

Lightning Struck Giant Jetliner?

NEW YORK (AP) — Officials are investigating the possibility that lightning struck a jetliner attempting to land during an electrical storm, causing it to crash in flames near a crowded highway. Authorities said 110 persons aboard the flight from New Orleans died.

Fourteen survivors were hospitalized. Firemen said early today that 108 bodies had been found in the marshy area at the edge of Kennedy International Airport where the Eastern Airlines Boeing 727 plane, nonstop flight 66 from New Orleans, crashed late Tuesday afternoon. Two other persons died at a hospital.

There was still confusion today on the number of persons aboard the jet. A spokesman for the airline said there were 116 passengers and 7 crew members, a total of 123. But the hospital where two of the victims died said a total of 16 persons had been admitted and the 14 were still alive. Added to the 108 bodies counted by the firemen at the crash scene, this would make a total of 124 aboard.

It was one of the worst airplane disasters in the history of the United States. In 1960, 134 persons were killed when a United Airlines DC8 and a Trans World Airlines Super Constellation collided in the air over New York City. The nation's worst one-plane crash killed 111 persons when an Alaska Airlines 727 crashed near Juneau in 1971. The survivors of Tuesday's crash included two small girls. Most of the survivors were badly burned.

Mobster Tells Of Five Attempts To Kill Castro

WASHINGTON (AP) — Underworld figure John Rosselli's account of CIA attempts to kill Cuban Premier Fidel Castro in the early 1960s involves "cash payments, poison pellets, high-powered rifles and power boat dashes to Cuba," columnist Jack Anderson said today.

Anderson. The columnist reported that Rosselli said he was recruited in Los Angeles in 1960 by Robert Maheu, then an aide to billionaire Howard Hughes who previously had done work for the Central Intelligence Agency. Rosselli identified the CIA project officer in charge of the Castro assassination attempt as "Big Jim" O'Connell, Anderson said.

The World At-A-Glance

AGANA, Guam (AP) — "Tent City," the first home in American territory for more than 90,000 Vietnamese refugees, is being pulled down. The temporary shelter's last 3,800 residents were moved to permanent buildings elsewhere on the Pacific Island after a tropical downpour drenched the camp on Tuesday. Fearing Tent City would be flattened by a typhoon, officials became anxious to shut down the camp when the storm season began in May. After Tuesday's rain, the last residents of Tent City were moved out.

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (AP) — Homesick and worried about wives and parents left behind, more than 2,000 South Vietnamese who escaped to the United States are preparing to return to their homeland and an uncertain fate. The prospect that some may be killed by the new Communist rulers of their homeland was mentioned quietly by some of the prospective repatriates, but most generally avoided the subject.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Virtually conceding defeat before the battle, the House Democratic leadership will try to override President Ford's veto of a housing subsidy program for middle-income families. Failure to muster the two-thirds vote needed to override would mark the fourth consecutive veto defeat for the House leadership despite the chamber's large Democratic majority.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI secretly tried to get three teachers fired, distributed phony right-wing newsletters on two college campuses, and wrote anonymous letters to the parents of student antiwar activists during the 1960s, newly disclosed FBI documents show. Those activities were part of the agency's counterintelligence operation against the New Left.

LOURENCO MARQUES, Mozambique (AP) — Samora Machel, bearded 41-year-old leader of the guerrilla war that ended Portuguese rule in East Africa, is to be sworn in today as the first president of the new People's Republic of Mozambique. Machel greeted Portuguese Premier Vasco Gonçalves with a hug and long handshake before 35,000 persons at a midnight ceremony Tuesday marking the independence of Portugal's second largest overseas territory. Japan immediately announced recognition of the new People's Republic of Mozambique, Africa's 43rd independent nation with a population of 8.5 million and an area twice that of California.

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — The Ugandan government charged today that two British warships have arrived in Mombasa, Kenya's Indian Ocean port, with troops to rescue a British teacher sentenced to die for describing Ugandan President Idi Amin as a village tyrant. The charge, attributed to a Ugandan military spokesman, was broadcast by the government radio station in Kampala, the Ugandan capital. A source at the British High Commission in Nairobi repeated earlier denials that Britain is planning military action against Uganda or has any forces in Kenya.

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — A budding revolt in the ruling Congress party against Prime Minister Indira Gandhi picked up support today following a supreme court justice's restriction of her parliamentary activity while she awaits the outcome of her appeal against an electioneering conviction. Indian political correspondents said at least 25 of the 515 Congress party members in Parliament were supporting the demand by Mohan Dhar, whom Mrs. Gandhi dropped from her cabinet earlier this year, that she resign. A week ago, only five members were known to be supporting Dhar.

Kidnap Woman

SHERBROOKE, Que. (AP) — Police said today a woman from a prominent Sherbrooke area family has been kidnaped and is being held hostage for a "large amount of money." Quebec provincial police at first identified the woman but later said the kidnappers had warned that if her name was made public the hostage would be immediately killed.

8 Are Sent To Hospital

A pickup driven by Frank Wilson Hill Jr., Ozona, slammed into two other pickups parked by the side of U.S. Highway 87 about eight miles north of Big Spring, sending eight persons to a local hospital. ## Woman Here For Tests After Daughter Slain

A Lamesa woman, Mrs. Shirley Allred, 39, was brought to the Big Spring State Hospital for psychiatric tests Tuesday afternoon after she had been charged with murder in the shooting death of her 18-year-old daughter, Jennifer Allred.

Jennifer was pronounced dead on arrival at a Lamesa hospital at about 9 p.m. Monday. She had been shot once in the face with a .38-caliber pistol, police said.

Mrs. Allred was charged following an inquest conducted by Justice of Peace Richard Nelson. Investigating officers said Jennifer was shot as she sat in a car with friends at George's Drive-In Restaurant in Lamesa. The incident followed an apparent domestic quarrel, police said. Witnesses told police that

Bishop, Basketball Pro Believed Crash Victims

NEW YORK (AP) — An Episcopal Bishop, a New York Nets basketball player and one of New Orleans' most prominent businessmen were among the passengers on the jetliner which crashed in flames near Kennedy International Airport.

The Episcopal Bishop of Louisiana, the Rt. Rev. Iveson B. Noland, was headed for New York for a conference of Episcopal prelates. He has been head of the diocese since 1969.

Also aboard the Eastern Airlines Boeing 727 jetliner was Nets reserve forward Wendell Ladner. He had been on vacation and visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Ladner, in Nacaise Crossi, Miss.

One of New Orleans' most prominent citizens, Edgar G. Bright, former president of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange, was aboard the plane along with his wife, his daughter, Jane Hickey, and his granddaughter, Michelle, 3.

Whacking Off Some Fat

Gov. Dolph Briscoe has blue pencilled 136 building projects from the appropriations bill. The items covered work on 18 campuses and represented an estimated potential cost of $1 billion.

Obviously, this sort of thing would have thrown the state budget far, far out of kilter, but the reason that it hadn't was that most of the projects were to be financed via the revenue bond route. Nevertheless, these would have represented a cost to the people one way or another.

It generally is agreed that most of the projects were not needed; on the contrary, most of the state senior colleges and universities are over-built or at least there is a surplus of building capacity in the aggregate even though it might be for different purposes.

How come this big supply of pork in the appropriations bill? For one thing it represented one of the things which underlines the wisdom and necessity of the College Coordinating Board—the tendency of each college and university administration to build its empire without regard to the whole. For another, the Legislature only recently voted to tighten the rein on the senior colleges and universities, requiring all building to first be certified as necessary by the Coordinating Board. Finally, the building boondoggle was worked into the bill through the back door at the last minute as a bit of Legislative log rolling.

