Commander Of Saigon Promising Leniency

By the Associated Press

"A sea of people" gathered at South Vietnam's former presidential palace today and heard the commander of the Saigon area promise leniency for former opponents of the Viet Cong and respect for the lives and property of foreign residents, Saigon radio reported.

The mass rally, held under a mammoth portrait of Ho Chi Minh, was designed to introduce the new administration for the Saigon region. It marked the regime's first week in power. In neighboring Cambodia, the last convoy of about 250 foreigners trapped in the country, including five Americans, was reported just 36 miles from the Thai border.

At the same time, the Khmer Rouge radio said Cambodia's new leaders have launched a big campaign to "clear the country of filth and garbage" left by the war and are pursuing an "offensive to increase production" in order to be "completely independent of all foreigners."

At Subic Bay Base in the Philippines, about 20,000 weary refugees arrived in a convoy of 26 South Vietnamese navy vessels after a week's journey from the Vietnamese coast.

U.S. officials said the vessels now belonged to the United States because U.S. Navy officers boarded each ship before they entered Philippine waters and took over title.

The move apparently was designed to meet a Philippine government demand that no ships or personnel of the former Saigon regime enter its territory.

Gen. Tran Van Tra, who led the attack on Saigon in the 1968 Tet offensive and later represented the Viet Cong on the Joint Military Commission, warned the crowd in the South Vietnamese capital of severe punishment against any who "sever themselves from the people" and "serve as henchmen for foreign countries."

But he promised leniency and understanding for soldiers and officials of the old government and respect for the lives and property of foreign residents "providing they earn an honest living through clean business" and obey laws and orders.

The general called on Viet Cong soldiers and cadre to stay ready to "smash all counter-revolutionary schemes." He concluded that "our city will surely develop all its rich potential," the radio said. The national anthem, only slightly altered from that used under the Nguyen Van Thieu regime, opened the rally, the radio said. "Shouting of revolutionary slogans" was the closing item on the schedule.

A delegation of children was detailed to give flowers to members of the military management committee on a podium outside what has become the administrative offices for metropolitan Saigon.

The presidential palace, set in a park of giant tropical trees, was heavily guarded with barbed wire, armored vehicles, anti-aircraft guns and troops.

The broadcast said that officials on hand in addition to Tra, chairman of the metropolitan military management committee, included Deputy Chairmen Vo Van Kiet and Mai Quy Tho, and Maj. Gen. Hoang Cam, commander of the metropolitan defense corps.

At the Thai frontier town of Aranyaprathet, Marc Bonnefous, special representative of the French government, said he had received the report of the convoy of foreigners from Khmer Rouge border guards at "Freedom Bridge" that links Cambodia with Aranyaprathet.

Three air-conditioned buses, four French doctors and a team of Thai Red Cross nurses waited near the crossing point for the convoy that, in addition to the Americans, includes some 100 French citizens and about 140 Pakistanis who have been living in Cambodia. The first convoy of almost 600 foreigners, which arrived Saturday, took three days to cover the 200-mile route over bomb-damaged roads.

The South Vietnamese were invited to the gala ceremony at the former presidential palace by an earlier Saigon broadcast that warned them to keep order "to prevent any destructive infiltration."

Republicans Planning Ford's 1976 Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group of top Republicans is meeting to start planning President Ford's 1976 campaign after the President made his firmest declaration of candidacy to date and outlined a platform for his nomination and election bids.

Dean Burch, the former Republican national chairman who is leading the initial organizing effort, said in an interview that today's session will discuss "the whole gamut" of pre-campaign matters.

These will include creation of a formal Ford campaign committee and selection of a campaign manager, development of fund-raising plans and an overall strategy including which presidential primaries the President will enter next year.

Ford told his nationally broadcast news conference Tuesday night that he is surprised at the continued skepticism about his 1976 political plans. "I will be at the proper time a candidate in a legal sense and no one should feel otherwise," he said.

The President said "I believe that I have the best opportunity to solidify the Republican party" to battle the Democrats. He made clear he will campaign for "a continuation of the basic policies of the last eight years" and will defend the way GOP administrations handled the Vietnam war.

"A Republican administration ended the war in Vietnam," Ford said. "They withdrew 550,000 American military personnel. They brought back all of the POWs."

Vietnam, and the U.S. evacuation that accompanied the final collapse of the American-backed government in Saigon last week, were a recurrent theme at the President's news conference, his first in a month.

Ford said: "Ambassador Graham Martin should be praised for carrying out 'a very successful evacuation' from Vietnam, rather than criticized by 'Monday morning quarterbacks or grandstand quarterbacks.'"

He is "very upset" at some of the criticism over admission of Vietnamese refugees "because the United States has had a long tradition of opening its doors to immigrants from all countries." Ford said he is encouraged by support from the AFL-CIO executive committee, the American Jewish Committee and a group of governors and a mayor.

"The war in Vietnam is over" and "it would be unfortunate for us to reshuffle allegations as to individuals that might be to blame or administrations that might be at fault." He said a congressional inquiry into how the United States got in and got out of Vietnam "would only be divisive and not helpful."

"The United States has 'very hard intelligence' that some 80 or 90 former Cambodian officials and their wives were executed. He cited this as "very factual evidence of the blood-bath that has taken place or is in the process of taking place in Cambodia."

In Vietnam, "hard evidence" of a blood bath is lacking but the flight of 120,000 Vietnamese who feared their lives were in jeopardy "is the best evidence of what probably will take place."

HER 21ST GRANDCHILD — Kathryn Clouse, Des Moines, Iowa, hugs Kim Anh Ly Ly, 26, and her daughter Julie, 7, who arrived as Vietnamese refugees after the Clouses promised the State Department they will care for them. Julie is the daughter of Mrs. Clouse's son and although her mother and dad never married, the "GI baby" is "our 21st grandchild," Mrs. Clouse says.

South Viets Howling, Crying, 'Come Back!'

AGANA, Guam (AP) — An evacuation captain whose ship reached here after more than a week at sea says thousands of South Vietnamese "howling and crying, 'come back!'" were left behind on the beaches.

Capt. Arthur Boucher said that "at Phu Cuoc there were 30,000 to 50,000" would-be refugees left behind who pleaded to board his ship, the freighter "American Challenger." "There were people afloat in boats. They were scrambling to get on the ship," said Boucher, who arrived Tuesday with his ship, one of the last to leave South Vietnamese waters.

Boucher's ship took on 9,000 refugees, about double its capacity. Later, nearly half were shifted to other vessels, he said. Arriving here shortly after the Challenger was the freighter "Pioneer Commander" with about 5,400 Vietnamese refugees. Both vessels took more than a week to get to Guam.

Many refugees were Catholics, led by several Vietnamese priests who apparently brought along their entire congregations. One refuge carried a life-size statue of the Virgin Mary.

Both ships carried many poor fishermen and their families, some of them carrying their belongings in fishing nets, who came barefooted in black pajama-like clothes.

The Pioneer also carried an elite group of passengers, headed by Tran Van Lam, a former president of the South Vietnamese Senate who signed the 1972 Paris peace agreement. Others included a former foreign minister, high police officials and the former director of Tan Son Nhut airport.

The VIPs were kept apart from the rest of the passengers, who might blame them for the fall of their country, officials said.

The two ships are U.S. vessels under military control. They docked at South Vietnamese ports specifically to pick up refugees.

Cancer Crusade Will Benefit From Ride

The Bike-A-Thon was stressed at the board meeting of the local unit of the American Cancer Society as a means for augmenting contributions to the annual crusade.

Jerry Yarborough, crusade chairman, pointed out that bicyclists would leave the College Park Shopping Center at 10 a.m. Saturday armed with pledges of donations for the mile they ride.

Two bicycles, donated by Montgomery Ward and White's Auto will be awarded those who turn in the most funds.

Dr. James Cave presided at the board meeting and appointed chairmen for the coming year including Mrs. Clyde Thomas, public service; Mrs. Joe Pickle, memorials; Mrs. Ben Boadle, public education; Mrs. Marj Carpenter, publicity; and Yarborough, crusade.

Delegates were elected to the annual district meeting to be held June 11 in Odessa. They include Dr. Carol Ewing, Mrs. Boadle, Mrs. Thomas, Dr. Cave and Jerry Yarborough.

The board agreed to meet again in September and not meet monthly during the summer months.

Board members welcomed as new to the board in attendance Tuesday included Dr. Ewing and Dr. Maurice Bercier. Twelve board members attended and Chris Torte, cancer executive from the Midland office.

The World At-A-Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany believes the nation's unemployment rate will rise from its current 8.9 per cent level to about 11.5 per cent before the recession ends. President Ford, however, said Tuesday night that "we're in the process of coming out of a recession." Ford said the nation should be in the midst of a healthier economy by next year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Opposition is developing to a proposal that could require some homeowners to get an Army Corps of Engineers permit before filling a backyard swimming pool and certain farmers to seek permission to plow. The proposal by the Army Engineers would give them ironclad rule over virtually every natural and artificial body of water in the nation.

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — In an attempt to curtail the rising divorce rate, the Roman Catholic Diocese in Orlando has set a three-month cooling-off period for anyone under the age of 19 wishing to marry in the church. Under the "Youthful Marriage Policy," priests also will scrutinize teen-agers to see if they are mature and financially stable enough to make a success of marriage. The diocese, which includes 13 Central Florida counties, has more than 140,000 members. Diocesan officials estimated that about 100 to 120 cases a year would be affected by the policy.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Conflicting decisions in the Senate and House Armed Services committees signal a congressional battle ahead over addition of the B1 bomber to the nation's strategic weapons arsenal. The House committee, in approving a $32-billion weapons authorization bill Tuesday, included the entire $948.5-million requested by the Air Force for the B1 for the 15 months beginning July 1.

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — A convoy bringing out the last foreigners trapped in Cambodia today was reported just 36 miles from the Thai border. Marc Bonnefous, special representative of the French government, said at the Thai frontier town of Aranyaprathet he had received the report from Khmer Rouge border guards at "Freedom Bridge" that links Cambodia with Thailand. The convoy reportedly includes five Americans, some 100 French citizens and about 140 Pakistanis who have been living in Cambodia.

Charge Escapee In Abduction Of Big D Deputy

DALLAS (AP) — Police today held a 29-year-old Indiana federal prison escapee charged in the abduction of a Dallas County sheriff's deputy and a Fort Worth taxicab driver.

