

The Outlook Is Bright

Reports from Howard County banks reflect another gain in deposits. While the 4 per cent increase over a year ago is slightly less than previous increases, the continued gain is remarkable within itself.

All this year, most observers have been saying that this economic indicator would have to go down because it was bucking the results of the one-in-a-lifetime cotton crop of 1973. It will be recalled that this was the year when both yields were high (about 94,000 bales or twice the average), and so was price (the crop must have averaged between 50 and 55 cents). Naturally, when bulk of the crop was sold during the first quarter of 1974, bank figures were swollen.

Then came an almost total washout during 1974. The crop barely topped the 10,000 bale mark, and the grade, quality and price on cotton were all miserable. For practical purposes, there simply was nothing to go into the banks from this. Still, all this year the deposit total has continued to rise steadily. So have natural resources, which were up 5 per cent in topping the $102 million mark.

The most arresting figure was a 17 per cent increase in the level of loans. This partially reflects the current conditions under which farmers have been able to get loans for the promising 1975 crop; it also indicates that there is more capital going into development.

This stimulating report is reinforced by the rains Thursday night and Friday, and which followed spotted showers earlier. While all the county did not get a soaking, the center slice from east to west did, and it was enough in many cases not only to assure a crop, but also probably a bumper crop.

All of which, coupled with a steady to good outlook for oil activity, promises a good to booming last half of 1975. If the price on domestic oil is de-controlled and it rises to the "new" oil level, the infusion will be really pronounced.

Opium — Our Problem, Too

Apprehension is aroused by the fact that Turkish farmers are again raising opium poppies with their government's blessing. A new system of licensing and control is no guarantee against much of the crop's winding up as heroin in the hands of illicit drug traffickers.

The official Turkish position is that the controls will work. Steps are being taken to keep poppy acreage under surveillance. Authorities in the United States fear, however, that unless the official price is pegged much higher than they anticipate, controls will be widely evaded.

This fear is justified. The expected official price of $10 per kilo of morphine base is less than half what it fetches in illicit channels. The resumption of legal poppy growing in Turkey calls for increased alertness and enforcement effort by the United States and other countries involved in the war on black market drugs.

There's an ad man just up the aisle who says he always wanted to be a go-go dancer, but by the time he got a chance to try it, his get-up and go-go had gotten up and gone-gone.

Good advice. Just don't let the dreams outnumber the ideas.

The Today program recently (don't worry about the time element) was concerned in part with a discussion of proper grammar, and the closing word of one of the experts was "whatever."

"Whatever" has become a three-syllable crutch for people who don't want to fall back on the old favorite — "You know."

My Answer

Billy Graham

As you know, the crime statistics are alarming. I read recently the incidence of crime has spiked up more sharply than any time since the FBI started collecting statistics 45 years ago. What can we do.

L. O. A news magazine once summed up the crime crisis by saying, "There's a mystery about this phenomenon that we cannot understand." Now the Bible teaches that this is the mystery of iniquity. It's a power, unseen except by its effects, which is ever working in the world for evil purposes. It all comes from its "father," the devil (John 8:44).

Obviously, we need to take whatever precautions we can. Refraining from going out at night in urban high risk areas; locking cars, briefcases, houses, etc.; teaching our children to be wary of the suspicious circumstance, etc., will all have to be common practice. Support the local law enforcement agencies. Vote for political leaders that promise to take strong action, etc.

Short of a cell of isolation, however, you cannot protect yourself from all crime. The only recourse we have is to God, through faith in Christ. The Psalmist said He was "a very present help in trouble." He further admitted in chapter 61 that "God had been a

CATTLEGUARDS

History probably doesn't record the person's name who built the first cattleguard but I suspect it was someone who didn't like to open and close gates. The cattleguard is strictly a time-saving device which has been used by cattlemen for many years. Cattleguards provide openings in fences that vehicles can pass readily through but cattle will not.

They are made in several different ways, the earliest being constructed of wooden timbers or logs. A ditch or trench was dug in the fence row and heavy timbers were placed to span across it. Railings made of timbers or logs were attached across the main supports forming a platform over which vehicles could travel. Spaces of four or five inches were left between these railings to give an open look to the platform. Upright pieces or posts were placed at each end of the structure and the fence was attached to these.

I presume, though I haven't done any research on it, the open look of cattleguards is what prevents cattle from attempting to cross over them. Apparently old bossie comes up, takes one look at that man-made contraption, looks between those rails down into that ditch and decides it is not to be tampered with. She probably goes back and spreads the word to the rest of the herd. I knew a fellow one time who trained his horse to jump over cattleguards. However (this is sad), just as the old horse was getting the hang of it he broke his leg because his timing was a little off.

Most cattleguards today are made of steel. Large pipe is commonly used as well as railroad rails. Concrete is also used in various ways.

CATTLE GUARD

They are built of strong materials and construction so that they will support the heavy loads of vehicles on farms and ranches. Cattleguards are of course more costly than gates but they are as handy as a pocket on a shirt (so one man described them). If you ever had to open many gates a cattleguard is always a welcomed sight.

One painful memory I have of a cattleguard comes from an accident I had with one when I was a young boy. We were visiting at a neighbor's house and were leaving to go back home. His cattleguard was built up above the level of the road with a mound of earth inclined up to it on both sides. Above it was a beam from which a sign (the name of his ranch I think) was hanging by two chains directly over the center of the road. I was in the back of the pickup and for some stupid reason was standing up. As we went over the hump at the cattleguard I was looking backward and didn't know to duck my head. I tell you that sign just about took off the top of my head. My sister claims to this day that's what is wrong with me.

Gasoline Up, Could Go Higher

NEW YORK (AP) — Gasoline prices were raised one to three cents a gallon this past week by 14 major oil companies as many Americans prepared for Fourth of July holiday auto trips.

Shell Oil Co., Phillips Petroleum Co., Continental Oil Co., Clark Oil & Refining Corp. and Ashland Oil, Inc. were among those boosting prices the full three cents a gallon.

The FEA said the price increases were partly a response to rising demand for gasoline during the summer. Also, the oil companies are allowed to pass along higher costs to the consumer — including the $1-a-barrel import tariff imposed by President Ford in June.

Prices may rise even further if President Ford follows his plan to let price controls on domestic crude oil run out as scheduled at the end of August. Domestic oil is currently held at a ceiling of $5.25 a barrel compared with $11.50 a barrel charged by foreign producers.

WEEK'S BUSINESS

- Fourteen major oil companies raise gasoline prices
- Shell, Conoco, Phillips raise maximum of 3 cents
- Prices may go higher when domestic restraints freed
- Administration takes tougher line on foreign producers
- First City National of New York raises prime rate

Ford's energy advisers appeared to be hardening their line against the foreign oil producers.

Treasury Secretary William Simon, formerly the nation's energy chief, told a press luncheon in Washington that the United States may consider economic countermeasures if foreign producers raise prices again this fall as they have announced. He refused to say what the measures might be.

The FEA said it will ask for free television time for an ad campaign against the foreign producers. The FEA said it is shopping for an advertising agency to film some commercials playing up America's vulnerability. The ads will be sent to television stations around the country asking that the stations donate time to show them on the air.

First National City Bank of New York boosted its prime rate from 6 1/2 per cent to 7 per cent, the first increase in the prime rate in six months. The prime rate is the lowest fee banks charge on top-rated, short-term commercial loans. The rates popped up after the Federal Reserve indicated it wanted to tighten up on the nation's money supply to curb inflationary pressures during recovery.

The prime rate does not influence longer-term rates such as consumer installment loans, mortgage rates or small business loan rates.

Air Condition Spin-Off

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My problem is air conditioning. If I'm in a place that has it for more than a few minutes, my head becomes stuffy and I develop a headache, also a sore throat. I sometimes get a head cold from it.

Is there anything I can do to overcome it?

W.C.J. You are undoubtedly unusually sensitive to drafts and to temperature changes. At home, you may be able to control things by setting the air conditioner controls low, increasing humidity levels, etc. But elsewhere things are probably pretty well out of your hands.

There is really not much you can do about buildings whose custodians feel they must recreate polar atmospheric conditions. However, with the developing energy crisis, we may find a bit less of this as fuel conservation cuts down on indiscriminate air conditioning.

Do not discount the possibility that your sinuses may be partly to blame. Sudden changes in temperature and atmosphere can play havoc with your nose and sinuses. Yours may be a bit more sensitive than normal. You might have them checked.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have been plagued with halitosis since college. It has gotten much worse over the past years, and since I am around people a great deal, this is most embarrassing.

It appears to be worse when I am at places such as church, school, parties, meetings, and this is every week. I have developed a complex.

I have done the commonly-thought-of things such as regular dental visits, checks for ear, nose or throat trouble, for digestive tract problems, etc. I have used gargles, mints, etc. — all to no avail!

My husband says my condition probably stems from emotions. If this is true, can there be a solution? In hopes that it might help me, I'm ordering your booklet, "Bad Breath Can Be Corrected." I'm sending 25 cents for it to you in care of the Herald, and enclosing the long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Mrs. H.S. You seem to have done about everything possible to track down the cause. Your husband may be correct in suggesting an emotional basis, especially if you are a nervous person.

It is interesting that you report episodes of bad or worse-smelling breath. One doctor has written on the subject, noting that he has detected marked changes in breath odor among some patients who are awaiting results of certain examinations. He concludes that emotions may produce symptoms of halitosis under stressful situations.

If this is a factor with you, your only recourse is probably in attempting to get your emotions under control.

The only other suggestion that comes to mind is that of allergy as a possible cause. This can be a factor, and it can be in response to a common, everyday food, not necessarily to one of the usual types.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My breasts are very sensitive to the touch. I have heard that the contraceptive pill could make this happen. If this is so, should I change pills, or go off them completely?

Mrs. J.D. Birth control pills have been associated, in some women, with breast tenderness. You might try using them a while to see if the symptoms disappear.

A pill of lower dosage might be helpful, and you should speak to your doctor about this. You should report the symptoms, anyway.

"You Can Stop Sinus Trouble!" is the title of Dr. Thosteson's newly revised booklet, explaining what sinus trouble really is and what can be done about it. For a copy write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 3999, Elgin, Ill 60120, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Presidential Visit

WASHINGTON — Delay in a Middle East peace settlement is the worst possible alternative which would lead inevitably to still another war, President Gerald Ford said in an interview with this reporter and two colleagues.

"THAT WOULD RESULT in unrest on all sides," the President said. "It would be an open invitation to another war."

He spoke with great gravity as he directs the effort to bring Egypt and Israel to agreement on terms for another disengagement and at least a temporary truce in the no-war, no-peace condition between the two powers. The decisions he must shortly take, spelling out without equivocation the American position is, the President agreed, as difficult as any in nearly a year in office.

BUT HE REJECTED the view expressed in a news dispatch from Tel Aviv that the United States was serving an ultimatum on Israel. There can be no settlement arbitrarily imposed, the President said. Such a settlement would get off on the wrong foot at the start.

If there is no success in the present effort then we must turn to a broader, more comprehensive program, the President said. It would be necessary to reconvene the Geneva conference with the Soviet Union and the United States as cosponsors with all the powers in the Middle East present.

AS HE HAS SAID before, the President believes that another Middle East war would almost certainly bring another oil embargo imposed by the Arab oil producers. That would have disastrous consequences particularly in view of the fact that the oil-consuming nations have not yet coordinated their policy and that Congress has not yet passed an energy bill that, in Ford's view, can bring a reduction in American consumption of petroleum.

I WAS IN BRUSSELS for the President's participation in the NATO summit meeting. At his press conference there with several hundred European and American correspondents the President showed the quiet decisiveness that in European eyes gave him a new stature.

Asked about the statement of the oil-producing and exporting countries OPEC that an increase of $2 to $4 a barrel for oil is inevitable in September, the President said this would have the most serious consequences. It would be serious for the United States, more serious for Europe, very serious for Japan and most serious of all for the underdeveloped countries. We are in a better position to handle it, he added.

THE IMMINENT ISSUE, when Congress returns from the present Fourth of July holiday is whether the Ford plan to decontrol "old" oil, roughly two-fifths of current consumption, will be nullified by Congressional action. Decontrol will mean an increase in the per-gallon price at the pump.

Gloomy prophets have said this will mean $1-a-gallon gasoline as against the present 55 cents.

The Anniversary

William F. Buckley, Jr.

Scene: The dining room of a former ambassador, and close friend of the former President. He is there, with Mrs. Nixon. Their first night-out since the beginning of their exile in San Clemente. There are 20 or so guests, carefully selected: what the polemical press would call "Loyalists." The dinner has been served, and the toasts begin.

Richard Nixon and analyze the causes of his downfall, in the end the key to the mystery lies in Mr. Nixon's character. The trouble with bad taste, a dramatist once wrote, is that it can lead to murder. In Nixon's case it led to his unmaking, and to derivative institutional consequences, everyone is trying to understand, lucidly, and most readably in recent weeks, Theodore White, whose volume "Breach of Faith" is, as one would expect, engrossing. But which raises at least as many questions as it answers.

THERE IS AN explanation for this making the cynical rounds. It is raised by the columnist Nicholas Von Hoffman, who eats slightly soggy muffins for breakfast. The trouble with White's analysis of Nixon's downfall, says Hoffman, is that White has to come to terms with what he has written before about Nixon. Indeed, White confesses in his most recent book that away back, like every other American liberal, he began by loathing Nixon, but that somehow along the line he developed an admiration for him. In full retreat from this admiration, he writes now the book about the Fall of Richard Nixon. But he is unwilling to say what Hoffman would like him to say: that Nixon was always thoroughly evil.

THERE ARE no saints and no villains in history," Hoffman quotes White as saying on a television program, and comments, "Blurring something like that out transcends the embarrassment of looking like a jackass because one once wrote complimentary sentences about Nixon." White is of course much more nearly correct than Hoffman, who is a caricaturist, and writes columns only because he doesn't draw cartoons. White is a thoughtful man, who has perceived the weaknesses of Nixon, brought brilliantly into focus — as far as he goes — the bearing of those weaknesses on Nixon's decline and fall. But fails, in the end, because Theodore White — so kind and good-natured — so ineluctably enticed, even now, by the lure of pot-bellied ideology — fails to nail the principal nexus between Nixon's personal shortcomings, which White traces in a fine detail as Durer.

POLITICALLY EMBARRASSING Statements By Rocky Are Often Amended

WASHINGTON (AP) — At least four times during his sixmonth vice presidential tenure, Nelson A. Rockefeller has found it necessary to amend earlier statements that had proven embarrassing. In all four cases, his later accounts differ from what the record shows originally transpired. The subjects of this process have included his own political plans, the imminent collapse of the American-backed government in South Vietnam and the question of U.S. secret commitments to that government. Most recently, it was the possible role of President John F. Kennedy and his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, in alleged assassination plots developed by the Central Intelligence Agency. Rockefeller had been in office barely two months when, in a discussion with reporters aboard his plane after a Feb. 26 speech in Detroit, he virtually ruled himself out of contention for a future Republican presidential nomination.

On the flight home, Rockefeller conceded he hadn't known of the exchanges and questioned if President Ford had known. (Ford had known since the previous August.) Rockefeller also insisted that he only criticized Jackson because he had been asked about the senator's charges. The question about the Kennedy brothers and the CIA arose on June 15, when Rockefeller said during an appearance on NBC's "Meet the Press" that his commission was unable to finish an investigation of CIA assassination plots, in part because "many of the people have died who were allegedly involved and others were assassinated in this country, tragically..." "Did you say some of the American leaders who might have been involved in possible assassination plots had themselves been assassinated?" Rockefeller was asked. "I did," he said, answering a later query by naming the Kennedys and declaring "I think it is fair to say that no major undertakings were done without either knowledge and/or approval of the White House."

'Exciting' Reunion

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — "It's like a dream come true" a suburban housewife said when she was reunited with her 73-year-old father, a prisoner in Communist China 25 years. Nationalist Chinese Army Lt. Gen. Chen Shin-chang, captured by Communist forces in 1949, was released with 293 other prisoners April 14 under a special amnesty program. He was reunited with his daughter, Mrs. Cheng-Chien Chou of Carmel, at Weir Cook Airport here Friday night. "I am so excited, it's like hearing a voice from the grave," said Mrs. Chou. "We lost all contact with him and had not heard a word from him since he was captured." She said she and her mother and brother escaped to Taiwan after the Communist takeover of mainland China.

Gas Boosts Producing Big Profits, Nader Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumer advocate Ralph Nader said Saturday that recent gasoline price increases are providing domestic oil companies with a huge windfall profit. In a statement, Nader said President Ford's $2 per barrel tariff on imported oil is only partly responsible for price increases. Another important ingredient, Nader said, is a $2 per barrel increase in the price of American oil which is not price controlled. This, Nader charged, "enables domestic oil producers to reap a $2-billion windfall profit." Federal energy officials said Tuesday they expect gasoline prices to rise by 3 to 5 cents per gallon this summer. Increases have been announced during the week by various major companies. The increases had been expected, energy officials said, and they characterized the increases as largely seasonal. They said refineries are increasing their production of gasoline after a period in which stocks in hand had declined. In addition to his statement, Nader sent letters to chairmen Henry M. Jackson of the Senate Interior Committee and Harley O. Staggers of the House Commerce Committee. He urged them to work for price controls on domestic oil. Nader charged that Ford's tariff on imported oil will not reduce consumption of imports as oil users cannot shift their purchases to domestic oil because domestic production has not increased.

Two Love Stories In 'Guys & Dolls'

"Guys & Dolls," the Broadway musical of the early 1950's, based on Damon Runyon characters, is being presented this Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Howard College Auditorium by a community theatre effort. Curtain time is 8:00 p.m., nightly. Tickets are now on sale at the college, or reservations can be made by calling 267-6311. Adult admission is $3, and students $2.

The plot of Guys & Dolls is based on a little-known Runyon story, "The Idyll of Sarah Brown", but is enriched by a horde of Runyan's typical Broadway characters: Nathan Detroit, Sky Masterson, Nicely-Nicely Johnson, Benny Southstreet, Harry the Horse, and Big Jule from Chicago, among others. All of them are gamblers, and the action concerns them, their girlfriends, and their troubles — the chief trouble being the difficulty of deciding between the rolling of the dice and the beating of the heart.

There are two love stories, equally wacky. The first involves the mercurial Nathan Detroit, (Dick Risk), a small but hotshot operator, proprietor of "The Oldest Established Permanent Floating Crap Game in New York", one of the most hilarious hit songs in the show. Detroit is definitely, if irregularly, devoted to Miss Adelaide, (Laurie Choate), a night club canary. They have been engaged for 14 years, but their nuptials have been continually postponed because of Nathan's sudden need to dash off to the Saratoga race track, superintend a particularly feverish crap game, or disappear in other mysterious ways — all of which is recounted in "Adelaide's Lament", a number that is both pathetic and uproarious.

The other romance concerns Sky Masterson, (David Wright), a big-time, free-living, free-loving plunger — a night-hawk, as he explains in the nocturnal "My Time of Day" — and Sarah Brown, (Kay Barnett), a Salvation Army lass, head of the gallant but rundown Save-a-Soul Mission. Complications ensue, but, with a nod to the proverb, the course of true love is smoothed out along a bigger, but not necessarily better, Broadway.

The script of "Guys & Dolls" is more mere libretto — everyone has agreed that it could be performed purely as a play. Good though it is, the book is superbly complemented by Frank Loesser's witty and always surprising lyrics, as well as by his music, which ranges from the simple to the spectacular; from the tender "More I Cannot Wish You", sung by Arvide Abernathy, (Danny Rountree), to the gaudy and gorgeously strip-teasing "Take Back Your Mink", by Miss Adelaide and the Hot Box chorus.

Romance, delicate irony, and whimsical humor are combined in "I'll Know", "I've Never Been in Love Before", and "If I Were a Bell". An unusual sense of comedy, rare in music, sparked "A Bushel and a Peck", (which flashed across the country the moment it was released), "Sue Me", "Marry the Man Today", and the cynically merry title-song, "Luck Be a Lady" and "Sit Down You're Rockin' the Boat" has through the years lifted listeners clear out of their seats with their surging high spirits.

Other Runyon characters who spice the plot are Benny, (Charles Grizzard), Nicely-Nicely, (Ricky Mitchell), Harry, (Bill Cross), Salvation Army General Cartwright, (Carrie Wheeler), Police Lt. Branigan, (Bill LeReau), and Agatha, (Janice Grogg). The biggest hoodlum, Big Jule from Chicago, is played by Charles Parham, the Minister of Music for the First United Methodist Church.

Ora Burson has supplied part of her dance class for the Hot Box Chorus line and has done the choreography. Other students are playing the Cuban dancer, (Susie Smolko), Havana's dance team, (Janet & Mike Smolko), and the little street dancer, (Dawne Denise Kloor).

