Recording Contradicts Patty's Sworn Statements

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Patty Hearst, an enigma in her absence, has become a more perplexing mystery since her capture. Urged by a judge to speak in court, she declines. Her attorneys speak for her in the third person, calling her fragile and half-mad. Patty's only direct statements since her arrest come through controversial government eavesdropping. They indicate that her revolutionary alter-ego, "Tania," lives. "I'll issue a statement," she says in the jail transcript released Thursday. "But I would just as soon give it

AFTER ARRAIGNMENT — William and Emily Harris show little emotion as they left a Los Angeles court Thursday after being arraigned on 18 felony counts stemming from a shooting spree last year. They were ordered to plead to the charges at a preliminary hearing Oct. 8.

Heavy Security, $500,000 Bonds Surround Harrises

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bill and Emily Harris were under around-the-clock observation today in a high-security jail atop the Hall of Justice after arraignment on charges stemming from an alleged crime spree with Patty Hearst. The two Symbionese Liberation Army members were ordered held on $500,000 bail each Thursday and told to appear in Municipal Court Oct. 8 for a preliminary hearing on 18 felony charges, including assault with intent to commit murder and kidnapping. They could be sentenced to life imprisonment if convicted. The Harrises, who arrived separately for the arraignment at the Central Arraignment Courts Building, left together in a heavily guarded sheriff's van for the Hall of Justice. Two helicopters followed the four-car caravan. They were housed in separate cells in the same cellblock with two SLA comrades, Russell Little and Joseph Remiro. Little and Remiro are awaiting trial on charges of assault with intent to kill a Concord policeman. Assistant Dist. Atty. Sam Mayerson said he would take the charges to the grand jury to seek indictments against the couple, captured last week in San Francisco with Miss Hearst after one of the most intensive manhunts in FBI history. A technical plea of innocent was entered by the court on behalf of Harris, 30, and Mrs. Harris, 28, at the arraignment. They did not enter a plea when the arraignment was sidetracked by defense motions. The Harrises, kept in a bulletproof glass cage, showed little emotion. They spoke only to confirm their identity. The charges arise from a shootout at a sporting goods store in suburban Inglewood

May 16, 1974, and subsequent events. They include assault with intent to murder, armed robbery, kidnaping and auto theft. Witnesses identified Miss Hearst as firing a machine gun from a van as the Harrises fled the store after Harris allegedly bungled an attempt to steal a pair of 49-cent socks. The three allegedly kidnaped two persons and stole three cars in the escape. Alert Ambulance Owner May Ask Boost In Aid The owner of Alert Ambulance has indicated he will ask County Commissioners Court for an increase in the amount of county assistance Monday, County Judge Bill Tune said. L. A. Hiltbrunner is being paid $400 monthly by the county and $600 monthly by the city for ambulance service. A representative of the Big Spring Insurance Association is to continue discussions with the court about the amount of coverage for county properties. Other items on the agenda include: Considering a request from the sheriff's office and district clerk's office for file cabinets. Considering installing new lights at the fair barns. And talking with Benny Marquez.

Grand Jurors To Study Abandoned Baby Info

District Attorney Robert H. (Bob) Moore III said Thursday he would present evidence about the abandoned baby to the grand jury convening Sept. 30. The shooting death of Ruby Ortega, the traffic accident in which Texas Highway Patrolman Jimmy Parks was killed and complaints charging Jose Antonio Saracho, 28, with aggravated rape and sexual abuse will be considered. Saracho has been sent to prison following revocation of probation he was serving for robbery. Elmer Donal Clements, 43, who was arrested for the Ortega death, has been released on $15,000 bond. And Eusebio Morales has been released on bond after being charged with involuntary manslaughter in the death of Parks.

