Why Keep Such A Ban?

The Federal Trade Commission, following a suggestion offered by Sen. Charles H. Percy (R-III.), is focusing attention upon the sale of eyeglasses in America, of more properly the regulations which forbid the advertising of prices of lenses and frames. Something like 36 states have such laws.

This ban forces consumers to pay from 25 per cent to 100 per cent more for glasses than they might other-

In support of his request, Percy cited the FTC's proposal — made only last June — that state laws and out who confront the Salvation Army with their problems are aided. The YMCA, which helps promote a healthier and a happier citizen, itself would not be prohibiting the advertising of prescription drug prices any differently?

It is a compelling case that Percy makes. If there is anything about publicizing eyeglass prices that would violate the doctor-patient relationship, disturb the economic recovery or violate the fundamental tenets of the American way of life, it has not yet come to light.

Doubtless there is a reason that these 36 states have chosen to suppress competitive advertising in this field; advocates of the ban should be given every op-portunity to defend their position. From this perspective, however, there seems little reason that eyeglass manufacturers and retailers should not be given the opportunity to hawk their wares freely in the America, as was once so loftily proclaimed, it is not alone. The city's desperate plight resembles that of almost every metropolis in the country except that here the deterioration has gone further and

For this influx of poor families, quite unequipped for urban life in the North, the federal government took no responsibility

TODAY NEW YORK City's various agencies are beating a path to Washington and knocking on every door in the hope of federal help. They make a good case. Out of local taxes the city must raise 25 per cent of the welfare cost; about $1 billion. And welfare cost is increasing day by day as unemployment climbs to record levels.

One proposal is for a 75 per cent federal uniform standard of reimbursement for the cities for all public help including Medicaid. Since nothing was done to cushion the in-migration of so many millions of rootless people, the federal government has a duty to ease the burden that, through no fault of their own, they have put on every facility from housing to

But it is quite conceivable that President Ford would veto any measure of relief that went over the line he has set for the federal deficit. That deficit which the White House puts at $60 billion, surely an optimistic underestimate, is a stern

Two Deadly I's

NEW YORK (AP) - Two deadly I's are staring down the stock market, intimidating investors, draining away their confidence in the immediate industry, discouraging them from making commitments.

The two I's are inflation interest rates. When fears arise about either of them the stock market letter writers flood the mails with cautionary advisories. Such a time is now. The letters are

There is, however a consensus of sorts about inflation and interest rates. It is this: There is a real danger both might continue rising; if that occurs, any advance in the economy

Twelve Area High Grid Games Listed

For the second week in a row, a full slate of area high school football games will be on top tonight

Undefeated Big Spring, 2-0, entering its final nonconference week, seeks to put the skids to Snyder's twoyear control. The Steers are faced with the same situation this year as last, being undefeated at 2-0.

Big Spring's fullback Jesse Doss ranks fourth in individual scoring in District 5-4A, ringing up two touchdowns and two extra points for a grand total of 14.

Coahoma, 1-1, will be out to deliver the final blow the same way it was done last year, but this time Cisco's homefield.

Cisco, ranked No. 2 in the state in AA last year, (now No. 3), was thrashed by Coahoma. Game time is 8. Stanton, 1-1 at home, will be seeking sweet revenge from the 7-6 upset applied by Rotan last year. Rotan has lost both of its first two games against strong AA

Lamesa, 0-1-1, would like to wins its first game of the season at the expense of host Pecos at 8. Pecos beat the Tors 10-0 last season. Equalling its overall season output of 1974, Colorado City, undefeated at 2-0, skips over to meet Reagan County. The Wolf opponent has been unsuccessful in two outings. Game time is 8.

Losing its season opener last week, Forsan remaining home for the second straight, looks to Imperial for a possible win at 8.

The Buffaloes have had difficulty in getting their offense in high gear due to the absence of quarterback Ralph Miranda. He injured! his foot in practice in August and will be unable to play for three more weeks.

Sands, 1-1, hopes to improve its record at home at 8 against New Home. The Mustangs started off the season two weeks ago with a convincing win over Garden City, but fell to Buena Vista last week, 20-0.

Sterling City, in the same conference with Forsan, 3-B, will be out to make it 2-0 at Bangs at 8. Undefeated in its two

Coahoma Juniors Top Toros, 18-8

A group of enthusiastic Coahoma fans thoroughly enjoyed their Junior Varsity victory over the Big Spring freshmen here Thursday night in Memorial Stadium when they beat the Toros,

The Coahoma touchdowns came right before the half and right before the end of the game, with one more thrown in during the third quarter. This was good news to fans who had watched their varsity lose 20-0 to Post last Friday.

