TURN OFF THE WINDMILL — Residents clustered around the play lake at Middle Knott in northwest Howard County didn't need the windmill today. The lake, already nearly brimming, was filled to the highest point since 1957 by Thursday night downpours which ran over a 5-inch rain gauge. Only big trucks could get through the road today. (Photo By Danny Valdes)

Lakes May Have Gain

Two major reservoirs in the area were due to gain some runoff today, but the picture was unclear. Lake J. B. Thomas, which had 3.1 at the Big Spring intake and 3.3 at the Dam, stood the best chance. The Colorado River at the Big Spring-Gail road crossing was running 2 feet, four inches deep at 10 a.m. and rising. Indications, however, are that the rainfall above that point tapered off sharply. Runoff from the Big Spring area was swelling Beals Creek and at mid-morning it had picked up to 5 1/2 feet at the SH 163 bridge south of Westbrook and was still rising. Downstream at Lake Spence, no rain fell. The diversion works just above Colorado City had 3.1 inches of rain, and Friday morning water in the river was spilling 6 inches deep.

Kidnaped Girl Found

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Elaine Taylor, the blonde 7-year-old authorities say was kidnaped a week ago, has been found alive in a dry riverbed, wrapped in a blanket. "As far as we know, she's okay," said her father, El Cajon dentist Phillip Taylor. The youngster, who apparently had been dragged over 10 miles of mountainous desert, seemed dazed as she was flown home by helicopter. She had several mosquito bites and had scratches on her face, legs and feet. Authorities said a 19-year-old Mexican national was booked in San Diego County Jail for investigation of kidnaping and burglary. Bail was set at $100,000 for the youth, Alberto Varon Ibarra. The hero was Doug Knoell, a border patrolman for five years who was out looking for illegal aliens early Thursday when his car searchlight fell on a footprint. "It was exactly like the one I had found about seven hours before that, about two miles away in Chula Vista," he said.

Booze Tycoon Begg Thugs For Proof His Son Is Alive

YORKTOWN HEIGHTS, N.Y. (AP) — Multimillionaire Edgar Bronfman says he has complied with all demands of his son's kidnapers and is begging for a sign that Samuel Bronfman 2nd is still alive and well. Saying the 21-year-old whisky scion's abductor's "have failed to follow through," Bronfman noted that "time is going by" and pleaded with the kidnapers to renew contact through an agreed upon secret telephone number. The concern with fleeting time referred to a warning from the kidnapers that a record $4.5 million ransom would have to be paid within 10 days for Samuel's safe return. They said the victim was buried somewhere in Westchester County with only 10 days' supply of water and air. The kidnapers failed to say when the 10 days began, but officials have assumed they meant 10 days from the day of the warning, Monday. Neither the family nor the FBI would say whether Bronfman, chairman of the Seagram's Co. Ltd. of Montreal, world's largest distillers, had delivered the $4.5 million to the kidnapers. It was confirmed that a tape recording of Samuel's voice and instructions from the abductors was received. Jonathan Rinehart, a public relations consultant and Bronfman family friend, broke a 2 1/2-day family and official silence that had shrouded developments in the case when he met reporters Thursday on the landscaped grounds of the 150-acre family estate here and read a handwritten statement. The statement, which he completed in two minutes, read: "As you know, the family received a tape recording containing instructions and other evidence that these people have Sam. We are very grateful for receiving that evidence. "We want to assure them we intend to comply with instructions and we have done so. However, the abductors so far have failed to follow through. We ask them now to renew their contacts by calling us at the number they originally indicated. "But time is going by. We need additional evidence that Sam is still alive and well. We repeat, we are prepared to comply with instructions, which must be clear, specific and practical. And we urge them to contact the family with additional evidence that Sam is still alive and well." Rinehart refused to answer questions or say anything beyond the text of the statement, apparently worded to smooth negotiations for Samuel's return. The quickened pace of developments Wednesday night and increased traffic of helicopters and carloads of FBI agents in and out of the estate had raised hopes that the kidnap drama was nearing a climax, but Bronfman's statement dashed that optimism. Early today, the sixth day of Samuel's disappearance, there was no report from the family, the FBI or other sources that contact had been renewed with the abductors.

Knott Flooded, Scattered Rains Soak Howard Area

By TROY BRYANT Thursday night rains were very discriminatory in Howard County, leaving some areas dry, while homes were being evacuated due to flooding in other areas. At least three families fled from their homes at Knott early this morning as a play lake, already full of water from earlier rains, put about three-quarters of a mile of Farm Road 846 under water. One house had over a foot of water at noon, and another was flooding. Water was standing 18 inches deep in the Grady Grantham home at 6 a.m. and the rising water threatened to enter two more homes. Tractors and boats were used to get clothes and other items from the homes. GAUGE RUNS OVER An oilfield pumper said that the rain gauge on his lease, which held five inches, was running over. Other reports ranged from 3.5 to five inches. Mrs. Jerry Roman said the last time that the water had gone over the road was on May 24, 1957, but she said that the water had never been this high in the houses. Her garden and orchard are under three feet of water. Mr. and Mrs. Gary Riddle, along with their two sons, six months and two years, evacuated their home early in the morning and prepared to take the furniture out today. Water lacked six inches getting into the house, and water was still pouring into the lake at 9 a.m. The Clarence Ditto home, three miles further west of the lake, caught fire after high water shorted electric wires at about 10:30 a.m. The Ackerly Fire Department soon had the blaze under control, but the extent of the damage was not known. It was believed to have been contained in the bathroom. The rains also caused some flooding on U.S. Highway 87 near Ackerly. Water covered a stretch of the highway, halting traffic for a time early this morning. OVER 20 INCHES Officially, Big Spring topped the 20 inch mark for the year as 2.06 was measured at the Experiment Station. Last night's total brought the total for the month to 2.58 and the total for the year to 20.43. Normal for this time during the year is 11.30 inches. Ackerly caught 1.7 inches of rainfall from the storm while a field northeast of there received about 3.7 inches. Mrs. John T. Couch, Luther, reported that "it rained all night, with some high winds and a lot of lightning." Her rain gauge measured 3.5 inches. About three inches fell at Fairview and 3.3 inches fell about 10 miles northeast of Big Spring on the Snyder Highway and four inches fell near Center Point. Other measurements included 1.0 inch at Sand Springs and 3 at Coahoma. No rain was measured at Forsan and Bill Cregar reported .75 of an inch at Elbow School.

NEW WAY TO GET MAIL — Garry Riddle and his son Don, 2, had to resort to a new way to get the mail Friday morning, gliding up to the box in Riddle's boat, which normally has to be hauled miles to a lake. Friday it also was being used to ferry furniture from the flooding Riddle home at Knott. (Photo By Danny Valdes)

The Colorado River Municipal Water District reported these readings: Big Spring pump station north of town 2.8, Morgan Creek 3 of an inch, Big Spring-Odessa intake at Lake Thomas 3.1 and at the dam 3.3 inches (the lake also had 1.4 inches Wednesday evening), 2.8 inches at the Big Spring-Gail road crossing on the Colorado River, and 4.4 seven miles south of that point. Snyder had .68 (plus 1.1 inches Wednesday evening), Moss Creek Lake .30, diversion works at Colorado City 3.1 inches, Martin County pump station .5 of an inch, Midland .30 of an inch, Rich Anderson Ranch southwest Borden .85 of an inch at the house and 2.2 four miles east, Gail 1 inch, Coahoma 2.6 inches, Westbrook 1 inch.

Estes Hearing Slated Today

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — A district judge was scheduled to hear arguments today in a suit which alleges that Billie Sol Estes is violating his parole by being a "silent partner" in a real estate venture near here.

Stan Harrell, an attorney for Hidden Valley Country Club Estates, requested the hearing. The firm wants liens, which were filed against it by a Houston land use planner, canceled.

W. Keith Maxwell, the planner, charges in the suit that Estes joined the director of the Hidden Valley firm in a 1,068 real estate development project near Keller. One provision of Estes' parole was that he would not participate in large-scale business ventures.

Joan Little Acquitted Of Charges

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — A jury of six whites and six blacks acquitted Joan Little of all charges today in the icepick stabbing of her white jailer.

The panel deliberated less than an hour and a half before returning its verdict in the case of the 21-year-old black woman who said she stabbed Clarence Allgood, 62, to defend herself during a sexual attack.

The state had charged Miss Little with killing Allgood in an attempt to escape from the Beaufort County Jail in Washington, N.C., where she was being held while appealing a breaking and entering conviction.

Miss Little sat quietly at the defense table and showed little emotion as jury foreman Mark Nielsen read the verdict.

It was issued 1 hour and 18 minutes after Wake Superior Court Judge Hamilton Hobgood told jurors that they would be the "sole judges" of the truth in the case.

He gave the panel three choices in reaching a verdict: guilty of second-degree murder with a maximum penalty of life imprisonment; guilty of manslaughter with a penalty of four months to 20 years imprisonment, or innocent on all charges.

Hobgood told the jurors that the state had presented a case based on circumstantial evidence because there was no eyewitness to the killing. But he said circumstantial evidence is a recognized legal concept to be considered in deliberations.

He said Miss Little must be presumed innocent, however, unless the state had proved her guilt beyond reasonable doubt.

Wake County Dist. Atty. Burley Mitchell, who took jurisdiction over the case when the trial was transferred here, said Thursday he would drop the charges against Miss Little if the jury cannot reach a unanimous decision.

He later said he would consult with Beaufort County Dist. Atty. William Griffin before making that decision. Griffin said he would consider how the jury split before deciding whether to prosecute a second time.

Allgood was found stabbed to death in Miss Little's cell at the jail in Washington, N.C., last Aug. 27. He was naked from the waist down.

Miss Little testified that Allgood came to her cell in the middle of the night, threatened her with an ice pick and forced her to perform oral sex on him. She said she took the ice pick away from him in a struggle and stabbed him to fend him off, then fled for her life.

In closing arguments Thursday, chief defense counsel Jerry Paul characterized Miss Little as an instrument for attaining justice for black women. He said he felt God had called him into the case.

"She was a hero, because she stood up for what was right and she had the courage to come back and tell you about it," Paul said. Griffin accused the defense of trying to confuse the jury with alternate theories. "I ask you only to do one thing, not to try this case on sympathy, but to try it on facts," Griffin said.

Griffin suggested Miss Little waited until Allgood was weakened by sexual excitement and then stabbed him to gain her freedom. "There was a sexual act going on and at the moment of ecstasy... she let him have it," Griffin said.

The prosecution sought to portray Miss Little as calm and calculating at the time of the slaying. It backed up that contention with the testimony of a telephone operator who said a person who identified herself as Miss Little made a collect call from the jail between 3 a.m. and 4 a.m. the morning Allgood was killed.

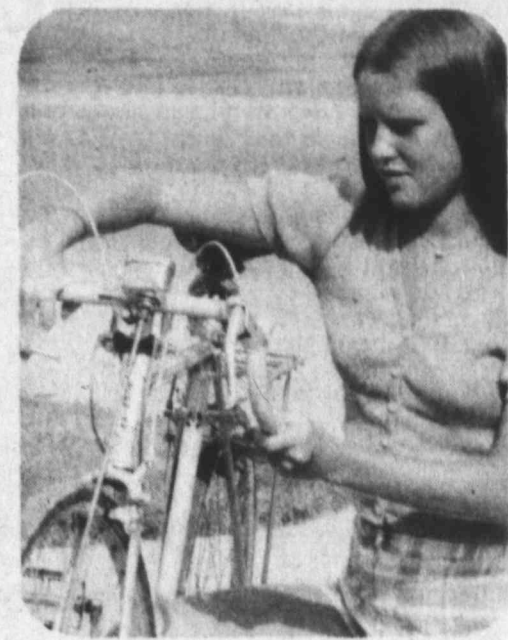

BIBLE FUND SLOWS A BIT

The Bible Fund response today eased up a bit but still topped the $100 mark. The tempo will have to be stepped up if the $6,000 goal is reached before end of the annual appeal.

Bangladesh President Military Coup Victim

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — President Mujibur Rahman of Bangladesh, hero of his country's struggle for independence from Pakistan 3 1/2 years ago, was killed early today in a military coup. Radio Bangladesh announced.

The radio said Sheikh Mujib had been replaced by a former close associate, Khondakar Mushtaque Ahmed, and that a 24-hour curfew had been imposed. An army officer identified as Major Dalim called in the broadcast for all citizens to "remain calm and stay at home."

Diplomatic reports reaching New Delhi said that Prime Minister Mansoor Ali and two of Sheikh Mujib's nephews had also been killed in the coup.

The reports said the coup leaders had renamed the country the "Islamic Republic of Bangladesh" instead of the "People's Republic of Bangladesh," indicating the new government planned to stress Islamic policies rather than Sheikh Mujib's socialist line. About 90 per cent of Bangladesh's estimated 77 million people are Moslems.

The coup followed growing dissatisfaction with Sheikh Mujib's failure to come up with solutions to the country's staggering economic problems.

The diplomatic reports said the coup was staged at 5:15 a.m. (7:15 p.m. Thursday EDT) and there had been sporadic fighting in the early stages around Dacca, the capital. However, two hours later "by and large everything is quiet," the reports said.

