Mayaguez Skipper Praises Rescuers

SINGAPORE (AP) — The captain of the Mayaguez, in an emotional news conference, said Saturday he bargained for his crew's freedom by promising their Cambodian captors he would call for the end of U.S. air strikes.

Capt. Charles T. Miller, 62, of Fountain Valley, Calif., also said he and his crew members were gassed and hit by shrapnel from rounds fired by U.S. warplanes trying to prevent the Cambodians from taking them to the mainland in a fishing boat.

Crash Is Fatal To Six Teens

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP) — Six Camden teenagers were killed and three other youngsters critically injured late Friday night in a one-car accident four miles south of this southern Arkansas city, the Arkansas State Police say.

Sgt. J.D. Tubberville said the accident occurred on a county road when the teenagers' speeding station wagon went out of control and crashed into a tree.

The dead were identified as the driver, John D. Campbell, 16; Debbie Kilpatrick, 14; Eddie R. Gavin, 16; Jana Jennings, 13; Debbie Jordan, 16, and John C. Barnes, who celebrated his 14th birthday Thursday.

The critically injured were identified as Scott Haley, 14; Buddy Kilpatrick, 12; and Darlene Jordan, 13, all of Camden.

Kilpatrick was taken to a Camden hospital; Haley was rushed to a Little Rock Hospital, 90 miles away; and Miss Jordan was taken to an El Dorado hospital, 35 miles away.

But he said without the Marine and Air Force actions "I don't think this crew would be standing before you today." He also said the Cambodians, who one crew member described as being between 12 and 26 years old, "never mistreated" him or his crew.

Miller said he kept his part of the bargain with the Cambodians after arriving on a Navy rescue ship by telling naval authorities in Washington of his promise. He also said he promised to ask for a halt in the landing of U.S. Marines.

But he said U.S. attacks continued for the rest of the day and part of the next night as American forces tried to extricate U.S. Marines who had landed on Cambodian soil as part of the rescue operation.

"We were told an attack had just commenced," said Miller after he and his crew came aboard the naval vessel about 4 a.m. Thursday after the Cambodians freed him, 39 crew members and five Thai fishermen, ending 68 hours in captivity.

The gassing and strafing occurred the day before as American jets vainly tried to prevent a fishing boat from taking the captain and crew to the Cambodian mainland.

The noxious gas burned all the crewmen and shrapnel wounded three men, the captain said in an ordeal that lasted almost four hours before the craft arrived at the Cambodian shore.

Miller said his own men were too sickened by the gas to consider taking over the vessel.

Statue To Audie Unveiled

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Audie Murphy would have been proud of the way America handled seizure of the merchant ship Mayaguez by Cambodia, Secretary of the Army Howard Callaway said Saturday.

Occasion of the remark was unveiling of an eight-foot tall bronze statue of Murphy, dressed for combat and urging unseen troops to cross the lawn at Audie L. Murphy Veterans Hospital here.

Callaway urged several thousand persons at the dedication to pay tribute to President Ford for his courageous decision to use military force to free the entrapped Mayaguez.

"They answered (the Cambodian seizure) in a manner of which Audie Murphy would have been very proud," he said.

Among those at the dedication of the statue and a memorial room inside the $36 million veterans hospital were several congressmen, veterans officials, generals and scores of wheel-chair confined paraplegic patients.

Murphy's widow drew the loudest applause during the hour-long ceremonies. She credited the Army with taking her late husband's abilities and finishing the product.

She told reporters just before the unveiling, "He had guts and I liked that. We were always very secure."

Murphy died in an airplane crash outside Washington, D.C., in 1971. He was American's most decorated soldier in World War II, winning the Congressional Medal of Honor while commanding Company B of the 15th Infantry, 3rd Infantry Division.

With the enemy tanks abreast of his position, Lieutenant Murphy climbed on the burning tank destroyer and employed its 50 caliber machine gun against the enemy. He was alone and exposed to German fire from three sides, but his deadly fire killed dozens of Germans and caused their infantry attack to waver," the citation read.

When Mrs. Murphy, accompanied by her two sons, unveiled the statue, she told sculptress Jimilu Mason of Alexandria, Va., "It's a good likeness."

Miss Mason had said she wanted to "freeze him in action."

She said also that after 18 months with the work, it had come to represent to her "all of the creative energy left on America's battlefields."

DA Aide's Body Is Recovered

FORT WORTH (AP) — The body of Asst. Dist. Atty. Jack Ball Jr., 33, was recovered from Lake Worth Saturday after a fisherman found him floating about 150 feet offshore.

Medical investigator James Seabury said Ball apparently died from drowning, but an autopsy would be performed. There were no signs of violence or trauma, he said.

Ball, head of the district attorney's consumer protection section, had been the object of a search since Tuesday night when he disappeared from a boat on the storm-tossed lake.

Blast In Lebanon Kills Seven Children

By the Associated Press
Seven Lebanese children were killed at play Saturday when a mortar shell fell from a recent Israeli shelling exploded in a field near the southern border village of Aitroun, a Lebanese army spokesman said. Five other children were wounded, three seriously.

Asked about the explosion, first thought to be a mine buried by Israeli troops who twice raided the village in the past week, a spokesman for the military command in Tel Aviv said the raiders had "not exchanged fire with anyone or left anything behind."

In the Israeli occupied West Bank of Jordan, meanwhile, 12 persons were injured by three explosions, the Israeli military command announced. An Israeli underground organization claimed credit for one of the blasts, which wounded an Arab and appeared to be in retaliation for an Arab attack.

Outside the conflict area, Saudi Arabia was reported ready to announce soon a $150 billion five-year development plan. The Middle East Economic Survey quoted the head of Petromin, the state oil, gas and minerals firm, as saying that $13-$14 billion of that sum will be spent for new oil refineries, petrochemical plants, fertilizer plants, oil pipelines and a mammoth steel plant.

In another Mideast development Israeli Defense Minister Shimon Peres said the country will be a responsible neighbor and not interfere with ships using the Suez Canal after it opens officially on June 5, eight years after it was blocked since the six-day Mideast war.

In an interview on the state radio, Peres said, "It is an Egyptian canal and the move will improve the Egyptian economy, something we welcome. Once the canal is open, surely Israel will do whatever it can so that navigation will be free, without any disturbance or threats... The only thing we are demanding is the right of a client to go through the canal."

"But we shall behave like a most responsible neighbor."

The explosion of a shell at Aitroun followed two raids during the past week on the village one mile inside the border. The raids were among 10 "acts of aggression" which the Lebanese government claims Israeli troops had committed along the border since May 1.

Eight Lebanese seized at Aitroun and nearby hill villages were taken to Israel for questioning but were all later released. Israeli spokesmen said they were suspected of aiding Palestinian guerrillas camped in the southern Lebanese mountains overlooking northern Israel.

Lebanese officials have accused Israelis of slipping across the border and planting mines in the fields to hamper guerrilla movements. A number of hill people have been killed or injured by mines exploding in their fields.

PROBATION Schaffer Guilty

After a weeklong murder trial in 118th District Court, James Schaffer, 40, of Big Spring was found guilty of the murder of his wife. The jury deliberated 5½ hours Friday.

The six-man, six-woman jury then suggested a 10-year probation sentence. This sentence was handed down by District Judge R. W. Caton, following the recommendation.

Immediately following the conclusion of the trial, witnesses said one of the women jurors left the jury box and hastened across the space to the defendant, presented him a package and reached up and hugged him. The package held a Bible.

Schaffer then walked out of the Howard County jail around 9:30 p.m. Friday, free of all charges.

Dick Milstead, attorney for the defense, said Saturday, "I am very appreciative and grateful to all members of the jury."

Schaffer was found guilty of shooting his wife, Sandra in their trailer home east of Big Spring in May 1974.

District Attorney Bob Moore declined to comment on the verdict.

Present plans by Schaffer are to make his home in Big Spring.

$210,000 IS AT STAKE High-Rollers Nearing Decision In Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The clan of high-stakes poker players is what people here call "somethin' else."

At the seventh World Championship of Poker in progress at Binion's Horseshoe Club in downtown Las Vegas, the elite of the clan sat for up to 12 hours at a time vying for a $210,000 pot made from the $10,000 put in by each of the 21 entrants.

The championship went into an unexpected fifth day Saturday with three players still in contention and the winner unlikely to emerge until early Sunday.

The players usually speak with a southern accent, mostly Texan. Never mind that no kind of gambling is legal in Texas.

They like their women beautiful. They like diamonds and gold bracelets and ostrich-skin cowboy boots and chamois trimming on stockman's jackets.

They carry cash in big wads. A gold money clip is small stuff. A roll of hundreds wrapped in a worn single with a rubber band is good stuff. Top stuff is a roll with a second rubber band — crosswise.

Inside the rolls they keep little hand-scratched notes of debts and credits and who they're helping finance to a game.

At the table they're inscrutable. They smoke cigars and drink mineral water and coffee. No alcohol.

The wheels in their minds are constantly turning. They read their cards by bending up an edge a quarter of an inch. They pretend not to watch anyone, but they're watching everyone. They count cards and study personalities, eyes flickering left and right.

At the tournament table, the finalists play hand after hand, trying to grind each other down.

Bob Hooks of Dallas brings cigars to the table wrapped in plastic film. He stores them behind a high straight wall of chips worth $54,000. He always looks studious, even when he smiles.

Crandall Addington of San Antonio, Tex., never wears the same suit twice in a tournament. All his suits are colorschemed right down to the footwear.

Brian "Sailor" Roberts of San Angelo, Tex., the leader on Saturday with $128,000, arranges his chips into a bastille and flanks it on three sides with a massive belly and two hairy forearms. He vents the pressure by clowning — feigning emotion, fumbling chips.

The crowd applauds as Aubrey Day of Tuscaloosa, Ala., gets up and puts on his neatly tailored burgundy suitcoat after a last-chip defense in which he won three straight hands only to lose out completely moments later.

A colorful former winner of the championship, "Amarillo Slim" Preston, is a kibitzer. He went broke on the second day of the tournament this year. He warns against drawing any conclusions before the final session is over. Many a poker match has ended with the low man in being high man out, he says.

Lee Oswald Reportedly FBI Undercover Agent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Warren Commission discussed a report that Lee Harvey Oswald had worked as an FBI undercover agent for more than a year before the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, according to a recently declassified commission transcript.

Members of the commission, including the late Chief Justice Earl Warren and President Ford, who was then a Michigan congressman, discussed the report at a closed session on Jan. 22, 1964.

The transcript remained classified top secret for 11 years until released to Harold Weisberg, an author who had filed suit under the Freedom of Information Act. Weisberg has written numerous books and articles criticizing the Warren Commission investigation and its conclusion that Oswald, acting alone, shot and killed Kennedy in Dallas.

A copy of the transcript was obtained by The Associated Press.

At the start of the meeting, J. Lee Rankin, general counsel of the commission, said he had been told by Waggoner Carr, Texas attorney general, that "the word had come out... that Oswald was acting as an FBI undercover agent and that they had the information of his badge which was given as number 179, and that he was being paid $200 a month from September of 1962 up through the time of the assassination."

Rankin said he had talked to Henry Wade, Dallas District attorney, who told him the source of the report was a member of the press.

"There is a denial of this in one of these FBI records, as you know," interjected the late Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., another commission member.

"It is something that would be very difficult to prove out," answered Rankin. "There was events in connections with this that are curious, in that they might make it possible to check some of it out in time. I assume that the FBI records would never show it, and if it is true, and of course, we don't know. But we thought you should have the information."

City Gets $58,830 Sales Tax Check

AUSTIN — Comptroller Bob Bullock issued checks totaling $58,830.49 Thursday to Texas cities in the second round of monthly city sales tax payments.

Big Spring's allocation for the month from April 4-May 2 was $58,830.49. Colorado City received $9,273 and Lamesa was sent $17,614.49. Stanton was forwarded $2,944.46.

The May payments were up from the $16.1 million rebated April 15 when the monthly system replaced the old quarterly rebate system with its 60 to 90-day lag time.

But, Bullock said, the big payment will come in June when city allocations are made of the quarterly returns paid by merchants since April 30. The great bulk of that money hadn't reached the Comptroller's office by the May 2 cutoff date for the May payments.

The May rebates were made from money received by the Comptroller between April 4, the cutoff for April's payments, and May 2, Bullock said.

Checks put in the mail Thursday went to 700 of the 809 cities which have the one per cent sales tax. The remaining small cities fell below the $500 level at which monthly payments aren't made.

All rebates, regardless of size, will be issued in June, Bullock said.

LAST-MINUTE SHIFT IN SITE FOR CHUCK WAGON PARTY

Location for the second annual Heritage Museum Church Wagon party Monday 7 p.m. has been shifted to the Dora Roberts Community Center (formerly Cosden Country Club).

The last-minute shift from the original location of the Howard County Fair Barn was necessitated by plumbing and other difficulties.

Except for the change in the site, everything will proceed as planned.

In addition to the Chuck Wagon feed — with sour dough biscuits and old-time cornbread on the side — there will be a brief flavor spot for the museum, music by the Tom Castle string band, and then a rousing program — with Bicentennial flavor — by the Nuts and Bolts singing group.

Reviewing the . . . Big Spring Week

with Joe Pickle

In West Texas — especially when we're crowding planting time — rain always is the big news. And what we got last weekend was wonderful news, even if there was some flooding and washing along the Howard-Martin line on the Andrews road. Except for a small area round Vincent, where showers were marginal, every sector had plenty. For example, Elbow and Lomax on the southwest had 3-3½ in.; Knot on the north west, Luther north central 2-3 inches; Vealmoor on the north line 1½; Sand Springs-Coahoma on the east 3-3.60 in.; Forsan on the south 2 in. By the end of the week, better than 20 per cent of the cotton land was planted and the end of this week will see virtually all of it in the ground.

The rainfall was intense enough to put out a modest amount of stock water, but it lasted long enough for pastures to get soaked and provide an instant green countryside. The big lakes, however, didn't fare too well, although Lake J. B. Thomas, which needed it most, got 1.34 feet or 3,300 acre-feet, and Lake Spence 24 of a foot for 1,600 acre feet.

63 YEARS IN BACK ROOM OF FUNERAL HOME 'Old Mike' Is Laid To Rest

PRESCOTT, Ark. (AP) — Sixty-three years after he died, an unidentified man was buried here last week, much to the disappointment of the townspeople and the local funeral home.

"They had waited so long for somebody to identify him that he was just like part of the firm," said Wayne Johnson, an employee of the Cornish Funeral Home. The cadaver, known as "Old Mike," had spent the 63 years in a back room of the funeral home.

"He was just standing in a cabinet," he said. "I don't know why we did that. We could open the doors and look at him."

"He was just part of the town — he had been here so long," Johnson added. "People came from all over the United States... just to see him."

Nobody ever recognized him, Johnson said. "Old Mike" was about 60 when he died here Aug. 21, 1911, Johnson said. He was found dead in the city park after he had attended a religious revival, Johnson added.

"He was apparently spiritually minded," Johnson said. "I think he was thought of as a hobo. He had been seen around town selling shoestrings, pencils and things of that type."

"Old Mike" was embalmed after his death, but funeral home officials didn't bury him in hopes that he could be identified, Johnson said.

Finally "Old Mike" was given "a regular Christian burial" at the request of the Arkansas Board of Embalmers, Johnson said. The funeral home paid the expenses.

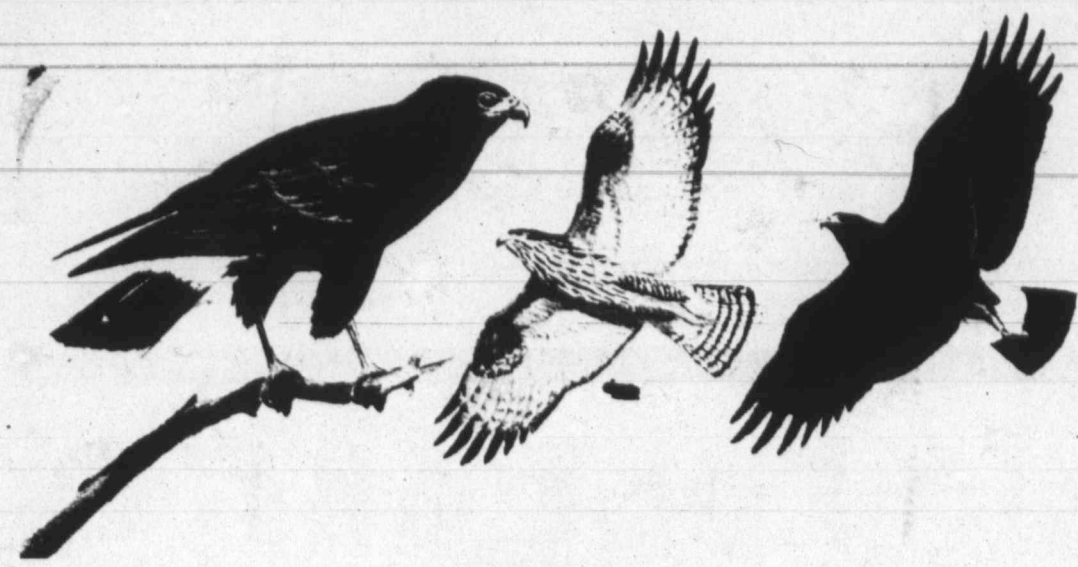

Johnson said that two funeral home directors "and six 'friends' I guess you could say" attended the funeral.

Board of embalmers member John Baker of Batesville said, "It was the proper thing to do." Another board member, Clyde Magness of Russellville, said the board asked that "Old Mike" be buried because he was a health hazard.

Thomas Cobb, an embalmer for the funeral home, said the townspeople "were awfully disappointed" that "Old Mike" was buried. Cobb said the body wasn't a health hazard.

"There was no way he could have been," Cobb said. The grave was given a temporary marker, but Johnson said a permanent marker will be placed over the grave soon.

It will be marked "Mike."

HARRIS HAWK
...many in this area

Researcher Here To Study Hawk

Curt Griffin, who is with the Chihuahuan Desert Research Institute, was in Big Spring Thursday seeking information about the Harris Hawk.

When the annual report was made on Harris Hawks in 1973 at Christmas, it was found that there was a larger number of them in Glasscock County than anywhere in the Southwest.

Since that time, the hawks have apparently diminished in number. Griffin, who works for a privately funded institute that could turn much of the Big Bend area and other locations in the Southwest into one of the biggest classroom-laboratory complexes in the country, is attempting to gain information on the hawks in this area.

The associates include Dr. Grainger Hunt, Dr. A. Michael Powell, Sul Ross biologist; Dr. Arthur Link, Houston geologist and Dr. James Scudday, Sul Ross zoologist. They have set up a fund-raising campaign to raise funds to formalize the institute.

The Chihuahuan Desert reaches from Old Mexico up to this area, which is on the top edge of the desert. It reaches across to the Guadalupe Peak area near the New Mexico border and on over into New Mexico.

