

Secret Service Reviews Presidential Security

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Secret Service official said Saturday no dramatic changes are planned in presidential security arrangements as a result of the assassination attempt on President Ford in Sacramento on Friday.

But spokesman Jack Warner said it is the service's desire that Ford not mingle in large crowds, which has been his habit both in Washington and in out-of-town trips.

Ford, meanwhile, seemed unshaken by his near-brush with death and carried on business as usual Saturday. He met with Democratic senators on energy, arranged a golf game and an appearance at a party for two military staff members who are being promoted in rank.

"We are reviewing the Sacramento matter," Warner said. "But we are always reviewing our protection procedures for the President."

He said he felt presidential protection was adequate in Sacramento, where an agent thwarted an attempt by Lynette Alice Fromme, 26, to shoot the President with a .45-caliber pistol.

Warner declined to discuss numbers of Secret Service personnel assigned to the President at any given time but added: "We are not anticipating any dramatic changes in our methods of providing security."

There was no beef-up in security for the President as he traveled by car Saturday from the White House to Burning Tree Country Club in nearby Bethesda, Md., to play in a golf tournament.

What bothers the Secret Service most is that Ford loves to waste into crowds and shake hands. He can't resist the cry of "Mr. President, come over here."

He was doing just that on a Sacramento street when Miss Fromme, standing just three feet away, pointed a pistol at his chest. This is in contrast to his predecessor, Richard Nixon, who made the Secret Service job easier by not mingling too often with crowds.

"It has been a long-term Secret Service desire that those we protect do not expose themselves to crowds or a large segment of the population," Warner said.

Asked if the Secret Service would suggest that Ford cut down on his crowd-pleasing activity, Warner said that is an answer the White House would have to provide.

A White House spokesman said Ford apparently will make no fundamental changes and that the President had provided his own answer on Friday when he stated: "I'm going to continue to have that personal contact with the American people. In my judgment it's vital for an American president to see the American people and I intend to carry it on."

"This incident under no circumstances will prevent me or preclude me from contacting the American people as I travel from one state to another and from one community to another."

When Ford is in public, he regularly shakes hands with crowds of people lined at airports, near his hotel, and auditoriums and elsewhere. Secret Service agents provide an envelope of security around him, but Ford has a habit of making sudden moves toward groups of people, which sometimes throws his protectors off stride.

There was a noticeable tightening of security in Sacramento after the incident Friday. When he left his hotel for the airport, two large press buses were parked across the street, partially blocking the view of a crowd of about 300.

At the airport, the presidential limousine drove right up to the Air Force One ramp, and the President climbed aboard immediately, although he might have been itching to shake hands with some of several thousand people assembled to bid him farewell. Whether this kind of protection will continue will be seen in a great number of trips the President plans in the next few weeks. This week Ford plans journeys into New Hampshire, Missouri and Texas and the following week he will be back in California.

White House officials said they did not expect any change in plans to announce Ford's itineraries in advance.

They note this would be difficult to do, especially with an election year coming up.

Authorities in Dallas also said there are no plans to alter the President's visit Saturday.

DONATIONS CONTINUE

Late donations to the Big Spring High School Bible fund brought the total to $6,436.20, well past the goal of $6,000 set by the sponsoring organization, the Howard County Ministerial Association.

The campaign officially ended Sept. 1 but friends of the Bible classes, late in responding to the appeal, asked to be included in the campaign.

Latest donations included:
 Chaplain, Mrs. C. O. Hill, memory Boone Horne 5.00
 Mrs. C. B. Lawrence 100.00
 Mrs. Charles R. Boland 10.00
 Zula Barber 10.00

LYNETTE FROMME Faces Attempted Murder Rap

'Why Did Squeaky Do It?'

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Lynette Alice Fromme got up early the day President Ford was in town and left her small apartment without talking to her roommate and friends.

She spent the next night in jail — held in lieu of $1 million bond on a charge of attempted assassination of Ford.

It was not unusual to find Miss Fromme gone when she got up, said Sandra Good, who like Miss Fromme wears a red hooded robe signifying they are nuns in the clan of convicted mass murderer Charles Manson.

The night before, Thursday night, the girls had seen Ford's arrival on television. They remarked that the crowds watched "like sheep," and they asked each other, "How long can this go on?"

By "this," they meant "the pollution of the earth. He (Ford) is holding up the big corporate polluters," explained Miss Good later in melodious voice and perfect diction.

Friday morning Miss Fromme, 26, was at the state Capitol. She asked a uniformed policeman if the roped-off area was indeed where the President would walk to the Capitol. The officer did not say.

Nearby, 14-year-old Karen Skelton remembered the lady in the red dress who said to her, "Oh, it's a beautiful day."

Said Karen: "She looked like a Gypsy."

Stephanie Malaspino, 24, saw the woman standing "calm and poised" while others began cheering. The woman asked, "Is he coming?"

Another witness, who declined to be named, said the woman's eyes "looked glassy. She just didn't look normal. But then, there are so many weirdos around."

President Ford came shaking hands along the rope. As he explained later, he saw a hand and "there was a gun in that hand."

A Secret Service man wrenched away the Army Colt .45 pistol. They said it had four cartridges in the clip but none in the chamber.

Miss Fromme, who Manson called "Squeaky," was charged with trying to kill the President.

Back at the apartment Miss Good, 30, said she was in bed when she learned of the event by telephone. She was taken in for questioning and released.

Later, while FBI agents searched their third-floor rooms, Miss Good sat on the lawn of the tree-shaded Victorian house eight blocks from the Capitol and told reporters she had no idea of Squeaky's plans.

She said she didn't even know her roommate had a gun.

"I guess she got it this morning," she said.

But she said she had no idea where, although she said the two had lots of friends who might have guns and know how to use them.

She said she and Miss Fromme "work to save the earth to get another courtroom for Manson." Now, with Miss Fromme in jail, "all the weight of the world is on my shoulders," she said.

This means writing many letters, she said. And legal documents.

"Unless Manson gets a court order and is allowed to speak, the country will be bloodier than the Tate-LaBianca houses put together," she said. The reference was to murders for which some members of the Manson clan were convicted.

Why did Squeaky do it? "She was moved to do what she did and you'll have to talk to her to find out why," said Miss Good. "I can't speak for her."

"I know we're very sensitive to what's going on in this country right now and we see that there's no leadership ... We must let Manson up. When it starts getting crazy, when the money won't spend, you better let him up. You're going to need him."

Re-entering the house, she turned and said, "I haven't answered your questions. But let me tell you this: All the heads of corporations which are polluting the earth will be assassinated."

By whom? "By the international people's corps of retribution," she said. "People are fed up." Then she hurried away.

State Law Regulating Mobile Homes Upheld

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A new state law aimed at regulating the mobile home industry in Texas, passed at the insistence of Atty. Gen. John Hill, has been upheld by State District Court Judge Herman Jones.

The key provision of the act requires mobile home manufacturers and dealers to obtain performance bonds backing up their warranties.

Jones denied an injunction sought by the Texas Mobile Home Association, which immediately said it would appeal.

Jones said at the end of the three-day court hearing Friday that while he could find no reason to overturn the tough new mobile home law, he did feel society has "relied too much on government action to remedy bad conditions."

"I am afraid that by over-coddling customers, we are making children out of them," Jones said.

Witnesses and lawyers for the mobile home industry said the bonding requirement is too harsh — $100,000 for manufacturers and $25,000 for dealers — and insurance companies have made it more so by insisting on large cash deposits in addition to sizeable premiums.

More than half of the state's dealers had not obtained bonds by the time Jones ruled. Most manufacturers, however, had been bonded.

Atty. Gen. John Hill personally handled the state's case. He contended the bonds are necessary to give mobile home buyers funds for repairs if makers or dealers leave business while their warranties are in force.

Fight Sends Fem To Hospital, Man To Jail

An apparent scuffle between a Big Spring man and woman in an automobile over a .22 caliber rifle sent the woman to a local hospital and the man to jail about 3 p.m. Saturday.

Francis Brown, 32, Northcrest Apts., reported she was driving a car with the man riding on the passenger side of the vehicle. She said they had an argument and he shot her in the right thigh with the gun while they were stopped at 900 NW 4th.

They were both taken to Malone and Hogan Hospital where it was discovered that he was also shot in the right hip. The woman was admitted to the hospital in satisfactory condition. The man was treated and then arrested by local police.

Police said he is being held on investigation of aggravated assault.

Quake Strikes Turkey, Death Toll Skyrockets

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — A strong earthquake toppled buildings, touched off fires and killed between 100 and 200 persons Saturday in a wide area of eastern Turkey along the Anatolian Fault, rescue workers and townspeople said.

Aftershocks and fires hampered rescue efforts by military helicopters and troops in the southeastern Province of Diyarbakir, according to Gov. Namik Kemal Deniz. Residents of cities and villages of the area stayed outside their homes for fear of other jolts.

Kandilli Observatory in Istanbul placed the epicenter in Diyarbakir but said it was felt in 14 eastern and southeastern provinces. The quake registered 6.8 on the Richter scale.

The semiofficial Anatolia News Agency said the quake destroyed the Lice post office and telegraph exchange, killing a postal clerk and his wife. The local high school was jolted.

In Palu, also near Lice, 65 buildings and a mosque collapsed, but there was no loss of life, the Bureau of Disasters said. Fahrettin Turan, governor of Elazig Province, said Palu seemed to have suffered the worst damage in his province.

Red Crescent, the Turkish equivalent of the Red Cross, said it had sent two mobile kitchens, a medical team, tents, blankets and other relief supplies to the stricken area.

Premier Suleyman Demirel said he was dispatching several cabinet ministers to the region for a look at damage and rescue work.

Communications were down between the provincial capitals and small towns in Elazig and Diyarbakir, Anatolia said.

Elazig and Diyarbakir lie on the Anatolian Fault, a geological danger area in which earthquakes have taken 35,000 lives since 1899.

Turkey's worst quake hit the town of Erzinca that year, killing 30,000. The fault has been struck 13 times since then. A severe quake in 1971 in Bingol Province, which was also hit Saturday, killed 800 people. There have been several lighter quakes since then, most without deaths.

The Richter scale is a measure of ground motion as recorded on seismographs. Every increase of one number means a tenfold increase in magnitude. Thus, a reading of 7.5 reflects an earthquake 10 times stronger than one of 6.5.

Reviewing the

Big Spring Week

with Joe Pickle

(Tommy Hart subbing for Joe Pickle)

Maybe the beautification campaign undertaken by city officials and civic-minded groups here came none too soon. (Mayor Wade Choate proclaimed Sept. 2-10 as "Litter Clean-Up and Beautification Days.")

The West Texas countryside rarely greens up as it has this year, with the result that the flora hid from view much of the litter carelessly tossed about by civilians.

However, the recent hot weather wilted a lot of the undergrowth and served to point up a need to clean out not only the litter but the weeds.

Big Spring could become the true "Sparkle City" in the country if all homeowners would pitch in and clean up their alleys as well as their homes and yards.

It's distressing when one sees residents roll down their car windows and dump their garbage into the street for someone else to clean up, yet it's done here every day, most of the time by people who know better. (See THE WEEK, Page 6-A, Col. 1)

ANXIOUS MOMENTS — President Ford is clutched in the hands of Secret Service people shortly after an attempt was made on his life in California's Capitol Friday. Free lance photographer Elizabeth Sunflower captured the expression of the instant in the above photo. Lynette Fromme is being held, charged with assassination attempt.

Tall New Yorker Selected New Miss America 1976

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Miss New York, Tawny Elaine Godin, a sophisticated 18-year-old pianist whose family roots in America date back three centuries, was crowned Miss America 1976 here Saturday night.

The 5-foot-10½ Skidmore College sophomore is the tallest Miss America ever and her state's first winner since 5-foot-10 Bess Myerson captured the crown as Miss New York City in 1945.

She gasped as her predecessor, Shirley Cothran of Texas, crowned her. Then, as Bert Parks sang "There She is," she walked down the long runway to the cheers of a Convention Hall crowd of 17,853 and a national television audience.

Miss Godin wrote the classical piano composition she performed on stage entitled "Images in Pastels."

A resident of Yonkers, N.Y., she lived for 7½ years in Toronto where she studied piano at the Royal Conservatory of Music.

Her first runner-up was Miss North Carolina, Susan Lawrence, and the second runner-up was Miss California, Janet Jay Carr. The third runner-up was Miss Ohio, Susan Kay Banks, and the fourth runner-up was Miss Arizona, Stacey Petersen.

The semifinalists were Miss Florida, Ann Schmalzried; Miss Indiana, Cyndi Legler; Miss Massachusetts, Cynthia Mary Carpenter; Miss South Carolina, Cyndi Anthony and Miss Texas, Mary Ellen Richardson.

Miss Godin, a linguistics major, crowded both Miss Myerson and Colleen Futchins, the 5-foot-10 Miss America 1952, out of the record book at the tallest title-holder.

The new beauty queen, who is one of the youngest in recent years, has a perfect 4.0 average at Skidmore.

She has dark brown hair and eyes, set off by a fair complexion, and her figure measures 36-24-36 over 128 pounds.

The new Miss America will receive a $15,000 scholarship to continue her studies after her year's reign.

WARM

Partly cloudy and warm weather is expected today and Monday, with a 20 percent chance of thundershowers today, increasing to a 30 percent chance tonight. The high today will be in the lower 80s, the low tonight in the lower 60s and the high Monday in the upper 80s.

A HAPPY WINNER — Tawny Elaine Godin, right, named Miss America 1976 in Atlantic City Saturday night, with Miss America 1975, Shirley Cothran of Texas. Miss Godin represented New York in the pageant.

'SHARE THE WEALTH' 'Kingfish' Cut Down

Editor's Note — It's been 40 years since Huey P. Long strode the halls of the Louisiana Capitol, an absolute dictator at 42. He was cut down by an assassin but his legacy remains as testament to a political era unprecedented in the United States. It ended on a Sunday night, Sept. 8, 1935.

By GUY COATES
Associated Press Writer

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)— An impatient Huey Long was a man to tiptoe around. His temper was short, his penchant for revenge legendary and his power absolute.

On the fatal Sunday night in 1935 that was to end his spectacular political career, the senator and former governor was angry because the Louisiana House of Representatives was dawdling on legislation he wanted to safeguard his power.

TIGHT CONTROL

Passage was a certainty but time was precious because Long had to commute frequently by train between his power base in Louisiana and his office in Washington, from which he hoped to launch a try for the presidency.

Elected governor in 1928, Long served for almost four years before his election to the Senate. He kept tight control on the state through a puppet governor, O. K. Allen.

Many of the aides usually with him on his runs through the state capitol hallways were not near him that night, Sept. 8, possibly because he was angry. But his bodyguards never left his side.

Tired of waiting for the House to finish, Long burst from Allen's office on the first floor. Moments later he was mortally wounded. Authorities later said the fatal missile was a .25 caliber bullet fired by Dr. Carl Austin Weiss, a 29-year-old Baton Rouge physician.