These reports were backed up by the United News of India news agency, which reported from Dacca that everything was calm in the capital and there was no indication of any opposition to the new rulers. Tanks patrolled the main streets of the city and guarded roads leading to Sheikh Mujib's residence, the agency said. Dacca airport was reported closed to flights from India.

The Indian government radio said martial law had been proclaimed following the coup, but there was no word on this from Bangladesh.

The new president, speaking on the radio three hours after the coup, called for the support of the armed forces, police and paramilitary organizations, and appealed to "all the peace-loving countrymen to do your duty and cooperate with the new government."

DID YOU HEAR ABOUT AGGIE?

It was really an Aggie barbecue Thursday night, as the Aggies themselves admitted.

Preparing to ice down drinks, somebody stacked 500 pounds of cracked ice on the grill.

Quipped one of the Aggies: "If anybody comes up and sees the ice sitting on top of the fire, we're going to hear about it."

Over 700 persons attended the successful event, with officers of the local Aggie Club announcing that two scholarships will be awarded with names to be announced soon.

Vets Needed Raise

Reluctantly, President Ford has signed a bill granting cost-of-living benefit increases to the nation's disabled veterans. And the President's complaints illustrate once again his myopia toward human needs and his overwhelming concern with fiscal restraint, whatever its human cost.

The bill signed by Ford increases benefits by 10 to 12 per cent. Given the size of the benefits, that's hardly outrageous. It means the minimum monthly cash benefit to disabled veterans will rise to $35, and the maximum — for those veterans permanently and totally disabled in service to their country — $1,628 monthly. Most disabled veterans fall somewhere in between these extremes.

In any case, the per cent of increase only mirrors the rate of inflation. But the President is unhappy; he wanted Congress to limit the increase to 5 per cent, in the interest of his budget.

Since a 5 per cent increase wouldn't match the rise in the cost of living, that means the President was willing for disabled veterans to do their part again — by suffering financial hardship in the cause of upholding the President's budgetary views and hard-line economic policy.

The President doesn't appear to be a hard-hearted, insensitive man. Not in his personal behavior, that is.

But his policies are; time and again he ignores the needs of ordinary Americans for help, sacrificing them on the altar of conservative economics.

Some Alternatives

A Gallup Poll indicates that substantially more than half of the people in U.S. cities of 500,000 and more are afraid to walk in their neighborhoods at night. Overall, nearly half of those interviewed on the question — people in various parts of the country — said they shared this fear.

Americans do not feel this way without reason. The Federal Bureau of Investigation has just reported that during the first three months of 1975 crime was 18 per cent higher than in the same period a year ago. Crimes of violence are still on the rise, as they have been for many years. Murder is occurring at double the rate in 1961.

These and related statistics, described by Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi as "one of the terrifying facts of life," cry out for more effective counteraction.

There is no one or easy solution. President Ford has recommended mandatory prison sentences for those convicted of violent crimes, but it is highly doubtful that this within itself would be a deterrent. Such a small percentage of the perpetrators of crimes get caught that apprehension and conviction, rather than pre-prescribed punishment may be the first step. Prompt, certain trials might help even more.

Perhaps restitution, short of acts of murder, might help impose more forcefully the consequence of the criminal's acts upon him. At least they might be relieved of the luxury of letting the victim do all the suffering.

Crippled CIA

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON - Sooner or later one of those game companies will come out with a CIA game. Land on a Castro assassination plot and you advance 10 squares to Senate inquiry and another shake of the dice. With one revelation after another through the sieve of Washington leaks, it has all come to sound like a piece of unreal gamesmanship.

IT IS in fact a profoundly serious business with a great deal at stake for the future of the nation. Only partly surfaced thus far the fear in the executive branch is that the intelligence apparatus is being destroyed. And this concern relates particularly to the interlock with intelligence operations in friendly countries.

We are just not getting reports, Britain is an example, that might be traced back to a source, says an official with responsibility for intelligence outside the CIA. The fear is that within a week the source would be named in newspaper stories and that would be the end of a channel of information.

OUR OPPOSITE numbers abroad, says this same official, simply cannot understand what is happening when they see the American intelligence system apparently being torn to ribbons. They ask what it means about the stability of government in Washington and the future of an apparatus that more than any other is looked to for a careful appraisal of the power structure between East and West.

The British example is only one since other allied and friendly powers are beginning to apply cautionary restraints in dealing with U.S. intelligence authorities.

AT THE same time the committee of inquiry headed by Sen. Frank Church is proceeding with closed door hearings through the August recess. With a professional staff of 70, including former CIA executives, former ambassadors, FBI agents and others with a direct connection with intelligence gathering at home and abroad, the committee is engaged in a thorough review of the entire operation.

Thus far not a single leak has come from the committee on which Democrats and Republicans are working in close cooperation. The same cannot be said for the Rockefeller commission, which concluded by shoving off on the Senate the whole assassination allegation. It is this that currently absorbs the Church committee.

THE FLOOD of leaks from a variety of sources has generated an atmosphere of suspicion and distrust. The motivation behind those leaks is one of the dubious elements. Politics, and the politics of revenge, is surely one motive.

Competitive reporting by the media, giving the old CIA one more lump, is another factor. The White House is suspected among those with knowledge of the whole business of some of the leaks, the motivation being to discredit earlier administrations.

President Ford said not long ago that the CIA was in serious danger of being crippled. Secretary of State Henry Kissinger has said privately it has already been crippled.

IN THE opinion of this observer, revelation of the crimes of the intelligence agencies in violation of the guarantees of the Constitution must run its course. But out of the responsible inquiry of the Senate committee, with its broad writ of authority, should come acceptance of a plan for oversight of a CIA and an FBI purged of past abuses.

There, sire! In your new clothes, you're the best-dressed emperor in all the world!

Signals Of Trouble

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Many small- and medium-size business men prefer to slide down the chute to bankruptcy with their eyes closed and their arms folded rather than recognize the warning signals.

That is the observation of some accountants and others who are called in during the terminal days of one-health concerns.

"You'd be surprised how many either will turn their backs on realities or minimize the warning signals when they occur," states an executive of Coopers & Lybrand, the big accounting firm.

Maintaining that "there has never been such a period of uncertainty in predicting the future," the firm is preparing to publish for its clients an advisory booklet on sound planning and cash control techniques.

One tip: Read those sales reports carefully. Salesmen often fear to report dropping orders lest it reflects on their performance, the accountants say. A change in the order "mix" also can foretell dangers.

"A shift in sales mix toward less profitable products is a development that frequently occurs hand in hand with a decrease in sales volume," the booklet will say, making the onset of trouble doubly deadly and swift.

Some other signals of trouble:

—Your customers, who themselves might be pressed, request delays in shipment of orders already placed, thus preventing you from converting products into cash. And the goods might have to be stored at your expense.

—Your customers reject discounts for early payment and ask for longer periods in which to settle. This increases the financing cost to you and adds to the risk of not being able to collect at all, at least in full.

—The quality of your company's work is slipping. Idle time is increasing. Hiredlings act contrary to management's plans, especially in the costly areas of hiring and purchasing.

In fighting back, the accounting firm says, the businessman must focus on mobilizing cash, instituting cash controls, improving revenue and using his credit more wisely.

Unproductive assets should be put to work. Funds should be used more intensively. "You should consider using bank wires or telephone transfer checks which can move funds overnight from branch office to head office," they advise.

"Excess funds can be invested temporarily in short-term money market vehicles to earn interest," the booklet will say, advising businessmen that "a broker or banker can quickly identify and obtain secure investments for you over a weekend or even for one day."

The 'Hawg Leg'

Around The Rim

John Edwards

A new government study recommends law enforcement officers use ammunition with more stopping power than the traditional low-velocity 159-grain, .38-caliber special bullet.

MEANWHILE, local peace officers carry a variety of types of handguns and ammunition.

Police are required to carry pistols of .38 or larger caliber, Stanley Bogard, assistant police chief, said.

The department pays only for "practice rounds," and officers must purchase their own pistols, Bogard said.

Deputy sheriffs buy their own pistols and ammunition, Sheriff A. N. Standard said. Standard requires .38 caliber pistols with low-velocity rounds.

WHILE OTHER kinds of ammunition and guns may be needed elsewhere, Standard felt the traditional types were most appropriate in Howard County.

A .357 Magnum with "an overload can ricochet up and down the street for a block or more," Standard commented.

The large calibers are being proposed "so a man will not have the opportunity to keep on firing on the officer or escape," Bogard explained.

OTHER STUDIES have recommended using bullets which will knock a man down and daze him until he can be handcuffed, Standard said.

State Troopers in uniform are issued .357 Magnum revolvers with 4½-inch barrels, Lt. J. O. Tanner of the Texas Department of Public Safety in Midland said. Various types of bullets for this caliber gun are provided.

H. Guy Talbot, special investigator for the district attorney, said he carries a .45-caliber automatic with hollow-point bullets.

OF THE STUDY, Talbot commented: "I agree with it 100 per cent."

Commissioned by the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, the study does not recommend any specific bullet.

However, it suggested police use ammunition with a "relative incapacitation index" between 10 and 25.

The relative incapacitation index is a measurement involving the bullet's shock effect on the body. It does not necessarily measure the extent of body damage.

HEAVY, LOW-VELOCITY .38 caliber special bullets fall below this range, especially when fired from short-barreled pistols.

Light-weight, high-speed, .38-caliber special bullets performed within the recommended range.

Highest stopping power is provided with .44 Magnum, 200 grain, jacketed, hollow-point bullets. All of the .44 Magnum and most of the .357 Magnum bullets rank higher than 25.

Hollow-point bullets are less likely than lead bullets to penetrate the target and ricochet, hitting a bystander, the study reported.

Loose-Lip Admiral

Rowland Evans

WASHINGTON — Apprehension swept through the Pentagon when it learned that retired Navy Rear Adm. Gene R. LaRoque, favorite military expert of the American left, was about to visit Japan for the first time as guest of big left-wing Tokyo newspapers.

THE ALARM was justified by past performance. Highly questionable Senate testimony by LaRoque on nuclear weapons last year set off a major Japanese political crisis. Before leaving for his current tour of Japan, he reassured the State Department he had no wish to "foul up" U.S.-Japanese relations. But in Tokyo last Thursday, the dovish admiral was up to his old tricks.

Incorrectly billed in the Japanese press as former commander of the U.S. Sixth Fleet, the ex-cruiser skipper told a press conference that U.S. bases in Japan and South Korea "do not in any way contribute to the national defense of the U.S., directly or indirectly."

SUCH STRATEGIC apostasy from a U.S. admiral undercuts the communique issued here last week by President Ford and Japanese prime minister Takeo Miki, strongly reiterating this bedrock of the U.S.-Japanese alliance: mutual security inextricably linked to the Korean peninsula, where the U.S. maintains 42,000 battle-ready troops and extensive military bases. But that is in keeping with LaRoque's outrageous testimony on the nuclear question.

THAT TESTIMONY by LaRoque, who heads the anti-Pentagon Center of Defense Information, was made before a joint Atomic Energy subcommittee last Sept. 10 and stands intact in the record despite documented rebuttal from the Defense Department.

Summoned by the subcommittee chairman, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, to discuss nuclear proliferation, LaRoque first made his well-publicized statement which triggered political turbulence in Japan. He said "most people" were not aware that U.S. naval vessels armed with nuclear weapons regularly visit Japanese ports and that "there is a real danger that we may get an inadvertent use of one of those nuclear weapons."

HE THEN went on to a cozy, intimate account of what he alleged to be just such a near-miss accidental nuclear firing. Describing an incident in which the Terrier anti-aircraft missile was to be fired in a practice session from the deck of the cruiser Providence, commanded by LaRoque, the retired admiral testified.

"Lo and behold, we were ready to fire and the machinery clanks and the computers all buzz and whir and up popped a red-tipped missile. Now, a red-tipped missile is a nuclear missile. This mechanism was now completely automated and almost out of anybody's control because the radars had locked on the incoming (practice) plane and the computers had all been mashed. We were able, of course, to put the genie back in the bottle (but) it really worried me."

EDWARD J. BAUSER, then committee counsel, at Symington's direction, sent this explosive allegation to the Defense Department for a complete report. What came back was a carefully understated letter from D.R. Cotter, assistant for atomic energy to Secretary of Defense James Schlesinger, which gave the lie to LaRoque's testimony, stem to stern.

"NO NAVY Department record of such an incident could be located. If such an incident had occurred, the commanding officer (LaRoque) was of course required to submit a report in compliance with existing Navy directives."

That letter was dated Sept. 25. Thereafter, the Defense Department interviewed members of the crew during LaRoque's command from October 1964 to November 1965. Not one could recall an incident even remotely consistent with the admiral's scary testimony. It appeared to be a complete fabrication.

My Answer

Billy Graham

If God made the worlds and the heavens, as well as Adam and Eve. I would like to know how did God come to be? V.T.

From your handwriting, I surmise you are perhaps a child. This question has been asked since the dawn of time, and it's a valid one. But let me give you a warning.

If people think they can prove God's eternal existence the way you would a chemistry experiment, they are very wrong. Strong's volume on theology says that the more Christianity is proved, the less it is believed. He claimed that the revival of religion under Whitefield and Wesley did what all the apologists of the 18th Century could not do—it quickened men's intuitions into life and made them recognize God.

