

Kunstler Is Jailed Briefly

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Activist lawyer William Kunstler, famed for his stormy defenses of dissidents, was ordered jailed briefly today for contempt of court by the judge in the Joan Little murder case.

The action followed Judge Hamilton Hobgood's refusal to allow Kunstler to join the defense team for Miss Little, a 21-year-old black woman accused of killing a white jailer. Kunstler was to have replaced another lawyer, removed from the case by Hobgood for allegedly asking a witness to lie.

After the denial, Kunstler stood up in the public area of the courtroom and declared: "I see the quality of justice in North Carolina has not improved."

Hobgood replied, "If you make any further comments, you will be sent to the fifth floor."

"Take me up there. What you're doing is outrageous," said Kunstler.

Deputies moved immediately to escort Kunstler to the jail area of the Wake County courthouse.

Two hours after the exchange, Hobgood ordered Kunstler brought to the courtroom during a recess, where he formally found him in contempt. Hobgood sentenced Kunstler to two hours in jail — the time he had already served — and banned him from the trial area of the courthouse.

Kunstler has had many disagreements with judges. He was convicted of contempt in the trial of the Chicago Seven antiwar activists. And was jailed for courtroom disruptions in the trial of leaders of the American Indian Movement for their role in the takeover of Wounded Knee, S.D.

Ford Will Visit Area

MIDLAND — Rep. George H. Mahon, a democrat from Lubbock, confirmed Saturday that President Gerald Ford will visit Midland Sept. 13, during his scheduled trip to Texas.

President Ford will speak at the dedication of the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, Library and Hall of Fame here.

Details of the presidential visit have not yet been completed, but Ford is scheduled to speak at 11 a.m. in Dallas and at 1 p.m. at SMU before coming to Midland.

Mahon reportedly had personally handed President Ford the invitation to speak at the museum and urged his acceptance.

Museum officials have not yet been officially informed of the President's visit.

Dominicans Grab Ship

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — The Dominican navy seized a U.S. commercial tug today for allegedly trespassing in territorial waters, according to the U.S. Coast Guard here.

The Coast Guard said the tug, with eight American citizens aboard, was en route to San Juan from Jacksonville, Fla., when the Dominican navy seized the vessel on the northern coast of the republic, near Puerto Plata.

Japanese To Meet Terrorist Orders

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Terrorists seeking freedom for Red Army fanatics jailed in Japan stormed a building housing foreign embassies in Kuala Lumpur today, seized U.S. Consul Robert Stebbins, a Swedish diplomat and other hostages.

Japan, "placing top priority on respect for human life," said it would meet the terrorists' demands.

The terrorists, estimated to number between four and six, shot and wounded three security men during the invasion of the modern, 12-story American International Assurance building here, threatened to blow up the structure, but let a self-declared deadline pass without incident and remained holed up with the hostages on the ninth floor, where the American Embassy has offices. Scores of heavily armed police surrounded the building.

Kuala Lumpur police said the terrorists might be holding as many as 50 hostages. U.S. officials said there were more than 15, and that they included other Americans, Swedes, Australians, Malaysians, and a Japanese and a Singaporean.

In Tokyo, a spokesman for Prime Minister Takeo Miki who is currently in the United States preparing for talks with President Ford, said "the prime minister has agreed that the Japanese government, from the basic position of placing top priority on respect for human life, will accommodate the demands of the terrorists...."

He said preparations were being made for the release of seven prisoners from Japanese jails, as demanded by the terrorists, and that Japan Air Lines was preparing a special plane to carry the seven to Kuala Lumpur and pick up the terrorists and take them to wherever they want to go.

However, he said two of the seven had left the Red Army and vowed not to return to the organization, and that police were conferring with all the prisoners to determine whether in fact they wanted to leave Japan.

After the terrorists took over the building in Kuala Lumpur, they fired occasional shots from the windows, wounding two policemen and a guard. Their conditions were not known.

A note dropped from a window said the terrorists demanded the release of seven Red Army men jailed in Japan, a helicopter to take them from the roof of the building and a Japan Air Lines plane to fly them to an unnamed destination.

Shortly after the deadline expired at 5:30 p.m. local time (6 a.m. EDT), V. Manickavasagam, Malaysia's communications minister, arrived at the building and said the terrorists had agreed to meet him. He said the government instructed him to hold talks with the raiders after an emergency cabinet meeting.

Malaysian government sources said the terrorists were insisting on holding negotiations with the Japanese government through the Malaysian authorities.

Mission Change A Possibility

There remains a possibility that Webb Air Force Base may be changed from a training base to a tactical base in the future, Cong. Omar Burleson said Sunday, after his day of activities at the Webb Air Force Base Open House.

"It's entirely possible that the role of Webb Air Force Base will be a different one in the future, we hope that the role is a bigger one," he said.

"No one knows for sure what the role will be, but a committee is thinking of changing Webb to a tactical base."

Burleson said that he will leave Big Spring Monday for visits to several cities in the 17th District, including Tahoka, Post, Ralls, Floydada, Crosbyton, and Snyder this week.

ONE HAS TO LOOK HARD TO FIND PLACE TO SPEND 5-CENT PIECE

IT'LL BUY A FEW PEANUTS Nickel Hasn't Yet Gone Way Of Bison

By the Associated Press

You can't ride the Staten Island ferry for a nickel anymore, but the five-cent piece hasn't entirely lost its value.

Among the things turned up in an Associated Press spot check of items that still cost only a nickel are:

—A chance at the jackpot in one of the 64 per cent of Nevada's 47,000 slot machines that take nickels.

—About 2½ tablespoons of peanuts from a vending machine in Alabama. (The same machines used to provide about a tablespoon for a penny so five cents is a big increase, but it's a nickel nonetheless.)

—A cup of coffee at the Last Chance cafe on Interstate 80, west of Reno.

—A local telephone call in Wapakoneta and Criddersville, Ohio. (Wapakoneta's other claim to fame is that it is the hometown of astronaut Neil Armstrong.)

—A "Swiss warbler" bird whistle at the Party Center in the Ala Moana shopping center in Honolulu. (The Party Center is a real bonanza for nickel spenders. Other five-cent items include balloons, elastic cords for masquerade masks and plastic spiders, six for a nickel.)

The most-famous of the five-cent bargains was probably the Staten Island ferry, but New York City's fiscal crisis killed the nickel ride.

As of 12:01 a.m. today, the round-trip fare went to 25 cents under legislation passed by the City Council a little more than a week ago and signed by Mayor Abraham Beame on Friday.

Morocco Plane Crash One Of Worst In History

AGADIR, Morocco (AP) — Rescue teams combed a Moroccan mountainside today for the scattered remains of 188 persons killed Sunday in one of the worst air disasters in the history of civil aviation.

A chartered Boeing 707, packed with Moroccan workers coming home from France for vacations, slammed into the side of a peak in the rugged Atlas Mountains in heavy fog, killing all aboard.

Officials said four passengers had non-Arabic names, but their nationalities were not immediately available. Most of the seven crewmen were probably Jordanians, authorities said.

The jet, owned by Jordan's Alia airline and chartered by Royal Air Morocco, was on a direct flight from Paris and was making its descent to the northeast. Officials said the pilot had radioed the Agadir tower less than three minutes before the crash that he was approaching to land.

Rescue workers said wreckage and broken bodies were strewn amid rocks, sand and trees from a 3,000-foot level, at which the plane struck, to a valley 1,800 feet below.

"Everything was completely torn apart," said Abadi Laoucine, a school principal who went to the scene with rescue parties.

"There wasn't a recognizable part of the plane among the thousands of bits. The bodies were torn to pieces by the crash."

The toll was the third highest in civil aviation history. The worst disaster was in March 1974 when a Turkish DC10 crashed outside Paris, killing 346 persons. The second highest death toll was 191 in a crash in Sri Lanka last December.

Calls For Sense Of Real Purpose

Congressman Omar Burleson called Sunday for a curb on national self-indulgence and for a sense of calling and purpose. In the meantime, there is no alternative but to maintain strength to maintain stability in the world, he said.

He addressed a banquet gathering of upwards of 400 persons at the Big Spring Country Club following a day that included open house at Webb AFB and an exciting demonstration of precision flying by the USAF Thunderbirds. The open house put the spotlight on the new airmen's dining facilities which memorialize Capt. Stephen L. Bennett, posthumous winner of the Medal of Honor. Capt. Bennett's widow, Mrs. Linda Bennett, was here for the occasion, as was his father, Elwin Bennett, Lafayette, La. They, with the Thunderbirds, were guests of honor at the Air Force Association banquet over which Ralph Brooks (Lt. Col. USAF, Ret.) AFA president, presided. He presented Congressman Burleson with a wood carving of the historic Big Spring (executed by Bill Brooks) and Col. Robert Owens, 78th wing commander of the Air Training Command, gave the congressman a plaque as a memento of the occasion.