William Ray Plemons arrived at the city jail late Tuesday, bloodied and muddled. Officers said he suffered two head wounds in a struggle during his arrest Tuesday morning near Texarkana.

Shortly after his arrest Plemons was arraigned in Texarkana before Justice of the Peace Benn Grigson, who set bonds at $200,000.

Officers said Plemons escaped April 28 from the federal prison at Terre Haute, Ind., two weeks before his scheduled parole on a bank robbery conviction.

"The (Texas) Court of Criminal Appeals is the one that has to rule on this bond, not me," District Judge Ralph W. Caton said, ending a hearing for a man accused of murder.

Tuesday afternoon, Witter Jean Ballard, 49, was in the Howard County district courtroom seeking to have bonds lowered.

Ballard was convicted in Alpine for the Dec. 2, 1970, murder of Steve Currie, 70, a prominent Glasscock County rancher, but the appellate court reversed his conviction for retrial.

NOT EXECUTED Originally sentenced to death, Ballard was serving a life sentence when the new trial was ordered on Feb. 5.

The robbery case is pending in Lamesa, where it was transferred. District Attorney Robert H. (Bob) Moore III told Ballard he would not ask for dismissal of the murder indictment. The robbery trial is scheduled for Sept. 8.

After confusing and inconclusive testimony, it appeared an appeal bond of $100,000 was set in connection with the murder conviction. And two bonds of $150,000 each were said set with the indictments for murder and robbery returned earlier.

WANTS WORK Bobby R. Bearden, attorney for Ballard, argued the bonds be reduced to $15,000 each. This way, Ballard would have "time to get out and work and get his own lawyer," Bearden said.

Ballard said he also needed medical attention. ESCAPES A 6'3" man with tattooed arms and cowboy boots, Ballard told the court about breaking jail in Fort Stockton in 1955 and escaping state prison in 1958.

Ballard said he "just walked out the door" of the Pecos County Jail. "I was gone about five minutes" from prison, Ballard said. Bearden testified that, to his knowledge, Ballard had never jumped bond nor had bond for Ballard ever been forfeited.

TRUSTY Within three weeks of going to prison for the Currie killing, Ballard said he was designated a state-approved trusty.

LONGTIME INMATE Ballard said he first became a trusty there in 1944 while serving his first prison sentence. The defendant said he again was imprisoned from 1948 to 1967, except for 90 days of parole.

After this short period of freedom, Ballard was found guilty of robbery.

HOW MANY? Ballard told the district attorney he could not estimate how many felony offenses he had been convicted of.

Law enforcement officers who had transported him between jail and prison facilities had never complained about his conduct, Ballard said.

Guilford Jones, special prosecutor at the murder trial, testified briefly at the start of the hearing for a writ of habeas corpus.

Then, Bobby Waddell, Odessa, a friend of Ballard's for 27 years, told the court bonds totaling $30,000 could be made.

RANGER Jerry Spence, court reporter, recorded his own testimony about earlier proceedings.

At the suggestion of Bearden, Judge Caton ordered Spence to transcribe the hearing testimony with haste for the appellate court in Austin.

Texas Ranger George Frasier took Ballard to and from district court here. Ballard is in jail in Lamesa.

Should Women Be Allowed Into Military Academies?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The fight to open the three U.S. military academies to women will be carried to the House floor but a congressman leading the effort says he'll probably drop his bid to make women eligible for combat as well.

Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., lost the fight in the House Armed Services Committee on Tuesday but said he can win in the full House.

His amendment to eliminate the ban that keeps women out of the academies and certain military duties, including combat, was tabled by the committee 24 to 12. Stratton said that when he goes to the floor, he'll probably drop the part about the combat.

"People don't want to see women on the battlefield," Stratton said. "When people think of combat they think of women shooting rifles in foxholes and that is hard to visualize for some people."

He said he does not favor it himself and that under Army, Navy and Air Force definitions of combat, the women would be Navy ship officers, pilot instructors and missile silo officers.

Rep. Patricia Schroeder, D-Colo., also said combat was the real issue in the committee vote.

"They're afraid of the next election," she said. "They want to be very careful they don't say something that will come out as putting women into combat."

Rep. Richard H. Ichord, D-

Mo., said he favored admitting women to the academies but proposed an amendment that they be required to meet the same physical and mental standards as men.

"If you're going to lower standards for officers of the United States, Mao Tse-tung might be correct when he says the United States is a paper tiger," Ichord said.

Stratton's amendment was tabled on a motion by Chairman Lucien N. Nedzi, D-Mich., of the committee's manpower subcommittee.

Nedzi said it was not a matter of sex discrimination but of studying the potential impact of the amendment.

"I believe this will stimulate lawsuits to establish quota systems and affirmative action that may throw the whole military education system out of whack," Nedzi said.

He said his subcommittee will study the issues and report on a bill as soon as it can. Stratton said he hopes the House will already have voted to open the academies to women by then.

His amendment was to a $32-billion weapons bill that may go to the House floor early next month, and that is when Stratton said he will try to get approval for admitting women to West Point, the Navy Academy at Annapolis, Md., and the Air Force Academy in Colorado.

Officers said Plemons escaped April 28 from the federal prison at Terre Haute, Ind., two weeks before his scheduled parole on a bank robbery conviction.

COP SHOOTS HIS OWN CAR 'This Kinda Stuff Just Ain't Supposed To Happen'

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — In the tradition of the Keystone Kops, a police car was stolen by a hitchhiker, officers chased each other around rural Oakland County looking for it, and one cop shot his own car.

"This kinda stuff just ain't supposed to happen," a perplexed officer said in trying to explain the incident in which a deputy sheriff also shot another police car and two cruisers were wrecked.

Sgt. David Odett, 29, a six-year veteran on the Pontiac Township police force, said the trouble began when he stopped a hitchhiker Sunday night.

Odett put the hitchhiker in the back seat of his cruiser while he went to retrieve a paper bag he saw the man throw in some bushes. The hitchhiker leaped over the seat and took off in the police car and left Odett holding the bag — which contained a bottle of wine and two bottles of beer.

Odett fired a shot and flattened a rear tire on his own police car, but the cruiser kept going. Then, using his portable radio, he called for help. The only other officer patrolling the township sped off to help and a countywide alert was issued for the stolen cruiser.

Unknown to authorities, it had already been abandoned in an Oakland University parking lot by the hitchhiker, who fled on foot.

As police continued to search for the missing car, two university policemen patrolling in separate cruisers spotted the other Pontiac Township officer responding to his comrade's call for help and started chasing his police car, thinking it was the stolen vehicle.

Then, Deputy Charles Eno parked his cruiser across the road to stop the speeding vehicle — actually the second township patrol car — and fired a shot as it came toward him.

With perfect aim, he shot out the left front tire. The car ground to a halt and the startled Pontiac Township officer emerged.

But the second university police car still was in hot pursuit. Unable to stop, it plowed into the roadblock. Both the deputy's car and the university police car were damaged extensively, but no one was injured.

The stolen police car was recovered an hour later in the parking lot. The hitchhiker who took it had fled, but left behind his driver's license — attached to a clipboard where Sgt. Odette had placed it before going to investigate the mysterious brown bag.

A warrant charging a Rochester man with car theft was obtained by police Monday.

Things Are Looking Up

DENVER, Colo. — Tom Ferguson, Miami, Okla., has survived a cold winter with winnings on the pro rodeo circuit. This week he finally broke into the top ten all-around winners list, riding ninth with $8,992.

The figure is less than half of what Tom had won a year ago, and for a guy who is accustomed to winning big, 1975 has been disappointing for the 24-year-old cowboy who went through the rich winter rodeos failing to pick up a substantial check. By most standards, however, Tom still has a successful first-half season in the sport, placing 21 times. The hitch is that only one of those checks was for more than $1,000.

Last year he took an early lead and went on to win the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association all-around and calf roping championships. Setting a new win record in rodeo along the way. He picked up nearly $67,000 in the arena, and coupled it with better than $20,000 in bonus money, most of it from the Winston Rodeo Awards. He has had bad draws this season.

Event Leaders include:

- All-around cowboy — Larry Mahan, Dallas, Tx., $13,381, and Donie Gay, Mesquite, Tx., $13,376;
- Saddle bronc riding — Monty Henson, Mesquite, Tx., $9,423; and Mike Marvel, Battle Mt., Nev., $5,945;
- bareback bronc riding — Jack Ward, Springdale, Ark., $11,061, and Bruce Ford, Greeley, Colo., $9,998;
- bull riding — Don Gay $11,411, and Jerome Robinson, Brandon, Neb., $6,873;
- calf roping — Ronny Sewalt, Chicago, Tx., $9,212, and Barry Burk, Duncan, Okla., $8,390;
- steer wrestling — Frank Shep-herston, Midwest, Wyo., $10,488, and Tommy Puryear, Norman, Okla., $6,821;
- GRA barrel racing — Becky Carson, Ft. Collins, Colo., $5,069, and Connie Combs, Comanche, Okla., $3,882.

Deadline Near For Entries

HEREFORD — Entries will close at 2 p.m. May 14 for the Hustlin' Hereford Hall of Fame Rodeo May 16-18, richest and largest all-girl rodeo held in this country.

To enter, telephone the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the rodeo. The number is (806) 364-3333. Entry fee is $25 per event.

More than 300 cowgirls will be competing for a total payoff of more than $25,000 in this event, which will initiate the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame. The hall is being constructed in Hereford and proceeds from the rodeo will go into the construction fund.

Margaret Clemons, president of the Girls' Rodeo Association, has announced all seven of the 1974 world champions will be competing at Hereford. "In addition, all of the top winners in GRA barrel racing will be there," she commented, "which will provide one of the best fields ever for barrel racing."

Lamesans Face Higher Rates

LAMESA — The Lamesa City Council Monday approved a "no new taxes," budget of $1.8 million, holding expenses about on a par with last year.

Mayor Lloyd Cline says the budget remained unchanged partially due to a new containerized garbage system which saved the city an estimated $60,000.

Despite the good tax news, however, residents will be paying an extra 75 cents per month in water charges to retire a new bond issue, the council has decided.

The bond issue, approved by voters in April, calls for $610,000 in improvements to the city's water system.

