

May Execute More Rebels In Spain

MADRID, Spain (AP) — A Barcelona policeman died today of wounds suffered in a holdup blamed on the Basque separatist movement that has vowed vengeance against the regime of Gen. Francisco Franco for the execution of Basques.
The death of one of two policemen wounded in the $600,000 robbery of a government pay office Monday raised to 19 the number of policemen killed in political violence since January 1974. The robbery was carried out by three men and two women disguised as doctors.
The Spanish government's tough new anti-terrorist law requires the death penalty for persons convicted of killing policemen. Five convicted police killers — two of them Basques — were executed at dawn Saturday.
Despite thunderous foreign protests set off by the executions, the Franco government was believed planning to go ahead with trials of 15 other Basque guerrillas and the handing down of death penalties for some of them.
The government denied new trials were imminent. But lawyers for 10 men and five women held on terrorist charges said they had been told to prepare for the trials before military courts.
Basque lawyer Juan Maria Bandres said he had been asked to defend the country's top guerrilla leader, Jose Ignacio Mugica Arregui, the 30-year-old military chief of the Basque nationalist movement ETA, or Basque Land and Liberty.
Mugica, charged with having a leading part in the December 1973 assassination of Premier Luis Carrero Blanco, was transferred Monday night from police headquarters to prison, the lawyer said.
He added that the trials could begin Wednesday and that he expected the prosecution to demand the death sentence for at least four of the male defendants.
The 15 ETA militants were arrested Sept. 19 in a roundup in Madrid. They were charged with ambush killings of police officers, bank robberies and other terrorist acts.

File Suit Against UT Heads

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Seven University of Texas professors have filed suit against the school's new president and the board of regents in federal court for allegedly punishing them for their outspokenness.
The professors claim President Lorene Rogers violated their First Amendment rights by cutting the merit raise recommendations for them by deans and department heads.
The seven are: Edwin Allair, philosophy; David Edwards, government; David Gavenda, physics; Forest Hill, economics; Standish Meacham, history; Thomas Philpott, history; and Philip White, history.
The seven have been among the leading critics of the choice of Rogers as UT-Austin president. She was four times rejected by a faculty-student nominating committee, which has no power but which allegedly was promised by the regents that its recommendations would be considered.
"We believe she (Rogers) set out to do us in," Philpott told reporters.

Was Offered $25,000 To Kill President Ford

WASHINGTON (AP) — An undercover agent of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms was offered $25,000 within the past month to kill President Ford, the director of the bureau said today.
Rex D. Davis, in a statement prepared for a Senate subcommittee investigating the Secret Service, said the individual who approached the agent was arrested the day following the offer, after sufficient evidence was gathered.
Secret Service sources said the incident occurred during Ford's visit to St. Louis, Mo., in September.
It was during that visit that a man with a .45-caliber pistol was spotted by a policeman on a catwalk in Kiel Auditorium an hour before the President was to speak there.
The man escaped despite an extensive police search, and the President delivered his speech on time and without harm.
It was not immediately clear whether that incident and the offer of money for Ford's death were related. The White House and the Secret Service would not comment.
In his statement, Davis said his agents acquired information during the past month from an informer "relating to the informer's contact with a member of a militant organization."
"The subject was a twice-convicted felon armed with three high-powered rifles and a possible automatic weapon," Davis said. "The felon indicated he was en route to a city where a meeting with a militant organization was to take place to discuss the President's scheduled visit to that city."
In his prepared statement, Davis made no other mention of the $25,000 offer to kill Ford, except to say it occurred in a Midwestern city during September.
Davis made the disclosures while detailing examples of cooperation between his bureau and the Secret Service.
Treasury Secretary William E. Simon, whose department is responsible for the Secret Service, defended the agents as "highly competent, well-trained individuals and, as they have shown time and time again, they are also wholly dedicated to their mission."
The investigation by the Senate subcommittee on Treasury, Postal Service and general government appropriations, follows two assassination attempts on President Ford within 17 days.
Subcommittee Chairman Joseph M. Montoya, D-N.M., said the hearings were being held "to examine our options and look for solutions" to the problems confronting the agency whose best known job is the protection of the President.
"We must make sure that adequate resources — money and manpower — have been made available to the Secret Service," Montoya said.
Secret Service Director H. Stuart Knight asked the panel for a supplemental appropriation, saying it was needed "to handle the increased demand upon the Secret Service."
He said the number of persons protected by the Secret Service has more than doubled, increasing from 57 to 132, in the past three years.
A subcommittee staff member said the Secret Service also was expected to ask for additional funds to guard the 1976 candidates.

