Auto Kills Ex-Resident

Bob McAdams, about 35, was killed while changing a tire on his vehicle on the Fort Worth-Dallas turnpike about 9 p.m. Wednesday.

Funeral will be at 2 p.m., at St. Luke's Episcopal Church, located at 5923 Royal Lane in Dallas.

McAdams, who grew up here and was active in athletics for the local high school, was in the construction business with his father, Tom McAdams of Lewisville.

Mr. McAdams recently served as a pallbearer at the funeral of his uncle, Garner McAdams here.

Survivors, in addition to his parents, include his widow, Peggy, his three-year-old son, Sean McAdams; a brother, Tommy McAdams, head coach at Haskell; his grandmother, Mrs. Jean Crenshaw, Big Spring; and three aunts, including Mrs. Earl Wilson and Mrs. B. J. Sheppard, both of Big Spring.

The body is at the Sparkman-Hillcrest Funeral Home, Northwest Highway, Dallas.

Home address of the Bob McAdams family is 13542 Castleton St., Dallas.

The family is asking that those who wish to memorialize Mr. McAdams forward donations to St. Luke's Episcopal Church in Dallas.

"We are continuing to move forward," Kissinger told reporters after a two-hour meeting with the Israelis Wednesday night.

Golf Fray Hurts Trio

SILVER SPRING, Md. (AP) — A quiet afternoon of golf for two foursomes has left one man in a hospital with a fractured skull, and a father and son with seven stitches and four broken golf clubs as evidence — all done in the name of etiquette.

The fray between the two groups Wednesday on the fairway to the second hole on the Northwest Park public course in the Washington suburb started when one foursome tried to play through the other.

The members of the second group said that before they teed off on the first hole they were told there was a slow foursome ahead of them and to play through.

When the trailing group found the other foursome they hit their balls close to them. Then, one of the players in the lead group drove one of the balls from the trailing group into the woods, members in both groups said.

One of the carts in the trailing group drove up to the leading group and Leonard O'Dell Sr. of Wheaton, Md., tried to get the man who drove the ball into the woods to retrieve it.

This led to pushing and shoving that ended with two men having golf clubs broken over their heads and another man being gouged with the broken end of one of the clubs.

The rest of a jury panel summoned Monday were told they were not needed this week for a civil suit trial.

TEARS Judge Caton asked each juror separately the same question. They all doubted a unanimous verdict could be reached.

Tears rolled out of Mrs. Gilbert's eyes as the jurors walked out of the courthouse. Jurors included Mrs. B. P. Hitt, J. W. Watkins, Mrs. D. Henderson, Mrs. R. F. Dorsey, T. L. Young, Mrs. D. A. McCraw, Mrs. W. J. Hawkins, Mrs. O. Layman, B. J. Brasel, D. J. Henry and Mrs. C. Hedgcoth.

At about 9:40 p.m., Judge Caton received another message from the jury.

"We, the jury, agree on a verdict of one year in jail and a fine, but we are split 11 for recommending probation and one against," W. T. Abbott, foreman, wrote.

Judge Caton called the jury out of its chambers. Judge Caton asked Abbott if he thought the jury could reach a verdict.

"I don't believe we will," Abbott replied.

The prosecutor had left the courthouse several hours earlier.

Wayne Basden, defense attorney, had been quoted saying he would demand the jury sequestered overnight if the question remained unresolved.

Caton Rules Mistrial In Gilbert Case Here

By JOHN EDWARDS "Just that I'd rather go to jail than to have to go through this again," Wanda Gilbert, 24, sobbed.

She was asked for comment after District Judge Ralph W. Caton declared a mistrial at 9:50 p.m. Wednesday.

The 118th District Court jury, which began deliberations on punishment for criminally negligent homicide at 11:20 a.m. Wednesday, could agree on one thing.

They couldn't reach a verdict. Judge Caton polled jurors individually before dismissing them.

NEW TRIAL "It'll go to county court," District Attorney Robert H. (Bob) Moore said today.

Mrs. Gilbert, who was indicted for involuntary manslaughter in the April 1 shooting of her husband James Lee Gilbert, was found guilty of the lesser offense of criminally negligent homicide.

County Court has jurisdiction in such misdemeanor cases, Moore explained. To try Mrs. Gilbert again for involuntary manslaughter, a felony, would be "double jeopardy" Moore added.

At 5:10 p.m. Wednesday, Judge Caton received this note from the jury:

"Ten of us for probation, two against. All the jury agrees on one-year jail term. Is the fine probated?"

Judge Caton advised the jury the jail sentence and fine both could be probated. The maximum punishment was one year in jail and a $2,000 fine.

NO CLOSER About an hour later, Judge Caton told deputy sheriff Bill Chadwell to ask them, "What do you want to do?"

The deputy, serving as bailiff, returned, saying: "They're no closer than they were when they sent you that note."

At about 9:40 p.m., Judge Caton received another message from the jury.

Uncle Sam, France Fight To Sell Jets

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States appears to be heading into a stiff international competition to sell Japan at least $1 billion in new jet fighters. Once again, the main U.S. rival may be France.

Defense officials say Japan is in the market for 100 to 125 new fighters to replace obsolescent warplanes.

Four advanced U.S. planes are in the running — the highly sophisticated Air Force F15 and Navy F14, and the less costly Air Force F16 and Navy F18 lightweight fighters.

Pitted against them are the French Mirage F1 and the Swedish Viggen, both of which lost out earlier this year when four NATO nations picked the F16 as their basic fighter for the future.

Another entrant for the Japanese competition is the MRCA, a plane developed jointly by Britain, West Germany and Italy.

The United States came out on top Wednesday in another contest with the French, Swedish and British when the Swiss government announced it will recommend to its parliament purchasing 72 of the F15 fighters. That contract will be worth about $500 million.

A Japanese military mission came here this summer for preliminary talks with Pentagon officials after visiting the European countries that offer planes for sale.

Following that reconnaissance, defense sources say Japanese experts are conducting a major study of all the contending aircraft and will narrow the field to three in a few months. A final choice is expected about a year later.

The Japanese are understood to be seeking a deal which would include a share in the production of the planes. This would mean jobs for Japanese workers and other economic benefits.

So far, the United States has offered no special incentives to the Japanese, Pentagon officials indicate. That may come in later negotiations, especially if the French put on major sales pitch as they did in their unsuccessful bid to persuade the Dutch, Belgians, Norwegians and Danes to buy the Mirage instead of the F16.

"The French always put out a major effort," said one official. "They need sales desperately."

O'Rourke Announces For State Rail Post

AUSTIN (AP) — Terence O'Rourke, 28, a lawyer for Frances Farenthold and former assistant attorney general, announced today as a candidate for the Texas Railroad Commission seat now held by Ben Ramsey.

O'Rourke said he recognized that Ramsey might not be his opponent since their have been rumors Ramsey would resign this year and enable Gov. Dolph Briscoe to appoint his successor before the 1976 election.

"The appointment system is not a good one," O'Rourke said.

He criticized the commission for not stopping Lo-Vaca Gathering Co. from selling off its reserves, which he said was the origin of Central Texas and San Antonio utility price increases of the past two years.

But he declined to say what he personally would do when confronted by natural gas companies' requests for commission approval to raise the "gate rates" at which they sell gas within municipalities.

"I hope to be fair minded and not judge it on politics,"

O'Rourke said. He said the commission had not been an effective advocate on behalf of Texas oil and gas interests in Washington and asserted that the free market should be allowed to operate without federal price controls.

"The railroad commission's most dramatic neglect of its powers has been its abandonment of the Texas customer and consumer. For example, the commission did absolutely nothing to prevent the rape by Coastal States Gas Producing Co. (Lo-Vaca's parent) of customers in Austin, San Antonio and the Lower Colorado River Authority," he said.

O'Rourke is the first entry in the 1976 statewide political campaigns, which will not include races for better known jobs such as governor and attorney general. He said the lack of those contests will focus more attention on the railroad commission race. He said he expects to spend about $150,000 on the Democratic primary, using a face-to-face rather than media emphasis in his campaign.

Austin Lawyer Rehashes Jerky 'Jaws' Experience

AUSTIN (AP) — Austin lawyer Jim Bray is telling friends about his "Jaws" experience this past weekend.

He was fishing on Padre Island about 30 miles south of Corpus Christi in the area known as Big Shell. Bray told Austin American-Statesman outdoors writer Russell Tinsley he was wading and casting with a spoon. There were five nice speckled trout on a stringer attached to his belt.

Suddenly, Bray said, there was a terrific jerk on the stringer that almost took him off his feet. He looked around and found himself face-to-face with a shark, about an eight-footer, that was trying to tear the trout from the stringer.

Bray couldn't get the stringer free with one hand so he ditched his rod and reel and headed for shore double time.

The shark circled the floating string of fish but did not attack again.

Finally, one of Bray's friends cast out and snagged the stringer and retrieved it with four of the trout. Also, Bray's lure had snagged in the stringer so he was able to pull in his abandoned rod and reel. But Bray said he learned one thing for sure. No more wading in the surf with a stringer of fish.

GIFTS SLOW FOR FUND Wednesday was not a particularly good day for the Big Spring High School Bible Fund.

Only $145 in donations for the drive were received by The Herald, which is serving as a clearing agency for the sponsoring organization, the Howard County Ministerial Alliance. The gifts included a check for $40 signed by Mr. M. B. Horne and given in memory of Boone Horne, Jim Gillespie and Gene Thomas.

The total collected now stands at $4,744.70 which leaves the ministers' alliance over $1,200 short of its goal.

Those desiring to give can forward checks either to the Rev. Kenneth Patrick, First Baptist Church, or to The Herald.

Latest gifts include: Mrs. J. Mrs. John M. Bayne $10.00 Mr. H. B. Horne, memory Boone Horne, Jim Gillespie, Gene Thomas 40.00 Lt. Col. (Ret.) and Mrs. John H. Lessons To Be Learned

Sec. Gen. Kurt Waldheim is correct in saying that the salvation of the United Nations lies in its moving "from confrontation to cooperation." But we could wish that in saying it he would start leaning a little more on the Communist and Third World blocs and a little less on the United States.

For the fact is that many — perhaps most — members of the UN have a cynical notion indeed as to its function, perceiving it as a forum in which to exercise their political spite and prejudice to the exclusion of cooperation, fairness and common courtesy.

Item: The dogged effort by Third World countries (urged on by Russia) to expel Israel from UN membership — an act totally contrary to UN charter provisions.

Item: The Communist bloc's persistent blocking of South Korea's membership in the UN, which she has been seeking since 1949. By any fair measurement South Korea is 10 times better qualified than Guinea-Bissau, Bangladesh, or any of scores of recently accepted member-nations.

Item: Last year's absurd 120-6 General Assembly adoption of a Charter of Economic Rights whose clear intention was to sanction any nation's expropriation, ownership transfer or downright theft of foreign property as it might please.

The world into which the developing countries have moved by virtue of their assumption of nationhood and their membership in the UN is a more complex and demanding one than they comprehend, judging by their actions. There is little point in Waldheim's acceding to these actions when the result must be to help solidify a mistaken sense of rightness. Somehow universal principles must be brought into respect. The emerging nations must learn that, while the haves possess a responsibility toward the have-nots, there can be no license for one bloc of nations to ride roughshod over the rights of another bloc, or to push any nation around for the sheer sport of it.

These are stern lessons, but it is the secretary general's obligation as the creature of the United Nations and its doctrines to help get them across. Unless they are learned fairly soon, the United Nations will be in peril of collapsing in total confusion.

Experiment To Be Watched

An interesting experiment in the rational, community-wide utilization of solar energy is underway in Davis, Cal. Under a grant from the Department of Housing and Urban Development, experts have developed a building code intended to sharply reduce home air conditioning and heating costs.

The basic idea is to regulate both home construction and neighborhood planning so as to take maximum advantage of natural heating and cooling. This involves insulation, orientation of buildings on their lots, neighborhood design featuring narrower and better shaded residential streets, and so on. The goal is much more efficient control of heat loss and gain than is normally possible.

Given the different conditions in different parts of the country, such a code would vary in effectiveness. The concept could be applied everywhere, though, as a means of conserving energy. If widely adopted, the Davis plan, combined with direct solar heating and cooling where this is feasible, would be a big help in extending our reserves of fossil fuels.

William F. Buckley, Jr.

MEXICO CITY. — By the standards of the Third World, the United States is miserably inhospitable to visiting chiefs of state. Way back there in our brief and glorious history, a shrewd Yankee president, or Secretary of State, designed the modest dimensions of Blair House to care for a diplomatic entourage of ten or twelve people, max. President Echeverria of Mexico couldn't begin to fit his bustling entourage into Blair House: they would have to pitch tents outside. He would get a state dinner at the White House, another dinner centered around the Secretary of State, possibly a third at which he would act as host; then, if he wants to go to California to see Disneyland, somebody from the State Department would escort him there. But that's it. Luis Echeverria, following a tradition of hospitality, one associates with the reception of Marco Polo, is on the last leg of a 14-nation tour that has taken him to China, to the Vatican, to countries in between, and now, finally, to Cuba.

