Portuguese Troops Fire Shots At Reds

PROBE CONTINUES
Cook County authorities were reported Saturday to be seeking subpoenas to question a number of gangland figures who visited Chicago crime boss Sam "Momo" Giancana before he was slain.

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Portuguese troops fired shots and tear gas to disperse Maoist demonstrators Saturday a few hours after the country's military rulers announced they aim to set up a classless society but rejected violence as a way of achieving this.

Some newsmen said they saw troops aim automatic weapons at demonstrators, but a spokesman for the Continental Defense Command, the security force that controls the commandos, said they were mistaken. The spokesman said there were no casualties from the clash and just one arrest.

Earlier, the 30-member Revolutionary Council ended nearly 24 hours of talks by issuing a lengthy document.

PRESIDENTIAL VIRUS?

Can Connally Survive Onus Of Criminal Trial?

By SAUL PETT
AP Special Correspondent
HOUSTON, Texas (AP) — "Governor, it's been said that the only known cure for presidential bug, is an injection of embalming fluid. What do you think?"

Big John Connally laughed. "I agree, but every rule has its exceptions." "You?" Connally lowered his Mt. Rushmore jaw and, against that statesmanlike sea of wavy white hair, his dark brows knitted, his eyes narrowed, his lips flattened into a grim thin line. In the several ways that he resembles his old mentor, Lyndon Johnson, this high noon look to signal the moment of truth is most reminiscent of the only Texan to become president.

"I don't have presidentialitis at all," said John Connally, whose friends insist he has it so bad he has been measuring the Oval Office for years. "You don't want to be president?" "Not really," he said, looking out from his 21st-floor window at the flat country around Houston. "As candidly as I can say it, if I can help achieve certain objectives for the country, I'd rather not be president."

"Rather not?" "It seems to me that whatever fun or pleasure once attended that office is now gone. In so many ways..." John Connally, former governor of Texas, former secretary of the navy and secretary of the treasury, a friend of presidents who almost died with one, a protégé of Lyndon Johnson who switched to Republican, a giant of a man in the eyes of Richard Nixon and perhaps, when it still mattered, his choice for the White House in 1976, a recent defendant in a sweaty bribery trial who was acquitted, John Connally, a man of many seasons in a life of traumatic twists, discussed the effects of Watergate on the presidency.

"It's now gotten to the point where some people are saying the President should pay plane fare for his wife when she flies with him. A member of Congress proposes a bill that would prohibit the President from giving any foreign chief of state any gift worth more than $50. Ridiculous! Some people have used the last three years to try to tear down the presidency."

"Now, I'm not saying I'd never take the job under any circumstances but the truth is I'd really rather not. "I'm 58 years old. Why would I want to be surrounded by all that trouble and turmoil? I've seen the job and much of the mystique of the office is gone for me. At best, it is a profoundly difficult job and now we're in a time when everybody seems to be trying to make it more difficult."

"Under what circumstances would you make a run for president or vice president?" "If there's a clear indication President Ford was not running, that in itself would do it. But under no circumstances would I be interested in the vice presidency. You can be sure of that. If I were 44 or 48 it might be a different thing."

"Are there any other conditions that would cause you to run?" "I haven't really considered them. There would have to be, of course, some reasonable hope. I don't mind taking on the odds but they can't be impossible odds."

"It sounds immodest but the election wouldn't worry me. I frankly think I could be elected easier than be nominated."

Connally left the Democrats in 1973 because, he said, the party had moved too far left for him and most (See Connally, P. 7-A, Col. 1)

Big Spring Week

with Joe Pickle

Voters gave the Howard College PE-Coliseum building a 2-1 margin in an encouragingly large turnout Thursday. An interesting sidelight was that 114 more voted for the bonds than voted for the 10-cent tax rate to support them; or to put it another way, there were 79 more who voted against the tax than voted for bonds, which might mean that 35 favoring the bonds just couldn't bring themselves to say one way or the other on the tax. One major rough spot was the snafu at the voting box on the HC campus where the best advice on potential voter turnout proved woefully short. With about 600 (or 35 per cent) voting between 5-7 p.m., some people getting under the wire just before doors closed at 7 p.m. didn't get to cast their ballots for an hour and 45 minutes. And that reminds us—what's the point of giving a voter registration card if your name has to be looked up on the voting roll anyhow?

But the bond election wasn't the only referendum for the week. There was another Saturday (the results of which were not known as this was written) in which it was proposed to extend the boundaries of Howard County Water Improvement and Control District No. 1. The proposed new territory seeking the possibility of water lines is along and south of Midway Road where there has been considerable development.

Dawson County was one of the hardest hit counties by the new state school finance law, losing around $200,000 in state aid. On a 4-3 vote, trustees wiped out the $400,000 annual which had been paid above the scale. That means that teachers there will average out about $1,000 a year increase instead of the state mandated $1,400. Dawson County took the biggest state aid cut in all the South Plains.

ONE OF 1,200 WORKING IN STATE City's Only Private Eye Carries No Gun

By JOHN EDWARDS
The only licensed private investigator in Big Spring works for $25 an hour or $200 a day plus expenses. For this fee, Bob Smith will research the background of a prospective employe, check into the activities of a parent involved in a child custody suit, investigate an oil field theft, search for a lost person or look into an insurance claim.

"CANNON" He is one of 1,200 licensed in Texas. Their work is not exactly as portrayed on television shows, like "Cannon."

"I think they color it a little bit," Smith said, laughing. Unless a private investigator here also is a reserve law enforcement officer, he is not licensed to wear a gun.

Smith does not carry a pistol on his person but does keep one in his car when working out of town. "Surprisingly enough, most of my work has been out of town," Smith noted. "I've covered the biggest percentage of Texas since I've been in it (private investigation)."

Private investigators are required to supply law enforcement agencies with information they learn about crimes. "We may be investigating a domestic problem and Stabbing Keeps Police Guessing Police are investigating the stabbing of Arthur B. Guess, 22, Midland, which occurred about 2:10 a.m. Saturday in the Men's Dormitory of Howard College. Police discovered the stabbing after a nurse at a local hospital notified them a man with a stab wound had sought medical attention. Guess was listed in fair condition in a local hospital Saturday.

wind up with information in a criminal case," the former Stanton police chief said.

POT CASE Information discovered on one assignment led to the arrest of six men for possession of 70 pounds of marijuana worth $18,000, Smith said. "One of the individuals we were investigating was involved in it," Smith said. The men were arrested after crossing the Rio Grande in Big Bend about midnight, U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration officers said.

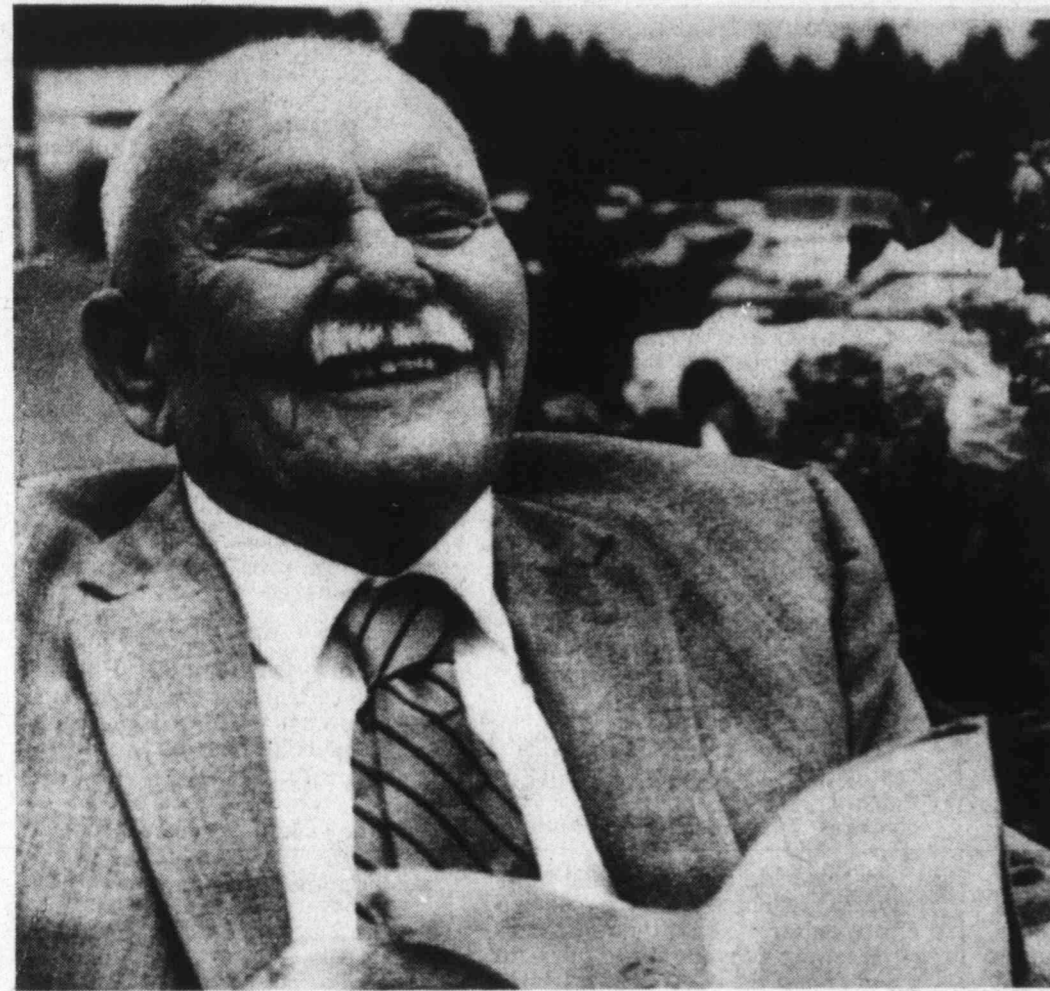

With the exception of crime information, Smith said he will give out case information only to the client or someone the client has approved, in writing. Law enforcement officers also help Smith: "They don't mind helping you if you don't mind helping them in return."

NO DEVICES What about surveillance devices? "I don't have any of those," Smith said. "They're not legal, and I don't use them."

The detective scans public records and conducts interviews while researching (See No. Page 7-A, Col. 4)

CLOUDY

Clear to partly cloudy, more of the same temperature-wise, with a 20 per cent chance of thunder showers today, tonight and Monday.

KISS THEM FOR HARRY — Harry McDonnell, Seattle, turned 104 Saturday and about 40 women were on hand to help him celebrate. He kissed them all. Harry also had a letter of congratulations from President Ford. But Harry's eyesight isn't what it used to be. When he read the letter, he called out: "It's signed Harold R. Ford, in his own handwriting."

PLAYS PEEK-A-BOO WITH MOTHER

Blind Baby Boy 'Sees'

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — A baby blind since birth now can "see" his favorite toy and reach out accurately to take it in his hands.

And he delights in playing sightless peek-a-boo with his mother. Dennis Daughters, 8 months old, "sees" much like a bat does, by broadcasting silent sounds that return as audible echoes. The echoes tell him where things are, and other knowledge about the world he cannot see.

It's all done through special equipment within a kind of beanie cap worn on his head. Dennis is apparently the first blind baby in the world ever to experiment with an echo-sounding or sonar device, says Dr. Tom Bower, a Scottish psychologist who conceived the project. He believes a blind baby learns to think better if he knows early how to move about in his world and to reach for things.

Dr. Bower enlisted the aid of Telesensory Systems Inc. (TSI) in Palo Alto which supplied the equipment free of charge. A beam of ultrasound is broadcast to and from a transducer system, about the size of a half-dollar and weighing only 1 1/2 ounces, in the middle of a headband on the baby's forehead.

Objects struck by the beam return echoes, which then are translated into audible sounds, conducted through plastic tubes to the baby's ears. The sounds are a repeated series of pleasant little whistles. They are quite subdued so the baby can also hear everything else around him, including his parents' voices.

The echoes tell: —The distance of an object, through pitch of the sound. The closer the object is, the lower the pitch.

—Direction, because an object to the right of center produces a louder sound if something is more to the right than the left. So Dennis knows if something is more to the right than left, or can "focus" straight upon it by turning his head until the sounds are equal.

—Size, by the intensity of the echo when he is looking directly at it. By moving his head slightly, he can define the edges of it, where echoes diminish.

—Surface. Hard, smooth objects echo back a clear, pure sound. Fuzzy surfaces sound "mushy."

Hence, Dennis can identify his favorite toy, a rubber caterpillar with six projections or spikes on it, with a soft side that he likes to rub against his cheek, a side that produces a squeak under pressure. He can distinguish it as against an object of similar size, both about as big as a man's hand, Dr. Bower says.

Dennis likes to stand on his mother's knee, receiving a strong signal when he looks directly at her. He's learned he can "turn her off" by looking to one side, then "turn her on" again by looking directly at her.

This is his peek-a-boo game, producing smiles and giggles.

Big Springers Share Money

By TROY BRYANT
Big Spring participants brought in their share of the money following Saturday night's final performance of the 42nd Annual Big Spring Rodeo and Cowboy Reunion before a crowd of about 7,000.

Wacey Cathey electrified the crowd Friday night with a spectacular ride on bull "25 bar," getting the top score of 83. Rodeo clowns Quail Dobbs and Tommy Sheffield capped his outstanding ride when they pulled the cowboy away from the stomping bull after Cathey was thrown to the ground.

His brother, Mike Cathey, was one of only two riders who stayed on their bulls for the full eight seconds Saturday night. His score was a 78. They Lewis turned in the best times on Wednesday and Saturday nights, but finished second overall in the barrel racing event.

Cindy Bird, Post, edged Mrs. Lewis with an overall time of 36.19 to take first place while they turned in a combined time of 36.25. The Big Spring contestants were among the 385 cowboys and cowgirls who competed for over $14,000 in cash prizes at the rodeo.

The Organization Maintenance Squadron won the overall trophy in the Webb Calf Dressing contest after they won first place in the Saturday night contest. Field Maintenance Squadron gained enough points in earlier performances to win second place while third place was divided between the Hospital Team and the Air Base Team. Several of the events were decided Saturday night as the Saturday winners took the overall trophies, also.

Kent Youngblood wrestled down his steer with a time of 3.8 to add to his first round time of 4.5 to give him the overall championship of that event with a combined time of 8.3. Until his performance, Sylvester Mayfield, eventual second place winner, was leading the event with an 8.9 time.

Ken Welch, Merkel and Claude Groves, Lubbock were the only two cowboys to ride their saddled broncs Saturday night, but both turned in 78s, the best score of the rodeo. They split the first and second money while six-time World Champion All-Around Cowboy Larry Mahan, Mesquite, and Bobby Brown split third and fourth money as they both scored 76s in an earlier performance.

Paul Mayo rode the bronc "Calamity Jane" to an 84 score Saturday night to take the overall bareback bronc championship, outdistancing Rusty Riddle, Weatherford who scored an 82. Martin Fryar, Big Spring, tied with Johnny Edmondson, Roby, for the best calf roping time Saturday night, but they couldn't match the overall championship performance earlier in the week of Lee Cockrell. # HANK THOMPSON Makes You Feel Good A Six Pack Or No

By MARJ CARPENTER
"Swing Wide Your Gates Of Love" was on the flip side of Hank Thompson's first recording back in 1946 and he's still doing just that.

His booming laugh and informal air makes him a part of the crowd as he sings and the two nights of rodeo here were no exception. At the dance afterward, he remained for the entire event, which many stars fail to do, and sat at a table out front after he sang many numbers and signed albums and visited with the public on a personal basis.

Born in Texas and first gaining success in the navy as a disc jockey and later with the Brazos Valley Boys, his heart none-the-less, is in Oklahoma where he resides at Sand Springs in a home on the Keystone Reservoir.

Like Willie Nelson has become kind of a good-luck piece and singer partial to the University of Texas Longhorns, Hank Thompson at one time was the same for OU. In fact he used to visit in the OU dressing rooms with the team back when Big Spring's head coach Bob Burris was an OU star.

Thompson remembers him well and was looking forward to renewing his acquaintance Saturday afternoon. "How did that Okie get out here?" he asked.

Actually, Thompson attended UT, SMU and even Princeton. He's not just a country western singer, he's also considered one of the best businessmen in the music business. You don't make 30 million records without a little business sense to accompany your talent.

But Hank has something else. He has the ability to make each person he talks to believe that they are special. As he sings songs such as "A Six Pack To Go" and does instrumental numbers such as "The Peach Blossom Special," people listen and applaud.

But when Hank Thompson talks to you, he "swings wide his gate of love for people" and for a minute, you're his friend.

Penalizing Non-Pollution

The City of Big Spring faces prospect of having to spend a quarter of a million dollars or more to prevent pollution that is not occurring.

In short, the Texas Water Quality Board has set certain standards for discharge of water into streams, and these standards have the blessing of the Environmental Protection Agency. When the city receives raw water from area lakes, and notably from Lake Thomas, the suspended solids considerably exceed the state standards due to the nature of the watershed and the reservoir.

The city then treats the water to coagulate the suspended solids and then flows the water through filter beds, chlorinates, and stores it in the clearwell. Regularly, for efficient operation, the filters must be backwashed, else they would become clogged and lose their efficiency.

The backwash water naturally dislodges part of the trapped suspended solids, which happen to be mostly salt particles. At any rate, when the backwash water flows into Big Spring Creek, a relatively short distance away, the suspended solids are less than that of the raw water which came from the Colorado River.

Most of the time the discharged water disappears into the creek bed gravel and is filtered out before or if it reaches Beals Creek, a mile downstream. But Beals Creek has a serious problem not associated with suspended solids. Because it catches the overflow and underflow of natural (and highly mineralized) lakes west of Big Spring, the chloride (salt) content gets up to around 10,000 ppm on occasion.

The water the city receives at its plant comes principally from Lake Spence, which has a chloride level of about 450 ppm, reduced considerably when cut with Lake Thomas water. Thus the backwash water entering Beals Creek is vastly better quality than the creek's natural quality, and therefore substantially upgrades the quality of water which will go on downstream, eventually to Lake Spence, the city's prime source of supply. Unless the TWQCB can show some overriding reason why the backwash water would be contributing to pollution of the stream (when actually, the opposite is true), we can see no logic in requiring the city to expend a quarter of a million dollars simply because there is an arbitrary suspended solids level entered in a book of regulations.

So far the TWQCB's stand seems to boil down to this: "We know it doesn't make sense, but that's the law." And that reminds one of the Dickens' character who retorted: "If that is the law, Sir, then the law is an ass."

Vote Of Confidence

The 2-1 margin of the bond issue for the physical education and coliseum building at Howard College is a heartening expression of community spirit. Always capital improvements are regarded with considerable reserve, even when rates are not disturbed, but when a rate increase is involved, maximum opposition can be anticipated. Therefore, it must be concluded that there is considerable public support for the new plant. We take this as an expression of confidence and faith on the part of a sizeable segment of our community, we hope that this will give us a new thrust in tackling other needs and opportunities for town and county. The people are of a mind to push ahead.

My Answer

Billy Graham

Due to several reasons lately, I decided I was about to depart from this world. Obviously, I got to thinking about all the arrangements. In that connection, a statement of Jesus puzzled me. He said, "Let the dead bury the dead." Please locate this and give an explanation.

Anon. The reference you have in mind is Matthew 8:22 or Luke 9:60. They both reflect the incident where Jesus met a scribe who vouchsafed his loyalty to follow the Lord anyway.

Whereupon another disciple said he had first to go bury his father. Of all filial duties, this would have been the most binding. Together with all the ceremonial observances, the whole procedure would have taken many days.

Jesus meant by His remark that the spiritually dead could handle matters of death. After all, they were always involved in dead joys and dead hopes anyway. He further meant that His service was a priority. It admitted of no postponement — however sacred the conflicting duty.

The first duty of the spiritually awakened soul is to follow Christ. Everything must be subordinated to that. I commend you for making

REMEMBERING...

By BILL D. BROOKS

FUNERAL HOME FANS

Fans were as much a part of church meetings, town hall meetings and other types of get-togethers as people were. Commonly called the "funeral home fan", they were simple in design, construction, and purpose. They were made of heavy cardboard stapled or glued to a thin wooden handle and were beautifully decorated with scenes of mountains, forests or peaceful rivers. The fans were distributed, primarily as advertising items, by funeral homes and other types of businesses. Quantities of the fans were donated to the various churches and meeting places while many were passed out to individuals for use in homes.

Advertisement slogans, business names and sometimes songs, poems or scripture verses were printed on the fans. One would rarely see or use a funeral home fan today because of our air conditioned public buildings and homes but they were very much a part of life only a few years ago.

I remember them most at church. Several would be scattered among the congregation, in pews and song book racks for use by the worshippers. Some would bring theirs from home. On hot summer days heat would build up in the building and, even with all the windows and doors opened wide, there would not be a breath of air moving. Out would come the fans and fanning would start.

Ima Jean was a remarkable fanner. She had six small children and somehow she was able to fan them all with only one fan. Kids would be draped over her shoulders and the baby would be sleeping in her lap. Others would be close by. She could fan for hours without stopping.

