Use Screwdriver, Tape To Repair Space Ships

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Soviet Soyuz spacecraft shifted into position for a cosmic linkup with an American Apollo ship on Thursday while astronauts and cosmonauts used a screwdriver, pieces of tape and bandaids for repairs aboard their ships.

After removing a stuck docking mechanism from a tunnel which will connect the two spaceships when they hook up, the astronauts relayed televised pictures of the tunnel to Houston Mission Control as they inspected it and found it in good condition.

Cosmonauts Alexei Leonov and Valeri Kubasov fired their spaceship engine for 21 seconds and reported the maneuver was performed perfectly.

The Moscow Mission Control Center reported the burn placed Soyuz in a near-circular orbit of 137 to 139 miles above the earth, precisely where the cosmonauts want to be to receive the visiting Americans at 12:15 p.m. EDT over West Germany.

The docking probe problem was discovered aboard Apollo on Tuesday night when astronaut Vance D. Brand attempted to remove it to open up the tunnel.

He reported he was unable to undo latches on the mechanism with a special tool because the tool passage was blocked by an out-of-position connecting mechanism.

Houston Mission Control told Brand the problem was minor and instructed him to wait until morning to fix it.

The center this morning radioed instructions to remove a cover plate with a screwdriver. Brand, after a night's sleep, did this easily and used a piece of tape to get the blocking mechanism out of the way so he could release the latches and remove the probe.

If the astronauts had not been able to remove the probe, the spacemen would not have been able to transfer between spaceships when they hooked up with the Russians. However, officials said they never had any concern that this would happen.

"I think we are all squared away now," Brand reported after the repair.

Brand, Thomas P. Stafford and Donald K. Slayton earlier corrected a simple problem involving a clogged urine disposal system aboard the Apollo.

Aboard the Soyuz, Leonov and Kubasov were busy repairing one of their four television cameras. It was to have televised their reactions during the launching phase on Tuesday, but failed to work.

Moscow Mission Control radioed repair instructions, the first set of which interrupted the cosmonauts' lunch.

As they worked, Kubasov asked:

"Can we use bandaids from our medical kit for insulating material — to insulate off the end of the cable?"

"Yes, Valeri, you can do it," the ground replied.

When Houston Mission Control informed the astronauts of the successful orbital change by Soyuz, Slayton remarked: "Superb. Great."

"They're up there waiting for you," the U.S. capsule communicator said.

It was the second orbit change for Soyuz since it was launched from the Baikonur Cosmodrome.

Apollo also has executed two orbital shifts and plans several more as it closes in on Soyuz, which is serving as the target vehicle in the celestial chase.

The World At-A-Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is edging toward final action on the first part of its energy program while President Ford prepares to ask the lawmakers to let U.S. oil prices rise. With energy matters occupying most of the time of the Senate and House, Ford planned to add more to the agenda today by submitting his plan to gradually raise the government-controlled price on most U.S.-produced oil.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Central Intelligence Agency spies practiced for overseas assignments by infiltrating and reporting on the domestic political activities of the Socialist Workers party and its youth affiliate, according to newly disclosed CIA documents. The documents, a four-inch-thick stack obtained by the party in its lawsuit against the agency, also show that the CIA was monitoring the party's political campaigning as early as 1950.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Egypt is demanding new Security Council pressure for an Israeli withdrawal as its price for allowing the United Nations Emergency Force in the Sinai Desert to continue acting as a buffer between Israeli and Egyptian troops. Egypt informed U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim on Tuesday that it would not agree to renewal of the force's mandate when it expires July 24. Egypt added, however, that "she is not against the proper use of the force."

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Forty Islamic nations resolved early today to seek Israel's expulsion from the United Nations at the next General Assembly session, the Saudi Arabian radio reported. The resolution was approved at the closing session of a four-day conference of Moslem foreign ministers at Jidda, the Saudi port on the Red Sea.

LUANDA, Angola (AP) — One of Angola's warring nationalist armies now controls most of Angola's capital today, but Portuguese military authorities say a rival guerrilla army of 3,000 men may be preparing to advance on the city. After a week of nightly fighting in which an estimated 300 persons have been killed and about 1,000 wounded, the Popular Movement for the Liberation of Angola has driven the National Front for the Liberation of Angola from all but a few pockets of the port city on the Atlantic Ocean. Only minor, sporadic gunfire was heard on Tuesday in Luanda.

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP) — The U.S. delegate to the Organization of American States meeting opening today says he thinks the two-week conference will lift the 11-year-old OAS quarantine on Cuba. William S. Mallard, the U.S. ambassador to the OAS, told a news conference he thinks a two-thirds majority — 14 of the 21 voting nations — will vote to lift the diplomatic and economic sanctions against Fidel Castro's Communist regime. He indicated the United States might also vote "yes" if the two-thirds majority is reached without it.

CELESTIAL WAGON MASTER — Pulling his little red wagon laden with belongings, Merlin Emrys gets poetic inspirations from the sun, moon and stars, he claims, while pilgrimaging on foot from San Francisco to New York on behalf of Mother Nature and all her children. The wayfarer began his journey on the first day of spring, his sole income from ornately-scribed poems sold to strangers along the way, like the one he writes Tuesday while resting on a bridge on Louisiana 12 near Starks.

Slush Fund Plot Denied By Ex-Pilot

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Ralph Koontz, on trial with former Sen. Edward Gurney and two others, today denied he ever was involved in any scheme to build an allegedly illegal campaign slush fund.

Koontz followed the lead of his fellow codefendants in taking the stand today in his own behalf and denying all wrongdoing.

Koontz, 51, a former Navy pilot, said he never knew that Larry Williams was raising funds in Gurney's behalf.

Koontz, who was suspended as assistant director of the Federal Housing Administration office in Jacksonville following the charges, testified that he never knew what Williams' position was although he gathered he was associated with Gurney.

"And I still don't know after five months sitting here in this trial," Koontz told the jury.

Gurney, Swiger, Koontz and onetime Gurney aide Joseph Bastien are charged with conspiring to raise an illegal slush fund from builders by peddling Gurney's influence with the FHA. Gurney also is charged with bribery, accepting unlawful compensation and lying to a federal grand jury.

Voting Rights Act 'Obnoxious'

DALLAS (AP) — Certain provisions of the Voting Rights Act would enable the power of the U.S. Justice Department to hang like "Damocles' sword" over Texas elections, says Secretary of State Mark White.

White, here for tandem addresses before the editorial boards of The Dallas Morning News and The Dallas Times Herald, said extending the provisions of the act to Texas was "obnoxious" because, he said, there is no proof the state has intimidated minority voters.

The bill, which has been passed by the U.S. House of Representatives and is now before the Senate, would extend the 1965 Voting Rights Act for another 10 years and expand its coverage to jurisdictions with sizeable populations of non-English speaking voters.

It would require Texas — with a Mexican-American population of 16.5 per cent — to show that for the past 10 years, the state has not used exclusively English voting materials.

White was critical of the state's U.S. senators — particularly U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen (D-Tex.) — because he said they have done "very little" to get Texas out from under the act's "punitive measures."

White said Bentsen, an announced candidate for the 1976 Democratic presidential nomination, told him "I can't give you much help," when White spoke to him in Washington.

"If this is a tough issue, then we need tougher men in Washington," White said.

Narc Agent Shot, Another Beaten

FLORENCE, Tex. (AP) — One Department of Public Safety narcotics agent was shot and another beaten severely today while buying marijuana and cocaine, the DPS said.

DPS spokesman Jim Robinson in Austin said the agents were at a roadside park off Texas 195 outside of Florence in Williamson County.

Agent Ricky G. Silvertooth, 28, was shot three times, including once in the head, with a small caliber pistol. The other officer, Troy Braswell, 24, was beaten.

Silvertooth underwent surgery at Breckenridge Hospital in Austin and was listed in very serious condition.

Braswell was first taken to a Georgetown hospital and then transferred to Breckenridge where he was in fair condition.

Two brothers, both Ft. Hood soldiers from Killeen, were taken into custody by a state game warden and a deputy sheriff at a trailer home two miles from the roadside park about 90 minutes after the shooting.

The assaults occurred between 1 a.m. and 2 a.m., Robinson said.

Robinson said a 21-year-old man arrested with the pair was released later. He had been shot in the arm by the man who shot Silvertooth, Robinson said.

The pair tried to shoot Braswell but ran out of ammunition, Robinson said.

Two other Ft. Hood soldiers driving by saw the assaults and turned around to investigate, and the brothers fled on foot, authorities said.

Officers using a metal detector in a nearby field recovered a gun believed used in the shooting.

Silvertooth joined the DPS in May 1968 and became a narcotics agent in September 1973. He is married and has a daughter and son.

Braswell, with the DPS since June 1970, became an agent in November 1972. He and his wife have two children.

Another DPS undercover narcotics agent, Pat Randall, was shot to death while on duty at a roadside park near George West in South Texas in October 1974.

Spot Grand Jury Mixup

DENTON (AP) — Denton County prosecutors must seek new indictments against persons accused of offenses by a county grand jury because a clerical error led to a man serving in place of his wife.

Dist. Atty. John Lawhon said his staff would review indictments which the grand jury returned this year and would present evidence to a new panel in cases in which they consider the step warranted.

Testimony at a hearing this week showed that a commission chose Mrs. John E. Springer to serve as a jury panelist.

However, when the grand jury members were notified, the "Mrs." was dropped from the notice and Mr. Springer reported to the courthouse and served on the grand jury.

Tax Expiration Dates Change

New legislation sets April 1, 1978, as the last deadline for license plates under the old system of providing 60 days to get new plates, Mrs. Zarah L. Bednar, county tax assessor-collector, said.

Another bill provides for five-year plates, with a sticker change only for each new year.

The year-round registration bill provides for a month of registration as well.

Once a vehicle has been assigned a month, it will keep the same expiration date in succeeding years, Mrs. Bednar explained.

'Reasonable' Bail Ordered

AUSTIN — The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals has ordered that a "reasonable bail" bond be set for Wiltner Jean Ballard, 49.

Ballard, who was convicted of the December, 1970, killing of Steve Currie in Glasscock County and was serving a life sentence, has been granted a new trial.

The defendant also faces a pending case for robbery of the Currie ranch home.

Ballard is being confined in a Lamesa jail. The robbery case was transferred to the district court here.

Unnecessary Surgery Costing $4.8 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the winter of 1969, Mrs. Marie Valenzuela of Woodlawn, Calif., was told her daughter, who had a fever, needed her tonsils removed.

Before this doctor was finished, he had removed the tonsils of four of her children and those of a niece, Mrs. Valenzuela told a House subcommittee.

The operation caused complications for one of her daughters, including a burst main artery to the brain, pneumonia and hepatitis and put Mrs. Valenzuela into the hospital suffering shock over the condition of her child.

The story was related Tuesday to a House Commerce investigations subcommittee looking into unnecessary surgery.

Mrs. Valenzuela's daughter recovered her health and received $2,000 in a malpractice settlement. The other children each received several hundred dollars. In each case, a court ruled the tonsillectomies had not been needed, she told the House panel.

