

Egypt, Israel Initial Pullout Agreement

JERUSALEM (AP) — The new Israeli-Egyptian agreement for a second Israeli withdrawal in the Sinai Desert went before Israel's political parties today for its test.

The Knesset, Israel's parliament, was expected to take up the agreement Wednesday after the parties determined their positions. Statements from political leaders before conclusion of the negotiations indicated it would be approved by a narrow majority.

Israel and Egypt initialed the new agreement in Jerusalem and Alexandria on Monday after a 12-day diplomatic shuttle by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, who left Egypt today for Saudi Arabia.

If the Knesset approves the accord, Israeli and Egyptian delegates will meet in Geneva to sign the accord, probably Thursday, Israeli officials said. They said they were correcting an earlier statement that the agreement would be signed in Israel and Egypt without a direct meeting.

Meanwhile, the Ford administration opened a campaign to win approval of the agreement by the U.S. Congress. This is needed because the pact provides for the stationing of some 200 American civilians at electronic surveillance stations between the two armies.

and obviously a greater chance for war."

Although Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and some other influential members oppose the American involvement, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger has said he expects congressional approval.

In addition to the Israeli troop withdrawal and return of the Abu Rudeis oilfields to Egypt, the pact commits the two longtime enemies to refrain from the "threat or use of force" against each other. Kissinger said he hoped "the implementation of this agreement and the documents that we have initialed today will be remembered as that point where peace at last began in the Middle East."

Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin admitted that there were risks for Israel in the accord. But he said these had to be taken to move toward peace, and the agreement could "open a new chapter in relations" with Egypt and in the Middle East.

"I think the agreement... marks a turning point in the Arab-Israeli conflict," President Anwar Sadat said at the ceremony in Alexandria.

EGYPT AND ISRAEL AGREE ON SINAI — Map shows status of forces under agreement signed Monday by Egypt and Israel. Dotted area separates the Israeli line, marked "1", and the Egyptian line, marked "2". Shaded areas east and west of the lines will be limited to reduced forces. Line marked "3" is previous Egyptian line. New Egyptian line is same as previous Israeli line. Black area to south will be limited to United Nations forces and Egyptian civilians.

FORD AT THE IMF — President Ford tells today's session of the International Monetary Fund in Washington that each nation must make its own decisions about its economy and that "no country can expect the actions of others to resolve its problems." Behind him are co-chairmen of the session, Gumerindo Rodriguez, left, and Hector Hurtado, both Venezuela.

Each Nation Must Make Own Economic Decisions

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford said today each nation must make its own decisions about its economy and that "no country can expect the actions of others to resolve its problems."

He addressed the annual meeting of the 127-nation International Monetary Fund and World Bank, where there has been widespread criticism that the United States has not done enough to help end world recession.

Ford said a sound U.S. economy is "the best lasting contribution this nation can make to other nations."

The President's speech

came shortly after Treasury Secretary William E. Simon rejected a recommendation from the IMF that the United States do more to stimulate its economy. Simon said this country might already have done too much.

Simon flatly rejected a recommendation from Johannes Witteveen, director of the IMF, that the United States along with Germany and Japan undertake a greater effort to expand their economies and help end the world recession.

"We believe we have taken adequate means to reflate our economy on the fiscal side," Simon told a news conference.

Noting that the U.S. government will have a 1976 budget deficit of at least $60 billion, Simon said, "My concern is not that we have done too much."

Witteveen had told an opening session of the meeting of the IMF and the World Bank on Monday that he thought nations with large economies should resort to additional tax cuts and federal spending to help the world economy.

Witteveen said the present rate of economic recovery in the world may be too slow and may leave most of the world mired in recession.

Although individual countries may feel they are doing enough, he said, they must look at the problem in a "global context" and take into account the economic difficulties of smaller nations that depend on the big powers.

Simon told reporters earlier he "certainly will not" recommend to the President that the United States take further actions to stimulate its economy. The United States must take into account its problems of inflation, he said.

But the finance minister of Italy, Emilio Colombo, said the world waits on the big powers to lead it out of recession. Despite his country's efforts to end the recession, Italy's economy depends too much on the rest of the world to end its recession independently, Colombo said.

He said it is unlikely that the recession in much of the world will end until the second quarter of 1976 at the earliest.

Explosion Kills Teen

HERNANDO, Miss. (AP) — A teen-age girl was killed and eight other persons were injured early today when fire and explosions rocked a fuel storage facility here and destroyed two houses as a gasoline truck was unloading, authorities reported.

DeSoto County authorities said the dead and injured included seven persons who lived near the Desoto Gas Co.

"It seems gasoline fumes got into two houses and they exploded," said Sheriff Lee Bredith.

The 17-year-old dead girl and seven of the injured were in the two houses. Fire Chief Charles Word said.

Also injured was Bobby Worsham, identified as the driver of the tank truck.

The injured were in satisfactory condition at a Memphis hospital.

Word said the explosions were limited to the tanker truck and several 20-gallon propane tanks.

Trenton Is Expected To Run Out Of Water

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — The city of Trenton, capital of New Jersey, and surrounding communities were expected to run out of water this afternoon.

Mayor Arthur Holland declared a state of emergency shortly before noon because of a broken pump in the city's water supply system.

An estimated 250,000 persons could be affected by the crisis, including about 100,000 in Trenton and the rest in the surrounding suburban communities of Ewing, Hamilton and Lawrence townships.

Holland ordered parochial schools, which opened today, to close, and city officials said the state and county offices may be shut down and that the staff at City Hall would be reduced to a skeleton crew.

Joseph Tuccillo, director of the city's public works, said nearby communities, including towns in Pennsylvania just across the Delaware River, had agreed to pump in about one-fifth of the 35 million gallons used by the city's water system each day.

Tuccillo said the city was calling for tank trucks to provide emergency water supplies to hospitals and other critical areas.

He also said it would be at least 48 hours before the broken pumps at the Trenton filtration plant adjacent to the Delaware River could be replaced.

Gold Takes New Plunge

LONDON (AP) — Gold took another plunge on Europe's bullion markets today as dealers worried over an International Monetary Fund decision to sell off one-sixth of its gold holdings.

In London the metal was fixed for afternoon trading at $149.25 an ounce, down from $153.75 at the morning fixing and $155 Monday afternoon.

This afternoon's fixing price, the price agreed to by the market's biggest traders, was the lowest since Sept. 30 last year when the morning fixing price was $147.50 an ounce.

Do Not Expect Approval Of Right-To-Strike Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sponsors of legislation to allow strikes by government workers say they don't expect congressional approval for years because of public unhappiness with walkouts by police, garbage men and teachers.

Chairman Charles H. Wilson, D-Calif., says he is not optimistic his House postal subcommittee's right-to-strike bill for postal workers will get out of the full Post Office Committee this year.

Chairman Frank Thompson Jr., D-N.J., said his House labor subcommittee will hold public hearings on bills to give state and local government employees the right to strike—but he made no promises even of subcommittee approval.

Wilson said public employee strikes like the police and firemen walkout in San Francisco this summer have aroused public opposition to right-to-strike bills that most congressmen are unwilling to back.

"It would take a very brave soul to vote for this," Wilson said.

Both Wilson and Thompson contend that a national right-to-strike law would reduce the number of government worker strikes, rather than increase them, and predict Congress eventually will enact such a law.

Thompson said present wildcat strikes by government workers would be outlawed by a bill that would bring their unions under the National Labor Relations Act, thus giving them the same right as industrial unions to conduct sanctioned strikes.

"Rather than these hiccup-type strikes, there would be a definitive procedure they would go through," Thompson said.

Further, both Wilson and Thompson said bills before their committees would only permit government workers to strike as a last resort, requiring bargaining and mediation first.

"Very realistically I don't believe it will pass in the foreseeable future," Wilson said. "But I think it will come."

He said the bills are already losing votes of members of Congress who would have gone along with right-to-strike bills earlier but are now getting too close to 1976 elections to risk such a controversial stand.

The bill approved 6 to 3 by Wilson's panel April 10 would give postal employees the right to decide before contract talks start that they would strike in case of impasse rather than accept binding arbitration.

One of the two right-to-strike bills in Thompson's subcommittee would bring state and local government employees under the National Labor Relations Act, and another would set up a separate labor act for them.

'MOMMY! MOMMY!' Greyhound Heist

DETROIT (AP) — "We have guns!" one of two holdup men aboard a bus shouted as the Greyhound rumbled down a highway.

"Put your heads down and do not look up. This is a holdup. If I see the whites of your eyes, I'll blow your heads off!" he said.

Children screamed as the bandits shouted instructions and cursed some men, pistol-whipped others and stuffed money and jewelry into an attache case as most passengers sat with their eyes closed and their hands atop their heads.

One bandit took a young mother into the bus' restroom to undress her in a search for money. The woman's 3-year-old child stood outside, crying, "Mommy! Mommy!" The mother screamed, "I've got to get my baby!" She was released when the man found no money on her.

Authorities said Sunday night's robbery netted at least $15,000 in cash and jewelry from 42 victims while the bus from Chicago traveled between Ypsilanti, Mich., and Montreal, Canada.

Donald Paul, 27, a passenger, said the bandits "knew exactly what they were going to do." He said one of the bandits put a gun to the driver's head.

The bus driver, 61-year-old William Gorshe, told passengers over the public address system, "Please cooperate so no one gets hurt."

When the bus reached Detroit, the bandits told the driver to turn off Interstate 94 onto another freeway. Soon after, the pair stopped the bus and ran up an embankment, jumped a fence and walked away.

Police believe the men escaped in a getaway car waiting nearby.

The FBI is investigating the incident, the second Greyhound holdup in Michigan in eight days. Detroit police believe the same pair of bandits pulled a similar holdup on a Detroit-to-Paducah, Ky., bus Aug. 24. Greyhound officials said there have been one or two other similar holdups, and that Sunday's look was the largest.