PATTY TAKEN FROM JAIL — Newspaper heiress Patty Hearst is taken from the San Mateo County Jail in Redwood City, Calif., on Tuesday. It was not immediately known where she was being taken, but authorities at Stanford Medical Center confirmed Miss Hearst had been at Stanford on Monday afternoon.

Patty Said Suicidal, To Undergo Tests

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Patricia Hearst was taken by federal marshals from her Redwood City jail cell today and driven to the Stanford University Medical Center for psychiatric testing, a spokesman for the center said.
Miss Hearst also was taken on Monday to the center less than 10 miles south of the San Mateo County Jail for a three-hour examination by Dr. Donald Lunde, said medical center spokesman Spyros Andreopoulos.
Lunde is one of four specialists appointed by U.S. District Judge Oliver J. Carter to determine whether Miss Hearst is mentally competent to be cross-examined.
A hearing on the psychiatrist's findings that was scheduled for today was postponed when Miss Hearst's attorneys reported the tests had not been completed.
Carter said the prosecution would seek to cross-examine Miss Hearst on an affidavit in which she swore she was tortured and brainwashed by her Symbionese Liberation Army captors.
SLA member Emily Harris said, meanwhile, that Miss Hearst was tricked by her parents into signing the affidavit.
"Who is brainwashing whom?" Mrs. Harris said Monday in a statement taped from her jail cell in Los Angeles.
She described Miss Hearst as a "truly beautiful woman who is being manipulated by her parents" into abandoning her SLA comrades, Mrs. Harris and her SLA soldier-husband William.
"Since our capture, the Hearst empire has put into motion all the power and influence that blood money can buy. The two of us are the sacrifices this time," Mrs. Harris said.
Meanwhile, one of Miss Hearst's attorneys said at a San Francisco news conference Monday that psychiatrists had expressed concern that she might try to commit suicide if she is forced to remain in her San Mateo County jail cell.
Attorney Terence Hallinan said Miss Hearst's mental health is rapidly deteriorating in the jail.
"She's been spaced out. It's harder to get her to get her to talk. She cannot even begin to get into these areas that her mind has closed on."
Hallinan said Miss Hearst should be transferred immediately from the jail to a hospital for psychiatric treatment.
In other developments in the Hearst case:
—U.S. District Court Judge Oliver J. Carter postponed for one week a hearing scheduled today on Miss Hearst's mental competence to be cross-examined. The judge was told that psychiatrists' tests on the heiress were not ready.
—Steven Soliah, a 27-year-old housepainter, pleaded innocent Monday to charges of harboring Miss Hearst and being an accessory after the fact in a bank robbery. Soliah, who was arrested with Miss Hearst and Wendy Yoshimura, another fugitive, is being held on $75,000 bail.
—A list of items taken from the hideouts used by Miss Hearst and the Harrises showed they had amassed quantities of weapons, disguises and false identification. The Harris apartment also contained materials used to make bombs, including pipes, clocks and about five pounds of gunpowder.
—The Harrises appeared in a Los Angeles court and were refused permission to participate in a secret grand jury hearing probing the SLA. Their attorney, Leonard Weinglass, said the couple wanted to "confront witnesses." The grand jury began hearings on 19 state charges, including assault with intent to commit murder, against Miss Hearst and the Harrises.
—Criminal attorney F. Lee Bailey, the colorful Bostonian whose clients have included Capt. Ernest Medina, was named head of the defense team for Miss Hearst.

Says FBI Was Aware Kennedy Would Be Shot

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mark Lane, long-time critic of the Warren Commission investigation of the assassination of President Kennedy, said today the FBI warned its southern offices five days before Kennedy was shot that an attempt would be made to kill him in Dallas on Nov. 22, 1963.
An FBI spokesman refused to comment on Lane's allegation.
Kennedy was shot and killed on Nov. 22, 1963 while riding in a motorcade in Dallas.
Lane's comments came a day after Dallas County Dist. Atty. Henry Wade said "somebody encouraged Lee Harvey Oswald to shoot President Kennedy."
But Wade said reopening the investigation would be a waste of time and money.
Lane, director of the Citizens Commission of Inquiry, said William S. Walter, a security clerk in the New Orleans office of the FBI, has said he saw a message from "FBI headquarters in Washington warning of a possible assassination attempt."
Lane said Walter told him the message was received on Nov. 17.
The Citizens Commission has asked Congress to reopen the investigation of the Kennedy assassination.
Wade, who also was district attorney at the time John F. Kennedy was slain in Dallas, said, "I've always had a gut feeling, which I still have, that someone — one or more persons — encouraged Oswald to shoot the President. There may have been an arrangement for someone to meet Oswald and get him out of Dallas."
"But if a conspiracy did exist, a new investigation would not shed light on the identity of those involved. They wouldn't step forward. So why go to the time and trouble?"
Acknowledging that he has received inquiries about his views on further investigation of the case, Wade said, "I wouldn't oppose it but I see no point in it."
The district attorney said he agrees with the Warren Commission's findings that Oswald fired the shots which killed President Kennedy and gravely wounded John Connally, then governor of Texas.
"I question the sequence which the Warren Commission gave for the bullets which hit Kennedy and Connally," Wade went on, "but I agree with its conclusions that Oswald was the only assassin at the scene."