SHOT 61 TIMES

Weiss was shot 61 times by Long's bodyguards. Long ran outside, flagged a car and went to a hospital. He died two days later, muttering that he still had much to do.

What had he done? The tiny man with a cherubic face and storehouse of energy had given the ragged tenant farmer hope of prosperity, if not for himself, then for his children. Those were the dark days of the Depression.

The empty stomachs of the Depression perhaps paid no heed to the fact that Long trampled on individual rights to accomplish his ends.

Maybe the people didn't care because Long was one of them, a product of a Winn

Parish cotton farm who went into the world at 16 as a traveling salesman.

He crammed three years of law school into a seven-month course at Tulane and at 25, was elected railroad commissioner.

In 1924 he ran unsuccessfully for governor but four years later he made it. In the next seven years, as his obituary said, he obtained "the highest degree of state control ever recorded under America's democratic form of government."

TYRANT, SAVIOR

Denounced as a tyrant by some and a savior of the poor by others, Long inspired either love or hate—nothing in between.

His selling points at home were paved roads and steel bridges to replace rain-rutted dirt roads and creaky wooden spans; free textbooks and homestead exemptions to help the poor hang onto their farms in a time when foreclosures were common.

He moved into the national scene with his "Share the Wealth" program and his entry was duly noted by leaders such as Franklin Roosevelt, a bitter enemy of the "Kingfish," as Long liked to be called.

"Share the Wealth" clubs cropped up around the nation as Long promised every American family a $2,000 homestead exemption on property taxes and from $2,000 to $3,000 in annual income.

IGNORANT MAN

He was the Robin Hood who soaked the rich petroleum companies for tax revenues. Back home, he expressed his political philosophy this way:

"I can sell anybody anything."
"I can buy legislators like sacks of potatoes."

"There may be smarter men than me but they ain't in Louisiana."
But Long could be polished when he wanted, especially on the floor of the U. S. Senate:

"I know the hearts of the people because I have not colored my own. I know when I am right in my own conscience..."

"This government is the property of all the people of the United States of America. It belongs to nobody, to no Senate and to no senator..."

"It is true. I am an ignorant man... But the thing that takes me far in politics is that I do not have to color what comes into my mind and into my heart... I have one language. Ignorant as it is, it's simplicity gains pardon for my lack of letters and education."

Challenge For Restraint

On a television interview show, Federal Reserve Board Chairman Arthur Burns predicted that the sale of grain to the Soviet Union will cause higher food prices than estimated by the Department of Agriculture. While he wouldn't be pinned down to a firm forecast, Burns said the increase would be 2 per cent or more.

The chairman of Mobile Oil Corp. announced he opposed immediate total decontrol of petroleum prices because they could cause a shock wave sending the nation's fragile economic recovery tumbling down. Decontrol "could cost American oil consumers about $8 billion annually assuming the present $2 import duty on foreign oil is lifted," the Mobile chief, Rawleigh Warner Jr., warned Congress.

Since last month's price rise figures were at annual rate of 14 per cent, such additional shocks as those coming in oil and agriculture could send inflation through the roof. For the price increases in food and petroleum won't stop with those commodities.

Everything dependent on petroleum would rise in price, too — and that means almost everything produced or sold in the country. And a 2 per cent or greater increase in food prices would likewise have a ripple effect, pushing salaries higher and thus the cost of producing all other items as well.

Present trends threaten higher inflation and slower economic recovery. This confronts business with an unequalled challenge for restraint in pricing policies and labor with a new level of statesmanship against unbridled demands. Otherwise, both will pull down the roof of ultimate rigid controls upon their heads.

Yet To Be Conquered

Texans will be hearing and reading much during the month of September about the mysterious disease called multiple sclerosis. This crippling of young adults attacks the central nervous system — the brain and spinal cord. It is estimated to affect hundreds of thousands of persons, a major health problem that still defies the researchers seeking its cause and cure.

The disease seems to concentrate on persons between the ages of 20 and 40 years. Its impact thus is worst on the productive portion of our population.

Informational campaigning during September by the persons who work with National Multiple Sclerosis Society has as its objective, of course, the mobilization of public sentiment and funds to support research into MS so that ultimately it may be listed along with small pox, polio, measles, diphtheria, yellow fever and other once-feared diseases as subject to prevention and cure. Such a breakthrough would be a major medical achievement in preventing more tragedies for the nation's families. We pray it may come to pass.

My Answer

Billy Graham

Marriage on the rocks has been called America's number one sociological problem. What would be your formula for marital happiness?

G. T. For one thing, in a marriage that works, you have two very good "forgivers." I think that the first years are the most difficult time of adjustment. If you can early learn to forgive each other, as Ephesians 4:32 in the Bible advises, that'll be a giant step toward marital success.

Then the matter of accepting the faults of each other. I think Abraham Lincoln was right when he said: "I've learned to accept the faults of my friends. No one is perfect."

Thirdly, a happy marriage requires spiritual affinity. There must be something more than the physical and the material. If husband and wife can pray together about problems, can call on God for assistance, you've got the best basis for a solution.

And finally, it is the matter of trust. Someone has said that to be trusted is a greater compliment than to be loved. The Bible says, "There is no fear in love. Perfect love casteth out fear."

REMEMBERING...

By BILL D. BROOKS

STILTS
Our family usually went into town once each week. On one such occasion a friendly merchant gave each of us kids a free ticket to the Shriners Circus coming the next week. It was the first circus I had ever been to and

I was very impressed with all the goings on. One performer stood about twenty feet tall and walked around with long pants and stiff legs. Dad said it was just a regular sized man walking on stilts. I was amazed and decided that when I grew up

I would like to be a tall man in the circus.

Soon after that, some kids came over to see us one afternoon and we decided we should all have a pair of stilts. We took one-by-fours about six feet long and nailed blocks of wood about a foot and a half from one end of each to serve as foot pieces. The foot pieces were braced with leather straps taken from old harnesses. The tops of the main pieces were rounded slightly with a hatchet and a wood rasp for hand grips. Most of us had never been on stilts before but we were all game to try. We learned quickly and before long were walking everywhere, having a big time.

We had races on them and contests to see who could take the longest step and who could reach the highest. One kid could even jump rope while two of us turned it for him. I couldn't. We couldn't think of much else to do until someone suggested that we make some taller stilts.

Everyone set to work making taller ones. The height they were made depended upon how brave the maker was, or thought he was. Tommy Johnson took the longest boards he could find to make his. You usually got up on a fence or box to get started on stilts. Tommy got up on the roof of the house! "Yore crazy, git down offa there," everyone yelled. But he was determined to display his bravery. He stood on top of the house with the stilts on the ground, leaning against the edge of the roof. He took the tops in his hands and we all held our breath, gawking up at him, wondering if he would really do it. As he stepped out on one of the stilts, it broke at a knot hole and down he came.

The zinnias in Mom's flower bed broke his fall but the stilts smashed through a window. All the grownups came running to see what all the commotion was. Mom spied her broken zinnias first thing and consequently, was not overly concerned about Tommy's welfare. In fact, for a while it seemed as though she would have rather seen him broken than her flowers.

His pride was injured more than anything, but he bragged to everyone that he could have done it if the still hadn't broken. He never tried it again, though.

Delicate Peace

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — However lasting the gleam of peace in the Middle East with a new Israeli-Egyptian disengagement, it should serve at least to throw light on the deep-seated fears and antagonisms in the way of any long-term settlement. Both for Cairo and Jerusalem the risks in this first small step are considerable.

THE GOVERNMENT of Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin was shown in a recent poll to have the support of less than a majority for the concessions made to achieve a disengagement in the Sinai. Angry opposition in the parliament and in the streets threatens the future of the Rabin coalition.

Israeli negotiators who came to Washington to wrap up the details before Secretary of State Henry Kissinger ventured on his shuttle did not conceal their disappointment over the outcome. They believed that with so much concentration on the lines of Israeli withdrawal from the Gidi and Mitle passes and surrender of the Abu Rudeis oil fields, they had failed to get enough in return from Egypt.

UNDERSTANDABLE though this is, it seems to me to ignore the fundamental Arab position. That is the demand for return of all the Arab lands occupied after the 1967 war. Should we pay a price, the Arabs ask, to get back what is rightfully ours?

And it is this demand that makes any further long-term peace look, in a word, impossible. For the Israelis, with their remarkable zeal and capacities, have been building on the occupied territories; kibbutz in the Golan Heights, large construction in East Jerusalem, a whole complex in Sharm El-Sheik, the outlet to the Red Sea. Any government in Jerusalem that proposed to give these territories would be quickly repudiated.

BUT ANOTHER cause of uncertainty is the state of the Israeli economy. Immigration into the country is at the lowest point in five years and immigration, at the rate of 3 per cent of the population a year, is essential to growth and stability. Emigration out of Israel was estimated in the last 12 months at 20,000, mostly the young.

Military and economic aid from the United States becomes therefore of the first importance. The Rabin government plans the figure at $3 billion, or even $3.2 billion. This would include up to $350 million as compensation for loss of the oil from the Abu Rudeis fields. The total would be divided between military and economic aid. Kissinger has said Congress will balk at such a figure. He has suggested a possible $2 billion. This is unlikely to satisfy Jerusalem nor will it be acceptable to the staunch adherents of Israel in the Senate and the House.

AS FOR CAIRO, President Anwar Sadat cannot wait too long for some means to shore up his shaky economy and give his 30 million people some reason to believe their rising expectations will be met. A consortium of sorts is being put together by western nations with the United States assuming a leading role.

The Libyan fanatic, Muammar Qaddafi, is doing his best by one means and another to bring Sadat down. Syria's President Hafez Assad will look with dark suspicion on the new disengagement agreement and Assad has a close tie with the Russians who have supplied him with quantities of advanced weapons.

FOR ASSAD, disengagement on the Golan Heights has first priority. This will be Kissinger's next undertaking and a more difficult one. While, since the fall of Vietnam, Americans have more and more turned away from foreign involvement, active concern with the fate of Israel continues high on the list. That is ascribed in part at least to the Zionist lobby.

Recovery Signs Favorable

NEW YORK (AP) — The government posted more signs this past week of a gradual recovery from the recession, while New York City remained a bleak spot in the nation's financial picture.

The Labor Department said the nation's unemployment rate remained steady at 8.4 per cent in August and 275,000 more Americans held jobs than in the previous month.

The recovery in the employment picture remained slow, however. In March, 8.2 million Americans were jobless. That total had declined 410,000 by July and held steady in August.

On the price front, the Labor Department's August wholesale price index rose 0.8 per cent — a 9.6 per cent annual inflation rate. The August total is down from July's 14.4 per cent wholesale price jump, and for the last three months the index has climbed at an annual 7.7 per cent annual rate, an improvement from the 30-per-cent annual rate

WEEK'S BUSINESS

- New York City remains bleak spot
- More Americans are working now
- Fuel, power prices still main factors
- Strong sales statistics produced
- NYC's plight in hands of legislature last fall. Fuel and power prices were the main factors in August, offsetting a drop in agricultural prices.

With consumers apparently more confident in their spending winds down, the nation's retail merchants produced some of the strongest sales statistics this year. S.S. Kresge Co. led the way with August sales up a strong 22 per cent, followed by gains of 8.4 per cent at Woolworth, 6.2 per cent at J.C. Penney and 6 per cent at Sears.

There were further signs that industrial activity has begun to pick up, as the Commerce Department reported new factory orders rose 3.6 per cent, the fourth monthly increase in a row. But overhanging the gradually improving national picture was New York City, which barely escaped default when the city's unions came through with $100 million in pension money to help meet welfare and payroll costs.

The city's immediate and long-term hopes of avoiding default on its $12 billion in outstanding bonds and notes was in the hands of a special session of the New York Legislature. It was hoped that an agreement would be reached under which the state and the city's banks would come up with a money package to see the city through the rest of the year.

The Stress ECG Tests

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please discuss the merits of the standard ECG as compared to the newer stress ECG test. In our small community two internists (including mine) take ECGs while the patient is at rest. The third physician uses only the stress ECG.

It seems the latter's patients are identified as heart-attack prone earlier. Also, his patients are told to exercise. Please comment. Also, send me your booklet, "How to Take Care of Your Heart," for which I'm sending 25 cents plus a stamped, self-addressed envelope in care of the Herald.—J.L.

A resting ECG is taken while the patient is inactive. The stress type is taken after exercise. An ECG taken at rest gives considerable information. If there is anything suggesting abnormality, or if the patient has a history of coronary insufficiency, then a closely supervised exercise test is in order.

Now, to your question. There is nothing "new" about either test, but there is a great deal of focus today on the relative values of each.

A discussion of this appeared in a recent issue of "Modern Medicine" and the general conclusion seems to be that each type of test has its own specific advantages. The resting ECG has special value in determining the present condition of the heart muscle and whether any damage has occurred in the past. The stress ECG seems to have greater value in determining the future, for instance in predicting the heart's response to future demands upon it. The consensus seems to be developing that the resting ECG is not entirely efficient in predicting such things.

One of the doctors participating in the symposium reported that normal ECGs were found in about 35 per cent of patients who actually had rather serious obstructions in one or more coronary arteries. As to exercise, carefully supervised exercise programs can be helpful, but this depends upon the individual patient. Certainly, in severe heart problems it is not recommended during the early months of recovery, especially. Only light activity, such as walking, is recommended following a heart attack.

But appropriate exercise is important when you consider the fact that overweight contributes so much to heart problems. In all cases, post-heart attack exercise, let me stress again, should be undertaken only after consultation with a physician, who knows each individual patient's history.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am getting married soon and do not plan to use any artificial means of birth control. My questions are: Can impregnation occur if during intercourse the male is not brought to full orgasm? Is there sperm in the pre-seminal fluid?—D.P.G.

I'm not sure I understand your phrase "pre-seminal flow." But the answer to your question is that, yes, sperm can be present in a premature release of seminal fluid prior to full ejaculation. In my booklet on birth control, "Coitus Interruptus," which is the method you are speaking of, is listed, but it is at the end of the list of 12 alternatives. You should not depend on this as a birth control procedure.

If you are intent on avoiding artificial methods, the "rhythm" method is available. It requires painstaking precaution on your wife's part.

Birth control is a highly relevant topic in today's society. Find out what you should know about it in Dr. Thosteson's easy to read booklet, "The Twelve Birth Control Methods." For a copy, write to him in care of the Herald, P.O. Box 3999, Elgin, Ill. 60120, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents.

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple — write to Dr. Thosteson in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 3999, Elgin, Ill. 60120, for a copy of his booklet, "How to Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains." Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents.

Starting Earlier

Around The Rim

Walt Finley

Another presidential campaign is upon us. It seems like they start earlier every time around. Most of the possible candidates are beginning to deny they plan to run, although they are flattered someone thought to ask.

FLATTERED? THEY'VE been dying for this moment to arrive. The problem is they don't think they can admit it. So they play it coy. Unfortunately, coy doesn't fit them well.

