Soviet Boycott Mars Signing Of Sinai Pact

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — Israel and Egypt today signed the U.S.-sponsored Sinai accord. The ceremony was marred by a Soviet boycott prompting the United States also not to attend.

On Wednesday the Soviet political weekly New Times criticized the agreement, saying it does not defuse the explosive situation but tends to complicate matters. It said the entire pact favors Israel.

Under the agreement Israel is pulling back its forces in the Sinai desert and surrendering the Abu Rudeis oilfields, and Egypt is committing itself to a number of political concessions including a promise not to threaten force or military blockade against Israel. In addition, 200 American civilian technicians are to man early warning radar stations in the Sinai.

Following word of the Soviet boycott of today's signing, a State Department spokesman in Washington said "if the Russians aren't going to show up, we won't show up."

But a U.S. spokesman in Geneva said the signing was in the framework of the military working group set up by the Geneva peace conference and that the presence of representatives from the United States and the Soviet Union, co-chairmen of the Geneva conference, was not a formal necessity.

Diplomatic sources said in any event the United States' main aim was to get the pact signed, and not engage in a diplomatic hassle.

The United Nations first said "there is a possibility" it too would cancel plans to have an official witness at the signing of the pact, but later changed its mind. The chief U.N. coordinator of Middle East peacekeeping forces, Lt. Gen. Ennio Sillanvuo, witnessed the signing of the pact, completed at 5:10 p.m. — 12:10 p.m. EDT.

Sources said lack of a U.N. presence at the signing would have reduced the agreement to the level of a bilateral accord although it makes specific reference to the Geneva peace conference that opened under U.N. auspices in December 1973.

At the United Nations in New York, Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim said he was told of the Soviet boycott in advance by Soviet Ambassador Jacob Malik. "The Americans also informed me that they would not be present at the ceremony."

The Israeli Parliament approved the agreement Wednesday night, and representatives of Israel and Egypt were to sign it at 5 p.m. (12 noon EDT) in the council chamber at the Palais des Nations, the United Nations headquarters in Europe.

Shortly after the word spread in diplomatic circles that the Soviets would stay away to express their disapproval of the pact negotiated by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, a spokesman for U.S. Assistant Secretary of State Alfred Atherton said "at present he has no plans to attend the signing ceremony."

Atherton came to Geneva Wednesday night from London after accompanying Kissinger on his successful Middle East peace shuttle.

His spokesman's statement said the "primary aim" of his visit was to bring the documents that were to be signed and "also to be available in case we can be helpful in working out arrangements for the signing ceremony."

Rio Grande Flood Alert

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The National Weather Service issued a flood warning today for the Rio Grande because of heavy rains in Northeast Mexico.

The weather service said heavy rains on the Rio Grande have caused a sharp rise in the Rio Grande since Wednesday above Anzalduas Dam, just south of Mission in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

The warning said flooding is expected along the river from Anzalduas Dam downstream to the Brownsville area.

The river was expected to crest at 19 or 20 feet Friday at Mercedes, where flood stage is 21 feet. At Brownsville, a crest of 15 feet was expected over the weekend. Flood stage at Brownsville is 18 feet.

Robber Gives Up; Nine Free

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A tense vigil outside a downtown coffee shop ended after 17 hours early today with the release of nine hostages and the surrender of their armed captor.

Robert Roscoe Jr., 33, of Washington, D.C., was to be arraigned in police court later in the day after being taken into custody about 8 a.m., said Albany Police Chief Edward McArdle.

Two of the hostages were John M. Koutelis, 59, and his wife, Angie, 43, owners of the luncheonette. Asked if the gunman ever threatened them, Koutelis said, "No. I can only say the man, was a gentleman. That's all."

Mrs. Koutelis said the gunman did not frighten her. She said, "He was very good." She added, "He said he didn't want anything to happen to us because of the children."

Three of the Koutelis children were among the hostages— Nick, 14; Eugenia, 11; and Michael, 7. The other hostages, who were not identified immediately, were said to have included two waitresses and two other women.

Scores of officers had ringed the area of downtown Albany, a block from the Capitol Building, where the hostages had been held since 3 p.m. Wednesday in the Standard Sandwich Coffee Shop.

The drama began unfolding about 3 p.m. Police said a man held up a savings bank, struck a bank guard on the head and later shot a police officer who had pulled up in a patrol car. The man then fled into the coffee shop.

Chief McArdle said the calm ending to the vigil came after various persons talked with the man by phone overnight.

Record Likely

An all-time record will likely be reached at Howard College today, when registration for the fall term hits the 1,437 mark, according to figures released by L. L. (Red) Lewis, registrar.

On the main campus 1221 had registered, with 42 still to clear the business office. In addition, 174 students had enrolled in extension programs at Lamesa and San Angelo.

Last year, total enrollment was 1317. Last spring the college reached an all time high of 1,448 which still could be topped if late registrations come in.

DRIVE GOES OVER TOP

An anonymous giver forwarded the sponsoring organization, the Howard County Ministerial Association, a $100 check, which served to insure the success of the drive.

The campaign officially ended Labor Day but the Herald will continue to accept checks for the fund.

Oil Theft Ring Probe Widens Into Oklahoma

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Louisiana and Texas investigators into an oil theft ring involving about 12,000 barrels of hot oil are looking into a possible Oklahoma connection, Atty. Gen. John Hill says.

Hill also said some of the stolen oil was of low quality and contaminated a tank containing 75,000 barrels of high grade oil at Sun Pipeline Co.'s refinery at Liberty.

"It's not unusable. It's just worth less money," Hill said.

Officials and investigators from Louisiana and Texas reviewed progress of the case over lunch Wednesday in Hill's conference room.

Eight men have been arrested thus far in connection with the alleged oil theft scheme. Hill said all were associated with one another and "we picked up one new name today."

Asked about reports that an oil operator was the key to the scheme, furnishing documentation for trucks to use in delivering the cargo to refineries, Hill said: "I don't envision at this time that you could pick out one man and say he was the kingpin."

He said investigators also have picked up some unverified information "pointing to more sophisticated thefts of oil" than merely driving tankers up to oil leases and emptying their storage tanks.

Hunt Links In Deaths Of Three Young Fems

DALLAS (AP) — Investigators say they are looking for possible links in the deaths of three young women abducted here and found shot to death in separate cases since April.

The latest victim was Joni Barnes, 19, who was kidnapped from her job at a Fox Photo booth last week. Her body was found Monday just off a wooden bridge near Cooper, in Delta County.

The body of Betty Nash, 18, was found April 29 beneath a pile of asphalt in a field about six miles south of Rockwall. She had disappeared April 18 while hitchhiking.

The body of Carole Marie Anderson, 14, was found in a ditch north of Melissa, in Collin County, shortly after she was reported missing May 3. She had disappeared while on a middle-of-the-night trip to a store.

Police said that all three were shot one time in the back of the head and left near a rural road. Miss Nash and Miss Anderson were shot with the same brand of .22 caliber bullet.

Police have not disclosed the type of gun used to kill Mrs. Barnes.

All three victims were described as being similar in physical build and all had long brown hair.

Dallas homicide Capt. Don Milliken said there were no provable similarities and some important differences between the deaths, but other investigators said they are looking for a possible connection.

Police efforts have concentrated on finding the brown Pontiac Grand Prix apparently used by a man who posed as a company supervisor and lured Mrs. Barnes from her job.

Swim Pool Proposed

COAHOMA — The City Council voted to pursue the construction of a public swimming pool for Coahoma at a recent city council meeting, acting on a recommendation by Coahoma Mayor Joe Swinney.

The City has asked the Dora Roberts Foundation, Big Spring, to consider financing the $73,000 project. Swinney said that school-owned tennis courts and Little League operated baseball parks are the only source of recreation for Coahoma youths and that the swimming pool would keep the kids off the streets.

The proposed pool would be 45 feet by 75 feet, with depths ranging from three and a half feet to 14 feet, two inches. One meter and three meter diving boards, a combination bath house and concession stand and a six-foot chain link fence are included in the project.

The pool would be located in the northeast corner of the City Park, south of the high school. It is expected to be completed by the spring of 1976 if funding is approved.

Cisco--NMMI Will Clash Here Night Of Sept. 20

College football returns to Big Spring this month when Cisco Junior College and the New Mexico Military Institute gridgers play at Memorial Stadium at 8 p.m., Saturday, Sept. 20.

Chamber of Commerce manager Terry Hanson said that the schools signed a contract with the Chamber to play the game this year and again in 1976.

Both schools will offer musical entertainment at halftime, and the famous Wrangler Belles of Cisco will perform.

Tickets are now on sale at the Chamber office at a cost of $2 for adults and $1 for students. At the gate, tickets will increase to $2.50 for adults and $1 for students.

The World At-A-Glance

MIAMI (AP) — Anthony "Tony Pro" Provenzano, one of the men James R. Hoffa reportedly planned to meet the day he disappeared, is under investigation in connection with a $4-million Teamsters Union pension fund loan to a Florida developer. Law enforcement sources said the investigation is being conducted by the Justice Department's Newark, N.J., organized crime strike force. The loan came from a welfare fund for Teamster locals Provenzano once controlled.

NEW YORK (AP) — Those involved in the complex fiscal problems of New York City agree that small investors, especially those concerned about retirement income, hold the lion's share of the city's bonds and notes. With the city now face-to-face with a possible default, the owners of the city's $7.4 billion in bonds and $4.6 billion in notes may find that the purchase of the tax free municipal issues was not the solid, conservative investment they were seeking. If the city did default, payment of interest on its bonds would be delayed indefinitely.

NEW YORK (AP) — More than 700,000 children were out of school today as striking teachers in at least 10 states balked at contract offers by school districts and stood on the picket line instead of in the classroom. The disputed issues which kept some 40,000 teachers away from school included wages, class size, rollbacks from previous contracts, job security, cost-of-living increases, textbook policies and fringe benefits. The states hit the hardest were Illinois where 565,500 pupils were affected and Pennsylvania where 137,800 children were out of school.

Saracho Jailed On Sodomy Count

Jose Antonio (Tony) Saracho, 28, of 503 NW 4th, is in the city jail awaiting transfer to the county jail in lieu of a $50,000 bond, charged with aggravated rape and sodomy.

Police arrested Saracho outside the police station Wednesday afternoon with Detective Richard Cantwell and Dan Hutchinson of the state liquor control office, making the arrest.

Saracho had come into the station in answer to a letter from Patrolman Jimmy Wallace in connection with an Aug. 9 hit and run accident in the 800 block of East 4th.

Saracho was also charged with leaving the scene of an accident for which he was fined $30. The sodomy and rape charges arose from the alleged rape of a 22-year-old Coahoma housewife who was waiting in a car outside the bus station for the arrival of a relative on a bus in early morning hours on Aug. 28.

A line-up of ten was used with a two-way glass so that the housewife could identify the alleged attacker.

Revocation papers were also being prepared by District Attorney Bob Moore on an earlier ten-year probated sentence on an armed robbery conviction. He is also bonded out from Ector County on a robbery by assault charge.