The Toros scored first and looked like they had command of the game the entire first half. They marched down the field in the first period on a 79-yard drive sparked by runs by Oscar James, Eddie Puga and Mark Burris. Puga went over for the score and also for the two additional points.

Ricky Cluck punted a 50yard punt and set the Coahoma Pups down on the 20. the Toros held on downs and got the ball back trying to set up another drive. They began to be riddled with penalties and after backfield in motion and a clipping penalty, punted back to Coahoma.

Coahoma drove to the 35 and time was running out before the half. They then got a break when the Toros were slapped with back-toback 15-yard penalties for a personal foul and unsportsmanlike conduct. This put the Coahoma team on the five and Tracy Frazier went in for the score. At the half it was 8-6 for the Toros.

The Toros did not come back at the half like the same team, but appeared to be nervous and dropped and recovered the kickoff. The Pups then took command of the game and in the third period drove down to the 11 where Randy Phillips went in for a score. The try for two failed, when the Toros batted down a pass.

This is Basil. Much of the time he can't see beyond his nose.

But with a nose like Basil's who needs to see!

Many folks have temporarily-impaired spiritual vision. But sometimes they can compensate in other ways. like the man who brought his youngsters to church recently: "Myself, I'm not religious," he said, "but I sense their need for character development."

Surprisingly, that father has returned to church. Now he is just as faithful as his children. We used to say of Basil, the moment he shakes himself he's got "twenty-twenty" vision. The same is true of many people once they sense their God-given responsibilities.

Ousted Official Charges Nepotism

CRYSTAL CITY, Tex. (AP) - Ousted Crystal City schools Supt. Amancio Cantu said Thursday he was fired because he questioned the probability of nepotism among board members.

the was prosecution's chief witness in the Zavala County court trial of three school board members, which continued

On trial are board President Raul Tores Flores and two fellow members, Mercedes Casares and Ramon Garza. Charges of nepotism were filed by Cantu two days after he was fired.

Cantu said he sent letters to school board members concerning probable acts of nepotism after he received a letter from the Texas Education Agency.

"I asked (in a letter to board trustees) that action be taken," he said. "I was fired two days afterward." That occurred at an emergency meeting of the board Aug. 18.

Under cross-examination by defense lawyer Peter Torres Jr., Cantu denied he had any interest in a local publishing company that had a large contract with the Torres asked Cantu if he filed charges to be vindictive over his job loss.

"I was just doing my duty," Cantu responded. It was brought out that some employes related to board members were not in violation of the nepotism statute. The reason was that they had been employed two years prior to the election of the board members.

RICE BAND Script Seizure Usurped Right

fomrer Rice University student has accused Judge Roy Hofheinz of preventing free speech after Hofheinz had the Rice band's script confiscated during it's halftime performance at the Rice-University of Houston football game in the Astrodome.

Lea Attermeier, 25, a former member of the Rice band and now a law student at UH, complained to commissioner's court Thursday that Houston Sports Association (HSA) public relations director Bobby Risinger took the script from the band's announcer as he read the script in the press box.

The Rice band, which specializes in satirical performances, depicted the Astrodome as "the smallest covered football stadium in the world" and poked fun at the Houston Astros' season record.

Attermeier said the commissioners should make it clear to Hofheinz that the Astrodome is not his private castle. The Astrodome if officially named the Harris County Domed Stadium.

county funds and leased to Risinger said he took the script because he was asked to do it by the judge and because "I felt it was totally in bad taste and totally out of line. I think the thing that upset the judge is who was doing it because they (the Rice band) have such a reputation for negativism."

The Rice band, which refers to itself as the MOB, has received both praise and criticism for its off-beat halftime shows.

Texas University's band performs with what it claims to be the world's largest drum. The MOB received a standing ovation in Austin two years ago when a Rice band member paraded onto the field pushing a tiny toy

The Texas Aggies reacted differently when the MOB performed a comical immitation of the A&M band's goose-step. The Rice band had to be escorted from Rice Stadium in vans after it was Sunk In State surrounded by cadets after the game.

Faces 6 Year Sentence For Office Abuse

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) — One-time Freer School Supt. Eunice Powell faces a sixyear prison sentence and a $5,000 fine following his conviction on abuse of office

A jury here completed its deliberation Thursday on both the guilt or innocence of Powell and his punishment. Deliberation began Wednesday afternoon after the defense rested without calling any witnesses.

The state accused Powell of using $12,000 of the school district's tax money for improvements on his wife's ranch in Duval County. Powell's trial was moved here after a state district court judge ruled Powell could not receive a fair trial in Duval County. The former school superintendent was paroled this past summer from the Springfield, Mo., federal prison where he was serving a sentence for income tax evasion.