Echeverria uses language difficult for normal people to understand. His lieutenants buzz about Mexico surreptitiously, using the standard phrase to explain it all: "Hay que quitarles sus banderas" — You've got to take their flags away from them. This is supposed to mean that if, as the president of Mexico, you use lustfully the rhetoric of the class struggle, of anti-Americanism, anti-capitalism, and the anti multinationals (they call them "transnationals"), you deprive your left critics of the means of hitting you. It is the analogue of the 19th century formula used by British conservatives to appease their own ranks while pandering to the opposition: "Tory rhetoric, Whig measures." The trouble is that much of Echeverria intuits with the use of his left-rhetoric, he is in fact inducing a left-rhetoric, he is in fact inducing a left-mindedness among his people which will not be easily deflected from doctrinaire socialism.

Consider his appearance in Havana last week, given treatment in the Mexican press comparable to the coronation of Queen Elizabeth, the sinking of the fleet at Pearl Harbor, and the landing of the first astronaut on the moon. Echeverria actually said, on landing in Havana, that he was paying tribute to the "solidarity" of Latin America; whereas, of course, the historical fact is that Mexico, alone, refused to close ranks with Latin America in the boycott of Castro voted by Latin Americans in 1964, back when Castro was amusing himself by sending men with hand grenades to below up Latin American officials he disapproved of.

Then Echeverria said that, under Castro, Cuba was a "happy" country, which has recovered its "dignity" — this about a country ten per cent of whose population, at considerable risk to life and limb, and total sacrifice of life savings, fled Cuba in order to spare themselves the kind of happiness you get in a totalitarian country in which you cannot own a Coca Cola stand in your own name, or read a book or a newspaper that questions the saintliness of the dictator.

Castro was so moved by Echeverria's tarmac tribute to him and his tormented little island that he announced on the spot that he would personally accompany Echeverria during every moment of his four-day tour, a prospect which under normal circumstances would have caused Echeverria to blanch — four days for an ideological wheeler-dealer in a jeep with Castro is rather like four days in a confessional with Savanarola: except that Echeverria isn't allowed to pale while courting the Third World, though perhaps he has cultivated a dark blush.

Poor Echeverria. Poor Mexico. It is a lovely country, with lovely people of great dignity, and with some, not uningenious ways of contriving to have their cake, and eat it too.

Give It Poor Marks

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — If you measure the federal government's performance by the Employment Act of 1946 you might be inclined to give it poor marks — in fact, you might be incensed enough to flunk it.

That act committed government to promoting maximum employment, production and purchasing power. But, the achievement falls far short of the goals.

—More than eight million workers are jobless. —Some industries are operating at less than 70 per cent of their production capacity.

—Real spendable earnings, that is, weekly pay adjusted for increases in prices and taxes, fell in six of the first seven months of the year.

What's to blame? Some grumblings among campus economists put the blame on the Ford administration for seeming to be content to accept a relatively high jobless rate.

A great many more analysts blame "conditions." No government has complete control over economic events, they explain. Instead, any government can only work with the conditions presented to it.

They suggest that when the law was written we were in a euphoric mood. We had just won the war; now we would win the peace, economic and otherwise. We wouldn't just shoot for goals; we would establish standards.

Some critics blame the law itself. It is almost contradictory, they say. It commits governments to pushing their resources to the limit, to always flirt with inflation, to take dangerous risks with economic stability.

To achieve maximum production and employment, they point out, is to court inflation.

Celiac Symptoms Plentiful

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have a two-year-old with chronic diarrhea, which has been diagnosed as spastic stomach and duodenum. Is it possible that the underlying cause could be celiac disease? How is celiac disease recognized and what is its treatment? — Mrs. M. W.

Celiac disease has rather obvious and dramatic symptoms (irritability, growth retardation, weakness, protruding abdomen, bulky, loose, pale stools, and alternating diarrhea and constipation). Your physician would have had sufficient reason to suspect celiac disease if present. Also, examination of feces reveals higher levels of fat than normally would appear.

Stomach spasm often occurs in highly tense individuals, which probably can be ruled out in your two-year-old. Stomach spasm can be caused by an ulcer or a narrowing of the stomach outlet. Follow-up X-rays can detect these, if present. The best thing for you to do is to follow the doctor's suggestion with regard to diet, and if the problem continues, then you can discuss other approaches — surgery, etc. A milk intolerance is also a possibility.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband, who is 58, suffered from back pains for a long time. An orthopedist took a blood test and X-rays and told him he had stones in his kidneys. He sent him to a urologist who confirmed the stones diagnosis.

My husband was told to go home, drink a lot of water and come back in six months.

Does this mean there is nothing to be done about the stones? My husband can hardly sleep or walk. Can stones in the kidney cause all these troubles? Please send me your booklet, "Your Kidneys — What You Should Know About Them." I'm sending the 25 cents in a long, stamped and self-addressed envelope for return mailing. — Mrs. W. R.

give no trouble until they move down the urinary tract and are passed. Then the colic can be severe. The pain of kidney stones is easily "referred," that is in a sense radiated and reappearing as back pain.

Your husband's prognosis would depend on the size of the stone or stones and their location in the kidneys. Copious amount of water intake tends to flush small stones out and prevent new ones from forming. If untreated, they can obstruct a duct and reduce urination. From your letter I assume this has not happened in your husband's case.

The urologist appears to be taking the sensible approach, biding his time to see what this program accomplishes. If it is successful, your husband may avoid surgery to remove the stones later on. And surgery is the only other method. There is as yet no satisfactory method of dissolving the stones in place, although some research has been going on in this area.

Daily Change?

Around The Rim

Marj Carpenter

While I was sitting at the intersection of 9th and Main, musing to myself because you can no longer get across, a little old lady, heading toward town, stopped at the intersection in the middle of Main like she had probably done for many years.

THE BRAKES squealed on the street behind her and a car narrowly missed hitting her vehicle, in the rear. The second driver drove around her, cursing violently.

The little lady pulled slowly across the intersection, parked in front of the old Medical Center Hospital and put her head down.

I didn't know her, but I decided to go over and see if I could help.

She was all right, but a little bit upset. "Somebody just doesn't want me to drive to town," she mourned and then told her tale.

"I've lived at the edge of town for years on Runnels and I've driven to town the same way for years. I come down Runnels, Turn on 11th place, go down Johnson and around the Junior High, down to Main and then to the Post Office. Why do they keep changing all of the signs and lights?"

She then told that "First they removed the traffic light at 11th Place and made it more difficult to turn left. I read about that in the paper. There is a stop sign there, so I usually can turn left if the other driver stays long enough at the stop sign."

SHE SIGHED, and continued, "then they took the blinking light out where I turn left in front of Runnels. So it's harder to turn left there as well. Then they took out the traffic light in front of the junior high and I'm afraid that somebody is going to clobber me going across there." The woman gave another mighty sigh and continued, "For years, we have crossed every other one at this flashing light. They removed the light a few weeks ago and put in four-way stop signs.

"Now today, the stop signs on Main have been removed with no warning and I just stopped. I've stopped here for years."

She added, "Why are they changing so many signs and lights? Who says that it's better?"

We talked a little bit and I told her about the traffic commission, the traffic engineer and their studies, but I admitted that possibly she had way more than her share of changes on her particular driving route.

I ASKED her if she had ever considered driving on over to Goliad and coming down that way if she liked traffic lights, but she quipped, "I'm afraid to. If I go that way, they'll probably remove all of those lights."

She finally decided that she was calmed down enough to go on to town and as she backed out, she added, "I hope there's still lights by the post office."

Out of the conversation, I thought she might have a point. Certainly, too many traffic changes in an area of a few blocks might confuse motorists. Certainly each change should be carefully considered, and not necessarily quickly approved.

This particular little old lady was pretty sharp. She said, "They remind me of boy scouts trying to do a good turn daily. Only I get the feeling they are trying to change a traffic signal daily. 'Change something today to earn your pay.' And she took off just trying to get to town."

Missiles Explained

Art Buchwald

(We are now talking about fourth-generation missiles. Despite their sophistication, the method of development seems to be the same as the first, second and third generations as proved by this article, written when President Kennedy was in the White House.)

WASHINGTON — In the now famous Air Force manual, withdrawn temporarily but not forgotten, one of the paragraphs aimed at Air Force Reservists said, "The idea that Americans have a right to know what is going on is foolish."

WE POOR, ignorant civilians can't be blamed then if we have to resort to conjecture about what is going on with such things as our missile program, which is no longer known as a missile gap.

I was confused about our missiles as anyone else until I had lunch the other day with an industrialist who explained it to me. He asked that his name not be mentioned, and since the Air Force won't tell me their secrets I won't tell them mine.

"THE TROUBLE with most Americans," he said, "is that they think ideas for a new missile come from the top. On the contrary, most ideas for missiles are thought up by some $10,000-a-year civilian engineer in some tiny office thousands of miles from the Pentagon."

"Let me give you an example of how a missile is born. One day a civilian engineer has to think of something new, so he writes a paper suggesting we develop an anti-anti-missile missile.

"THE CIVILIAN, after developing the paper at length, turns it over to a second lieutenant, just out of ROTC, who, knowing less than anyone, immediately signs it and passes it on. The captain over him adds his signature because he also doesn't understand it and doesn't have enough reasons for rejecting it.

The paper continues on up through channels with more and more signatures, each officer signing it on the assumption that the guys down below know what they're doing. This is what is known in government circles as 'management from the bottom up.'

"FINALLY, IT goes to the Pentagon who assumes the problem, on the basis of all the signatures, has been thoroughly studied, and they take it over to the Appropriations Committee which appropriates the money because members don't understand it either and, therefore, can't say it won't work. "Besides, all they need to get the missile started is $10 million and, as long as it's such a reasonable request, no one wants to argue about it.

"AS SOON as the money is appropriated, the public relations people put out a release announcing their branch of the service will soon have an anti-anti-missile missile that, although not the final deterrent, will be the gap-filler which everyone has been waiting for 'until we catch up with the Russians.'

"The program is under way now and in no time at all the appropriations are used up. Nothing has come of the missile, but this is an advantage, not a disadvantage.

The people in charge believe it is really an advanced idea, otherwise it would be working already. The reason it couldn't be done, according to the people in charge, is that there wasn't enough money. So appropriations are increased to $75 million and, whereas only a few hundred men were connected with the original work, thousands are now added on the theory that if you put enough people on a project long enough they will get the job done.

My Answer

Billy Graham

My son does not believe in the hereafter. He won't accept the teachings of Christianity because he says there is no proof. What can I tell him?

People are never won to Christ through argument or logic. The Bible says, "Anyone who wants to come to God must believe that there is a God, and that He rewards those who sincerely look for Him." (Hebrews 11:6)

Christ initiates the Christian experience. He said to His disciples, "You didn't choose me; I chose you." (John 15:16) Of course, He knew the response they would make to His call. Some people are so psychologically, or spiritually constituted, that they find it difficult to believe. Only God's Spirit can work that miracle. Pray that your son would let it happen.

Make sure that you as parents are fully committed to Christ. Insincerity and hypocrisy turn young people off. Faith and commitment turn people on, and help them to see that Christianity is real. When I witness the behavior of some professing Christians, I can't blame their children for concluding "There is no God." The Bible says that Christians are to be "epistles," seen and read of all men.

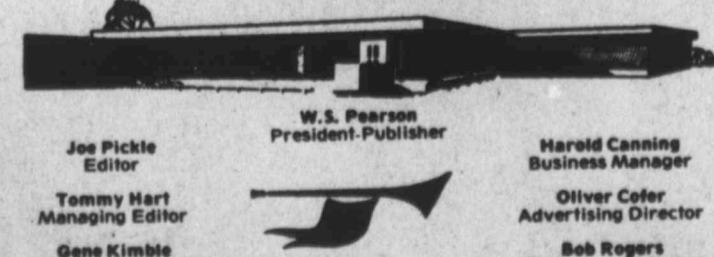

Don't leave room for your son to doubt that Christ lives in you. Christians are a "showcase" for Christianity, and if the goods are shabby, customers will not be interested.

A Devotion For Today

"You shall receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you; and you shall be my witnesses in Jerusalem and in all Judea and Samaria and to the end of the earth." (Acts 1:8, RSV)

PRAYER: Teach us, O God our Father, so to follow Christ that our daily lives may bear a witness to Him. May we be so moved in Jesus' spirit that others will see Him in us. Amen.

Preference For Reruns

NEW YORK (AP) — For the third consecutive week a rerun of CBS' "M-A-S-H" has been rated the nation's most popular evening television show by A.C. Nielsen Co. audience estimates.

Last week's Nielsen ratings showed a decided audience preference for reruns. Only two new shows — "Almost Anything Goes," an ABC summer series, and CBS' new "Big Eddie" situation comedy series — were ranked among the nation's 20 most-watched evening programs last week.

According to the Nielsen estimates, made public Wednesday, the 20 highest-rated shows for the week ending Aug. 24 were "M-A-S-H," "Rhoda," "Medical Center," "Hawaii Five-O," "All in the Family," "Barnaby Jones," "Good Times" and "Cannon" (all CBS); "Rockford Files," "Sanford and Son," "Police Woman" and "Chico and the Man" (all NBC); "Mary Tyler Moore," "Big Eddie" and "Maude" (all CBS); "The Rookies" (ABC); "Kojak" (CBS); "Streets of San Francisco" (ABC); "Sunday Mystery Movie" (NBC) and "Almost Anything Goes" (ABC).