NEWSPAPER AWARDED VFW CITATION — W. S. (Dub) Pearson, publisher of the Big Spring Herald, was awarded a special Veterans of Foreign Wars citation this morning in recognition of and for the "consistent wholehearted efforts" of the paper to promote the Americanization program for the VFW. On hand, from the left, were Carliss (Buck) O'Neal, Region I commander; Elbert Meeker, life member of the VFW; Pearson; Bob Bowen, local post commander; and George Kunkle, Region I public relations director for the VFW.

myself in person, and it'll be a revolutionary feminist perspective totally." Two days after that conversation with a girlfriend friend, Patty Hearst initialed every page of a sworn statement telling of terror and torture at the hands of the Symbionese Liberation Army, repudiating the SLA members she once claimed as comrades. The first weeks after her Feb. 4, 1974, kidnaping so traumatized her that she has lost all memory of the succeeding 17 months, the attorneys said. "She was in a constant case of fear and terror, and expected at any minute to be murdered by her captors," the document relates. Oddly, the sworn affidavit never quoted Patty in the first person. Throughout the document, the attorneys refer to "she." An affidavit, considered to be a defendant's sworn testimony, usually is written in the personal "I."

It leaves many questions unanswered. But so does the elliptical jail transcript. Released in choppy excerpts, the transcript is punctuated to indicate that portions have been deleted or were indecipherable on tape. For instance, talking about her parents and her changed political views, Patty is quoted in the transcript as saying, "Then that, like, they should like disregard all those last I don't mean disregard 'em I mean it's like that was a stage kind of thing, you know." What is missing from that statement and others? U.S. Atty. James L. Browning Jr., who provided the transcript to U.S. District Court Judge Oliver J. Carter, wasn't available for comment when it was released by the judge. Patty's attorneys did not return calls requesting their comments. The tape, however, provides Patty's first recorded words since her last famous message from the underground June 7, 1974. The language in both is peppered with profanity. Asked by her friend, Miss Tobin, how she felt about being captured, Miss Hearst replies: "I was so pissed off, God damn it."

Miss Hearst is being held without bail pending a ruling on her mental competence to be cross-examined about the facts of her sworn affidavit. Her attorneys used the document to argue that she is not a flight risk and should be released on bail. They said that all that Miss Hearst wants is to go home to stay with her parents, Randolph A. and Catherine Hearst. In the jail tape, Miss Hearst says, "I don't want to have the bail thing where I am a prisoner in my parents' home, which is possible."

The World At-A-Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has agreed to move up the delivery date for shipment of a new jet fighterbomber to Israel and to provide the nation with an electronic early warning defense system, diplomatic sources say. In addition, the sources say Israel will receive next month the first of 100 Lance missile batteries, a surface-to-surface weapon system with a 70-mile range.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Starting Saturday, U.S. citizens will be able to find out what information about them the government has stored away and be able to correct that data if it is erroneous. The new Privacy Act of 1974 also requires government agencies to disclose the names of their record systems to help citizens find out if their names are listed. It also allows a citizen to find out who has been looking at their file.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress and President Ford appear ready to hold down oil prices for another 90 days while seeking an elusive agreement on long-term energy policy. The Senate is voting today on whether to extend through Nov. 15 the oil price controls that expired Sept. 1. It is part of a compromise proposed Thursday by Ford and quickly accepted by Senate Democrats. Following Senate approval, the plan goes to the House.

Ford To Cut Back Travel Schedule

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the wake of two assassination attempts, President Ford has cut back his October travel schedule, and the White House press office says it no longer will announce his travel plans far in advance. At a social event Thursday night, Ford told opera star Roberta Peters he intends to "be more careful" when he's out meeting the public. Press aide Ron Nessen announced Thursday that Ford will not make all the trips expected for next month, but said he did not know if security was the reason for the President's change in plans. The White House had denied for several days that the President had planned to cut back his ambitious fall travel schedule, despite congressional and public urging that he do so. Nessen said 199 telegrams and 76 letters received by the White House urged Ford to

Hunt Trial Final Arguments Today

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Government and defense lawyers launched final arguments today as the Hunt wiretap trial moved to the threshold of jury deliberation. The case was expected to reach the jury of nine men and three women by late afternoon. Defense testimony ended with a flourish as Dr. W. A. Criswell, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Dallas and once president of the Southern Baptist Convention, appeared a character witness. "I have known these two boys a quarter of a century," the silver-haired minister said. "They are two of the finest boys on this earth," he said. The prosecution called only one rebuttal witness, Asst. U.S. Atty. Jim Rolfe of

Cosden Bomb Threats

Rumors were rampant today as two more bomb threats were made on the Cosden Refinery in the past 24 hours.

