see your family physician to determine the kind of care needed; feel free to visit our facility; ask us for our costs in writing and financial advice about Medicaid; examine all of our facilities; check our food quality; verify our safety features; and finally, observe how our residents spend their time. There's a lot more to selecting the right nursing home. We want to help. If you have any questions, please call or visit us.

WATER TO THE SPRING — Jerry Foresythe, parks superintendent; Larry Willard, head of the parks and recreation board; Jimmy Foresythe, streets superintendent and Harry Nagel, city manager, look over the water falls near the bike trail in recent park improvements.

Parks Prettier, But Vandalism A Worry

By MARJ CARPENTER
Improving city parks so that they are prettier and more useful is a major aim of the city during the past year and the coming year.

Figuring out a way to keep vandals from tearing up the parks and destroying improvements as fast as they can be made is also being eyed by the City Dads.

The park improvements are noticeable to any who frequent the facilities. All city parks are greener and cleaner than they have been in recent years.

A major effort has been made at steady improvement during the past three years and the new parks and recreation superintendent is setting up high goals for continued improvements.

At the same time, the police department, the police reserves and the city council are seeking ways to decrease vandalism of city property.

Among the most talked about improvements last year were the cleaning up of the big spring itself, for which the city was named.

The hike and bike trail is also just complete and one of the newer attractions of the city. This week, the Horizons committee of the Bicentennial Celebration, with Mrs. Mary Joy Cowper as chairman, presented a special certificate to the city, commending them for creating this nature trail for hikers and bikers in Comanche Park.

MADE TO ENJOY
As Mrs. Cowper stated in special ceremonies Friday afternoon, "This trail along the spring and through Big Spring's original tent city site is a link to the past that future generations can enjoy."

Jerry Foresythe, superintendent of parks for the city, said the only rules are "No cars, no horses, no motorcycles and no swimming." The city urges citizens to help keep this new trail a "beautiful nature trail" and to report anyone destroying property or throwing items into the big spring.

A $200 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of vandals has been posted by the city. The information will also be held confidential.

The hike and bike trail originated in 1973 and continued to be developed and nurtured through the efforts of Mrs. Polly Mays, mayor pro-tem and Daryl Hohertz, local architect.

From the time, Hohertz originally walked off the route of the trail, it has continued to be expanded and encouraged. At the present time, the three-quarter mile long trail extends from Highway 87 to the big spring. There are four bridges on the trail and future plans include planting of additional trees, shrubs and flowers.

RAISE THEIR OWN
Nowadays, the city has expanded its nursery facilities in a location in back of the municipal golf course and are raising more trees, plants and shrubs for the park.

The nursery was begun by Johnny Johansen, as was the rose garden in the city park and many other improvements in his long service to the city. He continues to help with park projects for the city.

Johnny was honored recently by the local garden clubs with the planting of several trees in his honor at the big spring area.

Mrs. Mays was honored with a tree planted in Cottonwood Park down on Second Street where that park is being restored. Two trees were also planted in that area in memory of the late Mrs. Pearl Monroey.

The hike and bike trail in Comanche Park is being developed as a tourist attraction. Hohertz has designed signs and markers for the park that will denote the location of the park and the big spring.

Width of the trail ranges from eight to ten feet and is to be fenced to keep out small cars. Jimmy Foresythe, superintendent of the city streets department, also helped with work in topping the trail.

PAVILION PLANNED
A pavilion is also planned and will be located on the remaining foundation of the old Texas and Pacific pump house. The pavilion is to include plaques giving a brief history of the big spring and the surrounding area.

Other improvements being made in the park, according to Jerry Foresythe, include the possible refurbishing of the old gold fish pond which has recently been cleaned out in the area across from the Amphitheatre.

The swimming pool building is being painted and renovated at this time and the city also hopes to reshingle and paint the shelters on the golf course.

Watering the golf course is to begin a month sooner this year, with additional fertilizer used in an attempt to improve the greens and fairways.

One way traffic has been designated in the area near the Totem pole in Comanche Park and plans are made to top the center there for parking and to also top the public tennis courts.

"Since the Dora Roberts Foundation has been so kind about donating courts and items to the Figure Seven Tennis Center, we hope to be able to spend some funds to top the other tennis courts and also add some lighting," Harry Nagel, city manager, stated recently.

Tentative future plans also include the possibility of archery targets in Birdwell Park, which has a natural embankment for the targets.

There is also some talk of volleyball facilities and other items at Comanche Trails with the possibility of checking out nets and balls from the swimming pool building.

KEEPING THEM UP
Keeping all of these improvements intact is a major problem. The city council this week authorized the city to allow a policeman to live in the house in the park so there will be an officer inside the park even after the gates are locked. Some consideration is also being given to letting police officers live in trailers within the park area of near the back nine of the golf course.

"We are sick of vandalism," Nagel stated here this week. "Whenever we are paying out funds for a reward, the fines are going to be steep enough to include the cost of the reward," he added.

Foresythe said he hopes they can plant more roses in "Johnny's rose garden" and add additional trees and shrubs in other areas.

MOSS CREEK TOO
Moss Creek is not to be overlooked in park's improvements. The possibility of additional restocking of the lake is being talked as well as the possibility of an overnight trailer facility such as is now in Comanche Trails Park.

Ed McCain, Moss Creek manager, has been discussing with Foresythe the possibilities of several possible improvements at that facility.

A bi-centennial aim of the City of Big Spring is better parks. They need the citizen's cooperation to keep them that way.

Two police reserves are to be hired during weekends and summer months to assist regular lawmen in the park. They also intend to steepen fines for fights or other violations in the parks.

The city is trying for better parks. Citizens who help enforce litter laws, report vandalism and other breaking of laws in the park areas, will be the people that help keep the facilities topnotch.

THE WEEK

Abel Trevino, 24, of 110 N. Main, was charged with murder after Gomesinda Diaz Jr. died with five knife wounds during a fight at Blue Moon Lounge, 401 N. Gregg. Mauricio G. Hernandez, 21, was hospitalized with bad knife wounds. Another man was arrested. Police were continuing an investigation into the death of Alfredo Paradez, 31, who was shot in the head in the wee hours Sunday.

Trans Regional Airlines made its inaugural flight from here Friday, instituting regulars service to Midland, also to Dallas-Fort Worth regional terminal. Offices are quartered at the Howard County Airport, and regular scheduled service is provided under a Texas Aeronautics Commission permit.

Our Wayne Rock, who is president of the American Business Club and who recently master-minded a successful regional ABClub training conference here, has been elected governor of District 6-A. This means he will serve clubs in this portion of West Texas and in New Mexico. Another Big Spring, Jim Lemons, is finishing his tenure as governor of Lions District 2A-1.

A proposal to change College Park Shopping Center to a light commercial (rather than retail) zone hit the shoals when a sizeable delegation protested before the city commission. Protestors said they weren't so much concerned for a motorcycle shop (which prompted the request) as for what else might be brought into the center.

Another hearing on the application (for water and sewer funds from HUD) drew fire from another side of the aisle Monday when patrons wanted to know why funds were not available for individuals to make home improvements. "Why don't they call it water and sewer development instead of Housing and Urban Development if we can't fix up our houses?" John Mitchell wanted to know.

The City of Big Spring got notice of its revenue sharing total for the federal fiscal year starting July 1. The $323,000 is down about $10,000. Our term "revenue sharing" applied to a county payment to the City of Coahoma drew protest because councilmen said this was a contractual arrangement for Coahoma firemen fighting rural fires. It may be, however, that the county is using its federal revenue sharing funds to make this payment.

Howard College trustees gave notice last week that they likely will reach a decision at the May meeting on whether to call a bond election to help finance a community (coliseum-type) facility. About one-third of an estimated million and a half appears available from private sources. Anyhow, the board figured it is time for the people to decide the matter one way or the other.

The Parks and Recreation board has recommended transfer of care of the Mungy golf course be turned over to the Parks department freeing the pro for other duties. Also, it was suggested the pro shop might be closed on Monday, although this didn't explain what Monday golfers will do. Also on the sports scene, there was another change when Novice Kniffen resigned as Figure 7 Tennis Center because this spot might compromise the high school tennis team which he coaches.

REFUNDS BEGIN — The first 499 refund checks on water deposits went in the mail Friday at the city water office. This is only the beginning of refunding deposits to customers who have retained good credit. Shown are Hilda Palacios, Jake Trantham and Lucy Martinez. Not shown is Lou Key, who did much of the work getting the checks ready.

Good Crowd Sees Inaugural Show

Contestants from a large number of West Texas and Panhandle towns along with some youths from Eastern New Mexico competed here for two days and nights in the annual Little Britches Rodeo in three age divisions and seven events.

After the first two rounds Friday night and Saturday morning, some of the same names began to appear in several events in the different age brackets with the finals Saturday night to have determined top winners.

A good crowd attended opening night including many of the 4-H families, moving over from their annual spring picnic at the fair barns to attend the show.

On opening night, Amber Echols of Lamesa emerged on top in Pee Wee Ribbon Roping with a 13.8 followed by Amy Ragan of Big Spring with a 17 flat. These were both better than any scores Saturday when the tops were Gary Otwell of Odessa with a 21.4 followed by Sissy Doss, Big Spring with a 23.6.

On opening night, Reagan Brooks, Coahoma, posted a 37 in the pee wee bareback riding and still was out front after Saturday morning's show when Gary Otwell led with 35 followed by Todd Watkins of Odessa with 32.

HAPPINESS IS NO. 1 — Jimmy Connors holds up one finger to indicate how he feels after his win over Australian tennis champion John Newcombe Saturday in Las Vegas, Nev. Connors stands to collect over $500,000 in prize money from the challenge match held at Caesars Palace.

RICHEST MATCH EVER

Connors Whips John Newcombe

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Brash Jimmy Connors stamped himself the king of tennis at the age of 22 Saturday by whipping Australia's John Newcombe in four sets in the richest match ever played.

Connors won 6-3, 4-6, 6-2, 6-4 in the internationally televised battle at Caesars Palace that netted more than a million dollars.

Connors won with speed and placements and showed supreme confidence against his 30-year-old opponent who was ranked No. 2 in the world last year while Jimmy was ranked No. 1. Still Connors, from Belleville, Ill., never had beaten Newcombe before in three previous meetings.

This match at Caesars Palace tennis pavilion was a rich one with Connors due to collect $500,000 and Newcombe $300,000.

Connors won the first set by breaking Newcombe's serve in the fourth game and then holding his own in the fifth when the Australian had him at game point six times. The crowd of 3,371, apparently favoring Newcombe, saw him win the second set by breaking the young southpaw's serve in the 10th and final game—the deciding point coming on a crosscourt shot that Connors had no chance of handling.

The 5-foot-10, 151-pound lefthander wrapped up the third set by winning the last four games in succession. First he broke Newcombe's service and then turned in the first love game of the match and followed it by doing the same thing on Newcombe's serve, putting the score 5-2.

The Aussie lost a chance for a comeback when he went up 15-40 on Connors' serve in the eighth game but Jimmy again came back to pull out the set.

Steers Defeated By Cougars, 8-1

By CLARK LESHER

Abilene Cooper could do no wrong here Saturday afternoon at Steer Park as Big Spring lost, 8-1.

For all intentional and practical second-half 5-4A purposes, but not mathematically, Steer flag hopes were severed. Big Spring falls to 3-2 in the district and 10-12 overall. Cooper, the pre-season title choice, is now 2-3 and 16-7.

In other 5-4A games played Saturday, Permian pasted Lee, 5-1, Odessa downed Midland High, 9-7, and San Angelo outran Abilene High, 10-8.

The Steers could reach winning pitcher Larry Martindale for five hits and only one run in the fourth. Dick Battle doubled. Pinch-runner Danny Ferrell moved to third on Kent Newsum's single and scored on Ken McMurrey's sacrifice fly ball.

Cooper pounded across one run each in the first, second and seventh, but hit the plate for five fifth frame runs.

In the fifth, Cooper's Mark Cowan lead off by driving in both Ricky McElreath and Ricky Lewis. After Kenneth McLeod walked, Battle in relief of Steer starter Pat Carroll, was greeted by a single, driving in both Cowan and Trey Deen.

The uneventful fifth inning for Big Spring was ended with Jeff Hood singling in McLeod.

Big Spring loaded the bases in the seventh, but was unable to move anyone around. The Steers left 10 men stranded on base.

Even though Big Spring managed only five hits, McLeod took over for Martindale in the fourth for safety first.

The Steers close out their home season Tuesday at 4 p.m. against Odessa, followed by the finale against San Angelo, there, Saturday.

Doubles Entry To State

LEVELLAND — Eddie Decker and Kary Richardson became the first two Forsan High School tennis players ever to win their way to the state meet when they finished second in Regional boys' double competition here Saturday.

The Valley High School tandem of Stettliff and Eudy, who competed in the state meet last year, defeated Decker and Richardson in the finals, 6-0, 6-1.

Earlier, Brad Stevens of Forsan had won medalist honors in the Regional golf tournament to qualify for the state tournament.

Decker and Richardson defeated Dupler and Simpson, Three Way, 6-0, 6-1; Legaretta and Solis, Fort Hancock, 6-2, 6-1; Huseman and Heiman, Nazareth, 6-3, 6-3; and Cauble and Ducan, Fort Davis 3-6, 6-2, 7-5, in that order to reach the finals.