One problem the voters encounter is that some of the people who proclaim themselves as presidential timber have been ignored by nearly everyone, with the possible exception of the termites.

The television networks compound the problem. They have to have guests for their early Sunday afternoon interview shows, so they'll accept anyone who is breathing and awake. (If he actually can talk, that's an unexpected bonus.)

WHAT THESE shows really do is to keep the network on the air until everyone gets home from church, the golf course, the tennis court or dinner, as God intended.

There has been one late development. Sports is so heavy on the tube now that events are running into each other.

As a result, the baseball fan may be sitting there watching an interesting game in the closing inning, when the network arbitrarily cuts off baseball in Pittsburgh and switches to tennis, any place.

That friends, is show business.

It is possible that "the last resort" is Heaven or Hell — as the case may be.

My favorite fractured word in the Herald Monday was unknown.

I ALSO QUOTE from the front page of Monday's Herald: "A recent investigation by city police detectives show that the majority of CB radios being stolen are not being sold to local fences, but to individual citizens at a local price of between $25 and $50."

Why don't the local police arrest these "individual citizens" and charge them with receiving and concealing stolen property?

At a recent public gathering, I tabbed a fellow as a professional skeptic — He doesn't believe anything he hears or reads and only about half of what he says.

The thought for the day is from Dryden: Beware the fury of a patient man.

My bashful aunt, Marie Chastain, tells about the minister who told his parishioners there were 300 types of sin.

And the next day he received hundreds of calls and letters from his parishioners who wanted a copy of the list so they could make sure they weren't missing anything.

Retiree Rita Ellison, who celebrated her 19th birthday Wednesday, contributes a Noah Tall: "Dear Noah Tall: I live in Death Valley and the temperature is 130 every day of the year. What do you call that?"

A. J. Vaughn, Sage of Scurry Street, writes: We now live a life abundant In this land of milk and honey. The way to cure a nation's ills Is spend someone else's money.

When Duane Thomas was waiting to play in the Super Bowl one year, a sports writer told him he didn't seem very excited about playing in a football game that was "the ultimate."

Thomas replied "If this game is the ultimate, how come they are going to play it again next year?"

MARTHA'S VINEYARD, Mass. — loud.

The difference between this year and last year on Martha's Vineyard was that last year we were all talking about Nixon's resignation and this year we were talking about whether Susan Ford should have an affair or not.

THE ISLAND is about equally divided on the issue. The Up-Islanders believe Mrs. Ford did the right thing when she said on television that premarital relations with the right person might help lower the divorce rate.

The Down-Islanders were shocked and felt that, as First Lady, it was Mrs. Ford's duty to speak out against pilloving before one got married.

MacIntosh, my tennis partner, thought Mrs. Ford purposely said what she did to guarantee that Susan would not have an affair.

"What do you mean?" I asked. "Well, after all this publicity, Susan Ford is the only girl in America who doesn't have a chance of having an affair with anybody. The whole world is watching her now and she can't make a false move."

"My gosh," I said, "I never thought of that. Mrs. Ford knew exactly what she was doing when she spoke out for premarital relations. Poor Susan. No guy will make a move."

"I wish I had thought of it," MacIntosh said. "I've got an 18-year-old daughter and the public couldn't care less what she does."

"THE SAME with my daughter," I said. "I don't have one Secret Service man to watch her when she goes out on a date. Susan has at least a dozen."

"If Ford gets elected in '76," MacIntosh said, "Susan won't be able to go to a drive-in movie with a guy alone until she's 21."

"And if Ford gets re-elected in '80, Susan will be watched night and day until she's 24," I said.

"Then it really doesn't matter whether she has an affair or not," MacIntosh said. "If she isn't married by then, most people will feel she's entitled."

"Why do you think people got so mad at Mrs. Ford for saying she wouldn't be upset if Susan told her she was having an affair?"

"Most of the people who got angry know they have no control over what their kids do and they were mad that the wife of the President said it out

"I'M GLAD SHE said it," I admitted. "I knew where Gerry Ford stood on oil, the Middle East and New York City, but there was always that lingering doubt in my mind about where Mrs. Ford stood on premarital bundling. It's healthy to have a First Lady who tells it as it is."

"I wish Mrs. MacIntosh saw it that way," MacIntosh said. "Whenever my daughter goes out with one of the great unwashed, my wife goes up the wall."

"Is she afraid your daughter is going to have sex?"

"No," said MacIntosh. "She's afraid our kid is going to get cholera."

"I dig," I said. "I wonder if it will hurt Ford's chances in the election?"

"Your daughter getting cholera?" "No," said MacIntosh. "Mrs. Ford saying she wouldn't kick Susan out of the White House if she admitted to having an affair."

"It won't unless the Democrats make something of it."

"How could they do that?" MacIntosh asked.

"They could put out bumper stickers which read, 'Can Susan Ford chew gum and smooch at the same time?'"

McARTHUR HIGHWAY REMAINS IN PHILIPPINES

Uncle Sam's Image Tarnished

By MARJ CARPENTER
Richard Deats is a familiar face to old-time Big Springers. They saw him grow up here as the son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Wesley Deats.

Nobody was surprised, among the people that knew him best, when he earned a PHD at Boston University. He had always expressed a great deal of interest in the world around him, so nobody was surprised when he traveled to the Philippines as a professor of social ethics at Union Theological Seminary.

But they were a little bit surprised when he remained there 13 years before coming back to the States.

The Rev. Deats, who is currently director of the Interfaith Activities of the Fellowship of Reconciliation, recently came back to Texas from Spring Valley near New York City.

He attended the 40th anniversary of the Disciples Peace Fellowship observed during the General Assembly of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) in San Antonio last month.

He then came to Big Spring with three of his four children to visit his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Baggett, and remain for Baggett's retirement party as he retired from Cosden.

Mrs. Deats, who is a concert pianist and harpist, remained at home

THE REV. RICHARD DEATS
... Katherine, Stephen and Lisa

due to her large schedule of piano pupils and classes.

The Rev. Deats attended McMurry after he graduated from Big Spring High School in 1949 and then enrolled in the Perkins School of Theology, graduating in 1956. He subsequently earned his PhD at Boston.

Mrs. Deats, the former

Jan Baggett, was a graduate of the Overland Conservatory of Music in Ohio and has a master's degree from SMU. She has done concert work in Texas, West Virginia and the Philippines and played in the National Symphony of the Philippines in Manila.

Their children include Mark, 17, born while his father was studying in Boston; Stephen, 15, born in the Philippines; Lisa, 12, who was born while the family was on furlough and back here in Big Spring, and Katherine, 9, born in the Philippines.

The Rev. Dr. Deats plans to be present at the fifth Assembly of the World Council of Churches to be held in Nairobi, Kenya, in November.

While in the Philippines, he saw the attitude toward the United States change for the worse during the years of the Vietnam conflict. He said that many citizens there "expressed fear and concern that a nation of such tremendous power would become involved in what they considered a nationalism effort in Asia."

He admitted that the Philippine people had kept a positive feeling about the late General MacArthur. "Where many streets and parks have been changed from American names to Filipino names, MacArthur Highway has remained," he stated.

The Rev. Deats said that he and his family had a tremendous sense of identity with the Philippine people and considered it their home for many years.

We believe that "all humanity is a part of God's family and that a common humanness underlies every race and nationality whatever may be their cultures."

He pointed out that the Philippines are 92 per cent of a Christian nation, which is rare in that area of the world. "Some 83 per cent are Catholic. It was a Spanish colony for 300 years and an American colony only 50 before America gave them their freedom."

Big Spring old-timers were glad to see the Rev. Deats back in Texas, if only for a brief visit. Most of them have now become used to knowing that Richard Deats is able to show up almost anywhere in the world in his work in interfaith activities.

Expense Accounts Okayed

AUSTIN (AP) — The head of the Senate Administration Committee says Texas senators can draw their $30 a day expense account money during the Carrillo trial recess, if they want.

The impeachment trial of District Court Judge O. P. Carrillo, with the 31 Senate members as a jury, recessed Wednesday until at least Sept. 29 while Carrillo stands trial in Corpus Christi on federal income charges. Sen. Don Adams, D-Jasper, chairman of the Senate Administration Committee, said the $30 a day was authorized by the constitution. He said he thought the recess payments were justified although most senators will not remain in Austin but will be studying the documents filed in the trial for action after they return Sept. 29. One is a 170-page answer from defense lawyers which claims the 10 impeachment charges are illegal.

Adams also said some senators are committed to living expenses, such as apartment rental, through September, whether or not they are in Austin.

Constitution Debates Set

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Sen. O.H. "Ike" Harris, a Dallas Republican, and Robert Calvert, former chief justice of the Texas Supreme Court, will debate the proposed Texas Constitution on Sunday on the radio-television show "Capital Eye."

Others, such as Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, Atty. Gen. John Hill, Speaker Bill Clayton and Sens. Peyton McKnight and Walter Mengden, will debate the proposed document prior to the statewide vote Nov. 4.

LARGEST SALES EXHIBIT

MexFair '75 Opens In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — MexFair '75, the largest sales exhibit ever presented abroad by Mexico, opens here Sunday with industrial goods to dominate displays.

Julio Faesler, director general of the Mexican Institute for Foreign Trade (IMCE), said the trade fair is part of Mexico's drive to expand exports to the United States.

He added that it is the "first such promotional campaign by a developing country."

San Antonio, culturally akin to Mexico, was chosen as the Mexican export gateway to the United States three years ago because of its proximity and direct highway and rail facilities, he said.

Last year the fair sold more than $70 million worth of export products.

"The annual event exemplifies the aggressiveness of today's Mexican entrepreneur," Faesler said and this direct approach to trade is drawing new attention from American business to profitable marketing opportunities with Mexico.

Jorge Canavati, executive director of the fair, said exhibitors and exhibit space is up nearly 50 per cent for the third annual version of the fair.

"In 1973 we had only 250 exhibitors; in 1974 we doubled this number to about 500; in 1975 we will have approximately 700," Canavati said.

Among products to be displayed were: apparel and textiles, auto accessories and parts, beverages, building materials, chemicals and minerals, cosmetics, electrical supplies, foods, footwear, furniture and decor items, handicrafts, housewares and appliances, industrial goods, jewelry, leather goods, printing materials and vehicles.

Added this year are a variety of cultural events.

Mexican Consul General Raul Gonzalez Galarza said, "We're bringing the best entertainment and we've made all the events free except one."

Exhibits are open to registered buyers only, but some of the cultural exchange will be open to the public, he said.

More Money Per Pupil

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The Fort Worth school district will get about $159 more money per pupil in average daily attendance (ADA) from the state this year as a result of the new public school finance bill, school budget director Dave Langham said Thursday.

Langham said that the school district last year received a total of $31,800,000 from the state, as compared with the expected $41 million for this year.

Budget $254 Million To Provide Services For Mentally Impaired

The Texas Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, meeting in Austin approved a budget of more than $254 million to provide services for the mentally impaired during the new year which began Sept. 1.

The funds, totaling $254,035,802, represent an increase of 47.7 per cent over the year just ended.

"We are highly pleased at the legislative acceptance of our budget requests," said Dr. Kenneth D. Gaver, TDMHMR Commissioner. "This is the most significant increase in our budget since the department was created in 1965."

Dr. Gaver said the new budget, and that earmarked for the succeeding fiscal year, "will enable our facilities to move a giant step forward in achieving national standards for care and treatment. He noted that the new budget will enable the TDMHMR to achieve its goal of receiving certification (from the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals) for approximately 10,000 living units in state schools.

The new budget allocates $85.2 million for the eight state mental hospitals, and the 13 state schools for the mentally retarded will receive a total of $110.9 million. Budget allocations for the three centers for human development total $5.2 million.

Grants-in-aid for the 27-community mental health and mental retardation centers will total $26.7 million, a 66.1 per cent boost.

Included in the allocations was $1,728,382 which will be used by the centers to finance special projects. In addition, the board approved allocation of $174,814 to assist the community-based organizations serving as out-reach centers for two state hospitals and a state school for the mentally retarded.

In this area, the MHMR Center for Greater West Texas, located at San Angelo, will receive $296,572, including $47,383 for an extended living program for the mentally retarded and a medically supervised detoxification program for alcoholics, and $56,276 in local matching funds.

The Permian Basin Community Centers for MHMR, Midland-Odessa, will be benefited by $499,710, including $68,868 for a community living, foster care program for the mentally retarded and crises service program for alcoholics and drug abusers, and $117,743 in local matching funds.

At Lubbock, the Regional MHMR Center will get $699,195 which includes $83,013 for a halfway house for male alcoholics and an alternate living facility for the mentally retarded and $125,174 in local matching funds.

In other business, Dr. Gaver announced that most of the state hospital and state school clients who were forced from their jobs last year because of a federal court ruling will be back at work this month. He has signed an order outlining procedures for employing clients in work assignments of economic benefit to the institutions, and the order will require full compliance with the Fair Labor Standards Act and regulations of the U.S. Department of Labor.

The new budget includes an allocation of $1,017,090 which will be used by the hospitals and schools to pay clients for jobs performed in the institutions.

Employment of clients at institutional jobs was halted last Dec. 1 after a U.S. District Court in the District of Columbia ruled that such activities came under the provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act and that clients must be paid according to the minimum wage.

Dr. Gaver said the funds will renew the work-related training and therapy program that involved a large number of clients.

Hanna Elected To Council

SLATON — B. A. Hanna was elected Friday to fill the spot vacated by J. P. Spears on the controversially-riddled Slaton city council. Hanna is a retired railroad employee.

Hanna polled 52 votes in the election. Runnerup Ira Keys had 15 and Henry Bollinger six. Spears resigned May 31.

Spears and Otis Neill were named in recall petitions circulated earlier this year after the commission fired police chief Fred Clark.

Dr. Craft Appointed

The appointment of James E. Craft, Ed.D., as deputy commissioner for mental retardation services has been approved by the Texas Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

Dr. Craft, 34, is currently serving as director of program support services for TDMHMR, a position he has held since June 1971. He received a bachelor's degree in education and psychology, a master's degree in education and his doctorate in educational psychology from Baylor University, Waco.

In 1965, Dr. Craft joined the staff of Mexia State School, becoming the school's director of psychological services the following year. He was appointed assistant superintendent in 1968 and remained there until 1970 when he was assigned to the Central Office as assistant deputy commissioner for mental retardation services.

As deputy commissioner for mental retardation services, Dr. Craft will supervise the TDMHMR's 12 state schools for the mentally retarded, the Rio Grande State Center at Harlingen and the Leander Recreation Center near Austin.

Coahoma Man Rape Suspect

A 24-year-old Big Spring woman reported to local police she was raped early Saturday by a 29-year-old Coahoma man who was taking her home from the NCO club at Webb Air Force Base.

She told police they started home, where her husband was waiting for her, when the man she was riding with suddenly turned around and headed out of town.