NAZARENES GIVE $100

The Big Spring High School Bible Fund inched closer to its $6,000 goal today, when another $170 was contributed by local residents.

The Fellowship Class of the Church of the Nazarene led the way with a $100 donation. The drive formally ended Monday, but donations, of course, will continue to be accepted by the Herald and the Howard County Ministerial Association.

A total of $5,674.70 has been donated, which leaves the drive $325.30 short of its objective.

Latest gifts include:

Men's Class,	$35.00
First Presbyterian Church	10.00
Mr. & Mrs. Howard Salisbury	25.00
NCO Wives Club	25.00
Fellowship Class,	100.00

GROWING OUT OF ECONOMIC RECESSION

More Mental Illness, Physical Illness, Crime

CHICAGO (AP) — More mental illness, more physical illness and more crime grow out of economic recession, says a group of social scientists.

And they said the cost of these consequences is greater than would be the cost of programs to create jobs.

Government officials look only at the direct economic impact of unemployment, they told the annual convention of the American Psychological Association on Labor Day.

They said that not only do thefts, robberies and burglaries rise, but so do the rates of suicide, murder of infants, admission to mental hospitals and illness and death from heart and other diseases.

There frequently is a lag of one, two or three years in some of these rates, but already the impact of unemployment is apparent in some of these areas, they added.

Dr. Hannah Levin, professor of psychology at Richmond College, City University of New York, Staten Island; and Dr. Ralph A. Straetz of New York University, a political scientist, studied 45 unemployed men and their families in Brooklyn and Staten Island.

"A most tragic part of each interview," Dr. Levin said, was that 90 per cent of the men blamed themselves for being unemployed and felt despair about their future.

She said the children, too, felt the stress of their father's unemployment and expressed the fear they might have to be given away.

She said, "Physicians prescribe milk and vitamins for children who suffer malnutrition," so "it is time psychiatrists and psychologists include the prescription of work as a way to a more meaningful and satisfying life.

"And just as the government has begun to assume some responsibility for feeding the poor with food stamps, it must become national policy to provide full employment for all our citizens who wish to work."

Dr. M. Harvey Brenner of the Johns Hopkins University school of hygiene and public health said community mental health centers already are recording more admissions and have longer waiting lists as a result of economic instability.

It is likely that more serious forms of mental disorder will arise later, based on studies of previous economic crisis, he said.

And he traced rises in crime, illness and death from physical disorders which have been associated with past periods of unemployment, saying that these, too, will be intensified over time.

He said the cost of these consequences is substantially beyond what would be required to alleviate economic conditions.

Was Prisoner Mistreated?

Some complaints have been uttered about the harsh treatment given Archer Parr, the Duval County official, by U.S. District Judge D. W. Suttle of San Antonio. Parr, it is to be recalled, was jailed in Midland for a while on orders emanating from Suttle's court. Suttle revoked Parr's appeal bond, which amounted to $121,000, and sent him to a federal prison in Indiana to begin serving a ten-year sentence after having found Parr guilty of perjury committed before a grand jury. How valid are these complaints? To some degree a conclusion must depend on the point of view of individual observers.

The facts are that Parr was found guilty. The conviction was appealed to the Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans which upheld that conviction. Parr then appealed to the Supreme Court of the United States.

Under the Eighth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution "excessive bail" may not be required of a defendant. But the situation changes after conviction. A defendant is not automatically entitled to bail while awaiting the outcome of an appeal. The presiding judge has broad discretion in this field.

During the hearing in which Suttle revoked bond and ordered Parr to the penitentiary the judge found Parr a "danger to the community." Furthermore, he characterized Parr's appeal to the Supreme Court as "frivolous" and undertaken only "for the purpose of delaying" the beginning of his prison term.

Judge Suttle might indeed have exercised more compassion. He probably should have permitted the marriage of Parr to Mrs. Syleta Hawn. He could have made arrangements to keep Parr's family more fully informed of his transfer to prison. He could have tried to have Parr sent to a medium-security facility, perhaps in Texas, instead of to the maximum-security prison in Terre Haute, Ind., although final assignments are made by the Bureau of Prisons.

Arbitration Best Answer

Events in San Francisco, where firemen and police walked off their jobs to man picket lines, raise anew the question of how to balance the right to strike with the public welfare necessity of keeping public employees on the job.

Certainly workers in government employ should have the same rights to bargain as any other workers. But strikes of public service employees can't be equated with strikes of private sector workers. It's one thing to shut down an automobile plant; it's quite another to shut down a police or fire department, or a school system, in a dispute over wages.

But just because a worker is employed by a government entity, he should not have to give up the protections — including the right to collective bargaining and unionization — that other workers have. If strikes are too damaging to the public interest, however, that something can only be binding arbitration, if the rights of workers and the right of the public to the protection and services provided by government workers are both to be observed.

My Answer

Billy Graham

At the funeral service of my mother-in-law, the minister reported that he had visited her four days before she died. Although previously she had never attended church, she did confess her faith in the Lord. Can a person be saved on their deathbed?

A.P. Here's a definition of conversion. It is that voluntary change in the mind of a sinner in which he turns on the one hand from sin, and on the other to Christ.

Of course, I would not know the physical and mental condition of your mother-in-law at the moment of her trusting Christ. But if she knew what she was doing, it was a bona fide step of faith which God will honor.

What disapproval is usually heaped on deathbed conversion hinges on two matters. One is that it's a great risk to leave such a vital decision to the last moment. And the other is that the newfound faith has no opportunity to produce the telling witness of a changed life.

We must regard the thief on the cross as having had a last minute conversion. And Jesus placed His approval on that by saying he would be in paradise that very day. Salvation is a free offer occasioned by God's grace and Christ's love that can be secured whenever the individual wants it.

Coliform Coast

John Cuniff

By BILL CRIDER (Substituting for John Cuniff) BILOXI, Miss. (AP) — People who go swimming in the germ-laden waves off Mississippi's resort beach have got to be uninformed tourists or reckless optimists.

The languid surf along 26 miles of man-made beach between Biloxi and Gulfport teems with fecal coliform from sewage flowing into the Gulf of Mexico.

Mere mention of it is enough to give the tourist industry here heartburn and hiccups. But despite its ugly image, pollution apparently hasn't created other complications of health.

"A couple mouthfuls might upset your stomach but I never heard of anybody getting sick from it," said Dr. Louis Jobe, Harrison County Health Officer. "That's a strange thing — maybe we're lucky."

"It depends on the individual, how much is swallowed or gets in the eyes," he added. "Hepatitis is a remote possibility. That highway beside the beach is a lot more dangerous."

Pollution of the shallows along the beach has been building up for years, spurred by a surge in coast population that has not been matched by development of sewage facilities.

Nobody thought much about it before the Mississippi Air and Water Pollution Control Commission — AWPCC — began making laboratory tests of water along the coast three years back.

The coliform count from sewage sometimes soared over 24,000 parts per 100 milliliters — the cutoff point in the AWPCC test — far above the allowable maximum of 200 parts per 100 milliliters set for recreational waters. A milliliter is about a tenth of a quart.

In Jackson, Charles Chisholm, head of the AWPCC, said fecal coliform does not necessarily cause illness but is a true indicator of pollution and water exceeding the coliform standard is not suitable for swimming due to health hazards.

Strangers don't always discover these facts. Tourists are a major cash crop for hotels and motels along four-lane U.S. 90, where it parallels the beach, and officials feel that signs warning against swimming would scare them away.

The road along the beach is lined with motels, restaurants and other tourist facilities.

A belated scramble to install good sewerage along the coast is under way. Waters estimated it may take 10 years and up to $150 million to complete.

Slapping Tot's Hands

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I would like your opinion on hand-slapping at an early age.

I know a father who has a two-year-old son who is kind of a problem because he won't mind. He has a stubborn side to him.

The father dearly loves him and is wonderful to him, but he always slaps the boy's hands real hard. He doesn't think he hurts the hands by doing this. But I think that the continued hand-slapping might injure them.

Am I wrong in thinking this? He is such a bright, lovable little child. — Mrs. B.S.

parents should note, is that the punishment is apparently administered out of love and not out of frustration. Spanking is not the universal language many parents believe it to be, and without proper motivation there is no point in it.

Too often the line between love and frustration grows too thin too quickly.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: For the past three years I have been under the care of an allergist (for chronic rhinitis) to no avail. My allergist has recommended an operation to remove nasal tissue. Will this help?

Chronic rhinitis (inflammation of the nasal membranes) can indeed be allergy-related, and an obstruction of the nasal passages can contribute to the general problems.

Two types of tissue in the nose can cause such obstruction of the airways. One is a bent (deviated) septum, the "divider" between the two nostrils. The other is polyp growth. Polyps are often directly related to an allergic condition.

The surgery should help you measurable by reducing the effects of the rhinitis.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My daughter, 18, is susceptible to colds. She plans to attend college. She gets practically no sunshine and is trying to cut down on her eating to keep from getting fat.

I'm afraid she'll lose some of the essential vitamins her body needs. A friend recommended that I give her cod liver oil in tablet form. I have heard so much controversy about vitamins A and D being bad for the system that I am afraid. What do you think? — Mrs. R.C.

In the first place, vitamins aren't the sole answer to cold prevention (although they are required for good health). Her resistance is dependent on adequate protein intake, which could be lacking in an overly-restricted diet. Adequate rest is essential, too. She might take a flu shot.

Camera Problems

Around The Rim

Troy Bryant

Most folks are a little bit "in the dark" about cameras and photography, as if there were a big mystery about how pictures are made.

Most photographers then, Danny Valdes can testify, are usually asked, "Look at my pictures and see what I'm doing wrong."

MANY TIMES all that's wrong with the pictures is something simple, like no batteries in the camera, fingers covering the lenses or an attempt to get an action picture at a night football game with an Instamatic and flash cube from the stands.

