Seize Two On Charges Of Spying For Russia

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI agents today arrested two men on charges of spying for the Soviet Union. The FBI identified the two as Sarkis O. Paskalian, 36, who has been living in New York, and Sahag K. Dedeayan, 41, of Rockville, Md., a mathematician formerly employed by organizations doing secret defense work.

Both men are natives of Lebanon. Paskalian, who came to the United States in 1968, is a resident alien. Dedeayan is a naturalized citizen who held a top secret clearance. Paskalian was charged with conspiracy to gather classified national defense information to aid a foreign country. The charge carries a maximum penalty of death. Dedeayan was charged with failing to report the illegal photographing of national defense information, a charge carrying a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Dedeayan worked for Operations Research Inc. of Silver Spring, Md., and was an associate mathematician at the Applied Physics Laboratory of Johns Hopkins University at Silver Spring from 1966 until September 1973. During that period, according to the FBI, Paskalian contacted Dedeayan, a distant relative. While employed at Johns Hopkins, Dedeayan had prepared a secret study entitled "Vulnerability Analysis: U.S. Reinforcement of NATO."

The FBI alleged that Paskalian photographed the study in March 1973 at Dedeayan's Rockville home. The FBI said the camera used by Paskalian was provided by Edward B. Charchyan, an official of the Soviet Mission to the United States. The FBI said Paskalian received $1,500 from his Soviet contacts in May, 1974, and gave Dedeayan $1,000 "as a token of our appreciation."

The complaints filed against Paskalian and Dedeayan said that Paskalian was recruited as a spy in 1962 while he was in Soviet Armenia. He was sent to the United States in the summer of 1971 with instructions to meet with Petros Petrosyan, an alleged Soviet intelligence agent, in Queens, New York. Petrosyan then instructed Paskalian to contact Dedeayan and develop a close relationship with him. An FBI spokesman said Paskalian would be arraigned before a U.S. magistrate in New York and Dedeayan before a magistrate in Baltimore.

Two FBI Agents Executed

PINE RIDGE, S.D. (AP) — "It looked like an execution. They were riddled with bullets," South Dakota Atty. Gen. William Janklow said today after two FBI agents were shot to death on the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation.

The two agents were dragged out of their cars and killed Thursday when they tried to serve warrants on people who were held up in a house, authorities said.

An Indian in the house was reported killed in an exchange of gunfire, but it was not known whether he died during the initial shooting or later when additional FBI and Bureau of Indian Affairs agents reached the scene.

Federal agents pursued occupants of the house through the reservation's hills Thursday night, but at 1:30 a.m. the FBI agent in charge said the gunfire had stopped, "as far as I know."

No gunfire was reported this morning. FBI agents continued to search the wooded area near the house and to comb the building itself for clues. Other agents interviewed reservation residents in an effort to determine how many people were in the house, and who they were.

FBI Special Agent Joseph Trimbach said his men were continuing patrols of reservation roads but no arrests had been made. In Alameda, Calif., meanwhile, an explosion shattered windows in the U.S. Bureau of Indian Affairs offices early today shortly after an anonymous caller told the San Francisco Chronicle that a terrorist group would bomb the facility. No injuries were reported.

A Chronicle telephone operator said a woman caller told her the offices would be bombed by the New World Liberation Front, an underground group that has claimed responsibility for several Northern California bombings. She said the caller gave no reason or other details.

A bomb also broke windows early today at the visitors center of the Mt. Rushmore National Memorial, in South Dakota about 75 miles from the Pine Ridge Reservation. A spokesman said there were no injuries. He would not speculate on whether the blast was related to the reservation incidents.

COMING SUNDAY

GETTING READY FOR GUESS WHAT?

IN THE GOLD OIL DAYS

FUELING MEMORIES — The days of oil discovery were the good oil days, not plagued with the problems of depletion allowances and fuel shortages. Henry Park, Fred Hyer Inc. employee since 1928, looks at the oilfields around Forsan in retrospect. He is shown looking at the Fred Hyer No. 1 discovery which arrived in 1925.

FBI Director Opposes Curbs On Wiretapping

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley and a Justice Department official contend that proposed congressional curbs on wiretapping and other surveillance techniques would severely harm investigation of criminals and foreign agents.

Kelley and Deputy Asst. Atty. Gen. Kevin T. Maroney voiced opposition to two pending bills in testifying Thursday before the House civil rights subcommittee. They said they could accept less stringent regulations.

One bill, sponsored by 70 House members, would prohibit wiretapping, electronic bugging, surreptitious entry, opening of mail or inspection of private papers without a court order based on evidence that a crime has been or is about to be committed.

The other would require court orders for national security wiretapping and require evidence only that the person under investigation was a foreign agent.

Kelley said the United States has increasingly become the target of intelligence activities by Communist-bloc countries, and that the President needed continuing information on such activities so as to protect the nation against possible future threats.

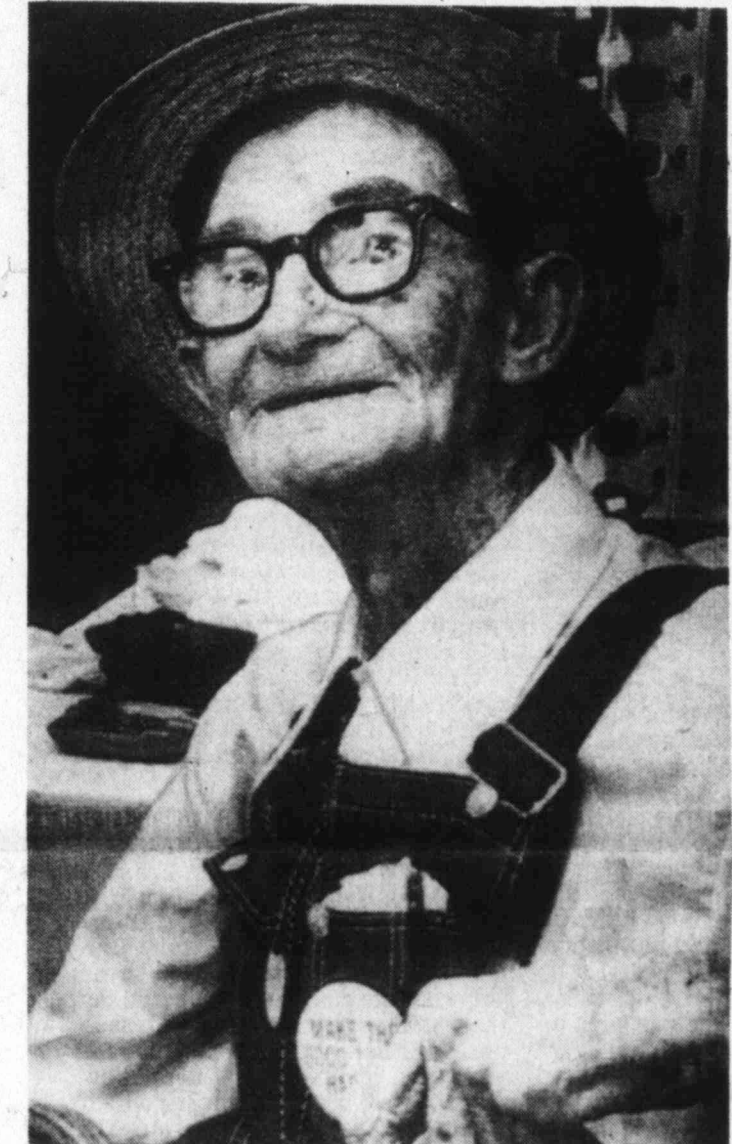

"He cannot, of course, wait until these very serious threats become clear violations of federal law before taking protective action," the FBI chief added.

