Taking Up Bill Certain To Raise Price Of Gas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The members of the House, none of them happy about taxing their constituents, will try to agree in the next few days on a plan to raise energy taxes and boost gasoline prices.

Energy problem issues involve billions of dollars in taxes and higher prices, with an ultimate impact on every American, in a nation which consumes about 30 per cent of the world's energy production.

What looks like a little may mean a lot—Americans generate for their federal government about $1 billion for each penny of tax they pay for a gallon of gasoline.

Thus, for several days, the House will seek political agreement on such issues as whether to boost the federal gasoline tax and whether to put a levy on gas-guzzling new cars.

On many points, there are sharp differences between what President Ford wants to do and what the Democrat-dominated Congress wants to do—although there is general agreement that there is a problem.

What's Ahead—An "increased dependence on foreign oil exposes us to the dangers of another embargo, and limits our ability to conduct an independent foreign policy," the committee said.

Import Quotas—The committee's bill would provide import curbs through a system of flexible quotas on petroleum. There also would be features for an import licensing system. Quota levels would reflect conservation and conversion measures elsewhere in the bill.

Import Duties—The President's current power to impose oil import tariffs or quotas would be ended, except in case of war. In place of current tariffs, there would be a new system of duties imposed at 2 per cent on crude oil imports and 5 per cent on imports of other petroleum products.

Ford's Import Program—The President has used existing power to hike tariffs $2 a barrel on oil, part of his plan to eventually raise it to $3. He vetoed legislation which Congress has passed in its attempt to block his program. Congress then decided to seek some kind of compromise legislation of its own rather than try to override his veto.

Longer-Term Program Proposed by Ford—Over the longer term, Ford urged Congress to replace his import fee with a tax of $2 a barrel on all oil—U.S.-produced as well as imported petroleum. He also called for 37-cent tax per 1,000 cubic feet on natural gas—the equivalent of $2 on oil.

Gasoline Tax Hike—Ford did not recommend a specific increase in the present 4 cents a gallon federal tax on gasoline. The committee-approved bill would boost the gasoline tax by 3 cents a gallon in January 1976 and thus provide money for a special trust fund designed to aid development of alternative energy sources.

Furthermore, there would be a mechanism put into law by the committee bill which could ultimately boost the gasoline tax another 20 cents a gallon starting in 1977.

About 85 per cent of the revenue collected by the government through these up-to-20 cents tax hikes would be rebated to all Americans age 16 or over.

Business Use Tax—Starting in 1977, to encourage plants to switch to coal or nuclear or other energy sources, the committee's bill would put a tax on natural gas and oil used in business and industry.

Gas-Guzzler-Car Tax—Beginning with 1978 model automobiles, there would be special taxes imposed on gas-guzzler cars if an automaker's average for his full fleet fails to meet mileage-efficiency standards, under the committee's bill.

Here, based on material from congressional and Ford administration sources, is a close look at basic issues and proposals by the President and the tax-drafting House Ways and Means Committee:

The Import Problem—"As a nation," Treasury Secretary William E. Simon told the committee, "we have become addicted to cheap oil and to a level of oil consumption unknown elsewhere in the world. As a consequence, we are at the mercy of a small cartel..."

Is There A Crisis?—"The energy crisis," the committee told the House, "is no less real merely because it has been invisible to many of us since the end of the oil embargo last year. The worldwide recession has temporarily made oil seem plentiful, but this will turn around as prosperity returns and the demand for oil increases."

While the facility will serve primarily as a college physical education and instructional unit, it also will double as a community center for large and other types of gatherings.

Voters will decide June 19 whether to authorize issuance of $1,500,000 in general obligation bonds, and to authorize increase of the college district's tax limit by 10 cents (to a new top of 70 cents).

Dr. Hays has presented illustrated talks before the Rotary, Civitan and Optimist Clubs, and this week he has five other such bookings.

"If any other group wants to see and hear about this proposed community center," said Dr. Hays, "we will be delighted to present a program. If anyone has any questions, I welcome a visit or a telephone call."

Monday he speaks to the Jaycees; Wednesday to Downtown Lions; Thursday to Kiwanians; Friday to American Business Club and to the American Business Women's Association. He also will be on a 30-minute Channel 4 talk show.

At stake in the June 19 referendum will be a structure with 78,000 square feet, an all-purpose room 240x164 seating 3,300 around an oval sloped 15 feet below floor level (capable of 1,200 more for lecture or similar meetings); a seminar room capable of seating 600; patio, driveway to lower floor level; handball courts; PE instructor and coaches offices; PE and varsity dressing rooms, etc.

Rodeo Goes Long Way Toward Upholding Heritage Of West

BY MARJ CARPENTER
What does the rodeo have to do with the bicentennial? Anything that happened in America during the last 199 years can be classified as involved in the bicentennial. And the rodeo happened in America. After the Civil War, competition began among cowboys during the great cattle drives and during the round-ups. There were cowhands who would place a little wager over who could tie down a calf the fastest, or could bulldog a steer.

