Economy Improves

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is beginning to recover from the recession, but it will be stuck for years with a combination of high unemployment and inflation, the Congressional Budget Office said today.

The office, key element in Congress' new budget control machinery, sent the lawmakers a detailed report on the status of recovery, projections for the future and the outline of two possible strategies, one aimed mainly at producing more jobs, the other at reducing inflation.

It recommended neither, but outlined the expected consequences in each case.

The congressional report came one day after the Federal Reserve Board said the nation's industrial output shot upward by 1.3 per cent in August, indicating that economic recovery might be taking place faster than economists had thought.

It was the best one-month showing in nearly three years.

"It looks very solid. It looks like we're headed up," said James L. Pate, the Commerce Department's chief economist.

He said the industrial production report was consistent with other economic statistics reported recently but that the production figures showed a firmness to the recovery that was not so readily apparent in earlier indicators.

The congressional report indicated that the immediate outlook is for more Americans getting jobs, but that all will be paying higher prices.

Confirming what most household budgeters already know, the budget office said prices, especially of food and fuel, leaped at midyear after an encouraging slowdown in the first part of 1975.

From the fluctuations of the unemployment rate, the congressional office concluded that "there are numerous signs that a labor market upturn is under way, (but) the upturn is from an extremely low level so that the unemployment problem remains severe with nothing resembling full recovery in sight."

Specifically, the budget office said prices are likely to be increasing at an annual rate of 6 to 8 per cent during the latter half of this year. This would be above the rate for the first half, but below the levels of the two previous years and well below the 12 per cent annual inflation rate that prevailed in June and July, 1975.

JP Job Muled

The next justice of the peace for precinct one, place one, remained in question late this morning as County Commissioners Court met privately.

The court is seeking to decide on a replacement for Walter Grice, 78, who retires Oct. 1.

A record vote was to be taken in making the appointment.

Among the qualified applicants were these: Boyce Hale, A. G. Mitchell, Travis Floyd, Eli Guinn, L. A. Hillbrunner, Bobby West, Jack Thompson, Bob Smith and Lewis Heflin.

CIA Spent $3 Million Developing Poisons

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Central Intelligence Agency spent nearly $3 million developing and maintaining a supply of deadly poisons and sophisticated devices for using them, Director William E. Colby testified today.

He told a Senate committee that one device for using the poisons was a silent dart gun that could kill without leaving a clue about the cause of death.

Colby told the Senate intelligence committee that work on the poisons began in 1952 in an effort to replace cyanide suicide capsules used by agents in World War II.

He offered no explanation why the agency had developed poisons in quantities which Chairman Frank Church, D-Idaho, said were capable of killing hundreds of thousands of people.

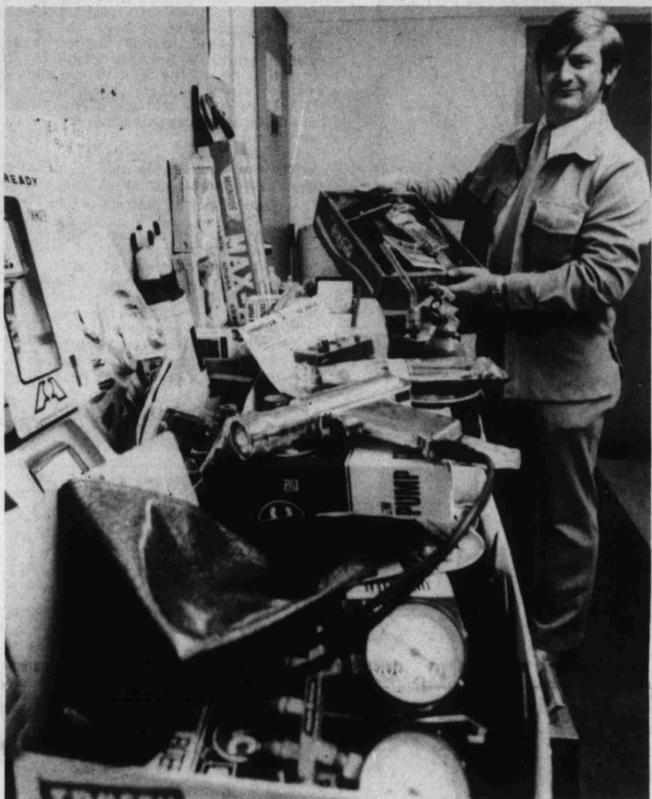

The CIA director acknowledged that some of the most deadly poisons — shellfish toxin and cobra venom — had been kept by the agency despite a presidential order to destroy such substances. A total of 27 lethal and incapacitating agents were discovered earlier this year at a CIA laboratory.

Not all the poisons were kept in violation of the presidential order, Colby testified. However, he added, "we have no need for this type of thing at this time."

Testifying under oath at the first public hearing by the eight-month old intelligence committee, Colby said only two instances could be found in which poisons had been used operationally.

LOOT RECOVERED — Detective Leroy Spires is showing the stolen merchandise from Carroll Auto Parts recovered when four persons were arrested by city police Monday. Two other burglaries were cleared with the arrests.

Teachers' Strikes

By The Associated Press
The hoped-for settlement to return 1.1 million New York City public school students to their classrooms came closer as key negotiators for the Board of Education and 65,000 striking teachers presented a tentative settlement to the full negotiating teams of both sides.

The break came early today after about seven hours of talks on last minute snags.

Meanwhile, teachers' strikes affecting nearly one million other students continued in Chicago and school districts in eight other states.

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

The Washington Redskins and New York Jets went on strike today, joining the New England Patriots in a growing player demand upon National Football League owners to agree to a new labor contract.

The surprise actions by the Jets and Redskins, taken just before and after noon today, came only seven hours after management and union negotiators had emerged from an all-night meeting in Washington with federal mediators. The league made a six-point proposal which said the Patriots could return to practice without reprisal and which promised a new labor contract offer by Sept. 25.

Four Arrested, Loot Recovered

Four arrests were made in connection with three burglaries and over $1,000 worth of merchandise was recovered by local police Monday.

Terry Lynn Piercefield, 17, was charged with burglary with bond set at $350 by Justice of the Peace Walter Grice. A 14-year-old juvenile was also arrested for burglary.

Eugene Lee Piercefield and his wife, Sheryl Jene Piercefield were arrested and charged with theft over $200 by exercising control over stolen material. Their bonds were also set at $3,500 by Justice Grice.

The merchandise was reported to have been taken from Carroll Auto Parts and Halls Engine Service over the weekend. A third burglary of the Park Village Apartments was also cleared with the arrest.

Everything was recovered except part of the cash, according to Police Detective Leroy Spires, in charge of the investigation. "There was only around $15 taken. Most of it was auto parts and merchandise," he added.

Terry Lynn was arrested at 707 Magnolia at his brother's home where the merchandise was also recovered. This arrest was made by Juvenile Officer C. P. Ward and Spires.

Spires, Jan Hyden from the juvenile department, and Deputy Paul Silva arrested the juvenile at a home in the Silver Heels addition outside the city limits. The other two arrests were made at the police station.

'Phased Decontrol' Of Oil Costs Predicted

By JOHN EDWARDS
ST. LAWRENCE — Seeing a "mood for compromise" between the President and Congress, U.S. Rep. Bob Krueger (D-New Braunfels) predicted decontrol of oil prices would be replaced with phased decontrol.

Krueger, a freshman congressman, said he authored amendments which would phase out controls. Both amendments were defeated earlier.

The representative spoke to the Glasscock County Farmers Union Monday night. About 60 drove through muddy roads to attend the meeting at the church community center.

INCENTIVES
Is there enough incentive for domestic oil production?

"Given decontrol, there is no doubt" there is enough, Krueger said. "There is going to be plenty of incentive under phased decontrol."

When the United States was producing 80-90 per cent of its petroleum requirements, the Arabs were unable to set high prices.

With only 60 per cent of domestic supply being domestically produced, the Arabs can control price, Krueger explained.

Last year, the United States imported $25 billion worth of oil and exported $12½ million in agricultural products.

"The American farmer, through his exports, paid for half the oil we imported in this country," Krueger said.

SELL WHEAT
"We have to sell something overseas if we're going to buy overseas," Krueger said. "And we have to sell what people are going to buy."

He referred to the moratorium placed on sale of wheat to the Russians by President Ford. The AFL-CIO has refused to load grain bound for the Soviet Union.

"I think the AFL-CIO is being awfully shortsighted," Krueger commented. The United States exported 75 per cent of its wheat last year.

Who could force opening ports for exporting wheat? A farmer asked.

IF TRUMAN
"The administration could do it," Krueger said. "If it was to be Harry Truman, I'd bet they'd do it."

Krueger opposed giving the Soviets lower interest rates than those provided for American farmers and businessmen. He was open to suggestion on whether the U.S. government, instead of private firms, should sell grain abroad.

Other topics he discussed included:

•Rationing fuel. Bureaucrats might decide Connecticut residents need as much fuel as "people in St. Lawrence." If rationing is started, Krueger predicted: "We will have it for the rest of time for as long as we can see."

•Civil Service wage increases. "I simply want to study what the over-all economic impact would be."

COMPETITION, FUN, GAMES

Circus, County Fair Attract Record Crowd

By MARJ CARPENTER
An all-time record-breaking crowd estimated at 12,000 filled the rodeo arena almost to capacity for the Shrine Circus and spilled over on to the Fair Grounds and carnival grounds at opening night of the third annual revised Howard County Fair.

There were around 6,000 at the circus and another 6,000 on the fair grounds.

Cars were backed up on FM 700 at 8 p.m. trying to get into the parking area while drivers who could find no parking spot were trying to get out. People parked on the edge of the roadway and all the way over at the parking area at Airport School.

MULE RACE TONIGHT
Today's activities at the Fairgrounds include a champion mule race and team pull in the rodeo arena at 8 p.m. The annual barrow sale is at 7 p.m.

Judging of the barrows was completed Monday with Brent Rhoton, Gayhill 4-H, showing the grand champion which was a medium weight Duroc. Reserve grand champion was shown by Tammy Peugh of the Knott 4-H, who also won the showmanship award.

The campaign officially ended Labor Day. At that time, the $6,000 objective had not been reached but gifts continued to cascade into the Herald, which served as a clearance house for the campaign.

showed the champion and David Long the reserve.

FOR SAN BAND
The Forsan High School band will play at 6:30 p.m. Judging of the rabbit show and agriculture field products will be held today.

BARROW WINNERS
Other winners in the Duroc Show included in the heavyweight: Danny Peugh, Tammy Peugh, Bart Griffith, Debbie Parker and Steve Parker; medium weight, Brent Rhoton, Tammy Peugh, Bret Griffith, Dirk Perry, Tony Lane, and Leland Daniels; lightweight, Dana Westbrook, Danny Peugh, Dana Westbrook, Carla Parker, Brent Rhoton and Tony Lane.

In the cross class, heavyweight, Stacy Parker, Stan Parker, Stacy Parker, Stan Parker, Jay Freeze and Trent Fraley. In medium weight, David Long, Brent Rhoton, Scott Underwood, Antonette Nichols, Stacy Parker, Penni Anderson, and Ray Mayo, and in the lightweight, Van Gaskins, Lita Cox, Brent Nichols, Jana Long, Lita Cox, Karen Earls and Ronnie Long.

weight, David Long, Antonette Nichols, Richard Jenkins, Dirk Perry, Gregg Cline, and Delaina McQuerry.

Farmers Have A Point

The nation's grain raisers are up in arms over the reluctance, if not refusal, of the AFL-CIO longshoremen to load U.S. Grain bound for Russia.

Their complaint is understandable. Caught habitually in the squeeze between rising material and labor costs, the often too-thin or nonexistent market margin for their products, farmers are being denied a fair outlet for their products. Clearly, if they cannot sell the surplus at a profitable level, then they will be stuck with an unprofitable and unrealistically low domestic price for their goods. It's the economic dictum that it is the least desirable increment of production which ultimately determines the price for a particular good or service.

Union officials claim they are attempting to prevent a recurrence of the inflationary pressures of the 1972 sale to the Soviets (called in some quarters The Great Grain Robbery) which credited with sending food prices soaring. Also (the longshoremen) they are attempting to protect American shippers who have had opportunities to move only a fraction of the grain shipments to Russia. Granted that there may be some altruism in the action, the fact remains that these are matters of national policy which should be determined or changed by elected representatives, rather than by George Meany and the longshoremen. In short, the union has assumed the prerogative of government. It would be helpful for the administration and Congress to agree upon a national policy governing substantial export of agricultural products. This would go far toward avoiding confrontation, and it could result in a better trade break for the American farmer.

Navy's Uncertainty

Rep. Lee Aspin has examined the readiness of the U.S. Navy's surface and undersea fleet and found it wanting. After examining the report of a Naval Board of Inspection and Survey, he said that vessels surveyed averaged 462 "serious operating defects" each.

Some of the defects are no more serious than toasters that burned toast on the Nimitz, a new supercarrier. Others included an attack submarine that can't submerge.