Parr Trial Delayed

HEBRONVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Opening testimony in the ouster trial of suspended Duval County Judge Archer Parr was delayed today because the court reporter's wife was hospitalized for surgery.

District Court Judge O. P. Carrillo said he would recess the trial if necessary for court reporter Robert Elizondo to go to Alice to be with his wife.

As Elizondo waited for a report from the hospital, Carrillo sent the jury out of the courtroom while he heard some motions.

Quiz Nixon Under Oath

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Richard M. Nixon testified under oath in California before two members of the Watergate grand jury earlier this week, court papers disclosed today.

The fact that he testified was made public at Nixon's own request.

The questioning took place Monday and Tuesday at the U.S. Coast Guard station in San Clemente, Calif., next door to Nixon's home. The questioning lasted for 11 hours over the two days.

The former President was not under subpoena. His lawyer, Herbert J. Miller, said in a statement that the testimony "was voluntary and responsive to the expressed desires of the office of the special prosecutor."

The Watergate special prosecutor's office declined to identify the jurors who traveled to San Clemente for the testimony or the lawyers who conducted the questioning.

Nixon's close friend, and campaign contributions. Miller and special Watergate prosecutor Henry S. Ruth filed a stipulation with U.S. District Court making the fact of Nixon's testimony public. The testimony itself will not be released.

The grand jury is the last of three looking into Watergate matters. The first grand jury, investigating the break-in and cover-up, voted to name Nixon an indicted co-conspirator. The evidence it gathered was given to the House Judiciary Committee, which eventually voted to recommend impeachment of the President.

Soon after, Nixon resigned. In September last year, one month after he became President, Gerald Ford pardoned Nixon of any offenses he may have committed in his five years in office.

Nixon had been subpoenaed by John D. Ehrlichman, his former aide, to testify in the cover-up trial late last year. But Nixon was freed from any obligation to testify after court-appointed doctors found he was too ill to travel to Washington.

Projects Get OK

Two Big Spring projects were among those approved by the governmental review committee when it met at Terminal Thursday afternoon. Charles Tompkins, Big Spring councilman, is a member of the committee.

The projects now have to be referred to the board of directors for final approval. One of the proposals was widening, paving and curbing Scurry Street from 15th to the North Frontage Road of FM 700. Estimated cost of the proposed federal project is $75,100.

The other project is a request by the City of Big Spring for $107,321 from the federal Highway Administration for a bus to run from Big Spring, by way of Webb, through Stanton with stops at the airport terminal and at UTPB in Odessa before returning the same route.

Other projects approved by the review group were improvements on Cedar Street in Pecos, Grant Avenue in Odessa and upgrades of the traffic signal systems at 11 Midland interchanges.

Other requests approved were for a park in South Odessa and a low rent housing project in Midland.

PMs Oppose Proposal

Big Spring Postmaster Frank Hardesty said today that the postmasters organization is opposed to the proposal to Congress that some 12,000 third and fourth class post offices be closed.

The proposal was made by the General Accounting Office. Under the plan, the post offices may be closed if the Postal Service can provide equal or better service through a rural route for a larger post office.

Hardesty said that the only fourth class office in the area is the Knot Post Office, while Forsan, Gail, Garden City, Ackerly, and Westbrook all have third class post offices.

The laws would have to be changed for the proposal to be implemented, because present laws say a post office cannot be closed for economic reasons only.

Postal service officials indicate that if the proposal is adopted, the small fourth class post offices would be the first to be closed.

The postmasters are opposed to the plan, because the present policy is to wait until a postmaster dies or retires before consideration is given to closing that post office. Under the proposal, the postmaster may be transferred when his office is closed.

Veto To Hurt Texas Housing

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas housing industry will be hurt by President Ford's veto of a $1.2 billion housing bill, says Chuck Talmadge, director of housing of the Texas Department of Community Affairs.

Talmadge said here that the Texas home building industry is operating only at about 50 per cent of the level of two years ago.

The World At-A-Glance

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Scattered violence and strikes were reported following Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's crackdown on her political enemies, but the government said the situation in India generally was calm. New Delhi's streets were normal today, with business establishments and government offices open and no extra police in sight. Strikes closed some businesses and offices in Bombay and in Haryana state north of New Delhi. Police used tear gas against rioters stoning buses and throwing up roadblocks in Ahmadabad, capital of Gujarat state.

LONDON (AP) — Britain and France have entered into secret commitments to help make Egypt the arsenal of the Arab world, informed sources disclosed today. Senior officials of Britain, France and Egypt said their governments are now in the final phase of negotiating a series of interlocking multibillion-dollar transactions for the supply of plants and technology as well as weapons to Egypt. The British and French expect to earn billions, and the money will come from Arab oil states, including Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, the United Arab Emirates and Qatar.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teachers who worked as substitutes during the school year could still be eligible for unemployment insurance benefits, although a special law excludes them from collecting jobless benefits during the summer. An official with the Labor Department's Manpower Administration said Thursday that substitutes without contracts for the fall term could qualify, provided they met general state requirements for unemployment benefits. Fulltime teachers who were laid off from their jobs or who were not under contract for the fall term also would be eligible.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal agents are easing their efforts to track down bootleggers of illegal firecrackers this Independence Day season. Mary K. Ryan, acting director of the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission's bureau of compliance, explained that "last year's surveillance activities were fruitless. 'We didn't produce many undercover buys. A couple, no more,' she said of the commission's enforcement action.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Shops, business offices and schools closed in Beirut today as mortar and machine-gun battles between Moslems and Christians raged for the fourth day. It was the third major shutdown since April, and the government said the situation was "deteriorating rapidly." Casualties totaled at least 21 dead and more than 50 wounded.

ONLY FINK IN TOWN — Hundreds of persons turned out Thursday to help folks named Fink hold a festive reunion and celebrate National Fink Day in the North Texas village of Fink. When it came time to count the Finks, none could be found; then someone remembered there was an Oscar Fink from Denison. Oscar, in his 80s was located at the general store and chatted with newsmen. Oscar is called poet laureate of Fink but declined to make up a poem about Fink, but said he could write a lot of poems about Watergate.

Amarillo Jail Siege Sentences

HOUSTON (AP) — Prison sentences of 15 and 30 years have been assessed two men for their participation in an Amarillo siege in which one prisoner was killed.

After deliberating 95 minutes Thursday, a jury of seven men and five women sentenced James Petty, 27, to 30 years and James Quinn, 23, to 15 years.

The jury's report to State Dist. Court Judge I.D. McMaster also included instructed verdicts of guilty to charges of aggravated kidnapping. The jury only heard testimony during the sentencing phase in that both defendants had entered pleas of guilty on Tuesday.

Dist. Atty. Tom Curtis of Amarillo said he was pleased with the sentences and would recommend that Petty's 30-year sentence be served consecutively with an eight-year term Petty received after pleading guilty to a robbery charge before the Aug. 19 jail takeover.