New water rates take effect June 1.

Student Loans Employe Suspended For 30 Days

DALLAS (AP) — A ranking employe of the regional office for student financial aid has been suspended for 30 days by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Hal Coley, an HEW regional spokesman, Tuesday would not name the employe but only confirm that "an employe of the HEW Office of Education in Dallas has been suspended."

However, the Dallas Morning News and Dallas Times Herald identified the employe as Gene Miller, senior program officer of the regional office.

Miller told the News "I'm very distressed over this situation and feel very strongly I have done nothing to warrant the action being taken."

Miller said he has consulted with an attorney and plans to appeal the decision but would not discuss the details of his suspension. He had 30 days to appeal the suspension before it becomes permanent.

Both newspapers said Miller was suspended because of irregularities in dealings involving employes of a private loan collection agency, Collegiate Recovery and Credit Assistance Corp., and a San Antonio man, Carl D. Wehling, who once owned 13 proprietary schools in Texas.

HEW has suspended six persons thus far in a three-month investigation of the Dallas regional office.

The student loan program provides government-backed loans by private lending institutions to students attending proprietary, or vocational, schools. HEW has revised its guidelines since the investigation to relieve the burden of repayment from the student if he drops out of school and hold the school responsible.

Collegiate Recovery was placed in receivership after a state district court hearing. A temporary injunction was issued against the agency for alleged deceptive trade practices.

Four HEW employes were fired for improper collection tactics and another was suspended and resigned after admitting in court he accepted more than $2,000 in cash and free trips from Collegiate Recovery.

The paintings will be shown in various mediums, including oil, watercolor, charcoal, and pastels. Some artists will be on hand to discuss their work and exchange creative ideas and many of the paintings will be offered for sale.

Norman Knox, hospital administrator, urges the people of Big Spring to attend this exhibit. "Because of the many topics and types of paintings offered at this show," he said, "there will be something of interest for everyone."

The one-week exhibit is a joint venture of two Big Spring Institutions who share a "Constant Concern for a Healthy Community."

Trio Killed, 123 Hurt By Twister

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — National Guardsmen patrolled 3,400 square blocks of Omaha today to prevent looting after tornadoes that killed three persons, injured more than 100 and did millions of dollars of damage.

The National Weather Service said the three twisters which hit Omaha were among about a dozen which struck widespread areas of northeast Nebraska Tuesday, causing loss of livestock and substantial property damage in rural areas. No deaths were reported outside of Omaha.

After surveying the damage in Omaha from a helicopter, Gov. J. James Exon said, "It's just devastating. I've lived in tornado country all my life and I've never seen anything comparable to this for property devastation. This is certainly the biggest loss in property damage that ever has hit Nebraska."

He said at least 500 homes were destroyed and at least 1,000 severely damaged.

Acting Douglas County Coroner James Keenan identified the dead as Margaret Burke, 86; Lloyd Kramer, about 40; and Pamela Myers, 23. All were believed from Omaha.

Police said Kramer died when the roof of a northwest Omaha service station collapsed while he was standing on it watching an approaching tornado. Keenan said the Myers woman, a waitress, died when the restaurant in which she was working was struck by a tornado.

Police said Mrs. Burke's body was found behind a home about one-quarter block from her own residence. Her home was blown away.

Early today, eight hospitals reported treating 132 persons with injuries. The most seriously injured was a man who lost an arm, authorities said.

Storm sirens started wailing at 4:30 p.m. as a huge black cloud moved in over the city from the southwest, and the tornadoes soon touched down. Forty-five minutes later, the storm alert was over, but sections of this city of 350,000 were in shambles.

Screen Hospital Measure

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — After spending all day Tuesday on just two bills, the House today takes up an "emergency bill" creating a federally mandated state board to screen plans to build or enlarge hospitals.

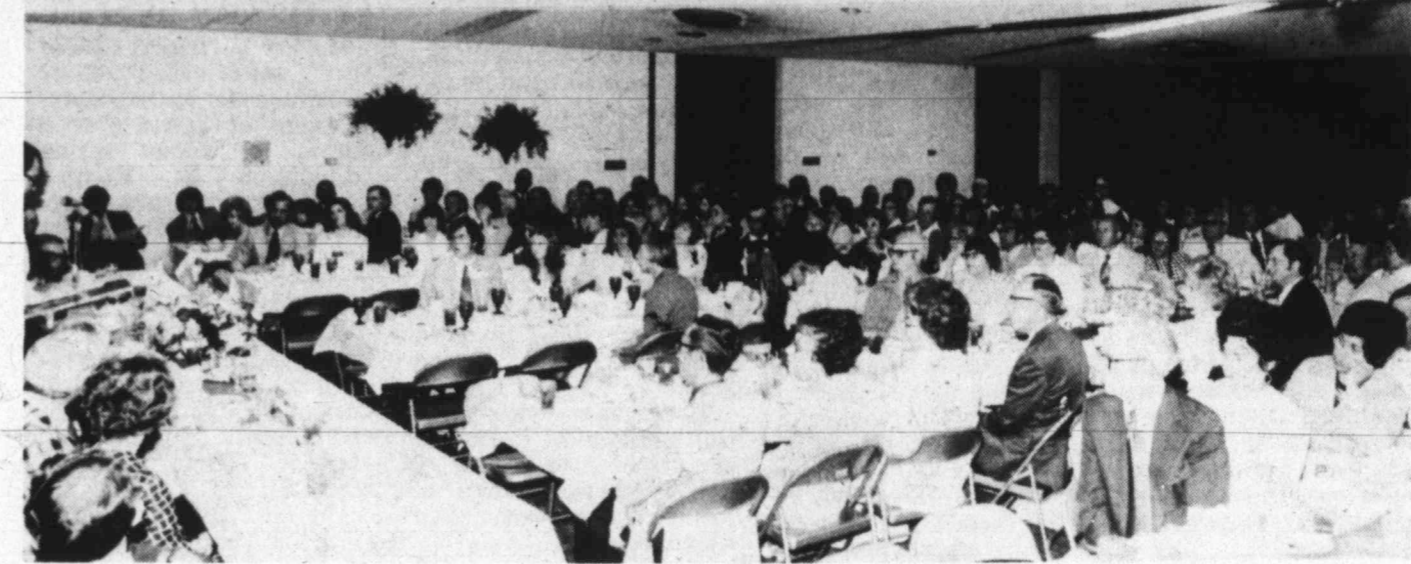

The bill was postponed last week under opposition from organized medicine, but sponsors claimed Tuesday all the problems had been ironed out.

It originally called for a three-member commission—none of whom could be health care providers—to do all the states health planning and issue or deny "certificates of need" for additional hospital space. Revisions made since last week's postponements allow the commission jurisdiction over only the certificate of need program, while making the State Health Department the chief health planning agency.

The House tentatively approved two bills Tuesday. One would divide the nine remaining counties with multimember, countywide House representation into single-member districts. The counties are Tarrant, Travis, Jefferson, Lubbock, McLennan, Hidalgo, El Paso, Galveston and Nueces.

The other sets up a method for evaluating agricultural land according to its productivity for tax purposes.

Both bills need a final vote before going to the Senate.

Education Is Lifetime Process, Speaker Says

Doug Robison of Big Spring High, Valrae Best of Coahoma High, Silvia Holguin of Forsan High and Patty Peugh of Sands High were top winners in the annual Zales-Herald Youth Achievement awards banquet held Tuesday night at the Big Spring Country Club.

The four youths were presented plaques and watches from Zales in appreciation for their outstanding leadership in their respective high schools.

Five finalists from each school and their parents, along with school leaders and mayors from the communities were also honor guests at the event.

Dr. Grover Murray, president of Texas Tech, pointed out to the group that "Education is a lifetime process and as long as you continue to learn, you will continue to be an achiever."

He stressed the importance of becoming educated, either through the school of hard knocks, technical training or college. "One person will go all of his life interested in his work and another will hate it. I do not know what makes the difference," Dr. Murray added.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT
"I do know that even if a man is going to farm, he might want to take Shakespeare so that he will have something to think about while he drives the tractor up and down the rows," he related.

He pointed out that today's young people have some value changes. "They have new moral standards, new ethics and a new search for oneself. They believe that self-fulfillment is more important than financial success," he stated.

John Criswell, producer and co-host of a news show of WFAA-TV in Dallas, also stressed the new trends of youth as he acted as master of ceremonies.

Special head table guests in addition to the speaker and emcee included William Zales, one of the founders of Zales's Jewelry, Jim Lebcowitz, senior vice president (and a former Big Spring); Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Gee, local manager; Mr. and Mrs. W. S. (Dub) Pearson, publisher of the Big Spring Herald; Col. and Mrs. Robert A. Meisenheimer, Webb AFB, and the Rev. Robert Ford, Wesley Methodist Church.

TWENTY FINALISTS
All 20 finalists were presented a tape recorder and a certificate. From Big Spring High, these included Robert Bradbury, Kathy Meek, Kathy Perry, Doug Robison and Kathryn Ann Spannaus.

Coahoma finalists included Valrae Best, Jody Bennett, Bobby Gene Fishback, Guy D. James and Alan Roman. Forsan included Dorothy Lou Banks, Silvia A. Holguin, Wesley Thixton, Karen Ann Woodley and Tim Yeats.

Judges were John Arrick, Hamlin Elrod, Jerry Hall, Wendal Shive and Al Valdes.

The awards program was dedicated in memory of Sidney Lipsy, who died last year. He helped begin the awards program nine years ago under the joint sponsorship of Zales's and the Big Spring Herald.