Even so, the people who have asked me about their pictures are nowhere near as "in the dark" as a couple of people who made the wire last week in a camera column.

The columnist reports that a camera dealer suggested that a novice home movie fan splice together his batch of little reels of movie film onto a 400-foot reel.

The novice thought a moment before he replied, "I couldn't get a 400-foot reel into my apartment."

Another man bought a new camera with a focal plane shutter. That is, the shutter consists of a black cloth curtain just in front of the film that moves when the picture is made.

After a couple of rolls of horribly overexposed and unprintable negatives, he took the camera back to the dealer. He explained, first, that he had noticed that a piece of black cloth in the back of the camera was keeping the light from reaching the film, so he carefully cut it out.

A WOMAN HAD similar results with her film, but her camera was checked out by the dealer and it was working fine. So the lady was asked to demonstrate her handling from the loading of the film to the final rewinding.

"I was told loading the film properly is important and that I must be sure it advances correctly on the take-up reel. So after every picture I shoot, I open the back and make sure the film moves forward into position."

These things happen when a person gets tired of the Instamatics and goes to the good cameras.

But something that can happen with any camera occurred when a man who told his wife to get a case of flash cubes so they could take pictures at their anniversary party.

When the time came for the pictures, none of them would work. "I know these are good ones," she said. "I tested every one of them myself."

Henry's Victory

Rowland Evans

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's latest tour de force of Mideastern shuttle diplomacy has brought frowns rather than smiles to high officials back in Washington who have this private complaint: we have paid far too much for too little.

THE SOURCE of their complaint is secret aid assurances made by Dr. Kissinger to Israeli ambassador Simcha Dinitz in Washington. Although Israel's breathtaking new aid request of $3.3 billion for next year will surely not be met, the Israelis agreed to a Sinai settlement only after a secret understanding that they will receive more U.S. aid than ever before — probably between $2.5 billion and $3 billion.

Thoughtful policymakers here fret because this lavish expenditure has bought so little. Even Kissinger's defenders concede progress on the Syrian front is unlikely and an overall settlement not even imaginable. Rather, there is fear here that the aid promised Israel could so drastically distort the Mideast's military power balance that the latest Kissinger triumph will, ironically, reduce the region's stability.

Accordingly, ugly questions are being raised in official Washington as the good news rolls in from Jerusalem and Cairo. Did Kissinger promote a Sinai settlement in preference to a general Mideast peace conference in Geneva mainly to refurbish his own political standing here? Such questions, which an angry Kissinger in private attributes to "sickness" in Washington, are being raised not by fanatical Kissinger-haters but by sober colleagues in the administration.

THE ANSWER to Kissinger's motives depends on just how likely was a new shooting war between Israel and the Arabs if there were no Sinai agreement. Although a few officials believe the danger was negligible, Kissinger's warning of imminent war is accepted by some of his critics. But even while granting the necessity for the latest Kissinger shuttle, there is little room for exultation over its cost and consequences.

The cost became apparent about two weeks ago when Israel raised the ante on its aid request to the eye-popping $3.3 billion, including some $2 billion in U.S. military hardware. One key U.S. official told us chances of Israel getting $3.3 billion are "exactly zero." But Israeli military specialists who visited here last week understand that and still are satisfied with Kissinger's unrevealed promise.

Whatever the exact amount, Israel is sure to emerge from the Kissinger shuttle with immense military superiority in the Mideast. Contrary to the misimpression among the U.S. public and Congress, Israel is much stronger militarily today than it was on the eve of the surprise Egyptian attack in October 1973 and could easily win a two-front war. Any extra hardware increases that advantage.

CONSEQUENTLY, JUST how much aid Kissinger has promised secretly becomes critical. If it is close to the requested $2 billion in sophisticated hardware, military experts fear it would so unbalance arms in the Mideast that Arab states would be panicked. The result could be, in the short run, Arabs returning to Moscow for arms, in the long run, war — two calamities Kissinger has tolled for years to avoid.

Yet, Kissinger had to guarantee much of the Israeli request to avoid opposition to the Sinai settlement from Shimon Peres, Israel's hawkish minister of defense. In justification, supporters of heavy Israeli aid say Israel is more secure and more apt to be conciliatory with a sophisticated arms supply assured.

Past experience, however, has indicated precisely the opposite: military superiority directly proportionate to Israeli intransigence at the bargaining table. Moreover, considering popular Israeli opposition to the Sinai concessions, there is no hope whatever for serious negotiations on the Syrian front. Nor does anybody here believe the Sinai settlement leads one step closer to a successful Geneva conference.

More likely, the latest Kissinger shuttle may lead to annual repetitions of massive Israeli arm requests. The $3.3 billion is no one-time proposal. Officials here fear Israel might want $3.5 to $4 billion a year into the next decade.

That Kissinger will be returning home from this shuttle not in failure but with an initiated agreement carries some side benefits. It may lead the House to reverse itself on Turkish aid. Chances for Congress approving Hawk missiles to Jordan will be improved. And Henry Kissinger will seem a little more like the diplomatic miracle-maker of yesteryear.

For how long? "About one month," replies one State Department official, who sees congressional probing on grain shipments to Russia, SALT agreements and CIA intervention in Chile quickly pressing in on the Secretary of State.

The reason for such impermanence is that the second interim Sinai agreement, like the battle of Blenheim, may well be interpreted as a "famous victory" purchased at great price with minimal effect.

What Others Say

Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz has a penchant for being wrong. That proclivity is balanced by a stubborn obstinacy which bars him from admitting he is wrong.

Never was this situation clearer than in the current snarl over the sale of almost 10 million tons of American wheat and the proposed sale of another five, or so, million tons.

Originally, Butz-flying in the face of other economic advisers and even in his own department-assured nation that there was nothing to fear from selling Russia all the grain it needed to keep its citizens in the dark about the massive Russian grain crop failures.

Now, Butz steps boldly forward to ask for a 30-day halt in further grain sales to the Russians "to be on the safe side."

The real fear is that the Russian sale will cause a steep jump in retail food prices, as a similar sale did in 1972.

The matter of a national food policy — the setting of proper priorities for exports — should be high on the action list of Congress when it reconvenes next month. DALLAS TIMES-HERALD.

Prison Fight In Montgomery

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A racially motivated prison fight was quelled when authorities doused the rebellious inmates with water hoses and fired three shotgun blasts over their heads, prison officials said.

Two inmates were hospitalized and 34 others were less seriously injured after the 90-minute disturbance Monday night.

The trouble broke out shortly after 8 p.m. Monday in a cellblock housing 114 inmates at the Mount Meigs Medical and Diagnostic Center near Montgomery.

Warden Billy Long said the disturbance was brought under control by 9:30 p.m. after off-duty corrections officers, sheriff's deputies and 25 state troopers were called in.

Officers brought out the hoses and fired warning shots in restoring order, the warden said.

Long said fighting broke after the inmates failed to leave the cellblock for a head count. Guards who entered the cellblock to investigate found that the light bulbs in the unit had been darkened with paint being used by workmen, Long said.

The warden said black inmates in the cellblock apparently began beating white inmates and would not allow corrections officers to assist the injured.

Most of those injured suffered minor cuts and stab wounds, and two inmates were wounded slightly by stray pellets from the shotgun blasts, Long added. The interior of the cell block was demolished.

Monday's night's trouble was the second in recent months at the center. A July 5 disturbance, which officials said was racially motivated, left some 20 inmates wounded, and black inmates and white inmates were separated for two weeks.

Won't Search For Violators

The new "No Smoking" laws effective in Texas Sept. 1 will only be enforced in the areas designated by law if "no smoking" signs are posted.

These areas include hospitals, theatres, public libraries, elevators and several other locations.

Sherrill Farmer, local patrol captain, when questioned concerning enforcement of the laws said, "We aren't going around hunting people who are smoking. If we come up on a person violating the law in a designated area or if one is turned in to us for a violation, it would be enforced."

WOMEN PROTEST PORTUGUESE SOLDIERS' ASSIGNMENTS — Women were in the forefront of civilian demonstrators supporting the protest of some 300 Portuguese soldiers late Monday against their immediate assignment to military duty in Angola. The demonstrators gathered in front of the gates of the presidential palace before marching through part of Lisbon. The sign reads "No More Embarkments."

Four Bullet Victims, Texan Burns To Death

By The Associated Press

Labor Day weekend traffic deaths in Texas fell short of pre-holiday predictions by the Department of Public Safety, and they were far less than for the same period in 1974.

Thirty-three persons died violently across the state, including 27 in traffic. Four persons were fatally shot, one burned to death and one drowned.

One of the latest deaths reported was that of Lou Shipp Kristensen, 66, of Timpson. She died Monday night in a Shreveport, La., hospital several hours after her car collided with a Southern Pacific freight train in Timpson.

Herandez, believed to be a shrimpman from Port Isabel. An inquest was ordered.

Elmo Allen Jr., 46, of Dallas was fatally shot once in the chest during an argument with a woman at his home in South Dallas Friday night. One person was arrested.

A two-car collision on U.S. 281 15 miles north of Alice in South Texas killed two Lufkin residents early Saturday. They were Jose Villarreal, 20, and Juanita Harward, 43.

An 18-year-old Houston man, Mark Edwards, died Saturday when his car overturned on Interstate 45 a mile north of Webster in Harris County.

A 22-year-old Kilgore woman, Sheila Arthur, was killed when she was hit by a car Saturday afternoon as she rode a bicycle three miles west of Kilgore on Texas 31.

Larry Michael Lake, 24, of Harlingen died Saturday when his motorcycle went out of control on Farm Road 511 in Cameron County.

Three persons were killed in an automobile crash Monday night a mile east of Douglasville in Northeast Texas. The dead were Lillian Madlock, 18, her daughter Denise, 4, and a New Boston woman whom authorities did not identify at once.

Socialist Party Picks Presidential Candidate

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Socialist Party USA has chosen former Milwaukee Mayor Frank P. Zeidler as its 1976 presidential nominee under a banner inherited from Eugene Debs and Norman Thomas.