HUGE TURNOUT
 An estimated 12,000 flocked to the base to see the new dining hall, other facilities, and the display of various aircraft on the line. They lined up solidly along the line while the Thunderbirds roared through a series of breath-taking maneuvers at near sonic speeds, climaxed by the super-spectacular bomb-burst with four simultaneous peef-ops and a fifth ascending corkscrew.

"Indeed, it remains our hope that the many nations can achieve their goals through cooperation rather than through conflict today — the problem being how we entertain detente and at the same time maintain our military strength, second to none," he declared.

"In this setting, we must also recognize that the philosophical situation has altered since the United States inherited its responsibilities in the wake of World War II. Americans generally are no longer as enthusiastic about our international role. So as we proceed on our course, we do so with less zest, with less of a crusading impulse."

REMAINS CONFIDENT
 Nevertheless, he said that "beneath the surface, it is my belief that there remains in the United States a deep-seated solidarity. Despite the corrosive events of the last decade, our American society remains highly resilient, perhaps, preeminently so among the nations of the world."

He cited the tendency of Americans to over-dramatize ("to have a crisis of the week") and the difficulty if not weakness of democratic nations in developing unified foreign policy, yet he was confident that the country can achieve "a sense of calling and dedication . . . a sense of national purpose to which its citizens can relate. The achievement of that sense of national purpose is an obligation for all of us, and, more particularly, the obligation of those selected to serve in the nation's military establishment and those of us in the position of elected officials."

Several thousand others, who did not enter the base, lined U.S. 80 and other approaches to Webb, and traffic piled up along the access road, and even on IS 20 for a mile west of the base during the air show.

BENNETT HALL
 The Open House was also Webb AFB's salute to the Bicentennial as well as to the Air Force's anniversary as a separate service.

The congressman paid tribute to the heroic spirit of Capt. Bennett as a high example for all Americans as the new dining hall was dedicated in brief ceremonies. A casting designating the facility as Stephen Bennett Hall, together with some of Capt. Bennett's personal effects; and his Medal of Honor and Cheney Medal, were on display. Also dedicated was the original of the painting of Capt. Bennett's flaming OV-16 about to crash into the sea as he chose death so his observer (with shredded parachute) might live.

Because the international community lacks the internal disciplines of individual nations, "it will be necessary for this nation to retain the instruments of military power for the preservation of the values which it holds dear," Rep. Burleson declared.

MORE FOR WELFARE
 He said he used two criteria in arriving at military expenditures — consideration of the world we are in and what it takes to maintain a No. 1 position. Not all have the same formulas, he acknowledged, for in the fiscal year '75, the cost of welfare programs exceeded for the first time the cost of defense. While military preparedness calls for $8 billion more than a year ago, most of the increase goes for personnel. Thus, in terms of military equipment, "we are just about standing still."

Was Hoffa Victim Of Own Campaign?

DETROIT (AP) — Ex-Teamsters boss Jimmy Hoffa probably was kidnapped or killed, according to sources who said he was a victim of his own campaign to regain union power.

The sources said his campaign threatened both present union officials and organized crime. But the FBI, discussing the case for the first time, said today it has no real clues.

Jay E. Bailey, in charge of the bureau's Detroit office, said agents will be questioning "any people who can shed some light on Hoffa's disappearance."

Hoffa has been missing since last Wednesday, after he told several people he was going to meet three men — reportedly including a Detroit Mafia figure and a former Teamsters official.

The Detroit News said today federal authorities believe Hoffa hoped his knowledge of corruption in the Teamsters Union would help him unseat his successor as Teamsters president, Frank E. Fitzsimmons.

It has been reported elsewhere that organized crime figures and some Teamsters leaders were concerned that Hoffa would go to any lengths to regain the post he lost during his 1967-1971 prison stint.

The Chicago Sun-Times reported Sunday a source said Hoffa was kidnaped and probably killed, because he was about to reveal corruption in union pension programs.

The federal government has been investigating pension irregularities at the Teamsters Union for years. Authorities say many crime figures have ready access to the $1.34 billion in assets in the funds.

Bailey declined to discuss the theories, and refused to name names as to who the FBI would be questioning.

The Hoffa family believes Hoffa had an appointment to meet Detroit Mafia leader Anthony "Tony Jack" Giacalone, former Teamsters vice president Anthony "Tony Pro" Provenzano and Detroit labor figure Leonard Schultz on the day he disappeared.

The family believes Hoffa was kidnaped, but doesn't know whether the men Hoffa was to meet were involved.

It now appears that there will be no renegotiation of the Panama Canal treaty this year. The matter probably will be passed over in 1976 because it is an election year. Then 1977 may be too late.

Congress has shown no enthusiasm for the renegotiation of the treaty with Panama signed 72 years ago. The House of Representatives has voted to withhold the money needed to get negotiations begun with treaty drafts in 1967, going again. In the Senate, a bloc of 38 senators, led by Sen. Strom Thurmond and Sen. John L. McClellan, has brought forth a resolution opposing any reduction in U.S. control of the 10-mile wide and 40-mile long Canal Zone. This seems to doom any attempt to renegotiate a treaty, since a two-thirds vote is needed for treaty ratification.

Secretary of State Henry Kissinger has had little to say publicly about the treaty perhaps because most of his energies have been directed toward a Middle East settlement and detente with Russia and China. But one of his surrogates, Ellsworth Bunker, former ambassador to South Vietnam, has warned that if a new treaty is not signed soon this country could find itself "engaged in hostilities with an otherwise friendly country." Bunker recommends that U.S. control of the Panama Canal be gradually ceded to Panama over a period of up to 50 years, grant Panama sovereignty over the Canal Zone, give Panama more canal revenues, and retain in the end only rights of passage through the canal. Congress obviously is unwilling to act, apparently hoping that the whole business will blow over. But if Panamanians wage guerrilla war against us in that inhospitable land we will certainly wish someday that we at least sat down and talked seriously about some acceptable accommodations.

Too Slow To Act

The Judicial Qualifications Commission has come belatedly to a consideration of Judge O. P. Carrillo's fitness for office. Just now it has notified Carrillo that formal proceedings have been begun that could lead to his removal by the Supreme Court of Texas.

Thus we have the legislative and the judicial branches of government competing over Carrillo. A House select committee has already adopted 11 articles of impeachment. The House will be called into session, Aug. 4 to consider impeaching Carrillo. If he is impeached, the Senate will have to return to try him, probably in September.

The House, meeting this week to decide on impeachment proceedings, would not have interested itself in the Carrillo case if the Judicial Qualifications Commission had acted earlier.

The Judicial Qualifications Commission was created to deal with situations which raise issues of judicial fitness. Its hearings are secret. Evidence given probably would not become known unless the Supreme Court voted for removal and the case was then contested. But it has waited for public pressure to get it into action. This raises doubts as to its virility and devotion to justice.

My Answer

Billy Graham

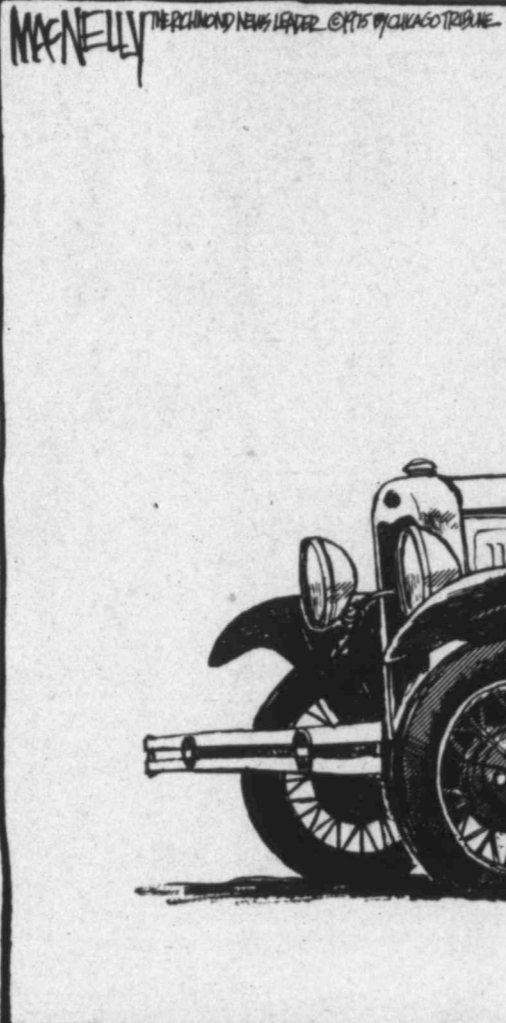

Almost from the day I married my husband, he has shown abuse and violence. We couldn't even play a game. If I won, he'd become angry and would beat me. He promised if I had a child, he would change. He hasn't. Fearing loss of my own sanity, I walked out. What can I do now? Get a divorce? J.D.