The two different calls on Thursday afternoon and Thursday night were made from two different public telephones.

Cosden officials had no statement to make in regard to the investigation at this time.

Cosden employees indicate that there have been some recent changes made in the security guard at the refinery, but there has been no official announcement.

A rumor spread in Big Spring today that the Federal Bureau of Investigation was conducting an investigation at the refinery. The Dallas office of the FBI said there is no investigation being made by them and no arrests have been made by them.

Neither are the Texas Rangers or the Department of Public Safety conducting an investigation.

Security has been tightened up at Cosden in recent weeks including a different system of sign-outs for trucks entering the refinery to obtain gasoline, and contract maintenance work has replaced maintenance by local employees. Rumors possibly started around these changes and swept through the community becoming larger as they went.

Local Firemen Given $80 Month Pay Raise

The city council this morning backed up the city manager's recommendation to raise firemen's pay here effective Oct. 1st $80 per man per month in order to be competitive with surrounding fire departments.

All of the recent attention drawn to the fire department and inexperienced personnel caused the city manager to do some checking into the department.

It was learned that 20 qualified firemen have quit during the past 11 months because salaries in neighboring cities are higher.

Due to the qualification and training requirements, the Big Spring department has been placed in the position of constantly training and qualifying inexperienced personnel. Police were recently granted pay boosts for the same reason. An effort is being made to upgrade the department and halt turnovers.

"These two departments and the city utility department all have licensing requirements and training requirements. Therefore, we have to remain competitive in these departments," Nagel told the council.

A raise for the firemen will not cause a rise in the budget. A mistake had included overtime in the fire department budget twice. This coupled with the deletion of the assistant police chief position actually causes the budget to show a $6,000 drop. The raise does not include the fire chief who appeared in behalf of his men today. Department heads are considered separately. In other action this morning, the council awarded their workmen's compensation insurance again to Gulf Insurance Co., handled through the local insurance agents with Jimmy Parks as their spokesman. Parks commended the city for their workmen's compensation record during the past year.

Forsan School Bonds Approved

FORSAN — With a 78 per cent margin, Forsan school district voters Thursday approved $750,000 in bonds for school improvements.

At Elbow, 41 voted for and 8 against the bonds. At Forsan, the vote was 50 yes and 18 no.

The school board will canvass election returns at 9 a.m. Saturday.

With the bonds, the district plans to build new classrooms, remodel old classrooms, add a learning resource center and double the space allotted for industrial arts. Also, the board plans to make air conditioning and heating improvements, renovate the swimming pool, finish Forsan cafeteria improvements, lay carpet at Elbow Elementary and possibly build a new track.

School officials hope to issue the bonds in late October, take bids and let the contracts in late November or December.

Construction should start in mid-January, 1976, with completion anticipated in January, 1977.

Dear Abby

Views Differ On Advice For Planter's Indiscretion

DEAR ABBY: Re: the infuriating letter from SEEN IT ALL may I inquire whether SHE chooses her work clothing to please her neighbors? Why does she expect the pansy planter to kowtow to her prudery? If "Pansy Planter" wished to plant her garden in the nude, why should it affect your priggish letterwriter and her apparently humorless family? Let them erect a wall around their patio if they can't stand the view.

"LIVE AND LET LIVE"

DEAR LIVE: For another view please read on:

DEAR ABBY: A reader signed SEEN IT ALL complained about a 68-year-old neighbor lady who displayed her uncovered rear end to the entire neighborhood while planting pansies.

while I am having my dinner, but this doesn't seem to occur to him. This has been going on for years, and I am very annoyed at this point.

My father is 80. I'll bet you are going to tell me that nothing can be done to change him at his age, but age is no excuse for rudeness.

WHAT TO DO? DEAR WHAT: I don't know how many other pleasures your father has at age 80, but I'll wager they are few. It would be easier for you to adjust to his "habit" than for him to change it.

Your reply was too mild. I would have told the offended neighbor to take a good, clear color photo of the pansy planter using a zoom lens, have it enlarged, and send it to her with the following note:

"A guest took this while HE was visiting us."

WICHITA, KANSAS

DEAR WICH: You topped me. That should be the end of it.

DEAR ABBY: I am unmarried and my father is a widower. (We share a house.)