To some degree the number of defects, often the result of limited maintenance work, reflect the uncertainty of the Navy's leadership on the question of its future role. The argument is not over the necessity for a battle-worthy fleet, but over the type of vessels needed.

The mission of the Navy in future conflicts cannot be decided by the Navy alone, though. Congress must agree before the mission is approved and appropriations authorized. But Congress is uncertain. Thus the Navy is forced to spread its dollars thinly while awaiting a decision.

Remembers Alamo

Around The Rim

Troy Bryant

I was sorely disappointed when I found that no one is allowed to take pictures in the Alamo. I had just walked a couple of blocks, lugging about 15 pounds of cameras, lenses, and film in the 90 plus degree weather.

I guess I really looked the part of the "tourista" sans the straw hat and bermuda shorts. I didn't get the cameras grinding on the exterior of the shrine, because I knew I would get a chance to do that later, after I got shots of the interior.

I was making the vacation trip with my wife, Ann, my two-year-old daughter Jan and my grandmother. None of us had ever been to the Alamo before and our introduction to it that day was a difficult one.

First, we were cruising down the freeway, looking for the exit that I had earlier figured (after poring over a city map that looked like a broken windshield) would take us reasonably close to the Alamo in downtown San Antonio.

Suddenly, the womenfolk decided they needed to make a rest-stop, and it couldn't wait until we got to the Alamo.

We began searching here and there for a gas station and soon we got to the exit I was supposed to take to get to the Alamo. Still no gas stations were in sight, and I figured that there would be none in the downtown area so we passed the exit and went on.

We passed several more exits before we spotted the tall sign signifying a gas station. What luck, the station was right in front of the exit.

We took the exit, and the station was less than a half block away, but we had to cross three lanes of traffic in the access road to get over to the thing. I looked and looked back and there was no one coming in the near lane so I started to pull out into it.

From out of nowhere came some speeding metro driver, slamming on his brakes and cursing "that West Texas driver."

After I got over that enough to pull onto the road safely, I found that there was no way I could cross the lanes and get to the station. Meanwhile, things were getting critical with the women and they were letting me know it. So, I used the old standby, "making the block."

We finally pulled up to the station and found that there were about 50 cars parked and stacked all around in every available space, so I stopped in the driveway and let everybody out.

I sat there a minute and then someone in one of the other cars decided it was time to move and I was blocking the way. So, I moved. I moved about three or four times before the women got back and I set out to discover a new route to the Alamo.

After quite a bit of wandering through the congested streets, we finally made it to the Alamo and paid two dollars to park. (You get part of it back if you don't stay too long.)

We trudged back to the Alamo and found that we could have parked free right beside it, that you can't take pictures in the Alamo building itself, and the courtyard was swarming with college kids trying to get folks to come across the street and watch some kind of religious film that has nothing to do with being Baptist.

I started out feeling a little teed-off about the whole deal, but I soon got over it and began taking in all the interesting information about the Battle of the Alamo. Then I began thinking about what it stands for, and I really didn't care about the inside shots anymore.

So, I got the standard outside shots with the infokolls and a few college kids still trying to get us to see the movie.

I could have gotten the same picture, only without those pesky college kids by buying a postcard at some four-booth cafe in Lometa, Tex. and pasting in a photo of all of us.

But, what are vacations for, anyway?

My Answer

Billy Graham

A while ago, you wrote an article on being prudent. This problem relates to those principles. My husband is an office boss who occasionally plans office parties. All the women attending these are unmarried or divorced, while all the men are married. If I suspect any hanky-panky, my husband merely says, "Don't you trust me?" I feel stymied. What can I do?

I.D.
From an English author of the 17th century has come this good advice: "A great proportion of the wretchedness which has embittered married life, has originated in a negligence of trifles. Conjugal happiness is a thing of too fine a texture to be handled roughly. It must be . . . guarded by the impregnable barrier of unshaken confidence."

Now from your letter, particularly that part that says, "We are in our 50s and our marriage is good," I surmise that nothing thus far has threatened your relationship. Keep it that way! Your mistrust of questionable activity at office parties is unfounded, at least to this date. Wait till there's evidence of something before you air your suspicions.

I've read that office parties are less and less in vogue now. Let your husband manage his own life and his own job — and until you have reason to do otherwise, support him in respect and love.

Dear old golden-rule days

Ford's NH Threat

Rowland Evans

MANCHESTER, N.H. — Hidden by the warm-hearted greeting for President Ford while motorcading through the magnificent New Hampshire countryside last Thursday was grave political danger in this state which eventually could threaten his nomination for President.

FROM A standpoint of superficial impact, Mr. Ford probably won last week's "pre-season" exhibition here with Ronald Reagan. But beneath the surface are political factors ominous for the President. Advantages enjoyed by Mr. Ford in most states are absent here. Reaganites dominate the Republican power structure, Reagan's political operatives have taken a head start in organization, and Reagan is believed not far below the President in grassroots Republican popularity.

It is, therefore, too late in New Hampshire for Mr. Ford's campaign manager, Howard (Bo) Callaway, to employ his special talent of wooing conservative notables. Unless Reagan, unexpectedly, does not run, Callaway will have to manage a long, hard primary campaign here against the governor, the state's most powerful publisher and a developing precinct organization. Moreover, because the Feb. 27 New Hampshire primary is the nation's first, a Reagan upset would transform his challenge nationally from nuisance to threat.

INEXPLICABLY, the Ford operation until now has ignored this historic political battleground. Although Reagan immediately agreed to campaign for Republican Louis Wyman once the rerun of last year's disputed Senate election was set for Sept. 16, Mr. Ford's political operation stalled (partly from fear the Watergate special prosecutor might have Wyman indicted before the election).

But Mr. Ford was not abandoning his old congressional cory Louie Wyman. Nor, once it became clear there would be no pre-election indictment, could the Ford camp permit Reagan to monopolize the New Hampshire field. Indeed, the President's men began crowding Reagan out of that field.

GOV. MELDRIM Thomson, enthusiastically pro-Reagan and bitingly anti-Ford, suggested the President share the platform with Reagan at a Manchester army rally Sept. 10. Wishing no such confrontation, the White House listed Sept. 11 as the only open date. When Mr. Ford decided on a day-long motorcade, Thomson's plans for Reagan to spend that morning handshaking in Manchester-area plants were washed out by presidential priority.

THAT LIMITED Reagan to the Sept. 10 rally, where he fumbled by relying on the set speech he has been giving all year instead of reshaping it for New Hampshire. But the President rarely evoked applause giving soporific pro-Wyman speeches at more than 20 stops on his Sept. 11 motorcade. Nevertheless, television news reports of the smiling President waving to record crowds, covering town squares, submerged Reagan's single appearance.

But the television eye misses important backstage developments. With Gov. Thomson again pleading with Reagan to announce his candidacy quickly, the word was quietly passed here that the announcement is now likely around Thanksgiving.

EVEN MORE reassuring for Thomson was the briefing given him by John Sears, Reagan's national campaign director, on detailed New Hampshire organizational preparations, using computer technology. That suggested to Thomson that perhaps Reagan had not lost much after all by delaying his announcement. Nor was Sears exaggerating. "I would say Reagan has done about 10 times as much here as Ford," one neutral Republican politician told us.

The Southern-oriented Ford campaign ignored New Hampshire until recently, when Ford operative Lee Nunn in Washington began telephoning key political leaders here (and was informed angrily by some to call back after the Sept. 16 special election). "Ford had a chance to wrap up this state," says a disgusted party leader. "He blew it, absolutely blew it."

Hard To Prove

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — If the economy is recovering you can't prove it by some of the reports — not opinions — released during the past few days. If you tried to do so you'd look ridiculous.

—Business continues to cut its capital-spending plans. These cuts have shown up in one survey after another since late last year. In the latest report, the Commerce Department shows a $730 million cut between June and August.

Spending plans for new or expanded plants and equipment now might total about $113.51 billion for the year, the government said, which means that when you discount for inflation the total is 11.5 per cent lower than in 1974.

This seems to suggest that business is waiting for consumers to give them a clue about the future. If consumers began spending, then it is likely businessmen would regain some of their own spending confidence.

But guess what? Consumers have clearly indicated they aren't in the mood, at the moment anyway, to take the lead. —Retail sales fell eight-tenths of 1 per cent in August. It was the first month to slip in five months, the Commerce Department said.

Optimists will note that, nevertheless, sales remained 5.3 per cent above a year-earlier figures. Realists observe that consumer prices have risen 10 per cent in that period, meaning an actual decline in sales volume.

—Automobile sales in August were 12 per cent below a year ago. True, the auto market was unusual in August 1974: buyers were rushing to conclude transactions before a price increase.

Still, the August figures showed no improvement over those for July, suggesting that Americans aren't going to flock to showrooms as some industry officials had hoped and even had forecast.

Parents Decide on Sex Ed

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would you please give me the names of books on sex education that would be appropriate for my 13-year-old son? — Mrs. T. H.

I know several that I consider good, but I would hesitate to recommend any on this subject. The parent selecting such a book should shop around and find one that is suitable to the individual child (and parents). I'm flattered by other letters from parents asking me the same question, but I do feel strongly that it is an individual parent's duty to present such subjects as he or she sees fit.

Also, while books are fine, they are not the sole — certainly not the best — method of dealing with the situation. I detect from your letter that your husband may be reluctant to handle the matter personally. What is wrong with your doing it yourself? It may not be the best way, but it beats tossing a book to him and telling him to read it.

In cases where fathers have been reluctant to speak openly about the subject of sex with their sons, there are ways to get around it. A good way to break the ice of reluctance is for the father to sit down with the boy and read the book aloud. This has the advantage of getting the message across with at least some degree of personal involvement.

Then if there are questions, the father should answer directly and not fluff them off. There are excellent pamphlets for various age levels that can be obtained from the American Medical Association in Chicago. Your library or local book stores undoubtedly have such material.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am a 48-year-old woman who has had recent medical problems — yellow jaundice, a gall bladder operation, and an operation for removal of a stone in the common bile duct.

Since this I have been bothered with a ringing in my ears. It is constant. I have visited specialists and have taken various medications. Can you suggest something? Please send me your booklet, "Ear Noises — Their Causes and Cures." I am sending 15 cents for it to you in care of the Herald, and enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope. — Mrs. E. H.

There are so many potential causes of ear noises that it would be difficult for me to narrow them down to a specific one. You apparently have been treated successfully for your other ailments and are presently in good shape otherwise.

Which prompts me to suggest that you may find the cause in any of several drugs you may have been taking. You don't list any specific medications, but aspirin, streptomycin and a few of the rarer drugs can cause such symptoms. Also, if you have been taking quinine drugs, this could be a factor, as could excessive caffeine in coffee or tea, even tobacco or alcohol.

The reason most cases of tinnitus (the technical name for ear noises) become apparent in the 40s and 50s is that most of us develop ill at about this age that require prescribing of medications. It can be an early symptom of otosclerosis — a hearing problem.

Have your doctors included a specialist in ear disorders? Changes such as otosclerosis are frequent causes of ringing at your age. I think you'll find my booklet on the subject, which you requested, helpful.

'The First Time'

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — There is a book that has just come out called "The First Time" which is a collection of 26 confessions of various people as to the circumstances surrounding their first sexual encounter. It has caused quite a stir because the people interviewed include Dr. Spock, Mae West, Liberace and Alice Roosevelt Longworth.

I HAVE MORE than a passing interest in the work since I also confessed how I lost my innocence, and because the list is alphabetical my name appears second on the cover.

Many of my friends have been shocked that I would lend myself to such an enterprise. Half of them have said "I can understand why Alice Roosevelt Longworth would do it, but why would you?" The other half have told me, "I can understand why you would do it, but why would Alice Roosevelt Longworth?"

I'LL EXPLAIN why. About a year ago a friend, Karl Fleming, called up and said he was doing a survey on

Good Idea

MILL VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — For weeks the tiny tots attending the Tamalpais Nursery school watched their somewhat senior neighbors in the Redwoods Retirement Home across the street. Many of the seniors were confined to wheel chairs; others walked with canes.

Then one of the tiny tots made a suggestion: "Let's visit those old ladies across the street." The nursery school teacher thought it would be a good idea and it was arranged.

Now, once a week the little ones bring smiles and happiness to the faces of the older ones.

By Light Of Silvery Fish

MONTEGO BAY, Jamaica (AP) — Visitors to Montego Bay can view the Luminous Lagoon at Rock Bay, Falmouth. The luminosity, which is normally just under the surface of the water, allows one to see fish etched out in silvery light as they swim beneath the boat.

A Devotion For Today

"God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life." (John 3:16)

PRAYER: Our Father, we thank Thee for Thy healing love that gave us Christ Jesus for our salvation. Help us live in fellowship with Him now and some day dwell in the heavenly home He has prepared. In the name of Christ who teaches all His disciples to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

Judge Denies Dismissal, Wiretap Trial Begins

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — A federal judge denied defense motions today to dismiss the wiretapping charges against millionaire businessmen Bunker and Herbert Hunt and ordered jury selection to begin.

Court Judge Halbert Woodward. The brothers told a news conference on the eve of the trial, "We are not guilty of the charges."