Remember that only love can really "see" God — not the intellect. That's why Paul in Ephesians 1:18 talks about "the eyes of the heart." It's not that the eternal existence of God is contrary to reason. It is rather beyond reason.

If you give your life to God through a personal faith in Christ, God will make Himself real to you. So real that you will find no need to prove His existence any more than you need to prove the worth of a friend.

A Devotion For Today

"Verily I say until you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven." (Matthew 18:3)

PRAYER: Lord God, deepen our concern for Thy children and strengthen our witness. Help us to live in the spirit of the prayer Thy Son, our Lord, taught us, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

We Hold These Truths... A Chronicle of America

Summer, 1775:

John Murray Dunmore, the Royal Governor of Virginia, writes to Lord Dartmouth, Secretary for the Colonies, describing the growing spirit of rebellion: Virginians "manifest no other disposition than for resisting the authority of government. Bodies of men are everywhere set on foot, arming, and disciplining with great diligence, and appearing in uniforms. His Majesty's English subjects, indentured servants, are compelled to take arms and submit themselves to all orders they shall receive [from the rebelling colonists]; some of these [faithful subjects] have escaped to the ship of war, [Fowey, at anchor in the York River], the only protection they can meet with now [because] the laws have no operation."

Job Suspensions Loom Following Cocaine Capers

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Allegations by a U.S. Customs agent arrested while reportedly trying to sell a large amount of cocaine to an undercover agent have sparked a grand jury probe here that, sources say, will result in administrative suspensions.

The federal grand jury was scheduled to resume activities today listening to some of the 20 customs agents subpoenaed in connection with the investigation. George Hirsch, deputy customs chief here and one of the officers subpoenaed, said he would not be surprised if some top ranking officers were suspended as a result of the investigation.

"The whole mess originates from friction between U.S. Customs and the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA)," Hirsch said Thursday while waiting to testify before the grand jury.

year by George Hough, a customs agent who was arrested last June 8 while allegedly trying to sell $2.4 million worth of cocaine to an undercover agent.

Officers said Hough also led investigators to his personal locker at the U.S. Customs office where a small amount of marijuana was found.

Sources said the investigation will extend into the use by officers of Customs and the DEA of federal money earmarked for "purchases" of drugs.

activities of other officers in the U.S. Customs Office in El Paso.

Hirsch said Thursday he feels the investigation is aimed directly at him and was initiated by the DEA. Hirsch said customs agents were more active than those of DEA and had made more arrests.

Clark talked to the grand jury Wednesday in the opening day of the probe. He was accompanied by Assistant U.S. atlys. John Pinkney and Ron Ederer.

On Thursday, the grand jury moved its hearing rooms from the first to the fifth floor of the courthouse.

Two Officers Gunned Down

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Four armed men pulled their car alongside a patrol car here and shot two policemen to death early today, the Red Cross said.

A spokesman said the shooting occurred about a mile from the market place where three policemen and three government price inspectors were gunned down as they ate breakfast Tuesday. Those assailants were believed to be members of the 23rd of September Communist League, one of Mexico's most feared urban guerrilla groups.

TI To Quiz Director Of Aeronautics Agency

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas International says it will call Texas Aeronautics Commission executive director Charles Murphy today as its second adverse witness in a court battle over air service to Harlingen.

Texas International offered a newspaper clipping in state district court Thursday as evidence of "the hostility Texas International encountered" in its fight to keep Southwest Airlines out of the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

James Wilson, attorney for Texas International, introduced the article as one of more than 150 exhibits stacked up on the judge's desk during the first day of the his case against the Texas Aeronautics Commission (TAC).

Newspaper clippings normally are considered hearsay, but there was no objection from TAC or Southwest attorneys.

Perhaps it was because the article, from the Dallas Morning News Feb. 2 edition, also showed hostility by Texas International toward TAC.

Texas International, an interstate carrier, has fought Southwest, a purely intrastate carrier, since it was organized in the late 1960s.

The older airline filed a brief in opposition to Southwest's proposed entry into the South Texas market that said, "The commission (TAC) has given Southwest a license to exploit the public and, in true robber baron fashion, Southwest has taken full advantage of the opportunity."

Texas International said the commission staff was prejudiced against Texas International and wanted to build an "empire" by expanding the intrastate line. Southwest has captured a large portion of the Houston-Dallas traffic with reduced fares that the TAC says have saved Texans $15 million.

FISHING REAL BAD

Shrimp Boat Confiscated, Captain Put On Probation

HOUSTON (AP) — The captain of a Cuban shrimp boat has been placed on one year's probation following his conviction in federal court here of fishing in U.S. territorial waters near Port Aransas Aug. 2.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge John V. Singleton Jr., gave his verdict Thursday in the non-jury trial and ordered forfeiture of the boat, which has been in custody of the U.S. Coast Guard in Corpus Christi.

Singleton placed the captain, Roberto Ayo Gonzales, 22, of Havana, on probation under the condition he does not engage in commercial fishing or enter the United States during that year. The maximum penalty is one year in prison and $100,000 fine.

Prior to sentencing, Gonzales said, "I never had any intention to enter the territorial waters of this country or any country."

The captain said in earlier testimony his ship started fishing for shrimp Aug. 1 while following the mother ship, which was equipped with sophisticated navigational equipment.

Gonzales said the fishing was bad and his boat started fishing on its own about 1 a.m. Aug. 2. When he first sighted a Coast Guard cutter he said he believed he was beyond the 12-mile territorial limit.

The captain said the mother ship told him he was 14.5 miles from shore when the Coast Guard stopped his boat. Coast Guardsmen testified radar showed the shrimp boat was about eight miles from St. Joseph Island off Port Aransas when it was stopped. Baskets of shrimp were found on board.

Inmates City Council Eyeing New Transfer Budget Up Only 2.6 Pct. Blocked

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — State Corrections Department plans to transfer 25 elderly inmates from the state prison at Angola to a tuberculosis hospital near Baton Rouge today have been blocked by a state court judge.

Dist. Judge Louis Dougherty signed the temporary ban Thursday at the request of East Baton Rouge Parish officials and scheduled a hearing for Aug. 21 on whether to make it permanent.

The district court hearing is scheduled one day after the 21st Circuit Court of Appeals hears arguments in a similar suit seeking to block transfer of prisoners from Angola to unused portions of a state mental hospital at Jackson.

In addition to ordering state officials to make sweeping improvements at Angola itself, U. S. Dist. Judge E. Gordon West also ordered swift steps to reduce the inmate population at Angola.

However, citizen groups at Jackson and Greenwell Springs, site of the TB hospital, have objected to any prisoners being housed in their areas.

Although the plans are to transfer only ill, elderly and less dangerous inmates, residents of the areas have complained that public safety would be endangered and property values lowered.

The Louisiana AFL-CIO, the Louisiana Association for Mental Health, the Mental Health Association of Baton Rouge and nine West Feliciana Parish residents joined Thursday in filing another objection. They asked the circuit court to hear their arguments against any transfers of convicts to the Jackson hospital. The AFL-CIO, saying it represents about 200,000 persons, said it was concerned about union members who might be sent to the hospital.

Meanwhile, work was resumed Thursday on refurbishing facilities at the Jackson site after the appeals court dissolved a restraining order holding up the work pending resolution of the over-all question of whether the prison transfer can be made.

No prisoners will be moved to the Jackson facility for several weeks even if the courts clear the way for the transfers because of time needed for the erection of fencing and guard towers along with other remodeling work.

DEATHS

Boone Horne

Services for Morton B. (Boone) Horne, 72, Big Spring businessman for three and a half decades, will be 10:30 a.m. Saturday in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel with Dr. Kenneth Patrick, First Baptist pastor, officiating. He will be assisted by Dr. Jimmy Law, College Baptist pastor. Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

Mr. Horn, 1604 Indian Hills, died 7:50 a.m. Thursday in a Dallas hospital after a long illness.

He was born March 26, 1903 at Desdemona, Texas and married Sibyl Fuller Aug. 27, 1928 at Waurika, Okla. A 1926 graduate of Baylor University, he taught school in Wheeler County for two years and moved to Amarillo, then to Lubbock and came to Big Spring in 1941 to help establish the Hester's Office Supply. He also had an interest in West-Tex Printing Company.

Active in civic affairs while health permitted, he had been a long-time member of the Downtown Lions Club, served a year as president of the American Cancer Society chapter. He was a member of the First Baptist Church, the Big Spring Masonic Lodge 1340, the Dallas Consistory of Scottish Rite Masters.

Survivors include his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Noel Hull, Big Spring; and Mrs. Dick Mylam, Lubbock; a brother, H. H. Horne, Fort Worth; two sisters, Mrs. Eula Draper, Amarillo, and Mrs. Mettie Hester, Lubbock; and five grandchildren. He was preceded in death by a son, Wayne, in 1952.

Pallbearers will be Hugh Duncan, L. T. King, Gilbert Gibbs, Russell Dorsey, Jack Hanes, Luther Lowe, David Hester, and J. B. Apple.

W. H. Rawlings

Services for William H. Rawlings, 85, who died Thursday at 12:25 p.m. will be at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel with Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor emeritus, First Presbyterian Church, officiating.

Burial will be in Mt. Olive Memorial Park.

He was born Oct. 27, 1889 at Ironton, Ohio and was married to Gladys Marie Milton on Nov. 19, 1917 at Delaware, Ohio.

Mr. Rawlings was a member of the Methodist Church and had been a resident of Big Spring for the past two years. He came here from Ohio where he farmed until retirement in 1959.

Survivors include his wife, Gladys; a son, Lester E. Rawlings, Fort Myers, Fla.; a daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Vigar, Big Spring; two sisters, Mrs. May Washburn, and Mrs. Clara Carguagh, both of Ironton, Ohio; four grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Bob Bolin, Ivan White, Rudy Derhoff, James Norman, Grant Rogers, and Ken Marks.

Chandler Patton

Services will be 10:30 a.m. Monday at the graveside in Mt. Olive Memorial Park for Chandler R. Patton, 64, retired livestock ring worker, who died in a hospital here 8:45 p.m. Thursday. Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

He was born Oct. 9, 1911 in Montague and came to Big Spring in 1940, working for the livestock auction until retirement in 1972. He was a Baptist.

Surviving are two sisters, Mary Lee Underwood, Phoenix, Ariz., and Roberta Barnett, Rockwell, N.M.; five brothers, Walter Ernest, Hairel Gene Thomas Harley Parron of Big Spring, Alfred Patton Jr., Nocona and Gene DePatton, Roswell, N.M.

Pallbearers are Johnny Lee and Owen R. Rowlls, David Poe, Dusty Choate and Tommy Hubbard.

Mrs. L. D. Gilbert

Final rites were held at 10 a.m. Friday in the Immaculate Heart of Mary Church for Mrs. L. D. (Averil) Gilbert, 66, who died 4:50 p.m. in a hospital here. He had a heart attack a week ago while visiting a friend in the hospital.

Rosary was recited Thursday evening, and the Rev. Louis Moeller, pastor of Immaculate Heart Church, conducted the funeral mass. Burial was in the Trinity Memorial Park with Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home in charge. Pallbearers were Jim Reid, Bill Snedd, Bill Griese, Jack Engel, James Morgan, Earl Taylor, Marvin Wise and Danny Wise.

She leaves her husband, four sons and a daughter.

Mable Harris

Mrs. Mable Lee Fleener Harris, 71, died at 1 p.m. Thursday in a local hospital. Services will be at 4 p.m.

Drowning Victim Services

COLORADO CITY — The body of Arturo Holguin, 24, Colorado City, grandson of Mrs. Adele Acosta, Big Spring, was found floating near Lake Colorado City's east shore at 10 a.m. Thursday following a two-day search.

Holguin apparently fell into the lake about 10 p.m. Tuesday after a family picnic. Family members said that he went down to the beach to wash off. After they found his clothing on the beach, they notified authorities.

The lake was searched until 4 p.m. Wednesday and then resumed at daybreak Thursday.

Holguin's body was sighted, according to Deputy Sheriff L. M. Newby, by members of the Abilene Citizen's Band Radio Club who were patrolling in a boat, across the lake from where his clothes were found.

Justice of the Peace Mary Lee Moore ruled his death was due to accidental drowning.

Services will be at 3 p.m. today at the Calvary Baptist Church, with Rev. Bob Grayson, pastor, officiating. Burial will be at the City Cemetery, directed by Kiker-Seale Funeral Home.

He was born May 9, 1951 in Loraine and lived most of his life in Colorado City.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raul M. Holguin, Colorado City; four brothers, Raul Holguin Jr., Dallas, Rene Holguin, Colorado City, Joe Holguin, Houston and Jim Holguin, Snyder; five sisters, Mrs. Elia Larson, Austin, Mrs. Irma Alderete, Snyder, Mrs. Irene Reyna, Houston, Mrs. Lydia Shane, Colorado City, and Mrs. Blanca Benally, Window Rock, Ariz.; and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Adele Acosta, Big Spring.

Gasoline Costs for the City

Actual sewage costs last year were $357,666.23. This is considerably higher than the $195,696.84 which was coming in, and the anticipated added revenue of $95,628 would still not clear the books.

The city exempt $40,000 in taxes for senior citizens, and at the same time has added several services. This also is reflected in the budget woes.

All council members were present for the final budget workshop session Thursday.