CURRENT CHAMP — Tom Ferguson, reigning world champion all-around cowboy from Miami, Okla., relaxes shortly before competition. The 24-year-old cowboy, who also reigns as the calf roping champ, set a new earnings record for a single season last year, taking $66,929 in calf roping, steer wrestling and team roping. He also picked up $23,650 in bonus money, most of it coming from the Winston Rodeo Awards.

Throughout the United States and Canada to participate in some 600 rodeos a year. Nearly 11 million people attend the events. There are top stars and reigning champions just like in all other sports. But just like the early cowboys and trailriders burnt their image into the American history book, so does the rodeo cowboy. He is completely different from other athletes in that he operates more-or-less alone. He pays his own expenses everywhere he goes. Some of the top cowboys nowadays will make several shows a week by driving their horse to the location and then flying back and forth between shows. Some of them swap out horses at these events.

Of course, tennis players and golfers often pay their own way to tournaments, instead of traveling like a team just like the rodeo cowboy.

HE DIFFERS
But here again the rodeo cowboy is different. He faces danger every time he goes into the arena. The most dangerous sport is probably bull riding, but it's also dangerous to ride broncos,

Killed Disc Jockey

DELAND, Fla. (AP) — James Perry Ables has been sentenced to life in prison here for the first-degree murder of a local radio station disc jockey.

Ables, 29, was charged in the death last October of Fred West, 21, an employee of WKXX and a native of Kerrville, Tex. Ables was found guilty Friday by a jury that deliberated for more than an hour. Judge Uriel Blount then agreed with the jury's recommendation and sentenced Ables to life in prison, meaning he will not be eligible for parole for 25 years.

Police found West's bullet-riddled body last Oct. 26, a day after he failed to report to work. A ransom demand of $10,000 had been received by WKXX.

Ables did not testify in his own behalf during the five-day trial.

39 Million Can't Find SS 'Bite'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eighty-six million Americans cannot compute their car's gasoline mileage.

An estimated 52 million can't determine if they qualify for a job listed in the classified ads, 48 million can't figure out how much change they should get back from a store purchase and 39 million can't find the Social Security deduction on their paycheck stub.

Those projections, based on results of a sample survey conducted for the U.S. Office of Education, may lead to a new and broader definition of functional illiteracy in the United States.

The project is scheduled for completion in December. Realizing that the nation had an illiteracy problem, Congress passed the Adult Education Act in 1966. Through 1973, the federal and state governments have spent a total of $472 million to try to reach the 57 million Americans 16 years and older who never finished high school.

Reporting back to Congress on Friday, the General Accounting Office said that while the program has had some beneficial results it has had "little impact on reducing illiteracy among adults."

During the first nine years of the program, about 4.6 million adults were enrolled, congressional auditors said.

"Only about 1 per cent of the adult education program's estimated target population of 57 million adults and 4 per cent of the 15 million adults with less than eight years of school have participated in any given year," their report said.

"Only 17 per cent of the program's 3.5 million enrollees at or below the eighth grade level achieved an eighth grade equivalency education in fiscal years 1965-72..." it added.

An Office of Education-funded evaluation of the program in 1973 found that, during a three-month period, one-third of enrollees had regressed or made no gains, and during a six-month period, more than 60 per cent of enrollees had dropped out.

Among those who stayed, however, the average student gained one-half grade in reading and three-tenths of a grade in math.

The GAO recommended that Congress improve the program by removing the prohibition against including adults who have high school diplomas or their equivalent, since many still are functioning below the eighth grade level.

64TH LEGISLATURE Sen. Farabee Labels Session 'Productive'

Sen. Ray Farabee, here Friday to address the Jaycee Awards banquet, appraised the Legislative session as "generally good and productive."

Although he voted against the final version of the education bill on the grounds it would penalize many of the rural districts in his area, he felt that the measure may be a step in the right direction of equalization.

How effective the bill, as well as that of the new Texas Utilities Commission, will remain to be established by practice. As for the latter, which establishes a commission capable of rate fixing by request of cities, Sen. Farabee said he was apprehensive that gradually the trend would be to Austin decisions and "many not be as effective as controlling rates at home." He saw no chance the new commission will result in lowered rates.

As a member of the finance committee, he was in on decisions that resulted in no new taxes.

"I would have preferred to have preserved some $300 million to $500 million of the surplus for future cushioning," he said, "but the education bill demands at least $650 million of it. Still, education was perhaps the most important single issue to which the Legislature spoke."

He had a hand in final appropriations of $7,415,000 and $7,871,000 for the Big Spring State Hospital and $880,000 and $957,326 for Howard College.

As a freshman member of the Senate, he served on jurisdiction, Texas constitution and Natural Resources committees, one more than the usual number. He also was on the resources sub-committee on energy.

He authorized 16 bills, was co-author on four Senate-House campaign bills, and had co-authorship in another half dozen, in addition to carrying several House bills in the Senate. He authorized a clarification of Title III of the juvenile delinquency code, making it easier to proceed in these cases; the recodified Texas Certified Seed law; the Senate version of a bill conveying 70 acres of state hospital land to the city for a recreational center; clarifying the competence of witnesses to stand trial (to meet federal court decisions and yet avoid turning out those termed criminally insane); a bill putting junior colleges more clearly under the coordinating board; making it a crime to sell or buy babies in Texas.

