ANTIBUSING VIOLENCE LEADS TO ABOUT 500 ARRESTS

Armed Guards Ride School Buses In Louisville

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Armed National Guard troops and police rode nearby empty school buses today as classes resumed in Jefferson County after four days of noisy and sometimes violent antibusing protests.

Despite the guards, attendance was reported down sharply at several schools. Many buses carrying white children to schools in the southern part of the county were nearly empty. Buses bringing black children, however, were reported nearly full.

Supt. Ernest C. Grayson said 95 buses did not make runs because drivers did not show up or else there wasn't sufficient gasoline to operate the vehicles, adding that this affected 16 per cent of the countywide fleet.

Grayson said some service stations refused to sell gasoline to bus drivers.

He added that there were reports that some drivers had been threatened. He added that normally a pool of 70 to 75 drivers would be in reserve but because of last-minute resignations and terminations, there were practically no additional people to turn to.

U.S. District Court Judge James F. Gordon on Sunday ordered the police and Guardsmen to ride the buses following four days of violence in which an estimated 200 persons have been injured and about 500 arrested.

"We attempted to be tolerant when marches threatened peaceable assemblies," said Gordon, who ordered the busing. "However, violent disregard of law and order, assault on officers, conduct calculated to frighten children, alarm their parents and threaten bus drivers made it necessary for us to abolish protest areas, forbid assembly in unlawful numbers and places and take such further precautions as necessary for the safety of the children of this community."

Todd Hollenbach, the county's chief executive, said in a Sunday night telecast that he is abandoning a policy of restraint. He blamed the problems on the Ku Klux Klan, outsiders and "the frustrated and the drunken," and said authorities would "move swiftly with as much force as is necessary to maintain public order."

Demonstrations began last Thursday — first day of the fall school term and first day of an integration plan requiring busing of some 22,600 of the 135,000 children in the Louisville-Jefferson County school system. About 20 per cent of the students are black.

Some arrests were made then. But most of the arrests and nearly all of the injuries resulted from violent confrontations Friday night when mobs estimated by authorities at more than 10,000 surged out of control in at least two areas, throwing rocks, bricks and bottles at police. Authorities said two buses were burned and 37 damaged.

Gov. Julian Carroll called in nearly 1,000 National Guardsmen early Saturday, and they were deployed with Jefferson County and Louisville police to help quell demonstrations Saturday night and Sunday night. Police said at least 70 persons were arrested Sunday night near Southern High School, one of the major areas of trouble earlier in the weekend. About 150 persons were arrested at Southern Saturday night, police said.

Mayor Harvey Sloane said armed officers on the buses would reassure parents and children who are afraid that those who rioted Friday night "will repeat the disruptive and hateful actions of the past."

Ford Embraces GOP Plan To Extend Oil Controls

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford today embraced a GOP plan to extend oil price controls for 45 days as Republicans and Democrats disagreed on prospects of sustaining his promised veto of a six-month extension.

Participants in a breakfast meeting Ford held with selected Republican senators produced forecasts that the veto, due Tuesday, would be upheld by the Senate.

House Speaker Carl Albert, D-Okla., who took part in a bipartisan conference on energy policy later in the morning, said the House probably would override the veto.

Albert said that no matter what happens to Ford's veto, "in the long pull, we've got to work out an energy bill."

Ford would like to see a 45-day continuation of controls and the fashioning during that period of a Republican-Democratic compromise on a longer-term phaseout of oil price curbs.

"All we could do is talk about a compromise," Albert said following Ford's meeting with congressional leaders.

The House speaker said Ford also urged early action on the decontrol of the price of natural gas moving across state lines.

He said Ford discussed a move to give gas-short industries 180 days this fall and winter in which to go into unregulated state markets for natural gas to buy supplies at the going rate.

Administration officials say some industries face the threat of running out of gas supplies needed to sustain production during the winter months.

Ford and key aides, including Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller, met for nearly 90 minutes with the GOP senators before going into the bipartisan conference.

The two meetings today followed one Saturday at which seven Democratic senators agreed with Ford that the best course would be enactment of a measure to phase out price controls.

GOP Sens. William V. Roth of Delaware and Lowell Weicker of Connecticut told reporters after the breakfast meeting that they were confident the Senate would vote Wednesday to uphold Ford's veto of the Democratic-sponsored six-month extension of controls. But they indicated a close vote.

Roth, chief sponsor of a bill to pare the control extension to 45 days, said he thought foes of the six-month bill could produce the 34 votes to sustain the veto in the 100-member Senate.

It had been assumed Ford would embrace the 45-day extension but the first formal word of that came from Roth after the breakfast meeting.

The other 8 GOP senators who attended the meeting agreed to join him as co-sponsors of the measure, he said.

"I think real progress is being made," Roth told reporters.

He predicted a compromise agreement with congressional Democrats on a gradual phaseout of controls.

Ford has indicated he wants all controls lifted within 39 months, but Weicker said, "I think he is flexible."

Weicker said it was time for Congress to "talk turkey instead of playing politics," on the oil issue.

The senator, who said he favored immediate decontrol, blamed "the inability of Congress to make decisions" for rising energy prices and higher unemployment.

He said Congress must share responsibility with the price-hiking Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries.

In Tehran, Iran, Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi said today the OPEC nations will increase the price of crude oil this month.

He said the price increase would be sufficient to give Iran oil revenues for 1975 of nearly $22 billion. Earlier estimates were that a 12 per cent drop in production would reduce the nation's oil revenues to $16 billion this year, down from $21 billion in 1974.

The OPEC move, and an end to domestic oil price controls, sought by the oil industry as an incentive to increase production, would mean still further increases in the price of gasoline that has soared more than 50 per cent in the past two years.

CLOUDY

Partly cloudy. Little change in temperature. High today and Tuesday, near 90. Low tonight in the lower 60s. Winds from the south at 8-18 miles per hour decreasing to 10 mph tonight.

BOSTON (AP) — Police made over 100 arrests as U.S. Marshals backed by National Guard troops helped get the buses rolling today as a new and extensive busing program came to the nation's oldest public school system.

Police riflemen were stationed on rooftops and U.S. marshals guarded bus routes as National Guard troops stood by to help implement the court-ordered desegregation program.

At South Boston High School, police and state troopers lined the corridors and officers stood at the entrances to other schools as black pupils arrived in buses for the first day of classes under a new desegregation program.

National Guardsmen were standing by, and 100 U.S. marshals helped patrol school grounds. Police riflemen were stationed on rooftops at Charlestown High School, which is being integrated for the first time this year.

A group of about 200 whites gathered on Bunker Hill Street and burned a human in effigy with a racial epithet printed on it while black children entered the high school one block away.

Police said a .22-caliber bullet was fired through the side of a police van in Charlestown, but the officer driving the van was not injured.

Police reported some 100 arrests, mostly for disorderly conduct. Many of those taken into custody were said to be members of the protesting Committee Against Racism.

Police spokesman Steven Dunleavy said a group of 40 was arrested in South Boston before school opened this morning, and about 60 persons who gathered at the police station to protest the arrests were also taken into custody.

Scattered arrests were also reported in Hyde Park, the South End near Roxbury and in other parts of South Boston.

"In general, schools are doing fine, and the educational process is going on," said Robert Donahue, director of the office of implementation under the desegregation program.

School attendance figures were not immediately available, but Donahue said attendance generally appeared to be about one-fourth to one-half of projected enrollment.

He said about 900 of 2,860 projected pupils at eight elementary schools had reported for classes today.

He said 851 of 1,873 projected pupils at four high schools had shown up, but those figures did not include enrollments at South Boston, Charlestown, Roxbury or Hyde Park.

In South Boston, the heart of the antibusing forces in the city, about 80 black pupils walked through police lines into the building. State police said troopers were stationed inside along hallways.

Small crowds of whites watched silently as the blacks emerged from the buses.

"South Boston has been all white since my great-grandmother," said Rita Mallon, a hairdresser in her 20s who had walked her brother to school. "All of a sudden, it's black."

Her brother, a 10th grader going to the high school for the first time, was "the only one of his friends to go (to school today). We made him. But if there's any trouble today, he'll have to go live with my sister in Wilmington and go to school there," she said.

Last year 17,000 pupils were bused to integrate 80 of the city's 200 schools. Racial violence erupted in Hyde Park, South Boston and Roxbury.

This year, under the new plan, 26,000 of the city's 75,000 public school pupils are being bused from their neighborhoods to 182 schools in every part of the city except predominantly Italian East Boston.

There were mass demonstrations and repeated stoning of school buses when classes opened last year under the temporary program ordered by U.S. District Court Judge W. Arthur Garrity.

Many white parents kept their children home from schools in a boycott of the program.

More employees are needed, Commissioner Jack Buchanan said. Also sought are two replacement dump trucks.

Hart told the court road department workers would be preparing the fair grounds for the county fair this week.

Sunday, Hart said tables are needed at the Centerpoint school building where a homecoming is slated Monday, the same tables will be necessary for the fair.

Leasing or buying more tables was considered.