Retired Exec Editor Dies

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Joseph V. Knack, 65, retired executive editor of the former Toledo Times, died Wednesday in his home.

The veteran newsman had suffered a series of heart attacks in recent years but continued working until a year ago.

He began his career with the Kansas City Star in 1931 and worked for the Dallas Dispatch and Detroit Free Press before joining the Toledo Blade as copy editor in 1942.

Knack became chief of the Blade's copy desk in 1943, sports editor in 1949 and city editor in 1954. He moved to the Times where he was placed in charge of news operations in 1966 and was named executive editor in 1968.

(AP WIREPHOTO) WANTS A WIFE — NEW OR USED — Henry Moncrief of Roberta, Ga., stands beside his "wife wanted" sign he placed in front of his home on Georgia highway 137 a week ago. Since Moncrief put up the sign, he's been receiving calls from prospective mates from various towns in Georgia. Moncrief says responses to the advertisement have been from divorcees and he takes their names, ages, addresses and phone numbers. He says he's not the type of guy who would dive into a marriage, it's the sort of thing you have to go into carefully.

Some Widowers Able To Get SS Benefits

A widower with one or more children in his care may be eligible for social security survivors benefits under a recent decision of the U. S. Supreme Court.

Widowers can get information about applying for the benefits by calling or writing any social security office, according to Don Minyard, Social Security Branch Manager here.

Under the court decision, a widower taking care of his wife's children can get monthly survivors benefits on her record if she worked long enough in jobs covered by social security.

Previously, a widow with children in her care could get survivors benefits, but a widower could not unless he proved he was dependent on his wife and was either 60 or over 50 to 60 and disabled.

A widower's survivors benefits can be affected by his earnings, and only about 15,000 widowers are expected to get payments under the court decision, according to Minyard. Children continue to get social security survivors benefits on either their mother's or father's record.

Generally a widower who doesn't remarry can get survivors benefits until the children in his care are 18. If there are sons or daughters 18 or over who were severely disabled before 22, he can get benefits as long as they're disabled and cannot work.

The amount of a widower's monthly survivors benefit is based on his wife's average earnings over a period of years, and it may also be affected by his earnings. He can earn $2,520 or less for this year and still get his full social security benefit. Over $2,520, his benefit will be reduced by $1 for each $2 earned — but no matter how much he earns for the year, he can get his full social security benefit for any month he neither earns $210 nor does substantial work in his own business.

The children in a widower's care can get social security checks until they're 18 or 22, if they're full-time students and remain unmarried. "The amount of their monthly social security payments may be affected by their earnings but not by their father's earnings," Minyard said.

Young Fords Identity Crisis

HENDERSON, N.C. (AP) — "Almost everywhere we go we are recognized and people treat us kind of special," says President Ford's son, Mike. Ford said he and his wife, Gayle, would like to be treated like just another couple.

"We would like to break out of this identity crisis and just be identified as Mike and Gayle Ford, not the President's son and his wife," he said.

The young Fords, along with two other couples, vacationed at nearby Kerr Lake last weekend. Ford was interviewed by the Henderson Daily Dispatch.

POMONA PATROLMEN SEEK $17,808 Police, Firemen Will Use Strikes As Bargaining Tool

By the Associated Press Bounded by the outcome of last week's strike in San Francisco, police and firemen around the country are talking tough in contract negotiations. Striking, once condemned as unprofessional, will increasingly be one of their bargaining tools, they say.

Police and firemen in Washington, D.C., are seeking a 13 per cent pay raise from the city government in negotiations that began this week.

"We're prepared to take whatever steps we have to take to gain our objective," said Alan Whitney, a local leader of the International Brotherhood of Police Officers.

In Pomona, Calif., near Los Angeles, the talk is blunter.

"We have been in negotiations with the city since June," said Richard Tefank, vice president of the Pomona Police Officers Association who was at strike headquarters in San Francisco during the walkout there. "If they continue to take the attitude they have, we have no other alternative but to strike."

Pomona patrolmen now make $15,492 a year and are seeking $17,808. The city has offered $16,200.

And in Berkeley, Calif., across the bay from San Francisco, firemen on Wednesday were in the second day of a strike to back their demand for a $15,252 starting salary.

"Our plans to strike haven't depended on whether the San Francisco thing came off," said Kim Larsen, a director of the Berkeley Fire Fighters Association. "We were preparing to strike long before that."

San Francisco policemen walked off the job Aug. 18, and firemen joined them two days later. The following day, Mayor Joseph L. Alioto suspended the city charter, overruled the city's Board of Supervisors and ordered the 13 per cent pay increase, twice what the supervisors had approved.

Alioto's action has been challenged in court by a citizen's suit, and both the

Talks Slated On Signals

Additional traffic signals will be studied by the traffic commission at its regular meeting at 10 a.m. Friday, Sept. 5, in the city council room at City Hall.

The items to be studied and discussed will include the possibility of making the north service road of FM 700 west from Goliad one way to the first intersecting street in order to solve the problem of cars entering Goliad from the North service road.

They also will discuss need for traffic signs or devices at E. 24th near the new CR-MWD building.

The commission will discuss intersections at 10th and Johnson and 11th and State now that signals have been removed.

The commission will study a request by a citizen for a traffic control device at NE 10th and Goliad.

They also will discuss problems being encountered at 17th and Lancaster. This intersection is the only place that Lancaster can be crossed from the west except on Old Highway 80.

strike and the settlement drew criticism from many quarters.

"I'm not sure giving in is the way to handle it," said Mayor Stanley M. Makowski of Buffalo, N.Y. "If I were faced with the problems he had, I would find it very difficult to raise the money."

Makowski said police and fire fighters in Buffalo are "pretty reasonable people." They can also display the type of militancy that increasingly confronts officials dealing with public employe unions.

When the city announced plans to cut the number of firemen last spring, Buffalo firemen refused to work overtime, a move that shut down some fire stations.

After three months, the city indicated it would not go through with the cutbacks.

More such actions can be expected, said New Orleans Mayor Moon Landreau, president of the U.S. Conference of Mayors, and San Francisco stands as an example.

"What the San Francisco problem does portend, I'm afraid, is a growing militancy on the part of public safety officers, a sacrifice of principles that have been a part of their jobs for a long time."

Striking is a right people give up when they become policemen and firemen, Landreau said.

But what Landreau called professionalism was called paternalism by Edward J. Kiernan, president of the 180,000-member International Conference of Police Associations.

A HUGE TAX BREAK

for employed people not covered by a retirement plan was finally passed by Congress in 1974. If you're one of those people, now, at last, you can set up your own retirement plan with tax-free dollars!

Now you can deduct from your gross income up to 15 per cent of your compensation each year (maximum $1,500) by depositing it in your personal retirement fund.

That money will then earn a return for you. And the earnings also accumulate tax-free, year after year, until you retire! It's called an "Individual Retirement Account" (IRA).

Here's an example of how you could build a substantial fund in your Individual Retirement Account with us:

Total Dollars Accumulated With Annual Contribution of $1,500
After	WITH Tax-Free IRA Account	WITHOUT Tax-Free IRA Account	ADDITIONAL SAVINGS WITH IRA Account
5 years	$ 8,460	$ 6,150	$ 2,310
10 years	19,770	13,820	5,950
20 years	55,180	35,290	19,890
30 years	118,590	68,630	49,960

(Note: The above figures assume you are in 25% tax bracket, and are based on a 6% rate of return.)

Experts Discount Chances Of Encephalitis Outbreak

HOUSTON (AP) — Although three confirmed and three suspected cases of St. Louis encephalitis (SLE) have been reported in Houston, health officials say there is little chance for a serious outbreak of the disease in the area.

The cases reported Wednesday were the first known incidents of SLE in Harris County since a severe outbreak in 1964 which caused 32 deaths over a 100-day period. At least 712 persons were thought to have the disease during the 1964 outbreak.

SLE is a virus that is transmitted to man by the culex mosquito and public health officials urged residents to do all they can to eliminate mosquito breeding places.

Three of the current SLE cases have been confirmed as having the disease through detailed laboratory analyses and lab work on the others should be completed by early next week, said Dr. Albert G. Randall, director of the City Health Department.

Health authorities said five of the current cases are believed to have had mild cases of the disease. A sixth, considered more serious, is responding to treatment in a local hospital, they said. Three have been discharged from hospitals.

Randall emphasized the "mild nature" of five of the six, all Houston residents and males ranging in age from 37 to 64. He said he does not expect epidemic proportions and deaths from SLE similar to those which have occurred in Mississippi and other states.

Thirty-one persons have died in Mississippi from the St. Louis strain.

The SLE virus can be transmitted to man only from the culex species of mosquitoes which feed on various birds that carry the virus.

If a mosquito bites an infected bird, Randall explained, it then acquires the virus and can transmit it to a human, which is the end host. It cannot be passed from human-to-human.

Health officials pointed out that most mosquitoes which bite humans do not carry SLE.

SLE symptoms are fever, headache, stiff neck, nausea, vomiting, drowsiness and irritability.

He said the mortality rates range from 2 to 15 per cent of confirmed cases.

X-Ray Tech Students Are Being Oriented

Students of the School of X-Ray Technology of Malone-Hogan Hospital Inc., are in the midst of a rigorous week-long orientation in preparation for the beginning of the 1975-1976 school year. An accredited program, the school now has three students in their second year, and four presently beginning their first year of study.

Graduates of the two-year program are eligible to take the National Registry exams for Registered X-Ray Technologists, the certificate being recognized anywhere in the world as a documented evidence of their proficiency in X-Ray technology.

The orientation schedule includes speakers as well as demonstrations from 8 to 5 daily, and cover in detail all phases of hospital procedures. Beginning with Hospital and Clinic Policies, the coverage includes the History of Medicine, the History of Radiology, Radiology as a Career, the Lab Tech, the Physician Assistant, the Nurse, the Doctor, the Patient, and the Law.

Dr. Buerk Williams, Radiologist is Program Director of the school, and Mrs. Gail Merritt is Education Co-ordinator.

Those participating in the orientation are Dr. George Youngman and Mr. G. K. Beach, both of the Veterans Administration Hospital; Mrs. Betty Condray of the Big Spring State Hospital; Dr. Sherman Merritt of Snyder; Dr. J. E. Hogan, Dr. P. W. Malone, Dr. Maurice Berrier, Paul Ausmos, Mrs. Charlene Ragan, Mrs. Belva Harrington, Norman Knox, and Dr. Williams, all of Malone-Hogan Hospital Inc.; and Ben Bancroft, attorney, of Big Spring.

All participants provided their time without honorarium, exemplifying again the community's interest in medical education.

Members of the new class are Joe Rocha, Leland Porter, Dale Griffith and Susan Weaver.

Angry Foes Of Busing Confront Sen. Bentsen

DUNCANVILLE, Tex. (AP) — U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, here for a ceremony opening a new section of Interstate 20, was confronted by angry opponents of busing who charged the senator with "selling out their cause."

About forty placard-carrying members of Citizens for Neighborhood Schools were among the 1,000 people attending the dedication, waving signs denouncing Bentsen and touting the candidacy of Alabama Gov. George Wallace.

Bentsen said afterwards he has always opposed compulsory busing of school children and the demonstrators "had the wrong idea."

The confusion over his stand apparently has arisen, Bentsen said, because of his vote to soften an antibusing amendment offered in December, 1974 by Sen. Jesse Helms of North Carolina.

While the amendment was widely regarded as an antibusing measure, Bentsen said he could not support it because "it went much further than that."

The Helms amendment also would have prohibited using federal funds to gather information on the existence of sexual discrimination in school systems, Bentsen said, as well as the racial make up of a school system.

"You've got the wrong man," Bentsen told the people wearing antibusing hats and T-shirts. "I've voted against it every time."

"We're not going to let him do one thing up there and then try to explain it away when he's here," she said. "This is too important to our children."

Aside from waving their banners as Bentsen spoke, the protesters did not interfere with the I-20 dedication ceremony.

The newly completed 23-mile stretch of highway connects Loop 820 in east Fort Worth with Loop 635 in Dallas.

Bentsen said the $98 million project, which has been planned since the late 1950's, represents the best kind of cooperations between governments.

Regarding the labor boycott of Russian grain shipments, Bentsen took issue with President Ford's apparent feeling of urgency to help the U.S. balance of payments.

"I think what we ought to do is wait and see what happens to this corn crop and see what the drought does to it," he said. "I would think that within the next 30 days you would know."

BUT WHAT HAVE YOU DONE FOR ME LATELY?

As power costs decreased over the years the member-owners of the electric cooperative enjoyed lower rates. But that trend is reversed. Higher fuel costs to the people who generate our power have meant higher costs to us as well.

But the electric cooperative has always provided power at its lowest possible price. That's still our promise today and for the future.

Water Rates To Escalate

MIDLAND — Midland residents likely will be paying ten per cent more for water after Oct. 1.

The city's administrative staff announced the increase Tuesday after it was determined that rates paid to the Colorado River Municipal Water District will go up 15 per cent during the coming year. It's estimated the boost will cost local residents another $180,000 annually.

