

Panama Treaty Chances Slim

WASHINGTON (AP) — The prospects for a new Panama Canal Zone treaty appear more remote today following House action aimed at retaining full U.S. control over the waterway.

Just 24 hours after a violent demonstration at the U.S. embassy in Panama, the House of Representatives served notice it will settle for nothing less than continued undiluted U.S. control over the waterway.

The House, for the second time in three months, voted Wednesday to deny the State Department funds for surrendering any of the privileges the United States now has in the 500-square-mile area. The vote was 203 to 197.

At issue is the State Department policy of negotiating a new treaty giving Panama a gradually increasing role in the operation and defense of the canal, an 11-year-old goal which has eluded three presidents.

Panama's case for a new treaty will be argued today by Colombian President Alfonso Lopez Michelsen, who is scheduled to meet with President Ford at the start of a two-day official visit.

Panama was once a province of Colombia, and Lopez has been an enthusiastic supporter of Panama's demands for jurisdiction over the Canal Zone.

The Panamanian government leaked word last weekend that the United States has agreed to give Panama full jurisdiction over the Canal Zone within three years after the signing of a new treaty.

Panama would be given full authority over police, education and all other services in the zone.

The leak was an apparent violation of a bilateral pledge to observe secrecy, and the State Department rebuked Panama, saying such practices hinder efforts to reach a mutually acceptable arrangement.

What triggered Tuesday's demonstration was Panama's disclosure that the United States hopes to retain the right to defend the canal for an "indefinite period."

An estimated 600 to 800 rock-throwing Panamanians, mostly high-school students, attacked the U.S. embassy, breaking about 100 windows. The United States protested the "inadequate protection" given the embassy and Panama-apologized.

The only encouraging note for the State Department is that the sentiment for a new treaty is much stronger in the Senate than in the House. The Senate will now take up the House's no-concessions amendment.

Oil Hike Eyed By Cartel

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Representatives of the non-Communist world's major oil exporting countries appear headed for a compromise agreement to increase the price of crude oil an average of about 5 per cent.

Sources at the meeting of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries indicated this would be accomplished by a 10 per cent increase in the basic price but with reductions in the additional charges or "differentials" for higher quality oils and special transport conditions.

The present basic price is $10.46 for a 42-gallon barrel of Saudi Arabia's Ras Tanura light crude. Iraqi Oil Minister Tayeh Abdul Karim reported that all 13 OPEC members but Saudi Arabia were agreed on a 10 per cent increase, or about $1 a barrel.

Other sources reported that this would be accompanied by a series of reductions in surcharges for other oils that would in effect reduce the average increase for all OPEC oil to about 5 per cent, or about 50 cents a barrel.

Because the worldwide recession has reduced the demand for higher-quality oils, such producers as Iran, Iraq, Nigeria, Abu Dhabi, Libya and Indonesia have already cut their differential charges varying amounts. Delegation sources predicted the conference would adopt a uniform rate schedule applicable to all countries.

Sara Moore Says Attempt Was 'Ultimate Protest'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Last weekend, Sara Jane Moore gave authorities information about a private gun collector and possible firearms law violations.

On Monday, she bought a .38-caliber revolver from the same collector and fired it a short time later at President Ford in an assassination attempt that failed when a bystander hit her arm as she took aim.

In an interview with the Los Angeles Times, Mrs. Moore said her attempt on Ford's life was the result of personal rage and frustration.

She said she acted alone and that the assassination attempt was "a kind of ultimate protest against the system."

But in her first interview since her arrest, Mrs. Moore also said, "I'm glad he didn't die. I did want to be prevented. I don't like to kill people."

She told the Los Angeles Times that she acted alone and was driven by personal rage and frustration.

Law enforcement sources told The Associated Press that Mrs. Moore volunteered information about Mark Fernwood of Danville, Calif., who admits selling her the .38 Monday and a .44-caliber revolver two weeks ago.

A federal source said Mrs. Moore, a one-time FBI informant, gave police information about possible weapons violations, prompting them to contact the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, which enforces federal gun control laws.

The source declined to elaborate on the information but said ATF agents subsequently met with her for more than an hour and were "interested" enough to initiate an investigation.

Federal law enforcement sources here and in Washington said the 45-year-old mother with radical connections had not previously supplied information to ATF and was never paid anything. The source said she was not operating as an informant when she purchased the weapons.

The FBI says she operated as a paid agent for the FBI in an underground newspaper interview.

Mrs. Moore was arrested after firing a shot in the direction of President Ford as he left San Francisco's St. Francis Hotel. Her gun was deflected and Ford was not hurt. Police say that during the preceding 48 hours she apparently tried to reveal her intentions.

Police inspector Jack O'Shea said he talked to her by telephone on Saturday. He said "a red light went off in my head" when she mentioned going to Stanford University to "test the system."

O'Shea said he alerted the FBI, ATF and Secret Service that she might be a potential assassin and en route to Ford's Stanford University speech.

Police confiscated the .44-caliber gun and detained her until one chance to kill Ford had passed, then she was released. But she purchased the second gun Monday and fired the shot which put her behind bars.

She will be taken to San Diego Friday for psychiatric examination at the federal Metropolitan Correction Center — one of three federal facilities designed specifically for pretrial mental examinations of prisoners.

Patients Poisoned

MARION, Ill. (AP) — As many as eight patients may have been poisoned with deliberately adulterated drugs at Marion Memorial Hospital, a state's attorney investigating the case says. Two died.

State's Atty. Robert Howerton said Wednesday that at least three and possibly eight persons were poisoned at the hospital from August 1974 to last January.

He confirmed reports that a 3-year-old boy and a 21-year-old man died last fall after emergency room treatment with local anesthetics adulterated by a muscle relaxant.

ASKS WHY— Chairman Frank Church, D-Idaho, of the Senate Intelligence Committee, questions James Angleton, right, former chief of counterintelligence at the Central Intelligence Agency, during the panel's Wednesday hearing in Washington. Church, who said the CIA secretly and illegally read the mail of many prominent Americans, asked Angleton why the agency found it necessary to open a letter to Richard M. Nixon before he became president.

Committee Asks: Is CIA Above Law?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate intelligence committee hearings have raised the issue of whether the CIA is above the law because it is a secret intelligence agency.

The panel also plans public hearings next month on the CIA's mail-opening program following the disclosure Wednesday that the agency opened the mail of some prominent Americans, including a letter to Richard M. Nixon before he became president.

The CIA's mail-surveillance program, which operated from 1952 to 1973, also intercepted letters to or from Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., Sen.

Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., and Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, chairman of the committee.

The committee is scheduled to take testimony today from Richard Ober, former head of the agency's Operation Chaos, which spied on domestic dissidents, and Charles Brennan, former head of the FBI's domestic intelligence division.

The question of the CIA's responsibility under the law was raised by testimony given in closed session on Sept. 12 by James J. Angleton, former chief of counterintelligence for the CIA. The transcript of that hearing quoted him as saying: "It is inconceivable that a secret intelligence arm of government has to comply with all the overt rules of the government."

Several members of the committee pressed him about that statement Wednesday. At first Angleton replied: "If it's (the transcript) accurate, it shouldn't have been said."

Then he said, "I'd been rather impertinent in making those remarks."

Church asked: "Do you withdraw the statement?" Eventually, Angleton replied: "I do."

The disclosures about the CIA's mail-opening program first came Wednesday with a statement by Church which offered no detail but implied a wider scope to the Nixon mail surveillance than he later outlined.

The press has been given a special invitation to attend a final dress rehearsal tonight of "Bye Bye Birdie," the musical which formally gets under way Friday evening in the Big Spring High School Auditorium.

If the general public cares to get an early look at the Big Spring High School Choral Department play, they can purchase a $3 ticket and sit anywhere in the auditorium.

The choral department has been rehearsing nightly for this fun-filled play, which was a smash hit on Broadway several years ago.

The regular run will extend through Saturday night. The curtain goes up each night at 8 o'clock.

Choir members are still selling reserve seat tickets for Friday and Saturday, at $3 a copy.

Hearst Comrades Linked To Murder, Robbery

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A growing net of evidence of murder, robbery and bombings is touching the radical comrades of Patricia Hearst, threatening to draw the newspaper heiress into more legal troubles.

Authorities want to find three of her companions for questioning about a brutal bank robbery that ended in murder, a source close to the investigation confirmed Wednesday.

There were also reports that marked money taken in that April bank robbery near Sacramento was found in the apartment where Miss Hearst and fellow fugitive Wendy Yoshimura were arrested here last week.

Other law enforcement officials said that the Symbionese Liberation

Army — which kidnaped Miss Hearst and then, she and her allies were responsible for a series of terrorist bombings in the San Francisco Bay area and were planning more attacks.

The three radicals federal agents want to question are James Kilgore and Kathy and Josephine Soliah. With the Soliahs' brother, Steve, now in custody, the three have been linked with the April 21 holdup of a Crocker Bank branch in the Sacramento suburb of Carmichael.

Soliah, 27, was arrested along with Miss Hearst and was indicted Wednesday for hiding her, at the time she was a federal fugitive, in a San Francisco apartment that authorities say he rented. Authorities believe the other three went underground after the arrests of Miss Hearst, Soliah, Miss Yoshimura and SLA members William and Emily Harris.

During the Carmichael robbery, one of four ski-masked robbers fatally wounded a female customer, apparently without reason. Then the robbers went behind the bank counter and stomped on the heads of persons they had ordered to the floor.

Police also said they believe a fifth person waited outside the bank in a second getaway car. The bandits fled with $15,000.

A law enforcement source told The Associated Press that the fingerprints of Soliah and Kilgore, 27, were found on the getaway cars in the Carmichael holdup.

CBS News reported Wednesday night that marked bills taken in the Carmichael bank robbery were found in the apartment where Miss Hearst was arrested. CBS also said that a FBI sketch of a woman linked to the robbery resembled Miss Hearst.

In another development, the San Francisco police department dropped its warrants seeking the arrests of the Soliah sisters, Kathy, 28, and Josephine, 24, for investigation of explosives and illegal weapons violations.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, U. S. A. — Three rooms of kindergarten children at Kentwood Elementary held a bicentennial parade this morning and were issued a certificate by the local bicentennial chairmen. Miss Peggy Irwin, marching briskly at the right of the picture helped two other kindergarten teachers, Mrs. Mary Nell Hise and Mrs. Betty Birdwell, with the event.

Webb Construction Funds Measure Sent To Senate

The military appropriations bill, which included $4,382,000 in new construction for Webb AFB, cleared the House of Representatives Wednesday and is now in the Senate.

The upper house likely will act on the bill sometime next week, according to Mayor Wade Choate, after receipt of a call from Omar Burleson's office in Washington.

The funds, if approved by the Senate and signed by the President, would serve to authorize construction of a $3,906,000 bachelor officers' quarters. The remainder would be used for construction of a fuel maintenance dock at the local facility.

The latter structure would be located on the flight line and would be used to dismantle aircraft to work on fuel systems.

Flames Destroy Hot Oil Truck

GAIL — Flames reached 25 to 30 feet in the air and destroyed a hot oil truck at an oil well fire southwest of Lake J. B. Thomas Wednesday afternoon. Borden County Sheriff Norman Sneed said.

The well, located on the J. W. Graves ranch about nine miles north of Vincent, was being "treated," Sneed said.

Webb Air Force Base, Halliburton Services and Coahoma contractor Inc. helped fight the blaze at the Getty oil well.

Bryant's Predictable Reaction

The war between the states has not relented — the state universities, that is.

That is why Paul (Bear) Bryant, professor of an organized mayhem identified as football, betrayed the Southern tradition and charged into federal court in search of a remedy.