A representative of NCR, from whom the county is to lease a computer, told the court $8,900 for air conditioning, humidifying and purifying air in a computer room was "exorbitant."

Purchasing separate units for the air treatment was suggested. And bid specifications concerning wiring are to be clarified if bids are sought again.

One firm, Hester & Robertson Mechanical Contractors, bid previously for air conditioning.

one person be made responsible for the community facility.

Tables are damaged frequently after the fair barn is rented.

"They do the soft shoe I guess up there," Hart said. He added that tables are damaged at functions which do not include dancing.

Rains, which kept roads rutted, also grew head-high weeds in ditches, putting the road department behind schedule as it tried to pave roads this summer.

"This was the monsoon year," Commissioner Ikie Rupard observed.

Paving laid when the ground was too cold last November is being replaced on about three miles in one area, Hart said.

Government Officials To View Road Damage

By JOHN EDWARDS

About a dozen federal and state officials spoke with County Commissioners Court today about a request for $699,000 in federal aid for Howard County damages due to flooding.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe requested the aid in response to an inquiry from County Judge Bill Tune.

Presidential action is required, and difficulty in showing local and state expenditures may be expected, the court was told.

This afternoon, the government officials will be viewing the flood-damaged areas, including Knott.

About half of the officials came here from out of town offices.

Clifford Hart, assistant county road department supervisor, will be guiding the group. County Engineer Neel Barnaby was on vacation.

Hart presented the court with a series of problems to consider.

Tables and chairs continue to disappear at the fair barns.

"They have legs," Hart commented. "They walk off, I guess."

"Probably ain't over 100 keys to the thing," Hart said of the fair barns.

"It's one of the loosest operations we've got," County Auditor Virginia Black said. She suggested one person be made responsible for the community facility.

Malpractice Pool Okayed By State Unit

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Insurance Board today approved rates for the special pool writing medical malpractice coverage for doctors and hospitals that cannot get policies in the private market.

Final action on the latest rates filed by the Joint Underwriting Association was the last major step required for the JUA to begin issuing policies.

The rates include $1,800 a year for a nonsurgical physician in Harris County (Houston) and $1,200 for those in other counties for the usual policy.

The highest rates provided are $14,400 for neurosurgeons, orthopedic surgeons and cardiovascular surgeons in Harris County. Those in the same specialty elsewhere in the state would pay $9,600.

Anesthesiologists, who have complained the loudest about high malpractice rates and lack of coverage, would pay $9,000 in Harris County and $6,000 elsewhere.

The rates are 40 per cent lower than those originally proposed by the JUA board of directors and are identical to a counter proposal prepared by the State Insurance Board staff.

Beef Cutting Contest Scheduled Sept. 17

TEJAS Chapter of the Cowbell's — an organization of women in Howard, Dawson, Borden, Scurry and surrounding counties, interested totally in the promotion of and education in the field of the beef industry will present a beef cutting demonstration at the Howard County Fair Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 17.

The demonstration will take place immediately following the Agri-Business luncheon at 2:00 p.m. in the south show barn at the Fair grounds. The public is encouraged to be in attendance and there will be no admission charged for the demonstration.

Leland and Gerald Marie Wallace (who is a member of the Cowbells) have donated a half-beef that will be cut up and packaged by George Smith of Hubbard Packing Company.

Bruce Griffith, Howard County Extension Agent, will do the commentary while Smith prepares each cut of meat — telling the more tender cuts of meat — identifying each section and cut — proper preparation and preservation.

As each cut of meat is prepared and packaged — it will be given away to those in attendance who have registered with the Cowbells at the time of the demonstration.

This beef cutting demonstration is one of the many educational and promotional programs prepared and put on by the Tejas Cowbells, whose chapter has only been in existence three years.

The 1975-76 officers for the Cowbells chapter are: President, Mrs. Harry (Janet) Middleton; vice pres., Mrs. Tom (Gloria) Griffin; secretary, Mrs. Modesta Stokes; treasurer, Mrs. J. M. (Lucille) Sterling.

FIFTEEN PERSONS KILLED IN RELIGIOUS WARFARE

PLO Exhorts Arabs To Shoot Americans In Sinai

By The Associated Press

The Palestine Liberation Organization has called on Arab nationalists to shoot American technicians who may be stationed in the Sinai Desert under the Israeli-Egyptian pact.

"The Palestinian revolution... regards the U.S. military presence in Sinai as an enemy target that should be shot by every struggler and every nationalist in our Arab nation," the PLO newspaper Al Thawra said in Beirut on Sunday.

The newspaper called the proposed presence of the American civilian technicians at warning stations in the Gidi and Mitla passes "dual occupation" of Egyptian land by the United States and Israel.

"We are confident the first shot will be fired by an Egyptian soldier, because the Egyptians are known for their nationalism and will never allow an imperialist American flag to flutter over any spot of Arab territory," Al Thawra wrote.

Palestinian guerrillas are unlikely to constitute any threat to the Americans since they probably cannot get to the Sinai from their bases in Lebanon and Syria. Nor are any Egyptian soldiers likely to attack the Americans. But such talk from the PLO could make it harder for Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger to get the necessary approval from the U.S. Congress of the new American role.

Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin in an interview Sunday on the ABC program "Issues and Answers" said without the American presence, "it is doubtful if the present terms of this agreement can be maintained."

But PLO chief Yasir Arafat in interviews with

Time, Newsweek and the CBS program "Face the Nation" said the "United States is paying too much for too little," the Palestinians "can stop most of the consequences of the new agreement," and the Palestinians "are looking for more escalation; we expect continual support of our cause from the Soviet Union."

Israeli Foreign Minister Yigal Allon told U.S. News &

World Report that Americans "should be pleased with the fact that, after many years of Soviet progress in the area, the U.S. is again becoming the major power in the Mediterranean and the Middle East."

Meanwhile, a new outbreak of another religious war, between Christians and Moslems in northern Lebanon, took 15 lives Sunday. Unconfirmed rumors that armed Christians had abducted and murdered 25 Moslems in Tripoli brought armed bands into the streets of that city, Lebanon's second largest.

The army took to the streets to restore order, and officials said three persons were killed and 11 were wounded. Then at dusk an armed group ambushed a civilian bus and opened up with machine guns, killing 12 persons and wounding at least 25.

Driver Responsibility

Every motorist who uses the streets and highways should be financially responsible to meet any damages for which he is liable in accidents.

Texas has been lax in protecting drivers for damages in the past, but the 64th legislature passed a new law, which gives Texans their best protection yet. Gov. Dolph Briscoe signed the law, and it has been in effect since June 21.

Under the new law, uninsured motorists involved in accidents resulting in death, personal injury or property damage in excess of $250 may be subject to suspension of both their driving privileges and vehicle registrations.

As is doubtless necessary, the procedures are many and tedious, but provide a process where justice can be done.

The new law requires the Department of Public Safety to determine if there is a "reasonable probability of judgment" against one or more of the drivers in an accident. If such a finding is made, and if the driver or owner has no liability insurance meeting the state's minimum requirements, then the DPS must require the uninsured motorist believed at fault to satisfy the security provisions of the law.

That can be done in several ways.

If the security provisions of the law are not satisfied, other provisions become applicable which can result in lifting the driver's license and vehicle tags.

Taking the license plates is a major step forward in enforcement of traffic laws and in protection of motorists who are the victims in collisions.

Simply suspending a driver's license is relatively ineffective because many drivers continue to operate a vehicle without being caught.

Not so with a driver whose license plates have been removed from his car. If he were to drive again, he would soon encounter some officer and would be arrested.

Texas can be grateful for this better law, even if the legislature did have to enact it to comply with a U.S. Supreme Court decision which had invalidated portions of the previous safety responsibility law.

Ah, The Big Apple

New York is the winner, Los Angeles the loser, in the bid for the 1976 Democratic convention. And it was an interesting contest between the two cities in their presentation to the site selection committee in Washington.

The mayors of both cities were there — Abraham Beame of New York and Tom Bradley of Los Angeles.

Los Angeles' Bradley contended his city could host it best and would be less likely to produce embarrassing labor trouble.

Anticipating this, Beame had brought along to Washington a troop of top labor union chiefs who joined Beame in promising the Democrats there would be no labor trouble. That was a rare demonstration of unity between labor and its adversaries.

Ironically, New York will have to pay the Democrats up to $2 million for the convention privilege, a neat sum for a city already on the brink. But Beame said it was worth the price if it will give the local economy a shot in the arm.

Besides, Beame said, "We are still the Big Apple."

He'll Announce

William F. Buckley, Jr.

Very well then, here is what probably will happen.

In October, Ronald Reagan will announce that he is a candidate for the Republican nomination. He will be asked everywhere he goes, until reporters tire of the answer, whether he will support President Ford if beaten in the primaries.

Reagan's likeliest answer is: "There will be time to answer contingent questions. Right now I propose to give the voters a chance to decide whom they wish the Republican Party to nominate."

A considerable effort will be made to transform what is really a routinely ambiguous political response into an act of low treachery, aimed at the survival of the Republican Party, and having for its consequence the certain election of a Democrat. It will not be only the yellow press that seeks such a turn, for the sake of scandal. High Republican managers will do what they can to discredit Reagan without antagonizing him directly.