The state meet will be staged in Austin May 8-9-10. David Redwine coaches the Forsan netters.

In boys' singles play, Joe Moreno, Forsan, lost in first round play to R. Sowder, Three Way, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3.

In the Regional track meet here Saturday, Wesley Thixton, Forsan, placed fifth in the 880-yard run in the time of 2:05.6.

GEIBERGER IN COMMAND

All Alone At Top

CARLSBAD, Calif. (AP) — Al Geiberger squandered much of a commanding lead with a shaky finish and Lee Trevino remained three strokes off the pace after Saturday's third round of pro golf's $200,000 Tournament of Champions.

Geiberger, who played his first 49 holes without a bogey, lost three strokes to par on the last five holes and shot a 70 that gave him a three-round total of 204.

Trevino, the PGA champion who admits to a special fascination with this elite event, also had a two-under-par 70 in bright, sunny weather on the 6,855-yard La Costa Country Club course and was nine under par at 207.

Defending champion Johnny Miller, a record-setting winner of three of his first four starts this season, was last in the field of 30 champions with a 77—226.

Geiberger, a lanky longshot who is making his first appearance in this tournament in eight years, was five under par for the day after his first 12 holes and appeared ready to make a rout of it.

"I guess," said the veteran of 16 years on the pro tour, "things were going just too good."

He got it in a bunker on the 14th hole, blew it out 13-14 feet by the cup, ran his first putt about three feet beyond the hole, and missed it coming back. It was a double-bogey five.

Cubs Slap Cards

CHICAGO (AP) — Bill Madlock and Jose Cardenal drove in two runs each to back the fine relief pitching of Ken Frailing Saturday and give the Chicago Cubs an 8-6 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in a nationally televised baseball game.

The victory was the fourth straight for the National League East-leading Cubs while the Cardinals went spinning to their sixth consecutive loss.

The Cardinals twice took early leads with three runs in the first inning and two in the second, but each time the Cubs rallied for 3-3 and 5-5 ties then struck for three more runs in the third to go ahead to stay.

Manny Trillo and Steve Swisher both singled to start the third, and Frailing reached first safely when third baseman Ken Reitz bobbled his bunt.

Don Kessinger flied out, but Cardenal delivered a two-run single and Madlock followed with a sacrifice fly on which left fielder Lou Brock made a sensational, tumbling one-handed catch.

Frailing took over for starter Bill Bonham in the second inning after the Cardinals had scored five times. He retired 10 straight batters before walking Ron Fairly in the fifth and gained his second pitching triumph in three decisions.

Frailing left the game with one out in the eighth inning after giving up a single, and Oscar Zamora finished up for the Cubs.

George Stops Three

TORONTO (AP) — George Foreman stopped three of five hand-picked opponents in a boxing exhibition Saturday that had the aura of a traveling tent show.

Foreman, the former world heavyweight champion, was the carnival strongman. The five foes were the townfolk testing their skills.

And Foreman was the villain, continuously booed by a Maple Leaf Gardens crowd of about 5,500 which several times chanted, 'Ali, Ali, Ali!'

Heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali was at ringside as a television commentator.

Some of the lowlights of the program were:

—Foreman throwing a chair at Ali on his way to the ring.

—Foreman and Jerry Judge wrestling each other to the canvas after Foreman had stopped Judge in the second round and then taunted Judge.

—Foreman and Terry Daniels exchanging words and light punches after Daniels was stopped in the second round.

—A Foreman second dashing across the ring and knocking down a glasses-wearing handler of Daniels with a left hook, which one ringside wag said was the best punch of the day. The punch knocked off the unidentified handler's glasses and cut his mouth.

—Charlie Polite kissing Foreman on the lips as Foreman tried to stare him down before the start of their three rounds.

—Polite twisting his ankle and falling on his face at the start of the second round without a punch being thrown.

—Polite, Foreman's fourth opponent in the event sanctioned by the Toronto Athletic Commission as an exhibition, was the first to last the entire three rounds. He drew a long ovation.

Bucs Sock Phils, 7-3

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A five-run uprising in the fifth inning capped by Al Oliver's two-run homer knocked out Philadelphia starter Wayne Twitchell and carried the Pittsburgh Pirates to a comeback 7-3 victory over the Phillies Saturday.

An unearned run in the second inning and two third-inning runs on an RBI single by Mike Schmidt and a sacrifice fly by Willie Montañez had put Philadelphia in front 3-0.

Willie Stargell's fourth homer of the season in the Pittsburgh fourth, with Richie Hebner aboard on a walk, narrowed the margin to 3-2.

In the Pirates fifth, Dave Parker walked and Manny Sanguillen singled.

Cards Back Home; Test Colts Today

Off to a flying start, the Big Spring Cardinals, 4-1, will test the Midland Colts in a pair of games today starting at 1:30 p.m. at Steer Park.

The lone Card loss was to Pecos.

Big Spring played the same Colts last Sunday in Midland and walked away with two wins. Orlando Olague pitched a four-hitter in the opener for the Cards.

In the nightcap, a bases loaded single by the Cards' Joe Martinez in the seventh was the key factor. Jody Flores received credit for the win.

Last season, the Colts suffered only one setback while besting some of the best semi-pro clubs in West Texas.

The Cardinal dual pitching assignments will fall on the shoulders of Olague, Flores or Tony Fierro.

Relief duties for the Cards will be handled by Tune, Hank Pope, and Joe Actosa

Probable Card line-up:

HANK HOMERS Yankees Blast Brewers

NEW YORK (AP) — Pat Dobson hurled a seven-hitter and Thurman Munson and Ron Blomberg slammed home runs, leading the New York Yankees to a 10-1 rout of the Milwaukee Brewers Saturday.

Dobson, 2-2, blanked the Brewers on three singles until designated hitter Hank Aaron belted his second American League homer and the 735th of his career leading off the seventh inning. The ball landed near a blockhouse 442 feet from home plate.

The Yankees nicked Jim Slaton, 1-4, for a run in the second inning on a walk and singles by Munson and Jim Mason and chased him with a four-run burst in the third.

Elliott Maddox started the uprising with a one-out single and Bobby Bonds and Blomberg followed with run-scoring doubles. Munson then hammered his first home run of the season over the fence in left-center.

STATE GOLFER — Brad Stevens displays a trophy and a medal he won in the 1-B Regional at Levelland, Thursday. The Buffalo junior took medalist honors with a 151, qualifying him for state, May 9-10, at Austin. Forsan finished fourth, scoring 705. Booker took team honors, carding a 651. The Bufts were elevated to the regional level by placing second in 10-B, two weeks ago.

LOCAL WOMAN'S BROTHER Lyle, Daniels' Boxing Protege

One Sunday evening between now and May 16, the brother of Mrs. R.E. Tinley is due to appear with his boxing protege, Ron Lyle, on the CBS 60-Minutes program.

Lyle is billed as the next major challenger to Mohammad Ali, heavyweight boxing challenger.

Bill Daniels, Denver, Colo., television and cable television system broker and sports entrepreneur, is Lyle's "angel" in more than one sense. It was he who spotted Lyle while visiting the Colorado State prison and helped rehabilitate the young man through mutual interest in boxing.

As a student at New Mexico Military Institute, Daniels was active in Golden Glove competition, in fact a champion in his class. He never lost interest in boxing, and when he concluded pro boxing had reached a pretty sorry state, Daniels then began organizing amateur boxing in Denver.

It was in this role that he visited the prison where Lyle was serving time on a manslaughter charge resulting from a ghetto fight.

Lyle was from a family of some 15 children and had been fending for himself. Daniels saw potential in the young man, sponsored his parole by agreeing to give him a job.

When Lyle came on so rapidly and promisingly as a boxer, Daniels insisted that he train full time. He still has Lyle on salary as he furthers Ron's fighting career which is due to lead to a crack at Ali.

Daniels also owns the Utah Stars basketball team, champions last year, but having its difficulties this year. He hopes Lyle will be a different story.

Reds Throttle Houston, 9-3

HOUSTON (AP) — Ken Griffey's bases-loaded double highlighted a five-run fourth inning that helped the Cincinnati Reds throttle the Houston Astros 9-3 Saturday night.

Griffey's three-run blow was delivered off Jim Crawford after the Reds had seized a 4-0 lead against Tom Griffin, 0-4, in the first two innings. The Astros nicked Fred Norman, 1-1, for a run in the fifth on Rob Andrews single and added two runs in the eighth.

The Reds scored twice in the first inning on Joe Morgan's RBI single and Johnny Bench's fourth homer of the year. They got two more in the second on Pete Rose's double.

Before Griffey's double, the Reds had scored twice with the aid of three walks, two stolen bases, a pair of throwing errors and Tony Perez' single single.

Texas Tops Twins

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Jeff Burroughs' solo home run followed by Jim Sundberg's three-run blast in the fourth inning sent Texas and former Minnesota pitcher Bill Hands winning a 7-2 victory over the Twins Saturday in a rain-delayed baseball game.

Hands, whom the Twins traded to Texas last September and was making his first appearance against his former teammates, went six innings to notch his first triumph after two losses. He left in favor of Steve Foucault after walking Glenn Borgmann to open the seventh. Foucault then shut the door on the Twins the rest of the way.

Hands had a no-hitter going through four innings before he was touched for two runs in the fifth on three hits. Craig Kusick's leadoff bunt single broke Hands' no-hit spell. After two outs, Steve Brye's triple scored Minnesota's first run and pinch-hitter Steve Braun beat out another bunt single to score the second.

Left-hander Vic Albury pitched for the Twins and suffered his first loss after two winning starts.

The fourth-inning shots by Burroughs and Sundberg were the first to land in the new left field porch area, built by the Twins this season to increase home run production.

Royals Snap Losing Skid

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Vada Pinson tripled and Amos Otis hit a single, doubling and homer to lead Kansas City to an 8-6 victory over the Chicago White Sox Saturday, snapping the Royals' four-game losing streak.

The Royals jumped on Stan Bahrens, 0-3, for three runs in the first inning, the first one on Pinson's triple and Otis' single. After a double play, Hal McRae, singled, Tony Solaita doubled for a run and George Brett tripled. Pinson hit his first homer of the season in the second.

Craig Hated To Pack Bags Baker Inks With WTC

DALLAS (AP) — On the barstools and in front of the TV sets this fall, they won't have Craig Morton and Roger Staubach to argue about. It once was one of Dallas' favorite pastimes.

"I'm glad that's over," says Morton, who struggled with Staubach for several seasons to be the No. 1 quarterback for the Dallas Cowboys. Mostly, Morton was No. 2.

Now, he is a New York Giant. He has remained in Dallas in the off-season for training.

The pro football season may be months away but Morton, during a work-out session recently, said, "I'm just older and have more desire."

"My desire to get ready has really picked up. For the first time in my career, I've been told I was the quarterback no matter what happened. I could go out and do what I wanted to do and I was the man."

"No, I didn't have that feeling even when Meredith retired," said Morton of the pre-Staubach days with the Cowboys when he fought with Don Meredith to be No. 1.

Morton made his comments in an interview with Dallas Morning News writer Bob St. John.

"I'm not sure anybody really thought I was serious about wanting to go, wanting to be traded," said Morton of his thoughts last season before he went to the Giants.

"I hated to leave. I'd grown up with the Cowboys. And I felt I was a better quarterback than Roger, just as he felt he was better than me. I suppose I kept thinking the right opportunity would come along and I'd prove it."

"But when we (the Cowboys) lost three of our first four games last year and no change was made, I knew that was it...I was leaving. I think they believed me when I didn't show up for practice."

Shipman Ignites Maroons

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Quarterback David Shipman, a former schoolboy all-state star from Odessa Permian who dwelled two years on the Texas A&M bench, ignited a 10-touchdown explosion Saturday night to lead the first team Maroons to a 69-0 victory over the second team Whites in winding-up the school's spring football training.

Shipman, a junior, rifled a 70-yard touchdown pass to Carl Roaches and ran a 26- and 2-yards for touchdowns as a crowd of 12,000 looked on at Kyle Field.

Shipman completed 8 of 13 passes for 183 yards and rushed for 93 yards as he paced the Maroons.

The Aggie number one defensive unit, which was ranked second nationally in 1974, allowed the White team only 66 yards total offense.

Quarterback Mike Jay ran 6- and 2-yards for touchdowns and completed a 15-yard scoring pass to Roaches.

Baker Inks With WTC

SNYDER — Temi Baker, 5-8 senior forward on the Knox City Houndette basketball team, has signed a letter of intent with Western Texas College, said Dr. Sid Simpson, WTC athletic director.

Baker was recently named to the third All-State Team selected by the Amarillo Globe-News. She was a unanimous choice for the District 7-A All-District basketball team this year. During her high school career, she played on four district championship teams, two bi-district championship teams and one regional runner-up team.

During her senior year, Miss Baker hit on 56 percent of her field goals and 71 percent of her free throws to score a total of 885 points. She averaged 27.8 points per game, 8.8 rebounds per game, and had a total of 96 assists.

Miss Baker, daughter of Knox City school superintendent and Mrs. W.R. Bill Baker, plans to enroll at WTC for the Traveling Seminar in American Studies, June 11-30, before beginning the 1975-76 semester.

Aggies Ruin 'Horns Mark

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Aggies, knocked out of the Southwest Conference title race a week ago, had one consolation Saturday when they defeated the Texas Longhorns 9-8 in the second game of a doubleheader to ruin Texas' perfect SWC baseball record.