Reports Of Gas Stolen At Cosden Prove False

Following what was described as a thorough and exhaustive check made by a Dallas-based investigative firm, Paul Meek, president of Cosden Oil & Chemical Co., today put the lie to rumors that the local refinery had lost as much as a gallon of gasoline to anyone.
Stories have been circulated for several days that Cosden was being victimized by individuals who were hauling away thousands of gallons of the fuel.
Stories that bomb threats telephoned through Cosden's central switchboard were connected with the rumored thefts apparently had no substance, Meek added.
Meek issued this statements to members of the news media shortly before noon today:
"Several weeks ago, we received rumors that there was a possibility of some theft of gasoline from the Big Spring refinery.
"An investigating team thoroughly checked such rumors, as well as the possibilities of such losses occurring at this facility.
"After completing such investigation, we are proud to announce that there has been no evidence of losses and that we are further pleased that all our employees have been cleared of any suspicion of wrongdoing.
"We are also pleased to say that we are proud of the participation of our employees in clearing any suspicions within the company whatsoever. With the fine spirit and hard work by all our employees, this will give us a better continued future for business in Big Spring."
Meek said that the investigations into the rumors were carried on with full cooperation of District Attorney Bob Moore and his office.

Ranger Wouldn't Believe Carrillos

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — A Texas Ranger testified today that he would not believe suspended District Court Judge O. P. Carrillo or Duval County Commissioner Ramiro Carrillo if they testified under oath.
Texas Ranger Gene Powell of Bishop gave the testimony as a rebuttal witness in the federal income tax trial of the two controversial South Texas political figures.
Both sides rested their cases following Powell's testimony.
U.S. District Court Judge Owen Cox said closing arguments were to begin early this afternoon. The case was then to go to the jury of seven women and five men.
At the center of the government's case against Carrillo is a contention that the brothers and Zertuche set up the general store at Benavides as a front to conceal what would have been illegal sales to Duval County government agencies.
The government claims sales reported by the Zertuche store were actually sales made by the Farm and Ranch Supply Store, a Benavides firm owned by the Carrillo brothers, and should have been reported as income to them.
Ed Rinehart, a St. Edward's University professor who is also an attorney and a certified public accountant, testified Monday as an expert witness.
Rinehart testified that he believes Zertuche's General Store existed as an entity separate from the Farm and Ranch Store. He said he based his belief on the fact that there has been testimony that the store had a bank account, a store license, a sales tax permit, printed invoices and a post office box.
He said the store also obtained loans from a San Diego bank, paid rent for store space, filed state sales tax returns and filed income tax returns reflecting a profit of more than $13,000 between 1968 and 1970, the years covered by the indictments.
Asst. U.S. Atty. George Kelt of Houston asked Rinehart during cross-examination if it would be possible for someone to set up a sham operation and call it "Niemann-Marcus of Benavides" and do all the things Rinehart outlined. Rinehart admitted it would be possible.

Almost Buried Wrong Body

FRANKLINTON, N.C. (AP) — Bennett Abbott's family has learned that the 45-year-old construction worker, for whom they had once planned a funeral, is alive.
His sister, Mary Sizemore of nearby Oxford, had been informed by a funeral home in New Orleans that he had died there. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Abbott of Franklinton, made arrangements for a funeral Sept. 23. But when the body arrived, it was not his.
Abbott telephoned Mrs. Sizemore from Houston, Tex., last Sunday. That was the first time he had heard of his reported death.
The coroner's office in New Orleans said the stranger carried Abbott's identification. Mrs. Abbott said her son's wallet had been stolen.