Temporary separation in a marriage has been a recognized practice from the earliest time (Exodus 19:15, 1 Samuel 21:4). Paul also speaks of it in 1 Corinthians 5.

Hopefully, however, as verse 5 of that last reference indicates, it will be just for "a time," until the condition causing it has been corrected. Divorce today is all too easy a solution for a marriage in trouble.

Before you even think of a legal separation, explore counseling as a means to restoring your marriage relationship. Certainly you should not have to take repeated physical abuse, but don't jettison the marriage without great efforts to salvage it.

Since you said you were a Christian, you have then many resources in finding help, the chief of which are the Bible and prayer. Friends also are made to lean on

GRUMBLE SEAT

Incompetency Factor

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — President Ford's erratic handling of the voting rights bill was superficially a political conquest of the best of two worlds, but, beneath the surface, revealed dangerous incompetency persisting in his presidency after one year.

SOUTHERN NEWSPAPER headlines showed Mr. Ford embracing Southern opposition to the bill, while in fact his efforts were so late, so ambiguous and so feeble that he did not stir liberal wrath. However, the number of voters aware of this balancing act is minuscule. Rather, political insiders are impressed by bumbling and an apparent deviousness contradicting the true-blue sincerity which is Gerald Ford's greatest asset.

His political management of the Voting Rights Act, moreover, ranks with snubbing Alexander Solzhenitsyn and manhandling Nelson Rockefeller as profiles in incompetency. None of this has affected Mr. Ford's continuing popularity, partly because of lackluster Democratic challengers and Ronald Reagan's refusal to commit himself.

THE PRESIDENT'S trouble with the Voting Rights Act renewal stemmed from the persistence of state chairman Clarke Reed of Mississippi, long a stalwart voice of Southern Republicanism. Beginning late last year, he lobbied Mr. Ford to emulate Richard M. Nixon in proposing that possible federal intervention in voting should be extended from the Deep South to all 50 states. To Reed, this would test the new President's receptivity to the South.

Mr. Ford flunked. Reed had given up when he was advised of possible compromise in May, just as — coincidentally or not — Reagan seemed closer to challenging the President. The White House began considering this proposal by Assistant Atty. Gen. J. Stanley Pottinger: instead of proposing a 50-state extension, the President would present law administratively applicable in 50 states.

PREDICTABLY, THE Pottinger option did not please Reed and other Southerners. Mr. Ford instinctively rejected it as a gimmick. Simultaneously, White House experts advised against a 50-state extension. Flying high among conservatives after the Mayaguez incident while vetoing batches of bills, the President ignored the voting rights renewal on the road to passage.

INCIDENTALLY OR NOT, Mr. Ford's interest revived as a Reagan for President committee was unveiled. Two days later, on July 17, the President crossed the Potomac to Arlington, Va., to address a Spanish-American organization. In a small, dark room that limited reporters and prevented television coverage, he belatedly endorsed a 50-state extension. With staffers digging up old drafts, Mr. Ford made the proposal official in a July 18 letter to Senate minority leader Hugh Scott.

All this was news to Pottinger and his boss, Atty. Gen. Edward Levi, supposedly the President's civil rights advisers. Nor was it given much publicity. But Mr. Ford's campaign manager, Howard (Bo) Calaway, was on the telephone informing Southern Republicans that the President was following Nixon's civil rights footsteps.

NOBODY BOTHERED to inform Sen. John Stennis of Mississippi, the conservative Democrat sponsoring 50-state extension. Scott, a long-time civil rights advocate, had no desire to lead the President's July 18 letter. Stennis learned of Mr. Ford's stance only when Senate majority leader Mike Mansfield on July 23 read an identical letter to him dated July 21.

Reed still felt the President had flunked his test. On that afternoon of July 23, he entered the White House to see staff chief Donald Rumsfeld and complained of too little, too late.

DID THE PRESIDENT really want his tardy 50-state extension to be passed? The answer came the next day, July 24, with liberal Senators worrying that the Stennis amendment might now pass. Reassurances from the Oval Office were relayed through Vice President Rockefeller and Sen. Scott: President Ford puts highest priority on passing the act and does not want his endorsement of a 50-state extension to endanger that goal. Thus did the President doom the Stennis amendment and later 50-state efforts.

EDITORIALS OPINIONS

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor:

Thanks to authorization by House Speaker Bill Clayton, one of the most important discussions in the history of this state occurred in the office of Congressman George Mahon on Friday, July 11, 1975.

After studying my notes and thinking several days on this meeting, I feel the best way I can convey the thrust is to write a simple summation which is basically fact, with an insertion of some of the strong opinions expressed by those present.

There is a drug problem in Texas today. Opinions vary widely as to the severity, but this we do know: drug arrests in Texas are increasing each year. In 1965 there were 1,094 arrests; 1970, 12,001 arrests; 1971, 12,309 arrests; 1972, 16,077 arrests; 1973, 24,403 arrests; and 1974, 31,512 arrests. These arrests were largely the victims.

The drug scene in Texas includes marijuana, amphetamines, barbiturates, heroin, glue, gasoline sniffing, paint and other hard drugs. The medical profession still offers a wide variance in opinion as to the effects of most drugs, but there is building evidence that hard drugs are closely related to the crime wave throughout the Nation, as well as in Texas.

Dr. Judianne Densen-Gerber, lawyer, doctor, and an authority in the field of drug abuse with much experience in the area concerning drug victims, states without reservation that she has reliable information which indicates the target market for heroin right now is all states along the Mexican border. It is the plan of the drug distributors to create as many addicts in Texas as they have done in New York and other eastern cities, with concentration on the urban areas, and accent in colleges, high schools, junior high schools and even in elementary schools.

Dr. Densen-Gerber said Texas is on the threshold of an epidemic, and unless immediate and drastic steps are taken, 10 per cent of our school children will be exposed to heroin this year. What it will cost this state in crime and violence will be literally millions upon millions of dollars, and the drug traffic will realize equal millions in profit as they are now doing in the eastern cities.

There is little awareness among Texans concerning the enormity of the drug problem. As Chairman Mahon said, "We have great pride in our section of the country and hesitate to admit the presence of this problem until it hits us personally through a member of the family or a close friend." An evidence of our lack of awareness is the fact that Texas ranks 53rd among the fifty states and three territories in state funds to fight drug abuse. During the fiscal year, Texas appropriated $103,000.00 for drug abuse treatment programs; local funds have increased from no funds in 1971 to $1,042,964.00 in 1975; and federal funds have increased from no funds in 1971 to $6,148,716.00 in 1975.

As an elected official, I believe we need to get into the meat of this program immediately. If Dr. Densen-Gerber is right, the public must be aroused, and the problem attacked quickly with all resources available.

Price Rebounds

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — There is little doubt anymore except perhaps in the Agriculture Department that Soviet grain purchases will have an adverse impact on U.S. consumer prices.

Prices of grains for future delivery have jumped in response to the Soviet market activity. Farm prices rose 3 per cent in the month ended July 15, with one of the biggest increases being in wheat.

A year ago wheat brought farmers about $4.04 a bushel. By June of this year the price was down to $2.92. But in the latest report, for mid-July, prices had rebounded to $3.33 a bushel.

Increases of that size cannot be absorbed by processors and retailers. Neither can they be absorbed by red meat and poultry producers, who will have to pay higher prices for their feed.

The almost inevitable consequence: Higher consumer prices.

The situation could be made even worse if growing and harvest conditions deteriorate. Heavy rains or prolonged drought have in the past upset some of the most confident forecasts.

A lot of people, including the so-called experts in government and private industry, were surprised to find the jobless-rate continued to fall in July, reaching a low of 8.4 per cent of the civilian labor force.

Some analysts would, in fact, have been less surprised if the rate had jumped to 9.4 per cent, or two-tenths of one per cent above the figure for May. The June decline to 8.6 per cent had been termed an aberration.

There is an economic school, however, that discounts the unemployment rate as an accurate indicator of economic health. It used to be, they say, but no longer is it so. And 8 or 9 per cent rate doesn't scare them at all.

Albert Cox Jr., a former White House economist in the Nixon days, and now executive vice president and chief economist for Lionel D. Edie & Co., is one of the more outspoken of this group.

Cox maintains that some people still seek a goal of only 4 per cent unemployment, which was indeed the standard set back in the 1960s. But such a yardstick, he maintains, is obsolete.

Most recently he put forth his views at the annual meeting of the Midwestern Governors' Conference in Cincinnati two weeks ago. This is what he told them:

"The composition of the labor force has changed substantially over the years, toward more teenagers and married women, most of whom have other breadwinners in the household. Thus a given unemployment rate implies less hardship, even in the absence of government assistance."