Eating Out Puzzle

By the Associated Press

The American consumer is under a microscope. Trying to figure out how much people spend, what they buy and why they pick one item instead of another has become a full-time job for some analysts in government and industry. Several recent surveys are providing additional clues about at least a few American spending patterns and preferences when it comes to eating out. Inflation and recession have prompted many people to report they are going to restaurants less often. A survey by Yankelovich, Skelly and White, Inc., for General Mills, Inc., found that 45 per cent of those polled said eating out in a nice restaurant was a luxury and 37 per cent said they were saving money by not going to restaurants. At the same time, however, Census Bureau data indicates January 1975 sales for U.S. eating and drinking establishments were $2.80 billion, 16.6 per cent higher than they were a year earlier. After adjustment for inflation—higher menu prices—the increase was 4.6 per cent, according to the National Restaurant Association. The Bureau of Labor Statistics, which compiles the Consumer Price Index, is updating the list of items it checks. The last update was in 1961-62. The new list, based in part on extensive surveys in 1972-73, won't be ready until 1977, but some preliminary results of the latest poll have been released. Among the findings was that the average American family—2.9 persons with an income of $10,185 a year—spent $8.15 a week for food away from home during the 1972-73 survey period. The existing Consumer Price Index already measures increases and decreases in the amount Americans spend at restaurants, snack bars and other eating places. The bureau checks more than 1,000 outlets in 56 cities, collecting menus and pricing typical breakfasts, lunches and dinners, but the system has some drawbacks. Fast food chains generally are not included in the outlets checked because they were not a major part of the market in 1961-62 when the list was drawn up. Ethnic restaurants also are not usually checked because their foods don't fit easily into the rather bland menu categories that the Labor Department drew up more than a decade ago.

Heroin Bust In Valley

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — A California man and a Florida man were jailed here today following what federal officers described as the largest seizure of heroin ever made in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Officers arrested Thomas Mims, 21, of Los Angeles, Calif., in a Brownsville taxi late Tuesday after finding more than four pounds of heroin. Several hours later, they arrested Dewey Butler, 44, of Tampa, Fla., in a motel room here after finding more than two pounds of heroin. U.S. Magistrate William Hallet set bond on the two men at $500,000 each and ordered them held in the Cameron County jail here when they failed to post bond.

Epitaph Is Winning Struggle For Survival

TOMBSTONE, Ariz. (AP) — The Tombstone Epitaph, a legendary frontier newspaper which chronicled the Old West's shootouts, is winning its struggle for survival, thanks to 13 University of Arizona students and their professors. "These so-called kids have given us older fellows some insight into their ability," says Mayor Jack Hendrickson, owner of the Lucky Cass Restaurant here. "It seems some of these kids have more ability than us." Earlier this year, the weekly Epitaph came dangerously close to publishing its own obituary. Tombstone, once a colorful mining city of thousands, had dwindled to little more than 1,000. For the Epitaph, that spelled declining revenue and a local circulation of barely 300. The first issue of the Epitaph hit the bustling streets of Tombstone on May 1, 1980. For decades, it covered the adventures of pistoleros and lawmen, including Wyatt Earp, from a rambling adobe building not far from the O.K. Corral. Today, University of Arizona students work from an office at the Chamber of Commerce, sending their stories back to the Tucson campus for editing and eventually to a commercial printer for publication. The new arrangement dates to early this year, when the skidding economy forced newspaper owner Harold Love of Detroit to stop the weekly publication. He donated the paper's name to the university journalism department in February. In return, 13 students in the department's community newspapers project class began publishing it biweekly. The university does not accept display advertising and gives the paper away free of charge, depending on grants and money within the journalism department budget to finance the operation. "It's strictly a local newspaper," says instructor Phil Mangelsdorf. "Right now we don't take advertising, although free classified advertising is accepted." Mangelsdorf says he feels his department has enough money to keep the paper going for a year and should be able to arrange financing to continue it after that. Meanwhile, his students are receiving valuable experience, he says. The latest issue of the paper, the fifth since students took it over, came out May 2. That's the newspaper's 95th birthday.

Floating Power Plant Possibility Discussed

HOUSTON (AP) — The possibility of a huge floating power plant that would use the ocean as a solar energy collector has been discussed here.

The plant was discussed in a paper presented Tuesday at the Offshore Technology Conference.

The plant, designed for use in tropical seas, would use warm water from the surface as a heat source and water from considerable depths for cooling.

Lloyd C. Trimble, one of the paper's authors, said in an interview that warm surface water would be drawn into the plant and run through an evaporator, where it gives off some of its heat. That heat would be used to vaporize ammonia. The ammonia would turn a turbine connected to an electric generator.

He said cold water from below would be drawn into the plant and used to condense the ammonia which then would be pumped back to the evaporator where the cycle would start again.

Trimble was program manager of a study of the economics of such a plant. The study was funded by the Energy Research and Development Administration and conducted by Lockheed Missiles & Space Co. Inc.

The central core of the plant is a cylinder which would be almost 600 feet long and about 250 feet in diameter. It would weigh about 260,000 long tons and be submerged except for the top 60 feet.

Scientist Lists Points For Best Grazing Plots

COLLEGE STATION — "The best grazing system is one that gives optimum vegetation improvement and top livestock performance without sacrificing either plant or animal requirements," says Dr. M. M. Kothmann, associate professor of range science at Texas A&M University and range research scientist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Kothmann says there are basically two categories of grazing systems. One is deferred rotation systems where at least half of the total land is grazed at any given time and grazing time equals or exceeds the rest period.

The other type is short duration grazing systems where animals graze less than half of the total land and the length of time a pasture rests exceeds the length of the grazing period.

"Deferred rotation grazing systems give the best livestock performance, while short duration systems give the most rapid range improvement," Kothmann points out.

"If you're trying to improve the range condition and are willing to sacrifice some livestock production, short duration grazing is the best system. A deferred rotation grazing system is better if you're trying to boost livestock production."

The range scientist lists a few points to consider in selecting the right grazing system.

"Look at the number of pastures available, their carrying capacity, and the type and condition of the vegetation. Also, try to evaluate whether your water facilities, working pens and labor are adequate to handle larger herds of animals."

Two important factors to consider when implementing grazing systems are stocking rate and lengths of rest period, says Kothmann.

"No grazing system will compensate for overstocking," he emphasizes. "To determine the correct stocking rate when starting a grazing system, calculate the carrying capacity for all pastures and then divide this number into the desired number of herds. If all pastures have the same carrying capacity, the herds should be of equal size."

Kothmann recommends using a conservative stocking rate with a short duration grazing system. Also, make sure the rest period is adequate.

"The rest period should be long enough to allow major forage species to regain vigor. In areas of high rainfall, a rest period of about three to four months is adequate. On drier range, the rest period could last for 12 months."

It's not wise, advises Kothmann, to start a grazing system during a dry period or near the end of the normal growing season.

"When starting a system, rest the first unit during the period with the best growing conditions," suggests the researcher.

Funnels Sighted During Storm

By the Associated Press

Texas was divided into two sharply contrasting weather belts today by a weak cool front nearly stalled across its midsection.

It was warm and humid across the southeast half of the state after still another night of fierce thunderstorms, mostly from the central section toward the northeast. A few storms hung on this morning near the northeast corner. Skies were clear and temperatures on the cool side in the northwest half.

A Pacific front which lay along a line from Dallas and Fort Worth to Del Rio on the Mexican border set off the latest round of turbulence, inflicting hail and wind damage near the center of the state in Travis and Hays counties and pounding hard at the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

At the height of the wild weather, sightings of two tornado funnels were reported near the Dallas suburb of Richardson. There was no word of damage from either.

Hail as big as baseballs bombed some part of Texas for a third straight night, battering cars and rooftops around Johnson City in Central Texas, but no injuries were reported.

"It broke a lot of glass," Deputy Sheriff Conrad Nagel said at Johnson City.

Skies turned dark near the end of a sunny day in the Fort Worth-Dallas vicinity, hail the size of golf balls pelted several suburban areas and winds up to 70 miles per hour raked Mesquite on the east side of Dallas, official observers said. Power was knocked out for a time in the town of Garland.

The storms swept out of state toward the east, although a few persisted in Northeast Texas this morning.

Fog plagued some areas early in the day, including Brownsville, McAllen, Corpus Christi, Victoria, Palacios, Galveston, Houston, College Station, Waco and Tyler.

Temperatures near daybreak sank to 36 degrees at Dalhart and 41 at Amarillo in the Panhandle. At the same hour readings still were as high as 78 at Houston.

Districts May Be Reshaped

The Texas House has tentatively approved a bill dividing Lubbock into single-member legislative districts.

The measure would place Reps. Elmer Tarbox and R. B. McAlister into the same district. In such an alignment, the two would oppose each other should they seek reelection next year.

Tarbox is a former Big Spring automobile dealer, well known in this area.

Tarbox has intimated to close friends he might not seek office again.

Final house passage of the bill is likely later this week, after which it will go to the Texas senate. No trouble is foreseen there, either.

Tarbox and McAlister have both strongly opposed the redistricting plan and both have promised to offer amendments to the plan when it is presented for floor debate.

County Horsemen Plan Bi-Cen Cross Country

Howard and Dawson County horseback riders from posse and riding groups will stage a Cross Country Pony Express July 4 as their bi-centennial activity.

The group will carry a bag of letters from Lamesa to Howard County, changing riders at intervals.

"We are not trying to show we can beat the mail service. Everybody already knows that, since Big Spring letters must be posted in Midland and Lamesa's in Lubbock. We are simply trying to point out the excellent relationship between the two communities through the years and to stress the early day riders," one spokesman for the group stated.

"Many of the riders will wear the pinned-back hat such as the early express riders wore. There will even be one mule rider in the group.

The posse is making available red, white and blue buttons commemorating the event and these may be obtained from any posse rider.

The Howard County Posse met Tuesday night and set plans for an open Horse Show Saturday, May 10 at the arena on the Andrews highway.

Registration begins at 10 a.m. with the show starting at 11 a.m.

New bleachers have been constructed, with C. E. Airhardt furnishing the pipe.

The posse also voted to ride in the Seagraves Rodeo parade at 3 p.m. May 29.

Won't Be Easy

The Legislature began its session in January with what now appears as pie in the sky. The state's general fund had a "surplus" of $1.4 billion.

It seemed to be the answer to prayers of legislators who were anxious to reform public school financing, yet faced the threat of a veto promised by Gov. Dolph Briscoe of any new tax bill. But by the time some whittling was over — emergency appropriations for schools, state employees, state utility bills, pay raises for state employees, higher demands for state services at improved levels in the health care and juvenile fields — almost two-thirds of the surplus had been dissipated. The prospect now is for only about $400 million to $500 million available. It will be spent about 50 per cent for equalizing the quality of education among school districts and 50 per cent for teacher's salaries.

So the hope for reform of school financing must be shelved for this session. But the effort has produced at least one very constructive legislative proposal. It is House Bill 1463 which places all the power of property appraisal in the office of the county tax assessor-collector. That office would set the appraised value for all taxing agencies — the county, cities, school districts and special districts.