The technique is to persuade the voters that by dallying with him they jeopardize the chances of Jerry Ford to beat the other guy in November.

RONALD REAGAN anticipates all this, we can safely assume. He has a single weapon: a way of speaking about what is going wrong in this country which is galvanizing in its effect. He was not able to make it to the annual convention of the Young Americans for Freedom in Chicago last week. But he didn't send a nice little telegram instead; he sent a half-hour 16-millimeter film the first five minutes of which were directed exclusively to his assessment of the activities of the Young Americans for Freedom. He got a standing ovation in absentia.

Reagan's threat to Ford is that he was born with an uncanny ability to persuade: to marshal his arguments in a way that combines drama and didacticism. I have in my extensive experience listening to public speakers, come across only one or two people who are his match. That is the Reagan threat. After putting him on television about the 60 billion dollar deficit, you would see the same thing happen as when Jonathan Edwards went to Yale and preached — "infidelity skulked, and hid its head."

That is the reason why Mr. Reagan cares less than the professionals think he should care about the matter of announcing quickly, and lining up his political allies quickly. He wants them of course; but he assumes that they will come to him in due course — only if he proves that he can do to Ford what Eugene McCarthy did to Lyndon Johnson. Can he?

IT IS HARD to say. Everyone remarks the fairly sharp turn to the right of President Ford, and assumes the causal relation: he is attempting to occupy ground Reagan would otherwise occupy. But Jerry Ford, a good man of correct leanings, is simply not Jonathan Edwards, and therefore his strength will issue not from his own persuasive powers, but from the majesty of the majority to go with the disposition of the majority to go with the incumbent, and the endorsements Ford has lined up from prominent conservatives.

Another autumn, and the woods are full of nuts.

Unable To Untie Knot

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — If you continue to have faith in our ability to innovate and work hard then you still might have confidence that our housing predicament will be resolved in the near future.

Right now it's a tight knot, and nobody seems to be able to untie it — not the government nor the builder nor the lender nor the potential home buyer.

Interest rates are high, so are land and labor and materials costs, and so of course are prices. Depending upon the estimate you use, the median price of the typical one-family house today ranges from $37,000 to $41,000.

When you consider that the median family income is less than $13,000 you realize immediately that hundreds of thousands of potential buyers are simply priced out of the market. Relatively few Americans can afford a new house. Instead, they are forced to rent. But with interest rates to apartment house builders back up to 10 per cent, after decline during the spring and early summer, that type of construction is in the doldrums.

This, of course, is a terrible and complex situation that has vast consequences for the economy. It is fair to ask, in fact, how the economy can move ahead with housing and automotive industries depressed.

But it is at times such as these, judging by the past, that Americans demonstrate their ingenuity. Will the challenge be met? So far it hasn't been, but that doesn't mean efforts aren't being made.

Among the innovations: —The National Association of Home Builders now offers warranties on new homes, and the National Association of Realtors is developing a program for warranties on new and used homes.

Under the home builders' plan, called the Home Owners Warranty Program, registered builders can provide a 10-year protection package on new home construction.

Lenders are attempting to develop more flexible mortgages. So far the biggest development has been the variable rate mortgage, which still hasn't obtained federal approval nor, in fact, the acceptance of the home-buying public.

Under a variable rate mortgage the financing cost to the buyer would rise or fall, depending upon economic conditions, rather than remaining the same for the entire 20- or 30-year life of the mortgage.

Why Not Change?

Around The Rim

Tommy Hart

One thing and another:

I THINK it's high time city officials got around to changing the name of Aylford Street to conform with the name of the titled gentleman it originally was planned to honor — the Earl of Aylesford.

The west Big Spring thoroughfare, which itself has been the home of some of the most esteemed families over the years, probably deserves a historical marker somewhere along its route, too.

It would be most appropriate now to authorize the change, with the city in the midst of preparations of the Bicentennial celebration.

The star-crossed Englishman added a colorful chapter to Big Spring's early history. It's incredible to me that the motion picture industry hasn't set about to film his story. He had a checkered career. His closest friend, perhaps, was the then Prince of Wales. His wife became disillusioned over his errant behavior and his absenteeism and fell into the arms of another man. He was generous beyond a fault and his lack of business acumen has left the family more or less impoverished to this day.

If his story is ever filmed, it should be undertaken as an epic rather than a Grade B film. Likely, one man in the entertainment business who could take the role of the earl and never have to train for the part is Richard Burton.

Several visitors to this window have called to mention that the home town of locomotive engineer Casey Jones was Jackson, Tenn., not Jackson, Miss. Had Casey overheard me remarking that he was from Jackson, Miss., he'd probably have stopped the train and hosted me onto derail.

Confusius didn't say it, but he could have: You elect a bunch of clowns to public office, and you get a circus.

SOME OF THE most scornful and superior persons I've known are repair people who discover you've been trying to fix it yourself.

Someone said recently that many of today's movies, the only people who should be allowed in are golfers. Have you heard about the men's cologne new to the market? It's selling like Iranian petroleum stock. Smells like a credit card.

The biggest beef I have against government is that it thinks the individual owes it a living.

I see where they're going to name the University of Alabama football stadium for Bear Bryant, who has been known to traumatize a few opponents there merely by walking onto the holy sod. Why not christen it Jehovah's Jubilation Junction?

Detente Skepticism

Rowland Evans

BONN — Skepticism over detente in the nation that has most to lose if it goes sour explains the confidential study just getting underway at highest levels here to analyze post-Helsinki Soviet policy.

ONE TENTATIVE conclusion: the 25th Communist party congress next February in Moscow will surpass everything to date in enshrining detente as the way of the future in hopes of seducing the West.

There is irony in the fact that the liberal Social Democratic (SPD) government of Chancellor Helmut Schmidt is now displaying private concerns about the course of East-West detente. It was Schmidt's predecessor, Willy Brandt, who singlemindedly pushed Bonn's far-reaching political changes with Moscow and Eastern Europe five years ago culminating in the Helsinki conference on European security.

BUT SCHMIDT, a muscular realist whose political problems stem as much from his own left wing as from the conservative Christian Democratic (CDU) opposition, is no Brandt. Indeed, despite Schmidt's genuine support for reciprocal detente, he is far more wary than Brandt (still very active as elected head of the SPD) over what he has termed the "psycho-political" aspects of detente.

Accordingly, under Schmidt there is no illusion but, rather, nervous questioning about the durability and direction of long-range American policy made by a divided Washington government. As one top policymaker here told us: "In the U.S., Europe seems farther and farther away and illusions grow easily."

THE PROSPECT of Moscow really allowing its Communist empire to mellow in the aftermath of Helsinki is mocked by Schmidt's own advisers. An example given is Soviet foreign minister Andrei Gromyko's grim remark in 1973 to a high West German official who expressed hopes that the indispensable "third basket" in the Helsinki agreement — exchange of ideas, cultures and persons between East and West — would assure major political relaxation.

Whoever thinks the "third basket" will be allowed to change internal conditions in Eastern Europe, Gromyko replied, "is a mastodon."

ALONG SIMILAR lines, Helmut Kohl, leader of the opposition CDU and hence chancellor-designate if his party wins next year's election, told us that if Helsinki damages the West, "it will damage us here in Germany more than anyone else."

Kohl said that the fiery attack on the Soviet Union by exiled Russian author Alexander Solzhenitsyn in Washington last June 30 "was passed around here from hand to hand." On a visit to East Germany two weeks ago, Kohl saw large, illuminated slogans at the Dresden railroad station which symbolized what he called Moscow's "true approach" to detente. They read:

"Steel production in England is the lowest since World War II." "Unemployment in Essen (center of West German industry) is the highest since World War II." "All cadets of the People's Army have passed their tests and are now lieutenants."

SHARP SKEPTICISM both within and without the Schmidt government by no means points to any schism with the Ford administration. Nor should it evoke the spectre of that favorite ogre of the Kremlin, German revanchism. To the contrary, with all its industrial miracles and its fulcrum position in Europe's heartland, West Germany is as inextricably tied to the U.S. as it was in the 1948 Berlin Crisis.

We Hold These Truths... A Chronicle of America

September, 1775:

In an ill-fated military excursion to wrest Canada from British control, 1,200 Continental troops under Major General Philip Schuyler and Brigadier General Richard Montgomery set out from Ticonderoga in late August. They lay siege to St. Johns — a British outpost at the northern tip of Lake Champlain — on September 5. Schuyler becomes ill and is invalidated to the rear, the command falling to Montgomery on the 12th. St. John's capitulates on November 2, only after surrender of the nearby British outpost at Chambly to an American contingent on October 18. Montgomery then pushes on to Montreal, which he takes without resistance on November 13. With about 300 troops remaining to him, Montgomery joins with about 600 troops under Colonel Benedict Arnold on the Plains of Abraham to prepare the December 31 assault on Quebec.