The institute is studying many forms of wildlife in this area, not just birds. The assignment for Griffin is the Harris Hawk. This hawk is not harmful to ranchers, living off small rabbits, lizards and rats. The hawks nest in trees and in Yuccas

Cohorn Speaks

The regular monthly meeting of the Big Spring Health and Welfare Group will be Thursday noon at Downtown Tea Room. Dr. Ron Cohorn, psychologist for the outpatient clinic at Big Spring State Hospital, will describe the services afforded by the clinic. No reservations are necessary and all interested persons are invited, said John J. Clancy Jr.

Choir To Sing

The Westside Center choir, under the direction of Mrs. Joseph Dawes, will furnish the program for the Downtown Lions Club on Wednesday noon. The group will sing selections from their recent fourth Spring concert. Mrs. Charles P. Parham Jr. and Mrs. Robert D. Ford are accompanists.

Groat Is Named

LAMESA — Virgil Groat has been named president of the Dawson County Cancer chapter, replacing Wayne Smith.

BIRD WATCHERS — Mrs. Sue Kionka of Big Spring is known throughout the area for her interest in birds of this area and is shown with Curt Griffin of the Chihuahuan Desert Research Institute who was in Big Spring Thursday seeking information about the Harris Hawk in this area.

and sometimes on power lines.

They have a rare mating system. Usually there are two males and one female at the nest, according to Griffin.

The hawk is dark, common in mesquite brushland and desert areas. It is listed as a species kept under careful watch so it will not be completely eradicated.

Griffin, who is a raptor biologist, who studies birds of prey, came to Big Spring to talk to Mrs. Sue Kionka and Mike Paul, active bird watchers in this area.

Others around Big Spring who have a bird-watching hobby include Mrs. Ruth Affleck, Mrs. Polly Mays, Mrs. Mary Stipp, Mrs. Mary Joy Cowper, Dr. Paul Koshi and the Rev. Louis Mueller.

They are enthusiastic about Griffin's investigation of birds in this region, which is one of the least investigated natural biotic regions of North America.

The region is considered a wilderness frontier, poorly known biologically, but of great current interest and potential.

Anyone who sees a Harris Hawk may call Mrs. Kionka or Mike Paul or other bird watchers and report the whereabouts of the hawks.

Summer Fun Signup Due

Parents are reminded that time for the signup of the Citywide Summer Recreation program is at hand.

Activities begin with the traditional learn-to-swim campaign at the Comanche Trail park June 2-6, and the daily program begins June 9 and continues Monday-Friday through July 31. A teen-age basketball program also will be offered.

The program is open to every child of elementary school age in the area without charge except for the $1 registration fee (which will be waived for any unable to afford it). The pool fee for the week's swimming instruction is $1.

The swim portion calls for four 30-minute class sessions beginning 10 a.m., daily. The outdoor recreation program begins daily at 9 a.m. and continues to 12 noon, with the last hour generally a fun swim in the park pool.

The program is made possible through the support of the City of Big Spring, the Big Spring schools, and the YMCA, which is the administrative agency.

Signup is through the Central Y, but this has nothing to do with Y membership.

Ex-Resident Is Injured On Job

Joe Robert Boadle, 48, a former long-time resident of Big Spring, suffered second and third degree burns all over his body in a flash fire while working alone for Shell Oil Co., near Kalkaska, Mich., recently.

Boadle, one-time employe of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, remains in a serious condition at the burns center at Munson's General Clinic, Traver City, Mich.

Although working along, Boadle managed to get to the truck equipped with a two-way radio system and summoned help.

Joe Robert is the son of Mrs. Joe Boadle and the brother of Charles Boadle, both of Big Spring.

Joe and his wife, Beth, are the parents of three daughters and a son. The family lived in the Courtney community for several years. After leaving here, the Boadle resided in Odessa before moving on to Michigan.

Leonard Saint Earns Degree

Leonard Saint of Big Spring graduated Saturday from the University of Texas Permian Basin with a BA degree in Law Enforcement. Saint also attended Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene.

Saint graduated from Central High School in Cheyenne, Wyo., in 1967. Leonard is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Saint of Weston, Colo.

Saint received an associate degree in Law Enforcement from Trinidad State Junior College in Trinidad, Colo. He also attended Howard College here.

Leonard drove approximately 26,000 miles the last nine months going to classes at two universities.

Grants Motion

The Eleventh Supreme Judicial District court in Eastland received and granted a motion by appellant for an extension of time to file transcript and statement of facts in the case of Curtis Lee Allen Jr. vs. Glynda Mae Allen, appealed from 118th District Court here.

FOUR WIN AWARDS — American Legion Student of the Year awards were presented to the four students above in ceremonies here and at Forsan Friday. From the left, they are Sharon Jenkins and Doug Robison, both of Big Spring; and Kary Richardson and Dorothy Banks, both of Forsan.

Cotton Growers' Prexy Shaken By Bill Failure

W. B. Criswell, Idalou, president of Lubbock based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., says he is "bitterly disappointed" at the last ditch effort to enact new farm legislation for 1975 which failed.

PCG supported a one-year emergency bill which would have provided a 38-cent loan and 45-cent target price on 1975 crop cotton. The bill's chances died May 13 when the House of Representatives failed to override President Ford's veto. The vote was 285 for overriding and 182 against, 40 votes short of the needed two-thirds majority.

This leaves the 1975 loan for middling one inch cotton at 34.27 cents per pound as previously announced by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, and the target price at 38 cents per pound as stipulated in existing law.

"The higher levels of price protection in 1975 were entirely justified in view of inflated production costs," Criswell contends. "The most disheartening aspect of the whole thing is that the President's veto of the measure was unmistakably guided by Agriculture Secretary Butz' exaggerated estimates of potential costs and his predictions that the bill would cause over production of cotton, under production of food crops, disrupted markets and a return to government controls — predictions we consider ill-advised, to say the least."

Arraignment for two other Big Spring men was postponed until 10 a.m. May 23.

They are Steven Carol Sigmon, 22, indicted on two counts of stealing $1,000 worth of government property and damaging U.S. property at Webb AFB on Oct. 29, 1974, also John Lamar, 21, indicted on one count of distributing 4.35 grams of heroin on April 10, 1974. Both men are represented by Wayne Basden of Big Spring. Stan Brown of Abilene is Rios' attorney.

Some serious talk about West Texas gas

By K. B. "Tex" Watson, Pioneer president

Living in the middle of an area known for its abundant gas deposits, it's hard to imagine West Texans threatened by a shortage of natural gas. However, there is the possibility that governmental regulations could create a shortage here. If we are not vigilant, we could see much of our gas supply allocated to other areas. Or we could see price controls make it impractical for producers to drill additional wells in this area. What can the average citizen do to prevent that from happening? I would suggest that he be aware of the problem and support Pioneer's efforts to maintain our gas reserves.

Tropical Birds Find Home In Sand Springs

By TROY BRYANT
Cockatiels are Ramon Washburn's favorite birds. That's a good thing too, because he has about 75 pairs of the feathered creatures in an aviary in his back yard at Sand Springs. The Cabot employ has raised birds of one kind or another off and on for about 20 years, but settled on this particular kind of Fowl about seven years ago. Since that time, when he started with four pairs of birds, he has raised seven generations.

FEATHERED PALS — George and Nibbles, two of Ramon Washburn's cockatiels, enjoy eating out of the hand of the Sand Springs resident.

"What makes them so unique is that each one of these birds has his own personality," Washburn said. Birds with similar personalities usually become mates and they usually stay together all their lives.

WILL RETURN
Occasionally, he adds a pair to the flock to keep from inbreeding away desirable characteristics, such as disease resistance.

"Since I've been keeping these birds, I have only lost in adult one from disease and two from accidents," he said. One other bird was lost when he flew out the door of the aviary as Washburn walked out.

"If a bird that you have trained to sit on your shoulder and eat out of your hand flies out, he will come back to you if you call him," he added. Wild birds simply keep on flying.

He is presently involved in a project to produce more rare albino and pied birds. Albinos differ from "normals" in that they are completely white, with a yellow hood and orange spots just under their eyes. Normals have grey bodies with a

Not Their Own, Their Native Land

NEW YORK (AP) — Being named Broadway's best dramatic actors hasn't exactly thrilled John Kani and Winston Ntshona, who are officially classed as "house servants" back in South Africa.

"It's like Arabs winning a camel race in Jerusalem," says Ntshona of their joint 1975 Tony Award.

"The whole thing is just not part of our lives," Kani tersely ends joint comment on the silver medallions for their portrayals in "Sizwe Banzi Is Dead" and "The Island."

Solemn, dedicated and skeptical, the pair prefer to discuss artistic purpose and race issues. Conversation is a wary mix of candid feeling and diplomatic disclaimer.

"Our job as artists we believe is not to make changes in society," says Kani. "We don't have the ability to do that. We reflect life. We are the mirror of the society to look into. Our job is to raise questions, but we have no answers."

Ntshona touches on another possible reason for constant emphasis on wanting to be regarded only as artists. "Everything that comes out in the press here about us is printed there," he refers to their homeland.

Kani, now 32, and Ntshona, 33, have been getting international attention for several years with "Sizwe Banzi Is Dead" and "The Island." Both plays, which they co-authored in '72-'73 with Athol Fugard, concern the stern apartheid regulations imposed on South Africa's black natives by the country's white ruling minority.

In London, Dublin, and Cardiff the productions were admired. Last fall, along with director Fugard, Ntshona and Kani arrived at the Long Wharf Theater in New Haven, Conn., and since have been installed at Broadway's Edison.

little white on the wings, yellow hoods and orange spots while pids are in between the two. Pids have white bodies with gray wings and white wing tips with yellow hoods and orange spots.

Washburn sells some of his young birds to wholesale outlets, individuals and to pet stores. He says that a normal usually costs $35-$40 in a pet store while a pied with good coloration costs $60-$65 and an albino costs $90-$95.

MET CHALLENGE
Of all the birds he has raised, he has had only ten albinos.

Washburn always has liked birds and used to raise parakeets, finches, and canaries. He got into the cockatiel business when he heard that they were hard to raise. He accepted the challenge and soon, cockatiels were the only birds he was breeding. He also keeps peacocks, chukars, pheasant, quails and chickens and has one parakeet left from his parakeet raising days.

Feeding the fowl properly is a complicated task, according to Washburn, as breeding birds have to be fed differently from pets.

TALK IN TWO WEEKS
They make good pets, and after they become accustomed to their new home, they grow to love their masters and will ride around on their shoulders.

The birds are also very smart. "One woman got one of these birds two weeks ago, and the bird is already talking," he said. He usually keeps the young birds until they are two months old and are eating on their own. They usually live 10 or more years.

Washburn calls his endeavor a hobby, although he does make a little money from them. He says the money is not important, but the satisfaction he gets from raising them is his reward.

Cotton, Sorghum Coming Up In Far West Texas

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Violent thunderstorms, hail and heavy rains caused considerable crop damage in Central Texas last week, but precipitation in western areas should help agricultural conditions, according to the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Sizeable acreages of sorghum, cotton and small grains in central counties were damaged by flooding and hail, said Dr. John E. Hutchison, director of the service. At least 10,000 acres were lost in Williamson County, with other losses still being assessed.

The west weather has brought spring planting to a halt over much of the eastern half of the state although most of the corn, sorghum and cotton acreage had been planted. About 10 per cent of the rice crop remains to be planted in Southeast Texas, and planting of soybeans and peanuts will get under way as soon as field conditions permit.

Spring planting made good progress in North Central and West Central Texas and on irrigated land in the High and Rolling Plains during the week, noted Hutchison.

However, planting moisture is needed over much of the Plains for dryland crops. Harvesting of small grains, flax and vegetables has increased over southern sections, but yields are off some due to prolonged dry conditions.

Range and livestock conditions are continuing to improve over most of the state except in the Panhandle and in deep South Texas, said Hutchison.

District extension agents reported the following conditions:

Panhandle: The dryland wheat crop is suffering from lack of moisture. Cotton planting is active, with about five per cent of the acreage seeded. Sorghum and corn planting is about complete. Sugar beets continue to make good progress. Livestock remain in good shape.

South Plains: Scattered light to heavy rains over the southern portion of the area will boost the planting of dryland crops, but more moisture is needed. Planting of sorghum, cotton, corn and sunflowers are making good progress, along with vegetable crop. However, the wheat crop needs rain.

Rolling Plains: Lack of moisture is reducing small grain prospects and is also slowing spring planting. Sorghum planting is about 65 per cent complete, but only a small acreage of cotton has been planted. Ranges need a good rain.

North Central: Hail damaged some small grains, and some fields are being cut for hay. Planting of cotton and sorghum has been active, with about 80 per cent of the cotton crop and 95 per cent of the sorghum crop planted.

Northeast: Cotton and corn are up to good stands and should make good growth as moisture is adequate. Vegetable crops look good. Hail caused some damage to the peach crop. Hay crops continue to make good growth, and pastures are furnishing good grazing.

Far West: Cotton and sorghum are coming up, but rains are needed to get the crops off to a good start.

South: Most of the area remains dry although some rain fell in parts of the Rio Grande Valley. Flax harvesting in the Crocus Christi area is about complete.

Cotton is fruiting in the Valley and irrigation is in progress. Most of the sorghum crop is heading and needs rain. Drought conditions have severely damaged crops in a number of counties. Cattle marketing continue at a high level.

Wallace Problem Worries Hopefuls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic presidential hopefuls are sharply divided on whether to mount direct attacks on George C. Wallace and criticize his 10-year record as governor of Alabama.

However, none of the six current candidates is willing to say flatly he will support Wallace, should he surprise his party's professionals and capture the Democratic presidential nomination in 1976.

At least two candidates, Rep. Morris K. Udall of Arizona and former Gov. Jimmy Carter of Georgia, are planning major speeches soon that will take direct aim at the Wallace record.

Two other candidates, former Sen. Fred R. Harris and former Gov. Terry Sanford of North Carolina, have joined Udall and Carter in saying they couldn't support Wallace if he captures the 1976 Democratic presidential nomination.

Two other prominent hopefuls, Sens. Henry M. Jackson of Washington and Lloyd M. Bentsen of Texas, have shied away from direct attacks on Wallace, preferring to mount "positive" campaigns that avoid criticism of their rivals.

Neither Jackson nor Bentsen has said directly whether he would back a Democratic ticket headed by the Alabama governor. Jackson takes the position it won't happen, while Bentsen notes he always has supported the party's nominee.

To a certain extent, the position of the various candidates on Wallace winning the party's nomination.

Jackson and Bentsen both hope to pick up Wallace delegates after it becomes evident that the Alabama governor can't win. Carter hopes to defeat Wallace in some Southern primaries to demonstrate that he, rather than Wallace, speaks for the South. So does Sanford, who is not yet formally a candidate.

Udall seeks to broaden a liberal-environmentalist base into a broad center-left coalition.

A top aide to the Arizona congressman, Terry Bracey, said Udall decided about eight weeks ago to speak out on Wallace, who leads most Democratic presidential polls — but with less than 25 percent.

"He began to perceive the seriousness of the Wallace threat," Bracey said. Within two weeks, Udall will speak out "pointing to Wallace's record in Alabama, which is a dismal one."

Carter, who has already launched his campaign to win some delegates in Wallace's home state primary next May, is also planning a speech on Wallace, campaign manager Hamilton Jordan said.

THE WEEK

We may know more after this week, but both Howard College and Big Spring State Hospital should receive adequate appropriations. Howard College will receive $883,643, up 7 1/2 percent over the current amended level, the first year and $960,696 the second year of the biennium. If the House figure is taken on the hospital, it will receive $7,481,029 the first year and $7,866,457 the second year. The House votes Tuesday and then will begin the conference committee work.

The Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission gave its blessing to the City's application for $300,000 in HUD funds for street and sewer improvements. The Detox Center was funded for $49,151 by the Texas Alcoholism Commission, plus $17,080 by the City.

Oil well exploration is picking up in the area, stimulated by demand and good prices for new oil. Borden county got two wildcat locations, Mitchell, Sterling and Howard Counties one each. You may notice in today's Herald that last year Howard County produced over 15 million barrels of oil which had a value of roughly $102 million.

The Industrial Team participated in the Texas Electric Service Co. area development program in Fort Worth during the weekend and called on several prospects in the Dallas-Fort Worth area. Incidentally, the team and Industrial Foundation are exploring the possibility of an industrial tract west of town. And by the way, a pat on the back for TESCO, source of many of our good industrial leads.

Several "old pros" (not necessarily years) are retiring from the Big Spring school system, and last week were honored by the TSTA unit. Included — to mention a few of the local veterans — were Zoe Gibbs, Erma Steward, Haxel Lawrence and Calla Mae Perkins.

It appears that a chapter of the National Association of Retired and Veteran Railway Employees is assured here. At an organizational meet last Thursday 45 persons took out applications.

Lester Morton, who was active in numerous civic and church affairs during his 10 years here as president of First National Bank, died last week in Midland where he had been with a bank.

FROM THE NOTEBOOK — Garth Jones, the AP bureau chief at Austin says his sister-in-law, Champe Phillips, says that it's been getting hot in more ways than one in Saudia Arabia (after the King Faisal assassination) where she is with a hospital installation. The new graceful street lights are just about in place and ready for activation on new West Eleventh Place. The bear grass (yucca) are in full bloom with one of the most prolific displays in several years, and cactus soon will be blossoming. A beautiful hydrangea plant, one of many lovely flowers sent during the past week, had no name on it, and Lucille and I would like to know who was so gracious.

Betty Austin Winner Of Hospital Award

Employees and staff at the Big Spring State Hospital gathered to honor their own Friday night at the yearly Big Spring State Hospital Employee awards banquet.

Delbert Downing, Snyder, regaled the audience with stories before throwing down a challenge to the gathering.

Downing said this was the 23rd great civilization in the history of the world but cautioned we must work unceasingly to see that it endures.

"Let's make sure our children and grandchildren get to enjoy life," Downing said.

"Perhaps there is too much emphasis on science," Downing said, "because science can't teach integrity and can't teach us to pray. We need people to teach us how to live."

The speaker cited Dr. Will Durant, who wrote, in effect, that each of the great civilizations started by tilling the soil. (Durant is extremely pessimistic about the nation's future).

Downing said he was disturbed by the philosophy that we place more reliance in guns and missiles than in faith to live with one's neighbors.

"We have all the ingredients to survive but desire," Downing stated. "Are we going to milk it dry? We know how to but do we want it?"

Five commendation awards, four friends of the hospital awards and the Psychiatric Aide of the Year award were presented along with five year certificates, ten year pens and fifteen and twenty year bars.

Arlene Karpel, executive director of the Abilene Association for Mental Health presented the Psychiatric Aide of the Year award to Mrs. Betty Austin.

Mrs. Austin was selected from a field of 231 potential candidates which cites the devotion, skill, imagination, initiative and citizenship in the care she provides for the mentally ill and the handicapped.