Just to make sure that the tax assessor-collector does a workmanlike job, HB 1463 also provides that his work will be supervised by the state comptroller — Bob Bullock at this time. The comptroller would see to it that the administration of the property tax is made in a fair and efficient manner aimed at achieving true market value appraisals and at getting all the property on the tax rolls.

This measure, more than any other proposal to date, would provide what is now lacking in school taxation: A fair, equitable program of assessment and taxation for public education. It would end the great disparity in valuations as between school districts. It would require each resident of the state to pay his fair share of taxation — no more, no less. Finally, it offers a basis for allocation of statewide school taxes to provide equality of educational opportunity, something that should be one of the principal aims of an education program for the state.

It won't be easy, because equalization is exactly what a lot of people don't want.

Save On Somebody Else

The American Bankers Association has sent communications to the members of Congress urging that a target for spending in FY '76 be set no higher than $350 billion. This could result in a deficit no higher than $55 billion, considerably less than most forecasts. With this commitment should go another — the implied purpose of balancing the budget in subsequent years, the bankers group said.

The goal is an admirable one, probably doomed to be somewhat unheeded. Most everyone will support the ideal in general, but not that part which affects pet or specific projects.

Rep. Olin Tiger Teague said the other day that Congress will cut down on spending only when Congressmen stop pressuring them for funds for their favorite programs. And human nature being what it is, this doesn't exactly leave much room for hope. Maybe a more practical approach would be for Congressmen to convenant with each other: "I'll vote against your project if you will vote against mine." That will take a high degree of statesmanship you won't find in the public at large.

Zigged And Zagged

Around The Rim

Joe Pickle

Get on U.S. 80 or U.S. 87, and zip, you're right on your way out of town, and once in the open spaces, you're making pretty much a bee line for the next place. It was not always thus.

EVEN AS A lad, I can remember some vastly different routes for our key highways. The pioneers can recall that before that many wagon trails simply took off from the original townsites and followed the course of least resistance to their destination in the next county.

U.S. 80, which was proudly known as the Bankhead Highway (later Broadway of America) half a century ago, followed third street in both directions from the downtown area. On the western perimeter, however, it made a sharp turn back to the right and headed for the next section line on the south, making another 90-degree turn along what is now U.S. 80 Highway West which parallels the north side of Webb AFB. From this point, it got within about a quarter of a mile of the T&P tracks, then went a mile south, turned west through a low, sandy spot between two natural lakes and on to some soft caliche hills with crystalline gyp outcroppings. Once more the road turned abruptly south to emerge about where IS 20 goes westward through much of Morita Flat. About even with the old Morita station on the T&P it turned half a mile south to the tracks, then paralleled the tracks westward into Stanton.

U.S. 80 east went up Coleman Hill, made a slight jog to the right (south) to avoid going through the L. E. Coleman living room, thence east to about where Birdwell Lane is now situated. From this point, it turned north two or three blocks and made a 90-degree turn east to parallel to T&P tracks to the top of the hill where Cosden refinery now is located. Then it turned right-angle south past the Pete Johnson place to a point that we call Midway Road (or Eleventh Place east or Lover's Lane). The course was eastward down these section lines to the south edge of Coahoma, northward to the tracks, bending at right angles again to hug the T&P right of way as the course led past Iatan tank, then across the tracks through Rattlesnake Gap and on to Iatan flat, where it took the route now followed by IS 20. At one time the road at Coahoma crossed the tracks and hugged the North side of the right of way. Before that, it went north of Coahoma, turned east and followed the Old Colorado Road.

U.S. 87 (known then as Glacier to Gulf) went down Scurry. Street to about what is the south boundary of the VA Hospital, turned west to what we know as Wasson road, followed to the right angle turn (where the Webb AFB village road now turns north) thence several miles south until it topped the ridge and zigged zagged into Glasscock County, bent east several miles, then south again to Conahasset, and ultimately back east to about where the highway now parallels the McIntyre and Reed places on the north. One of the original roads bent back of South Mountain, headed past where Forsan now is situated and came out near Conahasset.

NORTHWARD, U.S. 87 went up Gregg Street to the Experiment Farm (IS 20 now) turned west at the Bucket of Blood for about a quarter of a mile, then northward on the section line to Fairview, the present route, westward to Auto (later Hiway), zigging and zagging on section lines to emerge at East Knot, turned north at West Knott and on to Ackerly. From that point it wriggled west and north on section lines to emerge at the south and east edge of Lamesa.

The speed of wagons and jitneys being what they were it took a generation to overturn the obsession with section-line roads and get back to the original concept of Euclid that the shortest distance between two points (and usually the best road) is a straight line.

My Answer

Billy Graham

I am puzzled about your quoting the Old Testament so much in your column. Surely you know that parts of the Old Testament have little reference to Christ and His kingdom. Shouldn't we have more emphasis on the New Testament written just about the life and times of Jesus? N.A.

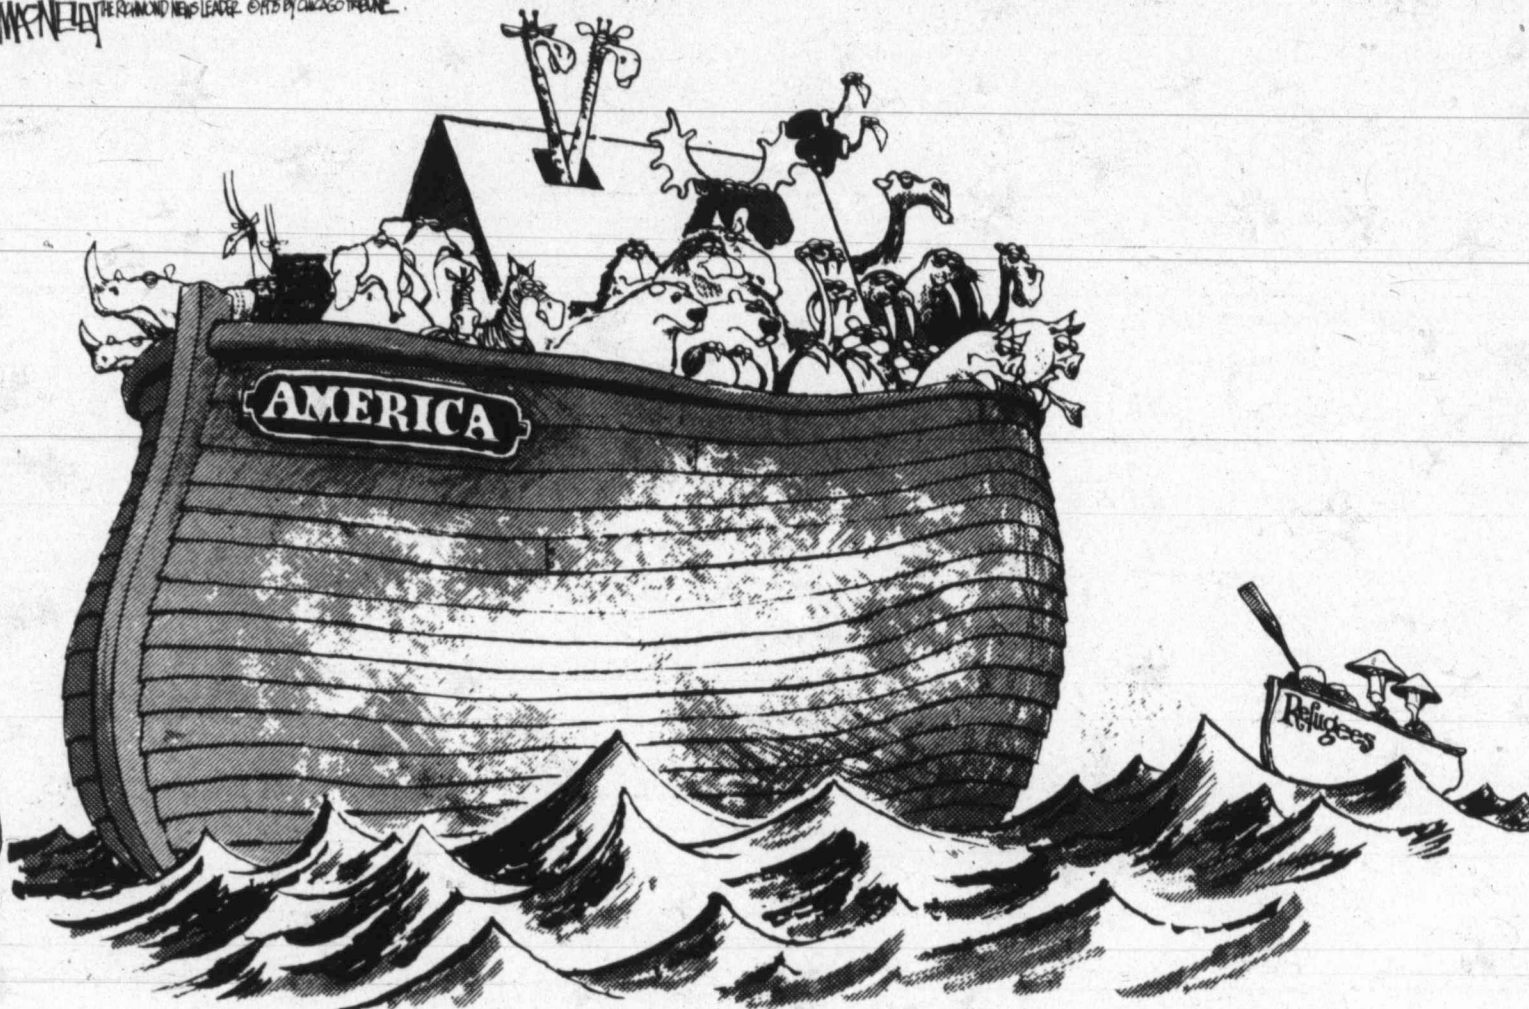

Let me answer that in several ways. First to say that the accepted pattern for Biblical exposition is that while any Bible verse has just one interpretation, it provides many applications. Then, of course, you have the statement of 2 Timothy 3:16 that "The whole Bible was given to us by inspiration of God, and is useful."