His bill on medical malpractice suits (SB 635) passed in the Senate but missed by two votes in the House. It would have fixed individual liability at $100,000, set up a pool for awards up to $500,000, also a medical review board of malpractice suits. Education will continue to be one of the major problems, and Sen. Farabee indicated that new taxes may be inevitable. There is a drastic need of overhaul at the higher level, he said.

TEXAS TALK

Joe Dunn

Thickening the spread thus the profit. "Spread" is the farm-retail spread, i.e., the difference in what consumers pay and farmers receive for agricultural products. "Thickening" is the unusual increase the "spread" has gone through in the past year. In January of 1974, farmers received 46 cents of a market basket dollar... by December their share was down to 41... this year the figure could be less than 40. Growth of the "spread" is causing officials to launch specific investigations into agricultural marketing and distribution systems. Suggestions are being made to locate processing plants closer to the producer, to increase efficiency in food transportation, to locate major supermarkets in central-city areas and to take a second look at effects of labor unions. Success in shrinking the "spread" will work well for everyone. The producer will get a larger share of the money spent and the consumer will receive more product for his food dollar.

Ezell Still Unsold On Utilities Commission

"We faced four major issues and we dealt with them. I felt like we had a productive session."

This was Rep. Mike Ezzell's measure of the 64th Legislature which last week passed into history.

He listed the major challenges as an education bill, the utilities commission, the budget, and a proposed new Texas constitution. He didn't agree with final form in these, in fact he voted against the utilities commission and the appropriations bill — but he thought the Legislature was responsible in facing up to the issues.

His objection to the appropriations bill, he was convinced, was that there was too much for administration in many areas, thus contributing to a burgeoning state bureaucracy.

From the beginning he had favored a purely local option approach to regulation of utilities. The final version set up a commission to fix rates in unincorporated areas and for cities which (by referendum or ordinance) request state regulation. Intrastate phone rates fall within the province of the commission, and gas is regulated by the railroad commission, leaving power, water and sewer the main items. Cities can petition for withdrawal from commission jurisdiction, but must stay out for at least five years.

As for the education bill, Rep. Ezzell regarded it as a step toward equality of opportunity in education. He contended successfully for a "hold harmless" clause which will protect smaller and medium districts from having to raise taxes for two years.

Not only education, but demands for other public services make new taxes likely in 1977. Within the past four years, appropriations have risen 60 per cent, he noted, and if this trend continues, a state personal

Webb's Pediatric Program Upgraded

When Joan Bildner got back into her doctor's smock three weeks ago, the pediatric program at the USAF Hospital at Webb AFB was the beneficiary. Dr. Bildner, mother of three young children, is working part time, but it enables the hospital to greatly expand its children's care.

She, along with Maj. (Dr.) Bill Blake, chief of pediatrics, will be able to keep up with appointments and see children the same day their parents call for appointments, in most instances.

The hospital's expanded program will include an adolescent clinic each Tuesday and Wednesday and special attention for obese youngsters. Dr. Bildner trained under an endocrinologist for a while and has done papers on diabetes, although she did not specialize in any one area. She likes all phases of pediatrics from care during the first week or two through adolescence.

She came to Webb last July with her husband, Maj. (Dr.) Bruce M. Bildner, who is the surgeon at the base hospital. Joan decided to concentrate on her motherhood role until their son and twin daughters were used to the new surroundings.

Bruce had just graduated and Joan was in her second year of medical school when they were married. She attended New York Medical College and did her internship at Metropolitan Hospital Center in New York City. Then she did a two year residency and a year as chief resident in pediatrics at Nassau County Medical Center in New York. Her husband was chief resident in surgery at the same hospital.

Her husband came into the Air Force to fulfill a two year commitment.

NEW YORK (AP) — Larry Blyden, 49, Tony Award-winning actor who was best known as a host of television game shows, died Friday of injuries suffered in an auto accident.

Psychologists Say High Schools Are Like Prisons

CHICAGO (AP) — American high schools are like prisons "with guards posing as teachers, and students learning how to be docile prisoners," say two California psychologists.

Craig Haney and Philip G. Zimbardo of Stanford University, writing in Psychology Today, say high school and prison "environments resemble each other to a remarkable and distressing degree."

They said they studied both prisons and high schools for their report.

Like prison guards, teachers have absolute authority over students, and "the teacher's word always counts more than the word of the student," Haney and Zimbardo said.

They said students, like prisoners, are regimented and regulated into docility with roll calls and bells and fixed hallway routes, and classes are run mechanically for fixed periods, "regardless of the natural educational process."

And they said high school students, like prisoners, must obey codes of dress and personal comportment.

"Both prisons and high schools also feel compelled to limit the length of male inmates' hair, as though long hair were some grievous threat to institutional authority," they write.

They describe high school buildings as "huge, stark and architecturally barren," resembling buildings designed for punishment and incarceration.

High school "values regularity, order and control over creativity, spontaneity and freedom," they say.

Oil Reserves Hit New Low

DALLAS — Texas crude oil and natural gas reserves are at the lowest point since the end of World War II, Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association reports in its new reference leaflet, 75 Facts About Texas Oil and Gas.