The Longhorns had won the first game 11-1.

Texas ended the season with a 41-5 mark and a 23-1 record. The Aggies closed the regular season with 31-8 for the year and 17-7 in league play.

Texas won the first game behind the four-hit pitching of Richard Wortham and 11-hit attack sparked by homers by Doug Duncan and Mike Anderson.

Wortham is now 11-0.

GOVERNOR'S CUP Mitchell Readies Coggers

SNYDER — Western Texas College, which turned out the NJCAA national championship basketball team, will be hosting four additional juco players from today to Thursday.

Westerners' head coach Mike Mitchell is readying a squad for the Governor's Cup Tournament in Brazil.

The 12-man squad will leave Lubbock by air Thursday and begin a four-game series in Sao Paulo, Saturday. They are scheduled to play three games in Rio de Janeiro, May 9-12, and one game in Buenos Aires, May 15, before beginning the return trip May 15.

Other teams participating in the games will be from Brazil, Canada, Puerto Rico and Argentina, all young teams in development for the Pan American and Olympic Games. Mitchell will be assisted by Robert Secret from Mineral Area Junior College in Flat River, Mo. George Killian, president of the NJCAA from Hutchinson, Kans., will accompany the squad as mission chief.

WTC will be sending eight players, one more than was originally planned. Stanley Covington, 6-0 freshman from Washington, D.C. will be joining teammates Ken Fowler, Brian Minor, Norman Barnes, Bob Miller, Eugene Harris, Greg Hill and Tyrone Clopton for the trip.

Other players on the team will be Alonzo Bradley from Utica Junior College, Lamont Turner from Forest Park Junior College, Ray Williams from San Jacinto College and Gary Yoder from the College of Southern Idaho.

Bids Will Be Opened Monday

Bids for making part of the juvenile probation officers' office a women's lounge will be opened in County Commissioners Court Monday.

Peace Justice Gus Ochotorena Jr., who complained of being moved to a small office, is to be given additional office space where a women's lounge is located now.

Ochotorena was moved to satisfy Peace Justice Walter Grice, who had submitted his resignation and later changed his mind.

A second JP secretary also is to be placed on the county payroll. The court plans to consider both the salaries of Doris Lewis, who has been paid through the Manpower training program, and Mrs. Colleen Henry, secretary to only Ochotorena now.

SCOUTS BY HUNDREDS HERE FOR CAMPOREE
Tents go up; Boys converse; Old Glory is raised

Scouts Set Up Camp Despite Rain Threat

Some 495 Boy Scouts from troops in eight West Texas towns arrived at their spring camporee here Friday night just as the tornado and storm alert was posted by the weather bureau.

The Scouts set up camp with one eye on the clouds to the north, and camp officials had some uneasy hours as they got all of the youths settled in for the night.

Orders from headquarters were "stay inside the tents if the rain hits." The rain went on by and the boys had the added thrill of a near storm.

Some 75 Cub Scouts swelled the ranks this morning to close to 600 youths and their leaders at the campsite. Towns represented, in addition to Big Spring, were Midland, Odessa, Fortson, Pecos, Snyder, Andrews, Colorado City and Fluvanna.

Members of Troop 129 in Andrews had just learned that four of their members received the council citation for a rescue operation, when one of their troop pitched head first off a cliff at the Buffalo Trail Council campsite last fall.

The youth, Gregg Zapp, son of Rev. and Mrs. Bob Zapp of Andrews, is reported to be walking, and improving daily on alertness, and is talking. He received severe head injuries and was in a coma for many weeks.

Local Scouts were participating in contests Saturday afternoon including knot, rope toss, lashing and many others. Plans were underway for a big campfire Saturday with a church service this morning to be led by the Rev. Lester Utz of Trinity Lutheran Church.

The thing most enjoyed by the boys was simply visiting with each other as they collected memories of another camporee.

Face Eviction

Following his protest of the use of the pesticide, Dr. Ramage said, he was pressured and that he construed he had been threatened with court martial. When that failed he was urged to take terminal leave (because he is due to get out of service in early July), he continued, then with an offer of rescission of the eviction notice. He said he was told "let me know when they (treators) get to your house." No one used the word "court martial" to him, he said, "but Col. Miesenheimer knew that I knew what he was talking about."

Capt. Richard Risk, head of information services told the Associated Press that "it was a question of semantics whether the two doctors have been 'evicted'. Actually, they were given the option of allowing their homes to be treated or seeking housing off the base. Part of the deal with living in base housing is allowing basic maintenance to be performed, and this is considered basic maintenance."

No consent forms were circulated, so far as he knew, rather base engineering simply sent notices that it would be treating the quarters as per schedule. It became a matter of option to occupants whether to follow procedure or to vacate the premises.

Col. Miesenheimer also said that he had gone to "every source available to me, and they've said this method of ground insertion is acceptable, that it does not constitute a hazard the way the program is being implemented. I listen to the medical people on this."

Both Dr. Ramage and Dr. Blake quoted from the letter from NCI which said that "no level of exposure to this material can be considered as being safe."

The Environmental Protection Agency reported in 1972 "that use of Aldrin or Dieldrin could not be allowed in homes, barns, poultry operations or other structures occupied by humans or livestock," and manufacture of Aldrin was banned. Betty Williamson, director of public affairs for the EPA in Dallas, however, reported that EPA sent an investigator to Big Spring and monitored and checked for possible misuse of Aldrin. She said the conclusion was that the chemical is being used according to regulations.

Capt. Risk noted that military authorities received a letter supporting the use of Aldrin from Brig. Gen. Garth B. Dettinger, surgeon general at the Air Training Command at Randolph AFB. He added that "our findings and conclusions support continued Aldrin application procedures for termite control and confirmed proper safeguards are being maintained by the contractor at Webb AFB. Human exposure to Aldrin is infinitesimal, and we feel it posed no toxicological problems."

Dr. Ramage did not deny that his concern went beyond the Aldrin and eviction furor. He said that he believes there is one unwritten code for "blue bloods" and another of those without influence to warrant preferential treatment. He said his concept is that the doctor's obligation is to the patients, not to a system.

"And I'm not talking just about Webb," he added. "We turn out the best pilots in the world, and I think they and the public, whose safety may be involved, are entitled to honest medical evaluation."

A graduate of the University of Kentucky medical school, and an internist, he plans to return to Lexington, Ky., in July and begin a fellowship in rheumatology before entering private practice. His home is in Paducah, Ky. and he and his wife have two children.

Dr. Blake is from New Orleans, La. and a graduate of Louisiana State University medical school. He and his wife have two children, and he has another year of service.

Following his protest of the use of the pesticide, Dr. Ramage said, he was pressured and that he construed he had been threatened with court martial. When that failed he was urged to take terminal leave (because he is due to get out of service in early July), he continued, then with an offer of rescission of the eviction notice. He said he was told "let me know when they (treators) get to your house." No one used the word "court martial" to him, he said, "but Col. Miesenheimer knew that I knew what he was talking about."

Capt. Richard Risk, head of information services told the Associated Press that "it was a question of semantics whether the two doctors have been 'evicted'. PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League have signed three of their 1975 draft picks, and two of the prospects played their schoolboy ball outside Philadelphia in Bucks County, Pa.

The Eagles announced on Thursday the signing of defensive back Ken Schroy, a 10th-round pick from Maryland and Quakertown High School in Quakertown, Pa.

Renovation Of Strip Winding Up

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N.M. — A major renovation of the racing strip at Ruidoso Downs is now winding up. Total cost of the project was over $25,000.

"When the 1975 season gets underway on May 17, the running surface will be in the finest condition it's ever been in," said General Manager Al Rosa, the compelling force behind the project.

"Our objective was to construct an absolutely first-rate racing strip," Rosa added. "This kind of quality is extremely vital to the horsemen, and it's also important to the fans. The track has been completely re-conditioned, thoroughly improved and checked by engineers to make certain it's in a true grade."

Horsemen have already been up to Ruidoso to view the work being done, and the response has been highly laudatory. As one horseman put it, "This is the finest track improvement program in the history of Ruidoso Downs."

Dade Leads In Batting

Lonnie Paul Dade of El Paso comes off the first ten days of the Texas League season of 1975 with a batting average of .576 to lead the batters in the double-A circuit.

Paul also has chimed in with 13 RBI's to lead in that department. The third baseman for the Diablos has five doubles, a triple and two homers in his league-leading 19 hits and a slugging percentage of .970 in nine games.

Several pitchers in the league have an earned run average of 0.00 and have won two games with no losses. John David Langerhans of San Antonio leads all pitchers with 12 strikeouts.

Dodgers Dump Giants, 13-3

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Ron Cey blasted his sixth home run of the baseball season Saturday, a three-run shot in the first inning that started the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 13-3 victory over the San Francisco Giants.

Cey's homer capped a four-run rally off loser John D'Acquisto, 1-2. Walks to Dave Lopes and Willie Crawford and Steve Garvey's run-scoring single preceded Cey's one-out blast to left.

Garry Maddox' leadoff single and Bobby Murcer's home run one out later off winner Doug Rau, 2-1, cut the Dodger lead to 4-2 in the bottom of the first, but the Dodgers erupted for five runs in the second inning.

Harris Scores Texas Triumph

In Texas Little League play Friday, Harris Lumber & Hardware Tigers thumped Super Save Cubs, 19-5. The Tigers' winning hurler, Brocky Jones, struck out 14 Cub batters.

Jessie Ybarra was the Tigers leading batsman, hitting the ball four times. Ybarra's teammates, Dickie Wrightsil and Lupe Ontiveros, connected for three safeties each.

Mathews and Williams of the Cubs each poked two hits. Wrightsil and Williams both pounded out homers.

Fishing License Required

AUSTIN — During the spring, game wardens at the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department stock up on a fresh supply of citation pads for one of the most common warm-weather game and fish offenses — no fishing license.

During the month of March, wardens issued 858 citations for no fishing license. Law enforcement officials at the TP&WD say that the rules on fishing licenses are simple: A $4.25 annual license is required of every person between the ages of 17 and 65 who fishes in the public fresh and salt waters of Texas.

Exceptions to the rule are those who fish in private waters or those who fish in the county of their residence with a trotline, throwline or ordinary pole and line with no reel or winding device.

Those who have commercial fishing licenses or a 25-cent exempt license also need not pay a $4.25 license. Effective Sept. 1, 1974, the Texas fishing license is valid for one year from the date of issuance.

Beta Sigma Phi

Founder's Day

The 44th anniversary of Beta Sigma Phi was observed here with a Founder's Day banquet Thursday evening in the Officers' Club, Webb Air Force Base.

The 60 sorority sisters attending honored Mrs. Clay LaRochelle, incoming president of the BSP City Council, as their choice for Howard County's Woman of the Year.

Five chapters honored their Girl of the Year, with trophy recipients being Mrs. Jean Denton, Beta Omicron; Mrs. Rose Davis, Mu Zeta; Mrs. Jeane Cunningham, Xi Pi Epsilon; Mrs. Charla Huckabay, Alpha Kappa Omicron; and Mrs. Karen Frette, Alpha Beta Omicron.

Cited as Pledges of the Year were Mrs. Sally Norsen, Beta Omicron; Mrs. Genia Carroll, Alpha Beta Omicron; Mrs. De Anne Tucker, Alpha Kappa Omicron; and Mrs. Darlene Boehmer, Mu Zeta. Each was presented a gift.

The opening ritual was led by Mrs. Nancy Fulgham, retiring BSP Council president, who was presented a corsage and floral arrangement from the head table. The invocation was by Mrs. Denton.

Mrs. Joann Long, a Beta Omicron member who is moving from the city, was presented a special award for outstanding service to the sorority, and, as a farewell gift, she presented a candle snuffer to the BSP Council.

Entertainment for the banquet was provided by students from Big Spring Senior High School, who, under the direction of Gene Currie, performed excerpts from this year's "Campus Revue."

"Let Heritage Ring" was the banquet theme which was carried out in decorations throughout the dining room and entertaining area. At the entrance, an arch was accented with flowers, and each table was centered with costumed ceramic dolls and "logs" arranged with red, white and blue flowers and candles.

Chapter duties and committee chairmen for the banquet were: place, Mrs. Nancy Harrington, Mu Zeta; publicity, Mrs. Jeananne Gafford, Alpha Beta Omicron; programs, Mrs. Huckabay; decorations, Mrs. Long, Beta Omicron; and entertainment, Mrs. Fulgham, Xi Pi Epsilon. Miss Angie Fulgham served as pianist.

Assisting with the honor presentations were Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Jo Ogle, Alpha Beta; Mrs. LaRochelle, Alpha Kappa; Mrs. Ann Parrott, Xi Pi Epsilon; and Mrs. Long.

Chapter presidents are Mrs. Davis, Mu Zeta; Mrs. Huckabay, Alpha Kappa Omicron; Mrs. Cunningham, Xi Pi Epsilon; Mrs. Ogle, Alpha Beta Omicron; and Mrs. Denton, Beta Omicron.

Beta Sigma Phi is an international sorority which provides its members with social opportunities, study programs and the chance to help others through its services projects.

LOOKING FORWARD to their membership experiences in Beta Sigma Phi are these women who were named Pledge of the Year at the annual banquet Thursday. From left, those honored were Mrs. Sally Norsen, Beta Omicron; Mrs. Genia Carroll, Alpha Beta Omicron; Mrs. De Anne Tucker, Alpha Kappa Omicron; and Mrs. Darlene Boehmer, Mu Zeta.