Police officers investigating the hit and run accident said that accident involved a young woman driver who reported that a car came up behind her honking and waving her over and struck her vehicle in an attempt to run her off the road. She was able to keep the car moving at that time.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Buttz said today there will be no further grain deals with the Soviet Union this year until a union boycott of the grain shipments has been settled.

Buttz' statement came as Thomas W. Gleason, president of the longshoremen's union, threatened a sick-out unless court orders against the boycott are withdrawn.

Ford Testing Political Waters Of Couple Rivals

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford left Washington today for the West Coast where he planned two days of official and political appearances and was scheduled to make five speeches.

Ford will be testing the political waters in the home-territories of two potential rivals for the presidency in 1976, Democratic Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington and former Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.

An 18-hour schedule today includes stops in Seattle, Wash., and Portland, Ore., with an overnight stay in Sacramento, Calif.

In Sacramento, the President will address a joint session of the California legislature, eat breakfast Friday with community and business leaders and meet with Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown on California energy problems.

Because of several political meetings that Ford will attend, the Republican National Committee is paying for the entire trip.

Ford will address two GOP fund-raising luncheons in Seattle, one at $25 a plate, the second at $500 a plate. Then he'll speak before another in a series of White House regional conferences on domestic and economic problems.

At the regional conference he will answer questions from the audience, a format which presidential aides say Ford likes very much after testing it recently in Peoria, Ill., and Milwaukee, Wis.

The aides say it gives the President a feel for the complaints and problems that are bothering people at the grass-roots level.

Early this evening, Ford will fly to Portland for a fund-raising dinner sponsored by the Oregon state Republican organization. He'll follow that with an address at a youth pageant, a Bicentennial event being held in the Memorial Coliseum.

After meeting with Brown, the President plans to see the Democratic and Republican leaders of the California legislature before appearing at the joint session. He will fly back to Washington Friday night.

In all three states, Ford will be lining up political support with GOP leaders for the presidential race.

Housing Problem Remains

Renewed oil and gas activity in West Texas has resulted in the Permian Basin cities of Odessa and Midland experiencing growing pains because of the influx of workers there.

The Odessa Chamber of Commerce recently set improvement of land availability and housing for middle income workers and students as the chamber's top priority in 1976.

With housing at a premium in the Odessa area, the chamber's goal is both needed and laudable. That area has a good, healthy labor market, strong economy, favorable weather, excellent educational facilities and good highways and streets. So with all these factors working in their favor, members of the Odessa Chamber are wise in making housing their top 1976 goal.

Without the additional housing for a predicted influx of workers, the area surely will suffer both economically and culturally. The chamber, consisting of the business and industrial leaders of Odessa, will undoubtedly benefit from the orderly growth of this vital Permian Basin center.

By solving its housing problem, Odessa and surrounding area can plan on a healthy and profitable future.

The housing shortage remains critical in Big Spring and we're losing residents to nearby communities directly as a result of it.

More attention, no doubt, should be directed to the problem.

A Man To Be Remembered

The late Haile Selassie of Ethiopia, who went to his reward recently, lived an eventful life in a rather remarkable time.

Selassie, sometimes called the Lion of Judah, had been deposed as emperor last September. He was 83 when he died.

He had reigned over Ethiopia for nearly half a century. He is favorably remembered as the doughty little emperor whose country was unable to withstand the assault of a ruthless dictator, Italy's Mussolini, when the Roman armies invaded the country without justification in 1936. Selassie was a hero in the free world at that time.

Selassie was hustled into exile. With British help, he returned to the throne in 1941 and stayed there until his arrest during the coup that unseated him.

President Ford spoke appropriate tribute to Selassie and his role. "At the time of the invasion of his country," Ford said, "he was an inspiration to everyone around the world who believes in national independence and peace with freedom among nations."

"As a friend of this country and as a symbol of the emergence of developing nations, he will be greatly missed. But his achievements — peaceful cooperation among African states and between African states and the rest of the world — will live on and continue to have fullest American support."

Time Of Year

Around The Rim

Marj Carpenter

This is the time of year for it. Football fever. Everybody is either plugging away for the home team, or discussing who's going to win the Southwest Conference or banging the drum for the Dallas Cowboys.

Just when we get thick in football, I look up and discover that Jack Cowan, former sports editor at the Big Spring Herald, had devoted an entire column in the San Angelo whatchamaycallit to a horse race in Ruidoso.

I LAUGHED AND laughed when I recalled how many times that we had argued the point. I maintained that both rodeos and horse races were sports and Jack's famous last words were "noooo way."

But when he first went down to Austin, his first assignment was to cover the rodeo and now when San Angelo turns up with a Chick Called Sue, he turns out to be a horse racing enthusiast. "I told you so, Jack Cowan."

But away from the Sport of Kings (horse racing) and the Sport of the West (rodeo) and back to the Sport (football) I would like to say a few words for my favorite teams while I am still able.

I am a TU-Hook Em Horns fan and most years that has been a comforting thing to be. I nearly had a heart attack during the Texas-Tech game last year, and laughed all the way through the Aggie game.

I have not conceded to the polls this year, even though the conferences has put TU second behind the Aggies. I have great faith, old friend Emory and old friend Sonny Everett and any other Aggie coaches that happen to be old friends of mine. I have great faith that the Aggies will find a way to mess up in the Texas games.

As to the OU game, dear national polls and Okie friends, I never write down the score of that game until the last cannon is sounded.

MY OTHER favorite team, the Big Spring Steers, have been picked to share the cellar. They have been picked in the cellar for years. But, like Baylor, picked for the Southwest conference last year, there is always the hope for a turn around.

My biggest hope for something good hinges on the word "scrapppy." The Steers looked pretty scrappy after that Carlsbad coach decided he wanted to play in the scrimmage game from the Steers this season. They're scrappy.

I love football. By now, you would think this old fat lady would have had enough of it. When I was a child, I rode with the team to the games. Mercedes had no school buses and for 15 years, my Dad got cars to take the team so I rode along.

All the way to the game, I'd hear about how we were going to win and often on the way home, I'd hear why we didn't.

When I got to college, it was the war years, and all of the sports writers were off fighting in the big wars. What sports was written, I wrote and when football was revised at Texas A&I, I wrote the history of the thing for the Corpus Christi Caller.

Sports kept haunting me because I was working as news editor in Pecos when the Estes war came. All the reporters with any sense took a job somewhere else and Marj was left holding the post of both news editor and sports editor.

After that I was hooked. So it's ironic that I would end up rooting for Hook 'Em Horns Longhorns and Hook 'Em Horns, Steers. I'm hooked anyway, so hook 'em.

August Briefing

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — Whenever I go away on vacation I have to get briefed when I get back to Washington on what I missed. The man I depend on to catch me up on things is Doc Dalinsky, my pharmacist, who keeps up on the news when he unstacks the papers every morning.

"What happened while I was gone?" I asked him.

"WE SOLD 10 million tons of grain to the Russians which means the price of bread is going up in this country this year."

"Oh!" I exclaimed.

"It was a big mistake," Dalinsky told me.

"How's that?"

"Well, the original idea was to sell the Soviets 10 millions of New York City bonds. But somebody in Washington got his signals mixed and sold them the grain instead."

"Why would the Soviets want New York City bonds?"

"Because several of the banks in New York said that if the city couldn't sell them someone would have to eat them. It was Mayor Beame's hope that the Russians would rather eat his bonds than somebody else's wheat."

"But it didn't work out that way?"

"No. The Soviets insisted they wanted grain so New Yorkers had to eat their own bonds for breakfast."

"What else happened?" I asked Dalinsky.

"LET'S SEE. Oh, yes. The United States is ending its trade curbs against Castro, and we'll probably recognize Cuba soon."

"That's a switch," I said.

"Well, the thinking is that, after trying to knock Castro off 24 times and failing, the only thing left to do was open diplomatic relations with him."

"How does the Mafia feel about it?" I asked Dalinsky.

"They were kind of hurt that they weren't consulted, but I must say they were magnanimous about it. One of the heads of the families said, 'We have a saying in the Cosa Nostra: If you can't kill 'em, join 'em.'"

"What else is going on?"

"Kissinger's in the Middle East," Dalinsky said.

"That's not news," I said.

"The price of gasoline is going up."

"That's not news."

"We're going back to double-digit inflation."

"That's not news."

"Nixon said he did nothing wrong."

"That's not news."

"Liz Taylor and Richard Burton are back together again."

"That's not news," I said.

"Yes it is. Because this time they say it's forever."

"Forever?"

"THAT'S WHAT their press spokesman said."

"What a story! They really said forever?"

"I'm not making it up," Dalinsky said.

"Is there anything else I should know?"

"Well, are you sitting down?"

"How can I be sitting down? I'm standing here talking to you."

"All right. Betty Ford revealed to Myra McPherson in McCall's magazine that she and her husband have given up the White House tradition of separate bedrooms for the President and his wife."

I whistled. "That's news."

"And she also said if anyone ever asked her how often she slept with her husband she would say 'as often as possible.'"

"Damn," I said. "I knew I shouldn't have gone on vacation."

"C-C-Cold water . . . from Big Oil . . . ?"

Oil Boom Developing

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — An oil boom is developing on mainland China that not only could give the United States an alternate energy source but might provide billions of dollars in trade and jobs for thousands of Americans.

These are among the chief effects of the boom, which might vastly change oil markets and the international power balance over the next decade.

"The Chinese oil boom will not resound suddenly and sharply like a sonic boom," said Harned P. Hoose, an authority on the People's Republic. "It will be more enduring."

"It will rise steadily across Asian and Pacific horizons in the next five years like an advancing thunderstorm," stirring everything it encounters. It could reduce Soviet power in the Far East. Almost certainly it will be felt here.

The U.S. impact is likely to be mainly for the good. Between his ninth and 10th visits to the People's Republic since 1972, Hoose, who is the China representative for a number of U.S. companies, observed:

"If just some of the specific projects now being studied by Chinese and Western representatives are consummated, billions of dollars will pour into the U.S. economy and hundreds of thousands of man-years of domestic employment will be provided for American labor in the next few years."

Bilingual and bicultural, being a native of China and a resident there for 23 years before the People's Republic was formed in 1949, Hoose not only represents U.S. companies but is a voluntary adviser to Washington.

In fact, he helped brief President Richard M. Nixon before his visit to the People's Republic in 1972. An attorney, Hoose is based in Los Angeles, where he is also a consulting professor of international business at the University of Southern California.

"Heavy preparations now are going on inside China as vast reserves increasingly are being confirmed," he said. Proved and probable reserves might even exceed those for the entire Mideast, he believes.

"Equipment and machinery are being assembled; refining, petrochemical and distributions systems are being expanded; and the Chinese are preparing great petroleum and petrochemical programs."

For the United States this means opportunity, he believes. "Two-way trade can be expected to rise steeply in the next four years on a flood-tide of oil."