Old Miss Dermagill was the one to watch, though. She would fan in short strokes scarcely see the fan. After the point was made, the fanning and flutter would gradually slow down to a stop, her gaze never taken from the pulpit.

Snoozy old Mrs. Fluency upset the entire community with her fan once. Seems she had a son overseas in the service who sent her a genuine folding fan from Japan. It was obvious no one in our part of the country had ever seen one because when she took it out of her purse and unfolded it in plain view of everyone (though she pretended not to notice) all eyes turned her way. As a youngster, I was particularly impressed, never having seen anything to compare with its beauty. But many people condemned her for her action, like she had committed some new kind of sin, like she had slighted them in some way. "Looks like a simple funeral home fan's not good for her, did ja see that gaudy thing?"

"Yea, didn't even have any advertizin on it, musta cost a fortune." It wasn't long until there were at least thirty or forty fold-up fans in the congregation, and not long after that the funeral home fans disappeared altogether.

about an inch long with the fan right at her nose. Her mouth, tightly closed, worked slightly when she fanned and her eyelids fluttered with each stroke. The fanning and eyelid movement would start out slowly and build rhythm as it went. She never took her eyes off the preacher and if he made a particularly interesting point, the fanning and flutter would reach such an intensity that you could

Inflation Not Dead, Only Sleeps

NEW YORK (AP) — The recession which caused another drop in industrial production last month has also cut the rate of inflation in half from last year's levels.

While some economists read the government figures as further indications the recession has bottomed out, others fretted about corporations' reductions in capital expenditures, which could lead to shortages and more inflation if a fast, powerful recovery develops.

The Labor Department reported Friday that consumer prices rose .4 per cent in May, bringing the 12-month rise to 9.5 per cent, the first time since January, 1974 it was below the double-digit pace.

James L. Pate, assistant commerce secretary, said inflation is now running about 6 per cent or half of the 12 per cent posted in 1974. Pate said inflation could recede to a 5 per cent level by year-end.

Earlier in the week the government reported a 7 per cent rise in personal income during May, the sixth consecutive monthly increase but the biggest since September.

Housing showed signs of a pickup after a long winter.

WEEK'S BUSINESS

- Inflation cut to half 1974 rate, but still 6 pct.
- Recession bottomed out? Some indicators still sinking
- Housing starts up sharply, but lowest in 28 years
- ATT earnings up for quarter, but below 1974 rate
- Composite market ticker opens, stocks make rally

Starts during May jumped 14 per cent to a 1.13 million seasonally-adjusted rate. But they remained at a 28-year low and 23 per cent below the pace of May 1974.

Government figures show that industrial output lags behind other indicators of recovery, however. For the eighth straight month, production at plants and factories was down, off 3 per cent in May.

President Ford, whose aides indicated he might defer or cancel another dollar tariff on imported oil, lashed out at the House of Representatives' energy package, which was sent to the Senate Friday.

In corporate news,

American Telephone and Telegraph Co. said its earnings for the quarter ended May 31 were up from the first quarter but down from the record profit posted in the May 1974 quarter.

And Gulf Oil Corp. and Rockwell International disclosed they were talking about joint ventures, which might include merger. Rockwell said it was looking for capital.

On Wall Street the much-delayed composite stock ticker got underway, providing details of transactions made on seven different markets. Stock prices, helped by the better economic news, surged forward in late week trading.

PLO Terrorism

Marquis Childs

KAFR YUVAL, Israel — The shots that rang out shortly after dawn in this village near the Lebanese border were heard in every capital of the world. That was one goal of the Palestinian terrorists who were killed as they were flushed out of the house they had invaded.

THE SIMPLE PEOPLE of this cooperative village, mostly Jews from India, were pawns in a power game with stakes greater even than the balance of war or peace in the cockpit of the Middle East.

Yaakov Mordechai, a bus driver, 24 years old, was killed on his doorstep as he joined in the assault by soldiers to free his family. His brother-in-law, Nehemia Yosef-Hai, a 19-year-old soldier home on leave, was killed in the house as he sought to repel the terrorists. It seemed to make a mockery of the interminable talk of borders, concessions and agreements solemnly signed.

MINISTER OF DEFENSE Shimon Peres came here at once to direct the retaliatory bombing of the Lebanese village of Shuba just across the border. In the Israeli view, Shuba is little more than a command post for the Palestinian guerrillas.

From Beirut after the bombing came an announcement of casualties among women and children. That is the dreary pattern repeated time and again in this game that involves the vulnerable staked out so close to a hostile border.

THE ATTACK at Kafr Yuval took place while Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin was still in Washington trying to work out with President Ford and Secretary Kissinger a new approach preparation for your survivors, but get preoccupied with the work of Christ. All else will fall in line.

PLO Terrorism

to a compromise settlement with Egypt.

To spoil the chances for such a settlement is one of the objectives of the Palestinian Liberation Organization headed by Yasser Arafat. Each time the terrorists succeed in penetrating elaborate Israeli defenses they send a signal to the world that their drive to expel the Jews and retake what they claim as their homeland cannot be discounted.

THE SECOND CONSEQUENCE is the impact on tourism which plays an important part in the Israeli economy. Since the Yom Kippur war of October, 1973, tourism has fallen off sharply. This is important, alone for the foreign currency it earns, but to give the visitor proof that Israel is a showcase of progress and prosperity.

Returning from his recent tour of America, Mayor Teddy Kollek observed that while Cleveland had had 384 murders in 1974, Jerusalem had three, yet people seemed afraid to visit his city.

The day before the attack on Kafr Yuval we were in Kiryat Shmona three miles away. In April, 1974, one of the most savage atrocities occurred there when terrorists penetrated first an elementary school and an apartment house with 18 dead.

NO ONE IN ISRAEL seems to have a clue as to how to stop these suicide squads from perpetrating new atrocities. At night in the barren rocky hills it is almost impossible to detect the infiltrations.

In Beirut a shaky government, torn by virtual civil war, has little or no power to check the Palestinians.

She's Acrobatic At 73

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can you tell me about my cholesterol?

I am 72 years old, weigh 107 pounds, the same weight I had when I was 20. I'm so limber I can still put my feet in back of my neck. I don't eat fat. I cut every trace of it from meats and I don't use butter or eat ice cream or chocolate. I stick to low-fat milk.

But my cholesterol is 320. When I take my medicine, the cholesterol goes down to 260 or so. What am I doing wrong? — Mrs. S. R.

If you are so healthy and spry as you seem to be at 72, you have obviously been doing a lot that is right. And there is nothing wrong with your cholesterol limiting program.

The system manufactures cholesterol, and yours is apparently extra efficient in this regard. For a fuller discussion of this aspect of cholesterol, you might want to read my booklet on the subject, "Control Your Cholesterol Sensibly." For a copy, send 25 cents to me in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope. It attempts to make some sense of a subject about which much nonsense continually goes the rounds.

You are avoiding gross fats (those are the kind you are paring from your meat) and this is important. However, a person of 72, weighing 107 pounds and as agile as you seem to be, shouldn't have to be overly concerned about cholesterol.

You mention only one high reading. Are others taken when you are not on your medication? Incidentally, the drug you are taking acts by inhibiting the rate of cholesterol production in your liver.

Cholesterol readings can vary quite a bit depending on the test used and when it is given.

Continue doing what you are doing, and hopefully, you will be able to touch the back of your neck with your feet for years to come.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Could you write something on neuritis? Are neuritis and gout related? — Mrs. L. S.

Neuritis is an irritation or inflammation of a nerve trunk or nerve root. There are numerous causes — virus infection, poisoning (lead and arsenic), and metabolic disturbances. Included in the latter category are diabetes, and yes, gout.

A physical injury can be a cause if there is a severing of a nerve or if pressure is placed on a nerve. A toxic factor in neuritis can be alcohol.

In neuritis, a single nerve trunk can be involved, as in shingles. Or several nerves can become involved, especially in the toxic type. This is called polyneuritis.

Here's the way gout enters the picture: the high blood ureic acid level of gout can cause neuritis, especially if a sciatic nerve is involved. This is one of the largest and most extensive nerves in the body, extending from the base of the spine, down the thigh, and branching out through the leg and foot.

Troubled with gout? To learn of new treatment for this painful disease, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 3999, Elgin, Illinois, 60120, for a copy of his booklet, "Gout — The Modern Way to Stop It." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Never, Never . . .

Around The Rim

Walt Finley

The question of the day is from Frank Gonzales, alias "Coahoma Kid":

"Did you hear about the postman who took his girl friend to a motel and registered as Mr. and Mrs. Occupant?"

*** FRED RUSSELL of the Nashville Banner passes on the three most important things he has learned in his long career:

1. Never play poker with a man named Ace.
2. Never eat at a place called Mom's.
3. Never invest in anything that eats or needs painting. Didn't he overlook "Don't take any wooden nickels"?

*** Careful Carol Avery, Herald word chaser and umpire, says:

Some people who claim to have a sixth sense seem to be lacking the other five.

*** IF ALL THE dumb things a human being does in his life were recorded and he was forced to read them, they'd be devastating. Strung out, most of them are sort of funny, in retrospect. Thank God for our senses of humor.

Little Nuclear War

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — The good news from the Pentagon this week is that the Air Force has just announced it will start training its crew to fight a "limited nuclear war" in case the United States should want to exercise that option.

WHILE THIS is an encouraging sign, no one in Washington is quite sure what a limited nuclear war is and unfortunately neither is anyone in Moscow.

"Isn't a limited nuclear war like being a little bit pregnant?" I asked a source high in government circles. "Certainly not. At the moment small nuclear wars have been considered unthinkable. But we hope that attitude will change, and countries will start thinking about them instead of large wars that could wipe out a continent."

"EVERYONE IS for small nuclear wars," I said, "as opposed to large ones. But how do you persuade the other side that you're not engaging in a large one? How will we know if we're attacked with nuclear weapons that the Soviets or even the French have no intention of destroying the entire country?"

"IT WON'T BE easy," the source said. "But if we announce a nuclear strategy which is more flexible, then the Soviets will adjust their strategy accordingly. For example, suppose the Russians launched an attack on Mobile, Ala.; we would retaliate by hitting Minsk. If they hit White Plains, N.Y., we would drop nuclear weapons on Kiev. That would be considered a limited nuclear war. As long as there weren't attacks on our major cities, both sides could live with it."

Some IRS Men Shady

WASHINGTON (AP) — Internal Revenue Service agents in two investigations "were major participants in illegal acts," an internal IRS audit report says.

"In one project the agent directly participated in extortion, sale of stolen property and fraudulent business schemes," said one of four IRS reports released Friday by a House Government Operations subcommittee.

In another investigation, an undercover agent "conducted a gambling and illegal liquor sales operation that ultimately resulted in his arrest and prosecution."

Another report revealed twelve cases involving unauthorized electronic surveillance. While IRS's intelligence division was supposed to have only 28 induction coils for use in recording telephone conversations, an inspection uncovered 53, the report said.

IRS Commissioner William C. Alexander said the review resulted in disciplining of some IRS agents and suspension of the agency's intelligence gathering system pending adoption of new guidelines. He did not specify the disciplinary measures or how many agents were disciplined.

Alexander stressed that the abuses involved only a "tiny" portion of IRS's 80,000 employees. He said his agency "is basically doing a difficult job well."

However, Chairman Benjamin S. Rosenthal, D-N.Y., told him, "I don't think that you folks are sensitive to the problem that we perceive to be the invasion of civil rights." Otherwise, you wouldn't have let these things go on.

Rep. Robert F. Drinan, D-Mass., said IRS should eliminate all its undercover agents doing all this spooky spy stuff.

IRS said that it conducted 20 undercover projects between July 1972 and March 1975 at a cost of $283,264.

CITY MANAGER, BROWN

Will Plead Their Case Before Texas Water Board

The City of Big Spring is returning the waste water from its filtration plant to a Colorado River tributary at a better level of quality than when it was received.

This is the basis of the contention that the city should be exempt from the state standards on which the city's disposal permit is granted. Harry Nagel, city manager, and Willis V. Brown, director of utilities, will plead their case one more time before the Texas Water Quality Control Board Tuesday.

The board's hearing commission took sympathetic note of the plea for exception, saying "that although an apparent hardship may be worked upon the City of Big Spring in its maintenance of (state) standards, such permit conforms to the requirements being imposed upon all permittees for operations comparable to (these)."

Nagel and Brown estimated it will cost from $250,000 to $300,000 to construct holding ponds and lines for water used to backwash filters at the city's plant on Virginia Street. Presently the water is discharged a short distance south into Big Spring Creek, which connects a mile northeast with Beal's Creek, a tributary of the Colorado River. The average volume is 125,000 gallons a day.

The state has a requirement for 20 parts per million suspended solids. The raw water, taken from the Colorado River in Lake Thomas is many times this, and the city discharges into the creek at considerably less ppm suspended solids than it receives in the water.

Nagel pointed out that rarely does the flow ever reach Beals Creek, disappearing in the creek bed gravel. When it does get to Beals Creek, it substantially upgrades the quality of its water which sometimes has up to 10,000 ppm chlorides.

The TWQCB suggested holding ponds might save the city water of an estimated value of $500 per year. Nagel considered this a poor trade for $250,000.

Newspaper Decision

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — A federal judge has struck down an unconstitutional two Florida laws forbidding publication of criticism of a candidate on election day and ordering newspapers to make political advertising available at the lowest rates.

U.S. District Judge Norman C. Roettger Jr. handed down the ruling Thursday in a suit by Gore Newspapers Co., publishers of the Fort Lauderdale News and Sun Sentinel.

Roettger's decision overturned a section of a 1973 state campaign financing law and invalidated a 64-year-old Florida law prohibiting distribution of political criticism on election day.

"Both statutes are unconstitutional on their face as violating the First Amendment to the Constitution," Roettger said.

Briscoe Signs Bill Creating Texas' First Utilities Panel

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe signed Saturday a proposal creating Texas' first state public utilities commission and ended mounting suspense by also signing into law a bill regulating strip mining of coal, lignite and uranium.

Aides prepared veto messages on a few proposals, including some of the state money appropriated by the recent legislature in a $12.1 billion two-year state budget.

The governor's statement on strip mining was released after Sen. Max Sherman, D-Amarillo, told him in a private meeting that it would be "criminal" to exclude uranium mines from the bill.

Briscoe had wavered for days over the effect of the measure—which goes into effect Jan. 1—on the economy of Karnes County if uranium mines there might be shut down.

Sherman said, however, Briscoe appeared to have already made up his mind to sign the bill before their visit and had even indicated that the legislature should cover regulating other types of strip—or surface—mining.

Briscoe said in a public signing ceremony that the bill was flexible enough to "allow us to adequately balance the needs of our environment with the development of our natural resources."

He noted that "large deposits of bituminous coal extend from McCulloch County north through Clay and Montague Counties. Texas lignite deposits extend from our border with Mexico on the south through Bowie and Sabine Counties on the east. Uranium deposits are scattered throughout Texas."

"Obviously," Briscoe said, "when consideration is given to the millions of acres of land involved, and recognizing the necessity of intelligent land reclamation after mining, such legislation is necessary."

The bill requires each surface mine to obtain a permit from the Texas Railroad Commission, and the operator would have to restore the land to the same or a "substantially beneficial" condition.

Briscoe has until midnight Sunday to sign or veto bills, but he had said he wanted to finish Saturday.

His signature on numerous proposals capped three days of furious work in which more than 400 measures were signed.

The utilities bill sets up a three-member commission, appointed by the governor, to regulate all intrastate telephone rates and service and also electric, water and sewer utilities in unincorporated areas.

After two years, cities could turn over their regulation of electric, water and sewer utilities to the commission.

Cities would continue to regulate natural gas utilities, except in unincorporated areas where the

Sen. Mauzy On Probation

DALLAS (AP) — State Sen. Oscar Mauzy, D-Dallas, has been placed on one year probation and fined $150 after pleading no contest here to drunk driving charges.

Mauzy was scheduled to appear in court Monday on the charges but entered a plea of no contest last Wednesday and was sentenced.

Mauzy said he had to be in Austin Monday for a committee hearing so he appeared in court ahead of schedule. He would not comment on the case although court records showed its disposition.

Texas Railroad Commission would retain jurisdiction. "The bill that comes to me today is a good bill... and will provide an effective utilities commission," Briscoe said in ceremonies in his reception room.

Briscoe was flanked by Rep. John Wilson, D-La Grange; and Sens. Ron Clower, D-Garland; W.T. Moore, D-Bryan; and Chet Brooks, D-Pasadena, all members of the House-Senate conference committee that worked out the compromise measure.

"Where's John Hannah?" quipped Brooks in reference to the Common Cause lobbyist who insisted the utilities bill would not provide for "meaningful regulation."

Also signed by the governor were bills to require insurance companies to print health and accident policies in plain, easily understood English, and to transfer all regulating and licensing of child care facilities from the state health department to the state welfare department.

The child care bill, Briscoe said, would place "other states on notice that we will no longer tolerate the dumping of children within our borders for the sole purpose of providing monetary savings for those states."

The insurance bill, the governor said, would assure Texans that "when we buy health and accident insurance policies, those policies can be easily read, easily understood; that they say what they mean and mean what they say."

30 OFFICERS RAID Keeping Dawson County 'Dry'

LAMESA — In the county that voted dry twice last year, 30 law officials combined Friday night in raids at 14 locations in an attempt to keep it dry.

Charges of sale of alcoholic beverage in a dry area were lodged against Jimmy Lee Hawkins, Guadalupe Valla, Hubert Collins, Susie Salinas, two counts; Felipe Hipolito, two counts; Korlene Boggus, W.L. Harris, Debra Butler, four counts; Joe Lee Butler, four counts; Arturo Hernandez, Earl Scott, Betty Deary, Lupe Hilburn and Odell Johnson Sr.

Charges of possession were also filed against Hawkins, Guadalupe Valla Jr., Miss Deary, Johnson, Mrs. Butler, Mathis Boggus, Felix Hipolito, Hilburn and Scott.

Confiscated in the sudden raids, conducted by the Lamesa police, the Dawson County Sheriff's Office, the highway patrol and the state board of liquor control was a large amount of beer and wine.

Dan Hutchinson, state liquor control agent from Big Spring, said there were 156 quarts of beer, 840 cans of beer, 36 quarts of wine, 100½ pints of liquor and eight one-half gallons of assorted alcohol.

He expressed appreciation to all law officials in Dawson County who helped with the three-hour raid from 7-10 p.m. Friday.

Ezzell Will Be Speaker

Mike Ezzell, freshman state representative from Snyder, will be the principal speaker at Rotary Club Ladies Night program, which starts at 7 p.m., Tuesday at the Big Spring Country Club.

New officers of the club include Frank Hardesty, president; Jimmy Anderson, vice-president; Riley Roster, secretary; Kenneth Boothe, treasurer; and Ray Williams, Ray Tatum, Edsel McCrea and Ralph Brooks, directors.

Outgoing officers include Jimmy Taylor, president; Hardesty, vice-president; Foster, secretary; Charles Biel, treasurer; and Jimmy Anderson, Boothe, Ron McNeil and W. S. (Dub) Pearson, directors.

Ralph McLaughlin of Big Spring, district governor of Dist. 573, will be present and take part in swearing-in ceremonies.

The Nuts and Bolts, a singing group representing the First United Methodist Church, will provide entertainment. Director of the group is Charles Parham, minister of music at the church.

The vocal group is attired in patriotic red, white and blue colors.

Ezzell, a former school teacher, helped shape much of the legislation passed by the last Texas legislature.

Dead Prisoner

GREENVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Jailers said prisoner William A. Robertson, 61, was found dead in his cell at the Hunt County Jail here Saturday.

There was no ready indication as to the cause of death.

An autopsy was ordered.

Who Won Senate Election In N. H.?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democrats tried to force a showdown by Tuesday as debate over last November's disputed New Hampshire Senate election dragged through an unusual Saturday session.

The debate ended abruptly in early afternoon because of the lack of a quorum, in part due to Republican absenteeism and solid Democratic opposition to GOP moves to broaden the election inquiry.

When Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield finally moved that the session adjourn until Monday, only 16 of the 38 Republicans and 33 of the 61 Democrats were present. Fifty of the 99 Senators must be on hand to do business.

"I don't see any further purpose to be gained at this time by further consideration of this matter," Sen. Lowell P. Weicker, R-Conn., told reporters.

The only substantive action in the session was the defeat of two more Republican efforts to broaden the probe.

Earlier in the day Assistant Democratic Leader Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia filed a cloture petition that will enable the Senate to vote Tuesday on whether to limit debate and force action on the question.

At stake is whether Republican Louis C. Wyman or Democrat John A. Durkin was the winner of the election.

Some Republican help may be needed to obtain the 60 votes needed to limit debate, and both Democratic leaders said they doubted any GOP senators will back the move.

But there were indications that sufficient GOP support to limit debate might be available, if not on the first cloture attempt, then on a second effort likely later in the week.

One Republican senator, asking not to be quoted by name, said several GOP colleagues favor cloture on the grounds that a vote to limit debate is a vote "for representation, one way or another."

Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., said virtually all of the 61 Democrats might back cloture and "we have a good crack at it, maybe on the first try." Sen. Lowell P. Weicker, R-Conn., termed the move "a flexing of muscles by the majority."

Meanwhile, the Senate rejected, 41 to 18, another Republican effort to broaden the review of the race. It would have permitted a recount in any precinct where the total for either candidate was changed after the original election night tally.

Byrd had also sought to set time limits for debate with a motion calling for a final vote by 6 p.m. next Friday, but Republicans refused to agree and Chairman Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., of the Rules Committee, moved to table and thus kill the motion.

Democrats charged that Republicans were filibustering, but Sen. James A. McClure, R-Idaho, disagreed, saying "we just have to protect our rights."

Republicans, outnumbered 61 to 38 in the Senate, have contended that extended debate will educate the country on what they contend is an attempt by Democrats to steal the election for Durkin.

Hill Releases Odessa College Letter Ruling

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Odessa College should not release a letter from the American Association of University Professors about a professor's employment unless the professor says the college may do so, says Atty. Gen. John Hill.

Hill's opinion was requested by college President Philip Speegle and the attorney general responded with his 93rd decision on the 1973 Open Records Act.

Hill said Speegle had asked whether the letter was exempted from the law's disclosure provisions, and Hill said that it was, in order to protect the individual's privacy.

"The information requested is exempted from required public disclosure under section 3(a)(2) of the act," Hill said, "and should not be disclosed unless the employe to whom it related has waived his privacy right to maintain its confidentiality."

A section on litigation does not apply to the Odessa situation, Hill said.

He said the letter had been "properly considered at a closed meeting of the college board of trustees."

Theft Of Drugs Net Two Local Men Pen Terms

STANTON — Two Big Spring men pleaded guilty in 118th District Court here Friday to burglary and theft of drugs.

Lyndell Carson Fletcher, 21, 1109 E. 13th St., and John Wesley Staggs, 21, 603-B Douglas St., were assessed two, concurrent five-year prison terms.

These were their first felony convictions, District Attorney Robert H. (Bob) Moore III said.

District Judge Ralph W. Caton held court in the front end of the temporary Martin County Courthouse.

The Stanton Walgreen Agency Drugstore was burglarized on May 29, and the two defendants were arrested May 29. Some of the drugs, which included amphetamines and barbiturates, were recovered.

Lake Whitney Plan Outlined

WHITNEY, Tex. (AP) — The Fort Worth district of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has given landowners around Lake Whitney until July 10 to comment on proposed new regulations designed to remove and prohibit run-down and delapidated structures at the lake.

The Corps has proposed a lakeshore management plan which would classify certain areas as "limited development areas" where boathouses and other facilities for storing boats would be allowed.

House boats, barges and other larger boats would both be permitted.

Men at the lumber yard and at the farmer's elevator jumped in their cars and the chase began.

One car overheated during the 100-m.p.h. chase on country roads, one of the men said. Another car ran out of gas. But one of the men pinpointed their location to police on a citizens band

BAD DAY FOR BANDITS Robbers Stir Hornet's Nest Of Retribution

GARDEN CITY, Iowa (AP) — It was clearly the wrong day to hit the town's only bank.

Nine state troopers were working speed checks outside town — two of them in airplanes. As they picked up the chase, four more airplanes were called in.

But one resident of the town of 285 population commented: "Any day would be a bad day to try a robbery in Garden City. Any stranger in town sticks out like a sore thumb."

It began Thursday when a person in a nurse's uniform showed up at the bank.

Just about every place in Garden City is close to the bank and at least 20 people said they became curious when three strangers, including the nurse tried the bank's doors that morning.

Folks here know when the bank opens so they kept the trio under watch. The bank opened; the nurse went in.

"As soon as he talked I knew he wasn't a woman," said bank worker Lucy Fisher. The nurse pulled a gun, grabbed $2,000 and fled.

The crew went out: "The bank's been robbed!"

Men at the lumber yard and at the farmer's elevator jumped in their cars and the chase began.

One car overheated during the 100-m.p.h. chase on country roads, one of the men said. Another car ran out of gas. But one of the men pinpointed their location to police on a citizens band radio. By this time the state patrol was in on the chase with cars and planes.

And everybody else closed in when the robbers took the wrong turn. Didn't they see the dead-end sign? They were asked. "Not until it was too late," said one.

The $2,000 loot was recovered. Charged with entering a bank with intent to rob were Thomas Overbeck, 22; Joseph Jackson, 21; and Timothy Chisholm, 20, all of Manly, Iowa.

The three were being held Friday in lieu of $75,000 bond each.

Welfare Reform Need Stressed By Burleson

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Congressman Omar Burleson (D-Texas), author of a comprehensive welfare reform measure introduced in the House of Representatives on March 18, described the need for welfare reform legislation in this session of Congress as "more urgent than ever" in light of recent statistics released by HEW on growth in the AFDC program nationally.

"HEW cites an AFDC caseload of 11,239,611 — the highest in history, he noted. "This translates into the fact that one out of every eight children in this country is on welfare — when it was one out of 20 just eight years ago. In some of the nation's largest metropolitan centers, the ratio has reached an incredible one in three."

Congressman Burleson joined with 74 co-sponsors on a bill designed to save $1.7 billion in tax funds by closing loopholes and curbing abuses, enabling additional resources to be redirected to the truly needy. The provisions of the legislation include a gross income limit on those who may qualify for welfare, photo-identification and other fraud control measures, requirements on more effective use of recipient resources, more stringent family support requirements, and tightened work registration and participation rules.

Armadillos May Help With Leprosy Vaccine

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The tank-like armadillo, a tiny, scaly mammal native to the southwestern United States, has given researchers new hope of developing a vaccine against leprosy. A dozen armadillos are being infested with leprosy bacillae in laboratory experiments and researchers say the bacillae are growing extremely well in armadillo bodies.

"They have low body temperatures," said Dr. Charles Shepherd of the national Center for Disease Control. "The leprosy bacillae grow in humid conditions where the tissue is cooler."

Shepherd was credited with being the first to reproduce the disease under laboratory conditions 20 years ago when he grew bacillus in the footpads of a mouse.

Mice had been the only animals used in the research until armadillos were experimented with several years ago. However, efforts at developing a vaccine were abandoned because of the long incubation period of the mycobacterium leprae, the leprosy bacillae, Shepherd said, but were resumed last fall by the World Health Organization.

"We're starting up again primarily because of the large number of bacillae that are becoming available because of the armadillos," Shepherd said Friday. "Their tissues have more bacillae, many more, than mice or humans."

Oil Landmen Honor Jastrow

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — K. M. Jastrow, a Midland, Tex. civic leader, was honored Friday by the American Association of Petroleum Landmen meeting here in convention.

Jastrow, 52, received an award for contributions to his community. He is a former president of the Chamber of Commerce and is credited with assembling a slide show used in schools to tell the nation's energy story.

He also is a past president of the United Fund drive and co-chairman of a fund raising campaign for the Midland Memorial Hospital.

Along with his duties as the principal staff assistant to the commander, Col. Tokar will also serve as the wing inspector (IG).

As the IG, he hears complaints and grievances from individuals and also holds a personal conference period on the third Thursday of each month.

The colonel had another tour of duty as an inspector, but it was of a different nature. He was assigned to the Operations and Training Branch of the Inspector General Office at Air Training Command (ATC) headquarters, where he was a member of the ATC IG team.

It is the second tour at Webb for Col. Tokar. Nineteen years ago he went through pilot training here and his daughter became a native when she was born in the base hospital.

"There's been considerable change in Big Spring and on the base since that time," he noted. "We flew the propeller-driven T-

Still Time To Enroll In Fun Clubs

Attendance at the Citywide Summer Recreation program last week ran about 30 per cent ahead of the comparable period last week.

"There's still time for parents to enroll their elementary age children in the Summer Fun Clubs at Comanche Trail Park and the Lakeview YMCA building," said Joe Pickle, chairman. "Just bring the children to the pavilion opposite the Totem Pole in the park, or to the Lakeview Y."

The only charge for the daily program, which goes through July 30, is $1 registration fee (which can be waived for those unable to pay) thanks to the support of the City of Big Spring and the Big Spring schools.

Enrollment in the junior high and high school basketball program is lagging, and this week will determine if it should be continued. About 50 per cent more participation is needed, said the chairman, and young people are urged to be at the Runnels gym from 7-9 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday.

Concessions Bids Invited

Individuals, organizations, business firms interested in food and confection concessions at the Howard County Fair are invited to submit proposals. The specifications used last year will be the basis of bids, said J. Arnold Marshall, president. Forms may be had from him at H. W. Smith Transport Company. Dates for the Fair are Sept. 15-20. Concessions will cover operations in at least two buildings, possibly other locations.

Trustees Will Check Coliseum Bond Votes

Trustees of Howard College will canvass returns of the $1,500,000 PE-coliseum bond vote last Thursday when they meet Tuesday noon at the Student Union Building.

Actual issuance of the bonds is due to come at a special meeting which may be called for July 10. Sales of the bonds could follow that date within a couple or three weeks.

"We are deeply grateful for the strong support given the bonds and the increasing of our tax rate limit from 60 to a new level of 70 cents," said Dr. Charles Hays, president. "So many helped with this that it is impossible to enumerate them, but for everyone who supported and voted for the bonds and rate, we are thankful. To those who did not, we respect their views and give them assurance that we will regard the approval of both issues as a trust to be handled with utmost care to produce the utmost good for all of Howard County. For those who had to wait, to vote, I apologize. I underestimated the turnout."

Rauscher-Pierce Co. of San Antonio and Carter Johnston, fiscal agents of the college who are preparing the bonds, indicated that a sale will be sought as soon as possible because of the present trend of the market. Projections were based on 6 1/2 per cent, but Johnston was hopeful this figure could be lowered.

Texas Drilling

DALLAS (AP) — Oil and gas well drilling in Texas yielded 1,348 oil wells, 485 gas wells and 933 dry holes during the first quarter of 1975, Sherman Hunt, president of Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, said today.

Drilling activity in the first quarter increased 15.3 per cent over the same period in 1974, Hunt said.

THEY DID THE WORK — Members of the Boys Club of Big Spring, pictured above, devoted the time and the patience to painting the downtown planters in red, white and blue colors, thereby adding emphasis to the city's role in upcoming Bicentennial observances. ## Plains Cotton Output Lowest In 20 Years

It is now official. Total production and per acre yields of the 1974 cotton crop in the 25 counties represented by Plains Growers, Inc., were the lowest in over 20 years.

Texas Crop & Livestock Reporting Service figures given to PCG show total production from the area at 1,193,100 bales of 480 pounds net weight. Yield per harvested acre came to only 263.5 pounds.

The last time the Plains produced such a low volume was in 1950 when area output was only 850,480 bales. And 1974 marked the first time since the 200 pounds per acre yield of 1953 that the Plains had seen an average yield below 300 pounds.

Lubbock County, after being edged out two years in a row by Dawson County, swung back into the area's top producer spot, despite a drop from 310,000 bales in 1973 to 174,800 bales in 1974. Dawson County, where 315,000 bales were ginned the previous year, was almost completely "droughted out" in 1974 and plummeted to a meager 38,800 bales. Total area production in 1973 was a record 2,888,600 bales, and the per acre yield of 498 pounds was the second highest on record.

The record of some counties in the area is as follows:

County	Planted Acres	Harvested Acres	Pounds Yield Per Harv. Acre	480 Lbs. Net Wt. Bales

Americans. He can't go back there even if he wanted to and he says he doesn't want to. In 1974 he was testing the Republican waters on a 35-state speaking tour when his indictment and trial intruded.

"How does a man go about restructuring or rebuilding his life, especially his political life, after standing trial, even though acquitted?"

"I don't have to. I was practicing law before and I'm still practicing law at the same desk (in one of the biggest, richest law firms in the country).

"The greater restructuring comes in how I posture myself in my new party and how I am assimilated into that party. I haven't done it yet and maybe I never will. Maybe they don't want to absorb me."

"But as a matter of practical fact, is the cloud created by a criminal charge ever completely removed by acquittal?"

"Normally, I'm not sure it is but in my case I think it is. Most people think I shouldn't have been indicted in the first place."

"But, is it conceivable that a man once under such a cloud, however unfair, could have a real hope of running for national office?"

"Yes, if the presumption of innocence means anything in this country. Also, because my indictment was viewed as a political indictment, I don't think anybody believed it."

Big John Connally, who appears never to have been burdened by self-doubt, was further buoyed in his natural sense of confidence by "thousands" of letters and wires of support since his acquittal. He was particularly moved by the standing ovation he received in his first public appearance after the trial at the World Championship Tennis matches in Dallas. It was even more touching, he said, than any greeting he got after recovering from the fusillade that cut down John Kennedy.

More recently, Connally made a ceremonial appearance in the Texas Legislature with other state political heroes and received the longest, loudest applause. "He returned," in triumph to the Texas Capitol, a visit that had the earmarks of a national political coming-out party."

Connally denied he is running for anything, but suffers little pain at being widely disbelieved.

for a client. "I think the secret of it is to have a good personality and be able to meet the public without offending," Smith said.

Are persons usually cooperative when questioned by an investigator? "It all depends," Smith said. "Some of your criminal element are not going to give any information they don't have to. To be perfectly honest, you kind of have to play a con game with them sometimes."

"We don't by any means violate the law to gain information," Smith said of his firm.

He recommended demanding to see an investigator's license before granting an interview.

Since he was licensed in October, 1974, the board has suspended or revoked licenses of 150 investigators. Failure to report to the state every change in office personnel, unethical conduct and committing crimes are things which could lead to loss of license.

MURDER-RAPE

"A man's background has got to be pretty well near spotless to get a license," Smith explained. A felony conviction would prevent your being licensed, and a misdemeanor on your record could.

To be licensed by the Texas Board of Private Investigators and Security Agencies, you must have a minimum of three years in law enforcement. And you must have the recommendation of the sheriff and police chief, Smith said.

During Smith's two years as Stanton police chief, his department solved the murder-rape of a woman by her grandson. The man is serving a life sentence.

From 1969 until his appointment at Stanton in 1963, Smith was a Big Spring Police patrolman.

Pony Express Will Help 'Freedom Reign' In Area

By MARJ CARPENTER

The Pony Express lasted only 16 months in our nation's history, but left an image that has never been forgotten by those who love American history.

A national crisis made the Pony Express a necessity and in 1860, the United States government established the express to carry mail swiftly on horseback from St. Joseph, Mo., over the plains and mountains to the Pacific coast before railways or telegraph spanned the distance.

It was replaced by a telegraph wire, but not in the hearts of those who loved the Pony Express. People still maintain that it could beat the U.S. Mails with all their modern mail trucks, airmail and computer service.

In short distances, this might still possibly be true, since the mail is routed by regional centers. Nevertheless, the days the Pony Express are to be commemorated locally July 4 as part of the bicentennial celebration.

NOT THE SAME

The fleet horses that used to ride 10 to 15 miles will not be duplicated exactly. The Howard County and Dawson County riding groups will change the mail bag at quarter mile intervals. This is so that more riders can take part in the historic event.

The real Pony Express riders used to ride as many as three horses a day and travel at least 33 miles. They were small, similar in build to the modern day horse racing jockeys.

The riders who thunder across the area between Lamesa and Big Spring on the Fourth will be large and small, young and old, male and female. It is a commemorative event.

The fastest trip ever made by the Pony Express from Missouri to the coast was completed in seven days and 17 hours when Lincoln's first inaugural address was carried.

The regular schedule was 10 days, about 24 days faster than the schedule of Butterfield's Overland Stage line, then travelling on the southern route.

The trips were made in all kinds of weather and in the face of Indian dangers and PARTICIPANTS — Ready for the big Pony Express mail ride on July 4th are Geneva Roberts, Clide Roberts, Barry Watson, Joe Gamble, and Mack Gamble, president of the Howard County sheriff's posse.

OTHERS TO RIDE

Other hazards winning for the express riders a reputation that has never diminished. The riders will include two Martin County riders who will carry the commemorative letter through the mile of roadway that is in Martin County. Nina and Clarence Airhart will carry that section of the ride.

Other riding groups taking part include the Dawson County Sheriff's Posse, headed by H.D. Vaughn, The Pony Express Club led by Vic Cornett, the Howard County Sheriff's Posse headed by Mac Gamble and the Howard County Youth Horsemen led by Ross Bradford and Paul Gibbs.

No matter what the weather, the group will ride, leaving Dawson County at 8 a.m. The mail bag will end up in the Howard County Posse Arena three miles west of Big Spring on the Andrews Highway. Commemorative letters may be purchased by writing and sending $1 to either Mrs. Cecial Allred in Ackerly, Rt. 1, Box 124 or Mrs. J. H. Duke, 1423 Hilltop Road, Big Spring.

The letter includes a section outlining briefly the history of the area between

THE WEEK

From the standpoint of weather, we're satisfied that the past week has gone with the wind. And we do mean wind—accursed wind. It blew for 48 hours right out of the furnace of Mexico, and then with a shift in directions and with lesser temperatures, blew and blew. In the process it blew out a few thousand acres of young cotton.

Howard County Commissioners Court voted to revise the budget to provide for a 7 1/2 per cent increase in pay to county employees. The Permian Basin Council of governments was more expensive—it made its staff raise 10 per cent. These adjustments are easier to make when taxpayers foot the bill.

This year's rodeo appeared to strike a responsive chord with especially fine turnouts the first two nights of the show. There were more on hand at the Wednesday opening, but more net paid at the Thursday performance. Some of the top names among RCA cowboys were represented, but then area cowhands and GRA barrel racers muscled right in and took a fair share of the honors.

The City of Big Spring got a check for $83,312 after $4,163 in deducts from the State Comptroller's office for May. But this was distorted because all the first payments showed up in the month. If the city could do that well all year, it might solve some of its financial problems.

County commissioners settled the debate as to fuel costs for Trans Regional Airlines. They gave the carrier permission to put in its tanks and provide its own service.

Uncle Sam has devised a way to encourage postal clerks to be doubly observant about expired dates on food stamp approvals. Clerks personally have to pick up the tab when they let one of these get by, and some have up to the tune of $120. A few licks like that and maybe they may need the stamps.

Our disgraceful record of homicides continued last week when Robert Allen, 36, was shot fatally. Authorities were holding Judi Carol Cotton for questioning.

Another high honor has come to one of our people at Webb AFB. M. Sgt. Larry Pick was chosen as the Airman of the Year by the Texas chapter of Air Force Association. Besides this considerable recognition, Sgt. Pick is now entered in the national AFA contest.

When Frank Wharton didn't show up to man the console of the First Presbyterian Church early morning worship Sunday, Chaplain Lee Butler went to check on him. Frank, who brought happiness with his music and tranquility to so many troubled souls at the Big Spring State Hospital, had died in his sleep.

In response to an obscure law, which was aired in the state press, the City of Big Spring painted its name and the proper department on the side of certain city-owned vehicles. Except for possibly private detectives, it would be a good idea for all city-owned cars and for county-owned ones, too, or any public agency.

FROM THE NOTEBOOK

—Men on Ward 4-East of the VA Hospital sent a note recently to Sen. John Tower praising their treatment and noting "no hospital we have ever been admitted to has provided us with the care and attention we have received here." Area lawmakers didn't fare so well in Texas Monthly's ratings which listed Rep. Elmer Martin, Colorado City, Rep. Dave Stubbeman, Abilene, and Rep. Mike Ezzell, Snyder, among the "Furniture" for the past session, but then Texas Monthly has its own sophisticated criteria.

$318,000 Nursing Home Care Unit Construction

Thomas A. Linquist, acting director of the Small Business Administration office at Lubbock, announced the awarding of a contract for construction at the VA hospital here in the amount of $318,000.

Work on the job, which is the construction of a 40-bed nursing home care unit on the sixth floor of the hospital, has begun.

Linquist said an 8(a) contract, which has to do with a certain bracket of contractors, was awarded to Frank Solis, who operates Allied Steel Erectors of Abilene, was awarded by the VA Hospital here.

The sixth floor formerly housed the psychiatric ward at the VA hospital, until a central facility began handling patients for this area at the Waco VA Hospital.

The construction will include sprucing up the bare walls and facilities on the floor to give it a "home-like" atmosphere for the veterans.

The project will also reportedly include decking in the observation deck area on top of the hospital, so that patients can enjoy the view and get some sunshine all year around. The present wire screen facility prevents the use of the deck in cold weather.

The hospital had 26 nursing home care patients until recently when the facility was closed for the construction of the sixth floor facility.

CONSTRUCTION BEGINS — An Allied Steel Erector Co. crane, Abilene, kicked off construction on a $318,000 nursing home care unit on the sixth floor this week. The sixth floor is now vacant, but formerly housed the psychiatric ward.

Jay Dement

North Over South

HOUSTON (AP) — The North scored four runs in the seventh inning on three South errors, including two by shortstop Bill Bayliss, and a passed ball, to post a 6-0 victory Saturday in the second annual Texas Schoolboy All-Star Baseball game in the Astrodome.