Distributed free to the public each year, 75 Facts is the latest in the series that highlights principal facts and figures on Texas' major industry.

But, if fact-seekers aren't happy with the current status of reserves, there are some pleasant facts, too. For instance, 75 Facts points out, oil or gas is produced in 211 of the state's 254 counties, and Texas royalty owners received $1.4 billion last year as their share of the production. Value of the 1974 production of crude oil, natural gas and natural gas liquids was $13.1 billion.

In addition, 75 Facts says, "Production, refining, and processing of Texas oil and gas generate jobs, economic vitality and nearly $1 billion a year in taxes to support state and local government and education in Texas." Some 247,000 Texans are directly employed in the petroleum industry (one out of every 18 Texas workers) and draw wages of $2.7 billion annually.

Copies of 75 Facts About Texas Oil and Gas may be obtained free from Association offices, 1341 W. Mockingbird Lane, Suite 111-E, Dallas 75247.

City Dads To Tackle Housing, Zone Issues

The city council will try again for a quorum Tuesday morning with an agenda almost identical to the meeting which failed to materialize two weeks ago.

The council will consider the final reading on a zone change, consider the Planning and Zoning minutes, Parks and Recreation minutes, and Traffic commission minutes.

Also appointments to the electrical board and the CRMWD board. The council will consider the first reading of a resolution expressing concern of the way HUD is administering Section 8 of the Housing and Community Development Act.

The council will also consider awarding bids for chlorine, lime, aluminum sulphate for the water department and a three-wheel scooter for the parks department.

It also will consider an emergency reading of a resolution authorizing the mayor to enter into contract with the Texas Highway Department for the installation, construction and maintenance of highway illumination for the Owens Street overpass.

Another zoning change to be considered, in a public hearing is a request for zone change from SF-2 residential to MF multi-family for the purpose of a triplex rent house, requested by Gerald Harris.

There will also be a discussion concerning limiting traffic in the alley on Dixie between 18th and 19th and consideration of a request by the Veterans of Foreign Wars for use of the bucket aerial truck for 30 minutes to complete painting of flag pole.

Shallow Test Written Off

Several Sterling County explorers are making hole, but one shallow test has been written off. Lovelady No. 2 Humble, a stepout to the Crandel (San Angelo) field 11 miles southeast of Sterling City, plugged at 1,664. It was 2,310 from the north and 1,650 from the east lines, section 30-11, SPRR.

HMH No. 1 Bade drilled ahead at 4,794 in lime. Monsanto No. 1-B Lee, was making hole at 6,335. Blanks No. 1-17 Brownfield acidized with 3,000 gallons and then fraced with 30,000 gallons through perforations at 7,344-569. Stoltz, Wagner & Brown No. 1-24 Flynn was at 8,272.

In Dawson County Coquina No. 1 Linsey spudded and was at 400 feet. Lovelady No. 1 Guilliams in Borden also spudded and waited on rotary.

Model Airplane Contest Slated

The Flying Chaparrals are sponsoring their sixth annual West Texas regional model airplane contest at Hogan Park in Midland, Saturday and Sunday, June 14-15.

This will be a "AAA" rated contest sanctioned by the Academy of Model Aeronautics which is supported by well over 50,000 active model builders nationwide. Contestants from all over Texas and neighboring states are expected to attend. There is no admission charge.

The championships are restricted to U-control airplanes. Planes are controlled by 52' to 60' steel cables and are powered by engines with displacements ranging from .15 to .40 cubic inches.

Of special interest to the spectators will be the combat events. Combat is flown by two pilots in the same circle. Each contestant's plane carries an 8' paper streamer. The object of the event is to cut the streamer from the opponent's plane with the propeller. Precision aerobatics and flying events also are scheduled.

Disbar Krogh

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP) — The state Supreme Court has disbarred Egil Krogh because of his role as chief of the White House Plumbers unit responsible for the burglary of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist's office.

To Host Adult Education Leader

The Adult Education Department of the Big Spring State Hospital will host William T. Nelson, Program Director of Adult Education and Civil Defense, Texas Education Agency, for their semi-annual in-service training session and covered dish supper Monday evening.

Nelson has been associated with TEA for the past 25 years and has been a consultant in adult education since the inception of these programs in Texas, beginning with six teachers and 40 students to a program which now includes 74,149 students and 2,000 teachers.

Nelson was a consultant with the Texas Legislature and was instrumental in getting passage of $11 million for adult education for the next biennium.

A special feature of the session will be the selection of the Outstanding Teacher for the past six months.

How to select the right nursing home.

We Americans are not just living longer, we're living more useful, productive lives. But an increasing number of the chronically ill, the old, the convalescent, need some place other than the hospital and their home where they can receive personal health care, round-the-clock attention and the opportunity to continue to live their lives with meaning.

As your community extended health care facility we want to help you make the right decision. Here are some guidelines: see your family physician to determine the kind of care needed; feel free to visit our facility; ask us for our costs in writing and financial advice about Medicaid; examine all of our facilities; check our food quality; verify our safety features; and finally, observe how our residents spend their time.