"But government assistance and union assistance to the unemployed has grown sharply over the years, again blunting the social hardship that a given unemployment rate implies. In fact, we may now be at the point where the levels of unemployment and welfare benefits actually contribute to unemployment."

"There are an increasing and disturbing number of reports from around the country that jobs, especially lower paying jobs, cannot be filled because government benefits to the unemployed are more attractive or almost as attractive."

Breathing Chemical Exchange

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Hyperventilation. Please discuss it. It appears there is nothing that can be done about it. Is it emotional or psychosomatic? Why can't a tranquilizer be prescribed? — Mrs. P.A.

Normally, there is a continual exchange going on between the oxygen breathed in and the carbon dioxide breathed out, the latter being the by-product of cell metabolism. We don't pay attention to our breathing under normal circumstances because the chemical balance between these two elements.

When a healthy person forces himself to breathe more rapidly or more deeply than he would normally (athletes, for example), excessive amounts of oxygen enter the system and increased amounts of carbon dioxide are forced out. The result can be characteristic lightheaded sensation.

Since the automatic breathing control is regulated, as I said, by the amount of carbon dioxide in the body at any given time, when this lowered, as in the manner described above, breathing may be curtailed. Such episodes can be relieved by the simple expendent of breathing into and out of a paper sack (not a plastic one), thus reestablishing the necessary carbon dioxide level.

Hyperventilation can stem from cardiac inefficiency, or from a pulmonary (lung) disorder. It is often associated with a neurotic response to situations. If you suffer such episodes, you should be examined thoroughly.

Tranquilizers can help, if the condition stems from a nervous disorder. However, it would be best to get at the root of the problem, so that it can be treated. Treatment by tranquilizer should not be the immediate response, since this could mask an underlying mental or physical problem.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Do you have a diet for a person with diabetes? I mean what can you eat and what can't you eat? I want very much to do the correct thing. — Mrs. A.R.

There are so many complexities involved in diabetic diets, it would be impossible for me to even outline one here.

For one thing the diabetic must, as you are probably aware, strike a delicate balance between his food intake, exercise, and insulin, if he is taking that. Blood sugar can be elevated with variations in any one of these three factors. It usually rises after a meal, for example, and goes down after exercise.

Generally speaking, the diabetic is on an essentially normal diet, but it is a carefully measured one, drawn from the basic food groups — milk, vegetables, fruits, bread, meats and fats. There is a de-emphasis on the carbohydrates, which are more readily converted into blood sugar.

One rule of thumb, which may or may not apply to you, depending on the other factors I've mentioned, is that there should be 18 calories consumed daily for each pound of your desired total weight. Thus if you should weigh 120 pounds, your daily intake should be about 2,160 calories. For a man, the figure is 21 calories for each pound of desired total body weight.

You would be conscientious about this. I suggest you consult your doctor or hospital, who can supply tables for such things as exchange items in your diet — to match calories with various foods by weight.

We Hold These Truths...

A Chronicle of America

August 7, 1775:

In Hartford's Connecticut Courant, a fictional Tory by the name of M'Fingal makes his debut. The creation of poet-jurist John Trumbull, second cousin of the famous painter of the Revolution, M'Fingal becomes perhaps the finest colonial satirical representation of British Loyalists. Fatuous and self-important, M'Fingal always receives the short end of arguments with anti-British colonists. In today's initial canto (four will appear ultimately), the news of Lexington and Concord has reached M'Fingal's town, and the citizenry turns out to hear Honorus (John Adams) rail against Britain: So Britain midst her airs to flightry, Now took a whim to be almighty; Urged on to desperate heights of frenzy, Affirmed her own omnipotency. M'Fingal's loud dissents anger the townspeople, who tar and feather him, parade him through the streets, and stick him to the Liberty Pole.

A Devotion For Today

"Seven weeks had gone by since Jesus' death and resurrection, and the Day of Pentecost had now arrived." (Acts 2:1, TLB)

PRAYER: Our Father, we need patience with ourselves, our families, our fellowmen. Most of all we must realize we cannot receive Thy Spirit unless we are willing to prepare and wait for Thy presence. Amen.

'Marvelous Mummy' Is 75 Years Old Today

LONDON (AP) — Britain's queen mother, "marvelous mummy" to the reigning queen and the beloved "good queen mum" to the nation she has served for more than half a century, turns 75 today.

BADGE SAVED LIFE? — Wichita County jailer Allen Nash's life might have been saved when a bullet struck the bottom point of his badge. He was hit in the wrist by the ricochet bullet or another. Nash was involved in a shootout at Wichita County jail in Wichita Falls where four persons were shot.

quarter sleeves and three-strand pearls," was how one columnist recently described the regal and gracious lady. A widow since her husband King George VI died in 1952, the queen mother has continued a strenuous round of public duties. But her birthday celebration will be a quiet family affair hosted by her daughter, Queen Elizabeth II.

Forty-two royal family members and close friends have been invited to Buckingham Palace for the party, and word is out that the cake is a three-tiered, iced concoction crowned with a single pink candle.

The reigning queen and the queen mother are known to be close. Elizabeth II phones her mother — who lives in London at her official Clarence House residence — every morning and refers to her in conversation as "marvelous mummy."

Hot, Humid Northwest Pilots Go Out On Strike

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The Air Line Pilots Association struck Northwest Airlines early today despite efforts by the federal government's top labor troubleshooter to reconcile the pilots' differences with the nation's seventh largest airline.

Some 1,500 Northwest pilots were instructed to leave their planes at the first stop after 2 a.m. CDT deadline, said Robert Rezanka, a spokesman for the pilots' association. The Minneapolis-based carrier serves such major cities as New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Detroit, Washington, Atlanta, Milwaukee, Chicago, Spokane, Seattle, Portland, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

It also serves points in Alaska, Canada, Florida, North Dakota, Montana, Hawaii and the Orient. The strike came despite the efforts of W. J. Usery Jr., head of the federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, who met alternately with airline officials and the pilots' association for several hours Sunday night.

From Phoenix, Ariz., to Burlington, Vt., record high temperatures were set or tied Sunday as summertime blanketed much of the nation in a hot, humid haze. Interstate Highway 80 buckled near Gary, Ind.; a million people went to the beach at Coney Island, and an 11-month-old girl drowned in Hyattsville, Md., after her mother left her in a bathtub to cool off.

A Bermuda high-pressure system brought a fourth day of 90- and 100-degree temperatures to much of the East Coast. Hospitals in Boston reported five deaths over the weekend from heat prostration and three people were killed in New York City in fights over gushing fire hydrants.

While much of the nation enjoyed seasonably warm temperatures today, the National Weather Service predicted more hot weather along the central Atlantic seaboard. A pollution alert remained in effect today in Washington and officials in several cities warned of possible power shortages as office air conditioners were turned on with the beginning of the work week.

Some 1,500 Northwest pilots were instructed to leave their planes at the first stop after 2 a.m. CDT deadline, said Robert Rezanka, a spokesman for the pilots' association. The Minneapolis-based carrier serves such major cities as New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Detroit, Washington, Atlanta, Milwaukee, Chicago, Spokane, Seattle, Portland, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

It also serves points in Alaska, Canada, Florida, North Dakota, Montana, Hawaii and the Orient. The strike came despite the efforts of W. J. Usery Jr., head of the federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, who met alternately with airline officials and the pilots' association for several hours Sunday night.

Northwest officials said the disagreement involves such issues as whether domestic duty and trip provisions apply to mixed domestic and international flights. Trip provisions involve the amount of flight time a pilot gets for on-duty time.

Littler Defeats Boros In Playoff

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — It was a typical Gene Littler understatement, softly drawn, low-key, played-down.

"It was," mused Gene after due consideration, "a pretty fair shot."

The "pretty fair shot" in question was a hole in one.

It got him back in the golf tournament, set up a surging finish in brutal, 100-degree heat, allowed him to tie the weary, wilting Julius Boros and go on to a playoff victory in the rich Westchester Country Club course.

"I didn't have any thought of winning the golf tournament until I got the hole in one," he said. "I really didn't figure I had any chance at all."

But, propelled by his fifth competitive ace, Littler played his last five holes in four under par. It finished off a six-under par 66 that gave him a 271 total for 72 holes over the hot, hilly, humid, haze-covered Westchester Country Club course.

Boros, the overweight 55-year-old delight of millions of middle-aged hackers throughout the world, was obviously suffering in the hotter weather the tour has seen this year. He came from five strokes off the pace with a final 65, once had the lead alone, had a chance to clinch it with a six-foot birdie putt on the 72nd hole — and missed it.

"I wanted to make that putt and close everybody else out," Boros said.