"Preemies' Need Extra Care

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I had my first baby at age 30. My baby came early, two weeks early by due date. He was not considered premature, but was called "small for date." My doctor said he was about six weeks early by birth size. He only weighed four pounds.

The problems we encountered were numerous. My doctor said my placenta did not function properly. My son had low blood sugar that caused breathing difficulties. The baby is doing fine now.

My doctor feels that in subsequent pregnancies I should not encounter the problem with my placenta. Do you agree? — Mrs. D.A.M.

The terms "premature" and "small for date" are the cause for some confusion.

The estimated date of confinement can easily be two weeks off. The variation often reflects the fact that pregnancy occurs at mid-cycle, a couple of weeks before the last period was missed.

As to "prematurity," this is a pretty specific term. A baby weighing under five and a half pounds at delivery is regarded as premature, and special care is required.

Low blood sugar is not unusual, even in full-term babies. Some exhibit symptoms, others do not.

Your baby's breathing problem may or may not have been attributable to the low sugar. A condition called "respiratory distress syndrome" is common in premature babies, in those delivered by Caesarian section, and among those of diabetic mothers. The cause is not clear, but it is thought to be caused by a coating on the air sacs of the lungs which hinders the necessary exchange of gases between lungs and blood.

I think your doctor is correct in stating that your placenta problem is unlikely to occur in subsequent pregnancies.

Acne is a terrible problem for anyone growing up. If you are afflicted with it, or have children who are, write to Dr. Thosteson, in care of the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 3999, Elgin, Illinois 60120, for a copy of his booklet, "Controlling Acne, Blackheads and Pimples." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

My Answer

Billy Graham

On what basis do you refrain from attacking the political system in America? As a "crusader," surely you must see mistakes to be corrected. — M.A.

First, let me explain what Jesus was against. He ever said a word against Rome, and Rome then ruled the world. You remember some tried to trap Him on this. They wanted Him to declare loyalty for or against Caesar. But He merely indicated that one should "render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's."

What Jesus was against was the corrupt and hypocritical religious system. Jesus dealt primarily with religious questions. His mission was not the overthrow of temporal human government, but the offering through faith of an eternal and divine kingdom.

The record will show that I have made some pretty strong statements about what I believe to be the theological and moral corruption of our day. I'm a crusader all right. But the crusading of our team concerns the souls of men, not attacking politicians or political systems.

A Devotion For Today

"Let us kneel before the Lord our maker." (Psalm 95:6)

PRAYER: Our Father, We are glad that we are not some small unimportant atom in creation, but made by You and born to be Your child. Help us never to forget our tremendous worth. Amen.

Municipal Bonds Hurt By NY Woes

DALLAS (AP) — Cities around the nation may have more difficulty selling their municipal bond issues, even at higher interest rates, because of New York City's financial problems, a Dallas official predicts.

"There's no question about it that we will have problems," said City Auditor Clark Breeding. "We are seeing a mood of depression that makes people decide they are going to stay out of the bond market for a while."

Breeding said he regrets that New York's financial woes are causing investment market tremors that extend to all municipal governments.

"They tend to think everything is going to pot," he said.

The Dallas auditor says he hopes the city's past record on bond payments can keep the interest rates from going through the roof when a municipal bond election is held here in December.

But he says the days are over when cities like Dallas could seek bids on pending bond issuances by sending out one-page statements to investing companies.

"The people are suspicious now," Breeding said. "They are going to have to be convinced by us."

Several mayors of major cities—including Houston Mayor Fred Hofheinz—have laid the blame for exorbitant bond interest rates at the doorstep of New York.

When the City of Dallas last issued bonds for the $172 million capital improvements program, the low bid was for an interest rate of about 5.6 per cent.

Hofheinz said the lowest bid for bonds issued this summer in Houston was 7.2 per cent.

Two Business Schools Close

San Angelo Business College and Draughton's Business College in Abilene are closing.

Dean Eubank, owner of both schools, said the action was forced "because the federal government won't meet its obligations."

The San Angelo school has upwards to 75 students enrolled while about 35 students will be affected by the decision to shutter the Abilene school.

Eubank said the schools' problems stem from the refusal of the Office of Education of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) to honor applications by students for federal education assistance.

BOTHERED BY CRICKETS — Farmers are having their nightmares about boll weevils, but the city folks are being plagued by hordes of crickets. Although the little insects are not likely to cause any property damage, they have become quite a nuisance, especially in the 1600 block of South Gregg Street as an inquisitive youngster top photo, discovers. Assistant County Agent Bruce Wood says that there is not much that can be done about the insects because they keep coming back after poisoning.

Office Opens In Sonora

SONORA — Brown & Root Inc., one of the nation's largest engineering-construction firms, has recently opened its newest Oilfield Services Division District office here. The office is located in northwest Sonora on Highway 277, adjacent to the city limits.

Manager of the office will be B. F. "Rusty" Braswell, a 10-year employee of the company and a native of Fort Cobb, Okla. Prior to his latest assignment, Braswell served in the oilfield division in the company's offices in Gainesville, Ingleside, and Anahuac, Texas, and Morgan City, Louisiana. He also has previous service with Brown & Root overseas.

Houston-based Brown & Root is a subsidiary of Halliburton Company.

MP Dividend Is Declared

ST. LOUIS — Directors of the Missouri Pacific Railroad have declared a dividend for the third quarter of 1975 of 25 cents per share on the company's Preferred stock and a quarterly dividend of 30 cents on the Common, both payable Sept. 30, to stockholders of record Sept. 16.

Student Count Reaches 125

LAMESA — Enrollment for college credit courses being taught here by Howard College reached an all time high of 125 Friday.

Local college coordinator Pete Buesing expressed delight over the enrollment figure, which is expected to increase even more this week. Late registration continues through Sept. 15.

Deadline Nearing

Workers not covered by pension programs have less than four months in which to set up their own individual retirement program if they want to save on their 1975 income taxes.

A. W. McCanless, district director of the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) in North Texas, said today that any employee under age 70 who has not participated in a retirement program during the year can set up a retirement program. Those who are eligible can contribute 15 per cent of their annual earnings, to a maximum of $1500, into the program and deduct this amount from their income for tax purposes.

McCanless stressed that there is no time limit for setting up a retirement program. Those who choose not to set up their programs this year, he said, will still have the same opportunity in years to come. However, the money set aside for retirement is deductible from the worker's income only in the year in which it is actually put into a retirement account.

For this reason, persons should not delay if they are planning ultimately to set up a retirement program.

North Texas residents who would like additional information can contact their nearest IRS office, or call 800-492-4630 toll-free. The IRS can provide a free brochure on individual retirement savings programs as well as forms to open programs at banks and other qualified financial institutions.

Letter Carriers Resent New Mail-Delivery Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Postal Service is moving to impose a new mail-delivery system that is resented bitterly by the nation's 200,000 letter carriers, a union leader says.

President James H. Rademacher of the National Association of Letter Carriers said he has been informed by Postmaster General Benjamin F. Bailar that the Postal Service will move to implement the controversial Kokomo Plan.

Rademacher said Bailar told him that an announcement of the decision would be made at today's National Postal Forum in Washington.

The Kokomo Plan, a computerized program designed to increase the efficiency of letter carriers, "amounts to a 20 per cent speedup," Rademacher said in an interview.

Rademacher said Bailar told him that the Postal Service had decided to move from the testing stage to implementation.

"Undoubtedly, the Postal Service wants to move on this nationwide," Rademacher said.

When the Postal Service began testing the program, the letter carriers union voted to strike if the plan is implemented nationally, despite a federal law prohibiting postal workers from striking.

However, a recently concluded labor agreement provided for binding arbitration before new work rules are put into practice.

Rademacher said his union would not strike while the arbitration continues. Asked whether it would strike if the arbitration ruling goes against the union, Rademacher said, "We'll cross that bridge when we come to it."

The Kokomo plan involves taking computerized measurements of the number of letters delivered, miles walked and other factors on each mailman's route. Then the routes are restructured so that each carrier would have to do equal amounts of work.

The Postal Service tested the plan first in Kokomo, Ind., and then in Portland, Ore. Union members in both cities complained about the plan, known formally as the Letter Carrier Route Evaluation System.

Rademacher said, "The plan is not working in Portland." He said that since the tests began at the Rose City Station in Portland half the carriers have asked for transfers to other stations.

Some survivors wandered around in a daze, trying to find relatives and possessions. Others fought over tents, blankets and clothing being distributed by rescue workers.

Military planes brought in 17 tons of food, blood, antibiotics and other relief supplies. Mobile kitchens were set up. About 2,000 troops worked alongside civilian rescue teams.

Premier Suleyman Demirel toured the area and pledged: "No one will be left starving or homeless."

The Turkish quake measured 6.8 on the Richter scale and struck along the Anatolian Fault, which runs in a crescent shape from Turkey's Aegean coast northeast along the Black Sea and then south into the eastern mountains. A quake along the fault in 1939 killed 30,000 people, and 2,964 died in a quake in 1966 at Varto, not far from Lice.

At midday Sunday, a relatively strong earthquake rumbled through northwestern Yugoslavia, more than 1,000 miles from the Turkish quake site, causing minor damage but no casualties, authorities in Zagreb reported.