J. Ramsey Holloway is the stage manager and Mary Muller is the Assistant Director. Dana Feaster and Robin Von Rosenberg are doing lighting, and Rusty Mitchell is operating the sound system. Cathi Mays is handling props.

On April 2, as the U.S.-backed government in South Vietnam crumbled, Rockefeller was asked by reporters as he left for the Buffalo, N.Y., funeral of former New York State Senate Majority Leader Earl Brydges, what he felt about the deteriorating military situation in the Southeast Asian nation.

NOT A FACTOR "I'm just not a competitive factor with the rising stars" in the GOP, he declared, calling talk about 1980 "crazy."

But a few hours later he denied that he had ruled himself out as a future candidate and declared only that he was "totally disinterested" in speculation about the future.

On April 2, as the U.S.-backed government in South Vietnam crumbled, Rockefeller was asked by reporters as he left for the Buffalo, N.Y., funeral of former New York State Senate Majority Leader Earl Brydges, what he felt about the deteriorating military situation in the Southeast Asian nation.

"It's a tragedy," he replied. "I think it's really too late to do anything about it." Later, however, he expressed hope the South Vietnamese could regroup and that Congress would provide more aid.

When asked if he had indicated earlier that South Vietnam was lost, he replied, "No, I didn't... I was asked what we could do right now. We can't do a thing right now because Congress isn't in session and there is no money and the United States has no authority, the President has no authority to do anything." A week later, on April 9, Rockefeller flew to New Orleans to address the American Newspaper Publishers Association in the midst of a controversy over a charge by Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., that President Richard M. Nixon had made secret U.S. commitments to South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu.

When he landed, he was asked if he knew of any secret commitments. Rockefeller replied that he didn't and then volunteered a denunciation of the Jackson charges as "totally unsubstantiated."

At almost the exact time, White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen was telling reporters in Washington that there had been confidential exchanges in which Nixon promised Thieu that the United States would continue aid and enforce the Paris peace agreement.

HADN'T KNOWN On the flight home, Rockefeller conceded he hadn't known of the exchanges and questioned if President Ford had known. (Ford had known since the previous August.) Rockefeller also insisted that he only criticized Jackson because he had been asked about the senator's charges.

'Retarded' Teen Faces Death In 'Hot Chair'

CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — Nineteen-year-old Henry Lee Giles has an IQ of 59, is "grossly retarded" and is scheduled to die in the electric chair in less than two weeks.

He would be the first person executed in the United States since June 2, 1967, when Luis Joe Monge was put to death at the Colorado State Penitentiary. Prison officials say they have made no preparations to execute Giles because they expect a stay of execution. Giles was convicted in May of stabbing to death Evelyn Drummond, 53, during a robbery in Forrest City. In a signed confession submitted into evidence, Giles said he killed Mrs. Drummond because "something came over me to make me do something wrong."

Giles' attorney, Phil Hickey, said the teen-ager has the mentality of a 7½-year-old and didn't know he was signing a confession. Dr. Arthur Rogers, a clinical psychologist at Veteran's Administration Hospital in North Little Rock, said Giles' IQ was 59.

FROST BITE Skinny Dipping

EDGARTOWN, Mass. (AP) — On Cape Cod they passed a law against it. On Nantucket they frown on it. But on Martha's Vineyard, the only threat to skinny dipping is frostbite. And that's not stopping anyone.

One nippy afternoon recently, three young men ran along the narrow stretch of beach near Gay Head, diving in and out of the icy waves.

One could spot their naked bodies from an over-hanging bluff several hundred yards from the main road. But only the more adventurous choose to slide down the steep incline to the rocky shoreline.

Down on the beach, a young couple walked along the water's edge, blithely unconcerned about where the sun burned them. And in a cozy corner of the dunes, another couple was making love.

"If the residents complain, we just ask the bathers to put on their walking shoes," said a smiling man in uniform who asked to be identified only as "a friendly young police officer." Otherwise, he said, "We don't bother them."

Whatever it is about nude bathing, the naughtiness, the shock value, the feeling of freedom as the body glides through the water, skinny dipping is becoming more public.

Cape Cod has the only national seashore in the country where nudity is explicitly banned. People have received warnings. Nobody's been arrested.

The fine, a maximum of six months in jail or $500, is the same as for littering.

The Civil Liberties Union of Massachusetts has filed suit alleging that the ban violates rights of nude bathers to free expression.

Easy Come, Easy Go?

Iasiah Collazo apparently had money to burn. At least he had driven off the highway and was sitting on the edge of a tank burning money when apprehended Friday night west of Big Spring by State Trooper Bill Priest.

Collazo was charged with drunkenness, possession of marijuana and possession of a prohibited weapon. He was bonded out Saturday afternoon from county jail on two $1,000 bonds. He paid a $27.50 drunk fine. Some of the money paid on the fine had been singed on the edges.

There is also controversy about nude swimming in Los Angeles and Cocoa, Fla., among other areas of the country.

In fashionable La Jolla, Calif., the city has given its official blessing to an "optional swim suit zone," a 900-foot stretch of sand called Black's Beach. It is so popular, San Diego's "nude beach committee" wants the city council to add more beach.

At the other of the country, Edgartown Police Chief Jesse J. Oliver III said, "We have no laws against it. I have nothing against it. A lot is left to the policeman's discretion, he added, but last year, no one on the Vineyard was arrested for swimming nude.

At the Chamber of Commerce in Vineyard Haven, visitors are greeted by a photograph of three nudes walking down a beach.

Would-be nudists should take note, however. Most nudists swim off the narrow, isolated beaches, accessible only by a rutted dirt road.

On Nantucket, skinny dipping can cost the offender fifty bucks. And officially, at least, police say they enforce the ban.

Sgt. Paul Smith sat back in his chair at the police headquarters just off cobblestoned Main Street and mused about rights.

"People should be able to choose if they don't want to be exposed to it," he said. "Public nudity is an encroachment on other people's rights."

Therefore, he added, "We frown on nude bathing, especially on public beaches."

Deadly Pop In Mind?

Somebody planned a bigger bang than the firecrackers would provide. Jay Presley at Road Runner Fireworks reported that somebody stole a .22 caliber rifle at the fireworks stand.

Other frustrated people on the Fourth included Feix Ribbes, who was playing ball at Stink Creek Park. He took off his wristwatch during the game and somebody stole it.

Other calls for police Friday included 27 reports of fireworks set off in the city limits and a grass fire apparently begun by fireworks behind the former Cook's Department store.

THE WEEK

Bank call figures continued to reflect robust economic health. Deposits of $91,899,000 were up by $3.3 million; total resources of $102,814,000 were up $4.8 million; cash $21,122,000 up $1.5 million; and loans of $42,200,000 up $6.4 million. The latter category means more money is at work, and if the autumn shapes up as it promises, increased activity is ahead.

1st Lt. Marc Van Ells almost swept the field when honors for Class 76-01 were announced. Only 2nd Lt. John Beetz' flying training award kept Lt. Ells from winning all five of the top awards.

A grant of $43,275 was approved by the Texas Commission on Alcoholism last week, for the Detoxification Center, the only one not passed over for future action. The exception was made in the Big Spring case because of an outstanding record during the first year of operation. The center is highly regarded as a model for others.

An alert clerk at a store in Lamesa put an end to a neat scheme which bilked numerous stores in the area. Mrs. Peggy Weatherford, Las Vegas, Nev., was charged with fraud at Lamesa, after the roll of "quarters" she turned in for purchases or cash proved in reality to be quarters on each end of a roll of washers. Big Spring and Snyder have a hold on her.

New president of Big Spring Savings and Loan Association will be Ray Don Williams, who will come here by the end of this week. He succeeds Jack Worsham.

Good progress is being made toward transfer of the Hayden House as a historical shrine. The city, with an assist from the Dora Roberts Foundation, is saving this excellent vintage example of architecture from the fate of the Brennan and Birdwell homes.

Howard College came in for a pair of grants, the latest a $6,629 award to aid certain veterans who will be attending the school. Incidentally, the college will advertise this week for bids on the $1,500,000 coliseum bonds. This, and the plans, are being expedited to get ahead of possible increased costs in event the recession's end brings another wave of inflation.

A fund has been started as a helping hand to Ray (Red) McMahon, our faithful and lovable pressman for over 40 years. His wife, Imogene, is most seriously ill and has been hospitalized for the past six weeks. Those who can help may send a check to Charles Dunham, First National Bank, with a note it is for Imogene's fund.

FROM THE NOTEBOOK: Mamie Lee Dodds had done her preparation so well for "Freedom Ring" that she just took off July 4th and picnicked and relaxed at the park; she may not have been totally relaxed, for after it was all over that night, she couldn't sleep (so she just dreamed up a theme for next year's production — "The Melting Pot"). . . . A number of people have been kind enough to compliment us on the Bicentennial edition which contained a history of Big Spring and Howard County; we only wish we had had more time (and space) to make it more complete, and to catch a few errors (including one which said Capt. Marcy had to cut rations of "flower" (flour) in half. Daisies probably were the least of his worries on that historic mission.

LET FREEDOM RING — The program included both the reading of the Declaration of Independence and a re-enactment of the Continental Congress in addition to patriotic music and dances when a large crowd attended at the Amphitheatre Friday night, just prior to the fireworks display.

Hairy Act In Park Almost Turns Into 'Ugly' Affair

The sun came out for the Fourth of July and Big Spring citizens thronged to Comanche Trail Park to an old-fashioned Fourth of July festival sponsored by the Big Spring Jaycees.

The event included a large chowline as the American GI Forum sold barbecue and the Bicentennial committee sold a lot of hotdogs. Some families brought a picnic lunch. Jaycees sold ice cold watermelon and Parents Without Partners Club added homemade cake and pie.

Everybody got full of good food, and also participated in games and booths to the background of gospel songs, furnished by groups on a Gospel Wagon.

Two coaches, Bob Burris and Corky Smith, proved to be popular choices to get dunked in the dunking booth. Dart booths, and the Elks Club bicycle races were also popular events.

Guys stood in line to take turns at the horseshoe pitching event and 28 bearded hopefuls stood out in the hot sun to be judged in the beard contest. After Ben Faulkner was named ugliest, nobody argued, but when Hal Hansen was named neatest, the backers of Pete Fowler, who was second, booed loudly. Mike Nelson won the longest beard with beards carefully measured by the judges, Mrs. Janell Davis, Mrs. Johnnie Lou Avery and Jerry Foresythe.

The "Let Freedom Ring" pageant was well attended in the evening hours. Chaplain Jimmie Baggett opened the meeting with the Big Spring High School Band performing Yankee Doodle while the Webb Air Force Color Guard brought in the flag. Lt. William Rathert led the pledge and Ken Sprinkle as director and Charles Parham, pianist, led a community sing followed by the band and the First United Methodist Choral Group.

CHAMBER BOARD HELPS Janet and Mike Smolko presented a waltz. A group of Jaycees and Chamber of Commerce board members then acted as the Continental Congress while excerpts from the Virginia House of Burgesses and the Congress were given. Perry Culwell played Peyton Randolph; Dr. Charles Hays, Benjamin Franklin; Rev. Collins Moore, Dr. Jacob Duche; and Al Scott as Patrick Henry.

Mrs. Mamie Lee Dodds, pageant director, presented special certificates to her mother, Mrs. A.E. True and to Al Scott. She also gave credit for everything "moving off well" to Jerry Foresythe, parks director for the city. She stated, "We had much help and cooperation and had only to suggest and we knew it would be done."

GOLD STAR MOTHERS Elizabeth Lipscombe dedicated a reading to the Gold Star Mothers. Students of Mrs. Ora Burson danced. Richard Doane acted the part of the scout with American Legion members acting as the Colonial troops. The Hon. Mike Ezzell was the Towne Crier for the reading of the Declaration of Independence with members of the DAR, Modern Women's Forum and the Busy Bee Sewing Club as townspeople.

The bells were rung during the "Let Freedom Ring" portion of the program by members of the Key Club and persons in the audience.

Don Brooks presented Mrs. Dodds with a Bicentennial flag in appreciation of her efforts. The National Anthem and the retiring of colors followed.

GOOD, BAD AND THE UGLY — Really, they were judged the ugliest, neatest and longest beards at the Fourth of July contest. These three were selected from among 28 entrants and the announcement of the results brought boos from the crowd. Holding their plaques are Ben Faulkner, Hal Hansen and Mike Nelson.

Alcoholism No. 1 Drug Problem Among Teens

DENVER (AP) — Alcoholism is the "No. 1 drug problem among teen-agers today," and parents who are relieved that their children use booze instead of dope are only fooling themselves, a California psychiatrist says.

Dr. William Rader of St. Mary's Hospital in Long Beach said Saturday that alcoholism among the young will continue as long as "positive drink images" are made by peers, parents and the media.

Rader, an expert on alcoholism in teen-agers and women, made his remarks at a press conference in conjunction with the 40th Alcoholics Anonymous convention.

"Parents feel comfortable that their kids aren't taking dope," Rader said. "They know drinking is legal and they may have alcohol in their own homes."

"But the dangers of it are terrific. We're seeing 12-year-olds in AA. Just think about what that means."

According to Rader, 5 percent of all seniors in American high schools are involved to some extent in alcohol use. Half a million teenagers in the United States are alcoholics, he said, but few are getting help to deal with their problem.

Families of alcoholic teenagers often refuse to acknowledge that a problem exists, Rader said.

"But the fact remains that it does lead to death. Alcoholism is a terminal disease. It affects every organ in the body, and has the psychological and social effects, as well."

"It can be hidden. But if a person continues to drink in excessive amounts, he will die. There's no way around it, unless it's stopped."

Rader said the dangers are critical for teenagers because the effects of alcoholism set in much more rapidly than they do in adults.

"A teenager can become an alcoholic in 10 months, while it might take 10 years for an adult," he said.

This is because adolescence is a particularly stressful period, he said. As a result, increasing amounts of alcohol are needed to diminish the effects of that stress.

Most teenagers learn how to cope with those stresses, Rader said, "but for others, alcohol becomes a magic drug that takes all those stresses away."

THEY DID IT — J. H. Duke, Elva and Lloyd Murphy and Cecial Allred were among the posse members who carried the Pony Express letter from Lamesa to Big Spring Friday. The letters arrived in Saturday's mail with special stamps and a Big Spring postmark, which in itself is unusual.

Ninety Riders Share Work In Express Ride

Ninety riders zipped a mail pouch from Lamesa to Big Spring — a distance of 42 miles — in 2 hours, 58 minutes as their July 4th contribution.

It also was the Bicentennial project of the Howard and Dawson County Sheriff's Poses.

So quickly did the "pony express" riders convey the mail that they arrived ahead of schedule at the Howard County Posse arena on the Andrews highway and had to wait 30 minutes for the postal truck to make the pickup. The estimated arrival was bettered by 32 minutes.

Most riders clipped off a quarter to half a mile in the marathon relay starting 8:02 a.m. at Lamesa when Judge King, the Dawson Posse queen, made the first dash. A few rode for a mile, which was tough for the mounts, mostly quarter horses.

Dallas Vaughn, president of Dawson's Posse, handed off the pouch at the Martin County line to Nina Airhart who with Clarence Airhart and Bobby Howell, covered the Martin County mile of the relay.

Howard County Posse members, who had about five miles more to cover than the Dawson-Martin leg, got the pouch at 8:39 a.m. when Sonny Anderson began the home stretch drive. J. O. Whitefield booted in the final lap at 10:55 a.m. at the Posse Arena, where there were cokes for all participants.

Both the Texas Highway Patrol and Highway Department gave real cooperation, said Ruby Allred, secretary of the Howard Posse. The highway department had freshly mowed the southbound land, and the patrol kept heavy traffic, gathered to see the run, from piling up. Eli Vickers, Lamesa, rode along in a car to keep time on the riders.

It all went off like clock work — that is except for one Dawson rider who was thrown from his mount in the exchange, and a Howard County pair which dropped the pouch on a hand-off.

Search For 1955 Class Under Way

STANTON — A search is on for the 1955 class of Stanton High for a reunion Saturday, July 12 from 4-6 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paige Eiland, 400 W. 2nd.

A booklet is being prepared on information about anyone who was ever a part of the class, whether they graduated along with the group or not.

All information for the booklets should go to Mrs. Eiland, Box 837, Stanton, 79782 or Mrs. Sarah Barnes, Box 1032, Stanton, along with $1 to help cover costs and postage.

Dealing With 'Boozers' Corporate Responsibility

DENVER (AP) — The chairman of Gulf Oil Canada Ltd. says part of today's "required corporate responsibility" is a constructive policy in dealing with employees who have a serious drinking problem.

Addressing the 40th anniversary convention of Alcoholics Anonymous on Friday, C.D. Shepard said that in 1967 his company dropped the old policy of firing any employee whose excessive drinking caused deterioration in his work or threatened the safety of others.

During the intervening eight years the firm has developed a program which views most cases of alcoholism as a health problem.

He said the firm draws a distinction between social drinking and problem drinking which jeopardizes work and health, and urged employees to seek medical help immediately.

"Once an employee is made aware, by reading our policy, that alcoholism is a health problem just as respectable as diabetes or other illnesses ... and takes the step of visiting any of our health centers, he or she is invariably guided to AA," he said.

More than 17,000 members of AA are registered for a three-day convention in Denver this weekend. They claim 29 homelands.

Golden Tornado Jubilee Staged

LAMESA — This was the 50th year in Lamesa, which means they held their Golden Tornado Jubilee on the Fourth of July.

The king-size reunion, unlike any event of its type anywhere, saw droves of graduates showing up Friday in cars bearing license tags from almost every state.

J. D. Dyer was jubilee chairman and said this was one of the biggest ever, even though 1970 drew close to 7,000. The reunion almost doubles the city's population.

Saturday there were individual class gatherings in separate classrooms in the LHS Student Center.

Lamesa's "Slumtown Symfunny" a group of exes led by Al Hirt presented the Golden Tor Extravaganza at 8:30 p.m. in the LHS auditorium.

Richard Crawley was master of ceremonies. Some of the exes taking part were three of the original Slumtowners, Bob Crawley, Lavoy Miller and Jack Sanders.

There were also special jubilee reunions of former athletes, bandsmen, pep squad members, the annual staff and the choir.

A teachers' reception, one of the most popular events among exes wanting to talk to former teachers drew a large crowd.

The reunion draws to a close today with the churches hosting out-of-town exes in their services. Each congregation recognizes their exes. A coffee is scheduled this morning at the student center from 9-10:30 a.m.

Assisting Dyer with plans for the event were Glen Bottles White, assistant; Sissy Senter, secretary-treasurer; Bob Crawley, 1965 chairman; Ray Renner, 1970 chairman and Wayne Smith, teacher chairman.

Washer Woman In Hot Water

Peggy Weatherford, the washer woman accused of passing rolls of washers for quarters in Big Spring, Snyder and Lamesa, was in the local jail Saturday after being arrested in Lamesa.

After facing charges here, the suspect will be held for law officials in Snyder. The Las Vegas, Nev., resident, allegedly passed rolls of quarters in at least three towns with a quarter on each end and washers in the middle.

Hog Cholera Alert Issued

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hog producers throughout the Southwest and the rest of the nation are being warned to watch for signs of hog cholera in their herds following the first confirmed outbreak of the disease in the United States in more than a year.

The Agriculture Department said the outbreak was found in a herd of about 170 hogs owned by Louis Woodford near Hereford, Tex.

The herd has been quarantined by the Texas Animal Health Commission and will be destroyed and its owner compensated, officials said. A federal-state task force is working to halt the spread of the disease, which is often fatal to pigs but does not affect other animals or humans.

The last confirmed outbreaks of hog cholera were reported in Puerto Rico in May 1974 and in Mississippi in January 1974.

Before the government established its eradication program, the disease affected 5,000 to 6,000 swine herds annually at a cost to producers of some $50 million, the Agriculture Department said.

HIT-AND-RUN — Andrew Lee, 79, of Fairfield, was killed instantly at 2:30 a.m. Saturday when struck by a vehicle on IS 20, 4 miles east of Coahoma. The former Lamesa resident and World War I veteran was apparently hitch-hiking to Odessa where a brother resides. He was attired in a dark suit and standing on the highway when the accident occurred.

IN LAND OF MANANA Trial Drags Through July's Dog Days

HEBRONVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Although just about everything that can happen to delay a trial has happened, the ouster of trial of suspended Duval County Judge Archer Parr continues at a slow pace.

Another delay is expected Monday when Parr, who has not attended the trial, is to appear in San Diego for a deposition hearing. Defense lawyer Marvin Foster has said he will not produce Parr for the deposition hearing although Dist. Atty. Arnulfo Guerra says he will proceed with the deposition.

Parr, who has been county judge for the past 16 years, was temporarily suspended from office March 24 by District Court Judge O.P. Carrillo after Guerra filed a civil suit against Parr.