A 1967 model car reported stolen by Pam Stanich, Andrews Highway, Wednesday was found in San Angelo, the sheriff's office reported today.

Tanker Bangs Oil Platform

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A tanker carrying 46 men and 14.7 million gallons of oil caught fire after smashing into an unmanned drilling platform in the Gulf of Mexico early today, the Coast Guard said.

Five crewmen were missing, and a search for them intensified after daylight, a spokesman said.

He said a heavy slick fed by crude oil pouring from a hole in the hull of the vessel, identified as the Globtik Sun, spread over an area two miles long and a half-mile wide.

There was no immediate report on possible pollution as a result of the accident.

Forty-one crewmen who abandoned the burning ship in darkness were picked up by boats in the area south of Lake Charles after the Globtik Sun's SOS went out about 1:40 a.m. CDT. Coast Guard helicopters flew the men to Galveston, Tex.

Ten of them, including Capt. Noral E. Strangeland, 39, of Somme, Norway, were taken to John Sealy Hospital in Galveston, where officials said two were listed in serious or critical condition. Eight were treated and released, officials said.

Strangeland was among those treated and released. "I was in my cabin making my papers ready for customs," Strangeland said in Galveston. "I looked out the porthole. Everything was in fire. We started making extra measures and services to get everybody on deck and get them off the ship." He said he saw no light on the drilling platform.

"We came down in lifeboats, and everything was in fire around us," Strangeland said he was not sure that all crewmen had abandoned the burning ship, "but I am still hoping."

First Mate Reidar Knutsen said he was asleep when he heard a general quarters alarm.

"I came out on deck and there was a lot of smoke and fire. Some of the men had jumped overboard."

"The captain and I lowered boats. We were the last over the side."

Knutsen said he telephoned his wife in Norway from the Galveston hospital to let her know he was all right.

The Globtik Sun, a 734-foot British vessel, was carrying Arabian light crude from the Bahamas to Houston, the Coast Guard said. She plowed into the drilling platform 100 miles south of Lake Charles near the Louisiana-Texas border.

Officials said there were no working wells on the platform, owned by Chevron. A spokesman described the

Third Battle Of Alamo Ends

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — City councilmen and the Daughters of the Republic of Texas (DRT) compromised Thursday and the third battle of the Alamo ended.

Angry DRT representatives had threatened a court suit to block proposed changes at Alamo Plaza.

Renovating Alamo Plaza is one of San Antonio's main bicentennial projects.

DRT had opposed closing Alamo Plaza Street, in front of the shrine, arguing that visitors to the Alamo would have 21 fewer parking spaces.

San Antonio's city council closed parking on the street for one year as a test to see how much profit loss the DRT will suffer if there are fewer visitors.

If there is a revenue loss, the city council would finance a parking lot for the Alamo.

DRT is responsible for the Alamo's upkeep and depends solely on contributions by visitors for the shrine's upkeep.

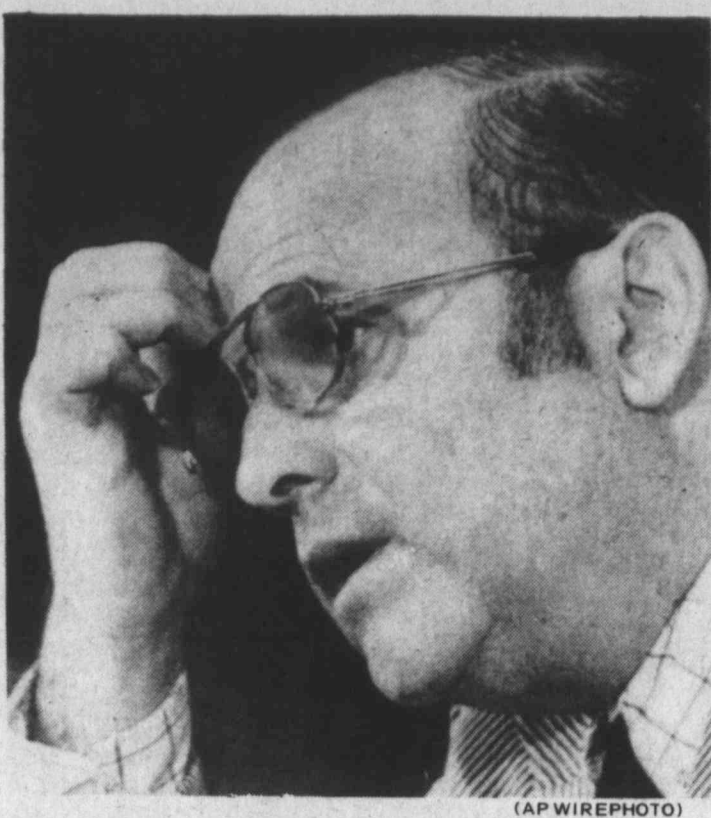

The Alamo group agreed to flagstone paving instead of more grass which they had asked for and agreed to let city councilmen have final say over the fate of a 60-year-old bandstand in front of the shrine.

The dispute has been dubbed the third battle of the Alamo because it is the third time in which the Alamo faced a major change.

The first time was, of course, the Battle of the Alamo in 1836. The second was the DRT's successful battle to keep the city from demolishing the Alamo at the turn of the century.

City Atty. Crawford Reeder said the most important thing DRT representatives agreed to was help in "unfreezing federal funds necessary for the plaza's renovation."

The funds are currently locked up because of the DRT objections to the first proposed Alamo renovation project.

Youth Held In Bike Burglaries

David Frank Morgan, 18, of 4223 Hamilton, was in city jail today in lieu of $3,000 bond set by Justice of the Peace Gus Ochotorena, charged with felony theft.

Morgan and three juveniles were arrested in connection with the theft of two motorcycles from the S & H Yamaha Shop last week.

The motorcycles were recovered in a building in the community of Carbon, south of Eastland. Avery Falkner was the investigating police detective.

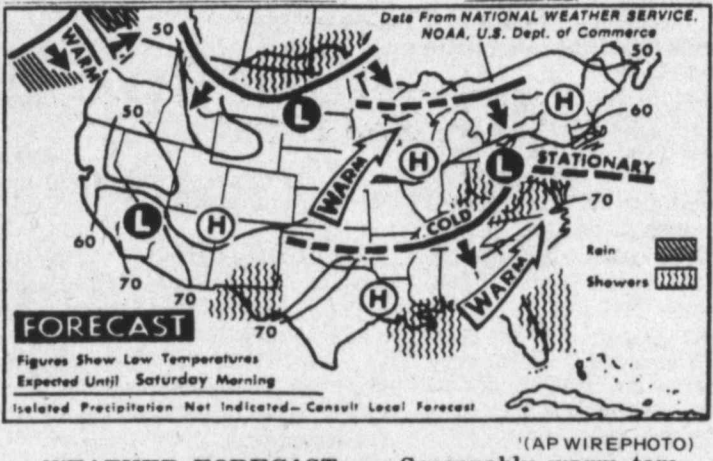

In a separate case Thursday, City Detective Leroy Spires recovered two stolen stereos, a calculator, tapes and other stolen items. This case is still under investigation.

Appraiser Asks 'Reclassification'

"Our values ought to be brought up to date," Richard Fleener, senior tax appraiser, said Thursday afternoon.

He was speaking at a meeting of the joint tax appraisal board, which includes representatives of nine local governments. Less than a quorum, four members representing four governments, was present.

Fleener objected to the word "re-evaluation" saying this would be a "reclassification."

"It would be looking at (19) 77 taxes instead of (19) 76 taxes," Jim Gregg, assistant city manager, said.

Should local governments decide to start a comprehensive reappraisal of property (tax) values in one year, more employees would be required in the tax appraisal office.

The appraisal staff is committed to reviewing values on 20 per cent of real estate in the county yearly.

For the 1976 budget which will be considered at the September meeting, the same size staff will be figured.

In other business, the group:

Heard it explained the city's numbering system of real property is being adopted by the county but not the same numbers. Mrs. Zarah L. Bednar, county tax collector, said the old numbers would not work for the county.

Learned about half of the appraisal staff's $41,138 budget for 1975 had been spent by July 31.

And decided to advise El Paso Natural Gas that local governmental jurisdiction boundary descriptions could be obtained in the courthouse. The firm had requested metes and bounds of all local governments with jurisdiction over part of Howard County.

Dr. Charles Hays, chairman, represented Howard College at the meeting. Others present included Don Crockett, assistant Big Spring school superintendent for business.

JOINS CULT OF KRISHNA — Alfred Brush Ford, 25-year-old great-grandson of Henry Ford, holds a bag containing his prayer beads at the Krishna Consciousness Temple located on Detroit's eastside where Elizabeth Reuther, 28, daughter of Walter Reuther, is also an adherent. Ford and Miss Reuther have not discussed their backgrounds with each other because socializing between single male and female adherents is forbidden in the temple.

SIDEWALK SALE — Big Spring shoppers were harkening to the old days today as shoppers took advantage of sidewalk sales. Numbers of merchants piled special buys on tables and benches in front of stores so that shoppers could browse through at leisure.

Mom Of 'Tania' Hearst To Testify Before Jury

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Catherine Hearst, the mother of fugitive newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst, will testify before a federal grand jury in Harrisburg, Pa. But she says she has no idea what she will be asked and "I don't know why I'm going."

Meanwhile, her husband, Randolph A. Hearst, president and editor of the San Francisco Examiner, denied allegations by a man in FBI custody that the Hearsts may be sending money to their daughter.

"Mrs. Hearst and I do not know where Patty is, have never known and have never contributed one dime to her support since the kidnapping," Hearst said Thursday.

Mrs. Hearst said she will obey a subpoena to appear in Harrisburg Tuesday. Her daughter, who joined the radical Symbionese Liberation Army which kidnapped her, has been missing for 18 months.

The same grand jury has subpoenaed sports activist Jack Scott and his wife, Micki, to testify Monday. They say they will not cooperate.

Walter Scott, Jack Scott's brother who disappeared last week only to turn up in custody of the FBI, has suggested the Hearsts are supporting Patricia. He has suggested his brother, sister-in-law and parents are involved with the missing heiress.

Walter Scott, a 43-year-old ex-Marine, was described by his father Thursday as an alcoholic and a psychopathic liar who has been "in and out of mental hospitals." Jack Scott said his brother has "severe personal problems."

A man identifying himself as Walter Scott phoned the Philadelphia bureau of The Associated Press early today and denied the Scott family's charges. He claimed the family was trying to discredit him through "malicious allegations."

He said, however, that he had had problems with alcohol and had been hospitalized several times for depression, once at Delaware State Hospital.

The caller said he decided to work with the FBI in the Hearst case in early 1974 because two Philadelphia agents, whom he identified as David Rack and Brian Carroll, were "the best men I've met in 10 years."

"I'm not cooperating with a group of convoluted homosexual morons. All these bleeding heart bastards (who criticize the FBI) couldn't do as much for the United States as these guys do in two months."

The caller said a second reason for his cooperation was to help capture "people who have performed assassinations, abductions and robberies."

He said he did so without taking any reward.

Mrs. Hearst's subpoena was disclosed after several crosscountry developments involving the Hearst and Scott families.

Walter Scott surfaced Wednesday night at an FBI-arranged news conference in Philadelphia and said his brother had offered to deliver Patricia to her parents for payment of $100,000.

Jack Scott denied this, and Hearst said, "I've had no negotiations in relation to money at any time or place."

Randolph and Catherine Hearst have met with the Scott family in recent weeks, and it is believed Mrs. Hearst will be questioned about these meetings by the grand jury.

The Harrisburg panel is investigating allegations that the missing newspaper heiress was harbored by the Scotts for a time last year in a Pennsylvania farmhouse.

Walter Scott said his father even drove Miss Hearst from the West Coast to the East Coast last summer. He also said he met Patricia at his parents' Las Vegas home on Sept. 24.

Jack Scott said in Las Vegas the family has phone records to show that Walter could not have met Patricia there because Walter was in London at the time.

Asked in a telephone interview if he had in any way aided Miss Hearst, the father, John Scott, 66, said, "Absolutely not." He was asked if he had seen Miss Hearst in the past year.

"How would I know if I did?" said Jack.

Jack Scott, 33, former athletic director at Oberlin College, said he was stunned at the allegations by his brother, who claimed, among other things, that Jack was romantically involved with Miss Hearst.

"Walter's interview ... is just one more example of how far the FBI will go in its attempts to harass and intimidate progressive people," Scott said.

PRESENTS COMMENDATION — Big Spring VA Hospital superintendent Jack Powell (left) and chief of Nursing Services Verona Riegel, RN (right), present a commendation certificate to Pam Weldele, RN, head nurse of Ward 3. She is credited with preventing the suicide of a patient who tried to jump out of a third floor window on July 23. According to the commendation, she noticed the patient already trying to crawl out the window, grabbed him and detained him until help arrived.

Dad Killer Wanted 'To Get His Head Together'

DENISON, Tex. (AP) — Glenda Waylon Maurice Holt, described in testimony by his schoolmates as a quiet youth who said he wanted "to get his head together," has been found guilty of murdering his father.

A district court jury Thursday found Holt, 17, guilty of the death of his father, Glendale Maurice Holt, 40. The youth is also charged with the murder of his sister, Jacqueline Dianne Holt, 12.