Mrs. Austin has been employed with the hospital since September of 1970 and has been assigned as charge attendant of Unit 4, general psychiatry.

Friends of the Hospital awards went to Jim Owens, Greyhound Bus Station manager; Mike Neal, Forsan Band Director; Bill Bradley, Big Spring Band director and Jack Bowers, Big Spring Choral director.

Commendation awards went to Mrs. Dorothy Fletcher Mullen, Darrel Douglas Earnest, Mrs. Helen Marie McDonald, Mrs. Ruth Barry Payne and Miss Mary Louise Allen.

Service awards went to:

Mrs. H. McDaniel May Pen History

Mrs. Hank McDaniel, former Howard County librarian, has volunteered to start writing the history of Howard County, it was revealed at the monthly meeting of the Historical Survey Committee.

Mrs. McDaniel plans to research material, typewrite information and assist others who may be interested in the venture.

It was pointed out that Howard County is one of the few counties that does not have an up-to-date county history. The last history written by John Hutto was copyrighted in 1938. The completion of such a history in the bicentennial year is hoped for according to committee members.

Mrs. Calvin Daniel spoke to the group on Indians of America, particularly the Comanche.

She told the group that 100 centuries ago, the Paleo Americans came to our country, probably by way of the Bering Straits. She pointed out that they were fearless hunters who hunted fierce mammals with spears.

Mrs. Daniels added that the Comanches, descendants of the northern Shoshonas, did not appear in Texas until 1700. She discussed his life style and pointed out that 200 years after his arrival, he had disappeared.

A letter was read to the committee from Joe Williams, director of National Register Programs of Texas saying that the Hayden House has been entered in the National Register of Historic Places, as of April 14, 1975 and would be afforded the privileges granted under the historic Preservation Act of 1966.

Bids Sought On Roadway

AUSTIN — The State Highway Dept. has called for bids on a 4.778 miles project on US 87 in Howard and Martin counties.

Cost is estimated at $750,495.30.

The work will consist of reconstruct grading, structures, flexible base and two course surface treatment. Time allowed for completion is 200 days.

Engineer in charge is Joseph H. Smoot of Big Spring.

Teacher Is Dismissed

LAMESA — A Lamesa migrant program teacher failed to have her contract renewed after an all-night meeting Thursday that lasted 15 hours.

The board reached its decision about 10:30 a.m. Friday from a meeting which began at 7:30 p.m. Thursday. Only the last hour of the meeting was a closed session. The public hearing into the contract of Mrs. Kay Strance was called at her request and she was represented by Ben Bancroft, Big Spring attorney.

Lee McAlister, North Elementary School principal, failed to recommend that Mrs. Strance have her contract renewed. He testified concerning several alleged deficiencies. Nancy Doyle, another teacher in the school also testified along with the principal.

Three other teachers at the school, Mrs. Beulah Roberts, Mrs. JoAnn Moore and Mrs. Lorene Lippert, testified in favor of Mrs. Strance. Mrs. Strance testified that the deficiencies alleged by McAlister were "vague and for the most part untrue."

Public Service Award To KHEM

KHEM Radio was selected to receive the American-Chiropractic Association's national public service award, it was announced today by Dr. Halvard T. Hansen, A.C.A. representative.

Dr. Hansen commended the station for its efforts in broadcasting messages of a health advisory nature.

The chiropractic leader pointed out that Station KHEM fulfilled a conscientious role as a communicator by broadcasting messages for the public betterment.

Substance Bids To Be Opened

Bids on road stabilization material for an experimental project here will be opened in County Commissioners Court Monday.

The court plans to try the substance on one mile of unpaved county road.

Other business includes: Opening bids on a ripper for a tractor and an automatic truck tire changer.

Approving a Vocational Office Education student for the county auditor's office next school year.

Conferring with Bill Combs of the Hobart Corp. about a bill for livestock scales installed at the fair barns.

Hearing a report on the T-41 hangar, which is being stripped of partitions for Trans Regional Airlines.

Accepting the resignation of Doris Lewis, secretary to Peace Justice Walter Greig.

Talking with Danny Kirkpatrick about the fair barns.

And inspecting county properties and approving bills.

DETERIORATION OF MORAL VALUES SAID GREATER EVIL

Graham Downright Gloomy About Future

MONTREAT, N.C. (AP) — Billy Frank, as he was called then, was a shy kid. Mostly interested in fast cars and pretty girls.

Billy Frank didn't cotton much to religion then. He was far more interested in baseball and aspired to play professionally, although he wasn't nearly good enough.

But the gangly elder son of a dairy farmer was talked into dropping by a good old-fashioned revival tent pitched on the red clay dirt of North Carolina.

There, he found God. Or as the Rev. Billy Graham puts it, God found him.

Since then, God — and the world — has never lost sight of Billy Graham, who is now well into his third decade as a revivalist. Recently he had a private chat with President Ford, making Ford the sixth president of the United States to confer with Graham.

QUEEN POURS

The Queen of England has poured tea for him, the Republicans have tried to draft him as a presidential candidate he's a registered Democrat, and he's probably filled more stadiums and auditoriums than any other man in history. Fifty million souls have heard him preach at 225 crusades in 55 countries.

Burt Lancaster playing

"Elmer Gantry" pales before the electric presence that is Billy Graham, evangelist extraordinaire. The Rev. Dr. Graham — he'd rather be called Mr. Graham or just plain Billy — looks like Hollywood's version of God. Or, at the very least, Michael the Archangel.

His eyes are very piercing and very blue, his nose is long and pointing, one feels, directly at sin, and his hair wavy and leonine. His smile is mobile and reassuring and the strong white teeth good enough to sell any kind of toothpaste.

Appearing taller than his measured 6-foot-2, Graham moves with an almost double-jointed lithe grace. Even in private conversation, he gestures frequently with his magnificently artistic and enormous hands.

Presidents and politicians have come and gone, public mores have shifted and changed, but Billy Graham and his unvarnished brand of the Bible have survived for a quarter of a century.

Even Graham's close association with President Nixon — and his long-held conviction that Nixon was innocent in the Watergate affair — did not seem to damage Graham's prestige.

But Graham, 56, maintains that he was probably closer to Lyndon Johnson than to any other president.

Graham is keenly interested in the powerful people he meets and what they have to say. You don't need to talk with him very long before he comes out with a recent thought of Henry Kissinger or an opinion of Alexander Solzhenitsyn, or maybe something the Queen of England had to say.

NOT SAME

It does not come out like name dropping. Graham, the teacher as well as the salesman, wants to share a thought that impressed him.

Graham acknowledges that at some time in his career he may have been used by some politicians. After all, a picture of a politician standing next to Billy Graham sure can't hurt. Would Graham like to name those who might have used him? Of course not, replied the Christian, but he is quick to add that Nixon was certainly not one of them.

The evangelist and his wife, Ruth, live in a 10-room wooden house atop a mountain in Montreat, a tiny community outside Asheville. The house, made from three log cabins, is guarded by two German shepherds, "necessitated by fears.

Four of the five Graham children are married and have presented the Grahams with nine grandchildren. Two more are on the way. The youngest of Graham's children, Nelson Edman, is in prep school in Stonybrook, N.Y.

"We're very fortunate that all five of our children have followed Christ," says Graham.

The elder of the two sons, William Franklin Jr., got off to a rocky start.

"He was into everything you can think of, even having the police chasing him," says Graham. "I never got after him. Love would always come first. During this time, he would always hug and kiss me when he saw me. When it was over, there was nothing to re-establish."

At his wedding, the namesake of the famed preacher had a surprise for his parents. He announced that he and his wife were dedicating their lives to Christ. Billy Jr. is now in Bible school in Denver.

POWERFUL

Already Graham's son is a powerful preacher. He looks like his father and Graham says modestly: "I've been told he sounds very much like me."

One daughter is married to a Raleigh, N.C. dentist who is active in local politics; another is married to a Philadelphia TV producer, and the third is married to a wealthy Swiss, a childhood friend who is now getting his Ph.D. in psychology. They're talking about going to work with heroine addicts on the streets of Paris.

Graham's wife was born in China, the daughter of missionaries. Graham says she knows the Bible far better than he does.

Graham firmly believes that God chooses his servants and that Divine Providence put him where he is today. He also got a little help from the public relations providence of William Randolph Hearst.

Hearst took a liking to the unknown young evangelist and sent down the order: "Puff Graham."

Graham, the patriot who views the Constitution as the second greatest document in the world, sees communism as a menace to the world.

"They have a gigantic plan for the world and they may win temporarily," he says. "But Christ will win in the end."

"I don't see any hope but the coming of Christ. I used to think the world really was going to turn to God. I don't believe that anymore."

Graham feels the deterioration of moral values is a greater evil than communism.

"We will bury ourselves. It's our own affluence that will be our destruction."

UNCHANGED

Graham's basic fundamentalism, the belief that each man must be redeemed through Christ, has remained unchanged over the years. He sounds downright gloomy as he talks of the state of the world — the coming of Armageddon, the end of history, the second coming, terrorist organizations that could be building the Bomb, and the quagmire America has found herself in since the assassination of President Kennedy.

This recently prompted Sen. Warren Magnuson of Washington to ask if Graham considered himself an optimist or a pessimist.

"I told him I was an optimist because I had read the last page of the Bible," Graham is certain he will go to heaven and actually looks forward to Judgment Day.

"That gives me a great serenity and peace. I have the Holy Spirit living within me," Graham says simply.

Graham gave quick notice to a group of Republicans who wanted to draft him into running for president in 1964. The preacher born to be a preacher says he never even considered. "God has called me to preach and I consider that a higher job."

And preach he has, with the organizational support of the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association, run by a select and respectable group of businessmen who monitor the $18-to-$20-million annual budget.

Graham draws only $32,500 in salary now. The directors wanted to give him more but Graham rejected it.

"I don't feel I should make more than a pastor of a large church makes," explains Graham.

The well versed evangelist reads more than a half-dozen newspapers a day, as well as religious newspapers and magazines. He also peruses the lyrics of well-known rock songs to get into his sermons.

He reads the Bible at least an hour a day and sometimes as much as five or six hours. He's abandoned his dream of memorizing the Bible before he dies.

Prayer, Graham says, is a constant thing, a way of life. "I'm praying right now," he volunteers in the middle of an interview.

For what?

"I'm praying that I don't put my foot in my mouth like I've done so often and I'm praying that I give you answers that will help you."

Kleasen's Trial Begins Monday

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — When the murder trial of Robert Kleasen begins Monday, the state could be faced with a decision whether or not to prove motive in the slayings of two Mormon missionaries.

Kleasen's trial on capital murder charges begins with jury selection in the court of District Court Judge Tom Blackwell.

Technically, the prosecution is not required to prove motive, but as a practical matter, jurors need to be shown a believable motive before they are willing to convict a man of capital murder.

Based on police statements so far in the case, the state's version will be that Kleasen killed the missionaries to steal their wrist watches and the tires from their car.

However, the state may use what many Mormons think was the real motive—revenge against the church.

Kleasen served seven months in three rural jails west of Austin in late 1973 and early 1974. He was a recent convert to the Mormon church here, and members of the church say he criticized them bitterly for not visiting him and supporting him as much as he thought they should have during his confinement.

Kleasen reportedly wrote letters and made statements swearing revenge for their alleged neglect.

He was released from jail after Texas refused to extradite him to New York, where he still faces a felony assault charge.

Last Nov. 8, on the night before 1,000 Mormons began a vain search of more than 200 miles of highway right of way west of Austin, the searchers were told to look for body parts.

"This man talks a lot, and some of his talk is pretty gruesome—about chopping people up and this sort of thing," said Amos Wright, state president of the church.

Six days later, Kleasen, 42, was charged in the slayings of Gary Darley, 20, of Simi Valley, Calif., and Mark Fischer, 19, of Milwaukee, Wis. Police said the motive was theft.

The state says Kleasen killed them and then cut up their bodies with a band saw in a taxidermy shop. The missionaries' blood-stained watches were found in Kleasen's small trailer behind the taxidermy shop. Officers found the tires in a nearby shed under a canvas cover.

Hair samples that reportedly have been positively linked to the missionaries through neutron activation analysis—as foolproof as fingerprints—were found in the housing of the band saw.

Kleasen says he is innocent, that he never saw Darley and Fischer on the day, Oct. 28, they told other missionaries they were going to eat dinner with Kleasen in his trailer. He says he has seen no evidence to convince him they are dead.

Second Dropoff In Oil Production Reported

DALLAS — Another 12 months of crude oil production at 100-per cent of the maximum effective recovery rate in nearly all Texas fields has resulted in the second consecutive yearly dropoff in crude oil production in the nation's No. 1 energy state.

An output of less than 1.3-billion barrels of crude in 1974 was almost 32.5-million barrels below the 1973 figure and over 38.7-million barrels short of Texas' all-time record production year of 1972.

Texas' production last year continued to set the pace among this nation's oil producing states, representing approximately 39.4-per cent of total U.S. production, according to statistics compiled by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

In 85 years, Texas' oil fields have produced over 39.1-billion barrels of crude oil, approximately 36.2-per cent of total recorded U.S. production.

"The continuing and accelerating decline in production from Texas fields again points up a national crisis—an almost inevitable increase in U.S. dependence on insecure, higher-priced foreign crude oil for this country's basic energy needs," said the Association's president, Sherman Hunt, an independent Dallas oilman.

"With about 63-per cent of U.S. production under strict federal price control, producers are caught in the squeeze between an arbitrary price ceiling far below the price of foreign oil and the skyrocketing cost of finding and developing domestic reserves. It remains the Congress' responsibility to adopt economic policies which will encourage rather than hinder the search for new supplies of energy. Only in this way can this downward trend in domestic crude oil production in Texas and elsewhere be reversed," Hunt said.

In 1974, some 31 counties produced more than 10-million barrels of crude oil, with Anderson and Kleberg counties dropping below that mark and off the list compiled last year, according to the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association. The top seven, all with production in excess of 51-million barrels, retain generally the same order as in 1973 with one notable exception: Yoakum County has moved into the No. 2 spot ahead of Ector County. The list includes:

Scurry 94.2-million barrels, (91.8, 1973); Yoakum, 77.6-million barrels, (66.0); Ector, 71.2-million barrels, (53.2); Gaines, 57.8-million barrels, (61.3); Andrews, 56.2-million barrels, (60.4); Gregg, 51.6-million barrels, (53.2); Hockley, 51.3-million barrels, (49.6).

Gregg County, the only Texas county to produce more than two-billion barrels of oil in the history of recorded production, remains the all-time leader with a cumulative production total through 1974 of almost 2.5-billion barrels. Other counties with cumulative production in excess of one-billion barrels include:

Ector, 1.9-billion barrels; Andrews, 1.7-billion barrels; Rusk, 1.5-billion barrels; Scurry, 1.2-billion barrels; Crane, 1.1-billion barrels; Harris, 1.1-billion barrels.

Counterfeit Ring Broken

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Police and federal agents Friday arrested nine persons and seized equipment and supplies that could have led to the printing of up to $5 million in counterfeit money, authorities said.

The arrests, which included three Texas men, ended three days of surveillance that had begun when authorities in Dallas, Tex., said they had information on the counterfeit operation, said federal agent Robert Dowling.

"If they had been allowed to print the money for several days, they could have run off $4 million to $5 million in '100 bills,'" Dowling said.

He said a "complete printing plant," including ink, paper, a press and press plates in three colors were found in the midtown house.

He said agents found $185,000 in counterfeit bills printed on the black side only. A counter on the press showed 264 sheets of six bills each had passed through it, Dowling said.

Texasans arrested were Eddie Gonsales, 37, of Fort Worth; William Rodela, 32, of Arlington; and Frederick Fritz Parker, 38, of Forth Worth.

Others arrested were Robert Simpson, 24, of Tucson; Robert Kilpatrick, 33, of Ron Simpson, 19, and Benjamin Kilpatrick, 25, all of Benson, Ariz.; and Cecil Stine, 35, and Ronnie Richardson, hometowns unavailable.

They were arrested for investigation of manufacturing counterfeit money and were to appear before a U.S. Magistrate here today, officials said.

Everest Climbed By Fem

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — A Japanese housewife has become the first woman to reach the top of Mt. Everest, the world's highest mountain.

The Nepalese Foreign Ministry made the announcement today, and also said that four more men have been reported dead in the Himalayas.

The housewife, 35-year-old Junko Tabei, a member of an expedition of 15 Japanese women, reached the summit of the 29,028-foot mountain on Friday, the ministry said.

The women took the southeast ridge route, used by Sir Edmund Hillary and Sherpa Tenzing Norgay, the first to scale Everest in 1953.

Everest, known locally as Chholomolungma, or "mother goddess of the earth," has been climbed by 35 men over the past 22 years.

The ministry said Mrs. Tabei was escorted by a male Sherpa guide, Ang Tenzing, one of nine male Sherpas who accompanied the women to their 24,885-foot camp.

Mrs. Tabei, deputy leader of the expedition and mother of a three-year-old girl, told reporters before leaving Katmandu for Everest: "Women are not so strong as men. But we can also climb the mountain slowly. Now I think only about climbing. Let us not talk about success."

Five years ago she scaled the 24,800-foot Mt. Annapurna III in her first conquest of a Himalayan peak.

The Nepalese government said two Japanese men who scaled the previously unconquered Dhaulagiri-4 in the Himalayas were lost and presumably killed while descending from the 25,134-foot mountain.

Shiro Kawaji and Etsuro Yasuda radioed shortly after leaving the summit May 9 that they were having trouble and that "we are very tired," the announcement said. The next morning searchers found what appeared to be their bodies 3,300 feet below the summit.

The Foreign Ministry announced that two more members of the British-Nepalese joint army expedition climbing the Nuptse peak were thought to have died on the 25,850-foot-high mountain which claimed two lives last week.

The deaths forced expedition leader Maj. L.W. Fleming to abandon the attempt to scale the mountain, the statement said.

Spokesmen said Lt. D.A.J. Brister and British Gurkha soldier Pasang Tamang were presumed to have been killed Wednesday, but their bodies have not been found. The two men have been missing since they began descending to the base camp after a heavy snow storm prevented them from making a second assault on the Nuptse on Monday.

Fourteen climbers have died this spring in the Himalayas.

Of the 15 expeditions in the area recently, nine have been Japanese. Only three reached their objective — the women's team, the ill-fated pair on Dhaulagiri-4 and a lone Japanese who reached the top of the 24,987-foot Dhaulagiri-5 on May 1.

Howard And Neighbors Had Productive Year

Howard and its six contiguous counties in 1974 produced 57,392,695 barrels of crude oil. There is no accurate measure of value because of a double pricing system and widely varying gravity of oil, but at $6.50 a barrel this would represent nearly $373 million.

The total was down by 1,544,659 barrels from the previous year. Dawson dropped by more than a million barrels and Howard by about 400,000.

Martin County, long a hard-luck county for exploration and production, vaulted into the second most productive spot and gained about a million barrels.

Borden declined about 650,000 barrels.