The suit, filed in behalf of Duval County Grand Jury Foreman Jose R. Nichols, noted Parr's federal perjury conviction and accused him of acts of official misconduct and conflict of interest.

The trial has moved so slowly that Judge Carrillo told the jury of nine men and three women he plans to start holding night sessions beginning Monday. He asked the jurors for suggestions concerning the hours for the night sessions. Some may welcome the night sessions because of the stifling heat in the un-airconditioned courtroom.

The trial also has been delayed by frequent and often heated legal arguments between Foster and Guerra. Another delay came one day when the court reporter's wife became ill and had to undergo surgery. Another time, a witness did not understand the judge's instructions and reported to testify more than an hour late. The power failed one afternoon, causing the judge to send the jury home almost an hour early.

A truck ran into an automobile parked outside the courthouse one afternoon. Jurors, hearing the crash, started looking out the windows to see whose automobile had been damaged. The judge called a recess. It turned out the automobile belonged to a newspaper and had been parked there by a reporter.

The heat in the courtroom has slowed the pace of the trial. Judge Carrillo usually calls a recess about every hour in the afternoon to give the jurors a break from the heat and to wake up.

Wiping sweat from his face, one juror commented, "We need an air conditioned courtroom. A month ago, I wouldn't have been in favor of the county spending the money, but now I am."

'Bomber' Mad, Mum

The "Mad Bomber" was really mad when he found himself in the local calaboose accused of threatening to blow up an airplane.

A person who overheard the "Mad Bomber" threatening to blow up a plane at the local airport while visiting in one of the local bars, reported the incident to police.

The threat was reported to the Federal Aviation Authority, the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the local airport manager.

All local planes were searched. The accused told all law officials that he was just "popping off." He spent many hours answering questions and spent two days in jail.

When last seen, he was headed south, with his mouth shut.

Woman To Head Socialist Party

WINNIPEG, Man. (AP) — Joyce Nash was chosen president of the New Democratic party on Saturday, becoming the first woman to head a national Canadian political party.

The NDP, a Socialist party, is the third largest in the country but ranks far behind the two major parties, the Liberals and Progressive Conservatives. Until last July's national election gave the Liberals an absolute majority, the NDP held the balance of power in the federal government.

Mrs. Nash, 40, a vice president of the party for the past two years, has been serving temporarily as provincial secretary for the party in British Columbia, one of the three western provinces controlled by the NDP.

The mother of two teen-aged children, Mrs. Nash lives in a rural part of central Vancouver Island on Canada's west coast.

Tiers Of Joy Mark 4th Event At Highland South

By MARJ CARPENTER
The morning of the Fourth of July on Highland South has gradually turned into quite a big event.

A neighborhood parade was begun four years ago by Mrs. Raymond Torpe, who now lives in Wharton. The only rules were that participants in the parade lived in Highland South and that they decorate something out of their yards — a bicycle, wagon, tricycle, golf cart, or even a lawnmower.

At the end of the street, the participants were served Koolaid and cookies and somebody made a patriotic speech. The second year, a city fire truck was added to bring up the rear of the parade.

The parade has grown and grandchildren have been added as participants, along with persons in the neighborhood. The parade now has official judges and prizes, a police escort and a color guard.

A police motorcycle flanked by Les Willard and Brad Pearson with the United States flag and the Bicentennial flag marched smartly up the street.

They were followed by a red, white and blue menagerie that thoroughly enjoyed the march. The street was lined with spectators and some of the neighbors served refreshments out in the driveway to some too young for participation.

However, too young is pretty young, because little Kelly Hays, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Hays, is less than two and won the prize as youngest participant.

In the tricycle division, winners included Lorie Little and Kelly Watkins, Deke Willard, Kevin Dean and Craig Thomas.

Bike winners included Ted Groebel III, Shanna Hohertz and Risa Willard. One of these winners was pulling a cardboard box with a small female "Aunt" Sam in the person of Deborah Ann Groebel.

In the division with wagons and lawnmowers and such, Julie Hunter, with a dog caged up in a wagon, placed first. The dog added loud barks all during the parade. Matt Hunter was second and Mary McCutcheon third.

In the golf cart division, David McCutcheon placed first, Craig Chiavetta, second and Dean and Craig McKenzie placed third in a golf cart plugging the "freedom that allows us good schools." A few more neighborhood children were added to this cart as it progressed up the street.

In other vehicle division, a boat trailer holding Washington (or somebody) crossing the Delaware was winner. On this float were Diana Owens, George Gillespie, Ray McCutcheon and Steve Blum. Jeff Wallace's vehicle was second and Sharon Zant and Kim Alexander third.

At the end of the parade, W.S. (Dub) Pearson acted as master of ceremonies. The Rev. Jerry Yarbrough gave the invocation and Capt. Dick Risk, Webb information officer, gave a brief patriotic address. Beverly Biel and Joe Whitten led the group in singing patriotic songs.

Mrs. Wanda Owens served as parade chairman. Larry Willard and Leonard McCutcheon presented the traditional ribbon and silver dollar prizes. Among the winners were two Cub Scouts, from Den 1, Pack 385. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Floyd Mays and Mrs. Winston Wrinkle off the tailgate of Mrs. Mays' van.

The group sang the National Anthem, the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," "This Land Is My Land" and many others, but when they finally broke out in "America," even the youngest participant began to sing and for a moment, everyone in Highland South knew what the Fourth of July is all about.

'Burning Hell' Filming Slated

Ron Ormond, who spearheads the production department of the Ormond Organization, likes to say the family is living proof of the Spiritual adage, "the family who prays together, stays together."

June (Mrs. Ormond) heads the distribution department of the former Hollywood, Cal., based motion picture company, while their only son, Tim Ormond, works with his dad as crew chief during production. Tim is also studying for the ministry.

"Once while flying our own four-place aircraft to a premiere in Louisville things began to happen. About five minutes after takeoff, the engine began running rough and we started losing altitude. Below us was nothing but trees, houses and high tension wires. And at 500 feet it meant we had less than one minute before we would hit the ground. That's when I prayed. God don't let us be killed. If you will spare our lives I will devote the rest of mine to your service."

Moments later the plane hit the ground. Ormond puts it this way: "The plane slid across a rocky field then came to an immediate halt. Miraculously there was no explosion or fire. We had landed the plane in 330 feet. Ordinarily it would have taken 1200 feet. God had answered my prayer. And while June and I were hospitalized for a short while, Tim escaped without a scratch.

"The Burning Hell" made in conjunction with Evangelist Estus Pirkle will be showing at Trinity Baptist Church 810 11th Place at 7 p.m., today.

Martin Man Is Killed

STANTON — Alfred Wayne Graves, 26, Stanton, was killed at about 5:30 a.m., Friday in a one-vehicle accident four miles west of Stanton while traveling on the north service road of IS 20.

According to investigating officers, Graves' pickup truck failed to negotiate a curve, hit a water culvert and flipped over, crushing the top.

Justice of Peace M. L. Gibson pronounced Graves dead at the scene.

Services were conducted at 4 p.m., Saturday at the Stanton Church of Christ, with Claud Woods, minister, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Davis Edens, pastor of the First United Methodist Church. Burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery under the direction of Gilbreath Funeral Home.

Mr. Graves was born Aug. 19, 1948, at Colorado City. He was shop foreman for Stanton Supply Co. He was reared in Stanton and graduated from Stanton High School.

Survivors include a son, Allen Wayne Graves, Midland; his mother, Mrs. Faye Graves, Stanton; a sister, Mrs. Shirley Clay, Stanton; a brother, Roger Graves, Stanton; and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Maggie Robinson, Stanton.

OH, AH — Citizens all over Big Spring enjoyed the fireworks display shot off the top of Scenic Mountain in a combined effort of Webb Air Force Base and the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce. The display culminated an old-fashioned Fourth of July festival sponsored by the Big Spring Jaycees.

Local Men Win Fly-In Awards

COLORADO CITY — The Howard County ranchers, Bill and Connie Edwards, were at the controls of two P51s which won trophies for the oldest planes entered in the annual Chamber of Commerce fly-in here Friday.

Ray Hegy of Marfa received the travel prize, which is given to the flyer coming from the greatest distance. Hegy was flying a small homemade byplane dubbed "Chuparosa," (hummingbird).

B. G. Weaver of Big Spring received the prize for the most unusual craft with his "Bowers Fly Baby". The plane was a homemade 65 horsepower monoplane with folding wings.

Chamber of Commerce Manager Sefton Pickens called the event a success and said that more than 600 people visited the city-county air strip at various times during the day.

Chamber President Billy Bob Hardee, who donned and apron and scrambled some eggs for the fly-in breakfast, said at 10 a.m. that he had been on the job since 5:30 a.m. and had scrambled 64 dozen eggs.

Rob Satterfield of Midland gave a demonstration of aerobatics in a climax to the morning's program.

J. O. Bockrey, chairman of the chamber's aviation committee, said that 29 planes registered at the fly-in.

Rolling Stones Dallas Bound

DALLAS (AP) — The Rolling Stones keep rolling along on their national music tour and medical staffs here are ready for them.

The Stones, led by wild-man Mick Jagger, hit the Cotton Bowl Sunday with doctors figuring at least 1,000 of the estimated 65,000-80,000 persons in the audience will need their services.

Nurses began preparations for the Rolling Stones concert June 24. Serious medical cases will be treated on a "life-saving basis" only at the concert. Less critical cases will be taken at once to Parkland Hospital.

Sixty percent of the medical volunteers at the concert will be licensed professionals, said John Mayabb, a nurse.

Those attending the concert should be prepared to spend a day in the heat and should ingest large quantities of salt, wear a hat and light clothing, he advised.

Six treatment stations will be set up in the Cotton Bowl, along with five ambulances and 25 roving medics who will look for medical emergencies.

While physicians expect most of their medical problems will be heat-related, organizers of the event are banning alcohol and glass containers of any kind.

Irritant Sends 32 To Hospital

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP) — Thirty-two persons attending a Fourth of July fireworks display were treated at a hospital after three teenagers threw a liquid irritant into the crowd, police said.

Police reported at first that the liquid was acid, but Dr. James Forsyth said later at Carlisle Hospital that the substance was a "clear, colorless, odorless liquid irritant" which he said he doubted could be identified.

Released Women Claim Kidnapers Broke Vow

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (AP) — Two women recently released from six weeks' captivity by guerrillas in Zaire say the kidnapers broke a promise by failing to free another American hostage, 22-year-old Kenneth Stephen Smith.

In a statement read to newsmen Friday, Carrie Jane Hunter, 21, of Atherton, Calif., and Emilie Bergmann, 25, of the Netherlands, appealed to the Marxist rebels to live up to the ideals of "honor and discipline" they had expressed. They indicated that the Popular Revolutionary party had "promised" to release Smith, of Garden Grove, Calif., on at least two occasions. The first was last Saturday, the day the two women were freed by boat on Lake Tanganyika, and the second was on Wednesday.

Smith, Miss Hunter, Miss Bergmann and Barbara Smuts, 24, of Ann Arbor, Mich., were kidnaped May 19 in a midnight raid on an animal study center on the Tanzanian shore of Lake Tanganyika.

Officials have declined to say whether a ransom had been paid.

Patterson Is Race Winner

Wayne Patterson won the open division for 18 years and older in the July 4 bike races at the City Park.

Second place went to Louie Guajardo and third to Joseph Dawes.

The sponsoring Elks Club, with Kit Karson in charge of the event, said that enthusiasm was such that there was talk of making this an annual event.

Other class winners were: Boys (7-9-9) 1. Carl Talley,

2. Mitchell Hayes; boys (10-14) 1. Scott Vick, 2. Matt Burris, 3. Dale Pittman; girls (all ages) 1. Sherry Talley, 2. Janet Talley, and 3. Gloria Mendoza.

Hospital Room Rent Raised

MIDLAND — Daily room rent in Midland Memorial Hospital here has been advanced from an average of $53 to $58.

The increase was necessitated by a projected deficit of $34,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1976.

How to select the right nursing home.

We Americans are not just living longer, we're living more useful, productive lives. But an increasing number of the chronically ill, the old, the convalescent, need some place other than the hospital and their home where they can receive personal health care, round-the-clock attention and the opportunity to continue to live their lives with meaning.

As your community extended health care facility, we want to help you make the right decision. Here are some guidelines: see your family physician to determine the kind of care needed; feel free to visit our facility; ask us for our costs in writing and financial advice about Medicaid; examine all of our facilities; check our food quality; verify our safety features; and finally, observe how our residents spend their time.

There's a lot more to selecting the right nursing home. We want to help. If you have any questions, please call or visit us.

ROUND-UP TIME — Cattle were wandering around on Birdwell Lane about 6:30 a.m. Saturday. Patrolman David Springer rounded them up and put them in the auction arena pens. "A patrolman's job is to remove traffic hazards, so I guess that includes rounding up cattle," Springer related, all out of breath early Saturday.

Mayors Meet In Boston With Minds On Money

BOSTON (AP) — Some of the nation's leading big-city mayors urgently appealed Saturday for $2 billion in emergency federal aid to fight the recession in their cities.

Citing New York's financial problems, Mayor Joseph Alioto of San Francisco, president of the U.S. Conference of Mayors, told newsmen "the seeds of New York are in every American city."

"We are here simply to sound the alarm," he said. "The Congress has got to give us help during this recession. We urgently need that."

More than 300 mayors, who gathered for the conference's annual meeting, will take up a resolution this week backing the emergency anti-recession bill that goes before the Senate Government Operations Committee in Washington on Wednesday.

That bill is not viewed favorably by Ford administration officials attending this conference. Furthermore, the nation's governors failed to back the legislation at their annual conference last month.

The money would go only to states and local governments where the unemployment rate was above 6 per cent for three consecutive months. It could be spent as local officials saw fit.

The mayors gathered amid another of a series of budget crises that have plagued cities periodically since the late 1960s, forcing layoffs, reduced services and higher taxes. The mayors' conference estimates that local government has or will enact $1.5 billion in new taxes during the current crunch alone.

Little more than 200 miles away, Abraham Beame, mayor of New York, was trying to determine Saturday how many of the 19,000 city employees he laid off can be returned to the payroll with a $300-million local tax increase he won at week's end. Meanwhile, New York was paying sanitation men time and a half to help clean up 58,000 tons of garbage left uncollected during a four-day wildcat walkout in protest of the layoffs.

Earlier in the week, Seattle Mayor Wes Uhlman overcame a recall effort launched by white firemen angered over his budget and minority hiring plans for the department.

And in Dayton, Ohio, the city was turning street lights back on after half of them had been turned off to save money.

Boston Mayor Kevin White rejected the contention that fiscal mismanagement had caused the problems in New York and other cities.

"What (former New York Mayor John V.) Lindsay did was respond to a need that was there and that the federal government had ignored for the past decade.

Rattlesnakes Event Lures Fem

EMPORIUM, Pa. (AP) — More than 225 persons ranging in age from 14 to 77 and from as far away as California and Florida, registered Saturday for the 7th Annual Cameron County Rattlesnake Hunt.

Only one woman, Jan Buksar, 25, registered.

The two-day hunt ends Sunday. Preliminary eliminations were held Saturday. A crowd of more than 10,000 was expected, according to Malcolm Kitchen, the hunt chairman.

Prizes will be awarded for the most rattlesnakes caught, largest, smallest, and the one with the most rattles.

The last event Sunday will be the rattlesnake-sacking contest.

The event takes place on an eight-foot square, wire-enclosed platform with two men teams attempting to sack five live timber rattlers in the least amount of time.

Hail Triggers Some Crop Damage In West Texas

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Most crops throughout the state are making good progress because of favorable moisture conditions, Dr. John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says.

Insects are increasing in some sections of South and Central Texas but overall numbers are generally light, he said.

Livestock conditions continue to improve as most pastures and ranges boast plenty of forage, but parts of South and Far West Texas still need a general rain, Hutchison said.

He said, however, that screwworm cases are increasing over South and Southwest Texas and are moving into other sections that have not had confirmed cases in recent years. A case in Robertson County in South Central Texas was confirmed last week, the first in that county since 1972.

In the first six months of this year, 1,744 screwworm cases were confirmed, well above the number confirmed in the same period last year. Almost two-thirds of the cases so far this year were recorded in June.

District agricultural agents gave these reports:

Panhandle: Most of the dryland crop is in with yields ranging from 10 to 20 bushels per acre. Irrigated wheat is producing better than average yields. Some disease damage is occurring in sugarbeets.

South Plains: Wheat yields are above average except where hail damage occurred. Sunflowers are making good progress. Spraying is continuing for sunflower moths. Hail and blowing sand have caused extensive damage to the area's cotton crop.

Rolling Plains: Cotton planting is complete but the total acreage is considerably less than last year. Some sunflowers are in bloom.

On Dean's List

Robert D. Herron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred R. Herron, Ackerly, was named to the Dean's List at Texas Tech University.

He is married to the former Janice Franklin, Big Spring, and is a senior accounting student.

Potato harvesting is 80 per cent complete in the Munday area.

North Central: Only a small part of the small grains crop remains to be harvested. Corn and sorghum are maturing rapidly. About 10 per cent of the peanut and soybean acreage remains to be planted. Some peaches are being harvested.

Mahan Wins All-Around Cowboy Title

CODY, Wyo. (AP) — Larry Mahan, six times the national all-around cowboy, won that title at the three-day Cody stampede which ended Friday night.

Mahan, of Dallas, didn't win an event but placed in saddle bronc, bareback and bull riding to take home the top paycheck of $1,093.

Tom Elliot of Colorado Springs, Colo., wrestled a steer in 4.0 seconds, only two-tenths of a second off the national record, and won that event to pick up $960.

Other winners in the $20,000 rodeo were: Bareback—Paul Mayo, Lewisville, Tex., 80, $619.

Calf roping—Richard Stowers, Madill, Okla., 9.7 seconds, $900.

Church Festival Dates Announced

St. Thomas Church will stage its annual mid-summer church festival on the church grounds at 605 N. Main Street next Friday and Saturday.

Among activities planned during the festival are games like bingo, fish pond, cake walk, prize walk, dunk the clown, canes, darts, win-a-cola etc.

A Mexican supper will be served from 12 noon until 5 p.m., each day.

Burritos, beef and beans, hot dogs, hamburgers, snow cones and other dishes will also be available each evening.

A $500 bond will be awarded during the festival, along with two $100 bonds and six $50 bonds.

Proceeds from the festival will go to the St. Thomas Youth Center.

Choir Trip Request On Agenda

A request of choir boosters for approval of a choir trip will highlight the school board meeting Monday at 5:15 a.m.

The group is apparently again seeking a substantial sum for a trip to Europe, which would again take the backing of the community.

The choir made a trip to Europe in the summer of 1973, announcing at that time that it was an unusual honor for the organization.

Other items on the agenda include employment and resignation of personnel, a review of the exemption policy concerning senior high school examinations, consideration of travel policy for Big Spring Independent School District personnel, consideration of approval of a tentative budget for the coming school year; consideration of setting the date for a public hearing on the budget; a report on school trustee election by position, and a request of the Howard County Human Resource Center for Day Care Center at Kate Morrison School.

Other reports will be on attendance and miscellaneous items.

Northeast: Sorghum is heading. Roasting ears are ready in corn fields. Early peaches are being picked. Scattered rains have caused delays in hay making operations.

Far West: Hail caused some crop damage in Ector and Culberson counties. Onions and cabbage are being harvested in El Paso County. A general rain is needed for the second cutting of alfalfa. Range conditions vary widely as rainfall has been spotty.

West Central: Early sorghum looks good. Some fields are heading. Peanuts are making good growth. Ranges are beginning to need moisture. Spear and needle grasses are causing problems for sheep.

Central: Parts of the area need moisture for crops, pastures and ranges. Small grain yields are off because of adverse weather. Peanut planting is nearing completion but some farmers in Eastland and Erath counties are replanting because of wind damage.

East: Much of the corn crop is in the roasting ear stage. Peanut planting is complete. Vegetables, including peas and pinto beans, and peaches are being harvested.

Southeast and Upper Gulf Coast: Most crops need open weather. Insects are increasing in cotton and sorghum. Peanut planting is about 60 per cent complete. A screwworm case has been reported in Wharton County.

South Central: Most crops need open weather. Some early fields of sorghum are approaching maturity. Corn is moving into the hard dough stage. The peach crop is short because of adverse spring weather.

Southwest: Good sorghum yields are expected. The corn crop is maturing rapidly. Onion harvesting is in full swing. Screwworms and ticks continue to increase in livestock.

South: Sorghum harvesting is active in southern counties and the Coastal Bend area. Watermelon harvesting is complete. Land is being prepared for fall crops in the Rio Grande Valley. Rain is needed in the Coastal Bend for pastures and ranges. Ticks, hornflies and screwworms are plaguing livestock.