The father and sister were shot three times each with a .22-caliber weapon April 15, 1975.

Mrs. Hazel Holt testified her son once asked her for psychiatric help, but his father told him to get a job, and that "it was all part of growing up."

The youth complained often of severe headaches, she said, but she recalled no indications that might have led him to murder. The morning of the shooting, Holt complained of a severe headache and asked schoolmate Gary Summerhill to take him home, Summerhill testified.

Summerhill refused because he could not leave school grounds, and Holt then walked home, Summerhill said.

Other witnesses said Holt came into police headquarters and said he wanted to report a murder.

Police detective Clyde Nave said Holt told him, "I have just shot my father and sister."

SIRHAN GUN EYED RFK Assassination Inquiry Reopened

LOS ANGELES (AP) — New ballistics tests have been ordered in an effort to resolve lingering questions about a "second-gun" theory in the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Superior Court Judge Robert A. Wenke on Thursday ordered the eight-shot .22-caliber pistol taken as evidence in the June 5, 1968 slaying fired again.

The order came during a hearing on a suit by Paul Schrade, one of those wounded in the volley of shots fired at Kennedy. He was joined in the court action by the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors.

His suit to reopening the investigation into Kennedy's death seeks release of a 10-volume police report on the assassination and all physical evidence in the case.

Sirhan B. Sirhan is serving a life sentence for killing Kennedy. The case is being reopened to resolve doubts by some persons over whether Sirhan acted by himself.

Criminologists Herbert McDonnell of New York and Lowell Bradford of Campbell, Calif., maintained after examination of pictures of the bullets fired in Kennedy's assassination that two of the bullets were fired from two different guns.

Wenke's order directs attorneys to report to him by Sept. 11 on whether they have agreed upon a method to test-fire the weapon wrestled from the hands of Sirhan at the scene of the crime. If no agreement is reached, he said he will study briefs and appoint experts to test-fire the gun.

Lt. Krekorian Bridge Winner

Lt. James E. Krekorian, 1905 Wason Rd., Big Spring, Tex. and Kurt Lee Gandenberger, Flemington, N.J. won first over-all in the Non-Masters Pairs, a two-session championship event of the 1975 Summer North American Bridge Championships in Bal Harbour, Fla.

The event is among four major championships and 13 regional titles at stake in the 10-day tournament at which more than 6,000 players from throughout North America compete. The Summer Championships are one of three major bridge meets held each year by the American Contract Bridge League. The next tourney will be in New Orleans in November, 1975.

This event drew a total of 200 players.

Mexico Rapped For Allowing Sale Of Pre-Columbian Art

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Mexico should clean up its own act before asking other nations to help keep pre-Columbian art in Mexico, U.S. District Court Judge John H. Woods Jr. said.

The judge gave his view Thursday before sentencing four of five United States citizens convicted of possessing stolen Mexican art.

Mexican law protects pre-Columbian artifacts by making them property of the Mexican government.

"Mexico should clean up its own act, especially where vendors repeatedly accost tourists in Mexico, daily exposing them to these items for sale that are reported to be pre-Columbian artifacts," Judge Woods said.

The judge added that he had received several anonymous telephone calls asking that he "throw the book" at the five defendants.

"It is my opinion that Mexico should pass and enforce laws preventing these items from being represented as pre-Columbian art for sale to American tourists," said Judge Woods, who recounted being personally approached while traveling in Mexico about buying reputed pre-Columbian art.

Woods sentenced Michael Bradshaw, 28, of Toledo, Ohio, and Mrs. Patty McClain, 37, of San Antonio to three-year prison terms with all but six months probated.

He sentenced William Clark Simpson of San Antonio to three-years in jail with all but six months probated with probation to last five years.

Simpson's wife was given a three-year suspended sentence.

All four and Joseph H. Rodriguez of Calexico, Calif., were arrested at a north San Antonio motel where they were exhibiting 175 pieces of art.

Later all were convicted of conspiring to transport interstate commerce stolen property.

Rodriguez, convicted also of transporting the artifacts from Calexico to San Antonio, was to be sentenced next Tuesday.

Experts valued the artifacts in excess of $100,000.

"There apparently has been no effort by the Mexican government to prohibit these sales ... I think Mexico could do a little more to help itself," Judge Woods said after sentencing.

Each of the defendants told the judge they did not know what they were doing was illegal and they had sought legal opinions before trying to sell the items.

Name Six Parole Commissioners

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Board of Pardons and Paroles gained six new commissioners Thursday in an effort to ease the crush of handling adult probation in Texas.

The commissioners, authorized by the 1975 legislature, were named by Gov. Dolph Briscoe, Texas Supreme Court Chief Justice Joe R. Greenhill and Presiding Judge John F. Onion of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals for two, four and six-year terms. They are not subject to confirmation by the Senate.

The commissioners will work with the present three-member Board of Pardons and Paroles on the granting and revocation of paroles, but have no authority on executive clemency matters, such as commutation of sentences and pardons.

Final action on both paroles and executive clemency takes the approval of both the board and the governor.

The six new commissioners appointed were: Helen Copitka, 32, Houston, research director of the Houston Council on Human Relations, a director of the Hope Center for Youth in Harris County, and a member of the Multi-Ethnic Advisory Committee-Bilingual of the Houston Independent School District, for a two-year term.

Don R. Stiles, 38, Grapevine, vice president and a director of the Texas Correction Association, and adult probation officer in Dallas who has under his supervision some 800 probationers, for a two-year term.

Edward Odis Johnson, 44, an Austin black, who has been serving as special projects coordinator in the county and rural services division of the Texas Department of Community Affairs, for a four-year term.

Gilberto de Leon Jr., 40, assistant chief of police in Uvalde, for a four-year term.

Paul F. Crowell Jr., 32, San Antonio, a federal probation and parole officer for the Western District of Texas and former state juvenile probation officer in Harris County, for a six-year term.

Paul J. Mansmann, 30, Fort Worth, district parole officer for the state in Tarrant, Parker and Palo Pinto counties, for a six-year term.

The board said there were 17,087 parole cases considered during its last business year (1974) and 3,964 paroles were granted. There were more than 11,608 parolees under state supervision during all or part of the year.

Chicago Trips Houston, 9-2

By the Associated Press
Sparky Anderson says you still have to treat the Pittsburgh Pirates with respect ... but what George Foster and Gary Nolan did to them was downright impudent. Foster slugged his 20th and 21st homers of the season Thursday night to drive in five runs and Gary Nolan muffed the Pirates' bats on just four hits in eight innings as Anderson's Cincinnati Reds cruised to a 6-1 victory.

In the rest of the National League, Atlanta beat St. Louis 6-4, San Francisco bombed Montreal 9-2 and Chicago squeezed past Houston 5-3.

Houston, Rob Sperring and Steve Swisher dumping successive runcoring bunts in the fourth inning.

With the score tied 2-2 and runners on second and third, Sperring bunted back to the mound, J.R. Richard fielded the ball but his throw to home was too late. Swisher followed with a bunt between the mound and first base for a hit that scored what proved to be the winning run.

BURST BUBBLE — Cleveland Indians' Eric Raich huffs and puffs and blows a mighty bubble of gum, but the inevitable occurs and Raich's artistry ends up hanging from his nose during game with Chicago, Thursday night.

Donny Retires

MIAMI (AP) — "I'm 100 per cent positive I made the right decision," says running back Donny Anderson, who retired and left the Miami Dolphins training camp rather than put his 32-year-old legs through another season.

"I always like to think I'm a frontrunner," Anderson said Thursday. "And when you're finished, you're finished."

"It would be disappointing for me if I was put into a situation where I had to perform for Coach (Don) Shula and I didn't do it. It would be very humiliating for me."

DAY OFF FOR DETROIT Angels Blast Red Sox

By the Associated Press
The Detroit Tigers didn't lose Thursday. They didn't play, either, and it may be just as well. The Bengals fans, just like the players, have lost patience after 18 consecutive losing days.

"Is it true they're going to put paper bags on the seats at Tiger Stadium like they do on airplanes?" asked one frustrated fan in a letter to a Detroit newspaper.

"No, not true at all" was the printed reply. "It's the garbage on the field that's the problem."

abbreviated American League schedule.

Angels 5, Red Sox 3

A two-run double by Jerry Remy and a two-run single by Lee Stanton keyed a five-run third inning and backed Bill Singer's first victory since June 9 as California beat Boston for the second time in three games.

Red Sox rookie Fred Lynn had two RBI, raising his league-leading total to 85.

White Sox 6, Indians 4

Pat Kelly cracked a home run and a two-run triple to power Chicago past Cleveland for Jim Kaat's 17th victory.

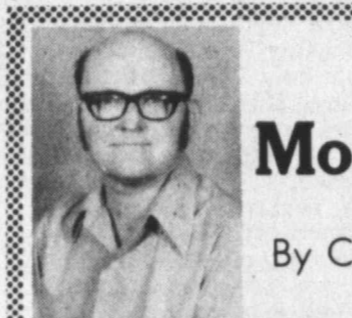

Kaat, Bill Stein launched one for the White Sox.

A's 5, Yankees 1

Bill North's tie-breaking single in the eighth and sloppy New York fielding led to a four-run inning and lifted Oakland to victory. The crowd of 14,140 gave the A's a season home attendance of 853,455 — more than 8,000 over their total for last season.

Dick Bosman pitched a five-hitter to beat Rudy May, who has received a total of five runs in support over his last four games.

John Ralston, Denver head coach, has made one major change this season which could help spark the Bronco drive toward the playoffs after two straight winning seasons.

He changed the image of Big Spring's Charley Johnson who showed up in camp last year, weighing a hefty 211 pounds.

Ralston decided that 36-year-olds should not have an anchor. So Johnson reported to camp this year, weighing a trim 189. The 32-pound change may benefit Denver in getting off to a quick start.

The grand opening of the new basketball arena at the University of Oklahoma will be on the night of Aug. 31.

What can a bass club do to improve fishing? The Lufkin Bass Club, in cooperation with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, recently decided to sponsor a Florida bass nursery cove on the Sam Rayburn Reservoir and pledged $1,600 to purchase a block net.

May Have To Hog Ball More

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas' greedy ground gainers may have to hog the ball longer than usual this season to make up for an untested defense that assistant coach Mike Campbell calls "highly suspect."

Texas' defense leaked 12 touchdown passes last year as the Longhorns finished with an 8-4 record, their worst season since 1967.

The Wishbone I proved to be a poor catch-up offense.

Coach Darrell Royal hired Don Breaux from Florida to teach his troops how to pitch and catch, and Breaux's enthusiasm seems contagious: quarterback Marty Akins and wide receiver Alfred Jackson stayed in town over the summer to hone the passing game.

"Marty can be a very capable passer for us," says Breaux, who has specifically instructed Akins to drill the ball harder on his medium, 20-yard type passes. "I definitely think he can be a winning quarterback."

The 200-pound senior is the preseason All-Southwest Conference quarterback, and he also will punt.

Another All-SWC selection, as a freshman last year, is 225-pound fullback Earl Campbell, who was fourth in conference rushing with 928 yards. He could be an All-American if Texas has a good season.

Akins, Campbell and the halfback corps will run behind a veteran offensive line that averages nearly 237 pounds, including the possible all-star combination of guard Will Wilcox and tackle Bob Simmons, both seniors.

Midland Finally Moves Into First

By the Associated Press
Midland handed slumping Shreveport another loss, 7-2, and took over undisputed possession of the Texas League West lead from the Louisiana club Thursday night.

At the same time Arkansas edged past Jackson by three percentage points for second in the TL East, where both trail Lafayette by 6½ games.

This came about as Arkansas beat Lafayette 7-3 and Jackson split a doubleheader with Alexandria—Jackson taking the opener 11-10 and Alexandria the nightcap 6-2.

San Antonio outlasted El Paso 9-7 in the night's other game.

Steve Hamrick tossed a four-hitter for the Midland Cubs as his teammates collected nine base knocks and took advantage of four errors by the Shreveport Captains, who had led their division nearly all season. Steve Clancy poled a home run for Midland. The Cubs contributed two miscues in the loosely played contest.

Two bobbles by each club figured in the game at Lafayette, where the Arkansas Travellers outhit the Drillers 13-11. Gary Templeton scored runs in the first, third and fourth innings for Arkansas and teammate Tom Harmon socked a solo homer Angel Torrez, 5-4, was the winning pitcher and David Fugue, 5-11, the loser.

There was an even bigger rash of errors as the Jackson Mets and Alexandria Aces split-five by the Mets and three by the Aces in the first game plus another by Jackson and three more by Alexandria in the nightcap.

Burris Adds 3 Coaches

Bob Burris, Big Spring High athletic director, announces the appointment of three coaches. They include: Nancy Deason, varsity volleyball and Ronald Stump and Dicky Lepard, freshman supervisors.

Deason, replacing Susie Lynch who resigned, coached at Plains for five years. Her volleyball team placed second in the state last year and on the district flag two years in a row.

While at Plains, Deason was also responsible for the school's girls golf and track programs. She served one year as a physical education teacher in the Amarillo public school system.

During the 1967-68 school term, she registered a 10-0 volleyball record at Goliad. The next year, Deason served as Big Spring freshman volleyball instructor and compiled a 17-1 won-loss total. She graduated from North Texas State.