Family Free After GM Pays Ransom

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A General Motors Corp. plant manager, his wife and three children were released unharmed today after the auto company paid an undisclosed ransom to their abductors, police said.
At least two or three abductors invaded the home of William Shulenberg in Ann Arbor Township on Monday night and held the family captive for more than 13 hours, state police Capt. Walter Anderson reported.
Police said Shulenberg, manager of the GM Hydromatic plant in Ypsilanti, was held in his home.
The other family members were held at four separate locations in the area, police said. Ann Arbor Police Chief Walter Krasny said they were held in the trunk of a car for part of the time.
Anderson said a courier from General Motors dropped the ransom — reported by one source as $100,000 — at the Shulenberg home shortly after 10 a.m.
Shulenberg, his wife, Ruth, and two of their children were released about an hour later, Anderson said. A third child was held for still another hour, apparently as a precaution by the abductors, Krasny said.
Police said none of the abductors was in custody.

Webb AFB Funds Bill Okayed By Senate

Fifteen military bases in Texas, including Webb AFB of Big Spring, will receive $185 million for construction projects if the military construction budget approved by Congress is funded by the Joint Appropriations Committee.
The Webb appropriation would total $4,382,000, most of which would go toward construction of a bachelor officers' quarters. A new fuel maintenance dock has also been authorized for Webb.
Announcement of the funds came Monday from the office of Sen. John Tower.
The Senate followed in the footsteps on the House of Representatives in acting favorably on the bill Monday.
The construction projects are on 11 Air Force bases, three Army bases and a naval air station.
The appropriation was $9.36 million less than President Ford requested for military construction in Texas. The House approved the compromise measure last week.
The largest single appropriation, $104.5 million, will go to Lackland AFB, San Antonio, primarily for addition of a hospital there.
The next largest appropriation, $45 million, will go to Fort Hood, for barracks modernization and other projects.
Funds for alterations to the Defense Language School at Lackland and for work at the Red River Army Depot in Texas were cut from the funding.

Gunmen Told They Have No Support

LONDON (AP) — A woman member of the Black Liberation Front told three gunmen besieged in the basement of a restaurant today that they had been disowned by the immigrant organization and should free their six Italian hostages and give themselves up.
The woman, reportedly a friend of the gunman known as Sister Yemmi, said they had no chance of escaping the police net around the downtown restaurant or of being flown out of Britain.
The gunmen, identified as two West Indians and a Nigerian, ignored her pleas as the siege went into its third day.
"We're staying put," one of the gunmen shouted Monday night through a hole drilled in the wall of the 10-by-12-foot room after Scotland Yard twice refused their demands for a plane and safe passage out of Britain.

The World At-A-Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House, voting to revoke the financial independence of the U.S. Postal Service, is sending a message to the service about the "Pony Express" quality of mail delivery. The House voted 267 to 123 Monday to cut a proposed extra subsidy of $1.7-billion for the Postal Service and to require the service to come to Congress annually for funding and to put its revenues in the general treasury. Before finishing work on the measure for the day, the House spent five hours of debate full of stinging criticism of mail delivery. Members from both sides of the aisle used the debate to cite numerous constituent complaints about slow deliveries and rising stamp prices. But supporters of the service say they hope the vote, which came on an amendment, can be overturned later.
OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — More than 100 descendants of Antone Joseph, a Portuguese immigrant whose genes carried a fatal disease, are finally learning about the mysterious family illness that has killed 48 of them. Some members of the family learned for the first time last weekend that they are victims of "Joseph's Disease" when Dr. William Nyhan, professor of pediatrics at the University of California at San Diego, conducted a special clinic for them at Oakland Children's Hospital. The incurable neurological disorder occurs only in Joseph's descendants. Family member Rosemary Silva, who traced the descendants for the clinic, described it as "an emotional experience. For years we didn't know what kind of disease we had."

Courthouse Coverage Is Raised

Howard County Commissioners heard a report from insurance agents Malcolm Patterson and Joe Pond, Monday morning.

Insurance coverage for the Howard County Court House was raised from $1,000,000 to $1,600,000. This will increase the cost of coverage approximately $620 per year, totaling $5,165 over a three year period.

Coverage for the City-County Health Unit and the Booster pump and Switch house at the Howard County Airport was doubled to $7,000 and $5,000, respectively.

In other business, the Commissioners:

•Authorized Eddie Harper, building maintenance director for the Howard County Court House, to examine the prospect of installing more lighting facilities at the middle fair barn at the Howard County Fairgrounds.

•Requested that bidding be opened for the purchase of two new filing cabinets for the Howard County Sheriff's Office and the District Clerk's Office.