Bryant, it seems, had overfulfilled his quota of beefy scholars. He quickly went into a fit of pique, therefore, when the National Collegiate Athletic Association ruled that a coach can invite only 48 of his players to a game away from home.

Two major objections were made. One is that the classical scholars would be denied the broadening effects of travel. The other is that a coach should be permitted to take some of his third-string men along to avoid running up embarrassing leads over hapless opponents. (This was before Alabama somehow lost to Missouri 20 to 7.)

Bear took his complaint to a federal court in Alabama, where no hint of prejudice to Bear or to the University of Alabama has ever been hinted or detected. The judge was properly sympathetic, holding that the NCAA exceeded its constitutional authority in placing a limit of 48 men on visiting teams. The reasoning was crystalline in its purity: The notion that a home team could have 60 men on its squad while visiting teams could have only 48, the judge said, "is totally inconsistent with the basic concept of athletic competition. He issued an injunction. But the Fifth U.

S. Circuit Court of Appeals vacated the injunction, leaving a trial of the case on its merits in Tuscaloosa, Ala., sometime later this year.

There remains a bittersweet residue of regret among those who cleave to the Southern way of life and good old Southern fixin's. It is the reflection that a federal court had to be asked to settle a problem which state's rights should have been able to settle. But there is understanding, even here, that grave crises demand drastic action.

Will Electorate Be Tolerant?

New chapters in the continuing saga of Cong. Wilbur Mills, some not recommended for younger minds, have recently been written. They throw more light on his dramatic descent from the pinnacle of political clout.

We don't know how accomplished a singer Mills was but he was very much into a life of more than infrequent alcoholic immersion and involvement with "another woman."

The Argentine dancer, Fanne Fox, has written about her affair with Mills in which she claims she became pregnant by him.

The public has only her word about this. Mills, the Arkansas congressman who presided for years as chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, said in a Washington Star interview that if she ever told him she was heavy with child he does not remember.

He said: "I don't recall it. I don't recall it. Certainly, as an alcoholic, I turned into an entirely different person than that which I had always been, from the sober Wilbur Mills over the years... It's to be regretted that these things happened — much of which I don't recall."

He says he remembers so little about the Oct. 7 Tidal Basin incident in which he and his companions were detained by park police that he had to read about it to find out what happened.

Mills said he has not decided whether he will seek reelection, adding he won't make such a decision until sometime next year.

"I have said repeatedly that I would not do anything or undertake any kind of work that jeopardizes my determination to be sober," he said. "Whether or not I can continue in this job and remain sober, I have not yet determined."

What is more pertinent than whether Mills decides to run for reelection is whether his constituents will tolerate him again. Regrettable, but the odds are he is through.

Real Bargain

Around The Rim

Julie Simmons

The deadline for purchasing memberships in the Big Spring Community Concert Association is nearing. Memberships will be accepted until 5 p.m. Saturday.

Volunteer workers are canvassing Big Spring and surrounding communities, a temporary headquarters has been established in the lobby of the Settles Hotel and workers are giving information over the phone. That is how much these workers want to bring world-renowned talent to this area. They are devoting their time, gas and money to see that Big Spring area residents will be able to enjoy all types of musical and dance entertainment.

NOT ONLY do members get to enjoy local concerts, but can also attend the five concerts held in Midland at no extra charge. The New Christy Minstrels will play both in Big Spring and Midland. If you are one of those people who likes to attend movies two or three times, you can do the same with this concert series.

The price for an adult membership is $12 and the way I figure that, it is the cheapest entertainment around. If you attend the four concerts in Big Spring and four in Midland that is $1.50 per concert.

Prices for other memberships are adult reserved, $16; student reserved, $8; and student, $5. Howard College students have already been reserved space. They are admitted on presentation of their activity cards.

In case you have missed the "teasers" of each concert, here are brief summaries of the programs.

The Art Hodes Jazz Four will begin the series in Big Spring on Nov. 1. His group will feature uniquely American music from the past and present, including ballads, jazz, tin pan alley, ragtime, Dixieland and popular favorites.

On Jan. 5 of the new year The New Christy Minstrels will present their concert of youthful, patriotic entertainment. Their program will be dedicated to developing better understanding between adults and the majority of youth in the United States.

Delighting audiences with exuberant, colorful dancing and European music and singing will be "Lucnica" Czechoslovakian Folk Ballet. They will appear in Big Spring Feb. 12 bringing dance and music which comprises a canvas of one of Europe's most beautiful, intriguing and exciting countries.

The last program in the Big Spring series will be the "Franz Liszt" Orchestra of Budapest. The orchestra is composed of the most talented young musicians of Europe, all graduates of the Franz Liszt Academy. These artists are so professional and well harmonized as a group that they have no conductor. A young pianist, Gyorgy Nador will appear as soloist with the orchestra along with the orchestra's concert master and solo violinist, Janos Rosta.

OPENING THE Midland concert series is the Ronnie Kole Trio on Oct. 2. This jazz jubilee was formerly of the Al Hirt Club and have been at their own Kole's Corner on Bourbon Street in New Orleans for more than a decade. They will feature all types of popular music and jazz.

The Little Angels of Korea appeared in Big Spring last season and were very well received. They will present their program in Midland Oct. 8. The Little Angels are a company of 32, including an ensemble of five musicians playing 50 different ancient instruments as accompaniment to the dancers. They are expert dancers and completely disciplined and poised troupe.

The Albert McNeil Jubilee Singers are a black musical group. They will entertain Midland audiences Feb. 4 with a history of Afro-American music including tribal music of early slaves, spirituals of enslavement, calypso music of the Caribbean and more recent trends in black music.

The final concert in Midland will be the New York Bass Quintet on Feb. 19. The Bass Quintet is the only ensemble of its kind in the world. They will perform pre-Bach selections, compositions of the 17th, 18th and 19th century and several selections written by modern composers.

Make it a point to join the Community Concert Association and enjoy the vast array of talent offered this season.

The NFL Strike

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — As I write this I don't know if the NFL football strike will continue. My concern is with the issues of such a strike but the ramifications once it is settled. Football, as everyone knows, is a hard-hitting game; and when two Goliath teams face each other on grass or Astro turf, they're out to kill. That's what keeps all of us glued to our television sets and forces us to pay $8 to $18 to go to the stadium.

BUT NOW BECAUSE of all the sympathy strikes the attitude of players may change.

This is what could happen if play resumes in the NFL.

Let us, for argument's sake, say that the New England Patriots are playing the Washington Redskins.

The Patriots kicked off, and the running back of the Redskins catches the ball on his five-yard line. He starts running up the field when he is hit by four members of the suicide squad.

The back picks himself up and says bitterly, "That's no way to treat a brother."

"What are you talking about?" one of the tacklers says.

"Look, man, when you guys were locked up, we voted to go out in sympathy. Is this the kind of gratitude you show by knocking me down to the ground?"

"Gee, we're sorry. We forgot," one of the suicide squad men says.

"You're not sore, are you?" the Redskins says. "After all, we're all in the same union."

The referee urges the men to line up and start playing.

THE PATRIOT DEFENSIVE line faces the Redskins offensive line. A Patriot tackle says, "On behalf of the team I'd like to take this opportunity to thank all of you Redskins for what you did for us when we walked out. It's this kind of support that shows how united we are against the unfair labor practices of management. And I speak for all the Patriots when I say if there is anything we can do to reciprocate just ask us."

The Redskins center says, "Will you let Billy Kilmer complete a pass to Charley Taylor? It would really help the morale of our team at this time."

"Sure," the Patriot tackle replies. "It's the least we can do for you."

THE BALL is snapped, and Billy Kilmer fades back to throw. No one on the Patriot line moves. Charley Taylor runs straight down the sideline, and Kilmer throws a wobbly pass high in the air. The Patriot defensive backs all fall down, and Taylor catches the ball and runs for a touchdown. Kilmer personally shakes the hand of every Patriot linesman who did not rush him. "This proves that the only way we can sock it to the owners is to stick together."

When the Patriots get possession of the ball, they tell the Redskins they're going to send their running back through right guard on a keeper play. "We'd like to score early," the Patriot tight end tells the Redskins linebacker, "just to show the owners that in spite of the strike we haven't lost our zip."

"It makes sense," the Redskins linebacker says. "But tell your running back not to cut too hard after he plows through the line as the grass there is very slippery."

"Thanks a million. We'll be careful. Is it okay if I throw a block at you on this play?"

"Sure," the Redskins linebacker says, "but be careful of my knee. If I get injured they may put me on waivers and then you know what management will do to me under the Rozelle rule."

"I'll be careful," the tight end assures him.

Well, the final score is 237 to 234 (in spite of no rush on the Patriot place kicker, he failed to get the ball through the goal posts), and both teams march off the field arm in arm.

"Brothers, we're sorry we beat you," Kilmer tells the Patriots in their locker room.

"Heck," says the Patriots' Randy Vataha. "We're sorry we didn't give you a better game."

"Beg pardon, sir... but your barrel's been recalled by the factory!"

Changing Times

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Just as the challenges, problems and accomplishments of business are always changing, so also is the business lexicon.

During the past year, if you seek to follow events in the world of business and finance, the continued reference to three phrases: capital shortage, consumer confidence and crowding out.

In fact, you will find considerable feeling among economists, academics, businessmen and government officials that these three terms are as important as any to Americans today, no matter what their economic status.

CAPITAL SHORTAGE — James Needham, chairman of the New York Stock Exchange, has done the most to publicize this situation, but it is now by far the No. 1 subject of speeches by top executives of major companies.

Unless measures are taken to encourage savings, they say, there just won't be enough capital in the 1980s to finance jobs, plants, pollution control, housing, mass transportation and other necessary projects.

Reginald Jones, chairman of General Electric, refers in the current Harvard Business Review to a "capital gap of $50 billion a year" between 1977 and 1980, under current tax structure. "Business will seek to close the gap by simply lowering their investment in plant and equipment; they will cut back inventory spending; and they will cut back their financial asset holdings," he writes, adding:

"In any of these eventualities, the result will be a reduction in the business activity, more unemployment, slower growth in productivity, and the kind of chronic inflation and stagflation."

Chase Manhattan Bank maintains that if the gap isn't closed we will have unemployment in 1985 at twice the current rate.

Cigars Are Smoking, Too

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband quit smoking. He quit smoking cigarettes, that is. Now he smokes cigars, and is quite proud of his accomplishment. The only thing wrong is that he (I'm sure of it) inhales the cigar smoke. Isn't this just as bad as inhaling cigarette smoke? I can't convince him of this. — Mrs. B. E.

I have never bought the idea that you can quit smoking by finding some other tobacco product to smoke. Somehow this doesn't square with my logic.

There is a lot of evidence that smokers who switch to cigars do continue to inhale, some perhaps without even realizing it.

A recent report in the Journal of the American Medical Association confirms this suspicion. In fact, according to the report, inhaling cigar smoke may be more harmful than inhaling cigarette smoke.

Perhaps if you can't convince your husband, Dr.

Allen L. Goldman can. He conducted a study in which subjects were tested for a blood factor called "carboxyhemoglobin." This, when present in certain levels in the body, is considered a risk to health. The substance was found to be four times higher among cigarette smokers than among non-smokers. In cigar smokers, it was found to be eight times higher.

Conclusion: if your husband wants to quit, he should quit altogether. Many cigar smokers do not inhale at first, but gradually fall back into their old cigarette smoking habits. The study also indicates, incidentally, that cigar smokers who were never habitual cigarette smokers do not inhale usually.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My question concerns a douche that was prescribed for my vaginitis. It contains iodine (from the label information). The problem is that a while ago there was some talk about iodine in relation to my thyroid condition. My iodine uptake was found to be somewhat low in a test.