I find it most irritating after cooking a hot dinner to have to compete with a newspaper every time I put a hot plate of food in front of my father.

He always has a newspaper propped up against his water glass because he likes to eat his dinner and read at the same time.

I think this is very inconsiderate! After all, I would like a little company

Keeps File On Political Gifts

AUSTIN (AP) — Comptroller Bob Bullock said Thursday that public employees do little work on his famous card file on political contributions, but he conceded his state employees are compiling a mammoth newspaper clipping file on political personalities.

BOB BULLOCK
State Comptroller

Bullock called a news conference after first agreeing to meet with reporters Sam Kinch Jr. of the Dallas Morning News and George Kuempel of the Houston Chronicle who had been looking through the files.

He denied calling the news conference to diffuse the impact of the investigation by those reporters, whose stories had been scheduled to appear in Sunday papers but were advanced Thursday after Bullock called the news conference.

He said he told Kuempel Wednesday afternoon, "I'll tell you what I'm going to do. I'll call your competition." He quoted Kuempel as saying, "You wouldn't do that."

"Watch me," said Bullock. Bullock then called the Houston Post.

Spring-Fall Marriage

ADA, Okla. (AP)—Mary Jane Greathouse and Nevil Jack McCartney say that love will bridge the generation gap.

And this generation gap is most unusual because Mary Jane, 14, and McCartney, 61, revealed today they were married Tuesday in the office of Justice of the Peace Robert Dean at the Grayson County Courthouse in Sherman, Tex., after 10 days of legal maneuvering.

Mrs. Pearl Greathouse of Ada, the girl's mother, had filed suit in Texas' 58th District Court seeking to block the marriage. McCartney, who formerly was married to his new bride's mother's sister, filed a counter suit based on a new Texas law.

Before the case came to trial, Mrs. Greathouse reluctantly consented to the marriage in the face of what was expected to be a bitter court battle and the prospect the girl would run away again.

Mary Jane, smiling and appearing very happy, said she believed the 47-year age difference would have little effect on the marriage.

"I know how old he is, but it doesn't really matter to me because I love him," she said.

McCartney, appearing equally as happy, said he could foresee no problems. "If I thought there was going to be, I wouldn't want her to marry me," he said.

The couple became romantically involved about a year ago and the girl left her Ada home 10 days ago and went to Denison to marry McCartney.

Texas law requires either a parent's consent for a girl under 16 to be married or permits a judge to decide the question.

Ascend Mount Everest's SW Face

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — Two British climbers have made the first ascent of Mt. Everest by the southwest face, the Nepalese Foreign Ministry announced today.

A spokesman said Douglas Haston, 32, and Doug Scott, 33, reached the top of the world's highest mountain by the previously unclimbed southwest route at 6 p.m. Nepalese time Wednesday.

A British expedition also made the first conquest of the 29,028-foot mountain in the Himalayas in 1953, climbing the South Col used by most expeditions.

Power Failure Affects Ten Million Persons In Mexico City

MEXICO CITY (AP) — This city of 10 million residents lost its electrical power for nearly two hours Thursday just as a giant political rally began.

The afternoon outage caused a massive traffic jam along Paseo de la Reforma, Insurgentes and other boulevards leading to the central business area.

A crowd of 300,000 had gathered along Avenue Juarez for the rally honoring presidential candidate Jose Lopez Portillo. The rally moved to Constitution Plaza where Lopez Portillo accepted the presidential nomination of the Institutional Revolutionary Party.

Subways and trolley cars were paralyzed by the electrical failure and traffic lights failed.

The Red Cross said 30 persons suffered injuries, none critical, in traffic collisions and other outage-related mishaps.

Many persons stood trapped inside elevators until building supervisors started emergency power plants.

Police dispatched 1,500 patrolmen with whistles to replace the traffic lights at busy intersections.

Police helicopters hovered over congested areas, and some motorists sat atop their vehicles waiting for streets to clear.

The public power and light company blamed the outage on malfunctioning transformers at a relay station outside the federal district.

'Mystery' Man Killed While Shoplifting Drug Convictions To Be Reconsidered

DALLAS (AP) — Police have not yet identified a young Mexican-American man who was shot and killed Thursday night in a shootout with two off-duty policemen after he allegedly shoplifted several steaks from a Safeway store here.