Be A 'Belle' In Texas Togs

Fashions experts may call sewing "the fad of the century" — but many homemakers feel it is not only a necessity in time of inflation — but a pleasurable pastime as well.

The art of sewing has been undertaken by millions of women of all ages, from 4-H girls entering their first competition to Houston socialites who design their own garments to wear during the livestock show and rodeo season.

"Texas togs" go easily from farm and ranch to ritzy resorts, and the Western attire is worn with pride by people of all ages. Stockman's suits are seen in the lobby of the Shamrock-Hilton — and fringed denim skirts with fancy shirts have made city streets as colorful as a rodeo arena.

Yet, Western wear requires special construction, and it hasn't been easy for seamstresses to find patterns that fill that need.

Starting this week, the Big Spring Herald will bring to its readers "Belle's Patterns with a Western flair."

Belle's patterns have been bought by more than 2,000,000 Americans during the seven years they have been on the market, and the Herald is pleased to make them available to the women of Howard County.

Call them "Go Texan" clothes, and try your hand at having a new outfit ready by the time rodeo season is here. That's the time everyone wears them — participants, rodeo association members and their wives, workers and spectators. Every year the garments seem to get more elaborate, more individual.

Watch for this popular feature twice weekly in the Herald.

MRS. JAMES MCINTIRE

Couple United In Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. James McIntire are residing in Levelland following their wedding April 19 in the First Christian Church, Levelland.

The bride is the former Jana Bassett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Bassett of Kintore, Aberdeenshire, Scotland, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Robert McIntire, Levelland. The bride's parents formerly resided in Howard County, and the family has a number of relatives in this area.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mack McCarter, and music was by Richard Snow, organist.

Mrs. Sandra Brown, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her formal dress was of yellow dotted Swiss, and she wore a wide-brimmed white hat trimmed with yellow bows and streamers. She carried a bouquet of yellow daisies.

Darrell Wayne Jackson was best man, and the ushers were Mike Myrick and Paul Hale. Twanette Ringener and Sherry Myrick were flower girls, and Tommy Anderson was the ring bearer.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, C. J. Myrick, wore a gown of silk with rows of English lace down the front of the bodice and on the inset sleeves. The hem of the dress flowed into a chapel-length train. Her veil of silk illusion was decorated with appliques of wedding bells, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and yellow roses.

The vows were exchanged before an altar decorated with baskets of yellow and white daisies. Arched candelabra held tapered yellow candles, greenery and satin bows.

A reception followed the ceremony, and the refreshment table was tended by Miss Linda Esch and Miss Valerie Dunn. The centerpiece was an arrangement of yellow and white daisies and tapered candles.

Every Child Is Different

No two children are exactly alike. Each child grows in his own way and at his own speed, Mrs. Ilene Miller, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, reminds.

B&PW Grants, Funds Assist Women, Girls

How women are helped by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs Inc. Foundation was explained in detail by Miss Edith Gay and Mrs. Bert Affleck at a B&PW dinner meeting Tuesday.

The foundation committee, composed of Mrs. Rozelle Dohoney, chairman; Miss Marie McDonald and Miss Gay, were hostesses.

Miss Gay described the B&PW Foundation, established in 1956, as being funded by gifts from more than 170,000 B&PW members, plus grants from other sources. Of the 26,000 foundations in the United States, it is among the few that are supported by the membership of a voluntary organization.

"While related to the B&PW Federation, the foundation is legally separated from it," said Miss Gay. "It is a tax-exempt corporation with its own governing body and bylaws, although its trustees include six national federation officers."

Gifts to the foundation may be made by memorials, living endowments or to research and library.

The B&PW-Sears Roebuck and Co. revolving loan fund was recently established for women accepted for graduate study at any school accredited on the ground level by the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business. This loan program will begin with the 1975-76 academic year.

Mrs. Affleck, in presenting multiple educational and training opportunities available for women who work, or want to further their capabilities, and for the high school girl graduate starting a career, emphasized the foundation's main projects: research and education, scholarships and library.

She said that under research and education, studies are undertaken in various fields of interest — such as characteristics and views of women in business, seminars on existing economic problems and conditions, executive development, training for management and executive positions. Seminars have been set up at various points throughout the United States for "Management in a Day of Change" and "Effective Leadership."

"There are also scholarships and fellowships," said Mrs. Affleck. "Because the foundation serves the interests of all working women, it provides a broad variety of ladders, from the girl graduate Career Awareness Project to women in mid-career situations who want to advance their careers, and the problems of women in retirement."

Career advancement scholarships are designed to give financial aid to permit women to continue their education, get a better job, switch career fields or re-enter the job market. In the past three years, 538 scholarships have been awarded for a total of $134,800.

In describing the Library and Research Center, Mrs. Affleck stressed the value of its collection of some 80,000 books, pamphlets, studies, newspaper clippings, microfilms, tapes of speeches and interviews concerning career women and on the history of B&PW.

At the dinner, Mrs. V. F. Michaels was honored as the Woman of the Month. Mrs. Anita Paulsen was welcomed as a new member, and Mrs. Lola Knowles was introduced as a guest. The next meeting will be held in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room, with the civic participation committee in charge.

Have the satisfaction of knowing that the original style of your clothes is protected when dry cleaned.

Hints From Heloise

Dear folks:
When we asked our readers how to remove the "hot," spicy taste from foods, we had no idea so many of you would take time to sit down to write us!

I have been spending the last few hours pouring over your letters and was surprised at some of the answers.

Many of you sweeties had a good idea: make another batch of chili (or whatever dish that is too spicy) without the seasonings, combine the two dishes and freeze the extra.

Isn't that a smart idea? Now you can have another meal ready in just minutes.

Or, just add another can of cooked pinto beans, some tomato juice or canned tomatoes.

Some even suggested that a teaspoon of sugar per quart of chili will cool it down.

Even some darling cook at a Mexican restaurant wrote. He — and other readers — said to add catsup or a few drops of vinegar to the food.

How about a yummy dish? Serve over shredded lettuce or over cooked macaroni, cooked rice or mashed potatoes.

If your spaghetti sauce is too spicy, stir in small curd cottage cheese. Betcha this will taste almost like lasagna!

For bland foods that are too spicy, add cream of mushroom soup. Or add salad dressing or mayonnaise.

Remove Stains

The inevitable spills and spatters that occur at the dinner table should be removed as soon as possible and before laundering. Grease and greasy food stains, which are particularly difficult to remove if left to stand, can be quickly and easily treated with corn starch. Cover stain with a layer of corn starch; roll up stained item and let stand. The corn starch will absorb grease. Then launder as usual.

naise to a too hot relish.
A sprinkling of ground allspice will correct over-peppered food — a banana will correct over-peppered throats.

And as one smart reader suggested, if eating out and find yourself caught with a mouthful that's too hot, a quick drink of iced tea has more cooling effect than water, soda pop, milk or any other beverage.

Aren't you all honey pies to give us all these good ideas? Maybe someone will come up with a new and delicious dish using some of these ideas.

Love to each of you all,
Heloise

Upcoming Meeting Designed To Fight Rising Food Costs

By SHERRY MULLIN
(County HD Agent)

For some time the cost of food has perhaps received more consumer concern than any other type expenditure. Each time we go to the supermarket and the cashier totals our bill we cringe as we think how much more our food costs than it did one year ago.

Inflation seems to have become a way of life. In order to preserve your buying power you must become a competent consumer. There are a number of things however, that we can do to reduce or control the amount of money that we spend for food.

Most of us are good food shoppers. All of us could be better food shoppers. New products, new forms of old favorites, new packages, new everything... means shopping know-how needs constant updating.

No one is a born shopper any more than he or she is a born cook. It takes time, thought, and planning. Wise shopping is knowing how to spend rather than how to save. Best buys are not determined by price alone. The time and effort spent in preparing the food is also valuable. There is no such thing as "absolute" best buy to suit everyone. Each shopper must choose products in relation to family tastes, time to cook, skills, and food money.

Today's supermarket stocks over 10,000 items. It is the ultimate in freedom of choice — freedom to splurge a little or save a lot. But this freedom to choose also places a responsibility on us to take time to plan before we spend and to buy the most value for our money.

These items will be the subjects of a Food Seminar to be held Tuesday, at 1:30 p.m. at the Howard County Fair Barn. This program is designed to help consumers combat rising food prices and provide nutritional family meals. There will be packages of free materials.

Everyone is invited to attend, free of charge. The seminar is sponsored by the Howard County Extension Service.

"What It's All About" will be the topic of Dr. Bill Vastine, Economist-Food Distribution, A & M University Extension Service, as he explains what makes up food prices, supply and demand as related to food prices and gives a forecast for food prices.

Ms. Kathrine Berry, home economist for a supermarket chain, will speak on "Meat It Head On." discussing how to buy meats, choosing low-cost meat cuts and meat alternatives.

"Fuel Saving Tips" will be given by Ms. Dana Feaster, home economist for Texas Electric Service Company. Her subjects will include time, energy and money-saving meals, as well as one dish meals, oven meals and freezing "planned overs."

The fourth speaker will be Ms. Sally Springer, Foods and Nutrition Specialist, A & M University Extension Service, who will view "Shrewd Shopping." This program will focus on general buying tips, food waste, unit pricing, date coding and nutrition labeling.

Rebekah Lodge Has Memorial

The charter was draped in memory of Mrs. Dorothy Bednar at Tuesday's meeting of Big Spring Rebekah Lodge 284 in the lodge hall.

The ceremony for Mrs. Bednar, past president of the Rebekah Assembly of Texas, was conducted by Mrs. Ruth McNew, Mrs. Maudie Jones, Mrs. Lillie Southard, Mrs. Janel Awtry, Mrs. Margi Norwood, Mrs. Lila Holland, chaplain; and Mrs. Mildred Collins, pianist.

Announcement was made of 18 attending the association meeting in Midland for which Robert Wilson of the local lodge served as master of ceremonies.

A study session for Past Noble Grand Club members will be at 7 p.m., Monday, in the home of Mrs. Rosalie Hill, 1010 E. 12th.

Reports were made of telephone calls and personal visits.

WILL WED — The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Lorie Muriel Deardorff of Stuttgart, Germany, is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Deardorff, Arlington, Va. The prospective bridegroom is Billy Bob Spier, U. S. Army, Stuttgart, Germany, son of Mrs. G. E. Free, Box 207, Garden City Rt., Big Spring, and the late Billy R. Spier. The wedding will be June 14 in Arlington, Va.

A LOVELIER YOU

Spring Reducing: For Thick Ankles

By Mary Sue Miller

To slim and trim the ankles to feminine proportions requires contouring exercise and well-fitted footwear. We'll begin with the appropriate exercise routines:

1. Sit on a straight chair. Swing legs forward and up until feet are slightly higher than chair seat. Keeping legs straight and together, arch ankles and point toes — hold for 5 slow counts. Lower feet to floor, rest and repeat 10 times.

2. Still seated on chair, slide heels forward along floor as far as possible, then relax knees and point toes. Now cross left ankle over right and turn left foot toward the floor. Work for pull in ankle and leg muscles. Reverse leg position and repeat routine. Alternating sides, continue for 16 repeats.

About shoes: Be sure all your shoes fit snugly and that the heel tips are straight. When shoes are out of kilter the ankles develop fatty pads to compensate for the ensuing strain. When possible, switch from low to high heels once daily. The resulting pull on the muscles is as beneficial as an exercise.

And do listen to your footsteps as you walk along a paved sidewalk. Clumps, scuffs and shuffles often signify improper shoes. Those soundings have been wide-spread during the recent fad for clunky shoes. But it's not the noise pollution that worries podiatrists; it's the damage done to the musculature.

SPOT REDUCING

Spot reduction — key to a proportioned figure. Exercise is the only way to trim those stubborn bulges.... to lose inches exactly where you wish. My new leaflet, SPOT REDUCING EXERCISES, gives easy routines — 40 in all — for slimming the upper back, arms, midriff, hips, legs, ankles.... Plus ideal measurements.... other figure-trimming tips. For your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin.

Dear Abby

Wife Wants Husband's Approval For Facelift

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a physician (G.P.), and ours is a good marriage. But like everyone else, I have a problem. For the last two years, I have been wanting to get a facelift, but my husband says, "If you get a facelift, I'll look like your father, so please forget it."

Abby, can you imagine a man being so vain as to deprive his wife of a facelift because he doesn't want her to look younger than he? (He says, "If you put on a little weight, those wrinkles in your face will fill out, and you won't need any plastic surgery." Isn't that a ridiculous way for a doctor to talk, knowing that my weight is perfect for my height?)

The plastic surgeon is tops and says he would gladly do me, but not unless I get my husband's permission.

I am a year younger than my husband, but I look older because I am prematurely wrinkled. I hate to look in the mirror. What should I do?

PRUNE FACE: You have three options: (1) Spend the rest of your life dodging mirrors and hating it. (2) Find a plastic surgeon who will give you a facelift regardless of what your husband thinks. (3) Make your husband realize that he is a selfish, egotistical little boy, and get him to change his mind.

DEAR ABBY: The people in our office refer to our boss as a "ladies' man." We are having a difference of opinion as to what that means.

Would you say that a "ladies' man" is a man who is interested in a lot of ladies?