Rangers Trim Detroit, 8-2

By the Associated Press
 Bert Blyleven took his 11-inning, 13-strikeout performance in stride. "I felt pretty good," said the Minnesota Twins ace. "I thought if I kept them from scoring, we'd win eventually."
 He did and they did. The 6-foot-3 right-hander walked only one batter Wednesday night, got all the support he needed from Tony Oliva's pinch-single in the 11th, and could have pitched a few more innings if he'd needed to.
 "I wasn't getting tired," he said after the six-hit masterpiece. "I just kept mixing fastballs and curves in order to stay in there until we got around to scoring a run."

 It took awhile, but Oliva's single delivered pinch-runner Steve Brye with the run that gave the Twins a 1-0 triumph and left the Brewers in awe.
 "Blyleven is one of the premier pitchers in the game," marvelled Milwaukee Manager Del Crandall.
 "The guy is so tough he makes everything look simple," added losing pitcher Bill Travers, who pitched four-hit ball for 101-3 innings — his longest stint since his high school days.
 Elsewhere in the American League, Boston topped California 6-2; Baltimore trimmed Kansas City 4-2; Oakland nipped Lynn 3-2; Texas trounced Detroit 8-2; and in a two-night doubleheader, Chicago beat Cleveland 2-0, then lost the nightcap 5-0.

Red Sox 8, Angels 2
 Roger Morel allowed eight hits and walked seven but raised his record to 11-2 as Boston whipped California before 34,239 at Fenway Park.
 The Red Sox got three first-inning runs on doubles by Denny Doyle and Fred Lynn and Jim Rice's 21st homer into the center-field bleachers.
 The Angels came back with two runs in the second — on one single and four walks, with a sacrifice fly thrown in. Then Boston added a run in their half and

FISH 'N CHIP SHOT — Arnold Huizinga, 49, playing golf in Grand Rapids, Mich., with his two pals came up with a 25-pound chinook salmon with a seven iron. Huizinga was preparing to hit an approach shot 40 feet off the green when he heard a splash behind him in the creek. Midland Regains West Leadership
By the Associated Press
 An unusual statistical quirk has arisen with five days left in the Texas League baseball season.
 Shreveport lost to Midland 6-2 Wednesday night and fell one-half game behind the Cubs in the TL West championship race. However, the Captains hold a one percentage point lead and are still officially in first place.
 Shreveport has lost three fewer games than Midland but also has won four fewer contests, putting the Caps one-half game in arrears. However, those extra three losses by Midland have a greater effect percentage-wise than four extra victories.
 In other games, Alexandria beat Arkansas 5-3 in the first game and lost the nightcap for forfeit, and El Paso beat San Antonio 7-6. Jackson at Lafayette was rained out.
 Winning pitcher Ken Crosby and Bruce Sutter combined for a nine-hitter as Midland beat Shreveport. Crosby struck out nine in just five and two-thirds innings. Midland's Mike Umflett hit a two-run single in the seventh inning to break a 2-2 tie.
 John Scott and Jerry Stone had two-run homers as Alexandria beat Arkansas in the first game. John Young and Mike Potter accounted for Arkansas' runs with homers. In the second game, Alexandria's reserves were ordered off the field by the two umpires for continuing to argue about a decision in the first inning. When they refused, Arkansas was awarded the decision by forfeit.

Size Of Ball Park Plagues Officials
 Input into plans for the park complex was sought at that time. The state first ran out of funds and placed the project on the next quarter's allotment, and state funds were approved almost a year ago.
 The Dora Roberts Foundation donated a healthy portion of the balance of funds due and the city came up with the rest. The foundation suggested names for the individual fields.
 The city then hired Roy Crim, engineer, to set up plans for the complex. It was discovered that four fields could be built at this time and another four will have to be added later.
 The parks and recreation committee was requested to set up regulation fields for the parks.
 After much discussion, the board recommended two standard baseball fields and two regulation softball fields.
 The fields are set up in this manner with the regulation softball fields set at fast-pitch standard size and also usable for girls' softball.
 The plans were completed by the engineer and the work is just about ready to begin. At the Aug. 18 meeting of the parks board, Jack Bowers protested in behalf of the slow pitch advocates who need a 275-foot fence for a regulation field in their sport. Bowers has been a member of the parks board for over a year.
 The board at that meeting recommended that the plans be approved as they now stand so that work can begin, with the recommendation that when the other four parks are built, two of them be according to slow pitch standards.
 Advocates of the slow pitch point out that they cannot obtain state tournaments unless they are of regulation size.
 Other slow pitch advocates claim that they had been in touch with city officials earlier and thought that their regulation field would be included in the complex and that there was an apparent breakdown in communications along the line.
 At least two city council members Wednesday indicated that the subject will need to be put on the agenda at the next council meeting to seek a solution.
 Even though the complex has taken almost two years in seeing the project begun, it apparently still will not please all sports groups in the city.

Astros Keep Cards From Climbing Up

By the Associated Press
 John Montefusco is coming up in the world. He may be taking the elevator to the penthouse pretty soon.
 The San Francisco Giants' rookie right-hander had a pretty tough act to follow when he took the mound Wednesday. "Ed Halicki got his no-hitter Sunday and then Pete Falcone struck out 12 Tuesday night, so I had to do something," he grinned.
 What he did was get 14 strikeouts, tops in the National League this year, and breeze to a 9-1 rout of the Expos.
 In the rest of the NL, New York beat San Diego 7-0, Atlanta upended Pittsburgh 6-2, Los Angeles pummeled Philadelphia 10-0, Houston defeated St. Louis 5-1 and Cincinnati edged Chicago 6-5.
 "I finally did it, something better than anyone in the National League!" Montefusco crowed after finally achieving a month-long goal — getting his 11th victory of the year.
 With his 14 strikeouts, Montefusco boosted his season total to 166, one shy of John D'Acquisto's year-old club record for a rookie.
 Bruce Miller was particularly tough on the Expos, driving in four runs with a two-run single in the sixth and a two-run triple in the eighth. Bobby Murcer kicked in with a two-run single in the third inning.

Mets 7, Padres 0
 Tom Seaver became the NL's first 19-game winner and edged within five strikeouts of a major league mark while riding homers by Dave Kingman and Rusty Staub to his victory over the Padres.
 Seaver, who hurled a six-hitter for his fifth straight victory, struck out 10 batters and needs just five more to become the first major leaguer ever to fan 200 or more batters eight seasons in a row.
 Braves 6, Pirates 2
 The Braves, held hitless by John Candalaria for 6-2-3 innings, broke through for a pair of unearned runs in the seventh inning before Ralph Garr's tiebreaking single in a four-run ninth beat the Pirates.
 Shortstop Craig Reynolds' wild throw on Vic Correll's leadoff grounder in the ninth — his second error of the game and the Pirates' fourth — started the Braves' decisive burst, which was capped by Darrell Evans' two-run single.
 Despite the loss, Pittsburgh remained three games ahead of St. Louis and four in front of third-place Philadelphia.

MEMPHIS (AP) — The American Basketball Association's Memphis franchise has taken another bounce, this time back to Baltimore, a Memphis newspaper reported today.
 The Commercial Appeal said the league will announce the sale of the bankrupt Sounds at a news conference today in Baltimore.
 ABA Commissioner Dave DeBusschere stopped short Monday of saying the franchise would remain in Memphis when he announced the league had withdrawn Baltimore from consideration.
 "I've think they've made a deal," said Avron Fogelman, a principal in a group which sought to keep the team in Memphis. "Based on my conversation with DeBusschere Tuesday night, if we didn't hear back from them by noon Wednesday then they had made a deal with Baltimore."

clarification from the NCAA office.
 "As the rule reads, that's the way it is," an NCAA spokesman informed him.
 Conover said it would be like playing the Cougars "with one arm tied behind your back."
 "The intent and purpose of the rule is economy," Conover added. "But there is no extra expense involved. I can't believe it. This can only happen when there are two teams in the same city."
 Conover wondered about the UCLA-USC rivalry in Los Angeles.
 The NCAA spokesman said the rule wouldn't apply there because the Los Angeles Coliseum is the home field for both teams.

CHRISTMAS STAMPS — The U.S. Postal Service released these designs of stamps for the 1975 Christmas mailing season in Washington Wednesday. One stamp, left, was adapted from a Christmas card by Louis Frang which appeared in 1878. The other is based upon a madonna and child printed by Domenico Ghirlandaio, a 15th century Italian artist of the Florentine school.

Deadlocked On Punishment President Peron Bows To Military Pressure

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Generals opposed to military participation in President Isabel Peron's government forced her to accept the resignation of the army chief and prevented her from maneuvering them into retirement.

After 24 hours of tension, rumors of an impending military coup and intensive negotiations, Mrs. Peron accepted the resignation of Gen. Alberto Numa Laplane on Wednesday night and named Gen. Jorge Rafael Videla, the head of the joint chiefs of staff, to replace him.

Videla, 50, was one of the generals who forced Laplane to quit. He also is reported to have initiated the investigation that linked Mrs. Peron's former chief adviser, Jose Lopez Rega, to the right-wing assassination squads that have been active in recent months.

The president reportedly hoped to force the dissident generals into retirement by replacing Laplane with an officer junior to them. But with all army units on full alert and the generals meeting at a nearby army base, she abandoned her plan and agreed to Videla.

The latest crisis in Mrs. Peron's 13-month-old regime stemmed from her appointment of a military man, Col. Vicente Damasco, to be interior minister on Aug. 11.

Some of the generals immediately demanded that Damasco resign his cabinet post or retire from the army so that there would be no suggestion of military responsibility for Mrs. Peron's tottering government. The generals turned their fire on Laplane after he supported Damasco and said he could stay in both the army and the cabinet.

Laplane submitted his resignation Tuesday night, but Mrs. Peron refused to accept it. The army's division commanders put their troops on the alert; civilian leaders united behind Mrs. Peron, and the dissident generals gathered at the Campo de Mayo army base 16 miles north of Buenos Aires under the leadership of Gen. Carlos Delia Larroca, the commander of the 3rd Division.

The president gave in after nearly eight hours of continuous meetings with cabinet members, labor and Peronist party leaders and emissaries from the generals. Meanwhile, Damasco retired from the army but remained in the cabinet.

Mrs. Peron has been plagued by dissension within the Peronist movement, terrorism and a steadily worsening economic situation ever since her husband's death made her president on July 1, 1974. The erosion of her power base was demonstrated seven weeks ago when military and labor pressure forced her to dismiss Lopez Rega, her private secretary and welfare minister who was the strongman of her regime. He is now living in Spain.

Complaining About Price, Quality Of Beef These Days

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Both consumers and cattle farmers are complaining about the price and quality of beef these days. And both may be right, says Iowa Agriculture Secretary Robert Lounsbury.

"Consumers are paying the price of choice beef, but producers are being paid for good beef," Lounsbury said. "It's happening all over the country."

Lounsbury, a former cattle producer, said Wednesday he has received numerous complaints that farmers are sending cattle they believe to be all choice grade to market, only to be told the majority of the beef "grades out" at good, the grade below choice.

"That costs them $85 to $120 a head on a 1,000 pound steer," he said.

And he adds that when the consumer goes to the meat market, he finds most beef

Bond Issue Shaping Up

COLORADO CITY — The Colorado City Council, in a work-shop meeting Tuesday night, approved a program of upgrading all of its activities in Colorado City with the probability of asking for the passage of a bond issue to finance improvement.

Dr. Elton Berkman, councilman, said that the first step should be to study existing facilities to determine the condition of such things as streets, water treatment facilities and the sewage treatment plant and then to "let the people know what it takes, a bond issue is the only answer."

James Campbell, city manager, said that the "city has been on the decline" and has let all of its operation deteriorate.

"It's time to make a move — one way or another," he added.

The council will study information provided by Campbell and then will determine the amount of money needed to work on the various areas needing improvement.

The council also discussed the possibility of setting up a perpetual cemetery either including or excluding the present cemetery. It was pointed out that many of the present cemetery lots were surrounded by iron fences and these should be taken down if the city has to keep the lots clean.

The council also voted to name the new street in front of the new high school Lone Wolf Boulevard. A city street presently named Lone Wolf Ave. will be changed to avoid confusion.

Court Still Has Problem

Criminal case appeals continued to present a workload problem for county court during July, a report completed by the county clerk's office Wednesday showed.

County Judge Bill Tune started the month with 212 criminal cases pending.

County Attorney W. H. (Bill) Eysen Jr. authorized filing 54 cases, and 71 were appealed.

Defendants in 17 cases, including 12 for driving while intoxicated, pleaded guilty or no contest. Dismissals totaled 32. And eight cases were remanded for judgments in peace justice or Municipal Court.

There were 280 criminal cases pending on July 31.

In civil docket action, three new suits were filed. And Judge Tune entered two agreed or default judgments. On July 31, there were 176 suits pending.

There were no jury trials over criminal or civil cases during the month.