The governor is to be commended for slicing off this parasitical appendage.

Chastize And Correct

On balance and considering the subrosa and dangerous nature of its assignment, the CIA appear to merit far more credit than blames, according to James J. Kilpatrick, columnist.

This likely is a fair assessment. But it does not absolve the CIA from wrong-doing and downright illegal actions, although they may involve a minor part of the total effort and personnel. The theory that criticism of CIA is hurting the nation and therefore, the whole matter should be silenced or swept under the rug has a familiar ring. But it would be foolish to toss the baby out with the bath water. Where there have been transgressions, steps need to be taken to make reasonably certain these are not repeated; where the charter is vague, there is need to clarify; where there is a weakness in the ability of government to control its child, corrective legislation is indicated. None of this means, however, that we do not need a strong, effective, efficient intelligence agency to keep us apprised of what is happening in the world.

New Humiliation

Robert Novak

VIENTIANE, Laos — After six weeks of pressuring and humiliating the dwindling band of U.S. officials here, the newly Communist-controlled Laos government is demanding U.S. aid — perhaps as the price of continuing the last, minuscule American presence in Communist Indochina.

WHETHER COMMUNIST PATHET LAO leaders would respond to a refusal of aid from Washington by provocations intended to end U.S.-Laos diplomatic relations is unknown. The Pathet Lao central committee has been meeting hard by the North Vietnamese border at its fortress city of Samneua, forbidden territory for U.S. officials. That means the U.S. embassy here, once the military and political nerve center of Laos, awaits news of its fate decided by men the Americans have never met at a place they have never seen.

THUS, FOLLOWING the sudden collapse of South Vietnam and Cambodia, American humiliation in Laos lingers on as a reminder of the utter failure of U.S. policy in Indochina. The first, inevitable domino after the Vietnam debacle, Laos is also visible evidence to the rest of Southeast Asia of what happened to those who cast their lot with Washington.

Under an agreement signed here May 27 while a Communist-led mob howled outside and three Americans were held captive, the U.S. Agency for International Development (AID) will close June 30 and turn over its property to the Lao government. U.S. personnel here, once approaching 2,000, totals 99 at this writing and will soon drop to 50.

BUT STATISTICS do not reflect the systematic harassment of Americans here. On the pretext that it is permitted by the May 27 agreement, homes of departing AID officials have been ransacked by some of the 6,000 Pathet Lao soldiers who have entered this dusty little capital. Similarly, four autos from the U.S. Defense attache's office have been seized. When a U.S. Air Force major vigorously protested one such seizure, a Pathet Lao trooper ended the debate by sticking his rifle in the major's face.

Such outrageous behavior is accompanied by demands for aid. A U.S. officer recently met with Kham Ouane Boupha, the Communist now running the defense ministry, to discuss longtime U.S. rice handouts to the Royal Lao army (which is now controlled by Communist unit "advisers"). But first, said the American, how about getting back our four cars? The reply: "Let's not talk about trivia, but discuss something important: rice distribution."

THAT PRIORITY on aid was emphasized by one Pathet Lao official here who told us, "The Lao people are ready to receive aid without strings." Repeatedly emphasizing that readiness during a one-hour interview, he also declared that "American bombing for 20 years... has made the Lao people very angry at the American government." Translation: the Pathet Lao want cash payments in lieu of war reparations.

While insisting they will not tolerate coercion, U.S. diplomats here seem to favor some aid — which runs $30 million for the current year — on grounds that Laos is no Cambodia, a point stressed to Assistant Secretary of State Philip Habib during his recent visit here. They see aid as a possible lever to soften Laotian Communism, reduce North Vietnamese control and perhaps maintain a vestigial American influence. But this view might soon be proved as erroneous as was the embassy's past forecast that the Laotian coalition would survive the fall of Saigon. The sleepy brand of Laotian communism will change as new personnel is brought in.

"We ain't seen no 'extraneous' stuff in these shipments... right, friend?"

Pessimism Creeps Back

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The tea-leaf readers and the electronic computer analysts both agree that the economy should be in better shape within six months or so and both claim evidence to prove their position.

This is another way of saying that a consensus seems to have been reached among forecasters, but it doesn't mean there aren't some dissenting views and some dissenting statistics.

One of the popular consumer sentiment polls shows that despite forecasts of an economic recovery, "a fair degree" of pessimism has crept back into the minds of Americans.

There is a matter of interpretation, too. George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, can't agree that the bottom has been reached or is being approached so long as unemployment remains above 9 per cent.

On the other hand, the National Federation of Independent Business, which just concluded a meeting in Washington, complains about a shortage of skilled workers, primarily among blue collar craftsmen.

The federation assigned an independent research group to sample the job situation among its members. "The findings show that 14 per cent of the respondents currently have unfilled jobs," it said.

Also hard to assess but equally not to be ignored is the finding of one of the popular consumer sentiment polls that "a fair degree of pessimism surrounding a business recovery has crept back into the minds of American consumers." One ingredient of a healthy recovery would be stable interest rates, but a bit of doubt is creeping into that area. Rates have been falling, but just this week short-term rates on big business loans tended upward.

Worth watching will be the rate of new business incorporations. As the recession deepened so did the number of new businesses drop. But in April, Dun & Bradstreet reported a turnaround.

Nevertheless, in the first four months of 1975 a total of 104,345 businesses were incorporated, compared with 113,173 in the January-April period of 1974. The turn, therefore, is still too new to be called a trend.

Non-Tropical Sprue

Dear Doctor: My doctor has told me I have non-tropical sprue. I have never read anything about this, and I would appreciate any information you can give me.

What will happen if I cheat once in a while? How much damage can be done? — Mrs. G. M.S.

This is also called "celiac disease." It is an inherited disorder which stems from an intolerance of gluten, a protein found in all cereals except corn and rice. The intolerance leads to changes in the absorbing membrane of the small intestine, which in turn results in an inadequate absorption of food. In fact, it is sometimes referred to as a malabsorption disorder.

Because of the faulty absorption, there can be diarrhea and distension of the abdomen, and stools may become loose and strong-smelling. They are also found to be high in fat particles. Other symptoms are weakness, muscle-wasting and anemia — all related to the fact that the body is not absorbing sufficient protein. A definite diagnosis can be made through a biopsy of the small intestine membrane. The onset is usually slow. However, positive response to a gluten-free diet is usually quite prompt, often within two weeks for patients who adhere to it, which brings us back to your question about cheating.

Foods containing wheat, oats, rye and barley must be avoided. The diet is apt to become monotonous, but it must be followed closely for maximum results. A dietician should explain the diet explicitly to you to allow you to enjoy as much variety as possible. If you have not done so, ask your doctor to provide a list of allowed foods.

Cheating can be deceptively easy. You may escape repercussions and symptoms after one or even two cheating episodes, but more often this would cause a relapse.

Cheating on a diet is sort of like cheating when balancing your checking account. Sooner or later an accounting will be forced on you.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: An eye doctor has informed my wife that she has a cataract and that she must have surgery. He told her that he might use the new ultrasonic vibration procedure for removing the cataract. What do you think of this procedure? — T. P. A.

This is an effective method for cataract removal. The method is rather new.

Generally, surgeons use the procedure they feel most comfortable and familiar with and seems most suitable to each individual case. This explains the variety of methods currently being used for such procedures as cataract removal.

I would advise you to follow your surgeon's advice.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My right testicle is twice as big as my left. I suffer no pain or any other discomfort. I am 71 years old. Is this marked difference in size any cause for worry? R. P. H.

