DALLAS (AP) - A police clerk and two other persons were in custody today in connection with the theft of $28,000 last February from the police department's property room.

Justice of the Peace Robert Cole set bond at $25,000 each for Vivian Charles Levy, 39, the clerk who was an alleged victim during the theft, Doris Jean Sanders, 26, and her brother, Billy Joe, 22.

The trio was charged Thursday night with theft over $10,000, a second degree felony.

Police said they recovered $4,600 of the cash taken. The money had been confiscated by police for evidence in criminal cases.

According to officers, Levy said he was alone at the time of the incident because his supervisor had been dispatched on what turned out to be a phony call.

Levy told investigators that while the supervisor was gone two bandits came through an unlocked rear door, threatened to kill him and demanded the money kept for evidence in the property room.

The clerk was found locked in the property room vault when the supervisor returned.

A police spokesman said investigators had thought all along that the crime was an inside job.

What Will It Be?

We see as through a glass darkly. Hence we cannot postulate with confidence what the future will be like. But some ideas were broached at a recent meeting of the World Future Society in Washington. What Carl Gustav Jung called the "crisis of the individual" has deepened, seminars on alternate lifestyles and human values disclosed. At least a generation of social activists, who looked to the expanded role of the federal government, has begun to look away. In its place is a growing distrust of government and an increasing faith in the individual, almost a tendency toward anarchy.

One of the most thoughful expressions of the changing present and emerging future was given by Thomas Wilson, vice president of the Aspen Institute for Human Values.

"We are moving from a world in which our values are based on notions that bigger is better; that air and water are free, land plentiful, energy cheap and abundant; and that science and technology can solve any problem given enough time and money; to a new set of assumptions that make up the coming value system," Wilson.

"This new set of values is seen in the reduction of the fertility rate, the reversal of population migragation from rural to urban America, the emergence of women's liberation and the growth of communitybased efforts by people to get control over their lives." Within the space of a little more than 18 months we have come to the end of an era. Most Americans have yet to recognize it, though. In the long run, we are apt to have less and less, rather than more and more. hope for the life of the spirit. Will we be a happier people? We can hope so. One of the most tragic manifestations of our frenetic way of life to have less and less, rather than more and more. The Giants Have Gone

For a generation accustomed to such names as Churchill, Roosevelt, Truman, Chaing, DeGaulle, Adenauer, Marshall and many others familiar to the free world, it is difficult to realize an elemental fact of life. All things change; no man is immortal.

These were the giants, and they are gone. Lesser personalities have come on the scene, but few with equal capacity for or inspiration to lead.

Columnist Patrick J. Buchanan recently wrote from Great Britain: "Lord how they need a Churchill now following. The following and speaking with military of-ficers, young politicians and diplomats from West crop of giants.

however, is up to us. It is true that to think something impossible is the way to make it so. How many feasible projects have been strangled at birth through doubt and fear. Emerson said selftrust is the essence of heroism.

You might also check the matter of pride. Strange that this would be involved in a case of poor acheivement, but it can be. Instead of a real abandonment to God, pride prompts reliance on selfish goals.

WASHINGTON — The dictionary defines serendipity as "an aptitude for making desirable discoveries by accident." It may not be accidental, but the Ford White House is making those discoveries every day as they put a non-elected President in an ever stronger position to win a full four-year term on his own in 1976.

SO MUCH ABOUT the Ford record is accidental that the President qualifies in the currency first given the word by Horace Walpole to be the pre-eminent Prince of Serendip.

At the same time, however, Ford and his close associates have shown a shrewd knack for exploiting those accidents.

It is, above all, a knowledge of how to succeed without really trying. This is based on a realization that the country wants peace and quiet after years of turmoil and dissension. In this perspective the man from Grand Rapids is not so much a Harry Truman as a Calvin Coolidge. If the voters were to go to the polls today, Ford would defeat any visible Democratic candidate, in my opinion.

LEE IS A no-nonsense ethnic Chinese with a Cambridge education, living in a world surrounded by dreamy, romantic Malays. As such, he has warned his neighbors about kow-towing to Peking and preached the necessity for a strong U.S. presence in the Western Pacific to balance both

China and the Soviet Union. He believes in the domino theory, in fact if not name. Realizing that Singapore cannot survive if the Communist wave spreads through all of Southeast Asia, he eyes the post-Vietnam build-up of Communist insurgency in Malaysia and Thailand with deepest concern. "We are at the crossroads," Lee told us.