Sterling Wolfcamp Discovery Completed

Marathon Oil No. 1-20 E.R. McEntire has completed a discovery six miles northwest of Sterling City. It flowed 41 barrels of 39.5 gravity oil and 36 of water with gas-oil ratio of 876-1. The pay was from 6,543-764, acidized with 3,250 gallons and fraced with 25,000 gallons.

The venture is eight miles north of the Conger oil and gas field and a like distance southeast of Credo East (multipay) field. Tops on an elevation of 2,362 (Kelly) were Queen 1,225, San Andres 1,682, Clearfork 2,173, Wolfcamp sand 6,543. Total depth was 7,850, plugged back to 7,500. Location is 1,320 from the north and east lines of section 20-22, SPRR.

In the Big Salute (Canyon oil) field, Stoltz, Wagner and Brown No. 13A Glass completed for 175 barrels of 42-gravity oil and 51 of water with a gas-oil ratio of 707-1. Flow was through 16-64 choke from perforations at 7,669-852 treated fraced with 40,000 gallons. Total depth is 8,298, plugged back to 8,242. Location is 1,320 from the north and east lines section 13-32-5s, T&P.

Also in Sterling County, Coquina No. 1 Eisenberg was swabbing after acidizing perforations at 7,712-724 following treatment with 2,000 gallons acid HMH No. 1 Sara Bade was preparing to acidize lower Cisco perforations at 7,379-489. Lovelady No. 1 Mahaffey drilled below 5,549 feet.

In northeast Borden County, James Dunigan No. 3-527 Miller will be a 5,500-ft. Spraberry test in the two-well Spraberry section of the Hoki (multipay) field. It is located 1,980 from the south and 467 from the east lines of section 527-97, H&TC, eight miles northwest of Fluvanna.

Amoco No. 1-A Dean Ranch, eastern Dawson explorer, was making hole below 2,257.

Cavin Is New HS Principal

ODESSA — Emmitt Cavin, 58, former principal of Bowie Junior High School here, has been named principal at Odessa High School.

He fills a spot vacated by Murray Spidell, who was recently named director of textbooks, transportation and disasters for the Ector County Independent School District.

Cavin will earn $21,660 on a 12-month contract. While at Bowie, his salary was $18,205 on an 11-month contract.

Ford Has World At His Fingertips

CHICAGO (AP) — For $1,800, President Ford now has the world at his fingertips. But before inflation, it would have been $200 cheaper.

The White House got a plastic world in a brass ring and mounted on a walnut stand, according to William C. Nickles, president of Replique Globes Inc.

Zeppa, Oil Vet, Dies

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — Joseph Zeppa, the "grand old man of drilling" who climbed from the Hell's Kitchen section of New York City to head the world's second largest oil drilling business, died here Friday. He was 81.

Zeppa, founder, president and chairman of the board of Delta Drilling Co., came to America from Fubine, Italy at the age of 12. He died at his Pine Hurst Farm retreat near here.

The Texas Legislature recently honored Zeppa for his many contributions to the oil and petroleum drilling industry. In 1971 he was named the "grand old man of drilling" at the International Petroleum Exposition in Oklahoma.

He began his career in the New York accounting firm of Shearman and Sterling then, in 1917, went to France as a "doughboy". Following World War I, Zeppa remained in France where he studied international law at Toulouse University.

Upon his return to the United States, Zeppa became an accountant for the El Dorado Petroleum Co. at El Dorado, Ark.

Cogdell Appeal Is Turned Down

The long-time appeal of Marion P. Cogdell vs. the Fort Worth National Bank, et al, appealed from Scurry County, has been denied in the Eleventh Supreme Judicial District Court at Eastland. Judge Austin McCloud wrote the opinion. The court also granted a motion another Scurry appeal in the case of Pearson-Sibert Oil Company of Texas, et al vs. O. L. (Jack) Burney, for an extension of time to file a statement of facts.

Local Woman On Honor Roll

Susan Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Russell of Big Spring, has been named to the dean's honor list in the college of Home Economics at Texas Tech for the spring semester. Susan had a grade point average of 3.83.

Bicentennial Town Crier

Help! Help! We goofed! But someone out there can make it right! Absent-minded Townsman Crier neglected to alert L.B. Paul that the Bicentennial flag would be prominently displayed in the rodeo doings. The result is a less than great shot (from the wrong side of the street) in the parade and none at all from the Grand Entry. If any of you have clear pictures of the Bicentennial flag in these two instances, we covet the loan of the negative just long enough to make prints for our scrapbook. Call Janell Davis at 7-5745 or L.B. Paul at 7-5588. Forgive us, L.B., for letting you down.

Needles were flashing when the nimble fingers of the Gold Star Mothers sewed the buttons on weskits for "Let Freedom Ring." This all took place at the Senior Citizens Center on Howard College campus. Mrs. A.E. True, Jane Thomas and Jane's visiting cousin, Mrs. Don Thomas, did their share, too. Best way we know to entertain guests - make them feel needed!

And speaking of Howard College campus - congratulations to Dr. Charles Hays, president, and board members Dr. P.W. Malone, Chub McGibbon, Harold Davis, Don McKinney, Buddy Barr, Jimmy Taylor and board chairman, Dr. Charles Warren. The vote turnout for the new coliseum was a tribute to their hard work informing the public of the need for such a building. We are happy to foresee that this will be a valued Horizons-76 project for years to come.

The Steering Committee has a new and capable member, Al Valdez. Al will represent the Big Spring Independent School Board in place of Roy Watkins, who was too pressed for time to serve properly. Knowing Al's dedication to the betterment of Big Spring in a number of areas, we are extremely pleased to have his talents available.

70,000 Attend Picnic, Country Music Concert

LIBERTY HILL, Tex. (AP) - The last of a sun-burned, hung-over, music-deafened, worn-out mob of 70,000 persons left here today following the third annual Willie Nelson 4th of July Picnic.

"Well, if we had arrested all the naked and drunk people I saw we'd have filled our jail and yours, and all of the jails from here to Dallas," said one Williamson County deputy. "We've got about 20 drunks in the jail right now and we're trying to process them out of here."

The annual "picnic" was staged by Nelson who brought top names in the progressive country music field to entertain their growing legions of fans. On hand were Kris Kristofferson, Rita Coolidge, the Pointer Sisters and similar pied pipers who have developed a new breed of "redneck"—readily identified by their turquoise jewelry, brim-bent straw hats, pickup trucks and capacity for San Antonio-brewed beer.

Carradine Weds For 4th Time

OXNARD, Calif. (AP) - John Carradine, the actor and director, has taken a fourth wife in a quiet church wedding attended by members of the family and some friends.

Commemorative Coin Is Ready

STANTON - The new Martin County Bicentennial coin is now available here. The coin was designed and is being sold by the Martin County Historical Survey Committee.

The coins come in silver and bronze, with the silver selling for $20 and the bronze for $5. Members of the committee are distributing the coins.

The old Martin County courthouse is featured on one side of the coin, the new courthouse on the other.

"The main problem was traffic. Nobody counted on that many people showing up. Parking was something else. People parked their cars and walked for miles to get to the thing," the deputy said.

Attendants at a field hospital set up on the grassy site near this Central Texas community said they treated about 500 persons for heat prostration, along with the routine cuts and scratches.

"It was mainly just people sitting out there in the heat and drinking that old Lone Star (beer)," said one attendant.

Peace officers said thousands of the "picnickers" doffed their clothes and waded into a creek which sliced through the area.

"There were naked folks everywhere but we didn't have the manpower and the time to fool with them. As long as they weren't killing each other—no shootings and stuff—we had plenty to do otherwise," one deputy said.

Troop 249 Has July 2 Supper

Troop 249 of the boy scouts, sponsored by the Westside Center and the Kiwanis Club, had a hot-dog supper at Comanche Trail Park July 2 for sponsors which helped troop members go to summer camp.

Certificates of appreciation were awarded to Al's Barbecue, H. E. Thompson, Roy Solome, Gregg Safeway's Store, Ben Marquez, Restaurant and Carlos' Castaneda.

Forty-five attended the event. The scouts gave a program of songs and other entertainment. Art Hyman, the local scout executive, was a special guest. He presented the merit badges which were earned in the summer camp. In all, 19 merit badges, two skill badges and two partial merit badges were awarded.

Most of the scouts advanced to a higher rank. Appreciation was expressed to Troop 401 for help with transportation of equipment to camp.

The troop now holds weekly meeting at 7 p.m., Wednesday, at the scout hut on Tenth and Bell Street. Any boy age 11 or older are welcome to join the troop. Scout master is Richard Acuna. His assistant is Bill Loftin.

Cogdell Appeal Is Turned Down

The long-time appeal of Marion P. Cogdell vs. the Fort Worth National Bank, et al, appealed from Scurry County, has been denied in the Eleventh Supreme Judicial District Court at Eastland. Judge Austin McCloud wrote the opinion.

The court also granted a motion another Scurry appeal in the case of Pearson-Sibert Oil Company of Texas, et al vs. O. L. (Jack) Burney, for an extension of time to file a statement of facts.

Bicentennial Town Crier

Help! Help! We goofed! But someone out there can make it right! Absent-minded Towne Crier neglected to alert L.B. Paul that the Bicentennial flag would be prominently displayed in the rodeo doings. The result is a less than great shot (from the wrong side of the street) in the parade and none at all from the Grand Entry. If any of you have clear pictures of the Bicentennial flag in these two instances, we covet the loan of the negative just long enough to make prints for our scrapbook. Call Janell Davis at 7-5745 or L.B. Paul at 7-7588. Forgive us, L.B., for letting you down.

Needles were flashing when the nimble fingers of the Gold Star Mothers sewed the buttons on weskits for "Let Freedom Ring." This all took place at the Senior Citizens Center on Howard College campus. Mrs. A.E. True, Jane Thomas and Jane's visiting cousin, Mrs. Don Thomas, did their share, too. Best way we know to entertain guests — make them feel needed!

And speaking of Howard College campus — congratulations to Dr. Charles Hays, president, and board members Dr. P.W. Malone, Chub McGibbon, Harold Davis, Don McKinney, Buddy Barr, Jimmy Taylor and board chairman, Dr. Charles Warren. The vote turnout for the new coliseum was a tribute to their hard work informing the public of the need for such a building. We are happy to foresee that this will be a valued Horizons '76 project for years to come.

The Steering Committee has a new and capable member, Al Valdez. Al will represent the Big Spring Independent School Board in place of Roy Watkins, who was too pressed for time to serve properly. Knowing Al's dedication to the betterment of Big Spring in a number of areas, we are extremely pleased to have his talents available.

70,000 Attend Picnic, Country Music Concert

LIBERTY HILL, Tex. (AP) — The last of a sun-burned, hung-over, music-deafened, worn-out mob of 70,000 persons left here today following the third annual Willie Nelson 4th of July Picnic.

"Well, if we had arrested all the naked and drunk people I saw we'd have filled our jail and yours, and all of the jails from here to Dallas," said one Williamson County deputy. "We've got about 20 drunks in the jail right now and we're trying to process them out of here."

The annual "picnic" was staged by Nelson who brought top names in the progressive country music field to entertain their growing legions of fans. On hand were Kris Kristofferson, Rita Coolidge, the Pointer Sisters and similar pied pipers who have developed a new breed of "redneck"—readily identified by their turquoise jewelry, brim-bent straw hats, pickup trucks and capacity for San Antonio-brewed beer.

"The main problem was traffic. Nobody counted on that many people showing up. Parking was something else. People parked their cars and walked for miles to get to the thing," the deputy said.

Attendants at a field hospital set up on the grassy site near this Central Texas community said they treated about 500 persons for heat prostration, along with the routine cuts and scratches.

"It was mainly just people sitting out there in the heat and drinking that old Lone Star (beer)," said one attendant.

Peace officers said thousands of the "picnickers" doffed their clothes and waded into a creek which sliced through the area.

"There were naked folks everywhere but we didn't have the manpower and the time to fool with them. As long as they weren't killing each other—no shootings and stuff—we had plenty to do otherwise," one deputy said.

Commemorative Coin Is Ready

STANTON — The new Martin County Bicentennial coin is now available here.

The coin was designed and is being sold by the Martin County Historical Survey Committee.

The coins come in silver and bronze, with the silver selling for $20 and the bronze for $5. Members of the committee are distributing the coins.

The old Martin County courthouse is featured on one side of the coin, the new courthouse on the other.

Troop 249 Has July 2 Supper

Troop 249 of the boy scouts, sponsored by the Westside Center and the Kiwanis Club, had a hot-dog supper at Comanche Trail Park July 2 for sponsors which helped troop members go to summer camp.

Certificates of appreciation were awarded to Al's Barbecue, H. E. Thompson, Roy Solome, Gregg Safeway's Store, Ben Marquez, Carlos Restaurant and Rudy Castaneda.

Forty-five attended the event. The scouts gave a program of songs and other entertainment. Art Hyman, the local scout executive, was a special guest. He presented the merit badges which were earned in the summer camp. In all, 19 merit badges, two skill badges and two partial merit badges were awarded.

Most of the scouts advanced to a higher rank. Appreciation was expressed

Doors swing wide open this week at the training camp for the Dallas Cowboys. Rookies report Tuesday. Veteran quarterbacks, receivers and centers check in July 17, with the balance of the veterans arriving July 30.

The Thousands Oaks camp marks the Cowboys' 13th summer on the campus of California Lutheran College. Dallas finished 8-6 in 1974 and failed to qualify for the playoffs for the first time since 1965, breaking a record string of eight straight years in post-season play.

"Maybe the feeling of being successful too long will tend to make people average pretty quick," said Head Coach Tom Landry. "Maybe you have to see how it feels to be down before you can come back again."

Jeff Newton, who will be a senior golfer on the Big Spring High team next year, was involved with the 75th U.S. Open Golf Tournament at Medinah, Ill., June 20-23.

Newton caddied practice rounds for pro Ben Crenshaw and an amateur named Jay Haas. During tourney play, he worked for ABC-TV as a spotter on the seventh team.

Stan "The Man" Musial, who devastated National League pitchers for 22 years from his peak-a-boo batting stance, headlines a list of former St. Louis Cardinals greats who will be at Arlington Stadium for the second annual Old Timers' Game July 19.

A group of former American League stars will oppose the Cardinals in a brief exhibition which precedes the Texas-Boston regular season game. The Old Timers' Game will commemorate the 75th anniversary of the American League.

HI-NOON SPONSORED FIRECRACKER MINI-NOVICE BIKE CONTESTANTS Stirring Up Dust In Moto-Cross Five-Lap Race

Harrington Only First Day Firecracker Double Winner

The sun shined brightly and hardly a breeze ruffled the air as 170 entries filled the Moto-Cross track with dust in Saturday's Firecracker $5,000 located at IS 20 and FM 700. Second and final round Moto cycling takes place today starting at high noon. Races start with a five-lap mini-novice class, ending with a 15-lap open senior classic.

A rider's meeting is set for 11:25 a.m. The Firecracker meeting is the second largest Moto-Cross race ever held in West Texas.

Amarillo's Mike Harrington was the only first day double winner outspeeding all 125 and open senior contestants.

Gary Glassnapp of Arvada, Colo., received the checkered flag first in the 250 senior race. Big Spring's Danny Weir was runnerup to Glassnapp and took fourth in the open senior.

Ronna Tyler of Big Spring, who has 85 trophies to her credit from racing competition, placed fourth in the 100 intermediate class.

Brian Ferrell, also of Big Spring, brought his cycle across the 125 novice finish line in second position.

A good finish today could push the riders upward in the final standings. All cyclists competing the first day automatically qualify for the

FIRST BLACK CHAMP Ashe Pulverizes Jimmy Connors

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Arthur Ashe became the first black to win a Wimbledon men's singles crown today when he pulverized the defending champion and overwhelming favorite, Jimmy Connors, 6-1, 6-1, 7-6, 4-6.

The match took 2 hours, 5 minutes. The story of the match was simple: Ashe played above himself right from the opening shots and never let Connors get in any sort of rhythm.

Connors, 22, fought back like a tiger after being humiliated for the first two sets, and picked up the third set after the match looked like it was running away from him.

But Ashe was the man in control and pulled back from a 0-3 deficit in the fourth set to take the match. In the first 45 minutes, Ashe volleyed his way to a 6-1, 6-1 lead, letting Connors pick up only 30 points on the way.

It looked a runaway right from the second game, when Ashe moved to a 2-1 lead. Ashe reeled off the next seven games in a row—the remaining four in the first set and the first three in the second, breaking Connors' serve four times before the champion could hold his service.

In previous rounds this year at Wimbledon, Connors had looked the complete tennis machine, never dropping a set. But in Saturday's final it was Ashe who was the master. His volleying, particularly on the forehand, was crisp, confident and forceful—and obviously

BIG SPRING'S RONNA TYLER Places Fourth In 100 Intermediate

ATLANTA (AP) — Vic Correll and Ralph Garr smashed three-run homers as the Atlanta Braves wiped out a four-run deficit and defeated the Houston Astros 8-4 to sweep Saturday's twin-night doubleheader.

Mike Lum keyed two rallies with singles in leading the Braves to a 4-3 victory in the opener. Correll's homer highlighted a five-run fourth-inning rally against Doug Koenig, 4-9, in the nightcap. Larvell Blanks and Rowland Office drove in the other two runs and were on base when Correll belted his ninth homer of the year and his first since May 20.

Garr's fifth homer came in the sixth after Blanks walked and Correll reached on an error. Houston got four runs in the first, three of them unearned, off Max Leon, 1-0, making his first start of the year. Cliff Johnson had a run-scoring single, Ken Boswell hit a sacrifice fly and two others crossed on an error by third baseman Darrell Evans.

The Braves got the deciding run in the eighth inning of the opener. Marty Perez opened with a walk, went to third on Dusty Baker's singled and scored on Evans' sacrifice fly.

Atlanta scored twice in the second inning on grounders by Blanks and Office after Evans walked and reached third on Mike Lum's single, with Lum taking second on the throw. Lum singled the deciding run in the eighth inning of the opener. Marty Perez opened with a walk, went to third on Dusty Baker's singled and scored on Evans' sacrifice fly.

SMU Recruiter To Lose His Job

DALLAS (AP) — Frank McGaughy, football recruiting coordinator for Southern Methodist University, has lost his job because of financial problems facing the university's athletic department.

The Dallas Morning News said in its Sunday editions that McGaughy's job will end on July 31.

McGaughy was quoted as saying he met with SMU football Coach Dave Smith in mid-May and was told that due to financial problems, a recruiting coordinator would have to be dismissed.

SMU athletic director Dick Davis said that the National Collegiate Athletic Association is expected to write into its laws several drastic cutbacks that will affect coaching staffs.

He was quoted as saying that the reductions will mean elimination of coaching jobs in all sports.

Wall Walks To First Victory Since 1966

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Art Wall held off a four-way challenge with a steady two-under-par 70 Saturday to win the $130,000 Greater Milwaukee Open Golf Tournament, his first victory since 1966.

Wall, the 51-year-old 1959 Masters champ, pocketed $26,000 with his 14th tour victory. Rod Curl, tied with five others four strokes off the pace after three rounds, played his first nine in one-over Saturday but birdied five holes between 12 and 17 for a closing 68 and 273 total. Gibby Gilbert, three strokes behind after three rounds, and Dave Hill finished at 274. Hill shot a 69 and Gilbert a 70.

Wall birdied his second and third holes but bogeyed No. 8 as McCord, a second-year pro who ranks 101st on this year's money winnings list, began his charge.

McCord, one of the six tied at four strokes back after three rounds, made the turn in a four-under 32. A birdie on No. 9 left the 1970 National Collegiate Athletic Association champion from Cal-Riverside one stroke behind and 15-under for the meet. He bogeyed the 11th, however, and posted a doublebogey on the par-three, 186-yard 14th hole.

McCord then finished with his four birdies, but Wall all but wrapped up the victory with a bird on No. 16. Wall played the last two holes in par.

The tournament attracted only two of the current 25 leading money winners—Miller Barber and U.S. Open champion Lou Graham—because of next week's British Open. Barber, first-day leader with a 65 over the 7,010-yard Tuckaway Country Club course, finished with a 70 and a 279 total. Graham failed to make the cut.

Curl, one of the few pros planning to go to Britain after playing here, said he would have cancelled his travel plans had it not been for his fine finishing run.

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Scores and money winnings Saturday after the final round of the $130,000 Greater Milwaukee Open Golf Tournament over the 7,010-yard, par-73 Tuckaway Country Club course (a denotes amateur):
Art Wall $26,000
Gary McCord 67-67-70-271 $14,820
Rod Curl 69-70-66-68-273 $9,230
Dave Hill 69-70-66-68-273 $5,720

White's homer came off Dave Hamilton, 2-5, the third Chicago pitcher, after the White Sox chased Steve Busby and tied the score with three runs in the top of the eighth. The Royals added an insurance run on Jim Wohlford's double and George Brett's single. The White Sox began their game-tying rally on Bucky Dent's triple and a run-scoring grounder. One out later Steve Busby walked Ken Henderson and was replaced by Doug Bird when he fell behind 2-0 to Bill Melton. However, Melton tagged Bird for his seventh home run of the season to knot the score.