The swelling may not be of the testicle proper, but an accumulation of fluid within the scrotal sac. In that case it would be called a "hydrocele," which is less serious than a tumor of the testicle. But a testicular tumor can produce a firm, painless swelling. Any testicle swelling should be investigated.

Summer Day

Around The Rim

Joe Pickle

What to do on a summer day? Well, as I recall, there was always something that boys could cook up to constructively pass the time.

ONE OF THE diversions was go down by the shops west of Gregg Street and watch the tenders take on a load of coal from the big overhead chutes into which earloads of the black chunks had been dumped. Or we might wander by to see the lathes turning out shavings, hot as a pistol, or catch a few metal slugs punched out by a press into perfect shape and weight for use in a sling shot. Konked by one of these, and a jackrabbit was a dead citizen. Occasionally, engines were backed out of their roundhouse stalls on to the turntable which was swung around to the proper track so the engine could head down a siding to the main line.

THERE WAS a never-failing stream of water coming out of the shops, and it was just wide enough to necessitate a 2x10 as a footbridge. Boys developed a game of skill to see how much spring you could put into the board and still bounce across without falling in the water.

Sometimes we got a string and tied a piece of salt pork on one end and lowered into the deeper areas of the channel up toward the shops, and waited until there was a tug. Then we ease it up just right so that we could haul out a crawdad.

BUT THE BETTER crayfish

hunting was upstream around One Mile Lake where the these formidable appearing creatures burrowed in the mud, leaving little mounds around the top of the hole. The trick was to jam a stick about a foot below the hole and then prize it up. Like as not a crayfish would come up with it. Somebody said the tails were good to eat, and so we had to try it. Turned out they meant fried, that is.

SOMETIME WE hooked a ride with the action crews out to where a stretch of ties needed to be pulled, the ballast changed. The Latin-American section hands had the know-how for pulling the spikes, lifting the rails and tie plate, and snaking out the ties. Then it took more effort to work the new tie back into place, getting the ballast back under firmly. Then followed sheer poetry of motion as two and sometimes three hand drove down the spike with their sledges in perfect rhythm in exactly the right arc and time.

AND WHEN a train whistled in the distance and we listened to the rails to speculate how far away it was, and we prepared a final ritual. On the trick we placed a penny or a nail and marveled how flat these were when the train had passed.

Next day it might be something else like riding the gravel wagons, catching horned toads, or chasing green lizards. But there always was something to do.

EDITORIALS / OPINIONS

No Miracles

Marquis Childs

JERUSALEM — Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin brought back from his talks in Washington with President Ford and Secretary Kissinger a view of the future that can be summed up in two words: caution and time. No miracles, no shuttle diplomacy, he says, just a quiet exploration through diplomatic channels of the prospects for a further disengagement agreement with Egypt and perhaps later with Syria.

IN HIS understated style, contrasting with the tension and emotion that many here feel in this interval of no war, no peace, Rabin spoke with quiet optimism of what can come out of the ongoing exploration. It will be weeks and even several months before results can be expected.

For sheer stamina, this former general who was the architect of Israel's triumph in the Six-Day war of 1967 gets high marks. Returning hour by hour, he went into a seven-hour cabinet meeting taken up not only with the results of his Washington talks, but with the latest devaluation of the Israeli pound.

GOVERNING WITH a narrow coalition in the Knesset, Rabin's position is in some respects analogous to that of Ford. His options are limited by the divisions in his own party.

Rabin sees three elements essential to any further disengagement. First is the duration of a future agreement. Although he will not specify a fixed time since this will be one of the most fiercely debated points. Others in his government talk of three to four years.

THE SECOND point is the arrangement of mutual warning systems. Israel maintains an electronic early-warning system near the Mitla and Gidi passes. Egypt would establish a similar system so that any forward movement in either direction would be detected in the event Israel agrees to withdraw from the passes.

AS A THIRD point, Rabin spoke of symbolic signals indicating Cairo's desire for peace. One signal would be the easing of the boycott against American firms doing business with Egypt, such as Ford and Coca Cola. Easing the campaign against Israeli in the Third World is another signal as, most important of all, would be the right of Israeli cargoes to pass through the Suez Canal.

All this means that both sides must be dictating the duration of an agreement. An Egyptian declaration of nonbelligerency was not the reason for the breakdown of last March, Rabin said. Nonrecourse to the use of force is essential for any agreement.

MILITARY AID had not been an issue in Washington, Rabin said. He spoke sadly of the delay in translating commitments for American arms into contracts because of the Ford-Kissinger Middle East reassessment. But that delay did not apply to other states. "Jordan was promised arms during this period while we were being told that there could be no movement until the reassessment had been completed."

My Answer

Billy Graham

Many people are saying that our world is close to the end, and to Christ's Second Coming. What are some of the prophecies indicating this?

The Scripture prophecies that prior to the return of Christ, there will be the following: 1. A great perplexity and anxiety. 2. Declining moral standards. 3. A spiritual falling away in the church. 4. Prevalence of worldwide violence. 5. An increase in knowledge. 6. Anticipation of a world dictatorship. 7. Interest in worldwide evangelism. 8. Talk of peace when there is no peace. 9. Revelation of the anti-Christ.

For Biblical support of these, read 2 Tim. 3, Luke 21, Matt. 24, 1 Thess. 5:3, Dan 12:4, 1 John 2:18, and Rev. 14.

Actually, the most often mentioned event in the entire Bible is the Second Coming of Christ. It's referred to more than 300 times in the New Testament alone.

But remember that the end of the age need not be an occasion for fear. God designed it as the consummation of all things when the followers of Christ would enter His kingdom of joy and peace. As we near the end, how important it is that we be sure of our personal salvation. Also, that our attitude of expectation keep us ever ready.

PRAYER: Dear Jesus, give us this day the vision of an earth transformed by the kind of love for others that will make every day one in which to celebrate the gift of family and friends. Amen.

We Hold These Truths... A Chronicle of America

June 25, 1775:

General Thomas Gage, the Royal Governor of Massachusetts and the commander of all British forces in the colonies, sends the Ministry in London his official account of the June 17 encounter with the colonists on Bunker Hill: "This action has shown the superiority of the King's troops, who, under every disadvantage, attacked and defeated above three times their number, strongly posted and covered by breastworks." In a letter to Lord Dartmouth, Secretary for the Colonies, accompanying the official report, Gage indicates a growing respect for the American colonists: "I wish most sincerely that [Bunker Hill] had not cost us so dear. . . . We have lost some extremely good officers. The trials we have had show [that] the rebels are not the despicable rabble too many have supposed them to be."

DALLAS GAMBLING TRIAL Bets As High As $3,000 Placed On Football Game

DALLAS (AP) — Written testimony submitted to a federal court here claims that four Dallas men, an Oklahoma city resident and another man from Las Vegas were involved in a book-making operation in which bets as high as $3,000 were placed on a single football game out of a Dallas restaurant.

The written testimony was accepted Tuesday by U. S. District Court Judge Sarah T. Hovhess who said she would enter a verdict Monday morning.

On trial in connection with the gambling operation are John Eli Stone, 62, and Richard Carl Biggs, 61, both of Dallas, charged with financing and running the operation. Also, Anthony Paul Daidone of Dallas; James Winingham, 52, and Ruben Goldstein, 38, both of Las Vegas, and John Dayton Ritter, 69, of Oklahoma City. The four are charged with transmitting wagering information in interstate telephone calls.

All six have pleaded innocent. The written testimony included statements that bets were placed with Stone at a restaurant here.

One of the witnesses, Malcolm Davis of Dallas, said, "Generally my minimum bet was for $500 and I would bet on from one to ten teams at a time; my largest bet being $3,000, possibly $5,000 on one team when I was betting on a number of teams."