Dr. Sidney M. Wolfe told the panel that as many as 3.2 million surgical operations may be performed needlessly each year in the United States. Wolfe, director of the Ralph Nader-affiliated Public Citizen's Health Research group, said that 16,000 deaths occur as a result and that as many as 100 children may be dying each year because of tonsillectomies that should never have been performed.

The cost to patients for unnecessary surgery may be as high as $4.8 billion a year, Wolfe testified.

The subcommittee is looking into how many operations performed each year are done needlessly, how many people die as a result and the cost to the American public. Tuesday's hearing was the first of three the panel plans to hold.

Wolfe's figures came from a 1973 study of surgery performed on members of two New York City unions.

The New York City survey "shows a 17.6 per cent rate of unnecessary operations ... If 17.6 per cent of the 18.4 million operations done in this country are unnecessary, this means that there are about 3.2 million unnecessary operations per year being done in the U.S. ..."

Wolfe recommended a program of independent review by specialists before any patient undergoes surgery. He said this would expose the patient to doctors who would not benefit monetarily if the surgery were performed and also would provide another opinion on possible alternative medical treatment.

The subcommittee resumes its hearing Thursday.

Omar Burleson Will Be Here For Open House

Gates will open at Webb AFB at 12 noon Sunday, Aug. 3, to the public for the Bicentennial Open House. Flight line displays of all kinds of aircraft will start at 1 p.m. One of the highlights of the afternoon will occur at 3 p.m., when the famed Thunderbirds will give a demonstration.

Dedication rites for the Airmen's new dining hall are scheduled for 4:30 p.m.

Guest of honor for the day will be Cong. Omar Burleson (D-Tex.), who will dedicate the airman's new dining hall.

Primary objective of the open house, according to Wing Commander Robert A. Owens, is to afford the personnel at Webb an opportunity to express its appreciation for the hospitality and cooperation residents of the area have extended to the Air Force, the base and its people.

Problem Of Malpractice Suits

The medical malpractice insurance crisis provides the public with a seat in the gallery. The people who will ultimately pay the bills will not have any real influence on the agreement that may be reached.

Three powerful forces are in contention. One is the medical profession. One is the lawyers. The third is the insurers. There can be no settlement that is not satisfactory to all three.

The doctors say the insurance rates are confiscatory. They want a limit placed on malpractice claims — $500,000 has been suggested. They want their insurance rates reduced. They blame the lawyer's contingent-fee system for much of their troubles, holding that this is an invitation to suits.

The insurers say that settlements by juries are rising and that they face almost unlimited time coverage, since a suit need not be filed until not more than two years after an injury has been discovered. They say that the number of suits filed is rising and with it the risk of losses — some critics suggest that part of the insurer's difficulties arise from tremendous losses in the past two years in the stock market where premiums have been invested. The lawyers say that physicians refuse to weed out incompetent surgeons. They say that patients are more prone to sue because of the decline in the doctor-patient relationship and the impersonality of hospitals. They say that the contingent-fee system is the only way that most patients can get into court, since they cannot afford to pay high retainer fees.

Some of these complaints have, as in Texas, resulted in state legislation. But none of the legislation addresses the problem of people who are caught in the squeeze of spiraling medical care costs.

A settlement of sorts is likely between doctors, lawyers and insurers. The public interest may not be ignored, but it won't have any practical weight in the decision.

Home Is Where Love Is

Professions of international good will are having a genuine ring here. Scores of South Vietnamese men trained here as pilots for their Air Force, and with the tragic collapse of their republic, many of them and their families, as well as other Vietnamese who loved freedom more than even homeland, were obliged to leave.

Now that they are being transplanted in a strange land, people here — and particularly those at Webb

AFB — are opening their hearts and homes to the South Vietnamese. We may not be Saigon east, but we venture there is hardly a city of comparable size in the nation that has as many people who have sponsored these allies. These are humble, grateful, intelligent, industrious and charming people, and we are confident their culture will enrich our own lives. It will never be like Vietnam, but we can hope that they will come to know that home is where love is.

Research: Big Bargain

Around The Rim

Joe Pickle

None can scan the annual report of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station without being struck with the vital necessity of basic research in agriculture. I wish those in the U.S. Department of Agriculture who constantly pinch the flow of funds to research, and all members of Congress, would sit down and at least thumb through the current report.

"INVESTMENTS IN Agricultural Research Are Investments In Texas' Future," says the lead story. It enumerates some of the accomplishments of the experiment station on systems such as development of hybrid sorghums, short-statured wheats and rice; storm-proof cottons; vitamins for domestic livestock; methods to overcome phosphorous deficiency in cattle mechanization of farming such as cotton strippers, pickers, module makers; performance testing and cross-breeding in livestock; tick and screwworm and disease control; and on and on. Just almost any one of these categories has produced enough net increase in productivity and income to justify all the experimental research expense.

WHAT ARE some of the things the system is looking into now? Just turn the pages and the answers pop out. For instance the sugar industry is coming back to South Texas with an initial investment of $31 million in one sugar mill alone (to handle increasing output that someday might help us out produce Castro). A team is seeking to determine if cholesterol is a hero or villain; another is studying new methods of marketing farm and ranch products. Still another is probing new ways to purify water and thus increase the amount available for use.

AND THEN there is a three-way hybrid cucumber (a product of the stations) which is suitable for mechanical harvesting and thus boosting the pickling industry. Researches also are seeking economical and efficient means of using feedlot wastes as soil nutrients. Still others are finding ways to increase the output of pecan orchards; also to improve forage and step up output of meat and milk.

Of interest in this area is the development of SP-37, described as a "super cotton," along with others that have special qualities for withstanding drought, insects, adverse weather, etc. There are studies on how to best control or manage predators. Another project is to seek how to overcome iron deficiencies in foods.

A NEW PROJECT is developing an aquaculture system for a fresh water shrimp, which might help overcome the increasing shortage of Gulf shrimp. Another bit of research has shown how to handle store (how better to hang) beef for tenderer meat. Still another showing of how dry chill gives better results than ice in broiler shipping.

There are all sorts of soil nutritional studies, teamed with crop varietal tests. There is special market needs (such as saladette, a new tomato designed expressly for salads). There are numerous studies on increasing sea food output and quality; use of mulches and covers in crops; how to grow more pine trees faster.

ALL SORTS of new tools are being employed, including the electron microscope, and yes, the computer.

If you complain about your grocery bill, be thankful for the researchers who have made it possible to get more and better products for the same or less cost. Without this, your food bill probably would be twice as high today.

Easing The Pressure

Rowland Evans

WASHINGTON — A calculated decision by American-Jewish community leaders to squelch a sharply pro-Israel letter from House members to President Ford reveals his stunning growth as a President whom even the powerful pro-Israel lobby is finding difficult to push around.

INDEED, the imminent possibility of breaking the long deadlock over Israeli withdrawal in the Egyptian Sinai peninsula stems from the same phenomenon: Gerald Ford has convinced Israel that his pressure for major Israeli concessions is not susceptible to political powerplays in the usual pattern of American presidential politics.

That sets Mr. Ford apart from each of his predecessors since Dwight Eisenhower forced Israel to give up its first conquest of the Sinai peninsula in 1956. By contrast, in the pre-campaign jockeying for political advantage before the 1972 election, Richard M. Nixon capitulated to Israel and ended a long boycott on deliveries of F-4 phantom aircraft.

THE ROUND-ROBIN letter which began circulating in the House June 26 was a solo effort by Rep. Claude Pepper of Florida. Proclaiming that the U. S. "stands firmly with Israel," the Pepper letter hoped to pressure Mr. Ford to end the four-month-old "reassessment" of U.S. policy in the Mideast which has tied up a new generation of sophisticated U.S. weapons wanted by Israel.

Pepper's letter surprisingly alleged "a recent heavy flow of Soviet weaponry" to the Arabs and warned Mr. Ford that "withholding military equipment from Israel would be dangerous." In fact, Moscow recently suspended most military shipments to its former friend, Iraq, and never has delivered arms pledged to Egypt before the October 1973 war.

A GOOD MANY staunch congressional friends of Israel signed the letter, but Pepper stopped circulating it last week. The reason: the American-Jewish community, including pro-Israel leaders in Congress, discouraged the new pressure campaign because it might boomerang.

That was sound advice, considering the President's reaction to the similar high-pressure letter sent him May 21 by 76 Senators. Mr. Ford publicly welcomed that letter as an expression of Senate sentiment. But privately, when asked about it June 26 during the first large White House meeting ever held by a President with Arab-Americans, Mr. Ford answered quietly: "Applying pressure tactics is the wrong way to work on me."

THAT OFFHAND remark precisely reflects the iron determination Mr. Ford has been demonstrating to Israel since the collapse last March of Secretary of State Henry Kissinger's shuttle diplomacy. It reflects a primitive, unadorned stubbornness and confidence that he is acting in the best interest of the U.S. in insisting on Israeli withdrawal from the Sinai passes and the Abu Rudeis oil fields seized in 1967.

UNANNOUNCED TALKS over the past three months between Mr. Ford and a parade of Mideast experts of all persuasions have underscored this same phenomenon: restoration of the old U.S.-Israeli intimacy will not happen in the Ford administration unless there is this quid pro quo: Israel giving the U.S., in negotiation flexibility, a small part of what it has been taking from the U.S., in arms, massive economic aid and its only international backing in the past eight years.

Inflation Shocks

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Would you believe that relative to most other nations, the United States has one of the lowest rates of consumer price inflation?

Anyone concerned with his or her own pocketbook, and that includes everyone, tends to localize the issue of inflation. Understandably, each person feels he or she is being hit the hardest.

The latest figures from the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development show that of 24 trading nations, the United States had the fourth lowest inflation rate for the 12 months through May.

The spectacular rise in oil prices is perhaps the major force behind the upward thrust in prices, but there are many other reasons too, including higher consumer expectations, rising wage demands and deficit spending.

The OECD lists the United States inflation rate at 9.5 per cent, leaving only Germany, at 6.1 per cent, Switzerland, at 8.2, and Austria, at 8.6, in better shape.

Some of the rates would be considered shocking by U.S. standards, not that 9.5 per cent in itself isn't shocking. In the United Kingdom, for example, the rate was 25 per cent, and in Ireland 24.5 per cent.

Fearing an economic disaster, the British now are seeking to limit pay and dividend increase to 10 per cent for the next 12 months, hopeful of cutting the rate to 10 per cent or so by this time next year.

Even 10 per cent cannot be considered normal by almost any definition. Still, it appears to be in a respectable range when compared with the 47.4 per cent inflation rate in Iceland, the 19.7 per cent in Italy, and the 17.2 per cent rate in Australia.

One reason for high inflation rates are big government budgets which, to a degree, merely reflect a more basic reason: Demands by people for more governmental services.

This symptom has been a particular irritant to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, which for years has tried to point out that you can't get any more out of the government than you're willing to put into it.

The way to riches, the chamber says, is to produce — to make a bigger pie so that everyone can have a bigger piece without cutting into the other's section. And that pie, it says, is made by private enterprise.