At least 1,000 more died in surrounding villages, officials said.

Necmettin Esener, a municipal clerk who lost eight members of his family held out his bloody hands and tearfully said: "I dug out my two-year-old daughter Vedia from under a rock with these hands."

Women in dusty black shawls chanted mourning songs alongside the rag-covered bodies of their children.

The stench of death filled the air at Lice, capital of the province which suffered most from the quake at noon Saturday. The town of 8,000 was reduced to rubble. Officials said the burial grounds would not be large enough for the 840 persons believed to have died in Lice.

Local Resident Could Earn Trip To London

A young businessman in Big Spring between the ages of 25-35 could be eligible for a free trip to London next spring if they qualified for the group study exchange, sponsored by Rotary International.

The Big Spring Rotary Club joins other Rotary Clubs in District 573 in seeking five young businessmen who are not Rotarians but who would be interested in a trip to promote world understanding in the Free World.

The district has qualified for the exchanged award under the Rotary Foundation program. The five men will be selected as a team to visit a Rotary District in London, England, probably sometime between March 13, 1976 and April 24, 1976.

Those who qualify may not be Rotarians or relatives of Rotarians. All travel expense will be paid by the foundation.

The program also provides that the London district will send a team to West Texas in 1977. Team members will be given a chance to talk to Rotarians about their home country, and will live in the home of Rotarians while visiting.

Bridger Will Drill Wildcat

Bridger Petroleum Corp No. 1 Woodward will drill a 10,300-ft. wildcat 18 miles southeast of Lamesa and two miles northwest of the Cisco oil area of the Ackerly North multipay field in Southeast Dawson. The 1,375 from the south and 1,330 from the east lines of section 5-34-4n, T&P location puts it three-fourths of a mile southeast of a 9,018 failure.

Felmont No. 1-27 Walker will make a bid as a three-fourths mile west outpost to the recent Spraberry reopener of the Bond Canyon field in northwest Howard. It is located 12 miles north of Big Spring and is 1,980 from the south and 660 from the west lines of section 27-33-2n, T&P, and target depth is 7,100.

In the active southwest Sterling County area, Texaco No. 1-F Sterling Fee is a 1 1/4-mile west outpost to Canyon gas production and three-fourths of a mile north of Cisco oil production in the Conger multipay field, 10 miles southwest of Sterling City. Location is 1,640 from the south and 990 from the west lines of section 19-31-5s, T&P, contract depth 8,000 feet.

Adobe No. 1 A Conger in 17-13-SPRR, section, three-fourths of a mile southwest of Canyon gas production in the Conger field, flowed 16 barrels of distillate and gas at the estimated rate of 1.20 million cubic feet daily through 18-64th choke from perforations at 7,012-82.

Clifton Thomas No. 8 Mrs. Olive Price et al, will be another bid to hit the 150-ft. Sunflower wand pay in southern Mitchell county. It will be, 260 east and 910 from the southwest lines of J. Babcock No. 26, Abst. Thomas scheduled two other tests earlier but has not drilled them. The discovery W. J. Rasnick No. 2 Ellwood Estates was finished July 26, 1951 for 61 barrels of 18-gravity oil, plus 74 per cent water. It was depleted a year later.

Q.1—Both vulnerable with 60 on score, as South you hold:

♠K10962 ♥6 ♦KQ1072 ♠A7
The bidding has proceeded: West North East South 1 ♥ Pass 2 ♥ ?

What action do you take?

A.—It is a close choice between a double and an overcall of three diamonds, and we slightly prefer the latter. Bypassing the spade suit might seem unusual, but our aim is to show both our suits as cheaply as possible. Were we to bid spades first and the opponents bid on, we would have to introduce diamonds at the four-level. By bidding diamonds first, we can get in both our suits by rebidding in spades.

Q.2—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠KJ874 ♥93 ♦76 ♠A1093
The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1 ♥ Pass 1 ♥ Pass 1 NT Pass ?

What action do you take?

A.—Bid two clubs. With two weak doubletons, you do not want to play no trump if there is a better contract available. A new suit after partner's no trump rebid is not forcing, so partner is free to pass, give preference to spades, or rebid a good five-card suit of his own.

Q.3—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠A10 ♥AQJ762 ♦73 ♠854
The bidding has proceeded: South West North East 1 ♥ Pass 2 ♥ Pass 2 ♥ Pass 2 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Three hearts. You have a minimum hand, and you should do nothing to suggest any different to partner. Your story is hearts, and you should keep telling it rather than take a preference to diamonds on a doubleton.

Q.4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠AQ106 ♥86 ♦AQJ94 ♠72
The bidding has proceeded: South West North East 1 ♥ Pass 2 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Three spades. While it is unlikely that partner has four spades, you are so weak in two suits that it costs nothing to show your spades on the way to three no trump. Indeed, there are many hands that would play better in four spades even with a 4-3 fit, so if partner chooses that contract you have done the right thing.

Q.5—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♥AKJ107 ♦AKQ652 ♠73
The bidding has proceeded: East South West North 1 ♠ 2 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Three diamonds; intending to bid hearts at your next turn if circumstances permit. Since you made a strong cue-bid at your first turn, it is not necessary to take more drastic action at this juncture.

Q.6—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠AK6 ♥KQ105 ♦KJ7 ♠Q95
Partner opens the bidding with one club. What do you respond?

A.—One heart, with two hearts a close second. The trouble with a jump shift on a four-card suit is that partner might raise with only three-card support, thus making the level uncomfortably high to probe for the best spot. A direct jump to three no trump is also tempting, but your 18 points include too many fillers and you don't want to bypass a good four-card major suit.

Q.7—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠K872 ♥A82 ♦93 ♠KQ102
The bidding has proceeded: East South West North 1 ♠ Dble. Pass 1 ♠ 2 ♠ ?

What action do you take?

A.—Pass. You have a near-minimum for your initial action, and the way to convey that information to partner is to pass now. If he has any useful values, you can expect him to take a second bid.

Q.8—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠KJ952 ♥93 ♦872 ♠K74
Partner opens the bidding with one spade. What do you respond?

A.—Two spades. Don't let your fifth spade lure you into precipitate action. At a spade contract, your hand is worth 8 points, well within the limits of a single raise, and your hand is too balanced to even consider a preemptive jump to four spades.

Shot Six Times In Head

By The Associated Press
Texans died violently from assorted causes during the weekend.

The number reached 22 between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday, including 11 traffic fatalities, seven homicides, two drownings and two in a freak gas explosion which enveloped their car.

Among the victims were: Rudy Taylor, 30, the driver, and Jerry Gomez, both of Kilgore, were killed Sunday night, officers said, when escaping natural gas blew up as their vehicle passed through a low spot on private property north of Kilgore. Three companions suffered critical burns—Keith Johnson, 14, of Kilgore and twins Johnny and Jerry Walker, 19, of Liberty City.

Willie Davis, 71, a pedestrian, was struck by a car and killed Sunday night as he crossed a Dallas street. A car plunging off a Dallas overpass carried driver Walter E. Hynson, 25, to death Sunday night. The 26-foot drop sent passenger Ernest Hunter, 20, to a hospital with neck and back injuries. Two others in the car escaped with cuts and bruises.

Freddie Haynes, 41, of Robstown died Sunday when his car ran off an Interstate 10 exit near Sierra Blanca in far West Texas. Romadean Haynes, 37, of Corpus Christi suffered critical injuries.

Emma Duke, 66, and Janice Ruth Ratcliff, 15, were shot to death Sunday morning at a Donna residence in the Rio Grande Valley. A man, 32, was arrested.

Three persons were killed Sunday evening in a collision of a tractor-trailer truck rig and a pickup truck on U.S. 287 at Lelia Lake in the Texas Panhandle. They were Ed Talley and his wife Connie, both of Canyon, and Leroy Smith of Mesquite. Officers said both vehicles skidded nearly 350 feet off the highway into a barn and tree and the pickup was cut in half.

The bullet-riddled body of Paul Box, 72, a retired farmer, was found Sunday in the bedroom of his home at Melrose, about 15 miles south of Nacogdoches. Police said he was shot in the head six or seven times with a .22 caliber weapon with his hands and legs tied. They said no suspects had been found.

Robert Hillard Battles, 4, was beaten to death Sunday at his home in Houston, police reported. Investigators said he died from blows to the head, chest and abdomen. No charges were filed at once.

The body of Michael Oltmann, 18, of Tomball, was found in a roadside ditch Sunday near Houston. Officers said he was thrown from a vehicle which overturned about three hours before the body was found.

Ronald L. Phillips, 39, was shot to death Saturday night at a Houston residence, police said. Officers said the shooting followed an argument with a woman. The case was being referred to a grand jury.

Melody Ann Stahr, 8, of Spring, Tex., was killed Saturday when she was struck by a van on a beach near Galveston, where she had gone with her parents for an outing.

Officials said Terry Ray Belk, 18, of Jacksonville died Saturday of a gunshot wound in the back. A 17-year-old youth has been arrested and charged with murder, authorities said.