Davis said bettors paid Stone a 10 per cent commission on bets they lost.

Dallas builder James L. Williams testified that at one time he had to pay $25,000 in lost wagers, but ended the 1974 season about even.

FBI agents said information on the gambling activities was obtained through intercepted telephones with court approval in late 1973.

Agent Phillip Baker testified that tapped conversations revealed the other defendants also were engaged in betting and wagering business. He said some provided "line" information, how many points to give the underdog team or subtract from the favorite to make the bets more even.

Baker said Ritter provided Stone with information on the volume of wagering on certain games and news of player injuries. He said

Wingham took wagers from several bettors and obtained a share of the proceeds. Baker also told the court that Daidone furnished Stone with line information on a regular basis from more than one bookmaker in Las Vegas and informed Stone of changes in lines.

Goldstein, Baker said, furnished wagering information from more than one bookmaker.

Howard College Adds Six Faculty Members

Howard College trustees hired six faculty members Tuesday, but only after invoking the closed session rule governing personnel.

Apparently, the executive session dealt more with a decision to increase the pay of all personnel from operations through instruction and administration by 10 per cent than it did with hiring the additional staffers. The 10 per cent increase, based on current salary outlays, will amount to $73,308. The board had delayed the salary action until after the state legislature had taken final action on state aid, which will be $173,000 more for next year than currently.

Ms. Lettie Mallonee Acox was engaged as the director, thus removing the last obstacle to starting the associate degree program in registered nursing this autumn. Her 12-month salary was fixed at $16,000.

NAMED DIRECTOR
Dr. Charles McCamant was engaged as director of student financial aids and community service at a 12-month salary of $14,000. He will succeed Mrs. Johnnie Lou Avery who was named last month as assistant to the president.

Others named were Clifford Hale Jr., industrial arts; Kathleen Barbara Rathert, art; Adrian E. Saldivar, assistant director of Upward Bound program; and John Claud Massey, law enforcement technology. They all will receive pay based on the faculty salary scale of experience, education, etc.

Ms. Acox has a bachelor of science degree in nursing from the University of Colorado; a master of arts degree in education from Oklahoma City University. She has been assistant director of nursing at St. Anthony's hospital in Oklahoma City as well as charge nurse; had nursing experience in several other hospitals including charge nurse at Lafayette, La., was medical-surgical nurse instructor and curriculum coordinator for St. Anthony's.

McCamant holds his bachelors from State College of Arkansas; masters in math from New Mexico State University and his doctorate in education from Oklahoma State University.

STUDENT HERE
Hale, who attended Howard College in 1950, and has been instructing in welding school in Corpus Christi, will instruct auto mechanics and machine tools; Ms. Rathert, graduate of University of Northern Colorado, will continue the art post she has been filling temporarily; Massey, who attended Texas Tech and holds his law enforcement degree (with nearly enough for a masters also) from Wayland, will handle the law enforcement technology program.

Herb Johnson, assistant director of the wholly federally-funded Upward Bound program to encourage disadvantaged students to continue their education, will be made director, succeeding Joe Montoya, resigned. Saldivar, the replacement, holds his

The new barn will house all of the county's road-building machinery and will serve as the central headquarters for the county road hands.

Construction was necessitated when the county's commissioners voted to utilize the road-building machinery and hired Calvin Smith as county road engineer.

Under the new system, Smith is in charge of all the county's road-building operations and all personnel and equipment have been pooled, enabling the county to work on a larger scale.

The new barn will be 50 feet by 100 feet in size and will contain restrooms, an office and adequate space for county equipment.

AFTER TWO OPERATIONS Ex-Gov. Stevenson Fights For His Life

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — Former Texas Gov. Coke Stevenson, who once fought his way to within 87 votes of a U.S. Senate seat, is fighting for his life at Shannon West Texas Memorial Hospital.

A hospital spokesman said this morning that the condition of Stevenson, 88, had become critical. Several hours earlier it was described as "very poor."

Stevenson, who served as governor in 1941-47, was brought here June 14 from his ranch near Junction after he began hemorrhaging the day before.

He underwent two operations June 15 and has received transfusions of 41 pints of blood since then.

"They say he's slipping," a family member said late Tuesday.

In 1948 Stevenson ran against then U.S. Rep. Lyndon B. Johnson for senator. Johnson won the election by 87 votes out of a total of about one million, leading some critics to nickname him "landslide Lyndon."

The 87-vote victory came after officials at Precinct 13 in Jim Wells County at Alice reported they had made a 200-vote mistake in their original totals reported to the Texas Election Bureau.

There were investigations and court hearings before Johnson was declared the winner. Only 15 years later, on Nov. 22, 1963, Johnson became president after John F. Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas.

Mrs. Stevenson, Coke Stevenson Jr., son of the former governor who ran the Texas Liquor Control Board for many years, and other relatives are keeping vigil at the hospital here.

Mrs. Stevenson said her husband wanted to be shaved and inquired about when he could leave the hospital less than 24 hours after the two operations.

T. Kellis Dibrell, a San Antonio lawyer and close friend of the former governor, said Stevenson wanted to know about the outcome of a lawsuit not long after the surgery.

"His mind was as sharp as ever," Dibrell said.

"He's been asking about the stock market, the price of the British pound sterling and other matters of interest to him," Mrs. Stevenson said.

Stevenson apparently is in considerable pain most of the time, members of the family said.

"The other night he cried out in pain and said, 'Oh, I might as well say the Star Spangled Banner. O, say can you see,' and he said it all," Mrs. Stevenson related.

"At times when he was dreaming or something, he even made some good jury speeches," Mrs. Stevenson added.

Doctors have told members of the family that Stevenson's kidneys and liver have stopped functioning.

"But he still has a firm handshake," said a friend.

4 Vehicles Purchased

Troop 249 Back From Mountains

Boy Scout troop 249, sponsored by Westside Center and Kiwanis Club, has returned from Boy Scout Buffalo camp in the Davis Mountains. Fifteen boys made the trip. Richard Acuna is the scout master.

The boys earned 19 merit badges, two skill awards and two partial merit badges. All non-swimmers are now beginner swimmers.

Merit badges were earned by Mark Stevens, Indian Lore, Hiking, Soil and Water Conservation, Swimming and Partial Horseman; Mark Mathis, Geology, Hiking, Camping; Del Cantwell, Geology, Camping and Hiking; Earnest Saiz, Camping, Hiking and Swimming; Jonathan Perez, Hiking, Soil and Water Conservation and Swimming; Ricky Saiz, Hiking; Robert Aguilar, Hiking; Robbie Cadenhead, Hiking; Frankie Saiz, Geology; Johnny France, Hiking; and Edwin Mathews, Partial Geology.

Special honors went to Mark Stevens and Jonathan Perez, selected to be in the Order of the Arrow.

Four multi-passenger vehicles totaling $19,010 were purchased by Howard College trustees at their meeting Tuesday.

Two 15-passenger Dodge vans, fully equipped, were bought from Dewey Ray Motor Company at $6,062 each. These were $19 each more than the bid by Jimmy Hopper Motor on the same items, but the board opted for Ray as franchised dealer for the product in Big Spring. Hopper was awarded the bid for $3,722.45 for a four-door Toyota station wagon. Pollard Chevrolet submitted the low bid of $5,132 for a nine-passenger van. The board had considered a monthly lease which would have been $287 per month, or over a year's time 60 per cent of the purchase price.

The vehicles will be used in transporting athletes to various intercollegiate events, for inter-city travel for the San Angelo and Lamesa centers, and for the college activities.