A police spokesman said that while attempting to leave the store, the suspect struggled with officers Jackson R. Martin and Tim Falgout, who work there while off duty.

The suspect then pulled out a .38 caliber pistol, fired at the officers three times and missed, authorities said.

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas County Dist. Atty. Henry Wade says he'll grant polygraph tests on request to persons convicted in narcotics cases where testimony from two dismissed Dallas police officers was involved.

In addition, Wade said charges in 125 pending drug cases investigated by the two officers named in a recent departmental probe will be dropped.

A police department report released last week said officer F.T. Young was suspended without pay for adding narcotics to a legal substance during an investigation that led to arrest warrants being issued.

Reading Top Job Skill

WESTPORT, Conn. (AP)—The average American employee probably spends from one to four hours a day reading material necessary to the performance of his job, according to the Evelyn Wood Reading Dynamics Institute.

If this employee works 40 hours a week and earns $12,000 a year, he is being paid $2,400 to $6,000 a year just for reading, the institute estimates. On this basis, the institute, which specializes in instruction in new speed-reading techniques, calculates that if such an employee could triple his reading speed he could provide his employer with between $1,600 and $4,000 more productive time each year.

Ford May Be 'Old News' Other Candidates Beware

BIG SPRING HERALD
SECTION B
BIG SPRING, TEXAS, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1975

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — After two attempts on his life, Gerald Ford may be considered "old news" by potential assassins, but other presidential aspirants should be on their guard, says a Texas A&M University psychologist.

Dr. Arnold LeUnes says it's likely that Lynnette (Squeaky) Fromme and Sarah Jane Moore shot at Ford not out of any hostility toward Ford but instead for recognition.

"We have an increasingly large number of people with serious problems who have no place in society and seek to find one in this way," he said.

He said most recognition comes from the first or second attempt on a public figure's life, so now, persons seeking such an outlet must find "new territory" in order to gain the desired recognition.

And that, LeUnes says, makes the chances of Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., surviving a campaign "low to zero." However, the psychologist says George Wallace may be safer than some other campaigners because he no longer appears as powerful now that he is disabled.

LeUnes says political assassins often serve as symbols for many citizens who would never shoot at the President, but who feel frustrated by leaders who have been unable to solve national problems.

Asked why President Ford has been picked as a target, LeUnes said the man "is not as significant to the would-be assassin as the figure."

While President Ford is no volatile personality, he nevertheless continues to appear publicly during a time of much economic, unemployment and racial frustrations, and he is the President, an avenue toward recognition, LeUnes said.

He said identifying those persons who might have a tendency toward assassination is difficult, even with psychological profiles.

"There is an analogy between suicide threats and assassination threats. There are serious ones and there are ones that aren't,"

LeUnes explained. "Maybe our usual methods just can't pick out the exact differences, even though we have batteries of experts who put together profiles."

And as long as the President continues to make himself available, LeUnes says, "there's a likelihood that someone will try something."

State Insurance Board Major Reorganization

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas will save at least $1.5 million by a "major reorganization" of the State Insurance Department, Insurance Board Chairman Joe Christie says.

"I hope other agencies, both state and federal, will imitate," Christie told a news conference Thursday.

Christie said the new operation plans center about a realignment that has four deputy commissioners handling business practices, financial monitoring, compliance, and property and casualty.

Formerly, 17 divisions reported directly to the commissioner.

"Under the old system it was like vegetable soup with everything ending up in the commissioner's office, but not being able to find the peas and the carrots," Christie said.

Another Patrolman Arrested In Holdup

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Another state trooper has been arrested in last week's bank robbery at Caddo Mills, according to Department of Public Safety director Wilson E. Speir.

Trooper Kenneth A. Hinshaw, 29, of Rockwall, was taken into custody Thursday and charged with aggravated robbery before a Greenville justice of the peace, Speir said.

Hinshaw joined the DPS in December 1972 and was stationed at Rockwall after completing training.

Speir said Hinshaw has been dismissed from the DPS.

Hinshaw did not participate in the bank robbery at the scene but "was implicated in other ways," Speir said.