•Placed the determining of new jury fees for this year on next week's agenda.

FBI's New Home Was Considered Monstrosity

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI is formally opening its $128-million new home, the J. Edgar Hoover Building, a structure the late FBI director reportedly considered an architectural monstrosity.

President Ford, Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi and FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley were scheduled to address about 1,600 present and former FBI officials, members of Congress, police officials and guests at formal dedication ceremonies in the courtyard of the new building today.

Sprawling along Pennsylvania Avenue about halfway between the Capitol and the White House, the new FBI headquarters is the most expensive government office building in history.

Hoover watched plans for the building develop in the final years of his nearly half-century as director of the FBI, but he died in May 1972 before the colossal structure was more than a skeleton and before his name officially was attached to it.

On one occasion, Hoover reportedly expressed such distaste for the design that he urged the building not be named for him.

The day Hoover died, Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C., told the Senate, "Mr. Hoover thought the architecture of that particular building was the greatest monstrosity ever constructed in the city of Washington. It was his hope, therefore, that his name not be connected with the building."

Hollings said Hoover voiced his feelings in off-the-record testimony before a Senate appropriations subcommittee in March 1972.

Whatever Hoover thought of the design, few in Washington ever doubted that the building would be named for the legendary G-man. Shortly after Hoover's death, former President Richard M. Nixon made it official.

In the ceremonies today, the dignitaries spoke of Hoover's contributions to the agency.

School Closing Strikes Continue

By The Associated Press

The flurry of teacher strikes is abating as Boston teachers end their walkout and schools in smaller communities return to normal. However, strikes continue today in nine states, affecting some 115,000 pupils.

Communities still affected by teacher strikes are located in Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Delaware, New Jersey, Ohio, Idaho, Indiana, Illinois and California. And teachers in Memphis, Tenn., voted Monday to strike Oct. 7 if no contract is reached by then.

Monday was the first day this school year that New York state without a public school strike as teachers in Niagara Falls ended their walkout. Several communities had been affected earlier by strikes, including New York City with its 1.1 million pupils.

Pennsylvania, which has had teacher strikes scattered all across the state since early September, had two more settled Monday. This left 13 districts with strikes today, affecting some 30,000 pupils.

In Illinois, where Chicago teachers struck earlier in the year, there was only one strike, in Sauk Village, affecting 2,344 pupils.

Schools were fully operational in Boston today for 86,000 pupils after the teachers voted Monday to end their week-old strike.

About half of Boston's teachers returned to their classrooms Monday afternoon, and all 5,000 were expected to report for work today.

School Supt. Marion J. Fahey said, "It will be business as usual," with security the same as for the opening day of school Sept. 8 under citywide desegregation.

The new contract provides job security for all but about 400 teachers in the face of declining enrollments. The enrollment dropped to 86,000 this year under a citywide desegregation plan calling for the busing of 26,000 pupils. Last year's enrollment was 95,000.

Boston teachers settled for a 6 per cent pay hike — instead of the 9 per cent increase they had sought — over the old salary range of $9,772 to $19,765.

They also compromised over the issue of the length of the work week, agreeing to work an extra 70 minutes every two weeks to talk to parents and attend staff meetings. The school committee had sought an extra 45 minutes each week.

Elsewhere, teacher strikes affected 5,650 pupils in Trenton, Ohio; 4,200 in Jennings County, Ind.; 14,000 in Berkeley, Calif.; 20,000 in Hoboken and Parsippany-Troy Hills, N.J.; 14,200 in Wilmington, Del.; and 9,000 in Idaho Falls, Idaho.

We're building power plants that use lignite coal.

It's our answer to the rising price of natural gas.

This power plant is being built in East Texas at Martin Lake near Henderson. It will make electricity by burning lignite coal.

We have to build lignite plants because we're running out of low-cost natural gas, our main fuel today. New supplies are hard to get and very costly.

Lignite plants cost more than twice as much to build as comparable gas-fired plants, and that means electricity will cost more. But expensive as they are, lignite plants will still make electricity more cheaply than plants using high-priced gas.

That's because our large lignite supplies, acquired many years ago, are much cheaper than new supplies of gas. And using cheap fuel is one way we try to keep your electric bill as low as possible.

The average bill for Texas Electric customers is already 27 per cent below the national average, and we're working to keep it that way.

AGGIES SIXTH Oklahoma Still Rated No. One

After telling it like it is, Barry Switzer is telling it like it will be. "I'm still happy to remain No. 1 after our poor performance against Miami last Friday night," says the Oklahoma football coach. "But what I'm doing right now will take care of the polls."