Stump will head up both the ninth grade football and track programs. He served eight years as offensive coordinator at College High, Bartlesville, Okla. He also coached in Illinois.

Stump is the father of four boys ranging from 17 years of age to 10.

Lepard will tutor the freshman football line. He coached junior high football at Colorado City. Lepard played high school football at Coahoma and graduated from Texas Tech.

DISTRICT MEETING Combined Track Meet Agreed On

A combined boys and girls 5-4A Track and Field Meet was approved at the district executive meeting held Thursday at the Big Spring High School.

E. H. McKenzie, Big Spring superintendent of schools, served as chairman.

All district spring activities will be held in Odessa, April 9-10, 1976.

A complete girls' track team will be fielded by all member schools. Only three schools participated last year in the meet which was held in Big Spring.

Girls track events will be worked in with the boys time schedule.

Other executive items given a stamp of approval were next season's basketball, baseball and tennis schedules. Basketball and baseball will be played in reverse order of last season.

Discussion on the baseball schedule was brought up before the original one was sanctioned. Big Spring High baseball coach Larry Horton asked to move the district open date back to March 23 instead of March 16 as agreed on. Argument centered around spring football conflict of interest.

The district will adopt on a one-year trial basis, a tennis round-robin setup. It was also voiced to consider a double round-robin schedule in the future.

The new tennis concept was submitted by Novice Kniffen, Big Spring High varsity coach and Abilene High's Steve Buck. There will be a total of 18 matches with the winner declared champs.

Selected on a rotating basis, the Odessa American was picked sports statistician for 1975-76.

Football Death Ruled Natural

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — The death of a high school football player who collapsed Thursday during a practice session was ruled a natural death by Nueces County Medical Examiner Joseph Rupp.

The youth, Mark Axelson, 15, was engaged in a light workout with the Gregory-Portland High School team when he collapsed. He died later at a hospital.

Dr. Rupp said his examination showed the youth had a heart problem which caused his death.

Club Meeting Date Changed

Due to an error in the school calendar, the Coahoma Quarterback Club ice cream supper scheduled for today will be held Aug. 26 at 7 p.m., at the elementary school cafeteria.

Following the supper, a film on the Coahoma vs Crane scrimmage will be shown. The drill against Crane is planned there, Aug. 22 at 8 p.m.

Desires Job Clarification

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Astros Manager Preston Gomez says he has asked new General Manager Tal Smith for a quick decision before the end of the present home stand, concerning his future as manager.

"Every day, it seems, there is some rumor in the paper about me," Gomez told Joe Heiling of the Beaumont, Tex., Enterprise, "that I am going to be fired ... that somebody else is going to be named manager to replace me."

"I just hope Tal makes a decision before this home stand ends," said Gomez, rumored on the way out much of the season. "I think it's only fair for everybody concerned — for me, my coaches and for the organization. It's not good to wait until the middle of September to make a change — if that's what he wants."

The current home stand ends next Wednesday with a three-game series against the New York Mets.

Personal Use Tips Add Thoughtfulness To Gift

COLLEGE STATION — Bridal gift ideas don't have to stop with June.

One authority describes a fresh twist in giving as "thoughtfulness with 'think' to it."

Incorporating personal experience, household hints, easy-to-follow tips and handy skills into a gift is home economist Janice Carberry's idea of thoughtful giving.

"Many novel ideas in gift giving are meaningful because they're based on the experience and expertise of the women who initiate them."

Mrs. Carberry prefaced specific ideas with the contention that bridal gifts are a special avenue to creativity for many people.

"They come up with things like writing their own 'how-to' cooking or serving tips in the margins of 'tried and true' recipes — or adding instructions or folding fitted sheets to a gift of bed linens, followed by a sheet-folding race at the bridal shower."

Another idea is to "toss in" an extra flat sheet from which the bride can make matching pillow throws or a table cover — and include instructions for that.

Mrs. Carberry, a family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, detailed other gift ideas.

"If you give money, add budget plans. Or if feasible, give a passbook to a new savings account with the first entry made, according to the couple's preferences regarding specific arrangements."

"Another idea is a kitchen wall clock, or other time machine, and ways for managing time. Sharing these kinds of secrets can help the bride with organization that often takes years of know-how to achieve."

"Of course, the bride's interest and skill level will determine many gift choices. 'Shop for the person, not for yourself' is a good rule of thumb," the specialist stressed.

"This is especially important with gifts relating to hobbies, talents or other interests the giver shares with the bride."

"Along with the material part of such a gift, it's thoughtful to add a personal note offering assistance — with plant care, sewing, quilting, tatting, home canning and freezing or even menu planning and shopping."

"No matter what the gift, personal tips for using it always add thoughtfulness to a gift, because that means sharing part of yourself and your experiences with others," she said.

Mrs. Carberry also expressed interest in hearing other "creative home management tips" from readers, with the intention of sharing them in upcoming months. Her address is Room 312, System Building, Texas A&M University, College Station, Tex. 77843.

SHE'S WEARING A BOA — Proximity doesn't necessarily breed love, not when you're talking about Ann Saling and snakes, or tarantulas, or even salamanders. Mrs. Saling, a frequent contributor to nature magazines, acknowledges discomfort around some of her subjects. So Ed Nievard, a neighbor and a high school biology instructor, talked her into getting close to some creatures he likes and she doesn't. "I thought it would be a good way to get over it," she said. "But I still don't like them." In this instance, absence definitely made her heart grow fonder.

Committee To Place Historical Markers

The placement of various historical markers was the main topic of discussion during the meeting of the Howard County Survey Committee in the conference room of the Chamber of Commerce office. Mrs. Polly Mays, chairman, presided.

Big Spring School system. She compiled and edited slides of hand-drawn sketches depicting scenes of early Howard County from John Hutto's book, "Howard County in the Making."

Plans were made to place a historical marker in front of the old J & W Fisher Mercantile store, now Big Spring Furniture, at 110 Main. During the early 1900s, the Fisher store was one of the largest mercantile centers in the area.

Another marker will be placed at Third and Rannels in front of Swartz dress shop where the Cosmopolitan Hotel was located.

A marker commemorating the first permanent white settler in this area, W. T. Roberts, will be placed at his old ranch near Moss Springs. The program was furnished by Mrs. Oma Anderson, a teacher in the

A LOVELIER YOU Hiking May Deter Beauty Features

By MARY SUE MILLER

A Lovely writes: My husband and I are going for a long hike on a mountain trail. I es an old hand at this, but I've never done it before. I've been told that I cannot take any personal things except soap, dentifrice and a comb. In that event I won't last the distance. My thin skin will begin to crack and my short-short haircut will sprout a crop of weedy ends. Any suggestions?

The answer: Let's first try to solve your hair problem. Professional hair trimming shears and hair setting tape turn the trick. The shears cut the hair to a length that will hold its shape and will not mat. The hair setting tape can be removed from the dispenser and stored in a pocket. The tape is a wick that guides hair trims. For instance, stretch it just above the ragged ends on the nape of the neck and you can do a sure trim. No job — without harm to hair or skin.

As for your skin, take along the smallest plastic container of baby lotion and fill a plastic box (you can get one at a dime store) with eight ounces of baking soda. Baby lotion gently cleanses and smooths the skin. Baking soda, mixed with a little water takes the sting out of a day in the sun. It can also be used to cleanse the hands and nails as a dentifrice and to relieve insect bites and indigestion.

Standing Wedding Party Blocks View Of Bride

DEAR ABBY: I have attended many weddings this summer and am so annoyed by one of the traditions that I have to get this off my chest. When the bride starts to walk down the aisle, everyone stands up! (I suppose it is to pay tribute to the bride.)

Then everyone (except those who are lucky enough to be sitting next to the aisle) starts to twist and turn and bob around, trying to get a look at the bride. Usually, all they can see are the backs of others who are also trying to get a look.

From the center seats, there isn't a chance of seeing the flower girl or ring-bearer. This is unfair to everybody.

Will you please ask ministers to request that everyone remain seated when the bride makes her entrance?

Brunch Honors Miss Trupp

A Wednesday morning brunch was held in the home of Mrs. C. E. Johnson Jr., honoring Miss Karen Kay Trupp, bride-elect of Bernard Charles Finnerty III. Guests were the wedding attendants, Miss Sherri Alexander, Mrs. Judy Goodlett, Miss Sue Faulkenberry, Mrs. Dana Baker and the bride's mother, Mrs. Don Trupp.

Hostesses were the aunts of Miss Trupp, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. C. A. White, Mrs. Bill Coleman and Miss June Coleman.

The tables were laid with yellow linen cloths and centered with yellow candles and water lilies. The serving table was covered with a yellow cloth with an arrangement of yellow and white daisies in the center. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

Miss Trupp wore a long dress of red and white checked material with eyelet trim. She was presented with a red carnation corsage. She received a stocked spice rack from the hostesses.

After the brunch, the guests made rice-filled rosebuds.

Miss Trupp will be married Saturday in the First Methodist Church.

Polio Strikes El Paso Baby

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Poliomyelitis has struck down an El Paso baby, 14-month-old Consuelo Jimenez, paralyzing both her legs.

Her case is the first of the dread disease here in five years, and health authorities said it's the first in Texas in three years.

Despite an extensive immunization program, the infant somehow failed to receive the shots normally given a baby at the age of two months. While she was stricken, her young sister Maria Anita escaped the contagious virus.

Their mother, Maria C. Jimenez, wept when asked if she'll be able to care for Consuelo, who is paralyzed from the waist down. She murmured, "I think I can."

Consuelo learned to walk at nine months. Now her legs dangle helplessly as the mother picks her up from a stroller where the youngster spends most of each day. Her new white shoes are clean and unused.

Dr. Bernard Rosenblum, director of the El Paso City-County Health Department, said a diagnosis of the child's case as paralytic poliomyelitis type I was confirmed by the Texas Health Department laboratory in Austin. The department is trying to determine the origin of the virus, which is passed from person to person.

"We know that in the vicinity of Chihuahua City (290 miles south of El Paso in Mexico) there are suspected cases of polio," Rosenblum said, "but we have no reports from them on confirmation of the type of polio."

Mrs. Jimenez said that while she knew about the program to immunize children, she lacked the opportunity to obtain shots for her daughters and didn't know where to go.

Rosenblum said, "Failure to immunize, either because of ignorance or deliberately, should be against the law, and I want to find out if it already is under the child neglect or child abuse laws."

He added that he may ask an opinion from the Texas attorney general on that point.

Mrs. Jimenez said she had no idea where Consuelo was exposed to the disease that sent her to a hospital July 4. She was treated at Thomason General Hospital for what was diagnosed as a cold and sent home with medicine.

Later the mother took her to Hotel Dieu Hospital because the fever continued but a blood test showed the baby was normal, Mrs. Jimenez said.

Finally the baby was admitted at Thomason for what turned out to be a 26-day stay.

"She is so much better now than she was in the hospital," said the mother. "She wants to walk and tries to copy her sister."

Mrs. Jimenez and her daughters live in the Paisano Housing Project next door to the County Coliseum. The mother said she no longer is married. Because of the children she does not work but draws support in welfare payments.

Wool Cloth To Go To Saudis

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Cong. Bob Krueger of the 21st District of Texas has announced the awarding of contracts for the supplying of 2.4 million yards of wool cloth to the Saudi Arabian government.

The contracts were awarded to five U.S. textile manufacturing firms and will require 4.3 million pounds of 70's spinning count fine wool, most of which will come from Texas producers. This will mean somewhere in the neighborhood of 3 to four million dollars for the producers.

"This sale should be of significant benefit to our balance of payments situation in the Middle East," said Krueger, who urged defense officials to use domestic wool.

CONS FLEE ON HORSES, ONE LOSES FOOT CHASE

MCLESTER, Okla. (AP)—A search for two convicts who fled the state penitentiary here started on horseback but turned into a foot chase Wednesday before authorities captured the second escapee.

Frank Kelly, 32, and Ted Lane, 38, rode away on horses Tuesday. The two trustees had been tending cattle on the prison range west of the penitentiary.

Kelly was apprehended late Tuesday when officers spotted him, still on horseback, near the Tannehill community west of McAlester.

Searchers found the horse Lane rode away on in the same area early Wednesday, abandoned the horses they had been using to search the hilly, wooded area and continued their search afoot.

Lane was recaptured north of Haywood in Pittsburg County.

A secret of winning bridge is to play for every possible chance that might allow you to bring home your contract. South's technique on this hand was impeccable, and he richly deserved his reward.

Once North jumped raised his suit, South became interested in slam. The Blackwood Convention was of no use to South on this hand, for even if he found out that North had an ace and two kings, he would not be sure that he did not have two quick losers in one of the minor suits. Therefore, South started his probe with a cue-bid of the ace of spades and, after North showed the ace of clubs, South jumped over game to say that he was interested in slam but had two losers in the unbid suit. North's bid of five no trump showed the king of diamonds, in case the hand should be played in no trump, but South converted to the heart slam.

Fearing a crossruff, West led a trump, and when dummy appeared, it seemed that the club finesse would decide the fate of the contract. However, South managed to improve his chances slightly. He won the king of hearts and cashed the ace of hearts and ace of spades. He then entered dummy with a trump to the jack and cashed the king and queen of spades, discarding two clubs from his hand. Now, he led a low diamond from dummy.