Nevertheless, to the chamber's chagrin, there seems to be an inexorable trend toward bigger government, with its resultant huge budgets and sometimes big budget deficits too.

My Answer

Billy Graham

My son and husband say I talk religion 24 hours a day. I guess I do but I'm serious about my faith in Christ. Maybe it's because I had a bad childhood and came from a broken home. What can I do?

D. Z.

One of the problems Paul met in the church at Thessalonica was a religious unrest. It arose evidently from the excitement of their new-found faith in Christ, and the expectation of His return. But it was causing disorders and a neglect of ordinary business. That's why in I Thess. 4:11, Paul said, "This should be your ambition: to live a quiet life, minding your own business."

Now you might think that to constantly talk of Christ and spiritual matters is to commend the faith. Not so. Sometimes the "quiet" witness of our example is as potent as spoken words. So put your witness under restraint and modesty will evidently strengthen it in the minds of your husband and son.

I grant you there are differences in temperaments and backgrounds. Hence, we react with varying emotions to the experience of salvation. In Acts 16, the jailer shouted at midnight, while Lydia was born again quietly. My observation is that it's a gift from God to know when to speak and when to keep quiet.

Pill Can Cause 'Mask'

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Several years ago I took birth control pills for about 14 months. I have not used them in over two years, but I continue to have "pregnancy mask" on my face.

It consists of unsightly brown spots above my eyebrows, on my upper cheeks, around my nose and under my eyes. These spots are dark enough to be noticeable to others, and they are embarrassing. Can you tell me how to get rid of them?

Mrs. F. L.

This is the so-called mask of pregnancy, known medically as melasma or chloasma. It is a matter about which we know rather little except that it is somehow related to hormonal changes that accompany pregnancy. Since the pill does, in effect, act by simulating conditions of pregnancy, thus discouraging ovulation, it is not surprising that such skin pigmentation irregularity should occur with its use. A woman who has experienced this discoloration during pregnancy should not use the "pill."

Melasma that occurs in pregnancy will usually disappear after the birth takes place. For some reason yet unknown, skin changes with use of the pill are more persistent, lasting often for years, as in your case.

There is not much, really, to be done about it, although a cream of two per cent hydroquinone has been tried with some success in lessening the darkness of the discoloration. The body's hormonal changes seem to account for much of the skin discoloration women encounter during their lives. A young girl may experience a slight pigmentation change at the time of her first menstrual period. As women enter menopause a different hormonal imbalance may produce similar symptoms. The same factors seem to be at work in the expected darkening of a woman's nipples during pregnancy. This, too, disappears within a couple of months after birth.

To learn the major categories of prostate trouble — symptoms, treatment, how to speed recovery — read Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "The Pesky Prostate." We Hold These Truths... A Chronicle of America

May-July, 1775:

Cleavages deepen in British opinion regarding the colonies. The news of Lexington and Concord reaches London in late May. Ten days earlier Lord Effingham — a respected veteran in the Royal army — resigns his commission in order to avoid taking up arms against the colonists. On June 24, in an address to the King, the citizens of London tell the King that the English people can expect nothing from war with the colonies except "gazettes of blood and mutual lists of their slaughtered fellow subjects." Sympathy for the colonies extends even to the King's brother, the Duke of Gloucester. In July he journeys to France, where he is received as a guest of Louis XVI. At a banquet for the Duke, one of the guests is the Marquis de Lafayette. Hearing descriptions of the hostilities in Massachusetts, Lafayette leaves the banquet vowing to enlist in the American cause.

'I'M GOING TO FEED HIM TO OUR FISH'

Astronauts Report 'Hitchhiker'

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — American astronauts reported a space "hitchhiker" in their Apollo module, expressed their exhilaration at rocketing out of earth's atmosphere and spoke their first words of Russian in space.

The light chatter of the three U.S. crewmen in the Apollo-Soyuz Test Project began soon after they were launched from Cape Canaveral on Tuesday afternoon.

If there was wit aboard the Apollo's international space sister, the Soviet Soyuz, it didn't come through in voice translations of Soyuz-Moscow mission control conversations.

For the first time, newsmen and others outside the Soviet Union heard live exchanges between cosmonauts and their ground communicators. There will be an historic face-to-face conversation Thursday when Apollo Commander Thomas Stafford greets Soyuz commander Alexei Leonov in the Apollo-Soyuz linkup.

There was an apparent low profile by the cosmonauts, who discussed technical matters. Not so aboard the Apollo. That is, not always so.

About 3½ hours after Apollo blasted into orbit, an astronaut reported a "hitchhiker" aboard. The conversation went like this:

Apollo: We wanted you to report to the Cape they put a hitchhiker aboard.

Mission control: Okay. Apollo: We found a super Florida mosquito flying around here.

Mission control: Laughter. Okay. Maybe you could think of a new experiment to do with him.

Apollo: I'm going to feed him to our fish.

Mission control: Okay.

The fish the astronaut referred to is a killifish, a tropical fish sometimes used in mosquito control projects. The fish is to be used in an experiment later in the flight.

Earlier, Stafford used Russian for a report to mission control — "Mee nahodimsia na orbite (We are in orbit)." American astronauts allowed their enthusiasm to show through during a brief exchange with mission control at the conclusion of what had been a strictly technical exchange.

"When we've got a little minute here we can't help but ask how Vance (Brand) and Deke (Slayton) are both liking the zero g," said capsule communicator Dick Truly, an astronaut himself, referring to the weightlessness of space. Slayton replied, "Super event. Can't believe it. Really savoring every event up here, Dick, it's really great."

"Sounds like fun. Wish I was there," Truly replied. "You bet. So do we," Slayton said.

Rawlins Named Council Prexy

AUSTIN — Texas GOP headquarters have announced the formation of The Black Republican Council of Texas. An organization meeting was held in Austin July 11-12 at which Lionel Rawlins of Austin was elected president.

Art McCall of Houston was named vice president; Jim Bowie of Houston, treasurer; and Marcy Cyphers of Austin, secretary.

Rawlins said that the group plans to affiliate with the National Black Republican Council with offices in Washington, D.C.

Ray Hutchison of Dallas, chairman of the Republican Party of Texas, spoke to the group outlining his plans for increasing GOP strength in Texas.

Elected to the council's Board of Trustees were John Fonteno of Houston, chairman; Leon Banks, Galveston; Tom Taylor, Dallas; Joe Leonard, Austin; and Curtis Neal, San Antonio.

Charged With Embezzling Air Force Equipment

MACON, Ga. (AP) — Former state Rep. Mitch Miller, arrested and charged with embezzling Air Force equipment, was free today after being released on $50,000 bond, federal agents said.

The federal government filed a civil suit against Miller and two business associates last week alleging they improperly obtained $658,000 worth of radio receiver-transmitters from Kelly AFB at San Antonio, Tex. Miller was arrested Tuesday.

The suit asked repayment of $658,000 and an additional $658,000 in damages.

The FBI said in an affidavit filed Tuesday that the radio equipment was to be shipped to International Telephone and Telegraph Co. of Fort Wayne, Ind.

The affidavit quoted Miller's brother, Dolphus, formerly employed at Robins AFB, Ga., as saying he misdirected the shipment to Baker Aircraft Supply Inc. in Warner Robins.

The suit filed last week charged that fraudulent requisition forms were processed through the Robins AFB computer to make the transfer.

The president of the supply company told authorities he purchased the equipment through Mitch Miller, the affidavit said.

Dolphus Miller plead guilty in April to a charge of conspiracy to embezzle Air Force property.

Louisiana Plant Will Observe Unique Mark

Paul D. Meek, president of Cosden Oil & Chemical Company, and Jerry G. Jenkins, vice president-chemical operations, will be in Carville, La., Thursday to join the 65 Cos-Mar employees and their wives at an outdoor party in celebrating seven years of operation without a lost-time accident.

The Cos-Mar plant, located on the Mississippi River south of Baton Rouge at Carville, reached a milestone in safety performance — one million man hours — June 7, 1975.

The plant is jointly owned by Cosden, which is a wholly owned subsidiary of American Petrofina, Incorporated, and Borg-Warner Corporation. Borg-Warner representatives will also be attending the celebration.

Jim Black, plant manager, credited the achievement to the positive attitude and safety awareness that is constantly being exhibited by Cos-Mar personnel.

"This is particularly gratifying to each of us because safety is always Number One in Cos-Mar's way of doing things and will remain first and foremost in the conservation and protection of manpower — our most valuable resource."

A second styrene monomer facility is under construction at Cos-Mar, with completion expected in mid-1976. The new addition, a 700-million-pound per year facility, will bring the total productive capacity to 1.3 billion pounds per year, making Cos-Mar one of the world's largest styrene

Eastern Dawson Gets Stepout In Spraberry

Amoco No. 1-B Dean Ranch will be a 1 mile northeast stepout to the two-well Felker, South (Spraberry) field in eastern Dawson County. The 7,500-ft. test is to be 2,173 from the north and 467 from the west lines of section 15-1-6n, J. Poitevent, three-fourths miles east of a marginal 7,700 ft. Spraberry well.

James P. Dunigan No. 3-528 Miller will be a south stepout from the two-well Spraberry section of the Hood (Mullipay) field seven miles west of Fluvanna in northeast Borden County. It will be 1,980 from the south and 660 from the west lines of section 528-97; H&TC and will go to 5,500.

Southwest Sterling County gained two oil producers from wells completed Monday as gassers. Stolz, Wagner and Brown No. 6-9 Hildebrand, half mile west extension to the Conger field rated 225 barrels of 43-gravity oil and 10 of water with gas-oil ratio of 2,344-1, flowing through half-inch choke from 7,258-298, fraced with 30,000 gallons, earlier it had rated 4,993,000 calculated open-hole flow from 7,508-992 in the Canyon.

SAME OPERATORS
The same operators No. 9-4 Hildebrand, also a half mile west outpost, flowed 81 barrels of 42.9 gravity oil and 11 barrels of water with gas-oil ratio 12,488-1 from 7,242-332, fraced with 30,000 gallons. It had completed for 2,728,000 cubic feet of gas (calculated open hole flow) per day from 7,551-671.

Location is 1,320 from the north and west lines section 4-21, H&TC.

Stolz, Wagner and Brown No. 5-2 Hildebrand, half a mile stepout, rated a calculated 5,402,000 cubic feet of gas per day with a 30,361-1 gas-liquid ratio, 71-gravity condensate. Location is 1,540 from the south and 1,193 from the west lines section 2-21, H&TC.

The operators' No. 14-16 Hildebrand, 2 3/4 miles northwest will be 1,320 from the south and east lines of section 16-31-5s, T&P, and No. 15-20, 2 1/2 miles west, will be 1,570 from the south and 1,420 from the west lines of section 20-31-5s, T&P.

HNG No. 1-R Wilkinson, two miles south and 2 3/4 miles southeast of the Crede (Wolfcamp gas and oil) field, will plug back from total depth of 8,990 to 8,000 feet and try for pay from the upper Cisco gas strato. Location is 660 from the north and west lines of section 4-23-H&TC.