The county clerk's office prepares statistical reports on county court action and sends them to the Texas Civil Judicial Council.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, AUGUST 29, 1975
GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day when you can find considerable tension about you, especially in those in positions of authority, so wait until early next week before approaching them for anything important.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Be cautious in motion of all kinds now, especially if driving. Don't criticize others or you could later regret it. Be courteous.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Don't make radical changes now, but improve present set-up. Postpone repaying social obligation. Take time for fun in p.m.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Good pals could be disappointing today but only because they are under pressure. Social affairs could prove disappointing.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Take no chances where your reputation is concerned and show bigwigs you do your work efficiently. Avoid one who downgrades you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You want to get out of your set-up you are in, but all it needs to make it successful is a few improvements. Show partners you are dependable.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Keep any agreements made and see to it that others hold up their end of the bargain. You have a hunch that could lead you wrong.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Get rid of desire to lambast a good associate or you would regret it later. Do your work rightly and all is well.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Don't go off on tangents because you feel your work's not going right, but get rid of bugs in it quickly and make headway.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Although your mind is on having a good time, get rid of any important obligations facing you. Enjoy simple pleasure in p.m.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) If the situation is not pleasing at abode, quietly do something about it, but don't argue. Losing your temper could be disastrous.

New York Selected As Demo '76 Site

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democrats have decided to take their 1976 presidential nominating convention to New York, which needs the money, and the Republicans are looking toward Kansas City, which sits significantly in the heart of "Middle America."

The Democrats made their choice Wednesday after New York officials and labor chiefs pleaded that the financially troubled city needs the economic boost of a big convention and they promised there would be no labor complications.

The site selection committee, faced with some intraparty discord in California and a solid loyalist front in New York, agreed to accept the cramped quarters of Madison Square Garden over the spacious facilities of Los Angeles' convention center.

The Republicans make their decision next month, and party sources say Kansas City has the inside track although Cleveland and Miami Beach are still in the running.

Mayor Abraham D. Beame told the Democratic committee their "convention belongs in New York City" and reminded them that "the people of New York are on the front lines of meeting the economic challenge."

The New Yorkers pointed out that their financial problems have forced layoffs of city employees, some of whom might be put back to work in the event of a convention boom.

Neal Walsh, New York's commissioner of public events, said the convention will be worth $200 million to the city economy over the next year and a half.

One of the big problems with Los Angeles was Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr., who alienated convention planners by criticizing them for seeking fancy facilities. Brown suggested delegates sleep in church basements if they ran short of hotel rooms.

After the vote, Brown said in California he was "disappointed. I think Los Angeles would have been by far the better place."

Although the roomy Los Angeles convention center would have provided better meeting facilities, it would have required bus transportation over the area's complicated freeways to and from hotels. Beame said New York had abundant hotel space, most within walking distance of the Garden.

The main problem with the Garden is that some delegates and alternates will be seated on elevated extensions running up into the stands rather than down on the convention floor.

A Kansas City convention for the Republicans would be held in the sports arena with related functions in neighboring buildings.

The Democratic convention starts July 12. The Republicans will meet either Aug. 16 or 23.

Bludgeon Death Of Young Fem

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Police disclosed no new leads today in the bludgeoning death of a young woman.

The partially nude body of Suzanne Oakley, 24-year-old Houston, Tex., native was found in the thick underbrush near the Arkansas River Wednesday. Her head had been beaten with a blunt instrument.

The Rev. Charles Farrah spotted the body covered by underbrush as he was jogging on a bicycle trail along scenic Riverside Drive Wednesday evening, police said.

Miss Oakley's body was about 200 feet from the 4500 block of South Riverside Drive covered by underbrush. She was found lying on her stomach, and her white blouse had been pulled up to her head and shorts pulled down to around her ankles. Investigators said her hands were behind her back but not tied.

Officers recovered the murder instrument but did not disclose what it was Wednesday night. They also took plaster molds of footprints from the scene.

Miss Oakley left her apartment about six blocks south of where she was found about 6:30 a. m. Wednesday to jog along the bike path. Friends told officers she jogged along the river "religiously" each day before work.

Fellow employees at the Tulsa Metropolitan Area Planning Commission at City Hall became concerned when the woman did not report for work. Police were notified about 10 a. m., and the search began.

Miss Oakley had worked for the commission about two years. She had graduated from Oral Roberts University here.

"She was a very sweet, Christian person," said Jim Biffle, assistant director of the commission. "...I'm just sick."

KEY TESTS IN LEGISLATURE Common Cause Finds Few 'Perfect' Votes

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Only 18 per cent of the House and 13 per cent of the Senate had what it considers "perfect" records on key test votes during the 1975 legislative session, Common Cause says.

The self-selected citizens' lobby selected seven votes in the House and nine in the Senate as indicative of a legislator's dedication to the public well-being.

"A large portion of the record votes in our voting record were taken from the utility commission debate in both houses. We feel sure that every rate-paying Texan would like to tack this up beside his telephone to remind him of which legislators stood by his side during next year's elections. It clearly delineates the consumer's friend from his foe." Common Cause spokeswoman Katy Davis said Wednesday.

Other issues included in the Common Cause voting record analysis included amendments to campaign finance reporting laws, creation of an elections commission, property tax reform and campaign spending limitations.

House members with 100 per cent "right" records were Joe Allen, D-Baytown; Gonzalo Barrientos, D-Austin; John Bigham, D-Belton; Ron Bird, D-San Antonio; John Bryant, D-Dallas; Neil Caldwell, D-Angleton; Bill Caraway, D-Houston; Donald Cartwright, D-San Antonio; Ron Coleman, D-El Paso; Wilhelmina Delco, D-Austin; Woody Denson, D-Houston; Lane Denton, D-Waco; Luther Jones, D-El Paso; Gene Jones, D-Houston; Ben Grant, D-Marshall; Smith Gilley, D-Greenville; Frank Madla, D-San Antonio; Jim Mattox, D-Dallas; Paul Moreno, D-El Paso; Robert O'Kelley, D-El Paso; Joe Pentony, D-Houston; Abe Ribak, D-San Antonio; Joe Salem, D-Corpus Christi; Buddy Temple, D-Diboll; Carlos Truan, D-Corpus Christi; Bob Vale, D-San Antonio; and Sarah Weddington, D-Austin.

COMING OVER THE HILLS — A string of 48-inch-diameter pipe for the trans-Alaska pipeline is readied for burial in a hilly area about 10 miles north of the Yukon River. The 800-mile-long pipeline is scheduled to begin pumping oil from Alaska's Prudhoe Bay to Valdez in 1977.

Woman Tells Showers Reported In Lamesa, Seminole Of Assault

A 22-year-old Coahoma housewife claimed she was forced to commit sodomy when threatened at knife-point about 2 a. m. today, according to a police report.

She was waiting in a locked car outside the bus station for the arrival of a passenger on the bus. She had the window on her side of the car open for fresh air.

The woman told police officers that suddenly a butcher knife was held at her throat by a Latin American male who ordered her to move over.

He drove the car to a point across the east viaduct where the aggravated sodomy was alleged to have occurred. He then drove her back to the bus station, walked a block and left in his car, according to the report of investigating officers.

recorded Wednesday ranged up to 1.02 inches at Childress and 1.56 at Austin. Top temperatures in the afternoon went no higher than 92 degrees at Cotulla and Longview.

Readings near dawn today covered a spread from 65 at Lubbock up to 76 at Corpus Christi.

Forecasts again called for partly cloudy and warm weather throughout the state and the reappearance of scattered thundershowers by evening.

Crime May Pay Some, But Costs Business

"Crime doesn't pay, it comes to businesses," cautioned Sgt. Ed Kissinger of the Big Spring Police Dept. crime prevention unit.

"Burglary, robbery, shoplifting — they all mean loss or damage to property, the risk of insurance rate increases, and untold manhours spent dealing with the crime after the fact," Kissinger continued. "It makes much better sense to keep crimes from happening in the first place, to decrease the opportunity for crime."

As more and more Big Spring business people are realizing, crime prevention can be far less costly than the damages incurred by becoming a victim even once. Expenditures for security hardware, such as adequate lights, effective locks, and a good alarm system, should be considered an investment. In fact, many crime prevention measures cost nothing but a little time, some attention to detail, and the individual advice the Big Spring Police Dept. provides free of charge to members of the business community.

"One of our main jobs as law enforcement officers is to act as professional Consultants Against Crime and to offer security advice based on our specialized training," explained

Kissinger. "We'd rather prevent crimes from ever happening, and many of our services are directed toward this goal."

"Take our security surveys. At the request of a manager or proprietor, we'll send a trained crime prevention officer to examine a place of business thoroughly and recommend ways to make it more secure."

According to Kissinger, the best results are achieved when all the businesses in a neighborhood participate in the crime prevention program, so that the neighborhood gets to be known as a high risk area for burglars.

"Crime is largely a matter of opportunity. When a businessman reduces the opportunity for crime, he reduces his chances of becoming a victim," Kissinger concluded. "Of course, we're here to help, but it's up to the individual to take that first step and call us." The commercial crime prevention program conducted by the Big Spring Police Dept. is partially funded by the Criminal Justice Division of the Governor's Office.

Anyone wishing to learn more about the commercial and residential crime prevention programs should contact Sgt. Ed Kissinger at 263-8311, ext. 45.

Franks — An American Favorite

Popular for lunch, dinner and especially for snacks, franks are an all-around American favorite. Although hot off the grill may be the most popular way to serve them, other ways of serving franks are equally delicious. For assured quality be sure to select the franks bearing the two most trusted words in meat. They are fully cooked all meat franks, and can be used in hot or cold combinations without heating.

Franks are high in meat-power with lots of complete meat protein. To be sure of serving the franks at the peak of goodness, they should be used within 4 or 5 days. Freezing franks is not recommended because like all cured and smoked meat, flavor deteriorates during freezer storage.

SOUTH SEAS SANDWICH
8 to 10 frankfurters, finely chopped
3 tsp. chopped green pepper
¼ c. peeled, chopped cucumber
2 tsp. toasted slivered almonds
¼ c. mayonnaise
1 tsp. lemon juice
½ tsp. Worcestershire sauce

2 tsp. catsup
6 frankfurter buns
Combine all ingredients except buns. Mix well. Spread mixture between buns, allowing about 1-3rd c. per bun. Wrap each bun in aluminum foil. Bake in a hot oven (400 F.) 10 minutes. 6 sandwiches.

FRANKFURTER PIZZAS
1 lb. frankfurters, cut into ¼-inch slices
5 large hamburger buns or English muffins
1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
1 clove garlic, minced
½ tsp. sweet basil
½ tsp. leaf oregano
1 can (4 oz.) mushroom stems and pieces, drained
¼ c. grated Parmesan cheese

Split buns or muffins and toast cut side. Combine tomato sauce, garlic, basil, oregano and mushroom stems and pieces. Add frankfurters. Spoon 1-3rd c. mixture on each toasted half. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Bake in hot oven (425 F.) 10 minutes. 5 servings.

Economy and convenience are the watchwords for today's active homemakers. It's like a gold mine to find a recipe that offers good nutrition, ease of preparation and interesting flavor as well as being thrifty. One that fits the bill is Sauerkraut Sausage Skillet, a new recipe created in the test kitchens of Swift.

Sauerkraut Sausage Skillet requires less than one-half hour preparation time. Brown 'n serve sausage links and sauerkraut are the keys to convenience in the recipe.

SAUERKRAUT SAUSAGE SKILLET
8 oz. pkg. brown 'n serve sausage links
3½ to 4 c. sauerkraut, drained and rinsed
¾ c. water
2 tsp. brown sugar
½ tsp. salt
2 medium-size pears, cored and cut into thin wedges

Place sausage links in unheated skillet over medium heat. Turn to heat and brown to desired color; about 5 to 6 minutes. Remove from skillet. Place sauerkraut in skillet in which sausage was browned. Add water. Sprinkle brown sugar and salt over sauerkraut. Top with browned sausage links. Cover and simmer 20 minutes. Add pear wedges, cover and simmer an additional 2 to 3 minutes. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

SAUSAGE PIZZA
A special topping goes on a mix

4 Italian-style pork sausage links (½ lb.)
1 tsp. olive oil
Medium onion, quartered and cut into thin strips
½ of a large green pepper, cut into thin strips
3 oz. can sliced mushrooms, drained
15 ¾ oz. cheese pizza mix
½ lb. mozzarella cheese, coarsely grated

You can use sweet or hot sausage or half and half. Remove casing from sausage and simmer, covered, in 1 c. water for 10 minutes; drain and dry on towel. In a 10-inch skillet heat the oil; add crumbled sausage, onion, green pepper and mushrooms; cook gently, stirring often, until onion is tender-crisp; set aside. Make up pizza dough (from mix) according to package directions. Spread a generous amount of olive oil over a 12-inch pizza pan; with oiled fingers pat dough onto pan, pinching edges to form a slight rim. Spread pizza sauce (from mix) over dough to edge; sprinkle sausage mixture, then grated cheese (from mix) over sauce. Bake on a low rack in a pre-heated 425-degree oven until browned—about 18 minutes, sprinkling the mozzarella over the pizza several minutes before it is done. Makes 4 servings.

FRANK 'N CORN CASSEROLE
1 lb. package franks
4 eggs
½ c. milk
1-3rd c. molasses
1 lb. can cream style corn
¼ c. chopped onion
1 tsp. salt

Beat together egg, milk, and molasses. Blend in corn, onion, and salt. Pour into a 1-½ qt. casserole which has been rubbed with butter. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) about 1 hour. Cut franks in half, crosswise. Remove casserole from oven. Arrange franks around edge of casserole to form a crown. Return casserole to oven and bake for another 10 to 15 minutes or until a silver knife inserted in the center of the casserole comes out clean.