East won the ace, but had no safe exit. A club away from the king would allow declarer to win the queen, while a spade would allow him to ruff in one hand while discarding his club loser from the other.

Note that if either defender had won the ace of diamonds and been able to exit with a diamond, declarer could still have fallen back on a club finesse. The line he chose gave him about a 3 per cent chance (the odds on a 4-1 break are just over 28 per cent, and in one of 10 cases, East will have a singleton ace). However, in this case, that extra 3 per cent meant the difference between making and going down in a slam!

CAN WE GO BACK?

Cavett's Opening Salvo Called Uneven At Best

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Cavett, a Nebraska lad who went to Yale and then Manhattan and never recovered from either, is starting his new fourweek summer variety series on CBS this Saturday night.

His debut show features Liza Minnelli, Henry Gibson, magician Doug Henning and a "surprise guest star." I won't reveal the star's name, but it is neither Abbie Hoffman nor Judge Crater.

Cavett's hour-long opening salvo is uneven at best. Its main virtues are Steve Lawrence's nifty musical arrangements, Miss Minnelli's singing and the warm, pixie-like qualities she displays in a brief interview with the 37-year-old star.

Cavett starts off with a reasonably intelligent, mildly funny monologue. At one point, he goofs — maybe it was on the cue card — by thanking ABC for finding studio space for his show.

"Try CBS," an off-camera voice stage-whispers.

"Can we go back?" grins Cavett, who for five years had his own late-night talk show on ABC. "Maybe there's time to go back."

Later, the star, a frustrated magician, brings out Henning, star of Broadway's hit "Magic Show," for a quick touch of prestidigitation and a somewhat dragged-out experiment in ESP.

After a Minnelli song, there's a telephone sketch with the "guest star" in which Cavett fails to get his dime's worth.

Henry Gibson, the "Laugh-In" poet who hit it big this year playing a rich country music singer in a flick about Nashville, checks in to sing a medley of songs from the movie, then disappears.

(Apparently Cavett only read the New York reviews of the movie and didn't realize Gibson can do more than rehash its songs.)

Then Cavett and series regular Leigh French do a sketch about talking to plants. The plants have the best lines.

The best moments in the show arrive in the last half, when Minnelli sings again, chats with Cavett and then all hands engage in an amazing saw-the-ladies-in-half bit with Henning.

The problems of this show seem to lie not in its stars, but in its nine writers, who include Cavett and Christopher Porterfield (a classmate of Cavett and coauthor of a book by Cavett about Cavett).

Their scribbling has sort of a this-is-what-amuses-our-crowd quality to it, the crowd being located in Southampton, Greenwich Village and the smart East Side of Manhattan.

But if it doesn't amuse the crowd west of the Hudson — at least the Nielsen crowd — Cavett's series will become just another example of why so few New York-produced evening TV shows make it these days.

On the good-news front, fans of Carl Kolchak, the intrepid Chicago wire service reporter, will be happy to learn ABC is repeating three episodes of his series, starting Saturday night.

The best of the lot is "The Ripper," which airs Aug. 30 and concerns his pursuit of a revived Jack the Ripper stalking the streets of the Windy City. Don't miss it, or we'll have ABC renew the series.

Don't Blame Farmers, Says Bureau Head

WACO — Texas Farm Bureau President Carrol Chaloupka said "it's ridiculous for the government to try to make farmers the scapegoat for rising prices."

The Dalhart beef and grain farmer said the Labor Department's July wholesale price index issued last week unfairly blames farm prices for spurring the 1.2 per cent rise in wholesale prices.

"When wheat prices fell $1.70 a bushel from last October to this June, why didn't the price of bread drop instead of rise, as it did?" the farm leader asked.

He said the recent grain sales to Russia are being used as an excuse to raise prices in some sectors of the food business. "Actually, we are producing about 1.4 billion bushels more wheat this year than Americans can consume." "The Russian grain sales amounted to about one-tenth of what is available for export." Moreover, bumper crops this year are actually working to hold down inflation, he said.

"Farmers are expecting to grow 30 per cent more corn, 22 per cent more wheat, and at least 20 per cent more grain sorghum than last year," he said.

DAWN WORK

Boy, It's Hot In Gila Bend

GILA BEND, Ariz. (AP) — The rest of the country may complain about heat waves off and on, but people in the Arizona desert know what hot weather really means.

Somewhere in Arizona, almost every day in the summer, the nation's highest temperature will be recorded.

And the desert is no place to be unless you know how to cope with the egg-frying temperatures.

The temperature recently hit 120 degrees in this western Arizona town of 2,000 at the edge of the Mohave Desert. Gila Bend has the dubious distinction of often being the hottest spot in the nation.

Mrs. Paul Drudge helps her husband and son run a refrigeration shop here. Although business is booming these days, she confesses she has not adjusted to the summers.

"They put a thermometer on the ground the other day and it registered 150 degrees in the sun," she says. When she remains outside for very long, Mrs. Drudge says, "I get heat exhaustion and I get sick."

Despite the heat, residents here and elsewhere in a desert which spans western Arizona have developed ways to cope with the heat.

Construction workers go to work before dawn and finish well before the temperature peaks in midafternoon.

Swimming pool companies install special spray cooling devices to fight the temperatures.

Specialty stores sell sun screens for home and car windows, and air conditioner repairmen race about in radio trucks, responding to refrigeration unit breakdowns like ambulance drivers.

Of course, people lived through summer in Arizona before the advent of pools and air conditioning.

A retired newsman, Ben Avery of Phoenix, is a lifelong Arizonan who remembers children wrapping up in wet sheets before taking their afternoon naps. He slept on the front yard of a Phoenix church under the lawn sprinklers.

"People going by on their way to church would wake us up," he said.

The record high temperature in Arizona was 127 degrees at Parker in 1905.

Scottish Rite Adds To Staff

DALLAS — Dr. John A. Herring, M.D., has joined Texas Scottish Rite Hospital as assistant chief of staff for the children's orthopedic hospital, Dr. Brandon Carrell, chief of staff, announced.

Dr. Herring comes from the San Diego Naval Regional Medical Center where he served as assistant chief of staff, division of pediatric orthopedics.

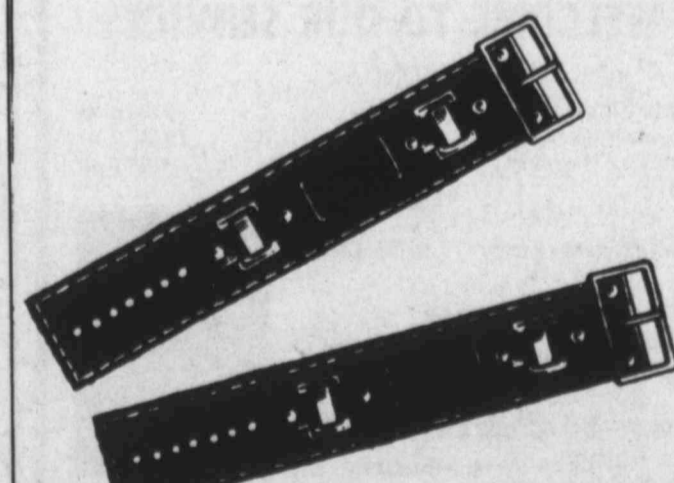

Texas Scottish Rite Hospital, located in Dallas, has been serving the children of Texas since 1921, never charging a penny for its services. The Hospital's sole source of income is voluntary gifts. Crippled children from almost every county in Texas have received treatment and, along with it, hope.

West Texas Graham Crusade Plans Slated

The West Texas Billy Graham Crusade will be held in Jones Stadium in Lubbock Aug. 31-Sept. 7. All services will be at 8 p.m.

Youth nights are scheduled Monday, Thursday and Saturday. At 56, a worldwide symbol of evangelism, Graham has preached the Gospel to more millions than anyone in history.

Born in North Carolina and ordained by Southern Baptists in 1940, Billy Graham's Crusades have been held in virtually every state in the United States and more than 50 other countries. Since the late 1940's, Mr.

Graham's schedule has left little time to indulge in his favorite hobbies of golf, swimming and jogging or to be with his wife, Ruth, and their children at their Montreat, North Carolina, home in the mountains.

Graham married Ruth McCue Bell, and the couple has three daughters and two sons.

His books, "Peace With God," "The Secret of Happiness," "My Answer," "World Aflame," and "The Challenge" have been read by millions and the author has been the subject of several biographies and personality features in the world's leading magazines and newspapers. "The Jesus Generation," Graham's newest book (1971), sold 200,000 copies in the first two weeks after publication. It has been published in 15 languages. His New York, Los Angeles, London, and South Korean Crusades probably stand as high water marks of his career as an evangelist.

BILLY GRAHAM CRUSADE Scheduled in Lubbock

'Strongest Man' Is Due

Paul Anderson, the "world's strongest man," will speak Sunday Aug. 24 at the First United Methodist Church.

The service has been set for 8:15 p.m. so members of other congregations of the city can share in the occasion.

Paul Anderson, an Olympic weight lifting champion, and his wife, Glenda, began the Paul Anderson Youth Home in Vidalia, Ga. in 1961, and now they have a home under the same name in Dallas. These are foster homes for teenagers and emphasize citizenship through spiritual guidance, education and physical fitness.

Anderson is on the national board for the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, a member of the Vidalia, Ga. Methodist church and is a constant witness for Jesus Christ. He has written an autobiography just off the press. A 15-minute (16 mm) film of his life, produced by Baptist Seminary in Fort Worth, is available for showing during the next week.

GOD'S GARDENER — Msgr. Vincent S. Kearney, pastor of the Christ the King Catholic Church in Kansas City, works with his tomatoes in a patch next to the church where he has been growing them for ten years.

Mt. Bethel Baptist History Is Revealed

Under the spiritual guidance of the Rev. Hill, the Mt. Bethel Baptist Church of Big Spring was established in April 1924. John Body was among the first deacons who assisted in organizing. Among other known deacons were a Mr. Ballard and a Mr. Buckner.

Mrs. Myrtle Ringo (deceased) was one of the charter members. During the latter part of 1927 through 1934, the late Rev. B.H. Hubbard served as pastor. Under his tenure the church moved to a new location—a dirt-floor house at the corner of 5th and Lancaster. The parsonage consisted of an 18 foot long shed on the west side.

The Rev. H.C. Brown of Vernon succeeded Rev. Hubbard as minister, but the duration of his pastorate was very brief. The Rev. Suvoy York Nixon, who now pastors in Longview, became the next pastor. During his pastorate the church building burned due to the default of an oil stove. After the destruction of this small frame edifice, the pastor and membership purchased an adobe-stucco building at 500 NW 5th Street. It was used for church services until August 5, 1945, at which time the building was condemned. It became necessary, at this time, to use (upon permission from the board) the Lakeview School for church services.

The next pastor was the Rev. M.P. Timms who is now pastoring in Tyler. He was followed by the Rev. L.C. Campbell, who is now retired and living in Terrell. In 1947 the present site and structure of Mt. Bethel was purchased during the pastorate of the Rev. E. Felton Nelson, who succeeded the Rev. Campbell. He is now pastoring in Pampa.

On July 22, 1948, the late Rev. N.M. McCarter became pastor and remained until Dec. 8, 1956 when he moved to Henderson, where he stayed until his death. The baptistry inside the church was built during his tenure. The Rev. C.D. Collins was pastor from April 1, 1957 to Oct. 1958.

The Rev. Sammie Davis, who now pastors in Dallas, was called to Mt. Bethel Baptist Church February 6, 1959. During his pastorate the church purchased a new parsonage, which replaced the old one located on the east side of the church.

His pastorate ended when he was called to Dallas and Rev. Melvin Montgomery was officially called March 1, 1961. He served until Dec. 31, 1968. During the seven years of his ministry an annex was built to the church, carpet and a church organ were purchased, and a church bus and chairs for the fellowship hall were bought. Rev. Montgomery is now pastoring the Antioch Baptist Church in Wichita Falls.

The Rev. Robert L. Parramore was called in February, 1969. Numerous accomplishments were made during his stay here: a pastor's study was built, air-conditioning was installed in both the study and the parsonage, the baptistry was renovated and a new piano was purchased for the youth-church choir. Upon leaving Mt. Bethel in June, 1971, he took a pastorate in Second Baptist Church in El Paso.

Wesley Methodist Sets Discipleship Conference

A conference on discipleship will be held at Wesley United Methodist Church at East 12th and Owens in Big Spring on August 18 and 19.

At 7:30 p.m. on Monday, Dr. Tom A. Carruth will minister on "A Deeper Commitment to Christ." All workers of North Birdwell Lane, First and Wesley United Methodist Churches are especially encouraged to attend.

At 10 a.m. Tuesday, the subject will be "A Deeper Prayer Life." A covered dish luncheon will be held at noon and at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, the theme will be "Our Commitment to Christ. The community is invited to all meetings and a nursery will be provided.

Dr. Carruth is presently the director of the Dept. of Prayer & Spiritual Life at Asbury Theological Seminary, Wilmore, Kentucky.

He helped develop the "100 Days of Love" movement. He is the author of "Total Prayer for Total Living," "Prayer and Conversion," "100 Days of Love," "40 Days of Fasting and Prayer" and others. Most recently Dr. Carruth has been instrumental in developing the "National Prayer Action Network" using a National Watts prayer phone. He used this phone in the development of the National Day of Humiliation, Fasting and Prayer, April 30, 1974.