A Sterling dry hole is Coquina No. 1 Eisenberg, 2,141 from the south and 1,340 from the east lines section 42-18, SPRR, 15 miles north of Sterling City at 7,854.

Miller Exploration No. 1 Snell, 2 1/2 miles south of Patricia, was completed as a northern Martin County extender to the Breedlove East (Spraberry field). It rated 33 barrels of 36-gravity oil and 80 barrels of water with gas-oil ratio of 1,021-1. The venture is a three-quarter-mile northwest stepout, and the pay zone of 7,880-8,211 was fraced with 67,500 gallons. This is a previous 12,100-ft. Siluro-Devonian failure plugged back to 8,250. Location is 660 from the south and 467 from the west lines, Borden CSL.

In the same area, RK Petroleum Corp. No. 1-A Peeler Williams, 14 miles north of Tarzan, had oil in 55 minutes of a two-hour drillstem test from 11,765-948. It is a stepout from the discovery RK No. 1 G.T. Hall which finished May 29 for 455 barrels of 44.5-gravity oil and gas-oil ratio of 50-1 from 11,810-15.

Marshall and Winston No. 1 White, in northeast Howard was at 6,450 in lime and shale.

Graun No. 12 Ellwood, Mitchell venture, was at 2,560 in shale.

Shumate New 82nd Leader

Lt. Col. Arthur K. Shumate has assumed command of the 82nd Flying Training Squadron at Webb AFB. He succeeds Lt. Col. Edmund Crandall who is going to Kwangju Air Base, South Korea, as base commander.

Col. Shumate has served as squadron operations officer since his arrival last August. His previous assignment was as operations plans officer with Headquarters, Pacific Air Forces, Hickam AFB, Hawaii.

A graduate of the Air Force Academy, he entered the Air Force in June 1959. He completed Command and Staff school with the Royal Air Force at Bracknell, England, just prior to his assignment in Hawaii.

The colonel's other overseas tour was in Southeast Asia, flying the Cessna 0-1 Bird Dog as a forward air controller.

He and his wife, Carole, reside in the Silver Heels addition of Big Spring. They have three children: Darlene, 15; Debra, 14; and Mark, 11.

MOD Drive Successful

Money raised in the local March of Dimes campaign over last year increased by 100 per cent, Vaughn Martin, chairman of the Cap Rock chapter, said at Tuesday night's MOD board meeting.

"We raised almost $12,000 from all the chapter's activities and have had the most successful year in recent chapter history," Martin said.

The MOD Cap Rock chapter is comprised of Big Spring, Snyder, Lamesa and the surrounding communities. Major campaign pushes came in Big Spring and Snyder, the cities which raised most of the $12,000.

Included in that figure, Martin reported a final return of $2,000 from Big Spring's March of Dimes Walkathon in which 50 walkers participated during April.

March of Dimes statistics show that more than 200,000 infants are born with physical or mental damage in the U.S. each year. About 20 per cent of birth defects are hereditary. Another 20 per cent are thought to be caused by environmental factors. The remaining 60 per cent are probably due to an interaction of heredity and environment.

The $12,000 contributed by local citizens to the Cap Rock chapter is added to money raised by more than 2,000 other March of Dimes chapters across the nation to support research into the causes of birth defects, medical service programs for victims, and public education about ways to minimize the possibility of birth defects.

Bus Crash Injures 16

RHOME, Tex. (AP) — A Continental Trailways bus hit a guardrail on U.S. 287 near here and overturned Tuesday night, injuring the 15 passengers and the driver, authorities said.

Officers said the wreck happened during a heavy rainstorm near this Wise County town as the bus was en route from Wichita Falls to Fort Worth.

James Reed of Fort Worth was listed in critical condition in a Fort Worth hospital. The others, including driver Bobby Ray Boudreaux of Wichita Falls, were in satisfactory condition at hospitals in Fort Worth and Bridgeport.

'Blue Boxes' Pro Posts Bail

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Houston electronics expert J.L. Patterson was out on $25,000 bond today after his conviction Friday of defrauding Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. with the use of "blue boxes."

A blue box is a device which emits a special tone which allows the caller to avoid long distance toll charges.

Lignite coal-fired power plants like this cost more than twice as much to build as gas-fired plants.

But we have to build them because we're running out of natural gas.

The generating unit you see here is being built right now at Martin Lake, near Henderson in East Texas. It will make electricity by burning lignite coal. It will also cost more than two times as much as a comparable gas-fired unit.

So why are we building it? Because new supplies of natural gas, our traditional boiler fuel, are increasingly hard to get and much more costly. The higher cost of lignite plants means electricity will have to cost you more. But lignite fuel costs less, which in the long run will slow the rising cost of electricity.

Electricity is a good value today when you consider that during the past 10 years it has gone up only about 25%, while the cost of living has gone up 68%.

At Texas Electric we're working to make sure you'll continue having the electricity you need. And that it won't cost any more than it has to.

Liquor By The Liter?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The familiar half-pint of booze, often snuggled in the American hip pocket, will be a thing of the past under a new Treasury Department plan.

In fact, in the spirit of metric conversion, the department proposes to do away with the half-pint, pint, fifth, quart and other measures familiar to U.S. drinkers.

The elixir itself isn't threatened, just the standard size bottles it comes in. Treasury is asking drinkers of liquor to join wine lovers in the forefront of the United States' conversion to the metric system.

The department's Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms formally proposed on Tuesday that distilled spirits sold in the United States be packaged in six standard size metric bottles by Jan. 1, 1979.

The changeover would begin next Jan. 1 with both metric and non-metric bottles in use during the interim period.

A changeover of wine bottles to metric sizes already is under way, also to be completed in 1979.

There are eight bottle sizes under consideration, with hearings scheduled for Sept. 10 in Washington on the change.

Cigars Quiz To Reveal Smoke, Very Little Fire?

DALLAS (AP) — A spokesman for the Dallas Federal Reserve Bank says an investigation proposed by U.S. Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., into a $79.75 expenditure for cigars will reveal a lot of smoke, but very little fire.

Patman said a study by the House Banking Committee staff showed the Dallas bank spent that much on cigars in 1974.

Patman, a longtime critic of the Federal Reserve System, called the expenditure "a classic case of misuse of public funds."

Robert H. Boykin, speaking for the Dallas federal reserve bank, said its staff puts cigars on the tables when directors meet.

"I guess that's where the $79.75 went," he said. "I'm surprised that the congressman would complain."

Boykin said the cigars had become a tradition, explaining they had been passing them out to directors for the past 22 years.

Patman, who has tried unsuccessfully to get an audit of the Federal Reserve System, has asked that Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi order an investigation of what Patman called "questionable spending" by member banks.

A report by the House committee showed "new, intermediate and veteran employees of all the federal reserve banks were dined, birthdayed, and mentored to a remarkable degree."

Boykin said the only "memento" the Dallas bank gives is a pin with a diamond chip for 25 years service.

Three-Wheeled Car Trial Date Set For Transsexual

DALLAS (AP) — Jerry Dean Michael, wearing a blue and white flowered pantsuit, pink turtle-neck sweater and black woman's sandals sat smoking and chatting with officials as a judge set Aug. 18 for his trial on charges of conspiracy to commit theft.

State Criminal District Court Judge B. Zimmermann set Aug. 4 for a pre-trial hearing for several motions, including one by the defense for a change of venue.

Michael's laughter and chatter with his federal escort caused Zimmermann to call for order twice during the Tuesday hearing, pointing both times at Michael. Michael, a federal prisoner, was escorted by Deputy U.S. Marshal Henry G. White.

Michael is under indictment in Dallas County for conspiracy to commit theft of more than $10,000 in connection with sale of phony stocks and car dealerships for 20th Century Motor Car Corp. from August 1974 to January 1975.

Though he also faces trial in Los Angeles, Calif., in connection with promotion of the "Dale," a three-wheeled car, Michael said he would like to return to California to promote a redesigned version of the car. He said the car would get 70 miles per gallon of gasoline, but authorities said only an unproven model exists.

Michael, 47, has said he is a transsexual. He prefers to be known as G. Elizabeth Carmichael, the name he used while claiming to be president of the motor corporation.

Transferred Saturday to Dallas County Jail from Los Angeles County Jail, he has been isolated in the male section of jail. In U.S. District Court in Los Angeles, he was sentenced to one year in prison for jumping bail after a counterfeiting arrest in 1962.

Before Tuesday's hearing, Michael said he plans to write an autobiography tentatively entitled "Over the Next Hill, the Dale." He added he has received letters of support from the public.

Michael is under indictment here for theft of more than $200 arising from his short stay in Dallas while promoting the "Dale" last January.

Final Decision Monday In $26.7 Million Suit

BRYAN, Tex. (AP) — A state district court judge says he will make his final decision Monday on the $26.7 million breach of contract suit filed by the Lower Colorado River Authority against Coastal States Gas Producing Co.

Judge W. C. Davis listened to final arguments from both sides Tuesday and then told attorneys for both sides he will consider the case the rest of the week.

"I wish I had the wisdom to tell you my decision right now," the judge said as he closed the second day of final arguments.

A jury of six men and six women Friday put an end to 17 hours of deliberation when it found mostly in favor of LCRA in 21 issues presented to it.

The jury, however, left it to the judge to consider the questions of law involved in the case and issue a decision on the possible financial settlement.

The jury determined in favor of LCRA 16 of 21 issues. Five were decided in favor of Coastal States, but were conditioned to issues decided in favor of LCRA.

LCRA filed the suit seeking to recover money it said it paid to Coastal States above gas prices specified in a 20-year contract signed in 1962 with Coastal States.

Coastal States argued that the contract was nullified in 1973 when the Texas Railroad Commission issued a ruling allowing suppliers to pass through to buyers additional costs in the acquisition of new gas reserves.

The commission's decision has been the basis for Coastal States' arguments in the case. Chief Counsel Tracy DuBose told the judge that the court has no authority to overturn the commission's ruling.

DuBose argued that LCRA's suit is really an attack on the commission and that the Central Texas utility should sue the commission directly instead of Coastal States.

LCRA chief counsel Hume Cofer said the commission has no authority to change provisions of the 1962 contract. He argued that the jury found in favor of LCRA and that, based on it, the court should issue a judgement in favor of the utility.

Decorating Dental Work Is New Form Of Body Art

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "More and more people are doing it — it's quite nice and very personal," says the 33-year-old Wachtel. He said he's adorned the teeth of 36 patients in the last year.

Wachtel, whose own teeth are still pearly white, says his stock in trade includes sunbursts, stars, airplanes, anchors, lightning rods, signs of the zodiac "and any design somebody wants."

The patient draws the design in any color or colors and lab technicians paint it on the cap and bake on a glaze. The patient has a week to decide before the cap is cemented. If he changes his mind, the design is ground off and the cap reglazed.

A fancy fang costs no more than a plain white cap, Wachtel says.

Wachtel says he first hit upon the idea of ornamented teeth when a patient complained that the cap he was about to install looked too plain and suggested a design.

"I've been suggesting designs for caps ever since. Like tattoos, they're a very personal form of expression," Wachtel says.