FRANKWICHES WITH SOUR CREAM SAUCE
1 lb. pkg. franks
2 tsp. butter or margarine
2 tsp. chopped onion
½ c. chopped celery
2 tsp. white wine vinegar
1 c. dairy soured cream
5 slices toast

Melt butter in a skillet. Add onion and celery and cook for 5 minutes. Split franks almost in half lengthwise. Push onions and celery to one side of the skillet. Place franks in skillet, cut side down, and saute for 3 or 4 minutes. Add vinegar, cover and cook for 5 minutes. Place 2 franks, cut side down, on each slice of toast. Blend sour cream into celery and onions in skillet. Serve at once over franks.

Cornbread Stuffed Franks are easy to fix. Just before the guests arrive fix your favorite cornbread recipe. Cut a slit in the franks and fill with cornbread.

FRANKFURTERS WITH GREEN LIMAS
6 frankfurters
2 tsp. butter or margarine
½ c. and 1 tsp. cold water
2 packages (12 oz. each) frozen green lima beans with tomatoes
2 tsp. cornstarch

Slice the frankfurters diagonally into 1 inch lengths. Melt the butter in a 10-inch skillet. Add frankfurters and brown lightly; remove frankfurters from skillet; and reserve. Add the ½ c. water and the lima beans with tomatoes to the skillet; cover tightly and bring to a full boil over medium heat. Over low heat simmer, covered for 10 to 12 minutes or until beans are just tender. Mix until smooth the remaining 1 tsp. water and cornstarch; stir into skillet; add frankfurters. Cook and stir constantly until sauce thickens and frankfurters reheat. Makes 4 servings.

SAUSAGE PIZZA
A special topping goes on a mix

4 Italian-style pork sausage links (½ lb.)
1 tsp. olive oil
Medium onion, quartered and cut into thin strips
½ of a large green pepper, cut into thin strips
3 oz. can sliced mushrooms, drained
15 ¾ oz. cheese pizza mix
½ lb. mozzarella cheese, coarsely grated

You can use sweet or hot sausage or half and half. Remove casing from sausage and simmer, covered, in 1 c. water for 10 minutes; drain and dry on towel. In a 10-inch skillet heat the oil; add crumbled sausage, onion, green pepper and mushrooms; cook gently, stirring often, until onion is tender-crisp; set aside. Make up pizza dough (from mix) according to package directions. Spread a generous amount of olive oil over a 12-inch pizza pan; with oiled fingers pat dough onto pan, pinching edges to form a slight rim. Spread pizza sauce (from mix) over dough to edge; sprinkle sausage mixture, then grated cheese (from mix) over sauce. Bake on a low rack in a pre-heated 425-degree oven until browned—about 18 minutes, sprinkling the mozzarella over the pizza several minutes before it is done. Makes 4 servings.

SOUTH-OF-THE-BORDER FRANKS

1 package (1 lb.) frankfurters
¼ c. prepared mustard
¼ c. crushed corn chips (about one-half 11 oz. bag)
1 tsp. butter
2 tsp. minced onion
2 tsp. minced green pepper
1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
2 tsp. chopped sweet pickles
½ tsp. chili powder

Roll frankfurters in mustard, and coat them in crushed corn chips. Place on baking sheet; bake in 400 degree oven about 10 minutes. In saucpan melt butter; saute' onion and green pepper until tender. Stir in tomato sauce, pickles and chili powder. Heat to serving temperature. Serve over frankfurters. Makes 4 servings.

"SAUCY" APPLE TREAT
Here's a new way to "relish" hot dogs — with a zesty sauce made from apple butter! A sprinkling of crunchy nuts lends an added dimension to this tangy taste treat. Escape your budget luncheon doldrums with this new serving trick for the old hot dog!

SPICED APPLE DOGS
1 c. apple butter
2 tsp. vinegar
1 tsp. dry mustard
1 clove garlic, crushed
¼ tsp. salt
8 hot dog buns, split butter
1-3rd c. chopped walnuts or pecans

1 package (1 lb.) frankfurters
In saucpan heat together apple butter, vinegar, mustard, garlic and salt. Butter hot dog buns; sprinkle with chopped nuts. Place on baking sheet and toast under broiler until browned. Heat frankfurters in a skillet in about 1 tsp. butter until browned. Serve on a toasted bun; top with spiced apple mixture. Makes 8 servings.

UNUSUAL COMBINATIONS WITH FRANKS

FRANKFURTERS PLUS a vegetable or two cooked in a skillet to make a main course will save preparation and clean-up time — a boon in summer and all-year-round.

CORN BREAD STUFFED FRANKS
1 lb. pkg. franks
½ c. yellow cornmeal
½ c. sifted flour
2 tsp. sugar
1 tsp. baking powder
¼ tsp. salt
¼ c. milk

2 tsp. butter or margarine, melted
1 egg, beaten
11 tsp. chopped onion
1 tsp. chopped pimiento
1 tsp. chopped green pepper

Sift cornmeal, flour, sugar, baking powder, and salt together. Stir in milk, butter, and egg. Mix well. Blend in chopped onion, pimiento, and green pepper. Make a lengthwise slit in each frank. Spoon some cornbread mixture into the pocket in each frank. Put franks on a rack in a baking pan. Bake in a hot oven (400 F.) about 10 minutes or until cornbread is done. Yield: 5 servings

BARBECUED FRANKFURTERS
The sauce has gentle flavor.

8 frankfurters
1 tsp. butter or margarine
1 small onion, quartered and cut in thin strips
1 small green pepper, cut in thin strips
½ c. catsup
½ c. water
2 tsp. cider vinegar
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce

1 tsp. paprika
Slash each frank diagonally in several places but not all the way through. In a 10-inch skillet melt butter; add onion and green pepper and cook gently until wilted. Add the remaining ingredients except the frankfurters; mix well. Add franks, spooning sauce over them. Cover tightly and simmer until franks are hot through — about 10 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

FOR BEST RESULTS USE HERALD ADS

DEUTSCHLAND DELIGHT! This hearty German dish combines real Old World flavor with a New World favorite — the hot dog. Served with sauerkraut and a stein of lager beer, this is the perfect meal for Oktoberfest celebrations. But don't wait until fall to enjoy this satisfying fare — it's great anytime.

OLD BERLINER FRANKFURTER SKILLET
4 slices bacon, cut-up
½ c. minced onion
1 c. water
½ c. vinegar
2 tsp. sugar
1 tsp. instant chicken bouillon
1 tsp. mixed pickling spices
½ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
8 c. shredded red or green cabbage

1 pkg (1 lb.) frankfurters
In a large skillet fry bacon until almost brown; add onion and cook until tender. Add water, vinegar, sugar, bouillon, pickling spice, salt and pepper — stirring to deglaze. Add cabbage; cover and simmer 45 minutes, stirring occasionally. Slash frankfurters crosswise 6 or 7 times, not cutting all the way through. Place slashed frankfurters atop cooked cabbage. Cover and continue to simmer for 15 or 20 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

BARBECUED FRANKS-KRAUT
8 to 10 frankfurters, scored spiral fashion
2 tsp. butter or margarine
½ c. chopped onion
½ c. chopped green pepper
¾ c. chili sauce
½ tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 tsp. prepared mustard
½ tsp. salt
1 can (27 oz.) sauerkraut, drained

Melt butter or margarine. Add onion and green pepper and cook until tender. Add frankfurters and brown lightly. Combine chili sauce, Worcestershire sauce, mustard and salt. Add to frankfurters. Cook slowly 10 minutes. Spoon sauerkraut into 2-quart casserole. Arrange frankfurters on sauerkraut and pour sauce over all. Cover tightly and bake in a moderate oven (350 F.) 20 minutes. 6 servings.

BIG SPRING HERALD

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, THURSDAY, AUGUST 28, 1975

For the hostess, this is a perfect dish for entertaining. The chili with beans is canned and excitingly seasoned so it just needs heating before serving. Prepare the frankfurters before joining your guests. Then, on returning, add the chili with beans to the frankfurters and heat. The dish will be ready for serving in about 20 minutes. A big crisp mixed green salad, and toasted, paprika-sprinkled crackers made the menu for a happy supper party.

PARTY CHILI PIE
4 frankfurters

2 tsp. prepared mustard
¼ cup corn flake crumbs
2 (15¼-oz) cans chili with beans
Preheat oven 400 degrees. Put frankfurters into boiling water. Cover. Remove from heat and let stand 3 minutes. Drain well. Cut frankfurters in half lengthwise and then cut each half crosswise. Spread cut surface of frankfurter with mustard and dip in corn flake crumbs. Arrange frankfurters around edge of 9" pie plate. Spoon in chili with beans. Bake 20 minutes. Garnish top with ring of chopped parsley, if desired. Makes 4 servings.

PRESIDENT EXPECTED TO CALL FOR VOLUNTARY CONSERVATION

Ford, Governors Mull Ways To Ease Gas Shortage

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is meeting with 16 governors on ways to ease an expected natural gas shortage which could affect residential consumers and small businesses this winter for the first time.

A White House spokesman said Ford wants to discuss with the governors today how severely their states might be affected as well as possible options for alleviating the shortage.

The President is expected to call for voluntary conservation policies by the states and to consider various legislative moves the government and the states might make. The spokesman said, "There is not a great deal the President can do administratively."

Ford also may urge support for legislation to end federal regulation of wellhead prices of new natural gas supplies. Under the plan, gas now flowing into interstate commerce would be deregulated as existing contracts expire.

Under the administration-sponsored legislation, interstate pipeline operators would be free to pay much more to producers to bid new gas away from unregulated intrastate consumers, chiefly in Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and New Mexico.

Natural gas sold interstate is regulated at 52 cents per 1,000 cubic feet. Intrastate sales go as high as $1.50.

The President and his advisers contend that deregulation is the best way to shift more gas to industry and homes in the upper Midwest, Northeast and Southeast where shortages are expected.

Federal Energy Administrator Frank G. Zarb also reportedly may recommend that the President seek standby authority for the Federal Power Commission to divert intrastate gas to interstate markets in any national emergency.

Gas-short states whose governors are attending are New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Missouri, North Carolina, South Carolina, Maryland, Virginia, Iowa, Kentucky and Delaware. The governors of Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana were invited because their states are major natural gas producers.

The governors of New York and West Virginia declined invitations because of prior commitments. Gov.

Edmund G. Brown Jr. of California did not respond to his invitation.

Gov. Thomas P. Salmon of Vermont and Gov. Philip Noel of Rhode Island are attending in their respective roles as chairman of the National Governors' Conference energy committee and chairman of the Democratic Governors Conference.

In another energy development, Senate sources said Wednesday that Ford and Congress are trying to reach a last-minute compromise on the impending decontrol of oil prices.

The President has said he will veto a bill passed by Congress that would extend price controls for six months beyond Aug. 31, but the bill has not been sent to him yet.

One Senate source said, "Discussions are still going on... They are still hopeful of working out a compromise." It was unclear what kind of compromise might be involved.

If price controls end at midnight Sunday, the current $5.25-a-barrel ceiling on about 60 per cent of U.S.-produced oil would be lifted and the price of that oil is expected to rise to the unregulated world level of around $12 a barrel.

Peggy Lee Files $15 Million Suit

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Singer Peggy Lee says in a $15 million suit her former personal secretary mishandled her money and embezzled an undetermined amount of it from her.

Miss Lee's attorney, Louis Bachleder, said Wednesday the secretary, Betty Jungheim, was fired last January. He said she had worked for Miss Lee, 54, since 1970.

Miss Jungheim sued her former boss last month for slander and libel.

In her suit, Miss Jungheim said the singer sent letters to her creditors saying her secretary had been dismissed for "gross negligence and embezzlement" and that criminal action would be taken against her. No criminal action has been filed.

Faked Police Room Robbery?

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas County grand jury has indicted three persons on theft charges in the faking of a $30,000 robbery of the Dallas police property room. Indicted Monday were Vivian Charles Levy, 39, former Dallas property room clerk; Doris Jean Sanders, 26, and her brother, Billy Joe Sanders, 22, all of Dallas.

Reschedule Trial For Agnew's Son

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Trial has been rescheduled for Friday for James Rand Agnew, son of former Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, who is accused of peering through the bedroom window of a young married couple.

The trespassing trial had been scheduled for Wednesday, but Agnew told District Court Judge Sol. J. Friedman that his attorney was ill and unable to attend. Friedman granted the postponement but told Agnew, 28, to be prepared to stand trial Friday. The judge said if Agnew's attorney is still ill, he should bring another.

The couple said they spotted Agnew peering into their bedroom window July 7.

APPEAL EXPECTED IN $46 MILLION SUIT

Kent Jury Nixes Damages

CLEVELAND (AP) — A swift appeal is expected of a federal jury's decision denying $46 million in damages to the wounded and the survivors of the dead in the Kent State University shootings of 1970.

"The last day of the Kent trial has not occurred," plaintiffs' attorney Joseph Kerner said Wednesday after the jury absolved Gov. James A. Rhodes and 28 other present or former state officials and Ohio National Guardsmen of liability in the shootings.

Kerner predicted that the jury's verdict, announced on the fifth day of deliberations of the 15-week trial, would be reversed by a higher court.