There's a lot more to selecting the right nursing home. We want to help. If you have any questions, please call or visit us.

Bicentennial Town Crier

You're missing a fun time if you haven't been exposed to the talents of the Nuts and Bolts. This Bicentennial group is sponsored by Charles Farham and First United Methodist Church, and is much in demand to entertain with its lively singing.

Dressed appropriately in red, white and blue, Joyce Bradley, Marilyn Newsom, Margie Hill, Joe and Susan Dawes, Julian Patterson, Emmett McKenzie, Patti Parham, Gayle Bledsoe, Jim Shelton, Ken Sprinkle and Cliff Chapman make those old songs ring, plus patriotic numbers. Emilee Beckham is accompanist. We appreciate their ready response to be a part of our Bicentennial Program Bureau.

And while on the subject of the Program Bureau, groups and organizations are urged to make full use of this Bicentennial service. Speakers, entertainers, book reviewers, have been recruited from throughout Howard County (and we would welcome more volunteers), and will be available during the coming year for individual appearances.

If you are a club program chairman and have not received the Program Bureau list, please call Janell Davis (7-5745) or Johnnie Lou Avery (7-6311) to have one mailed to you. Wouldn't your club enjoy hearing Ernie Boyd make the Civil War battles come alive, hear the Jack and Jill Choir, or outstanding speakers like Lila Brewster and Jane Smith? There's more, much more, so please call.

The sixth grade classes of Emily Philips and Linda Cheek gave the Cedar Crest student body and patrons something to cheer about with their original historical pageant at the end of the school year. The show included music, dancing and the reenactment of moments of American history. Musical numbers were backed by the talented hands of Julie Shirey on piano, and the sets and props were all hand made by the classes. The business community isn't going to be left behind in Bicentennial planning. Adolph Swartz, Ron McNeil and members of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce Retail Merchants Committee are deep in study of how best to decorate our town in a manner befitting our 200th birthday. Already the planters are red, white and blue. Merchants want to let visitors to this area know our celebration is in full swing. Watch for developments.

Mamie Lee Dodds is hard at work on the finishing touches of "Let Freedom Ring", the finale to the Jaycee old-fashioned July 4th "Picnic in the Park". Look for this to be bigger and better than ever. Meantime, Mamie is helping numerous clubs prepare appropriate dresses to wear at the affair. DAR leaders Helen Dawson Cobean and Jo Lipscomb have pledged their group to be hostesses for events through next year.

Tid bits—The Cotillion Dance Club is using a Bicentennial theme for all of its club year (could this be due to the fact that Prexy Jeanette Snodgrass is also a member of the Festival '76 Committee?). The 1953 Hyperion is titling the club study "Spirit of '76" and Sue Stripling hints that we will hear big things from others in Hyperion-ranks...Big Spring Squares not only used Bicentennial as their theme for their recent highly successful area-wide convention, but will take the same ideas (under Frenchie and Erma Steward) to a statewide affair in San Antonio later this year... Women's Forum, Altrusa, Home Demonstration Clubs and the Kentwood Center have all shown interest by scheduling speakers. Our Big Spring schools are off and running in trying for creative ideas to reinforce the patriotic feeling of our youth. Lynn Hise and Helen Gladden coordinated an inservice training session featuring Johnnie Lou Avery with suggestions galore on how teachers can join in the celebration in next year's classroom activities... Let us know if you wish to donate a flag to a public facility, or post a prize for a poetry or essay contest.

CAULKING A CUBICLE — Mike Sewell found that strapping rubber soles of shoes to his knees eased the wear-and-tear as he caulked a cubicle in a mausoleum under construction at Resthaven Memorial Park in Louisville, Ky.

Malone-Hogan Hospital Gains X-Ray Green Light

The Malone-Hogan Hospital, Inc. School of X-Ray Technology has been advised that it is being recommended for pre-accreditation. The announcement was made by the American Medical Association Council on Medical Education.

Dr. Buerk Williams, program directors, said that the recommendation of approval guarantees viability of the program. It assures Big Spring of being able to cope effectively with the critical shortage of certified X-ray technologists.

Since creation of the School of X-Ray Technology, the advisory committee has been pointing to a strong, innovative and flexible program, with a goal to acquire national accreditation. The Joint Review Committee on Education in Radiologic Technology, derived from the American College of Radiology and American Society of Radiologic Technologists dispatched Virginia Milligan, RT, Phoenix, Ariz., here on Jan. 24. Following her survey, changes were made to meet her suggestions. As a result, the JRC has recommended pre-accreditation approval. In addition to attesting to the standards of operation and instruction, the steps put the school's graduates in line to take the National Registry examination. This certification is becoming increasingly important in job procurement, salary and promotion in X-ray technology.

Most Young Crops Showing Progress

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Most young crops are showing good progress and range grasses are making new growth, Dr. John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says.

Moisture conditions have improved considerably on the plains, giving a boost to dryland crop prospects, but rain is still needed in South Texas, Hutchison said.

Wet fields have caused delays of small grain harvesting over much of Central and North Central Texas and in the Rolling Plains, he said.