He took her to a cabin on the south side of Lake J. B. Thomas where he threatened her with a shotgun.

She reported that he told her that if she didn't submit to having sex with him, he would kill her.

Later she was able to get away and catch a ride to town with a couple she flagged down on the road. She reported the rape at about 4:30 a.m. when she got back to town.

New Coordinator

ODESSA — Dolph Briscoe has appointed Mrs. Joe Connolly of Odessa as a regional volunteer coordinator for the First Lady's Volunteer Program, Office of the Governor. Mrs. Connolly will serve the geographic area covered by the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has run up political travel expenses of more than $309,000 so far this year, with the Republican National Committee paying the bills and seeking legal clearance to continue the arrangement.

The arrangement has drawn protests from Democrats who say it isn't fair because President Ford is permitted to promote his candidacy without charging the cost to his own campaign.

Presidential candidates are limited to spending $10 million each in their campaigns for the 1976 nomination, and Democratic critics say the price of the President's travels on political missions now should count against that limit.

Republican National Chairwoman Mary Louise Smith said Thursday that approximately $309,000 has been paid out or awaits payment by the GOP.

Youthful 'Sam' Eager To Speak

Paul Ruiz, Big Spring and Howard County's teenage Uncle Sam, was presented a bicentennial proclamation in a special pre-game ceremony at the Andrews — Big Spring football game last Friday night.

Janell Davis and Johnnie Lou Avery, Bicentennial co-chairpersons, explained how the youthful "Sam" progressed from an idea to a reality. They told of the search for "Sam" candidates and of the final competition which included an original speech, an oral interpretation of a reading about America, and a question relevant to today's world.

Paul Ruiz was chosen for this honor. Paul is a very active sophomore at Big Spring High School. He is a clarinet player in the Steer Marching Band and a saxophonist in the Silver Horns Stage Band. He is a member of the band's executive and public relations committees.

Paul is also the president of his Bible class and the Consul or President of the Latin Club. He is involved in the Youth Council at Baptist Temple Church. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Pedro G. Ruiz and he resides at 1316 Wood. He has one older brother, Pete, and one

Free Lunches Eligibility

There will be no change in the Big Spring School District Policy to grant free and reduced lunches to eligible children this year.

Applications and eligibility standards are available from the building principal of each school. Free lunches or reduced price lunches are granted on the basis of the family's income and the number of members in the family.

Eligibility Standards have been increased this year ranging from $4,240 for a family of two for free lunch to an income of up to $5,930 for a reduced price lunch.

The range includes a family of twelve with an income of $12,810 for free lunch or reduced price lunches with an income to $17,940. For each additional family member $750 is added to the income.

Hardships are taken into consideration as applications are received and reviewed.

Further information may be obtained from the building principals or Harold D. Bentley, director of personnel.

Political Travel Expenses Of Ford Exceed $309,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has run up political travel expenses of more than $309,000 so far this year, with the Republican National Committee paying the bills and seeking legal clearance to continue the arrangement.

The arrangement has drawn protests from Democrats who say it isn't fair because President Ford is permitted to promote his candidacy without charging the cost to his own campaign.

Presidential candidates are limited to spending $10 million each in their campaigns for the 1976 nomination, and Democratic critics say the price of the President's travels on political missions now should count against that limit.

Republican National Chairwoman Mary Louise Smith said Thursday that approximately $309,000 has been paid out or awaits payment by the GOP.

A new White House formula will have the effect of reducing the share of those travel expenses charged as a political expenditure while increasing the portion covered by the government.

White House officials have indicated they expect to charge the Republican National Committee for Ford's travels during the balance of this year. That would spare the President Ford Committee, his own campaign operation, both the expense and, more important, the charges against campaign expenditure ceilings.

THE WEEK

Alex H. Washburn of the Hope (Ark.) Star said it recently:

"The trouble with humanity is that it's caught between pride of ancestry and doubt of posterity."

Come to think of it, we might be less prone to brag about our antecedents if they were in a position to point with pride or view with alarm their connections with us.

"Bible student in her home" the day before her death. And people wonder why most newsmen don't live as long as the average person.

A friend and his wife visited one of our national parks on a recent vacation. He says the people were so numerous at most of the stops, they were getting into each other's snapshots.

It proved to be a typical opening football game when Big Spring and Andrews met here Friday night — the timer on the new scoreboard didn't last through the second quarter. I think if I were the local school board, I'd stop payment on the check.

Friends of the Big Spring High School Bible Fund refused to let the campaign fail, even after the push officially came to a close Labor Day. Contributors, some of whom chose to remain anonymous, kept chipping away at the objective ($6,000) toward week's end, with the result that the total collected exceeded the amount sought.

Big Spring, the First Baptist Church and Webb AFB are all featured in the cover story of the current issue of Baptist Standard, a weekly publication of the Baptist General Convention in Texas (circulation: 371,881).

Also, the story "Teams to Assist Refugees" made the Baptist Press, a press service sent to 400 Baptist publications throughout the nation. Dan Martin is the author.

In addition, the story is scheduled to appear in the World Mission General, a monthly publication of that church, distributed to 100,000 key leaders and clergy. The story tells how 100 refugees have found a home in Big Spring.

Things don't always come out the way they're meant to be in your family newspaper.

In an obituary written about one local resident here the past week, it was mentioned that she had hosted a Bible study in her home the day prior to her death — only it didn't come out that way. The story said she had a

Earl Hull, who dropped by the Herald the past week to leave a $100 check from the Salem Baptist Church for the Big Spring High School Bible Fund, must figure he's living under a rain spout. He says his gauges caught 13 inches of rain during July and August. The Hulls live on a farm north of Coahoma.

Earl is a member of the Howard County commissioners court in the early 1950s when the new courthouse was conceived and built. He recalls the idea originated with Thad Hale.

Hale also suggested that it might be a good idea to take a $250,000 offer made by a chain variety store for one-half the courthouse block and use the money to buy acreage for a new courthouse farther removed from downtown. The idea never really caught fire, however.

HC Bridge Club Resumes Play

Howard College Community Bridge Club resumes its Monday night duplicate game at 7:00 p.m. tomorrow. The club has been closed during the month of August, but will now hold games each Monday night until next August. The club first began operation last March.

Director John Gordon advises that players from his beginning bridge classes last year have been playing, as well as some of the better players in the Big Spring area. Everyone is welcome and urged to attend.

The club is sanctioned by the American Contract Bridge League and issues rating points to winners. Free coffee is provided.

The game is held in the reference library of the Horace Garrett building, located on the college campus.

Dr. Craft Appointed

The appointment of James E. Craft, Ed.D., as deputy commissioner for mental retardation services has been approved by the Texas Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

Dr. Craft, 34, is currently serving as director of program support services for TDMHMR, a position he has held since June 1971. He received a bachelor's degree in education and psychology, a master's degree in education and his doctorate in educational psychology from Baylor University, Waco.

In 1965, Dr. Craft joined the staff of Mexia State School, becoming the school's director of psychological services the following year. He was appointed assistant superintendent in 1968 and remained there until 1970 when he was assigned to the Central Office as assistant deputy commissioner for mental retardation services.

As deputy commissioner for mental retardation services, Dr. Craft will supervise the TDMHMR's 12 state schools for the mentally retarded, the Rio Grande State Center at Harlingen and the Leander Recreation Center near Austin.

First Patient Back Again At Local VA Hospital

James M. Waters lived in Big Spring in 1950 when he walked into the Big Spring VA Hospital and became that facility's first patient.

The 50-year-old paraplegic was admitted to the hospital again Wednesday shortly after the 25th anniversary of his first visit.

Waters, who now resides in the community of Eula, near Clyde, was admitted to the hospital for treatment of complications in his foot. He is paralyzed in both legs.

REMEMBER — When he returned to the VA Hospital, he greeted seven staff members who were at the hospital 25 years ago when he became the first patient.

"Yeah, I remember most of them," he said, "Even if I don't remember their names, I can remember their faces."

He and the old staffers got together Thursday to reminisce about old times at the hospital, and discuss the fate of many mutual friends who were patients and staff members.

Waters fought in the Pacific in World War II while a member of the U.S. Marines. He survived several major battles without a scratch, but was accidentally shot while on leave in Hawaii.

FORMER RESIDENT — He was seeking treatment for complications stemming from that injury when he became the VA Hospital's first patient.

"I didn't have any idea that I would be the first patient when I came here,"

DEATHS

J. T. Glaze — ABILENE — J. T. Glaze, 59, died at 10 a.m., Thursday at Hendrick Memorial Hospital here after a lengthy illness.

Services also will be at 2 p.m. Monday at Nalley-

Gabriel Garcia

COLORADO CITY — Gabriel Garcia, 68, of Sweetwater, died 3:30 a.m. Friday at the Root Memorial Hospital. Mass will be celebrated at 10 a.m. Monday at St. Ann's Catholic Church. Rosary will be said at 7 p.m. today.

Father Bush will officiate. Burial will be in Mitchell County Cemetery, directed by Kiker-Seale Funeral Home.

Born March 2, 1907, in Perez, he married the former Esperanza Salinas Nov. 24, 1945, in Beeville.

He was a retired farmer and was a Catholic.

Survivors include his widow; three daughters, Mrs. Carolina Turnbow, Mrs. Benita Orozco and Mrs. Elida Serrano; four sons, Leonard Garcia of Sweetwater, Gabriel Garcia of Colorado City and Eugene Garcia of Sweetwater; a sister, Mrs. Camilla Abrego of Lorraine; two brothers, Eusebio Garcia of Lorraine and Francisco Garcia of Milford; and eight grandchildren.

County Dads Will Mull Resignation Of Grice

The resignation of Walter Grice, peace justice of precinct one, place one, will be submitted to County Commissioners Court Monday.

Grice, who first became peace justice in 1941, said he successfully promoted the $1 million bond issue used to build the courthouse.

GRICE

He was serving a two-year term as county judge which started in 1951.

The courthouse construction contract was for $770,000, Grice recalled. This left more than enough to buy new furniture and landscape the courthouse lawn.

Appointed peace justice in 1941, Grice served for eight years. After two years outside public office, he was elected county judge.

In 1955, Grice returned to being peace justice, a position he has held continuously since then.

Earlier this year, Grice wrote a letter of resignation to commissioners court. But he agreed to staying longer after meeting with the court privately.

His resignation is to be effective Oct. 1.

In other business Monday, the court will:

- Meet with W. D. Berry, Howard County Civil Defense coordinator, and state and federal officials about Gov. Dolph Briscoe's request for disaster relief for the county. Briscoe estimated damage from flooding Aug. 8-10 totaled $699,000.

- Consider the bid of D. D. Johnston for alterations and remodeling in the courthouse. The court wants Johnston to divide his bid into amounts for preparing space for the computer, altering the tax appraisal office and painting the tax office basement, County Auditor Virginia Black said.

- Hear from representatives of NCR about air conditioning for the computer room.
- Discuss granting permission for payment of tuition of three county employees as computer operators in a Howard College course.

- Consider a request for temporary help for one month in the tax office while the tax roll is being prepared.
- Discuss the contract of the federal trapper.

- Reconsider the request of R. E. McClure, general manager of Trans Regional Airlines, to establish a second fixed-base operator at Howard County Airport.

- Officially levy the tax rate (already approved) and set the discount rate for early payment.
- Entertain bids on office supplies for 1976 and for two typewriters for the county clerk's office.

- Consider increasing the charge for tax certificates from 50 cents to $1.
- And confer about construction of a sidewalk on the north side of the library. Also, obtaining a trash dumpster for the library will be discussed.

Wide Range Of Displays Planned For HC Fair

A wide range of displays is open for the Big Spring, Howard County and area residents in the annual Howard County Fair, Sept. 15 thru 20.

The range is from cookies to cotton, from rabbits to barrows, from linens to cloths, from pictures to crafts.

In addition, there will be numerous special events, including the barrow show and sale, the Shrine Circus, a week-long carnival, Beef Cut-Up, pet show and horse show. The Agri-Business appreciation barbecue luncheon is also on tap and the above scheduled Beef Cut-Up will be a demonstration of cutting and packaging of a half-beef and cuts will be given away to those who are registered.

The cutting will be done by George Smith of Hubbard Packing Co., narration by Bruce Griffith and beef donated by Leland Wallace.

Here are some of the areas of exhibition open to all residents: Field Crops — Cotton, Small Grains, Feed Grains, Grasses, Beans, Peas and Hay, Vegetables and Fruits — Potato, Onion, Turnips, Beets, Carrots, Radishes, Squash, Cucumber, Pumpkin, Watermelon, Peppers, Collards, Apples, Peaches, Peaches, Plums, Grapes, etc.

There will be a Women's division which also will include home and hobby items, regular and metal crafts, glassware and other personal treasures, clothing, linens, breads, cakes, canned fruits and vegetables, preserves and pickles. There will be a Junior division in most of these categories.

There will also be an Art Show, Gem Show, and a special division for the "over 60" group in most of these categories.

There is no charge for entering any of these divisions and anyone interested in participating may contact Arnold Marshall, general superintendent, or Ruth Mitchell, secretary, at the Extension office in the basement of the Court House.

Of special interest to all local and area young women will be an open jackpot barrel race for senior and novice horses. This event will be held on Saturday evening in the Rodeo Bowl

GSA Sponsoring Business Clinic

LUBBOCK — The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and General Services Administration are co-sponsoring a business clinic for firms interested in selling their goods and services to the federal government.

GSA representatives will be at the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce Wednesday, Sept. 10, 1975, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. They are anxious to help area firms bid on Government contracts. Anyone interested in making an appointment should contact Grey Lewis at the Chamber of Commerce, phone 763-4666.

and $15 of the entry fee will be jackedpot in the senior division and $5 of the $8 entry will be jackedpot in the novice division.

Fair catalogues are available at no cost at the County Extension Office.

Slurry Transport Meet Wednesday

HOUSTON (AP) — The first national conference of the new Slurry Transport Association is to be held here Wednesday.

The group was formed to exchange information and encourage development of technology for transporting coal, minerals and other materials by pipeline.

U.S. Rep. James R. Jones, D-Okla., and Asst. Interior Secy. Jack O. Horton are to be among Wednesday's speakers.

Jones is the author of legislation that would grant rights of eminent domain to coal slurry pipelines. Horton will discuss the role of slurry transportation over the next 25 years.

Milton L. Williams, Kansas Nebraska Natural Gas Co. vice president, is chairman of the group.

Loot Machines

An undetermined amount of cash was stolen from vending machines kept outside at the KOA Camp grounds, Sheriff A. N. Standard said today. Obscene words had been written and carved on the walls of nearby buildings earlier, Standard said.

Laramie To Lure Top 20 Ropers

DENVER, Colo. — The top 20 ropers for the brief single steer roping season will be in Laramie, Wyo., next weekend for the National Finals Steer Roping.

Heading the list of contestants is Roy Thompson of Tulsa, Tex., 1973 world champion in the event who has won $5,412 so far this year. Right behind Thompson is veteran roper Eldon Dudley of Perryton, Tex., with $5,293.