The charges against the two sons of the late Texas oil tycoon H. L. Hunt stem from what they said were their efforts five years ago to protect their father's companies from embezzlers.

Bunker Hunt, 49, led off the press session saying he has remained silent for years at the request of his lawyers.

"But this has created a vacuum in which people have been free to spread malicious reports about the Hunt family," he said.

Herbert Hunt followed with similar remarks, and then a third brother, Lamar Hunt, owner of the Kansas City Chiefs of the National Football League and other sports ventures, declared:

"A great deal has been speculated and insinuated that there is a family feud...I would like to clarify once and for all that there is no family feud."

"Every member of the family has supported the efforts to find the source of thefts from the Hunt Oil Co.," Lamar Hunt said.

H. L. Hunt was a reputed billionaire who some said may have been the richest man in the world.

In a spillover news conference, two officials in the Hunt enterprises provided details of what one called the "most incredibly blatant embezzlement in history...a massive classic white collar crime."

According to Tom Hunt, a cousin of the Hunt brothers, and Tom Whitaker, an administrative assistant in the Hunt International Co., the Hunt interests suffered losses of $50 million in the embezzlement scheme.

Whitaker and Tom Hunt detailed how three of H. L. Hunt's trusted, senior employees—two of them later convicted of fraud—allegedly conspired to bilk the Hunt interests of millions of dollars. The third person was granted immunity from prosecution.

Guards Called In Prison Uprising

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — National Guardsmen have been ordered to the Tennessee State Prison following two inmate rebellions in the past five days.

disturbance erupted when 500 inmates refused to return to their jobs or cells after lunch Monday.

A riot last Thursday night at the 75-year-old prison resulted in one inmate being stabbed to death and ten others being wounded by shotgun blasts fired by guards.

NEW HAMPSHIRE SENATE SEAT Voters To Resolve Deadlocked Election

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — New Hampshire voters are choosing between Democrat John A. Durkin and Republican Louis C. Wyman in an unprecedented rerun of the closest U.S. Senate election in the nation's history.

current Senate majority of 61 to 39. State Atty. Gen. Warren B. Rudman, seeking to avoid confusion in the event of another tight vote, ordered state police to take possession of all ballots and voting lists after tonight's count is completed.

The election climaxes almost a year of often bitter campaigning between the 58-year-old Wyman, a conservative Republican veteran of 30 years in appointed and elected posts, and the 39-year-old Durkin, a liberal Democrat who was state insurance commissioner for five years before launching his first race for elective office.

The new election was ordered by the Senate in late July when it abandoned its seven-month effort to determine the winner of the original race. Three tallies had produced three different results, including a 10-vote Durkin victory and a two-vote Wyman triumph.

The outcome today is expected to show if the Democratic trend evident in 1974 elections is still running and will decide if the Democrats add to their ve clash over the late-breaking gun control issue, whose impact has created concern in the Durkin camp.

In a Manchester television appearance, Durkin again assailed a letter by California state Sen. H. L. Richardson charging that Durkin favors "gun confiscation."

Durkin said it "reaches a new low in politics but I'm confident the people of New Hampshire will not let a last minute smear influence their votes."

Wyman countered that "you can't have it both ways," and he told Durkin that if he supports the Massachusetts gun control law, "you're for gun controls."

Earlier Monday, as he shook hands with workers at the Sanders Associates plant in Nashua, Durkin told a reporter he is concerned about the impact of the Richardson letter in a state where more than 70,000 persons held hunting licenses last year.

Durkin contended the letter had been sent to 30,000 persons. A Wyman spokesman said 6,000 to 7,000 copies had been sent.

DURKIN VOTES — Democrat John A. Durkin pulls voting machine lever to cast ballot in today's special rerun Senate election. Durkin and Republican Louis C. Wyman have been battling for the seat since last November. Durkin voted in Manchester, N.H.

CHARGES DISCRIMINATION — Dr. Paula Latimer, speaking for the Women's Equity Action League, at a news conference in Austin Tuesday said a complaint was filed with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission claiming girls are being discriminated against in Texas public schools.

Students Threaten Camp-In At Texas

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Student protests over the appointment of Dr. Lorene Rogers as president of University of Texas at Austin may turn into a "camp-in" on the campus, protest leaders said.

About 200 students gathered Monday night in a meeting called by Students Helping Academic Freedom at Texas (SHAFT), a coalition of eight campus groups to plan a demonstration Wednesday.

SHAFT leaders said their rally permit lasts only from noon to 1:15 p.m. Wednesday and the group cannot legally sanction a mass gathering after that.

Dr. Rogers was named acting president by UT system Chancellor Charles A. LeMaistre last year, replacing Dr. Stephen H. Spurr who was fired.

Law said, "The three of us are very concerned about what appeared to be an ignoring of the advice of the advisory committee... the majority of the board supported the selection committee which had not gone along with the advisory committee."

CONCERNED "We are, at the same time, concerned that Dr. Rogers, who has a difficult job at best facing her, doesn't have the support of the faculty and students," Law said.

Law said that he hoped "that in view of the fact that she has been duly elected president, they will give her their support and opportunity to do what she is determined to do, to act in a manner that will be a credit to the office of president and to the institution."

"It would be a very unfortunate thing if she were denied that opportunity after she was selected," Law said. She was not out campaigning for the appointment. It was the opinion of the selection committee and the majority of the board."

Pan Am Requests Fare Decrease

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pan American World Airways has proposed a $199 New York-to-San Francisco round-trip fare, far below current rates for the route.

Pan Am proposed the fare to the Civil Aeronautics Board Monday. The airline, which does not fly domestic routes, asked to be allowed to carry local passengers on the domestic leg of international flights.

The suggested fare came as part of a comment on a CAB-proposed experiment in discounting certain airline routes.

The board proposed a limited experiment involving several unspecified routes in which airlines would be allowed to raise and lower their fares without first getting CAB approval and in which the airlines would be given greater freedom to start and stop services.

Pan Am said it had no comments on the board's specific proposal, which covers flights in the 48 contiguous states only.

However, Pan Am suggested that as part of the deregulation experiment international carriers be allowed to transport

GIRLS PERSECUTED Says Texas Schools Are Guilty Of Discrimination

AUSTIN (AP) — Sex discrimination charges were made today against the Texas Education Agency by the Women's Equity Action League and the Texas Civil Liberties Union.

Our charges were filed with the federal government against the Texas Education Agency after three years of attempts to get various Texas school districts to comply voluntarily with federal law, which prohibits sex discrimination in the public schools," Dr. Paula Latimer, speaking for the Equity League, told a news conference.

Agency." She said that charges were filed today with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission in San Antonio.

"If there are no concrete changes, we'll be back in six months with a court suit," she said.

Dr. Latimer said that although 70 per cent of Texas teachers are women, only 20 per cent are school administrators.

She said schools use about 95 per cent of their athletics budget for boys.

"Girls get just five cents out of every athletics dollar, are not allowed to play many sports and are offered almost no interscholastic competition," she said.

She said girls are required or counseled to take "feminine" courses, such as typing and home economics, which boys are not allowed to take or are discouraged from taking. Similarly, such "male" courses as printing or shop are virtually or literally closed to girls, she said.

Four Die In New Lebanese Fighting

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Armored cars shelled rooftop snipers in Beirut suburbs today while Moslem militiamen seized control of Tripoli, Lebanon's second largest city.

There was firing throughout the night in five Beirut neighborhoods. Police said snipers killed four persons including one policeman. Roads were closed by armed men, and there were clashes between Shiite Moslems and Maronite Christians.

Armored cars manned by police and other security forces shelled both sides in the sectarian conflict.

Interior Minister Camille Chamoun announced: "We have given security forces orders to silence any source of fire in Beirut, and they are doing this. If this does not end fighting, we shall call in the army to handle the situation."

Troops of Lebanon's 18,000-man army already are manning buffer zones between Christians and Moslems in northern Lebanon, but they have not entered Tripoli, a mostly Moslem city, in force because most of the army's commanders are Christians.

Tripoli was taken over by militiamen of the left-wing Moslem Oct. 24 Movement. They raided police stations and security outposts and kidnapped 35 security men and nine soldiers, reportedly in reprisal for the death of 13 Moslems in a clash with army troops Sunday night.

Letist Moslem leaders in Beirut and the Palestinian guerrilla command appealed to the Oct. 24 men to lay down their arms and reopen the city. But the Tripoli Moslems responded with several "irrevocable demands" before they would agree to recognize government authority.

These included: Evacuation of all Christians from Tripoli to Zagharta, the hill village five miles to the east which has been the Christian headquarters in the current communal warfare that has

Wallace Sale Booked Sept. 29

The annual Leland Wallace Hereford Ranch Production sale will take place Monday, Sept. 29, Wallace has reminded the Herald.

Some people showed up at Wallace's ranch yesterday expecting the sale to take place and others made inquiries about it at the Howard County Fair last night.

Wallace's ranch is located ten miles northeast of Big Spring. Forty-five registered Herefords and five commercial heifers will go on the auction block during the sale.

The Wallaces have been breeding registered Herefords for 35 years.

Most of the cattle up for sale are from the Straight Anxiety 4th breeding lines, out of C Bar Diamond A484, a Wallace herd bull and Diamond Anxiety W3.

Wallace says that the bull is one of the finest herd bulls he's ever owned.

Stanley E. Stout will be the auctioneer.

SALE TONIGHT — Lloyd Underwood and his son, Scott, of the Gay Hill 4-H Club are shown getting a barrow ready for judging at the Howard County Fair. The barrow sale is slated for 7 p.m. tonight.

Lamesa Police Chief Hurt During Fracas

LAMESA — Lee Bartlett Jr., Lamesa chief of police, suffered an eye injury during a struggle with a Lamesa teenager about 5 p.m., Sunday. He was treated at a local hospital.

Bartlett retained vision in the eye but was continuing medication and may have to see a specialist.

The incident reportedly followed an automobile accident. Bartlett and patrolman Jay Parchman were questioning Jimmy Murphy Brown, 18, and George Garza, 19, at the Dairy Queen drive-in when a fight ensued.

Bartlett said he was questioning Garza about the mishap and then turned aside, thinking the teenager had been subdued, in order to assist Parchman, who was trying to contain Brown.

Bartlett said that when he turned back to Garza the youth struck him twice about the eye and began kicking him.

Several officers and members of the sheriff's office converged upon the scene, after being summoned by the manager of the Dairy Queen. At least one citizen pitched in to help the officers, too.

Garza and Brown were booked on charges of disorderly conduct, public intoxication, resisting arrest and assault on a police officer.

Name Echols To Cotton Unit

LAMESA — Donnell Echols of Lamesa, past president of the Plains Cotton Growers Inc., has been placed on the Cotton Incorporated governing body.

Alternates on the board include Robert Warren, Lamesa, and Clifford Hoelscher, St. Lawrence. Named to the Cotton Board of the PCC was Lloyd Cline of Lamesa, the current PPC vice president.

Bill Reid, Lamesa, was named to the NCC board of directors while Echols was chosen as an alternate. The caucuses took place in Lubbock the past weekend.

Pair Attacked By 'Cowboys'

LARRY and Luther Turner reported to city police that they were assaulted on the parking lot outside Herman's Cafe shortly after midnight today.

The two reported "a group of cowboys beat them with a pipe, a belt buckle and took a shot at them as they left with a sawed-off shotgun." No arrests had been made in the incident.

Michael Hoch Re-Elected

ST. LAWRENCE — Michael Hoch was re-elected president of the 83-member strong Glasscock County Farmers Union here Monday night.

Hoch mentioned that some members come from Reagan and Upton Counties. With the move to create a separate Farmers Union in Howard County, some members were lost.

Debra Schraeder was named secretary-treasurer, and Lester Jansa was designated vice president.

Newly elected directors are Eugene Jost, Arnold Braden, David Wilde, Bill Eggemeier and Roger Lange.

TFU Opposes Ford Veto

WACO, Tex. (AP) — A presidential veto of the Emergency Petroleum Allocation Act could cost the nation's farmers $1.5 billion more annually in increased production costs, says Jay Naman, president of the Texas Farmers Union.

"We are already paying two to three times as much for petroleum products as we did a year ago," Naman said in a statement. "In addition to the increased costs experienced this past year, we now have reports that at least one of the major oil companies anticipates that it will have to increase its price of gasoline some seven to eight cents a gallon to recover increased crude oil prices."

Naman said farmers also can expect price increases in all other petroleum based products.

DEATHS

L. M. Smith

LAMESA — Luther M. Smith, 63, of Dawson County died at 12:30 p.m., Monday at Medical Arts Hospital here after suffering an apparent heart attack.

Services for Smith will be conducted at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Faith Temple Church here.

Burial will be in Lamesa Memorial Park under direction of Branon Funeral Home at Lamesa.

Smith was a native of Gorman. He lived in Dawson County for 35 years and operated a farm store at the Pumpkin Center community.