Bob Sagesar, an architectural draftsman and sailor, ordered a blue anchor for his tooth and says he's sorry it isn't on a front tooth.

"Mostly, I don't show it to people," he admits. "But if they want to see it, they just have to look way back in there."

"I always wanted a tattoo, so I did it on my tooth" says Michelle Hubbell, a sales clerk. She got an astrological symbol for Mercury rising.

She says most people like it but that a few think it's "bizarre and horrible."

Arlene Glazer, an administrative assistant, ordered a five-pointed star on her left bicuspid. She says she isn't sorry.

BEAUTIFICATION AWARD—One of the beautification awards made by the Chamber of Commerce beautification committee Thursday went to Mrs. Dorothy Garrett for the complete remodeling and landscaping of a building at 110 W. 22nd. Now it serves as the sparkling headquarters for Garrett interests. Pictured are Gary Turner, Ann Turner, Sue Garrett, Mrs. Garrett, also Daryl Hohertz, Edna Womack, committee members, and Terry Hanson, Chamber manager. Other awards went to TESCO for its new grounds, and to Little & Little at 500 Johnson.

WILL AUDIT COPS Snooping Gear Illegally Used?

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe's Criminal Justice Division (CJD) has confirmed it will audit a number of police and sheriffs' departments to assure they have not illegally used electronic listening devices purchased with federal money funneled through the agency.

Mary Ellen Keith, assistant general counsel, said Tuesday that CJD auditors and evaluators will look into each of the 28 grants, totaling $100,000, to buy electronic surveillance gear.

She said the equipment was not intended to "bug" telephone calls or private conversations, and if any instances of illegal use are uncovered they will be referred to federal or state prosecutors.

The agency also can make a local law enforcement unit return equipment or give back the money, she said.

The audits were ordered in response to inquiries from the U.S. Law Enforcement Assistance Administration (LEAA) and to newspaper reports on the grants.

For several months, the agency—the Texas conduit for LEAA grants—has had a policy against providing money for such equipment, Mrs. Keith said.

"We researched the law and in an abundance of caution we took the most restrictive view possible," she said.

One law that some think applies is a rider that has been in every state appropriations bill back to at least 1971. It prohibits use of appropriated funds, including federal money, to buy devices "used for the purpose of overhearing or recording oral conversation made in private or conversation made by wire."

But Mrs. Keith said the devices were such things as body transmitters, used to protect undercover agents making narcotics purchases, and "beepers" to help police trail suspect vehicles.

These, she said, do not involve listening to private conversations or telephone calls, even though a suspected narcotics dealer or user might not know his words are being picked up by a transmitter.

"There have been many federal court decisions that define a private conversation. A private conversation is a situation in which neither party wishes the content of the conversation to go out," Mrs. Keith said. "So when one party is recording a conversation it is not a private conversation."

But, she said, she had been instructed by CJD general counsel Willis Whalley to "go to the law library and research it to the Nth degree."

Mrs. Keith said "interference kits" purchased by the Department of Public Safety and containing miniature microphones and clandestine records were obtained with "discretionary" grants given directly to DPS by the LEAA to fight organized crime. The money did not funnel through the criminal justice division as does most other grants.

DPS attorney Norman Suarez said the department does not tap telephone wires as a matter of policy.

Judge Carrillo Gets Final Opportunity To Speak Out

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — State District Court Judge O. P. Carrillo has a final opportunity to testify today in a special House committee's investigation of his alleged wrongdoing in Duval County.

The committee repeatedly has invited Carrillo to testify, but his attorney, Arthur Mitchell, has advised him not to.

Carrillo's former receptionist testified Tuesday that the judge personally directed the drafting of Duval County pay vouchers for four men who did no county work.

Zenaida Montemayor told the committee the judge would tell her to remind the judge's clerk, J. H. Saenz, to fill out the claim forms in time to submit them to the county commissioners' court.

"The judge said not to forget the claims," she said she told Saenz.

She said the judge fired her last April 16 because he thought she had had a party with County Judge Archer Parr and others in Jerry's Diner in San Diego, when in reality all that had happened was that several people drank coffee there, including Parr.

Moments before she testified, Saenz told the committee that so far as he knew, the judge was unaware of the vouchers.

Saenz refused at first to testify on these vouchers on the grounds of self-incrimination, but the committee granted him immunity from prosecution and demanded answers.

He was recalled to the witness chair after the former receptionist testified, but stuck to his story regarding vouchers for Roberto Elizondo, Tomas Elizondo, Patricio Garza and Arturo Zertuche.

Saenz admitted under questioning that each month he signed the names of Roberto Elizondo and Patricio Garza to vouchers calling for $225, then notarized the signatures as genuine.

Rep. Bob Hendricks, D-McKinney, moved to have Saenz' testimony referred to the Travis County Grand Jury for possible prosecution for perjury. Other committee members agreed informally but then decided to wait and refer other witnesses' testimony to the grand jury at the same time.

The immunity from prosecution applies only when truthful answers are given.

Earlier, the secretary of the Duval County Grand Jury testified that Carrillo and exclusive South Texas rancher-banker Clinton Manges illegally discussed grand jury business with grand jury members.

Aurelio Correa testified that he met with Manges and grand jury commissioner Manuel Amaya in Jerry's Diner on the night of Feb. 2, the day before the grand jury was impaneled.

"He (Manges) expressed the wish that things be cleaned up in Duval County, and it sounded like a good idea," Correa said.

He quoted Manges as saying, "Those people we feel we can grant immunity to, we will grant immunity to."

The committee's attorney, Terry Doyle, told Correa it seemed strange to him that Manges would know the makeup of the grand jury prior to the formation of the grand jury.

"We do strange things in Duval County," Correa said.

Correa said he met with Manges, George Parr, Carrillo and some other men in Carrillo's office on Feb. 14. Manges indicated he thought Rudy Couling, business manager for the Benavides Independent School District, should be indicted in the matter.

Correa said he saw Manges again on the evening of Feb. 19 eating in Wayne's Restaurant in Alice. He said Manges asked him to go with him to Rio Grande City.

En route, Correa said, Manges direct dialed from memory the office and home numbers of Dist. Atty. Arnulfo Guerra of Rio Grande City and Carrillo. Manges wanted Guerra to draft writs of attachment to seize Duval County records the following day from the county auditor, Correa said.

They drove to Manges' ranch, he said, where they were met by Robert Forche, now special investigator for the district attorney.

Correa said Forche came out to the car carrying a pistol and what looked like a submachinegun. He put the pistol in his belt and asked Manges, "Clint, are we going anywhere where I'll need anything bigger than this?" Correa quoted Forche as saying, indicating the submachinegun.

Manges assured Forche no such weapon would be needed.

They also met at the ranch with Jose Nichols, foreman of the grand jury and also foreman of Manges' ranch.

Correa said Manges wanted the two lawyers, Foster and Orr, indicted as well as the Benavides ISD business manager.

Eight At Webb Given Recognition, Awards

Recognition and awards went to eight military members at Webb AFB recently.

Sgt. Terry L. Witt and A1C Charles R. Chapple were selected Noncommissioned Officer and Airman of the Quarter for Air Base Group. Sergeant Witt is the base assignments specialists in Consolidated Base Personnel while Airman Chapple is a staff writer for the base newspaper.

Sgt. Augustin G. Candia and A1C Charles W. Bromm were picked Noncommissioned Officer and Airman of the Quarter in the Supply Squadron while Sgt. Steve Mowels and A1C Rebecca S. Simerly received the monthly honors for June.

Sgt. Mowels' main duty is the research of non-stock listed items.

The first of Supply's "fair force" to be selected for the title, A1C Rebecca S. Simerly works in the Management and Procedures administrative section.

Sgt. Houston S. Bailey of Organizational Maintenance was picked T-37 Crew Chief of the Month by student and instructor pilots of the 82nd and 3389th Flying Training Squadrons. He works on Delta row on the flight line.

Capt. Richard Frey was selected T-37 instructor Pilot

Norma Agrees To Pay Taxes

DALLAS (AP) — Norma's Cafe, a Dallas restaurant closed last week by State Comptroller Bob Bullock for nonpayment of more than $45,000 in sales taxes, was expected to reopen today, said owner Norma Manis.

Mrs. Manis said she had agreed to meet Bullock's conditions that she pay $10,000 initially and the remainder at $2,000 per month.

Purchase Of Costlier Computer Recommended

A sales representative of IBM Monday recommended County Commissioners Court buy their Systems 3 computer for tax office and other county business instead of a less expensive IBM computer suggested earlier.

The representative said that the Systems 3 computer always would be able to hold all information the county needed stored because of removable storage disks which the Systems 32 computer does not have. The Systems 3 purchase price was quoted at $54,000 while the smaller computer cost $37,000.

RENT

He also reported that the larger computer could be rented for $1,767 per month, service included, and that 45 per cent of the rental fees could be applied to the purchase of the computer, up to half the cost of the machine.

If the machine is purchased outright, he added that the county would have to pay $356 per month for maintenance and a $3,000 to $5,000 implementation fee.

The Commissioners Court heard a representative from the NCR Corporation two weeks ago concerning their computer.

The IBM representative said that the NCR system and his system are about the same price and have about the same capabilities.

DELINQUENT TAXES

The commissioners also heard a report on delinquent County taxes from county tax assessor-collector, Mrs. Zirah Bednar.

She reported that the total amount of delinquent taxes owed the county since 1939 is $87,215. She said that most of the amount is taxes owed for the past five years.

TRAPPER HIT

Mrs. Bednar mentioned delinquent taxes owed to Howard College (48,318) and to the state (32,363).

Delegate Is Back

Mrs. Willie Graham, Big Spring, recently returned from Washington, D. C., where she attended the eighth quadrennial convention of the Women's Missionary Society and Young People's Division of the African Methodist Episcopal Church. The conclave was held July 6-10.

The quadrennial had 5,000 persons in attendance, the largest ever.

The theme of the conference was "Past - Present - Springboard to the Future." "The Emerging Woman, Her Emphasis and Impact" was the theme used at the Centennial luncheon.

Among speakers heard were C. Delores Tucker, Pennsylvania's secretary of state; and Janey Williams, head of the communications Department of Tennessee State University.

Heading the Texas Episcopal delegation to the convention were Mrs. Dolly Adams, supervisor of the Tenth District; and Mrs. Verda P. Owens, state president.

Of the 18 districts represented, the Tenth District of Texas captured the following honors: First place trophy for the largest amount of money contributed for further research in the area of Sickle Cell Anemia, $8,000; the WMS Plaque for outstanding work, and first place in the Scrapbook Competition which was compiled from materials contributed from each Conference in the State of Texas.

Mrs. Graham, director of Promotion and Missionary Education of the Northwest Texas Conference, first vice chairman Area Two and district missionary was named Who's Who among Black A. M. E. Church Women; along with Mrs. Venora Williams, Big Spring, district Secretary, and Secretary of Area Two.

Mrs. Graham and Mrs. Bessie Lankford, local president, will attend the State Missionary Convocation to be held on the Campus of Paul Quinn College, Waco, Texas beginning July 21.