SINGAPORE HAS no internal survival problems today. Its guided democracy (controlled press, prohibition against student demonstrations) would not satisfy purists in the U.S. Congress, but Lee runs a tight, orderly ship. This citystate is prosperous, unified, unbelievably clean and, unlike the rest of Southeast Asia, free of insurgency. There are no more than 50 Communist terrorists here.

What privately worries Singapore officials is the inadequate response of their neighbors in coping with Communist guerrillas. To Singapore, the Malaysian policy of racial privilege of r Malays over the equally numerous Chinese invites disaster.

THE DISTINCTION between this realistic appreciation of danger so deeply felt here and the comparative lack of concern to the north is vivid. Thus, Kukrit Promoj, the witty prime minister of Thailand, told us n Bangkok that even if Thailand, Malaysia and Indonesia went keenly aware of being an "overseas Chinese" (even though his family has been in Singapore for four generations) by the Malays of Kuala Lumpur, Jakarta and Manila.

NEVERTHELESS, Lee and his foreign minister have tried at ASEAN (Associated Southeast Asian Nations) meetings to restrain pipedreams that diplomatic relations with Communist China will inhibit insurgency. Lee feels that many of his colleagues are going overboard kow-towing to the Chinese. He was known to be particularly unhappy over the performance in Peking of Philippine President Ferdinand E. Marcos.

LEE IS ONE of the few Asian leaders to recognize this hard fact: Peking-orchestrated insurgents have become stronger, not weaker, with the rush of ASEAN nations for diplomatic ties with China. Singapore, he says, will be the last ASEAN member to recognize Peking. "I believe that Peking recognizing the existence of contrary regimes and seeming to abandon the fraternal parties," Lee told us, "the parties become less and less the creation of China and, therefore, become stronger." To Lee, that is Peking's calculated strategy - to give pro-Peking insurgencies the appearance of in-dependent strength. Lee has no doubt that a unified Communist Vietnam, after catching its breath, will actively encourage insurgency. He also views the stepped-up Soviet presence in Asia - its naval muscleflexing, its 100-man embassy in Singapore, its demands for an Asian security conference - with some alarm. He thinks continued U.S. presence is necessary.

the pact is not a national "yardstick." Judge Edmund L.

Palmieri approved a set-tlement Wednesday by the newspaper and the Justice Department of a 1967 antitrust suit seeking to confine the Globe's exclusivity on features to the City of Boston.

He said a significant number of additional readers would now have access to the features, which include topical columns, cartoons, comic strips, crossword puzzles, opinion surveys, patterns and serialized books.

The Globe case was part of a broader, nationwide case pending against the Chicago Tribune-New York News Syndicate, Inc.; Field Enerprises, Inc., and the Hearst Corp., which were charged with restraining trade in violation of the Sherman Antitrust Act.

They sell to newspapers the publication rights for the features, normally including a specified area in which no other newspaper can buy the feature.

Under the Boston settlement, the Globe will give up its exclusive rights over daily newspapers, all weeklies and other media in Vermont and all but a sixcounty area Massachusetts. The Globe will retain exclusivity over other dailies in those six counties but will yield its rights to newspapers in that territory with a circulation

GAME TIME 8 TONIGHT AT AMERICAN LEAGUE PARK

Texas Meets Northern For District Title

Manager Fred Jara will call on Dick Wrightsil to flip the District Little League Championship game for the Big Spring Texas All-Stars against Midland Northern tonight at 8 at the American League Park.

Dallas Trades Hayes

DALLAS (AP) - Bob Hayes, whose lightening speed at the wide receiver post helped the Dallas Cowboys to eight straight National Football League playoffs, says he has no regrets about being traded to the San Francisco 49ers.