Attorneys for Petty indicated, however, they probably will appeal the 30-year sentence.

Quinn's attorneys were undecided about an appeal. Quinn also is under a three-year federal sentence for interstate transportation of a stolen automobile.

Kenneth Oliver, a third man charged with aggravated kidnapping, received a 30-year sentence Sept. 16 upon entering a guilty plea in Amarillo. Oliver also received a concurrent 50-year term for a similar plea on a murder charge unrelated to the Potter County jail outbreak.

Darvin "Red" Meharg, a former Wichita Falls policeman who was being held on a robbery charge, was killed in the 36-hour siege when officers broke through a jail door.

Sheriff's Deputies Don Sidwell and Stan Snitker became hostages at the start of the unsuccessful jail escape attempt.

Sidwell, Snitker and Sheriff T.L. Baker of Amarillo testified during the three-day change of venue trial before McMaster that Meharg was the leader of the jail takeover.

Fitting Memorial Sought For Beloved Animals Here

Your friendly newspaper received a call Thursday from the operator of a monument shop who asked how to spell "Helluva."

It's a question the city desk doesn't get every day, so an inquiry was made as to the reason for such a request.

It seems the owner of a 13-year-old horse which had gone to his eternal award recently wanted a fitting memorial to the animal. "He was a helluva horse" was the way the steed's owner wanted the inscription to read.

No Simple Answers

President Ford's plan to compensate victims of violent crimes for losses as high as $50,000 and to make imprisonment mandatory for such crimes definitely has popular appeal. The people, especially those living in urban areas, are acutely concerned with the steady increase in violent crimes, including murders, robberies, rapes, muggings, holdups and break-ins.

Mandatory minimum sentences of confinement for federal offenders, including aircraft hijackers, kidnapers, narcotics dealers and many repeat offenders are included in the Ford plan. Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi said that "enactment of this program will have a decisive effect on minimizing the increase" in the nation's crime rate and might even decrease that rate.

Despite popular reaction, it does not pretend to consider the causes of crime, nor the means that might be used to prevent it or reduce it. Although our system likely has been too lenient in punishment, sentences do not necessarily deter crime.

Last year, the Federal Bureau of Investigation reported, major crimes jumped 17 per cent over the record of a year earlier. Much of the increase was attributed to youths. It came at a time when unemployment in the ghettos of American cities had reached more than 30 per cent in some cities. It is scarcely enough to provide for mandatory confinement to a minimum number of years for those who commit violent crimes. As for the $50,000 payment to victims, this does not even touch the question of the increase in crime. It just helps compensate the victims for the trauma undergone, and lets society share the load.

The President's plan needs also to be coupled with a recommendation that Congress increase substantially its appropriations for the federal prison system. Mandatory imprisonment for minimum terms will require an expansion of the system, both in buildings and in steel bars and in custodial personnel.

The President has attacked the symptoms, but has not come to grips with a diagnosis or a remedy for the disease itself. Nobody has the answers, and they are not simple.

Still The Best Deterrent

The Department of Public Safety is predicting 54 traffic deaths in Texas over the July 4 holiday season, according to its director, Col. Wilson Speir.

Based on trends, this may be entirely too accurate. Based on common sense, it is entirely too high, for there is no reason for Texans to kill themselves off at that unconscionable rate.

There is more traffic on the roads than a year ago, and it is moving at a faster rate. Not much can be done about the latter, for most people do not believe that there is an energy crisis, except in the pocketbook, so a fuel pinch will not keep them home. But the department is to be commended in drafting every available DPS employee possible for duty in patrolling highways during the holiday season. It's ironical, but those cars with lights on top still are about the best inducement available for reducing speed to state maximums. And there may be a lot of people alive on July 5 because of them.

Visit With George

Rowland Evans

WASHINGTON — The alarm now pervading the Democratic party establishment over the Wallace problem was sharply focused in Sen. Gary Hart's unannounced June 16 visit to Gov. George Wallace in Montgomery for an intimate three-hour talk on how to preserve party civility between now and the nominating convention next summer.

HART'S JOURNEY was based on this dubious hope: that despite rabid anti-Wallace sentiment among mainstream Democrats and Wallace's contempt for the party's liberal wing, Democrats can start the presidential campaign next summer reasonably united.

Hart was not the first mainstream Democrat to drop in to the governor's mansion. But as Sen. George McGovern's 1972 presidential campaign manager, the visit of liberal Gary Hart to the 1976 Democratic presidential hopeful most hated — and feared — by party liberals was unusual to say the least.

AFTER THEIR three-hour luncheon talk, neither Wallace nor Hart saw the slightest narrowing of their ideological gap. But Hart's purpose was more modest: to assure Wallace that Hart and some other anti-Wallace Democrats, both elected and non-elected officials of the party, would resist exclusionary efforts aimed at denying Wallace equal treatment in the pre-convention delegate-selection period.

This bold but probably futile effort was the brainchild of Alabama-born Marvin Warner, now an Ohio Democratic national committeeman, who was a close friend of Wallace at the University of Alabama. Though no Wallace-man, Warner has kept close contact with the governor. He was the middle man for Hart's excursion.

ANOTHER UNLIKELY visitor to the governor's mansion in Montgomery was Bernard Rapoport, the rich, liberal Democrat from Waco, Texas, who was one of McGovern's 1972 campaign fatcats. Wallace and Rapoport spent two and a half hours together on April 17. There have been other visits, and there will be more, with Warner acting as go-between.

But the problems inherent in Warner's ambitious effort to assure fair treatment for George Wallace — in hopes Wallace will reciprocate and not go third party if he fails to get on the Democratic ticket — are immense, and growing.

CONSIDER, FOR example, the calculated insults from party officials handling routine requests from Wallace operative Mickey Griffin, an Alabama national committeeman, on changes in state delegate-selection procedures.

Having ignored Griffin's first two appeals for the information, Richard Koster, Democratic national committeeman for the Panama Canal Zone, wrote a letter to Griffin on June 3, four months after Griffin's first request, answering Griffin's questions. But the letter ended: "Let me say further that I resent your aiming your paranoia in my direction," an allusion to Griffin's implied threat to complain publicly if his routine questions weren't answered.

A SIMILAR late reply came from Nevada state chairman Paul Lamboley, who wrote Griffin: "Your thinly-veiled... threat will not be dignified by further response." Lamboley never did give Griffin the information he requested.

It is precisely such refusals from some party leaders to cooperate in any way with the presidential campaign of the hated Wallace that worries other party leaders, such as Hart and Warner. Purely political attacks on Wallace, on the other hand, are in the accepted tradition of pre-convention combat.

THUS, THERE is no resentment in Wallace land of Sen. Tom McIntyre's pronouncement on June 1 that he finds it "incredible and appalling" that Wallace is under "serious consideration" as a possible President. In the same vein, Rep. Morris Udall of Arizona, an announced presidential candidate, made no enemies in Montgomery when he told San Diego Democrats on June 12 that Wallace "is not qualified to lead our country."

What Hart, Rapoport, Warner and other mainstream Democrats want is a Wallace dialogue that will guarantee procedural fairness and dissuade Wallace and his militant partisans from making a "stab in the back" charge if and when Wallace fails to get on the presidential ticket.