An additional $1,000 per year will be paid Johnnie Freeman to maintain and special service the college automotive equipment, said Dr. Charles Hays, president.

In one other purchase action, the board accepted the bid by Hill & Hill Restaurant Supply for a walk-in freezer refrigerator at $3,164.

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — The San Jose Earthquakes of the North American Soccer League sold forward Dan Counce and defender Chuck Carey to the San Antonio Thunder Tuesday.

WINNIPEG (AP) — The Winnipeg Jets of the World Hockey Association announced Tuesday the signing of Bill Lesuk, a 28-year-old left winger who spent last season with Washington Capitals of the National Hockey League.

The Jets also announced the signing of Peter Sullivan, 24, a center. Sullivan, who signed a two-year contract, scored 44 goals and collected 60 assists last season with Nova Scotia of the American Hockey League.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — The Jacksonville Express acquired offensive tackle Gene Ferguson from the Portland Thunder Tuesday in a World Football League trade.

Christenson, 2-1, allowed six hits and two runs through seven innings in the opener, while Underwood, 8-5, went the distance with a five-hitter in the nightcap.

Elsewhere in the National League, Cincinnati blanked Atlanta 3-0, New York topped St. Louis 5-1, Los Angeles dumped Houston 8-3, San Diego swept a pair from San Francisco 2-1 in 10 innings and Chicago routed Montreal 13-6.

The Pirates swept into Philadelphia Monday night with victories in 12 of their last 13 games and a five-game budge over the Phils. But three straight losses ended Pittsburgh hopes of a runaway, for the time being anyway.

Bugner was patched up surprised Ali's handlers.

"I remember thinking at the time that the cat that did that repair work would be a good guy to have around in a knife fight," said Drew "Bundini" Brown, one of Ali's cornermen.

"He's in a class by himself," agreed the champion's trainer, Angelo Dundee.

"He" is London-born Danny Holland, 64, rated by many to be the best cut man in the business.

"He is cool and calculating by the ringside. There is only one minute to work on between rounds and he always seems able to patch up the damage," said Smith.

Holland thinks Bugner has the edge on July 1. "Bugner is much more experienced than when he first fought Ali," he said.

Ali Expects Carbon Copy Results With Challenger

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali says he expects to make the first round of his title fight against British challenger Joe Bugner a carbon copy of their first fight in 1973 — by cutting his face.

"Most likely I'll cut him in the first round — it's effective, Ali told newsmen Tuesday. "It worries a man to see himself bleeding."

Ali opened a gash over Bugner's left eye in the opening minutes of their non-title bout at Las Vegas on February 14, 1973. Eight stitches were eventually needed to close it.

"Joe Bugner's been cut once in his life once ... I mean stitch cut, not scratch cut," said his manager-trainer, Andy Smith.

The speed with which

Despite a cut so deep, in the words of one ringwise observer, "you could look down into it like the grand canyon," Bugner was not bleeding when he answered the bell for the second round.

The wound was not reopened and Bugner finished strongly. Some speculated that if the match had gone 15 rounds Ali might have been defeated.

The speed with which time in 13 games. It was his 10th of the season. Pat Darcy, Fred Norman and Pedro Borbon combined on a six-hitter with Darcy, 2-4, getting the victory.

METS, CARDINALS 1
 Jerry Kosman posted his 100th major league victory with a five-hitter as the Mets snapped a seven-game losing streak and a 35-inning scoreless string.

DOGGERS 8, ASTROS 3
 Doug Rau hurled a six-hitter, collected three hits and drove in two runs for Los Angeles. Steve Garvey belted a three-run homer in the first and Ron Cey followed with a solo shot to put the Dodgers on top for good.

PADRES 2-3, GIANTS 1-0
 Randy Jones notched his 10th victory in the opener, scattering 11 hits over the 10 innings.

M-CUBS ONE GAME AHEAD El Paso Unseated

Two doubleheader sweeps caused some scrambling in the Texas League baseball standings Tuesday night, including Midland unseating El Paso in their seasaw battle for second place in the West Division.

Midland's twin victories over San Antonio, coupled with a rain-out of the El Paso-Shreveport match, moved the Cubs one game ahead of El Paso and into second place in the TL West.

In the first game, Cub's second baseman Al Montreuil pounded out a double and a single, knocking in two runs to pace Midland to a 4-1 romp over the Brewers. In the nightcap, Bill Droeger blasted a three-run homer in the first inning and added three hits and four RBIs to hand San Antonio an 8-1 defeat.

The bat of Joe Goddard paced last-place Alexandria to a double conquest of East Division leader Lafayette. In the first game, Goddard doubled in the winning run after Gene DeLyon's scorching three-run homer in the seventh to clinch the 8-7 victory for Alexandria. In the second game, Goddard came to the rescue again, driving in the go-ahead run. The Drillers won it 5-3.

Undefeated Arkansas righthander Steve Staniland pitched a four-hitter and struck out 10 as the Travelers drubbed Jackson 2-0. Doubles by Mike Potter and Joe Edelen drove in the Arkansas runs in the first and second innings.

Tonight's schedule is full of doubleheaders again for San Antonio at Midland, El Paso at Shreveport and Lafayette at Alexandria. Arkansas at Jackson is the only single game.

Title IX To Ruin Athletics

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — As the father of five daughters, Paul Hansen admits he could have been brainwashed. But the Oklahoma City University basketball coach and athletic director pshawed at all this talk that Title IX will be the ruination of collegiate athletics.

"This country didn't go to the dogs when it gave women the right to vote," he says, "and I don't think it will when we give them the right to compete in intercollegiate athletics."

Title IX is the identifying mark of that piece of legislation scheduled to go into effect July 21 unless Congress, meanwhile, decides otherwise. Every time two empty chairs are spotted in Washington another hearing is held. Well known college coaches have gone there to speak of the impending doom they foresee.

Most of them say that implementation of Title IX means that if a school is spending X number of dollars to finance athletics for males it must begin spending a like amount for women's athletics.

"It doesn't mean that," says Hansen. "It doesn't mean that at all. Nobody can define what it means yet. If it gets down to matching dollar for dollar, athletics could be eliminated at Oklahoma City University. But I don't believe that it will happen ... definitely not."

People everywhere, in all walks of life, have a history of opposing change, in Hansen's opinion. "It was the same with integration, or any change in society. People cannot accept a 180-degree turn."

Control Denied

HOUSTON (AP) — Officials of Astrodomain Corp., an entertainment complex that includes the Houston Astros baseball team, deny control of the corporation has been taken over by the hands of Judge Roy Hofheinz by creditors.

"We have completed our financial rearrangements and we are ready to go forward from there," said T. H. Neyland, president of Astrodomain. "We have our financial affairs in better shape than they have been for the past two years."

Neyland was responding to a copyrighted story in the Houston Chronicle which said Ford Credit Corp., General Electric Credit Corp., and HNC Realty hold mortgage notes for $38 million and have been assigned authority to run the entertainment complex.

Both Neyland and Sidney Shlenker, executive vice president, deny Hofheinz, mastermind of the Astrodome and surrounding entertainment facilities, is losing control.

"The judge will retain the title of chairman of the board and will continue to be as active as he has been over the past two years," Shlenker said.

Hofheinz, 63, suffered a stroke in 1970 and has been confined to a wheelchair since that time.

Shlenker said Astrodomain had debts but the reorganization "will increase the viability of our company to operate in an efficient manner."

No Pro Thoughts In The Offering

OAK BROOK, Ill. (AP) — A one-time major league baseball player, now a 15-handicap golf amateur with no thoughts of turning pro, is the nation's top distance hitter.