Hayes, whose trade to the 49ers Thursday for an undisclosed 1976 draft choice came as no real surprise, told a news conference he's tired of sitting on the bench. That's where the Cowboys had kept him most of the time for the last three seasons

Hayes was asked if there was anything he would have done differently in his 10 years as a pro, all in Dallas. Fidgeting with the Super Bowl ring he received after the Cowboys won the big one in 1972, Hayes said, "I'd have been out of Dallas a lot

LAMESA accused of fl pounds of ma face trial when Court convene The marijua at the Dawso port last Jan. 1 Arrested on charges at the Jay C. Emer Eugene Hinso Dallas; Barry of Duncanvill William Calc Richardson.

A spokesman for the 49ers in San Francisco said Haves was expected to report to the team's training camp at Santa Barbara, Calif., on Saturday.

Hayes, a former world record holder in the 100-yard dash with a 9.1 clocking while he was a Florida A&M, said he never did get "straight answers" from Cowboy Coach Tom Landry about his bench status.

"When you have the fastest player in pro football and he's sitting on the bench, something's wrong," Hayes said.

Hayes said he was con-tacted about the trade Thursday morning by 49ers Coach Dick Nolan and by Gil Brandt, Cowboy vice president for player personnel.

Hayes had his best seasoon in 1966, the year the Cowboys won their first NLF Eastern Conference championship. That season, Hayes caught 64 passes for 1,232 yards and 13 touchdowns. Over the first seven years of his career, he averged 46 receptions and over nine touchdowns a year. But the "Bullet" spent more and more time on the bench in recent years. Last year, he lost is starting post to Golden Richards and finished the season with seven receptions fo 118 yards and one touchdown.

Landry and Brandt had talked openly in recent weeks of trading the former superstar. Landry said the effectiveness of Hayes' speed had been limited by the increasing use of the zone defense. Cowboys backs have been used increasingly as primary receivers.

WASHINGTON (AP) President Ford's top labor troubleshooter is turning his full attention to averting a strike by the nation's postal workers after a one-week postponement of threatened rail strike.

W. J. Usery Jr., chief federal mediator, said serious differences remain between the Postal Service and its four unions. The postal contract covering 600,000 workers expires at midnight Sunday.

Usery had hoped to obtain an agreement before the weekend to forestall the possibility of wildcat strikes by postal workers, but it was believed that a settlement today was unlikely.

Usery concentrated on achieving a postal settlement after the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks agreed Thursday to the one-week postponement of a strike deadline, which had been 12:01 a.m. Monday. The railway labor talks broke down after union and rail industry negotiators were unable to settle relatively narrow differences. Industry and union negotiators blamed

Legionnaires In Conclave

FORT WORTH - The 57th annual convention of The American Legion, Department of Texas, to be held here through Sunday promises to be one of the most colorful and entertaining in history, ac-cording to Joe L. Matthews, the general convention chairman Department Commander James W. White of Houston is presiding over the Legion conclave with all general sessions being held in teh Sheraton-Fort Worth Hotel. Heading the American Legion Auxiliary is Mrs. Mack (Wanda) Potter of Fort Worth.

According to Chairman Matthews, The American Legion will have some 3,000 delegates and alternates in attendance and the Auxiliary anticipates approximately 1,000. Advance reservations indicate an overflow crowd. In addition to the official delegation, Legionnaires and Auxiliary members from all over Texas are attending, many bringing their families to vacation in Fort Worth following the convention. Last night a reception at the Sheraton-Fort Worth Hotel honored Commander White.

I feel that this other toman can give me the excitement and sexual compatibility that is now lacking in my marriage. Both women are 53. I am 56. My wife and I enjoy a very serene life, but it's like a brother-sister relationship. She is a fine, devoted, church-going woman who is not unattractive. Perhaps, she can find another man.

The other woman has been divorced for 10 years. When we're together we are like a pair of teenagers-very much in love. Her children are grown and gone, and so are mine.

I have too much character to live a lie any longer. Please tell me what to do.

A CHRISTIAN DEAR CHRISTIAN: Do you really believe that it shows "character" to tell a wife of 35 years who has played the key role in raising five "marvelous" sons that you want to end your marriage to marry another woman?

At age 56, is not "serenity" at least as important as "excitement and sexual compatibility"?

You say "perhaps" your wife can find another man. What if she can't? I say it's Aug. 7.