We Hold These Truths... A Chronicle of America

Mid-September, 1775:

Undertaking a diversionary advance toward Quebec, Colonel Benedict Arnold departs Cambridge with 1,051 volunteers. The plan is to move northward up the Kennebec River, then along the Chaudiere River north to the St. Lawrence. But the area between Fort Western (now Augusta, Maine) and Quebec is trackless wilderness. A week out of Fort Western, most of their food is spoiled or lost, and the men are reduced to eating their moccasins, shot pouches, pet dogs, and soap. After a nightmare of a journey through deep snow and along treacherous rivers, about half of the original force crosses the St. Lawrence on November 13. Two days later, a bluff fails to budge the British garrison from Quebec. Arnold's force settles in to await the arrival of troops under General Richard Montgomery several weeks later, and to plan the final assault on Quebec.

Cycling Affect Posture?

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I'm planning on buying a new bicycle (a 10-speed), and I was wondering if the racer handlebars for the bike would be all right.

I've heard that it can really wreck a person's posture. I have a good posture now, and I don't want to change that. I would really appreciate your opinion. I am a girl. — J. M. P.

You don't tell me your age, which could be important. However, from some hints in your letter, I am assuming you are a teenager.

The handlebars to which you refer (for the benefit of non-bikers) are the type that are set low and curve downward. This forces the biker's body into a deep forward and downward curve, often with the back nearly horizontal to the ground.

I've tried them and, believe me, they call for some pretty strenuous contortion.

However, I have known professional riders who have adapted to this style and who have perfectly wonderful postures, so that should not concern you, especially since you tell me you have a good posture now. And, after all, I don't suppose you would be spending too great a part of your life riding a bicycle.

I would not recommend this for older persons, however, because it could lead to back problems that wouldn't be encountered by this young, apparently athletic woman.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have had arthritis in my hands for 26 years. My fingers are stiff and the joints swollen. I am still able to write, knit, sew, and do my housework.

I've been told that a series of gold shots will straighten my hands out in three months. I am reluctant to go through with this treatment, because of a friend who had them 20 years ago and is worse off than ever.

My arthritis is not bothering me much, and I certainly would not want to end up in worse shape that I am in now. — L. C.

Gold salts injection is an effective treatment, but I doubt that after 26 years of arthritis it would do much good. A three-months trial would not hurt you, however, if your doctor feels it will help. As to your friend's experience: everyone, or almost everyone with a chronic disorder of this type, can encounter someone who had had an unfavorable experience with any treatment.

There have been many treatments for arthritis, and few are as effective as aspirin or sodium salicylate.

My Answer

What does the Bible say about lending money to non-believers? I'm constantly approached by co-workers for money, and these guys are not hardship cases.

K.C.

The old Hebrew law provided that Hebrew were to lend to their brethren without interest (Ex. 2:25). This however, did not apply to a stranger (Deut. 23:20).

The Bible makes it clear that the Lord is interested in the way money is gained. Regardless to whom money is lent, the Scripture forbids a usurious rate — that is, one that is speculative and excessive. 1 Cor. 6:10 says that "extortioners" have no part in Christ's kingdom.

It certainly doesn't forbid the principle of lending money. Without the commercial foundation of our country would be undermined.

As far as what you would do with your fellow employees, that's your business. Usually, it's wise not to become financially involved with co-workers. That creates tensions you don't need. Borrowing from some established lending institution is the best arrangement.

DRUNK DRIVERS Traffic Deaths In Houston Up

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston's safety coordinator says motorists here probably are driving in a life-threatening environment as dangerous as any in the world.

"Something must be done," said Carol Coffee. But he adds a definite answer is nonexistent right now.

Traffic deaths in Houston are up a startling 62 per cent this year over last year. Through July 24, 136 persons had died in traffic accidents. In all of last year 188 persons died in traffic accidents in the city.

The rate of traffic fatalities in Houston is the highest of the nation's major cities. At 17 deaths per 100,000 persons, it far outdistances second place Philadelphia's rate of nine deaths per 100,000.

Coffee has completed a study based on this year's statistics. The study indicates that Houston is certain to exceed its all-time traffic fatality mark of 196 deaths in 1972.

The study also shows that 73 per cent of the fatalities occur at night; that pedestrian deaths at 36 are up 121 per cent and that 14 of the dead were intoxicated.

It also showed more cars make for more deaths. There are more than 800,000 registered vehicles here and new residents are pouring into the city at the rate of 5,000 a month. Half of them own automobiles.

The study indicates that six million auto trips are made every day in Houston.

Coffee estimates that alcohol is a factor in about 40 per cent of the traffic fatalities here.

"Laws have been passed the last few years that open the doors," said Coffee. "We have open bars now and kids, 18, are allowed to drink.

"Before, people would go home and have their drinks. Now they leave work and head for the bar. By the time they hit the road, they've had a few drinks."

Texas Alcohol Safety Project (TASP) figures show there were 9,033 DWI violations here last year. This year, through July 1, there were 7,282.

Police claim that too many DWIs are getting off lightly.

Police traffic division Capt. J.M. LeVrier says local police have issued 13,000 tickets for hazardous driving this year, more than ever before.

"But people aren't afraid," he said. "We stop them and they know they're not in for any big trouble."

State trooper Jim Tillinghast of the Department of Public Safety's Driver Improvement and Control Division said 70 per cent of drivers recommended for license suspensions get probation.

Obviously, mass transportation is the answer," Coffee said. "And the city is in the midst of a four-year program to implement this. We're buying more buses and next year we're starting a rush hour plan."

The "contraflow plan" will allow for reversing the normal direction of traffic on certain lanes of certain freeways during the rush hours to accommodate the heavier traffic flow in one direction. The plan, to begin in January, is on a two-year trial basis.

"Is that the answer?" Coffee asked. "Well, it's conceivable we'll have more deaths because people will be driving faster. A definite answer is nonexistent now."

Pottery Adds Special Touch With Flowers

Pottery has returned at a grassroots level. And some of the newest pottery out is available at Faye's Flower Shop at 1013 Gregg.

They include old churns, crockery, pitchers, and other items of days gone by decorated with birds and figurines of the "good old days."

Faye's also has a selection of Mexican pottery and other types of pottery. They have brass from India and cut glassware for those who prefer the more traditional decor.

The floral shop also has a selection of wooden containers. Their potted ivy is some of the freshest and healthiest ivy around. It's really pretty and really hardy.

They still have a wide selection of hanging baskets for in the den or patio or to brighten up your kitchen window.

Don't forget as football season arrives that Faye's prepares those traditional football corsages. Faye's is a good place to go for any flower or plant selections. They'll fix up something really pretty for the event.

CUT IN TAXES HINTED Houston Will End Year With Big Cash Surplus

HOUSTON (AP) — While New York and some other cities are battling for economic survival, the city of Houston is heading toward its second substantial annual cash surplus, an official here said Wednesday.

Leonel Castillo, Houston city controller, said the Bayou City collected $83.7 million in taxes and fees during the first seven months of the year, which is $21 million more than in the similar period a year ago.

He said if the trend continues, Houston will end the year with a surplus large enough to reduce taxes next year.

Houston started 1975 with a $12.7 million surplus left over from 1974.

Castillo recommended another change that could bring in even more tax dollars to the city.

He suggested the city annex the Houston Ship Channel area where industries are currently enjoying a break on personal property and improvement taxes.

The city created the Ship Channel Industrial District in 1967 to free industries along the channel from taxes and to encourage construction of plant facilities. A 10-year contract for the district expires next year. Castillo said annexation would put another $2 million in taxes in the city coffers.

Scores of refineries, chemical plants and other facilities along the channel do not pay taxes on new construction or inventories. Castillo called this "very special privileges that are denied to the average citizen and to the average business."

Hearings To Get Public Reaction

HOUSTON (AP) — A Sept. 17 meeting in Houston has been scheduled by the U.S. Forest Service to get public reaction on alternatives for multi-use management of national forests and range lands over the next 45 years.

The Houston hearing is one of 14 scheduled throughout the nation in September.

Opening lead: Five of ♠.

Is good bridge a science or an art? Anyone who has seen an expert declarer at work can have no doubts on that score. This hand was an artistic triumph for South.

The auction was simple enough. South's jump rebid of two no trump showed a hand of 19-20 points, and though North held only 5, his good six-card suit was justification enough to go on to game.

West led his fourth best spade; declarer played the nine from dummy and captured East's jack with the king. Since he needed to develop dummy's diamonds for his contract, declarer led a low diamond and, when West produced the king, he ducked. West reverted to spades and the queen was allowed to win. After winning the spade continuation, declarer led another diamond and, when West failed to follow, declarer's foresight in not playing the ace previously was rewarded.

Dummy's ten of diamonds forced the queen and, since East was out of spades, he shifted to a heart. Declarer was not tempted. He rose with the ace, led a diamond to the ace and cashed dummy's three remaining diamonds. The ace and king of clubs then completed the nine tricks declarer had contracted for.

Declarer's manipulation of the diamond suit was predicated on the fact that he needed only four tricks in the suit, and that there was no side entry to the table.

While his well-timed concession of two diamond tricks was a thoughtful play, it alone was not responsible for the success of the contract. The key of the hand was South's refusal to make an instinctive holdup play on the first spade lead.

Had South allowed the jack of spades to win the first trick, he could have been defeated had East shifted to a club. Before South could get dummy's diamond suit rolling, the defenders would come to one spade, two diamonds and two clubs.

Docket Is Increased

During August, Howard County's 118th District Court saw its civil docket fattened and its criminal docket remain about the same size.

The one jury impaneled reduced an indictment for involuntary manslaughter to criminally negligent homicide. District Judge Ralph W. Caton had to declare a mistrial when the jury deadlocked on punishment.

District Attorney Robert H. (Bob) Moore III negotiated guilty pleas in 11 cases, and the court granted probation in seven cases. Motions to revoke probation were filed in three cases, and one revocation was granted.

There were two persons involved in four cases sentenced to prison during August.

Pending on August 31 were 155 cases.

Judge Caton disposed of 79 civil suits during August, but attorneys filed 132 new cases. This left 1,220 pending at month's end.

Three applications for writs of habeas corpus were filed, but no action over writ requests was taken.

Moore and Judge Caton have sole jurisdiction also in Martin and Glasscock Counties but Howard County presents the largest caseload.

Judge Caton's secretary compiles statistics monthly for a report to the Texas Civil Judicial Council.

Patients Can Supply News

Great strides have been made during the last few years in the treatment of Parkinson's Disease and many articles have been published in medical journals. However, almost nothing has been published concerning the every day problems of the Parkinson's afflicted person.

Benvenuto von Halle, a Parkinson's patient for the last ten years, is compiling statistics for the purpose of publishing a manual or book showing every day difficulties and stresses of the Parkinson's afflicted person, which could be of help to many people in similar circumstances.

To assist in research, names and addresses of persons afflicted with Parkinson's can be made available by relatives or friends for a subsequent private interview or filling out a questionnaire. Persons can write to Mr von Halle at 283 Bilmar Place, Englewood, N.J. 07631.

Student Head Count Is Up

Enrollment at Big Spring public schools increased by 50 students for the week of Aug. 29, bringing the total enrollment to 6,356.