"I'd like to have won, but it's not life and death. Most people like to play golf and fish. I do it for a living."

A victory would have made him the oldest winner the tour has ever produced.

The missed putt left him one in front. Littler had yet to play the 18th, a par five. He was short and right in two, pitched on to about five feet and made the birdie putt.

It sent them to the 15th to start a sudden death playoff. Both missed the fairway. Both missed the green. Littler was short. Boros' approach went through the green and up an embankment.

"He didn't have much of a shot," Gene said.

Littler chipped close. Boros ran his down the hill to the fringe, then three-putted.

Davis' Pitching Arm New Source Of Worry

ANAHEIM (AP) — World Football League defenses, which had to worry about Anthony Davis as a runner and kick returner, will now have to worry about him as a passer.

"You remember I was three for three at University of Southern California. Well, now I'm one for one here," Davis said after completing a key fourth-quarter pass in the Sun's 21-15 World Football League victory over Portland on Sunday.

Quarterback Mike Ernst threw touchdown passes of 65 and 25 yards for the Sun's first two scores and then ran 39 yards on a quarterback option to help set up the winning score in the league opener for both teams.

But Davis, who gained 102 yards on 23 carries before a crowd of 14,362, once again demonstrated his capacity for the big play.

With the Sun trailing, 15-14, in the fourth quarter, Ernst's 39-yard run put the ball on the Portland 27. Then on a second and eight on the Portland 25, Davis rolled to his left and cut loose with a

Texans Oppose Alice

The Texas League All-Stars of Big Spring, fresh from a convincing win over Pecos in bi-district competition, launch play in the Texas Little League playoffs against Alice at 8 o'clock this evening.

This is the second appearance in the state meet in three years for the charges of Fred Jara, and they are determined to do better this time around. They won consolation honors there two years ago.

Jara was at the helm of the club that year, too, and he reasons his club may be even stronger this time around — especially in the pitching department.

Big Spring's margin over Pecos was 11-1. That contest was unreeled in San Angelo.

Dickie Wrightsil tamed the Pecos team that night, at which time he hurled his third one-hitter in the playoffs.

Home runs by Guadalupe Ontiveros Jr., and Gregg Jones highlighted a seven-run third inning for the Texans in that one.

The Big Springers had humbled Midland's Eastern club, 3-0, to get a shot at Pecos.

The Texans also have strong pitching in the person of Johnnie Abreo, who blanked Midland Tower, 10-0, without a hit in the district playoffs.

The Texans are eyeing a spot in the Regional playoffs in Florida.

Jerry Green Will Assume Golf Pro Duties Sept. 1

Popular Jerry Green, who was associated with the Big Spring Country Club as golf pro for several years during the 1960s, is returning to Big Spring Sept. 1 as pro at the Comanche Trail Municipal Course.

Green, 40, is now greenskeeper with the San Angelo Country Club.

Green and his wife are parents of two children; a boy, 21, and a girl, 20.

Green will succeed Charles Brantley, who is resigning effective at the end of August.

Dodgers Losing Sight Of Reds In Scramble

The Cincinnati Reds, the team that has everything, leads the league in doctor bills, according to head cheerleader Sparky Anderson. So scratch one alibi for the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The Dodgers, expected to repeat as National League West champions or at least battle for the division honors, now find themselves in a dogfight for second place with San Francisco as the Reds frolic 15 1/2 games in front after Sunday's 3-1 victory over the Dodgers.

"This team has everything," said Dave Concepcion, who clubbed a seventh-inning homer that helped cushion the Reds' triumph, their second in a three-game series against the Dodgers. "The 1976 club had more power, but this club has more balance."

And Anderson, the Cincinnati manager, won't let anybody else's injuries detract from the rousing Reds record.

Dudley Top Competitor

Jerry Dudley finished first in the Big Spring Bass Club's July Tournament, held July 19-20 in Lake Stamford.

Ken Sprinkle finished second, Royce Cox third, Tom Adams fourth, and Jackie Touchstone fifth. Dudley also hooked the biggest bass.

Sprinkle has been elected president of the club and formally took office Aug. 1. He will serve for a year.

First vice-president will be Charles Burdette. Other officers include Johnny Ward, second vice-president; Gaylord Crenshaw, program chairman; Vic Keyes, secretary-treasurer; and Luan Touchstone, reporter.

Jerry and Johnnie Avery teamed to win the Couples Tournament held earlier this summer. Jackie and Luan Touchstone were second and Bill and Joyce Grigg third.

In the individual event, Doc Irwin was first, Mike Hart, second and Charles McCommant, third.

The next competition ahead for club members will be at Lake Hubbard Aug. 23-24. It will be a team tournament.

Ashe And Nastase Collide

Wimbledon champion Arthur Ashe and Ilie Nastase will battle tonight to see who will face Guillermo Vilas in the finals of the $100,000 Louisville Tennis Classic.

Vilas captured his rain-delayed match by easily dominating Jaime Fillol 6-2, 6-2 Saturday. The Ashe-Nastase semifinal was postponed because of a downpour and will be played at 7:30 p.m. EST.

The winner will meet Vilas for the title Tuesday.

In the Western Tennis Championships, seventh-seeded Tom Gorman scored his first major tournament victory in nearly two years as he rallied for a 7-5, 2-6, 6-4 win over unseeded Sherwood Stewart. And Cynthia Doerner of Australia snapped Jeanne Evert's 17-match winning streak to capture the Ms. America Tennis Classic in New York 6-1, 3-6, 6-1.

Two tournaments get underway this week. Jimmy Connors will be at North Conway, N.H., while the U.S. Clay Court championships will be held at Indianapolis, Ind.

Vilas, the top-seeded Argentinian, crushed Chile's Fillol in a match that was delayed several times by rain at Louisville. The defending champion, Vilas took a 2-1 lead in the first set before a 15-minute delay was caused by rain. Another downpour delayed the match for 25 minutes before Vilas ran off 12 straight points and won the first set.

The top player on the Grand Prix circuit, Vilas won the Dutch Open and the Washington International in his last two starts.

Gorman, who has been troubled by injuries the past eight months, came from a 1-3 deficit in the final set to overtake the unheralded Stewart, a tour veteran from Goose Creek, Tex. Stewart earlier had upset third-seeded Phil Dent and second-seeded Stan Smith.

Miss Doerner, who won the Atlantic City, N.J., stop on the five-tournament tour, handed Miss Evert, the younger sister of Chris Evert, her first loss since July 2.

Pearson Winner

LONG POND, Pa. (AP) — David Pearson backed into victory, says Richard Petty, just the same way Petty backed into topping $2 million in career winnings.

"Maybe I did back in," Pearson snapped, "just the way someone else backed into victory circle when I lost Daytona this year. Everything averages out in racing."

At issue was the finish in Sunday's 500-mile National Association of Stock Car Auto Racing Grand National stock car race at Pocono International Raceway, which Pearson won despite clouds of oil smoke pouring out of his Mercury.

Petty, about five seconds back, was an unhappy runnerup. But he cleared $2 million Sunday to push over $12 million in winnings over his 18-year career.

"I didn't want to go over $2 million that way," Petty said. "Just like when I topped $1 million in 1971 with a win at Atlanta."

Petty charged that Pearson, who was black-flagged two laps from the finish, should have come into the pits. NASCAR rules give a driver three laps to respond to the call-in.

"Richard sure wouldn't have stopped," Pearson retorted. "As a matter of fact, this has happened before and Richard has kept right on going."

Pearson, who collected about $16,000 of the $102,000 purse, was pulling steadily away from Petty the last 20 laps after the leaders all stopped for fresh tires and fuel.

Doyle Extends String; Splittorff On Target

By The Associated Press

For Denny Doyle, one hit was enough to make him the master of the major leagues. For Paul Splittorff, one hit was enough to keep him from completely mastering the Oakland A's.

Aurelio Rodriguez' two-run homer in the fourth inning and Ben Oglivie's two-run single in the eighth pulled Detroit into a 4-4 tie. But Cecil Cooper jumped on the first pitch in the bottom of the eighth for a homer, Boston's 100th of the season. The Red Sox, winning their fifth straight game and 23rd in their last 28, added an insurance run when Rick Burleson walked, took second on a grounder and scored on Doyle's single.

ROYALS 5, A'S 0

John Mayberry's two-run homer in the fourth inning and Brett's three-run double in the eighth gave Splittorff all the runs he needed. With the victory, the Royals inched within nine games of the A's in the West.

BREWERS 1, ORIOLES 1

Jim Slaton pitched a three-hitter, losing a no-hit bid on a seventh-inning single by Lee May, and Bobby Mitchell homered to help the Brewers beat Baltimore, who fell 9 1/2 games back of Boston in the East.