The party, which nominated Zeidler during its national convention Monday, calls itself the legitimate heir of the Socialist party, which has not fielded a White House candidate since 1956.

Zeidler, 62, is chairman of the party which he helped reorganize a few years ago. Delegates nominated Quinn Brisben, 41, a Chicago teacher, as his vice presidential running mate.

"The group wants to get on ballots in as many states as possible and seek write-in votes in the rest," Zeidler said.

"The party has put up candidates on a provisional basis in the hope that other groups around the country similar to us can coalesce into a major force," he said.

Brisben said, "We think that by putting candidates in the field this time, we can promote our ideas more effectively."

Zeidler, a self-employed public administration consultant, was mayor from 1948 to 1960. He said the party has about 500 members, about 80 of whom attended the three-day convention.

Thomas, who died in 1968, ran for president six times between 1928 and 1948. Debs, a union leader, ran five times, starting in 1900.

Darlington Hoopes, a Pennsylvania legislator, was the party's last presidential nominee, making the second of two races in 1956.

Thomas' best showing was in 1932 when he received more than 800,000 votes. He got only 95,000 in his final campaign as factionalism deteriorated the party's strength.

Zeidler foresees "a front-porch campaign in its modern version, which is using the media of communication rather than to travel a lot. I am not a man of independent means."

He said the reorganized party's goals include improving harmony among ethnic groups, controlling the allocation of energy and giving workers more voice in industrial decision-making.

In St. Louis on Sunday, the People's party nominated Margaret Wright, 52, a civil rights activist from Los Angeles, as its presidential candidate and Maggie Kuhn, 70, of Philadelphia as her running mate.

CANYON — The echoes of "Texas Forever" rolled through the canyons of the Palo Duro one night last week in the final performance of "Texas," Paul Green's musical drama about the Texas Panhandle.

During this tenth anniversary season, more than 92,000 people have seen "Texas," making the largest audience in the history of the show.

Twenty-nine per cent of the audience came more than 500 miles to see it. Twenty-eight per cent came from out-of-state, 37 per cent within a hundred mile radius of the canyon. The rest traveled more than 100 miles and less than 500.

Memories of the season include one cast member with so many duties that he ran 2.8 miles each evening to fulfill them; two elderly ladies who were disturbed because their seats were not together. One was heard to say, "Never mind. We can get together during the interruption"; one fall which was defended fiercely by a young lady in the audience; "These professionals never fall. It must be written into the script"; and a little boy who attended one night when it rained just before, and after, and slightly during a performance. He listened to the thunder in the canyon and asked in a quiet moment when his voice could be heard: "Is that the thunder's mating call?"

Only one performance was cancelled because of rain.

The 1976 season will open Wednesday, June 16, and run through Saturday, Aug. 21. There will be no Sunday performances except July 4.

Auditions will begin in January for the 11th season.

Raft Race To Tulsa

TULSA (AP) — Will Rogers once said it would be cheaper to pave the Arkansas River than to make it navigable.

But you couldn't have convinced some 3,000 amateur sailors who took part Monday in the third annual raft race that it would have been as much fun.

The event had a total of 576 boats competing from early in the morning until mid-afternoon when just a handful were still struggling to the finish line along Tulsa's newly developed River Park. The estimate of 3,000 was based on the fact that most boats had from two to perhaps 15 persons riding.

Ron Blue, general manager of Radio Station KRMG, said 90,000 persons lined the river bank along the finish line. A Sand Springs official, where the boats were placed in the water, said 35,000 spectators jammed the park throughout the day. The city of Sand Springs and the Tulsa River Park Authority co-sponsored the event with the station, which gave birth to the idea three years ago.

There were five categories of rafts: Huck Finn rafts, two-man rafts, rubber rafts, gang rafts and paddle wheel rafts. The best score on the computer-timed runs was one hour, 25 minutes by two rafts, a two-man boat captained by Tim Jordan and a gang raft commanded by Robert Thorne.

It was a blistering hot day for the thousands who watched or took part. There were no serious injuries, however.

'Texas' Has Big Year

LUBBOCK — Terry Wayne Stark, Austin, will assume the position of manager of the Agriculture Department of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce Sept. 8.

A graduate of Southwest Texas State University, Mr. Stark has a Masters Degree in Agricultural Education with a minor in Agriculture. Stark moves to Lubbock from a position with the U.S. Department of Agriculture-Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in Austin. He has previously held positions as a supervisor with Texas Instruments in Austin and as an account executive trainee with a brokerage firm in Austin. He served in the military from 1971 to 1974.

Family Won't File Complaint

Clarence Yanez Jr., 29, still in intensive care at Malone-Hogan Hospital, is reported this morning to be "doing fine."

The family has not filed a complaint in connection with the shooting which occurred at a family party Saturday night. A relative is a suspect in the shooting which placed Yanez in the hospital.

Yanez was shot once in the chest, collapsing his right lung and breaking his right arm at the shoulder.

'Jaws' Will Give His Business Shot In Arm

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The movie "Jaws" might be an anathema to some seashore resort operators, but Preston Battistella figures it's going to give his business a shot in the arm.

The New Orleans seafood vendor says he sold about 150,000 pounds of shark meat last year, but he expects sales of some 300,000 pounds this year, partly because "Jaws" has caught the public fancy.

Most of Battistella's shark meat comes from sand and dog sharks brought in by Gulf fishermen, who throw the 4-to-6-foot fish away a few short years ago.

"People are shark conscious now," Battistella said Monday. "In some areas, the movie has stimulated sales. In other areas, it has hurt."

"It's a matter of educating the public that you can't always eat the high-priced fish. You can't ignore the ground meat of the seafood industry."

Battistella will supply 25,000 pounds of breaded shark filets to New Orleans public schools for their lunch programs this year. They have used shark before as a base for gumbo.

He has shipped shark meat as far as Ohio, and he is trying to develop a market for shark skin. A shark's skin is like leather when it's dried, and it can be turned into belts and shoes.

There are no bones — a shark's hulk is built around cartilage, even the jaws, Battistella said. And shark meat is cheap — 75 cents a pound for filets, compared with $1.75 for trout or redfish.

Battistella thinks shark filet has a taste similar to catfish or redfish.

He sends 10 to 15 pounds of dorsal fins — the one that sticks out of the water — to Gunter Preuss' Versailles Restaurant here each week as the base ingredient for shark's fin soup, considered a delicacy in the Orient.

Wins Cowboy Cookoff

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — Clifford Teinert served up a meal of beef, sour dough biscuits, okra gumbo, pinto beans, son-of-a-gun stew and cinnamon leaf cake Monday to win his second straight International Cowboy Campfire Cook-off.

The 36-year-old caterer from Albany, Tex., won $1,000 for his first place finish among 12 contestants at Old Abilene town.

Extended Coverage
By Jerry E. Mancill, CLU, CPCU
New wrinkle: drop-out insurance, to cover lost tuition and living expenses that a college often will not refund if a student withdraws. But it's not inexpensive — a man-to-man talk might be easier.
Raising deductibles on your insurance will enable you to get more liability coverage, for instance, without raising your overall premium. Works for auto and homeowner policies.
Most home fires start in appliances, particularly stoves.
More than half the U.S. population, 53 per cent, is not covered by no-fault auto insurance legislation. Twenty-three states have approved laws.
Fifteen per cent of home burglaries involve a door that someone "forgot" to lock.
Burglaries, fires, auto accidents — all things that "could happen". Are you covered if they do? See Stripling-Mancill Insurance Agency, 102 Taylor Office Building, 600 Main, for all your insurance needs.

Royals Split Double Header, Remain 8 Back

By The Associated Press

The Kansas City Royals lost two players Monday ... and won a ballgame.

First, starting pitcher Nelson Briles had to leave after blanking the Chicago White Sox for three innings when his knee began acting up. Doug Bird took over and yielded one run and six hits the rest of the way.

However, Bird didn't become a winner until Hal McRae hurt his rib cage fouling off a pitch in the eighth inning of a 1-1 deadlock. Harmon Killebrew pinch hit and creamed a 2-2 pitch from Claude Osteen into the left field seats for his 571st career homer and the Royals' first in eight games.

The two-run shot was Killebrew's 12th of the season and enabled the Royals to win 3-1 and split their Labor Day doubleheader. But the Royals dropped the opener 10-8 and, coupled with Oakland's 6-3 triumph over California, left Kansas City eight games behind the A's in the American League's West Division.

The New York Yankees turned back Boston 4-2, chopping the Red Sox' lead in the AL East to 5½ games over the idle Baltimore Orioles, who were rained out of a doubleheader against Cleveland. Elsewhere, the Minnesota Twins beat the Texas Rangers 5-3 and the Detroit Tigers edged the Milwaukee Brewers 5-4.

"I've never lost a game like that," moaned White Sox Manager Chuck Tanner after Killebrew's wallop. "They get two guys hurt and then two guys come in and get the job done for them."

In the opener, Chicago trailed KC's Steve Busby 4-0 after 1½ innings but Bill Melton cracked a three-run homer to cap a five-run third inning and Jorge Orta drove in three runs on three hits.

A 6, Angels 3

Billy Williams and Reggie Jackson slammed two-run homers as Oakland rallied from a 3-1 third-inning deficit to beat the Angels. Jackson drove in a third run with a double while Vida Blue finished with a fourhitter for his 18th victory.

Twins 5, Rangers 4

Phil Roof hit a solo home run and a two-run single to lead the Twins over the Rangers and Ferguson Jenkins. Roof tied the score 1-1 with his sixth homer of the year. The Twins took a 2-1 lead in the fifth on a single by Lyman Bostock, an error and a single by Rod Carew and chased Jenkins with three runs in the sixth after the Rangers' mound ace bobbled a grounder to start the inning.