Jeffrey Long, who played for the St. Louis Cardinals and the Chicago White Sox in the mid-1960s, out-hit the publicized touring pros with a massive blast of 322 yards, 2 feet, 4 inches Tuesday and won the 1975 National Open Long Driving Contest.

Long won a check of $12,000, which he turned over to the PGA Junior Golf Fund.

"I could have used the money," the 6-foot-11, 210-pound, 33-year-old Long said. "I'm getting married this weekend."

To accept the check, however, he would have had to turn professional. And he has no plans in that direction.

"I just play golf for fun," he said.

Little league baseball clubs start playing for keeps today through Saturday competing in the city-wide tournament.

Twelve teams are entered. Today's schedule: International No. 2 Talons vs. American No. 3 Pirates; Texas No. 2 Cards vs. National No. 3 Lions; American No. 2 Jets vs. International No. 3 T-Birds; and National No. 2 Rangers vs. Texas No. 3 Red Sox.

All games start at 8 p.m. with the first named club playing the part as the host. The remaining four teams, Texas No. 1 Tigers, American No. 1 Stars, National No. 1 Cardinals and International No. 1 Sabres take to the field Thursday.

Following the city go-round, Big Spring, according to Jack Barber, will serve as a backdrop for the district playoffs. District activity is set for July 12. Big Spring will submit four names, Midland six and Lamesa one.

Eight days will cover district play. The state tournament is listed on the calendar from Aug. 4 through 9 at Waco.

Harold Wilder, Howard College head basketball coach, was thrilled with the bond issue being passed, paving the way for construction of the Howard College multi-purpose coliseum.

"It will be a big aid in our program as our present gym facilities are far outdated," he added. The projected coliseum completion date is March, 1977 with a remote possibility of playing a few games there before the season ends that year.

Earth moving is expected to begin come winter time.

WHAT'S IT WORTH DEPARTMENT — The West Texas AAU Junior Olympic Track & Field Championships will be held Saturday at the Borger Bulldog Stadium.

Preliminaries for running events and field event finals will start at 9 a.m. The meet is sanctioned by the WTAU and sponsored by the Borger Chamber of Commerce.

Webb Air Force Base shooters blasted their way to a third place finish among Air Force marksmen and to fifth place overall at the World Military Skeet Championships in Colorado last week.

Held at Peterson Field, the interservice meet featured more than 30 teams from the Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Air Force. Coast Guard shooters fired with the Navy teams. The event was handicapped by near freezing temperatures and driving snow.

Webb team captain Buck Kyle paced the base squad with an all-gun total of 471 hits out of a possible 500. As a team, Kyle, Ken Jones, Ken Bowen, Dave Klatt and Dave Soloman averaged 190 hits out of 200 targets in the .12 gauge competition.

Bowen and Soloman captured high individual honors at the meet. Bowen finished second in 20-gauge and third in .12 gauge "C-Class" and Soloman finished second overall in "E-Class." He was the high gun in the .12-gauge "E-Class" among Air Force shooters.

The squad will be competing in the World Skeet Championships in San Antonio Thursday. The world series of skeet shooting will feature the very best marksmen in the world, including many of the 1976 Olympic hopefuls.

Recently the Webb Gun Club elected new officers. They are: Chip Ambrose, president; Tim Danice, vice-president; Gary Cave, secretary-treasurer; Dave Klatt, custodian and Walt Thedford, assistant custodian.

Rangers' Last Ditch Try Falls Short In Ninth, 7-5

Catfish Hunter, who was supposed to pitch the New York Yankees into first place, finally did it Tuesday night.

The three-million-dollar man checked Baltimore on four hits — two in the first inning, two in the ninth — and the Yankees downed the Orioles 3-1 in a baseball-beanball duel.

Coupled with Boston's 8-6 loss to Cleveland — George Hendrick's three-run homer capped a four-run ninth for the Indians — the Yankees climbed into first place in the American League's East Division by one-half game, ending the Red Sox' month-long stay at the top.

In other action, the Milwaukee Brewers swept a doubleheader from the Detroit Tigers 5-0 and 4-2, the Oakland A's edged the Minnesota Twins 6-4, the Kansas City Royals defeated the California Angels 5-3 in 11 innings and the Chicago White Sox shaded the Texas Rangers 7-5.

The only Baltimore run off Hunter was Ken Singleton's leadoff homer in the first inning. The Yankees tied it in the second against Mike Torrez on a hit batsman and singles by Graig Nettles and Terry Whitfield. They scored two in the fourth on singles by Munson, Chris Chambliss and Nettles and Whitfield's sacrifice fly.

The beanball fuss began when Torrez clipped Munson with a pitch in the second inning. Hunter nicked Elrod Hendricks in the bottom of the second and zeroed in on Bobby Grich in the sixth after a Torrez pitch came close to Munson in the top of the inning.

INDIANS 8, RED SOX 6 Hendrick's second home run of the game was a two-out, three-run shot in the ninth inning. It came after Carl Yastrzemski, playing the outfield for the first time in almost a year, hit a two-run homer in the eighth to put Boston on top 6-4. Hendrick, who tagged Bill Lee for a first-inning homer, connected off Dick Drago in the ninth. Charlie Spikes also homered for Cleveland.

BREWERS 5-4, TIGERS 0-2 George Scott, who homered earlier, drilled a tie-breaking two-run single to cap a three-run seventh inning in the nightcap as Bill Travers scattered eight hits for his first complete game in the majors. Jim Slaton fired a three-hitter for his second consecutive shutout and third straight victory in the opener.

THE A'S TOOK ADVANTAGE of four walks and two wild pitches by Minnesota's Joe Decker in the first inning to score four runs. They got another in the sixth on a walk and Bill North's double and Gene Tenace walloped his 13th homer in the seventh.

ROYALS 5, ANGELS 3 Hal McRae delivered a tie-breaking single in the 11th inning and John Mayberry added an insurance run with a sacrifice fly. California took a 1-0 lead on Andy Etchebarren's second-inning homer. The Angels tied it with two runs in the seventh on a walk, Billy Smith's single, Mickey Rivers' single and an error.

WHITE SOX 7, RANGERS 5 Jorge Orta drove in four Chicago runs with a homer, single and sacrifice fly and Bill Melton drilled a pair of run-scoring singles, helping Claude Osteen notch his second victory of the season after 11 fruitless quests.

Signal Mount Trip Is Made

A trip to the top of Signal Mountain to hunt for rocks, fossils and arrowheads was the destination of the Big Spring Prospectors Club last Sunday. Twenty-five adult and junior members took part.

After leaving Forsan, the club members reported that the road became narrower and more difficult to travel and in some places was nothing more than a trail.

By the time the last car arrived, the first group were half-way up the mountain. Dan Reynolds was in charge of the expedition and provided a rope to aid in climbing and descending.

Roby Walker, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Dwain Leonard, found an almost perfect spear head. Charles Leek found the only arrowhead. One group investigated a cave. Among the items brought back from the trip were fossils, curious-looking rocks, cactus and driftwood.

The group was served a picnic supper of sandwiches, pork and beans, hard boiled eggs and other picnic items.

Governor Names Uvalde
Judge To Supreme Court

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Judge Ruel C. Walker has resigned, effective Sept. 30, as associate justice of the Texas Supreme Court. Gov. Dolph Briscoe appointed State District Court Judge Ross E. Doughty to Uvalde to succeed him.

Doughty will serve at least through the November 1976 general election. He has the right to run in that election for a full six-year term on the high court.

Doughty, 64, has been a district judge since Gov. Allan Shivers appointed him to the bench in 1949. He previously had served as Uvalde County attorney and as district attorney.

Briscoe said Walker had "earned the gratitude of all Texans."