Industrial Park Need Explored

Possible need for an industrial park was explored at a combined meeting of the Industrial Team of the Chamber of Commerce, and the Industrial Foundation when they met at La Posada Restaurant at noon Thursday.

Bill Sandel and Dale Courtney, from the college of industrial engineering at Texas Tech, appeared along with L. D. Burns, engineer and John Crist, consultant from the Dumas foundation.

Figures on the constant need for additional industry in a community were told including facts furnished by the national chamber.

It was pointed out that 100 new jobs bring 245 persons into a community and produce around $872,000 in personal income, the need for 69 more homes, increase $481,000 in new bank deposits, $395,000 in new retail sales and at least 97 more cars.

The need for an industrial park to attract big industry was outlined by the team. They are attempting to seal their professional services, in setting up such a facility.

The group agreed an industrial park will eventually be needed here, but made no commitments at this time in regard to details of hiring a service or discussing needed financing of such a venture.

Flak From 'Guns' Scared Advertisers

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — On Sept. 5, CBS aired a 90-minute special on hunting. It included scenes of bears being shot near a town dump, ludicrous "shooting" preserves and a badly-batched killing of a deer.

Called "The Guns of Autumn," it caused massive protest, mainly from hunters who in thousands of calls and letters called it biased and said it showed only "slob hunters," not the average hunter.

This Sunday, some Maine hunters, filmed as they watched the show, get in their angry words about it as part of a 60-minute CBS follow-up program called "Echoes of the Guns of Autumn."

This show, reported by Charles Collingwood, examines reactions to and issues raised by "Guns." Work on it began even before the first show was finished and on the air.

"Echoes" is a fascinating effort, if only because it excellently illustrates how television can generate such tremendous emotion — and preshow and postshow protests — by taking on a true controversy.

The show reflects the outrage — and the minority views — in various ways, through hunters, letters, the taped calls of viewers and in the reactions of a group of men, ranging from a Humane Society official to a National Rifle Association executive, who saw "Guns" at KSL-TV in Salt Lake City, Utah, before it aired nationally.

The viewpoints, while predictable, still are engrossing, as are the various other thoughts on such things as "the hunting ethic" and "game management as expressed by opposing force on the show."

For me, the most interesting part of "Echoes" is its report on protest campaigns by individuals and groups, and its candidness — for TV — in naming the eight advertisers who fled "Guns."

Collingwood, however, takes pains to make clear that only one company, Comb Chemical Co., pulled its three scheduled commercials as a direct result of a complaining preshow call, that one from the Denver, Col., branch of a group called Safari Club International.

Only one scheduled sponsor, Block Drug Co., stayed in. It refused requests from gun clubs and groups whom it didn't name to yank its ads. It said to do so would mean it was trying to be a censor.

"Echoes" probably won't change any views about hunting, but one part of it more than suggests that some folks angered by "Guns" didn't quite look before they fired, so to speak.

The show says that angry viewers in at least "12 major cities" (the number of viewers isn't specified) told the United Fund they won't contribute this year because a UF announcement appeared during "Guns."

They thought UF bought time on the show. It hadn't. CBS aired the announcement free as a public service message CBS alone had scheduled.

$5,000 Bond Posted By Fem

A local woman was released from county jail Thursday on a $5,000 bond set in connection with a federal complaint for falsifying a visa.

Olivia Garcia Gutierrez, 49, 408 S. Benton St., is charged in U.S. District Court in El Paso with falsifying a visa for a youth, Justice of the Peace Gus Ochotorena Jr. said.

Ochotorena said he called the federal judge before setting the bond.

New Method For Cataracts

DALLAS (AP) — A new lens implant method designed to improve a cataract patient's vision more effectively than contact lenses or thick glasses has an added benefit of little or no magnification, ophthalmologists say.

Dr. Edward W.D. Norton of Miami, chairman of a study panel of ophthalmologists meeting here, said the thick glasses worn by many persons after cataract surgery magnify from 30 to 33 per cent.

Norton said, "this much magnification makes ordinary activity, such as walking, difficult for an elderly person.

Rear Windows Most Popular Point Of Entry For Burglars

"Second to doors, rear windows are the most popular point of entry for burglars," cautioned Sgt. Ed Kissinger of the Big Spring Police Department crime prevention unit during a recent discussion of ways businessmen can protect their establishments against crime.