Switzer, whose team reclaimed the No. 1 position in the AP's weekly poll Monday despite an unimpressive 20-17 victory over the Hurricanes, is going into an intensive huddle with his coaches for the upcoming match with Colorado.

While Switzer was being honest over the weekend, Coach Woody Hayes of Ohio State was being immodest. He said that his Buckeyes deserved to be No. 1 because of his 25-point beating of North Carolina Saturday. Ohio State held No. 2 this week, same as last.

"He should think they're the Number One team," he said the coach at Ohio State, said Switzer, commenting on Hayes' brashness.

Green Hopeful For Rebound

BRYAN, Tex. (AP) — Bryan High School's head football coach says he is trying to be optimistic about the loss of one of his key players because that player is 15 days too old to compete in high school athletics.

Coch Merrill Green not only lost fullback and nose guard Richard Harris but he also forfeited the season's first three games — all victories — because of the rules infraction.

"It might also be a rallying point," said Green, whose team is ranked No. 1 in Class 4A of The Associated Press schoolboy football poll.

"I think the greatest concern is what it will do to the team psychologically," he said Monday. Green said a routine check of all players' records revealed Harris' ineligibility under University Interscholastic League rules, which say a player is ineligible if he turns 19 prior to Sept. 2.

LEAVES GOLDEN LEGACY TO FANS Stengel Is Dead At 85

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP) — The "Old Perfesser" is dead. Casey Stengel, one of baseball's most colorful and adored figures, succumbed to cancer Monday night at the age of 85—leaving a golden legacy for fans of all ages.

CASEY STENGEL

"It's just impossible to sum up what he's been to baseball," said a close friend, California Angel General Manager Harry Dalton, after learning of Stengel's death at Glendale Memorial Hospital.

Stengel died at 10:58 p.m., PDT—only a few hours after a close friend had disclosed that the one-time manager had a rapidly spreading malignancy in the lymph glands. Stengel had been admitted to the hospital on Sept. 14 for tests.

Stengel was always great in the clutch, Hall of Fame pitcher Warren Spahn once remembered. "There's no doubt in my mind who is the most amazing Met of them all," said the great pitcher when he played for Stengel on the old, uproarious New York Mets.

when his Braves, for a change, were ahead, it began to rain. Casey pointed toward the darkening sky and demanded the game be called. He was ignored until he pulled a flashlight from a pocket and began signalling his bullpen with it. He was ejected.

Sometimes, to demonstrate his shock at an umpire's decision, Stengel would kneel over in a mock faint. Once when he used this ploy, umpire Beans Reardon did the same thing. "When I peeked outta one eye and saw Reardon lying on the ground, too, I knew I was licked," said Casey. "So I got up and walked away."

In 1947 Stengel, then 57, was steered to the subject of umpires in an interview. Soon Casey was pounding his desk and shouting, "Those umpires! They take years off a guy's life, believe me. I don't know what keeps me going, honest I don't. They'll be the death of me yet."

In tribute to his 56 years in baseball, Stengel won a niche with the game's other immortals in the Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y. He managed the New York Yankees to stunning triumphs and piloted the expansion Mets in the most poignant part of their young history.

Stengel, enshrined in the Hall of Fame when he was 76, managed 37 years, including 25 in the major leagues. Prior to his years of glory with the Yankees, Stengel had managed the old Brooklyn Dodgers and the old Boston Braves.

Charles Dillon Stengel resigned as the Mets' field boss in 1965 after breaking his hip in a fall. His career managerial mark showed 1,926 victories and 1,867 defeats for a winning percentage of .508. He produced 10 American League pennant-winners and seven World Series titles with the Yankees.

Ramsey Guides Denver Weaver Is Due Back To Win Over Packers

DENVER (AP) — The heralded duel between Green Bay quarterback John Hadl and Denver's Charlie Johnson never came off, nor did the running battle between John Brockington and Otis Armstrong.

Net Association Will Open Play On Sunday

Team captains and members of the Big Spring Tennis Association were selected Sunday as announced by David Redwine, President.

After Johnson suffered a split nail on the index finger of his throwing hand, passed 10 yards to Jack Dobin for a touchdown and guided the Broncos into position for the clinching score, Jim Turner's third field goal of the game.

The TD pass was made possible by linebacker Jim O'Malley's interception near middle and return to the Packer 12-yard line. After Hadl passed the linebacker Randy Gradishar came up with another defensive gem, picking off a Hadl pass and running 44 yards for a score with 40 seconds remaining.