It all confuses me. I am 31, and am supposed to start on a medication for my thyroid problem. — S. M.

Some medically prescribed douches do contain iodine in small concentrations. The one you mention (by brand name) in your letter is one of them. Its presence in the douche solution would not affect your thyroid function either way, nor would it affect the thyroid medication you are to take.

You may find, incidentally, that bringing your thyroid condition under control may ease your vaginitis problem. I discuss such douches in my new booklet, "Vaginitis: The Hidden Ailment." I think you might find it helpful in a general understanding of your problem. If you want a copy, send 25 cents to me in care of this newspaper, and enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

EDITORIALS / OPINIONS

First Appearance

William F. Buckley, Jr.

Mrs. Thatcher's first television appearance was on an hour-long program. The host warned his audience that Mrs. Thatcher, leader of the opposition in Great Britain, is not the kind of person Americans associate with the women's liberation movement. "If she does become Prime Minister," he said, "she will somehow leave the women's liberation movement with an unconsummated sense of mission, unless in presenting her credentials to the Queen she is caught streaking into Buckingham Palace."

All this Mrs. Thatcher bore bravely, but not for long. When the time came for the panel of questioners to interrogate her, the very first question, posed by a highly skilled young polemicist of the American left, was square on the theme of her sex. "Isn't it a fact, Mrs. Thatcher, that you, a woman, were named head of the opposition party only because you are a hidebound Tory and therefore sharply distinguishable from a political radical?"

FOR ONCE THE lady was displeased. She has a way of maintaining a smile even in moments of exaggerated impatience (I think that this is the principal muscular division between the politicians and the rest of us). "Do you mind," she said sweetly, the acid forming in her breath, "if I tell you that I consider that question entirely trivial? In Great Britain we do not ask the sex of a political figure. We seek only to vote for the best qualified person."

If that is the case, the host intervened, mustn't we draw dismal conclusions about the competence of British women — since the fact so few of them have positions of political, or for that matter commercial power? Mrs. Thatcher has 25 years of polemical experience to draw on, and she deflected the question nicely, in a patient, grandmotherly tone. You see, she said, in Great Britain traditionally the preoccupations of the woman have been with the family. For that reason, very few of them have presented themselves to the public. That is now changing...

She is quite frank that she desires all that to change very fast indeed. Mrs. Thatcher's appetite to take power in Great Britain is no doubt in part her entirely natural appetite to exercise power. But she convinced a lot of hoary New Yorkers that her enthusiasm for her approach to the revival of Great Britain is entirely genuine. One has the feeling that as Prime Minister she would see every percentage rise in the gross national product, and every percentage drop in the rate of inflation, with the kind of personal excitement a horse-trainer would feel on paring seconds off a yearling's workout.

THERE WAS SOME muttering, after one occasion, that her replies had been a little text-bookish: the overweening bureaucracy, the disappearance of the incentive factor, the demoralization brought on by inflation, the impacted confusion of socialist policies — but the impatience was markedly different from what it might have been in another season in America, inasmuch as Mrs. Thatcher was speaking, for the most part, to residents of a city strangled by bureaucracy and welfareism, demoralized by high taxes and inflation, in which classical, atavistic anxieties stir.

I do not doubt that if in the Sin Center district of Times Square a wily opportunist were to set up a peep show at which the viewer could ogle candid pictures of ten per cent maximum taxation forms, alarm clocks summoning unemployed welfare recipients to work cleaning the city streets, and Charles Mason sitting on an electric chair, you might come upon, suitably disguised inserting quarter after quarter into the slots, Eric Sevareid, and Walter Cronkite, and John Chancellor, to name only a few of the titans of American communications who sat and listened to Mrs. Thatcher reading to them from the Baltimore Catechism without apparent resentment.

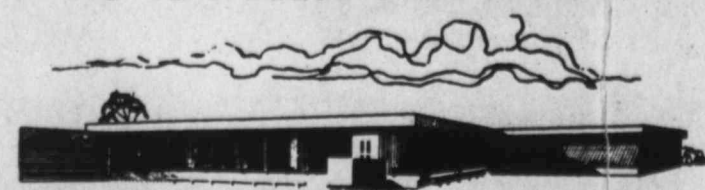

She left town after four days in a tough and cynical city, as a Presence. As a plausible prime minister of the mother of parliaments, and isn't that, as one meditates on it, a happy ambition for an English mother?

Women In Police Work Take Risky Assignments

OMAR BURLISON, M. C. 17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Women in police work are not exactly new. New York City had the first full-time policewoman in 1888. Today, of course, the role of women as police is much different. It has not all come about by reason of the Civil Rights Act which prohibits, among other things, discrimination because of sex.

The use of women in law enforcement has been an unsteady process. Their employment began noticeably in 1920 when they were divided into two employe classes. At that time they were either matrons or custodians of female prisoners. A few years subsequent to this time, many became youth-clerical specialists.

Gradually, the employment of women in police work increased and, evidently, for a significant reason.

It has been pointed out by some that male candidates qualifying as law enforcement officers competed against one another and their qualifications were more obvious. Women, realizing there was a limitation in what they could do or, at least, what was thought they could do, did not attempt to qualify unless they were extraordinarily confident that they could make the grade. As a result, they have proved, by and large, superior in the work assigned to them.

From this point, they seemingly did not want especially easy assignments but insisted on participating competitively for what ever jobs were available. This was long before the assertive rights of women in other fields. In some respects, it might be comparable to today's Women's Lib.

In 1972 the Equal Opportunity Act included public employes which meant law enforcement agencies. Employers were permitted to be selective on the basis of sex only if that characteristic was a bona fide qualification for the job. This eliminated what had always been customarily assumed related to the "weaker sex."

In many of the large city police departments, women are given the same physical training as men. They are trained in self defense, search and seizure situations, on foot patrolling as well as in vehicles. Reports indicate that most women going into law enforcement insist that they serve equally with men. In other words, they are willing to be assigned to risk situations. Many police departments have a system of rotating officers in different precincts.

Some areas would be in high crime districts while others might be comparatively slow and safe. Complete statistics do not seem to be available but reports indicate that female officers have been able to exert an influence in a highly sensitive situation, more likely in family squabbles, which the male officer generally may have less patience to bring about nonviolent settlements. Dealing with juveniles may also be particularly fitting for women officers but most women insisted they not be assigned to a specific category but do those things the same as their male counterparts. Directing traffic is a visible duty being performed by female officers and from all accounts they do a good job.

Evidently, there are problems but there are also encouragements. Medals of special merit for heroism or exceptional performance have been given to many female officers. Several have been killed in the line of duty, one being here in the Nation's Capital in recent months.

In some departments there have been arguments against the use of women for police patrol but from past experience it seems that results generally have been satisfactory enough to lessen these objections.

Opens State Bank Records

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — State Banking Commissioner Robert Stewart, faced with a Texas Supreme Court suit, has decided to allow reporters to examine shareholder lists filed with applications for bank charters.

The San Antonio Express-News and its Capitol correspondent, James Dolan, filed a mandamus suit after Stewart refused to let Dolan look at such lists.

After the suit was filed, Stewart agreed to open the records, according to a motion to dismiss filed by Atty. Gen. John Hill's office. The Express-News and Dolan agreed to the motion.

Jobless Rate Charge Werewolf With Lunny Named Increases

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas' unemployment rate by mid-July was 6.5 per cent, compared with 4.3 per cent during the same month in 1974, the Texas Employment Commission reports.

The commission said Wednesday, however, that the number of Texans looking for work dropped by almost 19,000 between mid-June and mid-July and the unemployment rate fell from 6.9 per cent to 6.5 per cent.

The commission said 352,900 Texans were out of work and looking for jobs in July, compared with 371,800 in June. The July figure compared with 226,800 unemployed a year earlier.

The decline in unemployment was attributed to "more job opportunities, coupled with some labor force withdrawals."

Of the total number of jobless Texans, 81,000 were covered by unemployment compensation, the commission said.

Disturbing The Peace? To Head Space Program

INDIANOLA, Okla. (AP) — The werewolf monster hasn't been sighted in these parts since a 19-year-old Indiana youth admitted he was the monster last week.

Deputy Sheriff Harold Heard said Wednesday the monster sightings started two weeks ago after 20 youths at a party agreed that one of them should don a rented werewolf costume to scare a particular person.

The youths told Heard the first scaring incident was so successful that the youth wearing the costume decided to try it several more times. That even included his jumping off the roof of a grocery store in front of an automobile at night to convince skeptics that the monster was indeed real and had extraordinary endurance.

Heard said he told the youth that someone could easily shoot him or he might frighten someone so badly they would suffer a heart attack. The youth wasn't identified.

When it was discovered last week that the monster was nothing more than a hoax, several persons called on the Pittsburg County sheriff's department to arrest the impersonator.

But Heard said the charge that might apply was disturbing the peace, and no one had come forward to file such a charge against the "monster."

Potton House Books Display At Library

The Potton House, better known as the Hayden House, was recently purchased by the city to be preserved as a tourist attraction.

Books from the cellar of this historical home are being featured at the Howard County Library. The books reflect the interest of the owner and builder, J. Potton, a master railway mechanic.

Among the books on display is "Pictorial History of the Locomotive" compiled by W. Wright. It is a complimentary copy issued by the Chicago Pneumatic Tool Company in 1899. This rare book is all written in script. It includes pictures of engines from 1771 through 1899. Specifications and designers are given for each. Other books include a machine tool catalog from 1907, a handbook on "Modern Machine Shop Practice" published in 1888, and nine volumes of the annual "Proceedings of the American Railway Master Mechanics Association."

To Appoint New Expert

DALLAS (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge William M. Taylor says he will appoint soon another expert to aid in the drawing of a new Dallas school desegregation plan.

Taylor met briefly Wednesday with parties in the school desegregation plan and told them if they could agree on an expert, he would be willing to listen to their suggestion.

The judge recently rejected a school board plan to desegregate schools by busing.

On Monday Taylor dismissed Dr. John A. Finger, the man he had appointed as the court expert on Sept. 16.

"I told you I was working on this matter of the expert," Taylor told the parties. "I have no apologies to anybody about appointing Dr. Finger. He was a highly qualified, competent, skilled man. I'll not load the deck for anyone."

TI Debts Realigned

HOUSTON (AP) — An agreement with major creditors for a realignment of Texas International Airlines' debt repayment schedule has been announced by the airline.

The carrier said Wednesday the realignment will alleviate a "peaking of debt repayment requirements" over the next few years.

A company spokesman said that about $4.8 million of maturities in the 1975-77 period are being rephased through 1980 under terms of the agreement. The firm has a $23.6 million long term debt outstanding.

ATLANTA (AP) — This city's black, first-term mayor has angered white politicians and delayed a major airport expansion project with his unyielding demand that black companies participate in the $400 million contract.

It's part of Mayor Maynard Jackson's demand that black-owned construction companies be included in government construction contracts.

"I think the time has come to stop pussyfooting around," said Jackson, 37, first black mayor of this Southern capital city. "Either government ought to shut up talking a good game or government ought to do something about it."

ORDINANCES

To back up his demand on the airport contract, Jackson says he is drafting an ordinance that will guarantee black businessmen a share of every city contract.

His approach appears to be more direct and forceful than that of other black mayors in major American cities.

Los Angeles Mayor Tom Bradley has pushed a program to make black firms aware of upcoming city contracts, and Detroit Mayor Coleman Young has insisted on a quota of minority employees for firms bidding on city work. Similar efforts have been made in Gary, Ind. by Richard Hatcher.

DELAYS AIRPORT

Mayor Wants Black Share Of City Contracts

Jackson, however, moved swiftly and directly this year to reopen architectural and engineering contracts for the airport expansion and insisted that the contract holders recruit black-owned firms to do 20 to 25 per cent of the work.