Smith is survived by his widow, Lois; three daughters, Mrs. Bill Merrill of Lamesa, Mrs. Wayne Metcalf of Homestead, Fla., and Mrs. Clint DeLong of Fort Worth; two sisters, Mrs. Glenn Teague of El Paso and Miss Edna Smith of Abilene; two brothers, Alvin Smith of Tuscon, Ariz., and Alfred Smith of Albuquerque, N.M.; 17 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Golf, Baseball, Tennis Talked

The parks and recreation board met at City Hall Monday afternoon with Larry Willard presiding.

The group heard reports on the new golf pro, the Figure 7 Tennis Center and on the baseball complex.

It was reported by Ted Battle that some of the backers of baseball remain upset over the teen-age boys "losing" a diamond at the complex. One of their two diamonds was turned over to slow pitch.

Fixing up a decent park at the Johnny Stone Park was discussed. Six members of the board attended the meeting.

Illegal aliens. He opposed the Rodino bill, which provides stringent punishment for employing illegal aliens. "I think we need to find some means people can work in this country legally."

"I happen to think that American citizenship is a very precious thing and that it ought to be very carefully controlled."

Michael Hoch, newly re-elected president of the Glasscock County Farmers Union, commented: "I'm sure they compete with labor in the cities. You just can't get anybody to work on the farm anymore."

Welfare. Krueger said he favored reforming the welfare system and providing a way in which the "able-bodied" would have to work.

Public works bill. Krueger said he voted against it, because he considered it a "pork barrel project."

Subsidy of Cotton Inc. stipulating a limit on executive salaries within the organization which promotes cotton products. "Congress gets criticized a great deal for appropriating a lot of money for high salaries," Krueger said.

Clifford Hoelscher, an alternate director of Cotton Inc., also warned about a possible elimination of the subsidy which fell from $10 million to $3 million yearly.

Predator control. The congressman said he and several others from Capitol Hill had spoken with President Ford. Krueger predicted the Federal Register Monday would change regulations to allow limited use of M-44 sodium cyanide against coyotes. President Ford promised to study use of 10-80 for predators, Krueger said.

Vetoed farm bill. Krueger predicted that a new farm bill, much like the one vetoed, would be enacted in the next couple of months. Some Congressmen with urban constituents were afraid to vote to override the veto, Krueger said.

Tax rebate. Krueger said he voted against it, because the measure increased the deficit $22½ billion. Because of the income tax provisions, Krueger predicted interest rates would rise this fall. "The government can't give you anything it hasn't taken from you."

Certification of the St. Lawrence Cotton Growers Association. Krueger promised to help obtain certification.

Mail in the St. Lawrence area — "whether or not people are willing to deliver when it's muddy." Again, the representative promised to help. He noted the independence of the Postal Service from Congress.

F.H.A. He would continue to press for establishment of a Reagan County Farmers Home Administration board.

BIG SPRINGER Krueger noted Jeff Talmadge, formerly of Big Spring, is his press assistant in Washington, D.C. Krueger made appearances at San Antonio and Menard. He was preparing to fly by private plane from Big Spring back to San Antonio.

The representative of the 21st district serves on the energy and power subcommittee of the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee and on the Science and Technology Committee.

Saracho Shows No Emotion When Sentenced To Prison

After hearing testimony from the victims of robbery, rape and sexual abuse, District Judge Ralph W. Caton revoked probation being served by Jose Antonio Saracho, 28.

Saracho was sentenced to 10 years in prison, the sentence probated for an earlier robbery.

Saracho, 503½ N.W. 4th St., still may be tried for the second robbery, which was in Odessa, and the rape and sexual abuse cases, District Attorney Robert H. Moore III, said.

Saracho showed no emotion as he leaned back in his chair. "Don Q Wants You," a color drawing on his T-shirt stated.

Lester George Gregg, a truck driver from Moore, Okla., told about how Saracho and Antonio Rodriguez beat him and took $125 to $135 from him in Odessa Nov. 16, 1974.

"One of them grabbed me," Gregg said. "The other hit me and took my money."

Gregg said he had been visiting bars with the two. His cheekbone had to be wired together and Gregg had to stay in the hospital several days.

A 22-year-old Howard County woman earlier testified about Saracho raping her and forcing her to commit oral sodomy. The sexual offenses happened here Aug. 28.

"We have nothing to offer, your honor," Wayne Basden, defense attorney, told Judge Caton.

Commissioners Agree To Repair Leaky Roof

Howard County Commissioners agreed to fix a leaky roof on the hangar occupied by Trans Regional Airlines at the Howard County Airport at its regular meeting Monday, but referred to the County Attorney a letter from the District Airport office concerning fixed base operations at the airport.

Trans Regional manager, R. E. McClure, brought both matters before the court, although he was not on the agenda.

After presenting his problem concerning the leaky roof, McClure said, "Can I ask when the court will rule on our request for a fixed-base operation?"

County Judge Bill Tune replied that no definite date could be given and that the court had not received the written, documented proof that another fixed-based operation at the airport was needed as requested by the court in an earlier meeting on the subject.

"I've talked with the federal people," McClure said, referring to the letter sent to the court, and they said that there can be no exclusive rights to the fixed base operations at the airport." He added that the FAA doesn't require the documented proof.

Judge Tune said, "Nevertheless, this is a request of the court."

After McClure explained again what Bill Howard, from the Federal District Airport office in Albuquerque had told him, Tune asked, "Do you intend to produce the requests of the court?"

McClure said that he would like the court to meet with Howard sometime in the future and discuss the federal requirements with him.

The court agreed to talk with Howard.

McClure had earlier pointed out that he had requested an item on Monday's agenda a week earlier, but the item did not appear.

In other action, the court decided to talk with engineers of NCR Corp. again concerning air conditioning requirements for the proposed computer room, before deciding whether to readvertise for bids.

They discussed at length the placing of county deed records on micro-film as protection against fire or other disaster destroying the only copy of the records in the County Clerk's office. Jim Kidwell, Southern Microfilm Corp., presented a proposal to the court to put 563,400 pages of records on micro-film for three cents per typed or hand-written page and three and a half cents for photo-copied pages. Total cost for the project would run about $18,252 and take about three months to complete.

When the job is completed, the micro-film records could be placed in a bank vault, usually free of charge. The micro-film could also be used to duplicate the records on paper in event the originals were destroyed.

County Clerk Margaret Ray estimated that if the deed records were destroyed, it might take as much as $6 million to go to court and prove up all new deeds.

Commissioners agreed to take the matter into consideration.

The court also met with Tom Echeberger, Computer Election Systems, concerning the Nov. 4 election, using ballot marking devices manufactured by the company.

They discussed procedures of schooling election judges and ballot counters.

The court also approved the employment of Raymond Beford as deputy sheriff at $886 per month, effective Monday and okayed the temporary employment of Dorothy Ann Howard and Clara O. Smith in the tax office, also effective Monday. Starting pay for them will be $402 per month.

Commissioners also heard Judge Tune comment that a new vehicle had been requested for the sheriff's office.

FORD'S NEWS CONFERENCE Courts Should Notice Legislation On Busing

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford said today he believes the federal courts apparently have not taken sufficient notice of 1974 legislation that would make forced busing of school children a last resort tactic.

At the first news conference he has held in his Oval Office, convened on short notice, Ford also questioned reports that the United States has agreed to supply F16 fighter bombers and Pershing missiles to Israel for having concluded a new Sinai agreement with Egypt.

The President, perched casually on the front edge of his big desk, said the United States has made no firm commitments to deliver the military hardware and that any shipments are "subject to negotiations with Israel."

At one point, the President came very close to accusing some members of Congress of violating national security laws that, if breached by a private individual, would represent "serious criminal offenses."

Ford referred to the public release by the House intelligence committee last week of documents relating to events preceding the 1973 Arab-Israeli war.

The chief executive said he had turned over all materials sought by various congressional committees investigating intelligence activities, but was disappointed in the way the House panel handled what he termed "highly classified documents."

If a private citizen had released the documents, Ford said, he would have been guilty of a serious criminal offense. The President quickly added that he was not accusing the Congress of criminal conduct.

However, Ford said, he would provide no more documents to the congressional investigators until he was assured the documents would be handled properly.

Asked about prospects that his administration would seek an extension of the 1975 recession-fighting tax cut, Ford said he would do so "if additional stimulus is required."

However, he indicated that if the economy gave promise of making a solid recovery, his fear of a revival in inflation would prompt him to oppose a continuation of the lower taxes.

In discussing school busing controversies in Boston and Louisville, Ford expressed the opinion that federal courts apparently had not taken into proper account the education laws that he said listed seven alternatives to be tried before resorting to forced busing.

Reminded that he, in a series of speeches last week, kept stating there was a better way to bring about integration than busing, Ford was asked if other approaches wouldn't cost more money.

He said he believed additional federal money already had been provided to Boston and Louisville.

In his public discussions of alternatives to busing, Ford has emphasized improved school facilities, hiring better teachers and lowering student-teacher ratios.

In response to a question at the news conference, Ford said he saw no need at this point to wholeheartedly embrace Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller as his 1976 running mate.

He said he thought every American knew he believes Rockefeller has been doing a fine job.

Any differences he has with his vice president, Ford said at another point, "are differences of degree rather than substance."

Ford several times restated his firm opposition to wage and price controls in peacetime.

He said he did not feel the Federal Reserve System should bear the total burden of fighting inflation, but again criticized the Democratic-controlled Congress for planning to spend more than his own spending ceiling.

In a light vein, old Navy man Ford was asked for his reaction to the disciplinary action taken against a commander who permitted a go-go dancer to perform topless on the deck of his nuclear submarine.

Shot In Hand

John Clark, 1320 Kindle, is in Webb Hospital suffering from a gunshot wound in the right hand.

Clark was reported to be cleaning a gun at his residence around 8 p.m. He told officers that he had trouble removing the pin from a .22 revolver and jerked the gun, hitting the arm of a chair. It went off and shot him through the hand.

ONE INJURED — Melvin Laymond Wilkerson, 1608 Bluebird, was taken to Maloney-Hogan Clinic for serious injuries received in a two-vehicle wreck at 1611 Runnels. Danny Rayburn Tyler, 15 Crestwood, was driver of the other vehicle. Wilkerson was reported to have back and arm injuries with possible loss of movement in the arm. He was driving a pickup for Pioneer Gas. The wreck occurred at 3:40 p.m. Monday.

THEFTS

C. E. Peters DDS, 704 Main, said $30 worth of letters were removed from the front of the building.

Coach Bob Burris reported that six lockers were entered in the locker room with $178 worth of items stolen. The boys stated that they had locked their lockers, but there was no forced entry.

Hayes was arrested late Monday at the sheriff's office in Hondo. Dunford was picked up at a San Antonio cafe where he worked.

Hitzfelder quoted McCall Castroville Police Chief Donald C. McCall as saying he had arrested Morales Sunday for questioning in connection with a burglary. McCall said he was ordered by Hayes to follow him to a gravel road seven miles outside Castroville.

Hitzfelder quoted McCall as saying he was told to get Morales out of his car and remove the handcuffs, at which time Hayes took a 12 gauge shotgun from his vehicle and ordered McCall to return to Castroville.

The sheriff said McCall told him he drove his patrol car about 200 yards and started to turn back when he heard a muffled shot.

Hitzfelder said Dunford told him that he helped Hayes put a body in the trunk of the police chief's car.

Legislators' Rush Causes Rash Of Unlawful Laws

By The Associated Press
Last-minute adjournment rushes by state lawmakers in scattered areas of the country have resulted in legislative goofs involving everything from traffic regulations to divorce settlements.

An Associated Press spot check on Monday showed that in most cases, the inadvertently passed bills have been quickly repealed, amended or overturned by legal rulings.

Oklahoma's attorney general, for example, says he expects to rule that a recently passed bill involving divorce settlements is unconstitutional. Unless someone challenges the ruling — and no such challenge is expected — the bill won't be enforced.

WOMEN GET EVERYTHING

The Oklahoma legislators, in an apparent bow to the women's liberation movement, were trying to make it possible for a woman to resume use of her maiden name after a divorce.

In amending the bill, however, they wound up saying that a wife also "shall be restored . . . to all the property, lands, tenements, hereditaments owned by either party before marriage or acquired by either party in their own right after such marriage."

That means the woman gets everything.

Hereditament is a legal term referring to property that can be inherited.

The governor, apparently unaware of the mixup, signed the bill.

CLOSES RECORDS

Oregon legislators are meeting Tuesday in a special session to fix a law that closed all police records to press and public. The lawmakers intended to pass a law preventing police agencies from keeping political and religious files on people and making some records confidential. As in Oklahoma, amendments during the closing days of the session, went too far.

The Nebraska legislature wanted to pass a law giving local governments authority to contract with private firms to provide hot meals for the elderly. The bill accidentally gave local governments almost unlimited authority to contract to spend tax dollars. The error was caught while the bill was still on the governor's desk and the measure was sent back to the legislature for amendment.