The ropers will compete for $13,000 in prize money at the Finals. Four go-rounds will be run each day beginning at 1 p.m., and fans will be able to place pari-mutuel bets on their favorite ropers.

Only about a dozen steer roping contests are sanctioned annually by the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association, and the season ends with the Finals.

In rodeo competition ending over the past weekend, Joe Alexander made a sweep of four rodeos, winning nearly $3,000 in his specialty of bareback riding, and now leads for his fifth straight championship in the event with $27,379, better than $1,000 ahead of Rusty Riddle of Weatherford, Tex., who is second.

Alexander, of Cora, Wyo., won $579 at Walla Walla, Wash., $651 at Ellensburg, Wash., $562 at Huron, S. Dak., and $969 at Pueblo, Colo.

First-place winners included, at Pueblo, Alexander in bareback; John Holman of Kaycee, Wyo., $978 in saddle bronc; Leander Frey of Sulphur, La., $1,148 in bull riding; Greg Winham of Rush Springs, Okla., $1,895 in calf roping; and Steve Fryar of Stephenville, Tex., $1,281 in steer wrestling.

Ellensburg winners included Alexander, again, in bareback; Dave Griffith of Cardston, Alta., $945 in saddle bronc; Bob Romer of Canyon, Tex., and John Quintana of Redmond, Ore., $864 each in bull riding; Bob Ragsdale of Chowchilla, Calif., $1,452 in calf roping; and Carl Deaton of Hampshire, Tex., $1,456 in steer wrestling.

DIVISION LEADERS

ALL-AROUND COWBOY — Leo Camarillo, Okdale, Cal., $31,077.
SADDLE BRONC RIDING — Monty Henson, Mesquite, Tex., $23,219.

BARRECK BRONC RIDING — Joe Alexander, Cora, Wyo., $27,379.
BULL RIDING — Don Gay, Mesquite, Tex., $22,155.

CALF ROPING — Jeff Copenhagen, Spokane, Wash., $25,585.

STEER WRESTLING — Frank Shepperson, Midwest, Wyo., $24,002.

TEAM ROPING — Leo Camarillo, Okdale, Cal., $16,424.

GRA BARREL RACING — Jimmie Gibbs, Valley Mills, Cal., $16,263.

TWO SETS OF TWINS TO MARRY — Italia Orlanda, second from left, and her twin sister, Sicilia, became the brides Friday of twin brothers Rosario Badalamenti, left, and brother Salvatore. The four were married in a double ceremony, and after separate honeymoons of two nights, will tour Europe with one another and live in the same house when they return to Detroit. Sicilia says the wedding plans were hectic but "we compromised a lot."

Elect New Bishop

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—The Right Rev. Scott Field Bailey, 58, of Houston, was elected new Episcopal bishop coadjutor of the diocese of West Texas here. The Rev. Mr. Bailey was nominated from the floor and was selected by a lay and clergy delegation from 47 parishes and 39 missions in the 60-county diocese headquartered here.

Since 1964 he has been suffragan bishop of the Diocese of Texas based in Houston. He now has right of succession to the top post in the Diocese of West Texas when Bishop Harold Gosnell retires at the end of the year. The Rev. Mr. Bailey graduated from Rice Institute in 1938 and served during World War II as a Navy chaplain.

The Rev. Mr. Bailey was nominated from the floor and was selected by a lay and clergy delegation from 47 parishes and 39 missions in the 60-county diocese headquartered here.

Turning To Mobile Homes

TOLEDO (AP)—Increasing numbers of mobile-home owners formerly owned conventional single-family homes, according to a nationwide survey conducted on behalf of Owens-Corning Fiberglass Corp. by Market Facts, Inc., an independent research organization.

Fifty-three per cent of the survey's respondents - as compared with 43 per cent in 1969 - reported that they moved to their mobile homes from traditional, site-built, single-family housing. The study, which surveyed the attitudes and buying preferences of 1,400 mobile-home owners, found that two-thirds of the respondents were first-time owners. Average head-of-household age was 39; average family size was three people, and average income was about $11,000.

Gen. Clifford To Address 23 Graduates Of Class

The Undergraduate Pilot Training Class 76-03's guest speaker for their graduation Monday night will be B. Gen. Thomas E. Clifford, Director of Inspection for the Air Force Inspection and Safety Center (AFISC) at Norton AFB, Cal.

B. GEN. T. E. CLIFFORD

Born in Washington, D. C. he was graduated from Howard University with a bachelor of arts degree (cum laude) in business administration. As a distinguished military graduate of the Reserve Officers Training Corps program he was commissioned as a second lieutenant. In 1963 he received a master's degree in business administration from George Washington University.

During his career General Clifford has served as a fighter-pilot, flight commander, staff officer, deputy commander for operations, vice commander and commander of a tactical wing and as a vice commander of the Seventeenth Air Force, U.S. Air Forces in Europe (USAFE).

Following his assignment in USAFE, General Clifford became the Director of Inspection at the AFISC a little over one year ago.

Clifford will address 23 graduates of Class 76-03 at 6 p.m. Monday, in the Webb Air Force Base Chapel. The Class, which will be additionally honored with the presentation of the Wing Commander's Sports Trophy, includes 22 American pilots and one Security Assistance Training Program student from Iran.

Names of graduates and their assignments are as follows:

Anyone Can Join Group

Since Big Spring has no community theatre, Director John Gordon has invited everyone to join the Hawk Players, the Howard College Theatre group.

Try-outs for the year's first production will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the college auditorium. The play tentatively scheduled is Blihe Spirit, by Noel Coward, to be presented Oct. 16-18.

Gordon stated that he had a good "Turn-out" of local people for their summer musical, "Guys & Dolls", and that the four leading roles were played by non-students. He urges everyone to join them and continue to participate. Every area of theatre is open to those interested.

The second show is planned for early December, possibly a musical, the third show for early March, and the fourth show in May. Also, a summer Musical next July 4th is planned.

Routine Items On Agenda

A routine agenda faces school trustees at the meeting of the board of the Big Spring Independent School district at 5:15 p.m. Monday in the school administration board room.

The group will discuss the contract with Pritchard and Abbott, oil property appraising firm, employ new personnel, accept resignations, study a budget amendment, discuss implementation of Senate Bill 52 of Drug Education Funding and discuss the sale of school buses.

Lab Analysis

Officials have not obtained lab analysis of a substance identified as hashish, the attorney for a defendant said.

David William Guinn, 17, 1205 Runnels St., is accused of possession of tetrahydrocannabinol, commonly called hashish.

San Angelo Symphony Competition Slated

The San Angelo Symphony, with George Yeager, music director, will hold its annual competition for the Hemphill-Wells Sorantin Award Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 22 and 23, in San Angelo.

This competition, now in its 17th year, is open to instrumentalists who have not reached their 26th birthday and vocalists who have not reached their 30th birthday. The categories included in contest are keyboard instruments, orchestral instruments and voice.

A winner is chosen from each category, and cash awards given. The overall winner receives an additional cash award and a solo appearance with the San Angelo Symphony Orchestra March 31, 1976. Recommendation to leading concert managers is included in the award.

Anyone desiring more information or an application blank and a copy of contest rules may write the San Angelo Symphony Society, 2921 Southland Blvd., San Angelo, 76901. Applications must be accompanied by a $10 fee, and must be postmarked not later than midnight, November 10, 1975.

Previous winners are James Dick, Edward Aldwell, John Owings, Ralph Kirschbaum, Van Zandt Ellis, Henry Doskey, Carmen Alvarez, Jeffrey Swann, Ryan Edwards, Marion Gibson, Boaz Sharon, Lynda Sue Sharman, Boaz Heilman, Young-Ja Ahm, Robert Portney, and Rick Rowley.

Sweetwater Votes 'Wet'

SWEETWATER — In a citywide election held Friday, the legal sale of alcoholic beverages for off-premises consumption was approved in Sweetwater by a margin of 567 votes.

Of the 3,403 ballots cast, results showed 1,981 votes in favor of the sale of liquor and 1,414 votes against.

Sweetwater has been a "dry" community since 1946, when the sale of alcoholic beverages was voted out. A liquor election was staged here in November, 1967, but the legal sale of alcoholic beverages was not authorized by the voters.

Big Spring High Choral Unit To Present 'Birdie'

"Bye Bye Birdie," the musical comedy hit that ran on Broadway for 18 months in 1960 and 1961, will be presented by the Big Spring High School Choral Department at the high school auditorium Sept. 26 and 27.

Lead parts have been assigned for this exuberant extravaganza that spoofs teen-age frenzies over rock stars. Life Magazine once said about "Bye Bye Birdie" that "If attendance were compulsory for the nation's adolescents and their hand-writing parents, it might make them all feel better by giving them a good laugh at themselves."

"The Birdie" is an Elvis Presley-like songbird to be portrayed by Charles McKinney. Brian Jones will play the part of this minstrel's manager who is desolated with the loss of his meal-ticket to the armed forces, until his secretary, to be played by Denita Fellows, thinks up a publicity stunt.

The stunt is to choose from an index-card file of Birdie's fans, a typical American girl who will have the honor of being given the star's last kiss before he goes into uniform.

Birdie's visit makes a shambles of the home of the dungareed miss chosen for the kiss, and causes her father, portrayed by David Trim, to sing the wry song entitled "Kids."

Beverly Beil, who plays the teen-age Kim, will sing "How Lovely to be a Woman" and other songs. The show also contains the famous Telephone Hour number in which a batch of teen-agers are caught in a polyphonic exchange of phone calls.

The main comic assignment goes to Janet Ivery. Jack Bowers is directing this high-spirited musical fantasy and the choir is already hard at work on the production.

The 38mpg rabbit.

Good news at last! Volkswagen happily introduces the Rabbit. The incredible new car that gets 38 highway miles per gallon and 24 in the city (according to the '75 model Federal EPA tests).

Good news travels fast, too. The Rabbit'll do 93 miles per hour (we strongly suggest you obey all speed limits) and has the power to scoot from 0 to 50 in just 8.2 seconds.

And, since the engine's mounted sideways, the sub-compact Rabbit has all the head and leg room of some mid-sized cars. It also has a hatchback, front-wheel drive, and VW's unique rear stabilizer axle.

All backed by the Volkswagen Owner's Security Blanket with Computer Analysis. See the new Volkswagen Rabbit. And drive happily ever after.

Four Bi-centennial Homes Announced In Big Spring

By MARJ CARPENTER
These are only the first four of Big Spring homes that will be nominated for certificates of recognition from the Horizons Committee of the Bicentennial Commission. The committee desires to recognize all Big Spring homes dating back as early as 1915, provided they can be certified roughly as to the date of construction and the original owner.

Highland Heather, is the person to contact for those desiring to nominate a home for this honor.

The committee will welcome entries from anyone who knows something about a house of this early vintage, and it will award the certificates to a descendant of the original owner, to the present owner, or to an interested custodian. Each entry should be accompanied by a history containing interesting facts and old tales about the house and its families. It also should include a picture which may be taken by the official bicentennial photographer L. B. Paul, Sr. as soon as he is notified. He may be called at 7-7588.

The committee would like an old picture of the house if it is available.

As the Horizon's Committee, headed by Mrs. Roscoe Cowper reviews the country's heritage, it will include the life and times of early Big Spring. Mrs. Cowper said, "We are trying to give a nod of respect to the efforts of the past generation and to make a ritual acknowledgment that we cherish the foundation upon which we build. It is hoped that many will take this opportunity to submit a home for publication and that many will follow the stores with interest."

DORA ROBERTS HOME

DORA ROBERTS HOME THEN . . . AND NOW

The house John and Dora Roberts built in 1904 at 700 Ayleford was, according to a widely told story, a replica of the neighbor's across the street.

The Bud Browns, owners of the original grey, turreted, Victorian-style home, did not consider the Roberts' likeness a compliment.

They set about to completely remodel their two story house, tearing out the cupola and columned porches. Today, they look nothing alike.

However, the Roberts' home is the more representative of the period. Lloyd M. Brooks, the present owner, does not adhere to the story at all.

He even contends that the Roberts home was built first and that the Brown home was not remodeled until the 1930's and not for the reported reason.

When the cowboys from the Roberts' Ranch drove the cattle into town, they were provided with a bunk room upstairs in this home and a bathtub. The room and tub are still intact.

Dora Roberts lived in the house numerous years after John's death in 1909. It was owned by members of the Roberts family until 1953. The restoration conserved the original room arrangement including the corner fireplace with the mantel mirror and Ionic columns. Today the house serves as an antique store, having been acquired by the Brooks in 1960. They display English and American antiques throughout the eleven rooms.

THE REAGAN HOME

REAGAN HOME THEN AND NOW

Before this home was constructed at 411 Lancaster in 1908, the B. Reagan family had their first dwelling moved from that location to Bell Street. It also still stands. The builder was Charles W. Willis. This house was occupied by the civic-minded Reagans until their deaths in 1950.

It is presently owned by Dr. Seth Parsons, husband of Ona, now deceased. She, Horace, a local businessman; Paul, a retired mining engineer; and Lucille, who died of yellow fever in Africa in 1937 were all born in the first Reagan residence. Only, Helen Smith, an author and teacher, was born in this house.

They recall when their mother planted trees around the home, digging big three-foot holes in which they played. Ona came home from school one day and leaped into one of the tree holes after it had been filled with mud and water.

The home served as a meeting place for early civic and church groups, college friends of the children and Baptist missionary colleagues. Mrs. Reagan was instrumental in forming Boy Scout Troop I, the first in Texas.

And Baird-Cushing Home

BAIRD-CUSHING HOME

An early Big Spring physician, Dr. Baird, built the Baird-Cushing home located originally at 710 Main and now at Silver Heels.

The farm style, six bedroom house was built in 1905. By 1916, he sold it to the Cushings, a ranching family who moved into Big Spring to educate their children. Its location at 701 Main was then in the center of the residential neighborhood.

The grounds around the house were spacious with the garage housing one of the first cars in Big Spring. It was within walking distance to the high school, now Runnels Junior High and Central Elementary, now the county library.

The inviting porch served as a gathering place for neighborhood children. There was shade from the summer heat.

The house was then for many years a rooming house. Dr. P. W. Malone was one of the boarders. In 1972, the house was sold to the B. W. Walkers who moved it to the Silver Heels addition, remodeled it and yet preserved the original architecture with the fish scale shingles, dormer windows and the wooden railed porch. People who have had an interest in the home are thrilled to see it again a home, in a complimentary setting.

MORGAN HOME IN OLD DAYS AND TODAY

In the early 1900s, the only stone mason house in the Big Spring area was the J. M. Morgan home at 1500 Scurry. In 1910, he quarried the stone from native rock on Scenic Mountain. He cut it and pulled it down in the buggy, pulled by Dave, their horse.

At that time, the house was at the edge of town. Upon approaching the home, one notices the round, leaded glass window beside the front door which was inset the full 18 inches of the solid stone walls. Children found it a natural hiding place from which vantage point they could leap upon unsuspecting passersby.