JOINT VENTURE

After 11 weeks of negotiations, the existing contractor, Atlanta Airport Engineering Inc., recruited a black-owned New York firm to share in the engineering contract. And two architectural firms agreed to take in four black-owned firms on a joint venture basis.

"It's an idea whose time has come," Jackson said of the joint ventures. "It is the next logical step in the equal employment opportunity sphere."

He said that resistance to the idea comes from people who believe "rather accurately, that if it catches on and spreads nationally, blacks will achieve a level of economic power unparalleled in the history of the country."

"The irony of the resistance to the idea is that the resistance is often by people who criticize blacks for not being resourceful. Now, here's a chance for blacks not to get a giveaway."

A black voter majority and a strong relationship with a biracial city council make it possible for Jackson to make such a stubborn stand, said state Sen. Julian Bond, a Jackson supporter who briefly sought support for a presidential bid this year.

POLITICS

"Most black mayors do not have the same kind of good relationship with the city council that Jackson has," said Bond who is black. "Although they may want to do the same thing, political realities keep them from that. This along with the black political majority is the major reason for Jackson's strong position."

Jackson collected nearly 60 per cent of the votes two years ago to defeat incumbent Mayor Sam Massell. At that time blacks made up just slightly less than half the registered voters. Today, black voters comprise 51.4 per cent of the voters.

So far, Jackson has not taken a strong position on an annexation controversy, an issue that concerns the black political majority. While annexation of predominantly white suburban areas would increase the city's tax base, it also would dilute black voting strength.

'CHASES AWAY'

Jackson's critics say he has been trying to lure firms in Georgia for many years and has used joint ventures to handle large government jobs. But, he said, he opposes city contracts being awarded solely on the basis of race.

"I think it chases away other bidders or people who might render service to the city by imposing on them a partnership they don't want or need," said Lambros, one of four council members to vote against including minority firms in the airport contracts.

Another council opponent, George Cotsakis, who like Lambros is white, said he thinks an alternative is to have a "good administrator" privately tell the low bidder the city would like to see minorities included in the job.

Cotsakis said he doesn't like the idea of mandating black participation.

And the current procedure with its emphasis on race, he said, is "building up a lot of rednecks and people who don't want to be rednecks."

Protest Furor Hurts School, Rogers Says

AUSTIN (AP) — The University of Texas' controversial new president, Dr. Lorene Rogers, says the furor over her appointment will hurt the school's financing more than it will help her personally.

"It's good to be where I'm wanted," she quipped Tuesday when Rotarians applauded her as she rose to speak.

Dr. Rogers said student demonstrations and faculty criticism of her appointment by the UT regents is "going to make it that much more difficult for me to get support for this university" from the legislature.

The Rotarians gave her a standing ovation when she concluded that she hoped protesters "finish up in a hurry so everyone can get everything said he wants to say and we can get back to work to educating the people who come to our school."

Nearly 700 of a faculty of approximately 1,650 have demanded her resignation, and law students voted by more than 5 to 1 Tuesday that Dr. Rogers should resign.

Of 1,600 law students, 626 took part in the referendum, and student leaders said this was an unusually large turnout.

Former law school dean Page Keeton, a perennial favorite of many students and faculty for the president's job, said, "No one can be a strong president unless he (or she) begins with the support of the great majority of the faculty. I do not read the faculty as having great support for Dr. Rogers."

Tire Testers Determine Tread Wear Standards

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — Federal ratings on passenger car tires sold next year may depend on thousands of miles being driven this year on highways looping this West Texas city.

Richard N. Pierce, an engineer for Southwest Research Institute of San Antonio (SwRI), said 250,000 miles have been logged already on a 400-mile treadwear course centered here.

SwRI is monitoring the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration course which will be used by manufacturers and government contract testers to evaluate tire treadwear performance. Federal regulations will require tire manufacturers to supply consumer information on certain passenger car tires as early as next January.

"Treadwear grades are evaluated by first measuring the performance of a candidate tire on the government test course," the traffic safety administration said, "and then correcting the projected mileage obtained to account for environmental variations on a basis of performance of course monitored tires of the same general construction type."

Effective dates announced by the traffic safety administration were Jan. 1, 1976, for radial ply tires; July 1, 1976, for bias-belted tires; and Jan. 1, 1977, for bias ply tires.

However, a Cincinnati, Ohio, federal court has stayed the effective dates pending review by the court after a lawsuit filed by eight tire companies.

Treadwear grades, printed on tread labels and eventually molded permanently into tire sidewalls, would be given in percentages, SwRI said.

A tire with projected tread life of 30,000 miles on the San Angelo course would be rated 100 per cent while a tire with a projection of 24,000 miles would be rated at 80 per cent.

The research institute is establishing course severity factors for the three tire types and determining course tread-wear rates.

Pierce said the study of the treadwear course would require more than 400,000 additional miles on the roads winding through the mesquite-choked area of West Texas.

Drivers amassed the first 250,000 miles in four months. The federal course, centered at San Angelo, consists of three loops.

The first loop reaches southward through Eldorado, Sonora and Juno. The second runs eastward over farm and ranch roads. The third twists northward through Water Valley and Robert Lee.

Federal regulations require grading or compliance testing of candidate tires in small convoys, with each test totalling 7,200 miles.

Cap Rock Refunds

The board of directors of Cap Rock Electric Cooperative Inc. recently approved refunds to its members totaling $96,321.

The refunds, known as capital credits consist of the balance of the 1963 margins plus 22 per cent of the 1964 margins.

Including the $96,321 authorized for return Oct. 1, a total of $2,430,466 has been returned to the members since the cooperative started allocating its margins in 1950.

PRICE OF PRIVACY VARIES Unlisted Phone Helps Evade Bill Collectors

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A growing number of Americans are getting unlisted phone numbers to protect themselves against criminals, cut down nuisance calls and, in some cases, evade bill collectors. The price of privacy varies from state to state, however, and the barrier against unwanted calls is far from foolproof.

American Telephone & Telegraph Corp., owner and operator of 80 per cent of the nation's telephones, says about 12 per cent of all phone numbers are unlisted. The rate in big cities is much higher.

Some 27 per cent of all telephone accounts in Chicago are unlisted, according to a spokesman for Illinois Bell. That represents an increase of 6 per cent from the previous year and contrasts with a slight decline in the over-all number of accounts.

There are 4 per cent more unlisted numbers in New York City this fall than there were last year, with more than 736,000 subscribers or 25 per cent of the total opting for the extra privacy.

A spokesman for Pacific Telephone said the number of unlisted telephone numbers in California had risen 3 per cent in the past year and represented a little over 23 per cent of all accounts.

Monthly charges for unlisted numbers range from 15 cents in San Francisco to over $1 in New York City and several other areas. About half the 50 states also have initial fees ranging from $5 to $15.

Why an unlisted number? "I don't want to get obscene phone calls," said one young woman in a big city. "Listing your telephone under your initials isn't protection enough."

A telephone subscriber in another area said he didn't want potential burglars to be able to find out when he would — and would not — be home.

Still other people simply don't want to be bothered by unsolicited callers ranging from salesmen to polltakers and some consumers think of an unlisted number as a sort of status symbol.

Telephone officials in Chicago and California also said some people wanted to evade creditors. "This is a new reason," said the Pacific Telephone spokesman. "It apparently is because of the economy."

Companies say they never give out an unlisted number. "An unlisted telephone number is sacred," said a spokesman. "Quite sacred."

What happens if there is an emergency? The directory assistance operator will put the supervisor on the line. If the supervisor is convinced there really is an emergency, he or she will take the name of the caller, dial the unlisted number and ask if the subscriber is willing to have the number given out.

Can the police get an unlisted number? No, said an AT&T spokesman, although officials of local telephone companies said there were methods by which police, in an emergency, can obtain an unlisted number.

Back To School Screening Program

On Friday, Oct. 3, from 8:30 to 5, the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center will offer its second annual Back to School Screening Program for the children of Big Spring and surrounding communities.

The screening program is designed to detect existing or potential problems in the following areas: posture, speech, hearing, visual perception, and fine gross and motor activities. In addition a dental check will be offered by Dr. Jim Shelton of the Veterans Hospital and Dr. John Key. A visual check will be offered by Dr. Harold Smith.

All parents who wish to take advantage of the visual check should have their children at the Center before 12:00 noon. All of these areas are of the utmost importance if a child is to perform well in school. Screenings will be administered by qualified and registered personnel.

Last year 52 children were screened between the ages of 5 and 13, and of those, 43 were found to have problems in one or more areas. Appointments may be made by phone or at the Center on the day of the screening.

A charge of $5 per child or 3 in the same family for $12 will be assessed. Total time for screening in all areas should be approximately 30 to 40 minutes.

Couple Won't Give Up Fight For Daughter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Elton Helander do not intend to give up their fight to win their daughter Wendy back from the Unification Church.

The Helanders' lawyer, Ronald Goldfarb, said the couple will decide soon whether to appeal a court ruling that they could not interfere with the girl's religious beliefs or to attempt some other legal means to challenge the 18-year-old girl's membership in Rev. Sun Myung Moon's controversial sect.

On Tuesday, D.C. Superior Court Judge James Belson dismissed the Connecticut couple's suit to force the church to release their daughter, ruling that they failed to prove the church used systematic mind control techniques or held psychological sway over Wendy.

"The Helanders have authorized me to say they are personally deeply saddened by the setback," said Goldfarb. "The round is lost, but the fight is not yet over." The lawyer said he would have to study Belson's ruling before deciding what the next step would be.

W. Farley Jones, national information director for the Unification Church, said he was "elated" by Belson's ruling, adding, "I hope it will lay to rest the charges that the church uses mind control."

In his opinion, Judge Belson said, "The adherents of a 'new' or 'unconventional' religion are entitled to the same protection as are those of well-established and older religions."

CONTROL — SSgt. Donald W. Duthrage and A1C Anthony D. Dickerson, 2050th Communications Squadron air traffic controllers, handle the control tower duties from a tiny mobile unit near the runway. The men are using the mobile unit while renovations are being made on the base control tower.

'BEST IN THE WEST' Mobile Unit At Webb Crowds Controllers

They call themselves the "Best in the West" and, whether they really are or not, one thing is for sure, they're the most crowded. While a $35,000 renovation project is being completed on the Webb Air Force Base control tower, the 2050th Communication Squadron's air traffic controllers are

Campus Police Director Named

Don C. Christopher, who was recently promoted from Captain to Director of Campus Police at Howard College, has been awarded the Intermediate Certificate by the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education. This certification was granted after Christopher fulfilled the requirements for certification as provided for in the laws of the State of Texas.

To receive the Intermediate Certificate requires four years of experience and 60 points or eight years of experience and 30 points. Points are accumulated by classroom instruction, police in-service training, and examinations.

Christopher, who had previously received the Basic Certificate, completed requirements for the Intermediate Certificate in July and began immediately working toward the last level of certification which is the Advanced Certificate.

using a small mobile control unit near the runway. The mobile unit, mounted on a flat bed trailer about 50 yards from the runway, holds three controllers, but I wouldn't say comfortably.

Despite the cramped quarters, the crews have kept the mission rolling without a hitch. Technical Sergeant Merle J. Henderson, the D-Flight chief, said that the biggest problem with the mobile unit is the visibility. "Of course we can't see nearly as much from here as from the regular control tower," explained Sergeant Henderson, "so the men have to be really alert." He noted that transient aircraft pose the biggest problem because the controllers have to stay on top of them all the time to make sure they are on the right flight path.