U.S. District Judge Don J. Young and attorneys for the 29 defendants, as well as some of the defendants themselves, acknowledged that the case probably had not been finally resolved.

Four Kent State students were killed and nine were wounded on May 4, 1970, in a 13-second volley of gunfire which erupted on the campus when National Guard troops tried to disperse antiwar demonstrators.

The troops were ordered to Kent State by Gov. James A. Rhodes to put a stop to antiwar violence in which windows were smashed in downtown Kent and the Reserve Officers Training Corps building on campus was burned.

The plaintiffs contended the shootings were unprovoked and unwarranted. They claimed victims were denied their constitutional rights to free speech, peaceful assembly and due process of law.

The defendants, who included Rhodes and former Kent State President Robert

I. White, claimed they were carrying out their legal duties and that guardsmen fired in fear of their lives as a violent mob closed in on them.

Also among the defendants were former Ohio Adj. Gen. Sylvester T. Del Corso and ex-Brig. Gen. Robert H. Canterbury, the National Guard commanders at Kent State.

The jury's decision brought sobs from some of the plaintiffs and cries of outrage from others.

Thomas R. Grace, one of the wounded students, shouted, "He's still a murderer." It was not clear to whom he referred.

And Sarah Scheuer of Youngstown, Ohio, whose daughter, Sandra Lee, died of a bullet in the neck, broke into deep sobs.

wheelchair. His mother, Elaine, sobbed.

A male voice broke the silence of the courtroom, "My God!"

Kahler said later that the verdict had left him "in the depths of darkness. We've been denied, and we won't quit now."

Del Corso and former Lt. Col. Charles R. Fassinger, the only defendants present, heard the verdicts with stony faces and downcast eyes.

After a jury poll which showed the panel 9 to 3 in favor of the finding that the defendants were not personally or financially liable, Kerner asked Young for a directed verdict for the plaintiffs, despite the jury's judgment.

Kerner said the plaintiffs' evidence was overwhelming and that the trial was conducted in an atmosphere of prejudice. Young directed him to put the motion in writing.

Strike Talks

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — Officials of a Beaumont construction engineers union and area contractor associations have been called to Washington, D.C., by federal mediators for negotiations on a strike that has crippled heavy construction here for nearly five months.

The talks between the opposing parties and the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service are due to start at 1 p.m. Friday.

Local level negotiations in the contract dispute have been suspended since Aug. 1, when the union rejected a "final" contract offer from the contractors' association, which represents industrial builders and the Associated General Contractors.

Labor sources said the engineers' union, which represents about 800 construction equipment operators in the Beaumont area, could set a precedent for other building trades unions still holding out if agreement on a pact is made in Washington.

TOGETHER AGAIN — Elizabeth Taylor and her former husband, actor Richard Burton, walk together at Zurich airport, coming from Gstaad, Switzerland, by helicopter Wednesday. They are en route to Israel where it is reported they may marry again.

To Boost Check Cashing Fees

FORT WORTH (AP) — Some major grocery stores here have decided to boost their check-cashing fees from 10 cents to 15 cents.

Safeway and Piggly Wiggly have already announced the increase while Kroger and Minyard say they expect to follow soon. Only Buddies said it will charge a dime.

Vernon McDonald, in charge of returned checks and collections for Piggly Wiggly, said costs of returned checks, robbery insurance, labor costs and inflation have combined to hurt stores in their check-cashing activity.

Sinatra Hails 'Something'

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP) — The Beatles' song "Something" may be the greatest love song written in the last half-century, says Frank Sinatra.

Sinatra performed here before 7,400 fans Monday night. He introduced his own version of the song by saying, "George Harrison of the Beatles wrote probably the greatest love song of the last 50 years in 'Something.'"

Relationship 'Is Private'

FARGO, N.D. (AP) — "Private at this point." That's the way Kristi Vail, 21, says she wants to keep her relationship with Jack Ford, the President's son.

Miss Vail has been traveling with the Fords, and recently spent four days with the First Family at Vail, Colo.

She said she will spend this week with her parents before returning to Utah State University for her senior year.

Jack Ford graduated from Utah State last spring. The two met at school two years ago but did not start dating until this year.

Asks Agreement On Oil Policy

FORT WORTH (AP) — A telegram urging an agreement on an oil price policy was sent by Rep. Jim Wright of Fort Worth to eight congressional leaders in an effort to secure a "reasonable compromise" between President Ford and the congressional leadership before Aug. 31.

After that date, controls on oil prices will be lifted and will remain off unless Congress overrides Ford's veto of the Oil Allocation Extension Act.

Wright said in his telegram, "it seems obvious in the present situation that neither branch can force its way completely upon the other."

His telegram was addressed to House Speaker Carl Albert, House Majority Leader Thomas P. O'Neill, House Minority Leader John J. Rhodes, Senate Majority Leader, Thomas P. O'Neill, Senate Minority Leader Hugh Scott, Sen. John Pastore, Rep. John Dingell and federal administrator Frank Zarb.

Park Planning Busy Weekend

ARLINGTON — Special events are in store for guests at Six Flags Over Texas over the Labor Day weekend including shows by singer Ray Price, the regional broadcast of the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Telethon, and a Czechoslovakian aerial thrill show.

Country music singer Ray Price will appear in concert at Six Flags on Sunday, and Monday. He will present shows at 6:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. each evening in the park's Music Mill Theater.

Price's performances on Monday will benefit Muscular Dystrophy.

The annual Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Telethon which takes place on Labor Day will be broadcast regionally from Six Flags' Southern Palace Music Hall.

Hosting the telecast from Six Flags will be Alex Trebek, star of the television game show, "High Rollers." The telecast will be carried by KXAS-TV, Channel 5, in the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

During the hours of the telethon, Six Flags Over Texas will donate $2 to the telethon for each ticket purchased at the front gate.

CAN'T INTERFERE WITH LOADING GRAIN
Judge Tells Longshoremens They 'Can Picket The White House'

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — A federal judge has told longshoremens from Lake Charles, La., to Brownsville, Tex., that they can "picket the White House" but they cannot interfere with the loading of grain sold by the United States to the Soviet Union.
 U.S. District Court Judge Owen Cox issued a temporary injunction Wednesday preventing the Texas District of the International Longshoremens Association covering Lake Charles to Brownsville—from boycotting ships loading grain bound for the Soviet Union.
 ILA officials said they will appeal the ruling because a boycott is not a labor conflict, but a political act.
 The longshoremens returned to work Aug. 29 after a two-day work stoppage under a federal restraining order requested by the Gulf Maritime Association and granted by a Galveston federal judge.

 The longshoremens said they had stopped loading grain aboard Soviet Union bound ships following resolutions passed by the ILA and the AFL-CIO. They said they wanted assurances from the U.S. government that the sale of grain to the Soviet Union would not mean an increase in domestic food prices.
 Cox, who heard the case here after it was moved from Galveston, set a hearing for Sept. 30 on the shippers' request for a permanent injunction.
 The judge agreed with the shippers' argument that the ILA should abide by the labor contract.
 He said he "was not concerned with the pros and cons of shipping grain to the Soviet Union. Whether to do so is good or bad is for someone else to decide. They (the longshoremens) can picket the White House, picket Congress, but they cannot violate the contract."

 Warner F. Brock, lawyer for the ILA said Cox' ruling will be appealed to the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans.
 Brock said a labor union has a right to be politically oriented and added: "This is no labor dispute. It is purely political."
 AFL-CIO President George Meany had defended the boycott last week saying that American consumers must be protected from higher food prices which could result from Russian grain purchases.

President Ford met Tuesday with Meany and other labor leaders, but the 90-minute meeting produced no solutions.
 Meany, who said boycotts would continue, noted that flour prices increased after last month's Soviet grain purchases and that the same thing occurred in 1972 after another big Russian grain deal.
 Ford said that the nation needs to make large grain sales abroad to improve its balance of payments.
 The Russians bought nearly 10 million metric tons of American grain last month. A metric ton is about 2,200 pounds.
 Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz said Tuesday the grain exports will hike U.S. food prices about 1.5 percent, but Federal Reserve Board Chairman Arthur F. Burns said food costs may jump as much as 2.5 percent.

Crude Prices Cable Cars Celebration

HOUSTON (AP) — Shell Oil Co. says it plans to pay top prices of $10.39 and $10.75 a barrel for most of its domestic crude oil, effective next Monday morning, if federal price controls end Sunday night.
 Shell said Wednesday this would be $2 below its current postings for crude oil not affected by price controls.
 The company said the new postings are contingent upon Sunday's end of price controls and on President Ford's lifting the $2 a barrel supplemental fee on imported crude.
 The President has said he will eliminate the import fee if Congress does not override his planned veto of a six-month extension of price controls.
 Shell has been paying $5.25 for controlled "old" crude and up to $12.75 for uncontrolled "new" crude. The company said the new postings will apply to both categories.
 The new top prices of $10.75 a barrel for Texas-Louisiana Gulf Coast sweet crude and $10.39 for West Texas sour crude.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — In an age when burgeoning populations everywhere look increasingly toward mass people movers, the San Francisco cable car is celebrating its 102nd anniversary as America's most durable transportation system.
 When stationary, the chunky antiquity tilts on its tracks like the topper on a "B" movie drunk.
 When lurching over hair-raising grades, the virtuoso gripman bashing the ding-dong bell like a high-paid musician, the six-ton cable car is a thing alive: a 20th century anomaly, a dinosaur among the skyscrapers.
 Beloved by the riders who delight to hang on for dear life as the rolling antiques stagger up and down some 10 miles of track on three lines, the relics have been at it since August 1873.
 Cemented into the folklore of the city, the cable cars have endured virtually unchanged, racking along at a steady 9 miles an hour. That's the speed of an endless subterranean steel cable that propels the cars.

 The international love affair with the cable cars has become legend enshrined in song and story — a nutty trolley "climbing halfway to the stars."
 They cost about $40,000 apiece to build, complete with running boards, "Joanville" roof, fancy joinery and lots of shiny brass.
 The cabling tote more than 10 million passengers a year at 25 cents a head. Some folks, not briefed on the homicidal tendencies of the cable car, get flung off on sharp curves, while bug-eyed survivors risk being plastered by cars as they sit in outside, exposed sections.
 Despite the 1906 earthquake and fire, the alarming crash rate and annual deficits, the clattertraps survive. Let anyone suggest they be killed off as inefficient, dangerous and expensive — which they are — and that soul is in for trouble.
 For while the cables muttering beneath the pavement move them, the old things are really powered by love. Eleven years ago the entire system — cars, tracks, turntables and car barn — was certified a national landmark. Protected unto perpetuity.
 It all started one morning as fog boiling in from the ocean swirled around an unlikely predawn scene atop the Clay Street hill. Many had laughed at Andrew Hallidie. It would never work, they said. Few even bothered to rise early and poke a nose out the window.
 But Hallidie slowly activated the grip around the cable under the pavement. The 350-horsepower steam engine at the car barn grumbled as it took up the strain. Then, the tiny car "took rope" and trundled off into history.

Farabee Is Appointed

State Senator Ray Farabee of Wichita Falls has been appointed by Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby to serve on the Texas legislative council.
 Other state senators serving with Sen. Farabee are Sen. Kent Hance of Lubbock, Sen. Bill Meier, Euliss; Sen. Grant Jones, Abilene and Sen. John Traeger, Seguin.
 The Texas legislative council provides facilities and professional personnel to assist members of the legislature in areas of research, special studies, legal counsel, communications and bill drafting on a year-round basis.
 Any legislator, state or local official or private citizen can submit subjects for the council's consideration.
 Senator Farabee said, "I am looking forward to serving on the Texas legislative council. Although the Texas legislature meets formally once each two years, the work of the council will utilize the 18 months between sessions to study and prepare legislation in order to obtain more efficiency in the legislative process."
 The council will meet Sept. 2 to consider budgeting matters and to set up a program for the coming year.
 Gov. Dolph Briscoe has called a special session on the Senate for Wednesday, Sept. 3, at 10:30 a.m. to consider the impeachment adopted by the House on Judge O. P. Carrillo. Sen. Farabee will remain in Austin for the special session.

Lady Bird Lauds Presidential Manuscripts

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Lady Bird Johnson says an original exhibit of 33 presidential manuscripts opening today at the Lyndon B. Johnson Library "is an example of what Lyndon hoped the library would do."
 Mrs. Johnson previewed the exhibit, "The Presidents on the Presidency" on Tuesday. It includes manuscripts from every president except Chester A. Arthur and James Buchanan.
 The exhibit is the first attempt "to pull something together from every president" said the library's director, Harry Middleton.

Dear Abby

Son Should Leave Mom's If Ex-Wife Annoys Him

DEAR ABBY: I am a 48-year-old man who has been divorced six years. I live with my mother, so I don't have to worry about meals or laundry.

My problem is my ex-wife. I cannot stand the sight of her. She calls my mother nearly every day, and my mother invites her over to the house.

My mother knows how I feel about my ex but she says if she isn't nice to her, she won't get to see her grandchildren.

I don't buy that because my divorce decree states that I can see my children whenever I wish. I love my children and have had them for holidays and weekends, yet I don't include my "ex."

Sometimes I think my mother lets my "ex" hang around here just to make me uncomfortable.