Hal McRae's tie-breaking double keyed a three-run seventh inning that gave the Royals a 4-1 lead. Wohlford and Brett started it with singles off Rich Gossage. Hamilton relieved and struck out John Mayberry but McRae doubled Wohlford and Brett also scored when second baseman Lee Richard bobbled the relay. McRae scored on a single by Tony Solaita.

Dodgers Upend San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Dave Lopes' run-scoring single with two out in the eighth inning following an intentional walk to Willie Crawford gave the Los Angeles Dodgers a 5-4 victory over the San Francisco Giants Saturday night.

Rookie John Hale, who earlier hit his first major league homer, opened the eighth with a single off Ed Halicki, 3-6, and was sacrificed to second. Halicki struck out Steve Yeager but walked pinch hitter Crawford intentionally. Lopes then came through with his gamewinning hit.

Crawford was batting for winning pitcher Al Downing, 2-0.

The Giants tied the game with an unearned run off Downing in the seventh on a throwing error by Los Angeles third baseman Ron Cey and a single by Willie Montanez.

Dave Rader's two-run homer off Burt Hooton gave the Giants a 2-0 lead in the second inning. The Dodgers tied it in the third on Bill Buckner's single, a walk, Steve Garvey's run-scoring single and Cey's sacrifice fly.

Patten Inks With Baker

BALDWIN CITY, Kan. (AP) — Baker University's new basketball coach, Shannon Reading, announced the signing of Malcomb Patten, who averaged 20 points and 10 rebounds a game for McLennan County Junior College in Texas. Patten is 6-4 and 190 pounds, and he also was at Sam Houston State for a year.

Royals Run By Chicago

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Frank White led off the bottom of the eighth inning with a tie-breaking inside-the-park homer off the center field wall and the Kansas City Royals went on to defeat the Chicago White Sox 6-4 Saturday night.

White's homer came off Dave Hamilton, 2-5, the third Chicago pitcher, after the White Sox chased Steve Busby and tied the score with three runs in the top of the eighth. The Royals added an insurance run on Jim Wohlford's double and George Brett's single.

The White Sox began their game-tying rally on Bucky Dent's triple and a run-scoring grounder. One out later Steve Busby walked Ken Henderson and was replaced by Doug Bird when he fell behind 2-0 to Bill Melton. However, Melton tagged Bird for his seventh home run of the season to knot the score.

Cardinals, Tiger-Cubs Square Off Today

Tabbed as one of the top sandlot games of the week, Big Spring's Cardinals and Tiger-Cubs square off today at Steer Park.

inside-the-park homer with Felix Martinez aboard. The Cardinals iced the game in the bottom of the sixth with Flores driving in Sammy Rodriguez and Tony Martinez.

The Tiger-Cubs have had a week to prepare for the Cardinals as their home game with Ojinaga, Mexico, a week ago, was cancelled.

Cubs lost on the road to the same Ojinaga club, 15-7. Cardinal probable lineup: Felix Martinez, shortstop; Sammy Rodriguez, second; Pat Martinez Jr., first; Andy Gamboa, centerfield; Billy Pineda, third; Joe Martinez, catcher; leftfield, uncertain; and Joe Cadenhead, right field.

Yankees Unable To Find Handle

NEW YORK (AP) — Mark Belanger scored the tie-breaking run on a seventh-inning throwing error and Lee May followed with a two-run single as the streaking Baltimore Orioles defeated New York 5-2 Saturday.

The Yankees tied the score against Ross Grimsley, 5-9, in the sixth on Bobby Bonds' double, a walk, sacrifice and Thurman Munson's two-run single. Grimsley scattered eight hits in the nationally televised game.

single loaded the bases. May's grounder to deep short glanced off Brinkman's glove for a runcoring single and Paul Blair delivered the second run with a sacrifice fly.

The Yankees tied the score against Ross Grimsley, 5-9, in the sixth on Bobby Bonds' double, a walk, sacrifice and Thurman Munson's two-run single. Grimsley scattered eight hits in the nationally televised game.

Left fielder Roy White climbed the fence to rob Bobby Grich of a three-run homer but Belanger took third and Dick Tidrow relieved starter Rudy May, 7-5.

Tommy Davis grounded to shortstop Ed Brinkman, whose throw sailed past home plate for a two-base error. Lee May, who drove in Baltimore's first run in the third inning with an infield hit, then drilled a single for two more runs as the Orioles won for the eighth time in 10 games.

Baltimore took a 2-0 lead in the third when a walk to Singleton, a single by Grich and Davis' one-hopper off May's glove for an infield

Loser Ray Burris, 7-6, was battered for 10 hits before being knocked out in the seventh when the Pirates scored their eventual winning runs on Dave Parker's RBI single and an error.

Winner Jim Rooker, 6-4, retired the first 10 batters before Jose Cardenal singled with one out in the fourth. Jerry Morales also beat out an infield single in the fourth and Andy Thornton walked to fill the bases but Rooker got George Mitterwald to foul out and end the threat.

The Pirate starter ran into trouble in the ninth, though, when the Cubs rallied, two of the runs coming on Vic Harris' single.

Bucs Beat Cubs, 5-4

CHICAGO (AP) — Richie Zisk hit a pair of solo homers and the Pittsburgh Pirates withstood a four-run ninth inning by Chicago to beat the Cubs 5-4 Saturday.

Zisk homered in the second inning and then hit his eighth homer of the season in the fourth.

The Pirates picked up a run in the third on a single by Paul Popovich and a double by Al Oliver.

Loser Ray Burris, 7-6, was battered for 10 hits before being knocked out in the seventh when the Pirates scored their eventual winning runs on Dave Parker's RBI single and an error.

Winner Jim Rooker, 6-4, retired the first 10 batters before Jose Cardenal singled with one out in the fourth. Jerry Morales also beat out an infield single in the fourth and Andy Thornton walked to fill the bases but Rooker got George Mitterwald to foul out and end the threat.

The Pirate starter ran into trouble in the ninth, though, when the Cubs rallied, two of the runs coming on Vic Harris' single.

Wrinkle Outruns Prep Contestants

Cross-country star, Kim Wrinkle outran all 10-mile high school contestants but finished third overall Friday in the West Texas Running Club Meet at Brownfield.

Wrinkle, who will be a senior at Big Spring High this fall, ran his race in 55:57. Bill Welsh of Eastern New Mexico University, finished first in the 10-mile combined four-division running in 53:18. Texas Tech's Mark Johnson was second with a 55:55 clocking.

Glenn Petty, former Big Spring High track coach, now tutoring thinclads at Abilene Cooper, won the 30 to 39 age race, timed in 17:08.

Kim plans to leave Monday for Rociada, New Mexico. He will train these four weeks in the 7,500-foot elevation which helps prepare runners for long distance hauls.

Kim will return to Brownfield for a five-mile endeavor Aug. 9.

Kertzman Takes Two Round Lead

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP) — Karoly Kertzman fired a one-over-par 73 to take a two-stroke lead after two rounds of the Wheeling Ladies Professional Golf Association Classic Saturday.

Miss Kertzman strung together 15 pars and a single birdie against two bogeys in maintaining her tournament lead.

Jan Ferraris, who at one time was eight-under-par Saturday, ran into considerable trouble on the back nine and finished at two-over-par 74. She is alone in second place at 141.

Miss Ferraris, who started the day five-under, got birdies on Nos. 2, 4, and 5 to go eight under. But she bogied 7 and 9 to make the turn at one-under 35. On the back side, after a birdie at 12, she had double bogeys at 14 and 17 and had a bogey on 16. She moved into second by birdying 18.

Meanwhile, Miss Kertzman played par golf on the backside, also birdying 18. Susie McAllister had a 70 and was one of three golfers at two-under 142. The others were Gerda Boykin, who had a 72, and Betty Berfeindt, who posted a second consecutive 71.

Debbie Austin and Gloria Ehret each fired 73s and were tied four shots behind the leader at 143.

At even par 144 were Hollis Stacy and Renee Powell, who each had 71s, and Kathy Postlewait, who had a 73.

Ruffian Favored

NEW YORK (AP) — Most match races have been won by the horse getting the lead at the start. Will it happen again in the $350,000 Match Race at Belmont Park today between Ruffian, the unbeaten filly, and Foolish Pleasure, winner of the Kentucky Derby and her first male opponent?

The 1 1/4-mile race, billed as the Battle of the Sexes, is expected to be one of the most memorable in turf history. It has aroused world-wide interest and will be nationally televised by CBS.

A glance backwards at the nine outstanding American match races of the last half century shows eight have been won by the early leader.

Man O'War beat Sir Barton by seven lengths at Kenilworth Park in Canada on Oct. 12, 1920. Zev beat Papyrus by five lengths at Belmont Park Oct. 20, 1923. A month later at Latonia, Ky., on Nov. 17, 1923, Zev provided the only exception by overhauling in Memoriam to win by a nose.

In all the others the horse who broke on top won. Seabiscuit humbled War Admiral at Pimlico Nov. 1, 1938; Alsab took Whirlaway at Narragansett Park Sept. 19, 1942; Armed romped against Assault at Belmont Park, Sept. 27, 1947; Nashua whipped Swaps at Washington Park, Aug. 31, 1955; Convenience beat Typecast at Hollywood Park June 17, 1972, and Chris Evert outdistanced Miss Musket on July 20 last year, also at Hollywood Park.

Ruffian, who has led all the way in every one of her races, is favored to win her 11th in a row by doing her thing again. But Foolish Pleasure has shown he can be a speed ball, too.

"The only way to beat her is to run with her," said Leroy Jolley, trainer of Foolish Pleasure. "My colt has the speed to do it. We'll test her, all right."

A crowd approaching 70,000 is expected to watch jockeys Jacinto Vasquez, on Ruffian, and Braulio Baeza, on Foolish Pleasure, duel for the winner's share of $225,000.

Post time has been set for 6:10 p.m. EDT. Foolish Pleasure will carry scale weight of 126 pounds. Ruffian will tote 121, benefitting from her sex allowance.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Greg Luzinski walloped his 22nd home run and socked a run-scoring double and Ron Schueler pitched a four-hitter to lead the Philadelphia Phillies to an 8-2 victory over the New York Mets in the first game of a twilight doubleheader Saturday.

Luzinski batted in runs No. 66 and 67. Schueler earned his third victory.

The Phillies took a 1-0 lead in the first inning off Randy Tate, 3-7, when Jay Johnstone singled and Luzinski doubled.

In the third the Phillies broke the game open with four runs. Tommy Hutton sent two home with a double and scored on Johnny Oates' single. Mike Schmidt tallied the fourth run of the inning during a rundown play on Oates.

World Marathon Swimmer Now Supervises 3 Pools

By CLARK LESHER Ken Franklin, one of two members of a world marathon swim, this summer bears the responsibility for the upkeep and supervision of three outdoor pools at Webb AFB.

The blond 23-year-old West Texas State University graduate is a qualified water safety instructor plus completing all requirements for NAUI Scuba certification. He received his Bachelor of Science degree in biology in May.

Franklin received worldwide publicity from his marathon indoor splash two years at WTSU. He, along with Bill Ottosen, treaded water at intervals for 54 hours covering close to 60 miles. Each swimmer stayed in the pool for one hour during the daytime and for a two-hour duration when the sun went down.

The Big Spring Herald, Amarillo Daily News and TV stations carried stories about the two swimmers' accomplishment. Texas State Radio Network also gave it coverage.

LIKES RING LIFE Ali Uncertain When To Retire

NEW YORK (AP) — After Muhammad Ali's last heavyweight title defense, trainer Angelo Dundee made a remark that seemed to unlock the psyche of the self-acclaimed "savior of boxing."

Ali had sustained a slight cut over his left eye en route to a unanimous 15-round decision over British challenger Joe Bugner in Malaysia.

"It didn't need nothing, no cut medicine, just a few kisses," Dundee said. Those kisses are Ali's balm.

Ali has more wealth than most men could ever hope to gain. Certainly, he's not motivated solely by the almighty dollar. He is without a doubt among the world's most famous men and one of the world's most famous athletes. He can't possibly enhance his fame by pushing his 33-year-old body through another fight.

It's those kisses that motivate Ali. He could have retired after the Bugner fight last week. He said he wanted to retire, and it's possible he is disillusioned with his gypsy life, as he says.

But he can't stand the thought of leaving the ring and the attention that surrounds it. When he leaves the limelight, he wants to make sure there is no one fit to step into it.

"People want to see me fight Joe Frazier," Ali said. "I don't want anybody to say that I'm afraid of Joe Frazier or George Foreman."

"I don't want to retire when there's anybody around who thinks they can beat me."

But one has to wonder when Ali will run out of steam. He seemed as fit as ever against Bugner. He danced and punched the better part of 15 rounds in the sweltering

Indians Trample Red Sox

CLEVELAND (AP) — Buddy Bell belted two home runs — one of them a grand slam — and a run-scoring double, and Roric Harrison tossed an eight-hitter to lead the streaking Cleveland Indians to a 12-2 victory over the Boston Red Sox Saturday.

It was Cleveland's 12th victory in the last 15 games. Bell's homer with the bases loaded gave the Indians a 6-1 lead in the second. Charlie Spikes scored on a sacrifice fly in the same inning, but all five runs were unearned, because of third baseman Denny Doyle's throwing error with two outs.

The grand slam chased Boston loser Steve Barr, 0-1, and Jim Burton came on in relief. Bell added a solo homer, his eighth of the season, in the fourth and doubled home another run in the eighth.

Duane Kuiper scored on a fielder's choice in the first. Rico Carty scored on Bill Sudakis' single in the third, and George Hendrick hit his 15th homer of the year in the seventh for the Indians.

Harrison, 3-2, lost his first shutout of the year in the seventh when Carlton Fisk and Rick Miller scored on successive singles by Denny Doyle and Doug Griffin.

Franklin became interested in swimming in his freshman prep year at El Paso. He took up the sport as injuries forced him out of football and basketball competition.

His junior year, Franklin's dad, Elmer, then a civil service employe at White Sands Range, transferred to Webb AFB. He has since retired. Franklin's mother's occupation is listed as a housewife.

Franklin plans to be married the last of August to a Big Spring High graduate, Debbie Nikolai. He graduated from the same school in 1970.

His current plans call for returning to WTSU this fall as a graduate assistant in physics.

It was his fifth pole start in the nine races this season but despite this edge, the race looked wide open with just one second covering the 11 top drivers in seven different makes of Formula One race cars.

"The race could look like a superfast string of rail cars tomorrow," said Lauda. "I just hope I'll be the engine."

Lauda said his relatively slow times Friday had been due to a head cold and a balky car, "but now I'm fit and so is the Ferrari," he said.

Alongside Lauda, current world championship leader with three victories in the first eight races, was South African Jody Scheckter in a Tyrrell. He made a spectacular Grand Prix debut here two years ago, leading half the race before he and Emerson Fittipaldi collided.

Scheckter thinks the outcome of the race will be determined by the setting of the controversial wings that balance the cars. "If this high wind keeps up," he said, "the setting will be critical and racewinning."

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Defending champion Warren Tope was killed Saturday when his 465-cubic inch McLaren smashed into a guard rail on the first turn of the Wide Track II race through the streets of Pontiac.

Police said Tope was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

The top half of Tope's CanAm type racer was sheared off when he struck the guard rail just as the race started. The race was resumed after a 90-minute delay.

Tope's racer was the only car involved in the accident, police said. No spectators were reported injured.

Tope won last year's race in a Pantera.

Twins Catch Texas Again

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Eric Soderholm singled home a run in the eighth inning to lead the Minnesota Twins to a 5-4 victory over the Texas Rangers Saturday.

Leadoff hitter Rod Carew reached first when loser Ferguson Jenkins, 9-10, misplayed his grounder in the eighth. Carew was sacrificed to second before eventually coming home on Soderholm's tie-breaking single to center.

Carew's ninth home run in the fifth inning brought Minnesota a 4-4 tie against Jenkins.

Texas pecked away at Twins starter Dave Goltz for single runs in the second and third innings on Mike Cubbage's RBI single and Ray Howell's third home run. The Rangers had Goltz on the ropes with no outs in the fourth as Cubbage and Toby Harrah drove home runs with singles.

But a double steal misfired, Harrah being thrown out at third, and Goltz steadied to retire the next two batters.

Rookie Dan Ford, on a hitting rampage, singled home the first two Minnesota runs as the Ranger strategy of intentionally walking Carew to load the bases backfired. Tony Oliva's fourth-inning homer pulled Minnesota to within one run at 4-3.

Texas won after Jeff Run homer sixth inning. In the 9th, Oliva scored fourth in Steve Harj Ford's 10th season and UNION GROVE, Wis. (AP) — Don "Big Daddy" Garlits set an International Hot Rod Association record Friday during a practice run at the $130,000 Summer National drag racing meet at Great Lakes Dragway.

Garlits pushed his fuel dragster to 244.56 miles per hour during his quarter mile run covered in 5.89 seconds.

MITO, Japan (AP) — Hardhitting Alfredo Escalera of Puerto Rico Saturday night became the new World Boxing Council (WBC) junior lightweight champion by knocking out defending champion Kuniaki Shibata of Japan in the second round of their 15-round title bout.

The end came at 2:56 of the second round for the 28-year-old Shibata, who hit the canvas after a furious flurry of Escalera's devastating punches.

Japanese referee Ken Morita counted out the champion lying flat on his back, elevating Escalera to the title.

CARNOSTUIE, Scotland (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, the 9-2 favorite to win the British Open golf championship starting here Wednesday, shot a sizzling seven-under-par 65 during a practice session Saturday.

Nicklaus, who fashioned a 67 in his first practice round Friday, said: "I am a week too early with these two rounds. Although I have not played well these last two days I holed a lot of putts today."

Nicklaus, seeking his third British Open title, stormed out in an incredible six under par 30, which included a run of four consecutive birdies from the third hole and additional birdies at the eighth and ninth.

Nicklaus thus issued a clear warning to the formidable field that he is the man to beat in the $165,000 classic.

Texas Splits 2 With Twins

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Dan Ford, Minnesota's 23-year-old rookie sensation, put on a one-man show Friday as the Twins split a doubleheader with Texas before a Fourth of July crowd of nearly 26,000.

Ford slammed two home runs and a double, driving in five runs to power the Twins to a 8-0 victory over Texas in the opener. Relief specialist Bill Campbell, 2-4, called to start because of an injury-ridden pitching staff, allowed just five Ranger hits.

Texas won the nightcap 4-2 after Jeff Burroughs' two-run homer keyed a four-run sixth inning.

In the second game, Minnesota scored two runs in the fourth inning off winner Steve Hergen 6-3, thanks to Ford's 10th homer of the season and third of the night.

and Tony Oliva's double and Eric Soderholm's single.

The Rangers came back with four runs in the sixth, however, and held on to win the game. Ray Corbin, 4-6 walked Ray Powell and Burroughs tied the game with his 16th homer. Mike Hargrove and Jim Spencer then singled, Mark Wiley replaced Corbin and Toby Harrah greeted him with a run-scoring double.

A squeeze bunt attempt misfired and Spencer was tagged out, but Cesar Tovar followed with a single to score Harrah, capping the rally.

Ford, who was acquired by Minnesota from Oakland during the off season, had been criticized earlier for having trouble hitting curve balls. He disputes that, saying, "I don't know where they got that idea. I got my three home runs off two sliders and a fastball."

Ford is in the regular lineup primarily because of injuries to outfielders Larry Hise and Steve Brye. After Friday, he's likely to stay there for a while.

"The reason I'm going so good is that I'm playing every day and gaining confidence," said Ford, who raised his batting average to a healthy .294.

THE RICH ONE — Easy Date, the richest quarter horse of all time with earnings of $597,858, will be trying to haul in another big chunk of cash in the Rainbow Quarter Horse Derby at Ruidoso Downs today. The winner gets $119,177 out of the $326,890 gross purse. Easy Date is shown with her owner, Walter Merrick of Sayre, Okla., after establishing the top qualifying time of 21.59 seconds for the 440-yards. Easy Date's 17 career wins so far include the $1 million All-American Futurity at Ruidoso Downs last Labor Day.

Easy Date Favored To Grab Top Prize

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N.M. (AP) — Easy Date, richest quarter horse of all time, is favored to add another $119,177 to her career earnings Sunday by winning the Rainbow Quarter Horse Derby at Ruidoso Downs race track.

Easy Date heads a field of ten 3-year-olds competing in the derby, which carries a total purse of $302,059. The prize money is scaled down to $12,168 for last place.

Easy Date, winner of the 1974 All-American Futurity, posted the best qualifying time of the 86 entries in trials run June 27 at Ruidoso Downs.