The air traffic controllers have been using the mobile unit since mid July and are looking forward to the tower's completion sometime later this month. A new console is being installed in the tower which will help make the controllers' job easier as well as more efficient. It is part of an effort to standardize control towers Air Force wide.

After knocking elbows for a few months the air traffic controllers here will probably feel lost when they get back into the "wide open spaces" of the renovated control tower.

Millionaire Loses Supreme Court Fight

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Galveston millionaire Shearn Moody Jr. lost his Texas Supreme Court fight today to regain income from his personal trust fund that he had signed over to his now defunct Empire Life Insurance Co. of Alabama.

The high court, without writing a new opinion, said it found "no reversible error" in decisions against Moody by a Galveston district court and the Houston Court of Civil Appeals.

Moody was heir to one-eighth of the income of the trust created by the will of Libbie Shearn Moody. A trust provision required approval of the trustee, Moody National Bank of Galveston, before any of the heirs could assign or transfer any part of their trust income to another party.

With the bank's approval, Moody assigned 40 per cent of his share to Empire, of which he was the president and sole voting shareholder, in 1963.

After a program of rapid expansion, Empire was declared insolvent and placed in the hands of a receiver. A reinsurance agreement was made with Protective Life Insurance Co. of Birmingham, Ala., to continue coverage for the policyholders. The reinsurance plan approved by the courts required Empire to convey to Protective its interest in the income from the Moody trust.

Moody sued, claiming the trustee bank's consent to the original assignment of his trust income to Empire did not give Empire the right to convey that interest to Protective.

But the Galveston and Houston courts held that Moody had guaranteed the trust income as an asset of Empire in representations to stockholders, policyholders and the public in general.

The appeals court opinion, upheld by the Supreme Court today, said that Empire had an absolute right to convey that asset without the permission of Moody or the trustee bank.

Forces of Ali into Shell

MANILA (AP) - Muhammad Ali continued his "peekaboo" psychological warfare today, forcing Joe Frazier into an angry shell six days before their multi-million dollar heavyweight title fight.

"I am going into silence," an obviously upset challenger said after having another of his workouts upset by an Ali charade. "From now on, my boss (trainer Eddie Futch) will speak for me."

He cancelled Friday's workout. Fight observers are wondering what effect Ali's overt needling will have on Frazier's performance in the bout next Wednesday (10 p.m. EDT Tuesday) at the indoor Philippine Coliseum. Ali is a 2-1 favorite.

Outwardly insisting he is remaining cool, Frazier is beginning to show definite signs of edginess. In fact, members of his camp say he is seething. They don't call him Smokin' Joe for nothing. "I don't know what he's getting so upset about," says Ali. "I don't talk to him. I don't touch him. I just watch. He can watch me if he wants to, but he doesn't. He is afraid of what he will see."

The champion has been working out first at the Folk Arts Theater, mixing bombast and theatrics with regular routines.

In addition to blasting his opponent as "a dumb, awkward pug, ugly as a gorilla," Ali puts on an act in the ring in which he mimics Frazier's mincing steps. "The rabbit hop," Ali calls it - and head-bopping, buzz-saw style.

The Filipino crowd, heavily pro-Ali, respond with applause and roars. After his workout, Ali has been returning to the stage with a cordon of his entourage, distracting attention from Frazier's workmanlike schedule of bag-punching and shadow-boxing.

Once he climbed into the rafters over the ring, starting Frazier when Joe happened to glance up from his calisthenics.

MIKE SWINSON Stanton Linebacker

HANSON DOUBTFUL STARTER

Bufs Seek Win No. 3

By TERRY NEILL Quarterback Gary Hanson, who has led the Stanton Buffaloes to two victories with his darting runs and clutch passing, is a doubtful starter for Friday meeting with the talented Roscoe Plowboys in Roscoe. Game time will be 8 p.m.

Hanson registered a severely bruised shoulder in the fourth period last week against Rotan, and has been held out of workouts this week by head coach Bob Richardson. The signal caller could not throw the pigskin at all Tuesday and the arm was so sore that handoffs were virtually impossible, Richardson reported.

Roscoe is expected to field an aggressive, hard-hitting football team, and will be at full strength for the Buffaloes after resting their injured fullback and halfback in a 28-22 losing effort to Robert Lee last week.

Nuggets, Nets To National?

NEW YORK (AP) - The New York Nets and Denver Nuggets, the most attractive teams in the American Basketball Association, are applying for admission to the more established National Basketball Association in moves that could seriously damage the ABA's future.

The Associated Press learned of the developments Wednesday. Sources high in both leagues said the NBA hierarchy is aware of and approves of the moves which are designed to bring the Nets and Nuggets into the league as expansion franchises in 1976.

The moves, if successful, would strike a serious blow at the ABA when it is beginning to challenge the NBA on most fronts. Sources said the deal is far from complete. The NBA owners have not approved it. The court suits - charging violation of anti-trust laws among other things - that will surely come have yet to be fought. A pending suit by the NBA players' union could get in the way. But both sides are serious and want to complete the deal, sources said.

"The application (for admission) is a sure thing," said a source close to Denver president Carl Scheer. Scheer and Nets' owner Roy Boe met here Wednesday, completing a series of intricate negotiations that began a month ago. NBA Commissioner Larry O'Brien has been a part of the dealings, ABA President John Y. Brown said.

Brown said if the Nets and Nuggets go ahead with their plans, suits will follow. But the clubs were moving ahead anyway. The Nuggets scheduled a 1 p.m. news conference in Denver. Meanwhile, attorneys for the clubs were to appear in a New York federal court to file briefs which sources said were intended to head off any possible suits from the NBA Players' Association.

The scenario, which could result in the expansion of the 18-team NBA into four five-team divisions next year and move such players as Julius Erving, David Thompson and Marvin Webster into the league, began unfolding at least one month ago. As told by sources in both leagues, this is what happened: -Boe and Scheer, wishing to open negotiations on a merger of the two leagues, approached the NBA about making an application for membership.

ROOKIE PUNTER

Fourth Down Gamble Works

DALLAS (AP) - It occurred to rookie punter Mitch Hoopes of Arizona that a split second decision he made Sunday could have cost him his job. "Yeah, it crossed my mind that rookies have been cut for less than that... it doesn't take much to get cut around here," said Hoopes.

Hoopes was referring to a desperate gamble he took in the second quarter of Sunday's 18-7 National Football League upset of the Los Angeles Rams. "I thought the Ram player coming in from my left was going to block the ball," said Hoopes, who was supposed to punt on fourth down with 13 yards to go. "I knew Los Angeles certainly wasn't expecting it (a run) because I wasn't coach (Tom Landry) wasn't."

"I was lucky that the yardsticks were on our side of the field. All I could think was making that yardstick. I must have run what would have been the equivalent of four seconds flat in the 40. I made it by inches."

Dallas went on to kick a field goal and set in motion a rout of the Rams. Ironically, Hoopes' biggest competition in training camp was also the punter for Los Angeles Sunday - Duane Carrell, the regular punter for the Cowboys in 1974. "I figured Carrell would give them some tips on what they (The Rams) thought my weaknesses are... I knew since I was a rookie they would test me," added Hoopes. Landry congratulated Hoopes on the play "because he made it" then cautioned him not to try it again.

"It works once and it doesn't work the next nine times," said Landry. "However, there's no doubt after looking at the films that the ball would have been blocked." Hoopes was an all-star halfback at Benson, Ariz., which played Class B ball.

"There were about 250 kids in high school and 25 or 30 came out for the team depending on what was happening that week," said Hoopes. "I got a scholarship to play defensive back and punt at Arizona but I ended up punting."

Asked if he had any other talents besides punting and running, Hoopes said "I'm not a bad passer. I threw the halfback pass in high school. I think I'll let Coach Landry call any running or passing plays from now on. I took a gamble once and I was lucky it paid off."

Hoopes is one of the 12 new faces on a young but eager Cowboy team. "It was a mild surprise that I beat out Carrell," said Hoopes. "But I think I'm just a better punter than he is."

There's no doubt about which one is the best runner. After this 10-6 week, the Buffaloes will be in a position to challenge for the top spot in the league.

STANDING ROOM CROWD FORCAST

Bulldogs Favored To Maul McCamey

By CLARK LESHER
Coahoma, anxious to put its right foot forward, returns home for a game with McCamey at 8 p.m., Friday. Rated one of the top West Texas AA attractions of the week, a standing room only crowd is anticipated.

Senior running back Gary Roberts, held out of the Cisco game by Head Coach Charles Lynch will be back in service Friday. Ricky Patterson and Oscar Padron, both seniors, will alternate at fullback and sophomore Dusty Douglas at the other running back slot.

Directing Coahoma traffic will be senior Charles Tindol, who has carried out that duty since the start of the season. McCamey, 8-3 last season, delights to run the T-Bone, utilizing the strength of its terrific back, senior Clifton Pettis. Pettis was the main reason his team beat Coahoma, 12-6, last year at McCamey.

A senior ball team, McCamey has nine on offense along with two juniors. Heavy combat duty will come from tackles Al Glenn and Craig Pearson, ends Sam and Mike Cole, plus DUTY CALLS — Four Coahoma players expected to see duty against McCamey Friday night include left to right, Ricky Patterson, David Garten, Bill Jennings and Ken Fryrear.

McCamey, 2-1, was thrashed by the No. 6 ranked AA team in the state, Alpine, last week, 33-10.

Last week, Coahoma, away from home, put pressure on the No. 3 ranked AA team in the state, Cisco, only to lose, 13-6. A week before that, but at home, the Bulldogs were blanked by Post, 2-0. Coahoma's only win thus far has been over Reagan County, 13-6, in their seasonal opener at Bulldog Stadium.

Four turnovers, two fumbles and two pass interceptions were the leading factors in Coahoma's downfall with Cisco. Cisco's two TD drives were of 15-yards or less. Coahoma, though, controlled the game, statistical wise.

Mike Collier was lost to the Bulldogs for the year as he hurt his knee in the Cisco game. He was operated on in Midland Tuesday to correct the damage done.

Seaver Loses No-Hit Game

By The Associated Press

Strange things happen in baseball these damp, September days when teams are playing out the string and guys like Joe Wallis get their shots at the big time.

Wallis, recently up from the American Association, found himself standing between New York Met ace Tom Seaver and glory Wednesday at Wrigley Field. Seaver had gone 8 2-3 innings without giving up a hit in the scoreless game and Wallis hadn't gotten the ball out of the infield in three trips.

Two quick fastballs ran the count to 0-2. A hanging curveball was next and Wallis lunged at it and lined a single into right field.

End no-hitter. "It was a desperation swing," admitted Wallis, whose previous claim to fame was going 3-for-4 in the minors against Denny McLain. "He fooled me with two fastballs and I was looking for another one."

Elsewhere in the National League, Cincinnati beat Houston 6-4, Philadelphia clubbed Pittsburgh 8-1, Los Angeles routed San Diego 14-0, Montreal trimmed St. Louis 6-2 and Atlanta edged San Francisco 7-6 in 11 innings.

Reds 6, Astros 4
Pete Rose singled in two runs and Dave Concepcion singled in another in the sixth inning to put Cincinnati ahead for good. Clay Kirby, 10-6, won it and Larry Dierker, 14-16, lost it.

Phillies 8, Pirates 1
Dick Allen drove in three runs and Dave Cash and Greg Luzinski collected three hits each for Philadelphia. Larry Christensen, 11-5, went the distance with a six-hitter and struck out eight. Larry Demery, 7-5, took the loss.

Dodgers 14, Padres 0
Steve Garvey drove in six runs with two home runs, a single and a double to pace Los Angeles' 18-hit assault on five San Diego pitchers. Expos 6, Cardinals 2
Don Carrithers, 5-3, spaced nine hits and Larry Parrish hit his 10th home run of the season for Montreal.