"I am especially pleased to be able to replace Judge Walker with an able and distinguished jurist and a dedicated public servant. Judge Doughty is an outstanding citizen—not just of Uvalde, not just of South Texas, but of the entire state and nation. I am confident he will bring great distinction to the court," Briscoe said.

Doughty is a graduate of Texas A&M and the University of Texas Law School. He is a Catholic and a Navy veteran of World War II.

Walker, 65, said he "just felt like retiring."

He sent his resignation to Briscoe Tuesday, and the governor followed it with Doughty's appointment a few hours later.

Walker is senior associate justice on the high court. He was appointed in 1954 by Shivers and has been re-elected without opposition since then. His present term expires Dec. 31, 1976.

"They sent me a Medicare card back in February, which was my 65th birthday, and that was when I got to thinking about retiring,"

Walker said.

Walker is a Cleburne native. He received his law degree from the University of Texas and was a member of Phi Beta Kappa. He was admitted to the bar in 1934 and served in the attorney general's department under James V. Allred, who later became governor. Walker also practiced privately in Cleburne for 18 years and served in the Navy during World War II.

Walker said he hopes to try cases occasionally as a retired judge.

Briscoe appointed Sabinal lawyer Jack Woodley to succeed Doughty as district judge. Woodley, 60, was Uvalde County judge from 1951 to 1962. He is a graduate of Schreiner Institute and Cumberland University Law School.

TEXAS RANGER CAPTAIN SAYS SHE'S DEAD

Find Cars Owned By Widow Of Slain Convict

By The Associated Press
Texas Rangers and San Antonio police have recovered two cars which, they say belonged to Rosa Carrasco, widow of the late San Antonio drug kingpin Fred Gomez Carrasco. And Ranger Capt. John Wood says he has information indicating Mrs. Carrasco may have been killed in March while running a roadblock in Mexico. Mrs. Carrasco had been sought since last August when her husband died in a hail of gunfire during an escape break from state prison in Huntsville. Wood said Rangers found a car two weeks ago belonging to Mrs. Carrasco on the South Texas ranch of Duval County Judge Archer Parr where it had been placed in storage by Robert L. Forche with Parr's permission. The car was a Ford Galaxie assembled in Mexico and modified to look like a Continental, investigators said. In San Antonio, police found a 1974 Thunderbird believed to be Mrs.

Carrasco's last week when the lease expired on a storage garage where the car had been kept since last July, shortly before Carrasco's holdout siege in the Huntsville prison. Police said the lease was signed by Jose A. Carrasco, Rosa's father-in-law; the car was registered to James Gillespie, a San Antonio lawyer who, in the past, has represented Carrasco and Parr. Wood said while he did not have documented evidence of Mrs. Carrasco's death, he had received information as late as Monday that she, another woman and two men had been killed when they tried to overrun a checkpoint in Mexico. Articles in the Galaxie — including a booklet of

"wanted information" on Carrasco and his associates — were taken to the Texas Department of Public Safety laboratory in Austin for examination, authorities said. Forche, now chief investigative assistant to Dist. Atty. Arnulfo Guerra in Duval County, was an investigator last year for Gillespie, to whom the second car was registered. Forche reportedly tried to change the title of the car from the name of Rosario Gomez de Marquez, a name used by Mrs. Carrasco, to that of the Southern Calvary Christian Church. But he could not provide the original Mexican title and a street address for the new owner and the transfer was rejected. Forche, who claimed to be an ordained minister, is a former police chief at Mission in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and at Baytown.

Accompanying the title application was a note which stated that Mrs. Carrasco Marquez was donating the car to the Southern Calvary Christian Church. It was signed by Rosario Gomez de Marquez and witnessed by Robert Forche. Shortly after the car was bought in Mexico, Carrasco and 10 others were arrested with what police said was $20 million worth of cocaine and heroin.

Probe Into Operations Of Proprietary Schools

DALLAS (AP)—Assistant U.S. Atty. Robert Prather said he expects to take the Justice Department's investigation of proprietary schools to the grand jury "within the next six months."

Prather, who is spearheading the investigation, confirmed Monday he is working with Department of Health, Education and Welfare in the case concerning "defrauding the government, conspiracy to defraud, obstruction of justice and impersonating federal officers."

The probe has been expanded to include proprietary (private, profit-making) colleges and universities in HEW's five-state Region VI, and involves grand jury subpoenas of college and university records, Prather said.

However, he declined to say how many subpoenas had been issued and what schools were being subpoenaed.

The possible misuse of federal funds came to light in April when a Texas Education Agency audit showed that about $2.5 million in unused proprietary school tuition had not been refunded to students who quit before completing courses.

There were 19 Texas schools cited.

The schools are required to refund within 30 days the unused portion of a student's tuition when a student quits for any reason other than completion of the course.

About 12 schools in Texas owned by Carl D. Wehling of San Antonio were cited as being in violation of consumer laws.

One of those schools — Chien Business College in Beaumont — has been cleared of all charges because the school was sold and refunds made before last October.

Prather said Monday his investigation shows Wehling

In addition, Parsons said, the credit union was four months behind in posting its records.

Credit Union Suspended

Parsons said he suspended the credit union after learning of the sale of certain assets to a limited partnership called Select Associates Value Equity (SAVE). He said a general partner in SAVE is Irvin L. McKinnon, treasurer and manager of the credit union.

In addition, Parsons said, the credit union was four months behind in posting its records.

'Mean' Gypsies Rob King Tom

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—A group of Houston gypsies robbed this city's gypsy king and King Tom is going to Houston to get his money back, police here say.

Tom Evans, 52, self-proclaimed king of San Antonio's gypsies, told police Monday that he was robbed at gunpoint late Sunday of $1,000 cash and a $750 ring.

King Tom mediates disputes in San Antonio gypsy affairs. His subjects include fortune tellers, roofers, termite men and others. To some King Tom's rule is law.

He described his assailants to police as "the mean old kind of gypsies, not the good kind."

The bidding:
East South West North
1 ♠ 3 NT Pass Pass
Dble. Pass Pass Pass
Opening lead: Queen of ♠.

The average bridge player expects to make a normal number of errors in any evening. He tends to think that the bridge expert is immune to such human failings. Nothing could be further from the truth. Just as the expert has a tremendous talent for making the right play, so he has a tendency every now and then to make a spectacular gaffe. When this hand was played in the European Championship, two of Europe's best players held the North-South cards.

The bidding needs some explanation. The opening bid was the artificial club opening used by proponents of the Roman System to cover a wide variety of hands—in this case, it showed a strong balanced hand, as confirmed by East's double at his second turn. South's jump to three no trump was of the gambling variety, based on a long, strong minor suit and some outside cards. North must have been mightily impressed with his queen-jack of diamonds when he left his partner in three no trump doubled—prudence would seem to suggest a removal to four clubs, allowing partner to convert to diamonds if that was his suit. We will never know where East-West would have ended up had North not elected to stand for the double.

Fortunately for the defenders, West could not lead a club even had he wanted to. Instead he made his natural lead of the queen of hearts. East rose with the ace and South's king was a most pleasant surprise—for the defenders. To cut a long story short, when the queens of spades dropped as well, the defenders ended up with all thirteen tricks for a penalty of 2,600 points.

Even that was not a record for the European Championship. However, North's comment at the end is worth preserving for the record: "Well, we're an old partnership. It happens to us all the time!"

Delegates Walk Out On Speech

MEXICO CITY (AP) — More than half the delegates at Tuesday night's session of the International Women's Conference walked out on Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin's wife as she delivered Israel's keynote address. Most of those who left were from Arab, African and Communist countries.