Borden, Dawson, Glasscock, Howard, Martin, Mitchell and Sterling Counties averaged 157,239 barrels of oil per day. Since they began production, these counties have turned out well over a billion barrels — 1,172,316,116.

Howard County likely will not reach a milestone of a half billion barrels during this year, based on 15 million last year. That would leave it about 5,000,000 barrels short.

Here are the figures furnished for 1974 by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association:

New Ideas, New Era

In 1972 the Club of Rome issued a research paper entitled "Limits of Growth." Its main thesis was the conclusion that the West will experience a declining standard of living at least through the rest of this century because of population growth and the increasing scarcity and higher costs of energy.

The limits imposed will make unprecedented demands on democratic political systems, the report predicted. There was even a suggestion that democratic systems may not survive because they are unlikely to take the hard, long-range decisions necessary for survival.

The Club of Rome is an informal group of about 85 international scientists, businessmen, and thinkers concerned with finding ways to deal with the complexities of the modern world. Its findings in 1972 have been the subject of spirited debate, especially by those who sought to refute its findings and question the accuracy of its computations and extrapolations.

The search for formulas and solutions will be continued by the Club of Rome this October in Houston. With the backing of George Mitchell, Houston oilman, the club and the University of Houston will convene a "Limits to Growth '75" conference. Dr. Dennis Meadows, former director of club's "Limits to Growth" project in 1972, characterizes the conference as "a deliberate effort to move onto the next stage" to catalyze thinking about practical alternatives to unlimited growth.

"Economists tend to be wed to the concept of growth; it permeates the whole profession," said Meadows, who is a professor of business and engineering at Dartmouth College. He hopes the conference will "smoke out good people" who can articulate new approaches. He bemoans the fact that most national governments behave more like the Titanic, "with a man in the bow probing ahead into the fog with an eight-foot stick when it takes two miles to stop."

Americans, perhaps more so than most other peoples, have been preoccupied with growth for more than 200 years.

But now there are no more geographical frontiers.

There is ample open space, but none of it as desirable as that already settled and developed. The available sources of fossil fuel have not been exhausted, but we must turn now to ever more expensive alternatives to oil and gas. The growth of population reminds the thoughtful that there are limits to our growth, both physical and economic.

So the time has come to decide what we shall do with what we have. There likely will be no more-and-more, no bigger-and-bigger. Instead it may be less-and-less for more-and-more if population is not limited.

We need new ideas, new ways to cope with the new world, the new era that faces us.

Reversal Of Energy Chain

The nation's energy picture is changing. With supplies of domestic oil and natural gas limited, or in the position of supply lagging behind development, there is a move to return to the more abundant use of coal.

A plan now has been devised to move Colorado coal by pipeline to Texas. Ironically, not too many years ago the first natural gas pipeline took Texas natural gas to the rest of the nation. That was widely hailed as opening the way to tremendous progress and economic activity, profitable both for Texas producers and for the new consumers elsewhere.

Of course it was. Now, however, natural gas is no longer the cheap and abundant fuel for which markets must be sought. Its artificially low price, held down at the cost of discouraging production and exploration, has risen to recouping levels. Now the supply of natural gas cannot meet demand — even here in Texas, much less throughout the nation.

So now Colorado coal will be pulverized, mixed with water to form a slurry, piped into Texas and burned in power plants to create electrical energy here. Quite a reversal in the energy transfer chain, isn't it?

A Demotion

Around The Rim

Walt Finley

If you want to know the truth on a burning question of the era, I've always thought that women are better than men, so why would they want to take a demotion to "equal"?

BACKSHOP BOSS Bob Rogers, in San Diego for a few days showing city slickers how to print a newspaper, reported:

An optimist is a man who believes his wife could live on what he made — if he made more.

My drinking cousin, Bobby Harris, defines a "peek-a-boo gown" as "a dress that isn't all there for women who are."

Gwen McNalley, classified ad expert, asks:

Since I've received my tax rebate, will I have to pay income tax on it this year?

DO YOU GET the idea that if Julius Caesar were alive today, he would say: "I came, I saw, I conquered"?

Tina Harris, who graduates from Moore High School this month, writes:

"Oklahoma City is selling its depot. If the energy crunch continues, they'll have to buy it back."

Many of our quaint phrases are regarded as clichés. Maybe they are and maybe they're not.

For example, now that I have a sore thumb, I believe, I believe.

One way to start a week.

My favorite letter Monday was addressed to W. (for waste) Finley, and, of course it was unsigned:

"MR. FINLEY — Just a note to congratulate you on making a parasitic success by living on other persons' real wit and humor.

"Why must you expose your own deficiencies by attempting to be humorous on your own?"

"Your alleged humor about incorporating yourself as a city so some wealthy comedian will make you his project was just a bit sicker than most of your own wit.

"Included was the President of this nation as a comedian. You could have not found a better way to illustrate this shallowness of your intelligence or your lack of respect for this country or its institutions.

"I presume that you are the product of some liberally oriented school which manages to make its graduates egotistical boors."

Bob Considine, syndicated columnist, occasionally ran into someone who would say "I didn't care very much for your column today," and he would reply "Who read it to you?"

It's too bad I can't think of lines like that.

ANYWAY, I retract my suggestion that Bob Hope should be our president. Why should a guy who has worked so hard to get where he is take a demotion?

I don't know why it didn't occur to me earlier that a stag nation would indeed lead to stagnation.

Some people who claim to be grown men should change the word to "groan." Oh, the photo. How do you like it? Let me know after next week.

REMEMBERING...

By BILL D. BROOKS

GASOLINE PUMPS

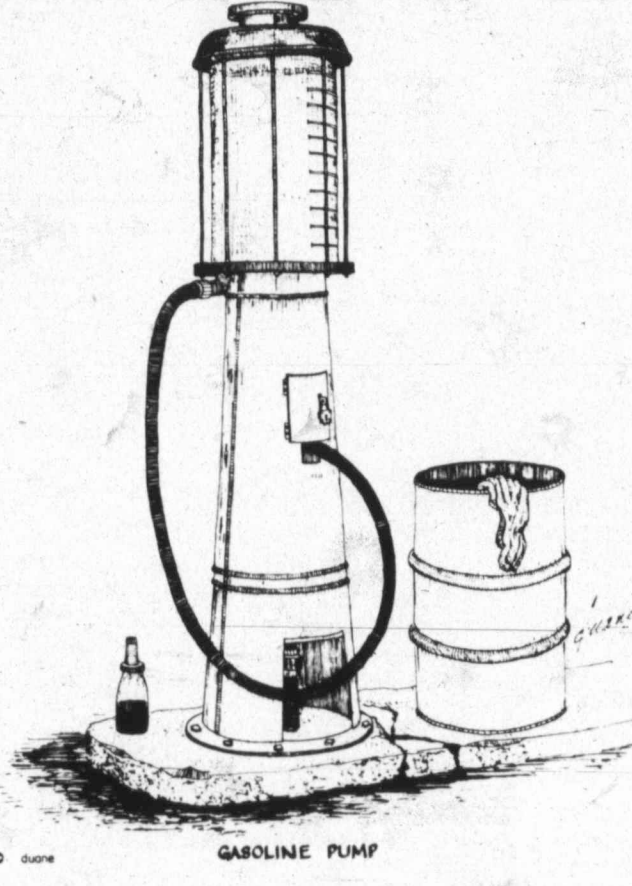

In other days it was common to see a Model "T" or "A" or some other early day vehicle pull up to a hand-operated gasoline pump like the one shown. People didn't need very much gasoline then because they didn't go as much or as far. There were few families with more than one car and gasoline powered lawn mowers, boats, tools, etc. were unheard of. The hand-operated pump gave much slower service in most cases than we would tolerate now but at that time it was all that was necessary.

The pump was situated over an underground storage tank. There was a hand crank or handle on it which was worked laboriously by the attendant to pump the "gas" from the tank up into the glass container at the top of the pump housing. The glass was marked with graduations of gallons and usually held ten or twelve when full. When a valve on the filling hose was released, gasoline drained, by gravity flow, into the customer's tank.

Most people bought just five or six gallons at a time. Filling station operators would usually pump the glass completely full, drain off the desired amount for the customer and leave the rest for a later sale. At closing time, if any remained in the glass, it could be drained back into the underground tank.

People didn't have any more time then than we do now but they didn't seem to be in our kind of hurry. If the attendant was slow at pumping the gasoline, the customer usually didn't mind. The break gave him a chance to observe the domino or checker game going on inside or to chat with the whittlers sitting around on "sodie water" boxes out front.

As a youngster I especially enjoyed going to the filling station. I liked to watch as the man pumped the glass full. The gasoline churned and gushed around, bubbling and sloshing until he quit pumping. As the bubbles settled you could tell how many gallons he had pumped. The gasoline was a beautiful color especially when sunlight was kinda behind it. As the gas was being drained into our tank, I would watch the golden liquid slowly shrink in the glass window, sometimes completely disappearing from view. I wondered, even back then, how much gasoline the world would produce and if some day we might run out. But most folks didn't seem to think that was ever going to be a problem.

My Answer

Billy Graham

My problem is self-pity. I felt convinced that I was ugly, and I had all my front teeth pulled out and replaced with plastic ones. Imagine! When I realized what I had done, it was too late. How do I gain confidence?

B. N.

Confidence is not some variable that is hinged to the clothes we wear, or our physical appearance. It is an inward quality, essentially spiritual, which arises from a foundation of truth quite outside ourselves.

The wisdom writer in Proverbs 3:26 (NAS) wrote, "For the Lord will be your confidence, and will keep your foot from being caught." Now it's a beautiful fact that as our faith in Christ grows, so does our ability to accept ourselves and to accept our lot in life. That's why Paul wrote in Philippians 4:11, "I have learned the secret of contentment in every situation." (Living Bible).

Someone has said, "Confidence is a plant of slow growth." Get your life organized. Concentrate on the things you know and do well. Don't take on any new responsibilities for awhile. Forget the past. And above all, thank God daily for the assets you do have.

'I Am A Camera'

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — The TV camera was sitting there quietly, its eye looking over the scene.

"WHAT ARE you doing?" I asked it.

"I'm waiting for something to happen. You know, a demonstration or a riot or any kind of a scene to put on the nightly news. You don't have anything provocative to say, do you?"

"I don't think so."

"That's too bad. If you were against the Vietnamese refugees I'd take a picture of you," it said.

"No," I said. "I'm for accepting the Vietnamese refugees."

"Well, that's not news. I need conflict. I have to seek that which is unique."

"YOU MEAN if you were in a town and everybody was for accepting the Vietnamese refugees except one man — you would interview that one man?"

"Sure."

"But if you put him on the news most people around the country would think that everyone in the town was against the Vietnamese refugees."

"I'm just a camera. I do what I'm told. I wish something would happen; my tubes are getting itchy."

"WHAT HAPPENS if nothing happens?"

"Something has to happen. Otherwise there wouldn't be any news. If nothing happens I can always tape another unemployed auto worker."

"That's not really news, is it?"

"It is on a dull day. I'm sure not going to tape an employed auto worker."

"I SHOULD hope not. It's too bad the college kids are so quiet."

"Don't I know it. All you needed was about five kids taking over a dean's office and it looked like 35,000. The kids knew it, too. They used to wait until I arrived before they took over the building. But there is an awful lot of apathy on campuses these days. I don't think I've taken any good college pictures since the streaking fad last year, and then most of them wound up on the cutting-room floor."

"I imagine you have a lot of fun taking pictures of President Ford?"

"Are you kidding? I can hardly keep my eye open when he's talking."

"I IMAGINE Congress isn't any better."

"It's worse. You can work your lens off all day long and never get on the air. I really miss the Watergate trial. It was really fun taking shots of those people arriving with their lawyers and walking in and out of the courtroom."

"Who is your favorite subject?" I asked.

"Henry Kissinger," the camera replied. "He's always tense when he comes out of a meeting and his face flushes a lot when someone asks a tough question. I get a chance to use a lot of red color when Henry looks at me."

"IS THAT Henry? I thought it was my set."

"Oh ho. Here comes a screaming mob of anti-abortion people ready to tear Washington apart."

"What mob? There are only three."

"If I do a close up, nobody will know the difference."

Financial Trouble Mires Gotham

WEEK'S BUSINESS

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's largest city took its eleventh hour search for $1.5 billion to Washington and to the New York State capitol this past week, but came back emptyhanded.

New York City, which risks becoming the first major U.S. city since the Depression to default on its debts, failed to procure from the Ford administration or the New York State legislature the money it needs.

Both Ford and Treasury Secretary William E. Simon told Mayor Abraham Beame that to help the city with a massive federal loan might lead other troubled cities to make similar requests. And leading state legislators told Beame and Governor Hugh Carey that the state could not afford to lend the money needed by the city.

By contrast, a 5-year old experiment in raising equity capital paid off handsomely last Thursday for the corporate giant, American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

AT&T's 31.3 million warrants, which until they expired last Thursday entitled their owners to buy AT&T common shares commission free for $52 apiece plus the warrant, grossed the company $168 million on the deal. About 1-10th of the outstanding warrants were turned in by investors for conversion to AT&T common by week's end, according to AT&T.

The experiment worked because AT&T common reached the $52 a share mark last week just as the deadline for exercising the warrants approached.

In gloomier business developments, new car sales for the early May period were reported 21 per cent lower than year ago levels, further dampening hopes of an early rebound.

And in another reminder that the recession is not yet over, the government reported industrial output sank 0.4 per cent in April, the seventh consecutive monthly drop in the key statistic, but the smallest since the decline began.

Xerox Corp., long one of Wall Street's favorite growth stocks, gave stockholders the bad news last week it expects little or no profit growth this year, and possibly even an earnings decline in the third or fourth quarter. That development contributed to a generally soft stock market last week, in which the Dow Jones Industrial Average declined 12.52 points at 837.61.

Thyroid And Skin Problem

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have extremely dry skin on my hands and feet.

My feet have cracks in them through every layer of skin, and they are quite painful. My hands peel in spots, particularly at the tips of my fingers. Do you have any diet that would be helpful? Do you have any ideas on this subject?

Mrs. I.M.C.

There are several possible causes of your dry skin, and since you are only 40, we might rule out one common — age.

Low thyroid function (hypothyroidism) is marked by a coldness and dryness to the skin, so you might be checked for your thyroid state. In hypothyroidism there can be an insufficient production of the hormone needed to put carotene to use. Carotene is what is called a "pro-vitamin," and when it is metabolized in the body it becomes vitamin A.

Since vitamin A is essential to skin health, you may wish to consult your physician about the possibility of taking it as a supplement to your diet.

Diabetes, too, can be accompanied by the same vitamin A deficiency.

But your obvious problem, badly cracked skin, requires some immediate attention as it appears from your letter to be serious. It may or may not be secondary to an underlying condition, such as the one I suggest above.

Skin, as you probably are aware, can vary considerably in its natural texture and resistance to environmental factors — soaps, detergents, chemicals, etc. I presume you are very careful about these things. Stockings and gloves can be sources of irritation, especially if your skin is sensitive to certain of the synthetic materials. Try wearing white cotton slippers for your feet, and see if this doesn't help.

If you cannot find the sources of irritation from such methods, you would be wise to be checked for some of the other potential causes of your dry skin.

Too, your problem is not uncommon in menopause, and you may find this as a root of your skin disturbances.

NOTE TO N.M. — Your sudden aversion to sex after your pregnancy is not normal, but it does occur in some women. It is almost always psychological. I suspect you had a difficult pregnancy and delivery. I can only suggest you find some psychiatric help, since it seems to be destroying your otherwise happy marriage. Why not discuss it openly with your husband and your doctor?

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am a woman 70 years old, and have been in good health all of my life.

Recently my stool has become black. Can you explain this?

J.M.

A black stool that persists for over two movements is something which requires investigation. It can indicate bleeding from an ulcer or a diverticulum, or from some infection.

Occasionally dark stool can result from medication — bismuth, for example. Also, food high in iron content or iron medication can produce this.

It can be any of these things, but if the black stool has persisted you should be checked promptly.

Acne is a terrible problem for anyone growing up. If you are afflicted with it, or have children who are, write to Dr. Thosteson, in care of The Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 3999, Elgin, Ill., 60120, for a copy of his booklet, "Controlling Acne, Blackheads and Pimples." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Day In Israel

TEL AVIV. Leaving Israel is a revealing experience. It is hard to begrudge an air terminal that has suffered what God has suffered the right to impose any indignity on transiting passengers. So when the lady asked me what was my profession, I answered good-naturedly, "I am a journalist."

"SHOW ME your journalist card." "What do you mean my 'journalist card'?" I answered. "In America, we don't have 'journalist cards'."

Well then, she said, how could I prove I was who I said I was?

When you come to think of it, proving you are who you are, when your interrogator declines to accept your passport or your American Express card as proof, isn't the most obviously easy thing in the world to do. But that was when my inspiration took me. In my briefcase I was carrying a copy of one of my recent books, promised to my host at Athens. I reached for it triumphantly, because on the back of it is a large photograph of seven scruffy looking people of whom I am one, and the central figure is most indisputably Dr. Henry Kissinger, Secretary of State of the United States, whose signature appears on all our passports beseeching foreign officials to permit us to pass without let or hindrance. The occasion of the photograph was the swearing in of the 28th General Assembly of the United Nations.

ON SEEING the face of Dr. Kissinger, I regret to report, the lady instantly left and came back with a man dressed in khaki, about 30 years old, sinewy, tough.

"How long have you been in Israel?"

"One day," I said.

"What did you do?"

The Lord, I thought, had delivered him into my hands.

"Well as a matter of fact, I spent an hour in a television studio with Prime Minister Rabin."

WITH THIS, the gentleman became forthrightly hostile and suspicious as, one supposes, he'd have done if I had said I was Napoleon.

"Where are you going from here?" — he answered his own question by examining my airplane ticket which showed I would spend two days in Athens, and an evening in London, before going on to Washington.

"Why are you going to London?" I thought it best not to yield to the temptation of saying, "I can't go any longer without listening to Big Ben."

"BECAUSE YOU cannot get to the United States if you leave Athens after 2 p.m.," I said. "and my business in Athens does not end until 2 p.m., so I am hitching a ride to London where I shall spend the night visiting with my Goddaughter's parents in Wiltshire, catching the early flight the next morning to Washington."

"That isn't true. You can get to Washington or New York directly from Athens."

"Look," I said, "what business is it of yours where I go after I leave Israel? What if I wanted to go to Iceland?"

"I AM the chief security officer," he said.

We had, really, reached an impasse; and so he decided, grudgingly, not to detain me. Instead, the two of them inspected my baggage with lascivious care, even unto squinting my Right Guard, thus further diminishing the Ozone Barrier. Outside, before boarding the airplane, each passenger had to stand by his checked luggage while it was examined.

"THEY ARE REALLY uptight over there," a journalist in Athens commented, on hearing the story.