Mrs. Morgan died at 98 in 1971 leaving the home to her children, two of whom reside there. The summer house is gone and the carriage house and barn are now a two-story garage. Solid oak trim is featured throughout the home. There are transoms above each door and there is a sandstone fireplace. Mr. Morgan built many of the early downtown buildings and St. Thomas Catholic Church.

FOCUS ON FAMILY LIVING Enter Year's Work In Fair Competition

By SHERRY MULLIN
Don't plan to come to the Howard County Fair and leave all those canned fruits and vegetables, jellies, handwork and clothing items you've done this past year at home. Enter these things in the fair. Let everyone see and admire your handiwork. Fair catalogs are in the Extension office for you to pick up.

Everything will be judged by certain standards. So keep these in mind when you are selecting what to bring.

GENERAL FOR CANNED PRODUCTS

Jars should be standard canning jars (not a pickle, mayonnaise, etc., jar). Jars and screwbands should be clean. Screwbands should not be rusty. Jars should be labeled as to contents.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

Food should be firm and fully ripe but not overly mature. Should be free and clear from unnatural cloudiness and sediments — Liquid should cover the food but no higher than 1/2 inch from top of jar. No air bubbles. Should be free from spots and blemishes. Pack should be neat and attractive in appearance. Firmly packed with no floating food. Color should be natural for food. Size of pieces should be uniform in size and shape; large fruit or tomatoes may cut into uniform pieces, otherwise fruit should be whole.

JELLY, JAMS, PRESERVES

Must be sealed with paraffin or vacuum seal and in standard jelly glasses or half-pint canning jars. Jelly should be firm with no sugar crystals and hold its shape when cut with a spoon. Flavor should be natural not too tart or too sweet. Color should be characteristic of fruit and clear and sparkling.

The pieces of fruit in preserves should be uniform, retain their shape, tender and be transparent and plump, not shriveled. Color should be natural of fruit; dark color indicates over-cooking or scorching. Syrup should be thick enough to move slowly with a definite pull when jar is turned to side. Sealed same as jelly.

PICKLED FOOD

Must be sealed in canning jars. Flavor should be pleasing, not too sour, too sweet or over-spiced. Cucumbers of mixed pickles should be firm, crisp, and plump. Pieces should almost be transparent. Medium size cucumbers should be used. Sweet pickles should be firm, yet tender and plump. Syrup should be thick. The pieces in relishes should be small or medium and uniform in size. Should be semi-transparent in appearance and hold sharp edge. Fruit pickles should be bright in color, uniform size, tender, firm without being watery. Color of all pickled food should reflect natural color of product from which made. Cured and fresh pack cucumbers should change from bright to olive green (no artificial coloring).

Try Bananas For Variety

Bananas — an excellent source of potassium — add variety and nutrition to family meals. Try sliced bananas with peanut butter or fried bananas for a different dessert idea, suggests Sally Springer, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Scraps Recycled Into Patchwork
During the Colonial period in America, no textile product was considered disposable. Every scrap was saved and recycled as long as possible. One happy result was the emergence of patchwork, a uniquely American art form. Miss Henson Marries In Stanton Church

The First Baptist Church of Stanton was the setting for the Saturday evening wedding ceremony of Miss Valerie Henson and Dennis D. Jones. The Rev. David Blancett united the couple before an archway decorated with greenery and blue and yellow carnations. Branched candelabra and pedestal baskets of blue and yellow carnations flanked the arch.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Henson and Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Jones, both of Stanton.

Mrs. Roy Koonce, organist, and Mrs. Brenda Robertson, vocalist, performed nuptial selections during the ceremony.

The bride chose a traditional style gown of Chantilly lace over white taffeta. The fitted bodice featured a portrait neckline and full bishop sleeves. Miss Cindy Ratliff of Dublin served the bride as maid of honor. She wore a blue floor-length dress styled with a V-neckline, empire waist and short puffed sleeves, all trimmed in lace. Mrs. Sherry Henson, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Glenda Peters of Big Spring were bridal attendants. They wore identical dresses to the maid of honor except in yellow.

Robert Feister of Midland, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man with Glenn Silver of Big Spring and Donnie Jones, Jr., serving as groomsmen.

Ushers were David Brown and Bill Pardue. Before leaving on a wedding trip to Mississippi, the newlyweds were honored at a reception held at the church. Ms. Donna Gamble, Mrs. Colleen Silver and Ms. Sharon Miller served guests from a table centered with an arrangement of candles entwined with greenery and carnations in the bride's chosen colors.

The couple will reside in Big Spring where Jones is a sergeant at Webb Air Force Base.

Relatives attending from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Henson, Sand Springs, Jimmy, Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Heffington, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Kinman and Vince Peters, all of Big Spring.

Less Pork

Supplies of pork are expected to decrease during 1975. Producers have been losing money on every hog they sell for the past several months and many have begun to reduce their breeding herds.

Miss Blessingame Weds Rev. Driver

Miss Betty Sue Blessingame was united in marriage to the Rev. Walter Ladell Driver in a ceremony held in the evening of Aug. 30 in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. A. V. Blessingame, Gail Route. The Rev. A. C. Holcomb, a retired Methodist minister, officiated.

The wedding party stood before branched candelabra decorated with palm leaves and mums.

The bride was attired in a floor-length dress of white lace over taffeta designed with an empire waist and princess skirt. The gown featured a rounded neckline and sheet lace sleeves gathered into ruffles at the wrists. The empire waist was marked with a satin sash tied in a bow in the back. Her finger-tip length veil was attached to a bandeau of roses. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations accented with gypsophila and greenery.

Mrs. Paul Webb of San Angelo was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a pink floor-length dress with a matching sheer cape, and carried a long-stemmed pink rose.

Bobby Driver of Lubbock, son of the bridegroom, was best man.

After the ceremony the Rev. and Mrs. Driver were honored at a reception in the home.

Miss Susan Blessingame and Mrs. Ernie Larson, sister of the bride, served refreshments from a table centered with an arrangement of pink and white daisies enhanced with greenery.

The couple will be at home in O'Donnell where the bridegroom is pastor of the First Methodist Church.

Out-of-town guests included the Ernie Larsons of Denton, Brad Larson of Memphis, Tenn., Mr. and Mrs. Paul Webb of San Angelo, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Driver of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Driver of Cross Plains.

Garden Club Plans Yearly Projects

Members of the Rosebud Garden Club and their guests met Thursday morning in the home of Mrs. Nell Spencer for a breakfast and business meeting. Mrs. J. W. Kuykendall and Mrs. Odell Womack were co-hostesses.

Guests attending the meeting were Mrs. E. B. Compton, Mrs. Brent Womack, Mrs. Pat Gravelly and Mrs. Billie Jean Wilbern.

Mrs. Spencer presided over the business meeting.

The club approved plans to take flower arrangements once a month to the Big Spring State Hospital Chapel.

Mrs. Odell Womack spoke to the group concerning the schedule of the Council of Garden Club Flower Show in conjunction with the Howard County Fair to be held Sept. 15-20.

Civic beautification projects the club will be involved with include planting trees, crape myrtles, bulbs and perennials at the Westside Community Center. Mrs. Clyde Thomas will be chairman of this activity.

The next meeting will be at 9:30 a.m. Oct. 28 in the home of Mrs. G. P. Morrison, 801 Marcy Drive, Apt. 36.

Doctorate Received

Center Point Slates Fall Meeting

The Center Point Community Homecoming is scheduled for 10 a.m. Sept. 14 at the old Center Point school. The Rev. Delbert Davidson will speak at 11 a.m.

Those attending should bring a basket lunch. Drinks, plates and other utensils will be furnished. The afternoon will be spent visiting with friends and neighbors. Musical entertainment will be provided during the afternoon.

Anyone having old pictures are encouraged to bring them to the homecoming.

Hog History

Hogs were one of the first animals to be domesticated. Even before the dynasties of Egypt were developed, hogs could be found in Egypt. The earliest Chinese farmers raised hogs, which were valued animals because they required little care and could forage for themselves.

Couple Wed In Home Ceremony

Miss Wanda Nix became the bride of David Lamar in a Friday afternoon ceremony held in the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sobo of Chateau Acres. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Leo Nix of 2508 Peach.

Walter Grice, justice of the peace, officiated at the ceremony.

The bride wore a formal dress and carried a white carnation bouquet.

Before leaving on a two-week wedding trip to Galveston, the couple was honored at a reception in the home. Refreshments were served from a table covered with a white cloth and centered with an arrangement of mixed flowers.

Serving at the reception were Mrs. Lula Nix and Mrs. Sara Sobo and Mrs. Ruby Nix, mothers of the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Gremillion attended from Lubbock.

The bridegroom works at Berkley Mobile Homes and the bride is employed at Kentucky Fried Chicken.

Tips On Show Plants Given

Mrs. Paul Guy hosted the Texas Star African Violet Club in her home Thursday evening for a business meeting to discuss plans for the flower show to be held at the Howard County Fair Sept. 15-20.

Mrs. B. H. Montgomery was appointed chairperson of the "Clean Up Big Spring" campaign sponsored by the Big Spring Council of Garden Clubs.

Tips for growing and grooming show plants were given by Mrs. Cass Hill, guest speaker.

She explained that African violets do not just happen to grow to be show plants. Many varieties grown in the home never develop into show plants. They may be favorites, but are not suitable for show. Such plants add nothing to the quality of the show when exhibited with blue-ribbon winners.

All too often the layman thinks of a show plant as one with only a profusion of blossoms. He does not consider the value of cultural perfection which adds up to 50 per cent of the total score.

Each plant is judged according to the merits of that particular variety, not one variety against another, but against each item in the AVSA scale of points for specimen entries.

Large blossoms enhance the beauty of an African violet. Double blossoms make more satisfactory show plants as their blossoms do not drop as readily as plants with single blossoms.

Select a sturdy plant, on the basis of uniform growth. Keep them clean and free from all diseases and insects the year round, and they will reflect good care.

Check the plants for suckers. Remove those leaves necessary to produce a good symmetrical pattern. Be sure the plants are in the center of the pot and have clean and shining foliage. Make sure all faded blossoms, spent bloom stems and seed pods are removed. Water thoroughly, then carefully pack and take them to the show.

Dear Abby

Garbage Collector Need Not Lie About Profession

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with a very nice girl for two years, and I want to marry her, but here's the problem:

When we first met, I lied to her about my job, and I've been lying about it ever since.

You see, I am a garbage collector, but I was afraid if I told her what I did for a living she wouldn't go out with me. So I told her that I worked for the city as an inspector in the sanitation department. I even lied to her parents about it.

What am I going to do? Should I tell her that I have changed jobs, and now I'm a garbage collector? I'm afraid if I tell her I've been lying to her for two years she'll never believe me again.

Please help me, Abby. She's the only girl I've ever loved, and she says she loves me. I am so afraid if I tell her the truth now, I'll lose her.

NAMELESS, PLEASE
DEAR NAMELESS: Tell her the truth! If she loves you, you won't lose her. And please get over that hangup about your job. It's honest, respectable and necessary work. And certainly nothing to be ashamed of.

DEAR ABBY: I am living with my boyfriend, sharing expenses 50-50, and so far it's worked out well with one exception.

Before we moved in together I had a beautiful set of expensive dishes, and also service for 12 in very fine crystal.

Well, in four months, Andy has broken four dinner plates, two soup bowls, two cups and five glasses!

I haven't gotten too uptight at him because I know it was accidental.

I've asked him to please be more careful in the future because I can't afford much more of this.

Should I ask him to pay for what he broke? What do I do if he says no?

SHATTERED IN SEATTLE
DEAR SHATTERED: Ask him. And if he says no, you'll have to choose between the bull and the china shop.

DEAR ABBY: I'm another college graduate who would feel like an idiot asking this question of anyone else, so I'm asking you.

When a person has his eyes examined and is told that he has 20-20 vision, what do the numbers signify?

ANOTHER DUMMY
DEAR ANOTHER: You're no dummy. Very few people who are not in the profession of prescribing eye glasses know the answer. (I didn't, so I asked).

20-20 vision means that what you see at a distance of 20 feet, a person with normal vision sees at 20 feet.

20-40 vision means that what you can see at 20 feet, a person with normal vision sees at 40 feet.

This method of expressing visual perception does not relate to the eye's need for eyeglasses. The degree of sharpness WITHOUT eyeglasses describes the ability of the unaided eye; while the degree WITH CORRECTION (wearing glasses) states the best vision obtainable.

DEAR ABBY: This is for "UPTIGHT MOM," whose 4-year-old kid refused to eat anything but peanut butter and jelly sandwiches and chocolate chip ice cream:

I have three kids and they've never had an eating problem. Know why? Because kids eat only what you have in the house. I never have junk foods around. No sugar drinks, cookies or candy. Only nutritious foods, fresh fruit, vegetables and milk. That's what they eat for snacks.

Just give the kids what YOU think they should eat, and if they don't want it, they can go without. Pretty soon they'll get hungry enough to eat anything.

The Busy Bee Hobby Club met Thursday at 1105 Eleventh Place for an all-day workshop and luncheon.

Mrs. Lavern McGonigill presided over the business meeting. Mrs. Lee Priest was welcomed as a new member.

Plans were made for a bicentennial display to be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sept. 20 at the Highland Shopping Center mall. Members of the club will display antiques and heirlooms of their families.

Plans were finalized for the Christmas Bazaar to be held in the Highland Shopping Center mall from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Oct. 4. Members will have arts and crafts they have made displayed for sale.

Birthday gifts were won by Mrs. Millie Green, Mrs. Edith Clark and Mrs. Onita Hardy.

The next meeting will be at 10 a.m. Sept. 11 at the 1105 Eleventh Place. Mrs. Roberta Ross will demonstrate crushed-egg-shell art.

Ann Burer is the daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Arthur W. Burer of 608 Highland Drive. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Soles, Sterling City Route.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School and the bridegroom graduated from Forsan High School.

The altar was enhanced with an arrangement of yellow and white mixed flowers flanked by branched candelabra entwined with greenery. Mrs. Nancy Flanigan, organist, performed wedding music for the ceremony.

The bride chose to wear a floor length gown of off-white crepe designed with an empire waist and princess skirt. She wore a lace jacket styled with a yoke, stand-up collar and long fitted sleeves over the narrow-strapped wedding dress. Her fingertip-length veil of illusion bordered with lace fell from a Camelot cap of beaded Chantilly lace. She carried a bouquet of yellow and white daisies.

served the bride as matron of honor. She wore a floor-length light green dress.

Steve Gordan of Snyder was best man.

After the wedding ceremony, a reception was held in the Webb AFB Officers' Club. Refreshments were served from a table laid with a white linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of yellow and white mixed flowers. Serving at the reception were Miss Kathi Spannaus, Miss Betsy Owens, Miss Tawa Wood, Mrs. M. S. Calkin and Mrs. D. Soles.