And for the Presidential Sweepstakes it's Ford aboard Scratched and No-Boy is up on Dem's Dilemma.

Americans Adjusted

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans have come through the economic shrinking process a bit wrung out themselves but not without having learned some lessons.

Millions of Americans seem to have adjusted to the adversity that was reintroduced into life after the 1960's great expansions. They've cut back, learned to do without, accepted a lower standard of living.

During the 1960s, Americans ascended into a lifestyle that many hadn't aspired to even in their dreams. For some families luxuries became necessities: Boats, second cars, second homes, long vacations.

Many a sociologist wrote that never again would Americans be satisfied with less, but that hasn't turned out to be so. The American of the 1970s has shown his resiliency, his willingness and ability to adapt.

The savings rate recently was up to around 9 per cent, which is roughly 50 per cent higher than the long-term average. It shows Americans don't need to spend just because they have it. It shows they know how to build capital.

Installation loans have been reduced sharply over the past few months. It shows Americans still believe in living within their incomes and won't tolerate a burden of debt they consider excessive.

It was feared that Americans wouldn't cut back on living standards, even temporarily, but would go into debt to keep up appearances, if only to themselves. This hasn't been so. Any butcher will confirm it.

Consumption of expensive red meats had been rising almost every year for more than two decades. But in recent years the per capita consumption has almost ceased to rise, and has actually fallen in some months. Americans kept their wallets folded.

They discovered nutrition too, and now many companies accommodate increasingly scientific shoppers by printing nutritional ingredients on their labels. Substance rather than appearance now is the guide.

Business too has shown it can adapt, even if the adaptation might appear to be forced by consumer or government groups.

Skipped Beats 'Harmless'

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am a 24-year-old mother of three. I have these irregular heartbeats. It feels like my heart is skipping beats. Sometimes it will do this several times in a row. I've been to four doctors about it. They laugh and tell me it is normal and won't harm me.

I am a very nervous person, and I have started taking tranquilizers three times a day, and that hasn't helped. I have been told to learn to live with it.

Can you tell me why it happens? And please don't laugh at me. — Mrs. G.

I won't laugh at you. When your doctors laugh, it is probably intended as a laugh of reassurance for you.

And if four doctors have told you you have a healthy heart, you should begin suspecting at least one of them could be right.

I'm not going to tell you that irregular heartbeats are normal. However, I can tell you that this can occur in perfectly healthy individuals. Why? There can be many reasons that do not reflect any heart disease.

A healthy heart can be subjected to many things that can affect its activity and cause transient little irregularities. Caffeine and tobacco, an overactive thyroid gland, or — and this may be applicable in your case — nerves. You said you were the nervous type.

What about your domestic situation? Your three youngsters may get on your nerves. And since you make a point of mentioning them in your letter, this may well be a factor with you. Nervousness can cause fatigue, and general fatigue can cause innocent heartbeat symptoms such as you described.

You have tried tranquilizers without any obvious effect. These would not counteract the effects of excessive caffeine, or of tobacco or of an overactive thyroid. Since they are not helping, perhaps you should consider foregoing them.

What to do? Number one, try to rid yourself of what appears to be a "heart fixation." Then review your living habits. Ask for a thyroid test to rule out any problem there.

There are drugs, incidentally, quinidine sulfate among them, which can reduce the skipping of the beats, but this must be prescribed, and since none of your doctors has seen fit to prescribe such medication, they must not feel it necessary in your case.

For a comprehensive discussion of how to cope with the change of life, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 3999, Elgin, Ill. 60120, for his invaluable booklet, "Make Menopause Easier." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents.

First Time Ever

Around The Rim

John Edwards

I had just lost my first court case. "John, did you demand a hearing?" Lanny Hamby, partner and brother of my attorney, asked as he walked into court.

"Yeah, I didn't know what to do. So I just waited until they called my name. That okay?"

"That's fine," the attorney said, smiling.

RICKY HAMBY, Lanny's brother, had called me and said his wife was having a baby. Would I take the appeal bond to Municipal Court or get Lanny to? Of course.

Early for court, I tried to count stars on the American flag. I studied toy vehicles which had been used to reenact an accident on the blackboard.

Defendants, mostly young, and lawyers were standing around the police department lobby and courtroom. Police patrolmen sat in jury chairs.

Municipal Judge John R. Coffey walked in and sat down. The judge called a name, and no one answered.

A boy in his teens was next. A policeman and the youth took the oath. City Attorney Jim Gregg asked the patrolman routine questions about the incident.

The youth claimed the signal light was changing as he approached the intersection. Judge Coffey found him guilty and fined him $10.

A WOMAN in what looked like a nurse's uniform took the stand in her own defense.

She said, that rather than slamming on the brakes, she ran a light. The signal she said, was changing to yellow as she drove under it.

Guilty. Fined $10.

My case was more solid, I felt. A patrolman said his radar clocked me driving 43 miles per hour in a 30-m.p.h. zone.

The judge called me, and I approached the bench. How did I plead? Judge Coffey asked.

"Not guilty," my voice cracked. "Judge, I respectfully demand a jury trial." I had thought about saying, I didn't.

Routine questions were directed at the policeman.

Then, Judge Coffey gave me an opportunity to cross-examine.

Where did the patrolman say he clocked my car at 43-m.p.h.?

So you clocked me less than two blocks from the first 30-m.p.h. sign? I asked, yes.

He gave the exact location of previous speed signs for 45 and 40 m.p.h.

NO FURTHER questions. The defense rests, I told the court.

The cross-examination had been harsh, but Judge Coffey was not satisfied and asked for a clarification.

The patrolman explained his radar showed my car going 43-m.p.h. one block from the 30-m.p.h. sign.

Guilty. Fined $10. I'll let my attorney represent me in county court.

EDITORIALS / OPINIONS

IRS Informants

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service relied mainly on confidential informants described by an IRS official as "not the best people in the world" to gather information for its Operation Leprechaun investigation of Miami-area taxpayers.

In another intelligence project, the agency's Information Gathering and Retrieval System, IRS agents and clerks pored through newspapers, clipping such items as reports on visits by prominent persons to country clubs and a gossip columnist's item on a wedding.

Both projects have been discontinued, IRS officials said in testimony this week and in a report released earlier.

The network of informants in the Leprechaun project grew to such an extent that at one point the agent who conceived and ran it admitted having several informants whom he had never met, the IRS report says.

In fact, the report says informants were themselves hiring other informants, were being used to instruct and pay other informants, and were asked to spy on each other as well as persons suspected of violating tax laws.

Special Agent John T. Harrison, who devised Operation Leprechaun, at one point had 62 informants working for him.

In a memorandum dated Sept. 13, 1972, Harrison told a superior that one of his female informants had turned out to be a double agent and was planning to expose Harrison and the IRS operation to "a group of individuals in whom we are interested, including some judges."

The Leprechaun operation, which accumulated information on the sex and drinking habits of public officials in Miami, began after a Justice Department strike force investigating organized crime in the area came up with a dozen names of politicians suspected of corruption.

The IRS then pursued that investigation separately.

As a class, the informants themselves were described to a congressional subcommittee as "not the kind of people most of us in this room would seek out as friends ... people we would not want to associate with."