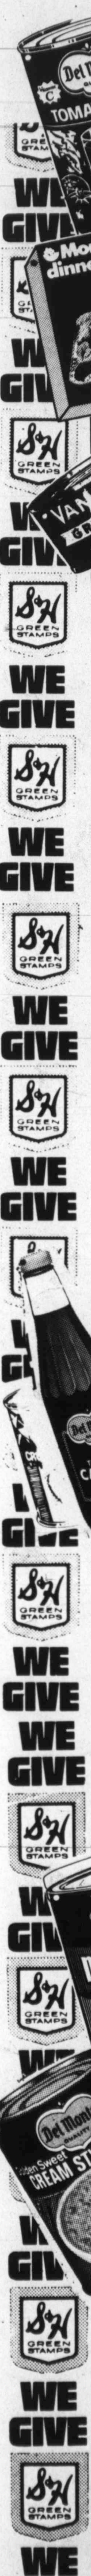

Yet having remarked this, I found in conversations with Mr. Rabin and with a newspaper editor, an academician, and an author, that there is a mood of subjective, fatalistic optimism in Israel. They figure that the price of bringing Israel down is a price the world, really, isn't prepared to pay. Don't ask me how I found out, and thank God Ninotchka didn't know I was leaving the country with this piece of knowledge, but the Israeli high command figures it could stand six weeks of war before finding themselves in the logistical jam they were in after six days of the Yom Kippur War.

THE FEELING is that the Arabs simply do not want another war, and that the claims of the Palestinians will not drive the Arabs to another war. It is obvious that the Israelis are genuinely ready for some horsetrading, and through it all, they are sustained by a great spirit, which tells them if Apocalypse is ahead for them, they must accept the fact — fatalistically. But the feeling is that Israel will survive. Returning home, one finds, in America, true gloom.

A Devotion For Today . . .

"The spirit of the Lord shall rest upon him, the spirit of wisdom and understanding . . . of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and of the fear of the Lord." (Isaiah 11:2)

PRAYER: O Lord, we praise You for sending the Holy Spirit to dwell within us. Teach us to laise You for guidance and strength in all we do. In Jesus' name. Amen.

VA Moves To Tighten Controls On GI Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fearful that abuses of education benefits may be costing American taxpayers millions of dollars, the Veterans Administration has begun steps to tighten controls on veterans attending school under the GI Bill.

In two states, the VA has learned of cases where veterans continued to collect monthly checks although they had dropped out of school, and officials concede the practice could be far more extensive.

To deal with the problem the VA is drafting a new set of regulations designed to make sure that colleges and vocational schools keep closer tabs on their GI Bill students and their educational progress.

The VA admits it doesn't know the extent of the problem but acknowledges that it could exist nationwide. Primarily it seems to involve community colleges and other such institutions which frequently have lower standards for admission and scholastic achievement, officials said.

The blame for abuses is attributed by the VA to laxity on the part of the schools themselves.

"Historically, the colleges have had the job of keeping track of their students and reporting to us when they didn't return or if their progress was not satisfactory," said Andrew H. Thornton, director of VA educational services.

While most traditional four-year colleges have maintained their standards, he said, the community colleges often accept people of lesser scholastic qualifications and also have less stringent policies on attendance and termination.

The proposed new regulations, Thornton said, are intended to give states specific authority to require schools to establish and enforce standards of student progress.

On loophole in the GI Bill process apparently is that once a school collects tuition from a student at the start of a semester, it has no incentive to inform the VA that he has dropped out or is not attending classes.

Meanwhile, the monthly checks keep coming to the veteran himself.

In many schools, the VA said, there is a "permissive" approach that does not require class attendance. And some schools also have grading systems that do not reflect student achievement as does the traditional A, B, C grading method.

VA regulations require that in order for students to use the GI Bill a school must be accredited by one of a number of accrediting organizations and must offer credit toward a degree or diploma.

The VA says there are some 1.7 million veterans drawing GI Bill educational benefits, which are $270 a month for the single veteran with additional amounts for those with dependents.

Ralph Brooks was named to succeed Jerry Worthy as president of the local chapter of the Air Force Association, which had its quarterly meeting in the Officers Club at Webb AFB Friday night.

Worthy was projected as the local candidate for the vice president's post in the AFA State organization.

The membership drive staged by the local chapter was declared an unqualified success by Maj. Jim Stokes. A total of 170 have been added to the membership roles, bringing the total to over 500. The local chapter had become one of the top ten chapters in the state.

Membership drive awards were presented to Lt. Harold Newell, Capt. Dave Klatt, Lt. Steve Taylor and Lt. Jerry Burg.

Certificates of appreciation were presented to Lt. Col. Jack Williams for serving as liaison officer for the past year while plaques were presented to George Zachariah, A. J. Statser and Jack Alexander.

Other officers elected included Ray Williams, vice president; Ted Ferrell, secretary; and George Zachariah, treasurer.

Col. Robert A. Owens described new projects under way and planned at Webb through fiscal year 1978.

Defoliant Too Bad To Use?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Environmental Protection Agency wants to study the possibility of reformulating a defoliant that the Air Force decided in 1970 was too dangerous for use in Vietnam.

The agency has recessed hearings on what it should do with 1.5 million gallons of Herbicide Orange being stored on a South Pacific atoll and 808,000 gallons in Gulfport, Miss. Three chemical companies want to study possible reformulation of the poisons.

The companies are each being sent a drum of the herbicide for experimental reformulation. While this is being done, the hearings are being recessed, a delay expected to last six months, according to Trenton Crow, a member of the Senate Public Works Committee staff.

The Air Force halted use of Herbicide Orange after the Agriculture Department banned the use of Dioxin, a highly toxic substance suspected of causing birth defects. Dioxin is a part of one of the components of Herbicide Orange, which had been used to defoliate the Vietnam jungles.

When Herbicide Orange is broken down into its two major components they can be marketed safely as weed killers, scientists say.

The Air Force, which has stockpiled the defoliant since it was banned five years ago, reportedly has opposed the delay. It was ready to burn the material before proposals were made to sell it to private chemical companies for reformulation.

The three companies interested in reformulation do not include the firm that manufactured the herbicide, said Crow, who has followed the issue for Sen. Joseph M. Montoya, D-N.M., chairman of the Senate Public Works subcommittee on air and water pollution.

"We already know we can burn it and the company that knows the most about it doesn't want anything to do with it," Crow said. "That's enough for me."

"We've had it five years and I don't see what another six months will do," said Crow. "It's a time bomb waiting for an ecological problem."

Environmental Protection Agency approval is required before the chemical can be destroyed or before it can be reformulated.

C. J. Ballard Is Honor Grad

SNYDER — Courtney J. Ballard of Big Spring was one of eight students graduated magna cum laude from Western Texas College in ceremonies held May 15.

A total of 119 students received associate degrees from WTC in the graduation program, with 25 students recognized as honor graduates. Five students receive certificates of technology for completion of one-year programs.

Ballard, the son of Bill M. Ballard, majored in Diesel Mechanics at WTC and received the Associate in Applied Science degree. He is a graduate of Coahoma High School.

Cubs Presented Troop Awards

Several awards were passed out at the Saturday night meeting of Cub Scout Pack 63 Saturday night in the Jonesboro Fire Station, among them three Arrow of Light awards to three individuals.

Gold and silver arrow points for Bear electives went to Justin Buchanan and Robert Oliver. They also received their Webelo colors.

Frank McIntosh received a gold arrow for Wolf electives. Citizenship, Traveler, Artist medals and Arrow of Light awards were presented to Raymond Delatour, Todd Gilbert, David Shockley, Burlinson.

The Arrow of Light award, highest in Cub Scouting, is the only award patch carried on to Boy Scouts and worn on the Scout uniform.

Cubmaster Bob Oliver then presented the four graduating Webelo Scouts to their scoutmaster, Mike Shockley.

Art Human, Lone Star district scout executive, welcomed Shockley and Danny Allred, assistant scoutmaster, for newly formed Troop 113.

Each mother presented her son with a scout book.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Lee Stanton, Dave Chalk and Bruce Bochte drove in two runs apiece, leading the California Angels to a 6-3 victory over the Baltimore Orioles Saturday night before a record, regar-season Baltimore crowd of 48,042.

Red Sox Continue To Lose

BOSTON (AP) — John Mayberry hit his fourth homer and light-hitting Frank White contributed his first Saturday night, powering the Kansas City Royals to a 5-3 victory over Boston and extending the Red Sox' losing streak to five games.

Mayberry sent a towering drive into the right field stands after Amos Otis started the third with a single. White connected for only his second major league homer with two out in the sixth.

Both drives were against Boston starter Reggie Cleveland, 22, who was relieved with two out in the seventh.

Kansas City right-hander Al Fitzmorris surrendered a first-inning leadoff homer to Bernie Carbo and two more hits before getting out of a jam. He settled down and earned his fifth victory in eight decisions with relief help from Doug Bird.

Bird came into the game in the eighth inning after Fred Lynn hit a solo homer.

The Royals picked up a gift run in the first as Vada Pinson fanned but reached first on a passed ball, stole second, took third on a wild pitch and scored on Hal McRae's sacrifice fly.

Mets Outlast Astros, 6-4

HOUSTON (AP) — Rusty Staub singled for a pair of runs in the seventh inning scored another to highlight a five-run rally that lifted the New York Mets past the Houston Astros 6-4 Saturday night.

Until the rally, Houston's Dave Roberts was nursing a 3-1 lead in his first start since his celebrated jump from the team in Montreal a little more than a week ago.

Singles by Bud Harelson and pinch hitter Jesse Alou and a hit batsman, Felix Millan, loaded the bases for Staub's clutch hit to right.

The single tied the score at 3-3 and Millan scored the go-ahead run on a passed ball after Joe Nickro had come on for the Astros in relief. Joe Torre singled for the final run of the inning.

Houston had scored twice off Jon Matlack in the first inning, although just one of the runs was earned.

The Mets got a run in the fourth on a double by Wayne Garrett and single by Jerry Grote and a wild pitch. The Astros went ahead, 3-1, in the sixth on Greg Gross' single, a sacrifice and Cesar Cedeno's base hit that produced his 19th RBI of the year.

DIAGRAM OF FINISH — Here's a diagram as the horses head for the finish of the 100th running of the Preakness Stakes Saturday in Baltimore. Master Derby won by a length over Foolish Pleasure.

Master Derby Races To Narrow Victory

BALTIMORE (AP) — Master Derby, sent off at 23-1, took the lead at the head of the stretch and pounded to a narrow victory over favored Foolish Pleasure Saturday in the 100th running of the Preakness Stakes, which was run for a record $210,600.

Jacinto Vasquez, aboard Foolish Pleasure, filed a foul claim against the winner, but the stewards left the order as it was.

With Darrel McHargue in the saddle, the chestnut son of 1971 Kentucky Derby winner Dust Commander was held just off the pace until he began his move on the turn for home.

Foolish Pleasure, winner of the Derby two weeks ago, was far back in the early going, running seventh. He closed with a rush that fell about a length short.

Frank McMahon's Diabolo held on for third, the same position he had in the Derby, and Prince Thou Art finished fourth.

Master Derby finished fourth in the Derby, but had won five races in a row before that, including the Louisiana Derby and the Blue Grass Stakes.

Native Guest, the previously unbeaten invader from the West Coast, broke first from the gate with Media, the lightly raced colt from New York, in close pursuit.

Singh, also unbeaten this season prior to Saturday, was placed in third position two lengths behind the leaders with Master Derby following closely for the first half mile. Diabolo and Avatar ran fifth and sixth, with Foolish Pleasure seventh.

Jockey Angel Cordero Jr. sent Singh to the front a half-mile into the 13-16-mile race. But at that same point Master Derby was making his move, first to the outside and then to the rail.

Master Derby won by a length over Foolish Pleasure. Diabolo was another length back at the wire with Prince Thou Art following by 1 1/2 lengths.

The 5-4A baseball all-district selections certainly left me, Steer followers, as well as head coach Larry Horton with a bad taste in their mouths.

First off, Dick Battle was left off the team, then Barry Canning had to be satisfied as a utility outfielder. Horton firmly believes there was no better centerfielder in the 5-4A than Barry.

Light on the subject was cast when an area sports writer probed into the all-district voting system. This year's selection was made by the Odessa-American.

If the total number of votes were counted, Barry would have won over the other three candidates. But the votes were split up, outfield and utility.

Votes included, outfield and utility: Canning, 5-4; Javier Torres, Lee, 7-1; Freddie Davis, San Angelo, 6-2; and Wes Maynard, Permian, 6-1.

It's been suggested so as not to have a recurrence like this again, select four outfielders, eliminating the utility position. Horton strongly voices approval of this plan.

Tommy Thompson, head baseball coach of Junction, who downed Bovina, 10-0, in a Class A bi-district game here Wednesday, voiced his thanks to the city of Big Spring for the warm hospitality.

"The Chamber of Commerce, Bob Burris, Big Spring athletic director and the restaurants where the Junction team ate, were all most cordial," said Thompson.

Thompson was very impressed with the two certified umpires that called the game, James Griffin and Mike Scarbrough. "They had complete control throughout," he added.

A former Steer letterman, Stewart Bunn completed the season at West Chester State College Pa., as its No. 1 tennis player.

West Chester not only won the East Coast Conference championship but was declared the top college team in the state of Pennsylvania.

Stewart is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewitt Bunn of Big Spring.

Robert Lepard, who won the state AAA 880 run in Austin last Saturday, timed in 1:55.2, is the son of Leon Lepard, one-time Steer star half-miler.

Robert's time faired a little better than his father, now a farmer, was ever able to do in high school.

The younger Lepard is only a junior at Brownfield High. He also ran the 220 and anchored the school's mile relay team.

Streaking A's Settle Yankees

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Williams slammed two home runs and Reggie Jackson hit one, leading the streaking Oakland A's to a 6-1 victory over the stumbling New York Yankees Saturday night behind Ken Holtzman's five-hit pitching.

Holtzman, 3-4, was nicked for an unearned run in the first inning because of his own throwing error and blanked the Yankees the rest of the way despite six walks, five in the first three innings. He allowed only two hits over the last seven innings.

Lozer Doc Medich, 3-6, walked Sal Bando and Gene Tenace with two out in the second inning and Claudell Washington ripped a triple down the right field line. Williams slammed his fourth home run in the fourth inning and Jackson and Williams connected in the sixth.

Jackson's sixth homer of the season was a mammoth clout that hit the scoreboard 420 feet from home plate and far behind the right-center field fence. Williams' second homer sailed into the second deck in right field above the auxiliary scoreboard.

Williams also drove in a run with a single in the eighth inning and sent right fielder Bobby Bonds near the bullpen fence for his second-inning smash.

Frank McMahon's Diabolo held on for third, the same position he had in the Derby, and Prince Thou Art finished fourth.

Master Derby finished fourth in the Derby, but had won five races in a row before that, including the Louisiana Derby and the Blue Grass Stakes.

Native Guest, the previously unbeaten invader from the West Coast, broke first from the gate with Media, the lightly raced colt from New York, in close pursuit.

Singh, also unbeaten this season prior to Saturday, was placed in third position two lengths behind the leaders with Master Derby following closely for the first half mile.

Twins Topple Brewers, 8-7

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Rod Carew's two-run windblow double off the left field fence with two out in the eighth inning lifted the Minnesota Twins to an 8-7 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers Saturday.

The winning rally came against Milwaukee relief ace

Tom Murphy, who entered the game with a 1-0 record, seven saves and an 0.81 earned run average.

Murphy started his own downfall by hitting leadoff batter Craig Kusick with a pitch. Danny Thompson, who hit a three-run homer earlier to begin Minnesota's comeback from a 6-2 fifth-inning deficit, bounced into a forceout and took second as Tom Lundstedt grounded out. Murphy walked Steve Braun and Carew followed with his game-winning double.

Left fielder Gorman Thomas crashed into the wall trying for a leaping catch. Thomas lay motionless for several seconds as both runners scored.

Home runs by Hank Aaron, Bobby Mitchell and Sixto Lezcano powered the Brewers to a 7-6 lead after 7½ innings. The Brewers opened a 6-2 advantage in the fifth when Aaron slammed his fifth home run of the season—and 738th of his 22-year career—following a single by George Scott.

Dead Week Announced

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Imagine 40,000 fans jamming some ball park to watch the Pittsburgh Steelers do pushups or the Oakland A's take batting practice.

And paying two bucks a head for the privilege of doing so.

Seems pretty ludicrous. But in Indianapolis, a week before the Indy 500, the ludicrous becomes normal—and the normal tends to get overlooked.

It's called "dead week," a misnomer if ever there was one. A week before the nation's most famous auto race, when drivers compete not against each other but only against the clock—one car at a time barreling around the 2½-mile track in a qualification run—upwards of 200,000 fans, two-thirds of race day's crowd, will gladly turn out to cheer.

It's a phenomenon reserved for this sport, in which a momentary lapse can result not in a penalty or an error but perhaps in a flaming, metal-wrenching death.

In the time trials today and Sunday, as about 15 drivers vie for the five remaining berths in the 33-car starting field, the stands will be thoroughly packed with fans, just as they were last weekend when the first two of the four qualifications were held.

Cards Demolish San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Ted Simmons started a seven-run third-inning outburst with a solo homer and capped it with a bases-loaded triple, pacing the St. Louis Cardinals to a 17-2 demolition of the San Francisco Giants Saturday.

run across in the ninth inning as the Cardinals backed the seven-hit pitching of Bob Forsch, 4-3, with a 23-hit attack. Forsch blanked the Giants until the ninth.

Singles by Ted Sizemore and Ken Reitz, a walk to Simmons, Danny Cater's two-run single and a two-run double by Teddy Martinez started the rout in a four-run first inning off loser Pete Falcone, 3-3.

Simmons' fifth homer of the season and Reitz' double chased Falcone in the third. Cater singled off reliever Charlie Williams and pinch hitter Ron Fairly belted a run-scoring double.

The Cardinals two runs on bases-loaded walks to Sizemore and Luis Melendez before Simmons greeted reliever Dave Heaverlo with his base-clearing triple.

MSA Elks Trip Flashers

Three Miss America Softball games were played Friday.

In two minor contests, the Elks blasted Tommy Gage Fina Flashers, 14-0, and State National Bank Stars by First Federal Belles, 19-8.

A total of 15 homers were hit in the Tommy Gage vs State National game.

The Eagle Lodge Eagles thumped the Rotary Club Rooters, 19-4, in the lone mini-minor activity.

Burriss Pleased With Scrimmage

For the second straight day, Big Spring High Head Coach Bob Burriss was pleased with practice as the Steers engaged in a Saturday morning scrimmage.

This workout marked the end of the second of three weeks of sanctioned UIL spring practice.

"Both the offense and defense presented a sharp appearance," said Burriss. "Little mistakes are still being made that we hope can be corrected by spending more time on basics."

Mike Valenzuela, promoted from the junior varsity, directed both the gold and white units. He fulfilled the dual role in the absence of varsity quarterback Mark Moore. Moore was unable to drill because of a sprained right ankle.