Out-of-town relatives attending were Capt. Alfred E. Burer of Sierra Vista, Ariz.; Mr. and Mrs. A. Musumeci of Wheaton, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. H. Burer of Devine; and Ms. Willie Burer of Portland, Ore.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise: While I was in the hospital recently, I discovered something I would like to share with your readers.

After guests had visited, the lingering smell of the cigarette butts in the ash tray was most annoying.

So I washed the ash tray, dried it, and sprayed it with deodorant spray.

To my amazement, it eliminated the stale smoke smell for several hours and even lasted after emptying the ash tray. Faithful reader

If you use your favorite air freshener, you will be pleasantly surprised at how long it lasts.

I used lemon-scented and my living room smelled sweet for a day or two.

The Big Spring Garden Club held its first meeting Wednesday morning for the 1975-76 year in the home of Mrs. Clyde Angel with Mrs. Robert Stripling as co-hostess. Refreshments were served from a table enhanced with an arrangement of pink hibiscus and oleander.

Officers for the new year are Mrs. O. T. Brewster, president; Mrs. John Knox, first vice president; Mrs. John Balch, second vice president; Mrs. James W. Cowan, recording secretary; Mrs. L. B. Edwards, corresponding secretary; Mrs. John Davis, treasurer; Mrs. Norman Read, parliamentarian; and Mrs. John Knox, council representative.

The Big Spring Garden Club will be active in many civic affairs this year. Members participated in the "Clean Up Big Spring" campaign held Sept. 5 sponsored by the Big Spring

Council of Garden Clubs

The Howard County Fair will be the scene of the annual flower show in which members plan to work and present entries for competition. Mrs. L. B. Edwards, general chairman of the flower show, reminded members that all garden club members of at least one year's standing must enter in at least three classes, one of which must be in the artistic division. Mrs. J. C. Pickle, president of the Big Spring Council of Garden Clubs, asked that members volunteer to work in the flower show.

Mrs. D. O. Gray announced that five members will be selected to attend the Flower Show School III at the Lancaster Garden Center in Midland on Sept. 9-11.

Mrs. Angel presented the yearbooks to the club. She pointed out that the theme for this year would be "There is Beauty in Strength and Determination in Crises—Strength and Determination Change Things."

The next meeting will be at 9:30 a.m. Oct. 1 in the home of Mrs. Morris Robertson, 2806 Clanton. Mrs. Paul Guy will conduct a flower workshop.

Peugh-Schuelke Wedding Held In Ackerly Church

Patty Jane Peugh and Kenneth Wayne Schuelke exchanged vows in a Saturday evening ceremony in the First Baptist Church at Ackerly with the Rev. Don Long officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Peugh, Star Rt., Stanton, are the parents of the bride, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schuelke, Star Rt. 2, Lamesa.

Mrs. Nora Hambrick, pianist; Mrs. Patricia Hall organist; and Marsha and Buddy Dyer vocalists, furnished nuptial selections.

Brass candelabra lighted the background for the wedding party. The bridal aisle was also lighted with candelabra enhanced with pom-pom mums, gypsophila, and greenery.

The bride chose a formal gown in candlelight silk organza, cluny and Venice laces, re-embroidered with pearl clusters. The fitted bodice featured a high neckline encircled with cluny lace and outlined in tiny pearls. The sheer bodice inset was embellished with cluny lace and Venice Lace appliques. The paneled skirt was bouffant with circular fullness and formed a full length train. The entire hemline was encircled with a wide cluny lace ruffle. The long fitted lace sleeves fastened with tiny covered buttons.

The bride's veil was fashioned of candlelight illusion falling in layers to the waist. Fresh flowers of bridal white, sweetheart roses and gypsophila circled the crown of the veil. The bride carried a cascade bouquet centered with a white orchid, bridal white sweetheart roses, gypsophila and stephanotis.

Miss Lynn Hopper of Knott served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Kayla Gaskins, Lubbock; Miss Tammy Peugh, sister of the bride; Mrs. Carla Peugh, sister-in-law of bride; and Miss Sheree Shaw, Midland.

The attendants wore floor-length gowns of blue miramist nylon, flocked with tiny flowers and underlined with blue batiste. The dresses feature portrait necklines encircled with

Altar Society Has Meeting

The Altar Society of Immaculate Heart of Mary Church met Monday evening in the school. Reports were made on visits to the sick and the improvement of the pews.

Two side chairs for the altar will be purchased in memory of Kathleen Graves, Averil Gilbert, Mary Jenkins and Mrs. Morgan. Personal contributions can also be made.

In keeping with the theme of the bicentennial year, a short history of the Catholic Church in Texas was presented by Mrs. Wanda Anderson. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Ed Settles and Miss Kathy Sullivan.

MRS. KENNETH WAYNE SCHUELKE

wide ruffling. The waistlines were enhanced by blue ribbon sashes. Deep ruffles marked the hemlines of the softly gathered skirts.

Bouquets of pom pom mums touched with gypsophila and tied with ribbon were carried by the five attendants. Tiny rope pearl necklaces, gifts of the bride, were worn by all female attendants.

Jogay Tunnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Tunnell, Stanton and Heather Schuelke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Schuelke, McAllen, flower girls, were attired in full length blue miramist dresses fashioned in similar fashion to the bridesmaids. They wore wrist corsages of tiny roses, baby's breath and were tied with blue ribbon.

Lee Jackson, son of Ms. Ethel Jackson, Knott, and Lance Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Robinson, were ringbearers.

Serving as best man was Syd Fowler, Big Spring. Groomsmen were Fred Schuelke, father of the groom, Johnny and Danny Peugh brothers of the bride. Ushers for the wedding were Paul Hopper, Lubbock and Billy Reed of Ackerly.

Miss Ann Nichols registered guest from a square table skirted with blue and overlaid with lace. A yellow rose was laid in the center of the bride's book.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall. The bride's table was covered with candlelight tulle and lace overlay. Silver candelabra surrounded by the attendants' bouquets formed the centerpiece.

Following a wedding trip to River Bend Camp on the Frio River, Mr. and Mrs. Schuelke will be at home at 1103 Runnels, Big Spring, Texas.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Sands High School and Howard College. He is presently employed at Berkley Mobile Homes. The bride is a graduate of Sands High School.

Out-of-town guests included the grandmothers of the bride and groom. Mrs. Angeline Shaw, Mrs. Schuelke, Stanton, Mrs. Locke, San Antonio.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bridegroom's parents at the Spanish Inn with attendants and guests being honored along with the couple.

Elbow HD Club Has Meeting

The first meeting of the 1975-76 club year for the Elbow Home Demonstrations Club was held in the home of Mrs. Zula Rhodes Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. L. L. Soles presided at the meeting and welcomed two new members, Mrs. J. H. Ratliff and Mrs. E. R. Patton.

Jack White of the Department of Public Safety presented a program on public safety.

The next meeting will be at 9:15 a.m. Sept. 18 in the home of Mrs. Thelma Burrough, 2903 Clanton.

Women's Division Entry Rules

One of the features of the Howard County Fair to be held September 15-20, will be the Home and Hobby Department. Heading the Home and Hobby Division is Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins with the womens' activities coordinated by Mrs. Lloyd Robinson. In charge of the various departments are Mrs. Raymond Phillips, antiques; Mrs. Richard Patterson, art; Mrs. W. N. Norred, crafts and hobbies; Mrs. L. L. Soles, culinary (baked goods); Mrs. J. R. Petty, culinary (canned foods); Mrs. W. R. Posey, textiles (clothing); Mrs. B. A. Bunn, textiles (hand-work); Mrs. Bessie Love, "Over sixty"; Mrs. Neil Fryar, youth; Mrs. Virgil Clark, lapidary; and Mrs. L. B. Edwards, flower show.

There will be the following divisions:

ADULT

1. Antique
2. Art Exhibit
3. Crafts & Hobbies
4. Culinary (Baked Goods & Canned Goods)
5. Textiles (Clothing & Handwork)

YOUTH

1. Crafts & Hobbies
2. Culinary
3. Textiles

Entries will be taken Sept. 15, from 7:30 a.m. to 12 p.m. Exhibitors should be aware of the rules regarding entries.

Exhibits will not be open to the public until 6 p.m. Sept. 15. Exhibits will not be released until Sept. 20 between 8 a.m. and 12 p.m.

Blue, red and white ribbons will be awarded to first, second and third places in each division providing the quality is such that these awards are deserved. Ribbons for participation will be given each entry.

Entries in the youth division will include all area youth (not just FFA and 4-H). All items entered must have been completed in the last three years and must not have earned a first place ribbon or award in previous fairs.

All entries must be the work of the exhibitor. All articles must be complete.

No professional work will be accepted unless there is a division for such.

Canned fruits, vegetables, pickles, relishes will not be judged unless in regulation jars. All jars must be sealed with rings left on. Jellies, jams, etc., may be in standard glasses or pint jars. Paraffin will be accepted. All jelly glasses or jars must have tops. No mayonnaise, coffee or old jars will be judged. All jars must be labeled as to contents.

Baked articles must be placed on cardboard squares or circles and must be completely covered with clear cellophane that is taped to the underside.

There is a place to enter almost anything, but if you have questions, please come by the County Extension Office and get a fair catalogue. There will be someone available to answer your questions from 8 a.m. to 12 p.m. and 1 to 5 p.m. Mr. Ruth Mitchell, fair secretary will be at the County Extension Office.

As in last year's fair, there will be a special division for the "Over Sixty" group. For those who wish to enter as long as it complies with the general rules.

The fair committee urges everyone to participate and to make this fair even bigger and better than it was last year. Please make an effort to enter in all divisions.

Marinate Meat To Add Flavor

COLLEGE STATION - Lightweight, forage-fed or budget beef can offer economy in meals, but most consumers are unaccustomed to its mild flavor, Mrs. Mary Sweeten, foods and nutrition specialist, noted this week.

"This mild flavor, resulting from the reduction of fat marbling and covering found in grain fed beef, can be enhanced by marinades, according to the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, specialists.

"Marinating the beef overnight can make a lightweight beef roast or steak perfectly acceptable for grilling or roasting," she said.

College Offers Jewelry Course

Area residents have the opportunity to learn the skills necessary to craft fine jewelry. Howard College is offering a two-semester Jewelry Manufacturing program beginning the fall semester and continuing into the spring semester.

Fred Tatum, experienced in jewelry crafting for 35 years, is the instructor. He states that on completion of the program, students receive a jeweler certificate and are equipped to join a jewelry manufacturing firm or venture out into their own business.

The jewelry class will meet from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. Monday through Friday beginning Sept. 8 and running through Dec. 18. Student interested in learning the jewelry trade may register at 9 a.m. Monday for a $300 tuition fee. Materials are available from wholesale sources.

During the semester, students will learn ring and accessory design, enameling, hand-crafting, centrifical casting and other necessary skills. There will be a crafting section on Indian style jewelry and other popular styles.

Registration for the program will be held in Room 108 in the Practical Arts building on Howard College campus.

Snacks For Preschoolers

COLLEGE STATION - Nutritious snacks give an extra boost to help preschoolers avoid tooth decay, Mrs. Mary Sweeten, foods and nutrition specialist, advised this week.

"Celery cut in fan shapes, carrot curls, radish roses, lettuce leaves or raw cauliflower will tickle a preschooler's imagination - and satisfy his hunger pains," this specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said.

Serve fresh fruits such as melon balls, plums, apples, oranges, grapefruit, lemonade or other juices.

Meat, boiled eggs or cheese cubes or wedges add protein for the hungry child and do not hasten tooth decay, she reminded.

"Tooth decay results from chemical reactions in the mouth. Starchy foods supply the food required by germs or bacteria in the mouth. This results in acid formation, which takes anywhere from 10 seconds to 30 minutes after eating candy or other starchy foods. Thus the result is tooth decay.

"The longer this acid remains in the mouth, the more likely the tooth is to decay. This is why hard candies kept in the mouth a long time are actually more harmful than a chocolate bar or chocolate mint.

Insects Causing Heavy Damage To Cotton Crops

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Heavy rains from Hurricane Caroline set back some fall vegetable planting in South Texas but the moisture helped pastures and ranges, Dr. John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said.

Good to excellent sorghum yields are being harvested in West Central Texas and in the Rolling Plains, Hutchison said.

Rice, sorghum and corn harvests about complete in South Central and Southeast Texas, he said.

Land preparation for small grains is under way in most areas and some planting is in progress, he said. Early plantings have emerged in the Panhandle and in the Coastal Bend of South Texas.

Calves and lambs across the state are in top shape because of good grazing over the summer months but marketings are mixed, Hutchison said.

District agricultural agents gave these reports:

Panhandle: Corn is beginning to mature. Cotton is making excellent progress although boll weevil activity is increasing in eastern counties. The fourth cutting of alfalfa is being baled.

South Plains: Cotton, sorghum and soybeans are making excellent progress. The sunflower harvest is active. Yields are generally good. Some wheat planting is in progress.

Rolling Plains: Sorghum harvesting is about 60 per cent complete in some counties. Yields have been excellent. Sunflower yields are 750 to 1,050 pounds per acre on dry land and up to 2,000 pounds per acre under irrigation. Insects are heavy in most cotton.

North Central: Sorghum harvesting is about 75 per cent complete. About 10 per cent of the cotton crop is open. Harvesting will start soon. Planting of fall vegetable gardens is active.

Northeast: Rain is needed to boost pastures, hay crops and soybeans. Some sorghum harvesting is in progress. Land is being prepared for wheat and fall vegetable gardens. Pecans are dropping because of insect damage.

Far West: Insects are causing heavy damage to the cotton crop. Sunflower harvesting is in full swing. Most lambs have been shipped to market. Calves generally weigh about 50 pounds above average because of good grazing.

West Central: Sorghum harvesting is about 75 per cent complete. Yields are above average. The peanut crop looks good but needs rain as do pastures and ranges. Goat shearing is active.

Central: Sorghum harvesting is complete. The cotton harvest is picking up momentum. Planting of small grains has started. Some pecans continue to drop because of insect damage and dry weather but an average crop is expected. Pastures and ranges need rain.

East: Cotton harvesting is Norwood, New Jersey about to start. The peanut crop is producing second and third cuttings. Recent rains should bring additional

Project Complete

A re-entry project in northeast Glasscock County has been completed as a Wolfcamp oil discovery.

John L. Cox No. 1 Reynolds, 10 miles northeast of Garden City, rated 172 barrels of 38-gravity oil and no water with a gas oil ratio of 945-1 through a 10-64th choke. The section from 8,245-506 was fractured with 50,000 gallons. Casing was set at 8,700, and the previous total depth was 9,817 feet when drilled originally in 1971. The venture is 1 1/2 miles northeast of the depleted Wolfcamp opener and lone producer in the Clyde Reynolds (Queen and Clearfork) field. It also is 2 1/2 miles east of the Garden City (Strawn and Mississippian) field and 2 1/2 miles northeast of a depleted Wolfcamp well in the Garden City South field. Location is 1,990 from the south and 1,480 from the east lines, section 1032-4s,

T&P.