The IRS report said that out of a sampling of 40 informants, one was a convicted narcotics peddler, but none had been convicted of tax evasion.

Letter To The Editor

DEAR EDITOR:

All Star selections for International Little League were announced Saturday, 21 June. These players were supposedly selected for their ability alone. A valuable lesson was taught several of the players who were not selected, it is not how good you are but who you are which counts in the end. This lesson, will remain with several of the players a lifetime, somehow I feel this is not the set of values Little League in Williamsport is trying to pass on to our youth.

Several of the players proved themselves to be bigger men in their acceptance of the biased selections than some of the men who did the selecting, I am very proud of these boys.

A discrediting rumor is now being circulated by some of the members of the league in a useless attempt to assure that any reaction by one of the non-selectee's parents can be misinterpreted.

Relax folks, I saw my son become a big man in an instant, bigger than some of you, he and I are sleeping well, secure in the knowledge his 550 batting average alone tops most of the All Star Selections.

How are you, the members sleeping?
Mr. James F. & Mrs. Sylvia C. Justice

My Answer

Billy Graham

My son is desperately in need of feeling the forgiveness of and hope for the future. In his third year of college, some friends persuaded him to take mescaline. It was the biggest mistake of his life. The last eight months he's been in a mental hospital. He asked me to write you for help.

With love and empathy of a mother, you must have many a tortured day. No doubt you feel helpless as your boy is hospitalized. While there's no use in thinking back now if only a dramatic impression of this could have been provided your son's friends — or whoever introduced him to drugs. Perhaps it might have been some deterrent. I think part of the sentence for every drug pusher should be visits to hospitalized drug patients.

A statement of Scripture that comes to mind is Psalm 42:7, 8: "all your waves and billows have gone over me, and floods of sorrow pour upon me like a thundering cataract. Yet day by day, the Lord also pours out His steadfast love on me, and through the night, I sing His songs and pray to God who gives me life."

I've submitted your son's name to our prayer circle in the Minneapolis Office. Beyond that, be positive and optimistic. Get someone to read the Bible to your son, particularly the story in Mark 10:46-52. Help him to sense God's love and forgiveness. Assure him they are always available through faith in Christ.

A Devotion For Today . . .

"The peace of God . . . shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus."
(Philippians 4:7)
PRAYER: Lord, help us to see Your light, to feel Your presence, and to enjoy Your comfort and peace today. We thank You that this world is full of Your life and light. Help us to walk in that light. Amen.

'Reasoner Report' Airs Final Program Saturday

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — ABC's weekly news magazine show, "The Reasoner Report," airs its final program Saturday with highlights of various stories and features seen on the show since it began in February 1973.

It's being replaced by a regular half-hour evening newscast.

ABC News President William Sheehan has said the change was ordered because ABC affiliates preferred a regular network newscast in the early Saturday evening time slot in which the "Reasoner Report" now appears.

But Harry Reasoner, who anchors the show as well as the network's weeknight newscasts, says he's certain there'll be another weekly news magazine program on ABC but probably not during next season.

"I hope there'll be one, because one of the things I really miss is the chance to go out three, four times a year and play reporter on a major story and I hope to find a way to do that," he said.

Reasoner, whose weeknight anchor duties tend to keep him tied down in Fun City, was asked if, in retrospect, he wished his weekend show had been given a Sunday night slot, like CBS' "60 Minutes."

"I do," said the 52-year-old newsman, a veteran of 14 years with CBS before he joined ABC in December 1970. "My preferred time all along was 10:30 on Sunday nights."

"I think our main problem was station clearances," Reasoner added, referring to stations that preferred to air their own local programs early Saturday evenings instead of the "Reasoner Report."

"The show did well where it was and there was a good audience out there," he said. "But it was on during such a good local time for the stations and they just hated to give that time up."

In August 1965, the predominantly black community of Watts in Los Angeles was devastated by a six-day riot that left 34 dead, nearly 900 injured and property damage estimated at $45 million.

On Sunday night, NBC News is airing a one-hour news special, "A Country Called Watts," which looks back at that violence, what happened after it ended and what conditions are like there now.

The show, co-reported by Tom Pettit, a white, and Gai Christian, a black, interviews a variety of Watts residents, including Marquette Frye, whose attempted arrest by a highway patrol on suspicion of drunken driving ultimately led to the riots that tore Watts apart.

The program effectively uses aerial footage, old and new, to illustrate what was destroyed and what was or wasn't rebuilt.

Alas, the show has a tendency to somewhat shallow interviews and doesn't dig very deeply into such key issues as why the federal antipoverty funds lavishly poured into Watts after the riot now are nil.

The idea of the show is admirable, but it just doesn't come off in execution. Well, at least they tried.

Jack Arney Senate Passes Education Bill

Three employees in the Defense Property Disposal Office at Webb AFB received recognition this week. Jack T. Arney celebrated 30 years of federal employment, while Claudia L. Martin and Calvert Shortes were cited for their suggestions in the Performance Improvement Program.

From building a dam across the Columbia River to receiving disposed property at Webb AFB, Big Spring, may seem like quite a jump, but to Jack Arney it's all in a day's work.

Each suggestion won a personal coffee cup for the submitters. The ideas are eligible for further awards, if found exceptionally meritorious.

'MONEY NEARLY ALWAYS WINS'

Prof Has Unusual Credentials

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Politics has taken on a new dimension for 19 graduate students who meet each Monday night at the University of Texas at Arlington.

Their professor is former U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, 72, who commutes from his Austin law practice each week to teach the class, sizes his qualifications up simply:

"I've been in more contested statewide races (nine) than any other living Texan."

Six of the campaigns, including the last two Democratic primaries for the senate, ended in defeat.

Yarborough, a liberal who has billed himself as a "people's candidate" since his first unsuccessful race for state attorney general in 1938, still blames big business and big money for orchestrating the losses.

The former senator said his 11-week class at UTA deals with "the politics of progressivism. It will show students how you participate in government and effect change if you don't happen to be a millionaire."

While showing students how to join in the political system, Yarborough, energetic and in good health and perhaps looking 20 years less than his age, said he hasn't ruled out his own participation in politics.

"Right now, I'm working on campaign debts. I was left with $95,000 from June of 1972 in a Democratic primary race against Barefoot Sanders. After three years of diligent effort,

I've cut it down to $23,000. "I don't plan to make any decision about running again until I get that paid off."

Yarborough, who served in the senate from 1957 to 1970 when he lost a bid for reelection to Lloyd Bentsen, still counts Bentsen and John Connally as arch foes.

The former senator said he opposes big spending campaigns.

"Money nearly always wins," he said. "The only two instances in history that it hasn't have been Abraham Lincoln and Harry Truman."

David Leads

OAK BROOK, Ill. (AP) — Australian David Graham, not to be confused with newly crowned U.S. Open Champion Lou Graham, carried a course-record 65 and a three-stroke lead over "a little more confident" Arnold Palmer into today's second round of the $200,000 Western Open Golf Tournament.

Still the people's choice, runnerup Palmer shot an opening 68 over Butler National Golf Club's course with the same par 71 and rated almost as tough as nearby Medinah Country Club, the scene of last week's strange "Backup Open."