What do you think, Abby? I'd appreciate your advice.

BURNED UP
DEAR BURNED: If you can swing it financially, move out of Mother's house and get your own place. Then you can pick up your children and take them to your mother's without having your wife come along. As long as you're living in your mother's home, she can invite whomever she wants to visit.

DEAR ABBY: Mary, the wife of my deceased brother, is 69, and I am a 67-year-old bachelor. Mary lives 1,500 miles from me, and she has

Zalai Speaks

To Home League

The Ladies Home League of the Salvation Army met Tuesday morning at the Citadel with Mrs. Nella Stephens giving a devotional on "A Surprised View."

Next Tuesday members with birthdays in August, September and October will be honored.

often proposed that I come and visit her—she has a house with two bedrooms.

Now Mary's widowed sister says that it would not be proper to sleep at Mary's house.

What do you think?

WONDERING
DEAR WONDERING: I think Mary's widowed sister is jealous.

DEAR ABBY: I have a question I can't ask even my doctor, so I'm asking you.

I am 36 and have been chewing tobacco since I was four-years-old. What I want to know is whether it is dangerous to my health.

Lately, I have been having fainting spells, am short of breath and get dizzy. I have been to the best doctors, and they haven't been able to find anything wrong with me.

I never had the courage to tell any of them that I've been chewing tobacco all these years.

Will you please ask your doctor if it's harmful and let me know? If it is, I can cut it out because I really don't have to have it. Thank you. I am a woman, if that matters.

CHEWS IN DELAWARE

DEAR CHEWS: My doctor says that tobacco-chewing habit CAN be harmful to one's health, but he can't diagnose a case without seeing the patient. (Go back to YOUR doctor and spit it out (the truth — not the tobacco.)

CONFIDENTIAL TO E. IN CHICAGO: Stay out of the stock market unless you know what you're doing. It's not the bulls and bears you have to worry about. It's the bum steers.

Mrs. Cole Will Speak To Rebekahs

Mrs. Mary Cole, district deputy president of the Rebekahs, will instruct members of the Big Spring Rebekah Lodge No. 284 on lodge work and projects at the Tuesday meeting of that lodge. Members will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the IOOF Hall.

This announcement was made at the Tuesday meeting of the Rebekahs, held at the IOOF Hall. During the next meeting members with September birthdays will be honored.

Members of the September refreshment committee are Mrs. Sheri Wilson, Mrs. Margie Norwood, Mrs. Olive Murphy, Mrs. Mattie Roberts and Mrs. Lila Holland.

The Past Noble Grand Club of the Rebekah Lodge No. 284 met Monday evening at La Posada. Mrs. Ruth McNew was initiated as a new member.

Beta Omicron Commence Club Year

Texas Beta Omicron Chapter 796 of Beta Sigma Phi officially commenced the 1975-76 year Sunday at a 2 p.m. meeting in First Federal Community Room.

Mrs. Ruth Penner, president, presided over the discussion of the coming year's projects. Mrs. Linda Wittman, social chairman, presented plans for the upcoming family picnic. Ms. Kathy Crawford, yearbook chairman, presented chapter members with yearbooks and explained the aims and goals of the new year's program book, "Heritage and The Woman."

Ways and Means chairman, Mrs. Pam Carroll detailed plans for the chapter's annual garage sale scheduled for Sept. 6.

Mrs. Jean Denton, vice president and membership chairman, welcomed the guests. They included Mrs. Mary Alligood, transferee; Mrs. Doris Arcand, Mrs. Pat Radcliffe, Mrs. Barbara Barnhart, Mrs. Kathie Bartholomew, Mrs. Connie Scasny and Mrs. Ruth Wilson.

Members assisting with the program were Mrs. Phyllis Cox, Mrs. Stephanie Roll, Mrs. Cynthia Hanselman and Mrs. Lillie Curry.

An affirmation ritual was held for Mrs. Sally Norsen, now in Italy; and Mrs. Sharan Lindsey, who also received a farewell ritual.

The first regular meeting of the year will be at 7:30 p.m., Sept. 11 with Mrs. Ruth Penner as hostess.

Birth Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Latham of Fort Worth wish to announce the birth of their daughter, Laurie Lea, at 6:46 p.m. Aug. 15 at Harris Hospital in Fort Worth. She weighed 7 pounds, 4 1/2 ounces.

The baby is the first grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Carlton, Tulsa, and the fourth grandchild for Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Latham, Vigo Park.

There are six great-grandparents, Mrs. Esteen Latham, of Tulsa, Mrs. C. R. Powell of Leveland, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Shortes of Big Spring and Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Carlton of Burlson. Mrs. May Shortes of Big Spring is the great-great-grandmother.

Frank-Bean Dog Is Lunch Treat

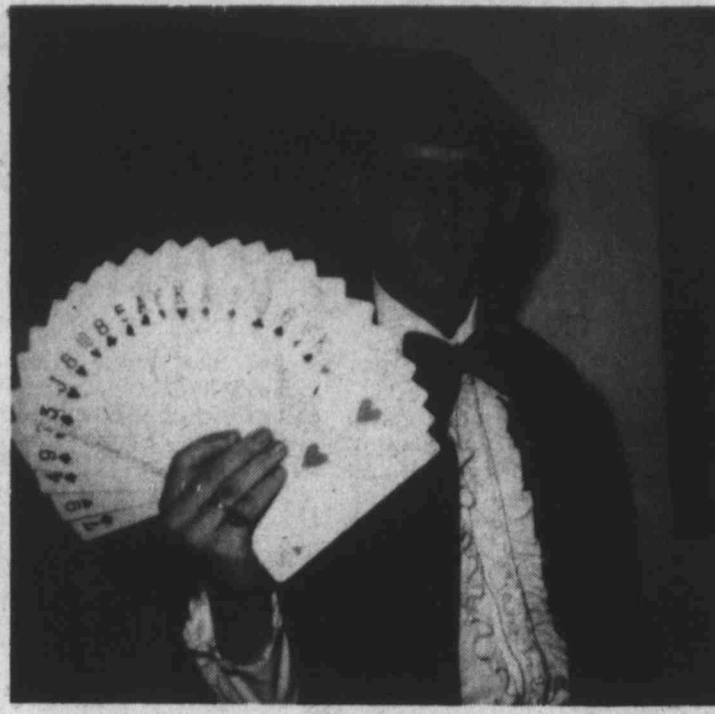

2 slices bacon
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
2 tbsps. chopped green onion
Generous dash chili powder
1 can (1 lb.) beans & franks in tomato sauce
1/4 cup shredded mild process cheese
3 frankfurter rolls, split and toasted

In saucepan, cook bacon until crisp. Remove and crumble. Pour off all but 1 tablespoon drippings. Cook green pepper and green onion in drippings until tender. Add beans & franks and cheese. Heat, stirring now and then. Serve on rolls; garnish with bacon. Makes 3 servings.

NOTE: If cooking on outdoor grill prepare as above, using heavy saucepan, on grill about 4 inches above glowing coals. After adding beans and franks and cheese, cover and heat, stirring now and then. Last few minutes, toast rolls on grill.

GUEST MAGICIAN — Bruce Beard will entertain the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs with his magic act during salad supper to be held Saturday.

Handicraft Club Changes Meetings

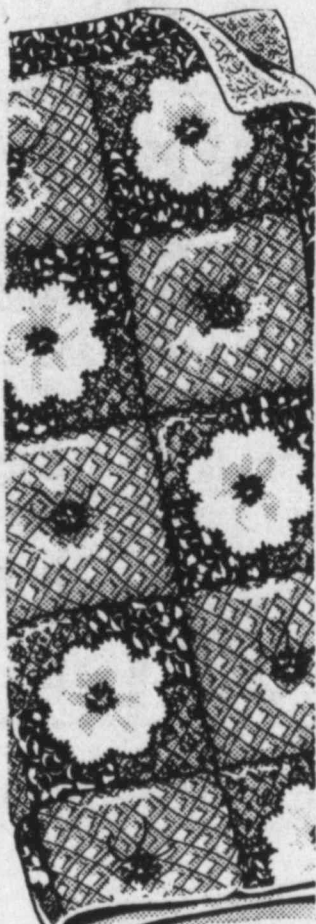

The Newcomers Handicraft Club met Monday evening in the Hospitality Room of First Federal Savings to discuss the dates of their monthly meetings. Members approved changing the dates of the meetings to the first and fourth Tuesday of each month.

Mrs. Connie Scasny was in charge of a craft project during the meeting. Members painted plaster molds with acrylic paints under her direction.

Hostesses were Mrs. Norma Rapp and Mrs. Sharon Donaghe.

Tuesday morning several members of the club attended a meeting in the home of Mrs. Sharon Frye, who conducted a lesson in needlepoint.

TOPPED OUT—The Midland National Bank Tower, a 14-story, 230,000 square foot joint venture project between Midland National Bank and Gerald D. Hines Interests, Houston, topped out Aug. 14, reaching its full height of 203 feet. Installation of precast panels is currently under way with completion slated for September. Commencement of tenant work began in mid-August and occupancy of the new tower is planned for this fall.

Parker Drilling Acquires Equity Of Odessa Firm

TULSA (AP)—Parker Drilling Co. announced Wednesday it has acquired the equity of Vance Industries, Inc., of Odessa, Tex., at a value of more than $5 million.

Vance has operated in the oil and gas industry for nearly 20 years through design, engineering and manufacturing services connected with drilling equipment.

R.L. Parker, president of the Tulsa firm, said the acquisition represents "a

Liz Offered Feminine Lead

TEL AVIV (AP)—Producer-director Wolf Vollmar says he's offered Elizabeth Taylor the feminine lead in a film to be shot in Israel.

Vollmar said Wednesday that Miss Taylor would play opposite Richard Burton, who has already agreed to play a lead role in the movie "Abakarov," the story of a Russian pilot who immigrates to Israel.

Burton and Miss Taylor arrived here recently to inspect the locations.

Vollmar said he had no information on the possible remarriage of Burton and Miss Taylor, who were divorced 14 months ago and reconciled last week in Switzerland.

If Miss Taylor accepts the part, it would be their first pairing in a film since the divorce.

CLIPS CHILDBIRTH PAIN Biofeedback Babies

By the Associated Press

Some women are wiring themselves to biofeedback machines and learning to relax their muscles, relieve their fears and reduce the time and pain of childbirth.

"I think childbirth is a perfect and down-to-earth application for biofeedback," says Dr. Robert H. Gregg. Gregg uses biofeedback in his Southern California practice and says it sometimes can change labor from a traumatic ordeal to a pleasant experience.

Biofeedback is a process in which people get constant signals, or feedback, on body functions such as blood pressure and muscle tension. They then can attempt to control those functions by concentration.

In childbirth, Gregg says, biofeedback training can help some women relax, thereby easing their labor.

Gregg is a clinical professor of obstetrics and gynecology at Loma Linda University near Los Angeles.

He reported his findings on biofeedback and childbirth to a meeting of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists in Boston.

Biofeedback has been used to help control hypertension, migraine headaches and low back pain, but Gregg says he believes he is the first to apply it to childbirth.

In a preliminary study, Gregg compared 30 pregnant women who were trained in biofeedback with 30 similar women who received no training. In each group, 20 of the women previously had given birth.

He reported that the biofeedback-trained women had a significantly shorter, smoother labor and used fewer pain killers and tranquilizers than women without training.

Program Given Name Of BASIC

A student activity program being considered by the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce has been tentatively given the name BASIC, according to Chamber Manager Terry Hanson.

BASIC (Big Spring Area Student Involvement Council), if adopted by the Chamber board, will start in September and will include 30 students from Big Spring High School who will serve individually on Chamber committees.

The purpose of BASIC is to provide an avenue for the youth leadership of the community to contribute their talent, ideas and abilities to the future development and improvement of the community, according to Hanson.

Opening lead: King of ♥.

Given a choice of cards to play to a trick, it is generally a sound policy to play the card you are known to have. Application of this principle brought West a welcome bonus on this hand.

North had a rough problem after West interposed a weak jump overall of two hearts. A bid of a new suit at this level generally promises five cards, but the only alternative to a response of two spades was three diamonds, and with three to a to game. West led the king of hearts, and followed with ace and another. Declarer had to ruff in dummy with the jack and hope that it would not be overruffed. When East discarded a club, one hurdle had been surmounted.

Declarer then led a diamond to his ace, and West smoothly dropped the queen. Since East had failed to overruff the jack, West was fully aware that declarer had placed the lady in his hand. He also realized that if he followed with the ten of diamonds, declarer would have had no option other than to lay down the king of diamonds in the hope of dropping the queen.

When West dropped the queen on the first diamond lead, declarer now had another possible way to avoid a trump loser. The missing trumps were the 10-8 and if East held both these cards declarer could pick up the ten with a finesse. Since West was marked with a six-card heart suit, declarer found it easy to place him with a singleton diamond. Therefore, he crossed to dummy with the king of clubs and led a trump to the nine. West's ten was a bitter blow, and capped a fine defensive effort.

How do you choose your best opening lead? Goren provides the answers in his new book, "Winning Opening Leads." For a copy, write to "Goren Leads," P. O. Box 259, Norwood, N.J. Jersey 07648. Enclose $1.25 in cash or checks, payable to NEWSPAPERBOOKS.