Harvesting of spring vegetables remain active in the Rio Grande Valley and in the San Antonio-Winter Garden area, Hutchison said. Onions and cabbage are being harvested in the Trans-Pecos area.

Peaches are being harvested in southern counties but the crop generally short. The peach crop continues to look good over much of the state, he said.

District agricultural agents gave these reports: Panhandle: Wheat continues to mature. Harvesting should start in about two weeks. Spring planting is about complete except in a few areas where moisture remains short or where crops were damaged by weather.

South Plains: About 15 per cent of the cotton acreage remains to be planted. Cool temperatures, seedling disease and heavy thrip infestations have slowed development of young cotton. Corn, sorghum and alfalfa are making good progress.

Rolling Plains: About 25 per cent of the cotton crop has been planted. Considerable replanting will be necessary because of weather damage. Sorghum planting is past the halfway mark. Some wheat was severely damaged by recent hail.

North Central: Small grains are maturing rapidly but fields are still too wet to begin harvesting. Some cotton and sorghum remain to be planted. About 20 per cent of the peanut acreage has been planted. Good forage is available to livestock.

Northeast: Some hay has been harvested. Soybeans are being planted where field conditions permit. Some cotton will have to be replanted because of weather damage. Pastures and ranges are in good shape.

Far West: A general rain is needed throughout the area. Small grains are producing good yields. The second cutting of alfalfa is under way. A heavy peach crop is being set.

West Central: Many fields are too wet to plant cotton or to harvest small grains. Hay crops, sorghum and home gardens are making good progress. Most pastures and ranges are above average.

Central: Fields are mostly too wet for much farming. Heavy rains caused some lodging in small grains and some fields will be cut and baled for hay. Early sorghum is booting with some grain heads emerging. Many heavy calves are moving to market.

East: Some corn and sorghum remains to be planted. Vegetable production has been slowed by wet weather.

Wedding Ceremony Performed Saturday

Miss Donna K. Morris became the bride of Gaylon C. Harding in a candlelight ceremony conducted Saturday evening in College Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne L. Morris, 2002 N. Monticello, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Harding, Box 530, Coahoma.

Dr. Jimmy Law, pastor, officiated for the rites before a column arch backed with arched candelabra and flanked by spiral candelabra, palm trees and baskets of white mums and carnations with salal foliage.

Mrs. Gail Bonner, pianist and organist, accompanied Miss Sandy Leach, vocalist.

The bride was formally gowned in a princess silhouette of white silk and tulle. Ruffled tulle lace filled the stand-up neckline, created the cuff of the fitted lace sleeves and outlined the deep oval yoke. Pearl pearls traced lace designs on the yoke and full length of the sleeves. The contoured panels of the skirt fell into a bouffant fullness, forming a chapel-length train. Appliqued tulle lace motifs enhanced the flared skirt above the deep lace hemline flounce. She wore a bandeau of matching lace, retraced in bridal pearls, which held the French illusion of her veil, and carried a crescent bouquet of white carnations, orchid stative and a lavender orchid tied with satin and lace.

in-law of the bride, was matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Courington and Miss Kim Burchell. They were attired in floor-length orchid sheer dresses lined with orchid and accented with lace yokes and cuffs. The circular skirts were banded by a full ruffle. Their headpieces were of orchid and white flowers, and they carried nosegays of orchid carnations, white and yellow daisies and gypsophila tied with orchid polka dot ribbons.

David Elmore served as best man, and groomsmen were Tommy Ward and Hubert Rowden, both of Coahoma. Ushers were Gary Morris of Marble Falls, brother of the bride; Shannon Boyles Jr., Paul Martinez and Guy James, all of Coahoma.

The flower girl was Melinda Smith of Coahoma, attired in a dress like those of the other attendants. Candlelighters were Pam Oliver and Sherrie Oliver, both of San Antonio, who wore identical dresses of white sheer overlay with white and yellow daisies lined with orchid.

Scottie Moore, Coahoma, was ring bearer.

The bride, a Big Spring High School graduate, was formerly employed as a deputy in the county clerk's office at Howard County Court House. The bridegroom, a graduate of Coahoma High School, is employed with his father at G. B. Harding and Company Inc.

A reception was held in the church fellowship hall, and refreshments were served by Miss Debbie Allred, Albuquerque, n.m.; Miss Roni Acri, Mrs. Joyce Flinchbough, Miss Teresa Wickline, Miss Cheri Bryant, Dallas; Miss Gayle Harding, Cisco; and Mrs. Sherry Rowden, Coahoma.

The bride's table, draped with white lace, was centered with a hurricane chimney holding a white candle arranged with lavender and white flowers. The bridegroom's table featured an antique sterling silver coffee service.

Mrs. David Elmore registered the guests.

Out-of-town relatives attending included Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Newman, Brownwood; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Newman, Rising Star; Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Mulcahy and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Allred, all of Albuquerque; Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Williams and Mrs. Mae Specht, both of Snyder; Mrs. Mozelle Wall, Sweetwater; Mr. and Mrs. Haynes A. Howell, La Pryor; Mrs. Pauline Aldrine and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wolf, all of Topeka, Kans.; Mrs. Opal Hill, Del Rio; Mr. and Mrs. Milton Bryant, Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Don Hopkins, Ennis; Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Wadle, Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Oliver, San Antonio; and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Gresham, Arlington.