"We shall wait until the exodus is over," said Leah Rabin as the delegates streamed out of the conference hall at the Mexican Foreign Ministry.

"I know there are conflicts and misunderstandings between countries, nations ... But not even wanting to listen to each other is truly missing the objectives and goals of this convention."

The walkout apparently was a rebuff to Mrs. Rabin's plea in her speech for the women's conference to "do what you can to bring us together — us, the women of Israel and our sisters of the Arab nations that surround us. Help us to begin to transform our individual monologues into a dialogue of mutual understanding and reconciliation."

Earlier in the conference, Mrs. Rabin said in response to a question from an interviewer that she would be glad to meet and talk with President Anwar Sadat's wife, who headed the Egyptian delegation for the first few days of the conference. But Mrs. Sadat said she "couldn't sit down with a lady who is occupying Arab territory."

Some Arab delegations are reported trying to line up support for a conference resolution condemning Israel for its continued occupation of Arab territory. But other Third World delegates reportedly oppose starting a controversy so far removed from issues of women's rights.

Politics, Rhetoric Are Disturbing Conference

MEXICO CITY (AP) — American feminists Betty Friedan and Lorna McBarnette disputed hotly Monday night amid jeers and catcalls at an unofficial forum held to get away from the "politics and rhetoric" of the International Women's Conference.

More than 1,000 women attended. "I think we all should talk for ourselves and our own countries, and not let one country dominate the meeting," said Ms. Friedan, a pioneer in the use of the "Ms." designation.

"The external dirty linen of each country doesn't concern us as women. We must deal with the concrete problems."

Things heated up when an American woman in the audience began a plea on behalf of a group of Mexicans. The moderator, Sudka Acharya, told her to sit down because she was not speaking about the United States.

Jeers and catcalls echoed through the packed auditorium, and several women asked why Ms. Friedan had been invited to speak first. After several more American women were not allowed to speak, Ms. McBarnette yelled:

"Why can't we speak on problems in the United States? The problems are the same everywhere."

"I don't think any one woman should tell all of us what to do. You want us to stop being oppressed by men just to be oppressed by other women?"

The audience cheered.

PREDICTS NEW ERA — Helvi Sipilä, secretary-general of the International Women's Conference, tells a news conference in Mexico City that she thinks the meeting will begin a new era for women in the world.

At a session of the official conference Monday, France's only woman cabinet minister said women must achieve inner liberation before they can achieve equality of the sexes.

Women "must first liberate themselves from themselves, from their prejudices, fears, ghosts and weaknesses," said Francoise Giroud, who is minister of women's affairs.

"Be frank with yourselves. What adversary do you have more trouble dominating? The prejudices of men? Those of other women? Or your own?"

Women "must embark on a ceaseless struggle against everything within themselves as well as in the world around them — that stands in the way of this radical transformation of the balance between the sexes."

Mr. and Mrs. Fillmore G. Guinn are residing at 700 Bell following their marriage Friday evening at Wesley United Methodist Church with the Rev. Gene Greer officiating for the ceremony. The altar setting was accented with an arrangement of daisies and yellow roses outlined with a heart silhouette.

The bride is the former Debra Brant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Dever Jr. of Coahoma, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Guinn, 1519 Stadium.

For the wedding, the bride was attired in a full-length dress of peach muslin, embroidered on the empire bodice. The dress was styled with a round collar, which opened to a V-neckline, and short, puffed sleeves. She carried a bouquet of daisies and yellow roses.

Guinn is assistant manager of the TG&Y Family Center in College Park, and the bride is employed in the office of Walter Grice, Justice of the Peace.

Music And Worship By Johnny Ray Watson

JOHNNY RAY WATSON began his singing career when he was only 8 years old by singing in his home church choir. He was born with an ear for music, and today plays and writes most of his own songs. In all of his singing, Johnny Ray still knew that there was something missing in his life. In December of 1972, this emptiness was filled, by rededicating his life to Christ. Johnny is now a true witness for Christ through his songs and testimonies.

Auxiliary To Give $100 To Library

A check for $100, which was received from the Grand Aerie Memorial Fund, will be presented by the Eagles Auxiliary to Howard County Library.

Plans for the presentation were made at a Monday evening meeting in the Settles Hotel with Mrs. Nell Tiptoe, auxiliary president, presiding. The memorial fund is used to honor policemen and firemen who lost their lives in the line of duty.

In other business, reports were heard on last week's state meeting in Odessa where the local group won first place for a costumed skit saluting railroads. Chosen as the state project was the Children's Heart Program of South Texas, based at the Driscoll Foundation Children's Hospital in Corpus Christi.

An initiation ceremony was held for Mrs. Karen Henry by a team headed by Mrs. Peggy Cottongame. The other participants were Mrs. Mary Sayers, Mrs. Edna Mae Dalton, Mrs. Vonda Wrye and Miss Kay Sayers. Mrs. Cottongame was presented with the past president's plaque from the Grand Auxiliary, and quota pins were received by Mrs. Dalton and Mrs. Wrye.

Beauceants Have Dinner

A Friendship Night dinner was held Monday evening in the Masonic Temple by the Social Order of the Beauceant. Mrs. W. B. Sullivan served as dinner chairman, and six guests from Midland were introduced.

Brief talks were given by Mrs. Albert Davis, president, and Sir Knight Dick Mitchell, after which the group sang parodies of old songs. Mrs. W. C. Fryar and Mrs. Dick Mitchell were song leaders, with Mrs. L. R. Mundt as pianist.

During the business session, the Beauceants agreed to present the Masonic Association with funds to buy new floor coverings for the kitchen in the Masonic Hall. A Children's Day picnic was discussed, but a date was not set.

The Supreme Assembly will be held Sept. 22-27 in Portland, Ore., and those planning to attend from Big Spring are Mr. and Mrs. Lee Porter, Mrs. Davis and Mrs. C. T. Clay.

Consuming Gas Energy More

Turning off a gas yard light consuming 18,000 cubic feet of gas will save 159 gallons of crude oil equivalent a year. Replacing it with a 30-watt electric bulb would save 148 gallons a year without sacrificing safety or aesthetics, reports Lynn Bourland, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. ## Freeloader Source Of Headache For Friends

DEAR ABBY: I can't believe that I am actually writing a Dear Abby letter, but I need to know how to solve a thorny problem.

I have an acquaintance of many years who teaches high school. He is male and unattached, and he spends his summers traveling around the country (and, indeed, the world), freeloading on his friends.

He writes to say he'll be in the neighborhood, and asks whether he may "visit" for a few days. Then he moves in and stays a week or longer if he can get away with it. He's wine and dined, and he never, never reciprocates. In fact, when he is out for dinner, he always finds an excuse to get so deeply involved in conversation with someone at the table that the check could lay there collecting moss before he'd pick it up.

He is on his way here, then he's visiting a mutual friend and after that, another mutual friend. They don't know his game, but I do. Should I wise them up? And how would you suggest I treat this man?

DEAR JUST: Don't wise up anyone. And treat him like you'd treat any other freeloader. No one can take advantage of you without your cooperation.

DEAR ABBY: A girl signed "Grapenuts" wrote: "My mother said that for her 40th birthday she wants to have plastic surgery to have her 'grapes' enlarged to about grapefruit size, but Dad says he likes her 'dried raisins' the way they are."

Well, please inform "Grapenuts" to tell her mother that I have a couple of honeydews I'd gladly trade for her grapes. It's no joke tooting around all this excess produce. All it attracts is fruit flies!

DEAR FUTURE: My mail tells me that too much of a good thing can be every bit as agonizing as too little. The trade you offer isn't possible, but a competent plastic surgeon could whittle down