Shine splints will sideline junior linebacker Greg Halfmann for the third and final week of practice.

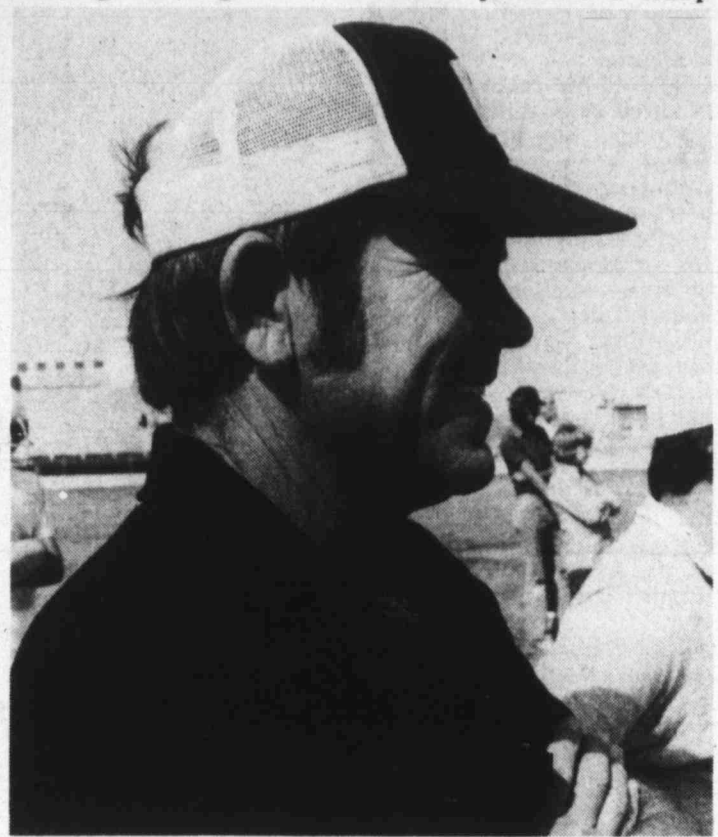

Burriss says everything now is pointing in the direction of the annual Black and Gold game Friday at 7:30 p.m., at Memorial Stadium. The Steer junior varsity will take to the field at 5:30 p.m.

Practice schedule for Big Spring Monday and Tuesday will be from 7 to 9 p.m. Afternoon drills are listed Wednesday and Thursday from 3 to 5 p.m.

Burriss' coaching staff includes: Rex Scofield, secondary; Bob Glover, offensive line; Ron Rogers, offensive back; Larry Horton, split-receiver; Tom Adams and Tommy Moss, defensive line; and Rod Carter, linebacker.

STEER CALLER — Big Spring gridders listen for the next play to be called from Mike Valenzuela during Saturday morning's scrimmage. Up from the JV ranks, Valenzuela is working hard in becoming a backup to Steer varsity quarterback Mark Moore. Larry Horton, Steer assistant coach, listens for instructions to be carried out.

Two BS Golfers Set Pro-Am Pace

Two Big Spring golfers set the pace for the West Texas Pro Am tournament here Friday, but the team finished third.

Harold Hall, Big Spring, was tied by Scotty Neimann, Andrews, for low amateur, at 68, but Hall won with a low net.

C. G. Griffin, Big Spring, led the professionals with a hot 66, followed by Allen Pursley, Midland, with 68, Billy Burkhardt, Midland, 69, and Ted Griffin, Big Spring, 70.

Thirteen pros participated along with 47 amateurs.

The first-place team from Midland fired a net 58 and was comprised of Allan Pursley, Dan Stands, Britt Lea, and Bill Hightower. The second place team from Odessa, made up of Pete Moore, Larry Moore, Wayne Dixon and W. Dixon had a 60 for second. Third went to the Big Spring team of C. G. Griffin, Harold Hall, Weldon Bryant and Richard Terry, with a 61.

Road games will be against North Texas State at Texas Stadium in Irving Oct. 1, Miami Oct. 17, Cincinnati Nov. 1, and Memphis State Nov. 15.

An 11th game against the University of Tampa in Tampa Oct. 4 was canceled when the school decided last winter to drop its football program. No replacement could be found.

The Cougars play for the Southwest Conference championship in 1976.

TEAM THIRD

Firing 62's and tying for fourth place were these teams:

Ted Griffin, Steve Ross, J. V. Gilbreth and Dick Schwinn; S. A. Smith, Scotty Neimann, Craig Olson and Abe Gonzalez; Mike Dugger, C. B. Knox, Danny Fisher; Charles Brantley, B. A.

Brunson, Carl Small, Sonny Busby; and D. O. Gray, J. R. Farmer, L. D. Henson, and Gary Henson.

Williams Voted Cawthon Award

Former Big Spring High athlete, Willie Williams received the Pete Cawthon Award recently as Austin College's outstanding athlete.

Williams was recognized as being the first three-sport letterman at the Sherman school.

A sophomore, Williams was the winner of the Tim Jubela Award last year as the outstanding freshman. Charlie Weiser, who lettered in football, basketball and baseball in 1963, was the last Kangaroo to win three letters.

During the 1974-75 athletic year, Williams lettered in football, basketball and baseball. Last year, he earned letters in football, baseball and track.

Williams was selected all-district in football and the Kangaroo's team leader in interceptions, punt and kickoff returns. He also played running back and was used as a wide receiver.

As a Kangaroo cager, Williams meshed a single game high of 31 points. He was the first player in 10 years to break 30 at Austin. Williams made 41 per cent of his field goals and averaged 8.1 points per game.

Serving in a dual role as a shortstop and pitcher, Williams was Austin's leading hitter with a .348 average. He led the club with 13 stolen bases and had a 91 per cent fielding average.

Harris succeeds Ron Barnes, who has resigned effective May 31.

LOSING STREAK ENDS Griffey, Bench Help Reds Win

MONTREAL (AP) — Solo home runs by Ken Griffey and Johnny Bench in the 10th inning powered Cincinnati to a 5-3 victory over the Montreal Expos Saturday, ending the Reds' six-game losing streak.

Griffey, first batter up in the 10th, tagged reliever John Montague for his first home run of the season and one out later Bench walloped his sixth.

After being held hitless by Steve Rogers over the first four innings, the Reds, who scored only 10 runs during their six-game skid, used three hits and three Montreal errors to take a 3-0 lead in the fifth.

Legal Loophole Favors China

ROME (AP) — Supporters of Mainland China claim to have found a legal loophole for casting Taiwan out of the Olympic Games in favor of athletes from the People's Republic of China.

They claim the International Olympic Committee was guilty of irregularities in handling the China issue more than 20 years ago and that the recognition of Taiwan was unconstitutional in the first place.

The IOC will tackle the prickly China issue at its annual assembly at Lausanne next week. China, which was formally recognized by the IOC for two years but withdrew in 1966, has applied for readmission but has demanded that recognition be withdrawn for Taiwan.

The IOC, striving to deal with sport rather than with politics, is in a sticky situation over the China issue. The National Olympic Committee of Taiwan has been recognized for more than 20 years and it is against all Olympic principles to cast out any NOC that conforms to Olympic regulations.

A way out of the deadlock was suggested by Lt. Gen. Ali Hojjat of Iran, speaking Friday night at a meeting of the IOC Executive with the Assembly of National Olympic Committees. The meeting had no power to make a decision, and no vote was taken at the end of a debate on China.

TEXAS TALK

Joe Dunn

The worst is over... probably. Statements like this have become the most common hedge in the cattle industry in the past few weeks as top executives of the beef business find reason to be cautiously optimistic in the face of rising per capita consumption and a decrease in the industry's number one problem, glut. Caused by a combination of price controls, natural cattle cycle (cattle population reaches a cyclical peak every 10-11 years) and high feed prices, glut (over-supply) seemed for a while to be unending. Consumers are solving the problem by buying more beef and accepting grass-fed meat. Packers buying grass-fed cattle have to use 2 or 3 of the young pasture-fed cattle to produce as much meat as a single grain-fed animal. So the problem seems to be solving itself, but even the optimistic cattlemen (not the easiest thing to find) say it will take at least 18 months before the industry is back to normal.

Coach Not Fooled

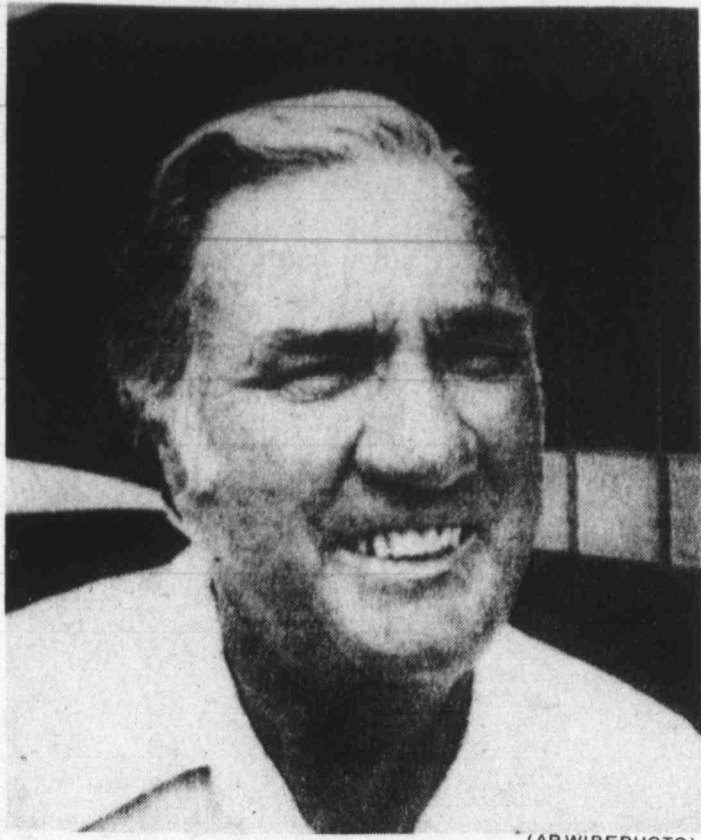

ARLINGTON, Tex., (AP) — South Alabama is something of a mystery team in the South Central NCAA Regional baseball playoffs scheduled in Arlington Stadium May 22-25 but Texas Coach Cliff Gustafson isn't fooled.

"They are tough," Gustafson says. "Any team with Eddie Stanky as a manager is bound to be rough."

South Alabama is 51-12 while the Southwest Conference champion Texas Longhorns own a 45-4 record.

Independent Pan American has a 56-5 going into the tournament. The fourth spot was to be decided in a playoff between Louisiana Tech and Lamar.

The tournament gets under way Thursday with a first round doubleheader beginning at 5 p.m. in the double elimination meet. The second game is expected to start at 8 p.m.

FIGHTER TURNED CABDRIVER — Joe Maxim is a former boxer. Joe was pronounced dead in London, July 25, 1965. He is alive, well, and living in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., and is presently a cabdriver.

Maxim Alive, Driving Taxi

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — In the 16 years since former light heavyweight champion Joe Maxim retired from boxing, he's been a construction worker, hotel host and cab driver.

One boxing publication went so far as to list him as being dead.

Maxim and his wife now laugh at the mistaken obituary in the Ring Record Book, which listed the former light heavyweight boxing champion as having died on July 25, 1965, in London.

Maxim, now 53, is alive and well and driving a taxi cab out of the Fort Lauderdale-Hollywood International Airport.

He's not proud of his latest job. "Cab drivers are bums," he says with bitterness. "People forget you. All I get now is promises."

But he loves his past.

"It feels good when people remember," he says. "I used to get mail addressed Joey Maxim, World Light Heavyweight Champion, U.S.A. And you know, I still get mail."

Maxim's clear, tanned face with graying sideburns is marred only by a slightly spreading nose. He's a little heavier now than during his professional career, which lasted from 1941 to 1958. He jokes about the weight, but can still suck in the gut and look like a champ.

In 115 pro fights, Maxim won 82 and lost 28. He was only knocked out once. He first won the title in 1950 by knocking out Freddie Mills, whom Ring confused with Maxim as having died in 1965 of gunshot wounds.

"I couldn't punch at all," Maxim says. "I never knocked anybody out, but I made 'em do funny things standing up. I had heart. I

Surprise Promised

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Buffalo Coach Floyd Smith promises a "surprise" today when his Sabres again try to end their jinx against the Philadelphia Flyers in the second game of the National Hockey League's playoff finals.

Smith's surprise may well come as news to his players, too. "He didn't talk about it at practice today. We didn't practice any different," said one Buffalo player who preferred to remain nameless. "Maybe we'll find out about it sometime."

With or without a surprise, the Sabres will be trying to end their futility streak that endangers their challenge to the Flyers' Stanley Cup title. Including Thursday night's opening game 4-1 loss, Buffalo has never beaten Philadelphia goaltender Bernie Parent, has never won here in their five-year history, and hasn't beaten the Flyers in their last 14 meetings.

Thus Smith's surprise, which he said by telephone from Buffalo had been used twice during the regular season and has been "very successful." Observers guessed Smith would break up his powerful "French Connection" line of center Gilbert Perreault, left wing Rick Martin and right wing Rene Robert.

Smith admitted "it's possible" but wouldn't talk further about his mysterious plan. He did, however, talk about the reason why he would reach into his bag of tricks.

"We've had problems in the building," said Smith of the Flyers' Spectrum home. "So I'm going to have to pull out my surprise. We're just going to have to do this thing. I'm just sorry I had to use it so soon."

Webb Air Force Base's Dick Legas will be one of five track and field stars representing the Air Force at the Interservice Track and Field Championships in Presidio, Calif., June 6-7.

Legas, a world class javelin thrower, will be defending the meet title he won last year with a toss of 264 feet.

The 29-year-old Ogden, Utah, native will be using the meet as a competitive tune-up as he prepares to make his bid for the 1976 United States Olympic Team.

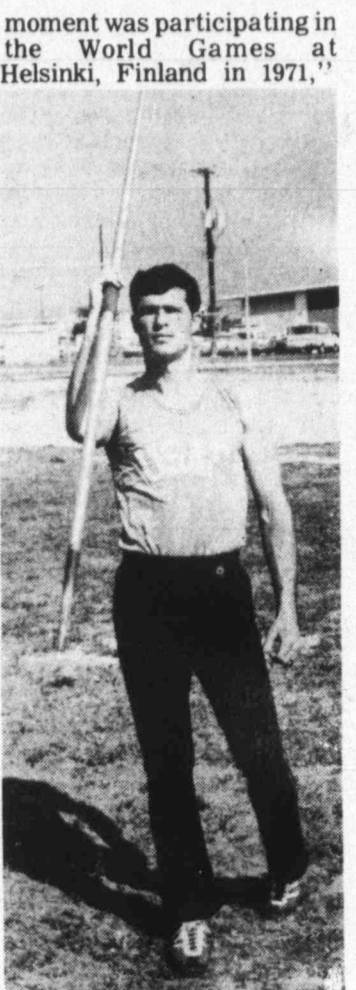

"I qualified for the Olympic trials in '68 and '72," says Legas. "Unfortunately, injuries kept me from participating. A toss of 258 feet qualified for one of the three javelin berths on the '68 U.S. Olympic Team and 261 feet qualified in '72. I've already thrown 264 feet, so, with some luck and hard training, I hope to make the Olympics next year."

Top flight competition is nothing new to the Brigham Young University graduate. In the 1968 NCAA Track and Field Championships, he qualified third for the finals of the event. An elbow injury handicapped him in the finals where he finished seventh. His best toss in the preliminaries would have placed second in the meet.

Legas competed against the best track and field performers in Europe in 1971. He faced the best javelin hurlers in the world as he toured the continent with the Amateur Athletic Union's U.S. Track and Field Squad.

Conference Concludes

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Hunters and fishermen have ended their fifth world conference here with a declaration of war against image-makers who portray hunters as killers and spoilers.

"We are going to file suit for millions if these television people continue to misrepresent hunting and call hunters murderers. We are going to file suit showing the violation of our constitutional and civil rights," promised Harry Tension of Fort Worth, president of the Big Game Hunters and Fisherman's Conference.

The worldwide organization ended its convention here Friday with its announcement of "war on organized antigun, antihunting, antifishing maniacs" around the world.

Gary Sitton of New York said there are 24 hunter-hater groups in the United States and he named what he called the top three: Defenders of Wildlife, Friends of Animals, and Funds for Animals headed by television critic Cleveland Amory who Sitton said has "one of the fastest mouths anywhere."

Convention speakers from the United States, Europe, New Zealand and Africa urged raising of money for use in changing the world's image of hunters and fishermen.

Tony de Almeida of Sao Paulo, Brazil disputed his government's claim that jaguars are becoming extinct.

LANOVER, Md. (AP) — Coaches Al Attles of the Golden State Warriors and K.C. Jones of the Washington Bullets, who made National Basketball Association history four months ago, will do it again today.

When their teams meet in the nationally televised opening game of the NBA's best-of-seven championship series at the Capital Centre, it will be the first time that two black coaches have opposed each other in the final.

On Jan. 14 in Phoenix, Attles coached the Western Conference team and Jones handled the Eastern Conference club in the NBA's 25th All-Star game. Jones' squad won that game, and his Bullets team also has an edge over Attles in regular season play, Washington winning three of four games against the Warriors.

The Bullets, having beaten Buffalo and defending champion Boston en route to the final, are favored to win both the opening game and the series against Golden State. But the brash, irrepressible Warriors—an unusual conglomeration of veterans, rookies, castoffs and fringe players—have been defying the odds against them all season and are supremely confident they can do it again.

"This is a Cinderella team," said 36-year-old Bill Bridges, the Warriors' elder statesman. "It's never going to take the (glass) slipper off. Sometimes the clock never strikes 12."

"There's no telling what this team can do," said Jeff Mullins, 33, who along with superstar Rick Barry played on the last Warriors team to reach the final, in 1967.

"I'd like to believe the teams in the final are the two best in basketball," said Attles, a member of the 1967 team as a player. "Maybe people are going to say we're pretty good after all."

One member of the Bullets who is convinced that the Warriors are good is Assistant Coach Bernie Bickerstaff. He scouted them at Oakland Wednesday night, when the Warriors rallied from a 14-point second-quarter deficit and beat Chicago 83-79 in the deciding game of the Western Conference final series.

"They love to run and they've got one of the best benches in the league," said Bickerstaff. "They used 11 players Wednesday night."

Ali Solves Lyle's Style In Round 11

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Claiming that at 33 he is a young man, Muhammad Ali says he wants to give Joe Bugner, Joe Frazier and George Foreman a shot at his world heavyweight title before the year is out.

Ali did not look so young for 10 rounds Friday night, when 33-year-old Ron Lyle appeared to be winning their title fight. That all ended in the 11th, when Ali unleashed a barrage of head punches that left the ex-convict helpless and finished, his one shot at fame and fortune ended in a few seconds of speed and power.