CURIOUS: DEAR CURIOUS: No. A ladies' man is a man who has a lot of ladies interested in HIM.

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem that no one can answer for me, so I'm asking you. Can you get married if you aren't baptized? I wasn't baptized, and I have a neighbor who is a good Catholic. She asked me one day if I was baptized, and I told her no. Well, right away she started calling me

Altrusa Club Hears Guest From Iran

Altrusa Club members learned of customs of Iranians at a Thursday meeting when Mrs. Minoo Kiosravi of Teheran, Iran was guest speaker.

The luncheon table was centered with an arrangement of pink and lavender irises, and a decorated cake denoted April as birthday month for Altrusa, Int.

Mrs. Kiosravi is the wife of an Iranian Air Force major who is in training at Webb AFB.

Their religion is Moslem as is that of most of the 35,000,000 population of their country. The educational system is much like that of the United States, and the most important food stuffs are rice, wheat, barley and vegetables. The women are "liberated" in Iran, according to Mrs. Kiosravi.

Garden Club Council Reviews Campaign

Reports on activities of Big Spring Council of Garden Clubs were given Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Paul Guy. Host group was the Texas Star African Violet Club.

Mrs. Odell Womack reported on the completion of projects begun two years ago. These involved litter clean-up campaign and beautification project at a cost of $107,530.00 in which the council worked with the City of Big Spring and Howard County, numerous businesses and individuals.

Mrs. Guy displayed three certificates which the council won from District One, Texas Garden Clubs, Inc., the Pride People of Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, and from the National Council of State

Garden Clubs, Inc. and Sears Roebuck for environmental improvement which included a check for $100.

Mrs. J. B. Knox, in speaking on "Perennials and Ground Covers", told the group that planting of trees, shrubs and vines not only enhanced the beauty of the yard but helps keep the house cool in summer. She suggested planting daisies and larkspur in the areas where bulbs have been planted, providing beauty long after the bulbs have bloomed and gone.

The speaker said trees that thrive in this area are Arizona Cypress and junipers, while ligustrum, spirea and privet are hearty shrubs for the soil and climate. Vines that do well are English ivy, honeysuckle and Virginia Creeper.

The May 28 meeting will be a luncheon at which time Mrs. J. C. Pickle of the Big Spring Garden Club will be installed as president of the council, and Mrs. Womack will become vice president.

QUOTABLE WOMEN

Here are some quotable quotes from women during the week:

"All of us actresses are forever missing lines and entering the wrong door, and we recognize ourselves in her performance." Actress Ingrid Bergman, winner of an Academy Award for best supporting actress, complimenting one of her opponents, Valentina Cortese, who played the role of a forgetful actress in "Day for Night."

"All I've done for 14 years is raise money for An Lac so that the children could grow up in their own country to be better educated citizens of their own country. But I don't want them to lose their minds and souls to what I call a godless society." Betty Tisdale of Columbus, Ga., who has started a campaign in Saigon to move an entire orphanage of nearly 400 youngsters to the United States to save them from communism.

"The idea of marriage isn't normal. It is all a lie. It has come from Victorian times because of land and titles and things, and we have romanticized ourselves into a magazine unreality. Marriage has no meaning. What it has is rules." Actress Cloris Leachman, interviewed in New York.

"Blue collar women have the most problems and receive the least help from anyone, including their spouses. That is why they are under more stress from a layoff than their white collar counterparts or males of either job status." Dr. Rachell Warren of the Institute of Labor and Industrial Relations at the University of Michigan.

Brighten Your Home With Sewing Ideas

Does the interior of your home need a "face lifting?" Well, jump on the bandwagon and join the "do-it-yourself" decorating generation.

Do-it-yourself decorating has hit the household scene with a bang! Everyone is trying it. You can redecorate your home for a lot less money than you have ever imagined possible. And we all know the importance of thrift today.

Since home decorating has become increasingly more important, the pattern companies have found many ways to help you achieve the "fashion look" you want for your tired and faded rooms. They now offer more home decorating patterns than ever before including such items as bedspreads, decorative pillows, coverlets, dust ruffles, quilts, draperies and closet accessories.

Fashion colors have become as important to the interior of your home as they are to your wardrobe. It's down with plain, white sheets, dull color schemes and unattractive prints. Now home accessories have become some of the most important fashion items in the stores today. The word "accessory" has taken on a new meaning. It has become the little touches that help to make your rooms sparkle and come alive. They can be pillows in a variety of styles and colors, or a bedspread in great prints and textures, or even towels in new fashion colors. Whatever your choice, they give your home a total "fashion look."

Fabrics for do-it-yourself decorating have been greatly improved. You can now buy the same great colors, textures and prints that were once available only to professional designers. Or, in today's economy, why not start with sheets and towelings now available in colorful new prints, stripes, plaids and solids. And whether you sew forming a large pillow case, iron on your "Scotchmate" fabric fasteners to the fourth side for the closure and insert the quilt. Presto, a new coverlet for your bed and a new life for your old quilt. Why not add a dust ruffle to your new coverlet? You can make it easily by using the iron-on fasteners.

Just use your imagination. Take advantage of time-saving sewing trips and in no time at all those tired rooms of your home will have a new lease on life.

Another sewing project that is easy to do and will create whole new decorator look for your bedroom is a new coverlet from a recycled old, faded quilt. Just take two sheets one smaller than the size of the bed and machine-stitch them together on three sides, a lot or are just a beginner, you can start with a small project. Pillows or pillow covers are easy and do so much to freshen up that tired

ADD COLOR TO YOUR BEDROOM with decorative pillows and new coverlet. They are easy to sew and fun to make. Try time-saving "Scotchmate" Iron-On Flexible Fabric Fasteners in place of hard-to-fit zippers.

Garland No. 2 In Dallas Area

DALLAS (AP) — Garland passed Irving to become the second largest city in Dallas County, and Arlington got four times as many new residents as Fort Worth since 1970.

Those are some of the population estimates contained in a recently released report by the North Central Texas Council of Governments.

Garland has 119,900 residents, the estimates show. Irving has 113,600.

Dallas grew from 844,401 in 1970 to 912,900 in 1975, estimated Gil Mosard, NTCOG planning associate.

The report showed the fastest growing cities over 10,000 in the North Texas area to be Lewisville, up 17.2 per cent per year; Plano, up 16 per cent per year; and Carrollton, also up 16 per cent annually.

Window Is Family Room Can Be Home's Eye Joy For Everyone

Philosophers may have called the eye the window to the soul, but they also could have called the window the eye of the home. It's that special vantage point from which you can see the world around you. And for the optimum in home beauty, it's smart decorating to frame your own windows in imaginative styles.

If you're wondering how to decorate them, a new 132-page full-color book filled with pictures of rooms done by the country's leading interior designers can show you how. This new publication on window treatments also explains the most popular window styles, contains suggestions for all common and many problem windows. There's also an illustrated section explaining how to measure for draperies, drapery hardware, and how to make basic window treatments.

Family rooms have become so popular among homeowners that they are now considered almost a necessity. Studies indicate that the best selling new homes have a family room, most of which are located on the ground floor at the back of the house.

The desire to have a spot where an individual or everyone in the family can retire to relax or "forget the cares of the day" has led to the growing popularity of adding a family room as a home improvement project. Homeowners apparently prefer the bottom floor at the rear of the house as the site for their family rooms because it is more quiet and is closer to backyard activities.

A little imagination can turn a lackluster room where the family gathers to watch TV or listen to records into a neighborhood showplace.

family room is only 12-by-14 feet, the use of wood sliding windows or sliding patio doors can add dimension by making the outdoors a visual extension of the room.

Sliding windows and patio doors of ponderosa pine, for example, come in several styles and sizes and can be purchased at local building supply centers.

In tune with today's emphasis on energy conservation, these units have factory-installed weatherstripping to reduce air infiltration. The wood in the sash and frame is a natural insulator and in combination with insulating glass — two panes of glass with an insulating air space between — make a family room more comfortable, save on heating costs and reduce damaging condensation. Safety insulating glass is standard in the sliding patio doors. Should the glass be broken, it crumbles into pellets instead of dangerous shards.

These wood units are also in keeping with the modern homeowner's demand for easy care products. The insulating glass puts an end to the seasonal job of installing and removing storm sash. And cleaning time is cut in half since there are only two surfaces to wash instead of four.

Loans Can Be Arranged

The homeowner who wants to make home improvements has a number of sources for financing, according to the National Home Improvement Council. Here's what's available:

Passbook loans: Most banks, savings institutions, and credit unions will allow a depositor to borrow up to 90 per cent on his savings.

Life insurance loans: When the homeowner has built up some cash value on his life insurance, it is possible for him to borrow most of that amount.

FHA Title 1: Special home improvement loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration are available from many banks and savings institutions.

Conventional loans: Interest rates on conventional, unsecured loans vary, but usually range from 10½ to 12½ per cent.

Easy Upkeep

Here's an idea. Before you throw out that used household item, see if you can think of another way to use it to make housekeeping an easier, more creative job.

Even that shopping bag from the local supermarket comes in handy for other chores besides containing the trash.

If you're planning to paint a room, tie paper sacks over the light fixtures in the room, to prevent paint from dripping on them.

Old but clean powder puffs come in for their share of utility, too, as they make ideal polishers and buffers for your silverware.

SKOKIE, ILL. (AP) — The next time someone tells you he's from Springfield, don't take it for granted that he means Illinois. According to the 1975 Rand McNally Road Atlas, there's a city or town named Springfield in 20 states of the U.S., the most for any one name. The runner up is Washington, D.C., with 17 cities, in addition to the one in the District of Columbia.

Vote To Set Aside Funds To Clean Up Oil Spills

AUSTIN (AP) — Senators approved proposals today to set aside money to clean up oil spills in Texas' coastal water and to regulate the state's rich coal, lignite and uranium reserves.

Both measures go to the House.

Sen. A.M. Aikin Jr., D-Paris, said the only reason he voted for the surface mining bill was that "the environmentalists are against it."

The bill was approved on voice vote after the sponsor,

Rat' Elected By Students

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — University of Texas-El Paso students have elected a hamster to a student senate seat. The hamster, named Strippers, was run under the slogan "The only candidate honest enough to admit he's a rat." Student officials said they were concerned that Strippers' write-in victory could be challenged, since he is not a registered student.

Don't Overlook Laundry Needs

Planning a laundry area around your family's needs is a key to efficient home remodeling.

Start with a list of major items for which you use your laundry area. They would include:

Next, take an objective look at your family's life and consider your own work habits and preferences. Note those things that please or annoy in your present arrangement, then try to imagine how things could be arranged more conveniently.

Sears laundry experts point out that a laundry area should include space for sorting and folding, shelves for storing laundry aids, a place to hang Perma Press garments and, most important, a washer and dryer.

To this basic list can be added storage for soiled clothes, a sink, ironing board, even a sewing machine. Check the dimensions and details of your laundry area before you start. If you plan to remodel an existing room to include a laundry center, make a sketch of the room and its dimensions on graph paper, noting windows, doors, casings and trim, door swings and radiators or vents. Indicate the location of light switches, electrical outlets, exhaust fans and plumbing.

Indicate the location of light switches, electrical outlets, exhaust fans and plumbing.

If new appliances are part of your plans, learn as much as you can before you buy. Since the life of laundry appliances is usually 10 to 15 years, look for equipment that will meet your family's future needs and launder the fabrics of tomorrow as effectively as it does those of today.

In the past most automatic washers and dryers were 29 inches wide — 58 inches with a washer and dryer placed side-by-side.

Old Patio Furniture Renews Lease On Life

Furnishing a patio, breezeway or recreation room doesn't have to cost a fortune. Furniture rummaged from the basement, attic or garage can be recycled and given a new face with minor refinishing and colorful decal decorations for just a few dollars.

To show the possibilities, the stylists of Meyercord —

A FLORAL DELIGHT — With a little decorating, this old patio set is bloomin' with color. Meyercord stylists repainted the pieces and used bouquets of decal flowers to revive the set.

the country's leading decal manufacturer — turned a well-worn patio set into a blooming focal point of decor (see accompanying photo). For those who want to play designer and give old furniture a new lease on life, the experts offer these tips:

After removing dirt and grime, patch up any chipped areas and refinish or repaint.

When the paint is dry, you are ready to add decal designs. Pick a pattern that will complement the character of the furniture, as well as the room setting. The range of designs is enormous, with something for every style of decor. (For their patio set, the decal stylists chose summer blooms in reds, yellows, pinks and blues in two harmonizing patterns.)

Use the decal designs as they come on the sheet, or cut them out for new arrangements dictated by the imagination. Before applying, tape the arrangement in position to get the over-all effect.

Decals are easy to apply. Dip the decal in water for 10 seconds to release the design from the backing paper. Place the decal, face up, on a damp towel and wait for the design to release easily. Then slide the decal over the edge of the backing paper; place one part of it into position on the surface and gently pull the paper from under the design.

Smooth from the center with a squeegee or damp cloth and pick up excess moisture with a sponge or dry cloth. After the designs have dried thoroughly, apply a light coat of clear varnish just over the design pattern.

By substituting creativity for dollars, there'll be no need to put off redecorating your recreation room this year.

Reinstitute Death Penalty

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Maryland has become the 32nd state to reinstitute the death penalty since the U.S. Supreme Court's 1972 ruling on capital punishment.