Cougars Run Into Smyer

Undefeated with three one-sided wins, Klondike runs into the likes of Smyer, there, at 8 p.m. Friday.

The Cougars, playing explosive eight-man ball, ran by winless Southland 56-6 last week. Klondike's field general Bryan Harris tossed two TD passes with Ricky Singleton and Randy Airhart scoring 12 points each. Smyer suffered its first defeat in three games last week, bowing to Borden County, 34-22.

HOST LORAINE Bearkats Out To Cap Homecoming With Win

Garden City will be pulling all stops to score its first victory of the season before a homecoming crowd at 8 p.m., Friday, saying hello to Loraine.

The Bearkats unfortunately have suffered three straight defeats. Last week at home, the Bearkats got stung by Mertzon, 13-2.

Against Mertzon, the Bearkats got on the scoreboard by sacking Hornet quarterback James Howard in his own end zone.

In previous homecoming games, Garden City has split even, winning last year over Wellman. The stadium has been enlarged from the 5 p.m. customary 1,000 seating arrangement to 1,500.

At halftime, Garden City's Queen, ex-King and Queen and Mr. Bearkat will be crowned.

Garden City seniors will sponsor a chicken supper at the high school cafeteria at 5 p.m.

Bolden Named

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — The Dennis Bolden story would thrill fifth and sixth grade youngsters.

They are the only ones who would believe it.

The star running back gets sick and the coach turns to the bench. He picks out Bolden, who is not even listed on the three-deep depth chart. Bolden enters the game, sets a school rushing record and scores three touchdowns in an important conference victory.

The story is true. Bolden, a reserve tailback at Arkansas State University, is The Associated Press Back of the Week.

He got his chance Saturday night against McNeese State when starting tailback Tommy Foulks came to the sideline near the end of the first quarter.

"Tommy had had the flu," said ASU Coach Bill Davidson. "He said, 'Coach, I'm giving it my best shot, but I'm not getting the job done. We've got some backs sitting here who can do the job.'"

Davidson called on Bolden and the 5-foot-9, 174-pound junior college transfer responded with 26 carries for 259 yards. He broke the record of 252 yards established by Calvin Harrell against The Citadel in 1970. Bolden's 59-yard touchdown run put the Indians safely ahead on their way to a 24-7 Southland Conference victory.

Bolden's 259 yards is the best in the nation this year, according to the NCAA.

Ironically, Davidson had said the week prior to the game that ASU would have to rest Foulks so he would be fresh in the fourth quarter. A few days later Bolden approached Davidson. "Dennis came up and said, 'Coach, the tailbacks feel like we can go in and get the job done and let Tommy rest,'" Davidson said.

Bolden said he didn't realize he had set any kind of record until he heard the public address announcement near the end of the game.

Forsan Out To Unwind

Hard-luck Forsan, winless in two tries, seeks to unwind against host Grandfalls before dipping into district 3-B battle the following week.

Apparently unable to get untracked, Forsan contributed heavily to the loss of its starting quarterback Ralph Miranda. Forsan was overpowered by Buena Vista last week, 34-12.

The Buffaloes' defense held the first quarter but Buena Vista bounced across with 14 points each in the second and third frames and six in the fourth.

Forsan scored twice, second and third periods, on two-yard runs each by Gary Tidwell and John Medlin. The Buffs opened the season two weeks ago, dropping a 10-6 count to Klondike.

After the Grandfalls test, Forsan dips into 3-B play, entertaining Sands, Oct. 4.

Wolves Desire To Break Loose

Experiencing 100 per cent success at home this season, Colorado City returns home for an 8 p.m., contest with Post.

The Wolves had their undefeated record of two wins broken last week on the road, downed by Reagan County, 43-6. Even with the loss, the Wolves matched their last season's final win record.

Colorado City's Ray Torres, who directed his team to their opening win of the season, passed eight-yards to Drez Grisham for the only TD against Reagan County.

Post needs no introduction as the Antelope blanked Coahoma two weeks ago on the Bulldog field, 20-0. Last week, Post floated by Floydada, 17-13.

Tight Struggle In All-College

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The second round of the Oklahoma City University All-College Golf Tournament started today with Oklahoma State and Texas locked in a tight battle for team laurels.

Medalist honors in the opening round Wednesday went to slender Gary Shilton of Kansas, who fired a two-under-par 69 on the windswept Lincoln West Golf Course.

The Texas team turned in a low total of 282, while Oklahoma State was only three back at 285. Oral Robert University of Tulsa was third at 289.

Six golfers were only one shot back of Shilton. They were Mike Preston of Alabama, Tom Graber of Oral Roberts, Tom Jones of Oklahoma State, and Tim Wilson, Randy Simmons and Jim Mason, all of Texas.

Turning in 71's were four golfers—Charles Adams of Southern Methodist, Art Utley of Oral Roberts, Keith Fergus of Houston and Kirk Goss of Oklahoma State.

Eighteen-hole team totals: 1, Texas 282, 2, Oklahoma State 285, 3, Oral Roberts 289, 4, Houston and Southern Methodist (tie) 293, 6, New Mexico 299, 7, North Texas State and Oklahoma 300, 9, Alabama 301, 10, Texas A&M and Texas Tech 303, 12, Tulsa 304, 13, Kansas 308, 14, Central State, Okla. 312, 15, Nebraska 313, 16, Arkansas, Centenary and Oklahoma City 314, 19, Wichita State 316.

Wildcats Greet Borden County

Powerful eight-man member Borden County hits the highway for an engagement with host Grady at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

The free-moving Coyotes undefeated at 2-0 rode the strong arm of quarterback Joe Zant and the sticky fingers of Larry Simer to beat Smyer, 34-22, last week.

Grady took it on the chin last week, downed by Wellman, 42-26. The Wildcats' Daniel Loranzo scored a pair of TD's on runs of 20 and 50 yards.

Playing only its second year of UIL sanctioned football, Grady has been unable to collect a win in two regular games played.

THE TASTE OF VICTORY — Rollie Fingers, Oakland A's super relief pitcher, pours champagne for Reggie Jackson, Oakland A's super home run hitter after their team clinched the Western division championship Wednesday. It was the fifth straight time Oakland has won that title and have been World Champions for the past three years. They defeated Chicago White Sox 13-2.

5TH STRAIGHT TITLE A's Finally Nail Down West Flag

By The Associated Press

Guess what? The Oakland A's won a pennant.

Normally that wouldn't be news — but it is now that they've finally secured the American League West.

The A's, who usually nail this thing down earlier, took an agonizingly long time before collecting their latest flag with a 13-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox Wednesday night.

The defending World Champions had the opportunity to wrap up their fifth straight West championship last weekend, but lost three straight games. Meanwhile, the runnerup Kansas City Royals won all their games and kept the suspense going.

"It was a lot tougher job this time," Oakland Manager Alvin Dark admitted. The Royals went down fighting, beating the Minnesota Twins 4-2 just a couple of hours before Oakland took care of the White Sox.

In the other American League games, the Baltimore Orioles bombed the Detroit Tigers 8-1 and the Milwaukee Brewers turned back the Cleveland Indians 10-3. A doubleheader between the Boston Red Sox and New York Yankees was rained out.

Reggie Jackson slammed home runs his first two times up to launch the A's to their big victory. Jackson raised his home run total to 34, tying him with Milwaukee's George Scott for the league lead, by hitting a two-run shot in the first inning and adding a bases-empty homer in the third off Chicago starter Jesse Jefferson, 5-11.

The A's scored at least one run in each of the first five innings as Vida Blue coasted to his 21st victory of the season behind the 13-hit A's attack. He left after six innings.

Royals 4, Twins 2
George Brett's tie-breaking single in the eighth inning helped Kansas City beat Minnesota.

The Twins pulled into a 2-2 tie by scoring twice in the top of the seventh inning. In the seventh, the Royals used five pitchers and the Twins five pinch hitters.

Orioles 8, Tigers 1

Tors Searching For 1st Victory

The Golden Tornados, coming off a loss to the Pecos Eagles, will be leaving toward Reagan County to bounce back again at Tor Stadium at 7:30 p.m., Friday.

Lamesa ran into an almost air tight defense employed by Pecos last week and lost, 42-2. The Tors are 0-2-1 for the season.

Reagan County, last week, snapped Colorado City's unbeaten record of two wins in a row, 43-6.

The Tors began preparing for Reagan County after being downed 35-0 against Pecos. "We worked on our option and began to move the ball," said Tor Head Coach Tom Koger.

Reagan County, classified 2A, will be led by quarterback Jennings Teel and a halfback brother combination of George and Don Thompson.

The Owls use a five-man defensive front line to stop quick blows up the middle. Reagan county has seven returning lettermen on defense and eight on offense.

Reagan County is unpredictable in every way you can think of. They will fake a punt into their own 20 or pass with one-yard to go on second down," said Koger.

Fourth Week Of Coverage

For the fourth straight week, the Herald continues its press coverage of area home high school contests. Five scribes and two photographers will be in attendance Friday.

Coahoma, Sports Editor Clark Leshner and chief photographer, Danny Valdes.

Colorado City, Reporter and photographer, Troy Bryant.

Garden City, Reporter Marj Carpenter and photographer, Society Editor Julie Simmons.

Lamesa, Barry Canning, Grady, Joe Awtrye. Correspondent Terry Neill will report the Stanton road game. Other games away from home find Forsan at Grandfalls, Sterling City at Buena Vista and Klondike at Smyer. Big Spring and Sands have open dates.

OPENING DOORS FOR BUSINESS — Dean Osbourn, manager, opens Long John Silver's Sea Food Shoppe, Big Spring's newest restaurant. (Photo By Danny Valdes)

Long John Silver's Sea Food Shoppe Opens

Long John Silver's Sea Food Shoppe, 2403 S. Gregg St., opened today. Dean Osbourn, a former food broker in Dallas, is manager. Gatlin Jones, previously employed with food service at Webb Air Force Base, is assistant manager. Filets of Islandic codfish, fried clams, oysters, shrimp and chicken will be served for eating in the rustic restaurant or to go. Only the best sea food is purchased for the restaurants, and quality is uniform in all of the chains 400 businesses across the United States, Don Rohde, area supervisor, said. Prices range up to $2.39, and orders for children are available. The sea food shoppe will be open 11 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. Sunday - Thursday and 11 a.m. - 10:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

Osbourn was graduated from the University of Miami, Fla., in 1971 with a degree in finance. He was graduated from Boca Raton High School in Palm Beach, Fla., in 1967. While in the Navy, one of his main responsibilities was ordering food. He has attended the chain's training school in Lexington, Ky.

Cosden Bomb Threat Checked

A telephone call to the effect that a bomb had been placed somewhere in the industrial complex of Cosden Oil and Chemical Co., was received through the Cosden switchboard about 9:30 p.m. Wednesday. Following the call, company officials alerted personnel on duty of the call, then conducted a search of the premises. No explosive device was discovered. No evacuation of personnel followed the call.

A retired Army sergeant, Jones, the assistant manager, has lived in Big Spring 16 years. There will be about 25 employed at the new restaurant.

The chain is owned by Jerrico, a firm whose stock is sold over the counter.