Elementary schools gained ten students, the junior high schools gained six and Big Spring High School gained 15. Special education classes in four of the elementary schools and students at the state hospital increased by 19.

The figure includes 380 kindergarten students. A total of 3,220 were enrolled in the elementary schools, 1,118 in junior high schools and 1,929 in high school.

On the ninth day of school last year, total enrollment amounted to 6,371 or 15 more than for the same date this year.

Four In Area In Publication

Four Big Spring area young men have been selected by the Outstanding Young Men of America program to appear in the 1975 edition of its publication.

Bob Lavell Abbott, 1200 Ridgeroad; Frank Daniel Wilkins, 605 Highland; Foy Carroll Richey, 2607 Cindy; and Kelly Joe Gaskins, and Kelly Joe Gaskins, were selected for recognition for "voluntary service to the community, professional leadership, academic achievement, business advancement, cultural accomplishments and civic and political participation."

Reed Returned On Theft Count

William Ira Reed is in jail in lieu of a $10,000 bond charged with felony theft after he was brought back from Decatur on charges here.

Reed is charged in connection with theft of $1,600 from Continental Oil Company at the Fast Gas Station. Det. Arven Henry talked last week with Pasadena, Tex., officers after he had been picked up there on a warrant from Big Spring. Two police went to Decatur yesterday to bring Reed back to Big Spring.

COUPLE LOCKED IN LEGAL CONTROVERSY

Church Brainwashed Daughter?

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Connecticut couple is locked in a legal controversy with the Rev. Sun Myung Moon's Unification Church over whether the church has brainwashed their 18-year-old daughter.

"Our daughter is not our daughter anymore," Mrs. Elton Helander of Guilford, Conn., told a D.C. Superior Court judge recently.

The Helanders, who have not seen their daughter since she walked out of their house on Feb. 25 and rejoined the church, have sued the church, claiming the church is holding their daughter against her will.

The Helanders' case is based on an affidavit signed by their daughter last January. In the affidavit, Miss Helander gave law enforcement officials the authority to remove her if she joined the church again.

When she signed the affidavit she was undergoing "deprogramming," an intensive psychological effort, often by professionals hired by parents, to rid a person of the church's influence.

In a tape played in court, Miss Helander said she signed the affidavit under duress to get the deprogrammers to release her. "I knew I had to fake it. I had to make believe Ted Patrick (a deprogrammer) was successful. I did not ever want to sign it. Never, ever," she said.

present members describing bizarre escapes from deprogrammers.

All church members and officials who testified denied charges that recruits are brainwashed into joining the church. However, persons who had left the church said they were denied sleep and fed low-protein diets, making them more susceptible to mind control.

August Cooler And Wetter

August 1975 was cooler, wetter and less windy than usual, a report from the U.S. Big Spring Experiment Station indicates.

The station measured 3.67 inches of rain, and 1.98 inches is normal for the month. This puts the year's total at 21.52 inches, 8.77 inches above normal for the period ending Aug. 31.

High temperatures averaged 90 degrees daily, compared to the August norm of 94 degrees. Low temperature readings averaged 65 degrees while 69 is normal.

Highest recording for the month, 97 on Aug. 1, set a new record, but the low mark of 58 broke the previous record low on Aug. 5 of 61 in 1971.

With wind blowing an average of 3.4 miles per hour, evaporation claimed 10.07 inches of water from an open pan. The average evaporation is 10.16. Wind speed has averaged 3.7 m.p.h. in the past.

City Workers To Lay Pipe

LAMESA — Lamesa city councilmen Tuesday voted to use the city maintenance crew to install pipelines for the new city water system.

Engineers' estimates showed that 37,000 feet of pipeline could be installed for $365,585 by the contractor. City Manager Carroll Taylor reported the city's maintenance men could lay 63,000 feet for the same cost.

In other business, longtime civic leader Sam Richardson was saluted by the city in recognition and appreciation for his service to Lamesa. Mayor Lloyd Cline introduced a resolution recognizing Richardson.

Richardson was mayor from 1945-50 and was selected as one of the original directors of the Canadian River Water Project.

Miss Helander has not appeared in court, despite an Aug. 6 court order directing the church to produce her. The Unification Church claims it has no control over her and therefore cannot make her appear. In the tape, Miss Helander said she was staying away from court because she feared she would be kidnapped and deprogrammed again.

Her lawyer, Philip Hirschkop, told D.C. Superior Court Judge James Belson, "She's done nothing wrong. She's harmed no one. She's committed no crime. To force her to appear in court would be a travesty of First Amendment rights to freedom of religion."

Belson must decide whether the church and two of its American officers are in contempt of court for failing to produce Miss Helander.

The court has heard testimony from former members of the Unification Church claiming they had been subjected to mind-control techniques and from

Variorum Edition To Be Published

LUBBOCK — The Institute for Textual Studies at Texas Tech University has announced jointly with Cambridge University Press the forthcoming publication of the variorum edition of the complete works of Joseph Conrad.

The edition is being prepared under the general editorship of Dr. Marion C. Michael, professor and chairman of English at Texas Tech. Dr. Bruce Harkness of Kent State University, and Dr. Norman Sherry of the Department of English literature, School of English, University of Lancaster, England.

A variorum is an edition of text especially of a classical author which frees the text from editorial corruption and provides notes by different persons. Dr. Michael said individual volume editors will be selected from outstanding textual and bibliographical scholars.

"Each volume in the variorum edition will provide a clear reading text definitively established from a study of variant states, both prepublication and published, in the history of the text," Dr. Michael said.

Appropriate textual notes, provided in appendices, will authenticate the reading text.

In preparation and scheduled for publication by

Cambridge University Press in late 1976 are the texts of "Almayer's Folly," edited by Profs. Floyd Eugene Eddleman and David Leon Higdon and "The Nigger of the Narcissus," edited by Profs. Kenneth W. Davis and Donald W. Rude. Profs. Eddleman, Higdon, Davis and Rude are members of the Texas Tech University faculty. Both volumes deal with Conrad and his works.

"Conradiana," an international journal devoted to every aspect of Joseph Conrad's life and work, was brought to Texas Tech University early in 1972 from McMurry College in Abilene. It was founded at the University of Maryland in 1968 and later moved to McMurry. Conrad was a Polish-born English novelist of the late Nineteenth and early Twentieth centuries.

Youth Charged, Free On Bond

David William Guinn, 17, 1205 Runnels St., has been charged with possession of hashish.

He was released earlier on bonds totaling $2,100 set by Peace Justice Gus Ochotorena Jr.

Texas Highway Patrolmen Ben Lockhart and Bill Priest arrested Guinn for speeding.

BUS FIRM MAY CUT FARES FOR JOBLESS NEXT MONDAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Workers out of a job should be able to ride Continental Trailways buses for half the normal fare this fall, the bus company says.

Fred Currey, Trailways board chairman, said Tuesday that if the Interstate Commerce Commission approves, half-price fares will be available beginning next Monday to persons who can show they are drawing unemployment benefits.

"Our customers are mostly people with middle and low income, blue collar workers who have been hit hardest," said Currey. "We hope to trigger a resurgence in job searches."

He said the bus company will provide "job banks" in most of its terminals. These banks would list positions available in most cities served by Trailways, the nation's second largest intercity bus company.

Currey said Trailways received a telegram from President Ford praising the company for its effort in aiding jobless Americans.

The Interstate Commerce Commission had no immediate comment on the discount plan. The ICC could hold up the program for seven months if it decides to investigate the offer.

If the plan is approved, tickets could be bought at the 50 per cent discount until Nov. 6 for trips taken no later than Nov. 21. The special fare would apply only to bus rides taken between 12:01 a.m. each Monday and 11:59 p.m. Thursday.

Vietnamese Fishermen To Be Located In Texas?

HOUSTON (AP) — Three officials of the U.S. Catholic Conference refugee resettlement office are studying the possibility of locating as many as 100 Vietnamese fishermen and their families along the Texas Gulf coast.

David Lewis, an official of the conference, said a three-man team is surveying the area to determine if jobs exist for the Vietnamese along the coast from Beaumont to Brownsville.

He said the families would be dispersed and not settled in one location.

Fishing industries along the Texas coast are now depressed, he said, and it may be difficult to find the necessary jobs for the Vietnamese fishermen.

"But we are studying the situation to see if jobs exist," said Lewis.

Another problem, he said, will be to find sponsors for the families.

The Vietnamese are now housed at Ft. Chaffee, Ark. Making the coast survey are Dave Herman, a conference staff member; Dr. Nguyen Van Chau, a Vietnamese employed by the conference, and Father Tran Van Khoat, a Vietnamese priest and fisherman.

The Rev. William Manger, director of the U.S. Catholic Conference Family Life Bureau in Beaumont, is aiding in the survey.

Lamesa Looking Ahead

Lamesa's Golden Tornados 1973 state semi-finalists, but falling to 4-6 last season, will be shooting for higher marks for 1975, opening at home against Carlsbad Friday night at 7:30.

Head Coach Tom Koger has 15 lettermen back along with four offensive and four defensive holdovers.

Almost all of the returning lettermen started at least one varsity contest last season. Junior Guy Price is expected to be the starting signal-caller.

Junior tackle, Boyd Beck, 6-2, 230, is the heaviest man though seven or eight Tor players tip the scales in the 180 to 200-pound range.

Veteran backfield personnel includes Dennis Page, Andy Hackney and Anthony Manuel. Selected to finish last in pre-season polls fails to disturb Koger. "I'd rather be last now than at the end of the season. We're better than that," he added.

On offense, the Tors will employ University of Houston's pro-set thrown in with the wishbone.

Last Friday on their home field, the Mustangs tripped up Andrews in a controlled scrimmage.

Klondike Starts Off At Home

With a nucleus of 16 lettermen to work with, Klondike Head Coach Mike Cope opens the new year at home Friday night at 8 p.m. with Whitarral.

Cope has been Klondike's head master for five years and is assisted by Lynn Maxwell.

Klondike shows six starters back on the offense and five returnees on defense.

Defense—Airhart, Gonzales, Bradford, Singleton and Sammy Lopez. Airhart, Bradford and Singleton are seniors with Gonzales, Ferguson, Harris and Lopez, juniors.

Cope feels his team will have a good year based on fair speed, quickness with experience and the most valuable asset.

Klondike encountered its best District 1B eight-man season in 1974, finishing 6-4.

Complete schedule: Sept. 12—Forsan, there; Sept. 19—Southland, home; Sept. 26—Smyer, there; Oct. 3—Grady, home; Oct. 17—Wellman, there; Oct. 24—Dawson, there; Oct. 31—Garden City, home; Nov. 6—Borden County, home. All games at 8 p.m., except BC, 7 p.m.

RATED FIVE-POINT FAVORITE Steers Ready To Plunge Into New Year

By CLARK LESHER
Ready to plunge into another season of football, Big Spring High starts off with Andrews in a non-conference contest here Friday night at 8 at Memorial Stadium.