Greg Goforth of Fort Worth Aledo scored the first run on a throwing error by catcher Daniel Farova of Refugio. Two more runs scored on Bayliss' errors, and a passed ball by Farova allowed the fourth run to come in.

The North scored two more runs in the eighth when Goforth walked and scored on a wild pitch and Craig Russell of Amarillo Palo Duro scored on a fielding error by the South's Dale McMullen of Houston St. Pious.

Dick Balthrop of South Grand Prairie pitched two innings and was credited with the victory. The loser was Thomas Kaspar of Taylor.

The annual game is sponsored by the Texas High School Baseball Coaches Association. Participants are restricted to players whose coaches are members of the association, which has a membership of 300.

Messersmith Wins Again

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Steve Yeager's sacrifice fly capped a two-run rally in the eighth inning and carried the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 4-3 victory over the San Diego Padres behind the three-hit pitching of Andy Messersmith Saturday night.

Rich Folkers, 2-4, took a 3-2 lead into the Dodger eighth but loaded the bases and forced in the tying run with a walk to Joe Ferguson. At this point, Danny Frisella came in to give up Yeager's sacrifice fly.

Bobby Tolan climaxed a three-run rally with a two-run homer in the fifth inning to help the Padres take a 3-2 lead.

Messersmith, 11-3, had a 2-0 no-hitter going until Mike Ivie opened the Padre fifth with a homer, his fourth of the baseball season.

CUTE CORNER FOR SEVER — West's Phillip Kent 20 Baylor running back turns the corner and picks seven yards in first period of All America Game in Lubbock Saturday night. Teammate, center, Geoff Reece of Washington State protects on the play.

WATSON COLLAPSES Magnificent 67 Fired By Beard

MEDINAH, Ill. (AP) — Frank Beard, once one of the game's great players but a pathetic, struggling figure in recent months, fired a magnificent 67 that lifted him from eight strokes off the pace to a three-shot lead in Saturday's third round of the U.S. Open Golf Championship.

The 36-year-old Beard, the 1969 leading money winner who had collected only $522 in five months of play this season, swept past suddenly-stricken front-runner Tom Watson with a 54-hole total of 210, three-under-par.

Watson, who shared the lead in the first round and held a three-stroke advantage with a record-matching 36 hole score of 135, collapsed to a 78 that left him at 213, even par.

Beard was the only player under par after three rounds over the 7,032-yard Medinah Country Club course, a tame and timid kitten of a layout for the first two day's play but a snarling tiger in the 90-degree heat and high humidity that marked Saturday's action.

It sent them all — all but the enigmatic Beard — stumbling in shocked dismay, head-shaking frustration, a bitter exasperation reeling back in the pack.

"It was just one of those days when you never get it going, never develop a swing," said Nicklaus. "The result . . . 75."

Nicklaus shook his head when asked about his chances to keep alive hope for the unachieved one-year sweep of all the world's major titles.

"I've got to get over this round before I start thinking about the next one," he said.

Lee Trevino also had a 75 for 216. Gary Player of South Africa shot 72-220. Tom Weiskopf and Johnny Miller each had fat 41s on their front nines. Miller finished with 76-223. Weiskopf salvaged a 74-220. Defending titleholder Hale Irwin had 73-218, five-over-par.

Arnold Palmer double bogeyed his final hole for 73-217.

"It's just a bad hole. Let's don't talk about it," Palmer said.

They all had their troubles. The reason seemed to be a mystery.

"There's no reason for it,"

Reds Collar Astros, 7-6

HOUSTON (AP) — Ken Griffey singled home a run in the 14th inning, leading the Cincinnati Reds to a 7-6 victory over the Houston Astros Saturday night.

The Reds mounted their rally with two out as pitcher Fred Norman singled to left and moved to third on a double by Pete Rose. Jim Crawford replaced Joe Niekro at this point and gave up Griffey's gamewinning hit to right.

After the Reds rallied to go ahead 6-4 in the top of the 10th on Tony Perez' homer and George Foster's RBI double, the Astros tied the game at 6-6 in their half of the inning. Cesar Cedeno's grounder scored the Astros' first run of the 10th before Bob Watson doubled home another.

Martin, the No. 1 seed who had said he would turn pro if he won the singles championship, dropped his serve six straight times as Hardie simply kept the ball in play and took advantage of Martin's mistakes.

Martin never trailed after the first two sets. He broke Hardie in the fourth and sixth games of the third set and won 6-3. Hardie damaged himself by dropping his serve four times in the fourth set as Martin claimed another 6-3 victory.

Hardie double-faulted for the decisive point in the fourth game of the final set as Martin took a 3-1 advantage. From then on, the freshman from Palos Verdes had little trouble establishing his superiority.

Wohlhuter Defeated

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Mark Enyart became America's latest middle-distance star by beating defending champion Rick Wohlhuter in a stunning upset in the 800-meter run at the National AAU track and field championships Saturday.

Enyart was timed at 1:44.87, by far his lifetime best, and it kept the Utah State junior undefeated in 12 races at the distance.

The 6-foot, 155 pounder, a converted quarter-miler, handed Wohlhuter his first defeat in a two-lap race in more than two years and added the AAU title to the NCAA championship he won two weeks ago at Provo, Utah.

He did it with a scorching 50.8 first lap and then he held off the ex-Notre Dame athlete in the final 120 meters.

Arnold Palmer double bogeyed his final hole for 73-217.

"It's just a bad hole. Let's don't talk about it," Palmer said.

Carter Propels East To All-America Win

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Maryland's Louis Carter passed for one touchdown and ran for a second score Saturday night to propel the underdog East to a 23-21 come-from-behind victory over the West in the 15th Annual Coaches All America football game.

The West struck quickly in the nationally televised game to open up a 13-3 lead in the first quarter, but two brilliant defensive plays got the East back into the contest.

Alan Pringle of Rice kicked field goals of 39 and 54 yards and quarterback Neal Jeffrey of Baylor connected on a 40-yard touchdown shot to Russ Francis of Oregon to shock the East squad.

Mike Frankowiak kicked a 30-yard field goal and lineman Gary Johnson of Grambling made a spectacular 68-yard touchdown run when he stole the ball from West quarterback David Humm.

The East blocked a Pringle punt and Carter, a running back, winged a nine-yard halfback pass to John Sawyer of Southern Mississippi for a 17-13 lead.

The East kept the ball for almost 10 minutes on a long third period drive climaxed by Carter's three-yard touchdown dash on fourth down.

Trailing 23-13, Jeffrey thrilled the crowd of 36,108 with his pinpoint passes setting up a fiveyard touchdown run by Don Hardemann of Texas A&I.

However, Hardemann was to be the goat because he fumbled on the East nine-yard line deep in the fourth quarter and quarterback Fred Solomon of Tampa ate up the clock. The East gambled on a fourth and one deep inside its own territory and Ohio State's Harold Henson made the necessary yardage by inches.

The victory broke a two-game West winning streak and the series now stands 8-7 in favor of the West.

General Public Not Informed

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Texas Coach Darrell Royal, President of the American Football Coaches Association, said Saturday the average fan isn't aware of the implications of Title IX which he believes could lead to financial disaster for collegiate sport.

Royal said "I don't think the general public understands what is about to happen. I wasn't all that well informed myself until recently."

President Ford signed federal regulations May 27 designed to provide equal opportunity for women in college sports. It will take effect July 21 unless both the House and Senate reject them.

Royal testified recently before the House post-secondary education committee to present the view of college coaches. The Board of Trustees of the AFCA Saturday endorsed action urging its members to combat the Health, Education and Welfare regulations.

The AFCA said the regulations "go far beyond the intent of Congress to place intercollegiate athletics under the control of the federal government. This is not desirable for the future growth of either men's or women's athletics."

Royal said he certainly believed in equal opportunity. He said women should have their own programs with perhaps federal help.

No federal dollars are needed for men's programs and they are self-sustaining, Royal said.

"If we had to divide our money with the women, it would eliminate men's baseball, track, golf, tennis and swimming," Royal said. "A lot of programs are going in the hole already without having to match women's programs dollar for dollar. We spend $62,000 on women's sports at Texas but it comes from the school not out of the athletic department."

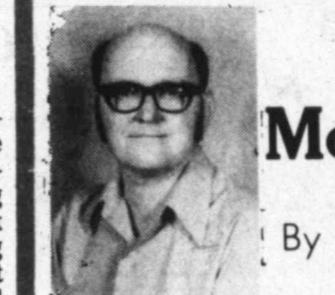

ANAHEIM (AP) — Left-hander Frank Tanana struck out 17 Texas Rangers—high in the major leagues this season—and Mickey Rivers emerged from a batting slump with three hits as the California Angels posted a 4-2 victory over the Rangers in the first game of a two-night doubleheader Saturday.

Tanana, 5-4, gave up nine hits but was in command all the way after the Angels wiped out a 1-0 Texas lead with all their runs in the third inning.

Tanana struck out at least one batter in every inning but the ninth and got the side on strikeouts three times.

Bob Burris, Big Spring High athletic director and head football coach, received word from Midland's athletic director, T. L. (Tugboat) Jones, that his sister-in-law will be moving to Big Spring from Kilgore in the near future.

Jones has expressed interest in the Herald's classified section so as to look over housing referrals for her.

Emory Bellard, Texas A&M head coach and athletic director, will be featured guest at the Midland A&M Club barbecue, Friday.

The dinner is to be served at the County Exposition Building at 7 p.m. The cost is $4.50 per person.

Bellard will discuss the forthcoming football season and the school's changing athletic program.

Jack Brewer, 47, associate director of athletics in the Ector County Independent School District since 1972, has been promoted to athletic director by Ector ISD school trustees.

Brewer's salary was increased from $18,306 to $22,080 per annum. He has been in the system since 1958.

Tickets for every sport in the 1976 Summer Olympics at Montreal are still available, although all the gold medal events in basketball, gymnastics, swimming and diving are now sold out after a month of public sales, according to Montgomery Ward officials.

Wards is the exclusive U.S. distributor of Olympic tickets. More than 225,000 of the 700,000 tickets allocated for the United States have been sold since sales began May 15.

Complete schedules of Olympic events and ticket order blanks are available to the public through the catalog order desks of all 2,300 Ward stores and by mail.

WHAT'S IT WORTH DEPARTMENT — Tryouts for U.S. Pan-American Skeet and Trap Shooting team will be held July 8-19 in Chardon, Ohio. Eight marksmen are to be selected.

FINDING RANGE — Southpaw David Clyde of the Pittsfield Rangers goes through a pre-game warmup. Clyde was baseball's No. 1 draft choice in 1973 when he was an 18-year-old just out of high school and was taken by the Texas Rangers. But he couldn't make it with the American League club and now pitches for Pittsfield, a Class AA Eastern League club in the Berkshire Hills.

DALLAS (AP) — A Montana steer has knocked Dallas Cowboys fullback Walt Garrison out of summer camp and preseason football this year.

Garrison underwent surgery for a torn knee ligament Saturday and, although the operation went smoothly, team doctors said Garrison will be out of action for three months.

"It was an unfortunate accident. We hope Walt will be back by the time the season opens," said head coach Tom Landry.

Garrison was injured while wrestling a steer in a rodeo Thursday night at Bozeman, Mont.

Landry said Garrison is expected back for the season opener Sept. 21 against the Los Angeles Rams.

Pirates Reel Off 4th Straight Win

The Pittsburgh Pirates reeled off their fourth straight victory Saturday, riding Manny Sanguillen's tie-breaking hit and Bill Robinson's two-run single in a four-run ninth inning to a 7-3 victory over the New York Mets.

The triumph, the Pirates' eighth in their last nine games, widened their National League East lead to 4½ games over Philadelphia and dropped the third-place Mets 5½ games back.

With two outs in the ninth, Rennie Stennett beat out an infield hit off Harry Parker and stole second before Sanguillen singled to right.

Al Oliver also singled and Bob Robertson walked to load the bases. Rick Baldwin replaced Parker and walked Richie Zisk to force home Sanguillen, then Robinson singled to left.

The Mets jumped on Bruce Kison for three runs in the first inning, two on Ed Kranepool's single, but the Pirates tied it in the seventh on Dave Parker's three-run homer.

In the only other NL afternoon game, Montreal beat Philadelphia 5-1. In American League day games, Baltimore blanked Boston 3-0, Minnesota defeated Chicago 8-3, New York whipped Detroit 4-1 and Kansas City beat Oakland 4-1.

Errors by Dick Allen and Tony Taylor gave the Expos a pair of unearned runs in the first two innings, enough to beat the Phillies.

Jim Palmer of the Orioles cooled off Boston's hot bats with a five-hitter to become the major leagues' first 12-game winner, snapping the Red Sox' six-game winning streak.

Dan Ford slugged a pair of homers and Danny Thompson and Steve Brye hit two-run doubles for Minnesota to hand the White Sox their fourth straight loss. The Yanks' Pat Dobson fired a seven-hitter against Detroit to win his sixth straight game and the 100th of his career.

Steve Busby pitched a five-hitter while George Brett and Hal McRae hit home runs to snap the Oakland's five-game winning streak and pull the Royals within 2½ games of the first-place A's in the American League West.

In NL night games it was San Francisco at Atlanta, Chicago at St. Louis, Cincinnati at Houston and Los Angeles at San Diego. In the American League it was Milwaukee at Cleveland and, in a twilight double-header, Texas at California.

Lake Offers Scenic View

By CLARK LESHER
Moss Creek Lake, spotted six miles east of Big Spring, in existence since 1939, offers a scenic view for the outdoor recreation seeker.

The lake is under the direction of the Big Spring Parks & Recreation Department, Jerry Foresyth, director. Ed and Eva McCain, who reside on the lake premises, have been the caretakers since the first day of June, 1974.

The lake offers the visitor boating, fishing, camping and picnicking. Permits are required for both boating and fishing. Boat motors are limited to 12½ horsepower. Life preservers are mandatory when an individual goes boating.

Special notice is given to a sign showing no swimming or wading. Previous lake drownings occurred before swimming was banned.

Regular lake hours are observed from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m., though campers are permitted to stay overnight.

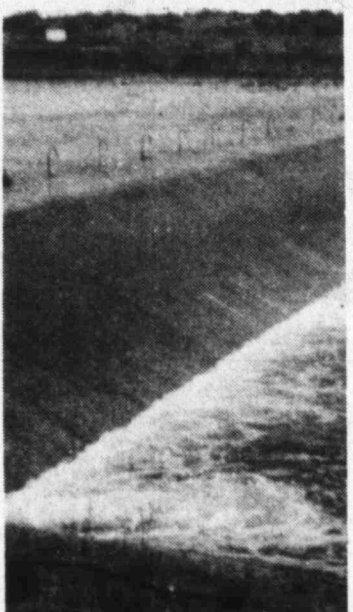

The longest camper residing at the lake at one time according to the McCains, docked for one week. Farthest point traveled was two women from Beverly Hills, Calif., in April. They enjoyed lake surroundings for two days en route to Florida.

A lot of retired individuals camp out on the average of from three to four days, mostly waiting for general delivery mail to arrive.

The lake, stocked by the Texas Park & Wildlife Department, includes crappie, channel cat, yellow (flathead) cat, and a few white bass. A white bass caught at the lake in April, 1975, weighed 7 lb, 9 oz. In August of 1974, a 50-lb yellow cat was brought to the lake side.

The state last month stocked the lake with 5,000 fingering walleye pike. A survey of the lake is scheduled each year though the current evaluation has yet to be made.

Mr. McCain also patrols the lake, checks permits and can file a complaint if necessary. Curtis Thomason, Howard County game warden, also makes regular checks to see that lake ordinances are enforced.

Before coming to Big Spring, Mr. McCain served as Shallowater's chief of police. He has compiled 29 years of law enforcement experience and started out with the Hobbs police department in 1946. From 1952-53, Mr. McCain was a city patrolman for Big Spring.

The lake is equipped with eight pavilions for picnics, six on one side and two on the other. From reports, the lake went over the spillway for the first time in 40 years during the Memorial Day weekend flash flood. The lake was closed from Sunday through Wednesday.

Flood waters washed away the normal road route to the lake, creating a road detour until necessary repairs are made.

The ground area encompasses 440 acres with the lake itself covering 142 acres. For a 15-day report in June, 5,650 people passed through the lakes gate. This is up approximately 1,500 from last year.

For the month of May, 10,720 toured the lake acreage, up 4,000 from the previous year. Recreation interest for a six-month period this year far exceeds last year's entry.

Road Game Next

Standing idle for a week for reasons unknown, the Big Spring Tiger-Cubs have a single road game with Ojinaga, Mexico, mapped out for today at 3 p.m.

The Tiger-Cubs vs. Kermit Braves contest planned last Sunday at Steer Park was cancelled as the visiting club failed to keep its appointment date.

Big Spring was set to travel to Acuna, Mexico, but the Tripoli club had to acknowledge another game commitment, forcing the revised schedule to be made.

Toto Garcia, Tiger-Cubs manager, has designated Willie Williams to be his starting hurler. Abel Ramirez will be Williams' backstop.

Ojinaga, record unknown, will return the home and home single game agreement with Big Spring, June 29 at 1:30 p.m.

Other members of the Tiger-Cub besides Williams and Ramirez include Bill Diaz, John Thomas Smith, Cruz Rios, Billy Wood, Ernie Garcia, Steve Valencia, Mike Jones, Freddy Bustamante, Oscar Cervantez, Ismael Paredes and Mechie Sarmiento.

Ms. King's challenge weakened toward the end of the match.

LITTLE LEAGUE Cardinals Finish Season With 15-0

The Pollard Chevrolet Cardinals of the National Little League finished the regular season on a perfect 15-0 note Friday, downing the Evening Lions and the Big Spring Herald Rangers disposed of the Devils, 3-0, Thursday.

In American Minor action, the Pals pounded the Sports, 19-3, Friday and the Drillers dumped the Elks, 7-1, Thursday.

Kip McLaughlin stretched his Card winning record to 3-0. McLaughlin and teammates Mark Warren, Ben Watson and Daryl Anderson all hit safely twice.

The Cardinals, Rangers and Lions all advance to the playoff round.

Shane Mayhall smacked a double in the bottom of the sixth to score the Jet winning run.

The Jets ended their regular season in second place with a 9-6 record. The Hawks finished in the No. 5 position.

The Rangers concluded their year by unloading for three runs in the fifth to win out. Junior Valenzuela, Ranger winning pitcher, struck out 11 and permitted only three hits.

Hot bats for the Rangers were Mike Eggleston, Raymond Dominguez, Brent Raney and Mark Townsend.

The Drillers' Scott Mayhall and Marty Rodriguez combined their pitching talents in throwing a no-hitter. Together they fanned 18 of 24 possible batters.

The Drillers ended the season in first place with a 12-2-0 record. In defeating the Sports, the Pals concluded seasonal play with a second place performance and the Sports, third.

Billie Jean Beaten By Wade

EASTBOURNE, England (AP) — Virginia Wade of Britain beat Billie Jean King 7-5, 4-6, 6-4 and captured the first prize of $4,025 in an international women's tournament on the eve of Wimbledon.

Miss Wade rallied from a 5-2 deficit in winning the first set, while Ms. King missed a set point at 5-4.

Ms. King, 31, a five-time winner of the Wimbledon crown, trailed 4-2, but came back to win the second set.

After serving badly early in the match, she stepped up her offense and scored seven points in the second game of the final set, but Miss Wade held her off and broke through in the following game.

Ms. King's challenge weakened toward the end of the match.

Connors Sues Arthur Ashe

LONDON (AP) — Wimbledon champion Jimmy Connors has sued Arthur Ashe for $5.0 million, Connors' manager said Saturday.

The squabble between the two American tennis stars was revealed by Bill Riordan, Connors' manager, as the Wimbledon champion started his final practice session before the big tournament that opens Monday.

"We filed two suits in Indianapolis last week," Riordan said.

The first suit, Riordan added, concerned a letter written by Ashe as president of the Association of Tennis Professionals to 16 players about the captaincy of the U.S. Davis Cup team. Connors alleges that Ashe libeled him in the letter.

The second suit has been filed against Ashe; Donald Dell, the ATP's legal adviser; Bob Briner, the association's secretary, and Jack Kramer, the executive director. It alleges libel in an article written by Briner, Riordan explained.

Connors has another legal suit pending against Kramer, Dell and the Commercial Union Assurance Co., which sponsors the Grand Prix.

Unser Pushed Back

LONG POND, Pa. (AP) — Gordon Johncock roared through four laps at a sizzling 183.281 miles an hour and knocked A.J. Foyt off the pole Saturday for the Pocono 500-mile race June 29 at Pocono International Raceway.

Johncock, starting in the No. 1 spot for the first time in 22 500-mile races he has run, waited until the cool of the late afternoon to make his eye-popping run in a George Bignot-prepared Wildcat. Earlier, he had experienced mechanical troubles and pulled off of a qualification attempt.

In another surprise, Jerry Grant, a veteran who is competing in his first race here, put his Eagle on the outside of the front row next to Foyt.