Dr. Preston E. Harrison Bond Election Memorial Fund Shapes Expert Hired

In response to inquiries from friends and associates, the family of the late Dr. Preston E. Harrison, Superintendent at Big Spring State Hospital for 17 years and a pioneer in the field of mental health, has established a memorial fund to be used in the compilation and preservation of Dr. Harrison's papers, publications, research, and contributions to the field of mental health, including the Volunteer Program as it has developed. People in Big Spring and elsewhere show a continuing interest in the development of the fund set up through the First National Bank in Big Spring, with Joe Pickle serving as Administrator and Jack Y. Smith, Treasurer. A board will be named, and appropriate steps will be taken to comply with Federal regulations. The fund is tentatively designed to compile through research Dr. Harrison's professional career and the development of Big Spring State Hospital under his leadership. The fund will be used in some way to encourage or promote this research. The scope of the project and further plans will be announced as they develop. Big Spring State Hospital was officially opened to receive patients on June 1, 1939. At that time the major portion of the original building program was completed. In April 1941 the plant included thirteen classified buildings, improvements to the grounds, and equipment. That represented a plant investment of $1,060,571.41. The press plant and equipment represents an estimated investment exceeding $4 million. The hospital opened its doors to 402 patients the first year, the majority of whom were transfers from other hospitals of Texas. Today the hospital serves a great portion of this West Texas area extending from Abilene on the east to El Paso on the west, and from Lubbock on the north to the Big Bend Country on the South. Persons wishing to be a part of this project can still do so by sending contribution to Dr. Preston E. Harrison Memorial Fund, First National Bank, Big Spring.

ALL-WEATHER GET-TOGETHER

... Easy Cooking Anytime

Good cooking and hospitality are never out of season. Nowadays, barbecues continue well into autumn along with old-fashioned block parties. But, while get-togethers with family and friends are great at any time, there's a special welcome quality to them once summer's "dog days" end and the weather is comfortable with a bit of crispness to it.

For eating pleasure now, as well as in the cooler months to follow, there's a new team in town that adds extra interest to mealtime. Frozen Southern vegetables get-together with California ripe olives for new cooking convenience and a sensational taste treat.

In their handy frozen form, such traditional Southern vegetables as okra, blackeye peas, mustard greens and speckled butter beans offer easy storage, no waste and year 'round availability. California ripe olives, a welcome treat anytime, provide an easy-to-do gourmet touch when they're purchased pitted and ready to add to a recipe.

If steak is a family favorite (and it usually is), Southern-style round steak is a delicious and economical new way to serve it. Chopped collard greens, prepared from their frozen state, save time and work in preparation and offer a distinctive taste. Parmesan-enhanced fresh tomato quarters and pitted ripe olives provide color and added nutrition. Serve over buttered noodles or with boiled potatoes for a meal you'll be proud to prepare.

A truly versatile addition to almost anyone's recipe collection is Cheese-Topped Vegetable Squares. This layered medley of chopped mustard greens, tomatoes and chopped or sliced California ripe olives is ideal for lunch or dinner. Cut in bite-size cubes, it makes a tempting appetizer.

OKRA RATATOUILLE

- 1 to 2 cloves garlic, minced
 - 1 cup coarsely chopped onion
 - 2 tablespoons oil
 - 2 medium green peppers, cut in chunks
 - 2 tablespoons flour
 - 1 1-pound can tomatoes
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - Freshly cracked pepper to taste
 - 1/4 teaspoon crushed red pepper, or to taste
 - 1 10-ounce package frozen okra, slightly thawed
 - 1 can large California pitted ripe black olives, drained
- Saute garlic and onion in oil over medium heat until onions are slightly transparent. Add green pepper and saute about 10 minutes, stirring frequently. Sprinkle with flour, one tablespoon at a time, blending well. Add tomatoes, breaking up with spoon, and salt, pepper and red pepper. Bring to a boil, stirring occasionally. Cover and simmer about 15 minutes. Add okra and olives and simmer covered 20 to 25 minutes. Makes 6 servings.
- Good over meatloaf, or as a side dish with beef, chicken, pork or fish.

CHICKEN "ST-OUT"

- 2 to 2-1/2 pounds chicken parts
 - Flour
 - 2 teaspoons salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon freshly cracked pepper
 - 3 tablespoons oil
 - 1 10-3/4 ounce can double-strength chicken broth
 - 1 soup can water
 - 1 10-ounce package frozen cut okra
 - 1 10-ounce package frozen black-eyed peas
 - 1 can California pitted ripe olives, drained
 - 1/4 cup medium sherry, optional
- Dredge chicken with flour seasoned with salt and pepper. In Dutch oven over medium heat brown chicken thoroughly in oil, removing pieces as they brown. When browning is completed, return chicken to pan and add broth, water, okra, black-eyed peas and olives. Cover and bring to a boil, breaking up vegetables as they thaw, then simmer 2 hours. (Add sherry during last 30 minutes of simmering.)
- If time permits, chill finished recipe several hours and skim off fat, then reheat and serve. Makes 4 to 6 servings.
- Serve over noodles or with dumplings.

BISCUIT-TOPPED BEEF AND VEGETABLE PIE

- 1-1/2 pounds round steak or stew meat, cut in 2-inch chunks
- 1/4 cup flour
- 2 tablespoons oil
- 2 cups water
- 1 10-ounce package frozen chopped turnip greens, slightly thawed
- 6 medium carrots, sliced diagonally in large chunks
- 1 large onion, chopped
- 1 cup California pitted ripe olives
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1/2 teaspoon freshly cracked pepper
- 2 cups biscuit mix
- 1/2 cup cold water

Preheat oven to 325°. Dredge meat with flour. In large skillet over medium high heat brown meat well in oil. Add water, greens, carrots, onion, olives, salt and pepper. Cover and bake approximately 1-1/2 hours, until meat and carrots are tender.

Remove from oven and turn into 3-quart casserole or baking dish. Increase oven heat to 425-degrees.

Combine biscuit mix and water and stir well with a fork. Drop by spoonfuls atop meat and vegetables, making 10 to 12 biscuits. Bake about 7 to 8 minutes, until biscuits are golden brown. Makes 6 servings.

CALIFORNIA VEGETABLE MÉLANGE

- 2 large onions, thinly sliced
- 2 tablespoons oil
- 2 cups butter or margarine
- 2 cups coarsely chopped tomatoes (about 3 medium or 2 large)
- 1-1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1/2 teaspoon freshly cracked pepper
- 1 10-ounce package frozen speckled butter beans
- 1 17-ounce can whole kernel corn, drained
- 1 can California pitted black ripe olives, drained

In large skillet over medium heat saute onions in oil and butter until pale golden. Add tomatoes, salt, pepper and beans. Bring to a boil, breaking up beans with a wooden spoon as they thaw. Cover and simmer 35 minutes. Add corn and olives and simmer an additional 15 minutes. Makes 8 servings.

ROUND STEAK SOUTHERN STYLE

- 2 pounds round steak
- Flour
- 2 tablespoons oil
- 1 large onion, chopped
- 1 10-ounce package collard greens, thawed (or partially thawed)
- 1/4 teaspoon instant minced garlic
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon cracked pepper
- 1 can California pitted ripe olives, drained
- 3 medium tomatoes, quartered
- 1/3 cup Parmesan cheese

Dredge round steak in flour. In large skillet over medium high heat brown meat well in oil, allowing about 20 to 25 minutes to develop rich color. Sprinkle onion over meat; distribute greens evenly atop onion. Sprinkle garlic, salt and pepper over greens. Top with olives. Bake tightly covered at 325-degrees 1-1/2 to 2 hours, until meat is fork tender. Circle tomato wedges around edge of pan and sprinkle with cheese. Cover and return to oven. Bake an additional 15 minutes, until tomatoes are heated through but their shape and color are maintained. Makes 6 servings.

CHEESE-TOPPED VEGETABLE SQUARES

- 2 10-ounce packages frozen mustard greens, thawed
- 3 cups chopped tomatoes (about 4 medium)
- 2 cups grated Cheddar cheese
- 1 cup California pitted ripe olives, chopped or sliced in rings
- 3 large eggs
- 1/2 cup milk
- 2 tablespoons instant chopped onions
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon freshly cracked pepper
- 1/2 cup biscuit mix

Preheat oven to 350°. Partially squeeze excess moisture from mustard greens. Place in greased 9-inch square baking pan. Sprinkle evenly with tomatoes, then olives, and top with cheese.

Beat eggs to blend well. Add milk, onion, salt and pepper; let stand a few minutes to rehydrate onion. Add biscuit mix and beat well with a fork. Pour evenly over vegetables and cheese, scraping bowl with rubber spatula. Bake 50 minutes, until the top is golden brown. Let stand about 10 minutes before slicing. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Marshal Is Suspended Susan Joins AP Bureau

CASTROVILLE, Tex. (AP) — The deputy marshal of this South Texas City was suspended without pay by the city council Tuesday night pending a full investigation into the death of a man shot and killed shortly after his arrest.

The city decided to suspend deputy Donald McCall who arrested Richard Morales, on a burglary warrant, and then turned him over to Marshal Frank Hayes on Sept. 14.

Hayes is charged with the slaying of Morales, 26. Morales' body was found buried in a farm in East Texas Sept. 16.

The Morales family Tuesday asked the city council to hire a private investigator to probe the shooting death. The request will be taken up at a meeting scheduled for next Monday.

City Atty. Michael Hodge said the suspension will be effective pending a "full, complete and final investigation of the Morales case."

The city council also approved a resolution promising city support for any local, state or federal investigation of the case.

TEN LEAN YEARS AND THEN --- STING!

Money Pouring Into Film Industry's Voracious Jaws

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES — "When the money from 'The Sting' started pouring in," says Sid Sheinberg, president of MCA-Universal, "I thought we were ruined forever."

"It was depressing to realize that the studio would never be able to top such a big winner."

"Now the returns from 'Jaws' make 'The Sting' look like a failure. Nothing like it has ever happened before. But who says that we can never top 'Jaws'?"

PROSPERITY

Sheinberg was expressing the kind of optimism that today pervades the American film industry. After a decade of gloom, the movie business is enjoying its greatest prosperity.

"Last year was the best one the industry has ever had," reports Jack Valenti, president of the Motion Picture Association. Worldwide receipts from theaters reached slightly over $1 billion in 1974, a 28 per cent rise from 1973.

"So far this year, the business has been running slightly ahead of 1974, both in attendance and box-office receipts."

"The performance in the rest of the year depends on the staying power of the current hits and audience reaction to the new films."

Wall Street has rediscovered movie stocks, some of the companies pushing to new highs. And with good reason. Recent earning reports:

-Walt Disney Productions nine months' profit of $37 million, up 33 per cent, with films earning more than Disneyland and Disney World.

"LENNY"
United Artists second-quarter film rentals up 55 per cent, due largely to "Lenny" and "Return of the Pink Panther." MCA six-month profits of $34.7 million, up 37 per cent, with only one week of "Jaws" returns included.

Twentieth Century-Fox net profit for six months, $12.4 million, up 272 per cent, thanks to "The Towering Inferno" and "Young Frankenstein."

The new-found prosperity has trickled down to film workers. Reports Bill Howard, President of the AFL Film Council: "As far as production personnel is concerned, we're as close to full employment as we've ever known. The unions have What has caused the film business to flower after years of drought?"

"For some strange reason, our industry seems to thrive in hard times," theorized E.

Cardon Walker, president of Walt Disney Productions.

"The movie ticket, although it's not as cheap as it used to be, is about the best buy a family can find for an evening's entertainment."

"Because the Disney name is recognized in the field of family entertainment, our company is doing better than ever in theaters."

"LOVE STORY"

When business is good, film workers seek a larger share of the pie.

This includes all categories, from production workers, who are making heavy demands in current union negotiations, to superstars like Marlon Brando and Jack Nicholson, who are getting $1.25 million apiece plus percentages of the profits for making a western, "The Missouri Breaks."

Valenti pointed out that for every 10 films produced, only three or four turn a profit. So far, he says, the hits have been big enough to offset the losers.

Hit-making goes in cycles: Five years ago 20th Century Fox was the big winner, with such blockbusters as "Patton," "The French Connection" and "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid." Then Paramount assumed pre-eminence with "Love Story," "The Godfather" and "Serpico."