Tigers 5, Brewers 4

Bill Freehan poked a 3-0 pitch for a run-scoring single to cap a four-run rally against four Milwaukee pitchers in the seventh inning.

Seaver Wins 20th Game, First in NL

By The Associated Press

Tom Seaver, Bob Gibson and Randy Jones: three outstanding pitchers at contrasting points in their careers.

Jones is at the beginning, on the rise, just starting to realize the wonders he is capable of working; Seaver is at the peak, a star shining brightest; Gibson is nearing the conclusion, one who has been to the top and still retains a touch of the class which carried him to greatness.

Seaver blanked the Pittsburgh Pirates on four hits, struck out 10 and set a major league record with his eighth consecutive season with 200 or more strikeouts in pitching the New York Mets to a 3-0 triumph, becoming the first 20-game winner in the National League.

Gibson, who will be retiring at the end of this season at age 39, was honored by a sellout crowd at Busch Stadium in St. Louis on "Bob Gibson Day" and heard salutes from Commissioner Bowie Kuhn and Cards chairman August A. Busch and a telegram praising his career from President Ford.

Elsewhere in the National League, Philadelphia nipped Philadelphia 6-5, Los Angeles beat San Francisco 3-1 and Houston topped Atlanta 5-3.

Chris, Connors Win In US Open Tennis

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — What do you say after you say Chris? Well, that Connors won, too, which he did. That Ashe and Laver didn't, which is the way it went.

But Wendy Overton, Miss Evert's first straight victim on clay, said it best: "It's like giving the title to Chris."

"I go out there and have fun, you gotta love it. But Chris is just so steady, mentally tough on clay, that's all."

Miss Evert is such an overwhelming favorite to win the U.S. Open Tennis Championships that, if this were Wimbledon, where there is legal betting, no one would make book on her. She hasn't lost on clay since Evonne Goolagong beat her 6-2, 7-5 in the final of the Western Clay Courts in Cincinnati in 1973.

Miss Overton, all dolled up in green and gold brocade for a center court crowd of 8,187 Monday night, looked as though she were having anything but fun. She won only 16 points, five of them in the first set, in Miss Evert's 6-0, 6-1 romp into the quarter-finals.

Defending champion Jimmy Connors had fun, though, in his match with Harold Solomon that began when Connors was 22 and ended when he was 33. The duel, with Connors the aggressor, actually lasted three hours, but it was past midnight, and Connors' birthday, before he downed Solomon, the No. 13 seed, 6-4, 6-2, 5-7, 6-3 when Solomon double-faulted at match point.

The triumph by Connors came as predicted although two other youngsters prevailed over older, more seasoned grass court specialists.

Eddie Dibbs, a three-time All-America at Miami University whose forte is clay, topped fourth-seeded Arthur Ashe 6-4, 6-2, 6-3, and Bjorn Borg, the teen-ager from Sweden seeded No. 5, overpowered ninth-seeded Rod Laver of Australia 6-1, 6-4, 2-6, 6-2.

In a match of unseeded players, Andrew Pattison, 26, of Rhodesia ousted 35-year-old Bob Hewitt of South Africa 6-4, 6-2, 1-6, 6-2.

Joining Miss Evert in the quarter-finals were Kerry Melville Reid, Kazuko Sawamatsu, Katja Ebbinghaus and two seeded players — No. 2 Virginia Wade and No. 4 Evonne Goolagong.

Mrs. Reid, a 24-year-old Australian, downed her Boston Lobsters partner in World Team Tennis, Greer Stevens, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4. Miss Stevens, 18, of South Africa, is a former top gymnast in her country and a member of the tennis court.

Miss Sawamatsu, 24, of Japan, downed another South African, 19-year-old Linky Boshoff, 6-2, 7-6, and Miss Ebbinghaus, 26, of West Germany, overpowered Pam Teeguarden of Los Angeles 6-0, 6-3.

Beth Norton, 18, the U.S. junior champion from Fairfield, Conn., kept the older and more experienced Miss Wade on the run throughout their match before the British vicar's daughter downed the Connecticut judge's daughter 4-6, 6-4, 6-3.

And Evonne Goolagong, ebullient as ever, eliminated Valerie Ziegenfuss of Mission Viejo, Calif., 6-3, 6-2.

DARLINGTON, S.C. (AP) — Bobby Allison, the heavy-duty Matador driver from Hueytown, Ala., became the fourth person in history Monday to win the Southern 500 stock car race three times.

Allison joined the elite company of Cale Yarborough, and retired drivers Buck Baker and Herb Thomas in conquering the 26th annual event, which is the oldest and toughest on the Grand National circuit.

Allison held off a last-minute charge by Richard Petty, who was suffering from a bad head cold and had lost two laps after his car, driven by Dave Marcis, was involved in a four-car wreck on lap 245.

Despite his problems, Petty was about three-fourths of a lap behind Allison when the checked flag fell in the 500-mile race which was delayed for an hour and 20 minutes by rain in addition to nine caution flags.

Dave Sisco, Jim Vandiver and Bruce Hill, leader in the point race for rookie of the year, rounded out the top five finishers in that order.

Several front running drivers were sidelined during the four-hour race in which 18 of the 40 starters finished. David Pearson, Allison led twice for a total of 119 of the 367 laps over the 1.3-mile Darlington Raceway, while Petty led six times for 146 laps.

BUGS ALIVE — World Champion trap shooter Ken Jones of Big Spring scored a perfect 200 to capture the Big Country singles championship at Haskell Trap Club Monday.

In another championship, the World Dove Shooting Championship, Brooks Gilbert of Kansas City, Mo., hit 10 of 11 doves to take the honors.

W. E. Wooten of Haskell was second, hitting 10 out of 13. Troy Collier of Wichita Falls was third with 10 of 14.

Larry Rush of Guthrie and Collier scored 195x200 in the regular Class AA competition and both broke all 125 targets in a shootoff so the winner was decided by a coin flip. Rush won the flip and later won the overall title with a 563x600 score.

Steve Ellis of Denver City was the Class A winner (195x200), Charles Thornhill of Haskell was the Class B winner (193x200), Class C went to Adolph McKnight of Arlington (176x200) and Walter Calhoun of Aspermont was the winner in the Class D competition (158x200).

BROYLES TAKES LAMESA MEET — Jake Broyles of Lamesa defeated Mel Calderer 6-5 after 13 holes of play here Monday as he took the Lamesa Country Club Labor Day invitational match play tournament championship.

Broyles was 3-up after only three holes of play, and at the end of nine had stretched his lead to 4-up. Broyles, one of the tourney's favorites, advanced into the final with a 5-4 victory over Duane Snell in the semifinals Monday morning. Terry Hans captured the first-flight title by downing Graham Addison 1-up. Jim Brooke defeated Jerry Staggs, 1-up, to claim the second-flight crown.

BC OPEN Iverson Wins First Pro Tournament

ENDICOTT, N.Y. (AP) — It was cool and damp, but Don Iverson was sweating.

He stood at the 18th green Monday, his first Professional Golfers Association victory within reach. But there were two players strolling up the 18th fairway with a chance to tie Iverson and force a playoff for the $35,000 top prize in the $175,000 B.C. Open golf tournament.

Australian David Graham missed his 20-foot birdie putt and Jim Colbert, who hit his second shot into the rough right of the green, settled for a par.

Iverson, 29, of LaCrosse, Wis., had won.

He tumbled the 6,815-yard, par-71 En-Joie Golf Club course in 68 for a 10-under par 274.

"At no time did I know how I stood," Iverson said after pocketing the $35,000 check. "I didn't want to look at the boards."

He admitted glancing at one midway in his round and perspiration formed on his brow. Several players were then eight under par.

"I really didn't want to look. I never won a golf tournament before, so I told myself not to worry about what someone else was doing."

Iverson collected five birdies and bogied two holes. Three of his sub-par holes came in a row, the 10th, 11th and 12th. Following a 13th hole bogey, Iverson parred in and began the walk.

As Graham was about to putt at the 18th, host pro and defending champion Richie Karl moved behind Iverson.

"Richie was trying to cover my eyes when Graham was over the last putt," Iverson said. "Heck, I wanted to look."

Colbert and Graham, who shared second place with 275s, each carded 68s. They were followed by Terry Diehl, who had a 66 for 276.

Hubert Green, the 1973 B.C. Open champion who failed to make the cut last year, was bracketed with Jerry McGee and Jim Wiechers at 277. McGee had a 66 and Green and Wiechers 67 each.

Butch Baird, who led after the second and third rounds and teed off nine under par, blew to 74 and was at 278 with Sam Snead, who came in with a 67.

Karl, who beat Bruce Crampton in a playoff last year, finished at 72-287.

Don Menze, 33, of LLAWRENCE, Mass., having a bad year after winning the 1974 Kemper Open in his fifth season on the tour, scored a hole in one on the 200-yard seventh hole. Had he ace'd the 17th, he could have driven home in a new sports car donated by a sponsor.

BUGS ALIVE OWNER HAD PREMONITION OF RACE

RUIDOSO, N.M. (AP) — The quarterhorse owner had a premonition, a hunch.

Ralph Shebestor had horses that finished second, third and fourth in the 1968 All American Futurity, the world's richest horse race and the event that is the Super Bowl, the World Series, the Stanley Cup and the Masters of quarterhorse racing.

It was a shattering disappointment for the Wynnewood, Okla., breeder.

But a couple of years ago his mare, Ralph's Lady Bug, delivered a foal that gave Shebestor a hunch.

"I figured 1975 was about the time for our Bugs to come alive," he said.

And the oddly named Bugs Alive in 75 turned that hunch into a reality Monday. He broke on top, quickly established his superiority and was never headed in a frontrunning romp that provided Shebestor with $330,000 from the total purse of the $1.03 million in the 17th running of the All American.

"They played hell trying to catch us," said veteran jockey Jerry Burgess. "The last 100 yards I just put my feet up on the dashboard and coasted home."