Ali, who had a bruise over his left eye as he came out for the 11th round—one in which he told his handlers between rounds he would finish Lyle—credited his new strategy of wearing down his foe for the swift ending to a dull fight.

"I knew I was behind because he had thrown the most punches, but I came out serious to win all the rest of the rounds," Ali said of his attitude after 10 rounds, "most of which I found myself doing next to nothing except inviting Lyle to hit him."

At 22½, Ali was the heaviest he's been for his 14 title fights, and he gave a lethargic performance in the first four rounds.

"I was using my 'Rope-a-Dope' strategy and then I went to the 'Mirage,'" he said. Ali said he wanted Lyle to wear himself out pounding him on the ropes, but when Lyle refused to fall for that, he went to the center of the ring for the "Mirage"—like someone on the desert thinking they can see water and only find sand.

Lyle, weighing 219, denied he was helpless at the end; he said the fight should have continued. That is not the way it looked to others.

Ali caught him with a left-right combination on the ropes and staggered Lyle, who avoided a knockdown by falling against the ropes. Then Ali belted home a long series of rapid and strong follow-ups—as many as 35 punches—that Lyle could not evade as he staggered.

Ali signalled to referee Ferd Hernandez to stop the fight, and later said, "The man was unconscious. He wasn't defending himself. I cannot kill a man. I could see in his eyes he was just there to be hit." Hernandez finally stopped at 1:08 of the 11th round.

Lyle disagreed. "I wasn't going down or nothing. I wasn't hurt." His opinion was not shared by many.

A crowd of 6,875 paid $258,672 to watch in person as a nationwide television audience saw the bout at home, the first time Ali has been shown on home television since 1966.

Ali caught him with a left-right combination on the ropes and staggered Lyle, who avoided a knockdown by falling against the ropes. Then Ali belted home a long series of rapid and strong follow-ups—as many as 35 punches—that Lyle could not evade as he staggered.

Ali signalled to referee Ferd Hernandez to stop the fight, and later said, "The man was unconscious. He wasn't defending himself. I cannot kill a man. I could see in his eyes he was just there to be hit." Hernandez finally stopped at 1:08 of the 11th round.

Lyle disagreed. "I wasn't going down or nothing. I wasn't hurt." His opinion was not shared by many.

A crowd of 6,875 paid $258,672 to watch in person as a nationwide television audience saw the bout at home, the first time Ali has been shown on home television since 1966.

Civil Rights Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Complying with a federal court order the Department of Health, Education and Welfare today asked 115 school districts in 16 states to rebut or explain why they have racial imbalances in some of their schools.

"Our requests do not mean HEW has concluded that the school districts are in violation of civil rights law," said Peter E. Holmes, director of the U.S. Office for Civil Rights.

"On the contrary," Holmes said, "the replies from the school districts may show that there is no discrimination and that no further action is necessary."

HEW was ordered by U.S. District Judge John H. Pratt last March 14 to act within 60 days to contact 125 school districts the judge said appeared, on the basis of 1972 enrollment figures, to have one or more schools with at least a 20 per cent racial disproportion.

Holmes said Hew cleared 40 of those 125 districts on the basis of updated 1974 enrollments, but identified 30 new districts as being in possible violation of the judge's order.

He said the districts have until June 30 to supply their explanations to HEW. The states are Arkansas, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and West Virginia.

An example of racial disproportion would be a district with 20 per cent minority students but with one or more schools with 40 per cent minority students.

A Holmes aide said that such racial imbalance would not necessarily be evidence of discrimination as prohibited in Title VI of the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

Area Youth Has Eyes On Olympic Berth

By MARJ CARPENTER

Mike Coleman, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Coleman of Ackerly, has high hopes that some day he will be a member of the Olympics team and stand on the 27 yard line and shootguns in the world.

He's well on his way to achieving this ambition. He started shooting when he was nine and started competing when he was 11.

At San Antonio recently, he won the Junior Championship medal in the International Clay Pigeon Zone Shoot.

This pitted contestants from Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, and Arkansas against each other in an attempt to qualify for the U. S. International Championship Clay Pigeon Shoot scheduled July 8-13 in Chardon, Ohio.

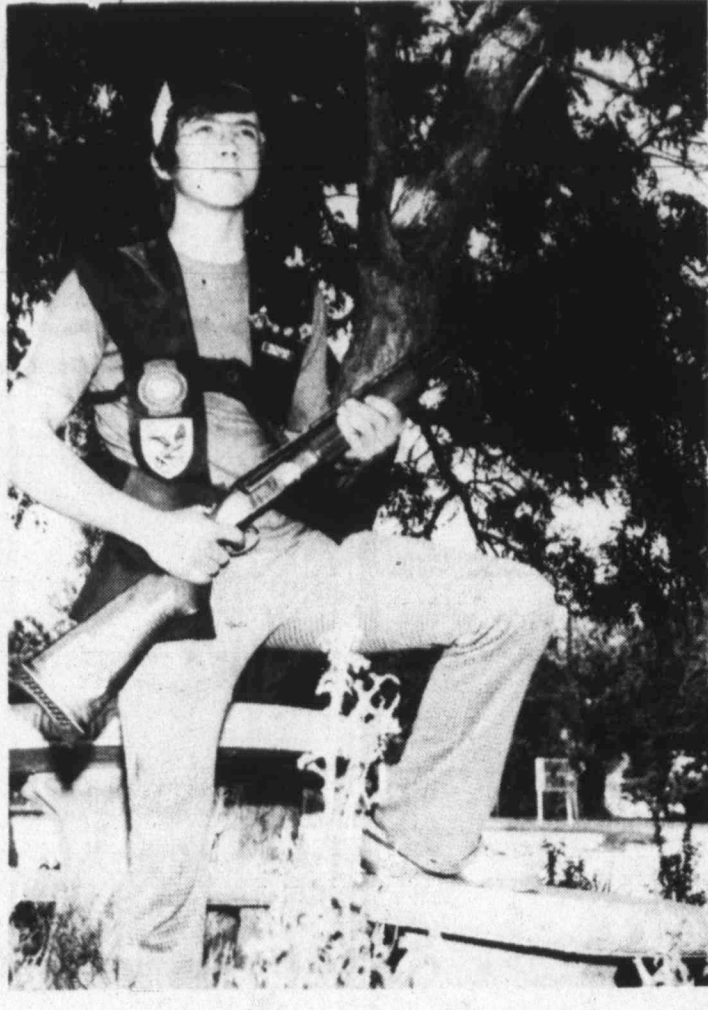

Mike, who has some 60 trophies at his home is thrilled to be going to the international championship for the first time. The eventual Olympics teams embrace the top five entries and an alternate.

Mike's desire is to shoot from the 27-yard line. The best shooters are placed just one and one half yards away. His father is now shooting from the 26-yard line. Beginners start on the 18-yard line.

BIGGEST THRILL

The youth said winning in San Antonio was his biggest thrill since he won the Marathon in Alamogordo several years ago. He won his first trophy when he was 11 in an invitational meet in Andrews.

Mike and his father both said that they have never heard of anyone injured by a gun at the clay pigeon shoots. "Everybody is extremely careful and everybody knows guns," Mike stated. And he added, "There are very rarely and guns stolen either even though there will be over 400 guns around."

DEAD-EYE DICK WITH FIREARM Mike Coleman, Ackerly

The Colemans practice a lot. Mike shoots rounds every day. Needless to say, the family helps load the reloads so that it won't be as expensive. In the big state shoots, an individual will shoot 1,000 times and on a Sunday afternoon in a little meet, some 300 rounds.

Mike has also been to Africa twice pursuing big game with his father. He killed two Cape buffaloes in Angola when he was 14. He went to Botswana when 11 and will return there in July. Mike was the American Trap Association Junior Champion of Texas in 1973; won the handicap event of the Zone II Shoot and was the junior winner of the Texas State Shoot in 1974. He also won the Class B Doubles in the Colorado State Shoot in Denver in 1974 and was a co-champion of the marathon Alamogordo.

BEST OF BREED

Mike said, "The best shooters are from West Texas because if you can hit them in these high winds, you can hit them anywhere."

He is an expert about guns and trapshooting. He explains that international competition is harder than American Trapshooting since there is no consistency of flight pattern of the pigeons.

He shot around 13,000 rounds last year, not including practice. He enjoys hunting, having, shot his first deer when seven and is looking forward to the hunt in Africa, but trapshooting is his sport.

Active in FFA work at Sand High School, he is district vice president. He attends United Methodist Church in Ackerly. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Coleman and H. C. Shortes, all of Ackerly.

Mike is making a name for himself — the Colemans and for Ackerly as he advances farther into his favorite sport. His friends wish him luck in his attempts to make it to the Olympic team.

Doctors Call Off Strike

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Favorable action by the Texas Senate on a malpractice liability bill defused plans by San Antonio anesthesiologists to strike at midnight tonight.

The society voted early Thursday to have a work stoppage until there was some legislative relief of the high costs, and in some cases the unavailability of liability malpractice insurance.

Senators passed a bill Thursday afternoon setting the limit of malpractice suits at $100,000 on individual doctors and hospitals. Suits up to $400,000 could be collected from a special fund financed by those who provide medical service.

The maximum recovery would also be abolished in the case of gross negligence by a doctor or hospital.

The anesthesiologists, who say they are sued more often than any other group, said Friday they will withhold any strike action while the House considers the Senate bill.

'Military Draft Must Apply To Men, Women'

BUTTE, Mont. (AP) — A military draft, if there is to be one, must apply equally to both men and women, a federal judge has ruled.

"I personally am an admirer of femininity, but the law does not permit us governmentally to protect women paternalistically so as to relieve them from the duties, obligations and privileges of citizenship," U.S. District Court Judge W.D. Murray said Friday.

In Washington, Peter Straub, general counsel of the Selective Service System, said the U.S. Supreme Court has upheld on three occasions lower court rulings that draft laws are not sexually discriminatory.

"I'm sure the Department of Justice will appeal," Straub said.

"Legislation limiting the draft to male citizens denies them the equal protection of the law," Murray said in his ruling. "All citizens, male and female, must be subject to the draft on an equal basis."

Murray said the military draft as it is administered now, is unconstitutional on grounds it is sexually discriminatory.

The judge rejected the government's argument that sexual classification in draft laws is based on national security. "We have had too much recent experience to allow the mere claim of national security to stand without challenge," the judge said.

The judge said "there simply is no basis for concluding that all or even a significant number of women are incapable of serving in the military. This is true even assuming they would be placed in combat roles."

The ruling was issued in a case involving George Kenneth Reiser, 22, of Bozeman, Mont., who was indicted by a grand jury Nov. 30, 1973.

SPRING POT HARVEST IS UNDER WAY IN MEXICO

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—The spring marijuana harvest is under way in Mexico, and U.S. officials say a well organized ring is smuggling large quantities of illegal weed into this country.

Dale Swancutt, district director of the U.S. Border Patrol, said that in a 72 hour period seven tons of marijuana were seized at New Mexico points north of here.

Within the last week, he said, agents have confiscated more than eight tons of marijuana with an estimated street value of $2.5 million. Border patrol agents Thursday stopped two trucks which appeared to be carrying molasses and found 10,000 pounds of cleverly concealed marijuana. Earlier this week they seized 4,000 pounds near Lordsburg. Last week one raid netted 2,080 pounds.

ADDING PRIDE AND POLISH to the current Bicentennial display at the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce is this artful creation of Mrs. Morris Robertson, center. The rolled poster came in the mail to Terry Hanson, chamber manager, left, and Mrs. Robertson mounted it on the board and decoupage it. Joining in viewing the finished product is Mrs. Johnnie Lou Avery, right, co-chairperson of the Howard County Bicentennial Commission.

Ole! Girl Scouts Going To Mexico

By JO BRIGHT

An exciting trip to "Our Cabana" at Cuernavaca, Mexico begins June 11 for 16 Girl Scouts of the West Texas Girl Scout Council. Five of those girls are from Big Spring.

The girls and their travel leaders, Mrs. Keith Kainer, Stamford, and Mrs. Lin Bell, Big Spring, met at Camp Boothe Oaks Troop Lodge near Sweetwater recently to hold elections, form patrols and make "swaps" to trade with other groups who will be at the International Girl Scout Center on the same date.

Alicyn Cooper, Roscoe, was elected scribe for the group, and trip reporters for the council write-ups are Katie Cunningham, Abilene, and Jerry Davey, Big Spring.

Mara Hardin of Abilene was elected patrol leader by the "Conquistadores" Patrol; Rosemary Biefeldt, Abilene, is assistant patrol leader. Members of the "Conquistadores" are Alicyn Cooper and Sue Cooper, Roscoe; Colleen Anderson, Big Spring; Katie Cunningham, Abilene; Patty Bolin, Stamford; and Marca Parham of Snyder.

Karen Knapp of Abilene was elected patrol leader of "The Texas Triangles"; Rose Nolting, Abilene, is the assistant patrol leader. Other members of "The Texas Triangles" include Jerri Davey, Big Spring; Pat Hamilton, Big Spring; Sharon Baxter, Stamford; Pat Ferguson, Big Spring; Doni Douglas, Stanton; and Tamra Meeks, Big Spring.

Doni Douglas and Rosemary Biefeldt were named to plan music and program for the International Night Party at the Cabana. Sue Cooper and Pat Hamilton were designated "artist" to compile the log book of the Cabana girls.

Groups from Price, Utah; Itasca, Ill.; Emporia, Kan.; Mexico and Puerto Rico will be guests at the Cabana. Each girl will receive a Texas Keychain with the name and address of the West Texas Cabana Scouts.

Pat Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Hamilton, has been in Scouting since Brownies and is on the Cadette Steering Committee for the WTGSC. She is yearbook editor at Goliad Junior High School, a member of the National Junior Honor Society and on the Youth Council of First Baptist Church.

Jerri Lynn Davey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Davey, began her Scouting activities in the second grade and her experiences have included several summers at Camp Boothe Oaks and a canoe trip down the Brazos River. She was second runner-up in an Optimist speech contest and is a member of the Church of Christ.

Colleen Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Anderson, has had seven years in Scouting and is looking forward to an interesting trip to Mexico. She is a student at Goliad Junior High School where she plays flute in the band, and her church membership is in the Baptist Temple.

Tamra Meeks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Meeks, can look back on a lot of healthy, outdoor fun during her eight years as a Scout, and she is currently serving as a program aide. She is an active member of 4-H and TARS, with plans to major in special education.

Pat Ferguson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Ferguson, also is a program aide, with eight years of Scouting behind her. She is a sophomore at Coahoma High School where she is art editor for the school newspaper, on the annual staff and a member of various clubs as well as the band and FHA.

The West Texas Girl Scout Council is a participating member of the United Way.

SENIOR GIRL SCOUTS are well organized and "practically packed" for their trip to Mexico in June. There, at the international center, they will have the opportunity to meet and work with Girl Scouts from other countries. Local girls making the trip are, from left, Tamra Meeks, Jerri Davey, Pat Hamilton, Colleen Anderson and Patricia Ferguson.

Hyperion Club Anniversary

Feminine fashions through the years highlighted the 70th anniversary celebration of the 1905 Hyperion Club on Thursday when the group held its final meeting of the season at the home of Mrs. Joe Whitten, 2809 Goliad.

To mark the occasion, a number of the women wore period costumes, some of which were made to wear during the nation's bicentennial observance and authentic dresses from the year, 1905, were modeled by Mrs. Clyde Angel and Mrs. S.M. Anderson.

A citation commemorating the club's 70th birthday was presented from the General Federation of Women's Clubs, with Mrs. Angel in charge of the impressive candlelight ceremony. She began by reminiscing about years past, then read each past president's name as a candle was lighted for each one. The ones who were present gave a brief summary of what happened during her tenure of office.

From these reports a permanent history of the club will be prepared, along with pictures of the past presidents. Mrs. Horace Reagan read an early day history of her club, which was written by her husband's mother in 1936.

Mrs. Lance Williamson presided and installed officers for the coming year. They are Mrs. O.T. Brewster, president; Mrs. Rogers Hefley, vice president; Mrs. Clement Jones, recording secretary; Mrs. Hayes Stripling Sr., corresponding secretary and Mrs. D.O. Gray, treasurer.

Guests at the affair included two former members, Mrs. Lina Flewellen and Mrs. R.T. Piner, and Miss Marie Hall.

The next regularly scheduled meeting of the 1905 Hyperion Club will be Sept. 18.

Hefley, Mrs. S.M. Anderson, Mrs. Clement R. Jones, Mrs. Ted Hatfield, Mrs. W.T. Barber, Mrs. Hayes Stripling Sr., Mrs. John Needham, Mrs. Lance C. Williamson, Mrs. Joe Whitten, Mrs. Chesley McDonald and Mrs. D.O. Gray.

Plans for the event were made at a meeting last week in the home of the presiding officer, Mrs. Charla Huckabay, 4202 Hamilton. Committee appointments were made at that time, and it was announced that Alpha Kappa Omicron will be a three-star chapter this year. Speaker for the evening was Don Thompson, an architectural student who is working with Don Bailey. He defined basic terms used in architecture.

"Architecture is an art, and the architect is an artist," said Thompson. He showed examples of different designs, house and room plans, and explained the advantages of remodeling instead of rebuilding during an energy and economic crisis.

Saturday evening, chapter members traveled to Midland with their husbands for a dinner party.

Austin School Holds Capping

The Breckenridge School of Nursing in Austin held its capping ceremony Saturday evening. Miss Catherine Dawson, a member of the class, was unable to be present for the event because she was in Big Spring while her mother, Mrs. Helen Cobean, underwent surgery. Mrs. Bill Conger presented the devotional, and Mrs. Waymon Etchison presented the HD Council report.

Being In Love Makes This 'Lovebug' Sick

NUPTIALS — Miss Vicki Elaine Drum, daughter of Mrs. Alice Drum, Lake Charles, La., and the late Carl W. Drum, will be married July 12 in the First Presbyterian Church at Lake Charles. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mrs. W. P. Mims of Big Spring and the late Mr. Mims.

DEAR ABBY: If I asked my doctor about my problem, he'd think I was a hypochondriac, "putting him on" or even making a pass at him to prove my point. So I'll tell you:

During my several marriages and all the romances in between, I continually contracted everything from sore throats to colds to serious illnesses. But when I'm without male companionship, I enjoy excellent health — although I nearly die of loneliness!

Is kissing really that "germy"? Could I be allergic to men? Or do fatigue and emotional excitement — lower one's resistance?

I really do like men, Abby. But they seem to be bad for my health. What do you suggest?

youngsters understand that it's all "make believe," there's no harm done.

DEAR ABBY: I am 26, and considered attractive and lots of fun. I met this man two years ago and have been seeing him ever since. He only takes me to motels and church.

The problem is that he loves me, but I don't love him. I want to stop seeing him, but I don't know how to go about it. He is 42, works six days a week, and he doesn't want me to go with anyone else. He has never been married, and he says I'm the first girl he has ever been serious about.

He doesn't drink or smoke. (I do.) He deserves a nice church-going girl who is more like himself, and I'm not.