Bobby Unser was pushed back to the second row with Johnny Rutherford and Wally Dallenbach. Mike Mosley, Al Unser and Pancho Carter were in the third row.

Rutherford came back in a backup machine in the afternoon after he crashed his No. 1 car earlier in qualifying. He was uninjured. Dallenbach had mechanical troubles earlier in the day but solved them shortly before his second try.

Thirty cars qualified for the 33-car field Saturday, with several others scheduled to make attempts Sunday during the final day of time trials.

Purchase Finalized

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston realtor George Bolin, heading a group of minority stockholders, said Saturday arrangements have been finalized to purchase the World Hockey Association champion Houston Aeros for $4.1 million.

At the same time, Bolin's group said former National Hockey League legend Gordie Howe would take over as president and that coach Bill Dineen would assume the additional duties of vice president and general manager.

The announcement climaxed months of negotiations with Kaplan, who earlier this month filed for reorganization under Chapter 11 of the bankruptcy statutes. The total sale price included $1.1 million in Aeros stock and the new owners also will assume $3 million in debts.

"The past is over, it is finished," said Bolin. "The only thing we're going to do now is to try to continue the winning ways of this club."

Bolin has been spokesman for the minority stockholders who had criticized Kaplan's handling of the team, specifically the amount of promotion he undertook in introducing the Aeros to the Houston area.

Cards Happy To Be Home

Unhappy over covering a distance of some 300 miles for a game last weekend, only to find out that the Sargosa, Mexico club had disbanded, the Big Spring Cardinals hope to feel better today as they take on the Del Rio Aces.

The first game of a doubleheader engagement is set for 1:30 p.m.

Frank Rubio, Card manager, whose team has a string of 11 wins in a row and a 15-3 record, will start Orlando Olague, 8-2, in the opener.

Jody Flores, 5-1, has been named to toe the rubber for the Cards in the final contest.

Del Rio will provide stern opposition for the Cards, sporting a creditable 16-4 record.

The Cards probable lineup will consist of: Felix Martinez, shortstop; Sammy Rodriguez, second; Pat Martinez Jr., first; Jesse Zapata, centerfield; John

ORLANDO OLAGUE

Morleon or Billy Pineda, third; Joe Martinez, catcher; Tommy Tune, leftfield; and Tony Martinez, rightfield.

The Cards failed to receive notification of the cancelled game with Sargosa until shortly before game time.

Sports Shorts

TOKYO (AP) — Former major leaguer Dave Johnson belted a grand slam home run in the first inning, sparking the Yomiuri Giants to an 8-4 victory over the Chunichi Dragons in a Japanese League game Saturday.

It was the sixth homer of the season for the former Atlanta and Baltimore infielder.

VIENNA (AP) — America's Janette Ely won an international platform diving competition Saturday, totaling 395.67 points.

Deborah Kepler, another American, took second place with 387.30 points, with European champion Ulrike Knappe of Sweden third with 384.60.

After the preliminary compulsory event in men's springboard diving, Klaus Di-Biasi of Italy led with 210.60 points, with another Italian, Giorgio Cagnotto, second with 205.20 and America's Keith Russell third at 189.39.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two-time Grand National champion Kenny Roberts will lead a field of more than 80 riders in the American Motorcycle Association's $16,000 race Sunday at the Ohio State Fairgrounds.

Roberts, from Villa Park, Calif., has driven his Yamaha into the point lead in the 20-race pro series this year. Columbus is the eighth stop on the tour.

Mike Kidd of Euless, Tex., winner of the 1974 Columbus race, will not defend his championship. Kidd suffered an injury late last season that has kept off the tour this year.

ANTIBES, France (AP) — Cathy Howards of the United States took the title in the Antibe World Gymnastic Tournament Friday night with a total of 37.30 points. Romanian women finished second and third in the competition.

Soccer Star Swarmed Over

BOSTON (AP) — Bring the world's two most popular soccer players together for the first time in five years and you have a dream game. Right?

Wrong. Pack 18,000 spectators into a 12,000-seat stadium, provide minimal security, and the result is more of a nightmare.

The overflow crowd stood six deep around Nickerson Field Friday night to see Pele of the New York Cosmos pitted against Eusebio of the Boston Minutemen in a North American Soccer League game won by Boston 2-1 in overtime. However, the anticipated confrontation never came off.

Eusebio scored the first goal of the game on a direct kick with less than 12 minutes to play.

Then Pele scored what spectators thought was the tying goal, but it was overruled. Fans clustered around the goal, then swarmed over the Cosmos' hero, burying him from view for several minutes.

It took more than 15 minutes to restore order, and when play resumed, the magic of what was to have been the dream game was gone.

Pele was taken out for the rest of the game, and Eusebio played only four more minutes. Neither star was on the field at the end.

MICKEY OWENS CAMP Zapp, Jones Go To School

MILLER, Mo. — Big Spring's Richmond Zapp and Johnny Jones attended the Mickey Owens Baseball School for boys age 8 through 18 from May 25 through June 7.

Each boy came to the school with a position in mind and a desire to want to improve either his hitting or field. Richmond worked on becoming a better shortstop and Johnny, a better all-around player. They received instruction from experienced coaches on one of seven available fields. The school furnished the boys with a Mickey Owen cap and tee-shirt.

Richmond and Johnny had an opportunity to play in at least 12 games per week and met boys from all over the United States.

Mickey has developed the best methods of teaching boys the aspects of baseball through experience and experiment. He is a former major league player who caught for the St. Louis Cardinals, Brooklyn Dodgers, Red Sox and Chicago Cubs.

A genuine desire to play is all that the school asks of its prospective student.

Atlanta's Hank Aaron has been quoted as saying, "I'd never be the batter I am now if it wasn't for Mickey Owen. He managed me in Puerto Rico before I came up to the Braves. Before I met him I didn't know the strike zone from second base, he taught me where it was."

'Horn Infielder Signs Pro Pact

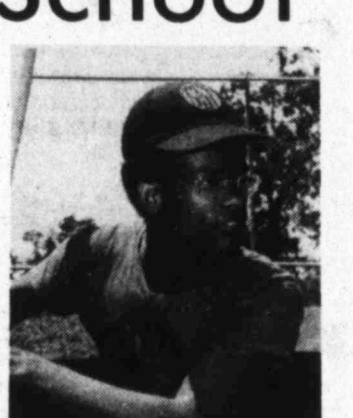

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Shortstop Blair Stouffer of the national champion Texas Longhorns has signed a pro baseball contract with the Texas Rangers.

Stouffer, drafted in the fifth round, was assigned to the Rangers' Class AA farm club in Pittsfield, Mass.

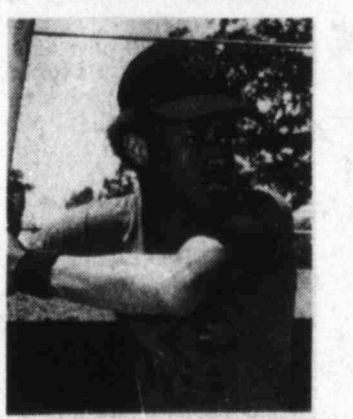

Catcher Rick Bradley, a second-round choice of the San Francisco Giants, was to sign Saturday at Lufkin. He said the Giants had offered him about $35,000.

Pitcher Richard Wortham, however, packed his bags to play summer ball in Boulder, Colo., after rejecting an offer from the New York Mets.

Wortham was 15-1 during the past season and won the national title game, 5-1, on a four hitter.

Dade's Lead Fades

Paul Dade of El Paso faded 20 points in his batting average this week and lost over a hundred in his slugging percentage. But the Diablo batsman still retains the lead in both Texas League categories.

The league nears the midway point of the current season.

Dade's batting average is .347 with teammate Butch Alberts and Lafayette's John Yegline pressing with marks of .336. Dade's slugging percentage of .687, however, is in no danger at the present.

Dade leads the league in RBIs with 44. He is only two homers behind the current leader, Jack Clark of Lafayette who has 12.

Shreveport's Mike Kavanaugh still maintains the lowest earned run pitching average of 2.29. He is tied with Midland's Bernie Beckman with the most wins, seven.

Frank Panick of El Paso has fanned the most batters with 63 to his credit.

Lynn Feels Baseball Safer Than Gridiron

BOSTON (AP) — Fred Lynn, the Boston Red Sox rookie sensation, knows what it feels like to try to tackle a runaway truck like Sam "Bam" Cunningham in football. That's the reason he's in baseball.

After starring in baseball, football and basketball at El Monte, Calif., high school, Lynn rejected a $38,000 bonus from the New York Yankees. He didn't think it was enough money.

Instead, the 6-foot-1, 185-pounder accepted a football scholarship to Southern California. A year later he quit football to concentrate on baseball, playing on three consecutive NCAA championship teams.

"I played freshman football and then played baseball in a summer league," Lynn said. "Bobby Winkles was my coach that summer and he told me I would be foolish to continue to play football. He told me I could go somewhere in baseball, but I'd be just another guy in football."

"Winkles convinced me. Besides, I got knocked out a few times in football, twice by my own defensive linemen. I was a defensive back and split end and we scrimmaged against the varsity. I got run over a few times by Sam Cunningham, something I'll never forget."

While Lynn concentrated on baseball, Cunningham went on to fame as a fullback, scoring four touchdowns in the 1973 Rose Bowl, and now is established with the New England Patriots.

An outstanding centerfielder with a powerful arm, Lynn has been a big surprise with a mighty bat so far this season. It's difficult to realize that he graduated just two years ago from Southern Cal.

Lynn began playing the game early. At the age of four, he began learning from his father, Fred Sr. The senior Lynn recalls even throwing a ball softly at his son's head to prove it didn't hurt too badly and not to be afraid.

And young Fred is terrorizing American League pitchers. Wednesday night in Detroit, he went 5 for 6 with three homers, a triple and a single, driving in 10 runs and collecting 16 total bases. The latter tied the league record set by Ty Cobb in 1925 and equaled by Lou Gehrig in 1932 and Rocky Colavito in 1959.

Lynn now leads the league with 50 RBI, 42 runs scored, 129 total bases and a .648 slugging mark. He is second with 14 homers and third with a .352 batting average. Lynn, 23, was the Red Sox No. 2 draft choice in 1973. He signed for a reported $60,000 bonus.

LAKE SPENCE

Striped Bass Don't Let Up

Those striped bass just don't let up at Lake E.V. Spence. In any week they seem to crop up prominently in fishing reports, and last week was no exception.

There also were several good catches of channel catfish, a number of white bass, plus crappie.

Among the reports were: Y.J.'s Marina — Mr. and Mrs. Dewoody, Odessa, two blacks to 5 1/2 lb.

Triangle Grocery and Bait — Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Hall, Odessa, seven crappie to 1 1/2 lb, 18 white bass to 2 lb, two strippers to 5 lb, and a 3-lb channel cat.

Wildcat Fish-A-Rama — Jack Bowers, Big Spring, 9 1/4-lb striped bass; Bobby Cox, Fort Worth, 3 1/2-lb striped; Jake and Kerry Echeverri, Midland, 20 black bass to 3 lb; C.R. Logsdon, Odessa, 7-lb striped, five blue cat to 2 lb; Buddy Duncan and family, Big Spring, three strippers to 6 lb.

Ray Blum and Gene Berry, Big Spring, two strippers, 6 and 9 lb, also 12 channel cat and one 8-lb blue cat.

Lions Checked

The Bankers of the Coahoma Major Little League checked the Lions, 4-3, Friday.

A last inning rally by the Lions fell short as the tying run was tagged at home plate with two outs. Mike Roberts was credited with the win. The loss was charged to Philip Ritchey.

The Bankers collected five hits while the Lions hit the ball for seven safeties.

Doubles were clouted by Jay Hall and Mike Roberts of the Bankers, and by the Lions' Rory Buchanan and Ritchey.

The Bankers are now 3-5 while the Lions suffered their first loss in eight games.

FLAG DAY LOSER — Milwaukee flagmaker Mel Shikora says the grounds of patriotism for the national bicentennial is making this a banner year for his business, except for the hundreds of WIN flags he got stuck with. But now he says he's going to sell them to high school sports teams for inspiration.

TEEN-AGE Red Sox Share Top Spot

Two Junior Teen-Age games were played Friday with the ABC Rebels defeating the Lions, 4-2, and the Optimist Red Sox belting the Elks, 14-4.

The Red Sox vs. Elks game was called after five innings because of the 10-run rule. Kevin McLaughlin, Red Sox winning hurler, fanned eight Elks batters. Mitch Harris was the losing hurler.

David Montanez of the Lions unloaded for a four-bagger.

The Red Sox are now tied for the Eastern Division leadership and face the Orioles Monday.

Garvey Desires To Snap String

NEW YORK (AP) — In the first five years of fan balloting to decide the starting lineups for baseball's All-Star game, only one position has had a new leader each year — the National League's first base.

Steve Garvey of Los Angeles is hoping to break that string, although the second weekly National league voter tabulations released by Commissioner Bowie Kuhn's office Friday shows Cincinnati's Tony Perez is a strong challenger.

Garvey was a write-in starter last year and went on to win the Commissioner's Award as the Most Valuable Player. He had a lead of more than 50,000 votes in the initial week of balloting this year, but Perez, who has played in five All-Star games, is now only 5,963 votes behind. Garvey has 431,344 votes to 425,381 for Perez.

Cincinnati catcher Johnny Bench, second baseman Joe Morgan and shortstop Dave Concepcion have sizeable leads, while third baseman Ron Cey of Los Angeles has a comfortable margin.

FIRECRACKER MOTO-CROSS Rider Registration Picking Up Fast

Rider registration is picking up fast for the Hi-Noon Optimist Firecracker $5,000 Moto-Cross event mapped out for July 5 and 6.

The track is situated one mile north of IS-20 on Farm Road 700.

Six local riders have already signed up including one female. Ronna Tyler will try her luck in the sport dominated by men in the 100 intermediate class.

Danny Weir, Ricky Murphy and Craig Hodnett will be steering their bikes in the 250 and open, 125 novice and 125 expert class, respectively.

Tommy Tune, a newcomer to moto-cross, is listed as an entry in the 250 Novice Class. Ray Lee Burklow will compete in the mini junior bike class.

A European rider, Jeff Ross, has expressed interest in the two-day Firecracker races. He is now touring the U.S.

Out of town riders counted on to be present include Fort Worth's Wayne Priddy, David Freeman of Austin, Bridgeport's Pat McGraw, Joey Jones, Eldorado and Steve Elgard of Littleton, Colo.

Practice starts 8 a.m., July 5. All qualifiers and first motos will be run July 5 and second moto qualifiers July 6.

A cash payoff will be given to expert rider winners with $1,500 in trophies to be awarded in Novice and Intermediates, 10 per class.

Starting lineup will be by order of sign-up.

LITTLE LEAGUE BASEBALL Business Firms Sponsor Teams

MIAMI, Fla. — One sector of American youth is making news — and it's all good. Again this season, hundreds of thousands of youngsters from six to 14 are digging cleats into the nation's baseball diamonds, playing organized youth league baseball.

Big Spring is one of those communities where business firms sponsor hometown teams so kids can play ball.

Old fashioned community spirit formed the basis of the Little League plan, originated in 1939. Local business firms would provide individual teams with financial support and where possible, work with the team.

It all came together so well that baseball leagues started springing up across the country and even would-be Hank Aarons and Babe Ruths, as young as six to eight, could get into the swing.

By this season, Little League alone has 9,000 leagues in the U.S. And around the world a total of 2 1/2-million youngsters played baseball in 31 countries including Mexico and Canada.

One such sponsor is Saul Morales, manager of Blazer Financial Services, 106 E. Third Street, which sponsors the Blue Blazer Pirates team for the second year. "This country's greatest resource is not automobiles or real estate or money — it's our children," said Morales.

"My company, Aristar, Inc., which owns and operates Blazer Financial Centers in more than 300 towns and cities, is proud to sponsor league play for youngsters. Each manager has the privilege of working with a team in his or her hometown, and this year 150 of them pitched in to help. They worked as sponsors, coaches, score-keepers and good friends.

"Lots of our people were doing this on their own for years until there were so many that the Company took note. They made Little League a part of corporate policy," he said.

During the first year, Blazer managers and employees sponsored 67 teams. Each year, the number has grown. In 1974, the league work brought Blazer personnel in contact with the lives of about 2,850 boys and girls, and their families.

"I just wish more business men and women would get involved with the youngsters. More kids could play baseball if more individuals and companies in American communities would sponsor teams. It is a worthwhile activity, gets many children off the street onto a team and shows them it's fun to steal bases instead of hubcaps," said Morales.

The Blue Blazer Pirates team, which plays in the nine to 12-year division of league, will wind up its season in July.

Big Catch At Thomas

At Lake Thomas, Henry Everton Snyder, boated a 50-lb yellow cat, along with three channel cat. Ed Schuler, Snyder, had a 5-lb, 7-lb, and 9-lb yellow cat, plus a large string of channel cat and a 6 1/2-lb black bass.

Rich Jones, Odessa, came up with 14 channel cat, the largest 6 lbs, plus some yellow cat. Leon May and son of Brownfield had two dozen channel cat and a pair of white bass.

Balon Benton, Snyder, boated three sizeable carp, on dough bait. Several others reported good sport in reeling in the carp.

Various other reports from the lake included one party with 250 crappie, plus good strings of white bass and several hundred channel catfish.

Six Selected On Juco Team

ROGERS, Ark. (AP) — Six men qualified Saturday for the United States judo team to the Pan-American judo games to be held in Mexico City in October.

The team also will travel to the world judo championships later this year in Vienna, Austria.

The 38mpg rabbit.

Good news at last! Volkswagen happily introduces the Rabbit. The incredible new car that gets 38 highway miles per gallon and 24 in the city (according to the 75 model Federal EPA tests).

Good news travels fast, too. The Rabbit'll do 93 miles per hour (we strongly suggest you obey all speed limits) and has the power to scoot from 0 to 50 in just 8.2 seconds.

And, since the engine's mounted sideways, the sub-compact Rabbit has all the head and leg room of some mid-sized cars. It also has a hatchback, front-wheel drive, and VW's unique rear stabilizer axle.

All backed by the Volkswagen Owner's Security Blanket with Computer Analysis.™ See the new Volkswagen Rabbit. And drive happily ever after.

Jobless Pay Schemes Differ Around World

LONDON (AP) — A

Frenchman who loses his job for economic reasons receives 90 per cent of his gross salary for a year in unemployment benefits. A Briton who is out of work for more than a year has his rent or property tax paid for him. Japan pays a special bonus to a worker receiving jobless benefits if he finds a new job.

Compensation for the jobless is general and often generous in Western Europe and Japan in nonstrike situations.

In the Netherlands, for example, a spokesman for the Dutch Trade Unions Association said: "Nobody will ever starve here if he is out of work through no fault of his own."

The jobless pay schemes vary from country to country. In some cases, labor unions help pay unemployment benefits. In others, the money comes from taxpayers. In still others, the benefits are made up from contributions by employees, employers, labor unions and governments.

Jobless pay in the United States differs from state to state.

WASHINGTON, D.C. — $117 a week. The national average for jobless pay is $61.41 a week, according to the Labor Department in Washington.

With 8.5 million Americans out of work, some American states have had to borrow money to meet their unemployment payrolls.

Legislation is before Congress in Washington to increase the time an American can collect unemployment pay to 65 weeks. Americans now can collect unemployment for 26 weeks with additional money conditionally available from the federal government for another 13 weeks.

The Western version of unemployment compensation is virtually unknown in Communist countries where unemployment officially doesn't exist.

An Associated Press sampling of some leading Western industrial countries follows:

BRITAIN — Unemployment benefits begin with the government collecting each month the pound sterling equivalent of $37.81 from the worker and $58.44 from his employer.

At present, an unmarried worker out of a job gets $22.54 a week. A married worker draws $36.57 plus $7.13 for a first child and $3.68 for each additional offspring. The benefits are payable for 12 months.

In addition, during the first six months of unemployment, a worker can claim a supplementary allowance of $21.55 a week but the total amount of benefits may not exceed more than 85 per cent of his pay when he lost his job.

When the first year without a job ends, a married worker receives of $35.99 a week plus $6.32 for a child under 5 years old, ranging up to $11.39 for one between 13 and 15 years old. The worker's rent and property taxes are also paid and there is no time limit on supplementary allowances.

"supplementary allowances"

JAPAN — Unemployed workers are paid 60 to 80 per cent of their salary for a period of between 90 and 300 days, according to their ages. They are also eligible for an additional "bonus upon employment" amounting to 30 days' pay.

Compensation is paid from contributions by employers and employees and from government funds.

SPAIN — Spanish workers pay 0.35 per cent of their salary to the government and employers contribute 1.85 per cent of each worker's pay. The jobless receive 75 per cent of their salary for 12 months.

WEST GERMANY — Workers pay compulsory unemployment insurance dues of 1 per cent of their monthly wages up to a ceiling $12 a month with employers contributing an equal amount. Benefits amount to 68 per cent of the monthly salary when a worker becomes unemployed with a ceiling of $1,200 per month. Benefits continue for a maximum of 12 months.