The filly breezed to victory in her trial heat by covering the 440 yards, same distance as the derby, in 21.59 seconds.

Easy Date, owned by Walter F. Merrick of Sayre, Okla., boasts a career mark of 17-2-0 in 20 starts.

petition figures to come from Maskeo Lad, owned by Billy G. Underwood of Dallas, Tex. Maskeo Lad posted the second best qualifying time at 21.65.

The next fastest qualifying time was clocked up by a gelding, Hi Johnny, owned by Adobe Ranch Co. of Del Rio, Tex. Hi Johnny was clocked in 21.72.

Other qualifiers, with trial times and owners, are: —I Can Go, 21.73, owned by Charles A. Bird and estate of E.W. PITCHER OF MONTH Seaver Recognized

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Tom Seaver's June record shows he is back to his Cy Young Award winning form.

Petty Wins Firecracker

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — There's only one more world for Richard Petty to conquer now that the king of stock car racing has won the Firecracker 400.

His remaining major goal is the $2 million pinnacle in career winnings, and he's probably just a race or two away. The $17,185 first prize in Friday's 400-mile race boosted Petty's all-time winnings to $1,989,838.

"It was a hard, tough day," Petty said of his first victory in the Firecracker 400, nearly three seconds ahead of one-time racing partner Buddy Baker.

Baker led 119 of the 160 laps around the 2.5-mile, high-banked Daytona International Speedway. Petty led for only 16 laps, but they included the last 13. Petty's Dodge and Baker's Ford were the only cars on the same lap at the end. The winner averaged 158.381 miles an hour.

Baker collected $14,235 for second place. Dave Marcis finished third for $8,635 in a Dodge.

Up-and-coming Darrell Waltrip was fourth in his Chevrolet, winning $6,210.

and the National League has recognized it by naming the New York Mets' right-hander as pitcher of the month.

In 512-3 innings of work in June, Seaver had a 4-0 record, a 1.04 earned-run average and 49 strikeouts. For this, the baseball writers who travel with the clubs voted him a landslide winner over Pittsburgh's Jerry Reuss.

After winning Cy Young Awards in 1969 and 1973, Seaver faltered to an 11-11 record last season. This year he is 11-4 and his 1.83 ERA tops the NL.

"Probably the main thing was that my pelvic structure gave me a lot of problems last year," said Seaver.

some extent" that his fast ball had lost some zing. "It's still my main pitch though," he added. "It makes all my other pitches work."

"I'm getting the other pitches over consistently, too, which I wasn't always when I was younger."

No-Hitter Recorded

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Fast ball specialist Dyan Frazier of Houston hurled a no-hitter as the Salinas Packers beat the San Jose Bees 3-0 in the first game of a California League baseball doubleheader Friday night.

The 22-year-old lefthander, who faced only 25 batters, struck out two and scattered five walks over the seven-inning game, shortened from the regular nine because of the doubleheader.

Frazier, now 5-6, relied heavily on his fast ball to tame the Bees, but went to a quick curve in the later innings.

The no-hitter was in doubt momentarily in the sixth inning when San Jose's Glenn Tufts fled deep to centerfield, where Carl Person made an over-the-shoulder catch on the warning track.

Homer Nips Astros, 5-4

ATLANTA (AP) — It was a sweet game between two underdogs — too bad somebody had to lose.

"The way these two clubs played tonight, you wouldn't know they were fifth and sixth place teams, would you?" asked Houston Manager Preston Gomez after the Atlanta Braves edged the Astros 5-4 Friday night.

"That play Office made was absolutely the best one I've ever seen in baseball," he said of a spectacular catch by the Braves' Rowland Office in the second inning.

Office dashed to right center field in pursuit of a line drive by Wilbur Howard, falling and sliding as he caught the ball at full gallop. When he came to a halt, he was holding the ball high for all to see.

The Braves won on an eighth inning home run by Ralph Garr, his fourth of the season.

LAKE SPENCE Channel Cat Coming Back

Channel catfish, long a staple at Lake E.V. Spence, were coming back as a leader last week. So were black bass, but striped bass catches still were included.

Here were some of the reports: Y.J.'s Marina — Ralph Wood and Linda Harris, 22 channel cat to 5 lb; Bill and Lois Schwager, Odessa, 12 channel cat to 4 lb, 10 crappie to 1 lb, and four black bass to 2 1/4 lb; Tim Schwager, Odessa, 2 1/2-lb black bass; Red Ray, Robert Lee, 14-lb striped bass; Mr. and Mrs. John W. Smith, Andrews, five channel cat to 8 lb, 20 oz.

Dink's Bait — Tracy and Ray Harris, Odessa, 90 channel cat to 5 lb in four days of fishing; Bill Ellis, Kermit, two striped bass to 6 1/2 lb; Harvey Lauderdale, Midland, 5 lb striped bass. Wildcat Fish A Rama —

El Paso Toppled

Shreveport and San Antonio played a Texas League game Friday night that finished as if it were the Captains who are in last place by 20 games in the West Division instead of the Brewers.

Shreveport had a 3-2 lead going into the ninth inning but the West pacemakers couldn't hold it as Manny Lantigua singled in the tying run for San Antonio with two away. Then in the 10th, Bill Hiss of San Antonio singled and Captain leftfielder Bill Page allowed the ball to get by him for his team's fifth error of the game.

Hiss went to second on the miscue and then scored the run that gave the Brewers a 4-3 victory as Tony Manning singled.

In other TL games, Midland topped El Paso 5-3, Jackson whipped Lafayette 6-2 and Arkansas and Alexandria split a doubleheader, with Arkansas winning the first game 5-1 and losing the second 4-1.

Cesar Cedeno Is Sideline

ATLANTA (AP) — Houston outfielder Cesar Cedeno, who left the Astros game with the Atlanta Braves due to an injury Friday night, will probably be sidelined for a couple of days, a team spokesman said.

TEXAS LEAGUE Dade Sets Sights On Triple Crown

The Double A Texas League turned the corner into the second half of the 1975 season with El Paso continuing to show the way in batting.

Paul Dade of El Paso has serious designs on the triple crown dealing with leading average, homers and RBIs. As of now, he leads in two of the three, a .339 batting average and 54 RBIs.

Dade lags by two in the home run department, trailing Lafayette's Jack Clark, who has swung away for 15. Dade has a glossy slugging percentage of .678. The stolen base race is a tight one with Bill Flores of El Paso having hitved 32 bags, while Shreveport's Jim Sexton trails Flores by two.

El Paso's John Verhoeven is the leading pitcher with an earned run average of 1.75. Bernie Beckman of Midland, before his departure to Wichita compiled the most wins, nine.

WARNING LABELS URGED

Drugs For Diabetics Risky, Insists FDA

WASHINGTON (AP) — Drugs used by 1.5 million diabetics to reduce the sugar level of their blood would bear label notes warning that the tablets could increase the risk of death by heart disease, under a proposal by the Food and Drug Administration.

The proposal, to be published Monday in the Federal Register, involves a class of drugs called oral hypoglycemics, whose generic names include tolbutamide and phenformin.

The drugs are marketed under eight brand names, among them Upjohn's Orinase and Tolinase, Pfizer's Diabinese, Geigy's DBI and Lilly's Dymelor, an FDA spokesman said Friday.

He said that besides carrying a warning about increased heart disease risk, the proposed labeling also would state that:

—Patients should be made aware of the risk and participate in any decision to use such drugs.

—The drugs should be used only by persons whose blood-sugar levels cannot be controlled by diet and who are unable to use the anti-diabetic drug insulin.

—Physicians are not certain the drugs help prevent the long-term complications of diabetes.

A medical authority in Atlanta cautioned, however, that patients should not stop taking the drugs just because of the proposal.

"Any bad effects of these drugs are long-term problems, not short-term problems," said Dr. Roy Wiggins of the Center for Metabolic Studies. "If a patient stops his regimen of oral tablets, he may well get into the problems of uncontrolled diabetes, and this can be immediately endangering to life."

The FDA spokesman said a public hearing on the proposal would be held here Aug. 20 and public comment would be accepted until Sept. 5, after which the FDA will decide whether to make the labeling mandatory.

The FDA proposed such cautionary labels once before, in 1970, spurred by a study by university researchers that showed diabetics treated with oral hypoglycemics had twice the risk of cardiovascular disease as those treated with diet or insulin programs.

But, the FDA spokesman recalled, "A very reputable group of physicians disagreed and criticized the study..."

A group of physicians obtained a U.S. District Court injunction against the labeling in November 1973, but the U.S. Court of Appeals vacated that order the following July.

Bells Ringing Cash Registers

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Bicentennial bells are booming and cash registers ringing at the I.T. Verdin Co., one of the nation's few bellmakers.

"Everybody wants to get their bells in shape for the bicentennial, or else they want to buy a bell," said Jim Verdin, company vice president and grandson of the man who put the belling out of business when he invented an automatic belling in the 1920s.

"In fact we've got more business than we can handle."

Verdin got into the bicentennial boom naturally enough when he proposed to cast a Liberty Bell twice the size of the original for use on the Freedom Train.

Now, the 144-year-old company is offering everyone the chance to own an exact copy of the famous bell, scaled down to three-eighths size, for $2,450.

Verdin said his company can also furnish a full-size Liberty Bell.

That would be just in time to ring in America's tricentennial.

For the economy-minded bell lover, Verdin has recorded in the tranquil air of a country farm a series of bell concerts on tape cartridges. A buyer who wants church music without the bells can get the cartridge system for between $1,500 and $2,000.

The bell business beyond the bicentennial is uncertain. Verdin, pointing to his firm's diversity, said the business should continue to thrive. But, he says that until now the demand for bells has not been great, and that the ones they have sold need to be refurbished only every 100 years.

That would be just in time to ring in America's tricentennial.

Verdin said his company can also furnish a full-size Liberty Bell.

He said the bell business died in the 1920s when people stopped wanting to hear bells to remind them to come to church.

"We were hanging on for awhile," Verdin said. "What saved us was our diversity because we made both clocks and bells. Now we're swamped."

The company currently is working on 50 projects including a 37-bell carillon for DePauw University in Greencastle, Ind., and a 52-bell carillon for Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah.

The bells are cast in Verdin's Petit & Frislen Foundry in Aarle Rixle, Holland, and brought to America by boat.

If the $100,000 price tag on a large carillon scares you, Verdin has a number of less expensive options, starting with the average church bell price at about $8,000.

Firemen Pelted

AURORA, Mo. (AP) — Volunteer firemen were pelted with bottles, rocks and fireworks when they answered two alarms in this southwest Missouri town late Friday night and early Saturday.

Two firemen were treated at Aurora Community Hospital and sent home.

A grassed pole was used for one of the events of a Fourth of July bicentennial celebration at the American Legion Home Friday, and at 11:54 p.m. the fire department got an alarm that it was on fire.

When firemen arrived, Chief John Mills reported, they were bombarded with bottle rockets, fireworks bombs, beer bottles and rocks.

Fireman Gregg Mercer was hit in the eye by a bottle rocket. One of Bob Byrom's hands was cut by a beer bottle. Firemen withdrew and took the two injured men to the hospital.

At 1:24 a.m., an alarm was received from a bowling alley next door to the American Legion Home in the west part of Aurora just off U.S. 60's business route.

There was no fire at the bowling alley, but firemen again were pelted with fireworks, bottles and rocks.

Chief Mills described those involved as young people and said they dispersed when Aurora policemen and officers from the Lawrence County sheriff's office arrived.

No one was arrested.

Charges Against Comedian Axed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charges of protesting without a permit were dropped Saturday against comedian and activist Dick Gregory.

Gregory had been arrested Friday in front of the White House where U.S. Park Police said he carried a sign protesting what he described as Central Intelligence Agency involvement in domestic assassinations.

The charges were dismissed in District of Columbia Superior Court on the motion of the prosecution.

Gregory had carried a sign saying "CIA — Protesting Conspiracy Inside America." He had spoken earlier at the convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Anti-Kidnaper Course Taught

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (AP) — Millionaires who fear abduction might want their chauffeurs to be escape artists.

That's what Bob Bondurant thinks and that's why he's charging $412.50 for a "corporate driving course" to teach chauffeurs how to outrun potential kidnapers.

"Guys And Dolls" Are Havana-Bound!

Nathan Detroit (Capt. Dick Risk) and Miss Adelaide (Laurie Choate) have carried on a marathon engagement for 14 years, and only by a series of great crises such as a hot dice game, pressing business at the racetrack, etc., has Nathan managed to escape the knot.

When his friend, Sky Masterson (he always bets more than anyone on anything), brags that he can take any girl to Havana, Nathan sees a bird's nest on the ground. So he lays a heavy wager with Sky (David Wright) that he can't take Miss Sara (Kay Barnett). The problem is that Miss Sara is Sgt. Sara Brown of the Salvation Army.

So here is the framework for a delightfully zany musical, "Guys and Dolls," which enjoyed a long Broadway run.

It opens Thursday 8 p.m. (with shows also Friday and Saturday at the same time) in the Howard College auditorium. Tickets already are moving at the college, where reservations may be made this week, or they will be available at the door. This is a community theatre effort led by John Gordon, drama director, and Ken Sprinkle, choral music director, at the college, in charge of the production.

(Oh, yes, the cast still needs suits and dresses — and particularly men's hats from the 1930s. If you can help out, please call John Gordon, 263-2288.)

of the Great Southwest in Odessa with "Much Ado About Nothing" set for showing July 11, 19, 25, also Aug. 2, 8, 17 and 22. "Troilus and Cressida," which opened Saturday, will be shown also July 10, 12, 17, 18, 24, 26, 27, Aug. 1, 7, 9, 14, 16, 21 and 23. For variety Sundays, starting July 13, will see presentation of Regina Walker McCalley's "Life of Christ." Another alternate is "Dames at Sea," opening Sunday, also July 8, 9, 15, 16, 22, 23, 29, 30, Aug. 5, 6, 12, 13, 19, 20. Day shows are 8 p.m.; Saturday matinees 2:30 p.m.

Museum of the Southwest at Midland has slated a showing of Indian jewelry 2 p.m., July 13 by Mr. and Mrs. Larry Wooten of Gallup, N.M. The display will include, in addition to the ancient and traditional styles of Navajo, Zuni, and Hopi works, contemporary and exciting new designs. The museum's planetarium schedule includes showings Wednesdays 8 p.m. (free) and Friday's (What's Your Sagittarius?) at $1 and 50 cents.

Coming up July 17th at the Ector County Coliseum in Odessa is the Bob Hope Show. Information may be had from Box 4124, Odessa, 79760.

Down this way we have such nutty things as horned toad and terrapin races, but Crisfield, Md., has its specialty, the national Hard Crab Derby Day and the Skipjack races Aug. 29-Sept. 1. You can get the details, plus oodles of other celebrations by writing Consumer Information, Dept. 33, Pueblo, Colo., 81009 — part of the Department of Commerce service.

The historic "Old Ben Milam" hotel has been saved down in Houston by David M. Smith, who not only restored it, but has set up a mini-museum. It will observe its 50th anniversary during the Bicentennial year. Brochures can be had from the hotel at 1521 Texas Ave., Houston, Tx. 77002.

Termed by a number of leading critics as "one of the greatest living pianists," Gary Graffman will be presented in concert Monday 9 p.m., in the University Ballroom, Texas Tech, as part of the University Artist series, which also are open to the public. Graffman began playing the piano at age three, and at age four was accepted at Philadelphia Conservatory.

The Southwest Writers Conference has been scheduled for July 18-20 on the central campus of the University of Houston. There are sections for everything from novel to poetry, short story, column writing, children's literature, television and film writing, marketing and specialty writing, etc. Some of the top writers of the country are on the faculty. Information may be had from UH Continuing Education, 4800 Calhoun, Houston 77004, or 713-749-1234.

The Texas Arts & Crafts Fair at Kerrville continues through Sunday. Big Spring has three of its artisans showing, and the range, including foods with numerous national flavors, is terrific at "Pioneer Village." There's a big country western and banjo picking contest going on with Little Jimmy Henley of Hobbs, N.M., defending his title.

The second week of Alley Theatre's summer film festival in Houston features the 1970 Rolling Stones documentary, "Gimme Shelter." Jean Harlow in "Blonde Bombshell" and Bette Davis in "Jezebel," which won her second Oscar.

Next meeting of the Midland Camera Club will be Monday 7:30 p.m. in the Midland Nature Planetarium in Haley Park, featuring black and white and color print competition. Anyone is welcome.

Opening Tuesday, July 15, in the Upper Brown Gallery of the Museum of Fine Arts in Houston will be a selection of 20th century paintings from Europe and America, billed as "Modern Painting: 1900 to the Present." Many of the masters are represented.

Dallas Museum of Fine Arts is continuing its exhibition on "Primitive Art Masterworks." Included are masks, head pieces, vessels, blankets, stone urns, gold, fabric and ivory works.

SUZETTE YOUNG

Local Scout Chosen For Wyoming 'Dig

"A past culture, a vanished people, a way of life that existed eons ago at Center West — that's the focus of Dig Mankind! You will actually help to conduct the Dig. You'll learn how to catalog artifacts, prepare maps and field trail legends, and become familiar with museum practices."

That's the way the opportunity was announced in the Girl Scout magazine, "Runways," and it appeared immediately to Suzette Young, 14, a member of Cadette Troup 43 and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buck Drake, 4212 Muir.

Suzette applied for the Dig, was accepted, and will be one of only four Scouts from Texas to take part in the activity in Wyoming. She will board a plane at Terminal Tuesday to travel to the base camp at Tensleep, Wyo. The Dig session will begin Wednesday and end July 22.

To qualify for the Dig, Suzette was required to have participated previously in two primitive camping trips of at least two nights' duration, and a summary of her camping experience was reviewed by Scout officials. Last year, she participated in a week's canoe trip on the Brazos River with other Girl Scouts from this area.

Suzette, who will be a ninth-grader at Big Spring High School, is a member of the Cadette Planning Bord for West Texas Girl Scout Council and is a member of St. Mary's Episcopal Church. During her seven years of Scouting, she has held various posts in her troops and hopes to make the rank of First Class Scout by fall.

The fee for Suzette's Scout opportunity is $200 plus the cost of round-trip transportation to Worland, Wyo. This is being paid by the West Texas Girl Scout Council.

Women's Conference Pleads For Reform

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The first International Women's Conference has ended after urging a thorough reform of society's customs, laws and attitudes to enable women to be equal partners with men in charting the future of the world.

The conference recommended that the United Nations hold another such meeting in 1980 to assess progress.

In a declaration of principle adopted shortly before the two-week conference ended late Wednesday, the delegates also said a redistribution of economic power from rich to poor nations is necessary to improve the status of women.

Inequality of women and men is closely linked to the poverty which imprisons most nations because of the "profoundly unjust world economic system," the declaration stated.

It was approved by a vote of 89-2 with 18 abstentions. The United States and Israel voted against the declaration, which contained a condemnation of Zionism along with imperialism and colonialism.

The main achievement of the conference was the 10-year blueprint for action to bring about women's equality with men at all levels of society. It called for all governments to guarantee women, as basic rights, equal access with men to education and job skill training, adequate health care, an end to being bartered as child brides and diets equivalent to those of male family members.

The plan also called for men to do more in the raising of children and household chores to free women for outside jobs and other activities. It said wife and husband should have the right to decide whether or when to have children and should have family planning facilities to help them carry out their wishes.

Without this fundamental freedom, the action plan said, millions of women will remain victims of 20-year spans of constant child-bearing which ruin their health, weaken their children's lives and preclude them from making other potential contributions to society.

How much of the plan is realized will depend on the various governments and even more on the lobbying done by the 1,300 official conference delegates from 133 nations and 7,000 others who came from 52 countries to attend the parallel informal conference, the Tribune.

The Tribune drew representatives of hundreds of grass-roots organizations, including those of disabled black and Spanish-speaking minorities. There was considerable frustration, both because of initial inability to be heard at the official conference and because of tight scheduling in the Tribune which left no room for talk as individuals about women's issues, without the usual rich nation, poor nation confrontation rhetoric.

Eventually, the Tribune feminists arranged their own caucus. After a rocky, fractious beginning, they produced a cohesive plan of action which they presented to the U.N. conference. They also developed considerable cohesion on feminist issues which may enable them to lobby more effectively back home.

Hollywood "Pays The Piper"

By MARJ CARPENTER Because of a hobby of playing the bagpipes, Wayne Kerner of Long Beach, Calif., ended up as an MGM set painter in Hollywood.

Kerner was here in Big Spring this week visiting his friends, the Fred Tylers, who were raised with him in Long Beach. While visiting other friends on the southwestern edge of Big Spring, he got out the bagpipes. It was a beautiful evening, and Kerner marched out of the house playing the pipes.

Just like the Pied Piper, he soon had a following of neighborhood children as they marched down the street to the "O-Ree O-Ray" of the pipes.