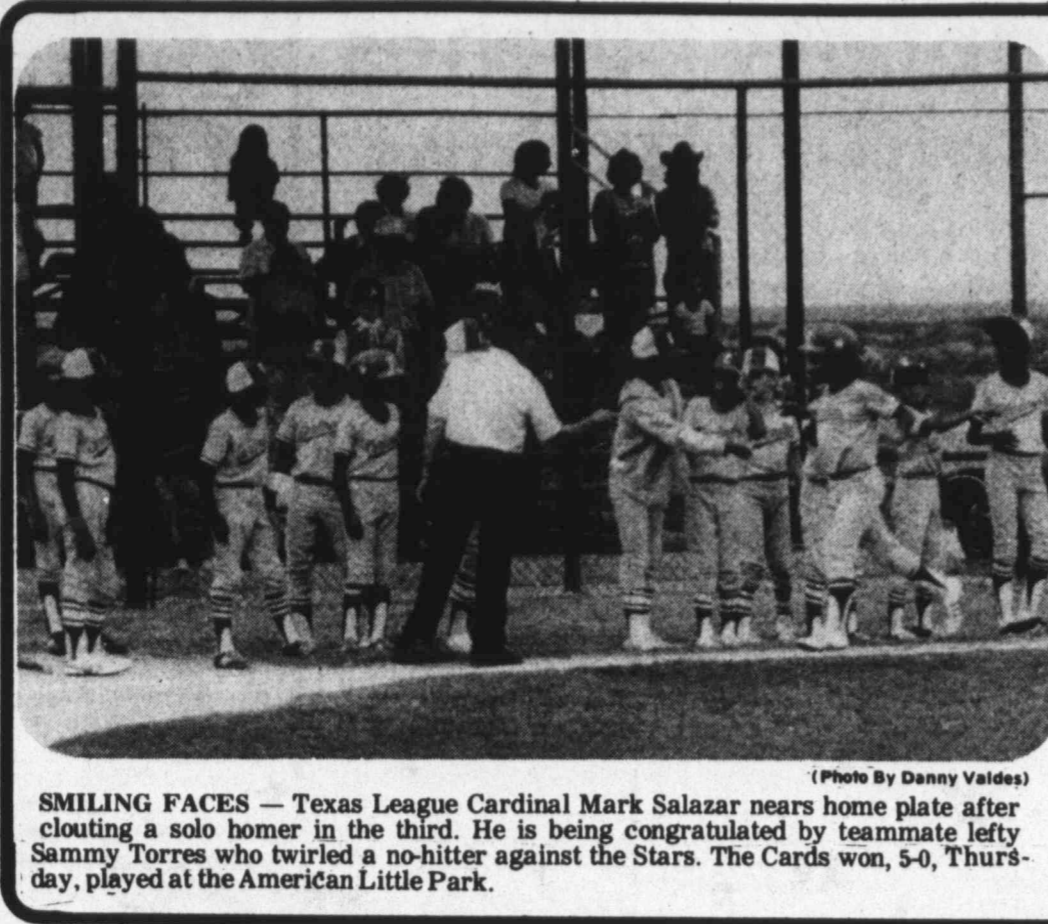

Palmer, without a victory since 1973, was cheered after displaying "more confidence in my game than I've had in a long time. I thought I had it in the Open — it was almost there, but not quite."

Graham, who tied for 29th in last week's Open, missed only two greens en route to his superb 33-32 round which included six birdies and the rest pars. That 65 broke the Butler course record of 67 by Tom Evans in the second round of last year's Western. Evans Thursday opened with an 11-over-par 82.

Tied for third in the pursuit of the Western's $40,000 top purse were Jerry Heard and newcomer Gary Wintz at two-under-par 69, while Argentina's Florentino Molina was next at 70.

Knotted at even par 71 were 1974 U.S. Open Champion Hale Irwin, John Schlee, Gibby Gilbert, Don Bies, Al Geiberger, Ed Sneed, Charles Coady, Miller Barber, Dave Eichelberger, and Jim Simon.

Defending champion Tom Watson was far back with a 78, while John Mahaffey, who Monday lost to Lou Graham in their playoff for the Open title at Medinah, dropped out of the starting field of 156 because of a chest cold after playing eight holes at six over par.

SMILING FACES — Texas League Cardinal Mark Salazar nears home plate after clouting a solo homer in the third. He is being congratulated by teammate lefty Sammy Torres who twirled a no-hitter against the Stars. The Cards won, 5-0, Thursday, played at the American Little Park.

"On the whole, I'd rather be in Philadelphia."

—W.C. Fields

On the whole, the Pittsburgh Pirates are happy to be out of Philadelphia.

—Rennie Stennett

"I talked to some friends when we got back to Pittsburgh and they seemed very disgusted about what happened in Philadelphia," Stennett said, referring to the Phillies' fourgame sweep of the Bucs. "I feel we would have won three of those games but we just have to forget about that now, start over and play our game."

They played their kind of game — pitching and power — with a vengeance Thursday night.

Rookie John Candelaria provided the pitching, a five-hit, 13-strikeout performance. And Stennett provided the power with a three-run homer in the bottom of the ninth inning that boosted the Pirates to a 5-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

On the rest of the abbreviated National League schedule, St. Louis edged Montreal 4-3, San Francisco defeated Los Angeles 2-0 and Houston beat Atlanta 8-4.

The blast, Stennett's fourth of the season and the Pirates' 34th in their last 26 games, moved Pittsburgh

Bench Draws Votes

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Bench of Cincinnati has become the first player in history to draw more than 1 million National League All-Star ballots for the sixth consecutive year, the baseball commissioner's office announced Friday.

With 10 days remaining in the voting, the Reds catcher is also the individual voting leader in the tabulations with 1,660,229 votes.

All the leaders retained their positions from the initial standings two weeks ago, though some are being threatened as the July 6th deadline draws near.

Cincinnati's Joe Morgan has a comfortable lead for the second base spot with 1,450,660 votes to 414,480 for Rennie Stennett, while Red's shortstop Dave Concepcion polled 1,269,681 ballots for a margin of 479,066 over Larry Bowa of Philadelphia.

Ron Cey of Los Angeles continues to be the fans' favorite third baseman, gathering 992,892 votes to outdistance Joe Torre of New York, with 459,375.

Pete Rose of Cincinnati leads the outfield race with 1,200,815 votes and Del Unser has tightened his grip on second place with 706,657.

However, Rusty Staub's third-place ranking with 639,865 votes was whittled by base-stealing king Lou Brock of St. Louis. Brock has attracted 609,970 votes and jumped from sixth to fourth place, just 29,895 behind Staub. Los Angeles' Jim Wynn is also a strong contender with 599,643, while Reggie Smith of St. Louis trails with 582,290.

CITY-WIDE TOURNAMENT

Tigers, Cards, Cards, Sabres Advance In LL

The Texas League Tigers and Cardinals and the Cardinals and the National and the International Sabres advanced to the semifinal round of the city-wide Little League Baseball Tournament Thursday.

The schedule for today sends the Tigers against the Cards and the Cards meeting the Sabres. All games start at 8 p.m. with the first named club being designated the host.

Final round of play will be conducted Saturday.

The Tigers blanked the Talons, 3-0, the Cards shutout the Stars, 5-0, the Cardinals whitewashed the Jets, 2-0 and the Sabres uted the Red Sox, 5-3.