It was that simple. Bugs Alive in 75, now the winner of $512,106 as a juvenile, won by one-half length and com-

Winds Face Tough Opponent In WFL

By The Associated Press

The Chicago Winds, who have lost four of their five World Football League games including last Saturday's loss to Memphis, come up against another toughie Saturday — the Southern California Sun.

The Sun, meantime, is coming off last Friday night's 58-39 rout of Philadelphia and leads the Western Division with a 4-1 record.

Memphis, the Eastern Division leader with a 3-1 mark, stopped Chicago last Saturday as Ed Marshall caught three touchdowns passes — two from Danny White and one from John Huarte. Jim Kiick added a four-yard TD run and ran for an action point before a Memphis crowd of 21,515.

In last Saturday's other games, San Antonio beat Portland 22-0; Charlotte stopped Jacksonville 33-14 and Birmingham upended Shreveport 21-8.

John Walton passed for two touchdowns and Jim Strong and Bill Sadler each surpassed 100 yards on the ground for San Antonio, 4-2, over Portland, 1-4 before a crowd of 12,197 at San Antonio.

Tom Sherman hit on nine of 11 throws for 119 yards in powering visiting Charlotte, 2-2, over the Jacksonville, 2-2, with 16,428 fans on hand.

Quarterback Matthew Reed guided Birmingham, 3-2, over Shreveport, 2-3, in a game witnessed by 18,700 fans at Birmingham.

In addition to the Winds hosting Southern California next Saturday, Ha2ai is at Memphis; Philadelphia visits Charlotte, Jacksonville goes to Shreveport and Birmingham is at Portland.

School Strikes Compromise Worked Out On Softball Complex

By The Associated Press

Boston's public school teachers voted today to be on hand when schools open next Monday, but said they would strike Sept. 22 if they do not get a settlement by then in their contract dispute.

New York, Los Angeles and Chicago, the nation's three largest cities, all faced possible strikes as teachers across the nation sought higher wages, job security and reduced class size.

The teachers' contract with the Boston School Committee expired last weekend. But they decided to return to school Monday, despite their no-contract, no-work policy, to help implement a new court-ordered integration plan.

Boston in the past year has been the scene of racial trouble inside and outside its schools due to integration. The teachers are seeking a 10 per cent pay raise. The school committee has offered them 6 per cent. No new contract talks were scheduled.

About 26,000 of the 84,000 public school children are scheduled to be bused under a new integration plan drawn up by the U.S. District Court. About 35 per cent of the students are black.

By MARJ CARPENTER

City councilmen learned a lot of detail about the requirements for different types of baseball when they met in special session this morning to work out some type of compromise on the four new parks to be constructed at Roy Anderson field.

The council, after lengthy discussion, agreed to leave the complex plans as they now stand except for changing one baseball field to slow pitch.

The park will then include one baseball, one slow pitch and two fast pitch softball fields in the complex at this time, with the hope of adding another baseball and slow pitch field as soon as possible.

In the meantime, the city will update and combine two present baseball fields into one other baseball field at another location.

LEFT OUT The controversy arose when the slow pitch advocates, which include a league of ten teams, realized that they had been left out of the plans for the four parks which are now under construction. Grading has already been done for the complex.

The plans called for two baseball parks, with 300-foot fences and two softball parks with 220-foot fences. This left out the slow pitch softball which needs a fence of at least 275 feet.

NO MORE FUNDS Roy Crim, engineer, told the group that to change the two softball complexes at this time to 275-foot fields with portable fences would cost close to $30,000, because all of the dirt work would have to be redone, and several other items changed, including additional lighting.

Bill Battle, representing the baseball group, said that if some type of field could be made suitable and they had one field in the complex at this time, this would be agreeable to make peace among all groups.

Battle advocated that the 400 girls in the girls softball program definitely needed fields. Mrs. Gladys Custer also appeared in behalf of the Miss Softball group.

Mayor Wade Choate pointed out that the Dora Roberts Foundation gave $50,000 to the complex mainly to have a place for youth to play baseball.

HELPS GIRLS The compromise will greatly aid the girls softball program since it will remove the girls from present rocky, sandy unsuitable fields which they have been using since their program got underway.

Jack Bowers and George Weeks spoke for the slow pitch group, pointing out that they did not want to keep the girls from getting a field by next season, but were hoping for a compromise, since slow pitch is a growing sport in Big Spring and all over the state.

John Weeks also spoke in behalf of young men in their late teens and early 20s, too old for the junior-senior baseball program, who could take part in a sport through the slow pitch program.

PARK TRANSFER Eddie Acri asked a number of questions about the transfer of the baseball parks from the industrial complex, requesting a copy of the contract which stated that the foundation would pay for the moving of those fields.

Harold Hall pointed out that the lights and equipment on those fields were too worn out to move.

Weeks apologized that there had been so much furor in connection with the slow pitch part of the program, due to a breakdown in communications between groups.

It was pointed out that there initially were to be eight parks and that everybody's needs were originally included. The change from eight to four caused some misunderstanding on what was to be included in the complex.

FUTURE REQUESTS Charles Tompkins requested that in the future, parks be considered that could be utilized by as many groups as possible.

Several compromises were suggested including changing the city park to slow pitch. This, however, would have called for the removal of the tennis courts.

City Manager Harry Nagel made the suggestion of changing one baseball park to accommodate slow pitch teams and helping set up one other baseball park to solve the present crisis, with the idea of building another baseball park at the complex as soon as possible.

The council voted unanimously in favor of this proposal. Mayor Wade Choate presided, with all council members present, including Mrs. Polly Mays, Tompkins, Acri and Hall.

Flash Flood Alert Issued

The remnants of Hurricane Caroline — downgraded to a tropical depression — continued to dump rain on an already-saturated South Texas early today.

A flash flood watch remained in effect south of a line from Corpus Christi to Laredo, with more light rain forecast for the area.

Raymondville, at the northern end of the Lower Rio Grande Valley, reported 12 inches of rain Sunday and Monday, bringing high water that drove 50 persons from their homes.

Eleven inches of rain were reported in Port Isabel, where families left homes in the Laguna Heights area because of water three to four feet deep.

Raymondville civil defense director Felix Longoria reported water several feet deep in the town's northwest side, and six inches of water in many downtown stores.

The Department of Public Safety said water was six feet high in some areas of the town Sunday night.

At partly cloudy, clear to partly cloudy skies covered the state. Temperatures varied from 69 at Dalhart, El Paso and Houston to 78 at Corpus Christi.

Thunderstorms were expected to spread over most of Texas by early evening.

Find Bodies In Plane

MARTINSBURG, W.Va. (AP) — Searchers have found the bodies of two men and a boy in the wreckage of a small plane southwest of Martinsburg along the mountainous West Virginia-Virginia border.

The bodies were identified by Civil Air Patrol and police spokesmen as Willard V. Wahlund, about 35 or 40, his 4-year-old son and the boy's grandfather.

A CAP spokesman said Wahlund, a captain for Braniff Airlines, was moving from Dallas, Tex., to Danbury, Conn. The CAP said the single-engine Beech Musketeer, Wahlund's private plane, crashed Sunday night.

Lt. Dennis Barron, squadron commander of the Martinsburg Civil Air Patrol unit, said the plane apparently caught fire as soon as it crashed.

"The plane just disintegrated. They had to use personal identification on the bodies instead of aircraft identification because there wasn't any," said Mel Hollar, CAP information officer. "He must have flown right into the side of the mountain."

The plane reportedly was headed toward the Martinsburg airport on a flight from Charleston, W.Va., to Danbury.

Bad weather halted an air search Monday. The wreckage was found by ground searchers who walked three miles from a paved road through dense woods.

THEFTS Richard Summers, 1104 N. Bell, reported a $475 woman's wedding ring stolen from his home.

Apartment at Northcrest No. 53 belonging to David Arguello burglarized. Items stolen included food, liquor, glasses, tapes and gun shells. Total value was estimated at $257.90.

Auto burglary at Medical Arts parking lot. Ronnie Baldock, 510 Flock Drive, reported a .22 calibre air rifle missing. Value: $52.

WEATHER NORTHWEST AND SOUTHWEST TEXAS: Considerable cloudiness south and partly cloudy north through Wednesday. Scattered showers and thunderstorms mainly afternoons and at night most numerous south. Highs mostly 80s and 90s. Lows 50s mountains and 60s elsewhere.

WEATHER FORECAST — There will be showers in scattered portions of the nation today. It will be warmer in the South and Great Lakes area and cooler elsewhere.

Guy Bell Is Hospitalized

Guy Frank Bell, 22, was injured in a diving accident at a lake near Austin Sunday afternoon.

Bell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Bell. The parents have gone to Austin where Guy Frank is in Room 544 at Breckenridge Hospital with a broken neck.

Guy Frank graduated from the University of Texas in August and was to begin work this month on his Master's Degree.

Car Window Is Kicked Out

Edgar Mack Payne, 23, 3225 Drexel, was "out on a $1,000 bond this morning in connection with an incident on the Wagon Wheel parking lot at 4:29 a.m.

Bond was set by Justice of the Peace Walter Grice. Charges filed on Payne by city police included public intoxication, disorderly conduct, affray, destruction of city property and escape from custody.

Payne kicked out the window of the patrol car, then unlocked the door and attempted to flee on foot from Ron Newby and Frank Constable, arresting officers.

White House Dog Pregnant?

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford says "we'll know for sure in a couple of weeks" whether the White House dog is pregnant.

President Ford told reporters Monday at his Camp David, Md., retreat that the golden retriever named Liberty had all the symptoms, including plumpness and a hearty appetite. Liberty recently was bred with a champion golden retriever in Oregon.

Southern West Virginia Miners Boycotting Pits

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — While coal miners in fringe areas of a seven-state wildcat walkout appeared likely to return to work today, hard-core southern West Virginia strikers remained firm.