A rehearsal dinner was held Friday evening in the Poco Locco Club where tables were placed in a horseshoe manner and centered with an arrangement of spring flowers. The couple will reside at 2607 Cindy Lane, upon returning from a trip to Bela Vista, Ark.

Wedding Held Friday Evening

Miss Patricia Ann Reese became the bride of Darrell Thomas Cypert in a ceremony held Friday evening in College Baptist Church with Dr. Jimmy Law officiating.

The altar setting including an arch centered with an arrangement of pastel flowers, flanked by candelabra and baskets of spring flowers. Nuptial selections were by Mrs. Donald Richardson, organist, and Miss Jan Bledsoe, vocalist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Collin R. Reese, 612 Elgin, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Cypert, Garden City.

Cypert and his bride are graduates of Garden City High School, and he is employed at Wes-Tex Wrecking. The newlyweds, upon returning from a trip to the Dallas-Ft. Worth area, will make their home in Big Spring.

For the wedding, the bride chose to wear a gown of white satin with Spanish lace overlay, long sleeves and a chapel-length topped with a satin bow. Her finger-length veil of illusion flowed from a crown of daisies centered with small seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of pastel flowers and rosebuds tied with long streamers.

Miss Dana Tilley, Garden City, was maid of honor, and serving as bridesmaids were Mrs. Faron Reese, the bride's sister-in-law; Miss Darlene Smith, Miss Lisa Faulkner, Plainview; and Miss Anna Thomason, Garden City. They were attired in empire gowns fashioned similar to the bride's. They were in individual colors of checked gingham with matching garden hats. Their bouquets were pastel flowers arranged on fans with long streamers.

Larry Wheat, Garden City, was best man, and the groomsmen were Faron Reese, the bride's brother; Donnie Cypert, the bridegroom's brother; Ben Hunt, Garden City; and Charlie D. Hunt. Serving as ushers were Jimmy Law, Noel Wayne Hull and Ronnie Henrichs of Garden City. Stacey Walling and Ginger Brooks were flower girls. Ed. Wayne Cypert, Garden City, served as the ring bearer.

The couple was honored with a reception in the activities building at the church. Serving refreshments were Mrs. Randy Evans, Lubbock; Mrs. Noel Hull, Mrs. C. W. Smith, Mrs. John Cline and Mrs. Charlie Grisham, Odessa. The table was laid with a pink and white cloth with crystal and silver appointments.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Reese, Spur, the bride's grandparents; and Mrs. Johnnie Cypert and Mrs. Willie Graves, Garden City, grandparents of the bridegroom.

Nuptials Conducted in Church Of Nazarene

Nuptials rites were solemnized at 7 p.m., Saturday in First Church of the Nazarene for Miss Sandra Kay Woodriddle and Brian R. Dickerson with the Rev. Clifton Woodriddle officiating.

The wedding party stood before an arch covered with greenery flanked by candelabra and baskets of spring flowers. Wedding selections were played by Ms. Martha Askew, organist, and the vocalist was Delbert Hutchings.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Woodriddle, 2510 Central, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Dickerson, Wichita Kans. The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School and attended Bethany Nazarene College, Bethany, Okla. She is employed at T. G. & Y. The bridegroom is a graduate of Southeast High School, Wichita and attended BNC. He is employed by the Putnam Independent School District, Putnam, Okla. The couple will reside in Bethany.

Carrying a spring bouquet, the bride was attired in a satin gown with nylon chiffon overlay and styled with an empire waistline. A white flowered lace yoke, dotted with pearls, had long puff sleeves gathered to the wrist. Her veil of illusion, edged with floral lace, covered the headpiece and flowed to form a cathedral train.

Miss Glenda Woodriddle, Ft. Worth, served as the maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Sheila McGuire, Plainview, and Miss Shouni Woodriddle, sister of the bride. They were attired in yellow gowns featuring v-neckline, short fly-away sleeves, an empire waistline, ruffles trimming the skirt and a yellow sash at the waist. ### Dough Tip

It is possible to knead a dough too much. When the dough is smooth and elastic from kneading, and little bubbles can be seen beneath the surface, it is time to stop. If kneading is continued the dough tears and becomes sticky again. The sticky dough makes a poor quality bread because the gluten has been broken down.

Add Deviled Ham Interest

Count on cans of deviled ham to come to the rescue in the sandwich department.

One can of deviled ham can be mixed with three chopped hard-cooked eggs. Add salt, pepper, a bit of prepared mustard and a dash of lemon juice, if desired. Try this on cracked wheat bread.

Another idea uses deviled ham with one-half cup of cottage cheese. Dill seed and basil might be used as seasonings.

Neither of these requires mayonnaise nor salad dressing which is a boon if you're on a strict calorie count.