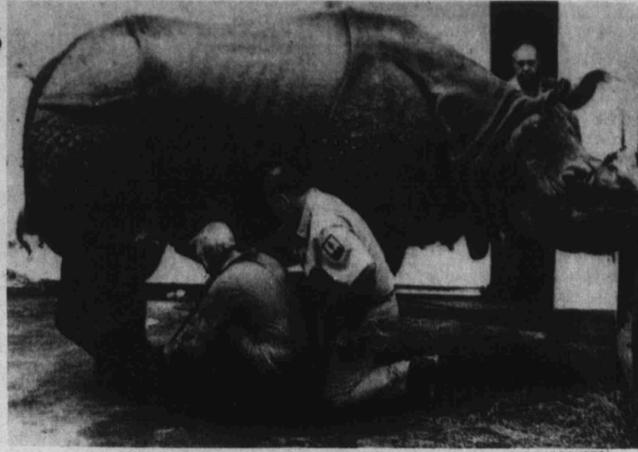

North Carolina legislators spent the opening days of this year's general assembly session trying to straighten out a 1974 goof involving right turns and red lights.

RED LIGHT

Here's what happened: the 1974 legislature adopted a measure allowing motorists to make right turns on red lights after stopping. It took effect July 1 last year. At the same time, however, the lawmakers were revising the state's over-all traffic code and they failed to include the right-turn provision. The new code took effect Jan. 1, 1975, and automatically repealed all the old traffic laws — including the one passed only a few months earlier. The mixup wasn't discovered until after adjournment and one of the first actions of the 1975 legislature was passage of a new measure reinstating the right-turn law.

Florida lawmakers were a little luckier last year. They discovered their error while still in session. It seems the legislature passed a bill raising from $5,000 to $10,000 the homestead exemption given to people over 65 on their property taxes. The governor signed the bill. Then someone discovered that in upping the exemption for the elderly, the measure eliminated the tax break for everyone else.

PUBLIC NOTICE

SUMMARY OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS (S. J. R. NO. 11) SPECIAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 4, 1975

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the separation of powers, legislative and executive provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article II, Separation of Powers, is amended to:

Provide that the powers of government of the State of Texas are divided among three distinct branches: legislative, executive, and judicial. Except as otherwise authorized by the constitution, members of one branch may not exercise any power properly attached to either of the others.

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

Article III, The Legislature, is amended to:

Continue the present structure of the legislature consisting of a senate with 31 members and a house of representatives with 150 members. The present organization and procedure of the legislature are continued except that the provision allowing closed executive sessions of the senate is omitted. Provisions on the conflict of interest of members of the legislature are continued, as is the governor's power to veto bills or line items in appropriation bills. The article provides for single-member senatorial, representative, and congressional districts. A compensation commission is created to recommend the compensation and allowances to be received by members of the legislature. The legislative compensation, set by law, may not exceed this recommendation and does not take effect until after an intervening general election. The article provides for annual sessions of 140 days in odd-numbered years and 90 days in even-numbered years, and a veto session of 15 days upon request of three-fifths of the membership of each house. The legislature may meet in organizational sessions prior to the convening of the legislature in regular sessions.

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

Article IV, The Executive, is amended to:

Continue the present status of the governor and all other statewide officers, and include the commissioner of agriculture as an executive department officer. The governor is limited to two consecutive terms. The governor is authorized to designate chairmen of state boards, and to remove gubernatorial appointees to state agencies for cause unless the removal is vetoed by the senate. The article mandates the legislature to provide a new governor-elect an appropriation so the governor-elect may organize an office prior to inauguration, and permits the legislature to grant powers of fiscal control to the governor. All governmental agencies, with several exceptions, have a life of not more than ten years unless extended by the legislature, and, at the regular session held in odd-numbered years, the governor shall submit to the legislature a report on the organization and efficiency of the executive branch.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the SEPARATION OF POWERS, LEGISLATIVE, AND EXECUTIVE PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective January 1, 1976, except Article III, Section 5, which becomes effective January 1, 1981.

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the judiciary provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article V, The Judiciary is amended to:

Establish a unified judicial system consisting of the supreme court, court of appeals, district courts, and circuit courts. Existing county courts and county judges are continued until otherwise provided by law. All judges (except municipal judges), district attorneys and district clerks must be elected by the people. The supreme court and the court of criminal appeals are merged into a single court of last resort, and this supreme court is authorized to provide for efficient administration of the judicial system and to balance case loads. Individual rights for a trial by jury and appeal by the accused are continued. The state is granted the right to appeal in criminal cases in limited circumstances, and the legislature is permitted to establish methods of appeal to the courts from decisions of state agencies.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the JUDICIARY PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective September 1, 1976.

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the voting and election provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article VI, Voter Qualifications and Elections, is amended to:

Provide for registration and qualifications for voting including voter residency requirements to be established by law. A citizen of the United States who is at least 18 years of age and who meets the registration and residence requirements provided by law is a qualified voter unless the person has been convicted of a felony and for that felony is incarcerated, on parole, or on probation, or unless the person is mentally incompetent as determined by a court. Voting by the people in all elections must be by secret ballot, and the legislature shall provide by law for residence, registration, and absentee voting requirements, for the administration of elections, and for the protection of the electoral process. The general election for state and county officers is to be held in even-numbered years on a date prescribed by law.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the VOTING AND ELECTION PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective September 1, 1976.

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the local government provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article IX, Local Government, is amended to:

Provide that the counties of the state are those that exist on the date of adoption of the local government article and that county boundaries may be changed if approved by a majority of the qualified voters in each affected county who vote on the question. Counties may be merged or county seats relocated if approved by two-thirds of the qualified voters in each affected county who vote on the question. The present elected constitutional county offices are retained and four year terms of office are provided. The voters of a county may create additional offices, eliminate offices, or combine the duties and functions of offices. The voters may also grant ordinance making power to the governing body of the county. Cities and towns having more than 1,500 inhabitants may become home-rule cities. Tax limitations are established for operating purposes for cities and counties and the legislature is required to fix debt limits for cities, towns, counties, and school and community junior college districts.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the LOCAL GOVERNMENT PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective September 1, 1976.

PROPOSITION NO. 7 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the general provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article X, General Provisions, is amended to:

Provide the basic requirements relating to public officeholders such as the official oath and residency requirements. The provision defining the separate and community property of spouses is retained, and the protection of a homestead from forced sale is continued. The legislature is required to protect certain personal property from forced sale. Current wages for personal service are not subject to garnishment. A private corporation may not be chartered except under general law, and no bank may engage in business at more than one place in this state. The legislature must provide for the regulation of bank holding companies. The present system of local-option elections for the prohibition or sale of alcoholic beverages is continued. The legislature is required to prohibit lotteries and gift enterprises but may permit certain bingo games and raffles. The presently existing provisions for retirement benefits of teachers and other public employees are modified to allow the state to contribute more than 10%. A policy that the quality of the environment of the State of Texas is to be protected is established, and the legislature is required to implement and enforce this policy. No state funds may be used to remove surface water from the river basin of origin if the surface water is necessary to supply the reasonable foreseeable water requirements of the basin for the ensuing 50 years, unless the removal of water is sufficiently replaced to the point of removal from outside the state or is on a temporary, interim basis. The seaward beaches of the Gulf of Mexico and coastal submerged lands belonging to the state are held by the state in perpetual trust for the people, and subject to reasonable limitations prescribed by law, the public has the free and unrestricted right of use and benefit of the beaches. The provision is continued that, except as otherwise provided by law, a rate of interest in excess of ten percent a year is usurious, and that if a contract does not specify a rate of interest, the rate under the contract may not exceed six percent a year. Discrimination against handicapped persons is prohibited, and a goal of the state is established to provide every resident access to adequate, comprehensive health care.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the GENERAL PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective September 1, 1976.

PROPOSITION NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the mode of amending provisions of the Texas Constitution. The proposed article will be the last article of the constitution. If only Proposition No. 8 is adopted, the article will replace Article XVII of the present constitution. If other propositions are adopted, the article will be appropriately renumbered to remain the last article of the constitution. If all propositions are adopted, the article will be Article XI. Article XVII, Mode of Amending the Constitution of the State, is amended to:

Establish a procedure for constitutional amendments requiring a two-thirds vote of each house of the legislature and majority approval by the voters. The calling of a limited or unlimited constitutional convention with voter approval is provided. The question of whether to call a constitutional convention must be submitted to the people every 30 years.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the MODE OF AMENDING PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective September 1, 1976.

PROPOSITION NO. 9 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the finance provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article VIII, Finance, is amended to:

Provide that state taxes may be levied and collected only by general law and to prohibit any state ad valorem tax on real property or tangible personal property except the ten cent tax provided for in Article VII and a

FTC Says Food Chains Overprice

WASHINGTON (AP) — Safeway Stores, the nation's largest supermarket chain, overpriced and overcharged on advertised sale items, the Federal Trade Commission has charged.

The FTC alleged Monday that a "significant number" of Safeway stores overcharged customers by failing to mark down advertised specials and by selling those items at regular prices.

The commission has previously made similar charges against the country's second and third largest chains.

A spokesman for Safeway said that overcharges were few and were caused by "human error."

Safeway said in a statement: "The FTC complaint is based on a survey in 56 Safeway stores in which less than 150 out of the 10,000 advertised items were purchased above the advertised price. Because human error cannot be completely eliminated in the complex and demanding job of checking out grocery products, some items will be undercharged and overcharged."

A proposed order issued by the FTC would require that all advertised products be marked at sale prices and sold at or below the advertised price. It would also require the company to post copies of ads at store entrances and at checkout counters.

No Indictments In Houston Wiretap

HOUSTON (AP) — A spokesman for the Harris County district attorney's office says there is no one under indictment or convicted on evidence gathered from wiretaps about which two former police officers had personal knowledge.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Bob Bennett said Monday the office has investigated "every case of wiretapping" about which Carlos Avila and Anthony Zavala had knowledge.

Avila and Zavala, former Houston narcotics officers, were sentenced to three years in prison last Friday after pleading guilty to charges of placing taps on two telephones in 1971 and 1972 while they were still with the department.

They were fired from the department in 1973 after being indicted on state charges of selling marijuana. They drew probation sentences in that case after they testified before a Harris County grand jury investigating allegations of police misconduct.

The two former officers have repeatedly said that several police officers were involved in wiretapping. They have indicated that wiretapping by Houston police of criminal suspects was much more extensive than has been reflected by indictments or convictions.

Bennett said his office will take no action such as moving to free imprisoned persons "on the basis of any third-hand allegations."

"If it comes to our attention that a wiretap was used in a particular case we would take steps to see that it was dismissed," he said.

Social Security Agent Visits

A representative of the Big Spring Social Security office visits area cities regularly for interviews with people who would like to make inquiries about benefits, seek Social Security cards or other matters pertinent to Social Security policies.

The agent visits the Scurry County courthouse (third floor) from 10 a.m., until 12 noon and again from 1 until 2 p.m., each Tuesday, the Chamber of Commerce office at Colorado City from 10 a.m., until 12 noon each Wednesday, the Senior Citizens Center at Lamesa from 10 a.m., until 12 noon and from 1 until 2 p.m., each Thursday and the county courthouse in Stanton from 2 until 3 p.m., Monday, Oct. 20; Monday, Nov. 24, and Monday, Dec. 15.

JOY RIDDERHOF

'Faith By Hearing'

Joy Ridderhof will speak at Hillcrest Baptist Church at 7:30 p.m. today on a worldwide "Faith by Hearing" mission program which is conducted around the world.

The program is one of taking recordings of the gospel into foreign lands and also equipment on which they can be played and heard all over the world.

The work is inter-denominational and was begun by Miss Ridderhof in the 30s after failing health caused her to return from the mission field in the Honduras.

It has grown to a program of faith that has reached 3,500 different language groups in the world. Miss Ridderhof has journeyed around the world six times. The public is invited to attend the meeting tonight.

OWC Will Sponsor Oktoberfest Evening

German food, crafts and festivities will be featured at the Oktoberfest sponsored by the Webb Air Force Base Officers Wives Club. The festival will begin at 6 p.m. Oct. 25 and is open to the public.

This announcement was made at the September luncheon meeting of the Officers' Wives Club held in the Officers' Club. Mrs. Barbara Burg presided at the business meeting followed by a Thrift Shop Style Show.

The style show featured women's and children's clothes available at the Webb Thrift Shop. Mrs. Nancy Meisenheimer read the narration for the parade of bargains. She also encouraged interested women who would like to volunteer their time to work to contact the Thrift Shop.

Mrs. Burg informed the group about the booths and activities of the Oktoberfest. Booths planned will feature sausage, homemade pretzels and bagels, breads, wine and cheese, arts and crafts, macrame, decoupage, and many other special craft booths.

A German buffet will be held at 8:30 p.m. followed by a dance featuring music by Sage of Wichita Falls. There will be an admission fee of $3 to the dinner and dance.

Mrs. Cookie Hinman is chairman for the Oktoberfest.

Another announcement was made by Mrs. Joyce Stafford concerning the base nursery. A baby room will soon open to take care of children from six months to two years. Soft toys or cradle toys are needed. Donations may be brought to the nursery or given to any nursery committee member. Many improvements have been made in the nursery and any further suggestions on improved service or facilities would be appreciated.

The publicity committee needs workers and a co-chairman to assist Mrs. Mary Dige with publicity for the OWC.