It was Hadl who almost single-handedly made a game of it in the late stages. His aerial wizardry helped atone for a meager Packer ground game that accounted for just 71 yards in the face of a surprisingly sound Denver defense.

"Hadl was just superb," said Denver Coach John Ralston, whose team boosted its record to 2-0 with the triumph. "He did a masterful job. He picked us to pieces in the second half."

Although he finished with 23 completions in 36 attempts for 273 yards, Hadl had to endure a frustrating first half in which he was sacked four times for losses of 31 yards. On numerous other occasions he was forced into hurried throws by an onrushing Denver front four.

Oklahoma Court Rules Divorce Law Invalid

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—That controversial new law giving all property to the wife in a divorce is unconstitutional, the Oklahoma Supreme Court ruled Monday, much to the relief of the legislators who passed it.

The law, which had been scheduled to go into effect Wednesday, was passed by mistake in the closing hours of the 1975 session. Its language was publicized in news stories earlier this month and the high court was asked to rule on its constitutionality last week.

In killing the bill, the Supreme Court affirmed a ruling by District Court Judge Elvin J. Brown of Norman, who held the law unconstitutional last week.

The court said the language in the act does not conform to the language in the title.

The title provides for restoration to the parties of their separate property, allows alimony to be awarded and authorizes the judge to make a reasonable division of property. But the body of the act says the wife shall be given all property owned by either party, before marriage or acquired by either party during the marriage.

Legislators passed the act and Gov. David Boren signed it into law without catching the contradictions, which occurred when an amendment was inserted by mistake in the Senate during the confusion of the closing hours of the session.

The authors had urged the Supreme Court to act swiftly and Sen. Lee Cate, D-Norman, and Rep. Ken Nance, D-Oklahoma City, filed a Norman divorce case to provide the vehicle for the ruling.

The court, in reaching a speedy verdict, granted a motion of Johnita Sue Caywood and Robert Monroe Caywood Jr., the Norman couple seeking a divorce, to advance the appeal because of an existing emergency situation affecting all couples in divorce proceedings.

In addition to citing the difference in the title and the body of the act, the court noted that the bill itself contains contradictions. After stating that the wife shall receive all property, it states that a judge shall divide the property.

"Restoring to the wife separate property of the husband never owned by her is difficult to understand," the court said. "It is clearly contrary to that portion of the title calling for the restoration to each party of their separately owned property."

The court said the title "fixes a limit upon the scope of the act, and all parts of an act which are not within its title are unconstitutional and void."

Strong NCO Leadership Will Help

A Leadership School for noncommissioned officers (NCOs) began this week at Webb Air Force Base. Fourteen men make up the first class which is slated to graduate Oct. 17.

In his remarks on opening day, Colonel Robert F. Brodman, base commander, said, "We need stronger leadership in NCOs now more than at any period in Air Force history. The situation is extremely tense in some areas due to manning and experience level problems," he said, "Therefore, strong NCO leadership will help during this critical period."

The curriculum includes 152 hours of academic study and practical application relieved by some daily athletics or marching formations. It is the first step of a three-tiered education program being instituted by the Air Force for its NCOs, according to TSgt. Dean C. Barriball, commandant of the school.

"The course is aimed at introducing you to the role of the first line supervisor," the sergeant said. "Our mission is to provide you with information which will enable you to become a more effective leader or supervisor."

Among subjects the men will study are doctrines of Democracy and Communism, Air Force organization, social issues, labor relations, functions of management, resource-conservation, human relations, duties and responsibilities of NCOs. Also, basic human behavior, military law, motivation, dress and appearance, effective writing, counseling, self concept, speech, and communicative skills.

Extended Coverage

Where there's smoke, there's fire — but not necessarily enough to set off heat-triggered fire alarms. That's why smoke detectors are finding favor with more and more householders. They offer better protection at lower cost.

According to a Canadian study done in 1962, a house with two smoke detectors is more than five times safer than the same house equipped with a heat detector in every room.

Smoke detectors are inexpensive (between $40 and $85) and easy to install. Most are self-contained; that is, the smoke sensor and the alarm are built in.

Smoke detectors work either with a photocell or by ionization. Both work electrically; the ionization type is also available battery-operated.

Best spot for a smoke detector is between sleeping areas and the rest of the house. If you have a second, it should be at top of basement stairs, since many fires start in basements.

Protect your safety, and your family's, with a reliable smoke detector. Protect your home with adequate fire insurance. See Stripling-Mancill Insurance Agency, 102 Caylor Office Building, 600 Main.