To ignore the Old Testament is to cut off countless illustrations of faith and to short-circuit the progressive redemptive plan of God. We need to know that our salvation begins in Genesis 3:15, and is hammered out in countless episodes through the first 39 Bible books.

The whole Bible is built around the story of Christ, and the old Testament shows us Israel, the Messianic nation, through whom the whole world would be blessed.

Remember also that when Jesus, Paul, Peter, James and John spoke of the Scriptures, the only ones in existence were the Old Testament writings. The principle of divine inspiration is the WHOLE Bible for the WHOLE man.

South Korea Uneasy

Rowland Evans

WASHINGTON — A chilling byproduct of the Vietnam debacle is the possibility of South Korea developing its own nuclear capability out of fear that the U.S. can no longer be counted a dependable ally.

SEOUL'S DEFENSE plan always has been predicated on a combined U.S.-South Korean air force combating an invasion from Communist North Korea. Based on the Vietnam experience, the Koreans now have good reason to fear Congress would rule out any American combat. That would guarantee North Korean air superiority.

To compensate for that, there is active consideration in Seoul for developing a nuclear deterrent — well within its technological means. Ironically, then, determination by the U.S. Congress to keep hands off all Asian wars will encourage nuclear proliferation and might lead to World War III.

LONG CONCERNED about Pyongyang's military preparations, the Seoul government became particularly alarmed by the April 18-26 visit to Peking by President Kim Il Sung of North Korea — his first official trip to China in 14 years. Was he there to ask for arms and moral support in a renewed Korean war? The U.S. does not know.

THE REPUBLIC OF Korea (ROK) force outnumbered the northerners 560,000 to 410,000. But South Korea's air force has only 210 combat aircraft to the North's 598. Nuclear capability would more than make up the difference.

A stiff but unpublicized demarche from the U.S. embassy in Bangkok has dissuaded Thailand's government from turning over to Vietnamese Communists up to 120 U.S.-supplied war planes flown into Thailand by South Vietnamese pilots seeking asylum.

THAI FOREIGN Minister Chatchai Chumhawan, hell-bent for accommodation with Hanoi, announced the planes would be given to the Communist victors. But the U.S. informed Bangkok in unequivocal terms that the planes legally belong to the United States, and Bangkok agreed.

What made Chatchai so quixotic is the fact that Hanoi is sending U.S. M-16 automatic rifles, abandoned by South Vietnamese soldiers, to Communist guerrillas in northeast Thailand. Now the U.S. may give the abandoned planes to Thailand for anti-guerrilla action — if Thailand is willing to risk taking them.

STUNG BY published reports that President Ford will not be a presidential candidate next year, top White House aides held their first campaign-planning session last weekend behind closed doors.

With counselor Robert Hartmann, Mr. Ford's long-time confidant, presiding over the Saturday evening planning session, the small group of aides quickly agreed on this: it is dangerously late to start planning a presidential campaign for a candidate who has never run for national office, whose credibility as President is widely disparaged and who is still not perceived in the public mind as having decided to run.

Small Business Mirror

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — A year or so ago some of the nation's small businessmen decided they had taken enough. Through the National Small Business Association they vented their outrage.

"We have condoned and inadvertently encouraged the manipulation of the national economy for the benefit of the big, and at the expense of the small," the association said of Americans in general.

The fiery emotions may have cooled since then, but the determination is firm. This year the small businessmen have tasted victory in a small way, and they want more.

The victory was the Emergency Tax Reduction Act. "For small business, that act was the first forward moving tax measure since 1958," the association said. "Our process of government worked well — if 17 years late."

The two major aspects of that victory were: —For companies which earn less than $25,000, a cut in the tax rate to 20 per cent from 22 per cent.

—For companies earning more than $25,000 but less than $50,000 pretax, a reduction of the tax rate to 22 per cent from 48 per cent.

Other concessions also were won, but the businessmen say they've still got a lot to do before overcoming what they feel is a continued governmental bias toward big business.

In numbers, says the association, small business — the definition varies; in manufacturing it means a company employing fewer than 500 — is holding its own. "Its 10.5 million firms are 98 per cent of the country's total business units, making jobs for 65 per cent of the nongovernment work force."

But it adds, "In market share, assets and profits, small business is losing ground disastrously." And one of the reasons, they maintain, lies in the operation of the tax system.

"We need permanent, long-term changes in the tax code," says Milton Stewart, president, pointing out that the recently enacted tax relief is only temporary. And he doesn't disguise his belief that small business should be a major beneficiary.

Stewart refers to a report by Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., chairman of the Senate Small Business Committee, which suggests that the present tax system is choking entrepreneurship, risk-taking and individual effort.

Sleepwalking Fattening?

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Doctor Thosteson: I have a problem I hope you can help me with. I walk in my sleep. But that's not the only problem. I go to the refrigerator and take food and I eat it. I don't know I have done this until the next morning when I see crumbs on the floor and in my bed.

I figure I must have eaten the food in bed and on my way back from the refrigerator. As a result of eating during the night I am gaining so much weight that my clothes don't fit me. I don't eat much during the day.

Doctor, will you please tell me if there is any way of stopping this?

Mrs. M.P. Stranger things than your nocturnal icebox raids have occurred during episodes of sleepwalking.

Somnambulism is a sort of hypnotic state in which the person has possession of his senses, but retains no recollection of his actions. That seems to fit your situation except you have provided your own trail of evidence to go along with it.

Sleepwalking can accompany a dream, and in your case the dream could be about food. Such occurrences often stem from unresolved emotional conflict. Again, in your situation food may enter the picture.

But it is also possible that actual hunger is a factor. You don't eat much during the day, according to your letter. Perhaps if you did eat three balanced meals the subconscious urge to eat at night would disappear. The meals could be low in calories. A protein snack on retiring might help also. Try a piece of meat, a cheese sandwich, or a glass of milk.

Do the crumbs provide any clue as to what you have eaten? Your weight gain is probably a result of gorging on high-calorie foods you deny yourself during your waking hours.

If a change in eating habits doesn't work, then you should probably see a psychiatrist, who might detect other emotional conflicts involved that may not be apparent to you.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My mother believes you can stretch parts of your body by pulling on them. For example, you can stretch your body and become taller.

This is a real problem. My sister says she's wrong. What do you say? M.D. No amount of stretching is going to add a whit of length to the body or to body parts. Stretching positions are a part of any good exercise program, and will help improve your posture, allowing you to make the maximum use of the natural height you have.

This may be what your mother means. If you want to convince your mother, explain to her that folks in prolonged traction for neck injuries gain not even a little height because of it.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My doctor told me two years ago I was a hidden diabetic. Can you tell me what this means, and the symptoms of it? Is it like other forms of diabetes?

Mrs. G.M. With a latent (or hidden) diabetes there may be no overt symptoms, but the doctor may have found sugar in your urine or an elevated blood sugar, both classic signs of the disease. This means that you have the potential now for developing an overt diabetes, especially if you are not careful. Get your doctor's advice — and follow it.

Never take a chance on diabetes! For a better understanding of this disease, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 3999, Elgin, Illinois 60120 for a copy of his booklet, "Diabetes — The Sneaky Disease."

What Others Say

The Senate of the United States of America has been called the world's greatest deliberative body, and with good cause. It has a great tradition for long and thorough debate over matters of substantial significance to the nation and the world. It is a tradition which should be preserved.

Senators are mistaken if they vote to make it easier for the Senate to invoke "cloture" — a limitation on debate — believing that they are ending obstruction. Actually, they are encouraging a type of tyranny of the majority to which U.S. Ambassador John Scali objected so vigorously recently in the United Nations. They are casting aside one more protection against steamrolling of our Constitutional process.

The filibuster of itself, is not an unfair weapon used to obstruct progress. It is a parliamentary tool designed to encourage adequate consideration of significant changes in the laws of the United States. The longest filibuster speech in Senate history was made by a conservative, Strom Thurmond of South Carolina. The second longest was made by a liberal, Wayne Morse of Oregon.

Recently, Senate liberals used the filibuster to defeat a strong anti-busing bill while conservatives used it to stop a Consumer Protection Agency bill. Thus, it is used by all segments of the political spectrum and assures the minority is heard — and that is what the republican form of government is all about. — Waco Times Herald.

We Hold These Truths... A Chronicle of America

May 10, 1775:

The Second Continental Congress convenes in Philadelphia. All the colonies are represented except Georgia, whose delegates do not take their seats until September. Virginia's Peyton Randolph again is elected president, but on May 24 he relinquishes his seat to preside over the Virginia General Assembly in Williamsburg; John Hancock is elected to succeed him as president, and on June 20 Thomas Jefferson replaces him in Congress. (Come September, Randolph resumes his seat in Congress, but he dies in Philadelphia on October 22.) This is the Congress that subsequently adopts the Declaration of Independence and manages the war. It lasts until October 21, 1788. It sits primarily in Philadelphia, but also sits in Baltimore; Lancaster and York, Pennsylvania; Princeton; Annapolis; Trenton; and New York.

She Doesn't Want Friend Who Is Topless Dancer

DEAR ABBY: My husband is friendly with a fellow whose fiancée dances topless in a bar I'll call her "Sandra."

I'm ashamed to say that my husband has been to this bar, so he has seen Sandra practically naked. He says she has a "fantastic" body, even though she admits to having had silicone implants.

He insists, that Sandra is a very "sweet and down-to-earth" person, and he keeps wanting me to meet her socially. His buddy wants the four of us to go out together.

Abby, I don't care to meet her. I would be very uncomfortable in the company of a woman whom my husband had seen topless. My husband says, "It's only a job," and that Sandra is as nice a person as I am.

Am I wrong to feel the way I do? What kind of a woman do you think would dance topless for a living? She can't be a very moral person.

fire. But now that I am married and have a son, I realize how precious life is, so I no longer drive that way.

I want to know if you think it's wrong to ask the person who is driving too fast to slow down. My husband says I should keep my mouth shut, and my trembling knees and nerves to myself.

Don't I have the right to have a safe trip? When I've been a passenger in cars with reckless drivers, I have promised God that if He would only let me get home safely, I would never get into a car with that driver again.

My husband has a fit every time I complain about somebody's driving. Not his. He's okay. I mean friends and relatives—who drive beyond the speed limit whether they are late or not. Am I wrong?