Water Account Is On Agenda

The directors of Howard County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 will discuss a delinquent water account at a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

The City of Coahoma is the district's only customer and was successfully sued for nonpayment of full bill amounts.

Also, at the district office Thursday, the board will consider office help and hear about a change in bookkeeping procedures.

Seeing a letter notifying the county of increased rates for the "government trapper," County Commissioner Jack Buchanan made a complaint.

Orville R. Starritt, the trapper paid through a U.S. Department of Interior program, was working only on a few big ranches in one corner of the county, Buchanan said.

Buchanan indicated the trapper was not working hard enough. The file of 1975 monthly reports to the county was not complete.

In addition to the government trapper, Earl Brownrigg is employed as the county trapper. Commissioner Ikie Ruppard defended employment of the government trapper from Coahoma mentioning rabies cases which he blamed on wild animals.

Effective September 1, the county will be paying $325 monthly for the government trapper. Howard County now is charged $300 monthly.

The salary of the government trapper is being increased to $442 monthly plus 16 cents per mile travel allowance.

Buchanan and Commissioner Simon (Cy) Terrazas also complained about the price charged the county for diesel, 34 cents per gallon.

Pat Boatler sells the county fuel obtained from American Petrofina.

State Troopers and the sheriff's office were authorized to use basement office space.

The jail elevator runs through the office space. Sheriff A. N. Standard mentioned moving darkroom and identification equipment downstairs.

OFFICE EXPANDED
On the third floor, Peace Justice Gus Ochotorena Jr. has expanded his office into a women's lounge.

Ochotorena was moved to the third floor into a small office to keep Peace Justice Walter Grice from resigning.

Standard acknowledged that Ochotorena needed the additional space, but the sheriff wanted a quiet place for his female deputies to take breaks.

"All the other facilities that we have are open in the courthouse," Standard said.

State Trooper Ken Joyce spoke for Highway Patrolmen stationed in Big Spring.

Movie Filming Is Under Way

DICKENS - Filming for the new Roy Rogers movie, "Mackintosh and T.J." will get under way Monday on the Pitchford and 6666 ranches near here.

The film will be Rogers' first in 21 years. It is the story of the adventure of a loner who befriends a 13-year-old boy, set in modern times.

Location shooting will require about four weeks. The film is budgeted at $1 million. The cast and filming crew number about 125 and will be quartered both in Lubbock and Dickens.

Rogers' co-star will be Clay O'Brien, who will play the boy. He has appeared in several Walt Disney movies.

Morgan Wins Gates Award

Ernie Morgan Jr., an operator at Ernie's Fina Station, received a special "Mystery Car" award from a representative of the Gates Rubber Co. this week.

The award, a plaque bearing three Eisenhower silver dollars and two Kennedy half dollars, was presented to Morgan for outstanding customer service when he caught the Gates "Mystery Car."

Morgan discovered worn parts on the car and offered to replace them.

Rail, Postal Talks Pressed

WASHINGTON (AP) - Railroad and union negotiators worked to resolve their contract differences by tonight or face the possibility of congressional intervention against a nationwide rail strike threatened for Monday.

Federal mediators indicated progress was made during a long Tuesday night session with representatives of the railroads and the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks. But there was a bleaker outlook in contract talks for 600,000 postal workers.

W.J. Usery Jr., chief White House labor troubleshooter, said issues in the postal talks were "tougher than I thought they would be."

Usery, who has been trying to coax agreements in the separate rail and postal negotiations, planned a private meeting today with Postmaster General Benjamin F. Bailar.

Strikes are threatened to begin at midnight Sunday in both the rail and postal disputes.

Usery has said if a settlement isn't reached by tonight with the railroads, the Ford administration will consider asking Congress for special legislation to resolve the dispute.

The 117,000-member clerks union is seeking a settlement somewhat different from an agreement accepted earlier by other railway unions providing for a 41 per cent boost in wages and benefits over three years. Sources said industry bargainers submitted a revised contract proposal to the clerks Tuesday night.

In the postal talks, Usery said he was "still hopeful" of achieving a settlement but acknowledged that several "tough" issues need to be resolved.

Meanwhile, the president of the largest of four postal unions involved in the talks summoned his executive board to an emergency meeting here Friday "because of the critical state of our negotiations with the Postal Service."

In a message to union locals, President Francis Filbey of the American Postal Workers Union urged his 200,000 members to remain on the job until an agreement is reached or until the board "determines that a different course of action is warranted."

The board is the only body authorized to call a strike.

The postal unions are insisting on retention of a no-layoff clause in a new two-year contract and other job security provisions in addition to an unspecified wage increase. For its part, the Postal Service wants more flexibility in work schedules and in introducing efficiency measures.

postal workers from striking, but the unions have said they won't work without a contract.

Mexican-American Units Rap VA Hiring Policy

DALLAS (AP) — Representatives of two Mexican-American organizations will meet directors of the Dallas Veterans Administration Hospital today to discuss charges that the hospital has neglected the hiring of Mexican-Americans.

The two groups are the GI Forum and the League of United Latin American Citizens (LULACS) which have threatened to take "drastic measures" against the VA hospital unless a Spanish program—including a fulltime Spanish speaking coordinator—is established.

Neither group has said what the "drastic measures" would be. Hospital director E. P. Whitaker has said that the creation of the special program would be a "waste of time." He said he already has a man who handles a Spanish-speaking program and "more than half of his time" is spent in that capacity each week.

The two Mexican-American organizations have referred to a report by the National Council of La Raza prepared for President Ford in which Mexican-American groups claim that the VA's "affirmative action is anything but affirmative."

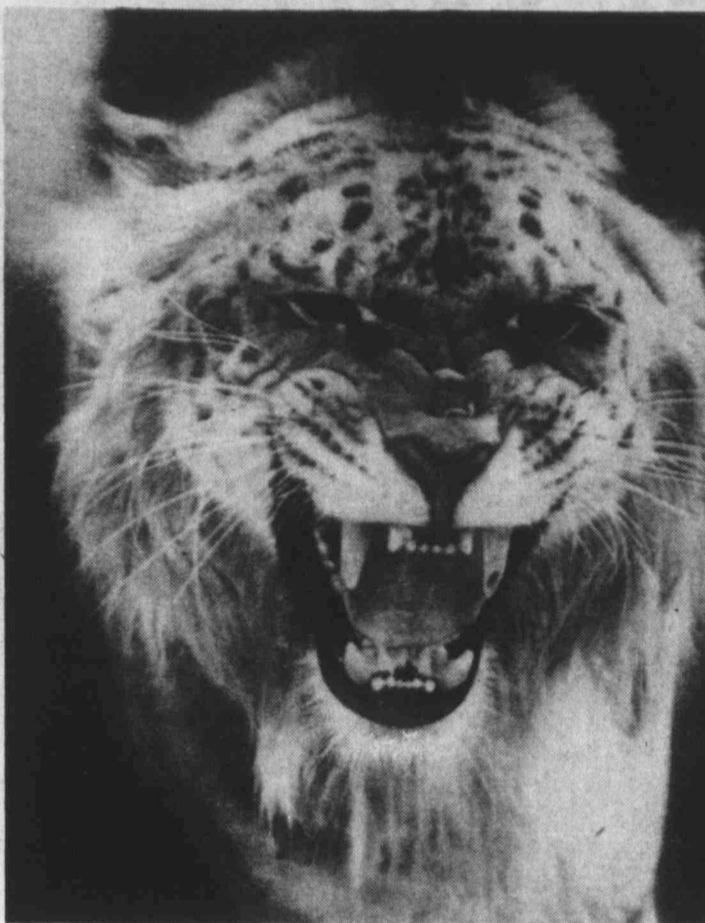

The report charges that the VA "lacks equitable employment representation of Mexican-Americans in virtually all employment areas."

Ancient Auto Is Missing

A car that is fast becoming a vintage model turned up missing here Tuesday.

Richard Keifer, 38, of 1704 Main, was in the process of moving to Midland when he discovered that a 1947 Plymouth has been stolen from a storage shed back of his residence.

If it's on the road, it may be easily spotted, but it may simply have been moved to another shed, police said.

Ezell Will Deliver Talk

State Representative Mike Ezzell, Snyder, will be the featured speaker at the Big Spring State Hospital Quarterly Volunteer Council Luncheon Thursday at noon in Allred Auditorium.

Ezell, a member of the Appropriations Committee, has just finished his first Legislative session.

Theme of the luncheon will be "Let the Sun Shine In," and certificates will be presented to two volunteer groups for their outstanding service.

DINNERS ON — A Tiglon, the result of a cross between a male Bengal tiger and an African lioness, displays his bite at a safari park in Sandusky, Ohio. The cross-breeding of the two natural enemies produced an animal with the color of a lion and the stripes of a tiger. There are only four Tiglons in the world.

Blind Cyclist Steers By Ear

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Jeff Meyer looks like any 15-year-old out riding a bicycle with his father. Recently he pedaled 150 miles on winding roads in two days.

But Jeff is blind and has epilepsy.

While bicycle riding, his father blows a whistle to guide the husky youngster along the right-of-way and out of danger.

When Jeff was 2, his parents, William and Peggy Meyer, were told at UCLA's Neurological Center that their only child was blind and had paralysis and epilepsy.

"The neurologist told us that Jeff would never be much more than a vegetable," said Meyer, an attorney. "But my wife showed courage you would never believe. She said she would never consent, never, that she would find a way, that our son would be helped."

In an interview, Mrs. Meyer said she was determined "there was no need for tears, or guilt, or self-defensive feelings."

The Meyers moved to Chicago, where Jeff was enrolled in a Doman-Delacato patterning method class, with manipulated exercises designed to reproduce normal activity.

Five volunteers worked with Jeff four times a day for months, and he overcame the paralysis.

The epileptic seizures of the grand mal type began when he was 6, but oral medicine taken three times a day has reduced them.

Jeff will enter Mission Bay High School in September, but he refuses to wear identification tags that spell out his afflictions.

"His attitude is excellent," says his father. "He wants to be self-sufficient. He's going to be."

Harte-Hanks Earnings Up

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Harte-Hanks Newspapers, Inc. reported today earnings per share of 49 cents for the quarter ended June 30, compared with 40 cents per share reported for the same period in 1974.

Robert G. Marbut, president and chief executive officer of the San Antonio based communications group, said net income rose 22 per cent, from $1,757,000 to $2,136,000.

Revenues for the quarter were $22,857,000, compared to $20,001,000 in the same quarter of 1974.

Net income for the first six months of 1975 reached $3,597,000, up 21 per cent over the first six months of 1974. Year-to-date earnings per share in 1975 were 82 cents, up 21 per cent over 68 cents for the comparable period of 1974.

Marbut said capital expenditures for 1975 are expected to be about $5 million.

Marbut said the regular quarterly dividend paid June 30 to stockholders of record June 1 was increased from 5 cents to 7 1/2 cents per share.

Rebels' Stevens In Fold

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas baseball coach Cliff Gustafson said today the national champion Longhorns have signed eight prospects, including two major league draft choices.