Dear Abby

Inventive Deaf Create Shake-And-Wake Alarm

DEAR ABBY: Your recommendation for an alarm clock that lights up to awaken the deaf may not be seen if the sleeper's face is turned away from the alarm clock.

A deaf person I worked with was never late for work, due to the following homemade alarm system: He removed one blade from a small electric fan, which vibrated when operated because it was unbalanced. He attached the fan to his bed springs, then plugged the fan into an alarm clock with an electric "timer."

When the alarm went off, the bed would vibrate and he'd wake up!

B. W. DEAR B.W.: Another reader offers this suggestion: DEAR ABBY: I've been deaf since the age of 15 and have been practicing law since the age of 21. I have been living alone for the last five years and have yet to miss a morning appointment. Upon retiring all I do is concentrate on the time I want to wake up, and some mystical equipment in my subconscious does the rest. It's infallible!

Volunteers Needed For Mending

There is an immediate need at Big Spring State Hospital for volunteers to assist with mending of clothing for hospital residents. The clothing would be delivered and picked up by Volunteer Services personnel, so it would not be necessary for those doing the mending to make a trip to the hospital. Persons who can help occasionally with this project are asked to call the hospital, 267-8216, Extension 308.

City HD Club Has Meeting

The City Home Demonstration Club met Friday afternoon at the Texas Electric Reddy Room for a covered dish luncheon and the first fall business meeting. Hostessing the meeting were the officers, Mrs. W. M. Norred, president; Mrs. Granville Dawson, vice president; Mrs. W. J. Priebe, secretary; Mrs. T. M. Dunagan, treasurer; and Mrs. Waymon Etchison, council delegate.

Mrs. Al Lancaster gave the invocation and Mrs. Fay Newman presented the devotional. Mrs. Norred presided during the business meeting.

A report of the City HD Council meeting was given by Mrs. Etchison.

Yearbooks were presented and members completed the books by filling in programs and meeting places.

A fair theme was used at the luncheon featuring a miniature display of the Howard County Fair depicting scenes of exhibits, stock shows, flower shows and booths.

The next meeting will be at 2 p.m. Sept. 26 in the home of Mrs. C. G. Miller, 2208 Merryly.

Baby Shower Given Friday For Caubles

Mrs. Ricky Cauble and her daughter, Misti Dawn Cauble, were honored at a baby shower Friday evening in the Texas Electric Reddy Room. Misti Dawn was born Sept. 2.

Mrs. Barrett Honored For Birthday

Mrs. Fannie Mae Barrett was honored for her 88th birthday at a party held Sunday afternoon at the Big Spring Nursing Inn.

Hostessing the party were two of her daughters, Mrs. Cecil Martin of Ft. Worth and Mrs. J. T. Pryor of Monahans, and their husbands.

Mrs. Barrett's sister, Mrs. Vera Bumgarner, also attended the celebration along with other friends and relatives.

Hostesses for the shower were Mrs. Darrow Cobb, Mrs. Carl Bankston, Mrs. Samuel Read, Mrs. Tommy McMurtrey and Miss Barbara Eason. They presented the mother with a baby book and a corsage of pink carnations with a miniature stork and yellow and pink baby booties, tied with pink and white ribbons.

Also attending the shower were the grandmothers of the baby, Mrs. Bobby Hogue and Mrs. Richard Cauble. They were presented with corsages similar to the mother's corsage.

The registry table was covered with a white cloth featuring a stork centerpiece with a baby book and picture of the baby.

White lace tablecloths with pink underlays were used on the gift table and refreshment table, which was centered with an arrangement of blocks around a stork. Crystal appointments were used.

Couple Feted At Dinner

Miss Cheri Turner and John Richard Sparks were honored at a couples' picnic supper Saturday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy McCann, 2307 Roberts.

The couple will be married Saturday in the First United Methodist Church.

Hosting the party were Mr. and Mrs. McCann, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Forrest, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Heith and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Heith.

Each couple was served a box dinner tied with calico ribbons. The tables were covered with yellow cloths centered with arrangements of candles and yellow and white daisies.

The hosting couples presented the honorees with a portable smoker and barbecue unit.

Based on latest FPC figures, Texas Electric's residential rates are 27% below the national average.

The average family uses about 750 kilowatt hours of electricity per month. Based on the latest Federal Power Commission figures, Texas Electric's rates for this much electricity are about 27% below the national average.

But the costs of producing your electricity are going up.

New supplies of Texas Electric's major generating fuel — natural gas — are harder to get and much more costly.

So we're turning to lignite coal and nuclear fuels. While these fuels cost less than new supplies of natural gas, plants that use them are considerably more expensive to build than gas-fired plants.

This means electricity will have to cost you more.

But we're working to keep your rates reasonable by using fuels that will keep costs lowest in the long run.

Former Attorney General Calls For Oswald Inquiry

AUSTIN (AP) — The U.S. Senate should investigate possible connections between Lee Harvey Oswald and the FBI or Central Intelligence Agency, says former Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr.

Carr said the inquiry also should cover the possibility that those agencies and the Secret Service knew Oswald was a threat to the life of the late President John F. Kennedy but failed to take protective measures.

Carr made the request for an investigation in letters, released Monday, to Sens.

Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., and John Tower, R-Tex.

Carr, who conducted Texas' independent investigation of the Nov. 22, 1963 assassination, said the Warren Commission turned down his recommendation to take sworn testimony from each CIA and FBI agent who was in Dallas during the months before Kennedy was shot.

At the time, he said, there were persistent rumors that Oswald, whom the commission pinpointed as the lone assassin of the president, was in some way connected with the CIA or the FBI, but the heads of the two agencies denied this.

Carr noted the FBI had received a threatening letter from Oswald a few days before the assassination but destroyed it.

Carr said the Senate should conduct a "thorough, independent and public" committee investigation "to determine the truth of (1) whether Oswald was connected in some way with the FBI and (2) whether the FBI and — or CIA and — or Secret Service had advance information that Oswald was a threat to the life of the President, yet, for whatever reasons, failed to protect the President from that known threat."

The former attorney general also contended that the FBI and CIA knew Oswald worked in a building on Kennedy's parade route, but did not tell Dallas police of that potential threat.

Carr said he was motivated by a desire to improve the protection of the presidents and to restore the credibility of government investigations.

Security consultant says crime losses are business "costs" that drain profits; businessmen should pay as much attention to cutting them as other costs.

Basics: Keep a store well-lit at night, with the best locks available for every opening, and a good, strong safe for valuables.

Have alarm switches in more than one location.

Take larger bills out of cash register regularly, banking them if you can. Consider leaving "halt money" in your register — bills whose serial numbers you have recorded.

Stay calm, and give a robber what he wants. Your losses can be replaced; you can't. Try to study a robber's face, to help identify him later.

Robbery is an unpleasant fact of business life; insurance helps make it less unpleasant. Discuss your business and home insurance needs at Stripling-Mancill Insurance Agency, 102 Caylor Office Building, 600 Main, the protection specialist.

Immunization Clinics Slated

The Texas Department of Health Resources will conduct immunization clinics in Glasscock County on the fourth Tuesday of each month.

One of these clinics will be held from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon at the Methodist Church in Garden City. The second clinic will be held from 2:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. at the Catholic Church Community Center in St. Lawrence. Date for the next clinics will be Sept. 23.

Persons of all ages are eligible to receive immunizations through these clinics. Mrs. Pearl Cobb, Public Health Nurse from the Region 2 office in Midland, encourages all residents to take advantage of the services offered in this clinic. She also requests that persons receiving immunizations bring any past immunization records they have.

These clinics are provided as a public service in cooperation with your local officials. There will be no charge for the immunizations.

Enrollment Figures Mixed

Enrollment in the Big Spring public schools increased by four students in the week ending Sept. 12, but is still running well behind the corresponding date for 1974.

A total of 6,395 were in classes, compared to 6,391 for the week ending Sept. 5. On Sept. 13, 1974, the schools had 6,532 in classes.

Elementary schools showed a net gain of two the past week, with a total of 3,232 enrolled. Goliad Junior High reported an increase of three students and Runnels Junior High one but the senior high head count diminished by three. Big Spring High School reported a total enrollment of 1,932.

Ardmore Kidney Machine Donated

ARDMORE, Okla. (AP) — A kidney dialysis machine, standing unused in an Ardmore hospital since 1971, will be donated to a Texas hospital, it was decided Monday.

The Ardmore Seventh-day Adventist Hospital Auxiliary voted to give the kidney-cleansing machine to the Reagan Clinic in Wichita Falls.

Alice Hembree, auxiliary president, said the organization decided to give the dialysis machine to the Texas hospital because of difficulties encountered here in complying with federal requirements for operation of such machines.

The auxiliary donated the machine to the Ardmore Memorial Hospital in 1971 after collecting more than 600,000 food company coupons to purchase it from the Kidney Foundation.

The machine has been unused because of strict federal qualifications for personnel permitted to operate it.

James Culpepper, administrator of the Ardmore hospital, said the dialysis machine will be transferred to the Wichita Falls hospital as soon as arrangements can be made.

Moon Walker Gets In Beer Business

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP) — Apollo 16 astronaut Charles M. Duke, who has announced his plans to retire from space flight, has been awarded a Coors beer distributorship in San Antonio, Tex.

Company officials here said Monday that Duke was among eight men awarded four new distributorships in San Antonio.

Duke, 39, the 10th man to walk on the moon April 20, 1972, was named distributor for northeastern San Antonio along with Richard J. Boushka, president of Vickers Energy Corp. of Wichita, Kan.

Casimiro Garcia, owner of an Austin, Tex., printing business, and John L. Ritts, an Austin attorney, were given the right to distribute Coors in southeastern San Antonio.

The distributorship for the southwestern section of the city went to Charles G. Sidham Jr., vice president of a real estate and development firm, and to Milton A. Zaiontz, a major stockholder in the same company.

Dallas businessman Bert A. Nelson and Roland R. Nabors, former director of the Tax Records Division of the Texas Comptroller's Department, were chosen as distributors for northwestern San Antonio.

Coors is expanding its sales area in Texas.

Decrease In CRMWD Consumption Noted

A stretch of late-month dry and warm weather resulted in August being the first month in 1975 to show a gain in deliveries by the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

While oil and industrial users dropped slightly, municipal demand was up by 1.80 per cent. Thus the August total of 1,973,297,752 gallons was .43 of a per cent over the same month a year ago. Cities used 1,403,284,000 gallons, or about 25 million more than August 1974. Mining and industrial use accounted for 570,013,752 gallons, down 16 million.

But the record of consumption through eight months is off sharply. The 8,259,529,000 gallons by the cities is 19.32 per cent less, or about a billion and three-quarters gallons less than through August 1974. The district total deliveries of 12,673,587,000 gallons is down 2,515,622,560 gallons, or 16.56 per cent, clearly reflecting the effects of an abnormally wet year.

Municipal deliveries for August included: Odessa 580,887,000 gallons, up 29.61 over August a year ago; Big Spring 266,968,000, down 11.88; Snyder 85,713,000, up 12.24; Stanton 11,173,000, up 10.91; Midland 458,525,000, up 23.75. Neither Robert Lee nor San Angelo took any water in August.

Heavy September rains have wiped out any hopes of reducing the year's water consumption deficit; in fact, it could increase within the next two months.

EXTENDS PERSONAL WINNING STREAK — Burt Hooton, 25-year-old Dodger righthander, fires his fast one as he won his 11th straight game, Monday night in Los Angeles. It was the longest pitching streak in the majors since Steve Carlton won 15 straight in 1972. The win was 5-4 over San Diego. Hooton, who went to the Dodgers from the Cubs early in the season, gave up seven hits and fanned 12.

Vail Ties Record, Leads Mets To Win

By The Associated Press
"I figured it was gonna be one of those nights," Mike Vail mused. It was ... but not the way he figured.
In the fourth inning Monday night, the New York Mets' rookie sensation drilled a bullet — right into the glove of Montreal third baseman Larry Parrish. "I said to myself, 'That's it. That's the best shot I'll have at a hit.'" His chance at a niche in the record books, he decided, was fading fast. "I got discouraged for a moment. I figured it was gonna be one of those nights."

Two innings later, though, Vail got the hit and the share of the record — a 23-game hitting streak, the longest ever by a National League rookie. It also drove in the Mets' first run.
And two innings after that, he got his second hit and second RBI of the game, an eighth-inning tie-breaking single that vaulted the Mets to a 3-2 victory over the Expos.

QBC Members Should Have Ball Tonight

Coaches and football buffs alike should have plenty to talk about when the Quarterback Club stages its weekly meeting at 7:30 o'clock this evening in the High School Cafeteria.
For one thing, the resident Steers are fresh off an upset 27-8 victory over highly regarded Hobbs, N.M. Films of that contest will be screened for the many who didn't get to make the trip.
For another, traditional rival Snyder is the next opponent of the Longhorns — the two teams clash Friday night in Memorial Stadium.
A scouting report on the Bengals will be offered. Coach Bob Burris will brief the yeomanry on battle plans for the Longhorns and update his listeners on the Steers' injury situation.
This will be the last non-conference outing for Big Spring. After this week, the Steers will take a Friday off before turning to District 5-AAAA play. Their first league game will be against Abilene High in Abilene Oct. 3.