Big Spring will be out to make it two straight over the Mustangs, winning 16-6 at Andrews last year. The Harris Poll lists Big Spring a five-point favorite.

Bob Burris, entering his third season as Steer head coach, eyes the new season with an optimistic outlook. Last year, the Steers were 3-7.

Big Spring, a young team, features 10 players back from last season's starters, four on offense and six on defense.

Only one senior is listed on the offensive and defensive interior line, Pete Ruiz and Ed Pekowski, respectively. The Steers will utilize the two-platoon system.

Returning starters include: Mark Moore, senior quarterback; Jesse Doss, junior fullback; Ken McMurtrey, senior split-end; and Frosty Reynolds, junior center.

Howell Named Comanche Pro

Bobby G. Howell, for five years first assistant pro at the Colonial Country Club in Fort Worth, has been named pro at the Comanche Trail Golf course here.

The announcement was made Wednesday night by Jerry Forsyth, director of Parks and Recreation for the City of Big Spring. Howell will arrive here in about two weeks to assume his duties.

The one-time professional of the Eldorado Park course in Long Beach, Cal., and the Meadowlark course in Huntington Beach, Cal., succeeds Charley Brantley, who resigned his position last month and who formally ended his association with the municipal course last Monday.

Forsyth says he feels Big Spring is fortunate in obtaining an individual with the credentials Howell carries. Howell was chosen from a field of 15 applicants. He was given a strong recommendation by Roland Harper, the veteran head pro at Colonial.

Howell has been an active golfer for 17 years. He and his wife are the parents of three children, a girl, 16; and two boys, ages 13 and 14.

The Colonial course employs three professionals in addition to Harper. It was

Mullins was held out of spring training because of a knee operation last fall. His knee has received a clean bill of health.

Moore, 6-3, 200 pounds, heads into his second season as the Steer field general. Injuries have left a big question mark as to availability Friday concerning Jerry Marquez and James Thompson, halfbacks, and Ricky Morrow, fullback.

This year's Steers possess a good attitude and positive thinking plus more speed from last season. Only four men ran the 40 under five flat in 1974, compared to the present 22.

In the one and only 5-AA scrimmage allowed, played last Friday, Carlsbad outscored Big Spring, four to three. Andrews scrimmaged both Lake View and Lamesa.

Burris eyes with respect Andrews' head coach, triple and home run—the only hits off Dan Carrithers for three RBI as Philadelphia snapped a four-game losing streak with a victory over Montreal.

Andrews' line will be greatly improved, boosted by Gerald Galloway, a giant 242-pound senior tackle who was second team all-state as a junior.

"The college recruiters tell me that he will be the top line prospect in West Texas this year," said Watkins. Galloway possesses speed and strength, running the 40 in 4.8 and bench pressing 450 pounds.

Calling the signals for Andrews will be Tim Culp, a 165-pound junior. Senior Owen Randolph is the only returner in the Mustang backfield.

Charlie Russell and Manny Gonzales return at the guards while Donald Ellison, a defensive starter last year, will be strong at the other tackle slot.

Terry Kidd returns at center while David Sullivan and Mike Puckett are the only newcomers to the offensive line at ends.

STEER SIDENOTES: The Evening Lions Club will sponsor a Steer Barbeque Friday starting at 5 p.m., at the high school cafeteria. Dinner is $2 per plate. Al's Bar-B-Q will cater.

Defense—Center—Kidd; left-guard—Russell; right-guard—Ellison; left-end—Puckett; right-end—Gonzales; right tackle—Galloway; right split-end—Ken McMurtrey; flanker—Mike Harris or Greg Spears; quarterback—Moore; fullback—Doss; halfback—Marquez; Defense—Nose guard—Pekowski; defensive tackles—Frosty Reynolds and Tony Mann; defensive ends—

Runaway Reds Rub L.A. Noses In Dust

The Cincinnati Reds are driving the Los Angeles Dodgers batty.

Generally conceded the National League West flag, the runaway Reds rubbed the Dodgers' noses in their dust Wednesday night with a 13-2 beating.

"Those touchdowns are hard to beat," smiled Steve Grady after his failing Dodgers dropped 19½ whipping games behind the leaders. "When you're beaten like that, you're just beaten."

That sums up the Dodgers' status now: They're just about beaten.

The Reds' decisive triumph Wednesday night, which included a 10-run inning, reduced their "magic" number to five. Any Cincinnati victories or Dodger losses adding up to five will clinch a playoff berth for the Reds.

In the other National League games, the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the New York Mets 3-1; the Philadelphia Phillies turned back the Montreal Expos 6-3; the Chicago Cubs beat the St. Louis Cardinals 11-6; the San Francisco Giants walloped the Houston Astros 9-4 and the San Diego Padres nipped the Atlanta Braves 10-9.

Gary Nolan, backed by the Cecil Cooper had this feeling, and about an hour later he sent the Baltimore Orioles reeling.

Cooper, a young batting star who has been overlooked in the hoopla over Boston rookie sensations Fred Lynn and Jim Rice, got the notion late in Tuesday night's American League East showdown between the Red Sox and the Baltimore Orioles that something big was going to happen.

"I'm not a home run hitter," says Cooper. "But I was in the clubhouse about the seventh or eighth inning and I told Reggie Cleveland and Luis Tiant that I was going to hit one."

He did, and he picked the right time for it. Cooper's blast leading off the 10th inning broke up a sparkling pitching duel between Boston's Rick Wise and Baltimore's Jim Palmer and gave the Red Sox a 3-2 victory, stretching their lead over the Orioles to seven games.

Elswhere in the American League, the New York Yankees blanked the Detroit Tigers 8-0, the Cleveland Indians whipped the Milwaukee Brewers 11-3, the Kansas City Royals edged the Chicago White Sox 5-4 in 10 innings and the Texas Rangers trimmed the California Angels 5-4.

Indians 11, Brewers 3
Buddy Bell knocked in two runs with a home run and a single and Duane Kuiper capped a four-run ninth inning with a bases-loaded single to pace the Indians.

Fritz Peterson, 11-7, was tagged for 10 hits in six innings but posted his seventh consecutive victory.

Royals 5, White Sox 4
Al Cowens belted a two-run triple in the 10th inning to give Kansas City its victory. John Mayberry and George Brett homered for KC, Jorge Orta for the White Sox. Mayberry's homer was his 30th.

Angels 4, Texas 3
Tom Grieve belted his 12th homer and knocked in three runs to help Texas beat the Angels, who suffered another blow when it was announced that pitching star Nolan Ryan would probably have to undergo surgery to remove bone chips from his right elbow. Ryan, who has complained of stiffness for the past eight days, was supposed to start tonight but has been lifted from the Angels rotation.

"I'm not a home run hitter," says Cooper. "But I was in the clubhouse about the seventh or eighth inning and I told Reggie Cleveland and Luis Tiant that I was going to hit one."

He did, and he picked the right time for it. Cooper's blast leading off the 10th inning broke up a sparkling pitching duel between Boston's Rick Wise and Baltimore's Jim Palmer and gave the Red Sox a 3-2 victory, stretching their lead over the Orioles to seven games.

Elswhere in the American League, the New York Yankees blanked the Detroit Tigers 8-0, the Cleveland Indians whipped the Milwaukee Brewers 11-3, the Kansas City Royals edged the Chicago White Sox 5-4 in 10 innings and the Texas Rangers trimmed the California Angels 5-4.

Indians 11, Brewers 3
Buddy Bell knocked in two runs with a home run and a single and Duane Kuiper capped a four-run ninth inning with a bases-loaded single to pace the Indians.

Fritz Peterson, 11-7, was tagged for 10 hits in six innings but posted his seventh consecutive victory.

Royals 5, White Sox 4
Al Cowens belted a two-run triple in the 10th inning to give Kansas City its victory. John Mayberry and George Brett homered for KC, Jorge Orta for the White Sox. Mayberry's homer was his 30th.

Angels 4, Texas 3
Tom Grieve belted his 12th homer and knocked in three runs to help Texas beat the Angels, who suffered another blow when it was announced that pitching star Nolan Ryan would probably have to undergo surgery to remove bone chips from his right elbow. Ryan, who has complained of stiffness for the past eight days, was supposed to start tonight but has been lifted from the Angels rotation.

Leland Key, 170, left guard; Richard Parra, 116, running back; and Reuben Gutierrez, 135, center, are the other offensive starters for Grady.

Vining and Wootan are working with a squad of 16 boys. The Tigers were 1-9 in their inaugural season. Their lone win came over Southland.

New bleachers, capable of seating 300, have been built at the Grady field, along with a new track. The Grady field has a fine stand of grass.

Rebels Face SWC Champs

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—Coach Ken Cooper's crystal ball goes foggy when he tries to find out how his 1975 Mississippi football team will fare against the powerful Baylor Bears. But he said that no matter who wins their season opener at Waco, Tex., Saturday night, "We're going over there to play the very best football game we can. We'll make an all-out effort to win it."

Cooper did see an overall improvement in the Rebels from a 1974 team which finished with a 3-8 record at the bottom of the Southeastern Conference. "We have better team leadership, more seniors specifically," he reflected. "We are an older football team and we are a little bit bigger, sturdier and more experienced than at this time last year."

The Baylor game will be the first-ever against the Bears and the earliest season opener in Rebel history.

Baylor, the defending Southwest Conference champion, is expected to shed some light on two dark areas of the Ole Miss team— who's the No. 1 quarterback and how an untested defensive secondary can perform against stiff opposition.

"We are not going to name a quarterback until close to game time," Cooper said.

George Plasketes, Stanley Bounds and Tim Ellis are good young quarterbacks and have made substantial progress this fall, he said. "We plan to start one and he's going to be the first quarterback. Of course, if we substitute a second offensive team, then we'll probably use a second quarterback."

The Rebels faced similar quarterback problems at the start of last season.

"Defensively we're pretty sturdy up front," Cooper said. "We've got senior Ben Williams at right tackle and he's looking good. Pete Robertson, a junior at left tackle, is back after missing most of last season."

He said the Rebels appeared solid at defensive end and he singled out seniors Bill Farris and Scott Steele and junior Gary Turner.

"Our linebackers are young but should be improved over last year," Cooper said.

He said the defensive secondary, hit by graduation, "is untested and we're just hoping that they will improve after they get some game experience."

Cooper said the Rebels had a solid offensive backfield with senior running backs Paul Hofer and James Reed, sophomore fullback James Storey and sophomore tailback Michael Sweet.

The Rebel coach said he had little doubts Ole Miss would be facing "an improved Baylor team Saturday. They're bigger, they have talent and of course they have the home field advantage."

"But we've practiced with a lot of enthusiasm and the team is looking forward to the season," he said. "We've practiced 25 times and it's time for us to play a game."

Cooper said the Rebels planned a "once-through" practice today before leaving for Texas. He said once in Waco, the team would work briefly on the artificial turf there.

ENTERTAIN REAGAN COUNTY 'Big Red' Out To Keep Winning Tradition Alive

Featuring its "Big Red" pride, Coahoma High opens the 1975 football season at home Friday against Reagan County in a non-conference contest. Game time is 8 p.m.