Laughing about it later, Kerner said, "There's something about bagpipes. I'm from a German family but I always wanted to play bagpipes so I finally got some and took lessons. Then for a favorite past time, I played in a bagpipe band."

THIRD GENERATION Kerner was a third generation sign painter from a family that treated sign painting like an art. One night when he was playing in the band, one of his buddies told him, "They're needing painters at MGM."

The painter has now ended up as a supervisor in the sign department at MGM with a very interesting life.

Kerner has painted sets for the Mary Tyler Moore TV show, Kirk Douglas' "Posse" movie, which is just out; Jimmy Stewart's "Hawks," "Hello Dolly" and many others.

His boss, Robbie Robinson, won an Oscar for special effects and the four men on the crew received "Oscar mugs" which are on display at the studio.

REPAINT TRAIN

In the recent "Posse" movie, a train in the show is burned and wrecked several times. "We just kept painting that train over and over," Kerner laughingly recalls. "We got kind of tired of that train. We even repainted the box cars."

He painted the van for the Partridge family in their television series. While here in Big Spring, he painted a special sign on the Tyler's van for their daughter, Ronna, who competes in motorcycle events. Kerner and Tyler used to ride motorcycles together. Tyler works for Berkley Homes here.

Back in 1966, Kerner painted sets for "Hello Dolly" and also played the pipes in the parade scene. "That was lots of fun," he recalls.

He claimed that Mary Tyler Moore was one of his favorite stars. "She'd make tea or coffee and serve it to the members of the MTM (Mary Tyler Moore) Company set. We all liked her," he related. He also liked David Jansen, Jimmy Stewart, Tim Conway and Kirk Douglas. He classified Douglas as a nice guy and Conway as a cutup.

STEWART WANDERED

He recalled that Hawkins was a good TV show with top ratings, but folded because of misunderstandings between Stewart and the producer. Kerner laughed, "Stewart was always late. He has an old plane and he'd get to flying around up there and forget to land. His wife drove the car to the studio one time and beat him there. He was flying around looking everything over."

Kerner also has done some paintings. At one time he attended the Los Angeles Art Center. "I don't really paint paintings that well," he claimed. But the Tylers have one in their living room that makes a liar out of him.

The Kerners have two children, a daughter, Stacey, 10; and a son, Jack 8. When asked if Jack was going to be a fourth generation sign painter, Kerner said, "I hadn't thought about that yet."

PAINTED HEADS

Kerner worked recently on the multi-million dollar science fiction film, "Logan's Run" in Dallas. "That's really different. We fixed mirrored tunnels and even did a little head making for that production," he laughed.

He pointed out that many of the dramatic television productions are filmed in Hollywood along with the movies. "There's always plenty of things to paint," he laughed.

"There's always been three things I enjoyed," Kerner recalled, "I like motorcycle riding, playing bagpipes and painting. I'm doing two of them. Couldn't ask for anything more. I'm a happy man."

Wedding Ceremony Performed In Church

The First Assembly of God was the setting for the Friday evening wedding of Miss Theresa Mitchell to Dale Froman with the Rev. W. A. Roberson of Midland, grandfather of the bride, officiating.

Guardians of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pruitt of Rt. 2, Box 113A, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Froman, Rt. 1, Ackerly.

The wedding party stood before an arch topped with doves and entwined with greenery and yellow and white carnations. Basket arrangements of gladioli and carnations flanked the arch. Nuptial selections were by Miss Merlee Dennis, pianist, and Mrs. Marilyn Boyington, vocalist.

The bride was attired in a princess style gown of white polyester knit; the bodice designed with square neckline and elbow-length sleeves. White lace accented with yellow rose buds trimmed the cuff of the sleeves and extended the length of the dress. She carried a colonial bouquet of white gladioli, lily of the valley and pearls centered with yellow and green camellias tied with satin streamers.

The maid of honor was Miss Gaylene Bruton who wore a long dress of mint green dotted Swiss in princess style. The bodice featured a square neckline and short flared sleeves with matching trim on the bodice and extending the length of the dress. She wore a matching garden hat and carried a nosegay of yellow camellias and greenery tied with streamers.

MRS. DALE FROMAN

Dalton Froman of Ackerly served as his brother's best man, and ushers were Mark Young and Dwayne Phillips the latter of Wilton, Calif.

The bride attends Big Spring High School, and the bridegroom is a graduate of Sands High School and attended Howard College.

Lunch Treat

English muffins, hamburger buns or onion rolls are marvelous for this kiddie luncheon treat. Split muffins, buns or rolls in half and lay cut side up in a baking pan; spread with butter and top with your favorite pasteurized process cheese spread or slices. Broil just until cheese is melted; remove from oven and top with your favorite lunch meat.

Hominy Hint

Bacon bits make a great addition to a can of hominy. Drain one 15 oz. can of white or golden hominy; place in a saucepan. Add one tablespoon butter and one tablespoon bacon bits; heat over medium heat until the serving temperature is reached.

Miss Texas Pageant Set July 12

For the 14th consecutive year Fort Worth is the home of the Miss Texas Pageant, where this year 59 women from throughout the state will be competing for the Miss Texas title and its attendant rewards.

Final competition begins at 8:30 p.m., July 12, in the Tarrant County Convention Center Theatre, following three nights of preliminary competition. Preliminaries are scheduled for July 9-11, beginning each night 8 p.m.

Scholarships and prizes totalling $12,750 will be awarded to the new Miss Texas, the four runner-ups, five semi-finalists and two non-finalist talent winners. The new Miss Texas will receive a full one-year scholarship to a Dallas-Fort Worth metropolitan area college or university, to be determined by the Miss Texas Scholarship Pageant officials.

A $500 Toni-Kellogg-Campbell fashion award, and official crown and trophy. In addition, she will also go on to participate in the Miss America Pageant, held annually in Atlantic City, N.J.

Tickets for all four nights of competition are available at the Amusement Ticket Service, in the lobby of Rodeway Inn, Fort Worth. Tickets are $3.50 for the Wednesday and Thursday night preliminaries, July 9-10, $4.50 and $4 for Friday, July 11, and $6.50 and $5.50 for the coronation night.

Radio station KTVT will broadcast the finals beginning at 10:30 p.m., July 12, with Miss America 1973, Terry Meeuwesen, as mistress of ceremonies.

Hot Water Is Energy Drain

Smith, Midland. White and green candelabra centered the table which was covered with a white satin cloth accented with yellow and green bows.

Out-of-town relatives attending included Mrs. W. A. Roberson of Midland, grandmother of the bride; Mrs. Roberta Phillips, Wilton, Calif.; Richard Leake and Mrs. Frances McFarland, both of San Angelo; and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Roberson, Lubbock.

Thursday evening, the bridegroom's parents hosted a dinner for members of the wedding party and out-of-town guests.

COLLEGE STATION Hot water is a major energy user in any family's daily activities.

But consumers can learn ways to cut down this energy drain, according to Lynn Bourland, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"A simple way to save three-six gallons of water-heating oil a year is for men to put the stopper in the washbasin instead of letting the hot water run while shaving with lather and blades.

NUPTIALS — Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Grant, 1803 Morrison, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Peggy Sue, to Bill Brian Billingsley of Pittsfield, Mass., son of Mrs. Bill Billingsley of Houston and the late Mr. Billingsley. The wedding ceremony is scheduled Aug. 23 in the First United Methodist Church.

Credit Club Hears Talk

Big Spring Credit Women met recently for a luncheon at the Settles Hotel with Rick Hamby, local attorney, as guest speaker.

Hamby's topic was family financial planning and the "complex" men have on receiving advice about money. He recommended the Howard County Family Counseling Service at the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center. Hamby continued by saying that most divorce cases stem from money problems and can be avoided with wise counseling.

Market Basket May Hold Some Bargains

COLLEGE STATION — Beef prices will fluctuate during the next two weeks, and specials will be scattered, one observer predicts.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, advised consumers to shop carefully.

"Careful price comparisons between markets will show some good values on chuck roasts and steaks, sirloin, round steaks and beef liver," she noted.

Pork prices have risen again, she added. "However, semi-boneless hams, liver and frankfurters are the key buys—and some markets are featuring Boston butt and quarter loins cut into chops.

"Poultry prices are higher due to a greater demand during 'barbecue season,' but there are a few specials."

Egg prices are low with best values on large and medium sizes.

At dairy counters, cheese slices are a leading feature, although there are a number of values in milk, cream cheese and cheddar cheese, Mrs. Clyatt said.

Watermelons and corn highlight produce counters with plentiful supplies, good quality and low prices, the specialist noted.

Moderately priced items include carrots, cabbage, okra, soft-shell squash, purplehull and black eye peas.

Also, cucumbers, radishes and green onions. Fruit buys at varying prices are cantaloupe, honeydews, pineapple, peaches, plums and grapes.

Also, Bing cherries, bananas and nectarines.

CONSUMER WATCHWORDS: Watermelon at peak quality will have a dull, hollow sound when gently tapped. The side that has lain on ground will be yellowish white.

HIGHLAND CENTER

AUGUST WEDDING — Mr. and Mrs. Morris Crittenden, Garden City route, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Lana, to Ricky Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Smith, 1605 Lancaster on August 21. The 7:30 p.m. wedding will be held in the bride's home.

Miss Howard Weds David Michael Haynie

Miss Doris Ruth Howard of Stanton became the bride of David Michael Haynie of Brownwood in a 5 p.m. ceremony held Saturday in the First Baptist Church, Brownwood.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Burnell Howard of Stanton and the Rev. and Mrs. Walter B. Haynie of Highlands. Rev. Haynie performed the nuptial rites in a candlelight setting with background music by Jimmy Benton, organist.

The bride carried a cascade of white daisies as she entered the sanctuary. Her gown of Crystaline and Chantilly lace was fashioned with round yoke and stand-up collar of Chantilly lace. The fitted bodice was overlaid with lace, and the long, lace sleeves formed petal points over the hands. The bouffant skirt featured an inset of tiered lace in front, and her mantilla veil of Chantilly lace extended into a chapel-length train. Miss Lois Howard of Stanton attended her sister as maid of honor, and bridesmaids were the bridegroom's sister, Miss Deborah Haynie, Houston; and Miss Chris Shults, Colorado Springs, Colo.

The attendants were attired in two-piece dresses of yellow bridal satin; the A-line skirt being floor-length and the camisole top accented with white lace at the neckline and on the straps. They wore daisies in their hair and carried nosegays of yellow daisies tied with satin streamers.

Bob Mundlin, Dallas, served as best man. The groomsmen were Cliff Whiele, Highlands; and Frank Rankin, Austin. Mike Watson and Chester Rummel were the ushers, and altar tapers were lighted by Gordon Howard, brother of the bride, and Leo West.

RECEPTION

Prior to leaving on a wedding trip to Austin, the couple was honored at a reception in the fellowship hall of the church where refreshments were served by Miss Nancy Stevens, Miss Susan Miller, Miss Melissa Webb, Miss Diane Swindler and Miss Mary Burke.

The table, accented with a flowing fountain, was covered with white lace over yellow linen. Appointments were of crystal and silver.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Notgrass, Midland; the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Lillie Mae Dolby, Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Burl Notgrass and Mrs. Lynn Ramsey, all of Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. Troy Notgrass, Austin; Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Smith, Wingate; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Howard, Lubbock; and Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Notgrass, Midkiff.

IN BROWNWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. Haynie will reside at 602 Poindexter, Brownwood, where he is employed by J. C. Penny Company. A graduate of Howard Payne University, he was a member of Rejex, the Ministerial Alliance and the Youth-Led Revival Team. Mrs. Haynie is attending HPU where she is Alpha Phi Omega Sweetheart and a member of Sigma Alpha Sigma.

The parents of the bridegroom hosted a rehearsal dinner for the wedding party and out-of-town guests.

AAUW Board Plans Programs For Year

The board members of AAUW (American Association of University Women) met recently in the home of the chapter president, Ms. Sue Somonic, 13-A Albrook, to plan and organize the upcoming year's meetings.

In place of the traditional annual fall style show and membership coffee, a series of small coffees will be held in various members' homes, starting in August.

The AAUW members were urged to contact prospective members, and any local college graduate who is interested in AAUW is invited to contact the membership chairman, Ms. Sue Smythe, 263-2374, or Mrs. Somonic, 263-8878.

Chapter meetings are held the third Monday evening of each month, and the Day Study Group meets monthly, on the first Monday morning, in various homes. Cochairmen for the Day Study Group will be Ms.

Carla Warrington and Ms. Riette Kionka. Yearly dues are $15. Board members participating in the planning session, other than those mentioned, were Ms. Rhonda Rothell, Ms. Megan Legas, Ms. Cynthia Hanselman and Ms. Lavelle Hill.

Vacation Can Be Pleasant For Children

COLLEGE STATION — Parents can help make vacation travel with young children a pleasure rather than a hassle, Mrs. Ilene Miller, family life education specialist, said this week.

"Whether the vacation involves a trip to the lake, Gulf coast, or a visit with relatives, chances are part of the traveling will be by automobile," the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, noted.

She suggested some ways for making travel with young children more enjoyable for everyone. "Tell the children in advance about trip plans. Let them know where they will be going and what the family will be doing. If possible, involve the children in planning some of the activities for the trip."

Plan with the children for travel time. Consider which of their favorite toys can be safely used in the car, what activities would they like to do.

"Young children will be excited about plans for a trip. They may also become upset sooner and tire more easily. A good travel schedule should include plenty of short rest stops so children will not become too restless.

"Plan to stop for meals as close to your family's regular mealtime schedule as possible. Stop early enough to get the children clean and relaxed before supper and then into bed at about their normal bedtime," the specialist advised.

A LOVELIER YOU Summer Fashions Can Go Anywhere

By MARY SUE MILLER
A summer suit will get you there and back wherever you're going. That goes for travel abroad and stateside by ship, train, plane and automobile. For the city dweller and commuter alike, few other items in a wardrobe fit into the city scene at any hour. Hurrah for summer suits!

New versions are made of the coolest fabrics with easy-wear and easy-care built in. Styling is varied to cater to figures and tastes. The look is soft and casual, never structured.

Skirts gain fullness as much as you wish, from gores, pleats, gathers and yokes. For comfort, slim skirts have a kick-pleat or side-slit. "Smock" is the name given to the loose, buttonless cardigan. Many jackets are patterned along shirt lines and belted; others wrap and tie with a narrow sash. Hip-bone length is their common denominator.

Fabrics that feel cool and act cool start with thin cotton and polyester jersey knits. Batik and Indian cotton are newsy. Already "in" are blends of seersucker, poplin, shantung.

Just to get you planning, here are a few summer suits and how they were shown in designer salons; white poplin shirt suit, black reptile belt and shoes, white parasol . . . black Indian cotton smock over full skirt, white blouse and white shorts . . . wrapped jacket, slim skirt, polyester knit in beige and white, worn with a white straw hat ringed in henna flowers.

Get going — in a summer suit.

MRS. CARL D. VAN VLEET

Baptist Church Site Of Nuptial Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Van Vleet are on a trip to Dallas following their wedding Friday morning in Berea Baptist Church with Dr. Lee Butler officiating.

The altar setting was enhanced with an archway of yellow carnations entwined with greenery and flanked by baskets of gladioli and mums. Mrs. Fern Cox, pianist, performed nuptial selections.

The bride is the former Pamela Janae Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hill, 3605 La Junta, and the bridegroom is the son of Claude Van Vleet, Big Spring, and Mrs. Bill Smalley, Houston.

Carrying a bouquet of daisies, yellow roses and stephanotis, the bride was attired in a formal gown of ecru organza over peau de soie. The bodice was designed with a square neckline trimmed with ecru lace, long puffed Juliette sleeves and an empire waistline. She wore a wide brimmed hat with a chiffon band trimmed in yellow daisies.

The bridal attendants were Miss Sharon Chrane, maid of honor, and Miss Kim Hill, sister of the bride, bridesmaid. They were attired in long dresses of lime green dotted Swiss fashioned with empire waistline and puffed sleeves. They carried long-stemmed yellow carnations.

The best man was Gage Mims, and serving as the groomsman was Phil Furquerson.

The bride, a graduate of Forsan High School, is employed by West Texas Roofing Co. Van Vleet is a graduate of Big Spring High School, attended Howard College and is employed by Smalley Construction Company of Houston where the couple will reside.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Folks . . . and little girl wearers:

If you will powder your body before putting on your girdle, it will slip and slide on and over, much easier.

Now here is the trick to it all which I learned from a bunch of nurses last year. Instead of power, you can use baking-soda. Yet you read correctly.

Lots of these nurses (and hairdressers who do our hair) dust baking soda under their arms with a powder puff after taking their bath or shower. Did you ever smell an underarm odor from either? Neither have I.

Then a year ago I met a physical education teacher. A man yet. He said that his gym smelled because of tennis shoes, etc. in the shower and dressing rooms.

I told him, "Buy a box of plain ol' baking soda and tell all your men to dust it on their sox and put some in their tennis and to rinse their sweaty T-shirts in it when they laundered 'em."

Here is the report:

Dear Heloise:

As a gym teacher for years, I cannot thank you enough for recommending plain soda for dusting my boys' shoes (especially the football and basketball players' shoes). I just dumped a teaspoon in each pair of tennis shoes each boy had and WOW! — even the gym doesn't smell like it used to.

Now here's one for you and also for other gym teachers who have the same problem sweetheart.

I bought 12 boxes and dumped them all in a small plastic wastebasket. I also bought a small feather duster and plumped the feather duster in the wastebasket of soda.

As each boy comes in after showering, I make them pick up this feather duster and "powder" his feet and under his arms.

It works! I also make them do this before they leave for the field.

So, the top of the morning to you, my dear friend, and may the Lord Bless Heloise for taking the odor out of gyms.

I have passed this along to 23 other gym teachers and all agree that I should write to you with our thanks.

Thanks for the stars, sir. And, most of all, thanks for testing it so completely. You are what we need. Bless you. And your friends. . . Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Many years ago you wrote that "dusted chair rungs" were the sign of a good housekeeper.

Then a few weeks ago you wrote that cleared-off drainboards are the sign of a good housekeeper.

All these years I've been dusting my rungs and feeling so smug, only to learn that people were probably secretly sneering at my cluttered drainboard.

What next, Heloise? Are there any other signs I should know about? Please print them soon.

Reader

Child Needs Good Clothes

DEAR HELOISE:

To utilize my limited kitchen drawer space to better advantage, when replacing freshly laundered dish towels and dish cloths, I fold them as usual into a flattened square shape.

Then I give them three turns into a rolled shape and place them into a drawer, from front to back to the drawer.

With this method, I can get more into the drawer and they look so much neater when the drawer is opened.

Mrs. R. B. K.

Dear Heloise:

With all the pill containers we get today, I found I can use them to put my jewelry in, such as chains, beads, earrings, etc. when we travel.

I find they don't get tangled and are always together so I can easily see them. As the lids fit tightly, the jewelry cannot fall out.

When I am home I keep them in a drawer, still using the bottles.

FOCUS ON FAMILY LIVING

Safe Food Must Be Planned; Don't Leave Life To Chance

Modest Wife Miffed At Husband's Taste

DEAR ABBY: I am a 23-year-old wife and mother of two. I am a good-looking girl with a nice figure. My problem is my husband. He wants me to wear sexy clothes to show off what I've got. He buys most of my clothes, which are all midriffs, tight, clingy sweaters, low-cut necks, very mini skirts and tight hip-huggers.

When I say I want to take something back because it is too revealing, he has a fit.

We had a big fight about his wanting me to go bra-less. I just don't like that look, but he says HE likes it and I should dress to please him.

I try to tell him that it gives other guys the impression that I am on the make, but he says if I set them straight, they will leave me alone.

I hate to displease him, but it's getting so we fight about this more and more.

Am I wrong? Or is he? And how do I handle it?

WANTS TO BE ME
DEAR WANTS: He's wrong. And you can handle it by telling him that you will dress to please him in the privacy of your home, but you absolutely refuse to show more in public than YOU consider good taste. And stick to your guns. He is wrong, wrong, wrong!

DEAR ABBY: I am dating a very nice widower. He's taken me to dinner and the movies, but none of my friends or family have met him.

There is going to be a big wedding in my family, and I want him to escort me. His wife died three years ago, and he hasn't dated much, so he is still wearing his wedding band. He is raising three teenagers, which is probably why he hasn't taken his wedding band off yet.

I'd like him to remove his wedding band when he escorts me, but I don't know how to approach him about it. I don't want my friends and family to think that I am dating a married man or that I am secretly married to him.

I considered buying him a large, inexpensive ring to hide the band for that night in case he can't get it off. Any suggestions?

PARENT WITHOUT PARTNER
DEAR PARENT: Don't ask him to remove his wedding band. And don't ask him to "hide" it. When conversing with family and friends, you can subtly let them know that he is a widower.