A bill requiring mandatory execution for certain types of first degree murders was among 311 pieces of legislation signed Tuesday by Gov. Marvin Mandel.

The law mandates capital punishment of persons convicted of the premeditated slaying of police and corrections officers, child abduction and kidnap victims and targets of kill-for-hire contracts.

Also facing mandatory death are mass murderers and persons guilty of murder during an armed robbery or while serving a life sentence.

The law, designed to comply with the 1972 ruling by the nation's high court, applies to murders committed after next July 1.

Maryland last used its gas chamber in 1961.

'Self-Clean' Ovens Don't Sap Energy

Do self-cleaning ovens use more energy than conventional ovens?

Not at all, according to studies conducted by General Electric's Range Products Division, which developed the principle of pyrolytic self-cleaning and introduced it some 10 years ago.

"It is a fact that the improved insulation system added to GE self-cleaning ovens to contain the heat during the cleaning cycle actually reduces the energy requirements during normal baking and roasting," a GE spokesman said.

"In other words," he added, "a self-cleaning oven costs no more to operate, on the average, than a conventional oven which must be cleaned manually. The cost of operating the self-cleaning feature is offset by the savings during normal oven usage, based on average utility rates. The cost of a self-cleaning cycle is about a dime."

The GE statement was issued to help clear up any misconception that self-cleaning ovens waste energy and are more expensive to use than standard ovens.

No Bill Ex-Solon

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — A grand jury has no billed former state Rep. Ralph Scoggins on allegations he violated the Texas campaign reporting law.

He had been accused of failing to report contributions and to have made expenditures before appointing a campaign manager in connection with a drive to defeat the Fire and Police Employees Relations Act before the March 29 city elections.

Scoggins switched from the Democratic to the Republican party last year and was defeated for reelection to the Texas House in November.

'Horse' Bust At Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — State and county narcotics agents nabbed six persons early today and confiscated 3½ pounds of high grade heroin in what one officer said may be the biggest heroin seizure in Houston history.

Undercover agents arrested five men and a woman at a hotel in Southwest Houston. Officers valued the illegal narcotic at over $3 million.

Jimmy Burleson, a Texas Department of Public Safety officer, said the haul is believed to be the biggest ever made here.

Burleson said those arrested ranged in age from 25 to 36. Five gave Houston addresses while a sixth person listed a Chicago, Ill., address.

Softened Water Can Cut Costs

The cost of plumbing repairs is going up. So is the cost of soap. Shampoos are at an all-time high. Sheets that were $2.88 a year ago are now $3.39.

How can water help you cut these costs? "Just any water can't," says George H. Klumb, "but softened water can." Klumb is director of the Culligan Water Institute, a group concerned with improving the quality of water.

"Take plumbing and appliance repairs," says Klumb. "Hard water clogs shower heads and nozzles of all water-using equipment. It encrusts the inside of water pipes, reducing flow so acutely the pipes frequently have to be replaced. Softened water practically eliminates these repair costs."

Softened water doesn't eliminate the cost of shampoo, but it almost does. Ruth Aitken, formerly head of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, says, "If you have softened water, the shampoo used should be kept to 1-10 of what was used before."

Softened water cuts the cost of sheets and other linens, too. In a test made at a Chicago YMCA laundry, where bed linen was stamped with the date of its going into service, it was found that sheets lasted 32 per cent longer and pillowcases 39 per cent longer when washed in softened water.

The cost of labor and materials in housecleaning has gone up astronomically. Both can be cut. Research at Ohio State University has shown that over 50 per cent of the average cost of household cleaning supplies is saved when softened water is used and 40 per cent on labor.

People Killed

SILVERTON, Tex. (AP) — Monte Ray Peeple, 21, was killed near this Panhandle town Thursday night in a one-car accident.

minutes per week with softened water, a saving of 94 minutes per family per week. Projected on a yearly basis, the average time saved by using softened water was 81.46 hours. That's a vacation of over ten 8-hour days!

As a guide to those interested in enjoying the advantages of softened water, the Better Business Bureau has published a new booklet, "Tips on Water Conditioners." It is available free from the Culligan Water Institute, Northbrook, Ill. 60062.

Picture Frames Can Be Helped

You can buy budgetwise frames at many variety stores, or rescue an old frame from the attic. Refinish the frame to suit your taste — sometimes all that's necessary is a coat of paint or lacquer and a few highlights done in gold or silver gilt. Or you can antique it.

Since higher fuel costs are pushing the price of electricity up, it's important to use it wisely.

These two simple tools can help.

Proper insulation and weatherstripping will help you use electricity more efficiently for air conditioning. You can check the insulation and weatherstripping in your home with just a ruler and a flashlight.

Inadequate insulation is the single biggest cause of energy loss in most homes — in both summer and winter. Experts recommend about six inches of insulation in your attic.

If your attic insulation doesn't measure up, you can add more of either loose, blown-in insulation or "batts" (long strips). The loose kind of insulation settles, so it may be necessary to add more after several years.

To check the weatherstripping around exterior doors, have someone shine a flashlight around the edges of each closed door. If you can see light, it means you may have to add or replace worn weatherstripping.

Saving electric energy takes very little energy on your part, and, since electricity is costing more, it's worth the effort.

One Can Keep Office Hours In Living Room

A woman's place may well be in the home — but only if the home offers her a place where she can effectively carry on her diverse activities. So it is, with so many women starting their own businesses or just working at home, that an office-in-the-home has become a very viable concept.

With currently inflated prices, the prospect of adding another room is often out of the question, and the alternative — redesigning an already existing room to make it serve two functions — is beginning to make more sense to more families. Like the husband's study that can double as a guest room, designer Sharon Meadows feels a living room can do double duty as a lady's office. It's easy, economical — and egalitarian! After all, not every housebound executive wants to work at the kitchen table.

In her decorating scheme, Ms. Meadows used Finishing Touch's spacious curved-leg desk as a focal point. From the Charter collection, its rich look of olive ash burl with leathery inserts and intricately fashioned hardware makes it a conversation piece in the living room, as well as a joy to work at. Offsetting the desk's horizontal lines, the designer chose the tall, slender form of Ridgeway's "Chateau" floor clock to fill a corner between a wall of curios and a panel of ceiling-to-floor draperies. The grandmother clock is the best example of a piece that plays a dual role: as a beautiful and decorative addition to a living room and a functional timepiece, keeping a lady apprised of her valuable hours.

Seating space is essential to both the room's social and business purposes. Ms. Meadows chose two Kay-Lyn loveseats to face each other across a chrome-and-glass coffee table. It's a comfortable corner, equally right for entertaining guests with evening cordials or conducting casual corporate meetings. And Kay-Lyn's velvet-cushioned desk chair lets madame feel quite at home while at the "office."

AN OFFICE-AT-HOME can be easily created from that little nook in your bedroom or kitchen. All it takes is a few shelves installed by that handy man-around-the-house, plus a metal file cabinet, painted or decorated to suit your fancy.

Finally, don't neglect the personal touches. Nothing is worse than an office — at home or away — that's too businesslike or a living room with no sign of its family. So, with a fresh coat of paint, a few personal effects and just the right furniture, anyone can expand her living space without exhausting her budget and, when it's all done, have an elegant living room that's an equally elegant office — both just right for a busy Ms.

There's Trend To Stay Home

With the high cost of gasoline and traveling these days, it's expected that more and more homeowners will be spending their vacation time at home. That means the old homestead is going to be getting a lot more attention from both Mom and Dad. Lawn mower manufacturers, for instance, expect sales in lawn equipment to rise, as stay-at-homes find more time for sprucing up their yards. Housewives are expected to take advantage of added time at home by tackling those chores they've been putting off... resulting in hopeful prospects for cleaning aid sales. All in all, the trend to stay home will be beneficial to quite a few folks, not to mention the house itself!

Decorator's Task Is To Translate Style

When the housewife makes up her mind to redecorate, she is often faced with the big question: should I get a professional decorator to do the job or should I do it all myself?

The answer depends on the kind of person she is. Many women are unsure about color schemes and feel they lack imagination. Such a housewife would definitely profit from consulting an interior decorator. Other women have very definite ideas about how they want their home to look and don't want someone else's tastes "imposed" on them. Most of us however, are somewhere in between... with a pretty good notion of the kind of atmosphere we want in our homes and an appreciation of the expert advice that a decorator can offer. Actually, a good decorator never imposes his or her taste on the homeowner — rather, the decorator's job is to translate your tastes and life style into an attractive, comfortable, and practical setting for you and your family.

Many women who would love to use the services of a decorator, hesitate to do so because of the cost. If you're on a budget, why not check into the decorating services offered by the large stores in your town? Many of these stores have a trained consultant on staff to advise you on decorating problems at no charge.

Devices Help Fight Crime

Homeowners concerned with rising crime rates will be glad to know that many new security devices on the market are easy to install and relatively inexpensive.

Among the newer "electronic watchdogs" are units that answer the phone after three rings and record messages. This kind of device will discourage burglaries on your evenings "out", and will help fool burglars looking for unattended homes during the vacation months to come.

Screen Can Hide Walls

If your decorating problem is cracked walls or flaky plaster, a versatile screen could be your easiest solution. Highly decorative, as well as practical, they can be used in a variety of ways, advises the interior designer at Stanley, one of our noted furniture makers.

In a dining-room, for example, a combination of both screens and panels covered in fabric impart a charming Oriental atmosphere, while hiding the irregularities so often found in the walls of old homes and apartment buildings.

If your dining-room furniture is one of the new fashionable color finishes, such as the Ming yellow of the furniture in the accompanying photograph, the fabric should be selected to compliment its delicate coloring. A bold Chinese pattern of blue dragons on a red background dramatizes the subtle hue of these servers and chairs.

Wood screen frames, over which to tack the fabric, can be purchased in standard sizes from one of the large department store chains. The panels can be made with canvas stretchers available from an art store in varying sizes to cover any wall flaw.

Kitchens Take On New Look

Kitchen decorating has taken on a new concept. A creative person, when faced with the task of redecorating a kitchen, might make the often-used room look like an outdoor patio area.

Starting with the walls, put up house shaker shingles. Cover the floors with some wall-to-wall artificial turf — the soft, green indoor-outdoor kind. Brick-like tiles for the splash board area behind the sink complete the look.

With such a start, a person can go even further with individual accessory ideas, such as wrought iron dinette set or outdoor light fixtures which resemble lampposts. Many "natural" motifs and concepts are becoming popular in kitchen designs. Ideas in this area include the use of stone, brick, bamboo, terrariums, and living plants.

Vacuum Brush Most Helpful

Books, statues, pottery, sentimental treasures that collect more than their weight in dust and picture frames can be thoroughly and quickly cleaned by using the small round brush attachment that comes with most vacuums.

Give your carpeting that shampoo it needs. Even if you vacuum regularly, ground-in soil and dirt could weaken and destroy carpet fibers. As for your non-carpeted vinyl or other non-wood floors, remove the wax buildup. Dust, dirt, and grease do get ground into the wax, making the floor look dirty no matter how often you wash it. The same industrial-strength cleaner that does your super chores will remove wax. Just mop it on, let it stand until the wax softens, then mop up old wax, suds, and dirt. Finally, make your floors sparkle with a new coat of wax.

Grime Can Be Sponged Away

Start with one of the most difficult tasks and tackle all that built-up grime and grease in the kitchen. Make a clean sweep of every washable surface by sponging on a good strong industrial-strength cleaner. Dilute it with anywhere from one to five parts water, depending upon how much grime your kitchen has. Rinse with water, then wipe dry with a clean sponge or a cloth.

Berserk Sniper Kills Man

CHICAGO (AP) — A 17-year-old South Side youth who police said went berserk killed one man and seriously wounded another with a carbine before he was subdued, officers said.

Police said the youth, Larry Cole, also fired more than 20 shots from an apartment building Wednesday night at officers on the street while two patrolmen entered the building.

Officers Frank Gatz and Thomas M. Code broke in a door with a sledgehammer and disarmed Cole. They said he was still firing out into the street with an M1 carbine when they broke in.

Gatz said he and Code went to the building to investigate a report of an injured youth. They found the body of Alvin Lewis, 25, of Chicago, lying in a first-floor hallway. He had been shot in the chest and mouth.

An injured man identified as Willie Greenleaf, 23, staggered toward the officers and said someone was firing from an upstairs window.

Salt Dome Explosions Plan Eyed

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe said Monday that Gulf Coast states must join forces to keep an eye on federal plans to produce energy by nuclear explosions in salt domes of Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi and in the Gulf of Mexico.

"I feel very strongly that we cannot let the federal government proceed with this project unless we are thoroughly informed and involved in the decision-making process," Briscoe said in a letter to all the Gulf Coast governors.

He asked each of the governors to designate a staff member to meet at a later date with Briscoe's staff to discuss the project known as the "Pacer Plan."

Briscoe said he was told the federal Energy Research and Development Administration is considering a plan that would use the salt domes to produce power by exploding thermonuclear bombs in the domes to produce steam that would drive electric generators.

Advance information indicates the plan would involve the daily explosion of two thermonuclear devices three times the size of the atomic bomb dropped on Japan in World War II, Briscoe said. No final decision has been made on whether actual tests will be made.

Briscoe said he was told that no contact had been made any state government that would be involved.

"I feel that it is imperative...that those of us involved in this project by virtue of salt dome resources, be briefed and involved in the 'Pacer Plan' from the beginning," Briscoe told the governors. "We have too much at stake not to have a role in both the research and the decision-making process."