A random check showed that southern West Virginia miners were still boycotting the pits they abandoned Aug. 11.

"Nobody at all showed up," said a spokesman at Island Creek Coal Co.'s Amherstdale mine in West Virginia's Logan County shortly after the normal start of the early shift at 12:01 a.m.

"They're not working here," those pickets got them," said a Boone County mine foreman.

U.S. District Court Judge K.K. Hall has ordered the United Mine Workers to pay a $500,000 fine if the strike continued after the Labor Day weekend, plus $100,000 for each additional day.

The wildcat walkout began when two Logan County miners were suspended. Coworkers struck to protest delays in a hearing for them under the grievance procedures of the UMW contract.

The protest expanded to cover other areas of miner dissatisfaction with the 1974 contract, focusing in southern West Virginia on the lack of a right-to-strike clause in the pact.

Although most mines are normally closed for the holiday weekend, work resumed in the southern Indiana coalfields Sunday and Monday, mine spokesmen said.

Illinois and northern West Virginia miners voted to return to work today. Miners were also expected to be back at work in southwestern Virginia, eastern Kentucky and western Pennsylvania.

There was no indication whether Alabama miners would return to the pits.

In Ohio, a UMW spokesman said three Meigs County mines struck in a separate safety dispute last week would be working today.

LABOR DAY CRASH — A car driven by David Frank Morgan, 406 2nd, and a pickup driven by Edwin Joe Blasingame, 618 Caylor, crashed at the intersection of 4th and Benton under the traffic light at 7:30 p.m.

(Photo By Danny Valdes) Monday. Morgan was headed east on 4th and Blasingame was going south on Benton when the collision occurred. There were no injuries.

New Schedule Is Adopted

Beginning today, the Fort Davis National Historic Site will be open to visitors from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. every day. While the off-season programs will not be as diversified as during the summer months, limited living history demonstrations will be offered as the weather permits.

Fees of $1 per carload or 50 cents per person will remain in effect. A visitor may also purchase a Golden Eagle Passport for $10, which entitles him to entry to all National Park Service areas that require permits for the calendar year.

Those visitors over sixty-two years of age may obtain a Golden Age Passport at no cost. This permit is good for the life of the holder and entitles the bearer to free entry to any National Park Service fee area as well as a 50 per cent discount in special use fees such as boat launch and campground charges. The discount is not in effect at concession facilities in the Parks.

Man Who Took Cab Arrested

Jimmie Peters, 22, was arrested Monday night in Odessa, charged with theft from a local filling station.

Peters was working as an attendant at Bill's Chevron. The owner talked to him on the phone at 7 p.m. and when he arrived at 9 p.m., the attendant was gone along with approximately $300.

The lights and pumps were still on at the station. The police were told that a taxi had been seen leaving the station and it was determined that Peters took a cab to Odessa.

He was to be brought back to Big Spring today, according to Avery Falkner, investigating detective on the case.

The fare was $39, and it was not known whether he left a tip.

Percy Foreman, Hudson To Be Arraigned Today

SAN ANGELO (AP) — Noted Houston lawyer Percy Foreman and Houston industrialist Edward Hudson were to be arraigned today on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice arising from their alleged connection with the sons of the late oil billionaire H.L. Hunt.

Foreman, Hudson, Nelson Bunker Hunt, W. Herbert Hunt and three others were indicted in July by a federal grand jury in Dallas.

The Hunt brothers are to go on trial in Lubbock Sept. 15. They were indicted in 1973 on federal wiretapping charges. The brothers allegedly hired private investigators to wiretap the telephone of several of their father's employees.

The July indictments stem from an alleged coverup connected with the wiretapping case.

The Hunt case has been in the Lubbock court of U.S. District Judge Hal O. Woodward on a change of venue from Dallas.

Woodward also sits in San Angelo and the arraignment is here at his convenience.

Foreman and Hudson are named in two counts along with the Hunts for allegedly agreeing secretly to pay Foreman $100,000 to represent two Houston private investigators for the purpose of keeping them quiet. The two investigators were subsequently convicted of wiretapping.

Hudson said at the time of the indictment: "My involvement in that thing (the alleged conspiracy) is so remote that I'm amazed I was indicted." He admitted he contacted Foreman for the Hunts brothers.

The Hunts have maintained the Justice Department is prosecuting them because they refused to allow the Central Intelligence Agency to place its agents in the Hunt International Petroleum Co.

Dock Strike Fireworks Expected

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A longshoremen's boycott against loading grain for the Soviet Union was expected to continue today — at least until the courts order them to work.

Alfred Chittenden, president of International Longshoremen's Association Local 1418, said his men were told not to load 5,000 tons of wheat aboard the Anna M at Reserve, 40 miles up the Mississippi River from New Orleans. The wheat is bound for the Soviet Union.

However, Chittenden said the ILA would obey a court order to load the vessel. "I guess there will be fireworks today," he said.

The New Orleans Steamship Association, representing the shipping industry, indicated it would ask today for a federal court order to force the ILA to work the Anna M.

It is the first Russian-bound grain to pass through New Orleans — the nation's largest grain-handling port — since the ILA voted to boycott Russian grain shipments.

Eight of the some 5,000 longshoremen in the New Orleans area began loading two barges of wheat Sunday before the union brought it to a halt, saying the eight voluntarily quit.

Chittenden said they may have misunderstood the union's mandate against loading grain for the Soviet Union.

The ILA leader said they would return to their regular jobs, and he doubted the union would take disciplinary action against them.

"They could have taken the job without knowing what the story was," Chittenden said. "The problem was with the grain and not the men. We're not looking for retaliation against anybody."

The Anna M is a freighter registered in Cyprus and chartered by the Soufracht Charter Co., a Russian organization.

The steamship association had asked a federal court Sunday to order the ILA to work the Anna M because of the union's announced intention to boycott Russian grain. But the court said there was no need for an injunction until a strike was called.

Chittenden said sales grain to the Soviet Union will raise food prices in the United States.

Federal courts in Texas ordered longshoremen from Lake Charles, La., to Brownsville, Tex., to load Russian-bound grain last month after dock workers at Houston refused to load a ship there.

Derailment Touches Off Explosions

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Fire fighters waited today for three railroad tank cars carrying propane and liquefied petroleum to burn themselves out following a derailment which led to a series of explosions.

Firemen waited about 300 yards from where a derailment Monday afternoon touched off a series of earth-shaking blasts that sent huge fireballs into the sky. Shock waves were heard 30 miles away.

At least six persons were injured. No deaths were reported.

The derailment and explosions occurred in an industrial park on the city's northeast side as 11 cars of a southbound Rock Island Lines train left the tracks as part of the train passed under a busy Interstate 35-80 bridge.

The Iowa Highway Patrol closed Interstate 35-80 in the area because they feared structural damage to the bridge. Traffic on the major east-west interstate was rerouted through the city.

Two square miles of factories, warehouses and homes were evacuated about an hour after the first fireball shot 1,000 feet into the air.

A railroad spokesman said five tank cars ruptured and burned, and in addition to the three still burning, three were intact on the tracks. Authorities, however, feared the intense heat might ignite them.

One of the injured was a motorcyclist who was blown from an overpass on Interstate 80 near the site of the derailment just northeast of the city limits. Von Ray Abbott, 32, Des Moines, was in fair condition.

Louise Stout, 55, Des Moines, was in satisfactory condition at a hospital, a fireman from Saylor Township, Dwight Warner, was treated for burns at a hospital and was released, and Iowa Highway Patrolman James A. Bates, Ankeny, suffered a minor burn on his right elbow.

Stolen Weapons Sent To IRA?

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Pentagon study says enough weapons, ammunition and explosives disappeared from U.S. military bases around the world between 1971 and 1974 to outfit approximately 8,000 men.

The report also raised the possibility that the outlawed Provisional wing of the Irish Republican Army and other terrorist groups may have received some of the stolen materials.

The report, conducted by the Army Physical Security Review Board and released Monday by Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., said approximately 6,800 weapons and 1.2 million rounds of smallarms ammunition or explosives were lost.

"These losses would equip approximately 10 combat battalions with a basic load of small arms and munitions," according to the report, which was turned over to then-Army Secretary Howard H. Callaway on March 10.

NY Repertory Theater To Present Play Here

As part of the Bicentennial activities for school children, as well as for the community at large, arrangements have been made to bring an outstanding program to Big Spring.

The Performing Arts Repertory Theatre Foundation of New York will present a play, "The Midnight Ride of Paul Revere," in the Big Spring High School Auditorium Tuesday, Nov. 25.

There will be two performances. The first, at 1:30 p.m., will be limited to seventh, eighth and possibly ninth grade pupils if space permits. The second, at 7:30 p.m., will be open to the general public.

Cost of the two performances will be $1,000. It is hoped the program can be presented without charge. The auditorium will seat about 1,400, which means that as many as 2,800 persons in the community will have the opportunity to see the play.

To help underwrite the cost of the play, interested persons and organizations will be given the opportunity to make contributions. Donations will be accepted by E. H. McKenzie Jr., superintendent of schools, who can be reached by dialing 267-8245.

Try Coup In Ecuador

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — Ecuador was reported calm again today following the failure of an attempt by the army chief of staff to overthrow President Guillermo Rodriguez Lara.

The leader of the attempted coup Monday, Gen. Raul Gonzalez Alvear, surrendered after 12 hours when the army, navy and air force failed to join the single army unit supporting him.

Gen. Rodriguez, who overthrew an elected president in 1972, said "the most rigorous weight of the law" would fall on Gen. Gonzalez and all those who supported him.

The president accused "irresponsible politicians" of instigating the rebellion. A dusk-to-dawn curfew was imposed on Quito and Guayaquil, the country's two chief cities; leading civilian opponents of the regime went into hiding, and government forces raided their homes.

About 80 troops and officers were reported under arrest. It was not known if any civilians also had been arrested.

Unofficial reports said 20 people were killed and about 50 wounded in the fighting around the presidential palace in downtown Quito.