Kissinger remarked that although windows are generally glass and easily broken, burglars want to avoid noise that would attract attention, so they are more likely to try to force windows than smash them. That's where good locks come in.

Kissinger noted that casement and sash windows can be key locked, just like doors. As a stop-gap measure, they can be nailed shut. Security bars can be installed, and materials or heavy equipment can be placed in front of them to prevent access. If a window isn't needed for visibility, light, ventilation or aesthetics, it shouldn't be planned into a building. If an unnecessary window exists, it should be bricked up.

"Windows can be a security asset, as well as a liability," Kissinger added. "Display windows can allow passersby and law enforcement officers an excellent view of what's going on inside, provided they aren't obscured by advertising posters and large

Investigate Torched Car Bomb Death Linked To $25,000 Debt

EASTLAND, Tex. (AP) — Atty. Gen. John Hill says a full probe has been asked of state and local police and fire authorities into the destruction here of a late model sports car owned by an assistant attorney general.

"It appears from what we have learned that the fire was caused by third parties," Hill said Thursday. "We have asked the city fire marshal, police in Eastland, the Department of Public Safety and the state fire marshal for a complete investigation."

Assistant Atty. Gen. Bill Flanary of Dallas said he was awakened in his motel room early Thursday by the screeching of car tires.

"I got up and looked out the window and my car was engulfed in flames," he said.

Flanary and Ray McGregor, an investigator for the State Securities Commission, were in the field to check oil wells belonging to so-called Schedule D companies in Dallas, according to authorities.

Hodges, also known as a gambler, operated a cafe half a block from the county courthouse. He was acquitted in 1941 of setting fire to his Golden Pheasant Restaurant, in the heart of the business district. Four firemen perished as a floor

Smash Drug Laboratory

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Drug Enforcement Administration smashes federal agents have smashed the largest laboratory operation ever found in the nation for illegal production of the hallucinogen PCP.

Equipment and supplies seized could have turned out PCP with a potential black market value of $51 million, the DEA said.

Agents found extensive lab equipment in an Alexandria, Va., antique shop where two persons were arrested, agents said. Officers also raided a storage building in Washington where more lab equipment and 5,000 pounds of drugs needed to make PCP were found, agents said.

The Alexandria operation had the potential for "flooding the country" with PCP and sales of the drug were reported as far away as California, a DEA spokesman said.

Literature on the drug indicates PCP can produce feelings of weightlessness, diminishing body size and death in its users. The reactions sometimes recur days or even weeks after use.

A raid on a West Virginia farmhouse was to have taken place simultaneously with the aid of state troopers, but was delayed by heavy rains. When the agents arrived, they said, the farmhouse was ablaze. Lab equipment was found in the charred wreckage.

The two men arrested, Dwight Tolliver, 31, of Salem, W. Va., and Michael S. Steiner, 29, of Silver Spring, Md., were arraigned in Alexandria on drug charges.

ROSWELL, N.M. (AP) — Jack H. Baker opened his mail recently and discovered three city water bills - one for $,00, one for $10.95 and one for $187,209.08.

Baker, who blamed the bill on a computer error, said, "We've been out of town most of the month and haven't even used much water."

Back In Business After Taxes Paid

LAMESA — The Coffeetime Cafe is back in business after negotiating a payment agreement with the state comptroller's Lubbock district office. A department spokesman reported Nelse Bowens, owner, had paid $1,500 down and agreed to pay $470 a month until the total delinquent sales tax account had been paid.

When the cafe was closed, the comptroller's office stated $3,132 in back sales taxes owed.

Briscoe Okays $36,166 For Law Enforcement Training Academy

Governor Dolph Briscoe has announced his approval of a $36,166 grant to the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission for the regional law enforcement training academy.

The money comes from the Criminal Justice Division of the Governor's Office. CJD administers the state's block grant from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration under the Crime Control Act of 1973.

Offering both basic and advanced training for law enforcement personnel, the academy meets requirements set by the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Officers Standards and Education.

The City of Midland has committed a one-story, 1,525 square foot building to be used as a training facility. Standardized law enforcement procedures, and increased police efficiency are anticipated results of the project.