At the end of the year, however, if an unemployed worker is classified as needy with no outside income, he is entitled to continued assistance, paid by the Federal Labor Institute, of 58 per cent of his old salary.

ITALY — The Italians have two types of benefits, one for industrial sectors in "deep crisis" with benefits continuing normally for nine months but extendable to 15 months, and the second for ## employees of individual firms

in "economic difficulties" with benefits lasting six months. In the first, benefits amount to 80 per cent of wages; in the second 66 per cent.

A joint management-worker committee decides on a firm's right to receive unemployment benefits for workers who have been laid off. If the committee decides that the firm does not qualify, its jobless workers get nothing.

SWITZERLAND — This Alpine country has little trouble with unemployment. In May only 0.2 per cent, 5,661 workers of the 2.8 million labor force, was out of work. A year ago only a few hundred were jobless. That has been the situation for decades.

In addition, half a million foreign workers are imported. They can be exported in times of crisis as a cushion for Swiss workers.

FRANCE — "France is the only country in the world, or in any case in Europe, where aid to the unemployed is so advanced," says Andre Bergeron, general secretary of the "Force Ouvriere" Union Federation.

Workers fired for economic reasons get 90 per cent of gross salary for one year, meaning effectively their entire salary since ## social security and other withholdings are waived.

Unemployment for other than economic reasons triggers a complicated system of state allocations plus contributions from unemployment funds to bring the total to about 40 per cent of salary. Payments last from 365 to 730 days depending on a worker's age.

Funds for benefits are put up by employers and the government. Workers contribute nothing.

ADVISER — S.Sgt. Eugene Williams of Webb AFB gets some pointers from his wife Jackie on how to stitch up the sleeve on the jacket he is making.

$200 Suit For Under $50? Try Sewing Own

"Fashionable clothing doesn't have to be expensive," says S.Sgt. Eugene F. Williams, "not if you sew your own clothes!"

The Webb Air Force Base equal opportunity NCO, S.Sgt. Williams, has saved hundreds of dollars during the past year alone. "The highest price I've had to pay," said Williams, "is the kidding I take from some of my friends."

The Waterloo, Iowa, native has been nicknamed "the little seamstress" by some of his friends, and his home has been called "Willie's Sewing Shop." He chuckled that as long as he can make $200 for under $50, he can take a lot of kidding.

Williams began sewing about four years ago when he bought his wife Jacqueline a new sewing machine. He remembered that the machine had a lot of special features on it and he had to keep resetting it for her.

"After awhile," he said, "I knew the machine better than Jackie did." Williams noted that once he had learned how to operate the machine, the rest was just a matter of following instructions.

The 15-year Air Force veteran's first sewing project was a pair of gold single knit slacks. Although he did a pretty good job of sewing, he soon learned that single knit fabrics are very revealing.

Since then he has sewn several pairs of slacks, casual and formal suits and has even dared to sew for Jackie. Williams remarked that sewing for women is much harder for him because they are much harder to please. He stressed that Jackie is very patient with him, though, and helps him whenever he needs it.

Williams explained that he would like to see more men sew. "There is nothing wrong with a man sewing," asserted Williams. "I compare it to building model planes or tinkering with cars. It is all just a matter of following instructions."

Mesquite Kill Study

A feasibility study on remote sensing of mesquite susceptibility to aerial sprays has been initiated by University of Texas Lands, according to Billy Carr, land agent.

According to Carr, timing of aerial sprays for mesquite control by calendar dates has long been recognized as inadequate for attaining maximum effectiveness in terms of plant kill. Foliage color change associated with leaf maturity is thought to be a valuable index in the timing of spray applications.

The recognition of this critical growth stage through the use of the remote sensing presents a viable possibility for monitoring the readiness of mesquite for aerial spraying in remote areas. This study is designed as a preliminary study to evaluate the feasibility of using color infrared aerial photography for the detection and analysis of mesquite susceptibility to 2,4,5-T.

A total of ten 20 acre blocks will be treated with 2,4,5-T at various times during the season. Color IR and multi-band imagery will be taken with the Texas Forest Service remote sensing plane (prior to the application of herbicides at the test locations). Aerial photography will also be taken with the UT Land's 35mm camera system at the time of the aerial photography and five days prior to and at the time of each date of application.

The Soil Conservation Service in cooperation with the University of Texas is now in the process of gathering ground date consisting of an intensive soil survey of the test site, with significant soil changes delineated within the treatment areas, and vegetation data taken along three permanently established transects through the treatments. Mesquite density, density of the woody plants, herbaceous ground cover, canopy area, and density of the mesquite foliar canopy will be obtained along the vegetation sample lines.

An analysis of the data will be made and will be correlated with color and treatment of mesquite.

TRY TO PREVENT DAMAGE

Children 'Serve Time' With Their Mothers

CHICAGO (AP) — A German prison is trying to prevent psychological damage to young children by allowing them to "serve time" with their mothers, an authority on child development reports.

Dr. Maria Piers, dean of the Erikson Institute for Early Education, recently visited the women's prison at Frankfurt, Hesse, Germany, where about 10 children, up to 3 years of age, are housed with their mothers, who are serving terms for lesser crimes such as larceny, theft or fraud.

The program, begun less than a year ago, "tried to be humane and nonpunitive, and above all to prevent damage to the child by prolonged separation from the mother," she said in an interview Tuesday. Mothers and their children are assigned small, cheerful rooms where they can be alone. There is a lounge for evening use, she said.

During the day the mothers work in the prison laundry and their children are in a daycare center at the prison where they are cared for by graduate students in social work.

It is especially important for young children to remain with their mothers if the mothers "are even halfway adequate," she said.

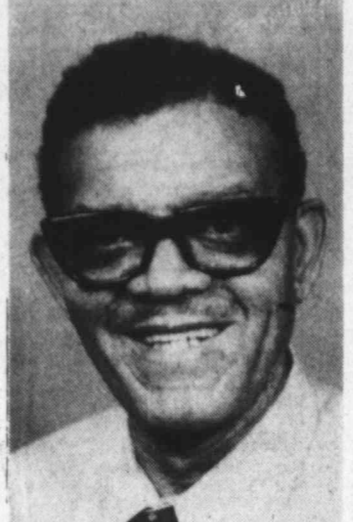

Children who are taken from their mothers and who have no adequate mother substitute are often stunted in their growth, more prone to disease and intellectually retarded, she said.

The advantage of the Frankfurt program is that if mothers are treated humanely they are more likely to treat their children humanely, and in seeing how other women handle their children they may learn to be more adequate mothers themselves, Mrs. Piers said. She said the inmates tend to be dependent personalities, more in need of receiving emotional support than of giving it, and who therefore treat their children as teddy bears or cuddly dolls to satisfy their own needs, the psychologist said.

Mrs. Piers, who said she knew of no similar program in the United States, said this country, "with its enormous resources," should develop programs of this kind.

But she said one problem at Frankfurt is the lack of a followup program for the mothers once they leave prison. Another danger is that the mothers will come to like prison so much that they will repeat their crimes in order to be recommitted, she added.

$833,314 Bid On Road Work

Henry L. Stafford, Lubbock, has been awarded a contract on a low bid of $833,314 for reconstruction of 4.8 miles of US 87 in Howard and Martin Counties.

Most of the job, 3.5 miles of it, is in the Howard County portion, the balance in Martin County, carrying it to the Dawson County line.

The contract is for grading, structures, flexible base and two-course surface treatment starting 3.5 southeast of the Howard-Martin line and going northwestward to the Dawson County line.

Although the Martin section is in another district, the work will be supervised by Roger G. Welsch, Abilene, district engineer. Project engineer will be Joe H. Smoot, Big Spring resident engineer for the Texas Highway Department. Work will require 200 working days.

TEMPEST OVER CUPS

ROMULUS, Mich. (AP) — Eight-year-old Nancy Winnard was allowed to play in a Little League game, apparently ending a controversy over a league rule calling for all players to wear protective cups.

Nancy was ordered off the field last week because she was not wearing the required protective devices. Her father, David Winnard, filed suit, claiming the rule forced his daughter to wear male protective equipment and was discriminatory, designed to keep girls out of the league.

He refused to let Nancy wear the cup and athletic supporter as required.

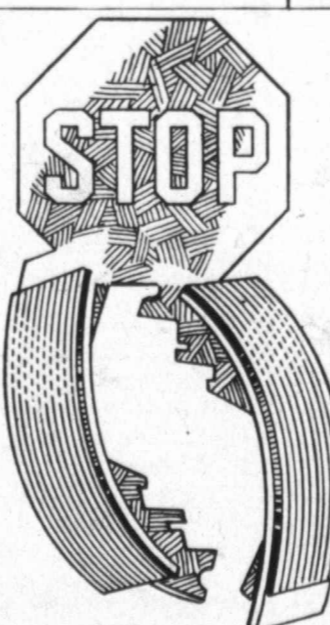

A compromise was reached after the suit was filed, allowing Nancy to wear a "girl's protective panty" which includes a quarter-inch of foam padding. Winnard had said he would drop his suit against the league if his daughter was allowed to play.

Nancy played right field in Thursday's game, which her team won, 13-1.

V. J. Colemans Will Mark Anniversary

The 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Coleman will be observed with a reception June 29 from 2 to 5 p.m. at their residence in Ackerly. All friends are invited to attend the affair.

The host group for the occasion will include their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Coleman, and son, Michael of Ackerly, and the Dudley Coleman's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie King, and daughter, Kimberly, of Lamesa.

The Colemans, who were married June 29, 1925 in Anson, made their first home at Plainview, a small community near Stamford, moving to Ackerly in 1926 when he founded the Coleman Lumber Company. Mrs. Coleman, the former Louise Haney, is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Haney of Stamford. Coleman is the son of Mrs. J. W. Coleman of Wichita Falls, and the late Mr. Coleman.

Coleman operated the lumber business until about 10 years ago when the V. J. Coleman and Son Grain Company was formed. Since that time, Coleman has been involved in ranching, farming and oil operations. Mrs. Coleman worked in the businesses until her retirement several years ago.

The couple are active in the First United Methodist Church of Ackerly, where he is chairman of the board and she is treasurer for the United Methodist Women and a past district vice president of the organization. Following the reception Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Coleman will repeat their wedding vows during a ceremony performed by Dr. Howard H. Hollowell of Abilene.

Coleman, who has served three terms as president of the Lions Club, is a member of the board of trustees of McMurry College, a board member for the Sears Memorial Home, Abilene; a faculty member of Girlstown, Hereford; and a member of the Texas Cattlemen's Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Coleman, who count traveling among their interest, are members of Texas Big Country Air-Stream Club, Abilene, with him serving as vice president this year. Mrs. Coleman was treasurer in 1973. With this group, they have taken caravan tours to Calgary, Alberta, Canada, as well as Mexico, and have attended the group's international convention at Notre Dame, West Bend, Ind. Their various other travels have taken them to the Hawaii, the Holy Land, New Zealand, Australia, the Fiji Islands, the Greek Isles and several other countries.

For the reception, Mrs. Coleman will wear a full-length white chiffon gown fashioned with jewel neckline, beaded sleeves, pleated overlay on the bodice and full, pleated skirt. Identical dresses, in pastel shades, will be worn by Mrs. Dudley Coleman, Mrs. King and Miss Kimberly King. Their corsages will be orchids. Coleman and the other men in the family will have boutonnieres of rosebuds and carnations.

Members of the house party will include Mrs. Janie Hickman, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hensley, Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Calhoun, Gail; Mr. and Mrs.

Edward McArthur, Cloud Croft, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Kelly, Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Horton, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. O'Brian Bolin and Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Witt, all of Ackerly; and Mr. and Mrs. Charles King, Lamesa. Numerous out-of-town guests are expected to attend.

A wedding cake, adorned with fresh flowers, will be served from a table laid with beige lace over gold. The coffee table, covered with a gold double knit cloth, will be accented with a metal sculpture. The dining table will be covered with an aqua lace cloth over gold and will be centered with gold candelabra arranged with spring flowers.

International Women's Conference

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The wives of the Egyptian and Philippine presidents say the women's rights movement should not become a competition against men.

Imelda Marcos of the Philippines, in a speech prepared for the International Women's Conference, and Jihan Sadat of Egypt, in an interview, contended that the feminist movement in the United States and other prosperous nations is too demanding and antimale.

"The demand for equality has too often had overtones of revenge, the venting of grievances, the acquisition of advantage, the aggression of concealed hatred and envy," said Mrs. Marcos in a keynote address to the conference today.

The feminist movement "should not and need not be antimale," she said. "Women are not adversaries, the enemies of men, but their equal partners."

She said the Oriental woman "has not sacrificed her femininity to individualism but has rather enhanced it with participation. She has not striven for a sterile status but has preferred to play her true role in nature and human society."

In an interview Thursday, Mrs. Sadat said the emancipation of woman "should not become a competition against man or turn into the kind of extremism that it has in the United States."

She said emancipation should not wreck the companionship between women and men because "the two need and complement each other."

"It should not break up families because the family is the nucleus of society. It should take place in complete harmony."

"As long as women get their rights and freedoms, I do not see why there should be any clashes."

More than 5,000 women and men are attending the two-week conference sponsored by the United Nations and a parallel "Tribune" for nongovernmental delegates.

A substantial number of delegations to the U.N. conference are led by wives, sisters or other relatives of heads of state or government. The Tribune is drawing the bulk of the militant feminists from the United States and other nations.

Nuptial Rites Changing?

DALLAS (AP) — As wedding costs go up, many couples with an eye for the unusual and a concern for their pocketbooks are saying their "I do's" under a thick canopy of trees instead of in the ritual splendor of a church.

"My family always knew I'd prefer an outdoor wedding over a ceremony indoors," said Diann LeNeveu. "So I don't think they were very surprised when we told them our plans."

She and her husband, Donald, were married in April at Lakeside Park along Turtle Creek. "It was really beautiful. The azaleas were in bloom, and besides, the place had a sentimental value for us since Don and I had gone there on our third date."

Diana and Charles Boulter had planned to be married Feb. 14, but postponed their wedding until May 25, when landscaping was completed in Old City Park.

"Neither one of us are superreligious people," Mrs.

Boulter said. "We decided that instead of looking for a house or something to be married in, we'd have it in the park."

Their families, at first, were a little skeptical, she said.

"Especially Charles' mother. She was pretty hesitant about the whole thing until it was over. Then she saw how well it all went."

Jean Craft, assistant to the director of the Dallas Parks Department, says they know of 60 weddings which have been performed in Dallas parks since the fall of 1973.

And while there is no charge for using the parks for the ceremonies, Mrs. Craft advises couples considering a wedding in a city park to consult with the Parks Department first. That way, she says, they can avoid unexpected encounters with sprinklers and maintenance crews.

Because, after all, there are pitfalls to outdoor nuptials, as outdoor wedding veterans will attest.

"People kept coming by in their cars, slowing down and watching what was going on, but that wasn't the problem," explains Mrs. LeNeveu. "A couple of planes flew over, and that was distracting. Then someone across the street started mowing their lawn, so one of the ushers went over and explained what was going on and the mowing stopped."

Neither bugs, low-flying birds nor noisy airplanes caused concern for the Boulter's wedding — mud did.

"I think the worst thing about the wedding was the mud. It had rained just about every day that week, so the morning of the wedding, Charles and a bunch of his friends went out to the park and laid wooden sidewalks so we could get to the gazebo."

What if it had rained? "I tried to think that it wasn't going to rain," said Mrs. Boulter. "Everyone prayed for sunshine, I guess."

It's Fiesta Time In San Angelo!

It's Fiesta time in San Angelo, Fiesta del Concho kicked off Saturday with Myrna Torres as queen. Events today include an antique aircraft show, horse races, and water skiing at Bell Street bridge. Monday continues the aircraft show; Tuesday — aircraft show, carnival, fish rodeo, talent show; Wednesday — same, plus "Mellerdrummer"; Thursday — same, plus formal dance; Friday — same, plus river parade, 7:30 p.m., and Gulf Coast rifle match; Saturday — aircraft show, canoe races, Texas parachute Sky Divers, arts and crafts, carnival, home tours, style show, balloon races, antique auto parade, Western dance, Mellerdrummer, motorcycle event. You can get a catalogue of events, with map, from Fiesta del Concho, 17 N. Chadbourne, or call 915-655-4136.

Pat Krahn, Lubbock artist, will instruct in a drawing workshop at the Garden and Arts Center, 4215 University, in Lubbock June 30-July 3 from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Beginners will be introduced to materials and basic principles of composition; intermediates and advanced pupils will have the opportunity to develop individual skills. Mrs. Krahn, who has had 15 solo shows and has been cited in the last TFFA regional exhibitions, also will teach evening classes in drawing, water color and pastels July 8-31.

The Alabama Coushatta Indian Reservation at Livingston launched its new summer pageant, "Beyond the Sundown," Saturday and will continue through the next eight weeks, ending Aug. 23.

Ever since Willie Nelson's first 4th of July Picnic in a sun-baked ravine near Dripping Springs drew some 50,000 rather than the 10,000 predicted, folks have taken notice. This year, his 4th of July Picnic is set for a race track six miles south of College Station, and predictions are for 100,000 to attend the country and rock music festival.

Summer Mumpers, the "mellerdrummer" group of Midland Community Theatre, open their 27th season July 4th at American Legion Hall, 206 S. Colorado in downtown Midland. The piece this year is "Calamity on the Colorado" or "The Briscoe Kid Rides Again." The tongue-in-cheek production stars a number of more or less colorful characters riding through Texas politics, plus a few national and international figures. There's plenty of boogie and hissing. An old fashioned music hall variety show follows. The box office is P.O. Box 4847, or phone 915-682-2544.

Rod Kennedy's Quiet Valley Ranch is the scene for the Kerrville C&W Jamboree starting 6 p.m., July 3-4-5. Some of the attractions are Backwoods Volunteers, champion banjo picker, Tiny Jimmy Herley, of Hobbs, N.M.; Roy Acuff Jr., Red Sovine, Johnny Gimble, Nat Stuckey, and Hank Thompson, plus many, many others. The Texas Arts and Crafts Fair will be going on in Kerrville the same dates.

Museum of the Southwest in Midland is organizing a bus trip to Canyon for the celebrated musical pageant, "Texas," with stops in Lubbock for the Texas Tech Museum and Ranch Headquarters and Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum at Canyon. The date July 12; price $21.50, plus barbecue meal, tickets. Write to Las Mano, 1705 W1 Missouri, Midland, 79701.

Texas Tech's Bicentennial tent show may go on the road in 1976. It will be a Harley Sadler-type production, replete with candy, show and all. The company will play a two-week engagement at Round Top Festival, then may go on the road. Scripts are those once used by Sadler.

The Texas Ranger exhibit is drawing steady traffic—several hundred so far—at the Heritage Museum. Backing up the 48 panels with a photographic history of the Lone Star State's most historic law enforcement group is the standing exhibit on "Brandin' Time," plus examples of works of the pioneer artist, H. W. Caylor. There were 40 youngsters from Jack & Jill inspecting the exhibit Friday. The museum is open 1-5 p.m. today and 10 a.m.-5 p.m. daily. New members during the week were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Duke, Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Merrick and Mr. and Mrs. Wendell L. Young.

The Carlsbad, N.M. Area Art Association will have its 12th annual Tri-State Arts and Craft show Aug. 3-16. All artists in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona (18 years and over) may participate, and works must be originals in painting, sculpture, crafts, ceramics and photography. Information may be had from the association at Box 55, Carlsbad, N.M., 88220.

An exhibition featuring four design proposals for a new physics building for the University of Texas at Arlington and four for a new contemporary art museum facility in Dallas will be on special display at the Fort Worth Art Museum, 1309 Montgomery, June 23-July 13.

If you want, or would like it to send it to your friends, West Texas Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 1561, Abilene, 79606, will send you free the Fun and Adventure map with photos and information on 68 points of interest located in 132 West Texas counties.

Tickets will go on sale the latter part of this week for "Guys and Dolls," the Broadway musical being staged July 10, 11 and 12 by the Community Theatre group at Howard College. Director John Gordon and musical director Ken Sprinkle say rehearsals are coming along in great style, although a few more volunteers are needed to play bit parts. Leads are being played by Capt. Dick Risk, Kay Barnett, Laurie Choate and David Wright. Charles Grizzard and Ricky Mitchell have two good parts, and they also happen to have the title number, "Guys and Dolls."

Bikini Exposes A Chubby Waistline

By MARY SUE MILLER
How is your waistline reacting to wide, wrapped belts — or no belt at all, as in a bikini? If your answer is "not too well," better resolve to trim down.

This routine will slenderize a waist to size before the summer season (unless, that is, you are excessively overweight and also need to diet):

1. Lie down on floor with legs together and arms down at sides. Simultaneously pull in stomach and fling arms up and back to touch floor at full extension. Holding position, stretch legs downward so as to get strong pull in waist. Return to starting position and relax. Repeat 10 to 20 times, always working for an increased stretch in waist muscles.