A mile southeast extension of the Spraberry Trend Area has been recorded by the Lone Star Producing No. 1 Fred Ernst, 11 miles southeast of Garden City. It pumped 27.71 barrels of 38-gravity oil and acidized the perforations at 6,320-7,912 with 3,500 gallons and fraced with 175,000 gallons. Location is 1,320 from the south and 660 from the east lines of section 10-35-5s, T&P.

C&K No. 1 Garrett, a deep wildcat west of Coahoma, is below 2,442 in shale and lime.

Keene Water Shortage Noted

KEENE, Tex. (AP) — Residents here have been asked to voluntarily curb "excessive" water use because of a water shortage, officials said Thursday morning.

Police Chief Don Beeson said the shortage began Wednesday when the city's four wells were not able to keep pace with water demands.

A REPORT TO THE CITIZENS OF BIG SPRING

This is the first of three articles that your City will present to help explain the upcoming budget. This report shows the increases in just 3 years, due primarily to inflation and State mandated training programs and requirements. Please read the explanatory notes carefully.

Heart of law enforcement is transportation. Shown above is a typical police unit. In the 1972-73 budget year, actual cost of the auto was $3,787.00. The current budget calls for an expenditure of $4,600.00 per car. Tires for this unit were $20.91 in the 1972-73 year. Radial tires are now used and the cost is $131.45 per tire. For the entire department, Federal wage and hour laws have increased overtime a whopping $11,300.00. Other increases can be noted from the budget and actual figures listed below.

Fire protection is a vital part of City government and takes a healthy slice of the budget. A truck purchased in 1964 cost $29,000.00. Replacement today would be $49,000.00. A new ladder truck, necessary to obtain lower insurance rates, is on order and the price tag is $95,000.00. The actual fuel figures and the proposed budget show the tremendous increase in cost. The Federal wage and hour law is responsible for an increase of $17,000.00 in overtime for the fire department. Maintenance also adds to the higher costs.

The item-headed food is for meals for city jail prisoners only. Uniform allowances are up but include 2 uniforms each for the firemen, same as last year. Police are furnished 3 uniforms, down from 4 last year. Overtime pay is dictated, of course, by Federal law. Items above the double line are actual 1972-73 figures and the new budget. Items below the double line are mostly examples to show the increased costs of several items. Longevity pay is calculated at the rate of $4.00 per month for each year of service. Social Security rates are set by Federal law.

Police training is required, especially more extensive training on new laws, such as Civil Rights. This costs more. Firemen now have to have certification where none was required before. Hospitalization costs have risen 50 per cent in the past 3 years and Workman's Compensation has increased substantially.

Discombobulater Loves Celebrities Girl Likes Cop Shop

NEW YORK (AP) — Andy Warhol munched delicately on some coffee beans that had been floating in his glass of clear liqueur while a gang of friends consumed mounds of assorted pastas.

The setting was, of course, Elaine's, where celebrities go to look at each other.

Andy Warhol, artist, film maker and newly published author, loves celebrities. Bianca Jagger has been escorting him to frequent dinners while Warhol finishes a portrait of her husband, rock star Mick.

Warhol and Paulette Goddard were inseparable for months. Lee Radziwill, Truman Capote and Tony Perkins slide up to his side at those parties they all attend.

Warhol is a celebrity himself from the days he discombobulated the art scene in the early '60s with his paintings of Campbell tomato soup cans, scouring pad boxes and dollar bills.

From Pop Art he moved to underground films of intense monotony. One six-hour film showed a man sleeping. The Empire State Building was the subject of an 8-hour study.

These days Andy is aboveground with feature films of more manageable length such as "Dracula" and "Frankenstein." He is also working on a movie entitled "Bad" about "a normal family in Brooklyn" and is writing a comedy about senility.

Every month, Warhol puts out his magazine "Interview" with gossipy tidbits and transcribed taped interviews with the glamorous and bizarre.

When asked whom he would like to interview most of all, Warhol replied quickly: "Walt Disney. But he's dead."

Warhol still paints but mostly portraits for which he charges $25,000. Some of his subjects include President Ford—commissioned by a magazine, Greek shipping tycoon Philip Niarchos and dancer Rudolf Nureyev.

Warhol's friends are crazy about him.

"He is terrific. A visionary and a very charming man," said Sylvia Miles, the star of Warhol's movie "Heat."

"He's sweet, warm and kind. Brilliant and talented," said Ethel Scull, top pop art collector of the '60s whose portrait Warhol made from 36 silkscreened passport photos.

Friends agree that the shock of being gunned down in 1968 by an enraged actress-writer profoundly frightened Warhol.

"I thought people were imaginative. I guess I didn't realize they were nutty, too," said Warhol, his soft voice barely audible above the kissy smacks and chortles around the room.

So his constant traveling entourage is as much for his sense of security as for amusement. When it's time to go home, everyone leaves together.

"They call me the mascot," Trudy Tilley, 13, said.

Since last fall, she has been spending an hour or two every other day at the police station when her favorite policemen and women are working.

She cleans up in the break room, makes coffee and files reports. Occasionally, officers buy her a soft drink.

"Some of them I don't know get mad at me and tell me why don't I go home," Trudy said. When they are working, she skips a day.

She keeps up with schedules so she knows when to visit.

At Runnels Junior High School, Trudy likes to read library books on police work. "And mostly I learn stuff here" at the station. She sometimes watches booking procedures in the jail lobby.

Does she want to be a policewoman when she grows up?

"Well, part time," Trudy said. "you know. Like somebody's sick or something."

POLICE DEPARTMENT DWELLER — Trudy Tilley, 13, who spends her spare time hanging around the police department, pours coffee for Patrolman Jimmy Wallace. Trudy lives nearby at 405 Johnson St. with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Tilley.

Does Not Want To See Death Quiz Reopened

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert F. Kennedy Jr., son of the assassinated senator, says his family does not want to see the investigation of his father's death reopened.

"It's a painful thing for my entire family to see this whole thing reopened and we're satisfied with what was found," young Kennedy said Thursday in an interview. "I think they ought to drop it."

A 21-year-old Harvard College senior, Kennedy said, "I have no interest in seeing the whole case pursued, and I think I speak for the rest of my family."

Critics of the investigation say it is possible that more than one gun was fired, placing doubt on the official explanation — that Sirhan B. Sirhan acted alone as the assassin. Los Angeles police recently disclosed that officers destroyed bullet-riddled ceiling panels and other evidence they considered useless, and a judge in Los Angeles recently ordered that the Sirhan gun be retested.

'Funny Girl' Becomes Lady

Barbra Streisand is playing Fanny Brice again — but with a difference.

After portraying the popular entertainer of the Thirties and Forties in both the stage and screen versions of "Funny Girl," Ms. Streisand now takes up a later chapter in Fanny's biography in the new film, "Funny Lady."

Starting Friday, the show will be screened at the Ritz Theatre.

The musical romantic drama, a Columbia Pictures release in March, is a fictionalized account of the Billy Rose period in the comedienne's life and co-stars James Caan as Rose and Omar Sharif in a special guest appearance once more as Nick Arnstein.

"This is more of a real acting job for me," Barbra comments. "I have to deny a lot of myself. In 'Funny Girl,' I played a character who was more like me than Fanny Brice. She wasn't as durable as the real Fanny. The notes I read about her when she was older — the period we cover in 'Funny Lady' — interested me more than the earlier character."

"The first part of Fanny's life — the 'Funny Girl' part, I guess you could say — was dedicated to her fantasy, to the achievement of her career. She was almost totally obsessed with work. And her love life, I believe, was based on her self-deprecatory feelings about herself. Therefore, she was attracted to a man who was totally her opposite — conventionally good-looking, not from the streets like she was sophisticated, polished fingernails."

Poor Tome Sells Sea Life Books

By REBECCA TAYLOR
County Reference Librarian

In February of 1974, the Howard County Library received two copies of an unimpressive little book with the singular title of "Jaws."

In the process of classifying this uninteresting volume, the cataloguer scanned the first three or four pages and promptly became ill.

Although this book did not circulate much in Howard County during its first couple of months, it soon became popular enough to be placed on reserve for weeks at a time.

Since the release on the movie "Jaws," it is simply not enough for patrons to go to the movie and read the book. Howard County Library patrons are now demanding anything about any creatures of the "deep."

Books on dolphins, whales and seals, as well as the books on sharks are in heavy demand.

The impact of "Jaws" is not only in the entertainment and publishing industries where it has already grossed millions of dollars, "Jaws" is a merchandiser producer.

Foxe Mulls Over Mills

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — "The Stripper and the Congressman," Fanne Foxe's biography, went on sale at Little Rock book stores Thursday, and business was reported brisk among the constituents of Rep. Wilbur D. Mills.

But the advertising agency promoting the book said there have been a number of complaints about the book, and several suggestions that Miss Foxe cancel her promotional two-day appearance in Little Rock later this month.

"Several individuals and church groups have called to complain," said Shirley Stover of the Stout Advertising Agency. "They just don't think it's a proper thing to do."

She said she has heard that there have been complaints about Miss Foxe's speaking appearance before a meeting of the Little Rock Jaycees, scheduled for Sept. 18.

However, Rogert Stout, an official of the advertising firm, said Thursday evening that he had received no indication that Miss Foxe would cancel her appearance at Little Rock.

News Mart, a downtown bookstore, reported receiving a heavy volume of calls throughout the day from persons asking if the book was available.

"I got calls all morning from people asking if it (the book) was in yet," said store manager Bob Houston. "We didn't get the books in til about 1 p.m., but we've done a pretty good business already. It's the thing everyone talks about."

Mildred Murry, a clerk at the store, said, "There were a couple of policemen looking the book over pretty good when I came to work at 2 o'clock. They laughed and joked and looked at the pictures mainly and one of them said he'd come back and buy a copy when he got off duty."

At another bookstore, clerk Dorothy Nesbitt said the book was the center of conversation.

Local Group Is Asked To Study State Texts

The local organization of women's rights advocates, the Big Spring National Organization for Women, was contacted by the state organization of N.O.W. recently to help them study prospective textbooks before the official textbook hearings in Austin.

The Big Spring chapter was selected to study fourth grade arithmetic texts with Ms. Susan Conley, Howard County librarian, and Ms. Wanda Reese of Howard College, co-chairmen of the study.

They studied the story problems in the textbooks and found a few minor discrepancies that would put women in "the housewife role" but did not plan to attend the state hearings.

A release from Austin listed the Big Spring NOW group who would be allowed time at the hearings Sept. 11, with 13 minutes to be allowed per book.

First round of textbook hearings for 1976 state adoption of new materials for use in Texas public schools will be held there Sept. 10 and 11.

Dr. M. L. Brockette, commissioner of education, and the 15-member State Textbook Committee will hold a joint two-day hearing at the Texas Education Agency, 201 E. 11th Street, beginning Wednesday, at 9 a.m.

Dr. Brockette will be assisted by Dr. L. Harlan Ford, deputy commissioner for programs and personnel development, and other members of the Texas Education Agency staff.

Bills of particulars protesting either complete books or sections of the proposed materials submitted by national publishers have been filed by five different groups, according to J. Henry Perry, Jr., director of the Texas Education Agency textbook division.

The $3.2 million adoption will provide new materials for social studies in Spanish, grades 1 and 2; spelling, grades 1-6; and mathematics, grades 1-6.

The Mel Gablers, Educational Research Analysts, of Longview, will open the two-day series Wednesday, Sept. 10, with protests against six publishers who have submitted spelling texts. The Gablers are scheduled from 9 a.m. to 11:40 a.m.

Mrs. R. C. Bearden Jr., of San Angelo will present protests from the Texas Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution from 1 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. Bills of particulars submitted by Mrs. Bearden list protests from 11 different publishers of materials in mathematics, spelling, and social studies.

Protests against 19 publishers will be presented by three different groups Thursday Sept. 11, beginning at 8 a.m. Ms. Kaye Whyburn and Ms. Mary Buxton, both of Houston, will head the delegation from the Continuing Task Force on Education for Women, Big Spring National Organization of Women (N.O.W.), and the N.O.W. Educational Task Force. The Thursday hearing is expected to continue until 7 p.m.

Under the meticulous schedule developed by the Texas Education Agency textbook division, each protestor will be allocated an average of 13 minutes per book. Representatives of each publisher will be given an equal amount of time for reply.

The State Textbook Committee will meet Sept. 30 in Austin to select books for the 1976 adoption. This list, following review by Dr. Brockette, will be submitted to the State Board of Education.

The State Board of Education will hold the final protest hearing in Austin November 6 and 7.

Theater Tax Is Illegal

AUSTIN (AP) — District Court Judge Jim Meyers has declared Texas' theater admissions tax unconstitutional.

Meyers ordered the state Wednesday to refund $230,905 to ABC Interstate Theaters Inc. and $2,201 to Paramount Inc., Austin, which brought suit.

The action challenged the authority of Comptroller Bob Bullock to collect the tax.

A spokesman for Bullock said that the comptroller collected a total of $5.4 million in admission taxes during the state's fiscal year ended Aug. 31.

As originally written by the legislature a number of years ago the tax law was divided into two sections. The first levied a tax on movies, plays and other events not held in a regular theater. The Texas Supreme Court declared this section invalid in 1962.

The second part of the law, which was declared unconstitutional Wednesday, levied a tax on admissions to movies, plays and other events held in regular theaters.

Newsman At City-Owned Radio Station Claiming Censorship

DALLAS (AP) — Newsman at radio station WRR say they are faced with "frightening" control of news broadcasts by the city-owned station.

Paul Pryor, managing editor of WRR, quit earlier this week but said Friday he has withdrawn his resignation in hopes "the situation will get better."

"It had become a situation where our credibility would be damaged," Pryor said. "I intend to fight it. We're obligated to our listeners to reveal this."

Pryor said he believes WRR is the only commercial, network affiliated radio station in the nation owned by a government entity. Although the station has powerful government money behind it, there also is the disadvantage of government control, he said.

Pryor said Asst. City Manager James Favour has issued memos directing that certain stories not be broadcast over the station.

"Two specific instances involved tax equalization hearings and a school integration story," Pryor said.

Favour denied he issued memos and denied his office exerts any more influence over the station than owners of private stations may apply to their operations.

"In fact there is a good deal less arbitrary control here than at most private stations," Favour said. "We are not going to be silent owners, however. We act as owners—in a supervisory capacity—and we're pretty careful, I think. We don't do things impulsively."

Favour said "some personnel" at the station are "paranoid" and tend to "exaggerate" situations in which Favour involves himself.

Pryor said it is "ridiculous to try to run a station under civil service. We are subject to threats from the city manager. I think if I had left, it could have become worse."

Favour said, however, "I have never given a direct order. I called down there once and said I didn't think the quoted comments of an activist about buying bullets was relevant to a story the station was running, at least not in the context they were used."