The Credit Women International met Thursday in the Settles Hotel with Mrs. Ralph Brooks, president, presiding.

The program, which was presented by Mrs. George Weeks, was entitled "Going Places We've Never Been Before." It dealt with challenges in the credit industry and stated "History reveals that our life-style propels everything from the very simple to the very complex." The credit system is difficult to understand, especially by consumers and legislators.

Conclusions drawn were that the challenge in the future is to educate the consumer and legislators. The next meeting will be creasing. Nearly 2,000 of them are now in this country and a significant percentage have been identified as intelligence agents. GROWING NUMBERS

The report goes on to say, "In addition to sending increasing numbers of their citizens to this country openly, many of whom have been trained in espionage, communist bloc countries also place considerable emphaiss on the training, provision of false identification, and dispatching of 'illegal' agents — that is, operatives for whom an alias identity has been systematically developed which enables them to live in the United States as American citizens or resident aliens without our knowledge of their true origins.

SAME CROWD In these findings of the Rockefeller Commission, the report seems fairly well balanced and not simply an indictment of the CIA. Those who would abolish our intelligence system, including the FBI, like nothing better than to point out the criticism, but to ignore the warnings

Right now there rages in House of the U.S. Representatives the matter of who is to conduct hearings on the CIA, comparable to the one now going on in the Senate headed by Sen. Frank Church of Idaho. Radicals want a forum to attack our security agencies and, abolish them if they could. These are mostly the same people, both in and out of Congress, who oppose adequate military adequate preparedness and relegate us to a second-rate power.

will be speaking at the Hillcrest Baptist Church, July 20 through 27. Dr. Lightfoot speaks optimistically about today's young people. He believes that many of the problems they face result more from a "communications gap" than from a "generation gap."

"Many young people have lost sight of why they are here in the world," Dr. Lightfoot says. "They do not realize that their primary reason for being here on earth is to worship and serve the Lord. Only when they make that great discovery are they able to find rhyme and reason in their existence.

Dr. Lightfoot believes young people - and adults also - hide their unhappiness behind "a wall of alcohol, drugs, illicit sex, militant demonand strations."

"When people are not properly related to God through Jesus Christ they are unhappy!" he points out. "This unhappiness leads them to alcohol and drugs and a thousand other things. He cautions young people to remember that the use of drugs and alcohol are only symptoms and not the real root of the problem troubling :30 nd "The real problem is loneliness and unhappiness because they are away from God," he explains. "But today we find hundreds and thousands of young people turning back to God and the church. They have discovered that drugs, have alcohol, immorality, and demonstrations just don't make it." Dr. Lightfoot, who tries to dispel the common belief that young people are no something in order to be honest with ourselves. But friend, Pentecost is not changing - it is beginning. You haven't begun to live until you interest have received the experience the disciples received 2000 years ago. Why not investigate Pentecost? Is your salvation worth one phone call or one visit? ARE YOU REALLY SATISFIED?

He is a mighty small man—almost too small to leave his footprints in the sand. But he is starting out on his own. He is exploring, seeking, learning. Where will his footsteps ultimately lead him? There are so many courses a child may take - so many that a person of any age can follow. But it is never too late to change direction, even if it seems as if a dead end has been reached. The beauty of life is that the word itself is synonomous with hope.

If the direction your footsteps have been taking you is disappointing, then turn toward the Church. Remember, the Church has survived for centuries against odds that would have annihilated a lesser force. That in itself is reason enough to give it a chance-to see what it has to offer.

Covered areas may not make changes in their election laws without obtaining advance approval from the U.S. attorney general or from the U.S. District Court here. The law also forbids literacy tests for voters and permits federal examiners to register voters in these areas.

It was designed to prevent any denial of voting rights on account of race. Since its passage, there have been sharp increases in black voting in the South and the election of blacks to public office.

The extension bill would provide similar protections for non-English speaking minorities and ban literacy tests in voter registration. It also provides for ballots and other election materials to be printed in the minority language as well as in English in areas where there are significant con-centrations of these minority

Southern opponents contend that the proposed extension is intended to keep their states under the law's restrictions regardless of whether they have eliminated discriminatory voting pratices. Sen. John C. Stennis, D-