NO EASY RIDER
DEAR NO: No! You are absolutely right! Whenever possible, avoid riding with reckless drivers. Should you find yourself trapped with one, let your feelings be known—loud and clear.

The 38mpg rabbit.

Good news at last! Volkswagen happily introduces the Rabbit. The incredible new car that gets 38 highway miles per gallon and 24 in the city (according to the '75 model Federal EPA tests).
 Good news travels fast, too. The Rabbit'll do 93 miles per hour (we strongly suggest you obey all speed limits) and has the power to scoot from 0 to 50 in just 8.2 seconds.

And, since the engine's mounted sideways, the sub-compact Rabbit has all the head and leg room of some mid-sized cars. It also has a hatchback, front-wheel drive, and VW's unique rear stabilizer axle.

All backed by the Volkswagen Owner's Security Blanket with Computer Analysis. See the new Volkswagen Rabbit. And drive happily ever after.

WANTED 20 HOMES THAT NEED PAINTING

CENTRAL TEXAS — 20 Homeowners in this area will be given the opportunity to have the new United States Steel finish on their homes. It will be of special interest to homeowners who are fed up with costly repainting, for new United States Steel is ideally suited for the Texas climate as it will not mildew, peel, crack, fade or chalk, for the life of the building.

UNITED STATES STEEL finish has been developed after years of extensive research and testing.

UNITED STATES STEEL carries a written 30-year guarantee (labor and materials) — can be applied over any type of home: wood frame, stucco, asbestos or brick. This new U.S. Steel and Vinyl finish has excellent insulating properties which will make the home warmer in cold, damp weather.

U.S. STEEL VYNASOL paneling has been advertised nationally in LOOK and LIFE Magazines. Homeowners who act now will receive special decorative work at no additional cost. Please call collect 915-941-3110 and ask for Mr. Ron Fox. An appointment will be made to see your home with no obligation. Please call at once. Out of town calls welcome.

Bulls Lose

OAKLAND (AP) — Rick Barry came out a winner in "one of the most memorable games I've ever played in."

And after scoring 36 points Tuesday night, leading the Golden State Warriors to a comeback 111-106 victory over the Chicago Bulls, Barry isn't haunted quite so much by the fatal mistake he made two games earlier.

"Thank God it's my even now," the Warriors star said after doing his bit in squaring the National Basketball Association Western Conference finals at two games apiece.

The fifth game is scheduled here Thursday night.

The Bulls blew a 19-point lead in the fourth game of the best-of-seven series, but guard Norm Van Lier vowed later, "We're going to win the playoff."

Chicago has a 2-26 all-time playoff record in road game, but Van Lier feels, "We're the better team, and we're going to prove it."

There were no flat predictions of victory from the Warriors, but Barry noted, "It's a three-game series now, and we'll have the homecourt advantage twice."

Barry, in Game 2 at Chicago, threw up a foolish shot in the closing seconds, giving the Bulls the ball and the opportunity they needed to put out a 90-89 victory.

The Warriors' forward and his teammates started off miserably Tuesday night, trailing 35-18 after one quarter and by 39-20 early in the second period. Jeff Mullins came off the bench to score eight points in the second period, Barry added six and it was 52-50 Chicago at halftime.

Bob Love had 27 points to lead the Bulls.

He is a young left-hander just breaking into the National League. He went to a high school in Brooklyn, N.Y.

There end the similarities between Pete Falcone of the San Francisco Giants and Sandy Koufax of the All-Time Baseball Greats.

For now, that is.

After all, the 21-year-old Falcone made his fifth major league start in his team's 25th game Tuesday night. Koufax didn't appear in his first game until the end of June 20 summers ago and didn't start until July 6.

A 19-year-old Koufax pitched a total of 42 innings his first season, while Falcone already has worked 37. The last eight of those innings were spent beating Atlanta, 7-1, holding the Braves hitless for the first six innings and losing his shutout on an eighth-inning ball.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers topped the Houston Astros 3-1, the Montreal Expos crushed the Chicago Cubs 9-4, the Cincinnati Reds clubbed the San Diego Padres 7-3 and the Pittsburgh Pirates edged the New York Mets 2-1 in eight innings. The Philadelphia-St. Louis game was rained out.

Eventually, Randy Moffitt came on in relief of the 21-year-old who had expected to pitch baseballs in the Texas League this year after owning lockers in previous seasons at Great Falls, Mont.; Fresno, Calif.; and Amarillo, Tex. The two finished with a three-hitter that went into the books as Falcone's third victory in four decisions.

Koufax, in his first year, was 2-2.

"He has the poise of a 10-year veteran," says Manager Wes Westrum of his southpaw, who spent a year at Kingsborough Community College in Bayside, N.Y. before moving up to Great Falls.

The hit was a clean one, driven to right field, and Falcone was not overly distressed that a swing of Dusty Baker's bat had ruined his seventh inning.

"If it had been a dribbler, I would have been mad," the pitcher said. "But Baker hit me. I was thinking about a no-hitter, but I wasn't worried about it."

He gave up another hit before leaving for a pinch hitter in the top of the ninth.

Boston Seeks NBA Deadlock

LANDOVER, Md. (AP) — The Boston Celtics, who have suddenly come alive after two lackluster performances, seek to deadlock the National Basketball Association's Eastern Conference finals tonight against the Washington Bullets.

The defending champion Celtics dropped the first two games of the best-of-seven series, the second by a whopping 25 points, but they bounced back at home Sunday to whip the Bullets 101-90.

In a basketball version of the old chicken-egg riddle, Coach K.C. Jones of the Bullets found it difficult to decide which contributed most to the turnabout — Washington's ineptness or Boston's perfection.

"They looked like the Celtics we expected to see," Jones said. "They had their break going, they used the full court press and they hit the offensive boards. They did it all."

"But we were lousy in every phase of the game — on offense, on defense and on the boards."

The Bullets trailed by only three points at halftime in game No. 3, lulling Jones into a false sense that his team had played well. But a look at the game films changed that.

"You can't hide when the films come back at you," Jones said. "And, we've seen them."

Jones was particularly concerned by the numerous Boston baskets which came on rebounds of missed first shots. For the game, Paul Silas grabbed 25 rebounds and Dave Cowens had 21.

Washington has lost only six games, counting both regular season and playoffs, at the Capital Centre this year. And only one more game in the series will be played at home after tonight. But for Jones, that doesn't make tonight's game any more critical.

"Every game is a key game, starting with the first one," he said. "And each one is more important than the ones played already."

FAST TAG GETS HIM — Third baseman Doug Rader of the Houston Astros makes a sweeping backhand tag to catch the Dodgers' Jim Wynn off base in the fifth inning in Los Angeles Tuesday night. Rader had made a diving catch of the pitcher's pickoff throw as Wynn dived back to the bag.

ASTROS FALL Dodgers Pickup 10th Win In 12

An unearned run had spoiled the shutout an inning earlier.

Dodgers 3, Astros 1.

Don Sutton carried a one-hitter into the eighth inning for the Dodgers but lost that on two leadoff hits. His second consecutive shutout and 23 consecutive scoreless innings rode away on Bob Watson's ninth-inning home run.

Steve Garvey hit a two-run single and Ron Cey hit his seventh home run to back Sutton's four-hitter, his 15th victory in 16 decisions and the Dodgers' 10th triumph in 12 games.

EXPOS, CUBS 4

Montreal's Mike Jorgensen has two career grand-slam home runs. Rick Reuschel has watched both of them from the pitcher's mound.

The first was Sept. 6, 1973. "You remember," Jorgensen said. "You don't get so many of them that you forget."

The fourth-inning blast over the right-field fence at Jarry Park gave the Expos and Steve Rogers an 8-0 lead.

DODGERS, ASTROS 1

Pete Rose says he still isn't comfortable playing third base instead of left field, but he's doing fine at the plate, including four hits in five at-bats to key a 14-hit Cincinnati attack.

The speedy Nordiques were ready to play after a slow start in last Saturday's 6-2 loss and matched the Aeros goal for goal until Houston broke away in a rapidfire third period, when three goals were scored in 58 seconds.

The score was 2-2 going into the final period and Houston's Gordie Lobbosier started the duel with a goal at 2:06. Quebec came back 17 seconds later with one by Marc Tardiff, his second of the game.

Then at 3:04, rookie Terry Ruschak, who reinjured his hand in a second period fight, poked in the go-ahead goal for the Aeros and Andre Hise made it 5-3 with his fifth playoff goal at 11:08.

Dineen said Quebec played much better Tuesday than in Saturday's game will be even tougher on its own ice. Dineen said the Aeros would have to nullify the Nordiques' speed.

"We'll have to use the body against them to slow them down a little," Dineen said.

Gordie Hise kept the Aeros even with the Nordiques with goals in the first and second periods. Quebec had scored by Dale Hoganson in the first period and Tardiff's first goal in the second period.

Houston increased the pressure on Quebec goalie Richard Brodeur in each period with 10, 15 and 22 shots on goal per period to a 47-26 advantage.

After games Saturday and Monday in Quebec, a fifth game, if needed, will be in Houston May 14.

Tigers Record 1-0 Decision

The Harris Lumber and Hardware Tigers won a tight 1-0 decision over the Tesoro Red Sox in a Texas Little League game Tuesday.

Jessie Ybarra of the Tigers pounded the only hit of the game.

Johnny Abero, Red Sox starter and loser, fanned 16 Harris batters.

The Tigers' winning hurler Lupe Ontiveros was credited with 11 strike-outs. Dick Wrights who relieved Ontiveros fanned the last three Red Sox batters with the bases loaded.

Ontiveros' record is now 1-0 and Abero, 0-3.

Pace Turns To Midland

MIDLAND — Jackson Pace, 6-4 forward for Lubbock Monterey, has signed a letter-of-intent with Midland College.

Pace scored 492 points for a 15.9 average his senior year. In addition, he pulled down 259 rebounds for an 8.4 norm.

Pace was named to the all-district team and wound up being declared the most valuable player in 4-AAAA.

Colts Down Hawks, 9-2

In American Little League play Tuesday, the Colts downed the Hawks, 9-2.

Tim Shaver and Robert Floyd each connected for two hits for the Colts. The Hawks' Steve Ródricks unloaded for a double.

Colts 302 1300 - 9-7
Hawks 100 110 - 2-5
W.P. Tim Freeze, 1-0 - L.P. Blake Kosson, 1-1.