How do I break it off without hurting him?

DOLLY
DEAR DOLLY: Tell him the truth. It's unfair and unkind to keep seeing him when you could set him free to find someone else.

DEAR ABBY: My granddaughter got married two years ago. When she and her husband come to see me, he calls me "John." What is more, he calls my son, who is his father-in-law, "Frank."

I think this young man should call me "Grandpa" and my son "Dad."

Am I right or wrong?

GRANDPA
DEAR GRANDPA: Some Dads and Grandpas don't mind being addressed by their first names. But if you do, you should complain to the offending party.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212, for Abby's booklet "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20 cents) envelope.

Urban Families Eat Out More

Farm families now buy more food at food stores. Today only about 30 per cent of the food they eat is home-grown. That's 10 per cent less than in 1955, according to a U.S. Department of Agriculture food consumption study.

The study also showed that urban families spend almost twice as much money "eating-out" as do farmers. In addition, it indicated that families with large incomes allocate more money to food than those with modest incomes.

Variations In Sirloin Cuts

Sirloin is the name of a beef cut, but it has many variations. The loin end of sirloin is also marketed by these names: hip, short hip, head loin, rump, K-style butt, sirloin butt bone-in, just plain sirloin butt and Sir Butt.

Mechanically tenderized steaks are found labeled: cubed, minute, quick or sandwich steaks. Most of these have a cubed pattern from the machines that tenderize them. They're also quick to fix, but they'll usually take more than a minute.

Behavior Tip

A young child may misbehave because he wants attention, is bored, or curious. His behavior could also indicate that he is growing more independent and wants to do things on his own. Mrs. Ilene Miller, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, points out:

TNA Advised On Coronary Care

Ms. Elaine Arnold-R.N. presented a program on coronary care when she spoke at a recent meeting of the local chapter of Texas Nurses Association.

The speaker emphasized the risk factors in coronary artery disease; heredity, hypertension, obesity, smoking, certain metabolic diseases and others such as stress occupations and age and sex (white males between the ages of 35 and 55 being more susceptible).

Ms. Arnold also discussed the hospital care of patients who have had myocardial infarctions (heart attack) and presented the clinical findings usually present.

Ms. Molly Butler, president, reported on the recent TNA convention held in Houston. Highlights of the convention were as follows:

1. Legal counsel for TNA, Charles Babb, stated that license renewal fees will increase.

2. The legal status of professional nursing proves that other interests dominate in terms of legislation.

3. Local members must be assertive and state that no one speaks for professional nursing except the American Nurses Association.

4. Complete revision is needed of the present "weak" Nurse Practice Act. Also Mrs. Butler said the CERP (Continuing Education Recognition Program) is now two years old and has 4,105 members. The Texas CERP is reportedly being used as a model for other states in developing continuing education programs for RN's.

FOR YOUR PLEASURE Chuck Wagon Party Monday; Festivals, Musicals Upcoming

Scott D. Slaughter, 80, came with his son, Robert D. Slaughter, to visit the museum last week. It was part of an 80th birthday present to the elder Slaughter from his son. Born in Ohio, Scott Slaughter came to Soash (for its developer, W.P. Soash) in northern Howard County with his family and a cousin, Cliff Badger. He recalled they were met at the T&P station by a caravan of 20 Buick cars, owned by Soash and went immediately to his town where they occupied the entire second floor of the hotel (which was not finished, hence sheets furnished partitions between the men and women). His father bought 160 acres (at $30 an acre) but drought drove them out in a few years. He remembered they went to see Bob Slaughter, son of famed cattleman C.C. Slaughter, and found him disturbed that his son had gone 200 miles on a date. Now we go that far for a ball game.

By the way, the Heritage Chuck Wagon Party is set for 7 p.m. Monday at the Howard County Fair Barn, and thanks to Mary Nell Edwards, Jane Thomas, Toni Choate, Annie Matte Angel and others, it looks like a great time.

How to select the right nursing home.

We Americans are not just living longer, we're living more useful, productive lives. But an increasing number of the chronically ill, the old, the convalescent, need some place other than the hospital and their home where they can receive personal health care, round-the-clock attention and the opportunity to continue to live their lives with meaning.

As your community extended health care facility we want to help you make the right decision. Here are some guidelines: see your family physician to determine the kind of care needed; feel free to visit our facility; ask us for our costs in writing and financial advice about Medicaid; examine all of our facilities; check our food quality; verify our safety features; and finally, observe how our residents spend their time.

There's a lot more to selecting the right nursing home. We want to help. If you have any questions, please call or visit us.

Wedding Ceremony Performed Saturday

Miss Donna Sue Castle became the bride of Martin D. Wagner Jr. in a candlelight ceremony performed at 7 p.m., Saturday in Evangel Temple Assembly of God Church.

The Rev. Terry Wilson, pastor, officiated as the wedding party stood before an altar accented with an arch of greenery flanked by candelabra. Nuptial selections were played by Miss Rhonda Ownbey, organist, and the vocalists were Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Bell of Kennett, Mo.

The bride is the daughter of CM Sgt. (Ret.) and Mrs. William W. Castle Jr., San Antonio, and the bridegroom is the son of Martin D. Wagner Sr., Pensacola, Fla. The bride, who graduated from Big Spring High School in 1972, received an Associate of Arts Degree from Howard College this year. The bridegroom graduated from High Point High School, Beltsville, Md. in 1972, and also received an Associate Arts Degree at HC. He is currently serving in the U. S. Air Force and is stationed at Webb Air Force Base.

The bride was attired in a gown designed of bridal satin; the bodice overlaid with re-embroidered lace and the overskirt of silk organza. The long sleeves of organza were gathered into cuffs of the lace. Her long veil of illusion was gathered into a headpiece covered with lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascade of feathered carnations, Sweetheart roses, stephanotis and gypsophila tied with satin streamers.

The maid of honor was Miss Theresa DeMent of Belpre, Ohio, and the bridesmaids were Miss Shirretta Ownbey, Miss Janie Russell and Miss Freda Graham, all of Big Spring. They were attired in pastel blue gowns and hats styled identically to the bride's.

Dan Andrew, Waterloo,

Iowa, served as best man, and groomsmen were Billy Hill, Mike Crum and Mark Castle, the latter of San Antonio. The ushers were Ray Ownbey, Bobby Bell and Curtis Castle, and the flower girl was Donita Bell, Kennett, Mo. Jody Bell was ring bearer, and altar tapers were lighted by Anita Beth Castle and Curtis Castle, sister and brother of the bride, respectively.

Immediately after the ceremony, the couple was honored at a reception in the fellowship hall of the church where refreshments were served by Mrs. Floretta Parrish, Mrs. Janie Richards, Mrs. Linda Wilson and Mrs. Linda Crum. The table was covered with a pink cloth trimmed in silver, over a white satin cloth, and the appointments were of crystal and silver. The bridal bouquet served as the centerpiece.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Thomas, and Mrs. Gertrude Foster, all of Kennett, Mo.; George Castle, Troy, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Thomas, Oklahoma city, Okla.; Mrs. Robert Reynolds and family, Pensacola, Fla.; and the bridegroom's father. After a trip to Galveston, the newlyweds plan to reside at 2911 W. Hwy. 80, Apt. 20.

Soybeans Becoming Popular Food Item

Soybeans are becoming a popular food item. They can make a valuable addition to the foods we eat for a balanced diet.

Soybeans are available in many forms. Fresh green soybeans are available in late summer or fall. Dry or canned soybeans may be purchased the year around and are prepared for eating in the same way as other dry beans. Soybeans are also a valuable source of oil, flour, and grits.

The soybean is processed into several forms that are used as ingredients in commercial foods. Soy protein concentrate, protein isolate, and textured protein are an important part of the developing food picture.

Because soybeans contribute good quality protein, they are used in products designed as substitutes for meat, or combined with meat as an extender. They may also be used with other foods.

Dry soybeans contain 1 1/2 times as much protein as other dry beans. The protein in soybeans contain all the essential amino acids in varying amounts and is of good quality.

Soybeans, especially green soybeans are a dependable source of minerals and vitamins, including calcium, phosphorus, iron, vitamin A, thiamin, and riboflavin.

There is a new bulletin in the extension office titled "Soybeans in Family Meals". In this bulletin you will find information on vegetable-type green and dry soybeans, soybean sprouts, soy flour and grits, soy milk, soybean curd, and soybean mash or pulp. Included are tips on how to buy, how to store, how to prepare, and how to use these products. Call 7-8469 for a copy of this bulletin.

Bicentennial Kicks Off; Seeks Total Involvement

By TROY BRYANT and MARJ CARPENTER

Big Spring kicked off its Bicentennial early in 1975 with a performance of the Meistersingers and specially arranged music at the high school auditorium.

This was only the beginning of two years of events planned locally to commemorate the 200th anniversary of the nation.

Bicentennial activities are organized to fall under three categories: Heritage, Festival and Horizons programs. The Heritage program will be a nationwide summons to recall old heritage and place it in its historical perspective.

The Festival program is a nationwide opportunity to program activities and events which will stimulate travel and tourism and the Horizons program is a nationwide challenge to every American, acting individually or with others, to undertake at least one project which manifests the pride, the priorities and the hopes of his community to all Americans to improve the quality of life for the nation's third century.

COMMISSION HEADS

Heading the Howard County Bicentennial Commission are co-chairmen Mrs. Johnnie Lou Avery and Mrs. Janell Davis. Heading the local programs are Mrs. Mary Joy Cowper, Horizons, George Zachariah, Heritage and Mrs. Margaret Lloyd, Festivals.

Both city and county governments have helped fund the project. The other members of the steering committee includes Mayor Wade Choate, Mayor Jack Lamb, Forsan; Mayor Joe Swinney, Coahoma; Judge Bill Tune; Charles Bell, Jack Buchanan, Mrs. Mamie Lee Dodds, Bill Easterling, Lynn Hise, Bob Butler, Tom Locke, Dr. P. W. Malone, Mrs. Polly Mays, Paul Meek, Col. Bob Meisenheimer, Charlie Merritt, Rev. Richard Mueller, Gus Ochotorena, Tony Ortiz, Rev. J. B. Sharp, Adolph Swartz, Joe Pickle, J. F. Poynor, Mel Prather, and Roy Watkins.

JULY FOURTH PLANS

A lot of this year's activities will center around the big Jaycee picnic on the Fourth of July in Comanche Trail Park. On that same day, members of the sheriff's posse and other riding groups from Dawson and Howard Counties will carry a mail bag from Lamesa to Big Spring to link the history of those two communities.

Mrs. Avery said that one of the main purposes of the Bicentennial Celebration is to get young people involved and make them aware of the positive aspects of living in the United States, instead of all the bad things that have happened.

Events that have already been held under the Bicentennial label have included the square dance festival which brought around 500 persons to Fig Spring, the Mormon musical which was presented at Webb, the VA Hospital and in the city auditorium, and numerous permanent improvements such as the hike and bike trail near the Big Spring, the improved parking lot at First United Methodist Church and improvements in Cottonwood Park.

The traditional Big Spring Rodeo is a perfect festival to fall under the auspices of the Bicentennial, because it brings back the traditional old west in the "one true American sport."

PATRIOTIC HOMECOMING

The high school student council, as its part of the Bicentennial has set next year's Homecoming with a patriotic theme. They are also setting up a file of the high school history and are attempting to set up a permanent file of the high school annuals back as far as they can obtain them. These will be on display during the homecoming events. Craig Fischer is in charge of this project and anybody with old high school yearbooks he would like to donate may contact Fischer at the high school.

Monday, the entire Big Spring school teacher's work day will be devoted to discussing participation in the Bicentennial. They will discuss several suggestions submitted by the Howard County Bicentennial Commission including teaching history of Howard County, the preparation of a meal by homemaking classes without the use of modern equipment and also the making of colonial costumes, composition or essay competition on "Why I Believe In America", musical programs and many other activities. Schools in Coahoma and Forsan will also discuss the proposed activities.

SPEAKERS BUREAU

A list of speakers, singers, and film programs on Bicentennial has been compiled to the Commission and have been distributed to area clubs and organizations. The Commission urges the clubs to get in contact with the individuals listed and have at least a program a month devoted to Bicentennial. There are 35 programs listed, ranging in length from ten minutes to an hour.

Howard College is also involved in the Bicentennial Celebration with their own schedule of events. Included in the college celebration are lectures on the Negro Influence in America and the Spanish Influence in America.

They are also offering non-credit short courses on topics related to the Bicentennial. The College will present a series of theater, science, fine arts, art, religion, and occupational-technical programs from July 4 this year to July 4, 1976.

MEDALS ORDERED

The Big Spring Business Community has plans in the making for flags and medallions to be placed in front of the businesses declaring their participation in the Bicentennial celebration.

The Heritage Museum has ordered Bicentennial Medals cast in copper, bronze and silver and will sell them for $3 and up.

The medals include Liberty on one side and the Howard County Bicentennial Commission Seal on the other side.

The medals will be available a little later. A bound volume of the History of Howard County will be placed in the County Library for reference purposes. The local chapter of the American Association of University Women are collecting histories of businesses, clubs, and many other facets of Howard County to go in the book. They are also interviewing senior citizens for their recollections on the county's history.

CLEAN-UP

Webb Air Force Base will contribute an important part of the Bicentennial celebration. They will head up the Johnny Horizon '76 program, which is a part of the Interior Department's Beautify America program.

Live TV Wracking

BY JAY SHARBUTT

NEW YORK (AP) — Lorne Michaels was just 5 years old when "Broadway Open House," NBC-TV's first late-night entertainment show, premiered in 1950. Now he's going to produce NBC's latest venture in that arena. He'll run "Saturday Night," a 90-minute comedy-variety effort set to start Oct. 11 at 11:30 p.m. EDT. It'll appear three Saturday nights each month, broadcast live from New York.

For Michaels, who says he was weaned on the live TV shows of Sid Caesar and Milton Berle in the early 1950s, the new show may be just as nerve-wracking as it was for producers in the live old days of TV.

"I'm already starting to have these recurring nightmares where the set falls over the first night, hundreds of people are killed live on the air and people are chasing me," he said, only partly in jest.

Men's Lob Loser Denied Rematch

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Riggs, a champion of Men's Lob but never Women's Lib, says he thinks he'd beat Billie Jean King if she'd grant him a rematch of their famed 1973 "Tennis Battle of the Sexes."

Alas, says the 57-year-old racketeer, Miss King "says no. She says she wouldn't do it for $5 million. Now, I've been brought up with the belief almost everyone has a price. I don't know what hers is."

If a rematch occurs, he says, he'd like to play her under conditions favorable to his style — outdoors in daylight on a clay court, not indoors on an artificial surface under artificial lighting.

He concedes that in the last match "I underestimated her and overestimated myself. Classic mistakes. I'd avoid that next time. I'd train harder and prepare better. But I'm not making any excuses."

"I thought I was ready last time and gave her two chances — slim and none. Would you believe one of them came through for her?"

The hoopla of his nationally-televised loss to Ms. King, then 29, gave televised women's tennis a giant boost. Despite the loss, he still jokingly regards himself as America's top-seeded male chauvinist.

Irony of ironies, he's just wrapped up his first network job as a commentator on a women's pro tennis tournament NBC-TV taped last month in Florida and plans to air Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Riggs, here for post-production work with commentator Julie Heldman, a top tennis pro, and sportscaster Jim Simpson, acknowledged that because of his brash past some might be "looking for me to make some remarks (in the shows) that are possibly controversial."

"But they're not going to find any. We played it just as a straight commentary because it was a very serious event."

He also had some surprisingly serious remarks about the tournament.

"It was the first chance I'd really had to study women's tennis and I have to admit they have a very good format," he said. "I can see now why they've caught on so well with the public."

"They play longer points (than men) and have a lot of rallies, which the crowd likes."

He called the play of Chris Evert, winner of the tournament's $25,000 first prize, "the most fascinating thing I've ever seen."

Rebels Amalgamating Movement In Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Mexico (AP) — Nearly a dozen small guerrilla groups have joined forces with the 23rd September Communist League to form the biggest antigovernment movement in recent years, reliable intelligence sources claim. These sources say the amalgamation of the left-wing groups has put as many as 600 armed guerrillas, including several women, into the field to try to overthrow the government by force.

Government officials, however, claim the underground movement poses no serious problem despite recent successes in the big cities.

The Communist League is the best known of the guerrilla organizations and security officials have blamed it for the deaths of 19 persons, including 14 policemen, between last December and May of this year. The league, which in the past two years has claimed responsibility for scores of bombings, kidnappings and robberies, pulled its most spectacular coup last April 25 when about 12 of its members, including four women, robbed a bank in Mexico City of $12,000.

Eleven persons died when the assailants opened fire with machine guns. Witnesses said the group was led by a young, dark and pretty girl.

The Communist League is believed to have surfaced about two years ago in the western states of Jalisco and Sinaloa. It is believed to be made up mostly of radical students.

The group takes its name from the date of a shootout in 1964 between guerrillas and soldiers in a village in northern Mexico.

Intelligence sources said the guerrilla group numbered less than 40 members when it first appeared. But it gradually grew because of the incorporation of various other guerrilla groups that from time to time have cropped up in the country, the sources said.

The intelligence sources believe many of the guerrillas are in their 20s, adding that there is no information available on who the league's leader is or the location of its headquarters.

Despite the activism of the groups, the sources believe they don't represent a major threat to the government at the moment because of a lack of political polarization of the masses and because of some successful counterattacks by Mexican authorities.

In late 1974 the police announced the arrest of more than a score of alleged league members.

The Communist League took the guerrilla limelight after the government claimed to have wiped out the Party of the Poor guerrilla movement led by Lucio Cabanas in the mountains of southern Guerrero State, north of Acapulco last year.

The government claims its soldiers shot and killed Cabanas, in a battle which also left scores of other guerrillas dead.

There is no evidence right-wing groups may have started counterguerrilla movements in Mexico, the sources said, although from time to time radical right-wing students are arrested and charged with acts of violence.

Some Mexican businessmen accused President Luis Echeverria's administration of being soft on the leftists after the Communist League claimed credit for the assassination of businessman Eugenio Garza Sada in Monterrey two years ago.

Echeverria himself is regarded as a liberal leftist for his support of Cuba and the deposed regime of the late Marxist President Salvador Allende in Chile.

The intelligence sources said most radical guerrillas believe the government is, in fact, allied with business and capitalism.

CRMWD Officers Meet Tuesday

Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District will meet here Tuesday, May 27, O. H. Ivie, general manager, announced Saturday.

The meeting is to consider a water sales contract with the Mabee Petroleum Corporation, which is seeking a supply for secondary recovery. Directors also will consider a request for a right of way easement across district property in Coke County, as well as other general business.

Final Meeting

COAHOMA — The Coahoma Band Boosters will have their final meeting of the year Monday 7:30 p.m. in the Band Hall. All friends of the band are urged to attend this meeting, which will include the installation of officers headed by Dan Pettitt, the new president.