DEAR ABBY: To "USED IN CHICAGO" who objected being a "customer" for their friend's credit-card convenience: We also found that we were being used in the same way, but we found a solution.

One evening, we went out with this friend who always put everything on his company credit card. There was quite a tab. Cocktails, dinner, after-dinner drinks and entertainment. When the waitress presented the check, "George" (not his real name) pulled out his credit card as usual, intending to charge it all to his company and collect the cash from the others.

My husband insisted that we ALL pay cash, and no way would he let his share be part of George's company credit-card charge.

George became angry, but he had to back down because all the men in the party sided with my husband. Believe it or not, that was several years ago, and not one attending that party has ever been asked to go out with George again.

POMPANO BEACH, FLA.
DEAR POMP: I believe it.

FUTURE BRIDE—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Tucker, Rt. 1, announce the engagement of their daughter, Connie Teresa, to Roy Lee Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Carter, Cross Plains. The couple will be married Aug. 9 in the First Baptist Church, Sand Springs.

By SHERRY MULLIN (County MD Agent)

Safe food must be planned and not left to chance. For the consumer, food safety begins in the marketplace. All cooperative efforts made by the U.S. and State Departments of Agriculture to make available a clean, safe, wholesome food supply will be in vain unless the consumer takes certain precautions to keep it that way. These precautions include care in buying, storing, handling and cooking food.

Shop for groceries last after all other errands have been run. Take foods home immediately and don't leave them unattended for a long period of time. Purchase foods from stores that meet strict requirements for cleanliness. Sufficient light in grocery stores is necessary to enable you to adequately view foods for proper selection. Store personnel should make sure that foods are replaced frequently in order to keep them as fresh as possible.

Make sure the foods you pick are in good condition. If the store is running a special on certain foods, be sure those bargain foods are in no way less safe.

Under no circumstances buy swollen or leaking cans. Call them to the attention of the store manager and suggest he remove them from the shelf. The food in a swollen or leaking can may be dangerous to eat, or even to taste.

FROZEN FOODS
Select refrigerated and frozen foods last before going to the checkout counter so they'll have less time to warm up. Make sure frozen foods are hard frozen and are kept below the frostline in the freezer. The temperature of the freezer should be 0 degrees or below.

If food has softened, chances are it has already lost quality. An ice coating on the outside of packages is an indication of some previous thawing.

Make sure refrigerated foods are cold and came from the refrigerated case. The temperature of the refrigerated case should be 40 degrees or below.

Ask the checkout clerk to bag cold foods together so that they keep cold longer; interspersed with room temperature foods they may warm up quickly. Ice cream and frozen juices will keep better on the way home if placed in insulated bags at the check-out counter. Take perishable items home and refrigerate or freeze them immediately.

Chances of maintaining good quality in foods during storage are increased if the initial food quality is high.

Keep hot foods hot (above 140 degrees) and cold foods cold (below 40 degrees). Food may not be safe to eat if held more than two hours at temperatures between 40 and 140 degrees. Remember that this includes all the time of preparation, storage and serving.

Because cooking temperatures are especially important for meats, a meat thermometer should be used. Although beef may be eaten rare, 140 degrees, always cook pork and poultry thoroughly. The meat thermometer should indicate 170 degrees for pork and 180-190 degrees for poultry.

CLEAN HANDS
Your hands or any equipment or utensils used in preparing or handling raw foods such as meat, poultry or eggs, should be thoroughly cleaned before handling other foods. Hot sudsy water followed by a rinse, then a chlorine solution is good for thorough cleaning of utensils and work surfaces. Prepare the chlorine solution from sodium hypochlorite bleach, as directed on the label.

Poor food-handling practices in the home often cause illness in the family, even though the foods were safe to eat when purchased or first prepared. Lack of sanitation, insufficient cooking and improper storage can allow bacteria in food to increase to dangerous levels.

You can help protect your family from foodborne illness by: stressing personal hygiene for all members of your household; making sure all dishes, utensils, kitchen equipment and work surfaces are clean; and taking simple precautions in buying, storing, preparing and cooking all foods.

Super Omelet

Omelets on the menu for brunch? Vary the filling! Try asparagus (fresh, frozen, or canned) with paper-thin slices of Swiss cheese; or chicken livers with mushrooms and onion; or Oriental vegetables with shrimp.

MR. AND MRS. W. L. BURNS

Reception Will Mark Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Burns of Carlsbad, Texas, formerly of Big Spring, will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary July 12 at their home.

They were married July 12, 1925 at Robert Lee and resided in Big Spring 30 years. Burns was employed with the highway department in Big Spring. Mrs. Burns was employed with Piggly Wiggly and was affiliated with Trinity Baptist Church.

Mrs. Burns, the former Pauline Jordan, was born in Meridian and reared in Bosque County. Burns was born at Bronte in Coke County.

The Burnses have 12 children, 35 grandchildren and 3 great-grandchildren. Their children are Richard Burns, Washington state; Waymon Burns and Mrs. Jean Tanner, both of Oklahoma City, Okla.; Mrs. Marjorie Kooztz, Spring Town; Mrs. Nell Migurs, Arlington; Mrs. Louise Harria, Canada; Mrs. Nancy Page, Robert Lee; Lewis Burns, Brownwood; John Burns and Mrs. Fannie Price, both of Big Spring; Mrs. Jo Ann Gould, Wichita Falls; and Robert Burns, Tyler.

John Jordan of San Angelo, father of Mrs. Burns, will attend, as will 11 of their children.

All friends and relatives are invited to attend the Pantry Pickups

A money saving idea! Make toast strips to substitute for more expensive rolls or French bread. Just butter slices of white bread and sprinkle with garlic or onion salt or other seasoning. Cut each slice into thirds, and stick under the broiler a few minutes.

For best results, yeast doughs should be frozen no longer than two weeks.

Baked yeast breads, coffee cakes, rolls, etc., can be frozen as long as a year... if well packaged.

For a thrifty meatless main dish for supper top a cooked vegetable casserole with corn muffin batter — homemade or from a mix. Or serve poached eggs on buttered toasted English muffins and top with a cheese sauce.

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shaw, Box 37, Knott, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Cynthia, to T. Paul Hopper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hopper, Rt. 1, Knott. The wedding will be performed Aug. 21 in the First Baptist Church, Ackerly.

This Is Ham

Ham is the meat from a hog's hind leg. If a ham is labeled "fresh," "cured" or "cured and smoked" it must be cooked before serving unless it is also labeled "fullycooked." A ham which is "fully-cooked" or has been canned requires no additional cooking, but some people prefer to heat these hams before serving to enhance flavor.

Noble Grand Strawberries In Season

Strawberries, which are in season now, are a good source of Vitamin C, a nutrient needed daily, Sally Springer, foods and nutrition specialist, said this week.

"The family will stay happy if an ample supply of berries is frozen now to serve them throughout the year," the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said.

She advised selecting firm, fully ripe strawberries for freezing.

"Wash carefully and cap. Leave small berries whole and slice large ones into a bowl or shallow pan.

"If sweetened berries are desired, sprinkle about 3/4 cup of sugar over each quart of berries. Turn them over gently until sugar is dissolved and juice forms.

"Pack strawberries in moisture-vapor-proof containers. Press down into juice. Leave 1/2 inch head-space in wide-mouth pint container, label with name of fruit and date. Then freeze immediately at 0 degree F. or below.

Sweetener

Remember to use fruit syrups as sweeteners. You can reduce the amount of sugar by 1/4 cup in most recipes and substitute drained canned fruit syrup that has been boiled down to about 1/4 cup.

Mrs. Gladys Fiveash, noble grand, gave her farewell address to the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge 153 Tuesday evening as it met in the IOOF hall.

Mrs. Winnie Ralph, lodge mother, presented gifts to Mrs. Fiveash, Mrs. Jones Lamar, recording secretary; Mrs. Pauline Petty, financial secretary; and Mrs. Morgan Martin, musician. Mrs. Fiveash presented gifts to her officers.

There were 54 visits reported. Mrs. Maggie G. Gillespie, De Llano, Calif., was a guest. She is a member of the Alpha Rebekah Lodge 69.

Mrs. Juanita Hamlin was elected to be financial secretary to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mrs. Petty.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Alma Pye, Mrs. Ethel Thackrey, Mrs. Fannie Kent, Mrs. Lida Boland and Mrs. Fiveash.

The next meeting will be July 15 for the installation of new officers.

BIG SPRING HERALD

SECTION D BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, JULY 6, 1975 SECTION D

Many Events Are Set For Reunion

STANTON — Plans have been finalized for the annual Old Settlers Day in Stanton, scheduled next Saturday. The 1975 event will feature a barbecue and parade.

Headquarters for the reunion will be the building immediately north of the post office in downtown Stanton.

Riding in the parade this year will be a mystery rider, who will be masked. A cash award will go to the person who first identifies him or her.

Trophies will be awarded for the best floats in the parade. Those attending are being asked to wear old-fashioned clothing. Special prizes will be awarded to those with the most authentic attire of the bygone period.

Most downtown merchants will participate in a sidewalk sale all day Saturday.

Martin County 4-H members will operate an ice cream parlor and sandwich shop. The stand will be in front of Blocker Oil Co., in downtown Stanton and will be in operation until 1 p.m., Saturday.

A hand-painted China exhibit will be set up in the Texar Electric Service

Lunts Give Part Of Their Estate

WAUKESHA, Wis. (AP) — Actor Alfred Lunt and his actress wife, Lynn Fontaine, have donated a portion of their estate here to the town of Genesee.

The Lunts have shunned publicity after distinguished stage careers in London and on Broadway. They live in Ten Chimneys, a rambling house he built for his mother long ago.

Lunt, 82, said Friday that the 20-acre parcel being given to the town was the site of family picnics at the turn of the century.

The couple appeared for the donation ceremony before a crowd of 250 persons, many of them youths in Little League uniforms.

Laredo Youth Drowns In Idaho

MINIDOKA, Idaho (AP) — A 16-year-old Texas youth drowned near the Minidoka Dam of the Snake River on Independence Day, sheriff's deputies said.

Officer said Hugo Reynaldo Casanova of Laredo, Tex., was swimming with relatives in an area where "no swimming" signs were posted.

Scuba divers recovered the body about an hour after Casanova disappeared in the water, 15 feet from boat docks, officers said.

Water in the area is 15-20 feet deep and filled with pond weed.

Contempt Charges Dismissed

HOUSTON (AP) — A state judge has dismissed contempt charges against two newsmen who had refused to disclose news sources for stories containing allegations of illegal police wiretapping.

State District Court Judge Andrew Jefferson dismissed the charges here against Houston Post reporter Jon Sandefer and former KTRK-TV television newsmen Larry Conners.

"This court is reserving for another day the issue of whether a news reporter in a judicial proceeding may properly refuse to answer on First Amendment grounds," Jefferson said.

Julia Phillips Joins Select List Of Fems

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Said Julia Phillips to the Columbia Pictures brass: "I would like to propose an idea whose time has come — me."

She was making a bold proposal: that she direct as well as produce the film version of Erica Jong's sensational novel, "Fear of Flying."

Only a handful of women, notably Dorothy Arzner, Ida Lupino and Elaine May, have succeeded as directors of American movies.

Mrs. Phillips recalled the reaction over lunch by Columbia Pictures president David Begelman: "After compulsively consuming 14 rolls, he agreed that it might be a good idea."

She discussed the new adventure at her Benedict Canyon home where she was pausing briefly from preparation of six films.

On the hearth was the Oscar she won for coproducing "The Sting" with her estranged husband, Michael, and Tony Bill.

"Some people are saying that I had it in mind all along to direct 'Fear of Flying,'" said Mrs. Phillips, a plain-talking, curly haired woman of 30. "Not true. I certainly would prefer to direct something smaller for my first picture."

"Do I have any qualms? No — but a lot of anxiety. Let's say I'm confident — and scared witless."

Born Julia Miller in New York, she majored in political science at Mount Holyoke College but her major interest was in writing a novel and short stories.

She met and married a Dartmouth student, Michael Phillips, and helped put him through NYU Law School by publishing jobs.

She moved into work for film companies, and the Phillipses and Bill produced "Steelyard Blues" for Warner Bros. It was a bomb. Their next film was "The Sting" made millions for everyone. The marriage ended, but the partnership remains.

Why haven't more women directed movies?

"Maybe because they haven't been given the opportunity," Mrs. Phillips says. "It is difficult for women to get the chance, and I don't delude myself into thinking that I was chosen because of my inherent talent."

"I got the job because I happen to be the owner of a very hot property."

He's Not Face One Recalls

By The Associated Press
 George Fennell has spent 22 of his 41 years in radio. He once dreamed of being on television. Now he's a TV personality in Boston, appearing on WCVB five nights a week. But his dream isn't complete yet.

His fans never have seen his face on the tube.

He's the mellow-voiced, shadowy star of Channel Five's "Five All Night," a wee-small-hour bag of phone talk, old series, movies and miscellany from 2:10 a.m. to 5:55 a.m., Tuesdays through Saturdays.

When his show starts, all the night owls see is a video tape of George in silhouette, holding forth beneath a wide-brimmed leather cowboy hat and clad in a cowboy shirt, battered pants and boots.

The in-the-flesh Fennell actually is in the announcer's booth during the show, doing station breaks, discussing various things and occasionally warning viewers the night's movie is a real dog.

husky ex-Marine conceded. "Because I couldn't understand what the gimmick was about. And I thought maybe people would get the wrong impression of what was going on."

"Like maybe they'd think I was too ugly and perhaps my face was disfigured."

Superdome's Opening Is Scheduled Aug. 9

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Louisiana Superdome has been called "The World's Biggest Pimple," "The Ninth Wonder of the World," "The $163 Million Misunderstanding" and "The World's Most Useful Building."

It has been Topic A in Louisiana since 1966 — in legislative debates, court fights, newspaper headlines and saloon squabbles. It has survived almost two dozen lawsuits and a year-long investigation by a special legislative committee. It currently is the subject of inquiries by city, state and federal agencies.

The Superdome rises 30 stories, squatting just off the central business district on 55 acres that used to be an industrial slum. Its roof covers 13 acres, and Houston's 50,000 seat Astrodome — once called the "Eighth Wonder of the World" — would fit inside.

Sections of Superdome seats slide on rails to change the arena's shape, and seating capacities can be altered from 19,000 for basketball to 80,000 for football or 97,000 for conventions.

Giant television screens suspended from the roof offer instant replays, but the screens can't be seen from 64 private suites or from many of the middle-level seats.

The exterior is striking. The Superdome is a huge circular structure whose curved aluminum sides are burnished gold in color and whose white dome is made of plastic sprayed on a steel framework.

Opening day was supposed to have been nine months ago. The Dome is now scheduled to open Aug. 9 with an exhibition football game between the New Orleans Saints and the Houston Oilers.

The Superdome began as a modest dream 10 years ago — a project of businessman Dave Dixon, who wanted to attract a National Football League franchise. Then Gov. John J. McKeithen latched onto the idea, and expanded it. He wanted an Astrodome East, not just a $35 million football stadium.

The governor wanted to "out-big" Texas.

An amendment to the state constitution created the Louisiana Stadium and Exposition District. The amendment was ratified by a 4-1 margin in a statewide referendum. Disgruntled losers filed the first lawsuits.

They argued in court that voters were fooled into thinking they were approving a $35 million football stadium when the decision already had been made to build a much bigger, more elaborate and more expensive structure.

The suits delayed construction for 18 months, until the U.S. Supreme Court refused to hear arguments.

By the time bids were received early in 1971, construction estimates had soared. The lowest bid was $93.5 million, without the interest costs, the inflation and the "extras" that eventually drove the cost to $163 million.

Jack Y. Smith Retires From Cosden On Friday

Jack Y. Smith, director of industrial relations for Cosden Oil & Chemical Company since 1956, will be leaving his position as of July 11.

In emptying his office, he is finding a wealth of papers, plaques, photos and mementos of his 41 years at Cosden as well as his civic leadership during that period.

Although Aug. 16, 1934 began his employment by the company, he had been associated with Cosden earlier through his prowess in basketball and baseball. As a freshman at Hardin-Simmons University in his home town of Abilene, he was recruited to play with the Cosden Oilers.

He began work in tankcar loading, moving to the roofing asphalt section, then pumping and treating, before becoming asphalt loading foreman. Since June 1943 he has worked in personnel and safety, and he has held the job of director of industrial relations since November 1, 1956. For many years he has served on the American Petroleum Institute committee on training.

Smith's community activities have been many and varied. They include the Downtown Lions Club (past president), Chamber of Commerce, American Red Cross, YMCA (charter president), Big Spring Country Club (past president), United Fund, Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts.

JACK Y. SMITH

First Baptist Church. He also has served as a city commissioner. A long-time and honored volunteer in mental health development in Texas, Smith plans to focus his efforts in this field. He is a member of the executive committee of the State Volunteer Council and of the local council. Smith and his wife, the former Edna Faye Rutledge, live at 206 Washington Blvd. Their son, Steve, will be majoring in accounting as a junior at West Texas State University this fall. They also have a daughter, Jacqueline, who is the wife of Louis G. McKnight, Amarillo. The McKnight's youngsters are Mark, 11; Melody, 10; and Megan, 5.

WALLACE'S THEME

Americans Against Very Rich, Welfare Cheaters?

DALLAS (AP) — Gov. George Wallace is trying to ride the most common complaints of Americans — against the very rich and the welfare cheater — to the presidential nomination of the Democratic party, says Democratic National Chairman Robert Strauss.

In an interview with the Dallas Times Herald Friday, Strauss said the American public is not "mad" at the poor people, but only at the welfare cheaters. The people, he said, also are mad at the very rich who are believed not to be paying their fair share of taxes.

Strauss said, "this is Wallace's theme. That's why people are responding to him."

He said that if the Alabama governor captures 20 per cent of the vote at the 1976 Democratic national convention, and if Ted Kennedy fails to emerge as a candidate, the result will be a "multi-balloted convention."

Strauss said that Wallace has tagged the country's concern over the "pointy-headed bureaucrat" because of the frustration of many Americans who feel alienated from government.

"The people feel alienated from the very people who influence their lives," Strauss said. "People such as city councilmen, police chiefs, senators and congressmen. It seems so hard to get through the red tape to be heard."

The Democratic leader said "people sense that something is wrong, things are not working the way they should" and are looking for new ideas and innovations in government.

"The important thing," he said, "is that the two-party system continue to be strong. Our institutions have got to stay strong and elastic enough to the changes aren't made by people riding white horses."

Strauss described President Ford as a "decent, honorable, likeable man," and gave him high marks in foreign affairs, but low marks in domestic affairs.

Karen Black Makes It No. 2

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Actress Karen Black was married at dawn to a freelance writer. After the ceremony in a forest area, the couple joined about 400 wedding guests in a traditional Fourth of July picnic.

The groom was L.M. "Kit" Carson, 33. The couple met several months ago while Carson was writing a magazine story on the 32-year-old actress.

The marriage is the second for Miss Black, who was nominated in 1971 for an Academy Award as best supporting actress for her portrayal of Rayette DePesto in "Five Easy Pieces."

Hope Presented Freedom Medal

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Comedian Bob Hope has become the third recipient of the Philadelphia Freedom Medal.

Mayor Frank Rizzo presented the medal to Hope on Friday at Independence Hall, referring to Hope as "a man of class, style and courage."

Gamblers 'Walk Plank' To Roll Dice In Casino

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Holiday gamblers "walked the plank" to get into one of the Las Vegas Strip's most famous casinos, and others splashed barefoot through puddles after a flash flood hit the city on the eve of the big Fourth of July weekend.

Gamblers determined to get into Caesars Palace lined up along a narrow ribbon of sidewalk to cross over a huge mud puddle into the casino by way of two small planks.

Others just rolled up their pant legs, took off their shoes and waded through ankle-deep water.

About 2½ inches of rain pelted Las Vegas in less than two hours, and when the rain stopped late Thursday night, two city workers were dead, hundreds of cars were submerged and houses were flooded.

The damage was estimated in excess of $1 million, making it the city's worst flash flood since 1955.

The bodies of Mike Williams, 30, and Richard Hunkins, 24, both street department employees, were found in muddy embankments Friday near where their truck was engulfed in water. The famed Strip was turned into a raging canal.

But shoeless gamblers continued to plunk coins into slot machines in some casinos as cald deep water swirled around them.

Although the Nevada Highway Patrol repeatedly broadcast warnings that visitors should stay away from Las Vegas on Friday, tourists came by the thousands. It was one of the biggest weekends this year.

By late Friday, all hotels reported their rooms were filled and casinos were jammed with customers.

Sunny, hot and muggy weather on Friday dried up the flood waters that had reached 10 feet in places.

Delbert Ball of Ft. Worth, Tex. said "it happened so fast I doubt anyone really saw it coming. I went back to my room at 5 p.m. and at 5:30 cars were under water. I just figured that's one of the hazards of coming to Las Vegas."