Oscar D. Sheffield, 30, was shot to death Saturday at his Houston apartment. Police said the shooting followed an argument with another man. Beaumont police said Rena Marie Holts, 15, was struck before dawn Saturday and killed by a car which did not stop. Authorities said there were no witnesses.

Authorities at Coppell said a fisherman discovered the body of a 72-year-old woman Saturday afternoon in the East Fork of the Trinity River. Police said they think the woman, Lessie E. Callahan, slipped into the water and drowned.

Houston police say the body of Michael C. Bledsaw, 5, was recovered Saturday from a swimming pool at the apartment complex where the boy lived.

Jim William Reid, 44, was found stabbed to death Saturday at his apartment in LOS ANGELES (AP) — Robert C. Guccione, publisher of Penthouse magazine, has been excused as a defendant in a $50 million libel suit against the magazine filed by La Costa Houston. Police said Reid suffered about 30 wounds on his body. They were seeking a man who witnesses said came out of Reid's apartment earlier in the day.

Lydwine de la Rochefoucauld, 21, fiancee of a French duke, was killed Friday night in a car-pedestrian accident on Mustang Island near Corpus Christi. A spokesman for the Nueces County sheriff's office said the woman and Antoine de Gramont, 24, Duc de Guiche were standing next to their parked car when it was struck by another vehicle driven by a 15-year-old boy.

PART OF DEVINE PLAN?

Donnie's Miracle

NAPLES, Fla. (AP) — "Every day is a good day that we have together," says the mother of a 7-year-old boy who has won a battle against a growth-stunting disease.

"We just take life a day at a time now," Barbara Todd said Sunday just before her son was baptized.

The youngster, who suffers from asphyxiating thoracic dystrophy, grew two inches and gained 22 pounds after receiving a kidney transplant from his father.

The disease caused his kidneys to fail and forced him to rely for nearly six months on a blood purification device.

Donnie's father, Robert, is a former paratrooper sergeant who served two tours of duty in Vietnam and earned six purple hearts when bullets nearly severed his left arm and riddled his stomach in combat.

The bullets missed his kidneys, but scarred them to the point that doctors once thought the organs would not be suitable for transplant.

After months of tests, the elder Todd finally was found to be the most suitable donor and doctors conducted the twin surgery in May at Shands Teaching Hospital at the University of Florida.

Todd, now a cook in a Naples restaurant, had insurance which covered only a fraction of the medical bills and the Todds were forced to sell their home and went nearly $20,000 in debt before friends started a fund that eventually grew to more than $35,000.

Contributions poured in from all over the world after news stories depicted their plight.

Although they initially rejected the idea of a transplant on religious grounds, the Todds gradually came to accept it.

Doctors will watch the boy, now in the first grade, for at least two years. The disease has not manifested itself elsewhere in Donnie's body.

After the lad's baptism at the First Baptist Church of Naples, the Todds said they believed his recovery was part of a divine plan.

"I honestly believe that God sent us a miracle," said Donnie's father.

MONEY STOPS AFTER 13 WEEKS

Pay 'Real People' On TV Commercials Same As Pros

CHICAGO (AP) — "Candid Camera" helped put Norman Gottschalk out of work.

The long-run television hit has received the credit — or the blame — for starting a trend toward using "real people" in television commercials rather than professional actors.

"The fellow with the pear-shaped tones and the wonderful enunciation is just not in style anymore," said Eleanor Engle, director of member relations for the Chicago local of the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists.

Professionals such as Gottschalk have been going out of style since "Candid Camera" became popular, according to William Ross, executive vice president and executive creative director for the J. Walter Thompson Advertising Agency in Chicago.

But for Gottschalk, a professional actor for more than 40 years who worked mostly in the old days of radio before moving to television commercials, the trend has meant a scarcity of jobs.

"I made my last TV commercial more than a year ago," he said. "I've had nothing since. They don't audition actors for the 'real people' commercials ... but actors can be real people. Hell, they are real people."

Not in the eyes of the advertisers.

"The idea is to add credibility to the commercial," Ross said. "Real people aren't necessarily as interesting or as trained as professionals, but if you put words in the mouth of a performer you are making a dramatization and you have to say so."

Under new Federal Communications Commission guidelines, a performer in a commercial actually must use the product being sold. Otherwise, the viewer has to be told.

But the premise that the technique lends veracity to a commercial is disputed, particularly by those connected with the performance side of advertising.

"I think it's dishonest because knowing the business the way I do, I know it's all staged," Gottschalk said. "If it were done for real, without prior interviews and staging and all the rest, there would be dozens of people around to see what was going on."

Nevertheless, the technique has been effective. Said Ross: "You have to assume these commercials have been successful or they wouldn't continue to be made."

Anybody who makes a commercial is paid on the same scale as a professional under AFTRA and SAG—Screen Actors Guild—contracts. It amounts to less than most people believe.

Unless a commercial is run nationally, residuals are paid only for the first 13 weeks of air time. The first time a commercial is aired, the performer receives $158. The second time he gets $83; the third through the 13th $65, and $27 for every subsequent airing. After 13 weeks the money stops even if the commercial doesn't.

Bride Prices Boom In Libya

TRIPOLI, Libya (AP) — Libya's oil boom may be pricing some of its women out of the marriage market.

Fathers used to demand a fee of about $3,500 in cash with a camel, sheep and some gold coins thrown in for marrying off their daughters.

But in a society fueled by oil, the groom's family in a "low bracket" transaction now plunks down the equivalent of $12,000 in cash and a new car, in addition to the customary camel and a sheep or two. In the upper brackets, gifts of $35,000 in cash are not unusual.

Some men pay the inflated price as Libya's $5 billion-a-year oil income pumps cash into nomad hands which had none a few years ago.

Others, however, go west to Tunisia and east to Egypt where the price of most wives is said to be about $200, unofficial sources say.

The wife price inflation has led to a public education campaign against hard-bargaining fathers by Libya's revolutionary government.

"Marriage is a bond of steel, not money," declares one of the many government posters displayed in Tripoli.

The interior ministry recently denounced fathers "who sell their daughters like camels." The mufti, the Moslem religious leader, occasionally appears on nationwide television to argue against spiraling marriage costs.

This is the Libyan government's second foray into matrimonial matters since Moammar Khadafy and a group of young military officers toppled the monarchy six years ago.

In 1972 the government decreed that both spouses must consent to marriage. The new law even permitted eloping and took away the man's right to unilateral declaration of divorce.

Libyan women still lack an effective voice—they hardly dare drag their men into court—in matters of marriage and divorce.

But they are emerging from confinement in the bedroom, or the tent, and the kitchen. Also, those who miss out in the marriage market—or skip it—find a few options their mothers didn't have.

One-fourth of all Libyan women reportedly attend school, twice as many as six years ago. A law grants them equal pay for equal work.

Women undergo military training, although not as rigorous as for men. Khadafy himself, usually a conservative on social issues, is said to be the prime mover behind an increased role for women. "When it comes to women, you can call President Khadafy a liberal," a Western diplomat remarked. "He ordered girls to go into the army."

TEEN LIVE-IN — Patricia Thompson, 15, and Ray Kuhns, 19, are the center of a controversy in the community of Creston, Iowa. A young social worker is to tell a juvenile court this week why he drew up a written contract allowing them to live together. Miss Thompson is a ward of the state.

Assassinated By Terrorists

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Terrorist gunmen in a speeding car assassinated the inspector general of the Colombian army today, military authorities said. They said Gen. Ramon Arturo Rincon Quinones was sprayed with bullets as he was being driven to the Defense Ministry in a limousine. The general's chauffeur was seriously wounded. Rincon had conducted a strong campaign against leftist guerrillas.

limousine. The general's chauffeur was seriously wounded. Rincon had conducted a strong campaign against leftist guerrillas.

On June 26, President Alfonso Lopez Michelesen extended a state of siege to the entire nation to curb rising guerrilla activity.

The state of siege was first imposed on three of the nation's 24 provinces, but extended after the leftist National Liberation Army ambushed and killed three soldiers.

Under the siege, military courts can be empaneled, arrests can be made without warrants, and press censorship can be imposed.

In the last few months Colombia has been plagued by 22 kidnappings, with ransom totaling $1 million paid in 14 cases.

Despite his moderate left programs, Lopez has been unable to get the support of students and workers, who regard him as just another president in the line of conservative and alterate liberal regimes that have been running Colombia under the National Front coalition for the last 13 years.

Of Lopez' announced social goals, only a tax reform and some minor wage increases have been implemented. Inflation, which has been running as high as 30 per cent, also has hit low and middle classes.

Reagan To Enter Race 'Before Thanksgiving'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former California Gov. Ronald Reagan will enter the race for the GOP presidential nomination "before Thanksgiving" and mount an aggressive challenge to President Ford in the primaries, a key supporter said today.

"As far as I'm concerned, he's a candidate and we've moved from the question of 'if' to 'when and where,'" said Sen. Paul Laxalt, R-Nev., who heads a citizen's committee for Reagan.