Gustafson said letters of intent were signed by left-hander Bob Heuck of San Antonio Marshall, a fifth-round professional draft choice, and right-hander Kim Wright of Paris, Tex., a third round choice. Both are pitchers.

The Longhorns also signed two junior college transfers, Karl Pagel from Glendale, Ariz., Community College, and Rocky Thompson, a third baseman, catcher and outfielder from Blinn Junior College in Brenham.

Other signees are all-state first baseman Bobby Stevens of Midland Lee; infielder Ted Wendland of Austin McCallum; third baseman Keith Ferguson of Carrollton Turner, and pitcher-shortstop Ashley Walker of Mount Pleasant.

Named Abilene Grid Assistant

ABILENE — Gary Sutton, former all-state football player for Ozona High School, has been named head defensive line coach at Abilene High School.

Sutton has been serving as an assistant line coach at San Angelo Central High School, doubling as an assistant coach in track and field there.

As a member of the Baylor University football team in 1968, Sutton was named to the All-Southwest Conference team. He played in the East-West game at San Francisco after completing his collegiate eligibility.

Steve Sledge is making a habit of aces. Monday he repeated a feat of three weeks ago by slapping a 5-iron 200 yards to ace No. 1. The ball hit short of the green and trickled about 20 yards into the cup. He was playing with Steve Brantley.

Three weeks ago he whacked his tee shot with the wind from No. 18 and it ran until it plunked into the cup 321 yards away for not only an ace, but almost unheard of a double eagle.

A week from Thursday, the West Texas Junior Golf Tour will stop by and say hello first at Big Spring's Municipal Course then July 25 knocking on at the Country Club.

Pros are Charles Brantley at the Municipal Course and C. G. Griffin at the Country Club. The tour started June 11 at the Denver City Yookum Country Club and will terminate play Aug. 8 at the San Angelo Country Club.

Age brackets include: 12 and 13; 14 and 15; 16 and 17; and 18. Entry fee is $2 per player. Any junior golfer residing in the West Texas chapter area as well as 18-year-olds with high school eligibility left are encouraged to compete.

The Tournament of Champions will be played at the Odessa Country Club, Aug. 13 and 14. Practice rounds are to be fired Aug. 12 at 1:30 p.m.

Only those who have won a tour event are eligible. There will be no entry fee. Winners will play in their respective age group at the time of the tournament.

Dallas Cowboys Coach Tom Landry has finished repairing his offense and now will move to the other side and ready his defense for the team's drive back into the playoffs this season.

"There's no escaping the fact we missed the playoffs," said Landry. "But I'm fairly confident our failure to gain them was due to two things. One was the players strike and the other was World Football League signing of a number of our players."

Landry believes his club has a good chance of being back in the playoffs this year based on a good off-season program, a good training camp and a good start in September at top level of efficiency. "If we do these things, we'll have a good chance to get back," he said.

WHAT'S IT WORTH DEPARTMENT — Infielder Mike Hargrove and Billy Martin (as a coach) were the only two Texas Rangers on the American All-Stars.

Houston had one representative on the National roster, Bob Watson.

A'S DOING WELL Beat Goes On In AL Western

OAKLAND (AP) — This was going to be the year it ended. Billy Martin's upstart Texas Rangers were stronger. Kansas City would mount a serious challenge throughout the season. And either would be capable of doing in an Oakland club which had lost its biggest fish.

But the beat goes on in the American League West, where the Oakland A's, minus Catfish Hunter, are doing very well, thank you.

So well they can wrap up a fifth straight division title with less than break-even baseball the rest of the season, provided owner Charles O. Finley has it figured right.

Finley says 90 victories can "keep it alive in '75" for his three-time world champions. That's how many the A's won last year after coming up to the All-Star break with a 55-41 record and a nine-game lead.

At this year's recess, the A's are 55-32 with an 8½ game lead over Kansas City.

One important reason Oakland is so far on top is that they have avoided serious injuries. The only regulars to miss more than four games have been Bert Campaneris (eight) and Bill North (seven).

Kansas City, meanwhile, had to go three weeks without dangerous Amos Otis and had pitchers Nelson Briles and Lindy McDaniel on the shelf for a month each.

A's Manager Alvin Dark isn't convinced 90 victories will send his team "toward another World Series." "Kansas City is too good for that," he says, but the Royals must improve on a 47-41 record.

Dark says the Royals are

MILWAUKEE (AP) — National Leaguers may fight among themselves during the regular season but there's nothing like the sight of American League uniforms to get them together once each summer.

"These guys battle each other tooth and nail during the season," Manager Walter Alton said, "but at an All-Star game, it's great to see the enthusiasm and cheering. I'm proud of them all."

Alton's National League squad beat the American League 6-3 Tuesday night in the 46th midseason classic. It was the NL's 12th triumph in the last 13 meetings.

Alvin Dark, the AL manager from Oakland who saw his club rally from a 3-0 deficit and tie the score — only to give up three runs in the ninth inning — said: "Wait 'til next year."

Bill Madlock, the Chicago Cubs' third baseman, and Jon Matlack of the New York Mets who pitched the seventh and eighth innings, were named co-winners of the Commissioners Trophy, the most valuable player award.

Madlock, the National League's leading batter making his first All-Star appearance in a reserve role, singled past third baseman Graig Nettles for two runs, breaking the 3-3 tie.

Since both Madlock and Matlack have sound-alike names, each thought the other had won the MVP award.

Matlack, who gained the victory and allowed only one hit, striking out four, said: "Some guy grabbed both of us and told us we had both won. Fantastic! I was awestruck!"

Matlack was warming up in the bullpen when Boston's Carl Yastrzemski cracked the first pitch off right.

Battle Pitches 2-Hitter

Dick Battle contained Big Spring Hardware on two hits while striking out 11 as the Senior Teen-Age Kiwanians won 1-0, Tuesday night.

The victory for the Kiwanians earned them championship rights.

Ray Don Box and John Morelino of the Kiwanians hit the ball for two hits apiece. Albert Alvarez allowed only five safeties, but was charged with the loss.

Hagey Tops In Singles

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — The second-seeded Trinity University team of Bill Matyastuk and David King was defeated 6-4, 4-6, 6-3, Tuesday by Mike Czarniecki of Wake Forest and Richard Finger of Houston at the National Men's and Women's Amateur Grass Court Tennis Championships here.

In women's singles, second-seeded Susan Hagey of Stanford University beat Robin Kahn of Long Beach State College 6-5, 6-1. She is the sister of Chico Hagey, now a professional, who won the men's title last year.

Third-seeded Lele Foorod of Stanford defeated Gayle Godwin of UCLA, the Junior Wightman Cup captain, 6-0, 6-2. Fourth-seeded Mary Hamm of Trinity University beat Carolyn Stoll of Livingston, N.J., 6-4, 6-5.

Top-seeded Jo Ann Russell of Trinity did not play Tuesday.

In men's doubles, the top-seeded team of Bill Baze of Stanford and Eric Friedler of the University of Michigan beat Tim Delaney and Manuel Diaz, both of the University of Georgia, 6-4, 6-4.

hander Tom Seaver of the Mets for a three-run homer to tie the score in the sixth inning. "I had a sinking feeling when the ball dropped only 15 to 20 feet from me," the left-hander said. "I knew we were in trouble."

In addition to Dark, there were seven members of the world champion Oakland A's on the AL squad. Most of them didn't help the cause.

In the crucial ninth, left fielder Claudell Washington dropped Reggie Smith's leadoff liner after a long run. Smith was credited with a single. Then Al Oliver of Pittsburgh doubled to the left field wall on a ball Washington seemingly could have caught but misjudged.

The New York Yankees' Catfish Hunter, the AL pitcher and eventual loser, then was replaced by Rich Gossage of the Chicago White Sox.

Gossage started out by hitting Philadelphia's Larry Bowa with a pitch, setting up Madlock's game-winning blow.

Cincinnati's Pete Rose followed with a sacrifice fly to left, scoring Bowa with the wrapup run.

The National League had opened the scoring in the second inning off Oakland's Vida Blue with consecutive home runs by Dodgers Steve Garvey and Jimmy Wynn.

The NL made it 3-0 in the third against Kansas City's Steve Busby when Lou Brock of St. Louis and Cincinnati's Johnny Bench did the things they do best.

Brock, the all-time base-stealing king, singled and unsettled Busby into committing a balk. Then he stole third and Bench followed with an RBI single down the left field line.

TUMBLING CATCH — National League right fielder Pete Rose of Cincinnati Reds dives for, rolls, and comes up with line drive by Bobby Bonds of New York Yankees in fifth inning of Tuesday night's 46th All-Star game at Milwaukee. National League won, 6-3.

Bench Subtly Helps National All-Stars

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Cincinnati catcher Johnny Bench is one of those all stars who, it seems, does his thing on an annual basis at baseball's midsummer classic.

"You get a little generated when you're able to make a big play at a time it gets you out of a tough situation," said Bench, who subtly helped the National League to a 6-3 victory over the frustrated American League Tuesday night. "It's kind of like hitting the ball out of the park."

Bench, who also knocked in his sixth All-Star run with a third-inning single off Kansas City's Steve Busby, is now 9-for-22 in eight All-Star games for a lofty .409 average.

Bench gunned a perfect throw to Los Angeles first baseman Steve Garvey to pick off Oakland's Bert Campaneris and end the fourth inning.

"He just jumped off," continued Bench. "I'd been trying to check in the dugout to see if they wanted me to throw down, but when Bobby Bonds lunged out at the pitch it really gave me a good opportunity to throw."

The American League had two runners on base with two out in the fourth, trying to cut into a 3-0 deficit with Bonds of the New York Yankees batting at the moment Bench nailed Campaneris.

"It just happened," said Campaneris. "Bench is the only one that could have got me."

The veteran shortstop was only one of several A's who left slightly the worse for wear, along with some of the game's other top stars.

New York Mets ace Tom Seaver was tagged for a three-run homer, a 400-foot clout, by Boston's Carl Yastrzemski that tied the score 3-3 in the sixth.

"I really don't feel embarrassed at all about giving up the home run," said Seaver. "I threw him a fastball that really didn't have too much on it and he really drilled it."

Captains Clip Drillers, 9-4

Home runs came in bunches Tuesday night as West Division leader Shreveport battled Lafayette, leading the East, in the only game played in the Texas League.

The Captains played the hitting talents of Mitchell Page and Mike Edwards to a 9-4 victory over Lafayette.

Page sparked the Captains' drive with a first-inning solo homer — his 16th of the year. Edwards came around in the second with a three-run blast and by the third inning, the Captains were out in front 6-0.

Lafayette woke up in the fourth with Gary Alexander's solo home run, and Jack Clark, the East's home run leader, blasted another in the sixth for the Drillers, but the rally was short-lived.

Tonight's schedule shows a repeat performance for the division leaders, as well as doubleheaders for Jackson at Midland, El Paso at Arkansas and San Antonio at Alexandria.

Players Pushed

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Boston Bruins hockey Coach Don Cherry has testified that he, in effect, pushed his players to the edge of violence during a disastrous National Hockey League road trip last winter.