In the rest of the NL, Chicago beat Pittsburgh 6-5 before the Pirates rebounded 9-1 in the second half of the doubleheader. St. Louis nipped Philadelphia 7-6. Los Angeles overhauled San Diego 5-4 and Atlanta trounced San Francisco 12-0.
The hit also pushed Vail past Denny Doyle of Boston, who had this year's previous best hitting streak of 22 games.
Cubs 6-1, Pirates 5-9
Two-out run-scoring doubles in the ninth inning by Jerry Morales and Jose Cardenal gave the Cubs their opening game victory, then Jim Rooker hurled a two-hitter to bring Pittsburgh back in the nightcap.
Cards 7, Phillies 6
Singles by Ken Reitz and Ted Sizemore and a double by pinch-hitter Reggie Smith snapped an eighth-inning tie, dropped Philadelphia six games back of the first-place Pirates in the East Division and moved the Cardinals within seven games of the top.

Orioles Get Big Chance In Race

It's a two-game series in September that could lead to a seven-game series in October.
After 150 games, the Boston Red Sox stand poised, ready to end Baltimore's recent domination of the American League East — and the Orioles sit on the brink of a do-or-die situation.
Just 4½ games separate the two teams. It could swell to 6½ games by Wednesday night and all but eliminate the Orioles from the American League East race. Or it could dwindle to 2½ games and give the Orioles a clear shot at their sixth division title in the last seven years.
"We're still in the driver's seat," said first base coach Johnny Pesky Monday night after Boston held off the stubborn Milwaukee Brewers for a 9-7 victory at Fenway Park.
"You naturally get up for a club like Baltimore," Pesky said. "We're due to beat that ballclub in this park. But I'll settle for a split."
A split would send Baltimore away still 4½ games back but 4½ games then would be worth a lot more than 4½ games now, especially since the two top teams don't meet again this season.
Baltimore was idle Monday night and in an abbreviated AL schedule, the Kansas City Royals beat the Chicago White Sox 3-2; the Minnesota Twins downed the California Angels 7-6 in 12 innings and the game between the Oakland A's and the Texas Rangers was rained out.
Baltimore takes its best shot tonight, sending 21-game winner Jim Palmer against Boston's ace Luis Tiant, 16-13.
"It's just gotta win all the rest of them," said outfielder Jim Rice, who knocked in his 70th run of the season. "Nothing new."
Fellow rookie sensation Fred Lynn also reached the 100 RBI mark Monday night.

Dwight Evans added four RBI to the Boston attack. The Red Sox built an 8-0 bulge in the first two innings, more than enough to stave off a late Milwaukee surge that included George Scott's 30th homer of the year and Robin Yount's eighth.
Royals 3, White Sox 2
Paul Splittorff's six-hitter and John Mayberry's tie-breaking two-out single in the ninth inning carried Kansas City past Chicago and inched the Royals within 6½ games of the idle A's in the West Division.
Twins 7, Angels 6
Steve Braun's single and Glenn Borgmann's double in the 12th inning gave Minnesota its victory over the Angels, overshadowing Bruce Bochte's 5-for-5 night at the plate for the Angels.

Junior College Powers Clash Here Saturday

Advance tickets for the Cisco Junior College-NMMI football game here Saturday night are on sale at the Chamber of Commerce office at a cost of $2 for adults and 75 cents for students.
At the gate, the cost will be $2.50 for adults and $1 for students.
Good representations are expected from both communities for the game. Cisco, coached by Karl Sators, will be opening its season here.
The Wranglers were 3-6 last year but have 12 lettermen returning, including six offensive starters and as many who were regulars on defense.
The Cisco quarterback is Roy Steger, a 6-4, 190-pounder who played his high school ball at Belton.
One of the highlights of the contest will be a half-time appearance of the famous Cisco Wrangler Belles, along with the Cisco band. Many who have seen the Belles say they themselves are worth the price of admission.
The Chamber of Commerce will present a trophy to the coach of the winning team at the end of the game.

GARVEY MAY NOT BE IN FAVOR Six-Point Offer Made To Players By Owners

By The Associated Press
National Football League owners, seeking to avert sympathy walkouts by teams demanding that the striking New England Patriots not be locked out of their training camp, made a six-point offer today which would allow the Patriots to return to the practice field.

In addition, the owners, following an all-night session with the nation's top federal mediator and the players' union, promised to submit a new offer for a labor contract to the players by Sept. 25.
The owners promised no reprisals against the Patriots if they return to practice today. Union head Ed Garvey, declining comment when the all-night session broke up at 5:15 a.m. today, was reported to have said he would not recommend that the Patriots approve the offer.
Randy Vataha, player representative of the Patriots, told this morning about the results of the Washington meeting, said, "It (the six-point plan) sounds reasonable right now, but I've got to take it to my players and let us sit down and talk about the repercussions."
"It sounds like something meaningful has transpired," Vataha said. "Let me take it to the players, now, and see what they feel."
Vataha then set about trying to set up a morning meeting of his players, who voted 39-2 on Saturday to strike and thus forced the cancellation of their Sunday exhibition game.

The offer from the NFL Management Council, bargaining agent for the owners, came following threats from the Washington Redskins and Dallas Cowboys that they were ready to join the Patriots' lonely strike if the management carried out its threat to lock out the New England club from practicing and playing its opening game on Sunday.
The all-night session was conducted under the guidance of W.J. Uesery Jr., head of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. Terry Bledsoe, spokesman for the Management Council, said the league's six-point offer was as follows:

1) The New England Patriots' training camp will be open today and Patriot players will be permitted to practice and play.
2) No lockout by management or strike by the players shall take place during the period from Sept. 16 through Oct. 1, 1975.
3) The Management Council will make a complete proposal for a new collective bargaining agreement on or before Sept. 25, 1975.
4) The entire proposal will be submitted to the players for acceptance or rejection.
5) If more time is needed for the vote, the no-lockout, no-strike agreement will be extended until the vote is completed.
6) No reprisals will be taken against any players for action taken before Sept. 16, 1975, which is today.
Bledsoe said Garvey had said at the meeting that he would submit the offer to the Patriots' players but that he would not recommend it. Garvey left his Washington office at 6:30 a.m., EDT, today, refusing to comment on the meeting and the reported owners' overture.

Ascher and Zsa-Zsa might attest, honeymoons, unlike diamonds, don't last forever but Sloan's youthful exuberance and Southern-flavored warmth and charm have made him an overnight hit on the South Plains.
He comes on as a stylish, Huck Finn but the news media calls him "Kid Coach," an affectionate allusion to his age, 31, which stamps him as the youngest head coach in the SWC.
Newspaper cartoonist Dirk West, who can be devastatingly brutal at times, portrayed a grinning Sloan Monday with his arm around a mustachioed Red Raider caricature.
The Raider is saying: "He may be new.
"And kinda slight.
"But, you can call him, "KID DY-NO-MITE."
Asked if he felt compelled to emulate Bear Bryant, whose coach at Alabama where he starred at quarterback, Sloan laughed and said "The only thing I'd like to emulate about Coach Bryant is his won-loss record."
Sloan's predecessor here, Jim Carlen, now at South Carolina, was fond of the term "Get physical." Someone asked Sloan "Do you ever threaten to get physical?"
With arms outstretched and his palms upward, he replied "With this? You gotta be kidding."
Asked about the highlight of his triumphant opener here, Sloan praised the offensive line, the performances of several individuals and then said:
"But most of all I really like that horse." The horse is a registered black quarterhorse which traditionally leads the Raider football team onto the field and carries the masked Rider on a gallop around the stadium.
"That was really exciting," Sloan said.
"And he got one of the Florida State players. You think he could have got two players. Maybe, we can work it out next week where he runs into a whole pile of them."
Pressing ahead, a writer asked him his personal feeling about his first Tech victory.
"Well," he drawled. "It's a lot different than losing."
"That sounds like something Carlen would say," the scribe pursued aware that Carlen's news conferences, while pleasant, seldom produced news.
"Yeh," grinned Sloan. "Carlen told me you'd ask that question and he told me what to say."

Y Racquetball Tourny Is Set

The Big Spring YMCA Racquetball tournament for area and Webb players will be held Sept. 26, 27, and 28 at the YMCA facility.
Players will compete in two divisions, A for experienced players and B for novice players. The tournament is open to both members and non-members of the YMCA, men and women.
Entries should be in by Sept. 23. Entry forms may be picked up at the Big Spring YMCA, 8th and Owens.

SAYERS COLD TO PLAYERS

HOUSTON (AP) — Former Chicago Bears running back Gale Sayers says the NFL Players Association is making a mistake in its continuing battle with National Football League team owners.
Sayers, 32, now assistant athletic director at the University of Kansas, accused the players of trying to make a lifetime's worth of money over a short haul.
"Football is not your life's work," Sayers told members of the Houston Touchdown Club Monday.
"But some of these guys think they should be able to play five or 10 years and be set for life."
"That's not the way it's supposed to be. Football is just a brief flash—a bonus. But today's players don't see it that way. They want everything now."
Richard Schafer is the first Herald football contest winner. He will receive $12.50.
W. R. Cregar picks up $7.50 for placing second and David R. Elmore, third, awarded $5. Checks have been mailed to the three winners.
Many entries were not complete, several games not marked. It is necessary that scores to BOTH tie-breakers be indicated.
The second Football Contest is appearing in today's Herald. Entries must be mailed or brought to the Herald by noon Friday.

Niland, Anderson Depart Cowboys

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas Coach Tom Landry's housecleaning broom swept away two more veteran players and newly acquired running back Bob Anderson Monday, pushing to 80 the years of experience lost through retirements on trades this season.
"I think trading me for a draft choice proves Dallas is rebuilding," said former All-Pro guard John Niland who was shipped to the Philadelphia Eagles for an undisclosed draft choice.
"Obviously, they would have traded me for someone if they weren't going that route. I think they are looking upon this as a struggling year."
Rodney Wallace, a four-year veteran from New Mexico who sat out the 1974 season with injuries, was cut as was Anderson, obtained in a trade from Denver only last week.
Anderson played only briefly Saturday night in a National Football League exhibition game against Pittsburgh and limped off the field. He had a history of injuries at Denver.
Niland, another veteran of two Cowboy Super Bowl teams, joins receiver Bob Hayes on the Dallas trade block. Hayes went to San Francisco. The retired players of the 1972 NFL champions this year are defensive tackle Bob Lilly, defensive back Cornell Green, center Dave Manders, and fullback Walt Garrison.
Tailback Calvin Hill defected to the World Football League.
Niland, a 10-year star from Iowa, was on the second year of a five-year contract with Dallas.
"I think they got a very high draft pick for ... I

PURDUE IS DEAD AHEAD

Irish Can't Savor Victory For Long, Says Dan Devine
FOXBORO, Mass. (AP) — Dan Devine is officially part of the Notre Dame legend ... but even legends don't get much time to relax.
"We can enjoy it for all of about five minutes," an emotionally drained Devine said Monday night after his name was carved into the Notre Dame Football mystique along with Rockne, Leahy and Parseghian in a season-opening 17-3 victory over stubborn Boston College.
Chapter 2 in the 50-year-old Devine's reign as Notre Dame's head coach is just four days off when the Fighting Irish travel to Purdue on Saturday.
Monday night's game, before a record Schafer Stadium crowd of 61,501 plus millions more watching on national television, was fraught with emotion — Devine's return to the college ranks as successor to Ara Parseghian, the emotion of two players back in school after a year's suspension having key roles in the triumph, the emotion of two brothers playing great football while their father is hospitalized with lung cancer.
"It's hard to put into words what it means to be back," said end ... Browner, who was named the game's outstanding offensive player for making seven unassisted tackles and recovering a fumble that set up a tie-breaking touchdown on a 10-yard burst by his younger brother Jim late in the third quarter.
Speedy halfback Al Hunter, another of the five players who returned to school this semester after a

Encephalitis Death First Since 1964

HOUSTON (AP) — Health authorities say the death of a 49-year-old man may be the first local death attributed to encephalitis since 1964.

City Health Department officials announced the death Monday along with one new confirmed case and nine more suspected cases of St. Louis encephalitis. Authorities said the man who died was not in a hospital at the time of his death and had not been suspected of having encephalitis.

They said no details would be released on his death until the cause of death was known for sure. They said confirming laboratory tests might take another few days. The latest confirmed and suspected SLE cases to 10 and the suspected cases to 23 since the present outbreak of the illness was announced Aug. 27. Thirty-two persons died from SLE in the Houston area in 1964.

Dr. Albert G. Randall, city health department director, said the health department believes the outbreak of the illness is "on the down-curve" because most of the suspected and confirmed cases first became ill in August.

However, he said cases of the disease may continue to crop up through October. He said the outbreak is "relatively mild" when compared with other areas of the country presently experiencing encephalitis outbreaks.

The disease is transmitted to man by mosquitos which get it from birds.