Pitching was the featured highlight as two no-hitters and one one-hitter was thrown.

Lupe Ontiveros, Tiger hurler, gave up no hits against the Talons. He whiffed the ball past 14 Talon batters, and also helped out at the plate, banging away for a double.

Cardinal left-hander Sammy Torres permitted no Star safeties to cross his path and fanned 15 Star batsmen. Star losing pitcher James Stewart struck out 12. Mark Salazar unleashed a solo homer in the third for the Cards.

Ben Watson of the Cards issued only one-hit in mastering the Jets. He

Security Is Tight

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Two pairs of bright red eight-ounce boxing gloves spent the night in sealed boxes behind the high walls of central prison.

"I've been fighting 20 years and I never saw them put no gloves in jail before," Muhammad Ali said. Heavyweight champion Ali and British challenger Joe Bugner had selected the gloves they will wear in Tuesday's title fight. Security for the gloves is as strict as for everything else involving the match.

"Poor gloves gotta go to jail," Ali chuckled. "Boy, you sure are careful over here."

Organizers of the first battle for the heavyweight crown in this part of the world are tightening the security screen as the contest nears. Extra guards were posted Friday at Merdeka Stadium and casual visitors were barred.

Security at the mid-morning bout on July 1 will be as rigid as for any single event in this country's troubled history, a police source said. The usual measures to control crowds and protect the boxers are being extended.

Special seating arrangements are planned to keep the throng from getting too close to his majesty, known as the Yang Di-Pertuan Agong, or Paramount ruler. King Tunku Abdul Halim Mu'adzam Shah Ibn Al-Marhum Sultan Badlishah, 46, is a Jame duck, his five-year term expiring on Sept. 21.

Wood's Knuckler Surprises Texas

By The Associated Press

The New York Yankees attended a Boston Tiant Party Thursday night and saw their five-game winning streak go in the drink.

Luis Tiant pitched a strong seven-hitter, rookie Fred Lynn drove in three runs with a triple and single and Carlton Fisk hit his first home run in more than a year as the Red Sox thrilled a capacity crowd of 34,293 with a 6-1 triumph in the opener of a four-game series, leaving them just one-half game behind the Yankees in the American League's East Division.

Elsewhere, the Cleveland Indians walloped the Milwaukee Brewers 9-2, the Kansas City Royals trimmed the California Angels 7-1, the Detroit Tigers edged the Baltimore Orioles 6-5 and the Chicago White Sox whipped the Texas Rangers 8-3.

ROYALS 7, ANGELS 1

Fred Patek slammed a two-run homer — his first of the season — George Brett singled three times and doubled and Marty Pattin scattered nine hits for the Royals. It was Kansas City's sixth straight victory against California and Patlin's second win over the Angels in eight days. Last week he

TEEN-AGE Carrol Careful

Kiwani's Pat Carroll threw a one-hitter in shutting out Senior Bob Brock Ford, 7-0 and the Junior Cain's Yankees tripped up the Red Sox, 6-5 in Teen-Age go-round Thursday.

Carroll increased his record to an unblemished 5-0 mark. He faced 23 batters in the seven inning game only two above the required number. The lone hit off Carroll was a triple by Mike Harris.

Mike Burleson poked a bases loaded single in the bottom of the seventh to drive in the winning Yank run. James Pinkard was credited with the win. He is now 2-0 for the season.

Back to back two-run homers were hit by Alan Bristol and Billy Johnson, first and second frames, respectively.

Today's schedule lists the ABC Rebels opposing the Orioles, Elks vs Sanders Angels and Senior McMahon vs Big Spring Hardware.

Unable To Reach Limit Decision

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League was unable to reach a decision concerning player limits Thursday and will try again Friday when it resumes its annual meetings.

NFL directors have been haggling over the size of player rosters and had expected to make a decision Thursday, but now will have to extend the session another day. Last year teams were permitted to carry 47 players but some clubs would like to see that number reduced this season.

NFL officials did announce agreement in three areas after Thursday's session. They agreed to extend a rule instituting last season barring players who practice or perform with World Football League or Canadian Football League teams from playing in the NFL the same year.

They also passed a rule permitting the showing of instant replay during games at the discretion of the home team.

CONTINENTAL ORCHESTRA
... due here Tuesday

Orchestra Slated At Amphitheater

The Continental Orchestra, part of an internationally-known musical group headquartered in Thousand Oaks, California, will be appearing in live concert of contemporary Christian music on July 1, at 8:30 p.m. at the Amphitheatre, Comanche Trail Park. The concert is sponsored by Hillcrest Baptist Church.

Their 90 minute performance includes concert anthems, spirituals and folk adaptations, hymn arrangements and contemporary gospel music.

Selected by audition from high school and college age young people across the nation and around the world, the members of the Continental Orchestra are highly trained and talented musicians.

The group consists of forty members, including a full string section, and travels completely equipped with sound and lighting for the staging of their performance.

Vincent Baptist History Told

The church was organized April 21, 1901, with a charter membership of twelve. The name of "New Shilo Missionary Baptist Church" was given as it met for services in the Shilo school building. In 1908 the state laid out a township for Vincent near the Shilo School so the church changed its name to "Vincent Missionary Baptist Church".

The church erected a new building in 1909, but due to poor crops it was not cleared of debt until 1914. The building was a large one-room type, which was popular in those days.

A cyclone struck the building in 1926, leaving it in a wrecked condition, but services were held in it until 1928 when the Methodist people of the community invited us to hold services in their building.

Some of the later pastors are listed: Herman Robbins, Kilburn, Baxter, VanPelt, Watts, Coleman, Rowell, Coleman, McHugh, Drewery, Shoemate, Laing, Magnor, Cunningham.

The Vincent Church owned a cottage at the Baptist camp at Big Spring and when the camp was moved out north of Stanton, they moved the building to the present church property for the purpose of establishing a Mexican Mission. This was in 1960 and the attendance in the mission has been from ten to twenty-five each Sunday.

The most successful years of the church in building membership were from 1945 to 1955 during the oil boom in the community.

Rev. Joseph Bell was the first pastor in 1901-1902. The church, up to 1974, had had around twenty-five pastors, with terms lasting from a few months to eleven years. Rev. S. C. Shipley held the pastorate longer than anyone else—from September 1909 to December 1920. Rev. O. E. Coleman was pastor at two different terms.

The Vincent Church has ordained several men to the ministry among which are George Brown, Jesse Robinson, and C. C. Tate.

Three Baptist Churches Pioneering In Missions

By KATHY DAY
Three local Baptist churches are reaching to pioneer in areas where Southern Baptist work is lacking or weak.

College Baptist Church helped begin a Spanish-speaking mission in Ogden, Utah, by buying an old building formerly used by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon).

"The field is wide open," Hull said. "The Spanish-speaking people don't have any kind of ministry."

Services began in the basement of another church until the Home Mission Board of College Baptist cooperated to buy the building. Last summer about 30 young people from College Baptist visited the church and conducted Vacation Bible School.

The mission has received some opposition said Hull. "It was a subtle type of opposition like disappearing signs."

Yet, Sunday School attendance has increased to 60 or 70 each week, and the young people of College Baptist are planning to visit Ogden again on July 11, for another VBS session.