The grant was one of 38, totaling $2,682,210 approved by Governor Briscoe for improvements in law enforcement and criminal justice at state, regional and local levels.

Wants Inducement To Create Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — A measure providing inducements to private businesses to hire an additional one million workers next year would be considerably less expensive than creating public service jobs, says U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen.

The Democratic presidential hopeful's suggestion centers around offering employers a 10 per cent tax credit on the first year of a new employee's salary to make it easier to create a job and hire him.

Bentsen said the cost would amount to about $1,000 for every new job created, a cost he said is modest when compared to the $8,000 it costs the federal government for each public service job created.

"By itself this employment tax credit could reduce the unemployment rate by as much as one percent," Bentsen said in a speech at George Washington University.

The national unemployment rate in August was 8.4 per cent.

Bentsen said an employer could qualify for the tax credit by expanding its 1976 payroll over its peak employment in 1974 and 1975. The new employees must have been out of work for six weeks or more, a step he said is needed to prevent raiding other firms to employ workers who already have jobs.

Bentsen said his job-creating plan has these other proposals:

- Set up a National Jobs Clearinghouse in the U.S. Employment Service to assist workers in finding suitable jobs in other areas of the country.
- Establish a Youth Employment Service to make job placement and counseling available to high school and college students.
- Set up a modern version of the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) for disadvantaged youth.

Geothermal Hearing Set

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Railroad Commission announced Thursday it has set an Oct. 8 hearing to consider proposed rules and regulations governing "the orderly exploration, development and production of geothermal energy."

"No substantive change" has been made, the commission said, in merging the regulation of geothermal resources into the oil and gas conservation laws.

DC Farmers Claim Losses

WASHINGTON (AP) — The District of Columbia is a city of massive marble buildings, granite monuments to past leaders and high-rise apartments and offices surrounded by miles of pavement. It's no great shakes as farming land.

That may be why the Internal Revenue Service's statistics show that the 240 residents of the District who list themselves as farmers claimed $2.65 million in farm losses in 1973.

Rep. Charles A. Vanik, D-Ohio, bringing the Washington farmer community to the attention of the House today, said he was somewhat surprised to discover that there are farmers in the city.

"Are 240 apartment dwellers along upper Connecticut Avenue claiming losses on their windowboxes?" he asked. "Do the quarter-million dollar penthouses on the top of the Watergate support truck farm operations?"

Vanik said he had decided the bulk of the farm owners in the District must be absentee farmers — "gentlemen farmers who have never gotten their feet muddy."

Moon Power

NEW YORK AP — Nearly half of the capacity of U. S. power plants sits idle through the night "while we worry about future power cutbacks during the day," according to William G. Kuhns, chairman of General Public Utilities Corp.

"We must learn to get more out of our existing power plants," Kuhns said, "and one way is for residential power users to delay such home chores as automatic dishwashing, clothes washing and drying and water heating until night hours — after 8 p.m. Industrial and Commercial users could be even larger gainers from switching their uses of electricity to nighttime."

The reason: switching power use to nighttime will relieve pressure to build costly new power plants to meet growing daytime demand. This will help hold down future electric rate increases and conserve the oil and natural gas that utilities use to meet daytime peak demands for electricity, Kuhns explained.

Banner Year For Flags

WASHINGTON AP — This year is going to be a banner one for the flagmakers.

Manufacturers are sewing up acres and acres of official red, white and blue and not just today's version of Old Glory, the National Geographic Society reports.

They're running all kinds of stars and stripes up the flagpole, two especially: the "Betsy Ross" flag of 13 stripes — 7 red and 6 white and a circle of 13 stars; and the "Bennington" flag of 7 white and 6 red stripes and "76" on the field of blue under an arch of 13 stars.

Serious students of the flags also know about the ancestors of the Stars and Stripes: the "Don't Tread on Me" rattlesnake flag, the "Appeal to Heaven" pine tree flag, the blue "Liberty or Fort Moultrie" flag and the Continental Colors, sometimes called the Grand Union flag. These flags led George Washington into battle, not the Stars and Stripes. Washington crossed the Delaware under the Grand Union flag.

This banner had 13 red and white stripes but, instead of stars, it flourished the familiar British Union Jack in the upper left corner.