Last season on Reagan County's home field, Coahoma came out the winner for the first time in two years, 20-6. The Harris Poll rates Coahoma a one-point underdog.

The Bulldogs, under the guidance of first year Head Coach Charles Lynch, will be striving to keep their winning tradition alive. Last year, Coahoma was 7-2-1.

Coahoma will go with the I-formation as a switch was made from the wishbone late last season because of injuries. The Bulldogs will have a big backfield gap to fill in the graduation of Putt Choate, now a freshman member of Southern Methodist's grid squad.

Numerous Bulldog players will be seeing their first regular game under fire as the team features its thinnest depth in years.

Lynch has three offensive and four defensive starters back. They include: Offense—Gary Roberts, halfback; Ricky Patterson, fullback; and Mike Collier, moved from tight-end to back. All three are seniors and two-year lettermen.

Defense—Roberts, Oscar Padron, strong cornerback; Bill Jennings and Bobby Fryer, tackle. All, with the exception of Roberts, are one-year lettermen. Padron and Jennings are seniors and Fryer, a junior.

Coahoma, in its two pre-season game style scrimmages, split; losing against high-fiving Crane but winning over Stanton.

Reagan County went from first in 1973 to last in 1974 and ended with a 1-9 won-lost record. This year though the school coached by the highly successful Wilburn George is picked second behind 7-AA favorite Crane.

Leading the Reagan County charge includes Jennings Teel, quarterback; George Thompson and Don Thompson, halfbacks; Terry Jones, fullback; Kenneth Hartsell and Tommy Phillips, ends; Bodie Dykes, center; Jeff Lewis, Dennis Kruse and Chuck Hartel, tackles; and David Korbust, guard.

Teel is rated one of the premier AA field generals in the state.

Kelso, quick-guard — Terry Don Roberts; fullback — Thomas Marvin; split-end — Tom Higgins; quarterback — Charles Tindol; center — Padron; running back — Collier; and Gary Roberts.

Defense — Tackles — David Garlen and Jennings; ends — Patterson and Robert Spiller; linebackers — Kelso, Danny Thomas and Steve Kohanek; cornerbacks — Collier and Padron; safeties — Gary Roberts and Charles Tindol.

Injuries Increase In NFL

With a roll of bandage in one hand and a bottle of liniment in the other, the National Football League warily approaches the final two weeks of the exhibition season.

Front-line players have been falling with alarming frequency during the preseason games and several stars have sustained injuries that will finish them for the year.

Claude Humphrey of Atlanta, one of the league's top defensive linemen, is in the hospital with a torn-up knee. New Orleans' quarterback Archie Manning is out four-to-six weeks with a chipped bone in his elbow.

Tackle Tom Neville of New England is done for the year because of a broken bone in his foot. Miami safety Dick Anderson re-injured a knee in Monday night's game against Minnesota; and the Vikings, not to be outdone, lost one of their defensive secondary regulars, Jeff Wright, also with a banged-up knee.

They join a first-class list of defensive backs who are sidelined for the season. That group is headed by Buffalo All-Pro Robert James and includes Thom Darden of Cleveland, Steve Tannen of the New York Jets and Clarence Ellis of Denver.

Others lost for the season include quarterback Al Woodall and running back Bob Burns of the Jets, guard Pat Strydom of Cleveland, and running back Leon Crosswhite of New England.

Humphrey took a philosophical point-of-view about his injury. "It's a part of the game," he said. "Like chewing gum or running touch-downs."

His loss dented Atlanta's chances for a comeback from last year's sad season. "His greatness will be missed," said Falcons' Coach Marion Campbell. "He had been super, having a fantastic summer."

That was the same story for Manning, who damaged his elbow when he dove into the end zone and put his left hand out to break his fall.

Meet Conducted At Lake Hubbard

An August Team Tournament was conducted by the Big Spring Bass Club last week at Lake Hubbard.

The results: 1. Johnny Ward and Jackie Touchstone, $50 and trophy; 2. Charles Burdette and Ed Hall, $30; 3. Jerry Avery and Vic Keyes, $25.

This month's tournament will be held Sept. 13 and 14 at Lake Oak Creek with headquarters at Live Oak Lodge.

The next scheduled club meeting is set for Thursday, Sept. 11 at the Howard College Horace Garrett Building.

Judge Revises College Rules

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—"The big thing is that it will even it up for everybody." Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant of Alabama said after a federal judge revised new rules on the size of football teams Wednesday night.

The judge threw out an Aug. 15 ruling adopted at a special convention of the National Collegiate Athletic Association that limited travel squads to 48 members and home squads to 60.

This rule, said U.S. District Court Judge Sam C. Pointer, was contrary to the NCAA's bylaws which indicate that all rules "be in line with fair competition."

Pointer changed it to allow each opponent to field 60 players in a game and extended his temporary order to all NCAA members, although the suit had been brought by the University of Alabama.

His ruling is effective immediately.

An attorney for the NCAA said after the four-hour hearing that he was sure everyone will abide by the order and that any further steps would be up to the NCAA after it studied the matter.

Colorado City Eyes 1975 With Cautious Optimism

The Colorado City Wolves were picked for third in their district in one poll and they are hoping for a victory in their opener in Slaton Friday at 8 p.m.

Slaton slings praise in the direction of halfback Bill McCleskey, 6-2, 202. "He'll be one of the premium ball carriers in this area and is definitely Southwest Conference material," said Head Coach Eddie Cook.

Coach Mike Farda of Colorado City has the right to be optimistic, however, after the Wolves defeated Crane in a scrimmage 2-0 and piled up an impressive 224 yards on offense.

One reason is Fullback Bill Everett, who can rip up the middle, as well as the running backs, Robert Rivera and Manuel Arellano. Ray Torrez holds down the quarterback slot.

Slaton will have six offensive and seven defensive starters return from a 3-7 team. They belong to 5AA.

Colorado City is in 6AA. Coach Farda and his assistants, Mike Hart, Robert Damron, Mike Easterwood and Lonnie Knis are eyeing the season with cautious optimism. Farda is an old Mojo from the early 60s with his college days spent at Angelo State and he admits that he "likes to win."

Ponies Host Garden City

Two experienced teams will go battle at Sands in Ackerly Friday at 8 p.m. when the Sands Mustangs host the Garden City Bearcats in the season opener for both squads.

The Mustangs, coached by Bert Leaverton have 19 lettermen including seven seniors and they hope to better their last season record of 2-8.

Garden City, coached by Greg Henderson has 11 lettermen and a completely experienced backfield and experience at the tackle position.

The Bearcats have been seeking new talent in the linebacker position as graduation removed their experience in this spot. They have scrimmaged Grandfalls and Ozona J.V.s.

Senior backs at Sands include Andy Anderson, left back, Frosty Floyd, halfback, Neal Grigg and Lynn Wigginton, also halfbacks.

Both teams and coaches are hoping for a win to gain a little momentum for a better season than they experienced last year.

FACE 'MYSTERY TEAM' Buffaloes Start Season On Road Against Tahoka

Stanton Coach Bob Richardson knows what his Stanton Buffaloes can do on the football field, but he isn't sure what the Tahoka Bulldogs are capable of producing. He will find out Friday night in Tahoka when the Buffaloes and Bulldogs collide at 8 p.m.

The Buffaloes will be coming off two hard scrimmages, against Iraan and Coahoma, while Tahoka has scrimmaged McCamey and only ran 13 plays at New Deal in a 30-minute scrimmage last Friday.

Tahoka has not shown much in either scrimmage, so Stanton's Buffaloes will be taking on somewhat of a "Mystery Team" Friday night. About the only things Richardson expects from Tahoka is a pass-oriented offense and a tough ball game.

"Tahoka will be a much improved team from the bunch we beat last season, and it will take a good effort from our boys to beat them.

We are a little insulted that Tahoka thinks so little of our team that they only run 13 plays to prepare for us," Richardson concluded.

Stanton should be ready to play, according to the first-year head mentor, following a good showing at Coahoma last Friday. Coahoma tallied four times against the Buffs, while SHS made it into the end zone two times. Two of the Coahoma squad's scores came on a mixture of the first and second string Buffalo units.

Senior quarterback Gary Henson, a fine ball handler and runner, and All South Plains fullback Elvin Brown, 6-2 186-pounds, will lead the Buffs offensively, behind a line led by junior Tim Glynn, rated as one of the top linemen in West Texas.

Defensively Brown and linebacker Alan Douglas will anchor an experienced group, which has given up yards grudgingly in pre-season play.

OU QUARTERBACK Davis Excited About Offense

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Quarterback Steve Davis of the top-ranked Oklahoma football team says he's "really excited about our offense. We're mature. We've got more speed and quickness than we've ever had."

This was Davis' way of telling the Sooners' 11 opponents in a polite way they'd better be prepared for Oklahoma.

"Right now," Davis continued Wednesday, "we're in the interim period. Pretty soon, we'll get Oregon on our minds real quick."

The Sooners, who haven't been beaten in 29 straight games, open their campaign Sept. 13 against Oregon.

"I hope we play like sophomores," said Davis, a senior. "Sophomores are always scared of being unprepared. Most of us are seniors, and we don't want to be nice seniors."

Davis, a licensed Baptist preacher, said he lost seven pounds during the summer and is down to 180 pounds.

"I decided I'd rather outrun some of those big guys," Davis said, "than get hit by them."

Davis hasn't been hit since last Nov. 30 when the Sooners whipped Oklahoma State 44-13. Oklahoma Coach Barry Switzer doesn't scrimmage his super stars, and Davis is one of them. So are running back Joe Washington and the Selmon brothers, Dewey, the middle guard, and Leroy, a defensive tackle.

"They've earned the right not to have to scrimmage," said Switzer. "The squad understands this. They don't want one of these players to get injured any more than I do."

Davis said that Joe Washington gets hurt, "I'll have a heart attack, and so will half the upper deck."

Switzer said Washington, who gained 1,321 yards during the probation-stricken Sooners' 11-0 campaign a year ago, "will carry the ball as much as he wants to carry it" this season in order to give the elusive star a shot at the Heisman Trophy.

Arkansas Shows Good Endurance

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles said Wednesday that many of his Razorbacks have shown good endurance during practice, including defensive tackle Harvey Hampton.

"He has had a problem with endurance and I believe he has finally won the battle," said Broyles.

"Yesterday (Tuesday) he was going full speed on the first play as well as the last play."

Broyles also said nose guard Mike Campbell has played every down in recent weeks because his alternate was injured, but he "held up well through the tremendous heat."

He said his second offensive line played without substitution through an entire practice this week and gave the first defense a good look at the wishbone.

Broyles said veteran Teddy Barnes, who was moved to wide receiver this year, has adjusted well, and has dropped 15 to 20 pounds and regained his quickness.

Flour Amounts Vary In Recipes

There is usually a slight variance in the amount of flour needed for bread recipes. Flour differences depend on brands, types and weather. So always start with slightly less flour, say 1/4 cup, than the recipe calls for. Then add as needed. You can always add more flour. This difference will show more in yeast doughs than in baking powder doughs.