TWINS 7-12, WHITE SOX 4-9

Eric Soderholm's three-run homer highlighted a first-inning outburst that carried Minnesota to its first-game triumph, then rookie Dan Ford hit a bases-loaded double to climax an eight-run third inning that gave the Twins their second doubleheader sweep in two days over the White Sox.

YANKS 12-2, INDIANS 1-3

Graig Nettles and Bobby Bonds drove in two runs apiece in a seven-run fifth inning that enabled the Yanks to breeze past Cleveland in their opener. Rico Cardy's two-run homer in the eighth inning brought the Indians back in the nightcap and handed Billy Martin his first loss as the Yanks' manager.

Doyle's first-inning, two-run homer gave him hits in 21 consecutive games, the longest streak in the majors this season, and helped propel Boston's red-hot Red Sox to a 6-4 victory over Detroit.

Claudell Washington's hit, a first-inning single, was enough to keep Splittorff from pitching a no-hitter. The Kansas City left-hander set down the final 26 batters he faced and the Royals rode John Mayberry's two-run homer and George Brett's three-run double to a 5-0 whitewash of the A's.

In Sunday's other American League action, Milwaukee beat Baltimore 4-1, California downed Texas 6-4 and, in a pair of doubleheaders, Minnesota swept Chicago 7-4 and 12-9 and New York split with Cleveland, winning 12-1 and losing 3-2.

After costly and extensive prior treatment failed, this skin disease was believed incurable. At this point, Happy Jack mange medicine was used with dramatic success. Contains NO hexachlorophene! Also, HAPPY JACK flea-lick spray or powder, most effective where ordinary flea collars fail, use SAFE!!! At better drug & feed stores.

FOR YOUR PLEASURE Coming Weeks Offer Varied Entertainment

With so many people on vacations, it's not amiss to mention one of the most popular of all Texas tourist attractions. It's the Battleship Texas, permanently berthed at the San Jacinto site southeast of Houston. For the first time in the 27-year history of the Flagship of the Texas Navy, visitors can proceed at their own speed through the 12 marked electronic broadcast stations and hear a recorded message at each point describing that area of the mighty battleship. The visitor tours 11 decks from the moment he or she is greeted warmly by the voice of Gov. Dolph Briscoe. Already some 5,000,000 have visited the historic ship, which is financed from the $1 adult and 50 cent student admission.

Don't forget the "Starlight Specials" this week at the amphitheatre in Comanche Trail Park. It all began with the all-church Gospel sing 8:30 p.m. Sunday under direction of Frank Wentz; to be followed Tuesday by Fietta night, led by Lydia Molina, but preceded at 7:30 p.m. by sale of hot burritos by the Catholic Women's Guild. The climax comes Thursday with Western World, headed by Joe Dunn and featuring several Western bands. It's all admission free — perfect fun for the family. Mrs. Jerry Grimes, general chairman, points out.

Heritage Museum soon is due to have its supply of local Bicentennial coins or medallions. These have been sanctioned officially by the local Bicentennial Commission and will have a local Bi-Cen seal as well as the general seal on them. The museum also is in receipt of "Cattle Kings of the South Plains" as a gift from Howard Duff. Latest new and renewed members include Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Young, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Jones, Helen Hurt, all of Big Spring and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Pritchard, Stamford.

Texas artists wanting to get in on the 18th annual Delta Exhibition at the Arkansas Arts Center are reminded that delivery of entries must be complete by Sept. 19. Dates for the exhibit and its sales are Oct. 10-Nov. 9, and entry forms can be had from the art center at MacArthur Park, Little Rock, 72203.

Dallas visitors may want to take advantage of current Dallas Museum of Fine Arts exhibits. On until Aug. 31 are the Old West photographs covering the period 1860-85. Opening Aug. 21 and continuing to Sept. 28 will be five large charcoal and chalks by Bruce Cunningham. At 3 p.m., Aug. 10 Lela Walsh, pianist, will be presented in the museum auditorium and Aug. 17 Cathy Mills, pianist, will play. By the way, Dallas Civic Opera is pushing its season ticket sales for productions featuring such talent as Beverly Sills, Jon Vickers, Renata Scott, Alfredo Kraus. On tap are "Madam Butterfly," "Les Contes d'Hoffmann," "Anna Bolena," and "Tristan und Isolde."

Tom and Dorothy Bell Knapp will conduct a joint workshop in sculpture, drawing, painting, sketching Aug. 11-22 at Ruidoso, N.M.

Shower Honors Miss Hayworth

Miss Melanie Hayworth, bride-elect of Dennis Churchwell, was honored with a wedding shower Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Tom Yeats, Silver Heels.

The honoree was attired in a blue floral knit dress with long sleeves and belted waist. She and her mother, Mrs. L. D. Hayworth, and the bridegroom-elect's mother, Mrs. T. J. Churchwell, were presented mum corsages in pastel colors.

The table was laid with a lace-trimmed beige cloth centered with an arrangement of spring flowers, and silver and crystal appointments were used.

There were 16 hostesses, and among the guests were grandmothers of the couple, Mrs. W. E. Davidson and Mrs. D. W. Hayworth; and Churchwell's aunt, Mrs. Gene Britt of Lamesa.

The couple will be married Aug. 15 in Trinity Baptist Church.

Japan Dumps Tons Of Lemons

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP) — A 299-ton freighter has steamed out of this central Japanese port to dump into the Pacific 283 tons of American lemons treated with an antiseptic outlawed in Japan, maritime officials reported Saturday.

The California lemons, imported by a Tokyo trading company, were confiscated after quarantine officials found all of the fruit had been treated with ortho-phenyl-phenol, an antiseptic prohibited under Japanese law, Yokohama port authorities said.

Dear Abby

Neighbors Get Unpleasant View Of Lady Gardener

DEAR ABBY: Every year, our section of four neighborhood homes is subjected to a disgraceful display of an uncovered rear end of a 68-year-old woman who plants her pansies in this position. She wears a very short dress and bends from the waist instead of stooping or crouching. I once told her how comfortable slacks are, and she launched into a tirade about how unfeminine they were.

Her garden is in full view of our patio, and we can't entertain or sit out there because this woman ruins the view.

Would you please comment? Sign this.

"SEEN IT ALL" DEAR SEEN: The direct approach is usually the best one. Why not tell your neighbor frankly that if she doesn't like slacks, she should wear a longer dress while gardening.

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a 65-year-old wealthy president of his own company. During our 22 years of marriage, he has felt the need to consult periodically with psychiatrists.

I have never even met any of his shrinks and many times wasn't even aware that he had been seeing one until after his therapy was completed.

My husband is highly motivated but can't do anything in moderation. This applies to golf, taking medicine, exercising and everything else he gets involved in.

Now he says he has a new shrink who has advised him to forget his wife and two teenage children, and to "do his own thing."

I'd like to know what in the hell this doctor thinks my husband has been doing for the last 22 years without any interference from me.

Your advice would be greatly appreciated. MARYLAND DEAR MARYLAND: I seriously doubt that any psychiatrist worth his salt would advise a patient to "forget his wife and family and to do his own thing."

Ask your husband to ask his psychiatrist to set up a series of three-way sessions between husband, wife and doctor to discuss where matters stand. It might even turn out that there is no psychiatrist.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "ON THE SPOT": I know of no way for you to get your tapes and pictures back. But if you suspect that you will eventually be blackmailed, discuss it with a lawyer.

MISS YOUR PAPER? If you should miss your Big Spring Herald, or if service should be unsatisfactory, please telephone. Circulation Department Phone 263-7331 Open until 6:30 p.m. Mondays through Fridays Open Sundays Until 10:00 a.m.

Country Club Scene Of Pre-Nuptial Coffee

A coffee honoring Miss Zane Neal, bride-elect of Jody Nix, was held Friday morning in the Blue Room of Big Spring Country Club with hostesses being Mrs. W. T. Edwards Jr., Mrs. Connie Edwards and Mrs. Don Reynolds.

In the receiving line with the honoree were Mrs. Bill Neal Jr., Mrs. Lee Nix and Mrs. Hoyle Nix. Miss Neal was attired in a full-length, blue and white striped dress with a multi-colored embroidered yoke.

Members of the house party were Mrs. Ola Mae Williamson, Mrs. Mary Hatch, Mrs. Dakin Williams of Collinsville, Ill.; Mrs. Harry Middleton, Mrs. Tommy Gage, Mrs. Toots Mansfield, Miss Hoylen Nix and Miss Robin Nix.

The refreshment table was covered with a tiered, white embroidered cloth and featured a tall, silver candelabrum supporting a massive arrangement of white gypsophila, daisies and turquoise carnations. The buffet held a companion arrangement in an antique Sheffield wine cooler, and the same flowers were used in a small silver bowl on the register table. Miss Neal and her fiance will be married Aug. 31 at her parents' ranch home near Coahoma.