DALLAS (AP) — Miller seeks to run now-customary pro season's leading winner in this $175,000 Byron Classic.

ODDS STRONG

Miller Seeks Customary Spot

DALLAS (AP) — Johnny Miller seeks to regain his now-customary position as the season's leading money-winner in this week's $175,000 Byron Nelson Golf Classic. The odds are very strong that he will make it. Miller, who collected eight American titles in 1974 and scored a record-setting sweep of three of his first four starts this season, had led pro golf's prestigious money-winning list for 15 months until he was passed by Jack Nicklaus two weeks ago in the Tournament of Champions. Nicklaus edged him, $155,188 to $153,889, on the list that most touring pros feel determines the true tour champion of the year. It was the first time the spectacular Miller had been anything but first on that list since he won the Bing Crosby tournament that opened the 1974 season. Now he has a tailor-made opportunity to regain the top spot. Nicklaus isn't playing in the 72-hole test that begins Thursday on the 6,957-yard, par-71 Preston Trail Golf Club course. Miller, trailing by only $1,299, needs to finish only 27th to go past Nicklaus. And, of course, he's expected to finish much higher than that. In fact, he is the No. 1 choice in 153-man field to pull down the $35,000 prize that goes to the winner.

Andretti Passes Up Position Try

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Mario Andretti may be the only driver at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway praying for rain this weekend. The diminutive Italian-American spent a long, hard day Tuesday working to get his Offenhauser-powered Eagle into shape to qualify for the 33-car starting field in the Indianapolis 500-mile race May 25. But, unlike the rest of the entries in the 59th Indy classic, the 35-year-old Nazareth, Pa., resident is getting his car ready for the second weekend of time trials. With mixed feelings, he's passing up a shot at the pole position to drive this weekend in the Monaco Grand Prix on the Formula 1 circuit. Andretti has been in 10 Indy 500s, winning in 1969 and becoming nationally known as an Indianapolis driver. And missing a shot at the pole isn't something he's happy about despite the fact he's putting most of his efforts into becoming the first American driver to win a Formula 1 race in an American car. "Of course it bothers me, but the race (at Monaco) is all-important to us," Andretti explained. "I just have to be realistic about it. We knew we were going to be facing this situation, but at least it's all under the same roof," he added, referring to the team operated by former Indy winner Parnelli Jones and West Coast businessman Vel Meltich. The darkly handsome Andretti never has started farther back than the third row of the 11-row field at Indy. But he has finished 30th and 31st in the last two years because of burned pistons and would like nothing better than to re-establish himself as one of the top threats.

"We knew well ahead of time that we were going to have to give up qualifying, but I feel if I get the car really working well I should be okay."

"Being away this weekend shouldn't detract from our chances at winning the race. Johnny Rutherford proved that last year," Andretti said, referring to Rutherford's victory last year despite starting in the 25th position. However, only three drivers ever have won the race after starting farther back than 25th, and all of those were in the early years of the Memorial Day event.

The annual event is sponsored by the Coahoma Quarterback Club. New club officers are Don Myers, president; Robert Kelso, vice president; Mrs. Bill Bennett, secretary; and Mrs. Dennis Greenfield, treasurer.

NEW YORK (AP) — The next move belongs to Joe Namath. By now, his attorney, Jimmy Walsh, has conveyed to the free agent quarterback the "substantial" offer that New York Jets President Phil Iselein has made to sign him. How good is the offer? "I wish," said Iselein, "somebody would offer it to me." Iselein refused to confirm or deny published reports of a $1 million, three-year bid by the Jets but agreed that "one million dollars is a good round figure."

Joe Willie also has the $4 million World Football League offer to consider. Iselein termed the Jets' offer as "substantial with security to go with it."

How long will it take Namath to decide? Iselein doesn't know but he thinks when that decision is finally made the Jets will win this tug of war.

"He's not the kind of guy you can rush," said Iselein. "But I'd guess he would be with the Jets next season. We want him. He belongs in this city with our team."

Iselein said he has conferred three times with Walsh, the most recent meeting taking place one week ago when the Jets made their money offer.

At the time of the offer, Iselein said, "I don't think anybody can match our offer," he said. Iselein said there is no deadline or ultimatum attached to the Jets' offer but did indicate that he wouldn't get into a sky's the limit bidding war for the quarterback.

"We want him but we're not going to give our team away to get him," said Iselein. "That wouldn't be fair to the rest of our players."

Iselein said that if the Jets fail to get Namath to sign, they would shop around for another quarterback to replace their longtime signal caller.

EIGHTH INNING SURPRISE Royals Baffle Rangers, 6-2

By the Associated Press

Joe Coleman thought he threw a good pitch. Nelson Briles knew he threw a bad pitch. Both pitches came down behind a fence as two-run homers but Coleman and Briles came up with victories anyway.

Detroit's Coleman was tagged for a two-run homer by Milwaukee's George Scott in the very first inning but that was the only hit he allowed as the Tigers rallied to end the Brewers' five-game winning streak 4-2.

Kansas City's Briles blanketed Texas on four hits until Willie Davis tied the game with a two-run homer in the eighth. But the Royals retaliated with four runs in the bottom of the eighth and trimmed the Rangers 6-2.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Boston Red Sox downed the Cleveland Indians 4-1, the Oakland A's shamed the California Angels 5-3 and the Minnesota Twins beat the Chicago White Sox 4-1.

Royals 6, Rangers 2

George Brett delivered a tiebreaking single and Frank White added a two-run hit in Kansas City's fourth-inning eighth. After the Rangers tied the score on Davis' two-run homer, Jim Bibby issued a leadoff walk to John Mayberry in the bottom of the eighth and Hal McRae singled him to second.

Reliever Steve Foucault fanned Harmon Killebrew but Brett snapped the tie with a single and the runners wound up on second and third on the throw to the plate. White followed with a two-run single, took second on the throw home and scored on a single by Buck Martinez.

Briles, 3-0, finished with a six-hitter.

Midland Tumbles Braves Send Dick Packing

Shreveport and Lafayette each took their 14th victories Tuesday and widened leads in their respective divisions as Texas League standings remained virtually unchanged.

Shreveport stayed on top in the West Division defeating Midland 3-2, and Lafayette defeated Alexandria 8-3 in the East.

San Antonio shut out El Paso 4-0. Rain again forced postponement of the Arkansas at Jackson game.

A combined shutout performance by John Langerhans (2-2) and Gary Weese kept El Paso scoreless. A two-run homer in the fourth by Rick Guerra and a two-run double in the eighth by Rob Belloir earned the Brewers tallies.

A four-run sixth inning marked by Frank Grunfelder's three-run homer sparked Shreveport's 5-2 victory over Midland. Shreveport's Randy Sealy, 2-1, struck out 10 before being relieved in the eighth.

League President Bobby Bragan in Shreveport Tuesday night announced Midland's Wayne Tyrone, a designated hitter, was suspended for three days for his part in a brawling incident Monday.

Lafayette took an easy 8-3 victory with winning pitcher Rod Dressler snaring his fourth victory against one loss. The Drillers' scoring streak was spard by one-on home runs by Tommy Smith in the third and Reggie Walton in the fifth. Craig Barnes cracked in a bases-empty homer in the fifth.

Tonight's schedule again has El Paso at San Antonio, Midland at Shreveport, Alexandria at Lafayette and Arkansas at Jackson.

Atlanta Braves today traded slugger Dick Allen and catcher Johnny Oates to the Philadelphia Phillies for three young players and cash.

Allen, the American League home run champion last year with the Chicago White Sox, had refused to play in Atlanta but had expressed an interest in playing again for the Phillies.

"The deal is satisfactory in view of the fact Allen did not want to play in Atlanta," said Braves Vice President Eddie Robinson.

In return for the right to

Allen the Phillies dealt No. 1 draft pick Barry Bonnell to the Braves, along with catcher Jim Essian. The deal also included a Phillies minor league player to be named at the end of the season.

Bonnell was the top choice in last January's free agent draft. The outfielder hit .350 for Ohio State last season and currently is playing in Spartanburg in the Philadelphia farm system.

Essian hit .282 last season for Toledo in the International League.

Robinson said he had been negotiating with the Phillies since they claimed Allen on waivers.

$8 MILLION DEAL Big Bend's Little Brother Big Bargain

AUSTIN, TEX. (AP) — Texas has a chance to buy 220,000 acres immediately west of the Big Bend National Park for a little over $36 an acre, says Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong.

The land includes 23 miles of river frontage on the Rio Grande and has water virtually over the entire tract, Armstrong has been telling legislators privately.

The legislature must adjourn June 2, and Armstrong is asking for a supplemental appropriation of $8 million to buy the land.

The owner of the land, Robert Anderson, board chairman of Atlantic Richfield Co., told Armstrong a year ago he would give the state first refusal if he decided to sell.

Armstrong said he was looking for a waterfall and that the state would be willing to swap land to get a waterfall in that area. Anderson's ranch has two large waterfalls, one approximately 170 feet high.

Armstrong said he forgot about his talk with Anderson until three weeks ago, when Anderson called him. The land is worth $60 an acre, Anderson said, but he could sell it to the state for a little over $36 an acre. The state already owns several pieces of land totaling approximately 31,000 acres inside Anderson's ranch, so the solid chunk the state would end up with if the deal goes through would be approximately 251,000 acres.

This compares with 708,000 acres in the Big Bend.

Armstrong has been cornering lawmakers in the halls of the Capitol to show them some two dozen color pictures of the land he took, including many from his airplane.

"I am requesting an additional appropriation of $8 million for the state to purchase this ranch as public school land. This represents a break with tradition. Up until 1956 the General Land Office has sold the public land. But I feel this is a unique opportunity in the Bi-Centennial year to reverse this trend."

"As you know, the Big Bend is now turning away visitors because of lack of water," he said in the letter.

"There are two waterfalls with permanent flowing water on the ranch and it is possible to dig three or four feet in arroyos and have percolating water immediately available.

"Also, on the ranch is the Solitario, a unique uplift area found nowhere else. Minerals are intact on approximately 106,000 acres and would be included in the price. Portions of minerals are available on most of the rest."

"The area has geothermal potential, as well as silver, mercury, flourspar and other hard mineral possibilities.