CHILDREN'S CORNER

Kids Can Build House With Library Blueprints

By SUSAN L. CONLEY
CHILDREN'S LIBRARIAN
Build a fort, play house, spook house, or a puppet stage. The children's department at the Howard County Library has the plans.
The instructions are clearly printed step-by-step. Pictures help show what is to be done and how the project should look at each stage.
A child over 12 years old will be able to build any of these without the help of parents. Younger children will need some assistance.
General instructions and ideas are given at the beginning, along with a list of materials that are needed. All the houses are made from the pasteboard material that large appliances come in. Other materials such as nails, masking tape, and scrap lumber can be obtained at little cost.

The frontier fort and play house are large enough for several children to get into.
The spook house is a plan for making exhibits for a walk-through house of terrors. The plans show how to make a headless man, a vampire's coffin and a mummy.

The Puppet Show tells how to construct a stage and puppets.
Girl Scout troops, Boy Scout troops and energetic teachers will find these plans useful. Kids with a lot of time on their hands this summer will also enjoy building a house or fort.
All plans were designed and copyrighted by J. A. Skinner and can be checked out for three weeks.

TV Cures Offered

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — We'd like to present Dr. Ray Cathode, the renowned expert on television ailments. He'll be with us this summer to answer viewer inquiries, except on Wednesdays when he plays golf.

His first question comes from M.S., of Deaf Smith County, Tex., who says: "My S.W.A.T. broke. What can I do?"
Dr. Cathode: "Give it three grenades, four shotgun shells and a .357 Magnum bullet every two hours. But don't try to burp it."

V.N. of Reno, Nev., writes: "I want to see Monday night football next fall, but my wife wants to see 'Maude' and 'All in the Family.' They're all on at the same time and we have only one TV set. Please help."

C.P. of Memphis, Tenn., asks: "Is Ted Baxter, the anchorman on the Mary Tyler Moore show, an anchorman in real life?"
Dr. Cathode: "No. He's a news consultant for some local stations."

B.O. of Homosassa Springs, Fla., gripes: "Every summer we get swamped with reruns. What can viewers do about it?"

T.G. of Burbank, Calif., asks: "Is there too much sex on TV?"
Dr. Cathode: "No, because people keep falling off the set."

P.B. of Chicago inquires: "I notice that Maude yells a lot, but she never shouts through a screen door. Why?"
Dr. Cathode: "She might strain her voice?"

Divorce Studied

CRUCIAL CONVERSATIONS. By May Sarton. Norton. 156 pages. $5.95.
In "Crucial Conversations," May Sarton searingly dissects the death of a marriage.
Poppy and Reed Whitelaw have been married for 27 years. For all of those years, Philip Somersworth, an intimate friend, has basked in the love he thought flowed from their marriage. A bachelor, Phil has become such an integral part of the marriage that when it falls apart it affects him just as strongly — perhaps even more so — as it does Poppy and Reed.
During the married years, Reed managed to fulfill himself by being successful in business. Poppy had nothing. She had nothing. She had once hoped to be a sculptor.

Pact Awarded For Building

SNYDER — In a special called meeting Thursday, the Snyder City Council awarded the contract for construction of a new chamber of commerce building.

Council members awarded the contract after accepting the deed to the building site at 23rd Street and Avenue R. The land was donated by Roger B. Mize, president of the Snyder National Bank.

Chamber officials announced at Thursday's meeting that a groundbreaking ceremony would be planned immediately. Chamber Manager Mickey Nunley, chamber president Joe Williamson, and two members of the Chamber Building Committee, Bob Wilson and Milton Ham, attended the meeting. Nunley presented the City of Snyder a check for $73,457, the cost of the general contract. The building will be constructed by Wadleigh Construction Co. of Snyder. Last fall it was agreed that the city would assume title to the property. The Internal Revenue Service had advised that under city ownership gifts to the construction fund from individuals would be tax deductible.

Chess Champion

Take it Easy Rest Easy Therapeutic Pillow

Prescribed by Leading Orthopedic Surgeons as an Aid in Relieving Cervical Strain and Tension

Since 1964 Doctors have had a new tool for use in cervical spine, low back pain cases and cardiac patients. The "REST EASY" Therapeutic pillow which supports both the head and neck, was invented by a former surgical technician and physician's assistant seeking relief and comfort from his own "whiplash" problem. The pillow was so effective for him that he presented it to the Orthopedic Surgeons in the hospital where he worked. Approx. 400 of the pillows were used in case studies, and it has been in great demand in the medical profession ever since the results of the studies were announced. For almost five years it was sold exclusively through medical sources. Recently the Rest Easy pillow has become available to the public through selected department stores.

AN IDEAL GIFT FOR THE ONES YOU LOVE

REST EASY's an excellent TRAVEL COMPANION. Used as a car Pillow, it often aids in relieving back tension while driving or as a headrest if you are a passenger.

As a DECORATIVE PILLOW in your living room, it will help you enjoy a more relaxing comfort from your favorite chair or divan. REST EASY gives you the extra support you need — where you need it — whether it be the neck, across shoulders, or lower back.

X-ray photographs show the natural contour of the neck vertebrae when the "Rest Easy" pillow is in use and the neck position with a regular pillow. Many people report that after only ten nights sleeping on the "REST EASY" pillow they will never again use another pillow. It is non-allergenic and the cover is removable for washing.