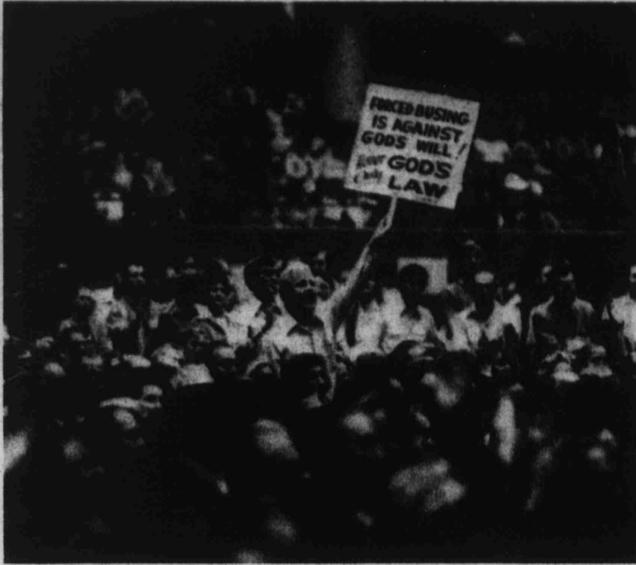

Bob Barnett, director of the Harris County Mosquito Control District, said crews will continue spraying against mosquitos seven days a week.

Jobs Available In Local Area

Howard-Glasscock counties have been awarded 16 job positions under the CETA Title VI program totaling close to $68,000 in salaries from September until June 1976.

The job positions are available not on an income criteria, but on an ability, according to Nabar Martinez, who attended the Manpower meeting Friday at the Regional Planning Council along with George Beene and Mrs. Johnnie Lou Avery.

Anyone desiring to apply for a position should contact the CETA office in City Hall by calling 3-8311.

Exploding Bottle Settlement

DALLAS (AP) — A Garland youth was awarded $110,000 in damages Monday for injuries he sustained when a cola bottle exploded in his face. The bottle of Pepsi Cola exploded unexpectedly in Lyle Davis' garage, blinding him in the left eye.

U.S. District Court Judge William Taylor ordered Pepsi Cola Metropolitan Bottling Co. also to pay $6,189.81 in damages.

Kids Get Chance To Show Off Pets

Children of all ages will get a chance to show off their pets Friday at 7:30 p.m. at the Pet Show held in conjunction with the Howard County Fair.

Bruce Wright, general chairman of the show, said that in past years, the entries have been predominately from children and that he would like for it to remain so.

Pets will be judged in four divisions, dogs, cats, farm animals and exotic animals. The only requirements stipulated by the sponsors of the show are that all domestic animals have been protected against rabies by proper inoculation and that all exotic animal entries be caged or on a leash sufficient to maintain control at all times.

Dog division awards will go to the largest, smallest, cutest, best behaved, best dressed, best groomed (professional and amateur), and most unusual dogs.

Cat division awards will go to the largest, smallest, prettiest, best groomed, and best dressed animals.

Farm animal divisions are fowl, pigs, and other animals and exotic animal divisions are hamsters, guinea pigs, gerbils, prairie dogs and other animals.

classes or categories will be offered if sufficient entries are received.

Speed' Puts Man In Jail

A 44-year-old El Paso restaurant owner was in county jail this morning after being arrested for speeding and possession of a "brown powder."

County Judge Bill Tumbset a $1,000 bond, but the man was being held pending a conference with the district attorney.

The suspect had $919 when he was arrested by Texas Highway Patrolman Bill Priest five miles west of Big Spring.

Trapeze Star Has Minor Hurt

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Trapeze artist Tito Gaona, 27, missed his bar, fell 50 feet to the edge of a safety net, flipped onto the concrete floor of the Louisiana Superdome and emerged with a dislocated finger, his father said Sunday.

"He had just finished a double somersault and had been caught beautifully," said Victor Gaona, the father. "For some reason he missed when he tried to return to his bar."

Former TDC Inmate Held In Slaying

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A man paroled from a Texas prison after serving 15 years for murder is being held by police in connection with the slaying of a Portland grocery store clerk.

Donald Ray Rister, 36, Portland, was shot by police Sunday at a Flaid Pantry store. He was listed in satisfactory condition Monday at a Portland hospital.

Dead is Barbara Carrico, 39, Portland.

City police would not release any information about the murder or the shooting, citing Oregon's new criminal records law.

All information came from the Multnomah County medical examiner, store owner John Piacentini, ambulance attendants, hospital nurses and Texas corrections officials.

The Texas Department of Corrections in Huntsville said Rister was imprisoned for murder from November, 1959 until August 1974.

Piacentini said Monday that Rister once worked in the same store where the woman was killed.

"We had hired him as a rehabilitated felon. It was a tragic mistake — something we'll never do again," said Piacentini.

He said the victim, who had six children, was stabbed several times and raped. One of her sons came into the store, saw the man and summoned a passing patrol car.

Reportedly, when police dashed in, the man pulled a gun. But a policeman shot first, hitting the man in the head.

Sand Washer Pitching Event Begins Wednesday

The Howard County Agriculture Club is sponsoring the second annual National Sand Washer Pitching Championship Wednesday and Thursday at 7 p.m. at the show barn of the Howard County Fair.

Club members will serve as judges, and have organized the meet. Fred Davis will serve as washer pitching announcer.

The best washer pitcher will get a trophy, fabricated by the Big Spring High School FFA Chapter, while Coahoma High School FFA members will serve as "hole custodians". In addition to the trophy, the winner will get $50 in cash, with $30 and $10 going to second and third places.

According to Esco Hamlin, co-chairman of the event, "Each and every old washer pitcher, courthouse whittler, clog hopper, bronc stomper, tall tale teller, rough-neck, and pool-room shark is challenged to enter this fine, upstanding sport."

He added that the above mentioned persons can enter, if they are 18 years old or older, by paying the $5 entry fee at the washer pitching table which will be set up in the Dora Roberts Building from 1 to 6 p.m. Wednesday.

ACC Band Active

ABILENE — Ten appearances, including one at halftime of the Dallas Cowboy-Washington Redskins professional football game in Texas Stadium in Irving Saturday, Dec. 13, will highlight the 1975 fall semester schedule for the Big Purple Marching Band at Abilene Christian College, according to Dr. Charles Traylor, ACC associate professor of music and director of bands.

"We're anticipating a marching band of approximately 250 this fall," said Dr. Traylor, who had a 230-member marching band last fall. "We're planning a different show for each of the 10 performances."

One of the shows this year will have a bicentennial flavor and is scheduled for halftime of the Saturday, Oct. 25, homecoming game with Sul Ross State.

The 1975 band schedule opened Saturday when the Big Purple participated in the West Texas Fair parade beginning at 10 a.m. in downtown Abilene.

Other appearances will be at halftime of various Lone Star Conference football games with ACC and at the Dallas Cowboy game.

Woolworth Manager

William R. Prindible is the new manager of F. W. Woolworth Co. in Big Spring. "This was announced today by D. M. Shires of San Antonio, district manager of the firm.

Prindible, formerly of Dallas, is a graduate of North Texas State University in Denton. He is a veteran of the Vietnam war in which he served as a medic for 13 months.

Begin Jury Selection

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Jury selection begins today in the theft trial of Greg Montoya, a Democratic representative from the Lower Rio Grande Valley town of Elsa.

A lawyer in the case predicted it would take only a few hours to get a jury since the prospective jurors will be questioned en masse rather than individually.

Montoya is charged with illegally paying five employees in his auto parts store with state funds.

Montoya's prosecutor, Travis County Dist. Atty. Bob Smith has won eight convictions in prosecutions of seven lawmakers and one high state official in the past three years. Six of these were representatives and one was a state senator.

One of the six representatives, of course, was Gus Mutscher, the 1972 speaker, and the high state official was his chief administrative aide, Rush McGinty.

Appreciation Day Barbecue Date

The fourth annual Big Spring Chamber of Commerce Agriculture appreciation day barbecue will be held Wednesday, September 17, at the Howard County Fair Barn Show Arena, starting will be from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m.

Agriculture plays a major role in Big Spring's economy and the chamber plans to join the community in showing appreciation to area farm and ranch families on Wednesday, September 17.

Tickets are now on sale at the Chamber of Commerce office, 215 West Third Street, 9 a.m.-5 p.m. Tickets are $2.50 each, but are naturally free to our guests, the farm and ranch families.

The chamber urges businessmen to attend as "We need your attendance so get your tickets now and join us for some old fashioned fellowship."

CARRILLO TRIAL

Duval County Auditor Couldn't Find Mythical General Store

Bill May Protect Credit Customers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Beginning next month, consumers will have a new weapon for dealing with those credit card company computers that just keep spitting out past-due notices in the face of protestations that the computer is wrong.

One of the requirements of a law taking effect Oct. 28 is that companies must advise credit users periodically how and where to file a claim for a billing error.

The Federal Reserve Board announced Monday the final regulations that will provide the basis for enforcing the Fair Credit Billing Act passed by Congress last year.

Everyone who uses a credit card or any open-end credit plan, such as a checking account line of credit, will come under the umbrella of the new law. Credit card holders and other credit users must receive with their first post-October billing a document listing their rights under the new law. The statement must be repeated twice a year from then on, unless a creditor chooses to use an approved abbreviated statement every month.

The document will spell out the procedure for filing a claim for a billing error. The claim must be in writing and must be filed within 60 days after receiving the contested bill.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — If there ever was a Zertuche's General Store at Benavides, Duval County Auditor Walter Meek never found it.

That was what Meek told the jury Monday in the federal income tax trial of suspended state District Court Judge O. P. Carrillo and Duval County Commissioner Ramiro Carrillo.

The Carrillo brothers are being tried on charges of conspiring with Arturo Zertuche, a cousin, to file false income tax returns and with filing false income tax returns. Zertuche is to be tried here later.

Assistant U.S. Atty. George Kelt of Houston contends that the Carrillo brothers set up Zertuche's General Store to hide illegal sales from their Farm and Ranch Supply Store at Benavides to various Duval County agencies.

Kelt contends Zertuche's General Store never existed. The indictment alleges that the Carrillos and Zertuche filed false tax returns when Zertuche reported income from the store. The government contends Zertuche's income from the store was actually sales made by the Carrillos' store that should have been reported as income by them.

When Kelt asked Meek if he ever went to Zertuche's General Store at Benavides, a town of about 2,100 people, Meek replied that he had never actually been able to find the store. But he said someone once pointed out a building in the small town and said the store was located there.

Meek identified two large folders filled with invoices as bills submitted to the county by Zertuche's General Store between 1968 and 1970. Some checks Meek sent to the store also were identified.

Meek, the fourth witness to testify in the slow-moving trial in U.S. District Court, also told the jury of seven women and five men about procedures used by the Duval County Commission Court in approving bills submitted to the county.

"Our processes in Duval County are not exactly orthodox," Meek said, explaining that the commissioners usually approved all the bills submitted to them. Asked how closely the commissioners examine the bills, Meek said, "I'll tell you frankly. It's rather haphazard."

When Kelt asked the auditor if he ever complained about the county's extravagant spending, Meek replied, "Constantly."

Leo Sepulveda, a general manager of the Duval County Conservation and testified that the water district issued checks to the Zertuche store and also issued checks to a firm called Benavides General Store. He said one of those checks was endorsed by Zertuche.

Benavides City Secretary Santiago Garcia, the 6th witness called by Kelt, testified about purchases the city made from the store owned by the Carrillo brothers, but did not mention any purchases from the Zertuche store.

Board To Meet

The tax appraisal board for local governments will consider the proposed 1976 budget and revising the current budget at a meeting 3 p.m. Thursday.

The board will meet in the county courtroom.

Judge Says Rice Can Sell Hotel

HOUSTON (AP) — A ruling by a state district court judge has enabled Rice University to sell the downtown Rice Hotel.

The university owns the hotel which was decided to it by William Marsh Rice, the school's founder, who died in 1900. He said in the deed that the land would "forever remain the property" of Rice University.

However, Judge Shearn Smith ruled Monday the provision is "not now a valid restraint upon the corporation's (Rice University) power to alienate (sell) the property, including the land."

Rice University treasurer Leo S. Shamblin said an earnest money contract with James Cazanas of the Rittenhouse Capital Corp. of New York was already drawn up and ready to sign, possibly Wednesday. He said it may take up to 120 days to complete the deal.

Shamblin said Cazanas would either buy the hotel, closed by the university March 31, or sign a lease agreement giving him the option to buy it at a later date.

Rice trustees brought the suit seeking the ruling with the state as respondent since the suit sought to alter conditions of a public trust.

Trio From Here Earn Degrees

DENTON — Some 1,123 students were awarded degrees recently by North Texas State University.

In addition to 629 bachelor's degrees, the university granted 460 master's and 34 doctorates in summer commencement ceremonies in the NTSU Coliseum.

Included among the NTSU summer graduates from Big Spring were:

Master's Degrees
LIBRARY SCIENCE: Larry Dane Justiss, on of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Justiss, 901 Dallas.

Bachelor's Degrees
JOURNALISM: Kerry P. Gunnels, son of Clyde Gunnels, 1708 Morrison Dr.