Daughter, When Lonely, Has To Sleep With Dad

DEAR ABBY: My brother's wife recently died leaving him with a 13-year-old daughter.

When the child feels unhappy, afraid or lonely, or when there are houseguests and a shortage of beds, her father allows her to sleep with him. (This occurs every two weeks.)

He says he doesn't want her to grow up remembering that her father made her stay alone at night when she was blue or upset. He worries about her emotional security as she has demonstrated a fear of losing her parents since she was adopted as an infant.

The recent death of her mother was very traumatic for her. Could you or your readers offer some experiences that would enlighten this father or me?

DEAR SIS: Under NO circumstances should a 13-year-old girl be sleeping with her father. In fact, my psychiatric consultants state that beyond the age of four, no child should sleep with a parent of the opposite sex. If your brother tries to justify his actions, he desperately needs professional help.

No doubt he is also lonely, but substituting his daughter for his wife (which he could unconsciously be doing) is sick.

DEAR ABBY: Recently I had dinner at an expensive restaurant and the total bill (for eight people) came to $60.

When the waiter handed me the bill he whispered, "A 10 per cent tip is not included in the bill."

Is it proper for a waiter to try to hustle a tip this way? He caught me off guard.

WONDERING: DEAR WONDERING: It was not only "improper" but a good way for the waiter to lose his job. You would have done him a favor had you warned him of the consequences.

Craft Club Has Meeting

The Newcomer's Handicraft Club met Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Jane Kelley, 162B Fairchild Drive. The club received a new member, Mrs. Susie Ramirez, and welcomed a guest, Mrs. Pat Radcliff.

Refreshments were furnished by Mrs. Kelley and Mrs. Karen DeLa Rosa.

A committee was appointed to be in charge of the bicentennial quilt project. The members are Mrs. Kelley, Mrs. Kathy Foster, Mrs. DeLa Rosa and Mrs. Sharon Donaghe.

Mrs. Donaghe was elected treasurer to fill the vacant office of Mrs. Connie Scasny who resigned.

Dough art was demonstrated to the club by Mrs. Suzanne Curotto.

The next meeting will be at 7 p.m. Sept. 16 at the First Federal Community Room. Hostesses will be Mrs. Sylvia Acosta and Mrs. Ester Abreo. Mrs. Stella DeLa Paz and Mrs. Curotto will demonstrate crackle art.

For more information contact Mrs. Stella DeLa Paz at 3-8169, Mrs. Suzanne Curotto at 7-5490 or Mrs. Sharon Donaghe at 3-2884.

Girl Still At Large

A 14-year-old Snyder girl who escaped from Mitchell County jail Tuesday night was still at large this morning, according to Sheriff Bill McGuire.

Sheriff McGuire was taking a 15-year-old Houston girl to the airport in Midland this morning to send her to Houston authorities. She was also involved in the escape.

The two girls had used eye-bolts, kicked loose from a protective screen to snap strands in a metal screen covering a window. After opening a hole in the screen, they broke the window and squeezed through the opening.

They were reported missing at 8 a.m. Wednesday. The newly-completed juvenile section is being used by Scurry, Fisher and Nolan counties as well as Mitchell. It was completed about six months ago.

The Houston juvenile was picked up at Lake Champion south of Colorado City by Sheriff McGuire and Deputy Ann Martin.

HOUSTON ENROLLMENT Black Pupils Outnumber Whites For First Time

HOUSTON (AP) — Black pupils outnumber the whites in the Houston Independent School District for the first time in the history of the district.

Second day enrollment figures Wednesday showed the total included 78,800 blacks, 75,459 whites and 37,663 Mexican-Americans.

Supt. Billy Reagan said the rise in black and Mexican-American pupils is a "continuing trend." He said it is indicative of increasing birth rates among minorities instead of increasing flight of white pupils to suburban school districts.

The district for several years has been a minority school district with the majority composed of blacks and Mexican-Americans.

However, the figure released late Wednesday is

Says School Integration Slowed Flight Of Whites

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — School integration may have slowed the decade-long flight of whites from Northern cities to the suburbs rather than speeded the exodus, a Boston University researcher says.

Prof. Christine Rossell's report, based on percentages of white pupils in urban schools for several years before and after school desegregation, suggests that whites leave the cities in far fewer numbers after desegregation has been completed than before it began.

Her findings were presented Wednesday at the American Political Science Association meeting in San Francisco. She conducted her research while at the University of Maryland.

She said the data gathered from federal statistics and direct contact with 113 Northern school districts with 3,000 or more black pupils indicated white flight had dwindled to a trickle in most cases. Dr. Rossell said other social trends — not school desegregation — were to blame for whatever exodus continued. "School desegregation rarely results in significant white flight," she said.

She said that when integration does seem to increase the decline in white enrollment, "it is a temporary phenomenon."

"Indeed, for the high desegregating school districts, the rate of decline by the end of the third year tends to be much lower than any other group."

Dr. Rossell said the number of white pupils dropped nearly 6 per cent in Pontiac, Mich., in the year following a court-ordered desegregation move in 1971 that was marred by violence.

In the ensuing two years, white flight was less than one half of one cent, a rate lower than in any of the seven years before integration.

She said Berkeley, Calif., lost nearly 2 per cent of its white pupils when schools integrated in 1968, but the white percentage increased 2 and 3 per cent in the third and fourth year, respectively, after integration.

She said that of the 113 school districts studied, only Pontiac and Pasadena, Calif., which lost 4 per cent of its white pupils, experienced a significant degree of white flight in the year following desegregation.

She rejected contentions that white flight was promoting more racial isolation and suggested that desegregation battles increased voter turnout and community awareness.

CHRISTINE ROSSELL Boston University Professor

Although the data does not prove there is greater social integration among races because of major school desegregation, "the opposite conclusion is not warranted either," she said.

Farm Tour Scheduled

A variety of agricultural practices will be studied in a tour slated here Sept. 12 by the Howard County Rural Area Development Committee.

This committee is composed of representatives of local U.S. Department of Agriculture agency representatives, including the Farm Home Administration, Soil Conservation Service, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service and Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

After a brief tour of the U.S. Big Spring Experiment Station, the group will leave by bus to view farms in the county, Bruce Griffith, county extension agent, said.

Cotton varieties demonstrations, narrow row cotton, sunflowers, range reseeding, grain sorghum varieties, terrace rebuilding and a house built with an Farm Home Administration loan will be discussed.

Coffee and donuts supplied by the Howard Soil and Water Conservation District board will be enjoyed from 8:30 a.m. to 9 at the station. And the tour will conclude at the station at noon.

Jim Owens, agriculture instructor at Howard College, will drive a college bus for the tour.

Flash Fire Kills Worker In Baytown Refinery

BAYTOWN, Tex. (AP) — Authorities sought today the cause of a flash fire that killed one man and injured three others in a processing unit of the Exxon Co. USA refinery here.

An Exxon spokesman said the body of an employee of Dan Love, Inc., contractors of Pasadena, Tex., apparently was killed when the fire started Wednesday night.

The body, discovered late in the night, was not identified at once. The spokesman said firefighters brought the flames under control in about two hours.

Daniel Rouse of Highlands, another contract employee, was admitted to a Baytown hospital with ankle injuries and a fractured heel. Two firefighters were treated and dismissed. The Exxon spokesman said the contract workers were doing maintenance work in a crude oil processing unit of the refinery when the hydrocarbon flash fire occurred. He said its cause had not been determined.

REAL LIFE DRAMA

My Fair Runaway

LONDON (AP) — In the latest high school version of "My Fair Lady" enacted in Britain, a 16-year-old Liza Doolittle has eloped with a 15-year-old bit player. The worried parents of both teenagers are searching the country for them.

Teressa Giggins was the star of the school play in Luton, north of London, and David Duncan had only a small walk-on part as a bystander in a crowd scene. But he got the girl in the real life drama.

Parents said the couple fell in love behind the scenes and that David had secretly bought Teressa an engagement ring for $55. Teressa wrote her parents a note saying, "We love each other, and we are going away. Please don't try to find us. I love you both."

Police in London and in Edinburgh, Scotland, were alerted to search for the runaways. David's father, toolmaker Herbert Duncan, 57, told newsmen in Luton Tuesday night he was preparing to go to Scotland to join the search.

"I don't know if the romance in the play went to their heads," he said, "but they have really fallen for each other. We are desperately worried about them. They are still children."

Apples Every Day With Abundant Crop

Have you ever seen an apple orchard in September? What hustling and bustling fills the orchard as harvesting of the new crop begins. This activity will be greater than average this autumn since a bumper apple crop is expected, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA).

Already early varieties of apples are arriving at local markets, according to market news reporters of USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service.

These include such popular favorites as McIntosh, Red Delicious, Golden Delicious, Jonathan, Cortland, Grimes Golden and Northern Spy.

Many of the new crop apples are coming from Georgia, the Carolinas, Arkansas, Missouri and Colorado.

"Quality of the new crop apples is unusually good this season," says William D. McCauley, the USDA-AMS fruit and vegetable market news reporter covering the Dallas wholesale terminal market.

Peak of the apple season is usually in October, but September supplies are expected to run heavier than average since the crop is estimated at 7.3 billion pounds — 13 per cent above the 1974 utilized production and 17 per cent above 1973.

Red Delicious continues as the leading apple variety in this country, accounting for a third of the 1975 expected production.

There have been more than 8,000 named apple varieties in history — more than 2,500 in America alone. However, American growers in recent years have concentrated their production on a scant few of these, primarily because American consumers have shown preference for these few throughout the years.

In fact, six varieties account for 77 per cent of the 1975 apple crop. Here are the six varieties with some facts which help account for their popularity.

Red Delicious — sweetest of all eating varieties; medium to large size, deep red color with five knobs on blossom end; firm, tender and fragrant; use raw.

Golden Delicious — number two in volume production; popular for fresh eating, salads and culinary purposes; stays white longer naturally than most apples when sliced or diced for appetizers and salads; a little more tart than Red Delicious.

McIntosh — an attractive two-toned red and green; mildly tart and spritely; very tender, juicy, crisp and fragrant; use raw and in general cooking.

Rome Beauty — a large firm red apple, slightly tart, outstanding for baking and other culinary purposes, but also a good fresh eating apple when mellow.

Jonathan — bright red, mildly tart, rich in flavor, tender, crisp and fragrant.

York Imperial — firm fleshed, mildly tart, two-toned red and green; use mostly for culinary purposes but good for salad and all fresh uses.

Enjoy the fragrance, flavor and freshness of the new apple crop. Fill a large basket of several varieties. Baskets allow the air to circulate better and the apples keep longer at room temperatures. What a colorful and fragrant accessory a basket of apples makes for your coffee table!

APPLE-VEAL SALAD GENEVA — Combine leftover meat, apples, celery and broccoli to get a European style salad that is a complete meal.