2. Back down as before, bend knees until sole of feet lie flat. Now raise buttocks and support with hands. Contract abdomen and hold for 5 counts. Lower back to floor, slowly. Relax and repeat 10 times. Be sure to keep back straight throughout.

3. Stand with back to wall; hug sides of waist with hands. Slowly bend forward and bring up left knee to touch nose. Straighten up and, without stopping, repeat 10 times. Then touch right knee to nose — same count.

While awaiting improvements, a waistline finds instant persuasion in a stretch girdle with a wide waistband. It is a cinch without pinch.

Baby Shower Held Thursday

Mrs. Robbie Van Vleet of Luther was honored at a baby gift shower Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Jean Hooper, 2105 Runnels.

Cohostesses with Mrs. Hooper were Mrs. Robyn Smith, Mrs. Carolyn Burton, Mrs. Maurine Huff and Mrs. Gay Oliver.

Mrs. Van Vleet was presented a corsage made of yellow bobby sox trimmed with white lace. Her mother, who is Mrs. Robert Cline of Lena, La., was unable to attend.

Guests were served refreshments from a table covered with yellow linen overlaid with a white lace cloth, and the centerpiece was a yellow and orange polka dot giraffe adorned with miniature baby figurines. Other appointments carried out the theme of the shower, and the cake was decorated in yellow and orange. Calling hours were from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

Quickie

For open-face sandwiches, spread buttered toast with baked beans and top with grated cheddar cheese, making sure the cheese covers the edges of the bread slices. Broil slowly so the beans heat and the cheese melts. Serve with pickles and a salad.

B&PW Cites Newswoman

Mrs. Jo Bright, women's editor of the Big Spring Herald, has been honored by the Business and Professional Women's Club by being named "Woman of the Month" during the B&PW's observance of International Women's Year. The honor was bestowed on Mrs. Bright for her role in communications, as the B&PW continues its 1975 program of citing women of achievement in various professions.

Mrs. Bright was born in Singer, La. where her father, the late John Foster, was a druggist, merchant and the town constable. Her mother is Mrs. Edward A. Coel of Houston, the former Susan Carroll of Merryville, La.

A graduate of Thomas Jefferson High School, Port Arthur, Mrs. Bright attended the University of Houston and Miami University at Oxford, Ohio. During World War II, she received the Navy commendation while assigned to the U.S. Naval Communications Station, Bainbridge Island, Wash.

and, after the war ended, spent two years in Guatemala.

Returning to Houston, she joined the Foreign Department of the Second National Bank, remaining in that job a year before becoming a stewardess for Pioneer Airlines, which later merged with Continental Airlines.

Coming to Big Spring in 1950, Mrs. Bright was active in a number of local organizations and civic endeavors before joining the Big Spring Herald staff. She was a member of the Newcomer's Club, Mu Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, Washington Parent-Teacher Association, Ladies Golf Association of Big Spring Country Club, Spoudazio Fora Study Club, BPO Does and YMCA. She served as a neighborhood organizer and troop leader for Girl Scouts, assisted with Little League, helped organize a local hospital auxiliary and served on the Volunteer Council of the Big Spring State Hospital Auxiliary.

Mrs. Bright began work for the Herald in 1959 in the circulation department, then edited the business page for the advertising department before transferring to the editorial department as food editor. It was during this time that the Herald's Women's Department won a national award in the Penny University of Missouri journalism competition. In recent years, Mrs. Bright has won a first place and an honorable mention (for feature writing) in state competition sponsored by the Associated Press, she is listed in "Who's Who in American Women."

Mrs. Bright has one daughter, Mrs. Rebecca Williams of Houston, and a son, Robert Bruce Bright of Big Spring.

Knott Slates Homecoming

The Knott Homecoming has been scheduled June 28 at the First Baptist Church, Knott, beginning at 4:30 p.m., followed by a fish fry at 6:30 p.m. All community residents, ex-students and teachers are invited to attend, and each family is asked to bring a salad or dessert.

FOCUS ON FAMILY LIVING

Sugar Is Expensive — Why Use So Much?

Why sugar is so expensive has recently become a burning consumer issue, but a more appropriate question might be, "why use so much?"

Sugar hasn't always been a major source of calories. In fact, not until the 16th century did large consignments begin to arrive in Europe. Before that, Westerners had only limited contact with sugar and depended on honey and fruit for sweetness.

In the United States, sugar consumption has grown from none, when the pilgrims arrived, to an awesome figure of over 100 pounds per person per year. And even though total food consumption has declined in recent years, sugar consumption has remained constant.

In 1974, per capita sugar consumption was 101.5 pounds. Estimates for 1975 from a reliable source are 97.8 pounds per person. Not much of a decline when you consider the high price.

To put it simply, daily sugar consumption equals about 500 calories or 2-3 of a cup. Add this up over a year — and it amounts to about 180,000 calories or 50 pounds of body fat! Is it any wonder medical and dental professionals are concerned about high sugar intake?

TOOTH DECAY

Sugar is a major factor in the cause of tooth decay, one of the nation's leading health problems. When sugar is present in the mouth for extended periods of time, it provides an excellent medium for the growth of acid-producing bacteria. The acids erode tooth enamel ultimately causing dental caries.

Cancer has also been expressed about the relationship between sugar and cardiovascular disease. Research in this area, although nonconclusive, points to a mechanism by which dietary sucrose (table sugar) might predispose one to heart disease. Some researchers have found a positive correlation between the amount of sucrose consumed and the level of blood lipids; the greater the sugar, the higher the lipid level.

Not only are we plagued by over-consumption, but we must also contend with misconceptions about sugar. Many believe sugar is needed for energy. This is only half true. Carbohydrate is necessary for energy and sugar is just one source of carbohydrate. Other sources including bread, flour, potatoes and macaroni products supply energy as well.

WHAT TO DO

So, what can you do? Dr. Jean Mayer, noted Harvard nutrition professor, recommends sugar intake be reduced. But a diet completely free of sugar is practically impossible and not necessary unless a medical problem demands a sugar-free diet.

Sugar is a natural constituent of many foods such as fruits, vegetables and milk. The sweet compounds in these foods may or may not be sucrose, since fructose, lactose and glucose also occur naturally in foods.

Fructose, the sweetest of all the sugars, is common to fruits and honey. Milk and dairy products are the only dietary sources of lactose.

Glucose, fairly well distributed in fruits, some vegetables and honey, is also referred to as blood sugar. Once inside the body, all sugars will be converted to glucose, so they can be used for energy.

In some food products, especially baked goods, sugar is needed for the proper flavor and texture. Shortened cakes and cookies are two examples. Successful bread making would also be hampered without sugar. And finally sugar is a "hidden" ingredient in many food products — added to enhance the flavor. If you would like to have a copy of a new bulletin, "Sweetness — The Choice is Yours!", call 267-8469. This bulletin gives substitutes for table sugar, amount to substitute and recipes.

MRS. MARLON DAVID HALE

Garden City Church Scene Of Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Marlon David Hale are on a trip to Ft. Worth following their wedding Saturday evening in the First United Methodist Church, Garden City.

The Rev. Fred Witta Jr. performed the ceremony with Miss Phyllis Johnson of St. Lawrence as pianist and Miss Linda Batla of St. Lawrence and Mrs. Steve Livingston as vocalists. The altar was decorated with an archway of greenery, basket arrangements of gladioli and branched candelabra.

The bride is the former Miss Rebecca Sue Robinson, daughter of Mrs. W. L. Robinson, Box 83, Garden City and the late W. L. Robinson. The bridegroom is the son of Charlie Hale, Wood Street, and Mrs. Evelyn Hale, Box 250, Gail Route. Hale and his bride are both graduates of Garden City High School and he is employed at the McDowell Ranch. The couple will reside on the Sterling City Route.

For the wedding, the bride chose a formal gown of white satin designed with square neckline on the lace-covered, empire bodice. Long organza sleeves, capped with lace, were gathered into lace cuffs. The satin skirt was overlaid with organza. Her finger-tip-length veil of illusion, edged in lace, fell from a headpiece covered with lace. She carried a nosegay of feathered carnations.

The bridal attendants were Miss Sheryl Newell, maid of honor; Miss Deborah Robinson, sister of the bride, Miss Sheri Hale, sister of the bridegroom, bridesmaids. They were attired in long dresses of dark purple polyester crepe fashioned with empire waistline, scooped neckline and puff sleeves of lavender organza. Lavender ribbons adorned their hair, and they carried nosegays of lavender carnations.

Mike Blissard served as best man, and groomsmen were Jerry Robinson, brother of the bride, and Rusty Pendley, Melvin L. Robinson, brother of the bride, and Joe Wooten were ushers. Miss Renetta Robinson of Eldorado was the flower girl, and Matt Robinson of Eunice, N. M., was the ring bearer.

Immediately following the ceremony, the couple was honored with a reception in the fellowship hall of the church, where refreshments were served by Miss Cindy Halfmann, Miss Shirley Schwartz, Miss Phyllis Johnson and Miss Linda Batla, all of St. Lawrence; Miss Martha Doe and Mrs. Ryan Walker, the latter of Big Spring. The table was covered with a white lace cloth, and the centerpiece was an arrangement of the bride's bouquet surrounded by the bridesmaids' nosegays. Crystal and silver appointments were used on the table.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. George Hillger and Mr. and Mrs. Loren Robinson, all of Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Robinson, Eldorado; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Robinson, Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Davis, Coahoma; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Robinson, Eunice, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Winterrowd, Ackerly; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hanson and Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Hale, all of Big Spring.

Child Born In Oklahoma

Mr. and Mrs. Jack N. Bowen of Oklahoma City, Okla. announce the birth of a daughter, Rhonda Michele, June 4 at Baptist Medical Center. The infant weighed 5 pounds, 9 ounces.

The mother is the former Linda Fenley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Fenley, 624 Settles, and the infant's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James N. Bowen, 1714 Purdue. The great-grandmothers are Mrs. J. W. Breckenridge, Gainesville; Mrs. C. C. Patton, Mansfield; and Mrs. Frank Collins, Fort Worth.

Bowen is news director of KOCO-TV, Oklahoma City.

Engaged Couple Feted At Dinner

Miss Phyllis Hattenbach and James L. Wilson, who will be married July 19 in the Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church, were honored at a dinner party Saturday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Swartz with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Swartz cohosting the affair.

are Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hattenbach and Mrs. Jacqueline Wilson and the late Jack Wilson.

The 20 guests were seated at tables where accents carried out a spring theme, and centerpieces were French bouquets.

The host couples presented gifts to the honorees.

MRS. JO BRIGHT

B&PW Cites Newswoman

Mrs. Jo Bright, women's editor of the Big Spring Herald, has been honored by the Business and Professional Women's Club by being named "Woman of the Month" during the B&PW's observance of International Women's Year. The honor was bestowed on Mrs. Bright for her role in communications, as the B&PW continues its 1975 program of citing women of achievement in various professions.

Mrs. Bright was born in Singer, La. where her father, the late John Foster, was a druggist, merchant and the town constable. Her mother is Mrs. Edward A. Coel of Houston, the former Susan Carroll of Merryville, La.

A graduate of Thomas Jefferson High School, Port Arthur, Mrs. Bright attended the University of Houston and Miami University at Oxford, Ohio. During World War II, she received the Navy commendation while assigned to the U.S. Naval Communications Station, Bainbridge Island, Wash.

and, after the war ended, spent two years in Guatemala.

Returning to Houston, she joined the Foreign Department of the Second National Bank, remaining in that job a year before becoming a stewardess for Pioneer Airlines, which later merged with Continental Airlines.

Coming to Big Spring in 1950, Mrs. Bright was active in a number of local organizations and civic endeavors before joining the Big Spring Herald staff. She was a member of the Newcomer's Club, Mu Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, Washington Parent-Teacher Association, Ladies Golf Association of Big Spring Country Club, Spoudazio Foru Study Club, BPO Does and YMCA. She served as a neighborhood organizer and troop leader for Girl Scouts, assisted with Little League, helped organize a local hospital auxiliary and served on the Volunteer Council of the Big Spring State Hospital Auxiliary.

Mrs. Bright began work for the Herald in 1959 in the circulation department, then edited the business page for the advertising department before transferring to the editorial department as food editor. It was during this time that the Herald's Women's Department won a national award in the Penny University of Missouri journalism competition. In recent years, Mrs. Bright has won a first place and an honorable mention (for feature writing) in state competition sponsored by the Associated Press, she is listed in "Who's Who in American Women."

Mrs. Bright has one daughter, Mrs. Rebecca Williams of Houston, and a son, Robert Bruce Bright of Big Spring.

Knott Slates Homecoming

FOCUS ON FAMILY LIVING

Sugar Is Expensive — Why Use So Much?

Why sugar is so expensive has recently become a burning consumer issue, but a more appropriate question might be, "why use so much?"

Sugar hasn't always been a major source of calories. In fact, not until the 16th century did large consignments begin to arrive in Europe. Before that, Westerners had only limited contact with sugar and depended on honey and fruit for sweetness.

In the United States, sugar consumption has grown from none, when the pilgrims arrived, to an awesome figure of over 100 pounds per person per year. And even though total food consumption has declined in recent years, sugar consumption has remained constant.

In 1974, per capita sugar consumption was 101.5 pounds. Estimates for 1975 from a reliable source are 97.8 pounds per person. Not much of a decline when you consider the high price.

To put it simply, daily sugar consumption equals about 500 calories or 2-3 of a cup. Add this up over a year — and it amounts to about 180,000 calories or 50 pounds of body fat! Is it any wonder medical and dental professionals are concerned about high sugar intake?

TOOTH DECAY

Sugar is a major factor in the cause of tooth decay, one of the nation's leading health problems. When sugar is present in the mouth for extended periods of time, it provides an excellent medium for the growth of acid-producing bacteria. The acids erode tooth enamel ultimately causing dental caries.

Concern has also been expressed about the relationship between sugar and cardiovascular disease. Research in this area, although nonconclusive, points to a mechanism by which dietary sucrose (table sugar) might predispose one to heart disease. Some researchers have found a positive correlation between the amount of sucrose consumed and the level of blood lipids; the greater the sugar, the higher the lipid level.

Not only are we plagued by over-consumption, but we must also contend with misconceptions about sugar. Many believe sugar is needed for energy. This is only half true. Carbohydrate is necessary for energy and sugar is just one source of carbohydrate. Other sources including bread, flour, potatoes and macaroni products supply energy as well.

WHAT TO DO

So, what can you do? Dr. Jean Mayer, noted Harvard nutrition professor, recommends sugar intake be reduced. But a diet completely free of sugar is practically impossible and not necessary unless a medical problem demands a sugar-free diet.

Sugar is a natural constituent of many foods such as fruits, vegetables and milk. The sweet compounds in these foods may or may not be sucrose, since fructose, lactose and glucose also occur naturally in foods.

Fructose, the sweetest of all the sugars, is common to fruits and honey. Milk and dairy products are the only dietary sources of lactose.

Glucose, fairly well distributed in fruits, some vegetables and honey, is also referred to as blood sugar. Once inside the body, all sugars will be converted to glucose, so they can be used for energy.

In some food products, especially baked goods, sugar is needed for the proper flavor and texture. Shortened cakes and cookies are two examples. Successful bread making would also be hampered without sugar. And finally sugar is a "hidden" ingredient in many food products — added to enhance the flavor.

If you would like to have a copy of a new bulletin, "Sweetness — The Choice is Yours!", call 267-8469. This bulletin gives substitutes for table sugar, amount to substitute and recipes.

MRS. MARLON DAVID HALE

Garden City Church Scene Of Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Marlon David Hale are on a trip to Ft. Worth following their wedding Saturday evening in the First United Methodist Church, Garden City.

The Rev. Fred Witt Jr. performed the ceremony with Miss Phyllis Johnson as pianist and Miss Linda Batla of St. Lawrence and Mrs. Steve Livingston as vocalists. The altar was decorated with an archway of greenery, basket arrangements of gladioli and branched candelabra.

The bride is the former Miss Rebecca Sue Robinson, daughter of Mrs. W. L. Robinson, Box 83, Garden City and the late W. L. Robinson. The bridegroom is the son of Charlie Hale, Wood Street, and Mrs. Evelyn Hale, Box 250, Gail Route. Hale and his bride are both graduates of Garden City High School and he is employed at the McDowell Ranch. The couple will reside on the Sterling City Route.

For the wedding, the bride chose a formal gown of white satin designed with square neckline on the lace-covered, empire bodice. Long organza sleeves, capped with lace, were gathered into lace cuffs. The satin skirt was overlaid with organza. Her finger-tip-length veil of illusion, edged in lace, fell from a headpiece covered with lace. She carried a nosegay of feathered carnations.

The bridal attendants were Miss Sheryl Newell, maid of honor; Miss Deborah Robinson, sister of the bride, Miss Sheri Hale, sister of the bridegroom, bridesmaids. They were attired in long dresses of dark purple polyester crepe fashioned with empire waistline, scooped neckline and puff sleeves of lavender organza. Lavender ribbons adorned their hair, and they carried nosegays of lavender carnations.

Mike Blissard served as best man, and groomsmen were Jerry Robinson, brother of the bride, and Rusty Pendley, Melvin L. Robinson, brother of the bride, and Joe Wooten were ushers. Miss Renetta Robinson of Eldorado was the flower girl, and Matt Robinson of Eunice, N. M., was the ring bearer.

Immediately following the ceremony, the couple was honored with a reception in the fellowship hall of the church, where refreshments were served by Miss Cindy Halfmann, Miss Shirley Johnson, Miss Phyllis Johnson and Miss Linda Batla, all of St. Lawrence; Miss Martha Doe and Mrs. Ryan Walker, the latter of Big Spring.

The table was covered with a white lace cloth, and the centerpiece was an arrangement of the bride's bouquet surrounded by the bridesmaids' nosegays. Crystal and silver appointments were used on the table.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. George Hillger and Mr. and Mrs. Loren Robinson, all of Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Robinson, Eldorado; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Robinson, Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Davis, Coahoma; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Robinson, Eunice, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Winterrowd, Ackerly; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hanson and Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Hale, all of Big Spring.

Child Born In Oklahoma

Mr. and Mrs. Jack N. Bowen of Oklahoma City, Okla. announce the birth of a daughter, Rhonda Michele, June 4 at Baptist Medical Center. The infant weighed 5 pounds, 9 ounces.

The mother is the former Linda Fenley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Fenley, 624 Settles, and the infant's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James N. Bowen, 1714 Purdue. The great-grandmothers are Mrs. J. W. Breckenridge, Gainesville; Mrs. C. C. Patton, Mansfield; and Mrs. Frank Collins, Fort Worth.

Bowen is news director of KOCO-TV, Oklahoma City.

Engaged Couple Feted At Dinner

MRS. ALVIE JOE FOWLER

Miss Betty Robbins Weds A. J. Fowler

Miss Betty Ruth Robbins became the bride of Alvie Joe Fowler in a ceremony held Saturday morning in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Aaron Robbins, Abilene.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Clinton Fowler Sr., Hobbs, N.M.

A simulated altar was created with candelabra, palms and greenery. Nuptial selections were by Miss Sherla Minatra, Miss Patty Minatra, Lanny Mullins and Jerry Mullins.

The bride was attired in a gown of crystal organza embellished with re-embroidered Chantilly lace.

The fitted bodice was enhanced with a lace bib edged in a narrow ruffle. The fitted waistline was centered with a lace flower and pearl beading.

Long, organza sleeves were gathered into a wide cuff trimmed in a ruffle which extended the wrists. Lace bordered the full skirt and chapel-length train. Her elbow-length veil of English illusion was crowned with a Camelot headpiece of re-embroidered Chantilly lace flowers with detailed pearl beading. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses, miniature white carnations and gypsophila.

Mrs. Rodger Mitchell, Lubbock, was the matron of honor, and Miss Mindy Robbins, Austin, was the bridesmaid. They were attired in floor-length, sheer, pale blue polyester dresses edged in white Chantilly lace.

The high neckline and yoke was accented with lace and a lace insert centered the bodice and skirt. A wide ruffle flounce framed the bottom of the skirt, and a sash marked the waistline. They carried bouquets of yellow daisies and greenery.

The father of the bridegroom was the best man. Serving as the groomsmen were Larry Cox of Denton. Ushers were Curt Robbins of Austin and Rodger Mitchell of Lubbock.

The bride is a graduate of Abilene High School, Abilene Christian College and was affiliated with the Kappa Delta Pi and Sigma Tau Delta sororities. She is teaching at Big Spring High School and Howard College. Fowler is a graduate of Hobbs High School and New Mexico Junior College. He served in the U.S. Navy four years and graduated from Oklahoma State Technical in Okmulgee, Okla., with a diploma in refrigeration and air conditioning. He is employed by Berkley Homes, Inc.

Prior to leaving on a trip to Lake Travis, Austin, the couple was honored with a reception in the bride's parents' home. The table, covered with a blue cloth overlaid by white lace, was enhanced with crystal and silver appointments and an arrangement of yellow daisies. Serving were Mrs. Roe K. Fulgham, Big Spring; Mrs. James T. Robbins, San Angelo; Miss Louise Harris, Dallas; and Miss Carolyn Fowler, sister of the bridegroom.