Laxalt said there is "no way" the Reagan drive for the presidency would involve a conservative third party.

The senator commented during a breakfast meeting with reporters at the National Press Club.

Laxalt said he would have no problem backing President Ford should Reagan fail to win the GOP nomination.

"It's absolutely essential that he develop momentum in the early primaries," Laxalt said of Reagan.

He said Reagan will concentrate his efforts on his political base in the West and South but probably will enter other primaries, including those in large industrial states such as New York.

County's Bicentennial Commission, along with the Snyder commission.

W. B. Chenoweth operated the six-cylinder, twelve passenger bus which ran briefly between Colorado City and Snyder in 1907.

The route was soon changed to a route from Colorado City to Big Spring because Snyder preachers told their congregation that was an instrument of the devil.

The first bus ran Oct. 29, 1907, and will be commemorated on Oct. 29 of this year. Mrs. Charles C. Thompson, George Womack and J. Lee Jones Jr. are working on the project along with Martin Murphy, Hermeleigh, John Richardson and Arlie Taylor of Dunn and Jean Everett, Snyder.

L. G. Simon of Dallas, former Colorado City resident, will be consulted on plans and specifications for rebuilding the bus. Citizens of Dunn are planning a dinner in connection with the bus run since early-day travelers stopped there for a break during the 25-mile trip.

Patrolman Is Asked to Quit

Ernest Lee, patrolman with the city police since July 1968, was asked to resign from the force this morning.

The request was made by Asst. Chief Stanley Bogard after conferring by telephone with Chief Vance Chisum, who is serving as a witness at a trial in Uvalde.

Bogard said the matter concerned irregularities in handling a special account.

Child's Body Found In Bag

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas Rangers said today the body of an apparently murdered 3- or 4-year-old child was found Sunday in a garbage bag left in a field south of Giddings.

The Department of Public Safety and Lee County officials appealed to the public for help in identifying the body.

Texas Ranger Wallace Spillar said the almost decomposed body was dumped in a field 5.4 miles south of Giddings on U.S. 77, about 125 feet behind a rest area. The discovery was made by a family that had gone to the rest area Sunday for a picnic.

Bond Issue Is Approved

SWEETWATER — Nolan County residents Saturday approved a $2 million bond issue here, which will provide funds for construction of a new court-house-jail complex.

Of the 3,084 voters who turned out, 1,705 voted for the proposal and 1,379 against it.

As expected, voters in Sweetwater itself helped swing the issue. In rural areas, the margin was 429 against the proposal and 101 for it.

Attendance is Down Slightly

SAN ANGELO — San Angelo's school attendance has dropped from 14,505 in the fall of 1974 to 14,436 for the corresponding period this year, according to a report issued by Asst. Supt. Lloyd Matson.

San Angelo Central High now has 2,620 students enrolled while San Angelo Lake View High reports an attendance of 953.

Weds Minister Of Culture

LOURENCO MARQUES, Mozambique (AP) — Samora Machel, president of newly independent Mozambique, is a bridegroom.

Machel was married Sunday to Graca Simbine, Mozambique's minister of education and culture. His first wife, Josina, died several years ago.

Machel, 41, led a war of independence against the Portuguese for nearly a decade. The country officially became independent on June 25.

Jury Slection For Trial Of Carrillos Tuesday

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge Owen Cox said today jury selection will begin Tuesday for the trial of District Court Judge O.P. Carrillo and his brother, Ramiro.

At a docket call this morning, Judge Cox also said the trial of Arturo Zertuche will probably be in November.

The three men are charged with conspiracy to file false income tax returns and filing false income tax returns.

Judge Carrillo's impeachment trial in the Texas Senate was postponed last week because of the federal trial.

The Texas House last month approved 10 of 11 charges of impeachment against Judge Carrillo alleging acts of official misconduct.

Ramiro Carrillo is a Duval County commissioner. The federal government said the three men attempted to conceal sales made by the Farm and Ranch Store of Benavides to various Duval County government agencies.

The government alleges the county paid money to Zertuche's General Store at Benavides, and Zertuche attempted to block the marriage of chess champion Boris Spassky, the former world chess champion, wants to marry a French woman. But he believes Soviet officials are trying to block the marriage.

His prospective bride is Marina Stcherbatcheff, 30, a secretary in the commercial section of the French Embassy who has been told to leave the country by the end of September for her home in France. The scheduled wedding date is Nov. 11.

Both Spassky, 38, and Miss Stcherbatcheff, daughter of Russian emigres who live in Grenoble, fear that if she leaves the Soviet Union she will not be allowed to return.

Spassky, who lost his world chess title to Bobby Fischer in 1972, was separated from his Russian wife Larissa in July of 1974. Their divorce became final two months ago.

These will be shown at the Scout Roundtable Oct. 2.

Funnels Sighted

By The Associated Press

Clear skies returned over most of Texas during the night except for a few showers and thunderstorms moving ashore early today along the coast.

It was near Corpus Christi on the Coastal Bend, during an earlier round of thunderstorms, that tornado funnels danced across the sky Sunday but did not touch ground, official observers reported.

Meteorologists attributed the unsettled weather near the coast to a weak tropical depression that finished crossing the Gulf of Mexico and went ashore this morning close to Tampico, Mexico, without growing to hurricane stature. It was expected to trigger heavy rain in that area.

Except for more scattered showers and thunderstorms near the immediate coast, fair and warm weather was forecast over most of Texas.

Temperatures in early morning ranged from 76 degrees at McAllen in the Lower Rio Grande Valley down to 58 at Lubbock on the South Plains and Texarkana in the northeast corner of the state.

A's Looking Toward World Series Again

By The Associated Press
Catfish Hunter, chivalrous and humble, said he owes it all to his supporting cast. It's hard to believe that Hunter, either the fisherman or the pitcher, has ever cast a longer line or told a taller tale.

Hunter, the most consistent pitcher in baseball in the 1970s, Sunday joined a couple of immortals from yesteryear by winning his 20th game for the fifth straight year. Only Hall of Famers Walter Johnson and Lefty Grove had drawn five a kind in the American League before.

"It feels great, but I owe it to the teams behind me," said Hunter, who turned in the A's green and gold for the Yankee pinstripes and got a lot of green and gold for doing it. "To Oakland for the first four seasons, and to the Yankees this year. A pitcher is only as good as his team."

The Yankees, who beat Baltimore 2-0 Sunday behind Hunter's six-hitter, are thinking about next year while his former teammates are looking toward another World Series.

Elsewhere in the AL, Oakland beat Texas 4-1 and 7-3; Cleveland took a pair from Detroit, 7-2 and 9-0; Boston beat Milwaukee 6-3, then lost 7-3, and Minnesota pounced Chicago 9-1.

The powerless Angels must have been envious Sunday when Kansas City blasted five home runs, three by Tony Solaita, whose 11th-inning RBI single was the game-winner, and two from John Mayberry, major league leader with 33 homers.

A's 4-7, Rangers 1-3
"Our bullpen has kept us in the race all year," Oakland Manager Alvin Dark said following a doubleheader sweep of Texas.

Dick Bosman, with shutout relief help from Jim Todd over the final 3 and 2-3 innings, won the first game and Sonny Siebert, with relief help from Paul Lindblad, Todd and Rollie Fingers, won the second game.

Twins 9, White Sox 1
Steve Brye returned to the Minnesota lineup with a bump. Brye, making his first plate appearances in two months after being on the disabled list, pinch hit an inside-the-park home run, then in his next at bat, he slugged a conventional over-the-wall shot.

SCHOOLBOY 'Cats No. 9

By The Associated Press
Bryan took the first step on the long and difficult path of maintaining a No. 1 ranking through the entire season Friday, beating Beaumont Hebert 24-13.

All but one of the teams in the pre-season Associated Press Top Ten Class 4A schoolboy football poll followed Bryan's example on the first weekend. Fifth-ranked Segun was blanked 14-0 by Killean for the only 4A blemish.

Defending champion and top-ranked Cuero of Class 3A also won, while Brownwood, Gainesville and Longview Pine Tree were defeated.

Cameron, Class 2A kingpin, was a winner Friday, but its closest competitor in the balloting, LaGrange, was beaten.

Tom Watson Great Feeling To Beat Jack

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Tom Watson, an intelligent and usually highly articulate young man, seemed almost at a loss for words.

"It's a great feeling to have," he said, then paused. "It's very hard to put into words, to describe just what it means.

"I can tell you this. It means a very great deal, it gives you a very good feeling inside, to know that you've won when you're facing players the caliber of Jack Nicklaus, Tom Weiskopf and Lou Graham."

Of those major titleholders, only Nicklaus was a threat to Watson in Sunday's final round of the World Series of Golf and his bid fizzled and failed in a series of frustrations that had the usually self-contained Nicklaus, scowling, muttering and, at least once, angrily tossing his club.

Watson, one of the game's brightest young stars, held him off with a solid, last-round 71 and won by two strokes in the last World Series to be played under its exclusive, four-man format.

The tournament which, for the last 14 years, brought together only the holders of the major titles, will expand its format to include some 28-30 players next season.