That road trip brought the Bruins to Bloomington, Minn., last Jan. 4 for a game against the Minnesota North Stars. Several scraps developed in the first period between Dave Forbes of the Bruins and Henry Boucha of the North Stars, and Boucha suffered an eye injury.

Forbes, 26, is on trial in Hennepin District Court on a charge of aggravated assault with a dangerous weapon — his hockey stick. Conviction carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $5,000 fine. The case may go to the jury late today.

Cherry was the first witness called by the defense after prosecutor Gary Flakne rested his case. He said the road trip for Boston was its worst in five years.

"The pressure was really on me. We really had to win — it was an explosive game," Cherry told the jury of seven men and five women.

He said he felt his job was in jeopardy because of the losing road trip. "The pressure was on me and if the pressure is on me, it's on the players."

The coach said he told his players in the dressing room before the game, "If you don't get going, you're all going to be gone" to the minor leagues. Pregame events were pretty much routine, he said, except "there was a little added heat from me."

Cherry said his players were not aggressive enough last season and expressed the view that "hard body checking wins hockey games."

"It always has been my philosophy to win at all costs," Cherry said.

The Boston coach heatedly resisted a suggestion by Flakne that his "win at all costs" philosophy motivated his players to injure competing players.

"I'm telling you I didn't mean that," Cherry said.

The coach said Forbes was "a very distraught young man" and had tears in his eyes when he came to the Boston bench following the scrap with Boucha.

"He said, 'What have I done? What have I done?'" Cherry told the court. "I put my arms around him and I said, 'Let's take it easy and go to the dressing room.'"

After reaching the dressing room, Cherry said all Forbes "wanted to do was go to see Henry. He had tears in his eyes and his face was white as a ghost."

Broadway Joe Desires To Play 2 More Years

NEW YORK (AP) — "I would like to play with the Jets two more years." On that optimistic note, Broadway Joe Namath began final football negotiations with the New York Jets today, neither he nor his attorney taking a hard line.

"We never have had any serious problems," Namath said of his dealings with the team that signed him to a $400,000 bonus when he came out of the University of Alabama 10 years ago.

Namath, fresh from signing a $5 million contract to sell perfumes and cosmetics, was to join his attorney, Jimmy Walsh, in a bargaining session with Jets'

President Phil Iselin and the team's lawyer, Dick Barovick, over lunch. The site was not disclosed.

The Jets have offered Joe $1 million for three years but Namath said Tuesday that he only wanted to play two more years. It is expected that he will agree to $400,000-a-year deal for the two years.

Walsh himself has turned from his previous hard line, jocularly saying at Namath's press conference Tuesday: "I don't think Richard Barrie would put up $5 million if he thought Joe was going to cut out of football."

Under the contract, said to be the biggest ever given a celebrity for a promotional activity, Namath will receive $250,000 a year for 20 years. He will have renewal options after the eighth and 14th years.

Also, he stands to collect some more money from products to be put on the market in his name.

Sports Shorts

HOUSTON (AP) — Sidney L. Shlenker has replaced T.H. Neyland as president of the board of directors of the Houston Sports Association, owners of the Houston Astros, Judge Roy Hofheinz announced.

Hofheinz will remain as chairman of the three-man board and Neyland will remain as president of Astrodomain Corp., HSA's parent company.

Hofheinz said the change was made to simplify the HSA's management structure.

Hofheinz, Shlenker and Neyland comprise the HSA's board of directors under a recent reorganization of the management structure.

Shlenker came to Astrodomain as director of marketing, sales and advertising programs in 1970 and was named vice president of HSA in 1978.

Major Leaders

graduate of Johnson C. Smith College in Charlotte, N.C. aroused considerably publicity when he spurned the National Football League to play in Canada.

Russ Jackson, the Argo's coach, said that Corbett's inability to make the transition from tackle to offensive guard was the reason for his release.

DALLAS REPORT

Nine Leave

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League entered their second week of training today announcing that nine men had left camp either voluntarily or after being released by the team.

Sixty-nine players remained on the scene. Released via waivers were:

Doug Richards, wide receiver from Brigham Young; Harold Merkerson, wide receiver from Morris Brown; Scott Christman, quarterback from Oklahoma State; Kenneth Holt, quarterback from Florida A&M; Tony Parisi, defensive back from Wagner, and Ben Thomas, defense back from Kentucky.

Leaving camp on their own were:

Scott Hewitt of North Dakota, George Thomasek of Columbia, and Craig Schuette of Southern Illinois.

The Cowboys announced that middle linebacker Bob Breunig resumed non-contact practice work Tuesday.

Settlement Is Reached

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — An out of court settlement has been reached for a suit by San Antonio Spurs basketball star George Gervin against Walt Frazier Enterprises Inc.

The suit was dismissed Tuesday in federal court here after an agreement was reached over the issue of whether New York Knicks' star Walt Frazier represented Gervin as an agent.

Gervin's attorney, Richard B. Moore, said that the Walt Frazier organization had released Gervin and would no longer have any relationship with him as his agent.

Moore said the suit did not affect any contract Gervin has with the Spurs.

Gervin allegedly signed the contract before he joined the Spurs. The suit had maintained that there was no valid contract between Gervin and Frazier.

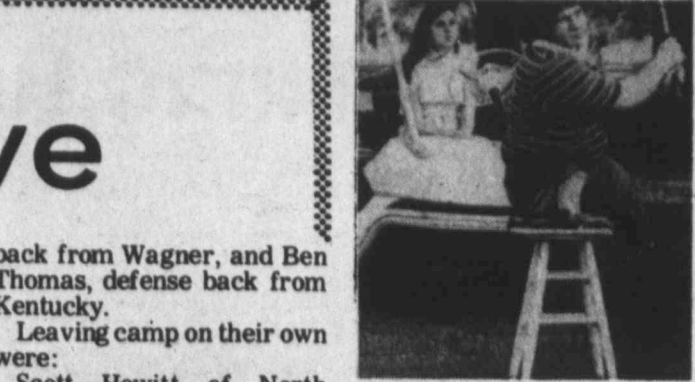

Connors Play Questionable

NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy Connors' right leg is in a cast and his manager, Bill Riordan, describes as "questionable" the possibility of the 22-year-old tennis star defending his U.S. Open title at Forest Hills later next month, the New York Times reported in its Wednesday edition.

Riordan had earlier reported that Connors tore a tendon in the leg during his first match at Wimbledon.

Riordan reportedly told the Times Tuesday that Connors, presently in Los Angeles, is eager to start playing again, but in the meantime plans a visit to Las Vegas, Nev., for singing lessons with Paul Anka.

The lessons were said to be in preparation for a duet the two will perform on Howard Cosell's television variety show this fall.

(AP WIREPHOTO) UNUSUAL HANDICAP — Dave Gaudin of New Orleans, La.; who lost both legs due to congenital birth defects, perches atop a stool to hit a tee shot as his wife Jeanne looks on. Gaudin, who vaults onto the step without assistance, believes he could shoot in the 80s consistently if he played more but most of his time goes to medical school studies.

Engagement Announced

The engagement and forthcoming marriage of Miss Debra Buchanan to Bill Bryant is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Buchanan of Luther. The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Bryant, Lubbock. The wedding will be Aug. 9 in the Coahoma Church of Christ.

Meeting Slated For Retirees

National Association of Retired and Veteran Railway Employees will meet Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the Kentwood Older Adult Center.

NUPTIALS — Mr. and Mrs. Jack F. Minchew, 3221 Duke, announce the engagement of their daughter, Jacalyn, to Robert G. Jones, son of Bobby Jones, Lubbock. They will be married Aug. 29 in the Anderson St. Church of Christ.

Dear Abby

Widow Wants Neither In 'Either-Or' Proposal

DEAR ABBY: I've been a widow for two years and have relocated to a completely different area where I have no close friends and no one to talk to about this. I met a gentleman last year, and I like him very, very much. He wants to marry me, but I don't want to relinquish my freedom. I do not want a legal tie with him for one reason. He is addicted to alcohol. He seems to handle it wisely, but I don't want to be his wife. Also, we are both in business and I need some time to myself. I enjoy his company enormously, however, and we are compatible in every way. I am 57 and he is 63.

I've considered suggesting to him the new "living together" arrangement so many younger people now find to their liking. He's pressuring me for an answer. What do you say? "57 AND HOLDING"

DEAR "57": Remain holding. Don't marry him feeling as you do. And don't suggest living together, either. Continue to see him as long as you enjoy his company, but if he gives you an "either-or," take the "or."

DEAR ABBY: The problem briefly: Our daughter (a good student at an out-of-town college) recently volunteered the information that she is a lesbian. We were stunned since we had no inkling of this. After discussions and correspondence on the subject, she flatly refuses any form of counseling and says that she is happy at the present time and sees no need to change. What more can we as parents do to keep her from ruining her life? We love her.

NEW YORKER: DEAR NEW YORKER: Why do you assume that her sexual preference will necessarily "ruin" her life? If you love her, accept her as she is and let her know it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO K: So if your husband wants to read "dirty" books, don't embarrass him by telling him you "found" them—knowing that he hid them from you. How can what he reads hurt you? Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L. A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Shower Honors Miss Newell

Miss Sheryl Newell, bride-elect of Doug Smith, was honored with a bridal shower Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. John Smith, 2806 Parkway.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Bill Stone and Mrs. Margaret Cooper. Miss Newell, who was attired in a floor-length blue dress, her mother, Mrs. J. C. Newell, her grandmother, Mrs. R. T. Newell, and Smith's mother, Mrs. Byron Smith, were presented corsages of carnations.

The table was covered with a gold cloth and centered with an arrangement of white daisies. Blue and

Knit Suit Has Snag Problem

Double-knit suits and slacks for men have tumbled in popularity — it could be the snag problem. Wool and wool blends are predicted to zoom as the choices for Mr. Well-Dressed America this fall, as opposed to the all-synthetic fabrics. And fellows will be happy to know wide lapels and slightly flared trouser legs are still very much in fashion.

Shower For Mrs. Harland

Mrs. Danny Harland was recently honored with a baby shower in the home of Mrs. Robert Beall, 2806 Crestline. Cohostesses were Mrs. M. A. Dunagan, Mrs. Clyde Denton, Mrs. Lloyd Morris, Mrs. Philip Burcham, Mrs. Ralph Dennis and Mrs. W. Davis.

presented a corsage of pink and white baby socks. Attending with her were Mrs. Billy Reed, sister, and Mrs. Gay Riddle, sister-in-law, both of Knott. A pink and blue stork centerpiece adorned the table where crystal and silver appointments were used.

UNCLE SAM SAVINGS BANK

UNCLE SAM MECHANICAL SAVINGS BANK
This authentic replica of an early American mechanical bank of the 1800's is made of hand cast iron. The bank stands 11 1/2" high and is hand-painted in red, white, and blue with golden buttons, stars and eagle design. The coins are placed in his right hand; when carpet-bag opens, the hand drops coins into bag and snaps shut. Even his whiskers move. Each comes in box.