Apples Star In Salads, Side Dishes

Of European origin, both of today's salads feature fresh, unpared Washington apples with leftover meat. The Apple-Veal Salad Geneva marinates apples, veal and celery in French dressing, then combines this with cooked and marinated broccoli. The result is a very nutritious, very colorful, low-calorie salad — a complete meal in itself.

Our Scandinavian Apple-Meat Salad blends these two ingredients with cooked diced potatoes and beets, sparks them with minced sweet pickle and capers. This is served with a tangy oil and vinegar flavored with mustard. Rather of the tart-sweet type, it's an excellent salad to serve with a hot soup and crusty bread.

APPLE-VEAL SALAD GENEVA

2 c. sliced celery

Place greens on individual plates, arrange veal-apple-celery mixture, then top with marinated broccoli. Serve with additional French dressing. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Ammonia Fumes Send 60 Persons To Hospitals

TEXAS CITY, Tex. (AP) — More than 40 persons remained in area hospitals today after becoming ill as ammonia fumes leaked from a ruptured transmission line at a pipeline company.

The accident at the Amoco Pipe Line Co. Wednesday also forced evacuation of a 32-block area, including a school and several homes. At least 60 persons were taken to hospitals. None was reported in critical condition and many were treated and dismissed. Police and firefighters evacuated the area and maintained a blockade for about three hours until the leak was patched. Max W. Black, physician in charge of a Danforth Memorial Hospital. Hospital emergency team, said medical personnel was able to respond quickly. He said four respiratory therapists were in a meeting at the hospital when the accident occurred.

Danforth admitted 34 patients and 13 were admitted at Galveston Memorial Hospital. Seven persons were in intensive care units at Danforth Wednesday night.

Most of the injured were industrial workers or firemen. "It was like someone raking your lungs with claws," said C.C. Young, a Texas City firefighter who blacked out while the department sprayed water on the line to contain the fumes. "At this time we do not know too much about the nature of the leak," Lawrence Durland, Amoco plant manager, said.

DEFENSE LAWYERS WIN ONE, LOSE ONE, DRAW ONE

Adjourn Impeachment Trial Of Judge Carrillo

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Lawyers for District Judge O.P. Carrillo won one, lost one and gained a draw Wednesday in his impeachment trial.

The draw was the decision of Texas' 31 senator-jurors to adjourn the trial until Sept. 29 to avoid a conflict with a federal tax evasion case against Carrillo and his brother, Ramiro, in Corpus Christi Monday.

Carrillo's lawyer, Arthur Mitchell, had sought an indefinite postponement, but he withdrew his motion after the Senate granted the lengthy adjournment and also agreed to extend it day-by-day after Sept. 29, if necessary.

Carrillo, 51, was suspended from office, pending his Senate trial, after the House approved 10 of 11 impeachment articles against him Aug. 4-5.

He was accused of using Duval County money to buy his groceries; of using county workers and equipment at his ranch and store for private gain; of refusing to disqualify himself in legal matters in which he had a personal interest; and of trying to dominate the grand jury and Benavides school board.

Special state counsel Leon Jaworski, the former Watergate prosecutor, had an apparent role in Carrillo's victory, arguing persuasively that the Senate should be required to prove Carrillo's guilt "beyond a reasonable doubt."

At a meeting of the Senate Administration Committee, chief prosecutor Terry Doyle objected that no such standard had ever been applied in any impeachment case in this country.

"It is the heaviest burden in the law," said Doyle, a former Port Arthur House member.

BOY DIES

Bubonic Plague

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — A massive flea-killing campaign is under way in central New Mexico following the death of a 14-year-old boy from a wild, infectious form of bubonic plague.

State health officials say a dog or cat probably picked up a plague-infested flea that gave the disease to William R. Handley, who died Monday in San Francisco.

The boy, from California, had been visiting grandparents in the Tijeras Canyon area east of Albuquerque when he caught the disease.

Dr. Victor Zalma, state Health Agency director, said Wednesday the cause of death was pneumonic plague, an advanced stage of the disease that can spread from person to person.

Zalma said the teen-ager had spent the summer with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Grenko, at Carlito Springs, a village in Tijeras Canyon. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Handley of California.

Zalma said the case involves "the same old story we've been seeing around here lately."

"There were family dogs and cats in the area and one of them may have brought a plague-infested flea home from a dead rabbit or squirrel."

Officials said animals are being trapped in the area to determine the source of the plague, and bait traps loaded with insecticide dust are being distributed.

Neil Weber of the New Mexico Environmental Improvement Agency said the boy got the disease about Aug. 25, and left the state three or four days later.

Plague, in its bubonic form, is spread by fleas carried mostly by rodents. Humans can get the disease by contact with the flea or rodent.

In the advanced, pneumonic stage, however, it is spread by the victim's breath and hacking cough. Officials say the disease caused the epidemics of "black death" that destroyed about one-third of the population of Europe in the 1300s.

Pneumonic plague has a shorter incubation period than bubonic, Weber said. Bubonic symptoms usually appear in two to six days, while the effects of pneumonic plague appear in two days, he said.

Handley's death is the second caused by plague this year in New Mexico, where state officials say it is endemic.

Three-year-old Charlene Brown of Rehoboth died Aug. 4 of bubonic plague.

Zalma said he learned of the plague case late Tuesday from California health officials. He said, "the boy did not show the usual signs of the disease when he became ill."

He said diagnosis came too late for antibiotics to be effective.

Handley was treated first at the emergency room of an Albuquerque hospital, Zalma said, but the problem was not diagnosed as plague.

Weber said "plague presents problems of diagnosis because 'sometimes it has typical symptoms and some they're atypical.'"

Cases rarely reach the pneumonic stage because "in most instances they are diagnosed and treated. If they're treated, they are stopped before they get worse."

He said why some victims die before bubonic plague moves into the lungs is something "we don't know. Sometimes it occurs and sometimes it doesn't."

Weber said "it is highly unlikely we'll have another case of pneumonic plague" stemming from the Handley death. But he said extensive precautions are being taken in New Mexico and California.

"There was a very thorough interview with all family members he was with and we determined where he had been during the time" before his death.

"We will be contacting everybody who might have had any possible contact with the individual and determine the degree of exposure," he said.

Anyone in contact with young Handley either will be kept under observation for symptoms or will be treated with antibiotics that are effective in stopping plague, he said.

U.S. 'Failed To Bargain Tough,' Claims Bentsen

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States "failed to bargain tough" at the recent Helsinki conference because of an emphasis on detente, Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., has told the Overseas Press Club here.

Bentsen also said the country was attempting to solve its energy problems by improving relations with Arab nations rather than by developing suppliers outside the Arab world.

"Other countries need our trade, our scientific know-how and our managerial expertise and our investments. We need their markets and their raw materials that our industrial economy requires — including their oil," the Democratic presidential hopeful said Wednesday.

Bentsen said the preoccupation with detente and personal diplomacy has led the United States into a "chaotic" foreign economic policy.

"Great as his powers are, Henry Kissinger can no more concentrate on every problem of foreign policy than Casanova could climb over every balcony in Venice," Bentsen said.

He charged that this left foreign economic policy to be shaped "not systematically, but almost by accident, in an atmosphere of bickering and chaos" among the various executive departments.

Bentsen was sounding a theme he said would be a keynote of his campaign.

"I was in the financial field for 15 years," the first-term

Texas senator said, "and I think this country's major problems in the coming years will be financial."

Bentsen especially criticized the administration's response to a Canadian decision to cut back oil exports.

"For that decision to have caught our government virtually unaware is a harsh comment on our foreign economic policy leadership," he said.

Observers of the fuel supply situation contested Bentsen's assertion that "the Canadian government has shown some interest in an arrangement" to increase exports. They said Canada has very little oil to spare.

OIL PRICE CONTROLS FIGHT Congress Will Succeed In Overriding Veto?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Saying President Ford wants no compromise, the House Democratic leader declared today that Congress will override Ford's veto of a bill extending oil price controls and take the initiative in drawing up a national energy policy.

"If the Senate votes to override, there is no question in my mind that we (the House) will override," said Democratic Leader Thomas P. "Tip" O'Neill Jr., of Massachusetts. "I believe Congress is going to override the President's veto."

Ford has promised to veto the price-control extension and was expected to do so later in the day. Meanwhile, Senate Democrats were expected to decide at a caucus today to defer compromise talks until after they attempt to override the veto.

O'Neill appeared with House Republican Leader John J. Rhodes of Arizona on NBC-TV's "Today Show." Rhodes argued that Democrats should be "making some sort of agreement with the White House."

He was critical of House Democratic leaders who decided Wednesday to await the outcome of override votes before they forward their own program or seek a possible compromise with the President.

He told O'Neill, "You can't negotiate because you don't have a position."

"The President of the United States does not want to compromise," O'Neill countered. He accused Ford of "playing politics" with the energy issue. "He won't get off dead center. We will have the ball after we vote to override."

But columnist Jack Anderson, on the ABC-TV's "AM America" program, said Ford had offered a compromise to Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and House Speaker Carl Albert during discussions last Friday about a possible compromise.

Anderson said Ford's offer would reduce new oil from $13.50 to $11.50 per barrel, with controls being phased out over a 39-month period. New oil is oil brought into production since 1972.

But O'Neill said Mansfield, Albert and Ford had not reached any agreement and that the Ford plan was the same one the President had offered — and Congress had refused — before.

The Democrats reason that if they are able to override the veto, Congress clearly will hold the upper hand on setting an energy policy — at least until next March 1 when any six-month extension expires.

The veto marks another phase in the eight-month-old battle between Congress and Ford over setting a national energy policy.

Ford, in an effort to cut U.S. reliance on oil imports, wants to raise fuel prices to force conservation and pay for seeking new energy.

The Democratic majority in Congress opposes that plan on grounds it would worsen inflation and unemployment. The Democrats generally favor mandatory conservation, such as requiring automakers to manufacture cars that use less gasoline.

The 1973 law that provided government authority for controlling oil prices expired Aug. 31. Under the expired law, the Federal Energy Administration had held to $5.25 a barrel the price of 60 percent of the oil produced in the United States. The remaining 40 per cent sold at the world-market level of $13.50.

While the oil industry now is free to raise prices to any level, most oil companies are holding back until the future of price controls is decided.

In an earlier effort to compromise with Congress, Ford proposed to phase out controls over a 39-month period, during which time prices would be allowed to rise gradually. The House rejected that proposal on July 30. But if efforts to override the veto fail, the 39-month phase-out is expected to be offered again.

Meanwhile, the U.S. Bureau of Mines reported Wednesday that Soviet oil production surpassed the United States' output in 1974 for the first time, making the Soviets the world's leading oil producer.

Soviet production of crude oil and field condensate, a related product, increased 9 per cent to 3.4 billion barrels last year while U.S. production dropped 5 per cent to 3.2 billion barrels.

The Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC), whose members include the Arab oil-producing nations, saw their annual production slip from 11.3 billion barrels in 1973 to 11.2 billion in 1974.

Registration for the events begins at 1 p.m. and competition commences at 2 p.m. Entry fee is $5.00 per student.

Events include barrel racing, pole bending, flag racing, and potato racing.