TEACHERS STRIKE IN DISPUTES OVER PAY, JOB SECURITY, CLASS SIZE

Nearly Million Pupils Stay Home From School

By The Associated Press
Teachers strikes in a dozen states extended summer holidays for nearly a million public school pupils today as a result of contract disputes involving pay, class size and job security.
Meanwhile, New York City's 1.1 million school children began classes today while officials of the financially strapped city met with union leaders in an attempt to avert a strike by 65,000 teachers.

Police in Boston, backed by U.S. marshals and National Guard troops at the ready, arrested about 100 persons today, mostly on charges of disorderly conduct, as a new and extensive busing program came to the nation's oldest public school system.
In Louisville, Ky., armed National Guard troops and police rode nearly empty schools buses today as classes resumed in Jefferson County after four days of noisy and sometimes violent antibusing protests.

Antibusing protests in Louisville resulted in 70 arrests Sunday night. More than 22,000 of the 135,000 pupils are being bused under a plan to merge predominantly black city schools with mostly white county schools.

Teacher strikes were scattered around the nation with 28,000 off the job in Illinois; 7,800 in Pennsylvania; 7,800 in Michigan; 800 in Wilmington, Del.; 2,200 in Rhode Island; 900 in Lynn, Mass.; 1,200 in New York State; 9,900 in Berkeley and San Jose, Calif.; 300 in Ohio; 600 in Tacoma, Wash.; 850 in Great Falls, Mont.

Here are the highlights of key disputes:
NEW YORK: One-third of the state's public school districts were beginning the new year without contracts. Union officials cited salaries, class size and job security as the key issues.
About 50,000 pupils were affected by scattered teachers strikes in New York last week. Many students attended classes taught by stand-in teachers and one dispute was settled Sunday.

New York City's 980 schools opened as teachers and officials met around-the-clock session trying to draw up a new contract before the old one expires at midnight.
ILLINOIS: Chicago teachers planned to man the picket lines for a fourth day after their negotiating team turned down the school board's offer of a one-year contract extension on Sunday.

The strike by 26,708 teachers began Wednesday and has prolonged summer vacation for some 529,000 pupils.
PENNSYLVANIA: About 150,000 students are affected by strikes in 30 school systems. Most of the districts involved are small and the issues are money, fringe benefits and class sizes.

MONTANA: In Great Falls, Mont., hopes of settling the city's 2-week-old strike were crushed Sunday when talks broke off indefinitely.
The strike began Aug. 25 when teachers took to the picket lines instead of reporting for a scheduled week of orientation. The union says 852 of its 890 member teachers have honored picket lines.

Your DAILY HOROSCOPE from the CARROLL RICHTER INSTITUTE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A fine day to give whatever mysteries face you and to get the answers you can use best to solve any perplexities. Seize the chance to discuss your aims with an influential man for he is in a more receptive condition to go along with your desires and wishes.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You can handle obligations well with an early start. Quietly understand how to have more harmony with loved one. Talk less. TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Coordinate efforts with a partner for increased success. Find out why someone is now acting oddly toward you and do something to correct situation.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Discharge obligations early. Take health measures that give you more vim and vigor. Evening can be particularly happy for you. MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Get yourself better prepared to have the fine social time desired. Show more thought and affection for the one you love.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Show more devotion to kin instead of trying to lord it over them and gaining their displeasure. Put a solid foundation under your activities. VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Make the appointments necessary to gain the advice and aims you are after. Make your routines more proficient. Don't neglect necessary shopping.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) With common-sense handling of financial affairs, problems are soon solved. Don't downgrade others so much. Be more cooperative. SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Get personal duties cleared and gain the assistance of a good friend. Accept a worthwhile social invitation; much benefit results.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You have excellent perception and can study any matter and come up with the right answers today. Clear off accumulated chores. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Get in touch with a good friend who will cooperate with you in an important matter. Gain a personal aim via social channels.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Handle career and civic matters carefully, then you can gain the benefits that will accrue. Give immediate attention to credit. PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Investigate an opportunity to expand. Some new contact can assist you greatly in the days ahead. Control your temper.

Gas Blast Kills Two

KILGORE, Tex. (AP) — Two men were killed and three persons critically injured Sunday night when the car in which they were riding exploded as it passed through a pocket of natural gas near here, officials said.

Rudy Taylor and Jerry Gomez, both 30 and of Kilgore, were killed in the explosion that occurred on private property about five miles north of Kilgore.

Keith Johnson, 14, and twins Johnny and Jerry Walker, 19, of Liberty City, were listed in critical condition today in Parkland Hospital in Dallas where they were being treated for burns.

A Gregg County deputy sheriff said the explosion occurred as Taylor's car entered a low spot on an old oil lease road where natural gas leaking from a nearby pipeline had accumulated.

Witnesses said the blast was followed by flames that scorched two acres before being brought under control.

No Apartment OK Is Sought

The request to be heard by the city council at 9 a.m. Tuesday in regard to a zoning change will be for duplex and triplex homes, rather than an apartment complex, as erroneously printed in Friday's Big Spring Herald.

Jerry Worth is requesting permission to build duplex and triplex homes in an area previously zoned as single family residence.

Several neighbors have already appeared at the zoning meeting opposing the request, with some expected to attend Tuesday morning.

Chamber and Webb officials, however, have recently expressed a need in Big Spring for more duplexes, triplexes, apartments and other rental property.

Dear Abby

Reader Proved Smoking Really Makes Him Sick

DEAR ABBY: I surely do sympathize with "Smoked out," whose friend's smoking made him sick. I had the same problem with my dad.

He would always smoke cigars in the car. One time when I was about 7, he was smoking a cigar in the car, and I said, "Dad, your cigar is making me sick."

He replied, "No, it's not." Then I said, "Yes, it is." He repeated, "No, it's not."

Then I threw up in the car. He hasn't smoked cigars in the car since.

MIKE IN CULVER CITY DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a man who has got to be the world's biggest liar, cheat and hypocrite, yet who never misses a Sunday in church?

HATES HYPOCRITES DEAR HATES: I can't think of a better place for him. A church is a hospital for sinners, not a museum for saints.

DEAR ABBY: I am one broken-hearted, 17-year-old girl. Bobby and I went together for three years and planned on getting married this Christmas when Bobby turns 18. (I am ashamed to admit it, but we had been having sex since I was 14.)

Well, last week he simply tore my heart out when he told me that he'd been fooling around with a 15-year-old girl and got her pregnant. Now this girl's parents are on top of him to marry their daughter. They say he wither has to marry her or go to jail.

Abby, please help me get my mind straight. I can't turn off my love for Bobby.

He says he will marry the girl to give her baby a name, and as soon as he can, he'll divorce her and marry me. He wants to keep on seeing me anyway because he says he still loves me, regardless. What should I do?

ALL TORN UP DEAR TORN: If I were you, I'd forget him, dear. If Bobby could have been fooling around with another girl while planning to marry you, his "love" for you couldn't have been very sincere.

Don't see him again — ever. He spells trouble with a capital T.

DEAR ABBY: We are the parents of a 1-year-old daughter. We both work and do not plan on having any more children.

How do you feel about raising an only child? I am tired of hearing that it's unfair to our daughter to be raised as an only child.

We feel that as long as she gets plenty of love and discipline she will be all right. Have you any statistics to support or oppose raising an only child?

TULSA PARENTS DEAR PARENTS: Don't look for statistics. You have the right idea.

DEAR ABBY: We have four grown children. Three are married, and the fourth is leaving for college soon. We are faced with an important decision. Should we sell our big home? Or should we keep it so the children can come and visit us and bring their families? (Two live out of town.)

Our home is very saleable, and we could realize a nice profit. It's awfully big for Dad and me to rattle around in, plus the yard is a lot to take care of.

Dad and I are thinking we might enjoy an apartment, so that if we feel like taking off for a little vacation, we can just turn the key and leave. Also, perhaps later on, we might want to retire to a warmer climate.

Are we selfish for thinking of giving up our house? Perhaps some readers who have experienced this predicament will write in and give us the pros and cons.

"TO SELL OR NOT TO SELL" DEAR TO: I'll ask Readers?

Lutheran Workers Meet

The St. Paul Lutheran Parish Workers met Thursday evening at the Parish Hall for their monthly meeting.

The devotion was read by Mrs. Harold Bentley and the group joined in singing the LWML Hymn.

Mrs. John Gilg was welcomed as a new member and presented a demonstration of macramé, showing the various knots used in the craft.

Lutheran Women's Missionary League Sunday will be held on Oct. 19 with a special service conducted during the regular worship hour.

A family dinner honoring all new members and guests during the past few months will be held at 6 p.m. Sept. 28 in the Parish Hall.

A Gypsy Basket will be started among the members as a Ways and Means project. Mrs. Gilg will be chairman.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. August Grauman and Mrs. Ralph Hadley.

Rainbow Meeting Time Changed

The Order of Rainbow for Girls, Assembly 60, will meet at 6 p.m. Tuesday instead of the regularly scheduled time of 7 p.m. The meeting will be held in the Masonic Temple.