Music will be led by the Rev. Dale H. Hood who grew up in Lubbock and graduated from Monterey High School. He attended Baylor to prepare for the music ministry.

THE SIZE OF THE CREATURE

Copyright 1975 Keister Advertising Service, Inc., Strasburg, Virginia

No doubt the dinosaur thought—if dinosaurs thought at all—that he was big enough, powerful enough to survive anything. But the dinosaur is extinct.

Man used to think that his brain, his cleverness, his frightening weapons made him a cinch for survival. Now we talk seriously about man's "hope of survival."

No wonder the dinosaur has become fascinating. Poor fellow—so big and powerful and extinct. Surely if he'd had our intelligence and our nuclear war-pile, he'd have made it!

But there's always that gnawing uncertainty—maybe it takes something else!

Come to church and you'll be rubbing shoulders with people who are sure it does. For them, mankind's hope is not in the size of the creature... but in his soul.

JUMBLE — that scrambled word game

Unscramble these four Jumbles, one letter to each square, to form four ordinary words.

DILEY MOFUR

FRIMAF WURCEF

Now arrange the circled letters to form the surprise answer, as suggested by the above cartoon.

Print the SURPRISE ANSWER here

(Answers tomorrow)

Yesterday's Jumbles: WHEAT COVEY MEDLEY BECOME

Answer: It appears this man's man can hold his drink — "V-A-L-E-T"

PEANUTS

HEY, WHERE ARE YOU GOING WITH SPIKE?

THIS DOG NEEDS TO BE FATTENED UP!

IF IT'S ALL RIGHT WITH YOU, CHARLIE BROWN, I'LL TAKE HIM HOME, AND DO JUST THAT!

SPIKE SURE LOOKS THIN, DOESN'T HE? I HOPE THIS MAKES YOU APPRECIATE THE GOOD LIFE YOU'VE HAD...

I WAS WONDERING HOW LONG IT WOULD BE BEFORE SOMEONE SAID THAT...

DICK TRACY

IS THIS MIDNIGHT TREK TO THE "CONCRETE HEAD" A DEATH MARCH? DO DICK TRACY AND SAM KNOW?

ALL THE WAY TO THE TOP, DAUGHTER? ISN'T IT TOO MUCH OF A CLIMB FOR YOU, HONEY?

IF YOU CAN PUSH ME DOWNSTAIRS AND USE A BLACKSNAKE WHIP ON ME ALL THESE YEARS, ROCKS DON'T SCARE ME.

WE'LL GO TO THE TOP IF IT TAKES ALL NIGHT!

B.C.

HOW'S MY PROSPERITY LINE?

LOOKS LIKE THIS ONE'S ON ME.

GASOLINE ALLEY

He's asking five hundred? Yes!

What's the word from Lenny in the lobby?

ABC is coming in the door, NBC is out front and CBS is turning the corner!

How much do we have in the bag, Jay, baby?

RICK O'SHAY

GAYE? HONEY, ARE YOU ALL RIGHT?

I'M JUST A LITTLE SHAKEN...

WHAT HAPPENED, RICK? THE HORSES RAN AWAY. SOMETHING FRIGHTENED THEM...

THERE WAS AN OLD MOTHER BEAR UP AHEAD.

I RECKON WE SCARED HER ALMOST AS MUCH AS SHE DID THE HORSES...

AN' I DON'T GUESS THOSE PONIES WILL STOP RUNNIN' 'TIL THEY GET BACK TO CONNIPTION!

SNUFFY SMITH

LOOK AT TATER CLIMB, PAW!! HE CAN SHINNY UP A TREE QUICKER'N A FOX SQUIRREL

DENNIS THE MENACE

I GUESS THE LEMON'S WARMER!

I CAME TO TUCK YOU IN, HONEY!... AND COLLECT MY GOODNIGHT KISS! MAYBE WE CAN TALK A LITTLE BEFORE YOU...

I'M VERY TIRED, PAPA!... AND SLEEPY!

LOOK, PIPPA... ABOUT YOUR DECISION TO BREAK OFF YOUR VISIT AND GO HOME... IS THERE SOMETHING...

I'LL WRITE YOU A LETTER SOME DAY... AND EXPLAIN!

GOODNIGHT, PAPA!

REX MORGAN

JUNE, SEE WHETHER YOU CAN GET A PRIVATE DUTY NURSE TO STAY WITH MELISSA TONIGHT!

I DON'T WANT A STRANGER AROUND HERE, GETTING IN MY WAY...

I HEARD WHAT SHE SAID, REX! WHY DON'T I SPEND THE NIGHT THERE WITH HER?

I'M SURE SHE'LL AGREE TO THAT! I'LL WAIT UNTIL YOU GET HERE!

WHY, IT'S MR. SWEENEY! WE MET AT THE POST OFFICE, REMEMBER?

YES, MA'AM.

AND HOW IS YOUR DARLING PEREGRINE FALCON?

I DON'T HAVE HER ANYMORE, MA'AM. MRS. BANDY SHOT HER.

MERCY ME! I TOLD MRS. BANDY WHAT A DEAR LITTLE BELL MR. SWEENEY'S HUNTING FALCON HAD. I DO HOPE I DIDN'T SAY SOMETHING WRONG.

Howard-Martin Tractor Pull To Draw Big Field

The Howard-Martin County Tractor pull slated Sept. 1 and 2 at the Big Spring Raceway on IS-20 west of Big Spring is expected to attract 120 tractors.

Total value of the purse and trophies is $4,250, Elbert Long said. Contestants pay a $25 entry fee. Adult spectators must buy $2.50 tickets. Those tickets for children under 12 years of age will go for $1.

The most will be officiated by Texas Tractor Pullers Association representatives. Competition starts at 6 p.m. both days.

Derwood Blagrave and Long among the winning pullers in the area, will be eligible for best local puller awards in each of the classes.

A number of local merchants contributed $250 each to help finance the event.

LEGAL NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that a public hearing on the proposed budget for Howard County for the fiscal year beginning January 1, 1976, will be held at 10:00 a.m. on the 25th day of August, 1975, in the Commission Room, Courtroom at the County Courthouse in Big Spring, Texas.

County Clerk
Howard County, Texas
August 15, 1975

LEGAL NOTICE

To: BEN WALTON WARREN
Defendant; Greeting:
You are hereby commanded to appear by filing a written answer to the Plaintiff's Petition at or before ten o'clock A.M. of the first Monday after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the filing of this citation, on the docket of said court, and styled, PATRICIA ANN WARREN Plaintiff, vs. BEN WALTON WARREN Defendant.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit:
Petitioner, PATRICIA ANN WARREN, states that the marriage has become insupportable because of discord or conflict of personalities that destroys the legitimate ends of the marriage relationship and prevents any reasonable expectation of reconciliation as is more fully shown by Plaintiff's Petition on file in this suit.

If this citation is not served within ninety days after the date of its issuance, it shall be returned un-served.

The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law, and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Big Spring, Texas, this 11th day of August A. D. 1975.

Peggy Crittenden, Clerk
District Court, Howard County, Texas

Siboney Has Gain

Siboney Corporation reported revenues of $4,093,000 for the second quarter ended June 30, 1975, compared with revenues of $3,435,000 in the second quarter of 1974.
 For the six months period ended June 30, 1975, revenues were $6,062,000, compared with $4,959,000 in 1974, representing an increase of $1,103,000.
 Net income figures were $135,463 for the second quarter and $18,000 for the first six months of 1975, compared with $382,000 for the second quarter and $196,000 for the first six months of 1974.
 Siboney is the parent company for Gamco of Big Spring.
 In the first six months of 1975, all of the corporation's operating subsidiaries except Cepco, Inc. were profitable, and the backlog of orders at Cepco, Inc. indicates a decided improvement in that subsidiary's operations during the second half of 1975, said James H. Shiels, president.

Portuguese Cliffhanger

By The Associated Press
 The trouble with Portugal at this moment is that while it has a chance to frustrate the imposition of an East European-type "people's democracy," it can in the process wind up with another leftist dictatorship that could be just as unpalatable.
 The game is becoming a cliffhanger. Popular violence is exerting heavy pressure on the pro-Soviet minority in the armed forces. But simply frustrating the Communist party at this particular time is no guarantee that Portugal will achieve anything resembling West European democracy.
 The strongly pro-Communist Premier Vasco Goncalves has not only aroused the popular protest, but has generated opposition in the Armed Forces Movement, under whose aegis a three-general junta is trying to rule Portugal.
 If, as moderates say, as much as 90 per cent of the armed forces opposes an East European Communist system, then the choice of the other members of the junta would appear to be between dumping the premier or touching off full-scale civil war.
 This means that the man to watch is the mercurial Gen. Otelo Saraiva de Carvalho, the head of military security, who could eventually emerge as the real dictator. In a strong position in the junta as security chief, he lacks the disadvantage of close identification with the pro-Soviet Communist party.
 De Carvalho has pictured himself as an admirer of Fidel Castro of Cuba. Indeed, there's a Cuban Communist look to his idea of building a system of political control around neighborhood associations. It is reminiscent of Castro's "defense committees."
 In any case, if De Carvalho remains a dominant figure in the picture, its far left look is likely to be retained.
 As for Goncalves, his pro-Communist reputation in the current situation can be an embarrassment for the others.

Spanish Goats To Be Topic

SAN ANGELO — Spanish goats are the daylong topic of a conference Sept. 2 in the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Center at San Angelo.
 Those attending will hear, for example, Robert H. Kensing of San Angelo, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, compare the income from Spanish goats with that from Angora goats. Dr. George A. Ahlschwede of San Angelo, the state sheep and goat specialist for the Extension Service, thinks most persons underestimate both the number and the importance of Spanish goats in Texas. There will be barbecued Spanish goat for lunch.

'SMALL TOWN CHARACTER' Case Testing City's Right To Limit Growth

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A legal case testing a city's right to limit growth and preserve its "small town character" apparently is headed for the U.S. Supreme Court.
 The 9th U.S. Court of Appeals ruled here that the city of Petaluma, Calif., acted within its rights with a 1972 ordinance seeking to maintain its "small-town character, its open spaces, and to grow at an orderly and deliberate pace."
 Petaluma, 40 miles north of San Francisco, grew in population from 10,300 in 1950 to 24,500 in 1970. Then explosive development boosted population to 30,500 by 1972.
 The city council imposed a development freeze in 1971 and the following year voted a 500-a-year limit on new housing units in projects involving five or more units. The law does not affect single-family home construction, or even four-unit apartments which are not part of a larger project.
 "We're going to the Supreme Court with this," said Gordon Blackley, executive vice president of the Associated Building Industry of Northern California, after the appeals court decision was announced. "We regard this as the most critical land use planning issue in the country."
 "The issue is this: The city this year can impose a 500-a-year limit in new housing units. If this stands, then that city council can steadily cut it back to 200, to 100, to zero."

 The Court of Appeals decision reversed a trial judge's verdict holding that Petaluma's "no growth" ordinance is unconstitutional.

Briscoe Accepts Midland Date

Gov. Dolph Briscoe will be the principal speaker for the dedication of Midland College on Thursday, Oct. 2, according to Reagan H. Legg, president of the board of trustees of Midland College.

U.S. District Court Judge Lloyd H. Burke had ruled that the ordinance violated citizens' right to travel or to abide and settle and that the ordinance abridged rights of equal protection.
 The appeals court rejected Burke's finding that the Petaluma Plan violated the constitutional right to travel. It said the plaintiffs in the suit, two land owners and the county builders' association, lacked standing to claim violation of the right to travel.

Unit Of CAP Being Organized

The Civil Air Patrol unit of Big Spring organized Monday night as a formal unit of the Texas Civil Air Patrol Wing.
 The group adopted the name of Dragon Fly, using the USAF A-37 nickname for the unit.
 All persons present were given the opportunity to become charter members. The membership is open to males and females from 13 years of age up. Next meeting will be at 8 p.m. Monday at the Civil Defense Building, 207 W. 10th. The patrol in an auxiliary of the Air Force.

TEXAN UNCLAMPED

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — Charles Risley, 51, underwent abdominal surgery three years ago.
 And doctors at Northwest Texas Hospital removed his gall bladder Wednesday.
 Physicians also removed a seven-inch pair of surgical clamps apparently left in his abdomen during the first operation.
 Risley's wife, Peggy, said surgeons walked into the hallway following the operation and handed her the clamps.
 Mrs. Risley would say only that the first operation occurred in Oklahoma.

Hospital To Match Grant On Cost Study

A $1.8 million program, jointly funded by federal and private sources and aimed at putting the brakes on runaway health care costs, has been announced by Vice President Nelson Rockefeller and officials of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.
 Rockefeller revealed that the Texas Hospital Association (THA) has received a two-year, $900,000 HEW contract to help establish a statewide hospital productivity center to find ways to make hospital care more efficient and less expensive. THA will match the federal money, dollar for dollar, with its own funds.
 The two-year pilot program could lead to savings estimated at more than $14 million annually in participating hospitals. If the project is successful, it means the individual patient could save, on the average, $8 per day for care in those hospitals, or $50 per average stay, according to THA.