Out-of-town guests were Miss Louise Harris, Dallas; and Mr. and Mrs. James T. Robbins, San Angelo. The newlyweds will reside in Big Spring.

Newlyweds Plan To Live In Sterling City

The wedding of Miss Mary Catherine Hinderliter to Ewing Fowler McEntire Jr. was solemnized Friday at 10 a.m. in a garden ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. M. V. Hinderliter, Portales, N.M.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Ewing McEntire, Dallas, and the late Ewing McEntire.

The Rev. Kenneth Broad officiated with nuptial selections by Mrs. Joe Black, organist, and Mrs. Kim Ingram, vocalist.

Carrying a cascade bouquet of yellow roses, blue stephanotis and gypsophila, the bride was attired in a formal gown of white Quiana knit fashioned with a scooped neckline, long sleeves, and A-line skirt.

She wore a garden hat of white organza, with Chantilly lace edging the brim, to which was attached to a shoulder-length veil of illusion.

Mrs. Joe D. Miller, Big Spring, was matron of honor and was attired in a floor-length dress of pink and blue floral print. The bridesmaid was Miss Debbie Allison, Portales, N.M., who wore a yellow flower print floor-length dress. Each attendant wore a pink and yellow garden hat and carried a long-stemmed rose of pink and yellow, respectively.

Gene Bruce of Estallene served as best man, and Robert Lively, San Marcos, was groomsmen.

The bride is a graduate of Portales High School and attended Operating Room Technician School at Methodist Hospital, Lubbock. McEntire is a graduate of Sterling City High School, attended Texas A&M and graduated from Texas Tech University with a degree in agriculture economics.

Prior to leaving on a trip to Acapulco, Mexico, and San Antonio, the couple was honored with a reception in the home of the bride's parents.

The table was covered with a white cloth, and the appointments were of crystal and silver. The centerpiece was an arrangement of multicolored flowers. Serving refreshments were Miss Melanie McEntire, Dallas; Mrs. Tommy Hinderliter, Mrs. Danny Hinderliter and Mrs. Ritchi Hinderliter. The latter three are sisters-in-law of the bride and all from Portales, N.M.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Ewing McEntire, mother of the bridegroom; Mrs. Stan Corvin Sr. and Miss Penny Corvin, all of Dallas; Mrs. Howard Hinkle of Burk Burnett, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. W. S. Pearson, Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. Ted Williams, Poteet; Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Williams, Odessa; Miss Billie Williams, Artesia, N.M.; and Mr. and Mrs. Verle D. Hinderliter, Clovis, N.M.

The newlyweds will reside in Sterling City.

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. Donald D. Trupp, 208 Circle Drive, announce the engagement of their daughter, Karen Kay of Denver, Colo., to Bernard Charles Finnerty III, son of Mr. and Mrs. B.C. Finnerty Jr. of Aurora, Colo. The couple will be married Aug. 16 in the First United Methodist Church.

DAV Auxiliary Elects Leaders

Two top officers of the Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary were re-elected Wednesday evening during a meeting in the VFW Hall, Silver Heels. Mrs. Jack Spivey will continue to serve as commander, and Mrs. Joe Caldwell will keep the post of adjutant.

Others elected were Mrs. Dwight McCann, senior vice commander; Mrs. Fred Scott, junior commander; Mrs. Jesse Manuel, chaplain; and Mrs. Y.J. Luna, state executive committeewoman. Mrs. Archie E. True was welcomed as a new member.

The first lifetime membership in the auxiliary was presented to Mrs. Jesse Bunch who has also received a jeweled pin from the national headquarters. Jack Spivey was presented a certificate of appreciation for making a podium for the auxiliary.

It was announced that the rhinestone flag pins and greeting card clag pins have been sold, but the auxiliary will re-order. Persons wishing to buy these items may contact Mrs. Spivey, 263-7821, or Mrs. Caldwell, 267-5859.

Mrs. Manuel is making "bicentennial" cakes to be served at the Veterans Administration Hospital July 14. It was reported that cake and coffee was served Saturday by Mrs. McCann, Mrs. Manuel, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Bob Bowen and Mrs. Luna.

In other business, the meeting date was permanently changed to the third Monday of every month; the next being at 7:30 p.m., July 22.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Buck O'Neal and Mrs. Bowen.

Couple Will Wed July 12

Mr. and Mrs. Cal D. Lowry, Rt. Box 24A, announce the engagement of their daughter, Lu Anne, to Tony M. Luna, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Luna of Lubbock. The couple will be married July 12 in St. Paul Presbyterian Church.

How to select the right nursing home.

We Americans are not just living longer, we're living more useful, productive lives.

But an increasing number of the chronically ill, the old, the convalescent, need some place other than the hospital and their home where they can receive personal health care, round-the-clock attention and the opportunity to continue to live their lives with meaning.

As your community extended health care facility we want to help you make the right decision. Here are some guidelines: see your family physician to determine the kind of care needed; feel free to visit our facility; ask us for our costs in writing and financial advice about Medicaid; examine all of our facilities; check our food quality; verify our safety features; and finally, observe how our residents spend their time.

There's a lot more to selecting the right nursing home. We want to help. If you have any questions, please call or visit us.

MRS. JERRY PINNER

Wedding Ceremony Performed Saturday

The Fourteenth and Main Church of Christ was the setting for the Saturday evening wedding of Miss Diana Shanks and Jerry Pinner with Berwyn Tate, uncle of the bride, officiating.

The altar was decorated with an archway of candles and greenery. Nuptial selections were performed by an a cappella chorus directed by Dan Conley with Al Walkins Jr. as soloist.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Shanks, 1412 Johnson, and Clois Pinner of Vernon and Mrs. Virginia Standeford of Eldorado. The bride, a graduate of Big Spring High School, is employed at Big Spring Savings and Loan Association. The bridegroom is a graduate of Monahans High School and attended Angelo State University. He is employed by Oilfield Construction of Vealmoor.

Upon returning from a trip to the Dallas-Ft. Worth area, the newlyweds will reside in Big Spring.

The bride wore a gown of white peau de soie accented with Chantilly lace; the empire waistline topped with a bodice covered in seed pearls. A full skirt which flowed to a full silhouette, was edged in seed pearls. Long, full sleeves of silk organza were cuffed with lace and fastened with small satin buttons. A lace-covered cap held her tiered veil of illusion, bordered in lace, which swept into a chapel-length train. She carried a spring bouquet of daisies and yellow roses.

Mrs. Richard Swafford of Carlsbad, N.M., was the matron of honor and Mrs. Andy Nieland, Abilene, sister of the bride, and Miss Sandy McChristian were the bridesmaids. They were attired in long dresses of yellow checked gingham and carried bouquets of daisies.

Steve Moore of Monahans was the best man, and groomsmen were Kyle Carr, also of Monahans, and David Whizenhunt. Serving as ushers were Stanley Shanks, brother of the bride, and Andy Nieland of Abilene, brother-in-law of the bride.

Immediately following the ceremony, the couple was honored with a reception in the fellowship hall of the church where refreshments were served by Miss Ginger Ditmore, Miss June Haight, Miss Charla Hicks, Miss Karen McCasland and Miss Kathy Fryar. The table was covered by a yellow checked gingham cloth. Crystal and silver appointments were used, and candelabra and the bride's bouquet formed the centerpiece.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Clois Pinner, Mrs. J. L. Pinner and Jimmy Pinner, all of Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Standeford, Eldorado; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Wells, San Angelo; Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Keith, Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Autov Shanks, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Shanks, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Shanks and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lumry, all of Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. Mike Thomas, Albuquerque, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Fleming and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Tate, all of Ft. Worth; Mrs. Berwyn Tate and Miss Teresa Tate, both of Houston; Richard Swafford, Carlsbad, N.M.; and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Tate and Mr. and Mrs. Newell Tate, all of Tarzan.

Ms. Jane Morris announces the marriage of her daughter Cindy to John Lyons, son of Edward Lyons and the late Mrs. Lyons. They were married June 10 in Big Spring. Cindy is the daughter of the late Billy Gene Morris.

Werewolves, Vampires, Bigfoot Live In Books

By SUSAN CONLEY
Do werewolves and vampires really exist? Is there really a large monster in the North woods that leaves a five-toed footprint like humans? Legends have existed for many years about werewolves, vampires, and Bigfoot. Most of them are a mixture of truth and fantasy. Vampires have their origins in Europe as far back as 400 years ago. Vampires can be either female or male. According to legends, a person becomes a vampire if he has been bitten by one. Thus it is important to destroy a vampire immediately.

COFFIN DWELLERS
Vampires are neither living nor dead. They are suspended between life and death. During the day vampires sleep in coffins, but at night they come out for blood. Some stories say that vampires have victimized a town for over 72 years before they were killed. "Vampires" by Nancy Garden will tell you many interesting stories. Many countries have folk tales about werewolves. Werewolves are supposed to be sent from the devil and often are witches. Some people were changed into werewolves by evil forces and were forced to spend their lives this way. Most of the time, a werewolf looked like a normal human being and only changed shape at certain times. A story about a werewolf from the book "Werewolves" by Nancy Garden goes like this: A hunter was out one day looking for game. A wolf suddenly ran up and attacked him. He managed to get his knife and cut the wolf before it ran away. He then noticed the wolf's paw had been cut off. He put it in his bag and returned home. When he took the paw out to show his master—it was the small hand of a lady. The hand belonged to the wife of his master. She was a werewolf.

FEMALE BIGFOOT
Bigfoot, also known as Sasquatch, is the legendary man-ape of the Pacific Northwest. Many men have been scared by the strange noises they have heard at night. Large footprints discovered the next morning have measured seventeen inches long! There is even a photo of a female Bigfoot. One man claims to have been kidnapped by a family of Sasquatches. It is difficult to say exactly what does live in these remote mountain regions but it is certain something does. "On the Track of Bigfoot" by M. Place will answer a lot of questions about this man-like animal.

WHO NEEDS TOM SAWYER'S WIFE? — A fence is a fence, except in cases where painting it becomes a work of art and pretty Druanne Priddy adds her own classic touch here, while keeping cool with the aid of a sprinkling system. She's the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Priddy.

'Defrosted Zombie' Glad To Be Alive

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Gloria Swanson is unhappy about a number of things — but having lived to 76 and "being still vertical while so many others are horizontal" is not one of them. "People expect a sugar lump old lady," she says with a laugh. What they get is a highly complex personality shielded in a 5-foot, 1/2-inch trim figure, reddish shoulder-length curls under a black and blood-red turban and a black shawl wrapped high on the shoulders. Miss Swanson, visiting friends in Miami during a swing around the South, enumerates her dislikes. Chief among them is the description of her having the air of a person who was put upon this earth solely to descend curving staircases. "Have you heard the latest one? That man, that Rex, Rex ... Reed. He said I looked like a defrosted zombie," she says about the entertainment columnist. "I think that's the funniest thing." A generation after she made Sunset Boulevard one of the world's famous streets, Miss Swanson still expresses distinct, straight-cut views about a number of things. She is unhappy that some people think it's the ultimate in chic to meet for lunch. "Watching a lot of jaws going is like watching a lot of cows." She is unhappy with the world in general, because "so much of it is sick, and unnecessarily so." She is unhappy with today's movies. "I don't go see them very much because I would be embarrassed. I think what happens in them is so sordid." She's unhappy with actors who don't know how to handle success. "Success is very dangerous. It does dreadful things to you."

Sally's Contract 'Shampoo' Draws Money And Talk

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Superior Court judge has ordered Sally Struthers' contract dispute with the makers of "All in the Family" submitted to arbitration.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Warren Beatty's office is the penthouse of the Beverly Wilshire Hotel, a cluttered apartment with sundeck from which he can gaze down at the community that was portrayed in his movie "Shampoo." In his 15-year film career, Beatty has acted in 14 movies and produced two. The first of his productions was the 1967 "Bonnie and Clyde," which aroused a storm of controversy and a bundle of money. "I made the picture for $1.9 million and to date it has earned about $35 million," said the producer-star. His second production is this year's "Shampoo," which is drawing the same reaction in terms of talk and money. "Shampoo" cost $2.5 million below-the-line," he said, referring to actual production expense; talent costs probably added $1.5 million. "The figures Columbia has been giving me are unbelievable. They're talking about maybe $35 million domestic and $15 million foreign. I don't expect the foreign

Sec's Objects Write About Julie, Marlon

LOS ANGELES (AP) — What is a supersec? According to Alice Marchak and Linda Hunter, she is a secretary to a superstar, with all hoopla and headaches the job implies. The two ladies should know. Miss Marchak has worked 19 action-filled years as secretary to Marlon Brando, and Miss Hunter has also served with Brando and now functions internationally as secretary to Julie Andrews and Blake Edwards. "But after all these years, I'm no longer just a secretary," said Miss Marchak. "I take care of the house, I make all the arrangements for parties, I order Marlon's clothes, and because he has never had a publicist, I handle his press relations." And much more. But she draws the line at trying to untangle Brando's personal life. That life is no longer as wild as it once was, she says, but she can recall the hectic times. During his travels Brando was inclined to tell girls to "drop in some time," and sometimes they would be stacked up at his hilltop house like the holding pattern at Los Angeles International. Misses Marchak and Hunter have recorded their more printable adventures in a new book, "The Supersecs," which proves that stars can be heroes and heroines to their secretaries. "The question interviewers ask most is: What is Marlon really like?" Miss Marchak said in a recent interview. "I am amazed that people still think of him in terms of 25 years ago — as the angry man with torn T-shirt and motorcycle. I try to explain that Marlon has matured since then."

Crop Damage Reported In Midland-Odessa Area

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Cotton and sorghum replanting is under way in West Texas where recent hail, high winds, and blowing sand caused heavy damage, Dr. John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says.

Some 250,000 acres of cotton were destroyed by severe weather in the South Plains. Crop damage also was heavy in the Midland-Odessa area, he said.

Heavy rains damaged much of the young soybean crop in Southeast Texas, Hutchison said.

The peach harvest remains in full swing in Central Texas although the crop is generally short because of late freezing temperatures, Hutchison said. A good crop is being harvested in Gillespie County.

Walnut caterpillars and webworms are causing some damage to the pecan crop in south central areas where control measures have not been taken, he said.

District agricultural agents gave these reports:

Panhandle: Wheat harvesting has started in southern areas. Corn, sorghum and cotton are making good progress. Thrrips are heavy in some cotton. More moisture is needed. Hornflies are building up in cattle.

South Plains: Soybean planting is about complete. Wheat harvesting should peak soon. Early planted sunflowers are beginning to bloom. Range and livestock conditions are good.

Rolling Plains: About 70 per cent of the small grain crop has been harvested. Yields are fair to good. Cotton planting is about 75 per cent complete. Range conditions are mostly average to above average.

North Central: Small grain harvesting is more than 50 per cent complete. Hay making is active. Some early sorghum is beginning to head. About 40 per cent of the peanut crop and 25 per cent of the soybean acreage has been planted. Peaches are maturing.

Northeast: Corn and sorghum are making good growth. Hay making is active with generally good yields. Plums and early peaches are being harvested. Nuts are forming on pecan trees. Pasture and livestock conditions are good.

Far West: Cotton and sorghum are making good progress although hail damage was heavy in the Midland-Odessa area. Harvesting of onions is about complete. Livestock are in good to excellent shape. A general rain is still needed.

West Central: Small grain harvesting is 65 per cent complete. Early cotton and sorghum fields are making good progress. Some hay is being baled. Livestock and range conditions are good.

Central: Harvesting of small grains is about complete. Yields are generally good. Cotton and

'Violinist' Fighting Word, Son!

WEISER, Idaho (AP) — A violin and a fiddle are the same stringed instrument. But don't call a competitor at the National Oldtime Fiddlers Festival a "violinist."

That's a fighting word to most of the 278 contestants and 2,500 fans who flocked to this town on the Oregon-Idaho border to stomp and sway to the twang of bluegrass, country and Western music this week.

"A fiddler gets his music sitting on an old log back of the barn. A violinist gets his from a sheet of music," said Fannie Chandler, a long-time pianist for the festival.

Mannie Shaw of Corral, Idaho, a veteran fiddler, said the difference between a fiddle and a violin "is the same as the difference between your car and your automobile. There isn't any difference in the music. You can't explain it. You feel it. I'm a fiddler. Rubenoff is a violinist."

And even though the distinction is not precise, judges can disqualify an entrant if they believe his music sounds more like it comes from a violin than a fiddle.

The competition has attracted fiddlers from throughout the nation, ranging in age from 7 to 80 and over. The last of the champions in five divisions will be named Saturday night.

VOTE TO ABOLISH HIS JOB Jubal(ation)

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Bureau of Mines urged Congress to abolish his job because he hasn't had anything to do in four years besides listening to Beethoven records may soon get his way.

The House voted to abolish the Federal Metal and Nonmetallic Mine Safety Board of Review and its $19,693-a-year post of executive secretary.

Jubal Hale, who's held that post since the board was established in 1971, says he's ready to look for another job and thinks Congress has no choice but to abolish the board.

He maintains that things are so slow in the office that he spends his time listening to Beethoven records and reading.

By voice vote, the House approved a measure to abolish the board and transfer its jurisdiction to the interior secretary. The proposal was in the form of an amendment tacked onto a funding bill for federal agencies whose regular budgets for the coming fiscal year have not yet passed Congress.

The House then approved the whole package 400 to 16 and sent it to the Senate where a bill by Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., to abolish the review board is pending.

The board was established in 1971 to hear appeals from non-coal mine operators ordered to shut down for violating mine safety standards. But although more than 3,000 such closure orders have been issued since then, none has ever been appealed to the board.

Rep. Ken Hechler, D-W. Va., who led the House drive to abolish the board, called it a "do-nothing board" and a "useless activity."

He said that his criticism was not a reflection on Hale, whom he complimented for advocating that Congress abolish the board and his own job. There was no immediate comment from Hale about the House action.

Mitchell Well To Be Stepout

Tri State Oil and Gas No. 1 R.E. McMillan will be a three-fourths mile stepout from a recent Clearfork discovery, the company's No. 1 Pace, seven miles northwest of Westbrook. The Mitchell venture will be 513 from the south and 3163 from the east lines, section 62-97, H&TC. The discovery rated 91 barrels of oil and gas, oil ratio of 181-1.

Coquina No. 1 Holton, Dawson deep wildcat, was below 11,557 and Coquina No. 1 Lindsey was at 7,300.

In Glasscock County Petroleum Exploration (formerly Fort Worth Production) No. 1 Christi was shut in at 5,998-8,274 after fracturing with 144,000 gallons.

KENNETH RAYMOND
Raymond Heads Technologists

Kenneth Raymond, chief radiologic technician at Malone-Hogan Hospital, was installed the past week in Midland as president of the Permian Basin Society of Radiologic Technologists.

Raymond is a newcomer to the Permian Basin, coming from Lubbock where he was associated with Dr. Howard R. Hancock, radiologist.

He is a member of the Texas Society of Radiologic Technologists where he has served as president, vice-president and chairman of the board. He is also a member of the Inspection Team of the Joint Review Committee on Education of the American Medical Association.

Active in the American Society of Radiologic Technologists, Raymond has given several scientific papers, lectured at chief technicians seminars and given numerous refresher courses at state meetings.

Other officers installed were Sandi Sivertson, R. T. (ARRT) of Odessa, vice-president Joan Flynn, R. T. (ARRT) of Midland, secretary treasurer.

Old-Timer Wins Event

DENVER, Colo. — At 35, Lee Markholt is an old-timer in the sport of forgotten names and faces they call rodeo.

Of rodeo's seven events, bull riding has the biggest turnover of contestants. Cowboys come and go, and only those who are top riders stay in year after year, unless they lose their nerve or get tired and lonely enough from the constant travel, and decide to get into something else. Lee falls into the latter category.

A bull rider out of the Sixties, most of today's younger hands didn't know Lee when he showed up at the season's first big one in Denver last January, wearing black hat, faded blue jeans and scuffed boots. What they really wondered about, though, was his equipment—a worn bull rope with no fancy leather woven into the handhold and no custom-made hair pad to cushion the pressure between the hand and the bull's back. Not even a pair of bright leather chaps.

They figured he was just another "brush hand," and welcomed his $75 entry fee to the rich pot. When he ended up winning $3,000 back from the pot, they looked up his name.

History Expert Heads Library?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pulitzer Prize-winning historian Daniel J. Boorstin has been nominated to succeed L. Quincy Mumford as librarian of Congress.

The nomination of Boorstin, 60, senior historian at the Smithsonian Institution and Technology, was announced Friday by President Ford. The nomination is subject to Senate confirmation.

Boorstin won the Pulitzer Prize for history in 1974 for "The Americans: The Democratic Experience."

Candice Bergen stars as an American abducted by a Berber chief, thus bringing about the invasion of Morocco by the U.S. Marines during the Theodore Roosevelt administration. This is the exciting story told in MGM's presentation for United Artists release, "The Wind and the Lion," opening Friday at the Ritz Theatre.