Pioneer churches in Washington, Wyoming, Montana, Indiana, Oregon, Colorado, Arizona and other states have been aided through the Molly Phillips

Mission Fund of the East Fourth Baptist Church. Mrs. Hart (Molly) Phillips was a member of East Fourth who willed one-sixth of her oil royalties to be used in mission work, and dispersed through the church. She died in 1944.

John King, outreach minister at East Fourth, said money is not sent indefinitely to the churches, but slowly decreased as the churches grow.

"We share with them on a six-months basis, and we never know from one time to the next the amount of money we'll get," King said. "We just pick out the ones we think are the most needy."

The church recently cut out three churches in the north that had more money in their building fund than East Fourth had.

Although the expected income for 1975 from the oil royalties is $40,000, at times they have been as low as $4,000 per year. Whatever it is, the money is not hoarded, but put to work as soon as they get it.

A missions conference is being scheduled for August in which the pastors of the pioneer churches will come to Big Spring and share a slide presentation with the church about the work in their area.

"We hope this will encourage the people at East Fourth to become more mission-minded," said King. First Baptist Church of Big Spring has extended its ministry to include sponsoring a mission in Colby, Kan., a city of 4,700 near Dodge City, Kan. Through a family at First Baptist, the church learned of the situation in Colby and invited the pastor to speak during the annual Week of Prayer for Home Missions.

Dr. Kenneth Patrick, pastor of First Baptist said, "it was not but a short time after that I got the brainstorm that here is an opportunity for us to work in direct missions."

The church in Colby is presently meeting in the Community College, but groundbreaking services for the new church will be July 15. First Baptist is financing,

One summer the youth choir included Colby in its tour; another the career and college department gave a drama presentation; and other youths worked with VBS.

Lady with a smile

What was the Mona Lisa thinking about when Leonardo da Vinci painted her? Was she smiling? Some say that she was actually closer to tears!

It is centuries since Leonardo and his model lived, but throngs still stand before the painting in the Louvre and wonder at it. It is much smaller than people expect, but that in no way diminishes its attraction. For the Mona Lisa symbolizes the mystery of life. No matter how great our curiosity, we can never know all the answers.

There is a great deal of mystery in the Church too. Often this bothers those who would seek a logical explanation for everything. That is where we need faith — for faith is, in part, an acceptance of what we inherently feel but can't prove in ordinary, everyday terms.

Where to find faith? Admittedly, it can be quite a quest. But a good place to start that quest is in church.

ABWA Honors Ruth Harper

Ms. Ruth Harper, first woman to hold the position of personnel director for the City of Big Spring, has been named Woman of the Year for Spring City Chapter, American Business Women's Association. The honor was announced Tuesday evening during a dinner meeting at La Posada.

MS. RUTH HARPER

Ms. Harper, who is now eligible for national competition, was reared in Coleman, later moving to Dallas where she headed the computer department of an insurance company. When she came to Big Spring, she was bookkeeper for Big Spring Country Club, leaving that job to become assistant secretary for the United Fund. Her association with the city began with a job in the water department, after which she became a personnel technician. Upon completing a course in personnel management at Howard College she was promoted to director of personnel.

Holding membership in the Spring City Chapter for three years, she has headed various committees and held office before serving this year as vice president.

Mrs. James Cox presided at Tuesday's business session, and the vocational speaker was Miss Allene McShan, a cashier and collection clerk for Pioneer Natural Gas Company.

Guest speaker was John Wilson, CPA, who is associated with a local office and is a former director of the Permian Basin Chapter of CPAs, entitling his talk, "Suffer the Little Woman." Wilson traced the history of injustices to women (beginning with the beheading of Anne Boleyn) until 1965 when statistics showed that of the professionals in industry only 1.0 per cent were women. In listing the benefits women enjoy, Wilson noted that 58 per cent of the nation's wealth, excluding government owned, is controlled by women; in divorce cases, they receive custody of the children 91.5 per cent of the time; they do not have to register for the draft and "have always enjoyed criminal leniency."

Stressing that his talk was meant to be "entertaining" rather than political, Wilson said he hoped his listeners drew the following conclusions from the program:

- (1) Once the woman was a second class citizen but this has been largely if not wholly corrected
- (2) Women have restrictions but so do men
- (3) If women do suffer from discrimination, women are primarily responsible for the state of affairs. He explained that by the third item, he meant that women discriminate against themselves by putting more faith in men in areas such as politics, medicine, etc.

Prayers were worded by Miss Ramona Molina and Mrs. Debbie Wegman. The next meeting will be July 22.

July 7 Picnic Scheduled By 4-H Club

The Gay Hill 4-H Club will have a picnic July 7 at Comanche Trail Park according to plans made at Monday evening's meeting at Gay Hill school with Ronnie Wegner presiding. New members welcomed were Dawn Underwood and Tanya Hollis.

Following the 4-H pledge and motto by Wegner and Linda Basham, new officers were elected. They are Jackie Buchanan, president; Dana Westbrook, vice president; Miss Basham, secretary; Tommy Wegner, treasurer and Paul Dean Ray, reporter. Miss Westbrook was elected Rodeo Queen.

Refreshments were served by Shellie Peterson.

Dear Abby

Ring Cannot Always Prove Good Intentions

DEAR ABBY: About four months ago, my boyfriend asked me to marry him. He is in the service and is stationed in another state. I have not seen him since he popped the question, so I haven't received an engagement ring yet, although we did set a date for our wedding.

A friend of mine says that a girl is not really engaged unless she has a ring. She has never had a boyfriend and seldom gets asked out, so maybe she said that out of jealousy.

Still, I would like to know for sure. Does a girl have to have a ring in order to be officially engaged?

ALMOST MARRIED DEAR ALMOST: A girl doesn't need a ring to be officially engaged. Although you haven't seen him for four months, I presume that you are in touch with one another. Has he questioned the pop since he popped the question?

DEAR ABBY: Please give us your opinion of this very important family matter. My mother-in-law passed away, and about two hours after the funeral services her youngest son went to play golf. (He is 50 years old.) My husband, an older brother, said he was so hurt that his brother showed so little respect for their mother's memory that he will never forgive him.

What do you think?

CALIFORNIAN DEAR CALIFORNIAN: How much respect the younger brother showed his mother while she was alive is more important than how long after her funeral he waited to play golf. Everyone handles his grief in his own way.

DEAR ABBY: Let me say first that I am the mother of three and happily married, and have not the slightest desire to attract any man other than my husband.

I always wear pantsuits to work because I think they are more modest than dresses. I would stop wearing makeup and shave my head if it insured keeping my male co-worker's minds off my femininity and on my ability to do my job.

In other words, I do not want to be viewed as a sex object. My friends and I have adopted a poem as our slogan. It was written by a 12-year-old girl:

"Please don't walk in front of me. I may not want to follow. Don't walk behind me. I may not want to lead. Please, walk beside me and be my friend."

Any man who demands that a woman display her body for him to oggle, and that she be young and have a good figure or suffer his scorn, can never be a friend.

COLLEN IN CALGARY CONFIDENTIAL TO "STILL HURTING IN NAPLES, FLORIDA": You can't "kill" love. It has to die by itself.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20c) envelope.