Now Universal Pictures is the wonder of the film world after an astonishing run of smashes: "The Sting," "American Graffiti," "Airport 1975," "Earthquake" and "Jaws," which has amassed an unprecedented $100 million in theater receipts in its first 47 days in the United States and Canada alone.

BLACK TOWER

The view from the 15th floor of Universal's "Black Tower" is very good these days. President Sid Sheinberg can look down on a studio in full production, with 7,000 employes — a record in the industry.

Monahans Attorney Suspended

MONAHANS — District Judge Earl W. Smith of San Angelo Monday suspended Monahans attorney A. R. Archer Jr. from the practice of law for two years, starting immediately.

Archer was found guilty Sept. 6 of misconduct and attempted perjury by a 143rd District Court jury. Smith was special jurist in the case.

Archer was found guilty of depositing insurance settlement checks for seven clients into his own account. He was also found guilty of trying to get one of the seven clients, Marcello Martinez, to sign a false affidavit.

Archer filed a motion for a new trial. If a new trial is held, it will be in the same court before the same judge.

The clerk has been ordered to forward Archer's license and copies of the sentence and all motions to the district clerk of the Supreme Court of Texas.

Investigation into the Archer dealings began earlier this year with a complaint of violation of judicial ethics to a bar grievance committee, which forwarded results to the district court.

School Count Down By Nine

Attendance in the Big Spring public school system dropped nine in the week ending Sept. 9 from the preceding seven-day period.

A total of 6,386 were enrolled in local schools at the close of classes last Friday, compared to 6,395 for the period ending Sept. 12.

There were 120 fewer students in school here than for the comparable period in 1974.

Elementary schools showed a decrease of one, despite the fact that Cedar Crest picked up five new pupils. The two junior highs had a net gain of one but senior high records showed a loss of nine students. The senior high had 1,922 enrolled at the close of the school day last Friday.

Car Burglary Charge Filed

Vito Y. Garcia was arrested at 10:20 p.m. Wednesday by city police on a warrant on a charge of auto burglary.

The burglary was in connection with the taking of tapes from a car belonging to Suzanne Orr of 2906 MacAuslan while it was parked at Big Spring High School on the evening of Sept. 14.

Membership Drive Mapped By DAV

Commander Bob Bowen spoke on "The Backbone of the Organization" at a meeting of the Disabled Veterans and their auxiliary at the Veterans of Foreign War Hall Sunday afternoon.

The group discussed plans for a regional membership drive to be held in November. It will be held at the Holiday Inn with a date to be announced.

All region I officers were present and heard a talk on work needed to reach the goals of the DAV. Refreshments were served by members of the auxiliary.

A called city council meeting will be held Friday at 9 a.m. to report on workmen's compensation insurance renewal.

The meeting will then be closed for a discussion of personnel.

DAV To Sponsor Donkey Baseball

The Big Spring Disabled American Veterans Club will sponsor a Donkey baseball contest at 7:30 p.m., Oct. 5 at the Howard County rodeo grounds.

Competition pits youth organizations from the Catholic and Assembly of God.

Tickets are $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students to be purchased prior to game time.

Murder Suspect Kills Himself, Wife Arrested

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Police say Dewayne Gray, a 38-year-old Dallas man sought in the death of an East Dallas woman, apparently shot himself in the head with the same weapon used to kill the woman.

Gray's death Wednesday in the bathroom of an Amarillo motel room climaxed a search that started with a tip to a reporter, according to a copyrighted story in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. The dead man, described by Tarrant County Sheriff Lon Evans as a "drifter," was wanted in the fatal shooting of Brenda Kay Ricks, 29. Her body, shot several times with a .25 caliber weapon, was found in a ditch at Watauga in Tarrant County Sept. 10.

She wasn't identified until Sept. 16, the day after an anonymous caller provided Star-Telegram reporter Joe Nolan information about her. Gray's common law wife told Amarillo police Wednesday that her husband had been despondent over the recent death of his mother. She told police she had stepped from the motel bathroom to get a match for her husband's cigarette when she heard a gunshot. Police said the 46-year-old woman was being held at the Amarillo jail for investigation of capital murder and theft.

Ford Says Wheat Embargo To End

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Rep. George H. Mahon, D-Tex., says President Ford has told him the U.S. embargo on grain sales to the Soviet Union would be lifted "in the near future." Mahon, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, said he told Ford that both farmers and consumers were displeased with the embargo.

farmers and 1,500 others who responded disapproved of the moratorium. Mahon said Ford told him U.S. negotiators were trying to arrange an agreement with the Soviet Union in which the Russians would buy a specific amount of U.S. wheat over a five-year period. "We were told when the President vetoed the farm bill that farmers would have free access to the world market," Mahon said, calling the moratorium "an intolerable situation."

Alpha Kappa Omicron Plans Activities

Alpha Kappa Omicron Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Lou LaRoche, 600 W. 16th.

International news was read by Mrs. Charla Huckabay, president, regarding a Resolution Bill now being considered by Congress concerning a National Beta Sigma Phi Week. Every member was urged to write her Congressmen in support of this bill.

Mrs. Carolyn Dyer, service chairman, presented plans for a birthday party for the sorority's adopted sister, Laura Proctor of the Mountain View Nursing Home, at 3 p.m. on Sept. 28. Each member is to bring a present.

The social committee presented plans for a rush party to be held Tuesday at the First Federal Community Room. A circus theme is planned with fon-due, cokes and coffee to be served.

Mrs. De Tucker was elected Valentine Sweetheart for the year. Her picture will be submitted to International Beta Sigma Phi and she will be presented at the Valentine Ball on Feb. 14.

Mrs. LaRoche and Mrs. Huckabay presented the program on "What Women Are Heir To." Passages were read from the Bible giving details of woman's beginning and several books were quoted giving illustrations detailing a woman's place in society today. Members discussed this theme informally after the program.

The next meeting of Alpha Kappa Omicron will be at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 14 in the home of Mrs. Jan Sims, 2404 Cheyenne. The gathering will be a model meeting with all prospective members attending.

Spring City ABWA Elects 75-76 Officers

The Spring City Chapter of the American Business Women's Association met Tuesday evening at the Spanish Inn with Mrs. Phyllis Cox presiding.

Officers for the current club year were elected. They are Mrs. Alyce Butler, president; Ms. Margaret McDonald, vice president; Miss Ramona Molina, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Venice Cawthron, recording secretary; and Mrs. Sadie Wallace, treasurer.

The members discussed methods of improving the chapter and projects to finance more scholarships for the new year.

The club approved plans to hold a "Harvest Sale" in the future. Each member will make something to sell.

The next meeting will be at 7 p.m. Oct. 28 at the Spanish Inn.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS

Brought to you

ALLERGIES seem to plague more people more often today than ever, possibly because of increasing impurities in the air. Whatever the reason, those who are bothered with allergic reactions certainly don't want to invite them.

The right carpet, and routine carpet care, can help cut down some allergy problems in the home. For instance, dust is allergenic, so it will pay you to vacuum your carpets regularly, picking up surface and deep-down dust.

Bare floors allow dust to stir around and "fly" more, increasing the irritation to humans, young or old. Carpets tend to "catch" dust, so regular vacuuming keeps the whole room cleaner, fresher.

Also, you should choose a non-allergenic carpet where family allergy problems are known to exist. Many of the newer man-made fibers, like polyesters and acrylics, are non-allergenic. But remember, too, that natural fibers, like wool, are often treated to make them non-allergenic. They'll be labeled if they're treated, so take a look ... or ask us.

We'll be glad to answer all your carpet questions, and delighted to show you the great array of values we're showing right now ... carpets you'll be proud to show off, at low prices to surprise you. Come in and take a good look around!

Dear Abby

Plant Lover Advised Not To Grow Marijuana

DEAR ABBY: I love to grow plants. About a year ago, someone gave me some marijuana seeds, and I planted them. Well, they thrived and are really beautiful.

I have never smoked marijuana, and I don't plan to. I know it's against the law to grow it, but would like to know what the fine would be if I were caught.

Please answer in your column for obvious reasons.

NO NAME IN CALIF.

DEAR NO NAME: Arthur Groman, a top-notch California attorney says that you would be charged with "possessing marijuana," and the penalty would vary, depending upon the quantity of marijuana found in your possession.

He suggests you destroy the marijuana and plant geraniums. And if you're wise, you'll take your cue about what to grow from Groman.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has been dead for six years. We had a wonderful marriage in every way. Our daughter, now 16, misses her father almost as much as I do. She and I have always had a very close and loving relationship.

About six months ago, I met Manny and we were attracted to each other immediately. He was at my home for dinner one night last week. One thing led to another, and he ended up spending the night in my bedroom.

My daughter came home from a date and saw Manny "spending the night" with me. She ran crying to her room and locked herself in. A few days later, she told me she "hated" Manny, and she's been very cool and distant to me ever since.

Did she expect me to be loyal to her father forever?

ABBY, I am 39 and only human. Should I break up with Manny just to make my daughter happy?

ONLY HUMAN

DEAR ONLY: Admittedly, we are all only human, but when a daughter discovers her mother's feet of clay, mother usually winds up as "mud."

Young Homemakers, Farmers Plan Convention Saturday

The Howard County Young Homemakers and Young Farmers will sponsor the Area II convention Saturday at Coahoma High School.

Registration will be held from 11 a.m. to 12:45 p.m. in the High School foyer with the general assembly commencing at 1 p.m. in the auditorium. Carl Marugg of Stamford will act as master of ceremonies.

A slide presentation entitled "America the Beautiful" will be featured during the general assembly with Joe Swinney, Mayor of Coahoma, welcoming all the area agriculturalists.

Mrs. Barbara Justiss of Coahoma and Marugg will introduce Area II officers for the current year.

Mrs. Justiss and Wilbert Jost of Wall will then make announcements before the group splits into separate sessions.

The Young Farmers program will be held in the school library at 1:30 p.m. J. G. Ross Jr., of Bio Insect Control in Lubbock will be the guest speaker. His topic will be "The Use of Beneficial Insects."

Following that program, Gerald Hanson of Stanton Chemical and Seed Company will continue with "Results of Beneficial Insects."

A business meeting will be held following the programs to conduct area business and elect Area II officers for the coming year.

Current officers for the Young Farmers are Carl Marugg of Stamford, president; Wilbert Jost of Wall, vice president; Andy Moore of Fisher County, secretary; Bobby Cohorn of Lamesa, reporter; and David Duncan of Nolan County, treasurer.

The Young Homemakers Program will commence at 1:30 p.m. in the Auditorium with Mrs. Justiss presiding. Senator W. E. "Pete" Snelson, 25th District, Midland, will be the featured speaker.

A business meeting will be held following the program to elect officers and hear a report from the State Young Homemakers Association by Mrs. Linda Furlow of O'Donnell.

Miss Martha Walker of Reeves Co. will provide commentary for a competition style show. The entries will be hand-made and constructed of at least 50 per cent natural fiber.

Entertainment will be provided by Mrs. Patsy Sanders and Mrs. Donna Forbes, both of O'Donnell.

Mrs. Kay Hallman, a past president of Area II from Sweetwater, will install the newly-elected officers before the joint evening banquet.

The new officers of both groups will be introduced at the banquet. Entertainment will be provided by the Williams of Pecos.

The Young Homemaker awards to be made at the banquet include the categories of outstanding chapter, outstanding new chapter, attendance and little sister.

Awards presented by the Young Farmers will include the Area II Star FFA American farmer, the outstanding new chapter, associate members of the year, publicity awards, attendance award, agricultural business award, outstanding area chapters, star area young farmer and the young farmer special award.