Gen. Gonzalez laid siege to the palace shortly after midnight Sunday with tanks and about 100 troops of the Azuay armored regiment.

The rebels issued a communique accusing the government of political and economic mismanagement, particularly of the country's oil wealth. They promised to abolish a recent 60 per cent surtax on imports, carry out a reform program and hold elections in two years.

After several hours of shooting, the rebel tanks entered the palace grounds, and the presidential guard surrendered. A crowd of civilians followed the rebels into the palace, looting and destroying part of the block-square building.

Meanwhile, Rodriguez escaped from the palace to Rio Bamba, 100 miles to the south, took command of the armored garrison there and started back to Quito with it.

Army and navy units in Guayaquil, Ecuador's chief port on the Pacific coast, proclaimed their loyalty to the president.

Rodriguez re-entered Quito at the head of a column of six tanks and some 200 other army vehicles. But the rebels had already surrendered to the Vencedores Regiment, which remained loyal to the government, surrounded the palace and prepared to attack.

It was Latin America's second uprising in four days. Last Friday, Peru's military president, Juan Velasco Alvarado, was ousted by Gen. Francisco Morales Bermudez, his premier, army chief of staff and defense minister. That coup was bloodless.

OUTLOOK — This is the way the nation's weather shapes up, in terms of temperature and precipitation, over the next 30 days, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Catholic Church Plans Festival

Around 1,000 pounds of pork and beef will be cut tonight for sausage to be sold at the 17th annual Immaculate Heart of Mary Church Fall Festival.

Men of the church are asked to bring their own knives to the Piggly Wiggly meat market, Highland Shopping Center, at 6:30 p.m. Sausage will be stuffed Wednesday night at the church, 1009 Hearn St.

The festival, slated Saturday and Sunday at the church, will feature a midway also, and Mexican dinner Sunday.

Sausage cooked over charcoal will be sold Saturday afternoon for short orders and by the pound, and the Rev. Louis Moeller said.

Carnival booths will be open at 3 p.m. Saturday.

From 5 p.m. to 8 p.m., the German sausage dinner will be served for $2.50 a plate.

Sunday, a real Mexican dinner will be served from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. for $2 a plate.

Regular Sunday night bingo at 7:30 p.m. will conclude the festival.

The public is invited.

Tommy Corwin is general chairman with Jack Gilbert as his assistant. Wayne Rock is publicity chairman.

Alioto Will Be Speaker

DIMMITT — Joseph L. Alioto, who as mayor of San Francisco reaped national headlines recently by defying his board of supervisors in granting a raise to city policemen and firemen, will address the 41st annual stockholders meeting of Dimmitt Agri Industries Inc., here Thursday night.

The meeting will begin with a barbecue dinner at 6:30 p.m. in the new Castro County Expo Center, located in southeast Dimmitt.

Alioto is one of the attorneys representing Dimmitt Agri Industries in an anti-trust suit against nine processing companies.

The corporation is seeking sums totaling $32 million in damages on charges that the companies reduced the price of corn syrup and starch to drive the local cooperative's corn milling plant out of business.

Body Found Under Bridge

DALLAS (AP) — The body of an unidentified woman, clad only in a pullover red sweat shirt, has been found under a wooden bridge on a rural road near Cooper in Northeast Texas.

Delta County authorities said the woman had shoulder-length reddish blonde hair, wore a wedding band, and had been dead about 10 days.

The body was taken to the Dallas County medical examiner's office where an inquest will be conducted.

Dawson's Fair Is Next Week

LAMESA — Commercial booth space is available at $2 per front foot for the annual Dawson County Fair which will be held Sept. 10-13.

The fair is being dedicated to Dewey Drennan in memory of his special interests in serving the youth of the area for over 20 years as a member of the fair association's board of directors. Drennan was also superintendent of the Horticultural and Agricultural Divisions of the fair.

Judging of agricultural products and booths will take place Wednesday. Cattle judging will be done Thursday while sheep will be judged Friday.

$41,000 Given In MD Drive

An estimated $41,000 from the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy fund was raised through efforts of Television Station KMOM, Monahans, here Sunday and Monday.

KMOM is a sister station of KWAB TV, Big Spring, which also participated in the campaign.

Hopes To Unravel Hoffa Mystery

DETROIT (AP) — A federal grand jury launches a probe today into the disappearance of ex-Teamsters union boss Jimmy Hoffa. U.S. Atty. Ralph Guy said he hopes to unravel the mystery by taking testimony from more than 70 subpoenaed witnesses.

Guy said the grand jury's work initially will be to investigate rather than to collect evidence for indictments.

Meanwhile, the FBI will attempt to maintain custody of an auto which agents believe may hold a clue to Hoffa's July 30 disappearance. The car belongs to Joseph Giacalone, son of reputed Mafia figure Anthony "Tony Jack" Giacalone.

A hearing on the car controversy is scheduled before U.S. District Judge Robert DeMascio.

The auto was being driven by Hoffa's foster son, Charles L. "Chuckie" O'Brien, on the day Hoffa vanished.

O'Brien is scheduled to testify Wednesday before the grand jury. Hoffa dropped from sight after leaving for a luncheon appointment at which he told his family he was to meet with the elder Giacalone at the Red Fox Restaurant in suburban Bloomfield Township.

Giacalone, however, denied that he planned to meet Hoffa.

O'Brien said that, by coincidence, he was driving young Giacalone's car in the vicinity of the restaurant on the day Hoffa was last seen.

Officials familiar with the probe confirmed last week that three tracking dogs detected Hoffa's scent in the back seat and trunk.

But O'Brien said it was "ludicrous" to suggest Hoffa was in the car with him the day Hoffa disappeared.

O'Brien said he borrowed Giacalone's auto to deliver a fish to a Teamsters Union vice president in a Detroit suburb.

The FBI seized the car Aug. 9. Giacalone, 22, contended the car is being held illegally because a statement sworn to by federal agents justifying seizure of the auto is insufficient to show probable cause that any federal crime was committed.

An affidavit filed in federal court in connection with the FBI's request for a search warrant said the FBI felt there was probable cause to believe that "Charles has used Joseph Giacalone's automobile to facilitate an abduction of Hoffa."

O'Brien's attorney, James Burdick, said the scent picked up by the dogs could have been clothing left by Hoffa in the car long before he disappeared, since Hoffa was a long-time associate of the Giacalone.

Guy and Robert Ozer, who heads the federal Organized Crime Strike Force in Detroit, refused to say who else in addition to O'Brien is being called to testify before the grand jury.

Federal services for Hoffa's mother, Viola, were also scheduled today. She died last Thursday at 85 in a Plymouth nursing home. Friends of the Hoffa family said she was never told her son had disappeared, although she called for him every day.

'48 Hours At Atoka' Attracts 100,000

ATOKA, Okla. (AP) — This southeastern Oklahoma rural area was virtually back to normal today, except for the cleanup, after more than 100,000 country and western music fans crowded here for "48 hours at Atoka."

The 48 hours turned into only about 36 as the show ended about midnight Sunday. By Monday morning the fans had dwindled to about 15,000 and they were moving back on the highways.

Organizers claimed ticket sales of about 104,000 and said they were pleased enough that they may do it again in 1976.

Greg Shanahan, 38, of Atoka, co-owner of the site and attorney for the promoters, said he was "totally pleased" with the festival and turnout. Although he probably lost money on it.

There was little trouble reported from the huge crowd and a make-shift hospital treated about 150 for cuts, sprains and heat prostration.

Only four persons were treated for drug abuse, Dr. David K. Simpson, who was in charge of the hospital, said.

"Most of the kids have left dope for booze," he said. "We've had probably a dozen that were really drunk, and we just let them sleep it off."

Shanahan said he plans an area survey to determine the feasibility of establishing a year-round camping facility at the site. He will also seek advice from music industry professionals about another festival next year. He said it would be limited to country and western music.

Davis Seeks Reassignment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nathaniel Davis, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, has asked to be reassigned.

Davis refused comment but administrative sources said Monday that Davis sought reassignment because constant controversy over his appointment made it impossible for him to function.

Kids Question TV Commercials' Honesty

AUSTIN — Many pre-adolescent children doubt the truthfulness of TV commercials, a new study from the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

The 74-page monograph, "Pre-adolescent Children's Attitudes Toward Television Commercials," appears in the marketing studies of the UT bureau. The author is Dr. Clara P. Ferguson, associate professor of marketing at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock.

For her study, Dr. Ferguson gathered responses about TV commercials from 266 fourth and sixth grade children in Salt Lake City. The children were from low, middle and high socioeconomic classes.

Forty-five per cent of the children indicated they did not think TV commercials were truthful, 36 per cent thought they were, and 19 per cent were undecided.

The most frequently mentioned reason the children gave for believing that TV commercials generally do not tell the truth was:

"Products are not like the commercials say they are."

Other reasons for negative attitudes toward the truthfulness of TV ads were "commercials don't show everything" and "commercials are generally exaggerations."

On the other hand, the predominant reason the children cited for believing a TV commercial was:

"I have tried some of the products advertised."

Dr. Ferguson points out that "children use tests of reality as a means of determining the believability of television advertising" and added:

"These reality criteria may be based on evaluation of the product message or on experience with the product."

She found the greatest percentage of the children liked TV commercials to be "funny," while the overwhelming reason given for disliking a particular commercial was that "the message is dumb or stupid."

Reader Hits Jackpot In Old Library Book

DEAR ABBY: I live in Salisbury, Mass., and I use the Newbury public library quite often.

I recently checked out an old book and brought it home to read. When I started to read it, I got the shock of my life. There, in the second chapter, was an old $5,000 bill! It's good. I have already checked it out.

What do I do? Keep it, or take it back to the library and find out if someone has reported it lost or misplaced.

I really want to do the right thing. Of course I would like to keep it, but not if it belongs to somebody else.

Please advise me.