Conspiracy Count Dropped

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — A conspiracy indictment against Dr. G.E. Adami of Denton has been dropped.

The U.S. attorney's office here requested the indictment be dismissed against Adami, who, along with Denton County Sheriff Wylie Barnes, was charged with conspiring to help Adami's son avoid prosecution on drug trafficking and possession charges.

A federal grand jury indicted Barnes April 1 on charges of obstructing a federal agency's investigation and two counts of conspiracy. He pleaded innocent to all three charges at his arraignment.

Costs Reduced

When adding a room to your home, try to pick a location where an existing window or door can be used as a connecting passageway. By doing so, costs are reduced because the existing opening already will have a functioning header.

Use Cornmeal

To remove that rough feeling from your hands after performing household tasks or from any other cause, just sprinkle a little cornmeal on them while washing with soap and water.

IF YOU CAN BUILD A BOX, you can turn an attractive intercom device into a work of art. First, take accurate measurements, then cut the plywood to fit, glue pieces together with 3M's "Scotch" Super Strength Adhesive, attach hinges and you are ready to add your very own decorator touches.

Killeen Teen Shot Six Times

KILLEEN, Tex. (AP) — Bell County Sheriff Lester Bell said an 18-year-old Killeen man found shot several times lying beside U.S. 190 outside of Ft. Hood has been identified as Douglas Wade Chapman.

An autopsy showed Chapman, son of Sgt. I.C. and Mrs. Raymond Chapman of Kempner, had been shot six times, Deputy Sheriff Leon Phillips said.

Phillips, investigating the case with Texas Ranger Ed Gooding, said it appeared Chapman had been thrown from a fast-moving vehicle.

He was found by a member of the Ft. Hood military police.

Intercom System Can Be Made Attractive

Every apartment dweller is familiar with the lobby intercom, that little device which enables visitors to be announced and for tenants to communicate with the lobby. It's usually the first thing a visitor sees when entering an apartment and it's invariably ugly.

As a functional and frequently used communication device in apartment living, the intercom can't just be papered over and forgotten. And it can't be covered by a picture.

There is a way to make this eyesore more pleasing and yet permit quick and easy access when in use. Just make a box, decorate it to compliment your furnishings and hinge it to the wall so that it will swing open when the intercom is in use.

The first step is to measure the length, width and depth of the wall intercom. If it is equipped with a "talk" level protruding from the face plate, measure depth from the wall itself. Add 1-inch to these measurements to allow ample tolerance.

If the intercom measures 8" x 6" x 1", your measurements will be 9" x 7" x 2". From a 2" x 4" x 1/4" plywood sheet, cut two strips 9" in length and 2" in width and two strips 6 1/2" length and 2" width. Also cut a strip 8" x 2" and a rectangle 9" x 7".

When assembling, use a strong adhesive such as "Scotch" Super Strength that bonds quickly and is available in convenient 1 1/2-oz. tubes. Sand the ends of the strips smooth and turn the 9" and 6 1/2" strips on their side to form a rectangular frame with the shorter strips inside the longer strips.

Apply adhesive to corners where strips will join. Allow to dry, then re-apply adhesive and when "tacky", apply finger pressure to join corners to form frame. When dry, glue 9"x7" rectangle to frame to form face of box.

Allow to dry, then with face up, ascertain left side of box and glue 8" strip to inside of left frame to form hinge support. When dry, use 1 1/2" flat butt hinges and screw hinges to support with screws provided with hinges. Make sure hinges fold flat against support before attaching.

The face of the box may be finished by applying decorative molding 1 9/16" x 1/4" cut to the proper lengths and glued to the box face with the decorative side up. Use your imagination when decorating. Old greeting cards, seashells, colored Decorator Tape, fabric ribbon and cutouts are some suggestions. When dry, screw hinges to wall adjacent to the intercom. If the box will not stay closed by itself, glue a 1" steel mending plate to the wall where the right frame hits it. Glue a small magnet inside the right frame at a point where it will contact the mending plate when shut.

NEW PADDING FOR NEW SEASON — Richard Atkins, manager of Big Spring Hardware, puts padding in one of the new air conditioners sold by his firm. Such changes should be made at least once a year, according to Atkins, in order to guarantee maximum comfort from an air conditioner.

Entertainment Greats Adds Home Features

A popular Hollywood couple, Natalie Wood and Robert Wagner, recently renovated their home in Palm Springs, California. In their new laundry room, the stars included a washer with several energy-saving features and which also permits one-step loading of all the wash agents which are automatically diluted and dispensed during the selected cycle. The washer, General Electric's "Dispensall" system washer, has an 18-lb. capacity plus the GE "Mini-Baskets", which when used with the "Mini-Quick" cycle for small, lightly soiled loads can reduce power consumption by 66 per cent and water consumption by 45 per cent. Other features which can help reduce energy use are: two speed wash and spin selections, variable wash times, water temperature selections and water fill levels. The matching capacity gas dryer in the Wagners' new laundry room features five automatic cycles, including Permanent Press-Poly Knit and Extra Care for the special requirements of today's synthetic fabrics. The dryer's solid state electronic control monitors clothes moisture and terminates the cycle when they are dry, reducing the energy waste of overdrying. In addition, an electric ignition system eliminates the need for a standing pilot light, providing substantial energy savings.

$3,000 Fire At Apartments

FORT WORTH (AP) — A $3,000 fire at the Glen Garden Apartments office Thursday was set deliberately, investigators said. Lt. W. H. Gates said a flammable liquid was poured on a chair in the office after someone threw a big piece of concrete through a plate glass window. Fragments of a Molotov cocktail which did not ignite also were found in the charred office, he said.

Surprise? Tax Gets Top Bite

NEW YORK (AP) — Taxes are the largest single item in the family budget with the average American spending two hours and 35 minutes of every eight-hour working day toiling for the government, the Tax Foundation Inc. says. One hour and 38 minutes goes for federal taxes with another 57 minutes for state and local taxes, more than the working time required for food, housing clothing, medical care and any other necessity. "I believe that when people get used to the idea that taxes are the largest single item in the average family budget, they are going to take more interest in what our legislators are doing with our money," said the foundation's executive director, Robert C. Brown. The foundation is a publicly supported, nonprofit organization that does research on fiscal and management aspects of the government.

Credit-Age Bias Charge

WASHINGTON (AP) — After paying cash all their lives, elderly Americans now trying to join the "credit society" are denied charge cards because they're too old, a witness has told a House panel. Some of these persons make substantial retirement and investment incomes but are victims of an apparent arbitrary age cut-off on credit privileges, a consultant to two national retired-persons groups testified Wednesday. John B. Martin said there is "a clear pattern of discrimination against older persons by certain national credit card companies, department stores, gasoline companies, banks and other credit-granting institutions." "Older persons often encounter credit discrimination when they try to establish credit for the first time after a lifetime of paying cash," Martin told the consumer affairs subcommittee. Because many stores no longer take personal checks and some individuals are wary of carrying large amounts of cash, credit cards are almost required for these consumers, Martin said. The subcommittee is considering legislation that would ban credit discrimination on the basis of age, race, color, religion and national origin. Present law forbids discrimination because of sex or marital status.

It's Often Cheaper To Add Onto Home

One of the best "moves" a homeowner with a growing family can make is to look into the possibility of expansion before putting a "for sale" sign out on his front lawn.

Take a typical home with a covered carport and side entrance. Converting the carport into a year-round room gives the owner the extra room he needs. Moving the entrance to the front of the home and installing quality, ventilating windows adds immeasurably to the over-all appearance of the house.

Placing a dramatic, casement angle bay window in the wall of the new room opens it to broad views and provides light. The casements, which can be opened at the turn of a crank, also provide top-to-bottom ventilation.

Additional ventilation is achieved by replacing the old sliding windows in the front of the house with awning windows.

Operating windows such as casement and awning units also eliminate dependence on air conditioning when the outside temperature is comfortable.

Quality windows such as Perma-Shield units manufactured by Andersen Corporation of Bayport, Minn., however, offer more besides views and ventilation.

In many homes, considerable heat loss may occur through and around windows and doors. The combination of wood — a natural insulator — double-pane insulating glass and factory-applied weatherstripping reduces heat loss, which is passed on to the homeowner in the form of lower fuel bills.

Exterior surfaces on Andersen Perma-Shield window and gliding door units are encased in tough rigid vinyl, which protects the wood core sash and frame and assures snug closure. Insulating glass, standard in Perma-Shield windows, also does away with the task of putting up and taking down storm sash. And cleaning time is cut in half since there are only two glass surfaces to wash instead of four.

The homeowner winds up not only with more living space, but with up-to-date, low-maintenance windows that improve the curb appeal of his home, while reducing the cost of heating and air conditioning.

DINING OR BREAKFAST NOOK can be created from limited space by placing rectangular table against wall for maximum seating in small area.

Orders Ford To Release Road Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is under orders by the Senate to release $9.1 billion in highway construction funds to the states during the current fiscal year and the one that begins July 1.

The Senate's 77-7 vote Thursday came under terms of a 1974 law that permits either house of Congress to override a presidential decision to defer spending.

Ford had hoped to postpone allocation of the money as part of his drive to hold down federal spending and with it the size of the deficit.

But spokesmen for the majority indicated that they considered unemployment a more pressing national problem than the budget deficit.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., chairman of the transportation appropriations subcommittee, cited figures indicating that about 150,000 new jobs are generated by each $1 billion in highway construction.

Insulated Ceilings Can Save You Money

You can put $250 in the bank and earn for the year compound interest of 6.5 per cent or $17.03 on your money. Or you can invest that same $250 in your attic and earn up to $90 in one year. That's 36 per cent interest or more than five times the bank rate. What's the secret? Insulation. Just six inches of fiber glass insulation.

Energy experts at the Home Institute of Certain-teed Products Corporation, Valley Forge, Pa., report that homeowners around the country can save up to 30 per cent on their heating and cooling bills, just by having six inches of insulation overhead. In a 1400-square-foot home, the national average for savings on heating bills is over $60. For cooling bills, it's $35 or more. This assumes that the home has some insulation in the attic already.

For those homes ... and there are some 23 million of them, which have NO insulation in the attic, the savings jump to over $100 and $75 or more respectively ... on the AVERAGE.

These heating and cooling savings are directly related to the amount of insulation in the attic, the severity of the weather in your area, and the style of your home. But, as a rule of thumb, you can expect insulation to pay for itself in approximately two years if you add insulation to an uninsulated home. Utility bill savings after that are better than money in the bank.

For additional information on reducing heating and cooling bills, write for the "Old Farmer's Almanac Home Insulation Guide." It outlines expected utility savings for homeowners in 115 U. S. cities, and provides homeowner hints for installing attic insulation. Available, free, from the Certain-teed Home Institute, Box 860, Valley Forge, Pa. 19482.

Job Money Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is ready to pass a $6.1-billion, appropriations bill designed to create a million new jobs this year through public service employment and public works programs.

The measure contains $140 million more than the House version, passed March 12. Senate approval was expected today.

It is being pushed by Democratic congressional leaders as a major part of their program to reduce unemployment.

However, the bill authorizes spending far beyond the recommendations of President Ford. Administration officials have indicated strongly it will be vetoed.

The officials have said the President would accept about $2 billion of the authority, the part designated for public service jobs and summer youth jobs. But the rest is unacceptable, they told the Senate Appropriations Committee.

Carpeted Room Insures Sleep

One prescription for a good night's sleep is a pretty bedroom that's big on comfort and small on care.

Carpet used on the floor and walls not only does its own thing for glamour, it helps block out cold and noise — a special plus for drafty bedrooms or those next to the children's.

Cleanup Worries Eased

Creative cooking without problem cleanups is easier now with all the new nonstick cookware available. And with just a little care, those timesaving pan coatings will keep their good looks and their nonstick qualities.

Condition your skillet and your range-top pans more often than those used for baking. This means pouring a little cooking oil on the pan's surface to prevent drying and deep scratching. Rinse the oil and wipe the pan with a paper towel before using.

If you prefer, foods may be cooked without fat at slightly lower temperatures. And remember, minor scratches may look a little unsightly but they won't harm the pan's nonstick qualities.

It's most important to protect your nonstick coated pans by washing them thoroughly, especially after a few conditionings, because a thin, almost invisible layer of grease and food clings to your pans and destroys their effectiveness. A new product, Grease relief.

COOL ADDITION — A real home improvement that "adds on" to existing warm-air heating systems to cool and make your home more pleasant during hot, muggy months and increase its resale value, is the compact central air conditioner.

Know Your Enemy In Insect World

Like the FBI's "Most Wanted List," the homemaker of today has another list — the Ten Most Unwanted — those household pests that invade the home without invitation.

According to the National Pest Control Association, a non-profit organization of pest control companies that specialize in controlling rodents and insects in and around structures, these unwelcome guests do an estimated $4.5 billion in damage every year. Even worse, many household pests actually endanger your family's health.

Unfortunately, even the cleanest house on the block can be, and often is, visited by unwanted pests. Household pests are not strictly regional or seasonal. Modern climate control enables pests to exist and multiply indoors all year. Rodent problems, however, increase in autumn when low temperatures drive rats and mice inside seeking food and shelter. Roaches hitchhike into homes in grocery bags.