FOR CORPSMAN WHO HELPED Radioactivity Is Blamed For Death

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Just 30 years ago, 19-year-old U.S. Navy corpsman Terry G. Feil went ashore at Nagasaki to help set up a medical supply system.

This week, his wife and three children and his parents are in mourning.

Feil, a politician and businessman, died last Tuesday of what his family said was leukemia, lymphoma and generalized cancer attributable to the radioactivity he received at Nagasaki. He was 49.

The Nagasaki A-bomb, following the one on Hiroshima, was dropped Aug. 9, 1945. Feil's mother, Margaret Feil of Sacramento, said her son went ashore 10 days later from a hospital ship, the USS Sanctuary.

Feil reported that much of his hair fell out, "like practically everybody else" on the ship," Mrs. Feil said in an interview Sunday.

But there were no other immediate effects. Feil received a medical discharge but that was because of a crushed foot and severe asthma, his mother said.

Feil returned here and graduated from the Stanford School of Law with honors. He became owner of a billing service, two employment agencies and a printing company.

In the 1960s he led the campaign of the California Freeway Association to halt the passage of freeways through cities.

A member of the Republican State Central Committee, he ran for Congress in 1966 against Democratic Rep. John Moss, but lost. Gov. Ronald Reagan appointed him in 1967 to head the Advisory Board for the Bureau of Employment Agencies in the Division of Consumer Affairs.

Feil's mother said that three years ago he had a complete medical examination and was pronounced fit.

Then two years ago, he started having stomach pains.

"He thought it was an ulcer," his mother said. His hair started falling out again. He went to the Veterans Administration hospital in Martinez, near San Francisco.

There, he learned that within the last 15 years, about 60 per cent of the USS Sanctuary's crew that went to Nagasaki had come down with cancer, and the incidence of heart attacks was high too, Feil's family said. There may have been others who never reported to the Veterans Administration.

Ballonist Started In 1906

INDIANOLA, Iowa (AP) — The first woman to pierce the stratosphere says her decision to become one of the first women Episcopal priests was made in 1906 when she was 11 years old.

"My mother came into my room after darkness, sat on my bed and asked what I wanted to be when I grew up," recalls 80-year-old Dr. Jeanette Piccard of Minneapolis, who last week celebrated the first anniversary of the ordination of herself and 10 other women Episcopal priests.

"When I told her, she burst into tears and ran out of the room. In those days, it was bad enough to have a daughter who wanted to go to college, let alone become a priest," she said.

Dr. Piccard is somewhat the grand matron of ballooning and was invited here Sunday to preach at religious services during the national hot-air balloon races.

She was the first licensed woman balloonist in 1934, the year she and her scientist husband, Dr. Jean Piccard, ascended to an altitude of 57,579 feet from Dearborn, Mich.

She piloted the flight — it would be three years later before her husband was licensed — and says that "when people tell me 'I didn't know you went with him,' I say 'I didn't, he went with me.'"

The couple was in search of the mystery of cosmic rays. Dr. Piccard says their flights, coupled with information gained by military flights, as of 1950 exceeded all the information that had ever been gathered previously on cosmic rays.

"I haven't been up since 1970," she says. "That's when I walked through a door, stumbled and broke my hip."

Money Crisis May Close Waco Zoo

WACO, Tex. (AP) — A money crisis could force the closing of the Central Texas Zoo here, zoo officials say.

The 23-year-old facility needs funds for repair of its cages, kitchen and clinic. If the Waco city council does not enlarge the zoo's share of the city budget, the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) may shut it down, officials said.

Currently the zoo receives $39,000 annually from city funds and about $60,000 in private contributions raised by the Central Texas Zoological Society, which operates the menagerie of 505 animals. The zoo is running about $22,000 in the red this year and rising feed and maintenance costs are blamed.

USDA inspectors recently toured the zoo and found several deficiencies which violate the 1970 Animal Welfare Act. The zoo's kitchen is rat infested and its animal clinic is usable only for storage, Raboy said.

"The deterioration is some areas is so extensive," Raboy said, "that the USDA no longer will pass this zoo."

He said the city was mandated by a 165 referendum to provide funds to maintain the zoo.

"What they've done over the past 10 years is not provide sufficient funds. So money raised by the zoological society has had to go into operating expenses" rather than into repairs and improvements," he said.

"Feed, for example, runs from $2,500 to $3,000 a month," said zoo director David Raboy. "Compute that over 12 months and you see that the $39,000 the city is providing just barely is meeting feed expenses."

Raboy said that instead of $39,000 the zoo needs $129,000 per year from the city, including $43,000 for a new kitchen and clinic and $86,000 for operating expenses. Raboy said Abilene, similar in size to Waco, provides $139,000 yearly for its zoo.

IT WAS THAT KIND OF A DAY — An unidentified New Yorker takes advantage of a spurting fire hydrant to cool off as temperatures soared into the high 90s Saturday in Manhattan. The Northeast boiled under a heat wave as temperatures shot above 100 in New England, normally one of the nation's cooler areas.

Food Is Costlier All Over

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the same time that the prices of 18 food items rose 7.6 per cent in the United States, they shot up 27 per cent in the United Kingdom, 69.4 per cent in Argentina and only 5.3 per cent in West Germany, a Foreign Agricultural Service survey shows. The Agriculture Department agency makes a bimonthly check in 15 world capitals of the retail prices of the various items "essential to the diets of countries in the survey."

FAS officials here convert the prices into U.S. dollars. Currency devaluations thus affect the comparisons among capitals, the agency notes. The survey was initiated in 1973 as part of Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz's campaign to convince Americans that, even though U.S. food prices then were going up at an annual rate of almost 15 per cent, they were eating better for less than residents of other nations. Sugar was added to the list in December 1974, just after a 500 per cent price rocket turned down. The results of the July 2 survey, comparing prices with those a year earlier, noted that retail sugar prices this year "have remained steady only in Brussels, Copenhagen and Mexico City."

"A downward trend in sugar prices has been experienced in Washington and Ottawa, but the reverse is true in the European and South American capitals." Among the other findings, boneless sirloin steak was going for $15 a pound in Tokyo, 62 cents a pound in Buenos Aires and $2.12 in Washington; eggs, $1.39 a dozen in Stockholm, 35 cents in Buenos Aires and 91 cents in Washington, and oranges, $2.87 a dozen in Bonn, 46 cents in Mexico City and $1.54 in Washington. On a month-to-month basis, the FAS and agricultural attaches found, the United States and Japan, both at 0.3 per cent, had the lowest percentage price increases.

The Washington supermarket checked for the survey had prices below the median of the 15 capitals for steak, boneless roast chuck, canned ham, sliced bacon, braisers, eggs, butter and sugar. Above the median were the prices of pork chops, cheese, milk, cooking oil, tomatoes, onions, apples, oranges, bread and rice. WASHINGTON (AP) — Total use of commercial fertilizers from July 1973 through this May declined by 14 per cent from the same period a year earlier, the Crop Reporting Board says. The survey is based on statistics from only 15 states — those where three years of comparable data is available. It includes the primary corn state of Indiana, but not Iowa, Kansas or other major grain belt areas.

Fertilizer use in those 15 states in May was about the same as a year before but 30 per cent more than in May 1973. Materials for direct application were up 6 per cent from a year ago but total mixtures were down 3 per cent, the report said. WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Farmers Union today recommended a 1976 farm program providing price supports at 90 per cent of parity to farmers for unlimited production of feedgrains, wheat and soybeans. But if Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz will not protect farmers against the falling prices of overproduction, NFU President Tony T. Dechant said, producers should cut back their output next year. Farmers expected to feed the hungry deserve assurances of a fair return, Dechant said, the same way that medicine manufacturers are assured of profits before producing goods for healing the sick.

"No one builds houses for the homeless, or makes shoes for the barefoot or clothing for the destitute until he is assured of an adequate return for his labor, his materials and his risk," said Dechant. Scouts Panel Meets Tuesday The regular monthly meeting of the Lone Star District Scout committee has been set for Tuesday noon at Coker's, Sam Honeycutt, district chairman, said today. He urged a large turnout since details of the autumn program will be reported.