Photographers Should Follow Pastor's Guidelines

DEAR ABBY: I am a clergyman, and as such, I perform many marriage ceremonies.

My pet peeve is the well-meaning shutterbug who insists on flashing his camera during the wedding service.

One such photographer actually kept crawling around on the altar, adjusting the bride's veil and the groom's coat. He even asked me to please "lean in" a little more toward the couple. And all this while I was performing the ceremony!

Please put something in your column to discourage this type of thing.

DISTRACTED PASTOR

DEAR ABBY: Seems to me that a pastor performing a marriage is, or should be, in command. He should lay down conditions for photography, and if the client couple dislikes the conditions, let 'em hunt up another pastor.

DEAR ABBY: Why are people ashamed to admit that they watch television? I have friends who say, "I NEVER watch television, but I just happened to catch 'All In The Family' last Monday evening, and..."

That kind of snobbery irks me to no end. What's with these phonies, anyway?

ENJOYS TV

DEAR ENJOYS: Most people would like to appear to be more intellectual than they really are, and since they regard watching TV as something less than an intellectual pursuit, they're reluctant to admit that they're constant viewers.

It's the same kind of insecurity that causes people to say they read the book when they only saw the movie.

DEAR ABBY: With all the important problems you get, mine will probably sound like nothing, but I sure need some advice.

I am married to a stubborn, hot-tempered man who has a terrible foot odor. His feet perspire, and he won't change his shoes and socks or bathe his feet when he comes home. He leaves his shoes on right up until it's time to go to bed, then he takes them off and leaves them in the bedroom. This smells up the whole bedroom like you wouldn't believe. It sure repels me from any romantic ideas I might have.

I have bought him foot deodorant and anti-fungicide sprays, which he used a few times reluctantly, but it didn't help much.

I can't sleep anywhere else because I have a bad back and have to sleep on an extra firm mattress that is in the bedroom we share. What do I do now?

ASPHYXIATED IN SAN CARLOS

DEAR AS: Move the extra firm mattress to another room and pleasant dreams.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a retired mailman with a valuable tip for your readers: If you have something important or irreplaceable to mail, such as legal documents, pictures or film to be developed, take it to the post office and mail it INSIDE the building.

Why? Because in the summer, the inside of that corner mailbox on the street can get as hot as 140 degrees, which can foul up film. In the winter, some of those mailboxes leak like sieves.

Years ago, when I was on collections, I'd bring mail in from some corner boxes that was soaking wet and stuck together — just one big glob. The ink had run on the envelopes, and some of the addresses weren't even legible.

(Beware of the mailbox with the big, heavy lock hanging in front. They are the worst offenders for getting mail wet!)

Another thing: Some juvenile delinquents will buy a popsicle, eat half of it and throw the rest into a mailbox, and you know what a melted, sticky popsicle can do to the mail!

If my letter makes your column, just sign me...

EL MONTE READER

DEAR EL MONTE: I'll make the column all right. And it may even make the mailbox on the corner obsolete.

Beta Omicron Plans Activities

A salad supper highlighted the regular meeting of Beta Omicron chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Cynthia Hanselman. Mrs. Linda Wittman served as cohostess.

The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 9 in the home of Mrs. Stephanie Roll, 1809 Runnels.

Program leaders, Mrs. Barbara Barnhart and Ms. Kathy Crawford, directed a "talk show" program entitled "What Women are Heir To". Guests in the program were Ms. Belle Boyd, a Civil War spy played by Mrs. Barnhart; Dr. Elizabeth Blackwell, the first woman doctor, portrayed by Mrs. Cynthia Hanselman; Miss Jane Addams, Nobel Prize winner in 1931, acted by Mrs. Mary Adams; and the Lady Godiva, famous equestrienne, played by Mrs. Jean Denton. The ladies spoke of their accomplishments in "a man's world" when it was not considered popular for ladies to act in that fashion.

Mrs. Ruth Penner presided over the business meeting. Members agreed to meet for a series of workshops for the Christmas Bazaar to be held Nov. 1 in Highland Center mall.

They also made plans for annual family picnic to be held at 1:30 p.m. Oct. 5 at Webb Air Force Base picnic area.

The sorority discussed plans to attend the area convention Oct. 10-12 in Odessa.

Members were encouraged to send letters of support to their congressmen for the proposed joint resolution to declare the week of April 30 "National Beta Sigma Phi Week."

Mrs. Connie Scasny, Mrs. James Pearce and Mrs. Normal Frieson were welcomed as guests.