Other insects ride in on shoes or clothes. Clearly, pest control is a year-round job no matter where you live. Effective pest control is more than a grocery store spray, a fly swatter, and a mouse trap. The fundamental problem: pests thrive on food, warmth and water — three elements that make your home livable.

Since you cannot eliminate these basic appeals, concentrate on preventive measures:

Frequently clean possible pest hiding places and breeding spots — cracks and crevices in floors, baseboards, vents, under staircases, etc.

Dispose of all debris and garbage daily.

Screen outside doors and windows and close outside cracks and crevices where pests can enter your home.

Buy only small quantities of food you seldom use. Store food in tight containers which insects cannot invade. Clean up crumbs and spilled foods.

Inspect incoming grocery bags and soft drink containers. Pay particular attention to produce packages.

If you use pesticides, remember: All pesticides are potentially harmful if misused.

Purchase only pesticides bearing Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) registration numbers and registered for the use which you intend for it. These products are effective, safe and not harmful to the environment if used as directed.

Read label before you buy pesticides. Follow directions. Don't use insecticides registered for cockroaches on your garden insects, for example.

Store unused pesticides where children cannot reach them. Dispose of properly and carefully.

When you need professional help, call in an expert. Pest Control professionals receive specialized training to solve your pest problems safely within the context of your home and natural environment.

FAMILY ROOMS TAKE ON ADDED DIMENSION when they are open to views. In tune with today's emphasis on energy conservation, these sliding patio doors of ponderosa pine have factory-installed weatherstripping and double-pane insulating glass to make a family room more comfortable, save on fuel costs and reduce damaging condensation.

943 Pounds Of Pot Seized

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — U.S. Customs patrol officers here have seized 943 pounds of marijuana valued at more than $260,000 and arrested two Mexican nationals.

Kenneth W. Wisecarver, acting regional commissioner of Customs in Houston said the semi-refined marijuana, packed in kilo bricks, was turned over to the Drug Enforcement Administration here. He said the two arrested men will be arraigned today before a federal magistrate here.

Wisecarver said a customs pilot radioed patrol officers on the ground early Thursday when he saw two men abandon a pickup truck near the Rio Grande after the customs plane flew low over them. Customs officers on the ground intercepted the men and seized the truck and the marijuana.

Bell Suit Will Open July 14

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Trial of a $29.2 million lawsuit against Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. will open July 14 with no chance for further delays, District Court Judge Peter Michael Curry says.

He gave that ruling Thursday after splitting into two causes a suit filed jointly by ousted Bell executive James H. Ashley and the family of former Bell Texas operations head T.O. Gravitt.

Ashley and the Gravitt family contend an unwarranted Bell internal inquiry led to Ashley's firing and Gravitt's suicide last October.

Curry said the Gravitt action would be tried first, followed immediately by Ashley's suit.

"I want to make it quite clear, gentlemen, that there will not be another continuance granted in this cause," Curry said.

Southwestern Bell lawyer Hubert Green said he asked for the delay to allow completion of depositions being taken in the Ashley-Gravitt suit, because of an unrelated but time-consuming antitrust action against Bell in federal court and to allow pre-trial publicity to die.

The case has drawn heavy news coverage because of claims that Bell engaged in illegal political activities, practiced deceitful rate-setting and used irregular finance methods.

Plaintiffs lawyer Pat Maloney said that Bell sought a delay until October because "the way to get any justice if you are big and rich is to never go to trial."

Bell lawyers said splitting the trial into two actions would make the complex issues easier for a jury to understand.

They said also that reducing the complexity of the suit in such a manner would lessen the chance of reversible error on appeal.

Maloney said that the elements of the law, the witnesses and the evidence in the Ashley and Gravitt cases are almost identical and that the case should be tried as one suit.

The Ashley-Gravitt suit has spawned more than a dozen state and federal investigations of Southwestern Bell and American Telephone & Telegraph Co. (AT&T), the parent company.

MICROWAVE MAGIC: a six pound standing rib roast from the refrigerator to the table in just an hour? It's possible with this new countertop microwave oven from General Electric which features a Defrost Plus cycle.

Microwave Oven Saves Much Time

The ice is out, the snow is gone and crocus are pushing their heads above ground. Spring also is a time when family activities speed up, and interest turns outdoors — gardening, tennis, fishing, the zoo, biking, shopping, you name it. Everyone, including mother, is busy. And that means that mother's schedule sometimes doesn't leave enough time to prepare as complete a supper as she would like. And other times the meat doesn't get thawed in time and everyone takes potluck.

These problems can be alleviated with a countertop microwave oven which can prepare complete meals or snacks in a fraction of the time required for conventional cooking.

A new model from General Electric, the JET 83, features a Defrost Plus cycle which can quickly bring frozen foods to room temperature, or slow cook foods such as fish, packaged bakery goods and frozen dinners to help prevent drying out.

The low-power Defrost Plus setting provides about 60 per cent of the cooking power of the regular Cook setting. It is the most convenient way to evenly thaw large frozen items, such as roasts, as well as defrosting frozen fruits, such as strawberries, without

Plants Help A Window

If you want to break away from traditional window coverings like curtains and shades, try a lively and exciting look: plants.

A do-it-yourselfer could put several rows of shelves, spaced six to eight inches apart, over the window. The carpentry involved isn't difficult.

Add a generous collection of sun-loving plants, in all sorts of varieties, and you have a beautiful window design, some privacy for yourself, and healthy greenery enjoying lots of sunlight.

cooking them. A frozen five-pound roast, for example, can be microwave ready to cook in about 30 minutes.

The new model has a dual-speed timer which makes the accurate selection of cooking time easy. A built-in recipe guide on the control panel provides quick reference to defrosting and cooking times of many foods.

A comprehensive 312-page microwave oven cookbook accompanies the appliance and offers 485 tested recipes and tips on microwave cooking.

No matter why you're running late — flat tires, watch stopped, unexpected guests, or even plain old Spring fever — the JET 83 countertop microwave oven can help you make up for lost time.

You Can Install New Dishwasher

The full-featured built-in dishwasher can be a welcome addition to the kitchen being remodeled... and a kit with complete parts and instructions can help to simplify the job for the home handyman.

The kit offered the do-it-yourselfer by Hotpoint, for example, contains all the parts needed for a typical installation of one of its undercounter models. It includes such items as drain hose, clamps, copper water line, elbows, unions, and electrical connectors. And it even has detailed directions, diagrams and illustrations with particular attention to safety and proper procedures.

Popular among built-in dishwashers is the Hotpoint "Dish-Potwasher," so designated because among its 11-cycles is a Dish & Pot Washer cycle for heavily soiled pots, pans, and casseroles.

It is heavily sound-insulated and comes either with tempered black glass front panels or with reversible color door panels to match kitchen decor. The black glass panels also are available as a kit to add to the versatility and eye-appeal of this appliance.

An energy-saving feature is a "Wash-Natural Dry" cycle and an energy- and water-saving Short Wash cycle for lightly soiled loads. Moreover, the high-efficiency wash system uses less than 16 gallons of hot water during the complete wash-rinse cycles.

Zapruder Film Obligations

NEW YORK (AP) — Time, Inc., says it was unable to donate the famed Zapruder film of the late President John F. Kennedy's assassination to the National Archives because of "legal obligations to the Zapruder family."

But it said that multiple first generation copies of the film and a set of first generation transparencies of each frame would be presented to the archives "where they can be seen by the public."

The company returned the film taken by Abraham Zapruder in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963, to his family for the sum of $1. The transaction wound up lengthy negotiations over the ownership of the film.

Zapruder, who died in 1970, sold the film to the Time-Life-Fortune magazine publishing firm two days after the assassination for a reported $25,000. A copy of the film was part of the record of the Warren Commission which investigated the assassination and concluded that Lee Harvey Oswald was the sole assassin.

Best Buy -- Central AC System For Home

Fed up with fighting hot, muggy days and sweltering nights at home each summer?

Isn't it time to stop kidding yourself — by carrying a noisy window fan from living or family room to bedroom and back again — and actually do something about it? Invest in a real "home improvement" — central air conditioning — before the dog days of summer arrive. It will not only transform your residence into a more comfortable, pleasant place during the cooling season, but it may also increase the value of your home, possibly make it easier to sell should you decide to do so, and help protect valuable furnishings from excessive humidity.

A quiet, efficient central air conditioning system can be added directly to most forced air heating systems. The cooling coil can fit into existing furnace ductwork and is connected to a weather-resistant condensing unit located outdoors. The furnace fan provides for air circulation. This is called a split-system air conditioner, and it is available in many capacities to fit most homes and pocketbooks.

One of the leading manufacturers, General Electric, offers 18 different models in capacities from 13,000-BTUH up to 70,000-BTUH.

The top-of-the-line Executive models, available in capacities from 29,000-to 60,000-BTUH's, are the quietest outside and the most economical operating central air conditioners in these ratings of the manufacturer's complete line. In these days of mounting energy shortages and costs, Executive units contribute to efficient home cooling performance by offering Energy Efficiency Ratings (EER) of 7.8 to 8.5 BTU's of cooling for each watt of electricity used in the home, depending on which model you buy.

An example of the dollar-saving opportunities involved in selecting a central air conditioner with a higher EER rating is that each 1.0 EER improvement with a 3-ton system represents an annual cost savings of about $27.00 in Atlanta, Ga., about $46.00 in New York and about $88.00 in Miami, Florida.

Another advantage of a central air conditioning system is that it helps maintain proper levels of humidity in every room of the house.

For homemakers who want assurance that they'll be protected against the cost of unexpected breakdowns, some manufacturers offer service contracts. Available at the time and purchase of General Electric heating and central air conditioning systems is the company's National Service Contract Plan.

The Plan covers all service required as a result of normal usage, both parts and labor, for the second through the fifth year. The contract is directly between the purchaser and the manufacturer and provides freedom from unexpected service costs incurred through normal usage.

Carpet Looking Bad? Shampooing Helps It

If you've forgotten how great your carpet looked when it was installed — the colors vibrant and the nap plush and soft — it's time to do some "undercover work." Hiding beneath a heavy cloak of color-dulling film, stubborn grease and ground-in dirt is the carpet you'd like to see again. But it is suffering from those perennial wall-to-wall blahs.

Do-it-yourself shampooing is the solution. And with today's effective home cleaning products, you can do a top-flight job in record time for only pennies a square foot — quite a bargain today for a redecorating face-lift. For best results, the Bissell Consumer Service Institute recommends combining the mechanical action of an electric shampooer with the foaming action of a liquid carpet shampoo. Choose a machine with straight-line, back-and-forth brush action rather than a rotary brush shampooer. It will be easier to maneuver and won't untwist or tangle carpet fibers. Before beginning, vacuum the entire carpet, move the furniture out of the way, and pretest the carpet for color fastness by shampooing a small, inconspicuous area.

Little Imagination Can Help Bathroom

If your bathroom is typical of 75 per cent of those around today, it's small, dull and in need of remodeling.

But when you look in home improvement magazines, all you see are large, luxurious bathrooms bigger than the living rooms in most homes.

Where do you get ideas for remodeling that small bathroom?

Make use of the design concepts in those showcase bathrooms, says Kohler Co., a leading manufacturer of plumbing products. Select the ideas, color schemes and products you like and incorporate them into your plan.

There are seven basic elements that go into a practical, functional and beautiful bathroom, no matter what size it is.

GOOD PLAN

The first is a good plan. Getting the most bathroom for your money is simply a matter of making the best use of available space.

Begin with questions only you can answer. Who will use the room — the entire family, adults only, children only, guests?

How many persons must it serve at peak periods such as getting the family off to work or school?

What extras should the room provide — whirlpool bath, hair washing center, off-the-wall hand held shower, compartmented toilet and bidet, bathtub with built-in safety features?

Once you've determined whom and how the new room will serve, it's important to know what's available in plumbing products and accessories. That's step two.

Toilets are available with a variety of features. Some will not overflow. Some are wall hung for off-the-floor convenience.

Some are less than 19 inches high; counter tops can extend over the back of the toilet for additional storage space.

And some, like Kohler's Minaqua, use 30 per cent less water than conventional toilets. Ideal for cottages, farms and other homes dependent on wells and septic tank systems, as well as for use in areas of expensive water and sewerage rates.

Bathtubs for the smaller bathroom range from extra long, like Kohler's 6-foot Caribbean for stretch-out comfort, to extra deep, like the Steeping Bath, 20 inches deep for soaking comfort, but only 5 feet long to fit the tub recesses found in conventional bathrooms.

Kohler bathtubs in enameled cast iron have the textured Safeguard bottom that helps keep wet feet from slipping. Some tubs are also available with safety grip handles.

Lavatories today do more than just hold water. They're shampoo-grooming centers with plenty of room and convenience features like swing-away spout, shampoo hose and spray, soap-lotion dispenser. And they're self-rimming for neater, quicker installations.

THIRD ELEMENT
Color coordination is the third basic element. And it's even more important for the smaller bathroom.

Plumbing products are available in such attractive colors they almost beg to be the starting point of your color scheme.

Choose from bold accents like Tiger Lily, Blueberry, Antique Red or Sunflower. Use bright colors like Pink Champagne, New Orleans Blue, Fresh Green or Harvest Gold. Mix or match. Open up a small room with light, bright colors.

Easy maintenance, the fourth basic element, is as important in the bathroom as it is in any other room.

Begin with quality fixtures, those with finishes of glass-hard vitreous china or durable enameled cast iron.