Webb AFB Plays Host To Estimated 12,000

By TROY BRYANT An estimated 12,000 persons gathered on the Webb Air Force Base Flight Line Sunday, to participate in the Webb Bicentennial Open House. The Thunderbirds, performing for the 1,945th time since their formation in 1953, were the stars of the show, causing many people to brave 95 degree weather to attend. Prior to the Thunderbirds' performance, an inspection team made a walk-by inspection of the unit. The inspection team included Mrs. Linda Bennett, wife of the late Capt. Steve Bennett, medal of honor winner and former Webb AFB student; Cong. Omar Burleson, 17th Congressional District, Ken

NY Banks Handling Package

NEW YORK (AP) — The city's banks and the Municipal Assistance Corp. (MAC) got to work today on final details of a complicated $1 billion package of bank loans, municipal bond sales and cash advances from the state to help the city to pay debts due in August and to avoid default. At the same time, Mayor Abraham Beame was taking steps to keep directors of the MAC from usurping fiscal control of the city. The fiscal plan, described by one MAC official as "the most complex financing arrangement I've ever seen," was expected to be presented to corporation directors for approval around midweek. Among key items in the plan are: A $250-million short-term, low-interest "bridge" loan from the major banks. —Major sales to mid-western and west coast banks. —A $120-million advance of payments due the city from the state later this year. —An extension by the banks on $100 million in loans due Aug. 22, or the purchase by the banks of $100 million worth of bonds from the MAC. The corporation was created by state officials less than two months ago to help the city refinance $3 billion of its debt. One finance official, noting that the city's 11 largest banks are holding about $8 billion in all types of New York City paper, said, "That's really a brimful. It means that in the future we're going to have to count on the market west of the Hudson (River), which will be damn difficult."

A corporation official mentioned Chicago and San Francisco banks as sales targets for about $200 million worth of MAC bonds. Beame set a Labor Day deadline for his top 100 executives to come up with tough-minded methods to get more work for less money. He also asked Richard Shinn, president of Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., to "streamline the city's management and implement operational efficiency."

Activities concluded with a tour of the new dining hall, which will feed 500 persons, 166 at a time. THEFTS James Adams, Southland Apts., reported that his ten-speed bicycle was stolen at about 4 a.m. Saturday. Police recovered the bicycle at 5:15 p.m. after it was abandoned on FM 700 near the Malone-Hogan Hospital.

"I Didn't Murder That Lady," Clements Asserts

"Sir, I didn't murder the lady," Elmer Don Clements told his attorney during an inquest by jury today. Peace Justice Gus Ochotorena was holding the inquest to determine whether the fatal shooting of Ruby Ortega, 46, was murder or was done in self defense. While no one has been charged, Ochotorena told Clements that he was a suspect and did not have to testify. However, Clements was expected to testify this afternoon. Mrs. Ortega had been taking a nap prior to cleaning Clements' home, 207 S. Jones St. police quoted Clements saying. The two were arguing about prepayment when he was cut and she was shot about 1:40 p.m. Saturday, July 26. Miss Rachel Rangel, a cashier at a nearby grocery, told about Clements appearing with blood on his shirt and asking her to call the police. "I'VE BEEN STABBED" "I've been stabbed, and I have shot Nigger Ruby," Patrolman V. Y. Garcia quoted Clements telling him. Garcia said he saw Mrs. Ortega half-sitting and half-lying on the bed inside the house. "I hollared at her; 'Ruby, are you all right,'" Garcia recalled. She didn't answer. Clements told police detective Avery Falkner the woman flashed a pistol at him earlier in Mutt's Lounge. But Falkner said he was unable to verify the alleged gun threat by questioning witnesses in the bar. Clements said he hid Mrs.

Ortega's pistol in the night stand and replaced it with a blank pistol while she was sleeping, Falkner said. He fired the empty blank pistol at him, threw it down and started looking around the night stand, Clements was quoted saying. Then, Clements, told him, Falkner said that he, Clements shot her with a .22 caliber rifle. Falkner said Mrs. Ortega shot another man with the same pistol about one month earlier, but the victim did not want to press charges. So the detective said he recognized Mrs. Ortega's pistol when police found it in her purse which she was clutching. "How it got in her purse from the time it was hidden and the time he shot her I don't have any explanation for," Falkner said. A six-man jury will make a recommended ruling in the death.

People Still Killing People — In Autos

Automobile accidents took the heaviest toll among violent deaths in Texas during the weekend, including a two-car head-on crash at Port Isabel that killed four persons. The Associated Press count began at 6 p.m. Friday and continued through midnight Sunday. The number of deaths had risen to 32 late Sunday night with 19 traffic fatalities, six shooting deaths, four killed in a plane crash, a stabbing, a drowning and one crushed to death. The Department of Public Safety identified the victims of the Port Isabel crash as Adelita Valles, 20, of McAllen, Hector Alvarez, 11, of Pharr, Gustavo Rios, 23, and his wife, Junita, 24, both of Reynosa, Mexico. The DPS said seven other persons were injured.

The bodies of four Harlingen residents were found in the wreckage of their single-engine plane near Johnson City Sunday, the Department of Public Safety reported. The dead were identified as James Inness, 22, the pilot, George Inness, 45, Margie Inness, 43, and Cynthia Ruth Inness, 18. A DPS spokesman said the plane crashed Saturday en route from Harlingen to Troy, Neb. A two-week-old Jacksonville infant was killed Sunday night in a two-vehicle collision on Texas 175 two miles east of Frankton. The infant, Delcia Canady, was dead on arrival at a Jacksonville hospital. The child's father, Bobby Charles Canady, was injured when his pickup was struck from behind by a second vehicle while parked on the shoulder of the highway.

Houston police identified the body Sunday of James Harold Moore, 42, found stabbed to death in a wooded area Saturday. Police said Moore suffered multiple stab wounds about the head and chest. A 22-year-old bicycle rider was struck and killed by a car on a Houston street early Sunday, police reported. Police said the victim, Donald Ray Green, was knocked 114 feet by the impact. No arrest had been made in the death late Sunday, police said. The body of Thomas Hall, 9, of Baytown, who apparently drowned while on a church outing, was recovered by fishermen Sunday near here. Authorities said the boy was not missed at the outing and swimming party at Cedar Bayou Bridge Saturday. Near Palo Pinto in West Texas, Donald N. Taylor, 23, of Palo Pinto, died early Sunday when his car ran off the highway and overturned. Two Shamrock men were killed early Sunday when the sports car in which they were riding went out of control, struck a guard rail on Interstate 40, flew through the air and exploded on hitting a culvert 100 yards away. The Department of Public Safety identified the dead men as Joe Albert Martinez III, 18, and Gary Keith Hiltbrunner, 27. Three persons were killed early Saturday in a head-on collision in Limestone County two miles from Mexia on Texas 14. The victims were L. T. State Commission OKs Two Big Spring Grants

Sen. Ray Farrabee announced today that the Texas Commission on Alcoholism recently approved two grant applications from Big Spring. The Big Spring State Hospital received an award of $20,455 for the continuance of its alcoholism Outreach and Follow-Up Program. The City of Big Spring also received second year continuation funding of $43,273 for its detoxification facilities. Both of the grants were approved in June to begin July 1, 1975. The Big Spring State Hospital award will continue the Outreach and Followup Services currently being provided in Reeves, Ward and Howard counties. This grant will also continue the bilingual counseling services conducted at the hospital. The City of Big Spring project will continue to provide a local emergency care facility for the citizens of Howard County with alcohol-related problems. Objective of this facility is to provide the necessary counseling and rehabilitation required by those alcoholic patients admitted to the center. K. E. Behan, executive director of the Texas Commission on Alcoholism, said that the federal funds of these programs are made available under the comprehensive alcohol abuse and alcoholism prevention, treatment and rehabilitation act passed by Congress in 1970. The total funding of the Big Spring State Hospital grant will be $36,925, with the grantee contributing $16,470. Total funding of the City of Big Spring grant will be $60,353, with the grantee contributing $17,080.

Despite Slump, Hefner Maintains Life Style

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Hugh M. Hefner, fighting a financial slump brought on by changing times, says the sun is not setting on his flamboyant Playboy empire. He's still maintaining his super flashy style. The boss has taken a salary cut, put his black "Big Bunny" jet up for sale, but otherwise lives like a rajah banking on better fortune. "Our economic problems are not unique to Playboy but something we share with General Motors. We see much brighter days ahead," Hefner said in an interview, lounging beside the pool of his 30-room Tudor mansion in the exclusive Holmby Hills section of Los Angeles. Hefner, determined to keep living in style, has vetoed efforts by his senior vice president, Victor Lowme, to sell the 74-room Chicago Playboy mansion. But he authorized a staff cutback. To fight losses, Playboy will franchise its once exclusive key clubs and will open hotels to non-keyholders. There are 20 key clubs. Now 49 and graying at the temples, Hefner insisted that Playboy Enterprises, Inc. is shifting gears not because it fell behind the times but because everyone else caught up. "For most of our 21 years there was no real circulation competition," Hefner said of the magazine, flagship of a fleet of Playboy diversified interests. "Now there is a far more competitive situation with several other men's magazines of which 'Penthouse' of course is the main one." Hefner owns 70 per cent of Playboy stock and gave up his own last stock dividend to help the firm. Playboy will have a new look this fall with revised cover design, more non-fiction and new features.
